

ACADEMY

Bentley Mill Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

Bass Taverns

LICENSEES

NOTES

[1996]

ACORN

96, Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Elizabeth Cook, 99, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall
John Harper, Walsall
James Harper
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (leased [1900])

LICENSEES

Thomas Mold [1822]
Thomas Hutchinson [1828] – [1830]
James Hutchinson [1829]
Mrs. Hannah Thacker [1834] – [1845]
George Cook Snr. [1849] – [1865]
Mrs. Elizabeth Cook [1868] – [1871]
James Fox [1872] – 1873;
John Lockley (1873 – [];
Mrs. Elizabeth Cook [] – 1881);
Henry Thomas Bill (1881 – [];
William Ferris [1881];
John Bill [];
George Cook [];
Joseph Aldrett Flynn [] – 1887);
Harry George Vernon (1887);
Thomas Richard Doughty (1887 – 1888);
Frank Swindells (1888 – 1891);
Albert Burt Swindells (1891 – 1892);
Richard Shelley (1892 – 1893);
James McCabe Jr. (1893);
Ebenezer Hewitt (1893 – 1894);
Charles Taylor (1894);
Edwin James Warner (1894 – 1898);
John Bishop [] – 1898)
Edwin Corbett Walker (1898 – 1899);
Elizabeth Alice Bishop (1899);
William Sumner (1899 – 1900);
Albert Ensor (1900);
William Henry Haycock (1900);
Isaac Holmes (1900);

William Henry Lowe (1900 – 1910):

NOTES

Rushall Street [1822], [1858]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/12/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by Private Contract, the Licence, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of that old established Public House, known by the sign of the ACORN, in Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

The house is eligibly situated for business and well fitted up; has a large club-room, excellent cellars, and good stabling. The fixtures, brewing utensils, and other effects to be taken at valuation.

For further particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to J. Farrington, Auctioneer, Dudley Street, Walsall, who has several Public Houses to dispose of, coming-in from £200 to £300.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/4/1829 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property, in Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by H. Duncalfe, at the TALBOT INN, in Walsall, on Tuesday, the 21st day of April inst. at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions as shall then be produced.....

Lot II. All that desirable Messuage or Tenement, situate in Lower Rushall Street, well known as a Public House, called the ACORN, consisting of four capital cellars and spirit vaults, tap-room, bar, scullery, and brewhouse, large club-room, three chambers, and five attics, with stables, piggeries, and yard, and now in the occupation of James Hutchinson; and also nine other Dwelling Houses, situated in the yard at the back of the said Public House, now in the occupations of Hawley, Spinke, Bird, Taylor, and others.

Part of the purchase money may, if desired, remain secured on the premises.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Marklew, Solicitor, or the Auctioneer, both of Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/6/1830 - Advert

“To be Let, and entered upon immediately, that old established House, known by the sign of the ACORN, in Rushall Street, Walsall, comprising four good cellars, seven lodging-rooms, club-room, bar, tap-room, parlour, back kitchen, brewhouse, and stable. The present proprietor is leaving in consequence of other engagements.

This is a desirable opportunity for a Person to take to, as the stock is very low, and the coming-in will be easy. The present consumption is from 800 to 1000 bushels of malt per annum.

For particulars apply to Mr. J. Farrington, Auctioneer, Walsall, if by letter, post paid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/9/1831 - Died

“On the 29th ult., Jane, third daughter of Mrs. Thacker, of the ACORN public house, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, aged 14.”

1841 Census

Rushall Street

- [1] Hannah Thacker (60), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Edward Vaughan (30), brush mf, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Rachel Stackhouse (15), fs, born Staffordshire;
- [4] William Thompson (25), locksmith g, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Patrick Terry (40), labourer;
- [6] Mary Terry (40);
- [7] Denis Terry (15);
- [8] Thomas Lowe (25), carpenter, born Staffordshire;
- [9] Mary Lowe (30), born Staffordshire:

1851 Census

Lower Rushall Street

- [1] George Cook (53), licensed victualler, born Stratford on Avon;
- [2] Elizabeth Cook (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Cook (24), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [4] George Cook (21), son, brush maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry Cook (15), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [6] Joseph Cook (12), son, scholar at home, born Walsall;
- [7] Samuel Cook (10), son, scholar at home, born Walsall;
- [8] Mary Teague (84), mother in law, widow, deaf, born Walsall;
- [9] William Tongue (55), visitor, labourer, born Walsall;
- [10] William Branchford (20), visitor, traveller, born Bridport, Dorsetshire;
- [11] James Cooper (36), visitor, traveller in watchtools, born London:

Walsall Free Press 14/8/1858

“On Monday afternoon a pensioner named George Myatt who lodged with a widow named Bridget Silk, No.15 Court, Lower Rushall Street, when within about five yards of his lodging house door, dropped down and expired in about ten minutes. Mr. T. Moore, surgeon, was sent for, but before he arrived the vital spark had fled. On the following day an inquest held upon on the body by A. A. Fletcher, Esq., Coroner for the Borough, at the house of George Cook, landlord of the ACORN Public-house, Lower Rushall Street, at which the Jury, after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Death from Apoplexy. The deceased, who is fifty-five years of age, is unmarried.”

1861 Census

96, Rushall Street – ACORN INN

- [1] George Cook (64), licensed victualler, born Stratford on Avon;
- [2] Elizabeth Cook (57), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] George Cook (29), son, brush maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Joseph Cook (22), son, brush maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Cook (19), son, silver plater, born Walsall;
- [6] Anne Smith (14), general servant, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1862

“An inquest was held on Tuesday before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, on the body of a child, three years of age, named John Baman. The evidence went to show that on Friday last the deceased child, while playing about the house of his parents in No.13 court, Lower Rushall Street, got at a kettle filled with boiling water which was standing by the fire, and drank some of its scalding contents. The child was immediately taken to Dr. Burton, but death put an end to the little creature’s sufferings on the following day. Verdict, Died from Accidental Scalding.”

1871 Census

96, Lower Rushall Street – ACORN INN

- [1] Elizabeth Cook (70), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] George Cook (41), son, brush maker, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Cook (37), son, saddlers’ ironmonger’s clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Cook (12), granddaughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] George Cook (9), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Ann Smith (18), general servant, born Brownhills:

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/7/1873

“John Lockley, the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, and Henry Sly, victualler, Upper Rushall Street, were fined 20s each and costs for having sold ale during prohibited hours on Sunday the 7th inst.”

1881 Census

96, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Elizabeth Cook (77), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Cook (21), niece, servant, born Walsall:

Evening Star 15/3/1882

“John Fletcher, of Lower Rushall Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs, for refusing to quit the ACORN INN, on Saturday last, when requested by the landlord.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/6/1883 - Advert

“Stable. A good Stable with Loft over. To Let; large Yard.
Apply, ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street.:

Walsall Observer 2/5/1885

“.....To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Watkins and Powell, by order of the Trustees of the will of the late George Cook, deceased, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Monday, the 18th day of May, 1885.....

Lot 1. All that valuable Freehold Old-licensed Public House, known as the ACORN INN, situate in Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, with the Fixtures and Fittings therein, now let on an annual tenancy, at a rental of £100 per annum to include the payment of rates and taxes, and also a Cottage at the rear of the same.

The House, which is situate in one of the best parts of Walsall for an Old-licensed House, and has for many years done a very large trade, contains large Spirit Vaults, Smoke Room, Parlour, Club Room, Three Cellars, and Seven Chambers, and has Two Kitchens, Malt Room, and Two Stables attached, and is excellently fitted up.....”

[It was withdrawn at the auction.]

1891 Census

96, Lower Rushall Street – ACORN INN

- [1] Albert E. Swindells (27), unmarried, shoe riveter, public house ACORN INN (manager), born Walsall:

[Albert Swindells got his license in August.]

Albert Burt Swindells was fined 20s and costs, on 29th June 1891, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1893

“An application was made for a temporary authority to sell at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, to be granted to Ebenezer Hewitt. An authority of this nature had been held by the applicant, and the full transfer of the license should have been made at a special sessions held on Tuesday last. The proper notices were not, however, served and consequently no transfer was made.

The Chief-constable now called attention to the growing frequency of cases in which there had been failure to serve notices for transfer, and objected to the present application being acceded to, contending that the magistrates had no power to grant a second temporary authority.

After considerable deliberation, the Magistrates granted the application, but expressed an opinion that more care should be exercised.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

The Black List. The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against.....

Edwin James Warner, ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, April 24th, 1896, permitting drunkenness, dismissed License renewed.”

Edwin C. Walker – see also WHEATSHEAF, Bloxwich.

Walsall Advertiser 3/12/1898

“Inquiries are being made by the Walsall Police into a case in which it is alleged that a local publican has died from the effects in injuries caused by an assault committed upon him by one George Ollerenshaw, a lime burner, who until recently was living in lodgings in Lower Rushall Street. The name of the deceased is John Bishop, landlord of the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, who expired shortly after six o'clock on Tuesday evening. Bishop who leaves a widow and two children was formerly a member of the Warwickshire Constabulary, but was granted a temporary transfer in respect of the ACORN INN where he had been for some six or seven weeks.

The circumstances of the case are that on the 25th October last Ollerenshaw went into the ACORN INN, created a disturbance, and assaulted, by throwing a jug at her, a young woman named Sarah Hawkins, who was acting as barmaid. Bishop went to Ollerenshaw for the purpose of ejecting him, when the man, it is said, turned upon him, and struck him rather violently on the ribs and other parts of the body, felled him to the ground, and then dug his knees into him. Subsequently Ollerenshaw was taken back to the house by the police, but Bishop then intimated his intention of proceeding against the man by summons. Next day the landlord took to his bed, from which he never rose again alive. Bishop's condition for the past few days had been critical, and a magistrate attended for the purpose of taking his depositions. Bishop, it appears, did not think that he would die, and consequently, depositions were not taken.

A warrant charging Ollerenshaw with feloniously and malice aforethought killing and murdering Bishop, has been issued, and what is known as a ‘photographic route,’ also has been sent out. He has brown eyes and a swarthy complexion, and has black hair and moustache. He has the following marks: Heart, cross, and anchor, star, and Prince of Wales’ feathers tattooed on the outside of his right forearm, and a female and a basket of flowers inside the same forearm, while on the outside of the left forearm are a sphinx, a Union Jack, stars, and stripes, and Prince of Wales’ feathers. On the inside of the left forearm there is a tattoo mark of a female.

Formerly Ollerenshaw belonged to the 1st Battalion of the Oxfordshire Light Infantry. The police have a clue to the whereabouts of him, and it is expected he will shortly be arrested.

The inquest was opened yesterday at the ACORN INN.

Elizabeth Alice Bishop, widow of deceased, gave evidence bearing out the circumstances related to the above. She said that after the affray her husband was unable to get about, and witness took two summonses out – one for assaulting her husband, and one for assaulting a woman named Sarah Hawkins, who was in witness’s employ. Ollerenshaw had never been in the house before.

Sarah Ann Hawkins, wife of William Hawkins, Ward Street, labourer, stated that on the night in question she was at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street. The man George Ollerenshaw was there. He said he was going to rob the bar. Ollerenshaw had asked for half-a-pint of ale, but said he would not pay for it, and deceased told her not to draw it. Subsequently Ollerenshaw picked up a jug, and threw it at her. It struck her just over the left eye, inflicting a cut which bled a great deal.

John Wilkinson, 7, Balls Hill, engineer, also spoke to having been at the ACORN INN on the night of the 25th October. Witness heard Ollerenshaw ask for half-a-pint of beer on ‘trust.’ Deceased told Hawkins not to fill him any. Ollerenshaw subsequently threw a jug at Hawkins. Deceased said ‘this game won’t do,’ and laid hold of Ollerenshaw’s arm. Bishop was trying to get the latter out when the man struck deceased several blows with his fist about the body and one in the face. The blow on the face cut his eye, and loosened his teeth and the deceased fell. Witness assisted to pick upon the deceased.

William Roper, collar maker, Limerick Yard, Lower Rushall Street, said that Ollerenshaw waned half-a-pint on the ‘strap,’ when Bishop told Hawkins not to fill it. Ollerenshaw struck Bishop twice in the face, and witness put Ollerenshaw out of the house.

Dr. Lynch deposed to having been called in to attend deceased on the 27th October. There was a bruise on deceased’s right side, and there was a slight discolouration of the skin of the abdomen under the liver, and slight bruises on the thighs. There was also bruising on the back and over the external border of the scapula. Witness treated the deceased continuously till the time of death. He had since made a post mortem examination of the body. He found trace of the bruising. The weak condition of the heart was occasioned by shock to the system, in his opinion due to the violence. The liver was considerably enlarged and corrsed. The kidneys were enlarged. The immediate cause of death was syncope. He was of the opinion that the violence produced shock to an already disorganised system from which deceased never rallied, and the man's death was unquestionably caused indirectly by the violent treatment to which he was subject.

In summing up the Coroner pointed out that there was no evidence of malice aforethought and the jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter."

Worcestershire Chronicle 11/3/1899

"At Stafford Assizes, before Mr. Justice Wright, George Ollerenshaw (35), labourer, was indicted for the manslaughter of John Bishop, at Walsall, on October 25. Mr. Kettle prosecuted, and Mr. Lawrence defended. From the opening statement, it appeared that prisoner went into the public-house kept by deceased, and struck him. Afterwards he assaulted a barmaid, and, while deceased was ejecting him from the house, he was seriously injured, and died about a month afterwards. During cross-examination of the first witness, His Lordship asked Mr. Kettle if he thought it was possible to obtain a verdict, on the charge of manslaughter, taking into consideration the evidence of the doctor. Mr. Kettle said he did not think he could. The charge was therefore withdrawn, and prisoner pleaded guilty to common assault. The Judge in passing a sentence of four months' imprisonment, said the prisoner had been convicted 25 times previously, and if he did not reform he would find himself in a serious position."

London Gazette 16/6/1899

"Receiving Orders. Walker, Edwin Corbett. WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field-street, Bloxwich, Staffordshire, lately residing at Green Lane, formerly at Forge-street, theretofore at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall-street, formerly at Day-street and theretofore at the TIGER INN, Short Acre, all in Walsall, Staffordshire. Public-house Manager."

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

"Edwin Corbett Walker, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Street, Bloxwich, public house manager. The debtor came up for public examination. The Official Receiver (Mr. S. W. Page) was present, and Mr. Evans was for the debtor. The statement of accounts showed liabilities £83 16s 11d, and the only assets were £10 he had paid to the solicitor on account of the proceedings. The debtor examined by the Official Receiver, stated that he worked as a miner until September, 1892, since that time he had been the tenant of the TIGER INN, Walsall, the ACORN INN, Walsall, and now he was the manager of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, for his brother, Mr. C. C. Walker. At one time he had a small colliery at Pelsall. He attributed his failure to 'illness of himself and family, losses upon the colliery business, and bad trade.'

The examination was adjourned until August 2nd to close."

Walsall Observer 21/4/1900

"Messrs. Watkins, Powell and Wood will Sell by Auction, in the Property Sale Room at their Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of May, 1900.....

Lot . The Valuable Old-Licensed Public House, known as the ACORN INN, situate in Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, now let to the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited, upon a Repairing Lease expiring in September next, at the very low annual rental of £35.

The House, which is excellently situated for the purpose of trade, contains large double spirit vaults, smoke room, parlour, club room, three cellars, and seven bedrooms.

Possession may be had at the expiration of the above mentioned lease."

Walsall Observer 28/4/1900

"Isaac Holmes, the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall Street, was charged with selling liquor during prohibited hours on April 11th.

Mr. J. N. Cottrell appeared for the defendant.

Inspector Ballance said that acting on information received, he went down to the ACORN INN, where he was admitted by the landlord, Mr. Holmes, at 12.20am. In the smoke room at the back, there were two men, named Benjamin Pedley and Vernon Moss, a woman, and two children. There were several empty glasses on the table, and Pedley had a glass of whiskey and soda before him.

The defence was that the landlord had only received his authority the day before, and that Mr. Moss was there to check the stock, and was staying all night. Benjamin Pedley was a friend of the landlord, and was having supper with Mr. Moss, the landlord, his sister in law and children.

The magistrates dismissed the case."

1901 Census

96, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] William Lowe (44), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Louisa Lowe (44), wife, born The Lye;
- [3] Margaret Lowe (17), daughter, born Lichfield;
- [4] Thomas Lowe (14), son, under groom, born Birmingham;
- [5] Alfred Lowe (12), son, born Birmingham;
- [6] Edwin Lowe (9), son, born Birmingham;
- [7] Charles Lowe (5), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Elizabeth Lowe (2), daughter, born Walsall:

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 1st February 1906.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Chief Constable had given notice of objection to the renewal of the following seven licenses; William Henry Lowe, ACORN, alehouse, Lower Rushall Street; James Scott, JOLLY BACCHUS, alehouse, New Street; George James Sambrook, KING WILLIAM, alehouse, Little Bloxwich; William Wright, OLD OAK, beerhouse, Upper Hall Lane; William Alfred Burton, STORES, beerhouse, Ablewell Street; George Carrington, STORES, beerhouse, Upper Rushall Street; John James Lawrence, STORES, beerhouse, High Street.

Mr. Loxton said these objections were by direction of the Bench, and he had also served notices on behalf of the magistrates, simply to comply with the section of the Act of Parliament, and without forming any opinion or prejudging cases. The justices directed him to state for the convenience of the advocates that the objections were mainly on the grounds of not required which would necessitate their being referred to the Compensatory Authority. But if during the hearing of the cases the grounds should be such as to justify the refusal of renewal on grounds without compensation, the advocate would be required to direct his attention to such grounds.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said he came there on the understanding that it was the intention to refer those licenses to the Compensatory Authority to report on.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had inspected a number of houses with a view to whether they should report to the Compensatory Authority. It might be that some houses were structurally unfit, and in such case they would refuse the license, and they would have to go the quarter sessions.....

The JOLLY BACCHUS, KING WILLIAM; STORES, Upper Rushall Street; STORES, High Street, were referred to the compensation authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

In the case of the ACORN, Lower Rushall Street, the owner James Harper, and the tenant William Henry Lowe were represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson.

Chief Inspector Ballance said the house was difficult of police supervision, and the premises were dilapidated in parts.

Mr. Jackson urged that the house was quite free and doing a fair trade.

The tenant said his takings were from £12 to £16 per week, and he disposed of about six barrels per week.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

The ACORN, MALT SHOVEL, and WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, MANDAMUS ARMS, Stafford Street, and the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills were referred for compensation.”

The license was surrendered on 11th March 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

ACORN, Lower Rushall Street. Alehouse. Licensee William Henry Lowe.”

Walsall Observer 3/2/1940

“Both members of old Walsall families, well-known, especially in the Paddock district, Mr. and Mrs. James Fox, of 4, Burleigh Street, celebrated their golden wedding on Monday, having been married fifty years ago at St. George's Church by the Rev. Colin Barrett, who was then vicar of the parish.

Mr. Fox's father, whose Christian name was also James, was at different times licensee of two Lower Rushall Street public-houses – the KINGS ARMS and the ACORN (now demolished) – and also the MINERVA, Paddock Lane.....”

Closed

Demolished

ADMIRAL RODNEY

Pelsall Common, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Jacob Cooper [1849] – 1865);
Mrs. Susannah Cooper (1865 – []

NOTES

Jacob Cooper = Joseph Cooper

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/3/1850 - Advert

“Staffordshire. Freehold Messuages, with Barn, Stable, Gardens, Croft and Rickyard, at Pelsall, in the Parish of Wolverhampton. Mr. John Osbourn will Sell by Auction (by order of the Mortgagee), at the house of Mr. Joseph Cooper, the RODNEY INN, Pelsall aforesaid, on Monday, the 18th day of March, 1850, at five o'clock in the afternoon, (subject to conditions then and there to be produced), All those two Messuages or Dwelling Houses, together with Barn, Stable, Gardens, Rickyard, and appurtenances thereto belonging, situate, lying, and being at Pelsall aforesaid, now or late in the occupation of Henry Cooper and Dorothy Emmingsley.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Smith and Son, Solicitors, or the Auctioneer, all of Walsall.”

1851 Census

Pelsall Common

- [1] Jacob Cooper (48), victular and farmer of 35 acres, born Pelsall;
- [2] Susannah Cooper (48), wife, born Herdington [Erdington?], Staffordshire;
- [3] George Cooper (17), son, farm labourer at home, born Pelsall;
- [4] Esther Cooper (15), daughter, house servant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Isaac Cooper (11), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Jacob Cooper (6), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Thomas Birch (13), servant, agricultural labourer, born Pelsall;
- [8] Sarah Twist (83), mother in law, widow, born Pelsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/10/1856 - Deaths

“On the 27th ultimo, after a short illness, Isaac, son of Mr. Jacob Cooper, landlord of the ADMIRAL RODNEY INN, Pelsall, near Walsall, aged 17 years, much and deservedly respected by all who knew him.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1857

“Jacob Cooper, of the ADMIRAL RODNEY, Pelsall, was fined 5s and costs for keeping his house open during illegal hours on the day of humiliation.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/9/1858

“The Licensing Court for Aldridge, Bentley, Pelsall, Rushall, and Walsall Wood, was held at the Railway Station Inn, Brownhills, on Tuesday last. The Magistrates present were R. C. Chawner and Thomas Rowley Esq. There are forty-one licensed victuallers in the Brownhills division of the county, all of whom had obtained renewal of their licenses with the exception of Mr. Jacob Cooper, landlord of the Admiral Rodney, Pelsall, who did not appear.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/9/1858

“An inquest was opened on Wednesday last, at the RODNEY INN, Pelsall, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, on the body of a young woman named Ann Barlow, aged 20, whose death, it was supposed, had been caused by taking poison. It appeared that the deceased was a young woman of weak intellect, and resided with her parents at Pelsall. On the previous Monday one of the neighbours had procured some arsenic for the purpose, it was alleged, of destroying bugs, and had incautiously left it upon a table in the room in which the deceased was sitting. The deceased was shortly afterwards found vomiting and apparently in great pain. She expired the same day.

The inquest was adjourned until Saturday, to afford time for a post mortem examination.

On Saturday last the inquiry was resumed, when Mr. Somerville, surgeon, stated that he had made the post mortem examination, the result of which proved that death had been occasioned by an attack of epilepsy, no trace of arsenic having been detected in the system. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.”

1861 Census

Pelsall – ADMIRAL RODNEY

- [1] Jacob Cooper (56), farmer and victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Susannah Cooper (56), wife, born Erdington, Warwickshire;
- [3] Jacob Cooper (16), son, farmer, born Pelsall;
- [4] Susannah Stackhouse (19), servant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Thomas Clingston (30), servant, agricultural labourer, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sarah Twist (96), step mother, lady, born Blakedown, Worcestershire;
- [7] Elizabeth Simmonds (76), servant, born Blakedown, Worcestershire:

Birmingham Daily Post 7/8/1862

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Thursday, before J. E. Bealey and J. Harrison, Esqs., Jacob Cooper, landlord of the ADMIRAL RODNEY public house, Pelsall, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly of the 23rd ult. From the evidence of a parish constable, and a witness named Hughes, it appeared that on the evening of the day named a constable was sent to the defendant’s house to eject a man named Glover, who had been creating a disturbance there. The officer found a number of drunken men in the house, and requested the landlord turn them out. Cooper refused to do so, and late in the evening the officer was again called to quell a riot in front of defendant’s premises. In this case a penalty of £2 and costs was imposed. A second charge against the defendant was withdrawn on condition of the police fees, 4s, being paid.

John Williams was then charged with having been drunk and disorderly in Cooper’s house, on the night of the disturbance mentioned above. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for the defendant, and raised an objection that to constitute an offence under the 41st section of the Wine Act, it was necessary to prove that defendant had been requested and had refused to leave the house. This case was adjourned for a fortnight; as was also, for a similar reason, a like charge against Joseph Thompson.

A charge against Philip Cooper of having at the same time and place been drunk and disorderly, was dismissed on account of insufficient evidence.

Another of the party, named William Brookes, was for a like offence, sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days.

Similar charges against John Glover, Enoch Paxton, John Holland, and William Bate, were dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/9/1862

“Joseph Cooper, landlord of the ADMIRAL RODNEY whose licenses had been suspended in consequence of their names appearing in the ‘black book,’ were cautioned and had their licenses renewed.”

Walsall Free Press 11/2/1865

“On Tuesday last, the following licenses were transferred.....

the ADMIRAL RODNEY, Pelsall, from Jacob Cooper, to his widow, Susannah Cooper.”

ALBION

109, Wolverhampton Street (Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Disturnal, miller, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall
George Smallwood
Mrs. Ann Thomas
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Vass [1848] – [1851]
John Weaver [1858] – [1862]
Alfred Baker [1864] – [1865]
Joseph Phillips [1865]
Matthew Matthews [1868] – [1870]
Moses Millington [1869]
Joseph Charles Ridge [1872];
Joseph Middleton [1873];
Reuben Swindell [1874]
George Smallwood [1878] – 1898;

John Thomas (1898);
Mrs. Ann Thomas (1898 – 1923);
John Thomas (1923);
Albert Edwards (1923 – 1936):

NOTES

Wolverhampton Lane [1851], [1853], [1869]
109, Wolverhampton Street [1860], [1862], [1908], [1932]
Wolverhampton Road [1872]

ALBION INN and Commercial house [1858]

It was a home brew house.

Thomas Vass = Thomas Vassey

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“At the sitting of the magistrates, the following persons applied for spirit licenses for their respective houses.....

Thomas Vass, Wolverhampton Lane. Refused.”

Thomas Vass, beer retailer, Wolverhampton Road. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Lane

- [1] Thomas Vass (41), victualler, born Barby, Northamptonshire;
- [2] Ann Vass (36), wife, born Ashby, Northamptonshire;
- [3] Thomas Vass (11), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Vass (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Vass (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Lucy Mills (18), domestic servant, born Aston, Warwickshire;
- [7] William Haywood (36), lodger, journeyman saddler, born Worcester:

Bell's Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/5/1853

“Joseph Powell (the Coven Star) will run B. Barlow of Birmingham 160 yards, or Constable of Willenhall, 100 yards, to start by mutual consent; or run Jaffier 100 yards, providing he will give him one yard start, for from £20 to £50 a side; at the Four Ashes, Staffordshire, in six weeks from first deposit. Powell's money is ready at Mr. Vassey's, ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1854 - Deaths

“September 6, at the ALBION INN, Walsall, Ann, wife of Mr. Thomas Vass.”

John Weaver was also a farmer. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

John Weaver, who had been fined 20s and costs for having permitted card playing in his house.”

John Weaver was also a hay and straw dealer. [1861]

1861 Census

109, Wolverhampton Road – ALBION INN

- [1] John Weaver (47), victualler and hay and straw dealer, born Claverley, Shropshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Weaver (39), wife, birthplace not known;
- [3] Ann Vass (15), boarder, milliner and dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Jane Vass (8), boarder, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Emma Weaver (49), boarder, fund holder, born Stanbury, Shropshire;
- [6] Susan Jones (83), boarder, widow, formerly cook, born Foleshill, Warwickshire;
- [7] Frances Blaney (25), visitor, milliner &c, born Chetton, Shropshire;
- [8] Elizabeth Vass (55), visitor, widow, nurse, born Napton [Napton on the Hill?], Warwickshire;
- [9] Sarah A. Noakes (17), servant, born Sheffield:

Walsall Free Press 15/7/1865

“Thomas Bird, NEW TOWN TAVERN; John Perry, WHITE LION, High Street; Joseph Phillips, The ALBION, Wolverhampton Lane; Thomas Hall, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street; William Sartin, NEW INN, John Street; and John Holder, CROSS GUNS, Birchills, were charged with having had their houses open during prohibited hours on Sunday last. Holder was fined 10s and costs, Sartin 6d and costs, Hall 6d and costs, and Perry 1s and costs. The cases against Messrs. Bird and Phillips were dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday licenses refused.....

Moses Millington, landlord of the ALBION public house, Wolverhampton Lane, who had been convicted of assault.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications.....

Mr. Moses Millington, landlord of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Lane, who, in consequence of having been connected with an assault, had been refused his license, again made application, supported by Mr. Glover.

Application refused.”

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1870 - Advert

“To Be Let and may be entered upon immediately, the ALBION INN, situate and fronting Wolverhampton Street. Fixtures and Effects to be taken at a Valuation. No Stock to be taken to, and to an industrious persevering party an opportunity like the present rarely occurs, as the Premises are replete with every convenience for carrying on an extensive business.

For particulars apply to Mr. John Osbourn, Auctioneer and Appraiser, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 15/2/1873 - Advert

“A Free and Easy and Ball will commence This Evening, at 7-30pm, at the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street. Master of the ceremonies Mr. James Freeman.

Proprietor, Jos. Middleton.”

London Gazette 14/3/1873

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Joseph Charles Ridge, of Wolverhampton-lane, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Coal Dealer, and formerly of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton-street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Coal Dealer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Charles Barrow, No.48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, on the 29th day of March, 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 11th day of March, 1873.

Chas. Barrow, 48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, Attorney for the said Debtor.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/7/1874

“William Hemming (21), Lawley Street, was charged with stealing a horse, cart, and harness, of the value of £15, belonging to Mr. George Albutt, Bristol Street, coal dealer.

Detective-sergeant Drury said that on Thursday he found the prisoner offering the horse and harness for sale to Reuben Swindell, ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall. He asked the prisoner to account for the possession, and he replied that they were his own. He took the prisoner into custody on suspicion of stealing the property. The prisoner sold the cart to a wheelwright named Jacques, Stafford Street, Walsall, on the previous night, for £1. It appeared the prisoner was in the employ of Mr. Albutt, and was sent to get the horse shod on Wednesday, and subsequently to fetch some vetches, but he did not return.

The prisoner was committed for trial at the sessions.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/1/1878

“Thomas Orab, or Harding, Shaw’s Leasowe, who did not appear, was convicted of an unprovoked assault with a crutch upon Mr. George Smallwood, publican, Wolverhampton Lane, and, previous convictions being put in against him, he was sentenced to one month’s imprisonment with hard labour.”

1881 Census

109, Wolverhampton Street

[1] George Smallwood (55), licensed victualler, born Chester;

[2] Harriet Smallwood (54), wife, born Chester;

[3] Austin Napley (27), son in law, boarder, corn miller, born Sussex;

[4] Jane Napley (24), daughter in law, boarder, born Staffordshire;

[5] Agnes Napley (1), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Evening Express 3/6/1881

“John Durkin (18), Green Lane, who had been drunk and disorderly in the ALBION, public house, on the 16th ult, and who had been twice previously convicted this year, was ordered to come up for judgement that day two months, if required.”

1891 Census

109, Wolverhampton Street

[1] George Smallwood (64), widower, licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Agnes Rapley (11), granddaughter, born Walsall;

[3] Harriet Richards (55), widow, servant, born Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1897

“George Smallwood, landlord of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, was charged with keeping open for the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sunday night last during prohibited hours.

Police-constable (57) Woolley, at 11 minutes past 10, found several men on the premises; but Mr. H. H. Jackson, for the defence, showed that this had resulted through a collection having been made on behalf of a bedridden person, and the Bench, under the circumstances, dismissed the case.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“Yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith also applied on behalf of the occupant and owner of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, for sanction to plans for alterations which included the alteration of a staircase and the erection of a building of two stories in place of one storey which a present stood there. The present building was a brewery and a scullery, and it was intended to erect a building which would serve as a brewery and malt room. Granted.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“The members of the Welcome Friendly Gift Society, held at Mrs. Thomas's, ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, met on Thursday, the 14th ult, for their fifth annual general meeting. There was a good attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 20/1/1900

“In the Divorce Division, on Monday, Mr. Justice Barnes had before him the petition of John Thomas for a divorce by reason of the alleged misconduct of his wife with the co-respondent Mr. Bradley.

The petitioner deposed that he was a working brewer with his mother, who carried on the business of a licensed victualler. She kept the ALBION INN, Walsall. On the 3rd October, 1894, he married the respondent at Walsall, and afterwards lived with her at the LAMP TAVERN INN, Walsall. Differences arose between them, and they separated under a deed. After a time they lived together, but in 1895, after the birth of a child, there was another separation owing to differences between them, and he made her an allowance. In the summer of 1897 he heard that his wife had gone to live with Mr. Bradley, and she had lived with him since that time.

Charles Parker Roberts, clerk to petitioner's solicitor, proved serving the divorce papers on the respondent and co-respondent, when they were living together at Ivy Cottage, New Street, Walsall.

A decree nisi with costs was granted.”

Walsall Observer 23/6/1900

“The annual pic-nic from Mrs. Thomas's, ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, took place on Sunday last, when about ninety customers and friends attended. The conveyance of the party was in the hands of Mr. J. Hale, and with two charabancs and two brakes a start was made shortly after eight o'clock. Wolverhampton was reached a little after nine o'clock, where a stay was made at the hostelry of Mr. Albert Lovatt.

Proceeding down the Tettenhall Road and up the historical Rock, past Danes Court (the scene of one of our great early English battles with the Danes) to Kingswood Common, where a halt was made to refresh the inner man. Excellent provision had been made in this respect by Mrs. J. Thomas, and full justice was done to the beef, ham &c provided.

After a short bivouac the journey was continued on towards Albrighton. The Wellington Wrekin was observed standing out in bold relief. The country looked glorious, the roads were in perfect condition, and the sun shining in all its glory tended to make everyone feel the benefit to be derived from their beautiful surroundings.

The Bell and Tong was reached about 12.30, and after light refreshments, the party dispersed to view the beauty of the country. Four o'clock was the time fixed for the return journey, and punctually the party was again on the road. The homeward drive was made by way of Weston Park, Gailey, and Bloxwich, and Walsall was reached shortly before 9 o'clock, all being delighted with their day's outing.”

1901 Census

109, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Ann Thomas (61), widow, born Walsall;

[2] John Thomas (31), son, born Walsall;

[3] Bertha Dibble (25), servant, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[4] Mary A. Pritchard (21), domestic servant, born Pensnett:

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

The following dividends were paid out in connection with the various lodges of the Loyal Caledonian Corks. Lodge 504, BROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, 6s 6d, night and card; 422, SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, 7s, night and card; 322 GOAT INN, Newhall Street, 5s 3d, two nights and card; 325, ALBION HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, 2s 6d, night and card.”

1911 Census

109, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Ann Thomas (71), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] John Thomas (41), son, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Thomas (40), wife, married 10 years, born Farlow, Shropshire;
- [4] Kate Harrison (29), servant, [No birthplace given.]:

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1913 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of John, the beloved husband of Ann Thomas, of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, who departed this life January 7th, 1886.

*The distant scene becomes divinely near;
Lead thou me on.”*

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“The annual general meeting of the ‘Welcome’ Friendly Gift Society was held on Wednesday night at the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street (Mr. John Thomas). The Secretary read the report and balance sheet, which showed that there had been £49 19s paid out for sickness, leaving a dividend of 7/2 per member. The officers were all re-elected and thanked for their past services, and the rest of the evening was spent in harmony, songs being rendered by Bros. Arblaster and S. Griffin, while Mr. J. Davies accompanied.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, 7s 10½d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/4/1915 - Advert

“Good General Servant Wanted for Public-house; aged 20 to 25; good character required. Mrs. Thomas, ALBION INN, Wolverhampton St., Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 8/1/1916 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of John, the beloved husband of Ann Thomas, of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, who died on January 7th, 1886.

*There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance live for ever.”*

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street. £2 2s 9½d.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 14/3/1925

“The story of a surprise visit by police to a Buffalo Lodge meeting was told at the Walsall Court on Monday, when Albert Edwards, licensee of the ALBION INN, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned for supplying intoxicating liquors in other than permitted hours, and refusing a person acting with his consent to admit the police to the club room of his licensed premises. Evidence was given by the police of a visit raid at 10.30pm, and it was stated that after the police made an unsuccessful effort to gain admittance to the premises Edwards came out and said, ‘This is a meeting of the Buff’s, and I can’t admit you until the meeting is over.’ Beer was seen on the tables, but in answer to Mr. A. J. Long a police sergeant said he could not say whether any beer was supplied after 10pm. The Bench dismissed the case.”

It closed on 19th May 1936.

The license was transferred to the BELLE VUE, Moat Road.

ALMA

Bentley Lane, (Bentley Street) / Lane Avenue, WALSALL

OWNERS

Frank Myatt Ltd.
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Charles Browne (1933 – 1934);
Alfred William Scott (1934 – 1936);
Frank Cowlshaw (1936 – 1951);
Philip George Mackie (1951 – 1952);
Elizabeth Cowlshaw (1952 – 1959);
Amy Treece (1959 – 1960);
Mary Elizabeth Timms (1960);
John Charles Bishop (1960 – 1964);
Mabel Brown (1964 – []
Jim Perkins [1986]

NOTES

It was built in 1932.
The full license from ALMA, Paddock Lane, was transferred here.

It opened on 2nd March 1933.

Walsall Observer 22/7/1939

“Stated to have been worried by the fear of cancer, a Birchills bricklayer’s labourer, George Dukes (51), of 58 Hospital Street, Walsall, was on Saturday morning found drowned in the canal beneath the Wolverhampton Road bridge at Parkbrook. He had been missing for several days.

At an inquest conducted by the Walsall Coroner (Mr. J. F. Addison) at Manor Hospital on Tuesday, the widow stated that her husband, who had been employed by J. and F. Wootton Ltd., builders, of Pinfold, Bloxwich did not go to work on the morning of Monday, July 10. Recently he had had throat trouble and a cough which became worse. He feared he had cancer from which his father died and said he could never endure what his father did. He never, however, threatened to commit suicide.

Returning home in the afternoon he would not have the dinner that had been cooked, but took a sandwich out with him, saying he would be all right. That was the last time she saw him alive. She made various inquiries and reported the disappearance to the police. Recently he had been very depressed.

Joseph Bayley, of Westbury Road, King’s Hill, said he recovered the body.

Police-constable Lee (Coroner’s Officer) said the licensee of the ALMA INN, Bentley Lane, had stated that Dukes, who had not previously been a customer, called at the public-house every evening from July 10 to July 13. He appeared very strange and worried ‘like a man in a trance.’ When he left the public house about 10.30pm on Thursday night of last week he still seemed strange. The canal where the body was found was not far away.

The Coroner’s Officer said he had tried to discover where Dukes slept from the time he left home until he was last seen at the ALMA, but without success.

The Coroner: Longmore’s brickworks are in this neighbourhood and we heard before how men are in the habit of sleeping near the ovens.

The widow said she had been unable to trace where her husband went.

Dr. A. B. Davies (police surgeon) said the man’s death was due to suffocation from drowning and he appeared to have been in the water from 24 to 48 hours. In one pocket was a razor of the open type.

The Coroner, returning a verdict that Dukes drowned himself whilst his mind was unbalanced, said: ‘There are some strange features about this case. What made him leave home on Monday and not immediately to carry out his intention we shall never know. There is good reason to believe that for a few days while the police were searching for him he was alive. How he evaded recognition is difficult to believe.’

The Coroner expressed sympathy with the relatives.”

1939 Register

Bentley Lane – ALMA INN

[1] Frank Cowlshaw, date of birth 24/10/1907, fitter (engineering), married;

[2] Elizabeth Cowlshaw, dob 16/8/1913, manageress public house, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

ALMA INN, Bentley Lane, £2 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Cowlishaw, the ALMA, Bentley Lane. £0 13s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ALMA INN, Bentley Lane. £2 5s.0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ALMA INN, Bentley Street. £21 19s 9d.”

[2017]

ALMA

107, Paddock Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Bird
Joseph Brittain
William Sanders
Stephen Brown
J. T. Duce and Co, Wednesbury
Alfred Leary, Portland Road, Edgbaston, Birmingham
Arthur Beebee Ltd. [1905], [1910]
Manchester Brewery Ltd.
S. Allsopp and Sons, Burton on Trent
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Bird [1857] – [1873];
Joseph Brittain [];
William Saunders [1879] – [1880];
Stephen Brown [1881] – 1886);
George Holden Jnr. (1886 – 1887);
Alfred Jones (1887 – 1889);
David Dagley (1889);
Michael Horan (1889 – 1890);
Mrs. Rose Cormley (1890 – 1892);
Charles J Shaw [1891] (?)
Charles Henry Parsons (1892 – 1895);
Thomas Edward Patten (1895 – 1898);
Mrs. Maria Louisa Pridmore (1898 – 1899);
Isaac Rowland Freeman (1899 – 1903);
Charles John Edwards (1903 – 1907);
William Alfred Burton (1907 – 1911);
Walter Blunn (?) (1911);
John Perks (1911 – 1913);
James Carless (1913 – 1914);
Joseph Loynes (1914);
Thomas Moran (1914 – 1916);
Elizabeth Moran (1916 – 1917);

Rupert Raybould (1917 – 1920);
Richard Harper (1920 – 1921);
Edward Charles Coley (1921 – 1929);
Enoch Antill (1929 – 1931);
John Rose (1931);
Charles Browne (1931 – 1933);

NOTES

ALMA TAVERN [1858], [1861]

Birmingham Journal 22/4/1857

“At the Guildhall, on Monday last, before the Mayor, and W. Ward, J. Shannon, F. B. Oerton, and H. Highway, Esqs., a man named George Reynolds was charged with passing a counterfeit £5 Bank of England note at the ALMA TAVERN, Paddock Lane, on the 29th of last November. Mr. Blackburn having proved that the note was counterfeit, Agnes and Mary Ann Bird, and their father, the proprietor of the tavern, spoke to the uttering, and the two formers positively identified the prisoner. Police-sergeant Dackus stated he took the prisoner into custody on Thursday morning last in the PIGEON beer-house. Mr. Sill for the defence, denied the identity of Reynolds had been satisfactorily shown; adding, that at all events there was not the slightest proof of a guilty knowledge in the transaction on his part. The Bench, however, decided that a case had been made out for a jury, and the prisoner was remanded for a week, that the Bank authorities might be corresponded with on the subject of a prosecution. Sergeant Dackus, who took Reynolds so cleverly, has another case against him, which will be tried today (Wednesday.)”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/4/1857

“In November last, a man named Keyte was charged with being concerned in passing a forged Bank of England note, but discharged, the evidence against him being insufficient. At about the same time a forged note was passed at the ALMA public-house, Paddock Lane, under a similar excuse, that of getting some ale for some workmen. The man who passed it gave his name as John Lloyd. The man could not be found at the time, but Sergeant Dackus having received information went on the previous Thursday to the PIGEON beerhouse, kept by Daniel Keyte, brother of the accused in the former case, and found the prisoner asleep in bed. The witness awoke him, told him he was a police-officer, and charged him with being concerned, some three or four months before, in passing forged notes in Walsall. The prisoner replied that the officer must be mistaken, and when at the police station he averred that he had not been in Walsall for eight months, and added, ‘You’ll have to find out the date when the notes were passed.’ Two of the daughters of the prosecutor positively identified the prisoner as the man who uttered the forged notes, as did a man named Morton, who wrote the name then given by the prisoner upon the back of the note.

Mr. Sill having cross-examined the several witnesses, addressed bench, and argued that, even supposing there was no mistake as to the identity of his client, no other spurious notes had been traced to his possession, and there was, therefore, no proof of uttering with a guilty knowledge.

The bench remanded the prisoner for a week, to enable the police to communicate with the authorities of the Bank of England.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/5/1857

“George Reynolds, remanded last week, on the charge of passing a forged Bank of England note for £5 to Mr. William Bond [sic], publican, in Paddock Lane, in payment for ale, was charged with passing another forged note of the same bank and same amount on the night of 6th December last, at the OLD GREEN MAN, George Street, kept by Mr. Archer. Some suspicions were entertained as to the truth of his story, and he was followed and seen, on meeting with Edward Keyte, brother of the landlord of the PIGEON beerhouse, to hand the ale to him. Keyte was afterwards apprehended on it being found that the note was bad, but was discharged for want of evidence. The present prisoner was apprehended at the PIGEON beerhouse, on the 16th April, as previously stated, after being missing from the neighbourhood since December. Several witnesses positively identified him as the man who passed the forged note, the note itself having been marked on being found to be bad shortly after its receipt. The prisoner was remanded for a week to await communication with the authorities of the Bank of England.”

[At the Staffordshire Summer Assizes - George Reynolds was sentenced to 10 years’ penal servitude.]

Walsall Free Press 7/11/1857

“William Bird, ALMA TAVERN, Paddock Lane, appeared to a summons charging him with having his house open for the sale of liquors during the prohibited hours on Sunday last, October 25th. Mr. Cater, the chief-constable, said he visited the house about twenty minutes to eleven o’clock in the morning in question, but before arriving there he discovered a person, who appeared to be watching in the street, run into the house the back way. After he had gained admittance he found two men secreted in the club-room, who informed him they were there not to drink but to read the paper. He was going out through the yard when he heard some voices in the closet, and there he found two men concealed, one being in a beastly state of intoxication. Mr. Beaton, who appeared for the defendant, called several witnesses for the defendant, who proved it was a party yard, and that the persons Mr. Cater had last seen had not been into the house at all, although they had gained access to the yard through the gates, which were partly in possession of another person. The bench felt bound to believe Mr. Cater’s evidence, and inflicted a fine of 5s and expenses.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

William Bird, of the ALMA TAVERN, Paddock Lane, for having, at forty minutes past ten o'clock on a Sunday morning, had three men, one of whom was drunk, concealed on his premises, and for which he had on the 2nd of November last been fined 5s and costs."

1861 Census

107, Paddock Lane

- [1] William Bird (47), horse collar maker and victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann Bird (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Cecilia Bird (15), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

William Bird was described as also being an ironfounder. [1864], [1873]
He was also a malleable iron founder. [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

107, Paddock – ALMA TAVERN

- [1] William Bird (57), iron founder, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary A. Bird (55), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Carver (25), son in law, whip maker (out of employ), born Walsall;
- [4] Cecilia Carver (25), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah J Carver (17), relation, born Walsall;
- [6] Joseph W. Carver (3), grandson, born Walsall;
- [7] Cecelia E. Carver (2), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Florence A. Carver (8 months), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Clara Robatham (20), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

"Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of William Bird, ALMA TAVERN were adjourned."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/11/1879

"The following have filed petitions for liquidation in the Walsall County Court.....

William Sanders, ALMA INN, Paddock, innkeeper, brassfounder, and plater; liabilities £2,000; solicitor, Mr. F. Bill."

1881 Census

107, Paddock Lane

- [1] Stephen Brown (51), brass founder, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Brown (52), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Frederick Brown (19), son, brass founder, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Brown (17), son, brass founder, born Walsall;
- [5] Stephen Brown (14), son, brass founder, born Walsall;
- [6] Albert Brown (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Martha Kate Evans (19), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Stephen Brown – see also LAMB.

Walsall Observer 3/1/1885

"Alfred Cowley, Burrows Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the ALMA TAVERN, Paddock Lane, on Saturday. Mr. Sheldon appeared for the complainant and called witnesses, who stated that defendant was drunk and violent in the house, and refused to leave when asked. Afterwards he was got out, and he tried to get in again. He then accused the complainant of robbing him of £50.

Defendant was fined 5s and costs, or ten days imprisonment."

1891 Census

107, Paddock Lane – ALMA TAVERN

- [1] Charles J. Shaw (25), harness maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Emily Shaw (22), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harold Shaw (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Craddick (16), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 9/9/1893

"Alfred Jones, beerhouse keeper, NEW INN, Blue Lane West, formerly a well-known football player, appeared for his public examination, and was represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson, solicitor. His statement showed liabilities £311 10s 2d and assets £50 10s 3d. The following were the Official Receiver's observations: prior to 1887 he took the ALMA INN, Paddock Lane, Walsall.

He had no capital, but borrowed £14 from a friend. In April, 1889, he removed to the STORES INN, High Street, Walsall, and in 1890, to the NEW INN, Blue Lane West, Walsall. He agreed to pay £250 for goodwill, fixtures, brewing plant and unexpired portion of the lease, and to take stock at a valuation which amounted to £22. He borrowed £300 from a friend to pay these sums. He gave no security for the £300, and still owes £165 of that sum. The lease expired on the 25th March last. The bankrupt remained in possession and carried on business up to the time he filed the petition. He states the cause of his insolvency to be 'paying an excessive amount upon taking to the NEW INN, losses upon brewing, supplying beer on credit, and illness of my child.' He kept no books of account. He accounts for his deficiency as follows: Excess of liabilities over assets 12 months ago, £120 19s 11d; bad debts (for beer drunk upon the premises), £19; household expenses for the past 12 months, £75; loss upon forced realisation of effects, which he has estimated at a breaking up price, £50; doctor's bills and illness, £5; total £260 19s 11d. The examination was adjourned to the 27th inst. for closing."

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

"Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday.....
New Members..... Mrs. Maria Louise Pridmore, ALMA INN, Paddock, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....
The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug. 1898. Alehouses.....
Maria Louisa Pridmore, ALMA, served 13 children.....
He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....
On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....
In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution."

1901 Census

107, Paddock Lane

- [1] Isaac R. Freeman (31), publican, born Bedworth, Warwickshire;
- [2] Maud L. Freeman (49), wife, born Macclesfield;
- [3] Emily L. Pridmore (19), stepdaughter, born Manchester;
- [4] Frank C. Pridmore (13), stepson, born Manchester;
- [5] Florence G. Pridmore (7), stepdaughter, born Heasterham, Lancashire:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....
Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....
Charles John Edwards, ALMA.....
There were objections against this house in the report of the magistrates sub-committee on account of structural and other defects. The license was renewed subject to certain undertakings."

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

"A. Beebee's Noted Home-Brewed Ales.
Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.
Houses.....
ALMA, Paddock Lane, Walsall."

1911 Census

107, Paddock Lane

- [1] William Alfred Burton (46), brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Florence Burton (43), wife, married 21 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Minnie Burton (18), daughter, typist, born Walsall;
- [4] Jessie Burton (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Howard Burton (15), son, errand boy, born Walsall;
- [6] John Harding Burton (11), son, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Florence Jones (32), domestic servant, house work, born Walsall:

William Alfred Burton – see also WOOLPACK.

Joseph Loynes = Joseph Lyons

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
ALMA INN, Paddock Lane. £0 5s 5½d.”

The license was transferred to the new ALMA, Bentley Lane.
It closed on 1st March 1933.

ANCHOR

4, (2), (3), Bridgeman Street / Long Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Francis Plant, Kingswinford [1861]
Andrew Holmes, painter, Stafford Street, Walsall [1872], [1881]
Chester's Brewery Ltd. (leased)
John Lord [1882], [1939]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939) [1956]
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Thomas Deeley [1858]
Mrs. Frances Plant [1860] – 1861);
John Lowe (1861 – [1863]
Mrs. Sarah Lowe [1864] – [1865]
James Deeley [] – 1866);
William Keeling (1866 – []
John Purdy [1868] – [1870]
Reuben Brown Mantle [1871] – [1873];
Charles Anderson [];
Thomas Crisp [];
William Crisp [];
Charles Matthew Anderson [1880] – 1887);
Francis Adams (1887 – 1890);
Charles Taylor (1890 – 1892);
Samuel Bowen (1892 – 1894);
Eliza Bowen (1894);
John Alfred Delaney (1894 – 1897);
Frank Barber (1897 – 1899);
Joseph P Gibbs (1899 – 1904)
Thomas Bates (1904 – 1905)
Joseph Woollatt (1905 – 1910);
John Hill (1910 – 1912);
Sidney Arthur (1912 – 1921);
Mark Ryan (1921 – 1956);
Emma Ryan (1956);
Joseph Brazier (1956 – 1962);
William Henry Davis (1962 – [1964])

NOTES

4, Bridgeman Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1871], [1894], [1901], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]
2, Bridgeman Street [1881]
3, Bridgeman Street [1891]

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/6/1858

“An inquest was held at the ANCHOR INN, on Tuesday, before Mr. A. A. Fletcher, coroner, on the body of Elizabeth Stokes, who, up to the time of her death, was in the service of Mr. E. W. Fenton, wine merchant, of this town. For a few days previous to Monday the deceased had appeared in a depressed state, and on the afternoon of that day she said to the nurse, 'Eliza I wish I could die this afternoon.'

She was left to take care of the house the same evening, and on the return of Mr. and Mrs. Fenton and the nurse, they found the doors of the house fastened. Mr. Fenton effected an entrance by means of the dining room windows, and immediately searched the house. On arriving at his own bedroom he found the girl lying on the floor, and blood proceeding from her mouth. A revolver pistol, which Mr. Fenton carried with him when travelling, and which in the knowledge of the deceased, had been left loaded, was discovered by her side, and four barrels of it had been discharged. The girl had evidently shot herself with the pistol, and the bullet had entered her throat and taken egress at the back of the neck. She was not dead, and Mr. Fenton asked her why she had committed such a rash act. She replied, 'Oh, I was only looking at the pistol case.' She expired about eight o'clock..... The jury returned a verdict that the deceased destroyed herself whilst in a fit of insanity."

1861 Census

4, Bridgeman Street – ANCHOR Public House

[1] Frances Plant (34), widow, victualler, born Kingswinford;

[2] James Plant (14), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Joseph W. Plant (9), son, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Mary Ann Nuttle (19), servant, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Thomas B. Jefferson (21), lodger, steam sawyer, born Bishop Wilton, Yorkshire:

[Bishop Wilton is about 12 miles ENE of York.]

Walsall Free Press 16/11/1861

"Application was made for the transfer of the ANCHOR, Bridgeman Street, from Mrs. Frances Plant to John Lowe The police gave all applicants good characters, and the transfers were permitted."

Birmingham Daily Post 10/5/1864

"Mrs. Sarah Lowe, landlady of the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, Walsall, was charged with having on the morning of Sunday, the 1st inst, sold ale during prohibited hours. Sergeant Mason deposed to having found two men in the defendant's house at twenty minutes past ten o'clock on the morning named, and to jugs of ale being on the table before them. Mr. Cranch (from the office of Messrs. Duignan and Lewis), who appeared for the defendant, succeeded in showing that the men who were found in the house had been at work at the Crankhall Lane Bridge, on the London and North-Western Railway, near Wednesbury, during the whole of the night of the 30th of April, and that one of them, a man named John Hill, had made his way to Walsall for the purpose of depositing his tools in the depot, and going by train to join his wife and family at Birmingham, where he then lived. Being lame he had got the other man to assist him in carrying the tools, and on reaching Walsall they had obtained admission into the defendant's house to get some refreshments, Hill being in great pain and faint. The police stated that the defendant's house had been uniformly well kept, and the Bench, being of opinion that the ale was sold under special circumstances, dismissed the case."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/7/1866

"William Keeling, licensed victualler, Bridgeman Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having had his house open during prohibited hours."

Birmingham Journal 2/11/1867 - Advert

"Valuable Old-Licensed Public-House, and Other Properties, in Bridgeman Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, By Messrs. Farrington and Son, at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on Wednesday, the 20th November instant, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then read, the following Property.

Lot 1. All that valuable and well-placed Old-Licensed Public-House, known as the ANCHOR INN, situate at the junction of Bridgeman Street and Long Street, in the borough of Walsall, and near to the junction of Bridgeman Street and Station Street, Bridgeman Place and Navigation Street, and within a short distance from the Railway Station.

The House and Premises comprise a large Bar, spacious Parlour, and Tap Room; a Room 20 yards long used as an American Bowling Alley, and ante-room adjoining; Pantry, Back Kitchen or Brewhouse, and Malt Room over, Sleeping Chambers, Club Room, three-stall Stable and Coach House, and large Hay-loft over; Piggeries, Pump of Excellent Water, Soft-water Cistern and Pump, and entire Yard.

And also the House adjoining the ANCHOR INN, also fronting to Bridgeman Street, with the Appurtenances thereto belonging, in the occupation of Mr. James Barfoot; and also the Range of Upper and Lower Shopping, adjoining the last mentioned House, and fronting an occupation road, and let to Mr. William Horlick.

The owner occupies the Public-House. The House and Shopping, occupied by Mr. Horlick, are let at £23 8s a year....."

Edinburgh Gazette 24/3/1868

"Bankrupts. John Purdy, of the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, and formerly of the OLD KINGS ARMS, Bloxwich, both in Walsall, Stafford, licensed victualler and commission agent."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/11/1870 - Advert

"Wanted, a Young Man, for a Public-house, used to Brewing.

Apply ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, Walsall."

1871 Census

4, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Reuben B. Mantle (47), inn keeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Eliza Mantle (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Eliza Mantle (5), daughter, born Pensnett;
- [4] Ada Mantle (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Susan Mantle (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Bailey (72), boarder, metal worker, born Walsall;
- [7] James Wilkinson (27), brewer, born Birmingham;
- [8] Lydia Hammonds (21), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Reuben Brown Mantle – see also WHITE LION.

1881 Census

2, Bridgeman Street – ANCHOR INN

- [1] Charles M. Anderson (33), publican, born Leominster;
- [2] Ann Anderson (28), wife, born James Bridge;
- [3] Job Siviter (18), boarder, barman, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Mary Ann Potter (24), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/10/1881

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Charles Mathew Anderson, the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, was summoned for assaulting Bertha Louisa Forgham.

The evidence of the complainant showed because she did not at once leave the house when he ordered her to do so, he threw a glass of whisky, which she had paid for, in her face, pushed her out of the house and struck her violently on the eye, the nose, and the forehead.

The defence was that the woman was ordered out of the house for using gross language, and that as far as the assault was concerned she was the aggressor.

A fine of 40s and costs was imposed, and a cross summons was dismissed.”

Walsall Observer 9/5/1885

“On Wednesday afternoon Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, on the body of Mary Cookson (65) of Bridgeman Street. Deceased fell downstairs on Monday, and from then until Tuesday evening, when she died, never recovered consciousness. After hearing the evidence of Harriet Heath, with whom deceased lived, and Walter Wimbury, who lived next door, a verdict of Accidental Death was returned by the jury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses.....

The following applied in person Charles Taylor, the ANCHOR, Bridgeman Street. Refused.”

1891 Census

3, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Charles Taylor (39), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Henrietta Taylor (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Arthur Taylor (4), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Lottie Taylor (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Saddler (20), boarder, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown’s, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....

New members.... Mr. Samuel Bowen, The ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1894

“At the License Transfer Court, at the Guildhall, yesterday, the following transfers of licenses were granted.....

The ANCHOR, 4, Bridgeman Street, from Samuel Bowen (deceased) to Eliza Bowen.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The forty second annual meeting of the members of this society was held on Thursday We have to report with regret that by death we have lost five members Mr. Samuel Bowen, ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/3/1895

“The undermentioned persons were summoned at the instance of Mr. Whitworth, inspector of weights and measures, and were dealt with as stated, viz.: John Delaney, the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, 20s and costs for having in his bar a half-pint measure which was between 4 drachms and 5 drachms against the purchaser.....”

1901 Census

4, Bridgeman Street – The ANCHOR

- [1] Mary Ann Gibbs (70), widow, born Ireland;
- [2] Austin T Gibbs (40), son, brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph P. Gibbs (36), son, publican, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen A. Gibbs (34), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

Mr. F. Bill submitted plans for altering the ANCHOR HOTEL, Bridgeman Street, and to construct a commercial room. Alderman Holden asked if it was a commercial house, and Mr. Bill replied that there was an increasing trade. Deferred”

Walsall Advertiser 21/5/1904

“On the application of Mr. Cooper (Addison and Cooper) a temporary transfer was granted with respect to the ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, from Arthur Gibbs to Thomas Bates.”

1911 Census

4, Bridgeman Street

- [1] John Hill (30), hotel manager, born Edinborough (sic);
- [2] Emily Jane Hill (28), wife, married 9 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Grace Emily Hill (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Ann Lee (22), general servant, born Great Bridge;
- [5] Frederick Aubrey Perry (21), boarder, butcher, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1911

“John Durkin, 3, Temple Street, and David Crosby, 25, Peal Street, were summoned for assaulting Benjamin Jefferson, Long Street and also with doing wilful damage to the amount of 10s on January 5th.

Prosecutor, who is landlord of the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, said Crosby was requested to leave his house, when defendants both struck him. While they were being ejected Crosby put his foot through a window, and did other damage.

Durkin: Did I insult you? – Witness: Yes.

Durkin: Thankyou.

Emily Hill, of the ANCHOR INN, spoke as to seeing the window broke, and a stone was produced, it being stated that this was thrown.

Crosby told the Bench that ‘it was a gamble and a squabble – you have to hit somebody or they will hit you. The house was in an uproar. It was half-a-dozen to six.’

There were twenty previous convictions against Crosby, who asked for leniency, saying, ‘It is not what I’ve done, but what I am going to do.’

Durkin was fined 10s and costs, and allowed time to pay, but Crosby was fined 30s and costs, or in default 21 days.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

ANCHOR, Bridgeman Street, Walsall, 2s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 24/4/1924

“Ann Tiverney (20), Long Street, was charged with stealing a glass, value 3d, from the ANCHOR VAULTS, Bridgeman Street, kept by C. A. Anderson. Mr. Anderson stated that on Saturday night, about five minutes to eleven, he saw the prisoner take the glass and leave the house, and afterwards gave it to a man who was outside.

The prisoner said the glass was taken by one of a party of men who had been in the house drinking.

She was sentenced to 21 days imprisonment with hard labour.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“Plans were approved for alterations and the license renewed in 1923, and by 1925 it was described as having a ‘self contained yard, very small, 2 wc’s and urinal. There is a loft 10’8” x 10’10” adjoining the back bedroom, old property in good repair, no bathroom.””

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord's houses.....

ANCHOR, Bridgeman Street.”

1939 Register

4, Bridgeman Street

[1] Mark Ryan, date of birth 5/9/1887, beerhouse manager, married;

[2] Emma Ryan, dob 26/10/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Mark Ryan, dob 14/3/1916, brewery cooper, single;

[4] Francis (Ryan) Dee, dob 25/9/1913, female, office clerk, single:

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

Mr. M. Ryan, ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street, was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ANCHOR, Bridgeman Street. £2 4s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street. £9 11s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/1/1944 - Advert

“Wanted, Woman Cleaner, 8 till 10, mornings.

Ryan, ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....

Nine Licensed Houses..... ANCHOR INN, Bridgeman Street.”

Mark Ryan died in 1956.

[1983]

Closed

It became Anchor House. [2003]

ANGEL

24, Park Street, (Stafford Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Hayes [1841] – 1855);

James Lunn (1855 – [1856]

Robert Hayes [1858] – [1861]

NOTES

Stafford Street [1850]

24, Park Street [1858], [1860]

A wagon plying between Shrewsbury and Coventry called here. [1771]

It had an Amicable Society [1777]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at ANGEL, Park Street.”

1841 Census

Park Street

- [1] James Hayes (45), butcher;
- [2] Mary Hayes (40), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Robert Hayes (15), butcher, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Jane Lawrence (6), born Staffordshire:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/2/1842

“The match between Mr. Holden’s dog, Will, and Mr. Rabell’s dog Shot, came off on Monday, and, after two hours hard work, Shot was proclaimed the winner. Rabell’s dog can be backed against any other of 38lb weight, for £5 a side. The money is ready at Mr. Hayes’s, ANGEL INN, Park Street, Walsall, Staffordshire.”

James Hayes was also a butcher. [1849]

1851 Census

Park Street

- [1] James Hayes (59), butcher, born Bolton, Lancashire;
- [2] Mary Hayes (50), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] Jane Lawrence (17), granddaughter, born Birmingham;
- [4] Samuel Mooney (25), servant, labourer in mines, born Barr, Warwickshire;
- [5] James Taylor (59), servant, assistant, birthplace unknown;
- [6] John Smith (18), visitor, labourer, birthplace unknown:

Birmingham Journal 17/11/1855

“Mr. James Hayes, of the ANGEL INN, Park Street, Walsall, having been at Lenton fair, returned home about nine o’clock on Monday evening, and was soon afterwards taken suddenly ill, and although medical aid was promptly at hand, he died in about five or ten minutes. The medical gentleman who attended deceased was Mr. Fletcher, who is also the Coroner of the borough; and feeling quite satisfied that deceased came to his death from an attack of apoplexy, he considered an inquest unnecessary.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/12/1855

“At the Magistrates’ meeting on Wednesday, applications for the transfer of licenses were heard.....

A person named Lunn applied for the transfer to himself of the ANGEL, Park Street, formerly occupied by Mr. James Hayes, whose sudden death was recently announced. Mr. Cater, the superintendent, stated he had observed disorderly conduct in the house a few evenings since, and the case was adjourned for a week.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 13/9/1856

“Monday being the day for the renewal of old licenses and considering the application for new ones, there was a full attendance of magistrates All the old licenses were renewed excepting those of.....

James Lunn, the ANGEL, Park Street, which was suspended pending an information laid against the house by the police.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/1/1859

“Trotting. Mr. Darby’s mare having forfeited to the Dudley mare, he wishes to match her against the Kidderminster mare, for £20 or £25 a side, two miles, on the Stratford Road, to come off in three weeks from the first deposit. Money ready any night next week, at Robert Hayes’s ANGEL INN, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 16/4/1859

“Robert Hayes, landlord of the ANGEL INN, Park Street, was charged with having permitted disorderly conduct in his house, on the night of Thursday last. Police-constable Montgomery said he entered the house several times during the course of the night; the last time – about three o’clock on Friday morning – he found a number of men quarrelling about some money, for which they had been gambling. Mrs. Hayes said the parties who were quarrelling were not her regular customers, but two strangers – Mr. Barnett, station master, Brownhills, and another gentleman. The bench after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to a pay a fine of 5s and costs, this being his first offence.”

Walsall Free Press 23/6/1860 - Advert

“Old-Licensed House, Park Street, Walsall, the ANGEL INN, may be had on lease or tenancy. Apply to Mr. Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

ANGLESEY ARMS

25, (35), Upper Forster Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Bott, baker, Lichfield Street, Walsall
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joel Griffiths [1861]
James B Holt [1864] – [1865]
Peter Knapp [1868] – [1872];
Hannah Knapp [1871] ?
William Jackson [];
Emma Agnes Ankrett [];
Samuel Smith [1881] – [1884];
John Henry Timmins [];
Matthew Brown [] – 1887;
George Smith (1887 – 1888);
Charles William Marlow (1888 – 1889);
Harry Hall (1889 – 1890);
John Baddeley Jones (1890 – 1893);
Horace J Jones (1893 – 1894);
George Smith (1894 – 1896);
Thomas Bates (1896 – 1910);
Charles Mason (1910 – [1940])
Jacob Cullwick [1943]
Margaret Cullwick [1948]

NOTES

25, Upper Forster Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1904], [1939], [1940]
35, Upper Forster Street [1872]

ANGELSEA ARMS

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1861 Census

15, Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS

- [1] Joel Griffiths (38), victualler, born Aberistworth [Aberystwyth?], Cardiganshire;
- [2] Margrett Griffiths (30, wife, born Wrexam [Wrexham], Denbighshire;
- [3] George Eastwood (25), boarder, harness maker, born Ireland;
- [4] Lucy Ann Colins (17), house servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Advert

“The ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street, Walsall.

The above situate and first-class Beer House To Be Let. Possession at once. The Valuation will be from £30 to £40 only, which will include every requisite for carrying on the business. A good in-and-out-door-trade.

Apply to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Peter Knapp, beer retailer, 25, Forster Street. [1868]

1871 Census

25, Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS

- [1] Hannah Knapp (35), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Henry Belah (67), brother, born Beesons Green, Shropshire;
- [3] John Pugh (40), boarder, joiner, born Kidderminster:

Peter Knapp, beer retailer, 25, Upper Forster Street. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/10/1876

“Bankrupts. . . . Jackson W., James Street, Ryecroft Hill; Walsall, carpenter, late of the ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street, Walsall, beer retailer.”

1881 Census

25, Upper Forster Street

- [1] Samuel Smith (35), silver plater and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Dora Smith (35), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Minnie Smith (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Agnes Smith (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Winifred Smith (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Leonard Smith (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Samuel L. Smith (4 months), son, born Walsall:

Evening Star 10/3/1882

“Samuel Smith, of the ANGELSEA beerhouse, Upper Forster Street, was summoned for allowing drink to be consumed in his house after 11pm on Saturday last.

Police-constable Cross stated that on Saturday last at 11.20 he went to the house and found about a dozen men there, and drink was upon the table.

Upon cross-examination by Mr. Loxton (who appeared for the defence), the witness admitted that there had been a great row outside the house, and that the landlord had got as much as he could do to look after himself, and that two of the men who were causing the disturbance were convicted on Wednesday.

Evidence was called by the defendant to prove that no drink was sold after a quarter to eleven on that night.

A fine of 20s and costs was imposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/7/1884

“Bankrupts. . . . Samuel Smith, ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street, Walsall, beer retailer. First meeting, August 11, at 2pm, at the Official Receiver’s, Walsall; public examination, August 11, at 11.”

1891 Census

25, Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS Public House

- [1] John Baddley Jones (55), beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;
- [2] Elizabeth Jones (52), wife, born Byford, Surrey;
- [3] Alfred Jones (18), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Collins (26), visitor, born Burnhill Green, Staffordshire:
[Burnhill Green is about 6 miles NE of Bridgnorth.]

George Smith, beer retailer, 25, Upper Forster Street [1896]

1901 Census

25, Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS

- [1] Thomas Bates (30), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Ann Bates (28), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Thomas Henry Bates (3), son, born Walsall;
- [4] William Bates (2), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Alfred Bates (4 months), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Emily Bickley (16), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday. . . .

During the last the period since the last annual licensing sessions five beer retailers were also summoned, two of whom were convicted and fined. . . .

22nd February, 1901, Thomas Bates, ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Rushall Street, fined 5s and costs for selling liquor to a drunken person. . . .

ANGLESEY ARMS. Mr. Clewlow appeared for the owners (Messrs. Mitchell and Butler’s) and Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the licensee of this house, the Chief Constable having given notice of objection to the renewal of the license.

The Chief Constable: I do not press my objection.

Renewed.”

Thomas Bates, beer retailer, 25, Upper Forster Street. [1904]

He was fined 5s and costs, on 22nd February 1901, for selling liquor to a drunken person.

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

The first case taken was that of the ANGLESEY ARMS Upper Forster Street. Mr. Walker appeared for Thomas Bates, the licensee, and applied for a renewal of the license. The lessees, he said, were Mitchells and Butlers, and he believed there was freeholder behind them.

Mr. H. E. Farmer, architect, Walsall, said he had examined the premises, which had a frontage of about 25 feet to Upper Forster Street, and consisted of a bar, private sitting room, and vaults on the ground floor, three bedrooms on the first floor, and three attics. The house was in good tenantable condition, and was of the annual value, without license, of £20 1s 6d, the tenant paying all the rates.

Thomas Bates, the licensee, said it was a pre-1869 beerhouse, and he had been there for fourteen years. He paid a rent of £48, the landlord paying the rates and taxes amounting to £18 2s 9d, the poor rate assessment was £31, and it was assessed for property tax at £40.....

Plans to be deposited.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

ANGLESEY ARMS. After hearing Mr. Bewlay as to the value of this house, the Bench renewed the license.”

1911 Census

Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS

[1] Charles Mason (36), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah Mason (35), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Eveline Amy Mason (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Maggie Lafferty (16), domestic servant, born Chasetown, Staffordshire:

Charles Mason, beer retailer, 25, Upper Forster Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“Considering the ANGLESEY ARMS Sick and Dividend Club, the headquarters of which are in Upper Forster Street, has only been established three years, it has had a fairly successful year’s working. The membership this year has decreased by eight, and the dividend is two shillings less – being eight shillings as against ten shillings last year – but the latter, it was sated at the annual general meeting on Monday evening, was due to excessive sickness. The receipts amounted to £35 15s 0d and expenditure £18 16s 2d thus leaving a credit balance of £16 19s 8d. Mr. F. Rounds was elected chairman for the ensuing year and Messrs. G. Stevens and C. Mason re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively.”

Walsall Observer 6/2/1915

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall, were opened at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Plans were deposited and for taking into the licensed premises of the ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street, of a bedroom now belonging to adjoining premises. These plans were approved.”

Walsall Observer 16/12/1916

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Charles Mason, ANGLESEY ARMS INN, Upper Forster Street, Walsall, elected member of the executive committee.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street. £3 0s 0d.”

1939 Register

25, Upper Forster Street – ANGLESEY ARMS Public House (2 of 3)

[1] Charles Mason, date of birth 27/7/1874, innkeeper, married;

[2] Sarah Mason, dob 28/1/1876, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Forster Street. £0 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 17/4/1943 - Notice

“Notice Is Hereby Given that it is proposed to apply to the Walsall County Borough Council for the Registration under the above-mentioned Act, of ANGLESEY ARMS Comfort Fund, the objects of which are to provide gifts to members of the ANGLESEY ARMS serving in H.M. Forces, the administrative centre of which is situate at ANGLESEY ARMS, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.

Any Objection to the proposed Registration should be sent in within 14 days from date of this notice.

J. Vass, Secretary.

Dated April 14th, 1943.”

The house closed in December 1961.

Compensation of £3,944 was paid.

ARBOR LIGHTS

127-128, Lichfield Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Punch Taverns

Judith Hanley (leased 2003 to [2008])

LICENSEES

Judith Hanley [2009]

NOTES

It was formerly Fibber McGees Irish bar.

It opened in December 2002.

Judith Hanley was also a fashion designer.

She was married to Sean.

[2017]

ARCHERS

Thornycroft Way, Yew Tree Estate, WALSALL

OWNERS

Darby's Brewery Ltd.

Bass Ltd. [1992]

LICENSEES

Harold William Rogers (1955 – 1956);

Harold Gillard (1956 – [1960])

NOTES

It was opened on 29th July 1955 by the Mayor of West Bromwich, Cllr. Mrs. E. W. Guest.

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1955

“The Sixty-eighth Annual General Meeting of the Ordinary Stockholders of Mitchells & Butlers Limited will be held at the White Horse Hotel, Birmingham on Thursday, 29th December 1955. The following is an extract from the circulated statement of the Chairman, Mr. Robert H. Butler.....

We are going forward with our new buildings programme, and have completed four fully licensed premises during the year..... ARCHERS, West Bromwich.....

These new licensed premises are of a small and intimate kind and are so designed that they can be extended if the needs of the community make this desirable.....”

Harold William Rogers – check also HALFWAY HOUSE, West Bromwich.

Tipton Herald 1/10/1960

“Refused service at a West Bromwich public house, a 38-years-old steel erector hurled a pint glass across the assembly rooms, narrowly missing a barmaid, and later aimed a blow at the licensee with a stool. On the arrival of two police officers the man was alleged to have said, ‘If I had got my hands on him, I would have killed him.’

The Deputy Stipendiary, Mr. Geoffrey Green, heard this at West Bromwich, on Monday, when Jack Wootton, of 26, Fernbank Road, Yew Tree Estate, West Bromwich, was charged with causing wilful damage to the amount of £2 5s, and assaulting Mr. Harold Gillard, causing him actual bodily harm.

Wootton admitted both offences and was given a conditional discharge for 12 months on payment of £1 13s 2d costs for causing the damage. He was fined £5 on the second charge.

Supt. Harold Dix, prosecuting, said that the police officers were called to the ARCHERS public house shortly after 10pm, on August 28th. They were held up on the way and arrived at 11.30. They found Wootton outside the public house and he said, ‘I’d better get in the car, I know that I’m in trouble.’

‘Shortly after closing time Wootton called for a pint of mild but was refused because of the time. He threw a pint glass across the assembly room, narrowly missing a barmaid,’ said the Superintendent. The glass then hit some bottles and glasses, breaking them, and causing the amount of damage specified. Wootton then met Mr. Gillard in the passage leading to the assembly room and struck him on the shoulder. He picked up a stool and aimed a further blow, but it missed.

Supt. Dix added that Wootton had been refused admission to the public house on previous occasions.

Mr. F. A. Millichip, defending said, ‘Whatever I say I am not trying to excuse this man. He admits that he did certain things he should not have done. He asked for service at 10 minutes to 10 but he says that he was deliberately ignored. He felt that he was not given the attention he deserved.’

The Stipendiary told Wootton, ‘This is a disgraceful episode. You are apparently a decent chap except when in drink.’”

Walsall Observer 21/12/1984

“A Walsall brass band’s Christmas pub tour has become so popular that the players have been forced to split into three groups to complete their schedule. Highgate Brass Band, sponsored by brewers Mitchells and Butlers West, are tonight completing a series of 12 Christmas carol concerts in M&B pubs throughout the Black Country. ‘The Highgate Brass Band appeared at a number of our pubs last Christmas and were so popular that we have had to split them up into three groups of six players each to meet all the requests,’ an M&B spokesman said. ‘They bring a great deal of traditional Christmas cheer and goodwill with them, and money raised during the evenings will go to local charities.’

The band appears tonight at 9pm at the SWAN, Gospel End Street, Sedgley; the HARDEN, Coalpool Lane, Walsall, and the ARCHERS, Yew Tree Estate, Walsall.”

It closed in August 1996 after being damaged by thugs fighting on two occasions, 48 hours apart.

It reopened as ORCHARD. [2005], [2007]

It was renamed ARCHERS. [2010]

[2017]

BAKERS ARMS

15, (14+15), Caldmore, (14+15, Caldmore Square), (14, Caldmore Green), WALSALL

OWNERS

Elizabeth Tulley, Caldmore, Walsall
Hannah Tulley
S. B. Wheway Esq.

Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Benjamin Mason [1834] – [1835]
Daniel Woodfield [1861] – [1870]
George Tulley [1871] – [1881];
Hannah Tulley [];
Samuel Allsopp [];
Benjamin Paul Ludlow [] – 1887);
Frank Woodward Roberts (1887 – 1898);
Alfred Brown (1898 – 1926);
Sarah Brown (1926);
Elizabeth Ann Cartlidge (1926 – 1932);
Sidney New (1932 – 1934);
Charles William Summerton (1934 – 1948);
Frederick Preston (1948 – 1957);
Kenneth Charles Hennessey (1957);
Arthur Middlebrook (1957 – 1965);
Sidney Jones (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

14+15, Caldmore Square [1871]
14+15 Caldmore [1881], [1904], [1940]
15, Caldmore [1896]
14, Caldmore Green [1901]

BAKERS INN [1891]

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

It was originally unnamed.

Benjamin Mason, beerhouse keeper, Caldmore. [1834]

1861 Census

Caldmore

- [1] Daniel Woodfield (40), publican and provision dealer employing 8 men and 1 boy, born Thetford, Warwickshire;
- [2] Sophia Woodfield (30), wife, born Henley in Arden, Warwickshire;
- [3] Ann Sophia Woodfield (10 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Fox (17), servant, born Ireland:

Walsall Free Press 1/6/1861

“Daniel Woodfield, keeper of the BAKERS ARMS, beerhouse, at Caldmore, was summoned by the chief of police, for having his house open on Whit-Monday night, after eleven o’clock. Defendant pleaded guilty, and said he had friends to see him on the evening in question. Previously he had sent his wife to ask Mr. Cater to allow him to have a few friends on that evening at his house. Mr. Cater confirmed defendant’s statement, and said he had not given the permission demanded, because he thought he had no right to do so. If, however, there had not been some noise in the house, it was possible the attention of the police would not have been attracted to it. Under the circumstances of the case, the Bench thought a fine of 6d and costs would be sufficient.”

Daniel Woodfield, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 15, Caldmore. [1864], [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

14+15, Caldmore Square

- [1] George Tulley (43), metal dealer and brewer, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Tulley (43), wife, born Worcestershire;
- [3] Alice E. Tulley (15), scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Tulley (84), mother, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Rhoda Peate (15), niece, scholar, born Walsall:

George Tulley, beer retailer, 15, Caldmore. [1872]

1881 Census

14+15, Caldmore

- [1] George Tully (53), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Tully (51), wife, born Tardebigg, Worcestershire:

1891 Census

14 and 15, Caldmore Road – BAKERS INN

- [1] Frank W. Roberts (38), publican BAKERS ARMS, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Elizabeth Roberts (31), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Arthur Frank Roberts (7), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Lillian T. Roberts (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Evelyn Bowen (22), servant, born Pelsall;
- [6] Emma Richards (15), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“Athletic News And Notes.....

I welcome with relief some items of information to hand from the new secretary of Walsall Football Club, Mr. A. E. Pardoe..... Season Tickets, 4s 6d and 7s 6d are now ready, and can be obtained at the STORK HOTEL, Mr. Watkins’s Restaurant, Mr. A. T. Taylor’s (Digbeth), Mr. James Mills’s (WHITE LION, Sandwell Street), Mr. Brown (BAKERS INN, Caldmore Green), Mr. Ricketts (West Bromwich Road), and Mr. Tandy’s (Park Street), and from any of the members of the committee or the hon. secretary.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/11/1895

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday..... Mr. Alfred Brown, BAKERS ARMS, Caldmore, Walsall were elected members of the society.”

Alfred Brown, beer retailer, 15, Caldmore. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening.....

Mr. Alfred Brown, BAKERS INN, Caldmore, and Mr. Robert Bromwich, BIRD IN HAND, James Street, both beer retailers, were unanimously elected to fill the vacancies on the Executive Committee, that body being now complete.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

Alfred Brown, BAKERS ARMS, served 241 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views..... On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

14, Caldmore Green – BAKERS ARMS INN

- [1] Alfred Brown (29), widower, brewer and publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Annie Maund (21), barmaid, born Pelsall;
- [3] Lucy Maund (19), barmaid, born Pelsall;
- [4] Mary J. Wilkinson (25), general servant, born Bentley:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903

“Air-Gun Shooting.

DUKE OF YORK Rifle Club v BAKERS INN Rifle Club.

The above clubs met of Saturday last on the DUKE OF YORK range, Dudley Street.....”

[The DUKE OF YORK won 387 to 320.]

Alfred Brown, beer retailer, 14-15, Caldmore. [1904], [1912]

He was a committee member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The BAKERS ARMS. Mr. Jackson asked on behalf of Mr. Alfred Brown, the landlord of the above house on Caldmore Green, for sanction to alter some plans which were approved some time ago, in order to make the brewery a little larger, as there was not sufficient room in which to put the apparatus. Sanctioned.”

1911 Census

Caldmore – BAKERS INN

- [1] Alfred Brown (39), brewer, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Brown (31), wife, married 7 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Lilian Annie Brown (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Margaret Eleanor Brown (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Francis Maud Brown (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Florence Mary Brown (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Annie Brown (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Edith Annie Keay (19), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BAKERS ARMS, Caldmore, Walsall, 12s.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/3/1916

“Lighting Order Prosecutions..... Alfred Brown, licensee of the BAKERS INN Caldmore. Fined 20s.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BAKERS INN, Caldmore, £1 1s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

BAKERS INN, Caldmore Green.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BAKERS INN, Caldmore Green, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BAKERS INN, Caldmore. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BAKERS INN, Caldmore. £1 12s 3d.”

A full license was granted on 3rd February 1949.

Birmingham Daily Post 2/2/1959

“Twenty-four people in the Birmingham district who for the past three months have been studying inn-keeping at Birmingham College of Commerce have been awarded the Licensed Trade Diploma.....

A. Middlebrook, BAKERS INN, Caldmore, Walsall.”

Closed [1995]

It was converted into shops. [2007]

BALACLAVA

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Randle [1855] – [1859]

NOTES

It had an ante '63 beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 15/5/1858

“The case of William Randle, landlord of the BALACLAVA Beerhouse, Blue Lane, charged with having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours, was at the request of the defendant remanded till Monday.”

Walsall Free Press 3/9/1859

“This being the whole of the criminal business, the bench proceeded to the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses.....

The application of Mr. Randle, beerhouse keeper, Blue Lane, supported by Mr. Crump, was refused on the ground of its not being necessary to increase the number of public-houses in that locality.”

Walsall Free Press 16/6/1860 - Advert

“BALAKLAVA TAVERN, Blue Lane, Walsall.

To Be Let, with immediate possession, the above first class Beerhouse, containing a large tap-room, parlour bar, kitchen, club-room, forty feet long, good brewhouse, stable piggeries and entire yard with excellent skittle alley, and has been successfully carried on by Mr. Randle, for the last five years, who has now taken the MALT SHOVEL INN, Lower Rushall Street.

The coming-in can be reduced to any reasonable amount to suit parties.

Apply to Mr. Horobin, Auctioneer and Valuer, 33, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

BARLEY MOW

Goscote Lane, (9, (90), Goscote), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

J. C. Smith, New Bridge, near Tettenhall, Wolverhampton

Mrs. Caroline Hollienhead

Dr. Cooke, Aldridge

Bloxwich Brewery Co. [1904]

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Punch Taverns

LICENSEES

John Banks [1827]

Walter Hall [1849] – [1851]

Richard Benton [1858] – [1872];

Mrs. Caroline Hollinshead [1881] – 1899);

Thomas Stanley Emery (1899 – 1902);

John Davis (1902);

Ernest Howard Ingram (1902 – 1903);

John James Perry (1903 – 1906);

James Toomey (1906 – 1921);
David Cope (1921 – 1924);
William Harry Arrowsmith (1924 – 1927);
Samuel Charles Holland (1927 – 1939);
James Alfred Beale (1939 – 1953);
Ada Beale (1953 – 1967);
Gordon Beale (1967 – []

NOTES

9, Goscote [1871]
90, Goscote [1881], [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was popular with canal boatmen.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/3/1827 - Advert

“Public House and Land, at Goscote.

To be Let and entered upon, the Goodwill and immediate Possession of all that excellent and good accustomed Public House, Stable, Cowhouse, Shop, and about three Acres of Land, known by the sign of the BARLEY MOW, situate at Goscote, in the foreign of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, now in the possession of John Banks.

The situation is most desirable, it being within about 300 yards of a large Foundry, and adjoining the Essington and Wyrley Canal. For further particulars apply to Mr. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall, or to Mr. Joseph Smith, Rushall Mills, near Walsall.”

1851 Census

Goscote

- [1] Walter Hall (48), victualler, born Gnosall, Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Hall (46), wife, born Gnosall, Staffordshire;
- [3] John Hall (19), son, agricultural labourer, born Gnosall, Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Hall (17), daughter, servant, born Gnosall, Staffordshire;
- [5] Thomas Hall (12), son, scholar, born Gnosall, Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 11/12/1858 - Advert

“To Be Shot For. On Monday, January 3rd, 1859, at Mr. Richard Benton's, the BARLEY MOW, Goscote, A Fat Pig, about 40 Scores. 40 Subscribers at 10s each. 3 Birds each, Single guns 21 yards 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ oz shot. Double guns, 19 yards rise, 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz shot. Shooting to commence at 12 o'clock. Supper on the table a 5 o'clock. Tickets 2s 6d each.”

Walsall Free Press 22/10/1859

“About two o'clock on Friday afternoon, a miner, named Titus Nicholls, aged eighteen, was about to descend a 'gin pit' at Goscote, for the purpose of inspecting it; the keeper or bolt that fastens the chain and prevents a recoil, from the weight of the skip, till the whimsey is put in order for lowering, slipped out, and deceased was precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, where his brother was at work. Deceased was immediately taken up, and conveyed to his residence at Goscote, where he lay in great agony, till three o'clock on Saturday morning, when death terminated his sufferings. An inquest was held upon the body on Monday afternoon, at the BARLEY MOW INN, Goscote, and a verdict of Accidental Death was recorded.”

Richard Benton was also a boiler maker. [1860], [1861]

1861 Census

Goscote – The BARLEY MOW

- [1] Richard Benton (52), boiler maker, born Pelsall;
- [2] Ann Benton (53), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Eliza Holyhead (6), niece, born Tipton;
- [4] Mary Nightingale (19), niece, born Tipton;
- [5] Edward Ward (19), boiler maker's apprentice, born Brude [Brewood?], Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 15/11/1864

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Richard Benton, landlord of the BARLEY MOW beerhouse, Goscote, appeared before Messrs. T. Hazledine (Mayor), Cox, Ward, Potter, and Shannon, charged, on the information of Mr. W. G. Reid, Supervisor of Excise, with having removed some mashed malt before it had been inspected by one of the Inland Revenue officers. Mr. Glover, on behalf of the defendant pleaded guilty, but stated that the malt was removed in the absence of, and without the knowledge of, the defendant. Mr. Reed believing that the removal of the malt was an oversight, did not press the case against the defendant. The Bench imposed the lowest fine allowed by law, viz., £50; and recommended a reduction, if not total remission, of the fine. The Supervisor promised to forward the recommendation to the proper quarter.”

Walsall Free Press 10/7/1869

“About 7am on the morning of the 5th inst., Martha Bore Kean, aged 73 years, a widow, who resides at Goscote, came down stairs and sat upon a sofa in her kitchen, and complained of shortness of breath; but had not been down stairs many moments when she expired. For some months past deceased had complained of a pain in her left side.

On Wednesday an inquest was held at the BARLEY MOW, Goscote, by A. A. Fletcher, Esq., Coroner for the Borough, upon the body of the deceased, and the jury, after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/11/870

“Abraham Harper, aged 14 years, was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment, for having stolen 3s 6d, the property of Richard Benton, landlord of the BARLEY MOW public-house, Goscote. The lad had been suspected, and on Monday last some money was marked and placed in a cupboard. The prisoner was left in the room a few minutes by himself, and after he left the room the money was missed, and information given to the police. The youth was apprehended by Sergeant Martin, and the marked money – a half-crown and a shilling – found upon him. The prisoner was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment.”

1871 Census

9, Goscote

[1] Richard Benton (62), widower, licensed victualler and farmer, born Pelsall;

[2] Caroline Walkinshaw (35), daughter, born Pelsall;

[3] Elizabeth Walkinshaw (16), granddaughter, born Tipton;

[4] William Walkinshaw (13), grandson, born Tipton:

[Is Caroline Walkinshaw the same person as Caroline Hollinshaw?]

Caroline Hollinshead = Caroline Hollienhead = Caroline Hollinshaw

1881 Census

Goscote – BARLEY MOW INN

[1] Caroline Hollinshaw (41), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;

[2] Eliza Goring (26), daughter, born Tipton (Ocker Hill);

[3] George Goring (30), son in law, miner, born Brierley Hill;

[4] Richard Goring (5), grandson, scholar, born Goscote;

[5] William C. Goring (1), grandson, born Goscote:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/8/1886

“Yesterday, Mr. F. Bill, Deputy Coroner, held an inquest at the BARLEY MOW INN, Goscot, on the body of Henry Hart (70), labourer. The deceased had for years suffered from ulcerated legs and rheumatism, but was able to go about. On Wednesday morning, as he was returning from the garden, he fell down, and on being carried into the house almost immediately expired. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

1891 Census

90, Goscote – BARLEY MOW

[1] Caroline Hollinshead (55), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;

[2] Eliza Goring (36), daughter, born Tipton;

[3] William Hollinshead (33), son, boiler maker, born Tipton;

[4] George Goring (41), son in law, coal miner, born Brierley Hill;

[5] Richard Goring (15), grandson, fitter’s apprentice, born Goscote;

[6] William Goring (11), grandson, scholar, born Goscote:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1893

“Yesterday, Mr. T. H. Stanley, coroner, held an inquest at the BARLEY MOW INN, Goscote near Walsall, on the body of John Holt (64), Heath End, Pelsall, a widower. On Wednesday the man was employed by Messrs. Hough and Sons, at the Heath End Colliery, in superintending the diversion of a brook into a pit which had recently been on fire, when the earth gave way, apparently by the action of running sand beneath, and formed a great hole. He went to take part in filling up the hole, and, another disturbance of earth taking place, he was carried down into the hole, a large quantity of earth following and completely burying him. His workmen set to work at once to rescue him, and were engaged for four hours before the body was recovered. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1899

“Last Tuesday evening Messrs. Watkins, Powell, and Wood at their Property Sale Room, Bridge Street Walsall, disposed of the following: The freehold inn known as the BARLEY MOW, situate at Goscote, Walsall, together with two cottages adjoining and croft of land in front. A company interested in the licensing trade was present, and biddings commenced at £500, but soon reached £1,200, at which sum the property was sold, the figure being generally regarded as exceedingly satisfactory. Mr. Joel Cook, of Walsall, acting in conjunction with Mr. Archer B. Smith, of Wolverhampton, were the solicitors.”

1901 Census

Goscote – BARLEY MOW TAVERN

- [1] Thomas S. Emery (35), licensed victualler, born Blakenall;
- [2] Sarah Emery (42), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Florrie Lees (15), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

John Davis was found guilty of a felony on 22nd January 1902 and his license was disqualified.

Walsall Advertiser 1/3/1902

“Mr. R. C. E. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) made application on behalf of the Bloxwich Brewery Company for the grant of a license to the BARLEY MOW, at Goscote. The application was under a section of the Licensing Act of 1874, which provided that where a license was forfeited by the tenant, and no blame whatever was attaching to the owners of the house, power was given to the owners to apply for temporary authority to carry on the business until the next special licensing sessions, and then for the grant of a license to carry on business until the annual licensing day. Mr. Plumptre stated that the tenant in question was a man named John Davis, who had only been in possession of the house some six days when he was arrested for larceny, and was convicted in that Court. In consequence the house became disqualified and but for the provisions of the section of the Licensing Act, the license would have been lost. The owners of the house were in no way to blame for what happened, and he was therefore able to ask the Bench to grant a fresh license until the annual licensing day. The house had been licensed for more than fifty years, and during that time there had never been any complaint against it previously.

Acting-Chief Constable Ballance said he was going to object on the ground that the license was not required.

The Bench, however, granted the application, the Mayor intimating that the granting of it was not to prejudice any objection on the part of the police at the annual licensing meeting that the license was not required.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....

John James Perry, BARLEY MOW.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote; BARLEY MOW INN, NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich; and KING WILLIAM INN, Little Bloxwich, were renewed, with an intimation from the Magistrates that they considered the licenses in both districts were in excess of the requirements.”

1911 Census

Goscote – BARLEY MOW

- [1] James Toomey (59), married, [marriage details crossed out], publican, born Heathland, Ross, Herefordshire:

Walsall Observer 13/6/1914 - Advert

“White pedigree Boar for service; suitable for gilts.

Apply, BARLEY MOW, Goscote, Walsall.”

[This was repeated in July.]

1939 Register

Goscote – BARLEY MOW

- [1] James Beale, date of birth 13/3/1903, colliery mechanic (underground), married;
- [2] Ada Beale, dob 6/6/1903, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Gordon Beale, dob 24/5/1930, at school, single;
- [4] Joseph Short, dob 21/3/1873, coal hewer (underground), heavy worker, widowed:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BARLEY MOW, Goscote. £43 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BARLEY MOW, Goscote. £9 10s 0d.”

[2006]

Demolished [2012]

BARLEY MOW

26, Hill Street, (Church Street), (Gorton's Yard), (26, Church Hill), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Shaw Esq., Kingswood, near Wolverhampton
David Moore, builder, Walsall
S. P. Smith and Sons, Walsall
Walter Hughes, auctioneer, Park Street, Walsall [1892]

LICENSEES

John Timbrell [1787] – [1813]
Charles Timbrell [1818] – [1822]
John Fairfield [1829]
George Fox [1828] – [1830]
Sarah Croxhall [1834]
John Averill [1835]
Richard Pearman [1861] – [1880];
Henry Clenton [];
Joseph Middleton [1881];
Thomas Freeman [];
William John Wain [];
William Pymm Jnr. [1886];
Edward Townsend [1889] – 189_);
Joseph Knight [1891] (189_ – 1894);
Samuel Tuck (1894);
John Thomas Peate (1894 – 1895);
Benjamin Kendrick (1895 – 1896);
Samuel Tuck (1896 – 1897);
William Ringwood (1897);
William Edward Coleman (1897 – []
John Kane (1898 – []

NOTES

Church Street [1818], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1834], [1835]
26, Hill Street [1862], [1864], [1872], [1881]
Church Hill [1872], [1876], [1881]
26, Church Hill [1892]

It had a beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/8/1787 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by John Heeley, at Mr. John Timbrell's, the Sign of the BARLEY MOW, in Walsall, on Tuesday the 21st Day of August instant, between the Hours of two and four in the Afternoon, the following Freehold Properties.....”

John Timbrell, victualler, Walsall. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/7/1802 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Crump, on Monday the 26th Day of July, 1802, between the Hours of Four and Six of the Clock in the Afternoon, at the Dwelling House of John Timbrell, the sign of the BARLEY MOW, in Walsall three Freehold Messuages and Dwelling Houses or Tenements, with the Shops, Gardens, and Appurtenances thereto belonging.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/3/1807 - Died

"Tuesday, at Walsall, much regretted, Mr. William Timbrell, son of Mr. John Timbrell, of the BARLEY MOW, Church Street. His death was occasioned by a fall from his horse on the preceding Sunday."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/7/1811 - Advert

"The Honourable Knights of the Wood, Chapter No.IV.

The Knights of this Order, and Chapters in Union, are respectfully informed, that the newly erected Chapter Room, at John Timbrell's BARLEY MOW, Church Street, Walsall, is complete, and will be opened for their Reception on Monday, July 22, when the Company of the respective Knights of the said Order, in Conjunction with those in Union, is solicited, which will greatly contribute to the Respectability and Harmony of the Evening. F. W. W., GM."

John Timbrell, victualler and maltster, Church Street. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Lodges.....

Knights of the Wood, No.4, held at Timbrell's, Church Street, supposed number 60 or 70, instituted 1810, surgeon Mr. Weaver, secretary Thomas Bache."

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1829 - Married

"Yesterday week, at Walsall, Mr. John Fairfield, of the BARLEY MOW, Church Street, to Ann Letitia, eldest daughter of the late Mr. Robert Middlemore, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/5/1832 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that well-known Public House, the BARLEY MOW, situate in Hill Street, Walsall; comprising tap-room, bar, large parlour, cooking kitchen, excellent cellars, six sleeping rooms, brewhouse, coalhouse, stable for eight horses, three stall ditto with hayloft, club-room 17 yards long, peg alley, &c.

The Licenses and Possession, together with the Fixtures, and the whole or part of the Household Furniture, to be taken at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply to the present Tenant, who is leaving the town solely on account of other engagements.

N.B. The stock is very low."

Richard Pearman, beer retailer, Hill Street. [1861]

Richard Pearman, retailer of beer, 26, Hill Street. [1862]

Richard Pearman, beer retailer, 26, Hill Street. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 29/10/1870 - Advert

"Found on Tuesday night, a Brindled Bitch. If not owned in Three Days will be Sold to defray expenses.

Apply, Mr. Pearman's, the BARLEY MOW."

1871 Census

26, Hill Street

[1] Richard Pearman (59), beershop keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Sophia Pearman (62), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Richard Pearman (20), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;

[4] William Pearman (18), son, brass dresser, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 10/4/1875 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold Public Houses and Other Property, at Walsall and Darlaston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Farrington & Son, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 20th day of April, 1875, at 6 for 7 o'clock, subject to such conditions as will be then produced.

Walsall. Church Street & Gorton's Yard.

Lot 1. All that Freehold Messuage or Public House, known as the BARLEY MOW INN, in the occupation of Mr. Richard Pearman, fronting Church Hill; also Four Cottages adjoining, in the occupations of Wollaston, Cooper, Malkins, and Smith, with the Workshops, Stables, and Outbuildings adjoining, fronting Gorton's Yard, and a plot of Drying Ground opposite thereto, the whole having an area of 731 square yards or thereabouts....."

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

"Adjourned Licensing Session. Mr. Glover applied for the renewal of the licences to Richard Pearman, the BARLEY MOW INN, Church Hill all the licenses were withheld on the licensing day. With regard to Mr. Pearman, he said his client felt the deepest contrition for having appeared before the Bench the worse for liquor; and on behalf of all the other applicants he made explanations with reference to the causes of the suspension of their licenses Mr. Pearman's were renewed with cautions, the Bench adding that they did not consider Mr. Pearman a proper person to hold a license, and they recommended him to dispose of his house. The Mayor also stated that the Bench intended to take notice of all evidence that might come before them, and use it against the victuallers at the next licensing session.”

1881 Census

26, Hill Street

- [1] Joseph Middleton (57), beer seller and miner, born Brownhills;
- [2] Maria Middleton (57), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Edward J. Middleton (19), son, hammer man (smith), born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ellen Middleton (16), daughter, dressmaker, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Emily Middleton (14), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Harry Middleton (11), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] George Philips (28), lodger, bricklayer, born Derlen (?), Herefordshire;
- [8] Frederick Harper (8), grandson, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Olive Harper (4), granddaughter, scholar, born Wednesbury:

Evening Express 26/10/1881

“Joseph Middleton, landlord of the BARLEY MOW public house, Gorton’s Yard, was charged with keeping open his house, for the sale of beer on Sunday morning last during prohibited hours.

Police-constable Higgins stated that he watched the defendant’s house from 7.30 to 9.40 on Sunday morning last, during which time he saw four women and six men go in and come out; and at 9.50 he met a boy named Astin coming out with a pint of beer in a jug. Witness brought the boy back to the house, and defendant subsequently asked him to overlook the offence, which he declined to do. Numerous complaints had been received as to the way in which the house was conducted.

The defendant, who pleaded guilty, was fined 20s and costs.”

William Pymm Jnr. was fined 10s and costs, on 25th June 1886, for permitting drunkenness.

Edward Townsend was fined 10s and costs, on 13th September 1889, for being open after hours.

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1889

“The adjourned licensing day, which was held at the Guildhall, on Monday [23/9], had been looked forward to with considerable interest on account of the large number of objections to the renewal of licenses made by the Chief Constable. All the houses objected to, something like 162, had been visited by the Magistrates, and in the vast majority of cases the structural alterations required by the Chief Constable had been made, hence the objections were withdrawn. Others persisted in, however, with the result that the bench refused to renew the licenses of five houses, these being, the SHAKESPEARE, Peel Street; the UNION, Ryecroft; the BARLEY MOW, Church Hill; the PEOPLE’S MUSIC HALL, High Street; and the CROSS KEYS, Blue Lane. There is a very angry feeling on the part of the publicans at this result, and notice of appeal has been given in each case. As the matter will be brought for decision before the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, I will refrain from commenting on it.”

The license renewal was refused by the Justices at the Adjourned Licensing Meeting on 23rd September 1889.

The license was granted on appeal.

1891 Census

26, Hill Street – BARLEY MOW INN

- [1] Joseph Knight (37), licensed victualler, born Gailey;
 - [2] Sophia Knight (38), wife, born Darlaston;
 - [3] Ada K. Knight (14), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [4] Fred W. Knight (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
 - [5] Thomas J. Knight (6), son, scholar, born Walsall:
- [Gailey is about 4 miles W of Cannock.]

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1892 - Notice

“To the Overseers of the Poor of the Township of the Foreign of Walsall, in the County of Stafford; and to the Chief Constable or other Superintendent of Police of the District comprising the Borough of Walsall; and to all others it may concern.

Pursuant to the 22nd Section of the Licensing Act, 1847 (37 and 38 Vic., Chapter 49), I, Joseph Knight, now residing and for the past 12 months resided at the BARLEY MOW, 26 Church Hill, Walsall, Beer House Keeper, being a person interested in the house and premises hereinafter mentioned, do Hereby Give You Notice that it is my intention to Apply to the Justices of the Peace for the Borough of Walsall aforesaid, assembled at the Adjourned General Annual Licensing Meeting for the said Borough to be holden at the Guildhall in the said Borough on Wednesday, the 28th day of September, 1892, at 10 o’clock in the Forenoon, for a provisional grant of a License authorising me to apply for and hold any of the Excise Licenses that may be held by a Publican for the sale by retail of spirits and other intoxicating liquors to be consumed either on or off the premises at a house at the junction of Whitehall Road and Arundel Street, in the Township of the Foreign of Walsall, about to be constructed by conversion into one house of two houses, one of which is in the occupation of William Davis, and is now used as a grocer’s shop, being 161, Whitehall Road, and the other of which is now in the occupation of Fanny S. Fellows, being 85, Arundel Street, and which house will be constructed according to plans to be produced to and sanctioned by the said Judges at the said Adjourned Licensing Meeting. Walter Hughes of Park Street, Walsall, auctioneer, is owner of the said house and premises in respect of the said application is to be made.

And in case the said Justices shall decline to grant such License aforesaid, I shall immediately thereon apply to them at such Adjourned Licensing Meeting for the provisional grant of a License authorising me to apply for and hold a License to sell by retail at the said house and premises so to be constructed as aforesaid, beer to be consumed on or off the said premises in pursuance of the Act 11 Geo. 4 and 1 Wm. 4, c.64, and Acts amending the same.

Given under my hand this 6th day of September, 1892.

Joseph Knight.

R. W. Gillespie, Solicitor, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....

Mr. Gillespie applied on behalf of Joseph Knight, of the BARLEY MOW beerhouse, Church Hill, to remove the license to two houses at the corner of Arundel Street and Willenhall Road. He stated that this applicant was also prepared to sacrifice a second license, that of the YEW TREE beerhouse Stafford Street. He pointed out that there was a large and growing population in this neighbourhood, and as both licenses were in the neighbourhood of churches, the removal was a most desirable one. Mr. Gillespie produced plans of the alterations proposed to be made, and said it was the intention of the applicant to make a feature of supplying dinner to working men.

Messrs. Jesse Herbert, Bill Jackson, and Checkley opposed on behalf of other license holders, and the temperance party Refused.”

Thomas Peate, beer retailer, 26, Hill Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1898

“Application was made by Mr. F. Bill, on behalf of John Kane, beerhouse keeper, 135, Bloxwich Road, for sanction to the removal of a license from Church Hill to 135, Bloxwich Road, or, in the alternative, to sell beer, cider, and perry to be consumed off the premises at Bloxwich Road. Mr. W. H. Duignan opposed on behalf of John Williams, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY. A beer-off license on the new site was granted in place of the old license.”

The license was surrendered.

BAR N.V.

49, Bradford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

It was situated opposite Vicarage Place.

It opened on 7th September 2005.

[2017]

BARREL

Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mary Beddowes [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

BARREL

56, Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Unitt, Park Street, Walsall, later at Mellish Road
Elizabeth Mary Unitt and Maria Charlotte Unitt

LICENSEES

James Lewis [1858] – [1870]
Elizabeth Derby [1860]
Richard Hall [1861] – [1871]
George Noakes [1872];
Thomas Ankrett [];
James(?) Ankrett [] – 1873)
Benjamin Evans (1873 – [];
James Holmes [1876];
Charles William Pearson []
Stephen Hunter [1881];
George Harris [];
Charles Astins [] – 1888);
Charles Taylor (1888 – 1889);
William Wood (1889 – 1891);
David Hyde (1891 – 1893);
Richard Bates (1893 – 1898);
Robert Houlston (1898 – 1901);
William Heath (1901 – 1902);
Edward Henry James (1902 – 1904);
Frederick Mears (1904 – 1907):

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

James Lewis, beerhouse keeper, 56, Stafford Street. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 20/10/1860

“Elizabeth Derby, of the BARREL beerhouse, Stafford Street, was summoned to answer a charge of having her house open after eleven o’clock on Monday night. Defendant would not plead guilty except on behalf of her clock, which she seemed to think ought to have been summoned instead of herself. Her clock struck ten when it ought to have struck eleven, and by such improper behaviour induced her to think it was an hour earlier than it really was. In reply to the Bench she said her clock had served the same trick before. The Bench were obliged to fine defendant 2s 6d on behalf of her clock, and strongly advised her to sell it and procure an honest one.”

1861 Census

56, Stafford Street – BARRELL

- [1] James Lewis (42), beerhouse keeper, born Rushall;
- [2] Ann Lewis (43), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] Sarah Lewis (16), daughter, buckle maker, born Rushall;
- [4] Mary Lewis (10), daughter, born Rushall;
- [5] James Lewis (6), son, born Rushall:

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861

“The business of the general licensing day then commenced. There were seventeen applications.....

Richard Hall applied through Mr. Wilkinson for a license for his house in Stafford Street. Mr. Glover appeared on behalf of Mr. Bird, whose house was situated about ninety yards away from Mr. Hall's. Mr. Wilkinson said that, in spite of adverse circumstances against which he had to concede, he thought there were points in Mr. Hall's application which would be put in a favourable light before the bench. He then proceeded to point out that Mr. Hall's premises were most commodious, that the street in which it was placed was one of the most populous in the town, and that Mr. Bird's opposition was improper and ungenerous. Application declined.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/9/1861 - Advert

“To be Sold under a Bill of Sale, at the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, Walsall.

All the Stock-in-Trade, Brewing Plant, one 750-gallon Ale Cask, eight 50-gallon ditto, 600 Gallons of Prime Ale and Beer.

Three Cart Horses, four strong Carts, Household Furniture, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. Richard Hall.

Which will be Sold by Auction, by R. L. Courtney, This Day (Wednesday). Sale to commence at Ten o'clock. The Horses and Carts will be Sold at Eleven o'clock to a minute.”

James Lewis, retailer of beer, 56, Stafford Street. [1862]

James Lewis, beer retailer, 56, Stafford Street. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

Richard Hall, BARREL INN, Stafford Street.” [Refused. Notice of appeal given.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1865

“Annual Licensing Meeting applications for new licenses.....

Richard Hall, Stafford Street.....

Refused the reason assigned being that there were enough public houses in the localities.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/7/1866

“The same afternoon [Monday] Mr. A. A. Fletcher (Borough Coroner), held an inquest at the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Lane, on the body of Elizabeth Taylor, nearly eighteen years old, who lived with her parents at Town's End Bank. From the evidence of Sarah Bird, wife of John Bird, buckle-maker, Town End Bank, it appeared the deceased used to be a very merry, light-hearted girl, about eight or nine days ago, since which time she had been very sad and melancholy, as if she had something very heavy on her mind. Witness could assign no reason for the change in deceased's conduct except it was on account of her sweetheart's conduct towards her. On Monday night he went to a tea party at Rushall, and deceased followed him, and saw him sporting and toying with some other girl. About half-past eight o'clock on Tuesday morning witness saw deceased come up the yard in which witness's husband works, and go to the water-tap. She then went and sat on a stone near to the tap, and in a few minutes afterwards became violently convulsed. The deceased's father, who was at work in the yard, ran out and took her into the house, and on getting in he asked her what she had done, and she replied she had poisoned herself. She did not say why she had done so. Witness gave deceased salt and water, and mustard and water, to make her vomit, and also administered milk and water. Her father started for a surgeon, and Mr. Palmer attended, and did all that was possible under the circumstances. Death, however, took place before eleven o'clock. It subsequently transpired that the deceased had that morning purchased a couple of pennyworth of mouse poison at the shop of Mr. Humphries, chemist, and, there was every reason to suppose had taken it. The Jury returned a verdict of 'Suicide, while in a fit of temporary insanity'.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/10/1868

“At the Police Court, on Thursday, William Taylor was charged with stealing one gander and two geese, from the premises of Mr. James Allen, landlord of the THREE CUPS [sic] INN, Sutton Road. Mr. Bayley, of Wednesbury, prosecuted.

Prudentis Ann Allen, the wife of the prosecutor, stated that on the 24th of January last, she saw the geese and gander safe, but on Sunday, the 26th of that month, she missed them. Information was given to the police, and on the following Friday Detective-serjeant Wood brought some legs and a head which she identified as those of the missing gander. She knew the head because the gander was a very old one and had lost one eye; and the right leg she was also able to identify because a horse once trod upon it.

Richard Hall, pawnbroker, Stafford Street, proved having purchased two geese and a one-eyed gander with an injured leg from the prisoner on the 25th January, and stated that he gave him 14s 9d and some ale for the three, and sold the gander to a person named John Hubble.

Detective-serjeant Wood gave evidence to show that he found the gander that was identified by the prosecutor at the house of Hubble; and the prisoner was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870 - Advert

“To Be Let, Ale & Porter Stores, the BARREL, Stafford Street; doing a good business. The present proprietor leaving on account of ill health.

Apply on the Premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1870

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

The applications for renewals were then dealt with. On the name of Richard Hall being called, Mr. Oerton announced that the magistrates present had unanimously, with the exception of the Mayor, decided to adjourn the case till the adjourned licensing day, the 13th of September, Mr. Hall having a charge against him of receiving stolen goods, which they considered should be disposed of before he received his license. The Mayor protested against the decision, and said it was contrary to the principles of English law, which required that a man should be held to be innocent until he was proved to be guilty. Mr. Oerton replied that there were other complaints against Mr. Hall, and that they were there to protect the public as well as Mr. Hall. The matter was then allowed to drop.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/11/1870

“Walsall Borough Quarter Sessions.

Richard Hall, pawnbroker, broker, and innkeeper, was indicted for having received two ladders and a hand-cart, the former belonging to Mr. A. Holmes, painter, and Mr. A. Bourne, painter, and the latter to Thos. Lawley, painter, knowing the same to have been stolen. Mr. Underhill (instructed by Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis), prosecuted, and Mr. Motteram, with Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Glover) defended. Mr. Holmes’s case was taken first. It will be remembered that in the course of the summer a large number of robberies of ladders and other articles was perpetrated by a young man named Charles Matthews, who took them to Mr. Hall’s and borrowed money upon them. At the time of discovery 23 of the ladders and Mr. Lawley’s hand-cart were upon the prisoner’s premises, and some other articles bore the names of the owners. For the defence it was urged that the prisoner had no means of knowing that the articles were improperly come by, and several witnesses were called to speak of his good character. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment. No evidence was offered in the other two indictments. A case was granted for the consideration of the Court above, on certain objections to evidence taken in the course of the case, and the learned Recorder intimated that the Court would take no objection to any application which might be made to a judge in chambers for the liberation of the prisoner on bail.”

1871 Census

56, Stafford Street

- [1] Henry Lees (25), engine fitter, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Lees (21), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Florence Lees (4 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

The application for the transfer of the license of the BARREL, Stafford street, from Richard Hall to Joseph Hall, was renewed by the latter, Mr. Glover, who appeared for the parties on the last occasion, having withdrawn from the case. The applicant stated, in answer to the Bench, that he had not yet removed to the BARREL, but he was there every day, and he had slept on the premises, the last time being about a fortnight ago. The valuation amounted to about £90, but he had not paid anything on account of it. It was not in writing. It was arrived at by going round and looking at the stock. The furniture in the large dining room was not included. The rent was to be £25 a year. It was true that the premises were still used as a pawnshop, and goods were bought and sold there. The application was refused.”

Walsall Free Press 16/9/1871

“Joseph Hall appeared for a transfer of the license of the BARREL beer-house, Stafford Street, from his brother to himself. As it appeared the applicant had not obtained possession of the premises which were still being used by his brother, Richard Hall, as a pawnbroker’s shop, the application was refused.”

George Noakes, beer retailer, 56, Stafford Street. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/8/1873

“Benjamin Evans, landlord of the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, was charged with having sold ale on the Racecourse, he having at the time no license to sell ale. Police-constable Bayley deposed that at a quarter to six o’clock on the morning of the 17th inst. he and another officer visited a booth on the Racecourse, and found a man named Holden selling ale. Holden in answer to witness, said the booth and ale belonged to present defendant; but the defendant on being afterwards seen, said that he and Holden had ‘thrown in’ together and borrowed Mr. Akrett’s license, but that Holden had been selling out of one of his own barrels. The defendant was fined 20s and costs, or two months’ in default.”

James Holmes was fined £5 and costs, on 27th November 1876, for permitting drunkenness.

Charles William Pearson – see also BLACK SWAN, Blue Lane.

1881 Census

56, Stafford Street

- [1] Stephen Hunter (33), publican, born Birmingham;

- [2] Harriet Hunter (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Stephen Hunter (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Florence Hunter (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Harry Hunter (6), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Stephen Hunter – see also TANNERS ARMS.

London Gazette 1/10/1881

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Charles William Pearson, of the BLACK SWAN INN, Blue-lane, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Retail Brewer, previously of the BARRELL INN, Stafford street, Walsall aforesaid, Beer Retailer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, Solicitor, No.43, Temple-street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, on the 27th day of October, 1881, at a quarter-past ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 12th day of October, 1881.

Alfred B. East, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, Solicitor for the Debtor.”

1891 Census

56, Stafford Street

- [1] David Hyde (35), iron caster, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Hyde (34), wife, born London;
- [3] Thomas Hyde (16), son, saddler's apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] Eliza Hyde (15), daughter, kerchief packer (?), born Walsall;
- [5] Louisa Hyde (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Hyde (7), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers' Society.

The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last

New Members. . . . Mr. Richard Bates, BARREL INN, Stafford Street.”

Richard Bates, beer retailer, 56, Stafford Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1898

“At the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, Mr. Walter Hughes sold by auction the following property. Six freehold houses, Nos.79, 80, 81, 82, 83, and 84 Regent Street, Birchills, producing £67 7s a year. There was some brisk bidding, and the property sold for £700. The same evening Mr. Hughes submitted by auction the freehold beerhouse known as the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, and also retail shop, No.57 Stafford Street, and two houses in Blue Lane East, Walsall, the whole estimated to produce a yearly rental of £100 14s. For this property the initial bid was £1,000, which rose to £2,500, at which the property was withdrawn. The solicitors acting on behalf of the vendors in each case were Messrs. Crump and Brown, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 27/1/1900

“James Scully, 72, James Street, was summoned for being disorderly and refusing to quit the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, where he was causing a disturbance on Saturday night, being ejected and returning and renewing the disturbance. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the complainant, Robert Houlston.”

[He was fined 5s and costs, or 7 days.]

Robert Houlston was fined 40s and costs, on 3rd August 1900, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1900

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall. . . .

During the period since 30th August, 1899, five licensed victuallers have been proceeded against. . . .

3rd August, 1900, George [sic] Houlston, BARREL INN, Stafford Street, fined 40s and cost, for permitting drunkenness.”

1901 Census

56, Stafford Street

- [1] William Heath (24), publican – Beerhouse, born Brownhills;
- [2] Ada Heath (25), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Freda Heath (3), daughter, born Cannock;
- [4] Rex Heath (1), son, born Cannock;
- [5] Harriet Shorthouse (19), general servant, born Norton Canes, Staffordshire:

Edward Henry James, beer retailer, 56, Stafford Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Edward Henry James, landlord of the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, admitted that on his licensed premises there was only one room.

Mr. Barrow for the owners pointed out that the license was ante'69, and gave an undertaking that the requirements of the magistrates as to sanitary arrangements should be carried out.

Subject to this undertaking the license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

Respecting the magistrates' objection to the licenses of the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, and the BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane East, on the ground that there was a dilapidated building between the houses, Mr. Barrows (solicitor) said the owners could do nothing, as the tumbled down property belonged to neither of them. The renewal to be opposed at the adjourned meeting.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

Mr. E. A. Crump (Crump, Barrow, and Crump) asked for approval of proposed alterations to the BARRELL INN, Stafford Street, which he said were only to remove the counter from one side of the room to the other, and put up a screen to facilitate the proper conduct of the business, and keep people in the out-door from those actually drinking on the premises. Also to put a scullery at the back of the yard for domestic purposes.....

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had adjourned all the plans, and proposed to visit the houses next Wednesday. They would be glad if the architects would accompany them.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

“Yesterday the adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall.....

Several applications for the approval of plans for alterations, had been deferred from the annual licensing meeting for the magistrates to visit the premises. The Bench decided as under.....

BARREL, Stafford Street, disapproved.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

In regard to an objection to the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, Mr. H. M. Barrows (Crump, Barrows, and Crump), appeared for the owners and Mr. Jackson for the licensee, Fred Mears, and Mr. Lord, the lessee.

Mr. Ballance gave similar evidence as in the previous case as to the congestion of licensed houses and population.

The case was referred to the Compensation Authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The UNION INN, Bath Street, the IVY HOUSE, and the BARREL, Stafford Street, were referred to the Compensation Authority.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/5/1907

“The meeting of the Walsall Confirming Authority under the Licensing Act was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday. The houses recommended to the Compensation Authority were the UNION INN, Bath Street (for which Mr. Foster appeared), and the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, the MINERS ARMS, High Street, and the IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street, for all of which Mr. Jackson appeared. The advocates objected to the reference in each case, but the magistrates confirmed the whole of the recommendations of the Licensing Authority.”

The license was extinguished.

BARREL

11, (12), Wolverhampton Street, (11, Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), (Park Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Andrew Cozens
Smith and Barton, Tipton
W. J. Pearman Smith, Walsall
Peter Walker and Son [1904]
Atkinsons Ltd. [1920]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1969]

LICENSEES

Henry Smith [1848] – [1870]
Andrew Cozens [1871] – [1881];
Joseph Colledge Crooke [] – 1886);
Richard Harper (1886 – 1888);
Henry Reynolds (1888 – 1890);
Joseph Stackhouse (1890 – 1895);
John Bullus Beesley (1895 – 1904);
Alfred Toon (1904 – 1908);
Mrs. Harriet Annie Toon (1908 – 1919);
Frank William Roberts (1919 – 1920);
Alfred Lee (1920 – 1922);
John Cockbill (1922 – 1928); manager
John Henry Loynes (1928 – 1933);
Arthur Sheldon (1933 – 1937);
Walter Moore (1937 – 1938);
Sidney Dyde (1938 – 1944);
Sarah Lines (1944 – 1946);
Bert Lines (1946 – 1949);
Fred Day (1949 – 1951);
John Cowan (1951 – [1958])

NOTES

Park Street [1848], [1849], [1850], [1872]
Wolverhampton Lane [1851]
Wolverhampton Road [1865]
12, Wolverhampton Street [1868]
11, Wolverhampton Street [1858], [1860], [1862], [1871], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]
11, Wolverhampton Road [1861]

It had an open yard leading to Marsh Lane.

BARRELL [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“At the sitting of the magistrates, the following persons applied for spirit licenses for their respective houses.....
Mr. Henry Smith, Park Street. Refused.”

Henry Smith was also a cooper. [1849], [1850], [1858], [1864], [1865]

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Lane

- [1] Henry Smith (41), master cooper and beer retailer, born Cradley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Phoebe Smith (22), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Emma Smith (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Edward Smith (12), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Smith (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Phoebe Smith (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Mary Smith (2), daughter, born Walsall;

- [8] Maria Smith (1), daughter, born Walsall;
[9] Edward Smith (82), father, annuitant, born Ledbury, Herefordshire;
[10] Elizabeth Shaw (17), servant, born Rushall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

“At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last., eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers’ licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.....
Henry Smith, Wolverhampton Street.”

1861 Census

- 11, Wolverhampton Road
[1] Henry Smith (51), cooper and victualler, born Cradley, Herefordshire;
[2] Phoebe Smith (52), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Eliza Smith (20), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Phoebe Smith (18), daughter, born Walsall;
[5] Mary Smith (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Maria Smith (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] George Thomas (20), brewer’s apprentice, born Cradley, Herefordshire;
[8] James Thomas (24), visitor, manservant, born Cradley, Herefordshire:

Walsall Free Press 28/2/1863

“John Warrilow was charged with having, on Monday last, assaulted Edward Davies. It appeared that the complainant and defendant who had been companions for fifteen years, and who had been bedfellows for a considerable portion of the time, had quarrelled about some report which defendant suspected complainant of having originated, and on the night in question they met at the BARREL public house, Wolverhampton Lane, where a club of which they are both members, holds its meetings, when defendant accused complainant of raising the report, and then spit in his face. After the business of the club was disposed of, they went to a barber’s shop in Stafford Street, for the purpose of ascertaining the origin of the report; but the barber not being at home, they commenced quarrelling, when defendant spat in the face of complainant, who returned the compliment. Thereupon defendant struck complainant and knocked him down three times. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/10/1864

“On Monday evening, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Borough Coroner, opened an enquiry, at the house of Mr. H. Smith, the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall, into the circumstances attending the death of Samuel Smith, a shoemaker, thirty-four years of age. It appeared from the evidence that on Saturday night the deceased went to bed in his usual health, and about four o’clock on the following morning his wife heard him fall out of bed. She at once got a light, and then found that her husband was dead. The Jury found that death had resulted from apoplexy. The deceased leaves a family of six children.”

Henry Smith, beer retailer, 12, Wolverhampton Street. [1868], [1870]

Andrew Cozens = Andrew Cozen

1871 Census

- 11, Wolverhampton Street
[1] Andrew Cozens (31), victualler, born Thame, Oxfordshire;
[2] Phoebe Cozens (28), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Mary Cozens (3), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] John Cozens (1), son, born Walsall;
[5] Mary Cartwright (20), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
[6] Elizabeth Westley (15), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

“Municipal Election. The Bridge Ward.....
On Wednesday evening a meeting of Mr. Grant’s supporters was held at the BARREL, Wolverhampton Street.....”

Midland Counties Evening Express 28/4/1875

“James Durkin was summoned for assaulting Andrew Cozen, landlord of the BARREL INN on Monday. Complainant deposed that defendant was very riotous in his yard, and he went and told him to leave. Defendant then went towards the gates, and complainant went to shut them, when defendant kicked him on the knee, bringing him to the ground. While he was down, defendant threw a stone – about as large as a man’s fist – at him, but did not hit him. Defendant, who did not appear, was ordered to go to prison for a month with hard labour.”

1881 Census

11, Wolverhampton Street – BARREL INN

- [1] Andrew Cozens (37), licensed victualler, born Thame, Oxfordshire;
[2] Mary Cozens (32), wife, born Wednesbury;
[3] Mary Cozens (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] John Henry Cozens (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Phoebe Cozens (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Richard Cozens (8), son, born Walsall;
[7] Mary Clasey (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:
[Thame is about 13 miles E of Oxford.]

Evening Express 19/8/1881

“Luke Kennedy, who failed to appear, was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment for having, on Wednesday last, assaulted Samuel Davies, Shaws Leasowe.

Davies said on the evening in question he went to the BARRELS public house to pay his club money, when defendant, who was there, assaulted him without any provocation.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1888

“A the annual licensing sessions, yesterday.....

The applications for renewal of licenses on the part of twenty persons whose names were on the black list were adjourned till the adjourned licensing day; and the applications of the following were also adjourned, the Chief Constable opposing on the ground of the unsuitability of the premises for licensed houses, bad management, or the house being unnecessary, viz.....

Henry Reynolds, the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street.”

1891 Census

11, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Joseph Stackhouse (46), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
[2] Ruth Stackhouse (45), wife, born Tipton;
[3] Joseph Stackhouse (17), son, born Norton, [Norton Canes?], Staffordshire;
[4] Emily Stackhouse (16), daughter, born Norton, [Norton Canes?], Staffordshire;
[5] Fanny Stackhouse (13), daughter, born Norton, [Norton Canes?], Staffordshire;
[6] Maria Stackhouse (11), daughter, born Pelsall;
[7] Edwin Stackhouse (9), son, born Brownhills;
[8] Edgar Stackhouse (3), son, born Catshill, Staffordshire:
[Norton Canes is about 2 miles ESE of Cannock.]

Walsall Observer 18/8/1900

“An inquest was held on Wednesday by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), at the BARREL INN, on the body of Mabel Boot (5), 24, Wolverhampton Street, where she was staying with Mr. Boot, coal merchant.

George Boot, 24, Wolverhampton Street, coal merchant, grandfather of the deceased, said that she was the daughter of James Boot, his son, now deceased, who had also been a coal merchant. The child had lived with witness for over two years.

On Monday evening last, about eight o’clock, she was in the greenhouse with witness. The canal wharf was about 100 yards away from the greenhouse. Witness gave the child some flowers to take into the house. He went away up to the locks to see a boatman when the child had gone to the house. Witness got back about 9.30, and his wife asked him if Mabel was with him. The child had given her grandmother the flowers and gone out to play in the coalyard, as she was accustomed to do. After she left the house no one saw her again until after her death. Witness went to the Police Station at ten o’clock, and the canal was dragged the same night, but the body was not recovered until the next morning. He saw the body shortly after it was found, and it looked as if the child had been in the water some hours. There was a small bruise on the temple, which was, in his opinion, caused after the girl got into the water. There was nothing to prevent anyone from walking into the canal, the basin being all open. He thought that the child probably got either a boat, or on to a beam, watching some boys who were bathing about 100 yards away, and either turned giddy or slipped. He had had the wharf for 18 years, and there had never been anyone drowned there before.

James Dyson, boatman, 8 Court, 3 House, Wismore, said that he was out early on Tuesday morning, and went to Mr. Boot’s wharf about 5.15am to empty the boat in his (Mr. Boot’s) basin. Witness was about to take the boat out, but when he got on to the wharf Mrs. Boot followed him down and told him that she had lost her grandchild, and asked him not to move the boat until he had searched round it for her body. He fetched the boat hook, with which he started to feel about. On the outside of the boat the boat hook caught in the child’s dress, and he pulled the body out of the water. The water was about five feet deep where he found the body. The child was quite dead and seemed to have been in the water all night.

The jury returned an open verdict of Found Drowned.”

1901 Census

11, Wolverhampton Street – BARRELL INN

- [1] John B. Beesley (64), victualler, born Birmingham;
[2] Emily Beesley (60), wife, born Birmingham;
[3] Florence Beesley (22), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
[4] Gertrude F. Wills (17), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

John Bullus Beesley, BARREL.”

John Bullus Beesley – see also VICTORIA, Wesley Street, Bilston.

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. S. Pearman-Smith applied for the renewal of the license of the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, kept by Arthur Toon.

He said that all the requirements of the magistrates had been complied with, and under those conditions he applied for renewal.

Mr. Thomson said that there were four against the house, but they had been complied with, except in one or two instances. A door ordered to be closed had been found open once or twice, but only a few minutes after the time ordered.”

1911 Census

11, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Harriet Toon (49), widow, publican, born Northampton;

[2] Alfred Toon (7), son, born Santiago, Chili [Chile];

[3] Amy Banks (21), servant, born Hook, Wiltshire:

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“The usual Licensing Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Friday.....

Mr. W. J. Pearman Smith submitted plans for alteration of the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street. There was an opening, he said, in an outer wall of the premises five feet wide, and it was proposed to cover that opening with a glass door, the idea to make the entrances to the sitting room warmer. That was the sole object of the application, and it really did not affect the business premises at all. The application was granted.”

Express and Star 2/7/1928

“Shortly before 7am on Sunday, Walsall Fire Brigade were called to the rear of the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, where a storehouse occupied by Frederick Hall, oyster bar, Theatre Buildings, was on fire. The fire had been checked by Police-constable Keates with a small hose attached to a kitchen tap, and the brigade soon subdued the flames.”

1939 Register

11, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Sidney Dyde, date of birth 6/10/1885, publican, married;

[2] Agnes (Emily Agnes) Dyde, dob 24/10/1885, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Florence (A) Dyde, dob 29/3/1903, electric welder, single:

Walsall Observer 30/11/1940

“The Premier Lodge of the R.A.O.B. was re-opened at the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, on Wednesday evening. The Deputy Provincial Grand Primo, Bro. James Plant, K.O.M., remarked that the members stay of eleven years at their previous headquarters, the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, was a sufficient proof of their determination to keep the Buffalo flag flying. He wished the Lodge every success in their new home.....”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, £0 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street. £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street. £2 4s 3d.”

[1969]

BAR SPORT

1, Bridge House, Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Bar Sports Ltd.

LICENSEES

Simon Moore [2010] manager

NOTES

It opened in 2001.

It closed on 29th July 2008, when the owners went into liquidation.

It reopened two days later.

Express & Star 11/10/2010

“Big screen sport in pubs across the Black Country is under threat as landlords are having to fork out thousands of pounds extra in subscription fees. The cost of showing fixtures in pubs is becoming so expensive many smaller businesses say they are not be able to afford it. Meanwhile publicans paying subscriptions say rivals showing sport illegally are undercutting their trade.....

BAR SPORT in Walsall pays £20,000 a year following a rise of £2,500 a month ago.....

BAR SPORT in Walsall has 60 screens and manager Simon Moore, 33, said, ‘Even though it is costing us more to have Sky we’ve actually gained because the increase has affected a lot of smaller pubs.

The Association of Licensed Multiple Retailers represents the industry and boss Nick Bish said, ‘The situation is not helpful for pubs in difficult times. More pubs will stop showing it but it’s sad because many pubs have built their business around lads and sports.’”

[2011]

It was renamed the PITCH. [2011], [2017]

BAR 2 SEVEN

Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2007]

Closed [2007]

It was reopened as the R1 BAR. [2008]

[2012]

BEACON WAY

Stoney Lane / Pelsall Lane, (42, (46), (45), Little Bloxwich), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Abel Beech, Ablewell Street, Walsall
Showells Brewery Ltd. [1904]
Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 29th June 1935)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 29th September 1963) [1992]
Red Pub Company

LICENSEES

Joseph Beech* [1828] – [1850]
George Taylor [1850] – [1857]
Joseph Beech* [1858] – [1862]
George Taylor [1861]
Joseph Beach* [1864] – [1865]
George Taylor [1865] – 1886;
William Daniel (1886 – 1891);
Hiram Croxall (1891 – [];
John Smith [1896] (189_ – 1897);
Robert Eagles (1897 – 1898);
James Edwin Pascal (1898 – 1900);
Charles Mansfield (1900 – 1903);
John Charles Thomas (1903 – 1905); manager
Ernest Snape (1905 – 1909);
Richard Lane (1909 – 1911);
Benjamin Shakespeare (1911 – 1914);
Charles Mansfield (1914 – 1922);
William Harry Arrowsmith (1922 – 1924);
William Thorpe (1924 – 1925);
Joseph Holland (1925 – 1941);
William Sidney Arthur Stewart (1941 – 1951);
Violet Stewart (1951);
Frederick Day (1951 – 1957);
Ethel Maud Day (1957);
Charles Stanley ‘Stan’ Sowter (1957 – 1962);
William Henry Savage (1962 – 1964);
William Adshead (1964);
James Constantine (1964 – 1965);
Edward ‘Ted’ Levy (1965 – 1966);
George Edward Steed (1966 – [1967])
George Malpass [] – 1969);
Catherine ‘Kay’ Malpass (1969)
Albert Forrester (1969 – []
Degville [1989]
Barry Dee [2010]
Jim Harvey (2011 – []

NOTES

45, Little Bloxwich [1861]
46, Little Bloxwich [1871], [1939]
42, Little Bloxwich [1881], [1901]

It was originally the NAGS HEAD.

* possibly the same person

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/11/1832 - Married

“On the 11th inst, at Handsworth, Mr. Joseph Beech, of Little Bloxwich, to Sophia, eldest daughter of Mr. John Holland, of the same place.”

1841 Census

Lite Bloxwich.

- [1] Joseph Beech (35), farmer, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Hannah Beech (8), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Hough (50), fs, born Staffordshire:

Hannah Beech married Charles Orgill in the 2nd quarter of 1853.

1851 Census

Little Bloxwich – NAG HEAD

- [1] George Taylor (32), victualler and awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sarah Taylor (39), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Emma Taylor (10), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] George Taylor (8), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] William Taylor (5), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Joseph Taylor (3), son, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Samuel Taylor (1), son, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 22/8/1857

“George Taylor and his wife, beerhouse keepers at Bloxwich, were charged with assaulting a man named Thomas Ball. According to the complainant’s statement he went to the defendant’s house on Monday night for a quart of ale, when Mrs. Taylor asked him for some money he owed her. He told her he had got none. She then struck him and sent for her husband, who picked him up and threw him out of doors. Witnesses were called who proved that the complainant was very drunk and violent, and would not leave the house when requested to do so. Mr. Oerton said there was no doubt that what he got he had brought upon himself and dismissed the case.”

Joseph Beech, beerhouse, Little Bloxwich. [1858]

1861 Census

45, Little Bloxwich

- [1] Joseph Beech (58), widower, farmer (small), born Bloxwich;
- [2] Charles Orgill (36), son-in-law, miner (coal), born Pelsall;
- [3] Anna Orgill (28), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Joseph Orgill (7), grand-son, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ann Orgill (4), grand-daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Enoch Orgill (3), grand-son, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Caroline Orgill (1), grand-daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Lucy Rowley (14), general servant, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/12/1862

“On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. A. A Fletcher, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, upon the body of Michael Manion, aged 26 years, who was killed in a coal pit at Pelsall, belonging to Messrs. Bloomer and Davies, by a quantity of coal falling upon him.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1864 - Death

“On the 1st instant, at the OLD NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, after a lingering illness, aged sixty-one years, Mr. Joseph Beech; much respected.”

Walsall Free Press 20/5/1865

“George Taylor, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, pleaded guilty to having had his house open for the sale of beer on Sunday morning last, during prohibited hours, and was sentenced to pay a fine of 6s and costs, as it was his first offence.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/8/1866

“Walsall County Court.....

Franklin v Hugh. In this case the plaintiff, James Franklin, of Little Bloxwich, sued the Independent Lodge of Friendly Brothers, held at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, to recover his weekly allowance as a sick member, and for an order to reinstate him in the society from which he had been illegally expelled. Mr. Dale appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Elsworth for the defendants. From Mr. Dale’s opening it appeared the plaintiff had been one of the originators of the society of which he continued to be a member for about 30 years, and in January last he was compelled to go ‘on the box’ in consequence of illness. He received the pay up to Whit Sunday last, and on his attending a lodge meeting on that day, one of the officers present plainly intimated to plaintiff that they meant to have him off the box. No charge, however, was then made against him, but on the following Friday a notice was served upon him by the secretary, which was a singular document, for whilst it told him that he 'was charged with a breach of one of the rules by being intoxicated whilst receiving sick pay,' it also informed him that for that offence he had been fined 10s 6d.'

The explanation given by the secretary, who was called and examined, was that after the plaintiff had left the club-room on the night in question, a member brought the charge of intoxication against the plaintiff, who was fined for the offence, and because the fine was not paid next club night he was expelled.

Mr. Dale contended that inasmuch as his client, who was prepared to disprove the charge, had been fined and expelled without an opportunity of being heard in his own defence, the decision of the club meeting was illegal. The facts were not disputed, but Mr. Ebsworth urged that the members of the society had in this case of the plaintiff followed the course usually followed in such cases, and in support of his statement quoted rule 42, which, he contended, justified the members in expelling the plaintiff. The rule referred to provides that 'every member must pay up all arrears on the club nights prior to the annual feast, or be excluded.'

Mr. Dale argued that the rule could not apply in the case of an illegally inflicted fine, as it was only intended to apply to arrears of contributions.

His Honour taking the same view of the case as Mr. Dale, gave judgement for the plaintiff, and ordered the society to reinstate the plaintiff, and pay arrears of sick-pay and costs within a month, or to forfeit £30 as penalty."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/7/1868

"On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Fletcher, Coroner for the Borough, held an inquest at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, upon the body of Richard Yates, aged 45.

From the evidence it appears that on the previous day the deceased, together with Joseph Webb and Wm. Burford, were engaged mowing barley in a field belonging to Mr. George Price, Goscote Lodge Farm. About 4pm deceased complained of a pain in his stomach, but continued his work till about 8pm, when he fell down and expired. Dr. Sommerville was sent for, and on his arrival pronounced the deceased quite dead.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict that deceased had Died from Exhaustion and the intense heat of the sun."

1871 Census

46, Little Bloxwich

[1] George Taylor (58), awl blade maker and licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Sarah Taylor (60), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] George Taylor (28), son, bricklayer, born Bloxwich;

[4] William Taylor (25), son, miner, born Bloxwich;

[5] Samuel J. Taylor (21), son, engineer, born Bloxwich;

[6] Abel Taylor (19), son, ball furnaceman, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/5/1873

"On Thursday Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, on the body of James William Morgan aged four years, who while returning from school on Tuesday with some companions, fell into the canal and was drowned. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

1881 Census

42, Little Bloxwich – NAGS HEAD

[1] George Taylor (65), awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;

[2] Sarah Taylor (70), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Abel Taylor (29), son, coal miner, born Bloxwich:

William Daniel = William Daniels

Walsall Observer 16/4/1887

"William Daniels, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, was charged with keeping his house open during prohibited hours, on Sunday morning last.

Sergeant Martin deposed that about half-past ten he visited the house, entering by the back door, when he found four men from Bloxwich drinking in the house. The officer said ale was on the table.

The defence was that the ale had not been sold.

Martha Daniels stated that a man came to the house and inquired for her husband. She said he was gone out, when he asked for a glass of ale. She said she could not sell any until opening time, and gave him a quart of ale for himself and friends.

The Bench considered the charge fully proved, and inflicted a fine of 20s and costs.

The four men, Jeremiah Crutchley, Henry Taylor, Thomas Smith, and Thomas Llewellyn, were then charged with being upon licensed premises as above during prohibited hours.

Sergeant Martin proved the case, and defendants all pleaded guilty.

They were fined 1s each and costs, Mr. Holden remarking that he believed they had told the truth."

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 15/2/1890

“William Daniels, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, was summoned for refusing to admit a constable. Mr. J. N.

Cotterell appeared for the defence, and said technically defendant was guilty.

The Chief of Police informed the Bench that at midnight on the 4th inst, Police-constable Scott saw several persons near the place, and knocked at defendant’s door, but was refused admission. There was nothing the matter, and, personally, he regretted that the door was not opened when the officer applied for admission.

Mr. Cotterell said people going past would often knock to make the dog bark, and defendant was under the impression that it was some of those people at the time the officer knocked, but when defendant knew it was a policeman he immediately opened the door.

A fine of 2s 6d and costs was imposed.”

Walsall Observer 1/3/1890

“The following inquests have been held during the week by Mr. T. H. Stanley, the borough coroner.....

On Wednesday, at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, on the body of Agnes Ledbury, eight months old, whose parents reside at Smith’s Buildings. The evidence was that early on Monday morning deceased was seized with convulsions, and though a doctor was at once sent for she died before he could arrive.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

William Daniel – see also VINE, Bloxwich, and BLUE PIG, Bloxwich.

Hiram Croxall = Hiram Crockall

1891 Census

Little Bloxwich

[1] Hiram Crockall (42), coal miner, born Staffordshire;

[2] Emily Crockall (41), wife, born Staffordshire;

[3] Fanny Crockall (13), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[4] Hiram Crockall (8), son, born Staffordshire;

[5] Edith Crockall (5), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[6] Sydney Crockall (2), son, born Staffordshire;

[7] Rose Crockall (18), general servant, born Staffordshire:

Lichfield Mercury 1/11/1895

“The half-yearly meeting of the Rugeley District Branch of the Ancient Order of Foresters was held on Monday afternoon at the NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, under the presidency of the DCR, G. Watwood.

The report of the auditors showed that there was a balance on the funeral fund of £5,104 10s 1½d, an increase of £239 8s 1d on the half-year’s working. The reduced sick pay fund showed a balance of £114 15s 8d, a decrease of £15 11s 6d; and the benevolent fund a balance of £43 17s 4d, a decrease of £15 11s 6d. The management fund showed a balance of £10 5s 5½d. The Court Relief Fund had now been formed, and showed a balance of £24 6s 11d. Total of all funds, £5,297 15s 6d, an increase of £236.

At the close of the usual business, Bro. T. Handley, DS, on behalf of the courts of the district, presented to the retiring District Treasurer (Bro. T. Gilbert), who has served the district as a Forester for a period of 16 years, a handsome gold keyless watch. The recipient suitably acknowledged the gift.

The delegates afterwards had dinner together.”

Walsall Observer 22/8/1896

“On Monday last a party of 50 in number, consisting of juveniles, members, members’ wives, and friends of Court George’s Glory, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, assembled at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, for an afternoon’s excursion in brakes to Shore Hills. Amidst splendid weather, and after an enjoyable ride through the country, Shore Hills was reached at half-past four. Through the generosity of Mrs. Smith a capital tea for all was provided, and after tea sports, games, and dancing were freely indulged in. At seven o’clock the homeward journey was made through Cannock, and Little Bloxwich was reached at 8-30, everyone being greatly satisfied with the outing. Many praises and thanks were expressed towards Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. J. Zeller, and Dr. Martin for their liberal support in connection with the excursion.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1897

“Walsall Quarter Sessions

John Heler (39), farmer, on bail, was indicted for having unlawfully wounded Thomas Henry Morgan on the 26th December. Mr. Gerald Lewis (instructed by Messrs. Lewis and Sons) prosecuted, and Mr. Herbert (instructed by Mr. Jackson) defended. Mr. Lewis having opened.

Prosecutor stated that he was returning, with others, from a supper party at the CANAL TAVERN, Bloxwich, when prisoner, who was in front, turned round and asked why he was following him. He denied that he was, and was walking across the street, when prisoner gave him a blow. They struggled together, and subsequently he found he had been stabbed.

By Mr. Herbert: There had been no previous quarrel nor any provocation on either side. He did not know how prisoner received his wounded arm.

William Cattell, miner, Pelsall Lane, Little Bloxwich, who was with Morgan, said that as they struggled on the ground he saw a half-opened knife in prisoner's hand.

Police-constable Yardley gave evidence as to prisoner's statement when arrested.

Dr. Nixon said that the prosecutor's injuries consisted of a wound in the neck, which started at the back on the right side, and extended round the neck towards the left for six inches. He was detained until the 18th January – practically three weeks – and was an out-patient for a further three weeks.

Mr. Herbert said his answer to the charge was that the blood-stained knife said to have been found on prisoner was not his, and that the finding of it in his pocket was a deliberate 'plant.'

Sarah Fernahough, who said she had been housekeeper to prisoner for four years; John Smith, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich; and Enoch Bloor, lamp cleaner, Little Bloxwich, all denied that the blood-stained knife belonged to prisoner, and declared that a similar one produced was the one he always carried.

Dr. McKintosh, assistant to Dr. Wilson, the police surgeon, said he saw prisoner at the police station. He was in a weak state, and suffering from four clean cuts on the hands, varying in length from ½ an inch to 2½ inches, and other injuries. The wound on the left hand was a very serious one indeed.

By Mr. Lewis: Some of the bruises might have been caused by his falling.

William Jones, farmer, Tettenhall, and Andrew Barnes, FULLBROOK TAVERN, gave evidence of character, and Mr. Herbert having addressed the jury at some length, and the Recorder having summed up, prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, with hard labour."

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

"Temporary authorities were granted to Robert Eagles, in respect of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich."

Walsall Observer 23/10/1897

"On Monday evening last a supper was given at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, in honour of the birthday of the hostess, Mrs. Kate Eagles. About 36 guests sat down to a most sumptuous repast, which did great credit to the caterers, and to which ample justice was done by those for whom it was prepared.

After the cloths were removed, the remainder of the evening was devoted to mirth and conviviality, Mr. H. Ledbury being voted to the chair and Mr. G. Teppin to the vice-chair. After a few chosen remarks from the chairman, congratulating the hostess on the anniversary of her birthday, the following gentlemen contributed to the harmony: Messrs. S. Bradley, J. Poxon, J. Taylor, Higgins, Pennington, A. Morris, E. Hodgetts, and J. Bayley (Pelsall). After votes of thanks to the host and hostess and the chairman and vice-chairman, the singing of the National Anthem brought the evening to a close."

Walsall Observer 11/12/1897

"Charles Mason, Heath End, Pelsall, was summoned for being drunk and refusing to quit the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, and with assaulting Ellen Eagles, the licensee.

Ellen Eagles said that the man came in drunk, but witness refused him beer, and he struck her with his hand on her face.

Defendant was fined 2s 6d and costs or seven days, for each case."

Walsall Observer 26/2/1898

"On Saturday last the members and friends of Court George's Glory, No.7928, AOF, held at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, celebrated their sixth anniversary with a supper, when 30 in number sat down to an excellent repast, served up in capital style by the hostess of the house.

After the cloth was drawn, Bro. E. Krauth, CS, was voted to the chair, and Bro. George Teppin, PCR, to the vice-chair.

The Secretary presented the annual financial report, which showed an increase of nearly £10, which has safely been invested with the remainder of the capital at 4½ per cent. The increase of membership had not been so good as anticipated. The valuation of the Court funds showed a solvency of £1 0s 11½d in the pound.

The 'Success of the Court and the Rugeley district' was proposed by Bros. Oliver Jones, PCR, and George Teppin, PCR, who earnestly appealed to the members to put their shoulders to the wheel and work hard to promote the good work of Forestry.

The Chairman next presented to Bros. Hiram Harrison and Abel Morris two framed Past Chief Ranger's certificates for their good services rendered to the Court.

During the evening songs were given in good style by Bros. Thomas Bradley, Charles Jones, John Smith, George Teppin, George Jones, Abel Morris, Thomas Mack, and Thomas Prince.

After a vote of thanks to the host and hostess, Chairman and Vice-chairman, a most pleasant evening came to a close."

Walsall Advertiser 6/5/1899

"James Edward Pascall, of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, was summoned for being drunk on his licensed premises on the 1st inst. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the defence.

Police-sergeant Willett deposed that at 10.35pm on the night mentioned he visited the defendant's house in consequence of a complaint that was made to him. In the bar there were a number of persons, and Mrs. Pascall was behind the bar. Witness asked for the landlord, who, on being fetched, reeled against the wall, and had to get support to stand up. Defendant was drunk, and witness told the landlady so. The latter replied 'Yes,' adding that he had been knocked about, and that she gave him some brandy.

Witness, in cross-examination, admitted that defendant appeared to have been knocked about. He had a bruise on his face and his shirt was blood-stained.

Police-constable Yardley gave corroborative evidence. Witness, in cross-examination, admitted that the defendant was fetched from upstairs

Richard Hall, Pelsall, gave evidence that on the night in question as he going along the road, he was hit by a stone thrown from the defendant's garden. He then saw defendant come out of the house, and in trying to light the lamp defendant fell on his face.

In cross-examination, the witness said that he complained to the police of his head having been cut by a stone. In his opinion, the landlord, the landlady, and the son were all drunk.

Police-constable Harcourt spoke to having been called to the defendant's house at 8.40, by the defendant's son, and to seeing the landlord, who 'had had quite enough to drink.'

In answer to Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk) witness said that defendant had had so much to drink that he was not capable of managing the house.

In cross-examination, witness said that neither Mrs. Pascall nor the son was drunk.

For the defence, Mr. Jackson said that defendant had kept public houses for 20 years continuously, and this was the first complaint that had ever been made against him. Previous to the visit of the police he went to the back of the house where he found that the man Hall and his wife were assaulting Mrs. Pascall. He interfered and was set upon by both of them, kicked, punched, and knocked about generally. He lost a good deal of blood, and took a glass of brandy. The son was sent to fetch the police.

Mr. Jackson asked whether it was likely that the son would have done this if the landlord had been drunk? Defendant had been knocked about a good deal, and though he might have been dazed was not drunk. When the second officer came the defendant was in bed, having been considerably knocked about.

Defendant, his wife, son, and others were called for the defence, and the Bench, after some consultation, dismissed the case, but remarked that the police were justified in bringing it before the magistrates."

AND

"Edwin Pascall, son of the defendant in the last case, was charged with assaulting Margaret Hall, of Pelsall Lane, Little Bloxwich, on May 1st. Mr. H. H. Jackson was for the defence.

Complainant said as she was going down Pelsall Lane, she was set upon by the defendant, who struck her about the head and shoulders.

The defence was a denial of the alleged assault, and the defendant said that his mother and father were set upon by the Halls and a man named Morgan, but that he (defendant) did not interfere.

The case ended in dismissal."

1901 Census

42, Little Bloxwich – NAGS HEAD INN

[1] Charles Mansfield (24), public house manager, born Pelsall;

[2] Annie Mansfield (24), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Ethel M. Mansfield (1), daughter. born Pelsall;

[4] Mabel Brookes (19), domestic servant, born Hednesford:

Walsall Observer 30/11/1901

"On Saturday evening last an excellent supper was provided at the NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mansfield, when about 45 persons partook of the good things provided.

After supper Mr. E. Croxall was voted to the chair, and, after giving the toast of 'The King and long may he reign,' he said great credit was due to the host and hostess for the excellent catering, seeing it was their first attempt.

Mr. Robert Ball (vice-chairman) said he felt assured he was voicing the opinions of all present by saying that great satisfaction had been given. A vote of thanks was tendered accordingly.

Mr. C. Mansfield, in responding, thanked all present, and hoped that in the near they would meet again under similar circumstances.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to harmony, the following being the programme:

Song, 'The old rocker,' Mr. J. Bullock; song, 'The white rose' (encore, 'Queen of the earth'), Mr. C. Bullock; comic song, 'Just in time' (encore, 'No offence'), Mr. Burgess; song, 'The navy' (encore, 'Lifeboat crew'), Mr. T. Bradley; song, 'Blind boy,' Mr. T. Paul; comic song, 'She's mad' (encore, 'Laughing song'), Mr. Burgess.

A most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem."

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

"....it's history goes back much further than that, when the pub was considered in 1904 for redundancy, it was pointed out that it had been a licensed property for 400 years....."

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

John Charles Thomas, NAGS HEAD.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.

NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/1/1907 - Marriages

“On December 31st, at Lichfield, Edgar, third son of Mr. Alfred Price, of Brownhills, to Cissie, only daughter of Mr. Ernest Snape, NAGS HEAD INN, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1909

“A scene which occurred at the NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, on the 1st September, was described from two different points of view at the Walsall Police Court on Tuesday, when Chas. Smith, 127, Little Bloxwich, was summoned for assaulting Walter Nicholls, haulier, Brownhills, on 1st September, and Alfred Pinson, awl-blade maker, was summoned for assaulting Fred Price, butcher, Brownhills, on the same date. The cases were taken together, and Mr. F. Cooper appeared for the complainants, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the defendants.

In opening the case Mr. Cooper said the circumstances were, shortly, as follows. On the date named the complainants went together to the NAGS HEAD INN, at Little Bloxwich, about 7 o’clock in the evening. Price was connected by marriage with Mrs. Snape, the landlady, and when he entered the house he was on perfectly friendly terms with her. The two men were in the house altogether for about an hour, and they only had two pints of ale and some bread and cheese. After a time Price asked Mrs. Snape for a pair of gambols which he had left there after killing some pigs some months previously, and immediately he did so the landlady got into a temper and made some remarks about his mother, which he resented. She then said to the defendants, ‘Throw these two — out, and if there is any summoning I will pay for it,’ and without any warning or request to leave, Pinson went up to Price and hit him a severe blow in the mouth, and Smith rushed up to Nicholls and struck him on the side of the face, cutting him badly beneath the eye and causing blood to flow freely. Both assaults were entirely unprovoked.

Fred Price, the complainant, bore out his solicitor’s opening statement, and added that while he and Nicholls were in the house his (witness’s) brother, who had married Mrs. Snape’s step-daughter, entered, and said to him, ‘That is Pinson, Fred.’ He remarked, ‘Oh, is that Pinson?’ and immediately Mrs. Snape said to the defendants, ‘Turn the two out. I will pay if there is any summoning.’ Pinson and Smith then took off their coats and committed the assault complained of.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson: The only reason he could suggest for the landlady’s ‘rounding’ on him was because he asked for the return of the gambols. His brother and his wife had not lived together for some time, and he believed there had been an action threatened against his brother for maintenance. The reason his brother pointed Pinson out to him was because Pinson was one of the co-respondents in a divorce action pending between his brother and his wife.

Mr. Jackson: Are there any proceedings being taken?

Witness: We are waiting for further action with reference to the maintenance order, but divorce proceedings will be taken.

Further cross-examined, witness denied that he took up a stool and threatened to clear the house; that he picked up a glass and threatened to cut off the landlady’s head, or that he called her a ‘b— cow,’ and Pinson a ‘dirty b— low-lived pig.’

Walter Nicholls, the other complainant, gave evidence to similar effect, and in reply to Mr. Jackson said he had more sense than to say that nobody could turn him out of the house when there was a professional boxer (Smith) present. They were assaulted without the slightest provocation. He should have gone out while Smith was taking his coat off if he could have reached the door.

Mr. Jackson: Why were you assaulted?

Complainant: I want to know why I got this blow. If you can tell me I can tell you.

He denied that he and the brothers Price went to the house to see if Pinson was there.

Re-examined by Mr. Cooper, witness said they went to fetch the police, and if they had not done so they would have been murdered.

George Mason, butcher, Pelsall, and Edgar Price, butcher, Brownhills, brother of the complainant, corroborated the story of the complainants. The latter, in the course of cross-examination, denied that he went to the house with his brother for the purpose of creating a disturbance. He went there for a friendly drink. He was contemplating divorce proceedings against his wife, with Pinson as co-respondent.

This closed the complainant’s case, and addressing the Bench for the defence, Mr. Jackson said that the magistrates would agree that it was an extraordinary case. It was one of those cases in which one tale was very good until the other one was told. Mr. Cooper wanted them to believe that the two Prices and Nicholls went into the house with perfectly peaceable intentions, and that they were perfectly friendly with the landlady, and she practically received them with open arms. His case, however, was different. Price, who was married to the landlady’s daughter, and, according to his brother, was contemplating divorce proceedings against her with Pinson as co-respondent, had not been near the house for four months, but he went on the night in question, and he suggested that the reason was that he had heard something about Pinson and they all went there to spy on the landlady’s daughter, and to see if Pinson was there. Afterwards the complainant Price began to get very cross and to create a disturbance. He picked up a stool and threatened to strike Mrs. Snape, who was behind the bar. He then put down the stool and picked up Pinson’s glass, with which he threatened to strike her. The landlady and her daughter were alone behind the bar, and were frightened, and Mrs. Snape sent Mrs. Price out to get a policeman or someone to put the defendants out. She had previously requested them to leave, but they had refused, saying they didn’t care for the police or anyone in the house. When the daughter went to the door she saw Pinson and Smith, and she asked them to go in. As soon as they entered Price and Nicholls said they did not care for anybody, and they were going to clear the house. Pinson went up to Price, who called him a low-lived pig, and the defendant said he could not stand that from anybody. Price put up his fists and a fight took place. Nicholls afterwards joined in, although, according to his own story, he should have gone out if he could have reached the door. 'Did you ever see a more contemptible specimen in your life?' asked Mr. Jackson. 'Why didn't Nicholls a, big man, pick up little Smith by the crop of the neck, and put him across the room?' His case, he added, in conclusion, was that complainants went to the house for a row, they got the worst of it, and they then went to the police.

The defendant Pinson then went into the box, and said that on the night in question he and Smith were in the road when Mrs. Price asked them to go into the house. They walked in and both ordered a drink, his own being a quinine. He sat by the counter and saw Price pick up a stool and threaten to clear the house and to smash the windows, and also to split Mrs. Snape's head open with a glass. The landlady ordered both Price and Nicholls out of the house, and the latter said, 'Fetch the police, and they can't turn us out.' Price turned to him and asked him if he was drunk, and he replied that he did not know. Price then said, 'Well, I know who you are and what you are,' and he also called him a 'drunken low-lived pig.' He replied that he should not stand that from any man, and Price would have to fight. He (witness) took off his coat, and Price put up his fists, but after receiving one blow he said that was enough. Nicholls took Price's part, and then Smith took his part. After the trouble was over the other Price shook hands with him and said he had not gone there for a row.

Cross-examined: The story of the complainants was a pack of lies.

The defendant Smith deposed that all that Pinson had said was true, and Mrs. Price also supported the defendants' version of what took place.

The magistrates retired to consider the evidence, and on their return into court, the Chairman said they were of the opinion that assaults were committed, and each defendant would be fined 5s and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1909

"Remarkable revelations of the alleged conduct of a wife were made during the evidence in a case which occupied the attention of the Rushall magistrates – Messrs. R. H. Holden (presiding), E. Wilkes, E. J. Shaw, and W. Precey – on Monday for three hours. Edgar Price (26), a butcher, of High Street, Brownhills, was summoned for having deserted his wife, Elizabeth Ann Price (20), of The Wood, Pelsall, who applied for a separation order. Mr. J. S. Sharpe (Sharpe and Darby, West Bromwich) appeared for Mrs. Price, and Mr. Frank Cooper (Addison and Cooper, Walsall) represented the defendant. The case had been adjourned from the previous week in order that evidence for the defence might be collected, Mr. Cooper then stating that the husband alleged misconduct on the part of his wife.

In his opening statement, Mr. Sharpe said that the parties were young people. They were married on 31st December, 1906, and last Christmas the defendant deserted his wife. It appeared that defendant was a butcher by trade and at the time of his marriage also had an off-license in Norton Road, Pelsall. The marriage was not a happy one, certainly not from the wife's point of view. The husband did not attend to his business and complainant had to go out hawking meat. On several occasions when she returned she found that he had taken opportunity of her absence to get drunk, and then he beat her under one pretext or another. The state of affairs culminated about last Christmas, when defendant, in consequence of neglecting his business and running about with a lot of undesirable companions, was in difficulties. He owed large sums of money and he told his wife that he could not afford to keep her any longer, and that she would have to go to her mother's, who at that time occupied the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich. She did not go at once to her mother's, but both the husband and wife stayed for some weeks at the house of a friend named Mason, at Little Bloxwich. Eventually the husband said he was not going to remain in the neighbourhood any longer. He went to his brother's at Birmingham, and said his wife had better go to her mother. This she did, and during the time she was at home defendant several times visited her and gave her some money, and when she and her mother asked him what he was going to do he said he would find a home as soon as things were straight. There was then not the slightest reason put forward except his alleged poverty as to why he did not find his wife a home.

No accusation was made by defendant against his wife until the previous Monday, when his friend Mr. Cooper applied for an adjournment. Complainant had written to her husband on several occasions, but none of the letters had been answered, and a registered letter which she sent to him was refused and returned to her. She next issued a summons, and then for the first time was misconduct alleged.

Mrs. Price had been trying to find her husband, and on one occasion she discovered that he was hanging about outside the BOOT INN, Walsall Wood. She then said to him, 'I suppose you are waiting for the pro.' (meaning a young woman who was giving entertainments at that public house, and in whom for some time the defendant had been taking a great interest). The suggestion now was that defendant was so much interested in this young woman that he did not want to recognise his proper liabilities as a married man and maintain his wife.

An act of misconduct would be alleged with a man named Harry Mason, who was the son of the neighbour with whom defendant and his wife stayed at Little Bloxwich, but directly defendant left the Mason's his wife went to her mother. It was very strange that there was no allegation of misconduct, and that no complaint of such was made at the time to the wife or her mother, who only lived a short distance from Mason's house.

The complainant then entered the witness box and bore out her solicitor's statement. She also stated that it was untrue that she had misconducted herself with Mason or any other man.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cooper, complainant admitted that during the hearing of the case at the Walsall Police Court some time ago, which arose out of a bother at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, that divorce proceedings were talked of, and that her name was mentioned in connection with a certain man.

Mr. Cooper: While you were staying at the Mason's did your husband speak to you about your familiarity with Harry Mason? – No.

In answer to further questions, Mrs. Price said that on the Tuesday night before she left Mason's she went to Walsall to do some shopping, and left home about seven o'clock, returning at ten minutes to eleven. She met Harry Mason at Walsall, and he followed her on the tram and accompanied her along the lanes to the house. It was not true that she did not arrive home until 12.30, and it was also untrue that Harry Mason walked with his arm around her waist. They went into the house together, and she did not wait at the gate until Mason had seen if the coast was clear. When she reached home her husband was in the house and not hiding under the hedge, nor did he say, 'So this is your — game is it.' There was no brother at the gate. A man called 'Shropshire Dick' did pass Mason and her as they were going through Goscote.

Mr. Cooper: Some time after you had been upstairs did you go into Harry Mason's bedroom? – No.

Is it a fact that Mrs. Mason caught you there in bed with her son? – No, there's no truth in it at all.

Is it a fact that Mrs. Mason turned you out of the house the next morning and made you go to your mother's? – No.

When Mr. Cooper told complainant that Mrs. Mason was going to give evidence that she had, complainant retorted, 'She'll swear anything for the sake of a shilling, and her son as well.'

Answering other questions by Mr. Cooper, Mrs. Price said that when her husband went to Birmingham she parted with him on friendly terms, and gave him a gold ring.

Re-examined by Mr. Sharpe, complainant said that on the night she went to Walsall she asked her husband to accompany her, but he refused. That night was a Tuesday night, and she stayed at the Mason's until the following Monday. Her husband had told her that he earned about 50s per week.

The Bench asked complainant why she gave her husband the ring, and she replied because he was going to look for work and had no money.

Mrs. Lucy Snape, mother of complainant, said she used to keep the NAGS HEAD, at Little Bloxwich, but for the last three months had resided at Pelsall. Witness spoke to defendant, promising to find his wife a home, and also said that defendant made no complaint whatever about his wife.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cooper, witness admitted that at the case at Walsall allegations were made against her daughter in connection with a man named Pinson.

This closed the case for the complainant.

Edgar Price, the defendant, having been sworn, said he had now got a butcher's shop at Chasetown, but only opened it on Saturdays, and his earnings were about 25s per week. After he left the outdoor license at Pelsall he and his wife lived together at Mason's for about a fortnight or three weeks. He noticed familiarity between his wife and Harry Mason, and spoke to her about it, but she said there was no harm in it, as she knew Mason before she knew him (defendant). On Monday, 15th February, his wife went out of the house about 7 o'clock, and did not ask him to go with her. Harry Mason left the house about 7.30 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock neither of them had returned. He went to look for them, and on the canal bridge he met Richard Reeves, alias 'Shropshire Dick,' and two men named Davis. After a while he hid himself in the garden, and Reeves got under a hedge across the road. At about 12.30 defendant saw his wife and Mason, who had his arm round Mrs. Price, coming along the road. When they got to the gate he (defendant) jumped up and said, 'So this is your — game, is it? and he would have struck his wife but Mason stepped between them. Mason then went into the house, and when he came out gave defendant a revolver and, said Price, 'I should have shot both of them, but it was empty.' He did not go in the house that night, but slept on a hay rick. This was the final parting with his wife, and it was not on friendly terms.

Mr. Sharpe then cross-examined defendant, who said that the reason he did not go to his wife's mother and complain to her was because he was not friendly with his wife's step-father. A month after he got married his wife committed misconduct with her own step-father, and he (defendant) would not go where Mr. Snape was. He had forgiven his wife for that, and he had not wished to mention it in Court, but that was the reason. His wife went out to hawk the meat because she wanted to get out into the fresh air. He never treated her roughly. He courted his wife for four months, and she was 17 years of age when he married her. When his wife gave him the ring was when he first went to Birmingham, and they then parted on friendly terms, she and Mason accompanying him to the station. He never received any letters from his wife, nor was it he who refused the registered letter.

Mr. Precey asked defendant if it was a Monday or Tuesday when he caught his wife returning home with Mason, and defendant answered that it was Monday.

Richard Reeves, a miner, of Goscote, who possesses the Volunteer Long Service Medal, and who also served in the South African War, for which he received another medal, said that on one night about the second week of February he saw Mrs. Price and Harry Mason walking through Goscote, Mason having his arm around Mrs. Price. He doubled back across some fields and told defendant, and they both lay in wait for the man and woman. When they got to the gate Mason went into the house and Mrs. Price stopped at the gate. Defendant then jumped up and there was a quarrel. Witness did not stop, and when he got home, which was ten minutes' walk, it was a quarter to one. He had occasion to remember the time because he got into a row with his wife. (Laughter.)

Cross-examined by Mr. Sharpe, Reeves said he was not sure whether it was a Monday or Tuesday night.

Sophia Mason, of Allens Lane, Heath End, Pelsall, said that for some years prior to a few weeks ago she lived at Little Bloxwich. The defendant and his wife stayed with her about a fortnight. One night in February, it was a Monday, she retired about ten o'clock, and Mrs. Price had not then come in. Witness woke some time in the night, and as Mrs. Price, who slept with her, was not in bed, she grew suspicious. She went to her son's room, and there found Mrs. Price in bed with her son. She fetched her out and the next day turned her out of the house.

In cross-examination witness said she did not say anything to her husband about it until four or five months ago. She did not recollect having told Mrs. Snape about it, and she did not think she had told anyone else.

Mr. Sharpe: I see you kept your information until it was required.

Harry Mason, a miner, of Allens Lane, Heath End, admitted having committed misconduct with Mrs. Price on the last night she was at the house. That was the night they went to Walsall, when they got home about 1.30am, and there was a row with defendant. He did not remember his mother coming into his room that night.

Cross-examined by Mr. Sharpe, Mason persisted that it was a Monday night when they went to Walsall, and not market night. It was by Mrs. Price's arrangements that they went to Walsall.

Mr. Sharpe. Do you mean to tell the magistrates that after an altercation with defendant, and without knowing his whereabouts, you went and slept with Mrs. Price? – Yes, but she came into my room first.

Mr. Sharpe: Oh, you are going to continue your manly conduct by putting all the blame on to the woman.

In answer to Mr. E. J. Shaw, Mason said that he did not possess a revolver, nor ever saw one. On the night he took Mrs. Price home he did not give her husband a revolver.

Mr. Cooper then addressed the Bench, and in referring to the revolver incident said that that was practically the only point on which the witnesses did not agree. In all probability Mason was not quite clear as to what took place that night. If their worships were going to believe the story of Mrs. Price it meant that they were going to say that not only Mason, of whom he (Mr. Cooper) had nothing to say, as he had committed a dastardly act against his own mother and the defendant, but that Mrs. Mason and Reeves had practically entered into a conspiracy to go there and give false evidence. He (Mr. Cooper) submitted that they (the magistrates) were in the position of a jury in divorce proceedings, and in that case he thought they could come to no other conclusion than that there had been some misconduct. Mrs. Price's answer was that it was all a fabrication, but her evidence could not be relied upon. Would Reeves go there and give false evidence? Would Mrs. Mason go there and make known her son's shame if it were untrue? If they found against defendant it would debar him from bringing divorce proceedings, as his wife would be able to plead desertion.

After a private consultation the Bench ordered defendant to pay his wife 8s per week, and also the costs of the case, including the solicitor's fee."

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1909

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the vice-president, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.....

Richard Lane, NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, was elected member of the society as from 1st January, 1910."

1911 Census

Little Bloxwich – NAGS HEAD INN

[1] Richard Lane (50), manager of public house, born Dawley, Shropshire;

[2] Rachel Lane (40), wife, married 5 years, born Pelsall;

[3] Cyril John Richard Lane (3), son, born Pelsall:

Richard Lane – see also GEORGE, Bloxwich.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich. £0 9s 10½d."

Walsall Observer 5/6/1926

"New Hope in Coal Situation.

How Unemployment and Relief Have Increased During the Fifth Week of Stoppage.....

Soup kitchens were yesterday opened by the Walsall Miners' Distress Committee in the Bloxwich and Leamore districts for the feeding of about 2,000 members of miners' families. The stations were – BLUE PIG INN (1,300 fed), TURF TAVERN (160), Field Street School (175), BLACK HORSE, Leamore (250), Blakenall Church Schools (250), and the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich (150). Although the committee are short of funds, they are taking the risk of carrying on the feeding for at least a week, and will continue if more money is forthcoming. It is estimated that the week's effort will cost about £100. Seventeen gallons of milk, which have been given daily by Mr. Sid Field, of Blue Lane, have also been distributed this week."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1932

"At Walsall Police court on Wednesday, Harry Shemmans, 127, Little Bloxwich, and Edward Smith, 43, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall, were fined 10s each for consuming intoxicants at other than permitted hours at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, on February 26, and the licensee's wife Sarah Ann was fined £1 for aiding and abetting."

1939 Register

46, Little Bloxwich

[1] Joseph Holland, date of birth 24/2/1893, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Sarah A. Holland, dob 10/1/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Frances M. (Holland) Dennis, dob 17/7/1916, barmaid, single;

[4] Marjorie (Holland) (Roberts) Deeley, dob 22/12/1920, packer, electric fittings, single:

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund, and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich. £0 6s 0d."

1951 Probate

“William Sidney Arthur Stewart of the NAGS HEAD INN, Little Bloxwich, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 22 July 1951. Probate, Birmingham, 8 November, to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £1,332 16s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 20/11/1959 - Engagements

“The engagement is announced of Malcom, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Whitehouse, 106, Field Road, Bloxwich, to Jean, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Sowter, NAGS HEAD INN Little Bloxwich.:

Walsall Observer 26/8/1960 - Weddings

“The wedding took place at Blakenall Parish Church, on Saturday, of Mr. Malcom Whitehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Whitehouse, of Field Road, Bloxwich, and Miss Jean Mary Sowter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sowter, of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich. The Rev. R. W. Wardle officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a full-length gown of lace and net with a coronet headdress and short veil. She carried a bouquet of orchids, roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaids wore nylon and taffeta dresses in apricot and blue with white accessories and carried bouquets of roses.

Mr. J. Whitehouse was the best man.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1962

“The past season has been an outstanding one for the NAGS HEAD darts team of Little Bloxwich. To celebrate their long list of achievements, the team, in company with the rest of the NAGS HEAD sports club, held a dinner and presentation in their headquarters on Wednesday. The list of triumphs begins with the captain Eric Smith, who became the Staffordshire champion in the New of the World individual championship of England and Wales. He will be setting out on the trail again on Wednesday when he enters the quarter finals.....

In addition to this success the team were Staffordshire finalists in the People's competition and in the Dunlop Nodor competition they were Staffordshire champions and beaten finalists in the Midland's area final. When they became Staffordshire champions Sid Argyle had the distinction of scoring a maximum (180). They won the Pelsall League cup and were joint runners-up in the league. They also won the cup and league in the Walsall Works league competition.

It was not all darts on the evening, however, as the domino team came in for some praise. They were losing finalists in the Four Crosses Cup and had the most wins in the last half.

The awards were made by the licensee, Mr. Stan Sowter.....”

[Eric Smith lost in the semi-final to the eventual winner, Sam Pritchard of the NEW STAG, Field Road, Bloxwich.]

Walsall Observer 8/6/1962

“A successful gala day, organized by the newly formed Little Bloxwich Youth Club, was started on Saturday afternoon when a procession, headed by the Gala Queen, 15 years-old Christine Osbourne, of 34, Grenfell Road, Bloxwich, arrived at the NAGS HEAD public house for the ‘crowning’ ceremony. The Queen was crowned by Mrs. S. Sowter, wife of the licensee. After the crowning, the procession, which consisted of floats mounted on five lorries, moved off for a tour of the village before going to the Livingstone playing fields for the sports and gala day.....

Money is being raised for a club building Both Mr. and Mrs. Sowter have assisted in raising funds for the project.....”

Walsall Observer 15/11/1963

“A police sergeant visited the NAGS HEAD public house, Little Bloxwich, 10 minutes after drinking up time and found a man drinking in the bar, Walsall magistrates were told on Monday. Leonard Horan (40), of 131, Mackay Road, Little Bloxwich, admitted the offence in a letter and was fined £1.”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1964

“The quarter finals, semi-finals and final of the Walsall, Wolverhampton and district sub area competition of the News of the World individual darts championship of England and Wales, will be held in Pelsall Social Club, Norton Road, Pelsall, on Thursday next, January 16, all players to be on the mark at 8pm prompt. The eight finalists are.....

Eric Smith (NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich).”

Demolished

Rebuilt

It re-opened in 1965.

Walsall Observer 30/7/1965

“Last week was an eventful one for 27 years-old, Mr. Ted Levy. On Tuesday his wife Carol presented him with a 9lb 14oz son, and on Thursday he took over as licensee of the new NAGS HEAD public house, Little Bloxwich.

Mr. Levy served for four years in the Irish Guards and boxed regularly as a middleweight for the 1st battalion.

The first pint at the new inn was pulled by Alderman T. E. Mavo, vice-chairman of Walsall Licensing Committee, who recalled the days when Little Bloxwich was a tiny hamlet visited by few people. He described the old NAGS HEAD as a little, old-fashioned public house which probably got its name from its connection with horses, being situated on the canal side.

Mr. R. O. Graham, managing director of Ansells Brewery, described the new building as a ‘splendid piece of architecture,’ and congratulated Mr. Gordon Foster, of Shipley and Foster, the architects.

Mr. Levy's father-in-law keeps the THREE MEN IN A BOAT, and his brother the CHAINMAKERS ARMS. A member of Birmingham Stars of Variety Club, he believes in giving his patrons entertainment shows at week-ends."

Walsall Observer 6/8/1965

"Residents of Little Bloxwich are complaining that patrons of the newly re-opened NAGS HEAD public house are causing a nuisance with their cars. Councillor J. Leadbeater told the Observer this week that residents had complained to him that cars were being parked outside their houses, blocking their driveways. 'It is constituting a great danger there,' said Councillor Leadbeater. 'I believe that the powers that be are keeping an eye on it.'

The licensee of the NAGS HEAD, Mr. Edward Levy, who took over management of the house a fortnight ago, said he did all he could to reduce the problem, but as the house only had a small car park at present, there was little more he could do. 'As soon as the police came around the other night, I announced the complaint over the microphone and asked customers to move their cars to Livingstone Road, where the police asked me to move them,' he said.

The only off-street parking space is behind the building, and has a capacity for approximately 20 cars, but the assembly room of the NAGS HEAD has a capacity of 160 people. Mr. Levy pointed out that even if four people travelled in each car, the park would be full long before the assembly room. He thinks the problem might be solved in one of two ways. Firstly, the brewery could buy land near the NAGS HEAD and turn it into a car park – and he believed negotiations were already in progress for a suitable piece of land. Secondly, the inn was attracting large crowds simply because it was new. 'Everybody's coming to have a look at it, but when they have seen it, they will probably start going back to their own locals,' he added.

Mr. Levy suggested that portable 'no waiting' signs could be placed by the police in areas where they did not want cars to be parked, thus making people park in more suitable places. Mr. Levy is convinced that there is nothing further that can be done from within the inn to relieve the present problem. 'There is nothing I can do; no matter how much you ask them, they will not move their cars unless they want to,' he said."

Walsall Observer 27/8/1965

"Councillor S. Ball told the Observer yesterday that if noise from the NAGS HEAD public house in Little Bloxwich did not cease he would personally oppose the renewal of its licence in October. He said that he was called to the NAGS HEAD area this week to see residents who are complaining of the noise, obstruction from parked cars, and other nuisances....."

Walsall Observer 17/12/1965

"The BRIDGEWATER from Little Bloxwich, whose players are mostly from the old NAGS HEAD, competed in the Pelsall Darts League for the first time last season and completed the double at the first attempt. They carried off the league title by just pipping the favourites, Shelfield Social, and then carried off the knock-out trophy by beating strong contenders ROYAL OAK....."

Walsall Observer 2/12/1966

"It is essential that the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society should have 100 per cent membership, said its chairman, Mr. W. Ruck, at the society's annual meeting at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Thursday last.....

Next meeting of the society is to be held at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, next Thursday, December 8."

Walsall Observer 31/3/1967 - Weddings

"The Rev. R. Cheadle officiated at the wedding at All Saints Parish Church, Bloxwich, of Mr. Barry Michael Steed, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Steed, of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich and Miss Jennifer Ann James, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. James, of 52, Roebuck Road, Forest Estate, Walsall.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of embroidered satin with a long train. A crystal tiara held a full-length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, orchids, lilies of the valley, stephanotis and hyacinth pips. Attending her were Misses Glenys James (sister), Sharon James (niece), Joyce, Pauline and Mandy Steed (bridegroom's sisters). They wore long dresses of blue, pink and white satin with white fur pill box hats and carried white fur muffs.

Mr. Roy Steed was the best man. The usher was Mr. Robert Bethel."

Walsall Observer 22/9/1967

"About 75 children attended a party organized by the NAGS HEAD Sports and Social Club, Little Bloxwich, and held at the NAGS HEAD public house on Sunday. Before the party the children were taken to Chasewater pleasure park where games and races were organised by Mr. D. R. Main and Mr. G. E. Steed.

Walsall Observer 6/10/1967

"Presenting the awards at the first annual presentations of the Ansells Sunday Dominos League in the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, on Thursday last, Mr. E. Rogers, a representative of the brewery, said that the league was making history. He said they were the first Sunday dominoes league under the company's banner to be formed on this side of Birmingham....."

Walsall Observer 15/12/1967

"Little Bloxwich Silver Threads Club held their first Christmas party at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, on Tuesday evening. More than 95 members attended, and each one was presented with a gift of 5s in addition to a meal and a glass of sherry. The chairman of the club, Councillor J. Leadbeater, thanked everyone for making their first party such a successful one and expressed the hope that it would be the first of many."

Walsall Observer 13/9/1968 - Advert

“Experienced Barman or Barmaid required.
NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich. Telephone Pelsall 2142.”

Walsall Observer 21/2/1969

“The licensee of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, Mr. George Malpass has died at the age of 47. He was in the RAF for 28 years until he retired 18 months ago with the rank of Flt-Lieut. The funeral service was held at St. John’s Methodist Chapel, Bloxwich, yesterday (Thursday) and was followed by cremation at Ryecroft. Mr. Malpass leaves a wife and daughter.”

Walsall Observer 21/2/1969 - Deaths

“Malpass. Treasured memories of my dear husband George, who passed away on Feb 14, 1969, aged 47 years.
I will love you as much in heaven as I did when you were here on earth. God bless you my love.

Broken-hearted wife Kay.”

AND

“I have lost a Dad with a heart of gold.

How much I shall miss him can never be told.

He shared our troubles and helped us along.

If we walk in his footsteps we shall never go wrong.

I shall love you and treasure your memory for the rest of my life.

Your loving daughter Pat.”

AND

“Malpass, George. Passed away Feb 14, 1969. In loving memory.

You had a smile for everyone.

A heart as good as gold.

No one knew what you suffered,

Because you never told.

Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Malpass and Pat.

Staff of NAGS HEAD.”

[And several others.]

Walsall Observer 7/3/1969

“Today (Friday) Mrs. Catherine Malpass takes over the management of the NAGS HEAD, Stoney Lane, Little Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 11/7/1969

“Several changes in the management of public houses in the Walsall area were announced this week....

Mr. Albert Forrester is moving from the STATION HOTEL, Station Street, Bloxwich, to the NAGS HEAD, Stoney Lane, Little, Bloxwich, with effect from today (Friday).”

Lichfield Mercury 12/5/1978 - Advert

“Rock Scene.

E equals MC² (Einstein)! Well maybe.

But summation – Steve plus Ian plus the Deg plus Harvey definitely computes to Edge in Progressive Rock Orbital Overdrive at the Troubadour (Burntwood) this Sunday, 14th May.

Saturday, 20th May, Edge at the NAGS HEAD (Little Bloxwich).”

Sandwell Evening Mail 1/10/1987

“Bloxwich Friends of the Mentally Handicapped visited the NAGS HEAD in Little Bloxwich and triumphed 12-5 in a charity darts match, which raised £35.51 towards buying equipment for pupils at mentally handicapped schools.”

Mr. and Mrs. Degville were winners in the Walsall In Bloom competition (pubs, restaurants, hotels category), in August 1989.

Sandwell Evening Mail 12/12/1991 - Advert

“Cleaner and Bar Staff required.

Apply the manager, NAGS HEAD, Stoney Lane, Little Bloxwich. 0922 628142.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 2/10/1992 - Advert

“Cheers! Have a free drink on us.

Cheers! Here’s your chance to have Another drink Free on the Evening Mail. We’ve got thousands more Free pints to give away and the toast of the Midlands is once again Ansell’s! Yes, it’s Free Beer time again at over 100 selected Ansell’s houses throughout the Midlands. Thousands of Evening Mail readers toasted the August Bank Holiday with our last two-pints-for-the-price-of-one opportunity. Now, for the next seven days, we are delighted to repeat the chance. You can enjoy a sparkling glass of beer or lager – or a generous measure of wine – Absolutely Free – when you buy an equivalent drink. Simply cut out the coupon below, fill in your name and address and take it along to any of the listed venues.....

Little Bloxwich: NAGS HEAD.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/11/1992

“A team from the NAGS HEAD pub, in Stoney Lane, Little Bloxwich, potted the Guinness Classic Pool Tournament, beating a side from Birmingham’s Mr. Q’s Bar in the final.”

Lichfield Mercury 13/2/1997

“Beatles sounds-a-likes The Buttles are back in fine fettle for a gig at the Holly Bush in Norton Canes this Saturday (February 15). Starting at 8.45pm this acts as a prelude to their February 21 date at the NAGS HEAD, Stoney Lane, Little Bloxwich.”

Lichfield Mercury 7/5/1998

“Two local scooter clubs have joined forces for a toy run/fund raising event on Saturday (May 9).

Members of the Brownhills-based Jolly Roger Scooter Club and Midland Scooter Alliance will all be letting their hair down at Yates’s Social Club, Norton Canes, from 7pm. There will be two rooms providing music for different tastes. Tickets £3 in advance; £4 on the door.

Scooter riders will meet at the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich, for the toy run to a local children’s hospital, setting off 12.30pm.”

It closed on 29th July 2005 and was refurbished.

It reopened as the BEACON WAY on 4th October 2005.

The local branch of the British Field Target Association held meetings here. [2010]

Express & Star 31/10/2015

“A man will appear at court charged with assaulting a police officer after violence flared at a Walsall pub. Police were called to the BEACON WAY pub in Stoney Lane, Bloxwich, shortly after 11pm on Friday following reports of a mass brawl. Adam Bet-teley, of no fixed address, was arrested at the scene and charged with assaulting a constable in the execution of his duty and using threatening words or behaviour with intent to provoke unlawful violence. The 20-year-old was remanded in custody and is due to appear at Walsall and Aldridge Magistrates Court on Monday morning. Two police officers suffered minor injuries during the alleged disorder.”

[2021]

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF

4, High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Corporation of Walsall

Ross Bros. and Co. (leased) [1880]

J. E. Hennessey (leased)

Trent Brewing Co. (leased)

Josiah Burgess (leased) [1906]

William Butler and Co. (leased) [1943]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (leased from 27th January 1943)

LICENSEES

Job Reeves [1849] – [1850]

Richard Shutt [1851]

Walter Paine [1858] – [1861]

Thomas Russell [1871]

James Ross [1872] – [1873];

John Ross [];

Joseph Chadwick [1886] – 1890);

John Fowler (1890 – 1891);

George Ellis (1891);

Herbert Tuckley (1891 – 1893);

John Frederick Ford (1893);

Joseph Thomas Dyson (1893 – 1894);

Richard Griffiths (1894);
Thomas Cole (1894 – 1896);
Tom Clarkson (1896);
Joseph Durant (1896 – 1898);
John Edward Hennessy [1903] – [1904] ?
Charles Hennessy (1898 – 1904);
Arthur Simms (1904 – 1905);
Ernest Arthur Hennessy (1905 – 1906);
Josiah Burgess (1906 – 1915);
Walter Burgess (1915 – 1918);
Mrs. Edith Burgess (1918 – 1919);
Walter Burgess (1919 – 1931);
Thomas Beecham Broome (1931 – 1933);
William John Annakin (1933 – 1934);
Jessie Annakin (1934 – 1936);
Mansel John Bevan (1936 – 1937);
Bernard Joseph Hordern (1937 – 1938);
Thomas Beecham Broome (1938 – 1949);
Arthur Harvey (1949 – 1953);
James William Bailey (1953 – 1954);
Alfred John Adams (1954 – 1962);
Lilian Maud Adams (1962 – 1965);
Hugh Frederick Lister (1965 – 1966):

NOTES

It was originally built in 1815 as a residence for the master of Walsall pig market.

It was formerly the CORPORATION ARMS. [1849], [1850], [1851]

At one time it was an alehouse with no sign.

It had a 6-day license.

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] Richard Shutt (43), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Shutt (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Shutt (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Edwin Shutt (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Shutt (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Betsy Shutt (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] William Shutt (11 months), son, born Walsall;
- [8] John Suse (22), servant, born Leicestershire;
- [9] Ann Bankes (21), servant, born Walsall:

Richard Shutt – see also LITTLETON ARMS.

Walter Paine, wine and spirit merchant, 4, High Street. [1858]

1861 Census

4, High Street

- [1] Walter Paine (36), wine and spirit dealer, born Tiverton, Devonshire;
- [2] Mary Ann Paine (32), wife, born Sutton, Northamptonshire;
- [3] Maria Martha Paine (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter Paine (1), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Lucy Maria Paine (40), sister, born Tiverton, Devonshire;
- [6] Ann Wright (23), general servant, born Godmanchester, Huntingdonshire;
- [7] Mary Owen (18), general servant, born Sawtrey, Huntingdonshire:

Walsall Free Press 5/10/1861

“Jane Holland was charged with stealing a dress, value 10s 9d, the property of Mr. Wm. Webb, draper, High Street. Mary Marsh, assistant to Mr. Webb, stated that on the morning of Tuesday last she was in the shop, and saw prisoner come in. She purchased a jacket. Witness then went up stairs, and on returning saw the dress produced, under her clothes. The dress was safe in its place on Monday night. John Wright, assistant to Mr. Webb, said from information he received from the last witness, he followed prisoner into Mr. Paine's liquor shop, where he saw the dress in her possession concealed under her clothes. He asked her where she got it from, and she said she was going to show it her mother across the street. He then gave her into custody. Mr. Webb had desired him to say that he did not wish the Bench to be severe with the prisoner. The prisoner appeared very much affected at the position in which she was placed, pleaded guilty, and expressed her sorrow for what she had done. Her husband had been out of work for some time, which led her to the commission of the offence. She lived at Pelsall. The magistrates having considered the case, the Mayor said they had received a letter from the Rev. Mr. Harper, incumbent of Pelsall, and in consideration of her previous good character ordered her to be imprisoned for seven days."

Walter Paine - see also BREWERY STORES.

1871 Census

4, High Street

[1] Thomas Russell (32), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Jane Russell (29), wife, born Walsall;

[3] James Russell (7), son, born Walsall;

[4] Agnes Russell (5), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Ann Bridgwater (20), general servant, born Wood End, Staffordshire;

[6] Kate Stone (15), relative, occasional assistant, born Wood End, Staffordshire:

Midland Counties Evening Express 20/5/1875

"At a special sessions held yesterday, before S. Stephens and J. Brewer, Esqs, at the Guildhall, Walsall, Joseph Beech, a local bookmaker, was brought up on a warrant, charged with having resorted to a public house, called the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, for the purpose of gaming and betting therein, on the 18th and 19th of May. Mr. Gillespie (firm of Wilkinson and Gillespie) appeared in support of the charge; and Mr. Rhodes (from Mr. Glover's office) for the defence.

Evidence was given showing that on Tuesday evening the Chief Superintendent sent to the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF a trusty agent, who there found the prisoner, who took from him a bet of 6 to 1 about a horse called Industrious for the Manchester Cup.

Yesterday morning the same agent went again and made another bet of six to one with the prisoner about a horse called Lacy.

Half a crown was paid in each instance, and the prisoner entered the bets in a book which he had with him. The Chief Superintendent then procured a warrant, armed with which he at once went to the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, and there apprehended the prisoner, who had in his possession a book containing entries of the bets named above, and of many others on the same races, the list extending over no less than nine pages. He also had in his possession other betting books relating to the Derby and other races, 'price lists', telegrams, and sporting papers.

The magistrates retired to consider their decision, and after a few minutes' absence returned into the court (which was crowded with bookmakers and betting men) and announced that they considered the case fully proved, and should impose a fine of £10, including costs. Fined accordingly."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/8/1886

"The annual licensing Sessions took place at the Guildhall yesterday.....

the only application was one from Mr. Chadwick, of the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, to turn his six-day license into a seven-day license. The Town Clerk attended, and opposed on behalf of the Corporation, the owners of the property, pointing out that the lease precluded a seven-day license, and the application was withdrawn."

1891 Census

4, High Street – BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF

[1] John Fowler (36), public house manager, born Tetbury, Gloucestershire;

[2] Bertha Fowler (24), public house manageress, born Burton on Trent;

[3] Joseph R. Fowler (2), son, born Castle Donington, Leicestershire;

[4] Percy Ryle (7), brother in law, born Burton on Trent;

[5] Kate Jones (52), general servant, born Bridgnorth:

[Tetbury is about 10 miles SW of Cirencester.]

[Castle Donington is about 12 miles SW of Nottingham.]

George Ellis was fined 10s and costs, on 2nd June 1891, for selling intoxicating liquor without a license.

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1895 - Advert

"Unreserved Sale By Auction of The Unexpired Free Lease and Licenses of the Old-Licensed Inn, known as the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street Walsall, together with the whole of the Capital Fittings, Fixtures and Trade Effects, with immediate possession.

Walter Hughes is instructed by the Trent Brewery Company to Sell the above Lease, &c. (which expires September 29th, 1896), by Auction, at his Property Mart, on The Bridge, Walsall, on Monday next, 16th Dec., 1895, at Six pm precisely.

For further particulars and conditions apply to Walter Hughes, Auctioneer and Brewer's Valuer, The Bridge, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

“The penultimate meeting of Walsall Town Council as at present constituted was held in the Council Chamber, Guildhall, on Monday afternoon.....

Councillor Pearman-Smith, in presenting, and moving the adoption of a recommendation from the Property Committee as to the terms and conditions upon which a lease of the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, should be granted for a term of 10 years from the 29th inst., said that the house had been well advertised, but the committee were convinced that the offer of Mr. Hennessey of £100 a year was best. The decision of the committee was confirmed.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1896

“The Town Clerk (Mr. J. R. Cooper) presented plans for internal alterations at the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street. He explained that the lessee, Mr. J. H. Hennessey was under a covenant with the Corporation to spend a certain amount of money upon the alterations, but he (Mr. Hennessey) preferred to submit plans, so that it might not afterwards be said that anything had been done with Corporation property which would not be allowed elsewhere.

The Bench had no objection to the plans but said they thought they had better remain for other magistrates to see.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“In 1906 Josiah Burgess from Sheffield was leasing the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF from the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgesses of the Borough of Walsall for seven years at an annual rent of £70.”

1911 Census

4, High Street

[1] Josiah Burgess (55), licensed victualler, born Brixworth, Northamptonshire;

[2] Emily Burgess (52), wife, married 34 years, born Pelsall;

[3] Josiah Burgess (30), son, miner, born Pelsall;

[4] Leonard Burgess (23), son, assisting in the business, born Pelsall;

[5] Sarah Vincent (20), general servant, born Daw End:

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1912

“Property Committee. Your committee recommend that the lease of the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, be renewed to Mr. Josiah Burgess, for a term of seven years from 29th September, 1913, when it expires, subject to his paying an increased rent of £10 a year from that date, thus making the rent £80 a year the minutes were confirmed.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, Walsall, 11s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 26/5/1917 - Roll Of Honour

“Private Leonard Burgess, of Church Road, Pelsall, and formerly of the BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, of which his father held the license for many years, is reported to have been killed in action on May 1. Married and 29 years of age, he joined the East Yorkshires on May 29, 1916, and was sent to France on December. He was educated at Pelsall Wesley Schools.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street. £1 8s 3d.”

1939 Register

High Street – BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF Public House

[1] Thomas B. Broome, date of birth 27/3/1883, publican, married;

[2] Lydia Broome, dob 4/2/1885, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held on Thursday.....

Mr. T. B. Broome, BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF INN, High Street was elected member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 15/2/1941 - Advert

“Wanted, a Pianist, male or female.

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/7/1952

“Twenty old inns and hotels in Staffordshire have been added to the Ministry of Housing and Local Government’s ‘preservation list’ because of outstanding historical and architectural interest. The total number of Staffs. Inns now listed is 49.

The Brewers’ Society is selecting a design for a plaque for marking the inns. Several designs have been submitted by a sculptor, an artist, an architect, and an expert on industrial design, but a final choice has yet to be made. The object of these plaques will be to enable tourists and other visitors readily to identify inns of outstanding interest.....

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, High Street, Walsall.”

Hugh Frederick Lister moved to the RAILWAY at Shifnal.

It closed on 12th February 1966.

It was demolished in July 1966.

BEEHIVE

7, (46), (42), New Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Nicholls, solicitor, Birmingham

Josiah Elton, Bloxwich

George Eldon

Showells Brewery Co. Ltd. (lease acquired 3rd March 1904)

LICENSEES

Mrs. Mary Boyden [1871]

James Whitehouse [1872];

William Davies [1881];

Job Davies [1883];

Thomas William Valer [] – 188_);

Isaiah Millington (188_ – 1888);

Edwin Owen (1888 – 1897);

John Henry Pitt (1897 – 1900);

Charles Henry Bould (1900);

Moses Lloydell (1900 – 1910);

Thomas William Banks (1910 – 1912);

Benjamin Hughes (1912 – 1913);

NOTES

42, New Street [1871]

46, New Street [1881], [1891], [1901]

7, New Street [1904]

It was situated opposite to the entrance to Alfred Street.

It had a beerhouse license.

1871 Census

42, New Street

[1] Mary Boyden (49), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Martha Boyden (12), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[3] Edward Boyden (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

46, New Street – BEE HIVE

[1] William Davies (46), chartermaster, born Shropshire;

[2] Mary Davies (50), wife, born Bloxwich;

- [3] William Davies (20), son, coal miner, born Bloxwich;
[4] Harriet Davies (14), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Job Davies was fined 20s and costs, on 1st December 1883, for keeping his house open after 11pm.

Edwin Owen = Edward Bowen = Edward Owen

1891 Census

46, New Street

- [1] Edwin Owen (41), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
[2] Elizabeth Owen (41), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] William Owen (14), son, harness maker, born Pelsall;
[4] Sidney Owen (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Richard Owen (42), boarder, bricklayer, born Coxley, Staffordshire;
[6] Hannah Owen (13), servant, born Pelsall:

Edward Owen was fined 20s and costs, on 14th May 1892, for selling liquor to a drunken man.

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....
The Chief-constable then gave formal notice that he intended to oppose the renewal of the following licenses.....
The BEEHIVE, Bloxwich, kept by Edward Owen, the reason being a conviction for supplying a drunken person.”

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....
Mr. Gillespie applied on behalf of Edward Bowen for the renewal of the license of the BEEHIVE INN, Bloxwich, and explained although his client had been fined 20s and cost for permitting drunkenness, it was the first conviction recorded against him.....
The license was renewed with a caution.”

Edward Owen, beer retailer, New Street. [1896]

1901 Census

46, New Street

- [1] Moses Lloydell (38), coal miner, born Bilston;
[2] Esther Lloydell (28), wife, born Essington;
[3] Charles Lloydell (6), son, born Bloxwich:

Moses Lloydell, beer retailer, 7, New Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....
Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....
Moses Lloydell, BEEHIVE.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/10/1910

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....
Mr. Thomas Banks, BEEHIVE INN, Bloxwich, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1910

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall district of Loyal Caledonian Corks was held on Saturday, at the WOOLPACK, Hotel, Digbeth. There were fifty-eight delegates present, representing twenty-seven lodges..... Secretary’s report.....
Permission has been granted for the opening of a new lodge (No.74) at the BEEHIVE HOTEL, Bloxwich, and 16 members have been enrolled.”

1911 Census

New Street – BEEHIVE INN

- [1] Thomas William Banks (28), coal miner, hewer, born South Wales;
[2] Mary Eliza Banks (27), wife, married 4 years, born Cannock;
[3] Ellen Louisa Banks (17), sister, domestic servant, born Cannock;
[4] Alice Maud Banks (7), daughter, born Cannock;
[5] Martha Banks (2), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[6] Winifred Banks (1 month), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Thomas William Banks, beer retailer, 46, New Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The following were the notices of objection (Compensation Clause).....

NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Hy. Mellor).

SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Jacob Williams).

NELSON, Church Street, Bloxwich. (Jos. Wall).

STAG, Field Street, Bloxwich. (Jane Tolley).

PLOUGH, Cemetery Road, (Charles Mansfield).

RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, (Charles Orgill).

STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, (Charles Ernest Perry).

BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich, (Benjamin Hughes).”

AND

“The Court re-assembled yesterday (Friday) morning.....

The BEEHIVE. Mr. Jackson again appeared for the owner, Mr. George Eldon, the lessees, Showell’s Brewery Co. Ld., and the tenant, Mr. B. Hughes.

Inspector Pritchard again gave evidence that New Street contained no other licensed house than the BEEHIVE. He had visited the premises on 16 occasions in ten weeks, and found 116 persons, or an average of 7 per visit. The last tenant and his wife left the house empty, without transfer of license to anyone. The offices at the rear of the premises were dilapidated and the premises were practically open, the fences being broken down.

The tenant stated that he had been tenant about five months. He had not followed any other occupation, but he would have done so had he not had an accident. He thought a little work would do him good.

Mr. Loxton: That is not the general opinion of work.

Mr. Jackson submitted that this was the only house in the street, and it was both well built and well kept. There was a large trade done and the tenant could get a good living, averaging 128 barrels per year. The only defect was the back premises, and that was being remedied.

Having retired, the Bench announced that the licenses of the STAG and the STORES would be renewed for this year, but might be considered at some future date. The remaining six houses would be referred to the compensation authorities.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 7th February 1913.

Walsall Advertiser 31/5/1913

“The principal meeting of the Compensation Authority for the Borough of Walsall was held on Tuesday morning at the Guildhall.....

The last case dealt with was that of the BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich. The owner was Mr. John Elton, the lessees, the Showell Brewery Co., and the tenant, Mr. Benjamin Hughes. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for all parties. The average annual barrelage was 188, and the rent and premium amounted to £58 per year. The renewal of the license was refused.”

Compensation was paid.

It closed on 6th September 1913.

BEE HIVE STORES

292, (82), Green Lane / Blue Lane East, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Ward [1858]

John Page [1861] – [1865]

J B Jones [1909]

NOTES

82, Green Lane [1861]

292, Green Lane [1909]

William Ward, beerhouse, 82, Green Lane. [1858]

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

“Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers’ licenses.....

William Ward, Green Lane, Walsall. Refused.”

1861 Census

82, Green Lane – BEE HIVE

[1] John Page (45), publican and grocer, born Hamstilt (?) Ridway, Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah Page (38), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Joseph Page (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Albert Page (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Fanny E. Page (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Edward Page (2), son, born Walsall;

[7] Abraham Page (3 months), son, born Walsall;

[8] Mary Figgins (18), general servant, born Tailand [Thailand?]:

John Page, retailer of beer, Green Lane. [1862]

John Page, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 82, Green Lane. [1864], [1865]

Closed

Demolished

BEEHIVE

Lichfield Road, (Canalside), (Walsall Wood Road), (Hall Lane), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Lichfield Brewery Co. [1926]

LICENSEES

William Jackson Jnr. [1858] – 1868;

William Humphries (1868 – [1869]

William Jackson Jnr. [1869] – [1872]

John Male [1891] – [1901]

George Lane [] – 1909;

Noah Cresswell (1909 – [1912]

John Claudius Bostock [1926]

George Lane [1932]

NOTES

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

William Jackson, licensed victualler, the BEEHIVE, Walsall Wood, was fined 2s 6d and costs, for having two unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

1861 Census

Walsall Wood Road – BEEHIVE INN

[1] William Jackson (30), bricklayer and publican, born Walsall Wood;

[2] Emma Jackson (31), wife, born Rudgeley [Rugeley?];

[3] Olive Jackson (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Ann Elson (15), domestic servant, born Widdenton [Wigginton?], Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/12/1868

“William Humphries, landlord of the BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood, was charged with having had his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday, the 20th inst. Police-constable Webb, who proved the charge, said he visited the house about fifteen minutes past three o’clock on the morning in question, and found nine men in the house, and a quart jug containing about a pint of beer. The Bench ordered the defendant to pay a fine of 10s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/8/1869

“William Humphries, landlord of the BEEHIVE public-house, was charged with having permitted drunkenness in his house on the 11th ult. Police-constable Webb said he visited the defendant’s house about half-past one o’clock in the morning in question, and found four men in the house. The men were tipsy. On being asked why he had the men in his house, he replied, ‘I can’t get them out.’ The men were tipsy. Mr. Sheldon, who appeared for defendant, called two witnesses, who said no drink was supplied to the men after prohibited hours, and that the landlord several times ordered them out. The defendant, who had been previously convicted, was ordered to pay a fine of 20s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

Before granting of licenses commenced Inspector McCrea presented to the Bench a list containing the names of those victuallers who had offended against the tenor of the licenses. The following were the names on the black list.....

William Humphries, BEEHIVE, Walsall Wood, two convictions – once for having kept open during prohibited hours (fined 10s and costs), and once for having permitted drunkenness on his premises (fined 20s and costs).....

In the above cases the granting of the licenses was adjourned, all the others had their licenses renewed.”

Walsall Free Press 25/9/1869

“The adjourned licensing session was held at Rushall.....

“William Humphries, landlord of the BEE HIVE public-house, who had twice been previously convicted, and who was declared to be totally unfit to keep a public-house, had his application for a renewal of license refused.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. Jackson, the landlord of the premises, to have the session adjourned, in order to allow Mr. Jackson on opportunity of applying for the transfer of the license.”

1871 Census

Walsall Wood – BEE HIVE

- [1] William Jackson (40), grocer, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Emma Jackson (42), wife, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Olive Jackson (16), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] William Jackson (6), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Ada Jackson (3), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Tom Jackson (15), boarder, bricklayer, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/9/1872

“Rushall Adjourned Licensing Session.....

Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) renewed his application for a licence from William Jackson, of the BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood, to sell beer to be consumed off the premises. Granted.”

1891 Census

Canal Side – BEE HIVE INN and grocer’s shop

- [1] John Male (37), licensed victualler, born Kingswinford;
- [2] Hannah Male (38), wife, born Pensnett;
- [3] Matilda Male (15), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Sarah Male (9), daughter, born Aldridge;
- [5] Elizabeth Male (7), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Gertrude Male (5), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Jessie Male (8 months), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [8] Annie Huxley (13), servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning. The magistrates present were Messrs. F. James, W. H. Brookes and J. Naylor.

Superintendent Barnett opposed the renewal of the licenses of the following beerhouses.....

BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood, in consequence of the premises being insufficiently defined. Renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

“Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. John Male, BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Observer 11/8/1900

“On Monday last, the members of the ‘Pride of the Wood’ Lodge of the National United Order of Free Gardeners held their annual dinner. A procession was formed at the lodge house (the BEEHIVE INN), which was joined by the juvenile branch, and after parading the principal parts of the village marched to the church, where the Vicar (Rev. T. Beakes) preached a very interesting sermon. After the service the members proceeded to the Lodge house, where over thirty members partook of a capital dinner provided by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. J. Male). Besides sitting down to dinner, the juveniles were regaled with tea in the school room.....”

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – BEEHIVE INN

- [1] John Male (47), publican, born Kingswinford;
- [2] Hannah Male (48), wife, born Stonnall, Staffordshire;
- [3] Lizzie Male (17), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Gertie Male (15), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Jessie Male (11), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] John Male (5), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Florrie Male (8), daughter, born Walsall Wood:

It was rebuilt in 1902 after a fire.

Walsall Advertiser 29/5/1909

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for the temporary transfer of the licence of the BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood, from George Lane to Noah Cresswell.”

Lichfield Mercury 13/3/1926

“At the Adjourned Licensing Meeting for the Rushall Division on Monday, objections to two houses were considered..... With regard to the BEEHIVE INN, Hall Lane, Walsall Wood, Police-Inspector Skerratt stated that the population per license of the parish was 347, and the house was objected to on the ground of redundancy. The reasons why it was selected were that it was situated in a byelane and that trade was bad. The previous landlord, who left in December, said he only sold one barrel per week. The present tenant stated he was selling three barrels weekly. Mr. Jackson said it was almost impossible to get a new license in these days, and the amount fixed could not compensate a brewery company for the loss of a license. Before a license was taken away for redundancy it must be compared unfavourably with other houses – and there had been no comparison in this case – and it must not be selected haphazardly. For the Walsall Temperance Society, Mr. A. V. Haden opposed the renewal of the license. The houses were referred to the compensation authority.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/5/1926 - Notice

“Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Monday, the 28th day of June, 1926, at 11 o’clock am. And Notice is Hereby also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list..... BEEHIVE, Walsall Wood. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee John Claudius Bostock.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/7/1926

“No fewer than 34 licensed premises were scheduled for consideration at the Principal Meeting of the County Licensing Compensation Authority held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Monday. In 23 cases the authority decided to refer licenses for compensation, four were renewed, and the remaining seven were adjourned to be dealt with on July 12..... Mr. H. H. Jackson, of Walsall, applied for the renewal of the license of the BEEHIVE INN, Walsall Wood, an ante ’69 beerhouse. Mr. Frank Cooper, for the justices, stated that within 500 yards there were six other licensed houses, four being full, and two beer on licenses. The BEEHIVE was situate on a bye-road. On the occasion of the justices’ visit in December of last year, the then tenant said the trade had not been more than one barrel a week for two and a half years. Inspector Skerrett, replying to Mr. Jackson, said the premises were rebuilt a few years ago. A previous tenant told witness he had ‘lost his little all there’ and sold only a barrel a week. Mr. Jackson: You don’t believe all that tenants say to you? – Not always. You would not remain there two years and 10 months if you were not satisfied? – Sometimes you make a bad bargain, and you have got to stick to it. Further questioned, the Inspector said that on the day of his visit, the tenant had not sold a glass of beer or a packet of ‘wood-bines’ the whole day. Mr. Jackson, supporting the renewal, said the house belonged to the Lichfield Brewery Co, who had four houses on the list that day. They were anxious to retain the house, because they had spent a lot of money upon it, and it had great possibilities attaching to it. Mr. W. A. Wood, director of the company, said they had given up two licenses in the city of Lichfield. The BEEHIVE was in a growing district, and the trade was improving under new tenancy. In reply to Mr. Cooper, witness said he understood dances were held at the house. The Chairman announced that the license would be renewed.”

Closed

It was converted into flats.

Later it became offices known as Niken House.

BEEHIVE TAVERN

St. Pauls Row, (St. Paul Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Bates [1841] – [1845]

NOTES

1841 Census

St. Paul Street

- [1] Henry Bates (35), plater and victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Bates (25), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Thomas Bates (8), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Elizabeth Bates (5), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Edwin Bates (8 months), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Thomas Smith (20), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Ann Lingard (15), born Staffordshire:

Henry Bates was also a plated and pot tinned bridle buckle manufacturer. [1845]

He was described as being also a buckle plater. [1842]

BELL

1, (59), Bell Lane / Stafford Road, (The Delves), Short Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Joseph Beech

William Hooker

City Brewery (Lichfield) Co. Ltd. (leased)

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1933]

New River Retail [2015]

LICENSEES

Samuel Beech Miller [1813]

Charles Beech [1818] – [1842]

Mrs. Ann Beech [1849] – [1851]

Joseph Beech [1858] – 1893;

Samuel Thomas Taylor (1893 – 1898);

Mary Ann Taylor (1898 – 1900);

William Thomas Hooker (1900 – 1933);

Elizabeth Ann Hooker (1933 – 1934);

Edward William Brown (1934 – 1953);

Walter Joseph Gundy (1953 – 1965);

George Ernest Holmes (1965 – 1967);

Frank Birch (1967 – []

Janet Maria Moorcroft and Peter William 'Pete' Moorcroft [1994] – 2015)

NOTES

59, Bell Lane [1871]

1, Bell Lane [1881], [1891], [1901], [1932], [1940]

Stafford Road [1908]

BLUE BELL [1828], [1835], [1841], [1842], [1849], [1860], [1861], [1864], [1865]

BLUE BALL [1858] [probably a typo]

BELL [1881], [1894], [1944]

OLD BELL [1911]

BELL HOTEL [1940]

Samuel Beech Miller was also a maltster. [1813]

Charles Beech was also a locksmith. [1818]

1851 Census

BELL INN

[1] Ann Beech (73), widow, victualler, born Hensford [Hednesford?], Staffordshire;

[2] Joseph Beech (42), son, shoe maker, master, born Bloxwich;

[3] Henry Beech (32), son, shoe maker, deaf and dumb, born Bloxwich:

Joseph Beech = Joseph Birch = Joseph Peech

Walsall Free Press 22/9/1860

“The activity of the inspector of weights and measures in detecting, and the magistrates in punishing, this species of offence, cannot be too highly commended. Perseverance in such a course will not fail to result in the breaking up and suppression of a system of swindling too prevalent in our neighbourhood, by which the poorer classes are openly and shamefully defrauded.

We have to record the convictions of four offenders in this class Joseph Beech, the BELL INN, Bloxwich, ten unjust measures. All the parties were fined 1s and costs, and cautioned.”

1861 Census

Bell Lane – BELL INN

[1] Joseph Beech (52), unmarried, publican, born Bloxwich;

[2] Henry Beech (40), brother, boot and shoe maker, deaf and dumb, born Bloxwich:

1871 Census

59, Bell Lane – BELL INN

[1] Joseph Beech (60), victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Elizabeth Beech (39), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Ellen Beech (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[4] Annie Beech (5), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[5] Joseph Beech (1), son, born Bloxwich;

[6] Charlotte Hyde (17), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;

[7] Henry Beech (40), brother, deaf and dumb, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

1, Bell Lane – BELL INN

[1] Joseph Beech (70), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Elizabeth Beech (49), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Ellen Beech (18), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Ann Beech (15), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[5] Joseph Beech (11), son, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

1, Bell Lane

[1] Joseph Beech (85), widower, publican, born Bloxwich;

[2] E. Cartwright (34), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[3] A. Parker (25), daughter, widow, born Bloxwich;

[4] Joseph C. Beech (21), son, born Bloxwich;

- [5] A. Cartwright (37), son in law, born Staffordshire;
[6] Joseph Beech (10), son, born Bloxwich;
[7] A. B. Cartwright (4), grandchild, born Bloxwich;
[8] A. H. T. Cartwright (3), grandson, born Bloxwich;
[9] Tryphena Morgan (30), domestic servant, deaf and dumb, born Cheslyn Hay:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/5/1891

“At the Walsall Guildhall yesterday, Joseph Hancox, the KING WILLIAM INN, Bloxwich, and Richard Hancox, his brother, New Town, were summoned for having assaulted Arthur Cartwright, the BELL INN, Bloxwich, and Cartwright and Joseph Beech jun, also of the BELL INN, were summoned for having assaulted Joseph Hancox. Mr. Cotterell appeared for Cartwright and Beech, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the other parties.

Cartwright’s case was to the effect that he reached home at eleven o’clock on the night of the 5th inst, and went into the stable to put up his horse. His wife came and began to push him about, which was a very common thing with her, and the elder Hancox entered and also assaulted him, the younger one coming in later and behaving in like manner. Joseph Hancox forced his way into the house, but was put out by the complainant’s father-in-law, Mr. Beech, sen, the keeper of the house; and subsequently complainant found his wife and Hancox together, first in the stable, and afterwards some distance along the road. He was then assaulted again by his wife, a very powerful woman, holding him so that he could not strike back. She did not return to his home that night. The case on the other side was that the brothers Hancox were driving past the BELL INN, when they heard Mrs. Cartwright screaming, and on the elder one going in to find out what was the matter he saw her on the floor, and her husband holding her down. He released her, and was assaulted by her husband, and also by her brother, Joseph Beech, who struck him on the head with a poker or bar of iron.

The magistrates, without hearing all the witnesses in court, dismissed the summonses against Cartwright and Beech, and fined the other two – Joseph Hancox 40s and costs, or twenty-one days’ imprisonment; and Richard Hancox 5s and costs, or ten days’ imprisonment.”

Joseph Beech was fined £3 and costs, on 1st January 1892, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The Chief-constable then gave formal notice that he intended to oppose the renewal of the following licenses.....

The BELL INN, Bloxwich, kept by Joseph Birch, the reasons being that he had been convicted for permitting drunkenness, and that the house was not needed by the requirements of the neighbourhood.”

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....

Mr. Alfred Young (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) applied on behalf of Joseph Beech for the renewal of the license of the BELL INN, Bloxwich, this being one of the cases adjourned from the annual licensing day. Opposition was then raised by the Chief-constable on the ground that the landlord had been fined £3 and costs for permitting drunkenness, and that the house was not needed in the neighbourhood.

The Chief-constable now said there was another matter not referred to in his notices with which the magistrates were familiar, as to which he asked for an assurance from Mr. Young that it should at once be put right. Should this be done he would withdraw his objection.

Mr. Young said that without publicity indicating the matter referred to by Mr. Taylor, he might give a complete assurance that steps should at once be taken for putting any further cause of complaint. The applicant would also take the first opportunity of disposing of the house. Mr. Young added that Beech was 88 years of age, and his house was the oldest licensed house in the neighbourhood.

The Mayor announced that the Bench would hear all the cases before giving judgement Renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday.....

The Chief Constable opposed the renewal of the license of the BELL INN, Bloxwich, to Joseph Beech, on the grounds of a conviction for permitting drunkenness, that the occupants were not persons of good character, that the house was of a disorderly character, and that the license was not required. Mr. A. Young (instructed by Mr. Ashmall, Lichfield) appeared for the Lichfield Brewery Company, and Mr. Willcock for Beech. It was stated that the objectionable person had left, and that the house had been let to the Lichfield Brewery Company on a long lease.....”

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1894

“On Monday evening last the players of Bloxwich Strollers Football Club were invited to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, of the BELL INN, to celebrate their winning the Wolverhampton Junior Charity Cup. The team sat down to a capital spread provided by their worthy host and hostess, and after full justice had been done to the good things provided, the cloth was withdrawn, and Mr. C. Nicholls was voted to the chair, and R. Phillips to the vice-chair.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson submitted plans for the rebuilding of the BELL, near Bloxwich. The decision was deferred.....
The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that all the other applications would be granted.”

Samuel Thomas Taylor was fined £1 and costs, on 15th September 1897, for selling adulterated whisky.

Mary Ann Taylor died in 1900.

William Thomas Hooker was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

It was demolished circa 1900.

It was rebuilt.

1901 Census

1, Bell Lane

[1] William T. Hooker (41), public house manager, born Pelsall;

[2] Elizabeth Hooker (36), wife, born Pelsall;

[3] William C. Hooker (17), public house assistant, born Pelsall;

[4] Gertrude C. Hooker (7), daughter, born Pelsall;

[5] Howard Hooker (3), son, born Walsall;

[6] Alice Orgill (19), general servant, born Walsall:

1911 Census

Bloxwich – BELL INN

[1] William T. Hooker (51), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;

[2] Elizabeth A. Hooker (47), wife, married 28 years, assisting in the business, born Pelsall;

[3] William C. Hooker (27), son, assisting in the business, born Pelsall;

[4] Gertrude S. Hooker (17), daughter, assisting in the business, born Pelsall;

[5] Howard Hooker (13), son, school, born Walsall;

[6] Frank H. Hooker (8), son, school, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BELL, Bloxwich. £1 16s 7d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench. Applications were made for the renewal of the BIRD IN HAND, James Street; BUILDER’S ARMS, Wisemore; BELL INN, Stafford Street, and the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, which had been objected to under the Compensation clause, and had stood over for plans for alterations to be submitted. It was stated that the justices’ requirements had been met except in the case of the BELL INN. In this case Mr. H. A. Tucker (barrister) appeared, and pointed out that the house was owned by a widow who was dependant for her livelihood upon the rent for it, and was in a position to carry out structural alterations. He further explained that it was an ante ’69 beerhouse, doing a large trade, and that structural matters were not a ground for taking away the license. Apart from this he urged the premises, which had been recently decorated, were in good order.

The Clerk (Mr. S. E. Croxton): But the justices have already decided otherwise – Mr. Tucker replied that to carry out the alterations would necessitate re-building the whole of the premises.

Mr. A. D. Cozens (chairman): The Licensing Committee have decided definitely that they will have better domestic accommodation in licensed houses. If you are going to fight the Licensing Committee I am afraid we shall have trouble.

Mr. Tucker remarked that if the license was taken away the necessary payment would be a large one.

Mr. Cozens: You are prepared to run the risk of the Committee’s decision? – Mr. Tucker: Oh, yes, but I ask for the renewal of the license.

The justices, after a brief retirement, renewed the whole of the licenses, but with regard to the BELL INN intimated that it was only provisionally renewed for a year to enable the committee to consider the question of alterations.”

Walsall Observer 16/9/1939

“We are going to assist the authorities in carrying out the lighting restrictions,’ said Mr. H. Hucker, presiding magistrate at Walsall Guildhall on Monday, when the first local prosecutions under the blackout regulations were before the court.

Four of the five defendants in the five cases were publicans and three were each fined 20s, the fourth was ordered to pay 4s costs.....

Against Edward William Brown (50), licensee of the BELL INN, High Street, Bloxwich, evidence was given by Special Constable J. W. Wood that an obscured light shining from a passage through a doorway illuminated the footpath to the width of a foot on the night of September 5.

Mr. Hodgkinson: It was due, probably to a customer leaving the door open? – Witness: Yes, sir.

Mr. Hodgkinson pointed out to the Bench that the charge was one of unlawfully causing lights to be displayed, whereas the Special Constable had said the door was probably left open by a customer. 'The fact that there is a war and there are emergency regulations will not, I am sure,' he added, 'affect your judgement. If it did, we are wasting our time fighting this war, because we should be in the same position as the other side. Defendant started his black-out arrangements before hostilities began. He is a man who was in the last war and was gassed, so he knows what these things mean; and he is the kind of man who would take every possible precaution.'

'We think in this case,' the presiding magistrate announced, 'that an honest attempt was made to black-out, and that payment of 4s costs will meet the case.'

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BELL INN, Bloxwich, £5 7s 6d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BELL INN, Bloxwich. £1 10s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BELL INN, Bloxwich. £6 8s 3d."

[2017]

BELL

Birmingham Road, Great Barr, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired c.1920)

Ember Inns

LICENSEES

William Instone [1841] – [1851]

John Partridge [] – 1870);

Mrs. Helen (Ellen) Partridge (1870 – [1871]

William Boonham [1891]

Thomas Watts [1901] – [1903]

Andrew Barnes [1904]

Alfred Neale [1906] – [1913]

Frederick Ernest Selby [1928] – 1957);

Susan Elizabeth Selby (1957);

Selwyn Holden (1957 – 1962);

Frank Samuel Moseley (1962 – 1964);

Murray Smith (1964 – 1966);

Frank Bambrook (1966 – 1967);

George Carlin (1967 – [1968]

Simon Crosswell [2004]

NOTES

It was situated on the turnpike road to Great Barr and Birmingham.

BELL TAVERN [1841], [1851]

William Instone was also a carpenter. [1841]

William Instone = Wiliam Inston

1841 Census

BELL TAVERN

- [1] William Inston (65), publican and carpenter, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Inston (65);
- [3] Henry Inston (6):

1851 Census

BELL TAVERN

- [1] William Inston (75), carpenter (master) and victualler, born Kingswinford;
- [2] Elizabeth Inston (75) wife, born Whitacre, Warwickshire;
- [3] Henry Inston (16), grandson, general servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Free Press 5/11/1870

“The license of the BELL INN, on the Birmingham Road, Great Barr, was transferred from the late John Partridge to his widow Ellen Partridge.”

1871 Census

Birmingham Road – BELL INN

- [1] Helen Partridge (41), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah A. Willner (17), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1879 - Register of Sales

“Tuesday, Sep. 9th – Stock Sale at the BELL INN, Birmingham Road.”

Evening Express 9/5/1881

“Frederick Mirtchkin, of Prince Albert Square, pleaded guilty to stealing two trusses of hay from the BELL INN, Birmingham Road.

Being recommended to mercy by the owner of the hay, Mr. William Beecham, he was sentenced to only 10 days’ imprisonment.”

Wednesbury Herald 18/6/1881

“On Monday, Mr. Edwin Hooper (District Coroner), held an inquest at the BELL INN, Birmingham Road, Great Barr, near Wednesbury, as to the death of Paul Martin (70), labourer of Hill Top, who had been found drowned in the Birmingham Canal. The evidence showed that on the morning of the 9th inst the deceased, who was of unsound mind, was seen wandering about the fields of Great Barr, and shortly afterwards his dead body was found in the canal.

There was no evidence to show how deceased got into the canal, and the jury returned a verdict of Found Drowned.”

1891 Census

Birmingham Road – BELL INN

- [1] William Boonham (49), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Priscilla Boonham (50), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John W. Boonham (17), son, currier’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] Annie Boonham (18), daughter, pupil teacher, born Walsall;
- [5] Richard J. Boonham (15), son, pupil teacher, born Walsall;
- [6] Martha P. Boonham (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Ellen M. Boonham (11), daughter, scholar, born Great Barr;
- [8] Edith S. Boonham (8), daughter, scholar, born Great Barr;
- [9] Arthur S. Boonham (5), son, scholar, born Great Barr;
- [10] Phyllis Dace (19), visitor, born Walsall:

1901 Census

Birmingham Road – The BELL INN

- [1] Thomas Watts (41), public house manager, born Birmingham;
- [2] Laura Fidelia Watts (52), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Margaret Bayley (88), mother in law, widow, born Blymhill, Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Watts (66), mother, widow, born Northampton:

Tipton Herald 19/6/1909

“The dead body of a man was on Monday afternoon recovered from the Birmingham Canal at Great Barr. Upon the clothing being searched, letters addressed to B. Stead, 17, Victoria Street, Wednesbury, were found in his possession. Inquiries were made, and subsequently the body was identified as that of Benjamin Stead, a traveller in the employ of the Universal Tea Company, Market Place, Wednesbury. The unfortunate man was last seen alive at 8.20 on Monday morning, when he left his home in Victoria Street, to catch a train to Birmingham.

An inquest was held on Wednesday morning at the BELL INN, Birmingham Road, near Walsall, by Mr. G. C. Lewis.

Walter E. Tibbets, retired school master, stated that deceased was his nephew, and had lived at his house in Victoria Street, Wednesbury, for some 22 years. Deceased had been in the service of the Universal Tea Company for about 22 years, and at the time of his death was a shop inspector for the firm. He had a wife and two children. Witness had never seen any sign of trouble, nor had he ever heard of deceased doing or saying anything which might lead to taking his life.

Alexander McGregor, Walsall, said he saw the body floating in the water of the Birmingham Canal on Monday afternoon, and informed the police.

Harry Kendal, a boy, spoke to having found a leather handbag near the canal.

PC Yeomans produced the handbag, which had since been identified as belonging to deceased. A letter found in the bag, written by deceased and addressed to his wife, was also produced and read by the Coroner. The communication contained the following extracts:

‘Sorry to give you pain. As you know the last month I have been miserable. I found out this week that another man had offered to do my job for 35s a week, and I have no alternative but to accept same or leave. You know how impossible it would be for me to support you and the home and keep myself during the week. You know the money I have to spend, and what a lot I had to do with it; therefore, I have been compelled to borrow at times It hurts me greatly to part, but I don’t see what else I can do.’

In reply to the jury, the Coroner remarked that it did not always follow that because a person committed suicide he or she was really insane.

After consultation the jury returned a verdict of Suicide while Temporarily Insane.”

1911 Census

Great Barr – BELL HOTEL

[1] Alfred Neale (40), engineer’s patternmaker, born Saltley, Warwickshire;

[2] Gertrude Neale (38), wife, married 13 years, born Walsall;

[3] Frederick Neale (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Phyliss Neale (7), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Reemie Neale (4 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Lilly Neale (19), sister, visitor, born Saltley, Warwickshire;

[7] Lizabeth Kennedy (31), barmaid, born Walsall;

[8] Alice Ward (28), domestic servant, born Stockton on Tees, Yorkshire:

[Gertrude was known as Gertie.]

It came under the jurisdiction of Rushall until 1st April 1931.

It was demolished.

Rebuilt

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions. . . .

BELL INN, Birmingham Street. £1 12s 3d.”

[2017]

BELL AND CUCKOO

19, Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Whitehouse, 28, Green Lane, Walsall

George Thompson, Dandys Walk, Walsall

G. A. Thompson, Birmingham Road, Walsall

Lucy Smith [1925]

N. S. Dawson, WATERING TROUGH, Walsall

Gordon Dawson, WATERING TROUGH, Walsall

Edwin Holden Bottling Co. Ltd. (acquired on 18th February 1958)

Samuel Hammond, ‘Westlands’, Vicarage Road, Coseley (acquired on 22nd January 1960)

Yates Bros. Wine Lodge, Manchester (acquired on 6th May 1966)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

E Whitehouse* [1853] – [1858]
Levi Willetts [1861] – [1862]
Daniel Taylor [1864] – [1865]
Enoch Whitehouse* [1868] – [1881];
Edward Smith [1883] – 1900;
Mrs. Lucy Smith (1900 – 1927);
Leonard Smith (1927 – 1936);
Alexander Arthur Birch (1936 – 1955);
Ivor Edwin Gardner (1955 – 1956);
Joan Carey (1956 – 1960);
Martha Audern (1960 – [1966]
Raymond Leslie Moore [1996]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

It had brewing plant and a malthouse at the rear.

* possibly the same person

Birmingham Journal 3/1/1853

“....The Chairman and Secretary [of the Birmingham Brewers’ Protection Society] then announced that by special invitation they had gone over to Walsall, where by the active exertions of Messrs. Falkner, Whitehouse, Smith, and Arch, members of the trade resident in that town, a Protection Society of retail brewers had been formed there. At the general meeting, held at Mr. Whitehouse’s, BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, on the 8th of December last, upwards of twenty persons had put down their names.....”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/11/1853

“Thomas Mousley will run Stepfine of Dudley one mile level, or take 20 yards in two miles, or 30 yards in one mile of young Jones of Dudley, or run S. Jones of the Lye waste one mile, or Perry of Bloxwich his own distance level, or give Lawrence of Harden 30 yards start in one mile. A match can be made at E. Whitehouse’s, the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, Walsall, for £5 or £10 a side, on Tuesday night next; to run on a turnpike road.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/12/1854

“John Atkins of Birmingham will run Craddock of Bloxwich one mile level, for £10 a side, if he will give him 10 yards start. Atkins will be at the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, Walsall, tomorrow (Monday) night, prepared to stake and make match.”

E. Whitehouse, beerhouse, 19, Stafford Street. [1858]

1861 Census

19, Stafford Street – BELL AND CUCKOO

- [1] Levi Willetts (25), beer seller and chainmaker, born Dudley;
- [2] Sarah Willetts (23), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Pamela Willetts (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Alfred Willetts (2), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Williams (23), lodger, chainmaker, born Dudley;
- [6] Mary Bowley (14), visitor, born Walsall:

Levi Willetts, retailer of beer, 19, Stafford Street. [1862]

Daniel Taylor, beer retailer and cart gear and chain maker, 19, Stafford Street. [1864], [1865]

Enoch Whitehouse, beer retailer, 19, Stafford Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

19, Stafford Street – BELL AND CUCKOO

- [1] Enoch Whitehouse (49), beerhouse keeper, born Blakenall, Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Whitehouse (45), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] Isabella Whitehouse (17), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] James Whitehouse (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Martha Whitehouse (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Alice Whitehouse (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Enoch Whitehouse (2), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/12/1872

“Enoch Whitehouse, of the BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street, pleaded guilty to having sold liquor at half-past nine o'clock on Sunday morning, and was fined 20s and costs.
James Mangreaves, the person to whom the liquor was sold, was also fined 20s and costs.”

Enoch Whitehouse was fined 20s and costs, on 25th March 1874, for Sunday trading.

1881 Census

19, Stafford Street

- [1] Enoch Whitehouse (59), beerhouse keeper, born Blakenhall, Staffordshire;
 - [2] Elizabeth Whitehouse (54), wife, born Daw End, Staffordshire;
 - [3] James Whitehouse (22), son, shackle maker, born Walsall;
 - [4] Alice Whitehouse (15), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [5] Enoch Whitehouse (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
 - [6] William Cooper (33), son in law, widower, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
 - [7] David Cooper (13), grandson, scholar, born Walsall:
- [It appears that William Cooper married Isabella Whitehouse, who had died by the census.]

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1883

“Walsall Licensed Victualler Association.....

It was unanimously decided that the Society should be represented at the Demonstration, to be held on Tuesday next, 14th instant, at 2.30pm, at St. James's Hall, Piccadilly, to protest against the Liquor Traffic (Local Control) Bill, and Mr. E. Smith (BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street), Mr. W. O. Letts (BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street), and Mr. H. Smallwood (VINE INN, Blue Lane) each of whom promised to oppose the measure, were chosen as the delegates.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1891

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley held an inquest at the BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street, on the body of Florence Booker (3), who was killed in Stafford Street on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Elliot (Messrs. Duignan and Elliot) and Mr. Sutton (traffic manager) were present on behalf of the company.

At the outset of the proceedings Mr. Wiggins attended with a memorial, signed by many of the shopkeepers in the neighbourhood, representing that there was much danger to the public from the rapid passage of the trams along the street, and urging that the bell should be rung when the engine was approaching the junctions with side streets.

Several witnesses were examined whose evidence bore out the statement already published that as the tram was running along the lower end of Stafford Street the child started to cross the road in front of the tram, and that, her perilous position being observed, a woman (Theresa Hawkins) made a dash to save her, but either slipped or fell, or was knocked down by the side of the engine, which passed over the child. The side of the engine was then opened and the poor little creature's remains taken out in two parts. The witnesses agreed that the tram was going at the ordinary speed, and that it was stopped quickly.

The driver, John Cockayne, said he saw the child about four feet from the metals and three yards from his engine, and he also saw Mrs. Hawkins make an attempt at rescue. He reversed his engine, but he was over the child immediately. There was a protector to the engine, but it was at the back end on this occasion, owing to the engine having to be turned at Bloxwich.

Considerable discussion followed among the jury, in the course of which it was urged that the authorities should be more stringently enforce the bye-laws against the company.

Ultimately, a verdict of Accidental Death was returned, coupled with a recommendation that in future life protectors should be placed at both ends of the engine.

Mr. Elliot promised that the representations of the jury should be placed before the directors.”

1891 Census

19, Stafford Street

- [1] Edward Smith (46), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Lucy Smith (44), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Smith (23), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Ernest Smith (15), son, errand boy, born Walsall;
- [5] Florence Smith (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Smith (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Violet Smith (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Minnie Smith (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[9] Leonard Smith (9 months), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 24/3/1894 - Advert

“For Sale, one small Brewing of Grains weekly.
Apply BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

Edward Smith, beer retailer, 19, Stafford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

19, Stafford Street

- [1] Lucy Smith (51), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Blakenall;
- [2] Edith F. Smith (25), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [3] Ernest Smith (23), son, printing machine minder, born Walsall;
- [4] Alfred Smith (21), son, house painter, born Walsall;
- [5] Violet Smith (15), daughter, clothier's assistant, born Walsall;
- [6] Mnnie Smith (13), daughter;
- [7] Leonard Smith (10), son:

Mrs. Lucy Smith, beer retailer and brewer, 19, Stafford Street. [1904], [1912]

1911 Censsus

19, Stafford Street

- [1] Lucy Smith (61), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Blakenall;
- [2] Ernest Smith (33), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [3] Alfred Smith (31), son, decorator, born Walsall;
- [4] Violet Smith (25), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Minnie Smith (23), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Leonard Smith (20), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Edith Smith (9), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street. £1 11s 7d.”

South Staffordshire Times 3/2/1922

“Prosecutions against publicans for giving over-measure were heard at Walsall Police Court on Wednesday, when Lucy Smith, of the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, was summoned for selling to Jessie Carless an amount of beer exceeding the measure she asked for (one pint), on January 20th. Violet Smith, of the same address, was summoned for aiding and abetting. The Bench fined Lucy £2 and ordered Violet Smith to pay the costs.”

Lucy Smith was fined 40s and 21s 6d costs, on 31st January 1923, giving the long pull.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst..... the following were adjourned for plans of alterations to be submitted.....
BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench. Applications were made for the renewal of the BIRD IN HAND, James Street; BUILDER'S ARMS, Wisemore; BELL INN, Stafford Street, and the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, which had been objected to under the Compensation clause, and had stood over for plans for alterations to be submitted. It was stated that the justices' requirements had been met except in the case of the BELL INN The justices, after a brief retirement, renewed the whole of the licenses, but with regard to the BELL INN intimated that it was only provisionally renewed for a year to enable the committee to consider the question of alterations.”

1939 Register

19, Stafford Street

- [1] Alexander Birch, date of birth 28/2/1887, public innkeeper, married;
- [2] Elizabeth Birch, dob 18/1/1889, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Jenny (Birch) Wilcox, dob 24/11/1914, fancy leather worker, single;
- [4] Mabel (Birch) Macneillie, dob 29/12/1922, shop assistant, single;
- [5] George Birch, dob 23/4/1928, at school, single;
- [6] Thomas Birch, dob 9/4/1895, iron moulder, single:

Walsall Observer 11/12/1943

“There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held on Thursday.....

Mr. Alexander Birch, BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street, was elected a member of the society.”

A full license was granted on 3rd March 1960.

Its name was changed to YATES WINE LODGE in May 1966.

Its name was changed to TRAD’S [1984]

Its name was changed to OLD MOORE’S [1996]

London Gazette 29/10/1996

“Moore, Raymond Leslie, Publican, of OLD MOORES, 19 Stafford Street, Walsall, West Midlands WS2 8DG.

Court: Walsall.

Date of Filing Petition: 30th May 1996.

Date of Bankruptcy Order: 28th August 1996.

Whether Debtor’s or Creditor’s Petition: Creditor’s.

Official Receiver: 1st and 2nd Floors, Ladywood House, 45-46 Stephenson Street, Birmingham B2 4UP.”

It was put up for sale in 1996.

Name changed to CUCKOO AND BELL [2002]

[2012]

BELLE VUE

29, (139), Moat Road, (Moat Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

George Boys

Mrs. J. C. Boys, widow, Wednesfield

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (leased from 8th June 1893)

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1952]

LICENSEES

Joseph Taylor [1867] – 1868)

George Noakes [1868]

George Boys [1869] – [1881]

Mrs. Elizabeth Boys [1882] – 1906);

James Thomas McGill (1906 – 1907);

Albert William Hicklin (1907 – 1910);

Mrs. Ruth Hicklin (1910 – 1917);

John Henry Jeffrey (1917 – 1923);

Alfred Henry Beard (1923 – 1926);

William Pritchard (1926 – 1927);

William Henry Ryder (1927 – []

Harold John Doughty [1936] – 1942);

William Arthur Edwards (1942);

Jesse Tonks (1942 – 1943);

John Joseph Wardle (1943 – 1951);

George William Harris (1951 – 1954);

George Edward Smith (1954 – 1959);

Cyril Lees (1959 – [1962]

NOTES

Moat Street [1871], [1881]
139, Moat Road [1891], [1911]

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

BELLE VUE HOTEL [1871], [1911]

It had a beer, cider and wine license, and also a refreshment license.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1863

“Thomas Bradley and Michael Gateley were charged with having on Tuesday last assaulted Police-constable Middleton in the execution of his duty. The officer had been called to eject the prisoners and some other Irishmen from the refreshment rooms at the Moat Gardens, where they were creating a disturbance. On getting outside the building Bradley went behind the officer and pulled him down, and then both prisoners assaulted him. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, ordered the prisoner Bradley to pay a fine of £5, or in default to be imprisoned for two months; and Gateley to pay a fine of £2, or in default to be imprisoned for one month.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....
Henry Boys, the Moat Gardens.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1864

“Annual Licensing Session. Applications for new licenses.....

Mr. Glover applied for a license for the refreshment rooms at the Moat Gardens, tenanted by Mr. Henry Boys. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 19/5/1866 - Advert

“Moat Gardens, Walsall.

Joseph Taylor begs respectfully to inform the public that he has taken these Beautiful Gardens for the Season, which will be Open every Evening.

Refreshments of the best quality will be provided.

Comic Vocalists will be constantly engaged.

Music for Dancing on the Green and in the Room.”

Walsall Free Press 14/7/1866 - Advert

“Moat Gardens, Walsall.

Mr. Henry Boys begs to inform the public and gentry of Walsall and Neighbourhood, that he has a large Collection of Stove, Greenhouse, and Bedding Plants to Dispose of, parties requiring the same will be admitted free on application. Cucumbers Cut Daily.

Apply to the Gardener.”

Walsall Free Press 23/2/1867 - Notice

“Notice Of Removal

Mr. J. Taylor, begs to inform the members of the No.2 Permanent Money Society (now held at the IRISH HARP, Long Street) and the public generally, that the above Society will be held at the BELLEVUE HOTEL, Moat Street, Walsall, on or after Tuesday, March 5th, 1867.”

Walsall Free Press 16/3/1867 - Advert

“Belle Vue Gardens, Moat Street, Walsall.

Mr. Joseph Taylor begs to inform his friends and the public of Walsall and Neighbourhood, he has a splendid lot of Cucumber Plants For Sale; also a large lot of Cauliflower Plants. Bouquets cut daily. Camelias, Cinerarias and a great variety of other Plants in Flower.

Joseph Taylor, Sole Proprietor.”

Walsall Free Press 16/3/1867 - Advert

“No.2, Permanent Money Society, BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat St., Walsall

‘Mr. Taylor, Trustee to the above Society’ begs to inform the public that the Dividends have been very satisfactory since the commencement of the society. Any Person becoming a Member will oblige the Committee; and any information required may be obtained from the Secretary.

G. Motteram. 26, Long Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 6/4/1867 - Advert

“Belle Vue Gardens, Moat Street, Walsall.

Mr. J. Taylor begs to inform the gentry and public of Walsall and surrounding neighbourhood, that he intends Opening his beautiful and extensive Tea And Pleasure Gardens, for the season, on Easter Monday. The spacious conservatory, cucumber house, vinery, &c. filled with the choicest exotics will be thrown open to visitors. A large and spacious Hotel has recently been erected on the grounds. Refreshments provided for visitors, in the spacious dining rooms of the Hotel. A celebrated brass band has been engaged for the occasion. Admission: Threepence Returned in Refreshments, Flowers, or Plants. N.B. Good Stabling.”

Walsall Free Press 27/4/1867

“Belle Vue Gardens. These beautiful pleasure gardens, which have undergone extensive alterations and improvements since they came into the possession of the present proprietor, Mr. J. Taylor, were opened for the season on Monday last. The day being very favourable, the inauguration by the new proprietor proved a decided success. Upwards of 1,000 visitors inspected the grounds and expressed themselves highly gratified with the improvements which have been carried out at a vast expense. In addition to the large conservatory, cucumber-house, and vinery, Mr. Taylor has erected a spacious hotel, with rooms for the accommodation of large or small parties. In the course of the day the Alma Tube Works’ band performed at intervals, and dancing was kept up with much spirit till closing time.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 31/8/1867

“Walsall General Licensing Day new applications..... Mr. Matthews applied on behalf of Mr. Joseph Taylor, Belle Vue Gardens, Moat Street. The Bench after a short consultation returned into Court, and announced their intention to refuse all the applications.”

London Gazette 28/8/1868

“Joseph Taylor, of No.25, Long-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, out of business, previously of the Moat Gardens, Walsall aforesaid, Beerhouse Keeper, and Bridle Bit Maker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in Her Majesty’s Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, on the 24th day of August, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to Owen Davies Tudor, Esq., a Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 9th day of September next, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the said Court, at Birmingham. Mr. George Kinnear, of Waterloo-rooms, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. F. M. Burton, of Birmingham, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

[An Order of Discharge was granted by the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 14th day of April, 1869.]

Joseph Taylor – see also IRISH HARP.

George Noakes = George Noaks = George Noake

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/9/1868

“Bellevue Grounds, Moat Road, Walsall. Mr. Noake, the proprietor of the above grounds, will give £6 10s to be run for in an All England Handicap race of 125 yards, to take place on Walsall wake Monday and Tuesday, Sept 21 and 22. Entries 1s each no acceptances made to Mr. Middlebrook, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Walsall; Chidlow, OLD QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; Russell, Bloxwich; or at the grounds. Any one entering falsely disqualified.”

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1868

“George Noaks, landlord of the BELL VUE HOTEL, was fined 20s and costs, for having had sixteen men drinking in his place at half-past eleven on Sunday morning.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 19/12/1868 - Advert

“Walsall. BELLE VUE HOTEL, with Moat Pleasure Garden.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Farrington and Son, on Tuesday, the 5th day of January, 1869, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, at Five for Six o’clock in the evening, the above-mentioned Premises. Leasehold for a term of ninety-two years from the 25th day of March, 1866, together with the valuable Conservatories, Vineries, Statuary and other ornamental Erections, suitable for pleasure grounds, containing nearly three Acres ornamentally planted and laid out.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/1/1869 - Advert

“Messrs. Farrington and Son are instructed to Offer by Public Auction, at the GEORGE HOTEL, in Walsall, at five for six in the evening, subject to conditions, all that substantially-built Inn or Public House and Premises, known as the BELLE VUE, pleasantly situated near to the South Staffordshire Reservoir, and to the Wednesbury and Wolverhampton turnpike roads, and late in the occupation of Mr. Taylor.

The House contains spacious liquor shop, two parlours, taproom, kitchen, clubroom, bedrooms, excellent cellars, brewery, upper and lower workshops, entire yard, and other conveniences; together with the spacious wooden erection adjoining, used as a dancing and singing saloon; dancing platform; tastefully laid-out pleasure grounds, surrounded by a moat well stocked with fish; alcoves and seats; several beautiful fountains, supplied from the South Staffordshire Waterworks; several handsome conservatories, vineries; forcing houses, covered with Hartley's Patent Plate, the whole fitted up with iron pipes for heating and forcing by hot water; large kitchen garden &c....."

Walsall Free Press 9/1/1869 - Advert

"BELLE VUE HOTEL & Moat Gardens.

To Be Let, with all Tenants Fixtures. Possession immediately.

Apply to Messrs. Farrington and Son, Auctioneer; or to Messrs. J. & G. G. Potter, Solicitors, The Bridge, Walsall."

Walsall Free Press 15/5/1869

"The Moat Gardens. As will be seen by a notice in our advertising columns, this place of public resort will be re-opened on Monday next (Whit Monday), on which occasion an excellent instrumental band will be in attendance. The vines are in splendid condition, and it is the intention of Mr. George Boys, the present proprietor, to have the greenhouses replenished with the choicest plants and flowers. The gardens are also to be ornamented and rendered more attractive, as it is the wish of the proprietor to render them a handsome promenade, so that the public (against whom the gates of the Cemetery are closed in the evening, and who have no prospect of procuring a public park) may have a place for recreation."

Walsall Free Press 28/8/1869 - Advert

"Moat Gardens. George Boys begs to announce that the above Gardens are now open.

Large quantities of Grapes now ready for Sale.

Refreshments of Superior Quality."

[The above advert was repeated for several months.]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

"Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday applications for new licenses for the sale of spirits.....

Mr. Glover appeared to support the application of George Boys, landlord of the BELLE VUE beerhouse, Moat Street, and pointed out the peculiar adaptability of the premises, and the suitability of the applicant, who, being a Walsall man, was well known to the bench.

The Mayor announced that the Bench had decided not to grant any new licenses this year."

George Boys married Elizabeth Maybury in the 4th quarter of 1869.

1871 Census

Moat Street – BELLE VUE HOTEL

- [1] George Boys (43), coal dealer, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Boys (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Boys (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] John Boys (15), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Boys (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Boys (9), son, born Walsall;
- [7] George M. Boys (6 months), born Walsall;
- [8] Emma Berry (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/8/1873

"The annual licensing sessions took place at the Guildhall yesterday applicants for old licences.....

George Boys, the MOAT TAVERN, Moat Street refused, the necessary advertisements not having been issued."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/6/1875

"On Tuesday afternoon George Mabry Boys, aged four years, son on George and Elizabeth Boys, of the BELLE VUE IN, Moat-street, strayed away from his sister, with whom he was walking round the reservoir, and on a search being made his lifeless body was found in the water."

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

"Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

Mr. Glover asked for a victualling licence for George Boys, of the BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Street, and stated that during the many years the applicant had kept the Moat Gardens many thousands of persons had asked him for spirits.....

The magistrates retired, and on their return into court stated that the licensing justices would visit the houses of George Boys and would give their decision at the Adjourned Licensing Session."

Walsall Advertiser 18/1/1879 - Advert

"Found, January 6th, Black and White Scotch Shepherd Dog, with Collar and Chain. If not owned in Six days, will be Sold to defray expenses.

Apply, George Boys, Moat Gardens, Walsall."

1881 Census

Moat Street

- [1] George Boys (54), coal dealer and licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Boys (40), wife, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [3] Thomas Henry Boys (19), son, labourer, born Walsall;
- [4] Ruth Alice Boys (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Ellen Edith Boys (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Bertha Hannah Boys (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Charlotte Reynolds Boys (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Elizabeth Griffiths (25), servant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] John Sedgwick (15), errand boy, born Codsall;

George Boys died in the 4th quarter of 1882.

Walsall Advertiser 9/12/1882 - Advert

“Preliminary Notice. Rare Investment. Valuable Leasehold Property.

The Moat, Walsall, known as ‘The Moat Gardens’ will shortly be offered for sale by auction by Messrs. Watkins & Powell (by order of the Executors of the late George Boys), consisting of a Public House called the BELLE VUE, with Trade and other Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, Licenses, Goodwill, and Out-offices; large Garden, and Moat surrounding the same, Greenhouses, and Stove and Greenhouse Plants, &c. Also Eleven Cottages adjoining the public house, all well-tenanted, and now in the occupation of Mrs. Elizabeth Boys and others.

An excellent opportunity for a Nurseryman, Florist, and Coffee and Refreshment Room Proprietors.

To view the property apply to Mrs. Elizabeth Boys, and for further particulars to the Auctioneers.”

1891 Census

139, Moat Road

- [1] Elizabeth Boys (49), widow, coal merchant and publican, born Wolverley;
- [2] Ruth Boys (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Ellen E. Boys (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Bertha H. Boys (15), daughter, milliner’s and dress apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Charlotte R. Boys (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] George Boys (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] John Maybury (71), boarder, born Wolverley;
- [8] Alice Maybury (70), boarder, born Cookley;

Mrs. Elizabeth Boys, beer retailer and coal dealer (Wolverhampton Street), Moat Road. [1896]

1901 Census

139, Moat Road – BELLE VUE HOTEL

- [1] Elizabeth Boys (59), widow, publican, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [2] Nellie Hughes (26), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] George Boys (22), son, cattle dealer, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice Maybury (83), mother, widow, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [5] Eliza Holland (57), sister, widow, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [6] Laura Holland (25), niece, hospital nurse, born Birmingham;

Mrs. Elizabeth Boys, beer retailer, Moat Road. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

Mr. T. McGill, BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road, was unanimously elected member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The Chief Constable applied for the renewal of the license of John McGill, BELLE VUE, Moat Road, be put back, and the Bench agreed.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The BELLE VUE, Moat Road. The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Taylor) explained that the renewal of the license of James Thomas McGill, of the above house, had been held back, because a criminal case was pending, the evidence as to which he wanted to ascertain. He had now no objection to the renewal. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1907

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions on Monday, before Messrs. W. H. Brooks (presiding), W. F. Clark, W. Precey, and J. F. W. Binns, James Thomas McGill, landlord of the BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road, Walsall, was charged with furiously driving a horse and trap, and also summoned for being drunk in charge on the 1st inst. Mr. C. A. Loxton defended.

Police-constable Lee stated that on the date named at 8.20pm he was on duty in the Walsall Road at the bottom of Shire Oak Hill, and saw a horse being driven towards him, which was going at a furious rate. He heard a woman shout to the driver to go slowly as there was a policeman about, and defendant replied with a filthy expression. The officer held his hand up in the middle of the road to stop him, but he refused and thrashed the horse all the way up the hill and several times swayed over the side of the trap. On getting over the hill he increased his speed, going at about sixteen to eighteen miles an hour. The officer got on a bicycle and followed him as far as Walsall Wood, and although he shouted, defendant did not stop, but went faster than he (witness) could ride. On going down the hill into Walsall Wood, two cyclists going in the opposite direction had to run into the ditch, as the horse was swaying from one side of the road to the other. After passing the cyclists, a man on a bicycle with a little child sitting in front, was missed by defendant by inches, and as the vehicle passed the man, witness heard him say ‘Oh, my God.’ Witness followed on, and on getting in to Walsall Wood he called on two cyclists to help him follow the man and they did so. They followed him from Shelfield to Rushall and he was going at about the same rate the whole distance. He caught him up on going down the hill leading to Ladypool Bridge, and passed him on going up the hill on the other side. On getting in front of him witness told him to he had better stop as he should follow him wherever he went. On stopping defendant, his wife stepped out of the trap and took hold of the little child and left defendant with witness. He (Lee) told him that he was drunk, and that he was going to take him to Rushall police station, and defendant said ‘You won’t.’ He had considerable trouble getting prisoner to the station, but he eventually did so on a tram-car, leaving the horse and trap in the hands of another officer who went to his assistance. In reply to the charge he made no answer and refused to give his name and address, but did so to Sergeant Needham a little later. Many drivers of vehicles turned into side streets on seeing defendant coming along. He examined the horse and found it was sweating and trembling, and could not put its hind leg to the ground. It had a shoe off and the frog was bleeding. The distance he had ridden was about five miles.

Sergeant Needham, Police-constable Flavell, Police-constable Gunrepp, Police-constable Brown, Edward Ball, Albert Beck, and Mathew Herr Bower, all gave evidence to the drunken condition of the man, and the exhausted condition of the horse when stopped.

Mr. Loxton said he should not contest the case of reckless driving, but he submitted that they could not convict upon both charges on only one set of facts.

Superintendent Salt said he would rather the charges stood as they were.

Mr. Loxton asked for a decision on the point.

Eventually the police withdrew that charge of drunk in charge, and Mr. Loxton pleaded guilty to furious driving. In addressing the Bench, he pointed out that the horse had got another person into trouble before by bolting, and on this occasion the horse bolted, and the man lost his temper, and having done so, said ‘Now you shall go’ to the horse, and that was the whole case. They were sorry for what they had done, and hoped the Bench would bear in mind the expense it would be for all the witnesses.

The Bench fined defendant 40s and costs for driving furiously, and the case of drunkenness was withdrawn.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/8/1908

“Alfred [?] Hicklin, of the BELLE VUE INN, Moat Street, was charged with wilfully killing a pigeon. Mr. Darby prosecuted for the National Homing Union and Mr. Jackson defended. On the 29th ult. the defendant was seen to shoot a pigeon which had the racing ring and the society ring on its feet, but evidence was given that the bird belonged to the defendant, and the case was dismissed.”

1911 Census

139, Moat Road

[1] Ruth Hicklin (38), widow, publican, born Walsall;

[2] George Hicklin (13), son, born Walsall;

[3] Sarah Winfield (19), general servant, born Walsall;

[4] Thomas Stevens (67), assistant, widower, jobbing gardener, born Churchington, Warwickshire:

Mrs. Ruth Hicklin, beer retailer, Moat Road. [1912]

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road, Walsall, 15s 1d.”

John Henry Jeffrey = John Henry Jeffery

Walsall Observer 16/12/1916

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

On the proposition of the President a vote of sympathy was passed with the relatives of the late Mrs. Ruth Hicklin, a much respected member of the society. A funeral donation of £4 10s was afterwards granted.

Mr. John Henry Jeffery, BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road, Walsall, elected member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road. £2 10s 5d.”

The full license of the ALBION, Wolverhampton Street, was transferred here on 19th May 1936.

1939 Register

Moat Road – BELLE VUE

[1] Harold J. Doughty, date of birth 7/8/1899, manager licensed house, married;

[2] Victoria Doughty, dob 22/1/1901, manageress licensed house, married;

[3] Edwin J. Doughty, dob 7/1/1923, office clerk, single;

[4] Hazel (Riley) Shaw, dob 18/3/1918, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Edwards, BELLE VUE, Moat Rd. £0 11s 3d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....

Nine Licensed Houses..... BELLE VUE, Moat Road.”

Walsall Observer 17/3/1951

“At the monthly meeting of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers Society.....

Sympathetic reference was made to the loss by death of two members, Mr. J. J. Wardle, of the BELLE VUE HOTEL, Moat Road, and Mr. Harry Green.”

John Joseph Wardle – see also LITTLETON ARMS.

[2012]

Closed [2013], [2017]

BIG COAL

Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Clarke [1828] – [1830]

Adam Urmson [1830] – [1831]

William Wainwright [1834]

William Gaiter [1841] – [1842]

Adam Urmson [1845]

NOTES

Thomas Clarke = Thomas Clark

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/6/1830

“Early on Thursday morning, the 3rd inst. two horses, the property of Mr. Adam Urmson, of the BIG COAL, public-house, Park Street, Walsall, were maliciously forced down a precipice into a lime-work, at Moss Close, in the parish of Rushall, near Walsall, whereby one was killed, and the other very seriously injured. Upon the discovery of this atrocity, a reward of twenty pounds was promised upon conviction of the offenders, and three persons were in the course of the day, apprehended on suspicion. On Friday afternoon an investigation took place at the Guildhall, before C. S. Foster, Esq. a county magistrate, when one of them named Henry Barker, was committed to Stafford gaol for trial at the ensuing sessions, charged, on the oath of Thos. Turner, with having perpetrated the offence. The other two were discharged.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/4/1831 - Advert

“The BIG COAL, an old established Public House in Park Street, Walsall.

To be Sold, the Licenses and Good-will of the above old Establishment, now in the occupation of Mr. Urmson, situated near the Weighing Machine, and close to the Lime and Coal Wharfs, with Stabling, capital Cellars, Reservoir of Soft water, Club-room 51 feet by 18. The Furniture is neat, and the casks are in most excellent condition and sweet. The draught of Ale is equal to £20 per sitting, and Liquors to a very considerable extent are regularly consumed, as well as Sweet Wines, for which there is a great demand.

The Stock, which is of the best quality, will now be kept low, and the purchaser may take the whole or part of the furniture at a fair valuation.

To treat apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Adam Urmson was also an excavator, miner and brickmaker. [1845]

BIRCHILLS TAVERN

15, Birchills Street (Birchills Lane) / Thomas Street, (Wolverhampton Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Henry Cooper, 41, Lichfield Street, Walsall

Charles Cooper

H. Tomlinson and Sons

James Mitchell

Mrs. Winear, Aldridge

Showells Brewery Ltd. [1903]

Ind Coope ad Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 9th April 1935)

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)

LICENSEES

John Dexter [1841] – [1845]

Charles Cooper [1849] – [1850]

Thomas Cooper [1851]

William Doley [1858] – [1865]

Richard Cozens [1871] – [1873];

Mrs. Georgina Cozens [];

Joseph Evans [1880];

Mrs. Georgina Evans [];

James Mitchell [];

Thomas Edward Burgess [];

George Holden [] – 1886);

Joseph A Flynn (1886);

Joseph Letts (1886 – 1894);

Mrs. Ann Letts (1894 – 1898);

Benjamin ‘Ben’ Letts (1898 – 1899);

Henry Billingham (1899 – 1900);

Caesar Augustus Llewelyn Jenkyns (1900);

Joseph Clements (1900 – 1904);

William Lenton (1904 – 1906);

Edward Henry James (1906 – 1908);

Richard Walker (1908 – 1913);

Ann Walker (1913 – 1922);

Richard State (1922 – 1928);

John Walker (1928 – 1931);

Charles Edward Walker (1931 – 1934);

Cyril Mottram Wakeman [1931] manager ?

Cyril Mottram Wakeman (1934 – 1938);

David Abraham Warman (1938 – 1940);

Walter Burns Snr. (1940 – 1946);
Eliza Jane Burns (1946 – 1949);
Thomas Walter Burns Jr. (1949 – 1966);
Nellie Kathleen Burns (1966 – []
Peter Fry (1997 – [1999]

NOTES

Birchills Lane [1845]
Wolverhampton Street [1851]
15, Birchills Street [1872], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]

BIRCHILL [1865]

It was known locally as “Nellie’s”.

Charles Cooper was also a brass and silver plater. [1849], [1850]

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/4/1853

“County Court. Hawkins v. Bradbury John Dexter and Mother. Plaintiff is a wine and spirit merchant, of Walsall, and brought the action to recover £17 16s 3d from the defendants as executor and executrix of John Dexter, the father of the one and the late husband of the other defendant, who at the time of his decease was keeping the BIRCH HILLS TAVERN. It could not be shown that the son was acting after his father’s death in any other capacity than as assistant to his mother, and as the debt was not disputed, his Honour gave judgement for the plaintiff, the whole amount claimed to be paid by Mrs. Dexter in monthly instalments of 10s.”

1861 Census

15, Birchills Street – BIRCHILLS TAVERN
[1] William Doley (34), victualler, born Norton, Staffordshire;
[2] Ann Doley (35), wife, born Hednesford;
[3] Henry Doley (9), son, scholar, born Hednesford;
[4] Thomas Doley (7), son, scholar, born Hednesford;
[5] Frederick Doley (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] William Charles Doley (1), son, born Walsall:

1871 Census

Birchills Street – BIRCHILLS TAVERN
[1] Richard Cozens (41), licensed victualler, born Thame, Oxfordshire;
[2] Georgina Cozens (44), wife, born Salford, Bedfordshire (?);
[3] Susan Cozens (13), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Mary Eliza Cozens (11), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[5] Emma Harriet Cozens (8), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Georgina Cozens married Joseph Evans in the 3rd quarter of 1875.

Joseph Evans was also a boat builder at 58, Wolverhampton Street. [1880]

Express and Star 25/7/1887

“On Monday afternoon Mr. T. H. Stanley, the coroner for the borough of Walsall, held an inquest at the BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street, Walsall, on the body of Frank McDonald (26), a Soudan hero and pensioner, residing with his brother at 6, Green Lane, Walsall.

The evidence showed that McDonald was pensioned off with the loss of one leg from the 1st South Staffordshire Regiment, with whom he served in the Soudan. On Saturday morning he was drinking along with a man named Albert Mold, of 146, Green Lane, and after calling at the RED LION, Park Street, the BARREL INN, Towns End Bank, and the GOLDEN LION, Birchills Street, the men walked together from the latter place. McDonald then declared his intention of going to bathe in the canal, and in spite of the opposition of Mold, whom he assured that he ‘could swim any man in Walsall’, got over the bridge and proceeded to the locks. He undressed himself, and after handing Mold his money and a pin, together with his wooden leg, which he took off, dived into the water, which was some eight feet deep. He came to the top again and then sank, and some men ran from the District Ironworks and attempted to get him out with a boat hook, but without avail. The body was recovered by one of the men who dived in. It was stated that the deceased before leaving for the Soudan was a good swimmer, but then had the use of his two legs.

The jury was of opinion that the deceased could swim with his one leg, and the witnesses believed that to be the case. Both deceased and Mold had had, according to the father’s admission, a good deal to drink and were ‘neither pretty sober’.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1891 Census

15, Birchills Street – BIRCHILLS TAVERN

- [1] Joseph Letts (52), publican, born Alrewas, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Letts (51), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Letts (19), son, hame filer, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Letts (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] William Letts (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Joseph Letts (11), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Joseph Letts – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY.

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The forty second annual meeting of the members of this society was held on Thursday We have to report with regret that by death we have lost five members Mr. Joseph Letts, BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street.”

Ben Letts was the son of Joseph Letts.

C. A. L. Jenkyns was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1900

“Caesar Jenkyns, the well-known footballer, and landlord of the BIRCHILLS TAVERN, made application for a music license on the occasion of a concert which it was proposed to hold at his house for the benefit at a man who was partially blind. The Chief Constable (Mr. N. R. Gardiner) opposed that application on the ground that it was not a genuine one, and was merely a concert organised for the purpose of the house.

Jenkyns stated that it was for the benefit of a person who was suffering, to help him get proper medical assistance, and to maintain his home, whilst he was under treatment.

The Chief Constable (to Jenkyns): What particular interest do you take in this man; are you a philanthropist? – I try to be as well as I can.

Asked by the Chief Constable as to whether the man was a customer, Jenkyns replied in the affirmative. Jenkyns added that a committee of three gentlemen were organising the concert, and the whole of the proceedings were to go to the man for whom the concert was being promoted.

Mr. Lindop: What do you say now, Mr. Chief?

Mr. Loxton (magistrates’ clerk): It is a matter for you now sir.

Ultimately Mr. Lindop announced that the application would not be granted.”

Caesar Augustus Llewelyn Jenkyns – see also BLACK HORSE, PRETTY BRICKS, WALSALL ARMS, and OLD OAK.

1901 Census

15, Birchills Street

- [1] Joseph Clements (47), widower, musician, born Harpell, Warwickshire;
- [2] John F. Clements (21), son, painter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Mary E. Clements (15), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Florence Hooper (21), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission. . . .

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various. . . .

Joseph Clements, BIRCHILLS TAVERN.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday. . . .

In the case of the BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Mr. S. A. Newman appeared for the owners (Messrs. Showell and Son) and Mr. Lester for the tenant.

An objection was raised that there was a back doorway from the tavern to some houses in Francis Street, and there was no other way to these houses except by an entry.

Mr. Newman said it would be inconvenient to close the doorway, but he would submit to an order. In the discussion which followed, he asked the Magistrates if it was their object to go on indefinitely harassing and worrying license-holders? Surely that was not right or just. Why could not the Bench make an order, which the last Licensing Act gave them power to do, so that a license-holder should not be required to make any alterations for four or five years? He submitted that the owners of this house ought not to be subjected to the expense and inconvenience of annual renewals which might be made now. He would give an undertaking in this case, and leave himself in the hands of the Magistrates. The discussion continuing, it was asked what security of tenure there was, or what guarantee, that the Magistrates another year would not require the license-holder to undo what was now required to be done?

The Magistrates' Clerk said he could not give any such security but it was afterwards stated that the Magistrates, if they would, could make an order as submitted by Mr. Newman."

Walsall Advertiser 17/11/1906

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New members..... Mr. Henry James, BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills."

William Lenton was married to Helen.

Walsall Observer 14/11/1908

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the President, MANOR ARMS INN, Daw End, Rushall. Mr. R. Anson, Daw End (president), occupied the chair.....

New Members..... Richard Walker, BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street."

1911 Census

15. Birchill Street

[1] Richard Walker (60), engine driver (stationary), bag frame makers, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Walker (58), wife, married 38 years, born Willenhall;

[3] Richard Walker (29), son, fitter, general engineers, born Walsall;

[4] Minnie Walker (25), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Louisa Walker (24), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Joseph Henry Walker (17), son, groom, brewery, born Walsall:

1939 Register

15, Birchills Street

[1] David A. Warman, date of birth 28/2/1884, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Sarah A. Warman, dob 2/9/1883, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Dorothy G. (Warman) Ward, dob 28/10/1923, barmaid, single:

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

"Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street. £1 2s 0d."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Burns, BIRCHILLS TAVERN. £4 8s 4d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street. £2 0s 3d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BIRCHILLS TAVERN, Birchills Street. £0 13s 5d."

Closed

Renamed NEW BIRCHILLS and reopened after a refurbishment in May 1997.

Peter Fry was a disc jockey known as Peter Payne.

He was married to Veronica (Voni).

[2008]

Closed [2012]

BIRD IN HAND

22, Birchills Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Williams [1861]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

22, Birchills Street – BIRD IN HAND

[1] Joseph Williams (22), beerhouse keeper, born Pelsall;

[2] Sarah Williams (20), wife, born Tipton:

BIRD IN HAND

2, James Street / Profitt Street, (Leckie Road), Ryecroft Hill, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Chaplin, Mount Pleasant, Mow Cop, Cheshire

Peter Aspinall

William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1905)

LICENSEES

William Thomas [1857] – 1861);

Joseph Bromwich (1861 – 1869);

Mrs. Ann Bromwich (1869 – 1889);

Robert Bromwich (1889 – 1905);

Joseph Stackhouse (1905 – 1910);

John Littler (1910 – 1913);

Richard Jackson Bayley (1913 – 1915);

Henry Newick (1915 – 1920);

Thomas Henry Atkins (1920 – 1933):

NOTES

Ryecroft Hill [1862]

James Street, Ryecroft [1865]

2, James Street [1868], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1908], [1912], [1932]

2+3, James Street [1871]

Leckie Road

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/9/1857

“A Petty Session was held at the Station Inn, Brownhills on Tuesday last.....

An application for a new license was made by William Thomas, in respect of a house at Ryecroft, called the BIRD IN HAND. Mr. T. J. Whitgreave, of Walsall, appeared for the applicant and the license was granted.”

W. Thomas, beerhouse, 2, St. James Street. [1858]

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

William Thomas, licensed victualler, landlord of the BIRD IN HAND, Ryecroft Hill, was fined 10s and costs, for using five measures which were short of the legal standard.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

Joseph Bromwich = Joshua Bromwich = Joseph Bramwich

1861 Census

2, James Street

- [1] Joseph Bromwich (51), victualler, born Bo____, Warwickshire;
- [2] Ann Bromwich (49), wife, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Edwin Bromwich (24), son, painter and glazier, born Kidderminster;
- [4] Robert Bromwich (21), son, painter and glazier, born Wribenhall, Bewdley;
- [5] Ann Bromwich (15), daughter, born Kidderminster;
- [6] Joseph Bromwich (13), son, scholar, born Kidderminster;
- [7] Frederick William Bromwich (1), son, born Kidderminster:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county. The magistrates on the Bench were Messrs. J. E. Bealey, W. Harrison, and D. Bloomer. Before hearing the applications for new licenses and those for the renewal of old ones, the Bench called those publicans whose names were down on the black list.....

Joseph Bramwich, landlord of the BIRD IN HAND public-house, Ryecroft, who was fined £5 last court day for having permitted drunkenness and disorderly conduct in his house, and who was ordered to be summoned for a similar offence committed last Saturday.

The Bench suspended the applicant’s license for a month.....

At the close of the business the policemen in attendance were called into the Court-room and admonished by Mr. Bealey to a faithful discharge of their duties, and, as on earnest of the intention of the Bench to stand by the officers when they faithfully discharged their duties, Mr. Bealey, addressing the officer Ashberry, by whom the complaint against Joseph Bramwich had been preferred, said the Bench considered that in his case ‘you only did your duty; and, as a mark of approbation of the Bench, the magistrates have decided to exercise that power with which they are vested of giving in such case a portion of the fine to the officer, and to award him 10s out of the fine inflicted upon Bramwich’.”

Bell’s Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/5/1867

“Mr. D. Darby of Walsall will match his pigeon Donkey Tom to fly from one mile to three against any fancier in Walsall, and will give a fair drop, for from £2 to £5, and twirl for the road the morning of flying. A match can be made any night next week at Mr. Joseph Bromwich’s, the BIRD IN HAND, James Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

2+3, James Street

- [1] Ann Bromwich (59), victualler, born Kidderminster;
- [2] Elizabeth Bromwich (25), daughter, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Edwin Bromwich (33), son, house painter, born Bewdley;
- [4] Robert Bromwich (30), son, born Bewdley;
- [5] Frederick William Bromwich (11), son, scholar, born Kidderminster;
- [6] Ann Humphries (18), general servant, born Longton, Staffordshire:

The inquest on John Corbett was held here, in February 1875.

[see HORSE AND JOCKEY]

1881 Census

2, James Street

- [1] Ann Bromwich (68), victualler, born Kidderminster;
- [2] Elizabeth Bromwich (46), daughter, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Frederick W. Bromwich (21), son, leather merchant’s clerk, born Kidderminster;
- [4] Charles H. Jones (7), grandson, scholar, born London;
- [5] Sarah Oliver (17), domestic servant, born Ironbridge, Shropshire:

1891 Census

2, James Street

- [1] Robert Bromwich (51), painter and licensed victualler, born Bewdley, Worcestershire;

- [2] Mary A. Bromwich (41), wife, born Leominster, Herefordshire;
- [3] Frederic J. Bromwich (16), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Robert W. Bromwich (15), son, saddler and carrier, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie E. Bromwich (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Frank G. Bromwich (11), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Margaret Bromwich (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Archibald Bromwich (7), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Isabel Bromwich (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [10] Bertram Bromwich (7 months), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown’s, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.
New members. Mr. Robert Bromwich, BIRD IN HAND, James Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening.
Mr. Alfred Brown, BAKERS INN, Caldmore, and Mr. Robert Bromwich, BIRD IN HAND, James Street, both beer retailers, were unanimously elected to fill the vacancies on the Executive Committee, that body being now complete.”

1901 Census

2, James Street – Beer House

- [1] Robert Bromwich (61), publican, born Budley, Yorkshire;
 - [2] Mary A. Bromwich (52), wife, born Leominster;
 - [3] Frederick J. Bromwich (26), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
 - [4] Robert W. Bromwich (25), son, house painter, born Walsall;
 - [5] Annie E. Bromwich (23), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [6] Violet M. Bromwich (21), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [7] Frank G. Bromwich (20), son, saddler’s ironmonger, born Walsall;
 - [8] Archibald J. Bromwich (17), son, grocer’s apprentice, born Walsall;
 - [9] Isabel F. Bromwich (15), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [10] Bertram A. Bromwich (10), son, born Walsall:
- [Could Budley, Yorkshire be BEWDLEY?]

Joseph Stackhouse was also a brickyard manager. [1905]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.
BIRD IN HAND, James Street. £1 17s 9d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst. the following were adjourned for plans of alterations to be submitted.
BIRD IN HAND, James Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench. Applications were made for the renewal of the BIRD IN HAND, James Street; BUILDER’S ARMS, Wisemore; BELL INN, Stafford Street, and the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, which had been objected to under the Compensation clause, and had stood over for plans for alterations to be submitted. It was stated that the justices’ requirements had been met except in the case of the BELL INN. The justices, after a brief retirement, renewed the whole of the licenses, but with regard to the BELL INN intimated that it was only provisionally renewed for a year to enable the committee to consider the question of alterations.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 2nd March 1933.
Compensation of £2,000 was paid on 18th November 1933.
It closed on 25th November 1933.

BIRD IN HAND

Park Street, (Hampton Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Jeremiah Nicholls [1818] – [1830]

NOTES

Hampton Lane [1818]

Park Street [1822]

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“A list of Waggons, &c....”

Hodson takes in parcels at the sign of the BIRD IN HAND, Park Street, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, for Bilston.”

Jeremiah Nicholls = Jeremiah Nichols

BIRMINGHAM HOUSE

48, Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Miss E. Brownhill, Handsworth

J. Bagnall

Mrs. Mary Wright, 86, Crompton Road, Handsworth

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Cox [1858] – [1865]

Joseph Moseley [1868] – [1870]

Charles Allsop [1871]

Charles Bannister [1872]

Joseph Birch [1872];

Emma Whittaker [];

Paul Worley [];

Emma Worley [];

Sampson Betteley [];

Thomas Forster [];

William Lewis [];

Frank Blakemore [];

Henry Cartwright [1881] – 1890);

William Willett (1890 – 1896);

Allen McDougall (1896 – 1897);

Arthur Lees (1897 – 1898);

Thomas Ingley (1898 – 1917);

Arthur Ingley (1917 – 1921);

Walter Day (1921 – [1929])

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

John Cox, beerhouse, 48, Ablewell Street. [1858]

John Cox, beer retailer, Ablewell Street. [1861]

1861 Census

48, Ablewell Street – Beer House

- [1] John Cox (53), beer seller, born Broughton, Leicestershire;
- [2] Ann Cox (56), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Edward Rushton (52), visitor, tallow chandler, born Brereton, Staffordshire:

John Cox, retailer of beer, 48, Ablewell Street. [1862]

John Cox, beer retailer, 48, Ablewell Street. [1865]

Joseph Moseley, beer retailer, 48 Ablewell Street. [1868], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 14/4/1870 - Advert

“To Be Let, a Beerhouse, with Grocery and Provision Business attached, the BIRMINGHAM HOUSE, Ablewell Street. Apply to H. Allen, on the Premises. Retiring from business the sole cause of leaving.”

1871 Census

48, Ablewell Street

- [1] Charles Allsop (29), spur forger, born Walsall;
- [2] Ellen Allsop (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harriet A. Allsop (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Jarvis (19), boarder, cooper, born Walsall;
- [5] Esther Jarvis (14), domestic servant, born Blakenall:

Charles Bannister, beer retailer, 48, Ablewell Street. [1872]

1881 Census

48, Ablewell Street – B’HAM HOUSE

- [1] Henry Cartwright (50), farmer of 80 acres employing 2 Labourers and one boy, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Cartwright (40), manager Public Business, born Albrighton, Shropshire;
- [3] William Cartwright (15), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Arthur Cartwright (10), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] George Cartwright (3), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Nelloie Cartwright (12 months), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Thomas Blakemore (21), cowman, born West Cotsill, Oken:

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1888

“A the annual licensing sessions, yesterday.....

The application for new licenses were then proceeded with. There were nine in all – viz, one beer (on), three beer (off), two sweets, and three for billiard and bagatelle tables, and the Chief Constable opposed them all.

Henry Cartwright, the BIRMINGHAM HOUSE beerhouse, Ablewell Street, applied for a removal of the license of his house, or, as an alternative, for a new license, the premises having been extensively altered and enlarged. Mr. Vachell (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) appeared in support of the application. The Chief Constable’s grounds of opposition were that there was no necessity of the house, there being several others in the immediate neighbourhood, and that the structural alteration had made the house an entirely new and different one. The application was adjourned till the licensing day.”

William Willett = William Wellert

1891 Census

48, Ablewell Street

- [1] William Willetts (33), innkeeper, born Ford, Shropshire;
- [2] Ellen A. Willetts (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ethel M. Willetts (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Gertrude M. Willetts (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Willetts (1), daughter, born Wolverhampton
- [6] Martha Rowliston (6), niece, born Walsall;;
- [7] John Willetts (64), father, widower, living on own means, born Great Essington:

William Willett, beer retailer, 48, Ablewell Street. [1896]

Thomas Ingley was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

48, Ablewell Street

- [1] Thomas Ingley (61), beerhouse keeper, born Birmingham;
- [2] Ann Ingley (60), wife, born Ireland;
- [3] Sarah A. Ingley (30), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Ingley (26), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Jukes (45), domestic servant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire:

Thomas Ingley, beer retailer, 48, Ablewell Street. [1904], [1912]

1911 Census

Ablewell Street – BIRMINGHAM HOUSE

- [1] Thomas Ingley (71), widower, beerhouse keeper, born Birmingham;
- [2] Sarah Ann Ingley (39), daughter, unmarried, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BIRMINGHAM HOUSE, Ablewell Street. £1 0s 5d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1929

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 15th inst. last at the house of Mr. Walter Day, BIRMINGHAM HOUSE, Ablewell Street.....”

BLACK BOY

37, New Street, (Fieldgate), WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Gameson Tinner

Messrs. Allen and Sons, Brewers, Great Haywood, near Stafford [1881]

Messrs. Chater and Co, Wolverhampton

Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Holder [1813] – [1822]

Alice Willcox [1828] – [1830]

William Wood [1834] – [1835]

John Clements [1841] – [1842]

David Holder [1845]

William Lovatt [1849] – 1857);

Mrs. Caroline Lovatt (1857 – []

Charles Millett [1858] – [1873];

Harriet J. Houlson [];

Harry Wareing [];

John West [];

Moses Croft [];

William Chamberlain [1881];

Isaiah Yates [];

Alfred Booker [] – 1890);

James Barber (1890 – 1895);

Mrs. Eliza Barber (1895 – 1899);

Joseph Stackhouse Jnr. (1899 – 1900);

Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Russell (1900 – 1923);

Richard Russell [1901] ?

NOTES

New Street [1813], [1822]
Fieldgate [1813], [1851], [1858]
37, New Street [1838], [1865], [1908]

BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD [1831], [1836]

Druids and Annuity Society met here. [1788]

John Holder, BLACK BOY, Field Gate. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Lodges.....

Druids, and Annuity, held at BLACK BOY, New Street, supposed number about 250, instituted 1808, surgeon Mr. Woollatt, secretary Addison Richardson."

AND

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, male, held at BLACK BOY, New Street, supposed number 80 or 90, instituted 1788, surgeon Mr. Weaver, secretary Charles Westley.

AND

Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at BLACK BOY, New Street."

The club room was used by the Unitarians and Baptists for their religious meetings, in the 1820s.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/3/1829 - Advert

"To Publicans.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, that old established Public House, known by the sign of the BLACK BOY, near Fieldgate, in the Foreign of Walsall, and county of Stafford; containing good cellars, tap-room, parlour, kitchen, five good lodging-rooms, brewhouse, and other outbuildings, also a large club-room where Druids' Lodge and several Friendly Societies are held.

The tenant will be expected to take the lease, which has about 11 years to run. The Stock and other effects may be taken at a fair valuation.

Rent and other payments are very low.

For further particulars enquire of J. Farrington, Auctioneer, Dudley Street, Walsall (if by letter, post paid)."

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

"The BLACK BOY in New Street was used by the Cobdenites in their pursuit of the repeal of the Corn Laws, and by activists for the Reform Bill."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

"The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion.....

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.

Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.

Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.

Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.

Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.

Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.

Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.

Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.

True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/3/1836 - Advert

"Walsall.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, that old established Public House known by the sign of the BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD, situate in New Street, with an excellent Lodge-room, where the ancient society, called the 'Druids Indeed,' meet, with three other societies attached. The premises are replete with every convenience, with good piggeries and excellent soft water, being a most desirable situation. The rent and payments low. The Stock and Brewing Vessels, with part of the Furniture, to be taken to at a fair appraisal.

This is an opportunity that seldom occurs, having an excellent business attached. The present occupier is leaving on account of other engagements.

To treat for the same refer to John Taylor, Auctioneer, Peel Street, Walsall, if by letter, post paid.”

William Lovatt = William Lovat = William Lovett

1851 Census

Field Gate

[1] William Lovat (43), publican, born Longbridge, [~~Walsall Wood crossed out~~], Staffordshire;

[2] Caroline Lovat (34), wife, born Walsall Wood;

[3] Fanny Lovat (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Emily Lovat (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Mary Barnet (17), servant, born Athlone, Ireland:

Walsall Free Press 4/4/1857

“The following applications of Transfers of Licences were made.....

William Lovatt, deceased, to Widow, BLACK BOY, New Street.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

Charles Millett, of the BLACK BOY, Field-gate, who, on the 17th of March last, had been fined 10s and costs for having on a Sunday kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours.”

1861 Census

37, New Street – BLACK BOY

[1] Charles Millett (31), publican and currier, born Derby;

[2] Ellen Millett (28), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Edwin Millett (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Isaac Millett (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Maria Millett (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Mary Hibbett (18), house servant, born Lincolnshire:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 4/8/1866

“W. Stevenson will match his pigeon to fly from Blisworth station against any fancier either in Walsall, Wednesbury, Willenhall, Darlaston, or Bloxwich, for £5 or £10 a side; or W. Pagett of the Pleck can be accommodated on the same terms. Money ready any night next week at J. Fleming’s, RING O’BELLS, Hill Street, or C. Millett’s BLACK BOY INN, New Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

37, New Street – BLACK BOY

[1] Charles Millett (42), currier and publican, born Derby;

[2] Ellen Millett (38), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Edwin Millett (17), son, collar maker, born Walsall;

[4] Isaac Millett (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Clara Millett (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Charles Millett (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] John Millett (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] William Millett (3), son, born Walsall;

[9] Ellen Millett (1), daughter, born Walsall:

1901 Census

New Street – BLACK BOY TAVERN

[1] Richard Russell (36), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth M. Russell (30), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Anna Moseley (18), general servant, born Bloxwich:

[Elizabeth held the license.]

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Elizabeth Mary Russell, BLACK BOY.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

Inspector Ballance deposed to visiting the locality in which the BLACK BOY, the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, and the JOLLY BACCHUS were situated. With regard to the first named, it was a very old house.

In answer to Mr. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson), witness said that so far as he knew Mrs. Russell was a most respectable tenant.

Mr. Plumptre: I believe this house is a very interesting one is it not? I mean that it was the house at which Baptist Society was founded in Walsall (laughter).

Mr. Loxton: I don't think we ought to raise a joke at the expense of any religious denomination, Mr. Plumptre.

Mr. Plumptre: I am sure I did not mean any disrespect.

Mr. Loxton: As a matter of fact, it was a very large room at the rear in which the meetings were held, but it was entirely cut off from the premises of the house in question.

Further cross-examined: There were several large works close at hand.

Mr. Plumptre went on to remind the magistrates that an objection was raised against the renewal of the license last year, but finally it was withdrawn. He asked the Bench whether it was quite fair to inform a tenant one year that the license was required, and the next year to attempt to take it away. He could prove that trade had increased during the last year, and he supposed that was sound evidence that the license was required. Coming to the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL there had, the previous year, unfortunately been a conviction for permitting drunkenness. The license, however, was not taken away, but a fresh tenant was put in, and he, as Inspector Ballance admitted, has since that time conducted the house without complaint. In conclusion, he said both houses were very old ones, and he thought that if the magistrates were to inflict punishment – he could not term it anything else – it ought not to fall upon the owners and tenants of the oldest established houses, whose licenses had been renewed year after year.

Evidence was given by the tenant and several customers, one of the latter, Mr. Jacob Wright, stating amidst laughter that he never went to any other house because he liked the beer, and it suited him better than any other house.

Mrs. Russell, who when previously giving evidence said that her license was taken in her name because she used her own money, was recalled, and admitted that when she entered the house she was not living with her husband, and that the latter about that time was fined £50 for betting at Cannock. He had since returned, and had lived with her for three years, helping her in the business. Letters were read from Messrs. Evans and Thacker, who bore testimony to the excellent manner in which the BLACK BOY was conducted.

Thomas Bates of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, was called and stated that he had held licenses for 16 years.

The license of the BLACK BOY was renewed on the undertaking to deposit plans, but the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Jackson also applied on behalf of the licensee of the BLACK BOY INN, New Street. He said the alterations were in regard of the drinking portion of the premises, in order to give better accommodation for the licensee. This was one of the houses proceeded against last year, as to the desirability of being closed. Mr. Wilcock supported. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough, adjourned from the previous Wednesday, were resumed on Tuesday.....

Mr. Loxton read out the following decisions the magistrates had come to.....

Alterations to the following houses were refused: BLACK BOY, New Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Chief Constable said that a year ago plans were submitted on behalf of the owner of the BLACK BOY, New Street, for alterations, and were refused. Included in the plans was provision for a new kitchen and outhouses. He found they had built a scullery in the yard, and taken down a number of houses, and rebuilt some. He had nothing to say about the sanitary part, but he thought plans ought to have been submitted, which were connected with the building.

The Chairman: That case will stand back.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

“Yesterday the adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall.....

With regard to the license of the BLACK BOY, New Street, the tenant, Elizabeth Mary Russell, was required to explain why she had alterations made in her premises without the consent of the licensing justices as reported by the Chief Constable at the annual Brewster Sessions, and now testified by Chief Inspector Ballance, who said that in 1904 plans for alterations were disapproved by the Bench, but since they had been carried out, involving an increase in the licensing area.

Mr. R. C. E. Plumptre apologised for anything which had been done wrong, but said they had merely improved the domestic portion and the sanitary accommodation, under pressure from the corporation.

The magistrates decided to renew the license, and cautioned the licensee, who was ordered to pay all costs.”

1911 Census

Fieldgate – BLACK BOY

- [1] Richard John Russell (47), commission agent, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Mary Russell (40), wife, married 19 years, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [3] Lawrence Wilcox (8), nephew, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Kate Sutton (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BLACK BOY, New Street. £1 3 6½d.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority in 1923.
Compensation was paid on 8th October 1923.
The house closed on 15th October 1923.

It was demolished in the 1930s.

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKE-SPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

BLACK BOY

West Bromwich Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Mills [1888]

NOTES

James Mills was also a bit maker. [1888]

BLACK COCK

Green Lane / Oakwood Close, (Pepper Alley), (Hall Lane), Bullings Heath, Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Critch [1858] – [1871]
Joseph Critch [1861] ?
Walter Stonier [1881]
William Bowen [1887]
Thomas D. Squire [1891]
William Jackson [1896] – [1902]

Edward Gwilliam [1908] – [1912]
George H Merrett [1932]
William Thorpe [1937] – [1940]

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.

John Critch, licensed victualler, the BLACK COCK, Walsall Wood, was fined 10s and costs, for having four unjust measures.

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

John Critch was also a blacksmith. [1860], [1868]

1861 Census

Walsall Wood

[1] John Critch (56), publican, blacksmith, born Shipley, Derbyshire;

[2] Mary Critch (58), wife, born Walsall Wood;

[3] John Critch (24), son, blacksmith, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Elizabeth Hipkiss (6), granddaughter, born Walsall Wood;

[5] Lydia Dawson (19), servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Free Press 31/5/1862

“John Critch, publican, landlord of the BLACK COCK, Walsall Wood, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly on the night of the 17th instant. Police-constable Harvey and a constable named Lowbridge proved the charge. The defendant, who denied the charge, called a witness named Michael English, but he was not in company with the defendant at the time the officers saw him. He, however, swore distinctly that defendant was not drunk at the time. A witness named Cooper, corroborated English’s evidence. The Bench after hearing the evidence sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 12/7/1862

“John Critch, inn-keeper, Walsall Wood, was charged with having on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 11th June, permitted drunkenness in his house. Police-constable Harvey said, from information he received from Mr. Arbaster, he went to the defendant’s house at 4pm, and there found James Berrisford, waggoner to Mr. Arbaster, and another man named England, in a state of intoxication. Both were so drunk they could scarcely walk. Police-sergeant Perkins said, on the 4th instant he served the defendant with a summons, and on that occasion Critch admitted that Berrisford had been in the house from nine in the morning till four in the afternoon. At this stage of the proceedings, Mr. Glover, who appeared for the defendant, took objection on the ground that it had not been proved that his client was a licensed victualler. The case was accordingly adjourned, and Mr. Glover served with notice to produce his client’s license at next court day.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/8/1862

“At the Petty Sessions yesterday, before Messrs. J. E. Bealey and Thomas Davies, John Critch, landlord of the BLACK COCK public-house, Walsall Wood, whose case had been remanded from a previous court for the production of the defendant’s license, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having, on the 11th of June last, permitted drunkenness in his house. It appeared the defendant had permitted a wagoner named Berrisford in the service of Mr. Arbloster, farmer, to remain drinking in his house on the day in question from about nine in the morning till four in the afternoon.”

1871 Census

Pepper Alley – Public House – BLACK COCK

[1] John Critch (64), blacksmith and licenced victualler, born Shipley;

[2] Mary Critch (68), wife, born Walsall Wood;

[3] Elizabeth Hipkiss (16), granddaughter, scholar, born Birmingham;

[4] Ruth Washington (5), granddaughter, scholar, born Walsall Wood:

1881 Census

BLACK COCK INN

[1] Walter Stonier (40), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Adelina Stonier (38), wife, born Pelsall;

[3] Alice J. Stonier (17), daughter, born Chase Town;

[4] William Stonier (15), son, born Chase Town;

[5] James Stonier (11), son, scholar, born Chase Town;

[6] Alfred Stonier (6), son, scholar, born Chase Town:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/8/1886

“Yesterday Mr. E. Hooper (coroner) held an inquest, at the BLACK COCK INN, Walsall Wood, on the body of Thomas Robinson, two years and four months old, son of parents living in Pepper Alley, close to the canal, and who was drowned on Tuesday afternoon. At half-past three he went to his mother, who was in the brewhouse, and she sent him to his father, who was in the garden. Ten minutes later she missed him, and found that he had not been to his father; and an alarm being raised a passing boatman pointed out some bubbles which were rising to the surface of the canal, and at that spot a neighbour discovered the body. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/11/1887

“At the Brownhills Petty Sessions on Wednesday, Charlotte Sivorn, wife of Job Sivorn, innkeeper of Walsall Wood, was summoned on a charge of being drunk whilst in charge of a horse and trap at Pipe Hill on the 14th November. Mr. Enoch Evans, solicitor, of Walsall, defended.

Job Hobbs, a pensioned police-constable of Pipe Hill, stated that he was looking through the bow window of his house, when he saw defendant come along the road from the direction of Lichfield with a horse and gig. A man was with her, but she held the reins, and was driving at a furious rate. He (witness) merely saw her for about three hundred yards along the road, but he was certain she was drunk, by the manner in which she reeled in the gig. A man was driving some sheep just past his house, but although he shouted to her, she did not try to stop the horse, and appeared to have no power over it. Witness had known her a long time. The driver of the sheep afterwards came to him, and asked if he saw the defendant’s gig knock one of his sheep over, as it had broke its leg, and the witness told him he did.

George Wright, Oglely Square, Brownhills, labourer, who was driving the sheep on the day named, saw defendant driving a gig at a furious rate, her husband being with her. He shouted to her to be careful, but she took no notice, and drove through the sheep, cutting the hoof off one. She was drunk, and after they passed him, her husband took the reins from her.

Mr. Evans denied defendant was drunk, and said as she was sitting in the gig by the side of her husband no one could have noticed had she been drunk. He also denied that she was driving the trap. He added that the husband of defendant had bought the sheep which was injured.

Job Sivorn, husband of defendant, said he was with his wife on the day named at Lichfield. When they returned, he drove all the way, and his wife did not touch the reins. She was perfectly sober.

The witness Hobbs was recalled, and swore that Mrs. Sivorn was driving when he saw her.

William Bowen, landlord of the BLACK COCK, Walsall Wood, was called for the defence, but as he saw nothing of the occurrence, his evidence was not taken.

Supt. Barrett, in reply to the Bench, said there was no previous offence recorded against Mrs. Sivorn. She kept a public-house before she married, and it was very well conducted.

A fine of 10s and £1 0s 6d was imposed.”

1891 Census

Bullings Heath – BLACK COCK INN

- [1] Thomas D. Squire (38), licensed victualler, born Short Heath, Staffordshire;
- [2] Agnes Squire (42), wife, born Short Heath, Staffordshire;
- [3] Eve Squire (13), daughter, born Short Heath, Staffordshire;
- [4] Alma A. Squire (7), daughter, born Short Heath, Staffordshire;
- [5] Stephen D. Squire (4), son, born Short Heath, Staffordshire;
- [6] Elizabeth Riley (22), general servant, born Monmore Green;
- [7] Ann Taylor (63), nurse, born Kinlet, Worcestershire;

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/11/1902

“William Jackson, of the BLACK COCK INN, Walsall Wood, was charged with permitting drunkenness on the 1st inst. The defendant was fined £3 and costs.”

1911 Census

Walsall Wood – BLACK COCK INN

- [1] Edward Gwilliam (33), licensed victualler and coal miner, hewer, born Bridgnorth, Shropshire;
- [2] Nellie Heaver Gwilliam (25), wife, married 7 years, born London;
- [3] Annie Gwilliam (6), daughter, at school, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Charlotte Gwilliam (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Edward Gwilliam (3), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] William Gwilliam (3), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Nellie Gwilliam (2), daughter, born Walsall Wood;

[8] Francis Mary Gwilliam (6 months), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
[9] Beatrice Cresswell (15), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....
Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....
On the ground of redundancy.....
BLACK COCK, Bullings Heath.”

Express and Star 20/7/1928

“Whilst moving dirt in a tub at Walsall Wood Colliery on Wednesday morning, James Harold Webb (43), road repairer, of the Gables, Barnes Lane, Rushall, was buried by a fall from the roof of about ten tons of fine dirt. When his body was recovered, nearly half an hour later, it was found death had taken place.
At the inquest, at the BLACK COCK INN, Walsall Wood, last night, evidence given by George Wood, loader, of Bridge Street, Clayhanger, showed that the tub slipped off the rail and bumped a ‘tree’ under a bar supporting the roof, causing the fall.
Dr. Bradford stated that death was due to suffocation.
Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/4/1937

“William Thorpe, aged 60, licensee of the BLACK COCK INN, Green Lane, Walsall Wood, was summoned at Rushall yesterday for supplying intoxicating liquor after permitted hours, and Alfred Mole, aged 51, of 144, Hall Lane, Walsall Wood, was summoned for consuming. An alternative summons against Thorpe was for aiding and abetting Mole in the offence of consuming the beer.

Mr. E. E. Brown, solicitor (for the police), said that on 13 March Police-constables Parton and Thornhill kept observation on the premises. Hearing a piano being played and singing, they entered the inn at 10.25pm and found 17 people in the bar. Mole was sitting with a glass of beer before him. There were two half-pint glasses nearly full of beer on the fireplace shelf, but all the men denied that the glasses belonged to them.

The landlord said, ‘There was no drink served after 10 o’clock. I didn’t know the drinks were on the mantelpiece. Mole is a slow drinker and a regular customer.’

When the summonses were read, Thorpe said, ‘It’s a bad job it happened. It was quite an oversight. I didn’t know that Mole had got beer.’

Mole said, ‘It’s quite true the beer was there when the officers came in. I admit it was mine, and I was just about to finish the beer.’

Cross-questioned by Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson (who defended and pleaded not guilty for defendants), PC Parton denied that Mole was sitting with the beer on the table behind him, but added that someone said that he thought the glasses on the mantelshelf belonged to two men who had gone out.

One of the magistrates (Mr. I. Green) asked Police-inspector Watts, who gave evidence, whether it would not have been better for the police to have warned the landlord about the time at ten minutes past ten.

Police-inspector Watts: We always give the licensees every assistance possible, but there are times when circumstances alter cases.

For the defence, Mr. Hodgkinson said there was not a shred of evidence with regard to the supplying of drink, and that the onus was on the police to prove that there had been any aiding or abetting on the part of the landlord in the consuming of the drink.

The Bench dismissed both summonses against Thorpe, stating that the evidence was not strong enough to convict.

Mole, who in evidence said he never tasted any beer after 10 o’clock, was fined £1.”

1939 Register

Walsall Wood – BLACK COCK INN (2 of 3)

[1] William Thorpe, date of birth 7/10/1879, licensee, married, ARP warden;

[2] Annie Thorpe, dob 10/8/1876, housewife, married;

Demolished

It was rebuilt on the corner of Hall Lane and Green Lane.

[2017]

BLACK COUNTRY ARMS

9, High Street / Goodall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Ephraim Deykin (leased)
William Farmer [1819]
Walsall Corporation [1872]
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1986]
Black Country Traditional Inns (acquired in 2008)

LICENSEES

Ephraim Deykin [1707]
Thomas Fletcher [] – 1781)
Hemming [1795]
William Bagley [c.1807]
Thomas Wakeman [1810]
James Wakeman [1813]
William Farmer [1818] – [1819]
J Wilkinson [1822]
Thomas Croxall [1828] – [1830]
John Eld [1830]
James Bullock [1834] – [1835]
Alfred Moss [1841] – [1842]
John Clements [1845] – 1848);
Mrs. Frances Priscilla Clements (1848 – [1850])
Edward Parker [1851] – [1858]
Mark Parker [1861] ?
Mrs. Mary Ann Parker [1860] – [1861]
Robert Leighton [1862] – [1870]
Mrs. Ann Leighton [1871] – [1873];
William Parker [1880] – [1881];
Mrs. Mary Parker [1889] – 1894);
Charles Henry Roberts (1894 – [1897]);
Thomas Deakin [1900] – [1901];
William Cooper [] – 1902);
Selwyn Hawkins (1902 – 1909):
Steve Bunce (1989 – [1990])
Barry Shingler [2009] manager
Debbie Humphries (2009 – 2012);
Kim Langford (2012– [2022])

NOTES

It was situated on the north side of High Street.

DRAGON [1813], [1818], [1819], [1841], [1842], [1850], [1860], [1864], [1866], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1900], [1903]
GREEN DRAGON [1822], [1828]
ROYAL OAK AND DRAGON [1834], [1835]
DRAGON INN & HOTEL [1862]
DRAGON HOTEL [1881], [1890], [1900], [1901], [1904], [1911]

Commercial inn [1849], [1850], [1851]
Excise office [1849]
Corn inspector's office and Inland Revenue office. [1861]
Commercial hotel and Inland Revenue office. [1868], [1870]
DRAGON HOTEL, assembly room and inland revenue office. [1872]

It was Grade II listed.

It was originally part of the Guildhall.

It had a bowling green. [1834]

It had a ballroom.

Ephraim Deykin leased the property as an inn. [1707]

By 1769 it was known as the GREEN DRAGON.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/4/1772 - Advert

“To Cover this Season, at 15s a Mare, and 1s the Groom, the famous Yorkshire Bay Colt Young Sportsman..... This Colt, for Size, Strength, Beauty, Action, Movement, and Colour, may challenge any Horse in the Kingdom..... Sportsman will be at the GREEN DRAGON in Walsall every Tuesday.”

It was rebuilt c.1773.

Thomas Fletcher built the GEORGE HOTEL in 1781.

Black Country Bugle 15/1/2020

“.....Among the region's haunted boozers is the BLACK COUNTRY ARMS in Walsall, one of the oldest pubs in the town, dating back to at least the early 17th century – the earliest reference to the place is from 1627.

Formerly known as the GREEN DRAGON, the hostelry always enjoyed a prominent position in the town as it was attached to the Guildhall. Several ghosts have been reported there, including a spectral dog, but the best known is the so-called Blue Lady. She is seen looking out from a second-floor window – a window it is impossible to stand at as the floor has been removed years ago in an internal renovation. She wears a blue dress in the style of the 18th century and in the early 2000s Claire Dolman of Walsall's Central Library did some research and found a likely identity for her.

Mary Hemming was the wife of the licensee and lived at the pub from the 1750s to the 1780s. Tragically, her three sons all died within six months of each other.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/8/1795

“Wednesday last died at Walsall, Mr. Hemming, of the DRAGON INN, in that town, aged 28.”

The assembly rooms were used as a temporary theatre from 1787 to 1803.

It is reputed that Sarah Siddons played here.

James Wakeman, victualler, High Street. [1813]

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“At the DRAGON INN, situate in the High Street, kept by Mr. James Wakeman, is a large Assembly Room, and was, previous to the building of the theatre, in the Square [built 1803], taken by the late Samuel Stanton, for many seasons, erecting, within the same, a temporary theatre, consisting of a pit and gallery, in which his company used to perform to many an overflowing house.”
AND

“At the DRAGON INN, kept by Mr. James Wakeman, there is an excellent Bowling Green”

The assembly rooms were leased as a Catholic chapel in 1819.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/9/1825 - Advert

“Walsall Races.....

Ordinary on Wednesday at the GEORGE HOTEL; on Thursday at the DRAGON; and Ball at the GEORGE HOTEL.

Cocking in the Cock Pit, at the NEW INN, Park Street.

Performances at the Theatre every night as usual.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/12/1830 - Advert

“DRAGON INN, High Street, Walsall.

J. Eld begs leave most respectfully to inform his Friends that his House Warming will take place on Monday next, December 20, when the favour of their company will be esteemed.

Dinner on the table at three o'clock.

Tickets one Sovereign each.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/6/1848 - Died

“On the 11th instant, after long illness, Mr. John Clements, of the DRAGON INN, High Street, Walsall, aged 36 years.”

1851 Census

High Street

[1] Edward Parker (47), unmarried, innkeeper, maltster, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[2] Eliza Paviter (40), cousin, barmaid, born Birmingham;

[3] Mary Marlew (23), housekeeper, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[4] Mary Amshere (20), visitor, housekeeper, born Birmingham;

- [5] Matilda Anslow (18), house servant, born Norton, Staffordshire;
[6] George Jackson (26), ostler, born Cannock;
[7] Thomas Timmins (43), brewer and maltster, born Tentenall [Tettenhall?];
[8] Martha Hassell (28), house servant, born Homen, Shropshire:

A new Assembly room was added to the rear in Goodall Street in 1851.

Birmingham Journal 17/11/1855 - Advert

“To Maltsters, Brewers, Publicans, &c.

Improved Malt Mills, Double Geared, to gain either Speed or Power, and constructed to meet the requirements of the Excise Commissioners, are now being manufactured by Dixon, Bell, and Co.

These Mills may be seen in operation at the following places.....

Walsall – At Mr. Edward Parker's, DRAGON INN, High Street....

Agent. Mr. Edmund W. Otway, Meyers Green, West Bromwich.”

1861 Census

9, High Street

- [1] Mary Ann Parker (47), victualler, born Harborne;
[2] Mary Ann Parker (5), daughter, born Walsall;
[3] Emma Price (22), niece, barmaid, born London;
[4] Fraser Parker (33), lodger, brown saddle maker, born Lincolnshire;
[5] Thomas Dixon (26), widower, spring hook maker employing 6 men, born Walsall;
[6] Elizabeth Mooring (25), general servant, born Cannock;
[7] John Cook (48), ostler and groom, born Walsall:

Slaters Directory 1862 - Advert

“DRAGON INN and Hotel, High Street, Walsall.

Robert Leighton, Proprietor.

R. L. begs most respectfully to inform Commercial Gentlemen, Tourists, Families, and the Public, that he has entered upon the above old Inn and Hotel, and Assembly Rooms attached (lately held by M. A. Parker), and that they will find First-class Accommodation combined with very Moderate Charges.

An Ordinary every Tuesday and County Court days, at half-past 1 o'clock, Charge, 1s 6d.

Inland Revenue and Corn Law Return Office and Exchange is held at the above Inn.

Wines and Spirits of Superior Quality.

NB. The County Court is held in the above Assembly Rooms.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton's, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1863, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o'clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Leighton, DRAGON INN.”

Walsall Free Press 30/9/1865 - Advert

“The Annual Dinner of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society will be held at the house of Mr Leighton's, the DRAGON INN, High Street, on Thursday, 5th October, 1865.

Thomas Hazledine, Esq, Mayor has kindly consented to preside. Mr. Councillor Henry Hale, Vice president.

Tickets 3s each, may be had at the DRAGON INN, High Street, or at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, King Street, By order of the Committee.

Dinner on the table at Four o'clock precisely.

W. Reynold, Secretary.”

Walsall Free Press 31/3/1866 - Advert

“Independent Order Of Odd Fellows (Manchester Unity). Bescot Bridge Division.

The members of the Bescot Bridge District of the above Order respectfully inform the Public that they intend holding their First Annual Tea Party, Concert, & Ball, in the Guildhall Assembly Room, Walsall, on Easter Monday, April 2nd, 1866.

The entire proceeds of which will be invested in Trust for the Benefit of the Cottage Hospital.

Tickets, 1s 6d each.

Early applications for tickets is requested, as the Committee have limited the number to 500, and no Money will be taken at the door.

Tickets may be obtained at the DRAGON INN, and the WHITE LION INN, High Street; the DOLPHIN INN, George Street; the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street; at 16 Bath Street, the 'Walsall News' Office, and of Mr. J. T. King, printer, Stafford Street.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/10/1866

“The Dramatic Club. On Thursday evening, the termination of the first year of existence of this club was celebrated by a supper at the DRAGON INN, Mr. H. Duigan presiding, and the occasion was deemed a fitting one for the presentation to Mr. E. S. Hildick of a well-fitted dressing case, which had been subscribed for by his brother members as a light recognition for his services as acting manager during the year. The report showed that after allowing for scenery of the value of £30, in possession of the club, £16 had been cleared by the year’s transactions, the expenditure having amounted to £114, and the receipts to £130.”

1871 Census

9, High Street

- [1] Ann Leighton (56), widow, hotel keeper, born Wil _____, Staffordshire;
- [2] Edwin Leighton (23), son, commercial traveller (merchant), born Lichfield;
- [3] Robert Leighton (21), son, brewer’s agent, born Lichfield;
- [4] Ann Leighton (20), daughter, born Lichfield;
- [5] Richard H. Leighton (17), son, railway clerk, born Lichfield;
- [6] John Leighton (13), son, scholar, born Lichfield;
- [7] William Quinlan (38), boarder, officer Inland Revenue, born Ireland;
- [8] Edward Pepper (23), boarder, born Ireland;
- [9] Kate Leighton (26), visitor, born Ireland;
- [10] John Cook (58), ostler, born Bromsgrove;
- [11] Martha Goodwell (23), housemaid, born Birmingham;
- [12] Fanny Lea (23), kitchenmaid, born Walsall;
- [13] Sarah Miller, parlourmaid, born Birmingham:

Evening Express 6/1/1881

“Walsall Cricket Club. The annual general meeting of the above club was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, yesterday (Wednesday) evening. The president (Mr. Samuel Russell) occupied the chair, and there was a large attendance of members. The Chairman said the actual payments for the past year were £125, and the receipts £93, so that they would have had a large deficiency had it not been that the Sports Committee handed them over £42, the proceeds of the sports last year, which gave them a balance in hand of over £20 with which to commence the work of the ensuing year. He mentioned that to show that so far as the cricket club was concerned, it was not self-supporting, and at some future time it was a subject which would require the serious consideration of the members.

Mr. Hurst, the secretary, reported that the club had played 19 matches during the past year, won 10, lost 4, and drawn 5, two of the latter having been very much in their favour. He (Mr. Hurst) was very proud of the results of last year, which placed them once more in the enviable position they occupied four or five years ago as one of the best local clubs in South Staffordshire.....”

Evening Express 22/1/1881

“Yesterday (Friday) afternoon, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, held an inquest at the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, upon the body of Mrs. Roper, aged seventy-five years, wife of Edwin Roper, Goodhall Street.

From the evidence it appeared that the deceased had been ailing for some time, but declined to have any medical assistance. On Tuesday a neighbour called to see her, and finding her in a delicate state went to procure some refreshment for her, and when she returned, in about ten minutes, found deceased was expiring. Dr. Gordon was at once sent for, but before he arrived life was extinct.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natral Causes.”

Evening Express 30/3/1881

“Yesterday (Tuesday) evening a complimentary dinner was given, in the DRAGON HOTEL, to Mr. I. B. Shawe, who is leaving Walsall to take up an appointment as singer in the church at Southwell Minster, near Nottingham. The chair was occupied by Mr. J. P. Pritchard.....”

1881 Census

9, High Street

- [1] William Parker (49), licensed victualler, born Scotland;
- [2] Mary Parker (50), wife, born Scotland;
- [3] Lizzie Walton (18), barmaid, born Shrewsbury;
- [4] Jane Murry (28), cook, born Totnes, Devonshire;
- [5] Sarah Carter (21), kitchen maid, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Beck (23), waitress, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Roden (16), waitress, born Stone, Staffordshire;
- [8] William Mahon (17), hostler, born Oxford;
- [9] George Lyons (42), widower, hostler, born Oxford:

Evening Express 3/9/1881

“A meeting of manufacturers and commercial gentlemen was held in the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, on Friday, for the purpose of forming a Chamber of Commerce for the town and district.

Mr. Joseph Newman (Mayor) occupied the chair....." [This was accepted unanimously.]

Evening Express 9/9/1881

"An inquest was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, on Thursday afternoon, before A. SA. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, touching the death of Philip Howlett, wood turner, lately residing in Goodall Street, Walsall.

Anne Howlett, wife of the deceased, deposed that between 10 and 12 years ago the deceased was severely wounded on the head with a piece of timber, and since that time he always appeared excited and hasty during the period of a full moon. On Wednesday the deceased had been at work all day in the house, and was not under the influence of drink when he went to bed at nine o'clock, he only having had two pints of beer during the whole day. About half past twelve o'clock in the morning, the deceased got out as was his wont, and left the room to go downstairs. The deceased had just got out of the room when witness heard a noise, and on going out to the landing she found that the deceased had fallen downstairs. Deceased's son and daughter went down, and found deceased with his head on the floor and his feet upon the stairs. Dr. Gordon and Mr. Garrett, surgeon, were sent for, and said that deceased was quite dead.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Evening Express 17/9/1881

"An adjourned meeting of merchants and manufacturers was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, on Friday afternoon, for the purpose of forming a Chamber of Commerce for the town and district of Walsall. Mr. Joseph Newman (Mayor) occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance....."

Evening Express 21/9/1881

"Walsall Chamber of Commerce. The first meeting of the Council of the above body was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday afternoon. The first business was the election of officers for the ensuing year....."

Walsall Observer 4/4/1885

"The annual festival of the Lodge of St. Matthew, 539, held at the DRAGON HOTEL, took place on Thursday last....."

Mrs. Mary Parker was fined 20s and costs, on 8th May 1889, for selling during unlawful hours.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

"At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

Mr. Jackson, for Mary Parker, of the DRAGON HOTEL, applied for a license for music, singing, and dancing for the assembly room, both for six nights per week. He said that the license was also required to cover music and singing at religious services held in the assembly room on Sundays and on two nights in the week. The Chief Constable said that these services were excluded from the operation of the Act; but the Magistrates' Clerk said the section was so strangely worded that he was not prepared to say that much. The words were 'provided that this section shall not refer to an entertainment given by a religious body,' and the question was whether a public service could be considered as an entertainment....

The Bench retired for about half an hour, and on their return the Magistrates' Clerk read the decisions....

Granted. The DRAGON HOTEL, for the assembly room, and for music and singing only in the dining room, also for music and singing in the assembly-room on Sundays, during religious services."

1891 Census

9, High Street – DRAGON INN

[1] Mary Parker (54), widow, licensed victualler, born Scotland;

[2] Sarah A. Green (23), barmaid, born Enville;

[3] Eliza Pinfold (24), waitress, born Henley, Warwickshire;

[4] Harriet Spooner (20), housemaid, born Brownhills;

[5] Alice Spooner (21), cook, born Great Barr:

St. Matthews Masonic Lodge (No.539) and Vernon Chapter were based here. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

"Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

11th December, Charles Henry Roberts, DRAGON HOTEL, High Street, was ordered to pay costs for permitting drunkenness."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Then the magistrates also want to know if you can report to them during the sitting of this meeting as to the accommodation provided by the GEORGE HOTEL, the STORK, the DRAGON, the PRIORY, NEW INNS, the WOOLPACK, and the QUEENS?

.....the Chief Constable said he was then in possession of the information asked by the Magistrates with reference to the bedroom accommodation at the hotels. At the GEORGE HOTEL there were nineteen beds for commercials. The two large rooms at that hotel, formerly used for balls, &c, had been converted into eight bedrooms and a bathroom, and no plans had been submitted for the alterations. At the PRIORY there were six bedrooms for accommodation, five at the DRAGON, three at the QUEENS, but there was no bedroom accommodation at the STORK, NEW INNS, and the WOOLPACK Hotels.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the GEORGE.”

Walsall Observer 17/2/1900

“Shannon’s Cricket Club Annual Dinner. On Saturday night last the 14th annual dinner in connection with this club was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, when a large number of members and friends sat down to a well served and excellent repast, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Deakin.....”

Walsall Advertiser 14/4/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the DRAGON HOTEL, High Street.....”

Walsall Observer 5/5/1900

“Monday evening last, being the final meeting of the session of the Walsall Musical Society at the DRAGON HOTEL, advantage was taken of the occasion to show the appreciation the society has for the valuable services rendered by the president, Mr. Alderman Newman. The presentation took the form of a full-sized photograph of the worthy alderman, together with one to be hung in the society’s room, accompanied by an illuminated address. The photographs and address were of the highest order of artistic merit, the former by Mr. J. A. Draycott, and the latter by Mr. Dunham, both of Walsall, and all were handsomely framed. The presentation was made, on behalf of the members of the society, by Mr. F. H. Taylor, one of the vice presidents and the chairman for the evening, who spoke of the eminent services that had been rendered to the society by Mr. Newman, as president during the long period of seventeen years, and of the great interest he had taken in its welfare.....”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1900

“On Saturday night last the members of the South Staffordshire branch of the United Kingdom Commercial Travellers’ Association held the second smoking concert of the season, at the DRAGON HOTEL.....”

AND

“On Thursday night the annual dinner of the Walsall Bowling Club took place at the DRAGON HOTEL, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Deakin, who worthily held up the reputation of this hostelry. About fifty members and friends sat down.....”

1901 Census

High Street – DRAGON HOTEL

- [1] Thomas Deakin (53), licensed victualler, born Pontesbury, Shropshire;
- [2] Susie L. Deakin (34), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Edith M. Deakin (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Louie M. Deakin (17), daughter, type writer, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie D. Deakin (15), daughter, type writer, born Walsall;
- [6] John L. Griffiths (24), boots etc, born Wales;
- [7] Annie Wall (24), waitress, born Bridgewater, Somerset;
- [8] Harriett E. Morris (17), general servant, born Great Barr:

Wednesbury Leader 19/10/1901

“A meeting of the Walsall Football Association, presided over by Councillor J. Noake, was held at the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall. A new rule was adopted to the effect that gate money taken in junior cup semi-final matches should be equally divided between the clubs competing and the association, after all expenses had been paid.....”

William Cooper moved to the SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich.

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....
DRAGON HOTEL, High Street. 2s 7d.”

The license renewal was refused on 3rd February 1909, and closed.

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....
In regard to the DRAGON HOTEL, High Street, of which notice of objection had been given, Mr. Hodgkinson, of Vincent and Co., Birmingham, appeared for the landlord, Mr. Selwyn Hawkins. Mr. Hodgkinson explained that having regard to its position and class of trade it was not required and necessary to meet the needs of the district.

Mr. C. A. Loxton (to the landlord): I take it on these figures you have not much profit? – Mr. Hawkins: It is decreasing every week, as those figures show.

In reply to further questions Mr. Hawkins admitted that he could not make it pay.

Mr. Loxton: Is the house tied? – Mr. Hawkins: Not in any way.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1909

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, 1909, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

The DRAGON, High Street, Alehouse. Licensee, Selwyn Hawkins.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The principal meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, when eight beer-houses and one ale-house, the licenses of which had been referred by the licensing justices, were dealt with, and in each instance the houses were referred for compensation, which means in due course the houses will close.....

The first case dealt with was the DRAGON, High Street; owners, the Corporation; licensee Mr. Selwyn Hawkins. Mr. J. R. Cooper appeared for the owners, and Mr. Marshall (instructed by Messrs. Pinsent and Co., Birmingham), was for the tenant.

Mr. Cooper said he need not trouble the court with any evidence. His position was simply this: The Corporation felt that as the Licensing Renewal Authority thought fit to report ‘the DRAGON’ for compensation, they ought not to be a party to anything that would prevent effect being given to the renewal authority’s recommendation. Anything he could say of the DRAGON and its tenant, of course, would be of a complimentary character. It was an old historic house with a connection with the political and social life of the borough, and the character of the tenant was of the very best. The Corporation had always avoided letting the house to a brewery company because they were anxious that it should maintain the reputation it had enjoyed for many years of being a first-class commercial house. But he was afraid they must recognise the fact that times had changed. The time was when those who administered justice in that court had an affection for beer (laughter). Anyhow, one was to believe that such was so when they took into consideration the number of licensed houses they had in close proximity to the court. As he said, times had changed, and they recognised the fact that there was a redundancy of houses in that neighbourhood; and that being so, the local authority of the borough would not set itself in opposition to any decision which the licensing justices might come to.

Mr. Marshall said he appeared for the tenant, and was there to say for him, that he as tenant of the Corporation, placed himself entirely in the hands of the justices. While he had been in the house he had recognised what the Town Clerk had said, that the character of the house was of high standing, and had allowed that fact to guide him in the attitude he had taken to maintain its high standard and historical associations; and he had no doubt that he would leave the place with mixed feelings. At the same time, of course, it was true that times had changed, and it might be that the bench would be of opinion that the house was not required in that district. He did not know if any evidence was required. It was perfectly true that the business done there now was not to be compared with that commanded in years gone by; but, at the same time, a certain amount of business was being done, yet it would be for the bench to decide that matter. He was not there to raise any opposition, and, like the Town Clerk, would leave the matter in their hands.

Chief-Inspector Ballance repeated the evidence given before the licensing justices. This was to the effect that the premises were old and close to the police court and the policemen’s quarters. It did a little business, but no commercial trade now. There were six other ale and beer off-licenses in High Street, which, so far as drinking was concerned, met all the requirements. None of them had the same assembly room accommodation as was possessed by the DRAGON.

Replying to the Magistrates’ Clerk, Mr. Cooper said the tenant was paying a rent of £75, and was subject to three months’ notice. Within his own recollection the rent of the DRAGON had been £200.

Mr. Loxton: Then so far as to-day is concerned, the Mayor and Corporation are the owners and Mr. Hawkins tenant; and the latter is subject to three months’ notice? Have you formed any idea of what the compensation should be? – Mr. Cooper: No. The first thing to determine is whether the house is unnecessary. If they found that it was, then the next step was to determine the amount of compensation.

Mr. Loxton: Surely the amount must have a great deal to do as to whether the house is necessary or not?

Mr. Cooper did not think so. They had to remove the evil first. The question of compensation was a secondary matter.

Mr. Loxton: It may be a secondary matter, but in order to ascertain whether there was redundancy they must know something of what the house is doing.

Mr. Cooper pointed out that the object of the Act was in the first case to get rid of evil.

Mr. Jackson: Don’t call it evil (laughter).

Mr. Cooper: I don’t represent the trade; but the evil is the redundancy. Replying to Mr. Loxton, Mr. Cooper said he was not in a position to give any figures today. The question did not arise in that court. The matter would come on when they were considering the question of compensation.

Mr. Gill: But you are asking for something for the Corporation? – Mr. Cooper: Well, sir, I should not be doing my duty to you as a rate payer if I didn’t.

The Bench having heard each case separately retired to consider their decision. In returning, the Mayor intimated that the renewals authority report would be adopted, and all the houses referred for compensation.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall, on Thursday, Sir Edward T. Holden presiding over a full Bench of Magistrates.....

In the case of the DRAGON HOTEL, Walsall, Mr. Victor Cooke, assistant Town Clerk, appeared, and stated that the only parties interested were the Corporation, and Mr. Selwyn Hawkins, the tenant.....

The Magistrates decided to hold a further private sitting to go into the question of figures with the solicitors.

The decisions will be announced at a later date.”

Midland Counties Evening News 12/10/1909

“The final meeting of the Walsall Corporation Authority was held at the Guildhall today Hotel, of which Walsall Corporation were the owners Proceeding, the Town Clerk [J. R. Cooper] said he had had an opportunity, by the kind consideration of the Bench, of discussing one or two points in connection with the DRAGON, with Mr. Loxton [magistrates' clerk]. He (Mr. Cooper) pointed out to the Bench, when he made the application for an adjournment, that the DRAGON occupied quite a different position to any other licensed houses with which the Bench was dealing. In most of the claims which the Bench had to determine upon, they had the difficult question of the brewers' interest to settle. In the case of the DRAGON, there was no question whatsoever of brewery interest, because the Corporation had always recognised the wisdom which the magistrates had shown in regard to the desire on their part to preserve as far as possible the character of the licensed houses in this town.

The Council had refused to be party to the DRAGON being a tied house. When they accepted the present tenant (Mr. Hawkins) they had a much higher rent offered for the premises. Mr. Hawkins paid an annual rent of £200.....

The magistrates, however, in their wisdom had thought it desirable that this house should be closed. The Council acquiesced and now came the question as to what compensation should be paid in respect of these premises.

(Proceeding)”

It became offices of the Magistrates Clerk.

It was rebuilt and re-licensed by Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries and reopened in 1976.

Steve Bunce was married to Sue.

See also DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Bilston.

[2005]

Part of the building became COBRA LOUNGE lap dancing club in 2006.

It closed in 2008.

It reopened as the BLACK COUNTRY ARMS in November 2008.

Debbie Humphries – see also KING GEORGE V.

It was Walsall CAMRA Pub of the Year in 2009, 2010, 2013, 2015 and 2018.

Kim Langford was married to Roy.

See also PRETTY BRICKS.

Express & Star 23/10/2020

“Pubs bosses in the West Midlands say they feel like they're always ‘jumping through hoops’ with the constant Government rule changes within the hospitality industry. Rules in Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Walsall prevent households from mixing in pubs and restaurants due to a surge in cases leading them to be placed into the Government's Tier 2. It has meant less trade, even on busy weekend nights, leaving many places struggling to stay open. And bosses said even with those visiting for a bite to eat, it was almost impossible to check if they were living together.....

Kim Langford, licensee of the BLACK COUNTRY ARMS pub in Walsall, said it had been ‘stressful’ and was like ‘jumping through hoops.’ She said, ‘We’ve had to organise our tables so if we’ve got single people coming in, they can sit on their own and then you get potentially less people in the pub – it’s really had an impact on trade. The weekend wasn’t as bad as I expected but Friday was quiet. It’s difficult, but all you can do is ask to see if people are in the same household and that’s what we do. If they say ‘yes’ then that’s as much as we can do – we can’t ask them for their council tax bill, but we’re asking and asking people to check in with the app. It’s difficult and quite stressful because you think you’ve got a system set up and the parameters change again – it’s the rule of six a few weeks back and it’s changed since.’

Ms. Langford said trade had been returning to near normal levels in the lunchtime last month with people returning to the office, but it has since taken another blow due to people now being told to work from home.....”

Express & Star 17/12/2022

“As pubs continue to battle the cost of living crisis, the Express & Star continues its Love Your Local series which celebrates our local inns. The BLACK COUNTRY ARMS is one of the Walsall's most ancient hostelries with a history that dates back to the 1600s. It's also one of the town's most popular venues, not only because of its name but also thanks to its incredible drinks selection. Part of the Black Country Ales chain, the Grade II listed building, formerly known as the GREEN DRAGON, is situated in the heart of Walsall and is known as being its foremost real ale pub with no fewer than 20 hand-pulls featuring ever-changing cask ales and ciders from across the UK. The BLACK COUNTRY ARMS is known for having a great atmosphere, serving great drinks including popular ales, and also serves great-tasting food. Licensee Kim Langford, from Wolverhampton, has run it for 10 years, along with her husband Roy. Kim feels proud to be in charge of such a popular establishment with a rich history..... The decor inside the building, with its high ceilings and grand design makes it stand out, whilst it also provides a comforting, cosy, traditional pub feel too – as stated on its website, it offers a warm and friendly welcome, has a relaxing atmosphere and quite simply, is ‘a local in the town’ of Walsall. Serving top quality drinks is one of the things the pub is famous for, with many rave reviews of the variety of ales on offer. Since the couple took over in 2012, after previously running the PRETTY BRICKS, the pub has won a numerous amount of awards such as the CAMRA award for pub of the year in 2013, 2015, 2017 and 2019 – they also won the West Midlands pub of the year in 2016. It has become a household name not only with residents in Walsall, but with people from far and wide, Kim says.

There is also a function room on offer in the pub, on the upper floor, which Kim says is popular for private events such as birthdays, anniversaries and there have been weddings too. The couple host an annual beer festival which they say is really popular, as they source beers from far and wide for their customers, while the regulars also joke that their drinks selection is so big, it is literally like having a beer festival every day at the BLACK COUNTRY ARMS.....”

[2022]

BLACK HORSE

608, (612), (340), Bloxwich Road (Walsall Road), (Mount Pleasant) / Harden Road, Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

T. Whitgreave, Ribly Terrace, Kirkham, near Preston
Mr. Badger
Mrs. Badger
John Williams, victualler, Wolverhampton
Thomas Williams, Vale House, Goldthorn Hill, Wolverhampton
Bill Wilkinson
Eleys Stafford Brewery Ltd.
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1907)

LICENSEES

George Baugh [1828] – [1830]
John Kirk [1835]
Thomas Alsop [1841] – [1842]
Simeon Bird [1849] – [1851]
William Birch [1857]
Thomas Adams [1857] – 1863)
Alfred Keats [1864] – 1866);
John Williams (1866 – []
George Bird [1868] – [1870]
Lloyd Smith [1870] – [1881]
Sarah Smith [1881];
Thomas Chidlow [] – 1888);
Joseph Stackhouse (1888 – 1890);
Josiah Wedge (1890 – 1898);
Elizabeth Wedge (1898 – 1899);
Jeptha Wilkinson (1899 – 1902);
James Walters [1900] ?
Fred Webster Chinn (1902 – 1904);
Ernest Whitehead (1904 – 1905);
Walter George Jones (1905 – 1906);
Robert W Hall [] – 1910) manager
Mrs. May Hall (1910 – [] ?
David Lawrence (1906 – 1912);
Enoch Astley [1907] - [1908] ?
William Cyrus Hodges [] – 1912) ?
Edward James Perry (1912 – 1922);
George Henry Merrett (1922 – 1929);
George Henry Dawkins (1929 – 1930);

Charles Merrett (1930 – 1933);
Edwin Thomas Glover (1933 – 1934);
Alva Wragg (1934 – 1936);
Sidney Norman Horton (1936 – 1942);
Constance Mary Horton (1942 – 1944);
Albert George Bettles (1944 – 1945);
Kenneth Charles Stirling (1945 – [1946])

NOTES

Mount Pleasant [1828], [1830], [1849], [1850]
340, Bloxwich Road [1881], [1891]
612, Bloxwich Road [1932], [1940]
608, Bloxwich Road

It had a beerhouse license.

It was locally listed.

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/12/1835 - Deaths

“On Sunday last, of consumption, aged 33, Sarah, wife of Mr. John Kirk, of the BLACK HORSE INN, Bloxwich. She was an affectionate wife and mother, and a sincere friend; and though her bereaved family lament her early removal from this sublunary scene, they cherish the hope that she is gone to a better world.”

Simeon Bird was also a plater (bits and stirrups). [1849], [1850]

The Era 7/12/1851

“Jones of Bloxwich will run Wesley of Walsall, 149 yards, for £25 a side; and will make the match any time at S. Bird's, the BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Free Press 31/10/1857

“To Be Sold by Auction, By H. Farrington, at the house of Mr. Poyner, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Bloxwich Road, on Monday, the 2nd day of November, 1857, at Six, for Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be produced, in the following or other such lots as shall be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Lot 2. All that newly-built and well-arranged Leasehold Public-House and Premises, being most desirably and advantageously situated at the corner of the Bloxwich Turnpike-road and Leamore Lane, and opposite the OLD BLACK HORSE INN, and now occupied by Mr. William Birch.

The House and Premises contain a spacious Tap-room, a capital large shop used as a butcher's shop, Bar, Parlour, Kitchen, three good Bedrooms, a capital Lodge or Club-room, sixty feet long, three capital Cellars, with entrance into the yard, a famous large Cistern of Soft Water, a Well of capital Hard Water, and every convenience for carrying on a large trade.

The Auctioneer begs to call the attention of parties desiring to purchase a Public-house, as the situation of the above house stands first rate for the Collieries and Ironworks which are now in full operation, and, no doubt, from its excellent accommodation, that it will receive an old license.”

Thomas Adams = Thomas Adows

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/7/1863 - Deaths

“On the 10th instant, after a few days' illness, Mr. Thomas Adows, the BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich, much respected.”

Alfred Keats = Alfred Keates

Walsall Free Press 7/5/1864 - Advert

“A Picnic And Tea Party will take place at Mr. A. Keates, OLD BLACK HORSE INN, Bloxwich, on Whit-Wednesday. Tea on the Table at Five o'clock. Dancing to commence at Six. Keates's Brass and String Band will be in attendance. Mr. Bray will quote several passages from Shakespeare. Tickets 1s each.”

George Bird was also a butcher. [1868], [1870]

1881 Census

340, Bloxwich Road – OLD BLACK HORSE

[1] Lloyd Smith (40), widower, licensed victualer, born Kinnersley, Shropshire;

[2] Clara Smith (19), daughter, born Willenhall;

[3] Arthur Smith (13), son, scholar, born Willenhall;

- [4] Clement Smith (11), son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [5] Fred Smith (9), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Alice Smith (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Sarah Smith (5), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Leonard Smith (2), son, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Amelia Fowles (27), visitor, dress maker, born Wolverhampton:

1891 Census

340, Bloxwich Road

- [1] Josiah Wedge (61), harness furniture manufacturer and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Wedge (50), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Mary J. Randall (18), domestic servant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 19/11/1898

“Plans were submitted by Mr. F. Bill, on behalf of Mr. Wilkinson, the owner of the BLACK HORSE, Harden Lane, Bloxwich, for alterations to the licensed premises. In making the application, Mr. Bill stated the house was a dilapidated one, and it was proposed to modernise it.

Evidence as to the plans was given by Mr. Mathew Butcher, architect.

Chief Constable Taylor pointed out that the proposed alteration was a desirable one.

The alterations were sanctioned subject to a private entrance shown on the plans being closed.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1899

“The Street Committee, the following plans, during the past month have been approved, subject to the usual conditions.....

J. Wilkinson, rebuilding the BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

The following twenty-one persons were elected members of the society..... James Walters, BLACK HORSE INN, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/5/1903

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening.....

New Members..... F. W. Chinn, BLACK HORSE HOTEL, Leamore.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/11/1904 - Advert

“Highly Important Sale, of Four Freehold Full-Licensed, Free Public Houses, with Retail Shops and Cottages, at and near Wolverhampton, Walsall, and Tipton.

To Brewers, Wine and Spirit Merchants, Home-Brewing Publicans, and Others.

Walter Hughes, FAI, has received instructions to Offer for Sale by Auction, at the STAR AND GARTER HOTEL, Wolverhampton, on Wednesday, the 7th of December, 1904, at Five for Six o’clock in the Evening.....

Lot 3. BLACK HORSE HOTEL and Brewery, Bloxwich Road, Leamore, Walsall.

All that Freehold, Fully-Licensed, Free Public House, occupying a fine Corner position at Leamore, known as the BLACK HORSE HOTEL, fronting the main road leading from Bloxwich to Walsall, having a second frontage to the Harden road, and prominent also to the Leamore road; together with the Four-Quarter Brewery in the Yard at the rear thereof.

These Premises have a handsome elevation; they stand at the corner of four roads, and have been recently erected in red brick, partly timbered, having stained-glass windows, and with tiled roof, and without question forms the handsomest Inn or Hotel in this locality.

The Hotel comprises, in Basement, excellent dry cellarage, with rolling-way from Yard. On the Ground Floor, handsome liquor vaults, 41ft 6in x 20ft 6in; large smokeroom, 29ft x 14ft 2in; best smokeroom, 17ft 6in x 14ft; kitchen, scullery, and two pantries. On First Floor, clubroom or billiard room, 26ft x 15ft; spirit store-room, sitting-room, six bedrooms, bathroom, with fixed lavatory, w.c.

The Brewery in Yard at rear contains Four-quarter Brewing Plant on the gravitation principle, with every convenience for Brewing about 100 Barrels per week.

There is a separate Gateway Entrance to Yard and Brewery.

The Trade and other Fixtures and Fittings upon the Premises will have to be taken to a Valuation to be made in the usual way.

The Premises are substantially built, and are situated in a rapidly-growing neighbourhood, large numbers of new houses having been recently erected and now in course of erection.

There is a steady and increasing trade being carried on on the Premises.

The Sales of Beers for the year ending September, 1904, were 348 Barrels, in addition to which there is a large trade in Bottled Ales and Stouts, besides Wines and Spirits.

Early possession may be arranged for.

The Mines and Minerals are reserved subject to compensation for damage to buildings.

The Purchaser will have the option of purchasing 1,200 Square Yards of Freehold Land at the rear of the Brewery, at 3s per yard.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/11/1904 - Advert

“Summary of Forthcoming Auction Sales

Wednesday, 7th December at the STAR & GARTER HOTEL, Wolverhampton, at 5 for 6 o'clock, the Freehold Full-Licensed 'Free' Public-House, known as the BLACK HORSE, Leamore, Walsall; Seven Freehold Retail Shops adjoining, and producing £205 8s a year, and other Properties.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/8/1907

“At the Police Court on Wednesday, a point of some interest arose when Mr. Bailey (solicitor) applied for the transfer of the license of the BLACK HORSE HOTEL, Bloxwich Road, to Enoch Astley. Mr. Astley (replying to the Bench) said that eight or nine years ago he had a license at the Birchills, Walsall, and the Mr. Taylor, who was then Chief Constable, threatened to oppose his license because one of his sons, who was mixed up in a shop-breaking affair, resorted to his house. He now, however, had nothing to do with his sons. The Chief Constable said that the applicant had for five years kept a license in Wolverhampton since he had one at Walsall, and he therefore did not oppose the application.

The Bench, however, remarked that they were equally divided in their opinion, and therefore the transfer would be refused.

Mr. Bailey said the decision would place the owners in a great difficulty, because the house was changing ownership, and the present licensee was leaving the house on Thursday.

Mr. Loxton, however, remarked that the Bench thought a further application could be made next week, when Astley might be better prepared to answer the questions put to him. They had refused the application chiefly because of the unsatisfactory way in which he had answered the questions.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/8/1909

“At Walsall Police Court, on Monday, Thomas Ridgeway, 13, Cope Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises. Police-constable Harvey saw defendant go in a drunken condition into the BLACK HORSE HOTEL, Leamore, and on following him found that Mrs. Astley (the landlady), had refused to serve him. Defendant was put on his good behaviour for a month.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/7/1910

“A painful sensation was caused in the Leamore district on Wednesday morning by a tragic discovery which was made at the new BLACK HORSE HOTEL, Robert Hall, the manager of the house, being found in the pantry with a bullet wound in his head and a miniature rifle lying close at hand. Hall, who was bleeding copiously, received every attention at the hand of Dr. Martin Berry, before being removed to the Hospital, but it was evident that his condition was critical, and he expired during the afternoon of the same day.”

[At the inquest the jury returned a verdict of Suicide during Temporary Insanity.]

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1910

“Some fifteen applications for the transfers of public houses were made to the justices, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

Temporary transfers had previously been granted and in all cases the full transfer was sanctioned, the Chief Constable making no objection.....

BLACK HORSE, Leamore, May Hall (widow of Robert W. Hall), to May Hall.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1912

“Mr. W. Bayliss presided at the adjourned Licensing session on Tuesday.....

Mr. Jackson applied for the transfer of the license of the BLACK HORSE, Leamore, from William Cyrus Hodges to Edward James Perry.

The Magistrates' Clerk put several questions to Perry as to the terms of his agreement, and Mr. Jackson remarked that as far as he knew these agreements were in accordance with the agreement come to in the matter three or four years ago.

Mr. Loxton remarked that there was a question as to whether the licensee should lose his license on the complaint by the Chief Constable or on a conviction.....

The Magistrates retired and on their return into Court the Chairman said: The whole of the licenses are granted subject to the amendments being made.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BLACK HORSE, Leamore, 5s 9½d.”

Walsall Observer 5/6/1926

“New Hope in Coal Situation.

How Unemployment and Relief Have Increased During the Fifth Week of Stoppage.....

Soup kitchens were yesterday opened by the Walsall Miners' Distress Committee in the Bloxwich and Leamore districts for the feeding of about 2,000 members of miners' families. The stations were – BLUE PIG INN (1,300 fed), TURF TAVERN (160), Field Street School (175), BLACK HORSE, Leamore (250), Blakenall Church Schools (250), and the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich (150). Although the committee are short of funds, they are taking the risk of carrying on the feeding for at least a week, and will continue if more money is forthcoming. It is estimated that the week's effort will cost about £100. Seventeen gallons of milk, which have been given daily by Mr. Sid Field, of Blue Lane, have also been distributed this week."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Horton, the BLACK HORSE, Leamore. £0 17s 6d."

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

"After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

There were six summons against the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, Park Brewery, Wolverhampton, in respect of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road; RISING SUN, Green Lane; RED LION, Park Street; BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; and HAMEMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane; and the managers of those houses, William Allport, Joseph Thomas Astbury, Thomas Purton Cole, Constance Mary Horton, Cyril Vernon Sleigh (now of Stafford Street), and Arthur Abraham Canning for aiding and abetting.

Mr. Cooper appeared for the brewery company and stated that it would be unfair and unjust if they were made to pay double the penalty imposed on the managers, as in the preceding cases, seeing that they had given specific instructions to all their managers that regulations must be strictly complied with and if they could not get sufficient coal for their purposes they should apply to the local Fuel Overseer for permits for extra supplies.

'I regard it as somewhat ungenerous on the part of Mr. Cooper to try to throw the blame on the poor managers,' said Mr. Hodgkinson, who pointed out that all the profits from the houses went to the brewery company and that the coal was not used for their own benefit but for the benefit of the public.

In these cases the brewery company was fined 10s in each case, and the other defendants £1 each except Horton who was ordered to pay £2."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road. £2 5s 0d."

A full license was transferred from the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich in 1951.

It closed in 2009.

Fire damaged the first floor in March 2011.

It was demolished in 2011.

BLACK HORSE

1+2, Butts Street (Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Holmes, Darlington

Thomas Plant

Mrs. Holmes (leased)

Messrs. Thompson and Son, maltsters and brewers, Oldbury

Showells Brewery Ltd.

Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased)

LICENSEES

Thomas Plant [1872] – 1886;

John Holland Newell [1876] (?)

Edward Neville (1886);

John Stanley Flynn (1886 – 1887);

Hannah Cole (1887 – 1888);

Arthur Newton Mann (1888 – 1894);

Thomas Skermer (1894 – 1897);
Sarah Skermer (1897 – 1898);
Charles Merrick (1898 – 1899);
Caesar Augustus L Jenkyns (1899 – 1900);
William E Owen (1900 – 1901);
Benjamin Emery (1901 – 1902);
Arthur Thomas Scotson (1902);
Arthur Tom Davis (1902 – 1904);
Henry John Whitehouse (1904);
John Coxon (1904 – 1909);
Mary Jane Steatham (1909 – 1911);
John Cotton (1911 – 1913);
William Davis (1913 – 1916);
Harriet Davis (1916 – 1920);
Joseph William Davies (1920 – []
Benjamin Mullis [] – 1939);
George Frederick Goodwin (1939)

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/12/1868

“A boy, named John Jarvis was convicted under the Juvenile Offenders’ Act, of having on the night of the 25th ult. stolen a sack bag from one of Messrs. Pickford’s wagons while it was standing for a short time outside the BLACK HOUSE (?) INN, the Butts. He was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1876

“The undermentioned persons were summoned for the offences named, Mr. Glover appearing for the prosecution in each case, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defence.

John Holland Newell, of the BLACK HORSE INN, the Butts, was charged with permitting gaming in his house on the 5th of February, when Wright and Blakeman [Police-constables in plain clothes] found four men playing at cards for money. While the constables were present one of the men retired from the game, and the defendant took his place, and played with the other three for a quart of ale. The defendant denied that there was playing for money, but admitted that there was playing for ale. The fine was the same in the previous case, viz., £2 10s and costs.”

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1881 Census

1+2, Butts Street

- [1] Thomas Plant (32), shopkeeper and beer seller, born Lichfield;
- [2] Elizabeth Plant (33), wife, born Warwick;
- [3] George Plant (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Annie Plant (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Florence Plant (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Beasley (17), visitor, born Warwick;
- [7] Matilda Lloyd (27), general servant, born Stourbridge;
- [8] Margaret Hooper (16), nurse, born Wales:

1891 Census

1+2, Butts Street – BLACK HORSE INN

- [1] Arthur Newton Mann (32), harness furniture plater, born Walsall;
- [2] Olive M. Mann (22), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Florence N. Mann (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur W. Mann (5), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Edith M. Mann (8 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Hannah Harmer (24), servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1895

“George Hall, of 34 Butts Road, was charged with having assaulted John Seabright, also of Butts Road. Mr. Jackson represented the complainant. On the night of Saturday, the 11th instant, the men met at the BLACK HORSE at the Butts. ‘Some words’ took place, and the defendant knocked Seabright’s hat off and otherwise assaulted him. The landlord turned the defendant out, and complainant summoned him for assault.

Defendant called witnesses named respectively John Holmes and Hancox to show that he was the injured party, but the Bench decided to convict, and imposed a fine of 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

Caesar A. L. Jenkyns, BLACK HORSE, Butts, served 12 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

2, Butts Street

[1] William E. Owen (24), beerhouse keeper and harness maker, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Owen (25), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Nellie M. Owen (10 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Edward Owen (52), father, clothier and outfitter, born Bloxwich;

[5] Elizabeth Owen (52), mother, born Bloxwich:

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

Mary Jane Steatham = Mary Jane Statham

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

“The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of the license of the BLACK HORSE beer house, Butts Street, on the ground that the house was not required.

Inspector Haycock stated that on January 21st he visited the house and found it closed. The next day he found the same state of things, and it remained closed until the granting of the temporary authority. For some time previously when the house had been opened there was nothing to sell and no customers.

Mr. Grundy Newman appeared on behalf of Showell’s Brewery Ltd., to support the renewal of the license.

Mary Jane Statham said she was the license holder for 14 months, and received notice to quit four months ago. The trade was very bad, and she had to sell 45 hogsheads of beer before she could make £13 10s profit. And then something had to be allowed for the ‘tops and bottoms’ and the loss in the cellar. She paid the brewery 30s a hogshead, and sold the beer at 2d per quart with the ‘long pull.’

The Clerk: How much do you give for a quart with the ‘long pull?’ – Witness: Four pints.

Then you give double measure? – Yes.

Why did you do that? – Because they do it everywhere in Showell’s houses.

Were you told you would have to do that when you took the house? – I was told I should have to give the ‘long pull.’

Witness also said that she had to pay the rent, rates, and taxes, and also the license, which cost £39 after the Budget. The Company paid to the Compensation Fund.

The Clerk: How came you to take the house on such terms as these? – Witness: because I was told it was doing £9 per week, but when I took it I found it was only taking £2.

Did you pay anything when you went in? – I paid £20 deposit, and I took £109 with me into the house, and now I have not got a penny, not even a home.

The £20 deposit was to secure your account? – Yes.

Did you make any complaint? – I did not take any notice as long as my money lasted. I kept paying it away.

Why did you not give notice when you found the house was not paying? – I did go to give notice, but they asked me to stay on and dropped the rent from £25 to £20.

On reply to further questions witness said they charged 3d a pint for beer consumed on the premises, and then had to give extra measure, and also mix the old beer with the new in order to sell it.

Answering Mr. Newman, witness admitted when she was granted a license she stated her husband had other employment. But he had done nothing except assist her in the business. Her husband, herself, six children and a married son and his wife lived at the house. She received notice to quit in September, but refused to go, but she did make an offer to surrender the license and go out if the brewery paid her £125. She admitted that an order had been obtained against her in the High Court.

The Clerk pointed out that the Magistrates had nothing to do with any arrangements between the parties. All they had to decide was as to whether the house was necessary.

Mr. Newman submitted that the owners had not been paid for goods supplied, secondly, they had been punished through loss of trade while the house had been kept closed, and if the Bench now took away the license they would have been punished for something they had not done.

John Statham, the late tenant’s husband, stated that they made 6s profit out of a hogshead, and out of that they had to allow for

'tops and bottoms' and waste in the cellar. They sold it at 2d per quart and gave a pint.

The Clerk: Can't you see that by doing that you were losing? – Witness replied that he got a fraction profit on it.

The Clerk: No you didn't. You got 18s and paid 30s for it.

Albert Richardson, manager of Messrs. Showell's licensed houses, said the woman when she went into the house represented that her husband was a contractor and worked away. He denied telling her to give the 'long pull.'

The Clerk: As a matter of fact isn't the long pull given in all the houses? – Witness: I don't admit that. It is given where there is opposition.

Giving evidence as to the trade of the house, Mr. Richardson said in 1908 it was 239¼ barrels, in 1909, 195½ barrels, and in 1910, it had increased to 223¼ barrels. The bottled goods were £18 in 1908, £12 in 1909, and £38 in 1910. After further legal arguments Mr. Newman submitted that there were other licenses in the district which could better be dispensed with. He called Mr. Tomlins who stated that the BLACK HORSE was assessed at £54 for inhabited house duty, as against £35 for the BUTTS TAVERN. The rateable value was £29 for the BUTTS TAVERN as against £32 for the BLACK HORSE, while the latter also contributed £15 to the Compensation Fund as compared to £6 contributed by the BUTTS TAVERN.

The Bench retired and on returning the Clerk said the case was so complicated by the personal relationship of the parties that the Magistrates had decided to renew the license this year without expressing an opinion as to whether it was needed."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BLACK HORSE, Butts. £0 19s 2d."

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

"One Walsall license – that of the BLACK HORSE, Butts Street – was, on the ground of redundancy, referred to the Compensation Authority at the adjourned licensing sessions, held at the Guildhall on Thursday; but in connection with certain other decisions that will result in additional reductions within the next twelve months."

Walsall Observer 19/8/1939

"Sitting as a compensation authority the justices had under consideration the license of the BLACK HORSE, Butts, which had been 'referred' on the ground of redundancy.

Formal application for the renewal of the license was made by Mr. A. H. Gregory (appearing for the owners of the house, Ind. Coope & Allsopp), but the magistrates present refused the application, the question of compensation being referred to a full meeting of the licensing committee."

1939 Register

1+2, Butts Street – BLACK HORSE Public House (2 of 3)

[1] George Goodwin, date of birth 18/4/1895, licensee, married;

[2] Alice Goodwin, dob 23/6/1905, housewife, married;

It closed in December 1939.

BLACK HORSE

Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Samuel Rogers [1857]

William Glover [1869]

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 5/12/1857

"The attention of the court was occupied a considerable time to-day in investigating charges brought against publicans for allowing gaming in their houses, contrary to the tenor of their licenses, the information in each case was laid by Police-constable Batchellor.....

Samuel Rogers, of the BLACK HORSE Public-house, Lower Rushall Street, was indicted for a similar offence [allowing gaming for money] committed on the night of Monday, the 23rd instant. The defendant said he must plead guilty to the charge, although he was not aware that card playing was prohibited. He said the officer went to his house in disguise and stated that he was a 'snob,' and after sitting down some time enjoying himself at the expense of the players, he asked to be shown out the back way as probably some of the 'bobbys' were about, and as it was after the proper time of closing, they would very likely inform against him as they were always open to swear anything. A fine of 5s and costs was imposed."

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

"This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications.....

In the case of Mr. Wm. Glover, landlord of the BLACK HORSE beerhouse, Lower Rushall Street, the license was refused, as the house was proved to be assessed at £14 10s, whereas the lowest rent should be £15."

BLACK HORSE

19, (18-19), (18), Short Acre Street, Short Acre, WALSALL

OWNERS

George Thomas [1894]

John Lord

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939)

LICENSEES

Charles Butler [1858] – [1861]

John Darby [1862] – [1865]

George Thomas [1868] – 1892);

Frederick William Jones (1892);

William Kessey (1892 – 1894);

William John Talbot (1894);

Thomas Pettifer (1894 – 1907);

John Hawkins (1907 – 1912);

Ernest Bradbury Dickinson (1912 – [];

Alfred Hanson [1930] – 1935);

Sidney Gwilt (1935 – 1942);

Alice May Gwilt (1942 – 1959);

George Oatcliffe (1959 – 1960);

Patrick Arthur Jeavons (1960 – 1963);

Terence Arthur Slade (1963 – 1964);

Michael Eugene Kiernan (1964 – 1965);

Carl Norman Walker (1965 – 1966);

John Zenas Watts (1966 – []

NOTES

19, Short Acre Street [1939], [1940]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Charles Butler, beerhouse keeper, 18, Shortacre. [1858]

1861 Census

18+19, Short Acre Street

[1] Charles Butler (36), grocer and publican, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Butler (47), wife, born Aldridge, Staffordshire;

[3] Sarah Hopley (69), sister, widow, blind, born Lichfield:

John Darby, retailer of beer, Short Acre Street. [1862]

Walsall Free Press 25/10/1862

“John Darby, landlord of the BLACK HORSE public house, Short Acre, pleaded guilty to a charge of having his house open during prohibited hours, namely at fifteen minutes past eleven in the forenoon of Sunday last, for the sale of beer; but stated in extenuation that the man to whom he had supplied the drink, a pint of porter, said he had come from Bloxwich and was in a bad state of health. In support of his statement the defendant called the person who had been supplied with the liquor and who substantiated what Mr. Darby had stated. As, however, the defendant had been thrice previously convicted he was sentenced to pay a fine of 20s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1863

“John Darby, beer-house keeper, of Short Acre, was yesterday charged, upon the information of the Superintendent of Police, with having his house open during unlawful hours on the night of Monday last. It was proved in evidence that at twenty minutes to twelve o’clock on the night named thirteen persons were drinking on the premises. The defendant pleaded that he had had a club supper, and said, in answer to the charge, that no ale had been drawn after ten minutes to eleven. The Bench reminded him that this was no justification of his conduct and, as he had been convicted four times previously, fined him 20s and costs, or one month’s imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 18/8/1863 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the old-established Beer House, known as the BLACK HORSE, Short Acre, satisfactory reasons given for present tenant leaving.
Apply on the Premises.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county. The magistrates on the Bench were Messrs. J. E. Bealey, W. Harrison, and D. Bloomer. Before hearing the applications for new licenses and those for the renewal of old ones, the Bench called those publicans whose names were down on the black list.....
The license of John Darby, who failed to appear, but who had been summoned for selling during Divine service, was also suspended for a month.”

J. Darby, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 18, Short Acre Street. [1864], [1865]

George Thomas, beer retailer, 18, Short Acre Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

Short Acre

- [1] George Thomas (31), beerhouse keeper and cooper, born Cradly [Cradley], Herefordshire;
- [2] Louisa Thomas (24), wife, born Lichfield;
- [3] Maria L. Thomas (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary A. Thomas (28), sister in law, visitor, born Cradly [Cradley], Herefordshire;
- [5] Joseph South (18), boarder, apprentice cooper, born Suckley, Herefordshire;
- [6] Mary A. Turner (13), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 3/1/1885

“Inquests in Walsall by T. H. Stanley, borough coroner. On Monday at the BLACK HORSE, Short Acre, on the body of William Partridge, five weeks old, whose parents reside in Short Acre. The evidence showed that deceased had been weakly from its birth, and that on Saturday last, it died suddenly in its mother’s arms. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned, and the Coroner and jury made a subscription among themselves for the parents, who apparently are in deep poverty.”

AND

“On Monday, at the BLACK HORSE, on the body of Edith Lilly Clarence, aged four months, whose parents reside at No.3 Court, Short Acre. The evidence showed that deceased had been a weakly child from her birth, but had not been attended by any medical man. On Saturday last the mother and child retired to bed about ten o’clock, the latter apparently being in its usual health. However, about seven o’clock on Sunday morning, the child was found dead in bed. During the night another child, about three years old, had got into the same bed with deceased and the mother, and it is supposed that by that means the deceased was suffocated. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1891 Census

19, Short Acre Street

- [1] George Thomas (50), brewer and cooper, born Cradley;
- [2] Louisa M. Thomas (44), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Maria L. Thomas (29), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] James Thomas (21), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [5] Alfred Thomas (18), son, cooper, born Walsall;
- [6] Ada Thomas (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Florence S. Thomas (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] George H. Thomas (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[9] Frank E. Thomas (3), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1894

“At the License Transfer Court, at the Guildhall yesterday, the following transfers of licenses were granted. Beer Retailers (on) BLACK HORSE, Short Acre Street, from William John Talbot to Thomas Pettifer. Mr. Bill, solicitor, appeared for the applicant, Pettifer was sworn and deposed that he was the bona fide tenant of the premises, and not merely the manager to Mr. Thomas.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/10/1894

“Patrick Curley, of Burrowes Street, who was summoned to answer to two charges, appeared in court in a slightly elevated condition. Nevertheless his geniality had not left him. ‘I had a drop of beer’ he explained to the magistrates in answer to one charge. ‘Yes,’ said the clerk, ‘and you had some this morning.’ ‘Yes,’ replied Pat, ‘I had, and I will have another drink tomorrow morning.’ Pat, as will be seen, was a false prophet. ‘When one asks you to have a drop of beer, and another asks you to have a drop of beer, what can you do?’ he queried. Charged with threatening John Morton, of 25, Long Street, who owned that he was not particularly afraid of Pat now, the latter asked ‘Are you afraid of your life of me? You might have me for your breakfast.’ Curley strenuously protested his innocence of the second charge, that of assaulting Thomas Pettifer, landlord of the BLACK HORSE, Short Acre. ‘I am as innocent as you are, Mr. Beebee.’ ‘I have not been here twenty-two times, and you have,’ retorted Mr. Beebee. ‘Yes,’ admitted Pat, ‘I have got a bad record; I was wild when I was young, you know.’ So for the next 21 days Pat will be engaged at Stafford reaping some of his youthful wild oats.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1895

“Some time between twelve o’clock on Sunday night and nine o’clock yesterday, the BLACK HORSE, Short Acre, was burglariously entered and completely ransacked; money, cigars, and other property taken away, some of it from the room in which the landlord was sleeping. The intruders appear to have regaled themselves whilst on the premises; but they missed more booty in the way of money than they carried off. Entrance appeared to have been effected through a window, which apparently had been left unfastened.”

Thomas Pettifer, beer retailer, 19, Short Acre Street. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 19/9/1896

“Ellen Ellis, Short Acre Street, was charged with having broken three panes of glass at the BLACK HORSE public house, in Short Acre, doing damage to the extent of 4s. Harriet Pettifer and Thomas Pettifer (landlord) gave evidence, and the magistrates ordered defendant to pay the costs and the damage.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/6/1897

“Kate Donnellan 2 house, 4 court, Short Acre Street, was charged with having stolen a watch of the value of 35s, the property of John Royle, labourer, of 73, Hatherton Street. Complainant stated that he went to the BLACK HORSE beerhouse on the morning of the 17th May with a Mrs. Keeling, of Ryecroft, and paid for several pints of beer, the defendant having some of the beer. After being in the house for about two hours he went to sleep, and he then had about 10s in money, and a watch for which he gave £5 10s. About 4 o’clock he woke up and missed the watch. A young man told him who had it, and took him to the defendant’s house, and complainant afterwards found a policeman and went to defendant’s house again, when she denied all knowledge of the watch.

In reply to a question, complainant said he could not say he was sober when he went to sleep; he must have been ‘fresh’. Daniel Bricknell, a collier, of Green Lane, deposed to having seen defendant take the watch, but admitted that it was only when he himself was accused of the theft that he told the prosecutor who had the watch.

Case dismissed.”

AND

“Thomas Pettifer, BLACK HORSE INN, Short Acre Street, was summoned for having permitted drunkenness on the 17th ult. Mr. T. Howard Stanley was for the defence.

The case arose out of the last one. Royle was called with a view to show that he was drunk at the public house, and went to sleep. Daniel Bricknell now defined Royle’s condition as ‘three-parts drunk’.

The defence was that the man was not drunk, but that if he was it was not within the knowledge of the landlord.

The defendant and his daughter also were called, and gave evidence. Miss Pettifer stated that she warned Royle to be careful that he did not lose his money because of the ‘peculiar’ characters he was treating.

The Chief Constable: They use this house? – Witness: Occasionally.

The Chief Constable: And they are such bad characters that you have to warn your customers against them?

The Bench fined the defendant £5 and costs, but did not endorse the license.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.

4th June, Thomas Pettifer, BLACK HORSE, Short Acre Street, was fined £5 and costs for permitting drunkenness.

Objection to renewal.

Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) supported the application for renewal of the license of the BLACK HORSE, Short

Acre Street, the holder being Mr. Thomas Pettifer. Chief-constable opposed on three grounds, namely, the conviction; that the premises were of a disorderly character; and that the licensee was not a fit and proper person to be entrusted with a license. Harriet Pettifer, daughter of the applicant, was called to give evidence, but Mr. Disturnal objected on the ground that the conviction against the license holder was admitted. The licensing justices could not go into the circumstances of the conviction as the conviction was a record of court, and included the whole of the facts.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk) pointed out that one of the grounds of opposition was that the house was a disorderly house. Mr. Disturnal said, if the Chief Constable could go into the whole of the circumstances which occurred on the 17th May, he could dispute them, and demand the whole issue be retried, and it would be competent for him to ask the licensing justices to say that the conviction was a wrong conviction.

The Bench ruled that the evidence was admissible.

The witness, Harriet Pettifer, admitted having stated that she told a man named Royle to be careful while he was in the house. She also said that a woman named Donlan was there. She did not know that the woman had the best of characters. Women of similar character did not use the house.

Sarah Keeling was called, and stated that she thought the last witness did warn a man named Royle.

By Mr. Disturnal: Donlan did not use the house regularly.

Inspector Cliffe deposed to several convicted persons having used the house. In answer to Mr. Disturnal, witness admitted that he had had the house under supervision for some considerable time, but had not complained, as the persons were quiet when he was there.

Mr. Disturnal urged that the onus of supporting objections was upon the police, and that although they had three objections the real one was the conviction. The other objections were mere 'make weights.' The objection that the applicant was not a fit and proper person to hold a license was not supported by a tittle of evidence. For thirty years' the applicant had been in the employ of the London and North Western Railway Company, and was a respectable man. As to the conviction, he did not deny that this was a serious matter, but he pointed out that the Bench did not endorse the license whatever. Witnesses were then called to speak to the respectable nature of the house. The license was renewed with a caution."

Walsall Advertiser 3/12/1898

"Edward Burns (32), labourer, of 48, Burrowes Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Short Acre Street, also with being drunk and quarrelsome and refusing to quit the BLACK HORSE, and with assaulting Thomas Pettifer, the landlord. Application was made by the Chief Constable for a remand for a week, it being stated that the prisoner had bitten the landlord's finger so badly that it was very likely it would have to be amputated. If that was the case he should prefer a charge against the prisoner of inflicting grievous bodily harm.

Evidence was given by Mr. Pettifer to the effect that Burns came into his house either 'drunk or mad'. Seeing his condition he would not allow Burns to come through the passage. Witness closed with the man, and in the struggle the prisoner nearly bit his (witness's) finger through. There was only a bit of skin left and the finger would probably have to be taken off.

Remand granted."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1899

"The General Quarter Sessions of the Peace for the borough of Walsall were held on Tuesday, at the Guildhall.

Edward Burns (32), labourer, was indicted for unlawfully, maliciously, and feloniously causing grievous bodily harm upon Thomas Pettifer, on the 26th of November last. Mr. Kettle prosecuted.

The case for the prosecution was that on the date named, Pettifer, who is landlord at the BLACK HORSE beerhouse, Short Acre, had occasion to eject the prisoner from the house, in order to prevent a disturbance. Prisoner set about him, knocking him down, and got his (Pettifer's) finger in his mouth, and bit it severely. Pettifer's daughter had to assist to pull Burns' jaws open before the finger could be released. He had to have his finger dressed at the hospital, and ultimately to have the end of it amputated. Prosecutor said he was afraid he should yet have to have another amputation performed. The prisoner, who repeatedly addressed the Recorder as 'Your Worship my Lord Judge', alleged that it was the prosecutor's daughter who bit the finger of the prosecutor. He also alleged that certain injuries had been inflicted on him by the prosecutor. These allegations were denied, and Dr. Scott Wilson was now asked to examine the prisoner's hand, which Burns alleged to have been fractured. Dr. Wilson having examined the hand said there was no trace of fracture. The wrist had been sprained and there was a rheumatic deposit of old standing.

The jury found the prisoner guilty.

The Recorder characterized the prisoner's conduct as barbarous, brutal, inhuman, and unworthy of a well conducted dog. That any human being should be guilty of such an act made one almost despair of humanity. He would not say prisoner was levelling and degrading himself to the brute creation, because it would be an insult to the brute creation to say so. The community must be protected from such brutal violence and prisoner would be sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment, with hard labour."

Walsall Observer 4/8/1900

"Aaron Gay, 47, Croft Street, was summoned for being drunk at the BLACK HORSE, Long (sic) Acre Street, on July 28th; and Thomas Pettifer, landlord of the BLACK HORSE, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and with selling intoxicating liquor to a drunken person, on July 28th. Mr. Plumtre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) was for the defence. Detective-sergeant Haycock said on Saturday, July 28, he entered the BLACK HORSE, Long Acre Street, and saw a man named Gay sitting just against the counter. The Chief Constable called Gay, and he staggered down the room to the Chief and sat down on a table. The landlord, in reply to the Chief Constable, said that the man had come in with another, and they only had one pint. The landlord then ordered Gay out, and Gay staggered in the street.

Detective Burrell gave corroborative evidence, and said the landlord was standing at the door, and the man Gay was at the bar with a pint pot in his hand. Gay was drunk.

Mr. Plumptre said that in the first place the man was not drunk at all, and in the second place the landlord did not sell liquor to him, but only to the man's friend Martin. He also thought that the police evidence was prejudiced, or if not prejudiced yet they must necessarily have been influenced by their superior.

The defendant (Pettifer), landlord of the BLACK HORSE, said that he was standing outside the door when Gay entered, and Gay was not drunk.

Harriet Webster, daughter of the defendant Pettifer, and other evidence was called in to bear witness that Gay was sober.

The defendant Gay said that he met Martin, who took him into the BLACK HORSE and they had a pint between them.

Mr. Bayliss announced that the majority of the Bench had decided to give the landlord the benefit of the doubt, and the case was dismissed.

The audience applauded, and the Bench stigmatized that conduct as disgraceful."

1901 Census

19, Short Acre Street – BLACK HORSE INN

[1] Thomas Pettifer (58), publican, born Leicester;

[2] Mary Pettifer (57), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Charles Pettifer (24), son, currier, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The BLACK HORSE beerhouse, in Short Acre Street, had also been objected to, and Mr. H. Jackson appeared for the owners and occupier. Evidence as to population was given by Inspector Ballance, who in examination stated that the house was well conducted, clean, and well kept. Mr. Jackson said the married daughter of the previous tenant, Mr. Pettifer, was now in the house. Mr. Pettifer held the license for 14 years, and the rent was £52 a year. The house did an excellent trade, it was a good house in every respect. Dr. Wilson, medical officer, in reply to Mr. Loxton, said the sanitary arrangements were perfect. The license was renewed."

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

".....A police report of 1908 described the property as having a Bar, Smoke room and Club room with low ceilings. There are a number of low class people living in the vicinity who use this house. The rolling way to the cellar is in the adjoining yard of Messrs. Lords Brewery."

Ernest Bradbury Dickinson, beer retailer, 19, Short Acre Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BLACK HORSE, Short Acre Street, £0 17s 0d."

Walsall Observer 18/10/1924

".....Plans for alterations at the BLACK HORSE, Short Acre Street, were approved....."

Plans for alterations were sanctioned on 15th October 1925.

It was reconstructed in 1925.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

"More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord's houses.....

BLACK HORSE, Short Acre."

1939 Register

19, Short Acre Street (2 of 3)

[1] Sidney Gwilt, date of birth 6/4/1899, manager beerhouse, married;

[2] Alice M. Gwilt, dob 31/5/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BLACK HORSE, Short Acre. £3 4s 0d."

A full license was granted on 8th February 1951.

It closed on 2nd November 1982.

BLACK SWAN

Leicester Square, (60, (56-57), (26), Bridge Street / Freer Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Maria Bleakman, Dryden Place, Hedge Lane, Liverpool
John Beebee
Susan Beebee
Brewers' Investment Corporation
Showells Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 29th September 1963)
Punch Taverns

LICENSEES

John Eld [1837] – 1840);
Mrs. Mary Eld [1841] – [1847]
George Moore [1849] – 1865)
John Packwood [1866] – [1870]
Mrs. Lucy Coldicott [1871] – [1873];
John Beebee [1881];
Mrs. Susan Beebee [1885] – 1889);
Frederick Richards (1889 – 1890);
Francis Joseph Zeller (1890 – 1903);
Eliza Proffit [1891] manager
Miss Minnie E Walker [1901] manager
Clarence James (1903 – 1906);
Henry Frederick Machin (1906);
George Harry Hazlehurst (1906 – 1908);
Henry William Joseph Stevens (1908 – 1917);
Catherine Winifred Stevens (1917 – 1919);
Henry William Joseph Stevens (1919);
Daniel 'Dan' Westwood (1919 – 1931);
Henry John Sune (?) (1931 – 1933);
Clement Sydney Blythe (1933 – 1941);
Lilian Elsie Morley Blythe [1941] executrix?
Herbert Nicholls (1941 – 1945);
John Ryan (1945 – 1947);
Raymond William Brookes (1947 – 1949);
Percival James Watson (1949 – 1950);
Samuel Hand (1950 – 1957);
Harold Waterfield (1957);
John Scott (1957 – 1959);
George Warburton (1959 – 1960);
Raymond Charles Otton Brown (1960 – 1962);
Robert Kitchen (1962 – 1965);
Edwin Jones (1965 – 1967);
Roy George Taylor (1967 – [])

NOTES

Bridge Street [1849], [1860], [1865]
60, Bridge Street [1861], [1862], [1871]
56-57, Bridge Street [1881]
Leicester Square [1896]

26, Bridge Street [1901]

It was originally known as the STORK. [1881], [1952]

STORK INN [1845]

STORK TAVERN [1841], [1842], [1850]

STORK Commercial inn [1849], [1850]

STORK HOTEL [1860], [1861], [1872], [1881], [1885], [1892], [1893], [1896], [1904], [1906], [1911], [1912], [1918], [1924], [1927]

Commercial hotel [1851], [1861], [1868], [1870], [1892]

Posting house [1892], [1896], [1904], [1912], [1916]

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/12/1837

“The house of Mr. Eld, the STORK, in Bridge Street, was broken into and robbed of part of a rump of beef, some wine, and eleven silver spoons; it appears the robbers, during their stay, regaled themselves with pork-pie and ale in the kitchen.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/4/1840 - Deaths

“On the 15th instant, advanced in years, Mr. John Eld, of the STORK INN, Bridge Street, Walsall, formerly a respectable mercer and draper, of High Street, of the same town.”

Birmingham Journal 27/3/1847

“Three young women named Isabella Herring, Sarah Evans, and Martha Turner, were placed in the dock, charged by Mrs. Eld, the landlady of the STORK COMMERCIAL INN, Bridge Street, with unlawfully breaking three panes of glass, value 9s, on Sunday morning last. It appeared from the evidence that the three prisoners, who had just left the ‘tramp room’ of the Walsall Union Workhouse, came into the house of the complainant to beg. She, however, refused to give them anything, and they left the house. Almost immediately afterwards, however, she heard ‘a crash,’ and on running to the door she perceived that three panes of glass had been broken, but could not see the prisoners anywhere. They had, however, been seen by a young woman to break one pane each, and then run off. Upon this she caused them to be pursued and apprehended, when they immediately admitted having broken the windows, and said they wanted to go to gaol. The girls, who had nothing to say in their defence, were then committed to the House of Correction at Stafford, with hard labour, for one month.”

1851 Census

Bridge Street

[1] George Moore (39), innkeeper and traveller, born Tettenhall;

[2] Ann Moore (43), wife, born Walsall;

[3] George Moore (17), son, born Walsall;

[4] Emma Eld (27), assistant, born Walsall;

[5] Mary Bramidge (22), servant, born Walsall;

[6] Ann Stackhouse (17), servant, born Pelsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/7/1858- Notice

“County Of Stafford. Weights And Measures. District C, or South Staffordshire.

Notice is hereby given, that William Tullett, the Inspector of Weights and Measures for District C, or South Staffordshire, will attend at the undermentioned times and places, for the purpose of comparing and examining all such Weights and Measures as shall be brought to him for that purpose, and Stamping such of them as shall be found correct, viz.....

At the STORK HOTEL, at Walsall, on Tuesdays, July 27th, August 24th, and September 21st, 1858, at ten o’clock am.”

1861 Census

60, Bridge Street – STORK HOTEL

[1] George Moore (58), hotel keeper, born Tettenhall;

[2] George William Moore (27), son, merchant, born Walsall;

[3] Clara E. Moore (12), niece, scholar, born St. Ives, Derbyshire;

[4] John Hunter (33), visitor, draper, born Ripon;

[5] Emma Eld (38), cook, born Walsall;

[6] Mary Bramidge (41), housekeeper, born Walsall;

[7] Hannah Walker (23), chambermaid, born Northton, Warwickshire:

A man named Richard Moore appears here in an 1862 directory.

George Moore was also a wine, ale and porter merchant. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Journal 14/1/1865 - Advert

“Walsall. STORK HOTEL, Bridge street.

To be Disposed of, the Licenses and Possession of the above Old-established Hotel, situate in one of the best parts of Walsall. Apply to H. Farrington, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 11/3/1865 - Advert

“STORK HOTEL, Bridge Street, Walsall. Clearing Out Sale.

To be Sold by Auction as above, by H. Farrington, (without reserve), on Wednesday and Friday next, 15th and 17th days of March, 1865, the capital Household Furniture, and Effects, belonging to Mr. George Moore, who is giving up the STORK INN; comprising handsome four-post and half-tester Bedsteads (in mahogany and tubular iron); capital Mattresses, fine feather Beds, mahogany and painted Chests of Drawers, handsome Chimney and Toilet Glasses, mahogany and other Chairs, sets of mahogany Dining Tables, Couches, an excellent and modern 4-pull Beer Machine, Spirit Fountain, a nearly new patent Leamington Cooking Range, 4ft 6in, capital Brewing Utensils, a nearly new Copper Furnace, a nearly new 20-bushel Mash Tub, pair of Ale Vats, capital Ale Casks; also a capital slated and timber Shedding, excellent Malt Crusher, Bran Mill, three excellent Phaetons, Handsome Dog Cart, Pony, and other valuable effects.

Sale to commence each day at half-past ten, for eleven o'clock.

Particulars of which appear in Catalogues, to be had at 1, St. George's Buildings, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 25/3/1865 - Advert

“Notice Of Removal.

Mr. George Moore, in returning thanks to his friends and the public for the liberal patronage bestowed upon him during the sixteen years he occupied the STORK HOTEL, begs most respectfully to intimate that he has removed to No.10, Freer Street, where he intends carrying on the business of a Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Wine, Ale, Porter & Spirits, and earnestly solicits a continuance of that support with which he has hitherto been favoured, and which he trusts by prompt attention to orders and moderate charges to merit.

Mr. M. begs to intimate that parties can be supplied with small quantities of any article upon moderate charges, and equal in quality to that supplied in wholesale quantities.

Mr. M. has always on hand large quantities of Sparkling Wines of various descriptions; also Ellis (of Ruthin) and Roughsedge & Co's celebrated Soda Water, Lemonade and Potass Waters.

Guinness's Bottled Stout. Bass & Co's Bottled Ale.

N.B. An extensive and well assorted Stock of British and Foreign Cigars.

10, Freer Street, 25th March, 1865.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/7/1866

“John Packwood, landlord of the STORK HOTEL, was charged with having, on Monday last, assaulted Alfred Curtess, farmer, Lea Croft, near Cannock. It appeared the parties had met in the refreshment rooms at the railway station, and they quarrelled about some betting transactions they had had some time ago. The defendant seized the complainant by the collar, and struck him with a walking-stick about the legs, and threatened to serve him the same way every time he met him. In consequence of the threat a peace summons had also been taken out by the complainant against the defendant. Mr. Duignan, who appeared for the defendant, said he had no objection to his client being bound over to keep the peace, provided the charge of assault was withdrawn, upon the defendant paying costs. This course having been decided upon, the defendant was bound over in his own recognizances in the sum of £20 to keep the peace for six months.”

Lucy Coldicott = Lucy Colicutt.

1871 Census

60, Bridge Street

- [1] Lucy Coldicott (50), widow, hotel keeper, born Oldbury;
- [2] Frances C. Wagstaff (22), barmaid, born Nuneaton;
- [3] William Coldicott (14), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Samuel W. Coldicott (5), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Helen M. Coldicott (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Jane A. G. Sargeant (21), nursemaid, born Walsall;
- [7] Martha Harris (22), waitress, born Redditch;
- [8] Mary Welch (20), cook, born Walsall Wood:

1881 Census

56-57, Bridge Street – STORK HOTEL

- [1] John Beebee (45), hotel keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Susan Beebee (41), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Lizzie Beebee (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] John Lawton (12), nephew, scholar, born Newport, Shropshire;
- [5] John H. Glover (34), lodger, corn traveller, born Leicester;
- [6] Rowland Bateman (20), billiard marker, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Elizabeth Bissell (26), barmaid, born Codsall;
- [8] Priscilla Blackham (20), barmaid, born West Bromwich;

[9] Elizabeth Kerr (32), cook, born Wednesbury;
[10] Mary Fletcher (21), house maid, born Walsall:

Evening Express 20/5/1881

“On Thursday evening the members of the Walsall Football Association celebrated their anniversary by a dinner in the STORK HOTEL. In the absence of the president (Mr. Alderman Smith), the chair was occupied by Mr. Joseph Lander, who, after the usual loyal and patriotic toasts had been given, read a letter of apology from Sir Charles Forster, Bart, MP, who consented to become one of the patrons of the association. The Chairman then presented to Mr. Alderman Evans, president of the Swifts Football Club, with the Licensed Victuallers’ Challenge Cup, which had been won three years in succession by them, and he next presented the captain and members of the Swifts Club with a medal each, also the captain and members of the White Star Club, which was next to the Swifts in the competition for the cup. Mr. Alderman Evans acknowledged the presentation on behalf of the Swifts, and Mr. J. Smith on behalf of the White Star Club. Several complimentary toasts followed, and the remainder of the evening was spent in a convivial manner.”

Evening Express 3/6/1881

“The adjourned general meeting of the Walsall and District Football Association was held on Wednesday evening, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, when Mr. W. Smith (Swifts) presided, and representatives were also present from the following clubs: Athletic, St. Paul’s, St. Mary’s, Rushall Villa, White Star, and Perseverance.

Mr. D. Bird (White Star) was elected president, and Mr. W. Smith and Mr. Venables were elected vice presidents; Mr. J. Beebee treasurer, and Mr. J. C. Hart secretary.

A vote of thanks to the officers for their past services brought the meeting to a close. We understand the association has now extended its radius to 20 miles from Walsall, and is about to invite all clubs of any note within that distance to join. The new challenge cup will, we are informed, cost about £70.”

Evening Express 21/9/1881

“A council of the Walsall and District Football Association was held on Tuesday night at the STORK HOTEL, Bridge Street, Walsall. Mr. D. Bird presiding.

There was a good attendance of representatives, and arrangements were made for the Association match v Sheffield (Mr. Woodcock’s team), which takes place on Wake Monday, 26th inst, at Walsall.”

Evening Star 10/5/1882

“On Monday night the annual dinner in connection with the Walsall and District Football Association was held at the STORK HOTEL. The Mayor (Mr. J. Newman) presided.....”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1885

“On Saturday evening, following the match between Walsall Swifts and Dumbarton football organisations, the latter were entertained at dinner by the local club. The ‘spread’ took place at the STORK HOTEL, and the quality of the viands and the manner in which they were placed on the table, reflected the highest credit on the hostess (Mrs. Beebee).

At the opening the chair was occupied by Mr. Hubbard, but he having to retire on account of professional duties, was afterwards taken by Mr. J. Smalley.....”

Walsall Observer 11/4/1885

“On Tuesday Mr. T. H. Stanley, Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the STORK HOTEL on the body of Philip Doyle (30), of 138, Lichfield Street, a shoe maker, who died on the previous day.

It appears that deceased had complained for some days of pains in the chest, and on Thursday he was unable to leave the house. He, however, was able to get about the house. On Monday morning, his sister went to him in his bedroom, and he told her he should get up presently. He did not, however, come down, and his sister went up again about two o’clock and found him dead. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) applied on behalf of Mr. Zeller for a license for singing only at the STORK HOTEL, on Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday evenings. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1891

“There were 31 applications for dancing, singing and music licenses under the provisions of the new Corporation Act. The Bench heard all the applications and then retired to consider their decisions, which turned out to be in accordance with the principle which was laid down at a former Court, viz, that licenses should not be granted to vaults or public rooms, but should be confined to regular and existing clubs and class meetings in club rooms. Licenses were granted to..... STORK HOTEL, for dinner and committees in the assembly room.”

1891 Census

Bridge Street – STORK HOTEL

[1] Eliza Proffitt (40), hotel manager, born West Bromwich;

- [2] Betsy Hickson (28), servant, born Woolaston;
- [3] Ada Bradley (22), barmaid, born Leamington;
- [4] Hannah Bradley (27), barmaid, born Brownhills;
- [5] Annie Bradley (22), barmaid, born Oldbury;
- [6] Louisa Dowles (24), domestic servant, born West Bromwich;
- [7] Eliza Law, (21), domestic servant, born West Bromwich;
- [8] Sarah Cunningham (24), domestic servant, born Leamington;
- [9] Albert Harvey (21), hotel boots, born Birmingham;
- [10] Edward J. French (26), hotel boots, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1892

“A special sessions for licensing business was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall....
Mr. R. E. Gillespie (solicitor) produced plans of a proposed extension of the dining-room accommodation of the STORK HOTEL, and asked if the might approved the plans. Granted.”

Kelly's Directory 1892 - Staffordshire - Advert

“The STORK HOTEL, Bridge Street, Walsall. This Hotel (Family and Commercial) has been greatly enlarged. Increased accommodation for the general public. Spacious Dining Rooms And Rooms For Public Meetings, &c, &c. Spacious Billiard Room, Furnished with First-Class Table by Burroughs and Watts. Table d'Hote every Day at 1.15. F. Joe Zeller, Proprietor.”
[A similar advert appeared in the 1896 edition with the address Leicester Square.]

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1893

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society was held on Thursday last.....
New Members..... Mr. Francis Joe Zeller, STORK HOTEL, Leicester Square, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/12/1893

“The annual meeting of the Walsall Cricket Club was held at the STORK HOTEL last night; Mr. F. T. Cozens presiding. The hon. secretary (Mr. A. E. Hurst) presented the report, which showed receipts to the amount of £282 10s 1d, and an expenditure of £268 5s 4d, leaving a balance in hand of £23 4s 7d.
The President (Mr. J. T. Cottam) was re-elected, as were also the vice-presidents. As Mr. Hurst could not again accept the office, Mr. A. Barnsby was elected as hon. secretary, with Mr. F. J. Wood as assistant. Mr. H. A. Lynex was elected collector, and the committee for the year was chosen. Mr. F. J. Cozens and Mr. B. Evans were re-elected as captain of the first and second teams, and Mr. W. H. Barnsby was elected as vice-captain of the first team.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....
Mr. Jackson presented plans of structural alterations at the STORK HOTEL, and remarked that owing to the very large number of public dinners given at the Hotel it had been found necessary to use the billiard room as a cloak room, and the plans now presented were for the erection of a new billiard room over the gateway. The plans were sanctioned.”

Francis Joseph Zeller was convicted and fined £5 and costs, at Ludlow, for permitting drunkenness on the racecourse, on 22nd March 1897.

On 6th December 1897, a Grand Lodge of the Staffordshire Conservative League for Walsall was formed here.

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1899

“The 46th banquet of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening at the STORK HOTEL. There was a large attendance, quite 200 partaking of an admirable repast, served up in keeping with the reputation of the noted hostelry, and Councillor Zeller, the esteemed host The following was the menu:

Soup. Mock Turtle, St. Julien.

Fish. Cod and Oyster Sauce, Filleted Sole.

Removes. Roast Beef, Saddle Mutton, Roast Leg Mutton, Boiled Leg Mutton, Sucking Pig.

Poultry. Roast Turkey, Boiled Turkey, Boiled Chicken, Roast Goose, York Ham, Jugged Hare.

Entremet. Victuallers Pudding, Cabinet Pudding, Jellies.

Dessert.

The Secretary read the list of donations to the Benevolent Fund Councillor Zeller, £2 2s.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....
Then the magistrates also want to know if you can report to them during the sitting of this meeting as to the accommodation provided by the GEORGE HOTEL, the STORK, the DRAGON, the PRIORY, NEW INNS, the WOOLPACK, and the QUEENS?
.....the Chief Constable said he was then in possession of the information asked by the Magistrates with reference to the bedroom accommodation at the hotels. At the GEORGE HOTEL there were nineteen beds for commercials. The two large rooms at that hotel, formerly used for balls, &c, had been converted into eight bedrooms and a bathroom, and no plans had been submitted for the alterations. At the PRIORY there were six bedrooms for accommodation, five at the DRAGON, three at the QUEENS, but there was no bedroom accommodation at the STORK, NEW INNS, and the WOOLPACK Hotels.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the GEORGE.”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“The 47th annual dinner of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held at the STORK HOTEL, on Thursday night, when about 200 members and visitors sat down. The chair was occupied by Mr. Julius Rohmann (Foreign Wine Growers Company), and the vice chair was to have been taken by Councillor R. A. Harper, JP (Bilston), but he was unable to attend.....”

Walsall Observer 10/3/1900

“The annual meeting of the Walsall Cricket Club was held at the STORK HOTEL, on Monday night, when Mr. J. T. Cottam (president) occupied the chair.....”

Walsall Observer 25/8/1900

“The adjourned meeting of the Walsall Football Club was held on Wednesday night at the STORK HOTEL, when Councillor F. J. Zeller presided over a crowded attendance.....”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1900

“On Saturday night a smoking concert, in connection with Nos.1 and 2 branches of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, was held at the STORK HOTEL, when there was a crowded attendance.....”

Walsall Observer 8/12/1900

“The annual dinner of the Walsall Swimming Club was held at the STORK HOTEL, on Thursday night, when about fifty members and friends sat down.....”

1901 Census

26, Bridge Street – STORK HOTEL

- [1] Minnie E. Walker (28), unmarried, hotel manageress, born Dudley;
- [2] Edith E. Gossage (26), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [3] Kate A. Millington (26), barmaid, born Tipton;
- [4] William Hines (23), barman, born Longden, Staffordshire;
- [5] Sarah A. Hibbs (19), housemaid, born Wednesbury;
- [6] James A. Chavasse (30), visitor, born Handsworth;
- [7] Elizabeth Kirby (24), cook, born Stratford on Avon;
- [8] Ada Pillaway (19), housemaid, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Joseph Fletcher (18), billiard marker, born Birmingham;
- [10] George Dyson (19), billiard marker, born Worcester:

Hatherton Masonic Lodge (No.2474) met here every fourth Thursday. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Member. F. Machin, STORK HOTEL, Leicester Square.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/11/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week at the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane.....

New members..... Mr. George Hazelhurst, STORK HOTEL, Leicester Square.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1908

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Kennel Association, held at the STORK HOTEL on Monday evening, Mr. A. Richardson, on behalf of Messrs. Showell’s Brewery Company, presented a handsome silver cup to the association for annual competition. The conditions are that it shall be won three years in succession before becoming the permanent property of any exhibitor. On the motion of Mr. F. S. Wilson Smith, the chairman, a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Richardson and Messrs. Showell’s for their handsome gift.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/10/1908

“The following licenses were transferred.....

MALT SHOVEL, Lower Rushall Street, from Charles John Edwards to Thomas Clow.....

Regarding the transfers of the licenses of the MALT SHOVEL and the STORK HOTEL, Sir Edward Holden said there had been many changes recently, and the magistrates would like to have an explanation why these licenses had been transferred.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said that in the case of the MALT SHOVEL there were satisfactory reasons why the licenses had twice been transferred, but the reasons were of a private nature.

Mr. Richardson (representing Messrs. Showell and Sons) said that with respect to the STORK HOTEL the late manager, Mr. Hazelhurst, had left because he had obtained a better situation in Liverpool. Granted.”

Hatherton Masonic Lodge (No.2474) met here every fourth Tuesday. [1912]

Henry Frederick Machin – see also MARKET TAVERN.

Harry Stephens = Harry Stevens

1911 Census

STORK HOTEL

- [1] Harry W. J. Stevens (30), hotel manager, born Birmingham;
- [2] Cicily Louisa Stevens (27), wife, married 6 years, assisting in business, born Birmingham;
- [3] Cissie May Stevens (5), daughter, school, born Birmingham;
- [4] Albert Harry Ryenan (26), hotel boots, born Birmingham;
- [5] Lottie Knight (22), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [6] Edith Emma Neville (21), barmaid, born Burntwood;
- [7] Martha Annie Golby (21), waitress, born West Bromwich;
- [8] Annie Whitehead (21), barmaid, born Wolverhampton;

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

STORK HOTEL, Walsall, £5.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

STORK HOTEL, Leicester Square. £0 10s 11½d.”

South Staffordshire Times 21/2/1920

“A reception and smoking concert under the auspices of the Bilston, Walsall and Cannock districts of the National United Order of Free Gardeners was held at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall last week end, in honour of the appointment of Brother Abraham Smith P.D.M. (New Invention) as Grand Master of the Order, and to celebrate its centenary.....”

Walsall Observer 26/1/1924

“In the course of his presidential address at the Annual Meeting of the Bilston, Walsall, and Cannock District of Free Gardeners, held at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Saturday afternoon, Mr. George Lawrence appealed for a revival of pre-war interest in lodge meetings, and stated that the widespread unemployment was responsible for decreased membership.....”

Walsall Observer 9/2/1924

“After appearing in one of the witness boxes and being granted a license extension in respect of a dinner, Daniel Westwood, of the STORK HOTEL, crossed to the defendant’s box at Walsall Police Court, on Tuesday, and answered a summons for having a chimney on fire on February 1st. He had to pay the usual penalty of 5s.”

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

“A very happy evening was spent by some fifty members and their friends at the annual dinner of the Walsall Photographic Society, held at the STORK HOTEL, on Wednesday evening. The president (Mr. W. H. Shaw) presided.....”

AND

“The improvement in the status and the condition of the trade was emphasized in most of the speeches made at the annual dinner of the Walsall Master Bakers’ Association, which was held at the STORK HOTEL on Thursday evening, with Mr. J. Coole, the President, presiding over a good attendance.....”

Walsall Observer 10/5/1924

“The commendably high standard which recent sanctions shown in connection with the Walsall and District Kennel Association have reached very well maintained at headquarters, the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday evening. Entries totaled 160, and the quality in most classes were exceedingly good.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/7/1927

“The first Walsall and District Kennel Association members sanction show of the season was held on Tuesday at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall. There were 123 entries, and a large attendance. Numerous prizes were awarded.”

Walsall Observer 18/11/1939

“Whether, because of the war, there should be any change in policy respecting the licensing of social functions after 10pm, is a question that has been considered by the Walsall Licensing Committee; and the general attitude decided upon was made known at a sessions held at the Guildhall on Thursday.

The justices had before them two applications for extensions that had been adjourned from ordinary sittings of the magistrates, the Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton) explaining that the magistrates to whom the applications were originally made felt that the question of wartime extensions should first be given full consideration by the licensing committee.

Asked if he had any objection to the applications, the Chief Constable (Mr. T. M. Watson) replied, 'I have no objection at all. I think, as a matter of fact, it would be a pity to cut out all functions of this kind. I think we ought to keep our spirits up.'

Announcing that both applications would be granted, Mr. H. Hucker (presiding) said it must be understood that all future applications would be dealt with on their merits.

One of the two applications was for an hour's extension at the STORK that evening to enable the Walsall Swimming Club to entertain and RAF team from Hednesford after the aquatic gala."

Walsall Observer 4/5/1940

"That a complete scheme for remodelling the STORK HOTEL is to be submitted to the licensing justices immediately war-time building restrictions have been raised, was mentioned at a Walsall transfer sessions held at the Guildhall on Thursday.

On the application of Mr. Frank Cooper, the justices sanctioned certain minor structural alterations, which, Mr. Cooper explained, would fit into the complete scheme contemplated later on. Sanctioned."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Nicholls, STORK HOTEL. £0 18s 8d."

Walsall Observer 2/12/1966

"It is essential that the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society should have 100 per cent membership, said its chairman, Mr. W. Ruck, at the society's annual meeting at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Thursday last....."

It was renamed DIRTY DUCK in the 1960s.

It was renamed BLACK SWAN.

[2003]

It became STUDIO 45.

It closed in January 2007 after a spate of violent attacks.

Closed [2009], [2017]

BLOXWICH SHOWMAN

High Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

J. D. Wetherspoon

LICENSEES

Tony Carty (2015 – []

Ricky Suman [2016] pub manager

Lisa Watkins [2016] duty manager

NOTES

Express & Star 29/1/2015

"A new £1.95million pub named after one of Bloxwich's most famous residents has opened its doors at a former cinema in the town. The BLOXWICH SHOWMAN replaces the old Electric Palace cinema in High Street. It was opened by JD Wetherspoon this week.

The name of the pub, which specialises in real ales and craft beer, takes its inspiration from King of Showmen Pat Collins, who lived in Bloxwich and helped set up the famous fun fair in 1875. To mark the opening, a Pat Collins truck was rolled outside before the ribbon was cut by staff.

The pub was initially expected to create 45 jobs, but it will now employ 57 new workers, bringing a welcome boost to the community.

The former cinema building, which is one of the area's landmarks, has been empty since 2011, when the Electric Palace youth club moved out. The youth club took its name from the first of the two cinemas on this site. The Electric Palace opened in 1912. Manager Tony Carty said, 'Myself and my team are looking forward to welcoming customers into the pub and we are confident that it will be a great addition to the Bloxwich community.'

The new-look pub, which is on two floors, features one bar, as well as a beer garden to the side of the premises, where smoking is permitted in a designated area. The inside has been decorated with historical memorabilia on Bloxwich including photographs of landmark buildings and characters. Bosses are also displaying artwork by artists Nick Logan and Drusilla Cole.

Mr. Collins, who made Bloxwich his home from 1915, set up what became the Showman's Guild and was its longest serving president. He was a Liberal MP for Walsall in the 1920s and was mayor in 1938. He died in 1943 and was buried in Bloxwich Cemetery."

Black Country Bugle 2/3/2022

Article by Steve James

"In Bloxwich, the Old Electric Palace cinema opened in 1912 and seated 400 people, but closed in 1922 to make way for the Grosvenor Cinema, built by Pat Collins. He was a local amusements and fairground owner who established the Showman's Guild. When Wetherspoons refurbished the building at a cost of £1.9m in 2014, it was named the BLOXWICH SHOWMAN after him."

[2019]

BLUE BELL

Church Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Holland [1834]

Benjamin Hancock [1835]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/9/1834 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that old established Public House the BLUE BELL, situated in Church Street, Walsall, now in the occupation of Mr. John Holland, who is retiring from the public business in consequence of other engagements. The Furniture and Stock to be taken at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply to F. Farrington and Son, Appraisers and Auctioneers, Walsall."

BLUE PIG

Elmore Green Road, (15, Elmore Green), (New Street), (12, Elmore Row), Elmore Green, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

John Moreton

Mrs. Sarah Ann Moreton

John Sanders

South Staffordshire Brewery Company [1904]

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Perkins [1828] – [1831]
William Radnall [1834] – [1842]
William Sanders [1849] – [1851]
James Morton [1857] – [1860]
John Somerfield [1861]
John Moreton [1860] – [1872];
Mrs. Sarah Ann Moreton [];
John Sanders [1881] – 1891);
Isaiah Millington (1891 – 1893);
William Lister (1893 – 1894);
William Daniel (1894 – 1899);
Henry Badger (1899 – 1900);
Mrs. Hannah Appleby (1900 – 1902);
David Lawrence (1902 – 1905);
William Henry Roberts (1905 – 1911);
William Parkes (1911 – 1915);
John William Parkes (1915);
Job Thomas Derby (1915 – 1930);
William Charles Waterfield (1930);
Morris Frank Powis (1930 – 1931);
Thomas Male (1931);

NOTES

New Street

15, Elmore Green [1871]
12, Elmore Row [1881], [1901]
Elmore Row [1912]
Elmore Green Road [1911]

It was a home brew house.

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

“...in 1818 an improvised election address on benches outside the pub was mobbed by angry Bloxwegians with the politicians seeking refuge in the bar.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/3/1831 - Advert

“Sale of Farming Stock and Household Furniture, at the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich.

By Mr. John Farrington, To Be Sold by Auction, on the premises, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 23rd and 24th of March, all the Live Stock, which consists of eighteen prime wether tegs, five excellent cows in calf, one cow and calf, one feeding cow, one hackney horse, five years old, one fat pig, three store pigs, one yelt, waggons, butcher's cart, quantity of wheat straw, about sixty tons of excellent manure; all the household furniture, brewing utensils, well-seasoned ale casks, fifty bushels of prime malt, three pockets of excellent hops, three hundred gallons of fine fresh ale, and a variety of other effects, belong to Mr. Perkin, of the BLUE PIG, who is leaving the premises.

Sale to commence at ten precisely.

The livestock will be sold on the first day, particulars in catalogues, and will be distributed in due time, and may be had at the office of the Auctioneer, Walsall.”

William Radnall = William Rednall

Walsall Free Press 22/8/1857

“James Morton, landlord of the BLUE PIG at Bloxwich, was charged on the information of Police-constable Hughes with keeping his house open for the sale of beer on Sunday morning. The defendant did not appear, and was fined 10s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 3/3/1860

“John Martin [sic], landlord of the BLUE PIG, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly. From the evidence of Sergeant Martin it appeared that about half-past twelve on Sunday morning last, he found defendant in front of his own house, with his shoes off, challenging anyone to run a race. Sergeant Martin requested him to go into the house, but instead of doing so he put himself in a fighting attitude, and after challenging him (Martin) and police-constable Roberts to fight, he aimed a blow at the latter. Defendant, who pleaded extenuation that he had been having a glass with a friend, was fined 10s and 10s 6d costs.”

Walsall Free Press 22/9/1860

“The activity of the inspector of weights and measures in detecting, and the magistrates in punishing, this species of offence, cannot be too highly commended. Perseverance in such a course will not fail to result in the breaking up and suppression of a system of swindling too prevalent in our neighbourhood, by which the poorer classes are openly and shamefully defrauded.

We have to record the convictions of four offenders in this class John Moreton, BLUE PIG INN, Bloxwich, four unjust measures. All the parties were fined 1s and costs, and cautioned.”

Walsall Free Press 6/4/1861

“John Morton, landlord of the BLUE PIG, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, who appeared in court with a frightful cut extending from the forehead over the nose, to below the right eye, was charged by police-constable No.13 with being drunk and assaulting the police, at half-past two on Wednesday morning last. The officer deposed to the outrageous conduct of defendant, to his (witness’) efforts to quiet him, and to being struck on the nose by him. Defendant had not much to say, except that he was drunk. The Bench in commenting upon the highly improper conduct of a person in defendant’s position, sentenced him to be imprisoned for seven days, without the option of a fine.”

1861 Census

Elmore Green

- [1] John Somerfield (37), public house and awl blade maker employing 1 man and 2 boys, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jane Somerfield (35), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Sobey Askey [Sobeaske] Somerfield (12), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary Jane Somerfield (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Somerfield (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Edward Byott (10), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Sarah Lane (17), public house servant, born Bloxwich;
- [8] William Hiley (15), awl blade maker’s apprentice, born Bloxwich:

John Somerfield – see also THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/1/1864

“Young Pike of Bloxwich, hearing that Davis of Rushell is in want of a job, he will fight him at 6st 8lb, for £10 or £15 a side, or his own sum. Money ready at Mr. Morton’s, the BLUE PIG, Elmore Green, Bloxwich.”

1871 Census

15, Elmore Green – BLUE PIG

- [1] John Moreton (49), publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Sarah Ann Moreton (55), wife, born Brockmore [Brockmoor, Brierley Hill?], Staffordshire;
- [3] Joseph Sanders (25), son, brush maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ellen Baker (19), general servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Thomas Baker (23), visitor, miner, born Wolverhampton:

1881 Census

12, Elmore Row – BLUE PIG

- [1] John Sanders (36), bit maker, employing 3 men and 2 boys, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Sanders (34), wife, born Blakenhall;
- [3] Florence Sanders (12), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Anne Sanders (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Harry Sanders (6), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Thead Sanders (4), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Lillie Sanders (1), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Sarah A. Morton (65), widow, mother, annuitant, born Brockmore [Brockmoor, Brierley Hill?], Staffordshire;
- [9] Frank Williams (14), apprentice, bit filer, born Olbey, Staffordshire:

1891 Census

12, Elmore Row – BLUE PIG INN

- [1] Isaiah Millington (49), widower, victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Emma E. Millington (14), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Harriet A. Philips (24), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/8/1894

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, William Daniel, the BLUE PIG INN, Elmore Row, Bloxwich, was charged with being drunk on his own licensed premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) appeared for the defendant. Police-sergeant Willets and Police-constable Yardley deposed that on the night of the 1st inst. they found defendant drunk and asleep in his smoke room. The defence was that he was not drunk, but had fallen asleep through fatigue, he having been sitting up all the preceding night with his wife, who was ill. Mr. Jackson, in speaking on his client's behalf, said a conviction would be a very serious matter to the defendant, inasmuch as it would probably entail the forfeiture of the lease of the house, for which he had given £300. In cross-examination, the defendant admitted he had offered to give a certain sum to the hospital if a summons were not issued. The magistrates imposed a fine of 20s and costs, and declined to allow a contribution to the hospital."

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

"Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday.....

The licenses of William Webster, ROYAL OAK, Stafford Street; Thomas Watson, ROYAL OAK, Harden Lane; Anna Maria Grant, the NAG'S HEAD, Ablewell Street; and William Daniel, BLUE PIG, Elmore Row, were renewed."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Since the 30th August, 1898, 8 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against, 2 of whom were convicted, viz.....

7th April, William Daniel, BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, fined 40s and costs and license endorsed for selling liquor to drunken persons (Endorsement of license was removed on appeal).....

The Chief Constable opposed the license of the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, on the ground that on the 7th April, Wm. Daniel was convicted and fined 40s and costs for selling liquor to drunken persons, and the license was endorsed, but the endorsement was removed on appeal. On the second ground that the license was not demanded by the neighbourhood.

Mr. Wilcock, representing the owners, said he admitted the conviction, but there was a considerable amount of difference of opinion in regard to the case. The conviction still stood, but there had been an appeal against the penalty then inflicted, and after full investigation it was considered that the penalty was too great for the offence committed, and the most serious part of it – the endorsement of the license – had been removed, and in view of that he thought it would be a very harsh proceeding to take not to renew the license.....

On returning the Magistrates announced their decisions as under....

BLUE PIG, the renewal of the license adjourned until the licensing day, and the Chief Constable was directed to bring further evidence as to the nature of the premises and the requirement of the neighbourhood."

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

"The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Notice of objection had been given to the renewal of the license of the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, at the annual meeting on the ground that there had been a conviction and an endorsement of the license. The case had been adjourned for further evidence as to the need of the license in the district. Evidence was now given by Inspector Alden as to the distance of seven other licensed houses in the vicinity which varied from 92 yards to nearly 300 from the BLUE PIG, whilst there were only 52 houses which were nearer the BLUE PIG than to any other licensed premises.

Mr. Willcock, who supported the application, said this was a case on which there had been an appeal, and the Court of Appeal removed the endorsement of the license.

The Mayor said the majority of the magistrates had decided to renew the license."

William Daniel – see also NAGS HEAD (BEACON WAY), Bloxwich, and VINE, Bloxwich.

1901 Census

12, Elmore Row

[1] Hannah Appleby (50), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Joseph Appleby (23), son, lockmaker, born Bloxwich;

[3] Annie Hodson (25), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

David Lawrence, BLUE PIG."

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

BLUE PIG, Bloxwich. David Lawrence, landlord; owners South Staffordshire Brewery Company. Objection was taken that there was a back-way from the house, and that it was not required.

In reply to the Bench, Inspector Marshall said the house did a fairly good business, and in his opinion was required. Renewed."

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Jackson applied to build a wall round the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, in order to shut off the unlicensed area from the licensed area. Refused."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough, adjourned from the previous Wednesday, were resumed on Tuesday.....
Mr. Loxton read out the following decisions the magistrates had come to.....
Alterations to the following houses were refused: BLUE PIG, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/8/1911

“William Parkes, of the BLUE PIG INN, Bloxwich, was ordered to pay the costs, for allowing two pigs to stray in Church Street, Bloxwich, on the 27th July, Police-constable Horton giving evidence.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, 18s 10½d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/6/1915

“William Parkes, BLUE PIG INN, Bloxwich was summoned at Walsall yesterday for being drunk on his own licensed premises. It was stated that defendant was drunk in the tap-room, and as he refused to go to bed Police-sergeant Wooley took him to the police station. Mr. F. Cooper, who defended, said Parker had been upset by domestic trouble. He had held licenses for ten years without complaint. Alderman Clare said the Bench would treat defendant as they would any other first offender. The case would be dismissed on payment of costs.”

Walsall Observer 25/9/1915

“Applications were made for the transfer of several licenses.....
The license of the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, was transferred from William Parkes to John William Parkes, on the application of Mr. F. Cooper, who afterwards asked for a temporary authority in respect of the same license to Job Thomas Darby. In reply to the Mayor, Mr. Cooper said that J. W. Parkes had been in possession for a fortnight. Granted.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BLUE PIG, Bloxwich. £1 0s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 5/6/1926

“New Hope in Coal Situation.
How Unemployment and Relief Have Increased During the Fifth Week of Stoppage.....
Soup kitchens were yesterday opened by the Walsall Miners’ Distress Committee in the Bloxwich and Leamore districts for the feeding of about 2,000 members of miners’ families. The stations were – BLUE PIG INN (1,300 fed), TURF TAVERN (160), Field Street School (175), BLACK HORSE, Leamore (250), Blakenall Church Schools (250), and the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich (150). Although the committee are short of funds, they are taking the risk of carrying on the feeding for at least a week, and will continue if more money is forthcoming. It is estimated that the week’s effort will cost about £100. Seventeen gallons of milk, which have been given daily by Mr. Sid Field, of Blue Lane, have also been distributed this week.”

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

“Walsall Licensing Sessions.....
The following five houses, all of Bloxwich, were referred for compensation:
CARRIERS ARMS, Field Road; STATION HOTEL, Station Street; VICTORIA STORES, High Street; BLUE PIG, Elmore Row; and the VINE INN, The Green.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority in 1929.
It was renewed.

It closed on 18th May 1931.
The license was transferred to the STAG HOTEL, Field Road.

It was demolished, and the public library was built on the site.

BLUE PIG

58, (59+58), New Street, (Newgate Street), (George Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Lucas, near Coventry
William Brown

LICENSEES

Charles Butler [1813] – [1835]
Nicholas Roper [1834] – [1845]
William Brown I (1846 – [1875]
William Brown II (1879 – 1908);
Mrs. Emma Brown (1908 – 1929);
William Brown III [1911] ?
Charlotte Augusta Brown (1929 – 1930);
Charles Guest (1930 – 1931);
Arthur Patrick Hopkins (1931 – 1932);

NOTES

George Street [1818], [1835]
Newgate Street
58, New Street [1860], [1861], [1871], [1908], [1932]
58+59, New Street [1881], [1891], [1901]

BLUE BOAR [1818], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1834]
BLUE PIG [1851], [1860], [1871], [1904], [1912]

It had a beerhouse license.

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Charles Butler, victualler, and Birmingham carrier, sets out from the BLUE PIG, New Street, Walsall, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday mornings, to the Lyttletons Arms, Snow Hill, Birmingham, and returns at seven o'clock in the evening of the same days.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/2/1831 - Advert

“To Publicans, Farmers, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. T. Bowen, without the least reserve, on Wednesday and Thursday next, the 2nd and 3rd of March, 1831, the whole of the Household Furniture, capital brewing vessels, dairy utensils, stock in trade, and excellent Beer Machine, with four motions, two copper boilers, a brick oven, strong working Horse, Cart, several lots of Harness, and about seven hundred tons of good rich manure, &c. the property of Mr. Charles Butler, of the BLUE PIG, New Street, Walsall.

Catalogues may be had at the office of the Auctioneer, Digbeth, Walsall.

N.B. The Cart, Horse, Harness, and several lots of manure will be offered at four o'clock on Thursday afternoon.”

Charles Butler, retailer of beer, George Street. [1835]

1841 Census

New Street

- [1] Nicholas Roper (45), curb chainmaker, born Staffordshire;
- [2] William Roper (20), chainmaker, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Edwin Roper (20), chainmaker, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Nicholas Roper junr (15), saddler's apprentice, born Staffordshire;
- [5] George Arnold (15):

Nicholas Roper was also a roller buckle and curb and chain maker. [1845]

William Brown = William Browne

1851 Census

New Street

- [1] William Brown (38), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Brown (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] George Brown (8), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Yates (14), house servant, born Walsall:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/10/1852

“Thomas Peers of Bloxwich and Thomas White of Birmingham are matched to walk one mile, for £10 a side, at Aston Cross, Birmingham, Peers to receive 20 yards start. They meet tomorrow (Monday) night, at Mr. Brown's, BLUE PIG, Walsall, the 25th inst, to sign articles, and make their deposit into £2 10s a side.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/6/1854

“Reuben Craddock of Bloxwich and Samuel Wallace of Darlaston have entered into fresh articles to run their disputed mile again, at Lichfield, on Monday, July 10, Craddock to receive 20 yards start. Mr. William Browne, of the BLUE PIG, Walsall, is appointed referee.”

Walsall Free Press 21/3/1857

“County Court. Adams v. Brown.

This was an action bought by the plaintiff, who is a forgerman residing at Wednesbury, and for whom Mr. Duignan appeared, to recover the sum of £10, the value of a watch and chain illegally retained by the defendant, who is landlord of the BLUE PIG Public-house, New Street, Walsall, who was represented by Mr. Wilkinson. From the plaintiff's evidence it appeared that on January 30th, he, the defendant, and several others, had been at a supper party at the LAMP TAVERN, Wednesbury, and the grog having been freely circulated, a bet was made as to who was the best dancer, Adams or Brown. The former not having £1 in his pocket, which was the amount of the bet, he staked his watch, while he went to borrow the money. This he did not succeed in getting; and when he returned the watch had disappeared into the custody of the defendant. Since that time the property had not been restored to him; but his son being in company when the watch was offered for sale in his father's house, a man named Wright bought it for a sovereign, so that the plaintiff could have it back for the sum which had been paid for it, but which had found its way into Brown's pocket. Mr. Wilkinson subjected the witness to a severe cross-examination. It was elicited from the plaintiff's son that he had seen Brown, and told him that if his father lost the action, he should give the watch to him, and if he won, he might buy one for himself. He and his father went to defendant's to ask why the watch had not been given up, and when the latter said he had sent it to him the day before by Wright, which appeared to be the case, the watch being in the son's possession when he demanded it. Mr. Wilkinson addressed the court for defendant submitting that it was a scheme to defraud the defendant out of £10, knowing very well he could not produce the watch, it being in the custody of his son at the time. John Wright deposed that he went to Mr. Brown and asked for the watch, and it was given up to him on payment of £1. This money he was to have returned to him when he delivered up the watch; and it was this he received when the plaintiff's son took the watch from him. The sovereign had been paid by Adams' authority to Brown. After a short consultation the jury gave judgement for the plaintiff, 20s and costs.”

1861 Census

58, New Street

- [1] William Brown (46), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Brown (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Brown (9), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Brown (1), son, born Walsall:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/6/1866

“Young Holden of Walsall wishes to inform J. Hawkes of London that he would be most happy to accommodate him at 8st, for £50 or £100 a side, and no less. By covering £2 10s at Bells Life and forwarding articles to Holden at Mr. Brown's, BLUE PIG INN, New Street, Walsall, he may ensure a match; to fight on the same conditions as before. If this does not suit, Holden will fight any other man in England on the same conditions, the fight to take place in the midland district.”

1871 Census

58, New Street – BLUE PIG

- [1] William Brown (57), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann Brown (57), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Brown (17), son, japanner, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Brown (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Wilkes (15), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of William Brown, the BLUE PIG, New Street were adjourned.”

1881 Census

59+58, New Street – BLUE PIG

- [1] William Brown (29), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Brown (29), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Brown (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Eliza Brown (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Paulina Westley (30), sister in law, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Simkin (19), visitor, dress maker, born Darlaston;

[7] Eliza Berry (11), visitor, scholar, born Walsall:

1891 Census

58+59, New Street

- [1] William Brown (39), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Brown (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Maud M. Brown (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Brown (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Brown (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] George J. R. Brown (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Robert W. Brown (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] George H. Brown (1), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Antony McKeever (50), brother in law, caster, born Ireland;
- [10] Elza McKeever (45), sister, born Walsall;
- [11] Kate Stokes (19), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown’s, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. William Brown, BLUE PIG INN New Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. William Brown, BLUE PIG INN, New Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 16/10/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at Mr. William Brown’s, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1898

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of the vice-president (Mr. W. Brown), BLUE PIG INN.....”

William Brown II was vice president of Walsall and District LVA [1900], [1902]

1901 Census

58+59, New Street

- [1] William Brown (49), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Brown (49), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Brown (24), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [4] Eliza Brown (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Robert Brown (16), son, pattern maker, born Walsall;
- [6] George Brown (12), son, born Walsall;
- [7] John W. Brown (8), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Mabel Gladys Brown (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Anthony McKeaver (60), lodger, iron caster, born Mayo, Ireland;
- [10] Eliza McKeaver (54), lodger, born Walsall;
- [11] Charlotte Hammond (21), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [12] Alice Mason (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/6/1908

“Amid many signs of sincere regret the remains of Mr. William Brown, whose death took place on Wednesday of last week, after a short illness at the BLUE PIG, New Street, were laid to rest at the Rycroft Cemetery, on Monday. The deceased gentleman was widely known in town in many circles, and his decease after so short an illness, came as a great shock to many, and especially to those with whom he was more intimately connected. He was born at the inn, in which his death took place, on March 22nd 1852, and although receiving a good education, was brought up as a japanner by trade. In 1879, however, he gave up his trade to take possession of the BLUE PIG on February 10th, superseding his father, who had held the license since 1846. Deceased joined the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society early, and at the time of his death, was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, of the members of the society, and had occupied the chief position of honour. He was an ardent supporter of the Walsall Cricket Club and rarely was absent from matches, and his genial face will be missed by many. As the possessor of some of the finest homing pigeons deceased was very well known by pigeon-lovers all over the Midlands, having reared some of the best homers in his day. He was highly esteemed by all with whom he came into contact, and although of a quiet disposition, he had a kindly nature which found favour with all living around him. A widow and grown up family are left to mourn his loss. The Rev. A. Price (Vicar and Rural Dean) officiated at the graveside.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/11/1900

“Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. William Brown, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....”

1911 Census

58, New Street

- [1] William Brown (34), brewer public house, born Walsall;
- [2] Charlotte Augusta Brown (35), wife, married 2 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Eliza Brown (32), sister, born Walsall;
- [4] John Westley Brown (18), brother, currier, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Statham (17), servant, born Wrockwardine Wood, Shropshire;
- [6] Nellie Wilks (14), servant, born Walsall;
- [7] William Brown (9 months), son, born Walsall:

[The licensing register had Emma, William III’s mother, as the licensee until 1929, although she is not resident at the time of the 1911 Census.]

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BLUE PIG, New Street, Walsall, 13s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BLUE PIG, New Street. £0 6s 7½d.”

It closed on 7th April 1932.

The license was transferred to the FOUR CROSSES, Green Lane.

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKE-SPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

BOAT

70, (174), (60), (Upper) Green Lane, Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Simmons [1861]
William Price, Birchills, Walsall
Robinson’s Brewery Co. Ltd.
Arthur Beebee Ltd. [1905], [1910]

LICENSEES

Henry Raybould [1857]
Thomas Simmons [1859] – [1862]
Richard Foxall [1871] – [1872];
George Davies [];
William Stubbs [1881];
Eliza Foxall [] – 188_);
Jane Leech (188_ – 188_);

Edward Taylor (188_ – 1890);
George Dugmore (1890 – 1892);
George Isaac Everiss (1892 – 1893);
George Gray (1893);
Benjamin Walker (1893 – 1894);
Frederick Taylor (1894);
Frank Barber (1894 – 1896);
Lydia Richards (1896 – 1897);
Dudley Parkes (1897 – 1899);
James Nicholls (1899 – 1903);
William Parkes (1903 – 1905);
James Parkes [1904] ?
Arthur George Saunders (1905 – 1911);
Thomas Taylor (1911 – 1912);
Edwin Bicknell (1912 – 1913);
William Clamp (1913 – 1914);
Agnes Annie Clamp (1914 – 1923);
Thomas Lander (1923);

NOTES

60, Green Lane [1861]
174, Green Lane [1871]
70, Green Lane [1891], [1901], [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1857 - Advert

“Freehold Public House, and Other Messuages, situate at The Birchills, Walsall.
To Be Sold By Auction by Mr. Henry Farrington, at Mr. Baker’s, the SWANN INN, Park Street, Walsall, On Monday, 23rd of February, 1857, At Seven o’clock in the Evening, subject to Conditions.
Lot 1. All that Public-house known by the Sign of the BOAT, with the Yard, Brewhouse, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in Green Lane, at the Birchills aforesaid, in the occupation of Mr. Henry Raybould, at the yearly rent of £20. And also all those nine Dwelling-house thereto adjoining, with the Appurtenances, producing together a yearly rental of between £40 and £50.”

Walsall Free Press 9/7/1859 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction, by Mr. H. Farrington, at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on Tuesday the 26th day of July, 1859, at seven o’clock in the evening. Subject to conditions.
Lot 1. All that well accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the BOAT, containing bar, tap-room, parlour, club-room, &c, with the yard, brewhouse, and other outbuildings thereto belonging, situate in Green Lane, Walsall, and now occupied by Mr. Thomas Simmons, at the yearly rent of £20; and also those Seven Houses, thereto adjoining, four of which front to Green Lane aforesaid, and produce a yearly income of £20 16s, and the remaining three of which are situate at the back of the said four, and produce a yearly income of £11 14s.....”

Walsall Free Press 22/10/1859

“Thomas Simmons, landlord of the BOOT [sic] beerhouse, pleaded guilty to having had his house open during prohibited hours, and was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, he having been previously convicted.”

1861 Census

60, Green Lane – BOAT INN
[1] Thomas Simmons (30), victualler, born Walsall;
[2] Sarah Simmons (27), wife, born Bilston;
[3] Simeon Simmons (1), son, born Walsall;
[4] William Richards (26), visitor, bricklayer, born London;
[5] Rebecca Glover (16), house servant, born Shrewsbury:

Walsall Free Press 23/11/1861

“Thomas Simmons, keeper of the BOAT beerhouse, Birchills, was summoned by the police for having his house open after lawful hours, on the 17th inst. He pleaded guilty. A conviction in a penalty of 10s had been inflicted on the defendant about two years ago for a similar offence. Since that time (the police stated) the house had been well conducted. A fine of 5s and costs was inflicted.”

Thomas Simmons, retailer of beer, Green Lane. [1862]

London Gazette 30/10/1866

“Thomas Simmons, of Bloxwich, and late of Walsall, both in Stafford, beerhouse keeper and boatman.”

Walsall Free Press 21/1/1871

“Yesterday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the Cottage Hospital, upon the body of Moses Roberts, aged 26, labourer, who came by his death under the following circumstances. On Tuesday evening the deceased went to assist Mr. Foxall, landlord of the BOAT INN, Birchills, to brew. About 11 o'clock, as he was reaching across the copper for some hops, he fell head-forwards into the boiling water with which the copper was filled. In his endeavours to extricate himself, Roberts dragged the whole of his body into the copper, and by this means was scalded from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot. He, however, succeeded in getting out of the copper; and by the time the parties attracted by his cries reached the brew-house door, they met him coming out. He was immediately conveyed to the Cottage Hospital, where after lying in great agony, he expired at 1.30am on Thursday. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Accidental Scalding.”

1871 Census

174, Green Lane – BOAT INN

- [1] Richard Foxall (34), publican, born Bridgnorth;
- [2] Eliza Foxall (35), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Mary Foxall (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Foxall (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Richard Foxall (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Agnes Foxall (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Mary Tong (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

Green Lane – The BOAT INN

- [1] William Stubbs (57), beerhouse keeper, born Pembridge, Herefordshire;
 - [2] Elizabeth Stubbs (58), wife, born Clun, Shropshire;
 - [3] Sarah A. Stubbs (23), daughter, barmaid, born Kidderminster;
 - [4] Thomas Stubbs (21), son, engine fitter (unemployed), born Kidderminster;
 - [5] Frank E. Stubbs (14), son, scholar, born Kidderminster;
 - [6] Elizabeth Croft (22), visitor, dressmaker, born Kidderminster;
 - [7] Harriet Morton (15), general servant, born Bloxwich:
- [Pembridge is about 7 miles W of Leominster.]

Walsall Advertiser 24/11/1888 - Advert

“Summary of Auction Sales by Walter Hughes.....
Thursday next, at 12, at the BOAT INN, Birchills.
Unreserved Sale of Excellent Modern Brewing Plant.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses George Dugmore, the BOAT INN, Birchills, who had given notice of their intention to apply, did not appear.”

1891 Census

70, Green Lane – BOAT INN

- [1] George Dugmore (36), licensed victualler, born Willenhall;
- [2] Therese Dugmore (30), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Gertrude M. Dugmore (10), daughter, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [4] Philip M. Dugmore (7), son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [5] Louis M. Dugmore (6), son, scholar, born Cradley Heath;
- [6] Mary Erasmus (14), domestic servant, born Wales:

Walsall Observer 20/10/1900

“Yesterday, an inquest was held by Mr. T. H. Stanley (Borough Coroner), at the BOAT INN, Birchills, on the body of Maude Price (7), whose parents lived at 106, Upper Green Lane.

Mary Price, mother of the deceased, gave evidence of identification, and stated that on Tuesday last, October 16th, she had occasion to go out, leaving deceased and three other little ones, the eldest of whom was six. Before she got to the forge in Green Lane, a girl named Rose Cordwell overtook her and said, ‘Oh, come back, Maude is nearly burnt to death.’ Witness hurried back, and found Maude in the kitchen badly burnt. She had a doctor to see her, but she died on Thursday. Deceased told her she was putting the kettle on the fire, when her frock became ignited. So far as witness knew, she had never done this before. There was no fireguard.

Rose Cordwell, 107, Upper Green Lane, gave evidence that hearing some shouting in the next house, she went to the door, and saw deceased with her dress all in flames. She came out into the yard, where Louisa Pain extinguished the flames, and witness went for her aunt (Mrs. Price).

Louisa Pain, 103, Upper Green Lane, stated that hearing the child screaming she ran out into the yard and pulled the burning clothes from off the child, who was then attended to by neighbours.

Dr. P. Anchore stated that on Tuesday he was passing up Green Lane when he was called in to see the child, who was burnt about the chest, abdomen, left arm, both thighs and knees. They were of an extensive and dangerous character. The mother objected to the child going to the hospital. He prescribed for the child, and next day found her a little better, but on Thursday he found her dead. Death, in his opinion, was due to shock, caused by the burns. Immediately he saw the child he made up his mind that it was a fatal case.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1900

“Thomas Russell, aged 14, of 43, Birchills, was placed in the dock on a charge of stealing two long-homer pigeons, value 30s, the property of Samuel Nicholls, boat builder, the BOAT INN, Birchills. At about six o’clock on Saturday evening prosecutor noticed a ladder against his pigeon loft. On going up the ladder and striking a match he found prisoner there. Asked what he was doing there, he replied that he was ‘after a pigeon he had lost.’ He threw one pigeon to the floor, and on coming down the ladder he had another in his shirt. Prisoner was handed over to Police-constable Burdett.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge and said he was looking for a pigeon he had lost.

His stepmother said the boy kept pigeons and had lost one.

He was ordered to be kept in custody until his father had given him a thrashing in front of the Chief Constable or Inspector Balance.”

1901 Census

70, Green Lane

[1] James Nicholls (60), boat builder, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah A. Nicholls (56), wife, born Swan Village, Staffordshire;

[3] Samuel Nicholls (25), son, boat builder, born Walsall;

[4] Sarah M. Nicholls (22), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Annie Hewens (12), granddaughter, born Walsall;

[6] Emma Robins (17), domestic servant, born Swan Village, Staffordshire:

[There were at least 2 Swan Villages, one at West Bromwich and one at Woodsetton.]

James Parkes, beer retailer, 70, Green Lane, Birchills. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1905 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell St., Walsall.

Houses.....

The BOAT, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of four other houses on the ground of the peculiar system of trade which they carried on, and those he referred to were; FORGE INN, Pleck Road; FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street; BOAT INN, Green Lane; and the RISING SUN. Continuing, the Chief Constable stated the landlady or landlord of the houses in question gave out checks to men who then hung about neighbouring works, and did business with the checks on a 10 per cent commission. It appeared that these men got 22s worth of checks for 20s, and they disposed of these checks to men who wanted beer but had no money. The men for a shilling’s worth of checks each paid 1s 3d the next Saturday.

The Bench now ordered that the whole of the licenses mentioned should stand over until the adjourned licensing day.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

Arthur George Sanders, BOAT, Green Lane, applied for a public singing and music license on Thursday evenings from 7.30 to 10.45pm, on the occasion of the practice of a bona fide musical society. Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared for the applicant. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home-Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.

Houses.....

The BOAT, Green Lane, Walsall.”

1911 Census

70, Green Lane – BOAT INN

- [1] Arthur George Saunders (35), roll turner iron and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
[2] Susannah Saunders (34), wife, married 14 years, born Walsall;
[3] Evelyn Cameron Saunders (13), daughter, born Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire;
[4] Arthur Saunders (3), son, born Walsall:

Thomas Taylor, beer retailer, 70, Upper Green Lane, Birchills. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BOAT INN, Green Lane. £0 8s 9d.”

A. Clamp was the last licensee?

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority.
Compensation was paid on 8th October 1923.
It closed on 15th October 1923.

Walsall Observer 19/1/1924

“For the sum of £250 inclusive of costs, the Walsall Town Council decided, on Monday, to purchase from the Robinson’s Brewery Co. Ltd. the delicensed property formerly known as the BOAT INN and situate in Green Lane.”

BOAT

Walsall Wood Road, Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Davis

LICENSEES

William Purchase [1850]
Thomas Dawes [1854]
William Plant [1857]
William Davis and Thomas Stokes [1860] – 1861;
William Davis (1861 – []

NOTES

BOATSWAINS WELL [1861]

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/3/1847

“Inquests held this week by George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner.....

On Monday at the BOAT INN, Walsall Wood, on the body of John Birch, aged 6 years. It appeared that on the 9th instant the deceased was walking before a horse and a loaded waggon of bricks, which were being conveyed along a railway leading from Mr. Berris’s brick and tile yard to the canal. The horse being close behind him, his foot caught one of the sleepers, when he fell down, and the horse and one of the wheels passed over one of his legs, dreadfully fracturing it. The deceased was taken to his father’s house, and, after lingering until the 21st instant, he expired. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/9/1854

“On Thursday, the Magistrates R. C. Chawner, W. E. Jones, Edward Scott, and W. Mott, Esqs, assembled at the BUTTS INN, for the purpose of granting and renewing licenses for various houses in the district. The landlords who had been fined during the past year were reprimanded. There were seven applications for new licenses: Mr. Duignan applied for and obtained a spirit license for the BOAT INN, Walsall Wood, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Dawes.....”

Birmingham Journal 16/5/1857

“County Court. Insolvents.....

William Plant, formerly a glass, china, and earthenware dealer in Worcester, and lately the BOAT INN, Walsall Wood, underwent his first examination. Mr. Thomas Smallhouse, Coventry, supported the petition, which was opposed by Mr. Levy Hinchliffe, clerk to Messrs. Smith and Hodnett, Stourbridge. The petition was granted, and the final hearing fixed for 11th of June.”

1861 Census

Walsall Wood Road – BOAT INN

- [1] William Davis (58), publican, born Trentham, Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Davis (61), wife, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Martha Davis (29), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Doratha Davis (27), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Alice M. Davis (3), granddaughter, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/12/1861 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Public House and Cottages, at Walsall Wood, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Osbourn, on the premises, on Monday, the 13th day of January, 1862, at six o’clock in the evening precisely, in one lot, that well-accustomed old-licensed Public House, known by the sign of the BOAT, situate in Walsall Wood, in the county of Stafford, now and for many years past in the occupation of the owner William Davis, together with roomy Stables and Brewhouse, Pigsties, Outbuildings, Garden Ground, and Appurtenances thereto belonging. The house comprises capital tap and smoke rooms, large clubroom, snug bar-parlour, and excellent range of cellaring, kitchen, washhouse, and three spacious bedrooms, one of them easily capable of conversion into two. Also Two Cottages, with Outbuildings and Garden Ground thereto belonging, situate adjoining and near to the said public-house, one of them in the occupation of J. Nall, at a weekly rent of 3s, and the other usually let for 2s 6d per week, at present void.

The buildings are in an excellent state of repair, and the entire premises contain an area of 1513 square yards or thereabouts, and have an abundant supply of spring water. They adjoin in front the Walsall and Lichfield turnpike-road, and at the back the towing-path of the Birmingham Canal.

A considerable part of the purchase money may remain upon the property, which is sold in consequence of the owner declining business.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, or to W. H. Duignan, Solicitor, both of Walsall.”

Check OLD BOOT and BOOT.

BOATHOUSE

Park Road, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2007]

[2017]

BOATMANS REST

Lichfield Road, (Walsall Wood Road), (20, High Street), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Greene King and Sons Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Stokes [1849] – [1861]

Thomas Jackson [1868] – 1870);

William Stewart (1870);

Thomas Thacker (1870 – 1872);
Richard Smith (1872 – [1881]
Eliza Short [] – 1891);
Walter Allen Oram (1891 – [1894]
John Bates [1895] – [1912]
Harry Bates [1932]
William E Burton [1940]

NOTES

20, High Street [1940]

It was originally the RED LION.

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 31/5/1845

“A most afflicting occurrence took place on Saturday last at Walsall Wood, which has plunged the family of the Rev. P. G. Harper, minister of that place, into the deepest distress. It appears that on the above day, the daughter of Mr. Harper, a lovely and intelligent child, in her seventh year, was playing with her little brother in the garden, in the full enjoyment of health and spirits. She was close by the entrance to the garden, her brother fortunately being at some distance, when a horse and cart, loaded with wood, and driven by a man named James Mallet, attempted to pass through the gate, which being too narrow, the timber caught the wall, which was forced down, burying underneath the poor child, who but for an instant before was in the full flow of infantime enjoyment. The man immediately alarmed the family, and the unhappy father on hurrying to the spot, lost no time in extricating his poor child, who was taken out quite dead, the weight of the wall having killed her on the spot. An inquest was held at the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, before George Hinchliffe, Esq., Coroner, on Monday, when the above facts having been stated in evidence, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Thomas Stokes was also a farmer. [1849], [1850], [1860]

1851 Census

Turnpike Road

- [1] Thomas Stokes (60), widower, victualler and farmer of 80 acres employing 15 labourers, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Thomas Stokes (30), son, agricultural labourer, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Emma Stokes (20), daughter, housekeeper, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Elizabeth Stokes (17), granddaughter, house servant, born Rugby;
- [5] Mary Stokes (14), granddaughter, house servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Stokes (7), grandson, scholar at home, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Charlotte Stokes (42), daughter in law, an assistant, born Rugby;
- [8] Eliza Grantage (23), visitor, labourer's wife, born Rugby;
- [9] Samuel Grantage (1), visitor, infant, born Cratchentor Green, Shropshire;
- [10] John Stretton (25), servant, boatman, birthplace NK;
- [11] James Thompson (36), servant, agricultural labourer, born Warwickshire;
- [12] John Riley (22), servant, boatman, birthplace NK;
- [13] James Jones (24), servant, boatman, born Worcestershire;
- [14] Thomas Wagstaff (14), servant, errand boy, born Walsall;

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Thomas Stokes, licensed victualler, the RED LION, Walsall Wood, was fined 7s 6d and costs, for having four unjust measures..... The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

Thomas Stokes, RED LION, Walsall Wood, for unjust measures, 15s and costs, a very bad case, some of the pints a gill short.”

1861 Census

Walsall Wood Road – RED LION

- [1] Thomas Stokes (71), widower, publican and farmer of 90 acres employing 3 men, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] John Stokes (51), son, born Walsall Wood;

- [3] Charlotte Stokes (54), house keeper, born Rugby;
[4] Charles Stokes (40), son, widower, farm servant, born Walsall Wood;
[5] Eliza Stokes (22), granddaughter, born Walsall Wood;
[6] Thomas Stokes (17), grandson, farm servant, born Walsall Wood;
[7] Thomas Hadgett (10), grandson, scholar, born Walsall Wood;
[8] Joseph Roe (30), servant, boatman, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1863

“At the Rushall petty sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, J. Harrison, and B. Bloomer, Esqs., John Birch was charged with having, on the 4th of November last, uttered a counterfeit half-sovereign. It appeared that on the night of Monday, the 3rd of November last, the prisoner visited the BOOT public house, Walsall Wood, and called for some ale, and on the waiter taking it into the room the prisoner gave him a half-sovereign. The half-sovereign being tested by the landlady, proved to be a bad one. On making the discovery the landlady bolted the door and sent for the police, and on her doing so the prisoner made use of such abusive language that the landlord turned him out. An uttering was proved by the prisoner at the RED LION public house, Walsall Wood, after which Mrs. Mary Franks proved that in a hedge adjoining the BOOT public house she found, on the 28th of November, a bag containing a half-sovereign, six half-crowns, and two two-shilling pieces, all counterfeit coins. The half-sovereign was of the same date as the two the prisoner was charged with uttering, and evidently out of the same mould. Sergeant Martin, of the Walsall borough police, having proved the apprehension of the prisoner, Inspector Price produced the coins said to have been uttered by the prisoner. Mr. Glover addressed the Bench for his client, who was remanded till the Mint authorities could be communicated with.”

Walsall Free Press 16/2/1867 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, that Old Licensed House, the RED LION, Walsall Wood.
Apply to J. Aldridge, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“Rushall, Tuesday. Adjourned Licensing Meeting.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. S. Harrison, the HAWTHORNE TREE free beerhouse, Walsall Wood, for a spirit license. Mr. Dale (from the office of Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) opposed the application, on behalf of Mr. T. Jackson, the RED LION INN, and it was refused.

Of the holders of existing licenses Thomas Jackson, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, were cautioned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1870

“Thomas Jackson, the RED LION, Walsall Wood, was fined 20s and costs, with the option of one month’s imprisonment, for having his house open at eleven o’clock on the morning of the 30th ult.”

William Stewart = William Steward

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/7/1871

“Thomas Thacker, landlord of the RED LION public house, Walsall Wood, was fined 40s and costs for having on Sunday, the 16th inst, permitted drunkenness in his house.”

Birmingham Gazette 20/9/1871

“Adjourned Licensing day. The following parties, who had their licenses suspended, were cautioned, and had their applications for renewal granted.....

Thomas Thacker, landlord of the RED LION, Walsall Wood.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/6/1872

“Liquidations By Arrangement. Thomas Thacker, RED LION, Walsall Wood, near Walsall, licensed victualler and newspaper vendor. First meeting, at the office of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, solicitor Birmingham, June 29, at 10.”

London Gazette 5/7/1872

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Thacker, of the RED LION, Walsall Wood, near Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Newspaper Vendor.

Notice is hereby given, that a Second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, Solicitor, No.9, Colmore-row, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, on the 8th day of July, 1872, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 1st day of July, 1872.

Alfred Baldwin East, 9, Colmore-row, Birmingham, Attorney for the said Debtor.”

London Gazette 6/12/1881

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Richard Smith, of the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, in the county of Stafford, Victualler and Farmer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Joseph Edward Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on the 16th day of December, 1881, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 2nd day of December, 1881.

Joseph E. Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Eliza Short married Walter Allen Oram in the 4th quarter of 1890.

1891 Census

Lichfield Road – RED LION INN

[1] Walter Oram (37), licensed victualler, born Great Barr;

[2] Eliza Oram (50), wife, born Great Bridge;

[3] Mary A. Shelley (18), niece, assistant, born Bradley, Staffordshire;

[4] Priscilla Bayley (30), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1894

“Walter Oram, of the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, was summoned by his wife for assaulting her on August 1. Mr. H. H. Jackson, Walsall, appeared for the complainant, and Mr. R. A. Dale, barrister (instructed by Mr. J. N. Cotterell) defended.

Complainant stated that she had been married four years. She lived at the public house before her marriage, and was a widow. He was nearly always drinking and threatening her. On August 1, about 12pm, he pulled her out of bed and started kicking her out of the room. She caught hold of the stairs, but he knocked her down these, and kicked her into the street. He had threatened her with a pistol on August 8. For two years he had been threatening and beating her, and she was in fear of her life. By Mr. Dale: She had not been in the habit of taking the money out of the till at night.

Eliza Jones deposed that there were two bruises on complainant’s head, and some on her shoulder and legs. Three times the week before the action came on complainant had slept at her (Jones’s) house.

For the defence Mr. Dale stated that the woman was a regular virago. Lately she had been in the habit of taking the money out of the till, and not letting the husband have a hand in the matter. She had also taken the management into her own hands. On August 1 she took the money out of the till, and on being asked for some she refused, and because he had insisted in her giving up the money she had scratched his face.

Laura Wright, barmaid, said she had been at the house since May 4. They had quarrelled nearly every night since she had been living at the house. On August 1 about half an hour after she had gone to bed, she heard them rowing together, and soon after Mrs. Oram came into her bed. Mr. Oram had blood on his face. Defendant asked his wife for the money that she had taken out of the till, but she would not give it to him. She thought complainant was not sober.

Defendant was fined 10s and costs or 14 days’ imprisonment. Mr. James advised them to get out of the house, or probably they would lose their license.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/4/1896

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, John Concannon, miner, was fined 2s 6d and costs or seven days for being disorderly and refusing to quit the house of John Bates, of the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, on March 21st. Mr. H. H. Jackson, solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, and the case was proved by P.C. Trusswell.”

London Gazette 15/2/1898

“Friendly Societies Act, 1896.

Advertisement of Dissolution by Instrument. Notice is hereby given that the Walsall Wood New Benefit Society, Register No.1072 held at RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, in the county of Stafford, is dissolved by instrument, registered at this office, the 2nd day of February 1898, unless within three months from the date of the Gazette in which this advertisement appears, proceedings be commenced by a member or other person interested in or having any claim on the funds of the Society to set aside such dissolution, and the same be set aside accordingly.

E. W. Brabrook, Chief Registrar.

28, Abingdon-street, Westminster, the 2nd day of February 1898.”

Lichfield Mercury 5/5/1899

“Last Friday night a complimentary supper was given by Councillor J. Bates, at the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, to his committee and workers in the late election.....”

Lichfield Mercury 30/6/1899

“Friendly Societies’ Sports at Walsall Wood. The second annual sports took place on the HORSE AND JOCKEY Grounds, Walsall Wood, on Monday afternoon last.....

There was also two Duck-hunting Races, the ducks being given by Councillor Bates, of the RED LION INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. John Bates, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood.....”

Walsall Observer 3/2/1900

“On Friday evening, the 26th ult, a supper was given by Mr. Bates and several friends, at the RED LION INN, in honour of Gunner Jones, a Reservist, belonging to the Garrison Artillery, who was called upon to be in barracks on January 27th. About 30 sat down to a capital spread.....”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“A supper was held on Monday evening at the RED LION, Walsall Wood, it being the first annual dinner and dividend of the Sick and Dividend Society, held at the above house, and about forty members and friends sat down to a capital repast provided in the host and hostess’s usual good style.....”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1900

“Walsall and District Reservists’ Fund.
Sixteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. John Bates, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood £5.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1900

“On Tuesday morning the County Coroner, Mr. H. A. Pearson, held an inquest at the RED LION, Walsall Wood, on the body of John Henry Rowbotham, colliery and commission agent, of 88, Corporation Street, who was found dead in the Birmingham Canal, Walsall Wood, on Wednesday morning. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the relatives of the deceased. James Price, labourer, of Sheffield, said that he saw the deceased on Tuesday evening, at 7.40pm, in Hall Lane, when he asked witness the way into Walsall Wood. Deceased had been drinking, and staggered as he walked. They were about 200 yards from the BEEHIVE INN, near where deceased was found. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that there was a way from where he met deceased to the BEEHIVE INN. Deceased could walk and talk all right. Samson Coffin, manager at the Empire Brick Works, Aldridge, said that he saw deceased at 7.20 on Tuesday night, at High Heath. He was the worse for beer then, and asked witness where he was going, and said that he wanted to go to Walsall. Witness did not see deceased alive again. In answer to Mr. Jackson, witness said that he had often seen deceased in that district. He walked straight enough on the footpath. Deceased could get from where he met him to the canal side. Charles Beale, boatman, of Walsall Wood, said that he saw deceased in the canal near the BEEHIVE INN early on the morning of Wednesday, and with assistance got him out. John Percy Rowbotham, 88, Corporation Street, Walsall, son of the deceased, gave evidence of identification. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that his father’s business necessitated his going about the district a lot. He had no troubles and nothing to worry him. His father knew all of the short cuts in the district, and from the path on which his father was he was probably taking a short cut to the BEEHIVE INN. A mere slip there would put anyone in the canal. James Ward, landlord of the FORGE INN, Pelsall Wood, said that he knew the deceased well. On Tuesday, at 2.30pm the deceased came to witness’s house, had something to eat, and went out to do some business. He returned and stayed until twenty to six, drinking only tea, and went away apparently to catch a train. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that deceased went away from his house jolly and well as usual, and was about the last man to commit suicide. He had business dealings with the deceased, which necessitated his frequent coming to his house. Deceased was quite sober when he left the Inn. PC Lockley, stationed at Walsall Wood, said that at 6.45am on the 10th inst, the witness Beale reported the death to him, and witness went to the canal near the BEEHIVE, and saw the deceased lying in a stooping position face downwards in the canal, and with assistance got him out of the canal. He had been dead then for some time. PC Allcock, stationed at Walsall, said that he was sent for to the canal, and on arriving there found deceased lying on the towing path. The clothes were not disarranged, and on searching the body he found 29s 3d, a silver watch, and other jewellery. The watch was stopped at two minutes after half past seven. Dr. Wolverson, practicing at Walsall Wood, said that he had made a post mortem examination of the body. There was no sign of violence, and he had no doubt that death was due to suffocation by drowning. There was no sign of alcohol in the body. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death from Drowning.”

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – RED LION INN

- [1] John Bates (48), publican, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Mary Bates (46), wife, born Little Bloxwich;
- [3] William Bates (21), son, carpenter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Harry Bates (19), son, coal miner, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Thomas Bates (17), son, coal miner, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Maria Bates (13), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Frank Bates (11), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [8] Joseph Bates (10), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [9] Frederick Bates (8), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [10] Albert V. Bates (2), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [11] Clara Castle (26), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1906

“The monthly meeting of the meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at the house of Mr. Edwin James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street, Walsall.....
New Member. Mr. John Bates, RED LION, Walsall Wood.”

1911 Census

Walsall Wood

- [1] John Bates (59), licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Mary Bates (58), wife, married 38 years, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Frank Bates (21), son, butcher’s assistant, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Fred Bates (18), son, agricultural labourer, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Victor Bates (13), son, school, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Millicent Morton (23), general servant, born Hednesford, Staffordshire:

John Bates, beer retailer, Walsall Wood. [1912]

Lichfield Mercury 19/9/1913

“At the Lichfield County Police Court on Monday, before Mr. F. Vaughan-Williams (in the chair) and Mr. G. J. T. Seckham, Thomas Gee (30), labourer, Springhill, near Lichfield, and Vincent James (35), miner, Hilton, were charged with stealing three ducks and two cockerels, value 15s, the property of John Bates, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, from the Fighting Cocks Farm, Stonnall, between Saturday night and Sunday morning. William Downen, greengrocer, Lichfield Road, Shelfield, was charged with receiving two of the ducks and one of the cockerels, knowing them to have been stolen.

Sarah Eley, married woman, said that she lived at the Fighting Cocks Farm, which was owned by the prosecutor. About 7pm on the date mentioned she fastened up two ducks and one drake in the cow shed, and the fowls were in a pen in the same yard. About 6am on the following day, on going to the shed and the fowl pen, she missed the ducks and fowls. There was a quantity of feathers about, and some blood stains. The ducks and fowls (produced) she identified as those which were missing.

Frederick Bates, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood, said that he worked at the Fighting Cocks Farm for his father, the prosecutor, and about 6-30am on Saturday he was on his way to work when he saw Gee and James on the railway bridge at Walsall Wood, which was about two miles from the farm. Witness noticed that James’s pocket was bulky, and Gee was carrying a basket on his back. When he arrived at the farm, that last witness told him that the ducks and fowls were missing. About one o’clock on the same day witness saw one of the ducks at Stonnall Police Station, the second duck he saw at Downen’s shop, and the third duck he saw at Gee’s house on the following day. All three ducks belonged to his father.

Pc Bennett said that at 1pm on Saturday the last witness went to the Police Station at Stonnall and reported the loss of the three ducks from a cow shed at the farm and two cockerels from a pen in the yard. Witness made enquiries, and at 9-15pm he visited the FOUR CROSSES INN, at Shelfield, where he saw Downen offering a duck for sale. Witness enquired of the landlady if she knew who the man was who was trying to sell the duck, and she replied that he was a local man living at Shelfield. She then told witness that she had purchased a duck for 3s 6d. Witness went into the kitchen at the inn, and saw the duck, which he took away with him. He went to Walsall Wood where he saw the prosecutor at the RED LION INN. Prosecutor identified the duck as his property. In company with prosecutor’s son witness went to Downen’s shop at Shelfield, where on the counter he saw another duck. Witness told Downen that he was making enquiries about the missing ducks and fowls, and that he had heard that he (Downen) was selling ducks that night. Witness asked how they came into his possession, and Downen replied, ‘Well, I bought mine from Birmingham market this morning.’ Witness told him that he had taken possession of the duck he sold that night to Mrs. Hill, which had been identified as one of those which had been stolen. Accused then said, ‘I am sorry officer, I told you a lie; I did not buy the ducks from Birmingham. I bought two ducks and one cockerel from two men who came to my shop between 7 and 7-30am this morning for 5s. The men then went away, and I did not know who they were.’ Witness cautioned him and charged him, and Downen replied again, ‘I am sorry I told you a lie,’ adding, ‘I only had two ducks and one cockerel off them; the cockerel I have sold to Mrs. Sivons, Spring Lane, Shelfield, for 2s 9d, and one duck I sold to Mrs. Hill for 3s 6d.’ About 12-45am on Sunday witness went, in company with prosecutor’s son to Gee’s house, and told him of the missing ducks and fowl. Gee said, ‘I know nothing about the — fowls or ducks.’ Witness told him he had found some which had been offered for sale at Shelfield, and his (Gee’s) description tallied with the description of one of the men who offered them for sale. On searching the house, witness found one of the missing ducks, and asked accused how it came on the premises. Accused replied, ‘I do not — well know anything about it.’ Witness said, ‘I shall lock you up.’ Accused then said, ‘Have you got Vinnie?’ (meaning James, the other accused). Witness replied, ‘No.’ and accused said, ‘He was with me.’ At 2am witness took Gee to Brownhills Police Station, and afterwards arrested James. Witness then charged the two accused, and Gee replied, ‘I am saying nothing more.’ James said, ‘I was not there.’”

Ps Brammer corroborated Pc Bennett’s evidence as to what took place at the Police Station at Brownhills, and added that when he saw Downen, the latter said he was sorry he bought the ducks from the men; he could see that he had done wrong after.

Gee pleaded guilty, and asked for leniency.

James pleaded not guilty, and said that on the day of the theft he saw Gee, who asked him if he was going the same way. He replied that he was, and Gee asked him to carry one of the ducks, and he did so. Gee then asked him if he knew where he could dispose of them. He told him he did not know. When they got to Walsall Wood, Gee asked some colliers if they knew where he could sell them, and they told him that he could sell them at Downen’s shop. James added that he had got plenty of money, as he had only received his pay the day before. He did not share any of the money which Gee received for the stolen poultry.

Downen, who appeared very much distressed in Court, pleaded guilty to buying the poultry, and said that when he asked Gee how he came by them he replied that they were his own. Downen added that he had only been in business about a fortnight, and that he did not know they were stolen.

The Chairman said that the Bench did not think there was sufficient evidence to connect James of the theft. He had been before the Bench before, and he was very lucky to have such a narrow escape from conviction. Downen was a fool to buy from men whom he knew nothing about, and the Bench hoped that would be a warning to him in the future.

James and Downen were discharged. Gee was sent to prison for one month, with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/3/1915

“Before J. F. W. Percy (presiding), and Mr. Robert Preecy, at the Rushall Police Court, John Bates, landlord of the RED LION, Walsall Wood, was summoned for selling diluted whisky below the statutory limit.

Mr. Van Tromp (County Inspector under the Food and Drugs Act), who prosecuted, stated that on Thursday, February 4th, Inspector Gibson called at the RED LION and purchased three-quarters of whisky, which was taken from a bottle on a shelf in the bar. He divided the sample into three portions, and upon examination later, the County analyst certified it to be diluted 5.8 beyond the allowance of 25 degrees fixed by the Act of Parliament, which was a liberal allowance. Considering that whisky was sold largely in small quantities the profit made on a pint was considerable.

Inspector Gibson gave evidence bearing out Mr. Van Tromp’s statement, and added that he told the Mr. Bates, who served him, that the whisky was to be analysed.

Mr. Jackson, who appeared for the defence and pleaded guilty, said Mr. Bates had kept the RED LION for over 20 years, but unfortunately he had been unable to conduct the business himself for some time owing to illness. The instrument used for testing had been broken, and while, undoubtedly, a mistake had been made, there was no intention of fraud whatever. He asked the Bench to consider the character and reputation of the house.

The Chairman, in imposing a fine of £5 and costs, said the offence was a very serious one, and the maximum penalty was £20. The Bench in that case, however, exonerated Mr. Bates from all blame.”

Lichfield Mercury 18/2/1921

“At the annual Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division on Monday.....

The whole of the licenses would be renewed with the exception of a number of houses which would be visited, and where alterations were needed, chiefly for living accommodation and better sanitary conditions. The houses to be visited were.....

RED LION, Walsall Wood.”

It was renamed BOATMANS REST. [1997]

Express & Star 9/12/2020

“A Walsall pub which called last orders for the final time earlier this year could be demolished to make way for new apartments. A proposal to create nine one-bedroom and seven two-bedroom flats at the BOATMANS REST, in High Street, Walsall Wood, has been submitted to planners. In the application, owners AK and RK Ltd. said it closed prior to lockdown and keeping the venue open as a pub is no longer financially viable. They added there were seven other pubs within less than one-and-a-half miles of the BOATMANS REST and converting it into apartments would avert the prospect of an empty building sitting on the High Street. Walsall Council planning officers are currently considering the proposal and a decision is due in the next three months.

Agents Lapworth Architects said, ‘The building is a former public house which was in operation until early 2020 – since then, the building has been vacant. It is the opinion of the agent that the loss of the BOATMANS REST will not be detrimental to the area as there are a number of similar public house facilities within close proximity of the site in a more convenient location. Whilst the BOATMANS REST was open up until the recent pandemic, it had been struggling to achieve the same numbers of patrons as before and business was declining. For this reason, reopening the public house is not economically viable for the applicant as they would require a good level of business all year round. As the building currently stands, it is a derelict public house with a neglected overall site which requires a change of use to restore the character and greenness that is present within the area. We feel that our proposal demonstrates a suitable response to the immediate area whilst also ensuring there is a not a detrimental effect on the local community by the loss of the BOATMANS REST public house.’”

BOOT

126, Wolverhampton Street, (126, Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Moses Salt, Bank Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

William Smith [1855] – [1870]

John Russell [1869] – [1872]

NOTES

126, Wolverhampton Road [1861], [1871]

BOAT [1869]

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 6/1/1855

“William Smith, Wolverhampton Lane, was fined 10s and costs, for an offence against his license.”

William Smith, beerhouse keeper, 126, Wolverhampton Road. [1858]

William Smith, retail brewer, Wolverhampton Road. [1858]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/4/1858

“A match came off last Monday to fly from the Nelson, Birmingham, to Walsall, a distance of 10 miles, between Phillip Bird’s blue cock Leamington and Joseph Russell’s black cock Young Fathead, which was one of the best flights ever known in Walsall, Bird’s pigeon completing the distance in 11min 45sec, and Russell’s in 10min 5sec, proving the winner by 1min 40sec. Referee Mr. T. O. Windmill. Subsequently, in the afternoon, a further match was made between Young Fathead, the winner of the above race, and another of Phillip Bird’s pigeons, to fly from the Nelson next Whit Monday, for £10 a side. After this match is off Mr. Osborn of Pea Street, Birmingham, or any other Birmingham fancier can be accommodated for a home and home match, the Walsall pigeon to be loosed at the Nelson, Birmingham, and the other about the centre of Walsall, the distance to be about 10 miles, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready any time at Mr. Smith’s, BOOT INN, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/5/1858

“William Smith will fly his blue cock Lord Raglan against John Birch’s blue cock Goldfinger, from Hampton Arden, for £5 or £10 a side, Mr. Birch to allow one minute for the drop; or he will fly Philip Bird’s pigeon, or any other fancier in Walsall, from the same place. Money ready any night next week at William Smith’s, BOOT INN, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/10/1859

“Wm. Smith of Walsall will match his blue Antwerp cock Spider to fly Wm. Cooper’s favourite Black Tommy, 50 or 60 miles, and fly which way the wind blows on the day they fly, for from £10 to £20 a side, or as much more as Mr. Cooper likes. Money ready any night next week at Wm. Smith’s, BOOT INN, 126, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 29/10/1859

“William Smith, landlord of the BOOT, public-house, was fined 5s and costs, for having had his house open for the sale of beer on Sunday last.”

William Smith, beer retailer, Wolverhampton Street. [1861]

1861 Census

126, Wolverhampton Road – BOOT TAVERN

[1] William Smith (52), beer seller, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Smith (53), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Elizabeth Smith (20), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Ann Stackhouse (78), mother, widow, born Birmingham;

[5] Richard Shelley (79), father in law, widower, born Shenston, Staffordshire;

[6] Mary Smith (4), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1863

“At the Rushall petty sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, J. Harrison, and B. Bloomer, Esqs, John Birch was charged with having, on the 4th of November last, uttered a counterfeit half-sovereign. It appeared that on the night of Monday, the 3rd of November last, the prisoner visited the BOOT public house, Walsall Wood, and called for some ale, and on the waiter taking it into the room the prisoner gave him a half-sovereign. The half-sovereign being tested by the landlady, proved to be a bad one. On making the discovery the landlady bolted the door and sent for the police, and on her doing so the prisoner made use of such abusive language that the landlord turned him out. An uttering was proved by the prisoner at the RED LION public house, Walsall Wood, after which Mrs. Mary Franks proved that in a hedge adjoining the BOOT public house she found, on the 28th of November, a bag containing a half-sovereign, six half-crowns, and two two-shilling pieces, all counterfeit coins. The half-sovereign was of the same date as the two the prisoner was charged with uttering, and evidently out of the same mould. Sergeant Martin, of the Walsall borough police, having proved the apprehension of the prisoner, Inspector Price produced the coins said to have been uttered by the prisoner. Mr. Glover addressed the Bench for his client, who was remanded till the Mint authorities could be communicated with.”

W. Smith, beer retailer, 126, Wolverhampton Road. [1864], [1865]

William Smith, beer retailer, 126, Wolverhampton Street. [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway.....

John Russell, landlord of the BOAT INN, beerhouse, Wolverhampton Lane, charged with having on Sunday last, refused to admit Acting-sergeant Ogden and Police-constable Willetts, was fined 5s and costs.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/7/1870

“Jim Russell of Walsall will fight Jack Beebee of the same place, at catch weight, for £10 or £15 a side. Money ready at Mr. Smith’s, BOOT INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

126, Wolverhampton Road

[1] John Russell (43), chain maker, born Walsall;

[2] Harriett Russell (58), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Joseph Russell (21), son, slipper maker, born Walsall;

[4] Thomas Russell (18), son, chain maker, born Walsall;

[5] Eliza Russell (16), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Henry Russell (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Richard Russell (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Harriett Russell (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[9] William Russell (6 months), son, born Walsall:

John Russell, beer retailer, 126, Wolverhampton Street. [1872]

Check BOAT and OLD BOOT.

BOROUGH ARMS

33, Upper Rushall Street / 100, Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Whitehouse, maltster

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Bird [1858]

A Edwards [1858]

Edward Ryland [1859] – [1861]

William Griffiths [1861] – [1865]

John Platt [1867] – [1870]

Thomas Heatherley [1871] – [1872]

Henry Taylor [] – 188_; [1881]

Edward Spink (188_ – 189_); [1891]

Mrs. Elizabeth Spink (189_ – 1896);

Edwin Salloway [1890] ?

George Edward Morris (1896);

Mrs. Jennie Morris (1896 – 1904);

Frank Bullock (1904 – 1906);

George Taylor (1906 – 1907);

Joseph Beebee (1907 – 1908);

Henry John Stringer (1908);

William John Horton (1908);

Charles Marshall (1908 – 1910);

Ernest Harry Doherty (1910 – 1915);
Ernest Edward Spring (1915 – 1917);
Annie Lucy Spring (1917 – 1919);
Ernest Edward Spring (1919);
Charles Whittle (1919 – 1920);
Walter Edwards (1920 – 1922);
Stanley Joseph Humpage (1922 – 1927);
Herbert Steventon (1927 – 1929);
Frank Evans (1929 – 1930);
Sidney Charles Campbell (1930 – 1932);
William Lloyd (1932 – 1955);
George Anderson (1955 – 1960);
Raymond Blanton (1960 – 1963);
Dennis Clive Mason (1963);
John Alexander Hiley (1963 – 1964);
Frank Tonge (1964);
Horace Jobber (1964 – 1966);
Brian Horace Bayley (1966 – []
John Henry Tolley (1975 – 1982)

NOTES

33, Upper Rushall Street and 100, Ablewell Street [1912], [1932], [1940]

SPIRIT VAULTS [1858]

WINE VAULTS [1859]

VAULTS [1862]

OLD SPIRIT VAULTS [1865]

OLD WINE VAULTS

OLD WINE STORES [1870], [1896], [1904], [1905]

STORES [1890]

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1859

“Edward Ryland, keeper of WINE VAULTS, Lower Rushall Street, was summoned before the Magistrates yesterday, charged with having his house open for the sale of liquor on Sunday last during hours of divine service. Mr. Superintendent Cater stated that on the morning in question he went to defendant’s house at about twenty minutes to one o’clock, and saw that it was open, and that Mrs. Ryland was serving liquor. He thought that she was labouring under a mistake as to the time, and also as to whether divine service was over. Mr. Oerton: The fact is, we had a sermon about twenty minutes longer than usual on Sunday last. Had the service been of ordinary length I have no doubt the service would have been over at least twenty minutes sooner; but it was a very good sermon, and I should like to hear the gentleman oftener. Mr. Darwell suggested that the words of the statute were ‘during the usual hours of divine service.’ The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 24/11/1860 - Advert

“Wine And Spirit Store, Rushall Street, Walsall.

Mr. E. Ryland’s Public House and Wine Stores as above is To Be Let, in consequence of the person who had taken it failing to complete his purchase. One of the oldest established trades in the town; and being relinquished solely from the Proprietor having an immediate engagement at a distance.

Possession immediately. In-coming about £200.

Apply of the premises, or to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer.”

William Griffiths = William Griffith

1861 Census

33, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] William Griffiths (37), gun lock maker, born Darlaston;
- [2] Jemima Palmer (35), visitor, born Beetby, Derbyshire;
- [3] Mary Ann Palmer (10), visitor, born Beetby, Derbyshire;
- [4] John J. Palmer (8), visitor, born Beetby, Derbyshire;
- [5] Thomas Palmer (6), visitor, born Beetby, Derbyshire;
- [6] Emma Newman (15), servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/9/1863 - Advert

“Walsall Races. Wednesday and Thursday, September 23 and 24.

Notice. The Refreshment Portion of the new and commodious Grand Stand, the Ground for the Booths and Tolls, Will Be Let By Auction, at the Grand Stand, This Day (Friday), Sept. 18, at Three o'clock in the afternoon.

No Lists will be allowed to be exhibited, except at the Erections provided by the Committee. All applications to be made to Mr. Griffiths, WINE VAULTS, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/8/1865 - Advert

"Wine and Spirit Stores, corner of Upper Rushall Street, Walsall, to be Let. One of the Oldest established and best Houses in the town; brewing ten bushels of malt weekly, in addition to a large trade in Spirits. A genuine concern. In-coming by valuation of Stock and Fixtures.

Apply to George Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/4/1867

"S. Swindon of Walsall will run P. Aston of Wednesbury 120 yards, with two yards start, for £5 a side. Money ready at Platt's Wine and Spirit Vaults, Upper Rushall Street, Wolverhampton."

Walsall Free Press 23/11/1867

"John Platt, landlord of the SPIRIT VAULTS, at the end of Lower Rushall Street, was charged with having, during prohibited hours on Sunday last, had his house open for the sale of liquor. From the evidence of Police-constables Bailey and Horsefell, it appeared that about half-past eight o'clock on the morning in question, they visited defendant's house, and saw two glasses with spirits in them and one glass full of spirits. While the officers were in the house, a man came in and called for a glass of rum, which was filled by defendant. The bench after hearing the evidence, sentenced defendant to pay a fine of £1 and costs."

John Platt, wine and spirit vaults, Upper Rushall Street. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Post 23/12/1869 - Notice

"The Bankruptcy Amendment Act, 1868.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that John Platt, formerly of Rushall Street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, innkeeper, but now of Digbeth, Walsall aforesaid, Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Wine, had left in the Office of the Chief Registrar of the Court of Bankruptcy, Quality Court, Chancery Lane, London, a List of his Debts and Liabilities, and a Statement of his Property and Credits, as required by the Bankruptcy Amendment Act, 1868.

Dated this 21st day of December, 1869.

Thomas Beardsall, Minories, Birmingham, Solicitor for the Person Registering the Deed."

John Platt, wine and spirit vaults, OLD WINE STORES, 33 Upper Rushall Street. [1870]

1871 Census

33, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] Thomas Heatherley (33), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Heatherley (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Isabella Heatherley (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Heatherley (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Harry Heatherley (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] John Heatherley (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Charles Heatherley (3), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Julia Heatherley (8 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Fanny Keelby (?) (21), general servant, born Grantham, Lincolnshire;
- [10] Richard Smith (26), lodger, plater, born Walsall:

Thomas Heatherley, wine and spirit vaults, 33, Upper Rushall Street. [1872]

Henry Taylor was also a bridle cutter. [1881]

1881 Census

33, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] Henry Taylor (47), publican and bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Taylor (47), wife, looks after public house, born Walsall;
- [3] Emily Green (24), daughter, married, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;
- [4] James Henry Taylor (20), son, horse clothier and body roles maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Harry Taylor (17), son, iron caster, born Walsall;
- [6] Alice Amelia Taylor (15), daughter, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;
- [7] Thomas Taylor (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Frederick Taylor (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Jane Taylor (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Florence Selina Taylor (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

1891 Census

33, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] Edward Spink (60), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Spink (51), wife, born Oakgate [Oakengates?], Shropshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Griffiths (22), niece, dressmaker, born Brownhills:

Walsall Advertiser 27/6/1896 - Deaths

“Morris. On the 21st inst., George E. Morris, the STORES, Rushall Street, aged 33 years.”

1901 Census

33, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] Jennie Morris (34), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Arthur Morris (5), son, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Davis (22), domestic servant, born Wyrley;
- [4] John Hicken (29), brewer, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 7/6/1902

“Jennie Morris, landlady of the STORES INN, Upper Rushall Street, was charged with keeping her house open during prohibited hours, and also selling; and Ada Blakemore, landlady of the NAGS HEAD, Ablewell Street, and her son, John Charles, were summoned for being on the premises of the STORES during prohibited hours. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended. Police-constable Ashby found Mrs. Blakemore and her son on the premises of the STORES at 1.45am on May 22nd. It seemed the parties are neighbours and friends, and the Bench gave the parties the benefit of the doubt.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission. Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various. Jennie Morris, OLD WINE STORES.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day. OLD WINE STORES and NAGS HEAD. Inspector Ballance explained that the backs of these house adjoined, the yard being also common to the other property. Mrs. Morris (tenant of the OLD WINE STORES) said they brewed their own beer and did a good trade. Her late husband paid £200 for entry to the premises. In answer to Dr. Lynch, witness admitted there was only one urinal for the use of both houses. Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith, appearing for all parties, said that negotiations had been proceeding for some time for the abandonment of one of these licenses, and if the magistrates would grant both renewals he would give an undertaking that plans should be submitted before the next Brewster Sessions for alterations to one of the houses, and that the renewal for that license only should be applied for. Both renewals were granted, on the this understanding.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall. The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed. OLD WINE STORES, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.”

The BOROUGH ARMS was built between 1903 and 1906, on the site of the OLD WINE VAULTS and OLD NAGS HEAD.

Walsall Advertiser 11/4/1908

“George Warrilow, 24, Frederick Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, the BOROUGH ARMS, on March 28th; and Henry John Stringer, landlord, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended the landlord. Police-sergeant Acherley stated that in company with Police-constable Willetts he visited the BOROUGH ARMS, and in the bar he found Warrilow staggering about and trying to steady himself against the counter. When he called the landlord’s attention to the man’s condition the latter pulled himself together and denied that he was drunk. Subsequently he was taken away by two other fellows, and witness heard one of the bystanders say ‘He’s drunk; he fell across the footpath as he came out of the door.’

Police-constable Taylor, who was on duty in the vicinity at the time, said he saw Warrilow fall down on two occasions. Mr. Jackson said the Mr. Stringer worked at Messrs. Shannon’s for a period of twenty-five years, and had only been in the house about eight weeks, so that his experience was somewhat limited. He admitted that a mistake had been made, but if ever there was a case in which a man should be given another chance it was this one. Warrilow was fined 5s and costs, and Stringer was ordered to pay costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1908

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week....

New Members..... W. J. Horton, BOROUGH ARMS INN, Ablewell Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

The following dividends were paid out in connection with the various lodges of the Loyal Caledonian Corks: Lodge 504, BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, 6s 6d, night and card; 422, SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, 7s, night and card; 322 GOAT INN, Newhall Street, 5s 3d, two nights and card; 325, ALBION HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, 2s 6d, night and card.”

1911 Census

Ablewell Street – BOROUGH ARMS

[1] Ernest Harry Doherty (34), publican, born Sketty, Swansea;

[2] Annie Doherty (33), wife, married 15 years, assisting in business, born Leamington, Warwickshire;

[3] Jack Harry Doherty (14), son, school, born Leamington, Warwickshire;

[4] Florence Doherty (11), daughter, school, born Leamington, Warwickshire;

[5] Doris May Doherty (3), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1911

“An application was made by Ernest Harry Doherty, landlord of the BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, for a singing and music license for his clubroom on Wednesday evenings, for meetings of the Excelsior Musical and Debating Society.

The Secretary (Mr. West) in answer to the Magistrates, said that the Society had been properly formed, and there were 32 members. Two concerts and a debate had already taken place.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) said that a number of houses had recently established musical and debating societies, especially during the winter months.

In answer to the Chief Constable, witness said they required the license during the summer months, especially for debates.

The Chief Constable: Debates during hot weather.

Alderman Sir E. T. Holden: I hope they won’t be warm ones. (Laughter.)

The Chief Constable said similar licenses had been granted but some of them were limited to winter months. The application was granted, but the period limited from September to April.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, Walsall, 5s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street. £0 13s 7½d.”

Walsall Observer 17/8/1918

“For an offence against the Lighting Regulations at midnight on August 4, Annie Lucy Spring, of the BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, was fined 5s at the Police Court on Monday. A bright light was seen from the yard, but defendant said she did not know it was on, and the glass was so darkened that the light was not brilliant.”

Sidney Charles Campbell = Sydney Charles Campbell

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/10/1930

“Yesterday’s contributions to the relief fund organised by the Birmingham Gazette and Evening Despatch for the 14 victims of the Norton Canes colliery disaster were from many and varied sources.....

Licensed victuallers and their customers and social clubs continue to give splendid assistance, as today’s list shows.....

Customers, BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, Walsall, per S. C. Campbell, £1 16s 0d.”

Birmingham Mail 20/5/1939

“Members of the Walsall and District Angling Society are requested to note that owing to alterations and rebuilding of the present headquarters, the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall, it has been found necessary to transfer to temporary headquarters and from Monday night next, May 22nd, the club night will be held at 8pm until further notice, and on every alternate Monday at the BOROUGH ARMS HOTEL, Ablewell Street, Walsall. Members are asked particularly to note the change from Tuesday to Monday and that club nights for a short time will be run fortnightly instead of weekly.”

1939 Register

Ablewell Street – BOROUGH ARMS

[1] William Lloyd, date of birth 28/11/1894, manager licensed premises, married;

[2] Ethel A. Lloyd, dob 2/2/1898, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[3] Arthur Griffiths, dob 22/9/1922, toolmaker's improver (tools), single:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.
BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street. £3 18s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.

BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street. £1 1s 0d.”

John Alexander Hiley – see also NEW INN.

John Henry Tolley – see also PARKBROOK.

[1996]

It was renamed FLAN O’BRIENS. [2007]

Express & Star 23/4/2023

“An Irish bar has applied for a licence to play music until 2am. FLAN O’BRIENS on Ablewell Street, Walsall, wants to play recorded music from 10am until 2am, seven days a week. Currently, the venue is open 3pm-11pm Monday-Thursday, 3pm-2am on Fridays, 12pm-2am on Saturdays and 12pm-12am on Sundays. Bosses at Ei Group Limited have submitted the application to licensing chiefs at Walsall Council. Objections must be received by the council’s licensing unit by May 12.”

[2023]

BOWLING GREEN

Windmill Street, Windmill, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Broadhurst [1818] – 1828)

Lynell [1831]

NOTES

James Broadhurst was also a coach harness plater. [1818]

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/10/1828 - Deaths

“On the 5th inst. Mr. Broadhurst, of the BOWLING GREEN, Windmill, Walsall.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 13/4/1829 - Advert

“Sale at the BOWLING GREEN, near the Windmill, Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by P. Cadby, on the premises, on Wednesday next, April 15, under distress for rent, the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Stock of Ale and other Effects.

Sale to commence at ten in the morning.

Catalogues may be had on the premises, or of the Auctioneer, 97, Great Charles Street near Snow Hill, Birmingham.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 11/7/1831 - Advert

“BOWLING GREEN INN, Walsall.

To be Sold, the Licenses, Good-will, and Possession of the above old-established House, desirably situated in a great thoroughfare at the entrance into the town from West Bromwich.

The Bowling-green adjoining is allowed to be superior to any in the neighbourhood, with stabling, piggeries, and pump of excellent water.

The usual effects to be taken to at a fair valuation.

To treat apply to Mr. Lynell, the Tenant, or to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

BRADFORD ARMS

1, (1+2), Lower Rushall Street / (102), (Upper) Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Alfred King, Sutton
John Edwin Hennessey
Peter Walker and Co. Ltd, Burton on Trent
City Brewery Co. (Lichfield) Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Burton [1831] – [1842]
Ephraim Alfred Friend [1845] – [1850]
John Rofe [1851]
James Bird [1857] – [1861]
Thomas Entwistle [1861]
William Entwistle [1862]
Joseph Shutt [1863] – [1865]
Mrs. Ann Dudley [1868] – [1870]
Thomas Hedges [1871] – [1872]
John Young [1872] – [1873];
Alfred King [];
Richard Newhouses [];
Joseph Bagnall [];
James Stewart Crawford [1880];
John Edward Kinney [1881]
John Hennessy* [1881] – [1891]
John Edwin Hennessy* [1896] – 1900;
John Alfred Hennessey (1900 – 1909);
Eliza Hennessey (1909 – 1910);
Margaret Clark (1910 – 1911);
John Kane (1911 – 1923);
Martha Kane (1923 – 1928);
William Lloyd (1928 – 1932);

NOTES

1, Lower Rushall Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1908], [1932]
1+2, Lower Rushall Street [1871]
Upper Bridge Street [1881]
102, Bridge Street [1891]
Bridge Street [1870], [1911]

Commercial inn [1851]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/9/1831 - Died

“On the 30th ult, aged 41, Martha, wife of Mr. Edward Burton, of the BRADFORD ARMS INN, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/7/1836 - Advert

“To Master Whip Thong-Makers.

The Journeymen Thong-makers of Walsall and Darlaston having solicited their Masters for an Advance of Prices, at a Meeting which took place at the BRADFORD ARMS, Walsall, on Monday the 11th day of July, inst., it was unanimously agreed not to work at the present Prices any longer than August 13, 1836.”

1841 Census

Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Edward Burton (55), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Edward Burton Junr. (15), saddler, born Staffordshire;
- [3] George Burton (15), apprentice, born Staffordshire;
- [4] John Burton (13), born Staffordshire;
- [5] John Holmes (20), ms, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Lydia Bickley (20), fs, born Staffordshire:

Ephraim Alfred Friend was also a veterinary surgeon. [1845], [1849]

Walsall Free Press 1/8/1857

“Benjamin Jones, a driver for Mr. Bird, of the BRADFORD ARMS INN, charged Thomas Hawkes, landlord of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, with an assault under the following circumstances. The complainant drove the defendant and some others to Chillington on Thursday, but no gratuity having been given, he called on Hawkes the following night to ask for the same, when complainant told him he was sadly too fast, and struck him. Several witnesses were called who testified that the complainant was very abusive, and gave great provocation to the defendant. Mr. Sill defended. The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1858

“James Bird, of the BRADFORD ARMS, was charged with having kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Police-constable Montgomery said at a quarter to twelve o’clock on Sunday last he visited the house of the defendant and found a man corking up a bottle with rum in it, which the man said he had purchased from Mrs. Bird. Mrs. Bird, who was present, denied having supplied the drink; but the man adhered to his statement, and in consequence the officer preferred the present charge. Mr. Duignan, who appeared for the defence, contended that the charge had not been proved, and there being no evidence to corroborate the statement of the officer, the case was dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 4/6/1859

“James Bird, BRADFORD ARMS INN, Walsall, Licensed To Let Post Horses, Saddle Horses, Cars, Cabs, Gigs, & Breaks For Hire, Begg most respectfully to acquaint the Gentry and Inhabitants of the town and district, that having supplied himself with every article necessary for carrying on the business as Postmaster, he is desirous of receiving their patronage and support. Cars for Weddings with Greys. Gipsy parties can be accommodated on the shortest notice, and on very reasonable terms. Steady and obliging Servants attendant on same. N.B. A Fashionable Break will run during the Summer months to and from Sutton, on Sunday afternoons, leaving Mr. Job Wilkes’s, OLD STILL, Digbeth at Two o’clock, and return from the Old Sun, Sutton, at Seven p.m.”

Bird’s omnibus left from here, to Wolverhampton, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. [1861]

1861 Census

1, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] James Bird (38), victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Bird (33), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Joseph Bird (12), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Bird (10), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Elizabeth Bird (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Ann Bird (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Jane Bird (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] James Bird (11 months), son, born Walsall:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/5/1861

“At the County Court, on Saturday, before Sir W. B. Biddell, Bart., the following insolvents were heard on their petitions on re James Bird, Bridge-street, Walsall, Victualler. This was a meeting granting the final order, attended by Mr. Ebsworth in support of the petitioner. Mr. Joseph Williams, a creditor to the amount of £3 10s opposed in person, and alleged that the insolvent had fraudulently removed a lot of goods since the filing of the petition. He called several witnesses each of whom declined to give evidence unless their expenses were paid. He paid the expenses in each case, and then greatly to his chagrin and to the amusement of the court they gave evidence which utterly failed to support his allegations, whereupon he threatened to have one of them tried for perjury. The final order was granted.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/9/1861

“At the Police Office, on Monday, before H. Brace (Mayor), and P. Potter, Esq., Thomas Entwistle, landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS INN, Bridge Street, was summoned by officers of the Inland Revenue, on a charge of letting post horses for hire without having a license. The information was laid under 16 and 17 Vic. Cap. 88, sec. 15. The defendant pleaded guilty. The specific offence was, that on the 19th of July last the defendant let a horse upon hire to one James William Webb. Defendant said his servant let the horse without his knowledge. Mr. Reed, supervisor for the district, said the defendant was responsible for the acts of his servant. The penalty was £100, but the Bench had power to mitigate it to one fourth. The mitigated penalty of £25 was then ordered, with a recommendation to the Board of Inland Revenue to reduce it to £5. Mr Reed said he would take care to forward the recommendation to the Board, and would give it his support.”

Walsall Free Press 6/6/1863

“Ann Hughes was charged with having, on Monday last, wilfully and maliciously broken the window of Joseph Shutt, of the BRADFORD ARMS, and four panes in the borough jail. It appeared that, on the afternoon of the day in question, the defendant had been turned out of the BRADFORD ARMS for using indecent language, and, in revenge, she picked up a stone and threw it through the window. On being locked up, she broke four panes in the jail window. The defendant, who said she had picked up the stone for the purpose of throwing it at Mrs. Shutt, who pushed her out and struck her, was sentenced to pay the damages, 13s, and 10s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for one month. Defendant, on leaving the dock, said she had no money, but if she had, she would rather do the month than pay.”

Walsall Free Press 29/10/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady Young Man as Ostler, to live in the house and assist in Brewing.
Apply, BRADFORD ARMS, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

1+2, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Thomas Hedges (51), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Ann Hedges (48), wife, born Halesowen;
- [3] Jane Hedges (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah A. Bennett (22), barmaid, born Rowley Regis;
- [5] Henrietta Bruce (23), general servant, born Rushall;
- [6] Charles Dalby (18), general servant, born Worcester:

* probably the same person

1881 Census

Upper Bridge Street – BRADFORD ARMS

- [1] John Hennessy (33), licensed victualler, born Ireland;
- [2] Eliza Hennessy (29), wife, born Manchester;
- [3] Edward C. Hennessy (5), son, scholar, born Liverpool;
- [4] Julia E. Hennessy (3), daughter, born Staffordshire;
- [5] John A. Hennessy (2), son, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Ernest A. Hennessy (3 months), son, born Staffordshire;
- [7] Edward Hennessy (19), brother, barman, born Ireland:

Evening Express 19/8/1881

“John E. Hennessy, landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall; John Watson, Wolverhampton; Joseph Lawrence, Wolverhampton; and James Salees, Dudley, were charged with having, on the 7th of July last, assaulted Henry Stern, of Birmingham. Mr. Ratcliffe, Wolverhampton, appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Williams, Walsall, for the defendants. From complainant’s statement it appeared that on the day in question complainant, who had been in Walsall all day on business, met the defendant Lawrence about eight o’clock and asked him to give him a ride to Willenhall, where he had business, and Lawrence promised to give him a ride, but invited him to go into the BRADFORD ARMS, where there was a house warming going on, and a number of gentlemen were drinking champagne. Complainant partook of some of the liquor, and, whilst doing so, someone took away a parcel he had and his umbrella; then someone took his hat and put sawdust and wine in it, and Mr. Lawrence attempted to put it on complainant’s head. He then went into the yard and got into Mr. Lawrence’s trap. The defendants followed him out and set a dog upon him; but the dog could not bite him, and the defendants, seeing that, pulled complainant out of the trap and struck him, after which Mr. Hennesy pushed complainant off his premises, sent for a police officer, and gave him in charge. He was locked up all night, and next morning was brought before the Walsall magistrates and discharged. He went to consult a solicitor, but found that the one he went to was Mr. Hennesy’s solicitor. That gentleman, so complainant said, promised to get the defendants to come to some understanding with him, as to the compensation for the damage done to his hat. He also wrote to one of the defendants, but as no offer had been made he felt constrained to take out a summons against the defendants. Complainant had no witnesses in support of his case, and for the defence Mr. Williams called several witnesses, including Police-Sergeant Gore and Police-constable Untank, who proved that complainant, on the occasion referred to was drunk, and they altogether contradicted his statement.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case.”

1891 Census

102, Bridge Street – BRADFORD ARMS

- [1] John Hennessy (43), licensed victualler, born Ireland;
- [2] Eliza Hennessy (38), wife, born Manchester;

- [3] Charles Hennessy (15), son, scholar, born Liverpool;
- [4] John A. Hennessy (11), son, scholar, born Great Bridge;
- [5] Maggie Hennessy (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ernest Hennessy (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Mabel Hennessy (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] John Baylem (24), assistant, born Worcester;
- [9] Sarah Mansell (30), general servant, born Walsall;
- [10] Agnes Rush (27), visitor, living on her own means, born Rochdale:

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1892

“Joseph Hughes (17), Regent Street, Pleck, was put forward on remand to answer five different charges (1) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Emily Mold, (2) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Peter Vickers, (3) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Reynolds, (4) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Hennessy, (5) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Thomas Green Cleobury.

Emily Mold, landlady of the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, said that on the 25th the prisoner came to her house and obtained 2s from her, stating that it was for Mr. Lawson of the Conservative Club. He also said he was working for him in the committee room, and Mr. Lawson had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he was out of stationary. She gave him the money.

Ada Wadsworth corroborated.

Walter Lawson, secretary to the Walsall Conservative Association, said that he did not know the prisoner. He was not employed by the Association, and he had not authorised the prisoner or anyone else to borrow money on his account.

Detective Smith deposed to the arrest of the prisoner.

Peter Vickers, 48, Goodall Street, deposed that on Saturday last the prisoner came and asked him for 2s for Mr. Lawson, on the same representation as in the previous case.

John Reynolds, barman at the DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, stated that the prisoner came to the house and asked for Mr. Egan, the landlord. Mr. Egan was out, and the prisoner said that he was employed in the Liberal Committee Rooms. He said Mr. Hughes had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he wanted 2s for stationary. Witness knew Mr. Hughes was secretary to the Liberal Association, and he gave prisoner the money.

Richard Harry Hughes, hon. sec. Liberal Association, said he did not know prisoner, and he had not authorised him or any other person to borrow money in his name.

Thomas Cleobury, landlord of the NAGS HEAD INN, Upper Rushall Street, deposed to the prisoner asking him for 2s for Mr. Lawson. He did not lend him the money. He told him to go about his business, as he did not believe him.

John Hennessy, landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street, deposed to a similar attempt on the part of the prisoner, and his refusing to lend him the money.

The prisoner was returned for trial to the sessions on the several cases.”

[At the Walsall Quarter Session (July 1892), Joseph Hughes was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.]

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Edwin Hennessy, BRADFORD ARMS, served 20 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under.....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

1, Lower Rushall Street

[1] John A. Hennessy (22), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Great Bridge;

[2] I. Parkes (26), general servant, born Tipton;

[3] S. Parkes (24), domestic servant, born Walsall;

[4] George Parkes (1 month), boarder, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....

John Alfred Hennessey, BRADFORD ARMS”

Walsall Advertiser 20/10/1906

“A middle-aged labourer named Benjamin Gething, Lower Rushall Street, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing two bicycle wheels, value 5s, the property of John Hennessey on the 10th inst.

Prosecutor said he was landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS. At nine o'clock on the morning of the date named he saw the wheels safe in a store room at the rear of his premises. He missed them about 11.30am the same day. He afterwards identified some wheels at the police station as his property.

Ellen Thompson, general dealer, of 113, Wisemore, said a man brought the wheels (produced) to her shop, and asked her to buy them for 1s, but he eventually accepted 10d. Prisoner was not the man who brought the wheels.

Detective Lloyd spoke to making inquiries respecting the robbery, and on the Friday following he arrested prisoner in Rushall Street. In reply to the charge he said he was very sorry he had committed the crime. He was under the influence of drink when he did it, and if they dealt leniently with him he would try to do better.

The Chief Constable said prisoner had eight previous convictions for felony.

He was sent to Stafford for three months.

Mr. Loxton (to Mrs. Thompson): Do you know that a person in possession of stuff recently stolen, unless able to give a satisfactory account of it, is liable to prosecution. You buy these things from persons you know nothing about, and may have been sent to gaol on that evidence."

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction by Mr. A. C. Fraser Wood, F.A.I. (Watkins, Powell & Wood), at the BRADFORD ARMS, Upper Bridge Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 20th day of September, 1910, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely (subject to Conditions to be then produced).

Lot 1. The unexpired residue of the Lease of the BRADFORD ARMS, occupying an important position at the corner of Upper Bridge Street and Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, at the junction thereof with Ablewell Street; together with the Five Adjoining Business Premises, four being Nos.95, 97, 99 and 101, in Bridge Street, and No.2 in Lower Rushall Street. All the foregoing are held by the representatives of the late Mr. J. E. Hennessey from Messrs. John Walker and others on a repairing lease for a term of 36 years from the 1st March, 1892, at the extremely low annual rental of £14.

The BRADFORD ARMS is an old full-licensed house, now in the occupation of the above-named lessees, and contains: large corner bar with snug, smoke room, 2 kitchens, cellar and 5 bedrooms; outside are yard with gateway entrance, stabling, loft and wash-house.

The trade of the house in ales, beers wines, spirits and other liquors is tied to the lessors.

The adjoining premises are sub-let by the lessees at rentals (actual and estimated) amounting together to £82 6s per annum.

The late Mr. J. E. Hennessey paid for the lease of the above properties a bonus of £1,789."

1911 Census

1, Lower Rushall Street – BRADFORD ARMS

[1] John Kane (43), public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Martha Kane (38), wife, married 16 years, born Walsall;

[3] John H. Kane (16), son, clerk, Alma Tube Works, born Walsall;

[4] Violet Kane (15), daughter, warehouse girl, bit and spill works, born Walsall;

[5] Norman Kane (13), son, born Walsall;

[6] Josephine Kane (8), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] George Kane (5), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, 4s 10d."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1915

"Before the Walsall magistrates on Monday, William Harvey (57), labourer, of no fixed abode, was charged with having stolen two cushions, one cushion cover, and one counterpane, of the total value 10s, the property of John Kane.

Prosecutor, who is the landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS in Lower Rushall Street, said the articles were missed from a perambulator.

May Smith, of 58, Lower Rushall Street, said defendant asked her to take charge of the articles. A detective was informed.

Detective-Sergeant Burrell said he visited the house and found the articles. Witness questioned defendant who said he had bought the articles from a man whom he did not know. Later, he said he found them in a bundle behind BRADFORD ARMS.

Defendant, who had been previously convicted for drunkenness, was sentenced to a month's hard labour."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BRADFORD ARMS, Bridge Street. £0 12s 2d."

John Kane was fined 20s and 7 guineas costs, on 16th January 1920, for selling rum above the maximum price.

Walsall Observer 11/10/1924

"A charge of being drunk on licensed premises – the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street – was preferred at Walsall Guildhall on Monday, against Thomas Wood (32), moulder, of Balls Street, but on the application of Mr. Gordon Hawley, solicitor, the case was adjourned for a week without any evidence being heard.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 17/10/1925

“At Walsall Court on Tuesday, James Kelly (52), labourer, Bath Street, was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment for damaging plate glass windows at the BRADFORD ARMS and the pawnbrokers of Messrs. Herrick and Cordwell, the damage being £__ and £5 respectively.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/5/1931

“Walsall Licensing Bench, on Monday, sitting as the Confirmation Authority, heard an application by Mr. J. G. Hurst, K.C., on behalf of Mitchells and Butlers, Ltd, for confirmation of a provisional order for the removal of the full license of the BRADFORD ARMS INN to premises to be erected on a site in Milton Street, Palfrey. It was stated that the Corporation had given notice to treat for the acquisition of the BRADFORD ARMS and adjoining property, in order that a street widening scheme might be carried out, and that the site in Palfrey was in the centre of the district in which there was no other fully-licensed house. After a long hearing the magistrate granted the application.”

It closed on 18th November 1932.

The license was transferred to BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street.

It was demolished.

BRADFORD ARMS

94, Milton Street, Palfrey, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Thomas Randle (1932 – 1949);
William John Thomas Bullock (1949 – 1954);
Kenneth William Griffin (1954 – 1957);
Ernest Joseph Mayo (1957 – 1961);
Kenneth Herbert William Taylor (1961 – 1962);
Joseph Brazier (1962 – [1967])
Jora Singh [2007]

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/5/1931

“Walsall Licensing Bench, on Monday, sitting as the Confirmation Authority, heard an application by Mr. J. G. Hurst, KC, on behalf of Mitchells and Butlers, Ltd, for confirmation of a provisional order for the removal of the full license of the BRADFORD ARMS INN to premises to be erected on a site in Milton Street, Palfrey. It was stated that the Corporation had given notice to treat for the acquisition of the BRADFORD ARMS and adjoining property, in order that a street widening scheme might be carried out, and that the site in Palfrey was in the centre of the district in which there was no other fully-licensed house. After a long hearing the magistrate granted the application.”

It opened on 18th November 1932.

The full license was transferred from the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street.

Meetings of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society were held here in 1939 and 1940.

1939 Register

94, Milton Street

- [1] William Thomas Randle, date of birth 22/4/1891, manager for brewery, married;
- [2] Florence A. Randle, dob 4/9/1896, manageress for brewery, married;
- [3] William L. Randle, dob 13/5/1920, grocer’s assistant, single;

[5] Gwendoline (Randle) Davis, dob 26/10/1924, hairdresser's assistant, single;

[6] Gladys J. (Randle) Slade, dob 4/9/1926, at school, single;

[7] Evelyn Anderson, dob 9/4/1918, bar general, single;

[8] Teresa Flavell, dob 15/8/1910, bar general, married:

Walsall Observer 20/7/1940

“Visiting the BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, last night, the Mayor (Councillor J. Cliff Tibbits), who was accompanied by Alderman H. Hucker, warmly thanked the customers for the sum of £14 which they sent to him some time ago for distribution amongst local wounded men of H.M. Forces, and he also emphasized the importance of the War Aid Fund as an organisation to insure the equitable distribution of funds raised for purposes connected with the war.”

Walsall Observer 21/6/1941

“Bernard Matthew Corbett, 77, Camden Street, went into the BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, on an evening in May and left his car outside. He met a friend and they began to talk business, and became so engrossed in the subject that when they left the house Corbett walked home, forgetting all about his car.

About four hours later, in the small hours, Acting-Police-sergeant Parry came upon the car standing without lights outside the public house. After opening one of the doors he pushed the car on to some nearby waste land and then removed one of the essential working parts, which he sent to the police office, leaving a note in the car stating what he had done. Corbett went to claim the missing part the next morning and told Sergeant Weaver what had happened. ‘I forgot about the car until I went for my overcoat the next morning,’ he said, ‘and then I realised that I had not taken the car to the garage.’ These facts came to light when Corbett, as a result of his forgetfulness, was faced with five summonses at Walsall Police Court on Wednesday for leaving the car without two front lights and without a red rear light, for causing an obstruction, for parking it after dark on the wrong side of the road and for leaving it unattended without rendering it incapable of being driven away. He was fined 10s in each case.”

Walsall Observer 18/10/1941 - Marriages

“On Oct. 12, 1941, at Dale Street Wesleyan Chapel, A.B. Seaman L. Lynex, eldest son of Mr. and late Mrs. F. Lynes, to Kathleen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Randle, BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 28/11/1942 - Advert

“Wanted, Barman, Barmaid and Morning Help.
Apply, BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, Palfrey, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....
Nine Licensed Houses..... BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street.”

Walsall Observer 5/5/1945 - Births

“Davis. On Saturday, April 28, 1945, at the BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, to Gwendoline (nee Randle) God's gift a son (Graham Barry).”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1945

“An alleged Army absentee, Arthur Albert Evans (23) and Ernest George Smith (23), a labourer, of 14, Little Street, were jointly charged with breaking into the BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, and stealing £6, a china mug and two collecting boxes, the property of William Thomas Randle, on the night of October 30th.”

[2017]

BRADFORD ARMS

504, (510), (352), Pleck Road, (Pleck Lane), Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Jane Pagett
William Pagett
Joseph Pagett
John Pagett
Earl of Bradford
Ansells Ltd. [1918]

LICENSEES

William Pagett [] – 1858
Jane Pagett [1858]
Isaac Pagett [1861]
Mrs. Jane Pagett [1860] – [1873];
William Pagett [];
Joseph Pagett [1881];
John Pagett [1881] – 189_);
Joseph Pagett (189_ – 1915); [1891]
Mrs. Ellen Pagett (1915 – 1919);
James Richards (1919 – 1928);
Frederick Sydney ‘Fred’ Walmsley (1928 – 1933);
Herbert Harrison (1933 – 1936);
Leonard Charles Lampitt (1936 – 1937);
Sidney New (1937 – 1938);
Horace Arthur Durnall (1938 – 1939);
Stephen Oakley (1939 – 1941);
Thomas Charles Henry Landon (1941 – 1944);
William Thomas Walton (1944 – 1951);
Edwin Jones (1951 – 1955);
James Frank Paxton (1955 – 1958);
Thomas Henry Benton (1958 – [1964])

NOTES

Pleck Lane [1858]
352, Pleck Road [1881], [1892], [1896]
510, Pleck Road [1939]
504, Pleck Road [1901], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1940], [1993]

William Pagett = William Paget

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1858

“An inquest was held on Wednesday at the BRADFORD ARMS, the Pleck, on the body of William Pagett, the former landlord of the house, who died on Sunday last of lock-jaw, supervening upon an apparently trifling injury of the thumb. Before calling any evidence, the coroner remarked that many rumours, probably highly exaggerated, had been circulated on the subject.

Jane Pagett, widow of the deceased, deposed that her husband came home on the night of the 9th ult, about half-past nine o’clock, tipsy, and apparently not conscious of what had occurred. As soon as he came in he said he had got his thumb hurt, and being asked how, replied that two men had done it – that they had got him up against the cinder wall on the Walsall and Wednesbury road, opposite St. Mary’s Row. He said they had injured his thumb by forcing his hands up, when he shouted to them not to kill him. Then they took a few halfpence out of his pocket, and he remembered no more. When he came home he had four sovereigns and a half-sovereign in a side pocket. There were no marks or bruises on any other part of his body. She put a bread poultice on his thumb that night, and the next day finding him no better, sent for Mr. Cox, surgeon. In three weeks afterwards lock-jaw coming on, Mr. Day was sent for, whose young man attended deceased until his death, on Sunday last.

Charles Litherland, residing in Lower Hall Lane, Walsall, deposed that on the same evening the deceased left the VINE TAVERN, in Walsall, about half-past eight o’clock, he being then somewhat but not greatly intoxicated. Since then deceased had told him that he thought he had been attacked by two men on the Wednesbury road, who wrenched his thumb, struck him, and he thought, on the hand, on the head, and took about 4½s from him.

Police-constable McCrudden stated that having heard two days afterwards that the deceased had been beaten and robbed of £14, he had gone to his house to inquire, but deceased could give him no description of the parties, and denied having been robbed at all. The verdict was, ‘that the deceased came by his death through injuries upon the thumb of the left hand producing lock-jaw, but how these injuries were received there was no evidence to show’.”

Isaac Pagett was also a grocer. [1861]

1861 Census

Pleck Road – public house – BRADFORD ARMS
[1] Jane Pagett (44), unmarried, publican and grocer, born Rushall;
[2] William Pagett (18), son, assistant, born Walsall;
[3] Joseph Pagett (16), son, assistant, born Walsall;
[4] Samuel Pagett (14), son, miner, born Walsall;
[5] Mary Jane Pagett (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

- [6] John Pagett (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Ellen Pagett (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Mrs. Jane Pagett was also a grocer. [1864], [1865], [1870]
She was described as being also a shopkeeper. [1868], [1872]

1871 Census

Pleck Road

- [1] Jane Pagett (54), widow, innkeeper, born Daw End;
[2] William Pagett (28), son, corn dealer, born Walsall;
[3] Joseph Pagett (26), son, grocer, born Pleck;
[4] Samuel Pagett (24), son, higler, born Pleck;
[5] Mary J. Pagett (22), daughter, assistant in house, born Pleck;
[6] John Pagett (18), son, assistant in yard, born Pleck;
[7] Ellen Pagett (15), daughter, scholar, born Pleck:

1881 Census

352, Pleck Road

- [1] Joseph Pagett (36), unmarried, innkeeper, born Walsall;
[2] John Pagett (30), brother, unmarried, corn dealer, born Walsall;
[3] Elen Pagett (25), sister, unmarried, born Walsall;
[4] Horace J. Pagett (4), nephew, born Walsall;
[5] Ellen J. Morris (28), general servant, born Madley, Shropshire:

Wednesbury Herald 2/9/1882

“An inquest was held at the BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck, Walsall, on Saturday afternoon last, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, relative to the death of Simeon Aston (33), a fitter, lately residing at Knight’s Buildings, Pleck. The evidence showed that on Thursday night last the deceased retired to rest in apparently good health. About three o’clock the following morning he awoke feeling very unwell, and though every attention was paid to him he gradually became worse, and expired about eleven o’clock on Friday forenoon. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Joseph Pagett – Joseph Paget

1891 Census

Pleck Road – BRADFORD ARMS

- [1] Joseph Paget (45), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
[2] John Paget (38), brother, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
[3] Ellen Paget (34), sister, housekeeper, born Walsall;
[4] Mary Jane Billingsley (14), niece, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Ester E. Worley (23), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Joseph and John Pagett were also grocers. [1892]

Birmingham Daily Post 6/10/1892

“At the Police Court, yesterday, Joseph Pagett, of the BRADFORD ARMS, The Pleck, was summoned at the instance of the local authority for two breaches of the bye-laws, viz, not providing sufficient ventilation to kitchens in properties in Augustus Street and Frederick Street belonging to him, and with not causing rain-water to drain from the roofs of the properties to be occupied before he had received a certificate from the borough surveyor that he had complied with the requirements of the bye-laws. The Town Clerk, who appeared in support of the complaints, asked for one penalty only. What the Council desired, he said, was that persons building would endeavor to assist the local authorities in giving effect to the bye-laws. A fine of 10s and costs was imposed in one case, and the other two cases were dismissed on payment of costs.”

1901 Census

504, Pleck Road

- [1] Joseph Pagett (56), unmarried, tavern keeper, born Walsall;
[2] Ellen Pagett (44), sister, unmarried, born Walsall;
[3] Mary Billingsley (24), niece, born Walsall;
[4] Martin Billingsley (21), nephew, assistant tavern keeper, born Wednesbury;
[5] Hannah Swancote (18), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

1911 Census

504, Pleck Road – BRADFORD ARMS

- [1] Joseph Pagett (65), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Pleck;
[2] Ellen Pagett (54), unmarried, sister, housekeeper, born Pleck;

[3] Mary Jane Pagett Billingsley (34), niece, assisting in business, born Pleck;
[4] Ada Webster (18), servant, born Pleck:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck Road. £1 1s 0d.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“The 1925 survey indicates that it was an alehouse and that the Public Bar was 14’6” x 13’6” x 9’1” with a Smoke Room and a Bar Parlour being used as a sitting room.”

It was rebuilt.

It reopened in February 1934.

1939 Register

510 Pleck Road – BRADFORD ARMS (4 of 5)

[1] Stephen Oakley, date of birth 1/4/1886, license manager, married;
[2] Agnes C. Oakley, dob 16/9/1884, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[3] Laura K. (Oakley) Skitt, dob 28/2/1915, bar general, single;
[4] Lois N. Oakley, dob 31/3/1928, at school, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck Road, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck Road. £19 1s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck Road. £17 10s 0d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....
Nine Licensed Houses..... BRADFORD ARMS, Pleck Road.”

William Thomas Walton see also SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich.

It became CHAMPY’S BRADFORD ARMS. [2016]

[2017]

BREWERY STORES

40+41, (40), High Street / George Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Vickers

Walter Paine

Arthur Beebee Ltd. [1908]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 31st December 1937)

Courage Ltd. [1996]

Highgate Brewery Ltd. [2000]

LICENSEES

John Jacam [1777]
John Vickers [1813] – 1837)
Mrs. Anne Vickers [1841] – [1850]
Edward Vickers [1851] – 1866)
Walter Paine [1868] – [1871]
Mary Ann Paine [1881]
Walter Paine [1891] – 1917);
Frances Sarah Paine (1917 – 1918);
Arthur Beebee (1918 – []
Thomas Smith [1937] – 1940);
Frank Elbro (1940 – 1945);
John Thomas Jarvis (1945 – 1956);
Stephen Owen Jarrett (1956 – 1957);
Albert Edward Chambers (1957 – 1965);
Arthur Broome (1965 – 1966);
William Eric Whorton (1966 – []

NOTES

High Street [1822]
40, High Street [1860], [1861], [1868], [1870], [1871]
40+41, High Street [1939], [1940], [1999]

It was originally the CASTLE. [1813], [1822], [1828], [1842], [1849], [1850], [1853], [1858], [1860], [1861], [1862], [1865]

Wine and spirit vaults [1870]

It had a ballroom.

A new assembly room was opened. [1768]

The Sherriff of Staffordshire held a court here, every third Monday for the recovery of debts under 40s. [1801]

John Vickers, CASTLE INN, High Street. [1813]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/2/1837

“At a meeting of the Walsall Finance Committee, on Wednesday evening, the market tolls were let to Mr. John Vickers, of the CASTLE INN, for the ensuing twelve months, for the sum of £350.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/11/1837 - Died

“On the 9th instant, Mr. John Vickers, of the CASTLE INN, High Street, Walsall, aged 58.”

Anne Vickers = Ann Vickers

1841 Census

George Street

- [1] Anne Vickers (50), victualler;
- [2] William Vickers (15), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Edward Vickers (1), born Staffordshire;
- [4] George Collier (25), ms, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Sarah Harris (15), fs;
- [6] Daniel Higgs (65), independent:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/2/1843

“A melancholy accident occurred at Walsall on Thursday afternoon. A youth named William Henry Vickers, aged 15, youngest son of the late Mr. John Vickers, of the CASTLE INN, High Street, took a gun out to shoot small birds, near to his brother’s, the Paddock House, when, in endeavouring to pass through a hedge, pulling the gun after him, the trigger caught some of the branches, and the contents of the piece entered the unfortunate boy’s body just below the heart. A person coming out of his garden at the time saw the gun lying in the road, and the youth several yards in the field, and he immediately informed his brother, to whose house he was taken, and where he lingered till five o’clock on Saturday morning, when he expired. An inquest was held the same day, before W. Cotterill, Esq, coroner, and a verdict of Accidental Death returned. The interment too place in Walsall churchyard on Monday morning, the corpse being followed to the grave by his sorrowing mother and relatives.”

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] Edward Vickers (39), innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Catharine Vickers (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ann Vickers (65), mother, widow, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Vickers (18), son, butcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Edward Vickers (11), nephew, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Daniel Higgs (78), lodger, born Bromsgrove, Worcestershire;
- [7] Ellen Judge (20), house servant, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/4/1853 - Deaths

“On Saturday last, aged 65, Ann, relict of Mr. John Vickers, of the CASTLE INN, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1853 - Deaths

“On the 20th inst, aged 30, Mr. Charles Vickers, son of the late John Vickers, of the CASTLE INN, High Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/10/1855

“On Wednesday last the members of the Walsall Ratepayers’ Protection Society dined together at Mr. Vickers of the CASTLE INN, High Street, Walsall. The variety and excellence of the viands, and the arrangements for the comfort of the guests, secured, as they deserved, the encomiums of all present.....”

1861 Census

40, High Street

- [1] Edward Vickers (48), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Catherine Vickers (42), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Rose Holmes (22), house servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Mansfield (20), house servant, born Polesworth, Warwickshire:

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1862 - Notice

“The Walsall District £25 Money Society.

The next meeting will be held at Mr. Vickers’ CASTLE INN, High Street, on Thursday, May the 1st.

All parties interested are requested to attend.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Vickers, CASTLE INN.”

Walsall Free Press 17/4/1866 - Advert

“CASTLE INN High Street, Walsall.

John Osbourn, begs respectfully to announce that he has received instructions from the proprietor Mr. E. Vickers, who is retiring from business, to Offer by Public Auction, on Wednesday and Thursday, March 21st and 22nd, 1866, upon the premises as above, all the valuable Brewing Vessels, Ale Barrels, 5-Pull-Beer Machine, Spirit Fountain and Cocks, Stock-In-Trade, Hams and Bacon, Household Furniture and Effects.

Particulars in catalogues to be had of the Auctioneer, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.

Sale to commence each morning at Ten o’clock.”

Walter Paine, wine and spirit vaults, 40, High Street. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications.....

Mr. Paine, of the CASTLE INN, High Street, said he wished to make a few remarks. He had no desire to occupy the time of the Bench unnecessarily, but he wished to know whether there was any reason why the practice which had existed for years in Birmingham, Wolverhampton, and in this town should be abandoned and a different system adopted, and why there should be a distinction made between himself and others. On the 1st instant he sent his man for his license, but the man was told Mr. Paine must come himself; but, although his license was not given to his man, Mr. Fletcher’s license was given to his servant.

The Magistrates’ Clerk explained to Mr. Paine that the Act of Parliament required the personal attendance of the applicant, unless prevented by illness, or other causes which might be deemed by the Bench a reasonable cause of absence. He was not sure Mr. Fletcher had got his license; but if the license had been given to the party sent, the Bench had deemed the excuse a reasonable one, and had exercised that discretion with which they are vested.”

1871 Census

40, High Street

- [1] Mary Ann Paine (42), spirit merchant's wife, born Tutton, Northamptonshire;
- [2] Maria M. Paine (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [3] Walter Paine (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Warren Albert Paine (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Laura Lizzie Paine (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Lucy Mary Paine (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Marian Sarah Paine (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Harriet Jane Smith (21), governess, teacher, born Scotland;
- [9] Mary Ann Sheffield (19), general servant, born Warmington, Northamptonshire;
- [10] Mary Elizabeth Bore (17), nursemaid, born Tutton, Northamptonshire:

Walter Paine – see also BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF.

1881 Census

40, High Street

- [1] Mary Ann Paine (52), widow, wine merchant, born Sutton, Nottinghamshire;
- [2] Walter Paine (21), son, wine merchant, born Walsall;
- [3] Laura Lizzie Paine (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Lucy M. Paine (16), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Handbury (45), visitor, born Sutton, Nottinghamshire;
- [6] Mary Mills (49), cook, domestic servant, born Willenhall;
- [7] Elizabeth Jennings (14), housemaid, domestic servant, born Birmingham:

1891 Census

40, High Street

- [1] Walter Paine (31), wine and spirit merchant, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Paine (33), wife, born Ireland;
- [3] Elizabeth Lawless (25), general servant, born Snareston, Leicestershire:

1901 Census

40+41, High Street

- [1] Walter Paine (41), wine and spirit merchant, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances L. Paine (42), wife, born Queens County, Ireland;
- [3] Margaret Paine (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter Paine (6), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Frances L. Paine (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah J. Joynt (41), sister in law, unmarried, born Ireland;
- [7] Lucy A. Horton (24), nursemaid / domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Sarah J. Caddick (21), general servant, born Hednesford:

1939 Register

40+41, High Street (4 of 5)

- [1] Thomas Smith, date of birth 9/4/1889, manager licensed house, married;
- [2] Eliza Smith, dob 7/6/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Ethel M. (Smith) Hughes, dob 10/10/1915, tailoress, single;
- [4] Hetty M. (Smith) Poole, dob 6/12/1924, tailoress, single;

Walsall Observer 6/4/1940

“The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery yesterday, of Mr. Thomas Smith, licensee of the CASTLE INN, High Street, Walsall. The Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society, of which Mr. Smith was a member, was represented by Messrs. C. W. Garfield (president), T. P. Cole, F. Lord, A. P. Hopkins and W. T. Randle.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

PAYNE'S WINE VAULTS, High Street, £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CASTLE, High Street. £7 0s 0d.”

Closed

It was occupied by Paines Wine Vaults, which closed on 11th December 1977.

It reopened with a full license in 1983.

It was renamed PUNCH AND JUDY. [1996]

It was renamed BREWERY STORES. [2000]

[2006]

Closed [2007]

It reopened as the MARKET TAVERN [2008]

Closed [2009], [2017]

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

4, Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

G. B. Stubbs, St. Pauls Close, Walsall
Elsha Jeffries

LICENSEES

James Dixon [1871] – [1872];
Mrs. Agnes Ingram [];
Martin Faughey [];
John Middleton [1877];
Henry Peplow [] – 1881);
James Barber (1881 – 1882):

NOTES

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

1871 Census

4, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] James Dixon (68), beerhouse keeper, born Brigbrook, Staffordshire;
- [2] Patience Dixon (65), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Ann Dixon (19), daughter, born Walsall:

John Middleton was fined 10s and costs, on 11th May 1877, for Sunday trading.

1881 Census

4, Lower Rushall Street – BRICKLAYERS ARMS

- [1] James Barber (44), silver plater and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Barber (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ellen Barber (20), daughter, milliner, born Walsall;
- [4] John Barber (18), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [5] Joseph Stevenson (60), lodger, general labourer, born Uttoxeter;
- [6] Annie Fellows (15), general servant, born Cannock:

There was no application to renew in 1882, and the house was converted into a coffee shop.

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

Rolling Mill Street, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Parkes [1834]
Bendego Simkiss [1849] – [1850]
Abediah Smith [1851]
Abednigo Simkiss [1858] – [1865]
Mrs. Simkiss [1866]

NOTES

BRICKMAKERS ARMS [1834], [1850]
BRICKLAYERS ARMS [1858], [1864]

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/11/1834

“Commitments To Stafford County gaol.

Thomas Christopher Reeves and William Lees, charged with assaulting William Snelson, at the Foreign of Walsall, and stealing from his person, two handkerchiefs, four yards of linen, and a waistcoat piece.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/3/1835

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.

Thomas Christopher Reeves and William Lees were indicted for assaulting W. Snelson, on the 17th Nov, in the Foreign of Walsall, and stealing two handkerchiefs, four yards of linen, and one waistcoat piece, his property. Mr. Corbett conducted the prosecution; Mr. Godson defended the prisoners.

William Snelson, the prosecutor, a labourer, who lives at Darlaston, said he was returning home from Walsall, on the 17th November, when he met the two prisoners; there was also another man not far off. William Lees asked him what he had got there? (meaning in a bundle he was carrying, which contained the items specified in the indictment) and added. ‘d—n his eyes, take it of him.’ Reeves thereupon knocked him down, laid hold of him by the neck, and said, ‘if you make any noise, I’ll take your life.’ He asked prosecutor to loose the bundle, but he would not. Reeves then put his knee on prosecutors’ right breast, squeezed him, seized the bundle, and wrested it from him. He afterwards rolled prosecutor into a gutter, and they both ran away. Prosecutor got up, shouted ‘stop thief,’ and followed him; and about 100 yards off found that a man of the name of Rubery had seized Reeves. Prosecutor said if he would give up the things, he should have no further trouble about it.

Cross-examined. I had been drinking for about three hours; I was not quite sober; but I was not in drink.

John Rubery proved that whilst on his road home on the night in question he heard prosecutor cry out several times that he had been robbed. Lees passed him on the walk with a bundle and a bag; Reeves was running off, but witness secured him. Snelson was in liquor.

Parker, the constable, said he was called to the public-house where Reeves had been brought, and the prosecutor charged him with the robbery; but said if he would let him have the bundle again, he would forgive him. Reeves said he would find it in a quarter of an hour. Witness then went with Reeves, and he pointed to where the bundle was, in a hedge, near the road side. Witness then liberated him, but took him into custody again the same night, at Snelson’s request; found him at the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, at the Pleck, drinking with Lees.

Cross-examined. Snelson was very much in liquor. He did not make any charges against Lees.

For the prisoners, James Salt, a toll-gate keeper, was called, who said that between five and six o’clock on the evening in question, he saw the prosecutor lying drunk in a ditch by the road side with a bundle lying by his side. This was some distance from the place he said he was robbed.

William Butler, shoemaker, also deposed to the same fact.

Several witnesses were called, who gave Lees a good character.

Verdict both guilty.

Mr. Justice Coleridge said that the extreme punishment of the law would not be carried into effect. He could not say what would be the precise amount of the substituted punishment; but they must not expect to remain in their native land.

Judgement of death was recorded.”

[Thomas Christopher Reeves and William Lees were transported for life.]

Bell's Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/7/1847

"Hows and Crompton. These Wednesfield men have made the whole of their money good for their 440 yard race (Hows staking £13 to £10), which comes off on Monday, 26th inst., between one and three o'clock, at the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, the Pleck, near Walsall."

Bendego Simkiss = Abednego Simkiss

Abednigo Simkiss = Abednigo Simkins = Bendigo Simkiss = Abenego Simkiss

He was also a miner.

1861 Census

Pleck Lane – Beer House – BRICKLAYERS ARMS

[1] Abednigo Simkiss (45), miner and victualler, born Netherton;

[2] Ann Simkiss (45), wife, born Pleck;

[3] Mary Simkiss (20), daughter, born Pleck;

[4] John Simkiss (10), son, scholar, born Pleck;

[5] Francis Wi___ler (32), lodger, coal miner, born Stourbridge:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/9/1865

"The adjourned licensing session for the borough took place yesterday at the Free Library.....

The license of Abednego Simkiss, the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, The Pleck, which had been withheld in consequence of the house having made no use of it during the past year, was also renewed."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/9/1865

"The annual licensing meeting adjourned from the 31st ult., was held this morning.....

In the case of Abenego Simkiss, The Pleck, whose license was suspended because he had for two or three years past neglected to take out an excise license, his certificate was renewed on the understanding that an excise license should be taken out."

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

"General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. Mathews applied, on behalf of Mrs. Harriett Bassett, of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck Road.

Mr. Oerton said the magistrates having personally inspected the premises of the applicant, and being satisfied as to the suitability of the house, which was one of the cleanest and best arranged in the district, it would only be necessary for Mr. Mathews to address himself to the requirements of the district.

Mr. Mathews accordingly pointed out upon a plan the increase which had taken place in the locality, and the superiority of his client's house over any in the neighbourhood.

Mr. Barnett, for Mr. Edge, landlord of the HOPE AND ANCHOR, stated that there were only 200 houses at The Pleck, and there were five licensed houses for every 40 dwelling houses. The owner of one of those houses, finding four houses sufficient, had not taken out his license.

Mr. Mathews said that as the owner of the ROYAL OAK was the owner of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, he was willing to agree to his licence being transferred from the later house to the former.

Mrs. Simkiss, the tenant of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, was called; but as she declined to give up her license, both her application and that of Mrs. Bassett were adjourned till the 13th proximo."

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1866 - Advert

"By E. B. Scholefield, at the ROYAL OAK INN, Pleck, near Walsall, this day (Tuesday), at Eleven o'clock.

Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Ale Machine, Bagatelle Board, and Effects, removed to the above-named Inn for convenience of Sale."

[Might this be the end of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS?]

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

Norton Road, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Russell [1843] – [1862]
John Bullus [1863] – 1868;
Arthur Snape (1868 – [1876]

NOTES

Joseph Russell was also a farmer. [1849]

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/12/1849

“On Monday the 17th instant, when the miners were engaged in their usual avocation in a pit, at Goscot, a piece of coal, about two tons in weight, fell, and jammed a man named Thomas Stackhouse, between the slab and the side of the pit. His skull was fractured. When got out he was quite dead. The accident occurred from what is technically termed a slip in the coal. On Friday, an inquest was held on the body, at the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Pelsall, before W. W. Ward, Esq, (acting for T. M. Phillips, Esq., coroner), when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1851 Census

Pelsall Common

- [1] Joseph Russell (58), farmer of 30 acres and publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Phoebe Russell (57), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] John Courtley (28), servant, farm labourer, born Wigginton, Staffordshire;
- [4] Ann Welton (16), house servant, born Litchfield, Staffordshire:

1861 Census

Norton Road

- [1] Joseph Russell (68), farmer of 56 acres employing 8 men, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Phoebe Russell (67), wife, born Rushall:

John Bullus = John Bullas = John Bullows

Birmingham Daily Post 4/3/1863 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861.

Notice of Sitting for Last Examination, in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

John Bullas the Elder, formerly of Moxley, in the parish of Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, and now of the township of Pelsall, in the said county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged Bankrupt under a Petition for Adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire holden at Walsall, on the 24th day of January, 1863, a Public Sitting for the said Bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make Application for his Discharge, will be held before the Judge of the said Court, on the 21st day of March, 1863, at the Court, Goodall Street, Walsall, at Ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said Bankrupt to surrender. F. F. Clarke, Esq, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Henry Jackson, Esq, of West Bromwich, is the Solicitor in the Bankruptcy. The First Meeting of Creditors has been duly held in the said Bankruptcy, and at the Public Sitting above mentioned Proofs of Debts of Creditors who have not proved will be received, and the said Bankrupt will be required to surrender himself to the said Court, and to submit himself to be examined, and to make a full disclosure and discovery of all his Estate and Effects, and to Finish his Examination.

Henry Jackson, Esq, Solicitor, West Bromwich.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/3/1863

“John Bullas, publican, formerly of Moxley, and also of Pelsall, came up for final examination, but as Mr. Jackson, who appeared for the bankrupt, was unable, through indisposition, to attend, the case was, on the application of Mr. Crump Thomas, adjourned till the 15th of April.”

Walsall Free Press 18/4/1863

“In re John Bullas, licensed victualler, formerly of Moxley, and latterly of Pelsall. As the bankrupt’s solicitor, Mr. Jackson, was unable to attend, the case was adjourned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/4/1863

“In the case of John Bullas the elder, formerly victualler at Moxley, and latterly of Pelsall, Mr. Jackson, of Darlaston, appeared for the trade assignee, but as it appeared there had been some irregularity in the appointment, Mr. Ebsworth appeared as official assignee, and consented to the bankrupt obtaining his discharge, upon the understanding that the statement of accounts should be amended, and £16, realised from the sale of the bankrupt’s estate, should be paid into court.”

Walsall Free Press 2/5/1863 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of John Bullas, the elder, formerly of Moxley, in the Parish of Darlaston, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, and now of the Township of Pelsall, in the said County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, a Bankrupt.

Whereas, at a public sitting of the Court, held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgement of the said court.
Dated this 22nd day of April, 1863.
C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

John Bullus – see also SWAN, Moxley, Darlaston.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/3/1864

“Snape v. Rowley. In this case, which was heard at the County Court, Walsall, on Saturday, before his Honour, A. M. Skinner, Esq, John Snape, better known, perhaps, as ‘the King of Pelsall,’ sought to recover £1 from Edward Rowley, of the Fleur De Lys Inn, Norton, under the following circumstances. A short time ago the defendant entered the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Pelsall, and there found the plaintiff quaffing his ale and smoking his pipe. After some conversation the plaintiff challenged the defendant to a ‘show of money’, with some such words as these, ‘I will show more money of mine than you can show of mine’; and forthwith, the defendant having accepted the challenge without noticing its peculiar form, each man staked a sovereign. The plaintiff’s exchequer being exhausted, while the defendant possessed other money, the latter swept the two sovereigns into his pocket and went off, affirming he was fairly the winner. Snape then instituted criminal proceedings before the County magistrates, but the case was dismissed, the Bench deeming it a matter for civil court to deal with. After hearing the evidence, his Honour gave a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed, without costs. Mr. Cranch (from the office of Messrs. Duignan and Lewis) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defendant.”

1871 Census

Norton Road – BRICKLAYERS ARMS

- [1] Arthur Snape (26), farmer (34 acres) and licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Julia Snape (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Frederick J. Snape (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Lizzie Westwood (17), general servant, born Walsall;
- [5] William Johns (20), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 6/9/1873

“John Whitehouse, miner, was charged with having, on the 19th of August, been drunk and having refused to leave the BRICKLAYERS ARMS public house, Pelsall. The charge having been proved, defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of 40s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/11/1876

“On Tuesday afternoon a rick of barley and a rick of clover, worth about £90, and standing in the rickyard of Mr. Snape, the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Pelsall were destroyed by fire, which had been caused by some children who had been playing in the yard. Three other ricks were saved, one by being taken down and removed, a work in which the Norwich brigade of Walsall rendered valuable assistance, as did many of Mr. Snape’s neighbours.”

BRICKMAKERS ARMS

Salters Road, Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

George William Moody [1939] – [1940]
Stephen Brampton [2007]

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1938

“Sixteen applications, granted earlier in the year by the local justices, remained to be dealt with when an adjourned meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Confirmation Committee was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....
William Lowe applied successfully for the removal of the full license of the BOOT INN, Walsall Wood, to premises to be erected in Salters Road, Walsall Wood. Mr. Brown explained that the license would be moved from a district well served to one where there were no facilities. If the application were granted, the owners were prepared to surrender the license of an off-license known as the Vigo Stores.”

It opened in 1939.

Walsall Observer 8/7/1939 - Advert

“The BRICKMAKERS ARMS, Salters Road, Walsall Wood has just been opened by W. Butler & Co. Limited. Fully Licensed. Good Car Park. Licensee Mr. G. W. Moody.”

[2017]

BRIDGE HOUSE

Bloxwich Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1982]
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Thomas Revitt (1958 – 1959);
Amy Irene Revitt (1959 – 1961);
Eric Harper Morris (1961 – 1962);
Kenneth Ironmonger (1962 – [1966])

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 9/12/1957

“The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is an extract from the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....
Two former private houses are being adapted for use as licensed premises.....
BRIDGE HOUSE, Walsall.”

It opened on 5th June 1958.

The license was transferred from the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1958

“The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....
The closure of uneconomic houses continues, 22 have ceased to trade during the year and seven of these were in connection with the following new premises, all of them let on tenancy.....
BRIDGE HOUSE, North Walsall, opened June 5th.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.
Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
BRIDGE HOUSE, Bloxwich Road, Walsall.”

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn Quiz. [1974/5], [1978]

Two teams from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn-Quiz. [1973/74], [1979], [1980]

BRIDGEWATER

Stoney Lane, Little Bloxwich, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Ralph Francis Argyle (1964 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened on 29th May 1964.
The license was transferred from the CANAL TAVERN.

Walsall Observer 17/12/1965

“The BRIDGEWATER from Little Bloxwich, whose players are mostly from the old NAGS HEAD, competed in the Pelsall Darts League for the first time last season and completed the double at the first attempt. They carried off the league title by just pipping the favourites, Shelfield Social, and then carried off the knock-out trophy by beating strong contenders ROYAL OAK.....”

Ralph Francis Argyle – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, and ELEPHANT AND CASTLE.

It closed in 2006.

Demolished [2009]

BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS

54, (26), (26½), (25), Burrowes Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Frederick Birch, maltster, Great Barr
Messrs. Yardley, maltsters, Darlaston
The Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd. [1913]
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd. [1925]

LICENSEES

W Hartop [1858]
Thomas Halfpenny [1860] – [1865]
W Halfpenny [1863] ?
William Shelton [1868] – 1870);
William Nicklin (1870 – 1873);
Joseph Beebee (1873 – [1881];
Mrs. Celia Beebee [1881]
Emmanuel Benjamin Scott [1891] – 1895);
Mrs. Rosannah Scott (1895 – 1913);
Joseph James Llewelyn (1913 – 1923);
James Llewelyn (1923 – 1924);
Thomas Statham (1924 – 1929);

Edward Charles Coley (1929 – 1937);
George Whitehouse (1937 – 1944);
Sylvia Whitehouse (1944 – 1945);
Arthur Lawton (1945 – 1946);
Hubert Rae Whalley (1946 – 1947);
Frank Wilson (1947 – 1948);
Joseph Russell (1948 – 1949);
James Bromley O’Hare (1949 – 1950);
Arthur Henry Mahon (1950 – 1951);
James Platt (1951 – 1955);
Harry Dobson (1955 – 1957);
William Thomas Hateley (1957 – 1958):

NOTES

It was previously the RED HOUSE TAVERN.

25, Burrowes Street [1858]
26, Burrowes Street [1864], [1865], [1881]
26½, Burrowes Street [1871], [1872]
54, Burrowes Street [1891]. [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]

W. Hartop, beerhouse, 25, Burrowes Street. [1858]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.....
Thomas Halfpenny, Burrow Street. Refused.”

Thomas Halfpenny was also an engineer. [1861]

1861 Census

26, Burrow Street – RED HOUSE TAVERN
[1] Thomas Halfpenny (36), publican and engineer, born Leicestershire;
[2] Clara Halfpenny (31), wife, born Kings Norton;
[3] Ellen Halfpenny (11), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Ann Halfpenny (9), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861

“The business of the general licensing day then commenced. There were seventeen applications.....
Thomas Halfpenny, RED HOUSE, Burrowes Street, also made his application through Mr. Wilkinson. Mr. Wilkinson employed the usual arguments – want of accommodation in the neighbourhood, good character of the applicant, &c., and handed up a memorial from the inhabitants of the district in favour of the license being granted, testifying to the good character of the applicant. License granted.”

Walsall Free Press 5/10/1861 - Advert

“Found, on Friday, the 27th ult, a Cross Bred Setter Dog, the owner by paying expenses may have him again on applying to Mr. T. Halfpenny, RED HOUSE TAVERN, Burrowes Street.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.
The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.
Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.
Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.
Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.
Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. W. Halfpenny, BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS.”

1871 Census

26½, Burrowes Street – BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS
[1] William Nicklin (34), licensed victualler and brush maker, born Walsall;
[2] Mary Nicklin (29), wife, born London;
[3] William Allen Nicklin (4), son, born Walsall;
[4] Harriet Nicklin (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] George Nicklin (6 months), son, born Walsall:

1881 Census

26, Burrows Street

- [1] Joseph Beebee (68), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Alice Beebee (69), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Henry Beebee (35), son, chain maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Joseph Beebee (33), son, chain maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Albert Beebee (24), son, gig saddler, born Walsall:

Evening Star 29/5/1882

“John Barnsley, Henry Kissett, Regent Street, and Thomas Taylor, Dudley Street, were summoned for having, with a fourth person named Wallbank, created a disturbance in Burrowes Street on Thursday, the 25th instant, after drinking at the BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS. Taylor, the least culpable, alone appeared, and was discharged, and Kissett and Barnsley were fined 5s and costs, and the latter 10s and costs. A summons was ordered to be issued against Wallbrook.”

Emanuel Scott = Emanuel Scoot

1891 Census

54, Burrowes Street

- [1] Emanuel B. Scoot (42), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Roseannah Scoot (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Pauline E. Scoot (16), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Claud S. Scoot (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mabel M. Scoot (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Rose A. Scoot (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Lucy Nicklas (21), general servant, born Coseley:

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The forty second annual meeting of the members of this society was held on Thursday We have to report with regret that by death we have lost five members Mr. Emmanuel B. Scott, the BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS, Burrowes Street.”

Emanuel Benjamin Scott – see also COACHMAKERS ARMS.

1901 Census

54, Burrowes Street

- [1] Rosannah Scott (54), widow, beer retailer’s manager, born Birmingham;
- [2] Pauline E. Scott (26), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [3] Claud S. Scott (24), son, sorting clerk, Tel, Post Office, born Walsall;
- [4] Mable M. Scott (22), daughter, domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [5] Rose A. Scott (20), daughter, cook, born Walsall:

1911 Census

Burrowes Street – BRIDLECUTTERS ARMS

- [1] Rosannah Scott (64), widow, publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mabel Maria Scott (32), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Rose Amy Scott (30), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [4] Dora Reynolds (20), servant, born Walsall:

Joseph James Llewelyn = Joseph James Llewellen

Walsall Advertiser 22/11/1913

“The sixty-first annual general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday of last week. . . .

New Members: Joseph James Llewellen, BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS INN, Burrowes Street.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch). . . .

BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS, Burrowes Street, Walsall, 3s 3d.”

1939 Register

54, Burrowes Street (2 of 3)

[1] George Whitehouse, date of birth 18/2/1886, public house manager, married;

[2] Sylvia Whitehouse, dob 27/11/1896, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS, Burrowes Street, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS, Burrowes Street. £2 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS, Burrowes Street. £1 5s 2d.”

It closed on 4th September 1958.

The license was transferred to the THREE MEN IN A BOAT, Bloxwich.

Demolished

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 5/4/1964

“In many parts of Britain the local factory has its complement in the local public house.....

Local history can be read in many places through the sign at the local hostelry, but few towns flaunt their basic industry on their inn signs more fully than Walsall. Saddlery it is, so you might expect a SADDLERS ARMS, but several other parts of the trade occur in the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, the HAME MAKERS ARMS and the recently demolished BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS.”

BRITANNIA

Chapel Street, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Boag [1858] – [1861]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Joames Boag = James Boaz

James Boag, beerhouse, Chapel Street. [1858]

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

“Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers’ licenses.....

James Boaz, Chapel Street, Pleck. Refused.”

1861 Census

Chapel Street

[1] James Boag (56), agricultural labourer, born Darlaston;

[2] Elizabeth Boag (59), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] William Boag (18), son, born Tipton;

[4] Samuel Betts (14), apprentice, born Heardington [Erdington?], Warwickshire;

[5] Caroline Cooper (21), domestic servant, born Bilston:

BRITANNIA

Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Whitney [1834] – [1835]

William Francis [1836]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

William Whitney, retailer of beer, Park Street. [1835]

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1836

“William Francis, of the BRITANNIA, Park Street, was also fined 40s and costs for keeping open his house on Sunday, and permitting tippling therein during divine service.”

BRITISH OAK

4, Blue Lane East, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Harrison, Brownhills

James Gnosill

C. Wincer, Corporation Street, Walsall

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1924]

LICENSEES

Henry Gnosill [1834] – [1850]

Holden [1850s]

James Gnosill [1858] – [1871]

Charles Gnosill [1872];

William Brant [];

Richard Taylor [];

John Lea [1881] – 1894);

James Frederick Gnosill (1894 – [];

Mrs. Emily Jane Simpson [1896] – 1912);

Elias John Martin (1912 – 1915);

Philip Perry (1915 – 1921);

Arthur Morris (1921 – 1924);

NOTES

It was situated opposite to St. Patrick's Church.

It was originally known as the FIGHTING COCKS. [1834], [1845]

ROSE [1861]
BRITISH OAK [1871], [1924]
OLD OAK
ROYAL OAK [1891]

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Henry Gnossill = Henry Gnosall = Henry Gnosill

Henry Gnosall, retailer of beer, Blue Lane. [1835]
Henry Gnosill, beer retailer, Blue Lane. [1849], [1850]

Henry Gnossill was also a dealer in iron and steel, and a shopkeeper. [1845]

James Gnossill, beerhouse, 4, Blue Lane West. [1858]
James Gnossill, retail brewer, 4, Blue Lane. [1858]

1861 Census

4, Blue Lane East

- [1] James Gnosill (48), cart gear maker employing 4 men and 3 boys, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Gnosill (47), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Frederick Gnosill (16), son, cart gear maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Gnosill (13), harness saddle maker, born Walsall;
- [4] James Melors (18), apprentice, cart gear maker, born Walsall:

James Gnosill, retailer of beer, Blue Lane East. [1862]
J. Gnossill was also a cart gear maker. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 25/5/1867 - Advert

“Beer Shop. To Be Disposed Of, The BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane. Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation. Apply on the premises.”

James Gnossill, beer retailer, 4, Blue Lane West. [1868]

1871 Census

4, Blue Lane – BRITISH OAK

- [1] James Gnosill (59), cart gear furniture maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Gnosill (57), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Rollins (14), cart gear furniture maker’s apprentice, born Wenlock, Shropshire:

Charles Gnossill = Charles Gnosil

Charles Gnossill, beer retailer, 4, Blue Lane East. [1872]

John Lea = John Leigh

1881 Census

4, Blue Lane East – BRITISH OAK

- [1] John Lea (38), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Lea (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Alberta M. Lea (13), daughter, general servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Eleanor M. Lea (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] John Lea (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah E. Lea (3), daughter, born Walsall:

1891 Census

4, Blue Lane East – ROYAL OAK

- [1] John Leigh (48), stone mason, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Leigh (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Eleanor May Leigh (21), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] John Leigh (18), son, stone mason, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah E. Leigh (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Ruby D. Leigh (6 weeks), granddaughter, born Walsall:

John Lea was born on 1st August 1842.
He was the son of John and Sarah (nee Roebuck).
He married, firstly, Elizabeth Barlow in 1866.
He married, secondly, Annie Smalley, in 1902.
He taught at the Walsall Science and Art Institute from 1892 to 1903.
He was a wood carver, sculptor and stone mason of 33 Littleton Street.
He died on 25th October 1903.

Mrs. Emily J. Simpson, beer retailer, 4, Blue Lane West. [1896]

1901 Census

4, Blue Lane East

- [1] Emily J. Simpson (56), widow, living on own means, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Simpson (30), daughter, harness stitcher, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Simpson (29), son, married, bricklayer's labourer, born Walsall;
- [4] Catherine Simpson (23), daughter, harness stitcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Edwin Simpson (21), son, harness furniture bobber, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Simpson (18), daughter, born Walsall;

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Emily J. Simpson, BRITISH OAK."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

Respecting the magistrates' objection to the licenses of the BARREL INN, Stafford Street, and the BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane East, on the ground that there was a dilapidated building between the houses, Mr. Barrows (solicitor) said the owners could do nothing, as the tumbled down property belonged to neither of them. The renewal to be opposed at the adjourned meeting."

1911 Census

Blue Lane – BRITISH OAK

- [1] Emily Jane Simpson (68), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Simpson (42), daughter, purse stitcher, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Simpson (40), son, annealing labourer, born Walsall;
- [4] Edwin Simpson (31), son, buckle polisher, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Simpson (28), daughter, servant at home, born Walsall;
- [6] Frank Simpson (12), nephew, born Walsall;

Walsall Observer 17/10/1914

"At Rycroft Cemetery on Monday, the funeral took place of Mrs. Emily Jane Simpson, aged 71, whose death (as announced in our last week's issue) occurred under somewhat tragic circumstances at her home, 42, Portland Street, where she was found lying at the bottom of the cellar steps. Formerly the licensee of the BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane, Mrs. Simpson was well known and respected in the district, as evidenced by the many expressions of sympathy tendered to the family in their loss. The burial service was conducted by the Rev. C. E. McCreery (vicar of St. Peter's)....."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1915

"A foundryman who had words with his employer and then found solace in the cup that cheers and does inebriate was the central figure in a case that came before Mr. R. T. Jupp and Alderman P. Bull at Walsall on Wednesday, when John Martin, of the BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane was summoned for permitting drunkenness, and Thomas Truby, 1, Railway Street, Walsall, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended the landlord.

Police-constable Ball said that on February 1st, about 1.30pm, a complaint was made to him in consequence of which he went to the BRITISH OAK, He saw a number of young men sitting round a table with cards. He told Mrs. Martin that he had received a complaint about a man being drunk and neglecting his work. She replied that the man had left his employment and was sitting in the front. He went to the young men and asked which was Thomas Truby. The man Truby replied, 'I am,' and was turning round when he tumbled over and fell on the floor. He said, 'I have left Mr. Tompkins now. I can do as I like.' Witness asked him to walk along a line and said he must have no more beer there. The landlady said, 'He has not been supplied here.' Witness asked him to leave and he said he would when he had drunk up. He then drank something and followed witness out of the house. He was drunk and staggered in the street.

Mr. Jackson: Do you know he had only been in the house a few minutes? – Witness: I should think he had been there longer than that.

Witness said another young man had to take hold of him in the street. The landlady did say, 'He has given me his insurance card.'

Mr. Jackson: And that he had left his employment? – Witness: Yes, sir.

William Henry Tompkins, Blue Lane, Foundry, said the defendant was a workman of his on the date in question. He saw the man enter the house about ten minutes before the policeman went there. He had sent for a policeman to have him moved from the works, as he had used bad language at the works, upset a barrowful of bricks and threatened to hit him (the employer).

Mr. Jackson: Was he more excited than drunk, or the other way about? – Mr. Tompkins: I should say he was drunk.

Alfred Britain (a traveller for Mr. Tompkins) also gave evidence to show that the man was drunk.

Mr. Jackson: Would it not have been well to send to the house and suggest that he was the worse for drink? – Witness: Well, I did not see him go in.

Mr. Jackson pointed out that the management of this house devolved upon Mrs. Martin principally as her husband went to work. She was very much upset by these proceedings, as the house has always been conducted to lines. His case was that the man was naturally excited over having had words with, and left his employer. He was not drunk and had only been in the house five minutes, his object being to meet a person named Bullock (who had come from Caparn's factory), who had promised to find him a place of work.

David Bullock gave evidence and said that the man was not drunk. He could tell when a man was drunk or not. The man walked the line all right for the policeman when asked to do so.

The Chief Constable: Was he in such a condition that you would have started him right away? – Witness: Yes, only it was so late in the day.

Mrs. Martin in giving evidence said, 'this gentleman – pointing to the policeman – has given a false report.'

Edgar Booker and Albert Archer also gave evidence for the defence.

Mr. Jupp said the Bench were of the opinion that sufficient care had not been taken. They fined the landlord 10s and costs, and the man Truby 5s and costs."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane. £0 4s 1½d."

Walsall Observer 9/2/1924

".....Chief Inspector Cooke stated [at the annual licensing sessions] that the BRITISH OAK had very bad living accommodation, a kitchen and scullery and two bedrooms – although the property itself was in a fair state of repair The trade was about four barrels per week."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/7/1924

"The Walsall justices sitting as the Compensation Authority, have referred for compensation, but conditionally renewed the licenses of.....

BRITISH OAK, Blue Lane East which had been objected to on the ground of redundancy."

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority

Compensation of £1,900 was paid on 25th October 1924.

It closed on 1st November 1924.

BRITISH OAK

14, John Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joshua Denham, plater, Day Street, Walsall
City Brewery (Lichfield), Ltd. (acquired in 1899)
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

Robert Harrison [1861] – [1862]

David Dutton [1864] – [1865]

John Douglas [1871] – [1872]

Edward Machin [1872];

John Watson [];

George Littlewood [];

Henry Raybould [];

William Webb [];

Charles Breadney [];
John Carter [];
William Gillard [];
Emmanuel Forrester [];
Eliza Braceford [];
George Goddard [1881]
Henry Goodman [];
Joseph Yates [] – 1887);
David Dutton (1887 – 1889);
William Gough (1889 – 1899);
Maynard Ball (1899 – 1906);
Lizzie Ball (1906 – 1907);
Alfred Webster (1907 – 1933);
Walter Henry Barnett (1933 – 1934);
Frederick Sidney Walmsley (1934 – 1935);
George Ayres (1935 – 1936);
Mary Ayres (1936 – 1937);
Oliver Charles Summers (1937 – 1945);
Mabel (Dickson) Tart (1945 – 1955);
Percy Tart (1955 – 1964);
Brian Michael Steer (1964 – [1966]

NOTES

It was originally known as the ROSE.

It had a beerhouse license.

It had a brewery attached.

Robert Harrison, beer retailer, John Street. [1861]

1861 Census

14, John Street – ROSE INN, Masefields Building

[1] Robert Harrison (30), carter and retail brewer, born Sapcote, Leicestershire;

[2] Matilda Harrison (28), wife, born Staffordshire;

[3] Robert Harrison (10 months), son, born Staffordshire;

[4] George Charles Harrison (10 months), son, born Staffordshire;

[5] Thomas Tarlington (49), father in law, bridle bit filer, born Staffordshire;

[6] Amelia Tarlington (46), mother in law, born Staffordshire;

[7] Rhoda Tarlington (10), sister in law, born Staffordshire:

David Dutton, beer retailer, 14, John Street. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870 - Advert

“To be Let, the BRITISH OAK, John Street; doing a good Business both in and out.
Apply on the Premises.”

1871 Census

14, John Street

[1] John Douglas (38), brush maker, born Glasgow;

[2] Caroline Douglas (28), wife, born Walsall;

[3] John Douglas (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] William Douglas (3), son scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Caroline Douglas (6 months), daughter, born Walsall:

John Douglas, beer retailer, 14, John Street. [1872]

Robert Harrison was also a carter and retail brewer.

The licensee was fined £5 and costs, on 7th October 1874, for Sunday trading.

The licensee was fined 20s and costs on 8th October 1878.

1881 Census

14, John Street – BRITISH OAK

- [1] James Davies (30), retail brewer, born Wingaton (?), Herefordshire;
- [2] Ann Davies (30), wife, born Oswestry;
- [3] Mary F. Davies (4 months), daughter, born Herefordshire;
- [4] Mary J. Davies (24), servant and nurse, born Wingaton (?), Herefordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1883 - Advert

“BRITISH OAK, John Street (Free House), To Be Let. Immediate possession. In coming low. Apply on premises.”

1891 Census

14, John Street – BRITISH OAK

- [1] William Gough (52), publican, born Harden;
- [2] Elizabeth Gough (61), wife, born Lane Head:

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1892

“On Tuesday, as Thomas Dutton (69), watch and clock repairer, of Butts Road, was attending to a clock at the BRITISH OAK, New John Street, he cried ‘Oh!’ and fell from a chair on which he was standing into the arms of the landlord. The latter found that he was unconscious, and sent for a doctor (Dr. Oliver’s assistant), who could do no more than say life had ceased.”

William Gough, beer retailer, 14, John Street. [1896]

See also HORSE AND JOCKEY, Green Lane, and LORD RAGLAN.

1901 Census

14, John Street

- [1] Maynard Ball (38), private brewer and public house, born Hampstead Heath, London;
- [2] Lizzie Ball (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Charles Ball (10), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Smith (26), boarder, brewer’s assistant, born Walsall;
- [5] Adah Norgrove (24), domestic servant, born Weeford Park, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1902

“Enoch Higgenbottom, 25, James Street, was summoned for assaulting Annie Petty, of the back of 25, James Street, on January 25th.

Mr. H. H. Jackson represented the complainant, whose case was that after some words in the BRITISH OAK, John Street, the defendant assaulted her with a can, hit her on the head, causing a wound two inches long and half an inch deep. The defence case was that the complainant slipped down, and that the defendant did not touch her. Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days.”

Maynard Ball, beer retailer, 14, John Street. [1904]

He was fined 20s and costs, on 11th May 1902, for permitting drunkenness.

He was a committee member of the Walsall and District LVA. [1902]

Alfred Webster was also a currier. [1907]

Walsall Observer 14/11/1908

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the President, MANOR ARMS INN, Daw End, Rushall. Mr. R. Anson, Daw End (president), occupied the chair.

Mr. A. E. Cliffe asked to be allowed to resign his seat on the Executive Committee, as he was unable to attend on the evenings the society met. The resignation was accepted with regret, and he was thanked for his past services. Mr. Alfred Webster, BRITISH OAK INN, John Street, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy.”

1911 Census

14, John Street

- [1] Alfred Webster (36), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriet Webster (37), wife, married 14 years, born Walsall;
- [3] William Webster (12), son, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Frederick Webster (9), son, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Beatrice Pettifer (17), adopted, assistant in public house, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [6] Hannah Griffin (17), general servant, born Walsall:

Alfred Webster, beer retailer, 14, John Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 10/5/1913

“A caster named John Spink (30), of 3 house, 1 court, James Street, appeared in the dock charged with stealing half-hundred-weight of parsnips, value 1/6, the property of William Pemberton, market gardener, of Harden Lane, Bloxwich. Prosecutor stated that at 10.40pm on Friday of last week he called at the BRITISH OAK, John Street, leaving his horse and waggon outside. On the waggon were two half-hundredweight bags of parsnips, and other vegetables. He left the public house at 11pm and at 2.30 the next morning was called up by the police. He was requested to examine his waggon, and upon doing so found one of the bags of parsnips missing.

A boy named David Condrey (14), of Marlow Street, stated that at 11pm on the date mentioned he saw a man take a bag containing something off Mr. Pemberton’s waggon. He carried it down Marlow Street, and across some waste ground to the backs of houses in James Street. He did not see the man’s face, but he knew he was of similar build to the prisoner. Witness afterwards informed the police.

Police-constable Williams (41), stated that from the description given to him he went to prisoner’s house, who, after using bad language, said ‘I know what you have come for.’ He came downstairs and fetched a bag of parsnips (produced) out of another room. He admitted having them off the cart.

Prisoner, who pleaded guilty, said he was out of work, and his children were starving. There were a number of previous convictions, and prisoner was sentenced to fourteen days’ hard labour.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1914

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

In connection with the BRITISH OAK, John Street, an application was made by Mr. H. H. Jackson for sanction to alterations, which consisted of converting certain outbuildings (within the licensed area) into a kitchen, &c, for the tenant; to take down the present boundary wall and convert four dwelling-houses (outside the licensed area) into out-offices. Mr. Jackson remarked that there was really no necessity to present plans of that description as there was not the slightest alteration to the licensed area, or the drinking area, but he did so in order that the Clerk might record what alterations were effected. It would be a great public improvement.

The application was deferred to the Adjourned Sessions.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1914

“An application by Mr. H. H. Jackson for sanction to alterations to the BRITISH OAK, John Street, was adjourned to the annual licensing sessions.”

Walsall Observer 25/7/1914 - Advert

“Store Pigs for Sale.
Apply BRITISH OAK, John Street.”

Walsall Observer 23/1/1915- Advert

“Store Pigs, for Sale; also good young Gilt.
Apply, BRITISH OAK, John Street.”

Walsall Observer 6/2/1915

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall, were opened at the Guildhall on Wednesday..... Plans were deposited for improvements in the domestic arrangements at the BRITISH OAK, John Street These plans were approved.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BRITISH OAK, John Street. £1 11s 6d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst..... the following houses which had been objected to were renewed....
BRITISH OAK, John Street.”

1939 Register

14, John Street

[1] Oliver C. Summers, date of birth 30/8/1883, innkeeper, manager, married;

[2] Martha Summers, dob 7/12/1879, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Elsie May (Summers) (Holt) Summers, dob 9/5/1911, music teacher, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BRITISH OAK, John Street, £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
BRITISH OAK, John Street. £1 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 8/1/1944 - Acknowledgements

“Mr. William Myring wishes to thank all Relatives, Neighbours and Friends of BRITISH OAK, John Street, for sympathy in his sad bereavement, and for floral tributes.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BRITISH OAK, John Street. £1 8s 8d.”

BRITISH OAK, John Street (Darts Club). £2 3s 0d.”

Mabel Dickens married a Mr. Tart on 25th May 1955.

A full license was granted on 12th January 1962.

[2012]

Closed [2014], [2017]

BRITISH OAK

201, (101), Lichfield Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Charles Alsop, Mellish Road, Walsall

William Omer Letts

Twist’s Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Charles Alsopp [1853] – [1865]

Maria Alsopp [1861]

Francis Waites [1868] – [1870]

William Mackintosh [] – 1870;

Frederick Augustus Westron (1870 – [1875];

Thomas Wright Hartland [];

James Jolley [1879] – [1880];

James Barr [1883];

Edward Lester [1881] ?

William Omer Letts [1883] – 1931;

Thomas Henry ‘Tom’ Joyce (1931 – 1940);

Mrs. Nellie Joyce (1940 – 1946);

Frederick Wyatt (1946 – 1960);

William Chilton (1960 – 1965);

Harold Leek (1965 – 1966);

Hilda Lena Swinburne (1966 – []

NOTES

101, Lichfield Street [1860], [1862], [1865], [1871], [1879], [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]

201, Lichfield Street

Charles Alsopp = Charles Allsopp = Charles Alsop

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

“At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last, eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers’ licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.

Charles Alsop, Lichfield Street.”

1861 Census

101, Lichfield Street – BRITISH OAK

- [1] Charles Alsopp (47), horse collar maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Maria Alsopp (41), wife, publican employing 3 men and 2 boys, born Walsall;
- [3] Phebe M. Alsopp (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Alsopp (9), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara Ann Alsopp (3), daughter, born Walsall:

Charles Allsopp was also a horse collar maker. [1861], [1864], [1865]

[He appeared in Directories as the licensee.]

Walsall Free Press 17/12/1864 - Advert

“To Be Let, (in consequence of ill health) the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street.

Apply on premises.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 13/7/1867 - Advert

“To Be Disposed Of immediately, the Licenses and Possession, of the well frequented Old Licensed Public House, known as the BRITISH OAK INN, situated in the best part of Lichfield Street, Walsall, now doing a good in and out-door trade, together with the garden, green-house, hot-house, and large range of shopping at the back.

Valuations to suit purchasers.

The proprietor having taken the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, is the sole cause of his leaving.

Apply to H. Farrington, Appraiser, St. George’s Buildings, Walsall.”

Accidentally(?) called ROYAL OAK in 1870.

1871 Census

101, Lichfield Street – BRITISH OAK

- [1] Frederick A. Westron (44), born London;
- [2] Eliza Westron (50), wife, licensed victualler, born Southampton;
- [3] Frederick Westron (16), son, scholar, born Stepney, London:

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

“Defensio, Non Provocatio. Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the Merchandize Marks Act, 1862, and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association.

Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.

Walsall: S. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, 28, Ablewell Street; F. Westron, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street; G. Holden, ODD FELLOWS ARMS, 1, Stafford Street; G. Smith, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street; J. Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; J. H. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck.”

James Barr was also a currier.

London Gazette 17/6/1879

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by James Jolley, of the BRITISH OAK INN, No.101, Lichfield-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Victualler and Accountant.

Notice is hereby given, that a Second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Abraham Baker, Solicitor, 8, Bridge-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 23rd day of June, 1879, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 14th day of June 1879.

A. Baker, 8, Bridge-street, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Debtor."

1881 Census

101, Lichfield Street

[1] Edward Lester (34), clerk and traveller and wine merchant, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Lester (30), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Lily Lester (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Evelyn Lester (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] John E. Lester (3), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1883

"Walsall Licensed Victualler Association.....

It was unanimously decided that the Society should be represented at the Demonstration, to be held on Tuesday next, 14th instant, at 2.30pm, at St. James's Hall, Piccadilly, to protest against the Liquor Traffic (Local Control) Bill, and Mr. E. Smith (BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street), Mr. W. O. Letts (BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street), and Mr. H. Smallwood (VINE INN, Blue Lane) each of whom promised to oppose the measure, were chosen as the delegates."

London Gazette 25/12/1883

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by James Barr, of the BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Currier.

Notice is hereby given, that a Second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person is hereby summoned to be held at the office of Mr. T. H. Stanley, Solicitor, No.4, Bridge-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 2nd day of January, 1884, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 21st day of December, 1883.

T. Howard Stanley, Solicitor for the said Debtor."

Walsall Observer 14/3/1885

"BRITISH OAK Debating Society. On Friday evening, March 6th, the members of the above society held their weekly meeting at the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street. There was a good attendance and an interesting discussion took place, the subject being an adjourned one, 'The Present State of the Empire'....."

William Omer Letts = William Ormer Letts = William H. Letts

William Omer Letts was fined 20s and costs, on 6th January 1890, for opening during prohibited hours.

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1890

"The adjourned licensing session was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The adjourned case of the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, was next brought on. Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Cotterell) appeared for the applicant, and Mr. Willcock for the owner, whilst Mr. Jackson watched the proceedings on behalf of the mortgagee. The Chief Constable objected on three grounds, viz, previous conviction, disorderly conduct, and that the house was not needed [there is now a very long and tedious debate over a legal point] The Chief Constable then called Mr. T. Bott and Mrs. Grafton, residents in Lichfield Street, who said they had complained of disturbances in the street near the BRITISH OAK at closing time, but they would not say that the disorderlies came out of that house. The Bench granted the renewal, not deeming the evidence sufficient to warrant a withdrawal; but at the same time the Mayor warned the occupier (Mr. Letts) as to the future conduct of his house."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

"At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Herbert (instructed by Mr. Cotterell) applied on behalf of William O. Letts for a music and singing license at the BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street. Refused."

1891 Census

101, Lichfield Street – BRITISH OAK INN

[1] William H. Letts (35), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Annie M. Letts (23), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Archibald Letts (7), son, born Walsall;

[4] Ada Walkirk (18), domestic servant, born Walsall;

[5] Miriam Letts (3), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1892

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Saturday last at the house of Mr. William Wilson (hon. treasurer), DOLPHIN INN, George Street.....”

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Mr. W. O. Letts, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street, on the day following the banquet viz, Thursday, December 8th, at 7pm.”

William Omer Letts established the Walsall Harmonic and Social Society here on 2nd October 1897.

Express and Star 5/1/1900

“The first annual soiree arranged by the Walsall Tobacconists’ Association took place on Thursday evening at the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, and the event passed very successfully. There was a good attendance. A miscellaneous programme was gone through and dancing was afterwards indulged in.”

Walsall Observer 10/3/1900

“Walsall Harriers Athletic Club. A slow run was the fixture of this cross country club, on Saturday last. Six members turned out from headquarters, BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street.....”

Walsall Observer 12/5/1900

“The adjourned meeting in connection with the formation of the Walsall Town Rifle Club was held at the BRITISH OAK HOTEL, Lichfield Street, on Monday evening.....”

Walsall Observer 22/9/1900

“On Saturday last, at the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, the staff of the London, and North Western Goods Department and friends met together to do honour to Mr. W. D. Swindells, the late agent at Walsall, who has recently been transferred to Wednesbury.....”

Walsall Observer 6/10/1900

“On Wednesday night an invitation dinner was given by Mr. Letts, at the BRITISH OAK to the president, committee, and officers of the Walsall Harmonic and Social Society. The president (Mr. J. Leaver) officiated as chairman, and proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Letts for the excellent dinner.....”

Walsall Observer 8/12/1900

“Polytechnic Cycling Club. On Saturday night last the above club held their annual dinner at the BRITISH OAK, when nearly 70 members and friends attended. Mr. H. H. Bishop (the president) acted as chairman.....”

1901 Census

101, Lichfield Street

- [1] William O. Letts (45), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Letts (23), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Arciblad Letts (17), son, carpenter, born Walsall;
- [4] Miriam Letts (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Carmi O. Letts (4), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Beatrice P. Letts (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Florence A. Letts (16), niece, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [8] Sarah A. Starkey (21), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1911 Census

101, Lichfield Street

- [1] William Omer Letts (55), brewer and licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Letts (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harold Letts (3), son, school, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, Walsall, 8s 11d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street. £1 0s 9d.”

1939 Register

101, Lichfield Street

- [1] Thomas H. Joyce, date of birth 11/1/1880, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Nellie Joyce, dob 20/5/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939 - Deaths

“On Dec. 10, 1939, Tom, dearly loved husband of Nellie, passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Joyce, of the BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, wishes to thank the Doctors and Nurses of Manor Hospital, Members of the Harmonic and Social Society, Licensed Victuallers’ Society, Old Comrades South Staffordshire Regiment, Mr. G. S. Twist, Relatives, Friends and Customers, for their great kindness in her sad bereavement; also for beautiful flowers.”

AND

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the HAME MAKERS ARMS INN, Blue Lane West, on Thursday, Mr. C. W. Garfield (President) who presided made sympathetic reference to the losses the Society had suffered during the week by the deaths of Mr. Thomas Henry Joyce A resolution of sympathy with the respective families was passed and the company stood for a silent tribute.....”

AND

“The funeral took place at the Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday of Mr. Thomas Henry Joyce, licensee of the BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street, Walsall. The Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society of which Mr. Joyce was a member for over eight years, was represented by Messrs. C. W. Garfield (president), James Bird, T. P. Cole, and T. H. Fenton.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1940

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mrs. Nellie Joyce, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street, £5 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 12/4/1941 - Advert

“Malt for Strength & Energy. Hops for The Appetite. Yeast for The Blood.

Twists The Best Beer for You.

You can Drink and Enjoy Twists Ale at any the of the following Licensed Houses.....

BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street.....

And All The Best Clubs.

Proprietary Whiskies, Foreign Wines and Spirits, High-Class British Sherries and Ports.

Head Office & Brewery, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BRITISH OAK, Lichfield Street. £7 0s 0d.”

Hilda Lena Swinburne – see also MALT SHOVEL.

Closed

BROADWAY

The Crescent / Broadway North, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Toby Inns [1988], [1996], [2009]

LICENSEES

Edwin Henry Cutts (1964);

Selwyn Holden (1964 – [1966]

Peter Last [1982] – 1984)

NOTES

A special order was granted to remove the suspended license from the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, to here, in January 1964. It opened on 9th January 1964.

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

“Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We’ve a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

BROADWAY, Broadway North, Walsall.”

[2017]

BROWN LION

388, (338), Wednesbury Road, (Darlaston Road), (Bescot View), Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Pomford

Caroline Pomford [1905]

Daniel Lawrence

William (?) Horden Bowen

Edward Fearn

Messrs. Fletcher [1904]

Caroline Pomford [1905]

Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd. leased [1905] owners [1908], [1939]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

Jennifer and Malcolm White (acquired in 1992)

LICENSEES

Edward Poyner [1858] – [1861]

Mrs. Jane Poyner [1861] – [1865]

Edward Machin [1868] – [1872]

William Pomford [1872];

Daniel Lawrence [1880];

William (?) Horden Bowen []

Edward Fearn [];

William O Fearn [];

Thomas Williams [] – 1886);

William Derry (1886 – 1899);

Harriet Laura Grose (1899 – 1901);

Mrs. Sarah Jane Rigney (1901 – 1906);

Charles William Mitchell (1906 – 1909);

John Forde (1909 – 1910);

William Perry (1910 – 1913);

John Ford (1913 – 1916);

Edith Ann Ford (1916 – 1918);

Harry Ernest Ballinger (1918 – 1922);

Thomas Rensford Johnson (1922);

John Hayward (1922 – 1924);

William Hargrove (1924 – 1929);

Samuel Roland Holmes (1929 – 1934);

Walter Edwards (1934 – 1936);

Lillie Edwards (1936 – 1939);

David Fisher (1939 – 1940);

William Taylor (1940 – 1953);

Ernest Horsley (1953 – 1958);

Arthur Harper (1958 – 1960);
James Laing (1960 – 1964);
Arthur Charles Roberts (1964);
Norman George Moir (1964 – [1966])
Tony Worley (1993 – [])

NOTES

Darlaston Road, Pleck [1860]
338, Wednesbury Road [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1940]
388, Wednesbury Road

Edward Poyner = Edward Pynor = Edward Poynor

Jane Medlicott was the daughter of William Medlicott of the SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane.
She married Edward Pynor in the 4th quarter of 1853.

Walsall Free Press 30/3/1861 - Death

“On the 22nd instant, at the Pleck, Mr. Edward Poyner, aged 37 years.”

Jane Poyner = Jane Poyner = Jane Poyner = Jane Poynon = Jane Pynon

1861 Census

Wednesbury Road – BROWN LION Public House

- [1] Jane Poyner (38), widow, innkeeper, born Broom, Worcestershire;
- [2] Harriet L. Poyner (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Caroline Poyner (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter C. Poyner (4), son, born Walsall;
- [5] William F. Poyner (2), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Joseph H. Poyner (8 months), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Sarah Poyner (82), mother-in-law, widow, born Brewood, Staffordshire;
- [8] Mary Butler (21), domestic servant, born Ireland;
- [9] Joseph Beckett (44), visitor, railway stoker, born Walsall;
- [10] Mary Beckett (44), visitor, railway stoker's wife, born Walsall:

Birmingham Journal 30/6/1866

“Mr. Fletcher, Coroner, on Wednesday held an inquest at the BROWN LION INN, the Pleck, touching the death of Harry Howard Swindle, aged 18 months, son of Mr. Frank Swindle, goods agent at Bescot Station. On Friday evening the deceased was playing near his father's house, when his aunt heard him scream, and on running in quest of him, found him in an adjacent ditch. He was at once put to bed, and the assistant of Mr. Proctor, surgeon, of Wednesbury, called in; but the mishap had caused a shock to the nervous system of the child, which induced congestion of the lungs, and ended in the poor little fellow's death on Saturday evening. A verdict in accordance with these facts was returned.”

Jane Poyner, widow, married Edward Machin, bachelor, brewer, on 17th December 1866.

Edward Machin = Edward Meecham

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1870

“Mrs. Meecham, keeper of the BROWN LION INN, the Pleck, asked to be allowed to keep her house open after 11 o'clock that night, she having made arrangements for a housewarming supper, but the Justices declined to grant the request.”

1871 Census

Wednesbury Road

- [1] Edward Machin (29), victualler, born Gesemore (?), Staffordshire;
- [2] Jane Machin (40), wife, born Broom, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Poyner (16), unmarried, daughter-in-law, scholar, born Bescot;
- [4] Walter Poyner (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William Poyner (13), son, scholar, born Pleck;
- [6] Joseph Poyner (10), son, scholar, born Pleck;
- [7] Thomas Machin (23), boarder, pointsman, born Gesemore (?), Staffordshire;
- [8] George Heskey (30), boarder, forgeman roller, born Shiffhall:

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

“Municipal Election. The Bridge Ward.....

On Tuesday evening the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of Mr. Grant’s friends that had been held from the commencement of his candidature was held at the BROWN LION, Darlaston Road.....”

1891 Census

Wednesbury Road – BROWN LION INN

[1] William Derry (26), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Annie Derry (23), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] Susan Derry (23), sister, barmaid, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1896

“John Felton, 335, Pleck Road, is the handy man at the BROWN LION INN, Pleck. The water for this establishment is drawn from a private pump, but this, on May 19th broke down, and Felton obtained water for swilling purposes from a neighbouring standpipe. He was observed in the act by Police-constable 50 (Harcourt), who laid an information. It was explained that neither Felton nor his master was a customer of the Waterworks Company, and a fine of 5s and costs was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1896

“The first fatality occasioned by the electric trams in Walsall since the opening of the system occurred on Monday night at a spot between the Pleck and James Bridge Station, known as the Black Gap. The victim was a coachbuilder named Samuel Spooner (57), of 158, Darlaston Road, Pleck, who on Monday night called at the BROWN LION INN, but, on account of his condition, was turned away. He went with his wife as far as Narrow Lane, but she then left him, and subsequently two youths, named Frank Newey and Tuckley, saw ‘something’ dark lying on the tram rails, but before they could get near enough to examine it a tram came up and ran over what turned out to be Spooner, who had lain there helplessly drunk. When extricated by means of a jack he was quite dead.

An inquest was held at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street (the body having been conveyed to the public mortuary) by the Borough Coroner, Mr. T. H. Stanley, on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Robins, Mr. H. Hackett, and Mr. F. Spencer represented the Tramways Company, and Mr. G. D. Elliot the Electrical Construction Company.

It was stated that the tram was not going at more than six miles an hour, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Observer 16/12/1899

“At the Birmingham Assizes, on Tuesday, Mrs. Laura Harriet Grose, Proprietress of the BROWN LION, Pleck, Walsall, brought an action against William Derry, also of Walsall, and former proprietor of the BROWN LION, for slander. The evidence showed that defendant for some reason unknown, maliciously stated to several people in a public-house that the plaintiff misconducted herself with her customers.

The jury returned a verdict in favour of the plaintiff, with £5 damages.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/9/1902

“With regard to the application (by Mr. Walford) for the sanction of alterations to the BROWN LION, Pleck, the Mayor said the Bench considered that as planned they would destroy the identity of the house. They would only deal with the application by way of a new grant, after due notice.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

The BROWN LION. Mrs. Sarah Jane Rigney, landlady of this house, was questioned as to dilapidated gates, a low wall, and defective out-houses.

Mr. Walford said the owners (Messrs. Fletcher) produced plans for the rebuilding of the house, but they were put back by the Bench, as a committee was going to visit all the houses. The license was renewed on an undertaking that what was required should be done.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

“A new letter-box has been provided for the Pleck, close to the BROWN LION, which will doubtless be a boon to the large population in that neighbourhood. There will be five collection on week days, from 7am to 7.20pm; and on Sunday the box will be cleared at 1.30pm.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1905

“The annual Brewster session were resumed on Tuesday at the Guildhall, for the third day.....

Mr. W. Walford (Wilkinson, Mills and Walford) applied on behalf of the Highgate Brewing Co, lessees, and Mrs. Caroline Pomford, owner of the BROWN LION, Pleck, for the approval of plans for rebuilding that house, or in the alternative for a new license for the proposed premises.

Mr. Walford said this case had been before the Court for three successive years. Last year the Bench visited the place and granted the application, but when it came before the Bench for confirmation they did not think it fit to confirm it.

Mr. H. Lester said he opposed on behalf of the Society for the Prevention of Intemperance, and objected to the application on the ground that the drinking area would be largely increased.

Mr. Loxton said the application was for a new license, and if the magistrates granted it they would have to fix the monopoly value.

Mr. Walford: I will leave you to advise the magistrates as to what course to adopt, and what course they decide we will fix.

Mr. Loxton: That is very fair. (To Mr. Lester) Are you representing the Society for Intemperance? (loud laughter).

Mr. Lester said he represented the Society for the Prevention of Intemperance, and he opposed on moral grounds also. The drinking area would be increased from 614 to 745 feet, and the clubroom would be increased from 320 to 612 feet, whilst the cellars would also be larger.

Mr. Hickton, architect (Hickton and Farmer), gave evidence as to the plans, and he mentioned that a cottage house adjoining would be taken away, so as to give a private entrance to the cottages in rear.

The application was granted provisionally, the magistrates intimating that they would instruct Messrs. Fowler and Bewlay to value the premises as to the monopoly value to be paid."

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

"The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Jackson applied for a music license on behalf of Mr. C. W. Mitchell, BROWN LION HOTEL, for a music license for every Monday evening, from 8 till 10.45. He explained that this was in connection with the meetings of the Free Gardeners Friendly Society, which has a lodge here of 96 members.

The Chief Constable said he had no objection, and the room was a very suitable. Granted."

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1909

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the vice-president, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.....

John Ford, BROWN LION INN, Wednesbury Road was elected member of the society as from 1st January, 1910."

1911 Census

Wednesbury Road – BROWN LION INN

[1] William Perry (51), public house manager, born Bloxwich;

[2] Teresa Perry (51), wife, married 12 years, born Erdington;

[3] Kate Dyke (21), servant, born Tipton;

[4] Lillian Lloyd (19), servant, born Wednesbury;

[5] Frank Davis (19), barman, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 1/2/1913

"On Saturday last at the BROWN LION, Pleck, between twenty and thirty friends sat down to a farewell supper with the Host (Mr. W. Perry), who is leaving to take over a house in Wednesbury."

Walsall Observer 1/8/1914

"The fourth annual flower and vegetable show, held under the auspices of the Darlaston Road and Bescot Allotment Holders' Mutual Improvement Association.....

The 'honorary' collection of vegetables staged by Mr. Ford, of the BROWN LION, Pleck, comprised a dozen varieties, including some fine large onions and vegetable marrows, and good peas and beans."

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BROWN LION, Pleck, Walsall, 9d."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BROWN LION, Pleck. £0 9s 10d."

Harry Ernest Ballinger – see also CRITERION.

John Hayward was fined £5, on 26th October 1923, for suffering his house to be used for the purpose of betting.

South Staffordshire Times 2/2/1924

"Your worships are no doubt aware of the reason for the transfer,' remarked Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, when, at Walsall Police Court, he asked for the transfer of the license of the BROWN LION, Pleck, from John Hayward to William Hargrove. The application was granted."

Samuel Roland Holmes was married to Lilian.

Walsall Observer 27/5/1933

“Buffalo Ceremonies.....

At the Garrick Lodge of the R.A.O.B. at the BROWN LION, Pleck, on Wednesday evening, Mr. Harold Chare was initiated to the Order by the WP, Bro. S. R. Holmes, CP. He was sponsored by his brother, Mr. George Chare.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

BROWN LION, Pleck.”

1939 Register

Wednesbury Road – BROWN LION

[1] David Fisher, date of birth 9/1/1880, licensed manager, married;

[2] Doris Minnie (Fisher) Austin, dob 20/11/1905, housewife, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Phyllis Bradley, dob 26/7/1914, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BROWN LION, Wednesbury Road, Pleck, £12 12s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Taylor, the BROWN LION, Wednesbury Road. £0 17s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BROWN LION, Wednesbury Road. £15 2s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BROWN LION, Wednesbury Road, Pleck. £1 2s 0d.”

[1996]

Closed [2001]

It was converted into housing.

Express & Star 16/8/2019

“Temporary traffic lights have been put in place on a Walsall road due to the risk of a former pub collapsing. Part of Wednesbury Road has been cordoned off in Pleck due to the unstable former BROWN LION pub next to the road, with Walsall Council warning the problem is unlikely to be fixed quickly. Around 100 metres of the road is shut for eastbound drivers between Caledon Street and the A4148 Old Pleck Road but is open for people travelling west. Drivers heading towards Walsall town centre thus face a one-mile diversion via Bescot Road, Wallows Lane and Bescot Crescent. The bus stop adjacent to Caledon Street has been suspended and the stop adjacent to Prince Street was also set to be removed from use. Delays are expected at both the junction of Pleck Road and Wednesbury Road and on the diversion route, Walsall Council said.”

Express & Star 10/5/2021

“Burglars armed with machetes raided a cannabis farm in the Black Country. The raid at the old BROWN LION pub in Walsall happened just after midnight on Monday. Police were alerted to reports of a break-in at the pub, which has been turned into flats, and when they arrived they discovered around 50 cannabis plants. The knifemen had fled and it is not known how many plants they took with them. Uniformed and forensic officers were at the scene on Wednesbury Road throughout Monday morning. So far nobody has been arrested. A spokesman for West Midlands Police said, ‘Forensics officers recovered fingerprints from the lighting and photographed the cannabis plants and the damage caused by the suspects as they forced their way inside to the building. The electricity has been bypassed, so Western Power attended to make it safe. An investigation is underway.’”

BRUSHMAKERS ARMS

71, (26), Church Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Thomas Sanders, High Street, Bloxwich

LICENSEES

David Harris [1868] – [1881]
Philip Thomas Sanders [1882] – 1887;
Harriet Ann Richards (1887 – 1892);
John Selvey (1892 – 1895);
Theophilus Wilkes (1895 – 1899);
Fanny Wilkes (1899 – 1901);
George Bentley (1901 – 1903);
John Wilkes (1903 – 1904);

NOTES

26, Church Street [1871]
71, Church Street [1891], [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

David Harris, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

26, Church Street – BRUSHMAKERS ARMS
[1] David Harris (36), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
[2] Harriet Harris (36), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] Sarah Ann Harris (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[4] David Harris (13), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[5] Albert Harris (9), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[6] Edward Jennings (19), visitor, coal miner, born Bloxwich:

David Harris, beer retailer, Church Street. [1872]

1881 Census

69+71, Church Street – Public House and Grocer's Shop
[1] David Harris (49), brush maker, born Blakenall;
[2] Harriett Harris (46), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] Sarah A. Harris (26), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[4] Thomas A. Harris (19), son, bridle cutter, born Blakenall;
[5] Emma Somerfield (22), niece, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

71, Church Street
[1] Harriet A. Richards (35), widow, publican, born Leicester;
[2] Liddia E. Richards (18), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
[3] Mary A. Aldridge (14), domestic servant, born Aldridge:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday.....

The renewal of the license of the BRUSHMAKERS ARMS beerhouse to John Selvey was also opposed, on the grounds of a conviction for being drunk on his licensed premises, that the keeper was not a person of good character, and that the license was not required. Granted.”

John Selvey, beer retailer, 71, Church Street. [1896]

1901 Census

71, Church Street

[1] George Bentley (26), coal miner (hewer), born Bloxwich;

[2] Fanny Bentley (32), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Lillian Wilkes (7), stepdaughter, born Walsall;

[4] Amy Totty (18), sister in law, brush trade boring, born Walsall:

John Wilkes, beer retailer, 71, Church Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

John Wilkes, BRUSHMAKERS ARMS.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

Mr. Loxton read a list of decisions (some of which had been given the previous day), and stated that in the case of some of the renewals the magistrates were of opinion that they were not required, but as they were taken out prior to 1869 they had been granted in order to give the owners an opportunity of considering their position and making any suggestions they thought necessary. The decisions included the following.....

BRUSHMAKERS ARMS, a valuer to be appointed.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting was continued on Thursday for the sixth day.....

In regard to the BRUSHMAKERS ARMS, Bloxwich, Mr. H. E. Farmer presented an independent valuation, and Mr. H. H. Jackson (for the owner) promised to have the property put into a proper state of repair. License refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/4/1904

“In connection with the recent Walsall Brewster Sessions, there were this week six appeals at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions against the decisions of the borough magistrates in refusing the renewal of licenses.....

John Wilkes, landlord of the BRUSHMAKERS ARMS, Bloxwich, appealed against the decision of the Walsall justices in refusing to renew the license of the house on the ground of insufficient value. Mr. Plumptre and Mr. Lewis were for the appellants, and Mr. Disturnal was for the respondent.

A question arose in this case as to whether this was an ante-1869 beerhouse, and after hearing the evidence the Court held that it was an ante-1869 house.

The question for the Court then resolved itself into one of value.

The evidence on behalf of the respondents was to the effect that the house was in a dilapidated condition, and that an expenditure of £45 was necessary to put the premises into tenantable repair, thereby reducing the annual rental of the house below the statutory minimum, Mr. Farmer, who inspected the house for the justices, putting the annual value at 7s below the statutory value.

For the appellant, Mr. Powell (valuer) put the value of the premises at £20 odd a year. Mr. Bewlay assessed the value at £18 odd, and Mr. Hughes placed a like value on the house.

The Court were unanimous in dismissing the appeal with costs.”

BUILDERS ARMS

73, (99), Wisemore / (3, Albert Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Hartop, Mountrath Street, Walsall

Showells Brewery Ltd. (leased) (acquired in 1902)

Frederick Paddock

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired on 15th September 1941)

LICENSEES

William Hartop [1837] – [1858]

Daniel Darby [1860] – [1865]

Samuel Darby [1868]
Daniel Darby [1871] – [1873];
Thomas Wright [1880] – [1883];
Stephen Hunter [1885] – 1889);
Richard Shazell (1889 – 1890);
William Sheeson Palmer (1890 – 1891);
Edward Clark [1892] ?
George Hunt (1891 – 1893);
John Thomas Hawkins (1893 – 1896);
John Taggart (1896 – 1901);
Thomas Murtock (1901 – 1902);
William Lawrence (1902);
Arthur Thomas Scotson (1902 – 1903);
William Edward Cooper (1903 – 1904);
Frederick Rollason (1904 – 1906);
William Barker (1906);
Alfred Rigby (1906 – 1907);
Alfred Lee (1907 – 1909);
Mrs. Louisa Jane McGarry (1909 – 1916);
Frank Yates (1916 – 1922);
Frank William Roberts (1922 – 1923);
Frederick Paddock [1925] ?
Harry Birch (1923 – 1940);
Mrs. Rose Emily Birch (1940 – 1941);
Cyril Vernon Sleigh (1941 – 1943);
Joseph William Wood (1943 – 1949);
Arthur Brown (1949 – 1952);
Edgar James Porter (1952 – 1954);
John Lawrence (1954 – 1955);
Frank Henry Price (1955 – 1956);
Frederick Arthur Sale (1956 – 1958);
John Stanley Coverdale (1958 – [1966])

NOTES

73, Wisemore [1860], [1861], [1871], [1881], [1901], [1911], [1939]
99, Wisemore [1891]

William Hartop = William Hortop

William Hartop was also a carpenter. [1842]
He was described as being also a builder, carpenter and joiner. [1845]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/7/1846

“On Monday week, before the Mayor and C. Greatrex, Esq., Thomas Small and John Penn, remanded from the 8th inst., were again placed in the dock, charged with cutting and wounding one William Moore, carpenter of Walsall. Mr. Duignan appeared on behalf of the prosecution. The prisoners were defended by Mr. Wilkinson. Mr. Duignan, in his opening address to the Bench stated that he was not prepared to offer any evidence against the younger prisoner, William Penn, who was discharged. William Moore, the prosecutor, was then sworn. He stated that about eight o’clock on the night of Tuesday, the 7th inst. he was at the BUILDERS ARMS, in Wisemore, in company with the prisoner Thomas Small, drinking in the taproom. In the course of the conversation, the prisoner offered to give the prosecutor a carpenter’s axe, if he (Moore) would call at his house for it. They remained drinking nearly two hours, when the prisoner left and went home. Some time afterwards the prosecutor left, and called at the prisoner’s house, which is situated in Marsh Lane, and asked for the axe, which was given to him. As soon, however, as the prisoner’s wife became aware that her husband had given away the axe, she flew into a passion, and refused to allow him to take it. An altercation therefore ensued, and blows were freely exchanged on both sides; in short the evidence went to show that no less than six or seven persons were engaged in the fracas at one time. In the scuffle, the prosecutor felt himself struck upon the left side below the small ribs, but was not aware he had been stabbed until he went home, about ten minutes afterwards. This was accounted for by his having worn a very strong belt on the night in question. He felt no doubt that the blow was given by the prisoner; he, however, could not positively swear to the fact. Several witnesses were called on both sides, including the medical man who attended the prosecutor, and who positively swore that the wound had been inflicted by a knife or other sharp instrument. This case lasted about two hours, and terminated in the discharge of the prisoner.”

William Hartop was described as being also a builder. [1849], [1851]

1851 Census

Wisemore

- [1] William Hartop (50), builder and publican, born Bedath, Warwickshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Hartop (49), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Henry Hartop (29), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Hartop (54), sister, cuffle(?), born Bedath, Warwickshire;
- [5] Joseph Silvester (20), servant, waggoner, born Walsall:

Birmingham Journal 8/12/1855

“Between nine and ten o’clock on Wednesday night, the death of Mr. John Guest, a teacher of music, residing in Wisemore, under very sudden and afflicting circumstances. The deceased who had been performing on the organ at the Catholic Chapel, was returning home to his residence, in company with a young man, his organ-blower, and in passing along Bradford Street, and when opposite the TURF TAVERN, he suddenly said to his companion, ‘Hold me, or I shall fall.’ Immediately afterwards he dropped to the ground, and exclaiming, ‘Lord, have mercy on me,’ he expired. The body was removed to his residence, and an inquest was held on Friday (yesterday) by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, at the house of Mr. William Hartop, the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, when the above facts having been given in evidence, the jury returned the usual verdict in such cases. The deceased left a widow and two children totally unprovided for.”

Birmingham Journal 25/4/1857

“On Monday last, a plasterer, named James Little, residing in Garden Walk, committed suicide by cutting his throat. The people of the house in which he lived had gone out in the forenoon, leaving him alone with his little girl. On the fact becoming known, however, Mr. Cox, assistant to Mr. Wymper, surgeon, was promptly called in, and proceeded to sew up the wound, but all his attention was unavailing, Little dying about half-past two. The recent loss of his wife and pecuniary embarrassments are supposed to have led to the desperate act, and the poor man had been observed for some time to be in a desponding way. An inquest was held on the body of Little, in the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, on the following day. The person with whom he lodged was examined, and detailed the facts as we have given them. It appeared that he had inflicted a dreadful wound upon himself, almost severing his head from his body. The verdict of the Jury was that the deceased had committed Suicide by cutting his throat while in a state of Insanity.”

Birmingham Journal 8/5/1858 - Advert

“Wisemore, Walsall Foreign.

To be Disposed Of, by H. Farrington, the Goodwill and Licenses of that old-established Inn, known as the BUILDERS ARMS, most advantageously situated at the Wisemore, in the occupation of Mr. Hartop, who is retiring from the trade.

The House contains Entrance Passage, Bar, two Parlours, Tap Room, Sitting Room, and several good Bed Rooms, good Brew-house, Cellars, Entrance Yard, Stable, Coach-house, and Shopping or Store Room.

The above is an excellent opportunity to a person in search of a respectable House having a good trade, and is situated in a thriving neighbourhood.

Rent and Payments very low.

The Stock of Ale, &c., (which is of the best quality), Furniture, &c., will be required to be taken to, in the usual way.

Apply to Mr. Hartop, on the Premises; or to H. Farrington, Appraiser, 49, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1861 Census

73, Wisemore

- [1] Daniel Darby (38), chain maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Darby (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Darby (14), son, chain maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Darby (12), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Darby (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Emily Darby (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Darby (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Caroline Staple (20), general servant, born Thorne, Somersetshire;
- [9] Richard Yates (19), boarder, chain maker, born Walsall:

Daniel Darby was also a chainmaker. [1864], [1865]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/1/1865

“On Saturday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner, held an inquest at the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, upon the body of Martha Jane Vaughan, aged one year and ten months, daughter of Samuel Vaughan, Duncalfe Street. From the evidence it appeared on the 18th ult. she was playing with an elder sister, while her mother was in an adjoining room, and by some means or other she ignited her clothes, and before the flames could be extinguished she was severely burnt. No medical aid, however, was procured until the 30th ult. when Mr. Palmer, surgeon, was called in, but before he arrived the child had expired. The Coroner severely censured the mother for neglecting to procure aid sooner. The jury after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

73, Wisemore – BUILDERS ARMS

- [1] Daniel Darby (49), licensed victualler and chain maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Darby (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Emily Darby (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Eliza Darby (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Daniel Darby (14), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Arthur Darby (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Alice Darby (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Thomas Darby (20), son, chain maker, born Walsall:

1881 Census

73, Wisemore – BUILDERS ARMS

- [1] Thomas Wright (52), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Jane Wright (47), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Wright (21), son, collar maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Wright (17), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Wisdom (11), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Allice Williams (18), visitor, scholar, born Walsall:

Thomas Wright – see also WISEMORE TAVERN.

London Gazette 26/1/1883

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Wright, of the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler.

Notice is hereby given, that a second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at our offices, No.48, Bridge Street, Walsall aforesaid on the 5th day of February 1883, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.....

Marlow, Potter and Marten, Solicitors for the said Debtor.”

Walsall Observer 21/3/1885

“Stephen Hunter, The BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, was summoned for having his house open after eleven o'clock on the 12th inst.

Police-sergeant Gore deposed that he visited the house, and found two men there. They were persons who lived in Stafford Street. Defendant told him they were his private guests.

Mr. Loxton, who defended, stated that what was told Gore was the truth.

Defendant deposed that he had had a children's party, and the two gentlemen came to fetch their children, who had, however, left. He thereupon invited them to stay to supper, and they did so.

Case dismissed.”

West Bromwich Weekly News 20/8/1887

“Stephen Hunter (39), landlord of the BUILDERS ARMS, Walsall; Joseph Knowles (49), Longacre, Nechells; and William Jefferson (29), Port Road, Icknield, were charged with aiding and abetting in a prize fight at Perry Barr on the 12th inst. The police succeeded in capturing a horse, a fruiterer's cart, with ropes, stakes, and towels, which were not claimed by anyone.

Defendants were remanded for a fortnight.”

William Sheeson Palmer was fined 40s and costs, on 9th July 1890, for permitting drunkenness.

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The annual licensing sessions for Walsall borough were held yesterday.....

The licenses on the black list were all renewed with a caution, except that of the BUILDERS ARMS, the landlord of which was not present when called. It was ordered that he should apply on the adjourned day.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1890

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The business from the annual licensing session last week took place at the Guildhall yesterday.... The license of the BUILDERS ARMS, The Wisemore, was renewed, the Chief Constable stating that the conduct of the house had been improved.”

1891 Census

99, Wisemore – BUILDERS ARMS

- [1] William S. Palmer (29), unmarried, publican, born Castor, Northamptonshire;
- [2] Ann S. Pitchford (46), housekeeper, born Heath Town:

John Taggart was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

73, Wisemore – Public House

- [1] Thomas Murtock (40), polisher, born Walsall;
- [2] Rachel Ann Murtock (35), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Murtock (19), son, polisher, born Walsall;
- [4] Annie Murtock (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah Dolphin (14), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Ethel Mansel (10), visitor, born Walsall:

William Lawrence was fined 5s and costs, on 26th February 1902, for selling ale not in the correct bottle.

Walsall Advertiser 14/4/1906

“The monthly meeting of the meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. William Barker, BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore.”

1911 Census

73, Wisemore

- [1] Louisa McGarry (53), widow, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Frank Yates (30), son in law, chain weighman, born Cannock;
- [3] Louisa Yates (30), daughter, married 5 years, barmaid, born Pelsall;
- [4] Cyril Yates (1), son of above, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... BUILDERS' ARMS, Wisemore. £1 3s 7d.”

Demolished

It was rebuilt in the 1920s.

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1923

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 16th inst.....

Mr. Harry Birch, BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench. Applications were made for the renewal of the BIRD IN HAND, James Street; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; BELL INN, Stafford Street, and the BELL AND CUCKOO, Stafford Street, which had been objected to under the Compensation clause, and had stood over for plans for alterations to be submitted. It was stated that the justices' requirements had been met except in the case of the BELL INN The justices, after a brief retirement, renewed the whole of the licenses, but with regard to the BELL INN intimated that it was only provisionally renewed for a year to enable the committee to consider the question of alterations.”

1939 Register

73, Wisemore

- [1] Harry Birch, date of birth 11/9/1884, public house manager, married;
- [2] Rose E. Birch, dob 31/3/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Joan B. (Birch) Coombes, dob 2/4/1920, warehouse girl, electrical accessories, single;
- [4] Sidney F. Birch, dob 26/11/1913, dispatch clerk, electrical accessories, single:

Walsall Observer 25/5/1940

“The funeral took place at the Crematorium, Perry Barr, on Thursday week, of Mr. Harry Birch, of the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, Walsall. The Walsall Licensed Victualler's Society, of which Mr. Birch had been a member for over sixteen years, was represented by Messrs. C. W. Garfield (president), James Bird, T. H. Fenton, T. P. Cole, F. Lord, and H. Green.”

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society at the RED LION HOTEL, Park Street..... Mrs. R. E. Birch, BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, was elected a member of the Society.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/1/1942

“Messrs. Fox and Harrison reported the following property transactions by private treaty.....

The BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Sleigh, BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore. £2 17s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore. £1 0s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

There were six summons against the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, Park Brewery, Wolverhampton, in respect of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road; RISING SUN, Green Lane; RED LION, Park Street; BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; and HAMEMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane; and the managers of those houses, William Allport, Joseph Thomas Astbury, Thomas Purton Cole, Constance Mary Horton, Cyril Vernon Sleigh (now of Stafford Street) [CRITERION], and Arthur Abraham Canning for aiding and abetting.

Mr. Cooper appeared for the brewery company and stated that it would be unfair and unjust if they were made to pay double the penalty imposed on the managers, as in the preceding cases, seeing that they had given specific instructions to all their managers that regulations must be strictly complied with and if they could not get sufficient coal for their purposes they should apply to the local Fuel Overseer for permits for extra supplies.

‘I regard it as somewhat ungenerous on the part of Mr. Cooper to try to throw the blame on the poor managers,’ said Mr. Hodgkinson, who pointed out that all the profits from the houses went to the brewery company and that the coal was not used for their own benefit but for the benefit of the public.

In these cases the brewery company was fined 10s in each case, and the other defendants £1 each except Horton who was ordered to pay £2.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore. £2 11s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/1/1944

“Edmund Griffin (24), labourer, a married man with one child, living in lodgings in Hollemeadow Avenue, pleaded guilty to stealing a glass, valued at 1s 6d, from the BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore. It was found in his possession when he was seen by Detective-constable Lloyd about another matter at 11.40pm on Sunday, and at first he said it was his. Later, however, he made a statement to the effect that a man paid for one or two whiskies for him in the public-house and just before he came out he put the glass in his pocket.

Griffin, who told the magistrates that it was the whisky that made him do it, was fined £1, with 5s costs. It was stated that he had been discharged from the Army as medically unfit, and that there were two previous convictions against him for cycle stealing.”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1964

“The quarter finals, semi-finals and final of the Walsall, Wolverhampton and district sub area competition of the News of the World individual darts championship of England and Wales, will be held in Pelsall Social Club, Norton Road, Pelsall, on Thursday next, January 16, all players to be on the mark at 8pm prompt. The eight finalists are.....

Billy Law (BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, Walsall).”

[2005]

Closed [2006], [2009]

It was demolished in 2009.

BULLS HEAD

79, Park Road, (1, High Street), (79, The Green), Short Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Edwin Webster, saddler, South Road, Bloxwich
William Keats
J. W. Brookes, Bloxwich Brewery
Lord's Brewery
Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Colbourne [1812] – [1818]
Thomas Taylor [1828] – [1842]
Samuel Taylor [1849] – 1864)
William Henry Sanders [1867]
Reuben Brown Mantle [1868] – [1870]
Robert Roughford [1869]
Edwin Webster [1871] – [1872]
John James Grew (1888 – 1906);
William Fryer (1906 – 1910);
Arthur Banks (1910 – 1928);
Harold Ernest Alger (1928 – 1930); manager
Thomas Statham (1930 – 1931);
Harry Clifford Smith (1931 – 1936);
Harry Davenport (1936 – 1952);
Harold William Tolley (1952 – 1953);
Clifford Mullers (1953 – 1957);
Fred Preston (1957 – 1961);
Walter Raymond Lynch (1961 – [1966]
Mrs. Janet Craddock [2006]

NOTES

Green [1864], [1865], [1896], [1902], [1911]
1, High Street [1871]
79, The Green [1881], [1891]
79, Park Road [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]

The Amicable Society (a friendly society) met here from 1785.

William Colbourne = William Colbourn

William Colbourn, victualler, BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, male, held at BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, supposed number 260, surgeon Mr. Parnell, secretary Titus Somerfield.

Friendly Society, female, held at BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, surgeon Mr. Adams."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/10/1817 - Advert

"Capital Timber and Underwood.

To be Sold, by Henshaw and Smith, at Mr. William Colbourne's, the Sign of the BULLS HEAD, near Walsall, in the County of Stafford, on Thursday the 30th of October, 1817, at Four o'clock in the Afternoon, viz.

Lot I. 13 Acres (more or less) of Underwood.

Lot II. 152 Oak Timber Trees, 3 Cyphers, and 1 Beech.

The above Timber and Underwood are growing in the Deep Moor, near Walsall aforesaid. The Timber is Scribe-marked, and within a short distance of the Canal Banks and the Turnpike Road between Wolverhampton and Walsall.

The Gamekeeper at Bentley Hall will shew the Timber and Underwood."

Birmingham Journal 11/4/1829 - Marriages

"On Monday last, at St. Mathew's Church Walsall, (by the Rev. S. Lowe, A.M. Lecturer) Mr. Samuel Cotterill, farmer, of Gnosall, Staffordshire, to Miss Elizabeth York, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, in the Foreign of Walsall."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

“The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion.....

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.

Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.

Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.

Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.

Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.

Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.

Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.

Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.

True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/11/1850 - Notice

“All Persons holding Cottages under the Right Honourable, the Earl of Bradford, at the following places within the Manor of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, are requested to Pay their Rents as directed underneath.

Coal Heath, Shelfield, Green Lane, Iron Dish, Walsall Wood, Holly Bank, Shire Oaks, Pepper Alley, Paul’s Coppice, Clayhanger, Catshill, Goblin’s Pit, and High Heath, will be received at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Walsall Wood, on Thursday, the 14th of November at ten o’clock.

Broadstone, Harden, Blakenall Heath, Bloxwich Lane, Little Bloxwich, Fistley, Wallington Heath, Short Heath, and Dead Man’s Heath, will be received at the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Friday, the 15th day of November, at ten o’clock.

Fullbrook, Walsall Towns End, Flaxoven, Blue Lane, Birchills Lane, Bloxwich Lane, Birchills, Park Brook, Wednesbury Road, the Pleck, and Bescote, will be received at the HORSE SHOES, at the Pleck, on Saturday, the 16th of November, at ten o’clock.

John Potter, Stewart of Walsall Manor.

Cross Street, Walsall 23rd October, 1850.

N.B. Attendance will be given from ten to three o’clock. No arrears will be allowed to remain outstanding after rent days.”

1851 Census

BULLS HEAD INN

[1] Samuel Taylor (54), victualler, innkeeper, born Bloxwich;

[2] Hannah Taylor (44), wife, domestic duties, born Bloxwich;

[3] Jane Smith (18), house servant, born Bloxwich;

[4] Lucy Taylor (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich:

1861 Census

Short Heath – BULLS HEAD INN

[1] Samuel Taylor (62), victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Hannah Taylor (54), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Lucy Taylor (18), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Sarah Dilkes (19), domestic servant, born Pelsall;

[5] Eliza Benton (20), boarder, visitor, born Hednesford:

Staffordshire Journal 28/5/1864 - Deaths

“On the 21st instant, of apoplexy, Mr. Samuel Taylor, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, aged 68 years.”

Walsall Free Press 3/11/1866 - Notice

“Walsall Manorial Cottage Premises.

All Parties holding Cottages at the following places, within the manor of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, are requested to Pay Their Rents as directed underneath.

Coal Heath, Shelfield, Green Lane, Iron Ditch, Walsall Wood, Holly Bank, Shire Oaks, Pepper Alley, Paul’s Coppice, Clayhanger, Catshill, Goblin’s Pit, The Vigo, and High Heath, will be received at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on Thursday, the 8th of November from Eleven till Three o’clock.

Broadstone, Harden, Blakenall, Bloxwich Lane, Little Bloxwich, Fishley, Wallington Heath, Short Heath, and Dead Man’s Heath, will be received at the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Friday, the 9th of November, from Eleven till Three o’clock.

Fullbrook, Walsall Town’s End, Blue Lane, Birchills Lane, Stafford Street, Birchills, Park Brook, Wednesbury Road, The Pleck, and Bescote, will be received at the HORSE SHOES, at The Pleck, near Walsall, on Saturday, the 10th day of November, from Eleven o’clock till Three o’clock.

John Porter, St. George’s Buildings, The Bridge, Walsall, 1st October, 1866.”

Birmingham Journal 8/6/1867 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In The Court Of Bankruptcy For The Birmingham District.

William Henry Sanders, known and trading as 'William Sanders,' formerly of Church Street, Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, Lock Maker, Wine, Ale, and Porter Dealer, now of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich aforesaid, Lock Maker and Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged Bankrupt under a Petition for Adjudication in Bankruptcy, filed in the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, on the 4th day of June, 1867, is hereby required to surrender himself to a Registrar of the Court at the First Meeting of Creditors, to be held before the said Registrar on the 19th day of June, 1867, at Twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the said Court, at Birmingham, when and where Creditors can prove their Debts, and may proceed to the Choice of a Creditors' Assignee. Mr. George Kinnear, of Birmingham, is the Official Assignee; and Mr. John Glover, Walsall, the Solicitor in the Bankruptcy; Agents, Reece and Harris, Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/7/1867 - Advert

"To Be Disposed Of immediately, the Licenses and Possession, of the well frequented Old Licensed Public-House, known as the BRITISH OAK INN, situated in the best part of Lichfield Street, Walsall, now doing a good in and out-door trade, together with the garden, green-house, hot-house, and large range of shopping at the back.

Valuations to suit purchasers.

The proprietor having taken the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, is the sole cause of his leaving.

Apply to H. Farrington, Appraiser, St. George's Buildings, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

"On Tuesday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, held an inquest at the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, on the body of Chas. Craddock, aged 54, hay and straw dealer, who on the previous Saturday morning, while engaged in loading a cart with straw at the farm of Mr. Snape, Pelsall, fell from the top of a rick from which he was taking straw, fracturing his skull, dislocating his shoulder, and otherwise injuring himself so severely that he died on Sunday night. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/7/1869

"Petty Session. Offending Publicans.....

Robert Roughford, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, for having had his house open during prohibited hours, namely, at a quarter past 12 o'clock (noon), on Sunday last, was fined 1s and costs."

1871 Census

1, High Street

- [1] Edwin Webster (23), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Amelia Webster (22), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Alfred J. Webster (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Lydia Cox (19), general servant, born Walsall;
- [5] Harriet Edge (17), nurse, born Walsall;
- [6] Adam Somerfield (28), general servant, born Bloxwich:

William Keats = William Keates

1881 Census

79, The Green – BULLS HEAD

- [1] William Keats (51), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] E. Keats (51), wife, birthplace not known:

Walsall Observer 18/4/1885

"William Keates, landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, was summoned for having his house open for the sale of liquor, after ten o'clock on Good Friday night.

Acting sergeant Curtis deposed that at half past ten at night he saw the public house door open, and went in. Two men were sitting there, and one of them offered witness a drink.

Defendant denied that there wasn't any drink on the table. He also said that the two men were his brother and a man who had been helping him.

Defendant was ordered to pay the costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

"At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of John James Grew, BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich. Refused."

1891 Census

79, The Green

- [1] John J. Grew (28), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Annie Grew (25), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Beatrice Grew (5), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Harriet Grew (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Thomas Witton (14), brother in law, scholar, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Jno. Jas. Grew, BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, served 13 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Observer 16/6/1900

“On Sunday morning Sarah Ann Walker (67), widow, who lived with two married daughters at Elmore Green, Bloxwich, was found in a dying state in a coppice known as Dales Wood, Bentley. The statement made at the time was that about half past nine on Sunday morning a man named Daniel Poole was on his land looking after some cattle which had strayed, when he discovered deceased, who was in a shocking plight, her wrists and face being badly bruised, and her clothing saturated with blood. Knowing the woman he called her by name, and she opened her eyes and said she was very ill, and that she had been lying in the wood all night. Assistance was obtained from a cottage near by, but deceased rapidly sank, and died very shortly afterwards.

At the Willenhall Police Court, on Monday, a man named Jabez Pugh (28), a miner, of Field Street, Bloxwich, was charged with causing the death of the deceased.

Inspector Oakden said that about midnight on Sunday he arrested prisoner on suspicion of having caused the woman’s death, and told him that he was the last person seen in her company. Prisoner replied, ‘Yes.’ Witness applied for a week’s remand, which was granted.

The inquest was held on Wednesday morning, at the WHITE LION, Short Heath, by the County Coroner (Mr. T. A. Stokes), the accused Jabez Pugh being present, and was represented by Mr. A. J. Glover.

Mary Ann Beddow, 19, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, said that the deceased was her mother, and lived with her. Her mother was the widow of John Walker, farm labourer, of Bloxwich. She last saw her mother alive at 10.45pm on Saturday, when she went out of the house with a small whisky bottle. Witness saw Jabez Pugh on that night at about 10.30pm in the passage to the BULLS HEAD INN, which was a short distance from her house. The prisoner paid for a pint of ale at the BULLS HEAD for witness, her mother, and her niece. He also paid for some drink for witness and her mother at the GEORGE INN. They left him in the GEORGE, and went home, and immediately after they got in her mother went out without saying anything as to where she was going. Prisoner was dressed in uniform when they met him. In consequence of what she was told, she went to a small wood at Bentley on Sunday morning, and found her mother there dead.

Joseph Beddow, husband of the last witness, said that on Saturday last, at twenty-five minutes to eleven, Mrs. Walker went out. Witness heard Pugh call her to go and have a drink. Prisoner’s wife was ill, and he (prisoner) asked deceased to visit her, but she refused, and he then asked her to go and have a glass. They started over towards the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN. She did not come back that night, and, when he saw her on Sunday morning in the wood near Bentley, she was just dying. She was bleeding when he saw her.

John Smith, landlord of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, said that about five minutes to eleven, the deceased came to his house. Witness’s wife served her with some whisky. She was quite sober at the time, and was alone.

Fanny Hawley, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Saturday night, between twenty minutes and a quarter to eleven, she was walking in the direction of Bloxwich Railway Station with a young man, named John Jarvis. Witness saw Mrs. Walker, and a man in uniform with her, going in the direction of Bentley, where deceased was found.

Daniel Poole, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning he was in his garden about 9am, when he saw something lying in a wood, about 40 yards away. He went down, and found the deceased (Sarah Ann Walker). Witness spoke to her, and she opened her eyes and said, ‘I am very bad, Dan’. The wind blew deceased’s bonnet aside, and showed him that she had a blackened eye. Witness asked her if she had been quarrelling with her daughter or anybody, and she said, ‘No’. Witness then asked her what brought her with a black eye, and she replied, ‘I have tumbled down, Dan’. Deceased said that she would like a cup of tea, and witness went to get one. On going back he saw a young woman, named Elizabeth Anson, and told her that Mrs. Walker was lying down and wanted some tea. They went back to the deceased together and tried to lift her up, but she refused to rise. A man who came up said that he would go to Bloxwich and tell Mrs. Beddow, and witness then went back home, not thinking that deceased was in such a dangerous condition. He saw no marks except the black eye. There was a footpath through the coppice, used by workmen as a short cut. The deceased was lying across the footpath, which was about 200 yards from the turnpike road. In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that deceased made no complaint about anyone, and he saw no blood anywhere. Deceased was quite sensible when she spoke to him. Witness had never seen deceased drunk, but he knew that she was given to drinking.

Hannah Gosling, living at Beechdale Cottage, on the canal side, said that on Sunday morning she went into the coppice at the bottom of her house. Daniel Poole and Elizabeth Anson told her about Sarah Walker being in the coppice, and witness took her a cup of tea, and saw that her eye was discoloured and the bridge of her nose disfigured. Witness asked deceased what brought her there, and she said she did not know. Witness asked if she had been quarrelling with anyone at home, as she frequently did, but she replied that she had not. Witness asked her how long she had been there, and she said she had been there all night. Witness then asked her how she came there, and she said she had been brought there, but she did not know who by. Witness lifted her up, and she died with her head on witness’s knee. Witness saw her about ten o’clock, and at 10 minutes to 11 she died. Her clothing and boots were saturated with blood, and her wrist was frightfully blackened.

Police-constable Dodge (256), of the County Police, stationed at Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning, from information he had received, he went down to the coppice at Bentley at 10.55am. The woman was dead when he arrived, and he removed the body to the WHITE LION. He examined the body and found that the face and wrists were discoloured, and her clothes were saturated in blood. The place where she was found was about a mile from where she lived. On information received he went to the coppice again on the morning of the inquest, and found marks of a severe struggle having taken place about 200 yards from where the body was found. He had been given a flask containing some whisky which was found there, and there were marks showing that a man had knelt.

John Smith, of the THATCHED HOUSE, identified the flask as one that the deceased brought to his house on the Saturday night. The officer, continuing, said deceased appeared to have struggled towards the cottage where she once lived, as she was found at a distance of only 50 yards from the cottage while the marks of the struggle were 240 yards away.

Ernest Dodge, son of the last witness, said that he found the flask about 250 yards away from where the woman was found. He found it at about 8.30 on Tuesday night. He also saw signs of a struggle.

Jabez Pugh, collier, in the employment of the Springhill Colliery, Essington, having been duly cautioned, said that on Saturday night he was in uniform. He saw Mrs. Walker about 9.30pm on the Saturday night, when she was in the BULLS HEAD INN. He treated her to a glass of whisky, and had a pint of ale himself. She went out, leaving him drinking with another man. Later on he saw her in the GEORGE, where he had a pint of ale, and she had some more whisky, and, then she went away again. He did not go and call Mrs. Walker out on that night, and he did not ask her to go and have another drink with him. He saw her outside her house, but he did not walk off with her towards the THATCHED HOUSE. He was not walking in the direction of Bentley with her at about a quarter to eleven, and the last occasion on which he saw her was when she was leaning against her door shouting just before eleven. He had not asked Mrs. Walker to attend to his wife, as he had got one woman who was doing that work. There was a route march in the afternoon and there were a lot of the volunteers in uniform about the town. There were also militiamen about. He reached home at 12 o'clock, and between 11 and 12 he was walking about. The BULLS HEAD was about half a mile from his house, and going home he met several people he knew, but spoke to no one. The blood on the white cuff of his tunic was caused by his nose bleeding outside the GEORGE. The shoulder strap which was torn had been unstitched for some time, and the belt hook which was missing had been lost for months. With regard to the dirt on the trousers he had no idea how they got in such a state. There was also blood on his belt, but that got on from his nose at the same time as the other did on the cuff. The torn bayonet frog which was produced was an old one, and the one he wore on Saturday was in his house somewhere. Both himself and Mrs. Walker were sober. When he got home he spoke to no one except his wife. There was not a woman named Allen in the house when he reached home at twelve.

Eliza Allen, Field Street, Bloxwich, said that she was a near neighbour of Pugh's, and had known him for some time. She was in and out of Pugh's house all Saturday night, and the last time she went there was at twenty minutes to two in the morning. Witness left the house at two o'clock, and Pugh had not arrived at that time. Witness was absolutely certain on that point. There was no one in the house except Mrs. Pugh, who locked the door when witness left for the last time.

Dr. J. T. Hartill, MRCS, LRCP, police surgeon, in practice in Willenhall, said that he had made a post mortem examination on the body of the deceased on Tuesday, and found recent bruises and abrasions on both knees. The clothing worn by the woman was saturated with blood, and the external injuries would not account for the saturation. He attributed death to collapse and shock, due to rupture of the liver, injury to the kidneys, and effusion of blood into the peritoneum. He was further of the opinion that these conditions were brought about by violence, and that not long before her death the woman passed some bloody fluid from the right kidney. It seemed to be impossible that three conditions, namely, a rupture of the liver, a bruised kidney, with blood in considerable quantity in the cavity of the abdomen, could be present in combination except as the result of external violence. He would describe the woman as being unhealthy, although possessed of a strongly built frame. It would have needed considerable violence to have caused the symptoms found. A person might live for twenty four hours after the injuries. He thought that the bruises on the face and knees were the result of a fall. The blood on Pugh's tunic &c, might have been caused in the manner stated by him.

Thomas Oakden, inspector of police at Willenhall, said that on Sunday afternoon he saw the body of the deceased and called in Dr. Hartill. About 11.30 that night, witness, assisted by Inspector Marshall, (Walsall Police), arrested prisoner at his own house, from whence he was taken to Bloxwich Police Station. Prisoner, on being told that he was arrested for being the last person who was seen with deceased, answered, 'Yes'. Prisoner seemed quite cool and collected. Witness took possession of prisoner's uniform, the trousers were covered with dirt, the belt hook on the tunic was lost, and the shoulder strap torn partly off. Afterwards he found the damaged bayonet frog between the bed and the mattress. The distance from deceased's house to the wood was about a mile. Inspector Marshall, of the Walsall Police, in charge of the Police Station at Bloxwich, said that he went with the last witness to Pugh's house, and found the belt at the bottom of the steps leading into the cellar.

Sergeant Eaton, sergeant instructor to E Company of Bloxwich Volunteers said that Jabez Pugh was a member of that Corps, and that on Saturday there was a parade. Pugh was present, and was dressed in the clothes produced. Witness dismissed them about 6pm. Witness said that he would have noticed the shoulder strap had it been torn on parade. Witness did not know of anyone who had two frogs, but Pugh might have had two. At 9 o'clock on Saturday night witness thought that there might have been about 30 volunteers in uniform at the BULLS HEAD.

In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that although there was no close examination he was sure that he would have noticed the tunic if it had been torn. Prisoner had been in the Volunteers for 10 years, and witness for two, so that it was possible to have had two of the frogs without witness knowing.

The Coroner having summed up, the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder by some person or persons unknown."

[Pugh was found not guilty at Stafford Assizes.]

- [1] John J. Grew (38), innkeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Annie Grew (34), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Beatrice Grew (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Harriet Grew (12), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ernest Grew (9), son, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Gertrude Grew (7), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Victoria Grew (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Elizabeth Haywood (26), visitor, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman supported an application by William Fryer, BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, for a music license six nights a week, for the purpose of clubs held there, viz. Foresters (648 members), Bloxwich Traders (50), Bloxwich Hockey Club (50), St. John’s Ambulance Society (31), and a sick and dividend club (65).

The Chief Constable objected, as he said it meant a full music hall license.

The Bench refused the application, but gave leave for a modified application to be made later in the day.

The Bench subsequently granted a music license for Mondays and Wednesdays.”

1911 Census

Park Road – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Arthur Banks (40), manager of public house, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mrs. A. Banks (36), wife, married 10 years, manageress of public house, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Oliver Lewis (30), boarder, journeyman baker, born Redditch;
- [4] Elizabeth Henworth (23), servant, born Bloxwich;

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/1/1912

“John Thomas Harvey, 31, miner, of Bell lane, Bloxwich, was charged with stealing a carpet bag containing 4s 7d worth of groceries, the property of Thomas Henry Ledbury, of Landywood, Great Wyrley, on Saturday. Mellie Ledbury stated she left the bag in a waggonette outside the BULLS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, for a few minutes, and on returning missed it, whilst prisoner, who had been sitting by her side in the vehicle, had also disappeared. Accused denied the allegations when the police visited his house, but subsequently his wife in his presence admitted that the bag had been burnt and that she has taken the groceries to her mother’s (where they were eventually found) on her husband’s instructions. He was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, £1 10s 9½d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich. £1 19s 6d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/2/1918

“The annual licensing sessions.....

The Bench renewed all the licenses except those of the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich.....”

It was demolished in 1927.

It was rebuilt.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

BULLS HEAD, Park Road, Bloxwich.’

1939 Register

79, Park Road

- [1] Harry Davenport, date of birth 10/12/1892, hotel manager, married;
- [2] Elizabeth L. Davenport, dob 21/4/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Annie (Coles) Gardener, dob 28/10/1920, bar general, single;
- [4] Lilian (Turner) Bills, dob 14/1/1914, bar general, single;

Birmingham Mail 4/12/1939

“When walking last night with her daughter and grand-daughter on the Stafford-Cannock road at Teddesley Hay, near Cannock, Catherine Dodd (aged 62), of Council Houses, Huntington, was knocked down by a car and died instantly. The three pedestrians were walking abreast, with Mrs. Dodd on the outside. It was raining heavily. The car was travelling in the same direction, and was driven by Elizabeth Lily Devonport, of the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich.”

[Elizabeth Davenport was fined £1 with £3 6s 6d costs, for driving without due care and attention, a charge of dangerous driving being dismissed.]

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society at the RED LION HOTEL, Park Street. Mr. H. Davenport, BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.

BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, £2 13s 10d.”

Walter Raymond Lynch – see also FOUR WAYS.

It closed in August 2007.

Express & Star 20/8/2010

“The BULLS HEAD in Park Road has been bought by developers Dorchester Land Ltd, with the intention of converting it into a supermarket.”

It was damaged by fire in November 2010.

Closed [2010], [2016]

It was demolished in 2016.

BULLS HEAD

253, (263), Green Lane / Long Acre Street, Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

Samuel Cooper, 51, Lichfield Street, Walsall
Miss Cooper
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Robert Napp [1842]
Thomas Taylor [1845] – 1858);
Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor (1858 – [1862]
Patrick Morris [1864] – [1873];
James Duppa Fletcher [1880] – 1890);
Francis Ephraim Flay (1890 – 189_); [1892]
Henry Welsh [1896] ?
Frank Barber [1899] – temporary license
Denis Gordon (189_ – 1900);
Francis Ephraim Flay (1900 – 1905);
George Whitbrook (1905 – [1909] – last licensee

NOTES

263, Green Lane [1860], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904]
253, Green Lane [1909]

1851 Census

Green Lane

[1] Thomas Taylor (46), miner, born Newport, Shropshire;

[2] Elizabeth Taylor (44), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Sophia Taylor (15), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Elizabeth Taylor (13), daughter, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/11/1851

“John Taylor, of the BULLS HEAD, Birchills, and John Beeber, beer-house keeper, Wismore, were severely fined 5s each and costs, for having their houses open at improper hours.”

Birmingham Journal 19/8/1857

“Michael Gunning was brought up at the Guildhall, on Monday, accused of drunken and disorderly conduct and assaulting the police, on the previous evening. It appeared that the defendant, who is a wild-looking fellow, and who seemed half intoxicated while in the dock, had gone to the BULLS HEAD, in Green Lane, with a drawn knife, and demanded drink. As he was then intoxicated the landlady very properly refused to draw any, and sent for the police. Police-constable Crombie, who apprehended Gunning, stated that he was very violent on his way to the station, and kicked him several times. Another witness whom the defendant also assaulted, having been examined in corroboration, Gunning was convicted, and sentenced to a fine of £1 and costs, or twenty-one days’ imprisonment. Police-constable Darlington then charged defendant with threatening Police-constable Crombie, upon which he was ordered further to enter into recognisances, himself in £10, and two sureties of £5 each.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/2/1858 - Deaths

“February 3rd, deeply regretted by his family and friends, aged 54 years, Mr. Thomas Taylor, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/1/1861

“The inquiry into the cause of death of James Finn, who was stabbed on the morning of Monday week, was resumed on Monday last at the BULLS HEAD INN, Green Lane, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq. The accused, Richard Power, was not present during the inquiry, but Mr. Ebsworth watched the proceedings on his behalf. Mr. Beaton attended on behalf of the prosecution. The first witness called was Police-constable Beebee (No.13), he stated that on Monday, the 24th ult. he was on duty in Green Lane at about two in the morning. He saw there Power who had been fighting. He went with him to a house where there had been a christening and some fighting. Power went in, and soon came out with some men fighting. He seemed to be the ringleader of the disturbance, being determined to fight, and having blood all over his face. Afterwards he saw two men lying down on the ground fighting. At the moment he picked these man up the deceased cried out from behind witness, ‘I’m stabbed,’ and put his hand on witness’s shoulder. Saying, ‘Oh, dear!’ Pointed out to him all the men who were in the street, and asked him if it was any of them who had stabbed him. He said ‘No.’ Led him to the house before referred to. The accused was there. Did not see him in the street when he pointed out all the men to deceased, but he might have been there. When he got to the old man’s house and saw accused, he asked deceased if that was the man who had stabbed him. He was very ill and groaned very much, and said ‘No.’ The accused then said ‘Shake hands; you are a brave fellow for speaking the truth.’ They did shake hands. Heard some one say that Power was the man who had done it, and he then returned to the house where he had last seen accused; but they were all gone away, and the house was empty. There was subsequently a loud shout in the street that Power was the man who had done it. Was left in charge of the deceased after he was put to bed, and asked him if he could identify the man who did it, if he saw, and he replied that he could not. Asked him if he recollected shaking hands with ‘that man?’ and he said ‘No.’ During that time he was in great agony, and had struggled very violently. His bowels were protruding from a frightful wound in the abdomen. When the surgeon attempted to restore them to their proper place, deceased said, ‘Leave me be, and let me die.’

Bridget Keogh saw the fight. Could not say what took place between them before, but was certain that there was not any one near to deceased at the time the blow was struck, except the accused. She saw the blow aimed, and it looked as if it was aimed at the belly of deceased. Did not see anything in the accused’s hand. When deceased said he was stabbed, he pointed to the accused, and said, ‘He’s the chap’ and accused ran off. Heard someone say that he had gone into the old man’s house on the opposite side of the street. Would swear that no one had struck deceased but the accused.

Dennis Magrath saw deceased raise his hand to strike some one, but could not say for whom the blow was intended. He (witness) was knocked down, and the police picked him up. Just at that moment heard the deceased cry out that that he was stabbed, and saw the accused running away into the house. Did not see a knife or weapon of any kind in any one’s hand. Followed the accused into the ‘old man’s’ house, and pointed him out to the police as the man who had stabbed deceased. Saw the two shake hands, and heard deceased say that he could not be sure who had stabbed him. He thought the accused was not the man.

Mr. Edward Joseph Marshall, surgeon, Bridge Street, was called to attend Finn, who had been stabbed. He found him suffering from a puncture wound to the left side of the lower part of the abdomen, and had about two feet of the intestines protruded. He said that he had been stabbed, but could not identify the man who did it. Continued to attend him up to the time of his death, last Friday morning. He since had a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased, and from the conditions he observed he was of the opinion death had been caused by loss of blood, the consequence of the wound he had received, and by peritonitis, the consequence of the protrusion of the bowels.

Mr. Ebsworth called Timothy Coyne and Bridget Doolan, wife of Archibald Doolan, the 'old man' so frequently referred to. The tendency of the formers' statement was to show that a much shorter man than the accused had stabbed the deceased. Mrs. Doolan swore that she heard Bridget Keeh say, with respect of the accused, 'That is not the man, but he came into this house.' The Coroner summed up carefully, reading over the depositions, and pointing out the remarkably strong evidence of Bridget Keough, to which he begged the particular attention of the Jury. He then alluded to Coyne's evidence, showing how in some particulars it contradicted the statements of other witnesses. In conclusion, he told the Jury that they first had to settle who struck the deadly blow; and next, if the person who struck it was at the time labouring under the impression that the use of such a weapon was necessary for the defence of his own life, or if any provocation had been given. If they did not find that the evidence showed the existence of one of these latter conditions, it was his duty to tell them that their verdict must be one of wilful murder against the person who struck the blow. The Jury, after having been in consultation upwards of three hours, returned a verdict of 'Wilful Murder against Richard Power.' The prisoner who did not seem at all affected by the verdict, was committed for trial at the next Staffordshire assizes. Great excitement prevailed in the neighbourhood, and the prisoner's friends on his departure assured him he should have a good counsellor to speak for him."

[At the Staffordshire Lent Assizes 14th March 1861, Richard Power was found not guilty and discharged.]

1861 Census

263, Green Lane – BULLS HEAD

[1] Elizabeth Taylor (54), widow, publican, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Elizabeth Taylor (22), daughter, assistant, born Walsall;

[3] Maria Taylor (20), daughter, assistant, born Walsall;

[4] Mary E. M. Lellan (5), granddaughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Betsey Doolan (17), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Advert

"The BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, Walsall.

The above excellent Old-Licensed House is To Be Let, in consequence of the present tenant retiring from business. There is a steady and respectable trade now being done, which may be increased by an enterprising party.

Apply on the premises, or to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall."

Walsall Free Press 11/2/1865

"Patrick Morris, landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, for having his house open for the sale of beer, at half-past twelve on Sunday night, was fined 2s 6d and costs."

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

"Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

Patrick Morris, BULLS HEAD, Green Lane was cautioned."

Walsall Free Press 23/12/1865

"Patrick Morris, BULLS HEAD (beerhouse), Green Lane, pleaded guilty to having had his house open at two o'clock on Wednesday morning.

Police-constable Jones, who proved the charge, said he visited the house at the time stated, and found there three men, who, as well as the landlord, were drunk.

Mr. Glover, who appeared for the defendant, said that the men upon the premises were night soil men who had come to remove night soil.

Mr. Cater, chief of police, said that he felt bound, in this case, to state that not only had the police, but the inhabitants of the locality, complained of the conduct of the house. There were two convictions recorded against the defendant in the present year. The first was on the 6th of February, for being open during prohibited hours; and the second in November last, for permitting gambling in his house.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 25s."

1871 Census

263, Green Lane – BULLS HEAD

[1] Patrick Morris (50), widower, publican and brewer, born Cork, Ireland;

[2] James Morris (14), son, saddler, born Tipton;

[3] Thomas Morris (11), son, scholar, born Tipton;

[4] Sarah Morris (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/6/1871

"At the Guildhall, yesterday, Patrick Morris, of the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, came up by adjournment from Monday, charged with having received, with a guilty knowledge, two bags of malt, which two of Messrs. Downing's workmen had purloined. The depositions were completed, and the prisoner was committed for trial at the ensuing Borough Quarter Sessions, his bail being enlarged."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/7/1871

“Patrick Morris, licensed victualler, was charged with having received, on the 14th of June, 1871, two bags of malt, the property of Messrs. Downing and Son, well knowing the said malt to be have been stolen. Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Ebsworth) prosecuted, and Mr. Motteram (instructed by Mr. Glover) defended; and the jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of not guilty. Several witnesses to character, including the Rev. W. Dunne, Roman Catholic priest, were called, and gave the prisoner an excellent character.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Mr. Glover then applied for the renewal of the licenses of the undermentioned, whose licenses were suspended on licensing day.....

Patrick Morris, the BULLS HEAD INN, Green Lane. Granted.”

Walsall Free Press 24/5/1873

“Mary Clarey, for having refused to quit the BULLS HEAD public house, Green Lane, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

1891 Census

293, Green Lane

[1] Francis E. Flay (39), public house manager, born Melksham, Wiltshire;

[2] Elizabeth Flay (32), wife, public house manageress, born Birmingham;

[3] Maud Ann Flay (10), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;

[4] Edith C. M. Flay (8), daughter, scholar, born Bath;

[5] George F. S. Flay (5), son, scholar, born Bath;

[6] Helen Flay (3), daughter, born Bath;

[7] Gertrude Flay (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Kate Brooks (20), general servant, born Walsall;

[9] Mary J. Llewellyn (19), general servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/10/1892

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Edwin Burns, Proffitt Street, was charged with wilfully breaking a pane of glass, value 32s, at the house of Francis Flay, the BULLS HEAD INN, Green Lane.

It seems that the defendant on Saturday night created a row in the house, and kicked a couple of men whom he had somehow got down on the floor, being aided by his brother. The landlord cleared the bar of the jugs and glasses that the defendant might not use them, and then got the defendant and his brother out of the house. In a few moments the violent pair returned, the defendant being armed with a belt, with the buckle-end of which he struck at everyone he could get near. Then there was a crash, and on the landlord going out he found one plate of glass broken, and the defendant with his belt uplifted with the intention of smashing another. The Bench ordered the defendant to pay a fine of 5s and costs and the damages (32s), with the option of twenty-one days’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Frank Barber, who held a temporary license, was fined £5 and costs, on 24th March 1899, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Since the 30th August, 1898, 8 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against, 2 of whom were convicted, viz.....

24th March, Frank Barber, BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, fined £5 and costs for permitting drunkenness.....

There were four licenses objected to by the Chief constable, the first being that of the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane. The Chief’s objection was on the ground that the previous occupant of the house, Frank Barber, was convicted and fined £5 and costs for permitting drunkenness.

Mr. R. A. Wilcock, who appeared for the owner, said that the man convicted did not now hold the license, and as they could see a very heavy penalty was incurred. He thought the Chief Constable would agree with him that so far as the house was concerned it had been well conducted since, and that every effort had been used to see that nothing of that kind took place again. He thought the history of the house and the efforts which had been made would justify the Bench in renewing the license.....

On returning the Magistrates announced their decisions as under....

BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, license renewed.”

Denis Gordon = Dennis Gordon

Walsall Observer 14/7/1900

“Dennis Gordon, BULLS HEAD INN, Green Lane, was summoned for assaulting Ada Beddows, 58, Green Lane, on July 9th and there was across summons against Beddows for using obscene language to Gordon on the same day.

Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for Gordon.

Complainant stated that she lived next door to Gordon. She was standing on the door step and Gordon came out of a window and threw a bucket of cold water over her and her baby.

Evidence was given by two witnesses corroborating Beddows’s statement.

Mr. Jackson, for Gordon, stated that he was the landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, and on July 9th Beddows and her sister were quarrelling on the steps in front of his house. He requested them either to go in or desist. In response they threw mud into the public house and swore at Gordon. He admitted that Gordon threw the water, but under great provocation. Dennis Gordon said there had been 'a big spree' in the house next door, and that they fell out afterwards. They were using most filthy language, and were throwing mud at the house. It was in self defence that he threw the water over them. Evidence was brought to corroborate Gordon's statement, and the magistrates fined Gordon 5s and costs, or seven days' imprisonment, for the assault; and Beddows 5s and costs, or seven days' imprisonment for using obscene language."

Francis Ephraim Flay was elected a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in May 1901.

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1907

"There was a special sitting of the magistrates at the Guildhall on Thursday, to consider the confirmation of the granting, by the Licensing Committee, of a new off-license to Arthur Edward Rogers, in respect to a shop at the corner of Cambridge Street and Arundel Street.

Mr. J. R. Lawrence (instructed by Messrs. Stanley and Jackson), appeared for the applicant and Messrs. Butler and Co., and there was opposition by Mr. S. Grundy-Newman, Mr. J. Pearman-Smith, and the Revs. E. A. Frost and A. H. Lee. The Bench confirmed the decision of the Licensing Committee, subject to Messrs. Butler surrendering the licenses of the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street; the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, and an off-license in Tantarra Street."

The license was surrendered.

It became a lodging house.

Closed

BULLS HEAD

Stubbers Green, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Picken [1858]

George Lowbridge [1868] – [1871]

Mary Ann Joberns [1881]

C A White [1889]

John Sivorn [1891] – 1896;

Mrs. Mary Ann Sivorn (1896 – []

Charles Smith [1901] – 1903);

Henry 'Harry' Hopkins (1903 – 1905)

Enoch Jones [1905]

Charles Dalton [] – 1905);

John Glover (1905 – []

Arthur Rickard [1915]

NOTES

Thomas Picken = Thomas Pickin

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

"Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Thomas Pickin, licensed victualler, the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, was fined 10s and costs, for having four unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders."

1861 Census

Stubbers Green

[1] Thomas Picken (43), publican, born Aldridge;

- [2] Mary Picken (52), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] Maria Picken (28), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[4] Jane Picken (18), daughter, born Aldridge;
[5] Sarah A. Picken (13), daughter, scholar, born Aldridge:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/11/1868

“George Lowbridge, landlord of the BULLS HEAD public house, Stubbers Green, was charged with having, on the 28th of August last, brewed four bushels of malt without having first entered the quantity in the brewing paper. The charge having been proved by Mr. John Wilkinson, supervisor of Excise, the Bench inflicted the smallest fine they had power to inflict, namely £50, and recommended that the Board of Inland Revenue should be requested to reduce it to £10.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

Before granting of licenses commenced Inspector McCrea presented to the Bench a list containing the names of those victuallers who had offended against the tenor of the licenses. The following were the names on the black list.....

George Lowbridge, landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, one conviction fined 10s and costs for having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours.....

In the above cases the granting of the licenses was adjourned, all the others had their licenses renewed.”

1871 Census

Stubbers Green – BULLS HEAD

- [1] George Lowbridge (39), licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;
[2] Rebeca Lowbridge (43), wife, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 7/10/1871

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions on Tuesday last, George Lowbridge, landlord of the BULLS HEAD public-house, Stubbers Green, was charged with having, on the 21st ult., permitted drunkenness in his house. Sentenced to pay a fine of 20s and costs.”

1881 Census

Stubbers Green – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Mary Ann Joberns (39), widow, hotel keeper, born Walsall Wood;
[2] Edith Cresswell (16), general servant, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/6/1883

“Charles Watson, Aldridge, for having assaulted George Brown at the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, on the 14th ult, was fined 10s and costs. The assault arose out of a dispute concerning a game of cards, in which it was alleged there was some cheating.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/9/1883

“Rushall Petty Sessions..... In the case of the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, where the offence was a trivial one, the licence would be renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/1889 - Advert

“BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green. (About one mile from Aldridge Station).

Friday Next, March 22nd, 1889.

Important Unreserved Sale of a quantity of capital Household Furniture and effects.

Messrs. Fox & Harrison are instructed by Mr. C. A. White, whose tenancy of the BULLS HEAD INN expires at lady day, to Sell by Auction, without reserve as above.

A large quantity of excellent (equal to new) Household Furniture and miscellaneous effects. On view the morning of sale.

Sale to commence punctually at 11.30am.

Catalogues may be obtained at the place of sale, and at the Auctioneer’s Offices and Auction Rooms, 64, Upper Rushall Street.”

1891 Census

Stubbers Green – BULLS HEAD

- [1] John Sivorn (42), publican, born Darlaston;
[2] Mary A. Sivorn (48), wife, born Walsall, Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held on Monday at the Court-house, Rushall.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson (Walsall) applied for an out-door beer license for premises at Stubber’s Green, belonging to William Wolverton, but the application was opposed by the police, and Mr. Bill (Walsall), on behalf of Mr. Sivorn, of the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning. The magistrates present were Messrs. F. James, W. H. Brookes and J. Naylor.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson made an application on behalf of William Wolverson, of Stubbers Green, for an off-license. He urged that this locality had increased considerably, and presented a memorial signed by over seventy inhabitants.

Mr. E. Evans opposed the application, being instructed by Mr. Siven, the landlord of the BULLS HEAD, which is the nearest public house.

The Bench refused to grant the license.”

Lichfield Mercury 21/8/1896

“On Saturday night, John Sivorn (52), of the BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, died at the Walsall Hospital from the effects of a street accident. On Tuesday afternoon he was driving down Lichfield Street in a trap, when the vehicle collided with one of the pillars of the refuge at Leicester Square, and he was thrown out upon his head. PS Riley, of Rushall, was near at hand, and he at once conveyed the injured man to the hospital, where he remained until his death under treatment for a fracture of the base of the skull.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

On the proposition of the President, it was unanimously agreed that messages of condolence should be forwarded to the families of.....

the late Mr. John Sivorn, BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, Aldridge, in their recent bereavements.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/9/1896

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, the magistrates granted a full transfer of the license of the BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, from John Sivorn (deceased) to his widow, Mary Ann Sivorn.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1897

“George Jones, of Walsall Wood, denied a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Police-constable Lockley spoke to finding the defendant drunk and shouting outside the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green. He had been in the public-house. Police-constable Bagshawe gave corroborative evidence. Defendant said he had never been drunk in his life. The postman passed him and asked if he was going home, so the postman gave him a ride and he went. He was sober, and created no disturbance. The case was dismissed, and Dr. Cook said they did not want the police to interfere too much with the liberty of the subject, which was calculated to provoke a breach of the peace.”

1901 Census

Stubbers Green

[1] Charles Smith (42), licensed victualler, born Brownhills;

[2] Mary A. Smith (60), born Walsall Wood;

[3] Jessica R. Smith (12), daughter, born Aldridge;

[4] Samuel H. Smith (9), son, born Aldridge;

[5] Annie Coxoran (21), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 17/1/1903 - Advert

“Important Sale of one of the best Full-licensed Road-side Houses in the District.

The BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, Fronting the road leading from Wolverhampton, Pelsall, and Shelfield, to Aldridge and Sutton Coldfield, and situate one mile from Aldridge Railway Station.

Mr. Walter Hughes is instructed to offer for Sale by Auction, at his Property Market, The Bridge, Walsall, on Tuesday, 3rd of February, 1903, at 7pm precisely, subject to conditions embodying the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, the Full-Licensed Freehold Public-House Known as the BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, now in the occupation of Mr.

Charles Smith, the lease expiring 25th March, 1903.

The House contains three Bedrooms, Club-room large Taproom, Hall and Passage, Kitchen, Parlour, Scullery, and Cellar. There is a good Yard and Garden containing out-buildings which comprise Brewhouse, Stables, Piggeries, &c.

The Premises are well adapted for the carrying on of the large trade for which the house is noted, and the situation is unique, being the only Public-house in that locality, and the nearest full-licensed house to about 100 houses, as well as the Copyhall Colliery and Brickyard, Messrs. Beddoes' Brickyard, The Empire Brickyard and the Leighs Wood Colliery and Brickyard, and is as a consequence extensively used as a calling house. The Mines and Minerals are excepted and reserved. For Lithographed Plan and particulars apply to Walter Hughes, F.A.I., Auctioneer, Valuer, and Surveyor, The Bridge, Walsall, or to Messrs. Marlow and Marten, Solicitors, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

"The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Since the last licensing meeting, six licensed victuallers had been proceeded against for offences against their licences.....

Harry Hopkins, BULLS HEAD INN, Stubbers Green, permitting drunkenness, fined £5 and costs.....

Since the convictions Harry Hopkins has transferred his license.....

AND

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

"The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Notice of opposition to the renewal has been served on the undermentioned license-holders.....

Enoch Jones, BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green."

Charles Dalton – see also FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield.

Walsall Advertiser 30/5/1914

"Organised by a committee of sympathising workers, a very successful smoking concert was held at the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, Aldridge, on Monday evening, for the benefit of Mr. Sam Holloway, a resident of that district and by calling a miner, who had the misfortune to slip down and break his leg some six weeks ago while getting ready for work....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/2/1915

"Mr. Arthur Rickard, the BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green, Walsall, received three postcards from soldiers and sailors acknowledging gifts. These cards came from B. P. Foster, 'S House, H.M.S. Temeraire'; A Dredge, 'A' Company, Gloucester Regiment; and Corporal T. Partridge, 'C' Company, 3rd Worcesters. Mr. Rickard and his customers are naturally pleased that their gifts have arrived safely."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

"At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

For repairs and alterations of structure.....

BULLS HEAD, Stubbers Green."

BUSH

Norton Road, (Rushall Road), (Walsall Road), Heath End, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Showell and Son [1894], [1903]

Ansells Ltd. [1990], [1992]

Punch Taverns

MTP Enterprises Ltd. (in liquidation in 2014)

LICENSEES

Thomas Stanley [1818]

William Wright [1849] – 1865);

Mrs. Elizabeth Wright (1865 – []

Samuel Wright [1875]

William Stackhouse [] – 1891);

Joseph Stackhouse [] – 1891);

James Hughes (1891 – []

James Harrison [1892]

John Dorsett [1893] – [1895]

John Hughes [1896]

Herbert Thomas [1900] – [1904]

William Starkey [] – 1907);

Charles Edward Craddock 'Charlie' Nicholls (1907 – [1908]

George Bertram [1911] – [1912]

Richard White [1916] – [1924]

Alfred Charles Mason [1932]

Ernest Arthur Bott [1939] – [1940]

NOTES

HOLLY BUSH [1818], [1847], [1865]

OLD BUSH [1892], [1893], [1894], [1900], [1903], [1907], [1911], [1927], [1939], [1952], [1992]

BUSH [1858], [1859], [1861], [1891], [1893], [1896], [1901], [1912]

It was situated opposite Pelsall common.

A pub has been on this site since the 14th century.

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1847

“An inquest was held on Saturday last at the HOLLY BUSH, Pelsall, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Joseph Hughes, a furnace keeper at the Pelsall ironworks. On Tuesday last the deceased was in a casting house when an explosion of hot metal in a furnace took place, in consequence, it is believed, of the water which runs round the tweer being stopped by some accidental means. The tweer had been thoroughly repaired a week previously to the occurrence; the water supplied from a cistern on the top of the engine, and a little dirt or mud would stop the pipe. The deceased was so badly burned that, notwithstanding medical assistance, he died on Thursday last. Thomas Lloyd, who had been a furnaceman sixteen years, stated he considered the occurrence quite accidental, and that he himself had had a narrow escape from losing his own life. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

William Wright, licensed victualler, BUSH INN, Pelsall, was fined 12s 6d and costs, for having seven unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

William Wright, BUSH INN, Pelsall, unjust measures, 3s and costs.”

1861 Census

Norton Road – BUSH

[1] William Wright (60), farmer and victualler, born Preston, Staffordshire;

[2] Elizabeth Wright (48), wife, born Lichfield;

[3] Joseph Wright (40), son, born Pelsall;

[4] Elizabeth Wright (8), daughter, servant, born Pelsall:

[Was Elizabeth William's second wife?]

Walsall Free Press 25/11/1865

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey and J. Harrison, Esqs, the license of the HOLLY BUSH, Pelsall, was transferred to the widow of the late Mr. William Wright.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1875

“Rushall Licensing Business. For the first time in many years there were no applications for new licenses. For renewal there were 46 ale-house licenses, and 26 beerhouse licenses (including licenses for sweets). During the year there had been no offences on the part of the holder for any one of these to call for suspension, but the following five persons were cautioned, viz.....

Samuel Wright, BUSH INN, Pelsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/1/1891

“The BUSH INN, Pelsall, was transferred from William Stackhouse to James Hughes, who was granted temporary authority”

1891 Census

Rushall Road, Pelsall – BUSH INN

[1] James Hughes (28), publican, born Pelsall;

[2] Mary Hughes (22), wife, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire;

[3] Lillia Hughes (1), daughter, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire;
[4] Hannah Headon (16), servant, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1892 - Advert

“Preliminary Announcement. To Brewers, Wine and Spirit Merchants, or anyone wanting a First-Class Genuine, Full-Licensed Public-House.

Very Important Sale Of A Valuable Freehold Old-Licensed Public-House, known as the OLD BUSH INN, Pelsall, Staffordshire, unquestionably one of the most-noted and best Full-licensed Houses in the District.

Walter Hughes will Offer for Sale by Auction, upon the Premises, on Tuesday, 4th of October, 1892, at Six for Seven o’clock in the evening, subject to Conditions incorporating the Common Form Conditions of the Wolverhampton Law Society.

The well-known and much-frequented Old Licensed Freehold Public-House, known as the OLD BUSH INN, at Heath End, Pelsall, now in the occupation of James Harrison, fronting the main road from Norton, Brownhills, and Pelsall to Walsall, and now doing a large and lucrative trade.

The House lies back from the road affording ample space on its own land for the drawing up of numerous vehicles that make this the calling house of the neighbourhood.

The Premises comprises on Upper Floors 5 Capital Bedrooms, Clubroom (with 2 entrances) to seat 200 people, and large Landing; on the Ground Floor, Entrance Hall with Vestibule, large Bar splendidly fitted, Taproom to seat 60 people, Smoke-room, and Kitchens; also capacious Cellars, &c.

The house had been re-built at a heavy outlay, within the last two years, from special architectural designs; all the rooms are lofty, and the premises are second to none in the district.

Possession may be had in April next.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, 79, Park Street, Walsall; or to Messrs. Neve, Cresswell & Sparrow, Solicitors, Wolverhampton.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1893

“A fairly attended meeting of the men connected with the Pelsall Miners’ Association was held on Thursday morning behind the OLD BUSH INN, Pelsall, under the chairmanship of Mr. Ashworth.....”

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1893

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last..... New Members..... Mr. John Dorsett, BUSH INN, Heath End Pelsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/3/1894

“Walsall Sanitary Authority. Mr. Garbett, the Inspector, reported that the small-pox hospital was now free from patients, and that it would be closed (hear, hear). He had to report that a nuisance existed at the OLD BUSH INN, Pelsall, in consequence of the absence of drains, and that he had served notice upon Messrs. Showell and Sons to provide the necessary drains.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, John Dorsett, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted.”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“On Saturday last a sparrow shooting match took place in a field near the OLD BUSH INN. There was a goodly number of spectators on the ground, and notwithstanding the intensity of the weather some capital sport was witnessed. After the match, most of the number repaired to the OLD BUSH INN, and sat down to a sumptuous repast, consisting of roast legs of mutton, beef, vegetables, cheese and celery. The host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Thomas) came in for no small amount of praise.....”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1901

“A miscellaneous concert was given in aid of the Aged and Widow’s Treat Fund on Wednesday, in the assembly room of the BUSH INN, Pelsall, Alderman J. Clare, JP, CC, presiding. The following contributed to the harmony: Miss Nora McEvoy, Mr. J. W. Binns, Mr. Joe E. Knapp, Mr. T. Parkes, Mr. S. Dean, Mr. C. Ford. There was a capital attendance.”

1901 Census

BUSH INN

- [1] Herbert Thomas (55), publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Emma Thomas (47), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Kate Stanley (16), general servant, born Pelsall;
- [4] William B. Thomas (24), boarder, coal miner, born Pelsall;
- [5] Lilian Nicholls (6), visitor, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Edith E. Shotton (24), visitor, born Shropshire;
- [7] Elizabeth Newey (48), visitor, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 4/7/1903

“The players a friends of Heath End Villa FC dined together at the OLD BUSH HOTEL, Pelsall, on Monday night, under the presidency of Mr. W. Williams. Upwards of thirty sat down. Among the apologies sent was one from Mr. Holden, of the firm of Messrs. Showell's and Co., who regretted his inability to attend, and trusted all assembled would spend a most pleasant evening. The spacious club room had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with choice flowers of various hues, pretty garlands, with all the colours of the rainbow, and a liberal supply of banners, altogether making a most pleasing effect. This work had been entrusted to the willing hands of Miss Kate Stanley and Miss Olive Thomas.

After the removal of the cloth, Mr. Williams, in a few appropriate remarks, congratulated the club on their very satisfactory financial position. The receipts for the past season amounted to £9 15s, and the expenditure to £5 12s 4d, leaving a substantial balance to the good of £4 2s 8d. He thought for so young a club they had every reason to be very proud of themselves. Looking forward to the next season, he thought they could proceed with all confidence. He understood that some fresh blood would be introduced, and as they had now secured a field, which might justly be considered the best in the neighbourhood, they could all go on their way rejoicing.

Mr. Tom Dunn, the captain, announced that the club had played 28 matches, won 18, drawn 5, lost 5, goals for 91, against 51.

A little harmony was then indulged in All the songs and recitations were capitally rendered and highly appreciated.

Before parting, Mr. Councillor H. Taylor, a loyal supporter of the club, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Thomas) for providing such an excellent supper, which had given to all the highest satisfaction (loud applause).

The singing of 'God Save the King' brought to a close a pleasantly spent evening long to be happily remembered by all who were present."

Charles Edward Craddock Nicholls was married to Sarah Ann ('Sally').

See also DUKE OF YORK, Darlaston, and WHITE LION, King Street, Darlaston.

1911 Census

Pelsall – OLD BUSH INN

[1] George Bertram (58), publican, born Stamford, Lincolnshire;

[2] Lizzie Bertram (52), wife, married 26 years, assistant, born Uttoxeter, Staffordshire;

[3] Lillian May Yeomans (19), general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Observer 6/5/1916

"Nearly thirty persons were summoned at Rushall Police Court, on Monday, before Messrs. R. H. Holden, and E. J. Shaw, for breaches of the Lighting Order, and fines varying from 10s to 25s were imposed.

Richard White, of the BUSH INN, Pelsall, was represented by his wife, who pleaded guilty. She asked Inspector Needham whether the lights were satisfactory now.

Inspector Needham: That is not for me to say.

The Deputy Clerk (Mr. A. H. Lewis): You must see your blinds are properly drawn.

The Chairman: The best thing to do is to go outside and see for yourself. He added, 'I am afraid we shall all come here sooner or later.' (Laughter.)

Defendant: Yes, I am afraid we shall all fall.

A fine of 10s was imposed."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

"At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

For repairs and alterations of structure.....

OLD BUSH, Norton Road."

1939 Register

Norton Road – OLD BUSH INN

[1] Ernest A. Bott, date of birth 22/12/1879, farmer, heavy worker, married;

[2] Edith A. Bott, dob 9/12/1879, wife, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Beatrice M. Wright, dob 5/2/1897, unpaid domestic duties, single:

A team from here competed in the Shropshire, Staffordshire and Derby division of The People National Darts Teams Championship of England and Wales in 1952/3.

A team from here qualified for the Sunday People's Great Pub Sports Quiz (128 teams). [1973]

In the first round they were knocked out by RAILWAY, Bromford Road, Oldbury.

Sandwell Evening Mail 4/12/1990 - Advert

"The Best Eating Out Value for Miles Around this Christmas.

The Big Steak Menu is famous throughout the Midlands for its marvellous value. But for the next few weeks we're offering even better value with our Big Steak Christmas Special Menu with a choice of 3 starters, 3 main courses and 2 sweets for only £8.25 (incl. VAT) for all 3 courses. Big Steak pubs are not restaurants – they're pubs that serve top quality food at prices you can afford. But don't worry if you just fancy a pint, you'll find a choice of traditional hand-pulled ales and international quality lagers (including low-alcohol). But above all you'll receive a really warm welcome at whichever Big Steak Pub you choose – call in and sample our Christmas hospitality.....

Ansell's. More of Everything.....
OLD BUSH, Walsall Road, Heath End, Pelsall.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 2/10/1992 - Advert

“Cheers! Have a free drink on us.

Cheers! Here's your chance to have Another drink Free on the Evening Mail. We've got thousands more Free pints to give away and the toast of the Midlands is once again Ansell's! Yes, it's Free Beer time again at over 100 selected Ansell's houses throughout the Midlands. Thousands of Evening Mail readers toasted the August Bank Holiday with our last two-pints-for-the-price-of-one opportunity. Now, for the next seven days, we are delighted to repeat the chance. You can enjoy a sparkling glass of beer or lager – or a generous measure of wine – Absolutely Free – when you buy an equivalent drink. Simply cut out the coupon below, fill in your name and address and take it along to any of the listed venues.....

Walsall: OLD BUSH (Pelsall).”

It had a golfing society. [2003]

[2012]

Closed [2015], [2017]

BUTLERS ARMS

614, (344), Bloxwich Road, (105, Walsall Road) / Harden Road, Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Mrs. Badger
Thomas Marshall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Bass, Mitchells and Butlers
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.
Punch Taverns [2000]

LICENSEES

Richard Marshall [1865] – [1872];
Mrs. Mary Marshall [];
Thomas Marshall [1881] – 1911);
Mrs. Margaret Marshall (1911 – 1922);
Alfred Marshall (1922 – 1924);
Joseph Wall (1924 – 1942);
Charles William Garfield (1942 – 1948);
Frances Annie Garfield (1948 – 1954);
William Smith (1954 – 1963);
John William Smith (1963 – [1966])

NOTES

105, Walsall Road [1871]
344, Bloxwich Road [1881], [1911]
614, Bloxwich Road [1901], [1911], [1912]

It was formerly the BLACK HORSE.

It had a beerhouse license.

Richard Marshall, beer retailer, Walsall Road, Bloxwich. [1865]

Richard Marshall, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

105, Walsall Road – NEW BLACK HORSE INN

- [1] Richard Marshall (68), miner and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Marshall (65), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Enoch Marshall (26), son, miner, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary Bunney (17), granddaughter, general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Marshall (14), granddaughter, general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Enoch Bawney (?) (12), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [7] William Benton (53), boarder, miner, born Bloxwich:

Richard Marshall, beer retailer, Leamore, Bloxwich. [1872]

1881 Census

344, Bloxwich Road – BLACK HORSE

- [1] Thomas Marshall (42), chartermaster, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Margaret Marshall (39), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Alfred Marshall (12), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Jabez Marshall (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Thomas Marshall (9), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] William Marshall (7), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] George Marshall (5), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Laura Marshall (9 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Ada Hill (17), general servant, born Bilston;
- [10] Sarah Burney (15), visitor, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Eliza Burney (13), visitor, born Bloxwich:

Thomas Marshall, beer retailer, Leamore. [1896], [1900], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

Thos. Marshall, BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich, served 10 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

614, Bloxwich Road

- [1] Thomas Marshall (64), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Margaret Marshall (60), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] George Marshall (25), son, accountant’s clerk, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Norah Ball (19), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 2/11/1901

“Another case that occupied the attention of the court on Wednesday was one in which a charge was preferred against Thomas Marshall, of the BLACK HORSE INN, Leamore, of supplying a constable on duty, on Saturday, October 19th. The Town Clerk prosecuted in this case, and Mr. H. H. Jackson was for the defence.

The case had some connection with the one reported above, for on Backhouse leaving the CROWN INN, on Saturday night, and going in search of a constable, he saw Police-constable Collins at about ten minutes to eleven. Backhouse wished to take the constable down to the CROWN INN, but the officer refused to go, and then it seemed that Backhouse must have closely followed the officer’s movements. He saw Collins go into the BLACK HORSE, and followed a minute or two afterwards. Backhouse was in time to see the officer drinking from a jug, which contained beer, and he promptly reported the matter to Collin’s superior officer. Answering Mr. Jackson, Backhouse said that he reported Collins because he would not go down to the CROWN INN. Collins was in the passage at the BLACK HORSE, but witness did not think it would be possible for him to be served without the people who served him seeing who he was. Witness did not call the attention of the landlord or lady, but only ascertained the officer’s number and went out.

Police-constable Collins, after being cautioned by the magistrates’ clerk that he was not obliged to give evidence as what he might say be used against him, stated that he was supplied with half a pint of ale in the outdoor department, but he could not see who it was that supplied him on account of the aperture through which his jug was passed being so small. He, however, judged it to be Mrs. Marshall, as he recognised the voice. His reason for not going down to the CROWN INN with Backhouse was that he expected his sergeant to come along every minute.

Cross-examined, Collins said he paid for the beer he had had, and as there were so many people in the outdoor department at the time it would be quite possible for those who supplied him not to see who he was. They certainly could not see his face because the window was only about three feet from the floor.

At this juncture Alderman Holden asked Mr. Jackson if he was content to leave the matter to the Bench, and on his replying in the affirmative, Alderman Holden said the defendant would have to pay the costs, and the Bench would recommend that in future the window of the outdoor department should be made sufficiently large so that those behind the bar could see plainly who was served.

The Town Clerk said he would take that opportunity of asking the licensing trade generally to assist the Watch Committee in carrying out their orders with respect to serving constables on duty. It would be a great help to the policemen themselves if the publicans took great care not to supply a man when on duty. The committee were determined in each instance that the policeman would be dismissed. It was a great hardship on the man but he had acted foolishly.

Mr. Jackson said that his client had no knowledge that the man was supplied. Marshall had kept the house for 21 years and his father 23 years before him, and there had not previously been a conviction against the house."

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Thomas Marshall, BLACK HORSE."

Walsall Observer 15/4/1911 - Deaths

"In loving memory of Thomas Marshall, the beloved husband of Margaret Marshall, of the BLACK HORSE, Leamore, who departed this life March 16th, 1911; aged 76 years. Interred at Bloxwich Cemetery, March 21st.

A light is from our household gone;

A voice we loved is stilled;

A place is vacant at our hearth

Which never can be filled.

Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Thy sight."

1911 Census

614, Bloxwich Road, Leamore – BLACK HORSE

[1] Margaret Marshall (69), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Elizabeth Edwards (19), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Mrs. Margaret Marshall, beer retailer, 614, Bloxwich Road, Leamore. [1912]

Walsall Observer 18/10/1924

"....With regard to the BLACK HORSE, Leamore, the justices could not accept the alterations suggested. The only thing that would satisfy them was the re-building of the whole place....."

Demolished

It was rebuilt in 1925.

Walsall Observer 26/8/1939 - Advert

"General Wanted, 18-25, daily or live in; plain cooking.

Apply, BUTLERS ARMS, Leamore."

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BUTLERS ARMS, Leamore, £5 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Garfield, BUTLERS ARMS, Leamore. £3 6s 1d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BUTLERS ARMS, Bloxwich Road. £43 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BUTLERS ARMS, Bloxwich Road. £100 2s 4d.”

A full license was granted on 2nd February 1950.

[2006]

Closed [2007], [2009]

Demolished [2010]

BUTTS INN

44, (46), Butts Street, (46, Old Butts), (Butt Street), (Butts Road), (Rushall Butts), WALSALL

OWNERS

James Bird (acquired in 1884)

Butts Brewery Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Stephen Sayer [1841] – [1845]

William Done [1849] – 1862);

Mary Done (1862 – 1863);

Thomas Hays (1863 – 1864);

Samuel King (1864 – 1865);

John Allen (1865);

George Veal (1865 – []

William Newton [1868] – [1870]

James Bird [1869] – 1890);

Mrs. Emma Bird (1890 – 1916);

George Bird [1916] – [1921] ?

William Sanders (1916 – 1919);

William Bird (1919 – 1928);

Harry Worrell (1928 – 1929);

Ernest Searle Brierley (1929 – 1947);

Claude Wilson (1947 – 1949);

William Mason (1949 – 1951);

John Stretton (1951);

Cyril Baden Nicholls (1951);

Alfred Coleman (1951 – 1954);

Job Coleman (1954 – 1960);

Raymond Shepherd (1960 – 1964);

Alfred Coleman (1964 – [1966]

Clifford Burbridge [1969]

NOTES

46, Butts Street [1858], [1860], [1865], [1881], [1891]

46, Butt Street [1861]

Butt Street [1862], [1868], [1908]

Butts Street [1932]

46, Old Butts [1939]

Butts Road [1993]

44, Butts Street [2009]

BUTT INN [1932]

Stephen Sayer, BUTTS TAVERN. [1841], [1842]

William Done = William Dunn

1851 Census

Butts Village or Hamlet

- [1] William Done (55), publican, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Done (32), wife, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah Done (26), daughter, at home, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [4] Richard Done (2), son, born Rushall:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/9/1854

“On Thursday, the Magistrates R. C. Chawner, W. E. Jones, Edward Scott, and W. Mott, Esqs., assembled at the BUTTS INN, for the purpose of granting and renewing licenses for various houses in the district.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

Wm. Done, BUTTS INN, fined 1s and costs, for one unjust measure.”

1861 Census

46, Butt Street

- [1] William Done (66), publican, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Done (42), wife, born Shareshill, Staffordshire;
- [3] Richard Done (12), son, scholar, born Butt;
- [4] Fanny Done (9), daughter, scholar, born Butt;
- [5] Mary L. Done (7), daughter, scholar, born Butt;
- [6] John Done (4), son, scholar, born Butt;
- [7] Sophia Preston (21), general servant, born Wednesfield:

Walsall Free Press 1/6/1861

“Several summonses were heard before the justices this day, for infringement of weights and measures regulation of the district ‘C’ of South Staffordshire. All the summonses were preferred in the name of William Tullett, inspector of weights and measures for the district.....

William Done, BUTTS INN, two measures. Fined 2s and costs. In each of the above cases the costs amounted to 12s.”

Walsall Free Press 10/5/1862

“At the Rushall petty sessions, on Tuesday last, the following transfers took place.....
BUTTS INN, from William Dunn, deceased, to his widow.”

Thomas Hays = Thomas Hayes

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1864

“Rushall Petty Sessions..... the license of the BUTTS INN was transferred from Thomas Hayes to Samuel King, formerly of the TALBOT INN, High Street, Walsall.”

London Gazette 17/7/1868

“Thomas Hayes, formerly of the Butts, in the parish of Rushall, in the county of Stafford, Beer-house Keeper, subsequently of Russell-street, Wednesbury, in the same county, Beer-house Keeper, and now and for six calendar months last past, residing at Darlaston, in the same county, and carrying on the trade or business of a Beer-house Keeper and Blank-smith, adjudicated bankrupt on the 2nd day of March, 1867. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 28th day of July, instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1868 - Advert

“The BUTTS INN, Walsall.

This Licensed Victualler’s House to be Let. The In-coming merely nominal. The Premises are well situate, and comprise an exceedingly well-arranged Dwelling, with sufficient room for the carrying on of a combined trade.

Apply to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

Before granting of licenses commenced Inspector McCrea presented to the Bench a list containing the names of those victuallers who had offended against the tenor of the licenses. The following were the names on the black list.....

James Bird, BUTTS INN, Butts, one conviction, fined 40s and costs for having permitted card playing in his house.....

In the above cases the granting of the licenses was adjourned, all the others had their licenses renewed.”

Walsall Free Press 25/9/1869

“The adjourned licensing session was held at Rushall.....

James Bird, landlord of the BUTTS INN, who on the 2nd May last had been convicted of permitting card playing in his house, had his license granted after being duly cautioned.”

James Bird married Emma Brookes (see CROWN, Leamore).

He also owned the LAMP, 193, Stafford Street, Walsall.

1871 Census

46, Butts Street

[1] James Bird (26), innkeeper and brewer, born Walsall;

[2] Emma Bird (25), wife, born Walsall;

[3] James Bird (2 months), son, born Butts:

Midland Counties Evening Express 25/11/1874

“James Bird, landlord of the BUTTS INN, and William Lowbridge, brass caster, were, on the evidence of PC Williams, convicted of having been drunk and fighting at the Butts, at half past eleven on Saturday night.

Defendants were fined 10s each and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1875

“Rushall Licensing Business. For the first time in many years there were no applications for new licenses. For renewal there were 46 ale-house licenses, and 26 beerhouse licenses (including licenses for sweets). During the year there had been no offences on the part of the holder for any one of these to call for suspension, but the following five persons were cautioned, viz.....

James Bird, BUTTS INN.”

1881 Census

46, Butts Street

[1] James Bird (35), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Emma Bird (34), wife, born Walsall;

[3] James Bird (10), son, scholar, born Rushall;

[4] Emma Bird (7), daughter, scholar, born Rushall;

[5] George Bird (5), son, scholar, born Rushall;

[6] Rose Bird (4), daughter, born Rushall;

[7] Frank Bird (1), son, born Rushall;

[8] Esther G. Holmes (22), general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1885

“Walsall Conservative Association.

A Meeting of Conservatives will be held at the WHITE HART (Mr. Arthur’s), Walhouse Street, on Thursday, February 26th, at 8pm, to form a Branch of the Association for the Paddock Division of the Bridge Ward.

J. F. Crump, Esq, will preside. Mr. Lyons, of London, and others will address the meeting.

There will also be a meeting at the BUTTS INN (Mr. Bird’s), on Friday, February 27th, at 8pm, to form a Branch for the Butts Division.

Mr. J. T. Cottam, Esq, will preside. Mr. Lyons and others will address the meeting.

S. B. Wheway, A. Parsons, Hon Secs.”

Walsall Observer 2/5/1885

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley, Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the BUTTS INN, on the body of George Slater (62), of 55, Mill Lane, who died suddenly on Thursday. It appears that the deceased had been in good health until Tuesday, when he complained of pains in his chest. From that time he gradually got worse, and died.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

1891 Census

46, Butts Street – BUTTS INN

[1] Emma Bird (44), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] James Bird (20), son, brewer, born Walsall;

[3] Emma Bird (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] George Bird (15), son, clerk, born Walsall;

[5] Rose Bird (14), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Frank Bird (11), son, born Walsall;

[7] William Bird (9), son, born Walsall;

[8] Mary Jane Friar (23), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

Walsall Advertiser 23/7/1892

“Walsall Cottage Hospital.

List of Workmen’s Collections received by Treasurer in 1892, up to July 16th.....

Mrs. Bird, BUTTS INN. 7s 6d.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1894

“Ritchie Lodge. The Lodge hitherto met fortnightly, at the BUTTS INN. It has, however, been decided that in future the meetings shall be held weekly, alternatively at the BUTTS INN, and the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. The first meeting at the latter hostelry was held on Tuesday evening, when between 40 and 50 of the brethren sat down under the presidency of Mr. G. White, W.M. Host Butler gave the Lodge a cordial welcome, and declared his intention of doing all that he could to make it a success. It was arranged that on Tuesday week a supper should be held. Several new members were initiated and a most successful and enjoyable evening was spent.”

AND

“The next meeting of the Ritchie Lodge will be held on Thursday next at the BUTTS INN. All members are requested to attend. We understand the secretary has received a very interesting letter from the Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, which will be read at the meeting.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/7/1899

“Walsall Police Court. Charlotte Hinton (43) given 10 days with hard labour for stealing a bottle of whisky (value 3s 6d) from Emma Bird, licensee BUTTS INN.”

1901 Census

46, Butts Street

[1] Emma Bird (53), widow, landlady of public house, born Rushall;

[2] Rose Bird (23), daughter, born Rushall;

[3] Frank Bird (21), son, brewer, born Rushall;

[4] William Bird (19), son, saddlers’ ironmonger, born Rushall;

[5] Carrie Hampton (24), servant, born Brownhills:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

Mrs. E. Bird, BUTTS INN. 11s 2d.”

1911 Census

46, Butts – BUTTS INN

[1] Emma Bird (66), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Frank Bird (31), son, brewer (working in brewery), born Walsall;

[3] Minnie Elizabeth Sturmy (27), domestic servant, born Cheltenham:

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

“The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.....

The magistrates granted the following transfers of licenses.....

BUTTS INN, the Butts, from the executors of the late Emma Bird to William Sanders.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

BUTTS INN, Butts. £1 10s 2d.”

Butts Brewery Ltd. was registered in February 1920 to acquire the BUTTS INN and two other public houses.

It went into voluntary liquidation in October 1929.

Harry Worrell = Harry Worrall

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1928

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 9th inst, at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention.....

Harry Worrall, BUTTS INN, Butts Street, elected member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 16/9/1939

“We are going to assist the authorities in carrying out the lighting restrictions,’ said Mr. H. Hucker, presiding magistrate at Walsall

Guildhall on Monday, when the first local prosecutions under the blackout regulations were before the court. Four of the five defendants in the five cases were publicans and three were each fined 20s, the fourth was ordered to pay 4s costs.....

Licensee of the BUTTS INN, Butts Street, Ernest Searle Brierley (40) was defended by Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson.

Police-constable Grant stated that at 9.35pm on September 4, his attention was attracted to lights shining through several windows of the BUTTS INN. Entering the house, witness pointed out this to defendant, who replied 'I have put out all I can.' Witness told him that he must put out the lights if he was unable to screen the windows and he replied: 'I can't do that while my customers are here.' When, however, witness pointed out that he was rendering himself liable to penalties, defendant switched out the lights and witness left. Returning a few minutes later, witness found the lights had been switched on again, showing through the window shafts of light that were visible from a distance. Witness again told defendant he must turn the lights and Brierley did so, using candles for illumination.

Mr. Hodgkinson: Did you say 'Put those lights out, the bombs are more important than business.' – Witness: I did not say it, but one of the customers did.

Did you raise your voice to alarm people? – No, sir. They only seemed to be alarmed at not being able to get their beer.

I put it to you that you beat on the door with your truncheon and made quite a panic in the district. – I did not.

Addressing the magistrates on behalf of Brierley, Mr. Hodgkinson said brewers and the Licensed Victuallers' Association had sent out circulars to publicans reminding them that every precaution must be taken to see that lights were obscured according to regulations.

'The black-out in Walsall,' added Mr. Hodgkinson, 'has been extraordinary good. All of us are proud of the way in which it has been carried out. It is perfectly true there have been exceptions, but I think they have been mostly eliminated last week. Broadly speaking, in Walsall the very greatest tact has been exercised by the police and wardens in dealing with these matters, but one does hear of cases – and this, I suggest, is one of them – where there has been rather too much enthusiasm displayed. Only the other day I heard it said, and not by a civilian, that the main difference between Walsall and Germany was that in Germany they only have one Hitler. I hope that tact and courtesy that have been generally used will be applied to every case, for if the black-out is to be effective it is necessary that there should be complete co-operation on the part of the public.'

Brierley in evidence asserted that the only light showing was little from the top of a bedroom window. He switched the light out when asked by Police-constable Grant to do so and he only momentarily switched them on again in order to find candles. 'The constable,' he said, 'then came in excited, and raised his voice telling me to put the lights out.'

Mr. Hodgkinson: What effect did that have on the customers? – Defendant: It made them very uncomfortable.

Did you hear him in the street afterward? – Yes, rapping the doors and calling out, in a loud voice, 'Put those lights out.'

Did it cause a mild panic? – Yes.

Joseph Oliver, 37, Mill Lane, who was in the bar of the BUTTS INN at the time, gave evidence that it was the constable who said 'the — bombs are more important than business.'

Mr. Isaac: I put it to you the remark was made by a customer and not the constable? – Witness No; the customers were too perturbed to say anything.

Brierley was fined 20s."

1939 Register

46, Old Butts – Public House (3 of 5)

[1] Ernest S. Brierley, date of birth 6/9/1893, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Nellie Brierley, dob 22/12/1904, manageress public house, married;

[3] Raymond Brierley, dob 9/2/1920, plumber, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BUTTS INN, Butts Road, £5 10s 0d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BUTTS INN, Butts Street. £7 4s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

BUTTS INN, Butts Street. £0 16s 7d."

Walsall Observer 17/3/1951

"At the monthly meeting of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers Society.....

New members elected were Mr. C. B. Nicholls, BUTTS INN."

Walsall Observer 30/5/1969

“The first meeting of Walsall Compensation Committee since 1966 will next month consider the cases of three public houses for which the licensing justices have decided not to renew licenses. The houses are the BARREL, Horton Street, Darlaston; the PRINCE OF WALES, Queen Street, Walsall, and the BUTTS INN, Butts Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 20/6/1969 - Notice

“County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given that the compensation authority for the above area having decided at their principal meeting held on the 12th day of June 1969, to refuse the renewal of the license of the premises specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of the payment of compensation under the said Act are required to send to the compensation authority notice of their claims before the 21st day of July, 1969.....

BUTTS INN, Butts Street, Walsall. Publican’s Old on-license. Licensee, Clifford Burbridge. Registered Owners, Mitchells & Butlers.”

BUTTS TAVERN

44, (1+2), (27), Butts Street, (Bott Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

William Lawrence

Joseph Armitage Brookes

Joseph Wells, Birmingham [1925]

Ansells Ltd. (leased) [1925]

Pubmaster

LICENSEES

William Swift [1858] – [1865]

William Lawrence [1866] – [1872];

Joseph Armitage Brookes [1881];

Moses Lawton [];

Joseph Armitage Brookes [1891] – 1918);

Thomas Skermer [1896] ?

Arthur T Davies [1904] ?

Joseph White (1918 – 1926); manager

Rupert Raybould (1926 – 1957);

Ernest Raybould [1940] ?

Wilfred Peake (1957 – 1965);

Violet Ethel Greenwood (1965 – [1966]

Richard Hill [2010] – [2017]

NOTES

1+2, Butt Street [1861], [1904]

27, Butts Street [1871], [1891], [1939]

44, Butts Street [2016]

It was originally the WHITE HORSE.

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

William Swift, beerhouse keeper, The Butts, was fined 15s and costs, for having ten unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

William Swift, beer retailer and grocer, Butt Street. [1861]

1861 Census

1+2, Butts Street – WHITE HORSE

- [1] William Swift (45), grocer and publican, born Leeds, Yorkshire;
- [2] Hannah J. Swift (42), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Elizabeth Swift (13), daughter, born Smethwick;
- [4] John Swift (11), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Swift (9), son, born Walsall;
- [6] William Swift (4), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Swift (8 months), son, born Rushall;
- [8] Thomas Swift (8 months), son, born Rushall;
- [9] Mary Naughton (26), domestic servant, born Ireland:

William Swift, retailer of beer, Butt Street. [1862]

William Swift, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 1, Butt Street. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey and B. Bloomer, Esqs, the following applications for new licenses were made.....

William Lawrence, BUTTS TAVERN, Butts Street, Rushall, made his application personally.....

The application of Mr. Lawrence was also refused, on the ground that a licensed house was not needed at the Butts.”

William Lawrence, beer retailer, Butt Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

The following beer-house keepers were reported.....

W. Lawrence, BUTTS TAVERN, Butts, for permitting cock-fighting on the 6th August, 1867, fined £5 and costs..... where the parties had been convicted the applications were adjourned.”

Walsall Free Press 25/9/1869

“The adjourned licensing session was held at Rushall.....

William Lawrence, landlord of the BUTTS TAVERN beer-house had his license renewed.”

William Lawrence was also a whip maker. [1871]

1871 Census

27, Butts Street – Beer House Tavern

- [1] William Lawrence (60), whip maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Lydia Lawrence (53), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] George Lawrence (30), son, brush maker, born Rushall;
- [4] John Lawrence (24), son, leather worker, brn Rushall;
- [5] Lucy Lawrence (18), daughter, born Rushall;
- [6] Fanny Lawrence (13), daughter, born Rushall;
- [7] Hannah Webster (11), domestic servant, born Pleck:

Joseph Armitage Brookes = Joseph Armitage Brooks

1881 Census

27, Butts Street

- [1] Joseph A. Brook (30), innkeeper, born Drighlington, Yorkshire;
- [2] Lucy Brook (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ben Brook (20), brother, carpenter, born Drighlington, Yorkshire:

1891 Census

27, Butts Street – BUTTS TAVERN

- [1] Joseph Armitage Brooks (40), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Lucy Brooks (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Annie Brookes (4), daughter, born Walsall:

Thomas Skermer, beer retailer, 1 and 2, Butt Street. [1896]

Joseph Armitage Brookes, was fined £10 and costs, for selling beer exceeding the price (Defence of the Realm Act).

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/10/1930

“Yesterday’s contributions to the relief fund organised by the Birmingham Gazette and Evening Despatch for the 14 victims of the Norton Canes colliery disaster were from many and varied sources.....

Licensed victuallers and their customers and social clubs continue to give splendid assistance, as today’s list shows.....

Customers, BUTTS INN, Butts Street, Walsall, £0 16s 0d.”

It was rebuilt in 1935.

Walsall Observer 16/9/1939

“We are going to assist the authorities in carrying out the lighting restrictions,’ said Mr. H. Hucker, presiding magistrate at Walsall Guildhall on Monday, when the first local prosecutions under the blackout regulations were before the court.

Four of the five defendants in the five cases were publicans and three were each fined 20s, the fourth was ordered to pay 4s costs.....

The case against Rupert Raybould (50), licensee of the BUTTS TAVERN, Butts Road, was that shafts of light were showing through the windows on the pavement from a number of points at 9.50 on Monday night, September 4. When requested by Police-constable Grant to extinguish the lights defendant made no reply and when the request was repeated he said (referring to the customers) ‘These people want their beer.’

‘I then ordered him to put them out,’ said the constable. ‘He switched them out, whereupon the customers asked if there was an air-raid. I said there was not and they then became objectionable, someone saying ‘Switch on the lights and never mind the cop-per.’ The lights were then switched on by someone other than the landlord.

Announcing a fine of 20s, the presiding magistrate impressed on Raybould that he was responsible for seeing that all the lights were obscured.”

1939 Register

27, Butts Street – Public House

[1] Rupert Raybould, date of birth 15/1/1893, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Florence Raybould, dob 30/10/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Evaline (Evelyn) (Breedon) Williams, dob 12/10/1920, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

BUTTS TAVERN, Butts Road, £5 0s 0d.”

A full license was granted on 6th May 1948.

Richard Hill was married to Lydia.

[2023]

Express & Star 4/7/2023

“A popular Walsall pub which closed suddenly earlier this year could be converted into a care home for young people. JN Healthcare Group Ltd (JHNG) wants to transform the BUTTS TAVERN, in Butts Street, into accommodation for up to six people, aged between 16 and 24, who have behavioural issues and learning difficulties. The pub closed in March, prompting shocked locals to launch a petition to try to save it, which attracted support from almost 350 people. In the application to Walsall Council planning officers, JHNG said the pub closed because it was struggling and had been on the market, as a boozier, for more than four years without attracting interest. As well as converting the building, its plans involve the demolition of an existing outbuilding.....”

CAMBRIDGE ARMS

49, Arundel Street / Cambridge Street, Caldmore, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Enterprise Inns

LICENSEES

Ernest Jackson (1930 – 1935);
Edmund Letts (1935);
Archibald Orton (1935 – 1938);
Joseph Edward Bowen (1938 – 1945);
Leslie Jepson Guest (1945 – 1950);
Ralph Simmons (1950 – 1953);
Leopold George Hall (1953 – 1959);
Stanley Colley Lowe (1959 – 1960);
James Cox (1960 – 1962);
Patrick Arthur Swain (1962 – 1963);
William Green (1963);
Dennis Gray (1963 – 1964);
Isaac Armstrong (1964);
Reginald Victor Whitton (1964 – 1966);
Raymond Harry Perry (1966 – []

NOTES

It opened on 6th February 1930.
The full license of the ROYAL OAK, Goscote, was transferred here in 1930.

1939 Register

Arundel Street – CAMBRIDGE INN (2 of 3)

[1] Joseph E. Bowen, date of birth 1/9/1897, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Beryl Bowen, dob 12/3/1903, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

CAMBRIDGE, Arundel Street. £1 9s 5d.”

Patrick Arthur Swain – see also NEWPORT ARMS.

On 30th October 2008, a 75 year old woman suffered burns to her legs when youths threw a firework into the bar.

[2017]

It closed in 2019.

Express & Star 26/2/2021

“Plans to convert an empty Black Country pub into a day nursery could be given the green light – at the second time of asking. A developer, listed as Mrs. S. Kang, wants to open a 50-place nursery on the site of the former CAMBRIDGE pub in Cambridge Street, Walsall, which closed down in 2019. If members of Walsall Council’s planning committee approve this, the new nursery would create seven full-time and five part-time members of staff. Planning agent Design Space 2 also said the new nursery would provide much-needed facility following the closure of Palfrey Day Nursery in May 2019. The proposal was originally turned down because officers said there was no justification for the area to lose the pub as a community asset. They also raised concerns about the impact the noise from children using the new facility would create for neighbours in the area. But officers say the objections raised previously have been addressed by the applicant and are recommending approval is granted subject to conditions. This current application has attracted opposition from nearby residents with ward councillor Sabina Ditta handing in a petition with 42 signatures on it. Their objections are around the increased pressure on street parking spaces, more traffic on the surrounding roads and the extra noise the nursery would create.

A report to committee said, ‘The applicant’s supporting document claims that there is poor demand for the pub by locals as justification for its change of use, evidenced by its closure over the past three years. Whilst it is unclear why the pub closed and has remained closed, no representations to the applications have been about retaining the building as a pub. It is therefore considered difficult to refute the applicant’s claim.’

It added a noise impact assessment, submitted by the developer, had shown children would arrive at different times during the day and the opening hours of 9.30am to 3.30pm were far less than the former pub therefore reducing the levels for neighbours.

The proposal will be discussed at the planning committee meeting on Thursday.”

Express & Star 5/3/2021

“A Walsall pub which has stood empty for almost two years will be converted into a day nursery despite concerns about traffic and noise problems. Simrat Kang will open a 50-place facility on the former CAMBRIDGE public house, in Cambridge Street, to serve families in the area. This is the second application by Mrs. Kang, as a previous application was refused for a number of reasons including impact on traffic and increase in noise and disturbance. But officers said these issues had been overcome and recommended approval. Walsall Council's planning committee approved her proposal on Thursday....."

Express & Star 4/8/2022

"Communities across Walsall have been forced to endure the depressing sight of once-thriving boozers calling time for good for a number of years. Factors such as high beer taxes, supermarkets selling cheaper alcohol and changing habits are among reasons cited why so many pubs are forced to close permanently.....

The CAMBRIDGE, Cambridge Street, Walsall, ceased trading in 2019 and stood empty for around two years after its closure. But it has since been converted into a 50-place day nursery after owner Simrat Kang managed to get the plans over the line. Her proposal was initially rejected over concerns about potential traffic and noise problems but officers said these were addressed in a subsequent application. Mrs. Kang said the new facility is providing much needed services in the area, which lost Palfrey Day Nursery in 2019."

CANAL TAVERN

26, (29), Little Bloxwich, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Benjamin Smith
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Benjamin Smith [1853] – 1888);
Edward Withington (1888 – 1891);
Elizabeth Withington (1891 – 1893);
Enoch Astley (1893 – 1894);
Thomas Morris (1894 – 1907);
Thomas Peach (1907 – 1909);
John Elks (1909 – 1912);
Joseph Jones (1912 – 1917);
Hannah Maria Jones (1917 – 1919);
Joseph Jones (1919 – 1931);
George Smith (1931 – 1951);
Edith Smith (1951 – 1964);

NOTES

29, Little Bloxwich [1861]
26, Little Bloxwich [1871], [1881], [1901], [1939]

It was formerly the LAMP.

CANAL INN [1911]

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

"At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last., eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers' licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.....

Benjamin Smith, Little Bloxwich."

1861 Census

29, Little Bloxwich
[1] Benjamin Smith (46), publican, born Little Bloxwich;
[2] Mary Smith (40), wife, born Bunford, Middlesex;
[3] Emma Smith (14), daughter, born Little Bloxwich;
[4] Mary Smith (12), daughter, born Little Bloxwich;
[5] Julia Smith (9), daughter, born Little Bloxwich;

- [6] Henry Smith (9), son, born Little Bloxwich;
- [7] Benjamin Smith (5), son, born Little Bloxwich;
- [8] Eli Smith (2), son, born Little Bloxwich:

Benjamin Smith, retailer of beer, Little Bloxwich. [1862]

1871 Census

26, Little Bloxwich

- [1] Benjamin Smith (55), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Smith (50), wife, born Brentford, Middlesex;
- [3] Henry Smith (17), son, agricultural labourer, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Benjamin Smith (15), son, agricultural labourer, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Eli Smith (13), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Julia Smith (20), daughter, domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Ellen Smith (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] John Teece (60), servant, boatman, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Joseph Lee (17), servant, boatman, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Amos Endon (10), servant, boatman, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Mary Evans (16), general servant, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

26, Little Bloxwich – LAMP TAVERN Public House

- [1] Benjamin Smith (64), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Smith (60), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Eli Smith (23), son, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ellen Smith (20), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ellen Watson (12), boarder, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Hannah Birch (12), boarder, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Thomas Bryce (14), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/6/1890

“On Thursday evening, George Whittingham [sic], the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a knife, but he failed to accomplish his purpose, and was afterwards removed to the Cottage Hospital. It is said that he had been drinking for some time.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/7/1890

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Edward Withington, of the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, was brought up, on remand, charged with having attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat on the 19th June. The Chief Constable said that as the accused’s friends were willing to take charge of him he did not propose to offer any evidence in support of the charge. The prisoner was accordingly handed over to his friends.”

1891 Census

Little Bloxwich – CANAL TAVERN

- [1] Elizabeth Withington (34), widow, publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Leonard Withington (12), son, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Edward Withington (11), son, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Hettie Withington (9), daughter, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Harry Withington (7), son, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Nellie Withington (5), daughter, born Staffordshire;
- [7] Lewis Withington (2), son, born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/8/1893

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Enoch Astley, the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises and selling to a drunken person. Mr. R. A. Willcock appeared for the defence.

The Chief Constable said that on the 4th inst., three boatmen named Joseph Jones, George Johnson, and John Flannagan, all of Smethwick, whilst on their way from Fishley Colliery stopped at the defendant’s house from four o’clock until after six. When they entered they were sober, but when they left they were under the influence of drink. Jones was in such a state that he almost fell into the water whilst getting into the boat; and Johnson, who went on steering, was missed soon after, and was found to have fallen into the water with the tiller, and been drowned.

Flannagan and Jones were called, and the former said they were in ‘good working order,’ though they were a little overcome by the beer.

For the defence witness stated that four quarts of ale were had and shared by six or seven men, and that they were all sober when they left.

The Bench imposed a fine of £5 and costs for permitting drunkenness, nothing being done in the other case.

The Clerk said it was well to remind Mr. Willcock that his client was severely cautioned when a license was granted to him.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall were opened on Wednesday at the Guildhall, the Mayor in the chair. . . . Mr. Wilcock (Wolverhampton) applied in regard to the case of Enoch Astley, of the CANAL TAVERN, for a transfer of the license to George Willis. The object was to put in a proper tenant and have the house under thorough supervision. The Chief-constable said he raised no objection to the application provided that it did not prejudice the opposition to the house at the adjourned licensing day. He did not want to be confronted with the answer ‘Oh! We put another man in.’ The Bench assented.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday. . . .

The renewal of the license of Enoch Astley, the CANAL TAVERN, Bloxwich, was opposed by the Chief Constable on the grounds of conviction for permitting drunkenness, the house being of a disorderly character, and the license not required. Mr. Checkley (from the office of Messrs. Duignan and Elliot) also opposed on behalf of Mr. A. Stanley, and Mr. A. Young (instructed by Messrs. Willcock and Taylor) appeared for the applicant and the owners of the premises, Messrs. Butler and Co.

. . . .the CANAL TAVERN license was refused Mr. Willcock gave notice of appeal.”

[It was renewed on appeal at the Quarter Sessions held at Stafford on 18th October 1893.]

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall. . . .

The Chief Constable also objected to the renewal of the CANAL TAVERN license on the ground that the condition of the premises was such as to be beyond the control of the licensee.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, solicitor, at a later stage submitted plans of alterations proposed to be effected, by which the Chief Constable’s objections would be met. His client had agreed to build a wall, with a pair of substantial gates, so that the place could be absolutely closed at night, and at the same time reducing the area of the tavern.

The Chief Constable expressed himself satisfied, and withdrew his objection.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1894

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday. . . .

Mr. Thomas Morris, CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1897

“Walsall Quarter Sessions

John Heler (39), farmer, on bail, was indicted for having unlawfully wounded Thomas Henry Morgan on the 26th December. Mr. Gerald Lewis (instructed by Messrs. Lewis and Sons) prosecuted, and Mr. Herbert (instructed by Mr. Jackson) defended. Mr. Lewis having opened.

Prosecutor stated that he was returning, with others, from a supper party at the CANAL TAVERN, Bloxwich, when prisoner, who was in front, turned round and asked why he was following him. He denied that he was, and was walking across the street, when prisoner gave him a blow. They struggled together, and subsequently he found he had been stabbed.

By Mr. Herbert: There had been no previous quarrel nor any provocation on either side. He did not know how prisoner received his wounded arm.

William Cattell, miner, Pelsall Lane, Little Bloxwich, who was with Morgan, said that as they struggled on the ground he saw a half-opened knife in prisoner’s hand.

Police-constable Yardley gave evidence as to prisoner’s statement when arrested.

Dr. Nixon said that the prosecutor’s injuries consisted of a wound in the neck, which started at the back on the right side, and extended round the neck towards the left for six inches. He was detained until the 18th January – practically three weeks – and was an out-patient for a further three weeks.

Mr. Herbert said his answer to the charge was that the blood-stained knife said to have been found on prisoner was not his, and that the finding of it in his pocket was a deliberate ‘plant.’

Sarah Fernahough, who said she had been housekeeper to prisoner for four years; John Smith, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich; and Enoch Bloor, lamp cleaner, Little Bloxwich, all denied that the blood-stained knife belonged to prisoner, and declared that a similar one produced was the one he always carried.

Dr. McKintosh, assistant to Dr. Wilson, the police surgeon, said he saw prisoner at the police station. He was in a weak state, and suffering from four clean cuts on the hands, varying in length from ½ an inch to 2½ inches, and other injuries. The wound on the left hand was a very serious one indeed.

By Mr. Lewis: Some of the bruises might have been caused by his falling.

William Jones, farmer, Tettenhall, and Andrew Barnes, FULLBROOK TAVERN, gave evidence of character, and Mr. Herbert having addressed the jury at some length, and the Recorder having summed up, prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to six months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1898

“Thomas Morris, landlord of the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, was summoned for selling intoxicating drink, during prohibited hours on the 3rd inst. Mr. H. S. Chapman (from Messrs. Fowler, Langley, and Wright’s of Wolverhampton) was for the defence.

Inspector Alden gave evidence to the effect that at a few minutes to 12 o'clock on the date named he was in Little Bloxwich in plain clothes, when he saw some men drinking in the taproom of the defendant's house. On his calling the attention of the defendant to the matter, Morris said the men came from Walsall. Witness remarked that it was not three miles from Walsall, and that unless they were bona-fide travellers he had no right to serve them. On going into the house witness found four navvies in the room. They gave their address as 56, Queen Street. Witness went to Queen Street, near Bridgeman Street, but could find no one there answering the description of the men. At Queen Street, Palfrey, he found a man named Brown had lived there, but it was stated that he had gone to see some friends at Pelsall. Witness on Saturday last served summonses personally on George Ruck, Charles Williams, and Harry Brown, who were at work on the sewerage works at Pelsall. Ruck lodged with Harry Brown, at the top of Pelsall, which was not above a mile and a half from Bloxwich, and Williams lived at Heath End, which was not above two miles from Bloxwich. The defendant admitted the men had had two quarts. The men were dressed as navvies, and there were sewerage works at Pelsall. Queen Street, Palfrey would be three miles from defendant's house.

Mr. Chapman said the men said they came from Queen Street, Walsall. The fact that the men were navvies was not sufficient to prove that the men came from Pelsall. He called the defendant who gave evidence.

Ruck also gave evidence for the defence. He told the landlady that they came from Walsall. As a matter of fact witness came from Pelsall. They had been for a walk and did not know exactly where they were.

The Bench fined defendant 40s and costs, but said they should not endorse his license.

The men Ruck and Williams pleaded 'guilty' to being found on licensed premises during prohibited hours, and were fined 7s 6d and cost, or seven days. Harry Brown did not appear."

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

"The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

Since the 27th August, 1897, 5 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against, 4 of whom were convicted, viz.....

15th July, Thomas Morris, CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, fined 40s and costs for opening his premises during prohibited hours.

1901 Census

26, Little Bloxwich – CANAL TAVERN

[1] Thomas Morris (55), public house manager, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Sarah Morris (59), wife, born Oakengates, Shropshire;

[3] Eliza M. Williams (16), domestic servant, born Lane Head;

[4] William Grimmett (15), domestic servant, born Birmingham;

[5] Eleanor Eyre (8), granddaughter, born Willenhall:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/11/1906

"Thomas Morris, of the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, was summoned before the Walsall magistrates yesterday for keeping his house open during prohibited hours. On Sunday morning, November 18, a constable saw Joseph Darby, a boatman, go to the house. He was supplied with drink by the landlord. When questioned Darby said, 'I have had half a pint and I have paid 1½d.' The defence was that Darby had been baling his boat all night. He bought the tobacco and the landlord gave him the drink out of pity for his miserable condition. Alderman Clare said that if the magistrates had been in the same position as the landlord they would very likely have done the same. They ordered the defendant to pay costs only."

1911 Census

Little Bloxwich – CANAL TAVERN

[1] John Elks (25), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Lizzie Elks (23), wife, married 3 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall Wood;

[3] John Thomas William Elks (2), son, born Little Bloxwich;

[4] Leonard George Elks (1), son, born Bloxwich;

[5] Albert Edward Elks (5 months), son, born Little Bloxwich;

1939 Register

26, Little Bloxwich

[1] George Smith, date of birth 21/1/1896, licensed victualler and coal miner below – certificated, married;

[2] Edith Smith, dob 16/9/1897, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[4] Edna M. (Smith) Griffiths, dob 4/11/1930, at school, single:

Walsall Observer 13/4/1940

"Thanks to Sunday evening efforts by Mavis Smith, the nine years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, a sum of £6 10s has been raised by the process of sticking coins, from pennies to half-crowns, on a mirror in the bar. Similar efforts have been held at the house previously but this time the proceeds were for the Walsall War Aid Fund. The Mayor (Councillor J. Cliff Tibbits) visited the house and formally accepted the money. He outlined the objects of the fund and thanked Mr. and Miss Smith for their efforts. Miss Smith is now continuing with her novel collecting scheme to raise money for Servicemen."

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Smith, CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich. £3 13 5d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich. £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich. £0 11s 0d.”

It closed in 1964.

It was demolished.
The BRIDGEWATER was built on the site in 1964.

CANAL TAVERN

BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Smith [1861]

NOTES

John Smith was also a tanner. [1861]

This is NOT the same as the one in Little Bloxwich.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

82, (83), (83-84), (84), Wisemore, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Spurrier, victualler, Walsall (later at Acocks Green)
Edgar Jeffries
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Hale [1857] – [1859]
Richmond Samuel Cooper* [1860]
Richard S Cooper* [1861]

Richmond S. Cooper* [1862]
R Cooper* [1864] – [1865]
Samuel Gale [1868] – [1870]
Henry Perry [1871]
Samuel Gale [1873];
Titus Groves [1880] – [1881];
Edgar Jeffries [1891] – 1897);
John Owen (1897);
John Edward Davis (1897 – 1899);
Edward Naginton (1899 – 1900);
Frederick Charles Williams (1900);
Mary Ann Campbell (1900 – 1901);
Frederick Mears (1901 – 1904);
John Thomas Lees (1904 – 1908); manager
Benjamin Lees (1908 – 1909);
Betsy Ann Lees [1909]
Alfred Deans (1909 – 1912);
Phineas Clark (1912 – 1914);
Ernest William Crump (1914 – 1915);
Thomas Ernest Blud (1915 – 1924);
Edward Mills (1924 – 1925);

NOTES

Wisemore Street [1858]
83, Wisemore [1860], [1861], [1862], [1865], [1868], [1871], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908]
83-84, Wisemore [1881]
84, Wisemore [1911]
82, Wisemore [1912]

London Gazette 22/12/1857

“In the Matter of the Petition of Edward Hale, now and for five years last past residing and carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler and Retail Brewer, at the house known by the sign of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, at the Wisemore, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, and also employed during the time aforesaid as a Journeyman Spring Hook Maker, an Insolvent Debtor. Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on the 14th of January next, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

Edward Hale, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore, for permitting card playing in his house at ten minutes past twelve o’clock on a Saturday, and for which, on the 24th of March last, he had been fined 20s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 17/9/1859

“Edward Hale of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, beer-house, Wisemore, charged with having his house open at half-past eleven, on the night of Sunday last, was found guilty; and as he had been several times before the Bench for similar offences, he was fined 10s and costs.”

* probably the same person

1861 Census

83, Wisemore
[1] Richard S. Cooper (34), victualler, born Walsall;
[2] Elizabeth Cooper (32), wife, born Walsall;
[3] John G. Cooper (2), son, born Walsall;
[4] Sarah Busby (17), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Free Press 29/1/1870

“County Court. Gale v. Powell.

In this case, the plaintiff, Samuel Gale, landlord of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE and LITTLETON ARMS public-houses, Walsall, sought to recover from the defendant Edwin Powell, currier, Walsall, the sum of £5 for injuries resulting from an assault committed by defendant upon complainant. Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Crump) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) for the defendant.

Mr. Young applied to have the plaint amended, and the damages increased from £5 to £15. The grounds for the application being that the injuries had turned out more serious than they were thought to be at the time the summons was taken out.

Mr. Dale objected on the ground that if the application were granted, his client would be deprived of a statutory right to have a jury. His Honour adjourned the case till the 23rd of February – the question of costs being reserved.”

1871 Census

83, Wisemore – CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

- [1] Henry Perry (30), carter and publican, born Gailey, Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Perry (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ann M. Perry (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] William Henry Perry (3 months), son, born Walsall:

Samuel Gale was also of the LITTLETON ARMS, Littleton St. East. [1872]

1881 Census

83-84, Wisemore

- [1] Titus Groves (52), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Sarah A. Groves (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Groves (9), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Sidney Groves (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah A. Groves (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Emma Latham (16), general servant, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

84, Wisemore – CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

- [1] Edgar Jeffries (44), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Jemima Jeffries (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Blanche Jeffries (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Job Jeffries (15), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara Ann Jeffries (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Annie Sarah Jeffries (8), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1894

“Frank Simpson, who hails from the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore, has found out that he cannot damage other people’s furniture with impunity. It appears he smashed a number of articles of furniture belonging to Mary Hawkins, 59, Ball Street, under what circumstances did not transpire, and the magistrates adjourned the case for a week to allow him time to pay £1 in the name of compensation and 5s 6d costs.”

Mary Ann Campbell = Mary Ann Cample

1901 Census

83, Wisemore – Public House

- [1] Mary Ann Cample (35), widow, publican, born Scotland;
- [2] Charlott Cample (16), daughter, teacher, born Scotland;
- [3] Jessie Cample (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Cample (13), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Cample (11), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore, Ceiling Collection (per Mr. Mears). £3 8s 1d.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Frederick Mears, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“Applications for transfer of license were heard in the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for the transfer of the license of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore, from Betsy Ann Lees to Alfred

Dean. The Chairman said there must be something wrong when there were five changes since 1900. The Chief Constable (Mr. Thomson) said the applicant was a respectable man and a well-known footballer. Mr. Jackson said the frequent changes occurred through men being promoted. The Chief Constable added that the managers were frequently changed. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1911

“Alfred Deans, well known in local football circles, having played last season for Walsall, and who is the licensee of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, was summoned for assaulting Edward Lawrence, 161, Stafford Street, on the 2nd inst. Mr. R. Morgan appeared for the complainant, and Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Detailing the facts of the case to the bench Mr. Morgan submitted that the assault was an absolutely unprovoked one. At 7 o’clock on the Friday night in question, Lawrence went into the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS HOTEL, in Park Street, and called for a glass of ale, but the landlord refused him, saying that he had had enough. Complainant was about to leave the house perfectly quietly when Deans, who was in the room at the time said, ‘Can’t I have one with you?’ Complainant replied that he would treat him to a glass of ale. ‘No,’ said Deans, ‘I will have a threepenny cigar.’ Lawrence told him he could not afford a threepenny cigar, but was willing to treat him to a glass of ale. Deans was not content with this, and repeated his request for a cigar three times. Complainant refused him at each request, and Deans thereupon lifted his fist and struck him in the jaw, following it up by pushing him outside, through the swing doors. Having done that he bundled him into the public-house window, and but for the brass bar protecting it, would have pushed him through it. Defendant himself was a license holder in the town and a man who ought to know how to conduct himself on licensed premises.

Complainant gave evidence in support of his solicitor’s statement, and describing the alleged assault, said, he gave me the smartest punch I have ever had in my life, and loosened my teeth. He bundled me through the swing doors with his shoulders, saying ‘I am gaffer here, I will show you, get off.’ He added that Deans would have been the last man in the world he should have thought would have struck him, as he (Yardley) was a customer at the house.

Mr. Jackson: Were you the worse for drink? – Complainant: I had had a glass or two. I was in the same state I am now.

Mr. Jackson: Can you understand why a respectable man like Mr. Deans should have hit you without any provocation? – Witness: I cannot understand his conduct whatever.

Further questioned he denied that he struck Deans on the nose, after the latter had tried to persuade him to leave the house.

Alfred Devereaux, George Walker, and Thomas Machin, a railway station policeman, gave evidence in support of Lawrence, the latter witness attending on subpoena.

During the examination of one of the witnesses, Mr. Clarke asked if the witnesses in that case were out of court, and was told they were not.

Mr. Clarke: They have no right to be in court. They are like children; if they have got any brains they will soon learn it. Witnesses were ordered to leave.

Mr. Jackson said that the case was a somewhat remarkable one, because defendant had been a licensee in this town for several years, and was a respectable man. He was in this public-house on the night in question when he heard Lawrence refused by the landlord. Knowing him, he persuaded him to leave, but about a minute later he returned and struck Deans, who was talking to the barmaid, a violent blow on the nose. Defendant then caught hold of him and turned him out, ‘It is not likely,’ continued Mr. Jackson. ‘that a respectable man of his (Mr. Deans) standard, would without the slightest provocation, hit him on the jaw while in another licensee’s house? I say it is absurd.’

Deans then gave evidence, and said that the whole story of the prosecution was a fabrication and all made up. Lawrence, who was under the influence of drink, wanted to toss for drinks, and being a friend of his defendant led him out. However, complainant struck him and he retaliated.

Dora Barber, the barmaid, told a similar story and the Bench dismissed the case.”

1911 Census

84, Wisemore – CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

[1] Alfred Deans (33), widower, licensed victualler, born Hensford [Hednesford?];

[2] Elizabeth Deans (71), mother, widow, born Bridgnorth;

[3] Emily Philpott (22), servant, born Brudgetown:

Walsall Advertiser 6/11/1915

“Ernest William Crump, licensee of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore, was summoned by his wife, Amelia Crump, who applied for a maintenance order, for persistent cruelty.

Mr. F. A. Platt appeared for the complainant, and explained that the complainant and her husband had been married for about nine years. When they were married the complainant was a widow with one child and since the marriage they had had two children. The complainant had lived a happy life with the defendant until they went to live in Birmingham, when the defendant began to knock her about. Since they had lived in Walsall she had had to leave him on three occasions. The first time she had cause to leave him was in November last year, when the defendant gave her ‘a good hiding.’ Afterwards, he then begged her to go back to him, which she did on the defendant promising to behave differently towards her. The defendant went out in the morning and came home again at night, the worse for drink, and he was persistently using filthy and abusive language towards her. On Friday, October 8th, the defendant struck her a violent blow on the face and cut her chin. She threatened to take a summons out, but the defendant prevented her on promising to behave better. On October 26th the defendant went into the house, upset the table, punched the complainant, caught hold of her arm and threw her down three steps. He told her and the children to pack up, which the complainant did and left the defendant.

The complainant bore out her solicitor's statement, and added that when she married the defendant she had £285, but that had all gone. She asked for an order of £1 a week.

Defendant said he could not afford it.

When asked how much the takings of the house were in a week defendant stated that they were £12.

Complainant said that they were more like £15 or £16 a week, in fact on one occasion she reckoned up £17 11s 0d. She thought the profit would be for the week about £3 or £4.

An order was made for payment of £1 a week."

Thomas Ernest Blud – see also LEATHERCUTTERS ARMS.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore. £0 10s 5d."

Bilston & Willenhall Times 20/12/1924

"When Edward Mills, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Wisemore, was summoned at Walsall, on Wednesday, for selling by his agent other than during permitted hours, an inspector said he followed a girl into the public-house at 10.15pm. Mrs. Mills said it was only just ten o'clock, but the inspector found the clock in the bar was ten minutes slow. Defendant was ordered to pay costs, and warned to be more careful in future."

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

"At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst, the justices referred the following houses for compensation.....
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wisemore."

It closed on 31st October 1925, after compensation was paid.

CARRIERS ARMS

29, (11), Field Street, (29, Big Field), (The Field), (Bloxwich Field), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

George Salt, pawnbroker, Birmingham Road, Walsall
John Beard
Philip Sanders, High Street, (later at Field Street), Bloxwich
Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd. [1904], [1910]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Hughes [1849] – [1854]
E Deakin [1862] ?
Thomas Reeves [1857] – [1870]
Mrs. Mary Reeves [1871] – [1872];
Thomas Jarvis [1881] – 1887);
Edward Byatt Somerfield (1887 – 1892);
John Cleobury (1892 – 1899);
Mary Elizabeth (Cleobury) Price (1899);
William Price (1899 – 1903);
Thomas Marshall (1903 – 1906);
Edward Goodman (1906 – 1925);
William Henry Poole (1925 – 1928):

NOTES

Bloxwich Field [1849], [1851]
Big Field [1861], [1865]
11, Field Street [1871]
29, Big Field

29, Field Street [1881], [1891], [1901]
Field Street [1911], [1912]

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/1/1849 - Advert

“Public House To Let.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, an old Public House, known by the sign of the CARRIERS ARMS, situated in Bloxwich.

For particulars apply on the premises.”

1851 Census

Bloxwich Field – CARRIERS ARMS

[1] William Hughes (27), victualler and moulder, born Dawley, Shropshire;

[2] Elizabeth Hughes (46), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] William Amoss (22), son, shoe maker, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/7/1854 - Advert

“An Excellent Opportunity.

The CARRIERS ARMS INN, Bloxwich Field, near Walsall, by H. Farrington.

To Be Disposed Of, the licenses, goodwill, and possession of the above old licensed house, situated in a most populous and improving neighbourhood, in the occupation of Mr. Hughes. Coming-in about £100.

For particulars, apply to H. Farrington, Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 23/5/1857

“Guildhall Police Court Sergeant Simpson preferred complaints against the following publicans residing at Bloxwich

Thomas Reeves, CARRIERS ARMS, fined one shilling and costs all for keeping their houses open during prohibited hours on Sunday last.”

Thomas Reeves, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1861]

1861 Census

Big Field – CARRIERS ARMS

[1] Thomas Reeves (38), victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Mary Reeves (44), wife, born Rugeley;

[3] Mary Ann Deakin (10), visitor, born Bloxwich;

[4] Bessy Davis (14), servant, born Bloxwich;

[5] Henry Thomas Reeves (2), nephew, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/1/1862

“On Wednesday last an inquest was held before Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, on the body of Benjamin Parker, brewer, who was found dead on Tuesday morning. From the evidence it appeared that deceased was engaged by Mr. E. Deakin, of the CARRIERS ARMS INN, Bloxwich, to brew, and that with a view of being up early in the morning he went to the house on Monday night and was allowed to sleep in the clubroom. When Mr. Deakin got up himself on the following morning he discovered to his alarm the body of the deceased at the bottom of the stairs. He sent for Dr. Somerville, but medical aid was not of any avail, as life was extinct. The jury, after hearing a statement of the foregoing facts, returned a verdict in accordance therewith.”

Walsall Free Press 4/3/1865

“Thomas Reeves, landlord of the CARRIERS ARMS, beer-house, Bloxwich, was charged, by Mr. W. G. Read, with having brewed, on the 20th of December, without having made an entry of his intention to do so. Mr. Read said, on visiting the defendant’s house on the day in question, he found the defendant’s brewer at work; and, on examining the brewing paper, he found no entry of an intention to brew on the 21st, and, thinking there had been a mistake of the date, asked the brewer if he intended brewing again on the following day, he replied that he did.

The Bench after hearing Mr. Read’s statement, sentenced him to pay a fine of £50, and recommended it to be reduced to £10 by the Board of Inland Revenue.”

1871 Census

11, Field Street – CARRIERS ARMS

[1] Mary Reeves (55), widow, victualler, born Rugeley;

[2] Margaret Reeves (15), niece, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[3] Ernest Reeves (13), nephew, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[4] Henry Reeves (11), nephew, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[5] James Deakin (4), nephew, scholar, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

29, Field Street – CARRIERS ARMS

- [1] Thomas Jarvis (43), coal miner, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Ann Jarvis (38), wife, born Rugeley;
- [3] Mary J. Jarvis (15), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Thomas J. Jarvis (12), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Jarvis (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Alice M. Jarvis (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] William Jarvis (6), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Albert Jarvis (3 months), son, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

29, Field Street

- [1] Maria Somerfield (41), publican's wife, born London;
- [2] Diana Somerfield (18), daughter, general servant, born Brownhills;
- [3] Jane Somerfield (16), daughter, general servant, born Hednesford;
- [4] Anne M. Somerfield (10), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Amy Somerfield (6), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] John Somerfield (5), son, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Elizabeth Johnson (35), widow, general servant, born Yorkshire:

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1896

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society held on Thursday Mr. John Cleobury, CARRIERS ARMS INN, Field Street, Bloxwich were elected members.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/12/1898 - Notice

“Notice is Hereby Given, that all Creditors and other persons having any Claims or Demands against the estate of John Cleobury, late of the CARRIERS ARMS, Field Street, Bloxwich, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, deceased (who died on the 26th day of November, 1898, and whose Will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice, on the 19th day of December, 1898, by Mary Elizabeth Cleobury, of Bloxwich aforesaid, and James Cleobury, of Portland Street, Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, the Executors therein named) are hereby required to send particulars in writing of their claims or demands to the said Executors, or to me, the undersigned, on or before the 1st day of March, 1899, after which date the said Executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims and demands of which they shall then have had notice, and they will not be liable for the assets of the said deceased or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claims or demands they shall not then have had notice.

Dated this 30th day of December, 1898.

Enoch Evans, 20, Bridge Street, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Executors.”

Mary Elizabeth Cleobury married William Price in the 3rd quarter of 1899.

1901 Census

29, Field Street

- [1] William Price (29), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary E. Price (27), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] John Cleobury (9), stepson, born Walsall;
- [4] Ernest Cleobury (7), stepson, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Frank Cleobury (5), stepson, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Florence Cleobury (4), stepdaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Dora Price (4 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Mary Johnson (16), domestic servant, born Clyhanger, Staffordshire;
- [9] Martha Whitehouse (14), nurse, born Dudley:

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1901

“Mary Johnson, a servant at the CARRIERS ARMS, Bloxwich, summoned a young married woman named Florence Salt, 31, Peal Street, at the Borough Court, on Monday, for assault; and there was a cross summons against Johnson for assaulting Salt. On Saturday evening Johnson alleged that Salt threw a plant pot at her whilst in her employer's yard; and on Sunday they again met, when Salt put down her child, and struck Johnson in the face whilst she had her mistress's child in her arms.

Two witnesses supported Johnson's version, and the summons against her was dismissed, whilst Salt was fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/5/1902

“William Price, landlord of the CARRIERS ARMS, Field Street, Bloxwich was summoned for keeping his house open during prohibited hours on April 29th, an also for selling to Charles Taylor, of 49, Reeves Street, intoxicating liquors during the time his licensed premises should have been closed on April 29th.

The prosecution was conducted on behalf of the police by the Town Clerk (M. J. R. Cooper). He said that the case before the Court was in no sense a difficult one. On Tuesday, the 29th of April, at 12.15 midnight, Sergeant Willetts was on duty in Field Street, and heard a noise in the CROWN AND ANCHOR [sic]. There was a light in the house, and he looked through the keyhole. He saw the defendant, Charles Taylor sitting on a sofa. He had previously seen Taylor leave at 11 o'clock, and heard him wish some persons there 'Good night.' The sergeant then called a police-constable, stationed him at the back door, and knocked for admission. He kept his eye to the keyhole whilst waiting, and saw Taylor get up and go towards the back of the house. Then the landlord opened the door, and Sergeant Willetts examined the ground floor of the premises. In the kitchen he found Mrs. Price, but could not find Taylor. He asked Price where the man was, and got no reply. He pressed him, and then Mrs. Price said 'Call him downstairs Bill,' and after several calls Taylor came down. The sergeant asked Price to account for Taylor being present, and was told he was staying there for the night, as his father and mother were not at their home. Taylor's reply to a similar question, however, was that he was staying because he was going to help the landlord at four o'clock the next morning. He admitted he had been a customer in the house up to eleven o'clock and after then. At this stage of the proceedings, notwithstanding his statement that his parents were from home, Taylor left the inn and went home. The Town Clerk said he thought that the magistrates would have no difficulty in convicting the case.

Sergeant Willetts was called, and gave evidence identical with the Town Clerk's statement. In reply to questions by Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson), who defended, he said he did not see Taylor drink any beer. There were five empty jugs on the table near which the latter had been sitting. He knew Price and Taylor were old friends.

Police-constable Morris, the constable who stood at the back door of the house, also gave evidence. He not see Taylor drink any beer.

Inspector Marshall spoke to visiting the house of Taylor's parents, and ascertaining from them that they were not from home on the night of the 29th April.

For the defence, Mr. Jackson said the case was one which required an explanation, and he thought he would be able to provide a simple but a thoroughly satisfactory one. Price was charged under the same section of the Act both with selling intoxicating liquor and with having his licensed premises open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours. There was, however, a saving clause in that Act which stated that a licensed person might supply liquors during prohibited hours to a bona-fide traveller or lodger, and also might entertain his private friends after the hours of closing. No evidence had been produced that Price had sold liquor after prohibited hours; no evidence had been brought to show that Taylor drank in the house after closing time. The police did not even ask Taylor if he had been drinking since eleven o'clock. It was absurd to suppose that any landlord would endanger his license and reputation for the sake of the profit he could make out of one solitary customer. As a matter of fact, Price had asked Taylor to stay with him during the night, so that he might be up at four o'clock the next morning to get a number of barrels up the cellar, his own knee being injured.

The defendant Price was next called, and bore out Mr. Jackson's statement.

In cross-examination by the Town Clerk, he said he never told Sergeant Willetts that Taylor was staying at the CROWN AND ANCHOR [sic] because his parents were from home. Asked how he accounted for going upstairs as soon as the police knocked, he said he had been upstairs ten minutes when that happened.

Mrs. Price said that Taylor had several times before stayed all night, but he never had any drink after 11 o'clock.

In pronouncing the Bench's decision, Mr. Brookes said they thought it was a very proper case to have been brought and thrashed out, but a majority of the magistrates considered the evidence was insufficient, and it would therefore be dismissed."

[The previous item in the newspaper concerned the CROWN AND ANCHOR.]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....

Thomas Marshall, CARRIERS ARMS."

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

CARRIERS ARMS, Bloxwich. The license of this house (owners Bloxwich Brewery Company) was adjourned for the production of plans.

Mr. H. H. Jackson was for the landlord, Thomas Marshall, and the owners."

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1907

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Mr. Edward Goodman, CARRIERS ARMS INN, Field Street, Bloxwich."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

CARRIERS ARMS, Bloxwich Mr. Jackson appeared for the owners, the Bloxwich Brewery Company, and the tenant, Edward Goodman. He said it was a fully-licensed house, and the value could not be challenged."

1911 Census

Field Street

- [1] Edward Goodman (32), innkeeper, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire;
- [2] Colara Goodman (27), wife, married 7 years, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire;
- [3] Hilda May Goodman (6), daughter, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Bates (25), domestic servant, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 24/5/1913

“The new green in connection with the CARRIERS ARMS Bowling Club was formally opened on Saturday.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
CARRIERS ARMS, Bloxwich, 3s 10d.”

Walsall Observer 24/11/1917

“At the CARRIERS ARMS Bowling Club, Bloxwich, on Monday evening, Mr. Sanders (president) presented the prizes to the following winners: J. Harvey, A. Hathaway, H. Price, E. Jones, W. Bradford, E. Goodman, S. Dolman, and J. Stanton. The secretary stated the past season had been a success, with a balance in hand. A cruet was presented to the captain (Mr. Hathaway) for services rendered to the club.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
CARRIERS ARMS, Field Street. £1 6s 10d.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 8th March 1928.

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

“Walsall Licensing Sessions.....

The following five houses, all of Bloxwich, were referred for compensation:

CARRIERS ARMS, Field Road; STATION HOTEL, Station Street; VICTORIA STORES, High Street; BLUE PIG, Elmore Row; and the VINE INN, The Green.”

Compensation on £2,650 was paid on 22nd October 1928.

The license was extinguished on 27th September 1928.

CASTLE AND FALCON

Carless Street, (33, Oxford Street), Caldmore, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Westwood
Showells Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Westwood [1865] – 1901);
Mrs. Maria Westwood (1901 – 1911);
Sarah Ann Allsopp (1911 – 1914);
Joseph Wilson (1914 – 1915);
George Thomas Carnell (1915 – [])
Joseph Beddows [] – 1930): manager

NOTES

33, Oxford Street [1871], [1880], [1881], [1891], [1904], [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....
Mr. Matthews, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, applied on behalf of the following parties.....
John Westwood, Oxford Street Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....
Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of Mr. John Westwood, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street, and referred to the rapid growth of the district in the vicinity of Oxford Street. Application refused.”

John Westwood, beer retailer, Oxford Street. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday applications for new licenses for the sale of spirits.....
Mr. Gillespie applied on behalf of John Westwood, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street.
The Mayor announced that the Bench had decided not to grant any new licenses this year.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1870

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....
There were eight applicants for new spirit licenses.....
John Westwood, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street.....
The magistrates retired to consider their decision, and after having been absent about half an hour they returned, and announced that they had decided to refuse all the applications, though they had come to this decision with much regret in some instances.”

John Westwood, beer retailer, 33, Oxford Street. [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

33, Oxford Street

- [1] John Westwood (51), beerhouse keeper, born Burntwood;
- [2] Maria Westwood (51), wife, born Walsall:

1881 Census

33, Oxford Street

- [1] John Westwood (60), innkeeper, born Burntwood;
- [2] Maria Westwood (60), wife, born Great Barr;
- [3] Betsy Burford (34), general servant, born Wednesbury:

1891 Census

33, Oxford Street – CASTLE AND FALCON INN

- [1] John Westwood (70), publican, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;
- [2] Maria Westwood (70), wife, born Great Barr;
- [3] Eliza Westwood (29), niece, born Burntwood:

Walsall Advertiser 24/6/1893

“A powerfully-built man named James Parkes, Sandwell Street, was summoned by John Westwood, landlord of the CASTLE AND FALCON, Oxford Street, Caldmore, for doing wilful damage at his house on Monday. The defendant was alleged to have entered the house ‘fresh’ with drink. He was refused liquor whereupon he began drinking from the glasses of customers, and when ordered out lay down on the floor. Ultimately the defendant put his arm through a glass door. Damage amounted to 10s. Defendant in answer to the charge, told the Bench he had been at the house five hours, and added that ‘when his money had gone he supposed he could go.’
An order for the payment of the damage and 5s and costs was made. Defendant went to gaol.”

John Westwood, beer retailer, 33, Oxford Street, Caldmore. [1896]

1901 Census

Oxford Street – CASTLE AND FALCON INN

- [1] John Westwood (79), publican, born Burntwood;
- [2] Maria Westwood (80), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Elizabeth Westwood (39), niece, born Burntwood;
- [4] Polly Westwood (35), niece, born Burntwood:

Mrs. Maria Westwood, beer retailer, 33, Oxford Street, Caldmore. [1904]

1911 Census

33, Oxford Street – CASTLE AND FALCON

[1] Maria Westwood (90), widow, beerhouse, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah Ann Allsopp (55), niece, widow, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;

[3] Ethel May Sort (19), servant, born Tipton:

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1911

“Friday’s Police..... The following licenses were transferred.....

CASTLE AND FALCON, Oxford Street, from the Executrix of Maria Westwood, deceased, to Sarah Ann Allsopp.”

Mrs. Sarah Ann Allsopp, beer retailer, 33, Oxford Street, Caldmore. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1914

“We are informed that one of the few remaining home brewing houses in the borough has this week been disposed of by private negotiation by Messrs. Fox and Harrison, F.A.I. It was recently offered by them at public auction, and was withdrawn. The house referred to is the CASTLE AND FALCON INN, Oxford Street, Caldmore, with which was included the private dwelling house adjoining.

The solicitors acting on behalf of the late Mr. John Westwood’s executors (the owners) were Messrs. Wilkinson & Co., of The Bridge.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

CASTLE AND FALCON, Caldmore. £0 6s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 22/6/1918 - Advert

“For sale, Zither, Banjo and Case; Auto Harp and Case; also a Mule or Canary Breeding Cage, and a Singing Cage, all in splendid order.

CASTLE AND FALCON, Oxford Street, Caldmore, Walsall.”

It closed in July 1930.

CASTLE AND FALCON

Wisemore Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas German [1834] – [1835]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Thomas German, retailer of beer, Wisemore. [1835]

CHAINMAKERS ARMS

97, (95), (94), Green Lane / Farringdon Street, (Blue Lane), Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

Henry Beebee
Brewers’ Investment Corporation
Showells Brewery Co. Ltd.

Ind Coope and Alsopp (leased from 29th June 1935)
Ansell's Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)

LICENSEES

John Webster [1841] – [1853]
Henry Beebee [1858] – 1889);
Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Gould (1889 – 1890);
William Vann (1890);
Henry Reynolds (1890 – 1910);
James Howard Biddulph (1910 – 1912);
William Cook (1912 – 1924); manager
John Walker (1924 – 1934);
Charles Edward Walker (1934 – 1936);
John Walker (1936 – 1942);
Thomas Sylvester Taylor (1942 – 1943);
John William Walls (1943 – 1944);
William Edward Hawkins (1944 – 1950);
John Charles Fell (1950 – 1951);
Thomas Foxall (1951 – 1953);
William Briscoe Clews (1953 – 1955);
George Alfred Charles Evans (1955 – 1956);
Harold Preston (1956 – 1957);
Mrs. Dorothy Margeret Waterfield (1957 – 1964);
Ronald Levy (1964 – [1966])

NOTES

95, Green Lane [1860], [1861], [1868], [1871], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1932], [1940]
94, Green Lane [1881]
97, Green Lane [1911]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/6/1847

“Benjamin Osband will, with any man in England, run and pick 50 or 100 stones a yard apart, for any sum, and at any time or place. He can be heard of at Mr. John Webster's, CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, near Birchills, Walsall, Staffordshire.”

John Webster was also a curb and ship chain manufacturer. [1849], [1850]
He was described as also being a chainmaker. [1851]

1851 Census

Green Lane

- [1] John Webster (46), chain maker, born Rushall;
- [2] Cathrine Webster (43), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] John Dutson (24), son in law, brickmaker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Elenor Dutson (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Cathrine Webster (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Webster (8), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Edwin Webster (3), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Phoebe Cleobury (16), servant, born Walsall;
- [9] Edward Sly (20), servant, born Birmingham:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/12/1853

“Walsall Petty Sessions.....

John Webster, of the CHAIN MAKERS ARMS, Blue(?) Lane, was fined £1 and costs, for having their houses open after twelve o'clock on Saturday night.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1855

“On Saturday last an inquest was held by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Birchills, on the body of Lockey Cumming, an Irishman, twenty-three years of age. On the previous Thursday the deceased was supplying the furnace at the Littleton Works, in the occupation of Messrs. Highway, when the boiler suddenly burst, and he received such injuries as to cause his death on the following day. The jury seemed to think that no blame could be attached to any one; the boiler was in good working order, and had been repaired only three weeks previously, and returned a verdict accordingly.”

Henry Beebee = Henry Beeby

1861 Census

95, Green Lane

- [1] Henry Beebee (32), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Catherine Beebee (26), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ann Beebee (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Henrietta Beebee (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry John Beebee (4), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Beebee (2), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Jane Hodge (19), general servant, born Somersetshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 15/11/1861

“At the Walsall Petty Sessions, held at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Henry Beeby, of the CHAINMAKERS ARMS INN, was charged with having in his possession two ducks, the property of William Abbott. Mr. Wilkinson appeared for the defence.

Complainant said that he had two ducks of a peculiar appearance in his possession on the morning of Friday last. They were a couple he had reared, and he knew them well. When he returned to his home on Friday evening, they were gone, and he did not see them again until Wednesday last, when he observed them upon the premises of defendant. He then went and claimed them, but defendant refused to give them up, saying that he bought them on Friday last from a man who had a drove of goats, and that he gave 3s 4d for them. Complainant insisted that the ducks were his, and defendant said he might have them on payment of the above-named sum. This did not suit Mr. Abbott's notions of restitution, and he called the law into requisition to vindicate his rights. When, however, the ducks were brought into Court, he could not identify them. For the duck, he said that it was not the same as the officer had seized under the warrant, and for the drake, he said he could only tell it by its walk, as it was bow-legged. (Laughter.) His evidence generally was so uncertain that he felt it necessary to ask for an adjournment, in order that he might produce witnesses. The Bench intimated that if they granted an adjournment complainant must pay all costs, and the attorney's fee as well.

Mr. Wilkinson said the case was so weak and frivolous, and his client was a man of such unquestionable character, that he hoped the summons would be dismissed. He commented at length on the evidence, showing that it could not be relied upon.

The Bench dismissed the case.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/4/1863

“On Thursday week, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Walsall, upon the body of Eliza Shelley, aged 13 days, who died under the following circumstances. On Tuesday the deceased, who had been ailing from birth, was taken by her mother to the shop of Mr. Smith, druggist, Stafford Street, who prescribed for the child; but as it was no better on the following morning, the mother took it back to Mr. Smith, who recommended her to take it to Mr. Palmer, surgeon; but on their way to Mr. Palmer's the child expired. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes; but the coroner censured the conduct of the druggist, and intimated that in the event of any similar case occurring in the future he should feel it to be his duty to institute proceedings against the chemist.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/12/1866

“On Saturday last, A. Fletcher, Esq, Borough Coroner, held an inquiry at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, touching the death of Lavinia Potts, 64 years of age, the wife of a resident in Short Acre. It seemed that on Friday morning deceased went to the shop of Mr. Hubbard, chemist, Stafford Street, and, addressing one of Mr. Hubbard's sons, who was in charge of the place, asked for fourpenny worth of laudanum. On being cautioned to the poisonous properties of the drug she pointed to the bottle she had bought, which bore Mr. Hubbard's labels, containing the words 'Laudanum' and 'Poison' and remarked that she had had some before. On receiving the laudanum she went home, and shortly afterwards called to her niece, a young woman named Gabb, who was staying with her, and said, 'Good bye, Ellen; I have done it.' Miss Gabb at once snatched the bottle from her lips, as she was draining its contents, and helped her to a chair. Subsequently some ipecuanaha wine was obtained from the shop of Mr. Hubbard, and administered to her in hot water, and she was soon afterwards seen by the assistant to Dr. Day, but she was then dead. She had been in the habit of purchasing laudanum from the shop of Mr. Hubbard, and taking it for the pain in her side. She had also been in the habit of drinking to excess, and had been subject to fits, which usually occurred at the full and change of the moon. The Jury found that she Committed Suicide while in a State of Temporary Insanity.”

1871 Census

95, Green Lane – CHAIN MAKERS ARMS

- [1] Henry Beebee (42), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Catherine Beebee (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Ann Beebee (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Henrietta Beebee (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry J. Beebee (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Beebee (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Samuel E. Beebee (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;

- [8] Isaac W. Beebee (8 months), son, born Walsall;
[9] Clara M. Sartain (19), niece, born Walsall;
[10] John Massey (18), man servant, born Bridgnorth:

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/12/1876

“On Tuesday Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS on the body of Charles Foxall, aged eight years, who, on the 24th ult, whilst at Messrs. Bissell’s works, at the Birchills, accidentally fell into the canal and was drowned. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1881 Census

94, Green Lane – CHAINMAKERS ARMS

- [1] Henry Beebee (52), widower, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
[2] Samuel E. Beebee (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[3] Isaac W. Beebee (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] Florence M. Beebee (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Howard W. Beebee (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Eleanor Dutson (22), niece, barmaid, born Walsall;
[7] Maggie O’Brien (19), general servant, born Walsall:

Evening Express 18/5/1881

“An inquest was held at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Walsall, on Tuesday afternoon, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, relative to the death of Jonah Appleby, aged three and a half years, lately residing with his parents at Green Lane. From the evidence of several witnesses, it appeared that Enoch Brayford, scrap iron dealer, Wolverhampton Street, was driving a spring trap, containing about 15cwt of iron, up Green Lane to the furnaces. The deceased, who was picking up some beans that had been scattered in the street, started to run across to the opposite side just as the cart was passing, and got in front of the horse, which knocked him down, and the wheel of the trap passed over his head, causing instantaneous death. The driver, immediately he observed what had occurred, jumped off his seat and went to the assistance of the child, who was then quite dead. The independent witnesses who were called stated that the trap was going at a moderate pace – not more than five or six miles an hour – when the accident occurred, and that in their opinion the deceased could not have been seen by the driver till the accident took place.
A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Evening Express 8/9/1881

“An inquest was held at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, Walsall, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, relative to the death of Flora Lambert, aged two months, daughter of Kate Lambert, a single woman, residing at 246, Green Lane, Walsall. It appeared that the child had been delicate since birth. On Sunday night the deceased was put to bed about nine o’clock, and had been attended to during the night by its mother, who, however, when she awoke in the morning found the child dead in her arms. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Observer 17/1/1885

“On Saturday last, Mr. T. H. Stanley, the Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS on the body of Frederick Smith, aged 48, who died in Mr. Boy’s brickyard on the previous day, as briefly reported last week. Mary Ann Smith, of No.2 Court, Duncalf Street, deposed that she had known deceased for some years through his having worked with her husband. On the 2nd January deceased came to her house, and she remarked to him that he looked very bad and thin, and invited him in. He went in and sat by the fire, and told her that he had been for the last ten weeks at Daw End, sleeping in a hovel. He was a quarry maker by trade, and had had nothing to eat but what the workmen gave him. Witness cooked him a pork steak, and gave him some coffee. He ate a little, but said he could not eat any more as he was past it. Deceased slept on the sofa at her house that night, and in the morning witness gave him some breakfast, and recommended him to go to the Workhouse. He went away, but returned about six or half past. She asked him why he was not at the Workhouse, and deceased said that he had been told he must go to Wolverhampton, but that he had some soup at the Workhouse. Witness asked deceased to stay until Monday; and on Sunday she did him a chop, but he could not eat it, and was sick and ill at night. On Monday he had some mutton and coffee for breakfast, and witness gave him 1s. She told him to get somewhere where he could be taken care of, for he seemed very cold and drowsy. On Saturday morning, the 3rd instant, the relieving officer called at her house and asked for Frederick Clark; but deceased, whose body the jury had seen, was Frederick Smith. Mary Jones, Railway Row, deposed that she worked at Boy’s and saw deceased there on Friday. He looked very ill, and she asked him if he would have 4½d, and gave it him. He lay by the kiln, as he said he was very cold. She went to him about half an hour afterwards, and he said he was a little better. She had not seen him until Friday, but she heard from the men in the yard that he had been there all of the week. Soon after eight she said the deceased looked very ill, and lay with his eyes close; and he asked her to raise him up, which she did. She asked him if he would have some brandy, and he said, ‘No’ but she could get him some port wine. She got some and gave it to him, and he asked her to rest his head on her breast. She did so, and as he leaned back he spread out his hands, and one of the men said he was dead. She looked more closely, and saw he was so, having died quietly about a quarter past nine. Many people came to sleep at the kiln, and sometimes there were as many as 15. Deceased had been seen about from time to time from Monday until the Friday. John Barnsley, relieving officer, deposed that on Saturday morning, the 3rd January, he saw deceased in the lodge at the Workhouse, and he (deceased) said that he wanted to go into the house. Witness questioned him as to where he came from, and told him that, as he seemed ill, he ought to be in the house. He told deceased to come to his house, which was five minutes' walk distant, and he would give him a ticket. Deceased did not say that he could not walk to witness's house, but said he would come for the order; but did not do so. It was about half past eleven on Saturday that he saw deceased.

After the summing up of the Coroner, the jury returned a verdict of Death by Starvation, and stated that they considered Mr. Barnsley very much to blame for not allowing deceased to remain at the Workhouse, seeing that he was in such a very weak state; and that he did not send the note down to him, and ask the porter to keep him until it arrived.

Mr. Barnsley said that he had to make inquiries into all cases, and he did so in this case, and found that what deceased had said was the truth. He had been to Duncalf Street, and told the woman there that deceased would be admitted if he went there. He had not told him that he would have to go to Wolverhampton. Deceased never saw him again after seeing him at the Workhouse. The jury were unanimous in desiring the Coroner to express to Mr. Barnsley their opinion that the man ought not to have been allowed to go away."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/8/1885

"At the Guildhall, yesterday, George Rutledge, Wolverhampton, was convicted of having, on the 4th July, stolen two gig-lamps, a gig-apron, and a gig-cover, the property of Henry Beebee, of the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment. It seemed he purloined the articles whilst at the prosecutor's house, and went the same day to the TEDDESLEY ARMS, where he offered the lamps to the landlord, Mr. Biddulph, for 4s. Mr. Biddulph felt convinced that the lamps had been dishonestly come by and detained them, and the prisoner made good his escape for the time being, but was secured by Detective-sergeant Drury this week."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/8/1885

"On Saturday Mr. T. H. Standley held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane, on the body of Richard Jennings (35), miner, who died on Friday night from the effects of injuries to the neck sustained on the previous Wednesday through his falling out of a cart on his way home from Wolverhampton market.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1888

"At the Guildhall, yesterday, Patrick Curley, Green Lane, was charged with stealing from the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, in the same locality, four fowls, value 12s, the property of Henry Beebee, formerly keeper of the house.

The fowls, and another, were safe in the pen on Saturday afternoon, but at a later hour they were missed, and the prisoner was suspected, he having been seen to pass into the yard several times. The next morning Detective-officer Smith found fowls baking at the house of Thomas Myland, St. Patrick's Square, and Mrs. Myland admitted that she had bought them for 1s each from the prisoner. The birds were prize fowls worth 10s each.

Sixteen previous convictions were proved against the prisoner, who was sentenced to twenty-one days' imprisonment, with hard labour.

Mr. Gillespie appeared for the prosecution."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1888

"Mrs. Gould, wife of the keeper of the Queens Hotel, Chase Town, applied for a temporary authority to keep the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, in her own name.

Mr. A. Whitehouse appeared for the applicant, and, after stating the law bearing upon the question, called Mrs. Gould, who said she and her husband had always lived on good terms, and that they intended to continue to live together. She had had the sole management of the Queens Hotel, but the money with which she was taking to the CHAINMAKERS ARMS was her own money. The Chief Constable opposed the application.

The magistrates retired for consultation, and on their return the Mayor said they had considered the matter at some length, deeming it an important one, and by a majority were in favour of the license being granted."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/1/1890

"Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley, borough coroner, held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane, on the body of John Wallbank (47), stoker, Birch Street.

It seemed that on Monday the deceased was wheeling a loaded barrow in the retort-house at the gasworks, when he suddenly fell. His fellow workmen raised him up, but he partially fell again, and immediately expired. He had not been well for some days before, but he was in a jovial mood just before the fatal seizure.

Verdict, Death from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 29/12/1890

"Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, Walsall, on Saturday, on the body of Sarah Needham (69), wife of Charles Needham, limestone miner, living at the back of 22, Long Acre.

The evidence bore out the statement already published, that in the temporary absence of her husband the deceased attempted to go upstairs carrying a lighted paraffin lamp, and stumbling, smashed the lamp, or caused it to explode, setting her clothes on fire. Her husband deposed that when he came back into the house he found her lying on the floor, and did his best to extinguish her burning clothes, also calling for assistance; but when Police-constable Curtis was called in the man was lying on the squab in a stupid condition from drink, the woman being still on the floor dead, but with her garments burning. There was also reason to believe that the woman was not quite sober.

A verdict of Accidental Death from burns was returned.”

1891 Census

95, Green Lane

[1] Henry Reynolds (41), blacksmith, public house manager, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Emma Reynolds (39), wife, born Ironbridge, Shropshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/7/1893

“On Saturday Mr. Stanley held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, on the body of Richard Mason (35), warehouse clerk, 235, Green Lane.

He had been out of work since April, and on Tuesday was caught in the rain whilst seeking a situation in Birmingham. Afterwards he complained of pains in his limbs, and on Thursday vomited a little blood whilst going in and out of the house. In the afternoon, whilst on the couch, he became worse, and a neighbour who had previously put a mustard-plaister on his chest, went to his assistance, and sent for Dr. Lynch, but in a short time he had expired.

Pneumonia was assigned as the cause of death, and a verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/4/1899

“The Walsall Grand Lodge, will meet for business on Monday next at nine o’clock, at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, headquarters of the Lord Dudley Lodge. There will be supper at 7.30 prompt, in connection with the lodge. Tickets may be obtained from the lodge secretary Mr. S. B. Jones, or the secretary of the Grand Lodge.

The Churchill Lodge will meet on Wednesday next the 19th, and the Beaconsfield Lodge will meet on Monday, the 24th at 8.30.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

“Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Henry Reynolds, CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 27/1/1900

“On Thursday evening, last week, upwards of 40 members sat down to a substantial repast, served in a most satisfactory manner, to the delight of all, at Mr. Harry Reynolds, CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane.....”

Walsall Observer 14/4/1900

“An inquest was held on Wednesday afternoon, at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), on the body of John Owen (70), miner, of 89, Green Lane.

Mrs. Owen, widow of deceased, said that on Saturday morning last, between eleven and twelve o’clock, her husband left the house to go to his son, who lived at 91, Green Lane, to ask him to light his pipe. Witness asked him not to go, but he insisted.

Not many minutes after he had left a boy came to witness’s house and told her that her husband had fallen down, and a little while afterwards her son John carried the old man in and laid him on the sofa. He died at 7.30 on Monday morning.

John Owen, ironworker, 91, Green Lane, son of the deceased, said that he was just leaving his house when his son ran up to him and said that his grandfather had fallen down in the entry. Witness ran to assist his father, and carried him into the house and laid him on the sofa.

Dr. McKinstry said that on Saturday evening, between seven and eight o’clock, he was called in to see the deceased, and found that he was suffering from a fractured thigh. Witness saw him again on Sunday, and when he called on Monday morning he found that his patient was dead. Death was due to shock, caused by the fall and the injury. The deceased was a very feeble old man, and witness had attended him for five or six years.

The Coroner having summed up the evidence, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Observer 11/8/1900

“Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, on Tuesday, on the body of an infant named Louisa Cartwright, aged six weeks, who died on the night of August 5th.

Annie Cartwright, wife of William Cartwright, bricklayer’s labourer, of 6 house, 10 court, Green Lane, the mother of the deceased, said she took the baby to bed at 11 o’clock on Sunday night. When witness went to sleep the baby was lying on her right arm between witness and her husband. The baby had been in perfect health up till then. When she woke at 2.30am on Monday the baby was still on her right arm, but she noticed that the mouth was squeezed up, its hands were clenched, and its knees were drawn up. The child was dead when witness woke.

Dr. O’Meara said that he was called in by the police to see the child on Monday evening. The probable cause of death was over-laying.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the child died from suffocation from over-laying.”

AND

“An inquest was held on Tuesday at the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), on the body of John Kelly (56), labourer, 62, Long Acre Street, who died on Sunday morning, August 5th.

Bridget Kelly, of 62, Long Acre Street, wife of the deceased, said that her husband went to bed at 8.30 on Saturday night, and he had been drinking, but not heavily. He was not drunk. At about a quarter or half past one in the night she heard something fall downstairs. Witness was sitting by the fire, and on opening the door of the stairs she saw her husband lying there, with his head doubled under him. Witness and a lodger named Ford got the deceased on to a chair. He was unconscious, and was bleeding from the head.

Witness sent for Dr. O'Meara, but before his arrival her husband died.

Job Ford, lodging with Kelly at 62, Long Acre Street, said that he was in the entry at about half past one when Mrs. Kelly called him in. Witness went in and picked the deceased up and put him on a chair. He was insensible, and was bleeding from the top of his head. He died about ten minutes after he was picked up. There was no light on the stairs.

Dr. O'Meara said that he saw the deceased at about two a.m. on Sunday morning. He was quite dead when witness saw him, and had a wound on his head 2½ inches long, extending to the bone, and the deceased was also bleeding from the right ear. The wound was caused by a heavy fall, and death was due to concussion of the brain following on the blow to the head.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death from a fall downstairs."

1901 Census

95, Green Lane

- [1] Henry Reynolds (51), publican, born Broseley, Shropshire;
- [2] Emma Reynolds (50), wife, born Ironbridge, Shropshire;
- [3] Maggie Linthorpe (21), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1904

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Henry Reynolds, CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane....."

1911 Census

95, Green Lane

- [1] James Howard Biddulph (38), hotel manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Biddulph (34), wife, married 4 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Ethel Adams (13), niece, school, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
CHAIN MAKERS ARMS, Green Lane. £1 10s 2d."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/10/1931

"I served the beer at 9.55. They went out at the back. I thought they had gone, but they must have stopped talking for a time.' This statement was made by John Walker, landlord of the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, Walsall, to Police-constable Bentley, when told on Sunday, 20 September, that the latter had met two men leaving the house at 10.18pm with a half-gallon bottle containing beer.

Yesterday William Kimberley, of Farringdon Street, Walsall, was fined 10s for taking intoxicating drink from licensed premises otherwise than during permitted hours, and two summonses against Walker for alleged aiding and abetting were dismissed.

Mr. F. Cooper (for the landlord) said that it was not sufficient to sustain a case of aiding and abetting against a publican that a man should be seen coming from a licensed house with a bottle of beer after hours. A landlord had a perfect right to be open after hours, although he was not entitled to sell after hours.

A summons against Walker for having, it was alleged, supplied the beer during non-permitted hours, was also dismissed."

1939 Register

95, Green Lane

- [1] John Walker, date of birth 7/9/1875, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Henriette Walker, dob 7/7/1876, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, £0 2s 6d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane. £1 4s 2d."

John William Walls = John William Hall

Walsall Observer 14/8/1943

"At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society held on Thursday....

Mr. John William Hall [sic], CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, was elected a member of the society."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane. £0 19s 7d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1958

“It is thought that when several tons of bricks and masonry crashed from the top of a Walsall public house yesterday afternoon, a 14-year-old girl sacrificed her own life to save that of a baby. Kathleen Swain, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Swain of Rupert Street, Walsall, was on an errand in Green Lane. With her she had Marie Makin, aged 15 months, also of Rupert Street. As they were passing the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, a corner public house, the top nine rows of bricks, stretching the full width of the building, crashed down together with lead beading and masonry.

It is believed that Kathleen, realising the danger, pushed Marie to the safety of the doorway of the public house, but was herself unable to get clear. When she was extricated from the debris she was unconscious and was found to be dead on arrival at Manor Hospital. Although extremely frightened, Marie was unharmed.

Police officers cordoned off the area in front of the fall because the face of the building was slightly bulging. On their advice Mrs. Dorothy Margaret Waterfield, the licensee closed three top floor bedrooms. ‘Had the fall occurred an hour earlier, the pavement would have been crowded with customers leaving the public house,’ a police spokesman said.

A Walsall Corporation double deck trolley bus had just pulled away from a boarding stop, three yards away, when the fall occurred. Passengers and bus crew helped to free the buried girl.

In recent years, Walsall Corporation has been demolishing blocks of property in the Green Lane area. The scene of the tragedy is almost surrounded by new multi-storey flats which have been built on the cleared sites.

The cause of the brickwork falling was being investigated last night. At the time of the collapse there was no wind at all.

Representatives of the brewery company, after visiting the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, decided that the public-house should not open last night.”

Ronald Levy was the brother of Edward Levy of the NAGS HEAD (BEACON WAY), Little Bloxwich.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/6/1965

“A new public house at Walsall is to be fitted with a special green copper roof so that it will not detract from the view of tenants in nearby multi-storey flats. Walsall licensing justices were told this yesterday when they granted the removal of the license of the existing CHAINMAKERS ARMS in Green Lane, Walsall, to new premises proposed for the same site.

When the chairman, Mr. K. Preston, asked whether the roof could be considered a substitute for a blue sky, Mr. J. Foster, the architect, replied, ‘The people in the flats will probably have the benefit of both.’”

Closed

Demolished

CHESTNUT

Goscote, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

It was open on 31st December 2006.

It was destroyed by fire on 1st January 2007.

Demolished

CITY SLICKER

Bradford Place, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Mike Bishop []
Craig Pinches [1991]

NOTES

It adjoined the Homebase store.

It opened in 1985.

Mike Bishop was married to June.

Sandwell Evening Mail 21/2/1991

“A Problem pub at Walsall re-opens tomorrow for over-20s with a new image as the town’s first American bar and night club. Mitchells and Butlers have spent thousands of pounds on alterations to the CITY SLICKER in Bradford Place where there have been several incidents in recent months. Tomorrow it will officially open as BRADFORD PLACE with a staff of 40 and a ban on customers under 20.

Mr. Craig Pinches, the licensee, said today, ‘In the past problems have occurred with young people drinking then getting involved in fights with the police outside.’

Security cameras have been placed inside and outside the building so that any potential difficulties can be spotted and dealt with. There will also be a guard on the car park.

Staff in the pub are learning to play musical instruments, juggle and even do simple magic tricks to help create a good atmosphere.”

CLOCKMAKERS ARMS

49, Rolling Mill Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Humphries [1871]
John West [1881] – [1894]

NOTES

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

49, Rolling Mill Street

- [1] William Humphries (24), retail brewer, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah A. Humphries (23), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah A. Dutton (17), general servant, born Bilston:

1881 Census

49, Rollingmill Street

- [1] John West (30), publican, born Pershore, Worcestershire;
- [2] Phoebe A. West (30), wife, born Pershore, Worcestershire;
- [3] Mary Hog (24), general servant, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary J. Fry (17), boarder, born Pershore, Worcestershire:

1891 Census

49, Rollingmill Street – CLOCKMAKERS ARMS

[1] John West (40), publican, born Pershore, Worcestershire;

[2] Phoebe Ann West (40), wife, born Wick, Worcestershire;

[3] Henry Solman (18), nephew, clockmaker's apprentice, born Hanley Castle, Worcestershire;

[4] Sarah Willingham (22), domestic servant, born Priestfield:

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society..... The monthly meeting of this Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. John West, the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS INN, Rolling Mill Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

“The Lottery Cases. In our issue of the 20th January in reporting some of these cases we stated that a lottery was held at the house of Mr. West, the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS, and got up by him. We now find that Mr. West was merely charged with aiding and abetting in a lottery, and that the lottery was neither got up by him nor held at his house.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday.....

In the case of John West, the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS, Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, against whom there was a conviction for aiding and abetting a lottery, the decision was reserved; as was the case of John Tolly, the STAG INN, Bell Street, Bloxwich, against whom a was a like conviction.....

The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that all the other applications would be granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held in the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. W. H. Duignan, on behalf of Mr. Thomas Fowler, applied for the removal of the license of the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS beer-house, Rollingmill Street, to premises situate at 45 and 47 Arundel Street.

Mr. Cotterell opposed on behalf of Mr. Arthur Grice, the holder of a neighbouring off beer house license at the junction of Spout Lane and Whitehall Road, and Mr. Bill opposed on behalf of Mr. Brooks, the owner of that house.

Mr. Duignan explained that the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS was licensed before 1869, and as the Bench knew it was most desirable that such houses should be got rid of, as the renewal of their licenses was altogether outside the discretion of the Bench, except in case of certain infractions of the law. If the Bench, therefore, consented to the application, they would acquire control over one more license. The Arundel Street house was rated at £25, and the application was for a beer license only. Within a radius of 183 yards of the proposed house there was no license of any description, and an utter absence of anything like a public convenience, although there were 369 houses at present, and new ones were rapidly growing up in all directions. The applicant was a man of unexceptional character.

Evidence as to the desirability of the license in the neighbourhood, was given by Messrs. George Searle, 81, Arundel Street; John Finmore, 63, Thorpe Road; Benjamin Bargess, 17, Cambridge Street, and Frank Ross, Love Lane (Edward Street); and William Sanders, 34, Thorpe Road, said that he had counted the houses within the red circle – a radius of 183 yards – shown on the map, and found there were 369 houses, and not a single public house. Fifty houses had been erected within the last twelve or eighteen months, and others were being added almost daily.

By the Chief Constable: Fowler's house was 242 yards from Grice's, 275 from the CROWN AND ANCHOR, 382 from the ROYAL OAK, 417 from the BAKERS INN, and 457 from the WHITE HART.

Thomas Fowler, the applicant, cross-examined by Mr. Herbert, said he had secured the consent of the tenant of the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS, to the transfer of the license to him. The house was not at present being used for workshops.

The Chief Constable: The house is going to be pulled down under any circumstances.

By Mr. Cotterell: He did not know how much he would have to pay for the transfer of the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS. He had been there once – two months ago. He was offering the transfer of the license although he had no agreement as to its acquisition. His present rent (paid to Mr. Thorpe) was £20, and it would be increased if he secured the license to £23.

The Clerk here intimated that of course Mr. Thorpe was not adjudicating the case.

Mr. Duignan, however, said that Mr. Thorpe had agreed to sell the property before that application was entered upon, and therefore he had now no interest in the house.

Mr. Bill and Mr. Cotterell were about to speak, but the Bench said they did not wish to hear any more opposition.....

After some twenty minutes the Bench returned, and the Clerk announced that the application of Fowler for new a license would be refused.”

COACH AND HORSES

57, Ablewell Street / Hill Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Henry Bagnall, saddler, Ablewell Street and Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.
Messrs Showell and Co, brewers, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Bout [1828] – [1830]
Joseph Freeman [1834] – [1842]
William Wright [1849] – [1850]
Joseph Henry Bagnall [1851] – [1861]
Henry Beech [1864] – [1872];
Arthur Arm [1873];
Joseph Lander [1878] – 1879);
Edward Bolwell [1881];
James Rowley [1882];
Henry Paine [];
G W Rogers [];
Thomas Toon [];
Peter Young [] – 1885);
Joseph Armishaw (1885 – 1887);
John Nuttall (1887);
George Jones (1887 – 1889);
Herbert Williams (1889 – 1890);
Vernon Perry (1890 – 1895);
Herbert Tuckley (1895);
Edward Cope Clarke (1895 – 1896);
William Lawrence (1896 – 1898);
Thomas McHugh (1898 – 1899);
Robert Oliver Walters (1899);
Charles Warley (1899 – 1901);
Herbert Kendall Hall (1901 – 1903);
James Loynes (1903 – 1905);
Benjamin Wilkes (1905 – 1906);
William Edward Dutton (1906 – []): last licensee

NOTES

It was built in 1750 on the site of John Hare's garden.

It was extended in 1832.

Walsall Free Press 8/8/1857

“Ann Tierney, a female of rather equivocal reputation, was placed in the dock charged with having uttered on the previous Monday, a base florin to Mrs. Bagnall, at the COACH AND HORSES INN, Ablewell Street, and further charged with passing another counterfeit florin on Saturday night to Mary Ann Palmer, a huckster in Dudley Street. The prisoner was remanded till Monday.”

Walsall Free Press 15/8/1857

“Ann Tierney, remanded on Monday for the production of further evidence on a charge of uttering two counterfeit florins, was again placed in the dock. Mr. Bagnall, landlord of the COACH AND HORSES INN, Ablewell Street, said on the 27th ult, the prisoner went to his bar and asked for half-a-pint of ale, in payment for which she tendered a bad two shilling piece. He acquainted her with its character, when she pleaded ignorance, and said it was all the money she had in the world. He allowed her to go, but he would not return the coin, and afterwards took it to the Police-station. Thomas Palmer, a dealer in tripe, said the prisoner went to his house on Saturday-week for two-pence worth of that article, and laid down a florin. He discovered it to be bad and took it to the Police-station. She tendered him 1s 6d, desiring him to return the florin, but he declined to do so. Police-constable Darlington took the prisoner into custody where she resided at the back of Church Street, when he charged her with the offence. She said it was all made right, for she had sent 1s 6d back. The Bench found her guilty. She was remanded for a week for the clerk to communicate with the Mint authorities.”

[Ann Tierney was acquitted at the Borough Session.]

Walsall Free Press 24/3/1860 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, in consequence of the proprietor retiring from business, that well accustomed and old licensed Inn, the COACH AND HORSES, situate in Ablewell Street.

The premises are replete with every convenience for the public business. Stock and Fixtures with part of the Furniture, to be taken at a valuation.

For particulars apply to John Osbourn, Auctioneer, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

1861 Census

57, Ablewell Street – WAGGON AND HORSES

[1] John Henry Bagnall (34), black saddler, born Walsall;

[2] Emma Bagnall (33), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Clara Povey (14), house servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1863

“Licensed Victuallers’ Association. At a meeting of this society, held last night at the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street, it was resolved that the sum of 2s 6d be presented to each of the inmates of the Walsall Alms house, to enable them to commemorate the occasion of the marriage of the Prince of Wales. We have no doubt this act of seasonal benevolence will be duly appreciated by the recipients.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/10/1864

“At Mr. H. Beeche’s, COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall, on Monday, Oct 17, a nice home-fed pig and double gun will be shot for by 15 members, at 10s each, 3 pigeons each, double guns 1oz of shot, 19 yards rise; single guns 1¼oz of shot, 21 yards rise, 80 boundary, novices allowed two yards, the winner to take the pig, 10 score weight, or £5; the next best shot to take the gun. Shooting to commence at twelve o’clock precisely. Dinner at six o’clock.”

Walsall Free Press 18/2/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a good General Servant.

Apply at the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

57, Ablewell Street – COACH AND HORSES

[1] Henry Beech (33), innkeeper, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Beech (29), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alfred Beech (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Harry Beech (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Elara L. Beech (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Lucy Oram (28), visitor, dairy maid, born Birmingham;

[7] Elizabeth Tolley (20), domestic servant, born Enderidge, Worcestershire:

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1879 - Advert

“Notice Of Removal.

THREE CUPS, Park Street, Walsall.

Mr. J. Lander (Sole proprietor of the above House) Begs to inform his friends and the public generally that he has Removed from the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street to the THREE CUPS, Park Street, where he hopes to receive a continuation of the liberal support he has had hitherto.

Wines, Spirits, and Ales, Of the finest qualities, in large or small quantities.

Families Supplied With Ales, &c.”

[The advertisement was published regularly for several months.]

1881 Census

57, Ablewell Street – COACH AND HORSES INN

[1] Edward Bolwell (48), publican, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[2] Ellen Bolwell (49), wife, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[3] William Bolwell (24), son, railway servant, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[4] Alfred Ernest Bolwell (21), son, glasscutter, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[5] Laura Bolwell (17), daughter, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[6] George Bolwell (15), son, railway clerk, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[7] Blanch A. Bolwell (11 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Henry Mold (31), son in law, brown saddler, born Walsall;

[9] Emily E. Mold (29), daughter, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[10] Edward H. V. Mold (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[11] Lilian B. Mold (7 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/11/1882

“James Rowley, COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street, was summoned for having had his house open before half-past twelve on Sunday afternoon. Detective Smith deposed that at twenty to ten o’clock he saw a girl leave the defendant’s house carrying a glass under her apron, and on examining the glass found that it contained rum. Mr. Barnes (from the office of Mr. Cotterell) called witnesses for the defence, including the girl, who stated she went to the house for brandy for her brother, who was ill, and did not know she had received rum instead. The summons was ultimately dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1887 - Advert

“Capital Club Room, for lodges, sick societies, &c. Showell’s Ales.
COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street.”

Herbert Williams was fined 20s and costs, on 25th October 1889, for serving after hours.

1891 Census

57, Ablewell Street – COACH AND HORSES

- [1] Vernon Perry (45), publican and s_____ filer, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Maria Perry (49), wife, born Staffordshire;
- [3] George F. Perry (19), metal worker, born Walsall;
- [4] Louisa Perry (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Edith Perry (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Herbert Tuckley – see also GEORGE, and SWAN.

Walsall Advertiser 20/6/1896

“Bernard Durkin (33), labourer, Intown Row, was brought up on a warrant after a summons charged with having been disorderly upon and refusing to quit the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street.

The landlord (Mr. Lawrence) said that on the 7th April prisoner came to the house. He was not drunk, but as there had previously been a row in the house with his (prisoner’s) wife he refused to serve him. Subsequently his wife came in, and he had to call Police-constable 55 (Evans) to eject them.

There were 48 previous offences, and he was now fined 10s and costs, or 14 days, to follow an unserved sentence of seven days’ hard labour.”

Charles Warley = Charles Worley

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1900

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

During the period since 30th August, 1899, five licensed victuallers have been proceeded against.....

29th August, 1900, Charles Worley, COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street, fined 40s and costs for permitting drunkenness.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

James Loynes, COACH AND HORSES.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1907

“There was a special sitting of the magistrates at the Guildhall on Thursday, to consider the confirmation of the granting, by the Licensing Committee, of a new off-license to Arthur Edward Rogers, in respect to a shop at the corner of Cambridge Street and Arundel Street.

Mr. J. R. Lawrence (instructed by Messrs. Stanley and Jackson), appeared for the applicant and Messrs. Butler and Co, and there was opposition by Mr. S. Grundy-Newman, Mr. J. Pearman-Smith, and the Revs. E. A. Frost and A. H. Lee. The Bench confirmed the decision of the Licensing Committee, subject to Messrs. Butler surrendering the licenses of the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street; the BULLS HEAD, Green Lane, and an off-license in Tantarra Street.”

The license was surrendered on the grant of an off license.

Closed

It was a lodging house by 1911.

Demolished

COACH AND HORSES

King Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Eagles [1822]
Joseph Freeman [1835]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/6/1835 - Notice

"If the Pony left at my house on the 22nd of May, 1835, is not fetched away in the space of fourteen days from the date thereof, he will be sold to defray the expense.

Joseph Freeman, COACH AND HORSES INN, King Street, Walsall, May 30, 1835."

Check Ablewell Street.

COACH AND HORSES

Lichfield Road, (Walsall Wood Road), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Blencowe and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Davis [1861]
Mary Davis [1875]
John Clews [1882] – [1888]
William Birch [1891]
William Fullelove [1900] – 1905;
Alan Fullelove (1905 – [1923])
Charles 'Charlie' Knowles [1927]
Albert Corbett [1932] ?

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It was situated opposite to the TRAVELLERS REST.

1861 Census

Walsall Wood Road – COACH & HORSES

- [1] Thomas Davis (51), publican and brickmaker, born Lichfield;
- [2] Mary Davis (49), wife, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Ellen Davis (17), daughter, brickyard labourer, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Thomas Davis (13), son, brickyard labourer, born Walsall Wood;

- [5] Mary Davis (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall Wood;
[6] James Proffitt (47), lodger, brickmaker, born Stonnall, Staffordshire;
[7] Joseph Tighmont (33), lodger, brickyard labourer, born Broomsgrove, Worcestershire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1875

“Mary Davis, of the COACH AND HORSES, Walsall Wood, was summoned at the instance of Mr. J. G. Horder, inspector for the district, for having sold ale adulterated with salt. Mr. Sproston (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Williams) appeared for the defence. The ale was purchased at the defendant’s house, for the purpose of analysis by Samuel Toy, who handed it to Mr. Horder, by whom it was transferred to Mr. Scott, the county analyst. The later gentleman’s certificate showed that ale contained salt to the extent of 116 grains to the gallon. The Bench imposed a fine of 5s and costs, at the same time intimating that they should have dealt more severely with the defendant if the ale as adulterated was injurious to health.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1882

“John Clews, landlord of the COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood, was summoned for having permitted drunkenness in his house. Police-constable Aldritt stated that at half-past seven on the night of the 11th inst. he saw two men named Mathew Loftus and Thomas Roshford leave the defendant’s house drunk and create a disturbance in the street, on going into the house he saw two other men named William Bowen and Michael Fitzpatrick also drunk. He then went away, and on returning at ten minutes past eight found them still there with a pint jug before them half full of ale. The defendant was fined 2s 6d and costs, 11s 6d.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/8/1888

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, William Reynolds, Tantarra Street, and William Cox, Bernard Street, Walsall, two youths, were convicted of stealing a lark, the property of John Clews, the COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood, and were fined 2s 6d each and costs (9s).”

1891 Census

Walsall Road – COACH AND HORSES

- [1] William Birch (36), coal miner, born Walsall Wood;
[2] Ellen Birch (39), wife, born Walsall;
[3] William Lane (11), nephew, scholar, born Walsall Wood;
[4] Joseph Morris (40), lodger, coal miner, born Sodom, Staffordshire;
[5] William Cresswell (39), lodger, coal miner, born Walsall Wood;
[6] Ann Pinches (16), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning. The magistrates present were Messrs. F. James, W. H. Brookes and J. Naylor.

Superintendent Barnett opposed the renewal of the licenses of the following beerhouses.....

COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood, in consequence of the premises being insufficiently defined the police required certain alterations deferred until the Adjourned Sessions, and then, if the alterations had been effected, the license would be renewed.”

Walsall Observer 15/9/1900

“The annual supper was held at the COACH AND HORSES INN, on Monday, September 3rd, in connection with the Lodge No.18 of the Pelsall and District Miners’ Association, when between 40 and 50 members and friends sat down to an excellent repast served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Fullelove in their usual manner.....”

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – COACH AND HORSES

- [1] William Fullelove (55), coal miner, born Whitwick, Leicestershire;
[2] Elizabeth Fullelove (48), wife, born Brownhills;
[3] Florrie Fullelove (19), daughter, born Brownhills;
[4] John Fullelove (21), son, labourer, born Brownhills;
[5] Clara Fullelove (15), daughter, born Brownhills;
[6] Eva Fullelove (12), daughter, born Brownhills;
[7] William R. Fullelove (10), son, born Brownhills:

Alan Fullelove = Allen Fullelove

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Members..... Allan Fullelove, COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1907

“The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall county division were held on Monday.....

Mr. S. E. Loxton applied on behalf of Mr. Allan Fullelove, COACH AND HORSES, Walsall Wood, for sanction to make a few alterations, which were really very minor. They wished to block up one doorway so as to make only two means of ingress – one to the private part and the other to the licensed part, and to take down a partition wall and make one large room. There would be absolutely no increase in the drinking area or licensed area. They had already put up a fence for police requirements. Plans were put in, and no objection was offered the application was granted subject to iron fencing replacing a hedge to enclose the premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/12/1908

“A commission agent named William Hathaway (40), of Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, was placed in the dock at Rushall Police Court on Monday, charged with stealing two rabbits, value 2s, the property of Patrick O’Neil, fishmonger and rabbit dealer, of Rushall Street, Walsall. Charles Smart, an employee, said he left his horse and wagon outside the COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood. After being inside a short time, Samuel Bloomer, who was also employed by Mr. O’Neil, brought him two rabbits, and from what he (Bloomer) said to him he followed prisoner to the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, but he refused to say anything and went away.

Samuel Bloomer said he was returning home with a horse and wagon, and when nearing the COACH AND HORSES INN saw prisoner take the rabbits from his (witness’s) fellow employee’s cart. He chased prisoner and snatched the rabbits off him. Police-constable Grindley deposed to arresting the prisoner on the 29th ult, and in reply to the charge he said he bought the rabbits for 6d off a tramp he did not know. He was drunk at the time.

Prisoner was fined 25s including costs, of 14 days’ imprisonment in default.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/11/1914

“Allen Fullelove, licensee of the COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood, was summoned for carrying out alterations to his licensed premises without the authority of the licensing justices. It was stated that the property had been knocked down and another building erected. Mr. C. Loxton, for the defence, pointed out that the alteration improved the domestic arrangements and did not increase the drinking area. Regret was expressed for what was described as an error of judgement. The magistrates allowed the case to be withdrawn on the understanding that the owners of the house, Messrs. Blencowe, of Cannock, should pay £25 to the county section of the Prince of Wales’s Fund.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1923

“Wm. Baker, 48, of no fixed abode, but said to be a native of London, was charged on remand with stealing 4s belonging to A. Fullelove, licensee of the COACH AND HORSES INN, Walsall Wood, on Aug. 10. At the previous hearing the prosecutor stated after he had served the accused he went to another part of the house, and on returning found that the money was missing. The defendant who admitted taking 2s only, told the magistrates that it was his first offence, and that he had yielded to sudden temptation. Inspector Willis now stated that inquiries showed the man had a bad record. He had served sentences for six months for indecent assault and three months for indecent behaviour in other parts of the country. On Aug. 8 he was arrested at Stone on a charge of stealing 6d, but he then told the magistrates the same story about its being his first offence, and he was given only one day’s imprisonment. Each of the three convictions had been in different names. Asked if this record was correct, Baker replied that it was, ‘more’s the pity.’ Sentence of one month’s imprisonment was passed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....
Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....
On the ground of redundancy.....
COACH AND HORSES, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1927

“Notice Of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.
Notice is hereby given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday, the 19th day of July, 1927, at 11 o’clock am.
And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licences of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District).
List of Licensed Premises.....
COACH AND HORSES, Walsall Wood. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee Charlie Knowles.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/7/1927

“.....at the principal meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Compensation Authority held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....
Opposing the closing of the COACH AND HORSES Walsall Wood, Mr. Jackson handed a photograph of the house to Police Inspector Clarke, and asked him if it was not a good photograph of the premises.

Inspector Clarke: Yes, but it flatters it. (Laughter.)

Mr. Jackson: They usually do. When we have our photograph taken we expect to be flattered. (Laughter.)

Mr. Jackson said the trouble today was that if they closed a public house a club was usually opened, and he understood that in this neighbourhood clubs were increasing.

The Chairman: If we carried out your contention to the logical conclusion, we should never close a house.

Mr. Jackson: If we could close clubs in the same ratio I should be with you every time.

The Bench refused to grant the renewal of the licence.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/1/1928

“At the meeting of the Compensation Authority held on July 19, the Committee refused 13 out of 16 licenses referred to them. At the Supplemental Meeting the Committee fixed the compensation of the undermentioned cases as follows.....

COACH AND HORSES, Walsall Wood, beerhouse ante-1869. £1,300.

In all the before-mentioned cases the money had been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and would be paid on 24th December instant.”

Closed

Demolished

COACHMAKERS ARMS

135, (134), Bridgeman Street / Augustus Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Boys, timber merchant, Bridgeman Street, Walsall

Benjamin Williams, retail brewer, Walsall

Eliza Williams, widow

William Butler and Co. Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Oron Lunn [1871] – [1872];

Emanuel Benjamin Scott [1881]

David Taylor Lancaster [];

Mrs. Eliza Wilkes [1891] – 1907);

Mrs. Ellen Smith (1907 – 1923);

Matthew Tolley (1923 – 1924);

Arthur Morris (1924 – 1926);

Arthur Cyril Ward (1926 – 1929);

Lucy Marguerite Ward (1929 – []

Bert Benton [1935] – 1944);

Daniel Simcox (1944 – 1949);

William Boys [1947] ?

George Henry Williams (1949 – 1952);

Frank Baden Cartwright (1952);

Alice Maud Cartwright (1952 – 1966);

NOTES

134+135, Bridgeman Street [1871], [1891], [1901]

134, Bridgeman Street [1881]

135, Bridgeman Street [1912], [1939], [1940]

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Tokens were issued from here.

1871 Census

134 and 135, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Oron Lunn (44), publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] William Lunn (14), son, brass dresser, born Darlaston;
- [3] Emma Tolly (40), housekeeper, born Tipton;
- [4] Emma Gelding (14), general servant, born West Bromwich:

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1881 Census

134, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Emanuel B. Scott (32), caster, born Walsall;
 - [2] Roseannah Scott (34), wife, born Birmingham;
 - [3] Claude Samuel Scott (4), son, born Walsall;
 - [4] Pauline E. Scott (6), daughter;
 - [5] Mabel M. Scott (2), daughter;
 - [6] Rose Amy Scott (6 months), daughter;
 - [7] Mary Webster (18), domestic servant, born Scotland:
- [No birthplace was given for 4-6, but probably born in Walsall.]

Emanuel B. Scott – see also BRIDLECUTTERS ARMS.

Eliza Wilkes = Elizabeth Wilks

1891 Census

134+135, Bridgeman Street – COACHMAKERS ARMS

- [1] Elizabeth Wilks (50), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary A. Vaughan (74), widow, mother, born Walsall;
- [3] Susannah King (22), general servant, born Walsall:

Mrs. Eliza Wilkes, beer retailer, 135, Bridgeman Street. [1896], [1900], [1904]

1901 Census

134+135, Bridgeman Street – Tavern

- [1] Eliza Wilkes (60), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Nellie Vaughan (25), niece, barmaid, born Walsall:

Eliza Wilkes was fined 40s and costs, on 24th July 1906, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

Black List..... Eliza Wilkes, COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street, who had been convicted during the year, was cautioned, and the renewal of the license postponed.”

London Gazette 16/4/1907

“Re Eliza Wilkes, Deceased.....

Notice is hereby given, that all creditors and other persons having any claims or demands against the estate of Eliza Wilkes, late of the COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Widow, deceased, who died on the 21st day of March, 1907, and to whose real and personal estate letters of administration were granted by the Lichfield District Registry of the Probate Division of His Majesty’s High Court of Justice, on the 11th day of April, 1907, to Ellen Smith (wife of Joseph Smith), of the COACHMAKERS ARMS aforesaid, are hereby required to send particulars, in writing, of their claims to us, the undersigned, the Solicitors for the said Ellen Smith, on or before the 11th day of May, 1907, at the undermentioned address, after which date the said Ellen Smith, the administratrix, will proceed to distribute the assets of the said Eliza Wilkes, deceased, amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims or demands of which she shall then have had notice; and the said Ellen Smith will not be liable for the assets of the said Eliza Wilkes, deceased, or any part thereof, so distributed, to any person or persons of whose claims or demands she shall not then have had notice.

Dated this 13th day of April, 1907.

John N. and E. A. Cotterell, Court-chambers, 150, Lichfield Street, Solicitors for the said Administratrix.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1907

“Applications for the transfer of licenses were granted as follows Beer retailers (on).....

COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street, Ellen Smith (administratrix of the estate of Eliza Wilkes, deceased), to Ellen Smith.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/1/1911

“James Perry (21), labourer, of 4, Moat Road, was charged with stealing one sovereign, the property of George Fencott, on January 12.

The case was adjourned from January 13 for further evidence.

Prosecutor alleged at the first hearing that the prisoner had snatched the sovereign from his hand while they were sitting together in the COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street. The sovereign was picked up at the bar the next morning by the landlord.

Aden Eaton now stated that he saw the prisoner snatch at the coin, but what became of it he did not know. The prosecutor afterwards complained that the prisoner had stolen the sovereign.

Prisoner emphatically denied the theft, and called Sydney Osborne, who stated that he never saw him snatch at the coin. Witness stated that Fencott had been 'flashing' the sovereign about the whole of the evening.

Fined 10s and costs, or ten days."

1911 Census

134, Bridgeman Street

[1] Joseph Smith (36), currier, born Penkridge;

[2] Ellen Smith (34), wife, married 7 years, born Walsall;

[2] Dora Smith (7), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Nelly Smith (2½), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Phylis Smith (9 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Jane Davis (16), servant, born Walsall:

Mrs. Ellen Smith, beer retailer, 135, Bridgeman Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street. £1 2s 8½d."

Closed

It was rebuilt in 1936.

A full license was transferred in 1936 from the JUNCTION.

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1936

"Walsall Licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

The removal of the license of the JUNCTION INN, Bridgeman Street to the COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street, was sanctioned. Mr. F. Cooper, who made the application, said the net result would be that one licensed house would be closed without compensation being paid."

1939 Register

135, Bridgeman Street

[1] Bert Benton, date of birth 1/3/1898, publican, married;

[2] Myrtle G. R. Benton, dob 21/6/1897, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Mavis M. (Benton) Clay, dob 16/2/1930, at school, single;

[4] Jane Kinson, dob 9/9/1854, unpaid domestic duties, widowed:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street. £3 12s 2d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street. £0 11s 3d."

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

"Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman Street, Walsall."

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 18th March 1965.

Compensation was paid and the house closed on 12th March 1966.

COALPOOL TAVERN

Coalpool Lane / Holden Crescent, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Richard Rushton (1938);
George Austin Hopkins (1938 – 1957);
Albert Daniel Peace (1957 – 1963);
Ronald William Mitford (1963);
John William Lake (1963 – 1964);
Albert John Tattam (1964 – 1965);
Harry Dobson (1965);
Abraham Tapper (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened in May 1938.
A full license was transferred from the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street.

1939 Register

Coalpool Lane – COALPOOL TAVERN (3 of 5)

- [1] George A. Hopkins, date of birth 30/10/1886, manager public house, married;
- [2] Violet N. Hopkins, dob 23/10/1891, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Edith I. (Hopkins) Elcock, dob 6/2/1921, barmaid, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
COALPOOL TAVERN, Ryecroft, £5 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund.
List of Subscriptions.....
COALPOOL TAVERN, Coalpool. £1 19s 3d.”

It had a football team which played in the Walsall Amateur Football League. [1950s]

Ronald William Mitford – see also WHITE LION.

John William Lake –see also CRITERION.

[1984]

Closed

COLLIERS ARMS

Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John James [1861]

COTTAGE

Hardern Road, Coalpool, WALSALL

OWNERS

Frank Myatt Ltd.
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Albert Edwards (1939);
John Cockbill (1939 – 1943);
Howard Freeman (1943 – 1945);
Ethel May Freeman (1945);
Edgar George Russell (1945);
Westley Richards (1945 – 1946);
Howard Smith (1946 – 1947);
Thomas Walker (1947 – 1949);
Walter Granville Baker (1949 – 1950);
William Heeley (1950 – 1960)
Derek Edward Alexander (1960 – 1962);
Harry Dobson (1962 – 1963);
Stanley Herbert Kirk (1963 – 1964);
Gerald Ernest Kibble (1964 – 1965);
Frank Austin (1965 – 1966);
Malcolm Leslie Corbett (1966 – []

NOTES

It opened at 6pm on 4th May 1939.
The license was transferred from the GREEN DRAGON, Green Lane.

Albert Edwards – see also CROWN AND CUSHION.

Walsall Observer 12/8/1939

“There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society, at the COTTAGE, Hardern Road, Coalpool, Bloxwich on Thursday.....”

John Cockbill = John Cockbell

1939 Register

Harden Road – COTTAGE

- [1] John Cockbill, date of birth 24/3/1885, public house licensee, married;
- [2] Maria Cockbill, dob 5/2/1880, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Albert S. Cockbill, dob 11/12/1914, motor fitter, single;
- [4] Harold H. Cockbill, dob 17/1/1917, carpenter, single:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the HAME MAKERS ARMS INN, Blue Lane West, on Thursday, Mr. C. W. Garfield (President) who presided made sympathetic reference to the losses the Society had suffered during the week He also referred to the loss by Mr. J. Cockbill by the death of his son. A resolution of sympathy with the respective families was passed and the company stood for a silent tribute.....”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
COTTAGE, Harden Road, £13 5s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.
Third List Of Subscriptions.....
COTTAGE INN, Harden Road, Coalport (Second donation). £5 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Cockbill, the COTTAGE, Harden. £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
COTTAGE, Harden Road, Coalpool. £45 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

Mr. Gordon Hawley appeared for the Holt Brewery Co. Ltd, Birmingham, and the licensees of the COTTAGE INN, Harden Road; RED LION, Blue Lane; CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street; PRESIDENT LINCOLN, Stafford Street; and GREEN ROCK TAVERN, Blakenall – John Cockbill, Howard Freeman, Sidney Canner, May Middleton (now of 39, Caledon Street), and Bertram Albert Stone (now of 80, Hollemeadow Avenue). Mr. Hawley said the purchase of coal at these houses had always been left to the licensees, and the brewery company would have no reason to be suspicious that the permitted amounts were being exceeded. Moreover, as far as the licensees were concerned, in all the cases except one the coal was delivered without being specifically ordered, and the trouble would have been avoided if the merchants had refused to deliver without the requisite permits, which the licensees could have obtained if they had applied for them.

Stone was fined £2, the other licensees £1 each, and the brewery company 10s in each case.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
COTTAGE, Harden Road. £1 0s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....
The chairman sympathetically referred to the death of two members of the society, Mr. William Bayliss of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, and Mr. Howard Freeman, COTTAGE INN, Coalpool.”

Walsall Observer 17/2/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....
The following were elected members of the society..... Mr. E. Russell, COTTAGE INN, Harden, Coalpool.”

Edgar George Russell – see also STARTING GATE.

Harry Dobson – see also GREEN MAN.

Stanley Herbert Kirk – see also GREEN MAN.

Frank Austin – see also GREEN MAN.

Malcolm Leslie Corbett – see also GREEN MAN.

[1980]

COTTAGE

230, Wolverhampton Road, (Park Street), (230, Park Hill), (Bentley Moor), WALSALL

OWNERS

William Taylor, tobacconist, Digbeth, Walsall [1872]
Henry Taylor, music dealer, Digbeth, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Mrs. Ann Moore [1845]
[Thomas Hedges \[1850\]](#)
Eliza Moore [] – 1857);
Edward Noble (1857 – [1861]
William Hems [1863] – [1873];
Mrs. Susannah Hems [1881];
Edward Liggins [1891] – 1916);
Martha Elizabeth Liggins (1916 – 1924);
Frank Wood (1924 – 1935);
Terence Moran (1935 – 1939); manager
Frederick Quimby (1939 – 1940);
William Edgar Stafford (1940 – 1941);
Violet Stafford (1941 – 1946);
William Edgar Stafford (1946);
Walter Charles Sharman (1946 – 1952);
William Horace Latham (1952 – 1957);
Thomas Marlow (1957 – 1965);
Arthur Middlebrook (1965 – [1966]
[Michael and Carol Wain \[1999\]](#)

NOTES

Park Street [1858]
Park Hill [1860], [1861], [1868], [1881]
Bentley Moor [1871]
230, Wolverhampton Road [1891], [1932], [1940]
230 Park Hill [1901], [1911]

It was originally the SPRING COTTAGE. [1872], [1881]
COTTAGE [1911]

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road – COTTAGE INN
[1] Edward Noble (61), victualler, born Scaleby, Cumberland;
[2] Edward N. Sepeding (22), nephew, cabinet maker, born Carlisle:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1863

“The gale of Thursday seems to have been experienced much less severely in Walsall than in many other towns in the immediate neighbourhood. Sleet and rain fell, it is true, and the wind careered along the streets with unwonted violence; but, with the exception of the displacement of a few loose tiles and chimney pots, there were, so far as we can learn, only two buildings damaged, and happily no loss of life in either case. In one a chimney fell at the house of Mr. Coxon, Hall Lane, and passed through the kitchen roof; and in the other, four chimneys were blown down at the house of Mr. Hems, the COTTAGE INN, Park Hill, in the outskirts of the town. The greater portion of the materials fell upon the roof, which was almost entirely destroyed, and descending into one of the bedrooms, carried away the floor of the room, and passed into a passage beneath.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/6/1869

“Yesterday afternoon Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the COTTAGE INN public house, Park Hill, upon the body of a child named Joseph Glover, aged 1 year and 8 months. From the evidence it appeared that on Wednesday, the 16th inst, deceased upset the contents of a pot of boiling water upon his chest and other parts of his body, and was so severely scalded that, notwithstanding Dr. Hartshill was called in, and everything done that could be devised to save his life, he expired on the following day. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

Bentley Moor – COTTAGE INN

- [1] William Hems (42), licensed victualler, born Kings Norton;
- [2] Susanna Hems (43), wife, born Kings Norton;
- [3] Ann Wilkes (18), domestic servant, born James Bridge:

Walsall Advertiser 10/7/1880 - Deaths

“On the 27th ultimo, in his 52nd year, William Hems, of the COTTAGE INN, Wolverhampton Road; well and deservedly respected by his relations and friends.”

1881 Census

Park Hill

- [1] Susannah Hems (54), widow, licensed victualler, born Kings Norton;
- [2] Ann Hems (21), niece, domestic servant, born Kings Norton:

1891 Census

230, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Edward Liggins (56), widower, licensed victualler, born Nuneaton;
- [2] Martha Swims (16), general servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1900

“Walsall Harriers Athletic Club. Cross-country running on Saturday last was out of the question, and for once the local club were somewhat lucky, the fixture being a five miles road race from Vice-President Liggin’s, the COTTAGE INN, Wolverhampton Road. Nevertheless, the wretched state of the weather greatly interfered with the ‘turn-out’, several of the members preferring to look on instead of participating. The club offered three prizes for the event, which was run on the Willenhall Road. Seven members braved the elements and were soon set on their journey, the weather being bitterly cold, and King Frost making himself keenly felt.....

After the run and the inner man had received a necessary share of attention, a smoking concert was held at the COTTAGE INN, Mr. E. Liggins being in the chair. The following programme was gone through. Song, ‘There is a flower that bloometh’, Mr. J. Glover; song, ‘The Midnight Sun’, Mr. J. T. Newton; song, ‘As your hair grows whiter’, Mr. H. Kingdom; song, ‘Too True’, Mr. J. Russell; song, ‘She wore a wreath of roses’, Mr. J. Glover. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent.”

1901 Census

230, Park Hill – Public House – COTTAGE INN

- [1] Edward Liggins (63), licensed victualler, born Nuneaton;
- [2] Martha E. Liggins (25), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Arthur G. Liggins (5), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice M. Liggins (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas H. Liggins (3), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Florence G. Liggins (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Clara B. Liggins (9 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Ann Siverns (19), general servant, born Darlaston;
- [9] Florence Siverns (17), general servant, born Darlaston:

1911 Census

230, Park Hill

- [1] Edward Liggins (74), licensed victualler, born Nuneaton;
- [2] Martha Elizabeth Liggins (35), wife, married 16 years, born Darlaston;
- [3] Arthur G. Liggins (15), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice M. Liggins (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Henry Liggins (13), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Florence Gertrude Liggins (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Clara Beatrice Liggins (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Lilian Alice Brookes (28), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

COTTAGE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall, 19s 2½d.”

Edward Liggins died on 29th June 1916.

Walsall Observer 1/7/1916 - Deaths

“On June 29th, at the COTTAGE INN, Park Hill, Edward Liggins, in his 83rd year.
His own most gracious smile shall welcome him above.”

Walsall Observer 8/7/1916 - Notice

“Re Edward Liggins, Deceased.

All Persons having any Claims against the Estate of Edward Liggins, late of the COTTAGE INN, Park Hill, Bentley, Walsall, Licensed Victualler, who died on the 29th day of June, 1916, are requested forthwith to send particulars thereof to us, the undersigned, the Solicitors for the Executors.

Dated this 7th day of July, 1916

Enoch Evans and Son, 20, Bridge Street, Walsall, Solicitors to the Executors”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
COTTAGE INN, Park Hill. £1 11s 1½d.”

Walsall Observer 4/10/1924

“At a recent gathering Mrs. M. E. Liggins, who with her late husband, Mr. Edward Liggins (prominently associated with the Walsall Football Club, as long ago as 1883), and since his death as he himself had been, associated with the management of the COTTAGE INN, Park Hill, for 40 years, take leave of a number of her friends on retiring prior to her marriage.”

Walsall Observer 15/4/1939 - In Memoriam

“Goodwin (M. E. Liggins, late of COTTAGE INN, Walsall).

In ever affectionate and loving memory of our dear Mother, who passed away three years ago.

It is not exile, rest on high,

To fall asleep is not to die.

From her Five Children.”

1939 Register

230, Wolverhampton Road

[1] Terence Moran, date of birth 21/3/1903, licensed victualler, late capstan lathe setter, married;

[2] Winifred M. Moran, dob 10/6/1900, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Eileen E. (Remo) Beeson, dob 1/6/1917, barmaid, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

COTTAGE INN, Wolverhampton Road, £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

COTTAGE, Wolverhampton Road. £0 14s 6d.”

Thomas Marlow – see also DUSTY MILLER.

Arthur Middlebrook – see also BAKERS ARMS.

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/2/1999

“Five Black Country pubs which between them have raised thousands of pounds for worthy causes are in the running for the Community Pub of the Year title. The COTTAGE in Wolverhampton Road, Walsall; the MOXLEY ARMS in High Street, Moxley; the HIGHGATE ARMS in Rowley View, Wednesbury; the ROYAL OAK in Blakenall; and the FOUNTAIN INN at Victoria Road, Quarry Bank, have all been nominated for the award.

The competition is organised by the Brewers and Licensed Retailers Association and £21,000 in prize money is on offer, which goes to charities and good causes.....

Michael and Carol Wain, licensees of the COTTAGE, raised £1,000 for cystic fibrosis research and to send a disabled boy to Disneyland Paris by staging a variety of fundraising events.

Regional judging panels will select 11 winners across the country, each of which will receive £1,000 to go to a charity or worthy cause of their choice. Regional winners will go on to a national final.”

It was refurbished in 2000.

Closed [2007], [2010]

It was converted into housing. [2011]

Check COTTAGE OF CONTENT and COTTAGE SPRING.

COTTAGE OF CONTENT

Wolverhampton Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Bridges [1851]

NOTES

Check COTTAGE or COTTAGE SPRING.

COTTAGE SPRING TAVERN

Wolverhampton Road, Park Brook, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Ricketts [1861]

NOTES

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road – COTTAGE SPRING TAVERN

- [1] John Ricketts (44), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Caroline Ricketts (42), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Ricketts (16), son, chainmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Anne Ricketts (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry Ricketts (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Frederick Ricketts (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Arthur Ricketts (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Mary Ricketts (3), daughter, born Bilston;

London Gazette 8/5/1863

“John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public-house, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public-house, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 21st day of May instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

AND

Walsall Free Press 4/7/1863 - Advert

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the matter of John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the Sounty of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, a bankrupt.

Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the court granted an Order of Discharge to the said bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.

Dated this 20th day of June, 1863.”

AND

London Gazette 14/9/1866

“John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto, of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, adjudicated bankrupt on the 6th day of May, 1863. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 25th day of September instant, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely.”

Check COTTAGE or COTTAGE OF CONTENT.

CRIMEA TAVERN

Well Lane, (1, Barracks), (135, Blakenall), (Crimea Row), (Harden), Blakenall Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Mrs. Whiteho
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.
W. Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Upton [1859] – 1888);
Arthur Breeze (1888 – 1890);
Thomas Watson (1890 – 1892);
Enoch Watson (1892 – 1898);
John Benton (1898 – 1899);
William Duce (1899 – 1901);
Sampson Brindley (1901 – 1902);
Esther Brindley [1901] ?
Richard Allen (1902 – 1904);
John Foxall (1904 – 1917);
Eliza Elizabeth Foxall (1917 – 1923);
Joseph Seagar (1923 – [])

NOTES

135, Blakenall [1871]
1, Barracks [1881], [1901]
Crimea Row
Well Lane

CRIMEAN TAVERN [1872]

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 1/10/1859

“Joseph Upton, beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich, was charged with having kept his house open during prohibited hours on the night of Monday last. The officer said on the night in question he visited the defendant's house, and heard one of the women say as he was entering, 'take the drink away.' As this was Upton's first offence, he was fined 1s and costs."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/3/1862

"T. Emery (alias Uncle) of Blakenhall will run T. Batkin Money ready any night next week at J. Upton's, CRIMEA TAVERN, Blakenhall."

Joseph Upton, beer retailer, Blakenall. [1865]

Joseph Upton, beer retailer and bit maker, Harden, Bloxwich. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

135, Blakenall – CRIMEA TAVERN

- [1] Joseph Upton (62), bit maker, born Derbyshire;
- [2] Hannah Upton (51), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] James Upton (27), son, bit maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary A. Appleby (19), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Upton (17), daughter, domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Thomas Upton (15), son, bit filer, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Walter Anderson (15), apprentice bit filer, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Rachel Upton (13), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Alfred Upton (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Ellen Upton (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Alice Upton (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [12] Emma Appleby (2), granddaughter, born Bloxwich:

Joseph Upton was fined 2s and costs on 8th October 1873.

1881 Census

1, Barracks – CRIMEA INN beerhouse

- [1] Joseph Upton (72), bit maker, employing 2 men, born Stapenall, Derbyshire;
- [2] Hannah Upton (60), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] James Upton (37), son, bit maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Alfred Upton (20), son, bit maker, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Appleby (11), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Joseph Allsopp (30), lodger, bit filer, born Tamworth:

1891 Census

1, The Barracks – CRIMEA INN

- [1] Thomas Watson (45), beerhouse keeper, born Pelsall;
- [2] Emma Watson (49), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Ellen M. Watson (21), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Emma Watson (19), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Charles H. Watson (17), son, coal miner, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Thomas Watson (15), son, labourer, born Pelsall;
- [7] Clara Watson (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich:

William Duce – see also ROYAL OAK.

1901 Census

1, Barracks – CRIMEA TAVERN

- [1] Esther Brindley (53), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Willenhall;
- [2] Samson Brindley (26), son, coal miner, born Rugeley;
- [3] Esther Brindley (19), daughter, born Chadsmoore, Staffordshire;
- [4] Isaac Brindley (13), son, born Chadsmoore, Staffordshire:

Richard Allen, beer retailer, Crimea Row, Blakenall Heath. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Richard Allen, CRIMEA."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“At the Police Court, Walsall, on Monday, George Brooks (17), 85, Blakenall Road, was summoned to answer a charge of stealing a silver watch, value 30s, the property of Agnes Allen, CRIMEA INN, Barracks Lane, on December 26.

Complainant’s statement was to the effect that she left the watch hanging upon a nail in her bedroom at about eight o’clock am, but on retiring to rest the same night missed it. The house was used by football teams, who dressed in a room next to the one from which the watch was taken. On the day in question the clubroom was engaged by the Hednesford team until about four o’clock, after which it was used by the customers of the house.

Richard Allen, miner, and landlord of the CRIMEA INN, said that from something communicated to him he, on January 18, went to Wyrley and there interviewed a man named Wilkins, and from him received a case which, by the number inside, he identified as his wife’s property. He afterwards saw defendant, who admitted the theft, but said he was tempted.

William Wilkins stated that he worked with the defendant at the Quinton Colliery. About a month ago he saw him with a silver watch case in his possession, but at his (witness’s) request he gave it to him.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) now informed the Bench that prosecutrix had not wished to appear against the defendant, but as the robbery had been reported to the police it was bound to be cleared up.

A fine of 40s and costs was imposed, or one month in default.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

John Foxall, CRIMEA, Harden.....

With respect to the CRIMEA TAVERN, Harden, Mr. Farmer was called by Mr. H. H. Jackson, and stated that the premises included four rooms on the ground floor and five bedrooms, and were worth, in his opinion £15 12s a year without a license. He valued them five years ago for the magistrates, and his valuation was the same.”

John Foxall, beer retailer, Blakenall Heath. (1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

CRIMEA TAVERN, Bloxwich. £0 4s 7½d.”

It closed in 1928.

Compensation of £1,125 was paid.

CRITERION

7, (6), Stafford Street, (347, Green Lane), (Walsall Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Hawkins, bit maker, Station Street, Walsall

Walter Showell and Co. Ltd. [1890], [1901]

Highgate Brewery (acquired in 1902)

Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 29th June 1935)

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 3rd July 1959)

LICENSEES

Robert Smith [1818] – [1822]

John Jennings [1828] – [1830]

William Stoddard [1834] – 1865;

Daniel Grove (1865 – [1870])

Henry Mills [1871]

Robert Hawkins [1872];

James Bullard [1873];

John Hawkins [] – 1873;

Frederick William Plant (1873 – [];

James Browning [];

Thomas Hall [1881] – 1888;

Mrs. Rebecca (Madeley) Atkins (1888 – 1900);

William Bertram ‘Bert’ Evans (1900 – 1901);

George Day (1901);
John Penton (1901 – 1902);
John Longford (1901 – [] manager
George Bates (1902 – 1903);
John Gibbons Hunt (1903 – 1910);
John Ford (1910 – 1913);
Harry Ernest Ballinger (1913 – 1918);
James Platt (1918 – 1922);
James Vann (1922 – 1923);
James Platt (1923 – 1930);
George Sidwell (1930 – 1931);
Joseph Patrick Jennings (1931 – 1932);
Arthur Standley (1932 – 1938);
Cyril Mottram Wakeman (1938 – 1939);
Joseph Bernard Reeves (1939 – 1943); manager
Cyril Vernon Sleigh (1943 – 1944);
Mark Astbury (1944 – 1948);
Henry Ormonde Parkes (1948);
Samuel Hands (1948 – 1950);
William John Hamilton (1950 – 1951);
Harold Waterfield (1951 – 1952);
Norman John Dearn (1952 – 1953);
David Lawrence Lewis (1953 – 1954);
Sidney Frank Strange (1954 – 1956);
John Ernest Patnell (1956 – 1957);
Leo Alphonsus Cullein (1957 – 1960);
John William Lake (1960 – 1963);
Albert Daniel Peace (1963 – 1964);
James George Hughes (1964);
John William Lake (1964 – [1966])

NOTES

7, Stafford Street [1858], [1860], [1862], [1868], [1870], [1881], [1896], [1900], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]
Walsall Street [1881]
347, Green Lane [1892]
6, Stafford Steet [1901]

It was originally the DUKE OF WELLINGTON. [1818], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1834]

Name changed to EARL GREY. [1835], [1841], [1842], [1849], [1850], [1858], [1860], [1861], [1862], [1863], [1864], [1865], [1868]

[Could William Stoddard have been a Whig supporter? – Wellington was a Tory; Charles, Earl Grey was a Whig]

It was known locally as the ‘Madhouse’.

It had a music hall attached.

1861 Census

7, Stafford Street – EARL GREY

[1] William Stoddard (61), victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Casey Stoddard (60), wife, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Stoddard, EARL GREY.”

Daniel Grove = Daniel Grover

Walsall Free Press 28/1/1865

“The following licenses were transferred.....

The EARL GREY, from the executors of the late William Stoddard to Daniel Grover.”

1871 Census

7, Stafford Street

[1] Henry Mills (42), licensed victualler and cab proprietor, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah Mills (40), wife, born Walsall;

[3] William Mills (30), son, waiter, born Walsall;

[4] Sarah J. Mills (13), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Henry Mills (9), son, born Walsall:

[Was William really 30? If he was then Henry was 12 and Sarah 10 when he was born!]

Named ROYAL ST. JAMES. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 11/1/1877 - Advert

“Barmaid. Wanted, a respectable young Person, with good character.

Apply, EARL GREY VAULTS, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

Evening Express 1/3/1881

“Stephen Harris (19), Butts Street was charged with stealing a shilling from William Sanders at the EARL GREY public house on Saturday evening last.

It appeared that the complainant dropped a shilling on the floor, which defendant picked up, and, as he alleged, passed it to another man who represented himself as the prosecutor’s friend.

The defendant having promised to pay the complainant a shilling, the case was dismissed.”

1881 Census

7, Stafford Street

[1] Thomas Hall (28), publican, born Leamington;

[2] Isabella Hall (26), wife, born Paisley, Scotland;

[3] John M. Hall (3), son, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Jane Hall (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Laura E. Hall (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Charlotte Barton (20), barmaid, born Bloxwich;

[7] Hannah Haywood (17), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

Evening Express 2/6/1881

“This (Thursday) morning an inquest was held before W. H. Phillips, Esq, (coroner), at the EARL GREY INN, Walsall Street, in this town, on the body of Mary Ann Dodd, aged two years and eleven months, daughter of Mr. William Dodd, an ironworker, of No.5 Court, Walsall Street.

It appeared from the evidence of the mother of the deceased that the child was taken unwell on the 21st of May, but after being under the care of the parish surgeon she recovered from the illness. On Monday last she was again taken ill similar to the previous attack. The mother obtained a medical relief note to enable her to get some medicine from the parish surgeon, and returned home just before one o’clock, when the child was worse, and died directly afterwards. She was satisfied that the child had not been injured, and that death was due to Natural Causes. This was her fifth child, and the only one she had lost.

A neighbour who was present at the death of the child gave evidence of the kindly manner in which the deceased had always been treated by her parents.

The Jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Hugo Young (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) applied for a music, singing, and dancing license for Mrs. Atkins, the EARL GREY, Stafford Street. He stated that the concert-room was 75ft by 21ft, and was furnished with a stage and orchestra, and that Mrs. Atkins held the property from Messrs. Showell under a fourteen years’ lease (of which twelve years were unexpired), at an annual rent of £150. She paid £1,700 for the fixtures and goodwill when she entered, and it would be very hard upon her to apply suddenly to the Walsall houses regulations which had been introduced gradually from Birmingham, and only after a number of years’ experience. Messrs. Hoyland (pawnbroker), Edwards (grocer), and Brough (musician) deposed to the good conduct of the house; and a memorial in favour of the application was offered, but not received. Granted for Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday evenings, the Sanitary Authority to inspect the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain

Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

Mr. Jackson (an adjournment being refused) withdrew an application of which notice had been given, for a singing and music license for Rebecca Atkins, the EARL GREY, Stafford Street.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/2/1891

“At Walsall. Yesterday – before Messrs. W. Bayliss, E. Bliss, and W. E. Blythe – Patrick Cullinan, ex-sergeant of the Staffordshire Constabulary, was charged with publishing defamatory libels on postcards with regard to Christopher Taylor (chief constable of the borough). Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) appeared in support of the complainant, and Mr. Ward, Dudley, for the defence.

The alleged libel was: ‘I was not surprised to hear the comments which were made by several persons at the Temperance Hall on Wednesday night last relative to the chief constable’s connection with the ‘Madhouse.’ It may be advisable, under the circumstances, to erect a fire-escape at Green Lane, similar to the one used by O’Shea’s MP, when the Fox made his exit from her arms, fearing there would be another incident at Walsall one of these nights, when the Yankee returned home. Your truly, Becca.’

Mr. Herbert in opening the case, said a public-house, the EARL GREY, was locally known as ‘The Madhouse,’ and at a public meeting held at the Temperance Hall, with reference to the issue of music licenses, observations were made with regard to this house, which was kept by a lady named Rebecca Atkins, whose husband or ex-husband was in America. The ‘C.C.’ he should ask the Court to conclude, could only refer to the chief constable, and the allusion to the ‘Fox’ was, of course, to the name assumed by a certain prominent politician, whose case had recently been before the public, the obvious imputation being that the chief constable had been guilty of improper relations with the lady named. This was false, a wicked, and he might say an infernal lie, and a wicked deformation of the character of an official of the borough. In all, three postcards, bearing the words given above, had been sent out to Alderman Holden, Alderman Newman, and the Mayor (members of the Watch Committee).

Evidence of the delivery of the first of these was then given; and Alderman Holden said in his evidence that the only conclusion he could come to when he received the postcard was that the writing upon it was an imputation upon the character of the chief constable, the words ‘The Fox’ were a mystery to him.

John Cullinan, clerk in the chief constable’s office, was called to speak to the writing being that of the prisoner. He said the latter was his father; but the prisoner declared that such was not the case, and that the young man’s name was Hanily. The witness produced a letter which he had received in October from the prisoner to show the similarity of the writing, and admitted there had been considerable angry correspondence between them, but he said that he had always borne the name Cullinan, and that when at school the prisoner wrote to him as ‘My dear son’ and subscribed himself as ‘Your father.’ He denied that he had ever spoken of himself as the ‘confidential clerk’ or ‘chief clerk’ to the ‘chief constable,’ but he admitted that his mother had been known as ‘the Yankee.’

Other witnesses were called to identify the writing and to show that the prisoner had stated that he had written to the Mayor about the chief constable; and Mr. W. Harrison, reporter, deposed as to the expressions used at the public meeting.

The other two cases were then gone into. Mr. Ward said his client had never libelled or intended to libel the chief constable, and contended that this being a criminal case, the whole libel must be strictly construed. The letters ‘C.C.’ might reasonably be construed to mean ‘confidential clerk,’ and the prisoner was entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The magistrates came to the conclusion that there was a prima facie case, and committed the accused for trial at the assizes, but consented to accept bail – himself in £50, and two sureties in £25 each.

The hearing occupied between four and five hours.”

[At the Staffordshire Spring Assizes, in March 1891, due to some technicality, the Judge discharged the jury and liberated Patrick Cullinan.]

1891 Census

7, Stafford Street – EARL GREY

- [1] Rebecca Atkins (34), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Laura Atkins (15), daughter, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;
- [3] Lillie Morris (21), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [4] Ellen Hargrove (20), domestic servant, born Rugeley;
- [5] James Allen (19), cellarman, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Plans for alterations at the EARL GRAY public house were submitted by Mr. Jackson, but he explained to the Bench that they were only in connection with the doorway. These plans were also sanctioned.”

EARL GREY P.H. and Music Hall. [1896]

William Bertram Evans was fined 5s and costs, on 21st February 1900, for supplying a constable whilst on duty.

Walsall Observer 1/9/1900

“At the Police Court, on Wednesday Rebecca Madeley, of the EARL GREY, Stafford Street was summoned for unlawfully permitting her licensed premises to be the habitual resort of immoral characters on the 8th, 11th, 17th, and 18th of August, and on the 21st and 28th July.

Mr. Dorsett (instructed by Shakespeare and Co, Birmingham) appeared to defend.

At the opening of the case, Mr. Dorsett pointed out that the summons for the 21st and 28th July were only served last night. He wanted to know what the Chief Constable was going to do.

The Chief Constable: I certainly propose going on with the case.

Mr. Dorsett: Then I oppose it.

The magistrates expressed their willingness to adjourn the summons served last night.

Some discussion then ensued, and Mr. Dorsett said it was not advisable to go into four cases now, and another on a later date.

There was no excuse for such conduct as serving the summons for the earliest dates as late as the previous night.

The Chief Constable: How does that prejudice the case?

Mr. Dorsett: I should have thought the four cases sufficient.

Mr. Jupp (one of the magistrates): I think you must leave that to the decision of the magistrates.

After some further discussion Mr. Dorsett consented to have all the cases taken on that day.

The Chief Constable (Mr. N. Roche Gardiner), said that on July 21st and 28th, and on August 4th, 6th, 11th, 15th, 17th, 18th, 20th, and 27th, he visited the EARL GREY, in company with Detectives Haycock and Burrell, and once with Sergeant Pritchard. On each occasion he saw women, who seemed to be of loose character.

In cross-examination, the Chief Constable denied that he had been to the EARL GREY 31 times; nor had he been there as often as four times a day. On one occasion there were four women in the house, on another three, and another two. At that time he did not know the character of the five women, but since then he had learnt it. He had seen the women in the music hall and the bar. He never called Mrs. Madeley's attention to anyone who was in the bar, nor made any complaint. He had not had the house open after eleven to search it. He had not ordered Mr. and Mrs. Madeley to go inside one night when they were outside at five minutes past eleven.

Mr. Dorsett: Have you been on the wrong side of the bar – by the till – ten minutes at a time?

The Chief Constable: Certainly not.

Mr. Dorsett: No relation to the till, you know, but inside the private bar – (laughter)?

The Chief Constable: Not at all. I merely walked inside.

Mr. Dorsett: After eleven o'clock, and behind the bar?

The Chief Constable: No, and all these visits were before 11 o'clock.

Detective-sergeant Haycock said that on Saturday, July 21st, he visited the EARL GREY with the Chief Constable and Detective Burrell. He there saw women of loose character – Kate Leonard, Annie Moseley, Ellen Fisher, and Elizabeth Bradbury – who were in company with men, and were about to leave the premises. On July 28th he visited the house again at 9.40pm, and saw there, loose women again – Leonard, Moseley, Fisher, and Smith. Witness was present at the door at 11 o'clock, and the women left the house at that time. On both occasions the women were in the vaults. On August 4th he saw two or three other loose characters, and a woman named Beddoes was ejected by the landlord for disorderly conduct. On August 6th he saw two women named Harvey and Smith, and on August 8th he visited the place at 7.50pm, and saw Ricketts drinking. At 9pm he again visited the place, and Ricketts was there then, and there were two other women talking to some men. On August 11th he again saw women there drinking, and on August 15th he saw Leonard, Kendrick and Harvey sitting in the music hall at 10.35pm. On August 17th, at 8.57pm, he saw Moseley, Morris and Riley in the vaults, and Kendrick and Harvey in the music hall. On August 18th, at 10.35pm, he saw a woman named Lawless with a man, and Leonard was also there. They were also there at 10.55. On August 27th he again visited the house at 8.50 and 9.40pm, but found no loose characters there. He had made twelve visits with the Chief Constable, and had seen fourteen women there who were reputed prostitutes, and in those twelve visits he had seen some of the women seven times and some five times. In cross examination, witness said that two of the women had been charged with prostitution, but one had been discharged, and the other fined 5s and costs. He had never spoken to Mrs. Madeley about them. The house had improved since the charge was taken out.

Alderman Lindop asked if he came as a stranger into the house whether he would have considered them anything but respectable women?

Witness: They are respectably dressed, but if you looked like spending anything you would not be in long before they asked you to pay for a drink.

Detective Burrell was called, and said, in reply to Mr. Dorsett, that he had never cautioned the defendant.

Police-constable Dalton stated that on August 24th he went into the EARL GREY at 9.20, and stayed until 10.50. He saw two professionals and another woman.

By Mr. Dorsett: Where do you come from?

Police-constable Dalton: Ireland.

Mr. Dorsett: Ah. I thought there wasn't much doubt about that. (Laughter) Been here since the Chief Constable came?

Police-constable Dalton: I don't know when he came.

Mr. Dorsett: How long have you been here?

Police-constable Dalton: About a fortnight.

Mr. Dorsett: Was this your first job?

No answer.

Mr. Dorsett: If you don't answer you had better go back to Ireland. – (Laughter)

No answer.

Mr. Dorsett submitted that there was no case made yet, and called the landlady, Rebecca Madeley, who said that she had occupied the EARL GREY for thirteen years, and no complaint had been made against her. She had been in the trade all her life. She had not been warned by the Chief or any constable. She conducted her house in a proper manner. She did not know that any of the women who came to her house were prostitutes. There were hundreds of women came in every year. She had never allowed people of loose character in her house, and if improper characters came she did not know them as such.

In answer to the Chief Constable, witness said that she knew that people called the EARL GREY the 'Madhouse', but it was by people who did not know how well it was carried on, and it got that name before she came to the house.

The Chief Constable: Is it not better known as the 'Madhouse' than the EARL GREY?

Witness: No! Respectable people would not call it such. She did not know that Kate Leonard was a prostitute, and did not know that she had been in gaol. She did not see the woman Fisher leave the house with one man and return with another. She was in the bar, and, if they did so, she would have seen it. She had never seen Smith there with men, and did not know her well. Witness said she did not know any of the fourteen at all well, though some of them were known to her by sight.

Re-examined by Mr. Dorsett, witness said that about 300 people came in every day, but she did not know their trades.

In answer to Dr. Lynch, witness said that she did not know that the woman Lawless was an immoral character, and that the woman Bradbury had been sent to gaol for soliciting prostitution.

By Mr. Dorsett: She had been living in a reign of terror.

Mr. Dorsett said that the case was not a prosecution, but a persecution. The prosecution had taken upon itself the responsibility of a grave charge. It would be difficult for anyone to exclude reputed prostitutes from a bar. It appeared to him that it was hard on anyone to have no notice whatever of what was hanging over them than to have the allegations laid over a long period as had been done. In this case the prosecution could bring unlimited evidence while the defendant could bring none. He pointed out that there was one great secret in this case, which was that the house had been conducted in the same way for 13 years. It was a disgrace to Walsall if it had been allowed for such a time. The witnesses and the defendant all said that defendant had never been warned all the time she had been a licensee in Walsall, and he put it that the lady would be the last person in the world to do a thing of that kind. The Chief Constable had tracked the house down and had made no secret of his intention of bowling the house out. It was noted down every time the Chief Constable came, and the total was 31, some days he came four times. He submitted that there was no case whatever. The defendant said that she did not know any of the women as prostitutes. All women were entitled to drink, but it must be that the landlady should knowingly permit them to loiter there. This the prosecution had not proved. There was no evidence that the women went there for anything else but refreshment. The police constables had done their duty, but they had brought no evidence that the women stayed any length of time, and he submitted that the persons were not there for an unreasonable time but simply for refreshments. Besides there were three hundred customers a day, that was eighteen hundred a week, and one of these women had according to the police evidence been there once a week, and another seven times in five weeks. The others had been there for shorter periods.

The magistrates after a long consultation inflicted a fine of £10 and costs, and ordered the license to be endorsed.

Mr. Dorsett gave notice of appeal, and the magistrates fixed the recognizance at £50, and a surety of £50."

[At the Licensing Sessions, held on 31st August 1900, the magistrates refused to renew the license to Rebecca Madley, and refused the music license altogether.]

Walsall Advertiser 29/9/1900

"Yesterday the adjourned Brewster session for the borough were held at the Guildhall.....

The transfer of the license of the EARL GREY INN, from Rebecca Madely to Bert Evans was confirmed."

Walsall Observer 13/10/1900

"No little excitement was caused in Walsall on Saturday night by the death of Henry Frederick Ledbrook (21), of Portland Street, Walsall. Ledbrook, it is alleged, went into the EARL GREY public house, Walsall, on Saturday night, where Josiah Smith and William Adams were together drinking. Ledbrook asked one of them for a light, and a refusal led to a dispute. After some angry words it is alleged that both Smith and Adams struck Ledbrook, who fell to the floor unconscious. He was carried into the open air, but did not recover consciousness, and on the arrival of a medical man it was found that Ledbrook was dead. Information was of course given to the police, and Sergeant Cattermole arrested Smith and Adams at the Pleck.

At the Walsall Police Court, which was crowded with spectators, who were also in great force outside, before the Mayor (Councillor Pearman-Smith), Messrs. G. Gill and J. F. Crump, Josiah Smith (26), striker, 26, Chapel Street, and William Adams (24), labourer, back of 318, Wednesbury Road, Pleck, were charged with feloniously killing Henry Frederick Ledbrook.

Mr. J. N. Citterell represented Smith, and Mr. H. H Jackson appeared for the tenant and owners of the house.

William Bert Evans, the landlord of the EARL GREY, Stafford Street, stated that on Saturday night, the 6th October, at a quarter to ten he was behind the counter of the vaults, serving customers. At that time he noticed the two prisoners enter. They were entire strangers to him, and a quarter of an hour later a man named Ledbrook came in and called for a 'lemon and a dash', and sat down on the side of the table in the vaults. He asked Smith for a light for his cigarette, and Smith pretended to light a piece of paper, but did not do so. Deceased then said that Smith was 'swanking'. Smith said, 'B ____ you, light it yourself.' Up to this Adams made no remark. The prisoners then drank up the lemonade and whisky which they had, and witness heard them say, 'Come on, let's go.' They went towards the Green Lane door, and Ledbrook was sitting on the edge of the table near the door, so that they would have to pass him to go out. Smith said, 'Take that, you b ____,' and let drive at him, striking him with his right fist on the right jaw. At the same time the prisoner Adams struck him on the other jaw with his clenched fist. Both men were in fighting attitudes, and both blows were delivered together. Four or five blows were delivered in quick succession by both prisoners. After he had received several blows Ledbrook fell on to his knees, and then on to his side. This occurred about ten minutes at most after Ledbrook came in. All these men were perfectly sober. Witness ran round to Ledbrook, and gave him some water, but he could not take it, and went black in the face. Witness and three or four more took deceased into the street, and the police were sent for. Smith and Adams ran away across the land at the back of the theatre. When witness got Ledbrook outside he was dying. The police carried Ledbrook back to the house, but he appeared to be dead. The police sent for a doctor, but when he arrived he was dead. The next time he saw the prisoners was on Sunday, when they were in custody at the police station. There were many men present, but witness identified prisoners at once. He was positive that these were the men who assaulted Ledbrook.

Mr. Cotterell said that he would reserve his cross examination, and this was agreed to by the magistrates.

The Magistrates' Clerk then said that considering the serious nature of the charge Adams ought to be defended by a solicitor. The magistrates would allow him to reserve any questions he wished to ask.

John Ricketts, 59, James Street, a private in the 3rd South Staffordshire regiment, stated that he was in the EARL GREY, and he saw the prisoners there. He only knew the prisoner Smith, whom he had seen boxing in Transfield's Circus, which used to be at the top of Park Street. Ledbrook was there also, within two yards of the prisoners. He heard no conversation between Ledbrook and the prisoners, but he saw Smith strike him on the left jaw, and then between his nose and the right eye. Deceased was rolling off the table when Adams struck him the last blow. There were only three blows struck. Adams struck him underneath the right ear. All the blows were struck with the clenched fist. He heard Adams say to Smith, 'Look out, I'll soon polish him off.' Two or three women then went at the prisoners with umbrellas, and they darted through the Green Lane entrance. When the first blow was struck he heard Smith say, 'For old time's sake, I have had it in for you a good while.' After the first blow, deceased got up, and as he was doing so Smith knocked him on to the side of the table. As he was rolling off the table Adams hit him. The landlord was behind the bar, about seven or eight yards away. There were about thirty people present. Ledbrook was making a moaning noise, and was carried outside. He was not outside long before someone said he that was dead, and he was carried into the house again. He was positive about Smith, and afterwards was quite sure of Adams also.

Alfred Swinton, caster, of James Street, Ryecroft, stated that on Saturday, the 6th inst, he went into the EARL GREY at about half past nine. He saw a man named Ledbrook enter at about 10 o'clock, and the prisoners were in at the time. Smith was sitting not a yard from Ledbrook, and struck him under the earhole. The other prisoner struck him on the eye, and raising his fist again said, 'Shift out, and I'll polish him off.' He could not say that he struck again. Deceased fell by the side of the counter, and was carried outside. He saw the prisoners at a quarter to five on Sunday morning, at the police station. He was positive about Smith, but not quite certain about Adams.

The case was here remanded until Wednesday to await the result of the inquest.

The magistrates would not consider the question of bail at this point."

[The inquest returned a verdict of manslaughter, and the two prisoners were committed for trial at Stafford on the charge of manslaughter, bail being refused.]

[At the Stafford Assizes on 4th December, 1900, the jury found both prisoners guilty, and they were sentenced to twelve months' hard labour.]

The name was changed to the KIMBERLEY RESTAURANT in December 1900.

Walsall Advertiser 8/12/1900

"Since the EARL GREY INN, Stafford Street, changed its name to the KIMBERLEY RESTAURANT, it has also been undergoing a change internally to make the place conform to the title, and it is to be opened to the public on Monday as a restaurant. The large room which served as a music hall has been fitted up as a dining hall, for which it is most admirably adapted; and it will seat some 80 people in comfort. Yesterday noon a sort of sampling dinner was given, to which about a score gentlemen were invited. The dinners are to be served at the modest figure of fourpence a time – a cut from a hot joint, two vegetables, and bread – on similar lines to the restaurant Sir Thomas Lipton opened in London last spring, to which it will be remembered the Prince of Wales paid a surprise visit; and the fourpennyworth which the guests partook of yesterday was a good, square meal, which would well satisfy the average appetite. It was also served up admirably, and the whole place has been thoroughly equipped for the business, which is to be commenced on Monday, and for which there will no doubt be a large call in such a busy centre as Walsall. After dinner yesterday Mr. Twyford, of Birmingham, who occupied the chair, proposed 'Success to the KIMBERLEY RESTAURANT' in appropriate terms, and the toast was acknowledged by Mr. Bert Evans, the genial host – a gentleman, by the way, who is well known in Variety circles as a champion trick shooter, &c."

1901 Census

6, Stafford Street

- [1] William B. Evans (49), publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Lucy Evans (36), wife, born Ludlow;
- [3] Beatie Evans (21), daughter, barmaid, born Ledbury, Herefordshire;
- [4] Gerty Evans (17), daughter, barmaid, born Kidderminster;
- [5] Alice Evans (16), daughter, barmaid, born Swansea;
- [6] Jenny Evans (10), daughter, born Ireland;
- [7] Dorothy Evans (7), daughter, born Kidderminster;
- [8] Bertie Evans (12), son, born Wem. Shropshire;
- [9] Reginald Evans (2 months), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Harriet Lucas (70), mother in law, widow, born Bromford, Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

"The Streets Committee..... The following plans have, during the past month, been approved, subject to the usual conditions..... Showell's Brewery Company, limited alteration to the KIMBERLEY RESTAURANT, Stafford Street."

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

"The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Black List. The Chief Constable opposed the renewal of the license of the KIMBERLEY RESTAURANT, against the tenant of which here had been a conviction. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) appeared for the owners (Messrs. Showell) and for the present licensee (George Day).

Mr. Jackson said the only objection to the renewal was that on Dec. 21st, 1900, William Bert Evans was convicted and fined 5s and costs for supplying drink to a police-constable. Since the conviction the house had changed hands and had been properly conducted, and to the satisfaction of the police. He remarked that the magistrates could not have thought seriously of the offence, or they would have imposed a heavier penalty, and he would now therefore ask that the license should be renewed.

The Chief Constable said he did not press his objection.

The Mayor intimated that decision would be reversed. Renewed.”

The name was changed to CRITERION VAULTS in 1901.

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1901

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New members..... Mr. John Penton, CRITERION VAULTS, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1903

“To-day was the adjourned transfer day. Transfers of full licenses were granted in the case of.....

The temporary authority of John Gibbons Hunt, of the CRITERION, Stafford Street, was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

The CRITERION, Stafford Street. 4s 9d.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1904

“Walsall & District Air-Gun League. Hospital Cup & Medals.

The concluding draw, to be shot on Tuesday next, the 21st inst, at the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane, is as under:

1. VOLUNTEER or KING WILLIAM v GOLDEN EAGLE.

2. NEWPORT No.1 or CRITERION v CROWN or Leamore.

Final. Winner of No.2 v Winner of No.1.

The first team to have choice of shooting. The first match to commence at 8pm sharp, the second at 8.45, final at 9.45. Individuals to immediately follow.”

Cyril Mottram Wakeman was born on 27th June, 1904.

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

“Walsall Air-Gun League.

The first annual meeting of the above was held at the CRITERION, Stafford Street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. H. Smallwood presided, and there was also present Messrs. Hicken (EAGLE), G. Smith (OLD KINGS ARMS), Powell (TANNERS ARMS), E. James (PLUMBERS ARMS), McDonald (CRITERION), Cliffe (GOLDEN EAGLE), Hunt, E. Towe (treasurer), and Mason (secretary).....

The undermentioned clubs with power to add to their number, were elected to the League for the forthcoming season: The WHITE HART (Walhouse Street), TANNERS ARMS, OLD KINGS ARMS, EAGLE, PLUMBERS ARMS, CRITERION, GOLDEN EAGLE, LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, OAK, and DUKE OF YORK.

There was no other business of public interest.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“There was a large attendance of those interested in air-gun shooting at the CRITERION HOTEL, Stafford Street, on Monday evening, when the final shoot for the ‘Hospital’ and ‘R. A. Cooper’ Cups took place. With the formation of the Walsall Air-Gun League it was felt that through it some benefit could be conferred upon the Walsall Hospital, and eventually a handsome cup was offered for competition, and the proceeds derived from the meetings of the respective clubs given to the Hospital. So far £29 had been handed over to the treasurer of the institution by the Air-Gun Executive, which should be largely augmented this year. The final was between those old rivals, NEWPORT ARMS and WALSALL ARMS, and, as expected, the shooting was of a high-class order. In the end the cup went to the WALSALL ARMS team for the second time. It will be remembered that the WALSALL ARMS won the Cup outright but returned it to the Executive of the League, and it now forms the basis of an annual competition for the benefit of the Hospital.

Mr. F. J. Cotterell, chairman of the Hospital was in the chair, and supporting him were Mr. E. Hall (president), Mr. T. A. Sadler (honorary secretary), Mr. R. E. Ledbury, &c.”

1911 Census

7, Stafford Street

[1] John Ford (30), public house manager, born Birmingham;

[2] Edith Ford (30), wife, married 2 years, public house manageress, born Oldbury;

[3] Doris Ford (15 months), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Florence Taplin (20), general servant, born Oldbury;
[5] Charles Blockwood (18), potman, born Walsall:

Harry Ernest Ballinger – see also BROWN LION.

‘Walsall Pubs : A History’ by John Cockayne

“The CRITERION in Stafford Street was known familiarly as the ‘Blood Bath’ or ‘Mad House’ for the heated political arguments that took place here had access from both Green Lane and Stafford Street The bar was 67’ 8” long, it had two snug bars, two club rooms and a Smoke room.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917. . . . The CRITERION, Stafford Street. £1 6s 11½d.”

Walsall Observer 8/3/1924

“Many new members were enrolled at a meeting of the newly formed Walsall and District Roller Canary Club, which was held at the CRITERION HOTEL on Monday.”

Cyril M. Wakeman married Selina H. Wall in September 1928.

1939 Register

7, Stafford Street

[1] Joseph Bernard Reeves, date of birth 23/9/1889, public house manager, married, Walsall Special Constable;

[2] Alice M. Reeves, dob 7/6/1879, public house manageress, unpaid duties, married:

Arthur Standley – see also ENGINE.

Cyril Mottram Wakeman – see also BIRCHILLS TAVERN.

Walsall Observer 18/3/1944

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held at the CRITERION HOTEL, Stafford Street, Walsall. Mr. C. W. Garfield (president) occupied the chair, and Mr. T. Hawkins (vice-president) the vice-chair. The President made sympathetic reference to the sudden death of the Magistrates’ Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton), and as a mark of respect the members stood for a short time in silence. Sympathy was also expressed with Mr. James Bird and his wife and Mrs. Garfield in their illnesses. Mr. George Peach, KINGS HEAD, Stafford Street, Willenhall, and Mr. Sidney Wood, of the NEW INN, Walsall Street, Willenhall, were elected members of the committee. Mr. Herbert Dallow, of the OLD CROWN INN, Willenhall, was elected a member of the society. A message was read from Mr. M. F. Harrison, secretary, expressing his thanks and greetings for the kind wishes extended to him on the occasion of his 85th birthday. The arrangements made for the forthcoming charity ball on Friday May 19, were reported. The society is arranging to co-operate with the appeal of the Mayor in aid of the Red Cross and St. John Staffordshire appeal, and a box collection will shortly be made. The next meeting will be at the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, on April 13.”

Cyril Vernon Sleigh – see also BUILDERS ARMS.

Albert Daniel Peace – see also PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

Cyril M. Wakeman married Ivy A. Jones in June 1972.

It closed on 2nd January 1980.

Demolished

Cyril Mottram Wakeman died in July 1988.

CROSS GUNS

Little Street , Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Holder [1865] – [1869]

NOTES

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

Birmingham Gazette 14/7/1865

“Before Messrs. Thos. Hazledine and H. Highway, John Holder landlord of the CROSS GUNS beer house, Birchills, was fined 10s and costs, for having had his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday last. There had been several complaints of his harbouring working men on Sundays.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/7/1869

“John Holder, landlord of the CROSS GUNS beerhouse, Little Street, Birchills, who had been previously convicted, was sentenced to pay a fine of 15s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. Holder, landlord of the CROSS GUNS beer-house, Little Street, Birchills, whose license had been refused because he had been convicted of keeping open during prohibited hours. Application refused.”

CROSS GUNS

Bloxwich Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joshua Hope [1851] – [1855]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/1/1855

“Patriotic Fund – Willenhall. Third List.
Joshua Hope, CROSS GUNS. 2s 6d.”

Check Wednesfield.

CROSS KEYS

114, (173), Blue Lane West, WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Cooper, Blue Lane, Walsall
Mr. Weaver, South Street, Walsall
Thomas Banks and Co. Ltd, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

John Critchlow [1858]

Edward Moore [1860] – [1861]
William Russell [1864] – [1865]
David Cooper [1868] – [1870]
Enoch Scott [1870] – [1872]
John Arnold [] – 1872);
John Carswell (1872 – []);
Edward Darby [1876] – [1877];
William Russell [1880] manager?
James Swinbrook [1881];
William Dabbs [];
John Sargent [] – 1887);
Job Bagby (1887 – 1889);
Thomas Powell [1904]
W H Clark [1909]

NOTES

173, Blue Lane West [1861], [1864], [1865]
114, Blue Lane [1872]
114, Blue Lane West [1868], [1869], [1881], [1904]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Critchlow, beerhouse, 173, Blue Lane. [1858]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.....
E. Moore, Blue Lane. Refused.”

Edward Moore, beer retailer, Blue Lane West. [1861]

1861 Census

173, Blue Lane West
[1] Edward Moore (39), victualler, born Libley North, Shropshire;
[2] Lina Moore (34), wife, born Land Biston [Llanbister?], Radnorshire:

William Russell, beer retailer and chainmaker, 173, Blue Lane West. [1864], [1865]

David Cooper, beer retailer, 114, Blue Lane West. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 9/1/1869 - Advert

“To Be Let, an Old-established Beerhouse, No.114 Blue Lane West, Walsall; changed hands once in 29 years.
Enquire, 116 Blue Lane.”

David Cooper and Enoch Scott were both listed in the same directory as beer retailer, 114, Blue Lane West. [1870]

The licensee was fined 20s and costs, on 9th December 1872, for Sunday trading.

Sporting Life 29/1/1876

“Birmingham and District. Royal Oak Grounds, Burnt Tree.

Mr. Nuttall, the proprietor, will give £10 for an all-England dog handicap, distance 200 yards, on Saturday and Monday, February 5 and 7; first prize £7; second prize £2; third prize £1. Entrance 1s each. Entrance to close on February 1. Entrance to be made at Mr. E. Darby's, CROSS KEYS, Blue Lane, Walsall; Mr. E. Noble's, DOCK INN, Dock Lane, Dudley; Mr. I. Baker's, innkeeper, Westbromwich; Mr. W. Taylor's, Dudley; or at Mr. Samuel Burrows's, SEVEN STARS INN, Bilston. Conditions as usual. Admission to the grounds, 6d each.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/2/1877

“Mr. Nuttall will give £10 to be run for in an all-England dog handicap, distance 200 yards, for dogs of all weights, on be run on Mondays, February 12 and 19 – first prize £8; second £1 10s; third 10s. Entrance 1s each; no acceptance. Entrances to be sent not later than Wednesday, February 7 (Thursday morning's post in time), to be made at the grounds; Mr. Rickbury, Old Plough, Suffolk Street, Birmingham; Mr. Bradley, ALBION INN, Oldbury; Mr. Fairn, RAILWAY INN, Wednesbury; Mr. Brindley, COCK INN, Willenhall; Mr. Stevens, RAILWAY INN, Walbrook; Darby Tom, 29, New Cross Street, Tipton; Mr. E. Darby, CROSS KEYS INN, Walsall, or Mr. Parsons, FOX AND GOOSE INN, Darby End. Conditions as usual.”

Sporting Life 6/10/1877

“Royal Oak Recreation Grounds, Burnt Tree.

Mr. T. Walker, of Burnt Tree, and Mr. W. Taylor will give £6 10s to be run for on Mondays, October 15 and 22 – first prize £5, second £1, third 10s; entrance 1s each, and no acceptance. Entrances to be made not later than Tuesday, October 9, at the grounds, or at.....

Mr. E. Darby's, CROSS KEYS INN, Blue Lane, Walsall.”

William Russell was also a chainmaker. [1880]

1881 Census

114, Blue Lane West – CROSS KEYS

[1] James Swinbrook (45), publican, born Whitmore, Staffordshire;

[2] Rosannah Swinbrook (43), wife, born Walsall;

[3] John Swinbrook (71), father, commission agent, born Cheswardine, Shropshire;

[4] Hannah Butcher (15), niece, dress maker, born Walsall;

[5] Ann Wheeler (13), adopted child, domestic servant, born Walsall:

John Sargent was fined 20s and costs, on 12th September 1883.

Job Bagby = Job Bagley

Job Bagby was fined 20s and costs, on 21st May 1888, for being open at 12.15 at night.

He was fined 10s and costs, on 8th February 1889, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1889

“The adjourned licensing day, which was held at the Guildhall, on Monday [23/9], had been looked forward to with considerable interest on account of the large number of objections to the renewal of licenses made by the Chief Constable. All the houses objected to, something like 162, had been visited by the Magistrates, and in the vast majority of cases the structural alterations required by the Chief Constable had been made, hence the objections were withdrawn. Others persisted in, however, with the result that the bench refused to renew the licenses of five houses, these being, the SHAKESPEARE, Peel Street; the UNION, Ryecroft; the BARLEY MOW, Church Hill; the PEOPLE'S MUSIC HALL, High Street; and the CROSS KEYS, Blue Lane. There is a very angry feeling on the part of the publicans at this result, and notice of appeal has been given in each case. As the matter will be brought for decision before the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, I will refrain from commenting on it.”

The license was withdrawn in 1889.

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The annual licensing sessions for Walsall borough were held yesterday.....

Mr. Lawrence applied for a license to Job Bagby for the CROSS KEYS, and stated that the license was taken from the house last year, in consequence of the present applicant having been convicted. On appeal the decision of the Bench was upheld, but costs were not given. He urged that that showed that the charges against applicant were not thought serious, and the year's suspension of business was sufficient punishment. Evidence of character was given for applicant, and by Detective-sergeant Cliffe that the house was not wanted. The application was refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1890

“The adjourned licensing session was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. Whitehouse, in the absence of Mr. Lawrence, applied for an out-door license for the house formerly known as the CROSS KEYS INN, but now 114, Blue Lane West, the license having been withdrawn twelve months ago, and the withdrawal having been sustained on appeal. He said it was a very hard case for the occupier, Job Bagley, who when he went into the house a short time before the license was withdrawn undertook to pay £130. The Mayor said the magistrates thought they would only be doing justice to the applicant by granting the license. They would therefore do so.”

Job Bagby, beer retailer, 114, Blue Lane West. [1896]

Thomas Powell, beer retailer, 114, Blue Lane West, and 71, Hatherton Street. [1904]

[1911]

CROSS KEYS

Wisemore Street, (14, Wisemore), WALSALL

OWNERS

Nicholas Roper, Lichfield Street, Walsall
Mrs. Susan Roper [1904]
Frank Myatt Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Isaac Falconer [1859]
George Browning [1861]
John Masters (1863 – [])
Luke Riley [1867]
James Sharpe [1871] – [1872];
John MacNolty [1877] – [1886];
P M Naughton [] – 1887);
Bridget Ann McNally (1887 – 1889);
Moses Lawton (1889 – 1891);
Christopher Firbank (1891 – 1893);
Moses Lawton (1893 – 1897);
Mrs. Christina Lawton (1897 – 1900);
Henry John ‘Harry’ Birkin (1900 – 1909);

NOTES

14, Wisemore [1861], [1871], [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 3/9/1859

“Isaac Falconer, landlord of the CROSS KEYS beerhouse, Wisemore, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of beer after eleven o’clock on the night of the 23rd inst. Police-constable Hunt said he visited the house of the defendant at about twenty minutes to twelve, and found two men in the house, and two cups upon the table with liquor in them. Mrs. Falconer, who appeared for her husband, said one of the men seen by the officer was her brother, and the other was the brewer who was getting some barm. As this was Mr. Falconer’s first offence, the case was dismissed. Mr. Falconer was then charged by the same officer with having his house open, at the same hour, on the following evening. The officer said about twenty minutes to twelve on the night of the 24th, he again visited the house of the defendant, and found four men in the house, while on the table there was a bottle and a glass containing liquor. Mrs. Falconer said the parties were some friends from Wolverhampton, who were having supper with them (Mr. and Mrs. Falconer). The defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of 20s and costs.”

1861 Census

14, Wisemore – CROSS KEYS

- [1] George Browning (45), beerhouse keeper, born Shadford, Suffolk;
- [2] Henrietta Browning (54), wife, born Perry Barr;
- [3] Elizabeth Stanley (20), daughter in law, born Walsall;
- [4] Simona Robinson (19), house servant, born Gnossall, Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 28/2/1863

“John Masters, landlord of the CROSS KEYS beerhouse, Wisemore, was charged with having, on Sunday last, had his house open for the sale of beer. Defendant admitted the charge; but stated that, as he had only been a few days in business, he was not, at the time, fully aware of the law upon the subject. Cautioned and discharged.”

Walsall Free Press 23/2/1867

“Luke Riley, landlord of the CROSS KEYS beer house, Wisemore was fined 2s 6d and costs for having, at half-past four o’clock, on Sunday afternoon last, permitted beer to be consumed on his premises, at which time Sergeant Ogden and Police Constable Lakin found in the back room three men and two women drinking.”

Walsall Free Press 30/3/1867

“Catherine Hurley and Michael Ford were charged with having, on the 17th inst, [a Sunday] assaulted Joseph Mosedale, for whom Mr. Glover appeared.

The evidence showed that, about five o'clock on the afternoon in question, complainant was drunk in the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, where the defendants, it being St. Patrick's Day, were 'drowning the shamrock'. Murphy and his forthcoming lectures formed the topic of conversation, which became very animated, and ultimately ended, as all such discussions usually do, in an angry dispute. Complainant, being a staunch defender of Murphy and the liberty of speech, denounced the priests in language not at all calculated to soothe the defendants, who became much irritated, and followed complainant out of the house, and, when about thirty yards from the door, without any further provocation, knocked him down and kicked him.

William Walters, hearing complainant's cries, ran to the spot, and saw complainant lying on the ground, and the male defendant kicking him. The female defendant also kicked complainant on the head. Complainant was afterwards removed into the house of William Wood, and, for a time it was thought his eye was burst. His face was frightfully disfigured with blood and dirt, and much swollen.

The female defendant, who stated in defence that complainant in course of the conversation about Murphy called her foul names, and made use of disgraceful language, called Mrs. Riley, the landlady of the beerhouse before mentioned, to give evidence in support of her statement.

Mrs. Riley said that the complainant, who had drunk of five or six quarts of ale in her house, was somewhat inebriated, and made use of offensive language, for which she reproved him, and requested him to be quiet, but he would not, and used a foul threat, whereupon her husband turned him out. On cross-examination this witness prevaricated very much. Patrick O'Connor, who lodges at the CROSS KEYS, was next called, and stated that complainant, who appeared to be drunk, came into the house between six and seven o'clock in the evening, and commenced creating a disturbance, using bad language, and calling the female defendant improper names. He was eventually expelled. After he was turned out, he fought with and threw the female defendant down. She then got up and kicked complainant.

The Bench being of opinion that the charge had been clearly proved, sentenced the defendants to two months' imprisonment each with hard labour."

AND

"Luke Riley, beerhouse-keeper, pleaded guilty to having had his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday afternoon for the sale of liquor, and was fined 5s and costs, having been previously convicted."

Walsall Free Press 25/5/1867 - Advert

"The CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall.

To Be Let, the above, with immediate possession.

Apply to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, 4, Lichfield Street, Walsall."

Walsall Free Press 12/6/1869 - Advert

"Goods carefully Removed by William Glover, CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall."

1871 Census

14, Wisemore

[1] James Sharpe (40), bit maker, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Sharpe (28), wife, born Walsall;

[3] John Sharpe (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Susan Sharpe (18), domestic servant, born Walsall;

[5] James Ripon (48), boarder, cartgear maker, born Walsall:

John MacNolty = John McNally

London Gazette 17/4/1877

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John MacNolty, of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beer Retailer and Cigar Merchant.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. John Glover, of No.66, Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Solicitor, on the 1st day of May, 1877, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 14th day of April, 1877.

John Glover, No.66, Park-street, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Debtor."

London Gazette 29/6/1880

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John MacNolty, of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beerseller and Plasterer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, Solicitor, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, on the 12th day of July, 1880, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 26th day of June, 1880.

Alfred B. East, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

1881 Census

Wisemore – CROSS KEYS

[1] John McNally (38), innkeeper, born Ireland;

[2] Bridget McNally (49), wife, born Ireland:

Lichfield Mercury 3/12/1886

“On Monday a petition was filed by and the usual order made against John McNolty, of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall, beerhouse keeper. Mr. E. Evans, Walsall, is the solicitor to the debtor.”

1891 Census

14, Wisemore

[1] Moses Lawton (53), press tool maker and publican, born Walsall;

[2] Christina Lawton (51), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Enoch Lawton (24), son, born Walsall;

[4] Clara Lawton (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Hannah Lawton (15), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] John Lawton (14), son, born Walsall;

[7] Alice Lawton (12), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Fanny Lawton (6), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 7/7/1891 - Advert

“To Let. The CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Walsall; Free Beerhouse; doing a good trade. Incoming very low. Apply, Watkins and Powell, Auctioneers, Walsall.”

Moses Lawton, beer retailer, 14, Wisemore. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 10/4/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

The following items of expenditure were passed for payment, viz, a funeral donation of £4 10s to the representatives of Mr. Moses Lawton (deceased), CROSS KEYS INN, Wisemore, and the expenses in connection with his funeral.....”

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

“Wednesday was a special transfer day at Walsall and the following licenses were transferred.....

CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Executors of Moses Lawton (deceased), to Christina Lawton.”

Christine Lawton = Christiana Lawton

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Billiard licenses were applied for by the following....

Christiana Lawton, beerhouse keeper, CROSS KEYS, Wisemore. Refused”

Henry John Birkin = Henry John Burkin

1901 Census

14, Wisemore

[1] Henry J. Birkin (40), beerhouse keeper, born Penkridge, Staffordshire;

[2] Florence Birkin (27), wife, born Ocker Hill;

[3] Jinnie Lee (16), general servant, born Tipton;

[4] John Birkin (72), father, widower, groom, born Bradley, Staffordshire:

Henry John Birkin, beer retailer, 14, Wisemore. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Henry John Birkin, CROSS KEYS.”

The license renewal was refused at the Brewster Sessions 1904, but was allowed on appeal to the Quarter Sessions.

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

Henry John Birkin, of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, had his license objected to on the ground that the license was not needed, the premises not structurally adapted, and were not used as a bona fide public-house.

Mr. R. J. Lawrence (instructed by Messrs. Addison and Cooper) appeared for the owner, Mrs. Roper.

Police-constable Lloyd gave evidence to watching the house a few weeks ago, when he saw a man who was afterwards convicted of street betting enter the house eight times between 1.10 and 3.20pm. Police-constable Lloyd spoke to having chased the same man score of times for betting; twice or thrice he ran into the CROSS KEYS, and when witness followed him in he could not find him.

The license was refused on the ground that the house was disorderly, and that the applicant had failed to produce satisfactory evidence of good character.

Notice of appeal was given, and the recognisances were placed at £100 and two others of £50.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/4/1904

“In connection with the recent Walsall Brewster Sessions, there were this week six appeals at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions against the decisions of the borough magistrates in refusing the renewal of licenses.....

Henry John Burkin, the tenant of the CROSS KEYS INN, Walsall, appealed against the decision of the borough justices not to renew the licence of the house. Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Hazel appeared for the appellants, and Mr. Disturnal was for the respondents. The first question which came up for decision was whether the house was an ante-1869 beerhouse, and after hearing the evidence of old inhabitants the court decided that it was in existence before 1869.

Mr. Disturnal said the case involved matters relating to the conduct of the house, and the complaint about the house was that it had been frequented by betting people. The police had observed betting going on frequently in front of the house. The police gave evidence as to the allegations of betting transactions going on in front of the house, which was frequently used by Groves.

Mr. Lawrence, in addressing the court, said that there was no evidence to show that the landlord connived at the betting transactions, which the man Groves carried on in front of the house.

The committee allowed the appeal without costs, the chairman saying that the landlord had brought the trouble on himself by his careless conduct of the house.

In reply to Mr. Disturnal, the chairman said that the bench did not think there was any evidence that the house was disorderly.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1909.

It was refused.

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

Applications were also made for the renewal of the licenses of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore which had been opposed. Mr. Cooper appeared on behalf of the CROSS KEYS, and said he had no further facts to place before the justices. The house was referred for compensation.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1909

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, 1909, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Beerhouse. Licensee, Henry J. Birkin.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The principal meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, when eight beer-houses and one ale-house, the licenses of which had been referred by the licensing justices, were dealt with, and in each instance the houses were referred for compensation, which means in due course the houses will close.....

The CROSS KEYS, Wisemore. Is another beer-house, the owner being Miss Susan Roper, the lessees Messrs. Frank Myatt, Limited, and the tenant Harry J. Birkin.

Mr. F. J. Addison represented all the parties, and said the lease had some six years to run. The lessees paid £65, and let it to Birkin at £32, and he was entitled to three months' notice.

Replying to the Magistrates' Clerk, Mr. Addison admitted that the license had been refused previously, but was renewed on appeal, but that, he said, could in no way have any influence upon the amount of compensation. It was refused on the ground of redundancy, and they were quite prepared to leave the matter in the hands of the authority. He had no figures to submit at present.....

The Bench having heard each case separately retired to consider their decision. In returning, the Mayor intimated that the renewals authority report would be adopted, and all the houses referred for compensation.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall, on Thursday, Sir Edward T. Holden presiding over a full Bench of Magistrates.....

In the case of the CROSS KEYS, Wisemore, Mr. F. Cooper appeared for the owner, and also for the lessees and tenant.....

The Magistrates decided to hold a further private sitting to go into the question of figures with the solicitors.

The decisions will be announced at a later date.”

It closed in 1909.

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

Henry John Birkin, CROSS KEYS, Wisemore.....”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

CROSS KEYS, Wisemore. Evidence was given as to the value of this house and the magistrates decided to renew the license.” ?

Walsall Observer 14/2/1914 - Advert

“Sale of Important Freehold Investments on Tuesday, the 3rd of March, 1914.....

Three Freehold Dwelling Houses, Nos.14 (formerly the CROSS KEYS), 15 and 16 Wisemore, Walsall.....”

CROWN

6, (6+8), Leamore Lane, (High Street), Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Samuel Birch

Josiah James Brookes

Mrs. Picken

James Bird

Norman Frank Bird

Bird's Crown Brewery Ltd.

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 1st May 1967)

LICENSEES

Thomas Baker [1841] – [1842]

Samuel Birch [1845] – [1872];

Josiah James Brookes [1879] – 1887);

Sarah Ann Brookes (1887 – 1889);

Thomas Birch Jennings (1889 – 1900);

James Bird (1900 – 1937);

Norman Frank Bird (1937 – 1953);

William Ewart Mountford (1953 – 1954);

Levi Plimmer (1954);

Alfred Coleman (1954 – 1961);

James John Bird (1961 – 1968)

NOTES

High Street [1841], [1842], [1861]

Leamore Lane [1861]

6+8, Leamore Lane [1881]

6, Leamore Lane [1891], [1939], [1940]

It dates to the 18th century.

It was the former site of Bird's Crown Brewery.

1841 Census

Leamore Lane

- [1] Thomas Baker (45), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Baker (40), born Staffordsdhire;
- [3] Charles Baker (20), j, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Edward Baker (20), j, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Mark Baker (15), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Sarah Baker (13), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Benjamin Baker (12), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Ann Baker (10), born Staffordshire;
- [9] Hyla Baker (6), born Staffordshire;
- [10] Martha Baker (5), born Staffordshire;
- [11] David Baker (4), born Staffordshire;
- [12] Elizabeth Baker (3 months), born Staffordshire;
- [13] Elizabeth Aston (20), fs, born Staffordshire;
- [14] John Webster (13), ap, born Staffordshire:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/12/1841 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by E. Walker, this present Monday the 20th of December, at the sign of the TURF TAVERN, situated in Bradford Street, Walsall, at four o'clock in the afternoon precisely, all that capital Freehold Public House, known by the sign of the CROWN INN, situated in Leamore Lane, Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, together with the Shopping and other Outbuildings thereto belonging, late in the occupation of Thomas Baker.....”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/8/1845

“.....Joseph Powell wishes us to remind Gough, Allsopp, Haywood, the Flying Clogger, Boulton Phillips, and Book, that he is open to run any of them eight score yards for £10 a side. The money ready any moment at Samuel Birch's, CROWN INN, Bloxwich.”

Samuel Birch was also a shopkeeper. [1849]

1851 Census

Leamore Lane

- [1] Samuel Birch (34), victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Lucy Birch (31), wife, born Redditch;
- [3] Susannah Birch (12), daughter, scholar, born Harden;
- [4] Eliza Birch (11), daughter, scholar, born Harden;
- [5] Sarah A. Birch (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Catherine Deakin (30), house servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Charles Wall (22), servant, farm waggoner, born NK, Worcestershire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1853

“Samuel Birch, the landlord of the CROWN, Leamore Lane, Bloxwich, was fined 10s and costs, for severely assaulting an old man named Welsh, whom he lashed with a whip, for crossing land which Birch contended belonged exclusively to himself.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 19/2/1854 - Advert

“Stallions. To be Sold.

Young Driver, rising 7 years old, stands 16 hands 1 inch high, a fast trotter, and is a good bay, with black legs, clear from white, with great bone.

Young Merryman is a strong cart colt, rising 5 years old, stands full 17 hands high, with a star on the head; is a dapple brown, with good action and great bone.

Royal George, rising 4 years old, is a strong dark brown colt, stands 16½ hands high; has a star on the forehead, and has clear black legs.

For particulars as to pedigree, &c, apply to Mr. Samuel Birch, CROWN INN, Bloxwich, near Walsall, Staffordshire.”

1861 Census

Leamore Lane – CROWN INN

- [1] Samuel Birch (44), victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Lucy Birch (41), wife, born Redditch;
- [3] Eliza Birch (21), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Birch (17), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Mary Birch (14), niece, scholar, born Bloxwich:

Samuel Birch was also a shopkeeper. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/4/1869

“About half-past seven o’clock on Tuesday evening, William Hayes, aged 50, a sinker, who resided at Lane Head, went to the CROWN public house, Bloxwich, kept by Mr. Samuel Birch, in a state of intoxication, and called for a pint of beer, with which he was supplied by the servant girl. He then went out, but as he was going he accidentally knocked over a glass containing spirits. After being absent a short time he returned and paid 6d for the damage he had done, but complained about the charge being too much, and made use of abusive language. As he continued to be very noisy, Mr. Birch, the landlord, requested him to be quiet. Deceased then put his fist into Mr. Birch’s face, and on Mr. Birch attempting to put him out, he seized Mr. Birch by the throat and attempted to strangle him. Mr. Birch called for help, and Joseph Healey, Henry Healey, John Carrington, John Parker, and Marry Hicking, Mr. Birch’s servant, went to Mr. Birch’s assistance, and they succeeded in turning deceased out. Deceased fell, but got up again, and struck Joseph Healey, who struck at deceased, but missed him, and struck the girl Hicking. Some persons then interfered to prevent a fight, and pushed deceased, who fell heavily on the back of his head, and was picked up in a state of insensibility. When raised up blood was flowing from his nose and ears. He was taken to the house of Mr. Mellors, at Bradstone, and afterwards to the Cottage Hospital, Walsall, where he was attended by Mr. Maclachlan, who found the pupil of one of deceased’s eyes much dilated, and quite insensible to the action of light, thereby showing extensive effusion of blood upon the brain. Deceased, who was in a hopeless condition, expired about three o’clock yesterday morning.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/5/1869

“On Wednesday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, resumed an inquiry at the Cottage Hospital, touching the death of William Hague, who lost his life from injuries received in the course of a row at the CROWN INN, Leamore Lane, Bloxwich. Mr. L. W. Lewis (Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) watched the proceedings in behalf of Mr. Birch, landlord of the CROWN INN. Dr. Maclachlan deposed to having made a post mortem examination of the body, and to having found death had resulted from effusion of blood upon the surface of the brain, caused by an extensive fracture of the left side of the skull, which the deceased had sustained. The fracture might have been caused by a fall or kick. Three other witnesses were examined, for the purpose of showing the precise circumstances under which the deceased sustained the fracture, and although the evidence was not conclusive on the point, the balance favoured the theory that the injury was caused by a fall. In the end, the jury, after a few moments’ deliberation, returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

17, Leamore Lane

- [1] Samuel Birch (55), grocery retailer, born Bloxwich;
 - [2] Lucy Birch (52), wife, born Redditch, Worcestershire;
 - [3] Josiah J. Brookes (30), grocer’s shopkeeper, born Bloxwich;
 - [4] Sarah Ann Brookes (26), wife, born Bloxwich;
 - [5] Samuel Brookes (3), son, born Bloxwich;
 - [6] Harriet Davis (16), general servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [Although this is at a different address, it is the same Birch couple.]

Samuel Birch was described as also being a grocer. [1872]

Walsall Advertiser 8/4/1879 - Advert

“To be Sold by Private Contract, a good Piece of Freehold Land, about 600 yards, suitable for Building, situate at Green Lane, Bloxwich, close to the FOUR CROSSES INN.
For particulars, apply to Mr. Brookes, CROWN INN, Leamore, Bloxwich.”

1881 Census

6+8, Leamore Lane – CROWN INN

- [1] Josiah J. Brookes (40), corn dealer, licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sarah A. Brookes (36), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Samuel B. Brookes (13), son, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Eliza A. Brookes (5), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Thomas Mortimer (20), corn dealer’s assistant, born London;
- [6] Eliza Pearson (19), domestic servant, born Wyrley;
- [7] George Pickin (15), corn dealer’s assistant, born Coalport, Shropshire:

Walsall Observer 10/1/1885

“Caledonian Corks. On Saturday evening last, a new lodge of the above Order was opened at the CROWN INN, Leamore, Host Bro. Brookes. The officers of No.1 Lodge, Walsall, were entrusted with the duties, assisted by the Chief Lieutenant of the Order, Bro. Braidsmore, of Birmingham, and Bro. J. H. Allsop, a man of the Executive Council (Walsall).....”

1891 Census

6, Leamore Lane

- [1] Thomas Jennings (32), unmarried, grocer, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane James (42), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [3] Ellen Clark (24), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

[4] Thomas Mason (22), grocer's assistant, born Hednesford:

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1895

"A section of the Weights and Measures Act, which has previously been unheeded by Inspector Whitworth, was brought into operation when Thomas Jennings, of the CROWN INN, Leamore, was summoned for not having had his jugs properly stamped. The Inspector said when he visited the defendant's house on February 15th, and found the jugs unstamped, Jennings wished to square the matter with him by giving him 10s. The magistrates, in imposing a fine of 20s and costs, remarked that the fine would have been heavier had it not been for the first offence of that kind brought before them. They had also taken into consideration the attempted bribery of the Inspector."

Walsall Advertiser 23/11/1895

"Annadine Smith, a disreputable-looking individual living at Bentley, pleaded guilty to the usual charge of being drunk and disorderly. It was stated that at 4.35 on Thursday afternoon she had to be ejected from the CROWN INN, Leamore. After this operation had been completed she defied Police-sergeant Marshall's order to go away, and deliberately lay down in the road, with the result that the officer was compelled to convey her to the station in a sand-cart. To this declaration prisoner uttered an expository 'Oh!'

The Chief Constable reminded the Bench that there was a whole page of convictions registered against her. A fine of 5s and costs only was imposed."

Thomas Jennings was fined 20s and costs, on 24th February 1899, for selling adulterated whisky.

Walsall Observer 8/9/1900

"There was a nice quiet little party at the CROWN INN, Leamore, last Wednesday evening, where, at the invitation of mine host Mr. James Bird, the members of the community of the Floral Society dined and supped – call it what you will – en familie....."

1901 Census

6, Leamore Lane

- [1] James Bird (30), licensed victualler and grocer, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza A. Bird (26), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Eleanor M. Bird (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] James B. Bird (2), son, born Walsall;
- [5] William Oakley (15), grocer's apprentice, born Cleobury Mortimer;
- [6] Lucy Thorley (17), barmaid, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Rosannah Thorley (66), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/11/1901

"On Wednesday the Walsall Magistrates had before them a case in which James Bird, the landlord of the CROWN INN, Leamore, was summoned for suffering gaming at his house on the 19th October. The Town Clerk (Mr. J. R. Copper) conducted the prosecution on behalf of the police, and Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) defended.

The Town Clerk stated that on Saturday, October 9th, at about 6.30pm in the evening, a man named John Backhouse went into the CROWN INN, and found two persons named Thomas Collins and Howard Burton playing at bagatelle for beer. The landlord was present at the time. Collins lost the first game and paid for a pint, and in the second game they played Collins won and Burton paid. During the progress of the first game the landlord made a bet of threepence with a man named Thomas Stanton that Collins won, and as Collins did not win the landlord paid over threepence to Stanton. The landlord also had a bet over the second game, backing Collins to win, and he won his threepence back over this game. Subsequently four men played together for a quart of beer, and Backhouse also took part in the game with three others. Backhouse made a bet with Charles Cooper the elder, that he did not make 21 off one of his breaks. It was a bet of threepence. Backhouse lost, and he paid the sum of threepence to Cooper. Then Cooper bet Backhouse that another man who was playing would not make 21 off his break. The man made 30, and therefore Backhouse won the bet, but Cooper refused to pay and in consequence there was an altercation. The landlord was present in the room when these bets were made, but when he heard Backhouse claiming from the man Cooper the threepence which he had won, he turned round and, although the evidence went to prove that he himself had made bets earlier in the night, said 'I don't allow betting in my house; I won't have it.' At a later period of the evening Backhouse made a complaint to the police, and in consequence these proceedings were taken.

John Backhouse, miner, of 43, Blakenall Lane, gave evidence bearing out the Town Clerk's statement.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson, Backhouse said that there was a notice in the bagatelle room that gambling was not allowed and that beer was not allowed to be played for. Witness had previously seen the landlord stop any attempt at gambling, and he had heard him tell people that they must not play for money. Witness knew it was wrong to bet, but he was the same as other people, and he knew that if the landlord was about he objected to that kind of thing. The landlord was not about when the bet was made with Cooper, and he tried to stop it as soon as he knew there was any bet made. His reason for telling the police was not merely because he had lost threepence.

Charles Burton, of Victoria Terrace, Leamore, subpoenaed by the police, said he was in the CROWN INN on Saturday night playing bagatelle.

In answer to the Town Clerk, he said he was playing for pastime and nothing else. They had some beer to drink whilst playing, but they did not play for it. When they were dry they had a jug of beer filled, and paid for it in turns, whether they won or lost at bagatelle. Witness had seen Inspector Marshall about the matter, and had made a statement to him, and after being reminded of that he would still persist in saying that they did not play for beer. When he saw inspector Marshall he was that 'flustered' that he did not know what he really did say to him. Collins and he played two games after Backhouse came into the room.

By Mr. Jackson: It was two days afterwards that Inspector Marshall saw him.

Thomas Collins, a bit maker, of Victoria Terrace, also attended on subpoena, and he denied that he played for beer. They had a game merely to pass the time away. They did not play for beer as it was not allowed. They had beer while they were playing, but they were drinking together out of the same jug and each paid in turn. The witness said he still adhered to that in face of which he had previously told Inspector Marshall.

The Town Clerk said he would then ask the Bench's permission for him to treat the witness as a hostile one.

Alderman Holden: I think you could have done so with the last if you had liked.

The Town Clerk (to witness): Did you tell Inspector Marshall that you played for the beer? – No, nothing of the kind.

In answer to further interrogation by the Town Clerk, Collins admitted having told Inspector Marshall that he and Burton each won one game. He saw one bet made by Backhouse. The landlord was not in at the time but Mrs. Bird fetched him. Witness assisted occasionally as a waiter at the CROWN, and he had himself called Mr. Bird's attention to customers who wanted to make bets on a game of bagatelle.

Mr. Jackson: The landlord ordered Backhouse out of the house as soon as he was told he was betting.

Charles Cooper, sen., of Green Lane, Bloxwich, stated he made a bet with Backhouse in the CROWN INN, on Saturday night. Backhouse was 'noising' and wanted to have a bet over a game of bagatelle, and witness accepted the bet. They were playing for pastime, and not for beer, as each of them had drinks of their own. There was no betting whilst witness was there except on this particular game, and before the game was finished Mrs. Bird fetched the landlord, and he said he would not have any gambling. Witness told Backhouse immediately that the bet was off.

Replying to Alderman Holden, witness said that the landlord was not in the room at the time the bet was made, and as soon as he came in he told them he did not allow betting.

Inspector Marshall said that on Saturday, October 19th, Backhouse came to him at about ten minutes to eleven and made a complaint, in consequence of which witness went to see the defendant Bird on the following morning. Witness saw Burton on the Monday following, and Burton told him that on Saturday night he was playing bagatelle at the CROWN for beer.

Cross-examined, witness admitted Burton seemed flurried at the time he told him.

For the defence, Mr. Jackson, said it was incumbent upon the prosecution to prove that if any gambling did take place it was with the knowledge of the landlord. The only evidence touching the landlord was the evidence of Backhouse, and he admitted having made a bet, and although he knew it was wrong and against the rules of the house. The fact that the landlord stopped the gambling showed that he wanted to keep his house perfectly free from anything of the kind. As soon as the landlord knew that a bet had been made he told them that he would not allow it, and Cooper then told Backhouse that the bet was off. Backhouse created a disturbance, and because he did not get his threepence went and rounded on the landlord. He did not think that there was any case to answer. The only evidence against the landlord was by Backhouse, and it was absolutely denied by four or five witnesses called by the prosecution, and they were bound by those witnesses.

After consultation in private, Alderman Holden announced that the Bench considered there was not sufficient evidence to affect the landlord, but the evidence of the two witnesses was very unsatisfactory.

Mr. Jackson: I am glad they were not mine.

Alderman Holden: I am sorry they were anybody's. We expect to get the truth in this Court, but I am afraid we did not then.

The Town Clerk said the police thought the case was one which ought to be inquired into.

Alderman Holden: We think the police did their duty."

AND

"Another case that occupied the attention of the court on Wednesday was one in which a charge was preferred against Thomas Marshall, of the BLACK HORSE INN, Leamore, of supplying a constable on duty, on Saturday, October 19th. The Town Clerk prosecuted in this case, and Mr. H. H. Jackson was for the defence.

The case had some connection with the one reported above, for on Backhouse leaving the CROWN INN, on Saturday night, and going in search of a constable, he saw Police-constable Collins at about ten minutes to eleven. Backhouse wished to take the constable down to the CROWN INN, but the officer refused to go, and then it seemed that Backhouse must have closely followed the officer's movements. He saw Collins go into the BLACK HORSE, and followed a minute or two afterwards. Backhouse was in time to see the officer drinking from a jug, which contained beer, and he promptly reported the matter to Collin's superior officer. Answering Mr. Jackson, Backhouse said that he reported Collins because he would not go down to the CROWN INN. Collins was in the passage at the BLACK HORSE, but witness did not think it would be possible for him to be served without the people who served him seeing who he was. Witness did not call the attention of the landlord or lady, but only ascertained the officer's number and went out.

Police-constable Collins, after being cautioned by the magistrates' clerk that he was not obliged to give evidence as what he might say be used against him, stated that he was supplied with half a pint of ale in the outdoor department, but he could not see who it was that supplied him on account of the aperture through which his jug was passed being so small. He, however, judged it to be Mrs. Marshall, as he recognised the voice. His reason for not going down to the CROWN INN with Backhouse was that he expected his sergeant to come along every minute.

Cross-examined, Collins said he paid for the beer he had had, and as there were so many people in the outdoor department at the time it would be quite possible for those who supplied him not to see who he was. They certainly could not see his face because the window was only about three feet from the floor.

At this juncture Alderman Holden asked Mr. Jackson if he was content to leave the matter to the Bench, and on his replying in the affirmative, Alderman Holden said the defendant would have to pay the costs, and the Bench would recommend that in future the window of the outdoor department should be made sufficiently large so that those behind the bar could see plainly who was served.

The Town Clerk said he would take that opportunity of asking the licensing trade generally to assist the Watch Committee in carrying out their orders with respect to serving constables on duty. It would be a great help to the policemen themselves if the publicans took great care not to supply a man when on duty. The committee were determined in each instance that the policeman would be dismissed. It was a great hardship on the man but he had acted foolishly.

Mr. Jackson said that his client had no knowledge that the man was supplied. Marshall had kept the house for 21 years and his father 23 years before him, and there had not previously been a conviction against the house.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

CROWN INN, Leamore, Bloxwich. 2s 7d.”

James Bird was also a grocer. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

CROWN INN, Leamore.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905], [1906]

1911 Census

Bloxwich – CROWN

[1] James Bird (40), licensed brewer and grocer, born Walsall;

[2] Daniel Smith (36), boarder, grocer, born Dudley;

[3] Sarah Ann Smith (35), boarder, wife of D. Smith, married 10 years, born Walsall;

[4] Ada Eleanor Smith (2), daughter, of D. Smith, no birthplace given;

[5] Mary Ann Smith (18), servant, born Bloxwich;

[6] Rose Cooper (14), servant, born Bloxwich:

The CROWN Brewery was established here in 1911.

It survived until 1953.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

CROWN, Leamore, £2 4s 8½d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

The CROWN, Leamore. £6 14s 1½d.”

James Bird was treasurer of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1935]

1939 Register

6, Leamore Lane – CROWN INN

[1] Norman F. Bird, date of birth 12/9/1904, master brewer and licensed victualler, married, ARP group warden;

[2] Edith C. Bird, dob 28/11/1908, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[4] Doris Bate, dob 30/1/1920, nursemaid, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

CROWN INN, Leamore, £10 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 22/2/1941

“A successful party was held at the CROWN INN, Leamore, on Thursday week, for wardens of Sector C5 and their wives. About fifty persons were present and the entertainment included musical items by Mr. T. Gibbs and Mr. S. Dean, dancing and games.

Mr. M. Brown and Mrs. Bird were at the piano. The wardens provided the refreshments themselves. During the evening a presentation of an ink-stand was made to the Group warden, Mr. Bird (licensee of the inn) and his wife, by the Sector warden, Mr.

Coleman, on behalf of the wardens. The gift was a mark of gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Bird, who allowed the wardens to use part of the CROWN INN as their post, before they could provide one of their own.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CROWN INN, Leamore. £2 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

CROWN INN, Leamore. £170 0s 0d.”

William Ewart Mountford – see also ENGINE.

Levi Plimmer – see also SPURMAKERS ARMS.

[2008]

Closed [2009], [2012]

It was damaged by fire.

It reopened in 2015.

[2017]

CROWN

6, (76), Long Acre Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Hannah Osborne

James Osborne

Emma Osborne

R. A. Harper Ltd., Hall Park Brewery, Bilston [1908]

Butts Brewery Ltd. (Norman F. Bird)

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 1st May 1967)

LICENSEES

James Osbourn [1858] – [1862]

John Osbourn [1864]

Mrs. Hannah Osbourn [1868] – [1881];

James Osborne [1882] – 1887);

Mrs. Emma Osborne (1887 – 1893);

John McGarry (1893 – 1906);

Jane McGarry (1906 – 1908);

John William Perrott (1908 – 1910);

John Thomas Millington (1910 – 1914);

Albert Mayer (1914 – 1916);

Elizabeth Mayer (1916 – 1920);

George William Plant (1920 – 1936);

Joseph Walker (1936 – 1945);

Hannah Fletcher (1945 – 1953);

Derek Silvester (1953 – 1954);

Leslie Cooke (1954 – 1958);

Rex Coxshall (1958 – 1960);

John Chapman (1960);

John Edward Rochelle (1960 – [1966]
G S Shocker [2007]
Michael McMurrough [2015]

NOTES

76, Long Acre Street [1862], [1864], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1881]
6, Long Acre Street [1891], [1901], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

James Osbourn, beerhouse, 76, Long Acre. [1858]
James Osbourn, beer retailer, Long Acre Street. [1861]

1861 Census

76, Long Acre Street – CROWN INN
[1] James Osbourn (57), sewage and road contractor and victualler, born Sale Green, Worcestershire;
[2] Hannah Osbourn (48), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Emma Osbourn (15), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] Sophia Osbourn (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] William Llewelyn (4), grandson, born Walsall;
[6] James White (36), boarder, carter, born Lichfield;
[7] George Osbourne (42), nephew, sewage and road labourer, born Walsall:

James Osbourn, retailer of beer, 76, Long Acre Street. [1862]

John Osbourn, beer retailer and contractor, 76, Long Acre Street. [1864]

Hannah Osbourn = Hannah Osborne = Anna Osbourne

Mrs. Hannah Osbourn, beer retailer, 76, Long Acre Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“Henry Osbourn appeared to answer a charge of having assaulted Henry Crowley.
The parties, with others, were card-playing in the CROWN beer-house, Long Acre, and, quarrelling over a game, the defendant committed the assault complained of.
The evidence was very conflicting, and the case was dismissed.”

1871 Census

76, Long Acre Street – CROWN INN
[1] Anna Osbourne (56), beerhouse keeper, born Goscote;
[2] Henry Barnes (26), boarder, blacksmith, born Hartshill, Warwickshire;
[3] Sarah Bailey (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

76, Long Acre Street
[1] Hannah Osborne (66), publican, born Goscote;
[2] Mary A. Osborne (16), domestic servant, born Walsall;
[3] Eliza Day (35), daughter, married, born Walsall;
[4] Eliza Egan (17), visitor, born Walsall;
[5] Julia Day (7), daughter, born Walsall;
[6] Leah Day (14), daughter, born Walsall;
[7] Alice Day (6), daughter, born Walsall;
[8] Thomas H. Day (4), son, born Walsall:
[Were Julia, Leah, Alice and Thomas, the children of Eliza?]

James Osborne was fined 10s and costs, on 20th November 1882, for Sunday trading.

Emma Osborne = Emma Osbourn

1891 Census

6, Long Acre Street – CROWN INN
[1] Emma Osborne (50), widow, publican, born Kidderminster;

- [2] John Osborne (27), son, imbecile, born Walsall;
- [3] James Osborne (18), son, mopping (?), born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Osborne (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah Osborne (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Rose Osborne (11), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] John Hill (24), son in law, coal miner, born Walsall;
- [8] Mary Ann Hill (25), daughter, born Walsall:

Mrs. Emma Osbourn, beer retailer, 6, Long Acre Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1900

“John McGarry, the landlord of the CROWN INN, Long Acre Street, was summoned for permitting gaming to be carried on on his premises; and George Lawrence, of 189, Pargeter Street; Samuel Walker, 196, Pargeter Street; Howard Beebee, Slaney Road; and William Moss, 58, Lime Street, were summoned for aiding and abetting. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) was for the defence.

Detective-sergeant Haycock said he visited the CROWN INN in company with the Chief Constable and Detective Burrell at about ten o’clock on the night of July 21st, and in the smoke-room found the four defendants round a small table, upon which there was a pack of cards and a cribbage board. On entering Beebee pushed the cards towards the centre of the table, at the same time remarking ‘Let’s see, I have got to give you threepence.’ There was a threepenny-piece and a number of coppers upon the table, and Beebee put down three more pennies. In answer to the Chief Constable, witness heard McGarry say that he knew the defendants had been in the smoke-room for about twenty minutes, but did not know anything wrong was going on.

Cross-examined, witness said he did not suggest to the defendants that they were gaming, but at the suggestion of the Chief Constable he took their names and addresses. There was nothing said in witness’s presence about the money on the table being for the payment for refreshments.

Detective Burrell gave corroborative evidence, and deposed to having heard Walker say either ‘we are caught’ or ‘we are collared’ upon their entering the room.

For the defence it was stated that the defendant, McGarry, had been a licensed victualler for nine years and never had a charge brought or a complaint made against him, and for 28 years he was a member of the police force. So far as McGarry was concerned it was submitted that there was no case made out against him. He had not been seen in the smoke-room, and no evidence had been offered to show that he knew that cards were being played at all, much less for money. Mr. Jackson contended that it must be proved that he had some knowledge or had reasonable means of seeing what was going on. However, it was denied that the other defendants were playing for money; the money the police saw upon the table was simply for refreshments.

The defendants Lawrence, Walker, Beebee and Moss were sworn, and each denied that they were playing cards for money. They also denied that any remarks about their being caught or collared passed when the police made their entry. McGarry sworn, denied any knowledge of the defendants playing at all.

After a brief consultation, in private, the Magistrates announced that each of the defendants would be fined 20s and costs each. On the application of Mr. Jackson the Bench fixed the recognisances in case of appeal with regard to the landlord at £30.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1900

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall.

During the period since 30th August, 1899, five licensed victuallers have been proceeded against.

27th July, 1900, John McGarry, CROWN INN, Long Acre Street, fined 40s and costs, for permitting drunkenness.”

1901 Census

6, Long Acre Street – The CROWN INN

- [1] John McGarry (60), beerhouse keeper, born Ireland;
- [2] Louisa McGarry (45), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Louie Slack (22), stepdaughter, domestic, born Pelsall:

John McGarry, beer retailer, 6, Long Acre Street. [1904]

1911 Census

Long Acre Street – CROWN INN

- [1] John Thomas Millington (36), iron caster, born Willenhall;
- [2] Ann Maria Millington (34), wife, married 13 years, born Portobello;
- [3] Miriam Elizabeth Millington (13), daughter, born Portobello;
- [4] Winniefred Millington (11), daughter, born Portobello;
- [5] Bertie Millington (9), son, born Portobello;
- [6] John Thomas Millington (6), son, born Portobello;
- [7] Beatrice Sarah Millington (2), daughter, born Portobello;
- [8] Doris Millington (1), daughter, born Portobello:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.

CROWN INN, Long Acre Street. £0 16s 1½d.”

South Staffordshire Times 1/3/1924

“An inquest was held at Walsall, on Tuesday, on John Gallagher (34), annealer, Butts Road, who, on Sunday night collapsed in the CROWN INN, Long Acre Street, and when taken to the hospital was dead. The widow said her husband joined the army as an A1 man, and when discharged in 1918 he was certified to be suffering from valvular disease of the heart, and was allowed 50 per cent disability pension of 31s 9d per week. Death was attributed to heart failure, and a verdict was returned accordingly.”

1939 Register

6, Long Acre Street

- [1] Joseph Walker, date of birth 11/1/1884, publican, married;
- [2] Sarah Walker, dob 25/6/1884, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Nellie M. (Walker) Cook, dob 29/12/1915, tailorress, single;
- [4] Doris J. (Walker) Morgan, dob 6/3/1920, fancy leather machinery, single:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Walker, the CROWN, Longacre. £1 5s 8d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
CROWN INN, Long Acre. £2 2s 8d.”

A license to sell beer, cider and wine was granted on 5th March 1959.

A full license was granted on 23rd November 1961.

[2017]

Express & Star 21/11/2022

“A struggling pub which saw a sharp drop off in trade when Covid struck could be closed and converted into new apartments in Walsall. Plans have been put forward to demolish the CROWN INN on Long Acre Street, near the town centre, and replace it with a two and a half storey block of 14 flats. Applicant Gurmeet Shocker said the number of customers using the boozier has fallen and never recovered following lockdown in 2020. He also added there were a number of other pubs close to the CROWN INN and redeveloping it would be more beneficial to the area. The application is currently being considered by Walsall Council planning officers with a decision expected to be made in the new year.....”

Express & Star 27/11/2022

“The future of a struggling pub which was heavily impacted by Covid-19 is expected to be decided by council chiefs in the new year. Plans have been put forward to demolish the CROWN INN on Long Acre Street, Walsall, near the town centre, and replace it with a block of 14 apartments, along with undercroft parking and cycle storage. The 14 apartments would be made up of eight one-bed flats, three two-bed homes and three studio flats. The application states the number of customers using the pub has fallen and never recovered since Covid-19 and replacing it would be beneficial. And it has been revealed a likely date for the decision over the site’s future is likely to be taken on January 11 next year, according to Walsall chiefs. The application said, ‘The proposals seek to produce a historically delicate, high quality residential development on the site of the existing PH, with the intention to negate any negative impact on the surrounding listed buildings. The proposal seeks to create a development that is befitting of the site’s locality, which sits on the border between a predominately residential and industrial/commercial area, whilst reintroducing an invigorated active frontage along Long Acre Street. The demand and viability of the public house is none existent particularly given the current economic climate of the country and the housing shortage we currently face. The redevelopment presents the opportunity for regeneration of the site and the wider area through the creation of much needed high-quality homes.’ The application adds the current state of the building adds to its ‘existing decline’ and the redevelopment of the pub is not economically viable.....”

Express & Star 13/3/2023

“A bid to convert an ailing Walsall pub which struggled for trade as a result of the pandemic into new apartments has failed. Applicant Gurmeet Singh had wanted to demolish the CROWN INN on Long Acre Street, near the town centre, and erect a block of 14 flats in its place. But planning officers at Walsall Council raised a number of concerns about the proposal including the ‘un-acceptable impact’ on road safety and concerns over the security of the site and potential crime and anti-social behaviour. Fears were also raised over the impact the development would have on the nearby Grade II Listed Victoria Mills site. The CROWN INN is also situated within the Cannock Chase Special Area of Conservation, which means every planning application with 15km has to carry out assessments on the impact it might have on Cannock Chase, and planners said no mitigation measures had been included.....”

CROWN

44, (45), Lower Hall Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Thomas, Paradise Street, Birmingham
J. F. Thomas, Highgate Works, Leopold Street, Birmingham
Noah Mills (acquired in March 1924)
Millward Bros., maltsters, Albrighton [1937]

LICENSEES

Thomas Vass [1861]
James Birch [1865]
Elizabeth Hands [1872];
John Busst [1880] – 1891);
Arthur Edwin Bennett (1891 – 1894);
Joshua Bloomer (1894 – 1920);
Noah Mills (1920 – [1925])
Reginald Cornwall [] – 1937):

NOTES

44, Lower Hall Lane [1861], [1872], [1881], [1901], [1904], [1911], [1912]
45, Lower Hall Lane [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

44, Lower Hall Lane – CROWN INN
[1] Thomas Vass (21), publican, born Walsall;
[2] Agness Vass (23), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Sarah Wright (14), general servant, born Walsall:

James Birch, beer retailer and silver plater, 44, Lower Hall Lane. [1865]

Walsall Free Press 25/5/1867 - Advert

“To Be Let, The CROWN, Lower Hall Street.
Apply on the premises.”

1881 Census

44, Lower Hall Lane
[1] John Busst (35), saddler and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
[2] Dinah Busst (32), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Sarah A. Busst (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] John W. Busst (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Louisa Busst (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Emily Busst (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Alfred Busst (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[8] Alice Busst (2), daughter, born Walsall;
[9] Bertha Busst (5 months), daughter, born Walsall:

John Busst – see also IVY HOUSE.

1891 Census

44, Lower Hall Lane – CROWN INN
[1] Arthur Edwin Bennett (26), saddler’s tool maker, born Cheltenham;
[2] Elza A. Bennett (26), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Arthur E. Bennett (3), son, born Walsall;

[4] Ethel M. Bennett (11 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Edith Bullock (14), wife's sister, visitor, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1895

"Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society.

The monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Thursday.....

Mr. Joshua Bloomer, of the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane was elected a member of the society."

Joshua Bloomer, beer retailer, 44, Lower Hall Lane. [1896], [1904], [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1896

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. William Brown, BLUE PIG INN, New Street, Walsall.....

Mr. Joshua Bloomer, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane was elected member of the Executive Committee."

Walsall Advertiser 23/4/1898

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at Mr. Joshua Bloomers', CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane....."

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

"Mr. H. H. Jackson applied on behalf of Joshua Bloomer, owner and occupier of the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, for a license to sell wine on or off the premises. The Mayor did not adjudicate this case.

Mr. Jackson said the application was merely for the convenience of Mr. Bloomer's customers, and not with a view to gain, and he pointed out that there was only one another house (the VINE) where wine could be bought between the CROWN and Caldmore.

Mr. Stanley opposed, and pointed to the large number of licensed houses in the immediate vicinity.

Application refused."

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900 - Advert

"Wanted, respectable General.

Apply Mrs. Bloomer, CROWN INN, Hall Lane."

Walsall Observer 17/3/1900

"On Monday evening last a smoking concert was held at the CROWN INN, Hall Lane, for the benefit of the benevolent fund of the Walsall and District Gig Saddlers' Union. The chair was occupied by Mr. Frank Marsden (the president of the union), who briefly explained the object of the concert. The room was well filled....."

1901 Census

44, Lower Hall Lane

[1] Joshua Bloomer (37), beerhouse keeper, born Islington, London;

[2] Frances Bloomer (37), wife, born Worcester;

[3] Margaret Bloomer (10), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Lizzie Walker (18), domestic servant, born Hednesford:

Joshua Bloomer was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1904

"Walsall & District Air-Gun League. Hospital Cup & Medals.

The concluding draw, to be shot on Tuesday next, the 21st inst, at the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane, is as under:

1. VOLUNTEER or KING WILLIAM v GOLDEN EAGLE.

2. NEWPORT No.1 or CRITERION v CROWN or Leamore.

Final. Winner of No.2 v Winner of No.1.

The first team to have choice of shooting. The first match to commence at 8pm sharp, the second at 8.45, final at 9.45. Individuals to immediately follow."

Walsall Observer 14/11/1908

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the President, MANOR ARMS INN, Daw End, Rushall. Mr. R. Anson, Daw End (president), occupied the chair.....

The President and Vice-president were chosen to represent the society at the 84th Annual Banquet of the Birmingham Licensed Victuallers' Society to be held at the Grand Hotel, Birmingham, on Wednesday, November 25th, 1908.

It was decided to hold the next monthly meeting of the Executive Committee at the house of the Vice-president, Mr. Joshua Bloomer, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, on Thursday, December 10th."

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the vice-president, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“On Monday last at the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane the following resolution was unanimously passed: ‘That the Executive Committee of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in special meeting assembled this 9th day of May, 1910, hereby records its profound sorrow at the lamented death of His late Majesty, King Edward the Seventh, and to humbly tender its most respectful sympathy with Queen Alexandra, King George V, and the Royal Family in the terrible and sudden bereavement which they have sustained by the death of our late beloved King’.”

1911 Census

44, Lower Hall Lane

- [1] Joshua Bloomer (47), beerhouse keeper, born London;
- [2] Frances Bloomer (46), wife, married 23 years, assist in the business, born Walsall;
- [3] Marguerite Bloomer (20), daughter, assist in the business, born Walsall;
- [4] Laura Gardiner (20), general servant, born Hednesford:

Joshua Bloomer was vice president and secretary of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society. [1918]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane. £1 1s 1d.”

In 1925 it was described as having a brewery and malt room. The Bar measured 12’ 1” by 13’ 10”. It also had a tap room, smoke room and club room.

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1936

“Walsall Licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday.....
Formal objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses: CROWN (beerhouse), Lower Hall Lane; VINE (alehouse), Lower Hall Lane; and the CROWN AND CUSHION (beerhouse), Bridgman Street. All other licenses were renewed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1937

“At the Walsall Licensing Transfer Sessions on Tuesday.....
The Justices referred for compensation the EAGLE, Lower Rushall Street and the CROWN, Lower Hall Lane.”

£2,375 Compensation was paid in December 1937

It closed in December 1937.

Walsall Observer 11/2/1939 - Public Notice

“County Borough Of Walsall. Housing Act, 1936.

The Walsall (Little Newport Street No.1) Housing Confirmation Order, 1939.

Notice Is Hereby Given that the Minister of Health, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by the Housing Act, 1936, on the 28th day of January, 1939, confirmed with modifications an Order submitted to him by the Council of the County Borough of Walsall authorising them to purchase compulsorily under Section 29 of the said Act the lands described in the Schedule hereto, which lands are lands in an area declared to be a Clearance Area by a resolution of the Council dated the 13th day of December, 1937, and also lands surrounded by and/or adjoining the said Clearance Area.....

De-licensed public house known as the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane.”

CROWN

14, The Square, WALSALL

OWNERS

Elizabeth Burton, Lichfield Street, Walsall

Mrs. Barlow

Joseph Brookes, Caldmore, Walsall

Arthur Beebee

LICENSEES

Thomas G Hill [1851]
Samuel Middlebrook [1858]
Joseph Gostlow [1859] – [1860]
William Barnabus Richardson [1861] – 1862)
Thomas Priestley []
Thomas Titley [1863] – [1865]
Mrs. Ellen Tomes [1868] – [1872];
John Taylor [];
George Rogers [1878];
Joseph Russell [];
John Glover [1881];
James Barber [] – 1891);
William Henry Manson (1891 – 1893);
Mrs. Lucretia Hickman (1893 – 1897);
William Mason (1897 – 1898);
James Freeman (1898 – 1905);
David Thomas Read (1905 – 1909);
Alfred William Nicholls (1909 – 1910);
Thomas Heath (1910 – 1919);
Ernest Powell (1919 – 1924):

NOTES

It was formerly known as the JUG. [1861], [1872]

It had a beerhouse license.

Thomas Hill was a painter and publican [1851]

1851 Census

Square

- [1] Thomas G. Hill (35), painter and publican, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Ann Hill (22), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Rowland Hill (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Ann Grubel (13), house servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/9/1851

“At the Guildhall, Walsall, on Wednesday last, before the Mayor and Arthur Adams, Esq., Mr. Thomas Hill, landlord of the CROWN retail beerhouse in The Square, was summoned by the police for keeping his house open for the sale of beer after the hour of eleven on the night of the 12th ultimo. James Smith, police-sergeant, stated about twelve o’clock on the night in question he visited defendant’s house, where he saw four persons seated in the parlour, one of whom was smoking; a glass was also standing on the table containing ale. Defendant stated, in reply, that very shortly before the police entered his house, a person named Boden, landlord of the MALT SHOVEL public house in Rushall Street, knocked at his door, and asked if a friend of his, who was with him, could remain there. While he was speaking, four other persons came in and asked for a quart of porter, but which was refused them; at this moment Boden quitted the house. The defendant called two witnesses in support of his statement, and the Bench dismissed the information. Mr. Armishaw, the police superintendent, stated that he had always found the house well conducted, and that it was in consequence of a communication made to him at the police station by Mr. Boden, that he sent two police officers to the house.”

Samuel Middlebrook, beerhouse, 14, The Square. [1858]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/1/1861

“At Rushall, on Thursday, a special session was held in the New Police Court, to investigate certain charges against two men, named respectively James Bayley and Daniel Kite. The inquiry was partially heard on a former occasion, but the whole of the facts were not elicited. The specific charges were that Bayley had, on the 9th instant, committed a rape upon the person of a young woman named Ellen Yorke; and that Kite had assaulted another young woman named Edith Arnold with intent. Mr. W. D. Taylor appeared for the defence. From the evidence the following facts were elicited.

On the evening of the 9th instant the two girls went from Willenhall to Walsall, and there called at the JUG public house in the square. Yorke said she wanted a situation, and asked if anyone knew of a servant being wanted, and Bayley, who represented himself as the landlord, said he could find her a place. She then asked for a place on behalf of her companion, Arnold, and Bayley said he thought he could find her a place too; and with the professed view of inquiry after these promised places, he asked the girls to go out with him, and they did so, and walked up Lichfield-street. When they got to the Lichfield-road they were joined by the prisoner Kite, and they all four went to a public house and had some rum and water, after which they went along Aldridge-road, which is also known as Longwood-lane. Here Bayley and the girl Yorke separated from Kite and Arnold, and when the former had got some distance he committed the offence with which he was charged. In the meantime Kite had assaulted Arnold, but fortunately a man named Cyrus Kington came up, and being appealed to by the girl, he protected her until she got back to Lichfield-street. The evidence left no doubt as to the guilt of both prisoners, and Bayley was committed for trial at the Assizes on the charge of rape, and Kite for assault with intent.”

1861 Census

14, The Square

[1] William Richardson (21), victualler and collar maker, born Lichfield;

[2] Abigail Richardson (20), wife, born Walsall:

Birmingham Journal 7/9/1861

“Insolvent Debtors. Joseph Gostlow, now and for six months last past renting furnished apartments at No.53, Bagot Street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, occasionally employed as a Porter and Keeper in Stables, my Wife having for a portion of the period occasionally employment in needlework, and being now employed as an out-door servant, previously thereto and since the 10th day of January last past lodging at the house known by the sign of the Duke of York, in Duke Street, Birmingham aforesaid, in no way of employment for about two months previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the OLD QUEENS HEAD, Temple Street, in the township of the borough of Walsall in the county of Stafford, for about eighteen months previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the CROWN, in the Square, in the township of the borough of Walsall aforesaid, and during the whole period of my residence at the said two last named places, carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, for about two years and one month previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the SLATERS ARMS, at the Pleck, in the foreign of Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, carrying on business as a Licensed Brewer, Retailer of Beer, and Dealer in Tobacco, and for about two months previously thereto lodging at Bridgeman Street, in the township of the borough of Walsall aforesaid, in no way of business.”

William Richardson, retailer of beer, 14, the Square. [1862]

London Gazette 30/5/1862

“William Barnabus Richardson, now of No.3, Newhall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, in no business or occupation, previously of the Paddock, Walsall aforesaid, out of business, previously thereto of the Square, Walsall aforesaid, Beer-house Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 12th day of May, 1862, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held before the Judge of the said Court, on the 19th day of June next, at the Court-house, Goodhall-street, Walsall, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Walsall Free Press 21/3/1863 - Advert

“For A Really Fine And Good Glass Of Ale Or Stout, go to the CROWN LUNCHEON STORES, The Square, Walsall.

Thomas Titley, Proprietor,”

London Gazette 15/5/1863

“Thomas Priestley, formerly of the CROWN INN, the Square, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse-keeper, Dealer in Tobacco, and Saddler, and now of No.42, Wisemore, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, in lodgings, out of business, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 21st day of April, 1863, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination and make application for his Discharge, will be held before the Judge of the said Court, on the 17th day of June next at the Court-house, Goodhall-street, Walsall, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Thomas Brevitt, of Darlaston, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Thomas Titley, beer retailer, 14, The Square. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 9/4/1864 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, the CROWN INN, The Square, Walsall, the present tenant leaving through other engagements at a distance.

For particulars apply on the premises, or to Mr. Whitehouse, TURKS HEAD INN, Wednesbury.”

Mrs. Ellen Tomes, beer retailer, 14, The Square. [1870]

1871 Census

14, Square

[1] Ellen Tomes (45), widow, publican, born Gloucestershire;

[2] Tommas Tomes (12), son, born Walsall;

[3] Alford W. Tomes (8), son, born Walsall;

[4] Richard Ganderton (36), boarder, draper's assistant, born Inkborough, Worcestershire: [Inkberrow?]

George Rogers was fined 20s and costs, on 17th April 1878, for permitting gaming.

Walsall Advertiser 29/3/1881 - Advert

"Beerhouse To Let, the CROWN INN, situated in The Square, handsomely fitted up; must be disposed of; no reasonable offer refused. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.

Apply, SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street."

London Gazette 23/3/1883

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of a Bankruptcy Petition against John Glover, of the CROWN INN, the Square, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Journeyman Saddler. Upon the hearing of this Petition this day, and upon proof satisfactory to the Court of the debt of the Petitioner, and of the trading, and of the act or acts of the Bankruptcy alleged to have been committed by the said John Glover having been given, it is ordered that the said John Glover be, and he is hereby, adjudged bankrupt.

Given under the Seal of the Court this 19th day of March, 1883.

By the Court, F. F. Clarke, Registrar.

The First General Meeting of the creditors of the said John Glover is hereby summoned to be held at the Courthouse, Walsall, on the 4th day of April, 1883, at twelve o'clock at noon, and that the Court has ordered the bankrupt to attend thereat for examination, and to produce thereat a statement of his affairs, as required by the statute. Until the appointment of a Trustee, all persons having in their possession any of the effects of the bankrupt must deliver them, and all debts due to the bankrupt must be paid, to the Registrar. Creditors must forward their Proofs of Debts to the Registrar."

1891 Census

14, The Square – CROWN

[1] James Barber (54), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Eliza Barber (51), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Emily Thomas (18), general servant, born Bloxwich;

[4] Ada Robinson (11), niece, scholar, born Walsall:

Mrs. Lucretia Hickman, beer retailer, 14, The Square. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 29/12/1900 - Advert

"Pure Malt & Hops.

James Freeman, CROWN INN, Walsall, Begs to inform the public that All Ales Sold at the above House are Brewed Solely From Malt and Hops, and are Absolutely Pure.

(Signed), James Freeman."

[This advertisement was published extensively for nearly two years!]

1901 Census

14, The Square

[1] James Freeman (28), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Gertrude E. Freeman (27), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Dorothy Freeman (3), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Gertrude E. Freeman (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Eliza Horton (15), servant, born Brownhills:

James Freeman, beer retailer, 14, The Square. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

"A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall, on Thursday, Sir Edward T. Holden presiding over a full Bench of Magistrates.....

In the case of the CROWN INN, Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared for Mr. A. Beebee, the owner, and for the tenant.....

The Magistrates decided to hold a further private sitting to go into the question of figures with the solicitors.

The decisions will be announced at a later date."

1911 Census

14, The Square

[1] Thomas Heath (63), widower, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Maria Heath (19), daughter, assisting in the business, born Chasetown:

Thomas Heath, beer retailer, 14, The Square. [1912]

Walsall Observer 9/2/1924

“.....Chief Inspector Cooke gave evidence [to the annual licensing sessions] that there were four bedrooms but that the kitchen was the only living room, while the rear portion of the building was very congested. The trade of the CROWN was about two barrels a week, and the house had been fairly well conducted, but the living accommodation was absolutely inadequate.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/7/1924

“The Walsall justices sitting as the Compensation Authority, have referred for compensation, but conditionally renewed the licenses of.....

The CROWN INN, the Square which had been objected to on the ground of redundancy.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on the ground of redundancy.

Compensation of £2,400 was paid on 25th October 1924.

It closed on 1st November 1924.

It was demolished.

CROWN

197, Stafford Street / Portland Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Oliver Joint, Portland Street, Walsall

Mrs. Mary Joint, off license, Walsall

Arthur Beebee, Sandwell Street, Walsall (acquired in April 1905)

LICENSEES

Samuel Broomhall [1858]

William Thomas [1861]

George Smith [1864]

James Cleobury [1868] – 1872);

John Darby (1872 – [1881]

Joseph Histon [1891] – 1899);

Charles Merrick (1899);

Benjamin Letts (1899 – 1903);

Henry Gossage (1903 – 1905);

Elijah Ford (1905 – 1909);

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It was formerly known as the FOUR CROSSES.

S. Broomhall, beerhouse, 197, Stafford Street. [1858]

1861 Census

197, Stafford Street – FOUR CROSSES

[1] William Thomas (56), publican, born Kidderminster;

[2] Harriet Thomas (46), wife, born Clent;

[3] Maria Cowdell (15), house servant, born Clent:

George Smith, beer retailer, 197, Stafford Street. [1864]

James Cleobury, beer retailer, 197, Stafford Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 30/7/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, a Collar Maker.

Apply, James Cleobury, 197, Stafford Street.”

1871 Census

197, Stafford Street

- [1] James Cleobury (35), collarmaker, born Birchills;
- [2] Sophia J. Cleobury (37), wife, born Aldridge;
- [3] Ann M. Cleobury (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] James C. Cleobury (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara L. Cleobury (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Cleobury (4), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Martha Jones (17), general servant, born Hill Top:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/6/1872

“Peane’s black bitch Guest and Bromwich’s brown dog Peter (both of Walsall) ran 200 yards for £10 a side, on handicap terms, two yards and a half to the pound, Guest scaling 26lb, Peter 23½lb, the latter receiving six yards and a quarter start. Betting opened at 6 to 4 and finished at 2 to 1 on the bitch, Mr. Bissell of Wednesbury starting them to a good slip. Peter led the way for three-quarters of the distance, when Guest got in front, and finished the winner by half a yard. Mr. Cleobury of the CROWN INN, Walsall, was referee.”

James Cleobury – see also WHITE LION, Portland Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1874

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall took place yesterday, at the Guildhall.....

The undermentioned persons applied for wine licenses.....

John Darby, beerhouse keeper, Stafford Street. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

John Darby, beerhouse keeper, Stafford Street, asked on his own behalf for a wine licence Granted.”

1881 Census

197, Stafford Street – CROWN INN

- [1] John Darby (58), married, beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Darby (21), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Arthur Darby (15), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles H. Headley (2 months), grandson, born Walsall;
- [5] John Millistrap (22), pulley dresser, born Walsall;
- [6] Charles Headley (24), son in law, coal miner, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

197, Stafford Street

- [1] Joseph Histon (43), beer retailer, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Histon (42), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Ann Histon (13), relative, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice Johnson (19), domestic servant, born Birmingham:

Joseph Histon, beer retailer, 197, Stafford Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1899 - Advert

“The CROWN INN (a noted corner Home-brewing House).....

Walter Hughes is instructed by the executors of the late Oliver Joynt to Offer for Sale by Auction, at his Auction Mart, The Bridge, Walsall, on Tuesday, 15th August, 1899, at 7pm precisely.....

Lot 1. The Valuable Freehold Corner Public House, known as the CROWN INN, being No.197, Stafford Street, Walsall, and forming the corner of Stafford Street and Portland Street, with Beer and Wine Licences, now in the occupation of Mr. Charles Merrick.

The accommodation comprises on Upper Floors, very large Clubroom, 4 Bedrooms, Hop and Malt Rooms; on Ground Floor, Bar and Smoke-room, as also Taproom, both at front, capacious Kitchen at rear, Scullery, small Brewery and Outhouses including Stable with Loft over, in enclosed Yard; whilst in the Basement are 3 excellent Cellars. There is a cart-way approach from Garden Street.

This House is held under Lease at the low old-fashioned rental of £35, but arrangement has been made by the Vendors to purchase the Leaseholder’s interest in his Lease, as also all the Trade Fixtures, Fittings, Brewing Plant and Licenses, which will be included in the sale, and possession will be given on completion if desired on the 29th September next.

Note. This is one of the best Public-houses in Walsall, it is most admirably situated, and has always done a large and lucrative trade. To a home brewing man there is a sure fortune to be made at this house, whilst to a Brewer not represented in this part of the town, it is worth special attention.....”

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. John William Chapman, the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.....
Mr. Benjamin Letts, CROWN INN, Stafford Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the Society as from 1st January, 1900.”

1901 Census

197, Stafford Street

- [1] Benjamin Letts (32), unmarried, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Harry Letts (30), brother, feeble minded, born Walsall;
- [3] Elizabeth Letts (26), sister, born Walsall;
- [4] William Letts (23), brother, currier, born Walsall;
- [5] Joseph Letts (20), brother plumber’s servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Jane Cavner (20), domestic servant, born Leicester:

Henry Gossage, beer retailer, 197, Stafford Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1905 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell St., Walsall.

Houses.....

CROWN INN (Corner of Portland Street).”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1909.

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1909 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1904. Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, 1909, at 11 o’clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

The CROWN, Stafford Street, Beerhouse. Licensee, Elijah Ford.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The principal meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, when eight beer-houses and one ale-house, the licenses of which had been referred by the licensing justices, were dealt with, and in each instance the houses were referred for compensation, which means in due course the houses will close.....

The CROWN, Stafford Street. This is another beer-house, owned by Mr. A. S. Beebee and let to Mr. Elijah Ford, under agreement, at £60 per year. Mr. F. S. Wilson-Smith represented the parties concerned, and pointed out that it was an ante-’69 house, in which the three previous tenants had made incompetencies. The present owner purchased the property in April, 1905, and the tenant, who was paying £60 a year for it, was quite content to pay a portion of income tax that was allotted to him. Further Mr. Beebee considered it rather a hardship upon him to have two houses taken away from him in one neighbourhood in so short a time.....

The Bench having heard each case separately retired to consider their decision. In returning, the Mayor intimated that the renewals authority report would be adopted, and all the houses referred for compensation.”

CROWN

43, (7), Upper Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mr. Daniels, Worcester

Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.

James Allen

LICENSEES

Mills [1855]

Griffiths [1860]
Ann Binns [1861]
John Oakes [1862]
John Lester [1862] – [1870]
Luke Riley [1868] – [1871]
John Bayley [1872];
Joseph Wedge [];
Lawrence Belcher [];
William Woolley [];
Martin Faughey [1881];
Martin McTye [];
Charles Henry Worley [];
John Barrick [];
George Berry [] – 1886);
Joseph Evans (1886 – 1887);
John Stanley Flynn (1887):

NOTES

7, Upper Rushall Street [1861], [1862], [1864], [1870], [1872]
43, Upper Rushall Street [1871]

It was formerly known as the CARPENTERS ARMS. [1872]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/10/1855

“Commemoration Of The Fall Of Sebastopol. Between 70 and 80 of the most respected tradesmen of this borough assembled on Tuesday evening at Mr. Mills, the CROWN INN, Upper Rushall Street, when a dinner was served up in a style that reflects much credit on the catering and liberality of the host and hostess. Councillor B. Abnett presided, and Mr. N. Roper, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, occupied the vice-chair. An excellent glee party was in attendance, and the proceedings were conducted in the most enthusiastic and harmonious manner.”

Walsall Free Press 26/6/1858

“John Lynch, John Connolly, Thomas Gately, and Patrick Gately were charged with having on the night of Saturday week assaulted Thomas Lawley. It appears that the prisoners had been enjoying themselves with some of their national drink and their national jigs, in the CROWN, Beerhouse in Upper Rushall Street, when an Englishman, whose name did not transpire, by way of varying the performance, got up to dance an English hornpipe; but scarcely had the dancer commenced, when Thomas Gately went up and tried to stop him, whereupon complainant gave it as his opinion that the man had as good a right to have his hornpipe as they had to have their jigs, and for this gratis advice Patrick Gately gave Lawley a blow on the face, and Thomas Gately, not wishing to be behind with his namesake, pitched into Lawley in a similar manner, as did also Connolly and Lynch. After hearing the evidence the Bench sentenced the prisoners each to pay 10s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for twenty-one days.”

Walsall Free Press 8/12/1860 - Advert

“The CROWN Public House, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.

To Be Disposed Of, the above Public House well situated in Walsall, near to the Market Place, and now doing a good business, in the occupation of Mr. Griffiths.

The Stock, Fixtures, Brewing Utensils, &c., which are very good will be required to be taken to in the usual way.

For further particulars apply to H. Farrington, Appraiser, 10, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1861 Census

7, Upper Rushall Street

[1] Ann Binns (58), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Jane Hill (14), general servant, born Walsall:

John Lester, retailer of beer, 7, Upper Rushall Street. [1862]

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1862 - Advert

“Hallo! Look Here! Just Arrived Prime London Porter.

To be sold at 5d per Quart, in or out doors, To Be Had Only at Mr. John Oakes’s Porter Stores, CROWN INN, Upper Rushall Street.

Prime Home-brewed Ales, Cigars, and Tobacco.”

John Lester, beer retailer and carpenter, 7, Upper Rushall Street. [1864], [1868], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1868

“Luke Riley, landlord of the CROWN, Upper Rushall Street, was fined 30s and costs, for having had his house open for the sale of beer at five minutes past nine o’clock on Sunday morning last. Defendant had been previously convicted.”

1871 Census

43, Upper Rushall Street

[1] Luke Riley (48), publican, born Ireland;

[2] Sarah Ann Riley (48), wife, born Tamworth:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Mr. Glover then applied for the renewal of the licenses of the undermentioned, whose licenses were suspended on licensing day.....

Luke Riley, beerhouse keeper, Rushall Street. Refused.”

John Bayley, beer retailer, 7, Upper Rushall Street. [1872]

The licensee was fined 20s and costs, on 22nd September 1873, for Sunday trading.

The licensee was fined 50s and costs, on 4th December 1874, for Sunday trading.

John Stanley Flynn – see also BLACK HORSE.

The magistrates refused to renew the license at the Adjourned Licensing Meeting 23rd September 1887.

The license was not applied for.

CROWN

1, Walhouse Street / 108, Lichfield Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Airston [1853] – [1862]

Jane Airston (1863 – 1866);

James Robertson (1866 – []

NOTES

It was known as the LETTERS. [1862]

1, Walhouse Street [1860]

108, Lichfield Street [1861]

William Airston = William Airstone

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

“At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last, eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers’ licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.....

William Airston, Lichfield Street.”

1861 Census

108, Lichfield Street

[1] William Airston (60), tea and spirit dealer, born Scotland;

[2] Jane Airston (53), wife, born Scotland;

[3] Margaret Airston (25), daughter, teacher, born Walsall;

[4] Eubalus Airston (22), son, none, born Walsall;

- [5] Jane Airston (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] William Airston (17), son, saddler's journeyman clerk, born Walsall;
- [7] Amelia Airston (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] John James Airston (12), son, born Walsall;
- [9] William Patterson (35), boarder, draper's traveller, born Scotland:

Walsall Free Press 19/12/1863 - Deaths

“On the 12th inst, aged sixty-two years, Mr. William Airston.”

CROWN

Pelsall Common, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Stackhouse [1831] – [1861]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/11/1831

“On Saturday night, the 30th ult, Mr. John Moss, farmer, of Norton, returning home between eleven and twelve o'clock, in approaching his residence, thought he heard a horse coming towards him at a slow pace, and soon after observed three men get over the gates into his yard. Mr. M. went secretly by another door into the house and called up his sons, who, with their father, armed themselves, and proceeded in quest of the supposed robbers, whom they found employed in bagging the poultry. A severe contest ensued between Mr. M. who was armed with a poker, and one of the three men, armed with a crow bar, in which both were bruised about the head, but the villain at length surrendered; and another was captured by one of Mr. M.'s sons; the third escaped unperceived. Two bags were found in possession of the thieves, (one of them with two couple of fowls in it, belonging to Mr. Moss), and the horse they had with them was stolen from Mr. Stackhouse, of the CROWN INN, Pelsall. The bridle on the horse was also stolen. The prisoners were detained at Norton on Sunday, in the care of a constable, on Monday morning conveyed to Walsall, where the case underwent an investigation before Charles Smith Forster, Esq, one of the magistrates for the county, by whom they were committed to our county gaol for trial. The names of the prisoners were Thomas Wright and Isaac Haywood.”

Staffordshire Observer 10/3/1832

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Thomas Wright and Isaac Haywood, were indicted for stealing a mare, at the parish of Pelsall, on the 26th of October, the property of Thomas Stackhouse. Mr. Corbett conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Godson the defence.

The prosecutor proved the loss of the mare, which was taken out of a field during the night, in order to fix the guilt of the robbery upon the prisoners, Mr. John Moss, of Norton, deposed, that about the middle of the night in question, being outside his house he heard the noise of a horse's footsteps coming up a bye lane, and that the noise changed and became faint when the horse seemed to be within seventy or eighty yards of the spot where he stood. Shortly afterwards he saw two men come from the same direction where he heard the footsteps, and get over a wall which protected his brother's out-buildings. Mr. M. immediately called his sons up, and the prisoners were captured in a cart-hovel. The horse was found next morning in a field within a short distance of the place where Mr. Moss heard the footsteps become faint as from the animal being turned upon the turf, and a bridle was also discovered suspended to the hedge of the same inclosure. The foot-marks between the field of the prosecutor and that wherein the mare was found, corresponded to the prisoner's shoes.

The Jury not agreeing in their verdict, were directed to retire, and a fresh jury was summoned. In a little time the Foreman of the old set returned into court with his companions, and gave a verdict of guilty. Judgement of Death was recorded.”

1851 Census

Pelsall Common

- [1] Thomas Stackhouse (64), victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Lydia Stackhouse (57), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] William Stackhouse (35), son, engineer, born Pelsall;
- [4] Josiah Stackhouse (18), son, roll turner, born Pelsall;
- [5] George Stackhouse (13), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Eliza Stackhouse (8), granddaughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Free Press 7/9/1861

“Thomas Stackhouse applied for a renewal of his license of the CROWN at Pelsall, under the following circumstances. His house it would appear had lately been dis-used in consequence of repairs, and the license having lapsed, he wished to renew it. He had had a victualler’s license for fifty years, and had never been once before the magistrates during that period. The application was postponed to that day fortnight.”

CROWN AND ANCHOR

Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

George Cressell [1828] – [1830]

Thomas Taylor [1834] – [1835]

William Miner [1841] – [1842]

NOTES

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 13/8/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by private Contract, the Licences, Goodwill, and possession of that desirable Public House, known by the sign of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, most eligibly situated in Lower Rushall Street, in the Foreign of Walsall, upon the turnpike road to Lichfield, comprising five sleeping-rooms, large club-room, two front parlours, kitchen, commodious bar, with a four-pull beer machine, four excellent cellars, store room, brewhouse, with malt-room over, capital dairy, stabling for 15 horses, and piggeries. At the back of the house is a running stream of soft Water, adjoining a valuable piece of Pasture Land, comprising about seven Acres, which will be let with the house.

N.B. There are two Clubs attached, and Col. Walhouse’s half-yearly rent dinners are regularly held at this house, and the coming-in tenant may take to the whole or part of the furniture.

The usual effects to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For further particulars and to treat apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Park Street, Walsall, or at his offices, Bath Street, Birmingham.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 11/4/1831 - Advert

“.....E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall, who has also the letting of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Lower Rushall Street.”

Check North Street.

CROWN AND ANCHOR

(Lower) North Street, Ryecroft, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Miner [1845]

John Plant [1849] – [1850]

Sampson Davis [1851]

George Keeling [1855]

Joseph Taylor [1857]

James Baker [1860]

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/4/1847

“On Wednesday evening last, an inquest was held before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, at the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, Ryecroft, near Walsall, on the body of Eliza Tonks. It appears that the deceased was at work at a coal pit bank in the Ryecroft colliery, on Tuesday last. She was engaged in pushing an empty skip along the railroad to the pit mouth. The skip went along at great velocity, and before she could stop it fell into the pit, and the deceased still continuing to hold it, also fell down the pit and was killed. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1851 Census

North Street

- [1] Sampson Davis (41), currier, born Middleton, Warwickshire;
- [2] Maria Davis (42), wife, born Sutton, Warwickshire;
- [3] John Davis (15), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Maria Margaret Davis (11), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [5] Robert James Davis (3), son, born Rushall;

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/5/1851 - Advert

“Sale at the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, Lower North Street, Ryecroft, Walsall.

G. Allin will Sell by Auction, on Wednesday next, the 7th day of May, 1851, upon the premises as above, all the clean and useful Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. Sampson Davis.

Particulars in catalogues, now in circulation, may be had at the Office of the Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.

Sale to commence at eleven o'clock.

The above old-licensed House, with Shopping and Premises at back, to be Let, and may be entered upon immediately.

For rent, and further particulars, apply to G. Allin, Surveyor, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

London Gazette 5/6/1855

“Whereas a Petition of George Keeling, formerly of Green-lane, Walsall, Staffordshire, Provision Dealer and Baker, then of Green-lane, Walsall aforesaid, Provision Dealer and Baker, and at the same time carrying on business at the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Ryecroft, in the parish of Rushall, Staffordshire, as a Licensed Victualler and Provision Dealer, and then and now of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Ryecroft, in the parish of Rushall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Provision Dealer, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said George Keeling, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said George Keeling is hereby required to appear before said Court, on the 15th day of June instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination, touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said George Keeling, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Clerk of the said Court, at his office, in Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1857

“Joseph Taylor, landlord of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Ryecroft, was fined 20s and costs for keeping his house open for the sale of beer at one o'clock on Sunday morning last.”

London Gazette 25/12/1857

“Whereas a Petition of Joseph Taylor, of North-street, Ryecroft, in the parish of Rushall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Journeyman Saddle Tree Maker, and Tailor, and formerly of Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, Journeyman Saddle Tree Maker, Tailor, and Huckster, an insolvent debtor having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Taylor under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Taylor is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 14th of January next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditor's assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Joseph Taylor, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Esq., Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Check Lower Rushall Street.

CROWN AND ANCHOR

59+61, West Bromwich Street (Road) / Little London, Doveridge, WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Marsh, Sandwell Street, Walsall
John Ricketts (acquired in 1880)
Atkinsons Ltd. [1900], [1920s]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1959)
Courage Ltd. (acquired in 1978)

LICENSEES

Charles Poppleton [1872] – [1881]
John Ricketts [1881] – 1897);
William Bailey (1897 – 1898);
George Reay (1898 – 1904);
George Marshall (1904 – 1905);
Walter Brompton (1905 – 1908);
Arthur Bucknell (1908 – 1909);
William Sanders Sanders (1909 – 1930);
Ernest Charles Williams (1930 – 1936);
James Kenealey (1936 – 1940);
Samuel Richard Hipkiss (1940 – 1941);
Ernest Robinson (1941 – 1944);
James Kenealey (1944 – 1949);
Edward Kennison (1949 – 1952);
George Dennis Weaver (1952 – 1953);
Edward Weston (1953 – 1954);
William Chilton (1954 – 1959);
Vincent Geoffrey Maun (1959 – 1960);
George Alfred Hall (1960);
George Albert Adams (1960 – 1964);
Paul Bevan Walton (1964 – 1965);
Gregory Joseph Insull (1965 – 1966);
Carl Norman Walker (1966 – []
Patrick Joseph Cahill and John Philip Prior [2007]

NOTES

West Bromwich Road [1898]

CROWN [1876]

It had a beerhouse license.

Charles Poppleton, beer retailer, Little London. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/8/1876

“On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, on the body of John Giles, aged 22, who was killed on the previous Wednesday evening in the course of an affray between himself and a man named William Bond, under circumstances stated in last week’s Advertiser. Mr. Glover attended on behalf of Bond, who was present in custody, and Chief-supt. Cater represented the authorities. The evidence of several witnesses showed that on the day named the deceased and the prisoner met at the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, and the deceased used bad language to Bond and accused him of having told lies about him. Bond removed into the bar for the purpose of avoiding Giles, and subsequently went to the skittle alley in the yard. Giles for a time remained in the house abusing Bond, and offering to stake money to fight him. When he went on to the alley, and with much bad language challenged Bond to fight, and pulled out money to stake on the encounter, Bond refused to fight, saying he had a wife and a family to keep, but after enduring much provocation from Giles and being taxed with cowardice by the on-lookers, he jumped up and the two fell to fighting and fought four or five rounds. In the last round Bond struck Giles with the right hand, and as the latter was falling or reeling, hit him again somewhere near the right ear with the left hand. Giles then fell and almost immediately expired. Giles stripped and tied a handkerchief round his waist while challenging Bond, who already had his jacket off, he having been bowling. Dr. James Maclachlan, who made a post mortem examination of the body, deposed that the face, neck, and upper limbs were much swollen and covered with contusions, the left ear and left side of the face being quite black, as were both hands. The two principal contusions were over the right frontal eminence and behind the ear, a less extensive one being over the occipital prominence. The veins of the brain were engorged with blood, and a quantity of effused blood, about 2ozs, occupied the posterior part of the base of the brain. It appeared to have issued from the right lateral sinus, which was ruptured. He was satisfied that death was caused by the effusion of blood at the base of the brain, and was of opinion that the rupture of the sinus was caused by external violence, such as a blow inflicted at the back of the ear. If the deceased was a drunken man the injury would be more likely to be produced, because the vessel under such circumstances would be in an unhealthy condition.

The Coroner, in summing up, said there was nothing in the evidence that would justify a verdict of wilful murder; but, unfortunately for the prisoner, who was very unwillingly drawn into fighting the deceased, he was afraid there was no escape from a verdict of Manslaughter.

The jury, after a short consultation, found a verdict of Manslaughter against Bond, adding that they considered the fight begun under very great provocation from the deceased.

The Coroner committed the prisoner for trial at the assizes, and adjourned the Court till Monday afternoon for a preparation of the warrant of committal.

In answer to Mr. Glover, he said he should be prepared to admit the prisoner to bail, himself in £100 and two sureties in £50 each. On Monday the Court resumed, and bail was accepted on the terms named above. The prisoner was not liberated, however, until after he had been taken before the magistrates on the following morning.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session. Mr. Glover applied for the renewal of the licences to Charles Poppleton, the CROWN beerhouse, Doveridge all the licenses were withheld on the licensing day he made explanations with reference to the causes of the suspension of their licenses Mr. Poppleton's were renewed with cautions The Mayor also stated that the Bench intended to take notice of all evidence that might come before them, and use it against the victuallers at the next licensing session.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/4/1877

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.

William Bond, on bail, was indicted for killing and slaying John Giles, at the borough of Walsall, on the 16th of August. Mr. John Rose conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Underhill defended the prisoner.

The prisoner and the deceased were both at the CROWN AND ANCHOR public-house, kept by Charles Poppleton, at Doveridge, Walsall. Some words passed between them in the tap-room, and the deceased making use of bad language, he was reprimanded by the landlord. The prisoner then went into the bowling alley attached to the public-house, and engaged in a game at bowls.

After a short time the deceased also went into the bowling alley, and again assailed the prisoner with strong language, while accusing him of having said something which was likely to get him (deceased) into trouble. The deceased then pulled off his coat and waistcoat and challenged prisoner to fight. The prisoner at first declined the invitation, but upon some bystanders taunting him with cowardice, he faced deceased, and they fought three or four rounds. In the last round the deceased was ‘knocked out of time’ – as one witness put it. He never spoke again, and died upon the alley. Dr. Maclachlan, who made the post mortem examination of the body, found, with other injuries, a large contusion at the back of the ear, and that death had resulted from effusion of blood upon the brain, caused by blows. It appeared that the prisoner was a man who had borne a good character.

Mr. Underhill (on the conclusion of the case for the prosecution): Does your Lordship think this case is also on the line? – His Lordship: I shall leave it for the jury.

The learned counsel then addressed the jury, contending that the prisoner had acted in self-defence, and that any person who had reason to fear an attack by another was imminent had a right to defend himself with such weapons as nature had given him.

The Learned Judge briefly summed up, remarking that the features of the case were to his mind rather favourable to the prisoner than otherwise; and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.”

Lichfield Mercury 17/9/1880

“The adjourned annual licensing session took place on Friday, at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie), applied for a spirit license on behalf of Mr. Charles Poppleton, of the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Road, and at the same time explaining that the application was practically on behalf of John Ricketts, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Wolverhampton Street, who had bought the premises, his own house being among those to be removed under the improvement scheme.”

1881 Census

Doveridge

- [1] John Ricketts (36), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Ricketts (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Samuel Ricketts (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] John Ricketts (9), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Frederick Ricketts (7), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Ricketts (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Lynex (17), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [8] James Wood (62), lodger, born Walsall;
- [9] Joseph Booker (39), lodger, born Walsall;
- [10] Ellen J. Booker (27), lodger, born West Bromwich;
- [11] Henry Booker (3 months), lodger, born Walsall;

Walsall Observer 16/5/1885

“A new lodge of the Caledonian Corks was opened on Tuesday night last at Bro. J. Ricketts’, CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Road, by the officers of the Great Lodge Philanthropist, No.329 of the Order.

36 new members were initiated, and many others were left over till next lodge night.

Bro. Captain Lockley congratulated the new brothers on the capital start they had made, and referred to the great strides Corkism had made all over the district. He also alluded to the many benefits that working men would receive by belonging to the order.”

1891 Census

West Bromwich Road – CROWN AND ANCHOR

[1] John Ricketts (47), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Betsy Ricketts (43), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Emma Ray Ricketts (17), [probably daughter], born Walsall;

[4] Betsy Ricketts (11), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Jane Ricketts (9), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

John Ricketts, keeper of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Road, applied for a license to sell all intoxication liquors on or off the premises.

Mr. J. N. Cotterell appeared in support of the application, which was opposed by Mr. F. Bill, on behalf of the proprietor of the JOLLY BACCHUS; by Mr. Checkley on behalf of Mr. Stanley [the Gospel Temperance Union], and by the Chief Constable. Mr. Cotterell described the house as a splendid old-fashioned house, which was well suited in every way for a full license. The place was well known for the good ale brewed there, and the applicant was a most suitable person.

The applicant having been examined, the Mayor said he must continue to brew good ale. The Bench could not grant him a new license.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall were opened on Wednesday at the Guildhall, the Mayor in the chair.....

Mr. J. N. Cotterell made what he said might be described as his annual application for the granting of a full license to Mr. Ricketts, of the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, West Bromwich Road. Mr. Plant (Dudley) opposed on behalf of Mrs. Ross, of the OLD KINGS ARMS; Mr. Stanley, on behalf of the temperance party. Mr. Bill stated that he was instructed to oppose, but in view of what had taken place that morning, Mr. Brookes did not think it gracious to oppose.

Mr. Cotterell said that Mr. Ricketts was an ideal publican, who looked to his house for a living. During 25 years he had never been at the Court except voluntarily. The house was in the centre of a new district. They were the first to ask for the license, and if a license was to be granted it should be to Mr. Ricketts.

Mr. Plant urged that the house was not any more necessary today that when at first refused. Refused.”

John Ricketts, beer retailer, 61, West Bromwich Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

Mr. J. N. Cottrell applied on behalf of John Ricketts, CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Road, for a full license. Mr. Herbert opposed on behalf of the Walsall Temperance Federation (Messrs. Alfred Stanley, J. Bunting, George Wain, J. Powis, T. Page, and A. Woolley, and the Rev. J. Rhodes); Mr. Pearman Smith opposed on behalf of the owner of the nearest fully-licensed house, the KINGS ARMS; and the Chief Constable said that he also must oppose.

Mr. Cotterell said the application was one which he had made for a number of years, and he knew he had to get over very deeply-rooted disposition on the part of the Bench against the granting of any new license in Walsall. That disposition and unwritten resolution he had nothing to say against, but he did wish to draw the attention of the Bench to the general aspect of the application. First of all, the Bench might ask what was the difference between the present application and that which he had made for many years past. There was no difference in the application, but there was a great difference in the circumstances, for as he had truthfully stated every year, the number of houses in the neighbourhood was increasing continually. If the Bench would carry their minds back some twenty years they would remember Caldmore was then an outlying district – nothing more in fact, than a small hamlet adjacent to Walsall – and contained nothing more than green fields and open country; so much so in fact, that at that time it was regarded as dangerous ground, and an association for the prosecution of felons was started in the neighbourhood. Ten years ago the district was only half built up, while now the neighbourhood was one of the most densely populated districts of the town. The ward now contained double the population of some of the other wards, and the Council had lately granted a fourth polling district. During the last twenty years no new license had been granted, but he certainly thought it was no just reason that because one street in Walsall possessed thirty licensed houses, thirty streets in another part should not have more than one between them. More than two thousand houses had been erected since any new license was granted in the district, and it was a rank injustice to the population that their wants were not met.

The Magistrates’ Clerk said he thought that was a remark and reflection upon the Bench, which he was sure Mr. Cotterell did not mean, and would withdraw.

Mr. Cotterell replied that it was no reflection on the Bench, but he really did think it was a rank injustice that there should be no license in a district which contained such an enormous mass of people. The freehold was Mr. Ricketts’s own property, and there was no one at the back of him. The granting of the application would not increase the number of licenses in the borough.

Mr. Ricketts said he had managed and owned the house for 16 years.

The Chief Constable explained that the house was 220 yards away from the WHITE LION, 260 yards from the KINGS ARMS, 350 from the WHITE HART, and 436 from the UNION INN, Bath Street.

Mr. Herbert said that as that was a court of justice he should not endeavour to emulate the peculiar eloquence of Mr. Councillor Cotterell, whose remarks, he thought, were more in the nature of a political speech than an argument for Mr. Ricketts's application. He submitted that the requirements of the neighbourhood were already sufficiently met by the existing houses, and he hoped the Bench would do Mr. Cotterell the justice of allowing him to retain the annuity which the making of that application provided him. Mr. Pearman-Smith based his objection on the ground that the granting of the application would increase the value of the CROWN AND ANCHOR at the expense of the OLD KINGS ARMS. Application Refused."

John Ricketts – see also WHITE ROSE.

George Reay = George Ray

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

"The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon....

Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith applied for the approval of the plans of certain alterations proposed to be made to the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, West Bromwich Road, kept by Mr. George Ray, and owned by Atkinson's Brewery Co. Ltd, Aston. He said the proposed alterations to the drinking portion of the house were practically nil. The alterations were chiefly outside, and would be a public improvement. The house stood at the corner of an opening leading up to Bath Road. Some old structures, closets, &c, which abutted on that open space and were an eyesore, were to be down, together with some old cottages which had been closed for some years at the request of the police in order that the house might have better supervision. In place of them it was proposed to put up coal-houses, conveniences, and stabling for three horses. The place was used by people who attended football and cricket matches, and whilst the drinking area would not be interfered with a decided public improvement would be made.

Mr. Stanley [temperance movement] said it was a shame that amusements and drink should go together, and that football and cricket should be followed by such debauch.

Mr. Beebee: Do you object to the old closets open to your view being removed, and put in to another place where it will be almost impossible to see them?

Mr. Stanley: I know that house too well.

Mr. Jackson: I am sorry for that (laughter).

Mr. Stanley said he had not seen the plans, and no notice of the application had been given to him (laughter).

Mr. Pearman-Smith said the plans had been deposited in the usual way. The Streets Committee were now negotiating for the giving up of the old grounds now occupied by the buildings abutting on the open space.

The application was granted."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

George Reay, CROWN AND ANCHOR, served 10 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution."

Walsall Observer 14/4/1900

"After considerable structural alterations, additions, and modernizing, which has been carried out at the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Road, by Mr. W. Wistance, contractor and builder, &c, of this town, and under the direction of Messrs. J. Belcher and Son, of Darlaston and Wednesbury for Messrs. Atkinson's, Aston Park Brewery, the house was formally re-opened on Monday evening. Mr. George Reay, the landlord, gave the house warming to his friends, customers, and the workmen, when about eighty sat down to a good substantial supper, which was splendidly served. After the cloth was drawn, Mr. W. Wistance occupied the chair....."

1901 Census

West Bromwich Street – CROWN AND ANCHOR

[1] George Reay (49), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Reay (49), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Ellen Carrol (25), daughter, married, barmaid, born Walsall;

[4] Frank Reay (16), son, plumber, born Walsall;

[5] Frederick Reay (17), nephew, harness maker, born Walsall;

[6] William Reay (13), son, born Walsall;

[7] George A. Reay (2), son, born Walsall;

[8] Emily Bagley (30), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 10/5/1902

“George Reay, landlord of the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, Westbromwich Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness and for selling intoxicating liquor to one John Derry, a person then drunk, on April 28th.

John Derry, Boney Hay, was summoned for being drunk on the CROWN AND ANCHOR premises.

Mr. S. A Newman, who appeared to defend, asked that the case be adjourned for a week, and there being on opposition, this was granted.”

[The case was dismissed.]

Walsall Advertiser 16/5/1903

“George Reay, residing at the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN, West Bromwich Street, was charged with persistent cruelty to his wife, and thereby causing her to leave him. The case had previously been adjourned for a month, during which time defendant was ordered to pay his wife 5s a week. Complainant said her husband had promised to get her a home in a month.

The magistrates again adjourned the case for 28 days to see what would be done, defendant in the meanwhile to continue to pay her the 5s weekly.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

George Marshall, beer and wine retailer, 61, West Bromwich Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

George Reay, CROWN AND ANCHOR.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable asked that the renewal of the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Street, should stand over to the adjourned sessions, ‘on account of something which had just occurred.’ The renewal was accordingly postponed.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/2/1908

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

On the application of Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman, the Bench granted a new license in respect of the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Street, to Arthur Bucknell (the well-known professional cricketer). Mr. Newman explained that the previous license holder, Walter Brompton, had left the house without giving any notice, the license therefore lapsing; and he had written to the Chief Constable intimating his intention of not returning.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

Mr. E. J. Pearman-Smith applied for a full license for the CROWN AND ANCHOR, it being urged that there was a good demand for spirits in that particular district.

Mr. S. A. Newman, for the OLD KINGS HEAD, and the WHITE LION, opposed the application, and contended that it was a hardy perennial, which he himself made about 25 years ago, and was then surprised that he was refused – (laughter).

Evidence in support of the application was given by George James, commission agent, of 16, Cambridge Street, and James Eggington (a neighbouring shopkeeper), and Mr. Bucknell, landlord, said he had a book showing the large applications made for spirits.

The Rev. A. H. Lee, in opposing the application, intimated that there was a large deputation present that morning, representing the Women’s Temperance Association, who desired to tender their thanks to the magistrates for the reduction that had been effected in the number of houses.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

The first application was that made by Mr. Pearman-Smith asking for the removal of the ale-house license of the VAULTS, High Street, to the beerhouse, CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

Mr. Pearman-Smith contended that the district was a most respectable one, and there was a need for a spirit license.

Mr. James Cox, the present licensee of the VAULTS, stated that he was on annual tenancy, and that if the license was transferred, and the house closed, he was quite willing, as he had arranged to be satisfactorily compensated.

Mr. Pearman-Smith, stated it would mean the closing of one house, and in addition his clients were prepared to surrender in addition an off-beer license, with which was a grocer’s wine and spirit license. Mr. Newman opposing on behalf of Messrs. Showell’s Brewery, stated that if the application was granted, it would create a precedent for granting spirit licenses every 160 yards. He remembered that when an off-license was granted in this locality, 12 months ago, three licenses were given up. Surely if one off-license was worth three, a spirit license should be worth a dozen. Mr. F. E. Bill (Bill and Clark, Birmingham), also appeared in opposition, and said that there were four public houses in close proximity. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/9/1909

“Some interesting information respecting the trade done at the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, Walsall, came to light at the Guildhall, on Tuesday, when an application was made for the transfer of the license from Mr. Arthur Bucknell, the well-known Smethwick and Staffordshire County cricketer to Mr. W. S. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders informed the Bench that he was to be a tenant of the house, and not an agent, and was to pay an annual rent of £52. Mr. Bucknell was then questioned by the Chief Constable and the Magistrates’ Clerk (Mr. Loxton), as follows:

Chief Constable: Did you give notice to leave the house? – Mr. Bucknell: No.

You received notice? – Yes.

You were a tenant? – Yes.

What was your annual rental? – £52.

Do you know why they determined the tenancy – No.

Does the amount of trade done at that place admit of your keeping a servant? – No.

And it is a large house? – Yes.

Could you maintain a family on the trade of the place without going to work at something else? – Not my family.

Would the trade maintain you and your wife, and could you save money? – Well it would maintain we two, but there would be nothing to put away.

It might maintain husband and wife, but not a family, and you could not save anything? – That is so.

Is there any trade during the day? – Very little indeed.

You are well-known? You are a cricketer? – Yes.

So I suppose there is a little amount of attraction? – I get a good many friends to see me.

It was through you that an application was made for a full license for the place at the last annual sessions? – Yes.

And that was eventually refused? – Yes.

And within a few months you get notice? – Yes.

How long is it since you received notice? – Three months.

How long have you been in the house? – About fifteen or sixteen months when I received notice.

Was it an annual tenancy? – It was subject to three months’ notice from any date.

You spent some money I believe in making the place comfortable for yourself? – I spent a good deal of money on the garden.

For your own comfort? – To keep the place respectable.

Has the Brewery Company allowed you anything for that? – No.

I think they positively declined? – Well, there had been nothing done yet.

Did you put it to them? – When I acknowledged their notice, I wrote about it, but nothing has resulted satisfactorily. I asked them to put me in communication with the future tenant, but nothing came of it.

Do these figures represent the taking for the month of August, including Bank Holiday? – Yes. The total receipts for the month were £55 5s 5d, and the payments were £48 8s 2d, leaving a balance of £6 17s 2d. And of course the winter months there would be coal to pay for.

And out of that you have to feed and clothe your wife and yourself – I should have to do it if I had not another occupation.

And in the winter you would have to pay for coal out of it? – Yes.

And you have to pay for the gas? – Of course the gas bill would be considerably heavier in the winter.

Magistrates’ Clerk: Does that include any rates or taxes? – No, the Brewery Company pays them.

Chief Constable: Do you burn a ton a coal a week there in the winter? – Very nearly.

Mr Sanders, the prospective tenant, then went into the box, and was asked by the Magistrates’ Clerk whether he knew anything about the trade of the house.

Mr. Sanders: Yes, I knew it was not a very big trade, but I hope I shall be able to improve a little. I thought if it did not actually pay, I should be able to get some employment during the daytime to help me out.

Magistrates’ Clerk: Do you think you could possibly make a living? – I am hoping so.

What are you now? – I have been an assistant brewer.

At Messrs. Atkinson’s Brewery? – Yes, I was there until a fortnight ago.

If this transfer is granted today that means Mr. Bucknell is going out at once? – Yes.

In reply to the Chief Constable, Mr. Sanders said he was a married man, with three children.

The Magistrates’ Clerk pointed out that the agreement relating to the new tenancy was only handed to him two minutes before the Court opened, and he had not had an opportunity of examining it, and in the end the application was adjourned until the transfer sessions on Wednesday next.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/10/1909

“A number of applications for the transfer of licenses came before Mr. H. D. Clarke (presiding) and other magistrates, at the Walsall Police Court, on Wednesday.....

The first application taken was that of Mr. William S. Sanders for the temporary transfer of the license of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, from Mr. Arthur Bucknell, the well-known Staffordshire county cricketer, which was part heard last week.

Mr. Maddocks (barrister), appeared to continue the application and said he wished to correct what might have been a wrong impression created upon the minds of the magistrates and upon the public by certain questions at the previous meeting. When Mr. Bucknell took the house there was an average trade of thirty-nine and a half barrels per month being done, and he saw from the paper that an impression had been given that the takings in August last were the average takings at the house. That was not so, and if one took the average monthly trade from January, 1907, to August, 1909, the month of August was practically half of any other month during that period. He thought it was only fair to say that on behalf of the house and the people who owned it. There was another point he should like to mention. Last week a statement was made regarding certain improvements in the garden, and the tenant rather expressed the opinion that he was not being paid properly for them, but as a matter of fact the owners offered to pay him accordingly to a valuation. The outgoing tenant wanted what they thought a rather unreasonable amount, and it had been settled, but from the first they had offered to pay a reasonable valuation. With regard to the transfer he believed there was no objection against Mr. Sanders, and that he would be a good tenant in every way.

The Chief Constable intimated that he had no objection, and the transfer was granted, the Chairman observing that the magistrates would further consider as to whether it was advisable to remit that matter for further consideration by the renewal authority later."

Walsall Advertiser 18/12/1909

"Several applications were made for the transfer of licenses.....

The license of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, was transferred from Arthur Bucknell to William Sanders. The Chairman observed that there too had been three transfers since 1900. The representative of Messrs. Atkinson said that the only reason they could give with regard to the last transfer was that the Brewery Company considered that Mr. Bucknell was away from home so much he was not able to have proper control of the house. Mr. Sanders was a very old servant, and they put him into the house.

The Chairman: I suppose there are ways of making a living honestly? – Mr. Loxton (Magistrates Clerk): At the last sessions there was a little misunderstanding between the outgoing tenant and the Brewery Company, and the tenant said he could not make a living. The Brewery Company's answer was that he was giving more attention to cricket than to his business. The matter was adjourned and gone into at the last Sessions, and the Justices were then prepared to grant the transfer.

Messrs. Atkinson's representative: Our present tenant has taken £21 or £22 a week."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith next asked that the application by Daniel Dalton for the removal of an alehouse license attached to the VAULTS, High Street, to the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Street, should be allowed to stand over until the adjourned meeting. This was granted.

Mr. S. Grundy intimated that he had been instructed to oppose the application on behalf of the owners and licensees of the WHITE LION, the KINGS ARMS, and the FOUR HORSE SHOES."

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared in respect of the license of the VAULTS, High Street, and said that the tenant Daniel Dalton, was doing about £12 per week.

Licensed refused."

AND

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR, Caldmore. An application was made by Mr. Pearman-Smith for the transfer of a spirit license from the VAULTS, High Street, to the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

The Rev. A. H. Lees, and Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman and Mr. H. H. Jackson on behalf of the houses in the district opposed.

Mr. Smith said that the owners were prepared to surrender a full license if the application was granted, and the name of the house was handed to the Bench. He submitted that the need of the district necessitated a spirit license at that house.

The application was refused."

Walsall Advertiser 30/4/1910

"The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR. In the case of the above house, situate in West Bromwich Street, Mr. F. S. Wilson Smith applied for the sanction of the magistrates to certain alterations. They were, he said, to the interior of the house, and consisted simply of making the outdoor department separate from the indoor trade, and making a separate entrance to it from the street.

Mr. Hickton, of Messrs. Hickton and Farmer, architects, explained the plans, and Sir Edward intimated that the magistrates wished to visit the house before giving their decision."

1911 Census

West Bromwich Street – CROWN AND ANCHOR

[1] William Sanders (42), publican, born Lingfield, Surrey;

[2] Cecilia Sanders (40), wife, married 16 years, assisting in business, born Birmingham;

[3] Stuart Sanders (14), son, school, born Aston;

[4] Daphne Sanders (12), daughter, school, born Aston;

[5] Vera Sanders (4), daughter, school, born Aston;

[6] Edith Baker (29), general servant, born Deepfields;

[7] Ada Jones (19), general servant, born Hednesford, Staffordshire:

William Sanders, beer retailer, 61, West Bromwich Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1912

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.

Mr. Frank Cooper applied on behalf of William Sanders, landlord of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, for an ale-house license, the inn at present being only a beer-house. Mr. S. A. Newman opposed the application on behalf of the WHITE LION, and the OLD KINGS ARMS, which are neighbouring public-houses, and the Rev. A. H. Lees opposed as a ratepayer and minister working in the district. This was the sixth occasion on which the application had been made.

Mr. Cooper pointed out that since the last application there had been considerable alterations in that locality, and it was a part of the borough that had grown rapidly. He had a memorial signed by no less than 350 inhabitants asking for the full-license. He was prepared to offer £650 as a monopoly value for the privilege to supply liquor.

Mr. Loxton pointed out that this was £400 less than was offered four years ago. In return for a full license an offer made to surrender the license of the VAULTS and another house. Compensation to the extent of £1,033 had been awarded for the VAULTS alone, and now the full offer was only £650.

After the Justices had retired that Chairman announced that they were not prepared to receive any offer of any kind.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1912

“The transfer Sessions of the borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.

A plan was submitted for alteration to the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

In answer to the Magistrates’ Clerk, the landlord (Mr. Sanders) said that the building was for storing bottled goods at present stored in the cellar. Further questioned, he said the building would be used to load up carts for delivering bottles from house to house on behalf of the brewers.

The Bench said they objected to anything of the kind and refused to confirm the plan.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.

CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Road. £0 19s 3d.”

A full alehouse license was transferred from NEW STATION HOTEL on 6th April 1929.

1939 Register

59+61, West Bromwich Street

[1] James Kenealey, date of birth 29/6/1893, public house manager, married;

[2] Maud Kenealey, dob 1/10/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Thomas Kenealey, dob 21/5/1922, capstan lathe hand, single;

[4] James Kenealey, dob 24/1/1925, cutter machinist, single:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.

CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street. £2 4s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.

CROWN & ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street. £1 14s 5d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1977

“Thousands of Midland drinkers will be forced to change their drinking habits next year – because of a Government report. Three major breweries are to swop 437 pubs – leaving drinkers to choose between their favourite public house or their favourite beer.

The deal was announced yesterday by Ansells, owned by Allied Breweries, Mitchells and Butlers, owned by Bass Charrington, and Courage. The move, involving public houses valued at £11,000,000, was prompted by a Monopolies Commission report seven years ago which claimed that breweries had too much of a stranglehold in certain towns and cities. Tenants and managers are being given the opportunity to stay on new terms or change to another establishment. Managers can also opt for voluntary redundancy.

M & B tenanted houses transferred to Courage.

CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, Walsall.”

It was locally listed in 2006.

Closed [2010], [2017]

CROWN AND CUSHION

37, Bridgeman Street / Queen Street (Dunn Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Shaw
Benjamin Wilkes
Thomas Roston, Rushall
George F. Vaughan
Messrs. Yardley, Darlaston
South Staffordshire Brewery Co.
Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd. [1911]
Frank Myatt Ltd. (leased)
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

D Dutton [1858]
Thomas Smith [1861] – [1865]
James Mold [] – 1869;
Samuel Brown (1869 – [])
Benjamin Wilkes [1871] – [1881];
Martha Alice Wilkes [];
George F Vaughan [] – 1887;
James Oldham (1887 – 1894);
George Wright (1894 – 1907);
Annie Wright (1907 – 1911);
George Sidwell (1911 – 1912);
Alfred Young (1912 – 1913);
George Sidwell (1913 – 1923);
Edwin Arthur Poulton (1923 – 1926);
Ernest Joseph Glover (1926 – 1928);
Henry Davis (1928 – 1929);
Albert Smith (1929 – 1930);
John Cockbill (1930 – 1939);
Albert Edwards (1939 – 1940);
Sidney Ganner (1940 – 1947);
William Boys (1947 – 1949);
Gerald Hubert Hopkins (1949 – 1952);
John Bott (1952 – 1955);
John Charles Bishop (1955 – 1960);
Henry George Edward Mason (1960);
Leonard Jones (1960 – 1961);
Frank Harold Newall (1961 – 1963);
Samuel Hand (1963 – 1964);
Margaret Castrey (1964 – 1965);
Peter Kenneth Smith (1965);
Ivy Shaw (1965);
Jack Pargiter (1965 – 1966);
Leonard Philip Chapman (1966 – 1967);
George Edward Morris (1967);
Betty Elizabeth Butter (1967 – [])
William Boys [1967]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license,

A wine license was granted.

D. Dutton, beerhouse, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1858]

1861 Census

37, Bridgeman Street – Beer House – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Thomas Smith (47), railway signal man, born Worcester;
- [2] Mary Ann Smith (54), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Smith (22), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] James Smith (20), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Smith (17), son, stirrup filer, born Walsall:

Thomas Smith, retailer of beer, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1862]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/9/1862

“J. Paddock of Walsall informs Rees, if he is not satisfied, he will run him 100 yards level, and give him the choice of sides, at Aston Cross Grounds, or he will run Gibbs 200 yards if he will give him a yard start, or Marsh the like distance with three yards start, or run Broadhurst 100 yards level, for £5 or £10 a side. Either match can be made at Smith's CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street, Walsall, any night during the week.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/10/1862

“T. Paddock of Walsall will run any lad of the same place (17 years of age) 120 yards, or he will run Bauker the like distance with three yards start, or Seabright with two yards, or Marsh the like distance, or Thacker with five yards, or Gibbs level; either match for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Mr. Smith's, CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street, Walsall, any time next week.”

T. Smith, beer retailer, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

Thomas Smith, Bridgeman Street.” [Refused]

Walsall Free Press 15/8/1868 - Advert

“To Be Let, a Beer-house, the CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street.
Apply on the premises.”

Benjamin Wilkes = Benjamin Wilks

1871 Census

37, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Benjamin Wilks (29), beer seller, born James Bridge;
- [2] Emma Wilks (32), wife, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Mr. Glover then applied for the renewal of the licenses of the undermentioned, whose licenses were suspended on licensing day.....

Benjamin Wilkes, beerhouse keeper, Bridgeman Street. Granted.”

Benjamin Wilkes, beer retailer, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1872]

1881 Census

37, Bridgeman Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Benjamin Wilkes (39), brewer, born James Bridge;
- [2] Eliza Wilkes (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Martha Ann Wilkes (15), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Catherine Fisher (15), general servant, born Hints, Staffordshire:
[Hints is about 3 miles W of Tamworth.]

Evening Star 7/6/1882

“William Taylor, of Bridgeman Street, was fined 5s and costs, or in default 10 days imprisonment, for assaulting a married woman, named Maria Rowley, in the CROWN AND CUSHION, on Saturday last. The woman had gone to see her husband, and the defendand called her foul names and tried to strike her.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of James Oldham, CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street. Refused.”

1891 Census

37+38, Bridgeman Street

- [1] James Oldham (35), public house manager, born Derby;
 - [2] Grace Oldham (31), wife, born Barrow on Soar, Derbyshire;
 - [3] Gerty Oldham (3), daughter, born Barrow on Soar, Derbyshire;
 - [4] Mary Parker (17), general servant, born Wolverhampton:
- [Barrow upon Soar is in Leicestershire.]

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1891

“At the Guildhall yesterday, John Wilkinson (19), Birchill’s Green, was charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm upon William Ruddle, tube welder. It seems that on Monday night the parties were playing ‘tip it,’ at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bridgeman Street. A quarrel arose, and when the men got outside blows were exchanged between some of them, according to the evidence, the prisoner took a knife from his pocket and stabbed the prosecutor with it in the thigh. Dr. Wilson said it was a superficial wound. The prisoner was committed for trial at the quarter sessions, but was admitted to bail, himself in £10, and a surety in the same amount.”

George Wright, beer retailer, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1896], [1904]

1901 Census

37, Bridgeman Street

- [1] George Wright (40), tavern keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Wright (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Wright (17), son, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Wright (15), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [5] Leonard Wright (6), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Wright (67), father, widower, living on own means, born Grendon, Warwickshire;
- [7] Thomas Wright (43), brother, barman, born Walsall;
- [8] John Williams (17), boarder, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [9] Harriet Emery (24), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905], [1906]

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1907

“Applications for the transfer of licenses were granted as follows Beer retailers (on)..... CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street, Annie Wright (widow of George Wright), to Annie Wright.”

1911 Census

37, Bridgeman Street

- [1] George Sidwell (43), publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Keziah Sidwell (35), wife, married 15 years, assisting in the business, born Birmingham;
- [3] Ellen Louisa Sidwell (14), daughter, at home, born Birmingham;
- [4] Lydia Lycett (22), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Alfred Young, beer retailer, 37, Bridgeman Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held last Thursday.....

Mr. Young, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bridgeman Street was elected member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street. £1 9s 10½d.”

Walsall Observer 2/2/1924

“An enjoyable smoking concert was given at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bridgeman Street, on Thursday of last week. Mr. Bob Jefferson presided and a capital programme was given.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1936

“Walsall Licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

Formal objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses: CROWN (beerhouse), Lower Hall Lane; VINE (alehouse), Lower Hall Lane; and the CROWN AND CUSHION (beerhouse), Bridgeman Street. All other licenses were renewed.”

1939 Register

37, Bridgeman Street (2 of 3)

[1] Albert Edwards, date of birth 31/8/1888, manager public house, married;

[2] Elizabeth A. Edwards, dob 22/11/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 9/12/1939

“Hospital Darts Tournament.

Final To Be Played at the RISING SUN Next Wednesday Evening.

In one of the semi-finals of the Hospital Darts Tournament, G. Hall (Rushall Central) beat J. Davis (OLD HOUSE AT HOME) at the Ex-Servicemen’s Club on Wednesday night by two legs to one, but unfortunately the other semi-final could not be played as C. Hadland (Palfrey W.M.C.) is serving with H. M. Forces. His opponent, W. Till (CROWN AND CUSHION) therefore had a walk-over and automatically qualified to meet Hall in the final.

As it happens Till is due to join the Colours also next Friday and consequently the final has been fixed for Wednesday evening next at the RISING SUN, Green Lane, commencing at 8 o’clock. The winner will be presented with the trophy given by the proprietors of the Walsall Observer, and there will be prizes also for the runner-up and the beaten semi-finalist.”

[In the final, W. Till beat G. Hall by two legs to none.]

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street, £3 14s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street. £3 1s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

Mr. Gordon Hawley appeared for the Holt Brewery Co. Ltd, Birmingham, and the licensees of the COTTAGE INN, Harden Road; RED LION, Blue Lane; CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street; PRESIDENT LINCOLN, Stafford Street; and GREEN ROCK TAVERN, Blakenall – John Cockbill, Howard Freeman, Sidney Ganner, May Middleton (now of 39, Caledon Street), and Bertram Albert Stone (now of 80, Hollemeadow Avenue). Mr. Hawley said the purchase of coal at these houses had always been left to the licensees, and the brewery company would have no reason to be suspicious that the permitted amounts were being exceeded. Moreover, as far as the licensees were concerned, in all the cases except one the coal was delivered without being specifically ordered, and the trouble would have been avoided if the merchants had refused to deliver without the requisite permits, which the licensees could have obtained if they had applied for them.

Stone was fined £2, the other licensees £1 each, and the brewery company 10s in each case.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

CROWN & CUSHION, Bridgeman Street. £1 5s 0d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....

Nine Licensed Houses..... CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street.”

Gerald Hubert Hopkins – see also LORD RAGLAN.

A full license was granted on 23rd November 1961.

Margaret Castrey – see also GLOBE.

George Edward Morris – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR, PRESIDENT LINCOLN, STARTING GATE, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, and GREEN MAN.

CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL

13, New Street / Temple Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Reverend Peter Davies, Vicarage, Walsall Wood [1872]
James Stokes, Pelsall, Walsall
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd. [1880]
Northampton Brewery Co. Ltd. (leased)
J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Elton [1813] – [1835]
William Babb [1841] – [1842]
William Middlemore [1845]
George Holden Snr. (1846 – 1855);
James Holden (1855 – [1861])
George Holden Snr. [1861] – [1868]
George Holden Jr. [1868]
George Leadbetter [1871] – [1878];
Mrs. Dinah Leadbetter [];
Arthur Scattergood [];
William Woolley [1881];
James Garner [1881] – 1886);
Joseph Alldutt Flynn (1886 – 1887);
Benjamin Francis Wood (1887);
William Holder (1887 – 1888);
George Holden (1888 – 1890);
James Stokes (1890 – 1897);
Joseph Stackhouse (1897 – 1899);
Samuel Mann (1899 – 1901);
Thomas William Davidson (1901);
George Boulton (1901 – 1902);
Thomas Bates (1902 – 1904):

NOTES

CROWN AND SHOVEL [1813], [1818]
MALT SHOVEL [1822], [1850], [1862], [1868], [1873]
CROWN AND HORSESHOE [1858]

John Elton, victualler, New Street. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, male, held at Elton's, New Street, supposed number 43, surgeon Mr. Woollatt, secretary Joseph Burns."

John Elton was also a maltster. [1818], [1834]

George Holden = George Holding

George Holden was born in 1821, in Walsall.

He was a bare knuckle fighter, from 1843 to 1846.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 26/4/1846

"George Holden of Walsall has retired from the Ring, and has taken the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, Walsall, where he intends to accommodate all friends that wish to give him a call. He takes a benefit tomorrow, at Mr. Whitehouse's, WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, when he will be assisted by John Lane, Tom Lane, Simmonds, Cotterill, and many more of the Birmingham and Walsall Fancy.”

Bells life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/9/1846

“Thomas Storer will fight Isaac Russell at 8st 10lb, for £10 or £20 a side; or Thomas Butler or Ned Clarke can be accommodated with a match at catch weight. Money ready at George Holden's, the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, Walsall.”

1851 Census

New Street

- [1] George Holden (30), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Holden (27), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] George Holden (9), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Emma Holden (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Harriott Holden (11), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Ann Holden (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Harriet Moor (11), servant, born Walsall;
- [8] William Smith (36), servant, born Walsall;
- [9] John Rigby (31), servant, born Walsall;
- [10] John Arnold (40), lodger, labourer, born Walsall:

Bells life in London and Sporting Chronicle 26/2/1854

“Edward Cunningham of Wolverhampton will fight Isaac Baker of Westbromwich, at 9st 12lb for £25 a side. Man and money ready any night next week, at G. Holden's, CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/5/1854

“Richard Gibbs, a farm servant, advanced in years, in the service of Mr. Osborne, of Great Barr, came into Walsall, on Monday last, to bring a bundle of clothes to his daughter, who is a domestic servant in the town, and was enticed into the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, where, after some men had made him intoxicated, they prevailed upon him to let them pawn a suit of good black clothes which he wore. Having stripped him and placed upon him a pair of old trowsers, they pawned the clothes, and then spent the 18s, which they obtained upon them. During the night Gibbs was found in the street drunk and shivering from the cold. Before the Magistrates, on Wednesday, it transpired that George Holding, the landlord of the house, had taken care of his bundle.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/4/1858

“James Holden, landlord of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, appeared at the Guildhall, yesterday, in answer to a peace summons brought by Thomas James, formerly his brewer, who stated that about three o'clock last Tuesday morning, the defendant, who had had his house open all the previous night, came to his door in company with others, and roused him out of his sleep, employing very abusive language, and challenging him out to fight. On his refusal, the defendant threatened to do for him next time that should meet, when he would, he said, cut off his legs to mend the roads with. Hannah Murthal, examined for the prosecution, partially corroborated the complainant's statement, adding that she believed the occurrence would not have happened had Mr. Holden been sober. Mr. Wilkinson, on the part of the defendant, held that the shrewish tongue of the complainant's wife caused all the mischief, and that there was no ground for ordering sureties in the case. The defendant was, however, bound over in his own recognisances in £10 to keep the peace for twelve months.”

1861 Census

13, New Street

- [1] George Holden (41), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Holden (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Emma Holden (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Ann Holden (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Edward Arch (30), brother, gas fitter, born Walsall;
- [6] John Arch (12), nephew, gas fitter, born Walsall:

George Holden, retailer of beer, New Street. [1862]

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/6/1862

“James Wilkes, a militiaman, was charged with having on Monday week used threatening and violent language to Mr. George Holden, of the MALT SHOVEL INN, New Street. Prisoner pleaded drunkenness, but he was ordered to find two sureties for his good behavior for six months.”

George Holden, beer retailer, 13, New Street. [1864], [1865]

George Holden, beer retailer, New Street. [1868]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/2/1868

“W. Collins (G. Holden's Novice) of Walsall will run and pick up one 100 stones a yard apart at the Belle Vue Grounds, Moat

Lane, against any other one in Walsall for £5 a side. Money ready at G. Holden's, jun., MALT SHOVEL INN, Townend Bank, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1868

“George Holden, landlord of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, charged with having had his house open between the hours of one and four o'clock on Tuesday morning, pleaded guilty, and as it was his first offence he was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

1871 Census

13, New Street – CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL

- [1] George Leadbetter (43), brassfounder and publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Hannah Leadbetter (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Jenna Leadbetter (23), son, brassfounder, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Leadbetter (67), mother, born Bilston:

George Leadbetter, beer retailer, 13, New Street. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/1/1878

“Jonah Hitch, a labourer, was convicted of having on Sunday stolen a piece of india-rubber piping and a brass screw from the brewhouse at the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL INN, the property of George Leadbetter. Previous convictions being on record against him, he was sentenced to two months' imprisonment with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Painting the Cement Work of the Frontage of CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street..... Sign Writing, as per List, at CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street..... All the above are situate in the town of Walsall. Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

13, New Street – Publick

- [1] William Woolley (34), silver hame (?) plater, born Walsall;
- [2] Ellen Woolley (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Gertrude Ellen Woolley (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Edith Emily Woolley (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Fanny Arrowsmith (18), general servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/12/1886

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Joseph Aldutt Flynn, the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL INN, New Street, was charged with being drunk on his own premises. It seemed that on the night of the 18th inst. police-constables Skidmore and Cross went to the defendant's house, and were accosted with gross language by the defendant, who taxed them with being the superintendent's spies, and told them to 'take their hook.' He was drunk at the time. The Bench fined him in the maximum penalty for first offence, viz. 10s and costs.”

1891 Census

13, New Street – CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL

- [1] James Stokes (63), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sydonia Stokes (63), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Paulina Harrington (39), daughter, married, born Walsall;
- [4] George Harrington (11), grandson, born Pelsall;
- [5] Frances Mason (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

James Stokes – see also WHITE LION, Pelsall.

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

“George Kellett (59), described as a puddler, but whose appearances were more that of a tramp, was placed in the dock on a charge of doing wilful damage to the property of Samuel Mann, landlord of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL INN. On Saturday night he went into that public-house and asked for a penny smoke. He was served, and on asking for a light was referred to the taproom. Here he quickly had an altercation with the company, and, seizing a jug, threw it through a plate-glass window in the door.

Defendant said it would not have occurred if one of the men had not interfered with him. But he could tell the Bench that he was sorry he had ever been in Walsall, and he should never trouble Walsall again.

The Mayor: I can tell you Walsall is very sorry to be troubled with you; there is no doubt about that.

Mr. Loxton: Can you pay a fine? – Defendant: I would go dead in penal servitude first.

Defendant had seven previous convictions against him, one of them for a similar offence, and he was now sent for 14 days, with hard labour.

Defendant: Thank you, sir (accompanied with a military salute).”

Samuel Mann was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in November 1900.

1901 Census

13, New Street

[1] Thomas W. Davidson (26), public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Margaret M. Davidson (26), wife, born Wrockwardine Wood, Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 7/12/1901

“John Wakelam, of Navigation Street, was summoned for being disorderly at the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, on November 28th, and with refusing to quit. Mrs. Boulton, the landlady, stated that the defendant came into her house with a number of other young men. They were supplied with a quart of beer, but the defendant became disorderly, used abusive language, and refused to leave.

Fined 5s and costs or seven days.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Thomas Bates, CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL.”

George Boulton was fined 40s and costs, on 28th February 1902, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1903

“On Tuesday the adjourned annual licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, when the Court was crowded.....

Formal notice of objection had been given to the renewal of the following licenses.....

Thomas Bates, CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL.

In the case of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, Mr. Jackson appeared for the applicant and owners in support of the application for renewal.

All the licenses were renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

Inspector Ballance deposed to visiting the locality in which the BLACK BOY, the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, and the JOLLY BACCHUS were situated. With regard to the first named, it was a very old house.

In answer to Mr. Plumtre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson), witness said that so far as he knew Mrs. Russell was a most respectable tenant.

Mr. Plumtre: I believe this house is a very interesting one is it not? I mean that it was the house at which Baptist Society was founded in Walsall (laughter).

Mr. Loxton: I don’t think we ought to raise a joke at the expense of any religious denomination, Mr. Plumtre.

Mr. Plumtre: I am sure I did not mean any disrespect.

Mr. Loxton: As a matter of fact, it was a very large room at the rear in which the meetings were held, but it was entirely cut off from the premises of the house in question.

Further cross-examined: There were several large works close at hand.

Mr. Plumtre went on to remind the magistrates that an objection was raised against the renewal of the license last year, but finally it was withdrawn. He asked the Bench whether it was quite fair to inform a tenant one year that the license was required, and the next year to attempt to take it away. He could prove that trade had increased during the last year, and he supposed that was sound evidence that the license was required. Coming to the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL there had, the previous year, unfortunately been a conviction for permitting drunkenness. The license, however, was not taken away, but a fresh tenant was put in, and he, as Inspector Ballance admitted, has since that time conducted the house without complaint. In conclusion, he said both houses were very old ones, and he thought that if the magistrates were to inflict punishment – he could not term it anything else – it ought not to fall upon the owners and tenants of the oldest established houses, whose licenses had been renewed year after year.

Evidence was given by the tenant and several customers, one of the latter, Mr. Jacob Wright, stating amidst laughter that he never went to any other house because he liked the beer, and it suited him better than any other house.

Mrs. Russell, who when previously giving evidence said that her license was taken in her name because she used her own money, was recalled, and admitted that when she entered the house she was not living with her husband, and that the latter about that time was fined £50 for betting at Cannock. He had since returned, and had lived with her for three years, helping her in the business.

Letters were read from Messrs. Evans and Thacker, who bore testimony to the excellent manner in which the BLACK BOY was conducted.

Thomas Bates of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, was called and stated that he had held licenses for 16 years.

The license of the BLACK BOY was renewed on the undertaking to deposit plans, but the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/4/1904

“In connection with the recent Walsall Brewster Sessions, there were this week six appeals at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions against the decisions of the borough magistrates in refusing the renewal of licenses.....

Thomas Bates, landlord of the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL INN, Walsall, appealed against the decision of the justices not to renew the licence of the house. Mr. Plumtre and Mr. H. Staveley Hill were for the appellants, and Mr. Disturnal for the respondent justices.

Mr. Disturnal said the grounds of the objection to the house stated in the notices were that the premises were not structurally suitable, that the licence was not needed, and that on February 28th, 1902, the then tenant, Joseph Bolton, [mis-spelt] was convicted and fined for having permitted drunkenness. It appeared that the house was situated in the old part of the town, and in the neighbourhood of the old church. It was a neighbourhood which had been for some time undergoing a change in its character. Old houses had been pulled down, and the population in that part of the town had been decreasing; and, so far as the population was concerned, it had been what one might call the lowest population of the whole town. The district was one which had given the police a great deal of trouble, and the magistrates apparently thought that something ought to be done with reference to the licensed houses in the locality, having regard to the fact that there was an enormous number of them, far in excess of the requirements of the district. The magistrates visited the locality, and they also engaged a gentleman (Mr. H. E. Farmer, Hickton and Farmer) to inspect the houses; and in the result, after hearing evidence, the magistrates came to the conclusion that the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL INN was the house of all the others which ought to be selected for the loss of the licence, especially having regard to the fact that there was a recent conviction. Under those circumstances he asked the Bench to say that the justices exercised a reasonable discretion in refusing to renew the licence.

Evidence was given as to the character of the locality, and as to the number of public houses.

Inspector Ballance stated that there were 37 fully-licensed houses within a radius of 250 yards, and six off-beerhouses. Within 95 yards of the house there were five licensed houses, and in the street there were 279 adult persons. In the two years there had been 101 charges of drunkenness in the locality.

In cross-examination Inspector Ballance said there was no complaint against the way in which appellant had conducted the house.

Mr. Plumtre argued that the house had been extremely well conducted by Bates, and that the loss of the license would inflict extreme hardship on a deserving person. The house, he urged, was well suited as far as police supervision was concerned.

The appeal was dismissed with costs.”

It closed. [1904]

It became a lodging house.

CUP

Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Smith [1818]

CURRIERS ARMS

35, (38), (37), (37+38), Day Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Beebee, Littleton Street, Walsall

Mrs. Beebee

Clara Emma Newton, 64, Holts Hill, Walsall

Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Marlow [1858]
William Abnett [1861] – [1865]
William Parker [1868] – [1870]
Charles Perry [1872] – [1881]
John Beebee [1881] – 1888;
Mrs. Sarah Beebee (1888 – 1889);
Isaac Beebee (1889 – 1920);
George Russell (1920 – 1923);
Water Henry Barnett (1923 – [])

NOTES

38, Day Street [1862], [1891]
37+38, Day Street [1881], [1901]
37, Day Street [1911]
35, Day Street

It had a beerhouse license.

Joseph Marlow, beerhouse keeper, 38, Day Street. [1858]

William Abnett was also a buckle finisher. [1861]

1861 Census

Day Street – CURRIERS ARMS

- [1] William Abnett (65), widower, publican and buckle finisher, born Walsall;
- [2] William Abnett (30), son, boot and shoe maker, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Abnett (25), son, buckle finisher, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Abnett (24), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] William Abnett (18), grandson, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Abnett (1), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Louisa Price (10), house servant, born Plymouth:

William Abnett, retailer of beer, 38, Day Street. [1862]

William Abnett, beer retailer, 38, Day Street. [1864], [1865]

William Parker, beer retailer, 38, Day Street. [1868], [1870]

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1872

“Charles Perry, of the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street, was charged with selling ale after eleven o’clock on the night of the 5th inst. The defence was that the ale supplied after eleven o’clock had been ordered and paid for long before closing time, and that the house was open simply owing to the defendant’s clock being out of repair. The case was dismissed.”

1881 Census

37+38, Day Street – CURRIERS ARMS

- [1] John Beebee (70), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Beebee (68), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Russell (39), son in law, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Russell (35), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] William Russell (7), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Russell (5), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] John Russell (5), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Sarah Russell (3), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Arthur Russell (2), grandson, born Walsall:

1891 Census

38, Day Street

- [1] Isaac Beebee (52), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Paulina Beebee (50), wife, born Walsall;

- [3] William Beebee (27), son, caster, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Beebee (20), daughter, harness stitcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Frank Beebee (19), son, bit filer, born Walsall;
- [6] Annie Beebee (17), daughter, machinist, born Walsall;
- [7] Phoebe Beebee (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Joe Beebee (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Alfred Beebee (7), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

“Henry Phillips (35), bobber, of 5 court, 18 house, Blue Lane East, was charged with stealing from the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street, one oxydized watch, value, £1 10s, the property of Nathan Ghek, licensed hawk, of 27 Ellis Street, Birmingham. Prosecutor gave evidence that he went to the public-house mentioned on Monday afternoon last, and saw prisoner and about four other men there. He offered some watches for sale, among them the one subject of the charge. Prisoner picked up this particular watch and was going out with it when prosecutor took hold of him by his arms, and endeavoured to prevent his leaving. Prisoner, however, went away with the watch, and prosecutor reported the matter to the police. Prisoner had no authority to take the watch away. Witness next saw the watch on Tuesday, when it was shown him by Detective Harper.

By the Bench: Prisoner did not ask the price of the watch.

Benjamin Tonks, engraver, Blakenall Heath, Bloxwich, said the prosecutor priced the watch at 15s. Prisoner picked one up, remarking that he thought it was blackleaded, and would go and have it tested (laughter). Prisoner was sober. Witness took the matter more as a lark than anything else.

William Walters, bit-maker, 2, Duncalfe Street, deposed that at 5.30 on Monday he was standing at the door of the WISEMORE TAVERN, when prisoner offered him the watch produced, which he said was his son-in-law's, for 3s. Witness ultimately purchased the watch for 2s 6d.

Isaac Beebee, landlord of the CURRIERS ARMS, gave corroborative evidence as to the prosecutor trying to stop the prisoner leaving the house.

Detective Harper spoke to arresting prisoner on suspicion, and to charging him with the theft. He replied ‘I took one for fun, and only fun.’ Subsequently he charged the prisoner with stealing the watch, and he replied ‘I took it for fun, and sold it for devilment.’

Prisoner now pleaded guilty, expressed his sorrow, and said he had had a drop of beer.

Mr. Beebee thought beer ought not to be made an excuse for all sorts of offences.

The Bench fined the prisoner 20s and costs, or 14 days' imprisonment.”

1901 Census

37+38, Day Street

- [1] Isaac Beebee (63), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Patience Beebee (61), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Beebee (33), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [4] Phoebe Hollingshead (28), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Arthur Hollingshead (2), grandchild, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Beebee (16), son, carpenter, born Walsall;
- [7] Amy Beebee (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Isaac Beebee, beer retailer, 38, Day Street. [1904]

1911 Census

37, Day Street

- [1] Isaac Beebee (73), widower, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] William Beebee (40), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [3] Amy Beebee (25), granddaughter, servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/10/1911

“An interesting match was decided on Monday, two contestants, named Alfred Beebee and Roland Yorke, walking from Walsall to Lichfield and back – a distance of twenty-one miles – for a stake of £10 a-side. The start was made from the FOUR WAYS, Birchills, about 8.30 in the morning, and Beebee, who is considerably the younger man, was eighteen minutes in front at Lichfield, but evidently over-exerted himself, for at Rushall, on the return journey, when he was twenty-two minutes in front, he collapsed. Yorke who is over forty years old, kept a uniform pace throughout, finished at the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street, in 3hrs 53min.”

Isaac Beebee, beer retailer and brewer, 38, Day Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 27/2/1915

“From Company-Sergeant-Major Joseph Beebee (1st South Staffords), who is a prisoner of war at Gottingen, in Germany, and whose photograph appears on our soldiers' page, we have received a letter giving the names of the following other non-commissioned officers and men who are interred at the same camp: Corporal J. Parker (8235), Private W. Dean (8328), Pte. D. Choyce (8907), Pte. A. Powell (8034), Pte. T. Rochelle (8081), Pte. R. McLeod (7252), Pte. W. Pearce (8202), Pte. E. Saunders (9133),

Pte. J. Turner (8471), Pte. J. Bagnall (9024), Pte. S. Abley (6903), and Pte. A. Benton (7911).

Owing to the needy condition of these local 'Tommies' he requests us to appeal to readers to forward boots and clothing, etc. This we are glad to do, feeling sure there will be a generous response. Parcels should be addressed:

Pte. _____, No. _____, 1st South Staffs. Regiment, No.70 Hut, Gottingen, Hanover, Germany.

Sergeant-Major Beebee is a native of Walsall, and has relatives residing at the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street. He has served some sixteen years in the Army, took part in the Boer war, and, following the outbreak of European hostilities, returned from the Transvaal with the regiment last September for active service."

Walsall Observer 15/6/1918

"Writing from the Hague, where he has arrived from a German prison camp, Company Sergeant-Major Joe Beebee, South Staffs, writes to his father at the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street:

'You think that you are bad enough in England; well you should just see Germany! They have got nothing; all the shops are empty. Although they are our enemies I really feel sorry for the children, for they are starving and half-clothed. It is a cake-walk for us. The Germans are absolutely down and out, but they are just hanging out for better peace terms'."

It closed in December 1932.

CURRIERS ARMS

Dudley Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Oakley [1849] – [1850]

DANCE'S DINING ROOMS

35, Digbeth, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard William Tivey [1911] – 1940);

Richard William Tivey (1940 – [1954]

NOTES

Walsall Advertiser 21/12/1895 - Advert

"DANCE'S CENTRAL DINING ROOMS.

35, Digbeth, Walsall, Two Minutes Walk from Station.

Hot Joint Daily at 12 o'clock.

Ales, Wines, and Stouts. Well-aired Beds."

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1900

"William Henry Webb, of Brunswick Park Road, Wednesbury, was summoned for leaving a horse and cart unattended in Digbeth, on January 24th. Police-constable Lloyd said the horse and cart remained outside DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, in Digbeth, for nearly an hour. Defendant contended that his conveyance did not remain in Digbeth twenty minutes. Two witnesses were called in support of defendant's statement.

The case was dismissed, but it was pointed out to defendant that he was liable to be summoned for leaving his horse unattended for even five minutes, unless actually delivering goods."

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

"The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The Clerk announced that the Magistrates would impose upon licensees half of the maximum charges to the Compensation Fund.....

Application was also made for a similar reduction [a reduction to one sixth of the maximum] by Mr. Tibbitts, of DANCE'S DINING ROOMS. In this case there was a condition previously that no excisable liquors should be sold except in connection with dinners and luncheons.

The applicant, in reply to the Clerk, said that this condition had been fulfilled. The Magistrates proceeded to hear other applications before coming to a decision The compensation levies for the theatres, railway refreshment rooms and DANCE'S DINING ROOMS had, subject to the latter being endorsed with the former condition been fixed at one half of that imposed in other cases."

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1911 - Notice

"Notice Is Hereby Given that the partnership hereto consisting between us the undersigned, George Dance, Elizabeth Deborah Dance, his Wife (formerly Elizabeth Deborah Davies, Spinster), and Richard William Tivey, carrying on business as Restaurant Keepers and Caterers, under the firm of DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, at 35, Digbeth, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, had been Dissolved by mutual consent as from the 23rd day of March, 1911. The business is and will be carried on by the said Richard William Tivey, solely under the style of DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, at number 35, Digbeth, aforesaid.

Dated the 10th day of May, 1911.

George Dance, Elizabeth Deborah Dance, Richard William Tivey.

Witness to all their signatures: W. H. Talbot, Solicitor, Kidderminster."

Walsall Observer 5/10/1912

"Thomas Smith (38), labourer, Dudley Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Digbeth, also with fraudulently obtaining food from Richard William Tivey, to the value of 8d, on Tuesday.

PC Flynn stated that at 5-50 the previous evening, he was called to DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, where he was told that the prisoner had had a meal for which he refused to pay. Witness asked him if he intended to pay, and he replied in the negative and that he had no money. Witness took him in charge, and on the way to the police station he became violent, and made use of obscene language. He was drunk at the time.

Richard William Tivey, proprietor, said the prisoner came into his rooms and ordered a meal, with which he was supplied without any question. He had a sixpenny plate of beef and potatoes, and while he was eating that he asked one of the girls to fetch him some sweets. This was done, but the prisoner only had part of them, and got up to go. When asked to pay he refused, and on witness threatening to give him in charge, he said, 'It'll do you no good to do that.'

The prisoner said he was drunk all day, and knew nothing about what had occurred.

The Chief Constable said there were 59 convictions against the man, who had not, however, been there for three years.

Sentenced to 28 days' hard labour."

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1915

"Frederick Sanders, 47, labourer, of no fixed abode, was charged with having been found drunk on licensed premises, 35, Digbeth, on Saturday. Police-constable Ward said he was called on Saturday evening to DANCE'S DINING ROOM, where defendant had ordered a dinner and refused to pay for it. He was drunk.

Defendant was discharged on promising to leave the town."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection by the Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, Digbeth. £1 12s 8½d."

Walsall Observer 14/1/1939 - Advert

"So you can't get home – well have a Real Good Dinner either 11d or 1/1 at DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, Digbeth, Walsall. Licensed For Ales & Stout."

Walsall Observer 4/11/1939

"We have given so many warnings that we have been instructed not to give any more, but to inform the police,' was the statement made to the magistrates (Messrs. D. E. Parry and D. Jones and Mrs. Cresswell) by a warden giving evidence in one of a number of cases relating to breaches of the lighting regulations.....

Other defendants, each fined 10s, were.....

William Kemp (51), manager of DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, Digbeth."

Walsall Observer 2/12/1939 - Deaths

"On November 30, 1939, after a very short illness, Richard William Tivey, 55, Longwood Road, passed peacefully away in his 76th year. Funeral service at Great Barr Church, Monday, 12.30pm. Deeply mourned by his Wife and Son."

Walsall Observer 6/1/1940

"The license attached to DANCE'S DINING ROOMS, Digbeth, was, at Walsall Guildhall on Wednesday, transferred from the name of the late Richard William Tivey to his son, Mr. Richard William Tivey, who has been carrying on the business for some time past."

Walsall Observer 3/3/1940

“Mr. Richard William Tivey, of 55, Longwood Road, Barr Common, restaurant keeper (DANCE’S DINING ROOMS, Digbeth, Walsall), who died on November 30 last, left £17,248 16s 10d gross, with net personality £9,812 4s 7d. Estate duty amounts to £1,328 1s 5d. He named Howard L. Fellows as sole executor, who, however, predeceased him, and letters of administration with the will annexed have been granted to his widow, Mrs. Florence May Tivey, and Richard William Tivey, both of the above address.”

Walsall Observer 25/10/1941

“Mr. Kemp, of DANCE’S DINING ROOMS, has brought us a carrot shaped remarkably like a hand, with four fingers and a thumb.”

Walsall Observer 17/12/1954

“Elected members of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society at the monthly meeting on Thursday last were..... Mr. Richard William Tivey, Refreshment House, 35, Digbeth.”

DELVES

339, West Bromwich Road / Walstead Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Beecham Broome (1935 – 1936);
Thomas Osborne Ayre (1936 – 1949);
Edwin Malton (1949 – 1952);
Percival Clarence Corns (1952);
William Henry Stanton (1952 – 1955);
Ernest Alfred Baggott (1955 – 1956);
Henry George Edward Mason (1956 – 1959);
Stanley Joseph Bill (1959 – 1961);
Frederick Kitchener Wells (1961 – [1966])
Michael ‘Mick’ Scott [c.1980s]

NOTES

It opened on 7th May 1935.
The license was transferred from the SWAN, High Street, Bloxwich.

Thomas Beecham Broome – see also SWAN, Bloxwich.

1939 Register

339, West Bromwich Road – DELVES INN

- [1] Thomas O. Ayre, date of birth 19/5/1894, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Mildred Ayre, dob 10/1/1895, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [4] Joseph Ayre, dob 10/6/1865, licensed victualler (retired), widowed;
- [5] Margaret Ellen Wilkinson dob, 11/10/1897, barmaid, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
DELVES, West Bromwich Road, £1 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DELVES, West Bromwich Road. £0 14s 10d.”

Thomas Osborne Ayre – see also KING EDWARD.

Walsall Observer 7/10/1944 - Advert

“Barmaids required evenings, week-ends.
The DELVES INN, Walsall.”

Edwin Malton – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE.

Percival Clarence Corns was fined £5 and £3 3s 0d costs, on 12th July 1952, for suffering his premises to be used for betting.

Henry George Edward Mason – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, LORD RAGLAN, and WOOLPACK.

Frederick Kitchener Wells – see also NEWPORT ARMS.

Michael Scott – see also WHITE SWAN, Bromford Lane, West Bromwich.

Closed

DERBY ARMS

Raleigh Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Lord

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939)

Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Thomas Pedley (1924 – 1925);

Edward Goodman (1925 – 1935);

Thomas McCloud (1935 – 1950);

Brynmor Davies (1950 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened at 6pm on 29th July 1924.

Thomas Pedley – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE.

Walsall Observer 2/8/1924

“A new public house, to be known as the DERBY ARMS, in Raleigh Street, was opened on Tuesday evening. At the transfer sessions at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning, Mr. Frank Cooper, on behalf of Charles Wootton, applied for the formal removal of the license from the TIGER INN, Short Acre Street, to the new premises in Raleigh Street. A provisional grant, he explained, was made at the Court on the understanding that plans which had been deposited would be carried out, and this had been meticulously observed.

Mr. G. A. Phillips (presiding) said the Licensing Committee had inspected the premises and were very pleased with them. They therefore granted the transfer.

Mr. Cooper then asked that a temporary authority be granted in respect of the new house to Thomas Pedley. This was granted, it being understood that the TIGER INN, Short Acre Street, and the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, would be finally closed at 2 o’clock the day and the DERBY ARMS opened at 6 in the evening.....”

Walsall Observer 11/2/1939

“There was a good attendance of members of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society at the meeting held at the DERBY ARMS INN, Raleigh Street, on Thursday.....”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord’s houses.....

DERBY, Raleigh Street.”

1939 Register

Raleigh Street – DERBY ARMS

[1] Thomas McCloud, date of birth 4/1/1885, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Gertrude McCloud, dob 7/11/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Doreen B. (McCloud) Clark, dob 22/10/1924, no employment, single;

[4] Gordon T. McCloud, dob 25/3/1926, at school, single;

[5] Nellie (Hale) (Lowes) Silver, dob 6/1/1918, maid, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

DERBY ARMS INN, Raleigh Street, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 4/1/1941 - Advert

“Captain & Mrs. McCloud, DERBY ARMS, Raleigh Street wish to thank the men of the Home Guard Platoon for the wonderful reception they received on Tuesday night; also for the electric clock presented to Mrs. McCloud.”

Walsall Observer 22/2/1941

“Birchills Home Guard (No.1 Platoon, ‘D’ Company) held a highly successful smoking concert at the DERBY ARMS, Raleigh Street, on Monday night. Corporal Hardiman presided and the artists (all of whom gave their services) were Messrs. J. Lord (comedian); F. Addis (accordionist); B. Brevitt (pianist); E. Mills (baritone); G. Lowbridge (comedian); Misses B. McCloud and N. Hales (duettists); Messrs. Rowbottom (harmonica); L. Wolverson (conjurer); J. Hawkes (comedian); Sergeant New (harmonica) and Mr. Addis’s dance band which provided a very welcome addition to the programme. Much of the credit for the success of the gathering was due to the Host and Hostess, Platoon Commander and Mrs. T. McCloud and Sergeant Coleman, who enlisted the services of the artists.”

Walsall Observer 29/3/1941

“At a Birchills Home Guard concert, at the DERBY ARMS on Tuesday, when Mr. G. T. Smallwood presided, Captain L. Hales-Finch, T.D., presented an electric clock to Sergeant-Major Holmes, for his valuable services to the platoon and referred to his fine Army record. Musical items were given by Messrs. J. Beech (tenor) and H. Brevitt (pianist and entertainer), Misses N. Hales and B. McCloud (close harmony singers), Mr. J. Hawkes (monologues), Miss V. Mills (soprano), Mr. Pritchard (accordionist), and Mr. Swain (baritone).”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DERBY ARMS, Raleigh Street. £2 0s 0d.”

[1993]

Closed [2006]

Demolished

Housing was built on the site. [2009]

DILKE ARMS

26, Aldridge Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

W. Butler and Co. Ltd.
Bass, Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Brewers Fayre [1999]

LICENSEES

Harry Harvey (1939 – 1947);
Lena Vesta Harvey (1947 – 1959);
William John Westley (1959 – 1963);
Reginald West (1963 – 1965);
Violet Eileen (West) Caddick (1965 – [1967])
Linda Ann Schofield [1980s]
Graham Pinches [1990] – [1991]

NOTES

It opened on 8th February 1939.
The license was transferred from PEACOCK, Lower Rushall Street.

Walsall Observer 11/2/1939

“The annual licensing day, held at the GUILDHALL, on Thursday....
In connection with the opening of the DILKE ARMS, a new house in Aldridge Road, the magistrates made a final order transferring thereto the full license of the PEACOCK, Lower Rushall Street, the license being taken over from John Rogers by Harry Harvey, who was also granted a music and singing license for the use of gramophone and wireless.”

1939 Register

Aldridge Road – DILKE ARMS

[1] Harry Harvey, date of birth 27/10/1916, licensed victualler, married;
[2] Lena V. Harvey, dob 28/12/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 27/4/1940 - Advert

“Barmaid Wanted, for weekends; also Waiter.
DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions....
DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road, £8 8s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 28/12/1940

“Of all the dangers to the public, a man under the influence of drink driving a vehicle is certainly one of the most serious,’ remarked the presiding magistrate (Mr. A. A. Fraser Wood), when imposing a fine of £10, with £2 18s 6d costs, on Alfred Coleman (39), lorry driver, 18, Somerfield Road, for driving a motor car when under the influence of drink to such an extent as to be incapable of exercising proper control. With Mr. Fraser Wood sat Mr. W. R. Wheway and Miss Windle.

Prosecuting, Mr. W. T. Isaac, stated that when driving along Broadway North at about 11 o’clock on Wednesday night, December 18, Coleman collided with the refuge island near the junction of Prince’s Avenue. After completely demolishing one bollard and knocking down another, the car turned over on its roof. When assistance arrived, Coleman and his companion (owner of the car) were extricated from the car.

John Titley, licensee of the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, owner of the car defendant was driving, told the court that on the night in question they went first to see a friend at the DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road then another at the WHITE HORSE, Bosty Lane, and afterwards went back to the DILKE ARMS to see a Mr. Harvey. They stayed until 10.20 in order to be able to give two members of the staff a lift to Lichfield Street. Describing the collision in Broadway North, witness said: ‘The night was very dark and I was looking forward towards the kerb when I felt the bump. That’s all I know.’

Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson (defending): In your opinion he was perfectly fit to drive? – Witness: Certainly.

Dr A. B. Davies (police surgeon) detailed to the magistrates the symptoms that led him to certify Coleman to be under the influence of drink.

Police Inspector Lavender, who also expressed the same view as to the defendant’s condition, stated that the accused told him he had ‘had a drink or two’, and that ‘drink is a matter of routine with me.’

Further evidence that the defendant was under the influence of drink was given by Stephen George Day, 86, Broadway North, and Police-constable Brazier.

Coleman in the witness box, said he had five half-pints of 'mild' on the night in question. He was looking for the white line when he had the accident, which caused him to hurt his shoulder and receive cuts on the face and knee.

Told that the defendant was engaged on work of national importance, the magistrates refrained from suspending his driving license on his undertaking not to drive anything but his lorry for the next three months."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Harvey, DILKE ARMS. £2 6s 1d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road. £6 10s 6d."

Walsall Observer 11/9/1943

"Walsall ramblers led by Mr. W. Everton, this afternoon go to Dumblederry. They meet at the DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road, at 3.30pm"

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

"After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

W. Butler and Co. Ltd, Springfield Brewery, were summoned in respect of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Bloxwich Road; KING GEORGE V, Wallows Lane; DILKE ARMS, Aldridge; The HARDEN, Harden Road; and VINE INN, Lower Hall Street; and the managers, Thomas Henry Atkins, Kenneth Dawes, Harry Harvey, Leonard Charles Lampitt, and Edwin George White, for aiding and abetting. Mr. Cooper said this brewery company also had given specific instructions to their managers, and Mr. Hodgkinson emphasised that the managers' offences were purely of a technical character and that if they had applied for permits for extra supplies they would have got them.

Dawes and Hawkes were fined £2 each, the other managers £1 each, and the brewery 10s in each case."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road. £0 0s 5d."

Violet Eileen West remarried to a Mr. Caddick on 12th August 1967.

London Gazette 3/9/1984

"Schofield, Linda Ann previouslt residing and carrying on business at The DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road as a Caterer
Date of Order – 8th August 1984....."

Express and Star 12/1/1985 - Advert

"DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road, Walsall. Telephone 24913.

Lunches being served Monday to Friday, 12 noon – 2.0pm.

Disco Monday-Friday. Saturday Night Disco. 8 o'clock till late.

Dress restrictions apply. Sunday: Mal Rich."

Sandwell Evening Mail 17/12/1986

"Brewers Mitchells & Butlers have spent £1.5 million on refurbishing 11 pubs for Christmas and the New Year Other pubs getting a facelift include the DILKE, Walsall."

Sandwell Evening Mail 16/3/1990

"A popular Walsall night spot is reopening after a £100,000 facelift. The DILKE public house in Aldridge Road, Walsall, has been closed for almost two months for refurbishment.

It was feared the pub would shut down after magistrates refused a late night opening licence. But it has now been given a new look, including a video 'wall' and cocktail bar. Landlord Mr. Graham Pinches said, 'The pub will be unlike anything else in the area.'"

Sandwell Evening Mail 20/2/1991

"Toys and gifts have been rolling in for the tombola and raffle at the Mayor of Walsall's annual charity ball in the Town Hall on Friday night.....

Mr. Graham Pinches, licensee of the DILKE, Walsall, donated £1,000 raised at his pub."

Graham Pinches – see also TAVERN IN THE TOWN.

THE DILKE [2005]

[2017]

DOG AND PARTRIDGE

46, (153), (23), Sandwell Street / Windmill Street, (Mallins Ruins), (Highgate Passage), WALSALL

OWNERS

George Jackson
William Dean
Walter Ernest Simcox
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

John Mountford [] – 1796
Gold [1809]
Henry Clenton [1834]
William Sartain [1835]
Joseph Archer [1841] – [1851]
Thomas Osbourne [] – 1858
Mrs. Emma Osbourne [1859] – [1861]
George Jackson [1862] – [1875];
Mrs. Emma Jackson [];
William Dean [1881];
Mary Ann Jackson [1884];
Walter Ernest Simcox [1889] – 1896);
Arthur Gormley (1896 – 1901);
Frederick George Gatrell (1901);
Arthur Robert Boyce (1901 – 1904);
George James Bush (1904 – 1913);
Thomas Henry Fenton (1913 – 1926);
John Kingdon (1926 – 1928);
Walter Reginald Noake (1928 – 1929);
Thomas Henry Fenton (1929 – 1945);
Edwin Malton (1945 – 1949);
Samuel Godfrey Plimmer (1949 – 1954);
William Cyril Emmanuel Birch (1954 – [1966])
[Kathleen Baker \(1984 – \[1994\]\)](#)
Martin A P Williams [2007]
[Samantha Angela Jones \[\]](#)

NOTES

Windmill Street [1842]
Mallins Ruins [1851]
23, Sandwell Street [1858], [1860], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]
153, Sandwell Street [1872], [1873], [1881], [1892], [1896]
46, Sandwell Street [1908], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940], [1993], [2005]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/9/1796 - Deaths

“On Friday last, Mr. John Mountford, master of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, at the Windmill bowling-green, near Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/5/1809 - Advert

“Valuable Brewing Vessels, Coppers, &c.

To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by R. Crump, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 31st of May and 1st day of June 1809, all the valuable Brewing Vessels, large Mashing Tub, two large Coppers, Deal Backs, with Lead Spout, casks from 40 to 180 Gallons each, Ale and Porter; all the Household Furniture, Bedding and Linen, 23 pairs of Bowls and 7 Jacks, two large Stone Rollers, garden Seats, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. Gold, at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, at Windmill, near Walsall. The Sale to begin each Morning at Ten o’clock.”

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“At the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, situate at the Windmill, there is a pleasant Bowling Green, on which is erected a room for the accommodation of the visitors, which commands an extensive view of the adjacent country.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/9/1846

“Fight between Mathew Beeby and Thomas Darby, for £10 a side.

The little mill between Mathew Beeby and Thomas Darby, two Walsall novices, for £10 a side, came off on Monday last, at the IVY HOUSE INN, near Bloxwich. Neither of the men, we understand, has appeared in a public ring before, but are well known in the Walsall locality for their frequent fistic broils, in which Darby had frequently displayed a fair show of science. Beeby being much larger made, and longer in the reach than Darby, was fully expected to come off triumphant, but the result proved that his younger and shorter antagonist was too strong and ‘downy’ for him. Beeby was seconded by Bill Sykes and Jack Holden (George Holden’s brother), and Darby was attended by Frazer Brown and Will Birch. The betting was even. The fight occupied 22 rounds. The battle was on the whole was a very good one, and lasted 48min. Darby, who is only nineteen years of age, and about five feet five inches in height, is certainly a good man for Beeby, although less in stature, and might, with care, turn out to advantage. Beeby towards the last did not like the work, or he might have punished his opponent severely several times while off his guard. He was very weak, having been thrown frequently with much force. The money was given up to Darby the same night at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 20/9/1846

“Thomas Darby and William Pearson. On Monday £2 a side more were put down, for the engagement between Darby and Pearson (alias Slack) at the FIGHTING COCKS, Blue Lane, Stafford Road; and a further deposit of £2 a side is to be made tomorrow (Monday) night at Archer’s, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/4/1848

“Tom Darby takes a benefit on Tuesday evening next, at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall, when he will be prepared to fight any 7st 12lb man in Staffordshire for £20 a side.”

1851 Census

Mallins Ruins

- [1] Joseph Archer (49), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Archer (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Edward Mould (26), lodger, born London;
- [4] Elizabeth Mould (22), lodger, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Mould (5 months), lodger, born Walsall;
- [6] John Perkins (11), visitor, born Walsall:

Joseph Archer – see also GREEN MAN, Dudley Street.

Thomas Osbourne = Thomas Osborne

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/7/1858

“John Fleming, of the RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall, will fly a pigeon from Birmingham against John Birch for £10 a side, or will fly a bird from Weedon a home and home match, for £25 a side. Money ready any night next week at Mr. Osborne’s, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 4/12/1858 - Deaths

“On the 27th ult., in Newall Street, Walsall, Mr. Thomas Osborne, landlord of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill; deeply regretted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/3/1859

“Late on Monday night, the inhabitants of Sandwell Street, Walsall, were thrown into a state of excitement in consequence of an alarm of fire having been given. On examination it was discovered that some flames proceeded from the attic of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, kept by Mrs. Osborne. Mr. Superintendent Cater, with a detachment of the police force, immediately repaired the spot, and rendered every assistance. The engines of the Norwich and Birmingham companies were also in attendance, but they were not required to play, as by the active exertions of the police and others the flames were extinguished before any great amount of damage was done. The fire was caused through the carelessness of a servant, who left a candle close to a wooden safe which was in the room, and had not assistance been so promptly rendered, a serious amount of damage would have been done.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/1/1865

“Between seven and eight o’clock yesterday (Sunday) morning, Wm. Bridges, brass driver, Highfield Passage, Sandwell Street, entered the house of George Jackson, landlord of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street, and after carrying away a quantity of cigars and other articles returned and went into the bedroom, where Mr. Jackson was asleep, and struck several blows with a crowbar, about a yard long. Jackson on recovering from the surprise caused by the attack, got out of bed and closed with the prisoner, and detained him till assistance came. The prisoner was given in charge of the police. Jackson received two severe wounds, one on the forehead and one on the lower part of the face. By the blow which caused the wound on the jaw some of Jackson’s teeth were knocked out. Mrs. Jackson, who was in bed with her husband, also received a blow on the side of the head with the crowbar, but was not seriously injured. The prisoner was immediately conveyed to the Police Station and will be brought before the justices this day (Monday). The prisoner’s sister and her husband, who have occupied a house under the prosecutor for years and immediately adjoin his premises, are also in prison upon a charge of receiving the goods – which had been taken by Bridges and which were found in their house – knowing them to have been stolen.”

[At Staffordshire Lent Assizes, William Bridges was sentenced to seven years’ penal servitude for feloniously breaking into the pub and feloniously wounding George Turner; his sister and husband were acquitted.]

1871 Census

Sandwell Street – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

[1] George Jackson (46), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Emma Jackson (61), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Jane Cooper (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/3/1873

“On Thursday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest on the body of Robert Cook, aged 67, bricklayer, Bott Street, who fell from his chair at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Sandwell Street, on Tuesday evening, and expired almost momentarily. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 21/5/1875

“George Jackson, licensed victualler, was summoned for having his house open for the sale of excisable liquors in prohibited hours. Mr. Gillespie appeared for the defendant.

Police-sergeant Wright stated that on Sunday morning, at eight o’clock, he visited the DOG AND PARTRIDGE public house, Sandwell Street, kept by the defendant. In the kitchen he found five men, with a quart jug half full of ale by the side of them. The defendant came in, and threw the ale away, and informed witness that he had served the men because they told him they came from Lichfield. He also asked witness not to report him. Witness asked the men their names and addresses, and he then learned that only two lived at Lichfield, the others being residents of Walsall.

In cross-examination, Mr. Gillespie elicited that a report was entered in the report book at the police office, and he thereupon asked for the production of the book.

Chief-superintendent Cater said he should decline to produce the book unless asked for by the justices.

The Magistrates, after conferring with their clerk, informed Mr. Gillespie that they refused to allow the book to be produced. There were other reports in the book besides the one required, and if it were produced, it would be liable to give information which ought to be kept secret.

Mr. Gillespie: Then I must ask that the case be adjourned in order that I may take legal process to summon Mr. Cater to produce the book.

Mr. Stephens: It is a very unusual request. I never remember such an application being made.

Mr. Gillespie: I have made a similar application before, and had the book produced.

The Magistrates’ Clerk: Yes; but no one else ever has.

The Bench declined to grant an adjournment, and Police-constable Higgins, who also went to the house, was then called, and corroborated the evidence of the last witness.

For the defence it was contended that the men were apparently travel stained, and that they were not supplied with ale until they stated that they came from Lichfield. The defendant did not know them to be Walsall men and he simply acted as he did in the belief that their statement was correct.

On this being positively sworn by the defendant, the magistrates dismissed the case. Mr. Cater remarked that the Walsall men found in the house would be summoned.”

1881 Census

153, Sandwell Street

[1] William Dean (36), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Hednesford;

[2] Charlotte Jackson (58), mother, widow, born Bednall, Staffordshire;

[3] Mary Ann Jackson (26), sister, widow, born Burntwood:

Birmingham Daily Post 10/5/1884 - Married

“On the 8th inst, by license, at St. Michael and All Angels Church, Caldmore (by the Rev. J. Fenwick Laing, vicar), Walter Ernest Simcox, of the Tame Bridge Farm, Wednesbury, to Mary Ann Jackson, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Sandwell Street, Walsall.”

Walter Ernest Simcox was fined 20s and costs, on 1st March 1889, for opening during prohibited hours.

1891 Census

Sandwell Street – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

- [1] Walter E. Simcox (38), licensed victualler, born Handsworth;
- [2] Mary A. Simcox (36), wife, born Edgehill, Staffordshire;
- [3] Annie E. Simcox (45), sister, poultry farmer, born Handsworth;
- [4] Hannah Whatmore (23), general servant, born Rushall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894 - Advert

“Important Sale Of Freehold Public House and Other Properties at Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction. By Messrs Watkins, Powell, & Wood, in their Property Sale Rooms, at their Offices, 28, Bridge Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 27th day of February, 1894, at Seven o’clock in the evening to the minute (subject to conditions incorporating the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

Lot 1. The Valuable Free Old-Licensed Public House, known as the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, situate in Sandwell Street, occupied by Mr. W. E. Simcox, who is retiring from public business.

The house contains front taproom, front sitting room, and back parlour (forming together a spacious club room), bar parlour, kitchen, brewhouse, store and malt rooms, good cellaring, two large bedrooms, two attics, dressing room, &c.

The large yard and stabling at the rear, with side entrance.

Together with two dwelling-houses adjoining, being Nos. 151 and 152 in Sandwell Street, Walsall, occupied by Messrs. Rushton and Hancox, at weekly rentals producing together £21 13s 4d per annum. Also the dwelling-house at the rear, occupied by Mr. Anslow, at a weekly rental producing £9 2s per annum. And also ranges of one and two-storey shopping, occupied by Messrs. Burns, Smith, and Arthur, at weekly rentals producing £9 2s per annum.

The whole of the properties are plentifully supplied with both hard and soft water.

The land is freehold.

The Public House, by reason of its excellent situation, has always been noted for doing a large trade, and is in proximity to the New Athletic Grounds.....”

Walsall Advertiser 7/4/1894

“Mary Ann Simcox, deceased, late of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Sandwell Street, wife of Walter Ernest Simcox. All persons having and Claims or Demands against the above deceased are requested to send particulars thereof to us, the undersigned, on or before Thursday, the 26th day of April instant, and all persons indebted to the deceased are requested to pay the same to us. Dated the 7th day of April, 1894.

A. Pearlman-Smith & Sons, 139, Lichfield Street, Walsall.

Solicitors to the Executors.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Arthur Gormley, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, served 76 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Arthur Gormley – see also LORD RAGLAN.

1911 Census

Sandwell Street – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

- [1] George James Bush (41), public house manager, born Watford, Northamptonshire;
- [2] Sophia Bush (32), wife, married 10 years, assisting in business, born Crowthorne, Berkshire;
- [3] Vera Grace Bush (7), daughter, school, born Crowthorne, Berkshire;
- [4] Percy Hawkins (27), boarder, barman, born Crowthorne, Berkshire:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street, Walsall, 12s 1d.”

Thomas Henry Fenton – see also FALCON.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street. £3 15s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 1/3/1924

“At the Walsall Police Court yesterday, before the Mayor (Councillor J. Thickett) and other magistrates, Grace Clews, widow, 30, Sandwell Street, was summoned for taking intoxicating liquor from the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street, other than during the permitted hours, on February 15th, and Thomas Henry Fenton, the licensee, for aiding and abetting in the commission of the offence. Mr. A. F. Griffin appeared for Mrs. Clews, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for Fenton, and both defendants pleaded not guilty. Sergeant Baker stated that he saw the defendant leave the DOG AND PARTRIDGE at 10.15pm on the date named with two jugs each containing a pint of ale. When he spoke to her she said she had only got some supper beer, and added, ‘Do you want some?’ Inside the public house he found Mrs. Fenton behind the bar, and at the same time several men left the smoke room and went out. Mr. Fenton just afterwards came up from the cellar, and when his attention was called to the time, he said Mrs. Clews had not been served since 10 o’clock. Subsequently he saw Mrs. Clews at her house and she then said Mrs. Fenton served her ‘all ten minutes’ before she left and she had since been talking to two women.

In cross-examination by Mr. A. F. Griffin, witness denied that it was ‘nothing like 10.15’ when he saw defendant leave Highfield Passage.

Answering Mr. H. H. Jackson witness agreed that Mrs. Clews’s statement to him appeared quite reasonable and straightforward. When witness first saw her, she was actually passing through the door of the licensed premises into Highfield Passage. Witness said that all the glasses had been cleared from the smoke room when he entered the house.

When the question of the exact time of the alleged offence was again raised, Mr. Jackson asked the sergeant what time his watch recorded at that moment. ‘Twelve minutes to eleven’, replied the officer, producing his timepiece. Turning to the court clock and producing his own watch, Mr. Jackson then remarked that there was a minute’s difference in each case, and the Mayor, bringing forth his watch also, said his differed from the other three!

Police-constable Capewell, corroborating Sergeant Baker’s evidence, said he actually saw Mrs. Clews leave the public house with the beer at 10.15pm.

The defendant, in the box, said she was served with the ale by Mrs. Fenton at 10 minutes to 10, and she afterwards stood on the step outside talking to two acquaintances for six or seven minutes. It was only a minute or two after ten o’clock when Sergeant Baker spoke to her.

Annie Wakelam, 54, Sandwell Street, and Harriet Hicken, 25, Newhall Street, both stated that Mrs. Clews called them as she was leaving the premises and they had several minutes conversation with her while she stood outside and they were just inside the door.

Addressing the Bench on behalf of Fenton, Mr. Jackson said he had held the license of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE for eleven years without any previous complaint. ‘Before a man can get a license,’ added Mr. Jackson, ‘He has to have a character like a bishop. Indeed I don’t know if any bishop could produce such a character.’

Thomas Henry Fenton, the defendant, giving evidence on his own behalf, said no drink was supplied after 10 o’clock, and he was under the impression that Mrs. Clews had left the premises.

Mrs. Fenton said she served Mrs. Clews at 9.50, and at 9.56 she saw her open the side door, and therefore concluded that she had gone home. She had no idea that Mrs. Clews remained any where near the house.

The magistrates retired, and on their return after a short absence, the Mayor said they were of the opinion that Mrs. Clews had committed a technical offence, but they did not think she did it wittingly, and she would be let off with a fine of 5s. With regard to Mr. Fenton, it had not been proved to the magistrates’ satisfaction that he was in any way cognicent of any offence being committed, and the case against him would be dismissed on payment of costs. They hoped, however, that he would exercise the greatest care in the future to see that his premises were cleared as punctually as possible.”

John Kingdon – see also FIELDGATE TAVERN.

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1928

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 9th inst, at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention.....

Walter Reginald Noake, DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Sandwell Street, elected member of the society.”

Demolished

It was rebuilt.

It had a bowling green. [1934]

Thomas Henry Fenton was a trustee of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Provident Society. [1934]

1939 Register

46, Sandwell Street

[1] Thomas H. Fenton, date of birth 5/7/1871, publican, married;

[2] Ada E. L. Fenton, dob 16/10/1874, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Sandwell Street, £2 12s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street. £0 10s 2d.”

Edwin Malton – see also DELVES.

Samuel Godfrey Plimmer – see also THATCHED HOUSE, Bloxwich.

Sandwell Evening Mail 13/8/1994

“Down Your Local. DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Walsall.

Bet you didn’t know Bob Dylan performs at a back street local in the Black Country. He can often be found belting out those old favourites like ‘Mr. Tamborine Man’ and ‘Rainy Day Woman.’ It’s true, well, partly true, anyway. Actually the ageing crooner that packs ’em in isn’t the 60s folk legend, but Bob Dillon, Walsall councillor and a regular at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE. ‘He may not be the real thing, but he’s very good,’ said landlady Kathleen Baker. ‘In fact, if you closed your eyes when he starts singing, you could almost think you were listening to the Bob Dylan.’

Bob, elected to Walsall council last May after defeating the town’s mayor in the local elections, likes nothing more than to join in the pub’s regular ‘mime-o-gram’ nights when customers take to the stage and mime to their favourite singers. The soundalikes who have performed there include Shirley Bassey, Elvis and Pavarotti. A corner of the pub is turned into a mini night club for the occasion. Participants emerge from behind a black curtain to do their bit on a hastily-erected stage, under bright spotlights. There are even posters on the walls from concerts in the 60s. ‘Our little ‘club’ may not exactly be the Palladium,’ said Kathleen, ‘but creating a bit of a night club atmosphere makes the mime-o-gram nights a bit more special. Everyone takes them very seriously as well. Before doing their act, they’ll watch videos of the stars and rehearse to try to perfect their act before they go on the stage.’ The DOG AND PARTRIDGE has a mock Tudor, large L-shaped bar with a pleasant and comfortable lounge and is situated in a residential area close to the town centre. The regulars do their bit for charity by running an old folks’ club which provides a trip to Blackpool and a Christmas dinner each year. They have also raised cash for local charities and Walsall Manor hospital..... This autumn, Kathleen, who used to run the WATERING TROUGH pub in Walsall, celebrates ten years at the pub, and plans a big party to mark the occasion.....”

Samantha Angela Jones, 10 Grace Road, Tividale, unemployed, lately residing at 16 Greenhill Road, Dudley, and lately carrying on business as the GEORGE, Birmingham Road, Oldbury, the BULLS HEAD, Birmingham Street, Oldbury, the OAK AND IVY, Oxford Street, Bilston, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street, Walsall, the PRINCE BLUTCHER, Stafford Street, Walsall, the ROYAL OAK, Daw End Lane, Rushall, and the SPRING MEADOW, Halesowen Road, Old Hill, filed for bankruptcy in the County Court at Dudley on 1 March 2016.

[2012]

Closed [2017]

DOLPHIN

26, (24), George Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

E. Shannon

Nicholas Roper, Lichfield Street, Walsall

Richard Roper, 16, Lichfield Street, Walsall

W. Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edmund Denham [1834] – [1838]
Edward Thacker [1841] – [1865]
James Thacker [1868] – [1870]
Richard Worsey Shutt [1871] – [1875];
William John Baker [1881] – 1891);
Harriet Wilson (1891 – 1897);
William Wilson [1892] – [1896] ?
Matthew Isaiah Robinson (1897 – 1899);
Frank Dewsbury (1899 – 1900);
William Marston (1900);
William Billing (1900 – 1903);
Alfred Medlam (1903 – 1904); manager
George Frederick Bird (1904 – 1913);
Joseph Berwick (1913 – 1916);
Leonard Sidney Jones (1916 – 1923);
John Edmund Horsfall (1923 – 1925);
Elizabeth Horsfall (1925 – 1926);
James Henry Hobson (1926 – 1927);
John Henry Brotherton (1927 – 1928);
Ernest John Glover (1928 – 1930);
George William Moody (1930 – 1939);
Alfred Charles Mason (1939 – 1957);

NOTES

26, George Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1881], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916]
24, George Street [1873]

DOLPHIN HOTEL

It had a beerhouse license.

Edmund Denham, retailer of beer, George Street. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/1/1836 - Deaths

“On the 8th instant, aged 38, Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Edmund Denham, of the DOLPHIN public house, George Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1838

“Patrick Kirby, who stated himself to come from Castlebar, in Ireland, was charged with uttering one counterfeit six-pence to Mr. Edmund Denham, of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, on Saturday evening. On Wednesday he went again to the same house and tendered another counterfeit coin, upon which Raymond, the officer, was sent for and Kirby given into charge. He was remanded till Monday. Raymond made further inquiry, and has discovered that the prisoner had been at a shop, in Dudley Street, and tendered base coin.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/1/1841

“Walsall Election. Supper parties of the friends of Mr. Gladstone were held on Thursday night, at the WOOLPACK INN, High Street, and at the DOLPHIN, George Street.”

Edward Thacker was also a harness maker. [1845], [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

George Street

- [1] Edward Thacker (42), leather harness maker, born Chester;
- [2] Ellen Thacker (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Francis Edward Thacker (20), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] James Lewis Thacker (17), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Lewis Thacker (15), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [6] George Thacker (7), nephew, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Richard Tisdale (74), lodger, commercial traveller, born Walsall;
- [8] Ann Smallwood (26), house servant, born Walsall;
- [9] George Hicken (44), visitor, in police force, born Walsall; “Darlaston. The Late Fatal Boiler Explosion.....

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/2/1855

On Monday afternoon an adjourned inquest was held before the Walsall coroner, at the house of Mr. Edward Thacker, the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, on the bodies of Michael Nicholas and John Farricourt, two more of the men who were killed by the explosion, the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased men met their death by the explosion of a boiler, and that such explosion was caused by a man named Gough (one of those killed), incautiously heaping fuel on the boiler fire. Nicholas has left a widow and three children; Henry Gough (another man killed), had left a widow enceinte, with four children; and Joseph Wood, another victim, has left a wife in the same condition.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1858

“Edward Thacker, of the DOLPHIN public house, George Street, was charged by Police-constable Robert Smith with having on Sunday last kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. The officer said at twenty minutes past twelve o'clock he found four persons drinking in the parlour. Mr. Thacker, who said that during the nineteen years he had been in business there never had been grounds for a complaint against him before, was fined in the mitigated penalty of 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 3/9/1859

“The bench proceeded to entertain the applications for new licenses.....

Mr. Wilkinson's application on behalf of Mr. Henry Whittaker, beerhouse keeper, George Street, was opposed by Mr. Duignan on behalf of Mr. Thacker of the DOLPHIN, which is within a few doors of Mr. Whittaker's house, was refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1860

“On Wednesday afternoon an inquest was held before A. A. Fletcher, Esq., at the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, upon the body of William Grady, a child aged eight months. Deceased lived with its parents, at No.3 New Buildings George Street, and was found dead in bed on the 14th instant. A post mortem examination was ordered to satisfy all parties, as the mother of the deceased had a child some time ago who died suddenly. After hearing the medical testimony, and having it stated that during the night of the 13th the mother suckled the deceased, the Jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Free Press 3/3/1860 - Advert

“Notice To Sick Societies.

A Sick Society meeting at Mr. Thacker's, DOLPHIN INN, George Street, comprising twenty members, and having £50 stock; are prepared to receive overtures from another Society wishing to join them.”

1861 Census

26, George Street

- [1] Edward Thacker (52), sadler, born Chester;
- [2] Ellen Thacker (53), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] James Thacker (26), son, collar maker, born Walsall;
- [4] George Thacker (17), son, saddlers' ironmonger apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Caroline Martha Thacker (6), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [6] Emma Upton (18), servant, born Aston, Canterbury:

London Gazette 25/6/1861

“Edmund Denham, late of Walsall, Staffordshire, School Master and Victualler, Retailer of Spirituous Liquors and Tobacco, since Brick Maker, Victualler, Retailer of Liquors and Tobacco, and lately Brick Maker, only.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton's, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o'clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Thacker, DOLPHIN INN.”

Edward Thacker was described as a saddle, harness and collar maker. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 31/3/1866 - Advert

“Independent Order Of Odd Fellows (Manchester Unity). Bescot Bridge Division.

The members of the Bescot Bridge District of the above Order respectfully inform the Public that they intend holding their First Annual Tea Party, Concert, & Ball, in the Guildhall Assembly Room, Walsall, on Easter Monday, April 2nd, 1866.

The entire proceeds of which will be invested in Trust for the Benefit of the Cottage Hospital.

Tickets, 1s 6d each.

Early applications for tickets is requested, as the Committee have limited the number to 500, and no Money will be taken at the door.

Tickets may be obtained at the DRAGON INN, and the WHITE LION INN, High Street; the DOLPHIN INN, George Street; the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street; at 16 Bath Street, the 'Walsall News' Office, and of Mr. J. T. King, printer, Stafford Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/10/1867 - Notice

"All Persons having Claims against James Lewis Thacker late of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, Walsall, who died on the 15th instant, will please send same for payment to the undersigned; and all Persons owing are Respectfully requested to pay to Francis Edward Thacker, 310, Green Lane, Coventry Road, Birmingham."

Walsall Free Press 26/10/1867 - Advert

"To Be Let, with immediate possession, that Old Licensed Public-house, known as the DOLPHIN INN, George Street. Fixtures, Good-will &c. to be taken at a Valuation.
Apply to Mr. Osbourn, Lower Hall lane."

1871 Census

26, George Street

- [1] Richard Shutt (62), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Maria Shutt (58), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Powell (11), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Frederick Hitch (19), son in law, buckle tong maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Anne Hitch (11), daughter in law, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Bridget Higgins (21), general servant, born Ireland:

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

"Municipal Election....."

On Thursday evening two meetings, in favour of Mr. Grant's candidature, were held – one at the DOLPHIN, George Street, and one at the PHEASANT, Windmill Street....."

Midland Examiner 23/1/1875

"Richard Shutt, landlord of the DOLPHIN INN, was summoned for having his house open for the sale of beer before half-past twelve o'clock on Sunday, the 17th inst. Mr. Gillespie defended.

PC Bailey deposed to seeing a woman coming out of the defendant's premises with ale in a jug about 20 minutes before 12 o'clock. The defence set up was that there was no sale of the liquor, but that the woman in question went to defendant's with some greens on the morning in question, and the ale was given to her.

Mr. Gillespie said that it was no doubt a strong case, but suspicion was not guilt. The Act did not prevent a person giving away liquor under such circumstances, as he should be able to prove.

Ann Benton, servant to defendant, deposed to a woman named Winston rapping at her master's door. She opened the door and found that she had some greens for dinner. She did not come into the house. She took the greens to her mistress, and she was told to give her some beer for dinner. She drew her some, and went to the door and gave it to her. Another woman was then there having brought her washing. Not having any money she told her to go to Mrs. Shutt and ask for a shilling. No beer was paid for. After they left the policeman came back with Mrs. Winston and complained.

Mrs. Winston deposed to being requested by Mrs. Shutt on Saturday night to get her some greens for her. She did so, and took them Saturday night, but the house was closed. She took them on Sunday morning and the servant took them in. The beer was given to her in a bottle, and she did not ask for it, and she did not pay for it.

Mrs. Murphy deposed to going to defendant's house on Sunday morning with some clothes for the servant. The last witness was standing at the door at the time. She saw the servant give Mrs. Winston the bottle at the door. She had nothing whatever to drink. The magistrates then consulted together; the Mayor said they were of opinion that the police had done their duty in bringing the case forward, but in the event of similar evidence in future, they should look upon similar evidence with suspicion. The summons was then dismissed."

1881 Census

26, George Street

- [1] William John Baker (41), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Baker (38), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] William John Baker (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Mary Baker (2 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] John Hearn (13), stepson, scholar, born Burntwood;
- [6] Mary Nicklin (75), mother in law, widow, annuitant, born Walsall;
- [7] Laura Holden (18), born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 4/5/1889 - Deaths

"On the 26th Ult. at Mount Pleasant, Walsall, aged 82 years, Richard Worsey Shutt, late of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, Walsall."

1891 Census

26, George Street – DOLPHIN INN

- [1] William J. Baker (50), brush maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Baker (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William J. Baker (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth M. Baker (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Fanny Lees (17), general servant, born Blakenall;
- [6] John Mickle (61), boarder, tailor and draper, born Scotland;
- [7] Herbert H. Watton (46), boarder, spring bar maker, born Walsall;
- [8] John Sparke (28), lodger, tailor, born Scotland;
- [9] Michael Sharam (27), lodger, tailor, born Ireland;
- [10] Robert Crawford (30), lodger, tailor, born Scotland;
- [11] Jonah Woodward (47), lodger, tailor's heater, born Gornall;

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1892

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Saturday last at the house of Mr. William Wilson (hon. treasurer), DOLPHIN INN, George Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 21/7/1894

“Bernard Durkin, labourer, George Street was charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm upon George Page, of 8, George Street, on June 23. Prisoner pleaded ‘not guilty’, Mr. Lewis, barrister-at-law, instructed by Mr. Cooke, solicitor, prosecuted. Prisoner was undefended.

Page said he was in the DOLPHIN public house in George Street, on June 23, along with the prisoner. The latter followed him out and knocked him down, and he remembered nothing more until Sunday. That evening he bled very much, and on the Monday sent for Dr. Angove.

He did not begin speaking about scaffolding in the DOLPHIN. He never offered to fight or challenge Durkin. Both of them had had beer. Some time before they had had a quarrel, and Durkin then challenged him to fight. He was sure he had not spoken to the prisoner since.

Gertrude Fenimore, domestic servant, 50, George Street, deposed that she saw Durkin knock down Page with a blow from his right fist. He fell in the middle of the road. Durkin picked him up and knocked him down again, and a third time picked him up and threw him. All the time she never saw Page strike Durkin. Prisoner came up behind Page, but when he struck him they were face to face.

Dr. Angove said he was called to attend Page on June 25. His face was very much swollen and discoloured, and there were wounds on the corner of the right eye and the temple. He had been bleeding freely, the pupil of his eye was very sluggish, and he was then in a semi-comatose state, and inclined to faint. The bleeding was stopped with difficulty. For some days he was in danger. The probable cause of the injuries was from a blow coupled with a fall on something hard. The beer he had taken would make him more inclined to bleed.

For the defence, Mrs. Wilson, landlady of the DOLPHIN public house, George Street, in reply to prisoner, said Page was using bad language in the house, and she ordered him out. When she returned to the room she heard Durkin say, ‘If you hit me I shall summons you’. They were very particular about bad language in the DOLPHIN. She had never seen Page before that she knew of. She did not hear any quarrelling between the parties, although she ordered Page out. He was swearing, and he used some words about scaffolding. Durkin, addressing the Jury, said Page provoked him, as he had done before, and, losing his temper, he struck him twice with his fist.

The Recorder said the prosecutor had given the impression of a respectable, truthful man, and there was no doubt also that the DOLPHIN was a place of the highest respectability. A landlady of Mrs. Wilson's appearance, and a place with those rules were a combination rarely to be met with even in the highly moral and respectable borough of Walsall. But nevertheless he must hold as facts that this was Saturday night, that the place was a public house, that both parties were in drink, and that an assault took place as to which they had the perfectly reliable, truthful, unprejudiced evidence of the girl, Gertrude Fenimore, who had no interest in either of the parties, and saw and heard nothing except the assault. On the other hand prisoner's version of the affair received a certain amount of corroboration from the landlady's statement that she heard the word ‘scaffolding’ mentioned.

The jury found the prisoner guilty of ‘assault occasioning grievous bodily harm.’

The Recorder, in passing sentence, said he had some difficulty in deciding what amount of punishment to inflict upon an habitual, violent, disorderly man like the prisoner, for his career had been such as to justify a sentence of almost any length. He was now 29 years of age. He began to break the law at ten years of age, and since then he had been charged and imprisoned for assaulting the police and others, and for many other minor offences. Only in January this year he was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for an assault, and within two months he was at it again. There was this much to be said for him, however: there was not a single charge of dishonesty against him during his public career of nineteen years; he had only been a disorderly young savage in the town. Taking that fact into consideration, and also that he had not used a knife or his foot, and that the prosecutor had probably obtained his injuries by falling on the pavement, the Recorder thought the justice of the case would be satisfied with a sentence of six months' hard labour. He urged the prisoner in future to refrain from drinking too much beer.”

[The Mysterious Case of the Scaffolding!]

Matthew Robinson was fined 10s and costs, in 1897, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1897

“An application for sanction to plans for alterations to the DOLPHIN public house premises came before the Walsall Licensing Bench on Monday. More than ordinary interest attached to the application. The premises named are situate in George Street, nearly opposite Messrs. Shannon’s factory.

Mr. Langley now submitted the plans on behalf of Messrs. Butler and Co, of Wolverhampton, the owners of the premises, and, in doing so, threw out a suggestion that the Bench should take into consideration at the same time an application by Messrs. Butler for an extension of the premises of the DUN COW HOTEL in Wolverhampton Street. If the Bench were willing to grant this extension his clients were willing to come to an arrangement to set back the DOLPHIN premises.

The Town Clerk remarked that for many years past now the Corporation had been anxious to secure the widening of George Street, which was one of the main arteries of the town. Unfortunately, George Street at one point was 18ft 6in wide only. Messrs. Shannon’s factory was situate in the street, and workpeople numbering over 1,600 were employed there. In addition to that, there were usually a large number of railway and parcel drays in the street, and the narrowness of the street was a serious objection and a positive danger to the workpeople employed by Messrs. Shannon. The Corporation possessed no power to compel Messrs. Butler to take down these premises. The only way to do that would be to obtain a provisional order. When it came to the notice of the Corporation that plans had been deposited for the alteration of the DOLPHIN premises, they felt it their duty to make known to the Bench the serious objection there was to the sanction of plans which, if carried out, would have the effect of indefinitely postponing the widening of George Street. They asked if their Worship were satisfied that the public requirements demanded a reasonable extension of the DUN COW premises, their Worship would take the matter into favourable consideration, having regard to the fact that the public would obtain a quid pro quo by the proposed improvement in George Street.

Evidence having been given in support of the applications, in the course of which it was pointed out that it was proposed to increase the licensed area of the DUN COW premises by ninety yards, the accommodation there being inadequate for customers, especially on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Saturdays.

Mr. E. J. Shannon went into the witness box, and stated that they had 1,650 people in their employ. Recently they had had to make arrangements to turn a number of their workpeople out another way. He did not see why another thousand people should not be employed there eventually, but the firm would have to consider whether they could get the workpeople out if the present narrow street were continued. He understood the DOLPHIN premises some time ago could have been bought for £800. If he had known that he would have bought the premises himself and have made the town a present of them.

The Bench, in regard to the DUN COW, refused the application. In regard to the other application, they could not sanction the alterations unless the premises were set back to the building line fixed by the Council.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/1/1898

“The Widening of George Street. The following plans had been approved by the Streets Committee.....

W. Butler and Co, rebuilding of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street.....

The committee had inspected the properties adjoining the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, part of which are required for widening and improving the street, and the Town Clerk reported that as a result of the negotiations he had been directed to make, he had entered into provisional agreements under which the whole of the land required by the Council for widening the street could be acquired, and the houses and buildings now standing thereon pulled down, at a cost to the Council of about £850, if the borough justices would consent to certain alterations proposed to be made by Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Limited to the DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street, and to the DOLPHIN INN being pulled down and re-erected. The committee, recognising the great importance of such an improvement being carried into effect, had approved and confirmed such agreements, and recommended that the Council enter into agreements for acquiring so much of the land on the southerly side of George Street, from George Street Terrace to the GREEN MAN INN, as is required for the widening of George Street, at a cost to the Council of £850.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/1/1898

“Matthew Isaiah Robinson, landlord of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness, and for supplying drink to drunken persons. Mr. C. N. Wright (Messrs. Fowler and Langley, Wolverhampton) defended.

Evidence was given by Acting-sergeant Shipley that at 9.30 on the night of the 15th inst. he visited the house in company with Detective Haycock, and there found in the kitchen a man named Coolley asleep, and a man named Keenan there drunk. Keenan tried to rise, but fell back. Witness drew the landlord’s attention to the man Keenan, and defendant said that he saw the man in the passage, but did not know that he had gone into the kitchen. He also said Coolley had been drinking with his wife, and had been working late. Mrs. Coolley and a man named Morley tried to wake Coolley up, but he was practically unconscious, witness thought with drink. Witness said that he should report that the men were drunk, and the landlord said, ‘Don’t be too hard on me. I have left a nice comfortable home to come to this place’. In cross-examination, witness said he did not know that Coolley had ever complained of being unable to take his proper sleep.

Detective Haycock gave corroborative evidence, and witness, in cross-examination, while admitting that Coolley might have been tired, said that the man was certainly drunk. Coolley on the Sunday morning came to him and asked him what took place on the previous night, because he could not remember.

Police-constable Powell deposed that he also went to the DOLPHIN and saw Coolley and Keenan, both of whom were drunk. Witness was also called by the landlord at another time the same evening to eject some men. He then found seven or eight men, who were more or less drunk, in the house.

Mr. Wright, for the defence, argued that it was no offence against the landlord for the men to be drunk on the premises. It was necessary to prove that the landlord permitted them to be there when they were drunk, and that he served them with intoxicating drink. His case was that no drink was served to either of the men. As to why Coolley was asleep, he (Mr. Wright) suggested that it was because the man, who was in a comfortable corner, had previously been unable to get his regular rest owing to a family trouble, his son had disappeared, and not since been heard of. He also mentioned that the DOLPHIN was shortly to be rebuilt, and that it was unfortunate that in the closing days of its present existence it should have been overshadowed by a prosecution of this kind. His client held a very good character, and was formerly steward of the Kates Hill Social Club, Dudley. Witnesses were then called for the defence.

Mr. E. John Shannon, managing director of Messrs. Shannon and Sons, Limited, stated that he had noticed that there was a distinct improvement in the management of the house since the defendant had kept it.

Defendant was called and stated that he was in the cellar when the men came into the house, and they were not served with anything. He did not know that they were in the house.

Mrs. Coolley denied that her husband was drunk.

Several other witnesses were called, one of them being John Morley, an old Walsall footballer, who once played centre-half for the town club.

The Bench retired for consultation, and on returning into Court, Mr. Beebee said that as regards Coolley, the Bench thought there had been sufficient carelessness on the part of the landlord to justify a small fine. Defendant would be fined 10s and the costs, but there would not be any endorsement of the license. The charge of supplying would be dismissed.

Richard Coolley, of Freer's Yard, and James Keenan, of 65, George Street, were fined 5s and costs each for being found drunk on the licensed premises."

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

"The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

Since the 27th August, 1897, 5 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against, 4 of whom were convicted, viz.....

26th January, Mathew Isaiah Robinson, DOLPHIN, George Street, fined 10s for permitting drunkenness."

Frank Dewsbury – see also FALCON.

[It looks like it was demolished and rebuilt, opening as the DOLPHIN HOTEL.]

Walsall Observer 10/3/1900

"Last week the employees of Mr. W. Whistance, builder and contractor, met at the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, on the occasion of their annual dinner. About 140 thoroughly enjoyed an excellent and sumptuous repast. A rather remarkable feature in connection with the dinner this year was that a number of the men who at present are employed on the Walsall Seaside Home, Pensard, Abergele, were being entertained at the same time....."

1901 Census

George Street – DOLPHIN INN

- [1] William Billing (45), licensed victualler, born Heath Town;
- [2] Kate Billing (40), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Ernest Billing (19), son, cycle works manager, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Beatrice Billing (13), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Percy Billing (11), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Frederick Billing (8), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Bertram Billing (6), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Ada E. Booth (29), boarder, born Willenhall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/4/1901

"On Thursday evening on the occasion of the opening of a new billiard room at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, an exhibition game was played between F. Bateman, Midland champion, who conceded 300 start to W. Bateman, 750 up. The champion gave a brilliant display and won by 64, his best break being 126. Afterwards he gave an exhibition of fancy strokes."

Walsall Advertiser 10/8/1901

"We were informed yesterday by Mr. Breeze, the secretary, that Mr. W. Billing, of the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, has consented to become president of the Walsall Football Club for the ensuing season."

Alfred Medlam – see also WHITE HORSE, and LITTLETON ARMS.

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

"The members of the Walsall Tobacconists' Association held their annual dinner at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, on Thursday week The room in which the dinner was partaken of was most tastefully decorated, and the company must have been abundantly satisfied with the manner in which the repast was served up by Host and Hostess Bird....."

Walsall Advertiser 2/6/1906

"The quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District Friendly Societies' Council was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street on Thursday evening.....

It was decided to adjourn the discussion as to what steps to take to improve the attendance at the court and lodge meetings to a special meeting to be held at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, on August 22nd, Bro. Bridgewater who should have opened the discussion, stating his inability to place his views before them in the short time at his disposal.

The MARKET TAVERN, Freer Street, was the place selected for the next quarterly meeting.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“Councillor G. W. Warner presided over a well attended meeting of the newly-formed Walsall and District Working Men’s Hospital Representative Association, held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1907

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District Friendly Societies Council was held at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, on Thursday.....

Mr. Bridgewater moved that a clause in the minutes referring to the change of headquarters from the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street be rescinded. The clause was proposed under a misapprehension that there was no lodge meeting at the house subscribing to their society. He represented the Bescot Bridge District Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, which met there and they did subscribe to their society.

Mr. Warner seconded.

Mr. Sankey said that Mr. Bridgewater was present when the resolution was proposed and he should like to know why he did not object at that time.

The President said Mr. Bridgewater was perfectly in order bringing the matter forward.

The resolution was eventually carried.

The DOLPHIN HOTEL was appointed as the headquarters of the society for the ensuing twelve months.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1908

“On Monday afternoon, a meeting of Messrs. Butler’s managers and tenants was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, to protest against the proposed Licensing Bill. Alderman C. B. Plant, of Wolverhampton, presided. On the motion of Mr. Evans, of the DUSTY MILLER INN, seconded by Mr. Chadd, the following resolution was unanimously passed: ‘That this meeting of customers of Butler’s Brewery, Wolverhampton, emphatically protests against the proposed new Licensing Bill as a grossly unfair and confiscatory measure, prejudicial to their interests as free Englishmen, and certain to cause loss of employment; and those present pledge themselves to use every legitimate effort to prevent its becoming the law of the land.’ The following resolution was also carried unanimously: ‘That the principle of a time limit is inadmissible and must be opposed by the full strength of the trade’.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/10/1909 - Notice

“Walsall Troop Staffordshire Yeomanry.

The Annual Dinner and Smoking Concert of the above Troop will be held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, Walsall, on Thursday, the 28th inst. The Squadron Officers will be present, and it is hoped that every member will do his utmost to make it a success. Tickets may be had at Troop Headquarters, or the Sergeants’ Mess of the 5th Battalion; or any Member of the Yeomanry. Tickets 3s 6d each.

Drills will commence on Tuesday Evening Next, at 8 o’clock, and will continue every Tuesday through the Winter months.

Members to attend in Drill Order whenever possible.

(Signed) H. Caldicott, Sergeant.

Troop Headquarters: the FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/10/1909

“The members of the Walsall Troop of the Q.O.R.R. Staffordshire Yeomanry held their tenth annual dinner and smoking concert on Thursday evening at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street. There was a good muster Host G. F. Bird served up an excellent repast, at the conclusion of which the loyal toast was honoured the host and hostess were thanked for the admirable way in which they had catered for the company.

During the evening the following programme was rendered: Pianoforte solo, Mr. H. Breeze; songs, ‘Will o’ the Wisp’, ‘The Demon King’, and ‘The Bandelero’, Mr. Gibson; comic songs, Mr. H. Lawrence; musical monologue, recitation, and comic song, ‘Oh, Mr. Moon!’, Trooper A. Ross. Mr. Breeze ably accompanied throughout the evening, and the National Anthem terminated the proceedings.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/12/1909 - Advert

“General Wanted, about 20; references required; one from country preferred.

Apply, DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/3/1910

“In connection with the Walsall Branch of the Amalgamated Union of Operative Bakers and Confectioners, a successful smoking concert was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, on Saturday evening, when Mr. Hill (Birmingham) occupied the chair. An interesting programme of items had been arranged and the proceeds of the concert were in aid of the Benevolent Fund.

Mr. H. Thorney was in capital form with his comic songs and several enjoyable mandolin and guitar duets were rendered by Messrs. Webb and Tidey. Mr. Kemp, Mr. Baggott and Mr. Taylor also rendered songs while the latter rendered a pianoforte solo and played the accompaniments.....”

1911 Census

George Street – DOLPHIN HOTEL

- [1] George Frederick Bird (47), hotel manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Louisa Bird (56), sister in law, born Walsall;
- [3] Sidney Herbert Bird (17), son, tailor's woolen department, born Walsall;
- [4] Vera Bird (14), daughter, at home, born Walsall;
- [5] Frederick Alonzo Bird (12), son, school, born Walsall;
- [6] Wilhelmina Bird (9), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [7] William Albert Bird (6), son, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Katherin McHugh (24), servant, birthplace not given:

Walsall Observer 7/2/1914

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall District of the Loyal Caledonian Corks was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, on Saturday afternoon All the lodges in the district were represented, and there were present 112 delegates.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

DOLPHIN, George Street, Walsall, 3s 9½d.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1915

“A general meeting of the Walsall Church Parade Council was held on Tuesday evening at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, for the purpose of distributing the proceeds of the recent Church parade. The amount collected in boxes in the streets and at the service at the Parish Church (including donations from Sir R. A. Cooper, £3 3s; John Shannon & Son Ltd, 10s 6d; Henry Cozens, 5s; F. F. Harrison, 5s; W. Binedon, 2s 6d; G. Power, £1; and amount in hand from last year, £1 2s 8½d) amounted to £35 7s 7d..... It was decided to distribute the money collected among the following institutions: Walsall and District Hospital, Pensarn Home, Winter Convalescent Home, and the Walsall Rescue Home, each to receive £6 6s.....

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to all who assisted to make the parade so successful.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

DOLPHIN INN, George Street. £1 0s 5½d.”

John Henry Brotherton – see also SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, and TALBOT, Digbeth.

1939 Register

George Street – DOLPHIN Public House

- [1] Alfred C. Mason, date of birth 10/3/1883, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Nellie Mason, dob 13/4/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Cyril G. Bullock, dob 12/8/1915, annealer, non-ferrous metals, married;
- [4] Doris G. Bullock, dob 13/2/1915, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [5] Sylvia M. Bullock, dob 17/1/1937, under school age, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, £1 8s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street. £7 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street. £3 8s 6d.”

Closed

The license was transferred to the DOLPHIN, Goscote Lane, in 1957.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/5/1961 - Advert

“By direction of W. Butler & Co. Ltd. in the Counties of Stafford and Worcester.

Sale by Auction of the Important and Valuable Freehold De-licensed Properties.

Prominently situated in and adjacent to Shopping Centres and ripe for early conversion or re-development.....

Lot 4. DOLPHIN INN, George Street, Walsall.

Situate just off High Street close to the Town Centre.

The property has a Frontage of 55ft and a Site Area of 458 square yards or thereabouts.

Vacant Possession on Completion.”

DOLPHIN

Goscote Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Pubmaster [2006]

LICENSEES

Joseph Henry Mason (1957 – 1958);

Kenneth John Price (1958);

Joseph William Wesson (1958 – 1963);

Patrick Arthur Swain (1963 – 1965);

George William Beeley (1965 – [1966]

NOTES

It opened on 25th July 1957.

The license was transferred from the DOLPHIN, George Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 9/12/1957

“The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is an extract from the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....

The policy of dealing with uneconomic licensed houses has been continued during the year. In all, sixteen have been closed, twelve of those being in respect of the following new houses opened during the year.....

DOLPHIN, Walsall.

These have played their part well in the increased sales of draught beer and wines and spirits.....”

Patrick Arthur Swain – see also CAMBRIDGE, and NEWPORT ARMS.

George William Beeley – see also NEWPORT ARMS.

[2005]

It closed in 2006.

The building was damaged by two fires over the Christmas period 2006. The roof was destroyed by the second fire on December 27th.

It was demolished in 2007.

DRAGON

New Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Farmer [1818]

DRUNKEN DUCK

55, High Street, (Lichfield Road), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Boulter and Son

LICENSEES

Samuel Harrison [1868] – 1875);
Matthew Cherry (1875 – []
Job Sivorn [1887]
Charlotte Sivorn [1891]
T Davies [1900] ?
Thomas Dalton [1900] – 1901);
William Purslow 1901 – 1912);
H Bateman (1912 – [1914]
Alfred Litherland []
Benjamin Samuel Bailey [1932] – [1940]
Len Jackson [late 1950s]
Joanne Malin [2010]

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It was originally the HAWTHORN TREE.

HAWTHORN [1901]

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“Rushall, Tuesday. Adjourned Licensing Meeting.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. S. Harrison, the HAWTHORNE TREE free beerhouse, Walsall Wood, for a spirit license. Mr. Dale (from the office of Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) opposed the application, on behalf of Mr. T. Jackson, the RED LION INN, and it was refused.”

Birmingham Gazette 21/10/1868

“Charles Jackson was charged with having, on the 16th inst., been disorderly in the HAWTHORN TREE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and also with having assaulted the landlady, Mrs. Fanny Harrison. It appeared that, defendant, on the 16th inst, went to the HAWTHORN TREE beerhouse, and called for two glasses of ale, with which he was supplied. He then became very disorderly, and was ordered to leave, but he refused, and threatened to knock out the landlord’s teeth; and Mrs. Harrison, fearing the defendant would strike her husband, touched the defendant on the shoulder, and advised him to leave, but instead of doing so he struck her a blow, which for a time rendered her senseless. Defendant denied striking Mrs. Harrison, and said he left the house when requested to do so.

The Bench, however, ordered him to pay a fine of £1 and costs, or in default to be imprisoned fourteen days, for the first offence, and a fine of £2 and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for one month, for assaulting Mrs. Harrison. Defendant, who pulled out a bag full of gold, paid the fine, and declared that would not break him, nor would £1,000 break him.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/1/1869

“Geo. Parish, Thos. Cox, William Johnson, William Mold, John Ingle, and Henry Tyball, were charged with having, on the 8th December last, assaulted Samuel Harrison, landlord of the HAWTHORN TREE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and John Snowbridge. From the evidence it appears the defendants came to the HAWTHORN TREE, and after quarrelling with some people in the kitchen, they went into the parlour, where a club meeting was being held, and on the complainant Snowbridge requesting them to leave the room till the club business was over, Parish struck him, and then Johnstone struck him, and called on the others, who also set about Snowbridge, and kicked and pulled him out of the house, and on the landlord (Samuel Harrison) attempting to save Snowbridge, the defendants struck him. A regular row then ensued, in the course of which the lamps were broken, furniture and windows smashed, and Mrs. Harrison, as well as her husband assaulted. The defendants were further charged with at the same time and place damaged Mr. Harrison's house to the extent of 50s; and Snowbridge's watch and guard-chain, to the extent of 10s. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, in Harrison's assault case, ordered Johnson to pay a fine of £2 and costs; and the others to pay a fine of £1 and costs. In Snowbridge's assault case, Johnson and Parish were each ordered to pay a fine of £1 and costs. In Harrison's damage case, all except Ingle to pay a fine of 10s and costs; and in Snowbridge's damage case, Johnson, Parish, Mold, and Cox, to pay a fine of 10s and costs, the alternative in each case being one months' imprisonment with hard labour."

Matthew Cherry, (28), bachelor, brewer, married Charlotte Littler, (20), spinster, domestic servant, on 19th February 1871.

1871 Census

Walsall Wood – HAWTHORN TREE

- [1] Samuel Harrison (45), beerhouse keeper, born Pelsall;
- [2] Fanny Harrison (42), wife, born Wilnecote, Warwickshire;
- [3] Thomas Hinton (9), nephew, scholar, born Cannock;
- [4] Elizabeth Smith (20), general servant, born Yoxhall, Staffordshire:

1881 Census

Lichfield Road

- [1] Matthew Cherry (39), publican, born Long Itchington, Warwickshire;
- [2] Charlotte Cherry (33), wife, born Brownhills, Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah Ann Cherry (8), daughter, born Chasetown, Staffordshire;
- [4] Clara Cherry (6), daughter, born Brownhills, Staffordshire;
- [5] Louisa Cherry (3), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] William Cherry (2), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Matthew Cherry (1 month), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [8] Ann Sculley (12), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood;
- [9] Sarah Percival (14), domestic servant, born Blakenhall:

Job Sivorn, aged 41, married Charlotte Cherry (nee Littler), born 1848, on 28th April 1887.

Lichfield Mercury 25/11/1887

"At the Brownhills Petty Sessions on Wednesday, Charlotte Sivorn, wife of Job Sivorn, innkeeper of Walsall Wood, was summoned on a charge of being drunk whilst in charge of a horse and trap at Pipe Hill on the 14th November. Mr. Enoch Evans, solicitor, of Walsall, defended.

Job Hobbs, a pensioned police-constable of Pipe Hill, stated that he was looking through the bow window of his house, when he saw defendant come along the road from the direction of Lichfield with a horse and gig. A man was with her, but she held the reins, and was driving at a furious rate. He (witness) merely saw her for about three hundred yards along the road, but he was certain she was drunk, by the manner in which she reeled in the gig. A man was driving some sheep just past his house, but although he shouted to her, she did not try to stop the horse, and appeared to have no power over it. Witness had known her a long time. The driver of the sheep afterwards came to him, and asked if he saw the defendant's gig knock one of his sheep over, as it had broke its leg, and the witness told him he did.

George Wright, Ogleby Square, Brownhills, labourer, who was driving the sheep on the day named, saw defendant driving a gig at a furious rate, her husband being with her. He shouted to her to be careful, but she took no notice, and drove through the sheep, cutting the hoof off one. She was drunk, and after they passed him, her husband took the reins from her.

Mr. Evans denied defendant was drunk, and said as she was sitting in the gig by the side of her husband no one could have noticed had she been drunk. He also denied that she was driving the trap. He added that the husband of defendant had bought the sheep which was injured.

Job Sivorn, husband of defendant, said he was with his wife on the day named at Lichfield. When they returned, he drove all the way, and his wife did not touch the reins. She was perfectly sober.

The witness Hobbs was recalled, and swore that Mrs. Sivorn was driving when he saw her.

William Bowen, landlord of the BLACK COCK, Walsall Wood, was called for the defence, but as he saw nothing of the occurrence, his evidence was not taken.

Supt. Barrett, in reply to the Bench, said there was no previous offence recorded against Mrs. Sivorn. She kept a public-house before she married, and it was very well conducted.

A fine of 10s and £1 0s 6d was imposed."

Walsall Observer 21/4/1888

"At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, Job Sivorn, landlord of the HAWTHORN TREE INN, Walsall Wood, was charged with permitting drunkenness, and also with having his house open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours. Mr. R. A. Willcock, Wolverhampton, appeared for the defence

Police-constable Aldritt stated that at 6.20 on March 17th he visited the house and found a man named Thomas Richards drunk.

He called the attention of the landlady to the condition of the man, who said the man had not had anything to drink there, and she had told him to leave the premises.

For the defence, it was stated that the man had been working in a pit where there was fire-damp, and it had overcome him. Fined 10s and costs.

The man Richards was then charged with being drunk upon the said premises, and was fined 2d 6d and costs.

The landlord was next charged with having his house open during prohibited hours, on the 1st inst.

Police-constable Aldritt deposed that at 12.13 the house was opened, and on going in at 12.25 he found four men with drink in front of them. When those in charge of the house were asked to account for what was going on, they said no drink had been supplied until the officer came in.

William Keay and John Collington, who had been subpoenaed to attend, deposed that they saw four men enter the premises at 13 minutes past 12 on Sunday, April 1st.

Mr. Willcock took a technical objection to the summons, and the case was dismissed, but the Bench said defendant had had a very narrow escape of being convicted.”

1891 Census

Lichfield Road – YEW TREE INN [May have chosen to call it YEW TREE for some reason.]

[1] Charlotte Sivorn (42), widow, licensed victualler, born Brownhills;

[2] Clara Cherry (17), daughter, born Brownhills;

[3] Louisa Cherry (14), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] William Cherry (12), son, born Walsall;

[5] Matthew Cherry (10), son, born Walsall;

[6] Florence Cherry (8), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Mary Leonard (14), domestic servant, born Aldridge:

Charlotte Sivorns (nee Littler), born 1851, married Thomas Dalton, aged 39, on 16th January 1893.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning. The magistrates present were Messrs. F. James, W. H. Brookes and J. Naylor.

Superintendent Barnett opposed the renewal of the licenses of the following beerhouses.....

HAWTHORN TREE INN, Walsall Wood, in consequence of the premises being insufficiently defined. Renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood.....”

Walsall Observer 13/1/1900

“Miners’ Supper. A most successful function in connection with the No.3 Lodge was held on Saturday last at the HAWTHORN TREE INN, when nearly seventy members and friends sat down to a capital repast provided in their usual excellent style by Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, the host and hostess.....”

Walsall Observer 29/9/1900

“The annual supper in connection with No.3A Lodge of the Miners’ Federation was successfully held at the HAWTHORN TREE INN, on Saturday, when about eighty members and friends sat down to an excellent repast provided by the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. T. Davies.....”

[Were the host and hostess really Mr. and Mrs. Dalton?]

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – HAWTHORN INN

[1] Thomas Dalton (48), widower, beerhouse keeper, born Brownhills;

[2] William Cherry (22), stepson, butcher, born Walsall Wood;

[3] Matthew Cherry (20), stepson, hairdresser, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Florence Cherry (18), stepdaughter, barmaid, born Walsall Wood;

[5] Louisa Purslow (24), visitor, born Walsall Wood;

[6] William Purslow (27), visitor, colliery engine winder, born Birmingham;

[7] Sarah Whiles (17), general servant, born Hednesford:

Walsall Advertiser 23/5/1903

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. William Purslow, HAWTHORN TREE INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/12/1908

“A labourer named James Bourne (24), of High Street, Walsall Wood, was summoned at the Rushall Police Court on Monday for refusing to quit licensed premises when requested to do so.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who prosecuted, stated that the defendant went to the HAWTHORN TREE INN, Walsall Wood, on the 21st November three times in a drunken condition, and on the last occasion he became disorderly and a policeman had to be called in to eject defendant. They had no vindictive feeling in that matter, but they knew the responsibility of landlords and they wanted protection. William Purslow, landlord gave evidence, and defendant who expressed his regret, was fined 5s and costs (8s 8d).”

Walsall Advertiser 27/3/1909

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, before Messrs. W. H. Brookes (presiding), J. A. Lloyd, and J. Smith, the adjourned summons against John Bailey (51), of Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood, for assaulting Ann Blakemore, a married woman, of The Vigo, Walsall Wood, was heard.

Mrs. Blakemore repeated her evidence given at the previous week’s hearing to the effect that on Saturday, March 6th, she went for her husband, at the HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood, and there was defendant ‘mopping the floor with one or another.’ She stopped in the house about a quarter of an hour, and when she went out defendant followed her and knocked her down, and she was ‘unscience’ for five minutes. Police constable Williams caught hold of him, but defendant released himself and struck her a second time.

In answer to Mr. Jackson, complainant said she had not had anything to drink, and she never shouted at defendant, ‘You — you’re a bobbies’ man.’ She also denied running at defendant and pushing him down.

Henry Brown said that on the date in question he saw a bother and went to see what was the matter. As he was speaking to Mrs. Blakemore, defendant came up, deliberately struck her and knocked her down again, when she got up hit her again. Witness then went home.

Selina Seedhouse, married daughter of complainant also corroborated her mother’s evidence.

Police-constable Williams said that at 11pm he was passing the HAWTHORN TREE, when he heard some loud talking, and as he was going into the house the landlord was turning several persons out an account of a row. No one was drunk. There was a crowd of about one hundred people outside the house and there was a general disturbance. There were several people around Bailey, and he, in trying to free himself from the crowd, struck Mrs. Blakemore, but he (witness) could not say whether it was intentional or not. Mrs. Blakemore was interfering with Bailey.

The case was dismissed.

Arising out of the above disturbance, there were summonses against John Bailey (31), defendant in the above case, and John Blakemore, son of complainant, for disorderly behaviour.

Police-constable Williams said that at 11pm on the 6th of March he saw the two defendants fighting with a crowd around them.

Mr. Jackson said that Bailey was a most respectable man. He had worked at the Walsall Wood Colliery for seventeen years and was now a fireman. Sometime last year there had been a robbery at Walsall Wood, and Bailey helped to catch the two thieves, one of whom was Mrs. Blakemore’s nephew, and at Stafford Assizes he was sentenced to four months’. Ever since then the whole of the Blakemore family had been on to Bailey, and on this particular occasion he was simply trying to get out of the crowd and away from the Blakemores. He had been set upon by those people, and he was struggling to get away.

Bailey gave evidence in corroboration of his advocate’s statement.

The case against Bailey was withdrawn, and Blakemore, who said he was taking his mother’s part, was fined 2s 6d and 9s 6d costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/10/1910

“On Saturday evening a supper was held in connection with the No.3 Lodge of the West Bromwich Miner’s Association, at the HAWTHORN TREE INN, Walsall Wood, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Purslow, being the caterers, in which capacity they left nothing to be desired. About 100 members sat down to the good things provided and needless to add did full justice to them. Eventually the ‘inner man’ was satisfied and the cloths were drawn.....”

Walsall Advertiser 8/4/1911

“On ‘All Fools’ Day’. The story of an alleged theft of 9s 6d on April 1st was told at Rushall Police Court on Monday, before Messrs. R. H. Holden (presiding), E. Wilkes, E. J. Shaw, and W. Precey, when Samuel Powell, who lives at a lodging house in New Street, was charged with stealing that amount from William Purslow.

Prosecutor stated that he was the landlord of the HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood, and the prisoner had been in his employ for some time. On Saturday, April 1st, at 8.30am, he went into the passage, which was not well lighted at the time, and called the prisoner to go a couple of errands, and witness gave him as he thought, two sixpenny pieces and some coppers. He knew that he had 11s in silver and half sovereign in his pocket before he called the prisoner, and at 11 o’clock he missed the gold coin. Witness made enquiries and found that prisoner had changed half a sovereign that morning, and so at 5 o’clock when he next saw him he asked him for the change out of the half sovereign. Prisoner replied that he had not changed one.

Nellie Moreton, domestic servant at the RED LION, Walsall Wood, deposed that the prisoner called for a quart of ale, and after he had paid for it he asked her to change a half sovereign.

Police-constable Williams spoke to arresting the prisoner on the same day, and in reply to the charge he said ‘I have only got a halfpenny on me beside half a sovereign, and I worked for that.’ Witness searched him and found 7s 7½d in his possession, and he was also wearing a new shirt which he said he had bought that day. Prisoner asked by Inspector Platt if he could say where he had had the half sovereign from and he replied ‘No.’

Prisoner said he had saved the half sovereign, and maintained that the prosecutor only gave him two sixpences, besides the coppers.

Re-called, the prosecutor, answering the Magistrates' Clerk (Mr. W. L. Lewis) said he had known the prisoner for 20 years but he would not trust him with more than 9d or so at a time.

Prisoner: You have trusted me with £20 at a time.

Prosecutor then raised a laugh in Court by saying that he did not mind losing a sovereign if it was stolen honestly, but he did not like deceptive work like that by the prisoner.

A fine of 10s and 23s costs was imposed, the alternative being 14 days' hard labour."

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1912

"The Rushall annual Licensing Sessions were held on Monday.....

One beerhouse keeper 'on' had been proceeded against for an offence against his license, and fined. Notice of opposition to the renewal of his license had been served upon William Purslow, then the licensee of the HAWTHORN TREE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, but he had since temporarily transferred his license and left the premises.....

The Chairman said that the license of the HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood, would be adjourned to the next meeting of the authority. The late licensee (Mr. Purslow) had nothing to say against this.

Mr. Gilbert Bailey, however, who appeared on behalf of the owner, said that Mr. Bateman had recently taken over the license in place of Mr. Purslow, who had been given notice to leave by the owners of the house. He had applied to them for a temporary authority for Mr. Bateman, which they had granted. Mr. Bateman was now in the house, and he asked them for a further extension of that temporary authority in order that he could apply to them in March for a full transfer.

The extension was granted."

Walsall Observer 31/1/1914 - In Memoriam

"In Loving memory of Daisy, only daughter of H. Bateman, HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood, who passed away January 28th, 1913, aged 18 years. Still fondly remembered."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

"At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

On the ground of redundancy.....

HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood."

1939 Register

High Street – HAWTHORN TREE INN

[1] Benjamin S. Bailey, date of birth 8/3/1877, publican, married;

[2] Minnie Bailey, dob 28/8/1913, shorthand typist, single;

[3] Pheobe Carson, dob 29/7/1859, unpaid domestic duties, widowed:

Len Jackson was married to Gladys.

Its name was changed to BRASS TACKS in April 1979.

Its name was changed to TIPPLERS in November 1982.

Its name was changed to DRUNKEN DUCK in April 1987.

[2017]

DUKE OF WELLINGTON

46, (12), Birmingham Street, (Birmingham Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Henry Beech, victualler, Ablewell Street, Walsall

John Lord, Short Acre [1908], [1939]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939)

LICENSEES

John Longmore [1853] – [1861]
William Holmes [] – 1861);
Henry Perkins (1861 – [1867]
Mrs. Dinah Smallwood [1868] – [1870]
John Johnson [1869] – [1873];
Henry Stone [];
William Henry Anderson [];
Henry Scott [1881] – 1887);
Benjamin Brittain (1887 – 1888);
Charles Taylor (1888 – 1889);
George Simpson (1889);
Hezekiah Wood (1889 – 1892);
Charles Taylor (1892 – 1893);
Harry Beech (1893 – 1896);
Harry Clenton (1896 – 1909);
Walter Gee (1909 – 1911);
Frederick John Bromwich (1911 – 1912); manager
Ernest Thomas (1912 – 1914);
Harry Grubb (1914 – 1917); manager
Florrie Grubb (1917 – 1922);
Henry Grubb (1922 – 1927);
Thomas McHugh (1927 – 1938);
Annie Minnie Marion McHugh (1938 – 1940);
George Hugh O'Neill (1940 – 1945);
Ernest Horsley (1945 – 1953);
Joseph Brazier (1953 – 1956);
William Anson Griffiths (1956 – 1957);
Alec Henry Snow (1957 – 1959);
Mary Hodgkiss (1959 – [1966]
Gordon Boyes [1994]

NOTES

12, Birmingham Street [1858], [1860], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1891], [1892]
Birmingham Road [1890]
46, Birmingham Street [1896], [1901], [1903], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1940]

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

“At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last., eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers’ licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.....

John Longmore, Birmingham Street.”

Walsall Free Press 23/8/1857

“Several persons holding spirit licenses were cautioned, and one certificate suspended pro tem, that of Mr. J. Longmore, DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/3/1860

“A melancholy case of self-destruction occurred at Walsall, on Tuesday evening. The deceased was Mr. Charles Longmore, formerly clerk to the parish of Walsall. He had for some time been in a desponding state of mind, and on Monday he left home on a visit to his brother, Mr. John Longmore, of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street. On Tuesday he was suddenly missed, and, after an anxious search, he was found hanging to a beam in a workshop over a brewhouse attached to the above inn. He was instantly cut down, and medical assistance was procured but life was extinct. It transpired in the course of the Coroner’s inquiry, on Monday, that the mind of the deceased had been for some time disturbed, and that, though before this he and his wife had lived on the most affectionate terms, yet that afterwards he became so violently excited when he saw her, and she kept out of his way, and would not be left alone with him. He had suffered from delirium tremens about twelve months ago, which corresponded with the time when the symptoms of insanity first commenced. On Monday night his conduct was very strange, but his brother watched him carefully, and eventually it seemed as if he had become tolerably composed. On Tuesday Mr. John Longmore and his wife took great care of deceased, but he had to go out on business in the afternoon, and during that time deceased was missed out of the kitchen, and though search was immediately made, he was not found for about half an hour afterwards, when his body was discovered as above described. The Jury found a verdict of Suicide in a State of Insanity.”

John Longmore was also a stone mason. [1861]

London Gazette 12/3/1861

“Whereas a Petition of John Longmore, now and for ten years and six months last past of Birmingham-street, Walsall, Staffordshire, Licensed Victualler and Stone Mason, and previously thereto for upwards of six years of Church-street, Walsall aforesaid, Stone Mason, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said John Longmore, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said John Longmore is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 28th day of March instant, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said John Longmore, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/4/1861

“Walsall. At this Court on Thursday, before A. M. Skinner, Esq, QC, the following insolvents were heard on their petitions. John Longmore, of Birmingham-street, Walsall, publican, first hearing supported by Mr. Sheldon, opposed by Mr. Warmington, of Dudley; passed.....”

1861 Census

12, Birmingham Street

[1] John Longmore (55), stone mason employing 3 men, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Longmore (53), wife, born Wednesfield;

[3] Fanny Longmore (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 4/1/1862

“Guildhall Police Court. Monday. The license of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON was transferred from William Holmes to Henry Perkins. The transferee had a very good character from the police.”

Walsall Free Press 3/10/1863

“On Tuesday last, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, held an inquest, at the DUKE OF WELLINGTON public house, upon the body of Joseph Harrison, aged nine years, son of John Harrison, brass caster, Birmingham Street, who was found dead in bed, about a quarter to twelve o'clock, on Saturday night. About five o'clock, the deceased, who had been at work for Mr. Deykin, Field Gate, complained of headache and sickness. About eight o'clock, he went to bed, and, at a quarter to twelve, his brother went into the bedroom, and called to his mother that deceased had been sick. The mother went into the room and found that her son was quite dead. Mr. D. S. Moore, who had made a post mortem examination of the body, said he found the stomach gorged with meat, and in the wind-pipe were large pieces of beef. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

It is rather singular that the last inquest held at the DUKE OF WELLINGTON public house was upon the body of another child of Mr. Harrison's, who had been burned to death.”

Henry Perkins was also a plated harness furniture maker. [1864]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/4/1864

“T. Busst of Walsall will run T. Thacker of the same place 140 yards if Thacker will give him three yards start, for £5 a side; or E. Jeffries level 100 yards, for £5 a side. To run within a month from signing articles. Money ready any night next week at Mr. H. Perkins's, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 7/10/1865

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION, Park Street; Henry Perkins, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street; and Mrs. Taylor, landlady of the SWAN AND PEAL, were charged with having had their houses open to entertain friends; each was cautioned and ordered to pay costs.

The Mayor intimated that in all cases where victuallers require to keep their houses open beyond the time fixed by law, they should apply to the bench in petty session for a special license.”

Walsall Free Press 16/12/1865 - Advert

“Notice. Now being Sold, good Home-Brewed Ale at 3d and 4d per quart, at the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, 12, Birmingham Street.”

London Gazette 17/7/1868

“Henry Perkins, of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Plater, adjudicated bankrupt on the 2nd day of March, 1867. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 28th day of July instant, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway, the following publicans and beer-house keepers were each fined 2s 6d and costs for having had their houses open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours.....

John Johnson, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, public-house, Birmingham Street, who had his house open and four men drinking in it at twenty minutes past one o'clock on Saturday morning."

John Johnson was also a chaser. [1871]

1871 Census

12, Birmingham Street – DUKE OF WELLINGTON

- [1] John Johnson (45), chaser and publican, born Longton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Ann Johnson (32), wife, born Gnossall, Staffordshire;
- [3] Eliza Johnson (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Johnson (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Frederick Ross (58), wife's father, brush maker, born Barr, Staffordshire; [Great Barr?]
- [6] Louisa Tomkiss (24), visitor, born Gnossall, Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 2/12/1871

"On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Fletcher held an inquest at the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, upon the body of a child named Abigail Johnson, aged one month, whose parents reside in North Street; and who, about five o'clock on Tuesday morning, was found dead by his mother in bed. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

1881 Census

Birmingham Street – DUKE OF WELLINGTON

- [1] Henry Scott (37), licensed victualler, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Ellen Scott (36), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] H. Walter Scott (15), son, pattern maker (unemployed), born Stourbridge;
- [4] C. F. Scott (14), son, pattern maker (unemployed), born Stourbridge;
- [5] G. H. Scott (8), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [6] Clara Scott (6), daughter, scholar, born Lye;
- [7] Albert Edward Scott (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ellen Scott (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Elizabeth Poole (20), general servant, born Stourbridge:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

"At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses The following applied in person Geo. Simpson, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Road. Refused."

1891 Census

12, Birmingham Street – DUKE OF WELLINGTON

- [1] Hezekiah Wood (25), manager public house, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Matilda Wood (24), wife, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Post 7/7/1891

"Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Hezekiah Wood, the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquors to a drunken person. Mr. F. Bill appeared for the defence.

Police-sergeant Marshall and Police-constable Nicholls proved having been called in to eject a man named Stackhouse, who was drunk and disorderly, and whilst in the house defendant told them that he had supplied a pint of ale to Stackhouse. The defence was that the man was ill, not drunk.

The accused was ordered to pay the costs."

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/10/1892

"George Hill, caster, Windmill Street, appeared by adjournment from a previous court, charged with doing grievous bodily harm to Hezekiah Wood, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street. Mr. F. Bill appeared in support of the charge and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the defence.

The evidence showed that whilst the complainant was putting out of his house a man who had entered in a drunken condition, the defendant went to him, seized him by the collar, and, putting his knees in the complainant's back, threw him down, dislocating his foot, and the dislocation causing a fracture of the small bone. The complainant came into court on crutches, and it was stated that he had been in bed three weeks and would not be able to walk properly under another month. Mr. Jackson for the defence, said the defendant had no malicious intent, but hearing one of his companions call out that Mr. Wood was strangling the man, he got up and pulled him away, but he did not put his knees into his back. The complainant slipped on the floor and so caused the injury. If the magistrates decided to commit, however, he would not call witnesses till the trial.

The accused was committed for trial, but was admitted to bail, himself in £20 and one surety in a like amount."

AND

"A true bill was found against George Hill, caster, on bail, for unlawfully and maliciously inflicting grievous bodily harm on Heze- kiah Wood, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street, under the circumstances reported in another column under the head of Monday's Police. The case was adjourned to the next sessions, however, the prosecutor having been taken with fits during the night and being unable to attend."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/1/1893

"George Hill (on bail) was charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm upon Hezekiah Wood, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street. Mr Vachell (instructed by Mr. F. Bill) prosecuted. The case had stood over from the previous sessions. The evidence for the complainant was that as he was turning a drunken man out of his house the accused put his knee in his back and threw him down, causing a fracture of the leg. On the other hand it was declared that the prisoner merely went to the rescue of a man whom the prisoner [sic] had got across a table and was practically strangling. The accused was found guilty of a common assault and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment, with hard labour. Subsequently the learned Deputy Recorder called the prisoner back and reduced the sentence to four months' imprisonment, stating that he did so on the intercession of the prosecution, who did not wish to be vindictive."

Walsall Advertiser 7/1/1899

"An inquest was held on Tuesday afternoon by Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) touching the death of James Broadhurst, who lived at Ford's Lodging House, Bott Lane, who died suddenly on Saturday at the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, Birmingham Street.

William Broadhurst, iron-caster, Bott Lane, brother of deceased said that he was with deceased in the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN on Saturday, in company with several others. After they had been in about three minutes deceased complained of very bad pains in the stomach. They took deceased outside. Witness then went for a doctor.

Henry Clenton, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON INN, said that he helped to take deceased into the yard. There some ale was called for, but deceased scarcely touched it. Deceased died shortly after the arrival of the doctor.

Sergeant Pritchard said that he had made enquires respecting the death of deceased. He saw a man named Thomas Ford, who spoke to having breakfast with deceased on Saturday morning. They had a tin of salmon between them, and Ford said it made him sick, but he could not say whether it affected Broadhurst or not. Ford was not at present in the town, having gone to work in Yorkshire. He (witness) knew that deceased was an habitual drunkard.

Dr. Phillips said that he was called to attend deceased on Saturday. He found him sitting on a chair in the back yard. He looked very ill, and complained of his head. His hands were quite cold, and was apparently in a dying condition. He gave instructions for him to be laid down somewhere and kept warm. In a few minutes afterwards he passed the house again, and was told that he was dead. There was nothing he could form an opinion as to the cause of death. At the coroner's request he made a post-mortem examination of the body and found the heart and lungs healthy, both kidneys being enlarged, but they did not show evidence of heavy drinking. The brain itself was healthy, but there were traces of old-standing inflammation in the covering, especially on the side corresponding to an old scar on the top of the head. On opening the stomach he found it contained about half-a-pint of clear liquid smelling strongly, but there was no food in the stomach. The lining of the stomach was acutely inflamed over the whole extent of its surface. The inflammation extended over quite 12 inches along the intestine which joins the stomach. The symptoms pointed to acute irritant poisoning. There was a great deal of inflammation all round the outside of the stomach was well. The symptoms might be caused by a very decomposed substance, such as tinned salmon, and the symptoms observed during life also confirmed that opinion. The man was in a state of profound collapse when he (witness) saw him. He could find no other cause of death. He thought the reason why this man was affected and not the other was because deceased was a heavy drinker, and there was also so very little traces of food in the stomach. Deceased had evidently only had very little food for some time past, and that would dispose him. It was very clear indeed that from the extraordinary amount of inflammation that it was exceedingly irritant to deceased on an empty stomach.

A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was returned of Death due to Irritant Poisoning."

1901 Census

46, Birmingham Street

- [1] Harry Clenton (46), public house manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Clenton (47), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] George H. Clenton (20), son, bricklayer, born Walsall;
- [4] Edward Clenton (18), son, manufacturer's carter, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Clenton (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Jane Clenton (11), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Harry Clenton (9), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Samuel Clenton (6), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Rose Clenton (3), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

The OLD 'DOOK.' The DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street was also on the list. Harry Clenton, the manager, said all the rooms downstairs were used for the purpose of drinking. They had a kitchen upstairs, with 'a cooking range and everything free of fear; but there is only one thing in it; one has to be upstairs and one down' (loud laughter). Asked what he meant by this, he said, 'the wife has to go upstairs to have her dinner whilst I mind the house, and she has to mind the house whilst I have mine' (laughter). Adjourned, the magistrates laying an objection to the renewal."

1911 Census

46, Birmingham Street

- [1] Walter Gee (32), brown saddler and licensed victualler and manager public house, born Walsall;
- [2] Esther Jane Gee (32), wife, married 9 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall;
- [3] Dorothy Willis Gee (7), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Winnifred Gee (6), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Daisy Elks (18), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Frederick Bromwich = Frederick Bramwich

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

"The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

An application was made by Mr. Frank Cooper, in respect of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street, to divert a right-of-way, erect a kitchen and other domestic offices, and enclose a yard. He stated that the object of the plan was simply to enable the licensed premises to be enclosed and self-contained. The alterations would be of such great benefit to the supervision of the house that he felt that it was almost unnecessary to say anything with regard to it. The premises had for some years had running through them a right-of-way to some adjoining cottages, and the present suggested alterations were only possible after very protracted negotiations with the owner of those cottages. Now that the owner of the licensed house was in the position to make his premises self-contained, he asked the Bench, for the benefit of the supervision of the house, and the benefit of the police to allow the alterations to be carried out. The only argument he could see against the application was that it might improve the value of the house, in case of compensation; but he did not think there was the slightest likelihood of the license being taken away, and even if they did, he suggested that the alterations which it was proposed to make would so much improve the unlicensed value of the premises that the necessary compensation would be less.

This application was refused."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street. £0 6s 6d."

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

"Another 'opposed' house was the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street, owned by John Lord, of Short Acre, on whose behalf Mr. Cooper (applying for renewal) stated that in spite of slum clearance the house was still doing a substantial trade. Now that the district had 'settled down,' the trade had definitely increased. The DUKE OF WELLINGTON was the only house left in this particular area and in the last ten years over £1,000 had been spent on the interior of the premises. At the moment the exterior walls were in a bad condition because of demolition of the adjacent property, but plans for alterations had been submitted before it was known that it was to be objected to. On six occasions the owner, a small brewer, had asked for the removal of licenses to other sites he had purchased and each application had been refused.

Reminding the justices of other license that had been taken from the area, Mr. Cooper enumerated the LEATHERN BOTTLE, BLACK BOY, PAUL PRY, STORES (corner of New Street), DUKE OF YORK, BLUE PIG, JOLLY BACCHUS, COACH AND HORSES and BARLEY MOW.

'The DUKE OF WELLINGTON,' he remarked, 'is left as the last of the Mohicans!'

The magistrates renewed the license, subject to plans."

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

"More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord's houses.....

DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street."

1939 Register

Birmingham Street – DUKE OF WELLINGTON

- [1] Annie M. (McHugh) Porter, date of birth 21/3/1896, licensed victualler, widowed;
- [2] Thomas H. McHugh, dob 24/9/1919, insurance managing clerk, single;
- [3] William H. McHugh, dob 12/4/1922, metal polisher, clerk, single;
- [4] Consia Hammonds, dob 17/4/1920, domestic servant, single;
- [5] Frederick T. Porter, dob 30/10/1906, reinforced concrete leveller, single:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.
Mr. O’Neil, DUKE OF WELLINGTON. £0 10s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKESPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.

DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street. £0 3s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945

“The Pleck and District Darts league is headed by the FORGE INN ‘A’ who have won all their seven matches. The next three positions are filled by the NEWPORT ARMS, HOPE AND ANCHOR ‘A’ and ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, with 12 points each, then come the DUKE OF WELLINGTON and ROYAL OAK, Pleck. Highest score and highest finish, 146, J. Bullock, HOPE AND ANCHOR ‘B’; highest start, 140, S. Hogan, WINDMILL TAVERN.”

Joseph Brazier – see also ANCHOR.

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn Quiz competition. [1973/74], [1974/5]

[1996]

Closed [2006], [2009]

It was converted into housing. [2012]

DUKE OF YORK

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Bradbury [1841] – [1842]

William H Perrins [1845] – [1850]

NOTES

William Perrins was also a painter and glazier. [1845]

DUKE OF YORK

31, Dudley Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Alfred Spiers, George Street, Walsall

Thomas Whittaker

Susannah Whittaker, Dudley Street, Walsall
Stephen Dawson, Butt Lane (acquired in 1911)

LICENSEES

Robert Whittaker [] – 1831);
Mrs. Mary Whittaker [1834] – [1854]
William Arrowsmith [1860] – [1865]
Edward Roberts [1872] – [1880];
Thomas Whittaker [1869] – [1881];
James Whittaker [1882]
Mrs. Fanny Whittaker [] – 1887);
Miss Mary Ann Whittaker (1887 – 1895);
Thomas Whittaker (1895 – 1913);
Alfred Williams (1913);
Benjamin Baggott (1913 – 1924);
Ernest William Price (1924 – 1929);
Daniel Mahoney (1929 – 1930);
Robert Baden Walker (1930 – 1937):

NOTES

31, Dudley Street [1862], [1871], [1880], [1881], [1891]
30+31, Dudley Street [1911]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/12/1831 - Deaths

“On the 1st instant, Mr. Robert Whittaker, of the DUKE OF YORK public-house, Dudley Street. Walsall.”

1841 Census

Dudley Street

- [1] Mary Whittaker (60), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] James Whittaker (20), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Lazarus Marsden (25):

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/3/1845

“Fraser Brown and George Giles. The fifth deposit of £3 a side for this affair was made all right on Tuesday evening last, at Mr. Deebank’s, Kings Head, London Prentice Street. The sixth and last of £4 a side is to be made on Monday evening, the 24th inst, at Mr. Whittaker’s, DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, Walsall.”

1851 Census

Dudley Street

- [1] Mary Whittaker (70), widow, victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Hart (20), house servant, born Galway, Ireland;
- [3] John Bunn (48), lodger, tailor, born London:

1861 Census

31, Dudley Street

- [1] William Arrowsmith (55), file cutter, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriet Arrowsmith (54), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Thomas Arrowsmith (18), son, file cutter, born Walsall;
- [4] James Arrowsmith (13), son, born Walsall;
- [5] William Arrowsmith (6), grandson, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 16/11/1861

“William Arrowsmith summoned a lad named John Hymes for splattering his sign-board with mud. The defendant did not appear. The serving of the summons having been deposed to, complainant (who keeps the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street) said that on Friday the defendant threw clay at his sign-board, and defaced it. He complained to the boy’s mother about it, but as she gave him no satisfaction, but, on the contrary, abused and blackguarded him, he had taken out the present summons. William Bullock deposed that between four and five o’clock on the Friday afternoon he saw the defendant throwing wet clay at complainant’s sign-board. The clay stuck to the board every time it touched it. Fined 2s 6d and costs or fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 16/8/1862

“On Tuesday last William Arrowsmith, aged seven years, died at the residence of his grandfather, William Arrowsmith, landlord of the DUKE OF YORK public house, under the following circumstances. The child, whose mother died when he was very young, had been brought up by his grandfather, had on Sunday, the 3rd instant, in company with some other children, kindled a fire in an old uninhabited house, when by some means or other, the deceased’s clothes came in contact with the fire, and before they could be extinguished the unfortunate child was so severely injured that, notwithstanding medical aid was called in promptly, he, after lingering in great agony, expired at ten minutes past one on Tuesday night.”

William Arrowsmith was also a file maker. [1864], [1865]

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1867 - Deaths

“On the 13th instant, after a short illness, Mary Whittaker, late of the DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, Walsall, aged 87.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/5/1869

“Edward Millett, for having, in a state of intoxication, broken the panels of a door in the house of Mr. Thomas Whittaker, landlord of the DUKE OF YORK public house, Dudley Street, was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, in addition to the damage, 10s.”

1871 Census

31, Dudley Street

- [1] Thomas Whittaker (32), iron founder, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Fanny Whittaker (30), wife, stitcher, born Walsall;
- [3] Henry Whittaker (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Whittaker (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Richard Whittaker (10 months), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Ann Whittaker (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Midland Counties Evening Express 9/4/1875

“Edward Roberts, landlord of the DUKE OF YORK public house, Dudley Street, was summoned for having, on Tuesday night last, had his house open during prohibited hours. Police-constable Hickman said that at half past eleven on Tuesday night he saw a woman named Potts going into the DUKE OF YORK with a can, and heard her ask for half a gallon of ale, which was supplied to her. On the woman, Potts, being called, she gave an emphatic denial of the above statement, swearing that she was not in the house at the time in question, but that the constable seized her as she went along the street, that she then asked him to go with her to her own house, and that he did so, and putting down her name in a book, told her that she should hear from him again. He did not say anything to her about beer. The Bench dismissed the case.”

Edward Roberts was fined 10s and costs, on 4th May 1877, for Sunday trading.

1881 Census

31, Dudley Street

- [1] Thomas Whittaker (42), iron caster, born Walsall;
- [2] Fanny Whittaker (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Henry Whittaker (19), son, iron caster, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary A. Whittaker (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Whittaker (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Richard Whittaker (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] William Whittaker (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Emma B. Whittaker (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/11/1882

“At the Guildhall yesterday.....

James Whittaker, the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, was fined 5s and costs for having his house open at twenty minutes to nine o’clock on Sunday morning.”

1891 Census

31, Dudley Street – Public House – DUKE OF YORK

- [1] Mary A. Whittaker (27), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Thomas Whittaker (22), brother, brass caster, born Walsall;
- [3] Richard Whittaker (20), brother, presser, born Walsall;
- [4] William Whittaker (16), brother, tailor, born Walsall;
- [5] Emma Whittaker (14), sister, scholar, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/11/1882

“James Whittaker, the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, was fined 5s and costs for having had his house open at twenty minutes to nine o'clock on Sunday morning."

Walsall Advertiser 19/5/1894 - Advert

"To Be Sold By Auction.

By Messrs. Watkins, Powell, & Wood (by order of the executors of Henry Whittaker deceased), on Tuesday Next, May 22nd, in the Property Saleroom at their Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall, at Seven o'clock in the evening precisely (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

Lot 1. The free Old-Licensed Public-House, known as the DUKE OF YORK, situate in Dudley Street, Walsall, in the occupation of Mary Ann Whittaker.

The house, which is double-fronted, contains Bar, Clubroom, Kitchen, Brewhouse, Scullery, three Cellars, and three Bedrooms, and has a good trade.

Together with the Three Freehold Dwelling-House adjoining, and being Nos.28, 29, and 30, in Dudley Street, Walsall, occupied by Messrs. Warley, Cosgrove, and Scoltock, at weekly rentals producing £29 12 per annum.

There is a large Yard common to the property, and the South Staffordshire water is laid on....."

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1896

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Thomas Whittaker DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the society."

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1896

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. William Brown, BLUE PIG INN, New Street, Walsall.....

Mr. Thomas Whittaker, DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, were elected members of the Executive Committee."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1899

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening at the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street.....

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

"An interesting supper and smoking concert was held at the DUKE OF YORK on Thursday evening, the 28th ult, the repast being served in Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker's well-known style. The gathering was for the purpose of giving a cordial send off to Gunner Reynolds, who has been called up to rejoin the colours. Reynolds only returned from the Transvaal last June....."

1901 Census

Dudley Street – DUKE OF YORK

[1] Thomas Whittaker (32), widower, publican, born Walsall;

[2] Rose Green (18), niece, born Walsall;

[3] Lily Green (16), niece, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 1/6/1901 - In Memoriam

"In loving memory of my dear wife Caroline (Carrie) Whittaker, DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, who died May 28th, 1900.

Rest, rest in peace, thy toils are o'er.

Sorrow shall sting and sickness waste no more.

Hard, hard the task from such one to part.

Whilst fond remembering clings around my heart."

Thomas Whittaker was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903

"Air-Gun Shooting.

DUKE OF YORK Rifle Club v BAKER'S INN Rifle Club.

The above clubs met of Saturday last on the DUKE OF YORK range, Dudley Street....."

[The DUKE OF YORK won 387 to 320.]

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

"Walsall Air-Gun League.

The first annual meeting of the above was held at the CRITERION, Stafford Street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. H. Smallwood presided, and there was also present Messrs. Hicken (EAGLE), G. Smith (OLD KINGS ARMS), Powell (TANNERS ARMS), E. James (PLUMBERS ARMS), McDonald (CRITERION), Cliffe (GOLDEN EAGLE), Hunt, E. Towe (treasurer), and Mason (secretary).....

The undermentioned clubs with power to add to their number, were elected to the League for the forthcoming season: The WHITE HART (Walhouse Street), TANNERS ARMS, OLD KINGS ARMS, EAGLE, PLUMBERS ARMS, CRITERION, GOLDEN EAGLE, LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, OAK, and DUKE OF YORK.

There was no other business of public interest.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1907

“The annual picnic to the friends and customers of the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, took place this week. The party proceeded by train to Kidderminster, and thence by tram to Stourport, where dinner and tea were partaken of at the Swan Hotel. During the afternoon they went for a sail up the river Severn to Holt Fleet, the lovely scenery appealing strongly to the visitors, especially the hop gardens and orchards. On the return journey a stay was made at Kidderminster and Walsall was reached about 10 o'clock, bringing to a close an enjoyable day.”

1911 Census

30+31, Dudley Street

- [1] Thomas Whittaker (42), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Lillian Green (26), stepdaughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [3] Francis Lillian Westley (23), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 8/7/1911

“Sarah Plant (34), charwoman, New Street, was originally charged with throwing a lighted lamp at Harry Brown, on Saturday night, but the charge was reduced to one of common assault.

Harry Brown stated that he was a brewer employed at the DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, and he had lived with the prisoner some time. On Saturday night he was in the house alone when prisoner came in drunk and started quarrelling. He tried to put her out and she first struck him with a knife on the fingers and then picked up the lighted lamp off the table and threw it at him. It struck him on the side of the eye and then fell on the ground where it went out.

Prisoner alleged in cross-examination that prosecutor had all her money from her and then beat her black and blue.

Brown said if she was bruised at all it must have been with bumping against the door when he put her out.

William Andrews, rag and bone gatherer, New Street, said he heard a smash at Brown's on Saturday night and on going outside he saw prisoner throw the lamp at Brown.

Police-constable Doyle said he was called to the house and he found the woman drunk, lying on the ground outside. He took her inside and Brown then complained that she had thrown the lamp at him. He found pieces of glass and parts of the lamp on the kitchen floor. Brown had cuts on the eye and the bridge of the nose.

Prisoner had some blood on her face, apparently from some injury she had received.

Prisoner denied the offence and said the lamp was knocked over during a struggle. She also stated that Brown assaulted her.

Mrs. Haycock, female searcher, said prisoner's face was covered in blood and she was badly bruised about the body.

Prisoner was discharged with a caution as to her future conduct.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/8/1913 - Notice

“Re Thomas Whittaker, Deceased.

All Person having any Debts or Claims against the estate of Thomas Whittaker, late of the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, Walsall (licensed victualler), who died on the 15th day of August, 1913, are requested to send particulars in writing of the same to the undersigned at once.

Dated this 22nd day of August, 1913.

Stanley & Jackson, Solicitors for the Executors, 35, Bridge Street. Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/8/1913 - Advert

“Important Sale by Auction of a Freehold Fully-Licensed Home-Brewing House at Walsall.

Fox and Harrison, (Mr. Matt F. Harrison F.A.I.) having been favoured with instructions from the Executors under the Will of Mr. Thomas Whittaker, will offer for Sale by Public Auction at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 16th day of September, 1913, at Seven o'clock in the evening (subject to conditions incorporating the Common Form of Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

The Old Established Freehold Full-Licensed House, known as the DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, Walsall, with Modern Brewing Premises, and the adjoining Freehold Cottage in the occupation of the deceased's representatives.

The Premises are well arranged for carrying on a large business, and are in good repair.

The inn is one of the Oldest and best in the Borough being a Noted Home Brewing House.

Possession will be given on completion (or earlier if desired).

For further particulars and cards to view apply to the Auctioneers (Messrs. Fox and Harrison, F.A.I.) 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall; or to Messrs. Stanley and Jackson, Solicitors, 35, Bridge Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/11/1913

“The sixty-first annual general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday of last week.....

New Members: Mr. Benjamin Baggott, DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street.”

Walsall Observer 5/9/1914 - Advert

“To Let, good Shopping, back 314 Green Lane, suitable for leather trades.

Apply, B. Baggott, DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street. £1 7s 4½d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1928

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 9th inst, at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention.....
Ernest William Price, DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street, elected member of the society.”

Ernest William Price – see also FOUR WAYS.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1937

“At Walsall Licensing Transfer Sessions on Tuesday, the Justices granted the special removal of the license of the DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street, to premises erected at the junction of Kinnerly Street and Lumley Road. It was stated that the DUKE OF YORK premises were included in a highway improvement to be carried out by the Corporation, and that the Corporation proposed to demolish them and acquire the site.

In granting the application, the Chairman (Alderman W. Millerchip) congratulated all who had been concerned in the erection of the new premises. He said the Justices had been trying for many years to get improvements in the licensed premises in the borough and they had succeeded to a large extent, particularly with regard to living accommodation for licensees, who they considered should have the greatest convenience and comfort.”

It closed at 2pm on 10th August 1937.

The license was transferred to DUKE OF YORK, Lumley Street.

It was demolished.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1942

“After nine months’ suspense good news reached two Walsall homes on Wednesday that soldiers, posted missing in the Far East since the middle of February, are prisoners in the hands of the Japanese at Chosen, in Korea. Both are time-serving men of the Loyal Regiment – Private Walter Arthur Shutt, whose parents live at 392, Bloxwich Road, Walsall, and Private Joseph Pritchard, whose mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. S. Cain, of 32, Oxford Street, Pleck. Mrs. Cain will be better known to many people as the last tenant, when she was Mrs. Walker, of the old DUKE OF YORK INN, Dudley Street.....”

DUKE OF YORK

27, Lumley Road / Kinnerley Street, The Chuckery, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Lord

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939)

Punch Taverns

LICENSEES

Walter Thomas Heeley (1937 – 1948);

Edward Henry Sollory (1948 – 1950);

James Henry Allbutt (1950 – 1962);

James Baughan (1962 – 1965);

Paul Bevan Walton (1965 – 1966);

Frederick John Bell (1966 – 1967);

Charles Leslie Pallett (1967);

Stasys Markevicius (1967 – []

Verinder Singh [2021]

NOTES

It opened at 6pm on 10th August 1937.

The license was transferred from DUKE OF YORK, Dudley Street.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord’s houses.....

DUKE OF YORK, Lumley Road.”

1939 Register

27, Lumley Road

[1] Walter T. Heeley, date of birth 7/11/1905, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Muriel Heeley, dob 15/11/1905, housewife, married;

[3] Louise N. Blakeley, dob 16/9/1907, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DUKE OF YORK, Lumley Road. £4 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DUKE OF YORK, Lumley Road. £1 0s 9d.”

Paul Bevan Walton – see also CROWN AND ANCHOR.

Stasys Markevicius – see also SEVEN STARS.

Express & Star 15/1/2021

“A Black Country pub could have its licence reviewed after allegedly hosting a gathering during the latest coronavirus lockdown. Walsall Council has launched an inquiry into the DUKE OF YORK in Lumley Road, Chuckery, after police handed out £3,000 worth of fines to seven people found inside the venue on Monday. People inside the pub told officers they were all family and part of the same bubble, but this explanation was not accepted by the police.

A spokeswoman for West Midlands Police confirmed two people were given £1,000 fixed penalty notices each while a further five were hit with £200 fines apiece – all for a breach of coronavirus rules. After being given evidence from the police, Walsall Council regulatory services officers put a prohibition notice on licence holder Verinder Singh, under the Covid regulations brought in last year. This specifically prevents the DUKE OF YORK from opening for the sale and consumption of food and drink inside the premises. A breach of this could result in legal proceedings being launched.

A Walsall Council spokeswoman said a full investigation is underway and discussions will be held with police on how the case will be progressed. A review of the licence hasn’t been ruled out. While she said the authority was unable to comment further, due to the investigation, Councillor Garry Perry, deputy leader for resilient communities, warned they will take action on anyone breaking the law. He said, ‘It is distressing that despite the huge rise in Covid infections locally, regionally and nationally and the resulting deaths sadly caused by this relentless virus, that a few business owners and residents still feel it is acceptable to break the legislation. The council, in partnership with the police are working hard to ensure that intelligence is shared, allowing appropriate joint enforcement to be carried out. This action is deemed necessary to protect the rest of the borough and public in general. Most businesses are compliant with the regulations and should be applauded and protected from those businesses who seek to gain advantage over them by acting in a criminal manner, endangering the health and safety of our residents. For those businesses that aren’t compliant, the council will of course refer to licensing committee for review. This is especially important given the massive challenges we are facing on a daily basis in fighting the Covid-19 pandemic and where not following the regulations can mean the difference between life and death.’

The Express & Star has been unable to reach the pub for comment.”

[2021]

DUN COW

(2+3), 2, (5), (4), Wolverhampton Street, (5, Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), (Park Street), Town End Bank, WALSALL

OWNERS

Miss Mary Smith and the Devises of late Samuel Smith
William Butler and Co. [1897]
J. P. Smith, solicitor
Maria Cartwright
Andrew Holmes
John Shaw Shaw
William Butler and Co. (leased from 27th January 1940)

LICENSEES

Thomas Smith Jnr. [1839] – [1858]
William Lunn [1861] – [1862]
William Young [] – 1864;
William Horobin (1864 – [1866]
John Perry [1868] – [1870]
Henry Woolley [1868] – 1869;
Thomas Francis Laffey (1869 – []
Henry Minor [1871]
Henry Mills [1871]
Thomas Reynolds [1872] – [1873]
Enoch Ball [1872] – [1876];
Fidoe [1876] – [1880] manager
Alfred Beebee [1881];
Emma Agnes Ankrett [];
Henry Marlow [];
John Shaw Shaw [];
Thomas Darby [];
Mrs. Emma Darby [] – 1890;
John Shaw Shaw (1890 – 1891);
Edward Egan (1891 – 1905);
Joseph Thomas Chadd (1905 – 1912);
E Egan [1911] ?
Charles William Garfield (1912 – 1915);
Mrs. Ann Garfield (1915 – 1918);
Robert Alfred Collins (1918 – 1924);
Arthur James Pickering (1924 – 1925);
Joseph Starkey Knowles (1925 – 1927);
Harry Male (1927 – 1944);
Harry Lowe (1944 – 1952);
John Thomas Westwood (1952 – 1954);
Charles Allen (1954 – 1956);
Maurice William Troman (1956);
Arthur Harold Smith (1956 – 1960);
Owen Alban Tombs (1960 – 1961):

NOTES

Park Street [1845], [1849], [1851], [1940]
5, Wolverhampton Street [1858], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1873]
5, Wolverhampton Road [1861]
4, Wolverhampton Street [1862]
Wolverhampton Lane [1853], [1871], [1876]
Wolverhampton Street [1871], [1872], [1900], [1939]
2, Wolverhampton Street [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1940]
2+3, Wolverhampton Street [1939]

DUNN COW [1853], [1881], [1911]
DUN COW HOTEL [1895], [1897], [1900], [1901], [1904], [1906], [1924], [1927]
DUNCOW HOTEL [1939]

Thomas Smith Jnr. was also a hackney bit and spring saddle bar maker. [1845]
He was described as being also a bridle, bit and spring bar maker. [1849], [1850]

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/8/1853

“On Saturday last, Gilbert Wright, a blacksmith, and John M’Cormick were drinking together at the DUNN COW, Walsall, when M’Cormick refusing to pay his share of the ‘reckoning,’ Wright attempted to prevent him from leaving the house, upon which M’Cormick drew a razor and cut his companion with it upon the cheek and hand. The offender was taken before the magistrates on Monday, and committed for trial at the borough sessions.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/10/1853

“The Quarter Sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday last, before Mr. Sergeant Clarke, recorder. The Recorder, in his charge to the grand jury, referred briefly to the case of John M’Cormick, who was charged with a misdemeanour in maliciously cutting and wounding with a razor one Gilbert Wright, which was of the class of cases formerly restricted to courts of assize, but was now made a misdemeanour.....

John M’Cormick was arraigned on a charge of cutting and wounding Gilbert Wright, with a razor, on the 13th of August. It appeared that on the day in question both parties were drinking in the DUNN COW, Wolverhampton Lane, and during a quarrel prisoner struck at the prosecutor with a razor. It was contended for the defence that the razor was closed in the prisoner’s hand when he struck at the prosecutor, but that by accident it opened. The jury acquitted the prisoner.”

London Gazette 31/3/1857

“In the Matter of the Petition of Thomas Smith, now and for upwards of thirty years last past residing at the house known by the sign of the DUN COW, in Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Retail Brewer, and during the whole of the said period also carrying on business there as Bridle Bit Maker, an Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on the 16th day of April next, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.”

1861 Census

5, Wolverhampton Road – DUN COW INN

[1] William Lunn (40), victualler and chain maker, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Lunn (34), wife, born Hinckley, Leicestershire;

[3] John Lunn (13), son, chain maker, born Walsall;

[4] Mary A. Lunn (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] William Lunn (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Elizabeth Lunn (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 26/11/1864 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, an Old-licensed Public-house, situated near the Market Place, doing a good trade, the present proprietor leaving through other engagements; rent and coming-in moderate.

Apply, W. Horobin, Auctioneer and Valuer, DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/2/1866 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession if required, an old licensed Public House, with about two acres of Land, pleasantly situated, and near extensive coal works. Other engagements the sole cause of leaving.

Apply to W. Horobin, Auctioneer and Valuer, DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/12/1868

“Walsall Bankrupts.....

In the matter of Henry Woolley, licensed victualler and chain maker, Walsall, Mr. Dale, on behalf of the official assignee, applied for an order for the sale of certain goods in the order and disposition of the bankrupt at the time he filed his petition. The application was acceded to.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway, the following publicans and beer-house keepers were each fined 2s 6d and cost for having had their houses open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours.....

Thomas Laffey, landlord of the DUN COW public house, Wolverhampton Lane, who at three minutes past eleven, had his house open and five men in it – some of whom were being supplied with beer.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/3/1869

“At the Guildhall, Monday, the following transfers took place.....

The DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, from the assignees of the estate of Henry Woolley to Thomas Francis Laffey.”

1871 Census

5, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Henry Minor (24), publican, born Bitterswell, Leicestershire;
[2] Julia Minor (27), wife, born Elmore, Gloucestershire;
[3] Agnes J. Minor (3 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/7/1871

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Patrick Nugent, an old offender, was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment, for stealing a jacket from the shop of Mary Glover, Rushall Street, and to a further period of one month for stealing a pepper-box, the property of Henry Mills, of the DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Lane. His defence, as to the jacket, was that two other men stole it, and he was to pledge it to get money for drink for the three.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1876

“Enoch Ball was summoned for having kept his house, the DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Lane, Walsall, open at 10 o’clock on Sunday morning, when Police-constables Nicholls and Prosser saw a man leave the house with a can containing a quart of beer. The defence was that the manager of the house, Mr. Fidoe, had given the beer to the man for having helped him some days previously to put some barrels of beer into the cellar. The Bench convicted, but in consideration of the previous good character of the house, imposed a fine of only 10s and costs. Mr. Glover appeared for the defendant.

Dudley and District News 14/8/1880

“On Wednesday afternoon a man named William Burcott, aged 35, who had lived in the Dun Cow Yard, committed suicide by cutting his throat.

It appears that deceased was seen by a neighbour in the act, and her cries summoned Mr. Fido, the landlord of the DUN COW, who had a struggle with deceased, and was struck by him with the knife, but happily not wounded. Two other men also arrived, and afterwards PC Wilkes, and deceased was overpowered. Dr. Wood was sent for, but by the time he arrived deceased, whose head is almost severed from his body, was dead.”

1881 Census

5, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Alfred Beebee (21), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
[2] Maria Beebee (20), wife, born Blakenall;
[3] Sarah Emery (19), domestic servant:

Lichfield Mercury 22/4/1881

“At Walsall Guildhall on Wednesday week Bridget Durkin (50) and Sarah Durkin (18), her daughter, both of Blue Lane, were fined 40s and costs each, with the alternative of one month’s imprisonment, with hard labour, the former for being drunk and guilty of indecency, at the DUN COW public house, and the latter for striking and biting Police-constables Allkins and Watson, as they were taking her mother to the police station.”

Evening Express 22/5/1881

“Michael MacLoughlin (83), Blue Lane, was charged with having, on the 20th inst, stolen a quart of rum, value 4s, from the DUNN COW public house.

From the evidence of Sarah Emmery it appeared that prisoner came to the public house, where he was supplied with three pints of fourpenny, and on the witness leaving the bar the prisoner went and helped himself to the rum, the tap of which was running when witness returned and saw prisoner push a quart jug between a man and a woman. Witness said she would fetch her master, upon which prisoner said, ‘Send for a policeman, and have me locked up.’

Mr. Beebee, landlord of the DUNN COW, having given corroborative evidence, Police-constable Watson said he was sent for to the DUNN COW, and was shown a quantity of rum in a quart jug, and also some more in a pint mug. He then took prisoner into custody.

Prisoner was sentenced to 21 days’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Evening Express 10/8/1881

“Reuben Davis, Portland Street, for being drunk and refusing to quit the DUN COW public house, on Monday evening, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs; in default ten days.”

Evening Express 14/11/1881

“John Devanney (18), Blue Lane, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly at Town End Bank, on Saturday night; and his brother James Devanney (13), was charged with having, at the same time and place, assaulted Police- constable Smith while in the execution of his duty. John, who had been turned out of the DUN COW public house, had pushed over the watchman’s box at the Town End Bank, where some street repairs are being done, and was taken into custody by Police-constable Bailey and Police-constable Smith, and as they were proceeding with their prisoner James Devanney threw a brick-end, which struck Police-constable Smith between the shoulders. John Devanney was fined 40s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned one month; and James Devanney was fined 20s and costs, or in default, one month’s imprisonment. Defendant had been very disorderly, and made use of very disgraceful language, and on the officer taking him into custody, he struck the officer a blow in the mouth.”

Thomas Darby was married to Emma.

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1892

“Joseph Hughes (17), Regent Street, Pleck, was put forward on remand to answer five different charges (1) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Emily Mold, (2) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Peter Vickers, (3) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Reynolds, (4) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Hennessy, (5) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Thomas Green Cleobury.

Emily Mold, landlady of the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, said that on the 25th the prisoner came to her house and obtained 2s from her, stating that it was for Mr. Lawson of the Conservative Club. He also said he was working for him in the committee room, and Mr. Lawson had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he was out of stationary. She gave him the money.

Ada Wadsworth corroborated.

Walter Lawson, secretary to the Walsall Conservative Association, said that he did not know the prisoner. He was not employed by the Association, and he had not authorised the prisoner or anyone else to borrow money on his account.

Detective Smith deposed to the arrest of the prisoner.

Peter Vickers, 48, Goodall Street, deposed that on Saturday last the prisoner came and asked him for 2s for Mr. Lawson, on the same representation as in the previous case.

John Reynolds, barman at the DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, stated that the prisoner came to the house and asked for Mr. Egan, the landlord. Mr. Egan was out, and the prisoner said that he was employed in the Liberal Committee Rooms. He said Mr. Hughes had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he wanted 2s for stationary. Witness knew Mr. Hughes was secretary to the Liberal Association, and he gave prisoner the money.

Richard Harry Hughes, hon. sec. Liberal Association, said he did not know prisoner, and he had not authorised him or any other person to borrow money in his name.

Thomas Cleobury, landlord of the NAGS HEAD INN, Upper Rushall Street, deposed to the prisoner asking him for 2s for Mr. Lawson. He did not lend him the money. He told him to go about his business, as he did not believe him.

John Hennessy, landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street, deposed to a similar attempt on the part of the prisoner, and his refusing to lend him the money.

The prisoner was returned for trial to the sessions on the several cases.”

[At the Walsall Quarter Session (July 1892), Joseph Hughes was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/10/1892

“The New Brown Saddlers Society. A conference of employers and employed, called at the instance of this newly-formed society, took place at the DUN COW INN on Monday, Mr. Davis, president of the society, in the chair, to consider the question of boy labour. It was stated that a year or two ago there were 238 men in the trade, but 21 of them had left. Of the remaining men, 208 were members of their society, so that they could claim to speak in the name of the men. As to the apprentices, there were 154 of them, and in consequence of their number 30 men were out of work and about 70 were barely getting an existence. On the other side, it was stated that the masters had to complain of the hiring system, of the refusal of the men to do common work when trade was good, and of underselling by small masters. The meeting was ultimately adjourned.”

Smethwick Telephone 19/11/1892

“A special meeting of the Midland Counties Trades Federation was held at the DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall on Wednesday 19th inst.....”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1893

“.....On Monday, May 17th instant, a special representative meeting [Pelsall Miners' Association] would be held at the DUN COW INN, Walsall.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/1/1895

“A special meeting of the council of the Midland Counties Trades Federation took place last evening, at the DUN COW INN, Walsall, Mr. J. Taylor (president) presiding.

The application on the part of the brown saddlers in the employ of Mr. Archer, Walsall, for an advance of 10 per cent, was first considered, and after considerable discussion, in which it was stated that Mr. Archer had conceded the advance as from the 1st of April, and, as was understood, had withdrawn conditions which he had first laid down, it was agreed that Mr. Juggins, and a delegate to be selected by the Brown Saddlers Society, should wait upon Mr. Archer to obtain definite information as to the supposed withdrawal of the conditions.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last..... New Members..... Mr. Edward Egan, DUN COW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1897

“An application for sanction to plans for alterations to the DOLPHIN public house premises came before the Walsall Licensing Bench on Monday. More than ordinary interest attached to the application. The premises named are situate in George Street, nearly opposite Messrs. Shannon's factory.

Mr. Langley now submitted the plans on behalf of Messrs. Butler and Co, of Wolverhampton, the owners of the premises, and, in doing so, threw out a suggestion that the Bench should take into consideration at the same time an application by Messrs. Butler for an extension of the premises of the DUN COW HOTEL in Wolverhampton Street. If the Bench were willing to grant this extension his clients were willing to come to an arrangement to set back the DOLPHIN premises.

The Town Clerk remarked that for many years past now the Corporation had been anxious to secure the widening of George Street, which was one of the main arteries of the town. Unfortunately, George Street at one point was 18ft 6in wide only. Messrs. Shannon's factory was situated in the street, and workpeople numbering over 1,600 were employed there. In addition to that, there were usually a large number of railway and parcel drays in the street, and the narrowness of the street was a serious objection and a positive danger to the workpeople employed by Messrs. Shannon. The Corporation possessed no power to compel Messrs. Butler to take down these premises. The only way to do that would be to obtain a provisional order. When it came to the notice of the Corporation that plans had been deposited for the alteration of the DOLPHIN premises, they felt it their duty to make known to the Bench the serious objection there was to the sanction of plans which, if carried out, would have the effect of indefinitely postponing the widening of George Street. They asked if their Worship were satisfied that the public requirements demanded a reasonable extension of the DUN COW premises, their Worship would take the matter into favourable consideration, having regard to the fact that the public would obtain a quid pro quo by the proposed improvement in George Street.

Evidence having been given in support of the applications, in the course of which it was pointed out that it was proposed to increase the licensed area of the DUN COW premises by ninety yards, the accommodation there being inadequate for customers, especially on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Saturdays.

Mr. E. J. Shannon went into the witness box, and stated that they had 1,650 people in their employ. Recently they had had to make arrangements to turn a number of their workpeople out another way. He did not see why another thousand people should not be employed there eventually, but the firm would have to consider whether they could get the workpeople out if the present narrow street were continued. He understood the DOLPHIN premises some time ago could have been bought for £800. If he had known that he would have bought the premises himself and have made the town a present of them.

The Bench, in regard to the DUN COW, refused the application. In regard to the other application, they could not sanction the alterations unless the premises were set back to the building line fixed by the Council."

Walsall Advertiser 15/1/1898

"The Widening of George Street. The following plans had been approved by the Streets Committee.....

W. Butler and Co, rebuilding of the DOLPHIN INN, George Street.....

The committee had inspected the properties adjoining the DOLPHIN INN, George Street, part of which are required for widening and improving the street, and the Town Clerk reported that as a result of the negotiations he had been directed to make, he had entered into provisional agreements under which the whole of the land required by the Council for widening the street could be acquired, and the houses and buildings now standing thereon pulled down, at a cost to the Council of about £850, if the borough justices would consent to certain alterations proposed to be made by Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Limited to the DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street, and to the DOLPHIN INN being pulled down and re-erected. The committee, recognising the great importance of such an improvement being carried into effect, had approved and confirmed such agreements, and recommended that the Council enter into agreements for acquiring so much of the land on the southerly side of George Street, from George Street Terrace to the GREEN MAN INN, as is required for the widening of George Street, at a cost to the Council of £850."

Walsall Observer 24/2/1900

"The first annual meeting of the Walsall Excelsior Cycling Club was held at the headquarters, the DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, on Monday evening, for the election of officers for the coming season. About forty members attending. Mr. G. Burgess was elected president, and Mr. E. Moore was again elected captain....."

Walsall Observer 5/5/1900

"A successful smoking concert in connection with the Court Lord Hatherton, 3888, was held on Tuesday last, at the court house, DUN COW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, in aid of the benevolent fund to assist special cases of need. Bro. P. A. Shore occupied the chair, and Bro. J. H. Webb, DCR, the vice chair....."

Walsall Observer 2/6/1900

"A smoking concert was held at the DUN COW HOTEL, on Thursday, the 24th ult, by the employees of the Permanent Way Department (painters' section), when a large number were present to give a send-off to Sergeant Cox, of the West Riding, Yorkshire, who has been called upon to join his regiment for the purpose of going to the front....."

Demolished

It was rebuilt c.1900.

1901 Census

2, Wolverhampton Street – DUN COW HOTEL

[1] Edward Egan (47), licensed victualler, born Athlone, Ireland;

[2] Harry Skidmore (24), barman, born Wednesbury;

[3] Edward Egan (22), barman, born Athlone, Ireland;

[4] Ellen Brady (38), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/5/1901

“Walsall and District Reservists’ Fund.

The Committee wish to acknowledge their indebtedness to the following.....

Proceeds of Smoking Concert held by the Brown Saddlers Society at the DUN COW HOTEL. £2 7s 8d.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/6/1901 - Letters

“Sir, In the report of this betting prosecution, appearing in your issue of the 25th inst, the answers given by the witness for the police to questions, put by one of the magistrates, are calculated to place me in a false position with the public without some explanation on my part, and, as neither myself nor my servants were afforded an opportunity of being heard in this case, I shall be obliged if you will allow me to make the following statements in your next issue.

1. I have always done my best to prevent an infraction of the licensing and betting laws in the DUN COW HOTEL, and more that 12 months ago, when the defendant, Phineas Boot, began to use my house, I warned him that I would not permit any betting, or paying for bets, there, by him, or anyone else; and to my knowledge, no such thing has taken place there.

2. On Monday, May 6th, and each of the four following days, during the dinner hour, a person dressed as a painter, and whom, I now understand, was the witness, Police-constable Marston, had his dinner, and was supplied with beer, in the bar of the DUN COW HOTEL, but no complaint has been made by the police to me of anything objectionable having taken place.

3. I am informed that, on the evening of May 14th, Police-constable Marston followed the defendant, Boot, from near the Railway Station, into the DUN COW HOTEL, and immediately Boot had taken a seat, demanded his winnings. The two bar-men referred to, state most positively that they saw nothing of the payment by Boot, either to Marston, or any other person, nor did I, and I was passing between the bar and the smoke room from 7 to 10.30 that evening. I did not see Boot, who could not have been in my house five minutes, or I should have done so.

Thanking you in anticipation, I am Sir, yours obediently,

Edward Egan.

DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall, 30th May, 1901.”

Edward Egan – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY.

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/4/1904

“On Wednesday night a general meeting of the Midland Leather Trades Federation was held at the DUN COW HOTEL to consider the reply of the War Office to the letter of the secretary of the Federation. This letter was with regard to the War Office contracts for saddlery and harness, and asked that a deputation of the men might be received as to the giving out of the contracts, which it was urged should be done as soon as possible in consequence of the present alarming depression in the leather trades. To this letter the Secretary (Mr. Power) stated a reply of acknowledgement only had been received, and it was ultimately decided that a deputation of three representatives from Walsall and two from Birmingham should be sent to have an interview with the War Office officials.”

Lichfield Mercury 21/7/1905

“The half-yearly meeting of the delegates forming the Bilston, Walsall, and Cannock District of the Free Gardeners, representing 3,166 members, was held in the Public Rooms, Hednesford, on Monday.....

Bro. Chas. Andrews, District Master, in his report, concerning the Funeral Fund, said he was very sorry to find that they had not made such headway as he should have liked, seeing that their Funeral Fund had only made the small gain of £1 3s 3d. They had paid for death claims the large amount of £355 during the half-year, which gave them some cause for congratulation to know that they had been able to meet their demands for their deceased brethren and their wives. He was very sorry that the Management Fund showed such a large deficit (£51 9s 8½d), which, he dared say, to some extent was accounted for by the annual levy and delegates’ expenses to the AGM. The Benevolent Fund also showed a small loss, but when they considered that they had relieved no less than nine of their more unfortunate brethren and one Lodge, it gave them some cause to be thankful to know that they had done what they could for their more unfortunate brethren. The District Sick Fund, he was glad to say, showed a gain of £3 13s 3d.....

The first portion of the afternoon sitting was given up to a recommendation by Bros. Linnell and C. Blain that in future the District meetings be held permanently at the DUN COW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, and this was carried by fifty-five votes to five.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/6/1906

“At Walsall yesterday a man named Thomas Coley, of Camwall Street, Leamore, was summoned for being drunk and disorderly at the DUN COW HOTEL, and also with assaulting William John Hateley, a barman. It was stated that the man went into the public house drunk. The barman told a man named King not to serve him because he was drunk. Defendant smashed two dozen bottles by throwing a glass at the barman. He also threw a second glass, which hit the barman on the head. The defence was that the barman threw a glass first at the defendant. Fined 10s and costs or fourteen days.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/1/1908

“The half-yearly meeting of the Bilston, Walsall, and Cannock District of Free Gardenery was held at the DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall, on Monday.....

The death claims had been very heavy, the sum of £342 having been expended, causing a loss to the funeral fund of £40 14s 6d. There were, however, substantial gains in the other funds. The juvenile branch continued to prosper, increases being recorded both numerically and financially.....”

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the vice-president, CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.....

J. T. Chadd, DUN COW INN, Wolverhampton Street was elected member of the society as from 1st January, 1910.”

1911 Census

2, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Joseph Chadd (55), widower, publican, born Birmingham;

[2] Bertha Berkes (37), barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[3] Susan Drakard (35), barmaid, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Annie Shutt (31), bar general, born Coasley [Coseley];

[5] Sarrah Thompson (21), general servant, born Tividale:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, 14s 4½d.”

Birmingham Mail 30/10/1915

“New Roll of Honour. Birmingham men who have answered the King’s Call. 200 more names.

The following are the names of the men who enlisted in Birmingham yesterday.....

Royal Navy (Broad Street).....

C. W. Garfield, DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/12/1915

“Charles Garfield, DUN COW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned at Walsall yesterday for assaulting Walter Sanders, who keeps a gramophone shop in the same street. Sanders alleged that on Saturday night defendant went to his shop, created a disturbance, and whilst being put out struck him on the nose.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, for the defence, said Garfield, who was in the army, had been in a military hospital through illness, and on returning home had his sleep disturbed by the noise of the gramophones in defendant’s shop. It was not until nearly midnight that he went to complain about the nuisance, and he alleged that Sanders not only grossly insulted him, but used considerable force to get him out of the shop. Defendant, however, denied striking complainant.

The Bench dismissed the case.”

Evening Despatch 27/8/1918

“Engine-room Artificer Charles Garfield, of the DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall, who is on leave, had had an interesting three years’ experience of escort convoy work on a sloop in the Mediterranean.

He was some years ago the organising secretary of the South Staffordshire Boy Scouts’ Association, and hon. secretary of the County Association of Boy Scouts, being a pioneer of the Scouts movement in South Staffordshire.”

Arthur J. Pickering was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/8/1927

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers’ Society was held at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention, on the 11th inst. Mr. P. B. Cooke (president) occupied the chair. Miss Alice Jones, NEW INN, Blue Lane West, and Mr. Harry Male, DUN COW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, were elected members of the Society.....”

Walsall Observer 11/2/1939

“There was a good attendance of members of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society at the meeting held at the DERBY ARMS INN, Raleigh Street, on Thursday Mr. Harry Male, DUNCOW HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, was elected a member of the society The next meeting will be held at 6pm at the BRADFORD ARMS, Milton Street, Palfrey, on Thursday, 9th March.”

1939 Register

2+3. Wolverhampton Street

[1] Harry Male, date of birth 10/1/1880, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Maude Male, dob 4/5/1883, unpaid domestic duties and assistant, married;

[3] Maude E. Male, dob 17/6/1909, unpaid domestic duties and assistant, single;

[4] Margaret (Jennings) Heavin, dob 15/8/1916, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
DUN COW INN, Park Street, £3 5s 0d.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/12/1940

“A women’s burial and dividend society, organised by Mrs. Male, of the DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall, the biggest society of its kind in the town and one of the biggest in the area, has been discontinued for the duration of the war. It was formed 13 years ago, and yesterday more than £2,000 dividend was paid out to 1,789 members.”

Walsall Observer 3/5/1941

“The large and representative attendance at the funeral yesterday week of Mrs. Maude Male, wife of Mr. Harry Male, licensee of the DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, was an indication of the affectionate regard in which she was held not only in Walsall, but in Willenhall and Wolverhampton. One of the best-known figures in the Walsall licensing trade, Mrs. Male was 57, and had been with her husband at the DUN COW for 14 years. In that time Walsall people had come to admire her business capabilities, and many of the poorer folk in the neighbourhood will have cause to remember her unadvertised kindness towards them. She had been in poor health for two years and since Christmas her condition had further declined. Her death has robbed the Walsall Ladies’ Bowling Club and the local Electrical Association for Women of an enthusiastic member, and the DUN COW of a charming hostess. A native of Heath Town, Mrs. Male went into the licensed trade with her husband in Wolverhampton and afterwards they were for seventeen years at the NEW INNS, Willenhall, whence they came to Walsall. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. S. J. Wiley and Miss Edith Male. The Rev. T. E. W. Rudd conducted the choral funeral service at St. John’s Church and the interment was at James Bridge Cemetery. There were about 50 floral tributes from sympathisers all around the district.”

Walsall Observer 28/6/1941 - Advert

“Lost, on Sunday noon, June 22nd, Wire Fox Terrier Dog, named Paddy. Reward will be given to finder. Please return to M. E. Male, the DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street. £0 5s 2d.”

John Thomas Westwood – see also PRINCE OF WALES.

Arthur Harold Smith – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE.

It closed on 25th March 1961.

DURHAM OX

53, (24), Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Ann Hayes, Palfrey, Fullbrook, Walsall

Northampton Brewery Co. Ltd. (leased) [1901]

Mrs. Jeffreys, Spon Lane, Walsall

Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. (leased) [1904]

Arthur Beebee, Malt Shovel Brewery, 130 Sandwell Street. [1910], [1913]

Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. (acquired in 1924) [1939]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

John Davis [1861]

Thomas James [1862]

George Brookes [1863] – 1864;

George Plant (1864 – [1870])

Daniel Partridge [1872] – [1873];

Moses Millington [1880] – [1881];
James Gretton [];
George Jeffries [1891] – 1904);
Charles William ‘Charley’ Mitchell (1904 – 1906);
William Hughes (1906);
Joseph Henry Jeffries (1906 – 1910);
William Alfred Banks (1910 – 1913);
John Thomas Smith (1913);
George Henry Mole (1913 – 1917);
Frederick Charles Vale (1917);
Thomas Dolphin (1917 – 1920);
John Rogers (1920 – 1922);
James Edwards (1922 – 1923);
Alfred Broome (1923 – 1924);
Samuel Roland Holmes (1924 – 1929);
Roland Pettet (1929);
William Taylor (1929 – 1940);
Thomas Allsop Chapman (1940 – 1958);
Robert Watson (1958 – 1961);
Reginald Thomas Paget (1961 – 1963);
Reginald John White (1963 – 1966);
Cyril Shaw (1966 – []

NOTES

24, Park Street [1861], [1862], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1873], [1881]
53, Park Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1940]

1861 Census

24, Park Street

- [1] John Davis (60), victualler, born Penn;
- [2] Mary Davis (56), wife, born Sandwich, Kent;
- [3] Vincent Davis (34), son, lodger, auctioneer, born Aldridge, Staffordshire;
- [4] Elizabeth Davis (34), wife, born Lydney, Worcestershire;
- [5] Lizzie Beams Davis (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Vincent Cholditch Davis (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] John Davis (31), son, barman and waiter, born Sheffield:

Walsall Free Press 14/6/1862

“Elizabeth Fletcher, charged with having done wilful damage to a window belonging to Mr. James, landlord of the DURHAM OX, public-house, Park Street, failed to appear; but as the service of summons was proved, the case was gone into, when it was proved by the evidence of Mr. James that the defendant had been guilty of disorderly conduct in his house, and on being ejected she damaged a window to the extent of 8s, which she was ordered to pay, together with a fine of 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for one month.”

Walsall Free Press 2/12/1862 - Advert

“To be Let, the DURHAM OX, Liquor Vaults, Park Street, Walsall.
Enquiries as to particulars on the premises, or of George Bayley, Auctioneer.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/9/1863

“Richard Longmore, alias ‘Dampy,’ was yesterday charged at the Guildhall, with having on Friday last stolen a bottle of peppermint, value 4s, the property of Mr. Brookes, landlord of the DURHAM OX public-house, Park Street. After hearing the evidence, which was very conflicting and contradictory, the Bench dismissed the prisoner.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/3/1864

“On Monday, at the Police Court, before Messrs. S. Cox (Mayor), W. Ward, and J. W. Newman, three Irish labourers, respectively named Owen O’Donnell, John Higgin, and Patrick Moore, were brought up in custody, charged with assaulting Police-constable McCaffrey. Mr. Ebsworth defended O’Donnell. It seems that, on Saturday night, the constable entered the house of Mr. Brookes, the DURHAM OX INN, Park Street, while off duty, and was asked to eject some of the company, who were disorderly; he attempted to do so, and was immediately struck with a jug by one of the defendants, and knocked down, all three men then brutally kicking him and beating him about the head and body as he lay on the ground. He succeeded in getting his handcuffs out, and vigorously used them in self-defence; and eventually, the assistance of Police-constables Bishton and Ward having been obtained, the defendants were got to the police station. The Magistrates expressed a determination to put a stop to assaults upon the police, and sentenced the defendants to one months' imprisonment, without the alternative of a fine."

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/2/1866

"A respectably dressed young man named John Welsh, who was stated to have come from the neighbourhood of Stafford, was charged with stealing on Tuesday last in the DURHAM OX public-house, Park Street, £27 and a silver watch belonging to a greengrocer named Roberts, living in Stafford Street. Mr. Mathews appeared in support of the charge, and as the prosecutor on being robbed had gone to Stafford in search of the prisoner and had not yet returned, he simply asked that sufficient evidence might be taken to justify a remand, and called Detective Kates, who deposed to apprehending the prisoner at the DURHAM OX. On searching him at the police station he found upon him a silver hunting watch, £12 in gold, and £1 15s 3d in silver. Witness charged him with stealing the money, when he replied that it was his own; he added that he had been employed for five months as an usher in the household of Lord Hatherton. Another witness named James Partridge, buckle maker, Lower Rushall Street, also gave evidence that he had seen the accused on Tuesday in the NAGS HEAD, Ablewell Street, with two watches and a quantity of gold in a leather bag, which was produced and said to belong the prosecutor. The prisoner was then remanded until Monday." [The case against John Welch was subsequently dismissed.]

1881 Census

24, Park Street

- [1] Moses Millington (56), licensed victualler, born Dunnington [Donnington?], Shropshire;
- [2] Martha Millington (55), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Martha Butler (32), general servant, born Darlaston;
- [4] Elizabeth Nicholls (15), general servant, born Wednesbury:

George Jeffries = George Jeffrie

1891 Census

53, Park Street – DURHAM OX

- [1] George Jeffrie (38), unmarried, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Jeffrie (69), mother, born Walsall;
- [3] Florence Baker (13), cousin, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Edward Emsley (25), lodger, currier, born Leeds:

1901 Census

53, Park Street

- [1] George Jeffries (48), unmarried, hotel keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Jeffries (80), mother, widow, born Walsall;
- [3] Florence Baker (23), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Lucy Law (18), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/4/1901 - Advert

"Sale by Auction.....

The Valuable Freehold Full Licensed Public House, the DURHAM OX, adjoining Walsall Railway Station and being No.53, Park Street, held under lease by the Northampton Brewery Co, under Lease, expiring 24th June, 1904."

Charles William Mitchell – see also BROWN LION.

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

"A. Beebee's Noted Home-Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.

Houses.....

DURHAM OX, Park Street, Walsall."

1911 Census

53, Park Street

- [1] Emma Banks (37), wife, married under one year, born Walsall;
- [2] William Banks (32), licensed victualler manager, born Walsall;
- [3] Mrs. Cooper (35), boarder, harness stitcher, born Walsall;
- [4] William Cooper (3), boarder, born Darlaston;
- [5] Annie Summer (19), general servant, born Blakenall:

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916

"The adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

DURHAM OX, Park Street. Mr. J. W. Pearman-Smith appeared for the license holder, and applied for a renewal of the license. Chief Inspector Ballance gave evidence as to the structure of the house, and added that, particularly on market night, the yard, which opened into Park Street, was frequented by a large number of men and women, and a good deal of drinking went on, while a nuisance was created by the yard being so public. He cautioned the landlord about the drinking in December 1914, and so far as he knew there had been no improvement.

In reply to Mr. Pearman-Smith, Chief Inspector Ballance said it was quite possible that this drinking in the gateway was due to the congestion of trade just now. The plans that had been submitted for alterations, would prevent such a nuisance.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said that since the license-holder was cautioned he had never served any drink outside, and had done his best to prevent it. Owing to the curtailment of hours the pressure was great. When the house was full a man might purchase a pint and prefer to drink it outside, and the only thing the licensee could do in that case was to refuse to serve him at all.

Mr. Phillips said that showed that the premises were not under proper control, and treating and other things which were illegal could not be prevented.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said there was no question of treating.

The Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton) said the idea was that a man might take a jug of beer outside and half a dozen of his pals drink out of it. Then he could go and fetch another.

Inspectors Cook, Evans, and Jones gave evidence corroborating that of the Chief Inspector.....

The case of the DURHAM OX would be adjourned for a month for alterations to be carried out. These were as follows: A gateway to be placed right across the entry, such gateway to be used only for the rolling way, the entry to the house to be confined to one main door. It was suggested there should be grill gates.”

Walsall Observer 29/4/1916

“At an occasional court on Thursday morning Alice Beckett and her brother Isaac Tipton, of the R.F.A., both of Rushall, were charged before Messrs. E. J. Shaw and E. H. Barnett with being drunk and disorderly. The woman was also charged with assaulting Inspector Needham, while the soldier was charged with assaulting Police-constable Pass. The evidence showed that a disturbance occurred when the defendants and other relatives alighted from a car on which they had come from Walsall. There was a melee, in which it was alleged the woman struck the inspector, and that Tipton knocked down Police-constable Pass, kicked him on the head, and bit his finger. The soldier denied that he was drunk and asserted that all he had had that night was a pint of porter at the DURHAM OX, Walsall.

The defendants were each ordered to pay £2 (£1 for each offence).”

George Henry Mole – see also FOX.

Walsall Observer 10/3/1917 - Deaths

“On March 6th the death occurred of George Henry Mole, of 44, Upper Rushall Street, and late of the DURHAM OX INN, Park Street, after a long and painful illness. RIP.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
DURHAM OX, Park Street. £1 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

“As a result of recent negotiations, the freehold licensed properties belonging to Messrs. Artur Beebee Ltd, which include The DURHAM OX, Park Street; OLD STILL, Digbeth; THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road; Red Lion, Aldridge; MALT SHOVEL, Lower Rushall Street; GOLDEN LION, Birchills Street; the off license, 6, Camden Street; the brewery in Sandwell Street; and the lease of the FOX INN, Stafford Street, have been sold to the Highgate Brewing Co, Ltd, through Messrs. Fox and Harrison, FAI, of Walsall.”

Samuel Roland Holmes – see also BROWN LION.

Roland Holmes was married to Lillian.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

DURHAM OX, Park Street.”

William Taylor – see also BROWN LION.

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

Mr. T. Chapman, DURHAM OX INN, Park Street, was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

[“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
DURHAM OX INN, Park Street, £5 0s 0d.”](#)

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
DURHAM OX, Park Street. £7 7s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
DURHAM OX, Park Street. £2 8s 2d.”

Evening Despatch 27/4/1945

“People in Park Street, Walsall, today looked with amazement when a driverless lorry parked on The Bridge outside the railway station suddenly started moving towards them. Gathering speed down the slope it wheeled across the pavement and crashed into the DURHAM OX public house. Luckily no one was hurt. It is believed that the vibrations of passing traffic sent the unattended vehicle on its lone expedition.”

Thomas Allsop Chapman died in 1957.
See also DUSTY MILLER.

Robert Watson – see also FOUR WAYS.

Reginald Thomas Paget – see also KING EDWARD.

DUSTY MILLER

1, Butts Road / (Lower) North Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Utting, Littleton Arms, Littleton Street, Walsall
W. Butler and Co. Ltd. [1902]
Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd. [1925], [1939]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

John Clarke (1891 – 1897);
William Henry Surridge (1897 – 1899);
Edwin James Warner (1899 – 1902);
Charles Lammas (1902 – 1904);
George Edward Evans (1904 – 1908);
George Ernest James (1908 – 1910);
Frank Roberts (1910 – 1911);
James Loynes (1911 – 1912);
John Thomas Griffiths (1912 – 1913);
John Littler (1913 – 1919);
John Arthur Campey (1919 – 1922);
James Platt (1922 – 1923);
Harry Lloyd (1923 – 1934);
Ernest Carden (1934 – 1936);
Thomas Alsop Chapman (1936 – 1940);
John Benjamin Mulliss (1940 – 1949);
Alfred Lawrence Mulliss (1949 – 1956);
Thomas Marlow (1956 – 1957);
Colin Derek Harris (1957 – 1959);

Edward James Whiting (1959 – 1962);
Arthur Charles Westwood (1962 – 1963);
William Leonard Cantrill (1963 – 1964);
David Donald Chambers (1964);
William Whitelaw Dewar (1964 – 1965);
John Roland Hayes (1965 – 1967);
Brymby John Phillips (1967 – []

NOTES

It opened on 30th September 1891.

The licenses of the STORES (WARWICK ARMS), Warwick Street and the LITTLE SWAN, North Street, were transferred here.

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1898

“The forty-sixth general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday afternoon.....

William Henry Surridge, DUSTY MILLER, Hatherton Street.”

1901 Census

Lower North Street – DUSTY MILLER

[1] Edwin James Warner (41), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Maria Warner (43), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Gertrude E. Warner (15), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Harold E. Warner (11), son, born Walsall;

[5] Ellen Stokes (3), niece, born Walsall:

George Ernest James – see also LITTLETON ARMS, and WHITE HORSE.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1908

“On Monday afternoon, a meeting of Messrs. Butler’s managers and tenants was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, to protest against the proposed Licensing Bill. Alderman C. B. Plant, of Wolverhampton, presided. On the motion of Mr. Evans, of the DUSTY MILLER INN, seconded by Mr. Chadd, the following resolution was unanimously passed: ‘That this meeting of customers of Butler’s Brewery, Wolverhampton, emphatically protests against the proposed new Licensing Bill as a grossly unfair and confiscatory measure, prejudicial to their interests as free Englishmen, and certain to cause loss of employment; and those present pledge themselves to use every legitimate effort to prevent its becoming the law of the land.’ The following resolution was also carried unanimously: ‘That the principle of a time limit is inadmissible and must be opposed by the full strength of the trade’.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1909

“An engineer named Thomas Wilson, of St. Andrews Road, Bordesley, Birmingham, was admitted to the Walsall Hospital on Wednesday suffering from severe injuries to one of his feet. It appears that Wilson reached Walsall during the afternoon in charge of a motor wagon belonging to Messrs. Milson and Cheetham and proceeded to the DUSTY MILLER public house, Hatherton Street, for the purpose of delivering some barrels of beer. It is stated that while the barrels were being transferred one rolled on to Wilson, and before he could get clear his foot was caught and one toe smashed.”

1911 Census

1, Butts Road – DUSTY MILLER

[1] Frank Roberts (39), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Florence Roberts (36), wife, married 14 years, assisting in business, born Moxley;

[3] Ada Seagar (19), general servant, born Bleakenall:

John Thomas Griffiths – see also QUEENS, Bloxwich.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

DUSTY MILLER, Butts Road, Walsall, 7s.”

John Littler – see also BIRD IN HAND.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

DUSTY MILLER, Butts Road. £1 16s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 7/9/1918 - Advert

“Preliminary.

Fox & Harrison, FAI, are favoured with instruction to offer for Sale by auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, 15th October, 1918 (unless previously disposed of privately), the undermentioned Four Licensed Houses.

The Full Licensed House, LITTLETON ARMS INN, Corner of Hatherton Street, and Littleton Street, Walsall.

The Full Licensed House, DUSTY MILLER INN, Corner of Butts Road (and facing down Hatherton Street, Walsall).

The Full Licensed House, TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Corner of Warwick Street and Teddesley Street, Walsall.

The Ante '69 Beerhouse, Old Wilkin Inn, Corner of Wilkin Road and Hednesford Road, Norton Canes, Brownhills.

Full particulars will be announced later.

Auctioneers Offices, 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall. Telephone 198.”

James Platt – see also CRITERION.

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

“W. O. E. Utting, Deceased. For Sale by Private Treaty, the well-known, fully licensed, Public houses, the LITTLETON ARMS (leasehold), Littleton Street; the TEDDESLEY ARMS (leasehold), Teddesley Street; the DUSTY MILLER (freehold), Butts Road, Walsall; and the freehold beerhouse Old Wilkin, Hednesford Road, Brownhills.

Apply: The Owners, namely W.O.E. Utting's Trustees, 117, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Ernest Carden – see also BROWN LION.

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/4/1936

“George H. Dyall, aged 64, married, 22, Francis Street, walked into the DUSTY MILLER public house, Butts Road, on Monday, called for a glass of brandy, and collapsed and died. At the inquest on Tuesday Dr. F. L. Richard said that Dyall was in such a condition that he might have died at any time. A verdict of Death from Heart Failure was returned.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

DUSTY MILLER, Butts Road.”

1939 Register

1, Butts Road

[1] Thomas Chapman, date of birth 13/12/1892, public house manager, married;

[2] Catherine Chapman, dob 20/11/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Thomas Allsop Chapman – see also DURHAM OX.

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

DUSTY MILLER INN, Butts Road, £3 11s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DUSTY MILLER, Butts Street. £2 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

DUSTY MILLER, Butts Road. £0 1s 0d.”

Thomas Marlow – see also COTTAGE.

William Leonard Cantrill – see also GOLDEN LION.

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/8/1994

“Down Your Local. LITTLETON ARMS, Walsall.

The regulars at this popular street corner local are getting in a right old froth, and it's no wonder. Their beloved watering hole is under threat of demolition from a road modernisation scheme and the customers are working up a thirst for a ding-dong battle to save it The pub is on the route of Walsall's much-vaunted new Ring Road and unless the local authority has a rethink it is likely that a compulsory purchase order will be slapped on it. And that will come as a bitter blow to landlord Paul Fletcher and his partner Liz Chambers who have been at the pub less than 12 months This is Paul and Liz's first pub, although she is no stranger to such places, having been born and brought up in a pub 100 yards away! Her dad John Hayes used to run the now-demolished DUSTY MILLER in Littleton Street.....”

It closed in September 1977.

EAGLE

Cresswell Crescent, Mossley, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Admiral Taverns [2007]

LICENSEES

John Turner (1959);
James Fern (1959 – 1964);
Sidney George Haycock (1964 – 1966);
Reginald Victor Whilton (1966 – []

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1958

“The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....

Tenders have also been accepted in respect of the following new licences.....

EAGLE, Mossley Estate, Bloxwich.”

It opened on 2nd April 1959.

The license was transferred from WINDMILL, Bath Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1959

“The 69th annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 28 at Wolverhampton. The following is the statement by Mr. Frank Yardley (Chairman and Managing Director) which has been circulated with the report and accounts.....

Further progress has been made with the building of new properties, and the following were opened during the financial year.....

EAGLE, Mossley, Walsall – 1st May, 1959.”

It closed in 2007.

Express and Star 20/8/2010

“The EAGLE pub, also in Cresswell Crescent, is due to be pulled down after standing empty since 2007 when a man was shot. Plans for 18 apartments on the site were approved by council chiefs earlier this summer.”

Express & Star 10/6/2017

“Developer SEP Properties has applied to build 17 flats on the site of the EAGLE, on Cresswell Crescent, in Bloxwich. In November, travellers set up camp outside the derelict pub, which was shut in 2007 after a man was shot. The proposal is to demolish the existing public house and erect an apartment block of 17 one bed flats with parking spaces in its place.

Walsall Council's planning committee will meet on Thursday to discuss the application, with it being recommended that they delegate the decision to the head of planning to approve based on organising a suitable section 106 agreement. This is despite concerns being raised by residents that the apartments block will be out of character with other buildings in the area.

Papers set to be discussed at the meeting read, ‘Objections have been raised that the design and visual appearance of the building is out of keeping with the surrounding properties and that a two storey building would be more appropriate. On balance it is considered that the three storey building does not adversely affect the character of the surrounding area and offers the opportunity to make more efficient use of derelict land in the urban area.”

Express & Star 16/6/2017

“Walsall Council planning chiefs agreed at a meeting on Thursday that the EAGLE pub, on Cresswell Crescent in Bloxwich, be knocked down and replaced by an apartment block with 17 apartments. The pub has been derelict since 2007 when it was shut after a man was shot in the leg with a shotgun. Travellers have regularly pitched up on the site and it has been left to ruin, prompting legal action to be taken by Walsall Council against the owner – which remains ongoing. There was no hesitation around the plans at Thursday’s meeting, with councillors unanimously approving the plans go ahead.

Councillor Angela Underhill, the deputy-chair of the committee, raised concerns over fire safety given the tower block fire in London, but a council officer assured her that the strictest regulations are in place. Once this had been addressed the plans sailed through. It means, subject to the council’s head of planning agreeing a section 106 agreement, the pub will be replaced by a three-storey apartment block. The block will contain 17 one-bed flats with 13 parking spaces, including two disabled spaces, and shared private amenity space at the rear.

The block will be split into three segments joined by staircase lobbies. Cycle storage will be available within each of the lobbies and a separate motorcycle store will also be available on site.

Bloxwich councillor Bradley Allen has welcomed the plans. He said, ‘Me and my colleagues welcome the decision made at planning. It is something we have been campaigning for a number of years. Obviously the redevelopment in the area has been needed for years and it is going to help improve the overall look of the area. Naturally now the plans have gone through the development will stop travellers pitching up and put a halt to the fly-tipping that has blighted the land. I am sure the Mossley estate residents are glad of the plans.’”

Express & Star 30/9/2022

“A dilapidated old pub which was shut 15 years ago shortly after a shooting during a bar room brawl could finally be developed into new housing in Bloxwich. Sep Properties Ltd has put forward a proposal to Walsall Council planners for the demolition of the EAGLE on Cresswell Crescent to be replaced by a block containing 17 apartments. If approved, the new building would contain one and two bedroom flats aimed at the social rental market and parts of it will be one storey bigger than the two storey pub. The EAGLE closed in 2007 shortly after a brawl broke out on St Patrick’s Day which resulted in one man being shot in the leg. It has remained boarded up ever since but suffered from a number of anti-social behaviour issues including fly-tipping, which have previously prompted calls for action to clean up the site from politicians and locals.....”

Express & Star 18/7/2023

“A Bloxwich pub which was shut down following a shooting in the bar more than 15 years ago will be pulled down to make way for new apartments. Sep Properties Ltd has been given the go-ahead to demolish the EAGLE, on Cresswell Crescent, and replace it with a new block containing nine two-bedroom flats. The building is currently dilapidated and boarded up, and has been since it closed following a bar room brawl on St Patrick’s Day in 2007, which resulted in one man being shot in the leg. In the years following its closure the site has suffered from anti-social behaviour issues including arson and fly-tipping, resulting in calls for the area to be cleaned up.

Agents Simpatico Town Planning said, ‘The existing building in situ on the site was formerly a public house. It has, however, lain disused for many years and, as a result, is now dilapidated beyond repair, being also potentially dangerous. An inspection of the site confirms that the building has fallen victim both to break ins, and also to arson both inside and outside the building. This development proposal represents an opportunity to provide nine high quality residential apartments.....”

EAGLE

54, Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Lord Hatherton (ground landlord)

Thomas J. Beebee

G. W. Whitehouse, Mellish Road, Walsall

Lichfield Brewery Co. and George Whitehouse, Walsall

W. Butler & Co. Ltd, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

Isaac Beebee [1858] – [1881];

Arthur Beebee [1884] – 1887);

Sarah Beebee (1887 – 1890);

John Peate (1890 – 1893);
George Harry Peate (1893 – 1895);
Joseph Harris Fereday (1895 – 1896);
William Bromwich Wilson (1896 – 1899);
Harry Smallwood (1899 – 1904);
Harry Hicken (1904 – 1906);
George London Barnfield (1906 – 1907);
Edwin Carter (1907 – 1912);
John Hill (1912 – 1914);
William Perry (1914 – []
Frederick Jacques [1929] – 1937);

NOTES

It was originally known as the SHIP.

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
Isaac Beebee, Rushall Street. Refused.”

Isaac Beebee, beerhouse, 54, Lower Rushall Street. [1858]

1861 Census

54, Lower Rushall Street – EAGLE HOTEL

- [1] Isaac Beebee (42), chair maker employing 4 men and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Agnes Beebee (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Arthur Beebee (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Agnes Beebee (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Bould (63), mother in law, widow, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 5/9/1863

“On Monday last, after the police business had been disposed of, the magistrates proceeded to consider the applications for the granting new licenses and the renewal of those already existing.....

Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of Mr. Isaac Beebee, beerhouse-keeper, Lower Rushall Street, for a license for his house, the EAGLE, after pointing out the adaptability of the house, which had formerly been a licensed-house, for the purpose of the trade expatiated upon the requirements of the locality, and handed in the applicant’s memorial. Application unanimously refused upon the ground that a licensed house was not required in the locality.”

Isaac Beebee, beer retailer and saddlers’ ironmonger, 54, Lower Rushall Street. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

Isaac Beebee, EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street.” [Refused]

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. H. Barnett, jun., applied on behalf of Isaac Beebee, landlord of the EAGLE beerhouse, Lower Rushall Street. The house was formerly licensed, and known as the SHIP. Application refused.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/11/1866

“Isaac Beebee, landlord of the EAGLE beerhouse, Lower Rushall Street, was fined 5s and costs for having had his house open during prohibited hours on Monday night.”

Isaac Beebee, beer retailer, 54, Lower Rushall Street. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

54, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Isaac Beebee (53), beer seller and sadler’s ironmonger employing 2 men and 1 boy, born Walsall;
- [2] Agnes Beebee (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Arthur Beebee (21), son, manufacturer’s clerk, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Bould (72), mother in law, born Walsall:

1881 Census

54, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Isaac Beebee (63), widower, beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Agnes Beddoe (28), daughter, widow, born Walsall;
- [3] Florence Beddoe (8), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Eleanor Smallwood (21), niece, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Perks (44), servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Arthur Beebee, the EAGLE INN, Rushall Street, renewed his application to have his license extended to a large room near to but not connected with his house. The application was, however, refused.”

1891 Census

54, Lower Rushall Street – EAGLE INN

- [1] John Peate (53), widower, plater and beerhouse keeper, born Bromsgrove;
- [2] George Peate (26), son, plater, born Walsall;
- [3] Frank Peate (3), grandson, born Walsall;
- [4] Annie Johnson (27), housekeeper, born Walsall;
- [5] Francis Homer (22), general servant, born Walsall:

London Gazette 14/12/1894

“Bankrupts. Peate, George Harry, the EAGLE INN, 54, Lower Rushall Street Walsall. Licensed Victualler.”

AND

“Bankrupts. Peate, John, formerly the EAGLE INN, 54, Lower Rushall Street, now the WHITE ROSE, 81, Lower Rushall Street, both in Walsall, Staffordshire, trading in copartnership with George Dant. Foreman Harness Furniture Manufacturer and Licensed Victualler.”

AND

“Re George Harry Peate, licensed victualler, the EAGLE INN. Assets £21 13s, liabilities £89 5s 2d.

Bankrupt was represented by Mr. Pearman-Smith, and Mr. Oakley by Mr. Craddock.

Bankrupt said that he worked as a journeyman silver-plater until June 1893, when he went to the EAGLE INN, to manage the business for his father. He had no interest in the license. He became surety for his father to the London and Midland Bank and to a money lender. The latter sued his father and bankrupt was called upon to pay £67 12 2d.

The examination was concluded.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/11/1895

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. Joseph Fereday, EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, elected member of the society.”

Joseph Harris Fereday, beer retailer, 54, Lower Rushall Street, and boot maker, 3, Lower Rushall Street and 4 and 20a, Caldmore. [1896]

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“EAGLE Sick and Dividend Society. The fifth annual meeting of the above society was held on Thursday, at the house of Mr. H. Smallwood, Lower Rushall Street.....”

1901 Census

Lower Rushall Street – EAGLE INN

- [1] Harry Smallwood (45), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane S. Smallwood (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Smallwood (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] May Smallwood (16), daughter, pupil school teacher, born Walsall;
- [5] Edith Smallwood (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Nellie Smallwood (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Harry Smallwood (8), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Sidney Smallwood (11 months), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Elizabeth Kinney (23), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street. 3s.”

Harry Smallwood, beer retailer, 54, Lower Rushall Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

“Walsall Air-Gun League.

The first annual meeting of the above was held at the CRITERION, Stafford Street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. H. Smallwood presided, and there was also present Messrs. Hicken (EAGLE), G. Smith (OLD KINGS ARMS), Powell (TANNERS ARMS), E. James (PLUMBERS ARMS), McDonald (CRITERION), Cliffe (GOLDEN EAGLE), Hunt, E. Towe (treasurer), and Mason (secretary).....

The undermentioned clubs with power to add to their number, were elected to the League for the forthcoming season: The WHITE HART (Walhouse Street), TANNERS ARMS, OLD KINGS ARMS, EAGLE, PLUMBERS ARMS, CRITERION, GOLDEN EAGLE, LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, OAK, and DUKE OF YORK.

There was no other business of public interest.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/1/1906

“A petition was filed on Tuesday, in the Walsall County Court, by Harry Hickin, of the EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, beer-house keeper. The usual receiving order was made appointing Mr. S. Wells Page (Official Receiver) receiver to the estate. Mr. Enoch Evans is the solicitor acting on behalf of the debtor.”

London Gazette 16/1/1906

“Hickin, Harry, the EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall-street, lately residing at Moncrieffe-street, both in Walsall, Staffordshire. Beer-house Keeper.”

George Barnfield = George Bamfield

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

“Another Chance. Story Of A Walsall Man’s Lapse After Reclamation.

‘During the last nine months he had kept absolutely sober and absolutely straight, and he has been to my chapel twice every Sunday. His case has been one of the most marvellous in that respect that I know.’

The man of whom this was said by the Rev. Isaiah Jones, minister of the Wesleyan Chapel at the Walsall Police, on Wednesday, was Henry Boyce, of 68 Lower Rushall Street, whose case brought to light an interesting story of his reclamation, as the result of a mission, his own valiant endeavour at reformation, and his temporary lapse from the straight and narrow path of an exemplary life. Boyce is forty-five years of age, and a rag gatherer, and he was in the dock charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, and, also with wilfully breaking seven panes of glass, value £1 1s 8d.

The first part of the story was told by Edwin Carter, licensee of the EAGLE INN, and Henry Robert Parr, of Tantarra Street. The landlord stated that Boyce entered his house on Tuesday, and asked for half-a-pint of beer and a ginger beer, but he refused to serve him. Boyce then used abusive language and attempted to strike him with a policeman’s helmet which he was wearing. He also refused to comply with the request to leave the premises, and, with assistance, he was ejected. The prisoner then smashed all the windows in the bar with his fist, and forced the door open, and attempted to kick him (witness) when he tried to stop him entering the house again.

This version of the proceedings was corroborated by Henry Robert Parr, who was in the bar when Boyce first entered, and assisted the prosecutor to eject him, and the thread of the narrative was taken up by Police-constable Bell, who deposed to arresting Boyce when he left the hospital, where he had had some injuries to his hand attended to.

A Minister’s Testimony.

Then came the testimony to prisoner’s good conduct during the past nine months. Boyce himself informed the Bench that he had been teetotal, and had only broke out again on Tuesday, and he had a friendly advocate in the Rev. Isaiah Jones, who remarked that there were circumstances in the case which he thought ought to be brought to the notice of the Court. ‘I think perhaps,’ continued the rev. gentleman, ‘Boyce is better known to the Court than he is to me, but I have known him for the last nine months. He was brought onto connection with my church at a great mission we had in the town, and during these nine months he had kept absolutely sober and absolutely straight, and he has been to my chapel twice every Sunday. His case has been one of the most marvellous in that respect that I know of. I think I can explain why he lapsed, if you think it necessary. All I ask for is that if it is possible you should give him another chance. I will do what I can to help him. It was a bit of domestic trouble which might happen in any household, and it is possible that he was not responsible for what he did. He is one of those men who had been drinking for many years, and when he breaks out – well, I need not describe him, but if your Worships knew the conditions under which he lives, the surroundings, and his past history, I think you would extend leniency.

Reaping The Benefit.

Addressing the prisoner, the Chairman (Mr. R. T. Jupp) said he was going to reap the benefit of his endeavouring to be good. It was an excellent thing for him that he made the effort Mr. Jones had told them of, and that he had been faithful and persevering in trying to lead a good life. He was sure the Bench would be the last to do anything that would be the cause of his reverting to his old habits, and they were going to put him on his good behaviour for three months, in the hope that he would go on as he had been doing during the past nine months. They had known many men in Walsall who had fallen like him, and had afterwards led a good life and become useful citizens. If there should be anything about his home life he should do his best for his wife, and for his family, and it might be that his wife would join him in his endeavours. If that was so, it would be a very good thing.

Prisoner: It would be a good thing for me if she would.

Prisoner's wife then stepped forward and Mr. Loxton (Magistrates' Clerk) told her it was obvious that she could do a great deal to help her husband if she liked.

Mrs. Boyce: I have been teetotal for nine months, and have been attending chapel with him.

The prosecutor agreed to accept £1 in settlement of the damage, and this was paid by the prisoner."

1911 Census

54, Lower Rushall Street

[1] Edwin Carter (43), beerhouse keeper, born Shire Oak;

[2] Lavinia Carter (44), wife, married 20 years, housewife, born Walsall;

[3] Edwin Carter (17), son, coal merchant's clerk, born Walsall;

[4] Florrie Carter (14), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[5] Lavinia Carter (10), daughter, school, born Walsall:

Edwin Carter, beer retailer, 54, Lower Rushall Street. [1912]

John Hill – see also ANCHOR.

William Perry- see also RED HOUSE.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

EAGLE, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, 1s 6d."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street. £1 0s 7½d."

Walsall Observer 19/10/1918 - Advert

"Wednesday and Thursday Next, 23rd and 24th, October, 1918.

Under instruction from Messrs. W. Butler & Co., Ltd., Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, Leonard C. Philpot will Sell by Auction the Brewing Plants and Utensils at the following Licensed House, viz.:

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall.

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.

WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore, Walsall.

PHEASANT INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.

Comprising 11 Steel and Iron Boilers, various sizes from 100 to 250 gallons, 7 large Oak Mash Tuns, 6 Mash Rules, Malt, Shovels, Copper, Lead and Iron Piping, Brass and other taps, Wooden Platforms, 6 large Cooling Vats, 6 Copper Refrigerators (by Potterton and Keyte), 6 Troughs, 2 Copper Sparges, 2 Copper Attemperators, 6 Hop Backs, 50 casks (various sizes from 36 to 120 gallons), 8 Barn Tubs, 6 Large Fermenting Vats, 2 Underbacks, Rotary Pump and Piping, 2 Avery's Weighing Machines (4cwt and 3cwt), Pulley Rope, and Sundry Utensils.

Order Of Sale

Wednesday, October 23rd

EAGLE INN, 10.30 prompt.

FOUNTAIN INN, 12 prompt.

WALSALL ARMS, 1.30 prompt.

Thursday, October 24th

WISEMORE TAVERN, 10.30 prompt.

PHEASANT INN, 12 prompt.

On View, 9 o'clock, Morning of Sale. No catalogues.

Further particulars from the Auction and Valuation Offices, Midland Bank Chambers, The Bridge, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1937

"At the Walsall Licensing Transfer Sessions on Tuesday.....

The Justices referred for compensation the EAGLE, Lower Rushall Street and the CROWN, Lower Hall Lane."

It closed in December 1937, after compensation of £1,175 had been paid.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

73, (75), Wolverhampton Street, (Wolverhampton Lane), (Wolverhampton Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mr. Plant (acquired in April 1885 for £700)
James Nightingall, beer retailer, Wolverhampton Street and Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.
Smith and Barton, brewers, Tipton
William Roberts Brewery Ltd., Brownhills [1924]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Samuel Nightingale [1849] – 1861);
Mrs. Patience Nightingale (1861)
James Nightingale (1861 – [1865]
John Davis [1868] – [1878];
Joseph Burley [];
Thomas Hawkins [];
James Browning [];
Arthur Scattergood [];
Thomas Hingley Lloyd [1881];
William Gough [1885];
Thomas Lawley [] – 1885);
Thomas Plant (1885 – 1890);
Charles Blakeman (1890 – 1893);
Thomas Deakin (1893 – 1897);
John William Chapman (1897 – 1904);
James Vaughan (1904 – 1924); manager
Frederick Sidney ‘Fred’ Walmsley (1924 – 1927);
John Albutt (1927 – 1936);
Richard Sidney Manwaring (1936 – 1956);
Thomas Revitt (1956 – 1958);
Ralph Francis Argyle (1958 – 1964);
Arthur Edwin Leadbeater (1964 – [1966]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Lane [1851]
75, Wolverhampton Street [1858], [1860], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1881]
Wolverhampton Road [1862]
73, Wolverhampton Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908]. [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Lane

- [1] Samuel Nightingale (38), victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Patience Nightingale (56), wife, born Bedworth, Warwickshire;
- [3] James Nightingale (17), son, joiner, born Bentley, Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Ann Nightingale (20), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] William Hogan (24), son in law, bricklayer, born Pendleton, Lancashire;
- [6] William Mayo (40), house servant, born Reading, Berkshire;

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1852

“Samuel Nightingale, Mark Maley, and James Fisher were charged by the police with having their respective public-houses open at improper hours, and were severally fined 5s each and costs.”

Birmingham Journal 5/9/1857

“On Saturday night last an Irishman named M’Quade was drinking in several of the public houses in the town. To some of his companions he stated that he was going to leave Walsall, and did not return to his lodgings that night. About half-past nine on the following morning the keeper of the lock on the Birmingham Canal, opposite the gas works, observed something apparently floating in the canal, about a hundred yards from his house. On approaching it, he discovered it to be the head of a man, who proved to be M'Quade. The body was standing quite upright in the water. An inquest was held the following day at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Road, before A. A. Fletcher Esq, borough coroner, and a verdict of Found Drowned was returned."

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/4/1859

"On Friday night, about half-past eleven o'clock, the body of a man named John Hayward was found in the canal, near Bridgman Street. The deceased had been at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Lane, drinking up to ten o'clock, at which time he left, being rather the worse for liquor, and he was not afterwards seen alive."

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Patience Nightingale (60), widow, victualler, born Nuneaton;
- [2] James Nightingale (26), son, victualler, born Bentley;
- [3] William Mays (50), brewer, born Buckinghamshire;
- [4] Sarah Moore (17), house servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861

"The business of the general licensing day then commenced. There were seventeen applications.....

Horatio Hefford, ORANGE TREE, Wolverhampton Road, applied for a license. Mr. Wilkinson supported the application, and pointed out that although the ORANGE TREE was within 150 yards of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, the landlord of the latter (Mr. Nightingale) had signed a memorial in favour of granting a license, because the additional business which would be brought to the house by the license would not be of a local character, and would not interfere with the trade of the locality. Refused."

James Nightingale – see also ORANGE TREE.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/10/1866

"On Saturday afternoon, a boatman named Charles James observed the body of a man floating in the canal near the Gas Works. The body was immediately got out of the water, and conveyed to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE public-house, where it was identified as that of Patrick Martin, a blind fiddler, who had left his residence in Short Acre on Monday to go to Bilston, and it is thought that on his way home he had fallen into the canal, which at the point he was found is unfenced. Several parties within the last few years have been drowned at the same place."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/4/1868 - Advert

"To be Disposed of, a capital Old-licensed Inn, doing a good in and out-door trade, with spacious Concert Hall, Stabling, &c, for thirty horses, and other appurtenances. Reason for leaving, illness. Rent under £30. Setting off reduces it to £20. No Agents treated with.

Apply to Mr. Davis, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/12/1868

"On Tuesday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, held an inquest at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Lane, touching the death of Mr. W. White, of the firm of White and Son, coal-merchants, who died on Monday from the effects of severe injuries sustained by him on the 12th ult. through being knocked down by a runaway pair of horses which he was attempting to stop, one of the wheels of the waggon to which they were harnessed passing over his body. Verdict Accidental Death."

John Davis = John Davies

See also OLD BUSH, Bilston Road, Wolverhampton.

1871 Census

75, Wolverhampton Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN

- [1] John Davis (51), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Eliza Davis (48), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Harriet Arnold (19), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/5/1874

"The usual monthly delegate meeting [Amalgomated Association of Miners] for the Darlaston district took place on Monday, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Walsall....."

Midland Counties Evening Express 28/4/1875

"The usual monthly delegate meeting of this district [Darlaston] of the Amalgamated Association [of Miners] was held on Monday, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Walsall, Mr. G. Carter presiding....."

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

"On Wednesday, Mr. Fletcher held an inquest at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Road, on the body of Arabella Lambourn, aged 37, widow, Francis Street. The evidence showed that on Monday night a vein in the calf of the deceased's right leg burst, the blood flowing copiously and causing death in about 40 minutes, before the arrival of Dr. Pattle, who was at once sent for. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 1/1/1878 - Deaths

“On the 20th ultimo, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Walsall, Eliza, the beloved wife of John Davies.”

1881 Census

75, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Thomas Hingley Lloyd (57), painter, born Weston on Trent, Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Lloyd (50), wife, born Hoxley, Staffordshire;
- [3] Thomas William Lloyd (24), son, painter, born Weston on Trent, Staffordshire;
- [4] John Lloyds (21), son, painter, born Burton on Trent;
- [5] Emma Mercer (16), boarder, milliner, born Swinstock, Derbyshire:

Walsall Observer 31/1/1885 - Advert

“Birmingham Town Brewery Co.

Stores – ELEPHANT & CASTLE, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall.

Mr. W. Gough Having been appointed Agent for Walsall and District, begs to call special attention to these Celebrated Ales and Stouts, Which he will keep regularly in Stock. Samples may be tasted and Orders received at the above address.

Proprietors of the Registered Acme Stoppered Bottles, In which their Ales and Stouts may be had; also Bass’s Pale Ale and Guinness’s Stout.”

Walsall Observer 28/2/1885

“Mr. R. W. Gillespie (of the firm of Wilkinson, Gillespie and Wilkinson) made an application for the license of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street, to be transferred from Thomas Lawley to Thomas Plant.

Mr. Lawley opposed the transfer, stating that there were certain considerations due to him.

Sergeant Drury said he visited the house on Thursday, when he found that it was not in Lawley’s possession.

The Bench said they had nothing to do with any dispute between Lawley and the Brewery Company, and transferred the license to Thomas Plant.”

1891 Census

73, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Charles Blakeman (57), licensed victualler, born Swinnerton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ada Jane Blakeman (56), wife, born Alton, Hampshire;
- [3] Kate Mary Blakeman (24), daughter, tailoress, born Swinnerton, Staffordshire;
- [4] Matthew Hale Blakeman (23), son, painter, born Swinnerton, Staffordshire;
- [5] Austin Henry Blakeman (21), son, painter, born Stone;
- [6] Harriet Edgar (14), domestic servant, born Chester:

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1892 - Advert

“ELEPHANT & CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, to Let; cause, ill-health of proprietor; an excellent business house, with good stables and premises.

Apply Watkins & Powell, Auctioneers Walsall.”

[This was repeated for several weeks.]

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1892

“On Wednesday afternoon Mr. T. H. Stanley (Borough Coroner) held an inquest at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Walsall, on the body of Charles Hearne (43), of 53, Rowland Street, who died on Sunday morning. The inquiry occupied a long time, and the facts appeared to be that the deceased worked at Messrs. Thomas’s furnaces, and found at the top of one of them a small lump of a white substance. He showed this to a fellow-workman, telling him that it would do him (deceased) good, as he was in poor health. On Sunday morning he was getting his breakfast, when he suddenly fell forward and died, and it is supposed that he put into his tea the lump of stuff, which proved to be cyanide of potassium. No one saw or knew that he did this, but Dr. J. Scott Wilson, who made the post-mortem examination of the body, stated that the stomach smelt strongly of prussic acid, and showed that death had been caused by a violent irritant poison. In the bottle which contained deceased’s tea he found the same poison which had caused death. One of the workmen who had been engaged at the furnaces for five years stated that he had never known or heard of such a substance as that found by the deceased being formed in the furnaces. After a long consultation the jury returned a verdict of Death by Poison, taken by Misadventure.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/4/1893 - Advert

“Club Room to let, 1893.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Thomas Deakin, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held at the house of Mr. Thomas Deakin, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. Jackson made application for permission to alter the license of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street. The magistrates in this case expressed no opposition.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. John William Chapman, the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.....”

1901 Census

73, Wolverhampton Street

[1] John W. Chapman (39), public house manager, born Wandsworth, London;

[2] Martha A. Chapman (43), wife, born Rothwell, Northamptonshire;

[3] Martha B. Chapman (16), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Florence E. Chapman (14), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Annie M. Chapman (10), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] Arthur E. Chapman (6), son, born Walsall;

[7] Dora M. Chapman (6), daughter, born Walsall:

J. W. Chapman was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1902

“Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of the above society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. John William Chapman, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1903

“The fourth annual excursion promoted by the members of the Harris Davis Lodge of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes, which has its headquarters at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Walsall, took place on Monday.....”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905], [1906]

Walsall Advertiser 27/6/1908

“Joseph King, 2, Thomas Street, was summoned for being found drunk on licensed premises. Inspector Haycock stated that on Saturday, the 13th inst, about 7pm, he was passing along Wolverhampton Street, and when in front of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE he saw defendant leave the bar in a very drunken condition, and when out of the house fell down twice. Witness questioned the barman, who said that he had refused to serve defendant, and it was just as he was leaving that witness saw him. Defendant, who said he was out of work, was fined 5s, including costs.”

1911 Census

73, Wolverhampton Street

[1] James Vaughan (42), licensed victualler, born Kidderminster;

[2] Betty Vaughan (38), wife, married 17 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[3] Ada Catherine Vaughan (16), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[4] Caroline Vaughan (8), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph William Vaughan (3), son, born Walsall;

[6] Rosa Nock (21), general servant, born Tamworth, Warwickshire:

Walsall Observer 21/6/1924

“A reminder that Fred Walmsley has removed to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall. Roberts Ltd, excellent Ales, Wines and Spirits.”

1939 Register

73, Wolverhampton Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE (2 of 3)

[1] Richard S. Manwaring, date of birth 13/6/1900, publican, tenant, married;

[2] Annie Manwaring, dob 30/11/1905, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....
ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street, £2 17s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1942

“There was good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society, on Thursday, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Walsall.....”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Manwaring, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE. £0 15s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ELEPHANT & CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street. £1 12s 4d.”

Richard Sidney Manwaring – see also RED LION.

A team from here competed in the Shropshire, Staffordshire and Derby division of The People National Darts Teams Championship of England and Wales in 1952/3.

Thomas Revitt – see also BRIDGE HOUSE.

Ralph Francis Argyle – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, and BRIDGEWATER.

ENGINE

Pleck Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

W Cox [1864] – [1865]

NOTES

W. Cox was also a shopkeeper. [1864], [1865]

ENGINE

(82), 81, (80), Wolverhampton Street, (81, Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Sarah Hildick, widow, Birmingham Road, Walsall
Robert Hodson, Park Street, Walsall [1880]
J. E. Hennessy, lessee
Peter Walker and Co. Ltd., Burton on Trent

LICENSEES

William Osborn [1834] – [1842]
William Turner [1845]

Richard Jackson [1849] – [1850]
John White [1858] – [1862]
Thomas Bassett [1864] – [1881];
Joseph King [1880] ?
Joseph King (1886 – 1894);
George Brookes (1894 – 1898);
Charles Lyons (1898 – 1900);
John Edward Hennessy (1900 – 1904);
Charles Gwynne [1902] manager
Charles Hennessy (1904 – 1910);
Carnaby Ansdell (1910 – 1911);
Alfred Saunders (1911 – 1919);
Thomas Alfred Gough (1919 – 1922);
James Roden (1922 – 1936);
Rowland Davenport Massey (1936 – 1938);
Arthur Standley (1938 – 1939);
Norman David/Donald Tennant (1939 – 1942);
Thomas Henry Noake (1942 – 1954);
William Ewart Mountford (1954 – 1957);
Walter Jeffrey Johnson (1957 – 1958);
John Zenas Watts (1958 – 1959);
George Edward Franks (1959 – [1966])

NOTES

Wolverhampton Road [1849]
81, Wolverhampton Road [1858], [1861], [1908]
Wolverhampton Lane [1862]
80, Wolverhampton Street
81, Wolverhampton Street [1860], [1865], [1871], [1881], [1891], [1911], [1912], [1932], [1940]
Wolverhampton Street [1881]
82, Wolverhampton Street [1939]

It was situated near the junction of Wolverhampton Street and Blue Lane West.

STEAM ENGINE [1834]
ENGINE TAVERN [1861]
ENGINE HOUSE [1871]

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

81, Wolverhampton Road – ENGINE TAVERN
[1] John White (56), innkeeper, born Tamworth;
[2] Maria White (41), wife, born Birmingham;
[3] Thomas Trow (23), lodger, boat builder, born Bilston, Montgomeryshire;
[4] Enoch Baldwin (20), lodger, boat builder, born West Bromwich;
[5] George Darby (18), lodger, boat builder, born Bedworth, Warwickshire:

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1862 - Advert

“To Be Let, that Old-licensed Public House, the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Lane. May be entered upon immediately. Apply on the premises.”

Thomas Bassett, beer retailer, 81, Wolverhampton Street. [1864], [1868], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 23/7/1864

“Thomas Bassett, landlord of the ENGINE public house, was charged with permitting disorderly conduct on his premises. From the evidence, it appeared that Police-constables Keats and M’Caffrey visited the house, and, on going into the back yard, they found, besides six others, one man very drunk, and locked up in a stable, from the window of which a jug was thrown. Fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Assessment Committee. At the meeting of this committee, held yesterday, the following appeals were disposed of.....

Thomas Bassett, Wolverhampton Lane, had the valuation of his house reduced from £20 to £17.”

1871 Census

81, Wolverhampton Street – ENGINE HOUSE

- [1] Thomas Bassett (48), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Sarah Bassett (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joshua Bassett (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Catherine Bassett (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Ann Bassett (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

The license was transferred from 80, Wolverhampton Street to 81, Wolverhampton Street circa 1880.

1881 Census

81, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Thomas Bassett (58), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Sarah Bassett (49), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joshua Bassett (22), son, general labourer, born Walsall;
- [4] James Byng (22), son in law, harness maker, born Birmingham;
- [5] Catherine Byng (20), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Julia May Byng (1), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1890

“The adjourned licensing session was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. Whitehouse applied either to remove the license from the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, to the next house, or for permission to alter the present house. He pointed out that in neither case would more difficulty be cast upon the police, whilst either of them would ensure the convenience of the public. The decision was ordered to stand over.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1890

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The business from the annual licensing session last week took place at the Guildhall yesterday.... The Bench after a long deliberation in private.....

The Bench also refused the application of the owner of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, for sanction to the removal of the license to an adjacent house, or for alterations of the present premises. At the same time, they explained that that did not prejudice a reconsideration of the matter on an offer similar to that of the LITTLE SWAN [surrendering another license] being made.”

1891 Census

81, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Joseph King (31), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann King (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Bassett (72), father, born Birmingham;
- [4] Sarah Bassett (61), mother, born Walsall;
- [5] Joseph William King (9), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Charles Henry King (7), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Rose Ward (19), servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1892 - Advert

“To Builders.

Parties desirous of Tendering for the taking Down of the Existing Buildings known as the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, and for the Erection of New Premises on the site, must apply by letter to Mr. S. Loxton, Architect, Bridge Street, Walsall, on or before Monday, the 11th day of April.

Quantities will be supplied.

The Proprietors will not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any Tender.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1892

“A special sessions for licensing business was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall....

Mr. W. J. Disturnal (barrister) asked for the approval of plans prepared in respect of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street. He explained that at the last licensing sessions the renewal of the license was opposed by the police on the ground that the house was not structurally adapted for its purpose, and applicant then undertook to carry out certain required improvements. Plans for this purpose had already been submitted to the magistrates, but as they would entail a cost of £1,000, modifications had to be carried out. The new plans were now submitted, and could be carried out for £300. Granted.”

[It would seem that the house was rebuilt, with suitable accommodation for inquests, as it became a very popular venue with the Coroner.]

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The Chief-constable then gave formal notice that he intended to oppose the renewal of the following licenses.....

The ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, the reason being that the house was not structurally adopted for the purpose. In this case the Chief said that plans for satisfactory alterations had been approved by the justices, and he (the Chief) took this course in order to ensure the commencement of work before the adjourned sessions.”

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....

Mr. W. J. Corbett applied for the renewal of the license of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, which had been adjourned owing to the structural inadaptability of the house.

Plans for improvements had been passed by the magistrates, and Mr. Loxton (architect) now stated that the work had been commenced, and would be completed by the middle of January Renewed.”

George Brooks, beer retailer, 81, Wolverhampton Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1896

“The first fatality occasioned by the electric trams in Walsall since the opening of the system occurred on Monday night at a spot between the Pleck and James Bridge Station, known as the Black Gap. The victim was a coachbuilder named Samuel Spooner (57), of 158, Darlaston Road, Pleck, who on Monday night called at the BROWN LION INN, but, on account of his condition, was turned away. He went with his wife as far as Narrow Lane, but she then left him, and subsequently two youths, named Frank Newey and Tuckley, saw ‘something’ dark lying on the tram rails, but before they could get near enough to examine it a tram came up and ran over what turned out to be Spooner, who had lain there helplessly drunk. When extricated by means of a jack he was quite dead.

An inquest was held at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street (the body having been conveyed to the public mortuary) by the Borough Coroner, Mr. T. H. Stanley, on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Robins, Mr. H. Hackett, and Mr. F. Spencer represented the Tramways Company, and Mr. G. D. Elliot the Electrical Construction Company.

It was stated that the tram was not going at more than six miles an hour, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/12/1898

“Mr. T. H. Stanley, Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, yesterday afternoon touching the death of John Astbury (48), caster, 28, Lower Hall Lane. Deceased died at his home on Wednesday. The firm of Messrs. H. Frost and Co. was represented by Mr. F. Dolman, and Mr. J. Jackson, factory inspector, was present. Deceased came home from work some few days ago and complained of having ‘overlifted’ himself. A medical man was called in, and attended him till the time of his death.

Dr. McKinstry said deceased told him that he felt something give way when he was lifting a pot of metal. The post-mortem examination revealed the presence of a large abscess in the abdomen, and he was of opinion that this burst. The bursting of the abscess might have been due to great muscular effort or considerable violence, but it might have burst spontaneously. Deceased was also suffering from congestion of the lungs. The bursting of the abscess would accelerate death.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that deceased died from the bursting of an abscess.

Deceased was well-known and respected amongst bellringers, and for many years was a member of the Volunteer band.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/4/1899

“Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on Thursday, touching the death of Patrick Murphy (29), single, labourer, who lived at Powell’s Lodging House, Peal Street. Deceased died suddenly on Tuesday afternoon. Medical evidence showed that the deceased was suffering from consumption, and that syncope resulted.

A verdict in accordance with this was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Charles Lyons, ENGINE INN, served 137 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1900

“On Monday afternoon the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on the body of Fanny Bowen (27), wife of Alfred Wm. Bowen, in lodgings at 7, Navigation Street, who was burnt to death by a lamp accident.

Alfred William Bowen (husband of deceased) stated that he and his wife had been in lodgings for three or four months at 7,

Navigation Street. On Sunday night they were together in the kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, with whom they lodged, being in the front room. At about a quarter past twelve they passed through the kitchen to go to bed. About five minutes later witness's wife got up from the chair on which she was sitting and took the double burner oil lamp from the table to go to bed. She had got up one or two steps when she called out. Witness jumped up and saw that she was a mass of flames. He got his coat and endeavoured to extinguish the flames, calling at the same time for help. She seemed to fall to the floor as he wrapped his coat round her, and it did not seem above a minute or so before she lay on the floor a corpse, with all clothes burned off. They were both on good terms. Witness thought she had caught the lamp against the stairs and smashed it, the burning oil going all over her clothes. It did not explode. They had had this same lamp for about three years, and the oil was the kind they always used.

By a juror: When deceased took the lamp he was left in darkness. His wife did this often to make him go to bed, as he was a great reader and it aggravated her.

William Johnson, 7, Navigation Street, puddler, stated that the Bowens lodged with them, and on Saturday night at about a quarter past twelve, he and his wife went to bed leaving the Bowens in the kitchen. A few minutes afterwards they heard a smash – like that of some crockery – and then he heard a shout for help. Witness opened his bedroom door, but could see nothing for the flames and smoke. Witness hurriedly dressed and came downstairs. He then found deceased at the bottom of the stairs – apparently dead – with her husband standing near and he then went for the police.

Sarah Johnson, wife of the last witness, gave similar evidence.

Inspector Ballance stated that at 12.35 on Sunday morning he was called to the house, where he found the woman Fanny Bowen lying on her back at the bottom of the stairs, quite dead, her body being badly burned and her clothes, which were nearly burned out, still smouldering. The lamp (broken) lay on the floor by the side of her, and the stairs door and doorposts were burned.

By a juror: The husband, who was on his knees by the body, was drunk.

Dr. Harry Shore spoke to seeing the body of the deceased at about half past twelve. It was lying at the bottom of the stairs and was fearfully charred, there being no clothing on except about the waist. The cause of death would be suffocation and shock. Her clothes must have been burned very quickly, and they must have been saturated with oil. The man Bowen was drunk.

Mrs. Johnson recalled, stated that deceased had apparently had drink, but she could not say she was drunk.

The Coroner, having summed up, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Observer 3/2/1900

“The Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest on Thursday afternoon, at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on the body of Frederick Henry Siddons (7), whose parents reside in Westbourne Road, and who was found dead in bed on Wednesday.

Henry Siddons, clerk, of Westbourne Road, gave evidence of identification of his son, and deposed that on Tuesday night, at ten minutes after seven, he carried his son to bed, as he had been ailing for about two days. At eight o'clock next morning witness went into his bedroom, and as he appeared to be asleep he left him. Mrs. Siddons saw him about five minutes afterwards, and he still appeared to be asleep. She went up some short time later, and called witness, stating that he looked queer. Witness then examined him, and came to the conclusion that he was dead, as he could find no pulsation of his heart. He then called in Dr. Oliver, who, however, could only pronounce life to be extinct.

Dr. Oliver deposed that on his arrival at the house between eight and nine o'clock he found the child dead, but there was nothing that would enable him to form any opinion as to the cause of death. At the Coroner's request he had that day made a post-mortem. The cause of death was a very large and highly organised blood clot, which had become detached from the inner side of the right auricle of the heart and passing to the pulmonary artery, completely closing it, and so stopping the entire supply of blood to the lungs. This was very unusual, and he had never seen so large a blood clot even in an adult.

The jury returned a verdict of Natural Causes, and both Coroner and jury expressed their deep sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Siddons in their sad bereavement.”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“On Wednesday afternoon the circumstances attending the death of a child named Alfred Evans, aged 3 years and 8 months, of 10, Francis Street, were investigated by the Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street.

John Evans, a gas works labourer, of Francis Street, identified the body as that of his son, who was injured on Thursday, January 18th. He was brought into the house at about 3.15 in the afternoon with his head badly cut. They bathed the wound, and the hair was cut away, and some sticking-plaster was put over the wound. He did not think it was a serious one, and did not send for a doctor. On the following Monday the child cried to go out, and the mother took him out. Next day, on Wednesday, Dr. Shore was fetched, and he attended the child until his death on Saturday last.

Margaret Connally, the wife of John Connally, of Francis Street, stated that on January 18th her nephew, John Roach, brought her some coals in a barrow, which he took through the front door. He was putting the coal into the coal-place in the back kitchen, and finding a piece of bat [a piece of brick] among the coal threw it through the door into the street. She heard a child cry, and found the deceased with his head cut. She took him into the house, bathed his head, and took him home. She did not think it was possible for her nephew to have seen the child.

Dr. P. A. Shore spoke to attending the child from January 24th to the time of his death on Saturday last. When witness saw the child he was only half conscious, and had a scalp wound 1¼ inches long and half an inch wide extending to the bone. About a couple of days afterwards the child developed inflammation of the lungs, on top of the already existing inflammation of the brain. These complaints, in his opinion, were caused by the absorption of the matter into the blood, namely, septic inflammation. Death was caused, firstly, by inflammation of the brain, and, secondly, pneumonia, both the result of the injury. It was probable that the child might have caught a chill, which fed to the wound. The wound was by no means a serious one in the first place.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned, and the boy Roach was cautioned.”

AND

“On Wednesday afternoon the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, relative to the death of a boy, named Alfred Powell (12), of 167, Queen Street, who was found dead on a hot cinder heap at the back of the Cyclops Ironworks, on Sunday.

William Powell, the father of the deceased boy, stated that he lived at 167, Queen Street, and was an iron caster. Deceased went to school when they could get him to, which was not very often. He had also stayed out at nights on one or two occasions. On Tuesday morning of last week the boy was told to wash himself, but had to be forced. He then went off in a passion, saying that he would never come home again. They did not see him again, and, although enquiries were made, he was not seen again. The cinder heap, where deceased was found, was at the back of their house.

John Cheadle, of 76, Queen Street, a polisher, stated that he did not know the deceased, but at about twenty minutes after two on Sunday afternoon he was in the yard, when a boy came and told him that he had seen two boys on the mounds. He and another youth went to the cinder mound at the back of the Cyclops Ironworks, where they found two boys lying face downwards on the cinders, which were warm and smoking. They carried the boys to houses close by, and sent for the police. Both boys were insensible, and one was found to be dead, and the other boy was taken to the hospital.

Dr. Hoden (assistant to Dr. Dearden) stated that on Sunday afternoon he saw the deceased boy Alfred Powell at a house in Queen Street. Witness examined him, and found that he was dead. Judging from the other boy, he should say that death was due to carbolic acid gas poisoning from the cinder heaps.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Observer 10/3/1900

“On Saturday morning, Mr. T. H. Stanley (the borough coroner) held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on the body of a man whose name was unknown, but who was described as being about 63 years of age, height 5ft 5in, thin face, grey hair, grey beard and moustache, currier by trade, and has the appearance of a tramp. He was dressed in a felt hat, black and white plaid muffler, striped shirt, two coats, one dark material and the other dark blue, both dirty and very much worn; black and white striped trousers, lace-up boots, and no stockings.

Martin Burke, living at 101, Lower Rushall Street, common lodging house keeper, said he saw deceased come into the lodging house at a quarter to twelve on Tuesday night. Witness did not know his name or anything about him. He said he had only got 3½d and wished witness to let him stop, and as he consented, deceased went to bed. Next morning, at half past nine, he was found at the bottom of two flights of steps, lying on his back. He seemed to be very ill, and they went for the police.

Jane Burke, employed by the last witness, as a domestic servant, stated that about 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning she saw a man trying to slide down the stairs. He was on his back, and could not speak, but came down three flights of stairs in that manner. Witness and another young woman picked him up and put him on the sofa. Dr. McKinsty afterwards saw deceased. When witness saw deceased the night before he seemed to have been drinking heavily.

Dr. McKinsty gave evidence that he was called in to see this man at Lower Rushall Street on Wednesday morning. He was quite dead, and from an external examination witness was unable to give an opinion as to the cause of death. At the coroner's request he had made a post mortem examination, and found that the cause of death was inflammation of the lungs following on an old kidney disease.

Sergeant Pritchard (9) [his number] stated that he had made enquiries respecting the deceased. He found that the man had been seen about the town for the last three weeks. At the club-house of the carriers he had stated that he was 63 and a currier. He was, last night (Friday), seen by Dr. Utting, who believed he was a man he had known for years. If he was the man he was named George or Harry Gen, a native of Derby, but Mr. Utting was not prepared to swear to his identity. He had been photographed, and his description and photo had been circulated round the district, but no information had been received.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Observer 21/4/1900

“On Saturday morning last an inquest was held at the ENGINE INN by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), in relation to the death of Job Stanley (44), an engine fitter, of 2 House, 1 Court, Ryecroft Street, who is alleged to have met with an accident whilst at work in Northampton, and who died on Thursday morning last at his house.

Sarah Ann Stanley, of 2 House, 1 Court, Ryecroft Street, stated that she was the wife of the deceased, who had recently been working at Northampton, returning home on the previous Saturday night. He was then so ill that he could not work, and was brought home by two men whom she did not know. Deceased said he had got his 'death blow'. Witness replied, 'Don't say that.' He answered, 'Yes I have, I'm sure. I was hit with a swing hook three weeks ago.' On the Monday the deceased went to see Dr. O'Meara, and he was afterwards attended by him. On Thursday morning her husband died, and witness told the doctor what deceased had said about the accident. She asked for a certificate and Dr. O'Meara said he could not give her one.

Lucy Roberts, the wife of William Roberts, of 1 House, 1 Court, Ryecroft Street stated that she lived next door to Mrs. Stanley, and on Sunday morning she saw the deceased. She asked him how he was. He replied, 'Oh! This blow has killed me. I've been hit with a swing hook.' On witness further enquiring about he accident, he said the windlass was loosed and the swing hook caught me.

John Baggott, of 17, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, a foreman engine fitter, stated that deceased and himself were in the employ of Messrs. G. and B. Thomas. Since February 7th deceased and other men had been employed at the Greendon Iron Works, at Finedon, Northamptonshire, removing machinery from there to Bloxwich. Witness had been to Finedon once each week, and on Saturday the 7th inst. he travelled to Walsall in the same train as deceased. Stanley seemed to be very unwell, and told witness he was suffering from bronchitis, stating that he had been to a doctor in Finedon. He said nothing about an accident, and no accident had been reported to witness.

Dr. O'Meara stated that he saw Stanley on Monday evening at his surgery in Stafford Street. He complained of a cough, and said his breath was very bad. Witness finding him to be seriously ill, ordered him to bed, and prescribed for him. He made no mention of an accident. Witness afterwards saw him at his own house, when he was dangerously ill, suffering from pneumonia in the right lung. On Thursday morning witness heard of his death. He would have been surprised had deceased recovered, and was satisfied that death was due to pneumonia. A severe blow on the chest or side might have caused the pneumonia. He did not hear any suggestion of an accident until after the man's death. He had since, by the Coroner's direction, made a post mortem examination of the body. The right lung showed signs of advanced pneumonia, the other organs being normal. This confirmed his previous opinion, and although he examined the body carefully, he could find no evidence of violence. Had the man's death been due to violence he would naturally have expected to find some trace of it. The cause of death was syncope, due to pneumonia. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Walsall Observer 4/8/1900

"An inquest was held on Saturday morning at the ENGINE INN, by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), on the body of John Maitland Christie (66), Windsor Street, who died in the Arboretum on Thursday, July 26th.

George Watt Christie, of 101, Borneo Street, son of the deceased, said that his father had been living with his son John in Windsor Street. Until a few years ago the deceased worked for his brother, William Christie, brown saddler, in the office.

William Charles Robothan, 29, Camden Street, ironfounder, said that he met the deceased, whom he knew well, as he was coming out of the Arboretum on Thursday night, July 26th. Witness was just going in when he met the deceased, and stopped to speak to him. He found him practically unable to speak. He advised him to rest, and the deceased seated himself on the seat under the clock, where he was immediately afterwards seized by some kind of a fit. Witness, with assistance, laid him on the grass plot in front of the entrance, and sent for medical assistance. Afterwards deceased seemed to recover himself a little, and he was conveyed back to the seat, where he died. Dr. Sydenham was fetched to him about two minutes after his death.

Dr. Sydenham stated that he saw the deceased in the Arboretum a few minutes after nine. He was quite dead then, and was being supported on the seat under the clock. On making a post mortem examination witness found that death was due to heart failure, caused by an effusion of fluid into the chest, the result of pleurisy.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Walsall Observer 1/12/1900

"Mr. T. H. Stanley, borough coroner, held an inquiry at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, yesterday afternoon, into the death of Emma Mason (40), 78, Bentley Lane, who died suddenly on Wednesday.

Thomas George Mason, living at 78, Bentley Lane, a pattern maker, gave evidence that the deceased was his wife. On Wednesday morning he left home at about a quarter after nine. She was then apparently quite well, but at half past eleven he was fetched from his work by a woman named Burrowes who told him his wife was dying. He found his wife prostrate on the rug before the fire quite unconscious and breathing heavily. Witness went for a doctor, and meeting Dr. McKinstry in his carriage, he asked him to go and see his wife. The doctor saw her, and twice afterwards that day. The last time, however, she was dead. Her death took place at about ten minutes to seven the same evening, without regaining consciousness.

Harold Mason, son of the deceased, stated that on the 28th November he was at home in bed, and at about eleven o'clock he heard a noise. On coming down he found Mrs. Walker, a neighbour, shouting at his mother in the yard, the former challenging her to fight. Witness asked his mother to come into the house, which she did. Mrs. Walker appeared very excited, and his mother was crying. The quarrel was about some fowl belonging to Mrs. Walker, which came into the house, and which deceased drove out. After sitting down for a short time his mother went about her work again, but in a few moments she stumbled, and she asked him to fetch Mrs. Read, a neighbour. Witness did not see any blows struck.

Mary Read, living at 99, Bentley Lane, said that on Wednesday morning Harold Mason fetched her to his mother, whom she found sitting in a chair. Deceased said she was dying, and asked for brandy and for a doctor to be fetched. She laid deceased on the hearth rug, and she became unconscious.

Sarah Ann Walker, 75, Bentley Lane, gave evidence that on Wednesday morning Mrs. Mason complained that her fowl had broken a tree. Witness said she could not help it, and that she had not done it. She promised to give deceased another tree for it. Mrs. Mason replied that she did not want the tree, but that she would go down to the landlady. Witness, in reply, said that she did not care for the landlady. Some other words passed, and deceased's son fetched her in. Witness did not go near deceased.

The husband of the deceased questioned the witness with a view to showing that there had been a long standing disagreement in reference to the fowls. Witness denied any knowledge that in consequence of her abuse deceased had been ill two days on a previous occasion.

Dr. McKinstry stated that as a result of a post mortem examination he found the cause of death to be bleeding on the base of the brain, the result of diseased kidneys and arteries. Excitement would tend to produce the hemorrhage.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1902

"Thomas Navin, 108, Blue Lane, was summoned at the instance of Charles Gwynne, of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, for breaking a plate glass window, and doing damage to John Hennessey to the amount of £5.

Jane Toft said she was standing by the ENGINE INN the previous night, and saw prisoner throw a brick (produced) through one of the windows of the house.

Charles Gwynne, the manager of the ENGINE INN, said that he heard a crash, and on going outside found one of his windows broken, and prisoner standing near it. He admitted having broken the window, and gave him in charge.

Police-constable Lloyd deposed to arresting Navin, who said he had smashed the pane for fun, as he wanted to be locked up.

A fine of 40s and costs, with payment of the damage, was given prisoner as the alternative to two months' hard labour.”

John Edward Hennessy died in the last quarter of 1904.

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“The Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, yesterday, upon the body of John Wilkins (35), lately landlord of the BRITANNIA INN, Cross Street, Darlaston, who was found drowned in the canal on the Darlaston Road, Pleck, on Thursday morning.

Marth Gregory, wife of William Gregory, of Reynolds Street, Smethwick, identified the body as that of her brother-in-law, whom she last saw about six weeks ago, when he appeared cheerful and well.

Ruth Wilkins, widow of deceased, said he had suffered from pains in the head, but since he went to the public house he had been worse and it had preyed upon his mind. He was on Wednesday week served with two summonses for supplying drink to a drunken person, and permitting him to be upon the premises. That night he did not have his supper, and was unable to sleep. She saw him crying the next morning when he got up, and when she tried to cheer him up he replied that he could not face the summonses. He afterwards went out of the house, and she did not see him again alive. Her husband was a steady man, and they had always got on well together. He was a steel tube drawer by trade, and made some money, but had lost it at the house, which was misrepresented to him when he went in. When his brother-in-law went over to see him deceased told him that he was a ruined man, and that it had nearly driven him to it (meaning suicide).

The foreman requested that the Press might make a special note of the misrepresentations that had been made. There had been a great deal of that sort of thing going on.

The Coroner, in summing up, said that deceased had undoubtedly made a bad bargain, and he thought the loss of money had preyed upon his mind.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst of Unsound Mind.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/4/1908

“About 7.30 on the evening of March 28th there was a crowd outside the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, and Police-constable Ashby going inside, saw William Stephens, whom he deemed to be the worse for liquor, and the man now answered his name to a charge of being drunk on licensed premises. At the time, the manager of the house was in the cellar, an on being called said he had not served the defendant and did not know he was in the house, but he corroborated the officer's statement so far that had he asked for drink he should not have served him. Defendant said he had been at home 3½ hours before he went to the ENGINE to pay his club money – he did not ask for a drink, but before he had been there two seconds a man named Gavan set about him, he went outside, and he returned into the house for protection, when the officer arrived.

A witness spoke of defendant's sobriety at the time.

The case was adjourned for three months to see how defendant conducted himself, and he had to pay the costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction by Mr. A. C. Fraser Wood, FAI (Watkins, Powell & Wood), at the BRADFORD ARMS, Upper Bridge Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 20th day of September, 1910, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely (subject to Conditions to be then produced).....

Lot 2. The unexpired residue of the Lease of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, held by the representatives of the late Mr. J. E. Hennessy from Messrs. John Walker and others, on a repairing lease for a term of 21 years from the 23rd day of March, 1897, at an annual rental of £150.

The ENGINE INN is an old full-licensed house, now in the occupation of the above-named lessees, and contains: bar, smoke room, 2 kitchens, 5 rooms on first floor, cellar, yard and stable.

The trade of the house in ale, beer and other malt liquors and wines and spirits is tied to the lessors.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Mr. A. C. Fraser Wood, FAI, 28, Upper Bridge Street, Walsall; or to Messrs. C. & S. Loxton, Solicitors, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1911 Census

81, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Carnaby Ansdell (24), licensed victualler, born Cheltenham;

[2] Sarah Ansdell (28), wife, married 2 years, assisting in business, born Tipton;

[3] Hilda Ansdell (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Florence Kirkham (26), visitor, born Tipton;

[5] Gertrude Wilson (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1915 - Advert

“Barman Wanted at once; good references required.

Apply ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street. £1 2s 4d.”

South Staffordshire Times 25/2/1922

“At Staffordshire Assizes this week, Thomas Alfred Gough (30), licensed victualler, of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall, was charged with between the 17th December, 1910, and the 5th December, 1921, at Walsall, converting to his own use £116 18s, entrusted to him by Alice Wright, being the monies of the Female Gift and Friendly Society. According to the opening of Mr. J. Wylie, who prosecuted, Mrs. Wright was the secretary of the society, and accused’s wife was appointed treasurer. Accused seemed to have received all the money paid in with one or two exceptions, and when asked to account for the money not being available to pay out to the members, he told Mrs. Wright that he put it in a box, intending to put it later into the safe, but he forgot about it for eight days, and when he did go to put it in the safe, it was gone. Mrs. Wright, who lives at 8, Mountrath Street, Walsall, said that December 16th last was fixed for the distribution of the funds, and on the afternoon of that day Gough went to her house and said he had some bad news. He said he could not pay out that day, as the money had not come through the bank. He suggested that the members should be told this, and Gough wrote a notice and placed it on the smoke room door of the ENGINE INN, where the club was held, saying, ‘Sharing postponed until the 20th.’ Gough was found guilty and sentenced to six months hard labour.”

1939 Register

82, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Norman D. Tennant, date of birth 26/9/1905, licensed victualler, married:

Arthur Standley – see also CRITERION, and WHITE LION.

Walsall Observer 6/12/1941 - Advert

“Barman or Barmaid, week-ends; also Cleaner, daily.
Apply, ENGINE, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.
ENGINE, Wolverhampton Street. £1 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/2/1943

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ meeting on Thursday at the NEW INNS, Park Street was well attended.
Mr. T. H. Noake, of the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, was elected a member of the committee.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.
ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street. £2 7s 3d.”

William Ewart Mountford – see also CROWN, Bloxwich.

John Zenas Watts – see also SPURMAKERS ARMS.

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority in February 1966.

George Edward Franks – see also MALT SHOVEL.

ERIN GO BRAGH

4, Wolverhampton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Roper Archer [1860] – [1861]

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 18/5/1860

“Joseph Roper Archer, landlord of the ERIN GO BRAUGH, corner of Marsh Lane, Wolverhampton Street, was fined 5s and costs, for having had his house open at twenty minutes past twelve, on the morning of Sunday last.”

London Gazette 11/8/1860

“Whereas a Petition of Joseph Roper Archer, at present and for twelve months and upwards last past residing at Nos.4 and 5, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, and for about four months of the first part of that period being also a Chaser and Embosser, previously residing in Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Chaser and Embosser, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Roper Archer under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Roper Archer is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 8th of October next at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Joseph Roper Archer, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

FALCON

108, Lichfield Street / Walhouse Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John James Airston and his sister
Jane Airston, widow, 117, Lichfield Street, Walsall
P. J. J. Airston and others
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (leased) [1903], [1921]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Mrs. Maria Rennison [1871] – [1873];
Edward Machin [];
John James Anslow [1880] – [1881];
John Edwards [1884] – 1887);
Thomas Dennison (1887);
Sydney Robert Harvey (1887 – 1890);
Harry Hill (1890 – 1891);
Thomas Dennison (1891 – 1893);
Miss Agnes Rush (1893 – 1898);
Benjamin Astbury (1898 – 1900);
Frank Dewsbury (1900);
Albert George Johnson (1900 – 1903);
Albert Davis (1903 – 1906);
Charles Wrighton Newman (1906 – 1907);
Frederick James Westwood (1907 – 1909);
Harold Caldicott (1909 – 1910);
Charles William Garfield (1910);
Reginald Hugh ‘Reg’ Barlow (1910 – 1915);
Mrs. Ethel Eleanor (Stanley) Wells (1915 – 1920);
Henry Lewick (1920 – 1925);
Isaac Genders (1925 – 1926);
Thomas Henry Fenton (1926 – 1929);
Harry Worrall (1929 – 1937);
Mrs. Minnie Worrall (1937 – 1945);
Leonard Thomas Cox (1945 – 1947);
Allen Bertram Oakes (1947 – 1982):

NOTES

FALCON HOTEL

It had a billiards room.

1871 Census

108, Lichfield Street

- [1] Maria Rennison (62), widow, publican, born Gurnsey [Guernsey?];
- [2] Margaret Lightfoot (29), visitor, income from interest on money, born St. Helens;
- [3] William B. Hall (22), boarder, upholsterer, born Birmingham;
- [4] George Thomas (28), boarder, billiard marker, born Carmarthen:

1881 Census

108, Lichfield Street

- [1] John James Anslow (38), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Anslow (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Anslow (5), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 23/4/1881 - Advert

“To Let, genteel House, 107, Lichfield Street, 3 Bedrooms, Parlour, Sitting-room and Kitchen, &c.; and may be entered upon immediately.
Apply FALCON INN, or 105, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/12/1884 - Advert

“On Tuesday and Saturday evenings (Weekly), a Free and Easy Concert will be held at the FALCON HOTEL, Lichfield Street, Walsall, commencing at 7 o’clock.
John Edwards, Proprietor.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1885

“.....To be Sold by Auction by Mr. J. U. Fellows.....

The capital Old-licensed, Public House called the FALCON, situate at the corner of Lichfield Street and Walhouse Street, Walsall, now in the occupation of Mr. T. Edwards.....

Lichfield Street is one of the most important streets in the Borough, is partly bounded by the Arboretum, and is brought into easy connection with other districts by the new Tramway, the carriages on which pass the FALCON INN every half hour during the day.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1890

“The adjourned licensing session was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

In the adjourned case of the FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, the Chief Constable said he opposed the renewal at the licensing session on the complaints of the neighbours, but as these persons refused to repeat their complaints nothing remained for him but to withdraw the opposition. Mr. Jesse Herbert, who appeared for the applicant (instructed by Mr. Gillespie), said in that case he need not trouble the Bench with the excellent character with which he was prepared on behalf of his client.

The opposition to the renewal of the FALCON beerhouse, Lichfield Street, being withdrawn, the license was renewed, the occupier being warned as to the future conduct of the house.”

1891 Census

108, Lichfield Street – Public House – FALCON INN

- [1] Harry Hill (33), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Hill (40), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Mary J. Habberley (15), daughter, imbecile, born Brierley Hill;
- [4] Mary Habberley (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Harry Habberley (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] William Hill (2), son, born Walsall:

Harry Hill was fined 20s and costs, on 25th May 1891, for supplying constables with intoxicating liquor when on duty.

Walsall Advertiser 11/7/1896

“Henry Parkes, 19½, Lower Walhouse Street, was placed in the dock charged with having stolen sixpence from a till at the FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, the money of Agnes Rush, the landlady.

Lottie Frankham, domestic servant, said that on Tuesday morning she was cleaning the smoke room when she heard a noise in the vaults. She proceeded there, and saw prisoner handling the till. He had sixpence in his hand, and said he had only taken it for a lark. She then informed her mistress.

Prisoner said he ‘had had drink,’ and did not know what he was doing.

There being no previous conviction a fine of 5s and costs only, or seven days, was imposed.”

Frank Dewsbury – see also DOLPHIN.

Walsall Observer 28/4/1900 - Advert

“Wanted, respectable girl, about 16.
Apply FALCON INN, Lichfield Street.”

1901 Census

108, Lichfield Street

- [1] Albert G. Johnson (31), publican, born Manchester;
- [2] Lizzie Johnson (27), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Johnson (57), mother, widow, born London;
- [4] Ernest Johnson (29), brother, traveller – mineral water, born Dublin;
- [5] Nellie Johnson (26), sister, bridle stitcher, born Limerick, Ireland:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.
List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....
FALCON INN, Lichfield Street. 4s 1d.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1903 - Advert

“Walsall And District Hospital.
Workpeople’s Contributions.
Amount advertised last week ... £1,440 1s 1d
Employees of W. T. Lees, Builders, Darlaston ... £4 0s 0d
W. Thacker & Son, Fieldgate ... £2 10s 6d
Ceiling Collection at the FALCON INN, Lichfield Street (per Mr. Albert George Johnson) ... £1 13s 3d
Total ... £1,448 4s 10d
Total amount last year, £1,577 0s 11d
T. J. Hansor, Chairman of the Workpeople’s Collection Committee.
F. V. Hacket, Secretary ditto.
Ernest W. Llewellyn, Secretary of ditto.”

Albert Davis = Albert Davies

Frederick James Westwood – see also RAILWAY.

Walsall Advertiser 21/8/1909 - Notice

“Staffs. Yeomanry. The Walsall Troop will attend in the procession of the Saturday Lifeboat Fund to-day.
Parade at Headquarters, as below at 1.30. Full dress uniform and white gloves.
(Signed) H. Caldicott, Sergt, FALCON, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/10/1909 - Notice

“Walsall Troop Staffordshire Yeomanry.
The Annual Dinner and Smoking Concert of the above Troop will be held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street, Walsall, on Thursday, the 28th inst. The Squadron Officers will be present, and it is hoped that every member will do his utmost to make it a success. Tickets may be had at Troop Headquarters, or the Sergeants’ Mess of the 5th Battalion; or any Member of the Yeomanry. Tickets 3s 6d each.
Drills will commence on Tuesday Evening Next, at 8 o’clock, and will continue every Tuesday through the Winter months. Members to attend in Drill Order whenever possible.
(Signed) H. Caldicott, Sergeant.
Troop Headquarters: the FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1910

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....
Mr. Charles William Garfield, FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the society.”

1911 Census

108, Lichfield Street

- [1] Reginald Hugh Barlow (34), printing (letterpress), born Walsall;
- [2] Edith Florence Barlow (33), wife, married 10 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Beatrice Elizabeth Baker (22), relative, born Bilston;
- [4] Nellie Arthur (18), relative, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1912

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.....

There was an application for certain alterations at the FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, but Mr. H. H. Jackson asked that this matter should remain over until the adjourned Sessions, as more suitable plans would then be brought forward. The Rev. E. M. Durbin said that he would give notice that if the alterations would mean any more accommodation to the licensed premises, as a citizen and a resident of that district he would consider it his duty to oppose it.

Mr. Loxton: There is no application at present.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1912

“Mr. W. Bayliss presided at the adjourned Licensing session on Tuesday.....

On the application of Mr. H. H. Jackson the Bench agreed to plans for alterations to the FALCON INN, an ale-house, in Lichfield Street, to include in the licensed area part of an adjoining private house, at 1, Walhouse Street, for the purpose of an additional kitchen, scullery, bedroom and bathroom, and to make several internal alterations.....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1912 - Advert

“Fifth Annual Dog Show.

On Saturday, October 26, 1912, in the Skating Rink, Darwell Street.

Schedules ready October 10.

Further particulars from Reginald Barlow, FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/10/1913

“The Walsall and District Kennel Association has just completed the arrangements for their sixth annual show. This year (through the kindness of Lieutenant Colonel C. Fiddian Green) the show will be held in the Drill Hall, Whittimere Street, on Saturday, November 8th. Mr. Chris. Houliker, the celebrated judge of Accrington, had been engaged. There will be specialist judges for Great Danes and Airedales. The Birmingham Great Dane Club had thrown in their lot again this year and there is every reason to believe that the best collection of Great Danes to be seen anywhere in the Midlands will be at the Walsall Show. The catering will again be in the hands of Mr. Harry Stevens and the benching and feeding of the dogs will be carried out by Messrs. Spratts Patent Ltd. Any further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, Mr. Reg. H. Barlow, the FALCON, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/4/1915

“Whatever may be one’s opinion of the playing of professional football in war-time, there would be, it is safe to say no adverse criticism of a match played by the Walsall Early Closers last week. They visited Birmingham University and there played an enjoyable match with a team chosen from the Royal Army Medical Corps men, who are now tending the wounded soldiers in hospital there. For the ‘doctors’ it was a pleasant relaxation from a heavy round of hard and trying work, whilst the Walsall men were provided with a keen and sportsmanlike game, which resulted in a win for the ‘Closers’ by three goals to one.

A return match will be played next Thursday on the MALT SHOVEL ground, Birmingham Road, and afterwards there will be a gathering at the FALCON HOTEL, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FALCON INN, Lichfield Street. £1 2s 4d.”

Thomas Henry Fenton – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE.

1939 Register

108, Lichfield Street

[1] Minnie Worrall, date of birth 26/12/1875, licensed victualler, widowed:

Walsall Observer 3/8/1940

“A garden rubbish fire was responsible for the appearance of William Woodcock (58), charge hand, 25, Dartmouth Avenue, to a summons for a breach of the lighting restrictions, on the night of June 28. Seeing flames one foot or two feet high leaping from the fire, Police-constable Ballance investigated and found defendant standing at the back of his house. He was, he explained, on watch to put the fire out if any enemy aircraft appeared. ‘I am digging for victory and am anxious to keep the acre of land I cultivate in a hygienic condition,’ Woodcock told the court. In reference (presumably) to garden pilferers, he added: ‘I can assure you I have often to be on watch not for foreign invaders, but English invaders.’ A fine of 10s was imposed.

Two other black-out offenders, each fined 20s, were Minnie Worrall (64), licensee of the FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, and William Wise (24), 41, Brockhurst Street.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FALCON INN, Lichfield Street, £1 17s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FALCON INN, Lichfield Street. £1 3s 9d.”

Leonard Thomas Cox – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE.

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

It closed on 12th September 1982.

It was demolished.

FALCON

Portland Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle \(October 1902\)

“On an application being made by Mr. Bill for the sanction of the magistrates to alterations at the FALCON, Portland Street, the Mayor said the whole of the licensing question was being considered by the licensing justices, and they refused to sanction any alterations until the matter had been considered by the full licensing bench at the annual meeting.”

FARM

Little Bloxwich, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[1911]

FARMERS BOY

Barns Lane / Kings Road, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

It was refurbished in the late 1990s.

[2017]

FARRIERS ARMS

51, Dudley Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Whitticase [1855] – [1858]

Price Pennell [1859]

John Johnson [1860]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/3/1859

“A gentleman will be at Mr. Pennell's, the FARRIERS ARMS, Dudley Street, Walsall, on Tuesday next, between seven and ten pm, to match Samuel Wallace of Darlaston to run Reuben Craddock of Bloxwich half a mile on an enclosed ground, or Young Jones of Lye Waste a mile level, for £15 or £20 a side either match.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/11/1859 - Advert

“To Publicans, Brokers, and Others.

Sale at the FARRIERS ARMS, in Dudley Street, in the borough of Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. T. P. Stokes, on the premises as aforesaid, Tomorrow (Tuesday), November 8, all the Household Furniture, Stock of Ale and Spirits, Brewing Utensils, sweet iron-bound Casks, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above-named Public House and Premises, with the Fixtures, and other Articles and Effects, belonging to Mr. Price Pennell, under a bill of sale.

The sale to commence in the morning at ten o'clock.

The Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession will be put up at one o'clock at noon precisely.”

London Gazette 24/7/1860

“Whereas a Petition of John Whitticase, at present and for three weeks and six days last past residing in lodgings at No.81, Wisemore, in the Foreign of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, carrying on in Hall Lane, Walsall aforesaid, the trade of a Shoeing and Jobbing Smith, previously thereto and for two months residing in lodgings at No.112, Lower Forster Street, Walsall aforesaid, at the same time carrying on in Hall Lane, Walsall aforesaid, the trades aforesaid, previously thereto and for one year and about four months residing in Digbeth, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, previously thereto and for four years and upwards residing in Dudley Street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and during his residence at both the last mentioned places also carrying on in Hall Lane, Walsall aforesaid the trades of a Shoeing and Jobbing Smith, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said John Whitticase, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said John Whitticase is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 11th of August next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said John Whitticase, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignees of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/11/1860

“John Johnson, of the FARRIERS ARMS INN, Dudley Street, and Edward Page, beerseller, Green Lane, were each convicted of having kept their houses open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours on Sunday week. Fined 1s and costs.”

Check Town End Bank

FARRIERS ARMS

Town End Bank, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Roper [1845]

NOTES

Check Dudley Street

FIELDGATE TAVERN

25, (25a), New Street, (18, (25a), Field Gate), WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Cook, brush maker, St. Pauls Close, Walsall

Mrs. Cooper, New Street, Walsall

Ann Maud Wilkes

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Spink [1864] – 1892);

John William Spink (1892 – 1893);

Peter Cooper (1893 – 1895);

Mrs. Patience Cooper (1895 – 1899);

Abner Rushton (1899 – 1900);

William Woods (1900 – 1901);

Henry White (1901 – 1903);

John Kane (1903 – 1904);

John Sweeney (1904 – 1913);

Annie Wright (1913 – 1922);

Frank Ashwell (1922 – 1923);

John Kingdon (1923 – 1926):

NOTES

18, Field Gate [1871]

25a, Fieldgate [1881], [1891]

25a, New Street [1911]

25, New Street

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

It had a beerhouse license.

James Spink = James Spinks

James Spink, beer retailer, Fieldgate, New Street. [1868]

James Spinks, beer retailer, Fieldgate, New Street. [1864], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 1/7/1865

“James Spink, beerhouse keeper, Field Gate, was charged with having had his house open at twenty minutes to one o’clock on Saturday morning last. Police-constable Reynolds said he visited the house and heard some parties playing at cards, and, on going to the back door, saw three men and a woman in the passage, and in the yard another man and woman, the latter of whom had a jug containing malt liquor. On the kitchen table was a jug and a glass.

The defendant said that the parties were himself, his wife’s brother, a lodger and his wife, and the servant girl.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence of Police-constable Nutt, another witness, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 10s and costs.”

James Spink was also a cart hame maker. [1871]

1871 Census

18, Field Gate – Beerhouse

[1] James Spink (47), cart hame maker and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Ann Spink (50), wife, born Walsall;

[3] James Spink (14), son, cart hame maker, born Walsall;

[4] John W. Spink (12), son, caster, born Walsall;

[5] Clara Spink (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] David Spink (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Mary J. Spink (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Alice Spink (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[9] Elizabeth Jackson (13), servant, born Walsall:

James Spink, beer retailer, 25a, New Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1873 - Notice

“The committee of the Walsall Cottage Hospital beg to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions that have been received up to yesterday from the Licensed Victualler and beersellers.....

Mr. James Spink, FIELDGATE INN, 8s.”

1881 Census

25a, Field Gate

[1] James Spink (59), cased hame maker, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Spink (60), wife, born Walsall;

[3] David Spink (18), son, cased hame maker, born Walsall;

[4] Mary J. Spink (16), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Alice Spink (15), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Mary Ann Jones (2), adopted, born Walsall:

1891 Census

25a Fieldgate

[1] James Spink (68), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Mary A. Spink (66), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Clara A. Spink (30), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Mary A. Spink (12), niece, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1892

“Henry McCrudden (24), Hill Street, was charged with in custody with having stolen two herrings from Henry Evans (13), a boy employed by James Mannison, fish hawker, 22, Lower Rushall Street.

Complainant stated that he was selling bloaters in Ablewell Street, on Thursday afternoon, and saw the prisoner, who asked him for a penny. He replied that the money belonged to his master, and McCrudden thereupon coolly took two herrings out of basket, and went with them into the FIELDGATE TAVERN.

Prisoner now pleaded it was all a lark, and he knew Mr. Mannison as well as he knew the clerk himself.

Mr. Loxton: I hope that isn’t very much (laughter).

Prisoner added that the boy Evans gave him a small herring, and all he did was to put it in the basket, and take the biggest he could find. He was in beer at the time.

Prisoner was discharged, Mr. Newman remarking that there seemed to be a doubt in the case. He advised him, however, to be more careful in future.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/4/1893

“John William Spink, the FIELD GATE TAVERN, Field Gate, was summoned for selling ale during prohibited hours. Mr. T. H. Stanley defended. Police-constables Mason and Nicholls gave evidence to the effect that at about 10 minutes to 12 on the night of the 18th ult. they heard a noise as if a fight was going on in the house. They knocked twice or thrice at the front door, and, not being admitted, then went to the back. There they found a young man named Charles Priest lying on the ground and bleeding from the face, his brother William being on the floor in the passage, and also bleeding badly, and the landlord being in a chair. The defence was that the brothers were related to the landlord, and that one of them had been living in the house for some time, whilst the other had been invited to stay there that night. The magistrates, by a majority, dismissed the case, but they expressed an opinion that the conduct of the landlord was reprehensible in allowing two young men to get into such a state, and that the matter ought to be brought before the justices at the next licensing session.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/10/1893

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Sarah Spinks, formerly of the FIELDGATE TAVERN appeared by adjournment from a previous court charged with having deserted her children.

Mr. Barrows (Messrs. Crump and Barrows) appeared on behalf of the Children’s Protection Society, and contested a point raised last week – viz. that the father was the responsible person. He explained that both the parents absconded, the father leaving a few days after the mother, and argued that when the man left the responsibility reverted to the woman. If she had remained at home and done her duty towards the children they would not have been in the deplorable condition in which they were found by the society’s agent.

The magistrates, after some deliberation in private, dismissed the summons.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/12/1893

“John William Spink, 4, John Street, formerly keeper of the FIELDGATE TAVERN, New Street, was charged on a warrant with neglecting to maintain his four children.

Mr. W. L. Lewis prosecuted on behalf of the Guardians and stated that the prisoner first deserted his family in July last, when he was prosecuted by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and sentenced to two months’ imprisonment. Since serving this term he had been given every opportunity of amending his ways, but without effect, the children still remaining in the house. Mr. Lewis added that prisoner sold his public-house for a considerable sum of money, and when apprehended was in company with a female to whom he handed £17 and a watch.

Mr. Decker, relieving officer, gave evidence, and said he believed prisoner had £60 in his possession a month or two ago, the cost to the Guardians had been £25 10s.

Detective Williams said he arrested the prisoner in the NEW INNS, Park Street, when he (Spink) was in the company of a woman named Ellis.

Prisoner pleaded guilty, but said he was out of work.

The Magistrates committed him for a months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/5/1895

“The death of Peter Cooper (63), FIELDGATE TAVERN, took place on Tuesday evening. He felt a little unwell about 9pm, and went for a walk. On returning he retired to bed, and when his wife followed at eleven she found that he was in dying state. Dr. Phillips was sent for, but before he could arrive death took place.”

[A verdict of Death from Heart Disease was returned at the inquest.]

Mrs. Patience Cooper, beer retailer, 25a, New Street. [1896]

John Kane, beer retailer, 25a, New Street. [1904]

1911 Census

25a, New Street

- [1] John Sweeney (34), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Sweeney (31), wife, married 9 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Catherine Sweeney (9), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Nora Sweeney (6), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Sweeney (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] John Sweeney (1), son, born Walsall;
- [7] John Maloney (20), boarder, apprentice to legging making, born Walsall:

John Sweeney, beer retailer, 25a, New Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... FIELDGATE TAVERN, New Street. £0 17s 4d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/6/1926

“The Licensing Justices on Wednesday refused to renew the licenses of the FIELDGATE TAVERN, New Street and scheduled the houses for compensation.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson, for the owners of the FIELDGATE TAVERN, suggested that the license be renewed until next year, when it was probable that three other houses in the immediate neighbourhood would come before the justices.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority.

Compensation was paid on 23rd October 1926.

It closed on 30th October 1926.

It was demolished in 1929.

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKESPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

FIGHTING COCKS

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Gnosill [1841] – [1845]

NOTES

1841 Census

Blue Lane

[1] Henry Gnosill (40), iron dealer, born Staffordshire;

[2] Ann Gnosill (40), born Staffordshire;

[3] Maria Gnosill (5), born Staffordshire;

[4] Frederick Gnosill (5), born Staffordshire;

[5] Henry Gnosill (4), born Staffordshire;

[6] Ann Gnosill (1), born Staffordshire;

[7] Lueza Taylor (15), servant, born Staffordshire:

Henry Gnosill was also a dealer in iron and steel, and a shopkeeper. [1845]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 20/9/1846

“Thomas Darby and William Pearson. On Monday £2 a side more were put down, for the engagement between Darby and Pearson (alias Sack) at the FIGHTING COCKS, Blue Lane, Stafford Road; and a further deposit of £2 a side is to be made tomorrow (Monday) at Archer’s the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

FIRST AND LAST

New Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Sarah Ann Green [1868]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 19/2/1868

“Sarah Ann Green, landlady of the FIRST AND LAST beerhouse, New Street, Bloxwich, was charged with having her house open for the sale of beer at half-past eleven on Monday night, the 7th instant. Police-constable Acton said he visited the house at the time in question, and found four men in the tap-room playing cards, and on going up stairs he found the club-room full of men and women.

The defendant, who failed to appear, and who had been previously convicted, was fined £1 and costs.”

FITTERS ARMS

20, (19), Hatherton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

David Broadhurst, 18, Hatherton Street, Walsall

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1897]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Lees [1856] – 1861);

William Read (1861);

James Whittall (1861 – [1870]

Daniel Smith [1871] – [1873];

David Broadhurst [];

George Smith [1881];

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith (1891 – 189_); [1892]

Joseph Butler (189_ [1893] – 1897);

William Homer Reynolds (1897 – 1898);

Edgar Jeffries (1898 – 1902);

Thomas Pedley (1902 – 1904);

George Alfred ‘Alfred’ Merrall (1904 – 1908);

Thomas Henry ‘Harry’ Kertland (1908 – 1938);

William James Hawkeswood (1938 – 1939);

Sidney Statham King (1939 – 1967);

William Amos Griffiths (1967 – []

Jean Elizabeth McGee [2007]

NOTES

20, Hatherton Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1901], [1908], [1932], [1939], [1940]

19, Hatherton Street [1871]

FITTERS ARMS [1868]

ENGINEERS ARMS [1871]

GAS FITTERS ARMS [1873]

Walsall Free Press 22/11/1856

“A meeting of the Ratepayers Protection Society was convened on Thursday evening at the house of Mr. Lees, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.....”

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....

John Lees, Hatherton Street. Granted.”

John Lees was also an engineer. [1861]

He was described as a manufacturer of engines, planing machines &c. in 1861.

1861 Census

20, Hatherton Street – FITTERS ARMS

[1] John Lees (48), engineer and victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Rhoda Lees (46), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Isabella Lees (20), daughter, born Birmingham;

[4] Henry Lees (15), son, engineer, born Walsall;

[5] Ellen Lees (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

William Read = William Reid = William Reed = William Head = Ham Read

Walsall Free Press 17/8/1861 - Advert

“FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall.

William Read, Proprietor, successor to Mr. John Lees.

Mr. R. respectfully announces to the inhabitants of Walsall and its vicinity that, having had twenty years experience in business, he is enabled to practically assure them that every article vended by him at the above establishment shall be of the best quality, and confidently solicits a trial.

All kinds of foreign Wines and Spirits, Irish and Scotch Whiskey. Fine home-brewed and Burton Ales, and Dublin Stout, on draught, bottles, or in casks for family consumption. Chops and Steaks on the shortest notice. Good Beds.

Capital quoit ground and skittle alley. Coffee always ready at five o'clock in the morning.”

Walsall Free Press 7/9/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Day. Mr. Ebsworth renewed his appeal on behalf of Mr. Reed, who desired to become transferee of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, went over the circumstances of the case as reported in our last week's impression, showed that his client was a man of good character, that he had kept the Cherry Tree, in Birmingham, for a period of eleven years with credit and respectability, and that the officious interference of the police, and any imputations on his character they had attempted to throw upon the character of the applicant were uncalled for, and trivial.

The deposition made by Mr. Reed on the last occasion were repeated. He again asserted that he could not distinctly remember that he had been before the magistrates of Birmingham more than twice.

Mr. Carter then stated that he had been to Birmingham since this case had last been before the Bench, and found the following records against Mr. Reed, in the police book there: August 11th 1855, fined 1s and costs for keeping open after proper hours, August 30th 1857, unlawfully open, fined 1s and costs, March 27th 1859, card playing in house, fined 1s and costs, October 11th 1859 unlawfully open, fined 1s and costs.

Mr. Ebsworth pointed out that Mr. Reed's account of himself and his residence at Birmingham were perfectly correct. He admitted he had been some twice – and it might have been more – before the magistrates, in the course of eleven years occupancy of a licensed house. He (Mr. Ebsworth) thought the Bench would agree with him when he said what the police had produced against Mr. Reed ought not to affect the transfer of the FITTERS ARMS to him for a single hour. He had – in the course of eleven years – been fined four times, in the smallest possible penalties and for the most trivial offences, and it would indeed be hard if his reputation as a public-house keeper was left under a cloud of suspicion, by the transfer he sought being refused. He made arrangements for that transfer, confident his good character would secure it; and laid out something like £170 on account of it, but at the eleventh hour the police step in, impugn his character in some mysterious way, of which he (Mr. Ebsworth) and his client were kept in ignorance, have nothing worse against Mr. Reed than four paltry convictions just mentioned.

The Bench after some deliberation said that although Mr. Reed's character was not all they could wish, yet, as he had considerable expenses, they would grant the transfer. Mr. Reed was also cautioned as to the way in which he should conduct the FITTERS ARMS.

Mr. Reed (who seemed somewhat affected) said that he had always endeavoured, honestly and heartily, to conduct the business properly, and he could only say that when the magistrates found him doing otherwise he hoped they would deprive him of his license on the following licensing day.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/9/1861

“At the Public Office, yesterday, before J. Solley and J. Haines, Esqs., Mr. Reid, victualler, keeping the FITTERS ARMS INN, Walsall, charged John Sutcliff with having robbed him. Mr. Ebsworth appeared to prosecute, and Mr. Bayley was instructed for the defence.

From the address of Mr. Ebsworth it appeared that the prosecutor was conveyed ‘accidentally’ to Wednesbury wake on Tuesday last; that finding himself there he thought he might as well stay on an hour and enjoy himself, and having done so until the last train had departed he prepared to walk back to Walsall. He, however, changed his mind, fancying some danger from two men who were following him; so he turned back and decided to pass the night in Wednesbury. He tried all respectable inns in the town, but they were full, and he failed to get a bed in any of them, and ultimately he decided, upon invitation, to pass the night in a house near to the BELL INN. He went into the house, where he saw the prisoner and a woman. He sent for some rum, and the woman drank thereof, and became in such a state that she fell asleep in a chair. Prosecutor fell asleep also in another chair, and when he awoke some time afterwards, he discovered that the contents of his pockets had been taken possession of. This was just the statement made by the advocate for the prosecution, who, on being asked if he could carry the case further, said he could not. The Bench then said there was nothing for them to try, and therefore the prisoner must be discharged. Mr. Bayley intimated that ulterior proceedings would be taken.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/11/1861

“William Head [sic] landlord of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, was brought up in custody charged with an aggravated assault on Edwin Coates, on the night of Saturday last. Mr. Moore appeared for the complainant. Mr. Ebsworth, who represented the prisoner, directed the attention of the magistrates to what he termed a most improper course which had been taken in this case. The defendant had been apprehended on a warrant of Mr. Cater, the superintendent of police had filled up on an oath of some person, and which had been handed to a magistrate for signature. Mr. Ebsworth contended that such a proceeding was fraught with danger, and that all warrants should emanate from a magistrates’ clerk. He further complained that his client had been locked up during the whole of the night, and Oerton quite agreed with all that he been said by Mr. Ebsworth, and although he had the highest opinion of Mr. Cater as a police officer, yet he thought he had not acted with his usual discretion. He considered the practice adopted to be bad, and hoped that all warrants, summons, &c, would be in future be filled up only by magistrates’ clerk or his deputy.

Mr. Cater said he did not consider that he had been guilty of any impropriety in connection with the case. The brother of the complainant came on Sunday to his private dwelling-house and stated that complainant had been struck with a life-preserver on the head by the prisoner, and produced a certificate signed by Mr. Whympier, surgeon, that he was in considerable danger from the effects of the wound. He at once accompanied the brother to complainants’ house, and saw he was suffering from severe injuries; and having ascertained from complainant the nature of the case, he took what he deemed a safe course, and having blank forms in his office, kindly supplied to him by the Magistrates’ Clerk for his assistance in urgent cases, filled up the warrant, which was signed by J. B. Anderson, Esq, one of the borough magistrates. The assault was of an aggravated nature, and the Act of Parliament gave full power to apprehend without a warrant, but the safest course had been adopted to put the law in motion. The prisoner was remanded until Monday next, bail being taken for his appearance.”

[The Bench finally dismissed the case.]

Walsall Free Press 30/11/1861

“Mr. Whitall, formerly keeper of the IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street, applied that the license of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, should be transferred from William Reed, to him. The police gave the applicant a good character, and the transfer was granted.”

London Gazette 31/12/1861

“Ham Read (known, sued, and trading as William Read) of No.27, Balsall-street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, out of business and employment, in lodgings, late of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 14th day of January next, at one o’clock in the afternoon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Messrs. East and Parry, of Birmingham, are the Solicitors acting in the bankruptcy.”

Walsall Free Press 4/1/1862

“Guildhall Police Court. Monday. The license of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, was transferred from William Read to James Whittall. Some months ago a temporary permission to manage the FITTERS ARMS was granted by the magistrates to Mr. Whittall, and the transfer was formally made out on the present occasion. Mr. Whittall kept a beerhouse in Stafford Street for more than two years, and was well spoken of by the police.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/2/1862

“In Re Ham alias William Read, formerly innkeeper, of the FITTERS ARMS Hatherton Street, and previously of Birmingham, beerhouse keeper. This was a meeting for last examination, and order of discharge. Mr. Duignan supported the bankrupt, and Mr. Barnett, jun., opposed on behalf of creditors, on the grounds of fraudulent preference, vexatious defence to an action at law, and the existence of debts exceeding £300. The bankrupt having been briefly examined upon these points, it was deemed by the Court necessary to have an adjournment until the second Court day of March.”

Walsall Free Press 31/5/1862 - Advert

“Ancient Order of Foresters’ Friendly Society.

Registered pursuant to Act of Parliament.

The Lord Hatherton Court, No.3887, of the above Order meets at the house of Mr. James Whitall, the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.

Any person desiring to become a member may obtain every information by applying to the host.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o'clock precisely.
Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Whittall, FITTERS ARMS."

James Whittall – see also IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street, and THREE CUPS.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/8/1868

"Walsall. The FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.
This House, known to be one of the best in the Town, is to be Let, with immediate possession.
Apply on the Premises; or to G. Bayley, auctioneer, Walsall."

Daniel Smith was also an engineer. [1871]

1871 Census

19, Hatherton Street
[1] Daniel Smith (30), licensed victualler, born Gloucester;
[2] Mary A. Smith (36), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Sarah A. Taylor (18), step daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Sophia Taylor (13), step daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Harriet Taylor (5), step daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Florence Smith (5 months), daughter, born Walsall;
[7] Mary Hall (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Walsall Free Press 25/11/1871

"Yesterday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq., coroner for the borough, held a n inquest at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, on the body of Louisa, wife of Charles Acton, packer, Albert Terrace, Teddesley Street, who went to bed in her usual health on Wednesday night, and died about ten o'clock on Thursday morning. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/3/1873

"The following meetings of creditors have been held during the past week.
Daniel Smith, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, at the office of Mr. Glover. The statement of accounts showed: Liabilities, £771 14s; assets, £210 17s. An offer of 2s in the pound, unsecured, was rejected, and a resolution passed to liquidate the estate, Mr. J. F. Watkins being appointed trustee."

Walsall Free Press 27/12/1873

"Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. Daniel Smith, GAS FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, for a special license for the whole of the night of the 31st inst, on the occasion of the Odd Fellows' Ball, to be held in the Agricultural Hall. The application was granted."

1881 Census

Hatherton Street – FITTERS ARMS
[1] George Smith (57), licensed victualler, born Sowe, Warwickshire;
[2] Elizabeth Smith (47), wife, born Coleshill, Warwickshire;
[3] Emma Smith (25), daughter, born Coleshill, Warwickshire;
[4] Mary Ann Smith (23), daughter, born Sutton Coldfield;
[5] Phoebe Smith (20), daughter, born Walsall;
[6] Samuel F. Smith (19), son, born Walsall;
[7] Ellen Smith (16), daughter, born Walsall;
[8] Elizabeth G. Smith (14), daughter, born Walsall;
[9] Clara Smith (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[10] George Smith (10), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Evening Express 28/6/1881

"Walsall Amateur Florists' Society. There was a good attendance of members at an adjourned meeting of this society, held at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall, on Monday evening. The Secretary pro tem reported that he had not yet received the books and moneys belonging to the society from the late secretary, who promised to forward them at the end of last week. A lengthened conversation ensued, during which it was stated that there was a desire on the part of some persons to see the Florists' and the Horticultural Societies amalgamated, and it was believed that the books were being detained in the hope that such union would be thereby effected. It was unanimously resolved that until put in possession of their property the members felt they were not in a position to entertain any overtures for amalgamation. It was further resolved to hold a flower show early in the autumn of the present year."

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1881 - Advert

"Walsall Amateur Florist Society.
A Meeting of the above Society will be held at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, at 2 o'clock. on Monday Next; Thursday,

RED LION, Bloxwich Road; Friday, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey.

Any person desiring to tender for Refreshments, please send tender in by 6 o'clock on Monday next, August 22nd, to the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.

H. C. Bowen, Hon. Sec."

Walsall Observer 3/1/1885

"Inquests in Walsall by T. H. Stanley, borough coroner On Tuesday last, at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, on the body of Eleanor Bell, two and a half years old, whose parents reside at 111, Hatherton Street. The evidence showed that the deceased was climbing on the fireguard on the 23rd December, and fell over, striking her head on the fender and dragging over on to her a kettle of hot water. The injuries did not appear to be serious, and deceased was not taken to Dr. Shore until the 26th. He attended to her, but she died on Saturday. Deceased was a weakly child, and had two fits after the accident. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Walsall Advertiser 10/12/1889

"Walsall Florist Society. A general meeting of this society was on Monday evening, 2nd inst, at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Mr. A. Thompson presiding....."

1891 Census

20, Hatherton Street

[1] Elizabeth Smith (58), widow, victualler, born Coleshill, Warwickshire;

[2] Ellen Smith (27), daughter, domestic servant, born Walsall;

[3] Clara Smith (23), daughter, domestic servant, born Walsall;

[4] George Smith (20), son, born Walsall;

[5] Ellen Smith (4), niece, born Walsall;

[6] Ann Steed (22), domestic servant, born Willenhall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1894

"Ritchie Lodge. The Lodge hitherto met fortnightly, at the BUTTS INN. It has, however, been decided that in future the meetings shall be held weekly, alternatively at the BUTTS INN, and the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. The first meeting at the latter hostelry was held on Tuesday evening, when between 40 and 50 of the brethren sat down under the presidency of Mr. G. White, W.M. Host Butler gave the Lodge a cordial welcome, and declared his intention of doing all that he could to make it a success. It was arranged that on Tuesday week a supper should be held. Several new members were initiated and a most successful and enjoyable evening was spent."

Walsall Advertiser 31/3/1894

"Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for a music and singing license for Mr. Joseph Butler, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, on Tuesdays, from 7.30 to 10.30 on the occasions of the meetings of the Ritchie Lodge of the Staffordshire Conservative League. Granted."

Walsall Advertiser 16/3/1895

"Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Joseph Butler, FITTERS ARMS INN, Hatherton Street....."

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1897 - Advert

"FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall.

Unreserved Sale by Auction of Capital Brewing Plant, Comprising Iron Boiler, to hold 150 gallons; Fermenting Vat, Mash Tub, two Collecting Vats, with refrigerator and piping; three Tubs, Wort Sprout, mash Rule, one 90 gallon Cask, two 70 gallon Casks, two 36 gallon Casks, a 4-pull Beer Engine, with piping and other utensils; also 19 Pockets of Prime Hops (cost £145, consisting of Worcestershire, Sussex, Surrey, Hereford, and Seven Oaks).

Walter Hughes is instructed by Messrs. Butler and Co. Limited, Wolverhampton, to Sell by Auction upon the Premises as above, on Wednesday Next, 3rd March, 1897, commencing at half-past Two o'clock prompt.

On View morning of the sale from 9am.

Catalogues may be obtained from place of Sale, or from Auction Offices, St. Paul's Buildings, The Bridge, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

"William Reynolds, landlord of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, was charged with selling liquor during prohibited hours, and also with allowing gaming on his premises; and Harry Ladbury, carpenter, Butts Street, and Ernest Dewey, South Street, potman, were charged with being on licensed premises during prohibited hours and aiding and abetting the gaming. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

On the 19th of December (Sunday), at 11.55, Police-sergeant Marshall and Police-constable Woolley were on duty in Hatherton Street, when they noticed a light in the passage of the FITTERS ARMS. They went behind, and were able to see between the window blind and the wall, there being a space of three inches. They saw Harry Ladbury with his face to the window, shuffling some cards; he had money on the table beside him, both silver and copper, and also a glass containing liquor. They saw the back of a second man, and the side of a third man. The sergeant instructed the constable to remain behind, whilst he went round the front. He knocked several times, and heard a shuffling of men in the passage, but it was not until he had knocked six times that defendant came to the door. When he went into the house he was surprised to see Woolley in the passage. He asked defendant how he accounted for the men being in the house. He replied, 'I asked Mr. Ladbury to stay as a friend, and the other man works for me, and nobody had paid for anything.' The other man was Ernest Dewey, of 37, South Street. The sergeant said, 'I have seen card-playing for money,' and he replied, 'There has been no card-playing at all.' The sergeant said, 'I wish to be fair with you; I have seen Ladbury dealing cards out, and seen money on the table.' Reynolds said, 'How could you see?' Witness replied 'By the side of the window outside; you come outside and I will show you.' Reynolds came outside, and then said, 'What are you going to do?' Witness replied, 'Report it.' There were two porter glasses on the table, two porter bottles, and one small glass and a jug. There were two packs of cards between the ornaments on the mantelpiece. Whilst watching them play cards he heard Ladbury say 'That's sixpence.' That was all he heard as they were playing a very quiet game.

Police-constable Woolley corroborated the sergeant as to seeing the card-playing. When he heard the sergeant knocking at the front door, he saw the men who were round the table get up. Ladbury scooped the money that was in front of him on the table, and put it in his pocket. He also saw him raise a glass and drink the contents. Presently the back door opened, and Ladbury ran down the steps. Witness put his lamp in his face, and told him to stop, but as he was going away witness got hold of him and said, 'You must come back with me.' Ladbury said, 'It's all right, go on, go on.' They went into the house, and he heard someone say, 'And you'll be my friend, Harry, see?' He said to Mr. Reynolds, 'Go and open the door Mr. Reynolds, the sergeant's knocking.' He replied, 'I thought you were knocking at the back.'

In defence, Mr. Jackson said Dewey was employed on the premises every day, and he also had supper each night. Ladbury was an old school friend of Mr. Reynolds, and was also invited to supper that night. There was an absolute denial that there was any card-playing in the house at the time in question, or that there was any money on the table. Defendant had been in the trade ten years in the borough and this was the first complaint there had been.

Defendant was then called. He said that on the night in question he had been to a Buffalo Lodge at the NEW INNS, and left at ten o'clock. Near the STORK he met Ladbury and asked him to go and have his supper. Dewey was employed every day, including Sunday. They got supper over by about a quarter past eleven, and no drinks were paid for. Dewey never paid for anything he had in the house.

Cross-examined by the Chief Constable, defendant denied that Mr. Lancaster went upstairs or that he was in the house at the time. There were no cards or money on the table. Mrs. Reynolds had gone to bed. The back door was opened first because he heard knocking there.

Ernest Dewey corroborated defendant's evidence. There had been a new gate put up since the affair, and the police could not get to the back now, unless they got over the top, and spikes had been put on the top of the new gate. A man named Lancaster was not in the house that night and did not go upstairs.

Harry Ladbury, 20, Butts Road, was next called. He was invited to go into the house by Reynolds to have supper and did so. He paid for no drinks, there was no card-playing, and he had no money on the table. He did not try to run away or have a tussle with the officer outside. He went on to the step for the purpose of going out, but when he saw the constable he went back.

The Bench retired to consider their verdict, and on returning the chairman said that in the first case the charge of selling during prohibited hours would be dismissed. In the second case against Reynolds, for gaming, he would be fined 40s and costs. The charges of being on licensed premises against Ladbury and Dewey would be dismissed, but for aiding and abetting gaming they would be fined 10s each and the costs."

[The Mysterious Case of Mr. Lancaster!]

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

"The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

Since the 27th August, 1897, 5 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against, 4 of whom were convicted, viz.....

3rd January, William Reynolds, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, was fined 40s for permitting gaming on his licensed premises."

1901 Census

20, Hatherton Street

[1] Edgar Jeffries (53), widower, public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Clara Jeffries (24), daughter, born Walsall;

[3] Annie Jeffries (18), daughter, tailor machinist, born Walsall;

[4] Elizabeth Sharp (57), boarder, widow, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/7/1902 - Deaths

"Jeffries. On the 7th inst., Edgar Jeffries, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, aged 55 years."

Walsall Advertiser 19/7/1902 - Notice

"Re Edgar Jeffries, Deceased.

All persons having Claims or Demands against the Estate of Edgar Jeffries, of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall, Licensed Victualler, deceased, who died on the 7th day of July, 1902, are requested to Send Particulars Thereof to me, the undersigned, not later than the 26th inst; and all Persons owing Money to the Estate are requested to pay the same to me forthwith.

Dated the 18th day of July, 1902.

James Armstrong, Bank Buildings, Bridge Street, Walsall. Solicitors for the Executors."

Thomas Pedley – see also WOOLPACK.

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....
FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. 3s 9d.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4], [1905/6], [1906/7]

Walsall Advertiser 3/10/1908

“The following licenses were transferred.....

Temporary authorities were granted to.....

Thomas Henry Kertland, FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.....

With regard to the temporary transfer of the license of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, the manager, Mr. Alfred Merrall, in answer to a question by Sir Edward Holden, said the reason he was he was leaving was because he was tired of the district, and should leave the town. He thought of applying for a tenancy in another district. Granted.”

1911 Census

20, Hatherton Street – FITTERS ARMS

- [1] Thomas Henry Kertland (42), public house manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Clara Ann Kertland (34), wife, married 8 years, assists in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Violet Kertland (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Edgar Kertland (6), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah Dobbins (22), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. £0 14s 4d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/7/1935

“William Ferns, 18, Duncalfe Street, was summoned on Monday, for assaulting Thomas Harry Kertland, licensee of the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, on June 29. Mr. H. H. Jackson, who prosecuted, said as Mr. Kertland was clearing the glasses in the bar at 10pm, he was touched on the arm, and when he turned round the defendant struck him a violent blow and rendered him unconscious. Defendant expressed his sorrow to the Bench, and admitted he had been led into it by others. In view of the prosecutor’s plea the Bench fined the defendant 10/-, but warned him not to offend again.”

1939 Register

20, Hatherton Street

- [1] Sidney S. King, date of birth 28/4/1896, public house manager, married;
- [2] Elizabeth (Ruth) King, dob 16/2/1900, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [4] William H. Mellor, dob 15/2/1898, (ex) public house manager, married:

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. £26 19s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/4/1944 - Acknowledgments

“The Family of the late Mrs. A. Robinson wish to thank the Doctor and Nurse (VNI); also Relatives, Friends and neighbours of Cambridge Street, Staff of Employment Exchange, Mr. and Mrs. King and Customers of FITTERS ARMS for floral tributes and sympathy shown in their sad loss.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall.”

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn Quiz competition. [1974/5]

[2007]

Closed [2009]

It was demolished in 2012.

FLITCH OF BACON

57, (55), Wolverhampton Street, (57, Wolverhampton Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Charles Butler
Rowland Higgins
Charles Beebee
Joseph Steadman, Bescot, Walsall
Arthur Lowbridge
J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.
Old Wolverhampton Breweries Co. Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd. (leased) [1922]

LICENSEES

John Pagett [1861] – [1862]
Charles Butler [1864] – [1872];
Rowland Higgins [1881];
Edward Nightingale Butler [1888] – 1889;
Emma Jane Butler (1889 – 1890);
Albert Lowbridge (1890 – 1891);
Thomas Lloyd (1891 – 1906);
John Edward Buckley (1906 – 1907);
Charles Worley (1907 – 1910);
Mrs. Emma Lloyd (1910 – 1922):

NOTES

57, Wolverhampton Road [1861], [1862]
55, Wolverhampton Street [1872]
57, Wolverhampton Street [1871], [1891], [1901], [1904]

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

57, Wolverhampton Road – FLITCH OF BACON TAVERN
[1] John Pagett (32), butter dealer, born Walsall;
[2] Mary Pagett (33), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Richard Pagett (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] Joseph Pagett (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Mary Brown (22), servant, born Ireland;
[6] Thomas Poxson (22), manservant, born Lockington, Leicestershire:

John Pagett, retailer of beer, 57, Wolverhampton Road. [1862]

Charles Butler, beer retailer, 57, Wolverhampton Road. [1864], [1865], [1868]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/2/1868

“Machett of Birmingham and Brettle of Bilston. These men have to make their final deposit good to the stakeholder, Mr. Butler, FLITCH OF BACON, Walsall, this (Saturday) evening between eight and ten o’clock, and choose referee and place of meeting for their match at catch weight, for £10 a side. The whereabouts can be known as above, and at J. Dane’s, Red Rover, Bridge Street West, Birmingham.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/10/1868

“Charley Skeyte of Walsall will fight Tom Price of Manchester, or Rough of Wolverhampton, or any man in Staffordshire at catch weight, for £10 up to £25 a side. Money ready at C. Butler’s, FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870

“Charles Butler, landlord of the FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street, pleaded guilty to having had his house open for the sale of cider, on the morning of Sunday last, during prohibited hours, but was dismissed on paying costs.”

1871 Census

57, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Charles Butler (47), beerhouse keeper, born Aldridge;
- [2] Elizabeth Butler (57), wife, born Aldridge;
- [3] James Smith (71), boarder, past work was bit maker, born Walsall:

Edward Nightingale Butler was the son of Thomas Butler, farmer.

Edward Nightingale Butler (30), bachelor, grocer, married Emma Jane Chaplin (21), spinster, on 28th November 1888 at St. Peter's church, Walsall.

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1888

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the COTTAGE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall, touching the death of Edward Nightingale Butler (30), keeper of the FLITCH OF BACON beerhouse, whose lifeless body was found on Sunday morning under circumstances already reported. Mr. T. H. Evans represented the sister of the deceased, and Mr. Wilcock (Wolverhampton) his widow.

It appeared that the deceased was married last Wednesday, and on Friday morning he took his double-barrelled gun and went out, saying he would go to Bentley and shoot a kingfisher for his wife to wear, and would be back dinnertime. As he had not returned at dark information was given to the police, and searchers went out on Saturday morning, and scoured the country until Sunday morning, when, as one of them was about to get through a gap in the hedge of a field on the Willenhall Road, he saw deceased lying in a ditch on the other side, with one foot doubled under him, his gun at his feet, and the top of his skull blown off, his brains being scattered about. The ground bore marks showing that his foot had slipped, and the supposition was his hand or a bramble caught the trigger of his gun at the same moment, and caused the discharge of one barrel. The gun was rusted from exposure to the atmosphere, and the trigger of one barrel, which contained an empty cartridge case, was down, the trigger of the other barrel being at full cock. The deceased was said to be careless in the use of his gun.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1891 Census

57, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Albert Lowbridge (37), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Sophia Lowbridge (35), wife, born Cottingham, Staffordshire;
- [3] Joseph Lowbridge (13), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Ada Lowbridge (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Rowland Lowbridge (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mark Lowbridge (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Florey Lowbridge (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Albert Lowbridge, beer retailer, 57, Wolverhampton Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1898

“The second meeting in connection with the Walsall Unity Football Club was held on Wednesday evening at the FLITCH OF BACON INN, Wolverhampton Street, when there was again a large attendance. The chief items of interest were the election of president, treasurer, and secretary. Mr. John Lord, jun, was unanimously elected as president, Mr. E. Ford as treasurer, and Mr. Theo. Simpson as hon. secretary. The new headquarters of the club will be the FOUR CROSSES HOTEL, Birchills, which is close to the ground. Mr. W. Rollins, of the Walsall Association, gave a few well chosen remarks regarding the old club and the new which were much appreciated. The next meeting will be held at the new headquarters on Monday evening, May 23rd.”

Walsall Observer 15/9/1900

“A supper and smoking concert was held at the FLITCH OF BACON INN, on Tuesday last, when upwards of 25 sat down to a capital repast. After doing justice to the good things provided, the cloth was drawn, and Mr. W. Boys was elected chairman, and Mr. T. Jones vice-chair.....”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1900

“A supper and smoking concert was held at the FLITCH OF BACON on Monday last, when upwards of 25 sat down to an excellent repast.....”

1901 Census

57, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Thomas Lloyd (47), tavern keeper, born West Bromwich;

- [2] Emma Lloyd (47), wife, born Willinhall;
- [3] Mary J. Lloyd (26), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Lloyd (18), son, labourer (Iron Tube Works), born Walsall;
- [5] Alice Lloyd (14), daughter, born Walsall:

Thomas Lloyd, beer retailer, 57, Wolverhampton Street. [1904]

He was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Thomas Lloyd, FLITCH OF BACON."

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1904

"Thomas Lloyd, FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street, appeared to answer a charge of permitting drunkenness on Saturday, the 2nd inst. Inspector Pritchard was passing the house when he was called in. An altercation was going on, a drunken man named Turner quarrelling about some money he said he had given as a bet in the house. This case was dismissed, as the man had not been served and the landlord had asked him to leave."

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall."

1911 Census

57, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Emma Lloyd (54), widow, publican, born Willenhall;
- [2] Mary Jane Holt (35), daughter, married, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Lloyd (11), grandson, born Walsall:

Mrs. Emma Lloyd, beer retailer, 57, Wolverhampton Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street. £1 10s 0d."

Walsall Observer 2/11/1918 - Roll Of Honour

"Mrs. Lloyd, FLITCH OF BACON INN, Walsall, wishes to thank all enquiring friends for their kindness and sympathy in her sad bereavement."

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 2nd March 1922.

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

"Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd."

Compensation was paid on 29th September 1922.

It closed on 15th October 1922.

Walsall Observer 29/11/1924

"The ten freehold dwelling houses and also the delicensed FLITCH OF BACON, leasehold, 57, Wolverhampton Road, have been sold by private treaty during the past week by Messrs. Fox and Harrison....."

FORESTERS ARMS

4, Proffitt Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Hadley [pre 1869]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 30/5/1868 - Advert

“FORESTERS ARMS, Proffitt Street, Ryecroft.

To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately. The above old established Beer-house has formerly done a fair amount of business. The present proprietor giving up through other engagements. The Fixtures, which are all new, can be taken to at a valuation or not.

For further particulars and to treat, apply to Mr. Fox, Appraiser and House Agent, 58, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.”

London Gazette 24/12/1869

“Joseph Hadley, of No.61, James-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Bridle Bit Maker, previously thereto of the FORESTERS ARMS, No.4, Proffit-street, Walsall, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, previously thereto of the MINERS ARMS, Leamore-lane, Bloxwich, in the said county of Stafford, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, and previously thereto of the UNION INN, Bloxwich aforesaid, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 23rd of November, 1869, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination and make application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall, on the 25th day of January next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Abraham Baker, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

FORGE

Watsons Lane, The Wood, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1910]

LICENSEES

Richard Sherratt [1861] – [1881]

Benjamin Stevens [1890] – [1891]

James Ward [1896] – [1901]

Thomas Smith [1902] – [1904]

Mary Ann Smith [1903]

George Stretton [1904]

William Hendley [] – 1906;

John Horan (1906 – [1910])

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Richard Sherratt = Richard Sherrett

1861 Census

Pelsall Wood

- [1] Richard Sherrett (25), brewer, born Lichfield;
- [2] Sarah Sherrett (31), wife, born Chatwell, Staffordshire;
- [3] William Sherrett (3 months), son, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county.....

Other victuallers had their certificates for renewal granted, after which the Bench disposed of new applications.....

Richard Sherratt, beerhouse keeper, Pelsall. Refused.”

1871 Census

Pelsall Wood – FORGE INN

- [1] Richard Sherrett (35), brewer and beerhouse keeper, born Lichfield;
 - [2] Sarah Sherrett (42), wife, born Shropshire;
 - [3] Thomas Sherrett (13), son, born Pelsall;
 - [4] William Sherrett (10), son, born Pelsall;
 - [5] Richard Sherrett (8), son, born Pelsall;
 - [6] Sarah Sherrett (5), daughter, born Pelsall;
 - [7] Marther Sherrett (3), daughter, born Lappleley [Lapley], Staffordshire;
 - [8] John Price (70), wife’s father, widower, labourer at coal pits, born Lappleley [Lapley], Staffordshire;
 - [9] William W. Sherrett (18), nephew, clerk, born Lappleley [Lapley], Staffordshire:
- [Lappleley is possibly Lapley, about 7 miles SSW of Stafford.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/5/1873

“Disputed Liability. Sherratt v. Bromwich.

The plaintiff, the keeper of the FORGE INN, Pelsall, sued the defendant, a surveyor, living at Birmingham, for £13 10s for board, lodgings and refreshment, supplied to three of the defendant’s assistants, Thos. Johnson, Benj. Thornton, and Alfred Hickman, who were engaged for the defendant in making a survey of a part of the property of Messrs. Bloomer, at Pelsall, from the 29th of November last till January 25th, and who stopped at the plaintiff’s house. The point in dispute was whether or not the defendant had guaranteed payment, which his Honour decided in the negative. The plaintiff was therefore nonsuited. Mr. Glover appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defendant.”

1881 Census

The Wood – FORGE INN

- [1] Richard Sherratt (45), beerhouse keeper, born Lichfield;
- [2] Emma Sherratt (52), wife, born Rochester, Kent;
- [3] William Sherratt (20), son, grocer’s assistant out of employ, born Pelsall;
- [4] Sarah Sherratt (15), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [5] Martha A. Sherratt (13), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall:

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

“The following publicans were granted one hour’s extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes Benjamin Stevens.”

1891 Census

The Wood – FORGE INN

- [1] Benjamin Stevens (33), publican, born Mount Pleasant, Worcestershire;
- [2] Harriett Stevens (29), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Clara Stevens (5), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [4] Jabez Stevens (4), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [5] Sarah J. Evans (17), general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1896

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society held on Thursday Mr. James Ward, FORGE INN, Pelsall Wood, Pelsall were elected members.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

FORGE, Pelsall Wood.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/2/1898

“On Monday, at the Rushall Police Court, James Ward, landlord of the FORGE INN, Pelsall Wood, was summoned for being drunk in charge of a horse and trap in the Lichfield Road, Rushall, on the 8th instant.

PC Lockley, who proved the case, said defendant was unable to take proper care of the vehicle owing to the state he was in. Defendant asked the magistrates to allow him to pay something into the poor box rather than be fined, but the Bench declined to accede to his request and fined him 1s and 9s costs.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1900

“On Tuesday morning the County Coroner, Mr. H. A. Pearson, held an inquest at the RED LION, Walsall Wood, on the body of John Henry Rowbotham, colliery and commission agent, of 88, Corporation Street, who was found dead in the Birmingham Canal, Walsall Wood, on Wednesday morning. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the relatives of the deceased.

James Price, labourer, of Sheffield, said that he saw the deceased on Tuesday evening, at 7.40pm, in Hall Lane, when he asked witness the way into Walsall Wood. Deceased had been drinking, and staggered as he walked. They were about 200 yards from the BEEHIVE INN, near where deceased was found. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that there was a way from where he met deceased to the BEEHIVE INN. Deceased could walk and talk all right.

Samson Coffin, manager at the Empire Brick Works, Aldridge, said that he saw deceased at 7.20 on Tuesday night, at High Heath. He was the worse for beer then, and asked witness where he was going, and said that he wanted to go to Walsall. Witness did not see deceased alive again. In answer to Mr. Jackson, witness said that he had often seen deceased in that district. He walked straight enough on the footpath. Deceased could get from where he met him to the canal side.

Charles Beale, boatman, of Walsall Wood, said that he saw deceased in the canal near the BEEHIVE INN early on the morning of Wednesday, and with assistance got him out.

John Percy Rowbotham, 88, Corporation Street, Walsall, son of the deceased, gave evidence of identification. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that his father’s business necessitated his going about the district a lot. He had no troubles and nothing to worry him. His father knew all of the short cuts in the district, and from the path on which his father was he was probably taking a short cut to the BEEHIVE INN. A mere slip there would put anyone in the canal.

James Ward, landlord of the FORGE INN, Pelsall Wood, said that he knew the deceased well. On Tuesday, at 2.30pm the deceased came to witness’s house, had something to eat, and went out to do some business. He returned and stayed until twenty to six, drinking only tea, and went away apparently to catch a train. In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that deceased went away from his house jolly and well as usual, and was about the last man to commit suicide. He had business dealings with the deceased, which necessitated his frequent coming to his house. Deceased was quite sober when he left the Inn.

PC Lockley, stationed at Walsall Wood, said that at 6.45am on the 10th inst, the witness Beale reported the death to him, and witness went to the canal near the BEEHIVE, and saw the deceased lying in a stooping position face downwards in the canal, and with assistance got him out of the canal. He had been dead then for some time.

PC Allcock, stationed at Walsall, said that he was sent for to the canal, and on arriving there found deceased lying on the towing path. The clothes were not disarranged, and on searching the body he found 29s 3d, a silver watch, and other jewellery. The watch was stopped at two minutes after half past seven.

Dr. Wolverson, practicing at Walsall Wood, said that he had made a post mortem examination of the body. There was no sign of violence, and he had no doubt that death was due to suffocation by drowning. There was no sign of alcohol in the body.

The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death from Drowning.”

1901 Census

Watsons Lane – FORGE INN

- [1] James Ward (50), widower, publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] James Ward (17), son, clerk (colliery), born Pelsall;
- [3] Frederick Victor Ward (15), son, horse driver, born Pelsall;
- [4] Eliza Ward (21), niece, barmaid, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Florence Busan (?) (31), general servant, born Birmingham;
- [6] Selina Biddiard (57), sister in law, widow, charwoman, born Dudley:

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1903

“At Rushall adjourned licensing sessions, on Monday, Thomas Smith, of the FORGE INN, Pelsall Wood, made application for the renewal of his license.

The objections to the house were those of disorderly character, the license holder in 1902 having been convicted for permitting drunkenness. Evidence was also called to prove that two drunken men left the house in January, whilst the applicant held the license. They were afterwards fined, but it was not proved in what house they became drunk.

Mr. Jackson, who appeared on behalf of the applicant, said that the fact that these drunken men left the FORGE INN drunk was no evidence that they had become drunk in the place. He urged the general good character of the house.

The license was renewed, but Mr. Frank James remarked that the FORGE INN had rather a bad reputation, as requiring a great deal of police supervision. If the licensee came before another licensing meeting with a record against his house, he would receive different treatment.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

Mary Ann Smith, FORGE INN, Pelsall. 11s 5d.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/1/1904

“George Stretton, of the FORGE, Pelsall, lies in the Walsall and District Hospital as the result of a fall while skating. He was admitted on New Year’s Day, with his shoulder dislocated and broken.”

John Horan = John Horam

Walsall Advertiser 31/3/1906

“On Monday, at the Rushall Police Court, before Mr. A. W. Greatrex (presiding), Mr. J. F. Crump, and Mr. E. Wilkes, John Horam (40), landlord of the FORGE INN, Pelsall, was summoned for being drunk on his own premises, on the 12th inst.

Sergeant Findlay deposed to visiting the defendant’s premises and finding Horam sitting in a chair in the smoke room. When witness spoke to defendant he got up and staggered towards him, and when accused of being drunk Horam replied ‘Don’t say that, sergeant; I have been knocked about a bit today, but I am going to bed.’ Witness then left the house, and on returning about a quarter of an hour later was told that the defendant had gone to bed.

Police-constable Barrett corroborated.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who appeared for the defence, admitted that the defendant was drunk, but had not had the drink on his own premises. The defendant had had a great deal of trouble of late, and having regard to that he asked the Bench not to register a conviction, but to withdraw the case on payment of costs.

Defendant’s wife stated that her husband had not had any drink in their house, and had only been in about eight minutes when the officer called. In cross-examination by Superintendent Salt, witness admitted that her husband had only had the licence transferred to him at the last court day.

The Bench expressed the hope that it would be a caution to defendant, and the case was allowed to be withdrawn on payment of costs (10s 6d).”

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1910

“There was a full Bench of Magistrates present at the Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division, held on Tuesday, at the Rushall Police Court.....

FORGE INN, Pelsall. With respect to this house, Inspector Salt said that it was an ante-’69 beerhouse. The premises were ‘tied’ for beer, and the licensee was a tenant, subject to three months’ notice. There had been three transfers during the past ten years, and no convictions during the last five years. The house was substantially built and the rooms commodious. In a radius of one mile there were nine fully licensed houses, two beer ‘on,’ and eight beer ‘off.’

Mr. C. Loxton appeared on behalf of the owners of the house, Messrs, Butlers of Wolverhampton, and as another of their houses was being objected to – which he should most strenuously oppose – with regard to the FORGE INN he did not offer any opposition.

Mr. W. L. Lewis: The Magistrates make no bargain.

Mr. Loxton: No, I quite agree.

The Bench referred the house for compensation. The license was renewed provisionally.”

Lichfield Mercury 1/7/1910

“On Friday the principal meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shirehall, Stafford

Licenses refused.....

FORGE INN, Pelsall, ante-1869 beerhouse.”

Lichfield Mercury 6/1/1911

“The annual report of the County Licensing Committee stated that at the principal meeting the committee refused to renew 27 licenses. At the supplemental meetings the committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard, upon oath, evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee considered that the amounts of compensation agreed upon were satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the compensation fund.....

FORGE, Pelsall, beerhouse, ante 1869, £850.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1911

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Rushall Division of Staffordshire were held at Rushall Police Court on Monday.... Superintendent T. Salt read his report.....

The reduction in the numbers has been brought about by means of the Compensation Clauses of the Licensing Act, 1904.....

FORGE Beerhouse (on), Pelsall Wood, having been referred for compensation at the general annual licensing meeting last year, and compensation being paid, the house closed on the 28th ultimo.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/8/1911

“There was a large attendance of delegates at the quarterly meeting of the Walsall District of the Grand Independent Order of Loyal Caledonian Corks.....

Permission had been granted for the removal of lodge 69 from the FORGE INN to the SWAN, Pelsall.”

FORGE AND FETTLE

312, Pleck Road / Ida Road, (197, Pleck Road (Pleck Lane) / Rolling Mill Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Miss Adams, Wednesbury
Samuel Cornfield [1880]
Mills and Son, Pleck, Walsall
Messrs. Thompson, maltsters, Dudley
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1906)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Union Pub Co. [2001]

LICENSEES

William Cox [1858] – [1866]
Samuel Cornfield [1868] – 1892);
Miss Mary Cornfield (1892 – 1897);
John West (1897 – 1905);
Mrs. Phoebe Ann West (1905 – 1912);
William Allport (1912 – 1928)
William Allport [1932] – 1954);
Robert Preston (1954 – 1956);
Jack Bradford (1956 – 1959);
Harry Sydney Dutton (1959 – 1963);
Stanley Donald Loftus (1963 – 1966);
Herbert Harry Howard (1966 – 1967);
John Herbert Page (1967 – []
Keith Tooley []
Bob Smith [1999]

NOTES

Pleck Lane [1858], [1861]
Pleck Road [1868]
197, Pleck Road [1891], [1896], [1891], [1904], [1908]
312, Pleck Road [1939]

The original building stood on the corner of Pleck Road and Rolling Mill Street.

It was originally the FORGE.

London Gazette 3/7/1860

“In the Matter of the Petition of William Cox, now and for upwards of three years and six months last past, residing at the FORGE INN, Pleck-road, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, and previously thereto and for two years and six months or thereabouts of the FORGE INN, Pleck-road, Walsall aforesaid, Retail Brewer and Beer-shop Keeper.

Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on the 18th day of July instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.”

Walsall Free Press 6/2/1864

“On Wednesday last the body of a new-born female child was found, wrapped in a pillow case, near to the cemetery, and was removed to the FORGE INN, Pleck Lane, where an inquest was held upon it on Thursday afternoon, by the coroner, A. A. Fletcher. From the evidence of Mr. D. S. Moore, surgeon, who made a post mortem examination of the body, it appeared that the child had been still born. The Jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict in accordance therewith.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of John Cozens, beerhouse keeper, The Pleck.

Mr. Dale opposed on behalf of Mr. Cox, landlord of the FORGE public-house, on the ground that there was no necessity for any additional accommodation, and stated that between Bridgeman Street and The Pleck Church there were only 50 houses, and only one new dwelling house had been erected since last year.

Mr. Oerton said Mr. Cox's house was the filthiest in the place – indeed a memorial had been presented by the coroner, stating that Mr. Cox's house was unfit to hold an inquest in. Application granted.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual Sessions for the renewal of existing licenses, and the consideration of applications for new ones, was held at the Guildhall Assembly Room on Friday, the Magistrates on the bench being J. Brewer, jun., Esq., Mayor, and W. Ward, J. W. Newman, F. B. Orton, S. Stephens, S. Stokes, and J. B. Anderson, Esqs.....

The Bench refused to renew the licenses of.....

and Mr. Cox, of the FORGE HAMMER, The Pleck.”

Birmingham Journal 15/9/1866

“Adjourned Licensing Session. At this Session which was held at the Free Library.....

Mr. Duignan applied for the renewal of the license of William Cox, of the FORGE HAMMER INN, The Pleck, which was suspended at the Licensing Session. It was granted, Mr. Cox being admonished to keep his house in a cleaner state.”

1871 Census

Pleck Road

- [1] Samuel Cornfield (36), engineer (colliery), born Sedgley;
- [2] Sarah Cornfield (29), wife, born Cinder Hill;
- [3] Thomas Cornfield (6), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Cornfield (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Daniel Cornfield (3), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Esther Cornfield (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

“Municipal Election. The Bridge Ward.....

On Monday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the FORGE INN, Pleck Lane in favour of Mr. Grant's candidature.....”

1881 Census

Pleck Road – FORGE INN

- [1] Samuel Cornfield (45), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Sarah Cornfield (38), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Thomas Cornfield (17), son, iron worker, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Cornfield (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Daniel Cornfield (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Esther Cornfield (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Samuel Cornfield (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Jane Cornfield (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Hannah Cornfield (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Elizabeth Cornfield (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] Erbert Cornfield (3 months), son, born Walsall;
- [12] George Hunt (34), brewer, born Birmingham:

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1891

“There were 31 applications for dancing, singing and music licenses under the provisions of the new Corporation Act. The Bench heard all the applications and then retired to consider their decisions, which turned out to be in accordance with the principle which was laid down at a former Court, viz, that licenses should not be granted to vaults or public rooms, but should be confined to regular and existing clubs and class meetings in club rooms. Licenses were granted to.....

The FORGE INN, Pleck Road.”

1891 Census

197, Pleck Road – FORGE INN

- [1] Mary Cornfield (25), unmarried, born Walsall;
- [2] Daniel Cornfield (23), brother, brewer, born Walsall;
- [3] Ester Cornfield (21), sister, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Samuel Cornfield (19), brother, ironworker, born Walsall;

- [5] Sarah J. Cornfield (17), sister, born Walsall;
[6] Herbert Cornfield (9), brother, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Thomas Taylor (25), visitor, ironworker, born Darlaston:

Mary Cornfield – check also ORANGE TREE.

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“Yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith applied for permission to make structural alterations of the FORGE INN, The Pleck, so as to enlarge the smoke room. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1898

“Yesterday morning a police officer was called to the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall, where he found a man named John Bradley, Queen’s Cross, Dudley, who had been taken in and expired suddenly. The man had been working on some buildings near, and feeling unwell, had received his wages with the intention of returning to Dudley. The body was conveyed to the public mortuary.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1898

“The forty-sixth general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday afternoon at the BLUE PIG, New Street the following were elected members of the society.....
John West, FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall.”

Worcestershire Chronicle 16/1/1901 - Advert

“Wanted, good strong General Servant, age about 23, with good character; good wages given.
Apply, FORGE INN, Pleck, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 17/2/1900

“On Saturday last a meeting of Oddfellows was held at the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall, the house of Mr. John West, to consider the question of opening a Lodge of Oddfellows.....
The Chairman moved that they meet again The resolution having been carried, the meeting was declared closed.”

Walsall Observer 31/3/1900

“On Saturday last a large gathering of Oddfellows took place at Mr. John West’s, the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, for the purpose of opening a lodge of the above Order.
.....opened the ‘Loyal John West’ in proper form and order.....”

1901 Census

197, Pleck Road

- [1] John West (28), tavern keeper, born Pershore, Worcestershire;
[2] Phoebe West (51), wife, born Wick, Worcestershire;
[3] Jennie West (22), adopted, born Walsall;
[4] Beatrice West (20), adopted, born Amblecote;
[5] William West (17), adopted, general labourer, born Amblecote;
[6] Nellie West (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The FORGE INN, Pleck road. Mr. J. West, the lessee, applied through Mr. Plumtree, instructed by Mr. Jackson, for a provisional license, or in the alternative the removal of his present license to new premises to be erected on land opposite the present house, at the corner of Pleck Road and Rollingmill Street. Mr. Wright (Fowler, Langley, and Wright) opposed on behalf of the owners of the FORGE HAMMER INN, and Mr. Alfred Stanley opposed on behalf of the temperance party, whilst the Rev. W. Felton, vicar of Pleck, also opposed.

Mr. Plumtree said the present premises had a frontage to Pleck Road of 28 feet, and to Rollingmill Street of 79 feet, with an area of 494 square yards. The proposed new premises would have an area of only 404 square yards, a decrease of 90 square yards. The drinking accommodation would be reduced from 86 to 71 square yards, a decrease of 15.

Mr. Hickton (Hickton and Farmer) produced the plans of the proposed new house. In reply to Mr. Wright, witness said the tenant had not a parlour in the present house, and wanted one, which would be provided in the new house. The frontage of the new house to Pleck Road would be 54 feet.

Mr. Stanley said the building looked to be a very nice one, and looked like a mission church. It would perhaps be a working man’s church – they opened Sundays.

Mr. West was then called to support counsel’s opening.

Mr. Wright: Do you think you will do more trade in the new premises? – I don’t think so.

Do you think you will do less? – I don’t know. I want better living accommodation; that is all I want.

It is a new parlour you want? – Yes; I am getting into years, and can do with one.

Is it not possible to provide better accommodation in your present premises? – They are very narrow, and there is not sufficient accommodation to make it convenient.

Mr. Stanley: You belong to the Board of Guardians? – Yes.

Do you know a great many people who go there through drink (laughter)? – I cannot help it; I do not encourage them.

Do you know that drink increases pauperism? You have a great deal of experience. – No.

You were at the CLOCK, in the same street? – Yes.

And you were at the Struggling Man? – No.

The Struggling Traveller? – No.

Then I have got the wrong town? – No; you have got the wrong man (laughter).

You represent the Wolverhampton and Dudley Brewery Company? – Yes.

Have you eight tied houses? – I don't know where they are.

I suppose you open at six o'clock on Sunday evenings, and working men will come? – I should be very pleased to see them (laughter).

I suppose they will sing sacred hymns. Won't this be giving a bad egg for a good one?

Mr. Loxton (interrupting): Will the public benefit? – Yes.

The Rev. W. Felton: Do you hope there will be a larger custom come to your new house? – No. I am quite satisfied with the trade I am doing.

Mr. Wheway: (addressing Mr. Felton): You are very much out of place; you had better stay at home.

Mr. Wright addressing the Bench in opposition, submitted that whatever might be said about the area being reduced, or Mr. West not wanting more trade, there was no doubt that the new premises from the point of view of the trade would be likely to do more business. The extra accommodation said to be wanted could be provided on the old premises at less cost, and with equal satisfaction to Mr. West.

The Mayor: I suppose, Mr. Stanley, you have said all you want to say (laughter).

Mr. Stanley said there were 800,000 paupers to support in the country, and they did not want to increase the number. In nine cases out of ten if it were not for the drink traffic there would be no paupers.

The Rev. W. Felton said he was there as a resident of Pleck Road, and on behalf of the officers of Pleck Church to oppose this application in the interests of well being and the social morality of the Pleck district. It was evident from what had been said that the new building would be more attractive than the present one, and many would be induced to enter it who would not enter the present house. So strongly did he feel that the granting of this transfer would inflict a great injustice to the parish that he had troubled to come all the way from North Wales to oppose it.

Mr. Plumtree, in replying on the arguments against, said that with regard to the suggestions that there would be more drinking, there would not be facilities for this. He submitted that the more decent a house was the better class of customer would use it.

They could not do better than stamp out the low places and get good houses.

The application was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/10/1901

“The Street Committee reported. The following plans have been approved.....

Dudley Brewery Co, rebuilding the FORGE INN, Pleck Road.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/5/1903

“There were two charges against Peter Gateley, 282, Pleck Road, viz, of assaulting John West, FORGE INN, Pleck Road, and using obscene language and being disorderly and refusing to quit the premises of the FORGE INN when requested, on May 3rd.

Mr. T. H. Stanley, who appeared for the prosecution, said the defendant was in the FORGE INN on May 3rd, and made use of such bad language that the barmaid had to inform Mr. West, and when requested by the latter assaulted him.

Jenny Mason, barmaid, said she refused to serve defendant because of his bad language, and called Mr. West's attention to him, when requested by him to leave defendant kicked him and knocked him down.

Mr. West gave similar evidence, and said that Gateley also broke a glass panel in the door.

Defendant, who made no appearance, was fined 40s and costs, or one months' hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/8/1903

“John West, 197, Pleck Road, summoned Samuel and Herbert Cornfield, 180, Pleck Road, for assaulting him on July 18. Defendants pleaded guilty.

Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson), appeared to prosecute, said Mr. West was sitting outside his house on the day in question, when the two Cornfields went up to him, and, without any provocation whatever struck him several savage blows in the ribs and on the chest. There were a number of witnesses in court who saw the assault, but as the men pleaded guilty he should not call them.

Complainant stated that he was sitting outside his house, the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, when both men came up and struck him several violent blows about the body. When he attempted to get away into the house they pulled him back and struck again. He was afterwards taken to the hospital.

A boy named William Cooper corroborated.

Dr. Trevor Howe, surgeon at the Walsall Hospital, stated that Mr. West was taken to the hospital in a state of collapse. The blows must have been violent ones, and had they been a little higher up they would undoubtedly have been dangerous.

A fine £1 and costs, or 21 days, was imposed in each case.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

The telephone of Mr. John West, FORGE INN, Pleck Road (for whom Mr. Jackson appeared), was also called into question. It was used in his business as agent for the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries; before several of the large ironworks at the Pleck had the telephone it was used by travellers visiting them; it was used by the police in case of fire; and it had never been used for betting purposes. So attested Mr. West. The license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/6/1904 - Advert

“For Sale, Grocer’s Van, new last May; cost £46; built by Jackson and Co. Dudley; room wanted; price £26. Apply, J. West, FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/7/1904 - Notice

“Walsall & District Air-Gun League.

Hospital Cup And Medals.

The Presentation of the above will take place on Tuesday next, the 12th inst, at the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, at 8.30pm. All interested in Air-Gun Shooting are invited to attend. The winners are NEWPORT No.1. Runner-up, KING WILLIAM, Bloxwich.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

Walsall Advertiser 25/3/1905 - Deaths

“On the 15th inst., at the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, John West, aged 54. Interred at Ryecroft Cemetery, March 20, 1905.

Mrs. West desires to thank all friend for kind enquiries and sympathy during Mr. West’s long illness; also those who sent wreaths, and in other respects paid a tribute to his memory. As it is impossible to acknowledge all letters of sympathy, &c, Mrs. West trusts this intimation will suffice.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1908 - Advert

“To Let, Business Premises, 114, Blue Lane West, late out-door license; rent 8s per week.

Apply FORGE INN, Pleck Road.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of four other houses on the ground of the peculiar system of trade which they carried on, and those he referred to were; FORGE INN, Pleck Road; FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street; BOAT INN, Green Lane; and the RISING SUN. Continuing, the Chief Constable stated the landlady or landlord of the houses in question gave out checks to men who then hung about neighbouring works, and did business with the checks on a 10 per cent commission. It appeared that these men got 22s worth of checks for 20s, and they disposed of these checks to men who wanted beer but had no money. The men for a shilling’s worth of checks each paid 1s 3d the next Saturday.

The Bench now ordered that the whole of the licenses mentioned should stand over until the adjourned licensing day.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

In the case of the FORGE INN, Pleck, the Chief Constable stated that the opposition was in consequence of the check system which obtained there. It was not an illegal system, but it had been abused. Hence the opposition. Mr. Jackson who appeared in support of the renewal said he would give an undertaking that the practice should be given up.

Upon Mrs. West giving this undertaking the license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1912 - Notice

“Re Phoebe Ann West (Deceased).

All Person having any Claims against the Estate of Phoebe Ann West, late of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall, are requested to send in particulars at once addressed to the Executors of P. A. West, FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall.

Thompson & Warmington, Dudley.

Solicitors for the Executors.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/4/1913 - Deaths

“Allport. On the 13th inst., Rose Allport, FORGE INN, Pleck Road, aged 29 years.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

FORGE INN, Pleck Road, Walsall, 10s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
FORGE INN, Pleck Road. £0 14s 10½d.”

It was closed on 23rd February 1928.

The license was removed to new premises rebuilt on the opposite corner.

1939 Register

312, Pleck Road – FORGE

- [1] William Allport, date of birth 8/12/1883, licensee, married, PWC;
- [2] Sarah A. Allport, dob 27/10/1882, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Edna A. (Allport) Eayres, dob 4/10/1916, despatch clerk, single;
- [4] Louisa Allport, dob 14/5/1858, pensioner, widowed:

Walsall Observer 3/8/1940

“Pigeon Racing Topics. The prizes and pools won in the hospital race will be paid out to-night (Saturday) at the FORGE HOTEL, Pleck Road. The amount available for the hospitals is £25 10s 0d., and as it is unlikely that we shall be able to run a race for the Victoria Institution this year it had been decided to allocate £10 10s of this sum to the Institution, and the remaining £15 to the General Hospital.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FORGE INN, Pleck Road, £5 5s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FORGE INN, Pleck Road. £2 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/3/1943 - Advert

“War Charities Act, 1940.

Application is being made to the Council of the Borough of Walsall for Registration under the above Act of the FORGE INN Comforts Fund, the object of which is to send parcels to Customers of the FORGE INN now serving in H.M. Forces, the administration centre being the FORGE INN, 312, Pleck Road, Walsall.

Any objections to the above application should be sent to the above Council within 14 days of this notice.

Dated 11th March, 1943.

W. Upton, Hon, Secretary.

W. Allport, Treasurer.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

There were six summons against the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, Park Brewery, Wolverhampton, in respect of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road; RISING SUN, Green Lane; RED LION, Park Street; BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; and HAMEMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane; and the managers of those houses, William Allport, Joseph Thomas Astbury, Thomas Purton Cole, Constance Mary Horton, Cyril Vernon Sleigh (now of Stafford Street), and Arthur Abraham Canning for aiding and abetting.

Mr. Cooper appeared for the brewery company and stated that it would be unfair and unjust if they were made to pay double the penalty imposed on the managers, as in the preceding cases, seeing that they had given specific instructions to all their managers that regulations must be strictly complied with and if they could not get sufficient coal for their purposes they should apply to the local Fuel Overseer for permits for extra supplies.

‘I regard it as somewhat ungenerous on the part of Mr. Cooper to try to throw the blame on the poor managers,’ said Mr. Hodgkinson, who pointed out that all the profits from the houses went to the brewery company and that the coal was not used for their own benefit but for the benefit of the public.

In these cases the brewery company was fined 10s in each case, and the other defendants £1 each except Horton who was ordered to pay £2.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FORGE INN, Pleck Road. £2 12 9d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....
Nine Licensed Houses..... FORGE INN, Pleck Road.”

Robert Preston – see also PRINCE and HAMEMAKERS ARMS.

Harry Sydney Dutton – see also TOMMY’s BAR.

It was refurbished c.1997.

It was renamed FORGE AND FETTLE. [1999]

[2009]

It became a restaurant, Jeevan Jyot. [2011]

Closed c.2016.

The council planners decided to turn the ground floor into a shop with flats above, in 2016.

FORGE HAMMER

5, Rolling Mill Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Franks, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall

Michael Hall

Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.

Walter Hughes, auctioneer, Walsall

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Worley [1861] – [1872];

Benjamin Russell [];

John Brookes [];

Michael Hall [];

Mrs. Mary Hall [];

Thomas Hall [1878];

Benjamin Banks [];

Albert Knight [1880] ?

Cecil Blakemore [1881];

Walter Hughes [];

John George Dexter [] – 1887);

Matthew Brown (1887 – 1890);

Thomas Carter (1890 – 1908);

William Haywood (1908 – 1915);

Joseph Henry Boulton (1915 – 1929);

Samuel Davies (1929 – 1932);

Harry Green (1932 – 1946);

William Walker (1946 – 1957);

William George Arm (1957 – [1966])

NOTES

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“There was stabling for 6 horses and a coach house at the rear of the property, the public bar was 28’6 x 16’10 x 8’10 with a Tap Room, Smoke room and Club room.”

John Worley = John Warley

John Worley, beer retailer, Pleck. [1861], [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

John Worley, Rolling Mill Street, The Pleck.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1864

“Annual Licensing Session.....

Mr. John Worley, of the FORGE AND HAMMER beerhouse, Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, applied through Mr. Matthews for a license, and presented a memorial in his favour, signed, among others, by the proprietors of all the ironworks in the neighbourhood of the applicant’s house. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

Mr. Matthews, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, applied on behalf of the following parties.....

John Warley, FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mills Street Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. Mathews also applied on behalf of John Webster, beerhouse keeper, Wednesbury Road, and Mr. John Warley, beerhouse keeper, Rollingmill Street, The Pleck. In both instances the applications were refused.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/12/1869 - Notice

“This is to give Notice, that the Court acting in the prosecution of a Petition for Adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy at Birmingham, on the 3rd day of May, 1869, against John Worley, of Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, did, on the 5th day of July, 1869, grant the Discharge of the said John Worley, and that such Discharge will be delivered to the Bankrupt unless an Appeal be duly entered against the judgement of the Court, and Notice thereof be given to the Court.

Thomas Brevitt, Solicitor, Darlaston.”

1871 Census

5, Rolling Mill Street

- [1] John Worley (56), beerhouse keeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Worley (21), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Betsy A. Worley (3 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice Harris (59), mother, no calling, born Wales:

John Worley, beer retailer, Rollingmill Street, Pleck. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 6/4/1872

“John Worley, beerhouse keeper, Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, was fined 20s and costs, for having had his house open during prohibited hours on the morning of Sunday, the 24th ult.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/8/1878

“Thomas Hall, of the FORGE HAMMER, Rollingmill Street, applied for a license to sell wine on the premises of his beerhouse. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Woodwork on the outside FORGE HAMMER INN, The Pleck.....

All the above are situate in the town of Walsall.

Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

5, Rollingmill Street

- [1] Cecil Blakemore (59), publican, born Dawley, Shropshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Blakemore (32), wife, born Montgomery;
- [3] Lucretia M. Francis (21), unmarried, sister in law, visitor, born Montgomery;
- [4] Hannah Richards (14), domestic servant, born Dawley, Shropshire:

[Dawley is part of Telford.]

The licensee was fined 20s and costs, on 12th January 1883, for Sunday trading.

Matthew Brown – see also ANGLESEY ARMS.

1891 Census

5, Rolling Mill Street – Public House – FORGE HAMMER

- [1] Thomas Carter (56), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Eliza Carter (49), wife, born Myria [Moirá?], Leicestershire;
- [3] Mary McTighe (28), general servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Pitt (22), general servant, born Oakengates:

Thomas Carter, beer retailer, 5, Rolling Mill Street. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1898

“The forty-sixth general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday afternoon at the BLUE PIG, New Street the following were elected members of the society..... Thomas Carter, FORGE HAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street.”

Walsall Observer 9/6/1900

“Thomas Carter, FORGE HAMMER INN, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and with supplying James Perry with intoxicating liquors when drunk on May 29th; and James Perry of 85, Pleck Lane, was charged with being drunk on licensed premises on May 29th.

Inspector Ballance said he went into the bar of the FORGE HAMMER INN about nine o’clock on the 29th ult, and found Perry sitting at a table with two other men, all three of them having ale before them. His attention was drawn to Perry by his noisiness and from his appearance and behaviour when he went outside about ten minutes later. Witness was sure that he was drunk. Witness drew the attention of Samuel Dangerfield, who was managing the house, to the man, and Dangerfield said that he had not been supplied with drink.

Police-constable Atcherley said that he accompanied Inspector Williams into the inn, and saw Perry, who was drunk, and had got drink before him. Witness saw him staggering down the road about ten minutes later.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, for the defence, said that the landlord and his wife went out early in the evening, and, before they went, Carter had already refused to serve Perry, not because he was drunk, but because he was so noisy; and for the same reason Carter had refused to serve him for 18 months. Carter left his nephew, Samuel Dangerfield, in charge of the house, with instructions to refuse Perry if he came again. The nephew did refuse Perry, who came again, and thought he had left the house; and, as he was very busy, having three rooms to look after, he paid no more attention to the man.

Thomas Carter, landlord of the FORGE HAMMER INN, said that he had kept the house for nearly eleven years, and had never had a single complaint from the police. He had persistently refused to sell drink to Perry, because his noisy ways made him a nuisance in the house.

James Perry said that they did refuse to serve him, but that he got drink at another man’s expense.

Samuel Dangerfield, Elijah Davis, and George O’Neill gave evidence for the defence, and the Magistrates dismissed the case.”

William Haywood = William Hayward

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall..... The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of four other houses on the ground of the peculiar system of trade which they carried on, and those he referred to were; FORGE INN, Pleck Road; FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street; BOAT INN, Green Lane; and the RISING SUN. Continuing, the Chief Constable stated the landlady or landlord of the houses in question gave out checks to men who then hung about neighbouring works, and did business with the checks on a 10 per cent commission. It appeared that these men got 22s worth of checks for 20s, and they disposed of these checks to men who wanted beer but had no money. The men for a shilling’s worth of checks each paid 1s 3d the next Saturday. The Bench now ordered that the whole of the licenses mentioned should stand over until the adjourned licensing day.”

1911 Census

5, Rollingmill Street

- [1] William Haywood (41), publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Fanny Haywood (40), wife, married 11 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Louisa Haywood (42), relative, unmarried, born Walsall;
- [4] Lily Weales (22), servant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Madge Simmonds (10), niece, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Simmonds (11 months), relative, born Walsall:

William Haywood, beer retailer, 5, Rolling Mill Steet. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 12/7/1913

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. W. Haywood, FORGE HAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street, was unanimously elected member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1915 - Advert

“Wanted, respectable Girl, about 22.

Apply, Hayward, FORGE HAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 4/9/1915

“A presentation took place on Tuesday night at the FORGE HAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street, The Pleck, to Mr. and Mrs. W. Hayward, who were formerly the host and hostess of the house. The presentation was promoted by members of the Amalgamated Society of Gas Workers and Municipal and General Workers, and by members of the Workers’ Union, and was in two parts – first, an oak smoker’s cabinet to Mr. Hayward, next a lady’s companion (subscribed by the customers of the house) to Mrs. Hayward. Mr. C. Blower, who occupied the chair said he had known Mr. and Mrs. Hayward since he had been connected with No.3 Branch of the Gasworkers’ Union, and wished to express his thanks for the hospitality they had extended to all who had used that house. It had been the wish of everyone to see a little recognition tendered to them, and this presentation by the Gasworkers’ Union, the Workers’ Union, and the customers had been the outcome of that desire. He hoped Mr. Hayward would live long to enjoy a pipe out of the cabinet, which would remind him of days gone by, and that Mrs. Hayward would receive the present in the spirit in which it was given. (Applause).

Mr. H. Hands, in making the presentation to Mr. Hayward, said he should have liked a member of that branch of the Gasworkers’ Union to make it, but as they had asked him to do so, he willingly agreed, as from what he knew of Mr. Hayward he could echo the sentiments which had already been expressed. Not only was this present from No.3 Branch, but a number of the members of the Workers’ Union had contributed to it. Ever since the strike commenced at the Alma, and in the tube trade generally, Mr. Hayward had been a great friend to all who used that house. His old friend Mr. Brodie, the secretary of the branch, had often spoken of the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward to all the members belonging to the branch. He hoped the present would last Mr. Hayward for many years, so that he could enjoy the pleasure of looking at it and of smoking the pipe of peace and contentment. Mr. Hayward in returning thanks, said he has always tried to do his duty to his fellow-beings. That might be a peculiar statement for a publican to make, but all who knew him in his private life knew that he had always striven to be just to everyone, and what he and his wife had done had always been done from a sense of duty and fairness to others.

Councillor J. Thickett then made the presentation to Mrs. Hayward, and said he regarded it as the greatest honour to have been invited to do so. When it was mooted to him that a presentation was being engineered, he appreciated the idea from the first, for he felt that however elaborate or costly the present might be, or however generous the expressions of goodwill that might emanate from them towards Mr. and Mrs. Hayward that night, they could not be exaggerated. They could not, of course, forget that they were meeting at a time to make those presentations when the war clouds were hanging over them; but it did not detract from their patriotism at all that they were thinking of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward; on the contrary, peace had her victories as well as war, and they were there to present the ‘D.S.O.’ to Mr. and Mrs. Hayward for what they had done in civilian life. (Applause). He came to know Mr. Hayward in a remarkable way. During the Tube Strike, no matter what they were doing – was it storming citadels or marching to Coombe Wood – (laughter) – he heard on all sides Mr. Haywood spoken of and praised for his goodness; and when, later on, there was another event at The Pleck – and that was a little municipal election which concerned him – he found one of his most ardent workers was Mr. Hayward. Of course, everything was not beer and skittles to Mr. Hayward, or any of them, but they all had claims to some of the sunshine of life, and he hoped that Mr. Hayward would regard it as sunshine to know that he had gained the esteem and confidence of his fellow-men.

Mr. George Giles, secretary of the Walsall Trades Council, said that as a worker in the industrial world he would like to say a word or two, also, in praise of Mr. Hayward. It was not the longest life which was the best, but that which was best employed, and they would find that Mr. Hayward was one who understood the men, and he had helped them not only financially, but morally as well. He did so splendidly during the fight, and worked so quietly, conscientiously, and sincerely, that he did more to uplift the men morally than all the churches and chapels in the district, although he (Mr. Giles) did not wish to say anything disrespectful of others who were doing their own work in their own way.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FORGE HAMMER, Pleck. £1 9s 10d.”

Samuel Davies – see also WHEATSHEAF.

1939 Register

5, Rollingmill Street – FORGE HAMMER ARMS

[1] Harry Green, date of birth 20/8/1878, licensee, married;

[2] Mary A. Green, dob 26/10/1881, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Gladys (Burford) Pickett, dob 1/11/1920, domestic help, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

[“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
FORGEHAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street, £5 3s 5d.”](#)

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

[“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
FORGEHAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street. £2 5s 0d.”](#)

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

[“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
FORGEHAMMER, Rollingmill Street. £6 5s 3d.”](#)

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1945 - Advert

[“By Direction of the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Bradford. Third Sale of Valuable Freehold Ground Rents.....
Nine Licensed Houses..... FORGE HAMMER INN, Rollingmill Street.”](#)

William Walker – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE.

A full license was granted on 3rd March 1960.

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

[“Attention! all Mild drinkers.
Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street, Pleck, Walsall.”](#)

Sports Argos 9/11/1974

[“The Inn-Quiz trail to find the 1975 champions starts a week on Monday \(November 18\) with a qualifying round of nine matches.
There is a long road to the finals night, but it will be fun all of the way The draw for the qualifying round is.....
FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street, Walsall v Royal Exchange, Bridgetown, Cannock.”](#)

[2007]

Closed [2009]

Demolished [2012]

FORRESTERS

Bramley Road, Yew Tree Estate, WALSALL

OWNERS

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

[1993]

Closed

Demolished

FORTUNE OF WAR

Walsall Wood , WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mary Ann Rudge [] – 1870);
John Marklew (1870 – []

FOUNTAIN

1, Butt Lane, (Back Lane), (1, Bott Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Henry Hines
Messrs. J. and C. Whitehouse, Bridge Street, Walsall
George Whitehouse, 12, Mellish Road, Walsall [1906]
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased) [1926]
Ind Coope and Allsopp [1930s]
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)

LICENSEES

Henry Hines [1856] – 1890);
James Birch (1890 – 1899);
Frederick Gnosill (1899 – 1906);
Stephen Dawson (1906 – 1920);
Robert Whittaker Brown (1920 – 1923);
John Rogers (1923 – 1926);
George William England (1926 – 1927);
Arthur Ernest Curtis (1927 – 1933);
Thomas Statham (1933 – 1934);
Frank Geach Owen (1934 – 1935);
Sidney Garland (1935 – 1936);
William Henry Wall (1936 – 1940);
Mrs. Fanny Wall (1940);
Alice Cronin (1940 – 1967);

NOTES

1, Bott Lane [1861], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1939]
Bott Lane [1856], [1863], [1875], [1900], [1911], [1914]
Bank Street [1857]
Lime Pits Bank [1860]
Limepit Bank [1865]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was known locally as “Auntie’s”.

Henry Hines = Henry Hinds

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1856

“At the Guildhall, on Wednesday, Henry Hinds, beerhouse keeper, of Bott Lane, was fined 20s and costs for keeping his house open for the sale of beer at illegal hours on Saturday night. The defendant had some time previously been fined a similar sum for refusing admission to the police.”

Walsall Free Press 5/9/1857 - Advert

“Valuable Leasehold Property In The Foreign Of Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, By Mr. H. Farrington, at the house of Mr. Allen, NAGS HEAD, Ablewell Street, Walsall, on Monday the 21st day of September, 1857, at Six o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions; all that well-built Licensed Retail Public House, called the FOUNTAIN INN, situate in Bank Street, as above, in the occupation of Mr. Henry Hinds, with Two Houses adjoining, in the occupation of George Leadbetter, and one void, the whole of which have been lately erected, regardless of expense; and the Public House fitted with every convenience for carrying on the public business, contains large Tap Room, two Parlours, Bar, large Club Room, three Sleeping Rooms, excellent Cellaring, Brewhouse, Shop, Stable, a large Yard, and Pump of excellent water; producing in the whole £36 per annum, subject to a Ground Rent of £4, and of which aforesaid Lease ninety-six years are yet unexpired.

For further particulars apply to John Potter, Esq, Solicitor; or to the Auctioneer, both of Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/2/1860

“J. Tonkinson of Walsall will run E. Bird of Bloxwich 100 yards level, or take two yards start in 250, for £5 or £10 a side, or he will run Casey of Birmingham twice round Aston Cross, for the like sum; or Dewsbury of Walsall can have two yards in 160, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at any time at Henry Hines, FOUNTAIN INN, Lime Pits Bank, Walsall.”

Henry Hines, beer retailer, Bott Lane. [1861], [1864]

1861 Census

1, Bott Lane

[1] Henry Hines (39), fancy steel toys and beerhouse, born Birmingham;

[2] Harriet Hines (37), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Thomas Tate (64), wife's father, tailor, born Aldridge:

Henry Hines, retailer of beer, Bott Lane. [1862]

Walsall Free Press 5/9/1863

“On Monday last, after the police business had been disposed of, the magistrates proceeded to consider applications for the granting of new licenses and the renewal of those already existing....

Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of Henry Hines, beerhouse-keeper, Bott Lane, for a license for his house, which was represented to be admirably adapted for the purpose. The application was opposed by Mr. Heath, of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, who stated that his back premises nearly adjoined those of the applicant. The application was refused.”

Walsall Free Press 6/5/1865 - Advert

“Capital Leasehold Property, in Limepit Bank and Lower Rushall Street, and Building, in Corporation Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, by Mr. Farrington, at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on Monday, the 29th May, 1865, at half-past Six o'clock in the Evening (subject to conditions) the following property.

Lot 1. All that Leasehold Public House, known as the FOUNTAIN INN, situate in Limepit Bank, Walsall, with Club-room, excellent Cellar, Brewhouse, and Malt-room over, Stables, large enclosed Yard, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, in the occupation of Henry Hines, at the annual rent of £20. And also all those two Houses adjoining, being No.2 and 3 in Limepit Bank, with the Brewhouses and Yard belonging thereto, in the occupations of Messrs. Meek and Palmer, at the annual rent of £15 12s. There is a good supply of water.

This lot is held under a lease from the Earl of Bradford, for 99 years from 25th March, 1853, at the annual ground rent of £4.”

Henry Hines, beer retailer, Bott Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

Bott Lane – FOUNTAIN

[1] Henry Hines (49), beerhouse keeper, born Birmingham;

[2] Harriet Hines (47), wife, born Walsall:

Midland Examiner 23/1/1875

“Henry Hines, landlord of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, was summoned for having his house open at half-past ten on Sunday morning. Mrs. Hines pleaded guilty to the charge under extenuating circumstances. She and her husband had kept the house for 19 years respectably, and this was the first offence.

PC Bethell deposed to seeing a woman coming from the direction of defendant's house with a pint of beer, at half-past ten on Sunday morning. Fined 10s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of Henry Hinds, the FOUNTAIN beerhouse, Bott Lane were adjourned.”

1881 Census

1, Bott Lane – The FOUNTAIN

[1] Henry Hines (59), widower, brewer and beerhouse keeper, born Birmingham;

[2] Mary Ann Walker (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1891 Census

1, Bott Lane – The FOUNTAIN

[1] James Birch (56), publican, born West Bromwich;

[2] Elizabeth Birch (32), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Flora Birch (10), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[4] Lottie Birch (7), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[5] John Birch (5), son, born Walsall;

[6] Howard Birch (1), son, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1892

“On Saturday Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner), held an inquest at the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, on the body of Lilly Coley (10), who was killed on Thursday evening, under circumstances already reported, whilst playing with a large iron roller in Messrs. Shannon and Son’s cricket and football field, The Chuckery. Mr. A. H. Lewis (Messrs. Lewis and Son), attended on behalf of the clubs.

The evidence showed that when the roller was set in motion, after the child had got inside, it rolled down a slope, but there seemed to be some doubt as to whether one of the inside weights balancing the handle had struck her, and knocked her between one of the spokes and the shaft of the handle, or whether in her fright she had attempted to get out.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned, coupled with a recommendation that for the future the roller should be left in a place of safety, and not upon an embankment.”

James Birch, beer retailer, 1, Bott Lane. [1896]

Frederick Gnosill = Frederick Gnosill

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

“Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Frederick Gnosill, FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 5/5/1900

“Cricket – Opening of the Season – On the way to the match call at the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall, and try the sparkling home brewed ales. Families supplied with small casks. Fred Gnosill, proprietor.”

1901 Census

1, Bott Lane – Tavern – FOUNTAIN INN

[1] Frederick Gnosill (45), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Clara Gnosill (42), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Minnie Richard (19), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Frederick Gnosill, beer retailer, 1, Bott Lane. [1904]

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

1911 Census

1, Bott Lane

[1] Stephen Dawson (44), beer retailer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Amelia Ann Dawson (47), wife, married 20 years, born Bilston;

[3] Norman Stephen Dawson (13), son, student, born Walsall;

[4] Vera Irene Dawson (6), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Amy Dawson (69), mother, widow, born Essington:

Stephen Dawson – see also RED HOUSE.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

FOUNTAIN, Bott Lane, Walsall, 6s.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane. £1 0s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 19/10/1918 - Advert

“Wednesday and Thursday Next, 23rd and 24th, October, 1918.

Under instruction from Messrs. W. Butler & Co., Ltd., Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, Leonard C. Philpot will Sell by Auction the Brewing Plants and Utensils at the following Licensed House, viz.:

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall.

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.

WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore, Walsall.

PHEASANT INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.

Comprising 11 Steel and Iron Boilers, various sizes from 100 to 250 gallons, 7 large Oak Mash Tuns, 6 Mash Rules, Malt, Shovels, Copper, Lead and Iron Piping, Brass and other taps, Wooden Platforms, 6 large Cooling Vats, 6 Copper Refrigerators (by Potterton and Keyte), 6 Troughs, 2 Copper Sparges, 2 Copper Attemperators, 6 Hop Backs, 50 casks (various sizes from 36 to 120 gallons), 8 Barm Tubs, 6 Large Fermenting Vats, 2 Underbacks, Rotary Pump and Piping, 2 Avery's Weighing Machines (4cwt and 3cwt), Pulley Rope, and Sundry Utensils.

Order Of Sale

Wednesday, October 23rd

EAGLE INN, 10.30 prompt.

FOUNTAIN INN, 12 prompt.

WALSALL ARMS, 1.30 prompt.

Thursday, October 24th

WISEMORE TAVERN, 10.30 prompt.

PHEASANT INN, 12 prompt.

On View, 9 o'clock, Morning of Sale. No catalogues.

Further particulars from the Auction and Valuation Offices, Midland Bank Chambers, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Robert Whittaker Brown – see also WALSALL ARMS.

John Rogers – see also MINERVA.

Plans for sanitary improvements were passed in 1926.

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

“Asking for the renewal of the licenses of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street; and the WHITE LION, Portland Street, Mr. Frank Cooper stated that both houses were owned by Ansell's or one of their subsidiary companies and if the licenses were renewed he would give an undertaking that within the current licensing year a scheme would be submitted for dealing with the licenses by way of removal of one and the surrender of the other. If that undertaking were fulfilled, the justices would be able to merge two licenses into one, but if the undertaking were not carried out, no opposition would be raised to both licenses being on the ‘objected’ list next year.

The two licenses were renewed on this undertaking, as were the licenses of the PHEASANT, Windmill Street; and the FOUNTAIN, Bott Lane; subject to somewhat similar undertakings.

Mr. Cooper, for the owners attached considerable importance to the PHEASANT and if the VILLAGE went there could be no question about the PHEASANT being necessary. If the justices preferred it, however, the brewery company would deal with the PHEASANT and the FOUNTAIN in the same way as the VILLAGE and the WHITE LION, all being in the same ownership.”

1939 Register

1, Bott Lane – FOUNTAIN INN (6 of 7)

[1] William H. Wall, date of birth 24/7/1888, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Fanny Wall, dob 27/7/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Isobel (Wall) (Mason) Oakley, dob 15/6/1917, shop assistant, sports outfitter, single;

[4] Nellie (Wall) (Bott) Perry, dob 8/3/1922, shop assistant, multiple store, single;

[5] Joan (Wall) Hardman, dob 6/3/1924, packer, toy factory, single;

[6] Amy I. (Wall) Duffy, dob 17/1/1926, at school, single;

Walsall Observer 13/1/1940 - Deaths

“Mrs. Wall, FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, wishes to thank all Relatives, Friends and Customers for sympathy and floral tributes.”
AND

“The license of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, was, at Walsall Guildhall yesterday, transferred from the name of the late William Henry Wall to his widow, Fanny Wall.”

Walsall Observer 10/5/1941

“Well-known for many years as a licensee in Walsall and Birmingham, Mr. John Harry Brown died on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cronin, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, with whom he had resided since he retired about eight years ago. He was in his 79th year, and had been ill for about a month.

Eldest son of John Brown, a well-known Walsall cricketer, who for twelve years headed the town club's batting averages (and who had at times played with or against some of the most famous men of his time, including the Graces, Parr, Minn and Daft), the late Mr. Brown himself, like several of his brothers, took an active part in the game and assisted the town club.

He left the currying trade to take his first licensed house, the PRINCE BLUCHER, Stafford Street, and among other Walsall licenses he held were those of the NEW INNS and the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street. He had been at the latter before his retirement and it was while he was there that his wife died eleven years ago. He had been a member of both the Walsall and Birmingham licensed victuallers' societies. He leaves six sons and a daughter. The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane. £5 16s 0d."

A full license was granted on 23rd November 1961.

It closed on 3rd January 1967.

FOUNTAIN

14, Long Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

George Boys

Mrs. Benjamin Hand, Redditch (later Wolverhampton)

G. Thomas

William Brotherton

Mrs. Atkins, Albany Road, Wolverhampton

John Lord [1913]

LICENSEES

George Smith [1861] – [1865]

Thomas Boys [1868] – [1880];

Edward Peace [1881] – [1882];

George Ball [];

Charles Perry [1891] – 1893);

Joseph William Brotherton (1893 – 1904);

Benjamin Jefferson (1904 – 1913);

George Frederick Sunter (1913 – 1924):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

George Smith, beer retailer, Long Street. [1861]

1861 Census

Long Street – Beer Shop

[1] George Smith (30), beerhouse keeper, born Selston, Warwickshire;

[2] Elizabeth Smith (27), wife, born Coleshill;

[3] Sarah A. Smith (7), daughter, scholar, born Coleshill;

[4] Emma Smith (4), daughter, scholar, born Coleshill;

[5] Mary A. Smith (3), daughter, scholar, born Sutton [Sutton Coldfield?], Warwickshire;

[6] Phoebe Smith (10 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Henry Smith (18), brother, maltster, born Shustock [Shustoke?], Warwickshire:

George Smith, retailer of beer, 14, Long Street. [1862]
George Smith, beer retailer, 14, Long Street. [1864], [1865]

Thomas Boys, beer retailer, 14 Long Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

14, Long Street

- [1] Thomas Boys (52), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Caroline Boys (50), wife, born Carfeeth [Calf Heath?], Staffordshire;
- [3] Charles Boys (23), son, assistant publican, born Walsall;
- [4] Emma Boys (18), daughter, imbicile, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry Boys (16), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [6] John Boys (15), son, warehouse lad, born Walsall;
- [7] Ellen Boys (12), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [8] Alice Boys (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] William Boys (6), son, scholar, born Walsall:

[It was listed in the Licensing Register 1872-1881 as the IRISH HARP.]

1881 Census

14, Long Street

- [1] Edward Peace (30), chainmaker, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Peace (26), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Peace (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Peace (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Peace (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ellen Lalley (23), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/11/1882

“At the Guildhall yesterday.....

Edward Peace, the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, was, on the evidence of Detective-sergeant Drury, fined 10s and costs for having his house open at twelve o'clock on Saturday night.”

1891 Census

14, Long Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] Charles Perry (55), publican, born Penkridge;
- [2] Jane E. Perry (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Edward E. Perry (26), son, stationer, born Walsall;
- [4] Julia Perry (21), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] George Perry (19), son, railway porter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1892

“A special sessions for licensing business was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall....

Mr. Bill submitted plans of proposed alteration at the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, and applied for the sanction of the justices. The justices declined to sanction the proposed alterations.”

Joseph William Brotherton = John William Brotherton

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held at the house of Mr. Thomas Deakin, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street.....

New members..... Mr. Joseph William Brotherton, FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“Michael Walker (19), caster, 1 court, 1 house, Blue Lane East, was charged with having broken a pane of glass at the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street.

Joseph Brotherton, landlord, said on Monday night the prisoner came to his house and asked to be served with some beer, but as he had had enough, he was refused. He then commenced to break the windows, but only managed to vent his vengeance on one. Prisoner excused himself by saying he had had too much beer, and did not know what he was doing. He was fined 5s and costs, and 1s 6d for the damage, or in default seven days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1895

“John Brotherton, FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, was charged with having sold beer to a policeman on duty, and also having knowingly suffered him to remain on the premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

The Chief Constable said he was sorry to have to bring the matter before the Bench, but he was afraid those cases were getting frequent. Policemen went into public-houses and were given drink, and the practice could only end in collusion to the disadvantage of the public.

Inspector Gore proved having found Police-constable Ennis in the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street. Defendant told him he had supplied the officer with a glass of beer.

Mr. Jackson contended that it was not a serious offence.

The Chief Constable said the victuallers had only to get to know whether constables had permission from their superior officers to have a glass of beer, and they need have no fear of being summoned.

A fine of 10s and costs was imposed.”

Joseph W. Brotherton, beer retailer, 14, Long Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The Black List. The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against Beer Retailers.....

Joseph William Brotherton, FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, October 11th, 1895, supplying liquor to a constable on duty, fined 10s and costs.

The Chief Constable said that Brotherton had since removed from his premises, and therefore he withdrew all objection to the renewal of the license of the house.”

[The Chief Constable got this wrong!]

1901 Census

14, Long Street – FOUNTAIN INN

[1] Joseph W. Brotherton (48), beerhouse keeper, born Crewe;

[2] Eliza Brotherton (45), wife, born Stoke, Staffordshire;

[3] Samuel Brotherton (42), brother, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Ada Cole (22), niece, domestic servant, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Chris Cole (18), nephew, manufacturer’s clerk, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

John William Brotherton, FOUNTAIN.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

The FOUNTAIN, Long Street. Mr. Wilcocks appeared for the licensee, Joseph William Brotherton, who had occupied the house 10 years; and Mr. Cooper (Addison and Cooper) for the lessees, Mr. Lord. The question of the annual value was the difficulty, and Councillor Powell said the property was worth £25 a year without the license. Renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1905

“Mary Perry, 8, Lower Brook Street, was summoned by Charlotte Hampson, 80, Queen Street, for assault on the 8th inst.

Complainant stated that she and another woman went into the FOUNTAIN in Long Street to have a drop of beer, when defendant came in and immediately started pulling her hair out of her head and kicking and striking her, and calling her bad names.

Mrs. Plant, who corroborated, said defendant was very drunk, and had to be taken away by three persons.

Mr. Armstrong, who defended, said the complainant was a woman with a bad character, and had several times been up for assault. On this occasion complainant met defendant and asked her what she meant by giving information to the ‘cruelty man,’ and immediately struck her and knocked her down.

Defendant’s sister deposed to seeing complainant strike her sister to the ground, and when she got up to her, her face was covered with blood.

Case dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1907

“Joseph Day (58), labourer, of no fixed abode, was charged with wilfully damaging a window at the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, to the extent of 3s, on Sunday.

Ada Lyons, daughter of the landlord, stated that she was serving at the bar on the date named, when prisoner came in and asked for beer. She thought he had had enough, and refused to serve him. He became quarrelsome, but he went out, and the next thing she heard was a crash of glass. On going outside she saw the front window broken, and a woman holding prisoner.

Mrs. Peery gave evidence to seeing the man break the window.

Detective-sergeant Jones gave evidence of arrest. In answer to the charge prisoner said, ‘All I can say is they put me out of the house. I made a put at one of them, and my hand went through the window.’

A fine of 20s and costs was imposed, with the alternative of one months’ hard labour.”

1911 Census

14, Long Street

- [1] Benjamin Jefferson (64), publican, FOUNTAIN INN, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Elizabeth Jefferson (65), wife, married 43 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Jefferson (41), son, unmarried, tailor's presser, born Walsall;
- [4] Elsie Beatrice Evans (21), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1911

“John Durkin, 3, Temple Street, and David Crosby, 25, Peal Street, were summoned for assaulting Benjamin Jefferson, Long Street and also with doing wilful damage to the amount of 10s on January 5th.

Prosecutor, who is landlord of the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, said Crosby was requested to leave his house, when defendants both struck him. While they were being ejected Crosby put his foot through a window, and did other damage.

Durkin: Did I insult you? – Witness: Yes.

Durkin: Thankyou.

Emily Hill, of the ANCHOR INN, spoke as to seeing the window broke, and a stone was produced, it being stated that this was thrown.

Crosby told the Bench that ‘it was a gamble and a squabble – you have to hit somebody or they will hit you. The house was in an uproar. It was half-a-dozen to six.’

There were twenty previous convictions against Crosby, who asked for leniency, saying, ‘It is not what I’ve done, but what I am going to do.’

Durkin was fined 10s and costs, and allowed time to pay, but Crosby was fined 30s and costs, or in default 21 days.”

Benjamin Jefferson, beer retailer, 14, Long Street. [1912]

Benjamin Jefferson – see also WARWICK ARMS.

Walsall Advertiser 21/12/1912

“In connection with the PRINCE BLUCHER Sick and Dividend Society, Stafford Street, a dividend of 8/- per member, two nights and card has been declared. The balance sheet showed receipts £145 15s 2d, and expenditure £71 3s 2d, and a balance was left in hand of £15 8s. The LAMP TAVERN Society, Stafford Street, paid a dividend of 10/-, two nights and a card. While at the Caledonian Corks, FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street, the amount was 3/9.”

George Sunter – see also JUNCTION.

Walsall Observer 27/3/1915 - Deaths

“On the 21st inst, after a long illness, Sarah Ann, the beloved wife of George Frederick Sunter, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street. ‘Her end was peace’.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... FOUNTAIN INN, Long Street. £0 9s 5½d.”

The license was surrendered and the house closed on 29th July 1924, as part of an arrangement for the Removal of License for the TIGER, Long Acre, to new premises, the DERBY ARMS, Raleigh Street.

FOUNTAIN

49, Lower Forster Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Isaac Evans, Perry Barr

T. H. Stanley Esq, solicitor, Walsall

Joseph Clare, Longwood Cottage, Beacon Road, Aldridge

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Enterprise Inns [2007], [2011]

Backyard Brewing Co. [2012], [2017]

LICENSEES

Thomas Sadler [1864] – [1870] ?
George Henry ‘Harry’ Holden [1868] – [1871]
Hyla Holden [1871] – [1872]
James Evans [1873] – 1902);
Jesse Smart (1902 – 1903); manager
John Edward Dade (1903 – 1904);
Harry Kingdom (1904 – 1905);
Frank Merrall (1905 – 1906);
John Mason (1906 – 1917);
Violet Ellen Whyld D’Oyley (1917 – 1918); manager
James Henry Roberts (1918 – 1924);
Eliza Roberts (1924 – 1926);
John Thomas Alcock (1926 – 1940);
James Emmanuel Meeke (1940 – 1955);
Cecil Robert Evans (1955 – [1966]
Glenda Bellingham [1994] – 1998)
Heather Broughton [2010] – 2011);
John Horton (2012 – [2016]

NOTES

Thomas Sadler = Thomas Saddler

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....
Mr. Matthews, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, applied on behalf of the following parties.....
Thos. Saddler, Lower Forster Street Refused.”

Thomas Sadler and George Henry Holden appeared here in the same 1868 and 1870 Directories.

Thomas Sadler, beer retailer and currier, Lower Forster Street. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....
Mr. Mathews next applied on behalf of Mr. Thomas Saddler, landlord of the FOUNTAIN beerhouse, Lower Foster Street. Application granted.”

Walsall Free Press 20/6/1868 - Advert

“To Be Sold, (on easy terms), Exchanged or Hired, a first class Tricord Piano; very powerful. Price £10; to be seen at the FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street, Walsall. Also a 4½in Cart, nearly new.”

1871 Census

49, Lower Forster Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] Hyla Holden (46), currier employing 8 men 1 boy, born Ulverston, Lancashire;
- [2] Ann Holden (45), wife, born Halesowen;
- [3] Clara Parsons (18), general servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

49, Lower Foster Street

- [1] James Evans (40), chain maker and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Evans (43), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] H. C. Evans (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Agnes Lees (17), domestic srvant, born Blakenall:

1891 Census

49, Lower Forster Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] James Evans (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Evans (54), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Henry C. Evans (16), son, glass etcher, born Walsall;
- [4] William G. Evans (16), nephew, bridle cutter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/1/1894

“The Borough Coroner, Mr. T. H. Stanley, held an inquest on Monday evening at the FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street, on the body of Walter Charles Wilkes, 3 years 9 months, of Upper Forster Street, who died early on Sunday morning from burns. Alfred Wilkes, father of the deceased, living at 7, Upper Forster Street, miller’s traveller, identified the body. He said that deceased was burned on Friday afternoon. He had just returned from a journey, and on going into the house was told the child was on fire. He rushed upstairs and saw his son Alfred Douglas Wilkes with his coat over the child putting out the fire. Witness put his mackintosh over the child, carried him downstairs, and went for a doctor.

A Juryman: Was there anybody in the room with him? – Witness: Yes; a little sister aged five years.

A Juryman: Was there a guard in front of the fire? – Witness: Yes.

Alfred Douglas Wilkes, brother to the deceased, and living with his father, deposed that on Friday as he was putting his clothes on to go to business he heard his sister (Maud) shouting ‘Mother, Walter’s on fire.’ The sounds came from upstairs, so he ran up and his brother met him at the door. He was on fire, and witness took off his jacket, wrapped it round him and rolled him on the floor; in this way he put the flames out and then his father came.

The Coroner spoke very highly of the presence of mind of the lad.

Dr. Bachelor, medical practitioner and assistant to Dr. Oliver stated that he attended the child. He was suffering from burns on the face, head, arms, and about the knees. The extent of the burns were great but not deep. Deceased died early on Sunday morning. The cause of death was shock caused by burns.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Observer 20/10/1900

“On Monday last, a supper given, through the hospitality of the landlord (Mr. J. Evans), to some of his private friends and customers, took place at the FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street, the occasion being to celebrate the 60th birthday of the host.....”

1901 Census

Lower Forster Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] James Evans (60), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Evans (64), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Charles Evans (26), son, harness furniture manufacturer, born Walsall;
- [4] Edith A. Harrison (16), general servant, born Aston, Staffordshire:

James Evans was fined 20s and costs, on 3rd April 1901, for adulterating rum.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1903

“A case of somewhat unusual nature was heard this morning. An Italian named Giuseppe Live, of Newtown Row, was summoned for playing his street piano within hearing of one Jesse Smart, after being asked to leave the neighbourhood.

The complainant, who lives at the FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street, said that on December 22nd defendant played from 3.30 to 3.45 near his house. He sent a boy with some money to defendant, and asked him to go away. He continued playing, however, and complainant went to him himself. The man refused to go away, so complainant called a policeman. Complainant explained that his wife was ill, and the sound of the piano annoyed her.

Live, through an interpreter, denied that he was asked to go away. Fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1903

“Mr. H. H. Jackson put in a plan for alteration at the FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street, where it was proposed to take a club room from one part of the building and put it on the other side; also to do away with another room over the doorway. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

John Edward Dade, FOUNTAIN.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

John Mason – see also LITTLETON ARMS.

1911 Census

49, Lower Forster Street

- [1] John Mason (38), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Rachel Mason (34), wife, married 7 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Winifred Amy Mason (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Edna May Mason (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] John Horatio Mason (2), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/12/1913

“The annual general meeting of the FOUNTAIN INN (Lower Forster Street) Sick and Dividend Society was held at headquarters on Monday, when a dividend of 12/- per member was declared. It was afterwards decided to convert the club into a death and dividend society.

Votes of thanks were accorded the retiring officers for their services during the past year, and the following were elected to serve for the ensuing twelve months: Chairman, Mr. E. Brookes; secretary, Mr. H. C. Hill; treasurer, Mr. J. Mason (licensee of the FOUNTAIN); committee, Messrs. Smith, Mumford, Barratt, Jenkins, Stevens and Birch.”

Violet Ellen Whyld D'Oyly – see also LITTLETON ARMS.

1939 Register

49, Lower Forster Street

[1] John T. Alcock, date of birth 3/10/1869, licensee public house, and locksmith, married;

[2] Sarah A. Alcock, dob 31/8/1870, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Cyril C. Alcock, dob 19/10/1898, heavy goods motor driver, food distribution, single;

[4] Gladys M. Alcock, dob 26/12/1909, unpaid domestic duties, single:

Walsall Observer 29/6/1940

“The license of the FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street, was at the Guildhall yesterday transferred to James Emmanuel Meeke from John Thomas Alcock, who was stated to be very ill.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Lower Forster Street. £0 10s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street, Walsall.”

Glenda Bellingham was married to Robert.

See also VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street.

It closed in 2011.

It reopened in December 2012.

John Horton – see also PRETTY BRICKS.

He was married to Jackie.

Walsall CAMRA Pub of the Year 2017.

Express & Star 6/8/2023

“As pubs continue to battle the cost of living crisis, the Express & Star continues its Love Your Local series which celebrates our local inns. The FOUNTAIN INN, based on 49 Lower Street, Walsall, is a family-run pub where real ale is a hit with the regulars as the family try to bring something different to the pub scene in the town. Scarlett Horton, 36, runs the establishment having taken over from her parents Jackie and John Horton, who have taken a step back from day-to-day operations. The family previously ran another pub in Walsall, the PRETTY BRICKS, and so when they took over the FOUNTAIN INN almost 11 years ago, they knew what they were getting into and what it would take to make it a successful business. Scarlett said, ‘We are from the area, local to around here, and so we knew the people and of course the area, so we knew what we were getting into taking over the FOUNTAIN INN. It has been really good since taking over but not without its challenges, but despite that we have stuck to what we know and things are running well. We took the pub on under Backyard Brewery and it became a freehold around four or five years ago, and we have the freehold now. It has really expanded during our time here and is primarily a real ale pub but we are also expanding into craft beer, as we are trying to offer something unique in Walsall. Overall, since we have run the place it has been really good, and thankfully we have built up a really good crowd of regulars.’

Pubs, and the hospitality industry as a whole have been through a rough period in recent years, firstly with the Covid pandemic, and just as businesses were beginning to try recovering from that major setback, the cost of living crisis is now in full flow, with the cost of ingredients, general running costs and bills going through the roof. Pubs are closing or being sold, left right and centre, and many landlords and ladies are simply grateful to still be in business following a torrid period. Scarlett added, ‘We are still relatively busy now but we’re not quite at pre-Covid levels – but we are busy enough, and it’s due to still having our regular crowd. We have had issues with costs going up and bills, so it has been stressful post-Covid, but I think we have sorted a lot of that out now and are coming through it. We are grateful that we are still here and getting through it, and it is about looking forward now.’ Scarlett, like many other people who run pubs, hosts regular events which all contribute to bringing footfall into the pub, and these have been popular for the FOUNTAIN INN. ‘We put on live music quite regularly, and one of our most popular events is a vinyl night. It is a big thing every month, which a lot of people come in for. We allow everyone to bring in their own vinyl and play a 15-minute set of what they like, and so it varies in terms of the kind of music, but it is a fun, quirky evening and is a hit with our customers. As well as the vinyl night, we host a weekly pizza night, where everything is made in-house, and the sourdough is from a local bakery, and we serve bar snacks throughout the week, which are all locally sourced, which helps the all-round local economy. We have been able to build a really nice relationship with the locals, and I think where we are based, just outside of the town centre, it has become a nice little haven. Things certainly are different post-Covid, and we have adjusted our opening hours since, and we open later in the afternoon instead rather than at lunchtime – but we have our set regulars, our customers are great and we love running the place. It is nice to be recognised for the work that we do too, and have been consistent winners of CAMRA awards. We try to serve a good range of drinks, from local ales to now craft cans and beers, and try to keep away from the main branded beers and lagers, which is what our customers like, and with the variety of drinks on offer, we have a really good set of age range that come into drink here. It keeps things lively, having younger students, as well as elderly drinkers, it is an all-round great place to visit with a wonderful atmosphere and environment, we make people feel comfortable, and all are welcome.’”

[2023]

FOUNTAIN

17, (14), (21), Portland Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Crowther Smith, solicitor, Wolverhampton
J. A. Wells, Birmingham
Thomas Edge
Frederick Smith Ltd., Aston Model Brewery
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired on 9th October 1959)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Isaac Harrison [1848]
Charles Simkiss [1861]
Charles Sanders [1861]
Alfred Sanders [1870] – [1871]
Charles Lees [1872];
John Leatherland [];
Mrs. Jane Leatherland [];
Benjamin Rawlinson [1881]
Jane Rawlinson [] – 1886;
Joseph Benton (1886 – 1898);
Thomas Edge (1898 – 1917);
Abraham Anslow (1917 – 1920);
Arthur Povey (1920 – 1925);
Joseph Facey (1925 – 1926);
James Anson (1926 – 1934);
William Leonard Taylor (1934 – 1937);
Mrs. Florence May (Taylor) Dawson (1937 – 1963);
William Henry Chamberlain (1963);
James Joseph Feenan (1963 – 1964);
Reginald Victor Whilton (1964);
Frederick Evans (1964 – 1965);
Stanley John Silvester (1965 – 1966);
Albert William Lloyd (1966 – 1967);
Doris Malvina Hodgkins (1967 – []
Ken Raybould [] last licensee

NOTES

21, Portland Street [1871]

14, Portland Street [1872], [1881], [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1911], [1912], [1939], [1940]

17, Portland Street

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“At the sitting of the magistrates, the following persons applied for spirit licenses for their respective houses.
Mr. Isaac Harrison, FOUNTAIN, Portland Street. Refused.”

1861 Census

Portland Street – FOUNTAIN INN Public House

- [1] Charles Sanders (41), publican and brass dresser, born Walsall;
- [2] Kate Sanders (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Henry Sanders (21), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;
- [4] Alfred Sanders (19), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;
- [5] George Sanders (16), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;
- [6] Edward Sanders (14), son, caster's boy, born Walsall;
- [7] Sushannah Sanders (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Clara Sanders (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Elizabeth Clark (14), niece, domestic servant, born Great Barr;
- [10] Enoch Clark (10), nephew, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] James Clark (7), nephew, scholar, born Walsall;
- [12] Arthur Clark (12), nephew, brass finisher, born Walsall;
- [13] John Smith (16), visitor, buckle filer, born Bilston;
- [14] William Barker (46), lodger, agricultural labourer, born Clifton, Derbyshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/1/1869 - Advert

“To be Let, the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, Walsall, with stable, shop, two enclosed yards, with gate entrance; suitable for a coal wharf. Coming-in about £50.
Apply on the Premises.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/11/1870

“Alfred Saunders, landlord of the FOUNTAIN public-house, Portland Street, for having had his house open during prohibited hours on the 21st inst, was fined 20s and costs.”

1871 Census

21, Portland Street

- [1] Alfred Sanders (26), innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann Sanders (25), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Charles Lees (53), father, timber merchant, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary A. Lees (50), mother, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 27/5/1871 - Advert

“To Be Let, the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street.
For further particulars apply on the Premises.”

Charles Lees, beer retailer, 14, Portland Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 13/9/1872

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Charles Lees, keeper of the FOUNTAIN beerhouse, Portland Street, appeared before Messrs. J. W. Newman, H. Highway, and J. B. Anderson, charged with having permitted drunkenness on his premises. Police-constable G. Bayley stated that shortly before eleven o'clock on Saturday night he went to defendant's house and found one man lying drunk on the door step, and three drunken women in the passage. There was much confusion in the place, which was full of people. The defendant denied that there was any drunkenness, and the confusion was due to a woman having commenced an attack on a man who had lived with her for some time, but had left her. The Bench held the offence proved, and imposed a fine of £2 and costs, or one month's imprisonment in default; Mr. Newman, at the same time telling him that he had rendered himself liable to a penalty of £10.”

1881 Census

14, Portland Street – The FOUNTAIN

- [1] Benjamin Rawlinson (45), retail brewer, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Rawlinson (41), wife, born Scotland;

- [3] Annie Rawlinson (14), daughter, stitcher, born Walsall;
[4] Sarah Rawlinson (75), mother, widow, born Walsall:

1891 Census

14, Portland Street

- [1] Joseph Benton (57), publican and boiler maker, born Pelsall;
[2] Jane Benton (58), wife, born Galston Laodge, Co. Galy [Galloway?], Scotland;
[3] Samuel Benton (18), son, boiler maker, born Darlaston;
[4] Albert Benton (14), son, boiler maker, born Goscote;
[5] John Bentley (22), boarder, boiler maker, born Bloxwich;
[6] Mary Jones (19), servant, born Brownhills:

Joseph Benton, beer retailer, 14, Portland Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 10/12/1898

“Abraham Anslow, FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, was fined 5s and costs for cruelty to a horse by working it whilst unfit. The animal was suffering from sprained tendons.”

1901 Census

14, Portland Street

- [1] Thomas Edge (27), private brewer and innkeeper, born Walsall;
[2] Ruth Edge (24), wife, born Walsall Wood;
[3] Priscilla B. Edge (2), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Abraham Anslow (46), father in law, coal dealer, born Walsall Wood;
[5] Naomi Anslow (43), mother in law, born Walsall Wood;
[6] John Anslow (14), brother in law, coal dealer’s helper, born Walsall Wood;
[7] Priscilla Anslow (20), sister in law, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 27/9/1902

“Mr. Bill applied for sanction of alterations at the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street. The Mayor said that the licensing question was now having the attention of the justices, and they had decided that no alterations would be granted until the licensing sessions in February. The Chief Constable called attention to the fact that in this case the alterations had been commenced without permission of the Bench. Mr. Bill said the alterations made were few, and as soon as he discovered that they were being made he had them stopped.”

Thomas Edge, beer retailer, 14, Portland Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1904

“Thomas Edge, landlord of the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, was summoned for allowing intoxicating liquor to be sold to a boy under the age of 14, Anthony Duffey, in a vessel not properly corked and sealed as required by the Act, on July 9th.

Lizzie Elwell, 22, Ann Street, was also summoned for sending Duffey for the drink.

Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith defended.

Police-constable Stopford deposed to meeting the lad with two bottles containing beer, neither of which were corked, and one of them improperly sealed.

Duffey in cross-examination, said that the constable pulled the label off one of the bottles before he took it back to the inn.

Mrs Elwell admitted sending the boy for the beer.

Both the defendants were fined 20s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1904

“The fifty-second annual general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Thomas Edge, FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

In the case of the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, Mr. S. Pearman-Smith applied. He stated that the alteration was only a small one, the building of a second storey over a brewhouse. The room that they proposed to build was for a malt-house.

Mr. Enoch Evans, the architect, explained that it was building one storey over another.

Mr. Loxton objected to the distance not being shown on the plan of the brew-house to the public bar. Subsequently the distance was clearly defined by Mr. Evans and accepted by Mr. Loxton.”

1911 Census

14, Portland Street

- [1] Thomas Edge (38), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

- [2] Ruth Edge (36), wife, married 15 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Pricila Edge (12), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Abraham Edge (8), son, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Gertrude Edge (6), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Edge (3), son, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Annie Anslow (18), general servant, born Walsall Wood:

Thomas Edge, beer retailer and brewer, 14, Portland Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street. The year’s working in connection with the above Sick and Dividend Club has resulted in the members receiving a sharing of 8s 9d, two nights, a card and refreshments, being equivalent to 9s 7d each for paid-up members. At the general meeting, held on Friday of last week, it was stated that the total income was £136 13s and the total expenditure £61 13s 10d. Messrs W. Wilkes and T. Hedge were unanimously elected secretary and treasurer of the club respectively, and Mr. I. Wilson money steward. A discussion afterwards took place as to the advisability of making it a 4d club and this course was agreed to.”

Walsall Observer 2/6/1917 - Deaths

“In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas Edge, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, who died on May 24th, aged 44.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/10/1925

“Joseph Facey, licensee of the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, and his wife Nellie Facey, were each fined 20s for using indecent language at 1.10am on the 6th instant. Police-sergt. Ballance spoke to hearing the language used during an altercation between the defendants in their bedroom.”

1937 Probate

“William Leonard Taylor of the FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 27 September 1937 at Goscote Hospital, Walsall. Administration London 14 October to Florence May Taylor, widow. Effects £180.”

Walsall Observer 28/10/1939 - Lost and Found

“Finder of Cameo Pendant, lost Saturday afternoon, in Walsall or Blakenall, return same Taylor, FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street.”

1939 Register

14, Portland Street

[1] Florence M. (Taylor) Dawson, date of birth 1/6/1902, public house manageress, widowed:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the HAME MAKERS ARMS INN, Blue Lane West, on Thursday.....

Mrs. F. M. Taylor, FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street was elected member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street, £0 12s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street. £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Portland Street. £0 18s 3d.”

Florence May Taylor married a Mr. Dawson on 3rd November 1951.

A full license was granted in 1953.

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
FOUNTAIN, Portland Street, Walsall.”

Stanley John Silvester – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY.

Doris Malvina Hodgkins – see also ROSE AND THISTLE.

[1993]

Closed [2006]

It was destroyed by fire.

FOUR CROSSES

124, (23), (1), (Upper) Green Lane / Leamore Lane, Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Josiah Elton

Thomas Foster, Stratford on Avon

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1898)

LICENSEES

Jesse Cooper [1828] – [1835]

Adam Harper [1861] – [1862]

Josiah Elton [1865] – 1898);

Edward Joseph Thompson (1898 – 1899);

John Davies (1899 – 1901);

Henry Gallears (1901 – 1904);

John Thomas Ford (1904 – 1905);

William Ford (1905 – 1906);

Mercy Elizabeth Ford (1906 – 1907);

Thomas Lloyd (1907 – 1908);

Emma Lloyd (1908 – 1909);

James Woodall (1909 – 1920);

Elizabeth Woodall (1920 – 1921);

Ernest Harold Wilson (1921 – 1923);

James Sidney Massey (1923 – 1924);

Charles George Edginton (1924 – 1925);

Mrs. Lucy Edginton (1925 – 1933);

Godfrey Tomkins (1933 – 1936);

Frank Henry Whild (1936 – 1939);

Benjamin George Price (1939 – 1946);

Enoch John Wright (1946 – 1958);

Thomas Stephen Willis Jones (1958 – 1965);

James Ball (1965 – 1967);

Frank Frederick Eden (1967 – []

NOTES

23, Green Lane [1871]

1, Green Lane [1881]

124, Green Lane [1891], [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was a coaching house.

It was frequented by miners.

1861 Census

Green Lane – FOUR CROSSES

- [1] Adam Harper (38), coal miner, publican, born Stirchley, Shropshire;
- [2] Catherine Harper (32), wife, born Dawley, Shropshire;
- [3] Adam Harper (13), son, coal miner, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Harriett Harper (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Mary A. Harper (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] George Harper (3), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Noah Harper (1), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Clement Walford (21), lodger, collier labourer, born Preest, Shropshire:

Adam Harper was the father of Adam Harper of the QUEENS HEAD, Church Street, Bloxwich.

Josiah Elton, beer retailer, Leamore Lane. [1865], [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/10/1866

“Samuel Mason and Edward Sergeant were charged, the former with breaking into the dwelling-house of Josiah Elton, beer-house-keeper, Seamore Lane [sic], and stealing therefrom a silver watch, £4 in money, and a handkerchief; and the latter with having aided and abetted his companion in the commission of the crime. Mr. Ebsworth defended Sergeant.

On the afternoon of the preceding Thursday the prisoners were at the prosecutor’s house, with two other men, one of whom had been there with them the preceding day, and the party engaged in a game of cards, and induced the landlord to join them. Mason eventually went out, putting another man to play in his stead, and soon afterwards, Mrs. Elton, on going to her bedroom, found him there, standing besides a drawer which she had left unlocked, but which was then open, and in the act of putting her husband’s watch into his pocket. Her screams speedily brought her husband up-stairs, and the intruder thereupon got through the chamber window with all haste, and, having slid down the sloping roof of an outhouse into the yard, made off as fast as possible towards the canal, closely followed by Mr. Elton. On reaching the canal he jumped into a boat which stood there, and finding he could not reach the other side by any other means he boldly took to the water, only, however, to find that he had mistaken its depth, and was utterly unable to cope with the difficulties by which he found himself surrounded. Fortunately his pursuer grasped him by the hair of his head – the only part of his person available – and with assistance ultimately rescued him from his perilous position. He was then handed over to Police-constable Reynolds. In his pocket were packets of money and a handkerchief, all of which he had abstracted from the prosecutor’s chest of drawers; but the watch was not recovered. His boots were discovered lying side by side, with a jemmy, behind a tree in Mr. Elton’s garden. He had obtained access to the room by removing a pane of glass and an iron bar from the bedroom window. A bunch of skeleton keys was left in the room. The charge against Sergeant was subsequently preferred by the police. Letters from two of his employers were put in giving him an excellent character. Mason pleaded guilty, and stated that his companions had nothing to do with the robbery. Both prisoners were committed for trial at the next Quarter Sessions for the county, bail being refused.”

[At the Quarter Sessions, Mason was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment with hard labour, and three days in each month to be kept in solitary confinement; and Sergeant for nine months, and of that time to be kept six weeks in solitary confinement.]

Josiah Elton, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1868]

1871 Census

23, Green Lane – FOUR CROSSES

- [1] Josiah Elton (51), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Eliza Elton (47), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] George Elton (23), son, boiler maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Josiah Elton (16), son, shoemaker, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/3/1872 - Advert

“To be Sold, cheap, about 100 Yards of 3-inch Cast-iron Socket Pipes.
Apply, Mr. Elton’s FOUR CROSSES, Bloxwich.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/3/1872 - Advert

“To be Sold, a 12-ton Weighing Machine, in excellent condition.
Apply, Mr. Elton, FOUR CROSSES, Bloxwich.”

1881 Census

1, Green Lane, Bloxwich – FOUR CROSSES

- [1] Josiah Elton (61), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Eliza Elton (57), wife, born Lane Head;
- [3] Ellen Foster (13), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Lichfield Mercury 27/1/1888

“At the Walsall Police Court, on Friday, Emma Elton applied, under the Married Women’s Maintenance Act, for an order against her husband, Josiah Elton [licensee’s son], of the FOUR CROSSES INN, Leamore, to compel him to contribute towards the support of herself and her two children. Mr. Duignan represented Mrs. Elton, and Mr. H. H. Jackson the defendant.

The following incidents were brought to light. The couple were married in 1876. In 1881 the husband was charged with an assault, but the case was withdrawn. In 1882 he was fined 20s and costs for an assault. In February, 1883, after having given his wife £15, he went to Australia, leaving her with her two children at her mother’s. While away he sent £5, and in 1886 he returned to England, having made, it was alleged, some £450. Having got possession of the children, he made off to America, and, having been followed about the country from New York to New Orleans, he returned to England, where, by order of the Court of Chancery, the children were restored to their mother, whose friends had spent £250 in the search.

After partial evidence had been taken, a consultation was held, which resulted in the defendant consenting to an order for 6s a week.”

1891 Census

124, Green Lane – FOUR CROSSES INN

[1] Josiah Elton (71), widower, retailer of beer, born Bloxwich;

[2] Hannah Blewitt (41), daughter, married, born Bloxwich;

[3] Jane Owen (20), servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/6/1891

“Josiah Elton, the FOUR CROSSES INN, Leamore, was summoned for neglecting to maintain his wife, Emma, under a separation order made in 1888. Mr. J. N. Cotterell, who appeared for the defence, said the money, 6s per week, was regularly paid until January last, when the defendant left the country, but he had returned ill, and for the present was unable to do anything. The case was adjourned for two months.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1891

“Josiah Elton, jun, the FOUR CROSSES INN, Elmore, was summoned for having neglected to maintain his wife Mr. J. N. Cotterell, for the defence, adduced evidence to show that through a disease of the bone of one of the legs the defendant was unable to carry on his trade, which was that of a hairdresser, and that he was without means. The Bench, however, ordered the amount claimed (£10 10s) to be paid, the alternative being 21 days’ imprisonment.”

Josiah Elton, beer retailer, Leamore. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 22/4/1899

“This was transfer day, and a number of licences were transferred, and temporary authorities were granted.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson made an application in regard of the FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. The house was an old beerhouse, and at the annual licensing meeting and application would be made for the rebuilding of the whole premises. Up to the present no beer machine had been in the house, and every pint of ale had to be fetched from the cellar. He now applied for a beer machine to be put in, and alterations to be made to the brewhouse.

Chief Inspector Gore, on behalf of the police opposed, but the Bench granted the application.”

John Davies = John Davis

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1899

“On Monday, at the Walsall Police Court, Leonard Wilson, of Comwall Street, Leamore, was summoned for being drunk and disorderly at the FOUR CROSSES INN, Leamore, on Saturday, the 15th inst; with refusing to quit when requested to do so by the landlord; and with assaulting the landlord, William Davis [sic]. Mr. T. H. Stanley (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) was for the prosecution, and Mr. A. Baker defended.

Davis alleged that defendant came to the premises drunk, and when requested to leave he refused to do so. When out in the yard defendant struck him.

Thomas Davis, father of complainant, said that he saw defendant in the yard. He was drunk and using the most disgraceful language. Defendant struck complainant several times.

Other witnesses were called, and gave corroborative evidence.

For the defence, it was alleged that complainant was under the influence of drink, and unnecessarily ordered the defendant off the premises, and that complainant also struck first.

The complaint of refusing to quit was dismissed; but for the assault defendant was fined 10s and costs, with the alternative of 14 days.

Alexander Wilson, of Comwall Street – the brother of the defendant of the last case – was then charged with having assaulted the landlord, Davis, on the same day. The charge was denied, defendant alleging that he only pulled his brother away. The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

John Davies, FOUR CROSSES, Bloxwich, served 14 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views..... On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

John Davis was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

124, Green Lane

[1] John Davis (31), publican, born Leamore;

[2] Sarah A. Davis (31), wife, born R___Oth Barr, Lancashire;

[3] Francis E. Davis (1 month), son, born Bilston:

J. Davis and Harry Gallear were both listed here in the same 1902 directory.

Henry Gallears = Harry Gallear

Henry Gallears, beer retailer, Leamore. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Henry Gallears, FOUR CROSSES.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. John T. Ford, FOUR CROSSES INN, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

FOUR CROSSES, Green Lane, Bloxwich.”

Alterations were made in 1905.

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Mr. James Woodall, FOUR CROSSES INN, Green Lane, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

James Woodall, FOUR CROSSES, Green Lane.....

Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman appeared in the case of the FOUR CROSSES, Green Lane, and called Mr. Tomlins (Wolverhampton), who stated that in his opinion the value of the property, unlicensed, was £16 per annum. He attached considerable value to the property because of the attached land, which would make a good yard for a builder, haulier, &c.....

Renewed, no decision as to value.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman appeared in this case, which was an application for re-building. The magistrates refused the application and an alternative set of plans were then submitted.

Mr. Wood (architect), stated that the proposed alterations consisted of building a new sitting room, new pantry, and new stairs, and turning the old staircase into new scullery, with bathroom over.

The Bench stated that they were not prepared to sanction any alterations, as all the licenses in the district were under their notice.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

“The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. S. H. Newman Grundy mentioned the case of the FOUR CROSSES, Leamore, to which alterations were proposed. He asked to withdraw the application, but said he might come before the Court later on with a scheme for the rebuilding of the premises.”

1911 Census

Leamore – FOUR CROSSES INN

[1] James Woodall (39), publican, licensed victualler, born Blakenall;

[2] Elizabeth Woodall (38), wife, married 13 years, born Bloxwich:

James Woodall, beer retailer, Green Lane, Leamore. [1912]

James Woodall, beer retailer, Upper Green Lane, Birchills. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. £1 0s 11d.”

It was rebuilt in 1924.

Ernest Harold Wilson – see also IRISH HARP.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/11/1930

“Time does not seem to lessen the poignancy of the case of the bereaved dependants of those who were killed in the Norton Canes pit disaster.

The Birmingham Gazette and Evening Despatch relief fund continues to grow steadily.....

The Subscription List....

Landlady and Customers, FOUR CROSSES, Leamore, near Walsall £1 2s 6d.”

A full license was transferred from the BLUE PIG, New Street in 1932.

1939 Register

Bloxwich – FOUR CROSSES (2 of 4)

[1] Benjamin G. Price, date of birth 19/12/1888, licensee, married;

[2] Catherine Price, dob 5/10/1898, wife, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FOUR CROSSES INN, Leamore, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/3/1941

“At a meeting at the FOUR CROSSES INN, Green Lane, last week, those who are taking up the land in Leamore Lane recently acquired for allotments, decided to form an association of their own in preference to joining the Bloxwich Society.....”

Walsall Observer 17/6/1941

“Another licensee was summoned on Wednesday for a similar offence [lighting regulations]. Police Constable Dickens stated that at 11.55pm on May 28 he saw a light shining through an open door at the FOUR CROSSES, Green Lane, Leamore, and when he knocked on the door a light was switched on in the bar and for about half-a-minute lit up the road. When the licensee, Benjamin George Price, came to the door shortly afterwards he said he thought someone had broken in.

Price, who told the magistrates that he put the light on to have a good look round the premises, was fined 10s.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. B. Price, FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. £2 19s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. £0 18s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUR CROSSES, Leamore. £22 13s 6d.”

Benjamin George Price was fined £11 and costs, on 30th September 1946, for permitting his premises to be used for betting and gaming.

[2009]

It became an Indian restaurant and bar. [2010]

It closed in 2010.

It was demolished in 2012.

FOUR CROSSES

1, Green Lane / Mill Road, Shelfield, (Walsall Wood), WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Marsh [1829]

John Weston [1843]

John Bromhall [1849] – [1850]

John Whitehouse [1858]

Henry Whitehouse Jnr. [1860] – [1872]

Peter Aspinall [1891] – 1899);

Joseph J Bowen (1899 – [1901] manager

Austin Aspinall (1903 – 1904);

John Eydon (1904 – 1905);

Charles Dalton (1905 – 1907);

James Vawer (1907 – [1908]

Arthur H Hill [1912]

Colin Stewart [1924]

Ernest Edward Baddock [1932]

Mrs. Gertrude Lilian Baddock [1939] – 1940)

William Walter Sheffield (1940 – []

Graham Holt [] – 2005)

Paul Riley [2017]

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 14/2/1829 - Marriages

“On Wednesday week, at Walsall, (by the Rev. John Barn, A.M.) Mr. George Harrison of Shelfield Lodge, to Mary, daughter of Mr. John Marsh, of the FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/6/1830

“A sad and fatal event, and one which was another to the instances of the loss of human life by the incautious use of fire arms, which are unhappily so frequent, had occurred at the Shelfield Lodge, near Walsall, the residence of Mrs. Harrison. A young female named Jane Collier was killed on Tuesday last by a gun-shot wound, under the following circumstances, which we derive from the evidence taken on an inquisition held at the FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield, upon the view of the body, before Henry Smith, Esq, coroner, and a respectable jury. It appears, from the statement of Amelia Mason, that Mrs. Harrison had been for several days on a visit to her daughter in the neighbourhood of Stourbridge; her brother (Mr. Grove), Jane Collier, a dress-maker, who had been at work for her about a week, George Lote, a servant boy about sixteen years of age, the witness, and another female servant being left at home. Between two and three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the three females were at dinner in the kitchen, when Lote came in and asked for some milk for the dog, which he fetched out of the dairy, and shortly afterwards returned swearing, and said the dog had knocked it out of the milk pan; he then reached down a gun and said he would shoot the dog, asking Jane Collier to go with him to open the door to the outbuilding in which the dog was, but she refused. In three or four minutes after witness went out of the kitchen into the yard, carrying some dishes, which she intended to take into the brewhouse, when she saw Lote in the fold-yard standing opposite her, with the gun in his hand; he said laughing, 'Ann, I'll shoot you.' Witness told him she would throw the dishes down if he did not take the gun away. On this she turned her head round and observed Jane Collier standing near to the pump, with a cloth and some soap in her hand for the purpose of washing herself; witness then went into the brewhouse, and while there, Lote having come back into the yard, she heard him say, apparently in joke, 'Miss Collier I'll shoot you,' to which she replied, 'George, I'll stand to be shot then' and something else was said by each, but she did not hear distinctly what, and instantly the gun was discharged, Lote at the same time exclaiming, 'O Lord!' Witness immediately came to the brewhouse door and saw the unfortunate girl lying dead upon the pavement; she never spoke, groaned, or stirred, but was killed instantly. Lote ran up the fold-yard towards the lane, and the gun was left reared against the dairy wall. On an alarm being given several women came, and ultimately Mr. Grove with Lote arrived. On witness telling the women how the affair happened, as already stated, Lote declared she was not telling the truth, and also denied the conversation she had related to have passed between him and the deceased, and said that he was going in at the kitchen door with the gun in his hand, when it went off and shot Miss Collier, who was walking behind him. Mr. Henry East Grove in his examination stated, that on Tuesday between one and two o'clock he left the house, taking Lote with him, for the purpose of cutting a little turf at about half a mile distant; when they got about a hundred yards down the lane they met a cow belonging to Mrs. Harrison, which he sent Lote back with to tie up in the cowhouse, and desired him to return as quickly as he could; in about twenty minutes afterwards he came back and said, 'Mr. Grove, I have hurt or shot my hand with a gun,' at the same time holding it out; it bled considerably; he then said that Miss Collier was shot; hesitated at the questions that were put to him respecting the accident, and did not give any satisfactory answer, but seemed frightened and hurt. Witness hastened home, taking Lote with him, and on the way they met a girl who, on being asked if she had heard of Miss Collier being shot, she replied, 'She is shot dead,' on which Lote fell down and exclaimed, 'Oh! Pick me up;' he was, however, left, and in the afternoon was taken into custody. The gun, which witness saw in the fold-yard when he got home, was afterwards removed, and could not be found till Friday morning, the day which an adjournment of the inquest took place, when it was delivered to Mr. Grove by an old female servant of Mrs. Harrison's, and it appears that the mother of the deceased concealed it under a bed. Mr. Thomas Pitt, surgeon, of Walsall, who examined the corpse, described the wound, from the effects of which the death of the girl must have been instantaneous, the contents of the gun having passed through the left eye, which was completely blown out, into the brain. Having made himself acquainted with the manner in which the accident occurred, witness asked Lote, whose hand was injured, how he held the gun when it went off; he replied it was resting on his left arm, his right hand being placed on the lock, and in that position it exploded, and that he stood facing the kitchen door, the deceased being at or near the pump; if, witness said, the prisoner was holding the gun in the position described by him, and it then exploded, the contents would strike the deceased if standing at the time in the situation mentioned, the barrel of the gun being a long one the muzzle would nearly touch the face of the deceased, who was of short stature. Two of the women who went to Mrs. Harrison's on hearing of the accident, were next examined, and to one of them Lote, after denying the expressions which Amelia Mason persisted in were used by himself and Miss Collier immediately before the accident, said the words he used were these, 'Miss Collier, if the gun had been charged I might have shot you,' to which she replied she was not afraid; that he was scraping his shoes to go into the kitchen, having the gun over his left arm, with his right hand upon the lock, when it went off by accident; that he did not know it was charged; that he had reached the gun down for the purpose, as he pretended, of shooting the dog, but his real motive was to frighten the girls. After a recapitulation of the evidence by the Coroner, the Jury returned a verdict to the effect, that the gun, while in the hands of George Lote, was by some means, at present unknown, discharged, whereby Jane Collier was accidentally killed, and a deodand of thirty shillings was fixed upon the gun."

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/3/1843 - Advert

"Pigeon shooting. To be Shot For, on Monday the 20th day of March, 1843, at the house of John Weston, FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield, near Walsall, a Fat Pig, 35 score; to be 25 subscribers, at 15s each. The owner and winner to spend £2 each; each subscriber to shoot at 3 pigeons, shot limited to two ounces. Each subscriber to stand 21 yards from the trap, and not to shoot until the bird be upon the wing. The boundary to be 100 yards. The other articles to be governed by the general rules of pigeon shooting."

Henry Whitehouse Jnr. was also a blacksmith. [1860], [1861], [1868], [1870], [1872]
He was the brother of William.

1861 Census

Shelfield – FOUR CROSSES

- [1] Henry Whitehouse (46), publican, blacksmith, born Shelfield;
- [2] Charlott Whitehouse (42), wife, born Shelfield;
- [3] Horatio Whitehouse (20), son, blacksmith, born Shelfield;
- [4] Eliza Whitehouse (13), daughter, scholar, born Shelfield;
- [5] John Whitehouse (10), son, scholar, born Shelfield;
- [6] Stephen Whitehouse (8), son, scholar, born Shelfield;
- [7] Marty Hussey (23), house servant, born County Galway, Ireland;
- [8] Edward Migan (60), servant, carter, born Pelsall;
- [9] George Broughill (17), servant, blacksmith, born Sedgley:

Walsall Free Press 17/5/1862

"Edward Butler was charged at the Rushall petty sessions, on Tuesday, with having on the night of Monday last, been drunk and disorderly, a with having assaulted Joseph Brookhouse, the parish constable. It appeared on the evening in question the defendant had been at a club meeting at the FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield, and had struck several parties, and on being remonstrated with by the parish constable, he threatened to kill him. As the charge of assault was not pressed by the officer, he was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs – which was considerably increased by the conduct of the defendant, who refused to walk, and consequently had to be brought to the lock-up in a cart – or be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

1871 Census

Shelfield – FOUR CROSSES Public

- [1] Henry Whitehouse (55), blacksmith and licensed victualler, born Shelfield;
- [2] Charlott Whitehouse (51), wife, born Shelfield;
- [3] John Whitehouse (20), son, blacksmith, born Shelfield;
- [4] Stephen Whitehouse (18), son, blacksmith, born Shelfield;
- [5] Esther Peakman (14), general servant, born Shelfield;
- [6] Thomas W. Wright (13), visitor, born Shelfield;
- [7] Edward Waggin (75), lodger, labourer, born Pelsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1878

“Thomas Lowe and Timothy Heeley, both of Shelfield, were charged with wounding Job Bullingham, of the same place. Mr. Elliott (of the firm of Messrs. Duignan and Co.) appeared for Heeley. It was shown that on the 28th ult the parties met at the FOUR CROSSES INN, and a good deal of ‘chaffing’ went on, of which the complainant was the victim. After a time he fetched a potato fork, stating, when asked, that it was ‘for no harm.’ The defendants then endeavoured to take the fork from him, and struck him several times, Heeley using a poker. Heeley was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment with hard labour, and Lowe was fined 10s and costs or one month’s imprisonment in default.”

Walsall Observer 31/1/1885

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Tuesday, before S. Stokes, T. A. Negus, E. T. Holden, and J. Maylor, Esqrs, Harriet Awcote, a domestic servant in the employ of Peter Aspinall, of the FOUR CROSSES INN, was charged with stealing a necklet, a rosary, and other articles, value 2s.

Elizabeth Aspinall, daughter of the above, stated that on the 11th inst, she missed a number of articles, including those mentioned in the charge, and on the 12th they were found in prisoner’s box. Prisoner had been employed in the house as a servant about eight weeks, and during that time her mother had missed several things.

Police-constable Alldritt stated that on the 19th inst, from information received, he arrested prisoner at the house of her aunt, Mrs. Nutting. He charged her with stealing the goods and requested her to deliver them up from her box. She did so immediately, and in reply to the charge, said the articles had been given to her. The witness identified the articles in his presence, and she was given into custody.

Prisoner said she had not stolen them, but they had been given to her by Miss Aspinall for taking letters to the post and doing other things for her about which she did not want her parents to know.

This statement was denied by witness, who stated that the rosary belonged to the church, and she would not have given it away on any account.

Mrs. Nutting, aunt to prisoner, stated the girl had no mother or father, and had lived with her until she went to Mrs. Aspinall’s.

Until this charge the aunt said she had not known the girl to be guilty of any such behaviour as that with which she was charged.

Mr. Stokes said there was some little doubt in the case, and prisoner would receive the benefit of it, but he hoped it would act as a warning to her in future.

Prisoner was then discharged.”

Lichfield Mercury 17/10/1890

“Mr. P. Aspinall, of the FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, applied for a temporary theatrical license for two nights, for the benefit of a chapel. He had previously been granted a similar application. The Bench acceded to the application.”

1891 Census

Green Lane – FOUR CROSSES

- [1] Peter Aspinall (62), publican, born Manchester;
- [2] Margaret Aspinall (59), wife, born Manchester;
- [3] Frederick Aspinall (24), son, solicitor, born Walsall;
- [4] Austin Aspinall (19), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Aspinall (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Street (52), general servant, born Walsall;
- [7] Anna McGrath (16), general servant, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 10/7/1891

“Peter Aspinall, landlord of the FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, was charged with assaulting Thomas George Henry, of Birmingham, barman, 28th June.

Complainant said unfortunately his wife was unable to attend, owing to suffering from influenza, and this was his only witness.

The Clerk informed him that his wife’s evidence was not admissible. The complainant said under these circumstances he would withdraw the case, as the whole evidence would come out in the County Court, he having sued his employer for wages.

The charge was withdrawn.”

Lichfield Mercury 6/4/1894 - Advert

“Wanted, good strong, clean General Servant, for public house; early riser.
FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, near Walsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 29/7/1898

“On Monday at the Rushall Police Court, Peter Aspinall, FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, was granted an occasional license to sell at the Catholic sports at Shelfield, on the 22nd of August.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Joseph Bowen, FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, was elected a member of the society as from 1st July, 1899.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1900 - Deaths

“On the 8th inst, Peter Aspinall, FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield, aged 70 years.”

Lichfield Mercury 6/4/1900

“A domestic servant named Miriam Green of the FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, was charged with stealing water from a tap belonging to the South Staffordshire Waterworks Co.

Mr. Lowe (Johnson, Barclay and Lowe, Birmingham), who prosecuted, stated that some farm cottages adjoining the house in question were supplied by the Company, but not the public house itself, which was supplied by a pump.

Nathaniel Flowers, employed by the Company, stated in consequence of a report, he on the 16th of March watched the tap in question and saw the defendant fill a jug thereat and go into the house. Mr. Lowe said he had no wish to press the case, but people must understand that they could not be allowed to steal the water.

Defendant pleaded guilty and said she was not aware there was any harm in it. She was ordered to pay the costs, 8s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 8/12/1900

“On Friday evening a complimentary supper at the FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield, was given to Mr. George Price, ME, of Shelfield, who is leaving England to take over the position of manager at one of the collieries for the Assam Mining and Railway Company, of Assam, India.....”

1901 Census

Walsall Wood – FOUR CROSSES INN

[1] Joseph J. Bowen (30), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;

[2] Florence E. Bowen (27), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Joseph E. Bowen (5), son, born Birmingham;

[4] Tom Bowen (3), son, born Walsall Wood;

[5] Miriam Green (27), domestic servant, born Brownhills:

Lichfield Mercury 14/6/1901

“James Fletcher, of New Road, Shelfield, was summoned for being disorderly and refusing to quit the FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, on the 1st inst, and doing damage to a window to the extent of 2s 6d.

Joseph Bowen, the manager, said the defendant went to the house about 8pm, the worse for beer. After ordering him out, witness put him out. Afterwards the defendant turned back and smashed the window. In the house he used very bad language.

The defendant was fined 5s and costs and ordered to pay 2s 6d damage, altogether £1 4s 6d.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

“A contest which aroused considerable interest in Black Country boxing circles was decided on Monday night at Transfield’s Circus, Walsall, when Blondin Hawkins (Walsall) met to Harry Broome (Birmingham) the best of twelve rounds under strictly new rules for £20 a side and a purse of gold, given by Tom Wooley, the prime mover in the event. It will be remembered that Hawkins and Broome fought at a tournament in Walsall some time ago, when Hawkins was given the verdict on points with the left. Jabez White, the 9st 4lb Champion of England, took Broome in hand, whilst Hawkins made his training headquarters the FOUR CROSSES at Shelfield, under Joe Knapp, the veteran George Holden rendering him assistance. Both men were therefore trained up to the hour, and entered the ring as fit as possible. There was a large attendance, and enthusiasm was intense, but feelings were kept under admirable restraint. In the first round Hawkins inflicted a deal of punishment principally with his left. But Broome had an excellent defence. As the round was closing Hawkins fell, appearing to have been thrown, but an appeal for a foul was disregarded. Round 2 again found Hawkins the aggressor, but afterwards Broome improved his position and made some good returns. He was cool and collected, and always on his guard. He had some heavy blows directed at him, but evaded many skilfully. At the sixth round both men appeared to have a lot in hand, and responded readily for the seventh. This round, however, had scarcely gone a minute before Hawkins was beaten. He lay against the ropes and gave up, his collapse seeing to come as much of a surprise to his opponent as to the majority of the audience.”

Lichfield Mercury 10/1/1902

“William Hewitt, The Vigo, Walsall Wood, was charged with refusing to quit the FOUR CROSSES INN, Sheffield, and was fined 5s and 8s 6d costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/1/1903

“James Torndry, labourer, Green Lane, Sheffield, was charged with disorderly behaviour. Joseph Bowen, landlord of the FOUR CROSSES INN, Sheffield, stated that at half-past eleven on the night of the 29th ult, the defendant behaved in a very disorderly manner outside the house, and accused witness of being a ‘copper’s spy,’ said he’d dance a hornpipe on his chest if he would come outside. Mary Arrowsmith corroborated, and the defendant who had been previously convicted, was fined 10s and 9s costs, or 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Member. C. Dalton, FOUR CROSSES INN, Sheffield.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1908 - Advert

“T. Boulter & Son, Shire Oak (Near Walsall), Brewers, Maltsters, Spirit & Hop Merchants.

Noted Home-Brewed Ales And Stouts.

Guaranteed Brewed From Pure Malt and Hops Only.

The SHIRE OAK INN, which is within ten minute’s walk of Walsall Tramway terminus at Walsall Wood, has been thoroughly renovated, and an excellent Bowling Green put down.

An Entirely New And Up-To-Date Brewing Plant has been installed, ensuring that our Ales and Stouts are of the finest possible quality.

Our Ales are to obtained at the MINERS ARMS, Rushall.

FOUR CROSSES, Sheffield.

The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall (Mr. P. Claridge’s).

THE STORES, Freer Street, Walsall.

The Swan, Stonnall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1921

“The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall Division were held on Monday.....

All the licenses would be renewed with the exception of.....

FOUR CROSSES, Sheffield.....

In these cases, alterations were necessary, and the Bench would defer consideration until they had visited the premises and inspected the plans.”

Colin Stewart was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Walsall Observer 5/7/1924

“A capital programme was given by Captain Dickenson and his party at a benefit concert held at the FOUR CROSSES INN, Sheffield, on Wednesday evening. Councillor E. Birch presided over a large and appreciative audience.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/11/1924

“Rushall Police Court. ‘I have never seen a house in such a bad state,’ said the Chairman, referring to the FOUR CROSSES INN, Sheffield, in respect of which approval of plans for alterations was sought. Mr. Greatrex said he did not wonder at any tenant objecting to live in the house. Rain dripped through the roof in several places, and the premises wanted renovating all through. Mr. Gordon Hawley, who made the application, said it was proposed to remedy all those things. The Chairman said fresh plans would have to be made, as a lot more required doing than was shown on the plans. Progress could be made with some of the alterations, and unless the house was put into proper order the magistrates could not think of renewing the license.”

Gertrude Lilian Baddock = Gertude Lilian Badcock

1939 Register

Green Lane, Sheffield – FOUR CROSSES INN

[1] Gertrude L. Baddock, date of birth 7/10/1880, licensee, widowed:

Walsall Observer 22/2/1941

“Arranged by Mr. William Taylor to help the comforts fund for local serviceman, a supper was held in the annexe of the FOUR CROSSES HOTEL, Sheffield, on Thursday week. It was so successful, both socially and financially, that the function is likely to be repeated. Mrs. Taylor, the wife of the promoter, led an enthusiastic band of willing lady helpers in the catering arrangements. Under the chairmanship of Mr. Ernest Sutton, a most enjoyable variety entertainment was afterwards provided by Messrs. Dennis Wright, Miss Doreen Brown, Mrs. Eunice Howells, Mrs. Doris Hodgkiss, Messrs. Larry Ford, Bertie Taylor and Bert Bonser, with Mr. Arthur Taylor and Miss Howells as accompanists.”

Walsall Observer 12/12/1958

“The call was ‘drinks on the house’ on Monday when the new extensions to the FOUR CROSSES INN, Shelfield, were opened after completion of work which started in April. The new part of the enlarged premises was opened by Mr. Claude Roe. More than 175 years ago, the FOUR CROSSES INN was a forge, and it later became a public house. Over the years it has been completely rebuilt without losing a single day’s trade.

The old bar has been turned into a smoke-room of ultra-modern atmosphere with subdued lighting. The new bar was once a store room, and is reputed to be the spot where the village blacksmith used to shoe horses. That room is now illuminated by strip lighting, and the ring of the smithy’s anvil has been replaced by the noise of a juke box.”

Graham Holt died in 2005.

[2017]

FOUR HORSE SHOES

41, Wellington Street / Bescot View (Rolling Mill Street) (Narrow Lane), (Park Lane), Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Hipwood, COACH AND HORSES, Walsall
Jemima Hipwood [1899]
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.
William Hopwood, Wednesbury
George Hopwood, Wednesbury
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1898)

LICENSEES

Joseph Parkes [1842] – 1863)
John Parkes [1864] – [1870]
Job Toon [1871] – [1873];
Mrs. Elizabeth Hickin [1876] – [1879];
Arthur Scattergood [];
John Perry [];
Edward Cooper [];
Kate Douglas [];
John Douglas [] – 1887);
John Lockley (1887 – 1888);
Joseph West (1888 – 1889);
Alfred Stockley (1889 – 1901);
Jane Harber (1901 – 1902);
John William Howley (1902 – 1903);
Thomas Heath (1903 – 1904);
Isaiah Davies (1904 – 1905);
Frederick ‘Fred’ Paddock (1905 – 1924);
Job Tyler (1924 – 1939);
Harold Maurice Moseley (1939 – 1940);
Francis Chilton (1940);
Mrs. Frances Norah Chilton (1940 – 1943);
Harry Wood (1943 – 1949);
Joseph William Wood (1949 – 1967);
George Ernest Holmes (1967 – [])
Bruce Elwell [1983]

NOTES

Rolling Mill Street [1858]

Park Lane, Pleck [1860]
41, Wellington Street [1901], [1911], [1932], [1940]

HORSE SHOE [1849]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/6/1842 - Advert

".....The house of Mr. Joseph Parkes, sign of the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, near Walsall....."

Joseph Parkes was also a blacksmith. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/11/1850 - Notice

"All Persons holding Cottages under the Right Honourable, the Earl of Bradford, at the following places within the Manor of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, are requested to Pay their Rents as directed underneath:

Coal Heath, Shelfield, Green Lane, Iron Dish, Walsall Wood, Holly Bank, Shire Oaks, Pepper Alley, Paul's Coppice, Clayhanger, Catshill, Goblin's Pit, and High Heath, will be received at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Walsall Wood, on Thursday, the 14th of November at ten o'clock.

Broadstone, Harden, Blakenall Heath, Bloxwich Lane, Little Bloxwich, Fistley, Wallington Heath, Short Heath, and Dead Man's Heath, will be received at the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Friday, the 15th day of November, at ten o'clock.

Fullbrook, Walsall Towns End, Flaxoven, Blue Lane, Birchills Lane, Bloxwich Lane, Birchills, Park Brook, Wednesbury Road, the Pleck, and Bescote, will be received at the HORSE SHOES, at the Pleck, on Saturday, the 16th of November, at ten o'clock.

John Potter, Stewart of Walsall Manor.

Cross Street, Walsall 23rd October, 1850.

N.B. Attendance will be given from ten to three o'clock. No arrears will be allowed to remain outstanding after rent days."

1851 Census

Pleck

[1] Joseph Parkes (54), blacksmith, born Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Parkes (52), wife, born Staffordshire;

[3] John Parkes (24), son, born Staffordshire;

[4] Mary Parkes (22), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[5] Jemima Parkes (19), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[6] Ann Maria Parkes (17), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[7] Emma Parkes (11), daughter, born Staffordshire;

[8] Caroline Woodward (4), niece, born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1852 - Marriages

"On the 25th ult, at Cannock, by the Rev. T. Blackburne, Mr. John Pagett, provision dealer, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall, to Miss Mary, second daughter of Mr. Joseph Parkes, FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, near Walsall."

1861 Census

Pleck – Public House – FOUR HORSE SHOES

[1] Joseph Parkes (64), widower, victualler, born Coseley;

[2] John Parkes (34), son, blacksmith employing 1 boy, born Pleck;

[3] Ann M. Parkes (27), daughter, born Pleck;

[4] Emma Parkes (21), daughter, born Pleck;

[5] Harriett Loyde (21), servant, born Sedgley;

[6] Alfred Clarke (16), apprentice blacksmith, born Smethwick:

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1863 - Deaths

"On the 22nd instant, very suddenly, Mr. Joseph Parkes, of the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, Walsall, aged 67."

Walsall Free Press 25/7/1863

"Between eight and nine o'clock, on Wednesday morning, Joseph Parkes, aged seventy-six, landlord of the FOUR HORSE SHOES public house, Pleck, came downstairs; but feeling very ill, he retired to bed again, and expired in about ten minutes afterwards. Deceased had been ailing for some time before his death; but nothing serious was apprehended to prior to the morning of his decease."

John Parkes was also a shoeing and jobbing smith. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 3/11/1866 - Notice

"Walsall Manorial Cottage Premises.

All Parties holding Cottages at the following places, within the manor of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, are requested to Pay Their Rents as directed underneath.

Coal Heath, Shelfield, Green Lane, Iron Ditch, Walsall Wood, Holly Bank, Shire Oaks, Pepper Alley, Paul's Coppice, Clayhanger,

Catshill, Goblin's Pit, The Vigo, and High Heath, will be received at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on Thursday, the 8th of November from Eleven till Three o'clock.

Broadstone, Harden, Blakenall, Bloxwich Lane, Little Bloxwich, Fishley, Wallington Heath, Short Heath, and Dead Man's Heath, will be received at the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Friday, the 9th of November, from Eleven till Three o'clock.

Fullbrook, Walsall Town's End, Blue Lane, Birchills Lane, Stafford Street, Birchills, Park Brook, Wednesbury Road, The Pleck, and Bescote, will be received at the HORSE SHOES, at The Pleck, near Walsall, on Saturday, the 10th day of November, from Eleven o'clock till Three o'clock.

John Porter, St. George's Buildings, The Bridge, Walsall, 1st October, 1866."

London Gazette 8/1/1869

"John Parkes, of the FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, at the Pleck, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Blacksmith, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 14th of December, 1868, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, at the Court-House, Goodall Street, Walsall, on the 30th day of January next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said, bankrupt to surrender. Frederick C. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and William Crump Thomas, of Walsall is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy."

1871 Census

Pleck – FOUR HORSE SHOES

- [1] Job Toon (50), publican, born Warwick;
- [2] Elizabeth Toon (49), wife, born Warwick;
- [3] John Toon (18), son, hame maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary J. Toon (16), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Joseph Toon (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ellen Toon (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Fanny Toon (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Job Toon was also a carpenter.

Elizabeth Hickin = Elizabeth Hicklin

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

"Adjourned Licensing Session..... The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:

Elizabeth Hicken, the FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, the Pleck In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/11/1879

"The following have filed petitions for liquidation in the Walsall County Court.....

Elizabeth Hicklin, FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, the Pleck, Walsall, licensed victualler; liabilities £250; solicitor, Mr. J. E. Sheldon."

1891 Census

41, Wellington Street

- [1] Alfred Stockley (29), living on own means, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Mary Stockley (28), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Adelaide Stockley (3), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Alfred J. Stockley (1), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Brookes (17), general servant, born Oldbury;
- [6] Ellen Unitt (15), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Thomas Deakin, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton Street.....

Mr. John Sergeant, beerhouse keeper, of the NORTH WESTERN INN, Duncalf Street, Walsall, and Mr. Alfred Stockley, licensed victualler, of the FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, Wellington Street, The Pleck, were unanimously elected to fill vacancies on the committee."

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1895

"Mr. T. H. Stanley (Borough Coroner) held an inquest on Monday at the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, on the body of Selina Gertrude Hillman, aged seven months, daughter of Albert Joseph and Lizzie Bridgewater Hillman, of 25, Wellington Street, Pleck, who died on Friday afternoon. Dr. H. Shore's external examination gave him the opinion that the child died from convulsions, and a verdict accordingly was returned by the jury."

Walsall Observer 27/1/1900

“Walter Hughes is instructed to Sell by Auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, 30th January 1900.....

Lot 2. The Valuable Freehold Full-Licensed Public House, known by the sign of the FOUR HORSE SHOES, occupying an important position, and forming the corner of Wellington Street and Narrow Lane, now in the occupation of Mr. Alfred Stockley as a yearly tenant.

The premises comprise four bedrooms, bar, smokeroom, taproom, and kitchen, with two cellars, whilst the out-houses include brewhouse, malt room, carriage house, and stable; together with the adjacent double-fronted, six-roomed Dwelling House, with out-buildings, being No.43, Wellington Street, separately let at 4s 9d a week to Thomas Carter, the whole property containing an area of 675 square yards or thereabout, and having a frontage of 95 feet to Wellington Street and 87 feet to Narrow Lane or thereabout.

This is one of the few remaining Free Public Houses in this part of the Town, which in the last few years has so rapidly extended, over 150 houses having been recently erected in the immediate vicinity, whilst right in front of the House new streets are now being laid out for artisans' dwellings, to most of which this is the nearest Full-Licensed Inn; there is therefore a certainty of this House doing a very large trade. The area and frontages are ample for its being enlarged or re-built, and yet allowing a good drawing-in space for calling vehicles. Possession may be had on the 25th March 1901.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/2/1900

“On Tuesday evening Mr. Walter Hughes of Walsall, held a sale of licensed and other property at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall. A freehold house at The Pleck, Walsall, producing £10 8s a year, realised £90; full licensed public-house, the FOUR HORSE SHOES, at The Pleck, with possession at March 1901, realised £3,375, and a plot of freehold land at the rear, containing 500 square yards realised £100. Nos.110, 112, and 114, Pargeter Street, Walsall, producing £39 a year, leasehold for 99 years at a ground rent of £4 5s, realised £420. Freehold property in Lower North Street, Walsall, comprising Ivy Cottage, and the one storey cottage adjoining, producing £22 15s a year, realised £255, making a total for the evening's sale of £5,040.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1901

“On Tuesday, at the Walsall Police Court, before Messrs. W. H. Brookes, J. Scott, and S. B. Wheway, John Dalton, a member of the Walsall Police Force, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, and refusing to quit the FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, Pleck, when requested by the landlord, Alfred Stockley, on January 5th.

Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) appeared to prosecute on behalf of the Licensed Victuallers' Association. He said the case was a somewhat important one, because the defendant was apparently a member of the police force. The circumstances were simple. Stockley had kept the FOUR HORSE SHOES for a period of twelve years. On Saturday night, at a few minutes before ten, the defendant came lumbering into his kitchen and demanded drink. The landlord seeing his condition, told him he could not have any, and ordered him out of the house. The landlord served one or two customers, and thought the defendant had left the house. On going into the bar however, he found him lying on the bench, practically doubled up. The landlord again told him to go out of the house, but he mumbled and grumbled, and nothing intelligible could be got out of him. Defendant was dressed in plain clothes, and looked like a navvy or something of that kind. A number of customers tried to persuade the defendant to go out, and after a great deal of difficulty he was persuaded to go. A man named Joseph Ankrett, who was in the house at the time, seeing the defendant was a stranger there, tried to see if he could do anything for him by directing him on the road, but Dalton rather turned round on him and challenged him to a fight. Then apparently the police came up, and Inspector Ballance and other policemen went into the house. They seemed to recognise Dalton, and did not take him into custody. When defendant went into his house the landlord had not the faintest notion he had anything to do with the police. Defendant had a slouched hat, which nearly covered his face, and he was wearing very old dirty clothes, and he was in the landlord's opinion absolutely drunk. He had a holly stick in his pocket and kept repeating, ‘Touch me; you touch me.’ Defendant was in the house for quite thirty minutes and could not be got out. On account of the man not being taken into custody when the police came the landlord went down to the police station and lodged a formal complaint. When the man was got out of the house from information the landlord received he thought he was something to do with the police, and the prosecution thought in justice to the public they should bring the matter before the Court. It had been said that some men were going about the town in disguise, but certainly a licensed victuallers' task was quite difficult enough without being led into traps as it were. And if the defendant did go there for the purpose of trying to trap the landlord it was a very serious thing indeed, and he should ask the Bench to mark their recognisance of the matter and try and prevent people going about in disguise. It was very difficult for a landlord to conduct his business absolutely satisfactorily without having those things to put up with.

Dalton pleaded ‘Not guilty.’

Alfred Stockley (the landlord) said that on Saturday night Dalton came tumbling into the kitchen, slamming the door. He asked to be supplied with half a pint of ale, but witness's opinion was that he had had enough and he refused to serve him, ordering him to leave the house. Defendant left the room shortly afterwards and witness attended to two or three customers, thinking that defendant had left the house. However, on going into the bar he found defendant there. Defendant was lying not two-double but ‘three-double’ on a bench (laughter), and instead of going out defendant took an orange from his pocket and commenced peeling it. He was asked more than half a dozen times to go, but ultimately Mrs. Stockley sent for the police. Defendant challenged witness to touch him, and he was almost inclined to do so but he was frightened. He thought defendant was drunk, because they could get neither sense nor reason out of him.

Cross-examined by the Chief Constable: Witness did not hear anyone say that defendant was a police spy, nor did he himself say that he should make Mr. Gardiner account for his conduct. His wife said to him, ‘Don't put your fingers on such a lounger.’ His wife was ill in consequence of the incident. Witness did not hear anyone say to Dalton, as he lay on the palisades outside, ‘I’ll knock the —— stuffing out of you.’ Defendant seemed to be about three times as big as he was now, and he tumbled about. Witness took him by his dress, to have come out of a pig truck, or to be a drover of some kind (laughter). Witness generally had respectable people in his house.

Joseph Ankrett, of Chapman Street, West Bromwich, said he was in the house at the time defendant entered. He took him to be a nice respectable chap, and he thought it was a pity to see him drunk. In the street defendant told witness he was a stranger, and was lost. He directed him to either Walsall, Wednesbury, or Darlaston, upon which defendant replied, ‘Who do you think you are talking to?’ Witness replied that he did not know nor care, but if he was a detective he did not think much of his ability. A policeman came up, and thereupon defendant asked witness for his name.

Mr. Newman (deputy magistrates’ clerk): The officer did not arrest defendant? There was some recognition? – Witness replied that there seemed great affinity between them.

Mr. Jackson: Affinity of the soul.

Witness went on to describe the attitude which defendant assumed in the taproom. He buried his face in his hands, swayed backwards and forwards, and continued calling out, ‘I want some beer; I want some rest’ (laughter). When defendant pulled out an orange to eat he was told by the landlord that his place was not an orange shop. It was further remarked in the house that there had been other suspicious persons loitering about the house, dressed as sweeps and niggers. When Police-constable Cartwright went up defendant seemed to recover himself, but his talk was not very clear.

By Mr. Loxton: Witness though defendant was drunk and not shamming.

Another witness said he took defendant to be someone out of work, who did not care what he did. He went tumbling into the house like some rough beggar.

This was all the evidence for the prosecution, and the defendant was put into the box.

Before he made his statement, the Chief Constable said defendant went to the house on his instructions.

Defendant, who spoke in the Irish brogue, said he had been on the police force five months. He got his instructions how to act about 9pm on the date named from Chief Inspector Ballance, and got to the house about 9.40pm. He remained on the premises about a quarter of an hour his instructions being to remain there until he had seen the inspector. He was told to go in the best possible disguise and in the roughest manner. He was quite sober, but he assumed a staggering gait to avoid suspicion that he was a policeman.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates’ clerk): Is pretending to be drunk the greatest possible disguise for a policeman? – Witness: No, sir; not that; but I had to go as much unlike a policeman as possible.

He went in a stooping posture. He had never been drunk in his life, nor did he sham drunkenness. He considered outside the house which would be the best way for him to act, and decided as he as dressed as a cattle drover he had better ask for a drink. When he got inside the landlord said, ‘What do you want?’ ‘I want a drink, says I,’ said witness. His request was refused, and the landlord added that he had been visited lately by some more rough customers like witness and he should call Mr. Gardiner to account for it. Witness told him to keep cool, and not trouble himself (laughter). Shortly afterwards someone asked him if he was not a detective or a Government inspector, or ‘what the ‘divil are yer.’

In reply to questions, witness said he went to the police office after disguising himself.

By Mr. Jackson: Witness had previously visited a public house, but his disguise was a bit more respectable on that occasion.

Mr. Jackson: Have you a wardrobe of disguises? – I disguise to suit the occasion.

Do you disguise to entrap people?

The Chief Constable here objected to the question.

As regarding his stopping in the house witness said he was eating his orange. He took his time over it, and it lasted for ten minutes. He went there to see if there was any drunkenness or gambling going on. He was not told to pretend drunkenness.

Mr. Wheway inquired if supposing he was pretending drunkenness witness had been supplied with drink would he have reported it? Witness replied ‘Yes.’

Mr. Loxton: Then how can you say that you were not sent there to trap the landlord?

An argument ensued, and Dalton said he had misunderstood the question put by Mr. Wheway. He should not have reported the matter. Witness was, however, closely examined on the point.

Chief-Inspector Ballance deposed to sending Dalton to the public-house. He did not supply him with money for liquor, and he denied that the officer was drunk. He did not instruct him to act drunkenness, but simply told him to disguise himself and see how the house was conducted. Witness would not have accepted a report that Dalton was supplied with drink whilst he was drunk.

Dalton told him that some man had threatened to throw him into the canal.

The magistrates eventually decided to dismiss the case, and deemed it wise not to express any opinion.

Mr. Jackson: I hope it will put a stop to these obnoxious practices.”

1901 Census

41, Wellington Street

[1] Thomas Harber (57), builder and contractor, born Worcester;

[2] Jane Harber (50), wife, licensed victualler, born Worcester;

[3] Albert Harber (18), son, carpenter and joiner, born Worcester:

John Howley = John Howely

Walsall Advertiser 17/5/1902

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last Mr. John Howely, FOUR HORSE SHOES INN, Wellington Street, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....
Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....
Thomas Heath, FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck. The complaints as to this house referred to approaches other than from Wellington Street. Mr. Underhill, for the Wolverhampton and Dudley Brewery Company, asked for particulars of what the Bench required, and the case was adjourned to next Thursday.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....
The Chief Constable intimated his desire that the license of the FOUR HORSE SHOES, the Pleck, should stand over, because alterations had been carried into effect which had not been authorised by the magistrates.
Mr. S. A. Newman remarked that he did not know whether he had any locus standi in the matter, seeing that notice of opposition had not been given, and also having regard to the fact that the Chief Constable had not stated any alterations had been made which were in contravention of the statute.
Mr. C. Loxton (clerk) drew attention to the fact that the Chief Constable stated that the alterations had not been sanctioned by the Bench.
Mr. Newman: They are not unlawful alterations.
It was decided that the matter should be deferred until the next licensing day.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....
Applications were also made for the renewal of the licenses of the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck which had been opposed.....
With reference to the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, Mr. Newman stated that whatever alterations had been made at the house, whether rightly or wrongly, lawfully or unlawfully, if unsatisfactory to the Bench it should be restored to its former position. He hoped the Bench would accept his apology, and not take such drastic steps as the refusing of license. They did not fly in the face of the justices, and carry out plans which had not been passed, but only in a modified form. Plans of the alterations were handed in. After hearing the explanations, the license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....
An application for alterations to the FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, the intention to move a door, was granted.”

1911 Census

41, Wellington Street – FOUR HORSE SHOES

- [1] Fred Paddock (52), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Paddock (49), wife, married 32 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Alfred Paddock (22), son, labourer gas works, born Walsall;
- [4] Clara Paddock (20), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Maud Paddock (16), daughter, leather worker, born Walsall;
- [6] Nellie Paddock (11), daughter, born Aldridge;
- [7] Ada Paddock (8), daughter, born Aldridge:

Frederick Paddock – see also VOLUNTEER.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
FOUR HORSE SHOES, Pleck, Walsall, 17s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
FOUR HORSE SHOES, Wellington Street. £11 18s 2d.”

It was rebuilt in 1936.

Job Tyler – see also ROMPING CAT.

1939 Register

Wellington Street – FOUR HORSE SHOES

- [1] Harold M. Moseley, date of birth 25/10/1882, publican, married;

[2] Florence M. Moseley, dob 19/11/1882, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] George Hadley, dob 6/6/1860, tram car cleaner, retired, widowed:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mrs. Chiltern, FOUR HORSE SHOES. £5 1s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOUR HORSE SHOES, Wellington Street. £6 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/12/1945

“On Sunday morning the Vicar of St. John’s Church, Pleck (the Rev. D. K. Robertson) had the unusual experience of conducting a short service in the bar of a public house, with a congregation of about a hundred local people. The service was held at the FOUR HORSESHOES, Wellington Street, Pleck, and was arranged for the dedication of a tablet to the memory of the FOUR HORSE-SHOES Comforts Fund, all former residents, who were killed in action during the war.

The tablet is in the form of a large oaken horseshoe surmounted by three smaller horseshoes, and the names of the seven men are inscribed on a small silver plate in the centre. Around the edge are mounted the photographs of the seven men: Pte. G. Trainor (Leicestershire Regiment), Sergeant D. M. Brandrick (Air Gunner RAF), Pte. W. Stone (Shropshire Light Infantry), A. B. H. Beddard (Royal Navy), Pte. W. Stone (Shropshire Light Infantry), Guardsman S. Poole (Inniskilling Dragoon Guards), Pte. C. Slyn (South Staffordshire Regiment). The tablet was made by Mr. A. Glover, who is a member of the committee.

During the last three years the committee have raised the splendid sum of £1,600, which has been distributed in periodical gifts to 117 men whose homes are in the Pleck district. The licensee of the FOUR HORSESHOES is Mr. H. Wood, and the chairman of the committee is Mr. I. Palmer, a well-known local sportsman.”

[2007]

It was renamed GABBA’S BAR. [2009], [2010]

Closed [2012], [2017]

FOUR SEASONS

Spring Lane / Birch Lane, High Heath, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Bass Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/7/1992

“They’re the pubs that YOU think are the best in the Midlands – and now they’re all in the running for our prestigious Midland Town and Country Pub of the Year.....

The Evening Mail has teamed up for the contest with the Midland Counties Brewers’ and Licensed Retailers’ Association, to raise a toast to the very best of our region’s pubs. Now it is up to the judges, who face a huge task choosing the two winners from the enormous entry. They’ll be looking for service and standards of comfort demanded by today’s discerning pub-goer. And they will be awarding marks for another important ingredient of a successful pub – the part it plays as a hub of social life in the community.....

FOUR SEASONS, Pelsall, Walsall.”

It was one of the last 20 finalists in the Evening Mail Midland Pub of the Year competition in 1992.

[2005]

Closed

Demolished [2007]

Housing was built on the site.

FOUR WAYS

Reedswood Lane, (57, Birchills Street), (Birchill Road), (Old Birchills), (Upper) 15, Birchills), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Green, locksmith, Old Birchills, Walsall
Thomas Green
George Thomas, BLACK HORSE, Short Acre Street
John Lord, Walsall
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939) [1982]

LICENSEES

Thomas Green [1871] – 1890);
Henry Holden (1890 – 1891);
William Stackhouse (1891 – 1893);
Harriet Ann Riley (1893 – 1896);
Herbert Tuckley (1896 – 1901);
William Edward Cooper (1901 – 1903);
Samuel Bird (1903 – 1905);
James Henry Walton (1905 – 1928);
William Randall (1928 – 1929);
Ernest William Price (1929 – 1942);
Harold Green (1942 – 1951);
Walter Raymond Lynch (1951 – 1961);
Robert Watson (1961 – 1962);
John Henry Davies (1962 – [1966])

NOTES

Upper Birchills [1872], [1881]
15, Birchills [1932], [1940]
57, Birchills Street
Reedswood Road [1939]
Reedswood Lane [1993]

It had a beerhouse license.

1871 Census

Birchills – FOUR WAYS INN

- [1] Thomas Green (31), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Hannah Green (28), wife, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [3] Clara Green (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Jane Green (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Green (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Green (2 months), son, born Walsall:

Thomas Green, beer retailer, Birchill Road. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1873

“The committee of the Walsall Cottage Hospital beg to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions that have been received up to yesterday from the Licensed Victuallers and beersellers.....

Mr. T. Green, FOUR WAYS beerhouse, Birchills, 5s.”

1881 Census

Old Birchills – FOUR WAYS INN

- [1] Thomas Green (40), locksmith, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Green (37), wife, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [3] Jane Green (17), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice Green (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Green (2 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1890

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Thomas Green, the FOUR WAYS INN, the Birchills, was summoned for having sold ale during prohibited hours. Detective-officer Pritchard deposed that at 3.20 on the afternoon of Sunday, the 30th ult, he saw a woman leave the defendant’s house with a jug containing a quart of ale, and on taking her back to the house he found that the defendant was away from home, and that the ale was said to have been supplied by a girl, Mrs. Green being upstairs at the time. The defendant pleaded guilty, and was fined 40s and costs.”

London Gazette 20/6/1890

“Receiving Orders.....

Green, Thomas. Bentley-lane, Birchills, Walsall, Staffordshire, lately residing at the FOUR WAYS INN, Birchills Green, Walsall. Lockmaker.”

Plans were passed in 1891, but were not allowed by the building surveyor.

A new license was granted on 28th August 1891.

Herbert Tuckley = Herbert Buckley

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall..... Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) applied for permission to re-build and extend the FOUR WAYS INNS, Birchills. The house he said was licensed before the 1869 Act, and it was now proposed to entirely re-build it. There was at present a cottage on the licensed area jutting into the house, and this it was proposed to absorb, though the corner leading into Reeds Wood Lane would be given over to the Corporation. This plot covered 29 yards, and was exactly the same area as the cottage covered. The site of the cottage itself would be thrown into the yard. It was palpable that a house erected thirty-five years ago was now totally inadequate to the requirements of the neighbourhood, and it was proposed to substitute for the existing house a substantial but not ‘flashy’ building. The plans had been approved by the Borough Surveyor, the Chief Constable did not oppose, and there would be no increased area nor any advance in the nature of the license, which, it was proposed, should, so far as the pre-1869 license went, lapse, and they knew the new one issued would be far more under the control of the Bench. Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. J. Addison) said he was not there to make factious opposition to any license, and therefore in the exercise of his own judgement he should withdraw his opposition to the proposed plans. The application would place the house under the control of the Bench, and its granting would make no increase in the number of licensed houses in the district. Mr. Herbert said he was instructed by the Walsall Temperance Federation, the Rev. Wynn-Griffith, and others. The Chief Constable said he should not now oppose the application, and under the proposed conditions the house would be better subject to control.”

It was rebuilt in 1896.

Walsall Advertiser 7/11/1896

“William Hogan, of 14, Birchills Green, had a more drastic way of settling his accounts. Recently he received from a debt collector, named Henry Parker, 105, Railway Street, a County Court summons for a debt. This aroused his anger, and on Sunday evening he saw Parker in the FOUR WAYS, Birchills, and, following him, seized him by the throat and threw him on his back. He fell on some bricks, with the result that his head and ear were cut and he was rendered insensible.

Thus did Mr. J. Armstrong, who represented Parker, explain the circumstance to the Bench, and complainant and Mr. Buckley, landlord of the FOUR WAYS, having confirmed his statement in evidence, George Lowe, complainant’s brother-in-law, said that on Sunday evening he heard defendant threaten to murder complainant.

Defendant now meekly remarked that he had nothing to say.

The Clerk (Mr. Loxton): Nothing at all? No doubt it is very vexing to get a County Court summons, especially if a lawyer’s name is not on it (laughter).

The Bench said the assault must be regarded as a very serious one, and defendant must pay 20s and costs, or undergo one month’s hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/5/1898

“Walsall Unity Football Club. The third general meeting in connection with this club will be held on Monday evening at Mr. Tuckley’s, FOUR WAYS HOTEL, Birchills, at 8.30 prompt, when all interested are invited to attend.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“The Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the FOUR WAYS INN, Birchills, in reference to the death of Jim Wood, aged 18 weeks, whose parents reside at 10, Bentley Lane.

John Wood (father of the deceased) gave evidence of identification, and stated that he lived at 10, Bentley Lane, and was a wheelwright. On Wednesday morning he went to work at about six o’clock, leaving deceased all right in bed, his wife being downstairs nursing another child they had, which was ill.

Emily Wood (wife of the last witness) stated that she had been up all night with the other child, and at eight o’clock she went upstairs to deceased. His eyes and mouth were open, and he looked strange. She called the next door neighbour and another person, who said the child was dead.

Dr. P. A. Shore, stated that he examined the child on Wednesday morning, when he was called to the house. Deceased was in bed and quite dead. He was lying on his left side, with his head drawn more than was natural on to the back of his neck. His hands were clenched, and his face was pale, and his knees were drawn up. This indicated convulsions, which caused his death. A verdict of Death by Natural causes was returned.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“An inquest was held by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) on Thursday afternoon, at the FOUR WAYS INN, Birchills, on the body of a child named Sydney Arthur Devey (2), of 118, Old Birchills, who died on Tuesday as the result of drinking hot water from a kettle.

Mary Ann Devey, the wife of Arthur Devey, of 118, Old Birchills, gave evidence of identification of the body of her son, and deposed that on Sunday afternoon last, shortly after two o’clock, they were in the kitchen, the deceased standing by the fire grate, where a kettle of hot water, nearly boiling, was. The lad began to cry, and when they looked at him they saw that he had a blister along his bottom lip. Witness, from that conjectured that he had drunk some water out of the kettle, and she immediately poured some goose-oil down his throat. The next day she took deceased to Dr. P. A. Shore, but he died the following evening. Deceased could reach the kettle, and she knew of nothing else that he could get to.

Emma Williams, of 25, Forge Street, stated that she was at Mrs. Devey’s on Sunday, when she heard the child cry, and on the mother picking him up it was discovered that his lip was blistered. There was no water about, and witness thought it was steam that had caused the scalding.

Dr. P. A. Shore stated that on Monday last the child was brought to his surgery. He examined him thoroughly. The child was in a state of collapse, and his breathing was very short and difficult. There were blisters on the top and bottom lips, and on examining the throat he found it very much congested and swollen. He prescribed for the child, and told the mother to take him home. Next day he heard that the child was dead. In his opinion death was due to suffocation, caused by inflammation of the windpipe, probably due to the inhalation and swallowing of boiling water.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1901 Census

Old Birchills – Tavern – FOUR WAYS INN

- [1] Herbert Tuckley (35), beerhouse keeper, born Short Heath;
- [2] Emma Jane Tuckley (28), wife, domestic, born Wednesfield;
- [3] George Chaplin Tuckley (10), son, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mabel Annie Tuckley (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Herbert Henry Tuckley (6), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Emma Jane Tuckley (2), daughter, born Walsall;

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1903

“Today was the adjourned transfer day. Transfers of full licenses were granted in the case of....

Mr. J. N. Cotterell renewed his application for the granting of a transfer of the OLD OAK, Upper Hall Lane, from Mark Knight to Herbert Tuckley, who had been temporarily in authority for the last few weeks. He said that Tuckley had been a license holder upwards of twelve years, during which time no complaint or conviction had been registered against him. In September 1901, he left the FOUR WAYS, Birchills, and became steward of the Birchills Working Men’s Club, at 35s a week. Not liking club work, however, he applied, or intended to apply to be granted the license of a house in Ablewell Street, but was given to understand that he could not hold a license while steward of a club. He therefore gave up his appointment at the club, which he had had absolutely nothing to do with since. In July he was granted a temporary authority in respect of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, but he gave up that house very quickly, through a misunderstanding as to takings. Though a man of some means Tuckley had to earn his living, and for that reason he was applying for this transfer.

The Bench intimated that they wished to know Tuckley’s connection with the working men’s club.

Who paid him his wages while he was steward? – Applicant: The club.

Mr. Beebee asked how far the house at which the club was held was distant from the FOUR WAYS? – Mr. Cotterell said he did not know, but Dr. Lynch said that the two places were on opposite sides of the road.

Mr. Dean suggested that the club was really an opposition shop.

The next question was as to whose the house was which the club occupied? – The reply was it belonged to Mr. Tuckley, who, however, had granted a lease of it to the Butler’s Brewery Co, for 14 years.

Mr. Beebee said the justices were informed that Tuckley was well off, and had no necessity to keep a club or anything else.

Mr. Cotterell assured the Bench that his client had to earn his living, having a large family to keep, and further submitted that even if he had been a rich man that would not have been a ground for refusing the transfer.

Replying again applicant said that since his wife had leased the club house in Pargeter Street, he had had nothing to do with the club, and was in no way interested in the affair, except as regarded the lease.

Mr. Dean: Have you anything to do with another club in Hollyhedge Lane? – Applicant: No, sir.

Has your wife? – No, sir.

To whom does the property on which the club is held belong? – Mr. Maiden.

Is that your brother-in-law? – Yes.

Dr. Lynch: As a matter of fact, is not your wife financing that club? – No, sir.

Mr. Beebee said he did not know whether applicant could answer for his wife. It was not everyone that could (laughter).

Dr. Lynch asked if Butler's had not spent £650 in renovating the club premises? – Applicant did not know.

Mr. Dean said that when the law dealt as it did with licensed houses, they did not want to have people opening clubs, and then turning them over to brewery companies at big rents.

Applicant repeated that he had nothing to do with any club now. He added that he had not been on friendly terms with his brother-in-law for a long time who was concerned with the Hollyhedge Lane club.

The Chief Constable said he had no objection to Tuckley as licensee of the OLD OAK.

When the Town Clerk contemplated opposing Tuckley's application for a license, it was while he was steward of the Working Men's Club.

In reply to further questions applicant said the club in Pargeter Street was started in January, and he received notice to leave the FOUR WAYS in March, though he did not actually leave until September.

The justices after a short retirement, decided to grant the transfer."

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

1911 Census

Old Birchills – FOUR WAYS INN

[1] James Henry Walton (42), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Alice Hannah Walton (42), wife, married 23 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[3] Mary Ann Walton (18), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Annie Walton (16), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] James Eames Walton (14), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/10/1911

"An interesting match was decided on Monday, two contestants, named Alfred Beebee and Roland Yorke, walking from Walsall to Lichfield and back – a distance of twenty-one miles – for a stake of £10 a-side. The start was made from the FOUR WAYS, Birchills, about 8.30 in the morning, and Beebee, who is considerably the younger man, was eighteen minutes in front at Lichfield, but evidently over-exerted himself, for at Rushall, on the return journey, when he was twenty-two minutes in front, he collapsed. Yorke who is over forty years old, kept a uniform pace throughout, finished at the CURRIERS ARMS, Day Street, in 3hrs 53min."

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

"A dividend of 9/4 has been declared in connection with the FOUR WAYS Sick and Dividend Society, in which there are about 150 members. The society, which celebrates its 21st anniversary next year, has decided to become a Death and Dividend Society."

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

FOUR WAYS, Birchills, Walsall, 1s 6d."

John H. Walton was also a butcher. [1916]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FOUR WAYS, Birchills. £1 1s 3d."

Bilston & Willenhall Times 14/11/1925

"At Walsall Court on Tuesday, Thomas Cross, 63, Reedswood Lane, was fined 40s, and ordered to pay £4 4s damage, for wilfully breaking five tumblers and a glass panel at the FOUR WAYS INN, Birchills, and assaulting the licensee, William Randle. It was stated that Cross was remonstrated for using bad language, and he threw several glasses at Randle, one of which went through the glass panel of a window."

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

"More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord's houses.....

FOUR WAYS, Birchills.”

1939 Register

Birchills – FOUR WAYS INN

- [1] Ernest W. Price, date of birth 3/3/1881, licensee (manager), public house, married;
- [2] Eva M. Price, dob 20/10/1877, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Lilian N. (Price) Williams, dob 31/5/1920, clerk, typist, single, worker at ARP office;
- [4] Edna M. (Wilcox) Cornliffe, dob 13/6/1921, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 17/6/1941

“How a light came to be visible from the rear of the FOUR WAYS INN, Birchills, at 1.55am on May 22nd was explained at Walsall Police Court, when Harold Green, the licensee, was summoned for a breach of the regulations. Police War Reserve Beard stated that defendant told him the room from which the light was seen was formerly fitted with permanent black-out, but that had been removed in the interests of fuel economy. No one admitted having been in the room on the night in question, and it was a mystery to him how the light came to be left on. A fine of 10s was imposed in this case.”

Walsall Observer 13/12/1941

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday..... The president made sympathetic reference to the death of Mr. Ernest William Price of FOUR WAYS INN, Old Birchills, who joined the society in 1940.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions..... FOUR WAYS, Old Birchills. £3 10s 9d.”

A full license was granted on 3rd February 1949.

[1993]

Closed [2006], [2007]

It was converted into a shop. [2009]

FOX

34, (35), Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

J. D. Fletcher, wine merchant, Walsall
Edwin Smith, currier, Stafford Street, Walsall
Smith and Sons, curriers, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [c.1900]
Arthur Beebee (leased in 1907)
John Lord (acquired in 1925)
J. H. Smith, Stafford Street, Walsall
Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

Samuel Wood [1801] – [1813]
Mary Wood [1818]
Jane Bond* [1822]
Jane Labond* [1828] – [1835]
Samuel Stackhouse [1841] – [1842]
William Foxall [1845]
Mrs. Mary Jackson [1845] – [1851]
George Browning [] – 1857);
Thomas Emery (1857 – 1859)

Mrs. Emma Emery [1860] – [1861]
Thomas Glover [1861] – [1865]
David Stokes [1868] – [1870]
John Dace [1871] – 1887);
James Duppa Fletcher (1887 – 1890);
Mrs. Emma Curnock (1890 – 1906);
John William Chapman (1906 – 1907);
George Whitbrook (1907 – 1913);
George Henry Mole (1913);
Henry Chaplin (1913 – 1914);
Thomas Henry Hill (1914 – 1916);
Mary Ann Hill (1916 – 1919);
Thomas Henry Hill (1919 – 1924);
Raymond Edwin Markey (1924 – 1926);
Joseph Page (1926 – 1947);
John Molloy (1947 – 1959);
Lily Taylor (1959 – [1966]

NOTES

34, Stafford Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1908], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]
35, Stafford Street [1861]

It was situated almost opposite Littleton Street West.

It had a beerhouse license.

Samuel Wood was also an awl blade maker.

He was also the collector of King's taxes for the foreign of Walsall.

Samuel Wood, victualler, FOX, also collector of the King's taxes for the Foreign of Walsall. . [1813]

* possibly the same person

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/4/1838

“The Walsall pedestrian picked up two hundred stones one yard apart on Tuesday in three hours and thirty-five minutes, and can be backed against any man in England from £50 to £100. The money is ready at the FOX INN, Stafford Street. Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 23/1/1847

“An inquest was held at four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon last, at the FOX INN, Stafford Street, Walsall, before William Cotterill, Esq, coroner for the borough, on the body of a child, aged three years, named Mary Jane Reynolds, daughter of Aaron Reynolds, of the Fox Yard, Stafford Street, who was accidentally burnt to death on the 18th instant. The body presented a horrifying appearance, being literally burnt to a cinder. It appeared from the evidence of the mother of the deceased that on the day in question she locked her three children in the house, and whom she had previously put into bed, while she proceeded to take her husband's dinner. On her return she found that two of them had got out of bed, and she was horrified at finding the body of the deceased on the hearth a mouldering heap. A verdict of Accidentally Burned to Death was returned.”

1851 Census

Stafford Street

[1] Mary Jackson (52), married, victualler, born Leng [Lyng?], Staffordshire;

[2] David Maybury (39), lodger, forgerman, born Wolverley, Worcestershire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1854

“William Small, for fighting at the FOX, Stafford Street, was fined 20s and costs, or be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

“Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers' licenses.....

Thos. Emery, Blakenhall. Refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/10/1859 - Deaths

“On the 11th instant, after a lingering illness, aged 38 years, Mr. Thomas Emery, FOX INN, Stafford Street, Walsall, much respected and deeply regretted.”

Thomas Emery was born circa 1821 and died in October 1859.
He had been a coachman at Moxhall Hall, Lichfield.
He was married to Emma.

1861 Census

35, Stafford Street – FOX

- [1] Thomas Glover (28), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Glover (29), wife, born Grantham, Lincolnshire;
- [3] Amelia A. Glover (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Glover (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] John Glover (2), son, born Walsall:

Thomas Glover was also a curb chain maker. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 15/4/1869 - Advert

“Walsall. FOX INN, Stafford Street, old licensed, in main thoroughfare. Goodwill, Licenses, &c. In-coming under £70.
Apply on the Premises.”

1871 Census

34, Stafford Street

- [1] John Dace (35), private compositor, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha W. Dace (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Lizzie Jane Dace (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice E. Dace (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles J. Dace (1), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Caroline Greenway (67), mother in law, widow, born Alrewas, Staffordshire;
- [7] Elizabeth Pritchard (17), general servant, born Bromley, Staffordshire:

1881 Census

34, Stafford Street

- [1] Matthew Dace (79), widower, brushmaker and publican, born Bloxwich;
 - [2] Mary A. Dace (48), daughter, waitress, born Walsall;
 - [3] Jane S. Dace (41), daughter, waitress, born Walsall:
- [What relation, if any, was John Dace? According to the licensing records he should be licensee in 1881.]

Walsall Observer 31/1/1885

“Fanny Birch, Portland Street, was charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the FOX beerhouse, Stafford Street, on Saturday night.

Acting-sergeant Wright stated that he was called to the house, and in his presence, defendant refused to leave when requested, by the landlady.

Emma Curnock stated that defendant would not leave, and that she had nothing to drink besides ale and ginger beer.

Adjourned for two months, it being defendant’s first offence.”

[Emma Curnock did not hold the license until 1890.]

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/7/1887

“John Dace, landlord of the RED LION INN, Church Street, Darlaston, and late of TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, died rather suddenly on Monday evening. Deceased suffered from heart disease, and some time ago had a fit.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The annual licensing sessions for Walsall borough were held yesterday.....

Mr. Martin applied for permission to enlarge the FOX INN, Stafford Street, on the ground that the present building did not give sufficient accommodation for the landlady’s family. The Bench declined to permit this.”

1891 Census

34, Stafford Street

- [1] Emma Curnock (60), widow, beerhouse manageress, born Malvern;
- [2] Elizabeth J. Curnock (19), daughter, beerhouse assistant, born Walsall;
- [3] Lydia Curnock (19), daughter in law, widow, beerhouse assistant, born Castle Bromwich;
- [4] Mary M. Beason (18), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

1901 Census

34, Stafford Street

- [1] Emma Curnock (71), manageress vaults, born Malvern;
- [2] Elizabeth Curnock (38), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;

[3] Ellen Wittingham (22), granddaughter, barmaid, born Brownhills;
[4] Helen Newman (45), domestic servant, born at sea, British Subject:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Emma Curnock, FOX.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

The FOX, Stafford Street. Evidence was given by Inspector Ballance with regard to the number of licensed houses in the vicinity, with their approximate distances from the FOX.

Answering Mr. H. H. Jackson, Mr. Ballance said the tenant, Mrs. Curnock, had kept the house for many years without complaint. The licensee, called, and she said she had been at the house for 23 years, and did a good business.

Granted, with an intimation from the Magistrates, however, that the premises were not satisfactory.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

1911 Census

34, Stafford Street

- [1] George Whitbrook (47), manager, born Lichfield;
- [2] Sarah Jane Whitbrook (43), wife, married 24 years, born Brownhills;
- [3] Beatrice Whitbrook (17), niece, domestic servant, born Brownhills:

Birmingham Daily Post 24/3/1915

“Thomas Henry Hill, FOX INN, Stafford Street, was summoned at Walsall yesterday for permitting drunkenness, and Charles Booker, leather currier, Croft Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith defended the licensee, and Mr. Enoch Evans appeared for Booker.

Police-sergeant Lloyd stated that on the afternoon of March 16 he heard singing in the public-house, and found about twenty men and women there. Booker had a drunken appearance, and was singing in a ‘drowsy, under-the-influence-of-drink style.’ When informed that Booker was drunk the landlord told him to leave the house, and he did so. Witness asked him for his name and address, but he refused to give it. In cross-examination, witness said landlord told him that Booker had not been supplied there. Mr. Herbert Smith, a member of a firm of leather curriers – Booker’s employers – was called by the police, but said Booker was sober, and he told the police officer so at the time. Lloyd, however, appeared excited, and said he had been insulted.

The Bench, without calling on the defence, dismissed both summonses. Mr. Evans said in fairness to Booker – who it might be thought had been drinking and neglecting his work – it should be stated that during the war period the man had been working regularly from 6am to 11pm ordinarily, on Saturdays till 8pm, and on Sunday to midday.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/6/1915

“Though full enquiries are being made by his relatives, as to the fate of Private Harry Keel, formerly of Penkrigde Street, nothing definite is to hand. The reports which have been circulated are somewhat of a contradictory nature. A sergeant states in a letter received by Mrs. Hill, of the FOX INN, Stafford Street, that Private Keel was wounded in the head during an attack made by the Staffords, but other comrades say in their communications that he has met his death. Formerly employed at the Cyclops, Private Keel was called up on reserve and went on active service with the First Expeditionary Force.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street. £0 14s 6½d.”

Walsall Observer 13/4/1918

“Private Thomas Henry Hill, a married man, whose home is at the FOX INN, Stafford Street, is in hospital in France, suffering from wounds in the hand, received on March 19, after a year’s service with the Army Service Corps. He was formerly in the employ of Messrs. J. W. Caparn, Brineton Street.”

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

“As a result of recent negotiations, the freehold licensed properties belonging to Messrs. Arthur Beebe Ltd, which include the DURHAM OX, Park Street; OLD STILL, Digbeth; THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road; Red Lion, Aldridge; MALT SHOVEL, Lower Rushall Street; GOLDEN LION, Birchills Street; the off license, 6, Camden Street; the brewery in Sandwell Street; and the lease of the FOX INN, Stafford Street, have been sold to the Highgate Brewing Co. Ltd, through Messrs. Fox and Harrison, FAI, of Walsall.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

In 1925 “the living accommodation was described as very bad with no bathroom. The Public bar was 17’6 x 14’3 x 10’4, snug 14’5 x 11’11 x 10’4, smoke room 18’ x 8’8 x 8’10 and club room 25’6 x 12’ x 9’10 with one bedroom and an unused attic.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst..... the following houses which had been objected to were renewed.... FOX, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street.’

1939 Register

34, Stafford Street

[1] Joseph Page, date of birth 7/2/1873, licensee, beer and spirits, married;

[2] Jane Page, dob 18/1/1881, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Lillian Page, dob 10/2/1914, barmaid general, single;

[4] Nancy (Page) Griffin, dob 14/11/1916, shop assistant, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street, £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street. £2 11s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FOX INN, Stafford Street. £9 16s 1d.”

Delicensed

Closed

It was demolished in 1984.

FOX AND DOGS

(Lower) Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Edward Burton [1818] – [1830]

NOTES

Rushall Street [1822]
Lower Rushall Street [1828]

FREEMASONS ARMS

Walsall Road, New Town, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1967]

LICENSEES

Mrs. Jane Parker [1896]

B J Hordern [1932]

William Roberts [1940]

NOTES

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1895 - Register of Sales

“Tuesday, February 19. By Messrs. Fox and Harrison. Colliery Contractor’s Plant, Horses Carts, &c. near FREEMASONS ARMS INN, Newtown, Bloxwich, at 11.15.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1898

“Mr. A. B. Smith opened an inquest on Wednesday afternoon, at the FREEMASONS ARMS, Newtown, near Bloxwich, on the body of William Nicholls (64), awl-blade maker, Hobbies End, who was found dead in his house, on Monday, under shocking circumstances.

Mary King, a married daughter of the deceased, said she last saw her father a week ago last Monday, when he seemed rather peculiar in his manner, but she did not attach much importance to this, as he had been strange in his behaviour for some time.

Joseph Hancox, a farmer, Little Bloxwich, said deceased owned a house at Newtown, which yielded 4s 6d a week rent. Witness received the rent, and allowed deceased to live in one of his (witness’s) houses, for which he paid 2s 6d a week rent.

Mr. Evans, a lay reader, stated he had visited the deceased, and found him in an abject state of poverty, and apparently of weak intellect. The house was in a filthy condition, and on one occasion when witness saw deceased he only had a few potatoes to eat. He refused to go into the union.

Police-constable Hill said he was called to the house of deceased, and found the body gnawed by rats on the hand, ear, wrist and head. In his opinion the deceased had died from starvation. The jury found that death had resulted from Starvation, and the enquiry was adjourned for a post mortem examination.

At the adjourned inquest, held yesterday, Dr. Martin, who had made the post mortem examination, attributed death to syncope probably brought on by exhaustion, and want of sufficient food, aided by the cold.

In summing up the Coroner said it was a matter for thankfulness that such persons such as Edward Evans, the lay reader, who had visited the deceased many times, were employed to look after the poor and unfortunate creatures. The society which employed such men was to be commended. It was only to be regretted that he was not successful in persuading the deceased to go into the Workhouse.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence.

The Coroner further remarked that some sort of representation ought to be made to the Sanitary Authorities of the district with regard to the state of the house in which the deceased had lived. It was a perfect scandal that in these days human beings should be allowed to live in such places. The Coroner reiterated his opinion as to the foolish and ill-advised manner in which the witness Hancox had behaved at the preliminary inquiry, and marked his disapproval of it by disallowing his expenses.

Hancox said he was sorry for what had occurred, but he was mistaken as to what the Coroner wanted him to do.”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“Mr. T. A. Stokes held an inquest, at the FREEMASONS ARMS, Newtown, Bloxwich, on Tuesday, on the body of Jane James, a domestic servant, whose parents live in Company Buildings, Cheslyn Hay, and whose body was found in the canal near the Norton-Cannock Wharf, on Sunday last.

Evidence showed that a workman named William Rogers, employed at the Norton-Cannock Colliery, found a parcel under the bridge on the canal towing path. The parcel was identified by the mother of the deceased, and the canal was dragged, with the result that the body was discovered in the canal opposite the place where the parcel was found.

The deceased had undergone an operation, and had suffered pain since. She returned home, and on February 1st, feeling better, she left to return to her situation at Charlecote House, Sutton Road, Walsall. It is surmised that she came back by the canal that night, without going to her situation at all, and made away with herself.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/10/1913

“James Pee (26), miner, of no fixed abode, was charged with using obscene language in Stafford Road, Bloxwich, on October 8th. Elizabeth Corbett (17) of the FREEMASONS ARMS, Newtown, Bloxwich, said that at 6-30 on the evening in question she was in Stafford Road, on the Bloxwich side of Newtown Road, and met prisoner on the footway. He put out his arm as if to put it round her waist, and made use of an obscene expression. The night being dark she ran towards Bloxwich, and made a complaint when she got home.

Police-constable Hadley (county police) said he arrested the prisoner at the girl’s home, to which he had been taken, about forty-five minutes after. He said he was drunk and did not know what he was doing.

Prisoner, who had many previous convictions, and had been in an inebriates’ home, was fined 40/- and costs or one month.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1916 - Advert

“To Let, FREEMASON’S ARMS, Newtown, near Bloxwich. Fully Licensed; low rental.
Apply, William Roberts Entire, Station Brewery, Brownhills.”

FREEMASONS ARMS

24, (58), Park Street, Townend Bank, WALSALL

OWNERS

Samuel Drew, butcher, Park Street

Mrs. S. Drew

Lichfield Brewery Co. [1909], [1924]

LICENSEES

Henry Smith [1834] – [1835]

George Bayley [1870]

George Plant [1871] – [1873];

Mrs. Elizabeth Plant [1881] – 1894;

William Plant (1894 – 1909);

Thomas ‘Tom’ Watson (1909 – 1916);

Alfred Williams (1916);

James Wheeler (1916 – 1918);

John Henry Brotherton (1918 – 1919);

Thomas Heeley (1919 – 1922);

Alfred Deans (1922 – 1923);

William Lea (1923 – 1933);

Charles Frederick Godfrey (1933);

NOTES

58, Park Street [1871], [1881]

24, Park Street [1891], [1901], [1908], [1911], [1932]

It was originally the SQUARE AND COMPASSES

It was originally an alehouse with no sign.

Henry Smith, retailer of beer, Townend Bank. [1835]

London Gazette 24/6/1870

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation instituted by George Bayley, of No.58, Park Street Licensed Victualler, and partner in the firm of Bailey and Roberts, Auctioneers and Appraisers.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above named person has been summoned to be held at the Union Inn, Union Street, Birmingham on the 5th day of July, 1870.....”

1871 Census

58, Park Street

- [1] George Plant (45), licensed victualler, born Lichfield;
- [2] Elizabeth Plant (39), wife, born Warwick;
- [3] Thomas Plant (21), son, engineer, born Lichfield;
- [4] William Plant (16), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [5] Rosannah Williams (20), domestic servant, born Buckley, North Wales;
- [6] Kate Ryan (20), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1881 Census

58, Park Street

- [1] Elizabeth Plant (49), widow, licensed victualler, born Warwick;
- [2] William Plant (26), son, black saddler, born Walsall;
- [3] Henrietta Trusler (22), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriett Nutt (22), general servant, born Walsall:

1891 Census

24, Park Street – FREEMASONS ARMS

- [1] Elizabeth Plant (59), widow, licensed victualler, born Warwick;
- [2] William Plant (36), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [3] Anne Poppleton (22), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen Horan (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Transfer of the license of the FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, from the executors of the late Elizabeth Plant to William Plant was confirmed.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1895

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. William Plant of the FREEMASONS ARMS INN, Park Street, was elected a member of this society.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

We have to report with regret the decease of the following members during the past year, viz.: Mrs. Elizabeth Plant, FREE MASONS ARMS INN, Park Street, Walsall; Mr. Thomas Plant, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street; Mr. George Maund, The VAULTS, High Street, Walsall, whose funerals your committee attended, and to whose relatives we have tendered our respectful sympathy.”

1901 Census

24, Park Street

- [1] William Plant (46), married, hotel proprietor, born Walsall;
- [2] Rose Moore (40), house keeper, born Cheltenham;
- [3] Fanny F. Dornell (25), barmaid, born Bewdley;
- [4] Alice Reeves (25), barmaid, born Bermuda, West Indies;
- [5] Francis Castle (25), female, domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/5/1901

“Walsall and District Reservists’ Fund.

The Committee wish to acknowledge their indebtedness to the following.....

W. Plant, FREEMASONS ARMS. £1 1s 0d.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Thomas Watson, FREEMASONS ARMS INN, Park Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“Applications for transfer of license were heard in the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

‘I think I am all right here; there has been no change for twenty-five years,’ said Mr. Jackson, in applying for the transfer of the license of the FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, to Tom Watson from William Plant. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/4/1910

“The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

The Chief Constable drew the attention of the Bench to the repairs which had been carried out at the FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, without any notice having been given. The front windows which were formerly about eighteen inches from the ground, had been built up about five feet, and fancy tiles used. A fire place had also been placed in the vaults in place of a stove, and other minor alterations had been made to the premises. He believed the repairs had cost somewhere about £300, and he thought it only right he should bring the matter before the magistrates.

Mr. H. H. Jackson said he appeared on behalf of the brewery company, and expressed regret that the repairs, which had been done to improve the sanitation of the place, should have been carried out without first coming before the Bench. No alterations had been made with regard to the drinking facilities in any shape or form, and for that reason the company did not think that plans had to be submitted, as he (Mr. Jackson) was told that in Lichfield the magistrates were not so strict as in Walsall.

Sir Edward Holden remarked that the Bench liked to be consulted in the case of all alterations.

Mr. Jackson said the reason the alterations were made was because Park Street had improved, and they thought they would like to go with the times.

The Bench retired, and as they were doing so a slight breeze occurred. Answering a question by Dr. Lynch, Mr. Jackson said the alterations did not come under the Licensing Act, whereupon Dr. Lynch warmly remarked, ‘Well, the magistrates have power to make you put it back in the same state.’

After consultation, Sir Edward Holden said the Bench had decided to refer the matter to the annual meeting of the Renewal Authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/10/1910

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at the house of Mr. Thomas Watson, the FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

“The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

FREEMASONS ARMS. In this case certain alterations had been done without first submitting plans to the Magistrates.

Mr. H. H. Jackson said the alterations were a great improvement and were not for the purpose of increasing the facilities for drinking more liquor. He apologised to the Bench on behalf of the Lichfield Brewery Company for not obtaining their sanction to the alterations. It was entirely an error of judgement on their part. The Bench decided to look over the lapse and grant the renewal.”

1911 Census

24, Park Street

- [1] Thomas Watson (36), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Watson (30), married 4 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Thomas William Watson (4), born Birmingham;
- [4] Fred Howard Watson (1), born Walsall;
- [5] Lizzie Cravington (17), domestic servant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [6] Emily Williams (20), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1911

“The story of a man with no feet struggling with a policeman and afterwards throwing a policeman over his head was told when Harry Osborne (39), of no fixed abode, but a native of Kettering, was placed in the dock with having been drunk and disorderly in Park Street, on Friday.

Evidence was given by Police-constable Mason who stated that at 9.20 on Friday night he was called to the FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, and there found the prisoner struggling with the landlord in the passage leading to the house. He was drunk and using very bad language.

Witness got him into the street, whereupon prisoner became violent and after breaking the officer’s whistle off the chain, and throwing it away, threw him (the officer) over his head. They struggled for about five minutes, and three other officers then came to his assistance and prisoner was taken to the police station.

Prisoner, who told the Bench he lost his feet through being run over by a train, pleaded guilty to being drunk, but said he did not recollect anything else.

On promising to leave the town or go into the Workhouse prisoner was discharged.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street, Walsall, 19s 5d.”

Alfred Williams was a retired police inspector.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

FREEMASONS ARMS, Park Street. £0 19s 6d.”

It was described in 1925 as “having stabling for 4 horses” and “an old property in a good state of repair”. The Public bar was 19’7 x 16’ x 9’4 with a lobby, Smoke room, Snug and a Billiards room “used as a sitting room”, there were five bedrooms.

It closed on 2nd March 1933.

Its full license was transferred to RED HOUSE, Sutton Road.

Walsall Observer 10/10/1942

“Answer To Correspondent.

‘Bon.’ The FREEMASONS ARMS, was closed on March 2, 1933, when the license was transferred to the RED HOUSE, Station Road.”

FREE TRADE

101, Wood Lane, (Wood Road), (The Wood), Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Jabez Fox
Pubmaster
Admiral Taverns

LICENSEES

Joseph Dixon [1858] – [1860]
James Fox [1861] – [1871]
Carey Fox [1873] – [1891]
Jabez Fox [1894] – [1912]
John Holland [1924] – [1942]
Mervyn Stephen Newton [2007]

NOTES

It was situated on the canalside.

A Cruising and Walking Guide to the Birmingham Canal Navigations

“Wood Common was the site of Pelsall Ironworks, and looking across the common now it is difficult to imagine that a hundred years ago there were 2 blast furnaces, 40 puddling furnaces, 7 mills and forges, a gas producing plant, limekilns and locomotive sheds between Pelsall Works Bridge and Pelsall Junction. Beer for the ironworkers was carried in buckets attached to a yoke from the FREE TRADE INN.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Joseph Dixon, licensed victualler, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, was fined 15s and costs, for having seven unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/7/1859

“Early on Monday morning an accident occurred at one of Messrs. Bloomer and Davis’s coalpits, at the Bloomer Colliery, Pelsall, which unhappily resulted in the death of a miner, named Edward Perry, aged 55. The deceased was descending the pit when one of the wheels got out of gear, and the chain getting off, he was precipitated to the bottom of the shaft. One of his arms and several ribs were broken, in addition to severe bruises in other parts of the body. Deceased lingered until yesterday (Tuesday) morning, when he expired. An inquest will be held today at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall. Considerable blame is attributed to the engineer for not having his machinery in working order.”

1861 Census

Pelsall Wood – FREE TRADE INN

[1] James Fox (37), victualler, born Armitage, Staffordshire;

- [2] Carey Fox (34), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] George Walter Fox (13), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [4] Jabez Fox (10), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [5] Hannah Fox (8), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Lucy Fanney Fox (4), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Ann Deakin (22), house servant, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/8/1862

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions yesterday, Charles Jackson and Samuel Stackhouse were charged, before Messrs. J. E. Bealey and J. Harrison, with having, on the 2nd inst. been drunk and disorderly in the FREE TRADE public house, Pelsall, and also with fighting in the highway in front of the said public house. It appeared the defendants had gone to the FREE TRADE public house, where they had not been long when a row ensued, and on the landlady endeavouring to prevent them fighting, she was struck by Stackhouse. After hearing the evidence, the bench sentenced each to pay a fine of 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for seven days.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county. The magistrates on the Bench were Messrs. J. E. Bealey, W. Harrison, and D. Bloomer. Before hearing the applications for new licenses and those for the renewal of old ones, the Bench called those publicans whose names were down on the black list.....

James Fox, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, who on Friday, the 7th ult, had kept the house open at night for the accommodation of some puddlers, was cautioned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1864

“At the Police Court, on Tuesday, Daniel Fearon was charged with assault and wilful damage. It seemed that the defendant, on the night of Sunday last, broke seven panes of glass at the house of Mr. Fox, the FREE TRADE INN, and subsequently struck Police-constables Ellis and Battison, both of whom had been sent for to eject him from the premises. He also tore Battison’s trousers. He was ordered to pay a fine of 10s, with 16s 6d for the injury to the window and garment, and costs, or submit, in default, to one month’s imprisonment with hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1864

“King of Pelsall Again. At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, B. Bloomer, and J. Harrison, Esqs, John Snape was charged with having assaulted Eli Ball, his son-in-law. The case was heard on Tuesday, the 25th ult, and, from the evidence then adduced, it appeared that, on the 17th ult, as complainant was moving some goods from his house, the defendant came up and seized him by the hair of his head, and afterwards struck him over the head with a stick. Ball, who was charged upon a cross-summons with having assaulted John Snape, applied to have the case adjourned, as his solicitor, Mr. Jackson, was not in attendance. Both cases were adjourned till Tuesday last; but, on the cases being called, Ball – who, it was stated, had gone abroad – failed to appear, consequently, the case against Snape was dismissed, and that against Ball gone into, when it appeared from the evidence that Snape had gone to distrain for £26, rent due, and found Ball removing his goods, and attempted to prevent him, when Ball struck him several times with a whip-stock, and knocked him down. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced Ball to pay a fine of £2 and 16s 6d costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for one month.

His Majesty was next charged with having, on the 17th ult, assaulted James Fox. It appeared that, on the day in question, the defendant, after his son-in-law, Eli Ball, and he had quarrelled, met complainant and had some words about the dispute between Snape and Ball, in course of which Fox, who is married to Ball’s sister, told Snape that he thought he was wrong in doing what he did to Ball. Snape thereupon assaulted Fox. After hearing the evidence, the Bench sentenced Snape to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/6/1865

“At the Free Library, John Snape, otherwise the ‘King of Pelsall,’ appeared before Messrs. T. Hazledine (Mayor), S. Cox, and W. Ward, to answer a charge of assault, preferred against him by James Fox of Pelsall. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for complainant; and Mr. Dale (for the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) for the defendant. On Tuesday in the Whitsun week the complainant and the defendant met at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, and an acrimonious discussion ensued touching certain actions for the recovery of a harmonium, alleged to have been fraudulently removed by some of Mr. Snape’s relatives from a chapel of which Mr. Fox is one of the trustees. The result was that the defendant seized the complainant by the collar, attempted to push him out of the house, and committed the assault complained of. Some amusement was caused by the exhibition by Mr. Dale of a placard, said to have been put out by Mr. Fox, announcing that his inn had been refitted and decorated with pictures among the latter of which was one illustrative of an unlawful act perpetrated by a ‘certain king and prince;’ and concluding with the intimation that any person ‘dis-behaving’ himself would be ejected. The magistrates considered the assault proved, and imposed a fine of 20s and costs, with the option of twenty-one days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 17/6/1865

“John Snape was charged with having, on the 6th inst, assaulted James Fox, from the evidence that, as he sat with a friend in the OLD STILL, the defendant came in, and addressing himself to the person sitting next to the complainant, said, ‘Take care; you are sitting next to a ‘fox,’ who will bite you if you don’t take care.’ He then seized complainant by the collar, and said, ‘I’ll see if you will bite me.’ He then doubled his fist, and pushing it against complainant’s mouth, said, ‘If you bite me, I’ll knock your teeth down your throat.’ Complainant said, ‘I’ll bite you somewhere else; I don’t bite in public houses.’ Cross-examined by Mr. Dale:

I did not say to Mr. Snape, when he came in, 'I'll bite you.' Mr. Dale here read the following extract from a bill, and asked Mr. Fox if the king and the prince referred to was the defendant and his son.

'The New Music Hall, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, will re-open on Monday, June 12th, 1865. Mr. Fox begs to announce that his grand concert hall will re-open, by request, every evening for a short time. The hall has been decorated at great expense, with a beautiful collection of pictures, among which is to be seen a painting of the 'dishonourable acts of a king and prince,' which act was performed before a large assembly to the utter disgust of every beholder. This magnificent painting represents the pulling down of a shed and occupies a space in the New Concert Hall, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall. Every one should see this feat of daring royalty!' The bill then went on to say that 'All parties disbehaving themselves in the concert hall would be ejected.'

Complainant, by the advice of his solicitor, Mr. Jackson, declined to answer the question.

Two witnesses were called, who corroborated the complainant's evidence.

The Bench after hearing the evidence sentenced the defendant to a pay a fine of 20s and costs; or in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/10/1865

"John Snape, known as the 'King of Pelsall,' was charged with having, on the 7th inst, assaulted a little girl named Hannah Fox, aged 12 years, daughter of James Fox, landlord of the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall; and further, with having, at the same time and place, assaulted the girl's aunt, Mary Boyden. From the evidence, it appeared that on the day in question the defendant drove the sow and pigs belonging to the complainant's father into defendant's field, and then endeavoured to impound them; but as he was driving them out of the field for this purpose, the girl Fox drove the pigs home, and thereupon defendant struck her and kicked her. After the pigs were in the sty defendant came to drive them again, and on Mrs. Boyden endeavouring to prevent him he assaulted her. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, ordered defendant to pay a fine of 10s and costs in each case."

AND

"John Stanger, for having on the 2nd inst, been drunk and disorderly, and having refused to leave the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, was ordered to pay a fine of 1s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/9/1870

"Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

Mr. Fox, landlord of the TRADE INN, Pelsall, whose license was suspended, although no conviction had been recorded against him, complained of the conduct of the Bench, and said, as his house had always been well conducted, he thought it very hard that he should have had his license suspended."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1870

"At the Rushall adjourned licensing session, yesterday, the following licenses, the applications for which had stood over from the previous Tuesday, were granted, the licensees in each case being cautioned.....

James Fox, TRADE INN, Pelsall."

1871 Census

Pelsall Wood – FREE TRADE INN

- [1] James Fox (47), licensed victualler, born Armitage, Staffordshire;
- [2] Carrey Fox (44), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Jabez Fox (20), son, blacksmith, born Pelsall;
- [4] Hannah Fox (18), daughter, dress maker, born Pelsall;
- [5] Lucy Fanny Fox (14), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Harriet Fox (9), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Annie Fox (2 months), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [8] W. B. S. Walplas (?) (24), boarder, wheelwright, born Staffordshire;
- [9] Charles Hill (22), boarder, blacksmith, born Bromyard;
- [10] Joseph Sheppard (37), visitor, vocalist, born Canterbury;
- [11] Louisa Sheppard (35), visitor, vocalist, born Stafford;
- [12] George Sheppard (13), visitor, vocalist, born Canterbury;

Carey Fox = Carrey Fox = Carry Fox

Walsall Free Press 4/10/1873

"Two publicans, named Carry Fox, of the FREE TRADE public house, and John Gilks, of the RAILWAY COLLIERY beerhouse, applied for an extension of time on the nights of Monday and Tuesday next, it being Pelsall wake. The applications were granted."

1881 Census

The Wood – FREE TRADE INN

- [1] Carey Fox (54), widow, innkeeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jabez Fox (30), son, blacksmith, born Pelsall;
- [3] Harriet Fox (19), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Harriet Russell (17), general servant, born Bloxwich;

1891 Census

The Wood

- [1] Carey Fox (64), widow, licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jabez Fox (40), son, born Pelsall;
- [3] Mary Ann Morgan (18), general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1892

“On Monday, an inquest was held at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood, relative to the death of Alice Walker (10), whose parents live at Fishley, and who was found drowned some days previously in the Birmingham Canal at Pelsall Wood. Deceased left home on the 7th instant in a sulky mood, owing to her mother having boxed her ears, and she made the remark to a neighbour’s child that she ‘should not come home that night, nor the next.’ Afterwards, she was seen at Pelsall Wood going in the direction of the canal, but nothing could be ascertained as to how she got into the water. It being thought possible, however, that she had slipped whilst trying to reach some empty boats, an Open Verdict was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/7/1894

“Rushall Police Court, Monday, before Mr. Frank James, Dr. Cooke, and Mr. W. H. Brookes.

Jabez Fox, Pelsall, applied for an occasional licence for July 16, on the occasion of the annual fete. Sergt. Riley said they would be quite as well without the extra time, for if the licence was granted it would encourage a lot more drunkenness. Dr. Cooke said though he granted it he would remind them that people had not much money to throw away now-a-days.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1894

“William Woolford (49), employed as brakesman by the Walsall Wood Colliery Company at their New Plant Colliery, was at work on Saturday afternoon removing loaded trucks from coal screens, when he was crushed between a truck and an iron column. The poor fellow’s skull was fractured, and death ensued. An inquest was held at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood, before Mr. A. B. Smith (deputy coroner) on Tuesday morning, when the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/7/1897

“FREE TRADE Money Club. The annual supper in connection with this old-established money-club was held on Saturday evening at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood. About 50 members and friends.....”

Walsall Observer 28/7/1900

“On Monday last the members of Pride Lodge of the Nottingham Order of Oddfellows held their annual dinner. A procession was formed at the lodge house, the FREE TRADE INN, and headed by the Pelsall Victoria Brass Band paraded through the principal parts of Pelsall to the church.....”

1901 Census

The Wood

- [1] Jabez Fox (50), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Gertrude Hawkins (24), general servant, born Pelsall;
- [3] Emma Hanson (21), general servant, born Pelsall:

1911 Census

Pelsall Wood

- [1] Jabez Fox (60), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] George Watson (29), nephew, born Pelsall;
- [3] Elizabeth Smith (37), servant, born Little Bloxwich;
- [4] Harriet Watson (19), niece, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 19/7/1913

“Mr. Gerald C. Lewis (County Coroner) held an inquest at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, on Tuesday, concerning the death of Henry Richardson (86), of the Wood, Pelsall. Deceased accidentally fell down in the kitchen on July 6th, and as a result complained of pains in the back. The following day, Dr. Trevor was called in, but deceased died on Sunday morning. The jury found that death was due to shock accelerated by old age.”

Walsall Observer 24/2/1917 - Deaths

“On the 18th instant, at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, Jabez Fox, aged 66 years. The relatives wish to thank all friends for kindness and sympathy in their sad bereavement. No cards.”

Walsall Observer 7/6/1917 - Advert

“Estate of Jabez Fox, Deceased, Pelsall.

Highly Important sale of Valuable Freehold Public Houses and Premises and the Goodwill of the Business.

Fox & Harrison, FAI (Mathew Fox and Frank Fox Harrison) favoured with instructions from the Executors under the will of the late Jabez Fox, will offer for Sale by Public Auction on Wednesday 13th June, 1917, at the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood, at 6.30 o'clock in the evening subject to conditions to be then read.

Lot 1. The Old-established Well-known, Free, Fully Licensed Freehold Public House and Premises, known as the FREE TRADE INN, situate on the main road at Pelsall Wood, for many years (and until his decease) in the occupation of the owner Mr. Jabez Fox, and now his representatives.

The Accommodation comprises vestibule entrance, serving window, bar, tap-room, back smoke-room and parlour; upstairs store-room, commodious club-room, stock-room, four bedrooms and landing, excellent cellarage, two kitchens, large scullery, well-paved yard, two-stall stable with loft over, double pig-stye, two brick-built coal stores, and the necessary private and public conveniences, together with large Garden Ground, situate on the opposite side of the road.

The House, which is well arranged, easy of supervision, and absolutely free from all ties, has for a long period done a large and profitable trade.

Gas and water services are laid on.

Possession can be had on completion of purchase.

The valuable Goodwill of the Old-established Business as a going concern is included in the Sale.

The Purchaser to take at Valuation in the usual way, the whole of the Fixtures, Trade Fittings, together with the consumable Stock-in-trade, Licenses, Rates, etc, on the date fixed for completion.

For further particulars and plan apply to the Auctioneers, 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall, or to Messrs. Wilkinson & Co. Solicitors, The Bridge, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 21/7/1917 - Advert

"Estate of Jabez Fox, Deceased.

FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood (15 minutes' walk from Pelsall (L&NWR) Station).

Tuesday, 31st July, 1917, at 10.30 prompt.

Fox & Harrison, FAI (Mathew Fox and Frank Fox Harrison) favoured with instructions from the Executors under the will of the late Jabez Fox, will Sell by Public Auction, without any reserve, at the place and on the date above named, the whole of the Antique and Modern Household Furniture and Effects, including:

Walnut and Gilt Chimney Glasses, carved Italian Bedsteads (4ft 6in), French Bedstead, Feather Beds, Bed Linen, Painted Chests, Antique Oak Bureau (3ft 3in), Two Antique Ash Arm Chairs, Iron Fireproof Safe, Walnut Bookcase (4ft 3in by 3ft 6in), 10-Stop Harmonium (Alexander & Son, Paris), in perfect condition; Oak Grained Dining Table, Cottage Pianoforte, in Burr-Walnut Case, Trichord (E. F. Allen & Sons); Mahogany Dining Room Suite, 9 pieces; Cottage Pianoforte, sweet toned, in Burr-Walnut Case, Iron Frame (E. F. Allen & Sons, Wolverhampton); Platform Weighing Machine, etc; as described in Catalogues to be obtained from the Offices of the Auctioneers, or from Messrs Wilkinson & Co, Solicitors, The Bridge, Walsall.

On View Two Hours Prior to Sale.

Auctioneers' Offices, 51, Lower Hall Street, Walsall. Telephone 198."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1921

"The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall Division were held on Monday.....

All the licenses would be renewed with the exception of.....

FREE TRADE, Pelsall.....

In these cases, alterations were necessary, and the Bench would defer consideration until they had visited the premises and inspected the plans."

Lichfield Mercury 11/12/1925

"Brownhills & District Air-Gun League.....

FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall (away), defeated ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, by 214 points to 212."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

"At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

For repairs and alterations of structure.....

FREE TRADE INN, Norton Road."

1939 Register

Wood Road – FREE TRADE INN (6 of 7)

- [1] John Holland, date of birth 29/7/1887, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Rosannah Holland, dob 19/10/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Stanley W. Holland, dob 29/1/1917, motor lorry driver, H work, single;
- [4] Richard L. Holland, dob 27/7/1919, motor lorry driver, H work, single;
- [5] Dennis Holland, dob 26/10/1922, lathe hand, single;
- [6] Reginald Holland, dob 31/10/1924, lathe hand, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall Wood, Pelsall, £4 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund.
Donations J. Holland, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall. £0 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall. £2 14s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1964

“The quarter finals, semi-finals and final of the Walsall, Wolverhampton and district sub area competition of the News of the World individual darts championship of England and Wales, will be held in Pelsall Social Club, Norton Road, Pelsall, on Thursday next, January 16, all players to be on the mark at 8pm prompt. The eight finalists are.....

Paul Smith (FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall).”

Closed [2007], [2017]

FRIGHTED HORSE

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Shale [1834] – [1835]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

James Shale, retailer of beer, Blue Lane. [1835]

FULLBROOK TAVERN

West Bromwich Road, Maw Green, WALSALL

OWNERS

Peter Cotterell, surgeon, West Bromwich

Solomon Perry

Cornelius Stanton, Pelsall

Cheshire’s Brewery and Co., Smethwick

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1915)

LICENSEES

Solomon Perry [1866] – 1887);

William Pymm (1887 – 1895);

Andrew Barnes (1895 – 1898);

Timothy Rawlinson (1898 – 1899);

James Stafford (1899 – 1903);

Joseph Stafford (1903 – 1904);
John Thomas Challinor (1904 – 1907);
Horace Arthur Prince (1907 – 1908);
Charles Forbes (1908 – 1909);
Charles William Turner (1909 – 1911);
John Pridge (1911 – 1912);
John Thomas Butler (1912 – 1914);
Frederick James Warralo (1914 – 1915);
Alfred Vernon Evans (1915);
Edward Mason (1915 – []

NOTES

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/7/1866

“Solomon Perry, beerhouse keeper, Full Brook was fined 2s 6d and costs for having had his house open during prohibited hours.”

Sporting Life 1/1/1868

“Beesley and Nock. These Wednesbury men also shot a match at Mr. Perry’s FULLBROOK TAVERN, near Walsall.....”

1871 Census

Full Brook

- [1] Solomon Perry (51), beer seller and farmer of 12 acres, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Mary Perry (53), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Charlotte Perry (15), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Joseph Perry (18), son, labourer, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Hannah Wall (16), visitor, born Darlaston;
- [6] John Ballsey (3), visitor, born Walsall:

Solomon Perry, beer retailer, Fullbrook. [1872]

Solomon Perry was also a farmer (Botany Farm).

He married Mary Robinson at St. Matthews Church, Walsall on 11th September 1836.

1881 Census

Full Brook

- [1] Solomon Perry (63), beerhouse keeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Mary Perry (62), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Joseph Perry (27), son, labourer, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Richard Beasley (13), grandson, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Charlotte Malpass (3), granddaughter, scholar, born Wednesbury:

Solomon Perry was fined 40s and costs, on 6th August 1886, for keeping open on a Sunday.

William Pymm = William Pym

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“At the Guildhall yesterday, before Alderman Holden and Mr. W. E. Blyth, several charges against Walsall publicans were heard. In the first Andrew Barnes, landlord of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road, was charged with having unlawfully supplied drink to a drunken person on August 3rd. Mr. F. Bill appeared for the defendant.

William Fletcher, labourer, 21, Little London, stated that at about 6pm on August 3rd, he saw three young men and a young lady named Fanny Dinsdale, who was drunk, walking towards FULLBROOK TAVERN. At 6.30 he reported the matter to Police-sergeant Ballance. The young men had had beer, but were not drunk. He saw two police officers with the woman shortly afterwards. Fanny Dinsdale, Rowan’s lodging-house, Church Street, who said that she was a married woman, stated that she went in company with James Hayes to the FULLBROOK TAVERN at 6.30am on August 3rd. Hayes called for a pint of ‘fourpenny.’ They afterwards had a walk round Caldmore, and returned to the same house at 11 o’clock, when they had two more pints of fourpenny. Caldmore was visited again, and at 3 o’clock they returned and had another pint. They walked round Caldmore again, and returned to the Tavern at six o’clock. When they returned two young fellows paid for a quart of beer, and she then went to Hayes’s house in Railway Row. She returned to the tavern in about half-an-hour, and had another share of another quart of beer. On the last occasion they had the beer in a shed, where Sergeant Ballance found them. She did not know who served the last quart of beer.

Police-sergeant Ballance deposed to passing through Little London at about 6.40 o’clock, when a man told him that three young men had taken a drunken woman towards the FULLBROOK TAVERN. He visited the house, and made an inspection, but could not find the people. He told the landlord his business, and was informed that three men and a woman were in the arbour at the back. He found one of the men and the woman drunk. The men were ordered away by the landlord, and he brought the woman to the police station, as he considered her incapable of taking care of herself.

Police-constable Bamber (62) corroborated the officer's evidence.

Mr. Bill maintained that his client was not aware of anyone being in the arbour until a few minutes prior to Police-sergeant Balance's appearance, and he was on his way to see who they were when the officers walked in.

By the Chief Constable: The man Hayes could take double the amount of beer which the woman said they had had during the day. Ada Poole, barmaid, deposed to having served beer to Hayes on two occasions – at 11 and 6 o'clock. At 6.30 in the evening the landlord also supplied him with beer.

James Hayes stated that he was in company with the woman Dinsdale on Saturday, August 3rd.

Mr. Bill (to witness): Were you drunk at 6.30? – No, sir; 'fourpenny' is not very strong (laughter).

John Hadley, Spout Lane, polisher, also said he was one of the company.

Cross-examined by the Chief Constable, witness said as they were coming down Little London Dinsdale was so drunk that she had to be assisted by one of the party, although they left her a short distance from the FULLBROOK House to go to Hayes's mother's house in Hospital Row as best she could.

Luke Jones, another of the party, also gave evidence.

The magistrates retired, and on their return Mr. Blyth said it was a most disgraceful charge, and a serious case, and the defendant would be fined £5 and costs, and also have his license endorsed.

Defendant: I am innocent. – Mr. Holden: Mr. Bill had done everything possible for you."

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

"The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The following is a return of licensees who have been proceeded against during the year ending August 30th, 1895.....

Andrew Barnes, FULLBROOK TAVERN, Fullbrook, for having sold to drunken persons on August 16th, fined £5 and costs and licensed endorsed.

Mr. Taylor [Chief Constable], at the conclusion of the report, said he made arrangements with Mr. Bill, solicitor for the case of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, which was objected by him, to come to the adjourned licensing day. This course was agreed to by the Bench."

Walsall Advertiser 28/9/1895

"The adjourned licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The question of the renewal of the license of the FULLBROOK TAVERN was adjourned pending the result of an appeal against a recent decision."

AND

"At the Guildhall yesterday, Andrew Barnes, landlord of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road, was charged at the conclusion of the licensing sessions, with having sold intoxicating liquor in a shed situated at the back of his tavern which were not included in the area of his license.

The Chief Constable, who prosecuted, produced plans of the tavern, and said on oath that in 1889 the licensed area was then pointed out to him by the then licensee, Solomon Perry.

Mr. C. R. E. Plumptree, who defended (instructed by Mr. F. Bill) objected on the ground that any statement made by a tenant would not be evidence of the licensing area against anybody except himself. The objection was upheld.

The Chief Constable continuing, said that in 1889 there was a farmyard, and beyond that a cart shed. Since the defendant had taken over the house he had done away with the farmyard and at least 25 yards from the main premises, had erected a long shed, eight or ten feet wide, and fitted with benches and tables in which he supplied drink. He should prove that when the last tenant went into the house that portion was a field.

Police-constable Wright stated that about eight o'clock on Aug. 18th he visited defendant's house. He called for a pint of beer, and it was supplied to him in the arbour. During 35 minutes he was there he saw nine persons order beer and pay for it in the shed.

By Mr. Plumptree: There were also tables on the grass outside.

William Pym, bricklayer, West Bromwich Road, the licensee of the Tavern before defendant, having given evidence.

Mr. B. Gilbert (assistant overseer) stated that the farmhouse which adjoined the beerhouse and the beerhouse itself were separately rated.

By Mr. Plumptree: There was no separate rating of the garden.

John Clifford, labourer, West Bromwich Road, deposed to laying the place out at the back of the tavern as a garden for Mr. Pym.

William Perry, 47, Dale Street, said that at the time Mr. Pym occupied the Tavern he rented half the garden, and that was the part in which the shed had now been erected.

Police-inspector Hamilton stated that the arbour was now accessible to the public independently of the public house. It was 25 to 30 yards from the house.

Mr. Plumptree contended that by long usage the garden became part of the licensed premises. The licensing laws gave no exact definition of the word premises. In law, at least, it certainly meant a great deal more than mere house. He contended that it meant not only the house property, but also the garden, and the premises were substantially the same as when the license was granted.

There was no law prohibiting a licensed person improving and enlarging his premises. He would now call Mary Perry, wife of Solomon Perry, tenant of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, during 25 out of the 33 years it had been licensed, deposed to having sold intoxicating drinks to persons in the garden.

Charlotte Malpas, married daughter of the last witness corroborated.

William Poole said he had been supplied many times with beer in the arbour. The magistrates consulted in private and eventually dismissed the case.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/10/1895

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.

Mr. Disturnal mentioned the case of Andrew Barnes, landlord of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road v. the Chief Constable (Mr. Chris. Taylor), and certain magistrates, and said that he represented the respondents, while his learned friend, Mr. Alfred Young, had been instructed to appear on behalf of the appellant. The case was an appeal against the decision of the Bench, who had recently fined Barnes £5 and costs and endorsed his license for having sold drink to an intoxicated person. Mr. Disturnal said that after agreeing to a certain arrangement with his clients he had submitted at Mr. Young, who had also fallen in with these arrangements. The terms were that the endorsement on the license would be expunged, but that otherwise the conviction should stand. The parties had arranged between themselves as to costs.

The Recorder made the order as requested.”

AND

“At the Walsall Police Court on Monday before the Mayor and a full Bench, Mr. Armstrong (from Mr. F. Bill) applied for the renewal of the license of the FULLBROOK TAVERN to Mr. Barnes.

The Town Clerk (Mr. J. R. Cooper) said that in this case the applicant had appealed against a conviction by the Bench who, besides inflicting a fine, had endorsed his license. The appeal came before the Recorder on the previous Saturday, but an arrangement was come to under which the endorsement was to be removed, and a second charge, the hearing of which had been adjourned, withdrawn. Under these circumstances the renewal of the license was not opposed by the Chief Constable. The license was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/11/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last....

Mr. Andrew Barnes, FULLBROOK TAVERN was elected a member as from 1st January, 1897.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1897

“Walsall Quarter Sessions

John Heler (39), farmer, on bail, was indicted for having unlawfully wounded Thomas Henry Morgan on the 26th December. Mr. Gerald Lewis (instructed by Messrs. Lewis and Sons) prosecuted, and Mr. Herbert (instructed by Mr. Jackson) defended. Mr. Lewis having opened.

Prosecutor stated that he was returning, with others, from a supper party at the CANAL TAVERN, Bloxwich, when prisoner, who was in front, turned round and asked why he was following him. He denied that he was, and was walking across the street, when prisoner gave him a blow. They struggled together, and subsequently he found he had been stabbed.

By Mr. Herbert: There had been no previous quarrel nor any provocation on either side. He did not know how prisoner received his wounded arm.

William Cattell, miner, Pelsall Lane, Little Bloxwich, who was with Morgan, said that as they struggled on the ground he saw a half-opened knife in prisoner’s hand.

Police-constable Yardley gave evidence as to prisoner’s statement when arrested.

Dr. Nixon said that the prosecutor’s injuries consisted of a wound in the neck, which started at the back on the right side, and extended round the neck towards the left for six inches. He was detained until the 18th January – practically three weeks – and was an out-patient for a further three weeks.

Mr. Herbert said his answer to the charge was that the blood-stained knife said to have been found on prisoner was not his, and that the finding of it in his pocket was a deliberate ‘plant.’

Sarah Fernahough, who said she had been housekeeper to prisoner for four years; John Smith, landlord of the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich; and Enoch Bloor, lamp cleaner, Little Bloxwich, all denied that the blood-stained knife belonged to prisoner, and declared that a similar one produced was the one he always carried.

Dr. McKintosh, assistant to Dr. Wilson, the police surgeon, said he saw prisoner at the police station. He was in a weak state, and suffering from four clean cuts on the hands, varying in length from ½ an inch to 2½ inches, and other injuries. The wound on the left hand was a very serious one indeed.

By Mr. Lewis: Some of the bruises might have been caused by his falling.

William Jones, farmer, Tettenhall, and Andrew Barnes, FULLBROOK TAVERN, gave evidence of character, and Mr. Herbert having addressed the jury at some length, and the Recorder having summed up, prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to six months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

“A music and dancing license was granted to Mr. Barnes, of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road, for Monday and Tuesday next, and a similar license was granted to Mr. Bateman, of the NEWPORT ARMS, Pleck, for Tuesday, the occasion being a benefit concert.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1897

“Andrew Barnes of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, was fined 1s and costs on a charge of allowing two horses to stray. It was stated in defence that someone had removed the lock from the gate of the field in which the horses had been put.”

At the adjourned Annual Licensing Meeting held on 28th September 1900 the licensing committee granted a license to premises about to be constructed, in accordance with plans submitted, on the site of the present premises, on condition that the present license to be surrendered. This was confirmed on 2nd November 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 29/9/1900

“Yesterday the adjourned Brewster session for the borough were held at the Guildhall.....

James and Joseph Stafford, FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road, made application through Mr. F. Bill, for the provisional grant of a license to sell all intoxicating liquors, on or off the premises, or for the provisional grant of a license to sell beer, cider, and perry, on and off the premises.

Mr. Whiteley opposed on behalf of the Walsall Temperance Society.

Mr. Bill explained that the FULLBROOK TAVERN premises were very old, and were in want of repair. The road at that point was very narrow, and, it was now proposed to widen the road, the applicant wanted to re-build the tavern further back from the road.

The Chief Constable (Mr. N. R. Gardiner) said he approved of the suggested alterations inasmuch as the present premises were not suited to proper police surveillance, but he opposed the granting of a full license.

The application for re-building was granted with a beer license only.”

1901 Census

FULLBROOK TAVERN

[1] James Stafford (49), ale and porter bottler, born New Mills, Derbyshire;

[2] Charlotte A. Stafford (47), wife, born Bradford, Yorkshire;

[3] Frank Stafford (9), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Joseph Stafford (37), boarder, widower, farmer, born New Mills, Derbyshire;

[5] Emily Watts (17), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1903 - Advert

“Highly Important Sale By Auction Of Six Semi-Detached Villa Residences in Westbourne Road, Borneo Street, and Littleton Street, Walsall, as also the Valuable Freehold Public House known as the FULLBROOK TAVERN, and the adjacent Meadow Land, together with Building Sites and Farm House also fronting the West Bromwich Road, Walsall.

Walter Hughes is instructed to offer for Sale by Auction, at his Property Mart, the Bridge, Walsall, on Monday, 14th September, 1903, at Seven o'clock precisely (subject to Conditions to be then read).....

Lot 3 to 10. The Freehold Properties, in the West Bromwich Road, consisting of the well-known FULLBROOK TAVERN, and 5½ acres of adjacent Meadow Land at the rear, as also the Farmhouse and Buildings belonging to the same Estate, and together with the important Freehold Sites lying between the said farmhouse and the FULLBROOK TAVERN, which will be Sold in convenient sized Lots, full details of which will appear in next week's papers.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1903 - Advert

“Highly Important Sale By Auction.....

Lot 1. The Freehold Beer House, well known as the FULLBROOK TAVERN, with Outbuildings, Yards, and Bowling Green, having an extensive frontage to the West Bromwich Road, and now in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Stafford.

The accommodation comprises four bedrooms, and Store Room, Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, two Cellars, as also the Stabling, and other Outbuildings. There is a fitted Bar in the wood erection on Bowling Green.

The area is about 1 1-3rd acres.

Possession may be had on completion of purchase.

Note. This is a noted Calling House, with ante 1869 License, it does a good trade, and, being easy of access to the large population of Caldmore and Palfrey, with certain prospect of further development of adjacent lands, it must of necessity become one of the best Licensed Houses on the outskirts of the town.

It has an extensive Licensed Area, and in enterprising hands could be made an attractive Catering House.....”

Andrew Barnes was a farmer. [1904]

John Thomas Challinor was married to Annie Louisa.

Walsall Advertiser 14/8/1909

“A man named Albert Moore, a black saddler, 237, West Bromwich Road, was summoned for assaulting Florence Manlove, 121, Weston Street, on August 3rd. Mr. C. H. Bailey appeared for complainant, and Mr. F. Cooper defended.

Mr. Bailey said that Mrs. Manlove was a respectable woman, with four children; and knowing something of Moore, she objected to her husband keeping company with him. On the Tuesday night she went to the FULLBROOK TAVERN for her husband, and the defendant, who was in the public-house, said ‘I have something for you,’ and commenced to threaten to ‘do her in.’ The woman's husband said ‘You won't do anything of the kind,’ but defendant jumped up and violently hit her on the mouth breaking one of her teeth.

Mrs. Manlove gave evidence in support of her solicitor's statement.

Cross-examined, she at first denied that she ever had anything to do with the defendant's wife, but later she admitted that defendant's wife had taken county court proceedings to recover a debt from her. It was not true that since that time she had habitually been in the habit of annoying the defendant and his wife, and shouting after them in the streets, or that when she went into the FULLBROOK TAVERN she called him a thief.

Mr. Cooper said the woman's story as to an alleged assault was a fabrication. She had continually annoyed him and his wife, and she was a violent tempered woman. When she went into the public-house, she not only called him a thief, but tried to tear his collar off his neck, and indeed did tear his tie off. He at once got to the door, and she struck him on the back, and incited her husband to attack him. There were blows consequently struck between the two men, but the woman was not assaulted at all, as would be shown by the evidence of independent witnesses who were in the house.

Defendant having given evidence, Arthur Poole (a blacksmith) and John Baldwin (an edge tool worker) were called in support of his case, and stated that the blows struck were between the two men, and the woman fell down in the course of the scuffle.

The bench dismissed the case, each side to pay its own costs."

John Pridge = John Pudge

1911 Census

FULLBROOK TAVERN

- [1] John Pudge (28), married, publican, born Bromyard
- [2] Kitty Pudge (29), wife, married 3 years, born Bromyard;
- [3] Rose Smith (25), sister, born Bromyard;
- [4] Jack Smith (27), brother, born Bromyard:

Walsall Advertiser 29/4/1911

"A case of some length was heard at the Walsall Police Court.....

Wm. Pimm, of Delves Cottages, and George King, of Weston Street, were summoned for being found drunk on licensed premises, the FULLBROOK TAVERN, on the 15th April; and John Pudge, the landlord of the Tavern, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on those premises. Mr. J. S. Sharpe (Messrs. Sharpe and Darby) defended.

Police-sergeant Lloyd said that he visited the FULLBROOK TAVERN in company with Police-constable Keay at 10.40 on the evening of the 15th April. He visited the smoke-room, where about twenty persons had assembled. The landlady was playing the piano and a man was standing in the centre of the room singing. Witness and the constable went into the bar, and there were about ten men there, some standing and some sitting down. He saw the defendant King sitting at a table fast asleep with a jug containing beer before him. He called the attention of the landlord to King, and he came from behind the bar, shook him and woke him up. King finished his beer and left the house. Witness watched him out of the house, and he was drunk and staggered up the road. Witness and Police-constable Keay then went into the bar again. He had previously noticed Pimm dozing at a table, and he had some stout before him. He called the attention of the landlord to the man, and Pimm immediately rushed at them, but was stopped. Pimm, who was staggering and drunk, became abusive and used bad language, went into the country district and said, 'I am in the Wednesbury district and you cannot touch me.' He used bad language. Witness told the landlord of the condition of the men and said he would report him. Pudge was abusive and asked the two officers for their names and numbers, saying he would report them. In his opinion the landlord was under the influence of drink.

Corroborative evidence was given by Police-constable Keay, who also stated that the defendants, Pimm and King, were drunk. Evidence was then given for the defence. Pudge was first called. He said that he was in the bar all the evening. King had only had three half-pints of ale, and Pimm only one bottle of stout to drink, and they were both perfectly sober. There was no disorder in the house. Witness stated that he had been landlord of the house for nine weeks.

King and Pimm also gave evidence denying that they were the worse for drink, and corroborating the last witness as to the amount of liquor they had taken. Both denied that they were asleep, king saying that he usually sat at the table with his head resting on his hand.

Further evidence was given for the defence, no less than ten witnesses being called, and they all corroborated the statement that King and Pimm were both sober at the time and respectable men.

Mr. Sharpe addressed the Bench for the defence, claiming that the evidence was overwhelming that the two men were not drunk. After a retirement of about fifteen minutes, the Chairman said the Bench had found the case a most difficult one. The majority of the Magistrates were of opinion that there was a doubt and gave the defendants the benefit of it, but they hoped the landlord would be careful in future."

Walsall Advertiser 6/7/1912

"Thomas Cattell, Whitehall Road, was summoned by John Pudge, FULLBROOK TAVERN, for refusing to quit the FULLBROOK TAVERN when requested on June 24th.

Mr. F. Platt prosecuted, and said that on the date named, about 3pm, defendant went to the FULLBROOK TAVERN. Later, complainant heard him arguing with someone else in the house, and using bad language. Complainant went into the smoke room, and saw defendant strike another man, who fell and cut his head on the table. Complainant asked defendant three times to go out, but he refused, and was later ejected by someone in the house, who was a stranger to complainant. When defendant got to the door, he made use of filthy expressions and threatened complainant.

John Pudge, complainant, gave evidence in support of Mr. Platt's statement and the Bench ordered defendant to pay costs, and bound him over for three months. In defence, Cattell stated that he did not hear complainant ask him to leave, and said it was his first appearance in Court in his life."

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1912 - Advert

“Friday, August 30, 1912.

Sale At the FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road.

Messrs. Gardiner Ball and Troman will Sell by Auction (without reserve) under instructions from Mrs. Pudge, the whole of the Household Furniture, consisting several full-size Iron and Brass-rail Bedsteads, Spring Mattresses, Marble-top Stands, Wardrobes, Duchesse Toilet Tables, Chairs, Mirrors, Night Commode, Pictures, Suite in Damask (seven pieces), Table, mahogany Dining Table, Marble Clock, Bamboo Tables, Whatnots, Fenders, Brasses, Coal Vases, Suite in Saddlebags (seven pieces), lamps, double barrel gun, gramophone and records, zither, sundry Crockery Ware, Large Oil Tank, sundry loose effects and other items; also the Agricultural Implements comprising Mowing Machine (Bamford’s No.5), 10-Furrow Seed Drill (Hornsby), Ridge Plough (Kell), Chaff Machine, Set Chain-harrows, Platform Weighing Machine (Avery); Live Stock And Harness, consisting of Cart Horse (15.2 hands), Bay Cob 14 hands; 6 Store Pigs, about 20 Couples of Fowls, and Ducks, Set of Cart tackle, 2 Sets Harness, and sundry other items.

No Catalogues.

Sale at 11am.

Auctioneer’s Office: 193, High Street, West Bromwich; and at Birmingham and Dudley.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1914

“Frederick James Worrallo, of the FULLBROOK TAVERN, was summoned for having kept a dog without a license on August 12th. Defendant said the dog belonged to a man from West Bromwich, who left it with him. Defendant was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
FULLBROOK TAVERN, West Bromwich Road. £1 0s 2d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench.....

The justices also confirmed the removal of the ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, to premises about to be erected at the junction of the new ring road and Westbromwich Road. The Hon. Sir Reginald Coventry, who made the application, pointed out that Messrs. Mitchells and Butlers were giving up the ROEBUCK INN without compensation, and were also giving up the FULLBROOK INN in West Bromwich Road, which would enable the road widening to be carried out.”

GAS FITTERS ARMS

Stafford Street / Whitehouse Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Smallwood [1869]

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 18/1/1868 - Advert

“To Be Let, a first-class Beer House, the GAS FITTERS ARMS, situated in Stafford Street, Walsall.
Apply to Mr. E. Neale 24, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/3/1869 - Advert

“Capital Freehold Public House, the GAS FITTERS ARMS, and other Property, in Stafford Street, and Whitehouse Street, Walsall.

Messrs. Farrington and Son are instructed by the trustees of the late Mr. E. Glover, to Offer by Auction, at the OLD STILL INN, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 6th day of March, 1869, at six for seven o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced, in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at time of sale.

Lot 1. All that substantially built Freehold old-established Public-House, known as the GAS FITTERS ARMS, most eligibly situated at the corner of Stafford and Whitehouse streets, and occupied by Mr. Smallwood. The house contains a capital bar, parlour, taproom fitted with screens, small parlour, capital kitchen, two good cellars with entrance into yard, a capital lodge-room about 20 yards long, three good bedrooms, a malt-room, brewery, yard, good stable for four horses, and gig shed, with pair of gates leading to Whitehouse Street (the whole in a good state of repair), and other out-offices; together with the House adjoining, fronting to Stafford Street, in the occupation of Mr. Newton, shoemaker, with the brewhouse and workshop over.....”

GATE

Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Edward Allblaster [1818]

GENERAL HILL

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Humphreys [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

GEORGE

119, (48), High Street / Elmore Row, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Michael Partridge
Fanny Partridge, widow, Bloxwich
Thomas Partridge, book keeper, Bloxwich
Showells Brewery Ltd. [1904]
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased from 29th June 1935)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)
Punch Taverns [2005]

LICENSEES

Mrs. R Lloyd [1830]
Thomas Partridge [1849] – [1850]
Michael Partridge [1851] – [1857]
Mrs. Fanny Partridge [1858] – [1870]
George Thraves [1871] – [1872];
Thomas Morris [];
Thomas Parker [1880];
John Madden [];

Mrs. Jane Parker [1881] – 1890);
Herbert Tuckley (1890 – 189_);
William Henry Riley (189_ – 1894); [1891], [1892]
Samuel Morris Page (1894 – 1898);
Richard Whittingham Lloyd (1898 – 1900);
Robert Lane (1900 – 1904);
John Dilks (1904 – 1908);
George Heafield (1908 – 1910);
John Thomas Parry (1910 – 1911);
Richard Lane (1911 – 1920);
William Harley Francis (1920 – 1924);
Thomas Jones (1924 – 1930);
William Henry Nicholls (1930 – 1931);
John Walker (1931 – 1952);
Herbert Edward Coleman (1952 – 1955);
Maurice Herbert Tavinor (1955 – 1957);
Charles Peart (1957 – 1966);
Barry John Hadland (1966 – 1967);
Joseph Edwards (1967 – []

NOTES

48, High Street [1871]
119, High Street [1881], [1891], [1908], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]

GEORGE HOTEL [1830]
ROYAL GEORGE [1872], [1880]
GEORGE'S BAR [2001], [2005]

[1828]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/7/1849

“Oddfellowship. On Monday the George Miners Loyal Lodge, No.17 (W.U.) held their annual festival at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, their much respected house having provided ample provisions on the occasion, including every delicacy the season afforded. The guests did ample justice to the various joints and boiled, underneath the weight of which the tables groaned.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/9/1850 - Deaths

“September 19, aged 70 years, Mr. Thomas Partridge, of the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich.”

1851 Census

Bloxwich – GEORGE INN

- [1] Michael Partridge (45), victualler and awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Fanny Partridge (30), wife, born Landewood, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mrs. Causer (66), lodger, born, Armatage, Staffordshire;
- [4] William Carrington (16), lodger, journeyman awl maker, born Bloxwich;
- [5] John Solyeville (36), lodger, brewer of ale, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Eliza Baker (16), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Ann Partridge (68), widow, mother, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/4/1851 - Deaths

“On the 22nd instant, Ann, relict of the late Mr. Thomas Partridge, of the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, aged 67.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1857

“Edward Marshall, miner, Elijah Arrowsmith, miner, and Samuel Wooldridge, smith, the three men charged with the garottte robbery at Bloxwich on Saturday night last, reported in yesterday's Post, were brought up at the Guildhall on that day for examination. Mr. Walker, from Mr. Duignan's office, appeared on behalf of the prisoners. Mr. William Wiggan, an elderly man, of beerified aspect, stated that on Saturday morning last, between six and seven, he saw the prisoner Marshall in the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, and had some drink with him. He passed the whole of that day in drinking and sleeping and sleeping and drinking, and at about twenty-minutes past ten set out for home. When against the church three men, one of whom was Marshall, came up to him. Marshall choked him by putting his arm round his neck, and one of the other two, neither of whom he recognised, drew about 30s out of the breast pocket of his coat, and made off with it. Police-constable Hughes deposed that a little after ten on the same night he saw the prisoners, Marshall and Wooldridge, together near the GEORGE INN. Marshall spoke to him and asked how he did. He complained of a cold and a sore throat, and Marshall said that if he came to his house in the morning he would give him something that would cure him. He (Hughes,) saw the two men together sometime afterwards. Mr. Cater asked the Bench to remand the prisoners that he might procure the attendance of a material witness, who declined to come unless summoned. Mr. Walker objected to the detention of Arrowsmith and Wooldridge, and eventually they were discharged, and Marshall remanded for a week, but admitted to bail in one surety of £50.”

Walsall Free Press 19/12/1857

“Edward Marshall, the man remanded from the previous Wednesday on a charge of garrotting and robbing a labourer named Wiggan on the night of Saturday, the 5th instant, at Bloxwich, as again placed at the bar. Mr. Wilkinson appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Walker retained for the defence. The witnesses examined on the previous occasion recapitulated their evidence, the following additional testimony was adduced.

Fanny, wife of Michael Partridge, landlord of the GEORGE Public-house, Bloxwich, said Wiggan went to her house about half-past seven o’clock on the morning of the 5th instant. The prisoner was also there. They were drinking together. About ten o’clock in the morning Wiggan went into the stable to lie down, and Marshall went with him. She did not see anything more of Wiggan till late in the evening, when he went and had sixpennyworth of brandy, and being rather intoxicated she asked him if he had all his money right, when he took twenty-five shillings out of his pocket, and after showing it to her returned it to his pocket. She had known the prisoner for seven years, and he had the reputation of being an honest sober man. Marshall was in the house when the money was counted. In reply to Mr. Wilkinson witness stated that she had never said to anybody that she wished the money counted because she had suspicion of Marshall. Michael Partridge was next examined and corroborated the evidence given by his wife, in addition to which he said Wiggan had told him that Marshall attempted to pick his pocket while he lay in the stable. Charles Somerfield said he was standing near Mr. Stanley’s shop about ten o’clock on the night in question. The lights in the shop rendered any object quite visible. He saw two men in the road, and one of them threw the other down and then ran away. He followed him and said to him, ‘I know you Neil.’ He thought it was the prisoner by his dress, but could not swear it was the prisoner. Marshall went to him on the following day and asked him if he had told anyone about him robbing a man last night, and he said he had not. He then told him to say nothing about it, and he promised if he was had up he would not say any more about it than he could help. A boy named Lovett deposed that he was passing Mr. Stanley’s shop about ten o’clock on the night in question, and saw a man kneeling upon Wiggan. The prisoner was the man kneeling upon Wiggan. Police-constable Hughes knew the prisoner well, and saw him in company with another man immediately after he heard of the robbery. They were standing near the GEORGE Public-house. Partridge had told him that Wiggan was followed out of house by three men, but he declined to mention their names. This closed the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Walker then addressed the Bench on behalf of the prisoner, grounding his defence upon mistaken identity. Witnesses were then called in support of the prisoner’s innocence. Samuel Wooldridge said he was with the prisoner on the night in question. They left the GEORGE Public-house about nine o’clock and went to the BLUE PIG INN, where they remained till near eleven o’clock; and during this time Marshall had not been out of his company. He bore a good character. This witness equivocated so much in giving his evidence, that the Bench did not think there was any reliance to be placed upon it. William Slater, a blacksmith at Bloxwich, was at the BLUE PIG from nine till eleven o’clock on the night in question but he did not recollect seeing Marshall there, although he was in Wooldridge’s company the whole time. The depositions having been read over to the prisoner, the Bench, after a brief consultation expressed their opinion of his guilt, and committed him for trial at the next Quarter Sessions. Another charge was then brought against the prisoner of having, on the 6th of September, committed a similar robbery near the church at Bloxwich, upon man named Henry Clarke, from whom he took 17s 8d. The prosecutor in this case did not appear. Mr. Walker expressed his opinion that this was a case got up to influence the former charge. The investigation occupied the attention of the court for upwards of four hours.”

[At the Staffordshire Lent Assizes (March 1858), Edward Marshall was found guilty and sentenced to nine months’ imprisonment.]

Walsall Free Press 17/4/1858

“About a quarter to seven o’clock, on Saturday evening last, as Samuel Beck, baker, with Mr. John Beck, Stafford Street, was commencing from Bloxwich with a spring cart, the horse when near the KINGS ARMS public-house became unmanageable and galloping off ran over and killed a little boy, nine years old, named John Thomas, son of John Thomas, collier, Bloxwich. On the afternoon of Monday last, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, held an inquest upon the body at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, at which Alfred Cox, Henry Cooke, and Henry Challengwath, all of whom witnessed the accident, and from whose evidence it appeared that Beck, who had neither whip nor tick, was doing all he could to check the speed of the horse, which appeared to be restive and unmanageable, and that had deceased not ran in front of the horse the accident would not have occurred. Charles Somerville, medical practitioner, by whom the child had been attended, spoke to the nature of the wounds and the extent of the injury, and stated that when he first saw the child he thought it could not survive. Mr. W. H. Duignan, who watched the proceedings on behalf of Mr. Beck, said the driver of the cart was present, and was prepared to make a statement. Samuel Beck was called, and having been duly cautioned by the coroner, made the following statement: ‘I am in the employ of Mr. Beck, baker, Stafford Street, Walsall. I ran over deceased about a quarter to seven o’clock on Saturday evening. I was at the time driving from Bloxwich to Walsall. When about twenty yards from the KINGS ARMS INN, Bloxwich, the horse whisked his tail over the reins, and after kicking a short while started off at a gallop. I did all I could to check his pace, and succeeded in doing so before coming to the place where the accident occurred. Had the deceased not darted in front of the horse the accident would not have taken place; but he was no sooner out of the groupe than he was under the horse. I was perfectly sober at the time; and the reason I did not stop to attend to the child was that I saw there were plenty of people to attend to it, and I did not think at the time it was so seriously injured; besides, a man named Cooke was using very abusive language to me, and as I was perfectly aware that my address was known should I be required, I thought I was better off not to cause any disturbance by waiting, so I drove off.’

The coroner, having briefly addressed the jury upon the evidence adduced and the law of the case, they retired, and after consulting together for three quarters of an hour, returned a verdict of Accidental Death, but requested the coroner to censure the driver of the cart for his apparent want of feeling in not waiting to see deceased properly attended to. 'It is the opinion of the jury,' said the coroner, 'that you should render the parents of the deceased, who are in very straitened circumstances, some pecuniary relief, but perhaps the foreman will himself express the opinion of the jury on this point.' Mr. Beck (owner of the cart) here stated that he had, on learning the particulars of the case, sent the parents £1 10s. The jury expressed their approval of Mr. Beck's conduct, and the court was dismissed."

1861 Census

High Street – GEORGE INN

[1] Fanny Partridge (45), unmarried, victualler, born Cannock;

[2] Betsy Benton (24), niece, barmaid, born Cannock;

[3] Fanny Benton (18), niece, servant, born Cannock;

[4] Harriet Hales (23), domestic servant, born Penkridge;

[5] Joseph Crutchley (39), brother, coal miner, born Cannock:

[Was Fanny really a widow? Her brother's surname is different, and Directories list her as Mrs.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/1/1862

"Jeremiah Crutchley, a respectably dressed man, was summoned for assaulting Daniel Wilkes. The two, with others, were drinking at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, on the previous Thursday, and were earnestly engaged in settling the dispute with America. Opinions differed, and personal animosity was kindled by political differences. The defendant was accused of being a Chartist, which he repudiated in a very vehement manner. Blows followed, but no serious damage was done, and the magistrates after a patient hearing, dismissed the case."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/5/1862

"At the Guildhall, Walsall, yesterday, Jeremiah Crutchley was fined 2s 6d and costs, for having on the evening of Wednesday last, assaulted George Cox, in the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/11/1867

"A novice will walk Young Waddy of Bloxwich from one up to seven miles, or any other novice of the same place, for £5 or £10 a side, and will be at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, this (Saturday) evening, from eight to ten o'clock to make a match."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/4/1869 - Advert

"Lost, at Bloxwich, a Gray Mare Pony, about 16 hands high. Two broken knees.

Whoever return the same to the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, will be Rewarded."

Fanny Partridge retired to 49, High Street. [1871]

1871 Census

48, High Street

[1] George Thraves (57), innkeeper, born Ratcliff, Nottinghamshire;

[2] Fanny Thraves (46), wife, born Edwinstowe, Nottinghamshire;

[3] Mary E. Thraves (15), daughter, born Eccleshall, Staffordshire;

[4] Arthur Thraves (14), son, scholar, born Ratcliff on Trent, Nottinghamshire;

[5] Alice Thraves (11), daughter, scholar, born Edwinstowe, Nottinghamshire;

[6] George W. Thraves (7), son, scholar, born Eccleshall, Staffordshire;

[7] Ernest H. Thraves (4), son, scholar, born Eccleshall, Staffordshire;

[8] Sarah A. Craddock (21), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Thomas Parker was also a stirrup maker. [1880]

1881 Census

119, High Street

[1] Jane Parker (41), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] William Parker (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[3] Cecilia Parker (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Rebecca Parker (5), daughter, scholar, born Willenhall;

[5] Eliza Parker (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[6] James Hanton (21), barman, born Wednesbury;

[7] Fanny Ball (14), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Evening Star 3/2/1882

"On Wednesday, M. J. Crump (deputy coroner), held an inquest at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, upon the body of Phoebe Rosannah Bryan (3), the daughter of Thomas and Rosannah Bryan, of Church Street, Bloxwich.

The evidence showed that on the 26th ultimo, the mother went upstairs, leaving the child in the kitchen. She soon afterwards heard screams and immediately running into the kitchen she found the child's clothes in flames, which she extinguished, and sent for Dr. Somerville and Mr. Palmer, who attended the deceased until her death on the 28th ultimo. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

1891 Census

119, High Street

[1] William H. Riley (44), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Sarah Riley (38), wife, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;

[3] Harry Riley (12), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[4] Thomas Riley (9), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[5] Florence Riley (7), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;

[6] William Riley (1), son, born Pelsall;

[7] Fanny Baugh (15), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;

[8] Eliza Hathersmith (13), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 2/11/1892

"Mr. H. H. Jackson, solicitor, applied for a music license to be granted to William Riley, of the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, the time being from seven till nine o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays. Mr. Jackson explained that the applicant had a large club room, the use of which he had granted to the Victoria Brass Band for their practices.

The Chief-constable said that the band, until recently possessed an excellent room for their practices off licensed premises. He saw no reason for them going on licensed premises now.

Mr. Jackson intimated that there was a good reason for leaving.

The application was refused. Mr. Lindop remarking that the band might get the use of the Board schools."

Walsall Observer 16/6/1900

"On Sunday morning Sarah Ann Walker (67), widow, who lived with two married daughters at Elmore Green, Bloxwich, was found in a dying state in a coppice known as Dales Wood, Bentley. The statement made at the time was that about half past nine on Sunday morning a man named Daniel Poole was on his land looking after some cattle which had strayed, when he discovered deceased, who was in a shocking plight, her wrists and face being badly bruised, and her clothing saturated with blood. Knowing the woman he called her by name, and she opened her eyes and said she was very ill, and that she had been lying in the wood all night. Assistance was obtained from a cottage near by, but deceased rapidly sank, and died very shortly afterwards.

At the Willenhall Police Court, on Monday, a man named Jabez Pugh (28), a miner, of Field Street, Bloxwich, was charged with causing the death of the deceased.

Inspector Oakden said that about midnight on Sunday he arrested prisoner on suspicion of having caused the woman's death, and told him that he was the last person seen in her company. Prisoner replied, 'Yes.' Witness applied for a week's remand, which was granted.

The inquest was held on Wednesday morning, at the WHITE LION, Short Heath, by the County Coroner (Mr. T. A. Stokes), the accused Jabez Pugh being present, and was represented by Mr. A. J. Glover.

Mary Ann Beddow, 19, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, said that the deceased was her mother, and lived with her. Her mother was the widow of John Walker, farm labourer, of Bloxwich. She last saw her mother alive at 10.45pm on Saturday, when she went out of the house with a small whisky bottle. Witness saw Jabez Pugh on that night at about 10.30pm in the passage to the BULLS HEAD INN, which was a short distance from her house. The prisoner paid for a pint of ale at the BULLS HEAD for witness, her mother, and her niece. He also paid for some drink for witness and her mother at the GEORGE INN. They left him in the GEORGE, and went home, and immediately after they got in her mother went out without saying anything as to where she was going. Prisoner was dressed in uniform when they met him. In consequence of what she was told, she went to a small wood at Bentley on Sunday morning, and found her mother there dead.

Joseph Beddow, husband of the last witness, said that on Saturday last, at twenty-five minutes to eleven, Mrs. Walker went out. Witness heard Pugh call her to go and have a drink. Prisoner's wife was ill, and he (prisoner) asked deceased to visit her, but she refused, and he then asked her to go and have a glass. They started over towards the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN. She did not come back that night, and, when he saw her on Sunday morning in the wood near Bentley, she was just dying. She was bleeding when he saw her.

John Smith, landlord of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, said that about five minutes to eleven, the deceased came to his house. Witness's wife served her with some whisky. She was quite sober at the time, and was alone.

Fanny Hawley, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Saturday night, between twenty minutes and a quarter to eleven, she was walking in the direction of Bloxwich Railway Station with a young man, named John Jarvis. Witness saw Mrs. Walker, and a man in uniform with her, going in the direction of Bentley, where deceased was found.

Daniel Poole, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning he was in his garden about 9am, when he saw something lying in a wood, about 40 yards away. He went down, and found the deceased (Sarah Ann Walker). Witness spoke to her, and she opened her eyes and said, 'I am very bad, Dan'. The wind blew deceased's bonnet aside, and showed him that she had a blackened eye. Witness asked her if she had been quarrelling with her daughter or anybody, and she said, 'No'. Witness then asked her what brought her with a black eye, and she replied, 'I have tumbled down, Dan'. Deceased said that she would like a cup of tea, and witness went to get one. On going back he saw a young woman, named Elizabeth Anson, and told her that Mrs. Walker was lying down and wanted some tea. They went back to the deceased together and tried to lift her up, but she refused to rise. A man who came up said that he would go to Bloxwich and tell Mrs. Beddow, and witness then went back home, not thinking that deceased was in such a dangerous condition. He saw no marks except the black eye. There was a footpath through the coppice, used by workmen as a short cut. The deceased was lying across the footpath, which was about 200 yards from the turnpike road. In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that deceased made no complaint about anyone, and he saw no blood anywhere. Deceased was quite sensible when she spoke to him. Witness had never seen deceased drunk, but he knew that she was given to drinking. Hannah Gosling, living at Beechdale Cottage, on the canal side, said that on Sunday morning she went into the coppice at the bottom of her house. Daniel Poole and Elizabeth Anson told her about Sarah Walker being in the coppice, and witness took her a cup of tea, and saw that her eye was discoloured and the bridge of her nose disfigured. Witness asked deceased what brought her there, and she said she did not know. Witness asked if she had been quarrelling with anyone at home, as she frequently did, but she replied that she had not. Witness asked her how long she had been there, and she said she had been there all night. Witness then asked her how she came there, and she said she had been brought there, but she did not know who by. Witness lifted her up, and she died with her head on witness's knee. Witness saw her about ten o'clock, and at 10 minutes to 11 she died. Her clothing and boots were saturated with blood, and her wrist was frightfully blackened.

Police-constable Dodge (256), of the County Police, stationed at Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning, from information he had received, he went down to the coppice at Bentley at 10.55am. The woman was dead when he arrived, and he removed the body to the WHITE LION. He examined the body and found that the face and wrists were discoloured, and her clothes were saturated in blood. The place where she was found was about a mile from where she lived. On information received he went to the coppice again on the morning of the inquest, and found marks of a severe struggle having taken place about 200 yards from where the body was found. He had been given a flask containing some whisky which was found there, and there were marks showing that a man had knelt.

John Smith, of the THATCHED HOUSE, identified the flask as one that the deceased brought to his house on the Saturday night. The officer, continuing, said deceased appeared to have struggled towards the cottage where she once lived, as she was found at a distance of only 50 yards from the cottage while the marks of the struggle were 240 yards away.

Ernest Dodge, son of the last witness, said that he found the flask about 250 yards away from where the woman was found. He found it at about 8.30 on Tuesday night. He also saw signs of a struggle.

Jabez Pugh, collier, in the employment of the Springhill Colliery, Essington, having been duly cautioned, said that on Saturday night he was in uniform. He saw Mrs. Walker about 9.30pm on the Saturday night, when she was in the BULLS HEAD INN. He treated her to a glass of whisky, and had a pint of ale himself. She went out, leaving him drinking with another man. Later on he saw her in the GEORGE, where he had a pint of ale, and she had some more whisky, and, then she went away again. He did not go and call Mrs. Walker out on that night, and he did not ask her to go and have another drink with him. He saw her outside her house, but he did not walk off with her towards the THATCHED HOUSE. He was not walking in the direction of Bentley with her at about a quarter to eleven, and the last occasion on which he saw her was when she was leaning against her door shouting just before eleven. He had not asked Mrs. Walker to attend to his wife, as he had got one woman who was doing that work. There was a route march in the afternoon and there were a lot of the volunteers in uniform about the town. There were also militiamen about. He reached home at 12 o'clock, and between 11 and 12 he was walking about. The BULLS HEAD was about half a mile from his house, and going home he met several people he knew, but spoke to no one. The blood on the white cuff of his tunic was caused by his nose bleeding outside the GEORGE. The shoulder strap which was torn had been unstitched for some time, and the belt hook which was missing had been lost for months. With regard to the dirt on the trousers he had no idea how they got in such a state. There was also blood on his belt, but that got on from his nose at the same time as the other did on the cuff. The torn bayonet frog which was produced was an old one, and the one he wore on Saturday was in his house somewhere. Both himself and Mrs. Walker were sober. When he got home he spoke to no one except his wife. There was not a woman named Allen in the house when he reached home at twelve.

Eliza Allen, Field Street, Bloxwich, said that she was a near neighbour of Pugh's, and had known him for some time. She was in and out of Pugh's house all Saturday night, and the last time she went there was at twenty minutes to two in the morning. Witness left the house at two o'clock, and Pugh had not arrived at that time. Witness was absolutely certain on that point. There was no one in the house except Mrs. Pugh, who locked the door when witness left for the last time.

Dr. J. T. Hartill, MRCS, LRCP, police surgeon, in practice in Willenhall, said that he had made a post mortem examination on the body of the deceased on Tuesday, and found recent bruises and abrasions on both knees. The clothing worn by the woman was saturated with blood, and the external injuries would not account for the saturation. He attributed death to collapse and shock, due to rupture of the liver, injury to the kidneys, and effusion of blood into the peritoneum. He was further of the opinion that these conditions were brought about by violence, and that not long before her death the woman passed some bloody fluid from the right kidney. It seemed to be impossible that three conditions, namely, a rupture of the liver, a bruised kidney, with blood in considerable quantity in the cavity of the abdomen, could be present in combination except as the result of external violence. He would describe the woman as being unhealthy, although possessed of a strongly built frame. It would have needed considerable violence to have caused the symptoms found. A person might live for twenty four hours after the injuries. He thought that the bruises on the face and knees were the result of a fall. The blood on Pugh's tunic &c, might have been caused in the manner stated by him.

Thomas Oakden, inspector of police at Willenhall, said that on Sunday afternoon he saw the body of the deceased and called in Dr. Hartill. About 11.30 that night, witness, assisted by Inspector Marshall, (Walsall Police), arrested prisoner at his own house, from whence he was taken to Bloxwich Police Station. Prisoner, on being told that he was arrested for being the last person who was seen with deceased, answered, 'Yes'. Prisoner seemed quite cool and collected. Witness took possession of prisoner's uniform, the trousers were covered with dirt, the belt hook on the tunic was lost, and the shoulder strap torn partly off. Afterwards he found the damaged bayonet frog between the bed and the mattress. The distance from deceased's house to the wood was about a mile. Inspector Marshall, of the Walsall Police, in charge of the Police Station at Bloxwich, said that he went with the last witness to Pugh's house, and found the belt at the bottom of the steps leading into the cellar.

Sergeant Eaton, sergeant instructor to E Company of Bloxwich Volunteers said that Jabez Pugh was a member of that Corps, and that on Saturday there was a parade. Pugh was present, and was dressed in the clothes produced. Witness dismissed them about 6pm. Witness said that he would have noticed the shoulder strap had it been torn on parade. Witness did not know of anyone who had two frogs, but Pugh might have had two. At 9 o'clock on Saturday night witness thought that there might have been about 30 volunteers in uniform at the BULLS HEAD.

In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that although there was no close examination he was sure that he would have noticed the tunic if it had been torn. Prisoner had been in the Volunteers for 10 years, and witness for two, so that it was possible to have had two of the frogs without witness knowing.

The Coroner having summed up, the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder by some person or persons unknown.”
[Pugh was found not guilty at Stafford Assizes.]

1901 Census

119, High Street

[1] Robert Lane (41), licensed victualler, born Dawley, Shropshire;

[2] Harriet Lane (39), wife, born Madeley, Shropshire;

[3] Martha P. Lane (20), daughter, born Pelsall;

[4] Enoch Lane (15), son, coal miner, born Pelsall;

[5] William Lane (13), son, born Pelsall;

[6] Eliza Lane (11), daughter, born Pelsall;

[7] Maggie Lane (8), daughter, born Pelsall;

[8] Sidney Lane (4), son, born Pelsall;

[9] Eliza Lloyd (77), mother in law, widow, born Horseley, Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1905

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Mr. John Dilks, GEORGE HOTEL, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/5/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich.....”

1911 Census

119, High Street

[1] John Thomas Parry (49), hotel manager, born Netherton;

[2] Agnes Parry (50), wife, married 9 years, hotel manager, born Birmingham;

[3] Marion Parry (7), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/2/1914

“A Bloxwich boy of 15 was charged with stealing 4d and a counterfeit five-shilling piece, the money of Richard Lane, licensee of the GEORGE INN, Bloxwich, on the 20th inst. The evidence showed that prosecutor had missed money from the till of the outdoor department for some time, and three pennies and a counterfeit five-shilling piece were marked and placed with two unmarked halfpennies in the drawer. Police-constable Smith, who was concealed in an adjoining room, kept watch through a hole under the latch and saw the lad enter and raise the small window quietly. He then looked round to see if there was anyone in the bar, and, raising himself on to the counter, leaned over and drew out the till. The constable entered and stood behind him, when he got down with three pennies and a halfpenny in his hand. The other halfpenny and the crown he produced from his pocket at the police station. He was put on probation for six months.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
GEORGE INN, Bloxwich. £1 8s 7d.”

Richard Lane – see also BEACON WAY.

Walsall Observer 5/1/1924

“In connection with the ‘Duke of York’ Lodge of the RAOB, a dinner was held on Wednesday evening at the GEORGE INN, High Street, Bloxwich. There was a large gathering of members and friends, presided over by Mr. J. A. Dain.....”

Walsall Observer 2/8/1924

“.....When Mr. Cooper applied for sanction of plans to alterations to the GEORGE INN, High Street, Bloxwich, he said that redecoration and renewals were being carried out and the architect was anxious that various structural alterations should be carried out at the same time. This was why the application was being made at the transfer sessions and not at the annual licensing meeting.

Mr. Phillips said the magistrates had visited the premises and they had anticipated that Mr. Cooper would say that the architect was very shocked at the state of affairs there. 'We are not at all satisfied with the place', added the presiding magistrate. 'It is filthy dirty and the living accommodation is absolutely unsatisfactory. We cannot grant the application for alterations as they exist now.'

Mr. Cooper said a considerable part of the proposed alterations consisted of improving the living accommodation for the tenant.

Mr. Phillips: The alterations set out in these plans will not satisfy us. We shall expect a further set of plans to be submitted, and if the architect consults the clerk to the justices, who knows our wishes, he will have something to go on.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk): If you are going to do anything at the house, make a good job of it."

Walsall Observer 20/9/1924

"A violent scene in a public house was described to the magistrates at Walsall Police Court yesterday, when Joseph Lines, 103, Church Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for assaulting Joseph Green, furnaceman, 7, Green Lane, Leamore.

Mr. Frank Cooper, for Green, stated that defendant, who had been adjudged the father of a child of complainant's daughter, met complainant in the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, on Wednesday evening September 10th and invited him to the GEORGE HOTEL.

While they were there, defendant suddenly turned round and struck complainant two vicious blows on the face, also kicking him when he fell down. Complainant bore out this statement, and in cross-examination by Mr. A. V. Haden, who defended, said the only explanation he could give for the defendant's attitude was that he (complainant) had forbidden him his house. He denied that he was drunk and in a quarrelsome mood.

Defendant was fined 20s."

Walsall Observer 18/10/1924

".....At a session the previous day, the justices also approved plans in respect of the GEORGE HOTEL, Bloxwich."

It was modernised in 1936.

1939 Register

119, High Street – GEORGE INN (2 of 4)

[1] John Walker, date of birth 9/4/1904, milling machine operator, married;

[2] Elizabeth Walker, dob 24/12/1907, licensed house manageress, married;

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

GEORGE INN, Bloxwich. £1 6s 9d."

[2011]

Closed

It became a shop. [2012]

GEORGE

Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Francis Woolley [1835]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/5/1828 - Notice

"Notice is hereby given, that the Assignees of the estate and effects of George Fox, late of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, who was lately discharged from his Majesty's gaol in and for the county of Stafford, under and the virtue of an Act of Parliament made and passed in the first year of the reign of his present Majesty, entitled 'An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England,' will, on Tuesday the third day of June next, at twelve of the clock at noon precisely, attend the GEORGE INN, situate in Park Street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, to declare the amount of balance in hand, and make a dividend out of the same among the creditors of the said insolvent, or any of his creditors, object to any debt or debts mentioned in the said schedule, such objections are at the same time and place to be made.”

GEORGE HOTEL

1, Digbeth / St. Pauls Place, Bridge Place, The Bridge, WALSALL

OWNERS

Francis W. Yates, farmer, Great Barr
Ansell Ltd. (leased)
Walsall Corporation (acquired in 1927 for £20,800)

LICENSEES

Thomas Fletcher (1781 – [1791])
Richard Moore Fletcher [1813] – [1851]
George Moore Fletcher [1851]
Thomas Furnell [1858] – [1873];
George Westbrook [1872] manager
Hugh Vallance [1880] – [1885];
Thomas Eady [1890] – [1891];
Arthur Claridge [] – 189_); [1893]
Henry Burton Berry [1895] (189_ – 1899);
Miss Alice Clifford (1899 – 1906); manager
William John Lee (1906 – 1910);
Max Otto Meinhardt (1910 – 1911);
Hugh Munro Johnston (1911 – 1919);
Harry Hall (1919 – 1922);
Winnie Wordsworth Caroline Headley (1922 – 1933);
Thomas Crawford Gordon (1933 – 1938);
Patrick Frederick William Donohoe (1938 – 1951);
Robert Crabtree (1951 – 1952);
Stanley McEwan (1952 – 1961);
Cyril Edward Mitchell (1961 – 1965);
Terence John Yeadon (1965 – 1966);
William Laidler Edgar (1966 – [])

NOTES

St. Pauls Place [1834]
New Street [1850]
Bridge Place [1851]
1, Digbeth [1858]
The Bridge [1860]

GEORGE INN AND HOTEL [1818]
GEORGE AND COMMERCIAL HOTEL [1864], [1865]

Thomas Fletcher, innholder, Walsall. [1791]

Richard Fletcher, GEORGE HOTEL, Posting House, Travellers Inn and Coach Office, Digbeth. [1813]

The History and Directory of Walsall by Thomas Pearce 1813

“At the GEORGE INN and Hotel, kept by Mr. Richard Moore Fletcher, is a very spacious Assembly Room which was erected in 1793, and is fitted up with three beautiful cut-glass chandeliers, and an orchestra for musicians, and will admit fifty couples to dance without inconvenience.”

Coaching house [1818]
Commercial and posting house [1835], [1841], [1842]

Posting and commercial hotel [1845], [1851]
Commercial and Family Hotel and Posting House. [1845]
Posting house [1828], [1849], [1850]
Family and commercial hotel. [1872], [1896]
Commercial [1904]
First Class Family and Commercial Hotel [1916], [1921]

It was established in 1781 by Thomas Fletcher.

It had a spacious Assembly Room erected in 1793, fitted with three beautiful cut glass chandeliers and an orchestra was in attendance and 50 couples could dance “without inconvenience”.

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/9/1795 - Advert

“Coal And Ironstone.

To be Sold to the Highest Bidder, on Friday the 25th of September, at the GEORGE INN, in Walsall, between the hours of Three and Five in the Afternoon; subject to such Conditions as will be then and there produced.

All the Valuable Mines and Veins of Coal and Ironstone, under 24 Acres of Land, situate and being near Prince’s End, in the Parish of Tipton, in the county of Stafford, and now in the occupation of William Baker and his Under-tenants.

These Mines lie extremely well for market, being only Nine Miles from Birmingham, Two from Dudley and Bilston, and Four from Wolverhampton; and near several Iron Foundries.

The Birmingham Canal passes through the Centre of the Land; and the Coal Mine, it is supposed, is upwards of 10 yards thick. For further Particulars apply to Mr. Wilson, Attorney in Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1805 - Advert

“The True Briton, A New Post Coach, From the Shakespeare Hotel, Newcastle-under-Lyme,

Sets off from that place every Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday, at one o’clock at Noon, through Stone, Stafford, Walsall, Birmingham, &c. – Returns, and sets off, at the Same Hour, from the Shakespeare every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, through Congleton, Wilmslow, Cheadle, Manchester, and for all parts of the North.

Passengers and Parcels booked at the following places viz. Castle Inn, Birmingham; GEORGE, Walsall; Nag’s Head, Stafford; Shakespeare, Newcastle; Bull’s Head, Congleton; and Star Inn, Manchester.

Performed by C. Fielding & Co.”

Birmingham Chronicle 29/11/1821

“The Duke of Wellington changed horses at the GEORGE INN, Walsall, on his road to Teddesley, and was most enthusiastically greeted by a considerable number of the most respectable inhabitants of that town, who had purposefully assembled. His Grace was addressed by the mayor, who expressed the high gratification which his townspeople felt at the moment in witnessing one who had achieved so splendid a part in the deliverance of Europe, about to become the guest of their much valued Representative; and that day on which his grace travelled, alone prevented them from offering him more signal demonstrations of respect. The Duke, in a suitable reply, politely acknowledged his obligations for the manner in which he had been received.”

A coach to London left from here every Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday. [1822]

A coach to Liverpool left from here every Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday. [1822]

Pillars (from Fisherwick Hall) were added to the frontage in 1823.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/9/1825 - Advert

“Walsall Races.....

Ordinary on Wednesday at the GEORGE HOTEL; on Thursday at the DRAGON; and Ball at the GEORGE HOTEL.

Cocking in the Cock Pit, at the NEW INN, Park Street.

Performances at the Theatre every night as usual.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 1/10/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction (pursuant to a Decree and subsequent Order of the High Court of Chancery made in the cause of Woolley and others versus Gordon Perk and others, with the approbation of William Wingfield, Esq, one of the Masters of the said Court), at the house of Richard Moore Fletcher, the GEORGE INN, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on Wednesday next, the 3rd day of October, at twelve o’clock noon. Freehold and Leasehold Tenements and Building land, Commercial Inn, extensive Manufactory, and Premises, situate in the town of Walsall; also upwards of 110 Acres of Accommodation Land, with the Mines and Minerals thereunder, and the Houses and Farm Buildings thereon, near Walsall aforesaid, and in Rushall and Bloxwich; also Houses and Garden Ground at Bescot, and Houses and Building land at Wednesbury, all in the county of Stafford, late the property of Charles Perks, deceased.....”

The Royal Mail coach to Bristol and Bath, through Birmingham, Worcester, Gloucester and Newport, left from here every evening at half past 6. [1828]

The Despatch coach to Chester, through Newport, Turnhill, Whitchurch, Barnhall and Malpas, left from here every day (except Sunday) at 12. [1828]

The Aurora coach to Liverpool, left from here every morning at 10. [1828]

The Magnet coach to Liverpool, through Stafford, Stone and Newcastle, left from here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night at 10. [1828]

The Royal Mail coach to London, through Coventry, Dunchurch, Daventry, Stoney Stratford, Dunstable and St. Albans, left from here every afternoon at 4. [1828]

The Aurora coach to London, through Birmingham, Stratford, Shipstone, Oxford, Henley on Thames, and High Wickham (sic), left from here every morning at 5. [1828]

The Despatch coach to London, on same route as Royal Mail, left from here every evening (except Sunday) at 5. [1828]

The Magnet coach to London, on same route as Royal Mail, left from here every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening at a quarter to 5. [1828]

The Royal Mail coach to Manchester left from here every morning at 7. [1828]

The Royal Mail coach to Sheffield and Leeds, through Lichfield, Burton, Derby, Alfreton, and Chesterfield, left from here every morning at 6. [1828]

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

“The GEORGE and the STORK were both posting houses. There were 106 coach and posting horses in the stables at the GEORGE and at various times the following coaches passed through daily – the Red Rover, the Railway, the Albion, Crown Prince, Aurora, Magnet, Times Mail, the Gloucester Mail, Tantivy, the Hollyhead, Standard Pearl, Rapid, York House, and the ‘Lazy’ Liverpool; the latter so called because it was a slow heavy coach carrying passengers at a cheap fare, it was often crowded with sailors and Irish pig dealers and known familiarly in Walsall as the ‘Lousy’ Liverpool. These were in addition to the local coaches to Birmingham, Dudley, Wolverhampton and Lichfield.”

It was the scene of rioting at elections in December 1832.

Pigot's Directory of Staffordshire 1842

“.....The inns [of Walsall] are of very superior order; the principal one, the GEORGE HOTEL, in Digbeth, is a truly elegant and commodious building.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1845 - Notice

“South Staffordshire Junction Railway.....

We, the undersigned Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Iron Masters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other inhabitants do hereby express our opinion that the projected South Staffordshire Junction Railway is the line best calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the districts and we promise to it our strenuous support.....

R. M. Fletcher, GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall.”

A coach left from here every morning at 10, to Birmingham. [1849]

Richard Moore Fletcher, GEORGE HOTEL, New Street. [1850]

1851 Census

The Bridge

- [1] Richard Fletcher (72), unmarried, hotel keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] J. F. Sharrott (49), nephew, unmarried, wine merchant, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Fletcher (56), sister, born Walsall;
- [4] Helen Fletcher (52), sister, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Bilsell (48), friend, born Halesowen;
- [6] Caroline ____h (29), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [7] Eliza Davis (24), barmaid, born Worcester;
- [8] Martha Parkes (26), waitress, born Ripley, Derbyshire;
- [9] Ann Allen (22), parlour maid, born Worcestershire;
- [10] Hannah Clayton (73), cook, born Newton, Staffordshire;
- [11] Helen Banner (23), maid, born Stone, Staffordshire;
- [12] James Jones (23), ostler, born Cannock;
- [13] James McGeoch (29), visitor, commercial traveller, born Inch, Scotland;
- [14] James Hentridge (34), visitor, commercial traveller, born Bicester, Oxfordshire;
- [15] William Brown (13), call boy, born Walsall;

Worcester Journal 21/1/1854

“South Staffordshire Election.....

On Tuesday Lord Ingestre addressed the electors at public meetings held at the NEPTUNE, Willenhall; the DUKE OF YORK, Darlaston; the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall; and the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, and Princess Assembly Rooms, Westbromwich.....”

Thomas Furnell = Thomas Farnel

Birmingham Journal 14/1/1860 - Advert

“The Walsall Annual Yeomanry Ball will take place at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, January 17th, 1860.”
Gentlemen’s Tickets, 8s 6d; Ladies’, 6s.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/8/1860 - Advert

“Hooper for Coroner.

The Committees for conducting Mr. Hooper’s Election sit daily at the following Places.....
Walsall, at the GEORGE HOTEL.....

By order. Hodgson and Allen, G. S. Watson, Agents for Mr. Hooper. 14th August, 1860.”

[This election followed the death of George Hayes Hinchliffe. Edwin Hooper, Deputy Coroner, was elected Coroner.]

Howse’s omnibus left from here to Birmingham, daily except Friday and Sunday. [1861]

John Cox’s omnibus left from here to meet every train at Walsall Station. The fare was 4d to all parts of the town. [1861]

Joseph Sellman, carrier to Cannock, left from here on Tuesdays at 4.30pm. [1861], [1865]

Birmingham Journal 1/3/1862 - Advert

“South Staffordshire Water Works Company.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the next Ordinary Half-Yearly General Meeting of the Shareholders of the South Staffordshire Waterworks Company will be held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 4th day of March next, at One o’clock on the afternoon.

The Transfer Books will be Closed from the 24th day of February inst., until after the said Meeting.

By order, J. Churchill, Secretary, 1, Bridgeman Place, Walsall, February 12th, 1862.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/11/1866

“The Court Leet of the Right Hon. The Earl of Bradford was held on Friday, under the presidency of Messrs. John and George Potter, for the Borough and Foreign of Walsall, at the GEORGE HOTEL.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1866

“On Saturday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, on the body of Sarah White, aged five years, the daughter of parents living in Ryecroft. On the 9th inst, the child set fire to her clothes while lighting a piece of paper at the fire, while left alone for a short time, and was severely burnt about the face and upper parts of her body. She was taken to the Cottage Hospital, and on Friday the little sufferer died. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1866

“On Wednesday morning last, a dreadful explosion of gas took place in one of Mr. Sparrow’s pits, at the Fishley Colliery, whereby five of the men working there were more or less injured, and one of them named Thomas Edwards, 22 years of age, whose parents reside in Bilston, and who had only recently come to work at the pit, was so seriously burnt that it was deemed necessary to remove him to the Cottage Hospital, Walsall, to which place he was speedily conveyed; but although every effort was used for his recovery, he, after lingering in great agony, expired on Thursday.

An inquest was opened at the GEORGE HOTEL, on Saturday, before Mr. A. A. Fletcher, coroner. From the evidence of William Roberts, the only witness examined, it appeared that about five o’clock on Wednesday morning Thomas Roberts (the doggy of the pit), Thomas Harper, and the deceased were working together in the pit, when an explosion of sulphur took place at the spot where they were employed. Witness and Samuel Taylor were working about forty or fifty yards away, but they immediately ran towards the spot where the other three men were, and asked if any of them were hurt. They were answered in the negative, and were told not to approach nearer, as there would be another explosion. They accordingly threw themselves on the ground, and there remained while the other three men escaped up the shaft. In about 10 or 15 minutes they also were assisted out of the pit. The first explosion was followed by three others. It was found that Edwards and Roberts were badly burnt, and witness, Harper and Taylor were slightly injured. When the roads were being driven, the pit was very full of sulphur, and lamps were then used by the workmen, but there was no necessity for the use of lamps afterwards, there being a good draught of air through the pit, sufficient, in fact to waste a candle in an hour. Lamps were, however, kept in the pit, and one of these was used by the doggy to examine the pit three times a day. The pit was examined on the night before the explosion by the doggy, who cautioned the men to keep the candles out of the ‘gob,’ or, in other words, to keep them in the air way. Witness believed this had not been done by Harper, who was reported to be very careless about such matters, and hence the explosion. Witness knew nothing about the rules. The enquiry was adjourned until Wednesday, for the attendance of the Government Inspector.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/11/1866

“On Wednesday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Borough Coroner, resumed an inquiry at the GEORGE HOTEL, touching the death of Thos. Edwards, who lost his life through an explosion of sulphur at the Fishley Colliery of Messrs. Sparrow. The inquiry was attended by Mr. J. P. Baker, Government Inspector, and also by Mr. Blakemore, the ground bailiff of the owners of the colliery. The only witnesses examined were Police-sejeant Martin, and Thomas Harper, one of the deceased’s fellow workmen. Their evidence disclosed few particulars beyond those detailed by William Roberts before the Coroner on Saturday, but it went to confirm the suspicion that the explosion was due to Harper having placed his candle in the waste, instead of keeping it in the airway. Harper admitted, after many evasions, that it was his candle that fired the sulphur, but he denied that he took it into the waste at all, or that he removed it from the tree near the face of the working, where he placed it when he began to work, about an hour before the explosion. Witness threw himself upon the ground, and buried his face in the sludge, but deceased stood erect, and, being naked to the waist, was severely burned by the flame as it passed them there, and also as it returned. About ten minutes later they heard another explosion, with a noise like the discharge of a cannon, but did not feel its effects. The witness displayed great ignorance of his duties as a miner, and stated that he knew nothing of the rules, and he had never had them explained to him, or a copy given to him, and he did not know it was the duty of the doggy to examine the pit with a lamp before allowing men to commence work. Accordingly the inquiry was adjourned for a fortnight, for the attendance of Roberts, who is still suffering severely from the effects of the explosion.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/12/1866

“Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, concluded an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, on the body of Thomas Edwards. The only additional witness examined was Thomas Roberts, the doggy of the pit. His evidence went to show that the men employed in cogging at Messrs. Sparrow’s colliery had invariably been cautioned not to take naked lights into the waste places of the pit when they went there for materials; but to leave the candles at the face timbers. He concluded, however, that Thomas Harper, a man who was holeing and cogging in the pit at the time of the accident, must have disobeyed this order, and so been the cause of the explosion. He was reminded that Harper had sworn he left his candle at the timbers when he went into the waste, and eventually the witness admitted that a face of the roof, such as occurred just prior to the explosion, would have the effect of driving out the sulphur to the candles at the timbers, and that it was unsafe, owing to the danger of being suffocated, for men to go into the waste without a lamp to test the condition of the air. The inspector and the owner blamed him for having allowed naked lights to be used in or near the waste places, and the jury concurred, and after a brief deliberation, returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

Bridge

- [1] Thomas Furnell (54), hotel keeper, born Great Marlow, Buckinghamshire;
- [2] Jane Furnell (54), wife, born High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire;
- [3] Emma J. Furnell (17), daughter, born Great Marlow, Buckinghamshire;
- [4] Emela (?) Westbrook (41), assistant, born Great Marlow, Buckinghamshire;
- [5] Sarah Daffern (29), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [6] Elizabeth Guest (28), barmaid, born Dudley;
- [7] Ann Vaughan (38), waitress, born Ireland;
- [8] Jane Davis (29), chambermaid, born Oddington, Gloucestershire;
- [9] Susan Nash (26), cook, born Wolverhampton;
- [10] Sarah Knott (21), kitchen maid, born Aldridge;
- [11] Frank Poyser (20), billiard marker, born Nottingham;
- [12] Thomas Field (24), ostler, born Castle Froom [Castle Frome], Herefordshire;
- [13] Richard Jones (20), cab driver, born Aldridge;

Evening Express 1/2/1881

“This forenoon, while George Rochford, Four Oaks, Sutton Coldfield, was driving a horse and trap over the London and North Western Railway bridge at The Pleck, Walsall, his horse took fright at a passing train, and ran off at a furious rate. The frightened animal had not proceeded far before it came in contact with a horse and gig, the shock throwing out the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Clayron, injuring them seriously about the face.

The injured persons were at once conveyed to te GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, and information of the collision was subsequently lodged at the police station.”

1881 Census

GEORGE HOTEL

- [1] Hugh Vallance (42), hotel keeper, born Scotland;
- [2] Emma Vallance (35), wife, born Warwick;
- [3] Clara Gratrige (26), general servant, born Lichfield;
- [4] Mary Cartmele (22), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Lucy Sharrod (25), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [6] Martha Good (30), cook, born Birmingham;
- [7] Louisa Hensley (23), waitress, born Walsall;
- [8] Violet Fletcher (21), waitress, born Walsall;
- [9] Maria Fletcher (28), chambermaid, born Walsall;
- [10] Mary Brevit (21), kitchen maid, born Walsall;
- [11] John F. Hill (33), boots, born Knighton;
- [12] Richard Kickson (22), billiard marker, born Birmingham;
- [13] W. Caldicott (30), hostler, born Birmingham;
- [14] Edwin Berridge (25), post boy, born Walsall;

Evening Express 13/5/1881

“Walsall Town Council. There are at present two vacancies in the representation of the above body, one in Bridge Ward, caused by the elevation of Mr. Smith to the office of alderman, and another in the Foreign Ward, caused by the resignation of Mr. George Thomas. With regard to the former vacancy the names of several gentlemen are already on the table, but the two most prominent before the public are Mr. George(?) Vallance, of the GEORGE HOTEL, and Mr. Abbey, grocer, High Street. In the event of Mr. Samuel Russell not coming forward, Mr. Vallance will, no doubt, be the popular candidate, and the opposition to his candidature, if any, will be very slight. For the Foreign Ward Mr. William Nevill, of Green Lane, at the request of a large number of influential ratepayers, has consented to stand, and up till the present there does not appear to be any opposition to his candidature. The name of Mr. R. W. Brownhill, who lately resigned his office as alderman for this ward, for reasons already made public, has been mentioned as a probable candidate, but until we have received some more authoritative statement we must decline to give credence to this rumour. The nominations are, we understand, fixed to take place on Monday next.”

AND

“Walsall Town Council. On Thursday Mr. Hugh Vallance, of the GEORGE HOTEL, was influentially nominated for a seat in the Town Council as one of the representatives of the Bridge Ward in place of Mr. J. H. Smith, who has been elected an alderman. Mr. Vallance formerly kept the COACH AND HORSES HOTEL, in Wolverhampton.”

Evening Express 28/10/1881

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Association. The annual dinner of this association was held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Thursday evening, when upwards of 120 members and friends sat down to a substantial repast, provided by Mr. Vallance’s usual first class style.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Hodson (of the firm of Butler and Co, Wolverhampton), and Mr. Fletcher officiated as vice chairman.....”

Evening Star 31/1/1882

“Walsall Caledonian Club. On Monday evening the forty-fifth annual dinner of the above society took place at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, when a large number of members and friends, including gentlemen from Wolverhampton, Dudley, Gornal, and Macclesfield, sat down to an excellent dinner served up by the host (Mr. Vallance) in his usual style.....”

Wednesbury Herald 10/6/1882

“On Monday the Under-Sheriff’s assessor (Mr. Griffiths QC), at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, concluded the arbitrations in the claim by the Walsall Wood Colliery against the Midland Railway for damages by reason of the railway compelling the Colliery Company to alter the levels of their siding into the London and North Western Railway, and other matters in connection with their premises at Walsall Wood. Mr. Matthews QC (instructed by Messrs. Duignan and Co, Walsall), appeared for the Colliery Company, and Mr. Marriott QC, MP (instructed by Messrs. Beale, Marigold & Co), for the Railway Company.

The case has been pending for some weeks, and has occupied the assessor for a number of days.

The jury returned a verdict for the Colliery Company of £3,500.”

Walsall Observer 10/1/1885 - Advert

“Dancing. Mr. J. H. Williams begs to announce that his Select Quadrille Class Meets at the GEORGE HOTEL every Thursday Evening. Dancing to Commence at 8. Private Tuition Lessons given every Evening (Thursdays excepted). For terms &c apply to Mr. J. H. Williams, 5, Hatherton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 21/2/1885

“On Monday evening the annual winter reunion of the members of the Queen Mary Club, familiarly known at ‘The Old Boys’, took place at the GEORGE HOTEL. An excellent dinner was well-served in the assembly room by Mr. and Mrs. Vallance.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

Mr. Gillespie applied for a singing, music and dancing license for Thomas Eady, of the GEORGE HOTEL, for the assembly room and the two adjacent rooms, stating that it was not possible to fix the hours, and asking the Bench to trust Mr. Eady to see that there was no abuse of the license....

The Bench retired for about half an hour, and on their return the Magistrates’ Clerk read the decisions.....

Granted. The GEORGE HOTEL, for the assembly room and the two adjacent rooms, for bona fide dancing classes, dinners, and luncheons, on certain conditions to be endorsed on the license.”

1891 Census

The Bridge – GEORGE HOTEL

[1] Thomas Eady (35), hotel proprietor, born Lamport, Northamptonshire;

[2] Marian Eady (36), wife, born Leicester;

[3] William E. Munby (24), visitor, commercial traveller, born Camberwell, Surrey;

[4] Percy Claridge (20), visitor, architect, born Coventry;

[5] Pennie Goddard (21), servant, lady’s help, born Leicester;

[6] Clara Grattige (35), barmaid, born Stafford;

- [7] Ama Jenkinson (35), cook, born Leigh, Staffordshire;
- [8] Annie Shaw (23), kitchen maid, born Stafford;
- [9] Lily Weaver (26), barmaid, born Montgomery;
- [10] Annie Greenwood (18), barmaid, born Forest of Dean;
- [11] Agnes Haddon (26), waitress, born Barby, Northamptonshire;
- [12] Thomas Glover (19), billiard marker, born Birmingham;
- [13] George Brookes (22), groom, born Northampton;
- [14] Julia Mundy (26), waitress, born Oxford;
- [15] Archie Lowe (21), groom, born Wolverhampton;
- [16] Annie Clarke (25), chambermaid, born New Zealand (British subject):

Arthur Claridge was fined £4 and costs, on 19th May 189_, for being open during prohibited hours.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall were opened on Wednesday at the Guildhall, the Mayor in the chair. . . . Mr. Claridge, landlord of the GEORGE HOTEL, The Bridge, respectfully requested the Bench to grant his license, remarking that it was very hard upon him to have the objection hanging over his head till the next licensing day. He had paid the fine imposed upon him and he would remind them it was expressly stated that his license should not be endorsed at the time of conviction.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday. . . . The Chief Constable opposed the renewal to Arthur Claridge of the license of the GEORGE HOTEL, on the grounds of a conviction for having the premises open during prohibited hours, and that the license was not required. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last. . . . New members. . . . Mr. Henry Burton Berry, GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/11/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. H. B. Berry, GEORGE HOTEL. . . .”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday. . . . At the GEORGE HOTEL. Alterations to premises without plans, other matters for enquiry. Mr. Loxton: Mr. Taylor, the magistrates have directed me to ask you certain questions. Is it in your knowledge that certain alterations have been made at the GEORGE HOTEL? – Mr. Taylor: Yes, I believe there have. Mr. Loxton: No plans have been deposited: – No, I have not seen any. Can you tell the magistrates what differences have been made upon the music, dancing and singing licenses which the GEORGE HOTEL possessed? – I cannot at once. Then the magistrates also want to know if you can report to them during the sitting of this meeting as to the accommodation provided by the GEORGE HOTEL, the STORK, the DRAGON, the PRIORY, NEW INNS, the WOOLPACK, and the QUEENS? The Magistrates then announced their intention to retire to consider their decisions previous to luncheon, but the Chief Constable said he was then in possession of the information asked by the Magistrates with reference to the bedroom accommodation at the hotels. At the GEORGE HOTEL there were nineteen beds for commercials. The two large rooms at that hotel, formerly used for balls, &c, had been converted into eight bedrooms and a bathroom, and no plans had been submitted for the alterations. At the PRIORY there were six bedrooms for accommodation, five at the DRAGON, three at the QUEENS, but there was no bedroom accommodation at the STORK, NEW INNS, and the WOOLPACK Hotels. . . . Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the GEORGE the renewal of the GEORGE was adjourned to the adjourned day, and the clerk was directed to serve a notice on the licensee for him to attend to show cause why the license should be renewed, and especially to satisfy the magistrates as to the alterations made in the premises without depositing plans, and without the sanction of the licensing authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall. . . . The renewal of the license of the GEORGE HOTEL, The Bridge, had been postponed for the production of plans for alterations which had been made, and which had not been authorised by the licensing justices. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) appeared on behalf of Miss Clifford, the holder of the license, and of the lessees of the premises; and produced plans showing the premises and alterations. The only alterations which had been made were that an old storeroom had been converted into three bedrooms, and the ballroom into eight bedrooms. There had been no real structural alteration, what had been done was merely the erection of partitions. Mr. Zeller thought he was providing for a public want in arranging the extra bedrooms, and no change had taken place in regard to the drinking portion of the premises. Mr. E. T. Holden: Are there any bedrooms over the stables?”

Mr. Wood, architect, was put into the box, and in reply said there were three bedrooms over the stables.

Mr. Holden: Do you think it wise to have bedrooms over stables? – Mr. Wood: It is not a desirable thing, of course, but the bedrooms were so badly wanted.

Mr. Holden: I thought last year they said they were not (laughter).

Mr. Jackson said that since Mr. Zeller took to the GEORGE HOTEL some 400 or 500 people had stayed there. The bedrooms over the stables would only be used in case of a crush.

Mr. Holden: What water-closet accommodation have you?

Mr. Wood said they had not made any additional accommodation for this part of the premises, but they had a properly equipped bathroom.

Mr. Holden: Is it true that in the bathroom there is a urinal and water-closet? – Mr. Jackson: There are two water closets upstairs, and the bathroom is by itself.

Mr. Holden: I am afraid, Mr. Jackson, you do not know what is in it. – Mr. Jackson: I have the architect here.

Mr. Holden: I asked you whether there was a urinal in and you said 'no.' – Mr. Jackson: I don't think I said that; I beg your pardon.

Witness: When I last saw it there was simply a bath in it, but since a urinal has been put in, not a w.c.

Mr. Holden: Is it right to have a urinal in a bathroom? – Witness: It is a very great convenience.

Mr. Holden: Would you have it in your own house? – Witness: I should not, but it is convenient in an hotel.

Mr. Jackson: I think you will find them in many private houses.

Mr. Holden: I have been in some, and they are an abomination. I question whether the Streets Committee would pass it.

Mr. Jackson: We are quite willing to remove it, it is a very small matter.

The license was renewed.”

Walsall Observer 17/3/1900

“Walsall Burns Club. On Tuesday evening last an adjourned meeting of this newly formed club was held at the GEORGE HOTEL.....”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Miss Alice Clifford, manageress of the GEORGE HOTEL, was, amongst others, called upon to reply to questions as to the use of telephones on the licensed premises.

Miss Clifford, in reply to Mr. Loxton, said the telephone was used by commercial men and visitors. It was not enclosed, and was necessary for the business of the house. The telephone was not used for betting or other improper purposes. License renewed.”

Closed

It was demolished in 1933.

Rebuilt

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1935

“The new GEORGE HOTEL, built by the Walsall Corporation on the site of the old GEORGE HOTEL, which was one of the famous hostelries of the old coaching days, will be officially opened on Tuesday, Nov. 12, by the Right Hon. the Earl of Dudley, K.G. The hotel has been actually completed and in use some time ago, but the official opening had to be deferred owing to the difficulty of arranging a date which would suit Lord Dudley.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

GEORGE HOTEL, The Bridge. £2 13s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945 - Advert

“Cleaners and Chambermaids required immediately for the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall.

Apply Manageress.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/1/1967 - Advert

“Luncheon & Dinner at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall.

Walsall 23125 for Table Reservations.”

Closed

It was demolished in 1978 as part of a major Tesco development.

GEORGE

Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Thornton [1818]

GEORGE AND DRAGON

3, Wolverhampton Street (3, Wolverhampton Road) (3, Wolverhampton Lane) / Marsh Lane, (Park Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Elisha Jeffries, Sutton Road, Walsall

LICENSEES

Thomas Croxall [1818] – [1822]

Butler [1824]

James Sheldon [1828] – [1830]

Thomas Hutchinson [1832]

Jane Bridgwood [1834]

Thomas Heath [1841] – [1842]

Samuel Stackhouse [1845] – [1851]

John Craddock [] – 1855;

Mrs. Sarah Craddock (1855 – [1859])

Samuel Lister [1860] – 1861;

Thomas Fieldhouse (1861 – [1865])

Samuel Horton [1868] – [1873];

John Ricketts [1876] – [1880]

John Richards []

NOTES

Park Street [1822], [1828], [1830], [1832], [1842], [1849], [1850], [1862]

3, Wolverhampton Road [1858]

3, Wolverhampton Street [1860], [1862], [1868], [1871]

3, Wolverhampton Lane [1861]

Marsh Lane [1872]

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“At the top of Park Street, in Wolverhampton Street, just before Marsh Street, was the GEORGE AND DRAGON, indicated on the 1812 map of the Boundary of the Borough of Walsall.....”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 26/4/1824 - Advert

“To Publicans And Others.

To be Sold by Auction, on the premises, by Mr. Fairbanks, on Monday, the 3rd day of May, 1824, at six o’clock in the evening, the valuable Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of that long established and very good accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Park Street, Walsall, now in exceedingly full business, and occupied by Mr. Butler, who is declining business due to indisposition.

The Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, and Stock to be taken at a valuation.

The above is a most desirable situation to any person wishing to be well established in the public business, it having been a good accustomed house for in and out-door trade for a number of years.

Further particulars may be had by applying to the Auctioneer, Field Gate, Walsall, if by letter, post paid.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1830 - Advert

“To be Let, and entered upon immediately, that old established house known by the sign of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Park Street, comprising four capital cellars, six lodging rooms, two parlours, tap-room, bar, back kitchen, brewhouse, entire yard, and stable for twelve horses.

This is a desirable situation for a snug business, as the consumption is from ten to twelve bushels of malt annually. The present proprietor is leaving in consequence of other engagements.

Also several respectable public houses to let.

For particulars apply to J. Farrington, Auctioneer, if by letter, post paid.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1832

“Thomas Williams has been committed for trial at the next Walsall sessions, charged with stealing one ham from the house of Thomas Hutchinson, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Park Street, Walsall. On Thursday evening, the 16th instant, Williams, with two other men, went to the house to drink, at which time the ham was hanging in the tap room; after their departure it was missed, and suspicion arose that it had been stolen by some of the party. Williams was traced to another public house, and charged with the robbery, but he stoutly denied any knowledge of it; on the following morning, however, he was seen in the street, by a man named James Bissell, with the ham in his possession, and making towards the Lichfield Road. Bissell gave information to the prosecutor, and Williams was immediately apprehended. He underwent an examination on Tuesday evening, at the Guildhall, and was committed for trial.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/4/1832

“At Walsall Sessions, on Wednesday last, Thomas Williams, charged with stealing one ham, the property of Mr. Thomas Hutchinson, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment in the house of correction, at Stafford. Williams was recommended to mercy by the prosecutor, and received a good character from two of his former employers, one of whom expressed his willingness again to take him into his service.”

It had assembly rooms. [1834]

Samuel Stackhouse was also a thrashing machiner and drillman. [1845]

1851 Census

Park Street

- [1] Samuel Stackhouse (42), victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Ann Stackhouse (36), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Samuel Stackhouse (11), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Susannah Stackhouse (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Beech (18), house servant, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Thomas Stackhouse (28), house servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] William Beech (26), house servant, born Cambridge;

Staffordshire Sentinel 21/7/1855

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.

Wm. Crutchley, 40, breaksman at Wichor Station, and Joseph Mills, 22, engine-driver, were indicted for stealing 150lbs weight of tobacco, the property of John Robinson McClean, the lessee of the South Staffordshire Railway, on 12th of April last, at Lichfield; and John Craddock, 42, landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON Public House, Walsall, was charged with receiving the same, knowing it to have been stolen. Mr. Huddleston and Mr. Kettle appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Motteram for the prisoners. The chief evidence in this trial, which occupied upwards of three hours, was given by Charles Pratt, late in the employ of the South Staffordshire Railway Company, as a guard in the Goods department, and who admitted being an accomplice in the present and other railway robberies, but who had been discharged from prison on his making a disclosure of the particulars connected with that robbery. It appeared from his evidence, that he and the first-named prisoners took, on the above date, a cask of tobacco from a railway truck on the South Staffordshire Railway, which had been consigned to Mr. Elkington, of Lichfield, by Messrs. Wood and Sons, wholesale tobacconists, at Leeds, and that they conveyed it to the van, where they broke it open at one end, and emptied the tobacco into two sacks, and when about half way between Lichfield and Walsall with the night train, they stopped the engine near Hammerwich Station, and with spades they buried both sacks, containing the tobacco, at the foot of the railway embankment between Burntwood, and the turnpike road leading from Lichfield to Walsall.

The empty cask they broke into pieces, and burnt under the engine. By arrangement, the next day the prisoner Craddock went with his cart and fetched the sacks of tobacco away. On the following Monday, they all four met at Craddock's house, where they divided equally amongst them £16, the sum, which Craddock stated he had realized by the sale of tobacco. Several other witnesses were examined, but their testimony only confirmed Pratt's evidence; with respect to Craddock, who was seen that day with his cart near the place spoken of by Pratt. Mr. Scotland rose to address the jury on behalf of the prisoners; but his lordship pointed out the want of confirmatory evidence with respect to Crutchley and Mills; and the jury taking the same view of the matter, at once returned a verdict of acquittal in favour of those prisoners.

Mr. Motteram then made an able speech on behalf of Craddock; but the jury, after a careful summing up by the learned judge found him guilty.

There were several other indictments against the prisoner to which he pleaded guilty. His Lordship deferred sentence until this morning.”

Birmingham Journal 25/7/1855

“John Craddock, licensed victualler, Walsall, was brought up for judgement. The Judge remarked that the crime of which the accused had been convicted was a very dangerous one; the evidence showed that he was the occupier of a public house where thieves disposed of plunder which the prisoner turned to his own profit. The prisoner was the author, instrument, and encourager in such cases, and had been convicted on a former occasion. His Lordship then passed a sentence of fourteen years’ transportation.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1855

“At the adjourned licensing meeting on Monday.....

Mr. Wilkinson applied on behalf of Mrs. Craddock, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Marsh Lane. At the last Staffordshire Assizes the applicant’s husband was transported for his participation in the robberies on the South Staffordshire railway. Twelve days previous to licensing day the applicant obtained a transfer of the license, which the Bench refused to renew on the day referred to. Mr. Wilkinson maintained that any objection against her keeping the house should have been urged when the transfer was asked for. He added there had been no complaint against the house since, and that the applicant had been left with seven children to support when she had no means but the public-house. The bench granted the license, but cautioned the applicant as to the future conduct of the house.”

Walsall Free Press 22/8/1857

“Sarah Craddock, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON public-house, Wolverhampton Lane, was charged on the information of Police-constable Rabone with allowing drunkenness and disorderly conduct in her house, contrary to the tenor of her license. Mr. Duignan was retained for the defence. The officer stated that a little after twelve o’clock on the previous Monday night he heard a disturbance at the defendant’s house, and looking through the window saw two men in pugilistic attitude. He asked how it was she allowed such conduct on the premises, when she said ‘What could a woman do?’ She asked him to part them. He did so, and got one of them out. A witness was examined who said defendant had sent down the street to try and find a policeman, but had not be able to meet with one. This being the case the Bench thought she had done all she could do under the circumstances, and dismissed the complaint.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... applications for renewal of old licenses, and the granting of new ones.....

In the following cases the applications were suspended for further consideration.....

On the application of the Chief-constable, Thomas Bates, of the PAUL PRY, New Street; Sarah Craddock, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wolverhampton Lane, and William Earp, of the LEATHERN BOTTLE, were added to the list of suspended applications.”

London Gazette 1/4/1859

“Whereas a Petition of Sarah Craddock, now and for three years and eight months and upwards last past residing at the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, in Park-street, otherwise the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, and for three years and three months of that time, carrying on the trade or business of a Licensed Victualler, there in her own name, for her own benefit, and on her own sole and separate account, her husband John Craddock, having been convicted of felony, on the 20th day of July, 1855, and sentenced to transportation beyond the seas for the term of fourteen years, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Sarah Craddock, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Sarah Craddock, is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 21st of April instant, at ten in the forenoon precisely, for her first examination touching her debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Sarah Craddock, or that have any of her effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

1861 Census

3, Wolverhampton Lane

- [1] Samuel Lister (37), widower, victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Elvia Lister (5), daughter, scholar, born Portobello;
- [3] Sarah Craddock (46), housekeeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Mary Craddock (12), stepdaughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles Craddock (10), stepson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Daniel Craddock (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Catherine Morris (17), house servant, born Montgomery, Wales;
- [8] James Whitehouse (32), lodger, locksmith, born Walsall;
- [9] Thomas Barker (27), lodger, miner, born Wellington, Shropshire:

Birmingham Journal 12/4/1862

“Rare Opportunity. To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Park Street, Walsall, now doing an excellent in and out-door trade. The House consists of Liquor Shop, Parlour, Tap Room, Kitchen, excellent Cellars, seven Bed Rooms, Stabling for six horses, and good Yard. The Fixtures and Stock to be taken to at a fair valuation. The present proprietor is giving up solely on account of other business at a distance. For particulars, apply to H. W. Greader, Auctioneer, Cross Street, Willenhall.”

Walsall Free Press 28/2/1863 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that Old Licensed House, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Park Street. Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a Valuation, which will not exceed £100, the proprietor having other engagements is the sole cause of his leaving. For particulars apply to John Osbourn, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall, Auctioneer and Appraiser.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870

“Samuel Horton, landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wolverhampton Street, was fined 5s and costs, for having had his house open for the sale of beer at a quarter-past one o’clock on Sunday morning.”

1871 Census

3, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Samuel Horton (53), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Emma Horton (53), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Emma Baker (12), niece, born Birmingham;
- [4] James Bosworth (30), boarder, umbrella maker, born Leicestershire;
- [5] James Neville (20), collier, born Great Bridge;
- [6] Joseph Lapworth (21), plater, born Walsall;
- [7] Edward Hicks (26), boarder, gardener, born Guildford, Surrey;
- [8] Charles Parker (21), boarder excavator, born ___ley, Derbyshire;
- [9] W. Ingram (37), boarder, labourer, born Walsall;
- [10] Daniel Hodgetts (49), shoemaker, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session. Mr. Glover applied for the renewal of the licences to John Ricketts, the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Wolverhampton Lane all the licenses were withheld on the licensing day on behalf of all the other applicants he made explanations with reference to the causes of the suspension of their licenses. The cases of Messrs. Ricketts were further adjourned till the 9th of October The Mayor also stated that the Bench intended to take notice of all evidence that might come before them, and use it against the victuallers at the next licensing session.”

Lichfield Mercury 17/9/1880

“The adjourned annual licensing session took place on Friday, at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie), applied for a spirit license on behalf of Mr. Charles Poppleton, of the CROWN AND ANCHOR beerhouse, West Bromwich Road, and at the same time explaining that the application was practically on behalf of John Ricketts, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Wolverhampton Street, who had bought the premises, his own house being among those to be removed under the improvement scheme.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1882

“Walsall Town Council. Report of the General Purposes Committee.....

On the motion of Alderman Brewer, seconded by Councillor Kirkpatrick, it was further resolved, on the recommendation of the same committee, ‘That the Council allow the licenses of the five alehouses, viz, the ODD FELLOWS ARMS, the ROYAL GEORGE, the SPREAD EAGLE, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, and the WATERLOO TAVERN, and the beerhouse, the BOAT INN, purchased for the purposes of the Artisans’ Dwelling Scheme, to lapse, it being considered that there is in the neighbourhood an ample number of licensed houses to meet the requirements of the district.’ This was unanimously agreed to.”

GEORGE AND DRAGON

Lichfield Road, (Walsall Wood Road), Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Agnes Janet McLean
Lichfield Brewery Co.

LICENSEES

John Moss [1835] – [1850]

John Yeomans [1858] – [1862]

George Owen [] – 1863;

Samuel Marlow (1863 – []

Mrs. Mary Maria Yeomans [1868] – [1872]

George Gray (1874 – [1887]

John McLean [1890] – [1891]

Mrs. Agnes Janet McLean [1892] – [1912]

Percy Shrives Curtis [1928]

Frederick James Pickering [1932]

Frederick 'Fred' Wood [1939] – [1940]

Frank Reader Birkett (1961 – [1962]

NOTES

GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL [1911]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/8/1837 - Advert

“Freehold Property, at Daw End, near Rushall.

To be Sold by Auction, by Farrington and Son (under a deed of assignment), this present Monday the 7th day of August, at the house of Mr. Moss, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced – all those two Tenements or Dwelling House, with gardens and Pump of water, situate at Daw End, near Rushall.....”

John Moss was also a farmer. [1845], [1849]

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/9/1857

“A Petty Session was held at the Station Inn, Brownhills on Tuesday last.....

After the disposal of the licenses a case was investigated in which the members of a friendly society held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, were complainants and, John Fox defendant. Mr. Duignan, of Walsall, appeared for the complainants; and Mr. W. W. Ward, of Stafford, for the defendant. Fox, who was a member of the society, had been entrusted with a sum of £8 for payment to the persons who should become entitled to it on the death of a member. After having had possession of the money for some time he was informed of the death of a member, to whose widow he was requested to pay it. To this he offered no objection, but on application being made for the money he refused to pay it, and now pleaded that he had not received it.

The magistrates, in addition to ordering the defendant to pay the £8, inflicted upon him a penalty of £2, and in default two months' imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 28/4/1860 - Advert

“A Lecture will be delivered in the GEORGE AND DRAGON Assembly Room, Rushall, on Tuesday evening, May 1st, 1860, by William Whitehouse, Esq, of Aldridge.

Subject: ‘The History of the English Bible.’

Illustrated by the Diagrams of the Working Man's Association, London.

Lecture to commence at half-past Seven o'clock.

Admission 6d and 3d.

The proceeds of the Lecture will be devoted to the Building Fund, for the erection of a Congregational Church, in the Village. A piece of freehold ground has been secured and upwards of £50 subscribed for the purpose.

Further contributions will be thankfully received by Mr. Wm. Strongitharm, Treasurer, Rushall, or Mr. Alfred Stanley, secretary, Walsall.”

John Yeomans = John Yeoman

1861 Census

Lichfield Road – GEORGE AND DRAGON

[1] John Yeomans (40), victualler and farmer, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Mary M. Yeomans (38), wife, born Four Crosses;

[3] Lucy Ann Yeomans (8), daughter, born Rushall;

[4] Sarah Perry (16), general servant, born Leacroft, Staffordshire;

[5] Joseph Holmes (38), servant, carter, born Stonnall, Staffordshire;

[6] Robert Elsmor (27), visitor, groom, born Marecoom(?), Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 11/10/1862 - Advert

“Mr. John Yeomans, GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall.

Respectfully informs his friends that his Annual Tea Party will take place on Monday, October 13th, 1862.
Tea on the Table at Five o’clock. Tickets 1s each.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/3/1866 - Notice

“County of Stafford. Weights and Measures. District C, or South Staffordshire.

Notice is hereby given, the William Tullett, the Inspector of Weights and Measures for District C, or South Staffordshire Will attend at the under-mentioned times and places for the purpose of comparing all such Weights and Measures as shall be brought to him for that purpose, and stamping such of them as shall be found correct. . . .

GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Rushall, on Tuesdays, April 10th, May 8th, and June 5th, 1866, at ten o’clock am. . . .

All persons in the said district, desirous of having their Weights and Measures stamped may bring or send them to any of the above places for adjustment as shall be most convenient; or to the NEW MARKET INN, St. Peter’s Walk, Wolverhampton, on Wednesday or Saturday in every week.

Persons within any local jurisdiction, for which a separate Inspector is appointed, cannot have their Weights and Measures examined or stamped by the Count Inspector.

William Tullett, Inspector of Weights and Measures for the said District, Wolverhampton, March 28th, 1866.”

1871 Census

Lichfield Road – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Mary M. Yeomans (46), widow, licensed victualler, born Four Crosses, Staffordshire;
- [2] Hannah H. Yeomans (19), daughter, born Gaily [Gailey?], Staffordshire;
- [3] Lucy A. H. Yeomans (12), daughter, born Birchills;
- [4] Elizabeth Vass (70), visitor, widow, born Mappen, Warwickshire;
- [5] Maria Cooper (16), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/3/1872 - Notice

“County of Stafford. Weights and Measures, District C, or South Staffordshire.

Notice is hereby given, that I shall attend at the undermentioned times and places for the purpose of Comparing and Examining all such Weights and Measures as shall be brought to me for that purpose, and Stamping such of them as shall be found correct. . . .

At the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Rushall, on Tuesday, June 4th, 1872, at ten o’clock am. . . .

All persons residing in the said District desirous of having their Weights and Measures stamped should bring or send them to any of the above places for adjustment, as shall be most convenient, upon the days and at the hours mentioned.

Persons within any local jurisdiction for which a separate Inspector is appointed cannot have their Weights and Measures Examined or Stamped by the County Inspector.

J. George Horder. Inspector of Weights and Measures for District C, or South Staffordshire.

Goldthorn Hill, Wolverhampton, March 16th, 1872.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1879 - Register of Sales

“Wednesday, September 10th – Sale of Off-going Tenant’s Share of Growing Wheat, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, at 4 o’clock.”

1881 Census

Lichfield Road

- [1] George Gray (37), licensed victualler, born Henley on Thames;
- [2] Mary Gray (37), wife;
- [3] John H. Gray (7), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [4] Arthur Gray (5), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [5] Herbert Gray (4), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [6] Ronald Gray (2), son, born Rushall;
- [7] Louisa Gray (1), daughter, born Rushall;
- [8] Mary Doughty (11), domestic servant, born Wellington, Shropshire:

Walsall Observer 28/3/1885

“On Saturday evening last the dead body of a man was found partly covered by a heap of squitch-grass in Cartbridge Lane, leading from Rushall to Ryecroft, near to the railway line. Upon the arrival of the police the body was still warm. It was found that deceased had a severe wound in the neck, just under the right ear, and from that he bled freely. The inside of the right hand was stained with blood, and in the right-hand pocket of his trousers was a blood-stained pocket knife. The body lay on its back, but partly propped up by the grass – the legs and lower part of the body being covered by the remainder of the heap. Deceased was apparently about 50 years of age, 5ft 7in or 5ft 8in in height, of medium build, with slight brown whiskers, worn longer on the chin than at the sides, and the top lip shaved; dressed in dark cloth jacket, dark vest (patched on the right side with lighter material), moleskin trousers, a calico shirt, a flannel shirt, grey worsted stockings; silk handkerchief, blue with white spots; black cloth cap, with peak of the same material; and strong lace-up boots. Every effort has been made by the police since the discovery of the body to obtain a clue to his identity, but they have been unsuccessful.

The inquest was held on Wednesday morning at the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, by Mr. E. Hooper, the coroner for the district, when the following evidence was given.

Thomas Radford, platelayer, deposed that he lived at Cartbridge, and on Friday, the 20th inst, he saw the deceased about nine o'clock in the morning in an occupation road at Cartbridge. The road led to Mr. Sparrow's place at Ryecroft, and deceased was lying on a squitch heap. Witness asked deceased what he was doing there, and deceased said he was resting, as he had been wandering about all night, and had nowhere to go to and no money to spend. Witness asked deceased where he came from, and deceased said he came from Macclesfield. Witness gave deceased threepence, and afterwards went home and got some breakfast for him. The breakfast consisted of bread, bacon, and tea. Deceased ate two or three mouthfuls, and then said that he had had nothing to eat for three days. Deceased also said, 'I once had a good home, but I lost my wife', and he shook his head and sighed. Deceased said he had tried to get work at the recreation ground, but could not get on. Deceased finished his breakfast, and witness left him. About two hours afterwards witness saw him again, and he was then shaking his jacket to shake the dust off, and he then went away. Witness did not see deceased use any knife to cut his breakfast with. On Saturday morning about six witness saw deceased on the heap again. He was then in a sort of sitting position, but witness did not speak to him. Witness did not see him move, and could not say if he was then dead or not. Witness was out at work all day, and on his return home on Saturday night he heard that deceased had been found dead, on the squitch heap, and that blood was on him, and he had been removed by the police. Witness afterwards saw the body at the request of the police, and it was the body the jury had seen, and of the man he had spoken to. When witness saw deceased last he could not say whether deceased was partly under the squitch-heap or not.

Joseph Griffiths, platelayer, deposed that he lived at Pelsall. On Friday morning, about seven o'clock, witness was in the cabin at Radford's Crossing, on the London and North Western Railway. A man named Bullinger told him there was a man lying in the squitch-heap, about 40 yards off. Witness went and looked at the man, but did not speak to him. The man was partly on his side. Witness did not speak to him because Bullinger had just spoken to him, and had covered him with the squitch, the man having requested him to do so. Witness only looked at deceased, not wishing to disturb him. On Saturday morning, about six o'clock, witness was passing along the line with the ganger, and pointed deceased out, for he was then lying on the squitch. Witness had to go on with his work, and could not go to see deceased then, for the platelayers had the lorry out, and a ballast train was expected along about eight o'clock. They could not tell to an hour, or more, when the ballast train would come up. Witness had told his master, the ganger, about the man, and he could not do any more than he did.

Mary Burns, Short Acre, Walsall, deposed that as she was going to work on Saturday morning, she saw deceased lying on the squitch. Deceased partly rose up, and asked witness where he was. She told him that he was in Coal Pool Lane. She then went to her work. On her return from work, about half past five o'clock, she passed within a few feet of the squitch-heap, and she saw deceased lying there. She noticed that his features were pale, and had the appearance of a dead man's features. Witness called a man from the railway line, and he went to deceased and said he believed he was dead, and he would fetch a policeman. Witness could not say how deceased's arms were, as she did not like to look at him very closely.

Thomas Masters, fireman on the London and North Western Railway, deposed that as he went along the line, the previous witness told him that there was a man lying near dead. Witness went and saw deceased, whose legs were covered with the squitch and his body propped up against it. Witness saw no blood about him, and did not go close to him, but fetched Police-constable Murray. Police-constable Murray, stationed at Rushall, deposed that on Saturday, about half past five, the previous witness came to him and said there was a man lying dead in a bye-lane near Cartbridge Farm. Witness went with Marshall to the field, and found deceased lying on a heap of squitch. His hands were stretched out, and were not covered with the squitch. Witness examined the body, and found a cut wound on the right side of his neck. Witness raised the head of the deceased, and then saw a quantity of still wet blood just under him. Witness searched deceased and found the pocket-knife produced in his right-hand pocket. The knife was closed and had dry blood on it. There was also blood on the inside of deceased's right hand. A tobacco-box, a comb, and whistle were also found on deceased; but nothing else of any kind. There were some letters on the right arm of deceased, but witness could not say what letters they were. The body was still warm when witness got to it. Deceased's cap was on his head, and there was no sign anywhere of any scuffle having taken place.

John Wood, MD, Walsall, deposed that he had made a post mortem examination of the body. There was a wound on the right side of the neck an inch below the ear. It was three inches deep, and went forward, and downward. It was half an inch wide, and it severed an important artery. Witness had seen the knife produced and had no doubt that the wound was inflicted with the knife. Witness had heard the evidence of the witnesses, and was of opinion that the wound was self-inflicted. Witness examined the body, but found nothing but the wound to account for death. There was a little matter in the stomach, but no trace of beer or spirits.

Police-sergeant Riley (Rushall) stated that the body was still unidentified. He had made all the inquiries he could, but could not find out anything about the deceased. He had written to Macclesfield, and had received a letter stating 'the man is not known in this borough.' Mr. Rosten, who was the guardian of the poor for the parish, had seen deceased, but did not recognise him as having applied at the Workhouse.

The Coroner said he did not know whether the jury considered that they had sufficient evidence to warrant them in returning their verdict. There was no doubt from the evidence of Dr. Wood, that the man died from the wound in his throat, and it was for the jury to say whether that wound had been self-inflicted in their opinion or by any other person. As nothing was known of the man, they would have great difficulty in finding that he committed suicide – if that was their finding – while in a state of insanity; indeed, there was absolutely nothing to show them what the state of his mind was, but they could express that in their verdict if they thought fit.

The jury, without any hesitation, returned a verdict that deceased Committed Suicide, but there was no evidence to show what was the state of his mind at the time."

Birmingham Daily Post 19/7/1887

"Bankruptcy Proceedings....."

Re George Gray, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, licensed victualler and farmer.

The public examination of this debtor was held at Walsall County Court yesterday before Mr. Registrar Clarke.

The statement of affairs showed liabilities £380 13s 3d, of which £291 3s 9d was expected to rank for dividend; and assets (after making preferential payments to the amount of £89 9s 6d) £1 0s 6d, leaving a deficiency of £291 3s 9d.

The bankrupt was a gentleman's servant until 1874, when he commenced business as a licensed victualler, and small farmer, with a capital of £100. He attributed his failure to bad trade, heavy rental, and loss in farming.

He was allowed to pass."

Lichfield Mercury 19/9/1890

"James Morton, an elderly man residing in Rushall was charged by John Maclean, landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, with stealing a scythe. Defendant pleaded guilty to the charge but handed in a written character given by his employer.

Prosecutor now stated that he did not wish to press the charge, and by consent of the Bench the case was withdrawn."

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

"The following publicans from Rushall were granted one hour's extension on Monday, October 13th, the occasion being the wakes John Maclean."

1891 Census

Lichfield Road – GEORGE AND DRAGON

[1] John McLean (46), licensed victualler, born Kirkton, Dumfriesshire;

[2] Agnes J. McLean (40), wife, born Northampton;

[3] John R. McLean (15), son, tailor's apprentice, born Northampton;

[4] James McLean (11), son, scholar, born Northampton;

[5] Agnes McLean (7), daughter, scholar, born Northampton;

[6] Thomas McLean (40), brother, born Kirkton, Dumfriesshire:

Agnes McLean = Agnes McClean

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

"Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held on Monday at the Court-house, Rushall.....

Mr. John N. Cotterell (Walsall) applied for an out-door beer license for premises at Rushall in the occupation of George Bakewell, but the license was opposed by the police and Mr. Jackson (Walsall) for Mr. S. Nuttall, of the MINERS ARMS, and Mrs. McLean, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON. Refused."

Lichfield Mercury 12/5/1893

".....There were like summonses against Benjamin Walker, of the MINERS ARMS, Daw End, and Agnes McLean, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall. The constable who gave evidence in this case admitted that he took part in the gaming, and that he had no corroborative evidence, and Mr. Loxton, who defended, at once took the objection that the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice was insufficient to warrant a conviction. The objection was allowed and the cases dismissed, Mr. Naylor advising that in future the chief constable should see that corroborative evidence was given in such cases."

Walsall Observer 17/3/1900

"On Tuesday evening last, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, the Lost and Found Lodge of the Bilston, Walsall and Cannock District of Free Gardeners and the Caledonian Corks Lodge No.326, held jointly their second annual dinner....."

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – GEORGE AND DRAGON INN

[1] Agnes J. McLean (49), widow, licensed victualler, born Northampton;

[2] Jessie McLean (23), daughter, school teacher, born Northampton;

[3] James McLean (21), son, carpenter, born Northampton;

[4] Agnes McLean (17), daughter, born Northampton;

[5] Harriet E. Brown (19), general servant, born Boney Hay, Staffordshire:

Lichfield Mercury 14/6/1901

"An hours extension was given for the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Rushall, on the 18th inst, the occasion being a Free Gardeners' supper."

Walsall Advertiser 8/5/1909

"An inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Rushall, on Thursday morning, by Mr. G. C. Lewis (county coroner), respecting the death of James Hastings (62), chainmaker, of North Street, Ryecroft, who was found lying dead in a field near the Cattle Arch, Rushall.

Adelaide Hastings, widow, stated that her husband left home with the intention of visiting a relative at Shelfield. She waited up for him until one o'clock on Wednesday morning, but as he did not return she thought he was staying over the night with his friends. Her husband had been unwell for some time, and had been under Dr. Oliver for an affection of the heart. William Henry Alcock, of Ablewell Street, Walsall, spoke to having found the body. He was strolling in the fields with a friend, and upon seeing the form of deceased on the grass, he remarked, 'That man's dead.' He next felt deceased's pulse, afterwards the heart, and then stood by the body while his friend went for the police. Dr. Hawley attributed death to a sudden attack of heart disease, and the jury returned a verdict of Natural Causes."

Bennett's Business Directory 1911-1912

"GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL – A. J. McLean proprietress. Wines, spirits and cigars of the best."

1911 Census

Rushall – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Agnes Janet McLean (60), widow, licensed victualler, born Northampton;
- [2] James McLean (31), son, carpenter, born Northampton;
- [3] Agnes Jane McLean (27), daughter, assists in business, born Northampton;
- [4] Marian Wilkes (24), domestic servant, born Pleck;

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1912

"The Rushall Annual Licensing Sessions were held on Monday...."

On behalf of the licensee, Mrs. McLean, Mr. Bailey made an application for an extension of time (from 10 till 11) at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall on February 14th and 26th, the occasions, respectively, being the date of the dinner of the Pelsall District Miners' Association Lodge, and the third annual supper of the Caledonian Corks Lodge 326. The applications were granted till 10.45."

Walsall Advertiser 7/2/1914

"A miner, William Hewitt (60), of no fixed abode, was charged at Rushall Police Court, on Monday, with being drunk and disorderly outside the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, at 10-20 on Sunday night. Police-constable Reynolds proved the case, and prisoner stated that he had been out of work for five or six months, but had been very steady for a long time. Prisoner, who had previously been convicted on 15 occasions, was ordered to pay the costs (5/-) or seven days."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

"At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday....
Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses....
For repairs and alterations of structure....
GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/5/1928

"A summons against Percy Shrives Curtis, the licensee of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Lichfield Road, Rushall, for supplying intoxicants during non-permitted hours, was dismissed."

Lichfield Mercury 17/8/1928

"William Pinson (56), of Bloxwich Road, Leamore, Walsall, was fined 20s at Rushall on Monday for stealing two billiard balls, value 25s, belong to Percy S. Curtiss, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Rushall, on August 4th. He said he had no intention to steal the balls. He put them in his pocket in an absent-minded way when playing with them."

Walsall Observer 18/3/1939

"Rushall Licensing Justices, at their adjourned meeting on Monday....
The justices also announced that the licenses of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, and the MINERS ARMS, Rushall, consideration of which was adjourned from the General Sessions, would be renewed subject to undertakings which the owners had given to the Bench."

Walsall Observer 11/11/1939

"Difficulties created by the war were the explanation offered by Mr. Gordon Hawley to the Rushall Licensing Justices on Monday when he asked that an application by the Northampton Brewery Company for approval for plans for the rebuilding of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, should be withdrawn for the time being. Mr. Hawley re minded the Bench that the Brewery Company had undertaken to submit plans for the almost complete remodelling of the premises before the next annual licensing meeting but the war had presented a number of difficulties. He asked that either the Bench or the applicants should have the right to raise the matter as circumstances permitted. The Justices agreed to this."

1939 Register

Lichfield Road – DRAGON INN

- [1] Frederick Wood, date of birth 15/11/1903, public house manager, married;

- [2] Louisa M. Wood, dob 19/3/1906, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[3] Henry E. Noble, dob 13/8/1869, stoker at hosiery factory, incapacitated, married;
[4] Louisa Noble, dob 28/11/1872, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Fred Wood was married to Molly.

Walsall Observer 15/4/1944 - Acknowledgments

“Mrs. Noble and Family, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, sincerely thank all kind friends for floral tributes and sympathy: Mr. and Mrs. Smith, RED COW, Heath End, Mrs. Rufford, Mr. Cooper, MINERS ARMS, Mr. and Mrs. Martin and Family, Mrs. Duffy and Nora, and Customers of GEORGE AND DRAGON.”

Closed

Demolished

A Macdonalds was built on the site.

GEORGE STEPHENSON

Stephenson Avenue, WALSALL

OWNERS

Allied Domecq Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

[1998]

[2017]

GLOBE

28, Bridgeman Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Etheridge, Stourbridge [1861]
Edward Newey, buckle maker, Wallows Street, Walsall
Mrs. Newman, widow
Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd. [1903]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

Robert Newman [1858] – [1861]
William Etheridge [1861] – [1870]
John Perry [1871] – [1875];
Thomas Cornfield [];
Mrs. Annie Whittall [1881]
Mrs. Emily Ellen Mold [1891] – [1892]
Mrs. Emily Ellen Bliss [1901]
Aaron Morgan [1903] – [1904]
Arthur Morgan [1904]
Mrs. Emily Ellen Bliss [1912] – 1934);
Raymond Miller (1934 – 1937);

Harold Horsley (1937 – 1938);
John William Dean (1938 – 1956);
Alice Emily Dean (1956 – 1957);
Wilfred Fellows (1957 – 1959);
Herbert Thomas Postle (1959 – 1960):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

28, Bridgeman Street – Public House – GLOBE

- [1] William Etheridge (26), victualler, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Elizabeth Etheridge (28), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] Thomas Etheridge (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen Etheridge (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William Etheridge (11 months), son, born Doncaster;
- [6] Thomas Etheridge (23), brother, iron roller, born Stourbridge;
- [7] Catherine Sturge (19), servant, born Wolverhampton:

1871 Census

28, Bridgeman Street

- [1] John Perry (39), pully dresser, born Walsall;
- [2] Prudence Perry (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Perry (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] John Wooliscroft (13), boarder, pully dresser, born Smethwick;
- [5] Maria Hickmen (17), boarder, sticher, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/5/1871

“On Saturday afternoon, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner, held an inquest at the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, on the body of Mary Clarke, aged 4½, the daughter of parents living in the neighbourhood. On Wednesday afternoon, the child went into the yard, and placed her mouth under the tap, which she turned on, and the water rushed out with such force as to suffocate her. She fell to the ground, where her lifeless body was found by her mother a few minutes later. The jury found that the deceased was Accidentally Suffocated.”

The licensee was fined £5 and costs, on 7th October 1874, for Sunday trading.

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of John Perry, the GLOBE, Bridgman Street were adjourned.”

1881 Census

28, Bridgeman Street – GLOBE INN

- [1] Ann Whittall (48), widow, publican, born Wednesfield;
- [2] Lizzie Whittall (20), daughter, tobacconist’s assistant, born Walsall;
- [3] Fred Whittall (19), son, commercial clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen Whittall (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Minnie Whittall (14), daughter, milliner, born Walsall;
- [6] James Whittall (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Emma Whittall (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Sidney Whittall (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Elizabeth Alcock (77), mother, annuitant, born Bloxwich:

Ann Whittall was the widow of James Whittall of the IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street, FITTERS ARMS and THREE CUPS.

Ann Whittall was the niece of Charles Welch of the OLD CHURCH AND BELL.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1883 - Advert

“To Let, an Old-Licensed House; in-coming moderate. Seven year’s lease.
Apply, GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, Walsall.”

1891 Census

28, Bridgeman Street

- [1] Emily Ellen Mold (39), widow, publican, born Nailsea, Somersetshire;
- [2] Vaughan Mold (15), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [3] Lilian Bolwell Mold (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Percy Arthur Mold (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mabel May Mold (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Lena Bournes (20), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1892

“Joseph Hughes (17), Regent Street, Pleck, was put forward on remand to answer five different charges (1) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Emily Mold, (2) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Peter Vickers, (3) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Reynolds, (4) obtaining by false pretences 2s from John Hennessy, (5) obtaining by false pretences 2s from Thomas Green Cleobury.

Emily Mold, landlady of the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, said that on the 25th the prisoner came to her house and obtained 2s from her, stating that it was for Mr. Lawson of the Conservative Club. He also said he was working for him in the committee room, and Mr. Lawson had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he was out of stationary. She gave him the money.

Ada Wadsworth corroborated.

Walter Lawson, secretary to the Walsall Conservative Association, said that he did not know the prisoner. He was not employed by the Association, and he had not authorised the prisoner or anyone else to borrow money on his account.

Detective Smith deposed to the arrest of the prisoner.

Peter Vickers, 48, Goodall Street, deposed that on Saturday last the prisoner came and asked him for 2s for Mr. Lawson, on the same representation as in the previous case.

John Reynolds, barman at the DUN COW, Wolverhampton Street, stated that the prisoner came to the house and asked for Mr. Egan, the landlord. Mr. Egan was out, and the prisoner said that he was employed in the Liberal Committee Rooms. He said Mr. Hughes had gone to Birmingham without leaving him any money, and he wanted 2s for stationary. Witness knew Mr. Hughes was secretary to the Liberal Association, and he gave prisoner the money.

Richard Harry Hughes, hon. sec. Liberal Association, said he did not know prisoner, and he had not authorised him or any other person to borrow money in his name.

Thomas Cleobury, landlord of the NAGS HEAD INN, Upper Rushall Street, deposed to the prisoner asking him for 2s for Mr. Lawson. He did not lend him the money. He told him to go about his business, as he did not believe him.

John Hennessy, landlord of the BRADFORD ARMS, Lower Rushall Street, deposed to a similar attempt on the part of the prisoner, and his refusing to lend him the money.

The prisoner was returned for trial to the sessions on the several cases.”

[At the Walsall Quarter Session (July 1892), Joseph Hughes was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.]

1901 Census

28, Bridgeman Street – The GLOBE

- [1] Emily E. Bliss (49), publican, born Nailsea, Somersetshire;
 - [2] Lilian B. Mold (20), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [3] Arthur P. Mold (18), son, warehouse clerk (casters), born Walsall;
 - [4] May Mold (15), daughter, born Walsall:
- [It seems that Emily Mold married a Mr. Bliss.]

Arthur Morgan, beer retailer, 28, Bridgeman Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1904

“John Benjamin Hawkins, carter (29), 85, Prince Street, was brought up on a charge of stealing a bottle of gin, value 2s 7d from the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, on Monday.

The evidence given by Aaron Morgan (the landlord) was that while in his smoke room looking at a mirror he saw the reflection of the prisoner, who had called for a glass of ale, and who was putting his hand through the out-door window and taking something from the shelf. Witness afterwards missed the gin.

Detective Burrell said he arrested the man Hawkins, who said, ‘I ought never to have anything to drink; it always gets me into trouble. I knew that I’d be found out, so I broke the bottle into pieces at Park Brook.’

Sentenced to two months' imprisonment. The prisoner had previously been convicted.”

Lichfield Mercury 1/5/1905

“At Walsall, on Monday, Aaron Morgan (28), licensed victualler, GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, was charged with administering poison to his wife with intent to commit murder.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) stated that on Saturday night, after closing time, prisoner had a quarrel with his wife, who went upstairs to the bedroom. Prisoner followed, and afterwards called to the servant who found her mistress lying on the bed unconscious. She was sent for a bottle of smelling salts, which she fetched from downstairs, but the woman, owing to the stupor she was in, was unable to inhale them. Prisoner therefore, it is stated, in the presence of the girl, poured the liquid ammonia, which had been recently purchased, down his wife's throat. A doctor who was called in found the woman to have been so severely injured that at first he was of the opinion that she would die; while, in the event of recovery, she was likely to wear a silver tube in her throat all her life. Since then, however, she had very much improved, and might be able to give evidence in a week's time. He accordingly applied for a remand.

Mr. T. H. Stanley, on behalf of the accused, consented to this course, but asked for bail.

The Chief Constable said he must oppose this, as there was a possibility that pneumonia might supervene in which event the woman was unlikely to recover.

A girl named Matilda Scarlett, who, it was stated, fetched the salts, was called, but appeared greatly agitated, and stated that she remembered nothing of what occurred.

The Bench remanded prisoner, and refused bail."

Walsall Advertiser 20/5/1905

"Aaron Morgan (28), licensed victualler, of the GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, surrendered to his bail, and was again charged on Monday, at the Guildhall, before Messrs. J. Moseley (presiding), J. F. Crump, J. Clare, and G. Wightman, with attempting to murder his wife, Ada Mary Morgan, by administering poison in the shape of spirits of ammonia to her. Mr H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) defended the prisoner, who appeared in the dock clean and smart, but with troubled countenance, indicating that he felt his position very acutely.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson), before calling his witnesses, said that after the evidence it would be for the Bench to say whether there was sufficient evidence for the case to go before a jury, but it might be that they would come to the conclusion that the prisoner did not know the power of the drug, although the evidence showed that he administered it.

Matilda Scarlet, aged 19, domestic servant in the employ of the accused, was the first witness called. She appeared the reverse of brightness intellectually, and was most stubborn. In reply to the Chief Constable (who held in his hand a statement which witness had made to the police on the morning of May 7th and signed) said she did not remember whether there was a row between prisoner and his wife after closing time on May 6th. She got quite hysterical. She did not remember anything whatever. She did not know whether there were any words. She forgot everything.

The Chairman: Were there any words between your master and mistress? – Witness (vacantly): No.

Mr. Loxton: You could not make up a consistent story like you did and then say you do not remember anything. Don't you remember fetching this bottle up (pointing to the smelling bottle on the solicitor's table)? – No.

Did you have any supper? – I don't know.

Witness added that she was always hysterical and her mistress had told her several times she would give her notice, as she put things away and did not remember where she had put them.

Mr. Loxton: O, you remember that. How is it you remember that and nothing else? – No answer.

The Bench decided to put witness back to be called at a later stage of the case.

Ada Mary Morgan, wife of the accused, was next called. She was a bright, sharp looking little woman, with a pale face and pinched cheeks, indicative of the ordeal through which she had passed, and she gave her evidence very clearly and without the slightest hesitation. In reply to the Chief Constable she said that after closing the house on the night of May 6th, she had a word or two with her husband over supper. About midnight she went upstairs to bed. After she had unfastened her bodice, she felt faint and leaned against the bed. She heard her husband say 'What's the matter' when he came into the room, and she said 'Oh nothing, I shall be all right just now.' He then went and called to 'Tilly' to bring the smelling salts out of the bar —

Mr. Loxton: But, Mrs. Morgan, I thought you were unconscious on the bed all the time? – Mrs. Morgan: I was partly unconscious but I heard him call the girl. I remember the girl coming to the room with the salts. I saw the servant hand him the bottle. I was leaning back against the bed. He pulled the stopper out of the bottle and put the bottle to my nose. It affected my head so much I knocked the bottle away from my nose. I knocked the bottle out of his hand. Part of its contents went into my mouth and part on my underclothing. My tongue and lips were burned.

Mr. Loxton: When you knocked it, what happened? – Witness: Part of the contents went in my mouth, and part on my underclothing. My bodice was open.

She could not say whether any went on the floor. She was not burned anywhere except the mouth and just the lips.

The Chief Constable: Where the bottlemouth went? – Witness: Yes, afterwards I heard him say, 'The missis is very bad, fetch a doctor.'

The Chief: You say that when you fell on the bed you were partly conscious? – Witness: Yes, partly conscious.

The Chief: Did you hear him call for the bank book? – Witness: He asked for the bank book downstairs before we went up.

Do you remember him bringing the children into the room? – Witness: I remember seeing one of the little girls.

Had that child been in bed? – Yes, sir.

For how many hours? – The child was put to bed about 7.30 or eight o'clock.

Replying to Mr. Loxton, Mrs. Morgan said she had used the liquid ammonia for seven years, as she was subject to fainting.

Mr. Loxton: What in the strong crude state? – Witness: Yes sir.

In reply to further questions, Mrs. Morgan said she did not hear the child cry out. Witness did not remember the servant assisting her husband in reviving her. The salts were renewed about ten days previously.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson: She had been married seven years and had two children living and one buried. She had used liquid ammonia of salts for seven years. She did not know it was such dangerous stuff, and had left it about the house within reach of the children. She did not think her husband had any intention to do her any harm. He had always been a good husband to her. The few words they had on the night in question were about the supper – the servant had not put the seasoning in. What differences they had had only been like what married people usually had (laughter). They had never fallen out seriously. She was very fond of her husband. She thoroughly trusted him, and has always done so.

Dr. Deakin said he was called to the house at one o'clock on Sunday morning, and found Mrs. Morgan lying on the bed, where a neighbour was supporting her head on her arm. She was very bad and could hardly breathe, her tongue was protruding from her mouth, and was very much swollen. She had some white scars on the lip. He asked the servant who had given the ammonia to her.

Mr. Jackson (interposing) asked if the husband was present at the time the inquiry was made.

Dr. Deakin said the husband was present, but was drunk, and that consequently he addressed the question to the servant.

Mr. Crump: Do you say he was drunk? – Witness: Oh, yes, he was drunk.

Dr Deakin proceeded to say that the servant informed him that when the bottle was put to the mistress's nose and she could not smell it the husband poured some ammonia down her throat.

The Chief: Did you ask the mistress herself? – Witness: She could not speak, I asked her if it was right what the girl said, and she nodded assent.

Dr. Deakin said he also asked Morgan about it, but he was drunk, and could not tell him; he made no answer. He at once administered an emetic. The poison had gone down the throat as far as the larynx. The lips, the inside of the mouth, and tonsils were injured. The mouth was burned all round, except where it was protected by a tooth plate. The woman was practically all right again. It was a volatile poison which passed off quickly.

By Mr. Jackson: The poison did not go beyond the throat. It might have spilled in her mouth as she knocked the bottle away from her nose.

Mr. Jackson: If the woman's mouth was open it would be quite consistent with an accident? – Witness: If it went into the mouth with her mouth open.

Asked whether Morgan was very drunk at the time, the doctor said 'Yes, he fell downstairs twice while I was there.'

Mr. Jackson: Then he would not know very much what he was doing? – Witness: No, I don't think he would.

Mr. Crump: If he was so drunk when he was administering this it was very likely he might have this accident.

Dr. Deakin: It is quite possible.

Re-examined by the Chief Constable: There were no marks of the ammonia on the chin, but simply a clear margin on the bottom of the lip. The doctor also said that two teaspoons of ammonia had been known to cause death.

Mr. Loxton (clerk): Can you form any idea how much went into the mouth? Would not a few drops be sufficient to cause all the injury?

Dr. Deakin said it would require more than that, as there had been sufficient to coat the inside of the mouth, the tonsils and the tongue down to the larynx. He should think more than a teaspoonful went into the mouth. He also, in reply to questions, said that the girl Scarlet seemed all right when he was at the house, and answered all his questions plainly.

Matilda Scarlet was now recalled, and in answer to the Chief Constable said she remembered nothing about the occurrence.

Mr. Loxton: How long have you been at this place? – Witness (readily): Eight weeks to-day.

Where were you before then? – At a farmhouse at Lichfield.

Why did you leave there? – Because the missus left.

What time of day would you get to the GLOBE INN, when you first came? – About 12 o'clock at noon.

Mr. Loxton: You can remember all these things clearly; why cannot you remember what you told the police about this case? – No answer.

Mr. Moseley (to witness): Up to the present the Bench don't think you have spoken one word of truth. You can remember all the things Mr. Loxton has put to you. Now you answer the Chief Constable.

The Chief: Is that your signature (handing her a written statement)? Don't you know your own writing? – Witness still said she did not know, and couldn't remember having signed it.

The Chief Constable: We shall have to have this woman certified for a lunatic asylum.

Mr. Moseley: The Bench have no hesitation in saying you have been telling a pack of lies. You can stand down.

Mr. Jackson: I am sorry the girl won't make the statement. It is unfortunate for my client.

Chief Constable: It is on this girl's evidence the whole case rests.

The mother of the girl was here called forward, and said that her daughter was often like this, and did not remember things. She had had a shock at one of the places, where someone had a gun and threatened to shoot her.

At this stage it was decided that the Chief Constable should read in open court the statement made and signed by the girl. Matilda Scarlet in her written statement said that after closing time on May 6th her master and mistress commenced quarrelling about the supper, and he threatened to strike her, but he did not carry out his threat. Shortly after twelve o'clock the master asked witness to get the bank book, and when returning with the book she heard the mistress scream. She went upstairs, and met her master on the landing. He went into the children's room; she went into her mistress's room, where she found her mistress on the bed. Whilst she was endeavouring to revive her, her master returned to the bedroom, with the two children in their nightdresses. They had been in bed for two hours, and had been woke up. He asked her what she was doing, and said, 'You b—— fool! Go and fetch the smelling bottle.' When she returned she put the bottle to her mistress's nose, but her master snatched it away, saying, 'Give me the b—— bottle; and also put it to her nose, but as the mistress would not smell it he got out of temper, and poured some into her mouth. The mistress at once jumped up, started spitting and throwing her arms about. She could not speak, and her lips began to swell. The master told her to get some water, and also told her to fetch the neighbours, and also asked for a doctor to be fetched.

Mr. Jackson said the statement did not carry the case any further, for it showed that the man sent for a doctor, and did all he could.

Mr. Moseley said the magistrates were unanimous on the point that there was no intent.

Mr. Jackson: There is no case.

Mr. Loxton here referred to the law, and asked if there was not a clause which provided for unlawfully and maliciously administering poison.

Mr. Jackson said that even then, to prove unlawful malicious poisoning there would have to be intent.

The magistrates unanimously dismissed the case, Mr. Moseley observing that no jury would convict on the evidence before them."

1911 Census

28, Bridgeman Street – GLOBE INN

- [1] Emily Ellen Bliss (59), married, publican, born Nailsea, Somersetshire;
- [2] Arthur Percy Mold (28), son, warehouse clerk, born Walsall;
- [3] Mabel May Mold (25), daughter, assisting in the business, born Walsall;
- [4] Selena Woodhouse (17), general servant, born Walsall:

Mrs. Emily Bliss, beer retailer, 28, Bridgeman Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street. £1 8s 8d.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“In 1925 the Public bar was 16’ x 11’5” x 9’2” with a Smoke room and outdoor, the property had a full alehouse license.....”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

GLOBE, Bridgeman Street.”

1939 Register

28, Bridgeman Street

- [1] John W. Dean, date of birth 30/11/1889, manager, public house, married;
- [2] Alice Emily (Dean) Gregeen, dob 5/5/1895, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Ernest Dean, dob 14/12/1923, at school, single:

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

Mr. John William Dean, GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street, £2 17s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street. £2 13s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

GLOBE INN, Bridgeman Street. £0 10s 9d.”

J. W. Dean died in 1957.

It closed on 19th May 1960.

GLOBE

336, (358), (356), Darlaston Road, James Bridge, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

Earl of Bradford
John Clews
Grigg and Brettell Ltd. (acquired on 16th November 1939)
Ansells Ltd. [1954]

LICENSEES

Benjamin Yates [1834] – 1861);
Mrs. Anne Yates (1861 – []
Richard Clews [1868] – 1888);
John Clews (1888 – 1913);
Harry F Clews (1913 – 1916);
William Jones (1916 – 1919);
John Benton (1919 – 1921);
Bertie Roberts Summerton (1921 – 1928);
Joseph Ball (1928 – 1930);
Oliver Holt (1930 – 1933);
John Ray (1933 – 1946);
Wilfred Peake (1946 – 1949);
George Frederick Mountney (1949 – 1950);
Arthur Lawton (1950 – 1952);
George Henry Mole (1952 – 1959);
Frederick Noakes (1959 – 1962);
Cyril Dennis Morris (1962 – 1964);
Malcolm Frederick Jones (1964 – 1965);
Margaret Castrey (1965);
Michael Robert Greenland Currie (1965 – 1966);
Cecil Frederick Chinn (1966 – []

NOTES

James Bridge [1841], [1851], [1861], [1868], [1871], [1904]
356, Darlaston Road [1932], [1939]
336, Darlaston Road [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

It had a skittle alley.

It was Grade II listed.

“Probably early 18th century. Rendered brick with tile roof.....”

1841 Census

James Bridge

- [1] Benjamin Yates (50), brickmaker;
- [2] Ann Yates (45), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Abraham Yates (20), miner, born Staffordshire;
- [4] John Yates (14), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Michael Yates (12), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Louisa Yates (9), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Nancy Yates (6), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Samuel Yates (3), born Staffordshire;
- [9] William Bradley (15), apprentice;
- [10] Thomas Stokes (13):

Benjamin Yates was also a farmer and brickmaker. [1845]

1851 Census

James Bridge

- [1] Benjamin Yates (62), brickmaker, born Cleobury Mortimer;
- [2] Ann Yates (56), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Michael Yates (20), son, miner, born James Bridge;

- [4] Louisa Yates (18), daughter, born James Bridge;
- [5] Nancy Yates (16), daughter, born James Bridge;
- [6] Henry Edwards (30), lodger, labourer, born Worfield. Shropshire;
- [7] William Whitehouse (9), visitor, born West Browich;
- [8] Edward Whitehouse (7), visitor, born West Browich;
- [9] Thomas S. J ___ (34), lodger, waggoner, born Herefordshire:

1861 Census

James Bridge – Public House

- [1] Benjamin Yates (72), brickmaker, born Cleobury, Shropshire;
- [2] Ann Yates (66), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Benjamin Wilkes (19), grandson, caster, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary Cotter__ (25), servant, born Darlaston;
- [5] Louisa Yates (9), granddaughter, born Bentley;
- [6] George Williams (25), visitor, born West Mouton, Somersetshire:

Walsall Free Press 4/1/1862

“Guildhall Police Court. Monday. The GLOBE, at James Bridge, formerly kept by Benjamin Yates, deceased on the 29th of December, 1861, was transferred to his widow, Anne Yates.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 20/12/1862 - Advert

“Sale At The GLOBE INN, James Bridge, Near Darlaston.

By John Osbourn, upon the Premises as above, on Monday Next, December 22.

All the useful Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, farming Implements, about Ten bags of Wheat, 8-Horse high-pressure Steam Engine, Wood Shed, and other Effects, belonging to the late Mr. Benjamin Yates.

Sale to commence at Ten o’clock, under the usual conditions.”

Walsall Free Press 20/12/1862

“On Wednesday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq., coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, upon the body of Mary Moore, aged 70. Deceased, who had been in bad health for sometime, was left in her chair by the fire in the GLOBE INN, where she resided, about eleven o’clock on Saturday night, and about eight o’clock the following morning was found in the same position quite dead. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/12/1869

“Yesterday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, upon the body of James Brown, aged 70. From the evidence it appeared that deceased was an inmate of the Walsall Union Workhouse, and on Monday last he obtained leave to go to visit his friends at Darlaston, and when near the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, he was observed by Thomas James, butcher, Stafford Street, who was driving along the road, to stagger. James conveyed deceased to the GLOBE INN, and gave him some brandy, but deceased expired.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

1871 Census

James Bridge – GLOBE INN

- [1] Richard Clews (58), publican, born Wiltshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Clews (56), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] John Clews (18), son, grocer’s assistant, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Leah Tibbetts (16), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [5] John Shaw (36), lodger, labourer, born Shropshire:

Walsall Observer 24/5/1873

“Jane Hall, a married woman, was charged with refusing to quit the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, on the 10th inst. Mr. Glover appeared for complainant.

Mr. Richard Clews, the landlord, said at about 10 on the night in question, several people entered his house and created a great disturbance. The defendant was there and was the worst of the lot, using most foul language. He found it necessary to call in Acting-sergeant M’Garry. Defendant, who did not appear, was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days.”

1881 Census

Darlaston Road

- [1] Richard Clews (68), widower, publican, born Alvechurch, Warwickshire;
- [2] Emma Yandon (34), domestic servant, born Clay Hill, Shropshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 6/6/1882

“Yesterday the borough coroner (Mr. A. A. Fletcher) held an inquest, at the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, on the body of Elijah Perry (21), who on Sunday morning was found in the canal.

The evidence of the deceased's sister showed that since his marriage, on Easter Sunday, he had lived very unhappily with his wife, in consequence of the latter's 'carrying on.' On Whit Monday a quarrel took place, in which his wife announced her intention of leaving him, carrying out her threat by at once leaving the house where he was at the time. Deceased shortly afterwards went out, and was not seen again until his body was found.

A verdict of Found Drowned was returned."

Walsall Observer 28/4/1888 - Deaths

"On the 25th inst, Richard Clews, GLOBE INN, James Bridge, Walsall, in the 76th year of his age; deeply regretted by his family and friends."

1891 Census

Darlaston Road – GLOBE INN

[1] John Clews (38), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;

[2] Hannah Clews (39), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Harry Clews (14), son, office boy, born Walsall;

[4] Fred Clews (9), son, born Walsall;

[5] Jane Tolley (18), domestic servant, born Brownhills:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/1/1892

"The body of Ann Davis (36), who lived at the back of the GLOBE INN, James Bridge, and had been missing since the 16th inst, was found on Sunday in the canal near to her home."

1901 Census

Darlaston Road – GLOBE INN

[1] John Clews (48), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;

[2] Hannah Clews (49), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Fred Clews (19), son, pattern maker, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1907 - Notice

"Guardians Election, 1907.

To The Electors of Pleck Ward.

Ladies and Gentlemen.

Permit me to thank you for having returned me unopposed as your representative on the Walsall Board of Guardians for the next three years.

This mark of approval of my first term of service on the Board I assure you I appreciate very highly, and it will be my pleasure to continue to take that practical interest, which I hope I have done hitherto, in the interests of the deserving poor, as well as the important financial questions which have from time to time to be dealt with. Believe me.

Yours faithfully, John Clews.

GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, March 8th."

1911 Census

Darlaston Road

[1] John Clews (58), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;

[2] Hannah Clews (59), wife, married 35 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[3] Fred Clews (29), son, pattern maker, born Walsall;

[4] Beatrice Martha Jane Kirkham (30), barmaid, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1911

"The Globe Bowling Club, which is held at the GLOBE HOTEL, Darlaston Road, have a fine green, and a fine host, who spares no time and expense in having everything done that is for the comfort and enjoyment of the members. The green was opened on Saturday....."

Walsall Advertiser 19/7/1913

"Board Of Guardians...."

A letter was received from the son of Mr. John Clews of the GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, (a member of the Board) intimating that his father had died the previous day at his residence."

Walsall Advertiser 8/11/1913

"Mr. John Clews, of the GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, Walsall, licensed victualler, a member of the Town Council and of the Board of Guardians, and actively interested in questions affecting the licensing trade, who died on 17th July last, aged 60 years, left estate of the gross value of £3,100 8s 7d, of which £2,706 16s 6d is net personalty. Probate of his will has been granted to his widow, Mrs. Hannah Clews, of the said inn, and his sons, Mr. Harry Clews, of 148, Wallows Lane, Bescot, Walsall, coal dealer, and Mr. Fred Clews, of the GLOBE INN, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 22/11/1913

“The members of the Globe Bowling Club turned up in good numbers on Saturday to the GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, where their annual dinner was held, and a very enjoyable evening was spent.....”

H. F. Clews issued tokens from here “Free House, Highgate & Ansells Ales”.

Walsall Observer 1/8/1914

“The fourth annual flower and vegetable show, held under the auspices of the Darlaston Road and Bescot Allotment Holders’ Mutual Improvement Association, showed in many respects a distinct advance on those of the three previous years, and there seems every reason to anticipate a prosperous future for the society and its summer venture. Formerly, the show was held at the GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, but this year the organizing committee decided to extend the scope, and secured the use of the Pleck Recreation Ground.....”

Walsall Observer 16/1/1915 - Advert

“Estate of John Clews, Deceased.

GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road, Jamesbridge, Walsall (Darlaston Trams set down at the house).

Fox and Harrison F.A.I. are favoured with instructions from the Executors, who are placing the House under management, to Sell by Public Auction, without any reserve, on Wednesday, 27th January, 1915, The Very Substantial Antique and Modern Household Furniture and Appointments, including Cottage Pianoforte, and contents of 3 Living Rooms and 4 Bedrooms, also Rubber-Tyred Phaeton, Rubber-Tyred Gig, Suit 13;2 hands, etc.

On View An Hour Prior To Sale.

Sale at 10.30am.

Auctioneers’ Offices, 51, Lower Hall Street. Telephone 198.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

GLOBE INN, Darlaston Road. £1 9s 1d.”

Bertie R. Summerton = Bertie R. Swinnerton

South Staffordshire Times 15/10/1921

