“A hair salon aimed at serving low income families will close as part of a Walsall pub’s expansion plans. Marston’s wants to expand the QUEENS in Norton Road in Pelsall, to make it ‘a facility the village can be proud of.’ But the proposal, which was approved by Walsall Council’s planning committee, will result in the loss of Kand Hair which operates in part of the overall building owned by the brewery.

Salon owner Greg Lake told members that there were no available premises in the area for them to move to and closure will result in the loss of three jobs. Mr Lake, who has operated from the premises for seven years, said, ‘I don’t feel there is any need for this extension as the pub is never full apart from on carnival day or on New Year's Eve. The application says they are trying to create more kerb appeal by unifying the building. We have no objection to renovating the front but moving my business will put my employers on the dole.'

As part of the renovations, Marston's will install a bay window to the front where the hair salon currently sits to give the building a uniformed look. Representatives for Marston's told the committee that CCTV has been installed to the building as a response to anti-social behaviour happening in the area. They said, 'It is a pub that is in growth. We want to make the pub bigger and better and invest in a tired building and make it a facility the village will be proud of.'

Express & Star 22/3/2021

'Pubs group Marston's has issued a list of pubs set to reopen in the Black Country on April 12th. In the Express & Star circulation area this takes in 93. Due to coronavirus restrictions they will only be able to accommodate customers in outdoor areas including beer gardens and seated areas. To accompany table service, Marston's has introduced an online ordering system called 'Marston's Tap'. The online platform is available across the majority of Marston's pubs for guests to use. Bookings are being accepted and guests can reserve a table via each pub's website. Wolverhampton-based Marston's has an estate of around 1,400 pubs across the UK and not all in England are able to reopen in April due to not having an outdoor space.....
QUEENS, Norton Road, Pelsall.'

[2021]

QUEENS HOTEL

30, Station Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Loseby
Northampton Brewery Co. [1904], [1910]
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd. (acquired on 31st August 1936)
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Gastlow [] – 1858);
John Loseby (1858 – [1862]
Mrs. Mary Loseby [1864] – 1886);
Joseph Henry Jeffries (1886 – 1888);
Charles Francis Brown (1888 – 1894);
William Jenkins (1894 – 1895);
Alfred Ashwin (1895 – 1904);
Ernest Grimes (1904 – 1905);
Fred Short (1905 – 1906);
Edgar John Palmer (1906 – 1921); manager
Clement James Jones (1921 – 1924);
George William England (1924 – 1925);
Arthur Henry Harris (1925 – 1930);
Herbert Charles Hancock (1930 – 1932);
William Richard Billson (1932 – 1934);
Joseph Herbert Taylor (1934 – 1936);
Charles Morris (1936);
Albert Edwards (1936 – 1937);
David Davis (1937 – 1938);
Richard Rushton (1938);

NOTES

QUEENS HEAD [1858]
QUEENS HOTEL and Commercial House [1858]
QUEEN INN [1865], [1868], [1872]

It was situated opposite the railway station.

Joseph Gastlow = Joseph Gostlow

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/1/1858

"In Re Gostlow, Walsall, victualler.

A meeting for the last examination of the bankrupt. His debts amounted to £1,150 11s 11d, of which he is deficient £527. It appears from his examination by Mr. Reece that he had kept the Ratcliff Arms Inn, at Wolverton, and that he also kept the Laurence Sheriff's Arms, at Rugby, from whence he removed to the QUEENS HOTEL, at Walsall. When living at Wolverton his wife saved £400 unknown to him, which she deposited with the Newport Pagnell Saving's Bank, in the name of herself and her children. He drew that money, spent £120 in the purchase of coal-waggons, and returned the rest to his wife, who again resumed her saving habits unknown to the bankrupt; and on occasion she told a Mr. George Mills, of Newport Pagnell, a farmer, that if her husband wanted to borrow £300 from him he might lend it, and she could repay him out of the money at the Bank. In this manner the transaction between him and Mr. Mills which formed the ground of suspicion, occurred. After answering a few unimportant questions, the opposition was abandoned, and the bankrupt was allowed to pass."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/6/1858

"On Wednesday, A. A. Fletcher Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the QUEENS HEAD, Station Street, on the body of Charles Blakewell, aged 32, who had been accidentally killed on the railway about 300 yards from Bescot. The deceased, who was rather tipsy at the time the accident occurred, had left Walsall in company with a person named Spittal, and was walking along the portion of the South Staffs Railway between Dudley Junction and Bescot, about a quarter to ten o'clock, when the train due at Bescot Junction at 9.30 came up behind them, and when it was within a few yards of them deceased became alarmed, and in endeavouring to get out of the way of the train left the 'six foot' (the space between the two lines of rails) upon which he and his companion were walking, and getting on the railway, was knocked down by the engine, and the train passed over him causing instantaneous death. The deceased who resided at West Bromwich is a forgerstriker by trade, and has left a wife and four children, the oldest of whom is about 9 years of age. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death. No blame can be attached to the engine driver, who signalled before coming round the curve to which the deceased and his companion were walking....."

London Gazette 15/6/1858

"In the Matter of Joseph Gostlow, of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer and Chapman, a Bankrupt. I Hereby give notice, that the creditors who have proved their debts under the above estate, may receive a First Dividend of 4s 3½d in the pound, upon application at my office, as under, on Tuesday, the 15th of June, 1858, or on any subsequent Tuesday, between the hours of eleven and three of the clock. No Dividend will be paid without the production of the securities exhibited at the time of proving the debt. Executors and administrators will be required to produce the probate of the will or the letters of administration under which they claim.

Frederick Whitmore, Official Assignee, No.19, Temple-street, Birmingham."

Walsall Free Press 26/6/1858 - Advert

"Cricket Match. Dudley v. Walsall.

On Monday, the 28th instant, at the Play Ground, Chuckery. Wickets to be pitched at 10 o'clock, a.m. Dinner at the QUEEN'S HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall, at half-past seven.

We shall be glad of as many members and friends to dine as can make it convenient.

R. Beardsall and G. Bayley, Hon. Secs."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/8/1859

"To be shot for, at John Loseby's, QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, Aug 30, four splendid home-fed pigs, 30 members, at 10s each; the first to take two pigs, second one, and third and fourth half one each. To shoot at three birds each, gun ¾in bore, 1¾oz shot, 21 yards rise, double guns 1½oz of shot, 19 yards rise, 60 boundary. The shooting will take place on Chuckley Cricket Ground, Walsall. The best blue rocks will be provided by Darby. Shooting to commence at one o'clock."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/9/1859

"R. Thomas is backed to travel on foot 70 miles in 12 hours, Mr. Rocke of Wolverhampton having taken a bet of £15 to £10 that he completes the distance in the given time. The match to come off tomorrow (Monday). To start from the EARL GREY, Walsall Street, Wolverhampton, to the QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall, to and fro till the distance is complete."

1861 Census

Station Street

[1] John Loseby (44), hotel proprietor, born Wymondham, Lancashire;

[2] Mary Loseby (52), wife, born Rutland;

[3] Mary Loseby (22), daughter, born Rutland;

[4] Annie Ellen Loseby (16), daughter, born Nottingham;

[5] John Brown (29), son in law, billiard marker, born Rugby;

[6] Elizabeth Brown (18), daughter, born Nottingham;

[7] Annie Ellen Brown (1), granddaughter, born Walsall;

- [8] Hannah Bryan (28), niece, dressmaker, born Rutland;
[9] John Longdon (42), lodger, commercial traveller, born Bristol;
[10] Henry Walker (28), lodger, commercial traveller, born Bristol Carth, Gloucestershire;
[11] Frederick Loseby (28), brother, general servant, born Wymondham, Lancashire;
[12] Hannah Stokes (20), house servant, born Walsall:

London Gazette 24/9/1861

“John Loseby, late of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station-street, Walsall, Staffordshire, out of business. In the Gaol of Lichfield.”

London Gazette 4/10/1861

“John Loseby, late of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station-street, Walsall, Staffordshire, in lodgings, out of business, previously of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station-street, Walsall aforesaid, Hotel Keeper, formerly of the same place and business, and also licensed to let out Horses and Gigs to Hire.”

Mary Loseby = Mary Coseby = Mary Losely

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/7/1864

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

John Corns, 21, described as a veterinary surgeon, was indicted for having assaulted Samuel Pattin, on the 10th of May last, at Walsall, and stolen from his person £7; the indictment setting forth that the prisoner had pressed the prosecutor’s throat. Mr. Ainstie conducted the prosecution, and the prisoner was defended by Mr. Best.

The prosecutor, who is a miner, living at Rycroft Hill near Walsall, deposed that on the day in question he was drinking at various public-houses, and according to his own account, he was drunk. He had seven sovereigns in a leathern bag in an inner waistcoat pocket. In the course of the evening he got into a row, in which he lost his cap. He afterwards went with a man named Joseph Reynolds to the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall, where he had more to drink. In the yard of this house he spoke to Reynolds as to the loss of his cap, and Reynolds wanted him to give him half a crown, which he refused, but offered 1s if he would recover prosecutor’s cap, and Reynolds said, ‘Your billycock is all right.’ He afterwards went with Reynolds down Marsh Lane, and when near Edge’s public-house he was attacked and knocked down, and Corns grasped him by the throat, another man held him down, and Reynolds took the bag out of his pocket. They then went away, but the prisoner returned and put prosecutor’s hat on his head. He said he saw the three men stand against the wall after the robbery, and that he went past them to the public-house, got some men from there, and went back and found prisoner standing there. He said he saw the three men who robbed him; but a man, who left the house with him, could see no one until they got round the corner, when they found prisoner, who denied having anything to do with the matter, but said Reynolds had the money. He did not offer to go away. A number of men, who were in the public-house when prosecutor ran there and said he had been robbed were called. They all acknowledged that they were tipsy. They spoke to the prosecutor saying Corns had held him while he was robbed. The prosecutor denied that he had any recollection of having charged an abandoned girl, named Ellen Bellingham, with having taken the £7; but, for the defence this girl, with whom the prosecutor had been for an improper purpose, swore that prosecutor accused her of stealing £7 from him near the QUEENS HOTEL, and a number of persons who came out of the QUEENS HOTEL at the time spoke to this accusation. The prosecutor stated that the £7 was restored to him by Moses Millington, a friend of the prisoner. A number of witnesses spoke to the prisoner’s good character, and the jury found him not guilty.

The Judge who had remarked on the sad state of drunkenness which appeared to prevail among the parties who had been called, strongly urged the prisoner for the future to avoid positions rendering him liable to such charges.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/3/1866

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Michael Conroy, 23, labourer, was indicted for having feloniously wounded Thomas Stokes with a knife, on the 9th December, at the borough of Walsall, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm. Mr. Motteram prosecuted. Prosecutor was drinking at the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall, and a row occurred between prisoner and a man named Howe respecting the merits of stirrup polishing. Prosecutor said the prisoner did not know anything about stirrups. Prisoner said, with an oath, ‘He would very soon show him; if he said much he’d put one in him.’ A fight took place between them, when prosecutor suddenly felt himself stabbed in the hip. Prisoner ran away, but was pursued and given into custody. The accused urged in defence that he was first assaulted by prosecutor, and when going away was hustled and knocked about by his companions. He then took out his knife, and threatened to stab anyone that approached him. He struck out wildly, and hit Stokes on the hip.

Mr. F. P. Palmer, surgeon, examined the wound, which though serious was not dangerous, as the progress of the knife was stopped by the hip bone.

The jury found the prisoner guilty of unlawfully wounding, and he was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 30/6/1866 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Hotel And Premises, known as the QUEENS HOTEL, Opposite the Passenger Station of the South Staffordshire Railway.

Mr. H. Farrington, is instructed to Offer by Public Auction, at the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street, on Tuesday, the 3rd of July, 1866, at Six o’clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be produced.

The recently erected and handsome Freehold Building & Premises, No.30, known as the QUEENS HOTEL, directly opposite the Passenger Station, in Station Street, in the occupation of Mrs. Mary Loseby.

The House contains on the ground floor: an elegant and lofty Wine and Spirit Shop 25ft 6in by 15ft 9in, Entrance Hall, Commercial Room 21ft by 15ft 9in, Smoke Room 14ft 9in by 14ft 3in, Parlour 15ft by 12ft, all 12ft 9in in height; on the first floor: a noble Assembly Room or Billiard Room 88ft by 21ft, two lofty Bed Rooms, Store Closet and Water Closets; on the second floor: five spacious Bed Rooms and Closets; the Cooking Kitchen with Brewhouse and Room over are detached, approached by an awning and there are all necessary Out-offices and four excellent arched Cellars, and two Wine Cellars, together with the large Court and Stable Yard, pump of excellent water, Stabling and Loft over, and Coach-house.

The valuable site at present occupied by the Stabling &c, might with great advantage be used for erection of Retail Business Premises, and the Stabling might be erected on land at the back, with the entrance from the new made Road.

The above property has a frontage of 24yds 1ft to Station Street, and 21yds 3in to a Street just formed, leading to Navigation Street and Marsh Lane, and contains an area of 619 square yards or thereabouts.

For plans and further particulars apply to Mr. C. Beaton, Solicitor, Victoria Buildings, Temple Row, Birmingham, or to the Auctioneer, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1869 - Advert

"Wanted, a good Billiard marker.

Apply, QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall."

The Era 30/10/1870 - Advert

"Geo. Ginnett is prepared to treat with First-class Male and Female Equestrians, Clowns, Acrobats, Gymnasts, &c, for the Winter Season.

Address, QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall."

1871 Census

30, Station Street – QUEENS HOTEL

- [1] Mary Loseby (64), widow, innkeeper, born Chipsham (?), Rutland;
- [2] Eliza Harding (55), visitor, born Birmingham;
- [3] Maria Bonet (20), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [4] Francis Harvey (55), billiard marker, born _____ wick, Norfolk;
- [5] Maria Hartell (18), domestic servant, born Willenhall;
- [6] Thomas Peniston (18), domestic servant, born Saxby, Leicestershire:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1873

"The committee of the Walsall Cottage Hospital beg to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions that have been received up to yesterday from the Licensed Victuallers and beersellers.....

Mrs. Loseby, QUEENS HOTEL, £1 17s."

Lichfield Mercury 14/1/1879

"On Saturday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest, at the QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall, on the body of Mr. George Dunn, aged 41, one of the officials of the Cannock Chase Colliery Company, who was killed at Walsall Railway Station, on Thursday, 17th inst. A letter from Mr. Monckton, Rugley, produced, was to the effect that as deceased was running to reach a particular carriage, he was thrown under the train owing to his left shoulder coming into contact with a person on the platform; but, according to the testimony of a witness who was called, he had actually got his foot on the step of the carriage when he fell. It was stated that he was of sober and regular habits, and it may be added that he was well-known and much respected. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

1881 Census

Station Street – QUEENS HOTEL

- [1] Mary Loseby (73), widow, licensed victualler, born Rutland;
- [2] Joseph H. Jeffries (31), son in law, saddler, born Walsall;
- [3] Annie E. Jeffries (33), daughter, born Nottingham;
- [4] Jane James (44), widower, house keeper, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas _____? (26), billiard marker, born Lancashire;
- [6] Alice Wilson (15), general servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/5/1882

"Yesterday, Mr. Fletcher (coroner) held an inquest at the QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall, on the body of a young woman who dropped dead in the Walsall Railway Station on Tuesday afternoon, and who in the meantime had been identified as Eliza Lester, alias Johnson of Hednesford. At the time of her death, she was on her way home from the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned."

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1888 - Advert

"Wanted, a smart Lad as Billiard Marker, and to make himself generally useful in the house.

Apply, QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall."

Charles Brown was fined 40s and costs, on 24th November 1890, for selling intoxicating liquor during prohibited hours.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

Mr. W. L. Stanley, on behalf of Charles Francis Brown, the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, applied for a music and singing license for Friday evenings for a room upstairs ordinarily used as a billiard room. Refused.”

Charles Francis Brown – check SADDLERS ARMS, 30, Station Street.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893 - Advert

To Let, with immediate possession, the QUEEN’S HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall.

For further particulars, apply Messrs. Watkins, Powell & Wood, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/11/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Alfred Ashwin, QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Then the magistrates also want to know if you can report to them during the sitting of this meeting as to the accommodation provided by the GEORGE HOTEL, the STORK, the DRAGON, the PRIORY, NEW INNS, the WOOLPACK, and the QUEENS?the Chief Constable said he was then in possession of the information asked by the Magistrates with reference to the bedroom accommodation at the hotels. At the GEORGE HOTEL there were nineteen beds for commercials. The two large rooms at that hotel, formerly used for balls, &c, had been converted into eight bedrooms and a bathroom, and no plans had been submitted for the alterations. At the PRIORY there were six bedrooms for accommodation, five at the DRAGON, three at the QUEENS, but there was no bedroom accommodation at the STORK, NEW INNS, and the WOOLPACK Hotels.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the GEORGE.”

1901 Census

30, Station Street

- [1] Alfred Ashwin (37), hotel keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Kate Ashwin (32), wife, born Rugby;
- [3] Joseph A. Ashwin (13), son, born Leicester;
- [4] Doris G. Ashwin (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Caroline Gilbert (22), barmaid, born Great Bridge;
- [6] Gertrude Gilbert (18), barmaid, born Great Bridge;
- [7] Francis Stanley (18), general servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Alfred Ashwin The President reported that the picnic on Thursday (4th July) to the Cotswolds was entirely satisfactory, and was self supporting. The society was to be congratulated on the successful arrangements for so large a gathering.”

Alfred Ashwin was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1904

“An application was made by Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) for a temporary transfer of the license of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, from Alfred Ashwin to Ernest Grimes. Mr. Jackson said he thought it was only fair he should tell the magistrates that at his last house, the Granby Arms, Nuneaton, Mr. Grimes made an error of judgement and was fined £2 and costs for permitting drunkenness. He had testimony from the police of Nuneaton as to the manner in which he had conducted his house during the three years previous to his conviction. The company (Northampton Brewery Company) owned both houses, and he thought it was sufficient to show their trust in Mr. Grimes that they were willing to have him as occupier of another of their houses.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) said he had a letter from the Nuneaton police bearing out Mr. Jackson’s statement. It seemed that the Brewery Company at the time of the conviction determined to make an example of Grimes and so gave him notice.

The transfer was granted.”

[This was confirmed on 31st May, 1904]

Walsall Advertiser 4/6/1904

“Transfer Day.

Mr. Jackson in applying for the transfer of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, which was temporary granted a short time ago from Alfred Ashwin to Ernest Grimes, repeated the statement he then made to the magistrates. He explained that the in-going tenant, who had paid £500 for valuation, had previously held the license of the Granby Head, Nuneaton, where owing to an error of judgement on the part of a barmaid, he was fined £2 and costs for permitting drunkenness. It was an unfortunate circumstance, but he had a testimonial from the police at Nuneaton to the effect that the man had held the license for three years without complainant up to the time of the conviction, and they said that, had he applied for a renewal, it would have been granted; but the brewery company determined to make an example of him, and gave him notice to quit. This house belonged to the same company, and the tenancy was one of £80 a year. Granted.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

Edgar John Palmer was fined 20s and costs, on 29th April 1907, for suffering gaming.

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“The hotel was described in 1910 as being an alehouse with 4 Public rooms, Vaults, 2 Smoke rooms and Billiard room, there is also a sitting room, living room/kitchen, across the yard are a Brewery stores and offices with stabling for 3 horses. The whole place is very untidy and not in the condition expected for a Hotel of this class.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

The case of the QUEENS HOTEL was next taken. Mr. H. H. Jackson appearing for the Northampton Brewery Co, the owners, and Mr. Edgar John Palmer, the manager.

Chief-inspector Ballance, after describing the accommodation, &c, said the place was untidy and not in a proper condition for a hotel of that class. It was the biggest house of the four in Station Street, but he thought it did the least trade. Apparently it was not carried on as a first-class hotel at the present time. There were 14 bedrooms, but only three of them were used.

In reply to Mr. H. H. Jackson, witness said the building was the best in the street.

Mr. Jackson gave the figures showing the value of the premises, and submitted that it was the best house in the street; there was no long pull, there was no music, and the average takings amounted to £25 per week. In no way did any house in the street compare with the QUEENS HOTEL. The trade was a very quiet and unassuming one, and there could be no objection to it. In fact, it was so quiet that they had apparently deceived Inspector Ballance, and that was the sort of trade that was wanted. With regard to the bedrooms, they would very much like to let them out but nowadays commercial travellers would not stop in Walsall. They preferred to go to Birmingham. With regard to the trade, in 1907 the average was 198 barrels, in 1908 it was 182, an in 1909 it was 175. In addition 369 gallons of spirits were sold in 1907, 401 in 1908, and 343 in 1909, while 354½ dozen pints of bottled beer were disposed of in 1907, 740½ in 1908, and 667 in 1909. From October 1st to January 28th the takings averaged £24 10s per week. Edgar John Palmer, the licensee, stated in evidence that the figures given by Mr. Jackson related to the trade done in the house only.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

The Magistrates decided to renew the licenses of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, and the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, and the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street.”

1911 Census

80, Corporation Street

[1] Edgar John Palmer (48), brewer’s manager, Northampton Brewery Co, born Ipswich;

[2] Jemima Palmer (40), wife, married 19 years, born Walsall;

[3] Alan Palmer (18), son, brewer’s clerk, Northampton Brewery Co, born Walsall;

[4] Wilfred Palmer (9), son, school, born Walsall;

[5] Vincent Palmer (8), son, school, born Walsall;

[6] Lewis Palmer (6), son, school, born Walsall:

[Though the address is not the pub, it is probably the right person.]

Walsall Observer 20/11/1915 - Advert

“To Let, Northampton Brewery Offices, 30, Station Street, Suitable for stock or show room.

E. J. Palmer, QUEENS HOTEL, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street. £1 0s 0d.”

Lichfield Mercury 12/11/1926

“The story of a midnight attack on a young woman was told to the Rushall magistrates on Monday, when Patrick McKeown (33), miner, 405, Huntingdon Terrace, Hednesford, pleaded guilty to maliciously causing bodily harm to Miriam Charles (21), 10, Council Houses, Rushall.

Miss Charles, who is a grocer's assistant, stated that about 11.50 on October 28th she was returning home from Walsall. When within a few yards of the Rushall Churchfields she heard someone behind her. On looking round she saw a man. When within a few yards of the Navvies' Bridge she again turned round, and was hit on the head. She fell, and when she screamed the man put his hand over her mouth. While struggling with him she took a bottle from him. She screamed again, and a policeman came on the scene.

Dr. J. Stirling, of Sheffield, said the girl had a wound at the back of the right ear about an inch long, and penetrating the whole thickness of the scalp. She lost a considerable amount of blood. He thought that what she was wearing saved her from more serious injury.

Joseph John Froggatt, farm labourer, Spout Lane, Walsall, stated that as he was going to Rushall McKeown spoke to him near the Walsall Arboretum, saying he wanted a night's 'doss,' and asking if witness knew a cemetery with white stones in it, and a white gate. Witness told him there was one at Ryecroft. McKeown left him at Cambridge Lane. Prisoner had had some drink, but he was not drunk.

Arthur Henry Harris, licensee of the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall, said that about 9.30pm on October 28th McKeown left the house with a bottle of stout. He returned about 10.40 and asked for a night's lodgings. When refused he went away.

McKeown was arrested at his home by Police Inspector Clarke, and when charged he replied, 'Well, I will be straight about it. I plead guilty. I was under the influence of drink when I left the QUEENS HOTEL. I wandered about the town and drank a bottle of beer. After being refused lodgings I wandered about the town until I got to where the girl was. She was in front of me. I overtook her, and I know no more until I hit her with the bottle. She screamed, and I ran up the bank and lay under the hedge. Afterwards I went to Bentley Common. I hope the girl is not the worse for it.'

McKeown expressed his sorrow, and said he would not have done it had he been sober. 'I can't remember doing the job, so it's no use me telling lies,' he added.

Accused had two convictions for drunkenness, and Inspector Clarke stated that McKeown was of a violent nature when under the influence of drink. He had worked at about fifteen collieries, but he did not remain long at any of them.

The Chairman (Mr. E. H. Barnett) said young people must be protected, and McKeown would have the maximum punishment – six months' hard labour. The police were to be congratulated on having traced the man."

Albert Edwards – see also CROWN AND CUSHION.

It closed on 5th May 1938.

The license was transferred to the COALPOOL TAVERN.

QUEENS HEAD

140, (110), Church Street / Field Road, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

George Ross

Mrs. Mary Maria Ross

Adam Harper, chartermaster, Wolverhampton [1881]

City Brewery (Lichfield) Co. Ltd.

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

George Ross [1857] – [1872];

Mrs. Mary Maria Ross [];

Adam Harper [1881] – 1907);

John Smith (1907 – 1922);

Cyril Charles James (1922 – 1923); manager

John Richard Holden (1923 – 1935); manager

Arthur Sydney Draper (1935 – 1942);

Henry Charles Cooper (1942 – 1956);

Leonard Spencer Hopkins (1956 – 1958);

Frank Dawkin (1958 – [1966]

Mrs. Sandhu [2015]

NOTES

110, Church Street [1881]
140, Church Street [1901], [1939]

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
George Ross, Bloxwich. Granted.”

Walsall Free Press 14/8/1858

“George Ross, landlord of the QUEENS HEAD Public-house, Bloxwich, was fined 5s and costs for having on Sunday last kept his house open, during prohibited hours, for the sale of drink.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

George Ross, of the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, who, on the 11th instant, had been fined 1s and costs for a similar offence.”
[selling drink on a Sunday during prohibited hours]

George Ross was also a bridle bit maker. [1860]
He was described as also a bit maker. [1861]

1861 Census

Bloxwich – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] George Ross (48), bitt maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Ann Maria Ross (49), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Jane Ross (20), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ann Maria Ross (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Eliza Ross (15), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Mary Ann Ross (7), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 27/4/1861

“On Friday last an accident occurred in a coal pit of the Hatherton colliery, belonging to W. F. Fryer, Esq, which resulted in the death of a young man named James Steel, a miner, working in the pit. On the morning of the day in question, deceased was following his usual avocation in the pit, when a mass of coal fell upon him, causing (it is supposed) instant death. The body was dug out quickly, but life was quite extinct. An inquest was held at the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Tuesday last, when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

George Ross was described as a stirrup maker. [1864]
He was described as a bit and stirrup maker. [1865]
He was described as a bridle bit maker. [1868], [1870], [1871]

1871 Census

Church Street – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] George Ross (58), bit maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary A. Ross (59), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Mary A. Ross (17), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Adam Harper was the son of Adam Harper of the FOUR CROSSES, Leamore, Bloxwich.

1881 Census

110, Church Street – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] Adam Harper (33), charter master, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Jane Harper (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Elizabeth F. Harper (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ellen Harper (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Jane Harper (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Catherine Harper (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Adam Harper (5), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Florence Harper (3), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [9] George H. Harper (2), son, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Arthur J. Harper (7 months), son, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Emma Jane Holden (21), boarder, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [12] Jane Rawson (19), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 14/10/1882 - Register of Sales

“Wednesday, October 18th. Sale of Public House, Fixtures, Household Furniture, &c, at the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, at 10.30am.”

Walsall Observer 4/4/1885

“.....Mr. Thomas Farrington has received instructions from the executors of the late Mr. George Ross, to offer the following Property by Auction, at the QUEENS HEAD INN, Church Street, on Monday, 13th April, 1885.....

Lot 1. The Valuable, Freehold, Old-licensed Public House, known as the QUEENS HEAD situate in Church Street (corner of Field Street), Bloxwich, in the occupation of Mr. A. Harper, at the annual rent of £36. The House contains Liquor Vaults (27ft by 12ft), Smoke Room, Club Room (36ft by 15ft), two Kitchens, Brewhouse, four capital Cellars, Malt Room, four Bedrooms; Yard, Stable, Piggeries, and gateway entrance into Field Street.....”

Lichfield Mercury 18/5/1888

“At the Petty Sessions, on Wednesday, Adam Harper, landlord of the QUEENS HEAD INN, Bloxwich, was summoned for making a wrong entry in his brewing book on the 22nd February.

An Excise officer at Bloxwich deposed to the quantity of wort and the taking of samples for analysis.

Charles Henry Burge, analytical chemist to Somerset House, gave evidence as to the result of the analysis, which showed that the wort contained 2.9 of sugar, which would give 44lbs for the quantity brewed, whereas defendant had put the quantity at 12lbs.

The Bench inflicted a penalty of £5 and costs.”

(Short

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Adam Harper, of the QUEENS HOTEL, Church Street, Bloxwich, applied for a music license for Thursdays and Saturdays, from 7.30 to 10.30pm. The landlord was represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson, who informed the magistrates that a club of Oddfellows, numbering some 140, met at his client’s house, and they wanted a little music when they held their concerts. There was no special object for the license to be granted for Thursdays, except that the shops closed early, and Mr. Harper was often applied to for a room wherein to hold a smoking concert. Bloxwich, he believed, was musical (laughter), but they were deficient in music licenses.

In reply to Mr. Brewer, Mr. Jackson said the house would absolutely be restricted to members of the Oddfellows lodge.

On the advice of the Bench, Mr. Harper withdrew the application as regard Thursdays.

The Chief Constable did not oppose the application for Saturday.

The application, as amended, was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing session for the borough of Walsall were held in the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. Jackson, on behalf of Mr. Adam Harper, licensed victualler, QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, applied for a singing and music license for the QUEENS HEAD, for alternate Monday evenings, when the Foresters Royal George Court of Miners (5194), hold their meetings. He already had a license for alternative Saturdays, when a lodge of the Oddfellows assembled. Granted.”

Walsall Observer 21/7/1900

“On Monday night a dinner to bid farewell to Councillor Littler, who is leaving England next month for New Zealand, was given at the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, and was provided and served in a way which reflected credit on Mr. Harper, the landlord.....”

Walsall Observer 11/8/1900

“Last night a meeting of the local miners was held at the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, when Councillor B. Dean presided over a large attendance, supported by Messrs. Jordan, Venables, Edwards and Lane (treasurer).

The Chairman, in opening the meeting, traced the advantages that had been made in their trade since 1888, and also spoke of matters which took place before that date, especially commenting on the fluctuation of miners’ wages. Since that time things had been more settled, and that was due to better organization of the men, and the combination which had taken place among the miners in all parts of the kingdom.....”

1901 Census

140, Church Street

- [1] Adam Harper (54), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Jane Harper (53), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] George Harper (21), son, solicitor’s clerk, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Arthur J. Harper (20), son, manufacturer’s clerk, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Harper (17), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Ernest W. Harper (16), son, carpenter’s apprentice, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Edith M. Harper (14), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Frederick N. Harper (12), son, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Howard Harper (11), son, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Gwendoline Harper (9), daughter, born Bloxwich;

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

Mr. A. Harper, QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich. 7s 11d.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/9/1909

“Mr. R. A. Cooper had this week given further proof that he has the interests of the workers of Walsall at heart by allowing himself to be initiated an honorary member of Lodge 55 of the loyal Caledonian Corks, and Court 5104 of the Ancient Order of Foresters. The former ceremony took place on Monday evening at the RED LION HOTEL, Bloxwich, while his introduction to Court 5104 took place at the QUEENS HEAD HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Tuesday night.....”

[R. A. Cooper was a Unionist politician, in January 1910 he was elected as a Member of Parliament for the Borough.]

1911 Census

Church Street – QUEENS HEAD

[1] John Smith (56), publican, born Pelsall;

[2] Martha Smith (53), wife, married 34 years, born Walsall;

[3] John Smith (22), son, chemist, born Pelsall;

[4] Minnie Smith (20), daughter, barmaid and assisting in business, born Pelsall;

[5] Ernest Smith (8), son, born Bloxwich;

[6] Sarah Maria Edmonds (20), servant, born Essington:

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1912

“The Coal War. Great Struggle Still Proceeding.....

Notices were issued stating that strike pay would be paid as follows (on the production of contribution card): Thursday, March 14th, Sheffield, SPRING COTTAGE INN, at 11am; Walsall Wood, WHEEL INN, at 2pm; Brownhill, Crown Inn, at 5pm; Friday, March 15th, Pelsall, STATION INN, at 11am; Bloxwich, QUEENS HEAD INN, at 2pm; Lane Head, BRITISH OAK INN, at 5pm; Saturday, March 16th, Newton, Malt Shovel Inn at 11am.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/3/1912

“Strikers in the Walsall Wood, Rushall and Sheffield neighbourhood looked forward to their first strike pay with evident concern. There is no doubt the men are beginning to feel the pinch of wageless weeks and although they picked up a good haul the Saturday before last the coffers this week have begun to run low.

The first distribution of strike pay by the Pelsall and District Association took place on Thursday at Ted Clark’s SPRING COTTAGE INN, Sheffield. The time fixed was eleven o’clock, but before that hour a large crowd of miners has assembled. A few minutes after eleven, when the officials drove up, there could not have been less than 1,500 or 2,000 men waiting for their pay. Some of them had to wait a good time too, for it was close on half-past three in the afternoon before the last striker received his allowance. Fortunately the weather was fine – indeed, it was a bright spring day. The young strikers – the pit boys – with some of their seniors, whiled away the time at marbles, but generally the men were content to smoke pipes (with need it to be said, and occasional slaking of the thirst), and quietly chat together. The peculiar part about it all – at least that which impresses the stranger, is that the men discuss practically every other topic imaginable with the one exception of the unrest!

The paying out was conducted in a smooth and business-like manner, the men entering the room where it was carried out in the order of their respective lodges. They were commendably orderly and the crowd gradually diminished, the strikers making a move off as soon as they had received their money. Each man received 15/- and the few boys who had to be paid 7/6. The officials present included Messrs. H. Smith (president), Mr. Smith (vice-president), T. Riley (secretary), and R. Burgess (treasurer). Mr. F. J. Dean (miners’ agent) was in London.

One of the officials explained that the ordinary strike pay is 10/- a week, but it was thought that it would be to the interests of the men if they were paid 15/-, as they have been at play since last Saturday week. The strikers came from all parts of the area covered by the association, although most of them belonged to Rushall, Sheffield and Walsall Wood.

From what could be gathered the men are not in such ‘high feather’ as they were this time last week. There are signs of a weakening in their determination, which goes a long long way to show that they would welcome a settlement. It was stated by one of the miners that in the early part of the week 20 or 30 non-unionists approached the manager of the Aldridge Colliery, and asked to be set at work, but were refused. In spite of the fact that the association has 4,000 members, there are non-unionists here and there and they must undoubtedly be reduced to an impecunious position. One of the miners expressed the opinion that after ‘this yer job’ is over the unionists will refuse to be reconciled to so many of the men remaining outside their union. The unionists evidenced that they appreciated their strike pay, small though it is compared to with an ordinary week’s money, but, in spite of reserve, many of them showed that they were a little anxious as to their prospects should the struggle be prolonged. Some of the men turned up at the venues in their Sunday best and one or two even wore collars and ties.

Later in the day there were ‘payings out’ at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, and at Brownhills. Yesterday (Friday) miners received pay at the STATION INN, Pelsall; the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich; and the BRITISH OAK, Lane Head. Today (Saturday) money will be paid put at the MALT SHOVEL INN, Newton.

It is stated that if a settlement is effected and the miners start work at once they will receive pay from the strike funds for the odd days they have been out.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, 5s 3d.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/9/1915

“At the Police Court on Tuesday, John Smith, QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich, was summoned for selling whiskey which had been diluted beyond the statutory limit on July 27th. Mr. V. Crooke (assistant Town Clerk) prosecuted.

Evidence was given by Mr. A. T. Hubble, inspector under the Food and Drugs Act, to the effect that on the date in question he purchased three quarters of a pint of whiskey for which he paid 2s 3d. A portion of it was sent to the Borough Analyst, whose certificate was to the effect that there was adulteration to the extent of 3.2%. There was no notice in the bar informing customers that the spirits sold there were adulterated nor did the defendant make any statement at the time of purchase.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson witness admitted he asked for a bottle to put the whiskey in and that the defendant went and washed one. He saw the bottle before the whiskey was put in, however, and it was then practically dry.

For the defence Mr. Jackson said he had to plead guilty to the technical offence, because he could not refute the analyst’s certificate. When they considered that the adulteration was only 3.2 it was almost infinitesimal, and it would be absurd that such a slight adulteration was done with the object of obtaining profit.

What happened was that Mr. Hubble asked for a bottle in which to put the whiskey, and defendant washed one out. It was impossible to get all the water and moisture out, and he submitted that there would be almost sufficient to account for the adulteration of 3.2. The defendant had kept licensed houses in Walsall for 23 years, without a single complaint, and he, Mr. Jackson, suggested that the case would be met by the payment of costs.

The Bench ordered the defendant to pay the costs.

Mr. Jackson remarked that the persons who drank that particular whiskey would not get so excited as otherwise they might have done, so perhaps after all, the adulteration was a blessing in disguise.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

QUEENS HEAD INN, Church Street. £1 16s 7½d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/6/1927

“Bloxwich Carnival Committee held their annual charity carnival on Saturday, in aid of local hospitals, and in spite of heavy showers the effort was very successful.

For the first year a carnival queen was selected by public vote, and Miss Edna Holden, daughter of the licensee of the QUEENS HEAD INN, Bloxwich was chosen.....”

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the HAME MAKERS ARMS INN, Blue Lane West, on Thursday.....

Mr. Arthur S. Draper, QUEENS HEAD, Church Street, Bloxwich was elected member of the Society.”

1939 Register

140, Church Street (2 of 3)

[1] Arthur S. Draper, date of birth 11/5/1880, publican, married;

[2] Ellen F. Draper, dob 19/1/1879, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

QUEENS HEAD, Church Street, Bloxwich, £3 5s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Draper, QUEENS HEAD, Church Street. £1 6s 3d.”

Frank Dawkin – see also PRINCE.

Walsall Observer 3/2/1967

“The Staffordshire finals of the News of the World Individual Darts Championship of England and Wales will be held at Bloxwich Memorial Club, Harrison Street, Bloxwich, at 7.30pm on Monday next, February 6.....

The eight players taking part are.....

George Wolley (QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich).....

The winner will receive a Philips Twin Turbo fan heater, the runner up a Sunbeam pop-up toaster, the semi-finalists will get Kodak Instamatic cameras and all the finalists will get a set of News of the World darts.”

Demolished
It was rebuilt c.1970.

Express and Star 26/7/2008

“.....The price of the QUEENS HEAD, Church Street, Walsall, dropped by £150,000. It is advertised as having a ‘busy, mixed use area’ and ‘two good sized trading areas’.”

Mrs. Sandhu was married to Amrik.

[2017]

QUEENS HEAD

Blakenall Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Wooldridge [1902]

QUEENS HEAD

153+154, Green Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Reay [1871]

NOTES

1871 Census

153+154, Green Lane – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] Thomas Reay (65), publican, born Gloucestershire;
- [2] Elizabeth Reay (58), wife, born Gloucestershire;
- [3] Susannah Moulder (4), granddaughter, born Walsall:

QUEENS HEAD

16, Hill Street / Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Stanley, 14, Hill Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

Sarah Eagles [1818] – [1822]
Joseph Moore [1822]
Hannah More [1828] – [1830]
Robert Westwood [1834] – [1842]
Edward James [1845] – [1849]
Mrs. Frances Hart [1849] – [1850]
Edwin Roper [1850] – [1873];
Mrs. Bridget Ann Roper [1881] – 1891);
Moses Lawton (1891 – 1893);
William John Roberts (1893 – 1912);
Mary Ann Roberts (1912 – 1913);
William Rollins (1913 – 1915);
Mrs. Hannah Rollins (1915 – 1920);
Edward Andrew Noake (1920 – 1921);
Arthur Shearyn (?) (1921 – 1922);
John Vincent Crowther (1922 – 1923);
Harry Hill (1923);
Arthur Cyril Ward (1923 – 1925);
James Warburton (1925 – 1926):

NOTES

QUEEN CAROLINE [1818], [1822]
QUEENS HEAD [1854], [1858], [1860], [1861], [1908], [1912]
ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD [1851], [1861], [1865], [1873], [1897], [1898], [1901], [1902], [1905], [1907], [1914], [1915], [1918], [1922], [1926]

Wid. Eagles, victualler, Hill Street. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Lodges.....

Benevolents Union, held at QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, supposed number 30 or 40, instituted 1809, surgeon Mr. Woollatt, secretary Jerry Newman.”

AND

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, male, held at QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street.”

AND

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1834 - Died

“On Sunday last, at Walsall, aged 74, Mrs. Sarah Eagles, formerly landlady of the QUEENS HEAD, public house, Hill Street, in that town.”

1841 Census

Hill Street

[1] Robert Westwood (45), victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Hannah Westwood (55);

[3] Mary Westwood (19), fs, born Staffordshire:

London Gazette 13/4/1849

“Whereas a Petition of Edward James, at present, and for fourteen days now last past, residing in Lodgings, in Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, and being out of business and employment, and for four years and upwards previously thereto, residing at a house called or known by the name or sign of the QUEENS HEAD, in Hill-street, in Walsall aforesaid, there carrying on the trade or business of a Licensed Victualler, and for three years previously thereto at a house in Ablewell-street, Walsall aforesaid, called or known by the sign of the MINERVA, there also carrying on the trade or business of a Licensed Victualler, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Edward James, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Edward James is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 30th of April instant, at twelve of the clock at noon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Edward James, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. William Cotterill, Clerk of the said Court, at his offices, in Bridge-street, Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/12/1850

“On Wednesday, Edwin Roper, of the QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, was fined 5s and costs for having had his house open on Sunday morning.”

1851 Census

Hill Street

- [1] Edwin Roper (33), curb maker and licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Maria Roper (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Stephenson (25), son, boot and shoe maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Catherine Stephenson (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] William Brady (15), apprentice curb maker, born Burton on Trent:

1861 Census

16, Hill Street

- [1] Edwin Roper (43), victualler, maltster, born Walsall;
- [2] Johanna Roper (39), wife, born London;
- [3] Diana Harvey (22), house servant, born Alrewas, Staffordshire:

Edwin Roper was also a maltster. [1864], [1865]

In February 1865 Edwin Roper was fined £50 for failing to keep his brewing records correctly.

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1868

“On Thursday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, held an inquest at the QUEENS HEAD INN, Hill Street, on the body of Mary Turner, aged 33. It seemed that at about one o’clock on Wednesday morning the deceased got out of bed, and sitting down by the bedside complained of a pain in her chest, and almost immediately expired. Verdict Died from an Attack of Apoplexy.”

Walsall Free Press 29/10/1870 - Advert

“Municipal Election.

Burgesses Of The Bridge Ward, Be Early At The Poll, on Tuesday Next, Nov. 1st, and Plump for Wedge.

The Opposer of all Extravagant Expenditure of Public Money.

The Committee will be held at Mr. E. Roper’s, QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, at Half-past Seven o’clock, on Monday Evening next.

Charles Jones, Chairman.”

1871 Census

16, Hill Street – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] Edwin Roper (53), maltster and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Johannah Roper (50), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Jane Wooley (22), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

16, Hill Street

- [1] Ann Roper (56), widow, licensed victualler, born Shildon, Potteries, Staffordshire;
- [2] Jane Hill (17), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Advertiser 21/4/1883 - Advert

“House and Shopping To Be Let, Caldmore Road.

Apply, QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street.”

1891 Census

16, Hill Street – QUEENS HEAD

- [1] Bridget A. Roper (67), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary McDonough (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1896

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society held on Thursday Mr. William Roberts, OLD QUEENS HEAD INN, Hill Street, was elected to the Executive Committee.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1897

“Mary Fahy, married, was charged with being drunk, disorderly, and refusing to quit the QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street. Mr. T. H. Stanley prosecuted. It seemed the defendant went into the house on Monday evening week, commenced bawling and creating a disturbance, because the landlord, William John Roberts, would not allow her to remain. He had to put her out. A witness named Arthur Smith corroborated the landlord's testimony.

Defendant said she left the house as soon as asked to go. She had gone to fetch her husband, whom she heard was drunk. Her daughter Ellen corroborated.

A mistake, it transpired, had been made in charging defendant with being drunk, instead of merely refusing to quit, and she was let off with a warning."

Walsall Advertiser 11/12/1897

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the house of Mr. William J. Roberts, ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, on Thursday, Jan 13, at seven o'clock."

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1898

"The annual money club supper was held at Mr. Roberts's, ORIGINAL QUEEN'S HEAD, Hill Street, on Monday evening last, when about 44 members sat down to a most substantial repast, provided by the host and hostess, which was highly appreciated by the members and friends present, who passed a pleasant and sociable evening."

1901 Census

16, Hill Street

[1] William J. Roberts (32), brewer and beer retailer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary A. Roberts (30), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] William E. Roberts (9), son, born Walsall;

[4] Ada Roberts (23), sister, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1901

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. William John Roberts, ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD INN, Hill Street....."

W. John Roberts was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 18/1/1902

"The annual supper in connection with the £5 club at the QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, was held on Monday evening, when about 40 members sat down to an excellent repast served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. Roberts. After full justice had been done to the good things provided, Mr. Cherrington was voted to the chair, and Mr. Davis to the vice-chair. The following enjoyable programme was gone through: Recitation, the Chairman; song, 'Jacks Yarn,' the Vice-chairman; banjo and violin duet, Messrs. Heath and Hurlston; song, 'When you're up in the World,' Mr. Dilkes; song, 'Must you' (encore, 'Don't Apologise'), Mr. Sid Stanley; song, 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep,' Mr. Smart; banjo and violin duet, Messrs. Heath and Hurlston; song, 'Who'll buy my Lavender,' the Chairman; song, 'There is a Flower that Bloometh,' Mr. Astins; song, 'One of his Sunday pals,' Mr. Dilkes; song, 'How I saved my Life,' Mr. Sid Stanley; song, 'Little Brown Jug,' Mr. Brookes; song, 'The Red, White, and Blue,' Mr. Roberts, sen.

The Chairman proposed a toast to the host and hostess for the manner in which they had catered for the company, to which the host suitably replied."

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1905

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the Executive Committee at the house of Mr. William John Roberts, ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD INN, Hill Street, Walsall, on Thursday, February 9th."

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

QUEENS HEAD. The objection to this house was the structural unsuitability, evidence of which was given by Inspector Ballance. Mr. Wilcock appeared for the occupier, William John Roberts. He said it had always been a respectable house and the trade had always been carried on on good lines.

In reply to Mr. Loxton, Mr. Wilcock said he had not submitted any plans as he thought they were not necessary.

Mr. Loxton said the Bench were of the opinion that they ought to see a plan.

Mr. Wilcock agreed to submit one."

Walsall Advertiser 6/5/1905

"John Goode, (18), labourer, of 14, Dudley Street, was charged with refusing to quit the ORIGINAL QUEEN'S HEAD, Hill Street, on the 24th ult, and also with using bad language. According to the evidence of William John Roberts, landlord, and his wife, defendant went into the house on the afternoon named, drunk, and was refused beer and ordered out. Instead of going out he struck the landlady. The landlord twice ejected him, and Police-constable Stanley came on the scene, when defendant used bad language.

Defendant sobbed violently during the case, blaming the landlord for his position, and threatening him.

He had been several times previously convicted, his offences included gaming at Lincoln races; and he was fined 10s and costs or 14 days. He went below.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/6/1907

“William Winter (28), labourer, Hill Street, was charged with assaulting William Roberts, landlord of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, and also refusing to quit.

Mr. Gilbert H. Bailey (Stanley and Jackson) stated that on June 11th defendant, who was a ‘ne’er do weel,’ went into the inn whilst drunk; the landlord refused to serve him, and ordered him out, but instead of going he struck the landlord.

Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days.”

1911 Census

16, Hill Street

[1] William John Roberts (42), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Ann Roberts (40), wife, married 12 years, licensed victualler, born Birmingham:

Walsall Observer 12/12/1914

“Private John Lines (29) (2nd South Staffords) came through the retreat from Mons with out injury, and had several marvellous escapes in the trenches at the Aisne, but during the fierce fighting round Ypres a comrade stated that he saw him fall. That the wound proved fatal is evident from the War Office communication which Mr. W. Rollins, of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD INN, Hill Street, received on Monday, stating that his step-son, Private Lines, was killed in action on October 30. Particularly as a capable all-round athlete, the deceased soldier was known by many townspeople. As a boy he was connected with Rooney’s stables at Hednesford at the same time as several well-known racing men, such as Tom Dixon and Alf Newey. Enlisting when he was in his teens, he went to South Africa six weeks later to join the South Staffords, and was engaged on block house duty during the latter part of the Boer war. Altogether he served three years abroad, and left the colours some eight years ago. Last employed at Barling’s, Pleck Road, he was on holiday at Streethay when war was declared. He was among the first to leave England with the Expeditionary Force, and in a letter from the trenches said that in the present war he had seen more real warfare than he ever witnessed during the three years in Africa. Private Lines was an enthusiastic bird fancier, being a member of the local society, and often secured prizes at their shows.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/10/1915 - Deaths

“On the 13th inst, at ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, William Rollins, aged 60 years.”

AND

“The death took place on Wednesday of Mr. William Rollins, licensee of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street. Mr. Rollins, who was aged 60, was very well-known in football circles throughout the Midland and in some other parts of the country. For some years he was a First League referee, in which capacity he officiated at a large number of important matches. He was also vice-president of the Walsall Football Association, his lengthy connection with which was commemorated by the possession of a long service medal. Before going to the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Mr. Rollins held the license of the WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, and the Grove Tavern, Great Barr, and for nearly nine years he had been a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street. £1 4s 5d.”

Edward Andrew Noake = Arthur Noakes

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

“Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/6/1926

“The Licensing Justices on Wednesday refused to renew the licenses of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; and scheduled the houses for compensation Mr. G. Hawley (solicitor) said the matter was considered four years ago, and the license was renewed on condition that certain repairs were carried out. They were done at a cost of £600.”

It was closed for Compensation on 30th October 1926.

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKESPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

QUEEN STREET TAVERN

87, (87+88), (97), Queen Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. George Gilbert, widow, Birchills, Walsall
Thomas Green, farmer, Wyrley
John Kite
Mrs. Kite, Long Street, Walsall
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1914]

LICENSEES

John Villers [1872];
John Kite [1881] – 1890);
Richard Harris (1890 – 1899);
Mrs. Annie Harris (1899 – 1915);
David James Kite (1915 – 1916);
Alice Kite (1916 – 1918);
David James Kite (1918 – 1919);
Frank Smith (1919 – 1920);
Arthur Turner (1920 – 1922);
William Powell (1922 – 1924);
Thomas Healey (1924 – 1929);
John Dorsett (1929);
Ernest Higgins (1929 – 1931);
Albert Edwards (1931 – 1938);
Mrs. Ada Edwards (1938 – 1951);
Harold Green (1951 – 1959);
Colin Derek Harris (1959 – 1962);
Norman George Moir (1962 – 1964);
Henry McBeth Fairfull (1964 – 1966);
Clive Barry Rogers (1966);
John Thomas Tew (1966 – [])

NOTES

97, Queen Street [1881]
87, Queen Street [1891], [1901], [1939]
87+88, Queen Street [1940]

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

It had a beerhouse license.

John Villers, beer retailer, Queen Street. [1872]

1881 Census

97, Queen Street – QUEENS TAVERN
[1] John Kite (33), beer seller, born Netherton;
[2] Ann Maria Kite (33), wife, born Woodside [Dudley]
[3] Sarah Kite (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] David Kite (3), son, born Walsall;

[5] Maud Marle (64), mother in law, born Oldbury:

1891 Census

87, Queen Street – TAVERN

- [1] Richard Harris (39), publican, born Leominster;
- [2] Annie Harris (39), wife, born Scotland;
- [3] George Harris (3), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Lawson (70), mother in law, widow, living on her own means, born Birmingham;
- [5] John E. Matthews (13), nephew, scholar, born Leominster;
- [6] Emily Harris (16), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [7] Elizabeth Hawker (68), visitor, living on her own means, born Birmingham:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/4/1892

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest at the QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street, on the body of Susan Hunt (86), widow, of 80, Queen Street, who died on Sunday from the effects of injuries received on the previous Friday, through falling downstairs. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Richard Harris, beer retailer, 87-88, Queen Street. [1896]

1901 Census

87, Queen Street – Tavern

- [1] Annie Harris (46), widow, beer retailer, born Scotland;
- [2] George Harris (13), son, born Walsall;
- [3] Nellie Harris (19), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [4] Annie Harris (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Lawson (79), mother, widow, living on own means, born Birmingham;
- [6] Thomas Lawson (21), nephew, barman, born Hereford:

Mrs. Annie Harris, beer retailer, 87-88, Queen Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1904

“A charge of assault was brought by a widow named Elizabeth Wilson, of 82, Queen Street, against Harry Green, of 47, Countess Street. Mrs. Wilson was represented by Mr. T. H. Stanley (Stanley and Jackson), and Mr. J. Armstrong defended. The case for the complainant was that on April 5th, while she was in the QUEEN STREET TAVERN for the purpose of fetching some beer, Green came out of the smoke room and asked to have a glass of bitter. She refused, upon which he remarked: ‘Do you mean to say you have done with me?’ and then kicked her on the thigh, causing a big bruise. Mrs. Wilson bore out this version of the affair, and said she always thought Green to be a perfect friend. Mr. Armstrong: Has he made you presents? – Not that I know of. Mr. Armstrong: Boots? – No. She had, she said, had a drink with him, but denied that she had been in the habit, when she wanted him, of sending to the public-house and tapping at the window. She had parties of friends at her house occasionally, but she denied she had grumbled at Green for refusing to attend her card parties. She knew that he had a very good berth under the Midland Railway Company. Mr. Armstrong, for defendant, said there had been certain relations between complainant and defendant, with which he need not trouble their worships, but it was necessary to say that he stayed at her house on several occasions till five or six in the morning. Mrs. Wilson strongly denied this. Mr. Moseley asked Mr. Armstrong to state what he meant when he referred to ‘certain relationships’ between the parties. Mr. Armstrong hoped the magistrates would not press the question. Mr. Moseley: Well the magistrates will draw their own conclusions. Mr. Armstrong then went on to say that his client had been anxious to break off his association with the woman, and she came to the house and called him ‘a dog.’ There were other words, and the end was that she fell down on the step. A policeman came up and was asked to take Green into custody, but refused. Green was called, and positively denied that he kicked the woman. Mr. Stanley pressed the defendant to make it clear what was the association between him and Mrs. Wilson. Mr. Armstrong (for the defendant) said he would put it no higher than this, she had become too attentive and he wanted to break it off. In reply to Alderman Brownhill, defendant said he was a leading hand-fitter under the Midland Railway Company. He was fined 20s and costs or 21 days’ imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1904

“Joseph Walker, 11, Sun Street, was summoned for being found drunk on the licensed premises of the QUEEN STREET TAVERN on May 17th, the landlady, Annie Harris, for whom Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith appeared, being also summoned for permitting drunkenness and supplying drink to an intoxicated person. Police-sergeant Nunn said that in company with Police-constable Woolley he visited the QUEEN STREET TAVERN on May 17th, and there found the man Walker sitting at a table drunk. He had a partly filled glass at his side. He called the attention of the landlady's son to his condition, and he in reply said he could see how he was then, but that he seemed all right when he went in. Walker denied being drunk, and offered to get up and walk. When he did so, however, he went across the room with a staggering gait.

Police-constable Woolley corroborated, and said that he accompanied the man home to see whether he had given the right address. On the way he twice nearly fell down.

Mr. Pearman-Smith, in addressing the magistrates, urged that the man was not drunk, or if he was his drunkenness was not observed by the people who served him with beer. He was sorry that a member of the Walsall Police Force had acted as Police-constable Woolley had. The latter had admitted that he saw the man who he believed to be drunk come down the street and enter the house. He had always impressed on policemen that it was their duty to prevent crime on all occasions, but this policeman waited and allowed the publican to be entrapped before he moved a step in the matter. Mrs. Harris, who was not in the house at the time, said she had held licenses in the town for 15 years, and never before had a complaint made against her.

Evidence was also given by her son who was left in charge. He said that he was not in the bar when the man entered. When he returned, Walker, who was sitting at a table called for half a pint of ale and a pipe. He certainly did not appear to be drunk. He denied he could see how the man was when his attention was called to him by the police.

In the case of Mrs. Harris a fine of 10s and costs was imposed, Walker being fined 5s and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1906

"A labourer named Frank Reay (21), no fixed abode, was charged with stealing two fowls, valued 6s, the property of Benjamin Croft, on the 3rd inst.

Andrew Hobbs, a goods guard, in the employ of the L&NWR Company, and residing at 126, Queen Street, stated that on Saturday, the 3rd inst. prisoner came to the QUEEN STREET TAVERN and offered two fowls for sale. He told witness he could have them if he would give him the price of a drink more than what he would give for them. Witness purchased them for 3s, and asked the prisoner if they were his own property. He said they were, and also wrote a receipt as follow: 'Received from George Blake (a false name) two fowls, for which no other person had any claim.' Witness subsequently gave him 3s 4½d, but next day he heard the complainant (Croft) had lost some fowls. He therefore went and saw him, and he identified the fowls as his property. Benjamin Croft, 47, Long Street, said the fowls were stolen from his pen between Saturday and Sunday. He had eight fowls, and on Sunday found two were missing.

Detective Lloyd deposed to arresting prisoner, and when charged he said 'It is no use me saying anything.'

The Chief Constable said accused had left home and got into the company of thieves, but the present was the first time he had been caught.

The mother of the prisoner said she did not know why her son would not stay at home. Her husband had been very much depressed about the accused's behaviour.

Fined 40s and costs or 14 days. The chairman remarked that he had given the option of a fine to give his parents the opportunity of relieving him from going to prison."

Walsall Advertiser 13/10/1906

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mrs. Annie Harris, QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street."

Walsall Advertiser 19/9/1908

"Thomas Hewlett, 117, Queen Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, the QUEEN STREET TAVERN, on the 5th inst. Police-sergeant Sheppard (4) saw the defendant stagger into the house, and on following him found him by the bar window. The landlady was telling him he would have no drink there, and with some difficulty he managed to get him home. A fine of 2s 6d and costs, or seven days, was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 30/1/1909

"Thomas Bunce (27), caster, Wednesbury Road, Pleck, was placed in the dock charged with (1) being drunk and disorderly on December 16th; (2) drunk on licensed premises, QUEEN STREET TAVERN, on Dec. 16th; and (3) with persistent cruelty to his wife, Amy Bunce, who applied for a separation order.

Police-sergeant Woolley stated that at 11.25pm on the 15th defendant was in Wednesbury Road, drunk and shouting bad language. There were several people about at the time. Fined 5s and costs or seven days.

The second case was adjourned sine die, as the officer engaged was on the sick list.

In the third case, prisoner's wife, Amy Bunce, gave evidence to the effect that they had been married nearly five years, and there were two children. On the night of December 14, at 11.30, her husband came home helplessly drunk, and because she would not call one of the children downstairs he ran at her with a knife. On several previous occasions he had struck her and bruised her.

Prisoner had been giving her £1 a week, out of which she had to find his tobacco. He earned £1 1s per week, but could make it up to 30s by overtime. She obtained an order in 1906 for 7s per week, but she went back to him. She now asked for 10s per week.

Defendant said his wife's statements were false.

An order was made for 8s per week."

1911 Census

Queen Street – QUEEN STREET TAVERN

[1] Annie Harris (56), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Perth, Scotland;

- [2] Annie Marion Harris (20), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;
[3] George Lawson Harris (23), son, cinematograph operator, born Walsall;
[4] Maud Evans (22), domestic servant, born Essington, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1911

“A case was heard at the Walsall Police Court yesterday (Friday), before Mr. W. E. Blyth (presiding), Councillor S. M. Slater, and Mr. A. D. Cozens, in which George Lawson Harris, of the QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street, was summoned for driving a motor cycle in Lichfield Street at a speed dangerous to the public on the 5th July.

The Chief Constable said that in consequence of complaints as to the speed of motor cycles in the town he had had to take action. Police-sergeant Lloyd said that on July 5th he was on duty in Lichfield Street in company with Detective Ayres. They were each stationed at the end of a measured quarter of a mile and had stop watches. He saw the defendant driving a motor cycle with a side car attached, in which a friend was riding. He was going up the street and the stop watch showed that he was travelling at the rate of over 24 miles an hour. There were five or six vehicles about at the time, ten or a dozen cyclists and hundreds of people, as the Territorials were parading at the time.

Detective Ayres said in his opinion the defendant was travelling at a speed dangerous to the public. There was a good deal of traffic about at the time.

Defendant said he was not travelling more than 15 or 16 miles an hour, but the Magistrates' Clerk (Mr. Loxton) pointed out that it was not a question of speed, but as to whether there was a danger to the public.

A witness for the defence, in the person of the young man who rode the side-car was called, but the Bench imposed a fine of 60s and costs, the Chairman stating that if any case of this kind came forward again the fines would be heavier.”

Mrs. Annie Harris, beer retailer, 87-88, Queen Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 20/2/1915

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last week.....

Mr. David James Kite, QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street, Walsall, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1917 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of William Poole, who died December 30th, 1915, at Edinburgh. Fondly remembered by his Mother and Family, QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street. £2 13s 9³/₄d.”

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

“....by 1914, when David Kite was a tenant at £65 per annum. In 1925 Thomas Healey was the manager 'the stable being used as a coal house', and the Public Bar was 27'3" x 12'3" x 9'1", Smoke Room 12' x 10'4" x 9'1" with an outdoor.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/4/1924

“John Parkes, caster, 11, Rolling Mill Street, was summoned for selling tickets in a lottery 'not being such as is authorised by the Lottery Act, 1823, or any other Act of Parliament.' The Chief Constable (M. G. H. Ballance) pointed out the envelopes, containing tickets on which were printed the names of 66 football teams, were sold at 3d each. Each ticket bore two numbers, and if the team correspondingly numbered scored more goals than the other two, the holder of the ticket received £8.

Police-sergt. Lavender spoke to visiting the QUEEN STREET TAVERN on the evening of March 22, and on seeing the defendant with a bundle of envelopes in his hand. He admitted he was selling the football tickets, but added 'It is all right. I am selling them on the credit system.' Asked if he had anything to say, defendant replied 'It is only a lottery, the same as it is for the hospital.' He added that he had bought hospital tickets which was exactly the same, and he thought it was quite legal.

Mr. S. E. Loxton, magistrates' clerk: We are not trying the hospital today – Witness: It is quite the same.

The Chief Constable told the magistrates defendant was an agent for a bookmaker, but this Parkes denied.

The Chief Constable: 'B. G.' (the initials on the envelopes) are not your initials. We know who 'B. G.' is – Defendant: I have the tickets from a friend of mine in Birmingham.

The Clerk: If they do happen to spot the winner you don't pay over the money, do you? – Defendant: Certainly I do.

A fine of £5 was imposed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/12/1925

“While attending the Roman Catholic Church on Sunday morning, Walter Francis Pope (72), of the QUEEN STREET TAVERN, died suddenly. He was a chief clerk when he retired ten years ago from the service of the G.W.R. Co., after 37 years service. At the inquest, on Tuesday, Dr. J. O'Brien stated that death was due to heart failure, caused by the exertion of climbing the hill, and verdict to that effect was returned.”

Walsall Observer 14/10/1939 - In Memoriam

“Edwards. Treasured memories of Albert (Bert), the dearly beloved husband of Ada, who passed away to rest Oct. 12, 1938, late of the QUEEN STREET TAVERN.

*We look back with tender memories.
On the path that he once trod.
We bless the years we called him ours.
And leave the rest to God."*

1939 Register

87, Queen Street

[1] Ada Edwards, date of birth 14/3/1878, beerhouse manageress, widowed;

[2] Albert T. Edwards, dob 16/9/1921, electrician, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street, £5 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street. £2 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

QUEEN STREET TAVERN, Queen Street. £3 14s 5d."

A full license was confirmed on 6th May 1948.

Harold Green died in 1959.

Closed

It became a café. [2001]

RAILWAY

502, (506), (242), Bloxwich Road / Broadstone Avenue, (Walsall Road), (1, Sandy Lane), Leamore, (3, Broadstone), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Thomas Pickin, Stubbers Green, near Aldridge

Mrs. Ross, Oakwell End, West Bromwich

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1919)

LICENSEES

Thomas Ross Snr. [1851] – [1871]

Thomas Ross Jnr. [1868] – [1872];

Thomas Bass [] – 1873;

Samuel Ross (1873);

Joseph Downes (1873 – []

George Arm [1876]

Charles Arm [1876]

Samuel Ross [];

Joseph Downes [1880] – [1881]

Henry Simmons [] – 1886;

Edward Towe (1886 – 1895);

John William Hayward (1895 – 1896);

Joseph William Ross (1896 – 1897);

Mrs. Elizabeth Ross (1897 – 1902);

Daniel T Parker (1902 – 1906);
Joseph Turner (1906 – 1917);
Nellie Cole (1917 – 1920);
William Henry Bladen (1920 – 1925);
Harry Haden (1925 – 1956);
Harry Haden Jnr. (1956 – [1966])

NOTES

Walsall Road [1861]
3, Broadstone [1871]
1, Sandy Lane [1881]
242, Bloxwich Road [1891]
506, Bloxwich Road [1901]
502, Bloxwich Road [1939], [1940]

1851 Census

Turnpike Road

[1] Thomas Ross (33), beer seller, born Bloxwich;
[2] Ann Ross (30), wife, born Bassett, Staffordshire;
[3] Samuel Ross (4), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[4] Sarah Ross (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[5] Sarah Moore (18), house servant, born Pelsall;
[6] William Anderson (25), lodger, traveller in silks, born Veeses on the Rwoon, France:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/1/1856

“T. Perry of Bloxwich will walk Thomas (the Salopian), or Ashton of Denton seven miles, if they will give him one minute start in six score, for £10 or £15 a side; or he will walk Yates of Nottingham, Collins of Manchester, or Bassett, Allen, Newman, Hotine, or Diamond (all of London) seven miles for £25 a side. A letter addressed to Perry at T. Ross's, RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, Bloxwich will be attended to.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1860

“Thomas Ross, a publican, residing at Bloxwich, was summoned for having his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday afternoon last. The constable stated that on visiting the house on the day in question he found several persons assembled therein. The wife of defendant, who appeared, stated that the company were her friends from Bilston and Pelsall. The Bench considering the offence did not come within the meaning of the statute, dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1860

“At the Petty Sessions, on Monday, before H. Highway, Esq, the following persons were summoned for having unjust measures in their possession.

Thomas Ross, jun., RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, Bloxwich, fined 1s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 22/9/1860

“The activity of the inspector of weights and measures in detecting, and the magistrates in punishing, this species of offence, cannot be too highly commended. Perseverance in such a course will not fail to result in the breaking up and suppression of a system of swindling too prevalent in our neighbourhood, by which the poorer classes are openly and shamefully defrauded.

We have to record the convictions of four offenders in this class. Thomas Ross, jun., RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, four unjust measures. All the parties were fined 1s and costs, and cautioned.”

1861 Census

Walsall Road – RAILWAY INN

[1] Thomas Ross (43), publican, born Bloxwich;
[2] Ann Ross (40), wife, born Walton, Staffordshire;
[3] Samuel Ross (14), son, awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
[4] Sarah Ross (11), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[5] Ellen Ross (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[6] Hannah Ross (2), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
[7] Martha Day (14), house servant, born Rugley [Rugeley]:

Thomas Ross Snr. was also an awl blade maker. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 19/2/1868

“Thomas Ross, landlord of the RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, for having his house open for the sale of beer at 11.30 on Sunday last, was fined 1s and costs, as this was his first offence.”

London Gazette 12/10/1869

“Notice is hereby given, that Thomas Ross, of the RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, has left in the office of the Chief Registrar of the Court of Bankruptcy, Quality-court, Chancery-lane, London, a list of his debts and liabilities, and a statement of his property and credits, as required by the Bankruptcy Amendment Act, 1868.

Dated this 9th day of October, 1869.

Bower and Cotton, No.46, Chancery-lane; Agents for Abraham Baker, Walsall, Solicitor for the person registering the Deed.”

1871 Census

3, Broadstone

- [1] Thomas Ross (53), innkeeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Ann Ross (50), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Samuel Ross (23), son, awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ellen Ross (19), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Charles Ross (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] June Ross (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session..... The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:

Charles Arm, RAILWAY HOTEL, Bloxwich (for whom Mr. Glover appeared) In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

Joseph Downs = Joseph Downes

1881 Census

1, Sandy Lane – RAILWAY INN

- [1] Joseph Downs (58), innkeeper and coal miner, born Shropshire;
- [2] Drusilah Downs (58), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Watson (17), general servant (domestic), born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

242, Bloxwich Road – RAILWAY INN

- [1] Edward Towe (35), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Anne Towe (31), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Edward J. Towe (10), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Lydia Towe (7), daughter, scholar, brn Bloxwich;
- [5] Howard Towe (6), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Alice Towe (4), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Louisa Starkey (17), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1895 - Advert

“RAILWAY INN, Leamore (Close to Birchills Railway Station).

Walter Hughes is instructed by Mr. Edward Towe, who is leaving, to Sell by Auction, upon the Premises as above, on Thursday, 14th March, at Twelve o'clock punctually.

Nineteen Store Pigs, Two Sows in Pig, and a Gilt in Pig; also Pig Troughs, Cart Shed, nearly new Rustic Gig, made by Barton, with Lamps and Cushions complete; Set of Silver-plated Cob Harness, Set of Pony-size Harness, nearly new Malt Crusher, two Wheel Barrows, a nearly new Strong Cart, Two Useful Traps, and other Effects.

May be seen prior to and morning of sale.

Further particulars may be had from Mr. Edward Towe, RAILWAY INN, Leamore; or of Walter Hughes, Auctioneer and Valuer, 79, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Licensed Victuallers.....

John William Hayward, RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, March 13th, 1896, permitting drunkenness, fined 10s and costs.

The Chief Constable said that Haywood had since removed from his premises, and therefore he withdrew all objection to the renewal of the license of the house.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/1/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. J. W. Ross, RAILWAY INN, Leamore, Bloxwich, was elected member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1899

“On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich, respecting the death of John Jervis (65), labourer, of 310, Bloxwich Road, who died suddenly on Saturday. The evidence was that deceased was left in the house by his son, who went to Walsall, and two hours afterwards was found lying dead on the hearth. In the opinion of Dr. O’Mearn, who was called in, death was probably due to syncope. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

1901 Census

506, Bloxwich Road – RAILWAY INN

[1] Elizabeth Ross (37), widow, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Jane Harrison (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[3] Mabel M. Parker (10), visitor, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1905

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Mr. Daniel Parker, RAILWAY INN, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/9/1906

“The Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich, on Monday, respecting the death of a little boy, named Vaughan Ellsee Cresswell, aged 2 years 7 months, residing with its parents at 488, Bloxwich Road.

Mrs. Cresswell said she was the wife of Frederick W. Cresswell, schoolmaster. At about 3 o’clock on the 11th September she was in the back kitchen doing some washing, and deceased and another child aged 4 years were along with her. There was an empty tub between her and the children, and she put some hot water out of the copper into it. She then turned to the copper to put some clothes in it, when she heard a splash. As she turned round and saw the baby in the hot water in the tub. She grasped the child and afterwards took its clothes off, when she found it was badly scalded about the arms and shoulders. She sent for Dr. Berry.

Questioned by the Coroner, witness said the child must have stood on a stool which was near and overbalanced himself.

Dr. Berry said that about 3pm on the date named he was summoned to see the child. He found it suffering from scalds. He attended to the scalds and also called on Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday morning he examined the scalds and found they were making rapid progress. At 3.30 on the same afternoon he was again called to deceased. He found that a collapse had set in. In spite of treatment the boy died half-an-hour later. He made a post mortem examination and found that both arms and arm pits, back, whole of the neck, and back of head were scalded. He attributed death to collapse following the shock from the scald. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/1/1907

“Jack Wilson, 67, Leamore Lane, and James Cooper, Green Lane, were summoned for being drunk and disorderly in licensed premises, RAILWAY INN, Leamore, and refusing to quit when requested.

Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted, and explained the defendants went into the house, and when the landlord refused to supply them, they began to use bad language, and Cooper stood on the counter to strike the landlord. Both men refused to leave the house, and Cooper struck an old man named Cockin. He should ask for a heavy penalty, as landlords had enough to look after without men who created such disturbances.

The landlord and Mr. Cockin gave evidence in support of these statements.

Cooper, who did not appear, had five previous convictions, and was fined £3 and costs, or one months’ hard labour, and Wilson 40s and costs or 21 days’ hard labour.”

1911 Census

Broadstone – RAILWAY INN

[1] Joseph Turner (36), publican, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Mary Turner (29), wife, married 7 years, assisting in the business, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Nellie Gwen Turner (7), daughter, school, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Annie Bayley (19), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 9/5/1914

“John Henry Carter (31), labourer, 95, Weston Street, was charged with breaking a window at the RAILWAY INN, Leamore, doing damage to the amount of 5s, on Thursday.

Mary Turner, wife of the licensee, said that at 8.20 on Thursday night prisoner came to the bar and asked for a pint of ale. He was under the influence of drink and witness refused to serve him, telling him he ought to go for a walk. He then became very abusive and used vile language. She threatened to send for the police, but he said he did not care for them, and meant to be locked up. When she put him outside he tried to strike her, but she slammed the door. Shortly afterwards he pushed his feet through the smoke room window.

Prisoner, who expressed his regret, was ordered to pay for the damage, and fined 2s 6d and costs, or seven days’ hard labour.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
RAILWAY INN, Leamore. £0 17s 10½d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

“Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 2nd March 1922.
It was renewed.

1922 – “generally dilapidated especially at the rear.”

Plans for rebuilding were accepted in 1923.

1939 Register

502, Bloxwich Road (2 of 3)

[1] Harry Haden, date of birth 28/11/1890, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Rosina Haden, dob 24/12/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
RAILWAY INN, Broadstone, Leamore. £1 15s 0d.”

Lichfield Mercury 2/1/1948

“Darts. National Championship Area E, Midland Counties Section F. Semi-final.

The Trooper (Wall) v. RAILWAY INN (Leamore).

The above match will be played at the Trooper (Wall) on Tuesday next at 2.30pm. The competition rules, with a throw of 8 feet, will govern the match.”

[2017]

RAILWAY TAVERN

Norton Road, Upper Common, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Wilding [1857] – [1862]

William Lewis [] – 1863);

Isaac Cooper (1863 – []

John Starkey [] – 1867);

Alfred Stokes (1867 – 1871);

Caleb Thomas Hill (1871 – 1873);

William Rushall (1873 – []

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1855

“At the annual licensing meeting for the parishes of Aldridge, Bentley, Pelsall, Walsall Wood, and Rushall, held at the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Wednesday, the licenses of the Anchor Inn, Aldridge, was refused, and the licenses of the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and the GEORGE AND DRAGON, were suspended until the adjourned meeting on the 27th of September.”

Thomas Wilding = Thomas Willdeg = Thomas Willdigg = Thomas Widig

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1857

“Thomas Wilding, of the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, was fined £2 and costs for a similar offence [keeping his house open during illegal hours on the day of humiliation], and was warned that a repetition of his offence would lead to the withholding of his license.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Thomas Wilding, licensed victualler, RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, was fined 10s and costs, for having four unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

Thomas Wildig, RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, unjust weights, 5s and costs.”

1861 Census

Norton Road – RAILWAY TAVERN

- [1] Thomas Willdigg (43), victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Mary Willdigg (42), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Richard Willdigg (19), son, coal miner, born Pelsall;
- [4] Mary Willdigg (11), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Willdigg (9), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [6] George Willdigg (7), son, born Pelsall;
- [7] Thomas Willdigg (5), son, born Pelsall;
- [8] John Willdigg (2), son, born Pelsall:

Walsall Free Press 5/4/1862

“James Millwood, aged about ten, who had several times been convicted of petty thefts, was charged with having stolen one shilling, the property of Mrs. Wildig, RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall. It appeared that while Mrs. Wildig was in the back room, she heard some one in the shop which adjoins the public-house, and on going into the shop she saw prisoner, and knowing his character, she examined the till and discovered one shilling gone, whereupon she charged the boy with stealing it. A first he denied, but seeing she was determined not to let him escape, he threw the shilling on the counter. Mrs. Wildig then sent for an officer and gave him into charge. The lad who appeared to be of weak intellect, was remanded in order to admit of inquiry to be made.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/4/1863

“John Snape, better known by the sobriquet as ‘The King of Pelsall,’ who has figured frequently in this and other courts, was summoned upon a charge of being drunk and disorderly in the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, on Easter Monday night, and also with assaulting police-constable Williams in the execution of his duty. From the evidence it appeared that there had been a ‘house warming’ at the RAILWAY TAVERN, where a sheep had been roasted; and there were grand doings, which were kept up with great spirit and the utmost harmony till about twelve o’clock at night, when Snape arrived and initiated a general disturbance. After a prolonged attempt he was expelled, but soon effected a second entrance, and called upon his son to assist him. He was then put out by a policeman, whom he struck several times. For being drunk and disorderly he was fined 40s and costs, or seven days’ imprisonment; and for the assault on the policeman was fined £3, with £1 6s 3d costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

London Gazette 7/7/1863

“William Lewis, of Pelsall, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper and Miner, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 12th day of June, 1863, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held before the Judge of the said Court, on the 29th day of July instant, at the Court-house, Goodall-street, Walsall, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid, being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Messrs. Barnett, Marlow, and Barnett, of Walsall, are the Solicitors acting in the bankruptcy.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county.....

On the application of Mr. Wilson (from the office of Messrs. Barnett, Marlow, and Barnett), the license of the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, was transferred from William Lewis to Isaac Cooper.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1863

“County Court.....

William Lewis innkeeper and miner, RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, came up for his discharge, supported by Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) and opposed by Mr. Glover on behalf of the creditors’ assignee. Mr. Glover applied for a still further adjournment to give the assignee an opportunity of enquiring in to the truth of certain information which had reached him as to an alleged misappropriation of the bankrupt's property. Eventually the examination was further adjourned until the 18th of November.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/10/1867

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Tuesday, the license of the RAILWAY TAVERN, was provisionally transferred from John Starkey to Alfred Stokes.”

Walsall Free Press 15/8/1868

“At the Rushall petty sessions, on Thursday last, Alfred Stokes, landlord of the RAILWAY INN, for having on Sunday, the 26th day of July last, had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours, was fined in the mitigated penalty of 1s and costs. It was his first offence, and at the time of its committal he was from home, his wife was ill in bed, and the beer sold by a nurse who was in attendance of Mrs. Stokes, who was ignorant of the requirements of the law.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“Rushall, Tuesday. Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

Of the holders of existing licenses Alfred Stokes, RAILWAY INN, Pelsall, were cautioned.”

1871 Census

19, Upper Common – RAILWAY TAVERN

[1] Alfred Stokes (25), licensed victualler, born Blakenall, Staffordshire;

[2] Mary A. Stokes (28), wife, born Princes End;

[3] Alfred Stokes (3), son, born Pelsall, blind from weakness;

[4] Sarah R. Stokes (6 months), daughter, born Pelsall;

[5] Mary A. Heath (18), general servant, born Brownhills:

RAILWAY

18, Station Street, (Railway Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. F. Eglington

Downing and Son, Smethwick

J. Lawton (leased)

Showells Brewery [1904]

LICENSEES

Charles Brown [1851] – [1858]

John Boonham [1858]

Walter Heaps [] – 1860;

George Purkis (1860 – [1861])

William Wilson [1861] – 1865);

James Harding (1865 – 1866);

Ann Johnson (1866 – [])

Michael Hall [1868] – [1870]

William Brereton [1871] – [1872]

Thomas Hedges [1872] – [1873];

Mrs. Ann Hedges [];

Samuel Tonks [1881];

Mrs. Rhoda Tonks [];

William Tonks [] – 1889);

John Lawton (1889 – 1904);

Albert Ernest Hibbell (1904 – 1905);

John Owen (1905 – 1906);

George Henry Rooke (1906 – 1907);

Frederick James Westwood (1907);

James Rowley (1907 – 1910);

Isaac Billingsley (1910 – 1912);

Frank William Roberts (1912 – 1913);
George Astbury (1913 – 1914);
John Cotton (1914 – 1924);
George Albert James (1924 – 1927);
George Astbury (1927 – 1928);
James Loynes (1928 – 1932);
Albert George Thomas Brant (1932 – 1935);
Walter Henry Barnett (1935 – 1937):

NOTES

Railway Street [1862]

COMMERCIAL INN [1861], [1871], [1872], [1881], [1885], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1909], [1910], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1925], [1932]

RAILWAY AND COMMERCIAL INN [1858], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

RAILWAY INN [1880]

COMMERCIAL HOTEL [1890], [1894], [1900], [1904], [1905], [1907], [1918], [1924]

COMMERCIAL RAILWAY [1933]

1851 Census

Station Street

[1] Charles Brown (28), unmarried, victualler, born Aston, Birmingham;

[2] Harriet Brown (63), mother, born Birmingham;

[3] John Jackson (12), nephew, errand boy, born Walsall;

[4] Ellen Williams (20), servant, born Aldridge:

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

"In 1855 the street was described as having 'a long range of neat, uniform buildings, mainly private houses but including the large RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN."

AND

"There was a Public Bar, two Smoke Rooms and a Club Room, with stabling for 13 horses let to the North West Railway Co., two Bedrooms for the licensee and 17 bedrooms on the third which were described in the mid thirties as 'not fit for use'."

Charles Brown was also a car proprietor. [1858]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/1/1858 - Advert

"Loans (from £50 to £500), repayable in three years, by quarterly instalments, in connection with Life Assurance.

Apply to Mr. W. Palmer, Agency Superintendent for the Consolidated Assurance Company, of 45 Cheapside, London, who attends as under.

At 13, St. James's Square, Wolverhampton, Mondays and Wednesdays.

At the RAILWAY AND COMMERCIAL INN, Walsall, Tuesdays.

At the WOOLPACK INN, Dudley, Saturdays.

Postal Address –13, St. James's Square, Wolverhampton."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/11/1858

"John Boonham, landlord of the RAILWAY INN was fined 5s and costs, for having in the afternoon of Sunday last kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/12/1858

"On Tuesday evening, at the RAILWAY HOTEL, an inquest was held before the Borough Coroner, on the body of Richard Butcher, a man formerly employed at the Walsall Railway Station. On Saturday last the deceased went up with a train from Walsall to Bloxwich merely for curiosity, and returned with a goods train. When this train was going down the incline between the Birchills station and the junction of the Cannock branch the man fell on the side of the truck, his clothes got entangled with a wheel, and after being carried round once or twice, he was thrown with his head upon the rail, and a number of trucks passed over it, crushing the poor fellow's head in a most frightful manner, and of course causing instant death. The guard of the train gave information to some platelayers who were at work near the spot, who immediately conveyed the body to the RAILWAY HOTEL, Walsall. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned by the Jury. The deceased was about 19 years old, and had asked in church on the previous Sunday with a view to his marriage. The accident was evidently the result of his own reckless conduct. While the train was in motion he went from the waggon he was riding in, over the top of some loaded waggons to the engine and back again, and is supposed to have been in the act of attempting to apply the break to the waggon he was in when the accident occurred."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/4/1859 - Advert

“Walsall. To Cab Proprietors and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Osbourn, Tomorrow (Tuesday), April 12, at the RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, Walsall – two useful grey Carriage Horses, Car, Brougham, Dog-cart, double and single Harness, Posting Saddles, and other effects belonging to Mr. John Boonham, who is giving up the Car Business.

The whole are in first-rate condition, and will be sold without the slightest reserve.

Sale to commence at two o'clock in the afternoon, under the usual conditions.”

London Gazette 13/9/1859

“Whereas a Petition of John Boonham, formerly of Station-street, Walsall, Staffordshire, Licensed Victualler, and licensed to let out Post Horses, Saddle Horses, Cars, Carriages, Gigs, and other Vehicles, for Hire, and then and now of No.31, Frederick-street, Walsall aforesaid, in lodgings and out of business, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said John Boonham, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said John Boonham is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 28th day of September instant at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said John Boonham, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Walsall Free Press 21/1/1860 - Advert

“Walter Heaps, Building Contractor, Station Street, Walsall.

All kind of Building repairs punctually attended to.”

AND

“RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street.

Walter Heaps, respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has gone to a great expense in erecting a Grand American Bowling Saloon, which is now open to the Public.

To subscribers on Thursdays and Fridays.”

Walsall Free Press 28/1/1860 - Advert

“RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, Walsall.

Annual Ball.

Walter Heaps, begs respectfully to inform his friends and the public that his Annual Tea Party And Ball, Will take place on Monday, January 30th, 1860, when the presence of any friend will be esteemed a favour.

A Full Quadrille Band Will Be In Attendance.

Gentlemen's Tickets 1s 6d. Ladies, 1s.”

Walter Heaps, RAILWAY, Station Street, and George Purkis, RAILWAY AND COMMERCIAL, Station Street, appeared in the same 1861 Directory.

Walter Heaps was also a builder. [1860], [1861]

Walsall Free Press 7/7/1860

“Mr. W. H. Duignan applied, on behalf of Mr. Perkiss, for a transfer of license. It appeared that the application had, on a former occasion, been refused, in consequence of a report that had appeared in the newspapers – to the effect that the applicant, while tenant of the Coach and Horses public-house, Newport, Monmouthshire, had been fined £1 and costs, for having permitted disorderly characters to assemble in his house – having come under the notice of the bench. After giving a brief but very satisfactory history of the applicant's previous life, Mr. Duignan showed that – although the applicant had been fined, as was stated in the report, and that the decision of the Newport magistrates had been confirmed by the Court of Queen's Bench, yet he had not been guilty of the charge preferred against him, and had only been convicted through the neglect of his attorney, who failed to point out to the bench that Mr. Perkiss was entirely ignorant of the character of the parties found in his house; and the attorney not having raised this objection in the lower court, where it would have been relevant, it could not be sustained in the superior courts, which had no power to deal with the facts of the case. Mr. Duignan having produced the report in the Law Journal in support of his statement, the Bench consented to grant the transfer. The license transferred is that of the RAILWAY HOTEL, at present held by Mr. Walter Heaps.”

William Wilson = William Williams

1861 Census

18, Station Street – COMMERCIAL INN

[1] William Wilson (56), licensed victualler, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;

[2] Sarah Wilson (49), wife, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;

[3] George Wilson (25), son, steam sawyer, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;

[4] Ann Wilson (27), daughter in law, born Hickling, Nottinghamshire;

[5] Spindin Mingole (35), son in law, merchant, born Corfu, Greece;

- [6] Ann Mingole (24), daughter, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;
[7] William Wilson (21), son, steam sawyer, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;
[8] Maria Wilson (13), daughter, scholar, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;
[9] Sarah Wilson (11), daughter, scholar, born Swineshead, Lincolnshire;
[10] Elizabeth Wilson (6), daughter, scholar, born Nottingham;
[11] William Mason (65), lodger, widower, traveller, birthplace unknown:

London Gazette 11/10/1861

“Walter Heaps, late of No.3, Vicarage-place, Walsall, Staffordshire, in lodgings, out of business, previously thereto of Caldmore, Walsall aforesaid, in lodgings, out of business, previously thereto of the SANDWELL HOTEL, High-street, Westbromwich, Staffordshire, Hotel Keeper, and Licensed to let out Horses and Vehicles to hire, previously thereto of No.84, Navigation-street, Walsall aforesaid, in lodgings, out of business, previously thereto of the RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN, Station-street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Builder, previously thereto of No.18, St. Paul’s-row, Walsall aforesaid, in lodgings, Builder, previously thereto of Farringdon-street, Walsall aforesaid, Builder, previously thereto of No.21, Ablewell-street, Walsall aforesaid, Builder, previously thereto of Essex-terrace, Intown-row, Walsall aforesaid, Builder, having a workshop and premises at Bridge-street, Walsall aforesaid.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1863, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Wilson, RAILWAY INN.”

Walsall Free Press 19/11/1864

“George Hampton was charged with having on the night of Tuesday last, stolen two drinking glasses, the property of Mr. W. Wilson, landlord of the RAILWAY AND COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street. The prisoner, who had been at supper at that inn on the evening in question, was seen by the landlord to leave the house with the glasses in his possession, and was detained till Police-constable Dobbins, who was sent for, arrived. On the officer’s arrival, the prisoner said he supposed if he paid for the glasses it would be all right. Mr. Wilson replied he had had too many stolen to do so. The prisoner, who elected to be tried by the bench, was sentenced to 21 days’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/12/1865

“Julia Collins, a respectably-dressed female, was charged with having in the early part of July last stolen a quantity of bed linen, the property of Mr. James Harding, landlord of the RAILWAY HOTEL, Station Street, and with having in the latter part of the same month stolen a counterpane, a sheet, a table cloth, and toilet cover, the property of Mr. John Young, landlord of the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. The prisoner, in company with a man whom she represented to be her husband, had lodged for about a fortnight at each place, and after she left these articles were missed. The prisoner, who pleaded guilty to each charge, was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/12/1865

“Two Days Grand Match. On Wednesday and Thursday last Mr. Harding’s hostlerie was crammed with sportsmen from far and near, responding to the announcement of a handsome bullock to be shot for, the conditions being 20 members at a guinea, 5 birds each, 1oz of shot, bore unrestricted, competitors handicapped from 16 to 22 yards, the winner to take the bullock or £20 on paying the second best £2 and the third £1. Owing to the over-filling (33 contended) the terms were rendered somewhat more liberal, namely, first prize £21, second £5, third £2, with £5 expended on a spread. Upwards of 2,000 persons were present, and it was by far the most important event of the kind that has happened in Walsall. . . .”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1868 - Advert

“Charles Dearn, Respectfully begs to inform the inhabitants of Walsall, and the public generally, that (after being a Cab Driver for Mr. H. Mills, of this town for several years) he has purchased Horses And Cabs for himself, and hopes to share their patronage and support, assuring them that he will try to merit the same.

Horses & Dog Traps Kept For Hire.

COMMERCIAL INN Stables, Station Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/5/1870 - Advert

“COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, Walsall. To be Let, the above first-class Old-Licensed House, near the Railway Station, with every convenience for doing a large trade; Lock-up Yard, and Stabling for twelve horses.

Apply on the Premises, or to W. Horobin, Auctioneer and Valuer, Walsall.”

1871 Census

18, Station Street – COMMERCIAL INN

- [1] William Brereton (32), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Alice Brereton (34), wife, born Liverpool;
- [3] John F. Brereton (9), son, born Cubitt Town, Middlesex;
- [4] William G. Brereton (6), son, born Cubitt Town, Middlesex;
- [5] Albert E. Brereton (5), son, born Bow, Middlesex;
- [6] Henry T. Brereton (3), son, born Cubitt Town, Middlesex;
- [7] James A. Brereton (1), son, born Cubitt Town, Middlesex;
- [8] Mary Allines (18), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....
The undermentioned applied in person for the renewal of the licenses which were suspended on licensing day.....
William Brereton, the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street. Granted.”

Walsall Free Press 23/12/1871 - Advert

“Birmingham & Walsall Brown Saddlers’ Trade Protection Society.
A Special Meeting of the above Society will be held on Wednesday, December 27, at Half-past Seven o’clock, at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street (in consequence of the Temperance Hall being engaged) to consider the Reply to the Masters of the Circulars issued by the Operative Saddlers.
Delegates from Birmingham will attend.
Non-Society Men are especially requested to be present.”

William Brereton – see also CASTLE, Bilston.

Thomas Hedges was married to Ann.

Walsall Free Press 15/11/1873 - Advert

“RAILWAY COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, Walsall.
To Be Sold By Auction by John Osbourn, at the Yard as above, the following Valuable Effects, belonging to the Estate of the late Mr. Thomas Hedges, deceased, comprising Four Useful Coal Carts, sundry Harness, Two Chaff Engines, Chaff Box, Malt Crusher, Cart Seat, two very strong Hot-water Apparatus, Two large gilt lettered Window Boards, Case of Birds, 3,000 Old Bricks and Sundries. Also a very superior Brown Carriage Mare, rising five years old, quiet to ride or drive.
Sale to commence at Two o’clock. Usual conditions.”

1881 Census

- 18, Station Street – COMMERCIAL INN
- [1] Samuel Tonks (72), innkeeper, born Walsall;
 - [2] Rhoda Tonks (67), wife, born Bloxwich;
 - [3] Henry Tonks (49), son, brewer, born Walsall;
 - [4] Emma Ankrett (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Samuel and Rhoda Tonks – see also GREEN DRAGON.

Walsall Observer 11/4/1885

“Ancient Order of Foresters. Walsall District. The quarterly meeting of the above was held at the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, last Wednesday, Bro. E. Luty, District Chief Ranger, presiding.....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1889 - Advert

“COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, Walsall.
Unreserved Sale of Brewing Plant, Hops, Furniture, &c.
To Be Sold By Auction by Messrs. Watkins & Powell, on Monday Next, October 7th, without reserve – the superior Brewing Plant, situate as above, comprising excellent 120-gallon Copper Boiler, 70-gallon Wrought Iron Boiler, 18-bushel Mash Tub, Hop Press, Cooling Vats, Fermenting Vats, Casks and Barrels, Copper-bottomed Sieves, and other Plant; together with 3 Pockets of Hops (Kent 1883), and upwards of 200 gallons of Ale. Also a quantity of useful Household Furniture.
Sale to commence at 11 o’clock.
Auctioneer’s Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard.....
Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) applied, on behalf of John Lawton, COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, for a license for singing on Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday nights, in connection with club meetings.....
The Bench retired for about half an hour, and on their return the Magistrates’ Clerk read the decisions.....
Granted. John Lawton, COMMERCIAL HOTEL, on Mondays and Saturdays, from 7.30 till 10.30.”

1891 Census

18, Station Street – COMMERCIAL INN

- [1] John Lawton (23), hotel proprietor, born Edgmond, Shropshire;
- [2] Florence Ann Lawton (23), wife, born Linslade, Buckinghamshire;
- [3] Anne E. Meakin (28), servant, Chartley;
- [4] James A. Jones (24), servant, born West Bromwich:

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1892

“On Sunday evening last a meeting of the employés of the L&NW Railway Company was held at the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, for the purpose of forming a football club.....”

Walsall Advertiser 26/8/1892

“The Walsall L&NW Railway Football Club. On Tuesday evening last a general meeting of the members of the above club was held at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, for the purpose of completing the appointment of officers for the ensuing season.....”

Walsall Advertiser 3/12/1892

“Walsall Polytechnic Cycling Club. The annual dinner in connection with the club was held on Saturday evening last at the headquarters, COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, when about 50 sat down to dinner, and its number was considerably augmented after the cloths were drawn.....”

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The forty second annual meeting of the members of this society was held on Thursday at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1895

“Ancient Order Of Foresters. On Saturday last the half-yearly meeting of the Walsall and District, was held at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street. The meeting was opened by the D.C.R., T. J. Egan.....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/9/1896

“Isaiah Greaves (14), labourer, was charged in custody with having stolen a live guinea-pig.

Mr. John Lawton, landlord of the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, said the guinea-pig produced was his property, and worth 5s. He missed it from his saddle room on Saturday noon. He subsequently accompanied Detective Harper to Mr. Hitch’s shop, where he recovered possession of it.

Polly Bates, domestic servant, spoke to missing the animal, and Alfred Hitch, hairdresser and bird dealer, Stafford Street, said that on the 28th ult. prisoner offered him the guinea-pig. He did not want it, but subsequently gave him the 3d he asked for it. He had no doubt the prisoner was the lad.

Detective Harper said that from enquiries he had made he apprehended prisoner and charged him with the theft. He said ‘Why don’t you have the other lad as gave me it as well, Ben Davis, of Renwick Terrace.’

The lad’s father gave him a good character, and the Bench discharged him on promising never to steal again.

The Mayor told Hitch that if people were not so ready to buy things for a few coppers there would be fewer thieves in the world.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1899

“On Thursday evening the Mayor entertained the cabmen of the town to dinner at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, when over a score of them sat down to a first class spread, provided in good style by Mr. and Mrs. Lawton, the host and hostess. The Mayor (Councillor Clare) presided, and he was supported by the Town Clerk.....”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900

“Court ‘Philanthropist’, No.2763, AOF. The meeting of this society held on Monday last, at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, was of an interesting character.

After the usual formal business was transacted, the Chief Ranger (Bro. F. Roberts) presented to Bro. Hilliard, the immediate PCR, a framed certificate and neck-ribbon in recognition of the services he had rendered to the Court during his term of office.....”

Walsall Observer 21/4/1900

“Ancient Order of Foresters, Walsall. On Saturday afternoon the half yearly meeting of this above district was held at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, under the presidency of Bro. J. H. Webb, DCR.....”

[John Lawton was elected to the office of relieving officer for the district at this meeting.]

Walsall Observer 14/7/1900

“Walsall Branch of the Typographical Society. A quarterly meeting of this branch was held at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, on Monday evening. Mr. Macduff (president) was in the chair, and there was a goodly attendance of members.....”

1901 Census

18, Station Street

- [1] John Lawton (32), licensed victualler, born Newport, Shropshire;
- [2] Florence A. Lawton (32), wife, born Leighton Buzzard, Bedfordshire;
- [3] May B. Lawton (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Bates (36), general servant, born Stafford;
- [5] Lucy Farmer (25), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/4/1901

“Typographical Society. The Walsall branch held its annual meeting at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, last week, Mr. Macduff, the president, being in the chair.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/6/1901 - Births

“On the 12th inst, the wife of John Lawton, COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, of a daughter.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/4/1902

“Ancient Order of Foresters, Walsall District. The half-yearly meeting of delegates was held at the registered office, the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, on Saturday afternoon last, under the presidency of the District Chief Ranger (Bro. G. F. Bird).....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/4/1902

“John Lawton, of the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, was granted a music and singing license for Wednesday, April 23rd, on the occasion of a smoking concert to be given for the purpose of providing a summer treat for the Juvenile Foresters at Sutton Park.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

George Rose, TIGER INN and John Lawton, COMMERCIAL HOTEL.....

The chief difficulty with which the licensees of the TIGER, Wisemore, and the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, were confronted were as to back entrances to their premises. The license of the TIGER was renewed on the undertaking by Mr. F. Cooper (representing the owner) that a small gateway should be closed; and in regard to the COMMERCIAL HOTEL (represented by Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman) the Bench intimated that unless an undertaking was given that the doorway from the yard was built up, and a water closet provided objection would be taken.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

In the case of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, Mr. Norris Foster, barrister (instructed by Messrs. Shakespeare and Co, Birmingham) and Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman and Mr. Jackson (solicitors) appeared respectively for the owners, lessees, and tenant (Mr. J. Lawton).

Mr. Newman said if the magistrates objected to the passage to Navigation Street, which was simply a back door, then the same objection applied to the other hotels and nine-tenths of the houses in the town. Look at the injustice that would be done to the owners and tenant of this house. The trade done through this door with Navigation Street and Frederick Street was of the greatest consideration of the house – the trade done in Station Street, was a minor consideration. A lease, fourteen years of which was unexpired, had been entered into, and was based upon the amount of trade done at the house. To stop up this way meant to take away the trade from the house, and the living from the tenant.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates’ clerk) argued that the objections raised by the magistrates was not against the legitimate trade, but because the doorway was used by bad characters.

Notices of objection to be served, the case to be heard at the adjourned licensing sessions.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street. In regard to this license, adjourned from a previous hearing, Mr. Loxton said he proposed to serve notices of opposition for renewal, and it would perhaps serve the convenience of the parties to have the matter heard before the adjourned licensing day, March 1st.

It was agreed that the matter be tried on a day to be fixed next week.

Mr. Grundy-Newman, for the licensee (Mr. J. Lawton), said there was a report in a local paper last week that the objection was not against the legitimate trade of the house, but because the back-door way was used by bad characters. He never said that doorway was used by bad characters, and he was sure the learned Clerk would bear him out that he (Mr. Loxton) never argued that; and as the matter was still sub-judice it would be well for the inaccuracy of the report to be corrected.

Mr. Loxton said that for once the reporters had been caught napping; the report was not correct.”

Albert Hibbell was married to Anne.

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

With regard to the renewal of the license of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, Mr. Norris Foster (instructed by Messrs. Shakespeare, Birmingham), appeared for the landlord, Messrs. Downing, and Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman for the lessees, Messrs. Showell & Co.

Mr. Loxton said that the orders made by the justices last year had not been carried out.

Mr. Grundy-Newman said the alterations had been carried out within a month after the order, and he thought there must have been some misunderstanding on the matter. If they would point out to him what had been left undone, he would see to it.

The Chief Constable bore out this statement and also another witness.

The Bench renewed the license.

Mr. Grundy-Newman: Who will pay the costs? – Mr. Loxton: If Mr. Newman raises that point I will ask the magistrates to reserve their decision (laughter).”

Walsall Advertiser 28/12/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Members..... James Rowley, COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

The London And Provincial Yearly Dividing Friendly Society, held at the COMMERCIAL INN, Station Street, has this year declared a dividend of £1 per member. As usual 5s of that amount has been added to the members’ death money, and on Tuesday evening the members each received the remaining 15s.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

In the case of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, Mr. Maddocks, of Birmingham (instructed by Messrs. Shakespeare & Co.), and Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman, appeared for the owners (Messrs. Dunne), the lessees (Showells Brewery Co.), and the tenant (James Rowley).

Chief-inspector Ballance stated that Station Street contained two alehouses and two beer-houses. The population of the street and courts was 83 persons over sixteen years and 10 under, and there were 18 occupied houses and 18 factories and workshops. It was a fully licensed house and contained four public rooms and a living room downstairs, and a sitting room and six bedrooms upstairs. With regard to the class of business, it had been frequented by a lot of young people, but he believed that had been stopped of late, and the trade was now mostly with the working classes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Maddocks: As compared with the STAR AND GARTER, the COMMERCIAL had an advantage in size, and with regard to position it had an advantage over the QUEENS, which was side by side with the SADDLERS HOME. The license was absolutely clean, and in that respect they had an advantage over another house in the same street. He did not think it was doing as good a trade now as it was some years ago.

Replying to an observation by Mr. Maddocks, Mr. Loxton said the Justices had no intention of taking the license away without compensation, and the question was whether it should be referred for compensation or not.

Mr. Tomlins (Wolverhampton), called by Mr. Maddocks, stated that the Brewery Company had given him figures showing that the value of the trade done in 1907 was £758, in 1908, £805, and in 1909 £832, while the barrelage for the same years was 177½, 151, and 174½ respectively, and the sale of wines and spirits £155, £219, and £208 respectively.

James Rowley in reply to a question by the Magistrates’ Clerk as to whether the long pull was given, stated that certain percentages were given.

Mr. Maddocks, addressing the Bench, submitted that he had to answer only the objections set out in the notice, and three of those had gone, viz, that the premises were structurally unsuitable, that they were not of the requisite annual value, and that the nature and class of the business carried on was not such as to justify the renewal of the license. The licensee, when he was brought to the Court to defend his living, was entitled to know on what grounds it was said his license was not required, but he (Mr. Maddocks) was at a loss even then to know what objections he had to meet. In his opinion the evidence of Inspector Ballance disposed of all objections against the house. He could not say that the takings had decreased, that the population had decreased, and he could not differentiate the COMMERCIAL in the slightest degree from any other house in the street. He quite agreed that if the Magistrates came to the conclusion that every house in the street ought to be taken away they could do away with the COMMERCIAL, but if they admitted that some houses were required, and they had to admit that because he understood that no notice of objection had been served in respect of the STAR AND GARTER, the COMMERCIAL could not be differentiated against. Apart from the legal aspect of the case, he submitted that the evidence of Inspector Ballance showed that the house was required. He stated that the house was conducted properly, that latterly young people had been stopped going in, and that the people who used the house were the labouring classes. On the figures before them the house did more business last year than in the previous year, and he contended that it was not one of those houses that came within the category that ought to be removed from the register. It was a live house, and was doing a substantial trade.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....
The Magistrates decided to renew the licenses of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, and the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, and the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street.”

1911 Census

18, Station Street

- [1] Isaac Billingsley (48), widower, victualler's manager, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Floss Billingsley (18), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Alfred Billingsley (16), son, harness trade errand boy, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Samuel Billingsley (14), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Gladys Billingsley (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Alice Maud Billingsley (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Ivy Olive Billingsley (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Maria Smith (16), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, £0 16s 11½d.”

Walsall Observer 2/8/1924

“.....The Bench also inspected the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, and on the application of Mr. Frank Cooper, sanctioned plans for the provision of lavatory accommodation for women etc, Mr. Phillips remarking that the application was granted without prejudice to further action.....”

George Albert James = George Albert Jones

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/8/1925

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 13th inst at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention.....
Mr. George A. Jones, COMMERCIAL INN, 18, Station Street, elected member of the society.”

It closed on 7th May 1937 and the license was removed to the ORANGE TREE.

RAILWAY

Victoria Road, (Station Road), Highbridge, (High Bridge Row), Pelsall, WALSALL

It has been brought to our attention that the Godfrey maps show the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL at Highbridge and a PH on Victoria Road, the existing RAILWAY pub. So there are two pubs in this entry. To be addressed.

OWNERS

Sudbury
Enterprise Inns

LICENSEES

Charles Quest [1855] – 1858)
Waldron Ladbury [1859] – 1861)
William Ladbury [1861]
Samuel Collins [1863]
Samuel Wiggin [] – 1863)
Samuel Wiggin [1868] – 1869);
John Ghilks (1869 – [1881]
Jane Ghilks []
Finney [1885]
Thomas Lunt [1889] – 1902);
Joseph Marklew (1902 – 1904);
Mary Maud Marklew (1904);
Thomas Marklew [1904] ?
Austin Peter Aspinall (1904 – [1912])

Mrs. Eva Aspinall [1924] – [1940]
Thomas Henry ‘Tom’ Osbourne [2007] – [2012]

NOTES

Station Road [1891]

RAILWAY COLLIERY INN [1860], [1868]

RAILWAY HOTEL [1861], [1869], [1900], [1939], [1940]

RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL [1855], [1856], [1858], [1861], [1863], [1881], [1882], [1884]

RAILWAY INN [1891], [1893], [1899]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/1/1855

“At a meeting of the Magistrates on Tuesday, C. Forster, Esq, MP, R.C. Chawner, E. Scott, and W. E. Jones, being present, it was resolved that for the future the Petty Sessions should be held on alternate Saturdays at Mr. Quest's, the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall (instead of the BUTTS INN, Walsall, on Tuesday, as heretofore), such being the central point of the district.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1855

“At the annual licensing meeting for the parishes of Aldridge, Bentley, Pelsall, Walsall Wood, and Rushall, held at the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Wednesday, the licenses of the Anchor Inn, Aldridge, was refused, and the licenses of the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and the GEORGE AND DRAGON, were suspended until the adjourned meeting on the 27th of September.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/7/1856

“An inquest was held on Monday, at the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of Joseph Smith, a boatman, 45 years of age, who lived at Birmingham. On the previous Friday morning about seven o'clock, the deceased arrived at High Bridge, from the direction of Birmingham; he stopped at High Bridge wharf, when he appeared to be in good health, and gave orders to a man named Frank Whitby, a boat loader, to load an empty boat which he had brought with him. Shortly after this the deceased fell down into the empty boat, and lay at the bottom on his back. Assistance was speedily on the spot, and the head of the deceased was raised, but he gasped twice and then expired. Mr. McBride, surgeon, Ogle Hay, gave it was his opinion the deceased's death was occasioned by a rupture of a vessel upon the brain, and that such rupture was produced by natural causes. A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was returned.”

Birmingham Journal 18/11/1857

“At the County Petty Sessions, at Brownhills, on Tuesday last, before R. C. Chawner and W. Harrison Esqs, James Meachin and George Bench, colliers, Brownhills, were charged with inciting a breach of the peace, by using insulting language towards Mr. Charles Quest, of the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, such was accusing him of murdering his wife. They were ordered to find sureties to keep the peace.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/2/1858

“On Tuesday night Mr. Charles Quest, landlord of the RAILWAY HOTEL, Pelsall, died suddenly, and in consequence of rumours which prevailed respecting the cause of his disease it was deemed advisable to request the coroner to hold an inquest. Accordingly T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, commenced an inquest on Friday last. It was proved that on the night before his death the deceased had a scuffle with a man named Bridget, and sustained a slight injury on his nose; that on Tuesday evening he was intoxicated and left the bar, saying he would go and have a lark by taking from a party of men some mutton which they had ordered without his knowledge. He went into the kitchen, tasted the mutton, and afterwards went to the back door where he fell down, and expired shortly after eleven o'clock. The inquest was adjourned for a post mortem examination by Mr. Somerville, of Bloxwich, who on Tuesday (yesterday), reported that the deceased had Died from Apoplexy.”

Birmingham Journal 25/9/1858 - Advert

“Pelsall Wake.

The above Wake will be held on Land adjoining the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Monday, October 4th, and the following days, when the Land will be thrown open free of charge, for Shows, Stalls, &c. &c., when the Sports will commence.
A Wheelbarrow Race.

A Foot Race.

Swarming the Pole for a Leg of Mutton.

Two young Women grinning through a Collar for a new Gown.

Two old Women in a Bag Race, for £5, who are now training at Hednesford.

And a variety of other amusements.”

Waldron Ladbury = Waldron Ledbury = Waldon Ladbury

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

Waldron Ladbury, RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, unjust measures, 3s and costs.”

1861 Census

Highbridge Row

- [1] Waldron Ladbury (45), victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Ladbury (43), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Eliza Sarah Ladbury (20), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Fanny Louisa Ladbury (16), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [5] Selina Ann Ladbury (14), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [6] Sarah Ladbury (10), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [7] Waldron Ladbury Jnr. (6), son, born Pelsall;
- [8] Alice Ladbury (4), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [9] Charles Ladbury (2), son, born Pelsall;
- [10] Frederic Ladbury (1 month), son, born Pelsall;
- [11] John Machin (19), servant, born Pelsall;
- [12] Harriett Swan (25), general servant, born Pelsall:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/4/1861

“A shocking attempt to murder a child took place at Pelsall, on Wednesday. About nine o’clock in the evening of that day Harriet Swan, a young woman of 25, who has for the past ten weeks been employed at the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, complained of illness, and went to the back premises, where she remained so long that Miss Sudbury, the daughter of the proprietor, went in search of her. She did not for the moment find her, but hearing a child cry her suspicions were excited, and she brought her mother to the spot. The woman Swan was then seen throwing bricks and stones into a deep ashpit, where, upon examination being made, an infant was found, covered with ash and refuse. It was still alive, but had been injured upon the head by the missiles thrown at it by its unnatural mother. The woman was at once taken into custody, but she still remains at the hotel, her weakness precluding her removal at present. She was to have left Mr. Sudbury’s service on Wednesday week.”

Walsall Free Press 1/6/1861

“Several summonses were heard before the justices this day, for infringement of weights and measures regulation of the district ‘C’ of South Staffordshire. All the summonses were preferred in the name of William Tullett, inspector of weights and measures for the district.....

Waldron Ladbury, RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, five measures. Fined 5s and costs. In each of the above cases the costs amounted to 12s.”

Walsall Free Press 2/11/1861 - Advert

“Great Foot Race.

This Interesting Match between Baggott, of Bloxwich, and Richardson, of Walsall, for £5 aside, is fixed to take place on Ground near the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Monday next, November 4th, 1861, to start at two o’clock precisely.

N.B. A Handicap will take place at three o’clock between several well-known pedestrians on the same ground.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/9/1863

“Yesterday was the annual licensing day for the Rushall division of the county. The magistrates on the Bench were Messrs. J. E. Bealey, W. Harrison, and D. Bloomer. Before hearing the applications for new licenses and those for the renewal of old ones, the Bench called those publicans whose names were down on the black list.....

Samuel Collins, RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, High Bridge, Pelsall was next called.

Inspector Price, after referring to the recent disgraceful proceedings which took place at the applicant’s house, where, it will be remembered, a woman named Brice was grossly assaulted, said he hoped their worships would not renew the certificate of license to the applicant, whom he considered an unfit person to have one.

The Bench suspended the applicant’s license for a month.”

Samuel Wiggin = Samuel Wiggan

Walsall Free Press 3/10/1863

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions on Tuesday last It being adjourned licensing day.....

Samuel Wiggan, landlord of the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, at whose house a woman, named Brice, was grossly assaulted by his son and three other men, who for the offence were sentenced to fifteen years’ penal servitude, was refused a certificate of license, and was recommended by the bench to betake himself to some other calling.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey and B. Bloomer, Esqs, the following applications for new licenses were made.....

Mr. Travis of West Bromwich, applied on behalf of Samuel Wigg, RAILWAY COLLIERY TAVERN, High Bridge Row, whose license was taken from him three years ago in consequence of a gross outrage committed upon a female, on Wigg's premises, in which Wigg's son was one of the offenders.

Mr. Travis, after referring to the occurrence, said that his client having been deprived of his license for three years, had been sufficiently punished for the matter, as he was not personally a participator in it. Since that time the house had been kept by his client as a beerhouse; and he (Mr. Travis) would appeal to the police as to the manner in which it had been conducted.

The Bench said that after the disgraceful conduct which was proved to have taken place on the occasion referred to, they did not think the applicant a fit and proper person to have a spirit license; and further they were of the opinion that a licensed house was not necessary there."

John Ghilks = John Gilks = John Jilkes = John Gelkes

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/12/1869

"John Green, for refusing to leave when requested to, at the house of John Gilks, the RAILWAY HOTEL, Pelsall, was fined 5s and costs, or seven days' imprisonment."

Walsall Free Press 17/12/1870

"At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, Abel Jones and Rose Bullock were each fined 2s 6d and costs, for having refused to leave the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL; and Thomas Bullock was fined 5s and costs for having assaulted the landlord, John Ghilks."

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/1/1872

"A woman named Ellen Greenhouse was convicted of having assaulted John Jilkes, of the RAILWAY HOTEL, Pelsall, and refusing to leave his house when requested to do so. For the first offence she was fined 5s and costs, and for the last 2s 6d and costs."

Walsall Free Press 4/10/1873

"Two publicans, named Carry Fox, of the FREE TRADE public house, and John Gilks, of the RAILWAY COLLIERY beerhouse, applied for an extension of time on the nights of Monday and Tuesday next, it being Pelsall wake. The applications were granted."

Lichfield Mercury 30/11/1877

"At the Lichfield County Police Office on Tuesday, a young man named T. Holloway, who said he came from Nottingham, was charged by Superintendent Hill with uttering a base florin to Mrs. Blackhurst, beerseller, Pelsall, on the 21st of November. The prisoner went to the prosecutrix's house and had half a pint of ale for which he gave the coin and received 1s 10½d change. He was also charged with attempting, on the same day, to pass a second bad florin to Miss Lester, shopkeeper, Pelsall, in payment for some cheese. In this case the prosecutrix returned the coin to prisoner, who then gave her a good one. He was also charged with uttering a base florin to Mrs. Ghilks, beerhouse-keeper, Highbridge, on the same day, in payment of a pint of ale. The prisoner had a companion with him, and on being told the coin was bad they ran away. The prisoner was, however, captured by a man named Clare, although his companion escaped. Police-constable Walker produced four coins which the prisoner had passed to different persons at Pelsall, which were proved by Mr. Charles Thorneloe, silversmith, Lichfield, to be counterfeit.

The prisoner was remanded for a week.

On the day of the prisoner's apprehension he caused considerable excitement in Brownhills by attempting to escape. He ran about half a mile, pursued by Police-constable Walker and a general cry of 'Stop thief' before he was overtaken."

Lichfield Mercury 10/9/1880

"The annual meeting for licensing business took place at Rushall Police Court on Tuesday.....

There were two applications for old licenses, made by John Ghilks, beerhouse-keeper, Pelsall, and George Miner, beerhouse-keeper, Proffitt Street, Ryecroft. In the last named case Mr. Glover opposed on behalf of five owners of neighbouring houses. Both applications were refused."

1881 Census

Pelsall – RAILWAY INN

[1] John Ghilks (56), innkeeper, born Grandsbrough, Warwickshire;

[2] Jane Ghilks (49), wife, born Lichfield;

[3] Julia Ghilks (15), daughter, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Thomas Ghilks (12), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

AND next entry

[5] John Ghilks Jnr. (22), head, coal miner, born Pelsall;

[6] Sarah J. Ghilks (23), wife, born Pelsall;

[7] Julia Ghilks (11 months), daughter, born Pelsall;

[8] William Ghilks (34), brother, coal miner, born Pelsall:

[Grandsbrough is possibly Grandborough, about 5 miles S of Rugby.]

Evening Express 21/9/1881

“Jane Gelkes, landlady of the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, High Bridge Row, Pelsall, was fined 40s and costs for being drunk in her own house, and also with being drunk and disorderly on the highway on the 30th inst.”

Evening Star 26/1/1882

“A petition has been filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court on behalf of John Ghilks, of the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Highbridge, Pelsall, beer retailer and grocer and provision dealer, with liabilities estimated at £365, and assets not ascertained. Mr. C. A. Loxton, Walsall, is the solicitor in the matter.”

Walsall Observer 16/5/1885

“On Saturday evening the first anniversary supper of the No.2 Lodge of Pelsall (Loyal Caledonian Corks Sick and Dividend Society) was held at the house of Bro. Finney, the RAILWAY INN. The vicar of Pelsall (Rev. J. C. Spencer) presided.....”

Lichfield Mercury 6/9/1889

“On Monday evening a goodly gathering assembled at the RAILWAY HOTEL, Pelsall, when a complimentary dinner was given to Mr. Dallas, who for some time has laboured at Pelsall, and whose services have been generally esteemed. An excellent dinner was served by Mr. Lunt, the landlord.....”

1891 Census

Station Road – RAILWAY INN

- [1] Thomas Lunt (59), licensed victualler and agent, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [2] Sarah Lunt (54), wife, born Essington;
- [3] Sarah A. Lunt (26), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Ernest E. Lunt (18), son, clerk, born Pelsall;
- [5] Edith Lunt (15), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Howard Lunt (13), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Ellen Mason (17), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 21/10/1893

“Pelsall Notes. I hear that Mr. James Moore, late Station Master of Pelsall, who has lately been appointed Station Master at Brownhills, was last week made the recipient of a purse of gold at a supper given in honour of him, at the RAILWAY INN, Pelsall. I regret that I do not have particulars to hand.”

Lichfield Mercury 10/2/1899

“T. Lunt, landlord of the RAILWAY INN, Pelsall, applied for an extension of hours on the 16th inst, from 10 to 12pm, the occasion being an annual dance. The application was granted.”

Walsall Observer 28/4/1900

“Pelsall Parish Council The members then adjourned to a dinner given by the Chairman and vice chairman, which was held at the RAILWAY HOTEL, all the councilors and one or two friends being present.....”

1901 Census

Victoria Road

- [1] Thomas Lunt (69), wine merchant, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [2] Sarah Lunt (63), wife, born Essington;
- [3] Sarah A. Lunt (38), daughter, household assistant, born Pelsall;
- [4] Edith L. Lunt (24), daughter, household assistant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Ethel M. Lunt (20), daughter, cycle manufacturer’s clerk, born Pelsall:

Thomas Lunt – see also QUEENS HOTEL.

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1902

“A temporary transfer of the license of the RAILWAY INN, Pelsall, was granted from Thomas Lunt to Joseph Marklew.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... A. Aspinall, RAILWAY INN, Pelsall.”

1911 Census

Pelsall – RAILWAY HOTEL

- [1] Austin Peter Aspinall (38), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Eva Aspinall (37), wife, married 11 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall;
- [3] Amy Brown (14), general servant, born High Heath, Pelsall:

Walsall Observer 20/12/1924

“There was a large attendance of members of the Watkin Binns’ Lodge of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes, at the RAILWAY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Wednesday evening, when two members were raised to the second degree.....”

Walsall Observer 27/12/1924

“Although it has been in existence for only a year, the RAILWAY HOTEL Sick and Dividend Society, Pelsall, has been very successful, and at the first annual share-out on Monday evening, dividend amounting to £20 9s 6d was paid to 29 men, and there is a balance to commence the next year.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....
Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....
For repairs and alterations of structure.....
RAILWAY INN, Victoria Road.”

1939 Register

Victoria Road – RAILWAY HOTEL

[1] Eva A. Aspinall, date of birth 7/12/1873, licensed victualler, widowed;

[2] Ivy F. (Ingrý) Brannon, dob 4/1/1922, domestic servant, single:

The pub closed on 28th May 2012, for two months, after a dispute between Tom Osbourne and Enterprise Inns about the rent. A campaign of support from customers was held on Facebook.

It reopened on 15th July 2012.

[2017]

RED COW

Goscote Road, (Allens Lane), (Pelsall Lane), Heath End, Rushall, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Dixon [1894]
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

George Cooper [] – 1861);
Joseph Dixon (1861 – [1871]
Job Dixon [1883]
Joseph Walter Dixon [1888]
John Dixon [1890] – 1894);
William Ford (1894 – 1905);
Enoch Bickley (1905 – [1921]
Jabez Martin [1924] – 1925)
Frank Bernard Smith [1932] – [1940]
Daniel Harrison [1940]
F Smith [1941] – [1945]

NOTES

It was known as the LETTERS. [1862]
OLD RED COW [1868]

1861 Census

Pelsall Lane, Rushall
[1] George Cooper (27), victualler, born Pelsall;
[2] Elizabeth Cooper (21), wife, born Pelsall;
[3] Esther Cooper (1), daughter, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 10/7/1862

“At the county Petty Sessions on Tuesday, Joseph Holland, puddler, was charged with having, on the 11th ult, behaved in a grossly indecent manner in the presence of Mrs. Ellen Dixon. Complainant is the wife of Mr. Joseph Dixon, of the RED COW INN, Pelsall, and it was shown that the defendant had, for the purpose of annoying and insulting her, behaved in the manner described. He was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

1871 Census

Heath End – RED COW

- [1] Joseph Dixon (47), licensed victualler, born Dudley;
- [2] Ellen Dixon (57), wife, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Mary J. Dixon (26), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Mary J. Hall (6), granddaughter, scholar, born Rushall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/9/1883

“Rushall Petty Sessions..... in the case of Job Dixon, of the RED COW, Heath End, there had been two convictions, and the license would be withheld for a month.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/7/1887

“On Monday an inquest was held at the RED COW public house, Heath End, by Mr. Thorneycroft, on the body of George Hall, aged one year and seven months, who was killed on the level crossing there on Friday last. The evidence showed that as the child was crossing the line it stumbled, and before it could be extricated a train ran over it and killed it.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, but added a rider to the effect that in their opinion a bridge should be erected, as about six hundred persons crossed and re-crossed the five lines every day, and there was much shunting going on.

The Coroner declined to receive any presentment that the jury made to the effect that the state of the crossing showed gross negligence on the part of the company, as he ruled that that would be a verdict of manslaughter. The foreman of the jury said they would have returned that verdict if it had been against an individual, but they did not see how they could against a company.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/10/1888

“At the Rushall Police Court, yesterday, Joseph Walter Dixon, keeper of the RED COW INN, Pelsall, was summoned for assaulting Samuel Alfred Heeley, head master of the National School at the same place. It seemed that the defendant’s son, a boy of between five and six years of age, was in the infant department of the complainant’s school, and for some piece of misconduct was put in the corner with the blackboard before him. The defendant, on hearing of this, went to the school, and caused great uproar, challenging the complainant to come out and fight, and at last swinging him round violently. The defendant was fined 5s and costs, Mr. James telling him that he must have left his senses at home to behave in such a way. The defendant said that after that remark he would withdraw a summons which he had taken out against Heeley for assaulting the boy. He was reminded that he would have to pay certain court costs in respect of this case.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/12/1888

“Yesterday, at the RED COW INN, Heath End, Mr. Hooper (coroner) held an inquest on the body of a child, nineteen days old, the offspring of Elizabeth Kimberley, aged twenty-four.

The evidence showed that on the night of the 1st inst the woman and her father, a labourer, living at Aldridge, went to the house of a man named John Webb, at Heath End, and there the woman was taken in labour and delivered of a child, being attended by a midwife named Mary Maria Jukes, who was rather hurriedly fetched. The child appeared healthy for nearly a fortnight; then blotches and blister-like sores began to appear about its body, which increased until Thursday last, when the child died. On the morning of that day the mother, by the advice of a person living near, took it to a doctor, who ordered her to take it back at once and undress it, it being then in a dying state, and when he called later in the day he told her that she was a filthy mother, and refused to give a certificate. The mother said the services of a doctor were not obtained before because she could not go out to fetch one, and no one else would go for her; but she admitted that she never asked anyone to go, and Webb’s daughter said that had she been asked she would have gone, and when the mother went she lent her one of her shoes.

Kimberley told the court that the father of her child was a young man who went for a soldier eight months ago, but two witnesses deposed that whilst in bed she told them that her own father was the father of her child. She also told the court that this was her second child, the first having been buried in the garden of her father’s house at Aldridge by the instructions of a police-constable stationed in that village.

Webb swore that he had no idea that the woman was coming to his house, and, being at work, did not know anything about her being there till some hours after the child had been born. His own wife left him two years ago to live with another ‘bloke’, and Kimberley’s father had since the confinement asked if she should stay to keep house for him, but he had not had anything to say about that.

The Coroner, in summing up, said it seemed to him to be a very shocking case from beginning to end, and from the condition of the child it was evident that the mother must have been suffering from disease. He had never seen anything so bad as the child’s condition in the whole course of his experience. The child seemed to have been properly fed, but there certainly had been great neglect in not getting a doctor, and although the mother seemed to be of weak intellect, that did not excuse the neglect. Whether there was sufficient to support a criminal charge was doubtful, but he would adjourn the enquiry for a post mortem if the jury thought fit. As to the former child he did not believe that any constable would give such instructions as had been alleged, but he would communicate with the chief constable, who would, no doubt, have the matter enquired into.

The jury found that the child died from disease, and that death was accelerated by want of medical treatment and care on the part of the mother.

Four of the witnesses could not sign their names, one of the four, a young woman aged 18, never having been to school, and another, aged 16, did not know the nature of an oath. Four of the jurors also were unable to sign the finding.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

“The following publicans were granted one hour’s extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes John Dixon.”

1891 Census

Goscote Road, Heath End – RED COW INN

- [1] John Dixon (49), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Sarah Dixon (42), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Frances E. Dixon (15), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Leonard C. Dixon (12), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Jessie S. Dixon (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Joseph W. Dixon (7), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [7] Sydney H. Dixon (6), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [8] Harold C. Dixon (3), son, born Rushall;
- [9] Horace E. Dixon (1), son, born Rushall;

Walsall Advertiser 29/10/1892

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, Sarah Dixon, of the RED COW INN, Pelsall, was summoned by her husband, John Dixon, the landlord, for being drunk on their licensed premises. Mr. Dixon appeared, and pleaded guilty on behalf of his wife. He said they had a quarrel, and Mrs. Dixon took some drink afterwards, and he thought he would give her a warning, and summoned her. A fine of 10s and 8s 6d costs was inflicted, and the Bench informed complainant that if he desired to be rid of his wife for seven days all he had to do was to refuse to pay the money. This suggestion evidently opened possibilities which had not been contemplated, and complainant paid the fine and costs with the utmost promptitude.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1894

“Matthew Rounds, miner, Heath End, was charged with refusing to quit the RED COW INN, Pelsall, on the 22nd inst. The landlord, John Dixon, said he ordered the defendant out, but he stayed ten minutes afterwards. Defendant said he went out as soon as he was ordered, and went off home. Fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1894 - Advert

“To Brewers, Innkeepers, and Others. Monday, April 2nd, 1894.

Mr. J. H. Bullock, having received instructions from the Executors of the late Joseph Dixon, will offer for sale by Public Auction, on the above date, at the RED COW INN, Heath End, Pelsall, at 6.30 in the evening precisely, subject to conditions incorporating the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society.

Lot 1. All that substantially-built, commodious and conveniently-arranged Fully Licensed Public House, well known as the RED COW INN, situate at Heath End, near Pelsall, in the Parish of Rushall, containing Bar Room, Tap Room, Smoke Room, Sitting Room, Pantry, four Bedrooms, and a Club Room, 54 feet by 14 feet; two excellent Cellars, perfectly drained, one 30 feet by 14 feet, and the other 14 feet square and 6 feet 3 inches high, with two entrances; passage through house into spacious yard, having suitable entrance gates and brick-built boundary wall, three-stall Stable, with Loft over, Pig Styes, and all other necessary offices. Well of very good drinking water and large soft water cistern. The whole occupies an area of 404 square yards or thereabouts, and has been in the hands of the present tenant, Mr. John Dixon, for many years. Possession will be given on completion of the purchase if desired.....”

Walsall Advertiser 28/9/1895

“An extension of one hour was granted to Mr. Ford, landlord of the RED COW, Heath End, Pelsall, by the Rushall Bench, in consequence of a supper connected with the Oddfellows’ Friendly Society taking place at his house tonight.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, William Ford, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1896

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, Matthew Round, of Heath End, who had been several times previously convicted, was fined 20s and costs for being drunk on and refusing to quit the premises of William Ford, of the RED COW INN, Pelsall, on March 28th.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/5/1897

“At Rushall Police Court on Monday, William Ford, of the RED COW INN, Heath End, Pelsall, was summoned for assaulting

William Chatband, carter, Heath End, Pelsall, on the 26th April. Complainant stated that at 2.30pm on the date named he was going towards Pelsall Station with a horse and cart, when he met the defendant who accused him of ‘running his beer down’, and immediately afterwards hit him a blow beneath the eye. He then ran away up the lane, and complainant could not catch him. He denied that he was drunk.

The defence was that defendant was drunk and attacked the defendant, who merely acted in self-defence. After hearing two witnesses for the defence, the Bench dismissed the case.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/9/1899

“William Ford, of the RED COW INN, Heath End, Pelsall, made application to the Rushall Bench, on Monday, for a certificate of exemption from vaccination for his child. Applicant stated that his objections were on the ground that he believed vaccination to be detrimental to the health of the child.

Mr. James: We cannot get into your conscience to see whether your objection is a real one or not, and we are bound to take your statement, however much we may disagree with you.

Mr. E. T. Holden: I suppose when someone in the neighbourhood has small-pox you will get the exemption removed.

Applicant: Very questionable, sir.

Mr. Holden said he remembered the time when he was a youngster to see people covered with small-pox indications, but they did not see anything of that kind now, and he asked why that was so.

Dr. Cooke remarked that the advantages of vaccination were well known to the savages on the West Coast of Africa, and they would run after a doctor and go on their knees imploring him to vaccinate them.

Applicant: That doesn’t alter my conviction at all.

Dr. Cooke: I didn’t expect it would. It is not worth anything.

Applicant: It may be just worth as much as anybody else’s.

Dr. Cooke: I am sorry for the child.

Mr. James: You have to pay 3s as a salve for your conscience.

Applicant: Oh, willingly.”

Walsall Observer 1/9/1900

“On Tuesday evening last 58 of the people of Heath End, Pelsall, who are over sixty years of age, together with the widows of the village, were entertained to an excellent meal at the RED COW INN, Pelsall, and afterwards a musical entertainment was provided.....”

1901 Census

Heath End – RED COW INN

[1] William Ford (42), licensed victualler, born Hollington, Derbyshire;

[2] Mercy E. Ford (41), wife, born Walsall Wood;

[3] William C. Ford (21), son, coal miner loader, born Pelsall;

[4] Lily Ford (18), daughter, barmaid, born Pelsall;

[5] Harmer Ford (16), son, colliery labourer, born Pelsall;

[6] Olive Ford (15), daughter, general domestic, born Pelsall;

[7] Walter Ford (13), son, general dealer’s clerk, born Pelsall;

[8] Evelyn Ford (10), daughter, born Pelsall;

[9] Howard Ford (8), son, born Pelsall;

[10] Mercy E. Ford (6), daughter, born Rushall;

[11] Beatrice M. Ford (4), daughter, born Rushall;

[12] Ambrose R. Ford (1), son, born Rushall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/4/1906

“The monthly meeting of the meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Enoch Bickley, RED COW INN, Heath End, Pelsall.”

1911 Census

Rushall – RED COW INN

[1] Enoch Bickley (38), publican, born Pelsall;

[2] Lucy T. Bickley (36), wife, married 14 years, born Pelsall;

[3] Alfred C. Bickley (12), son, school, born Pelsall;

[4] Hector H. Bickley (10), son, school, born Pelsall;

[5] Clara Edwards (15), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Observer 5/5/1917 - Advert

“Smart Turnout for Sale; brown Cob, 14 hands, warranted sound and pass all traffic. No dealers need apply.

E. Bickley, RED COW INN, Pelsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1921

“The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall Division were held on Monday.....

All the licenses would be renewed with the exception of.....

RED COW, Heath End.....

In these cases, alterations were necessary, and the Bench would defer consideration until they had visited the premises and inspected the plans.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1921

“Enoch Bickley, licensee of the RED COW INN, Rushall, was charged with permitting gambling on his premises on Feb 26. Mr. A. J. Glover prosecuted for the police and Mr. J. Wylie, barrister (instructed by Messrs. S. Pearman-Smith & Sons), defended. Mr. Glover stated that two constables who had served in the Army disguised themselves as ex-Service men, and associated with those who frequented the house. They were in the smoke room, where eight men were playing ‘tippit’, first for threepence, afterwards for sixpence, and eventually a shilling a corner. One of the constables was invited to join in, but did not do so. It was alleged that both the landlord and the landlady saw what was taking place, and that the former was at the table collecting jugs to be re-filled when the losers were paying money to the winners. Later, Inspector Willis, Sergt. Dale, and another constable came to the room, and one of the disguised constables, PC Wright, then made a report to him. Questioned by the Inspector about gaming, Bickley made no reply, but his wife said they did not know the men were gambling.

PCs Wright and Miller, the Inspector, and Sergeant gave evidence.

For the defence Mr. Wylie said Bickley had been licensee of the house for 16 years without any previous charge. He criticised the action of PC Wright in posing as an injured soldier and exciting sympathy (as a result of which a subscription was taken for him, the money, amounting to between 6s and 7s, being afterwards handed to a blind man).

Defendant, his wife, and four other witnesses denied that gambling took place.

The Bench considered the case fully proved, and imposed a fine of £5 with two guineas special costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 17/2/1922

“The Annual Licensing Sessions for the Rushall division were held on Monday.....

Notice of objection had been served to the renewal of the license of the RED COW INN, Heath End, Rushall, on the ground that the premises had been ill-conducted The licenses were renewed with the exception of that of the RED COW INN.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/2/1923

“The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall Division were held on Monday.....

Complaints had been made regarding the inadequate living accommodation provided for licensees at public houses, and the justices felt that the necessary steps should be taken to remedy this. There was also a need for better sanitary accommodation. The justices had considered the question of an alteration in the hours of opening on Sundays, but had decided that there should be no change.....

All other licences in the area were renewed, and the Bench approved plans for structural alterations to the RED COW INN, Pelsall, which Mr. F. Cooper intimated would be carried out.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/4/1925

“An inquest touching the death of Jabez Martin (50), licensee of the RED COW INN, Pelsall, who died on April 12 at the Burntwood Mental Hospital, was held by Mr. S. W. Morgan, district coroner, on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Martin said her husband was taken ill last Wednesday week, with a kind of fit, and he was attended by Dr. Stirling, and on Sunday he was removed to the Mental Hospital. Her husband was not a heavy drinker, and she had never seen him the worse for drink. He had complained of an assault which was committed upon him five or six months ago, when someone threw a spittoon at him in the bar, catching him on the forehead. The deceased refused to take proceedings against the man who assaulted him. Dr. G. F. Cobb, assistant medical officer at Burntwood Mental Hospital, said he made a post-mortem examination, and found a small cerebral haemorrhage on the right side of the head at the back. There were also all the signs of chronic alcoholism, and death was due to this cause, combined with exhaustion, following upon delirium tremens. A verdict was returned in accordance with the medical evidence.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

For repairs and alterations of structure.....

RED COW, Heath End, Pelsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 4/2/1938

“Well-known in the village as a bowler of many outstanding performances, Mr. John Edward Breedon, a member of the Pelsall Cricket Club was married on Saturday afternoon to Miss Mary Jane Harvey Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin beaute, with wreath of orange blossom and tulle veil After the ceremony a reception was held at the RED COW HOTEL, Pelsall, where a large number of friends was present.”

1939 Register

Allens Lane – RED COW INN

[1] Frank B. Smith, date of birth 15/1/1896, licensee, married;

[2] Lily Smith, dob 26/3/1898, bar assistant, married;

[3] Frank D. Smith, dob 10/10/1920, clerk, leather trade, single:

Walsall Observer 3/8/1940

“At Blakenall Parish Church, on Saturday, Miss Doris Irene Albutt was married to Mr. Bernard Thomas Harrison, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Harrison, of the RED COW INN, Pelsall the hymns ‘The Voice that breathed o’er Eden’ and ‘O perfect love’ were sung. Given away by her father, the bride wore a dress of white lace with a veil and orange blossom, and her bouquet was of red roses.”

Walsall Observer 11/10/1941 - Personal

“Congratulations and best wishes to Frank (RAF, VR), only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Smith, RED COW INN, Heath End, Pelsall, who attained his 21st Birthday, 10th October. All our love. Mon and Dad.”

Walsall Observer 8/8/1942 - Marriages

“On Aug. 4, 1942, at St. Michael’s Church, Rushall, by Rev. F. G. Addenbrooke, Frank Dennis Smith, RAF, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Smith, of RED COW INN, Heath End, to Mary E. Hall, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hall, of 37, Portland Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 15/4/1944 - Acknowledgments

“Mrs. Noble and Family, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Rushall, sincerely thank all kind friends for floral tributes and sympathy: Mr. and Mrs. Smith, RED COW, Heath End, Mrs. Rufford, Mr. Cooper, MINERS ARMS, Mr. and Mrs. Martin and Family, Mrs. Duffy and Nora, and Customers of GEORGE AND DRAGON.”

Walsall Observer 22/9/1945

“Neutralising Luftwaffe Among those who help to maintain signals communications for the wing which is doing this all-important job is a Pelsall man, L.A.C. Frank Dennis Smith, whose parents keep the RED COW INN, Heath End.....”

Two teams from here competed in the Shropshire, Staffordshire and Derby division of The People National Darts Teams Championship of England and Wales in 1952/3.

[2012]

It was converted into housing. [2015]

RED LION

Bloxwich Road, (4, Broadstone), (2, (4), Green Lane), (Walsall Road), (High Street), Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Thomas Sheldon
Charles Froggatt, Park Street, Walsall
John Marshall
Elizabeth Marshall
John Thompson, Burton [1891]
Bloxwich Brewery [1901], [1922]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1930]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Devey [1828] – [1830]
Josiah Clewes [1841] – [1850]
John Marshall [1851]
Josiah Clews [1854] – [1861]
Simeon Bird [1862] – 1865)
Josiah Clews [1867] – [1870]
Jesse Thomas Clews [] – 1870);
John Marshall (1870 – [1877]);
Isaac Goodread [1881]
John Marshall [];

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall [] – 1888);
George Cuper (1888 – 1890);
George Mellon (1890);
Elizabeth Marshall (1890 – 1891);
Thomas Collins (1891 – 1893);
Walter Pinfold (1893 – 1894);
George Adrian Slim (1894 – 1895);
Charles Henry John Marshall (1895 – 1896);
Thomas George Kimber (1896 – 1897);
William Booker (1897 – 1901);
William Charles Athersmith (1901 – 1904);
William Henry Bratt (1904 – 1922);
Henry Thomas Guy (1922);
Eli Thomas Bales (1922 – 1924);
John Smith (1924 – 1929);
William Thorpe (1929 – 1933);
David Alfred Broughton (1933 – 1936);
Mrs. Olive Nellie Satchwell (1936 – 1944);
Joseph Westwood (1944 – 1956);
Richard Sidney Manwaring (1956 – [1966])

NOTES

Walsall Road [1841], [1842], [1850], [1864], [1870], [1872]
2, Green Lane, Leamore [1871]
4, Broadstone [1881]
4, Green Lane [1891]
High Street [1901], [1911], [1932], [1940]
Bloxwich Road [1902]

Josiah Clewes = Josiah Clews

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/12/1841 - Advert

“Lot 5. All that old-established Public House, situate at Bloxwich, aforesaid, known by the sign of the RED LION, with the stable and other outbuildings, yard, garden and croft, thereto belonging.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/9/1844

“An inquest was held on Monday last, at the RED LION, Bloxwich, on the body of John Pearson, miner, who came to his death under the following circumstances. The deceased with ten other men, was at work in a pit belonging to Mr. Dexter at the Birchills, on Saturday morning last, when near two tons of stone suddenly gave way, burying the unfortunate man beneath it. He was speedily dug out and carried to the mouth of the pit, where he shortly afterwards expired. Verdict Accidental Death.”

John Marshall was also a miner. [1851]

Josiah Clews = Josiah Clewes = Josiah Clew

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/2/1854

“Sarah Cockayne, a married woman, was fined 10s and costs, for an assault on Mr. Josiah Clewes the landlord of the RED LION, at the Brick Hills. Defendant, finding her husband playing cards in plaintiff’s house, burned the pack; and upon the landlord attempting to expel her from the house, she bit and otherwise assaulted him.”

1861 Census

Green Lane – RED LION

- [1] Josiah Clews (52), victualler, born Oddingley, Worcestershire;
- [2] Elizabeth Clews (53), wife, born Kempsey, Worcestershire;
- [3] Diana Clews (15), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Josiah J. Clews (13), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] William H. Clews (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] John Meanley (30), visitor, buckle maker, born Walsall;
- [7] Harriet Warrinder (20), general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Edward Monk (40), agricultural labourer, born Shenstone, Staffordshire;
- [9] Thomas Williams (45), visitor, gentleman, born Shrewsbury;

Walsall Free Press 27/4/1861

“Catherine Story was charged with uttering counterfeit coins, at Bloxwich.

Harriet Warren was the first witness. She deposed that she was employed as a servant at the RED LION, Bloxwich. On Sunday week prisoner came to the house, and in payment for a pint of beer, tendered a half-crown which witness afterwards found out to be a bad one. On Saturday last prisoner came again to the RED LION and tendered another bad half-crown. Witness could swear to the identity of the prisoner, and also to the two bad pieces of money. The first piece was marked with A, and the other with V. They were marked by the police. Prisoner had no questions to ask this witness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clew deposed that she was the landlady of the RED LION. She saw prisoner in the house on Saturday night week, and afterwards ascertained that she had passed off a bad half-crown on the servant, Harriet Warren. She was able to identify the coin, which she handed over to Sergeant Martin. On Sunday last prisoner came again, and tendered another bad half-crown. Witness detected it, and charged her with being a passer of bad money. She did not say much in reply, and as she left the house witness persevered in following her until she had ascertained where she lived. On Sunday night she returned to the RED LION, when Sergeant Martin took her into custody.

Sergeant Martin said that, from information he received, he went on Sunday, to the RED LION, and while there prisoner came in with her husband. He arrested her on a charge of passing bad money, and agreed to wait until her husband brought her bonnet and shawl, before he took her away. The husband returned with some others, and prisoner endeavoured to pass him some money. In doing so she dropped half-a-crown, which was, however, a good one. A fight between witness and the husband then ensued, the object of which was evidently the rescue of the prisoner. The case was remanded to Thursday next.”

AND

“Michael Story, the husband of the prisoner in the forgoing case, was charged by Sergeant Martin with obstructing the police in the discharge of their duties. The cause and the nature of the case were deposed to by Sergeant Martin and Mrs. Clew. Defendant denied having assaulted the constable. Fined 10s, or seven days’ imprisonment, the Bench expressing its determination to protect the police in the discharge of their duties.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/5/1861

“Insolvents. At the County Court, on Saturday, before Sir W. B. Biddell, Bart., the following insolvents were heard on their petitions. on re Josiah Clews, formerly of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, jeweller. Mr. Ebsworth applied that this insolvent might pass his first examination. There was not any opposition, and the hearing was passed....”

London Gazette 24/5/1861

“In the Matter of the Petition of Josiah Clews, formerly of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, Staffordshire, Licensed Victualler, Farmer, and occasionally Carter, then and now of the same place, Farmer, an Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon at the said Court, on the 20th day of June next, at ten o’clock in the forenoon, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.”

Simeon Bird was also a butcher. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 28/1/1865 - Advert

“RED LION INN, Near the Toll Gate, Bloxwich, near Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Horobin, on Wednesday next, February 1st, 1865, the Licenses of the above Inn; also the Fixtures, 4-Pull Beer Machine, Brewing Vessels, 21 Prime Ale Casks, 100 Gallon Copper Boiler and Fittings, Household Furniture, Gas Fittings, and other effects, belonging to Mr. S. Bird, who is leaving.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock.”

Walsall Free Press 2/3/1867

“Isaiah [sic] Clews, landlord of the RED LION beerhouse, Bloxwich, was fined 5s and costs for having had in his possession six unjust earthenware measures.”

London Gazette 12/1/1869

“Josiah Clews, in lodgings at the house of Josiah Thomas Clews, of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, Farmer, formerly of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Farmer, adjudicated bankrupt on the 10th day of October, 1868. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 21st day of January instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/2/1869

“At the Guildhall, on Thursday, Josiah Clews, late of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, a bankrupt, was charged, under the 221st section of the Bankruptcy Act, and at the instance of Mr. F. F. Clarke, Registrar of the Walsall County Court, that, on the 10th of October, 1868, and after he had been adjudicated a bankrupt, he did, with intent to defraud his creditors, conceal certain of his property viz, household furniture, beds, bed linen, potatoes, wine, spirits, farming implements, and other effects, of the value of £10, and upwards, and fraudulently omitted from his schedule the said property.

Mr. Dale in opening the case, said the prosecution had been ordered by the Judge of the County Court, at the instance of the official assignee. The defendant filed his petition on the 10th of October last, and was adjudicated a bankrupt on the same day. He then represented that he had nothing to hand over to his creditors, all his furniture and effects having been sold under distress for rent shortly before; and that he was lodging with his son, who had succeeded him in the inn, a circumstance which in itself was sufficient to create suspicion. The three days' statement contained a similar declaration, and the first execution, which took place on the 27th October, passed over without the bankrupt stating that he had any property concealed. On the contrary, he signed a declaration that he had no household goods under his control. On the 10th November certain information reached Mr. Clarke which induced him to send a messenger to a cottage at the back of the house in which defendant was living, and there found a considerable quantity of the defendant's household furniture and other property, to the value £30. On the following day the bankrupt was examined again at the County Court, and again he stated that a day or two before his bankruptcy the landlord, Mr. C. Froggatt, put the bailiffs into his house and sold his furniture and effects. The presumption was, however, that the furniture and other articles in the cottage were concealed there for the purpose of defrauding his creditors, and hence the prosecution.

Mr. Forster then proved taking the bankrupt's statement as mentioned above, and sending a bailiff to take possession of the goods found in the cottage.

Mr. Froggatt gave evidence in support of the charge, and Mr. George Bailey, auctioneer, deposed to having sold the goods by auction by the order of the Court, and to their having realised £20.

The defendant after having received the usual caution said: 'I am quite innocent of the things being moved.' He was committed for trial at the next Assizes, but was admitted to bail."

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869 - Advert

"To Be Let, and may be entered upon at Michaelmas next, the RED LION INN Public-House, near the Toll Gate, Bloxwich. Apply to Chas. Froggatt, 12, Park Street, Walsall."

1871 Census

2, Green Lane – RED LION INN

[1] John Marshall (40), miner and licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Elizabeth Marshall (40), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Thomas Marshall (15), son, brush maker, born Bloxwich;

[4] Jane Marshall (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[5] Esther Bicknell (10), cousin, scholar, born Birmingham;

[6] John Marshall (8), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[7] Richard Marshall (5), son, born Bloxwich;

[8] Elizabeth Marshall (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[9] Emma Birch (18), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/2/1872

"A match has been made and articles signed between Mr. Starkey's dog Tricks and Mr. Jones's bitch Lill (both of Bloxwich) to run 200 yards, for £10 a side, to give and take two and a half yards to the pound. £5 a side is now down in the hands of Mr. Marshall, RED LION INN, Bloxwich, who is the final stakeholder. They run on March 11."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/4/1874

"Alexandra Park Recreation Grounds, Rood End, near Oldbury.

The above beautiful grounds, which are available from all parts of England, being situated within a few minutes' walk of Oldbury, Spon Lane, and the Smethwick stations on the Stour Valley Railway, and Westbromwich, Smethwick Junction, and Rood End stations on the Great Western Railway (Rood End in particular, being only 300 yards distant), are reopen to the public, and the proprietors, Messrs. Smith and Bradley, respectfully announce that they will give £15 to be contested for in an All England Foot Race, distance 135 yards, on Saturday and Monday, April 18 and 20. First prize £10, second £4, third £1. Entrance 1s 6d, no acceptance, to be declared on or before Tuesday, April 14. Wednesday morning's letters will be in time. All entries to be made at the grounds, or at any of the following places.....

Marshall's, RED LION INN, Bloxwich.....

Betting and gambling strictly prohibited. No one allowed to run unless in proper costume."

Sporting Life 13/10/1877

"Cross Keys Running Grounds, Hednesford.

Messrs. Birch and Bullock will give £10 to be run for in a 135 yards all-England foot handicap on Hednesford Wakes, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 29 and 30 – first prize £8, second £1 10s, third 10s. Entrance 1s, no acceptance. Entries to be made to.....

Mr. John Marshall, RED LION INN, Bloxwich."

1881 Census

4, Broadstone – RED LION

[1] Isaac Goodread (36), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Lucy Goodread (34), wife, born Blakenhall;

[3] William Goodread (11), son, scholar, born Blakenhall;

[4] Charlotte Goodread (7), daughter, scholar, born Blakenhall;

[5] Isaac Goodread (5), son, scholar, born Blakenhall;

[6] Lucy Goodread (3), daughter, scholar, born Huntington, Staffordshire;

[7] Albert Goodread (6 months), son, born Huntington, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1881 - Advert

“Walsall Amateur Florist Society.

A Meeting of the above Society will be held at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, at 8 o'clock, on Monday Next; Thursday, RED LION, Bloxwich Road; Friday, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey.

Any person desiring to tender for Refreshments, please send tender in by 6 o'clock on Monday next, August 22nd, to the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.

H. C. Bowen, Hon. Sec.”

Evening Star 21/6/1882

“Yesterday Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, on the body of Matthew Selvey (32), brick-layer, Church Street, who was killed on Monday, at Messrs. G. and R. Thomas's Hatherton Furnaces. The only witness examined was James Westwood, bricklayer, who deposed that he, the deceased, and another man were engaged on Monday in raising the stack at the furnaces, and about one o'clock the deceased and the third man were let down to dinner, witness remaining at the top, it being his duty to go up first and come down last. When the deceased was about halfway down the bowk passed him which was being sent up to bring witness down, and deceased gave it a forcible push, causing it to sway backwards and forwards violently as it ascended and to strike the scaffolding and displace the principal plank, which fell endwise on the deceased's head, killing him instantaneously.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The annual licensing sessions for Walsall borough were held yesterday.....

Mr. Cotterell applied for permission to rebuild and improve the RED LION, Bloxwich, which was in a dilapidated condition. The application was adjourned until the adjourned licensing day on the 24th September, complete plans to be deposited in the meantime.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1890

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The business from the annual licensing session last week took place at the Guildhall yesterday.... Mr. Cotterell submitted plans for an extension of the RED LION INN, Bloxwich, and said that his client was willing to give up the right of selling on the grounds attached to the house.....

The Bench after a long deliberation in private.....

Granted that relating to the RED LION INN, subject to all communication between the house and the running ground being cut off.”

1891 Census

4, Green Lane – RED LION INN

[1] Elizabeth Marshall (59), widow, manager of RED LION, born Bloxwich;

[2] Clara Marshall (19), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;

[3] Alfred Marshall (16), son, painter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Noah W. Symonds (27), son in law, widower, brush maker, born Willenhall;

[5] Sarah Ann Martin (22), boarder, bridle stitcher, born Bloxwich;

[6] Elizabeth Bryan (13), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Charles Henry John Marshall – see also RED LION, Walsall.

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1899 - Advert

“To Let, the RED LION INN, Bloxwich; old licensed house, with capital running ground; immediate possession.

Apply to John Thompson & Son, Limited, Burton-on-Trent.”

London Gazette 17/1/1893

“Receiving Orders. Thomas Collins, the RED LION INN, Leamore, Bloxwich, Staffordshire, Licensed Victualler.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/8/1897

“The 45th annual general meeting of the members of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. William Booker, RED LION INN, Walsall Road, Bloxwich, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 14/4/1900

“The old RED LION at Leamore was the scene of a friendly and cosy gathering last Monday evening. An excellent supper was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Booker, and ample justice was done to the good things which constituted the spread. After the removal of the cloth, the company settled down to spend a pleasant evening in a little harmony. Mr. H. Harper was unanimously voted to the chair, and Mr. T. Selvey to the vice chair.....”

1901 Census

High Street – RED LION INN

- [1] William Booker (53), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Booker (52), wife, born Essington;
- [3] Annie M. Booker (10), daughter, born Luton, Hertfordshire;
- [4] Annie Wootton (21), general servant, born Bloxwich:

William Booker – see also ROBIN HOOD, Willenhall.

It was the headquarters of Bloxwich Strollers FC. [1902], [1910]

Walsall Observer 31/5/1902

“On Monday night a dinner was held at the RED LION HOTEL, Leamore, Bloxwich, in connection with the Bloxwich Strollers Football Club to celebrate the winning of the Staffordshire, Wolverhampton, and Bilston Cups by them during the past season.....”

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1904

“On the application of Mr. J. N. Cotterell, occasional licenses were granted to Mr. A. Gormley for the Walsall Polytechnic Charity Sports, and also to the sports of Walsall Excelsior Cycling Club. Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for an occasional license for William Henry Bratt, RED LION, Bloxwich, at the Conservative sports next Monday. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1904

“A collier named Bryan McNamara, living at 18, Dawson Street, Blakenall, was summoned at the Walsall Police Court on Wednesday to answer a charge of being drunk on the licensed premises of the RED LION, Bloxwich, on July 4th. Inspector Marshall deposed to seeing the man leave the house in a drunken condition, and upon making enquiries he found that he had been turned out by the landlord, who had refused to supply him with drink. A fine of 10s and costs was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/10/1905

“Works Hospital Football Competition.....”

A dinner was held on Saturday at the RED LION HOTEL, Bloxwich, in connection with Messrs. Bunch and Son’s football club, when the medals for the runners-up in the above competition were presented to the team. Mr. Herbert Bunch was in the chair. The dinner was excellently served by Mr. W. H. Bratt. The Chairman gave the toast of ‘His Majesty the King,’ and referred to His Majesty as an ambassador of peace.....”

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1906

“James Arms, 43, Field Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, RED LION, on the 10th inst. Police-constable Gibbs (54) deposed to seeing defendant in a drunken condition after he had stopped him from going into the ROSE AND CROWN. Mr. Clare remarked that defendant put the licensee in a very funny position by entering his house. Defendant was put on his good behaviour for three months.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....”

Mr. Jackson applied for a music license for Saturdays for Mr. William H. Bratt, RED LION, Bloxwich, for the purposes of a lodge of Caledonian Corks, and the Chief Constable did not object. The Bench granted the application up to 10.30pm, on account of it being for Saturdays.”

Walsall Observer 6/3/1909

“Caledonian Corks. The third anniversary dinner of Lodge 55 of the Walsall District was held at the RED LION HOTEL, Leamore, on Monday evening, when about forty sat down to an excellent repast, provided by the Host and Hostess (Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bratt) in their usual style.....”

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last, at the house of Mr. W. H. Bratt, RED LION INN, Green Lane, Leamore, Walsall, Mr. R. Anson, Daw End (President), was in the chair, and there was a large attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 25/9/1909

“Mr. R. A. Cooper had this week given further proof that he has the interests of the workers of Walsall at heart by allowing himself to be initiated an honorary member of Lodge 55 of the loyal Caledonian Corks, and Court 5104 of the Ancient Order of Foresters. The former ceremony took place on Monday evening at the RED LION HOTEL, Bloxwich, while his introduction to Court 5104 took place at the QUEENS HEAD HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Tuesday night.....”

[R. A. Cooper was a Unionist politician, in January 1910 he was elected as a Member of Parliament for the Borough.]

1911 Census

High Street – RED LION INN

- [1] William Henry Bratt (42), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

- [2] Lucy Bratt (40), wife, assisting in business, born Bloxwich;
[3] Lucy Bratt (18), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;
[4] May Bratt (9), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[5] Jennie Chamberlain (20), bar general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week at the house of Mr. William Henry Bratt, RED LION INN, Green Lane, Leamore.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1912

“The newly formed Thursday Football Club played their first home match on their new ground (RED LION ground, Bloxwich), before an interested crowd.....”

Walsall Advertiser 16/11/1912 - Letter to the Editor

“Walsall Thursday F.C.

Sir. In respect of certain rumours which have been much talked of in connection with Mr. W. H. Bratt, RED LION, Bloxwich Road, and the above club, it is the wish of the Thursday F.C. Committee that no blame be attached to any official at the club, as we have at no time made payments for the use of the RED LION Ground.

I have also permission from Mr. Bratt to say that never, during any season, had he accepted payment from any club whatever for use of the ground.

The rumours in question are entirely without foundation. Trusting nothing more will be heard of same, and that whoever commenced this unpleasantness will kindly allow Mr. Bratt and myself to conduct our business unmolested.

Yours obediently, W. P. Woodyatt, Hon. Secretary.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/3/1913

“The first general meeting of the Walsall and District Bowling League was held at the RED LION HOTEL, Leamore, on Tuesday. A good number of representatives from the clubs attended. Mr. W. F. A. Thomas was elected the first president, and a very long list of vice-presidents was proposed. Mr. J. Hudson was made secretary, and Council to consist of two representatives from each club was also chosen. For the first season it was decided to limit the number of clubs to form the League. The following were elected: Leamore, GLOBE, ALEXANDRA, Pleck Liberal and Amery Unionist. The applications of the other clubs will, therefore, stand over until next season. The fixture list will also be arranged at the next meeting, and the rules will then be drawn up.”

Walsall Observer 18/4/1914

“The annual sports of the Walsall Harriers’ Athletic Club on Saturday last, at the RED LION Grounds, Bloxwich, attracted a very small attendance. At the time advertised for the start only 30 people were on the ground – counting the police and an ice cream boy – and at no time were there many over a hundred or so present.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

RED LION, Leamore, 8s 10½d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

RED LION, Leamore. £1 12s 11½d.”

1939 Register

RED LION HOTEL

[1] William H. Satchwell, date of birth 8/3/1879, brass caster, married;

[2] Olive N. Satchwell, date of birth 9/4/1879, publican, married:

Walsall Observer 28/11/1942 - Advert

“Wanted, Youths, 14 to 17, to learn Brass Instruments (provided). Leamore district preferred.

Apply, Sunday, Dec. 6 to Band Room, back of RED LION, Leamore, 10.30am to 12.”

Olive Nellie Satchwell was fined £10, on 3rd July 1944, for selling intoxicating liquor otherwise than during the hours permitted.

Walsall Observer 24/3/1945 - Personal

“Mrs. Westwood, RED LION INN, Leamore, wishes to thank all Customers concerned for the very nice gift they made to her on the occasion of their successful pantomime outing.”

Richard Sidney Manwaring – see also ELEPHANT AND CASTLE.

Closed [1990s]

It was converted into business premises. [2005]

RED LION

11, Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Hugh Barlow [1822] – [1835]
John Osbourn [1841] – [1842]
Joe Osbourne [1844]
Mrs. Mary Osbourne [1845]
Samuel Yardley [1849] – [1851]
James Yardley [] – 1853;
Edward Newton Mason (1853 – [1854]
John Wood [1858]

NOTES

OLD RED LION [1822], [1828], [1834]
RED LION [1845], [1850], [1858]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/12/1843 - Died

“On the 9th instant, at the advanced age of 78, Mr. J. Osbourn, of the RED LION, Ablewell Street, formerly a currier in the borough.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 28/1/1844

“Charles Davis, of Westbromwich, wishes to inform Wright Earp, of Wolverhampton, that he will fight him for £10 a side at 8st 4lb. His money is ready at any time at the RED LION, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/3/1844

“Holden and Harris. The fifth and last deposit between these men has been made at Mr. Osbourn’s RED LION, Walsall, when the toss for ground was won by Harris; The ‘office’ as to ‘the where’ will be given at the RED LION, Ablewell Street; the WIND-MILL, Walsall; or at the Royal Oak, Ashted Row, Birmingham, tomorrow (Monday).”

[The fight for £15 a side came off on Tuesday, 19th March, 1844, before between two to three thousand people and after 45 rounds in 50 minutes George Holden was declared the winner.]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/6/1844

“George Holden, of Walsall, will fight Horridge, of Manchester, at 8st 7lb for from £25 to £50 a side. His money is ready at the RED LION, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/6/1844

“Joseph Hunt, of Walsall, will match his red bitch against any other in England for from £25 to £50 a side, at 13lb weight, and go anywhere to contend, provided expenses are paid. He has also an 18lb or 18½lb dog, that he will back for £10 a side; or a 31lb dog for £5 a side. The money is ready at the RED LION, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/1/1853

“On Wednesday, the license of the RED LION, Ablewell Street, was transferred from James Yardley to E. N. Mason, tailor.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/4/1854 - Died

“April 19, Ann Maria, aged 6 years; and on the 20th, Horatis Ferry, aged 5 years, children of Mr. Edward Newton Mason, of the RED LION INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/5/1854 - Died

“May 17, Walter, aged nearly eight years, son of Mr. E. N. Mason, of the RED LION INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall; and on the 19th, Frederick, aged about three years, another son of Mr. Mason, and the fourth child lost within a month.”

Walsall Free Press 29/5/1858

“Mr. Wilkinson, solicitor, applied on behalf of Mr. Wood, landlord of the RED LION Public-house, Ablewell Street, for a transfer of his license to a house in Navigation Street, to which he is about to remove in consequence of his present house being about to be pulled down in order to allow certain improvements to be made upon the Methodist Chapel. Mr. Wilkinson having explained at some length the law upon the subject, the application was granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/5/1858

“The RED LION INN, Ablewell Street, having been taken down, the magistrates transferred the license to a house in Navigation Street.”

It closed in 1858.

A Wesleyan chapel was built on the site.

Lichfield Mercury 27/4/1906

“Staffordshire Stories by Frederick William Hackwood.

In 1643 soon after the outbreak of the great Civil War.....

The Queen fixed her headquarters and spent the night at a hostelry in Ablewell Street, described by Miss Strickland as ‘an antique house which in the present century was called the RED LION INN.’

The RED LION in Ablewell Street, on the site now occupied by a Wesleyan Chapel, is still well remembered as a commodious double-fronted brick house with stone dressing, of a very ordinary type common to the early Stuart period.....”

RED LION

173, Blue Lane (East), WALSALL

OWNERS

William Russell
Mrs. Frances Russell
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Russell [1868] – 1904);
Mrs. Frances Russell (1904 – 1913);
Frances Gertrude Wilson (1913 – 1923);
Doris Ruby Wilcox (1923 – []
Howard Freeman [1939] – [1943]
Cyril Vernon Sleigh [1944]
Edwin Jones [1945]

NOTES

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/10/1868

“Old J. Gibbs of Walsall will run E. Drayton of Darlaston 120 yards if he will give him two yards start; or J. Turner of Darlaston with four yards in the like distance. Either match for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at W. Russell's, RED LION, Blue Lane, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/1/1870

“Royal Oak Grounds, Burnt Tree, Dudley. J. Russell of Walsall will run J. Wisdom 120 yards if he will allow a yard start, for £5 a side. Money ready at W. Russell's RED LION, Blue Lane, Walsall.”

1871 Census

173, Blue Lane

[1] William Russell (34), chain manufacturer, born Walsall;

- [2] Frances Russell (24), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Russell (9 months), son, twin, born Walsall;
- [4] Frank Russell (9 months), son, twin, born Walsall;
- [5] Anne Smith (19), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Cooper (9), niece, born Walsall;
- [7] Isaac Lockley (14), chainmaker's apprentice, born Walsall;
- [8] Ellen Russell (22), visitor, machinist, born Walsall:

William Russell, chain manufacturer and beer retailer, 173, Blue Lane East. [1872], [1904]

Walsall Free Press 6/12/1873

“John Russell, chain maker, Dudley, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly and refusing to quit the RED LION beer-house, Blue Lane. Fined 5s and costs.

Henry Beebee, chain maker, Dudley, was fined 10s and costs for refusing to quit the same house.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1874

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall took place yesterday, at the Guildhall.....

The undermentioned persons applied for wine licenses.....

William Russell, beerhouse keeper, Blue Lane East. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

William Russell, beerhouse keeper, Blue Lane, applied for a wine licence Granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/2/1876

“On Wednesday, at the Guildhall, William Russell, the RED LION, beerhouse, Blue Lane East, was fined 5s and costs for permitting drunkenness in his house on Saturday night; it being stated by Mr. Highway, who presided, that the penalty would have been heavier but for the good character which the defendant had previously borne.

Robert Somers and John Hogan, two men who were drunk in the house on the night in question, were fined 10s and costs, or 14 days' imprisonment, and were censured for having brought a witness to swear falsely as to their condition.”

1881 Census

173, Blue Lane East – RED LION INN

- [1] William Russell (44), chain maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Russell (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane G. Russell (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Russell (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Matthew H. Russell (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Maria Grissall (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1891 Census

172+173, Blue Lane East – RED LION

- [1] William Russell (54), chain manufacturer, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Russell (44), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane G. Russell (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Russell (17), son, collar maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Walter H. Russell (15), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [6] Garnet W. Russell (8), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [7] George Danne (15), nephew, harness maker, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 27/4/1895

“William Russell, landlord of the RED LION INN, Blue Lane East, was charged with having been drunk on his own licensed premises. He was defended by Mr. J. N. Cotterell.

Detective Harper said that about 7.45pm on Thursday, the 18th inst, in the course of enquiries, he visited, along with PC Bott, of Moxley, defendant's house. He asked Mrs. Russell if he could see him, but she answered ‘I would rather you did not see him; can't I do as well?’ As witness was returning from the back yard defendant stood by the back door very drunk. He subsequently revisited the house accompanied by PS Curtis, charged Russell with the offence, and told him he should report him.

PC Bott corroborated.

Mr. Cotterell in his defence, explained that his client had been brewing all the previous day, and, being naturally very tired, was lying down in the private room when the detective asked for him. The reason Detective Harper did not charge him on the first visit, was, he submitted, because he was doubtful as to the state of the man, and that it would be best to get a brother officer to see defendant. Mr. Cotterell laid significance on the fact that the sergeant had not been called. He also mentioned that his client had kept the house for 34 years, and had only one complainant made against him, that occurring some twenty years ago.

Davis Newman, the secretary of a club held at the house, said he had never seen defendant worse for beer, although during the twenty years he had had constant communication with him.

Mr. Bartlett, hop merchant, Bull Ring, Birmingham, said he called on defendant regularly during the last 25 years, and had always found him 'infinitely more sober than the majority of publicans.'

Mrs. Russell gave evidence in support of Mr. Cotterell's statement. She was quite certain her husband was not drunk. Defendant was also sworn, and denied that he was drunk.

The Bench said they were not prepared to convict, and therefore must dismiss the case."

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1895

"On Monday afternoon Mr. T. Howard Stanley (coroner for the borough) held an inquest at the RED LION INN, Blue Lane East, on the body of Caroline Lees (68), wife of Thomas Lees, stirrup ironmaker, 4 house, 6 court, Blue Lane East, who died last Saturday morning from the loss of blood through the breaking of a blood vessel.

Thomas Lees identified the body as that of his wife, whom he said had for some time been suffering from a bad leg, and had been attended by Dr. McHardy. He left the house on Saturday morning at 5.30 to go to work at Mr. Frost's, Fieldgate. He left his wife in the kitchen asleep on the sofa. About 11.30 the same morning his son brought him word that his wife was dead. Only a little grandchild, who was living with them, was left in the house with his wife. Deceased was insured. She has not been able to get about for some time. She slept downstairs.

John Lees, a grandchild, stated that he got his breakfast at eight o'clock on the morning in question, and soon afterwards left the house. He left his grandmother lying on the sofa.

Margaret Lees, wife of Thomas Lees, 30, Blue Lane East, brass-dresser, deposed to her little daughter, Nellie, going to the house of deceased, who was her mother, about 9.30, and immediately returning with the exclamation that her grandmother was lying back in the kitchen. Witness was alarmed, and immediately went to the house, and saw her mother lying in a corner of the room doubled up. There was a great amount of blood on the front and back kitchen floor, and also bloody footmarks were plainly visible between the two kitchens. She was dead. Witness went for Dr. Shore.

Dr. Shore said he visited the deceased, whom he found quite dead. He made an outward examination, and said that in his opinion she had practically bled to death from the bursting of a blood-vessel in the left leg. There was a tremendous quantity of blood on the front kitchen floor, and he thought deceased would not have time to call for help, for she would have bled to death in a very short time.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned by the jury."

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

"The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The following is a return of licensees who have been proceeded against during the year ending August 30th, 1895.....

William Russell, RED LION INN, Blue Lane East, for having been drunk on his own licensed premises, dismissed."

Walsall Advertiser 7/8/1897

"Mr. Stanley, Coroner, held an inquest on Thursday afternoon, at the RED LION INN, Blue Lane, relative to the death of Joseph Tuft, aged six, living in Birchills Street. It seemed that the boy, along with others, was playing cricket, but they quarrelled and separated. Deceased and some others went to the canal side, and whilst reaching into the water deceased fell and drowned. A youth named George Jones got him to the side of the water, but he was quite dead. His mother and another woman gave evidence to hearing some boys saying that deceased was pushed in because he would not let another boy have his innings, but the coroner told the jury there was nothing to support this statement. Verdict, Found Drowned."

Walsall Observer 18/8/1900

"William Russell, landlord of the RED LION INN, Blue Lane, was summoned for permitting drunkenness, and also for supplying intoxicating drink to a drunken person, and a man named Michael Jurdon, of Brighton Terrace, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises.

Mr. E. A. Cotterell (Messrs. J. N. and E. A. Cotterell) appeared for the defence.

The Chief Constable personally gave evidence, and stated that on the 4th of this month he went round in company with Detective-sergeant Haycock and Detective Burrell visiting public houses, and about ten minutes to eleven he entered the RED LION INN, and in the passage near the tap room noticed a man named Jurdon leaning against a wall very drunk. He asked him how long he had been there and he replied, 'A goodish while.' He also asked him what he had had to drink and he replied he had had a pint of ale for threepence, and he could get that anywhere. He called for the landlord, and a woman he believed to be Mrs. Russell said, 'He will get nothing to drink here,' or 'He will get nothing more to drink here,' but witness was not sure which she said. Mr. and Mrs. Russell afterwards ordered him to leave.

Detectives Haycock and Burrell gave similar evidence.

Mr. Cotterell for the defence stated the circumstances under which the man Jurdon came to be in the house were that at about 9.30pm he went into the RED LION INN in connection with the money club, and paid his subscription. Part of the arrangement was that when a member paid his subscription he should be entitled to a pint of beer. He left just before ten o'clock, and on his way out enquired if his wife had left the jug for the supper beer. The landlady said, 'No' and he then said he would go out and enquire for his wife. The second time he came in he simply asked if his wife had been in, and he was not supplied with any drink at all, in fact he was simply asking the question at the bar when the Chief Constable and his officers came in. He contended it was very hard on a publican if he was to be convicted simply because a man came in to his bar window under the influence of drink, but his defence was that the man was not drunk, and had only one glass of ale and a glass of whisky all the night.

The man Jurdon was then called, also the landlord and landlady.

The magistrates announced that the cases against Russell would be dismissed, and that the majority of the Bench had decided to dismiss the case against Jurdon also.”

1901 Census

173, Blue Lane East – RED LION INN

- [1] William Russell (64), publican and chain maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Russell (54), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Russell (27), son, horse collar maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter Russell (24), son, currier of leather, born Walsall;
- [5] Garnett Russell (18), son, currier of leather, born Walsall;
- [6] Gertrude Wilson (19), niece, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

In the case of the RED LION, Blue Lane East, Mr. J. N. Cotterell appeared for Mrs. Frances Russell, the owner and holder of the license, which he explained, had been taken out by her husband for more than forty years.

Mr. A. J. Llewellyn stated that in his opinion the property, unlicensed, was worth £22 per annum, the tenant paying rates. The accommodation included entrance hall, bar, tap room, smoke room, two sitting rooms, and the usual out offices, a club room, and five bedrooms. There were also several buildings at the rear.

The Magistrates’ Clerk then intimated that the objection to the house was on the question of structure as well as to value, and eventually the case was referred to the adjourned sessions, Mr. Cotterell intimating that any alteration required by the Justices would be immediately carried out.....

Adjourned, but intimation that the magistrates would be prepared to renew under certain undertakings.”

1911 Census

Blue Lane East – RED LION

- [1] Frances Russell (64), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Gertrude Wilson (29), niece, domestic help, born Walsall;
- [3] Doris Ruby Wilcox (14), niece, milliner, born Walsall:

Mrs. Frances Russell, beer retailer, 173, Blue Lane East. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 2/8/1913 - Deaths

“On the 30th ult, at the RED LION, Blue Lane East, Frances, widow of the late William Russell, aged 66 years. Funeral 12 o’clock Monday next, Ryecroft Cemetery.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1914 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of our dear father, William Russell, late of the RED LION, Blue Lane East, who died February 7th 1904.”

Walsall Observer 14/2/1914

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Miss Frances Gertrude Wilson, RED LION INN, Blue Lane East, was unanimously elected a member of this society.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
RED LION INN, Blue Lane East. £1 7s 10d.”

A wine license was granted pre 1921.

1939 Register

173, Blue Lane East – Public House

- [1] Howard Freeman, date of birth 20/8/1897, public house manager, married;
- [2] Ethel M. Freeman, dob 9/6/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Pamela D. M. (Freeman) Bradley, dob 5/11/1936, under school age, single;
- [4] Catherine M. (Atkins) Jones, dob 30/9/1916, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 14/8/1943

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society held on Thursday at the RED LION, Blue Lane East, Walsall, Mr. C. W. Garfield (president) occupied the chair.....”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall

magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

Mr. Gordon Hawley appeared for the Holt Brewery Co. Ltd., Birmingham, and the licensees of the COTTAGE INN, Harden Road; RED LION, Blue Lane; CROWN AND CUSHION, Bridgeman Street; PRESIDENT LINCOLN, Stafford Street; and GREEN ROCK TAVERN, Blakenall – John Cockbill, Howard Freeman, Sidney Canner, May Middleton (now of 39, Caledon Street), and Bertram Albert Stone (now of 80, Hollemeadow Avenue). Mr. Hawley said the purchase of coal at these houses had always been left to the licensees, and the brewery company would have no reason to be suspicious that the permitted amounts were being exceeded. Moreover, as far as the licensees were concerned, in all the cases except one the coal was delivered without being specifically ordered, and the trouble would have been avoided if the merchants had refused to deliver without the requisite permits, which the licensees could have obtained if they had applied for them.

Stone was fined £2, the other licensees £1 each, and the brewery company 10s in each case.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION INN, Blue Lane East. £10 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 25/11/1944

“On the application of Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, Walsall magistrates (Messrs. F. Cliff Tibbits, Fred Evans, and H. Shermans, and Mrs. E. A. Brockhurst) on Wednesday granted an appeal aid certificate to Cyril Vernon Sleigh, of the RED LION, Blue Lane. Mr. Hodgkinson stated that Mr. Sleigh desired to appeal against the penalty of £70 imposed on him recently in a prosecution for selling after hours (but not against the conviction) and he had not the means to proceed. An appeal now was considerably more costly than it used to be, as owing to the shortage of counsel their fees had gone up ‘considerably more than for the humbler branch of the profession to which I belong’ added Mr. Hodgkinson. In the ordinary way, the cost would be at least £35, but under the appeal aid certificate it would not be anything like so much.

Giving evidence of his means, Mr. Sleigh said he was under notice to leave the RED LION in consequence of the conviction. He was working and earned £5 and £6 a week, but he had no money available for an appeal.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/12/1944

“On an appeal by Mr. Cyril Sleigh, licensee of the RED LION, Blue Lane, Walsall, a fine of £70 imposed on him by the magistrates for selling intoxicants after hours was reduced to £30 at the Walsall Sessions yesterday.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

New members..... Mr. Edwin Jones, RED LION, Blue Lane East.”

The license was surrendered.

It closed in December 1960.

RED LION

20, Navigation Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Fisher, Alrewas [1861]

Mrs. Harriet Sheldon, Walsall Road, Wednesbury [1872]

Edwin James

Ann Maria James

Bloxwich Brewery [1910]

William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1923)

LICENSEES

J Walker [1858]

William Fisher [1859] – [1870]

Michael Hall [1871] – [1873];

John Parkes [1880] – [1881];

William Griffiths [] – 1888;

Edwin James (1888 – 1906);
Mrs. Ann Maria James (1906 – 1910);
Edwin Jones (1910 – 1922);
Harry Thomas Guy (1922 – 1924);
Arthur Dawson (1924 – 1939);
William Smith (1939 – 1954);
Joseph Heeley (1954 – 1961);
Thomas Scott Hodge (1961):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

J. Walker, beerhouse, 20, Navigation Street. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 26/11/1859 - Notice

“The Public are respectfully informed that a Lodge of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, (Leeds Unity), called the ‘Hather-ton Lodge,’ has been opened at the house of Mr. William Fisher, known as the RED LION, Navigation Street.
Any Person of good health, under the age of Forty, may become a member by applying to the Host.
Entrance Fee, Five Shillings, until the Ninth of January next.
Walsall, November 22, 1859.”

1861 Census

20, Navigation Street – RED LION

- [1] William Fisher (36), victualler, born Alrewas, Staffordshire;
- [2] Hannah Fisher (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William E. S. Fisher (3), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 27/2/1864

“On Friday night, a labourer named Thomas Silvester, aged 74, who lodged at the RED LION, Navigation Street, died suddenly. At half-past eight he partook of his supper, and then appeared to be in excellent health. At nine o’clock he retired to bed, and about eleven o’clock was taken suddenly ill, and expired after about five minutes.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/8/1866

“Charles [sic] Fisher, landlord of the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having refused to admit Police-constable Benton into his house on the 23rd July.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/2/1870

“On Saturday last Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, held an inquest at the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, on the body of Julia Kirk, aged 19, brass dresser. The evidence went to show that on the preceding Wednesday deceased was delivered of a child, but the midwife who was in attendance upon her, being unable to remove the afterbirth, asked some one of the family to fetch a surgeon. Deceased’s mother started to get a parish note, but being lame she could not walk as fast as could be wished, and by the time she reached the surgery of Mr. Palmer, that gentleman had gone out, but his son at once went in quest of him. Unsuccessful attempts were afterwards made to find another surgeon, and it was half-past twelve before Mr. Palmer reached the house. In the meantime the umbilical cord had been broken, owing to the nurse holding or pulling it, while the poor woman was tossing about in great pain, and the latter lost much blood. Mr. Palmer, however, removed the afterbirth and stopped the haemorrhage, and also did all that was possible in other ways to avert fatal consequences, but without success, the woman expiring between two and three o’clock. The jury found that deceased died in consequence of inability on the part of the midwife, and not being able to procure medical attendance in proper time.”

1871 Census

20, Navigation Street – RED LION INN

- [1] Michael Hall (59), publican, born Melton [Melton Mowbray?], Leicestershire;
- [2] Mary Hall (57), wife, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;
- [3] Jane Hall (21), daughter, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;
- [4] Thomas Hall (19), son, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;
- [5] Alice Desborough (15), domestic servant, born Peterborough, Northamptonshire:

Walsall Free Press 8/2/1873

“On Tuesday evening the Railway employés held their annual supper in the RED LION public house, Navigation Street, where an excellent repast was served up in a style highly creditable to Mr. Hall’s establishment. The room was tastefully decorated with flags, banners, and devices. There were also several mottoes which, as they differed from those usually seen in such places, are worthy of notice. On a red ground, in beautifully shaded white, with initial green letters, were the words, ‘Blessed is he that provideth for the sick.' On the opposite side of the room, on a white ground, in red letters, also delicately shaded were the words, 'God bless the Cottage Hospital.' Another motto was, 'The comforter is come.' The chair was occupied by Mr. Fearn....."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1881

"Yesterday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the RED LION public-house, Navigation Street, on the body of Eliza Heap (22), the finding of whose lifeless body in the canal had already been reported in the Post. After hearing the evidence of Annie Arkwright, one of the deceased's companions, and Acting-sergeant Mercer, who found the body, the jury returned a verdict of Found Drowned."

1881 Census

20, Navigation Street – RED LION INN

- [1] John Parkes (32), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah R. Parkes (23), wife, born Chil _____ Coton, Warwickshire;
- [3] Margaret A. King (14), domestic servant, born Penkridge:

Walsall Advertiser 13/1/1885 - Advert

"For Sale, Pony, Trap, and Harness. Reason for selling, no further use.
Apply, J. Parkes, RED LION, Navigation Street."

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1888 - Advert

"To be Sold, cheap, Drawing-room Suite; compelled to sell on account of want of room; quite new.
E. James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street."

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1888 - Advert

"To be Sold, cheap, Dining-room Suite; compelled to sell on account of want of room; quite new.
E. James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street."

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1889 - Advert

"Rowland's New York Circus, Top of Park Street, one minute's walk from Railway Station, Walsall.....
Friday, May 31st. Benefit of the National United Order of Free Gardeners. Extra Attractions, under the Distinguished Patronage of His Worship the Mayor (Samuel Russell, Esq); His Worship the Mayor of Wednesbury (Wilson Lloyd, Esq, JP); F. Davies, Esq, and other Honorary Member of this Order.
The Rycroft Brass Band will be in attendance and play in the arena. The Members will assemble at Bro. James's, the RED LION, Navigation Street, about 6.30 and after parading Bradford Street, will march up to the Circus."

Walsall Advertiser 24/12/1889 - Advert

"Lost, on Tuesday, Pug Pup, answers to the name of 'Nap.'
Any one returning the same to E. James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street, will receive reward."

Walsall Advertiser 26/4/1890

"Walsall Typographical Society. The members of this society held their annual dinner on Monday last, at the society house, RED LION INN, Navigation Street. The President of the branch, Mr. T. C. Edwards (Advertiser office), occupied the chair....."

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1896

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Edwin James. RED LION INN, Navigation Street, Walsall....."

Walsall Advertiser 18/10/1890

"We are requested to state that, at a fully representative meeting of the Liberal Association of The Pleck Ward, held at the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Walter Hughes was by a unanimous vote adopted as the Liberal candidate in the coming contest for The Pleck Ward."

1891 Census

20, Navigation Street

- [1] Edwin James (36), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann James (29), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Clara James (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Clara Partridge (18), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 19/12/1891 - Advert

"Handsome Bay Cob, with black points, 14.1, 5 years old; fast and fine action; suit doctor. Veterinary examination permitted.
Owner no further use for it. Very cheap.
E. James, RED LION, Navigation Street, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1892

“The Free Gardeners.

On Monday evening last, the anniversary dinner of ‘Good Samaritan Lodge,’ No.992, of the above Order was held at the house of Bro. E. James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street, between 40 and 50 members and friends being present.....”

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last, at the house of Mr. Edwin James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 31/10/1896

“Yesterday afternoon an inquest was held by Mr. T. Howard Stanley (borough coroner), at the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, touching the death of John French (63), of 61, Navigation Street, greengrocer. On Thursday, the 22nd inst, he sustained some slight injuries owing to being thrown out of a trap while being driven into Birmingham, and on Saturday morning as he was alighting from a trap in a yard in which his warehouse is situate in Bradford Street, he fell on a beam. He did not at the time imagine that he was much hurt, but his injury turned out more serious than at first anticipated, one or two of his ribs being fractured, and penetrating the lungs. He was attended by Dr. Oliver, but died on Wednesday last from inflammation of the lungs, caused by broken ribs, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/5/1897 - Advert

“Two Brewings of Grains (weekly) to be disposed of.
James, RED LION, Navigation Street, Walsall.”

Edwin James was president of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society. [1900], [1902]

Walsall Observer 22/9/1900

“Free Gardeners. On Monday evening last, there was a large muster of the members and friends of Good Samaritan Lodge, at the RED LION, Navigation Street, for the purpose of making presentations to two past masters of the lodge, Bros. Holmes and Osbourne.....”

1901 Census

20, Navigation Street – RED LION HOTEL

- [1] Edwin James (47), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann M. James (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Clara S. James (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Hannah Arblaster (18), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1902

“The first meeting of the newly-elected Executive Committee of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the president, RED LION INN, Navigation Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Edwin James, the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, and there was a good attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1905

“On Saturday morning Mr. T. H. Stanley (Borough Coroner) held an inquest at the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, relative to the death of James Swain (68), of 31, Marsh Street, a bricklayer’s labourer. Mrs. Swain said that on April 29th her husband was very ill with vomiting and pain. In the early morning of June 1st she noticed he was worse, and he gradually became unconscious and died. She sent for a doctor as soon as she possibly could. Dr. O’Meara said the man was dead when he arrived, and he formed the opinion the he had died from colic acting on a weak heart and causing syncope. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1906

“The monthly meeting of the meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at the house of Mr. Edwin James, RED LION INN, Navigation Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 22/9/1906 - Deaths

“On the 16th inst, at his residence, RED LION, Navigation Street, Walsall, Edwin James, in his 53rd year. Deeply mourned by all. Mrs. James desires to express her heartfelt thanks for the kind sympathetic messages she had received in her bereavement, and wishes to thank those who have rendered such an impressive tribute to her late husband’s memory.”

AND

“By the death of Mr. Edwin James, landlord of the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, the licensing trade in this district has lost one of its most respected members and able advocates. Mr. James had been in failing health for some six or seven years, a victim of lung troubles, and it was largely due to the tender nursing of a devoted wife that he was able to resist the enemy so long. For two or three weeks, however, it became evident that the end was fast approaching, and he passed quietly away on Sunday morning.

By trade the deceased was a printer, and for some years a most valued first-hand on the staff of the Walsall Advertiser. In his younger days he was a thorough athlete, being one of the best sprinters in the Midlands; and he more than once took part in the then noted Sheffield handicaps. He entered the licensing trade in July, 1888, and joined the Licensed Victuallers' Association on becoming the tenant of the house he had occupied since, and of which he ultimately became the owner. In the following year his personality had already marked him out as one destined to be a leader, and he was elected to the committee and appointed junior auditor, succeeding to the treasurership in 1890. In 1894, on the death of Mr. George Maund, he was elected President, with Mr. William Brown as vice-president. This post he occupied for the following nine years, and proved a fearless advocate in defence of what is considered in the 'trade' as its rights. During his presidency he had always a sensible, well-thought speech to make at the annual banquets, usually coupled with a little dry humour that was inherent in the man; and there is no doubt his presidential term added much to the dignity and importance of the association. This the members recognised tangibly in October 1898, when, at the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, they marked their esteem for him by presenting him with a marble clock, with engraved panel, and to Mrs. James a lady's Morocco hand bag, with silver monogram. He retired from office in August, 1903, owing to failing health, and nominated a successor in Mr. John Boys. On his retirement he was presented with a handsomely-illuminated address. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday and was largely attended.....”

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1910

“Some fifteen applications for the transfers of public houses were made to the justices, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

Temporary transfers had previously been granted and in all cases the full transfer was sanctioned, the Chief Constable making no objection.....

RED LION, Navigation Street, (executors of the will of the late Ann Maria James) to Edwin Jones.”

1911 Census

20, Navigation Street – RED LION

- [1] Edwin Jones (30), licensed victualler, born Brownhills;
- [2] Lavinia Jones (29), wife, married 6 years, born Brownhills;
- [3] Edwin Jones (5), son, born Brownhills;
- [4] Violet Lavinia Jones (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Eva Shingler (15), general servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 29/6/1912

“The members of the ‘Good Samaritan’ Lodge (No.992) in connection with the Bilston, Walsall and Cannock District of the National order of Free Gardeners assembled at their headquarters, the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, on Monday evening.....”

Walsall Advertiser 27/7/1912

“William Wright (25), hawker, of no fixed abode, and Joseph Mansell (17), hawker, of 9, Portland Street, appeared in the dock charged with stealing a bicycle value £3, the property of Charles Martin licensee, of Bridgtown Tavern, Bridgtown, near Cannock, on Wednesday Jul. 17th.

Prosecutor stated that at 3 o'clock on the day mentioned he went into the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, leaving his bicycle in the yard. He had a drink and eventually got into conversation with the two prisoners, and treated them to half-a-pint of beer each. They left before he did and when he went for his machine it was missing.

Annie Sophia Hill, dealer in cycle accessories, etc, of 14, Lower High Street, Wednesbury, stated that on the night of the Wednesday in question the two prisoners entered her shop and asked her to buy the cycle for ‘a quid.’ She refused, and becoming suspicious gave information to the police.

Police-sergeant Harris (stationed at Wednesbury) deposed to going in search of the two men, who had been described by the previous witness. He eventually found them in the GLOBE INN, and upon telling them that they answered the description of two men who had been trying to sell a bicycle, Mansell replied, ‘I know nothing about it,’ while Wright replied, ‘I bought the machine last week and I wanted to sell it.’ Later witness found the machine at a lodging house locked up in a room.

Both prisoners pleaded guilty, and Wright, who had several previous convictions for felony, was given the maximum sentence – six months' hard labour – and Mansell, who promised to keep out of trouble in future was put on probation for six months.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

RED LION, Navigation Street. £0 12s 6½d.”

Walsall Observer 22/7/1918 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of my dear mother, Ann Maria James (late of the RED LION, Navigation Street), who died on June 18, 1910. To memory ever dear. Clara.”

Walsall Observer 26/4/1924

“At a meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Provident Society, held at the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, Walsall, Mr. T. Hawker (President) in the chair, the following were elected.....”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“.....by 1925, the self contained yard had a small lawn, fowl pen and pig sty, the Public Bar was 14’ x 9’6” x 8’8” with a Tap Room, Smoke Room and Bar Parlour.....”

Rugeley Times 22/7/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers Society, held on Thursday, at ROUGH HAY TAVERN, Darlaston, there was a good attendance of members.....

William Smith, RED LION, Navigation Street were elected members of the society.”

1939 Register

20, Navigation Street (3 of 4)

[1] William Smith, date of birth 24/9/1903, coal miner, heavy work, married;

[2] Annie (Smith) Marshall, dob 10/11/1899, bar general, married;

[3] Beryl (Smith) Horton, dob 26/9/1920, office clerk, house furnisher’s shop, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION, Navigation Street, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 27/9/1941 - Personal

“Congratulations to Beryl, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, RED LION, Navigation Street, Walsall, on attaining her 21st birthday, 26th September. Best wishes.

Husband, Mom, Dad, Jack.”

Walsall Observer 11/4/1942

“He had been frequenting billiards halls and dog racing tracks, and no doubt he owes his present position to excessive gambling,’ stated Superintendent Raybould at the Walsall Police Court on Wednesday, of John Edward Sutton (18), of 5, Newbold Street, when charged with stealing £25 belonging to his uncle, Winston Wellington, and also with stealing a wristlet watch, valued at £2 15s, the property of John William Smith, of the RED LION, Navigation Street. He pleaded guilty to ‘having some of the money’, and also to the second charge, and asked for six other cases to be taken into consideration. He was sent to gaol for three months. Wellington stated that he missed £25 from a wallet in his suit case when he was living at 5, Newbold Street, and Sutton, when asked about it, offered to repay £10 at a rate of 10s a week if he kept it out of the hands of the police.

Detective-constable Jukes said Sutton, when arrested, had £9 in his possession, and he stated that he had won £6 of it on a dog at Wolverhampton. He denied that he had stolen £25, but admitted taking £10 over a period of three weeks.

Smith said he missed his watch from the pocket of his overcoat after it had been hanging in a billiards hall near to where Sutton was sitting.

It was stated that Sutton, who was sent to approved school in 1935 and discharged on a license in 1939, was earning an average wage of more than £4 a week. The other offences which he had admitted included the theft of three cycles, overcoat from outside a shop in Wolverhampton, pants, vest, etc. from a market stall. All those articles had been recovered.

The magistrates (Mrs. Dewhurst and Mr. A. E. Hurst) made an order for the £9 found on Sutton to be handed to Wellington.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION, Navigation Street. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION INN, Navigation Street. £5 5s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/3/1945 - Personal

“Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Daughter, RED LION, Navigation Street, wish to thank all Relatives, Friends and Customers, for their enquiries and sympathy, and wish to say that their son, John, is now well on the way to recovery.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 30th March 1961.

£4,950 Compensation was paid on 22nd September 1961.

It closed on 31st December 1961.

RED LION

69, (32+33), (33), (32), Park Street, Townend, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Whitehouse
Henry Highway, Sutton Road, Walsall [1872]
Henry Vernon Jessop, druggist, Walsall [1881]
Mary Holden
Robinson's Brewery, Burton on Trent [1894], [1901]
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries (acquired in 1903)

LICENSEES

John Sheldon [1798] – [1801]
John Smith [1813]
John Sheldon [1818] – [1830]
Thomas Hutchinson [1832] – [1835]
W Lates [1839]
William Nightingale Jones [1841] – [1842]
Samuel Cleobury [1845] – [1850]
Thomas Southan [1851] – [1852]
Benjamin Southan [1852]
Thomas Braddard [] – 1857);
Thomas Cook (1857 – 1866);
George Middleton (1866 – []
H Highway [1866]
Edward Middleton (1866 – []
James Bradbury Holt [] – 1868);
John Holden (1868 – 1885);
Mary Holden (1885 – []);
Joseph Jelley (1885 – 1888);
John Fowler (1888 – 1889);
Thomas Charles Cooper (1889 – 1892);
Claud Hammond Cooper (1892 – 1894);
Edmund Nagington (1894 – 1896);
Charles Henry John Marshall (1896);
Richard Frederick 'Fred' Morris (1896 – 1899);
Edmund Nagington (1899);
Frederick William Palfrey (1899);
Thomas Jones (1899 – 1901);
Christopher Keeling (1901 – 1902);
Ernest Arthur Hennessy (1902 – 1903);
Albert Ernest Hibell (1903 – 1904);
Harry Bramidge (1904 – 1906);
Valentine Joseph Gunter (1906 – 1907);
John Harry Brown (1907 – 1909);
Frederick Harry Brown [1908] ?
Frank Cocken (1909 – 1912);
William Cyrus Hodges (1912 – 191_);
Annie Maud Hodges (191_ – 1916);
Frederick Lord (1916 – 191_);
Lucy Alice Lord (191_ – 1918);
Thomas Alfred Tarry (1918 – [1921]);
Thomas McCloud [] – 1920);
James Loynes (1920 – 192_);
Arthur Bouchier Pilsher (192_ – 1926);
William Hobson (1926 – 1928);

Edward Webster (1928 – 1929);
Thomas Purton Cole (1929 – 1948);
Frank Evans (1948 – 1952);
Roy Rossiter (1952 – 1954);
Thomas Melvin Price (1954 – 1957);
Graham Owen Green (1957 – 1958);
George Ferguson Gillmore (1958 – 1959);
Harold Yates (1959 – 1964);
Arthur James Bytheway (1964 – [1966])
Ted Stuart [1981]
Ian Maullin [2007]

NOTES

32, Park Street [1860], [1861], [1872]
33, Park Street [1868], [1870], [1881]
32+33, Park Street [1871], [1873]
69, Park Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940], [2005]

RED LION HOTEL [1934]

A carrier left here on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for Birmingham.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/10/1798 - Advert

“Freehold. To be Sold by Auction, by Randle Walker, on Monday the 8th day of October, 1798, between the hours of Two and Four o'clock in the Afternoon, at Mr. Smith's, The GOLDEN CUP, on Park Street, Walsall, subject to Conditions then to be produced.

Lot I. All the Messuage or Tenement, consisting of a Cellar, Kitchen, Shop, and three Lodging Rooms, situate in Park Street, in Walsall, in the Occupation of Mr. Joseph Platt, at a yearly rent of £5 6s.

Lot II. All the Messuage or Tenement, adjoining the above Premises, known by the RED LION, consisting of three exceeding good Vaults, Kitchen, Parlour, and back Kitchen, five Lodging Rooms, a Pump of excellent Water, Brewhouse, and Chamber over the same, with an entire Yard, in the Occupation of Mr. John Sheldon; also a small tenement adjoining, in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Ketland, together at a yearly rent of £18.

The Premises are under Lease, herein, four years are unexpired at lady Day next.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/3/1830 - Died

“On the 13th instant, Mrs. Sheldon, wife of Mr. John Sheldon, of the RED LION, public-house, Park Street, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/7/1832 - Advert

“Sale at the GEORGE, Park Street, Walsall, By J. Farrington.

To be Sold by Auction, on the premises on Thursday next, July 19, all the excellent Household Furniture, capital brewing utensils, well seasoned ale casks, sow in pig, two capital carts, and a variety of other effects belonging to Mr. Hutchinson, who has taken to the RED LION INN.

Sale to commence at ten precisely.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/8/1832 - Died

“On Wednesday last, at Walsall, after a severe illness, Mr. John Sheldon, late of the RED LION INN, Park Street, in that borough, aged 60.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/8/1839 - Advert

“The RED LION INN, Park Street, Walsall.

To Be Disposed Of, The Goodwill, Licenses, and Immediate Possession, of the above well-established Public House, most desirably situated in Park Street, Walsall, and now carried on by Mr. W. Lates, who is leaving on account of other engagements.

The above is an excellent opportunity to persons about to commence in the public business, as the premises are in excellent condition, and are well situated for doing a good in and out door trade; the house is situated in the principal thoroughfare to Wolverhampton and Stafford.

The Stock and Furniture to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply to Farrington and Son, appraisers and general agents, Walsall, if by letter, post paid.”

1841 Census

Park Street

[1] W. N. Jones (25), publican;

[2] Maria Jones (15);

- [3] John Jones (5), born Staffordshire;
[4] William Jones (3), born Staffordshire;
[5] George Jones (1), born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/1/1842 - Advert

“Walsall. The RED LION INN, Park Street.

To Be Disposed Of, the Licenses and Possession of the above old and well-established Inn, in the occupation of Mr. Jones, who is leaving the town. The coming-in easy.

The above is an opportunity which seldom offers in obtaining so good a situation in the Public Business, being in the principal thoroughfare of Walsall.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Jones, the proprietor, or to H. Farrington, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 14/2/1846

“On Wednesday, at the Guildhall, a complaint was made against Samuel Cleobury, of the RED LION, Park Street, by Police-constable Woolley, for having kept his house open beyond the time allowed. The officer stated that he visited defendant’s house at one o’clock on the morning of the 23rd ult, and saw eight or nine men there, several of whom were fighting, causing a great disturbance also in the neighbourhood. Nearly the whole of the company as well as the landlord were intoxicated. Cleobury was fined 15s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1852 - Advert

“H. Farrington respectfully announces that he has received instructions from the executors of the late Mr. James Whitehouse to Offer by Public Auction, the second week in February, the following very valuable Estates in Walsall.....

Park Street. All that old-established and well-frequented Inn, known as the RED LION, in the occupation of Mr. Southan.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/3/1852 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Henry Farrington, by direction of the Trustees of the will of the late Mr. James Whitehouse, deceased, at the NEW INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 16th day of March, 1852, at five o’clock in the afternoon.....

Lot 37. All that old and well-frequented Inn, known as the RED LION, situate in Park Street, Walsall, being one of the best business streets in the town, and near to the South Staffordshire Railway Station, and now occupied by Mr. B. Southan.

The above contains a large Bar, Tap-room, good Parlour, Kitchen, Brewhouse, and malt-room over, good Cellars, excellent Lodge-room, five good Bed-rooms, Pump of Water, Stables, Piggery, and other conveniences.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1852

“Benjamin Southan, keeper of the RED LION public-house, Park Street, and Charles Kitson and Aaron Clansey, two butty miners, were charged with stealing £9 from the person of Thomas Bonehill, shopkeeper, in the house of the former prisoner, on Tuesday morning. From the evidence it appeared that on Monday night, a little after 11 o’clock, Bonehill went to Southan’s house, and shortly afterwards commenced playing at cards, and continued doing so for several hours. They played at ‘all fours,’ and the stake for the last game was as much as £1 18s, which Bonehill won. The other parties then commenced quarrelling with him. The prisoner Kitson kicked the chair from under him, Clansey dragging him into the passage, and put his hand in his (Bonehill’s) pocket, and robbed him, and the landlord during the time put out the gas. The case lasted upwards of four hours. Mr. W. H. Duignan was engaged for the prosecutor, and Mr. Wilkinson for all the prisoners. The magistrates thought there was a prima facie case made out, and committed the prisoners for trial at the borough sessions.”

[At the Borough Sessions, in November, 1852, all the defendants were acquitted.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/7/1854 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately that excellent and well-known Old Licensed Inn, the RED LION, situate in Park Street, Walsall, the principal thoroughfare through the town, and close to the Railway Station. The Proprietor having other engagements is the sole cause of his leaving.

The Valuation, including Premium, will be about £200.

For particulars, apply to John Osbourn, auctioneer, Walsall.”

Thomas Cook = Thomas Cooke

Walsall Free Press 31/10/1857

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION INN, Park Street, remanded from last week upon a charge of allowing card-playing in his house, again came up. Mr. W. H. Duignan, who appeared for him on the former occasion, informed the Bench that he desired to withdraw his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty; but as information had not been laid by the police, but by an informer, who would receive half the fine, he trusted the Bench would not allow it to be a very beneficial speculation for him. A penalty of 5s was inflicted.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

Thomas Cooke, RED LION, Park Street, for having permitted card playing in his house, and for which he had on the 28th of October last been fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 27/11/1858

“About ten o’clock, on the morning of Tuesday week, James Pearce, spur-fitter in the employment of Mr. Eglington, Park Street, went in company with several of his shop-mates to the RED LION, Public-house, Park Street, and remained there drinking till five o’clock in the afternoon, at which time Pearce, who was very tipsy, requested to be supplied with Port wine, which however the landlady, seeing the state he was in, refused to fill; but she having occasion to leave the tap-room, Pearce seized the opportunity and helped himself to half-a-pint of rum, and then to three half-quarters of gin; but while in the act of drinking the gin he fell insensible upon the floor and was conveyed home, and remained in that state till Wednesday morning, when he expired. Mr. Pitt, surgeon, who made a post-mortem of the body, found the brain had been so injured by excessive drinking as to cause death. On the Friday following, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner of the Borough, held an inquest upon the body of the deceased at the NAGS HEAD public-house, Rushall Street, at which the jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Excessive Drinking.”

Walsall Free Press 12/3/1859

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION Public-house, Park Street, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours on Sunday last; but as it appears that one of the parties seen in the house was a soldier who was billeted with Mr. Cook, and the other a party from Birmingham, the case was dismissed.”

1861 Census

32, Park Street – RED LION

- [1] Thomas Cook (46), victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Ann Cook (47), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Thomas Cook (21), son, saddle maker, born Walsall;
- [4] John Cook (15), son, plater’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] John Osborn (40), brewer, born Walsall;
- [6] Maria Newton (19), domestic servant, born Liverpool;
- [7] Robert Barlow (21), lodger, professor of music, born Norwich;
- [8] James Pewford Clarke (31), lodger, surveyor, born St. Lidwells, Devonshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/10/1861

“At the Police Court, on Monday, Elizabeth Blewitt and William Ruffles were charged with having uttered counterfeit coin. On Saturday night last the female prisoner went to The TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, asked for some drink, and tendered in payment a florin, which afterwards proved to be base. Mrs. Brown, the landlady, not suspecting anything, gave her the proper change, and ten minutes afterwards the prisoner again went to the same place, and called for some drink to which she was served by the husband of Mrs. Brown. This time she tendered a half-a-crown. On examination Mr. Brown discovered that the coin was not a good one, and he sent for the police. Mr. Brown told the prisoner that the half-a-crown was bad, and she said, ‘Is it? I’ll take it back to those who gave it to me.’ He kept the half-crown, and the prisoner went away, but came back in a few minutes afterwards, bringing a shilling, which also proved to be bad. In the meantime Detective Harrison and Police-constable Simmons arrived, and she told them she had the money from a house in Talbot Yard, where she would take them. She took them there, and they found the male prisoner in the house. Detective Harrison searched him, and found some good money in his pocket; but while he was being searched he was observed to throw something away, which, when picked up was found to be a base half-crown. They were taken into custody, and conveyed to the police-station. From subsequent inquiries made by the police it was ascertained that the male prisoner had on the same night passed a counterfeit shilling at the house of Mr. Cooke, RED LION INN, Park Street. They were both remanded till Thursday, for the purpose of communicating with the Mint authorities.”

Walsall Free Press 28/2/1863

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION public house, was charged with having, on the 18th instant, suffered common prostitutes to assemble and remain therein. Mr. Matthews, who conducted the prosecution, after stating the circumstances of the case, called Acting-sergeant Shaw, from whose evidence it appeared that about a quarter to one o’clock on Wednesday night he visited defendant’s house, and found thirteen prostitutes sitting down in the room without having any refreshments before them. He, on seeing them, acquainted Mr. Cook with the character of his guests and he replied, ‘Oh, its holiday time, and market night.’ He then told the landlord he should report him, and then Mr. Cook turned the women out the Bench, after a short consultation, sentenced the defendant, who had been previously convicted, to pay a fine of 20s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 5/9/1863

“On Monday last, after the police business had been disposed of, the magistrates proceeded to consider the application for the granting of new licenses and the renewal of those already existing.....
On Mr. Cook, of the RED LION, Park Street, being called, the Mayor reminded him that there were four or five convictions against him, and stated in the event of another conviction, the license would be withdrawn.”

Walsall Free Press 7/10/1865

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION, Park Street; Henry Perkins, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street; and Mrs. Taylor, landlady of the SWAN AND PEAL, were charged with having had their houses open to entertain friends; each was cautioned and ordered to pay costs.

The Mayor intimated that in all cases where victuallers require to keep their houses open beyond the time fixed by law, they should apply to the bench in petty session for a special license.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

The Chief Constable handed in the following report.....

A robbery of jewelry to a large amount was committed during the year at the house of Mr. Thomas Cook, Park Street. Part of the property was recovered, and a person convicted of the robbery. Mr. Cook was sued in the County Court by the person robbed for £50, the utmost sum he could recover in the court for compensation for the loss. The action was arranged.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual Sessions for the renewal of existing licenses, and the consideration of applications for new ones, was held at the Guildhall Assembly Room on Friday.....

The Bench refused to renew the licenses of Thomas Cook, the RED LION, Park Street.....”

Birmingham Journal 15/9/1866

“Adjourned Licensing Session. At this Session which was held at the Free Library.....

Thomas Cook of the RED LION INN, Park Street, applied through Mr. Glover, for the renewal of his license, which was refused at the recent Licensing Session. The application was refused.

Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) then applied for a license for the same premises on behalf of the landlord, Mr. H. Highway, who, he stated, cordially agreed with the decision of the Bench, but had no power over his tenant, who had the premises on a lease. He was advised to apply again at some future time.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1866

“The adjourned Licensing Session for this borough was held on Monday, at the Free Library, Messrs. J. Brewer, jun. (Mayor) and J. W. Newman presiding.....

The license of the RED LION was also restored, on the application of Mr. Matthews, and granted to Edward Middleton, manager of the Finsbury Distillery.”

London Gazette 7/8/1868

“James Bradbury Holt, of the RED LION INN, Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 5th day of August, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 18th of August instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Walsall Free Press 10/10/1868

“Walsall Police Court, Monday Mr. Glover applied to have the license of the RED LION, Park Street, transferred from Mr. Holt to Mr. John Holden, who has for some time been keeping the house for Mr. Holt.

Mr. Cater said he had no complaint to make in reference to the manner in which the house had been kept since Mr. Holden had been in it; but he wished to know whether or not Mr. Holden was the John Holden who, at the Penkridge petty sessions, had been bound over to keep the peace for having taken part in a prize fight.

Mr. Glover said it was true Mr. Holden had been bound over to keep the peace; but he was not present at, and did not take part in, the fight, but had been brought before the county justices by mistake, and, not wishing to disclose the name of the party for whom he had been mistaken, and who had paid all the costs incurred by Mr. Holden, he allowed himself to be bound over.

The Bench, after a few words of admonition to Mr. Holden, granted the transfer.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Yesterday, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner for the Borough, held an inquest at the RED LION public-house, Park Street, upon the body of Ellen Wood, aged eight years, whose parents reside in Marsh Lane. From the evidence it appeared deceased, between five and six o’clock on the afternoon of Wednesday last, went to her mother for a piece of bread, and was not seen or heard of afterwards till about nine o’clock, when her dead body was found by a boatman, named Wm. Reeves, floating on the canal near to Navigation Street. The jury, after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Found Drowned.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/11/1870

“The veteran J. Gibbs of Walsall will stake £5 with Kendrick of Wednesbury or E. Wedge of Willenhall and take the same start as Wedge, viz, Kendrick scratch and Gibbs and Wedge four yards start; or Gibbs will take six yards start of F. Bolton in 100, or four yards of A. Bates or W. Crutchley in the same distance. Any of these matches can be made any night next week at J. Holden’s, the RED LION INN, Park Street, Walsall, for £5 or £10 a side.”

1871 Census

32+33, Park Street

- [1] John Holden (47), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Holden (47), wife, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] Ellen Holden (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Louisa Locklea (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Fanny Holden (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Holden (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Holden (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Albert Webster (29), boarder, gear maker, born Walsall:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/12/1872

“Halkin’s bitch Rose of Walsall and Cotton’s Silk of Bloxwich run 200 yards, for 315 a side on Dec 16. £10 a side is now down in the hands of Mr. John Holden, RED LION INN, Walsall, the stakeholder.”

Walsall Free Press 2/8/1873

“Spirit vaults, in Park Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, by Messrs. Farrington & Sons, at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on Wednesday, August 13th, 1873, at Six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions.

The Freehold Old Licensed Public-House, called the RED LION INN, Park Street, Walsall, with the Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Mr. John Holden.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis, Solicitors, both of Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/4/1874

“Alexandra Park Recreation Grounds, Rood End, near Oldbury.

The above beautiful grounds, which are available from all parts of England, being situated within a few minutes’ walk of Oldbury, Spon Lane, and the Smethwick stations on the Stour Valley Railway, and Westbromwich, Smethwick Junction, and Rood End stations on the Great Western Railway (Rood End in particular, being only 300 yards distant), are reopen to the public, and the proprietors, Messrs. Smith and Bradley, respectfully announce that they will give £15 to be contested for in an All England Foot Race, distance 135 yards, on Saturday and Monday, April 18 and 20. First prize £10, second £4, third £1. Entrance 1s 6d, no acceptance, to be declared on or before Tuesday, April 14. Wednesday morning’s letters will be in time. All entries to be made at the grounds, or at any of the following places.....

Holden’s, RED LION, Walsall.....

Betting and gambling strictly prohibited. No one allowed to run unless in proper costume.”

Sporting Life 8/4/1876

“Alexandra Park, Rood End, Oldbury. Easter Holidays.

Mr. John Gumbley will give £13 to be run for in a 200 yards all-England dog handicap on Saturday and Monday, April 15 and 17 – first prize £10, second £2, third £1. Entrance 1s each, no acceptance. All entries to be made at the ground, or at.....

Mr. Holden’s, RED LION, Walsall.”

Sporting Life 13/10/1877

“Cross Keys Running Grounds, Hednesford.

Messrs. Birch and Bullock will give £10 to be run for in a 135 yards all-England foot handicap on Hednesford Wakes, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 29 and 30 – first prize £8, second £1 10s, third 10s. Entrance 1s, no acceptance. Entries to be made to.....

Mr. John Holden, RED LION, Park Street, Walsall.”

Sporting Life 9/3/1878

“Alexandra Running Grounds, Bloxwich.

Mr. T. Marshall, jun, will give £7 10s to be run for in an all-England 150 yard dog handicap on Mondays, March 18 and 25 – first prize £6, second £1, third 10s. Entries 1s each. Entries to be made at.....

Mr. John Holden’s, RED LION, Park Street, Walsall.”

Black Country Bugle (February 1986)

Letter from Bob Wallis, Walsall

“.....the greatest fighting Staffordshire bull terrier who ever lived. The dog referred to was Pilot, bred in 1879 by John Holden of the RED LION his blood flows strongly in the present American Pit Bull Terrier.....”

1881 Census

33, Park Street

- [1] John Holden (57), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] M. Holden (60), wife, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] Eliza Holden (20), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Lucy Chester (22), visitor, dress maker, born Rodington, Shropshire;
- [5] William Lockley (35), farmer, born Rodington, Shropshire;
- [6] Sarah Dugmore (14), barmaid, born Willenhall;

[7] Kate Holden (13), visitor, draper's assistant, born Birmingham;

[8] G. Smith (28), brewer, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 14/3/1885

“.....To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. J. U. Fellows, on Tuesday, the 31st day of March 1885.....

Lot 1. The Old-established Full-licensed Public House, known as the RED LION INN, situate in Park Street, Walsall, lately in the occupation of Mr. John Holden, deceased, and now in the occupation of his widow. The premises comprise Liquor Shop, Smoke Room, Kitchens, Five Bedrooms, large and convenient Cellars, Stable, &c, with a side road out of Park Street. The property is situate in one of the busiest parts of Walsall and at the junction of several important streets. The fixtures will have to be taken to by the Purchaser at a price to be fixed by the Auctioneer, which will be stated at the time of the Sale.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1888

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, John Fowler, of the RED LION INN, Park Street, was summoned by the Chief Constable for selling without a license. Mr. J. N. Cotterell appeared for the defence.

The Chief Constable said the former tenant left on the 13th September, and the present defendant entered and sold for ten days before notice of application for a transfer was given. The defence was that the irregularity was due to a firm of Birmingham auctioneers, in whose hand all the business was left. The Chief Constable not pressing for a heavy penalty, the defendant was merely ordered to pay costs, and a temporary authority was given him.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/3/1890

“Re Joseph Jelley, Cannock, licensed victualler.

The public examination of this debtor, who was described as late of the Old Fallow Inn, Cannock, and lately residing at the RED LION INN, Walsall, took place at Walsall Bankruptcy Court, yesterday, before Mr. Registrar Clarke, Mr. E. Evans attending in the debtors' behalf. The financial statement showed liabilities of £148 0s 11d, and assets £1 5s.

In the course of the examination by the Official Receiver, the debtor said he was a sett-maker at quarries until 1885, when he took the RED LION INN, Park Street, Walsall, borrowing £130 to enable him to do so. He left there in October, 1888, and then took the Old Fallow Inn from Messrs. Blencowe. There he remained until the day when his petition was filed, when he gave up possession to Messrs. Blencowe. He had never been solvent since he began business, and had sold his furniture to pay for beer.

The examination was adjourned until the 16th April.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Thomas C. Cooper, RED LION, Park Street. Refused.”

1891 Census

69, Park Street

[1] Claude A. Cooper (26), actor, born Melbourne, Australia;

[2] John Devins (23), barman, born Cornwall;

[3] Henry Wilson (23), barman, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 25/6/1892

“Charles Reynolds, Station Street, William Fincher, Field Gate, and Edward Hawkins, Thorpe Road, were summoned, the latter two for assaulting Harry Cooper, of the RED LION INN, Park Street, and Reynolds for being disorderly on the premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted, and Mr. R. W. Gillespie defended.

The complainant said that Fincher and Reynolds were in his house on the evening in question, and wanted to bet witness that they would bring a pony into the place. Witness said he would not have it, but Reynolds went away, and in a short time returned with a pony, which he brought into the smoke room. The pony began to rear, and cause great disorder. Witness ordered the pony to be taken away, but Fincher encouraged Reynolds not to do so. Witness ordered Fincher out, and the latter struck him, after which he got him outside. Hawkins then came on the scene and belaboured the witness with an umbrella. Everything was quiet and orderly until the pony came in.

The defence was that the pony was taken out when complainant ordered, and that there was no disorder.

Fincher was fined 5s and costs, Hawkins was ordered to pay the costs, and the other cases dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/1/1893

“At the Guildhall yesterday, Mr. H. H. Jackson, on behalf of Mr. C. Cooper, the RED LION, Park Street, applied for a music, singing, and dancing license on Wednesday evenings from 8 till 10.30. He explained that the Black Hawk Minstrels, of which the applicant was a member, wished to practice at the house, and would have a room set apart for them which would be practically private, the general public not being admitted.

The Chief Constable said that the other applications of a like nature had already been refused. In the event of a license being granted there would be nothing to prevent the room being thrown open to the general public if the landlord was so disposed.

The Magistrates' Clerk made a similar statement, and the Bench refused the application.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

“A meeting of the creditors of Claude Hammond Cooper and Harry Courtin Cooper, carrying on business in co-partnership at the RED LION INN, 69, Park Street, Walsall, and subsequently at St. George's Hall, Walsall, as licensed victuallers was held on Wednesday at the Official Receiver's office. Mr. Enoch Evans appeared for the bankrupts. The statement of affairs showed gross liabilities £620 9s and assets £62, leaving a deficiency of £557 9s.

The Official Receiver in his observations stated: Prior to June, 1890, the bankrupt, Claude Hammond Cooper, followed his profession as an actor. In June, 1890, he went to manage the RED LION INN, Park Street, Walsall, for his father. In December, 1891, the father died, and the bankrupt Claude Hammond Cooper, was then joined by his brother, the other bankrupt, Harry Courtin Cooper, in partnership. He, prior to that date, had followed the profession of a vocalist at Naples. The father left a will bequeathing his estate to his four children. The bankrupts took the RED LION INN, with the goodwill and the utensils and stock as their share of their father's estate. It is a tied house, and was held under lease at a rent of £82 10s, but this amount was increased to £95 10s, in consideration of money spent on the house by the lessors. No fresh lease was executed when the bankrupts took the business over, nor any assignment of the one under which the father held the house. The bankrupts continued trading as licensed victuallers at the RED LION up to the time they filed this petition. In February, 1893, they took the refreshment bars at St. George's Hall, Walsall. They gave these up in May last, as they found they did not pay. On June 29 last, the bankrupts were served with a writ for £32, and 3 July they consulted their solicitor, who advised them to file their petition, which they decided to do. On the 6 July Mr. Claude Cooper called upon the landlords, Messrs. Robinson and Co, of Burton, and explained to them the position he and his brother were in. The landlords then gave him a warrant to distrain for £95 10s, a year's rent then due, and asked him to take it to Walsall and give to a bailiff to distrain. This he did, and the distress was levied on the 7 July. The landlord would not withdraw, as I did not guarantee the rent distrained for, and his bailiff is still in possession. On the 3 July an execution was levied on the partnership effects for £19 14s and paid out the same day. I am of opinion that an act of bankruptcy has been committed before the distress and that therefore the landlords were only entitled to distrain for half a year's rent. I am in negotiation with them as to this. The bankrupts attributed their insolvency to bad trade, loss from flood in the cellars, and heavy expenses in connection with the business. The only books they have are a day book and an incomplete cash book. The latter has not been kept for the last six months. The partnership deficiency is accounted as follows:

Net profit from business since July, 1903, £52; present deficiency, £557 9s, total, £609 9s; excess of liabilities over assets 14th July, 1893, £200; households expenses, £208; loss through bars at St. George's Hall, £105; loss through floods in wine cellars, £51 9s; cash paid to solicitor, £13; difference between cost and present and estimated value of assets, exceeding £32; total £609 9s. An amount of £21 included in the unsecured creditors of the private estate of Claude Hammond Cooper is this bankrupt's liability upon a guarantee given jointly with another person to secure a friend's banking account. This bankrupt accounts for the deficiency upon his private estate by the amount due under guarantee, £21; amount paid under the same during the past 12 months, £10 17s; total, £31 17s. The bankrupt, Harry Courtin Cooper, accounts for his deficit by the bad debts £4 4s 9d. The public examination was adjourned till to-day (Saturday)."

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

"The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Transfer of the license of the RED LION, Park Street, from the Official Receiver to Edmund Nagington was confirmed."

Demolished

It was rebuilt in 1896.

Charles Henry John Marshall – see also RED LION, Bloxwich.

Walsall Advertiser 12/1/1901

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held at the house of Mr. Thomas Arrowsmith, NAGS HEAD, Upper Rushall Street.....

Mr. Christopher Keeling, RED LION HOTEL, Park Street, was elected a member of the society."

1901 Census

69, Park Street

[1] Christopher Keeling (37), licensed victualler, born Harborne;

[2] Jessie Keeling (39), wife, born Newcastle under Lyme;

[3] Essie Watson (19), niece, born Newcastle under Lyme;

[4] William Sutton (21), barman, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 28/9/1901

"Mr. F. Bill applied for the license of the RED LION, Park Street, to be transferred to the widow of George [sic] Keeling. Granted."

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1901

"Jessie Keeling, of the RED LION INN, Park Street, was summoned for assaulting Ada Cole, of 14, Long Street, on September 28. Mr. J. Armstrong prosecuted, and Mr. E. Evans defended.

Complainant said that she went to the RED LION on Saturday night at ten after eleven for her brother. Witness was first of all told he was not in the house, but he came up afterwards. Witness asked him to come home, and told him that a public-house was not a fit place for him after eleven o'clock at night. Upon that the defendant came up and told complainant that she would soon settle her, catching hold of her by the throat, and shaking her.

Cross-examined by Mr. Evans witness said that her brother has slept at the RED LION INN several times. Kate Littler said she was in company with the last witness when she went to the RED LION on Saturday but she was put out of the house. She, however, saw the defendant catch hold of the complainant by the throat and shake her. For the defence it was denied that there was any assault. The complainant's brother was courting the defendant's daughter and when the complainant came to the house she caused a disturbance. Christopher Cole (brother of the complainant) said that he was staying at the RED LION until he could get apartments. He denied his sister was assaulted. The Bench imposed a fine of 5s and costs."

Albert Hibell = Albert Hubbell = Albert Hivell

John Harry Brown – see also PRINCE, NEW INN, NEW STATION, THREE CUPS.

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

"Applications for transfer of licenses were heard in the Walsall Guildhall on Tuesday..... Mr. S. Grundy Newman applied for a transfer from John Harry Brown to Frank Cocken in respect of the RED LION, Park Street. The Chairman remarked that there had been six transfers since 1900 in connection with the RED LION. He asked Mr. Grundy Newman what was the explanation. Mr. Grundy Newman: I suppose the usual things happen – servants are promoted. The Chairman said his experience was that men did not want to stop in the places that did not pay. Mr. Newman remarked that that could not apply in this case. The Chairman said there should be some explanation when the houses changed hands as often as that. Mr. Newman: The only explanation I can give is that the servants have been promoted. The Chief Constable said the applicant was a respectable man. The application was granted."

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910

"The members of the Walsall District United Past Masters' Lodge, National Order of Free Gardeners, held their fourth annual dinner at the RED LION, Park Street, on Thursday evening, when about thirty sat down to a capital spread served up by the host and hostess Cocken. The chair was taken by Bro. W. Hobbins....."

1911 Census

69, Park Street

[1] Frank Cocken (26), hotel manager, born Walsall;

[2] Beatrice Cocken (24), wife, married 5 years, assistant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1912

"Mr. W. Bayliss presided at the adjourned Licensing session on Tuesday..... Mr. Jackson also applied for the transfer of the RED LION, Park Street, from Frank Cocken to William Cyrus Hodges, and in further discussion in the matter of agreements, Mr. Jackson said the ingoing tenant was only a manager and he was risking nothing. The Magistrates' Clerk replied that the Bench asked him to bring these points before them so that they could express their opinion upon them. The Magistrates' Clerk made some further remarks as to the determining of managers' licenses and Mr. Jackson argued that surely he was the person who ought to have the power to determine the engagement of clerks. The Magistrates' Clerk replied that the Bench could not take that question in the same light as clerks' agreements; they were engaged with licenses. Mr. Jackson: He is the servant of the company. – Mr. Loxton: Then you raise a very serious question which undoubtedly will have to be raised some time; that is how far their servants can hold licenses. Mr. Jackson remarked that he did not want to raise the point and he was not speaking with any disrespect for their Worships, but he questioned how far the Magistrates could go into all these points. Mr. Loxton: Hadn't you better raise it? – Mr. Jackson: I don't want to raise it. It takes money to settle all these points of law. I want to meet the Magistrates as far as I can..... The Magistrates retired and on their return into Court the Chairman said: the whole of the licenses are granted subject to the amendments being made."

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1915 - Advert

"Wanted, good strong General, age about 24; good references essential. Hodges, RED LION, Park Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/12/1915

"Charlotte Williams (25), barmaid, was charged at Walsall, yesterday with stealing a quantity of lace and ribbon, a linen cloth, a sugar bowl, and other property, of the value of £2, and also a 10s Treasury note, belonging to Ann Maud Hodges, licensee of the RED LION INN, Park Street. Prosecutrix stated that accused had been employed by her for six or seven weeks. During the last month she had missed the articles mentioned in the charge and also money.

The accused when spoke to denied any knowledge of the matter, but on Wednesday night Detective-sergeant Burrell was called in, and found the missing property in her box. He also discovered a bag of coppers, three sovereigns, and the 10s note which had been missed from the cash register.

Accused now admitted having taken the articles found in her box, but denied having stolen any money.

Chief Constable Thomson said it was alleged that accused had committed thefts at another public-house in Walsall where she had been employed. In that instance, however, no proceedings were taken.

The accused was placed on probation for twelve months, on promising to go into a home and stay there.”

Walsall Observer 1/9/1917 - Roll of Honour - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of my dear husband, Private Henry Wilson, late of 131, Moat Road, for some years barman at the RED LION, Park Street, who was killed in action on August 26th, 1915.

Duty called him, and he was there.

To do his bit, his spirit brave.

His resting place is a hero's grave.

Fondly remembered by Wife and Children.”

Thomas Purton Cole was also the auditor for the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Provident Society. [1934]

Walsall Observer 7/1/1939 - Advert

“1938 Morris 8 for sale, in perfect condition.

RED LION, Park Street.”

1939 Register

69, Park Street

[1] Thomas P. Cole, date of birth 27/3/1887, manager licensed house, married;

[2] Jane Cole, dob 2/11/1885, manageress licensed house, housewife, married;

[3] Raymond T. Cole, dob 3/11/1915, piano and furniture dealer, single;

[4] Mary V. (Cole) Jennings, dob 22/7/1920, hairdresser, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION, Park Street, £8 8s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 10/5/1941

“Well-known for many years as a licensee in Walsall and Birmingham, Mr. John Harry Brown died on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cronin, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, with whom he had resided since he retired about eight years ago. He was in his 79th year, and had been ill for about a month.

Eldest son of John Brown, a well-known Walsall cricketer, who for twelve years headed the town club's batting averages (and who had at times played with or against some of the most famous men of his time, including the Graces, Parr, Minn and Daft), the late Mr. Brown himself, like several of his brothers, took an active part in the game and assisted the town club.

He left the currying trade to take his first licensed house, the PRINCE BLUCHER, Stafford Street, and among other Walsall licenses he held were those of the NEW INNS and the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street. He had been at the latter before his retirement and it was while he was there that his wife died eleven years ago. He had been a member of both the Walsall and Birmingham licensed victuallers' societies. He leaves six sons and a daughter. The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

RED LION HOTEL, Park Street (Third donation). £0 19s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Cole, RED LION, Park Street. £1 1s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION, Park Street. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

There were six summons against the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, Park Brewery, Wolverhampton, in respect of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road; RISING SUN, Green Lane; RED LION, Park Street; BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; and HAMEMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane; and the managers of those houses, William Allport, Joseph Thomas Astbury, Thomas Purton Cole, Constance Mary Horton, Cyril Vernon Sleigh (now of Stafford Street), and Arthur Abraham Canning for aiding and abetting.

Mr. Cooper appeared for the brewery company and stated that it would be unfair and unjust if they were made to pay double the penalty imposed on the managers, as in the preceding cases, seeing that they had given specific instructions to all their managers that regulations must be strictly complied with and if they could not get sufficient coal for their purposes they should apply to the local Fuel Overseer for permits for extra supplies.

'I regard it as somewhat ungenerous on the part of Mr. Cooper to try to throw the blame on the poor managers,' said Mr. Hodgkinson, who pointed out that all the profits from the houses went to the brewery company and that the coal was not used for their own benefit but for the benefit of the public.

In these cases the brewery company was fined 10s in each case, and the other defendants £1 each except Horton who was ordered to pay £2."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RED LION INN, Park Street. £0 10s 6d."

Lichfield Mercury 6/1/1950

"The formation of the new Walsall and District Cricket League will be decided upon at a meeting to be held at the RED LION, Park Street, Walsall, on Tuesday next at 7.45pm. The organiser is Mr. R. P. Mycock of 28, Coronation Road, Walsall Wood, and we understand that many clubs have signified their intention of joining the league."

Graham Owen Green was fined £15 plus £10 10s 0d Advocates fee for permitting his premises to be used for the purposes of betting, £15 for aiding and abetting William Tombs to use his premises for betting, and £3 for permitting public singing and music after hours, on 30th June 1958.

[2017]

REFRESHMENT ROOM

Walsall Railway Station, 25, Bradford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

London and North Western Railway Co.

LICENSEES

E W Fenton [pre 1859]

George H Wilkinson [1859] – 1865);

James Wilkinson (1865 – [1873];

Henry Taylor [1881] – 189_);

Arthur Fitzroy Waters (189_ – 1910);

Robert Herbert Glasspool (1910 – 1915);

James Bishop (1915 – 1922);

Samuel Walter Burleigh (1922 – 1926);

Robert Christopher Irwin (1926 – 1927);

Frederick George Evans (1927 – 1929);

Owen Glynne Roberts (1929 – 1933);

NOTES

It had a six-day license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/7/1855 - Advert

“South Staffordshire Railway. Tenders For Refreshment Rooms at Walsall Station.

Licensed Victuallers, and other persons, wishing to Tender for the supply of Ales, Wines, Spirits, and other Refreshments at the Walsall Station, on the South Staffordshire Railway, may obtain full particulars, with printed form of Tenders, and condition of tenancy, on application by letter, to J. D. Payne, General Manager, Walsall.

July 7th, 1855.

All Tenders must be sent in on or before the 1st of August next.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/8/1855

“The general annual licensing meeting is fixed for the 27th inst, and there are 27 fresh applications, including an application for the refreshment room at Walsall Station of the South Staffordshire Railway. We understand the Board of Inland Revenue have granted permission to open the rooms forthwith.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/2/1859 - Advert

“South Staffordshire Railway Refreshment Rooms.

George H. Wilkinson, for two years Lessee of the Dudley and Dudley Port Stations Refreshment Rooms, takes this opportunity of informing his Friends and the Public that in addition to the above he has now also become Lessee of the Walsall REFRESHMENT ROOMS, formerly conducted by Mr. E. W. Fenton.

G. H. W. assures the Public that at these different Establishments every accommodation shall be afforded.

First-class Wines, Spirits, Ales, &c, at moderate charges.

RAILWAY WINE VAULTS, Market Place, Dudley.”

Walsall Free Press 24/6/1865

“The following licenses were transferred.....

REFRESHMENT ROOMS, Railway Station, from the executors of the late G. H. Wilkinson to James Wilkinson.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1866

“Hezekiah Simmonds, a commission agent carrying on business at Birmingham and living at Birchills, was sentenced to one months' imprisonment for having assaulted Eliza Ann Sharman, one of the attendants at the refreshment-room at the Walsall Railway Station. The defendant did not appear. On the evening of the 20th ultimo the defendant and Mr. N. B. Jackson, solicitor, went into the first-class refreshment-room at the station, and rang the bell so violently that the complainant had to remonstrate with them and take the bell away. The defendant then reached over the counter, seized complainant round the wrist and attempted to draw her towards him, but she got away from him, and reproved him for his unbecoming conduct. Both the defendant and his companion then addressed her with gross and abusive language.”

1871 Census

25, Bradford Street

[1] James Wilkinson (31), wine and spirit merchant, born Dudley;

[2] Eliza A. Sharman (25), lodger, barmaid, born Kidderminster;

[3] Maria Sharman (22), lodger, barmaid, born Kidderminster;

[4] Martha Nicholls (14), lodger, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[5] Harriet Dudley (19), domestic servant, born Dudley:

Walsall Free Press 24/5/1873

“On Monday last, during a cricket game between Birmingham and Walsall Cricket Clubs, Mr. Wilkinson, of the refreshment rooms at the Walsall Railway Station, who was in the Walsall team, by a singular accident in turning suddenly, jerked his leg and fractured the patella of his left leg.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The Bench granted the following application for licenses to be assessed at one-third the maximum for compensation purposes, the licenses being auxiliary to other businesses.

By Mr. Smith, in regard of the London and North Western Railway Company's refreshment rooms.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The case against a lad named Samuel Forester (15), of Reeds Wood Lane, who was last week remanded to the Workhouse on a charge of breaking and entering the L&NWR refreshment room on the station last week, was again brought up. The Chief Constable said it was a case for a reformatory school, as the boy was too old to be sent to an industrial school. The Bench ordered the boy to be sent to a reformatory school until he was 19 years of age.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/4/1913

“Mr. Mason applied on behalf of the London and North Western Railway for the sanction of the Magistrates to an alteration in the Refreshment Rooms at Walsall Station. The kitchen it was explained, was below ground level, was windowless and very inconvenient. It had been considered necessary to bring the kitchen up to ground level, and while they were doing so they thought it advisable to make a small dining room. The accommodation before was hardly worthy of the town of Walsall. It was a matter entirely of the convenience of the public.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Observer 2/1/1915 - Advert

“Respectable boy, aged about 16 wanted.
Apply, Manageress, Refreshment Rooms, Walsall Station.”

It closed on 22nd May 1933.

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/6/1933

“The question of the closing of the refreshment rooms at the Walsall Railway Station has been under the consideration of the Walsall General Purposes Committee this week. It was reported in reply to a resolution of the Town Council that light refreshments should still be available to the general public at the railway station, the Company had replied that owing to a lack of patronage they had to be closed, and it was not possible to provide curtailed facilities. The Town Clerk was instructed to write again to the Company, pointing out that provision ought to be made by the Company for the supply of refreshments in the booking hall, or alternatively that they should allow some private caterer to have an opportunity to supply such refreshments.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/5/1934

“Walsall Chamber of Commerce.....

It was reported by Miss Verity (secretary) that the L.M.S. Rly. Co. had intimated that it could not entertain the idea of re-opening the refreshment room at the Walsall railway station, but that the question of letting the rights to sell refreshments there would be a consideration.”

RESTAURANT HOTEL

14, (66), (Upper) Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Francis W. Yates, Great Barr
Walsall Corporation (acquired on 25th September 1911)

LICENSEES

Egbert John Lambley [1871] – [1872];
Henry Walter Taylor [];
John George Parkes [];
John William Hildick [1881];
Charlotte Louise (Hildick) Griffiths [] – 1889);
Elijah G Watkins (1889 – 1897);
William Albert Smith (1897);
Percy Claridge (1897 – 1911);
William John Hickman (1911 – 1913);
Betsy Jane Dexter Hickman (1913 – 1928);
Charles Frederick Godfrey (1928 – [])

NOTES

66, Bridge Street [1871]
66, Upper Bridge Street [1881]
14, Bridge Street [1911]

It had a wine license.

It was an eating house.

1871 Census

66, Bridge Street

- [1] Egbert J. Lambley (28), restaurant keeper, born Bath;
[2] Frances Lambley (43), wife, born Chard, Somerset;
[3] Catherine Sturges (28), waitress, born Wolverhampton;
[4] Althea Jones (18), cook, born Wyrley, Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 22/2/1873

“On Tuesday evening a meeting of the Hame Manufacturers’ Association was held at the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street. A lengthened discussion ensued in reference to the advance in the price of iron and coal, and the injurious effects which the advance in the price of raw materials was having upon the trade.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/5/1873 - Advert

“Shopwoman. A trustworthy business Person Wanted. No Sunday trade.
Lambley’s RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1881 Census

66, Upper Bridge Street

- [1] John W. Hildick (37), restaurant proprietor, born Walsall;
[2] Charlotte L. Hildick (32), wife, born Aldridge;
[3] Francis Johnson (25), cook, born Walsall;
[4] Mary Pitchford (21), house maid, born Oakengates, Shropshire:

It was described as a Refreshment House in the licensing register beginning in 1882.

John William Hildick died in the 1st quarter of 1884.

Charlotte Louisa Hildick married Stephen Griffiths on 10th June 1885.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/4/1890 - Advert

“Cook (good plain) Wanted.
Apply, Watkins’s RESTAURANT, 66, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/5/1890

“On Tuesday evening, the members of the Ambulance Corps connected with our local volunteers were invited to supper at the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street....”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/1/1891 - Advert

“Waitress Wanted, at once.
Apply, Watkin’s RESTAURANT, 66, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

1891 Census

14, Bridge Street

- [1] Elijah Watkins (35), restaurant keeper, born Heldon, Northamptonshire;
[2] Ellen Watkins (34), wife, born Bromley, London;
[3] Vivian Watkins (6 months), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Joseph E. Birch (32), boarder, book binder, born Burslem, Staffordshire;
[5] Flossie Needham (16), boarder, born Luton;
[6] John Harrold (23), boarder, draper, born Scotland;
[7] Elsie A. Harrold (24), boarder, born Howley, Shropshire;
[8] Annie Young (19), barmaid, born Staffordshire;
[9] Annie Edwards (26), cook, born Wednesbury;
[10] May Jones (23), cook, born Dudley;
[11] Lizzie Penson (18), kitchenmaid, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 23/7/1892

“Walsall Cottage Hospital.

List of Workmen’s Collections received by Treasurer in 1892, up to July 16th.....

The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street. 1s ¼d.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1892

“The third annual meet of Walsall cyclists took place on Saturday last, and on the whole proved a very great success. The weather, unfortunately was not all that could be desired, and marred somewhat the enjoyment of the wheelmen. As usual, the muster took place at the Midland Goods Yard, and a large number of spectators assembled to witness the start, while the thoroughfares through which the riders were to pass were thronged by dense crowds.....

[About 220 riders set off shortly after 3pm and reached Lichfield shortly after 4pm where they had tea, speeches and prizes.]

The return journey was commenced at about half-past seven, but the home-coming was marred by a thunderstorm, which broke up the procession, and spoiled what would have proved a good entry into the town. The first batch arrived some time before nine o'clock, but it was quite ten o'clock before all had arrived.....

On Wednesday the officers of the meet and the joint committee supped together at Watkins's RESTAURANT, Bridge Street.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/11/1893 - Advert

“Wanted, at once, young Lady as Barmaid.

Apply, Watkins's RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/10/1894 - Advert

“Watkins's RESTAURANT, 14, Bridge Street, Walsall.

Dinners from 12.30 to 2.30 daily.

E. G. Watkins, Proprietor.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Beer Retailers.....

Elijah Watkins, The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, May 27th, 1896, supplying a drunken person, fined 10s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday, before the Mayor (Councillor J. Noake), and Messrs. B. Beebee, S. Russell, and E. J. Shaw.....

Mr. Jackson also applied for the renewal of the license of Elijah Watkins, the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street.

The Chief Constable stated that Mr. Watkins was convicted in May last for supplying beer to drunken persons, the evidence for the defence was that the person in charge of the bar had no view of the whole premises. He now suggested that a sheet of plain glass be let into a screen, which at present shut off a portion of the second room.

Mr. Jackson said that the house was much used by business gentlemen, and if the screen were removed they would be seriously inconvenienced. The arrangement of mirrors was adequate to place the whole of the two rooms under complete surveillance, and if the screen were removed Mr. Watkin's trade would be practically ruined.

Mr. Taylor said he did not require the whole of the screen to be removed, and the Clerk (Mr. Loxton) said he was sure the matter would not be pressed, but in the case of further proceedings Mr. Jackson would not be able to set up the same defence again.

Mr. Jackson: I won't (laughter).

The Bench renewed the license.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/1/1897

The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. W. A. Smith, the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall, was elected member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson made application on behalf of Mr. Percy Claridge, of the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, for sanction to plans for carrying out certain alterations. The plans provided for an increased bedroom accommodation by taking in rooms from the next house..... The Bench granted the whole of the applications with the exception of the one by Mr. Claridge, and said they could not see their way to allow that.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1900

“The presence of Imperial Yeomen in the town on Thursday, in their new Khaki and slouch hats (colonial style) was somewhat of a novelty, and in the evening three of them were entertained to a complimentary dinner at the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, by a number of friends. The party mustered about 40, and a capital repast was served by Mr. and Mrs. Claridge, and thoroughly enjoyed.....”

Walsall Advertiser 14/7/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Percy Claridge, the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street.”

1901 Census

14, Bridge Street

[1] Percy Claridge (30), restaurant keeper, born Coventry;

[2] Ada Claridge (30), wife, born Leamington;

[3] Victor Claridge (7), son, born Walsall;

[4] Edith Hann (21), barmaid, born Dudley Port;

[5] Rose Pries (20), waitress, born Bewdley;

[6] Emma Robinson (53), widow, cook, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 24/11/1906

“A refiner named Fred. Ingram (26), 17, Moseley Street, Birmingham, was brought up on a warrant charged with unlawfully obtaining the sum of 8s from Ada May Claridge with intent to defraud on the 23rd ult.

The Chief Constable explained that last month prisoner went to Mr. Claridge's RESTAURANT in Bridge Street and obtained from Mrs. Claridge 8s, stating that some cleaning polish had been ordered by the master. He had evaded his arrest for a month, but was finally apprehended in Birmingham. In his possession he had bill-heads on which addresses were given as Manchester, Sutton near Rochdale, Blackpool, and two in Walsall. He asked for a remand to get to know something about the prisoner.

Prisoner: I don't want to be remanded. If I am not an honest business man I will consent to have my photograph in the papers (laughter).

Mr. Loxton: The magistrates are not photographers.

Mrs. Claridge was then called, and gave evidence to the effect that on the date in question prisoner came to the restaurant and brought some metal polish, which he said Mr. Claridge had ordered. She went to find her husband to ascertain if this statement was correct, but he was out, and after keeping prisoner for about half an hour, she paid him the 8s.

Mr. Claridge said he had never ordered any stuff from prisoner. He had never seen him before in his life.

Prisoner was remanded in custody for a week. He asked for bail but the Chief Constable objected.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1908 - Advert

“T. Boulter & Son, Shire Oak (Near Walsall), Brewers, Maltsters, Spirit & Hop Merchants.

Noted Home-Brewed Ales And Stouts.

Guaranteed Brewed From Pure Malt and Hops Only.

The SHIRE OAK INN, which is within ten minute's walk of Walsall Tramway terminus at Walsall Wood, has been thoroughly renovated, and an excellent Bowling Green put down.

An Entirely New And Up-To-Date Brewing Plant has been installed, ensuring that our Ales and Stouts are of the finest possible quality.

Our Ales are to obtained at the MINERS ARMS, Rushall.

FOUR CROSSES, Sheffield.

The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall (Mr. P. Claridge's).

THE STORES, Freer Street, Walsall.

The Swan, Stonnall.”

1911 Census

14, Bridge Street

[1] Percy Claridge (40), coal and beer merchant, born Coventry;

[2] Ada Mary Claridge (40), wife, married 19 years, assisting in business, born Leamington;

[3] Lionel Victor Claridge (17), son, apprentice to engineering, born Walsall;

[4] June Kate Claridge (10), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Jack Vernon Claridge (7), son, born Walsall;

[6] Edgar Claridge (5), son, born Walsall;

[7] Arthur Walter Claridge (3), son, born Walsall;

[8] Lucy Jefferey (22), servant, born Cannock;

[9] Jack Emmanuel My___ (25), servant, born Walsall:

W. J. Hickman = J. W. Hickman

Walsall Advertiser 18/11/1911

“The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New members..... Mr. J. W. Hickman, The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street.”

Walsall Observer 9/6/1917 - Deaths

“On June 2nd, Winifred Hilda Tranter, eldest daughter of Mrs. Hickman, the RESTAURANT, Bridge Street.

Her end was peace. No cards.

Mrs. Hickman and Daughter wish to thank all friends for sympathy expressed, and for floral tributes.”

South Staffordshire Times 3/9/1921

“At Walsall Police Court, on Wednesday, Betsy Jane D. Hickman, of The RESTAURANT, Lower Bridge Street, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquor during part of the time the licensed premises were required to be closed; and failing to admit the police when demanding to enter licensed premises; and against Michael Jones, Sandwell Street, and Harry Norman Houghton, South Street, for having been found on the licensed premises during part of the period when they were required to be closed. Mr. H. L. Lester defended. Evidence given by Inspector Lloyd showed that at 12.15am on Wednesday last he went to the restaurant, and on looking through the window saw the barmaid sitting at the far end of the bar, apparently she was talking to someone, and witness could hear the voices of two men. Witness knocked the door loudly and shouted ‘Police,’ but no one came to the door.

About five minutes later witness saw the barmaid creep quietly up some stairs leading from the bar into the passage, and later the two men followed up the stairs in similar fashion. Witness continued to knock the door for about a quarter of an hour, and Mrs. Hickman came to the front door and opened it. When asked why the door had not been opened before, Mrs. Hickman said she had been upstairs and had not heard the knocking. Witness told Mrs. Hickman he had seen two men on the premises, she replied that they had come to see the servant. On going to the underground kitchen witness saw two men and the servant - a girl named Bruce, of Pelsall - and on speaking to the men, Jones said, 'We have been invited here. We have been having a convivial evening with Bertha (the servant) before she gets married next week.'

Witness made enquiries and found there was no truth with regard to the girl getting married. On looking round the bar, where the two men had been sitting, witness found two empty stout bottles. After a private consultation Mrs. Hickman was cautioned on the first summons, which was dismissed, and fined 40s for failing to admit the police, and Jones and Houghton were each fined 20s."

[1924]

REVOLUTION VODKA BAR

Bridge House, Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2005]

[2012]

RING OF BELLS

22, Hill Street, (Big Hill), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. M. Collins, Green Bank, Birchfields
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd.

John Stanton

E. Rowland, Cannon Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

Thomas Osbourne [1846] – [1853]

John Fleming [1858] – [1870]

William Jacombs [1871] – []

John Stanton [1881];

Arthur George Rawlings [];

Charles Henry Worley [] – 1886;

Frank Blakemore (1886 – 1888);

Thomas Blackham (1888);

John Brown Walker (1888 – 1894);

Simeon Heath Jnr. (1894 – 1897);

Frank Hutchings (1897 – 1898);

NOTES

OLD RING OF BELLS [1856], [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/2/1846

“On Monday evening last George Holden of Walsall and Robert Smith of Stafford entered into articles at Mr. Omer Stokes’s, the LEATHERCUTTERS ARMS, Wisemoor, at the latter place, to fight on Monday, the 30th of March, for £100. £10 a side were placed in Mr. Stokes’s hands, and the remaining deposits are to be made as follows: Feb 23, £10 a side, at Mr. William Heath’s, the Prince Albert, Friars Street, Stafford; March 2, £10 a side at Wm. Ridding’s, the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich Road, Walsall; March 9, £10 a side, at Wm. Winkles’s, the Castle, Hospital Street, Birmingham; and March 16, £10 a side, at Thomas Osbourne’s, the RING OF BELLS, Big Hill, Walsall. Neither man is to exceed 8st 9lb by eleven o’clock on the morning of fighting.”

[The ring was set up at various locations, but they were moved on. The fight took place two days later than planned and Holden won after 84 rounds.]

1851 Census

Hill Street

[1] Thomas Osbourne (43), spur maker, born Walsall;

[2] Harriet Osbourne (36), wife, born Pelsall;

[3] Ann Brown (18), servant, born Walsall;

[4] George Trawford (20), apprentice, born Walsall:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/10/1852

“Burns and Jones. Mr. Osborne, of the RING OF BELLS, Walsall, has received £3 a side for this match for £15 a side, and a similar amount is to be forwarded to him next Tuesday. They run at Bloxwich on the 29th November, when Jones is to have four yards start.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/10/1853 - Deaths

“On the 6th instant, Mrs. Osbourne, aged 40, wife of Mr. Osbourne, landlord of the RING OF BELLS INN, Walsall.”

John Fleming = John Flemming

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/10/1856

“George Williams will run Charles Lawrence of Walsall 100 yards for £5 a side, or any sum he thinks proper; or he will run William Ward of the same place, the same distance, for £5 or £10 a side; or Joseph Johnson of Birmingham six score yards for the like amount. Either of these matches can be made at Mr. John Fleming’s, OLD RING OF BELLS, Walsall, any night next week.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/3/1857

“Pigeon Flying. John Buck of Walsall, having received forfeit from John Pen of Wednesbury, will fly his blue cock Goldfinger against John Charley of Westbromwich, 30, 40, or 50 miles on the London Road, for £10 or £15 a side, or he will fly the same pigeon against Mr. Wild’s or Mr. Brow’s of Birmingham, on the same terms, or any other within 10 miles of Walsall, to give and take time for the distance of flying, or each pigeon to be loosed the same distance from home. Money ready at Mr. J. Fleming’s, RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, or at Mr. Jas. Holden’s, MALT SHOVEL, New Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....

John Fleming, Hill Street. Refused.”

John Flemming, beerhouse, Hill Street. [1858]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/3/1858

“Gallant Contest between Henry Baylis and Daniel Keyte for £25 a side.

The contest between these men took place on Tuesday, and resulted in one of the gamest battles ever witnessed, the men in every round fighting in the most resolute and unflinching style. The combatants have not obtained any notable position among the celebrities of the P.R., Keyte making his debut, while his opponent has only had the advantage of contending some two or three times in the provinces for small stakes. Both our heroes are countrymen, hailing from the Hardware district, and the reason for bringing off the match in the London Ring was to ensure the contest being decided in a fair and honourable manner. In weight Baylis had considerable advantages over his opponent, being at least a stone the heavier, while Keyte was at least ten years his antagonist’s junior, he not being more than twenty-one. Baylis is a strong, powerful man, and about the nob bore the indication of some hard hitting. Keyte appeared to have taken the utmost care while in training to get himself in proper condition for the contest, and there can be no disputing that he was as well as a man could wish to be. Baylis was stated to be well up to the mark, but was not in anything like the superb fettle of his opponent. The ring on Tuesday was formed by the commissary on a well-known spot. The weather was intensely cold, and the ground covered with snow. The company was, perhaps, the most limited that was ever assembled at the ring’s side. Baylis, who lost the toss for corners, was seconded by Jemmy Welsh and John Grant, while Bill Hayes and Holden of Walsall did the polite for Keyte. By one o’clock the whole of the preliminaries had been adjusted.

No sooner had they put themselves into position than they went to work in the most resolute style, the counter-hitting being of the most desperate and telling description, and thus they fought until the round terminated in both going to grass. On being taken to their corners blood was claimed for Baylis, but on looking we found the 'ruby' was flowing from the nasal prominence of both, so that they were unquestionably equally entitled to the claim. In the ensuing rounds, ding dong was the order of the day. Severe and staggering exchanges, smashing and jaw-fixing counters, followed in quick succession; and what they lacked in artistic skill they made up for by the fearlessness of their attack, combined with their undaunted mettle. Both were lads of the truest feather, and certainly nothing in pugilistic doings could be more admirable than to see them, on the finish of every manly round, again coming up to renew the contest with increased ardour and determination. Every bout was right down hard two-handed fighting, the combatants, in some of the most spirited rallies we have ever witnessed, fighting in every part of the ring. Notwithstanding the game and courageous efforts of Baylis, he could not prevent his antagonist from taking a prominent lead; Keyte's superiority in youth appearing to rather qualify him for the wear and tear of this desperate encounter. So much had Keyte at one time got the battle in hand, that many round the ring, who are noted for being excellent judges, offered the odds of 2 to 1. Baylis unquestionably at this period of the battle was much distressed, and had it not been for the most careful nursing on the part of Welsh, seconded by his own indomitable pluck, he must have been vanquished. With bold and unyielding resolution, however, he kept still coming up at every fresh call of 'time', until at length he succeeded in turning the tide of battle in his favour. Keyte now wanted 'time', being in 'queer-street', and though his seconds did their utmost, they could not bring him round to himself. He, nevertheless, gallantly faced his opponent until the 64th and last round, when he received the finishing stroke by fairly being knocked out of time from a hit with the right: and thus terminated this rattling mill, occupying one hour and fifty minutes. Both men were, as may be imagined, heavily punished. Both the winner and the loser have, as boxers, gained the admiration of their friends, from whom they are entitled to every consideration. The money is to be given to Baylis, at Mr. John Fleming's, RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall, on Tuesday next."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/7/1858

"John Fleming, of the RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall, will fly a pigeon from Birmingham against John Birch for £10 a side, or will fly a bird from Weedon a home and home match, for £25 a side. Money ready any night next week at Mr. Osborne's, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Windmill Street, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

"Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers' licenses.....
John Fleming, Hill Street, Walsall. Refused."

John Fleming, beer retailer, Hill Street. [1861]

1861 Census

22, Hill Street

- [1] John Fleming (35), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Fleming (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Fleming (15), son, harness collar maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Fleming (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Farnhill (20), visitor, born Meriday [Meriden?];
- [6] George Mole (20), visitor, tube socket maker, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Hannah Williams (22), visitor, brass dresser, born Walsall:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/8/1862

"W. Springthorpe and C. Poley. These Walsall men continue to make good their various deposits for their 100 yards match, for £10 a side, which comes off at Aston Cross Grounds on Monday, Aug 25. A further deposit of £1 10s a side must be made at Fleming's, the RING OF BELLS, Walsall, on Monday, Aug 18, and the final on Saturday, Aug 23, at the final stakeholder's (Mr. Hawkes's), the THREE CUPS INN, Walsall."

John Fleming, retailer of beer, 22, Hill Street. [1862]

John Fleming, beer retailer, 22, Hill Street. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/6/1866

"Wm. Boston will give £6 10s to be run for in an All England 127 yards handicap on Wolverhampton Fair, Monday and Tuesday, July 9 and 10. First prize £5; second £1; third 10s. Entries of 1s and no acceptances, close on Monday, July 2. Entries to be made to Mr. Whiston, RED COW, Dudley Street; Fleming's, RING OF BELLS, Walsall; Rogers's CROSS KEYS, Bilston; Thompson's BUTCHERS ARMS, Tipton, or at the grounds."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/9/1866

"A match took place at Mr. J. Flemming's the RING OF BELLS, Walsall, on Aug 27, between Bishop's dog Ben and Foster's dog Billy, to destroy seven rats each, for £10. Bishop's dog destroyed his rats in forty-eight seconds, and Foster's dog in fifty-one seconds. The betting was 2 to 1 on Billy. The winning dog can be backed to destroy rats for pounds, once their weight, against any rough dog in England, for £5 or £10 a side. A match can be made any day at J. Smallwood's, the SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarren Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/7/1868 - Died

“On the 25th inst, aged 44 years, Mr. John Fleming, of the OLD RING OF BELLS, Walsall; much respected.”

William Jacombs = William Jacobb

1871 Census

22, Hill Street – RING OF BELLS

- [1] William Jacombs (27), collar maker and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriet Jacombs (21), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Samuel J. Jacombs (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Tierney (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

William Jacombs, beer retailer, 22, Hill Street. [1872]

William Jacombs was also a collar maker. [1880]

1881 Census

22, Hill Street – RING BELLS

- [1] John Stanton (41), harness maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Stanton (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Caroline Stanton (16), daughter, stitcher (saddler), born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Ann Stanton (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] John Robert Stanton (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] John Stanton (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Fanny Stanton (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Alice Stanton (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Alfred Harry Stanton (8 months), son, born Walsall:

Evening Express 11/11/1881

“Eli Burns, Hill Street, was charged with having, on Tuesday afternoon, assaulted Ann Stanton, landlady of the RING OF BELLS beerhouse, Church Hill, because he being in a state of intoxication, she refused to supply him with drink. He was fined 10s and costs, or twenty-one days’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

the license of the RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, at present closed through the failure of the Cannock Brewery Company, Limited, who had had a lease of it, was temporarily granted to Mr. Rollins, Birmingham, agent for the owner.”

Charles Henry Worley was fined 10s and costs, on 14th April 1886, for selling liquor before 12.30 on a Sunday.

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1890 - Advert

“Beerhouse to Let, RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall. Valuable inventory, including brewing plant. In-going moderate.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/6/1890 - Advert

“Beerhouse (free) to Let, RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall. Apply, before 10am.”

1891 Census

22, Hill Street – OLD RING OF BELLS

- [1] John B. Walker (47), beerhouse keeper, born Lichfield;
- [2] Mary Walker (38), wife, born Jascell, Staffordshire;
- [3] Alice Broadhurst (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/7/1892 - Advert

“Free Beerhouse to Let. In-going moderate. Apply, at RING OF BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/8/1894 - Advert

“Free Beerhouse to Let; RING O’ BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall. Apply, RING O’ BELLS, Hill Street, Walsall.”

Simeon Heath Jnr., beer retailer, 22, Hill Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

“Mr. Whitlock, of Birmingham, said it had been his intention to make an application in respect of the RING OF BELLS, but after what had taken place with regard to the other application [LONDON BAR, High Street] he should not feel justified in inflicting himself upon the Bench. He had been in hopes that he might have induced them to come to the conclusion that the time had come when all had been sufficiently punished from the frauds of this man Everett, and that the various innocent people involved, including himself, might be allowed by the restoration of this license to get the advantage from the property which apparently could not be gained in any other way. They had done their best to fight out this interesting case, which had been raised by the Chief Constable, and had the pleasure of obtaining a decision at Stafford Quarter Sessions, and had paid very handsomely for it. He thought he was right in saying although there was plenty to be said against Everett, there was nothing whatever to be said against the conduct of any person who had held the license of the house, and he had been in the hopes that the license would be granted. Ultimately Mr. Whitlock agreed to make an application on Wednesday.”

AND

“The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

The Chief Constable gave notice of objection to the following licenses.....

The LONDON BAR, High Street, and the RING OF BELLS (both of which are closed) on the ground that the persons who last held the licenses were not the ‘real resident holders and occupiers’ of the houses, and that the licenses in consequence had become null and void held over for cause to be shown why they should be renewed.”

The application for a grant was refused on 6th June 1898, and was upheld on appeal.

It closed in 1898.

RISING SUN

46, Park Side, (46, Park Road), (46, Bullock Fold), (32, Little Green), (46, The Green), Short Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

John Plant, Wolverhampton Street, Bloxwich

J. E. Bealey Esq.

City Brewery Co. (Lichfield) Ltd.

LICENSEES

George Mason [1862] – [1872];

Mrs. Jane Mason [1881] – 1889);

Joseph Robert Cole (1889 – 189_);

William Cox (189_ – 1901); [1891] – [1900]

Jonah Powell (1901 – 1905);

Charles Orgill (1905 – 1913):

NOTES

32, Little Green [1871]

46, The Green [1881]

46, Bullock Fold [1891]

46, Park Road [1901]

46, Park Side

It had a beerhouse license.

George Mason, retailer of beer, Bloxwich. [1862]

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/3/1864

“James Barton, was charged with having cut, with intent, Jesse Collier. The parties had been drinking together at the RISING SUN beerhouse, Bloxwich, and had quarrelled over a game of cards. Mr. Mason, the landlord of the house managed to part them, and got Collier out and conducted him about 15 yards on his way home. Afterwards he and the defendant met and fought, and in the course of the fight the prisoner struck complainant with a knife and nearly cut off his ear. The bench after hearing the evidence sentenced the prisoner, who received an excellent character from his employer, to a pay a fine of £5 including costs, or in default to be imprisoned for two months with hard labour.”

George Mason, beer retailer, The Green, Bloxwich. [1865], [1872]

George Mason, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1868], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 19/2/1870

“George Mason, landlord of the RISING SUN, Bloxwich, for having on Monday night last, at 12.25, had his house open for the sale of beer. The charge having been proved by Police-constable Newbold. The defendant who had kept the house for nine years without any complaint having been preferred against him, was cautioned and discharged with paying costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/6/1870

“Matthew Silvey, a boatman, was charged with having burglariously entered the house of Mr. G. Mason, the RISING SUN beerhouse, Bloxwich, during the night of the previous Friday, and stolen therefrom copper and silver money to the amount of 10s. There was doubt in the case, of which the prisoner got the benefit and was discharged. He was convicted, however, of having, on the night of Sunday week broken into the dwelling house of Thos. Somerfield, awl blade maker, and stolen therefrom a pair of boots, which he was wearing at the time of his apprehension by Sergeant Martin. He was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment with hard labour on this charge.”

1871 Census

32, Little Green

[1] George Mason (47), beerhouse keeper, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;

[2] Jane Mason (49), wife, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[3] Jane Cope (26), boarder, born Essington, Staffordshire;

[4] Martha Allen (16), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;

[5] George Whitehouse (2), boarder, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/5/1873

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Trades’ Council took place on Tuesday evening at the RISING SUN, Bloxwich. A communication from the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades’ Congress, asking a contribution towards the objects of the committee, and another from the Labour Representation League asking the Council to take steps for the return of a working man’s representative to Parliament was referred to the Executive Committee. It was resolved to hold a demonstration on the second Monday in August, at some place yet to be fixed.”

1881 Census

46, The Green

[1] Jane Mason (58), widow, publican, born Essington;

[2] Elizabeth Cope (17), domestic servant, born Essington;

[3] George Whitehouse (12), nephew, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

46, Bullock Fold – Public House

[1] William Cox (27), born Gloucestershire;

[2] Mercy Cox (26), wife, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;

[3] Ann M. Cox (3), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Charles Cox (1), son, born Bloxwich:

William Cox, beer retailer, The Green, Bloxwich. [1896]

William Cox was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900, at the PARKFIELD TAVERN.

1901 Census

46, Park Road

[1] William Cox (37), publican, birthplace not known;

[2] Harriet Cox (30), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Amy Cox (13), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Charley Cox (11), son, born Bloxwich;

[5] Alice Cox (9), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[6] Edith Cox (7), daughter, born Bloxwich:

1911 Census

Bloxwich – RISING SUN

[1] Charles Orgill, (43), publican, born Mouse Hill, Pesall;

[2] Annie Orgill (43), wife, married 15 years, born Whittington, Lichfield;

[3] Arthur Leonard Orgill (14), son, caster’s help, lock and motor fittings manufacturer, born Mouse Hill, Pelsall;

[4] Annie Orgill (10), daughter, school, born Goscote, near Walsall;

[5] Charles Orgill (7), son, school, born Goscote, near Walsall:

Charles Orgill, beer retailer, 46, Park Road. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....
New Members..... Charles Orgill, RISING SUN, Park Lane, Bloxwich.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 7th February 1913.

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The following were the notices of objection (Compensation Clause).....

NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Hy. Mellor).

SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Jacob Williams).

NELSON, Church Street, Bloxwich. (Jos. Wall).

STAG, Field Street, Bloxwich. (Jane Tolley).

PLOUGH, Cemetery Road, (Charles Mansfield).

RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, (Charles Orgill).

STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, (Charles Ernest Perry).

BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich, (Benjamin Hughes).”

AND

“The Court re-assembled yesterday (Friday) morning.....

RISING SUN, Park Road. Mr. H. H. Jackson also appeared in this case for the owners, the Lichfield City Brewery Company and the tenant Mr. Charles Orgill.

Inspector Pritchard stated that in Park Road there were two licensed houses. The house had been visited 16 times in ten weeks, and the customers averaged about five per visit.

In reply to Mr. Jackson witness said that the accommodation of the house was very good and quite fit for an on-license.

The tenant said he paid £18 per year rent, and all outgoings. He had occupied the house for seven years without complaint. He found it very necessary to carry on the occupation of pit banksman, but he did this also for the benefit of his health. Walking from Bloxwich to Norton there were no other licensed houses within four or five miles.....

Having retired, the Bench announced that the licenses of the STAG and the STORES would be renewed for this year, but might be considered at some future date. The remaining six houses would be referred to the compensation authorities.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/5/1913

“The principal meeting of the Compensation Authority for the Borough of Walsall was held on Tuesday morning at the Guildhall.....

The owner and licensee of the RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, the Lichfield Brewery Co, and Mr. Charles Orgill respectively, were represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson. The house was let at an annual rental of £18. The licensee worked as a pit-banksman, but could live on his licensed trade. The renewal of the license was refused.”

Compensation was paid.

It closed on 6th September 1913.

RISING SUN

30, Green Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

George Thornhill

William Middlebrook

Thomas Thornhill, Algernon Street, Walsall (later at 140, Wednesbury Road)

City Brewery Co. (Lichfield) Ltd.

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1925]

LICENSEES

George Thornhill [1860] – [1865]

G Butler [1865]
George Thornhill [1868] – [1881]
William Middlebrook [1885] – 1895);
David Noake (1895 – 1925);
Frederick Lord (1925 – 1929);
Ernest Heath (1929 – [])
Thomas Cleobury [1939] – [1940]
Cyril Vernon Sleigh [1941]
Joseph Thomas Astbury [1942] – [1943]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

It had stabling for two horses, and four coach houses.

George Thornhill = George Thornhill

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.
G. Thornhill, Green Lane. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861

“The business of the general licensing day then commenced. There were seventeen applications.
George Thornhill, Green Lane, applied through Mr. Wilkinson for a new license. Mr. Wilkinson described the commodious nature of the house of his client, and the populousness of the locality, but the license was declined.”

George Thornhill, beer retailer, Green Lane. [1861], [1864], [1865]

1861 Census

30, Green Lane

- [1] George Thornhill (35), bridle cutter and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Thornhill (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Helen Holland (18), domestic servant, born Ireland:

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.
George Thornhill, RISING SUN INN, Green Lane.” [Refused]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/3/1865

“Young Staples of Walsall will fight Young Mills of Wolverhampton at his own weight, or Fields of Birmingham, for £10 a side. Money ready at G. Butler’s, RISING SUN, Green Lane Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.
Mr. Matthews, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, applied on behalf of the following parties.
George Thornhill, Green Lane Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.
Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of Mr. George Thornhill, beerhouse keeper, Green Lane. Application refused.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday applications for new licenses for the sale of spirits.
Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. Thornhill, beerhouse keeper, Green Lane.
The Mayor announced that the Bench had decided not to grant any new licenses this year.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1870

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.
There were eight applicants for new spirit licenses.
George Thornhill, the RISING SUN, Green Lane.
The magistrates retired to consider their decision, and after having been absent about half an hour they returned, and announced that they had decided to refuse all the applications, though they had come to this decision with much regret in some instances.”

1871 Census

30, Green Lane

[1] George Thornhill (45), bridle cutter, born Walsall;

[2] Eliza Thornhill (44), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Catherine Perkins (20), general servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 31/10/1871

“George Thornhill, landlord of the RISING SUN public-house, Green Lane, and Edward Donaldson were charged with having assaulted John Smith, a mechanic. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Dale (from the offices of Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) for the defendants. The complainant’s case was that on the previous Monday he and the defendants were playing at cards at Thornhill’s house, and the stakes were deposited in the hands of a man named Starkie. Starkie went away with the stakes, and on complainant complaining that he was being unfairly dealt, a row took place, and he was so severely assaulted by the defendants that he was unable to work for a week. An offer of 30s and a week’s wages was subsequently made to him to compromise the case. The defence was virtually that the complainant was disorderly and that he had to be turned out of the house, but with no more violence than was necessary. The defendants were fined 50s and costs, or one month’s imprisonment with hard labour, and the Mayor said he hoped the Chief of Police, after what had been said about card playing, would give his attention to the conduct of the defendant’s house.

The Chief Superintendent said he intended doing so, and if he thought there was a case he would take out a summons.

Mr. Dale said he hoped it would not be taken out before the Mayor; if it was he should most certainly protest against it being heard.

Mr. Ebsworth said he should hope, after such a remark as that, the Mayor would hear the case.

The Chief Superintendent said no doubt the Mayor, as a borough magistrate, would use the authority given him according to his discretion.

The Mayor expressed his surprise at Mr. Dale’s behaviour; and Mr. Dale replied that if the Mayor were a lawyer, he would know how wrong it was to make such a remark as he had done.

The Mayor interposed with another expression of surprise; and Mr. Dale, with some warmth, retorted with an intimation that the Mayor had exceeded his duty.

The Mayor rejoined that he could not sit there and hear such remarks; and, on Mr. Dale repeating some of them, he called upon the Chief Superintendent to keep order, and said he must require Mr. Dale to leave the Court if he did not conduct himself properly.

The Chief Superintendent appealed to Mr. Dale to restrain himself, and Mr. Dale responded to the appeal with exclamations, delivered with unabated warmth, ‘It is most disgraceful. (the Chief Superintendent: ‘Mr. Dale! Mr. Dale!’) I repeat it – most disgraceful.’

The Mayor said he was sorry Mr. Dale had forgotten himself; and Mr. Dale replied that he had not forgotten himself at all. There the matter ended.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/9/1876

“On Monday Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the RISING SUN INN, Green Lane, on the body of Ellen Donaldson, aged 32. The deceased had been living with Mr. Joseph Eld, hame manufacturer. On the 1st inst. she had been taken ill, and on the Sunday following she died, without having received medical assistance. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes.”

1881 Census

30, Green Lane

[1] George Thornhill (55), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Thornhill (59), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Mary Ann Pritchard (28), general domestic servant, born Pensnett:

Walsall Observer 3/1/1885

“Wanted a General Servant, about 18.

Apply Mrs. Middlebrook, RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 10/12/1886

“At the Brownhills Petty Sessions.

William Middlebrook, land lord of the RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall, was charged with furious driving. A witness named Hassall said he saw a person like defendant drive a pony and trap, but he would not swear it was him. No other witness gave evidence, and the Bench dismissed the case.”

[It was alleged he was taking part in a trotting race on a public road.]

Birmingham Daily Post 25/12/1886

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, William Middlebrook, the RISING SUN beerhouse, Green Lane, was fined 10s and costs for permitting drunkenness on his premises on the 18th inst.”

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

RISING SUN, Green Lane.”

1891 Census

30, Green Lane – RISING SUN INN

[1] William Middlebrook (40), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Lucy Middlebrook (34), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Rose D. Minchell (20), domestic servant, born Willenhall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/5/1895

“A Pigeon Sweep was recently pulled off from Bromsgrove, distance 10 miles, to Mr. Middlebrook’s, RISING SUN INN, Green Lane. Eight member’s birds competed, and the entrance fee of 21s per member, together with a valuable silver cup and 42s, presented by Mr. Middlebrook, was divided into three prizes. The following is a list of the winners: First prize and cup, Mr. Llewellyn, velocity 1,164 yards per minute; second prize, Mr. Porter, 1,152 yards per minute; third prize, Mr. Smith, 1,062 yards per minute; fourth prize, Mr. Birch, 956 yards per minute; fifth prize, Mr. Jackson, 956 yards per minute; sixth prize, Mr. Holmes, 778 yards per minute. Others not timed out.”

David Noake = David Nokes = David Noakes

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1895

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last.....

New members..... Mr. David Noakes, RISING SUN INN, Green Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/10/1896 - Advert

“Grains for Sale. Wanted, regular customers for three brewings a week.

Apply, D. Noakes, RISING SUN, Green Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/4/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr.

David Noake, RISING SUN INN, Green Lane Walsall.....

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The magistrates also want you to report to them at the next meeting with regard to the use of the THREE CUPS, in Park Street, and the RISING SUN, Green Lane. Whether these houses are being used solely for purposes under the Licensing Act.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the THREE CUPS, and the RISING SUN INN.....

With regard the THREE CUPS HOTEL and the RISING SUN INN, the questions were adjourned until the adjourned licensing day, and the clerk was directed to serve notices requiring the attendance of the licensees to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, and especially as to their houses being used for betting or other activities otherwise than purposes under the Licensing Act; and also for the licensee to show their adaptability for the carrying on of their licensed premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The THREE CUPS and the RISING SUN. The renewal of the licenses of these houses had also been postponed, notice having been given for the Bench that the occupiers, Mr. J. Russell and Mr. D. Noake respectively, would be required to come and give evidence as to whether the house had been properly conducted, having special reference to gambling, and also whether they were a necessity.

Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith) appeared on behalf of Mr. Russell; and Mr. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson on behalf of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Association) for Mr. Noake.

In regard to the THREE CUPS, Mr. Loxton said the Chief Constable had been requested to make a report on the conduct of the house.

The Chief Constable had a long report in front of him, but Mr. Disturnal at once rose, and argued that the applicant for the renewal of a license was entitled to have it renewed unless objection were made in proper form, and substantiated on evidence..... [There is then a lengthy discussion of legal matters.]

The justices then retired to consider the points raised, and after about three quarters of an hour’s deliberation they returned, and Mr. Loxton read out the decision as under.

With regards to the renewal of the license of the THREE CUPS and the RISING SUN, the magistrates having heard the arguments of Messrs. Plumptre and Disturnal, ruled the justices, having required the licensees to attend and apply for renewal, it is incumbent upon them to do so. At the same time, these are the first licenses brought up on notices until some affirmative evidence is given against them. Mr. Taylor can you give any evidence, or do you wish to ask for an adjournment?

The Chief Constable said he was not there to object, and had not given notice.....

The Chief Constable was next asked if could give any information in regard to betting at the RISING SUN, and he said he could not go further than say that some time ago a complaint was made that betting was going on in the locality through the medium of a man who was stationed outside. He cautioned Mr. Noake, who promised to look to the matter, and he had heard nothing more. He found that the man who had used the locality had not been employed by Mr. Noake.

Dr. Lynch: Is it the practice to give notice to a man committing an offence?

The Chief Constable said the man was not committing an offence so far as his license was concerned – the offence was outside. It had been his custom unless a matter was reported by his officers to send for persons and warn them. If an official report came in he did not stand between the report and the magistrates.

The Mayor said the magistrates had decided to renew both licenses.”

Walsall Observer 5/5/1900

“An inquest was held on Tuesday afternoon by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), at the RISING SUN, Green Lane, on the body of Jane Jinks (58), 41, Green Lane, who died on Sunday April 29th.

The evidence showed that on Thursday, March 26th, deceased and another woman named Pratt, who was staying with deceased, decided to sleep downstairs. Mrs. Jinks went upstairs to fetch some blankets, and when she had gone about half way up, she fell down, hurting her neck severely. Dr. Maitland was called in eight days later, and found that she was suffering from severe contusion of the muscles at the back of the skull, and ordered her to bed. The woman went to bed, but feeling better about a week later, she got up. The action of moving about caused an abscess on the base of the skull in close juxtaposition to the brain, and this broke on Friday April 27th. Death was due to inflammation of the brain caused by the abscess.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1901 Census

30, Green Lane

- [1] David Noakes (40), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Decima Noakes (32), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] David F. Noakes (11), son, born Willenhall;
- [4] Willie Noakes (7), son, born Willenhall;
- [5] Daisy Noakes (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Walter Noakes (5), son, born Oldbury;
- [7] Arthur Noakes (2), son, born Birmingham;
- [8] Emily Upton (25), domestic servant, born Stonal [Stonnall], Staffordshire;
- [9] Florence Powell (13), domestic servant, born Birmingham;
- [10] James Watmouth (60), servant, labourer, born London:

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

“The Streets Committee.....

The following plans have, during the past month, been approved, subject to the usual conditions, viz.

The Lichfield Brewery Company; addition to the RISING SUN, Green Lane.”

David Noake was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

An objection to the renewal of the license of the RISING SUN (Mr. David Noake’s), Green Lane, was withdrawn.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/4/1905

“The Walsall Bridle Cutters’ Trade Protection Society (members of the Midland Leather Trades Federation, affiliated with the National Federation of Great Britain) held their quarterly meeting at headquarters, RISING SUN INN, Green Lane. The question of strengthening the society was raised. It was resolved to ask members of the trade to rejoin free of entrance fee for the next three months, subject to their not being allowed to come on the funds for the first twelve months. After a lengthy discussion it was decided to hold a general meeting of all bridle cutters at headquarters.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/11/1905

“A married woman named Eva Jane Spicer (45), 12, Intown Row, was summoned for obtaining 3 chemises, and 4 pairs of knickers, value 12s, by false pretences, from Alfred Thomas Moore, draper, 48½, Stafford Street, on the 20th inst.

Complainant stated that at 3.30 the day previous, the prisoner came into the shop, and speaking to his wife, said ‘Is this Moore’s, I have been requested to come to Moore’s as I can’t read.’ She then produced a note on the counter, and asked if they would send goods to Mrs. Noake, at the RISING SUN, Green Lane who had sent her, as she was busy and could not come, as she was preparing a supper. Prisoner said she used to help to clean for Mrs. Noake and run errands for her. His wife packed up the goods mentioned on the note and handed them to prisoner, who said the goods would be returned shortly. Prisoner then left the shop, and shortly afterwards witness went down Stafford Street, and saw the prisoner go down Littleton Street, and that aroused witness's suspicion, as it was not the direction of Mrs. Noake's. He then followed prisoner to the PLUMBERS ARMS, and waited until she came out, and then she told him she had called for some money that was owing for cleaning. He (witness) then followed her to Mrs. Noake's and watched her go inside the house, and then he went home. About 6.30 in the evening the clothes had not been returned, and he (witness) went to Mrs. Noake, and asked her if she had sent anyone to his shop for the goods, and she said she had not. About ten o'clock the same evening he identified the woman who had had the things. The goods were value 10s. Jessie Noake, wife of the landlord of the RISING SUN INN, stated that at 4.15pm she was told she was wanted by the prisoner, and on going to the prisoner, who was in the passage, she said 'I want half-a-pint of ale,' and she replied that her son was in the bar, and went back into the kitchen. She did not write a note or send her for goods.

Detective Lloyd stated that he made enquiries as to this robbery, and visited the prisoner's house in Intown Row. He knocked at the door several times, but as no one came he eventually walked in. He looked round the front kitchen, and found the inner door was fastened, as if someone was behind it holding it. He then burst the door open, and found the prisoner behind with the parcel of clothing (produced) under her arm. He asked her how she obtained the parcel, and she said it was in the house when she came. He arrested the prisoner and brought her to the police station, but on the way prisoner bolted along Lichfield Street and then Tower Street, but he gave chase and caught her. When charged with stealing the goods prisoner replied 'I fetched the things from the shop, but I meant to take them back. No one sent me, and I wrote the note myself.' Prisoner was under the influence of drink at the time.

Prisoner said she was guilty, but did not mean to steal them.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) said he was holding a case back against prisoner, as the day previous she had attempted to obtain five boy's suits, value £2 16s 11d, but the goods were sent to the house where the prisoner stated she had been sent from, and it was found out. She has started her career in this way, and he thought it as well to nip it in the bud.

Sentenced to 15 days' imprisonment."

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

"There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of four other houses on the ground of the peculiar system of trade which they carried on, and those he referred to were; FORGE INN, Pleck Road; FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street; BOAT INN, Green Lane; and the RISING SUN. Continuing, the Chief Constable stated the landlady or landlord of the houses in question gave out checks to men who then hung about neighbouring works, and did business with the checks on a 10 per cent commission. It appeared that these men got 22s worth of checks for 20s, and they disposed of these checks to men who wanted beer but had no money. The men for a shilling's worth of checks each paid 1s 3d the next Saturday.

The Bench now ordered that the whole of the licenses mentioned should stand over until the adjourned licensing day."

Midland Counties Evening News 9/10/1909 - Advert

"Wanted, Good General, with character.

Apply Mrs. Noake, RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall."

1911 Census

RISING SUN INN

- [1] David Noake (58), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Decima Noake (42), wife, married 22 years, born West Bromwich;
- [3] David Frederick Noake (21) son, assistant to self, born Willenhall;
- [4] William Noake (18), son, harness maker's clerk, born Willenhall;
- [5] Walter Noake (15), son, solicitor's clerk, born Oldbury;
- [6] Daisy Noake (14), daughter, assistant to self, born Walsall;
- [7] Arthur Noake (13), son, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Sidney Noake (8), son, school, born Walsall;
- [9] Winifred Noake (6 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [10] Lilly Webb (17), niece, born Reading, Berkshire:

David Noake, beer retailer, 30, Green Lane. [1912]

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 17th February 1913.

Walsall Advertiser 17/1/1914

"On Sunday the death took place at the Hospital Infirmary, Burntwood, of Decima Noake, wife of Mr. David Noake, licensee of the RISING SUN, Green Lane. Deceased, who was 45 years of age, contracted a severe cold about a month ago which brought on a most painful illness. She was a native of West Bromwich, but had lived at Walsall some twenty-five years, and had won the esteem of a very wide circle. The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday....."

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall, 8s 9½d."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
RISING SUN, Green Lane. £1 4s 10d.”

1939 Register

30, Green Lane (2 of 3)

[1] Thomas Cleobury, date of birth 1/10/1894, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Gladys Cleobury, dob 26/9/1903, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 9/12/1939

“Hospital Darts Tournament.

Final To Be Played at the RISING SUN Next Wednesday Evening.

In one of the semi-finals of the Hospital Darts Tournament, G. Hall (Rushall Central) beat J. Davis (OLD HOUSE AT HOME) at the Ex-Servicemen’s Club on Wednesday night by two legs to one, but unfortunately the other semi-final could not be played as C. Hadland (Palfrey W.M.C.) is serving with H. M. Forces. His opponent, W. Till (CROWN AND CUSHION) therefore had a walk-over and automatically qualified to meet Hall in the final.

As it happens Till is due to join the Colours also next Friday and consequently the final has been fixed for Wednesday evening next at the RISING SUN, Green Lane, commencing at 8 o’clock. The winner will be presented with the trophy given by the proprietors of the Walsall Observer, and there will be prizes also for the runner-up and the beaten semi-finalist.”

[In the final, W. Till beat G. Hall by two legs to none.]

Walsall Observer 14/6/1941

“Two Walsall brothers, Leo Albert Bowater and Horace Henry Bowater, of 221, Pleck Road, summoned at Walsall Police Court yesterday, for assaulting Cyril Vernon Sleigh, licensee of the RISING SUN, Green Lane, were alleged to have punched and kicked their victim after one of them had thrown the contents of his beer glass into his face.

Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, prosecuting, invited the magistrates, if they found the case proved, to deal with the man in such a way that protection would be given to licensees.

The case for the prosecution was that when Sleigh went into the bar of his house on the night of May 10 to call ‘Time,’ the Bowaters had their drinks before them. On being asked to ‘Drink up,’ Horace threw his drink into Sleigh’s face and punched him and when he fell to the floor he was kicked by both men. He had to receive medical attention. When the men were seen by Police-sergeant Rowe they did not deny the allegation that Sleigh had made against them.

Defendant’s version was that when Sleigh went to them in the bar he used filthy language to them and, as they had women with them, they protested. ‘I gave him a shove,’ said Horace, ‘and that is all that happened.’ Leo’s wife said that her husband had recently been discharged from the Army with shell shock. ‘Don’t you think he had done enough fighting without coming here to fight?’ she asked.

Horace Bowater, said to have a number of previous convictions for assault, was sent to gaol for 28 days and his brother was fined 40s. Leo protested that he wanted the same as his brother and asked to be sent down with him.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Astbury, RISING SUN, Green Lane. £0 11s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 14/11/1942 - Births

“On Oct. 28, 1942, at Manor Maternity Hospital, to Lily (nee Ward), wife of J. T. Astbury, RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall. God’s precious gift, twin daughters (Lily and Mercy).”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RISING SUN INN, Green Lane. £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

There were six summons against the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, Park Brewery, Wolverhampton, in respect of the FORGE INN, Pleck Road; RISING SUN, Green Lane; RED LION, Park Street; BLACK HORSE, Bloxwich Road; BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore; and HAMEMAKERS ARMS, Blue Lane; and the managers of those houses, William Allport, Joseph Thomas Astbury, Thomas Purton Cole, Constance Mary Horton, Cyril Vernon Sleigh (now of Stafford Street), and Arthur Abraham Canning for aiding and abetting.

Mr. Cooper appeared for the brewery company and stated that it would be unfair and unjust if they were made to pay double the penalty imposed on the managers, as in the preceding cases, seeing that they had given specific instructions to all their managers that regulations must be strictly complied with and if they could not get sufficient coal for their purposes they should apply to the local Fuel Overseer for permits for extra supplies.

'I regard it as somewhat ungenerous on the part of Mr. Cooper to try to throw the blame on the poor managers,' said Mr. Hodgkinson, who pointed out that all the profits from the houses went to the brewery company and that the coal was not used for their own benefit but for the benefit of the public.

In these cases the brewery company was fined 10s in each case, and the other defendants £1 each except Horton who was ordered to pay £2."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

RISING SUN INN, Green Lane. £1 4s 0d."

It closed in December 1962.

RISING SUN

Hill Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Osbourn [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

RISING SUN

Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Midland Counties Evening Express 12/5/1875

"Rushall Friendly Society Case. Stephen Cooper, secretary of the friendly society which holds its meetings at the RISING SUN public house, was charged with having refused to pay Edward Teese, the sum of £13 10s, due at the death of Teese's wife, on the 11th January last An order for the payment of the amount and costs – including the solicitor's fee – was made, payment to be made in 7 days."

ROBIN HOOD

North Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Stanley [1841] – [1842]

ROCK STEADY EDDIE'S BAR

Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2002]

[2023]

ROEBUCK

2, Upper Rushall Street / High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Brown, victualler, New Street, Walsall
Eliza Pearman
Edwin Marlow
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Lea [1813] – [1822]

Sarah Lea [1828] – [1835]

John Lea [1841] – [1842]

John Randle [1845] – 1855);

Maria Stone (1855 – []

John Randle [1861] – [1873]

Richard Pearman [1880] – [1881]

Eliza Pearman [1888] – 189_);

Edwin Marlow (189_ – 1894); [1891]

Mrs. Eliza Marlow [1895] (1894 – 1900);

Edwin Lawley [1892] ?

George Henry Muddiman (1900 – 1903);

James Archibald Goodall (1903 – 1914);

George Astbury (1914 – 1916);

Mary Ann Astbury (1916 – 1919);

George Astbury (1919 – 1926);

NOTES

Rushall Street [1822]

2, Upper Rushall Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1881], [1891], [1908]

2, Rushall Street [1871], [1901]

Sarah Lea (nee James) was married to John Lea.
They were the parents of John Lea (b.1842) of the BRITISH OAK.

1841 Census

Upper Rushall Street

- [1] Sarah Lea Snr. (70), widow, born Staffordshire;
- [2] John Lea (20), maltster, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah Lea Jnr. (20), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Martha Dike (20), fs, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Charles Sealy (25), ms, born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/5/1841 - Died

“On the 7th instant, suddenly at the ROEBUCK, Walsall, Mr. John Howis, hardware dealer, of Burton-on-Trent.”

John Randle = John Randall

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/4/1848 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Dwelling-Houses And Building land, Blue Lane, Walsall.
To Be Sold By Auction, by Mr. T. Franklin, at the ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/9/1848

“Samuel Bird (alias Tranter) of Darlaston wishes to regain his laurels from Prescott of Walsall, and will make a fresh match for £10 or £20 a side. Money ready at the ROEBUCK TAVERN, Walsall.”

John Randle was also a carpenter. [1849], [1850], [1864], [1865]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/10/1850 - Deaths

“October 18, at an advanced age, Sarah, relict of the late Mr. John Lea, formerly of the ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.”

1851 Census

Upper Rushall Street

- [1] John Randle (39), widower, victualler, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [2] Sarah Randle (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] John Randle (12), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Randle (10), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Randle (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Lightwood (20), housekeeper, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/12/1853

“Walsall Petty Sessions.....

Rachel Dainty, a loose character, very troublesome to the police, was fined £1 and costs, for biting the face of Mary Ann Carter, in the ROEBUCK public house, on Sunday night; and she was ordered to find peace sureties, for threatening Harriet Lout.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/9/1854

“John Randall, landlord of the ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, appeared before S. Lowe, Esq, Mayor, and F. B. Oerton, Esq, last week, to answer the complaint of the parish authorities for refusing to support his widowed daughter, Sarah Summers, now an inmate of the workhouse. It appeared that a short time since the woman had been brought before the Magistrates for attempting self-destruction, on which occasion it was proved that the defendant had used the most revolting language respecting his wretched daughter. The Mayor asked the defendant if he paid income tax; to which he replied that his taxes were very heavy, and that he had five other children, unable to earn anything, to support. The Mayor observed that the defendant had tacitly admitted that he paid income tax, and therefore he was evidently in a position to pay towards the maintenance of his own offspring. The Bench committed him for twenty-one days to hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... In the following cases the applications were suspended for further consideration.....

John Randle, of the ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, who, on the 22nd of March last, had been fined 5s and costs for having permitted disorderly prostitutes to assemble in his house.”

1861 Census

2, Upper Rushall Street – The BUCK

- [1] John Randle (49), licensed victualler, born Wolverley, Worcestershire;
- [2] Eliza Randle (34), wife, born Great Barr;
- [3] Eliza Randle (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

- [4] Mary Ann Randle (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Selina Randle (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] George Bibb (42), lodger, brewer, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 5/4/1862

“Joseph Starkey, charged by Police-constable Shaw with having been drunk and disorderly in Upper Rushall Street on the night of Sunday last, stated that he had been drinking in the ROEBUCK public-house from two o’clock in the afternoon, and had become intoxicated towards evening, when the landlord, Mr. Randle, behaved very badly to him. A soldier who lodges at the ROEBUCK, said prisoner came to the ROEBUCK and engaged a bed, and consequently a lodger. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced prisoner to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/4/1863

“Lucy Beebee, a married woman, was charged with having, on Monday evening, stolen a sovereign, the property of Samuel Firm, of Darlaston. It appeared that the prosecutor and defendant had been at a party in the ROEBUCK public house, Upper Rushall Street, on the evening in question, and that, on the plate being handed round for the price of the supper, complainant pulled out a sovereign and defendant, on seeing it, said, ‘Give it me, and I will give it the waiter.’ The sovereign was accordingly given to the defendant, who refused to give it up. After hearing the evidence, the bench committed the defendant (who denied the charge) to take her trial at the quarter sessions for the borough, on the following day.”

[She was acquitted at the Quarter Sessions on 10th April 1863.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/1/1870

“On Sunday afternoon, Mr. J. Randle, who had arrived from Sheffield only the day before on a visit to his father, the landlord of the ROEBUCK INN, Rushall Street, was suddenly taken ill as he was about to start for a walk, and died in the course of a few minutes. Dr. J. Burton, jun, who saw him before he expired, having given a certificate, no inquest will be held.”

1871 Census

2, Rushall Street

- [1] John Randle (58), widower, carpenter, born Woverley [Wolverley], Worcestershire;
[2] Eliza Randle (22), daughter, born Walsall;
[3] Selina Randle (16), daughter, born Walsall:

1881 Census

2, Upper Rushall Street – ROE BUCK INN

- [1] Richard Pearman (30), publican, born Walsall;
[2] Mary Jane Pearman (32), wife, born Walsall;
[3] John D. Pearman (3), son, born Walsall;
[4] Henrietta B. Pearman (2), daughter, born Walsall;
[5] Sarah Ann Booth (17), general domestic servant, born Cheadle, Staffordshire;
[6] Jacob Williams (30), lodger, stone mason, born Swansea;
[7] George Crews (39), lodger, stone mason, born Torquay;
[8] James Douglas (24), lodger, baker, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 5/6/1888 - Advert

“To Be Let immediately, a Garden; upwards of 100 choice Rose Trees, near Chuckery Walk.
Apply to Mrs. Pearman, ROE BUCK INN, Walsall.”

1891 Census

2, Upper Rushall Street – ROEBUCK INN

- [1] Edwin Marlow (40), publican, born Walsall;
[2] Eliza Marlow (41), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Nelly Marlow (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] John J. Marlow (13), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 8/12/1894

“Monday was a day specially appointed by the Bough Justices for the transfer of public-house licenses, &c. The Mayor (Councillor Noake) and Mr. G. Gill constituted the Bench.

Mr. E. Evans applied on behalf of Mrs. Eliza Marlow, ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, for the transfer of the license to her from her dead husband. He explained that her husband – the holder of the license – died on the 17th September. The license expired on the 10th October, but was renewed in his name. Letters of administration were subsequently taken out, but owing to the trouble and anxiety she was suffering the proper notices of the application for the transfer of the license were not given in time for the last transfer day.

The Chief Constable said he must oppose the application on the ground that there was no license in existence to be transferred. It expired on the 10th October, and the only course open to Mrs. Marlow under the circumstances to revive it was to apply at the transfer sessions on the 17th October. This she failed to do, and really the house should be closed now. It was undoubtedly very hard upon her, but such was the effect of the Licensing Act, which, as he said on the previous Wednesday, contained more law than common-sense.

The application was adjourned until Wednesday in order that the law on the point might be looked up, the applicant being recommended to close her house in the meantime.

The Chief Constable then, on Wednesday, told the Bench (The Mayor and Alderman Lindop) that he did not propose to persist in his objection. He remarked, however, that in spite of the advice given by the Bench on Monday, Mrs. Marlow kept her house open, with the result that she had been reported, and would be summoned for having sold drink without a license.

The Bench agreed to transfer the license.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The following is a return of licensees who have been proceeded against during the year ending August 30th, 1895.....

Eliza Marlow, ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, for having kept her licensed premises open during prohibited hours on April 19th, dismissed.”

Walsall Observer 10/2/1900 - Advert

“Wanted, good General.

Apply Mrs. Marlow, The ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street.”

Walsall Observer 18/8/1900

“George Henry Muddiman, of the ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and with selling liquor to drunken persons, namely David Hinks and Charles Twaites; and David Hinks, 10, Limerick Yard, and Charles Twaites, 35, Whittimere Street, were charged with being drunk on licensed premises.

Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared to defend.

Inspector Williams said that at 9.40am he was in Lower Rushall Street, when he saw the defendants Hinks and Twaites with their arms around one another’s necks, going up the street. Witness visited the ROEBUCK INN, and found in the kitchen at the back the defendants Hinks and Twaites and a soldier. On the table was whisky and ale. Witness asked the landlord how he accounted for their presence, and pointed out that they were drunk, and he said he was upstairs and his daughter had supplied them. He also said that he knew that they had had too much to drink. Hinks and Twaites drank out of the ale jug in the presence of the landlord, who ordered them out. When they got outside they staggered about, but arrived at the station.

In answer to Mr. Jackson witness said that the outdoor department was a small window in a dark passage.

Mr. Jackson addressed the Bench, pointing out that the prosecution had not proved their case, and said that there was no necessity for him to bring evidence for the defence.

The magistrates after deliberation said that they considered that there was a case against the defendant. The defendant Muddiman said that he only took the place 24 hours before the two men entered. He was upstairs, and his daughter served them at a small window in a dark passage. The magistrates dismissed the case.”

1901 Census

2, Rushall Street – ROE-BUCK INN

[1] George H. Muddiman (49), publican, born Warwickshire;

[2] Harriett Muddiman (54), wife, born Kent;

[3] George H. W. Muddiman (15), son, carpenter, born Kent;

[4] Edith H. Muddiman (14), daughter, born Kildare, Ireland;

[5] Mary Dutton (62), sister, widow, domestic, born Kent:

James Goodall was fined £5 and costs, on 23rd September 1903, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Objections to the renewals to James Archibald Goodall, ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, and Frederick Paddock, VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street were postponed to the adjourned meeting, to be held on March 1st.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

ROEBUCK INN. The application for the renewal of this license to the landlord, James Archibald Goodall, was made by Mr. Plumtree (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson).

An objection was raised by the Chief Constable on the grounds that Goodall was convicted by the magistrates in September last for permitting drunkenness upon the premises, and was then fined £5 and costs.

Inspector Ballance said within a radius of 250 yards of the house there were 30 full-licensed houses, six on-beer houses, and one off license. The nearest house, the HARE AND HOUNDS, was but 23 yards away. With regard to Rushall Street it had changed considerably during recent years, and many of the houses had either been condemned or pulled down.

Answering Mr. Plumtree, the house was a very old one and frequented by respectable customers. The defence of the landlord, when convicted in September last, was that the man was upon the premises without his knowledge.

Questioned by Dr. Lynch, he thought the number of licensed houses in the district was in excess of the requirements of the neighbourhood.

Mr. Plumtree said that with respect to the question of Dr. Lynch he must accept the inspector's statement as correct, but if they were to lessen the number of houses it was a matter for a good deal of consideration as to whether it should start at the oldest or the newest. They would agree the ROEBUCK was one of the oldest, and so far as he knew up to the time of conviction in September last, there had been no complaint whatever respecting the house. In that case the man went into the house, and, without the landlord's knowledge, drank the contents of two glasses of beer. The licensee was a man of the most respectable character, against whom there had been no previous complaints, and whose incoming to the house had paid £400 for the lease and valuation, and £57 for the stock, amounts which were the savings of a lifetime. In conclusion, he submitted that, in consequence of the respectability of the house, its license was still required.

The landlord and several persons residing in the vicinity were called by Mr. Plumtree, and testified to the manner in which the house was conducted. Decision deferred."

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1909 - Advert

"Beerhouse, in thickly populated locality of Birmingham; doing steady, genuine trade. Holder's Ales. Six years' lease; all at £275.

Apply, ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall."

1911 Census

2, Rushall Street

[1] James Goodall (35), publican, born Birmingham;

[2] Elizabeth Goodall (35), wife, married 12 years, assisting in business, born Birmingham;

[3] Clara Goodall (9), daughter, school, born Birmingham:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street. £1 4s 2d."

George Astbury was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

"At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst.....

An application was made by Sir Reginald Coventry, L.C., for a provisional order for the removal of the license of the ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, to premises proposed to be erected, at the junction of the New Ring Road and Westbromwich Street. Sir Reginald on behalf of the owners, Messrs. Mitchells & Butlers, Ltd, said the ROEBUCK INN, was scheduled for compensation, which would probably amount to £4,000 to £5,000, but, they were prepared to give this up, and also to pull down the FULLBROOK TAVERN, Westbromwich Road, so as to facilitate a much needed improvement.

Mr. A. V. Haden, opposed on behalf of the United Temperance Council, remarking that the Council believed that the real road to progress lay along the elimination of licenses rather than the transferring of licenses from one are to another. The magistrates sanctioned the application, conditional upon the FULLBROOK TAVERN being pulled down, that the ROEBUCK premises should not be converted into a club, and that the building of the new premises would be commenced within three months."

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/5/1925

"The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Monday, before a full Bench.....

The justices also confirmed the removal of the ROEBUCK INN, Upper Rushall Street, to premises about to be erected at the junction of the new ring road and Westbromwich Road. The Hon. Sir Reginald Coventry, who made the application, pointed out that Messrs. Mitchells and Butlers were giving up the ROEBUCK INN without compensation, and were also giving up the FULLBROOK INN in West Bromwich Road, which would enable the road widening to be carried out."

It closed on 18th October 1926, and the license was transferred to the NEW FULLBROOK.

ROMPING CAT

96, (95), Elmore Green Road (Victoria Road) / Clarendon Street, Sandbank, (Sott's Hole), (Short Heath), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Stackhouse

Thomas Stackhouse
William Powell
Mrs. Elizabeth Powell
William Dainty
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.
Union Pub Co. (W&D) [2001], [2004]

LICENSEES

William Stackhouse [1849] – 1875);
Thomas Stackhouse [1876];
William Powell [];
Mrs. Elizabeth Powell [];
William Dainty [1881];
Mrs. Betsy Dainty [1881] – 1890);
William Benton (1890 – 189_); [1891]
William Vale (189_ – 1896);
Mary Jane Vale (1896 – 1899);
Alfred Boot (1899 – [1912]
James Taylor [1923] – 1924);
George Wilfred Jones (1924 – []
David Griffiths [] – 1931);
Peter Edwin Perry (1931);
Godfrey Tomkins (1931 – 1933);
Samson Horney (1933 – 1934);
Harry Lawrence (1934 – 1936);
John Broome (1936 – 1939);
Job Tyler (1939 – 1941);
Frances Tyler (1941 – 1953);
Jack Bradford (1953 – 1955);
John Edward Lawley (1955 – 1959);
Colin Griffiths (1959 – 1960);
I Hanwood (1960 – [1966]

NOTES

95, Elmore Green Road [1891], [1901]
96, Elmore Green Road [1939]

It was originally the SANDBANK TAVERN.

It had a beerhouse license.

It had stables at the rear.

Grade II listed.

William Stackhouse, beer retailer, Sandpits, Bloxwich. [1849]
William Stackhouse, beer retailer, Sandbeds, Bloxwich. [1850]

1851 Census

Short Heath

[1] William Stackhouse (53), retail brewer, born Bloxwich;
[2] Jane Stackhouse (43), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] Joseph Green (22), son in law, coal miner, born Bloxwich;
[4] Sarah Green (19), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[5] Jane Eliza Green (9 months), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
[6] William Wild (29), lodger, coal miner, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
William Stackhouse, Bloxwich. Refused.”

W. Stackhouse, beerhouse, Bloxwich. [1858]

William Stackhouse, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1861], [1868], [1870], [1871]

1861 Census

Short Heath

- [1] William Stackhouse (64), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jane Stackhouse (52), wife, born Brereton, Staffordshire;
- [3] Jane E. Green (10), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Ann Green (4), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Sarah Roberts (18), servant, born Wolverhampton:

William Stackhouse, retailer of beer, Bloxwich. [1862]

William Stackhouse, beer retailer, Short Heath, Bloxwich. [1865], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 30/9/1865

“William Stackhouse, beer-house-keeper, Bloxwich, was charged with having had his house opened for the sale of beer during prohibited hours, on Sunday, the 24th inst. The charge having been proved by Police-sergeant Martin, the defendant was fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 14/8/1869

“The New Beerhouse Act. William Stackhouse, landlord of a beerhouse at Sott’s Hole, Bloxwich, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours on Sunday, the 1st instant.

Police-sergeant Martin said at 9.45 on the morning in question he visited defendant’s house, and found the table smeared with drink. On the stairs he found a jug containing malt liquor, and on going up stairs he found Joseph Swift, miner, New Street, Bloxwich, behind the door smoking a pipe.

Defendant said the officer’s statement was about right, but he gave the beer to Swift for having got some herbs for him, and he told the old man to go up stairs for fear of the new Act.

Swift, who is 71 years of age, and who has been at work as a collier for 62 years, corroborated the defendant’s statement.

The defendant, who had been previously convicted, was fined 5s and costs.”

1871 Census

Sand Bank

- [1] William Stackhouse (74), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
 - [2] Jane Stackhouse (44), wife, housekeeper, born Bloxwich;
 - [3] Jane Green (20), granddaughter, general servant, born Bloxwich;
 - [4] James Farmer (45), boarder, labourer, born Bloxwich:
- [Is this a different Jane to before?]

Walsall Free Press 1/7/1871 - Advert

“To Be Let, a good Beerhouse, situate in a pleasant neighbourhood, the person is declining business. Incoming to suit the purchaser.

Apply to William Stackhouse, Sand Bank, Bloxwich.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/7/1875

“On Wednesday morning whilst Mr. William Stackhouse, beerhouse-keeper, of Elmore Green, was making some inquiries in the County Court, he fell down and expired almost immediately. Dr. Wilmore was called in, but of course his assistance was of no avail. The body of the deceased was removed to his residence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/8/1876

“Stackhouse v Reeves and others. The plaintiff in this case, Thomas Stackhouse, a carter, living at Bloxwich, Staffordshire, sought to recover possession of certain premises which were properties of his deceased brother, William Stackhouse, to whom plaintiff claimed to be heir-at-law. Mr. Mellor, Q.C. and Mr. Dugdale were for the plaintiff, and Mr. Nathan for the defendants.

Part of the property in question is a freehold public house, land and premises, situated in Victoria Road, Bloxwich, leading from the church towards Wolverhampton. Plaintiff also sought to recover certain cottages which were in the possession of the defendants at the time of the death of the owner William Stackhouse, who died in 1875. The plaintiff said he immediately informed the defendants that he was his brother’s heir-at-law, and requested them to pay their rents to him for the future. This the defendants refused, and set up the title of Jane Sleet, who Mr. Mellor stated had been living with William Stackhouse as his wife. Mrs. Sleet, who was in possession of the public house at the time of William Stackhouse’s death, sold off everything in the house, disregarding the title of the plaintiff. Certificates of plaintiff’s birth, his brother’s birth, and the marriage certificate of their parents were handed in, after which the various tenants of the cottages deposed that they took their houses from the deceased William Stackhouse. His Lordship said he regretted that the action should have been defended, as there was no more doubt about the title of Thomas Stackhouse than in the Queen’s title to her throne. There was not a rag of defence from beginning to end, and he should give a verdict and judgement for plaintiff in all cases, but that which referred to Lovett’s cottage.”

1881 Census

95, Elmore Green Road – SAND BANK TAVERN

[1] Betsy Dainty (44), widow, publican, born Wirley [Wyrley?], Staffordshire;

[2] Fanny Gaskell (38), sister, born Wirley [Wyrley?], Staffordshire;

[3] Annie A. Boycot (14), servant;

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1882 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction, by Messrs. Watkins and Powell (by order of the Mortgagees), at the QUEENS HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Monday, the 25th day of September, 1882.....

Lot 1. That Messuage or Dwelling-House, with Appurtenances, situate near the Sandbank, Bloxwich, used as a Beerhouse, and called or known by the name of the SANDBANK TAVERN, in the occupation of Betsy Dainty.....

The SANDBANK TAVERN is let to a most respectable tenant, at the yearly rent of £25, payable quarterly.....”

1891 Census

95, Elmore Green Road – SAND BANK TAVERN

[1] William Benton (32), coal miner and licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Emma Benton (35), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Florence Benton (11), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[4] Lottie Benton (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[5] Fred Benton (4), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[6] William Benton (1), son, born Bloxwich:

William Benton, beer retailer, Sandbank. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

“The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Mr. F. Bill) appeared in support of an application from Mary Jane Vale, the keeper of a beerhouse known as SANDBANK TAVERN, Green Road, for the provisional removal of the license to premises about to be erected at the junction of Eldon Road and Clarendon Street, Bloxwich. Mr. Disturnal said the present premises belonged to the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited. It was proposed to pull down the old house and build another a few yards from the site of the present premises. The reason for the application was that the corner of those streets, in the opinion of the authorities of the borough, was a very awkward one. At the instigation of the Streets Committee and the Borough Surveyor, an arrangement had been come to between the owners of the adjacent property and the Corporation under which certain lands were to be given up so as to make the streets wider. The present premises of the SANDBANK TAVERN were to be pulled down and rebuilt at the corner. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) opposed on behalf of Mr. W. H. Haycock, of the SPRING COTTAGE, and Mr. Addison said he opposed on behalf of Mr. Stanley [temperance movement].

Mr. Disturnal: The universal objector (laughter).

Mr. Addison: Not all together.

Mr. Loxton (justices' clerk): Oh it's perfectly fair.

Mr. Disturnal said he could not see what the reasons of the objectors were. It would be an improvement, and he had the opinion on that of the highest authority in the town viz, the Borough Surveyor. In addition they were having new premises built on the most approved lines, and the whole house conveniently arranged and built upon modern ideas. The new licensed area would be actually less than the old, so there was no extension of area. It would simply be moving the premises a few yards. The present licensed area was 470 square yards, and the area of the proposed new premises 320 yards, or 150 yards less. There was a further fact. He was instructed that the present SANDBANK TAVERN was an old-licensed beerhouse, licensed before 1869. The discretion of the Bench was therefore limited to four grounds only. With full knowledge of that fact they applied for the removal of the license, and the result would be that as soon as those new premises were licensed the magistrates would have full control, instead of only the limited control which they had at present; the magistrates in future would have absolute and unlimited control over the premises. If this application was granted it could never afterwards be said that the premises had been licensed since 1869. So that if on no other grounds he should have thought that the application would have been granted. It would be a public improvement there would be no increased facilities for drinking, there would be a less licensed area, and they would be giving the Bench and the police increased discretion over the premises.

Mrs. Vale was then put into the box, and she corroborated the statements of her counsel. Cross-examined by the Chief Constable witness said that at the rear of the premises there were some old cottages which had partly fallen down and which she claimed to be within the licensed area. As a matter of fact they were now down altogether. It was two years last June since they were let to her in one take. The houses were not on the premises. She did not remember them falling down. In her present house she paid £25 a year rent, and there were two rooms for the accommodation of the public. She had no idea what she would have to pay in rent on the new premises. She supposed they would be larger premises than the old ones. The house stood back from the road and was not a large public-house.

The Chief Constable: It appears to be a respectable cottage? – No answer.

Cross-examined by Mr. Addison, witness said the house was in a very tumble-down condition.

Re-examined by Mr. Disturnal, witness said that since she had been there they had had control over the whole area where the tumble down cottages were.

Mr. J. H. Hickton (Messrs. Hickton and Farmer, architects), was then called, and gave evidence as to the plans of the proposed new house. In cross-examination he said that the present premises wanted rebuilding, either on the old site or the adjoining one. The ground floor comprised a tap room, bar, sitting room, and kitchen. The superficial area of the old premises was 1,040 feet and the new building 1,128 feet.

The Chief Constable: The present building is a cosy cottage and the other will have a large bold gin palace front to it? – No.

The Chief Constable: Well, I don't know what you would call it. Supposing, as I contend, the area of the old cottages are not in the licensed area, how much would it reduce the licensed area? – Witness, after measuring the plan, remarked that the reduction would be 148 superficial yards.

In answer to Mr. Jackson the witness said there was plenty of room on the old site to erect the premises, but in giving up the land they would erect the public-house on a better site.

Mr. Loxton: That is to say it would be more exposed to supply the public needs? – Mr. Jackson: No, more valuable premises.

Mr. Hickton in reply to further questions, said the area of the present tap-room was 15ft by 14ft 6in, and the bar 15ft by 12ft. The proposed new bar would be 16ft by 12ft 6in, and the new smoke-room 15ft by 14ft 6in. In the bar, however, there would be a circular counter so that the drinking accommodation would be a little larger in the new premises than in the old. On the second floor there would be a small club room.

The Borough Surveyor was the next witness and he said the scheme was the suggestion of the Streets Committee of the Corporation, and he had assisted in forming it. The committee had been trying to deal with this corner since 1892. They now had an opportunity of doing what the Streets Committee had been desirous of doing since 1892. The negotiations had been conducted through Mr. Shaw, owner of part of the property, and who he understood was also connected with the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries. The improvement was most certainly required, and if the proposed buildings were erected as suggested it would carry out a decided improvement.

Cross-examined by the Chief Constable the Borough Surveyor said it was absolutely necessary that the old buildings should come down.

Mr. F. Bill said he was the solicitor to the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd, and he had had charge of the negotiations with the Corporation on the matter. The cottage at the extreme corner of the road upon land which was to be given up for the widening of the road belonged to Mr. Shaw and not the brewery company. If the present proposals were not carried out the arrangements between Mr. Shaw and the breweries company would fall through, and the cottage would remain.

The Chief Constable said he opposed this application because he thought it was not needed. No doubt in olden times the road opposite the present public-house was much more used. But now it was practically unused except for the purpose of tradesmen's carts going to the few houses in the vicinity, as people now going to Wolverhampton took a different road. In his opinion there was no need for the street improvement which was proposed. He contended that the improvement in the road could be carried without this license being removed. There were only 72 houses nearer to this licensed house than to any other, and he submitted there was no necessity to entertain the application.

Mr. Jackson submitted that the new erection would be different to the character of the old house, and he did not see why the house should be removed to premises which would be more valuable. There was no need for any further licensed house, and as there was plenty of room to re-build it on the old site, he opposed the removal.

Mr. Addison opposed on similar grounds, and that rightly or wrongly considered, the facilities in the town for obtaining drink were sufficient – a view which had been held by their Worship for several years. They now had an application which, from the evidence already given, would increase the facilities, and the premises would be better and more structurally adapted for the sale of drink than the tumble-down old place, which was uninviting, where as the new corner house would be put up on the most attractive lines.

Inspector Allen (in charge of the Bloxwich section) was the put in the box for the opposition, and gave it as his opinion that there was no need for the proposed removal of the license. Nor was there any need for any increased drinking facility. He also gave the distances which the house in question is from the nearest public-houses in various directions.

The magistrates reserved their decision in this and subsequent applications until all had been heard, when they retired to consider them together. On returning they intimated that they had decided to adjourn this application until the adjourned licensing meeting, in order that they might have an opportunity of viewing the place.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1898

“An application was made to remove the license of the SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, to a corner site. The case had been before the magistrates at the Licensing Day, and adjourned for the justices to inspect the place. Granted.”

Alfred Boot married Mary Jane Vale in the 2nd quarter of 1899.

Walsall Advertiser 29/9/1900

“Yesterday the adjourned Brewster sessions of this borough were held at the Guildhall.

Mr. F. Bill made application on behalf of Alfred Boot, beer retailer, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich, for the provisional transfer of the license of the SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, to premises about to be erected. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) opposed on behalf of the owner and tenant of the SPRING COTTAGE, 90 yards away.

Mr. Bill explained that the house was situated on the corner of Clarendon Street and Elmore Green Road, where the road was very narrow, and the alteration to the premises would do away with the dangerous state of the road at that point as it was intended to set the house further back.

Application granted.”

At the Adjourned Annual Licensing Meeting, on 28th September 1900, the licensing committee sanctioned the removal of this license to premises about to be built. This was confirmed on 8th November 1900.

It was rebuilt in 1900.

Reopened

1901 Census

95, Elmore Green Road

- [1] Alfred Boot (43), coal miner and beerhouse keeper, born Netherton;
- [2] Mary Jane Boot (30), wife, born Princes End;
- [3] Emma Boot (18), daughter, born Netherton;
- [4] Wilfred Boot (16), son, coal miner, born Netherton;
- [5] Ada E. Vale (2), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Alfred Boot, beer retailer, Sandbank. [1904]

1911 Census

SANDBANK TAVERN

- [1] Alfred Boot (55), widower, publican, born Netherton;
- [2] William Ebdell Bilson (26), son in law, butcher's assistant, born Lane Head;
- [3] Emmeline Bilson (27), daughter, married 4 years, born Netherton;
- [4] Frank Ernest Vale (17), stepson, butcher's assistant, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ada Elizabeth Vale (12), stepdaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Gladys May Boot (9), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] William Jordon Bilson (2), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Emma Bird (16), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Alfred Boot, beer retailer, Elmore Green Road. [1912]

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, 3s 11d."

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

"Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There was an objection to the renewal of the SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, on the ground of a conviction against the previous tenant for supplying liquors during prohibited hours; but Mr. Cooper urged that the previous tenant had been punished by the magistrates and the Brewery Company, who dismissed him, and the license was renewed."

Walsall Observer 5/1/1924

"When at the Walsall Police Court on Wednesday, application was made Mr. Ernest Haden (of Messrs. Addison and Cooper), for the transfer of the license of the SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, from James Taylor to George Wilfred Jones. The Chief Constable (Mr. G. W. Ballance) said he thought the magistrates should know that the house had been closed throughout the festive season.

Mr. Haden: There has been some difficulty between Taylor and the brewery, and it is in consequence of that, we make the application for the transfer this morning.

Taylor, questioned by the Magistrates' Clerk, (Mr. S. E. Loxton) said he had been licensee and tenant of the SANDBANK TAVERN under an agreement with the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. Admitting he had been closed during the Christmas Holidays, he remarked, 'There has been a bit of disturbance between me and the agent, on account of the pricing of the beer.'

The Clerk: I suppose that was provided for in your agreement?

Taylor: No it wasn't. It's only a matter of the price of the beer. There is no ill-will at all.

The Bench granted a temporary authority to Jones."

Bilston & Willenhall Times 20/9/1924

"The Walsall magistrates, on Monday, agreed to a fortnight's adjournment in a case in which George Wilfred Jones, SANDBANK TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich, was summoned for being the holder of a license for the sale of intoxicating liquor by retail in his house and premises, knowingly did harbour on the premises Constable Arthur Wilkes during part of the time the constable should have been on duty, he not being there in the execution of his duty, on September 3rd; and for supplying intoxicating liquor to Constable Arthur Wilkes without authority of some superior officer on the same date, the constable being on duty."

Walsall Observer 4/10/1924

"How a Bloxwich police constable was found in a public house after licensed hours and during his duty hours, was told to the magistrates at Walsall Police Court on Monday, when George Wilfred Jones licensee of the SANDBANK TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, was summoned for (1) knowingly did harbour on his licensed premises Constable Arthur Wilkes during part of the time for such constable being on duty, and not being there in the execution of his duty, and (2) supplying intoxicating liquor to Constable Arthur Wilkes, the said constable, being on duty, without the authority of some superior officer of the said constable. Appearing for defendant, Mr. Frank Cooper stated that the Chief Constable had agreed to proceed only on the second summons, and to that the defendant was prepared to plead guilty.

Evidence was given by Chief Inspector Cooke that, in company with Police-sergeant Lavender, he visited the SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, at 10.20 on Wednesday night, September 3, and found Police-constable Wilkes standing in a passage near the bar, talking to the landlord and his wife. He had a pint glass in his hand, and when witness asked 'What brings you here?' defendant intervened, 'He was passing and I asked him to have a drink.' Witness told defendant he had no business to supply after hours, and his wife then said, 'It was just on 10.' Witness told her, however, that it must have been later than that, as the constable did not leave Bloxwich police station until 10 o'clock. Witness added that the constable told him he was standing outside when the licensee asked him to have a drink.

Addressing the magistrates, Mr. Cooper said defendant had been a licensee only since January last, and, although the Bench might think it strange, he did not think he was committing an offence when he asked the constable to have a drink. Defendant bore an excellent character, and the owners of the house, the Wolverhampton and Dudley Brewery Co, would very deeply regret if he had to give up the management on account of this offence.

Answering the Magistrates' Clerk, Chief Inspector Cooke said the constable had to go a few yards off his beat to enter the tavern, the public house being on one side of the street, and his beat on the other.

Announcing a fine of £5, the Chairman (Mr. S. B. Wheway) said the offence was very serious, and the Bench hoped the case would serve as a warning."

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

"At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst..... the following houses which had been objected to were renewed SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich."

1939 Register

96, Elmore Green Road

[1] Job Tyler, date of birth 14/10/1891. Licensed victualler, married;

[2] Frances Tyler, dob 2/4/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Lavinia Tyler, dob 4/4/1937, under school age, single;

[4] May Hamblens, dob 3/3/1918, press worker, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

SANDBANK TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, £5 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 18/1/1941 - Deaths

"Tyler. Treasured memories of my dear husband, Job, who fell asleep Jan. 12, 1941.

He suffered patiently and long,

His hope was bright, his faith was strong.

We cannot Lord, Thy purpose see.

So sadly missed by his sorrowing Wife and son Billy (now serving in HM Forces).

Mrs. Frances Tyler and Son, of SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, sincerely thank the Doctor, all Relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwards, all dear Friends of Bloxwich and Walsall; Customers of the SANDBANK TAVERN and FOUR HORSE SHOES; the President and Members of the Licensed Victuallers, for sympathy in their sad bereavement; also Mr. Webb for funeral arrangements."

AND

"Tyler. In loving memory of our dear Brother, who passed away Jan. 12, 1941.

We never thought the end so near,

That we should loose a brother so dear.

Sadly missed by his loving brother Bill, sister-in-law Lizzie, and Family."

AND

"Tyler. In loving memory of our dear Brother, who passed away Jan. 12, 1941.

Peacefully sleeping, on God's golden shore,

He whispers, 'Do not grieve, my sufferings are o'er.'

Sadly missed by his loving sister Nance, brother-in-law Dick and Family."

AND

"Tyler. In loving memory of my dear Brother, Job, who passed peacefully away Sunday, Jan. 12, 1941.

You left behind an aching heart,

That loved you most sincere,

That never did nor never will

Forget you, brother dear.

Sadly missed by his sister Nellie, nephews Billy, Jim and Arthur."

Walsall Observer 8/2/1941

“At Walsall annual licensing session on Thursday, the justices approved the following license transfers.....
SANDBANK TAVERN, Bloxwich, from Job Tyler (deceased) to Frances Tyler.”

1941 Probate

“Job Tyler, of SANDBANK TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 12 January 1941. Administration Birmingham 3 February to Frances Tyler, widow. Effects £296 19s.”

Job Tyler – see also FOUR HORSE SHOES.

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SANDBANK TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich. £1 18s 6d.”

A full license was confirmed on 6th May 1948.

Jack Bradford – see also WHITE HORSE.

The name was changed to the ROMPING CAT on 7th March 1957.

It was listed in ‘The CAMRA National Inventory’ of pub interiors of outstanding historic interest.

It was refurbished in 2004.

Express & Star 22/3/2021

“Pubs group Marston’s has issued a list of pubs set to reopen in the Black Country on April 12th. In the Express & Star circulation area this takes in 93. Due to coronavirus restrictions they will only be able to accommodate customers in outdoor areas including beer gardens and seated areas. To accompany table service, Marston’s has introduced an online ordering system called ‘Marston’s Tap’. The online platform is available across the majority of Marston’s pubs for guests to use. Bookings are being accepted and guests can reserve a table via each pub’s website. Wolverhampton-based Marston’s has an estate of around 1,400 pubs across the UK and not all in England are able to reopen in April due to not having an outdoor space.....
ROMPING CAT, Elmore Green Road.”

[2021]

ROSE

Hall Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Willis [1847]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/2/1847

“Henry Mills will run Charles James, for £5 or £10 a side. His money is ready at Mr. John Willis’s ROSE INN, Hall Lane, Walsall.”

ROSE AND CROWN

55, Birchills (Birchills Lane) / Reedswood Close, (55, Birchills Green), (18, Old Birchills), (Upper Birchills), (Birchills Green), WALSALL

OWNERS

William Sheldon, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury
Richard McGill
John Lord [1901]
Highgate and Walsall Brewery Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 11th August 1939) [1982]
Black Country Traditional Inns [2006]

LICENSEES

Bradbury John Dexter [1834] – [1870]
Mrs. Charlotte Mary Dexter [1871] – 1872);
John Bradbury Dexter and Hannah Dexter [] – 1879);
Richard McGill [1881] – 1886);
John Hinkinson Sheldon (1886 – 1891);
Richard McGill (1891 – 1892);
William Edward Cooper (1892 – 1901);
George Edward Betteridge (1901 – 1928);
William Edward Holmes (1928 – 1948);
Ernest Joseph Mayo (1948 – 1957);
Harry Buttery (1957 – 1958);
Charles Green (1958 – 1961);
James Edward Clewley (1961 – 1962);
Colin Derek Harris (1962 – 1964);
Thomas Ernest Taylor (1964 – [1966]
Jackie [2003] – 2005);
Deborah J Humphreys (2005 – [2007]

NOTES

Birchills Green [1849]
18, Old Birchills [1861]
Upper Birchills [1868]
55, Birchills Green [1891]
55, Birchills [1896], [1904], [1908], [1932], [1940]
55, Old Birchills [1901]

ROSE AND CROWN HOTEL [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

It had stabling at the rear.

Ar's Birmingham Gazette 13/8/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by private Contract, the Licences, Goodwill, and Possession of that old established and desirable Public House, the ROSE AND CROWN, situated at the Birch Hills, within half a mile of Walsall, in a very populous neighbourhood, and near to the wharf and extensive collieries in the foreign of Walsall, comprising three sleeping-rooms and spacious sitting-room upstairs, kitchen, bar, and pleasant parlour, good cellars, brewhouse, spacious yard and garden, with pump of capital water.

The usual effects to be taken to at a fair valuation.

N.B. The premises are very complete, and have lately been very much improved, and command a pleasant prospect of the town and neighbourhood.

For further particulars and to treat apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Park Street, Walsall, or at his offices, Bath Street, Birmingham.”

Ar's Birmingham Gazette 13/10/1828 - Advert

“To be Sold by private Contract, the Lease, Licences, Goodwill, and Possession of that respectable Public House, with Stabling, Workshops, and three Acres of excellent Land, known by the sign of the ROSE AND CROWN, most delightfully situated at the Birchills, in the foreign of Walsall, commanding a pleasing prospect of the town and country around, being within half a mile of Walsall, in a populous neighbourhood, in the vicinity of extensive collieries and wharfs upon the branch of the Wyrley and Essington Canal.

There were six years and a half of the Lease unexpired at Michaelmas last, and the coming-in will be moderate. For further particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor & Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Bradbury John Dexter = B. J. Dexton = John B. Dexter

Bradbury John Dexter was also a farmer. [1845]

Bradbury John Dexter, widower, cooper, married Charlotte Mary Cooper, age 17, spinster, on 27th January 1848.

1851 Census

Birchills

- [1] Bradbury J. Dexter (40), victualler, born Coliorton, Leicestershire;
- [2] Charlotte M. Dexter (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Bradbury Dexter (3), son, born Birchills;
- [4] William Dexter (2), son, born Birchills;
- [5] Charlotte Mary Dexter (9 months), daughter, born Birchills;
- [6] Jane Green (13), general servant, born Birchills:

Birmingham Journal 8/10/1853 - Advert

“Freehold Inn And Other Dwelling Houses, together with Three Closes of Land, and Valuable Land Thereunder, situate at Birchills, near Walsall, Staffordshire.

To Be Sold By Auction, by Mr. Farrington, at a time and place to be named in next week’s paper, subject to conditions.

Lot 1. All that full-licensed and well-accustomed Inn or Public House, called the ROSE AND CROWN, with the Stables, Piggery, Yard, Out-buildings, Garden, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate at Birchills, in the Foreign of the parish of Walsall, adjoining the road leading from Walsall to Birchills and Green Lanes, and now occupied by Mr. J. B. Dexter. And also, all those Ten several Messuages or Dwelling Houses, adjoining the above mentioned Inn or Public House, with Shops, Outbuildings and Yard, thereto belonging. And also all those Two Pieces Of Land, situate at the back of and adjoining the above described Dwelling Houses and containing by estimation Three Acres or thereabouts, now occupied by the said J. B. Dexter, bounded on one side by the Land of the Earl of Bradford.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/8/1854

“An inquest was held on Wednesday last, at the house of Mr. John Dexter, the ROSE AND CROWN, Upper Birchills, on the body of Henry Tandy, a labourer, fifty-six years of age, who resided near St. Peter’s Church, Stafford Street. The deceased had been labouring under mental depression for some time, and on Monday morning rose at an unusually early hour, and went into the garden. Soon afterwards his body was found in the canal by a boatman, and, with assistance, was got out of the water, but it proved to be lifeless. Evidence was given that several members of the deceased man’s family had committed suicide, and the jury returned a verdict of Temporary Insanity.”

1861 Census

18, Old Birchills – ROSE AND CROWN

- [1] Bradbury John Dexter (51), victualler, born Thringstone, Leicestershire;
- [2] Charlotte Mary Dexter (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Bradbury Dexter (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] William Dexter (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Hannah Dexter (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Dexter (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Sarah Dexter (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Robert Dexter (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Edgar Dexter (2), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Lizzie Dexter (10 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [11] Elizabeth Bullock (16), house servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/8/1862

“Yesterday afternoon an inquest was held before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, at the ROSE AND CROWN INN, Birchills, on the body of William Hastilow, aged 54, butty miner, who was killed on Friday last while at work in Mr. Sparrow’s field, Portobello. From the evidence adduced it appeared that a piece of stone, about 7cwt, had been raised by means of a block and tackle, and the deceased was engaged in guiding it to the wagon upon which it was to be placed, when the chain by which it was suspended broke, and the mass of stone fell upon the unfortunate man’s back. Death was instantaneous. The evidence showed that the occurrence was purely accidental, and a verdict to that effect was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/3/1863

“Richard Arnold was charged with assaulting William Butcher, at the Birchills, on Saturday night. It appeared that on that night a regular public-house row took place at the ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, when defendant took a shovel and struck complainant a violent blow in the face. Sentenced to pay a fine of 20s and costs, or one months' imprisonment."

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/2/1864

"On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Fletcher, Coroner for the Borough, held an inquest at the ROSE AND CROWN, Old Birchills, upon the body of Sarah Careless, aged 67, who died on the 7th instant from injuries received on the 30th ultimo under the following circumstances. On the night in question the deceased was sitting by the fire when her clothes accidentally caught fire. Her son, who was in bed, aroused by his mother's screams, rushed down stairs and extinguished the flames by throwing a bucketful of water upon the deceased, who, however, was so severely burnt that after lingering in great agony she expired on Tuesday morning. The jury after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/10/1864

"On Tuesday afternoon an inquest was held by A. A. Fletcher, coroner for the borough, at the ROSE AND CROWN, Old Birchills, upon the body of an engineman, named James Broom, who had been killed at the Bentley furnaces. The deceased had, contrary to the rules of the establishment, been oiling the machinery while in motion, and was caught by some of the wheels, drawn between them, and torn to pieces. The jury, after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/2/1866

"An inquest was held at the ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, yesterday, before A. A. Fletcher, coroner, touching the death of Thomas Allen, son of a boatman, living at Birchills. It appeared that on Thursday last the lad had been sent along the canal side at Birchills with a pony, and that shortly afterwards the pony was discovered dripping wet coming along the canal bank by itself, and on the water being searched the body of the lad was found. An Open Verdict was returned."

Bradbury John Dexter died in the 4th quarter of 1870.

1871 Census

Birchills – ROSE AND CROWN

- [1] Charlotte M. Dexter (41), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] John B. Dexter (23), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [3] William Dexter (22), son, fitter and turner, born Walsall;
- [4] Hannah Dexter (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara Dexter (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Dexter (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Robert Dexter (15), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Edgar Dexter (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Lizzie Dexter (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Walter Dexter (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

Charlotte Mary Dexter died in the 4th quarter of 1872.

The licensee was fined 10s and costs, on 29th March 1876, for Sunday trading.

Bradbury John Dexter (jun.) died in the 2nd quarter of 1879.

1881 Census

Old Birchills

- [1] Richard McGill (36), licensed victualler, born Dudley;
- [2] Betsy McGill (33), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Robert McGill (12), son, scholar, born Handsworth;
- [4] John McGill (10), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary McGill (7), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Hannah McGill (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] William McGill (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] James T. McGill (10 months), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Mary Whitehouse (31), assistant, dressmaker, born West Bromwich;
- [10] Elizabeth Johnson (20), general servant, born Darlaston;

Lichfield Mercury 16/7/1886

"John McGill, of the ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, was summoned for shooting a pigeon, value 7s 6d, on Saturday last. Evidence was given showing the defendant was seen to shoot the pigeon, which was wounded severely though not killed, and the Bench fined him 5s and costs, and ordered him to pay 7s 6d compensation."

John Hinkinson Sheldon was fined 20s and costs, on 2nd March 1891, for serving during prohibited hours.

1891 Census

55, Birchills Green – ROSE AND CROWN

- [1] Richard McGill (45), turner and innkeeper's manager, born Dudley;
- [2] Betsy McGill (43), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] John McGill (19), son, Patent Shaft works, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary McGill (17), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Hannah McGill (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William S. McGill (15), son, Patent Shaft works, born Wednesbury;
- [7] James T. McGill (10), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 1/5/1891

“Re Richard McGill, the ROSE AND CROWN INN, Birchills.

At the Walsall County Court, yesterday – before his Honour Deputy judge Amphlett – Mr. Evans applied for a discharge of this bankrupt, who was adjudicated in January, 1888. The Official Receiver reported that the bankrupt had omitted to keep books, that he had continued to trade after knowing himself to be insolvent, and had contracted debts without reasonable expectation of being able to pay them.

The order of discharge was suspended for three months.”

William E. Cooper, beer retailer, 55, Birchills. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

William Cooper, ROSE AND CROWN, served 11 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under.....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

A full license was granted in September 1900.

Walsall Advertiser 29/9/1900

“Yesterday the adjourned Brewster session for the borough were held at the Guildhall.....

William Edward Cooper, of the ROSE AND CROWN INN, Birchills Street, made application through Mr. H. H. Jackson for the provisional grant of a license in respect of his house to premises about to be erected. Applicant's contention was that the house was very old and wanted re-building.

Mr. Whiteley opposed on behalf of the Walsall Temperance party.

The matter was adjourned for a fortnight to enable the magistrates to visit the premises.”

At the Adjourned General Annual Licensing meeting held on 28th September 1900 the Justices sanctioned the Removal of the license to premises about to be erected in accordance with plans submitted and on the 2nd November 1900 the grant was confirmed.

Demolished

Rebuilt

The new building opened in 1901.

1901 Census

55, Old Birchills – ROSE AND CROWN

- [1] William E. Cooper (31), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Alice Cooper (27), wife, domestic, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Edward Cooper (9), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Cooper (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Violetta Hollyhead (17), general servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Thirza Mills (18), general servant, born Tipton:

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1901

“The Borough Coroner (Mr. T. Howard Stanley) held an inquest on Wednesday afternoon at the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, touching the death of William Maybury (46), of 171, Stafford Street. Deceased, who was formerly a fitter, had for some time occupied himself as a fishmonger and hawker.

From the evidence of his daughter, Jessie Maybury, it seems that deceased took some fish to sell at Birchills Flower Show, and he returned home in a cart at 11.15. He complained that some of his ribs were broken, and she went for Dr. P. A. Shore. He was not at home, so Dr. McKinstry was called in. Witness said her father blamed the keeper of a public-house at Birchills for his accident, saying that he fell on the ground through there being no proper light, and the steps not being in proper order.

In answer to the Coroner, witness said there was some repairing going on at the premises.

William Edward Cooper, landlord of the ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, said his premises were being rebuilt. On August 26th Maybury came to his house. He was quite sober, and was served with half-a-pint of ale. He went out and returned with his hand to his side, complaining that he had fallen on some planks outside the house. The planks had been placed there for some people to walk on, because there had been some heavy rain, and the drains were stopped up. Replying to the Coroner, witness said there was a lamp outside the house, which he himself had lighted.

Frederick Jas. Brown, caster, of Pargetter Street, saw the deceased in the ROSE AND CROWN and accompanied him outside, when he asked deceased if he would allow him to take him home. The man replied that he had only to go into Stafford Street, and went away.

Dr. McKinsty deposed that the man was suffering from broken ribs, and about the fifth day after the injury pneumonia supervened. The primary cause of death was pneumonia, and the secondary cause fractured ribs. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle (October 1902)

“A similar application [for an Order to declare final the provisional grant of the license to sell on the premises] was made by Mr. F. Bill in respect of the ROSE AND CROWN, Old Birchills.

The Magistrates’ Clerk intimated that in carrying out the building operations at the house there had been a deviation from the plans. The justices had, therefore, decided to adjourn the matter until the annual licensing meeting in the spring, for some explanation to be offered.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4], [1905]

George Betteridge, beer retailer, 55, Birchills. [1904]

1911 Census

Birchills – ROSE AND CROWN

- [1] George Betteridge (48), carpenter, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Agnes Betteridge (42), wife, married 12 years, born Rochdale, Lancashire;
- [3] William Betteridge (10), son, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Maggey Clarke (50), sister in law, widow, born Rochdale, Lancashire;
- [5] Louisa Reynolds (24), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1911

“Bowling. A new club has been started at the ROSE AND CROWN HOTEL, Birchills, but as the green has only just been laid down, it has been decided to defer the opening until Coronation week.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/9/1911

“Bowling. Slowly but surely the season is passing although a few clubs are keeping the ball rolling a little longer. Last Saturday, a new green was opened, surely a record.

The occasion was the opening of the green at the ROSE AND CROWN, at Birchills, which should have been opened on Coronation day, but the dry weather made it impossible, but not to be disappointed a friendly game was played last Saturday by a team picked from the Birchills Alexandra club, and a team picked from clubs round the district, and got together and captained by Mr. J. Betteridge. Considering the terrible heat that has been experienced, the green was looking in good condition, it is of good size and if looked after, should make a welcome addition to the greens in the town and district. The game was very enjoyable and ended in a victory for the Alexandra men, much to everyone’s surprise, but they played finely and fully deserved the victory.....”

Walsall Advertiser 17/1/1914

“George Bettridge, ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, was summoned for selling brandy to a person under the age of 14, otherwise than in a corked and sealed vessel, in quantity less than one reputed pint. Mr. Frank Cooper defended.

Elizabeth Jones (13), of Rowley Street, said she was sent by Detective-sergeant Burrell for seven pennyworth of brandy to the ROSE AND CROWN, where a young woman served her and neither sealed the bottle nor asked the girl her age.

Sergeant Burrell, cross-examined, said defendant had kept the house for about twelve years, and there had been no complaint against him.

Mr. Cooper said the girl was served by an inexperienced relative, whom defendant employed on the death of his wife only a few days ago. Fined 20/- and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/2/1914

“The members of the London and Provincial Yearly Dividing Society (Birchills Lodge) held their annual supper and ‘smoker’ at the Lodge-room, the ROSE AND CROWN HOTEL, Birchills, on Monday, when about forty members and friends, sat down together with the Mayor, ex-Mayor, Bro. J. Clifford, C.B.R. (Birmingham) and Bro. J. Dent, ex-president of the District Council, Wednesbury, to partake of the good things provide by Bro. G. Betteridge.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, £2 1s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills. £1 1s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord’s houses.....

ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills.”

1939 Register

Old Birchills – ROSE AND CROWN HOTEL

[1] William E. Holmes, date of birth 8/10/1883, public house manager, married;

[2] Amelia Holmes, dob 13/5/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Emma R. (Holmes) Earp, dob 23/10/1927, at school, single;

[4] Sarah A. Shaw, dob 10/4/1877, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939 - Advert

“The Old Birchills Sick, Death, & Dividend Society.

To-Night, at 6pm, we are paying our 962 members their Dividends of 17/6 per member, with two nights struck off their cards.

This Society is still open to enrol new members from the age of 16 to 50 years for healthy males. Our Benefits are: Death, member £5, member’s wife £2 10s, each member’s child £1; Sick Pay 10/- per week six weeks, 5/- per week six weeks. Any person who wishes to join can get all information from our headquarters, ROSE AND CROWN HOTEL, Birchills, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

ROSE AND CROWN INN, Old Birchills, £6 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

ROSE & CROWN INN, Old Birchills (Second donation). £2 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROSE AND CROWN, Old Birchills. £2 3s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROSE & CROWN INN, Old Birchills. £0 4s 7d.”

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn-Quiz. [1980]

Deborah J Humphreys was married to Gron.

[2017]

ROSE AND CROWN

Darlaston Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Sam Allen [1925]

NOTES

Black Country Bugle 24/2/2000

Letter from Roy Allen, Bentley

“.....my late granddad Sam ‘Nipper’ Allen used to be the licensee of. The pub was called the ROSE AND CROWN (or The Steps to some) and was on the Darlaston Road, Walsall. I believe he was the licensee for 46 years. My father, Joe was born there in 1925.....”

ROSE AND THISTLE

Wednesbury Road / 2, Caledon Street, (2, Regent Street), (Darlaston Road), Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

Sarah Parker [1861]

Samuel Middlebrook

Thomas Green Cleobury [1904], [1912]

Atkinsons Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Sarah Parker [1861] – [1862]

Samuel Middlebrook [1868] – 1898);

Thomas Green Cleobury (1898 – 1908);

James Cleobury [1908] ?

Abraham Smith (1908 – 1917);

Bertha Ann Smith (1917 – 1919);

Abraham Smith (1919 – 1926);

John Henry Hughes (1926 – []

John Henry Loynes [] – 1928);

Ernest Charles Williams (1928 – 1930);

John Cross (1930 – 1932);

Frederick Louis Dock (1932 – 1935);

Arthur Elias Alberrt William Hitch (1935 – 1937);

Frederick Ernest Preston (1937 – 1938);

George Sumner (1938 – 1939);

Mrs. Hilda Sumner (1939 – 1944);

George Adams (1944 – 1957);

Maynard Hodgkins (1957 – 1959);

Doris Malvina Hodgkins (1959 – 1967);

NOTES

2, Regent Street [1901], [1911]

2, Caledon Street [1940]

It was formerly known as the CROWN AND ANCHOR.

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/4/1858

“George Preece and Joseph Southwell were charged by Wm. Webster with having assaulted him at the ROSE AND THISTLE beerhouse, Pleck, on Monday night. It appeared a drunken row had taken place, in which Preece struck the complainant on the head with a bottle or a poker, it was not clear which, although the former was no doubt, the ultimate cause of the blow. Preece was fined 5s and the other defendant discharged.”

1861 Census

Regent Street – ROSE AND THISTLE Public House

- [1] Sarah Parker (67), widow, victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Thomas Beesley (15), grandson, clerk at iron works, born Lane Head;
- [3] Charles Beesley (13), grandson, scholar, born Lane Head:

Sarah Parker, retailer of beer, Pleck. [1862]

Samuel Middlebrook, beer retailer, Pleck. [1868], [1872]

1871 Census

Regent Street

- [1] Samuel Middlebrook (37), publican, born Rushall;
- [2] Jane Middlebrook (34), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] William Middlebrook (12), son, scholar, born Palfrey;
- [4] Martha Middlebrook (8), daughter, scholar, born Palfrey;
- [5] Samuel Middlebrook (5), son, scholar, born Palfrey;
- [6] James Middlebrook (2), son, born Palfrey:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/12/1871

“Samuel Middlebrook, beer-house keeper, at the Pleck, was charged with having refused admission to a police-constable. The facts of the case were simply these. Police-constable Stringer went to the defendant’s house at 11.30 on Sunday forenoon, having an overcoat on, which concealed his uniform, and requested to be admitted. The defendant came up to the officer and asked him what he wanted. The officer told him he was a police-constable, and wished to see what was going on inside the house. The defendant demanded to see the officer’s warrant card. The officer showed his uniform underneath the great-coat, and asked if that would not satisfy him. Defendant said he had been put on before by such a trick. Meantime, defendant’s wife opened the door, and the officer stepped inside, but was prevented going further by the defendant. Mr. Dale, who appeared for the defendant, contended that the officer had been ‘admitted’ as, by his own showing, on the door being opened he went in. This objection was sustained, and the case dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/4/1872

“Samuel Middlebrook, beerhouse keeper, the Pleck, was fined 20s and costs, for having had his house open after eleven o’clock at night.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1872

“Nine men were fined 1s each and costs for having, on the 25th ult, been in the beerhouse of Samuel Middlebrook, the Pleck, during prohibited hours.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 10/8/1872

“J. Middlebrook of Walsall will run W. Kenderick (alias Mogg) 120 yards, for £10 or £25 a side, in six weeks from signing articles, and will give or take £1 for choice of ground. A match can be made at any time by calling at Mr. S. Middlebrook’s, ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, near Walsall. Middlebrook hopes that if this will suit Kenderick he will come to terms at once.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 26/7/1879

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes. Crown Court. (Before Mr. Justice Hawkins.)

Robert Fosborough Lines, 23, filer, was indicted for the wilful murder of a male child at Walsall, on the 26th April. He was further indicted for attempting to murder his wife at the same time and place. Mr. Neale prosecuted, and Mr. Darling defended. Prisoner, who seemed much affected at his position, pleaded not guilty.

In opening the case, Mr. Neale said that the facts were very simple and very painful. The prisoner was married to his present wife in October, 1878. On the 25th April she was confined, and the prisoner seemed to be of opinion that the child was not his, declaring that his wife must have been unfaithful prior to her marriage.....

Samuel Middlebrook, a beerhouse keeper, spoke to a conversation with the prisoner a few hours after the birth of the child. Prisoner said that the child could not possibly be his, and he had a good mind to throw them both out of the window. Witness was cross-examined with great severity as to whether the prisoner was drunk or sober at the time, Mr. Darling accusing the witness of caring more for his miserable beerhouse than for the life of the prisoner.....

His Lordship summed up. He said that if the prisoner attacked the child with a view to taking its life and killed it; or if he had intended to kill his wife, and killed the infant by mistake; or if he had intended to do grievous bodily harm to either his wife or child, and death resulted, in either case that was murder. He urged the jury not to consider the result of their verdict, but merely do their duty and leave the execution of their verdict to others.

After ten minutes deliberation the Jury found the prisoner guilty of 'wilful murder', but recommended him to mercy on account of the doubt as to the paternity of the child.

His Lordship having assumed the black cap, addressed the prisoner as to the cruel nature of his crime, and having warned him not to be buoyed up by any hope of pardon, passed sentence of death in the usual form.

Prisoner, who was accommodated with a seat during the trial, seemed utterly overcome and said nothing. His wife, who dressed in deep mourning, was in the precincts of the Court, was terribly affected on hearing that the sentence had been passed."

Staffordshire Sentinel 4/8/1879

"It will be remembered that Robert Forborough Lines was condemned at the recent Stafford Assizes for the murder of his male child at the Pleck, Walsall. Since his condemnation, a memorial in his favour has been presented to the Home Secretary, containing 5,659 signatures, including nearly all the clergy and Nonconformist ministers of Wednesbury, members of the Board of Guardians, School Board, &c. The Home Secretary, considering that there were some mitigating circumstance in the case, advised her Majesty to this effect, and a respite arrived at the County Prison on Sunday morning."

1881 Census

Darlaston Road – Beerhouse

- [1] Samuel Middlebrook (47), beerhouse keeper, born Rushall;
- [2] Jane Middlebrook (43), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] Martha Middlebrook (18), daughter, born Palfrey;
- [4] Samuel Middlebrook (15), son, saddler, born Palfrey;
- [5] James Middlebrook (12), son, scholar, born Pleck;
- [6] John Middlebrook (9), son, scholar, born Pleck;
- [7] Emma Middlebrook (6), daughter, scholar, born Pleck;
- [8] Henry Middlebrook (3), son, born Pleck:

1891 Census

Wednesbury Road – ROSE AND THISTLE INN

- [1] Samuel Middlebrook (56), publican, born Rushall;
- [2] Ann Middlebrook (56), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Middlebrook (20), son, polisher, born Walsall;
- [4] Emma Middlebrook (16), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Lizzie Middlebrook (9), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

"Conservative League Jottings.....

'Frank James' Lodge. At the above lodge held at the ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, on Wednesday evening, Bro S. Thornhill gave his lecture 'Disestablishment and Disendowment,' to a crowded audience, who for an hour listened most attentively to the masterly way in which he dealt with his subject. The lecturer showed what the church had done and was doing in the cause of education, also the money spent in building and restoring churches and Cathedrals during the last fifty years, showing also that the poor toiling masses of England would suffer most if the church were robbed of her endowments. He also urged his hearers to do all in their power to protect the church which had done so much for them. A hearty vote of thanks proposed by Bro. Littler, seconded by Bro. Growse, was given to the lecturer, and the remainder of the evening was spent in harmony. The next lodge night will be on Wednesday next, Friday 14th, at eight o'clock."

Walsall Advertiser 23/2/1895

"Walsall Conservative Association.....

On Friday next an important meeting of No.19 District (the Pleck) will be held at the ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck. It is hoped all members will make a point of being present."

Walsall Advertiser 23/2/1895

"During the last few weeks Mr. Samuel Middlebrook of the ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, has had made at Mr. Nock's several hundred loaves of bread, which he has given to the poor and those thrown out of employment by the severe frost. Mr. Middlebrook's example has been followed by others.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Oxford Street, Pleck, in conjunction with a friend, on Tuesday last, distributed 120 loaves of bread, and 120 quarts of soup. This makes their fifth distribution since the inclement weather set in."

Samuel Middlebrook, beer retailer, 2, Regent Street, Pleck. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

William Bates, blacksmith, of Darlaston Road, and Mr. Rutheroe, for Mr. Stanley, opposed the application of Mr. H. H. Jackson for an 'on' license for wines at the ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road.

Application refused."

Walsall Observer 17/2/1900

“On Tuesday evening last the members of the National United Order of Free Gardeners (Bilston, Walsall and Cannock district) met at the ROSE AND THISTLE INN for the purpose of giving a send-off to one of their members, Joseph Walton, who had orders to rejoin his regiment – the 38th South Staffordshire – on the 15th inst. Mr. T. Edge presided.....”

Thomas Cleobury = Thomas Clebury

1901 Census

2, Regent Street

- [1] Thomas Green Cleobury (34), beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha Cleobury (32), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Thomas Cleobury (6), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Annie Rathbone (23), servant, born Leamington:

Thomas Clebury, beer retailer, 2, Regent Street, Pleck. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Thomas Green Cleobury, ROSE AND THISTLE, owner and occupier of this house, produced plans to meet the requirements of the magistrates, and the renewal of the license was adjourned for a week.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

The ROSE AND THISTLE case, The Pleck, was adjourned for Mr. Thomas (Chief Constable) and Mr. Jackson (solicitor) to confer as to an objectionable plan.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

Mr. Loxton read a list of decisions (some of which had been given the previous day), and stated that in the case of some of the renewals the magistrates were of opinion that they were not required, but as they were taken out prior to 1869 they had been granted in order to give the owners an opportunity of considering their position and making any suggestions they thought necessary. The decisions included the following.....

ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, subject to an undertaking with regard to plans. Renewed.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/1/1908

“Free Gardeners. Bilston, Walsall And Cannock District.

The half-yearly meeting of the above was held at the DUN COW HOTEL, Walsall, on Monday.....

Bro. S. Middlebrook, ROSE AND THISTLE Lodge, The Pleck, Walsall, was installed District Master for 1908.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1909

“Loyal Caledonian Corks. A large assembly of members of Lodge 421, met at the Lodge house, WHITE LION, Portland Street, on Monday evening, when the members of Lodge 51, ROSE AND THISTLE, The Pleck were paying a friendly regalia visit.

The visitors turned up in good numbers, and the spacious club room was well filled. Two new members were initiated by Bro. A. Smith, Past Captain of the Lodge, and the host of the ROSE AND THISTLE. The usual business of the Lodge being over it was decided to make it an open night. Harmony was freely indulged in, Bros. Knight, Stokes, Hattersley, O'Donnel, Harber, and Paddock entertaining the company in excellent style to the efficient accompaniments of Bros. Osbourn and E. Harber. Bro. George Noakes (Lodge secretary), proposed a vote of thanks to the visitors, complimenting them on their excellent attendance also the ready way they had added to the night's entertainment, at the same time promising that Lodge 421, would return the visit in a short time. He hoped as good a number as the visitors had brought the evening. The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1910.

“A Brobdingnagian Turnip.

A turnip of unusual size had been shown at the ROSE AND THISTLE, The Pleck. It was grown on Mr. Mark Smith's farm at Blakenall, and when gathered turned the scale at 30½lbs. Now it has dried down it weighs 24lbs. Side by side with this specimen are two smaller ones, which weigh 12lbs a piece.”

1911 Census

2, Regent Street

- [1] Abraham Smith (32), retailer of beer, brewer, born Blakenall;
- [2] Bertha Ann Smith (33), wife, married 8 years, assisting in business, born Harden:

Abraham Smith, beer retailer, 2, Regent Street, Pleck. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1912

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.

Mr. Jackson made an application for sanction for alterations at the ROSE AND THISTLE beer-house, Wednesbury Road. The proposed alterations would be to convert the present club-room into a bedroom and bathroom; to convert a disused brewery in the yard into a club room, and to cover part of the yard with a glass roof. Mr. Jackson stated that there would be no alteration in the licensing area, and would really be for the purpose of giving better living accommodation.

This was borne out by Mr. Cleobury, the landlord, who stated that the club room would be used a great deal on the occasion of football matches.

The alterations were approved.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).

ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, Walsall, 1s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.

ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road. £2 0s 0d.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“By 1925 Abraham Smith was a tenant here when the house was described as a ‘rather old property in good repair.’ The Bar was 23’ x 10’2” x 10’10” with an outdoor, Smoke Room and Club Room.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1928

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 9th inst, at the house of Mr. Samuel Birch, OLD CROWN INN, New Invention.

Ernest Charles Williams, ROSE AND THISTLE INN, Wednesbury Road, Pleck, elected member of the society.”

Summer = Summer

Walsall Observer 18/11/1939

“In a list of license transfers were two instances where a wife is taking over now that her husband had been called to the Colours, the license of the ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road, being transferred to Hilda Summer, and that of the CUPS, Park Street, to Florence Joan Guest.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.

ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road, £2 2s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.

ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road, Pleck. £12 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.

ROSE & THISTLE, Wednesbury Road. £0 18s 3d.”

A full license was granted on 8th February 1951.

It closed on 3rd January 1967.

ROVERS REST

654, (384), Bloxwich Road, (Blakenall Lane), (1, Blakenall), Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Thomas Farnell
John Jones, Little Sutton
Northampton Brewery Co. Ltd. [1901], [1910]

LICENSEES

Thomas Farnell [1871] – [1873];
John Gough [];
John Jones [1881] – [];
William Walker [];
Thomas Harper [] – 1886;
Hiram Jones (1886 – 1888);
Joseph Stanton (1888 – 1890);
Henry Wilcox (1890 – 1894);
James Walters (1894 – 1899);
Aaron Foster (1899 – 1901);
John Corbett Walker (1901 – 1902);
Albert Edward Marshall [1901]
Ernest Walker [1902] ?
George Corbett Walker (1902 – 1905);
John Rae McLean (1905 – 1907);
Edward Corbett Walker (1907 – 1908);
Mrs. Marie Walker (1908 – 1909);
Alfred Marshall (1909 – 1910);

NOTES

1, Blakenall [1871]
384, Bloxwich Road [1891]
654, Bloxwich Road [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

1871 Census

1, Blakenall – ROVERS REST

- [1] Thomas Farnell (68), lock maker, born Essington;
- [2] Katherine Farnell (50), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] William Farnell (61), brother, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Elizabeth Edwards (19), domestic servant, born Shropshire;
- [5] Jane Mellor (20), boarder, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Elizabeth Gough (4), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] William Lakins (25), boarder, miner, born Birchills:

Walsall Free Press 30/8/1873

“Thomas Farnell, beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich, charged with having had his house open during prohibited hours on Monday last, admitted the charge, and was fined 20s and costs.”

1881 Census

Blakenhall Lane – ROVERS REST

- [1] John Jones (51), beerhouse keeper, born Brewood;
- [2] Mary Jones (42), wife, born Walsall:

Hiram Jones = Hiram Jones

Hiram Jones was fined 20s and costs, on 17th April 1887, for permitting drunkenness.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/8/1887

“Hiram Jones, of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich, was fined 20s and costs, for allowing drunkenness in his house on 30th July.”

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road.”

1891 Census

384, Bloxwich Road

[1] Henry Wilcox (53), bridle bit filer and beerseller, born Lichfield;

[2] Louisa Wilcox (51), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] William Wilcox (19), son, bridle bit filer, born Bloxwich;

[4] Edith Cooper (5), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;

[5] Hannah Stanton (41), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;

[6] Mark Devey (21), son in law, bridle bit filer, born Bloxwich;

[7] Olive Devey (17), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[8] Howard Cockayne (37), boarder, bridle bit filer, born Bloxwich:

James Walters = James Walker

Walsall Observer 7/9/1895

“Eliza Cornfield, of Bloxwich Lane, was charged with refusing to quit the premises of James Walters, the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich. Complainant said that on the 17th instant defendant was very disorderly in the house. As he turned her out she took his watch out of his pocket and dashed it to the ground, doing damage, which had been valued by Mr. Stirling at from 7s to 19s. She was sent to Stafford in default of paying a fine of 5s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1896

“James Walters, landlord of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich was charged with having kept his house open for the sale of intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Police-sergeant 2 (Marshall) said that at about 11.40 on the night of Saturday, August 1st he met a man named Sagar coming from the back of the ROVERS REST with two half-gallon jars of beer. In answer to his questions, Sagar said ‘I’ve had it from Cox’s on the Green’ – a house some three-quarters of a mile away – but afterwards he said ‘I might as well tell you the truth; I had it from Walters, but I’ve not paid for it.’ He subsequently saw the landlord who admitted that a man names Morris had paid for it. The landlord now swore positively that Sagar took the beer away (after Morris had paid for it) before eleven o’clock, and that no one was supplied after that hour.

The Bench, satisfied with this explanation, dismissed the case without hearing Mr. Jackson’s further evidence.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Beer Retailers.....

James Walker, ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road, August 21st, keeping his house open during prohibited hours, dismissed.”

1901 Census

654, Bloxwich Road – ROVERS REST INN

[1] Aaron Foster (27), beerhouse keeper and coal miner (hewer), born Aldridge;

[2] Eleanor Foster (26), wife, born Brownhills;

[3] Aaron Foster (4), son, born Blakenall Heath;

[4] Ethel M. Foster (1), daughter, born Blakenall Heath;

[5] Ernest S. Foster (4 months), son, born Leamore;

[6] Eliza Kidson (15), general servant, born Essington:

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1902

“James Walker, of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich, and Frederick Groucott, of Petty’s Yard, James Street, young men, were summoned for causing an obstruction by playing football on Marlow Street, on August 30th.

Police-constable Allen said the youths were playing at football along with some others in Marlow Street.

Defendants denied that they were playing football in the street, but on some waste land.

Mr. Thomson (Chief Constable) said this was the commencement of the football season, and there were many complaints about youths playing football in different parts of the town. In this particular district complaints were made by Councillor Walker of youths playing football near his premises. Fined 1s and costs each.”

George Walker, beer retailer, Leamore. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

George Corbett Walker, ROVERS REST.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

ROVERS REST, Bloxwich. Licensee, George Corbett Walker; owners, Northampton Brewery Company. James Beard, aged 79, had known this beerhouse 41 years. Councillor Powell spoke to the value, and said it was not dilapidated.

Renewed on the undertaking by Mr. H. H. Jackson, on behalf of the owners, to do what alterations or repairs were required.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1904

“John Loundes, back of 658, Bloxwich Road, was found drunk upon the licensed premises of the ROVERS REST, Leamore, on August 27th by Police-constable Gibbs, and he now answered the summons charging him therewith.

The Chief Constable explained that the case was one in which the man was seen leaving the premises in an intoxicated condition. He had not been served by the landlord, who ejected him.

Defendant was ordered to pay 5s and costs, or go to prison for seven days, Mr. Moseley remarking that publicans had quite enough to contend with nowadays without being called upon to eject drunken men.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/1/1905 - Notice

“To the Overseers of the Poor of the Parish of Walsall, to the Chief Constable, and Clerk to the Justices of the Borough, and to all it may concern.

Take Notice that I, George Corbett Walker, of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road, near Bloxwich, in the Borough of Walsall, Beerhousekeeper, being a person interested in certain premises about to be constructed for the purpose of being used as a House for the Sale of Beer, Cider, and Perry, to be consumed on the same, and belonging to the Northampton Brewery Company Limited, Northampton, situate and being in Bloxwich Road, near Bloxwich aforesaid, and now and hereafter intended to be known as the ROVERS REST, intend to apply at the General Annual Licensing meeting for the Borough of Walsall, to be holden at the Guildhall, in the said Borough, on the 8th day of February, 1905, at 10.30 in the forenoon, for: the provisional removal of a License now held by me in respect of the said licensed premises, known as the ROVERS REST, from the said licensed premises as the case may be, to premises about to be constructed in accordance with plans which will be submitted to the said Justices, upon land as part to therefore being situate upon the site of the said licensed premises, and as to other part being land adjoining the said licensed premises. And Further, I intend to apply to the confirming authority for the confirmation of such Provisional Removal And Further Take Notice, that the License which I desire to be removed as aforesaid, will, when such Provisional Grant of Removal is confirmed as aforesaid, authorise me to Sell by Retail, on the said premises so as to be constructed as aforesaid, Beer, Cider, and Perry, to be consumed either on or off the said premises, in pursuance of the Acts 11. Geo. IV. and I. Will. IV. C. 64 and Acts amending the same, and that when the said premises are constructed I shall be the real resident holder and occupier of the same. Dated the 16th day of January, 1905.

Geo. Walker.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions were resumed on Tuesday at the Guildhall, for the third day.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for the removal of the license of the ROVERS REST, Leamore, to new premises to be erected. George Corbett Walker was the tenant, and the Wolverhampton Brewery Company[?] the owners. Mr. Jackson said it was an ante-'69 license, and they were desirous of erecting a new and more suitable building.

Mr. Loxton said it would become a new license.

Mr. Jackson: I cannot take that. If the Magistrates rule that there is an end of it.

Mr. Loxton said if this was an application for the removal they could not continue the '69 privilege.

Mr. Jackson said if the Court held that they would only grant the removal on its being a new license they could not proceed. They were prepared to give up their right to renewal, but if the removal was refused they wanted compensation.

Mr. Loxton: Can you do such a thing?

Mr. Jackson said if the Bench would only grant a new license under the 1904 Act he would have to withdraw the application.

Mr. Loxton: You are not prepared to make an application as a new license? – Mr. Jackson: I am not. I am also instructed to apply under Sub-section 4 of Section 11 of the 1902 Act.

Mr. Loxton: You want the magistrates to direct you to do something – to carry out alterations as they require? – Mr. Jackson: I wish they would do that. I withdraw the application.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1908

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week....

New Members..... Mrs. Walker, ROVERS REST INN, Bloxwich Road.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson submitted plans for the re-building of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road, which he said would not increase the facilities for drinking. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....
New Members..... Alfred Marshall, ROVERS REST INN, Leamore.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....
Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....
In the case of the ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road, Mr. H. H. Jackson represented the owners, the Northampton Brewery Co, and the licensee, Alfred Marshall.
Mr. Walter Hughes gave details of the accommodation provided by the house, and stated that an estimated value of the property, without the license, at 8s 6d a week, the tenant paying rates.
Inspector Pritchard said the house was a very old one, doing very little trade, and in his opinion was not required in the neighbourhood.
Mr. Jackson put in figures relating to the trade, these showing that in 1907 129 barrels of beer and 29½ dozen pints were sold, in 1908 it was 98 barrels and 70 dozen pints, and in 1909 it was 120 barrels and 67 pints.
Alfred Marshall, the tenant, said his average weekly takings amounted to £9 to £10.
Mr. Jackson said several times plans had been laid before the justices, but each time they had been refused. Inspector Pritchard stated the ROVERS REST, the RAILWAY INN, and the OLD BLACK HORSE were structurally about the same, and if that was so why had the ROVERS REST been kicked out and the others allowed to remain.....
Application for alterations to the ROVERS REST, not proceeded with.”

The license renewal was refused on 25th February 1910.
Closed

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1904.
Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.
Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o’clock in the forenoon.....
List of Licensed Premises.....
ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road. Beerhouse. Licensee Alfred Marshall.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1910

“A meeting of the Licensing Justices was held on Tuesday morning.....
The renewal of the license of the ROVERS REST, Leamore, was applied for by Mr. Jackson, who said it was an old house, belonging to the Northampton Brewery Company, with a good record, and the trade was increasing.
Albert Edward Marshall, bona-fide tenant, said that the average trade was £8 to £9 a week.
The renewal was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910

“A supplementary meeting of the Licensing Justices to consider claims for compensation was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall. Mr. W. Bayliss presided, and there were present Messrs. W. E. Blyth, T. A. Smith, J. Clare, W. Halford, A. D. Cozens, J. J. Lynch, A. Jagger, and R. Thomas. The following houses came up for consideration.....
ROVERS REST, Bloxwich Road; owners, Northampton Brewery Company; tenant and licensee, Alfred Marshall. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for all parties.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1912

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, the Mayor (Councillor J. Venables) presiding. Four licensed houses came up for consideration, with the question of compensation to be paid for closing them. The houses were the SADDLERS HOME and the STAR AND GARTER public houses in Station Street, and the VAULTS, in High Street, and the ROVERS REST at Leamore. It was decided that the four houses should be closed on or before March 25th, and the amounts to be paid as compensation were agreed upon between the justices and the parties concerned.”

ROYAL EXCHANGE

24, (15), Stafford Road, Green, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Walker
Mrs. Sarah Walker
James Birch [1906], [1912]
F. & G. Wilkes, TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich
Bloxwich Brewery Co. [1915]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (leased)
Marstons Ltd.
Highgate Brewery (leased from 2000)

LICENSEES

Elizabeth Walker [1858]
Mrs. Susannah Walker [1860] – [1862]
William Walker [1864] – 1881);
Mrs. Sarah Walker (1881 – 1905);
Emma Taylor (1905);
James Birch (1905 – 1912);
George Morrall (1912 – 1914);
John Wilkes (1914 – 1924);
James Vann (1924 – 1927);
Elizabeth Vann (1927 – 1931);
Joseph Jones (1931 – 1953);
Charles Edward Cooper (1953 – 1957);
William Walker (1957 – [1966]
Ian Keith Beattie [2005] – [2009]

NOTES

15, Stafford Road [1871]
24, Stafford Road [1881], [1891], [1901], [1932], [1939], [1940]

EXCHANGE [1858]

Grade II listed

It had a brewery at the rear.

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
Susannah Walker, Bloxwich. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

“Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers’ licenses.....
Susannah Walker, Bloxwich. Refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.....
Susannah Walker, Bloxwich. Granted.”

1861 Census

Stafford Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] Susannah Walker (80), widow, victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] William Walker (41), son, assistant, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Mary Walker (15), granddaughter, barmaid, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/9/1866

“An old man named John Jones was charged with having, on the 9th inst, assaulted his grandson, named Samuel Taylor. It appeared that on the night in question the parties met in the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, when in consequence of some old family quarrel, they had some words. On coming out the disputation was renewed, when some provoking language was used by both parties, and ultimately the defendant boxed the complainant’s ear. To use the complainant’s own words, defendant struck a blow with his fist on the side of the face.”

Walsall Free Press 4/1/1868

“John Levan was charged with having, on Saturday, the 21st ult, assaulted William Walker, landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich. The complainant, who appeared in the witness-box with his arm in a sling, and several wounds on his head said: The prisoner and some other men came into my house about six o’clock on the evening of the 21st ult, and, after sitting a while in the front room, they went into the back kitchen, where there was a very orderly company, and placed themselves between the company and the fire. On seeing this, I told them not to do so; but to sit fairly. They then commenced to use all kinds of abusive language. One of them got up, and gave the following toast:

‘Here’s to my country,

Likewise to France;

H—I to old England;

When they come from America;

We’ll make the b——s dance.’

One of them said to a woman, who was present, ‘You are the one eyed b——r who swore our lives away at Manchester.’ One of them then brought a jug, and wanted it filled with beer, and I refused, and said, ‘I won’t let you have any more ale if you were to give me a sovereign.’ They continued to create a disturbance till about ten o’clock, when I succeeded in ejecting them. After turning them out I went to the back door, and, not seeing anyone there, I concluded they had gone, and returned to the house, and opened the front door, and, as soon as I did so, the prisoner threw a piece of cinder, which struck me on the forehead with such violence that it not only inflicted a severe wound on my forehead, but knocked me down and fractured my collar bone in two places. The prisoner then decamped, and I procured a warrant for his apprehension.

John Smith, forgerman, said: I was in the complainant’s house on the night in question, when the prisoner and others came in. I also accompanied Mr. Smith when he went round the house, and also when he opened the door, and saw the prisoner take the piece of cinder from behind his back, and, after transferring it from his left hand to his right, throw it at Mr. Walker. I went with Police-sergeant Martin to Portobello last night, and there identified the prisoner, whom we found with several other men in a lodging house there. The cinder now produced fell within the house of the complainant, and was picked up and handed to Sergeant Martin.

William Salt, who was present when the assault was committed, corroborated the evidence of the other witnesses, and added that after throwing the cinder, the prisoner ran to one of his companions, and after picking up another stone, said, ‘I cut the b——r’s b——y head off.’ Witness, who was close to the prisoner, said, ‘You have killed him.’ The prisoner then looked, and on seeing the complainant on the ground, dropped the stone and ran away.

Police-sergeant Martin said that he, in company with the witness, Smith, went to Portobello; and on going to the lodging-house where the prisoner was, the witness Smith at once identified the prisoner was the man who assaulted Mr. Walker. The prisoner was then taken into custody; and on being charged with the offence, he said, ‘I never hurt Mr. Walker.’

At the request of the prisoner, who said the if the case were adjourned he could produce evidence to show that he never threw a stone at the complainant.

Remanded till Monday.”

[At the Quarter Sessions in April, 1868, John Lavin, was found guilty and sentenced to eight months’ hard labour.]

1871 Census

15, Stafford Road

[1] William Walker (51), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Sarah Walker (36), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Sarah Coper (18), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

24, Stafford Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

[1] William Walker (62), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Sarah Walker (46), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Emma Taylor (22), domestic servant, born Dudley:

1891 Census

24, Stafford Road – Public House

[1] Sarah Walker (56), widow, licensed victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Emma Taylor (43), servant, born Dudley:

Walsall Observer 1/12/1900

“Bloxwich Cricket Club. The Annual Dinner in connection with this club was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, on Thursday, when about forty members and friends sat down to an excellent repast provided by the hostess, Mrs. Walker.....”

1901 Census

24, Stafford Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

[1] Sarah Walker (66), widow, licensed victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Emma Taylor (53), general servant, born Dudley;

[3] Harriet Roobottom (17), general servant, born Great Barr:

Walsall Advertiser 16/5/1903

“On Tuesday, at Walsall Police Court, a respectably-dressed woman named Lydia Morris (49), of Wyrley, was summoned for being drunk in charge of a child not seven years old on May 11th.

Police-sergeant Willetts said he was called to eject the defendant from the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Road, Bloxwich. She was carrying a child which she tried to put in a perambulator. She was so drunk, however, that she dropped the infant.

Prisoner denied being drunk, but Police-constable Collins gave evidence similar to that of the first witness.

Defendant was put on her good behaviour for two months, this being her first appearance.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/6/1906

“The Streets Committee recommended.....

That the sum of £70 be paid to Mr. James Birch, the owner of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Road, Bloxwich, conditional on his pulling down and rebuilding the projecting stables and sheds, and conveying to the Council a strip of land containing 56½ square yards required for the purpose of widening the easterly side of Stafford Road, Bloxwich, the Corporation making the foot-way, and providing proper cart access to Mr. Birch's premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/11/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New members..... Mr. Henry [sic] Birch, ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Road, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich. Mr. Jackson applied for sanction to the alterations of the above house (owner and licensee Mr. James Birch). He pointed out that it was proposed to put back part of the premises five feet for a distance of 37 yards, which would give 70 yards of land to the Corporation for street improvement. Sanctioned.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1909

“The annual dinner in connection with the Cricket Club was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Road, on Tuesday evening, when upwards of 40 members and friends partook of the excellent things provided by the host and hostess Birch, which were heartily enjoyed.....”

Walsall Advertiser 30/10/1909

“Lodge 67. Loyal Caledonian Corks.

An interesting ceremony took place at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, on Wednesday evening, on the occasion of the initiation of Dr. D. McDonald as a member of the Grand Independent Order of the Loyal Caledonian Corks. The initiation ceremony was performed by Br. W. J. Rattenberry, district captain.....”

1911 Census

24, Stafford Road

[1] James Birch (57), brewer and licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Elizabeth Birch (52), wife, married 30 years, none, born Walsall;

[3] John Alfred Birch (25), son, brewer, born Walsall;

[4] William Howard Birch (21), son, house painter, born Walsall;

[5] Lilly May Birch (19), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Samuel Bernard Birch (15), son, house painter, born Walsall;

[7] Ada Maud Birch (13), daughter, school, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/9/1912 - Advert

“Particulars of very valuable Free Freehold Old-established Full-Licensed Inn, known as the ROYAL EXCHANGE, situate on the Stafford Road, Bloxwich, near Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction by Mr. A. C. Fraser, FAI (Watkins, Powell & Wood; and Walter Hughes) at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Monday, the 30th September, 1912, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

(By Order of the Owner, Mr. James Birch, who is retiring from business.)

The well-known Old-established Free Freehold Full-Licensed Inn known as the ROYAL EXCHANGE, situate within a few yards of the tram terminus on the Stafford Road, Bloxwich, containing bar, 2 commodious taprooms, smokeroom, billiard-room, clubroom, private living room, kitchen, 5 bedrooms, scullery and pantry, extensive cellaring (with rolling-in-way), brewhouse, malt room (recently erected), coach-house, and 2-stall stabling with loft and hop-room over; and urinal. Together with modern and convenient Brewery (14-bushel capacity), privy, ashpit, paved yard, lawns, and large garden (with gateway entrance), and substantial summer arbour. The whole in the occupation of the owner.

The house is well situated, with an extensive frontage to the main road leading from Walsall to Stafford.

The License has been in existence over 100 years, and has changed hands twice only during that period.

There is a well of excellent water, and gas is laid on throughout the premises. S.S. water is also supplied. The front boundary of the property is 36 yards, and contains an area of 1,178 square yards or thereabouts. Possession will be given to the purchaser on completion of the purchase, or earlier by arrangement. For further particulars and lithographed plans, apply to the Auctioneer, 28, Bridge Street, Walsall ('Phone 186); or to Mr. Enoch Evans, Solicitor, Bridge Street, Walsall ('Phone 67)."

George Morrall = George Merrell = George Merrall

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1912

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....
New members..... Mr. George Merrell, ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich."

Walsall Advertiser 1/3/1913

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall yesterday (Friday) morning.....
There was an application for a public singing and music license by George Merrall, landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street, Bloxwich, who applied for a license for every Monday and Saturday, from 7.30pm to 10.45pm, in the clubroom. Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson appeared for the tenant, and said that the house was the headquarters of several friendly societies, the Old Marians Hockey Club, and the Bloxwich Cricket Club. There was also a harmonic club which met there once per week. The application was granted on the understanding that the license should only apply to Mondays and Saturdays."

Walsall Advertiser 26/4/1913

"On the application of Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, an alteration to the kitchen of the SCOTTS ARMS, Little Bloxwich, and alterations to the brewery and outhouses of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, were sanctioned by the Bench."

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, 2s."

Walsall Advertiser 21/8/1915 - Advert

"ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Road, Bloxwich.
Unreserved Sale of Valuable Brewing Plant; by direction of the Bloxwich Brewery Co, Ltd.
Mr. A. C. Fraser Wood, FAI, (Watkins, Powell & Wood; and Walter Hughes). Will Sell by Auction on Wednesday, September 1st, 1915, the extensive Brewing Plant And Utensils.
Comprising Two Excellent Copper Refrigerators complete with brass bound Trough, costly Fermenting and Cooling Vats, Hop Sieves, Galvanised Ice Box, Copper Attenuator, Massive Boiler taps with Copper Pipes and Masher, Fine Circular Mash Tun (false bottom), Malt Shute, Copper 'Devil,' Copper, Sparge Wort Spout, Benches, two Air-Guns, Chains, Ropes and Pulleys, Corn Bins, Seating, China Spirit Barrel, Double Door Cupboard, Strong Iron safe, Clothes Chest, Pier Glass, and numerous other effects of interest to the Licensed Trade.
Sale to commence at 11 o'clock. On view morning of Sale from 9am."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich. £0 15s 9d."

1939 Register

24, Stafford Road

- [1] Joseph Jones, date of birth 19/9/1883, colliery hewer, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Hannah M. Jones, dob 25/9/1885, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Edna J. (Jones) Holland, dob 26/10/1920, electric switch packer, single:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Jones, ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich. £4 4s 9d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich. £1 11s 6d."

[2012]

ROYAL EXCHANGE

78, Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

P. P. Worthington, Worthington Villa, Victoria Road, Aston
Thomas Robinson and Co, Burton on Trent
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1925]

LICENSEES

William Wood [1818]
John Yates [1822] – 1832)
Thomas James [1834] – [1861]
Edward F Naylor [1862] – [1863]
John Brown [1864] – 1889);
George James Byrne (1889);
Harry Smallwood (1889 – 1891);
James Mason (1891 – 1892);
John Fowler (1892 – 1893);
John Harris (1893);
James Warner (1893 – 1894);
John William Hayward (1894 – 1895);
Mrs. Agnes Greenway (1895);
Arthur Trott (1895 – 1896);
Frank Barber (1896 – 1897);
Terence Maguire (1897 – 1898);
Thomas Bates (1898 – 1899);
Robert Herbert Price (1899 – 1905);
Ernest George Whitehead (1905);
James Loynes (1905 – 1911);
Thomas Pedley (1911 – 1924);
James Darlow ‘Jim’ Harrison (1924 – 1942);
Leonard Thomas Cox (1942 – 1945);
Alfred Ernest Cooper (1945 – 1947);
Albert William Percox (1947 – 1954);
Arthur Harold Smith (1954 – 1956);
Ralph Francis Argyle (1956 – 1958):

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/9/1832 - Died

“On Monday last, aged 59, Mr. John Yates, of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Thomas James was also a maltster.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/7/1844

“George Holden, of Walsall, is surprised at Jack Bethel, of Birmingham, challenging him, at 8st 12lb, when he could fight Paddy Gill at 8st 7lb; but to put an end to all nonsense, he (Holden) will fight him at 8st 10lb, for £25 or £50 a side. His money is ready at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, Walsall; or he will fight any other Birmingham man for the like sum, at 8st 8lb.”

1851 Census

Ablewell Street

- [1] Thomas James (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary James (51), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Marianne Hughes (19), niece, born Birmingham;
- [4] Marianne Williams (12), niece, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Smith (27), servant, born Oaken Gates, Shropshire;

- [6] Martha Middlebrook (16), servant, born Rushall;
- [7] William Brown (61), lodger, hawker, born Ravenstone, Leicestershire;
- [8] Mary Brown (37), married, born Shropshire;
- [9] Frederick Brown (17), hawker, born Leicestershire;
- [10] Sarah Nash (45), sister, visitor, born Walsall;
- [11] Thomas Williams (16), nephew, brass dresser, born Great Bridge:

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/10/1855

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Association.

The third anniversary of this association was celebrated at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street, on Thursday evening last. A large number sat down to an excellent dinner provided by the worthy host, Mr. James. The meeting was presided over by F. B. Oerton, Esq, Mayor of Walsall.....”

Birmingham Journal 17/11/1855

“Yesterday, an inquest was held by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Borough Coroner, at the house of Mr. Samuel Falconbridge, the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on the body of a young girl, aged sixteen, named Elizabeth Jones, the deceased lived as servant to Mr. James, the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. On Thursday she stole a shawl from a traveller staying in the house, and pawned it at Miss Scholefield’s in Lichfield Street. She was charged with theft, and denied it. A man named Bullock, about three o’clock, was working in a rope walk near Hatherton lake, and heard a woman cry out that some one was in the water; he ran to the spot, and saw a ripple as though a stone had been thrown in. The drags were procured, and in five minutes the body, which had been in the water about half an hour, was recovered. Life of course was extinct. The Jury returned a verdict of Felo De Se. The party robbed of the shawl had offered to forgive the deceased, if she confessed the theft, but she persisted in denying it.”

Walsall Free Press 3/1/1857

“One of those pleasant reunions which characterise the improvement of the present age, and tend to cement more and more firmly the connection between workmen and their employers, namely, a festive gathering of those two important classes, was on Monday last celebrated at the manufactory of Messrs. John Cowley and Co, the Patent Tube Works, in Ablewell Street. About half-past two o’clock, upwards of two hundred of the workpeople employed under the above firm sat down in a large room of the manufactory, to partake of a comfortable and substantial dinner, provided by Mr. and Mrs. James, of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens, holly, and flowers of various descriptions and presented a pleasing appearance.....”

Walsall Free Press 24/12/1859

“John Hinks, gas-fitting maker, was charged by Mr. T. James, landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, with committing a nuisance in his house. It appeared defendant had gone to Mr. James’ house, and in the presence of a large company, had committed a beastly nuisance. After hearing the evidence, the defendant – who expressed himself extremely sorry for what he had done – was bound over to keep the peace for twelve months, himself in £20, and two sureties in £10 each.”

1861 Census

78, Ablewell Street – Public House – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] Thomas James (60), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary James (61), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Ann Bird (26), house servant, born Roscommon, Ireland;
- [4] Mary Mainwaring (?) (20), house servant, born Ireland;
- [5] Ruth Williamson (70), lodger, stocking maker, born Whittington, Leicestershire;
- [6] Charles Naviter (?) (52), lodger, microscope maker, born Norwich;
- [7] John E. Mills (43), lodger, labourer, born Welford, Gloucestershire:

Walsall Free Press 20/6/1863 - Advert

“The ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

The Proprietor of the above well-known House is desirous of finding a Successor, in consequence of his being about to enter upon another and totally different business out of town.

All applications to be made to George Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 31/10/1863 - Advert

“ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction Without Reserve, by Mr. W. Ashcroft, on Monday, November 2nd, 1863, all the excellent Brewing Plant, comprising 120 Gallon Copper Furnace, 16 Bushel Mash Tub, Lead Pipe and Large Tap, sound and sweet Ale Barrels, excellent Tubs, 100 gallons of Prime Ale, superior 5-Pull Beer Machine, Bar Counter, with metal top and drainer; Glazed Partition, with mahogany panel front; Bar Window, Fixed Benches, with wall casings; Hat Rails, Cupboards, large Cistern, lined with lead; Grates, Cranes and Keepers, Gas Piping and Appendages. Also all the Household Furniture, capital Feather Beds and Bedding, contents of Club-room and 4 Chambers, and Kitchen Requisites, the property of Mr. Naylor who is leaving. Sale to commence Eleven o’clock.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/12/1863 - Advert

“To be Let, the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall. This old-established House has been carried on successfully by the late Tenant, Mr. Thomas James, for thirty-six years. Its situation one of the best in town. For License and Possession apply to Mr. Worthington, Penkridge, near Stafford.”

John Brown issued tokens from here.

Walsall Free Press 11/3/1865 - Advert

“Wanted a good General Servant.
Apply at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/11/1869 - Advert

“Billiard Table, to be disposed of, 10 by 5, good as new. Billiard and Pool Balls all complete.
Apply at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

78, Ablewell Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] John Brown (39), licensed victualler, born Rugby;
- [2] Elizabeth Brown (29), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Annie E. Brown (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] John Harry Brown (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Ernest Brown (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary E. Brown (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Minnie Brown (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ada Brown (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Horace Brown (11 months), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Eliza Hodson (19), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Midland Counties Evening Express 8/3/1875

“Henry Jones, on remand from Friday last, was charged with passing a bad half-crown, and attempting to pass another, as well as having a third in his possession, on Thursday, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street. The evidence taken on Friday was read over, and the magistrates’ clerk (Mr. Brookes) having stated that the Mint authorities had decided to go on with the prosecution, prisoner was committed for trial at the Borough Quarter Sessions.”

1881 Census

78, Ablewell Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] John Brown (49), licensed victualler, born Rugby;
- [2] Elizabeth Brown (38), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Annie E. Brown (21), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary E. Brown (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] John H. Brown (18), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [6] Ernest L. Brown (16), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [7] Minnie Brown (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ada Brown (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Horace Brown (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Alfred Brown (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] Herbert Brown (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [12] Bernard Brown (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [13] Frank Brown (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [14] Harriett Freeman (16), general servant, born Walsall:

Evening Star 6/5/1882

“Last night an inquest was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, by Mr. A. A. Fletcher (borough coroner), upon the body of Mary Kelley, aged six weeks. Evidence to show that the child died from convulsions was called, and a verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1889 - Local Notes

“Another meeting which took place on Monday evening was that of the members of the Walsall Town Swifts Football Club, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street. Mr. B. Bird presiding over a large attendance. The secretary (Mr. H. Smallwood) presented his annual report, which showed that the first team played 42 matches during last season, won 24, lost 14, and drew 4, the goals scored being 97, compared with 74 against. Mr. Bray (auditor) announced the financial statement was not yet complete, but as far as present could be ascertained the expenditure would be £735 0s 11½d, and the income £714 1s 3d, leaving an adverse balance. The report was adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows: Councillor Noake, president; Mr. H. E. Cook, treasurer; Mr. H. Smallwood, secretary; Mr. G. Bate, assistant secretary; Mr. A. Jones, captain, Mr. G. Morris, vice captain; and Messrs. Bray and Also, auditors.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses The following applied in person Henry Smallwood, the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1891

“There were 31 applications for dancing, singing and music licenses under the provisions of the new Corporation Act. The Bench heard all the applications and then retired to consider their decisions, which turned out to be in accordance with the principle which was laid down at a former Court, viz, that licenses should not be granted to vaults or public rooms, but should be confined to regular and existing clubs and class meetings in club rooms. Licenses were granted to..... The ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street.”

1891 Census

Ablewell Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] Harry Smallwood (33), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Smith Smallwood (28), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Smallwood (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] May Smallwood (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Edith Smallwood (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Nelly Smallwood (11 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Flory Farmer (22) ,barmaid, born Birmingham:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday..... The following transfers were granted without opposition..... the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, from John Harris to James Warner, the old Villa goalkeeper.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“James Quinn (32), labourer, The Ditch, was charged with having stolen from a till at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, about 7s. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the defendant. Agnes Greenway, the landlady, said about 7/5 on Tuesday evening the prisoner came into the bar, and asked for half a pint of ale. It was supplied, and then she went into the back yard. She told her daughter to mind the bar in her absence, and she had not been in the yard long, before her daughter called ‘Ma, ma, a man is robbing the till.’ There was only the prisoner in the bar-room at the time. Her son then ran after Quinn and brought him back, but he denied having taken the money. Dorothy Greenway, a daughter, stated that the prisoner was the man she saw robbing the till. Police-constable Morris deposed to arresting the prisoner. He cautioned and charged him, but he made no reply, but on searching him he found 2s 6s, two 3d pieces, and 7½d. There were a number of previous convictions against the prisoner. Mr. Jackson, in defence, said the only evidence against his client was the girl Dorothy, and it was uncorroborated. Then again she did not see the man take any money out of the till. A fine of 5s and costs or seven days was imposed.”

Robert Herbert Price = Robert Edward Price

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

“The Walsall and District Poultry, Pigeon, and Fanciers’ Society held a show at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, on Monday evening. The show was an undoubted success, there being altogether 59 birds staged.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1900

“On Monday evening last, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, a good muster of grooms and gardeners from the Birmingham Road district sat down to a hot supper, which was served in excellent style by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Price). Afterwards a pleasant evening was spent, songs, &c. being rendered by Messrs. Wells, Gilt, Wood, Bill, Bartlam, Price and White.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/7/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday..... New Members..... H. Price, ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street.”

1901 Census

78, Ablewell Street

- [1] Robert H. Price (37), public house manager, born Denbighshire, North Wales;
- [2] Sophia A. Price (32), wife, born Bushbury;

- [3] Dorothy G. Price (7), daughter, born Swindon, Wiltshire;
[4] Mabel Barnes (18), domestic servant, born Swindon, Wiltshire:

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the house of Mr. Robert Herbert Price, ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ablewell Street.”

1911 Census

Ablewell Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] James Loynes (39), hotel manager, born Wednesbury;
[2] Clara Eliza Loynes (37), wife, married 16 years, born Walsall;
[3] Walter Loynes (14), son, errand boy, born Walsall;
[4] James Frederick Loynes (12), son, school, born Walsall;
[5] Percy Loynes (8), son, born Walsall;
[6] Ellen Elizabeth White (22), general servant, born Dudley;
[7] John Henry Loynes (10), son, school, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. £0 6s 5d.”

1939 Register

Ablewell Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE Public House

- [1] James D. Harrison, date of birth 23/2/1875, licensed victualler, married;
[2] Alice E. Harrison, dob 15/8/1876, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street, £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. £2 5s 3d.”

Ralph Francis Argyle – see also ELEPHANT AND CASTLE and BRIDGEWATER.

It closed on 5th May 1958.

The license was transferred to the BRIDGE, Bloxwich Road, in July 1958.

ROYAL EXCHANGE

27, Lichfield Road, (Walsall Wood Road), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

MTP Enterprises Ltd. (in liquidation in 2014)

Star Pubs and Bars [2023]

LICENSEES

Richard Jackson [] – 1848)

Miss Mary Jackson [1849] – [1850]
Richard Jackson [1851]
Mrs. Maria Jackson [1858] – [1861]
William Clews [1863] – [1864]
William Jackson [1868]
Richard Steadman [] – 1873;
William Cross (1873 – []
James Welsh [1885] – [1896]
William Cross (1900 – [1940]
Mrs. Cross [1944]
Michael Dunphy [1982] – [1993]

NOTES

Walsall Wood Road [1861]
Lichfield Road [1891], [1932], [1940]

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/2/1847

“On Saturday last, an inquest was held before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, upon the body of James Robinson, aged 14 years. On the previous Wednesday the deceased was sent into the stable to get the horse ready to go out to plough, and whilst in the stable the horse kicked him on the belly. He returned into the house, and was very sick and ill. On Friday morning he was a great deal worse and a surgeon was sent for, but before he arrived the deceased died. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1848

“On the evening of Thursday, the 3rd instant, a pensioner, aged 59, hung himself by a handkerchief, from the sign-post of the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood. The lifeless body was discovered by an acquaintance named John Stokes, who at first thought it was a man standing on the garden wall against the post, and spoke to him, but receiving no answer, touched him, and then the body swung off the wall into the garden. Hill had been on bad terms with his wife for some time, and a few months ago he was sent to prison for want of sureties to keep the peace towards her. Latterly he made ineffectual endeavours to induce her to live with him again, and seemed much affected by her decided refusal. The following letter was found in one of his pockets: ‘Burslem Barracks, Jan 31st, 1848.

Richard Jones, the Secretary of War has ordered 5s per week to be stopped out of your pension for the support of your wife and children, by the Walsall Union, except you can prove your wife an abandoned and profligate character. You must meet me at Stafford on Tuesday, the 8th of February next, at one o’clock, at the Vine inn, and bring any person who can speak to your wife’s bad conduct. If you can make out a clear case against her, you will probably get off paying the money. Your own word, without a witness, will not be taken.

T. Meek, Staff Officer.’

It was stated by Price, a police-officer, at the inquest, that Hill told him he was in the lock-up, for want of sureties, he contemplated self-destruction, and had actually prepared to hang himself. An inquest has been held before Mr. Hinchliffe coroner, and a verdict of Temporary Insanity was returned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/4/1848 - Deaths

“On the 4th instant, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, Mr. Richard Jackson, aged 64.”

1851 Census

Turnpike Road

- [1] Richard Jackson (41), victualler and miner, born Burton;
- [2] Maria Jackson (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Ann Jackson (16), daughter, at home, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Priscilla Jackson (14), daughter, at home, born Wednesbury;
- [5] John Jackson (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Richard Jackson (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Isabella Jackson (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ann Maria Jackson (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Mary Jugar (66), mother in law, widow, midwife, born Walsall;
- [10] John Wright (30), lodger, music publisher, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Maria Jackson, licensed victualler, the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, was fined 2s 6d and costs, for having two unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

1861 Census

Walsall Wood Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] Maria Jackson (50), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] John Jackson (19), son, coal miner, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Richard Jackson (16), son, coal miner, born Walsall;
- [4] Isabella Jackson (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah Jane Jackson (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Elizabeth York (18), general servant, born Tipton;
- [7] Charles Bagley (36), lodger, tile maker, born Trentham, Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/1/1864

“William Clews, landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE public-house, Walsall Wood, for having had his house open at half-past twelve on the morning of Christmas last, was fined 5s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1864

“At the annual special Sessions for licensing purposes yesterday.....
The following victuallers were cautioned..... William Clews, of the Royal EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/6/1866

“On Tuesday Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on the body of Thomas Hathaway, a porter, aged 73. At two o’clock on the preceding Saturday morning the deceased was found sitting up in bed with his throat cut, his fingers in the wound, and the knife with which he had inflicted the injury wrapped up in a night cap. He stated that he made his mind up to commit suicide on the preceding Tuesday, and said he regretted that he had not made a better job of it. Dr. Somerville’s assistant attended and rendered all the assistance in his power, but the deceased died on the afternoon of the same day. Verdict Suicide while in a state of Temporary Insanity.”

Walsall Free Press 3/11/1866 - Notice

“Walsall Manorial Cottage Premises.

All Parties holding Cottages at the following places, within the manor of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, are requested to Pay Their Rents as directed underneath.

Coal Heath, Shelfield, Green Lane, Iron Ditch, Walsall Wood, Holly Bank, Shire Oaks, Pepper Alley, Paul’s Coppice, Clayhanger, Catshill, Goblin’s Pit, The Vigo, and High Heath, will be received at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on Thursday, the 8th of November from Eleven till Three o’clock.

Broadstone, Harden, Blakenall, Bloxwich Lane, Little Bloxwich, Fishley, Wallington Heath, Short Heath, and Dead Man’s Heath, will be received at the BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, on Friday, the 9th of November, from Eleven till Three o’clock.

Fullbrook, Walsall Town’s End, Blue Lane, Birchills Lane, Stafford Street, Birchills, Park Brook, Wednesbury Road, The Pleck, and Bescote, will be received at the HORSE SHOES, at The Pleck, near Walsall, on Saturday, the 10th day of November, from Eleven o’clock till Three o’clock.

John Porter, St. George’s Buildings, The Bridge, Walsall, 1st October, 1866.”

William Jackson was also a bricklayer. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 15/1/1870

“On Tuesday evening, Sarah Smith, aged about 36 years, wife of Richard Smith, green grocer, Hammerwich, was returning from Walsall Market, and when opposite the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, she got out of the cart and was in the act of getting in again when her foot slipped and she fell in front of the cart, which passed over her body and killed her on the spot.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/7/1882

“A public meeting in connection with the Brownhills and District Liberal Association was held on Wednesday evening, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, for the purpose of nominating additional members for the General Committee for Walsall and Shelfield.....”

Walsall Advertiser 9/9/1890

“On Wednesday evening last, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, Mr. Henry Charles Powell sold by auction two lots of property. Lot 1. The double-fronted house (fronting the occupation road), in the occupation of Mr. John Parr, at a rental producing £13 per annum. The property is freehold and contains an area of 244 square yards. Lot 2. The piece of freehold land adjoining Lot 1, having a frontage of 31ft 6in to the occupation road, and containing an area of 147 square yards. The lots were sold for £219 14s. The vendors’ solicitors were Messrs. Crump and Barrows.”

James Welsh = James Welch

1891 Census

Lichfield Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] James Welsh (40), licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Bella Welsh (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Isabella Cross (15), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] William Cross (13), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Sarah Jane Jackson (15), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Sarah Davis (20), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] James Rock (61), visitor, born Old Hill:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1893

“At the Rushall Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. J. Nayler, Dr. Cooke, and Mr. T. A. Hill, James Welsh, the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, was summoned at the instance of the police for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and also for permitting riotous conduct. Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) appeared for the defendant; and Mr. Russell, Lichfield, for the owners of the premises.

It will be remembered that on the 20th December, two men, named Jackson and Taylor, met at the defendant’s house, and that after some quarrelsome words the former yielded to the wish of the latter and went outside to fight, the result being that Taylor got a knock-down blow, and sustained a fracture of the skull, from the effects of which he died the following day.

George Taylor, brother of deceased, said he and his brother had had five or six pints of ale each before they went to defendant’s house, where each of them had five pints more, the defendant and his wife supplying them the best part of it, and the barmaid the rest. His brother was drunk; in fact he had not been sober since the Sunday before, although he was married on the Sunday, the day before the fight. The fight was in the fold, or open space in front of the house, and about thirty people were present. There was much noise.

Cross-examined by Mr. Herbert, he said there was no disturbance in the house. The fight lasted fifteen minutes. His brother had a 12-gallon cask of ale in on the previous Friday, and had roused him at three o’clock on the Monday to join him in drinking the ale. They had been at it till eleven o’clock the night before. The police-constable could not have told that the deceased was drunk. No part of the fight was in the road. He made no complaint to the landlord.

In answer to Mr. Russell, the witness said no one could have stopped his brother fighting.

Phoebe Taylor, the deceased’s widow, also said the fight was in the fold, and there was much shouting. The landlady supplied her with soda-water which she got for her husband, and the landlord gave her some brandy for him after the fight. Whilst the fight was going on she saw the landlord and his step-daughter at the bar window, and they appeared to be watching the fight.

Mary Ann Smith said the landlord threw up one of the windows and called out, ‘Why don’t you fools keep quiet?’ In answer to Mr. Russell, she said the house was kept for many years by the present landlady before she married the defendant.

Mr. Herbert for the defence, contended there was no evidence to show that drunkenness was known to the landlord, and further, that the latter supposed them to be off the premises. His own opinion, too, was that the fold was not part of the licensed premises, though the magistrates’ clerk had advised to the contrary.

The summons for permitting drunkenness was dismissed, and for permitting riotous behaviour a fine of £5 and costs was imposed, without endorsement of license.

Six men named Riley, Clews, Joseph Clews, Wright, Coley, and Jones – the last named being Jackson’s father-in-law – were summoned for aiding abetting and were bound over on £10 each to keep the peace for six months.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

“The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at Rushall Police Court on Monday morning.....

Mr. Frank James referring to the report of the Superintendent, remarked that in one instance had a fine been inflicted on the license holder. This was the case of the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, where he believed a fight, which resulted in the death of one of the combatants occurred. He did not think that this circumstance would be sufficient justification for refusing the license. It would, however, be a warning to all landlords that it was their absolute duty to prevent a breach of the peace.

Renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1894

“William Carter, Walsall Wood, remarked that he was only defending himself when accused of committing a breach of the peace with Brian Gallagher, also of Walsall Wood, on May 28. Brian, who was altogether ignorant of the facts having been drunk at the time, gave way for Police-constable Alldritt to explain. On the day in question, about 5.30pm, the two defendants were fighting on the Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood. It was not a case of one man trying to get away from the other, for both were fighting simply for the love of the thing. On the payment of the 7s costs each they were bound over for twelve months to keep the peace.”

AND

“Brian Gallagher, Walsall Wood, was again mulcted in a fine of 2s 6d and costs for being drunk on the licensed premises of James Welsh, ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, on May 28, after which case the landlord of the same house came on for hearing, he being charged with permitting drunkenness on licensed premises. Mr. Jackson, Walsall appeared to defend the landlord. Police-constable Alldritt deposed that on Monday 28, about 5.30pm, he was sent for to the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, by the defendant, and found that the two defendants in the previous case, Gallagher and Carter, were fighting. After separating them he went into the house and was told by defendant that the short time Gallagher had been in the house he had broken some jugs and struck several persons, and whilst the landlord was putting him out he had struck him also. Witness told the landlord not to have him in again. On visiting the house about ten o’clock the same day he found Gallagher leaning across the counter intoxicated. He said to the landlord, who was serving behind the bar, ‘What are you doing with him here again?’ and he replied,

'I have not filled him with anything, and I have told him to go many a time.' Witness said to the landlord, 'You had better get him out of your house,' and he said to Brian, 'Now, why don't you go.' Gallagher then staggered across the kitchen, sat down, and said, 'I won't go out for no b——.' Defendant was shortly afterwards got out and taken home by friends. The constable stated that he had always been very strange since he was a lad, and he had always been very strange and peculiar at times. He was much more quarrelsome in the evening than he had been in the afternoon, but could not say whether the landlord had supplied drink between the two periods.

Police-constable William Yates, who accompanied Police-constable Alldritt, gave similar evidence.

Martin Gallagher, brother to Brian, said he called in at the ROYAL EXCHANGE about 8.30pm on the date mentioned and found his brother there just finishing a pint of beer. Brian had two pints while he was in the house. Witness asked his brother when he went up for each separate pint not to have any more, for he could tell he was drunk, and he also advised the landlord not to fill him any. Welsh did not ask his brother to go until the police came.

James Welsh stated that Brian Gallagher came to his house about nine o'clock and asked for Carter. He then told him he had had enough of him in the afternoon, and asked Martin Gallagher and several others to try and persuade him to go out. Brian being rather funny in the head, he considered that would be the best method to get him removed. Witness said he did not supply him with any drink during the afternoon and evening, and had not time himself to put him out, because there was a large party to cater for.

Anna Doody stated that Gallagher came into the house soon after eight on the night in question. She was in and out of the house many times, and did not see the landlord supply him with any beer. Witness was sure he was not drunk.

Joseph Linney, miner, Walsall Wood, deposed that Brian Gallagher came into the house about a quarter to eight. He did not see drink supplied to him. He considered Brian sober, but very excited.

Mr. James said through the contradictory evidence he should only impose a fine of 20s and costs, and added that the license would be endorsed if another offence was proved against him."

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

"The annual Licensing sessions for the Rushall division of the county were held on Monday at Rushall.....

Thomas [sic] Welsh, tenant of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, applied for the renewal of the license, which was opposed by the police on the ground of permitting drunkenness in June last year. Mr. Whitehouse appeared for the tenant. Mr. Vachell, barrister, on behalf of the owners, said they were anxious that the Bench should remove the license to somebody. The applicant Welsh and his wife had been tenants twenty-five years. The wife was the tenant in the first instance, and ten years ago, when she married Welsh, the license was renewed to him. During the whole of that time there had only been two convictions against the house. The brewery company was anxious to retain a man whom they considered a very good tenant. On the other hand they had to consider the question as to whether by doing so they would imperil their own position. If the Bench thought the license should not be renewed to the man, then if the case was adjourned they would enforce notice, and get someone more pleasing to the Bench. Mr. Whitehouse, for the tenants, admitted the service of the notice, and also the fact of the convictions recorded. The grounds of objection were (1) that they had not produced satisfactory evidence of character (2) that the house is of a disorderly character and (3) that there had been two convictions. Although the tenant was convicted in January, 1893, the charge of permitting drunkenness was dismissed. They had during a period of twenty-five years one conviction for permitting drunkenness, and the fact that a fine of 20s and costs was imposed showed that it was deemed a sufficient punishment for the offence. The license on that occasion was not endorsed, and therefore it could not have been thought that the conviction was one which should rank against the house. He had one conviction and 20s and costs for permitting drunkenness in June last. When that conviction occurred, there was a party of 150 in the house, and having so many people it was impossible to exercise that absolute supervision which otherwise should have been exercised. The landlord had kept the house ten years.

Mr. James asked whether the police regarded the house as a disorderly one.

Superintendent Salt said it was not. They could only go upon convictions.

The license was renewed."

Lichfield Mercury 15/11/1895

"James Welch, ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, was summoned for being drunk whilst in charge of a horse and trap at Brownhills, on October 24th.

PC Moyle proved the case, and the defendant was fined 10s and 7s costs."

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1896

"James Welsh applied at Rushall on Monday for the sanction of the Bench for alterations at the licensed premises of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood. Granted."

Walsall Observer 31/3/1900

"On Monday evening about sixty customers and friends met at the ROYAL EXCHANGE to partake of an excellent repast given by the landlord (Mr. W. Cross)....."

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1900

"During the week Messrs. Watkins, Powell, and Wood have disposed of the following freehold properties.....

On Wednesday evening last, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, four dwelling-houses on the main road at Shire Oak, occupied by Messrs. Horbin, Smith, and others, producing £32 per annum, realised £650. Two dwelling-houses, situate in the Watling Street Road, at Muckley Corner, occupied by Messrs. Andrews and G. Wilkes, and producing £16 12s per annum, sold for £230.”

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE INN

- [1] William Cross (23), unmarried, publican, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Jennie Jackson (25), cousin, housekeeper, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Florrie Jackson (19), cousin, barmaid, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Alice Painter (17), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/4/1903

“On Saturday Mr. H. A. Pearson held an inquest at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, respecting the death of William George Lowbridge, aged 66, hairdresser. The deceased who was formerly in the Royal Marines, and was a life pensioner, had been on business at Peckham, in London, until January, when he came to live with some relatives in Walsall Wood. The deceased was found sitting in a chair with his head leaning forward over a gas burner used to heat water for shaving, the gas having been turned on. Dr. Wolverson said the deceased had two long scratches on the throat, which looks as though produced by a razor. A post mortem examination of the body showed death to have resulted from asphyxia, due to inhalation of coal gas. The jury returned an Open Verdict.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/2/1908

“On Monday afternoon, Mr. G. C. Lewis held an inquest at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, touching the death of Thomas Anson, aged 62, miner, of Lichfield Road. From the evidence it appeared that on February 11, whilst working at the Conduit Colliery, the deceased and his mate, James Griffiths, of Hednesford Road, Brownhills, found it necessary to remove a sprag, but before doing so timbers were set up. When the sprag was removed, a part of the roof gave way and dislodged one of the supports, which struck the deceased in the stomach and knocked him down. He was taken home by ambulance and medically attended until his death on the 13th. The deceased’s son stated that the doctor told him his father had sustained serious internal injuries. The Coroner said it was an extraordinary accident, because by his care the man was the author of his own death. Mr. H. R. Makepeace, his Majesty’s inspector of mines, said it was absolutely necessary that before timbers were drawn supports should be put up. Cases in which something occurred to knock out the protective timbers were one in 500 of 5,000. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“At a Court for Rushall, held before Mr. W. Precey, at the Magistrates’ Clerk’s Office, Walsall, on Monday, William Jackson (28), a miner, of no fixed abode, but a native of Walsall, was charged with being on enclosed premises for an unlawful purpose, on June 20th.

Joseph Jackson, a miner of Lichfield Street, said he was temporarily employed by Mr. Wm. Cross, the landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood. On Sunday morning last he was so employed, and at 10am when he was in the garden he heard a crash. He saw prisoner slipping off the top of the scullery roof to the ground. Witness noticed that the clubroom window, over the scullery, was open.

William Cross, the landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, said from what the last witness told him he went to the rear of his premises, but the prisoner had gone. The scullery window, which had previously been closed, was open, and the tiles on the scullery underneath the window were broken. He examined the premises, and found that the pantry door in the clubroom, where the spirits were kept, had been partly forced open. He had reason to believe that for some time past someone had been on the premises. Police-constable Grindley deposed to arresting prisoner at 7.45pm on Sunday, in the HAWTHORN TREE, Walsall Wood. Witness charged him and he replied, ‘I got beat at the game. A man will do anything when he is hungry. I got on the scullery and opened the window, but I was beat. I didn’t get through the window, I fell back again.’

Prisoner said he was going to get into the clubroom to have a sleep.

Police-sergeant Wooley asked that prisoner be remanded in custody until next Monday.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/7/1909

“William Jackson, aged 28, miner, of no fixed abode, was charged on remand with being on enclosed premises at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on June 20. The prisoner was seen on a roof under the scullery window. It was afterwards found that the pantry-door had been forced. Mr. Collins, police-court missionary, said that if prisoner was sent to gaol he would try and get him into the Labour Home when he came out. He was sentenced to seven days’ imprisonment.”

1911 Census

Lichfield Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] William Cross (33), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Florrie Jackson (27), cousin, assisting in business, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Florrie Griffiths (17), cousin, assisting in business, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Observer 23/12/1916

“The Brownhills Tribunal at a sitting on Thursday afternoon, Dr. Wolverson presiding and Captain A. D. Cozens being present as military representative.....

The tenant of the ROYAL EXCHANGE at Walsall Wood, 39, married, with one child, and B1, who had been advised by the Tribunal to get work of national importance, said he was working regularly as a banksman. He had to spend his evenings attending to the business at the public-house. Six months was granted, conditional upon applicant continuing his work at the colliery.”

Walsall Observer 1/4/1939

“For 25 years a popular hostess at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Walsall Wood, Mrs. W. Cross, died, on Saturday, at the age of 48 after a long illness. In her younger days the deceased was a fine swimmer and won numerous awards. She is survived by her husband and an only son.”

Walsall Observer 1/4/1939 - Acknowledgements

“Mr. Cross and Family of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, wish to thank Relatives, Friends, the Doctor and the Nurse, for sympathy in their sad bereavement and for floral tributes.”

Walsall Observer 24/6/1939

“At a meeting of representatives of the British Legion, Football Club, Nursing Association, and St. John Ambulance Brigade, held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on Tuesday, Mr. S. A. Ward was unanimously elected Chairman. The meeting was called to consider the possibility of holding a mounted gymkhana and sports in aid of local charities. Mr. Stokes and Mr. Mycock, representing the football club, reported that some horse riding events were included in the programmes arranged for the football club fete to be held on July 15. In view of the fact that the chief attraction would be a jazz band contest, the representatives greed to omit the words, ‘Mounted Gymkhana,’ from the handbills and posters advertising the fete, as the football club did not wish to jeopardise the success of any event organised in aid of local charities. This statement was received with acclamation. It was then agreed to proceed with arrangements for holding a mounted gymkhana on Saturday, August 19, on the football ground, Walsall Wood. The representatives of the various organisations agreed to act as a committee. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. S. A. Ward; Vice-chairman, Mr. A. Newbold; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Smith; Hon. Secretary, Mr. Jack Galloway. It was agreed to form a sub-committee consisting of the officers and the following elected members, Mrs. Parr, Mrs. N. J. Shaw, Mrs. Munt, Mr. R. C. Baker, Mr. J. M. Harrison, Mr. R. A. Ruddock and Mr. Southall. Mrs. Ward closed the meeting with a vote of thanks to all present for their attendance and wished success to both the football club fete and the mounted gymkhana.”

1939 Register

Lichfield Road – ROYAL EXCHANGE Public House

[1] William Cross, date of birth 9/9/1877, publican, widowed;

[2] Mary Williams, dob 4/4/1866, unpaid domestic duties, widowed:

Walsall Observer 30/12/1939

“At a gathering of the staff and workmen of Collins’ Express Delivery Service, held in the club room of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, on Saturday evening, Mr. D. C. Millard made the usual presentations to the 70 employees, assisted by Mr. S. Collins.”

Walsall Observer 25/3/1944 - Miscellaneous

“Wanted, Baby’s High Chair and Play Pen, in good condition.

All letters answered or reply to Mrs. Cross, ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Observer 24/3/1945 - In Memoriam

“Cross. In ever loving memory of a dear daughter and sister Emily, late of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Walsall Wood, died March 26, 1938. Always in our thoughts.

Mother, Jane, Elsie and Children at 39, Valley Road, Bloxwich.”

Michael Dunphy was married to Diane.

Express & Star 24/11/2023

“Supermarket giant Aldi has submitted proposals to take over a pub and create a new store in the area. If approved by Walsall Council, the ROYAL EXCHANGE on Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood, would be demolished to make way for the new supermarket along with 109 parking spaces. It would also see the demolition of a warehouse used for the distribution of eggs and cheese and three houses as part of the development. The company said it would ‘meet the needs’ of the local area and provide up to 50 new jobs in the process. If it did go ahead, the new store would be just yards from a new Lidl, who won approval from planners in March this year to take over the HORSE AND JOCKEY pub site on the adjoining Walsall Road.....”

Express & Star 29/11/2023

“The company which owns a Walsall pub has said it is business as usual for the foreseeable future in response to plans submitted to replace it with a supermarket. Star Pubs and Bars, which owns the ROYAL EXCHANGE on Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood, has responded to plans lodged by Aldi to build a new store on the site of the pub. If the proposals were to be approved by Walsall Council, the pub would be demolished to make way for the single-storey supermarket in addition to 109 car park spaces and 16 cycle spaces. It would also see the demolition of three houses and warehouses units on site which are currently being used for the ‘storage and distribution of cheese’.....”

[2023]

ROYAL EXCHANGE

57, Mill Street, Ryecroft, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Roberts
Highgate Brewery Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

John Roberts [1880] – 1903);
Mrs. Frances Roberts (1903 – 1904);
William Jones (1904);
Ralph Sankey (1904 – 1905);
Frederick Brewer (1905 – 1909);
Thomas Deakin (1909 – 1944); manager
Frank Thomas Taylor (1944 – 1950);
Raymond Shepherd (1950 – 1954);
Kenneth Charles Hennessy (1954 – 1957);
William Henry Davis (1957 – 1962);
Leslie Edward Jones (1962 – 1963);
Thomas Beddow (1963 – 1964);
James Baxter Fairfull (1964 – 1966);
Colin Archer (1966 – []
John Davies [] – 1977):

NOTES

1881 Census

Mill Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] John Roberts (39), smith and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Roberts (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Henry Roberts (18), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Joseph P. Roberts (15), son, errand boy, born Walsall;
- [5] Albert W. Roberts (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] William Roberts (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Fred Roberts (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Clara Roberts (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Eliza Jones (20), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Walsall Advertiser 16/6/1885 - Advert

“Walsall Conservative Association.

Mr. Frank Fearnley (of Kidderminster) Will Address Conservative Meetings, to be held on Tuesday Evening, June 16th at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ryecroft, and on Wednesday Evening, June 17th, at the NEW INN, Ryecroft, Blakenall Heath.

The Conservatives of the Pleck Division also hold a meeting at the NEWPORT ARMS, Pleck Road, on Wednesday, June 17th.

Chairs to be taken each Evening at 8pm.

Working Men Are Invited to Attend.

H. H. Cannell, Secretary.”

1891 Census

57, Mill Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] John Roberts (49), saddle tree riveter and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Frances Roberts (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Roberts (19), son, harness maker's clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Fred Roberts (17), son, harness maker, born Walsall;

- [5] Clara Roberts (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Frances Roberts (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Amelia Roberts (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[8] Joseph P. Roberts (3), son, born Walsall;
[9] Mary Holmes (19), general servant, born Barrow in Furness:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/9/1891

“Yesterday morning the mangled body of Charles Glover, Portland Cottage, Walsall, was noticed by a man named William Wall lying in the six foot way, not far from Ryecroft Junction, on the outskirts of that town. Between three and four o'clock he passed the signal-box at the junction on the way to work at Pelsall, and wished the signal-man ‘Good morning.’ At that time there were two trains at the junction – one for Walsall and the other for the opposite direction – and it is supposed that in stepping out of the way of one he got in the way of the other, and thus met his death. The body was removed to the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Ryecroft to await an inquest.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/3/1893

“John Roberts, keeper of the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Mill Street, Ryecroft, was summoned at the instance of the Chief Constable for suffering gaming for money’s worth in his house, for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, for selling intoxicating liquor to a drunken person, for assaulting Police-constable Williams, and for obstructing the same officer. His son Joseph was joined with him in the charge of assault; and Edward William (32), caster, James Street, Ryecroft, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the street. Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) appeared for the defence. The case for the police was that on the 25th ult. Edward Williams was in a drunken condition, and was allowed to play at cards with three other persons, one being the landlord’s son, the landlord sitting by and seeing what was going on. As the games were played Mr. Roberts fetched ale from the counter, and the losers paid for it; and when the game was over Williams went to the counter and was served with a pint of ale, he remarking, as he called for it, that he had lost four pints, and now would have one himself. Police-constable Williams informed the landlord that he should have to report what he had seen, and he was pushed out of the house by the landlord and his son. The defendant Williams afterwards came out of the house, and, in addition to refusing to give his name and address, caused such a disturbance that the constable took him into custody on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The man went quietly until Hatherton Street was reached, when Mr. Roberts, who was following, said, ‘Let the man alone,’ and the prisoner Williams struggled with his captor, with the result that they both went down. Afterwards Mr. Roberts took hold of the constable by the collar, and endeavoured to pull him away from the prisoner. The defence was, in effect, that there was no gaming, nor assault, and that Williams was not drunk. The hearing lasted from eleven till five, and ended in the landlord being fined 10s and costs for permitting drunkenness, and 20s and costs for supplying a drunken man with drink, and Williams was fined 5s and costs. The other charges were dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday..... The Chief Constable opposed the renewal of the license of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ryecroft, to John Roberts, the grounds of objection being a conviction for permitting drunkenness, a conviction for selling liquor to a drunken person, the license not required, that other trades were carried on on the premises, and that breaches of the Truck Act were constantly being committed. Mr. H. H. Jackson, for the tenant, said young Mr. Roberts had carried on the business in a most reputable manner for ten years, and he had made arrangements to separate the licensed premises from the other part, where another business was conducted. He put in a plan showing what was proposed to be done. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall..... The Chief Constable said the objections he had to make to the renewals of licenses were those of the NELSON AND PEEL, Peal Street, and the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, Ryecroft..... The objection to the ROYAL EXCHANGE he was compelled to take account of the tenant not keeping faith with the magistrates. Last year he opposed the renewal and it was granted on certain conditions, which, however, had not been fulfilled; and he now objected on the grounds of the previous conviction, that it was not a bona fide business, and that other trades were carried on in the house, and that it was not demanded by the needs of the neighbourhood.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday..... The Chief Constable withdrew his opposition to the renewal of the license of John Roberts, the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ryecroft, the desired structural alterations having been made..... The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that all the other applications would be granted.”

Walsall Observer 7/7/1900

“On Saturday morning an inquest was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ryecroft, by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), on the body of Albert Frederick Horton, aged 4 years, whose parents lived at 15, Cannon Street, and who was killed by a runaway horse on Friday the 29th ult. Benjamin Arnold Horton of 15, Cannon Street, a currier, stated that he was the father of the deceased boy, whose body he identified. The child would have been four years old had he lived to that day.

John Watkins, of 119, Marlow Street, a haulier, deposed that about twenty minutes after twelve on Friday, the 29th ult, he left his horse and cart outside his house, his brother staying to give the horse some water. Witness had only been in the house a few minutes when he heard someone shout. He ran out of the house after the horse, which was in front of an entry in Proffitt Street. The bridle was on and the bit in the horse's mouth when he left it, but it was off when he got to the entry, where the horse had fallen. By a Juror: Witness had only had the horse three months, and he had never known it to take fright before.

Samuel Watkins, brother of the last witness, stated that at his brother's request he was going to give the horse some water, when the horse knocked him aside and bolted. She went as far as the Jacques' wheelwright shop, and turned on to the waste ground. She then swerved round in the direction of Proffitt Street, and the deceased and a girl named Gladys Morris were knocked down, witness thought, by the horse's fore-leg. Witness picked up the deceased boy and carried him in to his house. Witness could not say whether the child was dead or alive until the doctor came up and pronounced life extinct.

In reply to a juror, witness said that he noticed the bridle was off when the horse was on the waste ground, but it was on when she bolted. He could not say what frightened the horse.

Clara Taylor, of Brook Yard, Proffitt Street, gave evidence to the effect that she was in her own yard about half past twelve, and saw the horse standing in front of the house. There was no one standing by the side of it, and the bridle was hanging loose before it bolted and knocked down the children. She noticed Samuel Watkins come through the front door and run after the horse, but not until it was nearly on the children.

Fanny Bickley, of the same locality, stated that she saw the horse being given water. The man then went away with the bucket, and the horse bolted. She was quite sure there was no one with the horse when it started.

Dr. F. A. Shore stated that he saw the child about half past twelve on the day of the accident. He was quite dead, and on examination witness found the bones at the back of the head broken and driven in, the neck broken, a cut on the head, both jaws broken, and one arm broken. There was also a cut on the right side of the face, extending from the angle of the mouth about two inches in length down to the bone. Such injuries could only be caused by a kick from the horse, and death would be instantaneous. The cause of death was injuries to the brain, the result of the accident. The other child had nothing more than a sprained ankle and a bruise on the head.

The jury expressed their opinion that they did not believe the man, Samuel Watkins, was with the horse at the time it bolted; and, further, that the bridle had been taken off. They tendered their sympathy to the father of the deceased.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned, and by the jury's request, the Coroner censured Samuel Watkins, stating that both he and the jury did not believe his evidence; and, on the suggestion of a juror, the owner of the horse (John Watkins) was recommended to take means to prevent the horse bolting in future by lashing the cart wheel."

Walsall Advertiser 20/7/1901

"John Roberts, of ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs for allowing a horse to stray, on July 5th. Police-constable Ashby proved the case."

Walsall Advertiser 7/2/1903

"The bench approved the transfer of the license of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, from the late councillor Roberts to his widow, Frances Roberts."

Walsall Advertiser 5/9/1903

"On Thursday evening Mr. Arthur James Llewellyn submitted for sale by auction, at the STORK HOTEL, three lots of property. Lot 1, two houses in Lower Walhouse Street, with shopping at the rear, the annual rental being £32 19s. Sold for £187 10s. Lot 2, a leasehold property at the corner of Rowley Street and Walhouse Street (annual rental £52 12s 6d), was withdrawn at £450. Lot 3 was a reversionary share of and in the proceeds of sale of the real and residuary estates of John Roberts, deceased, late of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ryecroft. The estate properties yielding a gross annual rental of £158 9s, the whole estate being estimated as of the present value of from £5,000 to £7,000. Biddings commenced at £100, and were increased to £280, at which figure the interest was withdrawn. Subsequently, however, negotiations were entered into for the sale of the interest at the sum of £305."

Walsall Advertiser 24/12/1904

"A startling occurrence took place on the licensed premises of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, at about 10-30 last Saturday night. There was a bar full of customers, and some words passed between two of them, ending in a blow or push, with the result that one of them fell dead! His name was Albert Buttery, 45, carter, of Mill Street, Ryecroft, a married man with several sons; and the man who struck or pushed him was a single man named Mathew Bolton, labourer, Cannon Street. Bolton was arrested, and formally remanded on Monday morning on a charge of causing death by battery.

On Tuesday afternoon, at the Guildhall, Mr. T. Howard Stanley, the Borough Coroner, held an inquest relative to the death of Buttery. Mr. H. F. Addison (Addison and Cooper) watched the case on behalf of the prisoner, who was also present.

The first witness called was Mrs. Buttery, widow of the deceased. She said her husband left the house about 7.30 on the morning of Saturday to go to work, and returned between 1.30 and two o'clock. He left the house about three o'clock and returned at 6.30, going out again an hour later. About a quarter to eleven the same night she had a message, in consequence of which she went immediately to the ROYAL EXCHANGE, and saw her husband sat on a chair in the passage. He was insensible, and the doctor, who arrived a moment later, said it was 'all over with him.'

Bernard O'Connor, 55, North Street, tube cutter, said he went to the ROYAL EXCHANGE at about nine o'clock on Saturday evening. Buttery, whom he had known 20 or 30 years, was sitting on a bench in front of the bar. There were about 20 in the bar, but he did not see Bolton until he struck deceased, first by the side of the temple, and then in the middle of the body. Buttery fell on the floor, and witness assisted to put him on a bench. Brandy was poured into his mouth, but it ran out again. He was unconscious and never spoke again. When Buttery fell witness told Bolton he ought to be ashamed of himself.

Replying to Mr. Addison, witness said he was in the house for an hour and a half, and there was no disturbance that he saw – nothing in the nature of an altercation. He did not hear anyone sing a song whilst there.

A jurymen asked witness if he could hear? – Witness: I have a cold in my head.

The Coroner: Have you anything else in it? – Witness: Not that I am aware of (laughter).

A Juror: What condition was Buttery in, drunk or sober? – Witness: I am no judge of that (laughter); I consider he was in a right mood; we were very harmonious.

A Jurymen: Could he answer anything you said to him? – Witness: Yes he could.

A Jurymen: Then there was nothing the matter with him.

William Broadhurst, caster, said that before any blow was struck, Buttery, Bolton, and himself went to a meeting of an air-gun club in the smoke room. When they returned to the bar Buttery and Bolton had a few words, but witness did not think they were quarrelling. Bolton, who was sitting down, told deceased, who was standing up, to go away, but Buttery replied, 'It's not my place to go away.' Bolton thereupon rose from his seat and struck deceased but where witness could not say, as it all took place so quickly. Witness saw no second blow given.

William Mainwaring, a lockmaker, also spoke to being in the house and attending a meeting of an air-gun club. Afterwards he saw Bolton strike Buttery on the temple, the latter falling and apparently catching his head against a partition.

Mr. Jane Sankey, wife of the landlord of the house, said that Buttery was the first to leave the air-gun meeting, Bolton coming a few minutes later. She did not see a blow struck, but heard a noise as of someone falling against the partition. She was then out of the bar, and on returning saw Buttery in a sitting position. She asked Bolton what he had done, and he answered, 'All I did was push him against the partition.' The two men had seemed to be on the best of terms, and had been singing during the evening.

Police-constable Nolan spoke to arresting the prisoner, who, in reply to the charge of causing the death of Buttery, replied 'No sir, there was no blow struck at all.' In reply to a juror, witness said Bolton was quite sober.

Dr. O'Meara said he was called to the ROYAL EXCHANGE about 10.30 on Saturday evening. He saw Buttery, sitting on a chair quite dead. He should say he had been dead about 20 minutes. Witness had since made a post mortem. Deceased's body was fairly well nourished. The external appearances were normal, and there were no marks of violence. Nor were there any when he saw the body on Saturday night. A blow with a closed fist which would have knocked a man down would have caused a mark.

The heart was healthy, but the lungs were both congested, and there was evidence of tuberculosis. The stomach was practically empty, showing the man had had very little food during the day. The liver was diseased, and very much enlarged, weighing 80oz, which was 30oz in excess of the normal weight. That was due to chronic alcoholism – the man has habitually taken too much drink. The cause of death was rupture of a blood vessel at the base of the brain – apoplexy. In the state in which Buttery was, death might have resulted from excitement, and a blow would be likely to accelerate death. The deceased might possibly have died from apoplexy if he had had no blow.

In answer to jurors, Dr. O'Meara said the blow the deceased was said to have had was not the cause of the apoplexy. He discovered no trace of a blow on any part of the body.

By Mr. Addison: If a man staggered under a push it might have ruptured a blood vessel. There was a large quantity of blood over the surface of the brain.

The Coroner, in summing up, said it appeared that the two men were friends, and the jury would have noted that there no trace of a mark or a blow having been struck. He thought it right to call the attention of the jury to a case heard at the Worcester Assizes, in which a forger from Halesowen was charged with the manslaughter of his employer. It seemed that there was a struggle, which accelerated death, but death was due to failure of the heart, caused by fatty degeneration, and in the opinion of the doctor the blow had nothing to do with the cause of death; and Mr. Justice Lawrence advised the jury to bring in a verdict according with the medical testimony. He (the Coroner) thought that seemed to be a similar case, and it was for the jury to consider their verdict. He did not suppose the jury would consider that prisoner had any intention of killing the man.

After deliberating in private for about ten minutes, the jury found that deceased died from Natural Causes.

On Wednesday morning Bolton was brought up before the Bench. The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) said that in view of the verdict at the coroner's inquest on the previous day, and the testimony of the doctor, who failed to find any marks of violence on the deceased, he did not propose to offer any evidence.

Mr. Addison, who appeared for the prisoner, said he was glad the prosecution had taken the course they did. His client wished him to say that he has always had friendly feelings towards the deceased, and he thoroughly sympathised, to the utmost degree, with the widow and family.

The Chairman of the Bench (Mr. R. T. Jupp) to prisoner: As there is no evidence you will be discharged."

Walsall Advertiser 2/10/1909

"A number of applications for the transfer of licenses came before Mr. H. D. Clarke (presiding) and other magistrates, at the Walsall Police Court, on Wednesday.....

In the case of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, the license of which was transferred from Mr. Frederick Brewer to Mr. Thomas Deakin, the Magistrates' Clerk called the attention of Mr. Hodgkinson, who appeared for the parties, to a clause in the agreement which stated that the manager must employ any number of servants required by the owners, pay them wages and maintain them, and only be paid 5s a week for them.

Mr. Hodgkinson: That is possibly a clerical error.

The Magistrates' Clerk: I should think possibly it was as it is 15s in other cases.

The Chairman: I think it emphasises the remark made by the Clerk that it must not be supposed by the magistrates to approve all clauses in these agreements."

1911 Census

Mill Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE

- [1] Thomas Deakin (39), public house manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Elise Ada Deakin (31), wife, married 14 years, public house manageress, born Walsall;
- [3] Grace Harriet Deakin (13), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Elsie Deakin (11), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Rose Harris (21), domestic servant, born Cannock:

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street.”

1939 Register

57, Mill Street

- [1] Thomas Deakin, date of birth 17/10/1871, manager licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Elsie A. Deakin, dob 7/11/1879, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street, £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Mill Street. £5 3s 6d.”

It closed in September 1977.

ROYAL EXCHANGE

126, Stafford Street / Hospital Street, (Newtown Row), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Craddock, bit maker, Bloxwich Road, Walsall

F. J. and A. E. Bayley, West Bromwich [1910]

Edwin Jones

Miss Florence Jones (acquired in 1910)

George Twist, White Horse Brewery [1927], [1937]

Twists Brewery Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1959)

Enterprise Inns (acquired in 1992) [2006]

LICENSEES

John Birch [1851]

Thomas Bird [1858] – [1865]

Richard Hall [1865] – [1866]

William Griffiths [1868] – [1873];

Thomas Oswin [1881] – 1887;

Edwin Jones (1887 – 1910);

Harriet Jones (1910);
Alfred Cooke (1910 – 1915);
Richard Jackson Bayley (1915 – 1925);
Walter Wilson (1925 – 1927);
George Henry Dawkins (1927 – 1928);
John Mackenzie (1928 – 1932);
Geoffrey Grimley (1932 – 1935);
Joseph Powell (1935 – 1936);
Thomas Welch (1936 – 1937);
William James Waldron (1937 – 1950);
William Henry Shuker (1950 – 1951);
Percy Smith (1951 – 1953);
Thomas Wood (1953 – 1955);
Bert Cyril Mitchell (1955 – 1957);
Charles Thomas Chilton (1957 – 1960);
John Perry (1960 – 1961);
Ronald Linnett (1961 – 1962);
Alan Vincent Webster (1962 – 1964);
Harry Hughes (1964);
James Raymond Allport (1964 – 1965);
Thomas Alfred Pittaway (1965);
David James Ridley (1965);
Bryan Keith Stanley (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

It was formerly the NEWTOWN TAVERN. [1858], [1860], [1861], [1862], [1863], [1864], [1865], [1870], [1873], [1881], [1892], [1896]

ROYAL EXCHANGE HOTEL [1897], [1910]

Thomas Bird = Thomas Birch

Thomas Bird was also a manufacturer of snaffles, bits, pelhams and stirrups, polisher and plater in general. [1858]

1861 Census

126, Stafford Street – NEW TOWN TAVERN

[1] Thomas Bird (38), widower, victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Maria Bird (50), mother in law, housekeeper, born Ketley, Shropshire;

[3] Sarah Westley (15), general servant, born Wednesfield:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/7/1863

“Yesterday, an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Thomas Bird, the NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner, on the body of John Stringer Anson, fourteen months old, the son of a miner residing in Stafford Street. From the evidence of the mother of the deceased, it appeared that the child being unwell on the 15th inst, was taken by her to the shop of Mr. Highway, chemist, who on several occasions up to the 23rd inst, prescribed for it, but on the latter date told her he had done all he could for her infant, and no one could do more. She took the child home, and although the little creature was suffering from dysentery of a very aggravated character, she never made any attempt to procure medical assistance up till Sunday last, when the infant died. The Jury found that death was caused by neglected dysentery. The Coroner said it was the fifth case of loss of life owing to parents taking their children to druggists, instead of properly qualified medical practitioners, that had come under his notice during the past month or six weeks. He joined the Jury in reprimanding the mother for her neglect in the matter.”

Walsall Free Press 18/6/1864

“Charles Bird was charged with having indecently assaulted Sarah Hartshorn. Mr. Dale appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defence. Mr. Dale, after narrating the circumstances of the case, called Sarah Hartshorn, from whose evidence it appeared that she and her husband, on the night of Saturday, the 4th inst, left the NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, Walsall, about twelve o’clock at night. Her husband went to Hilton to hear the nightingale, and complainant went towards home, and was followed by the defendant, who passed her, and waited at the corner of James Street for her till she came up, when he rushed upon her. She told him to let her go. He did so, and walked by her side till they got to the corner of North Street, when he seized her again. She shouted, and he told her to ‘hush.’ She managed to extricate herself from him, but he followed her till they got to the entry where she lived, when he again seized her, and committed the assault with which he was charged. Complainant succeeded in escaping to her daughter’s, who resided a short distance from complainant’s house. Complainant was cross-examined by Mr. Ebsworth, but nothing was elicited to shake her evidence in chief.

William Butcher saw defendant putting up the shutters at the NEW TOWN TAVERN, and saw complainant leave with her husband.

Edward Jones corroborated the evidence of the previous witness, and added that he saw the defendant following her.

Mary Bentley, wife of Lewis Bentley, said that she heard the complainant knocking at her son-in-law's door, and she told witness, in presence of the defendant what had taken place. Defendant, on hearing what complainant said, went down the passage, and shortly afterwards decamped.

Thomas Williams said he was in company with the complainant and her husband from ten o'clock till eleven, and, during that time, she had only a share of two pints of porter, which was shared among four, and she was perfectly sober when she left.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Williams corroborated her husband's evidence.

John Thompson, the complainant's son-in law, corroborated as to what took place at his house.

Elizabeth Thompson, wife of the previous witness, corroborated her husband's evidence, and added that, on Wednesday morning last, she went with her mother to the defendant. Her mother said to the defendant 'What are we to do in this matter? My husband says he won't live with me because you told him that I asked you to take me home on Saturday night.'

The complainant's husband was next examined, and said that when he charged Bird with the offence, Bird said, 'I took her home at her own request.'

This being the case for the prosecution, Mr. Ebsworth addressed the Bench on behalf of his client, and said the truth was that the husband had gone to hear a 'bird' at Hilton, and that the wife had gone off with a 'Bird' at Walsall, and she, after being found out, had fabricated the present charge in order to clear herself in the eyes of her husband.

At the close of his remarks, Mr. Ebsworth called and examined William Clark, carter, Stafford Street, who said that complainant asked him to take her home, and he thought she was drunk. Cross-examined: The conversation took place in the kitchen of the NEW TOWN TAVERN.

This witness, who was evidently under the influence of drink, was reprimanded.

Richard Dunning was called as to character, and said that he knew the defendant, and he was a very quiet and inoffensive man.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of £2, and £1 1s costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days."

Walsall Free Press 15/7/1865

"Thomas Bird, NEW TOWN TAVERN; John Perry, WHITE LION, High Street; Joseph Phillips, The ALBION, Wolverhampton Lane; Thomas Hall, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street; William Sartin, NEW INN, John Street; and John Holder, CROSS GUNS, Birchills, were charged with having had their houses open during prohibited hours on Sunday last. Holder was fined 10s and costs, Sartin 6d and costs, Hall 6d and costs, and Perry 1s and costs. The cases against Messrs. Bird and Phillips were dismissed."

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

"Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

Mr. Matthews, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, applied on behalf of the following parties.....

Richard Hall, NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street Refused."

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

"At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey and B. Bloomer, Esqs, Richard Hall, landlord of the NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, was charged, by Mr. Cater, Inspector of Nuisances, with having on his premises in James Street, a privy in a foul and dilapidated condition.

Mr. Cater said that the nuisance had been removed, but the wall was required to be rebuilt.

An order was made for the wall to be repaired within seven days.

Alfred Cooper, agent for the property adjoining Mr. Hall's, was charged with having on the premises a privy in a foul and dilapidated state. It appeared that the wall between the privy on his property and that on Mr. Hall's was in a dilapidated condition.

An order was made for the wall to be repaired within seven days."

1871 Census

126, Stafford Street

[1] William Griffiths (47), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Jemima Palmer Griffiths (46), wife, born Butty Village, Darlaston, rather deaf;

[3] Mary Ann Palmer Griffiths (22), daughter, born Butty Village, Darlaston;

[4] ___zzh___ Palmer Griffiths (20), daughter, born Butty Village, Darlaston, lame;

[5] John James Palmer Griffiths (17), son, brewer, born Butty Village, Darlaston, lame;

[6] Ann Jemima Palmer Griffiths (3 years 11 months), daughter, born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/10/1875

"On Thursday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the NEW TOWN INN, Stafford Street, on the body of Rosannah Nichols, aged 40, who died on Wednesday morning from the effects of an inhalation of gas which had escaped into her dwelling in the Bloxwich Road through a pipe which had been perforated by nails in the nailing down of the flooring. The accident occurred on the night of the 30th ult, and neither the deceased nor her husband ever after recovered consciousness. He expired, however, two days afterwards, and she lingered until early on Wednesday morning, when she also expired."

1881 Census

126, Stafford Street – NEWTOWN TAVERN

- [1] Thomas Oswin (60), licensed victualler, born Barrow on Soar, Leicestershire;
 - [2] Julia Oswin (62), wife, born Wednesfield;
 - [3] Harry Oswin (19), son, bricklayer out of employ, born Birmingham;
 - [4] Mary Elizabeth Oswin (13), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
 - [5] Ann Oswin (3), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [6] Lydia Oswin (2), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [7] Ellen Davis (17), domestic servant, born Hill Top;
 - [8] Elizabeth Smith (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:
- [Barrow upon Soar is about 3 miles ESE of Loughborough.]

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1888

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) opened an inquest at the NEW TOWN INN, Stafford Street, on the body of Job Bull (43), greengrocer, Stafford Street, who, as already been reported in the Post, was killed on Wednesday night at Warston by a cart passing over him.

Thomas Salt, an ex-police-officer, who was with him at the time, said they both were riding the cart until they came to the place named, when deceased said they would walk up the hill, and they both got out. Witness held the back of the cart, and the deceased went to the horse’s head. The horse began to jib, and the deceased lashed the horse, which started suddenly, and trod on his left foot. As soon as the horse’s weight was removed from the foot the deceased appeared to try and get out of the way of the cart, but spun round and fell backwards under the cart, just in front of the wheel, which passed over his body, and he died almost immediately, never speaking again.

There being no mark of the horse having trod upon deceased’s foot, nor of the cart having passed over him, the jury desired a post-mortem examination, and the Coroner adjourned the enquiry for a week for that purpose.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/9/1888

“Yesterday, at the NEWTOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, Mr. T. H. Stanley, borough coroner, resumed an enquiry touching the death of Job Bull, greengrocer, Stafford Street, who, whilst on his way home from Shareshill, on the night of the 12th inst, with a cart heavily laden with potatoes and other vegetables, was knocked down and killed; Thomas Salt, ex-police officer, who was with him, stating that one of the wheels of the cart went over him. The jury at the opening of the enquiry last week questioned the accuracy of this statement, there being no marks of violence on the body, and asked that a post mortem examination should be made, which the Coroner ordered.

Yesterday Mr. M. Taylor, surgeon, deposed that the deceased’s neck was broken, the jugular vein was ruptured, and the larynx and windpipe were displaced, apparently by pressure, such as would be occasioned by the wheel catching the deceased after he had fallen and pushing him along the ground. The third and fifth ribs on the right side, and the sixth and seventh on the left side, were all fractured, and the spleen, liver, and stomach were ruptured. The injuries to the neck were the immediate cause of death, but the internal haemorrhage contributed greatly to it. The wheel could not have passed over the neck, or the deceased would have been decapitated; and the probability was that the horse made two attempts to pass over the body, the one causing the injuries to the neck and the other those to the ribs.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, adding as a rider that no blame attached to Salt.”

1891 Census

126, Stafford Street

- [1] Edwin Jones (40), publican, born Hadley, Shropshire;
- [2] Harriet Jones (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Howard Jones (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Alice M. Jones (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Florence Jones (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Harriet Jones (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Lucy Howard (33), domestic servant, born Shropshire;
- [8] Richard Phillips (22), lodger, journeyman brewer:

Walsall Advertiser 22/9/1894 - Advert

“To Brewers Or Publicans Wanting A Good Public-House.

Important Sale by Auction of a Full-Licensed Home Brewing Public-House and Dwelling House adjoining, producing £61 14s a year.

Walter Hughes will offer for Sale by Auction, upon the Premises, at the NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, on Tuesday Next, 25th September, at Six for Seven o’clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions of sale incorporating the common form of conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, All that Valuable Property, Comprising the well-known Home Brewing Public-house, known as the NEW TOWN TAVERN, situate and being No.126, Stafford Street, together with the house adjoining, No.125, Stafford Street, now in the occupation of Mr. Edwin Jones, at a yearly rental of £50, held under a Lease expiring 24th June, 1895.

The Premises comprise a Taproom, Parlour, Bar, Kitchen, Back Kitchen, 4 bedrooms, convertible into 5, large Clubroom, 3 Cellars, with Yard at rear, containing brick-built 2-storey Brewery (fitted upon modern lines), with Malt Room; also Dwelling House adjoining, fronting to and being No.124, Stafford Street, now in the occupation of James Small, as weekly tenant, at a rental of 4s 6d, or £11 14s a year, making a total of £61 14s per annum. There is a right of way from Stafford Street by an entry round the backs of the premises into Hospital Street.

The Property is Leasehold for 99 years from 20th March, 1848, at the very low annual apportioned ground rent of £3.

The Property has a frontage of 45 feet to Stafford Street, and 49 feet to Hospital Street, and contains an area of 392 square yards; there is a back entrance to the NEW TOWN TAVERN.

This is a Licensed House that has always done a large trade in its immediate vicinity. Hundreds of houses have been erected within the past ten years in the neighbourhood, during which time no further licenses have been granted near it.

For further particulars and plans apply to the Auctioneer, 79, Park Street, or Messrs. Wilkinson, Mills & Walford, Solicitors, Walsall."

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1897

"Mr. T. H. Stanley applied for permission for the name of the NEW TOWN TAVERN, Stafford Street, to be changed to that of the ROYAL EXCHANGE HOTEL.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk): Are not there one or two Royal Exchanges already? – Mr. Stanley: The more Royal Exchanges the better.

Mr. Loxton said if there was power to change the name of the house without the permission of the Bench that could be done, and notice had been given to him (Mr. Loxton), but, if the change of named required the permission of the magistrates it was only fair that the owners of other Royal Exchanges should have notice of the application.

The case was adjourned till the next licensing sessions, for notice to be given to owners of the other Royal Exchanges in the town."

It was renamed ROYAL EXCHANGE in 1897.

1901 Census

126, Stafford Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE TAVERN

[1] Edwin Jones (50), licensed victualler, born Hadley, Shropshire;

[2] Harriet Jones (51), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Howard Jones (21), son, brewer, born Walsall;

[4] Alice Jones (18), daughter, domestic, born Walsall;

[5] Florrie Jones (17), daughter, domestic, born Walsall;

[6] Annie Jones (11), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 19/3/1904

"The annual meeting of the Bloxwich Cricket Club was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street, on Monday evening. Among those present were Councillor R. C. Thomas (in the chair), Messrs. E. F. Thomas, A. W. Yardley, G. W. Elliott, S. Wootton sen., Rev. H. E. Elwell, and D. McAlister.

The Treasurer (Mr. G. W. Elliot) presented a statement of accounts shewing a balance in hand of 3s 1d, which considering the great amount spent last year in improvements to the ground, &c, was very good. £22 were realised by the dramatic performance, 'Arabian Nights' given by Mr. G. Lewis and party.

Mr. G. Hayward was elected president of the coming season, Mr. G. Elliott was re-elected treasurer, and the secretaries, Messrs. A. R. Wootton and J. Bridgett, were also re-elected....."

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

"The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street. A dividend of 9s per member had been paid by the club held at the above inn. The amount of the contributions was £43 10s 11d, sick pay, &c, £18 16s, carried forward to next year £1 7s 11d, leaving a balance for sharing of £23 7s."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"Mr. Edwin Jones, of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street, Walsall, who died on the 31st December last, left estate of the gross value of £8,485 9s 4d, of which the net personalty had been sworn at £7,920 6s 4d. Probate of his will, dated the 5th August last, with a codicil of the 18th December, had been granted to his daughter, Miss Florence Jones, of Stafford Street, Walsall, Mr. Peakman, of Portland Street, Walsall, and Mr. Joseph Clark, milk dealer, of Proffitt Street, Walsall to each of the two latter of whom the testator left £15. He left to his wife, Mrs. Harriet Jones, the use of his residence and effects at Leamore, Bloxwich, and an annuity of £104, and during the life of his wife he left an annuity of £78 to his son, Howard, and annuities of £39 to each of his daughters, Alice, Maude, Florence, and Harriet Annie. The residue of his property he left upon trust for his children or their issue in equal shares."

Walsall Advertiser 19/2/1910

"On Tuesday evening last at Mr. Walter Hughes' Property Mart, The Bridge, Walsall, quite a large company attended at the sale of one of the best known public houses in the town, namely, the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street, Walsall, kept for so many years by the late Mr. Edwin Jones.

Brewers or their representatives from Birmingham, Wolverhampton, Lichfield, Burton-on-Trent, and other places, together with a good sprinkling of Walsall publicans anxious to see what the house would fetch.

The property is held under a lease which 37 years are unexpired, subject to a ground rent of £3.

This was Mr. Alderman Hughes' first property sale after his recent illness, and he seemed to be up to his old reputation as an auctioneer, and after expatiating on the merits of the property, an opening bid of £1,000 was soon followed by many hundreds and ultimately fifties, until the lot was satisfactorily disposed of."

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1910 - Advert

"Wednesday Next, 9th March, at 11.

Unreserved Sale by Auction of the Capital Furniture, 7-Octave Cottage Pianoforte (by Kirkman), 11-Stop American Organ with back mirror, 2 Wardrobes, Toilet Tables, Secretaire Desk and Bookcase, Sets of Chairs, Tables, Couch, Dining Table and large quantity of excellent effects, removed from the ROYAL EXCHANGE HOTEL, Stafford Street, by order of the Executors of the late Mr. Edwin Jones, in consequence of the house being sold."

1911 Census

126, Stafford Street – ROYAL EXCHANGE INN

[1] Alfred Cooke (35), licensed victualler, born Chorley, Staffordshire;

[2] Mabel Cooke (30), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Emily Walters (23), servant, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Cooke (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street, Walsall, 4s 9½d."

Richard Jackson Bayley – see also BIRD IN HAND.

1939 Register

126, Stafford Street

[1] William J. Waldron, date of birth 5/7/1901, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Elsie Waldron, dob 29/1/1904, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 5/10/1940

"Mr. John 'Jock' Mackenzie, of Wednesbury Road, a popular member of the Walsall football team twenty years ago, died with tragic suddenness yesterday morning. He had been on Home Guard duty at the gas works during the night, and appeared to be quite all right when he left his post about 6am. He walked home and entered the living room, but then apparently collapsed. Mrs. Mackenzie, who was in bed, heard a noise and called out but received no reply, and on coming downstairs she found her husband lying dead on the floor.

A native of Douglas, Lanarkshire, Mr. Mackenzie, who was aged 55, joined the Walsall Football Club in 1920, having previously played for Heart of Midlothian, Carlisle United, and Norwich City.

In the last war he served in Egypt with the R.G.A. When football was resumed he returned to Norwich and afterwards was signed by Walsall for what was to prove their last season in the Birmingham League. He was a sound fullback, and played many good games that season, but he was, of course, getting past his best and his career came to an end the following season, when he made only a few appearances for Walsall in the northern section of the Third Division.

On relinquishing the game. Mr. Mackenzie became a licensed victualler, and held in turn the licenses of the NEW STATION, Park Street, the HOPE AND ANCHOR, Pleck, and the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street. Then, about eight years ago, he joined the staff at the gas works, where he became very popular with his fellow employees and continued his sporting activities as a member of the bowling club. He is survived by Mrs. Mackenzie and one son (now serving with the Forces), with whom deep sympathy will be expressed in the bereavement which has so suddenly befallen them."

Walsall Observer 12/4/1941 - Advert

"Malt for Strength & Energy. Hops for The Appetite. Yeast for The Blood.

Twists The Best Beer for You.

You can Drink and Enjoy Twists Ale at any the of the following Licensed Houses.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street.....

And All The Best Clubs.

Proprietary Whiskies, Foreign Wines and Spirits, High-Class British Sherries and Ports.

Head Office & Brewery, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Stafford Street. £4 10s 0d."

Closed [2009]

It was converted into housing. [2012]

ROYAL EXCHANGE

Heath End, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Blencowe and Co. Limited [1914]

LICENSEES

Samuel Blackhurst [1871] – [1881]

Jabez Breeze [1890] – 1896);

John Morgan (1896 – []

Enoch Watson [] – 1899);

John Benson* (1899 – []

John Benton* [] – 1901);

Thomas Watson (1901 – 1906);

George Jackson (1906 – []

Richard Dunn [1909]

Ernest Bennett [1911] – [1914]

Mrs. Bennett (1914);

Henry Insley (1914 – []

Montagu Edwin Ratchliffe [1914]

NOTES

Samuel Blackhurst = Samuel Blackhart

1871 Census

Heath End – ROYAL EXCHANGE

[1] Samuel Blackhurst (50), beer seller, born London, Middlesex;

[2] Pamlar Blackhurst (46), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] William Collier (22), nephew, puddler, born Birmingham;

[4] Samuel Walker (6), nephew, scholar, born Oldbury;

[5] William Aston (25), nephew, puddler, born Lichfield:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/8/1872

“W. Sidley of Brownhills will match his black bitch Lady to run Morgan’s Gip of Blakenall 200 yards at catch weight or his Silk the same distance, at handicap terms (two yards and a half to the pound), for £10 or £15 a side, or Jones’s Sam or Lill of Bloxwich can be on at the same terms. A match can be made at Mr. Blackhurst’s, Pelsall, near Walsall, on Monday, Aug. 5.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/9/1873

“Robert Grise, who had previously been convicted, was fined 20s and costs, or twenty-one days’ imprisonment, for having been drunk and refusing to leave the ROYAL EXCHANGE beerhouse, Heath End.”

Lichfield Mercury 30/11/1877

“At the Lichfield County Police Office on Tuesday, a young man named T. Holloway, who said he came from Nottingham, was charged by Superintendent Hill with uttering a base florin to Mrs. Blackhurst, beerseller, Pelsall, on the 21st of November. The prisoner went to the prosecutrix’s house and had half a pint of ale for which he gave the coin and received 1s 10½d change. He was also charged with attempting, on the same day, to pass a second bad florin to Miss Lester, shopkeeper, Pelsall, in payment for some cheese. In this case the prosecutrix returned the coin to prisoner, who then gave her a good one. He was also charged with uttering a base florin to Mrs. Ghilks, beerhouse-keeper, Highbridge, on the same day, in payment of a pint of ale. The prisoner had a companion with him, and on being told the coin was bad they ran away. The prisoner was, however, captured by a man named Clare, although his companion escaped. Police-constable Walker produced four coins which the prisoner had passed to different persons at Pelsall, which were proved by Mr. Charles Thorneloe, silversmith, Lichfield, to be counterfeit. The prisoner was remanded for a week.

On the day of the prisoner's apprehension he caused considerable excitement in Brownhills by attempting to escape. He ran about half a mile, pursued by Police-constable Walker and a general cry of 'Stop thief' before he was overtaken."

1881 Census

Heath End

- [1] Samuel Blackhurst (62), beerseller, born London, Middlesex;
- [2] Pamela Blackhurst (56), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Pamela Walker (18), niece, general servant, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Samuel Walker (15), nephew, general labourer, born Oldbury;
- [5] Sarah Walker (8), niece, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Sarah A. Walker (7), niece, scholar, born West Bromwich:

Jabez Breeze = Jabez Breese

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

"The following publicans were granted one hour's extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes Jabez Breeze."

Lichfield Mercury 2/6/1893

"An inquest was held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Heath End, Pelsall, on Monday, before Mr. W. H. Phillips (coroner), relative to the death of William Smith, a miner, who met with his death on May 25th, whilst working at No.12 pit of the Walsall Wood Colliery Company. The evidence of Alfred Bratt and John Follows, who were near the scene of the accident showed deceased was at work in a stall pulling coal from the face of the same, when a large piece of rock fell upon him and caused such injuries to his head and upper part of his body, that the unfortunate fellow died before he could be removed from the pit. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

"At the Petty Sessions on Monday, Jabez Breeze, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted."

Lichfield Mercury 14/8/1896

"At Rushall Police Court, on Monday, a temporary transfer of the license of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, was granted from Jabez Breese to John Morgan, and an off-license at Heath End, held by Morgan, was transferred to William Poxon."

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

"The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End."

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1898

"At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, Charles Bullock, a Pelsall man, was charged with assaulting Sarah Clayton, who resides at Heath End. The complainant said that on Whit-Monday night she went to pay her club money at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End. The secretary had not yet come, so she went to sit in the kitchen. There were some more women in there. Defendant came in and put his arm round her. She told him to get away as she allowed no one to do that, and she went and sat in another corner of the room. Defendant went out, and when he came in again he asked her (complainant) what she had been telling Sergeant Riley. Complainant said that she had told him nothing. Defendant said, 'Yes you have, I will bet you a shilling.' He put down a shilling. She fetched out a 2s piece, and was picking the shilling up to put down her money when he committed the alleged assault, struck her several times, and also hit her with a jug. She said that one reason for the row was because she had given defendant a shilling to put on a horse, the horse won but defendant had kept the money.

William Evans, of Heath End, said he was not going to give a word of evidence until his day's wages were paid. Having received that from complainant he said that he did not see much of the row on account of there being so many in the house, but he did see defendant strike complainant.

Thomas Fleet, labourer, of Heath End, said that he saw defendant strike complainant three or four times without complainant touching him.

Lucy Morgan, landlady of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, deposed to hearing Mrs. Clayton (the complainant) making use of an expression to the effect that when she came across defendant she would strike him with the first weapon that she had in her hand. But she did not see anything of the row.

Esther Sweet, of Heath End, said she heard complainant make use to threats against defendant, and she saw complainant hit defendant with a jug, and threw another jug at defendant before he hit her.

Mr. James said they were both as bad as each other, and ordered them to pay the costs (17s) between them.

Mathew Round, of Pelsall, was then charged with assaulting the complainant in the last case.

Sarah Clayton said that as soon as she got outside the public house defendant came out and 'pushed his fist in her face,' and then struck her a violent blow, knocking her insensible.

Robert Clayton said he saw defendant come out of the house and strike complainant.

Prisoner denied hitting her at all. He said complainant was drunk. He only came out to move the crowd away that was outside.

Prisoner had got rather a bad record, so was fined 10s and 9s costs, or 14 days."

Lichfield Mercury 30/6/1899

"A temporary transfer of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Pelsall, was granted from Enoch Watson to John Benson."

* probably the same person

Walsall Advertiser 24/1/1903

"Mathew Round, of Heath End, Pelsall, was summoned on Monday at Rushall Police Court for being drunk on licensed premises, and refusing to quit when requested. Emma Watson, wife of the licensee of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, stated defendant came into the inn about 7pm on the 3rd inst. He was drunk, but asked to be supplied with liquor. Being refused, he challenged everyone present to fight, and eventually the police had to remove him. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the defence. He said that his client pleaded guilty, but had promised to sign the pledge if he were given another chance. Fined 10s and costs (8s 6d)."

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1909

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Richard Dunn, ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Pelsall."

Walsall Advertiser 21/10/1911

"'He's a terror and a pest to Heath End,' said a police-officer in giving evidence against Arthur Poxon (34), a miner, of Walsall Road, Heath End, Pelsall, who was placed in the dock at the Rushall Police Court on Monday, before Messrs. A. W. Greatrex (presiding), J. F. E. Binns, and W. M. Lester, charged with (1) being drunk and disorderly, and (2) with assaulting the police.

Police-constable Rushton stated that at 9.15pm on Saturday, the 14th inst, he was in conversation with the landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, who was making a complaint to him, when the prisoner, who was drunk, crossed the road and said, 'If you have anything to — say about me, say it here.' Witness ordered him into the house and he went, but shortly afterwards he came out again, and wanted to fight him, but when the officer went towards him the prisoner ran into the house and locked the door. At 10.30pm, witness was in Walsall Road, when the prisoner went up to him and said, 'You are just the — I am looking for.' Poxon commenced to kick the officer about the legs, and also on the hips and in the stomach. Witness closed with him and they fell to the ground where they struggled for about ten minutes, when Police-constable Smedley came to his assistance. Prisoner was handcuffed and taken to Rushall Police Station.

Prisoner: Did you run at me and dash me on the floor? — Police-constable Rushton: No. You have been in a scrimmage before. Answering the Bench, the officer said no one would supply the prisoner in a public-house, but he obtained beer by sending for it.

Ernest Bennett, landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, spoke to the prisoner's conduct to the police.

Police-constable Smedley said he heard that Police-constable Rushton was being assaulted and on proceeding to Walsall Road he found the officer and prisoner on the ground. Prisoner was trying to bite and kick Rushton, and witness handcuffed him. He was violent on the way to the police station, and said he would do him and Rushton in when he came out.

Police-constable Lewis, who received Poxon into custody said he was very drunk and violent, and used vile threats towards Rushton and Bennett. Police-constable Rushton's clothing was covered with mud.

Prisoner pleaded guilty to having been drunk and disorderly, but denied the assault. He alleged that Rushton knocked him on to the ground, put his hands round his throat and was throttling him, and also punched him.

Mr. Greatrex told the prisoner he had a very bad record and imposed fines of 10s and 5s costs for being drunk and disorderly and 20s and 10s costs for the assault, or one months' hard labour."

Lichfield Mercury 21/11/1913

"Two cases were preferred against Ernest Bennett, licensee of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End Pelsall, at Rushall Police Court on Monday, one for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and the other for selling ale to a drunken person. Mr. Frank Cooper prosecuted, and the defendant was represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson.

The evidence of Inspector Needham and other officers was to the effect that on October 28th, at five o'clock, they visited the defendant's house, and on going into the bar saw a woman named O'Neil setting on the bench with half a pint of beer before her. She was the worse for drink. She was very violent, and a trap had to be procured to get her to the station. She was charged the following day, and convicted for being drunk on licensed premises.

The female searcher to the Rushall police testified to the drunken state of the woman.

Ada Webb, wife of the landlord of the HOLLY BUSH, Pelsall, said the woman visited her house at 4-35 on the afternoon of October 28th, and asked for half a pint of beer. Owing to her drunken condition witness refused to serve her, and she left the premises. The defendant gave evidence in defence and denied the allegations that the woman was drunk. She was quite sober, and if he thought she had been drunk he would not have risked his character for half a pint of beer. The woman was violent because the police 'laid hold of her,' and would not allow her to walk.

Several witnesses were called who said the woman O'Neil was sober.

The Magistrates retired after a prolonged hearing, and on returning Captain Brookes said the charge of drunkenness would be dismissed, but in the second case a fine of 20s and costs would be imposed.

Mr. Jackson appealed to the Magistrates to withdraw their decision, and not record a conviction against Bennett. A conviction, he said, would prove detrimental to the defendant's business.

The Magistrates announced that they could not see their way clear to alter their decision.

Mr. Jackson again appealed, and the Justices again refused.

Mr. Jackson said he was very sorry. It appeared to him landlords were more severely dealt with than criminals. The punishment inflicted was terribly hard."

Walsall Observer 7/3/1914

"Arising out of the objection made at the Rushall Licensing Sessions on February 10th to the renewal of the license of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Pelsall, on the ground of redundancy, Mr. C. A. Loxton made an application to the Rushall magistrates, on Monday morning. The license, Mr. Loxton explained, was in the name of a man named Bennett, who had suddenly left the house, gone away no one knew where, and had left his wife and child (then dangerously ill) under somewhat heartless circumstances, so far as could be judged. Having regard to this state of affairs, the licensing Bench granted a temporary authority to the wife until the adjourned meeting (March 10th). However, Mrs. Bennett was now very anxious to leave this public house, and an arrangement had been made by which she was going away from the premises that morning. Under the circumstances he (Mr. Loxton) asked the Bench to grant a further temporary authority until the adjourned day to Henry Insley, a man of good character, who for some years was a member of the police force. He understood the police would offer no objection to the application.

Mr. W. L. Lewis (Magistrates Clerk): Have you any authority from the licensee to take this course?

Mr. Loxton: Seeing that the licensee has left the premises and gone away, I can only act on assumed authority. Mr. Frank Cooper, of Walsall, was instructed by Bennett before he went away, and appeared on the licensee's behalf at the licensing day. Mr. Cooper has informed me he sees no objection to the transfer being made to Insley. Under the circumstances I don't think there can be any question as to the regularity of the application.

Mr. W. H. Brookes, who occupied the Bench together with Mr. S. Bonner, said they hardly liked to upset previous arrangements, but under the circumstances the further temporary authority would be granted."

Lichfield Mercury 13/4/1914

"The Rushall adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Mr. C. Loxton (Walsall) applied for the renewal of the license of the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Heath End, Pelsall, the objection to which was on the ground of redundancy.

The Bench referred the license to the county compensation authority."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1914

"At the Principal Meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority, held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Wednesday, 25 licenses which had been referred by justices from petty sessional divisions and boroughs came under review. Of these, no opposition to the refusal of the license was offered by the parties interested in 15 cases, eight which were opposed were refused renewal, and the remaining two were adjourned for evidence of the trade done at each house.....

Mr. Loxton, on behalf of the owners of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Rushall, an ante-1869 beer, cider, and wine license, said it was an unopposed case. They had agreed to the amount of compensation being fixed at £600, which they thought was a favourable settlement. The clerk of the Peace said it must be understood that that was only a provisional figure and might be varied by the justices. The renewal of the license was refused."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1914

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 29th day of July, 1914, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Rushall. Beer, Cider, and Wine, ante 1869. Licensee, Montagu Edwin Ratcliffe. Registered Owner, William Blencowe and Co. Limited."

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1915

"The Principal Meeting of the Compensation Authority was held on the 29th July, and by adjournment on the 7th October and 12th December. The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon are satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund.

In the following 18 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

ROYAL EXCHANGE, Heath End, Rushall, beer, cider, and wine, ante-1869, £600.

The money has been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and will be paid on the 28th instant."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1915

“.....at the annual licensing sessions for the Rushall district on Monday.....

A decrease in the numbers of the beerhouses ‘on’ had been brought about by the ROYAL EXCHANGE beerhouse, Heath End, Rushall, having been closed under the compensation clauses of the Licensing Acts.”

ROYAL GEORGE

Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Hilditch [1822]

NOTES

London Gazette 16/3/1830

“John Hilditch, of the Foreign of Walsall, Staffordshire, Farmer and Victualler.”

ROYAL GEORGE

144, Wolverhampton Street, (144, Wolverhampton Road), (Wolverhampton Lane), (Park Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Heath [] – 1846;

Lydia Heath (1846 – 1848)

Thomas Hedges Jnr.* [1849] – [1851]

Thomas Hedges* [1858] – [1870]

Charles Cooper [1871] – [1873];

Henry Robinson [1876] – [1877];

Samuel Poxon [];

Edward Peace []

NOTES

Park Street [1849], [1850], [1851]

144, Wolverhampton Street [1860], [1871]

144, Wolverhampton Road [1861]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/2/1846 - Died

“On the 15th instant, Mr. Thomas Heath, butcher and landlord of the ROYAL GEORGE, Park Street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/6/1848 - Died

“On the 10th instant Lydia, wife of Mr. Thomas Heath, of the ROYAL GEORGE, Park Street, Walsall, aged 41.”

* probably the same person

Thomas Hedges issued tokens from here.

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/2/1851

“Thomas Hedges, of the ROYAL GEORGE, was fined 10s and costs, for having his public house open at half-past twelve on Saturday night.”

Thomas Hedges was also a coal merchant, Old Wharf. [1858]

1861 Census

144, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Thomas Hedges (41), victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Hedges (43), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] John Hedges (20), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Phoebe Hedges (18), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Hedges (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Ann Picken (44), visitor, seamstress, born Bilston;
- [7] Richard Machin (21), brewer and servant, born Bodmore (?) Heath, Staffordshire;
- [8] Fanny Allen (17), house servant, born Bentley, Warwickshire:

Walsall Free Press 30/8/1862 - Advert

“To The Working Classes. Notice! Notice!! Notice!!!

Every Man should provide for Sickness and Death.

No.1 True Briton’s Lodge, Wolverhampton Order Of Odd Fellows.

The above Lodge is an enrolled Society, meeting at Host Hedge’s, the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Wolverhampton Street, any person under 36 years of age may join.

Payments. 1s 3d per fortnight. Benefits 10s per week in Sickness; £14 at Death of member. £6 at Death of member’s wife.

C. Hodgkinson, Park Street, Secretary.

Surgeon E. D. Moore, Esq, Ablewell Street.”

Thomas Hedges was also a coal merchant. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 9/9/1865 - Advert

“Important Notice!!!

Aldridge Collieries near Walsall.

The Coppy Hall Ironstone & Coal Company, (Limited)

Have great pleasure in announcing to their friends and the public generally that they have commenced getting an entire New Measure Of Coal, equalled by few, and surpassed by none, in South Staffordshire, which they are prepared to Sell at the following prices:

Best House Coal..... 10 10 per ton. Best Cobbles.... 8 4 per ton. Best Slack..... 4 6 per ton. Good Hard Coal..... 8 0 per ton.

Good Hard Slack..... 3 6 per ton.

Orders left at Mr. Hedges, the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Wolverhampton Street, will receive prompt attention.

Carting on reasonable terms.”

1871 Census

144, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Charles Cooper (52), married, victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Cooper (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Cooper (53), wife, born Lichfield;
- [4] Sarah Cooper (17), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 29/4/1871 - Advert

“To Be Sold, a piece of Freehold Land situate at Palfrey, being No.117 on the Palfrey Estate of the Walsall Freehold Land Society. Apply, ROYAL GEORGE, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Free Press 23/12/1871 - Advert

“To The Master Collar Makers Of Walsall & Birmingham.

At a Meeting of the Workmen of the above Trade, held at the ROYAL GEORGE, it was resolved to solicit their Employers for an Advance of wages, at the following rates of percentage: No.1, 15, No.2, 12½, No.3, 10 percent.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Thomas Gaffey, alias Murphy, a notorious disorderly person who did not appear, was convicted of a gross assault upon Henry Robinson, keeper of the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Wolverhampton Road, and was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment with hard labour, the Mayor remarking that publicans carried on their business under very heavy responsibility, and when they were conducting their houses in a proper and orderly way the magistrates ought to back them up.”

Birmingham Gazette 20/3/1877

“The Artisan’s Dwelling Act In Walsall. An inquiry directed by the Local Government Board was re-opened yesterday morning, by Lieut.-Col. Ponsonby Cox, at the Guildhall.....

[This inquiry was to investigate the compulsory purchase of an area of existing buildings, between Stafford Street and Wolverhampton Street, demolish them and to erect new dwellings.]

There were 100 houses, full-licensed house 5, beerhouses 2, privies and ashpits 50 – of these 17 are under dwelling houses, workshops, or passages leading to them. The other buildings are 6 houses and shops combined, 16 workshops, 1 office, 1 pawnshop, 3 stores, 10 void houses, 1 bakehouse, 5 sheds, 5 stables, 1 butcher’s shop, 1 confectioner’s shop, 1 school, 2 pigsties. The streets in the area were narrow and irregular; the houses had no back doors situate in and out of courts; courts open at one end only, and some of them being only three feet across, hence the impossibility of providing proper privy accommodation.....

Henry Robinson, proprietor of the ROYAL GEORGE, examined by Mr. Williams said that the sanitary defects of his property could be easily remedied, but he had never been asked to do it. In examination by Mr. Gillespie, he said the yard would be about seven yards long by four yards. There were two privies which had separate doors.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1882

“Walsall Town Council.

Report of the General Purposes Committee.....

On the motion of Alderman Brewer, seconded by Councillor Kirkpatrick, it was further resolved, on the recommendation of the same committee, ‘That the Council allow the licenses of the five alehouses, viz, the ODD FELLOWS ARMS, the ROYAL GEORGE, the SPREAD EAGLE, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, and the WATERLOO TAVERN, and the beerhouse, the BOAT INN, purchased for the purposes of the Artisans’ Dwelling Scheme, to lapse, it being considered that there is in the neighbourhood an ample number of licensed houses to meet the requirements of the district.’ This was unanimously agreed to.”

ROYAL OAK

40, (22), Goscote, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

J. C. Smith Esq.

Mrs. E. Vaughan, widow, Goscote

Thomas Sanders, Goscote

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Vaughan [1849] – [1850]

Charles Vaughan [1858] – [1861]

Samuel Allsop [1862] – [1872]

Mrs. Ann Allsop []

Charles Allsopp [1881];

William Holland [1884];

Thomas Lunt [];

Henry Davis Snr. [1887] – 1892);

Henry Davis Jnr. (1892 – 1895);

William Thomas Hooker (1895 – 1898);

Charles Orgill (1898 – 1904);

James Sanders (1904 – 1906);

William Henry Powell (1906 – 1907);

Mrs. Edith Martha Evans (1907 – 1909);

Edward Bowen (1909 – 1910);

William Lavender (1910 – 1911);

James Somerfield (1911 – 1914);

Arthur Davis (1914 – 1916);

Mary Ann Davis (1916 – 1919);

Arthur Davis (1919 – 1924);

Godfrey Tomkins (1924 – 1925);

George Brown (1925 – 1930);

NOTES

22, Goscote [1871]
40, Goscote [1881], [1901]

Samuel Allsop = Samuel Allsopp = Samuel Alsopp

Walsall Free Press 23/3/1861 - Advert

“To Be Shot For, at the house of Mr. S. Allsop, ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote, near Walsall, on Easter Monday, April 1st, a splendid Fat Pig, value £6. Twenty-four members at 5s each. The winner can receive £5 10s or the Pig. The conditions (on this occasion) to be decided by the shooters, on the ground. Shooting to commence at eleven o’clock. Pigeons provided by the landlord. N.B. The extraordinary large pig is still on view at the above house.”

Walsall Free Press 7/12/1861 - Advert

“For Sale, the Greatest Wonder Living.
This most extraordinary Pig that has been admired and talked about by thousands, all of whom admit him to be the largest Pig in the world; is now on sale at Mr. Samuel Allsop’s, ROYAL OAK, Goscote.”

Walsall Free Press 22/2/1862 - Advert

“See Him! See Him!! See Him!!!
The Largest Pig In The World, parties wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing this most extraordinary Pig, must go at once, as he will be killed on Monday, the 24th of February, at Mr. Samuel Allsop’s, ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote, near the Foundry.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/4/1868 - Advert

“To Timber Dealers And Others, Pelsall.
Important Sale of Capital Timber Trees.
To Be Sold By Auction, by Farrington and Son, at the ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote, near Walsall, on Wednesday Next, the 6th day of May – about 200 capital Oak Trees, growing up lands near to the residence of the late Mr. Charles, Pelsall Hall.
Particulars in catalogues, to be had at the Office of the Auctioneers, Walsall.
Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock.”

Samuel Allsop was also a shopkeeper. [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

22, Goscote
[1] Samuel Alsopp (55), victualler and farmer, born Wolverhampton;
[2] Ann Alsopp (59), wife, born Newport, Shropshire;
[3] Charles Alsopp (19), son, born Bloxwich;
[4] John Alsopp (17), son, roll turner, born Bloxwich;
[5] Emma Weaver (17), general servant, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

40, Goscote – ROYAL OAK
[1] Charles Allsopp (29), unmarried, farmer (30 acres) and innkeeper, born Goscote;
[2] Ann Allsopp (69), mother, born Wellington, Shropshire;
[3] John Allsopp (27), brother, roll turner, born Goscote;
[4] Samuel Taylor (13), nephew, born Blakenhall:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....
The licenses of William Holland, Goscote which had been suspended from the previous Sessions, were renewed, with a caution to the parties to be more careful in the future.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/10/1887

“Yesterday at the Guildhall, Eliza Slater (14), domestic servant, was charged with having stolen a pack of cards, a mug, and other articles, the property of Henry Davis, keeper of the ROYAL OAK, near Goscote; and cuff links, and articles of clothing, the property of Julia Anna Davis, her master’s daughter.
The girl had been in Mr. Davis’s employ about a week, but was going home when Miss Davis missed a pair of kid gloves, and some other things. A constable was then sent for, and the missing articles and others were found in the girl’s box, which was packed and ready for removal.
The prosecutor interceded on the girl’s behalf, and said he had known the family for many years. They had all borne an excellent character, and at one time the mother was in his service for several years.
The magistrates suitably admonished the girl, and imposed a fine of 10s and costs, or twenty-one days’ imprisonment.”

1891 Census

Goscote – ROYAL OAK INN

- [1] Henry Davis (60), widower, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Henry Davis (36), son, agricultural labourer, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Louisa Stackhouse (27), general servant, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1892

“Re Henry Davis, the ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote near Walsall, licensed victualler and farmer.

The public examination of this debtor took place at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, yesterday, before Mr. Registrar Clarke; Mr. A. Baker, attending for the bankrupt, and Mr. E. Pritchard (official receiver) being present. The summary of accounts showed liabilities £203 18s 4d, assets £21 10s, deficiency £182 8s 4d. The debtor attributed his failure to bad trade as a publican and bad seasons. The examination was adjourned to the 3rd of February.”

1901 Census

40, Goscote – ROYAL OAK TAVERN

- [1] Charles Orgill (32), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Annie Orgill (32), wife, born Wittington, Staffordshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Orgill (68), mother in law, widow, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Arthur L. Orgill (4), son, born Pelsall;
- [5] Annie E. Orgill (8 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sarah M. Sharratt (16), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Charles Orgill, ROYAL OAK.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

ROYAL OAK INN, Goscote; BARLEY MOW INN, NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich; and KING WILLIAM INN, Little Bloxwich, were renewed, with an intimation from the Magistrates that they considered the licenses in both districts were in excess of the requirements.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/4/1910

“The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

In the case of the ROYAL OAK, Goscote, in respect of which an application was made to transfer the license from Edward Bowen to William Lavender, Sir Edward Holden drew attention to the fact that there had already been four transfers in connection with that house.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who appeared for the parties, said Bowen was going into another house [SPORTSMAN] under the same company. He did not know anything about the other three tenants.

Sir Edward said his idea was that where there were so many transfers it was that it either did not pay a man or he had to sell excessively to make the house pay.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

ROYAL OAK, Bloxwich, £1 1s 2½d.”

It closed on 5th February 1930.

The license was transferred to the CAMBRIDGE.

ROYAL OAK

12, Harden Lane, (191, Blakenall), Blakenall Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Mrs. Ann Emery

William Blencowe and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Emery [1856] – [1865]
Mrs. Ann Emery [1868] – 1889);
Isaiah Nicholls (1889 – 1892);
Thomas Watson (1892 – 189_) [1896]
James Hughes (189_ – 1898);
Enoch Duce (1898 – 1901);
William Duce (1901 – 1929):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Sentinel 13/9/1856

“Monday being the day appointed for the renewal of old licenses, and considering the application for new ones, there was a rather full attendance of magistrates.....

There were no less than twenty-eight applications for new licenses, all of which were refused with the exception of James Emery, beerhouse keeper, Blakenall.....

The applications were for the most part refused, in consequence of the number of houses already licensed in the respective localities, and in a few instances from the want of sufficient accommodation.”

Walsall Free Press 19/11/1859 - Marriage

“On the 7th instant, at St. Peter’s, by the Rev. C. Dunn, Mr. James Emery, of the ROYAL OAK, Blakenall, to Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Stanley, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

James Emery was also a bridle bit maker. [1860], [1861]

James Emery, beer retailer, Blakenall. [1861]

James Emery was described as also a bit maker. [1865]

1871 Census

191, Blakenall – ROYAL OAK

[1] Ann Emery (50), widow, publican, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Watkins (11), general servant, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 12/4/1879

“Public Memorial to the Late Sister Dora.....

Subscription List..... Mrs. Emery, ROYAL OAK, Blakenall. £1 1s 0d.”

1881 Census

12, Harden Lane – ROYAL OAK

[1] Ann Emery (60), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] David Whitehouse (54), brewer, born Blakenhall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1889 - Advert

“To Brewers and Others.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, the ROYAL OAK, Blakenall Heath, near Bloxwich, together with two Dwelling Houses adjoining, with the Cottage and Gardens at the rear, the whole containing 1,260 square yards or thereabouts; or, if desired, the Public-house may be bought separate. The latter is doing a first-rate trade, and has been carried on by the owner (Mrs. Ann Emery) for the last 29 years, who is now compelled to retire through illness.

Apply on the premises.”

Isaiah Nicholls was fined 10s and costs, on 6th April 1891, for permitting drunkenness.

1891 Census

12, Harden Lane – ROYAL OAK

[1] Isaiah Nicholls (56), licensed victualler, born Shelfield;

[2] Emma Nicholls (63), wife, born Pelsall;

[3] Maria Jevons (17), domestic servant, born Blakenall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1892

“On Tuesday morning David Whitehouse (66), who had been ill for some time, committed suicide by shooting himself. He was a single man, and lodged at 54, Harden Lane, Blakenall, and was being nursed by a person named Cooper. About half-past seven on Tuesday Mrs. Cooper was downstairs getting a cup of coffee for deceased, and heard a peculiar noise in his bedroom. She ran up and found him lying on the floor. She called assistance, and when he was lifted up it was found he had a pistol, which he kept in his room, in his right hand, and a bullet wound in his right temple. Dr. Black was at once fetched, but deceased was quite dead. On Wednesday, Mr. Stanley (borough coroner) held the inquest at the ROYAL OAK INN, Harden Lane, Blakenhall.

Harriet Cooper, 106, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, nurse, stated that for a month she had been waiting on the deceased, who lodged with a Mrs. Emery. He was a chainmaker by trade. Lately he had been very ill, and at times peculiar in his manner. On Tuesday morning she was in and out of his bedroom several times. About ten minutes to eight o'clock she heard a strange noise, and at once ran up the stairs, when she found deceased lying on the floor in a pool of blood. She tried to lift his head up, but it was more than she could manage, and thinking he had fallen in a fit, she ran to get more assistance. Deceased had had the revolver produced for some time, and kept it in a box on the drawers.

Samuel Emery, 40, Harden Lane, bridle bit maker, deposed to being called to the deceased. There was a lot of blood about, and deceased was wounded in the right temple. In his right hand he held a revolver. Witness heard him murmur twice, but death must have taken place immediately. Deceased was a native of Blakenall, and witness had known him for thirty years.

John Frank Black, assistant to Dr. Oliver, said he had been attending deceased for some time past. He was suffering from a disease of the stomach, the symptoms being acute painful indigestion, with occasional vomiting. Recently an ulcer had broken out on the surface of the stomach, and he must have suffered considerable pain. Witness saw him on Monday, when he was very despondent, and despaired of getting better. He had been a very hearty man, but owing to his illness, strict dieting had been necessary, and his food consisted chiefly of skimmed milk. The circumstances had seemed to dwell on his mind. Witness was called to him after death, and found a bullet wound in his right temple. Death must have been almost instantaneous. The revolver produced contained five chambers, three being still loaded. One of the others contained an empty cartridge.

The Coroner, in summing up, pointed out that the illness had evidently preyed on the unfortunate man's mind. A verdict of Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane was returned.”

Thomas Watson was fined 5s and costs, on 6th April 1894, for selling during prohibited hours.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday.....

The licenses of William Webster, ROYAL OAK, Stafford Street; Thomas Watson, ROYAL OAK, Harden Lane; Anna Maria Grant, the NAGS HEAD, Ablewell Street; and William Daniel, BLUE PIG, Elmore Row, were renewed.”

1901 Census

12, Harden Lane – ROYAL OAK

- [1] William Duce (35), miner and licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Elizabeth Duce (34), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Albert Duce (14), son, coal miner, born Sedgley;
- [4] Martha Duce (12), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [5] William Duce (7), son, born Sedgley;
- [6] Lily Duce (4), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [7] Joseph Duce (3), son, born Pelsall;
- [8] Alfred Duce (1), son, born Blakenall:

Walsall Advertiser 30/5/1903

“At the Walsall Police Court, on Tuesday morning, John Joyce, 6, Blakenall Row, Blakenall, answered a charge of being drunk on the licensed premises of the ROYAL OAK, Harden Lane, and refusing to quit when requested by the landlord, William Duce, and further with being drunk and disorderly in Harden Lane, on May 18th.

William Duce deposed that on the day in question the defendant came to his house drunk, and asked to be served with a pint of ale. He was refused and requested to leave, but this Joyce declined to do, saying they would have to fetch the police first. Witness sent for an officer, but was unable to find one, and he tried to eject him himself, but could not do so. Defendant was in the house from four o'clock till ten minutes after seven. An officer who was then passing was called in, and he took defendant out.

Mrs. Duce gave similar evidence.

Police-constable Gibbs stated that he was called to the ROYAL OAK, where he found Gibbs drunk, but he came out quietly enough when he requested him. Outside, however, he commenced to create a disturbance and wanted to go back. Witness several times requested him to go away, but he would not do so, and he would have locked him up had not his friends dragged him away. Ordered to pay 10s and costs, or go to prison for 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/8/1909

“Two brothers, named William Bradford, of Field Street, and George Bradford of Harden Lane, were summoned for being drunk on the licensed premises of the ROYAL OAK, Harden, on August 7th, and George was further summoned for being drunk and disorderly in Harden Lane, on the same date.

Police-constable Gibbs said that at 9.15pm on the date mentioned he was in duty in Harden Lane in plain clothes and saw the defendant, William, who was drunk, go into the ROYAL OAK by the front entrance. Witness went to warn the landlord not to serve him, when he saw George, who was also the worse for beer, in the doorway. The defendant obstructed the officer, and he went round to the back door, but when he got there he found that the defendant George had gone through the house. He, however, warned the landlord, and the men were ordered out of the house.

The landlord of the ROYAL OAK said he could not swear the men were drunk. They went out of the house quietly when he told them to go.

Police-constable Gibbs then stated that when outside the house the defendant George challenged him (witness) to fight, and struck at him.

The case against William was dismissed, the magistrates remarking that the officer was perfectly justified in bringing the case forward; and George Bradford, who did not appear, was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days."

Walsall Advertiser 17/9/1910

"A case, which was remarkable for the conflicting character of the evidence, occupied for some time, on Tuesday, the attention of Messrs. S. B. Wheway and F. W. Lavender, who were sitting at the Walsall Police Court. The defendants were William Duce, landlord of the ROYAL OAK, Harden Lane, Blakenall, who was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises on the 5th September, and Oscar or John Walker, of 8, Blakenall Heath, and William Sargent, of 17, Harden Lane, who were both summoned for being found drunk on the licensed premises of the ROYAL OAK, on the same date. Mr. G. H. Bailey appeared for all three defendants.

Police-constable Bates, in his evidence, stated that at 10.50pm, on Monday, September 5th he was in Harden Lane, when the wife of Sargent made a complaint as to where her husband was. He went to the ROYAL OAK, and on entering saw Sargent sitting by a table with a pint jug, containing beer, in front of him. He was drunk, and offered witness the jug, asking him to drink. Walker was also at the table, in a drunken condition as well, and he was shouting. The landlord was in the bar, smoking a cigar, and could see all that was going on. Witness drew Duce's attention to the condition of the men, and told him to get them out. Duce replied, 'It is nearly 11 o'clock, I will.'

Witness then went outside, and on looking through the window he saw Sargent challenge Walker to fight. He pulled his jacket off, and said he would fight Walker for £20. Walker replied, 'I've got no money, but I'll fight you man to man and heart to heart.' Sargent then pulled his jacket off, and Walker got up to fight, but two men named Cockin and Feeney interfered, and prevented any blows being struck. Sometime after it had struck eleven o'clock, he (witness) again went into the house, and Walker and Sargent were then trying to get at each other, but were being held back. The two defendants then left the house. Walker, who was very drunk, came out first, and he was taken home by the two men, Cockin and Feeney. Sargent then came out, and said to the officer, 'Mr. Bates, do you say I am drunk?' Witness replied, 'I did say so,' whereupon the defendant retorted, 'I am not drunk; if I was I should say I was. I am as sober as any man here.' He was taken home by his wife and two other men. Witness then asked the landlord how he accounted for the disturbance in his house, and he replied, 'I cannot help their tempers.' Later he said to the officer, 'Mr. Bates, I hope you won't take advantage of me.'

Cross-examined by Mr. Bailey, the officer stated that it was absolutely untrue that his first words to Duce were, 'I shall report you to the Chief.' He did not get the names of any of the men in the house at the time or ask them to give evidence because he knew Blakenall too well to think anyone would give evidence for him.

James Feeney, 28, Chapel Street, Blakenhall, spoke to going to the ROYAL OAK at 8 o'clock on the evening in question. Walker and Sargent were both there. They quarrelled, and Sargent took off jacket to fight. They were both drunk and the landlord was in the room the whole time. He and Cockin helped Walker home.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bailey, witness said he and the two defendants had about five or six quarts of beer together. He admitted some time ago his (witness's) brother was summoned by Duce for refusing to quit a public house, but he denied that he had said he would get Duce convicted for it.

For the defence, Mr. Bailey submitted that the case had been exaggerated, to put it mildly. There was no quarrel, but simply some chaffing, although there was a challenge. Both men were absolutely sober, and walked home unassisted.

William Duce, the landlord of the ROYAL OAK, said he had kept the house for nine years, and had never been summoned before. He was in the bar all the evening. Sargent entered the house at 8.45 and during the time he was there, he only had two pints of ale. Walker entered about 9.30, and all he had to drink was three half-pints of old ale, because he had the tooth-ache. Both men were sober, and Sargent chaffed Walker over having the tooth-ache, and at a quarter to eleven, Walker challenged Sargent to fight, but no blow was struck. When the two men left his house, they were perfectly sober, and no one assisted them home. The officer did call his attention to the men, but only put his head round the door, and said that he should report him to the Chief. He was only in the house once. Witness was not smoking then; in fact, he did not smoke at all.

Sargent and Walker, and a man named John Buff, gave corroborative evidence, and the first named also stated that the officer told Duce that no one was drunk.

Nellie Sargent, wife of one of the defendants, said she heard loud talking in the house which was across the road. She then saw the policeman come down the road and put his head round the door of the public house. Afterwards she asked her husband to go home and he went. He was quite sober.

Cross-examined by the Chief Constable, witness said she never complained to the policeman. Another woman who was with her said something to him, but she could not hear. The policeman only went into the house once.

Mr. Wheway remarked that a great amount of perjury had been committed on one side or the other. In reply to questions from him, Police-constable Bates, who was recalled, said he made no mistake about the cigar that Duce was smoking, and he saw about five-eighths of an inch of ash on it. Mrs. Sargent did complain to him.

After a private consultation among the Magistrates, Mr. Wheway said they considered it a proper case to be brought before the Court, and while they did not for a moment disbelieve the evidence of the officer, they felt they could not make a conviction in the absence of stronger corroboration than the evidence given by Feeney.

The case would be dismissed.”

1911 Census

Blakenall – ROYAL OAK

- [1] William Duce (45), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Elizabeth Duce (44), wife, married 15 years, born Sedgley;
- [3] Lily Duce (14), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Joseph Duce (13), son, born Pelsall;
- [5] Nellie Duce (8), daughter, born Blakenall;
- [6] Maud Duce (5), daughter, born Blakenall;
- [7] Isabel Duce (1), daughter, born Blakenall:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
ROYAL OAK, Blakenall. £0 16s 3½d.”

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

“Walsall Licensing Sessions.....

W. Butler and Co, Wolverhampton, applied for the removal of the license of the ROYAL OAK INN, Blakenall, to a new site at the corner of Walker Road and Well Lane. The decision was reserved to March 29th.”

It closed in 1929.

ROYAL OAK

89, Sneyd Lane, (Snead Lane), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

J. E. Bealey Esq.

Thomas Sanders, High Street, Bloxwich [1904]

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Purchase [1860] – [1861]

Edward Purchase [1861]

Henry Green [1868] – [1872];

Mrs. Abigail Taylor [];

Thomas Wootton [] – 1889;

James Downes (1889 – 1909);

Alfred Sleight (1909 – 1926);

George Eccleston (1926 – [])

William Homer [] – 1934;

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

Snead Lane

- [1] Edward Purchase (62), widower, beerhouse keeper, born Brewood;
- [2] Ann Purchase (21), daughter, born Wednesfield;
- [3] Elizabeth Purchase (17), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Charlotte Purchase (9), daughter, born Wednesfield;
- [5] John Purchase (70), brother, born Brewood:

Henry Green was also a bridle bit maker. [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Gazette 3/8/1870

“Thunderstorm At Bloxwich. One man Killed and Two injured by Lightning.

On Monday afternoon, as three men were mowing barley in a field at Newton, a thunderstorm came on, and they took shelter in the MASONS ARMS public-house, but they had not been in the house long when one of them, named William Cunningham, aged 53, who resided at Bullock’s Fold, Big Green, Bloxwich, was struck by the lightning and killed on the spot. Mr. Somerville, surgeon, was immediately in attendance, but life was quite extinct. The other two men, one of whom was sitting on each side of Cunningham, were much shaken by the electric fluid, and still feel the effects.

It appears the electric fluid had entered the house by the parlour chimney, and in its course it tore away the brick and plaster work on the fire-place in the bed-room. Mrs. Birch, who had been confined to bed for the past two years, was in the room, and the mortar on the wall and ceiling was scattered over her as she lay in bed. She, however, escaped unhurt. The fluid descended from the bed-room to the parlour, where deceased and his companions were sitting, and after striking them in the manner described, it passed through the kitchen, the window of which was damaged. An oak tree at Yield Fields Hall was struck by the lightning, which ripped off the bark and strewed the branches about the road. The chimney of the ROYAL OAK beerhouse, Sneyd’s Lane, was much damaged.”

Henry Green, beer retailer, Wolverhampton Road. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/5/1875

“On Monday Mr. A. A. Fletcher held an inquest at the ROYAL OAK, Sneyd Lane, on the body of Thomas Jones, 45, a labourer, of the same place. The evidence showed that at about eight o’clock on the night of the 30th ult, as the deceased was charging an evaporating pan with night-soil, at the works of the Patent Urban Manure Company, he by some means slipped off the revolving agitator upon which he was standing, and fell into the pan, which contained a mixture of night-soil and vitriol to the depth of about two feet. He was got out as speedily as possible and conveyed to his home, where he died about half an hour afterwards. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

James Downes = James Downs

1901 Census

89, Sneyd Lane

- [1] James Downes (62), awl blade maker and beerhouse keeper, born Bridgnorth;
- [2] Eliza Downes (49), wife, born Lane Head;
- [3] Jane Downes (16), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Annie Downes (14), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] James Downes (11), son, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Susannah Tarbuck (16), servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Eliza Terry (18), niece, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Benjamin Walker (41), boarder, collier, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Samuel Tarbuck (50), boarder, collier, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Robert Bentley (24), boarder, collier, born Bloxwich;
- [11] John Somerfield (61), widower, boarder, general labourer about premises, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

James Downes, ROYAL OAK.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting was continued on Thursday for the sixth day.....

ROYAL OAK, Sneyd Lane, Bloxwich, renewed upon Alderman Sanders (the owner) giving an undertaking to put it into proper repair.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/10/1909

“Described as a ‘notorious character and a terror to the neighbourhood’, a woman named Sarah Jones, of Sneyd Lane, Bloxwich, was summoned for having wilfully damaged a window, thereby doing injury to complainant to the amount of 8s. Mr. H. H. Jackson who prosecuted on behalf of the Licensed Victuallers’ Association, said that the complainant was the licensee of the ROYAL OAK INN, Sneyd Lane, Leamore, and that the woman continually annoyed. On Monday afternoon, she went to his house but he refused to serve her with beer and had to drag her out of the house. She then smashed three windows and cracked three others and followed that up by throwing a piece of cinder through another. The woman was a constant terror to the neighbourhood and went shouting and swearing about the street. The licensee must be protected because it might be a serious thing for him if the woman was found outside his house, and it might be thought that she had had the drink on his premises.

Mr. Sleigh corroborated Mr. Jackson’s statement.

Defendant expressed her sorrow, and said that some children had been throwing stones at her and she threw a bottle at them, and it rebounded off the wall and broke the window.

It was stated that the woman had been before the Court on seventy-five occasions and had fifty-nine convictions against her. She was sentenced to twenty-one days' hard labour without the option.

Defendant: I shall not have to pay for the damage now? – Dr. Phillips: No.

Defendant: Thank God for that. (laughter).”

1911 Census

89, Sneyd Lane

[1] Alfred Sleigh Snr. (45), beer retailer, born Blakenall;

[2] Annie Maria Sleigh (43), wife, married 19 years, beer retailer, born Bloxwich;

[3] Alfred Sleigh Jr. (18), son, at home, helps in business, born Blakenall;

[4] Constance Marian Sleigh (15), daughter, school, born Bloxwich;

[5] Hector Sleigh (9), son, school, born Bloxwich:

Alfred Sleigh, beer retailer, 89, Sneyd Lane. [1912]

It closed in November 1934.

ROYAL OAK

Walker Road / 51, Well Lane, Blakenall Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Enterprise Inns [1996]

Admiral Taverns [2007]

LICENSEES

Sydney Noake (1929 – 1930);

William Edward Hinton (1930 – 1931);

Charles William Garfield (1931 – 1940);

Henry Kendrick (1940 – 1956);

James Edward Reeves (1956 – 1959);

John Henry Booth (1959);

Dermot Sheehan (1959 – 1962);

Leonard Challis (1962 – 1966);

Wilfred Raymond Morgan (1966 – 1967);

Kenneth John Gunter (1967 – []

John and Margaret Foster [1999]

NOTES

It opened on 30th March 1929.

1939 Register

51, Well Lane (3 of 4)

[1] Charles W. Garfield, date of birth 27/1/1877, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Frances A. Garfield, dob 24/9/1896, assists husband, married;

[3] Iris N. \(Knowles\) Burrows, dob 29/3/1918, barmaid, single;

Walsall Observer 6/4/1940

“Mrs. Garfield, of the ROYAL OAK, Blakenhall, informs us that her customers have subscribed £36 2s 3d for Walsall men in the fighting forces. In every case postal orders have been sent to the men, as money is now generally preferred to parcels, the men being able to spend it on their actual needs.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
ROYAL OAK, Blakenall, £6 12s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/10/1942

“By a darts match at the ROYAL OAK INN, Blakenall, yesterday week, a sum of £6 was raised for the Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Mr. T. Beard’s team beat Mr. G. Hinsley’s team by 2-0. The highest score of the evening (108 with three darts) was made by Mr. W. Dwyer, whose average for the two games was 98.6. He also made a winning double, as did Mr. G. Pee.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Kendrick, ROYAL OAK, Blakenall. £0 17s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ROYAL OAK, Blakenall. £25 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
ROYAL OAK, Blakenall. £60 0s 0d.”

Wilfred Raymond Morgan – see also NEWPORT ARMS.

Enterprise Inns Advert 11/3/1996

“Recently refurbished, this large detached pub is situated in a densely populated area....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/2/1999

“Five Black Country pubs which between them have raised thousands of pounds for worthy causes are in the running for the Community Pub of the Year title. The COTTAGE in Wolverhampton Road, Walsall; the MOXLEY ARMS in High Street, Moxley; the HIGHGATE ARMS in Rowley View, Wednesbury; the ROYAL OAK in Blakenall; and the FOUNTAIN INN at Victoria Road, Quarry Bank, have all been nominated for the award.

The competition is organised by the Brewers and Licensed Retailers Association and £21,000 in prize money is on offer, which goes to charities and good causes.....

John and Margaret Foster at the ROYAL OAK raised £1,000 for Mencap and Old Hall Special School in Willenhall.

Regional judging panels will select 11 winners across the country, each of which will receive £1,000 to go to a charity or worthy cause of their choice. Regional winners will go on to a national final.”

[2007]

Closed

It was converted into a shop. [2012]

ROYAL OAK

30, (28), Ablewell Street / Pool Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Sheldon [1835]

James Bullock [1851]

James Lynex, 88, Wednesbury Road, Walsall

Messrs. Leary and Son, Pleck Brewery, Walsall [1881]

Manchester Brewery Co. Ltd. [1902]

Samuel Allsopp and Sons Ltd. (acquired in February 1908) [1910]

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd. [1914]

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Middleton [1801] – [1830]
James Bullock [1833]
James Sheldon [1834] – 1835
Mrs. Ann (Sheldon) Holmes [1836]
Charles Holmes [1836]
James Bullock [1841] – [1851]
Joseph Mountford [1852]
Mary Mountford [1858]
Thomas Sutton [1860] – [1861]
Lynex [1861]
William Henry Banks [1862]
Samuel Tonks [1863] – [1875];
Alfred Leary [];
Thomas Hilton Johnson [1881] – [1884];
Thomas Cunningham [] – 1890;
Amos Price (1890 – 1898);
Thomas William Davidson (1898 – 1901);
Robert James (1901 – 1902);
Alfred Cooke (1902 – 1904);
Mrs. Mold [1904] ?
Albert Edward James (1904 – 1905);
Albert Thomas James Riley Tipler (1905 – 1908);
Richard Alfred Yardley (1908 – 1909);
Herbert Salt (1909 – 1910);
William ‘Willie’ Mallinson (1910 – 1912);
Henry Insley (1912);
James Loynes (1912 – 1913);
David Fisher (1913 – 1917);
Lilian Fisher (1917 – 1919);
Edward Webster (1919 – 1922);
John Gorton [] ? manager
William Day (1922 – 1939);
Alice Dunham Day [1939] ?
George Armishaw Thornton (1939 – 1942);
Henry Grosvenor (1942 – 1953);
Edward Kynaston Smith (1953 – 1956);
Arthur Jones (1956 – 1958);
Edwin Jones (1958 – 1960);
Stanley Norman Jones (1960 – 1962);
John Valentine Hennessy (1962 – [1966])

NOTES

28, Ablewell Street [1858], [1860], [1862], [1864], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873]
30, Ablewell Street [1881], [1892], [1896], [1903], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1940]

It also had an entrance in Pool Street.

It was renamed ROYAL OAK HOTEL

It was originally a coaching house.

It was used by the Unitarians for religious meetings.

Express and Star

‘Royal Past To Be Revived’

“.....They believe there has been an inn on the site for at least 300 years. The anniversary [125th] marks the establishment of the old coaching inn as a hotel Among the anecdotes are the story of the celebrated barefist fighter John Lomond, known as the Mercian Duke, who used the cellars for bouts.....”

[1773]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

"A list of Waggons, &c...."

Twiss's waggon from Joseph Middleton's, ROYAL OAK INN, every Tuesday and Saturday mornings, for Birmingham, where goods are forwarded from his warehouse, Dale End, to all parts of the kingdom; returns every Saturday and Wednesday evenings, and loads for Stafford, Stone, Newcastle, and all parts of the North."

AND

"Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs....."

Friendly Society, female, held at ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, supposed number 100, instituted 1781, surgeon Mr. Woollatt, secretary James Gee.

Friendly, male, held at ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, supposed number 24, instituted 1768, surgeon Mr. Adams, secretary James Gee.

Amicable, male, held at ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, supposed number 250, instituted 1772, surgeon Mr. Adams, secretary Benjamin Westley.

Union, male, held at ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, supposed number 24, instituted 1790, surgeon Mr. Parnell, secretary Benjamin Westley.

Brotherly, male, held at ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, supposed number 70, surgeon Mr. Parnell, secretary James Fieldhouse."

Joseph Middleton was also a maltster. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1826 - Advert

"On Monday the 4th of December, 1826, a Grand Procession, to consist of the following united Lodges of Walsall, will take place to St. Matthew's Church, in aid of the Fund for re-building and enlarging the Blue Coat and National School, viz. The Odd Fellows from the BULLS HEAD; Odd Fellows from the ROYAL OAK; Loyal Britons from the TURKS HEAD; the Grand Lodges of Queerfellows from the WATERING TROUGH; Loyal and Benevolent Fellows from the WATERLOO TAVERN; and Loyal Union Friendly Fellows from the SPREAD EAGLE; when the company of any visiting Brother belonging to any of the above Lodges, with their Friends will be esteemed. The Sermon by the Rev. Luke Booker, LLD and FRSL, Vicar of Dudley. In the course of the service, several pieces of Select Music from the works of Handel and Kent, will be performed by the Walsall Choir, with Assistants from Lichfield Cathedral. The Organ by Mr. Eyland. Divine Service will commence at eleven o'clock.

By direction of the Delegates of the above Orders.

Addison Richards, Secretary. Walsall, Nov 22, 1826."

Joseph Middleton died on 19th March 1828.

He was buried on 22nd March 1828 at St. Matthew's, Walsall.

Birmingham Journal 15/8/1829 - Marriages

"On Thursday week (by the Rev. the vicar) Mr. James Bullock, of West Bromwich, to Mrs. Ann Middleton, widow of the late Mr. Joseph Middleton, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Walsall."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

"The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion....."

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.

Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.

Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.

Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.

Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.

Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.

Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.

Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.

True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/4/1833 - Advert

"Desirable Inn and Other Property in Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. Farrington, at the ROYAL OAK INN, on Tuesday the 19th day of March, 1833, at four o'clock in the afternoon, by the direction of the Trustees for sale, and subject to conditions.

Lot 1. The long established and well-accustomed Inn called the ROYAL OAK, in Ablewell Street, Walsall, with the Malthouse, wetting 50 bushels, spacious Club-rooms, and extensive Stables and Out buildings thereto adjoining; and also Pew No.47, in the north gallery of the Parish Church, now in the occupation of Mr. James Bullock.

This Inn is eligibly situate in the principal thoroughfare, and has for a series of years enjoyed a very advantageous business. The purchaser may have immediate possession, and the option of purchasing the Furniture and Fixtures in it at a fair valuation.....”

London Gazette 14/4/1835

“Whereas a Fiat in Bankruptcy is awarded and issued forth against James Sheldon, of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Publican and Maltster, Dealer and Chapman, and he being declared a Bankrupt is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said Fiat named, or the major part of them, on the 21st day of April instant, and on the 26th day of May next, at One o’Clock in the Afternoon on each day, at the LION INN, in Wolverhampton, in the said County of Stafford, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects, when and where the Creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the first sitting to choose Assignees, and at the last sitting the said Bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the Creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said Bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same, but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Mr. Hunt, 8, New Boswell-Court, Lincoln’s-Inn, London, or to Mr. Marklew, Solicitor, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/5/1835 - Advert

“Desirable Inn and Other Property in Walsall.

By Farrington and Son, To be Sold by Auction, at the DRAGON INN, in Walsall, on Tuesday the 19th day of May, 1835, at six o’clock in the evening, (by direction of the Assignees of Mr. James Sheldon, a bankrupt), and subject to such conditions as shall then be produced.

All that long established and well accustomed Inn, called the ROYAL OAK, situate in Ablewell Street, in Walsall, with an excellent Malt-House capable of wetting 60 bushels, spacious club room, extensive stabling, and other out buildings thereto adjoining, in the occupation of Mr. James Sheldon; also two Houses adjoining the said inn, and in the occupation of James and Haywood; and also the pew No.47 in the North Gallery of the Parish Church.

The Inn is eligibly situated in the principal thoroughfare, and has for a number of years enjoyed a very advantageous business. The whole of the Premises are Copyhold of inheritance.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. C. Marklew, Solicitor, Walsall; Mr. Adams, Solicitor, Darlaston; or to the Auctioneers, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/8/1835 - Died

“On Thursday last, in the prime of life, Mr. James Sheldon, of the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/7/1836

“John Lynch, a private in the 7th Dragoon Guards, was last week committed to the county gaol for trial at the assizes, charged with stealing a turkey, the property of Ann Sheldon, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street.”

[At the Staffordshire Midsummer Adjourned Sessions, in July 1836, Joseph Lynch was found guilty and imprisoned for one month.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1836 - Married

“On Thursday last at Walsall, by the Rev. J. Baton, M.A. vicar, Mr. Charles Holmes, maltster, to Ann, widow of the late Mr. James Sheldon, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/10/1836

“On Monday last the 26th anniversary of the Grand Loyal Lodge of Odd Fellows was held at the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street. The chair was taken a little after two o’clock. An excellent dinner was served by Mr. C. Holmes, who did himself great credit by the arrangements for the occasion. During the whole of the afternoon and evening, the utmost harmony and good feeling animated the company. The society in question possesses a fund of £675, with every prospect of further increase.”

Staffordshire Gazette 22/4/1841

“On Thursday last, upwards of 100 highly respectable inhabitants (chiefly electors) of Walsall, sat down to an excellent dinner at the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, which was provided to celebrate the late glorious Conservative triumph at Walsall, in returning J. H. Gladstone, Esq, as Member for the Borough.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/6/1851 - Advert

“A Highly Desirable Inn, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

H. Farrington will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, the 24th day of June, 1851, at five o’clock in the afternoon, at the ROYAL OAK INN, subject to conditions.

Lot 1. The long-established and well-accustomed Inn, called the ROYAL OAK, in Ablewell Street, Walsall, with the Malt-house, wetting 60 bushels; spacious Club Rooms, and extensive Stables and Outbuildings, in good repair, adjoining the inn; and also Pew No.47, in the north gallery of the parish church, now and for many years in the occupation of Mr. James Bullock. This eligible inn is in the principal thoroughfare, and has for a series of years enjoyed a very advantageous business, which it had become unnecessary for Mr. Bullock to continue.

The purchaser may have immediate possession, and the option of purchasing the furniture and fixtures at a fair valuation.

Lot 2. Two Houses occupied by Haywood and Hedgeton, in Pool Street, Walsall, near the ROYAL OAK.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/3/1852 - Deaths

“On Wednesday last, at the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall (the residence of his son), after a short illness, Mr. Joseph Mountford, aged 75, an old and respected inhabitant of that town.”

Walsall Free Press 18/7/1857

“Three respectably dressed young men named severally James Jones, who gave his address as residing in Dudley; James Wareing, who refused to give his address, and John Whitehouse, were charged by Inspector Price, of Rushall, with attempting to pick pockets in the crowd which attended the arrival of the American Circus on Wednesday last. Inspector Price said he observed the prisoners dipping into the pockets of persons in the crowd, and had taken them into custody. The officer’s evidence was corroborated by a mechanic named James Lissety, who had seen the prisoners in company, and making the same attempt at the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street. Of course they all denied the fact, but the matter was brought so closely home to them that there was no getting out of it, and the presiding magistrate sentenced them to one month’s imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 17/11/1860

“On Saturday evening last the inquest on the body of Mr. Shilton, of Ablewell Street, whose death by suicide was reported in our last impression, took place at the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, under the superintendence of A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner. From the depositions then made by various witnesses, it appeared deceased had been labouring under great depression of spirits, caused by the necessity he was under of disposing of his hearse, horses, carts &c, further augmented by the sufferings which he endured from a diseased and disabled hand. The conclusions drawn from the evidence resulted in a verdict that the deceased committed suicide when labouring under a fit of temporary insanity. A curious circumstance connected with this case was, that on the Wednesday previous to his death, deceased made a communication to the coroner, relative to his mental distress, upon which occasion Mr. Fletcher remarked that if he (Shilton) had not been in the hands of medical man, he would have ordered him to be placed under restraint.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/3/1861 - Advert

“To be let with immediate possession, the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell-street, Walsall. This house is one of the most bona fide character, and is to be disposed of solely on consequence of sickness in the family. A large yard, with malt house and stabling attached, which may be underlet if desired. An opportunity like the present seldom occurs. Inquiries may be made, and full particulars obtained, by applying Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 27/7/1861

“ROYAL OAK Benefit Society. The annual dinner of this society took place at the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street at two o’clock on Monday last. Most of the members were present, and ample justice was done to the excellent repast, provided by the praiseworthy exertions of Mr. and Mrs. Lynex. Mr. Mason (president) occupied the chair.....”

Walsall Free Press 3/1/1863 - Advert

“ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street.

To Be Let, on moderate terms, the Large Room, 60ft long adjoining the above Inn, with private entrance, and well lighted with gas.

Apply on the premises.”

Walsall Free Press 24/1/1863 - Notice

“In The County Court Of Staffordshire, Holden At Walsall.

In the matter of William Henry Banks, formerly of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Licensed Victualler and Solicitor’s Clerk, then of No.42, Bridgeman Street, in Walsall aforesaid, Law Writer, and then and now of Rushall, in the said county of Stafford, and having Offices at the said No.11 Victoria Buildings aforesaid, Law Writer, a Bankrupt.

Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the court granted an Order of Discharge to the said bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgement of the said Court.

Dated this 21st day of January, 1863.”

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1863 - Advert

“Is It Lawful To Do Good On The Sabbath Day?

For the purpose of affording those of the working Classes whose time and means do not admit of their attending week-day Schools for improvement, or who are not in the habit of attending any place of worship, a Sabbath School for instruction in Reading and Writing, will be opened in the ROYAL OAK Assembly Room, Ablewell Street, next Sunday.

To be supported by Voluntary Contributions.

Hours from Two till Four in the Afternoon, and Six till Eight in the Evening.

None But Adults Admitted.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1863, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o'clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Tonks, ROYAL OAK.”

Walsall Free Press 24/12/1864 - Advert

“ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

Mr. & Mrs. Tonks Beg respectfully to announce their Tea & Supper Party, will take place, On Wednesday Evening, December 28th, 1864.

Ladies Tickets, 1s 6d; Gentlemen 2s.

Tea and Supper will be on the table at Seven o'clock.

Dancing will commence at Nine o'clock.

Tickets may be had at the bar.”

Walsall Free Press 14/9/1867 - Advert

“Ancient Order Of Foresters, (Walsall District).

Court Philanthropist, No.2763. The Eleventh Anniversary Dinner, September 23rd, 1867.

Mr. G. Bayley, will preside; the High Chief Ranger and Officers of the 34th Executive Council, and Samuel Shawcross, Esq., P.S., will be present.

The company of any Brother or Friend will be esteemed.

Dinner on the table precisely at 5.30pm, at the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street.”

Walsall Free Press 9/11/1867 - Advert

“ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street.

Mr. S. Tonks, Begg respectfully to inform his friends that his Free And Easy, Is held Every Saturday Evening for which he has engaged the services of his former Accompanist.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/10/1868 - Advert

“Lost at Walsall, on the 29th, a Yellow and White Bull Terrier Dog, about 16lb.

Anyone returning the same to Joseph Eden, ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street will be Rewarded. Any person detaining him after this Notice will be prosecuted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/5/1869 - Advert

“.....The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, founded in 1867, and owing its origin to the irregular competition of the Grocers in the sale of Wine, is now supplying through the following appointed Agents in this county its unequalled Teas Agents – Staffordshire.....

T. Tonks, ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 14/1/1871

“Seasonal Aid. There have been two distributions of bread during the present week, and through the liberality of our worthy representative, Charles Forster, Esq, MP, 100 gallons of soup will be distributed this day (Saturday), in St. Peter's district. Mr. Forster has also caused large quantities of soup to be distributed in other parts of the town. Mr. Wilkinson, town clerk, has also distributed from a soup kitchen at the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street.”

1871 Census

28, Ablewell Street – ROYAL OAK

[1] Samuel Tonks (62), victualler and maltster, born Walsall;

[2] Rhoda Tonks (62), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Henry Tonks (40), son, brewer, born Walsall;

[4] William Tonks (20), son, saddler's ironmonger, born Walsall;

[5] Mary Tonks (15), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;

[6] Sarah Martin (24), general servant, born Darlaston;

[7] George W. G. Mandon (28), boarder, bookkeeper and accountant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Free Press 25/11/1871 - Advert

“Temporary Baptist Church, ROYAL OAK Assembly Room, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

The Burning Of Chicago!

A Series of Sermons under this title will be delivered as above, on Sunday Evenings during December, by the Rev. Alfred Gibbs, Minister in Charge.

Divine Service commences: 10-30; Evening 6-30.”

Walsall Free Press 27/9/1873 - Advert

“Wanted, a good General Servant, age not under 23 years, one used to a Public-house preferred.

Apply to Mrs. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

“Defensio, Non Provocatio. Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the Merchandize Marks Act, 1862, and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association. Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.

Walsall: S. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, 28, Ablewell Street; F. Weston, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street; G. Holden, ODD FELLOWS ARMS, 1, Stafford Street; G. Smith, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street; J. Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; J. H. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck.”

1881 Census

30, Ablewell Street – ROYAL OAK INN

- [1] Thomas H. Johnson (34), wine and spirit merchant, born Ulverstone, Lancashire;
- [2] Margaret Johnson (28), wife, born Liverpool;
- [3] Frederick Edwards (18), waiter, born Birmingham;
- [4] Sarah Poole (27), domestic servant, born Penkridge, Staffordshire;
- [5] Margaret S. Leary (3), visitor, scholar, born Walsall:

London Gazette 21/1/1885

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of a Special Resolution for Liquidation by Arrangement of the affairs of Thomas Hilton Johnson of Ablewell-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Brewer. The creditors of the above-named Thomas Hilton Johnson who have not already proved their debts, are required, on or before the 31st day of January, 1885, to send their names and addresses, and the particulars of their debts or claims, to me, the undersigned, Joseph Lowe, of 74, Stafford-street, Willenhall, in the county of Stafford, the Trustee under the liquidation, or in default thereof they will be excluded from the benefit of the Dividend proposed to be declared.

Dated this 21st day of January, 1885.

Joseph Lowe, Trustee.”

1891 Census

Ablewell Street – ROYAL OAK INN

- [1] Amos Price (40), licensed victualler, born Hampton in Arden, Warwickshire;
- [2] Susy Ann Price (40), wife, born Solihull;
- [3] Mary Ellen Price (13), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [4] Elizabeth Price (12), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [5] Francis J. Price (10), son, born Birmingham;
- [6] Catherine Price (8), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [7] Joseph Price (7), son, born Birmingham;
- [8] Clement Price (3), son, born Walsall;
- [9] George Price (2), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Thomas W. Davidson (40), barman, born Walsall;
- [11] Sarah Ann Williams (29), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 31/12/1898

“Lords Limited has just been registered with a capital of £4,000, in £1 shares, to acquire, take over as a going concern, and carry on the business of an aerated water manufacturer and wholesale and retail bottler of ales, stout, cider, drinks, and other liquids, carried on by John Lord, at 96, Birmingham Road, Walsall, and at the rear of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 15/2/1902

“Mary Ann Bull, Packing Box Row, Pool Street, was summoned for sending her child Lizzie to a place where intoxicating liquors were sold to obtain some, the child not being fourteen years of age.

Police-constable Willetts stated that he saw defendant's little daughter go into the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, at about 6.45 on Tuesday morning. He went in as she came out, and asked the publican if he had served her. The man said she had asked for three halfpence worth of rum, but he had not supplied her, as he did not think she was old enough. Witness said the girl was not 14 until next Sunday.

The defence was that Mrs. Bull sent an older sister, who gave the younger one a halfpenny to fetch the rum instead. A fine of 15s which included costs, was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 29/3/1902

"Mr. Jackson made application for the transfer of the license of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, from Robert James to Herbert Tuckley, but the matter was adjourned to the day following, Acting Chief Constable Ballance intimating to the Bench that Tuckley had been keeping a club house about which there had been complaints, and he had not been able to complete his enquiries."

AND

"A temporary authority in respect of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, was granted to Mr. S. R. Fairfoul, of Wolverhampton, on the application of Mr. H. H. Jackson.

Mr. R. Cooper (Town Clerk), had appeared to oppose the granting of authority to Mr. Herbert Tuckley, for whom the application was originally made, but Mr. Fairfoul being substituted, he withdrew his opposition."

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

"Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople's Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street. 2s 10d."

Walsall Advertiser 16/6/1906

"A young man named George Plested, of 7, Priory Yard, appears to have been in anything but a lamb-like mood on Thursday last week, for at about a quarter to seven he entered the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, kept by Albert Thomas Tipler, and after asking a customer named John Parkes to stand him a drink, who demurred a little, Plested struck him on the nose knocking him down. The landlord refused to allow this to go on, and had no little difficulty in ejecting Plested, who struck him several times in the face before he could get him out. After about a ten minute interval, defendant came in again and gave Parkes another thrashing, and had to be put out again when he began to use bad language, and then struck a wagoner who had just pulled up at the house. He was then reported to the police.

The landlord and John Parkes gave evidence to this effect.

The charge against the defendant was for being disorderly on licensed premises and refusing to quit, and defendant who did not put in an appearance, and who had been convicted for a previous similar offence, was ordered to pay 20s and costs or go to gaol for 14 days."

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

"Billiard Licenses were approved of in the cases of.....

Herbert Salt, ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street."

Walsall Advertiser 31/7/1909

"The following licenses were transferred.....

In the case of the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, Sir E. T. Holden asked for an explanation why there had been five transfers of license since 1900. Mr. F. Cooper, solicitor, replied that the house had recently changed hands. It was the property of the Manchester Brewery Co, and now it was he believed, the property of Allsopp's

Sir E. T. Holden: We often find it is because the man in possession is not well paid you know. That is my opinion.

Mr. Cooper replied that Mr. Salt the incoming tenant was perfectly satisfied and that he was also a tenant, and not a manager.

Sir E. T. Holden: You know in the case of the VAULTS there was some straight evidence given, and now the man is leaving.

The Chief Constable: Mr. Cooper is not engaged in the case of the VAULTS.

The subject was then dropped."

Midland Evening News 6/10/1909

"....a woman named Faith Broadhurst, 2 Back 57, Pool Street, was summoned at Walsall Guildhall, today, for being found unlawfully drunk on the licensed premises of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, and Herbert Salt, landlord of the ROYAL OAK, was also summoned for permitting drunkenness on the licensed premises The house had been well conducted, both Mr. and Mrs. Salt were very respectable people, the former having been in the employ of Mr. Frank James for 40 years. Mr. Salt, landlord of the house, stated that on the morning in question he was out on business from about ten o'clock until one. He had, on several occasions, refused this woman. He did a very large trade there and it was of a rough character On returning, the magistrates bound the woman over to be of good behaviour and the landlord was fined 40s and costs....."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

Herbert Salt, ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street....."

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the owners Messrs. Allsops, and Mr. Frank Cooper for the tenant Herbert Salt.

Evidence was given by Inspector Ballance as to the nature of the surroundings and the condition of the house, and said that the licensee was convicted of having permitted drunkenness in September last.

Thomas [sic] Salt said that he put his life savings in the business – £175 3s 9d, and he paid £40 per year rent together with the license and rates. He was quite satisfied with the house, which was doing about £20 per week, and the class of trade had considerably improved.

Answering another question Salt said that he was of opinion it would be for the convenience of the public to have the license renewed.

Mr. Leslie Buxton, Messrs. Allsops, Birmingham District manager, said the house was thoroughly well conducted especially since the conviction.

The license was renewed.”

1911 Census

Ablewell Street

- [1] W. Mallinson (41), publican, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [2] C. M. Mallinson (38), wife, married 9 years, publican, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [3] E. Mallinson (14), stepdaughter, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [4] M. E. Mallinson (13), stepdaughter, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [5] R. Mallinson (7), son, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [6] L. Mallinson (5), daughter, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;
- [7] G. Mallinson (1), son, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The sanction of the Justices to plans for making a bowling green at the rear of the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, partly on unlicensed area, was applied for by Mr. H. H. Jackson, who stated that there would be no alteration to the licensed premises, and no increase in the drinking area. It was proposed to take down a garage, and make a bowling green for the convenience of customers. The Clerk: It always seems a very glib term to say that there will be no increase in the drinking area, but you propose to take in a garage which is not licensed. – Mr. Jackson: I am quite willing to give an undertaking that no drink shall be taken on the bowling green.

The Clerk: What is the use of that? How can you prevent it? It looks to me that a bowling pavilion will become a place where people will drink a good deal. – Mr. Jackson: Probably you have not had the experience of bowling greens that I have had.

The Clerk: No; not the drinking part.

The application was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/2/1914

“At the adjourned Licensing Sessions at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The justices decided to renew the license of the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, against which notice of objection had been served under the compensation clause.

Mr. A. Ward (barrister) appeared for Mr. Frank Myatt, brewer, of Wolverhampton, owner of the house, and Mr. David Fisher, the landlord.

Mr. Ward cited High Court judgements in support of his contention that in this case there was absolutely no differentiation, in spite of the fact that comparison between this house and others in the district was highly important. ‘There are 287 licensed premises in Walsall,’ he said; ‘in fact, there are some spots in the town where there is a public house on each corner. Only this morning I noticed that at the corner of Rushall Street there are public houses round about, and two opposite a chapel.’ He could call evidence to prove that the ROYAL OAK was doing a steady trade of £20 a week, and that instead of decreasing, its trade was improving. Although the local licensing Bench, in their 1903 report, commenting on licenses in Ablewell Street and the proximity of the WALSALL HOUSE to the ROYAL OAK, had stated, ‘We are of opinion that the decisions of these four houses should be considered together,’ yet in opposition to the ROYAL OAK they had no evidence as to other licenses in that locality. ‘I don’t hesitate to declare,’ counsel added, ‘that the ROYAL OAK has been selected, not because of its structure or takings, but because of some under current. Neither do I hesitate to say a rumour has come to my ears that the ROYAL OAK has been objected to because the Corporation desire it to be cleared away in order to get a better frontage for the road which they propose to cut from Ablewell Street to Birmingham Road.’ The house had been selected because the takings were thought to be small and it would go cheaply. Had it been known that the takings were £20 a week, then he believed the house would never have been scheduled. It would have been considered too much of an expensive draw on the Corporation fund. When the new road was made, the ROYAL OAK would become one of the most valuable in the district. With all respect to the Bench, he contended the matter had been rushed through without adequate and deliberate consideration. The owner of this house – Mr. Myatt – was a small brewer on his own account, fighting the combine, and therefore was a man to be encouraged. ‘What I would suggest,’ added counsel, ‘is that the Bench should renew this license for twelve months, and see how matters go in the meantime. Then, if you think there is redundancy, serve notices on all the houses in the locality, and let us fight the whole thing out on a fair basis. Compared with other houses as regard structure, takings, position, and other circumstances, he had no hesitation in saying the ROYAL OAK would come out on top. He asked the Bench to give lie to the rumour he had mentioned, and show they were above such suggestion.

Mr. Loxton asked whether Mr. Ward wished to decide whether the rumour was correct or incorrect. Did he assert that such a rumour was the cause of the objection?

Mr. Ward: I have not asserted anything. I have merely told the Bench what the rumour is, and I have asked them to act with due consideration.

The magistrates consulted in private, and on returning Mr. Blyth said the Bench did not require to hear any evidence. They had decided to renew the license.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

“Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd.”

Walsall Observer 10/5/1924

“Calling at the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, on the morning of Saturday 19th, Charles Edward Beach (48), insurance agent, of 22, Freer Street, ordered a glass of ale, but had only just sipped at it when he collapsed and became unconscious. He was removed on the police ambulance to the Hospital, and on April 24th was transferred to the Workhouse Infirmary, where he died on Friday night without having fully regained consciousness.

At the inquest, held by the Borough Coroner (Mr. J. J. Addison) at the Guildhall on Tuesday afternoon, the widow, Edith Beach, said her husband had the influenza last March, and Dr. G. M. Fox stated that on making a post-mortem examination he found that several clots of blood had formed, no doubt as a result of the influenza, and one of them had become dislodged and shot up into the brain, causing cerebral embolism. He attributed death to that.

The Coroner returned a verdict accordingly.”

Walsall Observer 19/8/1939

“Transfers of the following licenses were granted.....

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, from Alice Dunham Day (widow of the late licensee) to George Armishaw Thornton.”

1939 Register

Ablewell Street – ROYAL OAK

[1] George A. Thornton, date of birth 26/9/1881, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Elsie M. Thornton, dob 16/4/1882, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Olga M. (Thornton) Martin, dob 2/3/1921, shorthand typist and book keeper, single:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street. £1 17s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 20/10/1943

“The sequel to an incident in the ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street, on the afternoon of Saturday, October 9, was a summons against Edward James Hopkins (36), bricklayer, 8, Grove Terrace, for wilfully damaging a drinking glass valued at 1s 3d.

Martha Baker, barmaid, stated that defendant entered the house about 1.30pm, and asked for two pints, but she did not serve him. She walked away and informed the licensee, who returned with her and asked defendant to leave. An argument followed, and defendant picked up a glass and threw it across the counter.

Police-constable Dawes stated the defendant told him that it was an accident, as he was pushed from behind and the glass was knocked out of his hand.

Defendant, who repeated this statement to the magistrates (Mrs. Dewsbury and Messrs. A. E. Hurst, J. J. McShane and G. R. Hanson) was fined 10s, plus 6s special costs, and 1s 3d for the glass.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street (Proceeds of Supper). £50 0s 0d

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street (Sale of Sandwiches). £2 16s 0d

ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street (Proceeds of Bottle of Gin). £17 4s 0d.”

[1990s]

Closed [2007]

It was incorporated into the Royal Hotel next door. [2008]

ROYAL OAK

Bosty Lane / Winterley Lane, Daw End, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Bass, Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Harrison [1835] – [1850]
S Partridge [1853]
Sampson Smith [1857] – 1862);
William Lees 1862 – []
William Parkes [1864]
James Parkes [1868] – 1869);
Thomas Thompson (1869);
Samuel Wilson Dibble (1869 – [1871]
Philip Eagles* [1872]
Philip Eades* [1875] – [1882]
B Clare [1885]
Samuel Clare [1890] – [1904]
William Evans (1906 – 1911);
William Round Jackson (1911 – [1912]
Charlie Knowles [1932] – [1934]
Percy Edward Meeke [1939] – [1943]
Paul Rymer [2010]
Samantha Angela Jones []

NOTES

It was built in the 17th century.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/3/1838 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property, at Daw End, near Rushall, in the County of Stafford.

By Farrington and Son. To be Sold by Auction, at the house of Mr. Harrison, the ROYAL OAK, at Daw End, on Monday the 26th day of March inst. at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced – all the Freehold Tenement or Dwelling House, situated at Daw End, in the parish of Rushall, with a capital Stable and Garden adjoining, and now in the occupation of Mr. Evans.

The Stable may at a small expense be converted into a Dwelling House.

For further particulars apply to Mr. J. Firster, Solicitor, or to the Auctioneers, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/4/1853 - Advert

“To Be Shot For, on Monday, April 25th, 1853, at the house of Mr. S. Partridge, the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, near Walsall, a large Fat Pig, upwards of 30 score, by 30 subscribers, at 10s each. Shooting to commence at eleven o'clock am. Guns not to exceed ¾ bore, charge 1½ of shot; rise 21 yards.”

Sampson Smith = Samson Smith

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1857

“Sampson Smith, of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, was fined 10s and costs, for keeping his house open for the sale of beer on Sunday morning last.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Samson Smith, licensed victualler, the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, was fined 5s and costs, for having two unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

1861 Census

Daw End Lane – ROYAL OAK

[1] Sampson Smith (47), victualler, born Rushall;

[2] Ann Smith (51), wife, born Daw End;

[3] Ann Mansell (19), servant, born Measbury, Shropshire:

Walsall Free Press 8/2/1862

“At the petty sessions at Rushall, on Tuesday, before J. E. Bailey Esq, and Captain Harrison, the license of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, was transferred from Sampson Smith to William Lees, late proprietor of the STATION INN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Free Press 5/3/1864 - Advert

“To Be Let and entered upon immediately, the Old Licensed Public House, known as the ROYAL OAK, situated at Daw End, in the parish of Rushall, near Walsall. The Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation. Coming in low.

N.B. The present landlady leaving solely on account of ill health.

Apply on the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1864

“At the annual special Sessions for licensing purposes yesterday.....

The following victuallers were cautioned..... William Parkes, of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End.”

Walsall Free Press 11/4/1868

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Wednesday last Thomas Darby was charged with having assaulted Eliza Forster. From the complainant’s evidence, it appeared that on Monday, the 23rd ultimo, as she was going along the lane at Daw End, the defendant caught hold of her and tried to throw her down. This, however, the defendant denied, and stated that he only placed his hand upon the complainant’s shoulder, and asked her to come back to the ROYAL OAK INN – where she had previously been offering her illegitimate child for sale – and have something to drink – a request with which she ultimately complied. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“Rushall, Tuesday. Adjourned Licensing Meeting.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. S. Harrison, the HAWTHORNE TREE free beerhouse, Walsall Wood, for a spirit license. Mr. Dale (from the office of Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) opposed the application, on behalf of Mr. T. Jackson, the RED LION INN, and it was refused.

Of the holders of existing licenses, Alfred Stokes, RAILWAY INN, Pelsall; Thomas Jackson, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood; and James Parkes, Daw End, were cautioned.”

Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1871

“Samuel Wilson Dibble, landlord of the ROYAL OAK public-house, Daw End, pleaded guilty to having had his house open at nine o’clock on the morning of Sunday, the 23rd ult, and was ordered to pay a fine of 10s and costs, 10s 6d.”

Birmingham Gazette 23/8/1871

“Samuel Richardson, George Garnett, and William Harris, for drinking during prohibited hours on Sunday the 23rd ult, in the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, were each fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Birmingham Gazette 20/9/1871

“Adjourned Licensing day. The following parties, who had their licenses suspended, were cautioned, and had their applications for renewal granted.....

Samuel Wilson Dibble, landlord of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End.”

* possibly the same person

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/7/1875

“Philip Eades, the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, was charged with having permitted drunkenness in his house. Mr. G.

Strongitharm deposed that on the 22nd inst, hearing a noise in defendant’s house, and seeing eight or ten men (one of whom was drunk) rush out, he went back and found several drunken men there. The defendant was fined 40s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/4/1878

“Jonah Furguson, was fined 10s and costs or fourteen days’ imprisonment for creating a disturbance at the ROYAL OAK at Daw End, and assaulting Mary Eades, and for appearing drunk in court he was fined a further sum of 10s and costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/6/1878

“Philip Eades, the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, was summoned for keeping his house open on Sunday, the 12th ult, during prohibited hours. The case on behalf of the police was that at half-past 8 o’clock in the morning a Mrs. Baxter was seen to go into defendant's house with a basket, which when she came into the street was found to contain a bottle of ale. The defence was that the woman went for eggs and potatoes and that no alcoholic beverage was supplied to her. The case was adjourned for a fortnight for the attendance of Mrs. Baxter."

1881 Census

Daw End

- [1] Philip Eades (54), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Maria Eades (50), wife, born Rushall;
- [3] Henry Eades (17), son, painter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Smith (21), stepson, brick maker, born Rushall;
- [5] Emily Smith (11), stepdaughter, scholar, born Rushall:

Lichfield Mercury 19/8/1881- Advert

"Old-Licensed Inn (the ROYAL OAK) and House, at Daw End, Rushall; and Other Properties at Muckley Corner. To be Sold by Auction (by order of the Mortgagee), by Messrs. Farrington and Son, at the GEORGE HOTEL, in Walsall, on Tuesday, the 23rd day of August, 1881, at Six for Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions which will incorporate the Common Form Conditions of the Wolverhampton Law Society.

At Daw End.

Lot 1. The Old-Licensed Public House, known as the ROYAL OAK, in the occupation of P. Eades, with the Bakery, Stabling, and capital garden Ground at the back, also the Cottage and Shed adjoining occupied by Overton; Other Cottage occupied by Evans, with enclosed Garden; also capital Stabling for six horses, loft over, and Storeroom lately occupied by Messrs. Strongitharm, the whole containing 3,474, square yards....."

Lichfield Mercury 21/4/1882

"On Tuesday at the Police Court, Philip Eades, of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, pleaded guilty to having had his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday, the 2nd inst, adding, although reluctant to do it, he was obliged to sell when he had a chance to get a living for himself and his wife. He was fined 40s and 10s 6d costs, and this being his third offence the license was endorsed."

Birmingham Daily Post 4/9/1884

"An inquest was held yesterday at the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, Rushall, on the body of James Corkran (64), of Bloxwich. The deceased left home on Sunday afternoon to walk to Berry Farm, where he at one time worked, and nothing more was heard of him until Monday afternoon, when his body was found in the canal at Daw End. He had been in a bad state of health for some time, and occasionally strange in his manner. It was supposed he had slipped into the canal. A verdict of Found Drowned was returned."

Walsall Observer 7/2/1885

"The annual meeting of No.1 Money Club was held at the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, on Saturday evening last, when upwards of thirty members sat down to an excellent repast provided by the Host Mr. B. Clare....."

Lichfield Mercury 13/8/1886

"On Friday evening Mr. Hooper (Coroner) held an inquest at the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, on the body of Frank White (60), of Daw End, one of the two men who were killed by a fall of rock in Mr. Strongitharm's limestone pit at the place. Mr. Pickering, Assistant-Government Inspector and Mr. Strongitharm were present.

The evidence showed that about fifteen tons fell, completely crushing the deceased, and so injuring the other man, Smith, that he died a few hours later in Walsall Cottage Hospital. The fall was said to have been caused by a stone known as 'chipper flag,' which had never before been found in so large a heading.

On the suggestion of the jury Mr. Strongitharm undertook to have the roof examined daily in future, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

"The following publicans from Rushall were granted one hour's extension on Monday, October 13th, the occasion being the wakes Samuel Clare."

1891 Census

Rushall, Daw End – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Samuel Clare (40), licensed victualler and currier, born Dudley Port;
- [2] Mary A. Clare (39), wife, born Wood Green [Wednesbury];
- [3] Charles Clare (10), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [4] Philip Eades (62), widower, father in law, living on his own means, born Wood Green;
- [5] Harry Eades (28), brother in law, plumber and painter, born New Town, Staffordshire;
- [6] Charlotte Eades (26), sister in law, general servant, born New Town, Staffordshire;
- [7] Mary A. Clare (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 15/5/1891

“John Ethlestone, Daw End, Pelsall, was charged with assaulting Thomas Hill, on the 25th April.

Complainant said he was in the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, and a dispute arose with respect to a debt between him and another man named Newell, and on going outside the defendant Ethlestone came up and struck him, at the same time threatening him.

Mary Jane Hathaway corroborated.

For the defence Charles Newell, collier was called, and said complainant challenged him or anyone else to fight. On going outside the defendant and complainant fought. Witness denied that he asked defendant to strike the complainant. Both men stuck each other.

Sergeant Riley said the men were as bad as each other.

Elizabeth Turner, a married woman, said complainant struck defendant first. Both men had their jackets off.

The case was dismissed, each side to pay their own costs, 5s each.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1893

“Quite a gloom was cast over the town during Saturday evening and Sunday by the news of a shocking drowning at the Park Lime Pits. It appears that on Saturday morning a young man named Ernest Jackson (23), a member of the Walsall Swimming Club and a capital swimmer, in the employ of Messrs W. Bayliss and Co, saddlers’ ironmongers, of this town, went to bathe in the pool at Park Lime Pits, and got entangled in the long cord-like weeds which abound in certain parts of the pool, and was drowned. Mr. J. E. Bayliss, Mount Street, who was with him, tried hard to save him, until compelled by sheer exhaustion to desist. From what could be gleaned it seemed that at the time the sad accident occurred he was swimming on his back, and getting out of the usual track found himself among a thick bed of weeds. He immediately turned round, but this only tended to get him more entangled and more helpless to extricate himself. He cried ‘Help! Help!’ and Mr. Bayliss, who was with him, swam to his assistance, and made a gallant attempt to rescue his friend. Unfortunately, however, he was unable to release him, and ultimately had to return to the bank, he having become quite exhausted. The body was recovered some 20 minutes afterwards by a man named T. Riley, of Daw End.

The inquest was held on Monday at the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, Walsall, before Mr. E. Hooper.

John Ernest Bayliss said he knew deceased, Ernest Jackson. They worked together. He met him at the top of Lichfield Street by arrangement, and they went to the Park Lime Pits to bathe. They paid twopence each. They entered the water, the deceased going there first as he was familiar with the place. They had been in the water for some time, and had made up their minds to re-cross and dress, and deceased started to do so, when he swam into some weeds among which he got entangled. He shouted ‘help,’ and then he (witness) swam to him and took hold his arm, but he could not release him for the weeds. He with great difficulty reached the bank himself.

Thomas Riley said he was on his way to have a bathe, when he was told of the accident. There were no appliances kept there for the saving of life – no provision made whatever. He sent for a drag and drew out the body in his first attempt. The water was very deep, perhaps 20 feet. His body was covered with weeds, chiefly about his neck.

Police-constable Yates tried to restore animation, but unsuccessfully.

The Coroner spoke most strongly about the fact that although fees were charged for bathing, no precautions were taken to ensure the safety of the bathers. He would undertake to write to the proprietors about it, and if another death occurred at the place he should hold them responsible for manslaughter, and should commit them accordingly.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, before Messrs. J. Nayler, W. H. Cooke, M.D., W. H. Brookes, and J. Clare, Samuel Clare, licensed victualler, applied for an hour’s extension at Rushall wakes, on Monday the 14th inst. P.S. Riley informed the magistrates that there was no objection on the part of the police, and Mr. Nayler stated that the magistrates would follow their usual custom and grant the application.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/3/1898

“Harry Murphy, boatman, Adams Street, Birmingham, was summoned for refusing to quit the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, on the 14th ult, when requested to do so by Mary Ann Clare, the landlady. Defendant used bad language and had to be ejected twice. He did not appear and was fined 10s and 11s 9d costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1899

“On Monday, at the Rushall Police Court, Edward Shilton, miner, of Daw End, was summoned for refusing to quit the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End. Samuel Clare, landlord of the ROYAL OAK, said that on Dec. 26th defendant came into his house drunk and created a disturbance. He was ordered to leave, but refused to do so. A police officer was sent for, and on his appearance the defendant went away. Fined 5s and 10s costs.”

Walsall Observer 8/9/1900

“The annual dinner in connection with the Loyal Oaken Lodge, No.6626 of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows was held at the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, on Saturday last. A large number of members and visitors were present.....”

1901 Census

Daw End

[1] Samuel Clare (50), licensed victualler, born Dudley Port;

[2] Mary Ann Clare (49), wife, born New Town, Wednesbury;

[3] Charles Clare (21), son, carpenter, born Rushall:

Lichfield Mercury 4/10/1901

“Charles Yates, miner, of Rushall, was charged with refusing to quit the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared to prosecute. Samuel Clare, landlord, said that about 8.30pm on the 16th September, the defendant came into his house. Knowing him as a disorderly character, he ordered him to leave. He refused to do so, and was ejected. The defendant created a disturbance in the house time previously, but on this occasion he was not disorderly.

Mr. Jackson said the case was brought more as a warning and he would be satisfied if the defendant would not come to the ROYAL OAK.

The Bench questioned the right of the landlord to order the defendant to leave when he was behaving himself, and they dismissed the charge.”

Lichfield Mercury 9/1/1903

“Chas. Newel (61), miner, Daw End, was charged with unlawfully wounding Wm. Newman, a young man, of the same address. Prosecutor gave evidence that at 8-45pm on Dec. 29, he was in the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, when he heard shouts of murder. On going outside, he saw prisoner’s wife lying on the ground, and the prisoner standing over her as if about to strike her. Witness asked him not to hit the woman, and having assisted her to rise, started to take her home, as she appeared to be frightened. Prisoner came up behind with something resembling a knife in his hand. Witness warned prisoner not to use it on him, but he continued to advance. Witness raised his arm to protect himself, and felt something sharp cut his hand. He struggled with the prisoner and took the razor from him. Subsequently, he went to Dr. Hawley, at Walsall, when five stitches were put into the wound.

Sergt. Heath deposed to arresting the prisoner on Dec. 30. In reply to the charge the prisoner said ‘He hit me first and knocked me down. I told him if he came again I should give him this (meaning the razor), and that he should not interfere between a man and his wife.’ Prisoner added that it was the beer that had been the cause of it.

Maria Newell, prisoner’s wife, denied that her husband assaulted her, and said prosecutor kicked her husband.

Prisoner now pleaded that the occurrence was accidental, and happened whilst prosecutor was trying to take the razor from him. The charge was reduced to one of common assault, and the magistrates sent the prisoner to gaol for 21 days’ hard labour without the option of a fine.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/11/1904

“A boatman named James Dolley (35), of Daw End, was charged before the Rushall magistrates (Messrs. J. F. W. Binns and J. F. Crump) with being drunk upon and refusing to quit the licensed premises of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, on November 4th, and also with assaulting Frederick Woodward.

Samuel Clare (landlord) gave evidence to the effect that defendant went into his house and was turned out. He afterwards returned, however, and it was some time before he could be persuaded to leave. He was about to send for the police when the man left.

Frederick Woodward said that he was in the house at the time, and Dolley, without any provocation, struck him in the face twice. Defendant, who made no appearance, was fined 5s and 9s 6d costs for refusing to quit, and 10s and 9s 6d costs for the assault.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1911

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. William Round Jackson, ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

1911 Census

Daw End – ROYAL OAK INN

[1] William R. Jackson (27), publican, tenant, born Walsall Wood;

[2] Alma Ann Jackson (27), wife, married 4 years, born Short Heath;

[3] Doris May Jackson (3), daughter, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Annie Llewelyn (16), cousin, domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 31/7/1915

“As a sequel to a meeting with a friend who had been married that particular day, Catherine Mace, of The Radleys, Rushall, found herself at the Rushall Police Court on Monday, summoned for being drunk and disorderly.

Police-constable Reynolds stated that at 4-30pm on the 19th, he was called to the ROYAL OAK, at Daw End, where he saw the defendant in the bar. She was drunk and the landlord was endeavouring to get her to leave. She refused and witness had to assist to get her out. She then refused to go home and used filthy language, and he then had to lock her up.

Defendant expressed her regret, adding that she met a friend who had been married that morning and who paid for a drop of whisky.

A fine of 10s was imposed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/3/1922

“On Saturday morning the District Coroner (Mr. G. C. Lewis) held an inquest at the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, respecting the death of Harry Smith (35), single man, of Daw End, who was killed by a fall of roof while working as a Stallman at the No.1

pit of the Aldridge Colliery Co, on February 20th. Mr. E. Rowley (H.M. Inspector of Mines) was present, and the company were represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson.

Harry Heath, a loader, of Commonsides, Brownhill, stated that he and Smith were setting a road bar, and he went up the road to collect tools. When he was about 15 yards away Smith called out, and on returning he found the deceased had been completely buried by a fall of roof. He was extricated in about ten minutes, but he was dead. The roof had been inspected a short time previously and there was then no sign of danger. In reply to Mr. Rowley, witness admitted that there was a fault some five or six yards from the place.

A fireman who tested the roof also stated that it had appeared to be quite safe.

Dr. E. R. Webb stated that Smith's ribs and collar bone were crushed on the right side, and these injuries were the cause of death. The Coroner recorded a verdict of Accidental Death, and said he was satisfied that no blame was attached to anyone for the accident."

1939 Register

43, Daw End – ROYAL OAK Licensed Premises

[1] Percy E. Meeke, date of birth 26/5/1902, chief officer fire auxiliary brigades, LAGC gas instructor, married;

[2] Amy E. Meeke, dob 28/2/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] William Edwards, dob 19/7/1871, cellarman, married:

Walsall Observer 23/1/1943

"How an elderly man died while sitting in the ROYAL OAK INN, Daw End, after ordering a pint of ale, was told to the Deputy Borough Coroner at an inquest at the Rushall Police Station on Wednesday.

The deceased, Robert Wilson-Browne (88), of 233, Bosty Lane, Aldridge, left home at 11am last Monday with the intention of taking a walk. On the way he stopped at the ROYAL OAK and ordered a pint of bitter.

Mr. Percy Edward Meeke, the licensee of the inn, told the Coroner that deceased, although not exactly a regular customer, was nevertheless known to him. He appeared to be in a very cheery mood when he entered and ordered his beer. When he had consumed it he ordered another half-pint and sat in the passage to drink it. Mr. Meeke later went into the passage and saw deceased apparently asleep, the half-pint of ale not touched. On speaking to him he received no reply and found that he was dead. Other evidence explained the deceased had been attended by Dr. Stirling, of Aldridge, for heart trouble, and on the evidence supplied by Dr. Stirling it was proved that deceased was liable to die at any time. Death was due to degeneration of the heart muscles. Verdict accordingly."

Demolished in 1956.

Birmingham Daily Post 9/12/1957

"The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is an extract from the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....

Complete rebuildings are in hand of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, Walsall....."

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1958

"The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley.....

Rebuildings have been completed at.....

ROYAL OAK, Daw End, near Walsall.....

In the majority of cases of rebuilding the trade of the house has to be carried on in makeshift accommodation, and it is always a source of wonder how faithful the regular customers are in continuing to support their local in spite of cramped conditions. The licensees, too, often living temporarily in caravans, have much to contend with and their patience and tact in trying conditions deserves praise."

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

"Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We've a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

ROYAL OAK, Daw End, Rushall, Walsall."

Samantha Angela Jones, 10 Grace Road, Tividale, unemployed, lately residing at 16 Greenhill Road, Dudley, and lately carrying on business as the GEORGE, Birmingham Road, Oldbury, the BULLS HEAD, Birmingham Street, Oldbury, the OAK AND IVY, Oxford Street, Bilston, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Sandwell Street, Walsall, the PRINCE BLUTCHER, Stafford Street, Walsall, the ROYAL OAK, Daw End Lane, Rushall, and the SPRING MEADOW, Halesowen Road, Old Hill, filed for bankruptcy in the County Court at Dudley on 1 March 2016.

An Indian restaurant was made part of the pub. [2016]

[2017]

ROYAL OAK

44, (20a), (21), Caldmore Road, (44, (21), Caldmore), (Spout Lane / Whitehall Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Calve, miller, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall
J. Gould
John Broughton, harness maker, Spout Lane, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

David Wood [1861] – [1868]
William Harper [1870] – [1872]
John Wood [1872];
Robert James Adams [];
Noah Stanley [1881];
Mrs. Hannah Stanley [1891];
George Hill [1893] – 1904;
George Thomas (1904 – 1908);
Mary Elizabeth Thomas (1908 – 1919);
Arthur Edward Blackwell (1919 – 1923);
Mrs. Alice Blackwell (1923 – 1924);
Ernest Hawkswood (1924 – 1953);
Walter Cooper (1953 – 1964);
Louie Cooper (1964 – 1966)

NOTES

Calmer [1861]
44, Caldmore [1862], [1870], [1881]
21, Caldmore Road [1891]
21, Caldmore [1892], [1901]
Spout Lane [1900]
20a, Caldmore [1911]
21, Caldmore Green [1939]

It was an ante 1869, beerhouse.

It was formerly the GOOD CHEER INN. [1872]

1861 Census

Calmer

- [1] David Wood (40), retail brewer and provision dealer, born Walsall;
- [2] Caroline Wood (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Wood (16), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] David Wood (15), son, baker, born Walsall;
- [5] Arthur Wood (14), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Wood (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Clarisa Wood (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Eliza Alice Wood (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Caroline Wood (2), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Ellen Elizabeth Wood (1), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] Jane S. Brown (15), house servant, born Walsall;

David Wood, retailer of beer, 44, Caldmore. [1862]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/5/1862

“A match has been made between S. Toly and C. Fowler (both of Walsall) to run 120 yards at Aston Cross Grounds, Birmingham, June 9, for £10 a side. £5 a side is in the hands of Mr. Thos. Hawkes, of the THREE CUPS INN, Walsall, who is to be the final stakeholder, and a further deposit of £1 a side is to be made May 19, at Mr. David Wood's, Caldmore, Walsall. Mr. J. Coates of Birmingham is to be referee, and the men are to go by mutual consent in 15 minutes, or by report of pistol. To be at the scratch at three o'clock.”

David Wood, beer retailer and provision dealer, 44, Caldmore. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

David Wood, Caldmore applied personally for licenses, but their applications were refused.”

David Wood, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 44, Caldmore. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/1/1870 - Advert

“A Bargain. To be Sold, a First-class Bagatelle Board, complete. In good condition. At William Harper's, No.44 Caldmore.”

1871 Census

Caldmore

[1] William Harper (30), beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;

[2] Sarah A. Harper (22), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Eliza Hatton (26), servant, born Wednesbury:

William Harper, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 44, Caldmore. [1872]

1881 Census

44, Caldmore

[1] Noah Stanley (62), beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;

[2] Hannah Stanley (58), wife, born Bilston;

[3] John Stanley (22), son, iron worker, born Sedgley;

[4] Eliza Stanley (16), daughter, born Sedgley;

[5] Fred Richards (14), nephew, scholar, born Bilston;

[6] Ann Fullard (17), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

1891 Census

21, Caldmore Road – ROYAL OAK

[1] Hannah Stanley (68), widow, publican, born Bilston;

[2] Enos Stanley (34), son, bricklayer, born Bilston;

[3] Emma Rowley (24), housemaid, born Bloxwich;

[4] Lottie Malpass (16), servant, born Walsall;

[5] Rachael Dudley (58), visitor, widow, living on her own means, born Bradley, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1892 - Register of Sales

“Wednesday, October 5th. By Messrs. Fox and Harrison. Brewing Plant and Utensils, Shop Furniture, &c. at the ROYAL OAK INN, 21, Caldmore, at 11.15.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown's, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....

New members..... Mr. George Hill, ROYAL OAK INN, Caldmore.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday.....

Plans for alterations at the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, were submitted. They were designed to meet an objection by the Chief Constable against the renewal of the license on the grounds that the premises had been structurally altered, and that there were new premises for the purposes of the Licensing Acts. Mr. A. Young (instructed by Messrs. Willcock and Taylor, Wolverhampton) put them before the Bench on behalf of the licensee, George Hill, and called a witness to show that liquor had for many years been sold in a part of the premises which was formerly used as a grocer's shop, and which was now objected to as an addition to the licensed premises. Mr. A. Stanley (secretary to the Temperance Society) appeared to oppose, and was objected to by Mr. Young on the ground that he had not given notice. Mr. Stanley submitted that notice was not necessary. He was informed by the clerk that the magistrates could not hear a speech from him, and must be influenced solely by evidence on oath, relating only to the two points named in the opposition. Mr. Stanley expressed his willingness to be sworn, but wished to deal with the requirements of the district. The Bench reminded him that they could not hear him on that point. The alterations made satisfied the Chief Constable.

....the license of the ROYAL OAK was adjourned till today for the magistrates to visit the premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing sessions at Walsall on Tuesday last was of course of considerable interest to ‘publicans and sinner.’ Although there were seven licenses objected to be renewed by the Chief Constable, we are of opinion that, considering the vast area of public houses amongst us, no one can justly say that the licensing trade is not carried on in a respectable and creditable manner by the respective landlords; and at the same time we think we can vouch for the painstaking efforts of the police to carry out their duties as regards the licensing trade in a manner highly creditable to the borough, and at the same time keep the publicans within the law, and their houses above suspicion. Everyone must be aware of the fact that there is no other ‘trade’ in existence which is subject to so much police supervision as the licensed victualler; and moreover, the punishments for indiscretion and wanton carelessness are so severe, in some cases, their whole means of subsistence is rendered precarious. The licenses to the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore; the CANAL TAVERN, Little Bloxwich; the BELL INN, Bloxwich; the GEORGE HOTEL, NELSON AND PEEL, ROYAL EXCHANGE, and the BRUSHMAKERS ARMS were in jeopardy until Tuesday last, and in the case of the CANAL TAVERN, the license was refused. These instances ought to forcibly remind all innkeepers of their grave responsibility as to permitting or encouraging drunkenness; and, as they well know, there are too many public houses in Walsall according to its area and population, the magistrates will only be doing their duty in closing houses which are not carried on in conformity with law, and which only exist for the furtherance of drunkenness and disorder.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

George Hill, ROYAL OAK, served 32 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under.....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/7/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... George Hill, ROYAL OAK, Spout Lane.”

1901 Census

21, Caldmore – ROYAL OAK INN

[1] George Hill (51), publican, born Dedbury, Worcestershire;

[2] Mary A. Hill (41), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] William G. Hill (16), son, born Walsall;

[4] Matthew E. Hill (14), son, born Willenhall;

[5] Harry Hill (11), son, born Willenhall;

[6] May Hill (7), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Alice Dawes (28), sister in law, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1905

“Henry Thorpe, 59, Victor Street, was summoned for being disorderly on licensed premises, and with refusing to quit when requested to do so by the complainant Mr. George Thomas, on the 4th. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared to prosecute.

The landlord said that the man went into his house on Saturday evening and asked for a drink. As he was a well-known dangerous character, he refused to serve him, whereupon he became very abusive and threatened him. He sent for the police and had him turned out, but as soon as the officers left, he (defendant) went back and created another disturbance, and the police had again to be fetched.

Sergeant Evans (8), and Police-constable Donallon (70) gave evidence as to turning the defendant out of the house.

Kate Thorpe, wife of defendant, stated that they had been down the town, and she had left her husband on Caldmore Green and he would have had no time to do what had been alleged against him.

Fined 10s and costs or ten days.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1906

“A party of about 100 friends and customers left the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, on Wednesday the 8th, by brakes, landaus, &c, for their annual gypsy party. They drove through Wolverhampton and Tettenhall, and having lunched at the latter place resumed their drive to the Codsall Nurseries of Messrs. Baker Ltd. Permission had been kindly given them to go over the nurseries, which are among the finest in the country, and they were conducted round by Mr. Kerr, one of the head gardeners. The majority of the party had never seen such sights of surpassing splendour in the floral world, and they were more than delighted. The party then drove on to the Bell of Tong, where a hot dinner was provided and done ample justice to, for the beautiful country air had put an edge on their appetites. Afterwards a pleasant time was spent in games, &c. Subsequently the journey was resumed through Weston Park (by the kind permission of the Earl of Bradford), where, again, there was much to admire in the lordly demesne; and along the delightful old Watling Street. A halt was made at the Bradford Arms, Ivesty Bank, and passing on by Gaily Pool, Churchbridge, and Bloxwich and Caldmore was reached by 9.45. The arrangements had been made by Mr. George Thomas, 'mine host,' of the OAK, and the weather being charming, the outing was generally voted the most enjoyable possible."

Walsall Advertiser 2/10/1909 - Advert

"Wanted, a respectable Person as Barmaid to assist in light household duties; one used to the trade. Apply, Mrs. Thomas, ROYAL OAK, Caldmore Green."

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

"The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends..... ROYAL OAK, Caldmore. This club had a successful year, although the sick pay was fairly heavy. The receipts were £95 11s 10d, and the balance left enabled the Secretary (Mr. A. Wheway) to declare a dividend of 10s and one night on card."

1911 Census

Caldmore Green – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Mary Elizabeth Thomas (53), widow, beer retailer, born Tipton;
- [2] Robert Thomas (18), son, potman, born Tipton;
- [3] Herbert Frederick Thomas (12), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Wilfred Ray Thomas (9), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Haywood (40), general servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Eliza Mattocks (26), barmaid, born Heath Town;

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1913

"Harry Thorpe, of Bescot Street, and his son William Thorpe, of the South Staffordshire Regiment, were charged with damaging jugs, glasses, and other property at the ROYAL OAK INN, Caldmore on Boxing Day; the younger defendant was also charged with assaulting William Thomas, son of the landlady. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted.

For the licensee, Mrs. Thomas, it was stated that in consequence of what happened some time ago the elder defendant was never served in the house. On the day in question, Arthur Shevyn, son-in-law of Mrs. Thomas, was in charge, the elder defendant called in the afternoon, but left when requested to do so. Later, the two returned, and without any explanation upset tables, breaking jugs and glasses, one of the table-legs being broken off and flourished. Thomas and a barman were struck by the younger defendant, who was twice ejected by Police-constable Bell. The latter stated that the man had had drink, but was not drunk.

Mr. Shaw: We don't understand that definition. He was drunk or he was not drunk.

The younger defendant said he did all the damage, whilst the father said he went to fetch his son away.

William Thorpe was ordered to pay the 20s damage and 5s costs on the first charge; 5s and costs with the alternative of 14 days; 5s and costs, or seven days on the second. The elder man was discharged.

The Chief Inspector Ballance stated that Thorpe's regiment had been ordered abroad and sailed on the 8th.

Defendant said he could not pay the money.

Mr. Shaw: You don't want to get out of the Army, do you? – Defendant: Well, I don't like it."

Walsall Observer 27/6/1914

"Mary Thomas, ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, was fined 5s and costs for keeping a dog without a license."

Walsall Observer 8/6/1918 - Roll of Honour

Q.-M.-S. Harry Adderley Thomas, who enlisted in Canada three years ago, and has been on foreign service with a Canadian Field Ambulance for two and a half years, is now in hospital in France. Thirty-six years of age, his home is the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, and as a boy he attended Wolverhampton Collegiate School. Five brothers are serving in France."

AND

"Private Herbert Thomas, Royal Scots, who was missing from April 11, has sent a message to his home, the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, stating that he is a wounded prisoner in Germany. Nineteen years old, he had been in France only 9 days, although he joined the Army two years ago. He had previously been employed as pianist at the Electric Theatre, Bloxwich. Five brothers are on active service."

AND

"Sergeant George Thomas, who has previously been invalided three times with rheumatic fever is now in hospital in Shorncliffe with this complaint. He had been on foreign service with the Canadian Transport for three years. A married man, 28 years of age, with two children, his home is at the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore. Before enlisting in September, 1914, he was a motor driver, and claims to have been the first taxi driver in Walsall."

Walsall Observer 21/9/1918 – Roll of Honour

“Sergeant-Major Harry Adderley Thomas, of the third Canadian Medical Corps, died from heart failure on the 11th inst, while on his way back to France, after ten days’ leave. A married man, 37 years of age, his wife and children living at Winnipeg, Canada, he was the son of Mr. Thomas, ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, and he died on the 33rd anniversary of his father’s death. He enlisted in May 1916, and went abroad the same year. The funeral, arranged by Colonel McBean, took place at Bushbury, near Wolverhampton, on Wednesday, with full military honours. An escort of five officers came from Shorncliff, and the firing party came from Brocton Camp. There were innumerable wreaths and approximately 500 people were present at the graveside. Deceased was previously employed as a chargeman on the Canadian Pacific Railway. He had five brothers, but one lost his life on the torpedoed ‘Llandovery Castle,’ and another is a prisoner of war. The other three are still on active service.”

South Staffordshire Times 6/1/1923

“A verdict of Accidental Death was returned by the Walsall Coroner at an inquest, on Wednesday, on Mr. Arthur Edward Blackwell (50), licensee of the ROYAL OAK INN, Caldmore, whose body was found on the railway line near a level crossing at Bescot on Monday evening.

The widow, Alice Blackwell, gave evidence that her husband was about the house as usual until 2pm on Monday, and afterwards went out, as was customary, to bank the week’s takings and to meet a representative of Messrs. Butler and Co. of Wolverhampton, by whom he was employed as a manager. Sometimes after transacting his business in this way he spent the afternoon at the pictures or went for a walk, and she was not surprised when he did not return for tea. It was not until 8pm that she heard he had been killed. She made enquiries, and found he had paid his cash into the bank and reported satisfactorily to Messrs. Butler’s representative. His books were in order, and he had no financial troubles or worries of any sort.

William Henry Crabb, chief inspector at Bescot, said it was apparent that the man had been knocked down at the crossing and had been dragged along.

Medical evidence showed that death was due to a badly fractured skull and other injuries.”

Walsall Observer 4/3/1939 - Advert

“To Builders And Contractors.

Proposed Reconstruction of the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, Walsall.

Messrs. W. Butler & Co. Ltd. invite applications from Builders who desire to submit Tenders for the reconstruction of the ROYAL OAK, Caldmore. Quantities may be obtained on application to the undersigned.

Applications should be received Not Later Than March 8th, 1939, and should be accompanied by a deposit of Two Guineas, which will be returned on receipt of a bona fide tender.

Messrs. W. Butler & Co. Ltd. do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender, or to bear the cost of preparing same.

Hickton & Madeley, Ashley House, Hatherton Road, Walsall.”

1939 Register

21, Caldmore Green

[1] Ernest A. Hawkswood, date of birth 22/9/1878, public house manager, married;

[2] Amy L. Hawkswood, dob 16/7/1878, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.

ROYAL OAK, Caldmore Road. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.

ROYAL OAK, Caldmore. £0 2s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945

“The Pleck and District Darts league is headed by the FORGE INN ‘A’ who have won all their seven matches. The next three positions are filled by the NEWPORT ARMS, HOPE AND ANCHOR ‘A’ and ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, with 12 points each, then come the DUKE OF WELLINGTON and ROYAL OAK, Pleck. Highest score and highest finish, 146, J. Bullock, HOPE AND ANCHOR ‘B’; highest start, 140, S. Hogan, WINDMILL TAVERN.”

A full license was granted on 4th February 1954.

Closed

It became a corner shop and off license. [1987]

ROYAL OAK

81, Lord Street, (Caldmore Place), Palfrey, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Fletcher
John Kimberley
Highgate Walsall Brewery Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

James Fletcher [1858] – [1865]
J Gould [] – 1865;
John Hodges (1865 – []
James Fletcher [1871] – [1881];
Edward Bennett [1888] – 1889);
Joseph Haynes (1889);
Miss Emily Bertha Haynes (1889 – 189_); [1891]
Joseph Haynes (189_ – 1895);
Isaiah Lees (1895 – 1896);
Thomas Toon (1896 – 1898);
Sidney Toon (1898 – 1907);
Thomas Toon (1907 – 1909);
Edward Toon (1909 – 1916);
Kate Toon (1916 – 1920);
Frank Broadhurst (1920 – 1921);
Thomas Hawkins (1921 – 1932);
James Albert ‘Jim’ Parker (1932 – 1959);
Godfrey Charles Wildblood (1959);
Donald Leslie Probyn (1959 – 1960);
George Harry Moseley (1960 – [1966])

NOTES

Caldmore Place [1858]
81, Lord Street [1891], [1932], [1939], [1940]

Black Country Bugle

‘James Fletcher – Palfrey Brewer and Farmer’ – letter from Mrs. W. Wootton

“.....The ROYAL OAK was once owned by my grandfather, who also had a small firm in Lord Street before any houses were built
..... My brother has the Bill of Sale for the ROYAL OAK still in his possession.”

1861 Census

Palfrey – ROYAL OAK

- [1] James Fletcher (45), victualler, born Broadwell, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Sarah Fletcher (39), wife, born Thatnill, Staffordshire;
- [3] _____ Fletcher (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Hannah Fletcher (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Fletcher (10), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Fletcher (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Alexander Gordon (42), lodger, pailor, born Scotland:

James Fletcher was also a tailor. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 10/6/1865

“Henry Rowleyson was charged with having, on Tuesday last, used threatening language to George Showler. It appeared that on the day in question, the complainant and the defendant met in the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, and because complainant refused to drink with defendant, the latter threatened to take his life. Defendant was bound over to keep the peace for six months – himself in £10, and two sureties of £5 each, or in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

1871 Census

Lord Street, Palfrey

- [1] James Fletcher (55), publican and tailor, born Broadwell, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Ann Fletcher (57), wife, born Eggington, Derbyshire;
- [3] Sarah Fletcher (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Perry (27), son in law, born Barton, Staffordshire;
- [5] Maria Perry (4), granddaughter, born Barton, Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/10/1875

“James Fletcher, the OAK INN, Palfrey, was summoned for having had his house open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours on Sunday, the 10th inst. Police-constable Bethel proved the case, stating that at eight o’clock on the morning of the day named he found four men in the defendant’s house with glasses of liquor before them. The defendant said the men were there without his knowledge; they had induced his daughter to let them have a glass of whisky each, on the representation that they were unwell. He was fined 10s and costs.

The four men found in the house were also fined, viz, James Moore, Henry Bullock, and John Abbott, 10s each, and Richard Judd, who had been disorderly in the house, was fined 20s and costs.”

1881 Census

Lord Street – ROYAL OAK

- [1] James Fletcher (63), licensed victualler, born Broadwell, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Ann Fletcher (66), wife, born Egginton, Derbyshire;
- [3] Sarah Bates (24), domestic servant, born Farnfield, Staffordshire:

Edward Bennett was fined 40s and costs, on 10th February 1888, for keeping open during prohibited hours. He was also fined 40s and costs, on 10th July 1888, for permitting drunkenness.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1888

“A the annual licensing sessions, yesterday.....

The applications for renewal of licenses on the part of twenty persons whose names were on the black list were adjourned till the adjourned licensing day; and the applications of the following were also adjourned, the Chief Constable opposing on the ground of the unsuitability of the premises for licensed houses, bad management, or the house being unnecessary, viz.....

Edward Bennett, ROYAL OAK.”

1891 Census

81, Lord Street – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Emily Bertha Haynes (24), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Ann Gilbert (16), general servant, birthplace unknown:

Walsall Advertiser 4/11/1895

“One of the most prominent railway veterans of Walsall has passed away in the death of John Smart, of Wallows Lane, Pleck, aged 67, engine driver, who for 49 years had been in the employ of the Midland Railway Company, and who was known amongst his comrades as ‘Captain’ Smart. He died on Sunday morning at his home, as the result of an accident on the railway on the previous Thursday, the circumstances of which were enquired into by Mr. T. H. Stanley, Borough Coroner, and a jury, at the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, on Tuesday afternoon. District-Inspector Pargeter represented the London and North-Western Railway Company, and Mr. Howell, the Midland Railway Company.

The deceased had been in the habit of going along the London and North-Western line to and from his work, and on the morning of Thursday week, about 5.26, passed the Pleck signalman on duty there, ‘Good morning.’ Deceased went in the direction of the Midland engine sheds, a light engine coming from Walsall to Bescot about that time.

George James Dunmore, a ‘steam riser,’ of Prince Street, Pleck, who was in the Midland engine sheds on the morning in question, saw Smart leaning against a wall, and on going to him found deceased’s clothing torn, and saw that Smart was looking pale and ill. He wanted to go to work, but the foreman sent him home in a car. Neither Charles Hall, the driver of the light engine in question, or Benjamin Heath, the fireman, saw anything of the deceased.

The deceased, it transpired, had made a statement to his wife and daughter to the effect that he saw the engine coming, and was going to get over the wires to go into the shed, but the rail or the rod caught him, knocking him some distance. He thought he fainted, and he got to the shed, but he did not know how. It was also stated that the deceased had had verbal permission from an official now dead to go along the line, and had gone that way for 20 years.

Dr. Fox, who saw the deceased at his own home, said the man had an extensive bruise on the back and side, and was suffering from bronchitis and a weak heart, the cause of death was bronchitis and weakness of the heart, accelerated by the injuries received. The injuries would not have been fatal, witness thought, if the man had been younger and healthy.

A verdict was returned in accordance with the medical evidence.”

Isaiah Lees – see also OAK, Green Lane.

Walsall Advertiser 19/11/1898

“Mr. J. N. Cotterell presented plans for making slight alterations to the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Mr. E. A. Cotterell (Messrs. J. N. and E. A. Cotterell) was granted a singing and music license for Mr. Sidney Toon, ROYAL OAK INN, Palfrey, for Monday evenings from eight o'clock until 10.30. Mr. Cotterell explained that the license was for benefit of a club only.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/11/1899

“Walsall and District Reserve Fund.

Third List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, 21s.”

Walsall Observer 7/4/1900

“Free Gardeners. A new lodge of this Order was opened last Tuesday at the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, by Bro. E. Holmes, Master, Walsall New District and other officers. About 20 were admitted as members.....”

Walsall Observer 1/9/1900

“On Tuesday last a show of flowers and vegetables was held at the ROYAL OAK INN, Lord Street, Palfrey by the allotment holders in that district. There was a large and excellent variety of exhibits, and the show was much appreciated.....”

1901 Census

81, Lord Street

[1] Sidney Toon (26), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Toon (25), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Sidney T. Toon (8), son, born Walsall;

[4] Sarah Stockley (24), general servant, born Oldbury:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople's Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

ROYAL OAK INN, Palfrey. 2s 3d.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Sidney Toon, ROYAL OAK INN, Palfrey.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1910

“Palfrey Allotment Society.

A successful whist drive was held on Thursday evening at the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, in connection with the above society. There was a good muster and three prizes offered. An enjoyable evening was spent, the winners being: First prize (gentlemen's umbrella), Mr. E. S. Farmer, 2nd (briar pipe and case), Mr. J. Wheway, 3rd (tobacco pouch), Mr. F. Busst. The 'booby' prize was won by Mr. E. Bayliss. Mr. E. Toon was M.C., and presented the prizes to the winners. At the close of the proceedings a vote of thanks was passed to him for the admirable way in which he had conducted the proceedings.”

1911 Census

Lord Street – ROYAL OAK INN

[1] Edward Toon (29), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Kate Toon (31), wife, married 8 years, born Walsall;

[3] Kate Toon (6), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Jennie Toon (5), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Annie Toon (4), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 15/4/1911

“A painter, named Herbert Osbourne (22), of 3, Ann Street, was charged with embezzling the sum of 7s 6d, belonging to his employer, Wm. Wilson.

Prosecutor, a painter and decorator, of 189, Stafford Street, stated that on Tuesday, the 4th instant, he sent the prisoner, who worked for him, to Mr. Toon, of the ROYAL OAK, Palfrey, for some money for wall paper. He did not return and he reported the matter to the police.

Edward Toon, licensee of the ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, spoke to giving the prisoner 7s 6d, and Detective Thomas deposed to arresting him. Prisoner, who pleaded guilty, and who had nothing to say, was sentenced to 14 days' hard labour, he having been before the Court on a previous occasion.”

Walsall Observer 27/7/1914 - Notice

“Re Thomas Toon, Deceased.

Notice is Hereby Given that all creditors and other persons having any Debts, Claims, or Demands against the Estate of Thomas Toon, late of Ivydene, Lichfield Street, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, deceased (who died on the 16th day of October, 1913, and whose Will, with a Codicil thereto, was proved in the Principal Registry of the Probate Division of the High Court of Justice on the 19th day of May, 1914, by Tom Longmore, in the will called Thomas Longmore, of Lichfield Street, Walsall, and Edward Toon, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Palfrey, son of the deceased, two of the Executors therein named, the other Executor having renounced Probate) are hereby required to send in any particulars in writing of their Debts, Claims, or Demands to me, the undersigned, the Solicitor for the said Executors, on or before the 31st day of July, 1914, after which date the said Executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased amongst persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims, Debts, and Demands of which they shall then have had notice; and they will not be liable for the assets of the said deceased or any part thereof so distributed to any person of whose Debts, Claims, or Demands they shall not then have had notice.

Dated this 22nd day of June, 1914.

C. A. Loxton, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Executors.”

Walsall Observer 31/3/1917 - Roll of Honour

“Private Sid Toon is officially reported to have been killed in France on the 14th inst. while in action with the South Staffordshire Regiment, to which he had been transferred from the Yeomanry. Apprenticed to Messrs. Overton and Co., Freer St 1939eet, he joined up a year ago before he attained his 19th birthday, and had been in France since the beginning of the present year. He was an Old Boy of Queen Mary’s Grammar School. His parents who resided in Lichfield Street, are both dead, and he made his home with his uncle and aunt at the ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, Palfrey. His uncle, Corporal E. Toon, is now with the A.S.C. in France.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/10/1923

“The third annual show of produce organised by the Palfrey Allotment Holders Association, who recently won the silver cup, given by Sir Richard Cooper, at the central exhibition, in which the competition was open to all the associations, was held at the ROYAL OAK INN Palfrey on Saturday. As might be expected, in view of the success mentioned, the produce shown was of a very high standard, and the 120 entries were double the number received at the previous year’s show.....”

It was rebuilt in 1933.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, Palfrey.”

1939 Register

81, Lord Street

[1] James A. Parker, date of birth 18/10/1889, manager public house, married;

[2] Eliza Parker, dob 15/3/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Beryl I. Parker, dob 9/11/1920, bar general, single;

[4] Dorothy B. Parker, dob 23/7/1923, confectionery shop assistant, single:

Walsall Observer 31/8/1940

“Mr. James A. Parker, of the ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, recalling the comfort he received as a prisoner of war in Germany in the last war when parcels reached him from England, offers to despatch parcels to present-day prisoners through the Red Cross Society. Subscriptions will be spent on parcels.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, £6 5s 8d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Lord Street. £1 0s 0d.

ROYAL OAK, Lord Street. £4 14s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 25/12/1943 - Personal

“Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parker, ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, take this opportunity to wish all Friends and Customers the Compliments of the Season, and all the best for the coming year. Also our thanks to those kind people who have been so good to our daughter, Dolly, during her long illness.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

ROYAL OAK, Lord Street. £4 12s 7d.”

[2001]

Closed [2007], [2012]

It was converted into housing. [2017]

ROYAL OAK

Norton Road, Pelsall, (York’s Bridge), WALSALL

OWNERS

Robert York [1890]

Messrs. Robinson, Burton [1925]

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Robert York [1849] – [1850]

William Willner [1859] – 1884)

Mrs. Harriet Willner [1890] – 1908)

Mrs. Jane Willner [1896] – [1904]

Mrs. Harriet Willner [1908]

Miss Clara Elizabeth Willner [1911] – [1912]

Joseph Cooper [] – 1917)

Mrs. Cooper [1924]

Levi Danks [1925]

Walter J. Tompkins [1932] – [1940]

Samuel James Smith [1939] – 1940);

Albert Clifford Cox (1940 – []

Michael Hughes [] – 2003)

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/3/1850 - Advert

“Important Freehold Buildings, land, and Old-Licensed Public House, at Pelsall, near Bloxwich.

Mr. R. S. Walker will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of April 1850, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, at four o’clock in the afternoon, subject to such conditions as will then be produced, the following Freehold Properties.....

Lot 2. All that old-licensed Public House, called or known by the sign of the ROYAL OAK, situate near lot 1, now in the occupation of Mr. Robert York. The house contains a parlour, tap-room, bar, kitchen, with large club-room and chambers over, together with enclosed yard, sheds, garden, and appurtenances.....”

William Willner = William Wilner = William Milner

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

William Wilner, ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, unjust measures, 3s and costs.”

1861 Census

Pelsall – ROYAL OAK

- [1] William Wilner (30), victualler, born Ashton Ayes, Staffordshire;
- [2] Harriet Wilner (30), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Frederic William Wilner (2), son, born Pelsall;
- [4] Harriett Jane Wilner (3 months), daughter, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/6/1863

“At Rushall Police Court, on Tuesday, and elderly man named Joseph Bouper was charged with stealing 1¾lbs of bacon, the property of William Wilner, landlord of the ROYAL OAK public-house, Pelsall. It seemed that the prisoner had been drinking in the house for some hours, and that being left alone for a short time he cut the piece of bacon from a fitch which hung in the room. The landlord, who was in the upper part of the house, heard some noise, and on coming down stairs he taxed the prisoner with the offence, and insisted upon searching him, when the stolen bacon was found in his possession. Sentenced to one months’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/9/1870

“Adjourned Licensing Meeting. Yesterday John Lloyd, beerhouse keeper, Rushall; Richard Owen, landlord of the ROYAL GEORGE beerhouse, Walsall Wood; Thomas Thacker of the BOOT public house, Walsall Wood; and William Milner of the ROYAL OAK public house, Pelsall, who, in consequence of having been convicted of breach of license in the course of the last year, had had their licenses suspended, were cautioned, and had their licenses renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1870

“At the Rushall adjourned licensing session, yesterday, the following licenses, the applications for which had stood over from the previous Tuesday, were granted, the licensees in each case being cautioned.....
Wm. Wilner, ROYAL OAK, Pelsall.”

1871 Census

Pelsall Wod – ROYAL OAK

- [1] William Willner (41), publican, born Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Harriet Willner (40), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Frederick R. Willner (12), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [4] Harriet J. Willner (10), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [5] Mark John Y. Willner (1), son, born Pelsall;
- [6] Richard Richardson (24), lodger, labourer, born Worcestershire:

1881 Census

Norton Road – ROYAL OAK INN

- [1] William Willner (50), publican, born Kings Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Harriet Willner (50), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Frederick Willner (22), son, engine fitter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Hannah J. Willner (20), daughter, teacher National School, born Pelsall;
- [5] Mark J. Willner (10), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Clara E. Willner (7), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall:

Lichfield Mercury 5/9/1884 - Deaths

“August 12, at the ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, William Wilner, aged 53.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1890 - Advert

“Summary of Auction Sales by Walter Hughes.....

In February. Sale of a Freehold Full Licensed Public-House, the ROYAL OAK, Pelsall; together with a Freehold Villa Residence, Cottages, and Lands, being the concluding portion to the estate of the late Mr. Robert York.
Solicitor, Mr. T. H. Stanley.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

“The following publicans were granted one hour’s extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes Harriet Wilner.”

1891 Census

Norton Road – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Harriet Willner (60), widow, licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Harriet J. Willner (29), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [3] Mark J. Willner (21), son, fireman, born Pelsall;
- [4] John York (49), brother, farmer, born Pelsall;
- [5] Mark York (40), brother, farmer, born Pelsall:

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, Harriet Wilner, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.

ROYAL OAK, Pelsall.”

1901 Census

Norton Road

[1] Harriet Willner (70), widow, innkeeper, born Pelsall;

[2] Clara E. Willner (27), daughter, born Pelsall;

[3] Sidney Willner (14), grandson, born Pelsall;

[4] John York (60), brother, engine fitter, born Pelsall;

[5] Mark York (58), brother, farmer, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 1/2/1908 - Deaths

“January 27th, at ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, Harriet, widow of William Wilner, in her 78th year, and daughter of the late Robert York, of White Hollies, Pelsall.”

1911 Census

Pelsall – ROYAL OAK

[1] Clara Elizabeth Willner (37), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Pelsall;

[2] Joseph Cooper (47), brother in law, assistant in business, born Pelsall;

[3] Harriet Jane Cooper (50), sister, married 10 years, born Pelsall;

[4] William David Cooper (9), nephew, school, born Pelsall;

[5] John York (72), uncle, unmarried, fitter engineer, born Pelsall;

[6] Mark York (68), uncle, unmarried, farmer, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1912

“An inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Geo. Henry Gross, the 23 months old child of George Frederick Gross, of Woodhouses, Pelsall, was held by the County Coroner (Mr. Gerald C. Lewis), at the ROYAL OAK, Norton Road, Pelsall, on Wednesday morning. From the evidence it appeared that deceased went out to play at 10.30 on Monday morning, and the mother on missing him sent a elder brother to look for him. He went to an adjoining field and found the deceased lying face down in a pond. He pulled the body out and called for help, and a man named William Jackson came on the scene and tried artificial respiration, but without avail.

Police-constable Croft said he removed the body to the mortuary.

A verdict of Accidental Drowning while at Play was returned.”

Walsall Observer 27/4/1918 - In Memoriam

“In ever-loving memory of Joseph Cooper, late of the ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, who died on April 25, 1917. Fondly remembered by Wife and Son.”

Lichfield Mercury 21/2/1919

“A sparrow shooting sweepstakes took place on Saturday at the ROYAL OAK INN, Pelsall. There were 30 entries, and the prize of £2 10s was won by Mr. Frank Smith, of Knaves Castle, Brownhills, who killed nine birds out of ten. A subsequent sweepstake was divided between C. Hartshorn of Pelsall, and F. Smith. Mr. J. Reaney officiated as referee.”

Lichfield Mercury 13/3/1925

“Rushall Licensing Sessions.

‘It would be a terrible thing if just for one thing a man should be prohibited for ever holding a license,’ said Mr. H. H. Jackson at the Adjourned Rushall Licensing Sessions on Monday, when applying for the renewal of the license of the ROYAL OAK INN, Norton Road, Pelsall.

Mr. Jackson appeared for the owners of the house, Messrs. Robinson, of Burton, and admitted a conviction against the licensee, Levi Danks, for allowing betting on the premises in connection with a pipe-colouring competition.

Mr. Jackson said although the competition was being held everything was orderly, and no one was drunk. The licensee had paid for his mistake, and it had been a warning to him. The owners were willing to give him another chance.

The license was renewed.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/10/1925

“Brownhills And District Air-Gun League.....

Brownhill Hussey Arms (home) were defeated by Pelsall ROYAL OAK (away) by 207 points to 204.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/12/1925

“Brownhills & District Air-Gun League.....

FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall (away), defeated ROYAL OAK, Pelsall, by 214 points to 212.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

For repairs and alterations of structure.....

ROYAL OAK, Norton Road.”

1939 Register

Norton Road – ROYAL OAK INN (1 of 3)

[1] Samuel J. Smith, date of birth 7/9/1909, licensed victualler, married;

Walsall Observer 4/5/1940 - Advert

“6 Young Pigs, Large White, 10 weeks; can be seen any time.

ROYAL OAK, Norton Road, Pelsall.”

Walsall Observer 29/6/1940 - Advert

“Large White Sow for Sale, 1 farry.

ROYAL OAK INN, Norton Road, Pelsall.”

Michael Hughes was born c.1944.

He was found battered to death in the pub on 27th April 2003.

[2006]

Its name was changed to FINGERPOST. [2007]

[2017]

ROYAL OAK

18, Oxford Street, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

John William Newell, Aldridge

Benjamin Wakeley [1880]

Messrs. Downing, maltsters, Smethwick

Manchester Brewery Co. [1904]

Samuel Allsopp Ltd. [1910]

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd. [1913]

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Bassett [1865]

Mrs. Harriett Bassett [1865] – [1866]

John Newell* [1868] – [1870]

John Holland Newell* [1871] – [1875]

Thomas Chidlow [1872] – [1873];

Robert Hawkins [];

Jane Davidson [];
John Slater [];
John Commander [];
Benjamin Wikeley [1881];
James Baggott [1881] – 1886);
Alfred Cox (1886 – 1887);
Herbert Henry Hawley (1887 – 1888);
George Wilkes (1888 – 1890);
James Hickson (1890);
Terence Wren (1890 – 1891);
William Webster (1891 – 1898);
Albert Edward Ashton (1898 – 1903);
Henry Albert Booth (1903 – 1904);
William Joseph Owen (1904 – 1907);
Walter Frost (1907 – 1909);
Elizabeth Cash (1909 – 1910);
Joseph Loynes (1910 – 1913);
Albert Victor Murdock (1913 – 1914);
Joseph Loynes (1914 – 1915);
George Turpin (1915 – 1916);
Agnes Turpin (1916 – 1919);
George Turpin (1919 – 1922);
Joseph Loynes (1922 – 1923);
Frederick Thomas Swinnerton (1923);
William Mooney (1923 – 1925);
Richard McManus (1925 – 1926);
Arthur Darby (1926 – 1928);
Arthur Frank Yeoman (1928 – 1931);
Thomas Pedley (1931 – 1933);
Alfred William Scott (1933 – 1934);
John Henry Dodgson (1934 – 1935);
Bertram Albert Stone (1935 – 1940);
John William Bradford (1940 – 1943);
George Humphries (1943 – 1952);
George Akfred Hood (1952 – 1956);
Doris Evelyn Hood (1956 – [1966])

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Leary's Brewery was based here.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/4/1865

“Allen of Wednesbury, hearing that Leason of Walsall is anxious for a match, Allen will walk him seven miles level, for £10 a side. Mr. Clulee of Aston Cross Grounds, stakeholder and referee. Money ready at Mr. Bassett's, ROYAL OAK, the Pleck, near Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1865

“Annual Licensing Meeting applications for new licenses.....

Harriet Bassett, of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck, supported by Mr. Lewis, and opposed by Miss Graves of the HOPE AND ANCHOR, and a private house adjoining the applicant's.....

Refused the reason assigned being that there were enough public houses in the localities.”

Birmingham Gazette 3/11/1865 - Advert

“To Brewers. Wanted, a Man, who thoroughly understands his business, to take charge of a small Brewery, and to make himself generally useful. None but steady men need apply.

Apply, ROYAL OAK, Brewery, The Pleck, near Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. Mathews applied, on behalf of Mrs. Harriett Bassett, of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck Road.

Mr. Oerton said the magistrates having personally inspected the premises of the applicant, and being satisfied as to the suitability-

ity of the house, which was one of the cleanest and best arranged in the district, it would only be necessary for Mr. Mathews to address himself to the requirements of the district.

Mr. Mathews accordingly pointed out upon a plan the increase which had taken place in the locality, and the superiority of his client's house over any in the neighbourhood.

Mr. Barnett, for Mr. Edge, landlord of the HOPE AND ANCHOR, stated that there were only 200 houses at The Pleck, and there were five licensed houses for every 40 dwelling houses. The owner of one of those houses, finding four houses sufficient, had not taken out his license.

Mr. Mathews said that as the owner of the ROYAL OAK was the owner of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, he was willing to agree to his licence being transferred from the later house to the former.

Mrs. Simkiss, the tenant of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, was called; but as she declined to give up her license, both her application and that of Mrs. Bassett were adjourned till the 13th proximo."

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1866 - Advert

"By E. B. Scholefield, at the ROYAL OAK INN, Pleck, near Walsall, this day (Tuesday), at Eleven o'clock.

Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Ale Machine, Bagatelle Board, and Effects, removed to the above-named Inn for convenience of Sale."

[Might this be the end of the BRICKLAYERS ARMS?]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/3/1867 - Advert

"A Quantity of Brewing Utensils to be Sold.

Apply at the ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck, near Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1867

"On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Borough Coroner, held an inquiry at the ROYAL OAK INN, the Pleck, touching the death of Jas. Betts, aged four weeks, the son of parents living in the immediate neighbourhood. According to the evidence, the child had been in delicate health from birth, and its mother had been in the habit of giving it soothing syrup, which a neighbour had got for her from the shop of Mr. Griffin, confectioner, Rushall Street. On Saturday morning, the child being restless, she gave it a few drops of syrup, and shortly afterwards it became worse and died. The Coroner condemned the sale and use of the syrup strongly, and the Jury found that death had been caused 'by the imprudent use of Griffin's cordial, but without felonious or malicious intent, and ignorant of its dangerous qualities.' The officer in attendance (Sergeant Wood) was desired to caution Mr. Griffin relative to the sale of the cordial. It is fair to state that Mr. Griffin denies that the cordial which the child was given was obtained at his shop."

* probably the same person

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869 - Advert

"To Be Let, the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft.

Apply, Mrs. Cooper, or to Mr. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, The Pleck."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/5/1870

"Nowell of Wednesbury will give Wright of the Pleck three yards start in 100 or 120 yards start, for £5 a side. Money ready at the ROYAL OAK INN, Pleck, near Walsall, any night next week."

1871 Census

Oxford Street

[1] John H. Newell (49), publican, born Ocker Hill;

[2] Catherine Newell (53), wife, born Drayton, Staffordshire;

[3] Jane Davison (20), niece, barmaid, born Sutton Coldfield;

[4] Joseph Farnell (39), boarder, labourer, born Birmingham:

Thomas Chidlow was also a coal dealer. [1873]

London Gazette 31/10/1873

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John Holland Newell, of the ROYAL OAK Brewery, the Pleck, near Walsall, and of Aldridge, near Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Brewer and Farmer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. James Slater, Solicitor, Butcroft, Darlaston, on the 14th day of November, 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1873.

W. H. Edwards, Darlaston, Attorney for the said John Holland Newell."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

“Defensio, Non Provocatio. Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the Merchandize Marks Act, 1862, and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association. Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers’ Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.....

Walsall: S. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, 28, Ablewell Street; F. Weston, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street; G. Holden, ODD FELLOWS ARMS, 1, Stafford Street; G. Smith, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street; J. Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; J. H. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck.”

1881 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Benjamin Wikeley (49), brewer, born Resemastro (?), Yorkshire;
- [2] Sarah Jane Wikeley (39), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Evelyn M. Wikeley (11), daughter, scholar, born Netherton;
- [4] Martha G. Wikeley (9), daughter, scholar, born Bromsgrove;
- [5] John B. Wikeley (6), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Gertrude Wikeley (5), daughter, scholar, born Pleck;
- [7] William Wikeley (2), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Fanny Godridge (14), servant, born Chase Town:

Evening Express 19/10/1881

“James Baggott, landlord of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck, was summoned for having four pint jugs in his possession, each a half-gill short of the imperial measure.

Defendant said he bought the jugs from an earthenware dealer in Stafford Street, who assured him they were correct.

He was ordered to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/11/1886 - Advert

“ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, near Walsall.

Full-licensed, Long lease. In-coming £100.

Alford, 72, Parade.”

1891 Census

18, Oxford Street

- [1] William Webster (40), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Webster (44), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Ann Webster (16), daughter, born Walsall:

William Webster was fined 10s and costs, on 17th January 1894, for running an illegal lottery.

Walsall Advertiser 23/2/1895

“During the last few weeks Mr. Samuel Middlebrook of the ROSE AND THISTLE, Pleck, has had made at Mr. Nock’s several hundred loaves of bread, which he has given to the poor and those thrown out of employment by the severe frost. Mr. Middlebrook’s example has been followed by others.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster, of the ROYAL OAK INN, Oxford Street, Pleck, in conjunction with a friend, on Tuesday last, distributed 120 loaves of bread, and 120 quarts of soup. This makes their fifth distribution since the inclement weather set in.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

“An extension was granted to Mr. Webster, of the ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, on Good Friday, on the occasion of a railway servants’ dinner.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

“The annual licensing meeting for the county borough of Walsall was held in the Guildhall on Wednesday forenoon.....

The Chief Constable gave notice of objection to the following licenses.....

The LORD RAGLAN, Mill Street, Ryecroft, and the ROYAL OAK, the Pleck, on the ground that they were in such a condition as not to be under proper police supervision and were not needed by the neighbourhood.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1898

“In the case of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck, objection was taken to the renewal on the ground that a direct road had been made from Prince Street. Mr. Jackson appeared for the applicant. The license was renewed on the undertaking to build up the back of the premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Albert E. Ashton, ROYAL OAK, served 76 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

18, Oxford Street

[1] Albert E. Ashton (33), public house manager, born Blackley, Lancashire;

[2] Mary Ashton (32), wife, born Openshaw, Lancashire;

[3] Alice Ashton (4), daughter, born Brindle, Lancashire;

[4] Richard Ashton (2), son, born Walsall;

[5] Edith V. Ashton (3 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Mary Gibbons (59), mother in law, widow, retired weaver, born Stockport;

[7] Alice Gibbons (26), sister in law, barmaid, born Oldham;

[8] Annie M. Marston (18), general servant, born Walsall;

[9] Bertha Blower (14), children’s nurse, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Henry Albert Booth, ROYAL OAK.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“In 1904 a licensing notice of refusal to renew the license was issued to this alehouse about ‘certain structural and other matters’, the manager then being Henry Booth, a similar notice was issued to the new licensee, William Owen in 1905. The owners in 1904 were the Manchester Brewing Company, the contentious matter was not only structural but concerned a barber’s shop owned by, and part of, the licensed premises and opening into the public house yard.....”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The following is the list of houses in respect of which the licensing justices have called the holders of the licenses to show cause why the licenses should be renewed.....

ROYAL OAK INN, Pleck.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/12/1909

“Several applications were made for the transfer of licenses.....

An application was made for the transfer of the license of the ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, from Walter Frost to Elizabeth Cash. Mr. Loxton pointed out to the Bench that originally there were certain clauses in the agreement, one of which was that the license should be forfeited if the licensee was ever summoned for an offence, but he had seen Messrs. Allsop’s representative, and he had undertaken to alter them.

The Chairman: Can you explain why you have had four transfers since 1900? – Messrs. Allsop’s representative explained that the house had only recently been taken over by them, and they had nothing to do with the other transfers. The last tenant had to leave the house through ill-health, acting under medical advice. The application was granted.”

1911 Census

18, Oxford Street – ROYAL OAK

[1] Joseph Loynes (36), licensed victualler, born Church Hill, Wednesbury;

[2] Kate Loynes (37), wife, married 17 years, born Hayfield, Derbyshire;

[3] Anthony Loynes (16), son, currier, born New Mills, Derbyshire;

- [4] William Loynes (14), son, laundry boy, born Oxford Street, Pleck;
[5] Albert Loynes (12), son, born Oxford Street, Pleck;
[6] Elizabeth Hobbins (20), servant, born Walhouse Street, Walsall:

Walsall Observer 14/3/1914

“At the ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, on Thursday night, a whist drive in aid of the Pleck Fresh-air Fund (by which means it is proposed to take a thousand children to Hednesford Hills) was largely attended. The following were the prize winners: Ladies: 1st, Mrs Penn (given by Mrs. Powles); 2nd, Miss Gibbs. Gent’s: 1st, Mr. Penn (given by Mr. Murdock); 2nd, Mr. Knopson (given by Mr. Dutton). Ladies mystic: Miss Haddock (given by Mr. Moss). Ladies prize first half, Miss Haddock (given by Mr. Poulton). . . .”

Joseph Loynes – see also WHITE HART, Caldmore.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917. . . . ROYAL OAK, Pleck. £1 0s 2½d.”

William Mooney was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

1939 Register

18, Oxford Street

- [1] Bertram A. Stone, date of birth 12/1/1886, manager public house, married;
[2] Violet M. Stone, dob 27/4/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[3] William Walker, dob 9/3/1914, clerk, married;
[4] Gladys M. Walker, dob 30/8/1917, assistant in leather warehouse, married:

Walsall Observer 27/7/1940

“A former captain of the Walsall Football Club, John William Bradford, had the license of the ROYAL OAK, Bradford Street (?), transferred to him from Bertram Albert Stone, at Walsall Guildhall, on Wednesday.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions. . . .

ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions. . . . ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck. £6 1s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions. . . .

ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street. £3 10s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 2/9/1944

“Wounded soldiers at Manor Hospital were entertained by Vic Cooper and his party. The artists were: S. Cooper (violin), Jack Lord (comedian), the Great Lorenzo (illusionist), Sid and Cyril Powell (accordionists), Earle Burns (bass), Reg. Humphries (xylophone) and Vic Cooper and his Quintet. Each soldier was given a packet of cigarettes provided by the customers of the ROYAL OAK, Pleck, and employees of Walsall Locks and Cart Gear.”

Walsall Observer 23/12/1944

“At the annual share-out of the death and dividend society connected with the ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, each member who had fully paid up received 19s.”

Birmingham Mail 27/3/1945

“Xylophone for Sale Carlton 3 octaves.

ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street, Pleck, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945

“The Pleck and District Darts league is headed by the FORGE INN ‘A’ who have won all their seven matches. The next three positions are filled by the NEWPORT ARMS, HOPE AND ANCHOR ‘A’ and ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, with 12 points each, then come the DUKE OF WELLINGTON and ROYAL OAK, Pleck. Highest score and highest finish, 146, J. Bullock, HOPE AND ANCHOR 'B'; highest start, 140, S. Hogan, WINDMILL TAVERN."

[2016]

ROYAL OAK

Pepper Alley, (Bullings Heath), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Wright [1861] – [1891]
Noah Cresswell [1896] – 1905;
William Ashen Norris (1905 – []
Henry Turner [] – 1912);
Thomas Parkes (1912 – 1913);
D Thomas (1913 – []
John Edward Vincet [1927]

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Joseph Wright, beer retailer and shoe maker, Walsall Wood. [1861]

1861 Census

Walsall Wood

- [1] Joseph Wright (49), shoemaker and publican, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Wright (20), wife, born Blakenall:
- [3] William Wright (9), son, born Blakenall:
- [4] Mary A. Wright (6), daughter, born Blakenall:
- [5] Elizabeth Wright (2), daughter, born Goscote;
- [6] Emma Wright (4 months), daughter, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Free Press 27/5/1865

"Rushall Petty Sessions..... Joseph Wright, landlord of the ROYAL OAK beer-house, Walsall Wood, was charged with having his house open on Sunday, the 14th inst, for the sale of beer during prohibited hours. Police-constables Hill and Rumney, who visited the premises, and found seven men drinking in the defendant's garden, proved the charge; after which, the Bench sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 20s and costs."

Joseph Wright was also a boot and shoe maker. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

"On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

Joseph Wright, ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, open during prohibited hours on Sunday, 14th May, 1865, fined 20s and costs..... where the parties had been convicted the applications were adjourned."

Birmingham Gazette 23/9/1869

"On Tuesday the adjourned licensing meeting was held.....

The following parties had their licenses renewed, after being duly cautioned.....

Joseph Wright, beerhouse keeper, Walsall Wood."

1871 Census

Pepper Alley – Public House – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Joseph Wright (58), shoemaker and licensed victualler, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Wright (50), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] William Wright (19), son, shoemaker, born Bloxwich;

- [4] Mary Ann Wright (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Wright (10), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Frederick Elsmole (45), shoemaker, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;
- [7] Henry Howes (18), shoemaker's apprentice, born Longdon, Staffordshire;
- [8] Samuel Watson (14), shoemaker's apprentice, born Rushall;
- [9] John Hand (46), boarder, labourer in garden, born Stonnall, Staffordshire;
- [10] John Meeson (48), boarder, tailor, born Burntwood:

1881 Census

Bullings Heath – Beerhouse

- [1] Joseph Wright (68), shoemaker and beerhouse keeper, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Wright (60), wife, born Blakenall;
- [3] William Wright (29), son, shoemaker, born Goscote;
- [4] Emma Wright (20), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] John Critch (73), boarder, retired blacksmith, born Shipley, Derbyshire;
- [6] James Hodgetts (23), boarder, shoemaker, born Wednesfield;
- [7] Jonah Smith (19), shoemaker's apprentice, born Bloxwich;
- [8] John Holloway (17), shoemaker's apprentice, born Long, Staffordshire;
- [9] Joseph Haines (62), workman, labourer, born Stonnall, Staffordshire;
- [10] George Lines (50), boarder, labourer, born Northampton:

1891 Census

Walsall Wood – ROYAL OAK

- [1] Joseph Wright (78), widower, licensed victualler, born Great Haywood;
- [2] Noah Cresswell (35), son in law, bricklayer, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Emma Cresswell (30), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Ernest Cresswell (3), grandson, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Ellen Swain (5), visitor, born Dosthill, Warwickshire;
- [6] Ellen Clowes (17), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/9/1891

“Robert Handley, Joseph Spink, and James Anson, all of Ryecroft, Walsall, were charged with breaking into the ROYAL OAK beerhouse, Walsall Wood, on the night of the 3rd inst, and stealing a pair of boots, a mallet, and other things, and also breaking into the Anchor Inn, Brownhills, and stealing cigars, wine, and money. They were remanded.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/2/1897

“Air-Gun shooting. A Friendly match was shot at the Chase Inn, Watling Street, on Tuesday, between the ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, and the Chase Inn. Special interest was taken in the match, the home team showed their superiority by 13 points.....”

Lichfield Mercury 15/2/1897

“Air-Gun shooting. Chase Inn, Brownhills v. ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood. The return match between the two above took place at the last mentioned inn on Tuesday evening. The range on this occasion was seven yards. Wallace Shingler, of the Chase Inn team, who shoots excellently well, was again the highest scorer (with J. Bradford) for the visitors. It is not often lady shooters compete, but on this occasion Mrs. Norris and Miss B. Bryan kindly filled vacancies in the ROYAL OAK team and made very creditable scores.....”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....
ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1905

“A temporary authority was granted to William Ashen Norris from Noah Cresswell in respect of the ROYAL OAK INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/7/1912

“Mr. Henry Turner, licensee of the ROYAL OAK, Bullen's Heath, Walsall Wood, applied to the Rushall magistrates on Monday for a temporary transfer to Mr. Thomas Parkes. This was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/5/1913

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday Mr. Thomas Parkes applied for the transfer of the license of the ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, to Mr. D. Thomas. There was no objection and the application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/11/1913

“To celebrate the success of the Aldridge Colliery Rescue Brigade in the recent Hednesford examination, the members of the Walsall Wood class, at whose headquarters the former had been trained, held a supper, at the ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, on Saturday evening. There was a good company present.....”

Walsall Advertiser 7/2/1914

“Caledonian Corks..... A new lodge had also been opened at the ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, and they have enrolled 35 members, which is very satisfactory. During the year they have been favoured with a visit of the chief officers of the Order, also a visit of the officers and members of the Wolverhampton, Bilston and Wednesbury district. They were heartily welcomed by the Walsall members, and two very enjoyable evenings were spent together.”

Lichfield Mercury 18/2/1921

“At the annual Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division on Monday.....

The whole of the licenses would be renewed with the exception of a number of houses which would be visited, and where alterations were needed, chiefly for living accommodation and better sanitary conditions. The houses to be visited were..... ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses..... On the ground of redundancy..... ROYAL OAK, Bullings Heath.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1927

“Notice Of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.

Notice is hereby given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday, the 19th day of July, 1927, at 11 o'clock am.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

ROYAL OAK, Bullings Heath, Walsall Wood. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee John Edward Vincet.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/7/1927

“.....at the principal meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Compensation Authority held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....

Mr. Jackson opposed the closing of the ROYAL OAK, Bullings Heath, Walsall Wood.

Inspector Clarke stated that there was a fully-licensed house within 43 yards of the ROYAL OAK.

Mr. Jackson contended that if this house was closed, it would mean that people living in that neighbourhood would have to send 776 yards to the nearest beerhouse. He admitted that there was a fully-licensed house within 43 yards.

The Court refused to renew the licence.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/1/1928

“At the meeting of the Compensation Authority held on July 19, the Committee refused 13 out of 16 licenses referred to them. At the Supplemental Meeting the Committee fixed the compensation of the undermentioned cases as follows.....

ROYAL OAK, Walsall Wood, beerhouse, ante-1869. £1,380 5s.

In all the before-mentioned cases the money had been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and would be paid on 24th December instant.”

RYECROFT TAVERN

16, Mill Street / Rycroft Hill, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Roberts

LICENSEES

Frederick Denham [1841] – [1842]
Thomas Stokes [1845]
Richard Smith [1847]
William Miner [1849] – 1862);
Letitia Miner (1862 – [1865]
Thomas Miner [1870] – [1873]
John Roberts [1872] – [1881]

NOTES

Thomas Stokes was also a bricklayer and builder. [1845]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1847 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by S. Bloore, Jun, on Wednesday, the 17th day of March instant, at the NEW INN, Walsall, at four o’clock in the afternoon, by direction of the mortgagees, and subject to conditions of sale then to be produced.....

Lot II. All those two modern Dwelling-Houses, with ornamental cemented fronts, adjoining Lot I and fronting to Mill Street aforesaid, in the occupation of Richard Smith and William Smith. One of the houses is known as the RYECROFT TAVERN, with brewhouse and suitable outoffices to each, pump, yard, and premises behind the same, producing at low rents £26 1s per annum.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1848 - Notice

“In The County Court of Staffordshire Holden at Walsall, 1848.

In the matter of the Petition of Richard Smith, at present and for ten months residing at Bloxwich Lane, in the Foreign of Walsall, and county of Stafford, Retail Brewer and Butty Collier; for thirteen months previously thereto residing at Ryecroft, in the said Foreign, and being a Licensed Victualler and Butty Collier; and for two years and upwards previously thereto residing at Church Hill, Wednesbury, in the said county of Stafford, and being a Victualler and Butty Collier.

Notice is hereby given, that Mr. Sergeant Clarke, the Judge of the County Court of Staffordshire holden at Walsall, acting in the matter of the said Petition, will proceed to make a final order thereon, at the said Court, on Wednesday, the twenty-seventh day of December instant, at one o’clock in the afternoon, at the Court House, at Walsall aforesaid, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.

George Edmonds, Solicitor, Birmingham.”

William Miner = William Myner

1851 Census

Mill Street, Rushall

- [1] William Miner (41), iron stone miner, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [2] Lettice Miner (44), wife, born Dawley, Shropshire;
- [3] Thomas Miner (20), son, iron stone miner, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [4] George Miner (18), son, iron stone miner, born Bilston;
- [5] William Miner (16), son, iron stone miner, born Bilston;
- [6] Enoch Miner (14), son, scholar, born Oldbury;
- [7] Ann Miner (12), daughter, scholar, born Oldbury;
- [8] Jane Miner (10), daughter, scholar, born Oldbury;
- [9] Lettice Miner (7), daughter, scholar, born Rushall;
- [10] Emma Miner (5), daughter, scholar, born Rushall;
- [11] Hannah Plummer (19), house servant, born Dawley, Shropshire:

Birmingham Journal 4/8/1855

“On Saturday last, a man named Joseph Haines lost his life in an ironstone pit, belonging to Mr. Hailland, at Bloxwich. Some stone was required to be blown down, and for this purpose deceased and another man placed some powder in it, to which they applied a light; deceased then went to the bottom of the shaft, and endeavoured to hook the bowk to the chain, and at the same time gave the signal to be drawn up. The engine started, but deceased, finding he had not hooked the bowk on, jumped and laid hold of the hook with his hands, and was drawn part of the way up the pit, when he loosed his hold, and fell down, sustaining such injuries as caused his death on the following Monday. Deceased’s fellow-workman then extinguished the light which had been applied to the powder, and thus prevented the danger of its firing whilst he was in the pit. The powder which was intended to fire was only a short distance from the bottom of the shaft, and the fear of its going off whilst he was down no doubt caused deceased to endeavour to ascend in the perilous way mentioned. The above facts were detailed in evidence at an inquest held on Tuesday last at the RYECROFT TAVERN, in the parish of Rushall, before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, and a verdict of Accidental Death was recorded.”

1861 Census

16, Mill Street

[1] William Miner (51), victualler, born Dawley Bank, Shropshire;

[2] Letitia Miner (54), wife, born Dawley Bank, Shropshire;

[3] Enoch Miner (24), son, bridle cutter, born Oldbury;

[4] Ann Miner (22), daughter, born Oldbury;

[5] Jane Miner (20), daughter, born Oldbury;

[6] Letitia Miner (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Emma Miner (15), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Elizabeth Miner (6), granddaughter, born Rushall:

Walsall Free Press 1/6/1861

“Several summonses were heard before the justices this day, for infringement of weights and measures regulation of the district ‘C’ of South Staffordshire. All the summonses were preferred in the name of William Tullett, inspector of weights and measures for the district.....

William Minor, RYECROFT TAVERN, one measure. Fined 1s and costs. In each of the above cases the costs amounted to 12s.”

Walsall Free Press 10/5/1862

“At the Rushall petty sessions, on Tuesday last, the following transfers took place.....

RYECROFT TAVERN, from William Miner, deceased, to Letitia Miner, his widow.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1866

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the RYECROFT TAVERN, Ryecroft, on the body of Richard Rowley, aged forty-six, an engineer, living in the neighbourhood. The evidence went to show that the deceased had been in a bad state of health for some years, but that notwithstanding this, he was out last Saturday night, with several persons, who drank freely, and towards midnight caused a disturbance by disputing over a foot race which some of them had been running. The next morning he went out about ten o’clock without partaking of breakfast, and proceeded with a man named Abraham Dummy, to the Birchills, and afterwards to the SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street, partaking of ale more than once in the course of the morning. At a quarter past three o’clock he returned home, and had barely entered the house when he was seized with a violent fit of coughing, which was followed by vomiting of blood; then falling into his son’s arms, he almost instantly expired. Verdict, Died by Visitation of God.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/8/1870

“Rushall Annual Licensing Day The Inspector presented the Bench a list of licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers who had been fined for breach of license in the course of the past three years.....

Thomas Miner, RYECROFT TAVERN, Ryecroft.”

1871 Census

16, Mill Street

[1] Thomas Miner (46), victualler and charter master, born Dawley, Shropshire;

[2] Ann Miner (40), wife, born Dudley;

[3] Mariann Miner (15), daughter, born Rushall;

[4] Annie Miner (12), daughter, born Rushall;

[5] Letitia Miner (age unclear), daughter, born Rushall;

[6] Major Thomas Miner (5), son, born Rushall;

[7] Alice Jane Miner (12), daughter, born Rushall;

[8] Letitia Bate (18), general servant, born Rowley:

SADDLERS ARMS

Fishley Lane, Lower Farm, Little Bloxwich, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Thomas Smith (1962 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened on 15th November 1962.

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 11/4/1999 - Advert

“Elaine did it, so can You!

Elaine found it hard to slim on her own so she finally went along to one of our slimming classes for help. Elaine found the friendly atmosphere and individual attention was just what she needed to concentrate on losing weight.

Lose Your Weight with Super Slim. We give you a choice of 3 successful diets on which you will Never be hungry, individual attention, recommended only normal family foods and No Calorie Counting.....

SADDLERS ARMS Lounge, Fishley Lane, Little Bloxwich, Tue 7.00pm.”

Express & Star 27/7/2023

“A pair of new homes could be built on a Bloxwich pub car park to help preserve the boozers’ future. Applicant Andrew Carter has put forward plans to create a pair of three-bedroom semi-detached houses on a ‘redundant’ part of the SADDLERS ARMS car park on Fishley Lane. A previous plan was refused by Walsall Council and a subsequent appeal by the developer was rejected by the planning inspectorate in 2001. It was previously refused for reasons including officers believing it represented a cramped, over-development of the site and the small size of the proposed gardens. But Mr. Carter said amendments have been made to address concerns and believes the housing will fit in with the area and enable the retention of the pub, which has stood there for 70 years. If planning officers do grant permission, it would leave the pub with 10 off-street car parking spaces.....

Walsall Council planning officers are expected to make a decision on the plan in September.”

[2023]

SADDLERS ARMS

27, (30), Station Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Andrew Holmes, painter, Stafford Street, Walsall

Mrs. F. Eglinton

Trent Valley Brewery Co. [1883]

James Eadie Ltd, Burton on Trent [1910]

LICENSEES

Henry Stone [1871] – [1872];

John Boonham [];

Mrs. Maria Boonham [];

George Brindley [1880] – [1881];

Job Smith [];

William Henry Hadley [1883];

Mrs. Emily Hadley [];

Thomas Poole [];

Charles F Brown [1891] ?

Charles Hill [1896] – 1903);

George Ernest James (1903 – 1905);

Alfred Chappell (1905 – 1912);

NOTES

27, Station Street [1871], [1881], [1901]

30, Station Street [1891]

SADDLERS HOME [1850], [1872], [1881], [1883],[1891], [1897], [1903], [1904], [1910]

It had a beerhouse license.

1871 Census

27, Station Street – The SADLERS HOME INN

- [1] Henry Stone (25), brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann Stone (25), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ellen Stone (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Stone (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Julia Somerfield (16), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/12/1871

“Walsall Petty Sessions. Henry Stone, beerhouse keeper, pleaded guilty to having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours on Sunday morning last, and was fined £1 and costs.”

Henry Stone, beer retailer, 27, Station Street. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/9/1872

“George Parkes, brass dresser, previously convicted, was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment with hard labour for having stolen 7s 9½d, the property of Henry Stone, of the SADDLERS HOME beer-house, Station Street. The prisoner was drinking at the prosecutor’s house on Tuesday evening, and during the absence of the servant girl from the room he emptied a box used as a till, and went away, giving part of the proceeds of the robbery to a companion to say nothing about it. The companion, a young man named Rawson, went to the police station and reported the matter.”

1881 Census

27, Station Road – SADDLERS HOME

- [1] George Brindley (26), publican, born Burntwood;
- [2] Mary Brindley (23), wife, born Coseley;
- [3] Mary E. Brindley (2), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [4] George H. Brindley (2 months), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Phoebe Connelly (60), wife’s mother, born Walsall;
- [6] John Connelly (21), wife’s brother, born Coseley;
- [7] Edward Tarry (48), boarder;
- [8] John Holroyd (45), boarder, stone mason, born Cleobury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1883

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The clerk announced that all the cases adjourned from the licensing sessions would be still further adjourned for a fortnight; and in answer to Mr. Loxton he said the name of Mr. Smith, SADLERS HOME, Station Street, did not appear in the list. Mr. Loxton then applied for a transfer of the license of the house to Mr. W. H. Handley, of the Pleck, and said that in compliance with the notice of the magistrates Mr. Smith had sent a man named Stone, to whom the Bench objected, away from the house. Mr. Holden said the magistrates were very dissatisfied with the manner in which some of the brewery companies conducted their houses, particularly allowing the keepers of the house to come and go without any change on name taking place; and, speaking personally, if the matter ever came before him in another way he should certainly mark his sense of the irregularity. Mr. Loxton said the Trent Valley Brewery Company would not do anything to bring themselves under the censure of the Bench. Mr. Loxton’s application and the adjourned cases were then adjourned.”

William Henry Hadley was married to Emily.

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1885 - Advert

“Beerhouse To Let, at once, the SADDLERS HOME, Station Street, Walsall. Apply to the Landlord.”

1891 Census

30, Station Street – SADLERS HOME

- [1] Charles F. Brown (37), publican, born Market Deeping, Lincolnshire;
- [2] Annie Brown (22), wife, born Wombourne;
- [3] Edie A. Brown (9 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Marie E. Holland (22), visitor, lady companion, born Croydon;
- [5] Louise B. Monk (23), barmaid, born Berkhamstead;
- [6] Mary Anne Bates (19), cook, born Blakenhall, Staffordshire;
- [7] Hannah Rice (17), servant, born Oldbury;
- [8] Arthur Griffiths (19), waiter, born Wolverhampton:

Charles Hill, beer retailer, 27, Station Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 30/1/1897

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Thomas Wood, aged 25 years, printer, back of 21, Fox Street, Birmingham, was placed in the dock on remand, charged with having in company broken and entered the lock-up shop of Messrs. Sheppard Bros., jewellers and silversmiths, Park Street, Walsall, and stolen therefrom a number of watches, alberts, and a quantity of jewellery, value £260. Mr. Muntlow, Birmingham, defended.

The Chief Constable (Mr. Taylor) said he was reluctantly compelled to ask for a further remand, as he was unable as yet to effect the arrest of three other men wanted. There was an officer now trying to arrest them.

Mr. Muntlow strongly objected to the remand, and the Bench decided to hear the evidence.

Sidney Fisher deposed that on the night of the 18th inst. he locked up the shop in Park street shortly after eight o'clock. Next morning he found that the lock had been removed and a brass padlock (produced) substituted, while watches and jewellery had been stolen, the loss to him being £260.

Charles Hill, son of the proprietor of the SADDLERS HOME, in Station Street, said that four men lodged on the night of the 18th inst. One of these he recognised as the prisoner. The following day witness was shown a number of photographs at the detective office in Birmingham, and identified that of the prisoner and two of the others who had stayed at the SADDLERS HOME.

In cross-examination, witness said he could tell the prisoner by his features. He did not say that the only thing he could identify him by was the ring he wore.

Re-examined, witness said he was shown a large book full of photographs at Birmingham, and immediately picked out the three.

Detective-sergeant Wheeler (Birmingham), said the public-house they went to was the Ship in Fox Street. The people were just coming out and witness asked Hill if he knew any of them. Hill replied ‘Yes, that’s one of them’ pointing out the prisoner. He also identified another man known to witness. They followed prisoner to his house. When they told him that Harper was an officer from Walsall to take him back he became very excited and somewhat violent.

Cross-examined: The prisoner must have known him (laughter) and had time to bolt before they went to his house if he had thought to do so,

Mr. Hill, senior, identified two of the photographs produced as those of the men who stayed at his house. At six o'clock next morning he let them out. They went up Station Street and turned down Park Street. He should have gone to see if they went by train had anyone else been up, as he knew there was no train at that time.

Mr. Taylor said he could trace some of the property to the prisoner’s companions, if the magistrates wanted more evidence.

Mr. Muntlow said he was not going to take up the time of the court if the Bench thought that there was sufficient evidence to grant a remand, but in fairness to the prisoner he must say that there did not appear to be sufficient evidence to justify the Bench remanding him. Even supposing the Bench thought that prisoner was one of the four men, what evidence was there to show that one of those men was connected with the robbery? But should he be able to prove an alibi on behalf of the prisoner not only as to the Monday, but the Tuesday night when he was arrested. Practically the whole case rested on the evidence of one man, and did the Bench think that a jury would convict simply on his uncorroborated statement? Furthermore if the prisoner had been guilty, when he had the opportunity of escaping, and knowing the police were on his track, he would have got away.

The Chief Constable said he quite appreciated what Mr. Muntlow said, but he was prepared to prove that some of the property was seen in the possession of some of the prisoner’s companions.

The Bench remanded prisoner for a week.”

[At the Walsall Quarter Sessions, in June 1897, Wood was sentenced to 18 months’ hard labour, he having served three months awaiting trial, and having 15 months ticket-of-leave to serve at penal servitude for a previous conviction, making three years in all, and his companions: Charles Edward Robey, two years and six months’ hard labour; Walter Pugh, six months’ hard labour.]

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1898

“On Monday afternoon Mr. T. Howard Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the Walsall and District Hospital, touching the death of James Gibbs, aged 67 years, who died in that institution from injuries received by falling down some cellar steps while staying at the SADDLERS HOME INN, Station Street. It appears that deceased, who hails from Cross Street, Stafford, and a sheriff’s officer, had been in the habit of staying at the SADDLERS HOME occasionally, and on Monday, May 30th, he again called and asked if he could have a bed. He was directed by Elizabeth Hill, the landlady, to go up the entry and in at the back door to get to his bedroom, when he apparently fell down the cellar steps, and was found lying there by the landlady’s sister, Mrs. Pearce, who heard him fall. Deceased was not drunk at the time he fell, but he had never been directed that way to bed before. He was sent that way round because the house was full. He knew the runs of the house well, and had stayed there three nights in the previous week. Deceased was removed to hospital in a cab, where he was found to be suffering from a scalp wound and concussion of the brain. He had several epileptic fits on the next day, and died on Friday evening.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and recommended that the cellar door should be properly secured, and labelled ‘cellar door,’ to avoid further accidents.”

1901 Census

27, Station Street

[1] Charles Hill (49), harness maker and publican, born Liverpool;

[2] Eliza Hill (46), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Charles Hill (26), son, harness maker, born Walsall;

[4] David Hill (22), son, leather japanner, born Walsall;

[5] Isaiah Hill (20), son, harness maker, born Walsall;

[6] Jane Hill (20), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Leonard Hill (15), son, harness maker, born Walsall;

- [8] Harold Hill (12), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Emily Hill (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [10] Jane Hyde (79), mother in law, widow, born Birmingham;
- [11] John Doyle (67), visitor, plasterer, born Liverpool;
- [12] Eyre C. Saddler (43), visitor, steam pipe fitter, born St. Helens;
- [13] William Hipwood (46), visitor, currier, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 18/1/1902

“Joseph Haynes, living at the SADDLERS HOME, Station Street, was summoned for frequenting Park Street for the purpose of bookmaking or betting between the 30th December and January 2nd, and Thomas Worley, of Stafford Street, was summoned for aiding and abetting on January 2nd. Mr. J. Armstrong defended.

Police-constable Lloyd said that on January 2nd he saw Hughes frequenting Park Street and receive eight slips of paper and money from different men. He saw him receive two slips of paper from Worley and also saw money pass. Witness asked Haynes to show him the papers; Haynes refused but offered to show them at the police station. On the way to the station Haynes several times dropped the papers in the mud. The papers contained the names of horses running at Manchester that day. Witness stated that he had previously cautioned Haynes about his conduct the same day, and on three prior days he had seen him frequenting Park Street.

In answer to Mr. Armstrong, witness said that he saw money pass between Worley and Haynes, although he was fifty yards away at the time.

The defence was that Haynes was given the two slips of paper to take to another man, and being anxious to know what the horse's names were on the paper and not being able to read himself, he asked Worley to read them, and he handed the papers back to Haynes. It was contended that was all that took place, and that the officer had drawn a good deal on his imagination.

The Bench held a different view, and imposed a penalty of 20s and costs upon each of the defendants.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1903

“Lucy Bradbury (25), John Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly on Wednesday.

Police-constable Jones gave evidence.

The Chief Constable said that prisoner was on the Black List, and that publicans had been warned not to supply her, and had been provided with a photograph of her. From what she stated it seemed clear although she herself had not been supplied, a man she was with obtained drink for her. He suggested that the Bench should censure the license holder concerned. Before she was put on the Black List prisoner was constantly being brought before the Court, but since then she had been going well till now.

Charles Hill, landlord of the SADDLERS HOME, beerhouse, Station Street, was called before the magistrates, and the clerk (Mr. Loxton) said it was alleged that the drink which the woman had had was obtained at his house. The suggestion was that there must have been carelessness on his part for this to have taken place. Hill, in reply, said the woman had not been supplied, and no one took her any drink to his knowledge. He could not understand how she had obtained the drink.

Mr. Loxton: If a person on the Black List was found in your yard drunk, I would think you would have rather a difficult case to defend.

Hill replied that the public-house yard was a thoroughfare, and had been a complete nuisance to him for some time.

Mr. Bayliss said the magistrates trusted that this case would be a warning to license holders to be careful.

Defendant was put on her good behaviour for a month, and promised to sign the pledge.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4], [1905]

George James, beer retailer, 27, Station Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

George Ernest James, SADDLERS HOME.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

SADDLERS HOME. Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith, who appeared for the owner (Messrs Jas. Eadie, Ltd.) and the tenant (Geo. Ernest James) said the license was an ante '69 one.

Mr. Loxton said that the grounds of the objection raised by the magistrates in respect of this license were that there was a badly lighted yard at the rear, which was beyond the control of the landlord and liable to be frequented by bad characters.

Mr. Pearman-Smith explained that there was a cartway leading to the rear, but the occupants of the premises only had a right of way. He was prepared, however, to give an undertaking that the tenants would pay their share towards the lighting to the entry.

Geo. Ernest James stated that he had held the tenancy for seven months, at a rental of £35 per annum. He paid £81 for valuation upon entering.

Mr. Loxton said that the license was not down under a list which he had as an ante '69 one, and he asked if it could be proved that his (Mr. Pearman-Smith's) statement was correct.

Later in the afternoon Mr. Mills, who had lived two doors from the SADDLERS HOME for a period of 48 years, stated that the license, to his knowledge, had been in existence for 40 years. Forty-eight years ago it was a coffee house. The premises were the same as those for which the license was held prior to 1869. Renewed.”

AND

“The annual licensing meeting was continued on Thursday for the sixth day.....

SADDLERS HOME, Station Street. Adjourned.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates were not satisfied that this house did not come within sub-section 2 of the 1869 law as to being used by prostitutes and thieves &c, especially in view of some cases which had come before the Court within the last two years.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

“The adjourned annual brewster session were held on Tuesday.....

The SADDLERS HOME was mentioned again by Mr. Pearman-Smith, the case having been put back for inquiries to be made. He understood that some aspersion had been cast on the house, arising from private information obtained by the magistrates, and this he would like cleared up. The house was very clean and respectable, and the police had a high opinion of it. He could give an explanation which would dispose of any aspersion, but not in public.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had not acted on private information, but as far as any aspersion being cast on the house, that could be cleared up at once. There had been, as the records of the court showed, a case in which thieves had stopped at this house, whilst it was connected with another case also. Both affairs were before the present tenant’s time, he believed, but the matter had been left in the hands of the Chief Constable for inquiries. If the magistrates, as a result, found any objections to renewal, Mr. Pearman-Smith would be called on to give his explanation. The license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

In the case of the SADDLERS HOME, Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared for Alfred Chappell, the tenant, and Messrs. Eadie, the owners.

Chief-inspector Ballance gave evidence as to the accommodation provided by the house and its distance from other licensed premises. Until recently it was frequented by youths and young girls, but that had been altered owing to police supervision to which it had been subjected.

Cross-examined by Mr. Pearman-Smith: The tenant conducted the house as well as possible, and he did not suggest that the girls and youths who used to go there were bad characters. The tenant let rooms, and the working class people in search of lodgings were often recommended there. The STAR AND GARTER, another beer-house, was perhaps slightly less used than the SADDLERS HOME.

Alfred Chappell, the tenant, said he had been at the house nearly five years and had conducted it during that time without any complaints whatever from the police. There were five bedrooms, and three of those were let to travellers and others.

Coming to the question of trade, Mr. Pearman-Smith observed, ‘How do you like it, Mr. Loxton, in barrels, or what?’ – Mr. Loxton: Any way you like. (Laughter).

Continuing, the witness said his average trade was about four barrels a week, and his takings for drink alone, amounted to between £14 and £15.

Asked if he gave the long-pull, the witness said he did not go beyond pulling half-pints in jugs sometimes.

Mr. Loxton: There is the long-pull, the longer pull, and the longest pull. (Laughter).

Mr. Pearman-Smith: He gives the shortest of those pulls. (Renewed laughter).

Mr. Pearman-Smith then gave the details of the trade. The total barrelage for the last three years, he said, was 510, and the takings in 1908 and 1909, exclusive of the receipts for the letting of beds, amounted to £735 15s 2d and £680 respectively.

Addressing the Bench in support of the renewal of the license, Mr. Pearman-Smith said the owner of the house did not understand why certain houses in the street should be scheduled and others not. In Station Street there were four houses close together, and they had heard that the other beer-house in the street, which was a fair comparison, was hardly so good, but it had not been scheduled. That seemed slightly unfair to the owners of the SADDLERS HOME. Objection was taken some years ago by the police to that particular district, and everything suggested to bring about an improvement was done. The police had admitted that it was a respectable house, and the tenant was conducting a bona-fide business. He was a publican who gave hospitality and provided beds, and that was the sort of business that ought to be encouraged. The place was in close proximity to the station, and of the four houses close together was the only one that let beds. Of the four houses there were only two bona-fide tenants, and the SADDLERS HOME was one of them.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 25th February 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o’clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

SADDLERS HOME, Station Street. Beerhouse. Licensee Alfred Chappell.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1910

“A meeting of the Licensing Justices was held on Tuesday morning.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared for the licensee, Mr. A. Chappell for the renewal of the license of the SADDLERS HOME, Station Street. The owners are Eadies Brewery Company, Burton-on-Trent. He stated that the house was in close proximity to the station, and the tenant, who had a bona-fide license, and who had recently paid £50 goodwill to enter the house, let bedrooms on the recommendation of the police. A good trade was done, and the house carried on very respectably. The rent was £32, and the contribution to the Compensation Fund was £10. The assessment was £42 a year, and the rateable value £32. The licensee said he had occupied the house since June last year, and never had a complaint from the police. The license was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910

“A supplementary meeting of the Licensing Justices to consider claims for compensation was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall. Mr. W. Bayliss presided, and there were present Messrs. W. E. Blyth, T. A. Smith, J. Clare, W. Halford, A. D. Cozens, J. J. Lynch, A. Jagger, and R. Thomas. The following houses came up for consideration.....

SADDLERS ARMS, Station Street; owners, James Eadies Ltd, Burton Brewery; tenant and licensee, Alfred Chappell.”

1911 Census

Station Street – SADDLERS ARMS

- [1] Alfred Chappell (35), beerhouse keeper, born Hoxton, London;
- [2] Lily Chappell (30), wife, married 8 years, assists in bar, born Evesham, Worcestershire;
- [3] Edna Chappell (8), niece, born Evesham, Worcestershire;
- [4] Lizzie Hopkins (14), general servant, born Aldridge, Staffordshire:

Alfred Chappell, beer retailer, 27, Station Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1912

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, the Mayor (Councillor J. Venables) presiding. Four licensed houses came up for consideration, with the question of compensation to be paid for closing them. The houses were the SADDLERS HOME and the STAR AND GARTER public houses in Station Street, and the VAULTS, in High Street, and the ROVERS REST at Leamore. It was decided that the four houses should be closed on or before March 25th, and the amounts to be paid as compensation were agreed upon between the justices and the parties concerned.”

It closed in 1912.

It became Station Street Working Men’s Club in 1913.

ST. MATTHEWS HALL

Lichfield Street / Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

J. D. Wetherspoon (acquired in 2011)

LICENSEES

Ricky Suman [2011] – [2015]
Chris Doolan [2017] shift leader

NOTES

It was originally a library.

It is Grade II listed.

www.jdwetherspoon.com

“This striking grade II listed building was previously MARTHA’S VINEYARD, the short-lived successor to the Old Court pub/ nightclub which opened in 1998. The Greek Doric-style building was purpose built in 1830-31 as Walsall’s first permanent library.

Named St Matthew's Hall, it was for subscribers only. By 1847, it was in a state of disrepair and, not long after, it was altered internally to accommodate the county court."

It opened as the OLD COURT HOUSE in 1998.

[2005]

Its name was changed to MARTHA'S VINEYARD.

[2007]

Closed

It underwent a £1.15m refurbishment.

It reopened as a Wetherspoons pub called ST. MATTHEWS HALL in 2011, the Mayor of Walsall performing the honours.

Express & Star 23/2/2021

"An historic Walsall pub is set to get a new covered courtyard for customers after plans for a refurbishment were given the go-ahead. Wetherspoon's ST. MATTHEWS HALL pub, in Lichfield Street, will see its existing conservatory demolished and replaced by a new extension aimed at improving facilities. Bosses said the modern conservatory would also improve the external appearance of that part of the building, which leads onto the rear beer garden. The Grade II Listed ST. MATTHEWS HALL dates back to the 19th century and was built in 1831 to give Walsall a new library. Around 20 years later, it was converted into Walsall County Court and also housed a savings bank and lecture hall. In recent years, it has served as a pub and was previously called the OLD COURTHOUSE, in a nod to the building's history. The original front facing Lichfield Street remains....."

Express & Star 14/2/2023

"A Wetherspoon pub is to revamp the inside of its historic Walsall town centre building to provide better facilities for customers. The pub giant will remove internal walls to create a bigger area for punters as well as improving toilets and access to the upper floor of ST. MATTHEWS HALL in Lichfield Street. Walsall Council planning officers granted listed building consent for the works to be carried out on the 19th century property. ST. MATTHEWS HALL was given Grade II listed status in 1986. It was built around 1831 as a public library after the land was purchased for £50. It later became the Walsall County Court until the late 20th century when it was then converted into a pub. Alterations to be made include the removal of walls at the back of the internal bar to convert disused storage areas to create a bigger customer area; existing window frames to be removed to open up the new conservatory to the existing dining area and reconfiguration of the platform lift, stairs and raised area to give better access between the two levels. There will also be a new opening formed to give customers access to the first floor toilets and the current first floor toilets are to be demolished and new, bigger ones created....."

[2023]

SALUTATION

Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Simon Smith [1834]

SARACENS HEAD

251, (261), (255), (254), Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Robert Madeley, 254, Stafford Street, Walsall
Mrs. Hannah Madeley

John Lapworth
Thomas Caloe Miller
Truman, Hanbury and Buxton Ltd. (acquired in 1888 for £1,700 – with adjacent shop)

LICENSEES

Hannah Hill* [1862]
Mrs. Hannah Madeley* [1867] – [1879];
John Madeley [1880]
John Lapworth [1881];
John Sharp [];
Thomas Russon [1886] – 1888);
Edward Charles Caldicott (1888 – 1890);
Mrs. Emma Darby (1890 – 1903);
Frederick Brewer (1903 – 1905);
Stephen Griffin (1905 – 1907);
Edward Egan (Jnr) (1907 – 1909);

NOTES

254, Stafford Street [1871]
255, Stafford Street [1872]
251, Stafford Street [1881], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1911]
261, Stafford Street [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/7/1862 - Advert

“To Publicans.

To Be Disposed Of, and may be entered upon immediately, the excellent Beerhouse, known by the sign of the SARACENS HEAD, in Stafford Street, Walsall.

The Premises are very convenient and rent low. The reason why the present tenant is leaving is entirely on account of having other business to attend to. Stock and Furniture at valuation.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. George French, Auctioneer and Valuer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

* possibly the same person

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1862

“Hannah Hill, of the SARACENS HEAD public-house, Stafford Street, was charged with keeping her house open on Sunday morning last, at a quarter past ten o'clock. Police-constable Ellia stated that he found two men standing up in the back kitchen, and another concealed behind the door drunk. The defence was that Mrs. Hill was out of town, and that her son-in-law, who was left in charge of the premises, was ill in bed, and was not aware of the presence of the men, who had forced their way into the house while the servant girl was cleaning the door steps. The charge was dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/10/1868

“Last evening a meeting in connection with the Midland Counties Trades Federation was held at the SARACENS HEAD INN, Stafford Street, Walsall; Mr. J. Richards, of the nut and bolt makers, Smethwick and Birmingham presiding. There was a good number of delegates and working men present.....”

1871 Census

254, Stafford Street

- [1] Richard Madeley (42), bricklayer, born Crudgington, Shropshire;
- [2] Hannah Madeley (37), wife, born Rowley;
- [3] John Madeley (15), son, bricklayer, born Crudgington, Shropshire;
- [4] Robert Madeley (14), son, labourer, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles Madeley (12), son, scholar, born France (British subject);
- [6] Ann E. Madeley (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Richard Madeley (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Thomas Madeley (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Lizzie Madeley (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Selina Madeley (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [11] Francis Round (63), boarder, shoemaker, born Porton, Leicestershire:

Walsall Free Press 2/12/1871

“At the County court, on Saturday last, before Mr. A. McLean, judge, an action for breach of warranty of a horse was brought by Mr. Samuel Beck, farmer, Aldridge, to recover from Richard Madeley, publican, Stafford Street, the sum of £8 15s. The plaintiff’s case was that he bought a bay mare from defendant at the last fair, on the faith of a representation that ‘she was as sound as a bell,’ whereas she was lame and incapable of doing continuous work as was shown by several witnesses, including Mr. Weale, the veterinary surgeon, who proved that the mare had an old fracture of the off shoulder, and when he examined her she was only able to walk on three legs. The defence was a denial of the representation, and an allegation that the mare was not lame when sold. The mare was bought at £11, and subsequently sold by auction, after notice to Mr. Madeley, for £2 5s; and his Honour gave plaintiff a verdict for the difference. Mr. Dale appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth for defendant.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/3/1879 - Death

“On the 14th inst, Hannah Madeley, relict of the late Richard Madeley, aged 45 years. Deeply regretted.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/7/1880

“Valuable Freehold Beerhouse and Other Property For Sale. Situate in Stafford Street, Walsall, and Rollingmill Street, The Pleck. To Be Sold By Auction by Mr. W. Horobin (by order of the Trustees acting under the Will of the late Mrs. Hannah Madeley), at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth Walsall, on Monday, the 2nd August, 1880, at Six o’clock in the evening subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society Conditions, to be then produced, which may be seen at the Offices of the undermentioned Solicitor 7 days before the Sale of the undermentioned Properties.

Lot 1. The well-known Freehold Beerhouse, known by the sign of the SARACENS HEAD, situate and being No.254 in Stafford Street, Walsall, in the occupation of Mr. John Madeley; the Jeweller’s Shop, No.255, adjoining the said Beerhouse, in the occupation of Mr. Mark Lees; and the Piece Of Land, No.253, also adjoining the said Beerhouse, except the Mines and Common Rights. Lot 2. All those Six well and substantially-built Leasehold Houses, Numbered 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, and 29 in Rollingmill Street, The Pleck, in the occupation of William Weaver, John Henry Burks, John Cornfield, Henry Tilson, Edward Bentley, and Paul Worley, under Lease from Lord Bradford for 99 years from March, 1857, at the low yearly rental of £2 15s 6d, except the free passage of water and soil from the ground or houses of the Earl of Bradford or his tenants through the present and future channels and drains for the same, and also except the Mines and Minerals thereunder.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Goodall Street, Walsall; or to, Mr. John Glover, Solicitor, Lichfield Chambers, Leicester Street, Walsall.”

John Lapworth = John Lepworth

Wednesbury Herald 29/1/1881

“On Thursday afternoon, Selina, aged 11, daughter of Sarah Webster, Marsh Lane, and Louisa, aged 12, daughter of John Lepworth, the SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street, Walsall, went to the canal for the purpose of sliding. A rapid thaw having set in, the ice gave way, and both children were drowned. The deceased were almost immediately got out, but all efforts to restore animation were of no avail.”

1881 Census

251, Stafford Street – SARACENS HEAD

- [1] John Lapworth (38), greengrocer and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Lapworth (30), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Eliza Lapworth (19), daughter, assistant, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary J. Lapworth (15), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Jennie Lapworth (11 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Jane Lapworth (30), sister, shopwoman, born Walsall;
- [7] James Baker (4), stepson, scholar, born Walsall;

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1886

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Thomas Russon, of the SARACENS HEAD beer-house, Stafford Street, was fined 10s and costs for permitting drunkenness on his premises.

James and Alfred Cowley, father and son, Lower Hall Street, were summoned for being drunk on the premises, and the latter was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment; the former being discharged for the reason that he was convicted on Monday for being drunk in the street after leaving the SARACENS HEAD.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1887

“A meeting of chainmakers was held on Tuesday night, at the SARACENS HEAD, Walsall, to consider the question of establishing a chain manufactory on the co-operative principle. Mr. Juggins presided, and there was a large attendance. Mr. Johnson attended as a deputation from the Manchester Central Board of Productive Co-operation. He addressed the meeting at some length, explaining the principles of co-operation. The conclusion of his address he was accorded a vote of thanks, and a working committee was appointed to further consider the subject.”

Emma Darby was married to Thomas [see also PRINCE BLUCHER].

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

Emma Darby, the SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street, applied in person for a music and singing license for Saturday and Tuesday evenings. Refused.”

1891 Census

251, Stafford Street – SARACENS HEAD

- [1] Emma Darby (57), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Job Darby (18), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [3] Joyce Whittaker (28), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] H. L. P. Whittaker (29), son in law, iron caster, born Walsall;
- [5] Florence E. Whittaker (3), grandchild, born Walsall;
- [6] Ada Whittaker (1), grandchild, born Walsall;
- [7] Minnie Whittaker (1 month), grandchild, born Walsall;
- [8] Alice E. Bennet (18), servant, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 7/8/1891

“A joint representative meeting of miners from the Cannock Chase District and Pelsall District was held at the SARACENS HEAD HOTEL, Walsall, on Friday evening; Councillor B. Dean presiding. Councillor Stanley was elected secretary. Mr. Jordan moved, ‘The representative meeting of Cannock Chase and Pelsall districts believe the formation of a permanent relief fund highly desirable and necessary.’ This was seconded by Mr. Joseph Baker, and unanimously carried.

After a general discussion, it was agreed that a circular should be issued setting forth the objects of the proposed society, and then a meeting should be held to appoint officers and draw up rules.

On the motion of councillor Dean, seconded by M. J. Baker, a resolution was adopted requesting the Court of Chancery to order the whole of the Pelsall Inundation Fund may be handed over to the trustees of the South Staffordshire Accident Committee.”

Mrs. Emma Darby, beer retailer, 251, Stafford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

251, Stafford Street

- [1] Emma Darby (65), widow, publican, born Shrewsbury;
- [2] Joice Whittaker (38), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Henry Whittaker (39), son in law, iron caster, born Walsall;
- [4] Florence Whittaker (13), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Minnie Whittaker (10), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Whittaker (8), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Bert Whittaker (7), grandson, born Walsall;
- [8] Florence Morton (22), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/4/1902

“Emma Darby, widow, the landlady of the SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness, and two butchers names J. H. Hillyer, Stafford Street, and James Thomas Warby, 29, Littleton Street, were charged with being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. J. R. Cooper (Town Clerk) prosecuted, and Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) defended. Mr. Cooper said that on Tuesday the 1st inst. shortly after four o’clock, Mr. Arthur James, pork butcher, Stafford Street, made a complaint to the police and in consequence of that complaint the SARACENS HEAD was visited at 4.25pm by Inspector Pritchard and Police-constable Lloyd. They found the two men in the yard outside the smoke room door, in a state of drunkenness. They were workmen in the employ of Mr. James, who had made the complaint. The officers called the attention of Mrs. Darby to the condition of the men, and she asked them to leave, which they did immediately. Late in the day, about 7pm, Warby was again found on the licensed premises. He did not think the Bench would have any difficulty in finding that the two men were drunk, and that the landlady must have known and permitted them there. It was no use a license-holder telling the Bench that he or she could not get the men away, for they could call the police, and if they did not take advantage of the means the law provided they must take the responsibility.

Arthur T. James, pork butcher, said the men had the day off on Easter Monday, and on the next morning they had not recovered from the effects of it. They came late to work on the Tuesday morning, and left between ten and eleven to have their lunch beer – they were allowed to go every morning for lunch beer. As they were away from work in the afternoon witness went into the SARACENS HEAD, and through the window of the smoke room he saw the cap of one of the men, and asked Mrs. Darby to request the men to leave. About seven pm Warby came on to his premises, but witness would not allow him to commence work again, as he was not fit, being under the influence of beer. Witness was not desirous of giving evidence, and had been subpoenaed.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson, witness said Hillyer had been to a wedding the day before. They both had the day off on the Monday, with permission. On Tuesday morning they came late to work, one three quarters of an hour, and the other an hour and a half. Witness was not put about over their coming late. They started work at about eight, and went out at 10.30 for their lunch beer as usual. Warby worked until about two o’clock, although he was not quite sober then – he was muddled, and had not recovered from the day before. At 7 o'clock Warby was drunk, but witness would think he would find his way home alright. He knew nothing about the condition of Hillyer.

Evidence was then given by Inspector Pritchard and Police-constable Lloyd to the effect that they visited the SARACENS HEAD on the 1st inst. at 4.24 in the afternoon, and saw the two men in the yard by the smokeroom door. The inspector called Mrs. Darby's attention to the condition of the men, and she asked them to leave. They were both drunk, and Warby became abusive. Inspector Pritchard was taking the men's names from Mr. James at 7 o'clock on the evening when Warby came on the premises. He was the worse for drink, but no so bad as in the afternoon.

Mr. Jackson, in defence, said the Bench had to consider two points – were the men drunk, and did they show sufficient indication of it to lead the landlady to think they were drunk? Mrs. Darby had kept the house for twelve years. The men walked decently away without annoying the passengers[?], and he should call evidence to prove the men were not drunk.

Mrs. Darby said when Mr. James came to her house he said that if the men were not off in ten minutes he would have someone else. She therefore asked them to leave, and they got up and went without a murmur. She thought they had gone right away, but a short time afterwards the officers came in and found them in the yard. They were both sober.

Alfred Haywood, caster, Littleton Street, and Joyce Whittaker, daughter of Mrs. Darby, also said the two men at the time were sober.

The Bench retired to consider their verdict, and on returning Alderman Holden said they had decided to convict. Mrs. Darby was fined 20s and costs and the two men 10s and costs each.

The Bench hoped Mrs. Darby would be more careful in future.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1903

“On Tuesday the adjourned annual licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, when the Court was crowded.....

Formal notice of objection had been given to the renewal of the following licenses.....

Emma Darby, SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street.

All the licenses were renewed.”

Frederick Brewer, beer retailer, 251, Stafford Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 15/9/1906

“Joseph James, 101, Hospital Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, the SARACENS HEAD, and Stephen Griffin, SARACENS HEAD, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises on the 3rd inst.

Police-sergeant Atcherley stated that about 6.35 on the date in question he visited the SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street. In the tap room he saw a man named James sitting down with his back against the counter and apparently asleep. When the landlord came from out the smoke room into the bar James roused himself, and he (witness) then found that he was drunk. On the table in front of him was a pint jug nearly full of porter. When he went in he saw the landlord's son reach the porter and put it by him. The landlord refused to serve James with any more drink, whereupon he snatched up the jug of porter and drank it. James then went out and staggered along the footpath up Stafford Street.

Police-constable Smith said he saw James come out of the public house in question. He staggered along the footpath from one side to the other.

James said ‘I had some beer, but not sufficient to make me incapable of drinking.’ He had walked from Birmingham after employment, and felt very tired when he got back. He did not have anything to drink after he left Perry Barr.

The landlord's son said he was in the tap room when James came in. He went up to the counter and asked for a drink, but his mother refused him. He then went and sat down and went to sleep. He was only in the house a few minutes.

Each defendant was fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

SARACENS HEAD. The renewal of the license of this house had been put back from the annual meeting, owing to there having been a conviction. In the meantime there had been a change of tenant, a temporary permit having been granted to Edward Egan, junior, from Ann Maria Griffin, and Mr. Jackson now supported an application for a full transfer.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk) said the Bench would not trouble Mr. Jackson as to the objection to the license, and it would be transferred to Mr. Egan, with a caution as to the conduct of the house.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1909.

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1909

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, 1909, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

The SARACENS HEAD, Beerhouse. Licensee, Edward Egan.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The principal meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, when eight beer-houses and one ale-house, the licenses of which had been referred by the licensing justices, were dealt with, and in each instance the houses were referred for compensation, which means in due course the houses will close.....

The SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street. This is another beer-house; the owners are Messrs. Truman, Hanbury, and Buxton and Company, of Birmingham, and the tenant Edward Egan, at a rental of £30 a year.

Mr. Jackson told the justices that Egan was getting a good living in the house which in 1888, with an adjoining shop was bought by the present owners for £1,700. The shop was afterwards sold for £325, leaving £1,375 for this public house, besides the money spent on it during the past few years. It was the only house owned by the firm in Walsall, and it was doing a quiet trade and the tenant was very happy and did not wish to be disturbed. Without a license he did not suppose the house would be more than £300, or more than 6s or 7s a week.

Mr. Loxton: That’s a dangerous statement to make, because you are not entitled to a license.

Mr. Jackson: Oh yes, we should. I am not speaking as a valuer, but it would be worth £15 per year and that is sufficient to carry a license. I did not include the rates in my estimate.

Asked if he was prepared to tell the Bench the amount of compensation required. Mr. Jackson did so privately.....

The Bench having heard each case separately retired to consider their decision. In returning, the Mayor intimated that the renewals authority report would be adopted, and all the houses referred for compensation.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall, on Thursday, Sir Edward T. Holden presiding over a full Bench of Magistrates.....

Other cases concerned the SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street (Mr. H. H. Jackson appearing for Messrs. Trueman, Buxton, Hanbury and Co, the owners, and for the tenant, Mr. E. Egan), and the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Green Lane (in which Mr. H. H. Jackson represented the trustees of the late Edward Egan, the owners, and the tenant.....

The Magistrates decided to hold a further private sitting to go into the question of figures with the solicitors.

The decisions will be announced at a later date.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910 - Advert

“Forthcoming Auction by Walter Hughes, F.A.I.

Wednesday next, 7th September, at Eleven am, upon the premises, late SARACENS HEAD, Stafford Street, Walsall. The whole of the Public-House Fittings, Counter, Beer Machine, valuable 7-Octave Piano, Tables, Stools, Jugs, Glasses and other Effects, by order of Messrs. Truman’s Brewery, Burton-on-Trent.”

Closed

It became the Regent Works.

SCOTT ARMS

93, (93a), (59), (54), Little Bloxwich, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

C. Beech

Mrs. Hannah Teece, Bloxwich

John Hinton [1890], [1916]

LICENSEES

William Teece [1858] – [1871]

Mrs. Hannah Teece [1872] – 1873;

John Hinton (1873 – 1912);

Anthony William Oebel (1912 – 1916);

Florry Oebel (1916 – 1929);

NOTES

54, Little Bloxwich [1861]

59, Little Bloxwich [1871]

93, Little Bloxwich [1881], [1891]

93a, Little Bloxwich [1901]

SCOTTS ARMS [1872], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1912]

It had a beerhouse license.

William Teece = William Teese

Walsall Free Press 27/3/1858

“Moses Duckworth and James Good were charged with having on the night of Saturday last, garrotted and robbed Antonio Solarie of 1s 2d and a knife. It appeared Antonio, who is an Italian organ boy, had, between the hours of eight and nine o'clock on the evening of Saturday last, gone to a beerhouse near to the Canal, Little Bloxwich, kept by William Teese, and remained there playing to the company till about half-past ten, when he at the request of Mrs. Teese left the house. Immediately after he went out, Good followed. Some party outside was then heard to whistle, and Duckworth who up to that time remained in the house went out, and shortly afterwards the poor boy returned and said he had been robbed by two men answering the description of Duckworth and Good. The lad exhibited to the company the marks upon his neck, which he said had been inflicted by one of the men, who held him tightly by the throat while the other rifled his pockets. Information was given to acting sergeant Simpson, who apprehended the prisoners, and who on being charged with the offence made no reply. In consequence of the complainant's statement being unsupported in the principal points, the prisoners were discharged.”

William Teece, beerhouse, Little Bloxwich. [1858]

1861 Census

54, Little Bloxwich

- [1] William Teece (45), publican and boatman, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Anna Teece (50), wife, grocer, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Ann Teece (20), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Emma Hodson (13), visitor, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] John Smith (13), visitor, scholar, born Tipton:

William Teece, retailer of beer, Little Bloxwich. [1862]

William Teece, shopkeeper and beer retailer, Little Bloxwich. [1868]

1871 Census

Little Bloxwich

- [1] William Teece (62), boatman and beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Hannah Teece (62), wife, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

93, Little Bloxwich – SCOTT ARMS Public House

- [1] John Hinton (39), coal miner, born Pelsall;
- [2] Annie Hinton (40), wife, born Little Bloxwich;
- [3] Sarah A. Hinton (15), daughter, born Heath End, Staffordshire;
- [4] Rosannah Hinton (9), daughter, scholar, born Little Bloxwich;
- [5] Frances Hinton (11), daughter, scholar, born Little Bloxwich;
- [6] Richard Hinton (7), son, scholar, born Hedford [Hednesford?], Staffordshire;
- [7] Mary J. Hinton (5), daughter, scholar, born Little Bloxwich;
- [8] Eliza Hinton (3), daughter, born Little Bloxwich;
- [9] Florry Hinton (7 months), daughter, born Little Bloxwich:

1891 Census

93, Little Bloxwich

- [1] John Hinton (49), beerhouse keeper, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Hinton (51), wife, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah A. Hinton (25), daughter, general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Frances Hinton (21), daughter, general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Rosana Hinton (19), daughter, general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Richard Hinton (17), son, coal miner, born Staffordshire;
- [7] Eliza Hinton (13), daughter, born Staffordshire;
- [8] Florrie Hinton (10), daughter, born Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

“Conservative League.....

At a meeting of the ‘Thomas’ Lodge, held on Thursday last at Bro. Hinton's, the SCOTTS ARMS Little Bloxwich, it was proposed by Bro. Charles Nichols, seconded by Bro. George Bird, that as Mr. Sydney Gedge is to address a meeting at the Blakenall

Heath schoolroom, on Thursday, 15th inst, the usual fortnightly meeting of this lodge on the date be dispensed with, and that Bro. Thornhill of the 'Balfour' Lodge, be asked to deliver his address on 'Disestablishment and Disendowment,' on Thursday, 29th inst, at the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, Bloxwich."

1901 Census

23a Little Bloxwich – SCOTT'S ARMS TAVERN

- [1] John Hinton (58), beerhouse keeper, born Pelsall;
- [2] Ann Hinton (60), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Florry Hinton (20), daughter, born Bloxwich:

Florry Hinton married Anthony Oebel in the 3rd quarter of 1903.

1911 Census

Little Bloxwich

- [1] John Hinton (68), publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Ann Hinton (71), wife, married 44 years, born Little Bloxwich;
- [3] Gertrude C. Hoper (19), servant, born Stafford:

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.

New Members. Anthony William Oebel, SCOTT ARMS, Little Bloxwich."

Walsall Advertiser 26/4/1913

"On the application of Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, an alteration to the kitchen of the SCOTT'S ARMS, Little Bloxwich, and alterations to the brewery and outhouses of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bloxwich, were sanctioned by the Bench."

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

"The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.

The magistrates granted the following transfers of licenses.

SCOTT ARMS, Little Bloxwich, from Anthony William Oebel to Florry Oebel. In the case of the SCOTT ARMS Mrs. Oebel was the daughter of the owner of the property, and that her husband was at present interned."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.

SCOTT'S ARMS, Bloxwich. £0 15s 10½d."

Compensation of £1,150 was paid on 24th December 1929.

The license was extinguished on 31st December 1929.

SEVEN STARS

51, (50), Dudley Street / Bath Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Henry Moseley

William Downing, maltster, Smethwick

J. W. Brookes

LICENSEES

John Thomas [1834] – [1835]

Thomas Lynex [1841] – [1845]

John Partridge [1850] – [1851]

George Johnson [1851]

John Whittyears [1855]

John J Johnson [1860] – [1865]

George Farmer [1866] – [1870]

John Westley [1871] – [1873];

Mrs. Emma Westley [];
John Worth [];
Frederick Milner [];
Martha Wearing [];
John Timmins [];
Maria Boonham [];
John Hinton Allsopp [1881] – 1887);
Benjamin Francis Wood (1887 – 1888);
Edwin James Warner (1888 – 1892);
John Morgan (1892 – 1893);
William Horton (1893 – [1901] last

NOTES

51, Dudley Street [1860], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1871], [1892], [1896], [1904]
50, Dudley Street [1868], [1870], [1873], [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Thomas, retailer of beer, Dudley Street. [1835]

Thomas Lynex was also a spur tackle maker. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 6/4/1850 - Married

“On the 1st inst, at St. Mary’s Catholic Chapel, (by the Rev. Walter Love) Mr. John Partridge, landlord of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, Walsall, to Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Boonham, of the TIGER INN, Wisemore.”

George Johnson = George Johnston

George Johnson was also a tailor. [1851]
He was born c.1819.

Birmingham Journal 26/5/1855

“John Whitty, landlord of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, was summoned on Monday before the Magistrates, on the charge of knowingly permitting gambling on his premises. Mr. Sill was retained for the defence. In the Journal of last week it was stated that three Irishmen, named McGuire, McCarthy, and O’Hara, had been convicted for causing a affray in the public streets. It was stated by them that the quarrel had originated through card playing at the house of defendant, and that of a beer-house keeper named Paddock, in Green Lane. The Irishmen were called and distinctly testified to the gaming, with the knowledge of the landlady. A penalty of 20s and costs was then inflicted. In the case of Paddock, a similar fine was imposed.”

1861 Census

51, Dudley Street
[1] John Johnson (46), publican, tailor, &c, born Walsall;
[2] Eliza Johnson (46), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Maria Johnson (15), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Esther Johnson (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Lucy Johnson (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] John Johnson (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Frederick A. Johnson (5), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1862 - Notice

“SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, Walsall.

Mrs. Johnson begs to give notice to her friends and the public that she intends to have a Friendly Tea Party on Easter Monday. Tickets 1s each. Music included. Tea on the table at Five o’clock. Dancing to commence at Seven o’clock.”

AND

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1862

“The Easter Holidays.

Judging from the programme as set forth in our advertising columns, the ensuing week, which is generally looked upon as a holiday time, is to be a more than usually busy season – if not in the way of business, at least in the way of pleasure, amusement, and instruction. At Rushall three sermons are to be preached in the Congregational Chapel, in aid of the funds of that place of worship, on behalf of which a tea-meeting will be held on the following day, on which day (Monday) Mrs. Johnson, of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, invites her friends to a friendly meeting of a similar character the same afternoon.....”

Walsall Free Press 26/4/1862

“John Holt was charged by police-constable Lees, with having been drunk and disorderly, in Dudley Street, about three o’clock on Tuesday morning. It appeared that the officer had been called in to the SEVEN STARS public-house, to eject an Irishman, who was creating a disturbance. On the officer going in the defendant told the Irishman not to go, and threatened the officer. Defendant, who expressed his regret for what had occurred, was sentenced to pay 5s and costs, or in default be imprisoned for seven days.”

J. J. Johnson was also a tailor and tea dealer. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 7/5/1864 - Advert

“On Whit-Monday, May 15, A Friendly Tea Party will be held at Mr. Johnson’s, The SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street. Tea on the Table at Five o’clock. Tickets 1s each, music included.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/12/1866

“George Farmer, landlord of the SEVEN STARS public house, Dudley Street, was charged with having allowed gambling with cards in his house on the 17th instant. The summons had been issued in consequence of certain disclosures made during the hearing of an assault case heard last week. The defendant pleaded guilty, and the chief superintendent having spoken in his favour, he was fined 10s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1868 - Advert

“The SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, Walsall.

The Licenses and Possession, together with the Brewing Plant, Fixtures of Trade, Household Furniture, and Effects will be Sold by Auction, by George Bayley, This day (Thursday), October 8, under a mortgage sale.”

1871 Census

51, Dudley Street

- [1] John Westley (50), stirrup maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Emily Westley (49), wife, born Worcester;
- [3] John Westley (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen Westley (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Sharrod (64), boarder, tailor, born Lichfield:

Walsall Free Press 7/6/1873

“Michael Sweeney was charged with having, on Tuesday last, stolen a black velvet jacket, value 3s, from the SEVEN STARS public-house, Dudley Street, and was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

John Hinton Allsopp = John Hinton Alsopp

1881 Census

51, Dudley Street

- [1] John Hinton Allsopp (46), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Maria Alsopp (50), wife, born Beckington, Somerset;
- [3] Henry Alsopp (30), son, brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] Emily Dicks (15), general servant, born Sambrook, Wiltshire;
- [5] Thomas Pratt (35), lodger, L&NW rail lamp man, born Birmingham:
[Beckington is about 5 miles SW of Trowbridge.]

Walsall Observer 21/3/1885

“The anniversary of No.2 Lodge of Walsall of the Loyal Ancient Order of Caledonian Corks (held at Bro. J. H. Allsop’s the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street) was celebrated on Tuesday evening at the lodge house, by the members and friends sitting down to an excellent supper.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/6/1891

“Edward [sic] James Warner, the SEVEN STARS INN, Dudley Street, was summoned for supplying liquor to a drunken man and also permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises. Mr. J. N. Cotterell defended. The evidence of Police-sergt. Marshall and Police-constable Willett was to the effect that on the afternoon of the 9th inst. they found a man named Hooper, who was in a drunken condition, and who in fact had been turned out of another public-house that afternoon for drunkenness, standing at the defendant’s counter, a jug containing ale being on the counter near him. They spoke to the landlord, who admitted that the man was drunk, and said the ale had been left by a woman who had just gone out. The defence was that the landlord refused to supply the man with drink, and that while the latter was trying to overcome the refusal the police entered. In the end both summonses were dismissed, the magistrates at the same time stating that they were very proper cases to be brought into court.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1897

“Rachael Baker (40), pipe maker, of New Street, was charged with stealing 2s 5½d from the till of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley

Street, kept by William Horton.

Evidence was given by Mary Ann Connally that on Tuesday she saw the prisoner lean over the counter, heard her opening the till, and heard her put some money in her pocket.

Prisoner had previously asked the wife of prosecutor to lend her 3d, and she refused.

Prosecutor spoke to taking the money out of the prisoner's hand.

The prisoner when arrested by Police-constable 65 (Jones) denied the theft. She now informed the Bench that she was 'innocent as a new born baby.'

Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days."

Walsall Observer 1/9/1900

"At the Police Court, on Wednesday William Horton of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and with selling intoxicating liquor to a drunken person, on August 11th; and William Jones, back of Dudley Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises.

The Chief Constable said that 9.30 o'clock on August 11th he entered the SEVEN STARS, and as he entered a woman ran in before him. He went first into the smoke room. Afterwards he went to the front door, and found the man Jones behind the door, crouching against the wall. The man Jones then went out, and told him (the Chief Constable) that he had no power to arrest him. The man, who had his hands in his trouser pockets, was reeling and talking in a loud tone. A crowd soon collected in the street. In answer to Mr. Jackson, the Chief Constable said that he did not see the man until he spoke. The landlady did tell him that the man had only just come in.

Detective-sergeant Haycock stated that he entered the SEVEN STARS, and as soon as he entered Jones shouted, 'Halloa! Haycock.' Jones was drunk and on going down the entry he staggered very much and was abusive.

In answer to Mr. Jackson, witness said that the man was orderly in the house. He did not tell the man what he wanted him for. Detective Burrell corroborated.

Mr. Jackson said that the defendant had kept the house for eleven years without a complaint. He submitted that the man only came into the SEVEN STARS two minutes before the police. The landlord had not seen him, and he had not been served at all. The man on being fetched out of the public house had insisted on knowing what he was charged with, and on being refused he certainly got excited.

Defendant Horton said that he had kept the place for eleven years, and there had been no complaints. He did not know that Jones was in the house until he said, 'Good night' to Haycock, and then he (defendant) told the Chief Constable that he must have come in with them. He was not served in the house. No suggestion was made to him that the man was drunk, and in his opinion he was quite sober.

Defendant Jones said that he followed the police into the house. When the police came into the room he was by the door, which opened inwards and closed him in a corner. He asked Haycock what was the matter, and Haycock pushed him very roughly.

Two men, named Russon and Davis (independent witnesses) gave evidence for the defence, and the magistrates fined Jones 5s and costs, or seven days' imprisonment; but in the case of Horton the Bench disagreed and made no ruling, leaving it optional for it to be tried again on the motion of the Chief Constable."

1901 Census

50, Dudley Street

[1] William Horton (46), lock maker and licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Ann Horton (45), wife, born Walsall;

[3] William Horton (19), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;

[4] Thomas Horton (15), son, iron caster, born Walsall;

[5] Polly Horton (12), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Frank Horton (11), son, born Walsall;

[7] May Horton (8), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Gertrude Horton (6), daughter, born Walsall;

[9] Harry Horton (1), son, born Walsall;

[10] Alfred Yates (42), lodger, fruiterer, born Walsall:

and

51, Dudley Street – SEVEN STARS TAVERN – uninhabited:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

"The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street. The renewal of this license was opposed by the police on the ground that the license was not required and that the house was not structurally suitable. Mr. J. N. Cotterell appeared for the owner, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the licensee. Renewed."

Closed

SEVEN STARS

106, (103), Stafford Street / Croft Street (?), WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Calve, miller, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall
Mrs. Cartwright
Caloe Thomas Miller
Thomas Toon, Green Lane, Walsall (later at ROYAL OAK, Palfrey)
Mrs. Rose Bull [1925]
Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Bruce and Co. [1858]
James Nailor [1861]
George Morrell [1863] – [1865]
Enoch Cartwright [1868] – [1872];
Charles Upton [];
Enoch Cartwright [];
Edward Corbett [1880];
Emmanuel Forrester [];
John Lockley Jr. [1881];
Frank Barber [] – 1889);
Harry Glover (1889 – 1904);
Edward Toon (1904 – 1909);
Thomas Pearson (1909 – 1912);
Albert Boot (1912 – 1913);
David Walker (1913 – 1920);
Mrs. Rose Bull (1920 – 1943);
John T Watkins [1939] – [1940]
Eva Watkins (1943 – 1945);
George Harry Jones (1945 – 1946);
Harry Shade (1946 – 1949);
George William Harris (1949 – 1951);
John Mann (1951 – 1952);
Albert George Allen (1952 – 1956);
Edith Bayliss (1956 – 1957);
Stanley Kenneth Ryland (1957);
George William Butler (1957 – 1958);
Thomas Wills (1958 – 1959);
Richard Gough (1959 – 1960);
Brian John Hill (1960);
Kenneth Robert Chamberlain (1960 – 1961);
Norman Duffon (1961);
Reginald John White (1961 – 1963);
Raymond William Price (1963 – 1964);
George Albert Adams (1964);
Thomas Oswald Staig (1964 – 1965);
Raymond John Norton (1965 – 1966);
Stasys Markevicius (1966 – 1967);
Ivan Allen (1967 – [1969])

NOTES

103, Stafford Street
106, Stafford Street [1861], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1939], [1940]

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

It was a home brew pub until 1938.

Thomas Bruce and Co, beerhouse, 106, Stafford Street. [1858]

1861 Census

106, Stafford Street – UNREADABLE

- [1] James Nailor (40), beershop keeper and ornamental worker, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Nailor (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Nailor (18), daughter, stitcher, born Walsall;
- [4] Fanny Nailor (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Marian Nailor (2), born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 3/10/1863

“George Morrell, landlord of the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, was charged with having had hi house open at half-past seven o'clock on Sunday morning last. Police-constable Simmons and Police-constable Jukes visited the house at the time in question, and found six men with a jug containing about a quart of beer. In a glass on the table was a quantity of beer. The defendant, who said he believed the men were ‘bona fide’ travellers, as they all had bundles with them, was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

George Morrell, beer retailer, 106, Stafford Street. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/12/1866

“Edward Divine, for having on Monday night last assaulted Martin Mullins, was fined 1s and costs. The parties had been playing cards in the SEVEN STARS public-house, when they quarrelled, and defendant struck complainant and pushed him upon the fire.”

Enoch Cartwright, beer retailer, 106, Stafford Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday applications for new licenses for the sale of spirits.....
Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Enoch Cartwright, beerhouse keeper, Stafford Street.
The Mayor announced that the Bench had decided not to grant any new licenses this year.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1870

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

There were eight applicants for new spirit licenses.....

Enoch Cartwright, the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street.....

The magistrates retired to consider their decision, and after having been absent about half an hour they returned, and announced that they had decided to refuse all the applications, though they had come to this decision with much regret in some instances.”

1871 Census

Stafford Street

- [1] Enoch Cartwright (36), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Maria Cartwright (40), wife, born Gl___ry, Rhadnorshire;
- [3] Ellen Dent (20), servant, born Rugeley;
- [4] Hannah Southern (20), visitor, born W___ington, Staffordshire:

Edward Corbett, beer retailer, 106, Stafford Street. [1880]

1881 Census

106, Stafford Street

- [1] John Lockley (40), carter or collier, born Bagnall, Staffordshire;
- [2] Harriett Lockley (38), wife, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [3] John Lockley (20), son, carpenter, born Bagnall, Staffordshire;
- [4] Hannah Lockley (18), daughter, dressmaker, born Bagnall, Staffordshire;
- [5] Florrie Lockley (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Mildred Lockley (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Shaw (23), son in law, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [8] Henry Sanders (59), boarder, curb maker, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 28/4/1883 - Advert

“Wanted, a Piano player; male or female.
Apply SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street.”

1891 Census

106, Stafford Street

- [1] Harry Glover (40), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

- [2] Maria Glover (30), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Frances Parker (24), barmaid, born Walsall;
[4] Deborah Nussan (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 29/12/1894

“Police-constable Haycock deposed to an obstruction being caused in Park Street on Tuesday week by Josiah Wedge, 3, Long Street; Harry Glover, SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street; Charles Reynolds, 26, New Street, and John Bowden, 115, Bridgeman Street, and each, with the exception of Harry Glover, who was discharged, was mulct in a fine of 2s 6d and costs or seven days’ imprisonment.”

Harry Glover, beer retailer, 106, Stafford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

106, Stafford Street – SEVEN STARS TAVERN

- [1] Harry Glover (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
[2] Lily Tolley (23), barmaid, born Walsall;
[3] Rebecca Watts (21), domestic servant, born Birmingham;
[4] Annie Bull (33), visitor, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1903

“On Tuesday evening Mr. T. Allen Stokes held an inquest at the Swan Inn, Great Wyrley, into the circumstances attending the death of Maria, wife of Henry Glover, landlord of the SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street, Walsall, who was killed in a trap accident at Wyrley on the previous Friday night.

Harry Glover identified the body as that of his deceased wife, aged 42. On Friday the deceased, Ernest Dunning, and witness started about five p.m. to drive to see Mr. Green, High House Farm, Great Wyrley, and got there about six o’clock. They remained there about 1½ hours, none of them having anything intoxicating to drink except witness, who had a little scotch whiskey. When they started back witness drove and deceased sat in the middle of the trap. Before they had gone very far the pony shied, and the trap was overturned. Witness thought deceased took hold of the wrong rein and pulled it, but he remembered nothing more until he found himself in Mr. Green’s house. Deceased was lying there on a sofa, and a doctor attending her. She never regained consciousness, and died at nine p.m.

By the jury: The pony was a quiet animal, and used to all sorts of traffic.

Ernest Dunning, clerk, 39, Harrison Street, Bloxwich, said he accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Glover on the occasion in question. When they started back and before they had proceeded far the trap suddenly mounted a bank, and was overturned. Witness, who escaped with a shaking, went after the pony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Glover lay in the road unconscious. He attended to Mr. Glover, who was badly cut about the head, and was covered in blood, whilst Mrs. Glover was picked up by another person. The pony was a restive animal when fresh.

Thomas James Green, farmer, High House Farm, Great Wyrley, gave evidence as to Glover, his wife, and last witness coming over to see him. He watched them drive away. When near a mound of earth, he saw Mr. Glover’s hat blow off, and saw him put up his hand as if to catch it. For some reason or other, which witness could not see, the pony swerved, and the wheel of the trap going on to the mound of earth the vehicle was overturned and the occupants thrown out. Witness’s son-in-law brought Mrs. Glover into the house. The pony was a spirited animal, and very fast. Mr. Glover was quite sober.

By the jury: It was a very awkward spot where the accident happened.

Police-constable Poole: The road is 11 yards wide at that spot.

Inspector Campbell. The heap of earth is not on the road at all.

This was all the evidence.

The Coroner, in summing up, said there was little doubt that the unfortunate woman met her death in consequence of the injuries sustained that night, and it was a question whether it was accidental or not. The trap went over, but what caused it they could not tell; there did not seem to be any blame attached to anybody. Mr. and Mrs. Glover were both capable of driving the pony, which was a spirited animal. Mr. Glover was quite sober, according to the evidence, so that they could not attach any negligence to him. He thought the jury would come to the conclusion that the injuries were accidentally inflicted.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and recommended that the road surveyor be asked to see that at all times the road was kept clear from heaps of rubbish or metal. They did not think the heap of dirt in question was responsible for the accident.

At the request of the Coroner, Police-constable Campbell promised to convey the recommendation to the proper quarter.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. Edward Toon, SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/6/1904

“Plans were submitted for alteration and extensions to a living room at the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street. Granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1908

“John Wood, Forge Street, was charged with being drunk at the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, on March 2, and Edward Toon, the landlord, was charged with permitting drunkenness. Wood was fined 10s and costs and Toon was ordered to pay the costs only, no conviction being recorded in his case.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall..... Notices of objections under the compensation clause or otherwise.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who appeared for the owner and tenant of the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, stated that they disposed of 860 barrels a year, the dead expenses were something like £600 a year, and the profits over £1,100 a year. The takings amounted to £40 a week.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Thomas Pearson, SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street. At this club the receipts amounted to £110 0s 2d; £25 2s 6d had been paid out in sick pay, £21 17s 4d was carried forward to next year, and after the expenses had been deducted, the balance of £50 9s was on Wednesday evening paid in dividend, each member receiving 9s 2d, the first night’s payment, and card.”

1911 Census

106, Stafford Street – SEVEN STARS INN

- [1] Thomas Pearson (53), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Clara Pearson (48), wife, married 26 years, assisting in business, born Oldbury;
- [3] Thomas Pearson (25), son, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Nellie Pearson (23), daughter, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Harold Pearson (17), son, chemist’s apprentice, born Edgbaston;
- [6] Millicent Pearson (12), daughter, born Smethwick;
- [7] Mary Bate (35), servant, born Stafford:

Thomas Pearson, beer retailer and brewer, 106, Stafford Street. [1912]

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/2/1912

“An inquest was held at the Walsall Guildhall on Tuesday, respecting the death of Thomas Pearson, jun., aged 26, barman, of 104, Stafford Street, the father, until recently the landlord of the SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street, said his son had been subject to fainting fits, and on Sunday afternoon fell down outside the front door. He was only half conscious for some time and died the same evening. Dr. O’Meara now said death was due to a fracture of the skull, and the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Observer 14/3/1914 - Advert

“For Sale, Brown Cob, 14 hands, good in all harness; too big for owner’s trap; price £16. Apply, SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Observer 17/10/1914 - Advert

“A light-legged Cart Horse, 16 hands, also Lorry Mare, 15 hands; warranted sound. Rubber-tyred trap, lamps, cushions, complete nearly new brown harness; also spring cart. Must be sold, any reasonable offer. SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 5/12/1914

“‘If the skin had been removed it would have been a natural skeleton,’ was the description given by a veterinary surgeon of a horse which led to a prosecution at the Guildhall on Monday. The animal had been purchased by James Albiston, of the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley, from Harry Smith, of 4, Day Street, Walsall, on November 19, the price paid for the horse, a spring cart, and a set of harness being £9, and Smith was now summoned for obtaining the amount by false pretences.

Mr. Tucker stated that complainant saw the complete turn-out advertised for sale at £9 10s. The reason given for selling was that room was required, and a three months’ trial was offered. Prosecutor wanted a horse and cart to start his son in business, and the son went over to see the animal at the SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street, defendant stating that it was a good horse and a good puller. He said he wanted to sell it because, owing to rheumatism, he was unable to follow his trade as a greengrocer. Two days later (the 19th) prosecutor went to the SEVEN STARS to see the animal, and defendant repeated what he had said before. Neither prosecutor nor his son knew much about horses, but defendant agreeing to give a written warranty, prosecutor decided to buy the horse. The warranty given by the defendant was as follows: ‘Mr. Smith sells to Mr Albiston one cob, set of harness, and spring cart, for the sum of £9. I, Mr. Smith, warrant the cob sound in wind, eyes, and limb, and a good puller. If the cob is not as above stated, I also agree to take it back at the end of one month and return the purchase money, free of charge for use.’ The money was paid in cash, and the horse taken back to Bradley.

It went fairly well to Darlaston, but there showed signs of weakness, and fell on its knees, although the cart was empty. They managed to get home by pushing it up hills. Prosecutor thought the animal wanted feeding, and when he got it to the stable he fed it well. The following Sunday the horse was seen by a friend who told him it was quite useless, and advised that it should be taken back to defendant. Accordingly prosecutor sent his son back to Walsall with the horse the following Tuesday, November 24, and on the way the animal fell down three times, although the cart was empty. The prosecutor met his son in Walsall, and together they went to see the defendant, who adopted a curious attitude. He did not reiterate the horse was sound, but he declined to return the money. In the presence of the son, defendant said to a friend, 'Fancy me buying that back again.' To the prosecutor he said afterwards, 'I will send for it when I am willing to have it back.' Prosecutor replied that he wanted his money back according to the terms of the warranty. He was afraid to take the animal back to Bradley lest he should be summoned; he stabled it, and then reported the matter to the police. The following day, when it was taken to the police station, it fell down again, and Mr. Paley, who was called in, said it was in such a terrible condition that it was simply cruelty to keep it alive. It was therefore destroyed the same evening. Mr. Tucker explained that the ground on which the proceedings were taken were that in the first place defendant said he was selling the horse because he was unable to follow his trade as a greengrocer, though he had not followed that business, at any rate, in recent years. Detective Burrell would state that as far as he knew the defendant was a horse dealer. In the second place, prosecutor relied upon defendant's specific statement as to the soundness of the horse. He submitted that the defendant must have known that statement was untrue.

The Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton): How many hundreds of cases do you get in which a man says a horse is the most perfect that ever trod shoes? The action would lie for breach of warranty.

Mr. Tucker contended that in such a case there could also be a prosecution of false pretences.

Evidence in support of Mr. Tucker's statement as given by the prosecutor and his son, Francis Albister, both denying in cross-examination that the horse was trotted up and down the street before it was purchased.

Questioned by the Clerk, prosecutor said the cart was not a good one, but the harness was fairly good.

The Clerk: You can't get much for £9.

Prosecutor said it was a horse he wanted; he was not particular about the cart or harness. He added that he knew nothing about horses.

The Clerk: But you know the difference between a clothes horse and one you can use. This is described as one you can use.

In reply to Mr. Platt, the witness said he would be satisfied if he got his money back.

The Clerk: You won't get it here, you know?

Prosecutor added that if he had known the defendant was a horse dealer, he would have had nothing to do with him.

Mr. A. E. Paley (veterinary surgeon) said the animal was an old bay mare, and he should say it was at least thirty years old. If the skin had been removed it would have been a natural skeleton. It had great difficulty even in walking out of the stable. It dragged its legs, and its knees were injured, evidently as a result of frequent falls. In his opinion it must have been in that condition – which was due to senile decay – for some months. It was totally unfit to walk, much less to work. On his advice it was slaughtered at once. Witness produced the animal's bottom jaw, showing that most of the molar teeth had dropped out. He said it was the oldest mouth he had ever seen, and it would be impossible for the horse to properly masticate its food.

Detective-sergeant Burrell stated that the defendant was a horse dealer, but he lived at a greengrocer's shop.

Mr. Platt submitted that the case was not one for criminal proceedings, and that complainant should have brought an action in the County Court. He also denied that defendant represented himself as a greengrocer.

After some legal arguments, the Bench announced the case had not been made out.

The Clerk said that did not mean the case was dismissed, but simply there was not sufficient evidence under the statutes to send the case for trial at the Quarter Sessions."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street. £1 4s 5d."

Rose Bull was originally Rose Toon. Her brother Edward ran the BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury.

Mrs. Rose Bull was fined 40s and costs, on 20th January 1923, for giving the long pull.

In 1925 it had a Public bar (16'9" x 21'2" x 11'6"), a Smoke room (15'6" x 13'6" x 10") and three bedrooms.

[1938]

Walsall Observer 26/8/1939 - Advert

"Bar General Wanted, live in.

Mrs. Bull, SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, Walsall."

1939 Register

106, Stafford Street

[1] Rose Bull, date of birth 17/7/1873, retired licensee, widowed;

[2] John T. Watkins, dob 11/9/1904, brewer and public house manager, married;

[3] Eva Watkins, dob 24/8/1906, housewife unpaid, married;

[5] Florence E. (Blandford) Fryer, dob 5/11/1902, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 29/6/1940 - Births

“On June 27, 1940, at SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watkins – a brother for John.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, £3 12s 0d.”

Evening Despatch 18/5/1943

“Apparently happy and looking forward to a holiday at Blackpool, Rose Bull, a 69 year-old widow and licensee of the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, Walsall, committed suicide in the canal near Birmingham Road bridge on Friday two days before her holiday was to begin. This was disclosed at the inquest in Walsall, when the Coroner recorded a verdict of Suicide while the balance of her mind was disturbed.

It was stated that the woman had enjoyed perfect health up to six months ago, when she began worrying about trivialities.

A lock-keeper, who recovered the body, said he found the woman’s hat, coat, and scarf neatly folded on the canal-side.”

Walsall Observer 7/8/1943 - Notice

“Estate of Mrs. Rose Bull, deceased.

The Auction Sale of the Freehold Beerhouse, the SEVEN STARS INN, 106, Stafford Street, Walsall, and the Retail Shop, 105, Stafford Street, Is Cancelled, The property having been Sold by Private Treaty.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street. £0 1s 3d.”

Stasys Markevicius – see also DUKE OF YORK.

Walsall Observer 21/2/1969

“Although he never used his van, a Walsall publican had to push it out onto the road on several occasions to allow vehicles to gain access to a factory, Walsall magistrates heard on Friday. Ivan Allen (42), of the SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, Walsall, admitted using the vehicle without insurance and without an excise licence in Croft Street on November 7. He was fined £10 and ordered to pay £3 costs.

Inspector F. V. Dorney said that a policeman in Croft Street saw a Bedford dormobile van with no excise licence displayed. The owner said that the van was usually kept behind the public house but had to be moved to allow people to get in and out of a factory.

Mr. J. R. R. Benton, defending, said the case was a technical matter. The vehicle was not in use and had been pushed on to the road only to allow vehicles to get to the factory. Mr. Benton said Mr. Allen had a first-class character and had no previous convictions. He had 22 years of exemplary service in the Army.”

It was renamed DESI STAR. [2007], [2023]

SHAKESPEARE

1, (172), Peal Street / High Street (Church Hill), (Church Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Ebenezer Grove, The Delph, Brierley Hill

Thomas Sneyd and Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd. [1880]

Eliza and Joseph Guest, Walsall

LICENSEES

Charles James [1801]

Benjamin James [1818]

Joseph Hicklin [1822] – [1851]

Francis Baynton [1855] – 1856
William Ringham [1858] – [1871]
Thomas Denham [1872] – [1878];
Eli Deeley [1881];
William Wooley [];
William Alfred Metcalfe [];
Thomas Sanders [];
William Henry Beddard [];
David James Jones [1885] – 1886);
Eliza and Edward Guest (1886 – 1889):

NOTES

Church Street [1813], [1818], [1822], [1830]
Church Hill [1858], [1885]
1, Peal Street [1860], [1862], [1868], [1881]
172, Peal Street [1871]

SHAKESPEAR'S HEAD [1822], [1828], [1830]

'Walsall Past and Present' by David F. Vodden

"The SHAKESPEARE INN stood at the foot of Church Hill. It was a Georgian building with more ancient cellars from which it used to be possible to gain access to limestone mine tunnels."

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

'Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, male, held at SHAKESPEAR, Church Street, supposed number 20 or 30, instituted 1799, surgeon Mr. Woollatt, secretary William Robinson."

AND

'Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at SHAKESPEAR, Church Street."

Joseph Hicklin = Joseph Hickling

1851 Census

Peal Street

[1] Joseph Hicklin (63), married, licensed victualler, born Welling Court, Warwickshire;

[2] Amy Clark (46), housekeeper, born Walsall;

[3] Joseph Freeman (70), lodger, labourer, born Corbit, Worcestershire;

[4] James Stoker (57), lodger, labourer, born Pelsall;

[5] Thomas Holt (33), lodger, brass dresser, born Walsall;

[6] John Renell (33), lodger, bricklayer, born Leicester:

Francis Baynton = Francis Boynton

Birmingham Journal 6/1/1855

"Francis Boynton, SHAKESPEARE INN, was charged with permitting drunkenness at his house on Christmas day. Mr. Bilson, superintendent of police, said that at about half-past six pm on the day in question, application was made to him to quell a riot at the house of the defendant. He (witness) instantly went with two officers and found fifteen men and four women in a room on the right hand. Seven men were drunk, and a man was standing up with his face scratched and bleeding. The defendant came from the tap, and was told by witness that the police had been called in. There was no disturbance when he (Mr. Bilson) entered the room. The witness left the house, and returned at eight o'clock, and heard Mrs. Boynton say, 'They're coming again; they had better come and live here.' The officer then went into a back room, and saw the man who had gone to the station. Witness inquired his name, and Mrs. Boynton said, 'Don't tell him.'

Mr. Barnett appeared for the defence, and after cross-examining the witness, called several witnesses to prove that three drunken Irishmen had entered the house, and the landlord had refused to serve them; that Mrs. Boynton had called in an officer to expel them; that Mrs. Boynton, not knowing the circumstances, had sent to the police station for assistance, and it was thus the police made their appearance on the scene. Mr. Barnett stated that this was a very similar case to one in which had been brought against Messrs. Fletcher and Sherratt, (the circumstances of which have recently appeared in the paper), some short time since, when the summons was dismissed. The Bench decided that the summons should be discharged in this case also."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/7/1856

“On Thursday evening, a respectable and numerous party partook of an excellent dinner at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Bloxwich Road, Walsall, which was recently taken by Mr. Francis Baynton, of the SHAKESPEARE INN, High Street. Mr. J. Smith, of Dudley presided; and Mr. H. Farrington, auctioneer, occupied the vice-chair. The dinner gave very good promise of the entertainment Mr. Baynton would afford to his patrons, and a very pleasant evening was spent.”

William Ringham = William Kingham

Walsall Free Press 14/8/1858

“Mrs. Pember was charged by Mrs. Sarah Ringham, landlady of the SHAKESPEARE Public-house, with having on Wednesday evening made use of threatening language to her. After hearing the evidence the Bench reprimanded the defendant and dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Journal 27/10/1860 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Bateman, on Monday next, the 29th day of October.

Lot 2. All that very desirable old-established and well situated Inn and Premises, known as the SHAKESPEARE, now in the occupation of Mr. William Ringham, together with the Dwelling Houses and Premises adjoining, situate in and forming the corner of Peel Street and Church Hill, Walsall aforesaid.

The SHAKESPEARE INN and Premises, and the Dwelling House adjoining, are held by Mr. Ringham under lease, five years of which are now unexpired.....”

1871 Census

172, Peal Street

- [1] William Ringham (45), publican, born Longhouses (?), Huntingdonshire;
- [2] Sarah Ringham (57), wife, born Abbotts Bromley;
- [3] Elizabeth Stokes (17), general servant, born Willenhall;
- [4] John Loates (?) (64), boarder, born Acaster, Northamptonshire;
- [5] Sarah Loates (?) (57), boarder, born Daventry, Northamptonshire;
- [6] Thomas Hickinson (48), carpenter, born Ellen Hall, Cumberland;
- [7] George _____ (26), boarder, agricultural labourer, born Stafford;
- [8] Frederick Dicks (24), boarder, agricultural labourer, born Keighley, Yorkshire;
- [9] William Dicks (21), boarder, agricultural labourer, born Keighley, Yorkshire;
- [10] Charles Huston (16), boarder, printer, born London:

Birmingham Daily Post 2/4/1873 - Died

“On the 30th ult, at 4, Campbell Place, John Street, Moseley Road, aged 68 years, William Ringham, late of the SHAKESPEARE INN, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 7/6/1873

“William Smith alias Bedford, for having been drunk and refusing to leave the SHAKESPEARE public house, was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs; or in default, to be imprisoned for 14 days.”

Walsall Free Press 6/9/1873

“On Tuesday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the SHAKESPEARE public house, Peal Street, upon the body of Amy Slade, aged two years, whose parents reside in a court in Upper Rushall Street. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

London Gazette 16/8/1878

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Denham, of the SHAKESPEARE INN, Peal-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler. Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at my offices, No.6, Bridge-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 27th day of August, 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 12th day of August, 1878.

John Glover, No.6, Bridge-street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Painting the Cement Work of the Frontage of SHAKESPEARE INN, Church Hill..... Sign Writing, as per List, at SHAKESPEARE INN, Church Hill.....

All the above are situate in the town of Walsall.

Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

1, Peal Street

- [1] Eli Deeley (46), mill roller, born Womborn [Wombourne?];
- [2] Rebecca Deeley (45), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Eli Deeley (22), son, iron worker, born Cradley;
- [4] Alfred Deeley (20), son, iron worker, born Pelsall;
- [5] Charles Deeley (15), son, iron worker, born Pelsall;
- [6] Sarah Ann Deeley (13), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Matilda Deeley (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Frank Oliver Deeley (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Edward George Deeley (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Florence Deeley (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [11] Harriet Rowley (22), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 28/3/1885

“Mary Grimley, Church Street, was charged with being disorderly in the SHAKESPEARE public house, Church Hill, kept by James Jones.

Complainant stated that on Tuesday defendant came to his house, and asked people if they were begging. He was compelled to send for an officer to turn her out.

Police-constable Nicholls stated that he found defendant behaving in a very disorderly manner, and refused to leave the house.

During the struggle some beer was spilt.

Defendant said that she had had a little beer, and was very sorry for what she had done.

Finced 5s and costs, or ten days imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1886

“Re David James Jones, the SHAKESPEARE INN, Peal Street, licensed victualler, formerly of 98 and 88, Market Hall, Birmingham, fruiterer. A petition on behalf of this debtor was filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, yesterday, by Mr. C. A. Loxton, and the 15th September was fixed for the public examination.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1889

“The adjourned licensing day, which was held at the Guildhall, on Monday [23/9], had been looked forward to with considerable interest on account of the large number of objections to the renewal of licenses made by the Chief Constable. All the houses objected to, something like 162, had been visited by the Magistrates, and in the vast majority of cases the structural alterations required by the Chief Constable had been made, hence the objections were withdrawn. Others persisted in, however, with the result that the bench refused to renew the licenses of five houses, these being, the SHAKESPEARE, Peal Street; the UNION, Ryecroft; the BARLEY MOW, Church Hill; the PEOPLE’S MUSIC HALL, High Street; and the CROSS KEYS, Blue Lane. There is a very angry feeling on the part of the publicans at this result, and notice of appeal has been given in each case. As the matter will be brought for decision before the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, I will refrain from commenting on it.”

Closed

It was delicensed on 23rd September 1889.

It became a lodging house.

Walsall Advertiser 17/9/1892

“At the Police Court on Wednesday the case in which John Ricketts, keeper of the SHAKESPEARE Lodging-house, Peal Street, is charged by the police with bigamy, was down for hearing, but the Chief Constable said that owing to the absence of an important witness he was unable to go on with the case that day. In accordance with an arrangement with Mr. Waldron, of Brierley Hill, defendant’s solicitor, he asked for the case to be adjourned till October 5th.

The magistrates adjourned the hearing till this date; the affiliated summons by Hester Cooper against the same defendant, was adjourned to the same day.”

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“Mr. E. G. Franklin commenting on Mr. W. Meikle’s references in last week’s Observer to old Walsall inns, writes that he remembers the following public houses round about Church Hill: The BLACK BOY, FIELDGATE TAVERN, DUKE OF WELLINGTON, ROSE AND CROWN, JOLLY BACCHUS, BLUE PIG, PAUL PRY, MALT SHOVEL, PEEL AND NELSON, SHAKESPEARE, HARE AND HOUNDS, ROEBUCK, EXCHANGE, GREYHOUND, OLD ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, RING OF BELLS, PEAL OF BELLS, BARLEY MOW, LEATHERN BOTTLE, QUEENS HEAD. Of these only two remain.”

It was demolished in the 1950s when the hillside was landscaped.

SHINGLERS ARMS

164, (12), Green Lane, Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Bissell, The Cedars, Great Barr
Messrs. G. and R. Thomas, iron founders, Birchills, Walsall
Bloxwich Brewery Co. (leased)

LICENSEES

Thomas Westley [] – 1857);
John Leeson (1857 – []
George Redfern [1858] – 1861);
Henry Tricklebank (1861 – [1862]
William Silvester [1864] – [1865]
William Turner [1868] – [1870]
Joseph Tift [1870] – [1871]
Mrs. Mary Hingley [1872] – [1881]
Joseph Letts [];
John Venables [];
Francis Mason [] – 1888);
Edwin Ingram (1888 – 1890);
Isaiah Millington (1890 – 1891);
Francis Joseph Zeller (1891);
George Tully (1891 – 1892);
Samuel Bowen (1892);
George Tully (1892 – 1894);
William Bennett (1894);
Samuel Tift (1894 – 1906);
Thomas Bate (1906 – 1907);
James Bradbury (1907 – 1908);
Edwin Jones (1908 – 1910);

NOTES

Birchills [1860]
12, Green Lane [1861]
164, Green Lane [1871]

SINGLERS ARMS [1862] spelling error

Walsall Free Press 27/3/1858 - Advert

“Old Licensed Public House and Freehold Houses, at the Birchills, Walsall.

To Be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Henry Farrington, at the OLD STILL INN, Walsall (by order of the Mortgagee of Messrs. Lancaster and Brayford), on Monday, the 12th day of April, 1858, subject to conditions.

All those Two Freehold Houses, with the yards and appurtenances thereto belonging, fronting to Green Lane, Walsall; bounded on each side by the houses thereafter mentioned, and on the other side by the Birchills Ironworks.

The premises contain in the whole (including the site of the buildings) 21 perches, or thereabouts.

And also those Two Freehold Houses, with brewhouses, yards and appurtenances thereto belonging, adjoining the above mentioned houses, and bounded at the back by the Birchills Ironworks, occupied by George Redfern and others; five of which front to Green Lane, one being an old-licensed Public House, called the SHINGLERS ARMS, and the other five of which are situate at the back of the first mentioned five.

For further particular apply to Mr. S. Wilkinson, Solicitor, or the Auctioneer, both of Walsall.”

1861 Census

12, Green Lane – SHINGLERS ARMS

[1] George Redfern (38), victualler, born South Muskham, Nottinghamshire;

[2] Margaret Redfern (32), wife, born Dundee;

[3] Francis Redfern (11), son, scholar, born Newark, Nottinghamshire;

[4] Margaret Ellen Redfern (2), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 24/8/1861 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, in the vicinity of a flourishing district, and old-licensed Public House. Apply at the SHINGLERS ARMS, occupied by G. Redfern, Birchills.”

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, that old-licensed public-House known as the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills, with stabling for six horses, piggeries, large yard, good supply of hard and soft water, and all necessary outbuildings. Rent £20 per annum. Satisfactory reasons given for leaving. Apply on the premises to Mr. Redfern.”

Walsall Free Press 26/4/1862

“Ann Chambers and Lucy Arrowsmith were charged with having, on Tuesday last, assaulted Mary Ann Ward. It appeared that on the evening in question, the mother went to the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills, to fetch her husband; and as he refused to come, she remained with him till the daughter came for both. While the daughter was endeavouring to get her parents home, a row ensued, but it was difficult to say who was the worst – the complainants or the defendants – the evidence being very conflicting, the case was dismissed, each party to pay their own costs.”

Walsall Free Press 3/5/1862 - Notice

“I, Martha Sylvester, wife of Thomas Sylvester, of Green Lane, Walsall, having on the 24th April last at the Guildhall, on the hearing of a charge of Assault, made untrue and slanderous statements about Mr. Henry Tricklebank, of the SHINGLERS ARMS, Bloxwich, do hereby express my regret, and apologise for having done so.

X The mark of the said Martha Sylvester.

Walsall, 1st May, 1862.”

Walsall Free Press 2/1/1864

“Levi Wilkes, Richard Butcher, and Richard Boot, were charged with assaulting John Gregory, from whose evidence it appeared that on Christmas Day, the complainant and his wife went to the SHINGLERS ARMS, and, while there, the prisoners came in and commenced a disturbance, and as the complainant was standing near the bar door watching the landlord turning them out, Boot seized him by the collar, and Wilkes by the hair of his head, and dragged him into the road, when Butcher kicked him. The others also kicked him, till he became insensible.

Mr. Silvester, landlord of the SHINGLERS ARMS corroborated the evidence of the complainant, the prisoners were in the house and created a disturbance, whereupon he ejected them, and, on his doing so, Wilkes said he would bring his ‘gang,’ and shortly afterwards someone knocked at the door and called out ‘Police!’ On the door being opened, about 30 or 40 men rushed in, and some of them assaulted Mrs. Silvester, who is near confinement. Witness requested them to leave, and, on their refusing, he struck Butcher through the bar window. Complainant, who was in the parlour, came into the passage, and was seized by the defendants and dragged out. When they got him out, they held the door so that witness could not get out, and, in a short time, complainant was brought into the house in a state of insensibility.

Complainant’s son and a Mrs. Chambers also corroborated the evidence of complainant as to what occurred outside the door, and the latter said she saw complainant on the ground, and, on lifting his head, Boot kicked her on the back of the head. On her saying complainant was dead, someone said he was not dead enough, and he would give him more.

Joseph Steadman said that after complainant was taken into the house, Butcher said: ‘Bring that man out, and I will pull his b——y heart out.’

Another witness named Patter, whose face bore the evidence of the violent treatment he had received, said that he went to complainant’s assistance, and was knocked down, kicked, and trampled upon.

Wilkes, in his defence said that he and Butcher had each drunk ten glasses of rum, when a boatman came in and quarrelled with Butcher. Silvester the landlord, then came in and turned them out, and chased him (Wilkes) down the street.

Boot said there was a row in course of which Gregory struck him, and, in return, he struck Gregory.

After making their statement, the defendants called David Cawley, who said that on the evening in question he heard a cry of ‘Murder!’ in the SHINGLERS ARMS, and, on going in, he was struck by the landlord, and he believed also by the complainant. When questioned by the mayor, witness said he did not see Gregory there, but he believed it was Gregory who struck him, because he was told Gregory was there.

Sarah Wilkes, sister of the defendant Wilkes, said that about eleven o’clock in the night in question she heard a noise at the SHINGLERS ARMS and, on going up to the house, found her brother, and took him away with her, and after they had gone away the noise continued, but they did not go back.

Thos. Morris was called and corroborated Wilkes’s statement as to the row with the boatman.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendants, whom they considered guilty of a gross assault, to pay a fine of £5 each, including costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for two months, and stated that they were sorry they could not inflict on Boot and Butcher a severer punishment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/7/1870 - Advert

“To be Let, Old-licensed House, SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane, Birchills, Walsall. In-coming about £130. Possession immediately.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870

“Joseph Tift, landlord of the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours; but as the house had hitherto been well conducted, the charges were withdrawn upon the defendant paying costs.”

1871 Census

164, Green Lane – SHINGLERS ARMS

- [1] Joseph Tift (40), publican and boatman, born Brownstone, Devonshire;
- [2] Rebekah Tift (36), wife, born Netherton;
- [3] Rose Hannah Tift (14), daughter, born Netherton;
- [4] Ralph James Tift (13), son, born Netherton;
- [5] Samuel Tift (10), son, born Netherton;
- [6] William Tift (9), son, born Rowley;
- [7] Edward Tift (4), son, born Ladymore;
- [8] Richard Tift (2), son, born Walsall;
- [9] George A. Tift (1), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Susannah Udall (16), domestic servant, born Rowley:

Mary Hingley = Mary Higley

1881 Census

SHINGLERS ARMS

- [1] Mary Higley (50), widow, publican, born Asterley, Shropshire;
- [2] Martha Everhall (16), niece, barmaid, birthplace unknown;
- [3] Richard Everhall (13), nephew, scholar, birthplace unknown:
[Asterley is about 9 miles WSW of Shrewsbury.]

Lichfield Mercury 8/6/1888

“At the Guildhall on Monday, Edwin Ingram, High Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for having three unstamped measures at the SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane. The defendant said he knew nothing about the matter himself, but he had ascertained that his manager sent the measures down to the office to be stamped, but it happened to be the wrong day, and before they were sent again the officer called. The defendant was ordered to pay the costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1894

“At the License Transfer Court, at the Guildhall yesterday, the following transfers of licenses were granted.....
Victuallers the SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane, from William Bennett to Samuel Tift.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1895

“Samuel Tift, the SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane, was charged with having stolen a plank of timber, the property of William Causer, 5, Upper Green Lane. Mr. Jackson defended.

Complainant said that on the 20th ult. a boat belonging to him was in the canal at the back of defendant’s house. On the following day, after prisoner’s men had been working on it, he missed a plank 16ft long, and valued 2s, from the boat. He subsequently found it in the workshop of a boatbuilder named Taylor, who told him defendant had placed it there. Taylor was not in Court, as he had gone to London for a week.

By Mr. Jackson: He purchased the plank and another in April from Mr. Bullock, auctioneer. Tift was using them at the time, having borrowed them from the Bloxwich Steel and Iron Company twelve months previously. Witness had not told him that he had bought them, although he only lived five minutes’ walk away. He was using the plank at the time he bought, and he fetched it from his father’s premises. Defendant had never claimed that the plank belonged to him.

In answer to the Bench, Mr. Jackson admitted that one of the defendant’s men took the plank, but he claimed it was his own property.

The Bench said it would be more satisfactory if complainant had an opportunity of bringing his witnesses, and the case was adjourned for a week for that purpose, and Mr. Jackson said that if he were allowed to give his explanation he could show that there could be no possible charge of larceny, but the Bench thought they had adopted the fairest course.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/5/1897

“Edward Tift (32), boatman, of Green Lane, was charged with disorderly conduct and with refusing to quit the SHINGLERS ARMS on the 5th ult. Tift is the brother-in-law to the landlady. He came into the house drunk and wanted to sleep there. She went to wake him, when he struck her in the mouth.

He now pleaded guilty, and was fined 5s and costs, or seven days.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/8/1899

“John Tift, of Green Lane, and George Tift, Wisemore, were summoned for refusing to quit the SHINGLERS ARMS when requested by the landlord, Samuel Tift. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) prosecuted.

The case for the complainant was that on Saturday night the defendants came to the SHINGLERS ARMS at about seven o’clock, but were refused audience, and John pulled off his jacket and wanted to fight complainant. At about a quarter to eleven both de-defendants came again and demanded to be served. Complainant refused to supply them, and ordered them to leave. Both rushed at him, and George bit complainant on the arm and face, and also through his ear; and John struck him several times, knocking him about very much. John also threw a water bottle at complainant's wife. Both defendants stated that they were first assaulted, George stating the complainant struck him in the face, discolouring his eye. Each was fined 10s and cost, or 14 days."

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1904

"At the Walsall Police Court, on Wednesday, Samuel Tift, SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane, was summoned for neglecting to have his name painted on a cart which was being used in High Street, Bloxwich, on May 30th, and ordered to pay a fine of 5s and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1907

"Applications for the transfer of licenses were granted as follows.....
SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane, Jane Bate (widow of Thomas Bate), to James Bradbury."

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....
Mr. Jackson also appeared on behalf of the owners of the SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane (Messrs. G. & R. Thomas), and the lessee (The Bloxwich Brewery Company), in regard to an objection that the license was not necessary. Chief Inspector Ballance gave evidence as to the house needing repairs, and Dr. Wilson testified to the sanitary defect.
Mr. Jackson said the matters referred to should receive immediate attention. The house was leased at £65 a year, the tenant paid £30 a year, and the fact that the tenant was able to make a good living was proof that the house was necessary. The license was renewed, the landlord's attention being called to the structural defects."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....
Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....
Edwin Jones, SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills.....
Mr. Jackson represented the owner, Mr. Richard Thomas; the tenants, Bloxwich Brewery Company; and sub-tenant, Edwin Jones. He pointed out that the takings averaged £35 per week, and for the last six months had averaged over £40."

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 25th February 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....
The ACORN, MALT SHOVEL, and WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, MANDAMUS ARMS, Stafford Street, and the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills were referred for compensation."

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

"The Licensing Act, 1904.
Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.
Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....
List of Licensed Premises.....
SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane. Alehouse. Licensee Edwin Jones."

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1910

"A meeting of the Licensing Justices was held on Tuesday morning.....
The renewal of the SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane was applied for, Edward Jones, tenant for the Bloxwich Brewery Company, said the sales averaged 514 barrels for the last three years.
The renewal was refused."

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910

"A supplementary meeting of the Licensing Justices to consider claims for compensation was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall. Mr. W. Bayliss presided, and there were present Messrs. W. E. Blyth, T. A. Smith, J. Clare, W. Halford, A. D. Cozens, J. J. Lynch, A. Jagger, and R. Thomas. The following houses came up for consideration.....
SHINGLERS ARMS, Green Lane; tenants Bloxwich Brewery Company; licensee and sub-tenant, Edwin Jones."

It closed on 30th September 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1910

"Some fifteen applications for the transfers of public houses were made to the justices, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....
Temporary transfers had previously been granted and in all cases the full transfer was sanctioned (with the exception of the SHIN-GLERS ARMS, which is being closed), the Chief Constable making no objection.”

SHIRE OAK

261, Lichfield Road / Chester Road, Walsall Wood, (Stonnall), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Ann Boulter [1883]
George Harold Boulter
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Mrs. Sarah Hodgkins [1849]
John Hodgkins [1860]
Samuel Johnson [1863] – [1871]
Michael Harle [] – 1883;
Mrs. Ann Boulter (1883 – [1889])
George Coates [1883] manager
Thomas Croft Rogers [1887] – [1888] manager
Henry James [1889] manager
Henry J Hope [1891] manager
George Boulton (1891 – [])
Thomas James Sankey [1896] manager
George Harold Boulter [1896] – 1900;
Joseph Southall (1900 – 1906);
Alfred Stephen Holland (1906);
George Harold Boulter (1906 – [1908])
George Freeman [1911]
Abraham James Lees [1912] manager
George Henry Boulter [1913] – [1919]
E Blakemore [1919] manager
William Durrant [1924]
Emily Durant (1927 – [])
George Bufton [1932] – 1946)
Rick Gothard (2020 – [2023])

NOTES

SHIRE OAK HOTEL [1904]

Black Country Bugle 29/12/2021

Article by Steve James

“Shire Oak lies at the historic cross-roads of the main Lichfield-Walsall and London-Chester roads and marks the boundary of three parishes. In the early days, a fragment of the original oak tree recorded in 1533 was displayed inside the SHIRE OAK pub, but was given to Shire Oak school in 1966.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/1/1843 - Advert

“Freehold Land, Over Stonal, Shenstone.

To Be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Harris, at the SHIRE OAK INN, by the Lichfield and Walsall Turnpike Road.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/3/1853 - Notice

“Notice To Creditors. All persons to whom the late Sarah Hodgkins, of Shire oak, in the parish of Shenstone, in the county of Stafford, was indebted at the time of her decease are requested to send in their accounts to John Hodgkins, of the SHIRE OAK INN, on or before the 21st day of March, 1853, that the same may be examined, and if found correct, discharged.

Shire Oaks, near Walsall, March 3, 1853.

(P.S. This advertisement not to be continued).”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/4/1857

“On Thursday last, G. H. Hinchcliffe, Esq, Coroner, held an inquest at the SHIRE OAKS INN, on the body of Enoch Solley Williams, aged 18. The deceased was employed in a coal pit at Pelsall, belonging to the South Staffordshire Railway Company, and on the previous Monday he was loading a skip, when about 4cwt of rock fell from the roof upon his head. He died immediately after the rock was removed, the place was about four or five feet wide, and there were wooden bars and trees up to the roof to support it, and the place was considered safe.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1862 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that old-established and well-accustomed House, known as the SHIRE OAK INN, midway between Walsall and Lichfield. It is well situated, being at the corner of four turnpike roads, with 21 acres of good Arable Land. The present occupier is leaving in consequence of other engagements.

Apply to Mr. George Wright, Stonnall, near Walsall.”

Birmingham Gazette 29/8/1862

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Hooper, Coroner, held an inquest at the SHIRE OAK INN, on the body of a man, 20 years of age, whose name was unknown. It appears that on Wednesday afternoon the deceased was knocked down by the shaft of a wagon whilst walking on the turnpike road and killed upon the spot. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/11/1863

“Yesterday, at the Petty Sessions, Elihu Bate and John Hope, the former a butcher, and the latter an assistant surgeon, appeared before Messrs. J. E. Bealey and B. Bloomer, to answer three separate charges of wilful damage. The first witness was Rosannah Johnson, wife of Samuel Johnson, of the SHIRE OAK INN, who deposed that on the 7th inst, between three and four o’clock, she was awakened by a stone being thrown through her bedroom window into the room, and at the same time she heard the noise of a cart passing along the road. On Monday week the two defendants called upon her, and offered to pay all the expenses, and repair the window, if she would retire from the case, adding that one of them had lost his situation in consequence of the freak. Inspector Price deposed to having traced the marks of the cart wheels to Bate’s house, and to having charged the defendants with the offence. They at first denied it, but subsequently qualified their denial. In all there were fifteen houses in which windows were broken on the night in question.

In the next case, John Woodhouse, beerhouse keeper, of Shire Oak, spoke to a stone having been thrown through his bedroom window on the night of the 7th, and to the missile having fallen close to his head.

In support of the third information, Hannah Thacker, the wife of a brickmaker at Shire Oak, deposed to two stones being thrown at her husband’s house on the night named. One fell upon the roof, and the other broke one of the windows.

The defendants pleaded guilty, and the Magistrates having commented upon the wilful wantonness of their conduct, fined them £2 10s each for each offence, with costs, or three months’ imprisonment in default of paying each fine. The fine and costs amounting to a grand total of £18 5s 6d, or £9 2s 9d each, were paid.”

Walsall Free Press 18/6/1864

“On Sunday evening a distressing accident occurred at Shire Oak, near Brownhills, by which a woman sixty-eight years of age, named Mary Blaze, the wife of a spade maker, employed at Messrs. Elwell’s works, at Wood Green, and living at the Vicarage, Wednesbury, lost her life, and two other persons were badly injured. It seems that on Sunday afternoon, a party consisting of the deceased, Thomas Spittle, her son by a former husband, Mr. Jesse Bissell, of High Street, his wife, and two children, drove in a light trap from Wednesbury to Stonnall, and accomplished the journey without mishap. On the return of the party, however, about eight o’clock in the evening, and when they had reached the SHIRE OAK INN, the horse, which was being furiously driven, suddenly shied, and swerved to one side, causing the vehicle to tilt up and run on one wheel for a distance of several yards; but ultimately it overturned, and men, women, and children, were thrown in a heap into the road. Assistance was promptly rendered, and the sufferers were removed to the SHIRE OAK INN, and Mr. Baxter, surgeon, of Ogle Hay, was called in. It was then found that Mrs. Blaze was insensible, and suffering from paralysis of the spinal cord; and that Mr. Bissell, in addition to the bruises on various parts of his body, had received a severe wound of several inches in length just below his right knee, and frightful cuts about his face. His wife was also badly cut and bruised; but Thomas Spittle, although much shaken, was not seriously injured. The children escaped unhurt. The ill-fated woman, Mrs. Blaze, who, so it was stated, that day for the first time in her life entered a trap, never recovered consciousness after her removal to the inn, but died about twenty minutes to ten o’clock. The other sufferers were subsequently removed to their homes at Wednesbury, and are now going on favourably towards recovery. On Wednesday last, E. Hooper, Esq, coroner for the district, held an inquest at the SHIRE OAK INN, upon the body of the deceased. After hearing the evidence of deceased’s husband and another witness adjourned the inquest for a post mortem examination of the body.” [At the adjourned inquest, the jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter, and Jesse Bissell was committed to trial at the Assizes.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/4/1870

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Edward Davies, a snaffle-bit maker, of Rycroft Hill, Walsall, was charged with attempting to commit a highway robbery on Rosannah Johnson, of the SHIRE OAK INN, Brownhills.

The complainant said she was going from Walsall to Aldridge in a trap with her sister, and she saw the prisoner behind them, on which she told her sister there was a man following them, and it would be better to go a little faster. She struck the horse to make it gallop, but as it happened to stumble the prisoner was enabled to get up to them. Her sister got out and went back to give a warning, on which the prisoner said to her (complainant), 'I want you, and I mean having you. I have got you now.' She managed to get away from him, and drove the horse to a Mr. Coates's, which was about half-a-mile away.

In cross-examination by the prisoner, the complainant said Davies told her he would not go until one of them was taken up. She struck him with the whip, and said, 'I will take good care that you do not go until you are taken up.'

The prisoner said he could call witnesses to prove that he was not guilty of the charge, and he asked that the case might be remanded to Rushall, on Tuesday week.

The Bench granted his application, on the understanding that he found two sureties in £10 each."

[Edward Davies was found guilty of common assault, and sentenced to one months' imprisonment.]

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1871

"At Rushall Police Court, yesterday, before Messrs. J. E. Bealey and B. Bloomer, Patrick Lyons, Patrick Fox, and John Cassidy, labourers, were charged with an assault and wilful damage, and with having been drunk and refusing to quit the house of Mr. Johnson, the SHIRE OAK INN, when requested to do so. On Monday the men went into the house the worse for drink, and wanted more, which the landlord refused to supply, at the same time desiring them to leave. They refused, and on his sending for a constable, Lyons dealt him a blow on the nose, and Cassidy got him down, and held him there while the other two punched him. Cassidy also took up the fender, and therewith freely laid about him, as he did the others with weapons, the result being the furniture was smashed or broken to the extent of 30s. This they were ordered to pay with 27s costs, and a fine of 20s each, or two months' imprisonment in default."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/8/1882

"Brownhills Local Board.....

The presentation of plans for the alteration of the SHIRE OAK INN the projection of a bay window over the footpath was disallowed. In connection with this matter it was also decided that the road at Shire Oak should be made 50ft wide the same as elsewhere in the Board's district....."

Lichfield Mercury 16/2/1883

"Mrs. Ann Boulter, the owner, applied for a temporary authority to sell at the SHIRE OAK INN, Sandhills, the late tenant, Michael Harle, having absconded. There being no objection on the part of the police, the application was granted."

Lichfield Mercury 23/3/1883

"Brownhills Local Board.....

The Surveyor reported that he had received an application from Mr. Boulter, of the SHIRE OAK INN, asking for permission of the Board for a footpath to be constructed round the inn, also for permission to lay a drain across the road to take the water out of his cellars. The Surveyor was instructed to do the work, Mr. Boulter to defray the expense, as he had expressed a willingness to do so."

Walsall Observer 24/1/1885

"Walsall Police Court Yesterday.....

Bridget Killian, Freers Yard, was fined 5s and costs for being drunk at the ACORN INN, and refusing to quit."

Walsall Observer 2/5/1885

"On Monday evening last the members and friends of the Walsall Wood Athletic Football Club held their annual supper at the club house, The SHIRE OAK INN. The 'spread' was of a sumptuous character, and was served up in admirable style, reflecting great credit upon the hostess, Mrs. Boulter. After the cloths were removed the chair was taken by Mr. F. Bradbury....."

Lichfield Mercury 6/8/1886

"The annual festival of the Stonnall Female Friendly Society, which is held at the SHIRE OAK INN, took place on Monday last. At half-past ten o'clock the members headed by the Brownhills Band, and accompanied by several friends, marched to the parish church; prayers were read by the Rev. James Downes, and an appropriate sermon preached by R. W. Essington, from Exodus chapter 35, verse 25. Afterwards the members, &c, called at the vicarage, and the band there performed a selection of music. Proceeding to the SHIRE OAK INN, an excellent dinner was served to which 107 members and friends sat down. The Rev. R. W. Essington presided, supported on his right by Dr. Maddever and on his left by Mrs. Boulter. The vice-chairmen being Mr. T. Boulter (Kidderminster), and Mr. J. Sutton Barber (Lichfield). The usual loyal toasts were given with great heartiness, and the healths of the chairman, vice-chairmen, and visitors were given with musical honours. 'Prosperity to the Stonnall Female Friendly Society,' was proposed by the chairman and responded to by Mrs. Boulter. The health of the Rev. James Downes and Family was proposed by J. Sutton Barber and the Host and Hostess by Dr. Maddever. At five o'clock, the whole party adjourned to the cricket field and enjoyed themselves in dancing, football, cricket, and race running, Dr. Maddever acting as starter, Messrs. J. Sutton Barber and T. Boulter were judges, and Mr. H. A. Boulter as clerk of the course."

Lichfield Mercury 13/8/1886

"Joseph Wylty, miner, Brownhills, was charged with assaulting Enoch Cresswell, on the 2nd of August. Complainant, miner, Brownhills, said he was at the SHIRE OAK INN, Stonnall, on the day in question. A soldier was there, very tall, and witness saw two or three persons strike at him, defendant being one of them. Witness told him to leave him alone, when he turned on him and struck him a violent blow in the mouth. He afterwards struck witness two violent blows in the face.

Leonard Heath, miner, Stonnall, proved seeing defendant strike Cresswell.

Defendant stated he fought on self-defence, and called George Blundell, miner, Chester Road, Catshill, who stated he saw defendant and Cresswell fighting together for nearly a quarter of an hour. He heard defendant tell complainant he would not give him a chance again to summon him.

The Bench bound defendant over in £5 to keep the peace for six months, and ordered him to pay the costs £1.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/6/1887 - Advert

“SHIRE OAK INN, Stonnall (mid-way between Walsall and Lichfield), is replete with convenience for Travellers or Picnic Parties.

Home Brewed And Best Ales.

Finest Wines, Spirits, Cigars and Cordials.

There is a New Athletic and Recreation Ground, with convenience for Children’s Treats; half a mile from Walsall Wood (M.R.) and one mile from Brownhills (L. and N.W.R.)

Apply, for information to A. Boulter, Proprietor.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/10/1887

“Humphrey James, miner, Walsall Wood, and John Green, miner, Stonnall, were summed for being disorderly and refusing to quit the SHIRE OAK INN, on the 8th October, when requested to do so.

Thomas Croft Rogers, manager of the SHIRE OAK INN for Mrs. Bolt [sic], stated the defendants were at the public-house at half-past nine on Saturday night, and becoming very quarrelsome he requested them to leave, but they refused to go. He attempted to eject one and in the tussle he was knocked down and kicked.

He did not press the case, but brought it forward as an example.

Fines of 2s 6d, and 11s 6d costs were imposed in each case.”

Lichfield Mercury 30/3/1888

“Two married men named respectively Joseph Coley, and William Snape, were both charged with having on the night of the 20th inst. while in Mrs. Boulter’s public house at Shire Oaks, seriously assaulted a man named Thomas Ball, a miner, residing at Freezeland Lane, Shire Oak, Brownhills, the accused denied the charge. The complainant stated that he visited the public house known as the SHIRE OAK INN between seven and eight o’clock on the evening in question. In the house he saw the defendants. The defendant Coley struck him and Snape did likewise. Their reason for doing so was because he had received money from a man named Blakemore, who had given it to him so that the defendants might not take it off him. The defendants said that the money was not Blakemore’s but theirs. This the complainant contradicted. The defendants thereafter assaulted him. Enoch Blakemore living at Walsall Wood said he was at the SHIRE OAK INN on the night in question. He attended the pigeon shooting match during the day at Brownhills. At the inn he saw both of the defendants. He also saw Thomas Ball there. A quarrel took place between the defendants and Ball about half-past nine o’clock. They (defendants) were wanting the money which he had given Ball to keep for him in case the defendants might take it off him. He during the evening played at ‘tossing’ with the defendants and ‘lost.’ They all tossed for money. The defendants had threatened to take the money he had in his possession from him previous to his having given the same to Ball to keep for him. He did not observe the manager of the public-house whilst the ‘tossing’ was going on. The house was crowded. He saw the assault take place before closing time. Both of the defendants wanted the money off Ball. One of the defendants said to Ball ‘if you don’t give us the money we will kick you up in the b——y air.’ The defendants afterwards struck Ball and also kicked him while he was down. He could not say as to whether the manager of the house (Mr. Rogers) turned out the defendants. Mr. Rogers interfered and took the complainants part. He (the witness) left as soon as Rogers appeared upon the scene.

Mr. Barnes: Why did you not give Ball a helping hand? – Because I might get the worst of it. (Laughter).

Thomas Ball (at the request of the Bench) was again recalled and said that he had received £3 10s 0d to ‘settle the matter.’ He was paid the money by Rogers, the manager of the house.

Joseph Martin was the next witness called. He was in the ‘vaults’ when the assault occurred. He heard the defendant Snape and Blakemore quarrelling over some money. He was also witness to the assault. He saw the defendants ‘punching’ and kicking Ball. He heard the defendant Snape say that Blakemore had taken a ‘quid’ off him. After the assault was over he saw Ball sitting on the ‘bench’ with his head down. He appeared badly hurt. But next day he saw Ball romping about and looking as well as ever.

Mr. Barnes: Why did you not offer any interference when you saw the defendants assault Ball? – Simply because I thought I might get into bother myself. (Laughter).

Thomas Rogers next gave evidence. He acted as manager of the SHIRE OAK INN. The money which he gave to Ball to ‘settle the matter,’ he received from the defendant Coley. He then narrated what took place between the defendants and Ball. He did not allow ‘tossing’ at the house, and was not aware of any ‘tossing’ having taken place in the house on the night in question. Cards were hung up in the house stating that no gambling of any description was allowed. He took Ball’s part in the row. Ball, after the assault, had a ‘cut lip’ and complained of being somewhat bruised. But he was not very much injured. He smoked his pipe afterwards and walked home. (Laughter).

Mr. Barnes: How came you to receive that money? – The defendants asked me to be their mediator in connection with the affair and accordingly settle it with Ball.

Did you give Ball some brandy and take him home? – I went with him, but gave him some brandy before leaving the premises.

The presiding magistrate: You must have thought it a very hard case when you gave Ball £3 10s.

The defendant Snape: I didn’t give Rogers any money.

The defendant Coley: Of course we paid Rogers the money so that he might settle with Ball. (Laughter).

The Bench found the defendants guilty of assaulting Ball, and accordingly mulcted them in a sum of £1 19s 6d each, including costs. Mr. Barnes thought that no expenses ought to be allowed the witnesses on account of their having attempted to keep the case out of court. They had in his opinion acted very improperly. This the Bench agreed to.”

Lichfield Mercury 26/7/1889

“Henry James (manager to Mrs. Boulter), SHIRE OAK INN, applied for one hour’s extension on August 5th (Bank Holiday), which was granted.”

1891 Census

Shire Oak – SHIRE OAK INN

- [1] Henry J. Hope (29), public house manager, born Birmingham;
- [2] Ellen Hope (30), wife, barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [3] Charles H. Hope (9), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Ernest A. Hope (6), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [5] Annie Maddon (20), general servant, born Stonnall:

Lichfield Mercury 28/4/1893 - Advert

“SHIRE OAK INN, Stonnall, near Walsall.

Manager and his Wife wanted for the above, with reliable references; no young children. Manager required to work in small attached brewery; must be experienced, respectable, sober, and thoroughly trustworthy. Security required.

Apply G. H. Boulter.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/7/1896

“George Harold Boulter, brewer and landlord of the SHIRE OAK INN, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on July 2. Mr. Barnes represented the defendant.

John Turner, miner, Clayhanger, who had been subpoenaed by the police, said he was at the SHIRE OAK INN, on the date named about three o’clock. A man named Insley was there, and he saw him supplied with drink by the manager of the house. He saw him have two pints of beer and witness had a similar quantity. Insley was very merry and danced about the room, and witness also ‘jollied’ about a bit with him. A man was there playing the mouth organ.

Cross-examined: He had four pints of ale altogether that day and he was not drunk. He did not consider Insley drunk, only merry.

John James, labourer, Stonnall, said he saw Insley at the Inn, and he was not sober. Witness was there from three o’clock until eight, and during that time Insley was also in the house. When he went away he left Insley there.

Cross-examined: Insley did not appear sober when he went in.

Mr. Barnes: If you did not consider him sober why did you ask him to drink? – Witness: He looked dry.

Mr. Barnes: Oh, he was drunk and dry then! (laughter).

John Horton, bricklayer, Stonnall, said he considered that Insley was the worse for beer, but he could not say he was drunk. He thought he was in a fit state to be in charge of a horse and cart.

For the defence Thomas James Sankey, manager of the SHIRE OAK INN, Joseph Raison, labourer, Stonnall, and John Griffiths, miner, Shire Oak, were called and denied that Insley was drunk.

The Bench considered the case in each instance proved and fined Insley 5s and costs for being drunk in charge of a horse and cart, and ordered him to pay the costs in respect of the second charge. Boulter was fined 10s and costs. Altogether Boulter had to pay £3 13s 2d, and Insley £1 12s 4d.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1896

“The forty-fourth annual meeting of the members of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New members..... Mr. G. H. Boulter, SHIRE OAK INN, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/10/1897

“Adjourned Licensing meeting. The magistrates’ clerk at Lichfield Court, on Monday, said that there was only one case adjourned – that of the SHIRE OAK INN. It was adjourned to enable the applicant to complete certain alterations. Superintendent Barratt said the requirements had been complied with, and the license was renewed.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/8/1899

“When Mr. George Harold Boulter came forward to make application for the renewal of the license of the SHIRE OAK INN, Stonnall, the Chairman remarked that the attention of the Bench had been called to a very shameful and indecent handbill in the nature of a parody of the Ten Commandments, which had been issued at the house.

Mr. Boulter said that the handbills came from Willenhall, and were sent by way of an advertisement, to the number of about 500. The Chairman said that it was a very shocking handbill to issue, and if such papers were sent out the Bench would have to make an alteration in the holding of the license.

Supt. Barratt said he was informed that these papers had been broadcast in the neighbourhood, and they certainly were most objectionable. He was not aware until he saw those papers and made inquiries that he, Boulter was not resident at the house. His mother told him that he did live there, but it appeared that he did not. Mr. Boulter had availed himself of his position as a licensed victualler to put in a manager, but it was the only case in the division, and was highly objectionable. He would now give formal notice of objection to Mr. Boulter, and the case could be dealt with at the adjourned Licensing sessions on September 27th. The Bench said that would be a better course, and the renewal of the license was accordingly postponed.”

Lichfield Mercury 29/9/1899

“The application of George Harold Boulter landlord of the SHIRE OAK INN, which has been adjourned from the Licensing Sessions came up for consideration. An objection had been taken to the license on the ground that the landlord did not reside on the premises. Mr. A. W. Barnes (solicitor) appeared for Mr. Boulter, and said it was rather singular that Supt. Barratt should now raise an objection to the license now that it was held by Mr. Boulter. It had been held by his mother for a long time, and although she resided of the most part in Worcestershire no objection was raised. At the back of the premises was a brewery, and Mr. Boulter in consequence had a bedroom at the inn which he occasionally occupied, and was on the premises the whole of the day. He was a gentleman of good position, and it was awkward for him and his wife, whom he had recently married to reside on the premises. As it was he lived within two miles of the premises. As regard to precedent he might say that several Benches did not absolutely discontinue the practice. The second principal hotel in Walsall was in the name of Mr. Zeller, although he did not actually reside at the hotel. Under the circumstances he would ask them to renew the license to Mr. Boulter on the understanding that at the next transfer sessions they applied for the license to be transferred to the manager’s name. It would be very awkward if the Bench refused to renew the license that day. With respect to the objectionable circular to which attention had been drawn (a parody on The Ten Commandments), Mr. Boulter had not seen it prior to its issue, and had taken steps immediately to have it suppressed. Mr. Manley said the adjournment was asked for in order that another manager might be appointed. The notice of objection, however, having been read, it showed that the objections were that the license was unnecessary and that the licensee did not live on the premises.

Mr. Barnes observed that the police would not have objected to the license if the remarks had not come from the Bench as they did.

The Magistrates’ Clerk said that it was a very strict rule in that Division that the license should be granted to no one but the tenant. Mr. Barnes said the circular mentioned was an exact replica of one which had been issued in another town where no objection had been taken to it.

The Bench decided to renew the license on the understanding named by Mr. Barnes, that the application should be made for the manager.”

Joseph Southall = Joseph Southwell

Lichfield Mercury 12/1/1900

“Joseph Southall applied for a temporary transfer of the SHIRE OAK INN, lately occupied by Mr. Boulter. The application was adjourned for the production of an agreement.”

Lichfield Mercury 26/1/1900

“Mr. J. Southwell applied for a temporary transfer to him of the license of the SHIRE OAK INN. He stated that he was the manager at a salary, and resides on the premises. Supt. Barratt said that he had no objection to make. He had known Mr. Southwell for fifteen years. The application was granted.”

Lichfield Mercury 16/2/1900

“Joseph Southall applied for the full transfer of the license of the SHIRE OAK INN from Mr. Boulter to himself. Applicant stated that he was going to receive a salary of 30s per week, and the Bench refused to confirm the transfer.”

Walsall Observer 17/2/1900

“At the Brownhills Police Court, on Wednesday, Joseph Southall applied for a transfer of the license of the SHIRE OAK to himself, the license having been held by the owner Mr. Boulter.

The application had been before the Bench on several occasions and adjourned from time to time for the production of the agreement between the parties. The agreement was now produced, and after the Bench had inspected it they came to the conclusion not to grant the transfer.....”

[It was eventually transferred in July 1900.]

Joseph Southall was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protectin Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

Chester Road, Shire Oak – SHIRE OAK INN

- [1] Joseph Southall (44), licensed victualler, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Emily Southall (42), wife, born Shire Oak;
- [3] Harriet R. Southall (17), daughter, born Norton Canes, Staffordshire;
- [4] George Southall (15), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Joseph Southall (13), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Richard Southall (10), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Thomas E. Southall (8), son, born Walsall Wood;

[8] Harry F. Southall (5), son, born Walsall Wood:

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1901

“Charles Taylor, cowman, Upper Stonnall, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly on the 1st inst. Pc Maclennan said he saw the defendant, who had been turned out of the SHIRE OAK INN. He was using bad language, and he gave no name or address, was locked up. It was his first offence, and the defendant was ordered to pay 4s costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 13/2/1903

“Donald McKay, tramp, minus one leg, was charged with refusing to quit the licensed premises of the SHIRE OAK INN, on February 9th, and also with breaking a pane of glass at the same time and date. Joseph Southall, the landlord, stated the defendant visited his premises and became very quarrelsome. When asked to go out he refused, and witness sent for the police. He also broke a pane of glass, doing damage to the extent of 3s. Defendant was fined 5s and costs for the first offence, 5s and the damage and costs for the second.”

Lichfield Mercury 31/7/1903

“On Monday the anniversary took place of the Female Burial Society, which is held at the SHIRE OAK INN. The members assembled in the morning, when the annual sharing was paid out by the secretary (Mr. John Craddock), it amounted to 7s per financial member. The members afterwards formed themselves into procession, and headed by the Brownhills Old Band, marched to Stonnall church, where a suitable sermon was preached by the Rev. Hutchinson. After service the procession reformed, and marched back to the Club House, where a good dinner was provided by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. J. Southall), 80 members participating. The Secretary read the statement of accounts, and gave the amount of funds still in hand. The members finally indulged in dancing.”

Lichfield Mercury 12/8/1904

“Frank Page, farm labourer, Stonnall, was charged with having on July 16th stolen a mackintosh cape, the property of George Harold Boulter, at Shire Oak.

Prosecutor stated he was the owner of the SHIRE OAK INN, and on the Saturday in question he left his bicycle in the passage. There was a coat and bag attached to the cycle, and in the bag there was a cape. In the afternoon he found his pump missing, but did not miss the cape until the Monday morning on opening the bag. The value of the cape he placed at 5s.

Pc Mathews said on July 28th he received the prisoner in custody from Rushall police and the cape was also handed to him. In reply to the charge prisoner said, ‘I’m sorry about it; I was drunk at the time.’

Prisoner pleaded guilty, and was fined 10s and £2 7s costs; in default, one months’ imprisonment.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/8/1905

“Eliza Thornsball Farm, Stonnall, was summoned for using a cart on the highway without having the name painted thereon, on the 6th inst. Ps Tideswell said he saw a horse attached to a spring cart outside the SHIRE OAK INN, Shire Oaks. There was no name on the cart. Defendant’s son was in charge of the cart. A fine of 1s and 8s 6d costs was imposed.”

On September 28th, George Harold Boulter was fined £10 and £2 8s 6d costs, for having sold two gallons of port without a license between 31st March and 6th April, 1906.

Lichfield Mercury 28/9/1906

“Jos. Southall, late tenant of the SHIRE OAK INN, was charged with being disorderly and with refusing to quit the licensed premises of the SHIRE OAK INN when requested to do so by the licensee, on Sept. 12th. Mr. Frank Cooper (Messrs. Addison and Cooper, Walsall), prosecuted, and Mr. A. W. Barnes (Lichfield) defended.

Mr. Cooper said defendant was, some time ago, tenant of the SHIRE OAK INN, but for some reason or other he was dismissed. Ever since that time defendant had made himself as objectionable as possible. At Brownhills Police Court on the 12th inst. defendant gave evidence against Mr. Boulter, the owner of the inn, when concerned in an Inland Revenue prosecution. He came to the SHIRE OAK INN the same evening, and behaved in a very quarrelsome manner, and when asked to leave he refused and used very bad language. He (Mr. Cooper) thought that owing to the stringency of the Licensing Laws the licensee should be fully protected.

Alfred S. Holland, licensee of the SHIRE OAK INN, said that on the day in question defendant came to the SHIRE OAK INN with his wife, an ordered liquor. Upon the owner of the inn, Mr. Boulter, passing through the room, defendant made use of very bad language. He became very disorderly, and therefore witness asked him to leave. He did not leave voluntarily, but had to be ejected.

Evidence for the prosecution was also given by Jane Holland, Lichfield Road, Brownhills, George Price, Shire Oak, labourer, and John Richardson.

Mr. Barnes, for the defence, said he denied all disorderly conduct upon the licensed premises. Defendant did not go into the house for the purpose of ‘kicking up a row,’ but simply to obtain drink. Defendant rather resented being ordered out of the house without any cause. When he had left the house he admitted having used the language. He denied using any bad language at all in the house.

Defendant said he called at the SHIRE OAK INN on the day in question with his wife, to obtain a drink. He did not use any bad language in the house, neither was he disorderly. He admitted when he got on to the pavement he did use ‘indiscrete language.’ Emily Southall, wife of the defendant, said defendant never used any bad language, either inside or outside the house, neither was he disorderly.

William Paget, Brownhills, miner, said the defendant had not been guilty of bad language inside the house. He was, however, speaking rather loudly.

Mr. Barnes: Had he (witness) been the licensee of the house he should certainly have ordered defendant off the premises.

By Mr. Cooper: Defendant did leave the premises without being forced.

The Chairman said the Bench considered the case proved, and defendant would be fined £5 and £1 4s 6d costs. The Bench were bound to protect licensed victuallers, and defendant having been a licensed victualler himself ought to have known better than endanger a person's license."

Lichfield Mercury 16/11/1906

"Alfred Stephen Holland, manager of the SHIRE OAK INN, was charged with permitting drunkenness on the 3rd ult, and Job Griffiths, Brownhill, miner, was charged with being drunk on the licensed premises of the SHIRE OAK INN on the same date. Mr. P. Burke (Stafford) prosecuted, and Mr. F. Cooper (Messrs. Addison and Cooper, Walsall), defended Griffiths, whilst Mr. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson, Walsall), appeared for the landlord.

Pc Lee stated that about 10-30pm on the date in question he was on duty near the SHIRE OAK INN. When in the passage leading from the doorway he saw Griffiths reeling about. The man was very drunk.....

The Bench retired, and after some considerable absence, the Chairman said the Bench were perfectly unanimous in their opinion that Griffin was drunk, and he would be fined 5s and 6s 6d costs. They also considered the case against the publican had been proved, and he would be fined £2 and costs.

Griffiths: I'll do time before I'll pay. – The Justices' Clerk (Mr. J. A. Thomas): Fourteen days then."

Lichfield Mercury 8/3/1907

"The adjourned licensing sessions for the Lichfield and Brownhills Petty Sessions were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. G. Boulter, the owner and licensee of the SHIRE OAK INN, applied for the renewal of the license.

The Clerk said the license was objected to by Supt. Barratt.

The Chairman: Didn't he withdraw the objection. – The Clerk: Practically, sir, but it was adjourned as Mr. Boulter was ill and unable to attend.

The police did not now press the objection and the license was granted, Mr. Boulter being cautioned to observe that the house was conducted properly."

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1908 - Advert

"T. Boulter & Son, Shire Oak (Near Walsall), Brewers, Maltsters, Spirit & Hop Merchants.

Noted Home-Brewed Ales And Stouts.

Guaranteed Brewed From Pure Malt and Hops Only.

The SHIRE OAK INN, which is within ten minute's walk of Walsall Tramway terminus at Walsall Wood, has been thoroughly renovated, and an excellent Bowling Green put down.

An Entirely New And Up-To-Date Brewing Plant has been installed, ensuring that our Ales and Stouts are of the finest possible quality.

Our Ales are to be obtained at the MINERS ARMS, Rushall.

FOUR CROSSES, Shelfield.

The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall (Mr. P. Claridge's).

THE STORES, Freer Street, Walsall.

The Swan, Stonnall."

Lichfield Mercury 11/12/1908

"George Harold Boulter, licensee of the SHIRE OAK INN, was charged with not having his name in a conspicuous place on the inn. Pc Lee said that on Tuesday, the 10th ult, he visited the SHIRE OAK INN. He could not find any name on the sign, and on going in, the manager of the house said he did not think there was any name on the premises. On Friday he visited the house again, and in the vestibule he saw the name of the defendant printed on paper on a board. The board was not visible from the road.

He questioned defendant about it, and he said he did not think the board had been put up since Tuesday.

Mr. J. A. Thomas (Justices' Clerk) said that the case for the prosecution had not been proved, inasmuch as evidence was not forthcoming that the Justices had directed that the name should be visible from the outside of the building.

The case was accordingly dismissed."

Alfred James Lees was married to Florence May.

Lichfield Mercury 28/6/1912

"Richard Page, miner, Stonnall, was summoned for disorderly behaviour at Shire Oak on June 17th.

Pc Bennett stated that in consequence of complaints received he went to the SHIRE OAK INN and saw the defendant. The barmaid had refused to serve defendant as he wanted to fight another man. When witness arrived defendant went outside the inn, took off his jacket, and offered to fight any man at Shire Oak.

Defendant was fined 10s and 9s 6d costs."

Walsall Advertiser 13/12/1913

“Vincent Jones (36), labourer, of Summer Hill, was summoned by George H. Boulter, of the SHIRE OAK INN, for being disorderly and refusing to quit licensed premises on the 18th ult. Emily Edwards, barmaid, said that defendant used very bad language and helped himself to beer. He stayed about an hour after she requested him to leave. William Hitchins, a miner, gave evidence, and defendant, who had a bad record, was fined 5/- and costs (£1 8s 6d).”

Walsall Observer 17/1/1914

“At the Brownhills Police Court on Wednesday, a temporary transfer was granted from George Henry Boulter, licensee of the SHIRE OAK INN, Brownhills, of the license of the Swan Inn, Stonnall.”

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916 - Advert

“The Shire Oak Old Tree.

This was originally one of the oaks marking the parish boundary, and visitors calling at the SHIRE OAK INN, ten minutes from the Walsall Wood terminus, in opening hours, between 10.30 and 9.30pm, can still see a treasured portion of it.”

Walsall Observer 1/4/1916 - Advert

“SHIRE OAK INN.

This well-known hostelry, ten minutes walk from tram terminus at Walsall Wood, and from which magnificent views of fifty miles’ range can be obtained is open weekdays from 10.30am to 9.30pm.”

Walsall Observer 13/5/1916

“Thomas Horton, miner, Spring Hill, Brownhills, who did not appear, was at the Police Court on Wednesday, fined 15s for being drunk and disorderly on April 24.

Police-constable Bennett said that about 7pm he was on duty at the Lichfield and Chester cross-roads at Shire Oak, when defendant came up. He was very drunk and waving his arms about. He went into the SHIRE OAK INN, but was immediately ejected by the barman. He then offered to fight witness, who eventually got him home.”

Walsall Observer 17/6/1916 - Advert

“SHIRE OAK INN.

Teas can be supplied in this well-known hostelry, ten minutes walk from tram terminus at Walsall Wood, and from which magnificent views of fifty miles’ range can be obtained.”

Lichfield Mercury 26/9/1919

“On Monday a very pleasant party left the SHIRE OAK INN at 10 o’clock for Tamworth. The party numbered 26 returned local soldiers, who went as the guests of Mr. G. H. Boulter. They were favoured with lovely weather. Tamworth castle was visited, and subsequently games were played, races were held, and a football match, Married v. Single took place. Much credit is due to Mr. E. Blakemore, manager of the SHIRE OAK INN, who carried out the arrangements admirably.”

William Durrant was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Lichfield Mercury 8/10/1926 - Advert

“Shire Oak Ales are Pure and Brewed from the Very Best Malt and Hops Procurable with the most Up-To-Date Plant, Brains, and on Home Brewed Lines.

Excellent Public Bar Value Given.

Mild Ale 6d, Old Ale 8d per Pint.

Call and Sample For Yourself At:

Fox Inn, Hopwas, Coton, near Tamworth.

Swan Inn, Stonnall.

SHIRE OAK INN, Shire Oak.

Scales Inn, Market Street, Lichfield.

Where a Homely Welcome with Pleasant Attention and the Best of Beer Awaits You Amidst Beautiful Surroundings.

Address: Shire Oak Brewery, Stonnall, Nr. Walsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 4/2/1927

“The annual licensing sessions of the Lichfield and Brownhills Petty Sessional Division, was held on Wednesday morning..... Emily Durant was granted the temporary transfer of the license of the SHIRE OAK INN.”

Lichfield Mercury 25/2/1927

“Mrs. Emily Durant applied for the full transfer of the SHIRE OAK INN from her husband William Durant, and in reply to a question by the Chairman (Mr. F. Powell) she stated that her husband went away in January. Mr. Powell then pointed out that a copy of the notice of transfer before the Bench stated to have been signed under William Durant’s hand on February 2nd. He had either been in the district or the notice was not in order. He asked if there was a representative of the owner, Mr. G. H. Boulter, present, but there was not.

The Chairman then said, however, that the irregularity had nothing to do with the applicant, and the transfer would be granted.”

Lichfield Mercury 28/6/1935

“The following licenses were granted.
SHIRE OAK INN, music and dancing.”

Lichfield Mercury 28/1/1939

“R.A.O. The annual supper in connection with the Prince of Wales Lodge took place at the SHIRE OAK INN, when nearly sixty sat down to an excellent meal prepared by the Host and Hostess (Mr. and Mrs. G. Bufton). Afterwards Mr. E. Harris (Grand Primo, of Shelfield) presided, and congratulated the Lodge on the progress made since its inception. A pleasant ceremony took place when Mr. H. Sadler (Knight) presented Mr. R. Pagett, City Minstrel, with an engraved jewel with his name inscribed for his services to the Lodge. The recipient suitably responded, and thanked them. A very enjoyable programme was given by Bros. D. Bradbury, W. Stanley, H. Peacock and G. Challis; accompanied by Mr. R. Pagett. At the close a vote of thanks was passed to the Host and Hostess, Chairman and the artists.”

1939 Register

261, Lichfield Road

- [1] George Bufton, date of birth 8/4/1879, licensee publican, married;
- [2] Caroline Bufton, dob 12/7/1882, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Alwyn C. Price, dob 2/12/1913, mechanic, motor, heavy, married;
- [4] Ivy L. Price, dob 30/5/1918, unpaid domestic duties, married:

1944 Probate

“Caroline Bufton, of SHIRE OAK INN, Shire Oak, Walsall Wood, near Walsall, Staffordshire (wife of George Bufton), died 15 June 1944. Administration Birmingham 28 July to the said George Bufton, licensed victualler. Effects £126 18s 6d.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/8/1946

“The funeral took place at the Walsall Wood Parish Church on Friday of Mr. Geo. Bufton who for the past fifteen years has been the licensee of the SHIRE OAK INN. Deceased who was 67 years of age, was one of the keenest supporters of the Lichfield and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. In addition to the family mourners there was a particularly large attendance of the members of the Prince of Wales and other R.A.O.B. Lodges.....”

1946 Probate

“George Bufton, of SHIRE OAK INN, Shire Oak, Walsall Wood, near Walsall, Staffordshire, died 12 August 1946. Probate Birmingham 12 November to Arthur Hilton Shaw and William Grundy, plasterers. Effects £984 1s 3d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/11/1953

“Mr. J. Granham Robinson, Chasetown, was unanimously elected president of the Lichfield and District Master Butchers’ Association, in succession to Mr. Percy Coates, at the annual meeting of the association, held at the SHIRE OAK INN.....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 19/3/1993

“Bon Appetit Pub Grub.....
SHIRE OAK, Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood, Walsall.”

Express & Star 7/8/2019

“Two new four-bedroom homes are set to be built on a Walsall pub car park. Walsall Council’s planning committee are expected to approve plans submitted by Punch Partnerships for the two properties at SHIRE OAK INN, Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood. The company said it would be ‘business as usual’ for the pub and added that the current licensee supported their proposals. An existing beer garden will continue to serve the venue while 42 parking spaces will be retained for the pub. In their application to the authority, Punch said, ‘The application seeks to make better use of an underutilised area of the SHIRE OAK’s car park whilst contributing to the local housing need. The SHIRE OAK’s car park will be reconfigured to retain 42 parking spaces with a layout that better serves patrons of the pub and the publicans. This is sufficient to maintain the operational requirements of the SHIRE OAK going forward. The SHIRE OAK’s beer garden will be retained in its entirety, again, maintaining the pub’s operational requirements and ensuring ‘business-as-usual’ going forward. The tenant of the SHIRE OAK and current operator of the business has offered their wholehearted support for the scheme and the confidence in the ongoing viability of the pub.’ Two neighbouring residents objected to the proposal with concerns over the loss of spaces to serve the pub, as well as concerns the houses would result in on-street parking on adjacent Chester Road. But planning officers said parking spaces would be provided on site when the houses are constructed. They added the residential development would be separated from the pub, with different access for both and have recommended committee members grant approval.”

Express & Star 16/5/2023

“As pubs continue to battle the cost of living crisis, the Express & Star continues its Love Your Local series which celebrates our local inns. The SHIRE OAK in Walsall has become a hit with locals for its regular events, including the open mic nights which allows budding musicians to showcase their talents. The pub is run by former comedian Rick Gothard, 59, and his partner Cathryn Jones, 45, after they took over in October 2020. After having a difficult start building relationships with the locals, a lot of hard work has gone into building the trust and now Rick says himself and Cathryn are regarded more as friends than just publicans. Rick, originally from Barnsley, said, ‘Cath owned a hotel in Scotland and we ran it for seven years before deciding to sell and we put our CVs out, and got offered lots of opportunities but the SHIRE OAK was ideal. It was a little difficult to start with, as the guy who had it before us had a good reputation and so it took a lot of work to win the locals over, but we turned it around, built many relationships, after a lot of hard work and effort. The hard work has not stopped though and still continues, we are still very hands on and we do not just rely on others to do the work. One of the great things we do is run regular events throughout the week, every night except Tuesdays and so it has become really popular. We also have done several charity events and helped campaigns for charity that local people have been running, all of this has really helped build that family-feel.’

The pub runs several events such as open mic nights, quiz nights, karaoke nights, live music and bingo – all of which comes from Rick having worked as a stand-up comedian when he used to live in Tenerife. He said, ‘I lived and worked in Tenerife and I would warm the crowd up before entertainment came on, and that has carried over into the SHIRE OAK. I still warm the crowd up, and so it is like Tenerife but without the sun. The open mic nights on Mondays really help promote lots of young local talent. We have seen a lot of young local talent come through and they invite people along to see them perform, and so they appreciate the platform we are providing but we also appreciate them because they are bringing people in and so it helps everyone all around. We serve food daily here too from midday, and on Sundays we do Sunday roasts which have become so popular. We initially started doing them when we took over and people wanted them as takeaways as you couldn’t eat in due to the lockdown, and so it became a massive hit and has carried on ever since. One thing that we are proud of is that everything is made fresh on the day onsite, nothing is frozen and so customers can taste the difference and really appreciate that. It has become so popular that a table has to be booked in order to eat here on a Sunday.’”

[2023]

SIR CHARLES NAPIER

153, (143), Milton Street / Lord Street, Palfrey, WALSALL

OWNERS

Robert Trussler, Walsall Wood
James Merridon [1861]
J. W. Brooks
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Robert Trussler [1856] – [1859]
Samuel Jenkins [1860] – [1861]
James Maiden [1861]
George Griffin [1864] – [1865]
John Griffin [] – 1865);
Thomas Howley (1865 – 1866);
Isaac Dolphin (1866 – [1868]
James D Coates [] – 1869);
George Bayley (1869 – []
Thomas Walters [1869]
William Molyneux [1871]
Thomas Farrington [1872] – [1881];
Thomas Fletcher [1876] ?
Jacob Chilton [];
Thomas Henry Faulkner [1886] – 1887);
George Edward Elwell (1887);
Henry Anning (1887 – 1889);
William Hancock (1889 – 1918);
Mrs. Hannah Hancock (1918 – 1921);
John Herbert Taylor (1921 – 1923);
Mrs. Rose Hancock (1923 – 1962);
Katherine Mary McAllister (1962 – 1963);
Pauline Olive Sylvia McAllister (1963 – 1964);
Brian William Parker (1964 – 1966);

George Edward Morris (1966 – 1967);

Kenneth Arthur Walker (1967 – []

Michael Greenfield [1983]

Karmjit Singh [2007] – [2017]

NOTES

Lord Street, Palfrey [1865]

143, Milton Street [1891], [1896], [1904]

153, Milton Street [1908], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]

Staffordshire Sentinel 13/9/1856

“Monday being the day appointed for the renewal of old licenses, and considering the application for new ones, there was a rather full attendance of magistrates.....

There were no less than twenty-eight applications for new licenses, all of which were refused with the exception of Robert Trussler, beerhouse keeper, Palfrey Green.....

The applications were for the most part refused, in consequence of the number of houses already licensed in the respective localities, and in a few instances from the want of sufficient accommodation.”

Walsall Free Press 20/6/1857 - Advert

“A Public Tea Party to be held at Mr. R. Trussler’s, The SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN, Palfrey.

Mr. R. Trussler begs to return thanks to the public for the kind patronage they have hitherto shewn him; and likewise to inform them that he has made great improvements in his Pleasure Garden, to enable parties to enjoy themselves at the Second Annual Tea Party, which will be held on Monday next, June 22nd, 1857, at Five o’clock in the Afternoon. Dancing to commence at Seven o’clock. Tickets, One Shilling each; Music included.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/3/1858 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Public Houses, Messuages, Hereditaments, and Premises, situate at Palfrey Green, Walsall, and Bloxwich, in the County of Stafford.

H. Farmington will Sell by Auction, at the NEW INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Tuesday next, the 30th day of March, 1858, at seven o’clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. All those four Messuages or Tenements, or Dwelling Houses, with Brewhouses, Outbuildings, and Garden Ground, thereunto belonging, situate and being at Palfrey, near Walsall aforesaid (bounded on the one side by the property of Mr. Burns, and on the other by the SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN), now in the several occupations of James, Biddle, Stackhouse and Long, at a rental of £34 9s per annum.

Lot 2. All that Old Licensed and well-frequented Public House, called the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, adjoining the abovementioned Premises, with Brewhouse, Stable, Piggery, Pleasure and Kitchen Gardens (tastefully laid out), Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the possession of Mr. Robert Trussler, the Proprietor.

This lot is sold subject to the rights of the purchasers of Lots 1 and 3 to the use of the water from the pump as now used.

Lot 3. All those Four other Messuages, Tenements, or Dwelling Houses, adjoining Lot 2, with the brewhouses and Outoffices thereunto belonging, in the respective occupations of Mills, Challinor, Becket and another, producing an annual rental of £31 4s.....”

Walsall Free Press 29/5/1858 - Advert

“Old Licensed Public House, The SIR CHARLES NAPIER, at Palfrey, Walsall.

By Mr. H. Farrington, To Be Let, and entered upon immediately, that old Licensed and well frequented Public House, known as the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, pleasantly situated at Palfrey Green, within half a mile of the town, now in the occupation of Mr. R. Trussler.

The house contains a capital tap room, seated round, a capital retail shop now used as a huckster’s and grocer’s, good bar, bar parlour and liquor shop, parlour, brew-house, good cellars with entrance to the yard, lodge room, and suitable bedrooms, large yard, pumps of good water, retail coal yard, stabling, piggeries, marble alley, bowling and dancing green, fitted with six alcoves, good kitchen garden, and every convenience for carrying on a good trade.

The fixtures, brewing utensils, licenses, stock-in-trade will be required to be taken to in the usual way.

To an energetic couple the above presents a most desirable opportunity, as a good trade may be done in the grocery and provision business, the premises being so well arranged for that purpose as well as a respectable business in the ale and spirits, it being the principal inn in the neighbourhood. The rent and payments very low, a lease may be had if required.

For particulars apply 49, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 19/6/1858

“Robert Trussler, landlord of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER Public-house, Palfrey, was summoned for having had his house open for the sale of beer before the hour of half-past twelve o’clock on the afternoon of Sunday last. The above having been proved by Police-constable Pargeter, Trussler was fined 10s and costs, a former conviction having been proved against him.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... applications for renewal of old licenses, and the granting of new ones.....

The application of Robert Trussler, of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, who had been twice convicted – once on the 21st of September last, on which occasion he was fined 5s and costs for refusing to admit the officer on duty, and again on the 16th of June, on which occasion he was fined 10s and costs for having kept his house open on Sunday for the sale of drink during prohibited hours, was refused.”

Walsall Free Press 20/8/1859 – Advert

“Sale At Palfrey, near Walsall.

To Be Sold by Auction, By Mr. George Bayley, on Thursday Next, August 25th, 1859, at the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, belonging to Mr. R. Trussler, who is declining the business, a portion of the Household Furniture, and other effects, not required by the in-coming tenant; consisting of chairs, tables, oil paintings and engravings in frames; eight-day and other clocks, bedsteads, prime feather beds, chest of drawers, chamber furniture, and other household requisites; also an excellent In-calving Cow, seven prime store pigs, carts, hand-cart, wheelbarrow, set of harness, and numerous other articles, on the premises as above. The whole will be sold without reserve, under the usual conditions. Sale to commence at 12 o'clock-noon. Auctioneer's residence, No.4, Lichfield Street.”

Walsall Free Press 23/6/1860 - Advert

“The SIR CHARLES NAPIER, at Palfrey to be let, with immediate possession. Coming-in low. Apply to Mr. Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

1861 Census

Palfrey – SIR CHARLES NAPIER Public House

- [1] James Maiden (34), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Maria Maiden (34), wife, born Essington;
- [3] Jeremiah Trussler (52), lodger, labourer, born Harpole, Northamptonshire;
- [4] Francis Piggott (45), lodger, labourer, born Broseley, Shropshire:

George Griffin was also a shopkeeper. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 15/9/1866 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that Old Licensed Inn, the SIR CHARLES NAPIER situate at Palfrey, in the Foreign of Walsall, now doing a good business; the Stock (which is low) and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation. For particulars apply to John Osbourn, Auctioneer and Appraiser, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Thomas Howley = Thomas Hawley

London Gazette 13/11/1866

“Thomas Hawley, of Palfrey, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Stirrup Maker and Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 23rd day of October, 1866, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, at the Court-house, Goodall street, Walsall, on the 28th day of November instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Isaac Dolphin = Samuel Dolphin

Walsall Free Press 30/11/1867

“Samuel [sic] Dolphin, landlord of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, who had been convicted of a similar offence in September last, was charged with having, on Sunday, had his house open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours. Mrs. Dolphin, who appeared for her husband, admitted the charge; and the Bench fined the defendant £1 and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 1/2/1868

“Isaac Dolphin, landlord of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER public house, was charged with having on Sunday last had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Acting-sergeant Rall said he, in company Police-constable Elms, at twelve o'clock, went and found in the brewhouse ten men, and in a tub he discovered two pints and a glass of ale. The officer then went into the house and told the landlady what he had seen and asked her to account for it, and she said they were Wednesbury men. While he was in the house the landlord came down stairs and said to the officer ‘Are you going to send me to my grave?’ The officer replied ‘I have no wish to do anything of the kind, but if you break the law you must abide by it.’ Three of the men were known by the officer to be inhabitants of Walsall. Police-constable Elms was next called, but before he was examined, Mr. Glover, who appeared for the defendant, said he had a witness to prove that the men in the house were from Wednesbury; but as he had just ascertained that the witnesses, who could not wait any longer, had left the court, he (Mr. Glover) would on behalf of his client plead guilty, and he hoped their worships would only inflict a nominal fine.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant, who had been twice convicted under the same act since the last licensing day, to pay a fine of 10s and costs.”

London Gazette 7/8/1868

“Isaac Dolphin, now of SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN, Palfrey, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Coal Dealer, formerly of No.3, Day-street, Walsall aforesaid, Beerhouse Keeper and Coal Dealer, and previously thereto of Green-lane, Walsall aforesaid, Charter Master, Coal Dealer, and Carter, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 3rd day of August, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 18th day of August instant, at twelve of the Clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Walsall Free Press 22/8/1868

“Isaac Dolphin, landlord of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, was charged with having at 11.45am, on Sunday, the 16th inst, had his house open for the sale of beer.

Police-sergeant Childs, said at the hour in question, he visited the defendant’s house, and found four men, and on the table several jugs, two of which contained liquor. In the garden were several other men, and in the arbour two quart jugs. He called the defendant and said he would report the house. Defendant replied ‘I suppose I am a dead man tomorrow.’

Mr. Glover, who appeared for the defendant, cross-examined the officer, who said, he did not see any bills posted on the defendant’s house; but on returning to the police station he was informed by Sergeant Ogden that defendant was a bankrupt. Mr. Glover contended that the defendant having been declared a bankrupt on the 3rd of August, the defendant on the 16th of August was not actually the responsible party. Mr. Glover then made a very able appeal on behalf of his client, who is in a very precarious state of health, and was now penniless, and could not pay any fine inflicted.

The Bench, under the peculiar circumstances, allowed the defendant to be discharged on paying 5s costs.”

Walsall Free Press 14/11/1868 - Advert

“To Be Let, that Old Licensed Inn, the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, Walsall, no Stock, Fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

Enquire on the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway, the following publicans and beer-house keepers were each fined 2s 6d and cost for having had their houses open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Thomas Walters, landlord of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, public-house, Palfrey, who, at five minutes past twelve o’clock Sunday last, had five men drinking in his house.”

Walsall Free Press 13/5/1871

“William Molyneux, landlord of the CHARLES NAPIER public-house, Palfrey, was charged with having had his house open between eight and nine o’clock on Sunday morning last. Elizabeth Betts, wife of Samuel Betts, said at the time in question she went to defendant’s house and found her husband and two other men drinking, and called defendant’s attention to the fact, and he said he had only just come down stairs. On cross-examination, witness said the front door was closed but the back door was open. This being the case for the prosecution, Mr. Dale, who appeared for the complainant, said inasmuch as his client had not been summoned for selling ale but for keeping open his house, the charge had been proved. The Bench over-ruled this objection, although Mr. Dale quoted the case of ‘Tenant v. Cumberland,’ wherein it was held, the street door having been shut the house must be considered to be closed. Mr. Dale then said the offence was committed without the knowledge and consent of the defendant by his servant. Jane Stevens, who on being called, said she supplied the ale to the men on the morning in question although her master had told her not to fill drink on Sunday, but she did it rather than call her master up. The Bench said the case was a very proper one to have been brought before them, and they had some difficulty in coming to a decision; but after considering all the circumstances, the Bench decided to dismiss the case.”

Birmingham Gazette 7/7/1871 - Advert

“To Let, that Old-Licensed House, the SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN, Palfrey, near Walsall, with Bowling Alley and Quoit Green, also every convenience for doing a good business. In-coming at Valuation.

For particulars, &c, apply on the Premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session. The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:

Thomas Fletcher, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

1881 Census

Milton Street – NAPIER

[1] Thomas Farrington (44), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Hannah Farrington (46), wife, born Walsall;

- [3] Thomas Farrington (22), son, carpenter, born France;
- [4] Henry Farrington (21), son, collar maker, born France;
- [5] Joseph Farrington (17), son, purse maker, born Walsall;
- [6] Alice Farrington (13), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Prudence Astley (21), domestic servant, born Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1881 - Advert

“Walsall Amateur Florist Society.

A Meeting of the above Society will be held at the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, at 8 o'clock, on Monday Next; Thursday, RED LION, Bloxwich Road; Friday, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey.

Any person desiring to tender for Refreshments, please send tender in by 6 o'clock on Monday next, August 22nd, to the FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.

H. C. Bowen, Hon. Sec.”

Walsall Observer 21/3/1885

“At the County Court on Wednesday, before His Honour Judge Griffiths, application was made for an administration order against Thomas Farrington, late of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN, Palfrey. Mr. E. Evans appeared for the debtor, and Mr. J. N. Cotterell for Mr. Ellis's trustees, who were creditors for coal supplied.

Mr. Evans pointed out that all the debts with the exception of the one to Mr. Ellis's trustees, were trade debts, and he asked that, as the debtor had paid all his money to the creditors as far as it would go, his honour would make an order for payment of a composition only and not for payment of the full amount of the debts, £438 2s 6d. His Honour said that had it not been for the debt to these trustees, which was not a trade debt, he should have been inclined to order a composition in this case, though he had never done that before, but under the circumstances he must order payment in full by 10s a month. Mr. J. N. Cotterell was appointed to see to the order being carried out.”

Thomas Henry Faulkner was fined 40s and costs, on 6th August 1886, for opening on Sunday.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of William Hancock, the SIR CHARLES NAPIER. Refused.”

1891 Census

143, Milton Street – Public House

- [1] William Hancock (40), bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [2] Catherine Hancock (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Alfred Hancock (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Matilda Hamilton (27), boarder, machinist, born Crewe;
- [5] Hannah Pickering (16), general servant, born Moseley Village:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Application for extensive structural alterations at the SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Palfrey, was made by Mr. Jackson, who said the suggested alterations involved the taking out of the windows and the making of a level front, also the throwing of the bagatelle room into the vaults. The Chief Constable strongly opposed on the grounds that what the application really meant was to convert this old-fashioned house into a gin palace. The application was refused by the magistrates.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“Sick and Dividend Society. The fourth annual meeting in connection with the SIR CHARLES NAPIER club, was held at the club house on Wednesday, Mr. T. Farrington in the chair. The secretary (Mr. A. Hancock) read the balance sheet.....”

William Hancock = William Hancox

1901 Census

143, Milton Street

- [1] William Hancock (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Hancock (25), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Alfred Hancock (23), son, barman, born Walsall;
- [4] William Hancock (8), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Gladys Hancock (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Emma Pickering (24), general servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Mary Pugh (13), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 9/8/1902

“An application was made on behalf of William Hancox, of the SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN, Palfrey, for an occasional license to sell intoxicating liquor at the Palfrey Flower Show, to be held in Palfrey Park.

Mr. Jupp asked why the occasional license should be till 10pm, when the show closed at 8pm.

Mr. Thomson (Chief Constable) said no doubt there would be a band engaged, which would play after 8pm.

Mr. Jupp, however, remarked that the license was granted for the purpose of the show, and not for anything else.

It transpired that the occasional license on previous occasions extended till 10pm, and the Magistrates again granted it till that time.”

1911 Census

153, Milton Street – SIR CHARLES NAPIER INN

[1] William Hancock (60), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Hannah Hancock (35), wife, married 12 years, born Walsall;

[3] William Hancock (18), son, pattern making (lead), born Walsall;

[4] Gladys Hancock (11), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[5] Benjamin Hancock (5), son, born Walsall;

[6] Rhoda Brindley (17), general servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

NAPIER INN, Milton Street. £0 18s 8½d.”

Walsall Observer 27/12/1924

“The SIR CHARLES NAPIER Sick and Dividend Society, which has a membership of 160, and which has been in existence for thirty years, has just paid its members a dividend of 11s 11d.....”

1939 Register

153, Milton Street

[1] William E. Hancocks, date of birth 12/5/1892, publican, married;

[2] Rose Hancocks, dob 2/6/1892, licensed victualler, married;

[3] Maurice Hancocks, dob 27/3/1921, clerk, local government, single;

[4] Marion R. (Hancocks) Gray, dob 29/3/1927, at school, single;

[5] Teresa Murphy, dob 8/2/1920, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Milton Street, £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Milton Street. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SIR CHARLES NAPIER, Milton Street. £1 18s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1945 - Personal

“Mrs. T. Hancock, 113, Walhouse Road, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hancock, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, wish to thank Neighbours, Friends, and Customers for sympathy and kind enquiries during Maurice’s illness. Also Rev. T. Nigel Hulme, St. George’s Church for prayers offered. They’re happy to say that he is now making satisfactory progress.”

Plans for structural alterations were approved on 28th April 1966.

George Edward Morris – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR, PRESIDENT LINCOLN, STARTING GATE, GREEN MAN, and CROWN AND CUSHION.

[2017]

SIR ROBERT PEEL

104, Bell Lane, (8, Short Heath), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Somerfield, Sandbank, Bloxwich
J. Foster Esq.
J. H. Deakin, Manchester
Manchester Brewery Co. Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Craft Union Pub Company [2022]

LICENSEES

Edward Somerfield [1849] – [1872];
John Donnellan [1880] – [1881];
Mary Winifred Donellan [];
Alfred Edwin Barney [] – 1888);
George Taylor (1888 – 1893);
Alfred E. Barney [1891]
James McCabe (1893 – 1895);
George Taylor (1895 – 1901);
Mrs. Zilpha Agnes (Taylor) Duckhouse (1901 – 1906);
John Donnelly [1909] ?
John James Perry (1906 – 1915);
William Walkerdine (1915 – 1920);
Arthur Robert Boyce (1920 – 1928);
Mrs. Agnes Banks (1928 – 1934);
Samson Horney (1934 – 1955);
Charlotte Harvey (1955 – 1960);
Dennis Alfred Smith (1960 – 1966);
Leslie Harold Curtis (1966 – [])
Daryl Billing (2022 – [])

NOTES

8, Short Heath [1871]
104, Bell Lane [1881], [1891], [1901], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Edward Somerfield, beer retailer, Bloxwich. [1849], [1850]

Walsall Free Press 13/2/1858

“Thomas Stackhouse was charged with having driven a stage coach without a license on the 2nd of January last. Mr. Harding, of Birmingham, who appeared for the prosecution, stated the circumstances of the case, and said that by the 2nd & 3rd William IV, cap. 6, it was enacted that every carriage driven as a stage coach, at a rate of three miles an hour, is required to be licensed, and by a subsequent Act, viz, 6 and 7 William IV, cap. 65, sec. 7, it was enacted that any carriage, driven at the rate of four miles an hour, should be considered a stage coach within the meaning of the Act; and if he (Mr. Harding) was rightly instructed, on the 2nd of January last the defendant drove a carriage from the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, in Bloxwich, to the LITTLE SWAN INN, in Wolverhampton, a distance of 5¼ miles, at a rate of nearly 6½ miles per hour having left the SIR ROBERT PEEL at ten minutes to eleven, and arrived at the LITTLE SWAN at a quarter to twelve. In this case the defendant could not plead ignorance of the law, having been previously fined for a similar offence, and also been fined £100 for violation of the Post-horse Act. He believed he was correct in stating, that owing to the intercession made on behalf of Stackhouse, the authorities in London reduced the fine in each of the former cases. As the defendant in this case been driving his carriage in opposition to a person named Jones, who drives a licensed stage coach along the same route, he would apply for the infliction of the full penalty of £20. John Walton, Bloxwich, who was called and examined by Mr. Harding, said, on the 2nd of January last he rode in a conveyance from the SIR ROBERT PEEL, in Bloxwich, to the LITTLE SWAN INN, at Wolverhampton. Witness and a person named Wotton got into the carriage at the same time, and Wotton when they got in showed witness his watch, and it was then ten minutes to eleven o'clock. On their arrival at the LITTLE SWAN, in Wolverhampton, it was a quarter to twelve. A female also got into the vehicle at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, and on their way they took up a man at the NEW INVENTION INN. On their arrival at the LITTLE SWAN, Wolverhampton, he (witness) and his companion paid 6d each to defendant.

Wotton corroborated the evidence of Walton.

Joseph Byrne, Excise-officer, said he saw the distance between the SIR ROBERT PEEL, in Bloxwich, and the LITTLE SWAN, at Wolverhampton, measured and knew it to be 5 miles and 27-40ths. A person leaving one place at ten minutes to eleven and reaching the other at a quarter to twelve, must have driven at a rate of rather more than six miles an hour.

Mr. Beaton, solicitor for the defence, said he had no objection to the mode of getting up evidence pursued by the Inland Revenue in this case, but he thought it would have been much better if they had employed parties free of suspicion, instead of those who might be suspected of having an interest in the conviction of the defendant. Walton, it would be recollected, was related to Mr. Jones, an opposition carrier to the defendant. Mr. Beaton called the defendant, but Mr. Harding having objected, the objection was sustained; after which Mr. Beaton called a witness named Beasley, who said he had a good old clock at home, which he had in his possession for upwards of forty years, and which his father regulated by the 'steam' blown off at six o'clock each night and morning to call the colliers to their work, and by that clock he left the house at half-past ten and reached the New Invention, where he was picked up by the defendant, who arrived at the LITTLE SWAN, in Wolverhampton, about one o'clock. Mr. Harding having addressed the Bench in reply, their Worships, after a short consultation, found the charge proved. Mr. Harding, for the reasons previously assigned by him, pressed for the infliction of the full penalty. Their Worships, however, only inflicted a mitigated penalty of £10 and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/3/1858

"An inquest was held at the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Bloxwich, on Tuesday, before the Borough Coroner, on the body of a lad named William Lawrence, who died recently from an injury sustained by a stone falling on his head on the 21st ult, while at work at the bottom of the shaft of Messrs. Thornycroft's ironstone pit, Bloxwich. The verdict of the jury was Accidental Death."

Walsall Free Press 12/6/1858

"On Thursday last A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the SIR ROBERT PEEL Public-house, Bloxwich, on the body of Edward Powell, miner, who it appeared had been killed on Monday at the Wood Farm Colliery under the following circumstances. On the afternoon of the day in question Powell was sitting in the pit in company with a butty named Rigby, when a piece of stone weighing about eight hundred weigh fell upon his neck and killed him on the spot. Rigby underwent a searching examination by the coroner, who took every pains to ascertain if any blame attached to the butties or overlookers, and whether the pit was properly timbered and otherwise secure; but as every necessary precaution had been taken, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

1861 Census

Short Heath

- [1] Edward Somerfield (70), victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Somerfield (64), wife, born Shareshill, Staffordshire;
- [3] Emma Judge (25), servant, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Somerfield (16), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Stephen Somerfield (35), servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 31/7/1869

"On Thursday the Coroner for the Borough, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, held an adjourned inquest at the SIR ROBERT PEEL public-house, Bloxwich, on the body of William Arrowsmith, aged 30, miner.

It appeared from the evidence that at six o'clock on the evening of the 12th instant deceased, who resided at Bell Lane, Bloxwich, and another miner named Thomas Haywood, went to work in a pit at the Hatherton Colliery, Bloxwich, belonging to Messrs. George and Richard Thomas. About two hours after they were down they felt what is called 'white damp,' which in a short time rendered them insensible, and in that state they remained till they were discovered next morning by the day men on their going to work. The injured men were removed to their houses, and deceased was attended till the time of his death, which took place on the 13th instant by Dr. Somerville. On the 16th instant an inquest was opened on the body and adjourned, so as to enable Mr. Baker to examine the pit. It appearing from the evidence that no blame attached to any one, the jury returned a verdict of Death from Accidentally Suffocating in a coal pit."

1871 Census

8, Short Heath – SIR ROBERT PEEL

- [1] Edward Somerfield (80), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Somerfield (74), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Stephen Lee (46), general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Stibbs (22), general servant, born Dudley:

Lichfield Mercury 13/2/1880

"Mr. Fletcher opened an inquest at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Short Heath, on Saturday on the body of Jabez Summerfield (26), a clogger at the Essington Colliery. An explosion of gas took place severely burning deceased while at his work. He was under medical treatment until Wednesday, when he died.

The enquiry was adjourned until March 6th."

1881 Census

104, Bell Lane – SIR ROBERT PEEL

- [1] John Donnellan (34), licensed victualler, born Ireland;
- [2] Margaret Donnellan (26), wife, born Manchester;
- [3] Cicley Donnellan (3), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Austin Donnellan (1), son, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ellen Clare (23), general servant, born Willenhall;
- [6] Mary Pickin (15), general servant, born Willenhall;

1891 Census

104, Bell Lane – Public House – SIR ROBERT PEEL

- [1] Alfred E. Barney (22), unmarried, publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Ellen Barney (58), mother, widow, housekeeper, born Ireland;
- [3] Cecelia Donnelly (13), lodger, teacher, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Austin Donnelly (11), lodger, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] John Donnelly (9), lodger, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sabina Dillon (20), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton;

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“A fatal accident of a very unusual character was on Wednesday reported to the Walsall police.

On December 23rd a boy name Harry Rogers (13), of Bloxwich, was sent with a wheelbarrow on an errand. In returning he fell, striking his nose on the barrow. A cut was inflicted, but it was soon dressed, and did not appear to be serious. On December 31st, however, he complained of feeling ill, and Dr. Martin was called in, but the boy died from lockjaw on the 4th inst. On Thursday, Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest on the body at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bell Lane. The evidence bore out the particulars given above, and a verdict of Death from Lock-jaw was returned.”

1901 Census

104, Bell Lane

- [1] Zilpha A. Taylor (40), widow, public house manageress, born Walsall;
- [2] Louis A. Taylor (18), son, born Shelfield;
- [3] Edith M. Taylor (15), daughter, born Shelfield;
- [4] George J. Taylor (14), son, born Shelfield;
- [5] Agnes E. Taylor (11), daughter, born Shelfield;
- [6] Winifred Taylor (10), daughter, born Shelfield;
- [7] Susan Taylor (5), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Maggie Aspinall (7), niece, born Walsall;

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

Mr. Jackson also applied for approval of plans for alterations at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bloxwich, which he said were merely for improving the staircase and matters of repair, which he did not think were necessary to come before the Bench.....

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had adjourned all the plans, and proposed to visit the houses next Wednesday. They would be glad if the architects would accompany them.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

“Yesterday the adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall.....

Several applications for the approval of plans for alterations, had been deferred from the annual licensing meeting for the magistrates to visit the premises. The Bench decided as under.....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bloxwich, approved.”

William Walkerdine – see also LAMP, Bloxwich.

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The SIR ROBERT PEEL. Mr. C. E. Loxton (magistrates’ clerk) said that with regard to the above house the magistrates had sanctioned certain alterations, but the Chief Constable found that the plans had not been carried out. The committee required plans to be deposited showing what the deviations were. It was not proposed to object to a renewal if plans were put in, and the alterations were only slight. The plans were forthwith put in.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/1/1909

“At the Walsall Guildhall, on Tuesday, before Messrs. W. H. Brooks (presiding), S. Russell, and E. W. Turner, a youth called Timothy Titley (16), 6, Plant’s Yard, Wolverhampton Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for stealing an acetylene lamp, value 7s 6d the property of Leonard France, of Essington, on the 2nd inst.

Prosecutor deposed to leaving his bicycle outside the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Bloxwich, on Saturday at 9-20pm, and on leaving the house a quarter of an hour later he missed his lamp. On the following Monday, from something he was told, he accompanied prisoner to the police station where he identified the stolen lamp.

Edward Cooper, 191, Elmore Green Road, gave evidence to prisoner asking him to buy the lamp for a shilling. Prisoner said he had had the lamp for six week, and witness gave him what he asked for it.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) remarked that it was very serious for a private individual to purchase a lamp of that description from a lad.

Prisoner admitted the theft, and said a man told him to steal it and he would give him a shilling, but after he had done so the man went away.

Prisoner’s mother was called, but became hysterical, and had to be assisted from the Court.

The Bench adjourned the case for a month for inquiries to be made by the Probation Officer (Mr. H. C. Orchard) as to the lad’s character.

Addressing the witness Cooper, Mr. Brookes said that he had run very close to being prosecuted for receiving stolen goods. His expenses would be disallowed.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1909 - Marriages

“On the 4th inst, at the Church of the Sacred Heart and Holy Souls, Warwick Road, Acock’s Green, by the Rev. Wm. Bernard Swift, of Smethwick, assisted by Rev. Father Edward of Olton, Arthur James, third son of Charles and Elizabeth Duffill, High Street, Smethwick to Cecilia Zilpha, only daughter of John and Margaret Winifred Donnelly, late of the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1914

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

An application for a public singing and music license for the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bell Lane, Bloxwich, was made by Mr. H. H. Jackson, on behalf of the landlord, John James Perry. It was stated that the license was required every Monday from 7 till 10.45pm, the concerts being restricted to members of the Workers’ Union, a registered society of which Mr. Charles Duncan, MP, was the general secretary.

The application was refused.”

Walsall Observer 24/7/1915 - Roll of Honour

“News of the death of Private James Perry, who is only 19 years of age, came as a great surprise to his parents, who keep the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Bell Lane, Bloxwich, seeing that only the day before they had received a letter in which he stated that he was ‘in the pink of health and cheerfulness.’ The report states he was killed while on duty in the trenches on the 11th inst. He had served five years in the battalion, and prior to the outbreak of war was employed at the Wood Farm Colliery. The Perry family have shown a splendid example of patriotism, no fewer than six sons having seen service in the present campaign. Among them are Gunner George Perry, of the Royal Field Artillery, and Private Alfred Perry, who had just been transferred from the South Staffordshire Regiment to the Royal Engineers.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/8/1915

“Sapper Alfred Perry, who originally joined the 5th South Staffs and was then transferred to the Royal Engineers is the second of three brothers to give his life for his country. Their parents have kept the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Bell Lane, Bloxwich, for some years. As already stated in the Advertiser the first of the trio to fall was Private James Perry, a member of the local Territorials, who was killed by a shell while in the trenches on Sunday, July 11th. Now news had been received – and although not official it is authoritative – that the second brother Sapper Alfred Perry, was instantly killed when part of a trench was blown up on Sunday August 1st. He leaves a wife and three children. Prior to joining the Army he worked as a miner at the Old Coppice Colliery, Cannock.

The remaining brother, Gunner George Perry, is serving at the Front with the R.F.A.”

Walsall Observer 15/7/1916 - In Memoriam

“In loving memory of my dear son, Private James Perry, late of the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bloxwich, killed in action, July 11th, 1915.

Somewhere in France my boy lies sleeping in a grave we cannot see lies the one so dear to us.

Sadly missed by his Mother and Father, Sisters and Brothers.”

William Walkerdine was fined £10 and costs, on 25th July 1919, for selling whisky at a price exceeding the maximum.

Samson Horney = Sampson Horney

1939 Register

104, Bell Lane – SIR ROBERT PEEL (2 of 3)

[1] Samson Horney, date of birth 19/11/1894, licensee, married;

[2] Charlotte Horney, dob 02/10/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bell Lane, Bloxwich. £0 6s 0d.”

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

“Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We’ve a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Bell Lane, Bloxwich, Walsall.”

It closed in 2016 for a refurbishment.

It reopened in June 2016.

Express & Star 24/12/2022

“Bloxwich’s landmark pub the SIR ROBERT PEEL has reopened after a £225,000 refurbishment. Fears for the future of Bell Lane pub were allayed with new owners Craft Union Pub Company investing in a revamp of the historic property. New landlord Daryl Billing is looking forward to the official opening party on January 28, but is now busy getting to know his new locals. He said, ‘I am so excited about this new chapter at the SIR ROBERT PEEL. Our new warm and friendly look has given the pub a new lease of life. We have a fantastic drinks range and I was delighted to be reopen in time for Christmas so our guests can enjoy a festive drink with us.’

The pub has the latest audio-visual technology, this community pub is the place to catch all the sporting action on BT Sport and Sky across several TV screens around the pub. In a Facebook post announcing the pub’s reopening, Daryl said, ‘We are working hard to uphold the values of a traditional community pub, a comfortable friendly atmosphere and most importantly of all, a wide range of top quality drinks.’”

[2022]

SIR ROBERT PEEL

1, (2), Burrowes Street (1, Burrow Street) / 151, Blue Lane West, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Thomas

George Williams, coalmaster, Birchills, Walsall

Mrs. Alice Brownhill

LICENSEES

Joseph Nickolls [1858]

Mrs. Sarah Thomas [1860] – [1872];

John Thomas [1882] – 1886;

Mrs. Ann Thomas [1891] – 1898;

William Ringwood (1898 – 1899);

George Frederick Beach (1899 – 1900);

John Stanley (1900 – 1902);

William Butler Slater (1902 – 1903);

Richard Jackson Bayley (1903 – 1905);

William Brownhill (1905 – 1906);

Richard Jackson Bayley (1906);

Thomas Wilkinson (1906 – 1908);

Clara Hunt (1908 – 1909);

Richard Jackson Bayley (1909 – 1913);

William Parkes (1913 – 1915);

Albert William Pugh (1915);
Edward Lloyd (1915 – 1920);
Fred Thomas Shaw (1920 – 1921);
David Cooper (1921 – 1924):

NOTES

1, Burrow Street [1861]
1, Burrowes Street [1862]
151 Blue Lane West [1881], [1891]
2, Burrowes Street [1901]

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

Joseph Nickolls, beerhouse, 1, Burrowes Street. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 20/8/1859 - Advert

“Birchills Near Walsall. The BURROWES STREET TAVERN, Corner of Burrowes Street, and Blue Lane, near Green Lane. To Be Disposed of the immediate possession of the above capital Public House, now doing good in and out business, and is situated in an improving part of Walsall.
Rent and payments moderate, and the in-coming from £40 to £50.
Apply to H. Farrington, 10, Bridge Street, or on the premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses....
Sarah Thomas, Burrow Street. Refused.”

1861 Census

1, Burrow Street – SIR ROBERT PEEL
[1] Sarah Thomas (60), widow, publican, born Lane Head;
[2] John Thomas (27), son, coal miner, born Wolverhampton;
[3] George Thomas (23), son, coal miner, born Wolverhampton;
[4] Elizabeth Thomas (19), daughter, born Wolverhampton:

Sarah Thomas, retailer of beer, 1, Burrows Street. [1862]
S. Thomas, beer retailer, 1, Burrowes Street. [1864], [1865]
Mrs. Sarah Thomas, beer retailer, 1, Burrowes Street. [1868]

1871 Census

Burrowes Street – SIR ROBERT PEEL
[1] Sarah Thomas (70), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Lane Head;
[2] Alice Lloyd (12), granddaughter, born Wednesfield:

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1881 Census

151, Blue Lane West – SIR ROBERT PEEL – unoccupied:

John Thomas was the son of Sarah.

Evening Star 18/1/1882

“John Coffee of Blue Lane, was charged with refusing to quit the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Blue Lane. Police-constable Mercer said that on Saturday night he was called to the SIR ROBERT PEEL, and there found the defendant, who was very abusive and refused to quit. Mr. Thomas, landlord of the house, stated that the defendant created a disturbance for some time in his house and threatened him.
Coffee was fined 10s and costs, or 21 days imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1885-Advert

“Wanted, a good Servant, aged 20 or upwards; good character required.
Apply SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1886 - Deaths

“On the 7th inst, John Thomas, SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Blue Lane West and Burrowes Street, Walsall, aged 52 years; interred in the family vault January 13th, Walsall Cemetery. Deeply regretted by all who knew him.”

1891 Census

151, Blue Lane West

[1] Ann Thomas (51), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah Thomas (19), daughter, born Walsall;

[3] Theresa Taylor (18), barmaid, born Walsall;

[4] Emma Hill (17), domestic servant, born Walsall;

[5] Elizabeth Heath (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 4/3/1892 - Advert

“Wanted, a Youth, about 18, to attend to horse, and make himself generally useful.

Apply, SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1894

“Conservative League.

The usual fortnightly Meeting of the ‘Lord Dudley’ Lodge will be held on Thursday evening next, at 8-30 prompt, at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane West. Mr. A. J. Glover, Solicitor of the League has kindly promised to attend and speak on that night. Members of other Lodges cordially invited.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1898

“Robert [sic] Ringwood, of the ROBERT PEEL INN, Blue Lane, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on the 31st ult. and November 1st, and also selling intoxicating liquors to Henry Fisher, a drunken person.

On the application of the Chief Constable, an adjournment for a week was granted.”

William Ringwood was fined 40s and costs, on 18th November 1898, for permitting drunkenness, and a further 40s and costs for selling liquor to a drunken person.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

William Ringwood, SIR ROBERT PEEL, served 14 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

AND

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Three beer retailers were also summoned, 2 of whom were convicted, viz.....

18th November, William Ringwood, SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane West, fined 40s and costs for permitting drunkenness, and 40s and costs for selling drink to a drunken man.....

The renewal of the license for the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane West, was objected to by the Chief Constable on the ground that the occupier of the house, Wm. Ringwood, was fined 40s and costs on Nov. 18th, 1898, for permitting drunkenness, and 40s and costs on the same date, for supplying intoxicating drink to a drunken person; and that Ringwood was not a fit and proper person to hold a license.

Mr. Elliot, who appeared for the owner, said Ringwood had been removed from the house, and a new man substituted, and both offences having occurred on the same day, it was not like repeated convictions. The police had been satisfied as to the character of the man now put in the house, and he thought the Bench might rely in the future that the house would be conducted in the best possible manner.....

On returning the Magistrates announced their decisions as under....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1900

“Birchills Brass Band. On Monday night the annual dinner in connection with the above band was held at the SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane. Alderman Brownhill (the president) occupied the chair, and Mr. B. Hodson the vice chair. The bandmen and their wives partook of an excellent and substantial repast, which was provided and well served by the host Mr. W. Ringwood.....”

John Stanley was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

2, Burrowes Street

- [1] John Stanley (41), innkeeper (beer retailer), born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Stanley (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ethel Stanley (14), daughter, warehouse girl, horse clothing, born Walsall;
- [4] Amy Stanley (14), daughter, warehouse girl, horse clothing, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Walker (23), barmaid and house maid, born Walsall;
- [6] Lucy Hadley (24), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/5/1901

“On Thursday afternoon the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Blue Lane West, in regard to the death of Bridgett Cloonan, a widow, aged 84. On May 2nd the old lady fell downstairs and broke her leg, and she died on Monday from shock caused by the accident. The jury returned a verdict accordingly.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1902

“Walsall Prize Band.

On Wednesday evening the second annual dinner of the above band took place at the SIR ROBERT PEEL INN, Blue Lane West. Alderman W. Brownhill, JP, president of the band occupied the chair, supported by Mr. Stanley, vice-president. Councillor John Venables occupied the vice-chair, and among those present were Councillor E. Egan, Messrs. F. Bullock, W. E. Tomkins, &c.

The President proposed the health of ‘The King and Queen,’ and the National Anthem was sung.

Councillor Venables in proposing ‘The Band,’ thanked them for the invitation, and expressed his joy and pleasure at the progress the band had made. He understood that the band succeeded in obtaining third prize in the Cannock contest. It was very gratifying to be able to congratulate them on the advancement they had made in such a short time, and he urged them to persevere and endeavour to get first prize in a future competition.

The President, in reply, thanked Mr. Venables for his encouragement, and he said he was very glad to see them taking up such an enterprise. He also expressed his pleasure at the band having the honour of winning a prize in a competition in which were more pretentious bands than theirs. It was always pleasurable to return from a victory, but there was also honourable defeat, and though the prize was a third, it was enough to bring them credit of being capable of winning it. He hoped in future the band would become the Black Dike (applause). He then proposed the ‘Health of Councillor Egan,’ as he was sure that the band was only too glad to find him (Mr. Egan) among them.

Councillor Egan thanked the President, and said that there was no need for such compliments, as he had only been amongst them a short time. He congratulated them on their success, and said it was always a pleasure for any town to have such a band. He specially thanked them for their reception of him and promised to help the band in any way he could (applause).

Mr. Afford said that Mr. Brownhill had been president ever since the band existed, and he hoped he would remain president in the future. He cordially thanked them on behalf of the band for the good he had done, and for the time he had given them. He felt very glad to propose the health of Alderman Brownhill.

The toast was drunk with musical honours.

Alderman Brownhill briefly responded, and during the evening several songs were given, Mr. Lord presiding at the piano. Mr. F. Bullock gave ‘A Soldier’s Song’ and ‘The Bandolero,’ and Mr. Lord, jun., sang ‘There must be another one somewhere,’ ‘Come along, Liza,’ and ‘Fidgety Fudge’.”

1911 Census

2, Burrows Street

- [1] Richard Jackson Bayley (47), tenant, publican, beerhouse, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Jane Bayley (42), wife, married 23 years, born Belbroughton, Worcestershire;
- [3] Clara May Bayley (21), daughter, domestic, born Walsall;
- [4] Kate Elizabeth Bayley (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Agnes Ethel Bayley (17), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Jane Bayley (16), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [7] James Perry (56), boarder, widower, carpenter, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Blue Lane, Walsall, 1s 3½d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Burrows Street. £1 3s 9d.”

Alterations were made in 1921.

David Cooper was fined £5 and costs, on 4th May 1923, for permitting drunkenness.

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/7/1924

“The Walsall justices sitting as the Compensation Authority, have referred for compensation, but conditionally renewed the licenses of.....

SIR ROBERT PEEL, Burrowes Street, which had been objected to on the ground of redundancy.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority.

Compensation of £2,000 was paid on 25th October 1924.

The house closed on 1st November 1924.

SLATERS ARMS

Alma Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Worley [1861]

NOTES

1861 Census

Alma Street – Public House – SLATERS ARMS

[1] John Worley (49), publican, born West Bromwich;

[2] Mary Worley (49), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] Joseoh Morton (48), lodger, gas tube maker, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Benjamin Wall (20), lodger, puddler, born Wednesbury:

SLATERS ARMS

Rolling Mill Street, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Gostelow [1858] – [1861]

NOTES

Joseph Gostelow = Joseph Gostlow

Joseph Gostlow, beerhouse, Rolling Mill Street. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 22/10/1859 - Advert

“Public House, and Four Tenements or Dwelling Houses situate in Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Private Contract, all that desirable and recently-erected Dwelling House, now used as a Beer House, situate in Rolling Mill Street, aforesaid, adjoining the Tube Works of Messrs. Russell & Co. there, with the necessary out-offices, an appurtenances thereto belonging, as the same now occupied by Mr. Joseph Gostlow, at a rental of £25 per annum.

Also all those Four recently-erected Tenements or Dwelling Houses, with their appurtenances adjoining the above, in the occupations of William Bailey and others, producing a rental of £34 13s 4d per annum.

The above mentioned premises are Leasehold, under the Earl of Bradford, for a term of which 95 years were unexpired at Lady-day last, subject to a ground rent of £3 16s 4d per annum.

They have a good supply of hard and soft water, and are in a thorough state of repair.

For price, and any further particulars, apply to Mr. James Jordan Potter, 32, Lichfield Street, or to Messrs. Smith & Son, Solicitors, all of Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 24/3/1860

“Yesterday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough held an inquest upon the body of Jabez Hatherly, aged 18, who died on Saturday last, at the house of his father John Hatherly, Brewer’s Yard, Stafford Street, at the house of Joseph Gostlow, SLATERS ARMS, Pleck. The jury after hearing the evidence of Mr. E. D. Moore, surgeon, and the deceased’s father, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes. The following is a summary of the history of the case, so far as could be gleaned from what transpired at the inquest. At three different times in the course of sixteen weeks deceased had been seized with violent pains in his chest and bowels. The first two attacks had been relieved by the prescriptions of Mr. Hodgkiss, and on his being seized on Friday, the 9th inst, with what proved to be his fatal illness, Mr. Hodgkiss was again applied to, and again prescribed, and his prescription appeared to give relief to deceased, who on the day of his death appeared to be much easier as to endeavour to get up; but towards evening he got so much worse that Mr. Hodgkiss, who had only seen deceased once during his illness, was again requested to attend, but being too ill to leave his house Mr. E. D. Moore was called in, but before he arrived deceased had expired. In a day or two after the death a woman who waited upon the coroner and gave a rambling account of the affair, whereupon he directed her to go to the superintendent of police, and make her statement to him; but instead of doing that the woman went home, and the coroner having ascertained that the deceased had been interred without a proper medical certificate – the only certificate being that supplied by Mr. Hodgkiss, who certified deceased had died from bilious cholera – he suspected that there had been some culpable neglect in the case, and he issued his precept for the body to be exhumed, and instructed Mr. Moore to make a post mortem examination, but as Mr. Moore, who gave it as his opinion that deceased had died from inflammation of the bowels, could not say whether the treatment to which the deceased had been subject had accelerated death, the jury recorded the verdict we have stated. The coroner expressed surprise at Mr. Totty accepting a certificate from Mr. Hodgkiss, as he had been remanded by the Registrar General for doing so on a former occasion.”

Joseph Gostlow was here in March 1860.

Birmingham Journal 7/9/1861

“Insolvent Debtors. Joseph Gostlow, now and for six months last past renting furnished apartments at No.53, Bagot Street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, occasionally employed as a Porter and Keeper in Stables, my Wife having for a portion of the period occasionally employment in needlework, and being now employed as an out-door servant, previously thereto and since the 10th day of January last past lodging at the house known by the sign of the Duke of York, in Duke Street, Birmingham aforesaid, in no way of employment for about two months previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the OLD QUEENS HEAD, Temple Street, in the township of the borough of Walsall in the county of Stafford, for about eighteen months previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the CROWN, in the Square, in the township of the borough of Walsall aforesaid, and during the whole period of my residence at the said two last named places, carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, for about two years and one month previously thereto residing at the house known by the sign of the SLATERS ARMS, at the Pleck, in the foreign of Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, carrying on business as a Licensed Brewer, Retailer of Beer, and Dealer in Tobacco, and for about two months previously thereto lodging at Bridgeman Street, in the township of the borough of Walsall aforesaid, in no way of business.”

SNEYD

Vernon Way, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

The license was granted in 1959.

The present building was constructed behind the original pub, in 1991. The original building was then demolished.

[2012]

Closed [2017]

Express & Star 16/1/2022

“A derelict pub has been severely damaged in an overnight fire. Four fire crews, as well as an aerial ladder, were called to the remains of the SNEYD, on Vernon Way in the Bloxwich area of Walsall after the fire broke out shortly after midnight on Sunday. West Midlands Fire Service tweeted at 1.27am, ‘We currently have four crews from Bloxwich, Willenhall, Fallings Park and Aldridge and an aerial appliance from Walsall dealing with a severe fire at a derelict pub in the Bloxwich area.’

Before its closure, the pub was hit by a spate of burglaries, with the site being targeted five times in six months in 2011. The pub was put up for sale in 2015, however no interest was registered in purchasing the site until an application to flatten the site and build homes was submitted in May 2016. Since then a number of housing applications have been put in, but none have come to fruition. In 2017 an application to tear down the pub and replace it with 21 homes was withdrawn by developers, while in the same year plans to transform the site into a six-bedroom house were approved. However, those plans failed to materialise. In 2019 plans to replace the SNEYD with 14 flats – 10 one-bedroom and four two-bedroom – was refused by Walsall Council. The planning department said the proposal was inappropriate within the Green Belt.”

SPORTSMAN

25, Pinfold, (25, Pinfold Bank), (15, Field Road), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Ann Wright, Harden, near Bloxwich
James Beard
John Russell
Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd. [1913]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Russell [1865] – 1892);
Felix Appleby (1892 – 1894);
William Massey (1894 – 1898);
Richard Withers (1898);
Henry Croxall (1898 – 1900);
Mrs. Mary Croxall (1900 – 1902);
Thomas Stanley Emery (1902 – 1903);
William Henry Bratt (1903 – 1904);
Edward Gwilliam (1904 – 1907);
John Thomas Alcock (1907 – 1909);
Howard Jeyes (1909 – 1910);
Edward Bowen (1910 – 1912);
Jacob Williams (1912 – 1922);
Joseph Riley (1922 – 1925):

NOTES

15, Field Road [1871]
25, Pinfold Bank [1881]
25, Pinfold [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Russell = John Rushall

John Russell, beer retailer, Pinfold, Bloxwich. [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/2/1867

“J. Nichols will back his pigeon Little Blossom to fly Tom Bird’s chequered hen from Hednesford to Bloxwich, for from £1 to £5 a side, or anyone else on the same terms. Money ready any night next week at Mr. J. Russell’s, SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/11/1867

“John Russell, landlord of the SPORTSMAN beerhouse, Bloxwich, was fined 2s 6d and costs, for having, on Sunday last kept his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 29/8/1868

“Mr. G. Noke (proprietor of the Bellevue Grounds, Moat Road, Walsall), will give £2 15s to be run for in an All England Handicap foot race, distance 125 yards, to be run on Mondays, Sept 7 and 14; entries sixpence each (and no acceptances), which can be made to Mr. Russell, the SPORTSMAN INN, Bloxwich; Mr. Middlebrook, Walsall; or at the grounds. Any one entering falsely disqualified. Stamps taken as cash.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/3/1869

“John Russell, landlord of the SPORTSMAN, beerhouse, Bloxwich, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having, on Sunday last, had his house open for the sale of beer in prohibited hours.”

Walsall Free Press 6/8/1870

“Thomas Earp was charged with having been present during prohibited hours on the 24th ult, in the SPORTSMAN beer-house, Bloxwich, kept by John Russell. Sergeant Martin proved that at 40 minutes past 9 o'clock on the morning in question he visited Russell's house and saw the defendant there. Russell was convicted on Monday last, for having had his house open during prohibited hours. There was a jug containing a pint of beer on the table. The beer appeared to have been recently drawn. Fined 2s 6d and costs.”

John Russell was also an awl blade maker. [1871]

1871 Census

The SPORTSMAN

- [1] John Russell (45), awl blade (maker), born Bloxwich;
- [2] Eliza Russell (40), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Charles Russell (19), son, awl blade (maker), born Bloxwich;
- [4] Lucy Russell (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Harriet Russell (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Eliza Russell (1), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Sarah Yates (10), servant, born Sedgley:

Midland Examiner 31/10/1874

“John Russell, landlord of the SPORTSMAN INN, the Pinfold, Bloxwich, was summoned before the magistrates for having permitted gaming in his house on Saturday night last. Sergeant Hodson said he visited the house, and found four men laying cards, one of whom took up the money off the table at the conclusion of the game. A fine of 40s and costs was imposed.”

1881 Census

25, Pinfold Bank – Public House

- [1] John Russell (55), awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Eliza Russell (50), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Eliza Russell (11), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Bertha Russell (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Flora Russell (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Hannah Russell (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Alice Russell (1), daughter, born Bloxwich:

John Russell was fined 20s and costs, on 12th December 1883, for being open after 11pm.

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The licenses of John Russell, Bloxwich which had been suspended from the previous Sessions, were renewed, with a caution to the parties to be more careful in the future.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/12/1893

“Felix Appleby, of the SPORTSMAN INN, Bloxwich, was charged with assaulting John Russell, awl blade maker, of 1, Pinfold, Bloxwich. Mr. Enoch Evans prosecuted, and Mr. W. T. Corbet was for the defence.

Russell said on the 14th instant as he was putting a door up, something hit him on the top of the head. Appleby was a tenant under him, and the assault took place at the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich. He had authorised someone to distrain on the defendant for rent due. He could not swear defendant struck him with his fist, but he jumped in the door and defendant was under the door.

Christopher Hughes, auctioneer, said he was employed by the last witness to collect his rents. About three o'clock he saw the defendant assault Russell, by knocking him down with the door.

Mr. Corbet said there had been a dispute between the parties over a lease, a distraint having been put in. Defendant had, by his kindness allowed the complainant to use the shop in question, and as a matter of fact he kept a few pigeons there. After the door had been hammered up, Appleby felt justified in knocking it down.

Evidence for the defence was then called, one witness swearing no assault had been committed. The case was dismissed.”

William Massey, beer retailer, Pinfold. [1896]

Mary Croxall was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

25, Pinfold – SPORTSMAN INN

[1] Mary Croxall (50), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Pelsall;

[2] John R. Croxall (15), son, coal miner, born Bloxwich;

[3] Nephi Croxall (11), son, born Walsall Wood;

[4] Mary A. Yates (21), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Thomas Stanley Emery – see also BARLEY MOW, Bloxwich.

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

William Henry Bratt, SPORTSMAN.”

Birmingham Mail 6/11/1906

“At Walsall, today, Edward Gwilliam, SPORTSMAN INN, Bloxwich, was summoned for keeping open during prohibited hours. On Sunday, October 28th, Inspector Marshall saw a man leaving the public house back premises with a jar containing six quarts of beer, but Mr. Jackson, who defended, said it was the weekly refreshment of a local brass band, and had been paid for the previous night, but not fetched through inadvertence. He urged there was no offence. The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1907

“On Bloxwich Wake Monday, Thomas Donlon, a well-known character in the town, of Back Butts, was seen entering the SPORTSMAN INN, Pinfold, in a drunken condition, by Police-constable Baker (31), who warned the landlord of Donlon's condition, and he was turned from the house. He had fifteen previous convictions, and was fined 15s and costs or 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

Howard Jeyes, SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the parties interested in the case of the SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. Mr. Walter Hughes valued the property at £18s 4s per annum without the license, the tenant paying rates.

Plans to be deposited. Adjourned.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/4/1910

“The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

An unusual incident occurred during an application by Mr. H. H. Jackson for the transfer of the license of the SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich, from Howard Jeyes to Edward Bowen.

Sir Edward Holden asked if Edward Bowen was present, and a man stepped up to the witness box and answered several questions.

The Bench sanctioned the transfer, and then it was discovered that it was not Bowen who had been in the witness box, but a man named Edward Lloyd, who afterwards explained that he understood it was his name which was called out.

Eventually the transfer of the license to Bowen was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1911

“Walsall Harriers.

The third handicap of the above club was held at the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich, when about a dozen runners competed. Mr. S. Dyde handicapped and started. The course was all road from Pinfold to the WHEATSHEAF and back, a distance of seven miles. Lamb and Jones had a day out, and a struggle between these two from the commencement for first position, the former eventually winning by a margin of 15secs from Jones. The other competitors finished well together, reflecting credit to the handicapper. All members are requested to attend the general meeting today which will be held after the slow run from the WHITE HART, Caldmore.”

1911 Census

Pinfold – SPORTSMAN INN

[1] Edward Bowen (29), coal miner, hewer, and beerhouse keeper, born Leamore;

[2] Emma Bowen (29), wife, married 7 years, publican, born Beech Wood, Walsall;

[3] Edith Bowen (4), daughter, born Green Lane, Leamore:

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The following were the notices of objection (Compensation Clause).....

NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Hy. Mellor).

SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Jacob Williams).

NELSON, Church Street, Bloxwich. (Jos. Wall).

STAG, Field Street, Bloxwich. (Jane Tolley).

PLOUGH, Cemetery Road, (Charles Mansfield).

RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, (Charles Orgill).

STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, (Charles Ernest Perry).

BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich, (Benjamin Hughes).”

AND

“The first house taken was the NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.....

Inspector Pritchard, of Bloxwich, stated that in Pinfold there were two beerhouses and one fully-licensed house – the NEW INN, the SPORTSMAN, and the WHEAT SHEAF, the last being the fully-licensed house. The population of the streets and courts in the vicinity was 135 persons over sixteen, 131 under sixteen, and one boy. He had visited the NEW INN on nineteen occasions in ten weeks, varying the times, but chiefly in the evening, and the total number of customers which he found was 193, averaging about 10 persons per visit. It was 15 paces from the NEW INN to the SPORTSMAN and 54 to the WHEAT SHEAF.....

The Bench reserved their decision.

In the case of the SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich, Mr. H. H. Jackson represented the Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd., and the landlord (Mr. Jacob Williams).

Inspector Pritchard stated that the landlord of the house was a miner, and worked regularly. The distances from neighbouring houses were practically the same as in the last case. He had visited the house nineteen times in ten weeks, and had found in all 286 persons there, an average of about 15 per visit.

The landlord said his takings averaged £10 per week and sales included 342 barrels per year.

Mr. Jackson said that the SPORTSMAN was one of those unostentatious and old-fashioned houses which he personally would like to see remain. There was a quiet little dignity about it, and no show. He knew it was very difficult for the Bench to discriminate between the house and its neighbour the NEW INN, but both being in many respects very much alike, he did not see how one could be kept without the other, or how one could be done away with and the other allowed to remain, and he asked the bench, if they spared one, they would spare the other as well.

The decision in this case was also reserved.”

AND

“The Court re-assembled yesterday (Friday) morning.....

Having retired, the Bench announced that the licenses of the STAG and the STORES would be renewed for this year, but might be considered at some future date. The remaining six houses would be referred to the compensation authorities.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/5/1913

“Thomas Salt, 84, High Street, Bloxwich, was summoned for being drunk and disorderly on licensed premises at the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich, on April 19th.

Police-constable Baker said he saw defendant ejected from the public-house and then force himself in again. It was with great difficulty that he was taken out again. From the landlord, witness learnt that the man was drunk when he first went into the house, and had caused a disturbance when they refused to serve him. Fined 5/- and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/5/1913

“The principal meeting of the Compensation Authority for the Borough of Walsall was held on Tuesday morning at the Guildhall.....

The SPORTSMAN, beerhouse, Pinfold, Bloxwich, was next dealt with, Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the owners (the Bloxwich Brewery Co.), and Mr. Jacob Williams, the tenant. The annual trade was 242 barrels and 13 gross of bottled beer. Mr. Jackson said it was a very nice old-fashioned little place, the trade was good, and if taken away the compensation would have to be very considerable, but they would very much like to keep the house open. The renewal of the license was granted for the present, but without prejudice to future proceedings.”

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

“The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.....

Application for billiards license were made by Jacob Williams, beerhouse keeper, of the SPORTSMAN INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.....

The Chief Constable pointed out that both the houses in question belonged to the same firm.

It was stated that in each case it was intended that a bagatelle table should be provided for customers, but it was necessary to have a billiard license.

The magistrate retired to consider these applications, and on their return Mr. Phillips announced that they had decided to grant licenses in both cases, but on condition that the houses were kept open for the full licensed hours, and that temperance refreshments should be provided. It was purely an experiment, and the justices wished to see how it worked.”

The license was surrendered on 30th September 1925, in consideration of the sanction by the Justices to the rebuilding of the BLACK HORSE, later called BUTLERS ARMS, Bloxwich Road.

SPORTSMAN

90, (60), Stafford Street, (Bloxwich Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

William Bird
Enoch Cartwright
Mrs. Maria Cartwright
Northampton Brewery Co. [1909], [1910]
Phipps Brewery Ltd, The Brewery, Bridge Street, Northampton (acquired on 11th September 1964)

LICENSEES

John Price [1836]
William Ridding [1841] – [1850]
Charles Ridding [1851] – [1858]
John Darby [1859] – 1861;
Ebenezer Deakin (1861 – [1872]
William Bird* [1872];
William Bird Jnr.* [1873]
Enoch Cartwright [1876];
Mrs. Maria Cartwright [1881] – 1887;
Henry Simms (1887 – 1888);
George Betts (1888 – 1889);
Patrick O’Kane (1889 – 1894);
Richard G. Ennis [1891] manager
Starkey [] – 1894 manager
John Harley (1894);
Francis Nannery (1894 – 1895);
Benjamin Birkin (1895);
William John McLean (1895 – 1896);
Richard Peake (1896 – 1904);
Thomas Deakin (1904);
Joseph William Brotherton (1904 – 1909);
Joseph Stackhouse (1909 – 1912);
George Thomas Hedges (1912 – 1917);
Gertrude Hedges (1917 – 1918);
Robert Jellings (1918 – 1919);
Thomas Henry Baker (1919 – 1922);
William Ridding [1921] ?
William Thomas Parr (1922 – 1923);
Thomas Edgar Sandon (1923 – 1932);
Sidney Dyde (1932 – 1938);
James Green (1938 – 1940);
Frederick James Jarman (1940 – 1949);
Joseph Henry Kirby (1949 – 1952);
William Kenneth Reeves (1952 – 1953);
Edward Duckhouse (1953 – 1957);
Ernest James Waywell (1957);
Frank Reader Birkett (1957 – 1958);
Thomas William Moorcroft (1958 – 1959);
Herbert Hulme (1959 – 1961);
Harry Armstrong Dobbs (1961 – [1966]
Pat Meates (1994 – []

NOTES

Bloxwich Road [1851]

Stafford Street [1849]

90, Stafford Street [1861], [1862], [1881], [1891], [1904], [1908], [1932], [1939], [1940]

60, Stafford Street [1868]

It was situated next door to the BELL (GRANNIES KITCHEN).

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/6/1836 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Public House, and Grocer’s Shop, together with a Private House, and Extensive Shopping adjoining.

To Be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Bowen, on Tuesday, June 21st, 1836, on the premises, at five o’clock in the afternoon, in one lot, and subject to conditions then to be produced:

All that substantially newly-erected and well-accustomed Public House, known by the name of the JOLLY SPORTSMAN, situate in Stafford Street, Walsall, now in the occupation of Mr. John Price, comprising a good retail shop, large parlour and club-room, commodious chambers, two kitchens, capital cellaring, walled garden, stabling, piggery, a good supply of water, and shopping for twenty men.

Also, a respectable Private House, with Shopping, &c, adjoining, and now in the tenancy of Mr. S. Llewellyn.

The above premises are eligibly situated for business in a very improving neighbourhood, and front the turnpike road leading from Walsall to Stafford. Several clubs meet at the house. Part of the purchase money may remain secured on the premises.

N.B. Further particulars may be had of Mr. Thomas, Solicitor, and at the Auctioneer’s Office, Birmingham Street, Walsall.”

William Ridding was also a spring hook, billet and dog couple maker. [1842]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/2/1846

“On Monday evening last George Holden of Walsall and Robert Smith of Stafford entered into articles at Mr. Omer Stokes’s, the LEATHERCUTTERS ARMS, Wisemoor, at the latter place, to fight on Monday, the 30th of March, for £100. £10 a side were placed in Mr. Stokes’s hands, and the remaining deposits are to be made as follows: Feb 23, £10 a side, at Mr. William Heath’s, the Prince Albert, Friars Street, Stafford; March 2, £10 a side at Wm. Ridding’s, the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich Road, Walsall; March 9, £10 a side, at Wm. Winkles’s, the Castle, Hospital Street, Birmingham; and March 16, £10 a side, at Thomas Osbourne’s, the RING OF BELLS, Big Hill, Walsall. Neither man is to exceed 8st 9lb by eleven o’clock on the morning of fighting.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/3/1846

“George Holden and Robert Smith. On Monday evening last, £10 a side was deposited at Mr. William Heath’s, the Prince Albert, Friar’s Street, Stafford, for the £100 mill between Bob Smith of that town, and Holden at Walsall. A third instalment of £20 to be paid tomorrow evening, at Mr. William Ridding’s, the SPORTSMAN, Bloxwich Road, Walsall. Neither man to exceed 8st 9lb, on the morning of fighting.”

[The ring was set up at various locations, but they were moved on. The fight took place two days later than planned and Holden won after 84 rounds.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/5/1848 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction, by T. Franklin. On Wednesday, the 17th day of May, 1848, at the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall, at 7 o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced.

Lot 1. All that newly-erected Freehold old-licensed road side Public House, known by the sign of the SPORTSMAN, with good sleeping rooms, capital club room, dry cellaring, stable, shopping, private yard, and convenient out-offices, situate in Stafford Street, and now in the occupation of Mr. Wm. Ridding; also the house adjoining, situate in Stafford Street, and now in the occupation of Mr. S. Durnal.

Lot 2. All those six Freehold Messuages or Dwelling-Houses, situate in Stafford Street, now in the occupation of Messrs. Chidlow, Baker, Ramsell, Deeley, and Littlely.

Lot 3. All that well-arranged old licensed Public House called the NEW INN, situate in St. John Street, Walsall, with two excellent club rooms, good sleeping rooms, extensive cellaring, brewhouse, stabling, shopping, piggeries, soft water cistern, with lead pumps, and convenient out-offices, now in the occupation of Mr. D. Stanley.....”

William Ridding was described as also being a spring hook and swivel maker. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Stafford Street

[1] Charles Ridding (49), chane maker, born Bloxwich;

[2] Anne Ridding (30), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Charles Ridding (11), son, at school, born Bloxwich;

[4] Anne M. Ridding (8), daughter, at school, born Bloxwich;

- [5] Mary Ridding (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Charlotte Ridding (11 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] David Stokes (21), servant, chane maker, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Henry Marsh (18), apprentice chane maker, born Walsall;
- [9] Robert Summers (16), apprentice chane maker, born Hinckley [Hinckley], Leicestershire;
- [10] Sarah Maler (12), house servant, born Willenhall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1853

“Inquests.....

At the SPORTSMAN public-house, Stafford Street, upon the body of a little girl, aged 2¼ years, daughter of a woman living in Ryecroft Street, who had come to her death through her clothes catching fire, in the absence of her parent.

Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Charles Ridding was also a manufacturer of curbs, chains and bit burnishes and retail brewer. [1858]

See also PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

John Darby = John Derby

Walsall Free Press 16/4/1859

“John Darby, landlord of the SPORTSMAN, Public-house, Stafford Street, was charged with selling ale during prohibited hours, on Sunday last. PC Montgomery said, on passing the end of the passage leading to Mrs. Darby’s back door, he saw a girl named Elizabeth Baker coming out with a pint of ale, he asked what she had got, and on ascertaining what the vessel contained, he took her to Mrs. Darby’s house, and she in presence of Mr. Darby, said the liquor had just been drawn. Darby, however, said the ale had been drawn about an hour. On going into the house he found three men, one of whom had a cup with ale in it before him. Elizabeth Baker, on being called, plainly denied what the officer had stated, and said the ale was drawn before church time. The case was dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/11/1859

“John Derby, landlord of the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street was summoned before the Mayor and Mr. Newman for having kept his house open for the sale of liquor on Sunday, the 27th inst, during prohibited hours. Mr. W. H. Duignan, who was instructed for the defence, sought to show that though the house was open at the time stated, yet it was for legitimate purposes. The Magistrates however, considered the case fully proved, and this being the second conviction, fined defendant 10s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 14/7/1860

“John Darby, landlord of the SPORTSMAN public-house, Stafford Street, was charged with having on Sunday, the 1st instant, obstructed police-constable Ellis in the execution of his duty. From the evidence for the prosecution it appeared that about two o’clock on the morning in question, the officer and police-constable Atkins visited the defendant’s house, in consequence of hearing some one in the house. On their attempting to enter, defendant seized hold of complainant and attempted to prevent him getting in, but finding himself unequal to the task, he called some one to his assistance, but notwithstanding the additional aide procured, the officers succeeded in effecting an entrance, by going up a passage adjoining defendant’s house, and climbing over some pigsties. Mr. Ebsworth, solicitor for the defence, cross-examined the officer at considerable length, but nothing was elicited to shake the evidence in chief, which was corroborated by police-constable Atkins. Mr. Ebsworth, after addressing the Bench at considerable length – censuring the conduct of the police, in burglarious-like effecting an entrance by climbing over a wall at the back, and contending that charges of obstructive assault, in cases of police-officers, should never be sustained – called a witness named Horton, who said the policeman (No.8), on the defendant getting a candle to take his number, puffed it out, and knocked defendant down; and on a person named Moor remonstrating with the officer, the latter said he would split his b—— skull. The bench dismissed the case.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 10/2/1861

“Young Totty of Walsall will run either of the following men: T. Dewsbury or C. Brown 120 yards, for £5 or £10 a side, C. Day of Minworth or Hawkins of Wirley 120 yards for the same sum, if Hawkins will allow four yards start. Money ready any evening at J. Darby’s, SPORTSMAN, Stafford Street, Walsall.”

1861 Census

90, Stafford Street – SPORTSMAN

- [1] John Darby (35), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary A. Darby (33), wife, born Ilkeston, Derbyshire;
- [3] Charlotte Darby (11), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Daniel Darby (8), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Darby (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary A. Darby (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Darby (27), lodger, cart gear maker, born Walsall:

Ebenezer Deakin = Ebenezer Deacon

Walsall Free Press 16/11/1861

“Application was made for the transfer of the SPORTSMAN, Stafford Street, from John Darby to Ebenezer Deacon.
.....The police gave all applicants good characters, and the transfers were permitted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/4/1862

“At the County Court on Thursday, before A. M. Skinner, Esq, QC, judge, and a jury, an action (Pearson v. Young) was tried for recovery of damages sustained in consequence of the bite of a dog. Mr. Motteram, instructed by Messes. Barnett and Marlow, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Ebsworth defended. The evidence was to the effect that on the 29th January last, the son of the plaintiff went to defendant’s house, the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, for some beer; and that when he came out defendant’s dog ran at him, knocked him down and bit him on the knee so seriously that he kept to his bed for ten days afterwards. For the defence it was contended that the wound on the knee was the result of a fall. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, damages £5.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/6/1862

“At the Petty Sessions, yesterday, Ebenezer Deakin, SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, was summoned by the police on a charge of having kept his house open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours on Sunday last. The case was clearly proved, but it was stated that defendant had kept his house respectably, and the Bench dismissed the charge with a caution.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“On Wednesday Mr. A. A. Fletcher held an inquest at the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, touching the death of Mary Ford, aged 68, who got up early on the morning of the same day, and having lit the fire and put the kettle on, went to bed again, complaining of feeling unwell, and was found dead some little time afterwards. Verdict Death from Natural Causes.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1876

“William Perkins, a young man, a labourer living in Lower Rushall Street, was brought up charged with having stolen 4s, the money of Mr. Cartwright. Emily Lloyd, barmaid to the prosecutor, who keeps the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, stated about ten o’clock that morning she left the bar for a short time, and on returning found the prisoner behind the bar with his hand in the till. He tried to make his escape over the counter, but she held him, and gave him into custody. Prisoner gave up the money. He was ordered to be imprisoned for a month with hard labour.”

1881 Census

90, Stafford Street – SPORTSMAN

[1] Maria Cartwright (56), widow, licensed victualler, born Glaisbury, Radnorshire; [Glasbury?]

[2] James Francis Cartwright (25), son, medical student, born Wednesbury;

[3] Harriet Emery (18), general servant, born Blakenall:

Evening Express 31/10/1881

“Hugh O’Neil (21), Rycroft Hill, was charged with having maliciously broken a plate glass window, valued at £5, at the SPORTSMAN public house. Shortly before twelve o’clock on Saturday night the prisoner pulled off his boot, and saying he would break the window threw it through the window. When apprehended he admitted the charge. He now said he was sorry for what he had done, and was fined £1 and ordered to pay £5 for the damage, or go to gaol for one month.”

Evening Star 20/2/1882

“Hugh O’Neill, a young man, was charged with breaking a pane of glass, value £15, the property of Maria Cartwright, keeper of the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street. He pleaded guilty, but sufficient evidence was taken to show that at about five minutes to eleven on Saturday night he deliberately smashed the pane of glass, and afterwards stated that he had no ill feelings against Mrs. Cartwright, and he wanted to get sent away, and he had selected a large pane of glass instead of a small one because he thought the town would be put to a greater expense.

The Mayor told the prisoner that he was a foolish fellow, and that in October he was convicted of a like offence, and went to prison for one month. He was sentenced to two months imprisonment with hard labour.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/7/1882

“Hugh O’Neil (20), labourer, pleaded guilty to having, on the night of the 29th April, wilfully broken a plate glass window, value £18, the property of Maria Cartwright, the SPORTSMAN public-house, Stafford Street. Having regard to the deliberateness of the prisoner’s conduct – he having searched for a stone, and coolly hurled it through the window – and to the fact that this was the second time prisoner had smashed Mrs. Cartwright’s window, without the slightest provocation, the learned Recorder questioned whether he could be in his right mind. The officers who had him in charge stated, however, that his sanity whilst in Stafford gaol had never been questioned, but his mother said one of his sisters had died in an asylum. He was sentenced to twelve months’ imprisonment with hard labour. Mr. Mc’Mickling (instructed by Mr. Baker) prosecuted.”

On the 24th of May, 1884, Hugh O’Neil smashed Mrs. Cartwright’s window for a fourth time, and was sentenced to five years’ penal servitude.

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1890

“On Saturday, at the Walsall Cottage Hospital, Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest on the body of William Bate (46), a carrier, of Wolverhampton Lane, who died in that institution on Wednesday from the effects of injuries to the head, alleged to have been caused by Robert Peach, a young man living in Penkridge Street. The Chief Constable was in attendance, and Mr. F. Bill watched the proceedings on behalf of Peach, who was present on custody.

It seemed that on the afternoon of Saturday, the 25th ult, John Flynn, foreman jannapper; Edwin Hall, his brother-in-law; and the deceased went into the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, and were there annoyed by a man named Thomas Goodhead, who wanted to make a bet with Hall, and by the suggestion of the landlord he and his friends went into another room; but Goodhead followed them, and after a time they rose and left, passing through the bar, where Peach, who was in the house when they entered, was sitting. They had scarcely reached the road when a row sprang up – none of the witnesses could say how it began – and Flynn saw Hall lying in the middle of the road, and Peach standing over him in a fighting attitude. Flynn went and stood over him so as to protect his head, and was challenged and threatened by Peach, but the latter put down his fists, on Flynn asking what he or Hall had done. He then helped his brother-in-law up, and directly afterwards saw Bate running away and a crowd of people after him. A witness named Henry Bird deposed he took Bate sixty yards out of the fray, but he would return for the sake of his friends. Three other witnesses named William Jackson, Arthur Abbott, and Henry Davis identified Peach as one of Bate’s pursuers, and having, whilst they were running, struck Bate three times, twice on the arm and once on the right side of the face. Directly after the last blow Bate fell face downwards on the pavement but whether owing to his tripping over the kerbstone or owing to the force of the blow no one could be positive. When Flynn – who ran after the crowd – got up to him he was on the pavement, unconscious and bleeding from two wounds near the left under-jaw. Then someone called out, ‘He’s dead,’ and Peach ran away. Flynn immediately sought a policeman, and whilst he was doing that, and Bate was lying helpless and bleeding on the ground close by, Goodhead was wanting Hall to fight. As soon as the policeman had arrived Flynn took his brother-in-law off down a back street, remarking that they had better get away or they would be killed too. Dr. Wilson was called, and by his directions Bate was removed to the Cottage Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Wood. D. Wilson also visiting him there; but he never recovered complete consciousness, and died on Wednesday evening. A post mortem by Dr. Wood showed that death had resulted from acute inflammation of the brain, consequent on injuries which the deceased had received, and which the medical men said might have been caused either by the fall or by blows.

The jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter, and accused was committed for trial on the coroner’s warrant.”

1891 Census

90, Stafford Street

- [1] Richard G. Ennis (46), public house manager, born Ireland;
- [2] Bertha A. Ennis (46), wife, assistant, born Ireland;
- [3] James G. Ennis (14), son, barman, born Bootle, Lancashire;
- [4] Joseph W. Ennis (12), son, scholar, born Liverpool;
- [5] Francis G. Ennis (10), son, scholar, born Liverpool;
- [6] Patrick Connor (31), visitor, fireman, born Ireland:

Walsall Advertiser 28/10/1893

“Frank Brookes, St. Michael’s Square, was summoned for assaulting John Tewey, Ryecroft Street. The assault originated in a dispute at the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, followed by a fight in the street. Complainant accused Brooks of knocking him down, kicking him in the face, so that he had to go to hospital.

The case was dismissed, evidence being given that it was a free fight.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/4/1894

“At the Guildhall, on Monday, Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for a temporary authority of the license to the SPORTSMAN, from Patrick O’Kane to John Hurley. The Chief Constable asked for the outgoing tenant to be put in the box. Mr. O’Kane was sworn, and in reply to Mr. Taylor said he kept the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wolverhampton, and had done so for ten or eleven years. He believed he held two other licenses in Wolverhampton.

The Chief Constable: For whom did you hold this license? – Witness: For myself.

Not for the Northampton Brewery Company? – No.

What rent do you pay? – £80 per year as tenant to the Northampton Brewery Company or their agents.

Is it not a fact that you were agent for them and as such held their license? – No, I was not the agent for them; I had a license for myself.

Have you ever lived at the SPORTSMAN in Stafford Street? – I never resided there.

Did you have the license in June, 1889? – About that time.

And did you then make an application to the Justices to enable you to keep a licensed house in the town? – Yes.

Did you immediately place a man named Ennis in the place as manager? – Yes; and subsequently a man named Starkey.

And did you do this without giving any notice to the police? – I did not think it was necessary, because I had the license myself.

Were you asked at the time the application was made whether you intended to reside there? – No, not by you or the magistrates. I made application for the license and it was granted.

To whom were these managers responsible for the cash taken? – To me.

Have you an agreement for tenancy in your possession now? – I have at Wolverhampton. I have no agreement with Ennis or Starkey.

You simply put them in as men of straw, to mislead the magistrates and the police? – Not intentionally.

Mr. Jackson objected to this statement.

Mr. Taylor: I am bound to say it. You did know that you were not going to reside in Walsall when you took out the license? – Witness: I simply came once or twice a week and visited the house.

What were the terms of the agreement between you and Starkey? – I paid him 30s per week, subject to a fortnight's notice.

And you supplied the stuff to the house? – Yes, I bought the beers from the Northampton Brewery Company, and my wines and spirits elsewhere.

Who took the profits of the business during the time Starkey was there? – They have been very small; I have had the pleasure of paying the losses.

Now you are transferring the license to Hurley? – Yes. I received a notice from Mr. Connolly who purchased the house, and I gave up possession on March 27th.

Do you know that Starkey remained on the premises until last Wednesday? – Yes.

Mr. Taylor hereupon said that he must oppose the granting of the license on the ground that the premises had been deserted from the 27th March, when O'Kane gave up possession and all interest in the business. In addition to that he wished to call their worships attention to the gross breach of faith with the magistrates on the part of O'Kane. He should ask the Bench to adjourn the case until next transfer day when every agreement should be produced. There was no doubt that a man who gave up possession of a house had no right to re-enter and allow other persons to sell. He quoted a case Owen v Langfield, where it was distinctly laid down that the man could be charged with aiding and abetting in selling without a license. It was time such work was put a stop to, as it was impossible for the police to look after licensed houses under such circumstance as these.

The Bench, after consideration in private, adjourned the application till the special transfer day, on April 27th, the house to be closed in the meantime.”

Patrick O'Kane – see also ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Stafford Road, Wolverhampton; FOUR ASHES, Wolverhampton; and HEART OF OAK, Wolverhampton.

John Harley = John Hurley

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/3/1895

“Thos. Wootton, 21, of High Street, Bloxwich, was charged with stealing a coat, value 30s, the property of John Leake, clothier, High Street, Bloxwich. The garment was stolen from prosecutor's premises some time between January 12 and 14, and information was given to the police, but the missing property was not traced until Saturday last, when Police-constable Alden saw accused wearing the coat at a football match. The defence was that on the night of the 12th ult. the prisoner bought the coat for 15s from a man who entered the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, and offered it for sale. The Bench gave the prisoner the benefit of the doubt, and discharged him, ordering the coat to be given up to the prosecutor.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1895

“An inquest was held by Mr. Stanley, at the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, on Thursday afternoon, on the body of Mary Davis (72), widow, of The Cottage, Croft Street. The evidence showed that on December 8th deceased was walking across the room when she stumbled and fell, injuring her right arm. She was attended by Dr. McKinstry, but died on Wednesday from erysipelas, and a verdict was returned accordingly.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1898

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Richard Peake, SPORTS MAN INN, Stafford Street, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 24/12/1898

“Charles Burbage, of 18, Penkridge Street, was charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, kept by Richard Peake. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted on behalf of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Association. The defendant, on the 17th inst, went to Mr. Peake's house about 7.30pm in a drunken condition and created a disturbance. He was asked several times to leave, but refused to do so. Fined 2s 6d and the costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1904

“Thomas Deakin, landlord of the SPORTSMAN INN, was summoned for supplying intoxicating liquor in quantity less than a pint to a child not 14, and Annie Bretherington was charged with sending her child for this liquor. Police-constable Brady met the latter defendant's boy leaving the SPORTSMAN with 2d worth of whiskey in a bottle. The bottle was properly sealed. Mr. H. H. Jackson admitted the breach of the law, but pleaded that his client did not know he could not sell less than a pint to a child. Mr. Deakin was ordered to pay the costs, the other case being dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/5/1909

“Harry Russon, a caster, and his wife, Elizabeth (25), of 5 court, 3 house, Short Acre Street, were charged with having wilfully damaged the windows of the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, the former to the extent of £6 4s, and the latter 3s. In order that the case could be dealt with by the bench that day the prosecutor agreed to fix the damage at less than £5.

Joseph Stackhouse, landlord of the SPORTSMAN INN, stated that at a quarter to nine on the previous Saturday night, the male defendant and his brother were two of a number of customers at the bar. They were all quiet until the female went to the door and said something witness did not hear. Russon's brother jumped from the seat and struck the woman. Witness's son interfered, and set about the man who had struck the female. Witness proceeded to eject the female, who tried to force her way in. He prevented her doing so, and then she smashed the glass pane of the door with her fist. Harry Russon, who was now outside, went to the door and said, 'I'll smash the big one,' and making a rush at the window smashed it with his fist. Witness followed them up the hill and was threatened all the way.

The woman denied the offence, and said she only went to look for her husband, when his brother assaulted her.

Her husband also denied the charge, and said that if he had broken the glass there should be a cut on his hand, whereas there was none.

Wm. Stackhouse, jun., engine driver, son of the landlord, stated that he had been assisting his father on the occasion. The female asked for her husband if he were coming home, whereupon the brother struck her and knocked her against the partition, and also hit him (witness) across the eye when he attempted to put him out. Witness had to have the wound on the eye stitched at the hospital.

Sergeant Atcherley gave evidence as to the arrest of the parties. The husband said nothing, but the female said, 'Right.' The woman now said she never smashed the glass. There was a fight outside and inside and she could not say how the glass was broken.

Both showed their hands, which bore no traces of recent cuts.

In reply to the Clerk (Mr. Loxton), the prosecutor said he knew that the smashing was not done by accident. He had no witnesses but himself as to how the injury occurred. The male defendant said the smashing was done accidentally in the rows.

The Chief Constable said the man had been before the Court on four previous occasions for police-beating, wife desertion and drunkenness and disorderly conduct, while the woman had already been convicted twice this year for drunkenness.

The Chairman, in discharging the female said he hoped the case would be a warning to her as to the danger of going into public-houses. The male defendant was sent to prison for one month's hard labour."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Mr. Enoch Evans applied on behalf of the SPORTSMAN, Stafford Street, for permission to erect stables at the rear of the premises. Mr. Evans explained that the applicant was a haulier and a cab proprietor and at present he had to rent stables elsewhere.

The application was adjourned in order that the justices might inspect the premises.

The Bench further intimated that formal notice of objection to the renewal of the license of the SPORTSMAN would be served."

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1910

"Street Committee.

The following plans have since the last report been approved, subject to the usual conditions.....

The Northampton Brewery Co, stabling, SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street."

1911 Census

90, Stafford Street – SPORTSMAN INN

[1] Joseph Stackhouse (66), licensed victualler, tenant, born Rushall;

[2] Ruth Stackhouse (65), wife, married 47 years, born Tipton;

[3] Maud Stackhouse (26), daughter, barmaid, born Norton Canes, Staffordshire;

[4] Edgar Stackhouse (22), son, cab driver, born Lichfield;

[5] Lily Woodhouse (18), servant, born Lichfield:

Joseph Stackhouse was also a cab proprietor.

See also PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

Walsall Observer 20/2/1915 - Deaths

"On the 15th inst., at the residence of his son, SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, Harry, the dearly-beloved husband of Emma Hedges, late of 76, Washington Street. R.I.P."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street. £0 12s 8d."

Walsall Observer 25/5/1918 - In Memoriam

"In loving memory of my dear and only son, George Thomas Hedges, who passed away on May 24, 1917, at the SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street. R.I.P.

His loving smile and kindly ways

Are pleasant to recall

He always has a cheerful word

And was beloved by all.

From his sorrowing mother."

Thomas E. Sandon was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

1939 Register

90, Stafford Street

[1] James Green, date of birth 7/11/1894, manager public house, married;

[2] Minnie (Green) Hodgson, dob 21/6/1896, manageress public house, married:

Walsall Observer 26/7/1941

“Though he declared it was impossible that a light should have been showing at his premises at the time complained of, Frederick James Jarman, SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street, was fined 40s for displaying a light there. Mr. Victor Parry (Chief A.R.P. Warden) said that he saw the light while driving along Stafford Street in his car, but that when he stopped and went back it had been extinguished. A police officer went there but could get no reply to his persistent knocking on the door. Defendant maintained that the entire household was in bed before midnight and it was impossible for a light to have been showing at 12-40am.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SPORTSMAN INN, Stafford Street. £4 2s 3d.”

It was renamed TAPSTERS AT THE SPORTSMAN.

Sandwell Evening Mail 17/9/1994

“Down Your Local. TAPSTERS AT THE SPORTSMAN, Stafford Street, Walsall.

It’s been a busy summer for Pat and Louise Meates – mine hosts of Walsall’s newest pub. First, they honeymooned to Turkey. When they returned, they got married! Then, four days later, they started work in a new job, at the TAPSTERS AT THE SPORTSMAN. All that in the space of two months! ‘You could say it’s been a hectic time recently,’ says 33-year-old Pat, former manager of Murphy’s Bar, behind the Midland Hotel in Birmingham. ‘We decided to have our honeymoon first because we knew we wouldn’t have time for one afterwards, what with us moving into the pub. I call it an Irish wedding! Who else would go on honeymoon before their wedding?’

The pub, formerly called the SPORTSMAN, has been closed for nearly five years during which time it fell into serious disrepair. ‘A couple of Pat’s friends bought it and asked us if we’d be interested in running it,’ explains Louise. ‘Well, nothing could have prepared us for what we saw. It resembled a building site. Apparently, tramps had been sleeping here and pigeons were flying around! I remember we looked at each other and wondered what we were letting ourselves in for. We both like a challenge, which is probably just as well because the place needed an awful lot of work doing on it. It appears no-one had taken a great deal of pride in the place. It’s a shame, but at least the pub has been saved from the bulldozers.’

In the space of just a month, Pat and Louise have transformed the pub. The bar has been rebuilt, a new floor put in, traditional hand-pulled pumps installed – and those pigeons have been sent packing! Now the couple face the task of building up regular custom. ‘It’s not going to be easy,’ admits Pat. ‘We’ve only been open a few weeks and people are still obviously undecided about us. Our job is to build up a rapport with our customers. Neither of us have Walsall connections and it isn’t easy if you’re not from the immediate area but in the short time we’ve been here, people have been terrific. They couldn’t have made us feel more welcome.’

Irish-born Pat started working in a pub when he was just 16 years old. ‘I collected glasses in a bar in my home town of Dublin,’ he recalls. Louise, who is from Birmingham, adds, ‘We’ve not had a day off since the pub started. We’ll soon have live entertainment and we’ve got Sky TV for those who want to watch mid-week soccer.....

Pub Facts.

Price of a Pint: Banks mild £1.10, Carlsberg Pilsner £1.40, range of traditional bitters from £1.22.

Food: 3-course Sunday dinner £4.75, 8oz steaks £4.50, selection of main courses from £3.50.

Transport: WMT bus routes No.373, 372 and 371 Walsall to Bloxwich.

Parking: Car park being built at rear.

Opening Hours: 11am to 11pm (Monday to Saturday); Noon to 3pm and 7pm to 10pm (Sundays).”

Closed [2006], [2012]

Demolished [2014]

SPOTTED COW

9, Wolverhampton Road, (Park Road), (88, The Green), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

John E. Bealey, The Hills, Bloxwich

John Plant Jnr.

William Roberts Brewery Ltd., Brownhills (acquired in May 1900 for £8,500) [1903]

Eleys Stafford Brewery Ltd. (acquired on 31st January 1930)

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1966)

Enterprise Inns [2006]

LICENSEES

William Bradbury [1849] – [1864]

Mrs. Bradbury [1864]

Thomas Evans [] – 1865;

William Plant (1865 – [1881];

Mrs. Maria Plant [];

John Plant Jnr. [1889] – 1900;

Mary Richards and Edward Irwin Miller (1900);

George Benton (1900 – 1903);

Samuel Watson (1903 – 1907);

Henry Lander (1907 – 1908);

Richard Thorn (1908 – 1909);

Samuel Edwin Beebee (1909 – 1912);

William Cooper (1912 – 1914);

Alfred Young (1914 – 1915);

Thomas Fern (1915 – 1916);

Ellen Elizabeth Fern (1916 – 1920);

Thomas Fern (1920 – 1921);

John Henry Chartband (1921 – 1924);

Frederick Francis Dando (1924 – 1926);

William Washington (1926 – 1929);

William Arthur Cox (1929 – 1930);

Joseph Seagar (1930 – 1936);

Joseph Westwood (1936 – 1944);

Ernest Poxon (1944 – [1966])

Christine Sandra Shawmen [2006]

NOTES

88, The Green [1871]

9, Wolverhampton Road [1881], [1891], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/6/1843

“Charles Welch, of Bloxwich, near Walsall, has a 37lb dog he will back against any other of the same weight for £5 or £19. He can be heard off at the SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich.”

Birmingham Journal 7/9/1844

“At the Guildhall on Wednesday before C. F. Cotterill and Richard James, Esq, Enoch Starkey, labourer of Bloxwich, was charged by William Somerfield, awl blade maker, of the same place, with violently assaulting him on Monday last. It appeared from the evidence of complainant, that on the evening of the day in question, he happened to go into the back yard of the SPOTTED COW beershop at Bloxwich, where he saw defendant and a number of other persons who were drinking. An altercation took place through the defendant charging him with having left the service of his master in a ‘shabby manner,’ and on complainant telling him to ‘mind his own business,’ he commenced a most brutal attack upon him, striking him many times, and fracturing his collar bone. The Bench, after commenting upon the brutal conduct of the prisoner, fined him in the full penalty of £5 and costs, and committed him in default to two months in the house of correction with hard labour. The prisoner was unable to pay the fine.”

William Bradbury, beer retailer, Short Heath. [1849], [1850]

Birmingham Journal 26/8/1854 - Advert

“Bloxwich, near Walsall. Sale At The SPOTTED COW INN.

To Be Sold by Auction, By H. Farrington, on the above Premises, on Monday Next, the 28th day of August – all the clean and useful Household Furniture belonging to W. Bradbury, comprising four-post and tent Bedsteads, fine Feather Beds, mahogany Chests of Drawers, Dressing Glasses, mahogany Night Convenience, handsome mahogany Dining and other Tables, Sideboard, mahogany and Windsor Chairs, Brussels Carpet, Chimney Glasses, thirty-hour Clock, Couch, Benches, Screens, Brewing Utensils, capital Ale Casks, useful Kitchen Requisites, Rick of Prime Wheat, about forty-five bags, two capital Spring Carts, covered Market Cart, 4½-inch Cart, patent Turnip Cutter, Harrows, Plough, iron Hurdles, Shop Fixtures, four pair Chawls, five prime Hame, and a variety of other useful Effects, particulars of which will appear in catalogues, to be had at the Place of Sale, and from the Auctioneer, Walsall.

Sale to commence at Two o’clock, under the usual conditions.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 13/9/1856

“Monday being the day appointed for the renewal of old licenses, and considering the application for new ones, there was a rather full attendance of magistrates.

There were no less than twenty-eight applications for new licenses, all of which were refused with the exception of William Bradbury, beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich.

The applications were for the most part refused, in consequence of the number of houses already licensed in the respective localities, and in a few instances from the want of sufficient accommodation.”

1861 Census

Short Heath

- [1] William Bradbury (32), huckster and victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Ann Bradbury (31), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Charles Bradbury (11), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Elizabeth Bradbury (9), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Sarah Bradbury (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] William Bradbury (7), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Thomas Bradbury (5), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Joseph Bradbury (4), son, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Benjamin Bradbury (2), son, born Bloxwich;
- [10] George Bradbury (10 months), son, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Emma Groom (15), servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 27/7/1861

“A charge was made against William Bradbury of the SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich, for having his house open before twelve o’clock, on Sunday last. Mrs. Bradbury appeared, and seemed a good deal affected by the present proceedings. She pleaded guilty. Mr. Cater gave the house an excellent character. A fine of 1s and costs was imposed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/12/1862

“Suicides appear rather frequent just now. On Sunday morning last, John Rowley, a slipper maker, and who keeps a lodging-house on Earl Street, Stafford, having slept the previous night at the SPOTTED COW public-house, Bloxwich, asked to go and lie down in the hayloft, which was permitted. At about half-past eleven, he was found suspended by a bridle to a beam. Mr. Somerville, surgeon, was at once called in, but the unfortunate man was found to be dead. He had evidently climbed a ladder, adjusted the bridle round his neck, and swung himself off. The deceased had been in Bloxwich for about a week, and had been drinking most of the time.”

Walsall Free Press 19/12/1863 - Advert

“A Grand Tea Party, will be held at Mr. William Bradbury’s, the SPOTTED COW INN, Bloxwich Green, on Monday, December, 28th, 1863. Musical and other Entertainments after Tea.

Dancing to commence at Seven o’clock.”

William Bradbury was also a shopkeeper. [1864] – [1865]

Walsall Free Press 9/4/1864

“Mr. Bradbury, landlord of the SPOTTED COW public house, Bloxwich, was charged with having had his house open at half-past ten o’clock on Sunday forenoon. Sergeant Martin said that at the time in question he found three men in the house, with a cup of ale. On asking the landlady to account for it, she said the men had come to pay an ale score, and she had given them a pint. The defendant, who, in July, 1861, had been fined 1s and costs for a similar offence, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/5/1864 - Advert

“Sale At The SPOTTED COW Inn, Bloxwich, near Walsall.

Mr. Charles Griffiths will Sell by Auction, this day (Wednesday), May 25th, 1864, all the Household Furniture, Brewing Plant,

Public House Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, Spring Carts, Brown Mare, and numerous effects, the whole of which must be sold without reserve.

Sale punctually at ten o'clock.

Auctioneer's Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston."

Walsall Free Press 25/6/1864 - Advert

"Freehold Inn, Houses, Building land, at Bloxwich.

To Be Sold By Auction, By Mr. Farrington, at David Walker's, the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, on Wednesday, the 20th July, 1864, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions.

Lot 1. All that old licensed Public House, known by the sign of the RED COW, with the huckster's shop, large clubroom, brewhouse, two cellars, outhouses, and enclosed yard thereto belonging, situate in front of the Green, at Bloxwich, and having an extensive frontage to the main road, and in the occupation of Mrs. Bradbury....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/11/1864

"Birmingham Bankruptcy Court. In Re W. Bradbury, Bloxwich.

Last examination and discharge. Mr. Smith appeared for the assignees, Mr. Jackson appeared for a creditor, and said the bankrupt had not surrendered, but had absconded. The Commissioner directed that the bankrupt be called at three o'clock, and if he did not then appear he should be proclaimed. In this case Mr. John Smith applied for leave to bring an action against Mr. Thomas Hardy, who he said obtained a bill of sale from the bankrupt shortly before his bankruptcy, which bill of sale was believed to be fraudulent, the bill being in itself an act of bankruptcy. The words of the operative part of the assignment being 'Bradbury doth by these presents grant and assign unto Hardy, his executors, &c, all and singular the goods, chattels, furniture, fixtures, utensils, and effects comprised in the schedule hereunto annexed, and now being in and about the SPOTTED COW, at Bloxwich, &c.' The recital was - 'Whereas, Bradbury is indebted to Hardy in the sum of £100.' When one of the creditors called upon the bankrupt at Bloxwich, having previously written to him for payment, he found that the goods and household effects had been sold under a bill of sale. Leave to bring an action was granted."

Walsall Free Press 28/1/1865

"The following licenses were transferred.....

The SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich. William Plant applied to have the license transferred from Thomas Evans to himself. It appeared that Evans, who is at present in Stafford gaol, and had received the license from Mr. Bradbury, declined to sign the transfer. As, however, that applicant had taken the house from the landlord, and had been in possession for a week, the application was granted."

Walsall Free Press 9/12/1865

"James Harrison, James Somerfield, Thomas Jordan, Jesse Oliver, and James Barton were charged by Police-sergeant Martin, with having, about a-quarter to one o'clock on Wednesday morning been drunk and disorderly at Bloxwich. From the evidence of the officer, it appeared that the whole of the parties were creating a disturbance in the SPOTTED COW, from which they were ejected, and, on getting outside, they continued their disorderly conduct, and threatened the officer, who attempted to take them into custody, but they got away. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced Harrison, who was not so bad as the others, to pay a fine of 5s and costs; or in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days. The rest were ordered to pay a fine of 20s and costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for one month."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/8/1867

"Yesterday being the day for granting publican's licenses, the magistrates met at ten o'clock.....

Mr. Mathews applied on behalf of Enoch Bukly [sic], beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich. Mr. Baker opposed on behalf of Mr. Plant, landlord of the SPOTTED COW, which was stated to be only four doors from the house sought to be licensed. Application refused."

[Enoch Bickley, TURF TAVERN]

Birmingham daily Gazette 22/9/1868

"John Grice was charged with having, on Saturday, the 12 inst, assaulted John [sic] Plant, landlord of the SPOTTED COW public house, Bloxwich. It appeared defendant had insulted some person in complainant's house, and on complainant turning defendant out, defendant struck complainant, and for doing so he was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for fourteen days."

1871 Census

88, The Green - SPOTTED COW INN

[1] William Plant (34), innkeeper, born Knightley, Staffordshire;

[2] Maria Plant (36), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Fanny Smith (19), general servant, born Willenhall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1876

"Edward Quinney was charged with having wilfully broken some jugs, the property of Mr. Plant, of the SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich, and also to have assaulted Sergt. Martin, whom the landlord had sent for, by striking and kicking him. He was ordered to pay 7d, the value of the jugs, and costs; and for the assault was fined 20s and costs, with the option of one months' imprisonment."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1877

"The annual licensing session for the borough of Walsall took place yesterday, at the Guildhall.....

The applicant's for full licenses..... W. Bickley, TURF TAVERN beerhouse, Bloxwich, supported by Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie), and opposed by Mr. A. Baker, on behalf of William Plant of the SPOTTED COW INN. Refused."

1881 Census

9, Wolverhampton Road – SPOTTED COW

- [1] William Plant (45), licensed victualler, born Rough Hay;
- [2] Maria Plant (43), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Sarah Allsop (37), general servant, born Cheslyn Hay;
- [4] Martha Windsor (16), general servant, born F____, Staffordshire:

London Gazette 29/1/1884

"Re William Plant, Deceased.

The creditors and others having claims upon the estate of William Plant, late of the SPOTTED COW INN, the Green, Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper, (who died on the 17th day of April, 1883, and letters of administration, de bonis non, of whose personal estate were granted by the District Registry at Lichfield of the Probate Division of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice on the 23rd day of January, 1884, to John Plant, the father of the deceased, of the Green, Bloxwich aforesaid) are, on or before the 25th day of March, 1884, to send in the particulars of their debts or claims to the said John Plant, at the offices of his Solicitors, Messrs. Wilkinson, Gillespie, and Wilkinson, of No.63, Bridge-street, Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, or in default thereof the said administrator will after the said 25th day of March, 1884, proceed to distribute the assets of the said William Plant amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have notice.

Dated this 25th day of January, 1884.

Wilkinson, Gillespie, And Wilkinson, Solicitors for the said Administrator."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/11/1888

"On Saturday Mr. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest, at the SPOTTED COW INN, on the body of John Plant (79), The Green, father of the keeper of the house. The evidence showed that on the previous Wednesday, the deceased was walking to his son's house, when he fell down and expired almost immediately. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes."

Lichfield Mercury 12/7/1889 - Advert

"Monday 15th July, at Seven O'Clock, at the SPOTTED COW INN, Bloxwich (Mr. Plant's), Sale of Five Freehold Dwelling Houses producing £45 3s a year, situate and fronting the Sandbank, Bloxwich. Solicitor, Mr. E. L. Stanley, Walsall."

1891 Census

9, Wolverhampton Road – Public House – The SPOTTED COW

- [1] John Plant (54), licensed victualler, born Keighley (?);
- [2] Emma Plant (49), wife, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Richards (19), general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Anne White (17), general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Jane White (14), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 28/10/1893

"John Starkey was charged with being drunk and disorderly, and refusing to leave the SPOTTED COW, kept by John Plant, on the 7th inst. Prosecutor gave evidence as to defendant's condition, and his disorderly conduct in his house. He refused to leave when requested to do so.

Defendant denied having sat down in the house.

John Perry, Bloxwich said he was in the house on the night in question, when defendant came in and commenced to create a disturbance.

Defendant said he and some friends had a pint of brandy to their tea, and he was not 'over the mark.' He was sorry, and must tell the Bench that he had been never charged with anything before in his life, and he had been in the district 40 years.

Fined 2s 6d and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 17/11/1894

"Mr. T. H. Stanley, borough coroner, held an inquest at the SPOTTED COW, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, on Thursday afternoon, touching the death of George Richard Sassall (65) coal miner, 75, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, who died on Monday evening from the effects of an accident received on October 26 while working in the Cannock Lodge Colliery. Mr. W. H. Pickering, H.M.'s Inspector of Mines was present.

Louise Sassall identified the body as that of her husband. He had never told her anything relating to the accident beyond saying that a piece of rock had fallen on him.

Samson Lymer, miner, Wyrley Bank, employed at the colliery, said that he had worked with deceased until the accident, which took place about five o'clock in the morning. They were heaving a dan, i.e. half a tub with the end out, when a piece of rock fell and caught Sassall on the back. The rock was safe when they started to work at nine o'clock the previous night. The foreman and himself had examined the road, the roof of which was supported by two trees and a stretcher. The rock dropped between two timbers. No shots had been fired. Immediately after the accident, with the help of two others, Sassall was removed from under the rock, and taken to the surface of the pit.

Henry Howe, miner, 64, Bell Lane, said he was working some distance from Sassall when Lymer told him some rock had fallen on Sassall. He helped to lift the rock off deceased.

Richard Eccleston, fireman, 33, Clarendon Street, deposed that it was his duty to inspect the roads at the Cannock Lodge Colliery. He inspected the place where Sassall was working about eleven o'clock on the night of October 25, and found everything safe. He sounded it with a pick and stick. The piece of rock which fell chipped off from between the trees, which were about a yard apart. Sassall was a skilled workman and capable of being left in charge of that part of the mine where he worked.

Dr. A. Marten stated that he was called to deceased's house on the day of the accident, and on examination found that Sassall was suffering from a severe shock, and several surface injuries. His right loin and hip, and his left hip and groin were very much bruised, and the lower part of the belly just above the left groin were also injured. The right foot too was badly bruised. Witness attended Sassall until the time of his death. The cause of death was in his opinion inflammation resulting from internal injuries. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Walsall Advertiser 12/5/1900 - Advert

"Walter Hughes, FAI, is instructed by the Executors of the will the late Mr. John Plant, to Sell by Auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of May, 1900.....

Lot 1. The old-established, Freehold, Full-Licensed Public House, known as the SPOTTED COW HOTEL, Bloxwich, for many years in the occupation of Mr. John Plant, recently deceased.

The house is one of the best known licensed houses in the district, and does one of the largest trades in the county. The buildings are of the most substantial character, well appointed and conveniently arranged for the carrying on of a big trade. They are in first class order, and the position of the house renders it easily accessible to a large population. The premises comprise:

On Upper Floor – Large Clubroom, Spirit Store Room, and Five Bedchambers.

On Ground Floor – Vaults, Bar, Tap Room, Smoke Room, Spirit and Bottled Ale Store, Private Parlour, Living Kitchen, Spacious Tiled Hall.

In Basement – Two Capacious well-arranged Cellars.

In Yard – Well-equipped Two storey Model Brewery, Carriage House, Stable with Loft over, Scullery, and Outhouses opening into large yard.

This house occupies a unique position in Bloxwich, with a frontage of 47 feet to the Wolverhampton Road. It abuts upon a side road for 100 feet, and contains an area of 585 square yards. It is now doing, and has done for many years, a very large and prosperous trade; it possesses an excellent reputation, is much frequented, and admittedly the best house in or near Bloxwich. Whether to a Brewer and Spirit Merchant, or to a private person anxious to secure an exceptionally good house commanding and doing a large trade, this sale affords a rare opportunity.

Possession will be given on completion. Ample proof of the trade can be given if desired....."

Walsall Observer 26/5/1900

"The SPOTTED COW in Park Road, so long associated with the name of the late Mr. John Plant, was sold on Tuesday last. It reached £8,500, but some thought it would have made £10,000 at least....."

Walsall Advertiser 18/8/1900 - Notice

"John Plant, Deceased.

All Person having Claims or Demands against the Estate of John Plant, late of the SPOTTED COW INN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler (who died on the 13th day of April, 1900, and whose Will was proved in the Principal Registry of the Probate Division of her Majesty's High Court of Justice on the 14th day of May, by the two executors named) Are Required to send particulars in writing of such Claims or Demands to me, the undersigned, as Solicitor to the said Executors, on or before the 29th day of September, 1900, after which day the Executors will proceed to distribute the assets, having regard only to Claims then received.

Dated this 17th day of August, 1900.

Enoch Evans, Bank Buildings, 29, Bridge Street, Walsall, Solicitor to the said Executors."

George Benton was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

Wolverhampton Road – SPOTTED COW INN

[1] George Benton (39), licensed victualler, born Hednesford, Staffordshire;

[2] Annie Benton (32), wife, born Shenstone, Staffordshire;

[3] George A. Benton (9), son, born Walsall Wood;

[4] William H. Benton (7), son, born Walsall Wood;

[5] Beatrice M. Benton (6), daughter, born Walsall Wood;

[6] Caroline A. Benton (1 month), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[7] Francis A. Watson (19), female, general servant, born Aldridge;
[8] Sobey Bentley (15), general servant, born Bloxwich:
[Sobey could be short for Sobeaske, a popular Biblical name.]

Walsall Advertiser 12/7/1902

“On Monday evening, through the kindness of Mr. George Benton and other friends, the Bloxwich Volunteer Band, together with their comrades recently returned from South Africa, were entertained to supper at the SPOTTED COW HOTEL, Bloxwich. After the supper, which was an excellent one, Mr. J. Dilks was elected chairman, and Sergeant-Major R. Sarson vice-chairman. The Chairman, in a few choice remarks, welcomed home the men who had returned from the war, and Sergeant-Major Sarson also congratulated them on the way they had done their duty to their King and country. Colour-Sergeant Eaton and Private W. Collies suitably responded. The Chairman proposed the health of the King, which was heartily received. Votes of thanks were given to the host and hostess, and other friends who had assisted to make the gathering a success. The band played several selections during the evening, including ‘Maritana,’ ‘Songs of Scotland,’ ‘Romeo and Juliet,’ &c. Songs were given by Messrs. L. Birch, W. Collier, E. Carrington, V. Llewellyn, John Gee, and Sergeant-Major Sarson. During the evening Mr. W. Dodd presented a silver-mounted baton to the bandmaster (Mr. Thos. Sowerby). An apology was sent by Lieut. Robinson, who was unable to be present.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1903

“On Tuesday the adjourned annual licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, when the Court was crowded. . . . For a music and singing license, Mr. Jackson now applied on behalf of George Benton, of the SPOTTED COW, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, for Saturdays, the room to be used exclusively by the Free Gardeners’ Lodge, which met there, and comprised between 300 and 400 members. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last. . . . New Members. . . . Samuel Beebee, SPOTTED COW INN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich.”

1911 Census

Wolverhampton Road – SPOTTED COW INN

- [1] Samuel Edwin Beebee (43), brewer, public house keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Amy Ann Beebee (45), wife, assisting in business, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Florence Mary Beebee (20), daughter, lady clerk, drug stores, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Amy Beebee (17), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [5] Gertrude Alice Beebee (15), daughter, at school, born Walsall;
- [6] Samuel Leonard Beebee (10), son, at school, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1911

“Evidence of a most contradictory character was given at the Guildhall, on Tuesday, before Councillor S. B. Whewey (presiding) and Alderman J. Clare, during the hearing of a case in which Samuel Beebee, landlord of the SPOTTED COW, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, was summoned for having been drunk and disorderly in High Street, Bloxwich on August 23rd. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) appeared for the defence, and pleaded not guilty. Police-constable Knowles stated that at 12.40am on Wednesday, the 23rd ult, he was on duty in High Street, when he saw the defendant about 300 yards away. He was drunk and using bad language. A man was leading him by the arm, and there were several people about at that time, coming out of the Wake grounds. Defendant also began to abuse witness and continued to do so after he (the officer) had cautioned him, saying he would smash his two eyes if he (witness) did not go to his post. Witness then told him that if he did not go home he should have to lock him up, and defendant went away. Cross-examined the officer said he spoke to a man named Rowe, and he went after Beebee. Police-sergeant Cattermole stated that in consequence of what the previous witness told him he went towards the BELL INN on the night in question and there saw defendant who was drunk and shouting bad language. He saw Rowe catch hold of Beebee and try to lead him home, but he freed himself and went alone. Cross-examined witness admitted that he had allowed the defendant to pass, and did not speak to him. Police-constable Baker said that at 11.30pm on Tuesday, the 22nd ult. he saw the defendant get off the motors in the Wake ground. He was drunk, but witness did not speak to him. On opening the defence Mr. Jackson said the charge was a serious matter for the defendant, because when a licensee got a blemish on his character and reputation and got out of a house it was practically certain he would not get into another. On the night in question defendant and two friends left his house at 10.25 and went to the Wakes ground. On the way they called at the GEORGE, where they had one drink each, and at the WHEATSHEAF, where they had two each. On returning home they met the policeman, who, without any apparent cause whatever went up to defendant and said, ‘I shall report you.’ Mr. Beebee asked him what for and he replied, ‘bad language.’ Defendant, however, was not drunk; neither was there any bad language used, and he (Mr. Jackson) submitted that the policeman had made a mistake. Defendant, on oath, supported his solicitor’s statement, emphatically denying that he was drunk, or abused the officer. All he said to the officer was, ‘Go back to your post and do your duty.’ Levi Birch, 39, Park Road, Bloxwich, one of the men with the defendant corroborated.

The Chief Constable: Were you once a member of the police force? – Witness: Yes.

And you were dismissed for drunkenness? – Yes.

A man named Llewellen, of Broad Lane, Arthur Turner, of 1, Stafford Road, Bloxwich, John Brown, Park Road, Bloxwich, and James Rose, Bell Lane, all gave similar evidence, the latter denying that he tried to lead the defendant home.

After a private consultation Mr. Wheway said that in the face of the conflicting evidence the Bench did not feel justified in recording a conviction, and the case would be dismissed, but they considered it was a proper case for the police to bring before their notice.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1913

“Five miners, named John Meshach Caddick (29), 71, Bell Lane, Bloxwich, Richard Gullick (21), Bell Lane, Ewart Parrett (25), 88, Bell Lane, George Hodges (24), 67, Bell Lane, and Albert Horler (23), 67, Bell Lane, were all charged with stealing from an automatic machine in the SPOTTED COW, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, the sum of 35/-, the property of William Cooper, on Jan. 8, or otherwise with receiving the same well knowing it to have been stolen.

The prosecutor, who is the licensee of the SPOTTED COW, gave evidence to the effect that on Wednesday the prisoners were in the house drinking together, in the bar. He had occasion to go into the taproom, and while there he heard the jingling of money. He returned to the bar ten minutes later and saw two of the prisoners standing in the doorway which separated the vaults. Three others were helping themselves to cash from a tin taken out of an automatic machine which was kept on the mantel shelf. When the prisoners saw him they tried to smuggle the tin in and Caddick ran away. He held his hand to his pocket as he ran, evidently to hold something down. Witness tried to prevent the other four from leaving the house but they pushed him on one side. There was a sum of 35/- in the machine.

Police-constable Smith stated he noticed marks on the machine which seemed to show that it had been forced open. Afterwards he saw Caddick at his home and he admitted that he had been at the SPOTTED COW, but denied that he knew anything about the stolen money.

On the way to the Police Station he said, ‘I do know something about it, but I don’t know who the men are.’ At the Police Station he said he went into the SPOTTED COW and had a drink with one or other of the men. Two of them came into the second bar with a tin containing money. He had about two shillings worth of coppers and ran away. On Thursday witness arrested the other four men, who denied the charge.

Caddick now pleaded guilty and the others not guilty.

The Chief Constable said there was nothing against Caddick, and, the other men were four of eight who had come from Somersetshire and nothing was known against them.

Each prisoner was fined 20/- and costs (5/-), with the alternative of 14 days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/2/1913

“William Cooper, of the SPOTTED COW INN, Bloxwich, was summoned for selling beer, not in a properly sealed vessel, to a boy under 14 years of age, named John Thomas Peart, on February 3rd. Police-constable Baker spoke of meeting the boy in the street, carrying a bottle of beer, uncorked. He took the lad back to the inn, where the defendant’s wife admitted serving him, and said afterwards that the bottle had no cork in it when the boy brought it and she did not put one in to seal it. Mrs. Cooper who appeared for her husband, now pleaded ignorance. Defendant was ordered to pay the costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1914 - Advert

“To Let, the SPOTTED COW INN, Bloxwich, full license; doing fair trade.

Apply, The Station Brewery, Brownhills.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich, 3s 10d.”

Ellen Elizabeth Fern was fined £5 and costs, on 30th May 1919, for selling whisky exceeding the maximum price.

Walsall Observer 30/8/1924 - Advert

“F. F. Dando, SPOTTED COW, Bloxwich, (Headquarters of Bloxwich Cycling Club). Noted for Proprietary Brands of liquors. All Orders promptly attended to.”

1939 Register

9, Wolverhampton Road – Inn

[1] Joseph Westwood, date of birth 27/10/1902, licensee, married;

[2] Isabella Westwood, dob 6/6/1904, bar hand and domestic duties, married;

[4] Frank E. Westwood, dob 22/11/1927, at school, single:

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mrs. Westwood, SPOTTED COW. £0 10s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SPOTTED COW INN Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich. £0 16s 6d.”

Ernest Poxon = Ernest Poxton

Walsall Observer 11/11/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society held a meeting on Thursday last.....

Mr. Ernest Poxton, of the SPOTTED COW INN, Bloxwich Road, Bloxwich, was elected a member of the society.”

[2017]

SPREAD EAGLE

1, High Street, (80, Walsall Road), (Bloxwich Road), Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Mrs. Rosa Somerfield

J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.

Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd.

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Phineas Somerfield [1828] – [1858]

Mrs. Harriet Somerfield [1858] – [1865]

Titus Somerfield [] – 1864);

Mary Somerfield (1864);

Thomas Titus Somerfield* (1864 – [1868]

Titus Somerfield* [1870]

Mrs. Rosa Somerfield [1871] – 1894);

Matthew John Somerfield (1894 – 1910);

George Frederick Hare (1910 – 1912);

William Burke (1912);

George Wood (1912 – 1922);

Matthew John Somerfield (1922);

Elizabeth Ann Fosbury (1922 – 1924);

Eli Thomas Bates (1924 – 1925);

Albert Horace Severn (1925 – 1926);

William Cook (1926 – 1928);

John Henry Brotherton (1928 – 1929);

Thomas Beecham Broome (1929 – 1931);

William John Reeves (1931);

Mrs. Dorothy McDivitt (1931 – 1932);

Arthur Moseley (1932 – 1933);

Harold Draisey (1933 – 1936);

Alfred William Cook (1936 – 1937);

Edward Charles Coley (1937 – 1942);

Joseph Seagar (1942 – 1943);

William Thomas Walton (1943 – 1944);

Thomas Charles Henry Lander (1944 – 1945);

George Arthur Tuckley (1945 – 1960);

Harry Dobson (1960 – 1961);

Nancy Doreen Brotherton (1961);

Samuel Brotherton (1961 – 1963);

Malcolm Russell Beard (1963);

John Burnell Harvey (1963);
Harriet Joan (Whittall) Yates (1963 – 1965);
Eric Henry Barnes (1965 – 1966);
Harold Kenneth Vale (1966 – []

NOTES

Bloxwich Road
80, Walsall Road [1871]
1, High Street [1881], [1901], [1908], [1932], [1939], [1940]

SPREAD EAGLE HOTEL [1940]

Phineas Somerfield = Phineas Summerfield = Phineas Sommerfield

London Gazette 16/3/1830

“Whereas a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against Phineas Somerfield, of the Township of Bloxwich, in the Parish of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Victualler and Awl-Blade-maker, Dealer and Chapman and he being declared a Bankrupt is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said Commission named, or the major part of them, on the 24th of March instant, at Five in the Afternoon, on the 25th of the same month, at Eleven o’clock in the Forenoon, and, on the 27th day of April next, at Three of the Clock in the Afternoon, at the Union Inn, in Union-Street, Birmingham, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the Creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to choose Assignees, and at the last sitting the said Bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the Creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said Bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Messrs. Turner and Pearce, Solicitors, No.5, Bloomsbury-Square, London, or Mr. John Heeley, Solicitor, of Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/4/1839 - Advert

“Wanted, immediately, a Young Man as an Assistant in the Victualling and Grocery Trades, who likewise understands the Retail Iron Trade.
Apply (if by letter post paid) to P. Somerfield, SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich.”

Staffordshire Gazette 1/6/1839 - Deaths

“May 27, aged 20, Eliza, second daughter of Mr. Phineas Somerfield, of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/7/1840 - Advert

“Bloxwich Races, near Walsall, August, 1840.

The Bloxwich Trial Stakes of Four Sovereigns each, Two Sovereigns ft. with Ten Sovereigns added, for horses that never won more than £50 at one time; heats, three times round and a distance. The second horse to save his stake if three or more horses start. The winner to be sold for £40 if demanded in the usual way. Three years old 8st; four years 9st 2lb; five years, 9st 10lb; six years and aged 10st. Half-bred horses allowed 10lbs; mares and geldings 3lbs.

A Hurdle race. A Sweepstakes of Five Sovereigns each, Three Sovereigns ft. with Ten Sovereigns added; to carry 11st 7lb each; thorough bred horses, and winners in 1839 and 1840 to carry 7lb extra. Heats three times round and a distance. Six leaps in each heat. The winner to be sold for £70 if demanded in the usual way.

A Cavalry Handicap Sweepstakes of Three Sovereigns each, One Sovereign ft. with Ten Sovereigns added for horses the bona fide property of members of the Walsall Troop of the Q.O.R.Y. Cavalry, that have performed two days’ duty previous to the race. Heats, three times round and a distance. To be handicapped by the stewards, or who might be appointed.

The Beaten Handicap stakes. Three horses to start for each race, or the money advertised will not be added, without the consent of the stewards.

Horses to be entered at Mr. P. Somerfield’s, SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, at or before seven o’clock of the evening of Friday, August 14. The amount of the forfeit on each race to be paid at the time of entry, or the entry will not be received.”

Staffordshire Gazette 7/1/1841 - Advert

“Bloxwich Annual Ball will take place on Thursday, the 21st of January next, at Mr. P. Somerfield’s SPREAD EAGLE INN.

Dancing to commence at Eight o’clock.

Gentlemen’s Tickets, 6s; Ladies’ ditto 4s.

Cards for the occasion will be provided on application at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall.

Bloxwich, 18th Dec., 1840.”

Birmingham Journal 14/11/1846

“About six o’clock on the evening of Tuesday last, as Mr. Phineas Somerfield, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, was proceeding along the Stafford Road, in the direction of his own house, from Walsall, he was accidentally run over by a horse and phaeton, belonging to J. Bearley, Esq, of Bloxwich. He was instantly carried into the LAMP TAVERN, and from thence removed to his own house. Dr. Somerville was promptly in attendance, and rendered every assistance. The injuries sustained are serious, though, providentially, no bones are broken. The accident was occasioned by the darkness of the evening, and no blame whatever is attributable to the driver of the vehicle.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1847 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Walker & Page, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 23rd instant, at four o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions, All that old established and well accustomed Public House, situated at Bloxwich, in the county of Stafford, known by the sign of the SPREAD EAGLE. The House comprises front and back kitchen, brewhouse, large and small parlours, bar, capital cellaring, and suitable bed rooms, with a large club room. There is a pump of excellent water on the premises, and adjoining is a large garden, stabling for six horses, yard, and other conveniences; also a range of Shopping; all which are in the occupation of Phineas Somerfield.

Also, all those three Small Houses, near to or adjoining the abovementioned property, in the several occupations of William Dolphin, Edward Taylor, and William B. Hart.

The property is Freehold; and other particulars may be had on application to Messrs. Bennett and Thorne, solicitors, Craddocks Walk, Wolverhampton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/4/1847 - Advert

“To be Let, and entered upon at Midsummer next, that old-established Inn, known by the sign of the SPREAD EAGLE, most eligibly situated opposite the race course at Bloxwich, and near the turnpike gate. There are three respectable clubs attached to the house, which in addition to the usual requirements of a respectable public house, has a Liquor Shop on the ground floor, stabling for six horses, garden, &c. The whole has for several years been in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Somerfield, who will give up possession on the 24th June next.

For further particulars apply to Mr. James Cremonini, opposite the Market Place, Bilston, or Mr. Timothy Smith, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Phineas Somerfield was also an awl blade maker. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Turnpike Road

- [1] Phineas Somerfield (64), awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Harriet Somerfield (52), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Thomas T. Somerfield (20), son, awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] George E. Somerfield (16), son, awl blade maker’s apprentice, born Bloxwich;
- [5] William T. Somerfield (7), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Elizabeth L. Steel (16), house servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] John Mayo (14), awl blade maker’s apprentice, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/2/1852

“Phineas Somerfield, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, was fined £1 and costs for having his public house open after 12 o’clock on Saturday night last.”

Walsall Free Press 23/5/1857

“Guildhall Police Court Sergeant Simpson preferred complaints against the following publicans residing at Bloxwich Phineas Summerfield, fined one shilling and costs all for keeping their houses open during prohibited hours on Sunday last.”

Harriet Somerfield = Harriet Summerfield

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/8/1858

“The annual meeting of the Ladies’ Benevolent Lodge was held on the 26th ult, in the SPREAD EAGLE INN, occupied by Mrs. Somerfield. After the routine business of the lodge was transacted, the members, neatly dressed, walked in procession to the church.....”

1861 Census

Bloxwich

- [1] Harriet Somerfield (61), widow, victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Thomas Titus Somerfield (30), son, awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [3] George Edward Somerfield (26), son, merchant’s clerk, born Bloxwich;
- [4] William T. Somerfield (18), son, brush maker’s apprentice, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Elizabeth Shorter, (19), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [6] James Somerfield (12), awl blade maker’s apprentice, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 11/1/1862

“Elizabeth Hall was charged by police-constable Ellis with being drunk and disorderly at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, on the previous evening, at five o’clock. She was making a great disturbance, and she would not go away until taken into custody.

Prisoner pleaded 'Drunk, and didn't know what I was doing.' Mr. Oerton said he would never take that as an excuse for disorderly conduct. A fine of 5s and costs, or in default fourteen days' imprisonment was inflicted."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/6/1863

"Yesterday, at Walsall Police Court, Isaac Pemberton, who has recently figured as complainant in a case of assault, attended to prefer a charge of assault against Thomas Lawrence. According to the complainant's statement, he was, on Tuesday week in the SPREAD EAGLE INN, at Bloxwich, when defendant who was also in the house, 'set about' him, unawares, and gave him a black eye. The defendant succeeded in showing that the complainant was drunk, that he was brandishing a stick over the heads of the company, and that he (defendant) only struck him in self-defence. The Bench dismissed the case, and advised the complainant to have less to do with public-houses for the future. He left the Court protesting against what he called the injustice of the decision."

* possibly the same person

Walsall Free Press 13/8/1864

"At the Petty Sessions on Thursday, the following transfers were made.....
SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, from Titus Sommerfield (deceased) to Mary Sommerfield, his widow."
AND (at the same Sessions)

Birmingham Daily Post 12/8/1864

"At the Police Court yesterday, the licenses of the following houses were provisionally transferred.....
The SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, from Mary Somerfield, widow, to Thomas Titus Somerfield."

Walsall Free Press 27/8/1864

"Board of Guardians..... Mr. Bealey called attention to the case of a poor woman, named Haines, who had died at Bloxwich. When she died, a woman came to him, and he told her to apply to Mr. Grove for a coffin and fees. She returned and stated that the coffin would come tomorrow, but that there would be 18s to pay, as the contractor could not afford to make it for the sum allowed by the guardians. On receiving this information Mr. Bealey called at Mr. Newey's, and was told by Mrs. Newey that her husband could not afford to make the coffins at the price specified in the contract, but that her husband contracted because it brought him other work. He had also heard the minister of Bloxwich complain that some of the coffins were so loosely made that it was with difficulty the bodies could be carried in them to the grave. In one case – that of Titus Sommerfield – the coffin was so bad that it had to be carried to the grave on a handbarrow....."

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/10/1865 - Marriages

"On the 26th instant, at Cannock, by the Rev. J. C. Hughes, Mr. Thomas Titus Somerfield, of Bloxwich, to Rosa, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Henry Poyner, of Cheslyn Hay."

Thomas Somerfield was also an awl blade maker. [1868]

Titus Somerfield was also an awl blade maker. [1870]

[These were probably Thomas Titus from 1861 Census.]

Walsall Free Press 23/10/1869 - Notice

"Municipal Election, 1869.

To the Burgesses of the Foreign Ward.

Ladies & Gentlemen. The near approach of the Municipal Election reminded me that my term of office will then expire; but, having been requested by a most numerous and influential body of Ratepayers to again offer myself for re-election, I cannot do otherwise than accede to their wishes. Should I have the honour to be again elected I shall consider it both a pleasure and a duty to attend to the interests of the Foreign Ward.

I am, Ladies and Gentlemen, Your obedient Servant, Titus Somerfield.

Bloxwich, October 19th, 1869."

Walsall Free Press 19/2/1870

"The 25th instant had been fixed for the election of a Councillor in the place of the late Mr. Titus Somerfield....."

1871 Census

80, Walsall Road – SPREAD EAGLE INN

[1] Rosa Somerfield (43), widow, licensed victualler, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;

[2] John Stayley (58), brother in law, retired farmer, born Wednesfield;

[3] Eliza Stayley (46), sister, assistant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;

[4] James Somerfield (21), brewer and ostler, born Bloxwich;

[5] Elizabeth Swann (23), domestic servant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire:

Mrs. Rosa Somerfield was also an awl blade maker. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/10/1876

"On Tuesday Mr. Fletcher held an inquest at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, on the body of Mary Ann Green, aged 39, a married woman living at Pinfold, who on the evening of the 13th inst. was found dead by the wayside near Goscote Hall. She had been to see a brother at Shelfield, and had evidently fallen down and died on the way home again. The jury found that death had resulted from Heart Disease.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/6/1878

“An official paper which has just been issued gives the names of the registered trade unions, showing those which have, and those which have not, made returns according to law, and, with regard to the former, the amount of their funds on the 31st of December, 1876, their income for that year, and the number of their members.....

Rising Progress Branch (No.10) of the National Federation of Engineers’ Protection Association of Great Britain and Ireland, SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, established July 4, 1874; no return.”

1881 Census

1, High Street – SPREAD EAGLE

- [1] Rosa Somerfield (51), widow, licensed victualler, 2 servants, born Wyrley;
- [2] John Stayley (66), brother in law, visitor, retired farmer, born Prestwood;
- [3] Eliza Stayley (53), visitor, born Wyrley;
- [4] Eliza Gregory (25), general servant, domestic, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Blanche Wilson (22), visitor, born Nechells;
- [6] William Sayers (27), visitor, farmer, born Wyrley:

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1890 - Register of Sales

“Monday, June 9th. Two Freehold Beerhouses, at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, at 6.”

AND

“Monday, June 23rd. Freehold Investments, at the SPREAD EAGLE HOTEL, Bloxwich, at 6.”

1891 Census

1, High Street – SPREAD EAGLE

- [1] Rosa Somerfield (56), widow, licensed victualler, born Wyrley;
- [2] Eliza Stanley (60), widow, sister, living on her own means, born Wyrley;
- [3] Polyanna Somerfield (17), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Nellie Somerfield (12), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Matthew Somerfield = Matthew Summerfield = Mathew Somerfield

Lichfield Mercury 25/8/1899 - Advert

“Wanted General Servant.

Apply, SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 10/11/1900

“Bloxwich Bowling Club. The fifth annual dinner in connection with this club was held on Thursday night at the SPREAD EAGLE HOTEL, when about forty guests sat down to an admirable repast.....”

1901 Census

1, High Street – SPREAD EAGLE INN

- [1] Mathew J. Somerfield (38), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sarah A. Somerfield (37), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Mary J. Somerfield (15), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Matthew J. Somerfield (13), son, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Francis Somerfield (12), son, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sarah Somerfield (10), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Edward Somerfield (8), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Maud Somerfield (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Elsie Somerfield (3), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Edna Somerfield (6 weeks), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Emily M. Davis (16), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for a music license to be granted to Mr. M. J. Somerfield, of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, for Thursday evenings, stating that a Bloxwich Musical Society had been formed, with Councillor Ingram as president, and it would hold its gatherings at this house. It was intended to carry it on after the same lines as the Walsall Musical Society. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1905

“James Grice (18), 26, Castle Street, Hill Top, West Bromwich, was charged at the Guildhall on Monday with stealing a pigeon, value 1s, the property of Mathew John Somerfield, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, on the 12th inst. Prosecutor stated that on Saturday evening he had occasion to go to the stables at the back, and saw the stable door was open, and on going in he missed two pigeons. He was coming out to make inquiries, when he saw two men by the stable. He caught one, but the other (prisoner) got away. The former was charged on Monday, and the prisoner was eventually arrested at West Bromwich.

Inspector Marshall deposed to arresting prisoner at West Bromwich. He charged him, but prisoner said he knew nothing about the pigeons.

Prisoner said he went into the SPREAD EAGLE with the footballers. Evans (the other prisoner) came in with a pigeon in his pocket, and said he knew where there were some more. They both went out to the stable, but before he had seen any pigeons they were interrupted by the landlord. Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/5/1909

“Bloxwich Bowling Club. Since last season the bowling green at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, had been relaid, and although the weather during the past two months has been against its progress it is looking remarkably fine. The opening night was held on Monday, when the president (Mr. B. P. Blockley), in a felicitous speech declared the green open, and wished the club every success. There were about thirty members present, and the old punch bowl was filled as on former occasions, the health of the president being proposed by Mr. D. McAlister, captain of the club.....”

Matthew J. Somerfield – see also THATCHED HOUSE.

Walsall Advertiser 7/10/1911 - Diary of Events

“To-morrow (Sunday). 8.0. Annual Meeting Bloxwich Musical Society, SPREAD EAGLE HOTEL, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/12/1911

“About 30 members and friends were present at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, on Thursday evening, the occasion being the 16th annual dinner of the Bloxwich Bowling Club. The President (Mr. B. P. Blockley) was unable to be present, and Councillor J. William occupied the chair in his stead. Among those present were Alderman C. C. Walker, Councillors M. J. Somerfield and W. C. Ward, Messrs. D. McAlister, J. William, jun., G. Barrett, F. Ponter, W. Scarlett, T. Athersmith, A. Cope, J. Cope, H. Harrison, D. Waterfield, J. Vale, S. Taylor, W. P. Carr, J. Turner, F. Heath, H. Hedges, J. Clark, and W. H. Middleton (Hon. Secretary). A capital dinner was prepared by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Hare) and fully enjoyed. At the conclusion of the repast the toast of ‘The King’ was proposed by the Chairman and loyally honoured, Mr. Dunning taking the solo.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1914

“Walsall Bowling Club. The season of 1914 was brought to a fitting conclusion on Thursday, when the challenge cup and medals were presented at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich. Owing to the stormy weather only a small company was present.....”

Walsall Observer 16/1/1915 - Roll of Honour

“Another local soldier who has died in the service of his country is Private Harry Hayward, aged 25. He returned with the 1st South Staffords from the Transvaal in September, attended his father’s funeral, and a few days afterwards went with the regiment on active service. On New Year’s Day – his twenty-sixth birthday – a communication was received by relatives at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, stating that on December 28 he died in the 13th General Hospital, Boulogne, from pneumonia. Formerly a miner at the Cannock and Norton Colliery, he spent four years in South Africa, and under ordinary circumstances, would have completed his Army service next month.

A younger brother, Private Arthur Hayward (21), of the Border Regiment, has been so badly injured in the head by shrapnel, as to affect the muscles of his jaw. Pieces of shell have been extracted from his forehead and nose, and X-ray photographs taken at Walsall Hospital have revealed another large piece behind the jaw. Before joining the Border Regiment two years ago, he worked for the Highgate Brewery Company.”

Walsall Observer 26/1/1918

“‘Owing to the high cost of living and the shortage of food, he was living very poorly,’ it was stated respecting Charles Sargent, aged 68, a bit maker, upon whose body the Borough Coroner (Mr. J. F. Addison) held an inquest at Bloxwich yesterday. Mrs. Mary Ann Lavender said she and her husband, who was Sargent’s nephew, lived with him at 10, Barrack’s Lane, Blakenall. He had not worked for the past nine or ten weeks, as he suffered from bronchitis. He had intended resuming work, however, next week. On Tuesday she left him and her husband in the house, and when she returned from Bloxwich at 7.15 they were both out. Her husband returned alone and said he had left his uncle at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich. The old man was brought home about 10.30 by a young man and a woman, who said he had knocked at their door and asked to be allowed to ‘have a warm beside a fire.’ Witness’s husband went to bed, but when her uncle appeared to become very ill she called her husband and he went for the police. Dr. Stuart was summoned at 2am, and upon his arrival pronounced life extinct.

William Lavender, miner, told the Coroner that his uncle left the SPREAD EAGLE at 9.10pm, and witness followed at 9.30, but upon reaching home found that his uncle had not arrived. When his uncle was brought home he made him comfortable in a chair and then went to bed but had he thought he was seriously ill he would have sent for a doctor at once.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, which showed that death was due to Heart Failure, and the Coroner expressed his dissatisfaction with the manner in which the nephew gave his evidence by disallowing his expenses.”

Walsall Observer 26/10/1918 - Deaths

“On Oct. 23, at the SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich, Hannah, the beloved wife of George Wood, aged 60 years.

*Gone from us, but not forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger,
Round the spot where she is laid.
Deeply mourned by her husband.”*

Lichfield Mercury 18/5/1923

“The question of whether permission should be given for the installation of wireless sets on licensed premises was raised at a special licensing session at Walsall on Monday, when two applications were heard for music and singing licenses to be granted so that customers might be enabled to listen in.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who represented Mr. A. Medlam of the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock urged that the use of wireless would promote sobriety as there was nothing like good music to produce a lull on drinking. They would get the very best concerts distributed from Birmingham, and they could also arrange ‘arial sermons.’

Chief Constable Ballance, who opposed the applications, said he objected to public-houses being turned into music halls. It was well known that before 1890 music hall performances were permitted in public house, but the licensing justices were of opinion that the practice was not desirable one, and the consequence was it was discontinued.

After a private consultation, the justices granted both applications – the second being in respect of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich – but said they were doing this simply as an experiment, and their decision must not be looked upon as a precedent in case other license holders thought to applying for a similar concession. They restricted the hours for the use of wireless. These would be from 7 to 10pm on weekdays, and from 8 to 9.45pm on Sunday evenings.”

John Henry Brotherton – see also DOLPHIN and WHITE SWAN.

Thomas Beecham Broome – see also BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF.

1939 Register

1, High Street

[1] Edward C. Coley, date of birth 3/4/1874, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Charlotte Coley, dob 18/12/1879, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Edward Charles Coley – see also ALMA and BRIDLECUTTERS ARMS.

Thomas Charles Henry Lander – see also VILLAGE.

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions. SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich.”

William Thomas Walton – see also BRADFORD ARMS.

Harry Dobson – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR, GREEN MAN, and COTTAGE.

SPREAD EAGLE

Long Acre, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

George Thornhill

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 1/7/1854 - Advert

“That Capital Old-Licensed Public House, The SPREAD EAGLE, Long Acre, Walsall.

Allin and Flanagan have received instructions from the proprietor, Mr. George Thornhill, who is leaving the town, to Dispose Of by Private Treaty, the Licenses, Goodwill, Stock-in-Trade, a portion of the Household Furniture, and immediate Possession of the above Old-established and well-accustomed House, now doing a good ready-money and out-door business.

The Premises, which are very commodious, comprise three Bed Rooms, excellent Club Room, Malt Room, Bar, Parlour, and Tap Room, Back Kitchen, Stable, Piggery, large Yard, and Skittle Alley.

Coming-in about £100.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to the Auctioneers, Walsall and Wednesbury.”

SPREAD EAGLE

2, Wolverhampton Street, (2, Wolverhampton Lane), (Park Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Josiah Briscoe, Blue Lane, Walsall

LICENSEES

Joseph Whitehouse Jnr.* [1818] – [1822]

Joseph Whitehouse* [1828] – 1835;

Mrs. Mary Whitehouse (1835 – [1845]

Bartholomew Hodson [1849] – 1856)

Robert Barton [pre 1857]

William Martin [1858] – [1872]

Samuel Martin [1860] ?

Henry Styche [1872] – [1873];

William Clenton [1875] – [1876]:

NOTES

Park Street [1822], [1830], [1835], [1841], [1842], [1849], [1850], [1851], [1858]

2, Wolverhampton Street [1862], [1868], [1872], [1873]

2, Wolverhampton Lane [1871]

It had a beerhouse license.

* possibly the same person

Joseph Whitehouse Jnr was also a maltster. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1826 - Advert

“On Monday the 4th of December, 1826, a Grand Procession, to consist of the following united Lodges of Walsall, will take place to St. Matthew's Church, in aid of the Fund for re-building and enlarging the Blue Coat and National School, viz. The Odd Fellows from the BULLS HEAD; Odd Fellows from the ROYAL OAK; Loyal Britons from the TURKS HEAD; the Grand Lodges of Queerfellows from the WATERING TROUGH; Loyal and Benevolent Fellows from the WATERLOO TAVERN; and Loyal Union Friendly Fellows from the SPREAD EAGLE; when the company of any visiting Brother belonging to any of the above Lodges, with their Friends will be esteemed. The Sermon by the Rev. Luke Booker, LLD and FRSL, Vicar of Dudley. In the course of the service, several pieces of Select Music from the works of Handel and Kent, will be performed by the Walsall Choir, with Assistants from Lichfield Cathedral. The Organ by Mr. Eyland. Divine Service will commence at eleven o'clock.

By direction of the Delegates of the above Orders.

Addison Richards, Secretary. Walsall, Nov 22, 1826.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/8/1831 - Died

“On the 29th ult, aged 21, Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

“The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion.....

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.
Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.
Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.
Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.
Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.
Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.
Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.
Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.
True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/2/1833 - Died

“On the 1st instant, aged 5 years, Mary Ann, youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/9/1835 - Died

“On Wednesday last, Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/6/1836

“An information was brought by the police against Mrs. Whitehouse, SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, for having her house open at improper hours, she was fined £2.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/5/1837 - Married

“On the 25th instant, at Walsall, by the Rev. John Meridyth, M.A., Mr. E. Bentley, grocer of High Street, to Ellen, only daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street.”

1841 Census

Park Street

- [1] Mary Whitehouse (50), victualler;
- [2] James Whitehouse (55), maltster;
- [3] Joseph Whitehouse (25), maltster;
- [4] James Whitehouse (15), saddler ____?:

1851 Census

Park Street

- [1] Bartholomew Hodson (34), victualler, born Longdon, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Hodson (30), wife, born Hampdon, Warwickshire;
- [3] Mary Hodson (8), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Hodson (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Hodson (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Harriet Hodson (1 month), born Walsall;
- [7] Luke Lawrence (25), visitor, locksmith, born Hampton, Somersetshire;
- [8] Prudence Lawton (15), servant, born Walsall;
- [9] Ann Roberts (12), servant, born Walsall;
- [10] Samuel Wilcox (19), lodger, bitt maker, born Walsall;
- [11] Thomas Bradbury (19), lodger, bitt maker, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/12/1851

“County Court, Friday. (Before Mr. Sergeant Clarke). Hodson v. Doleman.

Mr. S. Wilkinson supported and Mr. Simpson, of Lichfield defended. This was what is called a horse case, in which the defendant sued for the value of a horse. The case in itself exhibited some extraordinary features in consequence of the great contrariety of the evidence adduced by the defendant to disown liability. The case was tried by a jury.

The plaintiff is Mr. Bartholomew Hodson, omnibus proprietor and landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, the defendant being Joseph Doleman, a small farmer, residing at a place called Fradley, near Lichfield. Early in December a son of the defendant informed him that his father had a little mare to part with, which was too light for his work, but would do well as a leader in his omnibus, as it would trot thirteen or fourteen miles an hour. Plaintiff said he would like to see it. About the 11th of September another son of the defendant brought the mare to plaintiff’s house, and he drove a short distance, and said he liked it very well. He then proposed to exchange one of his for the one brought by the defendant’s son. Plaintiff said he wanted £8 for it – he had been offered £7 the day previous, but had refused to take it. He was going to part with it as it was too slow for omnibus work. Young Doleman then said that his father had seen it several times, and if he would exchange level handed it would be a bargain. Plaintiff then remarked that the mare had a running at the nose, which Doleman said was only a cold which the mare had caught going into the water, when hot, to draw rushes, and it was a kicker; for anything else he could recommend it to his own brother. On the following day plaintiff, not being satisfied with the running at the mare’s nose, called in a horse dealer named Hayes to look at her, who pronounced her to be affected with that dreadful, dangerous, and incurable disease, the glanders. Not being then altogether satisfied he took the mare to Mr. James Robinson, a veterinary surgeon of Willenhall, who pronounced it to be one of the worst cases he had ever seen. Plaintiff went over to Fradley, to defendant's who denied he had sent the mare to be sold, as he said it was his son's, who resided at Lichfield. He asked to see the mare if that was his (plaintiff's). Defendant said she was not there; she was out at work and should not return till night, upon which Hodson made towards a stable, and there saw her eating hay; he then told defendant to keep her safe, as the one he had exchanged with was diseased. He replied that the mare did not belong to him, but was his son's. The plaintiff, in a day or two afterwards took the horse to Studley, and turned her upon the elder Doleman's premises and left her. The following day she was returned to him, but he refused to keep her, and the man who brought her turned her upon the same ground, which he thought was plaintiff's, but which proved not to be his; the horse was afterwards taken to the pound by order of P. Potter, Esq, steward to Lord Bradford, and subsequently shot. Mr. Simpson for the defence, called several witnesses to prove that the mare was not defendant's, but belonged to a son of his. His Honour summed up, and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff damages £5."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/5/1852

"Bartholomew Hodson, of the SPREAD EAGLE, was fined 10s and costs, for having had his house open at half-past twelve on Sunday night."

Birmingham Journal 17/6/1854 - Advert

"To Coach Proprietors And Carriers.

To be Sold, at Mr. Hodson's the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Park Street, Walsall, a Pair-horse Omnibus, nearly new, constructed to carry twenty passengers, eleven inside and nine out, with Harness complete."

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/7/1854

"On Monday last, the members of Peel's Loyal Order of Odd Fellows held their anniversary at Host Hodson's, SPREAD EAGLE INN, Park Street, when the members present received 10s each, after leaving a large sum in the bank."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/3/1856 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that Old-licensed Public House, the SPREAD EAGLE, situated in Park Street, fronting the road leading from Walsall to Wolverhampton, and near the Railway Station. The House contains large tap-room, bar, parlour, club-room, six sleeping-rooms, extensive cellaring, brewhouse, and stabling.

Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation. The Proprietor having other engagements is the sole cause of his leaving.

For particulars apply to John Osbourn, Auctioneer, &c, Dudley Street, Walsall."

London Gazette 31/3/1857

"Whereas a Petition of Bartholomew Hodson, at present and since the 18th August, 1856, living in lodgings in Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, at the same time renting Stabling in Marsh-lane, Walsall aforesaid, and during the whole period carrying on business as a Carrier, previously thereto and since the month of March, 1856, of Park-street, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer and Provision Dealer, and during a portion of the time as last aforesaid, employed as Labourer, and afterwards and up to the said 18th day of August as aforesaid, a Common Carrier, having Stabling in Marsh-lane, Walsall, as aforesaid, and previously to the month of March aforesaid, and since the year 1853, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park-street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and Retail Brewer, and Common Carrier, and Haulier, at the same time renting a Shop adjoining, in Park-street, Walsall aforesaid, carrying on business there as a Grocer and Provision Dealer, and letting lodgings, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Bartholomew Hodson, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Bartholomew Hodson is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 16th day of April next, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Bartholomew Hodson, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Clerk of the said Court, at his office, in Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent."

Walsall Free Press 25/7/1857 - Advert

"SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, Walsall.

To be Let, and immediate possession may be had, that convenient old-established Old-Licensed Public House, well situated at the top of Park Street, Walsall, and doing a fair trade. The House consists of a Front and Back Kitchen, Bar, Large Parlour, Club Room, six Bed Rooms, two Stables, Coach-house, excellent Cellarage, &c, &c.

The Fixtures and Brewing Vessels to be taken to at a fair valuation. The Household Furniture may be also had if required. It is disposed of in consequence if the present Proprietor having other engagements.

Apply on the Premises; or to R. L. Courtney, Auctioneer, &c, High Street, West Bromwich."

London Gazette 1/9/1857

"Robert Barton, formerly of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh-lane, Walsall, Staffordshire, Innkeeper, then of Marsh-lane aforesaid, out of business, then of Lichfield-street, in the parish of Rushall, Staffordshire, Dealer in Tobacco and Fruiterer, then of Little London, Walsall aforesaid, Draper's Assistant, then of Westbromwich, Staffordshire, Draper's Assistant, then of Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer and Provision Dealer, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer, Provision Dealer, and Omnibus Proprietor, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, out of business, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer and Provision Dealer, Hay and Straw Dealer, Cow-keeper and Milk Seller, then of Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer, Provision Dealer, Corn Factor, Hay and Straw Dealer, Cow Keeper, and Milk Seller, then of the SPREAD EAGLE, Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Innkeeper and Marine Store Dealer, and late in lodgings at No.113, in Blue-lane Walsall aforesaid, out of business.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/4/1858

“On Wednesday last, at the Police Court, William Martin, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE beerhouse, Park Street, was charged with refusing to admit Police-constable Child into his house, about eleven o’clock on the night of the 13th.

The officer deposed that having been informed that a row had been made in the street by some woman of the town coming from the SPREAD EAGLE, he went down and heard music and dancing going on inside the house. He demanded admission, but the door was kept shut.

Mr. Martin’s defence was that shortly before the officer arrived, three men had got into the house by representing themselves as policemen, and he was afraid Child was one of the same party.

A fine of 12s and costs was imposed.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions..... The following parties were then called over, and as they came for their licenses, were duly cautioned individually.....

William Martin, of the SPREAD EAGLE, Park Street, who on the 21st of April last had been fined 20s and costs for refusing to admit the police after repeated applications.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/5/1865

“William Hughes was charged with having stolen a drinking glass, valued 3½d, the property of William Martin, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Wolverhampton Lane. It appeared that the prisoner went into prosecutor’s house and called for a glass of porter. After drinking the liquor, the prisoner put the glass in his pocket, where it was afterwards found by the police. The prisoner, who said, ‘it was the drink that did it,’ was sentenced to one days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“Walsall. Annual Licensing Day.

The following parties had their licences refused.....

William Martin, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE, Wolverhampton Lane, were refused their licenses in consequence of having brothels in the houses adjoining their premises.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications.....

Mr. Duignan, of the firm of Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis, applied, on behalf of Mr. William Martin, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE public-house, whose license was refused because some houses behind his premises were sub-let by him to parties who used them for the purpose of prostitution.

Mr. Duignan said he thought there was some misapprehension in this case, and that there were certain circumstances which had arisen since the Bench had the case before them which he thought would induce the Bench to reconsider their decision.

Mr. Martin had been a licensed victualler 40 years, and for 30 years had been the landlord of the house he now occupied, and, during all that time there had only been one charge against Mr. Martin, and that was the trivial one of not admitting the police as soon as he ought; but, unfortunately for Mr. Martin, his house is situated in a very low locality, and at the back of his house are some small houses which belong to the landlord of Mr. Martin’s house, and some time ago, complaint having been made about the house in question being kept for the purpose of prostitution, the landlord entered into an arrangement with Mr. Martin, who took the houses, ejected the occupants, and sub-let them to other tenants. Unfortunately, the houses in the course of time began to assume something of their former disorderly character; but since the decision of the Bench a fortnight ago, Mr. Martin had given the occupants of those houses notice, and they had left, and the houses are now shut up.

The Bench, after a short consultation, granted the application.”

1871 Census

2, Wolverhampton Lane

[1] William Martin (64), publican, born Tipton;

[2] Hosannah Martin (67), wife, born Oldbury;

[3] Eliza Fereday (11), daughter, born Great Bridge;

[4] William Ravencroft (20), labourer, born Oldbury:

Midland Examiner 24/10/1874

“Thomas Binnall, Darlaston, who had gone to the SPREAD EAGLE public-house, Wolverhampton Lane, and stolen a drinking glass, value 6d, was sentenced to one days’ imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of William Clenton, SPREAD EAGLE were adjourned.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/3/1876

“William Clenton, the landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned for being disorderly and refusing to quit the TURKS HEAD, in Digbeth.

The landlady of the latter house said defendant wanted to have some drink after half-past ten (their usual closing time) and it was refused him. He then became violent and would not leave the house for some time.

Defendant was fined 10s and costs.”

Birmingham Gazette 20/3/1877

“The Artisan’s Dwelling Act In Walsall. An inquiry directed by the Local Government Board was re-opened yesterday morning, by Lieut.-Col. Ponsonby Cox, at the Guildhall.....

[This inquiry was to investigate the compulsory purchase of an area of existing buildings, between Stafford Street and Wolverhampton Street, demolish them and to erect new dwellings.]

There were 100 houses, full-licensed house 5, beerhouses 2, privies and ashpits 50 – of these 17 are under dwelling houses, workshops, or passages leading to them. The other buildings are 6 houses and shops combined, 16 workshops, 1 office, 1 pawnshop, 3 stores, 10 void houses, 1 bakehouse, 5 sheds, 5 stables, 1 butcher’s shop, 1 confectioner’s shop, 1 school, 2 pigsties. The streets in the area were narrow and irregular; the houses had no back doors situate in and out of courts; courts open at one end only, and some of them being only three feet across, hence the impossibility of providing proper privy accommodation.....

Henry [sic] Clenton, landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, in reply to Mr. Williams, said that his house was in a good state of repair, and so were the labourers’ cottages which were behind his house. His rent was £40 a year, and his takings in good weeks from £25 to £30 a week. In reply to Mr. Gillespie, witness said that the labourers’ houses he referred to fronted to a stable – about six feet from them – and were built up to a slaughter-house.”

Closed

The house was taken down. [1870s]

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1882

“Walsall Town Council.

Report of the General Purposes Committee.....

On the motion of Alderman Brewer, seconded by Councillor Kirkpatrick, it was further resolved, on the recommendation of the same committee, ‘That the Council allow the licenses of the five alehouses, viz, the ODD FELLOWS ARMS, the ROYAL GEORGE, the SPREAD EAGLE, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, and the WATERLOO TAVERN, and the beerhouse, the BOAT INN, purchased for the purposes of the Artisans’ Dwelling Scheme, to lapse, it being considered that there is in the neighbourhood an ample number of licensed houses to meet the requirements of the district.’ This was unanimously agreed to.”

SPRING COTTAGE

60, (61), Elmore Green Road, (Elmore Row), Sandbank, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Mrs. Elizabeth Brookes, widow, Elmore Green, Bloxwich

William Roberts Brewery Ltd., Brownhills [1901]

Eleys Stafford Brewery Ltd. (acquired on 31st January 1936)

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1966)

LICENSEES

William Brooks [1859] – [1870]

Michael McCannan [1872] – [1881];

William Coburn [];

Patrick Hough [] – 1888);

William Wooldridge (1888 – 1889);

Thomas Humphries (1889 – 1891);

Richard S Brookes (1891);

Henry Meller (1891 – 1897);

John Penton (1897 – 1898);

William Henry Haycock (1898 – 1900);
John Chapman (1900 – 1910); manager
John Frederick Bowen (1910 – 1936);
Benjamin A C I Haycock (1936 – 1958);
Dora Haycock (1958 – 1963);
Ernest Jones (1963 – [1966])

NOTES

61, Elmore Green Road [1891]
Elmore Row [1896]
60, Elmore Green Road [1901], [1939]

It had a beerhouse license.

William Brooks = William Brookes

Walsall Free Press 3/12/1859

“On the evening of Saturday week, about half-past ten o’clock, the daughter of Mr. Brookes of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Bloxwich, discovered a man in the cellar, concealed between two barrels, who on being disturbed made his escape without being recognised.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.
William Brookes, Bloxwich. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 31/8/1861

“The business of the general licensing day then commenced. There were seventeen applications.
Mr. William Brookes’s application was supported by Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, jun. The house is situated in the north-west part of Bloxwich, and (Mr. Wilkinson asserted) in a quarter as ill-supplied with accommodation of this kind as any part of the municipal borough. Mr. Wilkinson handed a testimonial to the Bench to the good character of the applicant. The Bench had a good opinion of Mr. Brookes’s character but felt bound to refuse the license.”

Walsall Free Press 7/9/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Day. Mr. Mathews had a re-application to make on behalf of Mr. Brookes of SPRING COTTAGE. The Bench declined hearing Mr. Mathews, as it did not mean to change its determination. Application refused.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869 - Deaths

“On the 23rd ult, aged 18 years, Harman Alfred, youngest son of the late William Brooks, of SPRING COTTAGE, Bloxwich.”

William Brookes, retailer of beer, Bloxwich. [1862]

Michael McCannan = Michael Canaan = Michael McCannan

1881 Census

60, Elmore Green Road – SPRING COTTAGE
[1] Michael McCannan (57), widower, miner, born Shropshire;
[2] Mary McCannan (18), daughter, born Yorkshire;
[3] James McCannan (16), son, coal miner, born Yorkshire;
[4] John McCannan (14), son, coal miner, born Yorkshire;
[5] Michael McCannan (5), son, scholar, born Staffordshire;
[6] Harriett Hough (25), daughter, born Staffordshire;
[7] Patrick Hough (25), son in law, brickmaker, born Staffordshire;
[8] Francis Hough (2), grandson, born Staffordshire;
[9] John Woldrige (25), brother in law, coal miner, born Staffordshire;
[10] Alice Coarse (16), visitor, pianist, born Shropshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/10/1882 - Advert

“To Let, all that Old-Licensed House, known as the SPRING COTTAGE INN, situate at Elmore Green, Bloxwich, on the junction of five roads; with vaults attached. Eight years’ lease unexpired. In-coming low.
Apply to John Hayward, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/12/1882

“Annadine Smith, no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a shawl, of the value 3s, the property of Sarah Barrymore, Bloxwich. On Tuesday afternoon, whilst at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, the prosecutrix had a fit and when she came to herself she discovered that the prisoner and her shawl had disappeared too. A search was made, and the police discovered that the prisoner had pledged the shawl. She was sentenced to one months’ imprisonment with hard labour, and she left the court threatening the prosecutrix.”

Lichfield Mercury 13/5/1887

“Walter Salt, Elmore Row, was charged with assaulting James Taylor, of 42, Revival Street, Bloxwich, on the 19th inst. The case had been before the Court a number of times, complainant having been so much injured that he was unable to attend until this Court.

Complainant now deposed that he was at the SPRING COTTAGE INN on the night in question and was not sober. When he went out a dispute arose between him and the prisoner’s brother, and they were going to fight, but the prisoner interfered. He and the prisoner then fought, and after the first round he wanted to give up but prisoner wanted to fight again and they did so. Prisoner struck him under the ear and rendered him insensible.

Other evidence was given which showed that prisoner was a quiet and respectable man and that there was a fair fight between the men, and eventually the Bench dismissed the case, but recommended prisoner to pay the expenses to which the complainant had been put.”

1891 Census

61, Elmore Green Road – SPRING COTTAGE INN

[1] Thomas Humphries (34), builder and licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Eliza Humphries (32), wife, born Wyrley;

[3] Thomas Humphries (13), son, scholar, born Cannock;

[4] John Humphries (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Alfred Humphries (9), son, scholar, born Blakenhall;

[6] Rose M. Humphries (4), daughter, scholar, born Blakenhall;

[7] Joseph Humphries (2), son, born Blakenhall:

Henry Meller = Henry Mellor = Henry Miller

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1892 - Letter

“Sir. I hear that the Bloxwich Victoria Band are to be entertained at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Bloxwich, on Monday night, at 6.30, when I hope that the lovers of music will obtain their tickets, and shew their appreciation of the services they have given in the park during the summer months, and no doubt will do justice to the good things that will be provided by Host Henry Mellor. Your, J. G.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/12/1892

“Henry Miller, landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Bloxwich, applied for a music and singing license for the 24th and 26th inst. He stated that there was no special occasion beyond the Christmas holidays. The magistrates refused the application.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1893 - Advert

“By Order of the Representatives of the late Mr. William Brookes.

To Brewers, Publicans and Property Investors.

Walter Hughes is instructed to Sell by Auction, at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Bloxwich, on Monday, 29th day of May, 1893, at Six for Seven in the evening.....

Lot 3. All that well-known fully-licensed Freehold Public House, situate at Bloxwich within easy distance of the railway station and Bloxwich Park, and known by the sign of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, now in the occupation of Henry Mellor as a yearly tenant, at the low old-fashioned rental of £35 a year; also the cottage adjoining, occupied by Richard Davis as a weekly tenant at a rental amounting to £7 7s 4d a year, making a total rental of £42 2s 4d a year. The public-house contains five bedrooms, two living rooms, taproom, parlour, smokeroom, and very large vaults; and also cellars, scullery, brewhouse, and outbuildings. The house has gas laid on, and is supplied by the South Staffordshire Company’s water. It has always done an excellent trade, it is situate in an improving neighbourhood, and is one of the oldest established and most noted calling houses in Bloxwich.

The lot has a frontage of about 100 feet, and contains an area of 880 square yards.

Possession of the public house may be had on 29th September, next.

To Brewers the sale affords a really good chance of acquiring a Freehold Public House, doing remunerative trade; or to a Publican wanting a Home Brewing House, this lot is a desirable investment.....”

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

“Mr. Henry Mellor, landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE INN Elmore Green, Bloxwich, complains that injustice has been done to him by the inference that he was the person of that name and description that was bound over at the Police Court on Wednesday of last week for fighting in Bridge Street. The defendant was Mr. Mellor’s son, a fact which was apparent seeing that we gave his age as 16; but as neither of our contemporaries mentioned this discriminating clue to his identity, we think it only fair to Mr. Mellor that we should remove the wrong impression thus created.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/9/1897 - Register of Sales

“Monday, October 4. By Messrs. Watkins, Powell, and Wood; Brewing Plant, Horses, &c, at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Elmore Green, at 2.”

John Chapman was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

60, Elmore Green Road

- [1] John Chapman (32), public house manager, born Brownhills;
- [2] Rachel Chapman (30), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] John E. Chapman (1), son, born Brownhills;
- [4] Mary M. Chapman (10 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Florrie Mason (20), servant, born Tweedlincote, Derbyshire:

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

“The Streets Committee.....

The following plans have been disapproved.....

William Roberts, one house and the rebuilding of the SPRING COTTAGE INN Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Bloxwich. Mr. Plumtree (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson) formally applied for the renewal of the license to this house, owned by Mr. W. Roberts, to which the Chief Constable had given notice of objection, on the ground that the house was not required by the needs of the public, and that it was structurally not fitted for a public house.

Inspector Marshall was put into the box, and he said the population of the district was about 13,000, and there were 39 public houses. The THATCHED COTTAGE was only 110 yards from the SPRING COTTAGE; the SANDBANK TAVERN was 130 yards away; the BLUE PIG 281 yards; and the GEORGE INN 340 yards. There were some colliery workings close to the house, but there would be no inconvenience if the license was refused. It was a very old house, and had been fairly well conducted.

The Chief Constable withdrew his objection as to the house not being structurally adapted.

The license was renewed.....

Mr. Plumtree applied on behalf of John Chapman, manager, and William Roberts, the owner of the SPRING COTTAGE, Bloxwich, for the provisional grant of a license of new premises proposed to be erected, or in the alternative for the removal of the license to new premises to be erected partly on the same site and partly on a new site. Mr. Plumtree said the existing frontage was 64ft, of which 54ft were built upon, and the building projected at one end 10ft 9in, and at the other 9ft 6in. The building was a straggling one, and they had heard from the Chief Constable that he did not approve of it in its present position. The present application was for leave to improve the building. They would have a licensed area decreased, and a building such as would suit the wishes of the Borough Surveyor. The present licensed area was 651 square yards, where as the new premises would only be only 426 square yards. There would be a decrease in the licensed area of 225 square yards. This was not an alteration to afford greater drinking facilities, but to improve the external appearance of the house and the internal accommodation. That was a matter which he thought would meet with approval of the Bench. There were 108 square yards of drinking accommodation, and this would be reduced to 76, whilst the frontage built upon would be 31ft against 54ft. They proposed to set the projecting part back to the general line of building at the request of the Borough Surveyor.

Mr. J. Rowley, builder and surveyor, produced the plans of the proposed new house. In reply to the Chief Constable he said the new vaults would not be bigger than the old, and the drinking area would be reduced. He could not tell how much it would enhance the value of the house if the new plans were passed.

Chief Constable: Then Mr. Roberts will do himself an injury if he condenses the room? – He does not want the room, he wants the company (laughter).

Mr. Alfred Stanley, who opposed on behalf of the temperance party, submitted that the Bench sanctioned the alteration of the SANDBANK TAVERN a year ago, and that would last 21 years.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople's Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Bloxwich. 10s 11d.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

It was rebuilt.

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1911

“A smoking concert was held at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Monday, for the benefit of Mr. H. Challoner, who met with an accident some time ago at the Holybank Colliery, which injured his spine and incapacitated him for life. Nearly seven hundred tickets were sold and it is expected that the proceeds will fall not far short of £20. There was a large attendance, over which Mr. Sharratt, under-manager at Hollybank Colliery, presided, and an enjoyable musical programme was contributed by Messrs. W. Scarlett, H. Groves, S. Hinks, A. Arnold, Matt. Brown, Cooper, A. Harding, Jordan, and Jones' Mandolin Band."

1911 Census

Elmore Green Road – SPRING COTTAGE INN

- [1] John Frederick Bowen (44), licensed victualler, born Battlesea [Battersea?], Middlesex;
- [2] Ethel Luisa Bowen (33), wife, married 5 years, housewife, born Battlesea, Middlesex;
- [3] Samuel Bowen (3), son, born Brownhills;
- [4] John Bowen (1), son, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1912 - In Memoriam

"In ever loving memory, of our dear brother, Richard Selvey Brookes, son of the late William Brookes, SPRING COTTAGE, Bloxwich, who passed away June 14th, 1911. R.I.P.
'Sunnyside'."

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1914

"Under the auspices of the Pelsall District Miners' Association, an organisation meeting was held at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Monday night, Mr. W. Smith occupying the chair. There was a good attendance....."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1925

"John Frederick Bowen, licensee of the SPRING COTTAGE, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich was summoned for making certain alterations in the bar and outdoor departments without the consent of the justices.

Chief Inspector Cooke stated that the landlady told him that the alterations had been made on purpose to serve children under 14 years of age, and allow adults to drink in the outdoor department.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who defended, pleaded ignorance, and said defendant had no idea that a plan would be required for alterations, which were small."

Alterations were made in 1928.

1939 Register

60, Elmore Green Road (3 of 4)

- [1] Benjamin A. C. I. Haycock, date of birth 21/9/1897, publican, married;
- [2] Dora Haycock, dob 14/1/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Arthur R. Haycock, dob 17/3/1926, at school, single;

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich. £1 5s 0d."

The building was extended in 1948, by taking in 60a, Elmore Green Road.

[2017]

SPRING COTTAGE

Green Lane, Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Westley [1841] – [1851]

NOTES

London Gazette 25/5/1841

“William Westley, late of Birchills, Walsall, Staffordshire, Victualler and Stirrup Maker. In the Gaol of Stafford.”

William Westley was also a stirrup maker. [1845]

1851 Census

Green Lane

[1] William Westley (68), victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Phoebe Westley (60), wife, born Chillington, Staffordshire;

[3] Mary Deneley (17), general servant, born Bath:

SPRING COTTAGE

45, Holtshill Lane / Charlotte Street, (Paddock Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Samuel White

Samuel Cox, Holtshill Lane, Walsall

William Blencowe and Co. Ltd.

Lord Catherton, Penkridge

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1899]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Richard Hayes [1831] – [1834]

William Medlicott [1850] – 1865);

Thomas Medlicott [1860] ?

Thomas Henry Bates (1865 – [1866]

Edward Johns [1868] – [1873];

Samuel White [1881] – 1889);

George James Byrne (1889 – 1891);

John Colling Cook (1891 – 189_);

Percy Claridge (189_ – 189_);

Alfred Medlam (189_ – 1893);

William Messenger (1893 – 1897);

John Alfred Delaney (1897 – 1899);

Charles William Gore (1899);

Sarah Jane Gore (1899 – 1901);

Edgar Biddulph (1901 – 1912);

Alfred ‘Alf’ Medlam (1912 – 1934);

Ada Medlam (1934 – 1936);

Robert Whittaker Brown (1936 – 1953);

Arthur Ernest Walton (1953 – 1965);

Arthur Albert West (1965 – 1966);

Kenneth John Gunter (1966 – 1967);

Bryan Sydney Collins (1967 – []

Shangara Singh Shiggs [2007]

NOTES

Paddock Lane [1851], [1858]

Paddock, Holts Hill Lane [1864], [1865]

45, Holts Hill Lane [1871], [1932], [1939]

COTTAGE [1899]

SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL [1911], [1912], [1918]

It had a beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/5/1831 - Advert

“SPRING COTTAGE Public House and Tea-Gardens, near Walsall.

To Gardeners, Seedsmen, Publicans, and Others.

To be Sold, the Licenses and immediate Possession (if required) of the above Public House, occupied by Mr. Hayes, Gardener and Seedsmen, with the very productive Garden containing about one acre, in the highest state of cultivation, abounding with various sorts of choice Fruit, Vegetables, and Flowers, for which there is a regular demand, also for Seeds, without the trouble of attending market.

The very extensive, unobstructed view of the surrounding country for many miles in every direction is remarkably beautiful, and induced numbers of persons to frequent this much admired spot.

N.B. A Gardener thoroughly understanding his profession would no doubt meet with great encouragement; in fact, the vast alterations and daily improvements now being made in this neighbourhood ensure constant employment, independent of having a considerable share of the public business. Rent only £15 per annum.

The effects to be taken to at a fair valuation, and to treat apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Land Agent, or Mr. Hayes, of Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/1/1849

“The annual tea party, concert, and ball, was held at SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, on Tuesday the 26th ult, and notwithstanding the unfavourable weather was numerously attended; tea was served at six o'clock in an admirable style, and was followed by a concert, a programme of which had been prepared with great care, and embraced several of the most favourite glees, scenas, sentimental and comic songs, &c. of the day. The services of a party of well-known vocalists of the town had been secured for the occasion, who performed the various pieces allotted them in an excellent manner. Dancing was kept up till a late hour, when the party retired highly pleased with the evening's amusements. The room was handsomely decorated for the occasion with ever-green, &c, and no expense was spared by the worthy host to add to the convenience and entertainment of his visitors.”

William Medlicott = William Meddicott

1851 Census

Holts Hill Lane

- [1] William Medlicott (57), publican, born Kinver, Staffordshire;
- [2] Jane Medlicott (64), wife, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Caroline Heirs (31), daughter, married, at home, born Broom, Staffordshire;
- [4] Jane Medlicott (28), daughter, at home, born Broom, Staffordshire;
- [5] Mary Medlicott (22), daughter, at home, born Northfield, Worcestershire;
- [6] Sarah Beech Medlicott (20), daughter, at home, born Birmingham;
- [7] Charles Heirs (4 months), grandson, born Birmingham:

Sarah Beech Medlicott married Edward Johns on 24th November 1851.

Jane Medlicott married Edward Pynor in the 4th quarter of 1853.

See BROWN LION, Pleck.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/12/1859

“To be shot for, at Wm. Medlicott's, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, Walsall, on Wednesday, Dec 28th, a fat pig, about 25 score, 25 members, at 10s each, 5 sparrows each. To commence at one o'clock.”

Walsall Free Press 26/10/1861 - Advert

“Money! Money!! Money!!!

SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock, Walsall.

No.1 Permanent Money Society Will be Commenced on Monday Evening Next, October, 28, for sums up to £20.

Payments per week, £5, 1s 3d; for £10, 2s 3d; for £20, 4s 3d.

Members may join it at any time without the payment of premium or arrears, and be eligible to purchase on the night of entry.

No fines or interest to pay. Profits divided each quarter.

The above is an easy way of obtaining advances of money, and also a safe and profitable investment.

Copies of the Rules may be had of the Host.”

Birmingham Journal 8/2/1862 - Died

“On the 2nd inst, after a long illness, Jane, the beloved wife of Mr. William Medlicott, of SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock, Walsall, and mother of Mrs. W. T. Hairs, of this town; deeply regretted.”

Walsall Free Press 18/10/1862 - Advert

“Permanent Money Society, SPRING COTTAGE INN Paddock.

The above Society is Selling Shares almost every Club Night. Dividend last quarter 6s 4d, on each £5 share. Meetings every Monday night from Eight to half-past Nine.

Subscriptions: £5, 1s 3d; for £10, 2s 3d; for £20, 4s 3d.”

Walsall Free Press 25/4/1863 - Advert

“The New Bowling Green will be Opened to Subscribers and the Public on Monday, May 4th, at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock. Gentlemen wishing to subscribe may obtain information from the landlord.”

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1863 - Advert

“Tea And Pleasure Gardens, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock.
These spacious and pleasantly situated Gardens Are Now Open to the public.
These Gardens have been Enlarged and a spacious Green has been laid down, which is in beautiful condition and suited for Dancing, additional Harbours have been erected, and the proprietor solicits the patronage of the public.
An Efficient Quadrille Band is Engaged for the Season.
Spirits Of First-rate Quality.
Fine Home Brewed Ale.
Porter, Bottled And On Draught.
Admittance by Check 3d each, which will be received in Refreshments.
Gentlemen desirous of Subscribing to the Bowling Green will oblige by leaving their cards at the House.”

Walsall Free Press 23/1/1864

“No.1 Permanent Money Society. On Tuesday last the members of this society held their annual dinner at the house of Mr. Medlicott, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock. Nearly 100 members sat down to the excellent dinner provided by the worthy host, and due justice having been done to the ‘spread,’ the company spent the evening with toast and song in a very agreeable manner, the proceeding being kept up with much spirit till a late hour, when the company separated. We understand the affairs of this society are in a most flourishing condition.”

Walsall Free Press 8/4/1865

“At the county court, on Monday last, Mr. Holden, a hame forger, was summoned for non-payment of £5, for which he had become bound to the No.1 Permanent Money Society, held at the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock. His Honour, after hearing the evidence, which showed that the defendant had become bound for a member who had borrowed the money claimed and had failed to repay it, made an order for the amount and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/9/1865

“On Monday afternoon a gala was held in the SPRING COTTAGE Gardens, Paddock, in and of the Widows and Orphans’ Fund of the Wolverhampton Order of Odd Fellows. The amusement consisted of singing by Messrs. G. Fletcher, Snow, and Hawkins, juggling, and illustrations of rope-tying, by Professor Sheperdo, and a display of fireworks, by Mr. Wilkes, of Birmingham. Dancing was also indulged in to the strains of the Bloxwich Rifle Corps Band.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865 - Advert

“No.1, Permanent Money Society, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, is held at the above House every Monday Night from Eight till half-past Nine.
A Sale Every Night.
Subscription for £5, 1s 3d; £10, 2s 3d; £20, 4s 3d.
Thomas Henry Bates, Treasurer.”

Walsall Free Press 30/6/1866 - Advert

“SPRING COTTAGE Gardens, Paddock, Walsall.
The Public are respectfully informed that these beautiful Grounds Are Now Opened for the Season, which have been Enlarged, and the Spacious Green is in excellent condition for Dancing, and will accommodate a 1,000 people.
On Whit-Monday and Tuesday, the above Grounds will be Opened at Three o’clock.
A first-rate Brass Band will be in attendance, and will perform a selection of the most popular music of the day.
Admission 3d Returned in Refreshments.
Fine Wines, Spirits and Cigars.
T. H. Bates Proprietor.”

Walsall Free Press 1/2/1868

“Edward Johns, landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, pleaded guilty to having, on Sunday afternoon last, had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours, and was fined 5s and costs.”

1871 Census

45, Holts Hill Lane

- [1] Edward Johns (39), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Johns (38), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Frank Johns (13), son, iron worker, born Walsall;

- [4] Mary Johns (11), daughter born Walsall;
[5] Walter Johns (10), son, born Walsall;
[6] Edward Johns (5), son, born Walsall;
[7] Mr. Medlicott (70), father in law, gardener, born Envil, [Enville], Staffordshire:

Walsall Free Press 8/7/1871 - Advert

“SPRING COTTAGE, Gardens, Paddock, Walsall, Proprietor, Mr. E. Johns.

1,000 Miles in 1,000 Hours.

Extraordinary Physical Endurance.

Go & See Mdme. Angleo!

The Great Female Deerfoot and Champion Female Walker of the World, who astonishes all Creation with her graceful style of Walking. This Lady has been patronised by all the Mayors, Nobility, Clergy, and Gentry, in every Town in which she has appeared.

Walking Hours a quarter before 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12. Gates Open Day and Night for Six Weeks. Admission: 2d each.

On Mondays and Saturdays, the band of the 14th Staffordshire Rifles will be in attendance, for Dancing on the Green, commencing at Six. Leader of the Band, Mr. Keats. Admission 3d each.

Refreshments of the Best Quality.”

Walsall Free Press 19/8/1871

“Edward Johns, landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, was charged with having, on the 6th inst, knowingly and wilfully permitted drunkenness. The charge was proved by Police-sergeant Childs, who visited defendant’s premises about two o’clock on the morning in question. The officer found about 150 people in the garden adjoining the house, several of whom were drunk; but the house itself was cleared. For the defence it was urged that the drunken men had entered the garden by breaking the fences, on purpose to see Madame Angleo, who was walking 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours. The Bench considered that defendant was responsible, and fined him 20s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Mr. Glover then applied for the renewal of the licenses of the undermentioned, whose licenses were suspended on licensing day.....

Edward Johns, the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock. Granted.”

1881 Census

45, Holtshill Lane – SPRING COTTAGE INN

- [1] Samuel White (42), publican, born Walsall;
[2] Emily White (42), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Mary Jane White (19), daughter, household duties at home, born Walsall;
[4] George Henry White (15), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Maria White (10), daughter, scholar, born Hednesford;
[6] Frank White (1), son, born Walsall;
[7] Sydney White (1), son, born Walsall;
[8] Jane Hughes (22), domestic servant, born Darlaston;
[9] Mary Durney (20), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/7/1888

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.....

George Jones (21), labourer, pleaded guilty to having, on the 27th June, broken into the dwelling house of Samuel White, the SPRING COTTAGE INN, and stolen 8s 6d in money, seventy-four cigars, and other things. He was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1889 - Advert

“SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock Lane, Walsall.

Unreserved Sale of Superior Brewing Plant.

To Be Sold By Auction by Messrs. Watkins & Powell, as above, without reserve, on Thursday Next, July 18th, 1889.

The useful Brewing Plant, comprising Cast-iron Boiler, with setting and bars complete; Steel ditto, with fittings and tap; 3 large Vats, with Frames, in good condition; Very Superior Mash Tub, a large quantity of excellent 100 and 60 Gallon Casks, in good condition; Lead Piping, Wood Spouts, Sieves, Mash Rule, Benches, and other Brewing Utensils.

Sale to commence 11 o’clock.

Auctioneer’s Office, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

John Colling Cook = John Colling Cooke

Walsall Observer 5/9/1891

“The members of Walsall Strollers FC held their first annual dinner on Monday evening last at the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, when upwards of forty members and friends sat down to an excellent repast, served in admirable style by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, late of the PRIORY HOTEL), whose catering gave the greatest satisfaction. The 'inner man' having been amply replenished with the good things provided, a very enjoyable evening was spent in listening to several capital songs, and honouring a number of toasts.....

Mr. Homer proposed 'The Host and Hostess,' and in so doing said that the manner in which the dinner had been placed before them reflected the highest credit on Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, who was glad to know that his efforts to please were appreciated, and who also promised every assistance in his power to make the club a success....."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown's, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....

New members.... Mr. Alf Medlam, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock."

Walsall Advertiser 21/4/1894

"An inquest was held at the SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane, on Saturday last touching the death of Mary Kerr, aged 58, of Holtshill Lane, who died suddenly on the previous day under circumstances reported in our last issue. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned."

Walsall Advertiser 12/5/1894

"At a meeting held at Mr. W. Messenger's, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, on the last instant, it was decided to form a lodge of the Conservative League, and the 'Smith' Lodge was the name unanimously chosen. Bro. Bailey was chosen worthy master for the first year. The opening ceremony will take place on Tuesday, May 29th. There are already forty names given in for membership."

Walsall Advertiser 19/12/1896 - Notice

"I, Edward Wadsworth, of 122, Tantarra St., Paddock, Walsall, do hereby declare that I will Not Be Responsible for any Debt or Debts contacted by my wife, Florence Rose Wadsworth. I am very shortly leaving the town of Walsall.

Edward Wadsworth. Walsall, 18th December, 1896.

Witness. W. Messenger, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock."

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1899

"The Street Committee, the following plans, during the past month have been approved, subject to the usual conditions.....

W. Butler & Co. Ltd., rebuilding the COTTAGE INN, Paddock Lane."

Walsall Advertiser 21/10/1899

"Another brace of Walsall soldiers left on Monday morning to rejoin the colours, viz, Mr. Charles Gore (son of Chief Inspector Gore), landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane, who belongs to the Grenadier Guards; and Mr. F. Ball, an employé of the Midland Railway Company, who is a driver in the 78th Battery of Field Battery. The 'call to arms' cannot be said to have been opportune to either of the men from a domestic standpoint. Private Gore is only a comparatively young man, and a few weeks ago there occurred in his house one of those interesting events which are to be looked for in the homes of young people; whilst Driver Ball on Sunday week had his Imperial papers handed to him on his return from church with his newly-made bride. A considerable number of people assembled to see them off by the 11.28, express to London, and Ball was carried part of the way up Park Street shoulder high. They were in high spirits, and evidently anxious to 'have a pop' at Kruger, judging from the buoyant responses to the ejaculations of friends on the platform. The crowd sang the National Anthem and 'Auld Lang Syne,' and cheers were given for the Queen, 'Joey' Chamberlain, General Buller, &c.

The SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane, which is held under Messrs. Butler and Mitchell, will be carried on during the absence of Private Gore by his wife, to whom the license was temporarily transferred yesterday."

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1900

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Charles Gore, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock."

Walsall Advertiser 6/10/1900

"James Murphy and Michael Carley, of the Paddock Lane, were summoned, the former for refusing to quit the SPRING COTTAGE public-house, Paddock Lane, and assaulting Charles Gore (the landlady's husband), and the latter for refusing to quit. The evidence showed that the two men positively refused to leave the house, and when Murphy was about to strike Sarah Jane Gore (the landlady) Mr. Gore interfered to prevent him. He, however, kicked Gore with such violence in the face as to black his left eye.

Mr. H. H. Jackson (for the prosecution) stated, however, that the object of the proceeding was not to obtain a heavy penalty, but to show men of the stamp of the defendants, that they could not do as they please, and must leave licensed premises when they were ordered to do so.

Murphy was fined 10s and costs, or 14 days' imprisonment, and Carley 5s and costs, or seven days' imprisonment."

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, Ceiling Collection (per Mr. E. Biddulph). £1 6s 6d.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/10/1904

“On Wednesday week, at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, the local managers of the Wolverhampton and Walsall Districts for Messrs. Butler’s Brewery Company made a presentation to the local superintendent, Mr. D. A. Rudge, of a silver Louis tea urn, on the occasion of his marriage. Mr. Biddulph, in handing over the present, expressed the high regard in which Mr. Rudge was held and the best wishes of the managers for Mr. Rudge’s future happiness. The remainder of the evening was spent in harmony, the contributors including Messrs. Price, Medlam, Biddulph, &c.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/10/1905

“There was a large gathering at the fourth annual dinner of the Paddock Bowling Club, which was held at the SPRING COTTAGE, last night week.....”

Lichfield Mercury 26/3/1909

“The annual meeting of the Walsall Cricket Club was held on Monday night at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, Mr. F. T. Cozens presiding over a large attendance. The report showed a total income of £339, a slight falling off in subscriptions being counter balanced by an increase of £64 in the gate money, which amounted to £168, and as a result the club was able to transfer a credit balance of £39 to the new ground fund. In proposing the adoption of the report, Mr. A. E. Hurst mentioned that the expenditure included £86 for the rent of the ground, which would not again figure in the balance sheet. Mr. F. T. Cozens was re-elected president and captain of the club, it being mentioned that this year was the twenty-fifth of his active association with the club as a playing member, and twenty-first in which he had been captain of the club. Mr. A. E. Hurst was re-elected vice-captain, and Messrs. J. W. Parkes and G. H. Gilbert were re-elected respectively hon. treasurer and hon. secretary.”

1911 Census

45, Holtshill Lane

[1] Edgar Biddulph (36), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Biddulph (33), wife, married 12 years, born Walsall;

[3] Bob Larkhom Biddulph (12), son, school, born Walsall;

[4] Olive May Biddulph (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Mary Hawkesworth (21), licensed trade general servant, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire;

[6] May Allport (19), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1911

“Mr. Frank Cooper applied on behalf of Mr. Edgar Biddulph, of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Paddock Lane, for an occasional license for the Walsall Flower Show, on July 24th, from 11.30am to 10pm. The license was granted from noon to 9.30pm.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1911

“Bowling. The Paddock Club, which meets at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, opened its green on May 4th. There was a large gathering of members to support the new president.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/5/1912

“At the annual dinner of the Walsall Cricket Club, held at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL on Tuesday evening, the President (Mr. F. T. Cozens) was presented by the Mayor (Mr. J. Venables), on behalf of the members, with a handsome sterling silver rose bowl (weighing over 148 ounces), on an ebony base, and a silver mounted cut glass champagne jug. The inscription on the base of the bowl was as follows: ‘Presented by the members of the Walsall Cricket Club to F. T. Cozens, Esq, their president, on his resigning the captaincy of the club, held by him for 23 years, as a token of their appreciation of his long and faithful services. April 30th, 1913.’

The President said words failed him to adequately thank them for the present. It had come as a complete surprise. He could assure them it would be an heirloom in his family, and he hoped it would be an incentive to his sons to try and do something for their town, for he regarded the club as a town’s institution which was doing a great deal for the benefit of the young men. Whatever he had done for the club has been a labour of love.

The Town Clerk (Mr. J. R. Cooper), proposing the toast of the Club, said it had braved many a storm, and this, he understood, was its 80th season, having been formed in 1833. He congratulated the club on the acquisition of the Conway ground as a permanent home for Walsall cricket. That and what the club had done during the last thirty years or more were largely due to the influence of their worthy President. Mr. W. Preston, the new captain, responded.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/9/1912

“The members of the Paddock Bowling Club assembled at the headquarters, the SPRING COTTAGE, on Friday evening of last week, with the object of making a presentation to the host, Mr. E. Biddulph, in recognition of his services to the club during the time he has been the landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE. The idea was prompted by the fact that Mr. Biddulph is leaving to take up the license of the MALT SHOVEL INN, Birmingham Road.

Mr. R. Bonnett, vice-president of the Club, was in the chair, and among others present were Messrs. E. E. Skett (captain), E. Biddulph (treasurer), W. A. Wilson (Hon. Secretary), E. H. Attwood, D. McCoustra, G. Reeves, B. Elton, W. Crowther, T. R. Johnson, S. Butler, F. Bailey, E. Gibson, R. Taylor, W. Mawson, F. Cox, J. W. Parker, H. Dutton, and S. H. Quincey.

Apologies for non-attendance were received from Messrs. W. Muncater, G. Lenton, E. Taylor, J. Watts (who had sent a telegram from Kinver) and others.

The Chairman, in the course of a short speech, said he thought they would all agree with him that what they were doing was the only thing they could possibly do under the circumstances. They had all known Mr. and Mrs. Biddulph for a number of years, Mr. Biddulph more especially on the green, and he was sure that Mr. Biddulph had not only enjoyed himself, but had given them every satisfaction as treasurer of the club and as host of the SPRING COTTAGE, and they were all sorry to lose him. (Hear, hear). He was sure they would all join with him in wishing him and his wife that prosperity which they deserved in their new venture. He called upon Mr. Skett to make the presentation. (Applause).

Mr. Skett said that he had been connected with the club since its inception and he could assure them that Mr. Biddulph, and also his wife, had done everything they possibly could to enable the members of the club and their visitors to enjoy themselves, and it was the least they could do to recognise his services in some way. The presentation was principally in the form of an illuminated address and as it would not be ready for several weeks it would have to be presented by a deputation afterwards....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/1/1913

["The Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers billiards tournament will be commenced on Monday next. Entries.....
A. Medlam, SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, Walsall."](#)

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1913

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Alfred Medal [sic], SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Holtshill Lane....."

Walsall Observer 21/3/1914

"Mr. George James, the landlord of the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, expired suddenly in Birmingham, on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased, who was but 38 years of age, went into Birmingham on Tuesday afternoon, to see Mr. Alf Medlam of the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, play in the Licensed Victuallers' Billiards Handicap. About 2.15, deceased and Mr. Middlebrook were just entering corporation Street from Stephenson Place, when the former turned to his companion and complained of feeling dazed. Almost immediately he staggered forward, but was prevented from falling by Mr. Middlebrook. Assistance was rendered, and on arrival at the Birmingham General Hospital, where he was taken, death was found to have taken place. Deceased leaves a wife and four children. The inquest was held on Wednesday, when a verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned. Mr. James had recently been attended by Dr. Baker for nervous trouble."

[Mr. Alf Medlam was beaten in the final of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers' Annual Billiard Handicap (800 points up), by Mr. J. Adams, landlord of the CROSS GUNS HOTEL, West Bromwich, by 800 to 621 points.]

Walsall Advertiser 2/5/1914

"A special general meeting of the Walsall F.C. will be held at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, on Tuesday next, at 8pm, when the president (Sir R. A. Cooper, MP) will take the chair. All members are requested to be present."

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, Walsall, 2s 4½d."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/2/1915

"The following are the handicap and start made by the handicappers for the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers' Billiards Tournament.....

A. Medlam, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, Walsall, receives 170."

Walsall Observer 31/3/1917 - Advert

"Goat for sale; a nice young Nanny, good class, used to collar and being pegged out on green.
Alf Medlam, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock. £1 1s 10d."

Walsall Observer 30/3/1918 - Roll of Honour

"Sub-lieutenant Alfred J. B. Medlam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Medlam, SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Holtshill Lane, is now in hospital at Torquay recovering from the effects of severe gas-shell poisoning, received after seven weeks' service in France with the Royal Naval Division. He obtained his commission in June last year. Twenty-one years of age, he is an Old Boy of Queen Mary's School, and before joining the Forces he was employed as a clerk in the Cannock branch of Lloyd's Bank. He was for six years a member of St. Paul's Choir. His father is chairman of Walsall Football Club Committee."

Lichfield Mercury 18/5/1923

“The question of whether permission should be given for the installation of wireless sets on licensed premises was raised at a special licensing session at Walsall on Monday, when two applications were heard for music and singing licenses to be granted so that customers might be enabled to listen in.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who represented Mr. A. Medlam of the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock urged that the use of wireless would promote sobriety as there was nothing like good music to produce a lull on drinking. They would get the very best concerts distributed from Birmingham, and they could also arrange ‘arial sermons.’

Chief Constable Ballance, who opposed the applications, said he objected to public-houses being turned into music halls. It was well known that before 1890 music hall performances were permitted in public house, but the licensing justices were of opinion that the practice was not desirable one, and the consequence was it was discontinued.

After a private consultation, the justices granted both applications – the second being in respect of the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich – but said they were doing this simply as an experiment, and their decision must not be looked upon as a precedent in case other license holders thought to applying for a similar concession. They restricted the hours for the use of wireless. These would be from 7 to 10pm on weekdays, and from 8 to 9.45pm on Sunday evenings.”

Walsall Observer 14/6/1924

“At a meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, it was reported that the amount received through the collecting boxes from retail license holders in the borough for Walsall for the Walsall General Hospital and local charities was £142.....”

Alfred Medlam was also a councillor. [1934]

He was treasurer of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Provident Society. [1934]

Alfred Medlam – see also DOLPHIN, George Street, LITTLETON ARMS, WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street.

1939 Register

45, Holtshill Lane

- [1] Robert W. Brown, date of birth 3/5/1884, hotel manager, married;
- [2] Beatrice A. Brown, dob 21/9/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Beatrice M. Brown, dob 28/4/1912, draper’s assistant, single;
- [4] Jesse Brown, dob 3/3/1916, automatic tool setter, single;
- [5] Jack Brown, dob 25/7/1917, practical tailor, single:

Walsall Observer 28/9/1940

“Thirty-four wounded soldiers from a Midlands military hospital were entertained by the customers of the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock on Saturday afternoon and evening. The arrangements which were made by Messrs. B. Hawley (as secretary), C. Crutchley and Joe Parsons was the result of a box collection in the back smokeroom for providing the necessary funds. In the afternoon, the visitors, wearing royal blue suits and red ties, had a bowling tournament in which there was keen competition, some of the players revealing considerable skill at the game. Refreshments were served on the green and there was a plentiful supply of cigarettes for the guests. After the tournament, tea was served indoors with the Mayor (Councillor L. Cliff Tibbits) in the chair. His Worship presented the prizes to the winners of the bowls tournament – Privates Rowlands and Hibbett and Gunners Murphy and Wood, and added that it was a great pleasure to him to see so many of the lads present. He thanked the Paddock Bowling Club for the use of the green.

Sapper Edwards of the Royal Engineers, replying, thanked the organisers and helpers for all that had been given to them and the generosity shown and he asked his companions to bear in mind that all of it had been done by people of whom they knew nothing. Mr. F. Haden paid a tribute to the liberality of the Paddock Bowling Club and mentioned that during the last war, men were entertained in this manner. He said he hoped they would have the privilege to entertain other wounded soldiers in the future, but still more that there would be none to entertain and that the war would be over.

As well as entertaining the soldiers, the subscribers have sent donations to the British Red Cross and Toc H and also money to sons and relatives of members of the Bowling Club, who are serving in the Forces.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane. £10 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Holtshill Lane. £5 15s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
SPRING COTTAGE, The Paddock, Walsall.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 17/12/1986

“Brewers Mitchells & Butlers have spent £1.5 million on refurbishing 11 pubs for Christmas and the New Year the SPRING COTTAGE, at Walsall, has cost around £120,000 to refurbish.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 19/3/1993

“Bon Appetit Pub Grub.....
SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock Lane, Walsall.”

[2017]

SPRING COTTAGE

Lichfield Road / Mill Road, Shelfield, Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Bindley and Co.
Ind Coope [c.1928]

LICENSEES

William Whitehouse [1858] – [1890]
Ambrose Lees [1891]
James Croxall [1896] – 1897);
William Chilton (1897 – []
Joseph Bowers [1898]
Edward Cope ‘Ted’ Clarke [1901] – 1907);
John Horton [1905] ?
Enoch Stonehouse (1907 – 1908);
Edward Cope ‘Ted’ Clarke (1908 – 1921)
Mrs. Mary Clarke (1921 – []
George Pawley [1932]
Wilson [1937]
William Walter Sheffield [1939] – 1940);
Howard James Mills (1940 – []

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

William Whitehouse, licensed victualler, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Walsall Wood, was fined 12s 6d and costs, for having four unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

William Whitehouse was also a blacksmith. [1860], [1861], [1868], [1872]

He was the brother of Henry.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/7/1868

“On Tuesday evening, as Mrs. Whitehouse, of the SPRING COTTAGE public-house, Walsall Wood, was getting into a trap, she fell, and fractured her thigh bone. Immediately after the accident which occurred on the Bridge at Walsall, she was conveyed to the Cottage Hospital, where it was discovered that in addition to the fracture, the poor woman, who is 70 years of age, had sustained other injuries.”

1871 Census

Shelfield – SPRING COTTAGE

- [1] William Whitehouse (51), blacksmith employing 1 man, born Sheffield;
- [2] Ann Whitehouse (58), wife, born Sheffield;
- [3] Margaret Whitehouse (15), daughter, scholar, born Sheffield;
- [4] Ann M. Whitehouse (12), daughter, scholar, born Sheffield;
- [5] Edward F. Whitehouse (10), son, scholar, born Sheffield;
- [6] Elizabeth Whitehouse (16), niece, visitor, born Dudley Port:

Walsall Free Press 5/7/1873

“On Monday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, held an inquest on the body of Edward Waltho, who was killed by falling from a cart. George Waltho said deceased was his uncle, and resided at Lichfield. Deceased was in the habit of attending the Birmingham and Walsall markets. Deceased and witness started from Lichfield at half-past one o'clock on Saturday morning last for Walsall. Deceased had a cart laden with vegetables. On their way they called at the SPRING COTTAGE public-house, Sheffield, and remained there an hour and a half. On leaving Sheffield deceased, who during their stay there had two glasses of liquor and one pint of ale, was in advance of witness about two hundred yards. Deceased was riding upon the shafts of his cart. On coming down the hill from Rushall to the one-mile stone from Walsall, witness found deceased lying upon the road, the horse and cart having gone on and left him, his head drawn towards his feet and his eyes and tongue protruding. Deceased was quite insensible. Witness procured assistance as quickly as he could, and had deceased removed to the Cottage Hospital, but on reaching the hospital gates it was discovered that deceased was quite dead. The deceased, about twelve months ago, was found lying in his own yard, suffering from loss of blood, which was flowing from his nose, but was not known to be subject to fits. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/5/1890

“Brownhills Local Board.....

The Surveyor reported that a letter had been received from Mr. Whitehouse, SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield, complaining of a drain in front of his house. The drain carried the water off the road opposite a new house which had been built by Mr. Whitehouse, and he requested the Board to lay pipes down.

Mr. Roberts: I don't see why the Board should enclose that.

The Chairman said that when a person built a house he should look after the water course himself.

The Surveyor said that Mr. Whitehouse would lay pipes himself in front of the house if the Board would afterwards continue the work. The Board decided to visit the house in question and look at the drain.”

1891 Census

Lichfield Road – SPRING COTTAGE

- [1] Ambrose Lees (47), publican, born Longdon, Staffordshire;
- [2] Martha Lees (47), wife, born Brereton, Staffordshire;
- [3] George Watson Lees (18), son, coal miner, born Brereton, Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary A. Lees (16), daughter, milliner, born Rugeley;
- [5] Nellie Gertrude Lees (14), daughter, scholar, born Rugeley;
- [6] Florence May Lees (13), daughter, scholar, born Rugeley:

Walsall Advertiser 7/7/1894

“Mr. E. C. Clarke, SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield, was convicted of driving recklessly in Wolverhampton Street on Monday, and was fined 40s and costs, or 21 days' imprisonment. Police-constable Bell said Mr. Clarke drove furiously down the street, knocked down a bicyclist, who was seriously injured, and broke the machine. In the smash Mr. Clarke's trap was overturned and he and a man named Steele thrown out. Mr. Clarke said the accident arose through the cyclist coming suddenly from behind a break in front of him; his horse was only trotting at the time.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/6/1897

“The SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield, from James Croxall to William Chilton. In regard of to the last named house the Chairman said that only a few days ago he saw three men outside the house, as though they had just come out, in a beastly state of drunkenness, at midday. They hoped the police would make a sharp lookout after this.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/11/1897

“It is not all ‘beer and skittles’ being a landlord. No doubt this is the opinion of the host of the SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield, for his wife was summoned at the Rushall Police Court on Monday on a charge of being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the defence, and said that on the 13th instant Mr. Chilton came home and found his wife intoxicated in the house. He thought if he called in the police, and the police saw her, she would likely be ashamed of herself, and mend her ways. He accordingly called in the police. He had since sent his wife to some friends, and she had promised to take no more. Before she went to the public-house she was most abstemious. Mr. Jackson thought the justice of the case would be met by the Bench allowing the case to be withdrawn on defendant paying the costs, 5s 6d. To this the magistrates consented.”

Joseph Bowers = Joseph Bowen

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1898

“Joseph Bowen, landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE, Lichfield Road, Walsall Wood, appealed at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions on Wednesday against a conviction by the Rushall magistrates whereby he was fined 20s and costs for selling intoxicants during prohibited hours. The case has been fully reported in the Advertiser. It will be remembered that the appellant sold liquor during closing hours to a Rugeley man, who had driven a trap along with two sons and a son-in-law, who resided at Pelsall, the landlord only asking the old man how far he had come, and not the sons. The Chairman, after consultation with his brother magistrates, said they had unanimously decided to dismiss the appeal, with costs. The Bench granted the case.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1898

“The forty-sixth general meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday afternoon the following were elected members of the society.....
Joseph Bowers, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Sheffield.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1898

“The annual licensing sessions in connection with the Rushall Petty Sessional Division was held in the Rushall Court House on Monday.....
The Superintendent had given notice to the license-holder of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, of opposition to the renewal of the license on three grounds. First, that the license was not required; secondly, on the ground that the house was of a disorderly character; and thirdly, on the ground of a conviction. So far as all the other licenses were concerned they would be renewed, but this one would be adjourned to the adjourned licensing day on 19th September.”

Walsall Observer 14/7/1900

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, plans were submitted for slight alterations to the SPRING COTTAGE INN, which after a suggestion by the Bench, were approved.”

Walsall Observer 1/9/1900

“An inquest was held by Mr. H. A. Pearson (coroner), on Saturday morning, at the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Sheffield, on the body of William Smart (30), of New Street, Sheffield, who was killed at the Aldridge Colliery on the previous Thursday. The evidence was that at two o’clock on 23rd August the deceased was at work in No.1 Pit of the Aldridge Colliery, and was wedging some coal previous to getting it, when it fell, prematurely, striking deceased on the back of the neck, dislocating it. As soon as the man was extricated artificial respiration was tried, but without effect, and when Dr. Wolverson arrived he could only pronounce life extinct.
A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Observer 22/12/1900

“On Saturday the District Coroner (Mr. H. A. Pearson) held an inquest at the SPRING COTTAGE, Sheffield, on the body of James Beard (9), of New Road, Sheffield, who was killed on the road at Walsall Wood, on the 13th inst. Joseph Beard, of New Road, Sheffield, father of the deceased gave evidence of identification. George Sivorn, Frank Howells, and Thomas Rownes, three boys, of Sheffield, said that they, with the deceased, had waited at Sheffield for some wagons and a traction engine, belonging to Messrs. Smith, Albion Flour Mills, Walsall, which were to pass through, intending to have a ride. On their arrival they got on to the couplings of the rear wagon and rode safely as far as the Brickkiln House, Walsall Wood. There one of the men on the wagons saw them and ordered them off and they jumped, the three witnesses landing safely, but they saw the deceased fall, and it seemed to them that the wheel of the wagon passed over his head. Morris Keeley, one of the steerers, said that he saw the boys on the couplings of the two rear wagons, and ordered them to get off. They did so, as far as he could see, in safety; but when they got about 50 yard farther down the road, the Brickkiln House, a young man named George Burt, of Walsall Wood, caught them up on a bicycle, and told them that a boy had been killed by the wagons. Witness went back, and found that a man, named George Downes, had picked the boy up and was carrying him home, so he went and assisted him, afterwards fetching Dr. Wolverson to see him. The boy was quite dead, when he went to him. Dr. Wolverson, of Walsall Wood, said the lad had several injuries to the head, including concussion of the brain, which was the cause of death. Death must have been instantaneous, but the wagon wheel had certainly not gone over him. Probably deceased’s head had knocked against the wheel of the wagon as it turned round, causing the concussion of the brain and the abrasions on the face.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – SPRING COTTAGE INN

[1] Edward Clarke (45), licensed victualler, born Armitage, Shropshire;

[2] Mary Clarke (43), wife, born Burntwood;

[3] Annie Clarke (16), daughter, born Burntwood:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

SPRING COTTAGE, Shelfield, (per Mr. Clarke). £1 16s 4d.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1904

“A woman named Annie Jackson, hailing from Darlaston, was brought up in custody before the Rushall magistrates on Monday, charged with being drunk and disorderly the previous day.

Police-constable Bailey stated that whilst passing the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, he heard someone inside shouting and using very bad language inside. Going in he saw the prisoner, who was drunk. The landlord told him that he had several times asked her to leave, but she would not go. He also said that he had taken drink away from her and given her back the money. He went outside, and eventually the landlord succeeded in ejecting her. The language she was using the whole time was dreadful. Evidence was also given by the landlord, Edward Clarke, and prisoner was fined 5s and costs (9s 6d).”

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1904

“At a second Court at Rushall, before Captain W. H. Brooks and Mr. J. F. E. Binns, there was a case in which Edward Cope Clarke, the landlord of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, was summoned for permitting drunkenness and selling drink to a drunken person. Mr. J. S. Sharpe (West Bromwich) represented the police authorities, and Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

The evidence was somewhat remarkable. On Sunday, the 8th of May, Police-constable Bailey heard shouting and cursing in the SPRING COTTAGE, and heard the landlord say, ‘How many more times must I ask you to go?’ The policeman found a woman sitting in the house who was drunk, and she had some whisky before her. Eventually the landlord gave her 3d back, and succeeded in pushing her out of the house.

Mr. Jackson argued that this woman had for years been subject to fits of temporary insanity, in which she became furious. Once she had thrown herself into the canal in one of these fits. She was quite orderly when she went into the house. This landlord had kept houses for 18 years without complaint, and this particular house for several years without complaint. Under these circumstances the most the magistrates ought to do, he submitted with respect, was to order the landlord to pay the costs.

After hearing witnesses, the magistrates ordered the defendant to pay the solicitor’s fee and costs, the total amounting to £3 0s 6d.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Since the last licensing meeting, six licensed victuallers had been proceeded against for offences against their licences.....

Edward Cope Clarke, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, permitting drunkenness, ordered to pay costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 7/7/1905

“The announcement of the death of Mrs. Mary Horton, the wife of John Horton, SPRING COTTAGE, Walsall Wood, on the 25th ult., in her 59th year, was received with very much regret by a large circle of friends. Deceased had recently left Chasetown, where she and Mr. Horton had resided and been in business for many years, and where deceased was very much respected. The funeral took place on Wednesday, June 28th at Bloxwich Cemetery, being conducted by the Rev. J. C. Hamilton (Vicar). A large number of wreaths were sent by relatives and friends.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/11/1907

“At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, a temporary transfer was granted to Enoch Stonehouse in respect of the SPRING COTTAGE, Shelfield, from Edward Cope Clarke.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1908

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, before Sir E. T. Holden (presiding) and Mr. W. Precey, Enoch Stonehouse (50), SPRING COTTAGE, Shelfield, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises; and Thomas Chairm (39), farm labourer, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, on the 15th ult. Mr. J. S. Sharpe prosecuted on behalf of the police, and Mr. H. H. Jackson defended both the parties.

Mr. Sharpe explained that on Saturday, January 15th, at about five minutes to eleven, Inspector Needham and several officers were in the neighbourhood of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, and through the door of the taproom they saw the defendant Chairm in a drunken condition. He staggered across the room, and was seen to pick up a cup to drink ale. He came outside with his wife, and was being led home by her, when the inspector went up to him and asked for his name and address, and he believed the other officers asked him, but he refused to give it and they could not obtain it. He was in such a condition that he was incapable of getting home himself, and was ultimately taken into custody and appeared at a subsequent court, and was bailed out until the landlord could be summoned. The questions then arose 'Where did he have the drink?' and 'How long was he on the premises?' According to the police evidence he must have been in the house for fifteen or twenty minutes, and according to Chairm's own account he went to the SPRING COTTAGE, first of all about 8.30pm, when he was served. He then left and went to another public-house and had a drink, and then returned to the SPRING COTTAGE about ten o'clock, so that he must have been there an hour. He was served, and seemed to have been drinking with friends, and when charged at the station he said, 'I am very sorry it has happened; it does not take much to get me over. I admit I had a drop too much.' The landlord's attention was called to defendant when in the road, and he believed the excuse made by the licensee was that he had only been there about a quarter of an hour, and had only been served with one pint. A man in this condition being allowed in the house for that time showed extreme laxity on the part of the licensee.

Inspector Needham, Police-constables Barrett, Moore, and Brown, and Arthur Edward Newman gave evidence in support of the prosecuting solicitor's statement.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, in defence, said the whole point in dispute was whether the man was drunk or not, four policemen and one independent witness contradicted the police on one very important point – that the man was walking quietly by himself and not being led by his wife as stated by the police. It was also remarkable that defendant Chairm was able to make a statement of his doings during the night.

The landlord, Chairm, and his wife, John Brown, miner, of Stabbers Green, Samuel Duckhouse, Jane Addison, Wm. Arrowsmith, and Geo. Brown all stated the defendant Chairm was perfectly sober and showed no signs of drunkenness when in the house. Chairm was fined 10s and costs, and the landlord £5 and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 20/6/1908

"The Rushall bench on Monday granted a temporary transfer of the license of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, from Enoch Stonehouse to Edward Cope Clark."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1909

"The annual general licensing sessions for the Rushall Division was held at Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Since the last annual licensing meeting 2 licensed victuallers have been proceeded against for offences against their licenses, both of whom were fined.....

Enoch Stonehouse, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, permitting drunkenness, fined £5 and costs.....

Since the conviction the license of the SPRING COTTAGE INN has been transferred to Edward Cope Clarke."

Lichfield Mercury 12/3/1909

"The Rushall adjourned licensing sessions took place on Monday. Mr. R. H. Holden, presiding. Mr. F. W. Richardson (Burton-on-Trent) applied for a renewal of the SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, which had been objected to on the ground that the house had been ill-conducted. He stated that the complaint appeared to arise from the fact that there had been a conviction for permitting drunkenness, but the license had since been transferred, and no further cause for complaint had arisen."

1911 Census

Shelfield – SPRING COTTAGE INN

[1] Edward Cope Clarke (55), licensed victualler, born Armitage, Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Clarke (53), wife, married 31 years, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;

[3] Elsie Bull (6), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1912

"The Coal War. Great Struggle Still Proceeding.....

Notices were issued stating that strike pay would be paid as follows (on the production of contribution card): Thursday, March 14th; Shelfield, SPRING COTTAGE INN, at 11am; Walsall Wood, WHEEL INN, at 2pm; Brownhill, Crown Inn, at 5pm; Friday, March 15th, Pelsall, STATION INN, at 11am; Bloxwich, QUEENS HEAD INN, at 2pm; Lane Head, BRITISH OAK INN, at 5pm; Saturday, March 16th, Newton, Malt Shovel Inn at 11am."

Walsall Advertiser 16/3/1912

"Strikers in the Walsall Wood, Rushall and Shelfield neighbourhood looked forward to their first strike pay with evident concern. There is no doubt the men are beginning to feel the pinch of wageless weeks and although they picked up a good haul the Saturday before last the coffers this week have begun to run low.

The first distribution of strike pay by the Pelsall and District Association took place on Thursday at Ted Clark's SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield. The time fixed was eleven o'clock, but before that hour a large crowd of miners has assembled. A few minutes after eleven, when the officials drove up, there could not have been less than 1,500 or 2,000 men waiting for their pay. Some of them had to wait a good time too, for it was close on half-past three in the afternoon before the last striker received his allowance. Fortunately the weather was fine – indeed, it was a bright spring day. The young strikers – the pit boys – with some of their seniors, whiled away the time at marbles, but generally the men were content to smoke pipes (with need it to be said, and occasional slaking of the thirst), and quietly chat together. The peculiar part about it all – at least that which impresses the stranger, is that the men discuss practically every other topic imaginable with the one exception of the unrest!

The paying out was conducted in a smooth and business-like manner, the men entering the room where it was carried out in the order of their respective lodges. They were commendably orderly and the crowd gradually diminished, the strikers making a move off as soon as they had received their money. Each man received 15/- and the few boys who had to be paid 7/6. The officials present included Messrs. H. Smith (president), Mr. Smith (vice-president), T. Riley (secretary), and R. Burgess (treasurer). Mr. F. J. Dean (miners' agent) was in London.

One of the officials explained that the ordinary strike pay is 10/- a week, but it was thought that it would be to the interests of the men if they were paid 15/-, as they have been at play since last Saturday week. The strikers came from all parts of the area covered by the association, although most of them belonged to Rushall, Shelfield and Walsall Wood.

From what could be gathered the men are not in such 'high feather' as they were this time last week. There are signs of a weakening in their determination, which goes a long long way to show that they would welcome a settlement. It was stated by one of the miners that in the early part of the week 20 or 30 non-unionists approached the manager of the Aldridge Colliery, and asked to be set at work, but were refused. In spite of the fact that the association has 4,000 members, there are non-unionists here and there and they must undoubtedly be reduced to an impecunious position. One of the miners expressed the opinion that after 'this yer job' is over the unionists will refuse to be reconciled to so many of the men remaining outside their union. The unionists evidenced that they appreciated their strike pay, small though it is compared to with an ordinary week's money, but, in spite of reserve, many of them showed that they were a little anxious as to their prospects should the struggle be prolonged. Some of the men turned up at the venues in their Sunday best and one or two even wore collars and ties.

Later in the day there were 'payings out' at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, and at Brownhills. Yesterday (Friday) miners received pay at the STATION INN, Pelsall; the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich; and the BRITISH OAK, Lane Head. Today (Saturday) money will be paid put at the MALT SHOVEL INN, Newton.

It is stated that if a settlement is effected and the miners start work at once they will receive pay from the strike funds for the odd days they have been out."

Edward Clarke – see also MINERS ARMS, Pelsall.

Lichfield Mercury 3/6/1921 - Deaths

"On the 31st May, at SPRING COTTAGE INN, Shelfield, Edward Cope Clarke, aged 65 years. Interment at St. Michael's Churchyard, Greenhill, Lichfield, Saturday June 4th."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/8/1921

"A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mrs. M. Clarke, SPRING COTTAGE INN Shelfield was elected a member of the Society."

The magistrates sanctioned plans for improvements in the sanitary accommodation here in February 1924.

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1936

"A man's death whilst on an outing from Westbromwich to Shelfield was the subject of an inquest at Shelfield on Wednesday. Deceased was Simeon Ralley, aged 77, widower, a coal miner, of 81, Temple Street, Westbromwich. The evidence showed that while the party were having supper at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Shelfield, deceased started coughing, and he died before a doctor arrived. The medical evidence showed that he suffered from heart trouble. A verdict of Death from Syncope, due to heart disease, was returned."

Walsall Observer 13/5/1939 - Letter

"Sir, On behalf of the Shelfield and High Heath A.R.P. Association, please allow me to refute the statement being circulated locally that the wardens &c, engaged in the distribution of respirators in these villages received remuneration for this work. They did not. Neither did the gentlemen who lent their business and private premises receive any payment for use of the same. If the people who criticise the work of the Association would volunteer their services in some capacity, I can assure them their criticism would be welcome at our fortnightly meetings at the SPRING COTTAGE, Shelfield.

Your, etc, E. G. Bullen, Secretary of the above Association."

1939 Register

Lichfield Road – SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL (2 of 3)

[1] William W. Sheffield, date of birth 18/4/1883, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Gertrude Sheffield, dob 14/5/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall observer 21/12/1940

"An enjoyable concert organised by Mr. E. Sutton for the Brownhills Urban District Spitfire Fund, was held at the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Shelfield, on Sunday evening. Mr. E. Bagnall, JP, presided over a large attendance and the programme was given by Misses Lillian Parr (soprano), Jennie Durkin (contralto), Messrs. Norman Archer (tenor), Raymond Cuss (bass), Harold Cook (entertainer), William Oakes (xylophone), Sam Jones (violin), Leonard Jones ('cello) and A. Taylor and Quigley as accompanists."

Walsall Observer 27/9/1941

"Gratifying success attended the recent carnival and dance, organised by a Shelfield and High Heath Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. E. Sutton, for the benefit of the Brownhills and Urban District Mobile Canteen Fund, at a concert at the SPRING COTTAGE, Shelfield, yesterday week, the Hon Treasurer, Mr. L. Hulse, was able to hand over to Councillor H. V.

Emery a cheque for £200. In acknowledging with gratitude this handsome contribution, Councillor Emery paid tributes to the splendid work of Messrs. W. Rollinson (organiser), J. P. O'Connell (Secretary), and G. H. Beddow and the ladies committee. The entertainment, which was much enjoyed, was provided by Misses Jennie Durkin, Doreen Brown, Helen Beardsmore, Mrs. Mabel Stackhouse and Mr. Billy Williams, with Mrs. Vera Harper as accompanist. Thanks were largely to the generosity of Mr. F. Davies, who not only allowed the use of the Regent Picture Palace at Brownhills, but gave free publicity and provided the tickets, a show which Mr. Sam Rowbotham's 'Futurists' gave on behalf of the fund on Sunday afternoon was also very successful. Councillor J. A. Robson warmly thanked the party and all who had given help."

It closed in 2010.

It was converted into a shop. [2012]

SPURMAKERS ARMS

22, (46), Tantarra Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Caloe, miller, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall

G. Bird

Henry Purchase, 79, Bailey Street, Handsworth

Frederick and Albert Bayley, West Bromwich

G. W. Twist, White Horse Brewery

Twist's Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Smallwood [1862] – [1870]

William Clenton [1871] – [1873];

William Biddle [];

David Hedges [1880];

Henry Purchase [1881] – 1899);

Ellen (Purchase) Hanning (1899 – 1902);

John Stanley (1902 – 1903);

James Birch (1903 – 1905);

Edward James Beddows (1905 – 1910);

Robert Whittaker Brown (1910 – 1925);

William Albert Payne [1921] ?

Josiah Fullwood Webb (1925 – 1932);

Harold Hinton (1932 – 1934);

Harry Salt (1934 – 1936);

Albert George Thomas Brant (1936 – 1943);

John 'Jock' Cowan (1943 – 1951);

Alfred Leonard John Jeffery (1951 – 1952);

Claude Wilson (1952 – 1953);

Robert Joseph Mahon (1953 – 1954);

Levi Plimmer (1954 – 1956);

William James Madeley (1956 – 1959);

John Zenas Watts (1959 – 1966);

George Raymond Wilkins (1966):

NOTES

46, Tantarra Street [1871], [1872]

22, Tantarra Street [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It was known locally as the "Spurs".

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It had a wide side entrance with large double gates. The path through this entrance was cobbled, and led to the malt house and brewery at the rear.

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 5/4/1964

“In many parts of Britain the local factory has its complement in the local public house.....

Local history can be read in many places through the sign at the local hostelry, but few towns flaunt their basic industry on their inn signs more fully than Walsall. Saddlery it is, so you might expect a SADDLERS ARMS, but several other parts of the trade occur in the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, the HAME MAKERS ARMS and the recently demolished BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS.”

Joseph Smallwood = Joshua Smallwood

Walsall Free Press 26/4/1862

“Joseph Smallwood, beerhouse keeper, was charged with having had his house open at 1.45 on Good Friday forenoon. Police-constable No.10 said he visited the defendant’s house and found two men in the employment of the Commissioners, drunk. About half-past twelve, in company with Sergeant Mason, he again visited the house, and found one of these men and two others, also in the employment of the Commissioners, all of whom were drunk. Sergeant Mason having corroborated the evidence of the officer, the defendant said the Commissioners’ men were drunk when they came to his house, and he never filled any drink till after church hours. Defendant, after being cautioned, was discharged.”

Joseph Smallwood, beer retailer and spur maker, Tantarra Street. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 4/6/1864 - Advert

“A Pig To Be Bowled For, at Mr. J. Smallwood’s, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, on Monday Next, June 6th, 1864.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

“The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

Joshua Smallwood, SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street.” [Refused]

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications..... Mr. Glover applied, on behalf of Joseph Smallwood, SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street. Granted.”

Walsall Free Press 30/12/1865

“Mr. Smallwood, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, applied for an extension of time. Application refused.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/9/1866

“A match took place at Mr. J. Flemming’s the RING OF BELLS, Walsall, on Aug 27, between Bishop’s dog Ben and Foster’s dog Billy, to destroy seven rats each, for £10. Bishop’s dog destroyed his rats in forty-eight seconds, and Foster’s dog in fifty-one seconds. The betting was 2 to 1 on Billy. The winning dog can be backed to destroy rats for pounds, once their weight, against any rough dog in England, for £5 or £10 a side. A match can be made any day at J. Smallwood’s, the SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/7/1867

“J. Smallwood of Walsall has a rough terrier bitch, 14lb weight, that he will match to destroy 20 rats against any other rough terrier of the like weight, for £10 a side. Money ready at Smallwood’s SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall.”

1871 Census

46, Tantarra Street – SPUR MAKERS

[1] William Clenton (41), brush maker, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Glenton (29), wife, born Walsall:

Bells life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/10/1871

“W. Clenton of Walsall will match a dog to kill twice or three times its weight of rats against J. Lowe’s bitch Rose or Mr. Jarrott’s dog Brass, for £10 or £15 a side; or any other dog in Wolverhampton on the same terms. By applying at W. Clenton’s, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall, a match will be ensured.”

1881 Census

22, Tantarra Street

[1] Henry Purchase (32), brush maker, born Walsall;

[2] Ellen Purchase (25), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alice Purchase (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Harry Purchase (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] John Purchase (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Emily Purchase (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1885 - Register of Events

“Monday, June 15th. Conservative Meeting at the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street at 8pm.”

1891 Census

22, Tantarra Street – SPUR MAKERS ARMS

- [1] Henry Purchase (51), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Ellen Purchase (49), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Purchase (17), son, born Walsall;
- [4] John Purchase (15), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Purchase (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ada Purchase (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Joe Purchase (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] William Purchase (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Gilbert Purchase (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Dora Purchase (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] Annie Purchase (2), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 9/11/1895

“Yesterday afternoon the borough coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, touching the death of John Nichols (15), Tantarra Street, who died on Thursday morning from the effects of a fall. The Rev. C. E. McCreery was present.

Margaret Pearson said the deceased was her son by a former husband. On Sunday week he complained that his arm pained him and said that he and another boy had been ‘gaming’ at a mission room in John Street which he went to on Saturday evenings, when he fell with his arm across a board. Towards evening he also said he felt pains in his stomach. Dr. Angrove was called in on the following Wednesday, when deceased took to his bed, but he died on Thursday morning. He was insured.

Frank Brookes, the youth who was playing with deceased, said he did not remember Nicholl’s falling.

James Pearson, step brother, said deceased told him he must have caught his arm on the bagatelle table when playing with Brookes.

Dr. Angrove deposed to finding deceased vomiting severely and suffering from abdominal pains. The liver and bowels were evidently injured, from severe inflammation of the bowels arose with fatal results. A fall might produce such an issue.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/7/1896

“On Thursday afternoon Mr. Stanley (borough coroner) held an enquiry at the SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, touching the death of Dinah Liggins, aged three months, daughter of Mathew Henry Liggins, farm labourer, of 109 Tantarra Street. Deceased was taken to bed on Tuesday night, and about 4 o’clock next morning was found dead.

Dr. McKinsty now expressed the opinion that death was due to suffocation from overlaying, and a verdict to that effect was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1900 - Marriage

“On the 24th inst, by license, at the Registry Office, Walsall, Robert William Hanning, Park Row, Nottingham, advertising agent, to Ellen, widow of the late Henry Purchase, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Walsall.”

1901 Census

22, Tantarra Street

- [1] Robert W. Hanning (39), advert and agent’s canvasser, born Nottingham;
 - [2] Ellen Hanning (42), wife, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
 - [3] John Purchase (23), stepson, plumber, born Walsall;
 - [4] Emily Purchase (21), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
 - [5] Ada Purchase (19), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
 - [6] Joseph Purchase (17), stepson, born Walsall;
 - [7] William T. Purchase (14), stepson, born Walsall;
 - [8] Gilbert Purchase (13), stepson, born Walsall;
 - [9] Dora Purchase (10), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
 - [10] Frank Purchase (7), stepson, born Walsall:
- [Ellen Hanning was formerly Ellen Purchase from 1891, , and her children have only aged by 8 years.]

Walsall Advertiser 29/6/1901 - Advert

“Grains for Sale, two or three brewings weekly.

Hanning, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/11/1901 - Advert

“Important Sale by Auction of a very Valuable Full-Licensed Old-Established Public House, known as the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall, one of the best situated Licensed House in the Town, and commanding a large trade, being the nearest Inn to a large and rapidly growing district.

Walter Hughes is instructed by Mrs. E. Hanning (who is retiring from the trade after a very successful occupancy of 22 years) to offer for Sale by Auction at his Property Mart, The Bridge, Walsall, on Tuesday, 3rd December, 1901, at Seven pm precisely, subject to Conditions to be then read.

For further particulars, with Plan, apply to the Auctioneer, Walter Hughes, FAI, The Bridge, Walsall; or to Messrs. Nicklin & Wylie, Solicitors, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/12/1901

“On Tuesday evening, at his Property Mart, The Bridge, Walsall, in the presence of a very good company, Mr. Walter Hughes, offered several properties for auction.....

A full-licensed public house, the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall, leasehold, until March 1960, at a ground rent of £1 12s. The first bid was £2,000, and the last, £3,400. It was disposed of, however, at the close of sale, for £3,500, and a valuation of the fixtures and fittings.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/2/1902 - Advert

“Sale At Short Notice. SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall.

Monday Next, 5th February, 1902, at Eleven.

Unreserved Sale by Auction of Useful Household Furniture, Pianoforte, Safe by Lord, Bedroom Suite, and other capital Effects, as also a nearly new Princess Ralli Cart, Brass Mounted Harness, and a Gent’s Riding Saddle.

Walter Hughes, Auctioneer.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.

List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....

SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, 2s 1d.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/5/1905

“Staffordshire Conservative League.

The usual meeting of the Alfred Hauxwell Lodge was held on Monday at Bro. J. Birch’s, SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, when there was a good attendance. Apologies were read from the Worthy Grand (Bro. Hauxwell), and Bro. Holt (deputy of the lodge), Bro. Beaumont taking the vice-chair. After the ordinary business the evening was spent in harmony, the following contributing: Bros. G. Hughes, Gittings, Jones, Richards, Medlicott and Smith. The annual dinner was postponed till after Easter.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

The following dividends were paid out in connection with the various lodges of the Loyal Caledonian Corks: Lodge 504, BOROUGH ARMS, Ablewell Street, 6s 6d, night and card; 422, SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, 7s, night and card; 322 GOAT INN, Newhall Street, 5s 3d, two nights and card; 325, ALBION HOTEL, Wolverhampton Street, 2s 6d, night and card.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1910

“Walsall Harriers..... Today (Saturday), a seven mile handicap is to take place from the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street. The secretary hopes to see every member present to support the event, also to make arrangements and give out tickets and numbers for the novice championship at Coventry, next Saturday.”

1911 Census

22, Tantarra Street

[1] Robert Whittaker Brown (26), public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Beatrice Ann Brown (22), wife, married under one year, assisting in business, born Tipton;

[3] Annie Thornes (15), general servant, born Tipton:

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

“Loyal Caledonian Corks. On Monday last the officers of the Walsall District Lodge paid a regalia visit to the SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, which is the home of Lodge 422, there were also present visiting brothers from Lodges 187, 526, 322, 325, 421, 489, 245, and 68. Bro Day, district captain was elected to the chair, and Bro. J. Albrighton, district lieutenant, to the vice-chair.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street, Walsall, £1 0s 7d.”

Harry Salt – see also GREEN DRAGON.

1939 Register

22, Tantarra Street

[1] Albert G. T. Brant, date of birth 31/10/1900, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Millicent (Brant) Neville, dob 10/5/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 20/7/1940

“The mirror of coins at the SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street. They have been given by the customers for the benefit of the soldiers.”

Walsall Observer 12/4/1941 - Advert

“Malt for Strength & Energy. Hops for The Appetite. Yeast for The Blood.

Twists The Best Beer for You.

You can Drink and Enjoy Twists Ale at any the of the following Licensed Houses.....

SPUR MAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street.....

And All The Best Clubs.

Proprietary Whiskies, Foreign Wines and Spirits, High-Class British Sherries and Ports.

Head Office & Brewery, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Jock Cowan was married to Flo.

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SPURMAKERS ARMS, Tantarra Street. £0 1s 3d.”

Levi Plimmer – see also CROWN, Bloxwich.

John Zenas Watts – see also ENGINE.

It closed on 31st July 1966.

Demolished

STAG

Field Road, (93, (57), Field Street) / Harrison Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Charles Beech

Mark Baugh

Job Daniels

Henry Beech

Job Yardley, chemist, Bloxwich

J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.

Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd. [1913]

Frank Myatt Ltd.

Ansells Ltd.

Stan Owen

John Nuttall

Black Country Traditional Inns

LICENSEES

Charles Beech [1871] – [1872];

Mark Baugh [];

Job Daniels [1881]

Charles Dunn [];

Charles Wall [] – 1890);
Henry Mellor (1890 – 1891);
Peter Cooper (1891 – [];
John Tolley [1894] – 1898);
Mrs. Jane Tolley (1898 – 1915);
David Williams (1915 – 1922);
Herbert Spooner (1922 – []
Tom Bentley Golby [] – 1931);
Edward Gilbert (1931 – 1932);
Walter Reuben Adey (1932 – 1933);
Samuel Hollies (1933 – 1936);
Charles Baxter (1936 – 1938);
Joseph ‘Joe’ Seager (1938 – 1940);
Joseph Henry Hutton (1940 – 1945);
Robert Edward Speight (1945 – 1946);
Frank Wilson (1946 – 1947);
John Foy (1947 – 1949);
Herbert Eades (1949 – 1959);
Arthur Edward Snell (1959 – [1966]
Raymond ‘Ray’ Woodhouse [1986] – [1994]
Nigel Barker and Mark Satchell [2002]

NOTES

57, Field Street [1871]
93, Field Street [1891], [1901], [1902], [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was reputedly haunted.

1871 Census

57, Field Street – STAG

- [1] Charles Beech (36), awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Teresa Beech (26), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] James Willis (66), father, foundry blacksmith, born Shropshire;
- [4] Harriet Willis (62), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Titus Willis (37), brother, awl blade, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Mary A. Hartson (16), general servant, born Oldbury:

Charles Beech, beer retailer, The Field . [1872]

Lichfield Mercury 6/6/1890 - Advert

“Important Sale of Two Freehold Beerhouses at Bloxwich.

To Be Sold By Auction by Messrs Watkins and Powell, at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, on Monday, June 9th, 1890, at Six o’clock pm precisely.....

Lot 1. The desirable free Beerhouse known as the STAG INN, Bloxwich, situate in Field Street, Bloxwich, at the corner of Harrison Street, in the occupation of Mr. H. Mellor, at an annual rent of £24. The house does a good trade, and contains large vaults with club-room over, smoke-room, kitchens, brewhouse, three bed-rooms and good dry cellars, and has a garden. Lot 1 is freehold.....”

Walsall Advertiser 14/6/1890

“On Monday evening last at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bloxwich, before a large and representative gathering Mr. H. C. Powell (Messrs. Watkins and Powell) offered by auction two freehold beerhouses situate at Bloxwich. Lot 1, known as the STAG INN situate on Field Street, at the corner of Harrison Street in the occupation of Mr. H. Mellor at an annual rent of £24. Biddings started at £200 but speedily rose to £525, but as this did not reach the reserve it was withdrawn. It had since been sold privately.....”

1891 Census

93, Field Street

- [1] Henry Mellor (34), beerhouse keeper, born Hill Top, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Mellor (35), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Ann Mellor (14), daughter, general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Henry Mellor (12), son, born Bloxwich;

- [5] Mary Jane Mellor (10), daughter, born Staffordshire;
[6] William Mellor (6), son, born Staffordshire;
[7] John Mellor (4), son, born Staffordshire;
[8] Katherine Mellor (3), daughter, born Staffordshire;
[9] Margaret Mellor (9 months), daughter, born Staffordshire:

David Williams was fined 10s and costs, on 24th January 1894, for conducting a lottery.

John Tolley = John Tolly

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1894

“John Tolly, of the STAG INN, Bloxwich, was summoned for having committed a breach of the Lottery Act. Mr. Taylor said the offence was committed on the 8th instant, and it was a raffle for a pig. He had previously given warning, and attended the Licensed Victuallers’ dinner to warn publicans of the penalties they would suffer if the practice continued. Defendant admitted his guilt but pleaded ignorance of the law. Fined 10s and costs, the Bench being of opinion that proper warning had been given.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday.... In the case of John West, the CLOCKMAKERS ARMS, Rolling Mill Street, the Pleck, against whom there was a conviction for aiding and abetting a lottery, the decision was reserved; as was the case of John Tolly, the STAG INN, Bell Street, Bloxwich, against whom a like conviction.... The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that all the other applications would be granted.”

John Tolley, beer retailer, Field Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“On Monday an inquest was held at the STAG INN, Field Street, Bloxwich, relative to the death of the landlord of that house, John Tolley, which occurred under very peculiar circumstances on Friday at the early age of 29. Mrs. Jane Tolley, his widow, said the deceased was a beerhouse keeper and coal miner. Deceased got up on Friday between 10 and 11, and went to the loft to cut some chaff. When he had been gone about ten minutes her son John Henry, aged 14, came and said he heard his father making a noise, and thought something was the matter. She ran up the yard and called her husband but got no answer. She got up the loft as soon as she could, and found him lying insensible on the floor in the loft, with his head towards the chaff cutter. She ran down to get some water and called his brother, Abner Tolley. She did not go into the loft again. Her husband had not been well since being hurt at the No.4 Pit, Fishley Colliery, May 8th, 1896, when his head was crushed and his back hurt. He was in Walsall District Hospital three weeks after that, and Dr. Martin had attended him since. The sister at the hospital told her to notice her husband, and that he might go off at any time through his head being so badly hurt. Her husband had tried to work since he was ill both at Fishley and Norton Cannock, but could not do so. Henry Tolley (15), said that whilst in the yard on Friday morning, about eleven, he heard his father making a noise. He saw him go up the yard about half-past ten. He stayed in the stable a bit, and then went into the loft. He heard the chaffcutter going in the loft, and thought his father was cutting chaff. The chaffcutter stopped, and not many seconds after he heard a noise in the loft as if his father was groaning, and went and told his mother. Abner Tolley, coal miner and landlord of the Horse And Jockey Inn, Far Forest Rock, near Bewdley, said he was staying with his brother, the deceased, for a holiday. On the morning of Friday, December 31st, he was upstairs at the STAG INN, when a message came to him – Mrs. Tolley wanted him quick as she thought his brother was in a fit. He at once went into the loft, and found him lying on his right side, quite dead. By Mr. Baker: He had often seen him hold his hand to his side. He generally went bad after exertion. Since the accident he seemed short of breath, but never before. By the Jury: He had cut about half a sack of chaff that morning. By Mr. Baker: He regularly rode a bicycle before the accident, but could not ride much since. Wm. Bird, awl blade maker, of 63, Field Road, also spoke to seeing the man just after he had died. Dr. J. P. Hubbard said he was called to and saw the deceased at about 11.20 on Friday morning, he was dead and had been for half an hour. He was lying on his back, his face rather pale, the pupils of his eyes were dilated, the eyes were soft, and they had lost their lustre. He found the body well nourished, but the tissues were rather flabby and relaxed, and in all probability the muscles of the head would be relaxed also. He was of opinion that the cause of death was failure of the heart’s action – syncope. The injury one received would probably dispose to weaken the heart’s action by relaxing the muscles, but it was not the actual cause of death. By Mr. Baker: Witness knew nothing of the case before. If deceased had not exerted himself he might have lived for years. He was in a very weak condition. So far as witness could see there was no general weakness, but he did not know how the weakness was brought about. The exertion in working the chaff cutter caused syncope. Dr. Martin: He was out of condition, and his heart would not allow him to do much work. The probability was that he had fatty heart tissue. The real cause of death was failure of the heart’s action. The inquest was adjourned to Monday next in order that a post-mortem examination might be made.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/1/1898

“.....Dr. Willmore, who had made the examination, now stated that in his opinion the cause of death was a sudden convulsion, or a series of convulsions, consequent on the exertion which deceased had been making reacting on the brain, which had been damaged and weakened by previous injury. The primary cause of death was the accident at the pit, and the secondary convulsions, which would be brought on by the low state of health in which Tolley was and the condition of the brain. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Jane Tolley = Jane Tolly

Jane Tolley was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

93, Field Street – STAG INN

- [1] Jane Tolly (46), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Roshannah Tolly (20), daughter, dressmaker, born Pensax, Worcestershire;
- [3] Henry Tolly (18), son, bricklayer's labourer, born Pensax, Worcestershire;
- [4] Matthew Tolly (16), son, coal miner, born Pensax, Worcestershire:

Mrs. Jane Tolley, beer retailer, Field Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Jane Tolley, STAG.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Jackson further applied for an alteration to be made to the drinking area of the STAG INN, Bloxwich, for domestic convenience. He explained that the alteration was simply taking a wall down and converting two rooms into one large one, which was a trivial matter. The architect, Mr. Hartill, was then called into the box.

Mr. Loxton: I suppose you think that this is a trivial matter (laughter). – Mr. Hartill: It is for domestic convenience (laughter). Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough, adjourned from the previous Wednesday, were resumed on Tuesday.....

Mr. Loxton read out the following decisions the magistrates had come to.....

Alterations to the following houses were refused: STAG, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1910

“Walsall Harriers.....

Don't forget next handicap, week today, from STAG INN, Bloxwich. Cooper is favourite.”

1911 Census

93, Field Street

- [1] Jane Tolley (54), widow, licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Harry Tolley (28), son, bricklayer, born Lindridge, Worcestershire:

Mrs. Jane Tolley, beer retailer, 93, Field Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The following were the notices of objection (Compensation Clause).....

- NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Hy. Mellor).
- SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Jacob Williams).
- NELSON, Church Street, Bloxwich. (Jos. Wall).
- STAG, Field Street, Bloxwich. (Jane Tolley).
- PLOUGH, Cemetery Road, (Charles Mansfield).
- RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, (Charles Orgill).
- STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, (Charles Ernest Perry).
- BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich, (Benjamin Hughes).”

AND

“The Court re-assembled yesterday (Friday) morning.....

The STAG, Bloxwich. In this case Mr. Pritchard represented the owners, the Old Wolverhampton Brewery Co. Ltd., and the tenant, Jane Tolley.

Inspector Pritchard said that there were altogether three licensed houses in the street, the population being 283 persons over 16, 201 under 16, and there were 103 occupied houses. He had visited the house sixteen times in ten weeks and found altogether 149 customers, an average of 9 per visit.

Jane Tolley gave evidence to the effect that she paid £28 per year rent, and all other outgoings. The trade in beer last year was 288 barrels, and minerals. Witness had occupied the house for 22 years and never had a complaint.

Mr. Pritchard said he did not think there was a house anywhere in Bloxwich better situated for its trade than the STAG. He pointed out that amongst the eight objections on the list, no less than three were in one ownership, and he ventured to say that that was a very large proportion.....

Having retired, the Bench announced that the licenses of the STAG and the STORES would be renewed for this year, but might be considered at some future date. The remaining six houses would be referred to the compensation authorities.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
STAG INN, Bloxwich. £0 11s 1½d.”

Charles Baxter was an amateur boxer.

The original pub closed on 18th May 1931.

The new building opened on 19th May 1931.

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/5/1931

“Walsall Licensing Bench, on Monday, sitting as the Confirmation Authority.....

The removal of the license of the BLUE PIG, Bloxwich, to new premises in Fields Road, to be known as the STAG HOTEL, was also confirmed, the license of the present STAG HOTEL, Fields Road, being referred to the Compensation Authority.”

Edward ‘Teddy’ Gilbert was born in 29th December 1883, in Walsall.

He joined the Walsall Swimming Club in 1894.

He swam for Walsall, Staffordshire and England.

He played water polo for Walsall and England.

He was a special constable during World War One.

He was a china dealer before becoming a licensee.

He died on 1st January 1932.

See also PRINCE.

Walsall Observer 20/8/1932

“A music and singing license for weekdays between the hours of 7 and 10pm was granted in respect of the STAG HOTEL, Field Road, for meetings of the Bloxwich Choral Society.”

Samuel Hollies – see also NEW INN and THREE TUNS.

Charles Baxter – see also THREE CUPS.

Walsall Observer 26/8/1939 - Advert

“Bar-General or Bar Man Wanted, live in or out, smart; good wages; references.

Apply, STAG INN, Field Road, Bloxwich.”

1939 Register

Field Road – STAG HOTEL

[1] Joseph Seager, date of birth 14/4/1896, public house manager, married;

[2] Doris M. Seager, dob 14/6/1895, public house manageress, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

STAG HOTEL, Bloxwich, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 2/10/1943 - Notice

“War Charities Act, 1940.

New STAG HOTEL, Field Road, Bloxwich, Forces Fund Committee.

Notice is Hereby Given that it is proposed to apply to Walsall Town Council for Registration under the above-mentioned Act of the above Committee to provide Comforts for Customers in H.M. Forces.

Any Objection to proposed Registration to be sent to the above Council within 14 days of the date of this Notice.
J. R. Bickley, Secretary.
20, Guild Avenue, Leamore, Walsall.
2nd October, 1943.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
STAG HOTEL, Field Road, Bloxwich. £1 0s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 1/4/1944 - Advert

“Barmaid, full-time, must be smart; also Evening Help Wanted.
Apply, the STAG, Field Road, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 8/4/1944 - Advert

“New STAG HOTEL Dance
On Tuesday, April 18th, 1944, at Bloxwich Baths.
All Proceeds to New STAG Forces Fund.
Registered under War Charities Act, 1940.
Music by Jack Bradney and his Band.
Dancing 7-45 till 12-0 pm.
Ansells Bar. Spot Prizes.
Tickets 3/-; Forces 1/6 (Pay at Door).”

Walsall Observer 15/4/1944 - Advert

“An application for an occasional licence for the sale of intoxicants at a dance to be held at Bloxwich Baths on April 18, in aid of the STAG Forces Comforts Fund was strongly opposed by the Chief Constable (Mr. T. Mark Watson) at Walsall Police Court on Wednesday.

‘I regard this as an outrageous application,’ the Chief Constable stated. ‘There are many licensed houses with comfort funds, and if you grant this application you will have others by the score. I look upon this as something in the nature of a preliminary canter, or a try-out, to see how much can be obtained, and I definitely oppose it.’

The magistrates (Messrs. J. Cliff Tibbits and A. E. Hurst) refused the application.”

AND

“The above Committee regret to announce that the Licence for a Bar has not been granted.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....
New members..... Mr. Robert Edward Speight, STAG HOTEL, Field Road, Bloxwich.”

Evening Despatch 25/10/1945

“Joseph Hutton, licensee of the STAG HOTEL, Bloxwich, was fined £5 at Birmingham today for using motor fuel on a journey which could have been by public transport. On his behalf it was stated that he had gone from Walsall to Birmingham in order to get a part for a radiogram so that his customers could hear the news that night.”

Frank Wilson – see also BRIDLECUTTERS ARMS.

Walsall Observer 9/2/1962

“Sam Pritchard of the NEW STAG, Field Road, Bloxwich, recent winner of the Walsall and Wolverhampton sub-area title, won the Staffordshire area final of the News of the World individual darts championship of England and Wales.....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/9/1994

“Down Your Local. STAG, Field Road, Bloxwich.

Step inside the STAG and you feel as though you are stepping back in time – stretching back a century. Built in 1931 close to an ale house of the same name, the pub was refurbished in 1987 as one of Ansells Heritage Inns. It was done out in typical Victorian style with the walls and shelves adorned with period knick-knacks. There’s an old bedroom fire grate used as a corner shelf, an old cooking range in the pool room and a display on the bar of genuine old pub games, including shove-halfpenny, bar skittles and nine men’s morris.

Landlord Ray Woodhouse and his wife Audrey have been at the pub nine years. ‘It was a dump when we arrived,’ he recalls. ‘A real spit and sawdust sort of place – without the sawdust!’ He’d previously worked as a sales representative selling kitchen furniture but was made redundant and ploughed his redundancy pay into the pub. ‘I was a total newcomer to the pub trade although I did pull my first pint at the age of 18 at the Villa Cross in Handsworth,’ says Oldbury-born Ray. ‘Nearly £100,000 has been spent on the place and we have paid for a lot of the work ourselves. The STAG is now what I call a lunchtime pub. We have a very mixed clientele and get everyone from school teachers and office workers to labourers.’ The refurbishment also included the provision of wider doors for easier wheelchair access. The couple, married 33 years, have two grandchildren and three children. Ray has trained all the kitchen staff and takes great pride in the pub’s cuisine. ‘I used to work in an old-fashioned grocery,’ he explains. ‘That’s where I learned the art of good food and it has stayed with me ever since.’

The pub is comprised of a single room, but with three distinct areas. The parlour contains a pool table and a genuine, restored, kitchen range. The public bar is divided into two smaller alcoves and the lounge is monopolised by diners. A wide-ranging menu of bar meals, from snacks to home-made pies, is served at lunchtimes. In the evening, a full A La Carte menu is available. On Sunday there’s food at lunchtimes only and barbecues are held on summer weekends. The pub boasts a large fire. A separate function room, with skittle alley, is available for hire. The garden has a children’s play area where Bank Holiday events and activities are held. Different guest beers are put on sale every Thursday until they run out.....”

Nigel Barker had managed pubs in Derby, and KING GEORGE V, and Bartons Arms, Aston.

It closed in 2004.

It was demolished in 2004.

STAG AND PHEASANT

Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 31/8/1840 - Advert

“Old-Licensed Public House, the STAG AND PHEASANT, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by W. R. Jobson, Tomorrow, Sept 1, commencing half past ten – the valuable Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above remarkably low-rented Public House, together with the substantial Public House Fixtures, superior Brewing Vessels, Household Furniture, valuable Shop Tools, and other Effects; particulars of which may be obtained at the Auctioneer’s Offices, Bull Ring, Birmingham.”

STAR AND BOAT LINE

Pleck Lane, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Moses Millington [1865] – [1866]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 4/3/1865

“At M. Millington’s, the STAR AND BOAT LINE INN, Walsall, on Monday week, the match between Messrs. Faulkner and Woodward, to shoot at five sparrows each, on the usual conditions as to shot, rise, and boundary, came off in presence of a good company. The betting was 6 to 4 on Faulkner, who won by killing three birds to two.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/3/1865

“At M. Millington’s, the STAR AND BOAT LINE INN, Pleck, near Walsall, on Monday, there was a good attendance present to witness the following sweepstakes shot for.....”

Walsall Free Press 28/7/1866

“Moses Millington, beerhouse-keeper, Pleck Lane, was charged with having, on the 14th inst, used threatening language to Police-constable Lees.

From the officer’s evidence it appeared that, about mid-day on the day in question, he served defendant with a summons for his dog being at large. After looking at the summons, and making use of profane and abusive language, the defendant threatened to break the officer’s neck if he was not off the premises; and in consequence of that threat he was afraid that defendant would do him some bodily harm.

Mr. Wilson, of Lichfield, who appeared for the defendant, cross-examined the officer, but nothing was elicited to shake his evidence in chief. Mr. Wilson called Ann Shirley, who said she heard the police saying to defendant, ‘I’ll make it hot for you.’ The officer admitted saying so; but said it after Millington had used the threat complained of, and that he meant by making it ‘hot,’ that he would bring him before the Bench.

Another witness named Robert Wilkins said Millington told the policeman to go about his business; and thereupon the officer threatened to make it hot for the defendant.

The Bench bound the defendant over to keep the peace for six months – himself in £20, and two sureties in £10 each.”

Walsall Free Press 10/10/1868

“Mr. Glover applied for the transfer of the ALBION public-house, Wolverhampton Lane, to Mr. Moses Millington, beerhouse-keeper, The Pleck. The chief of Police applied to have the application adjourned, as he had not received any notice of it. To this course Mr. Glover assented.”

STAR AND GARTER

31, (32), (29), (27), Station Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Wilcox, spur maker, Caldmore, Walsall

John Mills

Joseph Wilcox

Mrs. Wilcox, Caldmore Road, Walsall

J. & J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.

Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd. [1910]

LICENSEES

John Mills [1865] – [1881];

James Gretton [];

Samuel Wylde [];

Stephen Wilson []

Thomas Poole [1891]

Albert James Hulse [1890] – 1893);

George Isaac Everiss (1893 – 1904);

Arthur Starkey [1901] tenant

Arthur Starkey (1904 – 1910):

NOTES

31, Station Street [1871], [1901]

29, Station Street [1881]

27, Station Street [1891]

32, Station Street

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It also had a refreshment license.

Walsall Free Press 16/9/1865 - Advert

“STAR & GARTER INN, 31, Station Street, Walsall.

The public are respectfully informed that an Harmonic Meeting will be held at the above Inn, every Wednesday Evening, commencing of the 6th inst. when the company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour by the Proprietor, John Mills.

Chair to be taken at Eight o'clock.”

John Mills, beer retailer, 31, Station Street. [1868], [1870], [1872]

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1871 Census

31, Station Street – The STAR AND GARTER

- [1] John Mills (47), harness maker employing 5 men and 2 boys, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha Mills (40), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Martha Barton (20), niece, general servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary J. Bowater (16), niece, harness stitcher, born Walsall:

1881 Census

29, Station Street – Beerhouse

- [1] John Mills (56), beerhouse keeper and harness maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha Mills (50), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Bowater (24), niece, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] James Bowater (8), nephew, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Louisa Duson (41), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Evening Express 20/12/1881

“A petition has been filed in the Walsall County Court on behalf of John Mills, of Station Street, Walsall, wine and beer retailer, and harness manufacturer. The liabilities are estimated at £400; assets not yet ascertained. Mr. George Cotterell is solicitor to the debtor.”

Alfred Hulse was also a patent leather striper. [1890]

1891 Census

31, Station Street

- [1] Albert James Hulse (28), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie M. Hulse (26), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Frank A. Hulse (5), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Albert V. Hulse (3), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles W. Hulse (2), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Eliza A. Kendall (17), servant, born Warley, Staffordshire;
- [7] Clara J. Birch (22), visitor, dressmaker, born Walsall:

1891 Census

27, Station Street – STAR AND GARTER

- [1] Thomas Poole (40), publican, born Dawley Bank, Shropshire;
- [2] Emily Parle (43), wife, born Quarry Bank;
- [3] Alice Barrow (19), general servant, born Sheffield:

[Both entries are from the 1891 Census. The latter one seems to be for this pub, but the former one tallies with the licensing register.]

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1893

“The employés of Messrs. Homes and Salt met at the STAR AND GARTER INN, Station Street, on Tuesday to celebrate the outcome of Mr. C. Jones. A substantial dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Everiss in their well-known style. Mr. J. E. Cocking took the chair. After the good things provided had been partaken of, the health of Mr. Jones was proposed by Mr. Boyce on behalf of all present. Mr. Jones in a few well-chosen words responded, thanking those present for the kindly spirit they had shown towards him that day, adding the health of ‘the Employers,’ which was enthusiastically honoured. Mr. Boyce then proposed the Host and Hostess, other toasts followed. The evening was afterwards spent in harmony, some good songs well rendered by Messrs. C. Cooper, J. Boyce, J. Taylor, A. Lanchlang, and others. A pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/8/1895

“Messrs. Watkins, Powell, and Wood held an important and successful sale of freehold and leasehold properties in Walsall at their Property Sale Rooms on Tuesday evening, when the following lots changed hands.....

The free beerhouse known as the STAR AND GARTER, Station Street, Walsall, at the corner of Station Street, and Little Station Street, occupied by the South Staffordshire Brewery Company at an annual rental of £36, with the range of two-storey shopping, yard, and outoffices at the rear. The land being freehold and containing an area of 157½ square yards sold for £800.....

The lots disposed of were sold by order of the trustees of the will of the late Mr. Edwin Wilcox.”

George Isaac Everiss, beer retailer, 31, Station Street. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1897

“George Isaac Everiss, of the STAR AND GARTER INN, Station Street, was summoned on a charge of permitting drunkenness on the 17th inst. Mr. T. A. Hill did not adjudicate in this case. Mr. Hunt (Hunt and Skidmore, Wolverhampton) defended. Evidence was given by Police-constable 42 (Dicken) that he saw one Patrick Ford drunk and rolling about the street. Ford went into defendant’s house, and Dicken went in about a quarter of an hour afterwards in company with Police-constable Grainger and found Ford still there sitting at a table and cutting up tobacco. On the defendant’s attention being called to the man he said, ‘The man’s had nothing to drink here and I’ve asked him to go.’ Ford who was so drunk that he fell off the bench, denied that the defendant had asked him to go.

Police-constable Grainger gave corroborative evidence.

Mr. Hunt, for the defence, urged that if the man were as drunk as was alleged, it was the officer’s duty to have warned the landlord. Defendant refused drink to Ford, and tried to coax him to leave.

Everiss was called to give evidence, and stated that Ford was a very rough customer, and that he tried to persuade him to go, and had been to look for a policeman.

In cross-examination, however, he admitted that he was at the window, and saw the policeman, but did not call him to eject Ford. The Bench ordered defendant to pay costs.”

AND

“Patrick Ford, of Upper Hall Lane, was then charged with having been drunk on licensed premises. It was stated that this was Ford’s Jubilee appearance at the court. A fine of 10s and costs or 14 days was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

25th June, George Isaac Everiss, STAR AND GARTER, Station Street was ordered to pay costs from permitting drunkenness.”

1901 Census

31, Station Street

[1] George I. Everiss (59), publican, born Charmans Cross, Warwickshire;

[2] Harriet Everiss (56), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] George Everiss (24), son, bridle cutter, born Fazeley, Staffordshire;

[4] Ethel M. Everiss (18), daughter, printer’s clerk, born Walsall;

[5] Lizzie Moseley (21), general servant, born Leamore:

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1901

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New members..... Mr. George Isaac Everiss, STAR AND GARTER INN, Station Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

STAR AND GARTER HOTEL. With reference to this house, Mr. Wylie in addressing the Bench said that he was in their hands, he had no locus standi there, and it was only by their courtesy that he was entitled to speak. He was not going into any legal questions, but what he wished to say on behalf of the owners and tenant was that no objection had been served when the others were served, and the license had been renewed. Now it had been intimated that objection was to be made, and whether rightly or wrongly, his clients drew the inference that they were safe for another year. Looking at it from his client’s point of view, if the objection was on the grounds of redundancy, then there was redundancy when the license was granted, whilst another beerhouse close by had been taken away which made the redundancy less. The present tenant had been there since 1903. They did not have notices at the same time as the others, and he did ask the Bench to look into the matter as whether it was fair to the tenant and owners.

The Bench intimated that they would consider the matter after the notice had been served.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 11th March 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o’clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

STAR AND GARTER, Station Street. Beerhouse. Licensee Arthur Starkey.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1910

“A meeting of the Licensing Justices was held on Tuesday morning.....

The renewal of the license of the STAR AND GARTER as applied for by Mr. Grundy-Newman. The tenant was Arthur Starkey, and the house was used, like the previous one, for letting beds.

Inspector Ballance said there were four houses in Station Street, excluding the Grand Theatre.

The license was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910

“A supplementary meeting of the Licensing Justices to consider claims for compensation was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall. Mr. W. Bayliss presided, and there were present Messrs. W. E. Blyth, T. A. Smith, J. Clare, W. Halford, A. D. Cozens, J. J. Lynch, A. Jagger, and R. Thomas. The following houses came up for consideration.....

STAR AND GARTER, Station Street; owners, Old Wolverhampton Brewery Ltd; tenant and licensee, Alfred [sic] Starkey.”

Arthur Starkey, beer retailer, 31, Station Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1912

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, the Mayor (Councillor J. Venables) presiding. Four licensed houses came up for consideration, with the question of compensation to be paid for closing them. The houses were the SADDLERS HOME and the STAR AND GARTER public houses in Station Street, and the VAULTS, in High Street, and the ROVERS REST at Leamore. It was decided that the four houses should be closed on or before March 25th, and the amounts to be paid as compensation were agreed upon between the justices and the parties concerned.”

STARTING GATE

16, (6), (17), Newport Street / 16, Little Newport Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Henry Newman [1845]

Miss Kate Eglington, Mountrath Street, Walsall

Northampton Brewery Co. Ltd.

Old Wolverhampton Brewery [1907]

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd. [1927]

Ansells Ltd. [1983]

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1995]

LICENSEES

William Henry Newman [1845] – [1851]

James Eglington [1858] – [1861]

William Butler [1861] – [1865]

Mrs. Bessey Butler [1868] – [1870]

William Toms [1871] – [1873];

Mrs. Bessey Toms [];

William Harris [1880] – [1883];

Thomas Plant [1891] – 1895;

Edmund Lord (1895 – 1896);

Robert Abbot (1896 – 1897);

Mrs. Jane Abbott (1897 – 1912);

Arthur Cresswell (1912 – 1915);

Henry Davis (1915 – 1928);

William Henry Lawrence (1928 – 1934);

Ada Lawrence (1934 – 1935);

Herbert William Mellor (1935 – 1937);

Mrs. Annie Margaret Andrews (1937 – 1942);

Florence Joan Guest (1942 – 1944);

Edgar George Russell (1944 – 1945);

Ethel May Freeman (1945 – 1960);

Mary Elizabeth Timms (1960 – 1961);

John Enoch Wiggin (1961);

Philip Brian Cross (1961 – 1962);

George Edward Morris (1962 – 1966);

Ronald Harry Cox (1966 – 1967);

John Ernest Chambers (1967 – []

Arthur Hurley []

NOTES

16, Newport Street [1860], [1891], [1901], [1932], [1939], [1940]

16, Little Newport Street [1861]

6, Newport Street [1871]

17, Newport Street [1881]

It was originally the STAND TAVERN.

William Butler = William Buttler

He was also a hamemaker. [1861], [1864], [1865]

1861 Census

16, Little Newport Street – STAND TAVERN

[1] William Butler (38), harness maker, born Birmingham;

[2] Betsey Butler (37), wife, born Walsall;

[3] William Butler (14), son, harness maker, born Walsall;

[4] Mary J. Butler (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Edward J. Butler (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Alice Butler (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Elizabeth Butler (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Martha Maceland (16), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Free Press 19/8/1865

“On Tuesday afternoon last, an elderly man named John Morgan, who lived in Little Newport Street, and maintained himself by standing in the market with vegetables, committed suicide by hanging himself during the temporary absence of his wife, from a beam in the kitchen of the house which he occupied. At the inquest which was held on Wednesday last, before Mr. A. A. Fletcher, at the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, Elizabeth Morgan, wife of the deceased, said she left him at half-past two in the afternoon, to go a walk, on her return in a short time, she found the house locked up, and the shutters closed; she became alarmed as deceased had been strange in his manner for the last few days, and got assistance to break into the house, deceased had been drinking for some days previous to his death.

Thomas Clark, stirrup maker, Poll Street, said he was near the house at the time he heard an alarm, when he saw deceased hanging as above described, he immediately cut him down, and thought he showed some sign of life. Mr. Day, surgeon, was at once sent for, but on that gentleman’s arrival in a quarter of an hour, he pronounced him to be quite dead. The witness stated that he saw no chair or other article near deceased when he cut him down on which he could have stood to commit the act, this was accounted for by the probability of the man in his struggle kicking whatever was under him to a distance. The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity. The unfortunate man it appeared lately suffered from the loss of a pony, and other reverses; this and intemperance habits no doubt led to the state of mind which produced the commission of the act.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/7/1868

“On Saturday last an inquest was held at the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner, upon the body of William Thacker, a cotton maker, who committed suicide that (Saturday) morning, by cutting his throat in a most deliberate manner. The deceased left his bed at about six o’clock, and at once proceeded downstairs to the brewhouse, to which place his daughter was soon afterwards attracted by hearing him making a kind of moaning noise. The poor girl was horrified at finding her father with a terrific gash across his throat, and standing in such a position as to let the blood flow freely from the wound. She of course gave an alarm instantly, and Dr. Day was fetched, but before his arrival life was extinct; and, indeed, had he been present at the moment Thacker was discovered, his skill could have availed little, owing to the determination with which the wound had been inflicted. The deceased was about fifty years of age, and he leaves a wife and family. It was stated that he had been in a despondent state for some time, in consequence of slackness of trade, and that during the previous few days he had been drinking rather freely. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity.”

1871 Census

6, Newport Street – STAND TAVERN

[1] William Toms (54), wood carver, born Bath;

[2] Bessey Toms (46), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alice Butler (15), daughter in law, barmaid, born Walsall;

[4] Elizabeth Butler (11), daughter in law, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph Butler (9), son in law, scholar, born Walsall;

- [6] Francis Butler (6), son in law, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Thomas Matthews (26), boarder, French polisher, born Newent, Gloucestershire;
[8] Charles C. N. Blake (19), boarder, brush maker, born America;
[9] Edward G. Bailey (20), boarder, wood turner, born Stourbridge:
[Was Bessey Toms the same person as Bessey Butler?]

1881 Census

17, Newport Street

- [1] William Harris (52), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
[2] Caroline Harris (54), wife, born Birmingham;
[3] Lizzie Harris (16), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Annie Wilkes (21), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/8/1883

“Statue To The Late Sister Dora.

At a Town Meeting, convened and presided over by his Worship the Mayor (B. Beebee, Esq), on Monday, the 18th inst, in the Temperance Hall, it was proposed by Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, Town Clerk, and seconded by Mr. James Slater, supported by Messrs. S. Cox and T. Marlow, and unanimously resolved:

‘That, in the opinion of this meeting, representing all classes of the community within the Borough of Walsall, the life, labours, and self-devotion of the late Sister Dora ought to be commemorated by the erection of a Statue of such a character as keep fresh the remembrance of the pure aims, and the unselfish and untiring labours that dispensed health, blessing, and comfort to thousands of afflicted persons; the fund for which to be raised by the subscriptions, and the Statue to be the property of all classes’

The following donations have been promised.

Mr. W. Harris, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. 5s 6d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/11/1887

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Caroline Weaver (20), married, 7 Court, Stafford Street, and Charlotte Sadler (14), of the same address, were charged with obtaining 2s, by false pretences, from Thomas Plant, keeper of the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. The false pretence consisted of taking a note purporting to have been written by Mrs. Emma Lynex, asking for a loan of 2s.

Mrs. Lynex said the girl Sadler was about three months ago turned out of doors by her mother-in-law, and witness gave her shelter for the night, and in the morning went with her to her parents. The mother-in-law said the girl was not her child, and she could not keep her, and the father refused to do anything for her, saying she might go and drown herself or do what she liked for all he cared, but neither of them making any allegation against her character. Witness then took the girl back with her, kept her for a month, and got her a situation; but she was not strong enough to keep it. The mother-in-law soon after her marriage to the girl’s father received a legacy of £600 or £700, and she then turned her step-children out of doors.

The woman Weaver, and Elizabeth Mason (14) were charged with obtaining 2s under false pretences from Lizzie Whittaker, wife of George Whittaker, sadler and grocer, Bridgeman Street, the accused were remanded until Wednesday.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/11/1887 - Advert

“Lost, a White Bull Terrier Bitch.

Anyone returning the same to Mr. Plant, STAND TAVERN, will be Rewarded.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/5/1888 - Advert

“Lost from the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, a White Bull Terrier Bitch; answers to the name of ‘Daisy.’

Anyone returning it will be rewarded.”

1891 Census

16, Newport Street – STAND TAVERN

- [1] Thomas Plant (41), publican, born Lichfield;
[2] Elizabeth Plant (42), wife, born Warwick;
[3] Ann E. Plant (17), daughter, born Walsall;
[4] Florence M. Plant (13), daughter, born Walsall;
[5] George W. Plant (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Harry T. Plant (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[7] Eunch (?) Jane Vincent (21), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1895

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. E. J. Wilkins, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street.

The secretary was requested to convey to the family of the late Mr. Thomas Plant, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, the committee’s sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

The following expenditure was sanctioned: The funeral donation to the representatives of Mr. Thomas Plant deceased (£5 10s), who joined the society on 14th May, 1886, and the expenses connected with the funeral.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.

We have to report with regret the decease of the following members during the past year, viz.: Mrs. Elizabeth Plant, FREE MASONS ARMS INN, Park Street, Walsall; Mr. Thomas Plant, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street; Mr. George Maund, The VAULTS, High Street, Walsall, whose funerals your committee attended, and to whose relatives we have tendered our respectful sympathy.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

“Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.

An application was made by Mr. H. H. Jackson for sanction to add a cottage to the present licensed area of the STAND TAVERN in Newport Street, and to alter the premises. There would be no increase in the drinking accommodation. There was, it appeared, an unoccupied cottage, and an ashpit door through which illicit trading might take place.

Mr. McCardie opposed.

The Bench did not approve the plans.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“Yesterday afternoon the remains were interred at Wood Green Cemetery of Mr. Robert Abbott, the landlord of the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. Deceased, who was only 39 years of age, expired rather suddenly on Tuesday evening. He had been ailing for some months from internal complications, the result it was thought, of the many changes of climate he had experienced, he having lived some years in America and Australia. He only came to Walsall a year ago but his uniform civility and courtesy soon gained for him a circle of friends by whom he was much esteemed. He was a man of very regular habits and quiet retiring disposition, was a member of the Tamworth Licensed Victuallers and the R.A.O.B., both of which societies were represented at the funeral. He leaves a widow, but no family. Many beautiful floral tributes were placed on his coffin.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/10/1897 - Advert

“To Let, small Warehouse in Newport Street.

Apply STAND TAVERN.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1898

“Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of Mrs. Jane Abbott, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, to add a cottage adjoining. The plans for alteration were proved by Messrs. Hickton and Farmer. Application granted.”

1901 Census

16, Newport Street

[1] Jane Abbott (44), widow, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Samuel Leech (21), nephew, barman, born Sedgley;

[3] Mary Fletcher (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1903

“Over thirty members of the Walsall Branch of the Operative Plumbers’ Society partook of a supper on Wednesday evening at the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. The primary object of the gathering was to take leave of one of their members, Mr. A. Hathaway, who is today leaving England for Durban. After a capital repast, Mr. W. H. Williams, a former employer of the guest of the evening, occupied the chair, and songs, &c, were given by Messrs. Devey, Poole, Thompson, Price, &c. The Chairman in presenting Mr. Hathaway with a gold signet ring, bearing his monogram, said he was one of the best apprentices he had ever had, and spoke in the highest terms of his energy, pluck, and determination, wishing him every success in his new sphere. Mr. Tom Williams, secretary of the lodge, proposed the toast of Mr. Hathaway in eulogistic terms, and it was drunk with musical honours. Mr. D. Lloyd, Mr. J. Bevan (Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners) and others took part in the proceedings.”

Lichfield Mercury 29/8/1911 - Advert

“Good General wanted; references required.

Mrs. Abbott, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/10/1911 - Deaths

“On the 25th, Samuel Leech, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, aged 33 years.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.

Mr. Arthur Cresswell, STAND TAVERN, Newport Road, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy on the executive committee caused by the resignation of Mr. Henry Bateman, Walsall Wood.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/5/1915

“On the understanding that he obtained employment in Walsall and stuck to it, a caster named Howard Sunter (33), of no fixed abode, who appeared in the dock charged with being drunk on the licensed premises of the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, was put on his good behaviour for three months.

Evidence was given by Police-constable C. Smith to the effect that at 8pm on Sunday, the 23rd inst, he was called to the STAND TAVERN, and on proceeding there with the landlord met the prisoner, who paid 6d for the damage done. He returned to the house afterwards, however, and insulted the people in the tap room.

Prisoner, who pleaded guilty, said he had had a drop of beer and it got over him. He had been out of work for three weeks.

Mr. Wheway: Well, you had no business to be. There is plenty of work for casters in Walsall.

Prisoner: I can't keep a job, I'm too well known. First one asks me to have a drink and then another, and I get top heavy.

Mr. Muncaster (deputy magistrates' clerk): Why don't you try the Army? – Prisoner: I have and they won't have me. I'm too short.

Mr. Wheway: You are tall enough for the Bantams. – Prisoner: If I can't join the proper Army I won't join the Bantams.

Mr. Wheway: It does not follow that they are worse fighters because they are Bantams.

Prisoner was put on his good behaviour as stated.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1915

“At a meeting of local hairdressers, held at the STAND TAVERN, under the auspices of the Walsall and District Hairdressers' Trade and Benefit Society, a recommendation that the charge for gents' haircutting be increased from 3d to 4d was defeated, and it was also decided that the price of shaving would not be advanced.”

Walsall Observer 24/7/1915 - Marriages

“On July 18th at Watford, by license, Frank, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan, Stuart House, Newport, Isle of Wight, to Daisy Gertrude, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Davis, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 1/1/1916 - Marriages

“On the 25th December, at St. Matthew's Church, by the Rev. R. S. Renfree, Sergeant Instructor William Norman Doley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Doley, of Beacon street, to Beatrice May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Davis, STAND TAVERN, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. £1 0s 3d.”

1939 Register

16, Newport Street

[1] Annie M. (Andrews) Reffell, date of birth 24/6/1883, manageress public house, married;

[2] Laura Sparkes, dob 27/6/1909, barmaid, single;

[3] William J. Andrews, dob 2/9/1872, cinema manager, married:

Walsall Observer 30/11/1940

“The Premier Lodge of the R.A.O.B. was re-opened at the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, on Wednesday evening. The Deputy Provincial Grand Primo, Bro. James Plant, K.O.M., remarked that the members stay of eleven years at their previous headquarters, the STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, was a sufficient proof of their determination to keep the Buffalo flag flying. He wished the Lodge every success in their new home.....”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

STAND TAVERN, Newport Street, £5 14s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 15/2/1941 - In Memoriam

“Sparks. In loving memory of our dear friend Laura, who died Feb 2, 1940.

Her cheerful smile, her winning ways.

We shall remember all our days.

To a happy life came a sudden end,

She died as she lived, everyone's friend.

From Mrs. Andrews and Friends, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street.”

Maisie Violet Bagnall, a barmaid at the STAND TAVERN, was killed by Thomas Ford, on 4th of September 1942. At the Stafford Assizes, on 25th of November, 1942, Ford, although indicted for murder, was found guilty of manslaughter, and sentenced to ten years' penal servitude.

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. £0 14s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

STAND TAVERN, Newport Street. £2 18s 5d.”

Edgar George Russell – see also COTTAGE.

Ethel May Freeman – see also COTTAGE.

Mary Elizabeth Timms – see also ALMA.

Philip Brian Cross – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR.

George Edward Morris – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR, PRESIDENT LINCOLN, GREEN MAN, SIR CHARLES NAPIER, and CROWN AND CUSHION.

Ronald Harry Cox – see also NEW INN, Bloxwich.

The name was changed to STARTING GATE in December 1972.

Arthur Hurley was married to Ivy.

[2011]

Closed [2015], [2017]

STATION HOTEL

85, (88), (41), Station Street, (Reeves Street), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Trent Valley Brewery Co. Ltd.

City (Lichfield) Brewery Co. Ltd. [1909]

Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 23rd January 1936)

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 15th May 1960)

Ale House Co. [2007]

LICENSEES

George Arm [1859] – 1864);

Ann Arm (1864 – []

Mrs. Mary Arm [1872];

Arthur Arm [];

Daniel Fisher [];

Henry Thomas [];

William Wilkes [];

John Reynolds [1881];

Alfred Ross [1891] – 1902);

Mrs. Emma Jane Ross (1902 – 1910);

John Wilkes (1910 – 1914);

John Fieldhouse (1914 – 1918);

Herbert William Casey (1918 – 1928);

Charles Henry Harper (1928 – 1930);

William Harper (1930 – 1935);

Thomas Pittaway (1935 – 1937);

Joseph Bowtell (1937 – 1940);

James Edwin Thorpe (1940 – 1950);
Frederick Sutton (1950 – 1959);
Samuel Hand (1959 – 1963);
Ivy May Platt (1963 – [1966]
Albert Forrester [] – 1969);
Albert Gosnell (1969 – []
Sean Kevin Cavanagh [2007]

NOTES

41, Station Street [1871]
88, Station Street [1881]
85, Station Street [1891], [1901], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]

STATION INN [1860]
RAILWAY [1864], [1872]
RAILWAY STATION HOTEL [1870]
STATION ARMS [1896], [1904]
STATION TAVERN

Walsall Free Press 3/9/1859

“....granting of new licenses Mr. Wilkinson applied on behalf of Mr. George Arm, beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich, and in doing so showed that the application contained all the elements necessary to justify the granting of the license, namely the requirements of the locality, the suitability of the premises, and the character of the individual by whom the house was to be kept. Last year the Bench spoke very favourably of Mr. Arm's application; and, although they did not actually promise to grant a license to Mr. Arm, they gave him to understand that if certain conditions were complied with, he would stand in a more favourable position. Those conditions had been fully complied with, consequently he hoped the application would be successful. The Bench, after a short consultation, granted the license.....

Mr. Duignan here applied to have Mr. Arm's notices proved, which having been done, he (Mr. D.) took a further objection, namely that the said notices did not set forth, as required by law, the trade or occupation of the applicant.

Mr. Wilkinson contended that Mr. Duignan was too late with his objection, for Mr. Arm was already in possession of his license. Mr. Darwell having given it as his opinion that the license was legally granted, Mr. Duignan intimated that he would appeal to the Quarter Sessions to have the license cancelled.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/12/1859

“At Mr. G. Arms's, STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, near Walsall, Staffordshire, on Monday last, there was a large attendance present to witness the shooting for a silver cup, valued at £6. The match was well contested, when Messrs. Brown of Walsall and Cottis of West Bromwich were the winners, killing 7 birds each, and agreed to divide. A second sweepstakes was shot by 10 members, at 5s each, and was won by Mr. Cresswell of Brownhills.”

AND

“At Mr. G. Arms's, STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, near Walsall, Staffordshire, on Wednesday, Dec 28th, between Mr. M. Millington of Darlaston, and Mr. J. Cresswell of Brownhills, to shoot at 9 birds each, to find and trap against each other will come off; 1¾oz shot, 21 yards rise, 60 fall. After the above match a sweepstake will be shot for at 5s each, with usual conditions. Shooting at one o'clock.”

George Arm was also a bridle bit maker. [1860]

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/6/1860 - Deaths

“On the 22nd instant, in the 23rd year of her age, Hannah, only daughter of Mr. George Arm, STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, inn-keeper and bridle bit maker, beloved and regretted by all who knew her.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/9/1860 - Advert

“STATION HOTEL and Valuable Freehold Building Land, close to the Railway Station, Bloxwich.

To Be Sold by Auction, on an early day, all that Newly Erected and Commodious Messuage, known as the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, in the occupation of Mr. George Arm, with the large garden, stabling, and other spacious and extensive outbuildings, and appurtenances thereto belonging.

Also several very valuable and convenient plots of Building Land, fronting to the new Street leading from the main road at Bloxwich, (near to the SWAN INN,) to the Railway Station.

Full particulars in a future Advertisement, and may in the meantime be obtained at the Office of Mr. Wilkinson, Solicitor, Walsall.”

1861 Census

Reeves Street

- [1] George Arm (56), victualler and bit maker (employing 6 men and wife), born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Arm (51), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Charles Arm (26), son, bit filer (employing 3 boys), born Bloxwich;
- [4] David Arm (22), son, bit filer, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Edward Arm (13), son, (one of the boys?), born Bloxwich;
- [6] William Dean (18), apprentice bit maker, born Shareshill, Staffordshire;
- [7] John Gee (14), apprentice bit maker, born Sutton Coldfield, Warwickshire;
- [8] Elizabeth Powil (19), servant, born Willenhall.

George Arm was also a bit maker. [1864], [1865]

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/7/1864 - Deaths

“On the 13th instant, Mr. George Arm, of the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Free Press 13/8/1864

“At the Petty Sessions on Thursday, the following transfers were made.....
The RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich, from George Arm (deceased) to Ann Arm, his widow.”

Mrs. Mary Arm was also a bit maker. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/8/1870

“At the Petty Sessions, yesterday, before Messrs. F. B. Oerton and J. B. Anderson, the treasurer – David Arm – of the Independent Benevolent Brothers, who hold their meeting at the RAILWAY STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, was summoned by John Bailey, one of the trustees of the society, for having refused to deliver up £8 10s, the money of the society. Mr. Dale appeared for the complainant, and the defendant was unrepresented.

From Mr. Dale’s statement, which was fully substantiated by the secretary’s evidence, it appeared that the society, on the 20th of July, 1863, voted £5 as a donation to the Walsall Cottage Hospital, but that sum was never handed over by the treasurer to the hospital. On the 20th of June last, a further sum of £3 10s was paid over to the treasurer. As it was found that £7 10s were due to Mr. Sommerville for his services as surgeon to the society, the treasurer was requested to pay the amount owing out of the £5 formerly voted to the hospital and the £3 10s paid over to him on the 20th June last. On this request being made the treasurer declined to comply with it, saying he believed the £5 voted to the hospital had been expended in payment of sick pay. The plea for the defence was that he believed the books were not correct, and that before paying any money he wished to have them audited. Mr. Dale said on the treasurer making this statement a committee meeting was called, the books audited, and the amount now claimed found to be owing by the defendant.

The Bench made an order for the treasurer to hand over all moneys, books, and papers belonging to the society to the officers appointed to receive them, and to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for three months, the commitment order to stand over for a week to give the defendant time to comply with the decision of the Bench.”

1871 Census

41, Station Street – STATION INN

- [1] Mary Arm (61), widow, licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] George Arm (4), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Rose Heeley (19), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [4] John Hancox (38), boarder, bridle bit maker, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 22/3/1873 - Advert

“Walsall & Bloxwich Bridle Bit Manufacturers’ Association.

A special Meeting of the above will be held at the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, on Tuesday Evening Next, March 25th, at 7 o’clock, on important business, when all members and other employees wishing to become members are particularly requested to attend.

Chas. G. Arm, Sec.”

The landlord was fined £5 and costs, on 20th March 1876, for having his house open after 11pm.

1881 Census

88, Station Street – STATION HOTEL

- [1] John Reynolds (39), victualler, born Droitwich;
- [2] Louisa Reynolds (39), wife, born Kidderminster;
- [3] William F. Reynolds (3 months), son, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Walsh (18), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Evening Star 10/3/1882

“Today, Mr. J. F. Crump (deputy coroner) held an inquest at the STATION INN, Bloxwich, upon the body of William Morris, late of Leamore (labourer), whose death has been reported in the Star. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that The deceased Committed Suicide whilst in an unsound state of mind.”

1891 Census

85, Station Street – STATION HOTEL

- [1] Alfred Ross (42), awl blade maker and victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Emma Ross (39), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Charles Ross (20), son, iron worker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Henry Ross (13), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Annie Ross (11), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] George Ross (7), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Enoch Ross (5), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Alfred Ross (3), son, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Emma Jane Ross (1), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Isaac Ross (75), father, retired awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [11] John Newell (22), boarder, miner, born Bloxwich;
- [12] Caroline Newell (18), boarder, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 21/4/1894

“The annual dinner of the club held at Mr. Ross’s, STATION HOTEL, took place on Monday last, when about 40 members and friends sat down to an excellent repast provided by the worthy host. After the cloth was removed mine host of the TIGER, Mr. Edward Walker, was voted to the chair, and Mr. Wm. Merryman to the vice-chair. The Chairman proposed the health of ‘The Queen and the Royal family,’ which was drunk right heartily, after which several songs, &c, were rendered, viz, Mr. Joseph Ross, ‘Beautiful Star’; Mr. E. Walker, ‘Silver Bells’; Mr. Wm. Allcock, ‘The moon behind the gill’; Mr. Handy, ‘The ship on fire’ (encore, ‘Lowlands of Holland’); Mr. Charles Armes, ‘The island home of an Englishman’ (encore, ‘Wait till I get you home’); Mr. Harry Simmons, ‘Carrotty-headed Pol’; Mr. Ambrose Squire, ‘The Bay of Biscay’; Miss Clara Somerfield, ‘The harp that once through Tara’s hall’ and ‘Would I a bird.’ The chairman during an interval, called upon the worthy secretary, who gave an excellent account of the workings of lodge, dwelling particularly on their motto, viz, ‘Brotherly love,’ which he affirmed was carried out to the letter. The secretary on behalf of the members then presented a card with three very appropriate verses, &c, upon it, ‘composed by Mr. Glover and written by Mr. E. Walker’ to the son of the late Tom Ball alias Thomas Scale, as a token of love and esteem. He was supported by the chairman in a very able manner, expressing the regret they all felt at the loss sustained by the death of Bro. Ball, whose memory would be cherished for life by all who knew him for his genial qualities and integrity. Mr. Glover then gave a recitation ‘The Psalm of life.’ Mr. Lowndes then proposed a vote of thanks to Bro. Glover for the splendid manner he had carried out his duties as secretary, as by so doing he had added materially to the prosperity of the lodge, which being seconded was carried with much enthusiasm. The vice-chairman next proposed the health of the genial host and hostess and Miss Clara Somerfield, who had so ably catered for them in a manner not to be excelled. This was drunk with musical honours, and Mr. Ross having suitably responded, Mr. H. Simmonds proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman and vice-chairman for the able manner they had carried out their duties, which was heartily accorded, and being responded to, a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the rendering of the National Anthem.”

Alfred Ross was also an awl blade maker. [1896]

1901 Census

85, Station Street

- [1] Alfred Ross (52), awl blade maker and victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Emma Ross (47), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Charles Ross (30), son, widower, coal miner stallman, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Henry Ross (22), son, boot maker, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Annie Ross (21), daughter, domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Alice Ross (18), daughter, domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] George Ross (17), son, coal miner, horse driver (below), born Bloxwich;
- [8] Enoch Ross (15), son, cabinet lock maker, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Alfred Ross (13), son, bit maker, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Jennie Ross (12), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Edith Ross (8), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [12] Harriet Ross (6), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [13] Sarah Ross (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [14] Elizabeth Ross (3), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [15] Thomas Ross (1), son, born Bloxwich;
- [16] William Somerfield (74), lodger, widower, awl blade maker, born Bloxwich;
- [17] William Somerfield (34), lodger, coal miner, hewer, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 22/6/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday (13th).....

Mrs. Emma J. Ross, STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1910

“On Monday evening, a regalia visit was paid to lodge 207, Caledonian Corks, who have removed their lodge room to the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich. There was not a large attendance, the ‘wakes’ no doubt having something to do with this..... The host of the new headquarters, Mr. Wilkes, was initiated a member after which the lodge was thrown open. A vote of thanks was passed to the District Officers by Bro. L. Wilkes, and Bro. J. H. Allsop in responding, wished the lodge every success in their new home, and hoped that their membership would increase. He urged the younger members to work hard and get their friends to join. Bros. J. D. Rattenberry and E. J. Wilkes also responded, and the health of the newly-initiated member was proposed by the latter. Bro. J. Wilkes suitably replied, and thanks to the chairman terminated the meeting.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/10/1910

“Loyal Caledonian Corks, Lodge 207. A smoking concert in aid of the benevolent fund of the above lodge was held on Monday evening at the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich. There was a large attendance and Bro. D. McAlister presided. Others present included Bros. F. W. Wood, (P.D.C.), L. Wilkes, T. Jones, M. Wilkes, and M. Jones. The programme which had been arranged proved very enjoyable. Funny Fred Haynes (Birmingham) once more delighted his fellow members with his humorous songs. Tenor songs were rendered by Mr. J. W. Whitehouse, whilst Mr. L. Sowby possesses a capital baritone voice. Two capable comedians appeared in the persons of Mr. T. Jones and Mr. A. Pritchard, and Mr. H. Ledbury was a successful impersonator. During the evening Mr. R. A. Copper, MP, paid a surprise visit and was accorded a rousing reception. In the course of his remarks, the Borough member spoke of German beer gardens, and said they made a great difference in the social life of the country. It was the lack of means of mixing with one another that brought friendly societies together. He then touched on the question of State insurance and said that they were all agitated as to what was going to happen to friendly societies. But he was not afraid of what any Government would bring in, for they must remember that their influence was too great for any Government to endanger the friendly societies (applause). They should not cavil at State insurance, for they were all working for the State and the State should look after the men who through their own foolishness would not look after themselves. He appreciated the goodwill towards him and begged them to do their duty to the lodge. (Applause). A voted of thanks was passed to the Chairman and artistes by Bro. F. W. Wood, and in response Bro. McAlister said it was always a pleasure to help in anything that would benefit the working classes.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1910

“Loyal Caledonian Corks.
The quarterly meeting of the Walsall district was held on Saturday, at the WOOLPACK, Hotel, Digbeth. There were fifty-eight delegates present, representing twenty-seven lodges Secretary’s report.....
Permission had also been granted for the removal of Lodge 207 from the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN to the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich.”

1911 Census

85, Station Street – STATION HOTEL

- [1] John Wilkes (34), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sarah Ann Wilkes (32), wife, married 12 years, born Blakenall;
- [3] Evelyn Wilkes (12), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Ernest John Wilkes (10), son, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Arthur Wilkes (8), son, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Gilbert Wilkes (6), son, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Leopold Wilkes (5), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Edna Wilkes (3), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Jeanet Wilkes (9 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Myra Cope (18), servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“The usual Licensing Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Friday.....
Mr. Jackson applied for the sanction of alterations at the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich. The proposed alterations he said were entirely for the convenience and the supervision of the landlord, and there was no increase in the drinking area. They only proposed making a passage from the sitting room to the kitchen. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“The share out in connection with the Sick and Dividend Club at the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, took place yesterday (Friday) evening, each of the forty-three members taking 8/-. The total receipts during the year amounted to £41 14s 8d.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/3/1914

“The fixture for the Walsall Harriers on Saturday was seven-mile cross-country handicap. The weather was wretched, but the event was successfully carried out, the following starting from the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

STATION INN, Bloxwich, 2s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 31/7/1915 - In Memoriam

“In loving remembrance of Alfred Ross, late of STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, who departed this life on July 29th, 1902. To memory ever dear. From his loving Wife and Family.”

AND

“In ever-loving memory of our dear father, Alfred Ross, late of the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, who died on July 29th, 1902; also of our brother, Harry, son of the above, who died on August 1st, 1901.

Their memory is as dear today

As in the hour they passed away.

From Annie, Jenny and Lizzie, and granddaughters, Annie, Jenny, and Rosie, Kidderminster.”

AND

“In loving remembrance of Henry Ross, late of the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, who departed this life August 1st, 1901. Ever remembered by Mother and Family.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich. £1 8s 11½d.”

Charles Henry Harper – see also KINGS HEAD.

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

“Walsall Licensing Sessions.....

The following five houses, all of Bloxwich, were referred for compensation:

CARRIERS ARMS, Field Road; STATION HOTEL, Station Street; VICTORIA STORES, High Street; BLUE PIG, Elmore Row; and the VINE INN, The Green.”

Thomas Pittaway – see also LONGHORN.

1939 Register

85, Station Street

[1] Joseph Bowtell, date of birth 3/4/1886, licensee public house, widowed;

[2] Kathleen Reynolds, dob 31/5/1908, housekeeper, divorced:

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

STATION TAVERN, Station Street, Bloxwich. £0 0s 6d.”

Lichfield Mercury 12/7/1946

“At Brownhills Petty Sessions, Thomas Brookes (29), of 47, Seeds Lane, Brownhills was charged with stealing two galvanised sheets, value 9s, the property of Jas. Edwin Thorpe, between May 26th and June 9th, and stealing timber valued at £3, belonging to the Brownhill Urban District Council.

James Edwin Thorpe, STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich, stated he owned a bungalow in Barracks Lane, Brownhills, and for the past year it had been untenanted. At the side of it was a wooden shed covered with galvanised iron sheeting. The wind had blown the shed, and afterwards he has missed two of the galvanised sheets.

Claude Rea Closs, 197, Lichfield Road, Walsall, estates manger to the Brownhills Urban District Council, said a considerable quantity of timber from the fencing in Holland Park had been missed recently. The timber produced he identified as of the same quality existing in the park.

Pc Hunt stated that at 9.30am on June 9th, in consequence of something that came to his knowledge, he visited defendant’s home. He examined a fowl pen, and noticed that it was constructed of timber posts and on top were two galvanised sheets. Witness told him he had reason to believe he had stolen the sheets, and at first he denied it, but later said, ‘I took the sheets from the bungalow during the last fortnight.’ When asked about the timber, he eventually said, ‘I had the posts from the fence in Holland Park.’

Defendant alleged that the policeman wrote down the statement in his book before asking anything, and when the constable said, ‘Will that do,’ he replied, ‘That will do for me.’ Pc Hunt replied that he took down what defendant said at the time.

Defendant said he found the galvanised sheets on an ash tip in Hannay Hay Road, and bought the timber off some gentlemen, one being his father-in-law.

Asked by the Bench who was the other gentleman was, defendant replied, ‘I don’t want to bring that up in Court.’

The Chairman (Alderman L. Davies) said that was not the first time defendant had been before them, and they decided to send him to prison for a month on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.”

Lichfield Mercury 24/2/1950

“£50 Fine for Using Red Petrol. Licensee Blamed Mistake in the Dark.

A £50 fine with £8 13s costs was imposed by the Brownhills Magistrates on Wednesday, on James Edwin Thorpe, licensee of the STATION HOTEL, Station Street, Bloxwich, who was convicted for using commercial petrol in a private car. His driving licence and road fund licence were also suspended for 12 months.

Prosecuting on behalf of the Ministry of Fuel and Power, Mr. B. W. A. Rattigan said defendant had a public house in Bloxwich and also had a smallholding at Brownhills. At about 12.45pm on November 23rd, PCs Burton and Brassington were on motor patrol duty on the Watling Street near Muckley Corner, going in the direction of Cannock, when they observed a Standard car travelling ahead of them. They noticed that the offside trafficator was extended but the driver, who was defendant, made no attempt to turn to the right. When stopped the officers told defendant they intended to test the petrol in the tank. A positive reaction was obtained indicating the use of commercial petrol. Warned he would be reported, defendant said: ‘There is nothing I want to say. Anything I have got to say I shall say to my solicitor.’ The police saw defendant again at his smallholding in Barracks Lane, and he took them to a small shed and showed them some petrol tins. He said: ‘It was from one of these tins I took the petrol last night. I didn’t know it was red because it was dark.’ He also informed the officers that the red petrol was issued to him for his tractor. The officer found there was electric light in the shed and a test found the switch for the light was in operation.

Evidence would be called that defendant had not been issued with red petrol since May 27th, 1948, and his last supplementary issue of white petrol was on September 22nd, 1947. He also received basic allowance.

Defendant said on the night of November 22nd he took a Mr. Williams to the bungalow. Finding he was short of petrol he told Williams to put some petrol in the tank out of one of his tins which he did. The reason he told the police he put the petrol in himself was because he did not wish to bring anyone else into the case. He had not the slightest suspicion he had red petrol in his tank.”

Lichfield Mercury 12/5/1950

“Prosecution Fails. Ministry Charge Against Licensee Dismissed.

One of the first cases of its kind came before the Brownhills bench on Wednesday, when James Edwin Thorpe, licensee of the STATION HOTEL, Station Road, Bloxwich, was summoned for failing to produce the registration book of a car to the court..... Mr. Peter J. C. Tench (Magistrates’ Clerk) said he told defendant he must deliver the registration book to his office within three days and if he did not do so he would be liable to be prosecuted for a further serious offence. The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Observer 11/7/1969

“Several changes in the management of public houses in the Walsall area were announced this week.

Mr. Albert Forrester is moving from the STATION HOTEL, Station Street, Bloxwich, to the NAGS HEAD, Stoney Lane, Little, Bloxwich, with effect from today (Friday). His successor at the STATION HOTEL, is Mr. Albert Gosnell, of 14a, Pritchard Avenue, Wednesfield, a newcomer to the trade who formerly worked as a photograph printer.”

[2009]

Closed [2012], [2016]

STATION

Railway Bridge, Commonside, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

City Brewery Co, Lichfield (acquired in June 1891 for £1,555)

Atkinsons Brewery Ltd. [1939]

LICENSEES

William Lees [1860] – 1861);

Cornelius Stanton (1861 – [1862]

Elijah Bickley [1862]

Joseph Keay [1863] – [1865]

Elijah Bickley [1868]

Ellen Buckley [1881]

Amos Arblaster [1890] – [1891]

George Fox [1896]

Walter Fox [] – 1899);

Josiah Burgess (1899 – 1903);

John Moseley [1904] ?

Joseph Moseley (1903 – [1908])
Mrs. Moseley (1909 – [])
William Hughes [1911] – 1913);
Joseph Gill (1913 – [])
Joseph Whitehead [1916]
Henry Caulton [1924] – [1928]
Harry Mason [1932]

NOTES

TRAVELLERS REST [1861]
STATION HOTEL [1909], [1911], [1925], [1928], [1932]

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/7/1861

“On Sunday morning last a train on the South Staffordshire Railway ran over a young man named John Lees, aged 33 years, a native of Lichfield, killing him on the spot. Parts of the body were found scattered along the line for some distance. An inquest was held at the STATION INN, Pelsall, on Tuesday, when the usual verdict was returned. It appeared from the evidence that deceased had lain down, when drunk, near the rails, and gone to sleep.”

Cornelius Stanton = Cornelius Stainton = Cornelius Staunton

Walsall Free Press 8/2/1862

“At the petty sessions at Rushall, on Tuesday, before J. E. Bailey, Esq, and Captain Harrison, the license of the ROYAL OAK, Daw End, was transferred from Sampson Smith to William Lees, late proprietor of the STATION INN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Free Press 8/2/1862

“At the court-house, Pelsall, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, Esq, and Captain Harrison, four persons named Thomas Cash, Caroline Cash, Isaiah Cooper, and John Glover, were charged with assaulting Joseph Wyley at Mr. Staunton’s public-house, the RAILWAY INN [sic], Pelsall, on the preceding Tuesday. The complainant was sworn. He said he was a labourer residing at Shelfield, and he was at the RAILWAY INN [sic] on the day mentioned from about twelve o’clock in the day until night time. He was principally playing at bowls during the time. In the evening the defendant Thomas Cash, and himself played some games of bowls, all of which complainant won. Cash refused to pay the money lost in the final game, and as complainant approached him to ask him for the money, Isaiah Cooper tripped him (complainant) up, and all the defendants fell upon him, knocked him down, and beat and kicked him without mercy.

Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defence, cross-examined the complainant at some length. He admitted he had not been at the RAILWAY INN [sic] from noon until night without drinking a considerable quantity of beer, but denied that he approached Cash with any hostile demonstrations or intentions after the last game of bowls. Cash did not say that he had paid him what was lost, nor had he paid him. He had knocked down a man who tried to prevent him getting at Cash, but that was on a different occasion, although on the same day.

Edward Butler was called for the complainant. He saw all the defendants surrounding the complainant and ill-using him. They had him on the ground, and were beating and kicking him. He did not see the commencement of the row.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ebsworth: Cooper’s share in the assault upon complainant consisted in his picking him up in an apparently friendly manner and then assisting to knock him down again. Complainant was defending himself against his assailants as well as he could.

Mr. Ebsworth then addressed the Bench for the defence, and characterised the affair as a public-house brawl. The length of time Wyley had been at the STATION INN, was sufficient indication of the condition he must have been in by the evening, and the admission of ‘going to-wards’ Cash, after the money had been refused, showed his determination to ‘have it out of him’ as it was commonly expressed. Indeed the fact of complainant knocking down Wiggins, who went to prevent him from fighting, was sufficient evidence of his hostile intentions. The truth of the matter was that complainant, confident in his superior bodily strength, made a cowardly and brutal assault on Cash, whose wife and friends joined in and defended him. The result was that complainant got the worst of it, and he (Mr. Ebsworth) submitted that he had no right to come into court for the revenge which he failed to secure in the fight provoked by himself. Mr. Ebsworth complained that the defendants had been taken upon warrants and kept in durance vile until the morning.

William Rowley was sworn. He heard complainant call Cash a liar, and saw him ‘square off’ at Cash. Wyley took off his slop and attacked Cash. Mrs. Cash and the other defendants interfered, and complainant got beaten among them. Wyley was drunk at Staunton’s on the previous Tuesday, and wanted to fight Cash. Witness tried to prevent the fight, and was knocked down by complainant for his pains

The Bench was of opinion that it was one of those cases which ought not to be brought into court. It had been very justly characterised as a public-house squabble. The defendants would be discharged, and the magistrates trusted they would not again make their appearance in that court under similar circumstances.”

Walsall Free Press 5/4/1862

“At the petty sessions at Rushall on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, Esq, and Captain Harrison, Elijah Bickley charged with having on Saturday last assaulted Mary Cook, and Ann Corbett, at the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, was, on the application of Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defence, remanded to next court day, as the prisoner had only been apprehended last night, and they had not been able to obtain his witnesses. The prisoner was admitted to bail, himself in £20, and one surety in £10.”

Walsall Free Press 14/2/1863 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the Old Licensed House, known as the STATION INN, Pelsall, doing a good business, satisfactory reasons given for present proprietor leaving.
Apply on premises.”

Walsall Free Press 3/10/1863 - Advert

“Immense Attraction!!! Pelsall Wake.

On Monday and Tuesday, October 5th and 6th, the above Wakes will be celebrated near the STATION INN opposite the Railway Station Pelsall, where Mr. Joseph Keay, will throw open a Piece of Land for the accommodation of Stalls, Shooting Galleries, Shows, &c, a Theatre will be Open during the Wake Week.

Free Admission to the Ground, various Prizes will be given for Pony Racing, Bag Racing, Flat Racing.

Dancing and other English games.”

Walsall Free Press 30/9/1865 - Advert

“Pelsall Wake. Immense Attractions.

Mr. Joseph Keay, landlord of the STATION INN, Pelsall, intends to celebrate the Annual Feast or Wake on Monday Next, October 2nd, by having the following Sports:

Donkey Races For Bridles.

Running For Geese.

Jumping In Bags, And Other Old English Sport.

Brass and String Bands will be in Attendance for Quadrilles and other dances.”

London Gazette 14/8/1866

“Joseph Keay, of Pelsall, in the county of Stafford, Mill Furnaceman, formerly carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler, at Pelsall aforesaid, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 19th day of July, 1866, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, on the 10th day of October next, at the County Court, Goodall-street, Walsall, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/10/1866

“At the County Court, on Saturday, before A. M. Skinner, Esq, QC, Judge, Joseph Keay, licensed victualler and mill furnaceman, Pelsall, came up to his last examination, and order of discharge, supported by Mr. H. Jackson. Mr. Glover who appeared for the assignees, offering no opposition, the bankrupt was passed.....”

Walsall Free Press 25/8/1866 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady strong Girl of All-work.

Apply, STATION INN, Pelsall.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 30/11/1872

“The Pelsall Hall Colliery Accident. Monday. The work of bringing up the eighteen bodies found on Friday night was not completed until nearly eleven o’clock yesterday. The nineteenth still remains undiscovered, but is supposed to be buried beneath a mass of rubbish at the foot of Jigger Hill. About one o’clock on Saturday morning, the explorers had succeeded in bringing seven bodies to the surface, and were conveying another along the roadway when their lights were extinguished by choke damp, and they were compelled to leave the corpse they had with them and run for their lives. Mr. A. Lindop and Mr. J. W. Baker, two of the party, were severely affected, and it was found necessary to take the former home. Yesterday he had recovered sufficiently to return to the pit.

On Friday night various experiments were tried under direction of Mr. J. P. Baker, Government Inspector, for expelling the damp, but without success until about four o’clock yesterday morning, when, by means of a new cross heading, the ventilation was restored, and it was found possible to resume the work of clearing the roadway. It was nine o’clock, however, before the heading where the bodies were was reached, and in less than two hours more they were all brought to the surface and removed to the STATION INN, where oak coffins provided by the proprietors [of the pit?] were in readiness.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/11/1872

“Thos. Whitehouse, a respectably-connected man, was charged with being in the store-room at the STATION INN, Pelsall, for an unlawful purpose, he having between nine and ten o’clock on Sunday night been found in the store-room – the room in which 21 dead from the Pelsall Hall Colliery were deposited. His plea was the he wanted to see one of the corpses. The case was adjourned, the defendant being admitted to bail.”

1881 Census

Commonside – STATION INN

- [1] Ellen Buckley (49), widow, innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Lucy Buckley (12), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [3] Elijah Buckley (9), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [4] Emma Pearman (17), barmaid, born Walsall:

Evening Express 2/7/1881

“An inquest was held on Friday forenoon, at the STATION INN, Pelsall, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, touching the death of Samuel Smith, aged 21 years, who was killed at the Coppice Colliery on Tuesday last.

Samuel Bernard, horse driver, deposed he was working in the pit (which was the property of Mr. R. W. Hanbury) with the deceased, who was employed as ‘cager’. Witness took a skip about four or five yards to the bottom of the shaft, when he left it, the duty of the deceased being to take it to the cage when necessary. Witness saw the deceased push the skip near to the bottom, and instantly he heard a splash, and, on going to the spot, found that the deceased had fallen down the shaft into the sump of water, which was many yards below where he was acting as cager. It appeared that the cage came down directly it was signalled, and knocked deceased into the sump, and there was, in his opinion, no one to blame for the accident. The gate that protected the shaft was open, and it was the duty of the deceased to see that it was shut when the cage was sent further down the shaft.

Samuel Cresswell, a miner, said he found the deceased in the water about 50 yards below where he had been employed. The deceased’s head was under water when found, and he was quite dead; a part of the skip being near him. The cage was in good order. He thought the accident was caused by the deceased forgetting that the cage was not down, and he left the gate open. The deceased was badly cut about the back of the head.

Mr. Beattie Scott, Government Inspector, said that he had inspected the pit, and found that the Act of Parliament had been complied with in every way, and he could not suggest any alternative to prevent such accident.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

“The following publicans were granted one hour’s extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes Amos Arblaster.”

1891 Census

Railway Bridge – STATION INN

- [1] Amos Arblaster (41), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary J. Arblaster (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Elijah C. Arblaster (15), son, fitter’s assistant, born Pelsall;
- [4] Ellen Elizabeth Arblaster (13), daughter, school teacher, born Pelsall;
- [5] Stephen Arblaster (10), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Amos R. Arblaster (3), son, born Pelsall;
- [7] Louie Arblaster (2), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [8] Sarah A. Hughes (17), servant, born Walsall;
- [9] Hannah Sweet (14), nurse, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1891 - Advert

“Summary of Auction Sales by Walter Hughes.....

Tuesday Next, June 9th, at Seven p.m.

Important Sale by Auction (upon the premises) of the Valuable Full-Licensed Public-House, the STATION INN, Pelsall, containing an area of about 1,000 square yards. One of the best Public-Houses, in the district, and doing a large trade.

Solicitors: Messrs, Wilkinson, Son, and Mills.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1891 - Advert

“On Tuesday evening, Mr. Walter Hughes submitted to auction the copyhold public house the STATION INN, Pelsall. The sale took place upon the premises, in the presence of a very large company, including representatives of many of the Burton, Lichfield, Birmingham, and Wolverhampton brewers. The Auctioneer detailed at some length the many attractive features of the house – its commanding position, the excellent accommodation, the good name the hostelry had always enjoyed; and wound up by describing the house as one of the best public houses in the district. The first bid was £1,000, and after a spirited competition it was sold for £1,555 to the City Brewery Company of Lichfield. Messrs. Wilkinson, Son, and Mills, of Walsall, were the solicitors acting for the vendors.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/10/1893

“An inquest was held at the STATION INN, Pelsall, on Wednesday, before Mr. Cooper (coroner), on the body of John Wales, aged 15, a resident of High Heath. From the evidence it appears that the deceased, who was employed at the Coppice Hall Colliery, was in charge of some tubs down the pit and had forgotten to take off the locker, which is put on the wheels of the tubs in case of necessity. A tub being in an incline, and no check being placed upon it, it began to run down and the deceased, with the intention of stopping it, placed himself in front with his back towards it, with the result that he was hurled with such force forward that he was killed. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, George Fox, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted.”

Lichfield Mercury 1/6/1900

“Josiah Burgess, STATION INN, Pelsall, was ordered to pay 6s costs for allowing a dog to be at large without either muzzle or collar.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

“The magistrates sitting at Rushall (Messrs. W. F. Clarke, E. Wilkes, and J. F. Crump) had before them a case in which Joseph Moseley, landlord of the STATION INN, Pelsall, was charged with permitting gambling on his licensed premises on the 9th and 11th of July. Mr. A. J. Glover prosecuted on behalf of the police, and Mr. H. H. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) defended. Mr. Glover said that on the 9th Police-constable Brown, and another man, visited the house at about seven o’clock in the evening. There they saw four men playing bagatelle in the room adjoining the bar, the table being within such a short distance of the counter that anything said by those who were playing must have been heard by the landlord or anyone who was at the counter. When the game was finished, the landlord, who was standing by, asked who had lost. A stranger, whom the other man called George, replied that he had. Moseley then said, ‘Well pay out like a man.’ The man then gave the landlord a shilling, and he fetched a quart of ale and brought 6d change. The men then drew lots from a box on the mantelpiece for fresh sides, and agreed to play for another quart of ale. At the conclusion the losers each paid 3d for the beer. Whilst the men were playing the second game a man sitting near, who was the worse for drink, remarked that he had lost every game since three o’clock and had to pay. He also offered to lay another man for a ‘tanner.’ The game was commenced, and the officer and the other man then left the house. On the 11th (Monday) they again visited the house and saw the men playing. At the end of one game the landlord asked who had to pay that time. They had previously agreed to play for two ‘half gaugers,’ by which were meant half-pints. The men who lost offered to play again for a quart or nothing. At the conclusion of the second game the landlord fetched a quart of ale, and was followed back by Sergeant Heath and another officer, Police-constable Walley, the latter being in plain clothes. In the presence of the landlord, Police-constable Brown then told the sergeant what had taken place on both nights. The sergeant asked Moseley why he allowed gambling on his premises, and he replied it was ‘a d—— infernal lie.’ He further said he hadn’t been in the house all the time, but had been on the green at the back of the house, and that he knew nothing at all about it. As a matter of fact, the landlord did go out of the house several times, but on each occasion he was only absent a few minutes, and was in the room when the wagers were made. When the sergeant and the other officer entered the house a L&NWR Porter was playing, but he immediately put down the cue and left the house.

Police-constable Brown (Wednesbury) gave evidence corroborating this statement, and cross-examined by Mr. Jackson, he said that one man who was in the house was drunk, but admitted that he did not mention it in the report he sent to Stafford. He did not report the matter to Sergeant Heath until the second day. He did notice a card (produced) in the room which prohibited gambling in the house.

Henry Hill deposed to going to the house with Police-constable Brown, and gave similar evidence.

Answering Mr. Jackson, he admitted that when the officers were going out he heard one of them, he could not say which, ‘the —— door’s locked.’

Sergeant Heath gave evidence, but denied that either of the constables made use of bad language as they were going out. He afterwards visited the railway man who had been in the house, and he said ‘You might or you might not consider we were playing for half-pints.’

The defence was a complete denial of all knowledge that gambling had taken place, the landlord stating that he was out of the house from 7 until about 8.30 on the Saturday night.

The landlady, Frederick Hughes, and several other witnesses who were in the house on the night in question, also denied that any gambling took place.

After retiring for about half-an-hour, Mr. Clarke intimated that they had given the case a good deal of consideration, and they thought justice would be met if the defendant paid all the costs, which amounted to £3 10s 6d.

The hearing of this case occupied more than three hours.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Since the last licensing meeting, six licensed victuallers had been proceeded against for offences against their licences.....

Joseph Moseley, STATION INN, Pelsall, suffering gaming, ordered to pay costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1908

“A bowls handicap decided at the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, on Saturday.....

Final. R. Lee..... 17 B. Cooper..... 16. J. Dodd won the third prize and A. Aspinall the fourth.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/3/1909

“On Easter Monday the annual old person’s tea and entertainment will be held at the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall. Tea will be on the tables at 4pm The musical programme will be contributed to by Messrs. J. Doughty, G. Wright, J. Peel, H. Poxon, A. Lycett, and selections on the gramophone. The old people will no doubt have an enjoyable time.”

1911 Census

Pelsall – STATION INN

- [1] William Hughes (33), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Sarah Ann Hughes (31), wife, married 9 years, born Pelsall;
- [3] Beatrice Annie Hughes (8), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] William Charles Hughes (6), son, born Pelsall;
- [5] Victor Ronald Hughes (3), son, born Pelsall;
- [6] Ada Turner (25), general servant, born Daw End:

Walsall Advertiser 25/11/1911

“A meeting of miners was held at the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, on Wednesday evening last, Mr. Burgess presiding. On the opening of the meeting, the Chairman referred to the small attendance, and in the course of his address he impressed upon those present the importance of the present negotiations, now under consideration by the Colliery proprietors and the miners’ representatives.....”

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1912

“The Coal War. Great Struggle Still Proceeding.....”

Notices were issued stating that strike pay would be paid as follows (on the production of contribution card): Thursday, March 14th, Sheffield, SPRING COTTAGE INN, at 11am; Walsall Wood, WHEEL INN, at 2pm; Brownhill, Crown Inn, at 5pm; Friday, March 15th, Pelsall, STATION INN, at 11am; Bloxwich, QUEENS HEAD INN, at 2pm; Lane Head, BRITISH OAK INN, at 5pm; Saturday, March 16th, Newton, Malt Shovel Inn at 11am.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/3/1912

“Strikers in the Walsall Wood, Rushall and Sheffield neighbourhood looked forward to their first strike pay with evident concern. There is no doubt the men are beginning to feel the pinch of wageless weeks and although they picked up a good haul the Saturday before last the coffers this week have begun to run low.

The first distribution of strike pay by the Pelsall and District Association took place on Thursday at Ted Clark’s SPRING COTTAGE INN, Sheffield. The time fixed was eleven o’clock, but before that hour a large crowd of miners has assembled. A few minutes after eleven, when the officials drove up, there could not have been less than 1,500 or 2,000 men waiting for their pay. Some of them had to wait a good time too, for it was close on half-past three in the afternoon before the last striker received his allowance. Fortunately the weather was fine – indeed, it was a bright spring day. The young strikers – the pit boys – with some of their seniors, whiled away the time at marbles, but generally the men were content to smoke pipes (with need it to be said, and occasional slaking of the thirst), and quietly chat together. The peculiar part about it all – at least that which impresses the stranger, is that the men discuss practically every other topic imaginable with the one exception of the unrest!

The paying out was conducted in a smooth and business-like manner, the men entering the room where it was carried out in the order of their respective lodges. They were commendably orderly and the crowd gradually diminished, the strikers making a move off as soon as they had received their money. Each man received 15/- and the few boys who had to be paid 7/6. The officials present included Messrs. H. Smith (president), Mr. Smith (vice-president), T. Riley (secretary), and R. Burgess (treasurer). Mr. F. J. Dean (miners’ agent) was in London.

One of the officials explained that the ordinary strike pay is 10/- a week, but it was thought that it would be to the interests of the men if they were paid 15/-, as they have been at play since last Saturday week. The strikers came from all parts of the area covered by the association, although most of them belonged to Rushall, Sheffield and Walsall Wood.

From what could be gathered the men are not in such ‘high feather’ as they were this time last week. There are signs of a weakening in their determination, which goes a long long way to show that they would welcome a settlement. It was stated by one of the miners that in the early part of the week 20 or 30 non-unionists approached the manager of the Aldridge Colliery, and asked to be set at work, but were refused. In spite of the fact that the association has 4,000 members, there are non-unionists here and there and they must undoubtedly be reduced to an impecunious position. One of the miners expressed the opinion that after ‘this yer job’ is over the unionists will refuse to be reconciled to so many of the men remaining outside their union. The unionists evidenced that they appreciated their strike pay, small though it is compared to with an ordinary week’s money, but, in spite of reserve, many of them showed that they were a little anxious as to their prospects should the struggle be prolonged. Some of the men turned up at the venues in their Sunday best and one or two even wore collars and ties.

Later in the day there were ‘payings out’ at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, and at Brownhills. Yesterday (Friday) miners received pay at the STATION INN, Pelsall; the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich; and the BRITISH OAK, Lane Head. Today (Saturday) money will be paid put at the MALT SHOVEL INN, Newton.

It is stated that if a settlement is effected and the miners start work at once they will receive pay from the strike funds for the odd days they have been out.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/4/1913

“Mr. H. H. Jackson applied to the Rushall magistrates on Monday for a temporary transfer of the license of the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, from Mr. William Hughes to Mr. Joseph Gill.

Superintendent Salt informed the Bench that there had been a conviction against the applicant in relation to the house which he was leaving. Mr. Jackson said that although Mr. Gill’s license was renewed at the Annual Licensing Sessions, he had decided to devote his whole time to that house in Pelsall.

The Chairman (Mr. W. H. Brookes) after considering the case said there was no objection to applicant having the license, but owing to the fact that he had been convicted he wished to impress upon him that he must be very careful how he conducted the house which he was going into.

The application was granted, and Mr. Gill assured the Chairman that he would carry out his wish.”

Joseph Gill – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, Walsall Wood.

Walsall Observer 16/12/1916

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Joseph Whitehead, STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, elected member of the executive committee.”

Lichfield Mercury 28/6/1925 - Advert

“Billiards Table, $\frac{3}{4}$ size (Orme), all accessories.

STATION HOTEL, Pelsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/10/1925

“Brownhills And District Air-Gun League.....

Pelsall FREE TRADE (home) defeated Pelsall STATION HOTEL (away) by 208 points to 194. J. Evans made 24 and J. Stone 23; while J. Clews made 25 for the losers, the highest possible score.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/6/1928

“Henry Caulton, licensee of the STATION HOTEL, Pelsall, was fined £20 at Rushall on Monday on two summonses – one for keeping a betting house and the other for keeping a gaming house; his wife Elizabeth Caulton, was fined £5 for assisting him in the offences; James Edge, New Street, Shelfield, for using the house for the purpose of betting with persons resorting thereto, was fined £20; and Samuel Lever, Ash Tree Road, Pelsall, and John Charles, Coronation Road, Pelsall, were fined 40s and 20s respectively for using the house for betting purposes; Caulton and Edge were also ordered to pay special costs amounting to £10 1s between them.

Evidence was given by two witnesses, one from Wednesbury and the other from Willenhall, as to visiting the public-house in question at the instigation of the police, and to having seen money and betting slips handed to Edge, who frequented the house. Inspector Clarke spoke to making a raid on the public-house and to finding betting slips on the landlord and also on Edge, who was seen to throw something on the fire.

Mr. H. H. Jackson for the licensee pleaded guilty to both summonses, but said there was no suggestion that the betting slips found on him related to bets he had made in his own house.

Edge also tendered a plea of guilty, stating that he had applied for a betting license, but could not get one. He also remarked that if every person who had an illegal ‘flutter’ on the Derby were to be summoned, the magistrates would have more to do than they could possibly manage.”

Walsall Observer 23/12/1939

“That it combines traditional hospitality with originality to create the latest conception of a modern inn is claimed by Atkinson’s for their new house, ‘The Trees,’ which occupies commanding and elevated site hard by the Quesslet Road, Great Barr.....

Mr. Brown announced that in addition to the Anchor, the brewery company were surrendering the licenses of the STATION INN, Pelsall, and the Live and Let Live, and the Hit or Miss, all of which would be closed at 2 o’clock that day before the Trees opened at 6 o’clock that evening.”

STATION

High Street, Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Roberts [1891]

NOTES

1891 Census

High Street – STATION HOTEL

[1] William Roberts (62), licensed victualler, born Little Aston, Staffordshire;

- [2] Ann Roberts (58), wife, born Yarm, Yorkshire;
- [3] George Roberts (25), nephew, clerk in brewery, born Aston, Warwickshire;
- [4] Clara Cresswell (21), barmaid, born Brownhills;
- [5] Mary Ann Marklew (18), parlour maid, born Brownhills;
- [6] Mary Ann Instone (21), domestic servant, born Blists Hill, Shropshire;
- [7] John Robinson (19), assistant brewer, born Claverley;
- [8] Walter Evans (17), hostler, born Pinley, Warwickshire;
- [9] Charles Hickman (17), waiter, born Wyrley;

STATION

20, Station Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Charles F Baker [1891]

NOTES

1891 Census

20, Station Street – STATION INN

- [1] Charles F. Baker (56), buckle maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Baker (53), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] George H. Wicks (23), boarder, saddler, born Manchester;
- [4] Charles E. Spurrier, (21), boarder, engineer, born Birmingham;
- [5] Sarah Evans (22), boarder, tailor's shopwoman, born Leominster;
- [6] Edward Thomas Baker (62), boarder, clerk, born Edgbaston;

STORES

172, High Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

J. Clifford, draper, Hednesford
Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd. [1913]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Philip and Thomas William Sanders [] – 1887);
Thomas William Sanders (1887 – 1896);
Frank Thomas Sanders (1896 – 1897);
Mrs. Sarah Waterfield (1897 – 1907);
Charles Henry Waterfield (1907 – 1912);
Charles Ernest Perry (1912 – 1916);
Mary Perry (1916 – 1920);
Charles Ernest Perry (1920 – 1925);
James Haynes (1925 – 1927);
William Arthur Cox (1927 – [])

NOTES

VICTORIA STORES [1906]

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

STORES, High Street, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1893

“Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Mr. Thomas Sanders, The STORES, 138, High Street, Bloxwich.”

Thomas William Sanders, beer retailer, High Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1896

“The forty-fourth annual meeting of the members of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

We have to report the decease of two of our members, viz, Mr. William Ross, WALSALL ARMS INN, Bank Street, Walsall, and Mr. Thomas Sanders, The STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, to the bereaved relatives of whom on your behalf we have tendered our sincere sympathy.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1900

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Charles Waterfield, STORES, High Street, Bloxwich.”

1901 Census

172, High Street

[1] Charles Waterfield (41), retail innkeeper, born Bloxwich;

[2] Sarah Waterfield (44), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Mabel Waterfield (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Nellie Waterfield (13), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[5] Sarah Baker (38), servant, born Bloxwich;

[6] William Baker (14), relative, clerk, born Bloxwich;

[7] Sarah A. Stockley (19), relative, born Bloxwich;

[Sarah was licensee according to the Licensing Register.]

Mrs. Sarah Waterfield, beer retailer, 172, High Street. [1904]

Sarah Waterfield was fined 10s and costs, on 17th November 1905, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Black List From Bloxwich. The Chief Constable reported that three license holders had been fined, viz, W. C. Athersmith, VINE INN, Bloxwich, under the Child Messenger Act, and Sarah Waterfield, VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, and David Lawrence, NELSON INN, Bloxwich, for permitting drunkenness.

These licenses were renewed, with a caution.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/8/1909

“William Miles, 128, Harrison Street, Bloxwich, for being drunk on the licensed premises of the STORES INN, Bloxwich, on July 28th, was fined 5s including costs.”

1911 Census

172, High Street

[1] Charles Henry Waterfield (50), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;

[2] Ellina Grace Pagett (23), daughter, married, housekeeper, born Bloxwich;

[3] John Henry Pagett (27), son in law, shop assistant (fishmonger), born Walsall;
[4] Hilda Noreen Pagett (2), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Charles Waterfield, beer retailer, 172, High Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The following were the notices of objection (Compensation Clause).....

NEW INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Hy. Mellor).

SPORTSMAN, Pinfold, Bloxwich. (Jacob Williams).

NELSON, Church Street, Bloxwich. (Jos. Wall).

STAG, Field Street, Bloxwich. (Jane Tolley).

PLOUGH, Cemetery Road, (Charles Mansfield).

RISING SUN, Park Road, Bloxwich, (Charles Orgill).

STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, (Charles Ernest Perry).

BEEHIVE, New Street, Bloxwich, (Benjamin Hughes).”

AND

“The Court re-assembled yesterday (Friday) morning.....

The STORES, High Street. Mr. Jackson again appeared for the owners, the Bloxwich Brewery Company, Ltd, and the tenant, Mr E. C. Perry.

Inspector Pritchard said that there were six licensed houses in High Street between the Public Hall and the Pinfold. He had visited the house 16 times in 10 weeks, and found 220 persons, an average of about 14 persons per visit.

In reply to Mr. Jackson, witness said he did not know of a better conducted house in Bloxwich, and he could not mention another beer-house that was doing a larger trade.

Mr. Perry, the tenant, said he paid £36 rent, and he paid all outgoings. He had been in the house 11 months and for five years he had occupied the VINE, belonging to the same owners. The trade averaged 352 barrels per year, and 26 gross of bottled beer.

Mr. Jackson remarked that so far as he knew there had never been a single complaint against the house since it was erected.

He had worked out the amount of compensation, on a basis he thought he could substantiate, and he found it would be about £2,000.....

Having retired, the Bench announced that the licenses of the STAG and the STORES would be renewed for this year, but might be considered at some future date. The remaining six houses would be referred to the compensation authorities.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/5/1913 - Advert

“General wanted (18); clean, industrious.

Apply Perry, The STORES, High Street, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/2/1914

“Chas. Butler (28), miner, of Little Bloxwich, was charged with stealing a gentleman’s bicycle, value £4, the property of Arnold Richard Lake, on Feb. 23rd.

Complainant said that at about 8.10 on the evening in question he left the bicycle in a passage leading to the kitchen of the STORES, and handed the lamp to Mr. Perry, landlord of the STORES. Prisoner, who was in the bar, saw this done, and later went out. About 9.15 witness went for his bicycle, but discovered it was missing. Failing to find it, he reported the matter to the police, and at 11.45 that night he saw it at the police station.

Charles Herbert Perry, licensee of the store, said he had known prisoner for about four years. He came to his house from about 6 or 7 till about 9.15.

Police-constable Smith (66) said that at about 9.40 he visited George Street and saw prisoner coming out of a house. He said ‘Good evening Mr. Smith. You are in a hurry.’ Witness then said he was inquiring about a bicycle that had been stolen, and prisoner said, ‘I know nothing about it. I have been in Poulson’s all night, and am just going to have a drink.’ Prisoner, was sober and had no bicycle with him.

Thomas Venables, of Vicarage Street, Walsall, said he met the prisoner near the junction of Centenary Road. Prisoner was pushing a bicycle without a light towards Little Bloxwich. Witness offered him some matches to light the machine, and he said he had no light. Witness said it was very foolish to be out so late with a bicycle without a lamp and then struck a match, enquiring, ‘Is this your bicycle?’ the man said he found it in a field between Centenary Road and Canwick Road. Witness said, ‘You are going the wrong way, you want to take it to the police station.’ He said it was late and he wanted to get home as he had to start work early in the morning. Witness offered to take the machine to the police station, and took possession of it, taking prisoner’s name and address.

Police-constable Smith (51) said he visited prisoner at his house in Little Bloxwich, and charged him with the offence. He repeated his story of finding the bicycle in a field. Witness arrested him and he replied, ‘Yes.’

The mayor said the Bench desired to thank Mr. Venables for the intelligent interest he had taken in the matter, and they were pleased with the way he had given his evidence.

The Chief Constable: It was the way he dealt with him that frightened him, or the robbery might not have been discovered now. Prisoner elected to go for trial at the Sessions, and made a statement reiterating his previous story.”

[At the Quarter Sessions, held on 3rd June, 1914, Charles Butler, was found guilty, and sentenced six months’ imprisonment with hard labour.]

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
STORES, Bloxwich, 5s 9½d.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/1/1915

“At the County Court on Wednesday, before Judge Howard Smith, a claim was made by Joseph Hancox, famer and haulier of Green Lane, Birchills, for £5 damages against Joseph Wall, of the STORES public house, High Street, Bloxwich, it being alleged that a cross-bred lurcher dog, said to belong to the defendant, had worried sheep belonging to plaintiff. Mr. Frank Cooper appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. L. Lester defended.
For the plaintiff it was stated that in September a flock of sheep belonging to plaintiff were in a field at Birchills. A cross-bred lurcher dog was seen on September 17th by plaintiff’s employé named Titley, worrying the hindquarters of the sheep. The dog was stoned off, but later it as found in addition to the one sheep which had been worried, that another sheep had been killed outright. The matter was reported to the police, and Detective-sergeant Burrell traced the dog to the defendant’s house. Defendant admitted the dog belonged to him, but said he had given it away some time previously. The animal, he said, however, had returned to the house and had been allowed to stay.
Plaintiff gave evidence, and said that in addition to the sheep which had been killed outright, the other sheep which had been worried, died of its injuries.
For the defence, Police-sergeant Cattermole was called, showing that defendant had a new dog, and that defendant told him that he had given the lurcher to a brother-in-law named Wickson, who was the owner of a caravan.
Defendant said the dog became the property of boatmen who put horses in the stabling at the rear of his premises. He notified the police in March that the dog was not his property.
His honour gave judgement for the defendant with costs.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
The STORES, 172, High Street, Bloxwich. £1 1s 1d.”

William Arthur Cox – see also PARKFIELD.

Check OLD STORES.

STORES

1, Ablewell Street / Wearwell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Messrs Shepherd and Hawley, factors
S. Cox Esq.
City Brewery Co. (Lichfield) Ltd.
Arthur Beebee Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

John Taylor [1868] – [1873];
Thomas Edge [1881] – 1890);
John Cotton (1890);
David Bell (1890 – 1891);
Mrs. Martha Mills [1891] manageress
John Sanders (1891 – 1893);
Sarah Ann Sanders [1893] ?
James Coxhill (1893 – 1894);
William Bailey (1894);
Edwin Salloway (1894 – 1905);
William Alfred Burton (1905 – 1906):

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license, and a refreshment license.

John Taylor, beer retailer, 1, Ablewell Street. [1868], [1872]

Walsall Free Press 23/5/1868 - Advert

“Bottled Stout & Ale.

In Excellent Condition At The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street, Corner of Warewell Street, Walsall.

John Taylor, Agent for D’Arcy & Son, & Findlaters’ Dublin Stout, in Firkins and Kils; also Bass and Co’s Ale and Guinness’s Stout, in Kils.

The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street, Corner of Warewell Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 30/7/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, a strong, respectable Youth, about 15, as Light Porter.

The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street.”

1871 Census

Ablewell Street

[1] John Taylor (27), widower, beer retailer, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Yardley (29), barmaid, born Oldswinford;

[3] Isabella Noakes (20), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Free Press 19/8/1871 - Advert

“Bottled Stout & Ale.

Private Families supplied with the above in excellent condition, on the shortest notice, from

The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street, corner of Warewell Street, Walsall.

By John Taylor, Agent for D’Arcy & Sons, and Findlater’s Dublin Stout, in Firkins and Kils; also Bass & Co’s Ale, and Guinness’s Stout, in Kils.”

Walsall Free Press 14/10/1871 - Advert

“Wanted, a respectable Servant Girl, about 18, at The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street.”

AND

“Wanted, a large quantity of Porter Bottles, at The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street.”

Walsall Free Press 29/2/1873 - Advert

“Wanted, a strong young man used to Horse and Trap, to make himself generally useful; must be able to read and write.

The STORES, Ablewell Street.”

Walsall Free Press 19/4/1873

“John Mills, porter in the employment of Mr. Taylor, the STORES, Ablewell Street, was charged with having assaulted his employer. Fined 2s 6d and costs; or in default, six days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 16/8/1873 - Notice

“The STORES, 1, Ablewell Street, Walsall, 18th July, 1873.

I beg respectfully to intimate that on and after the 1st August, I shall Discontinue the Bottling Department of my Business, having Disposed of the same to Messrs. Dowdswell and Spencer, of West Bromwich, who will carry it on as heretofore.

I beg sincerely to thank you for the liberal patronage so kindly bestowed on me during my connection with the trade, and to solicit a continuance of your favours in behalf of my Successors.

Yours respectfully, John Taylor.

A collection of bottles belonging to me will commence in a few days.”

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1881 Census

1, Ablewell Street – The STORES

[1] Thomas Edge (44), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah Edge (49), wife, born Leicester;

[3] Sarah Salt (17), general servant, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire:

David Bell was fined 10s and costs, on 16th March 1890, for selling liquor to drunken persons.

Birmingham Daily Post 6/10/1891

“At the guildhall, yesterday, Martha Mills, manageress of the STORES public-house, Ablewell Street, was charged with receiving stolen grains, the property of George Griffin, Gillity Greaves Farm. Mr. Cotterell appeared for the defence.

The evidence in support of the case was that whilst stopping at the STORES with a load of grains, which they were taking from the railway station to Gillity Greaves Farm, two of Mr. Griffin's servants – Alfred Taylor and a man named Pugh – were asked by Mrs. Mills if they could let her have some grains. They told her they could not that day, but they arranged to take her some on subsequent days, and Taylor did so on the 7th and 15th of August, receiving on each occasion 6d and a pint of ale for about two strikes of grain, computed to be worth 10d, and each time leaving a bag with the grain.

Before all the witnesses for the prosecution had been called, the Mayor said the magistrates thought there was no necessity to carry the case further. They did not believe that she knew the grains were stolen, but she had acted with a great deal of indiscretion, and the proceedings on the part of Mr. Griffin were perfectly justifiable. Mr. Brewer added that the Chief Constable would not have done his duty if he had not taken up the prosecution.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/5/1893

“Thomas Turler 20, Ball Street, against whom a long list of previous convictions existed, was summoned for refusing to quit the premises of Sarah Ann Sanders, the STORES, Ablewell Street, on the 3rd inst. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted, and it was shown that defendant when refused drink used disgraceful expressions, and had to be ejected by Police-constable Smith. Fined 20s and costs or 14 days.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall borough took place yesterday.....

Mr. Jackson also submitted a plan for alterations at the STORES, Ablewell Street. The decision was deferred.....

The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that all the other applications would be granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/4/1895

“Walsall Conservative Association.

On Monday next a meeting of No.18 Polling District Committee (Bridge Ward) will be held at the STORES INN, Ablewell Street, for the purpose of electing a vice-chairman, and the transaction of other important business.”

1901 Census

1, Ablewell Street

[1] Edwin Salloway (49), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Emila Salloway (50), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Elise Salloway (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Edwin Salloway, beer retailer, 1, Ablewell Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1905 - Advert

“A. Beebee's Noted Home Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell St., Walsall.

Houses.....

The STORES, Ablewell Street.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 1st February 1906.

The license was extinguished in 1906.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Chief Constable had given notice of objection to the renewal of the following seven licenses; William Henry Lowe, ACORN, alehouse, Lower Rushall Street; James Scott, JOLLY BACCCHUS, alehouse, New Street; George James Sambrook, KING WILLIAM, alehouse, Little Bloxwich; William Wright, OLD OAK, beerhouse, Upper Hall Lane; William Alfred Burton, STORES, beerhouse, Ablewell Street; George Carrington, STORES, beerhouse, Upper Rushall Street; John James Lawrence, STORES, beerhouse, High Street.

Mr. Loxton said these objections were by direction of the Bench, and he had also served notices on behalf of the magistrates, simply to comply with the section of the Act of Parliament, and without forming any opinion or prejudging cases. The justices directed him to state for the convenience of the advocates that the objections were mainly on the grounds of not required which would necessitate their being referred to the Compensatory Authority. But if during the hearing of the cases the grounds should be such as to justify the refusal of renewal on grounds without compensation, the advocate would be required to direct his attention to such grounds.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said he came there on the understanding that it was the intention to refer those licenses to the Compensatory Authority to report on.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had inspected a number of houses with a view to whether they should report to the Compensatory

Authority. It might be that some houses were structurally unfit, and in such case they would refuse the license, and they would have to go the quarter sessions.....

As to the STORES, Ablewell Street, Mr. Jackson (who appeared for the City Brewery, who are the owners, and the tenant, William Alfred Burton) said the house was an anti-'69 beerhouse, and was rated at £50 gross and £40 net. It was stated that the takings amounted to £17 or £18 weekly.....

The JOLLY BACCHUS, KING WILLIAM; STORES, Upper Rushall Street; STORES, High Street, were referred to the compensation authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1906

“On Tuesday before a full Bench, comprised of Messrs. W. H. Brooks (presiding), G. Gull, J. Moseley, A. D. Cozens, R. Thomas, S. B. Wheway, H. D. Clark, P. Bull, J. Clare, and (Dr.) J. Lynch, Mr. F. Bill (solicitor) appeared in support of the report made by the Licensing Committee in respect of the four following houses: KING WILLIAM, Little Bloxwich; OLD OAK, Hall Lane; STORES, Ablewell Street; and STORES, High Street.

Mr. Bill in explaining the mode of procedure, said that if the Licensing Committee thought a license should be dealt with on certain grounds they could deal with it, and could refuse the license, but if they considered that it should be dealt with in respect of grounds other than those particular grounds, the matter must be brought before a full bench of Magistrates to deal with. The grounds of the report in these cases were that the licenses were not required by the needs of the district. This was one of the grounds the Licensing Committee could not deal with, and they must send the licenses so reported to a full bench of magistrates, who could renew or refuse the license. In case the latter course was taken then the question of compensation arose. He was instructed that these four houses had been inspected by the magistrates, so that their condition and the neighbourhood must be within their own knowledge. Mr. Bill then proceeded to call evidence.....

STORES, Ablewell Street. Chief-inspector Ballance stated that within a 250 yard radius of the house were 25 alehouses, 5 being beer on-licenses, and one beer off, five of them being very near this house. The population of the district had greatly decreased during the last 18 years. This particular house was the least suitable for carrying on the licensing trade.

Mr. Jackson (who appeared for the owners, Lichfield City Brewery Co., and the licensee, W. A. Burton), pointed out that the house was an ante-'69 beerhouse and was one of the most unassuming little houses he had ever been in. It was very clean, in excellent condition and there was nothing against it with regard to the conduct of the house. The takings amounted to £17 or £18 per week, and a great deal of outdoor trade was done. They thought it was one of the most valuable houses in the neighbourhood, and the fact that the takings were so good was the best evidence that the house was required by the needs of the neighbourhood.....

After a private deliberation, the chairman (Mr. W. H. Brooks) said the Bench had unanimously confirmed the resolution of the Licensing Committee that the four houses were unnecessary, and the licenses would be refused.”

STORES

39, (38-39), Goodall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Abbey, grocer, High Street, Walsall
Mr. Day, Handsworth [1911]
Yardley Brewing Co.
R. A. Harper Ltd., Bilston
Eleys Stafford Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Mrs. Eliza Cooke [1868] – [1870]
John Flynn [1871] – [1877];
Mrs. Caroline Flynn [];
Joseph Clair [];
Henry Sherwin [];
Harry Wareing [];
Thomas Collis [1881];
Phebe Smith [] – 1886);
William Perris (1886 – 1887);
Thomas Bird (1887 – 1889);
Charles Flintham (1889 – 1891);
Edmund Lord (1891 – 1894);
William John McLean (1894 – 1895);
John Wiggin (1895 – 1896);

Albert James Hulse (1896 – 1897);
Mrs. Anne Maria Hulse (1897 – 1900);
Elijah Ford (1900 – 1904);
William Starkey (1904 – 1906);
John James Lawrence (1906 – 1908);
Horace Arthur Price (1908 – 1909);
William Henry Davis (1909 – 1911);
William Rowley (1911 – 1917);
Albert Atherton (1917 – 1918);
Edith Atherton (1918 – 1919);
Thomas McCloud (1919 – 1922);
William Lote (1922 – 1925):

NOTES

It had a beer, cider and wine license, and a refreshment license.

It was originally unnamed.

Mrs. Eliza Cooke, beer retailer, 38-39, Goodall Street. [1868], [1870]

John Flynn, beer retailer, 39, Goodall Street. [1872]

He was fined 20s and costs, on 3rd March 1877, for being open after 11pm.

1871 Census

39, Goodall Street

- [1] John Flynn (46), publican and patent leather japanner, born Ireland;
- [2] Ellen M. Flynn (18), daughter, scholar, born London;
- [3] Mary A, Flynn (16), daughter, scholar, born London;
- [4] John P. Flynn (14), son, patent leather japanner, born London;
- [5] Thomas R. Flynn (11), son, scholar, born London;
- [6] Frances A. Flynn (8), daughter, scholar, born London;
- [7] Benjamin Flynn (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Evangeline Flynn (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 8/3/1873

“John Flynn, beerhouse keeper, Goodall Street, was charged with having, on the night of the 26th ult, had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Two witnesses, named James Perry and Samuel Redfern, proved that, on the invitation of the defendant’s son, they went to defendant’s house, where they arrived at six minutes past eleven, and had three quarts of ale, and also three small jugs of wine, for each of which they paid 1s. Mr. Glover, who appeared for defendant, called several witnesses, after which the Bench sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 20s and costs; but owing to his previous good conduct, they did not order the license to be endorsed.”

1881 Census

39, Goodall Street

- [1] Thomas Collis (32), innkeeper, born Walsall;
 - [2] Elizabeth Collis (34), wife, born Birmingham;
 - [3] Ellen Hadley (17), domestic servant, born Barton, Lancashire:
- [There are a number of Bartons in Lancashire.]

Lichfield Mercury 19/1/1883

“On Friday, at the Guildhall, Walsall, Michael Silk, Freer’s Yard, was brought up on remand charged with having wilfully broken a pane of glass and a glass screen, of the value £10 at the STORES beerhouse, Goodhall Street. His plea, when first brought before the Bench, was the ‘temper’ had prompted him to do the mischief.

Dr. Maclachan deposed that he did not consider the prisoner was quite responsible for his actions, but he must have known perfectly well that he was doing wrong, when he broke the glass.

The prisoner was fined £5, or one months’ imprisonment.”

1891 Census

39, Goodall Street

- [1] Chares Flintham (32), harness maker, born Owersby, Lincolnshire;
- [2] Louisa R. Flintham (29), wife, born Alton, Lincolnshire;
- [3] Charles Flintham (9), son, scholar, born Alton, Lincolnshire;

- [4] Annie L. Flintham (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Harry L. Flintham (1), son, born Walsall;
[6] Bertha Barnes (20), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/3/1894

“Henry Harris, Castle Street, Wolverhampton, was charged with leaving a cart on the highway unattended. Police-constable Evans said that on the 26 ult. he saw a brewer’s cart opposite the STORES, Goodall Street, and the defendant was inside the inn playing cards. Defendant pleaded guilty, and said that he went out to look at the horse occasionally. Fined 5s and costs or seven days.”

William John McLean – see also SPORTSMAN.

John Wiggin, beer retailer, 39, Goodall Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“The STORES (Goodall Street) Money Club.

A supper in connection with the above took place on Thursday week, when about 30 sat down to an excellent repast, prepared by the worthy hostess, Mrs. Hulse. Afterwards Mr. W. Rollins was voted chairman, and Mr. J. Duell vice-chairman. The toast of the Queen was duly honoured. The undermentioned gentlemen gave the company much pleasure by the way they rendered their songs &c: Messrs. J. Gwinutt, C. Gardiner, T. Bruce, G. Ball, C. Bridge, J. Harbridge, Alf. Freeman, Geo. Freeman, &c, master Harbridge gave a flute solo. Votes of thanks to the secretary, chairman, and vice-chairman were heartily accorded. Mr. Rollins proposed a toast to the hostess, Mrs. Hulse, which was received with acclamation. Mr. Lowbridge made an able accompanist,”

Elijah Ford was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

39, Goodall Street – The STORES

- [1] Elijah Ford (37), engine and machine maker, born Walsall;
[2] Annie Ford (34), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Frank Hulse (15), son, apprentice saddler __ys, born Walsall;
[4] Victor Hulse (14), son, labourer, errand boy, born Walsall;
[5] Charles Hulse (12), son, born Walsall;
[6] John Hulse (6), son, born Walsall;
[7] Ethel Ford (1 month), daughter, born Walsall;
[8] Emma Genden (21), general servant, born Walsall:

Elijah Ford, beer retailer, 39, Goodall Street. [1904]

Edinburgh Gazette 29/3/1910

“Receiving Orders.....

William Henry Davis, the STORES INN, Goodall Street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, formerly carrying on business at the Square, Walsall aforesaid, beerhouse keeper, formerly publisher.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

“The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The Chief Constable objected to the renewal of the license of the STORES, Goodall Street, held by William Henry Davies, on the ground that the licensee was an undischarged bankrupt.

Mr. J. F. Addison stated that he appeared for the licensee and the owner, Mr. Day of Handsworth. It was true that Davies had become a bankrupt, but he applied that the Bench should adjourn the whole matter until the Adjourned Licensing Sessions.

Mr. C. A. Loxton: You want then to adjourn it so that the license, which has been forfeited might become good? Mr. Addison replied that the bankruptcy of Davies had not been caused by the falling off of trade at the house, but he had been concerned in a publishing business in the town and made certain losses that ultimately landed him in the Bankruptcy Court. Mr. Day was going to keep Davies on as manager at another house, and had made arrangements for a bona fide tenant to come to the STORES, but he was unable to go into the house until Monday or Tuesday week.

Answering a question, Davies said that when he went and took the house over it was doing £4 a week, but now it was £10.

The Bench adjourned the matter until the Adjourned Sessions.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/3/1911

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.....

Mr. J. F. Addison applied for a full transfer of the license of the STORES, Goodall Street, to William Rowley, who had been granted a temporary transfer. He had been instructed by all parties including the Official Receiver.

The Chief Constable stated that he had objected to the license at the annual licensing meeting because the licensee became bankrupt. A new tenant had now been put in in the person of a man named Rowley, who had a good character and had held licenses in other towns. He therefore withdrew his objection.

The license was renewed to the new tenant.”

1911 Census

39, Goodall Street

- [1] William Rowley (37), publican, born Tipton;
- [2] Charlotte Rowley (34), wife, married 14 years, born Tipton;
- [3] Cora Irena Rowley (13), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Evelyn Maude Rowley (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Olive Gwendoline Rowley (5), daughter, born Tipton:

William Rowley, beer retailer, 39, Goodall Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 13/6/1914

“George Bagnall, Stow Heath Lane, Bilston, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, the STORES, Goodall Street, on the 26th, ult.

Chief Inspector Ballance stated that at 9.15pm his attention was attracted to the defendant, who was talking loudly to a woman. He was drunk, and subsequently staggered across the road into the STORES. Witness went into the place by side door and warned the landlord against serving him. He then sent a constable to fetch the man out.

Police-constable Marston and Police-constable Bell gave corroborating evidence, the latter stating that as he was coming off duty he saw the man, who was drunk creating a disturbance in Goodall Street. Another man advised him to go away, and they went down the market.

The defendant denied that he was drunk, and called several witnesses in support of his assertion.

Charles Bagnall said the defendant only had two drinks between 7 and 9 o'clock, and Charlotte Hardel said he was 'exactly sober.'

William Hardel also stated defendant was not drunk.

A fine of 5s and costs was imposed, with an alternative of seven days.”

Walsall Observer 14/11/1914

“Joseph Winstone, of 16, Lower Rushall Street, was charged with being drunk on licensed premises, the STORES, Goodall Street, on November 4. Police-constable Fisher said he saw the defendant, who was drunk and staggering over the footpath, go into the STORES. Defendant was put on his good behaviour for six months.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

The STORES, Goodall Street. £2 7s 7½d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst, the justices referred the following houses for compensation.....
STORES, Goodall Street.”

It closed on 31st October 1925 after compensation was paid (on 24th October 1925).

It actually stopped selling on 1st October 1925.

STORES DINING ROOM [1930]

STORES

24, (25), (24+25), High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Aaron Frankham

Thomas Sneyd, chemist, High Street, Walsall

Messrs. Flowers and Sons, brewers, Stratford on Avon

Holloway Brothers, High Street, Walsall [1906]

George Thompson, 32, Larches Street, Sparkbrook (leased)

LICENSEES

Aaron Frankham [1866] – [1872]

Joseph Jenkins [];
William Homer [] – 1888);
James Osbourne (1888 – 1889);
Albert Aldridge (1889);
Alfred Jones (1889 – 1890);
George Cope (1890 – 1891);
John Henry Tully (1891 – 1896);
Hugh Charles Gooby (1896 – 1899);
John James Lawrence (1899 – 1906);

NOTES

25, High Street [1866]
24, High Street [1871], [1891], [1892], [1901]
24+25, High Street [1872]

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

Walsall Free Press 13/1/1866 - Advert

“Notice.

Wholesale And Retail Burton Stores, 25, High Street, Walsall.

A. Frankham Begs to inform the public that he has upwards of 2000 Gallons of the celebrated Burton Ale, which he is Selling at 4d per Quart.

100 Doz. Bottles wanted.”

1871 Census

24, High Street

[1] Aaron Frankham (39), refreshment house keeper and general dealer, born Walsall;

[2] Anne Frankham (35), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Eleanor Frankham (9), daughter, scholar, born Jamaica;

[4] Harry Frankham (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Clara Frankham (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Sarah Ann Perks (21), barmaid, born Shareshill, Staffordshire;

[7] Eliza Pritchard (22), general servant, born Dudley:

Aaron Frankham, beer retailer and general dealer, 24+25, High Street. [1872]

Alfred Jones – see also NEW INNS.

John Henry Tully = Henry John Tully

1891 Census

24, High Street – The STORES

[1] Henry John Tully (25), beerhouse keeper, deaf, born Walsall;

[2] Mary E. Tully (26), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Maria M. Tully (5), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Ada J. Tully (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] (Not Known) Tully (under 1 month), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Maria Tully (65), mother, widow, living on her own means, born Tardebigg, Worcestershire:

John Henry Tully, beer retailer, 24, High Street. [1892]

Walsall Advertiser 9/9/1893

“Alfred Jones, beerhouse keeper, NEW INN, Blue Lane West, formerly a well-known football player, appeared for his public examination, and was represented by Mr. H. H. Jackson, solicitor. His statement showed liabilities £311 10s 2d and assets £50 10s 3d. The following were the Official Receiver’s observations: prior to 1887 he took the ALMA INN, Paddock Lane, Walsall. He had no capital, but borrowed £14 from a friend. In April, 1889, he removed to the STORES INN, High Street, Walsall, and in 1890, to the NEW INN, Blue Lane West, Walsall. He agreed to pay £250 for goodwill, fixtures, brewing plant and unexpired portion of the lease, and to take stock at a valuation which amounted to £22. He borrowed £300 from a friend to pay these sums. He gave no security for the £300, and still owes £165 of that sum. The lease expired on the 25th March last. The bankrupt remained in possession and carried on business up to the time he filed the petition. He states the cause of his insolvency to be ‘paying an excessive amount upon taking to the NEW INN, loses upon brewing, supplying beer on credit, and illness of my child.’ He kept no books of account. He accounts for his deficiency as follows: Excess of liabilities over assets 12 months ago, £120 19s 11d; bad debts (for beer drunk upon the premises), £19; household expenses for the past 12 months, £75; loss upon forced realisation of effects, which he has estimated at a breaking up price, £50; doctor's bills and illness, £5; total £260 19s 11d. The examination was adjourned to the 27th inst. for closing."

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1894

"At the Guildhall, on Monday, James Dyer, keeper of the STORES INN, High Street, applied for the transfer of the license of that house to himself from John Henry Tully, who supported the application. The case was before the court on the previous Friday, the special transfer day, when Tully failed to appear. The Chief Constable (Mr. Taylor) now intimated that he had given notice of objection.

Dyer was sworn and admitted that his wife kept a coffee house and lodging-house in Peal Street, but said he left the PEAL AND NELSON INN because of this, as the Chief Constable told him if he got any other house than this he would have no opposition. Mr. Taylor: I told him I would not agree to his keeping a license if he had a common lodging house a few yards away.

The applicant denied it was a common lodging house, but the Chief Constable explained it was formerly the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, and although not a registered lodging-house was frequented by people on the road who were not of a particularly good character. Proceeding Mr. Taylor said his present objection was that he was not satisfied as to the applicant's present character. Since Dyer had left the PEAL AND NELSON there had been continual uproar in that part of town between his wife and people of the name of Fahy, and something would have to be done about it.

The applicant said he was afraid there was something under the surface as regards this opposition besides what had come out. It was not much good his doing anything against what the Chief Constable was able to do.

Mr. Loxton said there was no ground for such a statement as this. The magistrates would give him every consideration.

Mr. Brewer asked what he meant by something under the surface? – Dyer: Well, I will tell you; as it may well come out. In Mr. Holden's last election the Chief Constable sent Police-constable Bentley to my house, and he brought me up to his office. He said I hear you are taking an active part in this election, and if such is the case I shall have to oppose your license.

Mr. Moseley: On whose behalf was it? – Dyer: On behalf of Mr. Holden.

Mr. Brewer: Do you want to insinuate that because you were working for Mr. Holden the Chief Constable turned against you and warned you? – Dyer: I give you this statement, and you can take it for what it is worth.

Mr. Taylor asked to be allowed to meet this charge. It was perfectly true that he sent for this man and another man as well. It was at the last election, and he heard Dyer was getting a party of roughs together on behalf of Sir Arthur Holden, and that a man named Hunter, who was well known to the magistrates, was alleged to be getting another party of roughs together for Mr. Ritchie. He sent for both and warned each separately that if they had anything to do with any such thing he should have them bound over to keep the peace. This he did in the interests of the peace of the town.

Mr. Loxton: Certainly, that is obvious.

The applicant here said it was in Mr. Holden's not Sir Arthur Hayter's election.

Mr. Loxton said it was obvious that the Chief Constable acted in the interest of preserving peace.

The Chief Constable added that to show the absence of any personal feeling when the license of the PEAL AND NELSON was opposed he gave Dyer the character of having done his best whilst in charge there.

The Magistrates adjourned the application for a week for evidence in support of the opposition."

1901 Census

24, High Street

[1] John J. Lawrence (42), beerhouse keeper, born Birmingham;

[2] Eliza J. Lawrence (34), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Eliza A. Brookes (15), general servant, born Shelfield:

John James Lawrence, beer retailer, 24, High Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

"The adjourned annual brewster session were held on Tuesday.....

Mr. S. Grundy-Newman and Mrs. F. Bill appeared in the case of the STORES INN, and Holden [see CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL] was called to prove that this also was an ante-'69 license. He said he used to live in Peal Street, and the STORES was the same then as now. A man named Frankham kept it, and he (witness) had often had a drink there.

Mr. Armstrong (solicitor) thought that Holden might also be asked if he remembered the OLD OAK in Blue Lane – whether that was not an ante-'69 license?

Mr. Loxton: George, do you remember the OLD OAK? – Witness: Why, my uncle kept that over fifty years ago (laughter).

Mr. Loxton: I should think Mr. Loxton will give you a fee (laughter)."

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 1st February 1906.

The license was extinguished.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

"There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Chief Constable had given notice of objection to the renewal of the following seven licenses; William Henry Lowe, ACORN, alehouse, Lower Rushall Street; James Scott, JOLLY BACCHUS, alehouse, New Street; George James Sambrook, KING WILLIAM, alehouse, Little Bloxwich; William Wright, OLD OAK, beerhouse, Upper Hall Lane; William Alfred Burton, STORES, beerhouse, Ablewell Street; George Carrington, STORES, beerhouse, Upper Rushall Street; John James Lawrence, STORES, beerhouse, High Street.

Mr. Loxton said these objections were by direction of the Bench, and he had also served notices on behalf of the magistrates, simply to comply with the section of the Act of Parliament, and without forming any opinion or prejudging cases. The justices directed him to state for the convenience of the advocates that the objections were mainly on the grounds of not required which would necessitate their being referred to the Compensatory Authority. But if during the hearing of the cases the grounds should be such as to justify the refusal of renewal on grounds without compensation, the advocate would be required to direct his attention to such grounds.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said he came there on the understanding that it was the intention to refer those licenses to the Compensatory Authority to report on.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had inspected a number of houses with a view to whether they should report to the Compensatory Authority. It might be that some houses were structurally unfit, and in such case they would refuse the license, and they would have to go the quarter sessions.....

In the case of the STORES, High Street, Mr. Grundy-Newman appeared for the freeholders; Mr. George Thomson, the lessees, and the tenant (Mr. John James Lawrence). Chief-Inspector Ballance gave evidence, and said that the house was structurally bad; the property was old and in parts dilapidated, and opened into a common yard. It was a very good house and well managed. In cross-examination, he admitted that the licensed houses in the neighbourhood had decreased of late by about 14 houses, whilst the population had only slightly decreased. Most of the trade was done on market night, and therefore it was a convenience used by market people.

Mr. Grundy-Newman pointed out that it was outside the congested area. They had heard it was a very useful house to market people, and they were increasing very much of late. The house catered for a class of trade which others did not; a wagoner would not go into the DRAGON HOTEL as he would into the STORES. The rent of the house was £24 per annum; a good trade had always been done, and the licensee had held licenses for 20 or 30 years. If they referred the house to compensation, it would be punishment for no offence whatever.

The tenant was called and stated he paid £22 6s per year, which included rent, license, and rates and witness had the profits.

Mr. Thomson, the lessee was called, and he stated that the tenant was supplied through him from Cheshire's Brewery. He had no interest in the sales except that he supplied him with the beer wholesale. He had nothing to do with the retail. The compensation was paid by the freeholders, and he (witness) paid his portion.....

JOLLY BACCHUS, KING WILLIAM; STORES, Upper Rushall Street; STORES, High Street, were referred to the compensation authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1906

“On Tuesday before a full Bench, comprised of Messrs. W. H. Brooks (presiding), G. Gull, J. Moseley, A. D. Cozens, R. Thomas, S. B. Wheway, H. D. Clark, P. Bull, J. Clare, and (Dr.) J. Lynch, Mr. F. Bill (solicitor) appeared in support of the report made by the Licensing Committee in respect of the four following houses: KING WILLIAM, Little Bloxwich; OLD OAK, Hall Lane; STORES, Ablewell Street; and STORES, High Street.

Mr. Bill in explaining the mode of procedure, said that if the Licensing Committee thought a license should be dealt with on certain grounds they could deal with it, and could refuse the license, but if they considered that it should be dealt with in respect of grounds other than those particular grounds, the matter must be brought before a full bench of Magistrates to deal with. The grounds of the report in these cases were that the licenses were not required by the needs of the district. This was one of the grounds the Licensing Committee could not deal with, and they must send the licenses so reported to a full bench of magistrates, who could renew or refuse the license. In case the latter course was taken then the question of compensation arose. He was instructed that these four houses had been inspected by the magistrates, so that their condition and the neighbourhood must be within their own knowledge. Mr. Bill then proceeded to call evidence.....

STORES, High Street. Chief-inspector Ballance said that a 250 yard radius of the house contained 25 alehouses, 5 beer on licenses, and four of the houses were very close to. It was difficult of supervision, structurally bad, and in parts dilapidated. The population in the district had decreased very much in the last 15 years. The house did a mixed but not very good trade, most of which was done on market nights.

Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman (who appeared for the owners, Holloway Brothers, the lessee, George Thompson, and the licensee J. J. Lawrence), said he thought they had given the house an excellent testimonial. There had never been any complaint or a conviction against the house, it did a good class of trade, useful on market nights, and therefore useful to the public generally. The house was an ante-'69 beerhouse. The licensee had held licenses for between twenty and thirty years and never had a conviction against him. The house was entirely outside the congested area of the church.

After a private deliberation, the chairman (Mr. W. H. Brooks) said the Bench had unanimously confirmed the resolution of the Licensing Committee that the four houses were unnecessary, and the licenses would be refused.”

STORES

47, (48), Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

G. and W. Butler, harness makers, Stafford Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

John Holmes [1868] – [1873]

NOTES

48, Stafford Street

47, Stafford Street [1871]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Holmes, beer retailer, 48, Stafford Street. [1868], [1872]

1871 Census

47, Stafford Street

[1] John Holmes (34), beerhouse keeper, born Derby;

[2] Elizabeth Holmes (32), wife, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;

[3] Annie Jessop (12), daughter, scholar, born Barnsley, Yorkshire;

[4] Emily Holmes (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Mary Ann Colly (13), general servant, born Newdale, Shropshire:

The license was not taken out in 1874.

STORES

26, Upper Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Samuel Drew, Park Street, Walsall

Mrs. Drew, Park Street, Walsall

G. & C. Whitehouse

Robinson Brewery Co.

LICENSEES

William Kendall [1864] – [1871]

David Kendall [1872];

William Kendall [1881];

Frank Blakemore []

George Ball [];

John Brown Walker [];

Harry Nicholls [1888];

George Reay [1890] – [1897];

George G Morris (1896) ?

Ephraim Poultney [] – 1898;

George Carrington (1898 – 1906);

F Bullock [1904]

NOTES

ALE STORES [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

William Kendall, beer retailer and newsagent, Upper Rushall Street. [1864], [1865]

1871 Census

26, Upper Rushall Street

- [1] William Kendall (36), tobacconist and beer retailer, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Kendall (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Kendall (15), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Kendall (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Kendall (9), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Albert Kendall (7), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Charles Kendall (6), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Sarah Kendall (4), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Clara Kendall (5 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [10] John Livesey (66), messenger, bankruptcy court, born Walsall:

London Gazette 4/3/1881

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by William Kendall, of No.26, Upper Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Ale and Porter Dealer and Tobacconist.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, Solicitor, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, on the 17th day of March, 1881, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 2nd day of March, 1881.

Alfred B. East, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, Solicitor for the Debtor.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1888

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Harry Nicholls, the STORES, Upper Rushall Street, against whom there were previous convictions, was fined £5 and costs for permitting drunkenness in his house, on the 27th November. It seemed that on the day named a man named James Dobson went to the house early in the morning, being then the worse for liquor, and remained there drinking all day, his boots being taken off and sent to the pawnshop in the afternoon to provide him with money. Mr. Smith appeared for the defence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Cotterell applied on behalf of George Reay, The STORES, 26, Upper Rushall Street. Refused.”

1891 Census

26, Upper Rushall Street – The ALE STORES

- [1] George Reay (38), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Reay (41), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Ellen E. Reay (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] John Reay (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Frank Reay (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] William Reay (3), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Amelia Reay (14), general servant, born Walsall:

George Reay, beer retailer, 26, Upper Rushall Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 27/6/1896 - Deaths

“On the 21st inst, George G. Morris, the STORES, Rushall Street, aged 33 years.”

AND

“In our obituary column appears a notice of the death of George Morris, the once popular half-back and captain of the old Walsall Swifts football team. After playing sterling football for a number of years, he retired on his club amalgamating with the old Town club. He entered the STORES, Rushall Street, only a few months ago, and his death at the early age of 33 will be regretted by a large circle of athletic acquaintances. His remains were interred on Wednesday at Ryecroft cemetery.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/6/1897

“George Reay, beer retailer, of the STORES, Upper Rushall Street, was summoned for keeping open for the sale of intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours on Sunday, 16th May.

The Chief Constable said that last week a case was dismissed against the defendant. Since then he had had an opportunity of inquiring into the defence which would be set up in the present case. It was certainly satisfactory to himself, and he asked the permission of the Bench, to withdraw from the case. The defendant said he would pay costs.

Mr. J. Armstrong, who appeared for the defendant, said he was willing for that course to be adopted.

Case withdrawn.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable opposed the renewal of the license of the STORES, 26, Upper Rushall Street, on the ground that the premises were not structurally suitable. Mr. Bill appeared on behalf of the licensee, and Mr. Carl Duignan represented the owners, Messrs. Drew.

Mr. Bill said he was instructed that the premises was licensed previous to 1869, and consequently the objection of the police could not be taken into consideration.

The Chief Constable: Where is your proof? – Mr. Bill: I don’t think you could prove that it was not, or I that it was.

Mr. Loxton: The onus of proof lies upon you Mr. Bill.

Mr. Bill said he should then have to ask for an adjournment.

The Chief Constable had no objection to this course, and the matter was adjourned till the adjourned day.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/10/1901

“David Burrows (65), of no fixed abode, was charged with wilfully breaking a plate glass window at the STORES, Upper Rushall Street, doing damage to the extent of £3, on October 20th.

George Carrington, the landlord of the STORES INN, said that the prisoner came to his house the previous night begging. Witness asked him to leave but prisoner would not go, and had to be ejected. Immediately afterwards prisoner smashed a window.

Charles Josebery, caster, of Upper Rushall Street, gave corroborative evidence.

Police-constable Craig arrested prisoner, who made no reply when charged with breaking the window.

Prisoner said that when he was ejected from the house his shoulder was pushed through the window.

Ordered to pay the damage £3, or go to prison for 21 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Edwin James, the RED LION INN, Navigation Street, and there was a good attendance..... New Members..... F. Bullock, The STORES, Upper Rushall Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1905 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale of Brewing Plants and Public-House Fixtures & Fittings removed from the NAGS HEAD, Ablewell Street, and the STORES, Rushall Street.

Messrs. Watkins, Powell, & Wood, will Sell by Auction, on Thursday Next, August 24th, 1905, in the Yard at the rear of the MAN-DAMUS INN, Stafford Street, Walsall, the Public-House Fixtures & Brewing Plant, comprising Mahogany Frame Upholstered Seating, Mahogany-case Beer Machine and Piping, Cross Leg, Deal and Mahogany-top Tables, Table Tops and Trestles, Benches, Counters, Mirrors, Bar Fittings, Match Boarding, Spirit Jars and Measures, Refrigerators, Coolers, Copper Boilers, Barrel Thralls, Gas Fittings, &c, &c, also a quantity of Household Furniture.

Sale to commence at 11 o’clock (entrance Short Acre Street).

Auctioneers’ Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Chief Constable had given notice of objection to the renewal of the following seven licenses; William Henry Lowe, ACORN, alehouse, Lower Rushall Street; James Scott, JOLLY BACCCHUS, alehouse, New Street; George James Sambrook, KING WILLIAM, alehouse, Little Bloxwich; William Wright, OLD OAK, beerhouse, Upper Hall Lane; William Alfred Burton, STORES, beerhouse, Ablewell Street; George Carrington, STORES, beerhouse, Upper Rushall Street; John James Lawrence, STORES, beerhouse, High Street.

Mr. Loxton said these objections were by direction of the Bench, and he had also served notices on behalf of the magistrates, simply to comply with the section of the Act of Parliament, and without forming any opinion or prejudging cases. The justices directed him to state for the convenience of the advocates that the objections were mainly on the grounds of not required which would necessitate their being referred to the Compensatory Authority. But if during the hearing of the cases the grounds should be such as to justify the refusal of renewal on grounds without compensation, the advocate would be required to direct his attention to such grounds.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said he came there on the understanding that it was the intention to refer those licenses to the Compensatory

Authority to report on.

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had inspected a number of houses with a view to whether they should report to the Compensatory Authority. It might be that some houses were structurally unfit, and in such case they would refuse the license, and they would have to go the quarter sessions.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared of the lessees (Messrs. Robinson's Brewery Company) and also for the tenant, and Mr. W. C. Checkley for the Staffordshire Financial Company (the freeholders), in the case of the STORES, Upper Rushall Street. The tenant (George Carrington) stated that his takings amounted to between £9 and £10 per week, and he paid £53 4s valuation when he went in. Mr. Pearman-Smith said that other houses might have been chosen that were not so good as that one (Mr. Loxton: Have patience, Mr. Smith, other houses will be chosen). It was situated near the main road, and it was in a very respectable condition, and the neighbourhood was improving. There seemed to be some fatality about the STORES, and the present sessions he thought might have been called 'the STORES sessions' (laughter). Mr. Checkley said he could quite understand his friend's modesty in not alluding to the fact that quite recently their worships had approved of the re-building of a house some 40 or 80 yards away, and its erection was perhaps the most palatial building connected with the licensing trade in Walsall. It seemed strange to him that if their worships considered that the needs of the neighbourhood were already supplied, that such a house as the one he had referred to should have been built.....

The JOLLY BACCHUS, KING WILLIAM; STORES, Upper Rushall Street; STORES, High Street, were referred to the compensation authority."

The license was surrendered on 23rd February 1906 for an off license in West Bromwich Road.

STORES

79, (79b), Wolverhampton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Thorpe, 26, Bradford Street, Walsall
William Greenway
C. H. Chater and Co. Ltd.
Mr. Thorpe
J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Henry Lynex [1872];
Joseph Middleton [];
Hannah Commander [];
William Horton [];
Joseph Price [];
Samuel Pountney [];
Sarah Millward [];
William Stride []
William Greenway [1882];
William Parkes [] – 1886);
Jabez Hughes (1886 – 1894);
Job Daniel (1894 – 1898);
Robert Woolley (1898 – 1904);

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

William Greenway = William Greenaway

Birmingham Daily Post 17/4/1882

"Yesterday at the Guildhall, Wm. Greenaway of the STORES, Wolverhampton Street, was fined 20s and costs for having his house open after eleven o'clock on Saturday night."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1890

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Jabez Hughes, the STORES, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned for keeping his house open during prohibited hours, on the 28th inst. Mr Wilcock (Wolverhampton) defended. Police-constables Lycett and Williams deposed to having seen a woman named Challinor go to defendant’s house at twenty minutes to twelve o’clock, and leave a few minutes later with a jar containing half a gallon of ale, which she was carrying under her dress. The defence was that the ale had been paid for at ten o’clock, but had been left there as Mr. and Mrs. Challinor were going to market. On the return of the couple Mrs. Challinor called at the house for the ale and to leave a couple of lemons for a sick child. After the Magistrates had deliberated in private, the Mayor said they thought it a very proper case to bring into court, but the magistrates thought there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. The case would therefore be dismissed.”

1901 Census

79b, Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Robert Woolley (42), beer retailer, born Armitage, Staffordshire;
- [2] Emily Woolley (39), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Robert Woolley (18), son, tailor, born Walsall;
- [4] Fanny M. Woolley (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Doris Woolley (16?), daughter, born Walsall:

R. Woolley was a committee member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Robert Wooley, STORES.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting was continued on Thursday for the sixth day.....

In the matter of the STORES INN, Wolverhampton Street, Mr. Jackson appeared for the owner and licensee. Mr. Farmer presented an independent valuation, and reported that this property was also dilapidated. It was promised in this case that the place should be put in repair. License refused.”

The license renewal was refused at the Brewster Sessions 1904.

Walsall Advertiser 9/4/1904

“In connection with the recent Walsall Brewster Sessions, there were this week six appeals at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions against the decisions of the borough magistrates in refusing the renewal of licenses.....

Robert Woolley, landlord of the STORES, Walsall, appealed against the decision of the justices not to renew the license of the house, which is situated in Wolverhampton Street. Mr. Plumtre and Mr. G. C. Lewis appeared for the appellant, and Mr. Disturnal was for the respondents.

Mr. Disturnal said the chief question for the Bench was that of the value of the house. If the house was licensed before 1869 the license could only be refused on one of four grounds, one of which was that the house was not duly qualified by law. He did not admit that it was an ante-1869 beerhouse, but Mr. Plumtre had informed him that he was in a position to prove that it was. Under the Beerhouse Act of 1840, the value must, in a town like Walsall, be £15 a year, and by the Licensing Act of 1872 the annual value was defined to be the rent which a tenant might reasonably be expected to pay, deducting the rates and taxes and the landlord’s repairs, the house being treated as if no license was attached to it.

Mr. Farmer, architect, Walsall, assessed the value of the house at £15 12s, and, deducting 5 per cent, he put the statutory annual value of the house without the license at £13 17s 6d.

For the appellant Mr. H. C. Powell, auctioneer and valuer, Walsall, said he knew that a man named John Chapman held a license in Wolverhampton Street many years ago, and in the list of licenses for the year 1869 there was the name of a man named John Chapman, who held a license in Wolverhampton Street. He put the statutory annual value of the STORES at £20 a year.

In cross-examination, witness said he did not know whether Chapman carried on business in another part of Wolverhampton Street previously to going to the house in question.

Other witnesses were called to show that the house was in existence prior to 1869.

The Court decided that the house was in existence previous to 1869.

Evidence was then given as to the value of the house on behalf of the appellant.

Mr. H. Bewlay, valuer, Birmingham, placed the value of the house at £18, the tenant paying all the rates, and Mr. Hughes, valuer, Walsall, also gave evidence that the house would let at £18 a year.

The appellant deposed that, when he went into the house six years ago, he paid £140 for goodwill and stock. He paid £18 a year with all rates.

The appeal was dismissed.”

STORES

Heath End, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Starkey [] – 1897);
Harmer Taylor (1897 – []

NOTES

Check Bloxwich

SWAN

85, (83+85), High Street, (10, Walsall Road), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

William Starkey
Manchester Brewery Co. [1902]
Bloxwich Brewery [1911]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Charles James Dace [1800] – 1841) for 62 years
Robert Heap [1841] – [1848]
David Walker [1849] – [1870]
William Starkey [1871] – [1881];
Thomas Lester [] – 1889);
William Burt Blainey (1889 – 1891);
George Barson (1891 – 1894);
Herbert Tuckley (1894 – 1895);
Ernest Horner Neath (1895 – 1897);
Frank Paviter (1897 – 1900);
Bernard Hughes (1900 – 1902);
William Henry James (1902 – 1903);
Albert Edward 'Bert' Wood (1903 – 1911);
Thomas William Mellor (1911 – 1915);
Selina Mellor (1915 – 1928);
Thomas Fern (1928 – 1933);
Thomas Beecham Broome (1933 – 1935):

NOTES

Walsall Road [1865]
10, Walsall Road [1871]
83+85, High Street [1891], [1901]
85, High Street [1908], [1932]

WHITE SWAN [1850]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/9/1831 - Advert

“Free Hold Premises. To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Farrington, at the WHITE SWAN, at Bloxwich, in the parish of Walsall, on Friday next, September 23, at four o’clock in the afternoon.....”

Staffordshire Gazette 28/1/1841

“Walsall Elections.....”

On Thursday evening last, a numerous and highly respectable company of electors resident in Bloxwich met at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, on which occasion they were met by J. N. Gladstone, Esq, accompanied by W. E. Gladstone, Esq, MP, H. C. Windle, Esq, C. N. Brooks, Esq, and other gentlemen.....”

Staffordshire Gazette 13/5/1841 - Died

“May 11, at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, Mr. Charles James Dace, aged 86. He had kept the above inn upwards of 62 years; his death will be deeply lamented by a large circle of friends.”

Birmingham Journal 26/8/1848 - Died

“On Wednesday, deeply regretted by a numerous circle of relatives and friends, Mary, beloved wife of Mr. Robert Heap, of the SWAN INN, Bloxwich.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/11/1848

“An inquest was held on Wednesday evening at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, on the body of Ann Bird, aged sixteen, daughter of Mr. James Bird, plater. It appeared from the evidence adduced that the deceased had been for more than a year in a helpless state, having to be carried up and down stairs. She occasionally assisted her mother in the management of a day school. On Tuesday night, about nine o’clock her uncle, John Bird, was in the act of carrying her up stairs, when unfortunately at the top of the staircase he became unbalanced and fell backwards, severely injuring himself, and causing the instant death of the unfortunate young female, who pitched on her head. Medical aid was sent for, but, alas, the vital spark was extinct before the arrival of Mr. Somerville, surgeon, who hastened to the spot. The jury returned a verdict of Accident Death, and immediately commenced a small subscription for the benefit of the mother of the deceased, who is in very poor circumstances.”

David Walker was also a butcher. [1849], [1850]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1849 - Died

“October 8, at Essington, Mr. Robert Heap, late of the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, in the 50th year of his age.”

Birmingham Journal 23/11/1850 - Advert

“One Pound Reward.

Lost, on Tuesday evening last, from the Stabling of the THREE CUPS, Park Street, a Brown Bitch Greyhound; black nose, scar on loin and hind-leg, and answers to the name of ‘Gip.’

Any person restoring the same to the owner, Mr. David Walker, SWAN INN, Bloxwich, shall receive the above Reward.”

1851 Census

Bloxwich

- [1] David Walker (29), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Walker (32), wife, domestic duties, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Caroline Walker (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] John Craddock (40), general servant, born Hednesford;
- [5] Mary Bradbury (21), general servant, born Wheaton Aston, Staffordshire;
- [6] Mariah Taylor (14), general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [7] John Landers (70), lodger, proprietor of houses, born Birmingham:

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/5/1851 - Deaths

“On Saturday, the 17th instant, after a long and painful illness, borne with patient resignation, Mary, wife of Mr. David Walker, of the SWAN INN, Bloxwich.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/2/1854 - Marriages

“At Great Barr, on Thursday, the 9th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Bagnall, Mr. David Walker, of the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, to Harriet, eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph Moore, farmer and cattle dealer of Great Barr.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/3/1858 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Public Houses, Messuages, Hereditaments, and Premises, situate at Palfrey Green, Walsall, and Bloxwich, in the County of Stafford.

H. Farmington will Sell by Auction, at the NEW INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Tuesday next, the 30th day of March, 1858, at seven o’clock in the evening, in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale, and subject to conditions as will be then and there produced.....

Lot 8. All those Three recently-erected and substantially built Messuages, Tenements, or Dwelling Houses, situate fronting the SWAN INN, Bloxwich aforesaid (one of which is used as a Public House), with Brewhouse, Yard, Out-offices, an Appurtenances thereunto adjoining and belonging, now in the several occupations of Taylor, Dolman, and Gregory. And also, all those Four other Messuages, tenements, or Dwelling Houses adjoining, with the Butcher's Shop, Slaughter House, Stable, Yard, Piggery, Pump of Water, and Premises, now in the respective occupations of Messrs. Goodwin and others. This lot is well situated for business, let to respectable tenants, and produces the low rental of £62 6s 4d per annum."

Walsall Free Press 1/10/1859

"Edward Sergeant and Herbert Sergeant, who had been brought into the station during the sitting of the court, were placed at the bar, charged with having last night broken into the premises of Mr. Walker, WHITE SWAN, Bloxwich, and stolen therefrom a quantity of liquors. Prosecutor said this morning he found that his cellar had been broken into, and a number of bottles that had been filled with peppermint and cordials, had been taken – the contents having been emptied into a churn, and the bottles re-filled with gin and rum. On making the discovery he gave information to Mr. Sergeant Simpson, who on being examined said from certain information received he went, this morning to complainant's house, and thence traced footprints of two persons – one of whom had had clogs, and the other boots on with no nails in, in the direction of the prisoner's house. On reaching the house he found the prisoners in bed, but he found none of the missing spirits on the premises. He asked the prisoners if he might take the boots and clogs, the prisoners said he might. He then took the boots and clogs, and found them to correspond with the prints in the garden. This being the only evidence against the prisoners they were discharged. In this case Mr. Wilkinson appeared for the defence."

1861 Census

Bloxwich – SWAN INN

- [1] David Walker (39), victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Harriet Walker (29), wife, born Great Barr;
- [3] Ann Walker (13), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sarah Moore (24), visitor, born Great Barr;
- [5] Thomas Rock (25), domestic servant, born Brewwood, Staffordshire;
- [6] Eliza Hayward (14), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 10/2/1866 - Notice

"Borough Of Walsall. Cattle Plague.....

Mr. Henry Joseph Cartwright, Veterinary Surgeon, Wolverhampton; Mr. John Wyatt Cater, Chief of Police, Walsall; Mr. James Lynex, 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall; Mr. John Griffiths, Farm Bailiff, Bescot Farm; and Mr. David Walker, innkeeper, Bloxwich, have been appointed Cattle Inspectors for the Borough; and from them Forms of Certification can be obtained."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/3/1867

"County Court. Walker v. The London and North-Western Railway. This was an action by the plaintiff, David Walker, licensed victualler, Bloxwich, who was represented by Mr. Stanley, to recover the sum of £3 3s damages for detention. The facts of the case were simply these. On the 27th November last the plaintiff went to Bloxwich Railway Station to go by the 7.59 train to Colwich, but found the station-doors locked, and the station-master did not arrive till the train was leaving the platform, and in consequence the plaintiff was prevented attending a coursing meeting for which his dog had been entered, and the present action was to recover £3 paid as entrance-fee for the dog on the day previous, and 3s paid for a dinner ticket. The plaintiff applied, by letter, to Mr. Cawkwell, the general manager, who, referred the case to Mr. Roberts, the district manager, who after investigating the case, stated that the company were willing to pay reasonable expenses, but declining to give him the £5 claimed by the plaintiff; and who shortly after the receipt of Mr. Robert's letter, put the matter into the hand of Mr. Stanley, who wrote to Mr. Roberts offering to accept £5 in settlement of the claim, but stating that the offer was without prejudice. Mr. Roberts in his reply stated the company not having entered into any contract with the plaintiff they were not liable.

Mr. Motteram (instructed by Mr. Soars, of Birmingham), appeared for the company, and admitted the facts, and stated that the office at Bloxwich was closed at the time in question in consequence of the person who should have opened it having sprained his ankle and having to come to the station by the train the plaintiff wished to go by. He, however, contended that the company was not liable for anything more than reasonable damages and certainly not for the entrance fee paid by the plaintiff for his dog. The Judge after hearing the case gave judgement for the plaintiff for 10s, with leave to move the amount of damages be increased."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/2/1868

"On Monday last, David Walker, beerhouse keeper, Bloxwich, appeared at the Police Court, on a summons charging him with keeping open his house for sale during prohibited hours. It appeared from the evidence that a police officer visited the defendant's house at about a quarter to two o'clock on Friday morning and found persons there drinking; but as no previous conviction was recorded, the Magistrates imposed the mitigated penalty of 2s 6d and costs."

William Starkey was also a baker. [1871]

1871 Census

10, Walsall Road – SWAN INN

- [1] William Starkey (50), licensed victualler and baker, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Maria Starkey (52), wife, born Bloxwich;

- [3] Sarah A. Starkey (21), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[4] Susannah Lees (15), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session. . . . The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:
Philip [?] Starkey, the SWAN INN, Bloxwich In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Rye-croft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/9/1877

“On Monday Mr. Fletcher, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the SWAN INN, High Street, Bloxwich, on the body of John Allchurch, 40, Reeves Street, who, while at work at the Pelsall Coal and Iron Company’s Short Heath Colliery on the previous Thursday, received spinal and other injuries owing to a fall of coal, and died on the 7th inst. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1879 - Register of Sales

“Monday, Sep. 8th – Sale of valuable Freehold Houses at the SWAN INN, High Street, Bloxwich, at 6pm.”

1881 Census

85, High Street

- [1] William Starkey (60), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
[2] Mary Starkey (55), wife, born Sedgley;
[3] Eliza Washbrook (22), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;
[4] Jonathan Stevens (33), brewer, born Oxfordshire:

William Starkey – see also PRINCE OF WALES.

Lichfield Mercury 5/1/1883

“On Tuesday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, the Borough Coroner, held an inquest at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, on the body of Eleanor Caroline Foster, aged 32, wife of John Foster, of High Street, Bloxwich, who died on Friday last. The inquiry was held in consequence of rumours which were current in the neighbourhood, but the evidence as to the post-mortem examination by Dr. Wood showed that deceased had Died from Natural Causes.”

1891 Census

85 and 83, High Street – The SWAN INN

- [1] William Blainey (31), publican, born Walsall;
[2] Edgar Blainey (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
[3] May Blainey (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] Kate Blainey (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Clarbble [Clarabelle?] Blainey (5), daughter, born Walsall;
[6] Burt Blainey (4), son, born Walsall;
[7] Louiza Blainey (2), daughter, born Walsall;
[8] Louiza Blainey (30), wife, born Walsall;
[9] Sarah Ann Fisher (14), general servant, born Walsall:

William Burt Blainey was fined 1s and costs, on 4th May 1891, for supplying a drunken person with intoxicating liquor.

George Barson = George Pearson

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1893

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last. . . .

Mr. George Pearson, SWAN INN, High Street, Bloxwich was elected a member of the Society.”

Herbert Tuckley – see also COACH AND HORSES.

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1898

“George Kellett (60), groom, of no fixed abode, was charged with damaging a plate glass window at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, on Monday.

Prisoner was refused drink and became ‘cheeky’, and when advised to leave quietly and taken to the door by Mr. Paviter, the landlord, he smashed the window, doing damage amounting to 3s.

Prisoner now said he would have given the landlord something if he could have got him outside.

The Bench sentenced Kellett to 14 days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Frank Paviter, SWAN INN, served 13 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1899

“Mr. T. H. Stanley held an inquest on Monday, at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, respecting the death of Emma Stackhouse (64), late of 87, High Street, Bloxwich, who died on Friday, July 21st.

Barbara Stackhouse, daughter of deceased, said that on June 3rd she and her brother were having supper downstairs at about 11 o'clock, when they heard a noise in the room where deceased was. On proceeding upstairs deceased was lying on the floor. Deceased complained of her side, and witness, with her brother's assistance, put her back into bed. Deceased said she was getting out of bed in the dark, and she fell on the corner of a chair. Deceased had been ill previous to the accident.

Dr. Stone said he had been attending Mrs. Stackhouse for about two years previous to the 3rd of June. She was then suffering from a weak heart and dropsy in the legs. He examined her on the 5th of June, and found she had two ribs broken on the left side. Deceased said to him that she was getting out of bed and fell. He attended deceased up to the time of her death. The cause of death was shock due to injuries. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Bernard Hughes was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

83+85, High Street

[1] Bernard Hughes (28), unmarried, public house manager, born Ireland;

[2] Bridget Hughes (25), sister, barmaid, born Ireland;

[3] Alice Durkin (16), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/5/1901

“On Tuesday the Quarter Sessions for the borough were held by Mr. E. A. Owen, the Recorder, who was accompanied by G. Gill, J. F. Crump, and S. Russell, Esqs.

Bernard Hughes, landlord of the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, appealed against a conviction by the magistrates on which he was fined 10s and costs for permitting drunkenness. Mr. Plumtre appeared for him, and Mr. Disturnal appeared to support the conviction. His Honour upheld the decision of the Bench and dismissed the appeal with costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Black List..... Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared on behalf of the owners and licensee of the SWAN INN, which license the Chief Constable opposed on the ground that the licensee (Bernard Hughes) was convicted on March 20th this year and fined 10s and costs for permitting drunkenness to take place on his licensed premises; that Hughes was not a fit and proper person to be entrusted with a license; and that the license was not required.

Mr. Jackson said that with regard to the objection that the man was not a fit and proper person to be entrusted with a license, Hughes had been a licensee for two years and there had only been one complaint against him. The conviction registered against him was appealed against, but the appeal was dismissed.

The Chief Constable intimated that he did not fight the case.

In answer to the Mayor, Mr. Jackson said that the Manchester Brewery Company were the owner of the SWAN INN, and Hughes had previously kept a house without a complaint being made. Renewed.”

Bernard Hughes was fined 10s and costs, on 20th March 1902, with permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

On behalf of Mr. Bert Wood, tenant of the SWAN, High Street, Bloxwich, Mr. Jackson asked for sanction to plans for the re-arrangement of the bottom part of the house and the improvement of the living accommodation. By the alterations the drinking area would be reduced by 381 feet. It was a very old house, and the improvement urgently wanted doing, at present it was inconvenient for carrying on the trade. The estimated cost of the alteration was £575.

Mr. Farmer proved the plans, which were sanctioned.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1911

“The smoking concert which was held at the SWAN INN, High Street, Bloxwich, last week in connection with the SWAN INN Sick and Dividend Society, was most successful. Councillor E. H. Ingram presided over a good attendance, and a musical programme of exceptionally good quality was rendered by Councillor E. H. Ingram, Messrs. Job Cooper, S. Cooper, E. Jones (banjo solos), W. Newman (humourist) and W. Bartlett (pianist).”

1911 Census

High Street – The SWAN

- [1] Albert Edward Wood (37), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Marion Wood (35), wife, married 11 years, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Alan Denham Wood (6), son, school, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Sheila Marion Wood (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Agnes Brookes (17), domestic servant, born London:

Walsall Advertiser 20/5/1911

“Bowling. The newly-formed Hatherton Bowling Club, whose headquarters are at the SWAN INN, Bloxwich, have not yet commenced operations, but everything is being got in readiness for the opening on June 3rd. The green has been receiving careful attention and with a capable lot of officials everything augers well for a good season.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
SWAN INN, Bloxwich. £0 18s 10½d.”

Thomas Fern – see also WHEATSHEAF.

Thomas Beecham Broome – see also BEAR AND RAGGED STAFF, and SPREAD EAGLE, Bloxwich.

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/6/1934

“During a discussion at Walsall Town Council, on Monday, a number of proposals were agreed whereby the Corporation will pay £2,000 to a Wolverhampton Brewery Company relative to the exchange of a site on the Delves building estate (between Walsall and West Bromwich), for certain property belonging to the company, the exchange being conditional on the license of the SWAN INN at Bloxwich, held by the Company, being moved to the site in question. Alderman J. A. Leckie, MP, said although a great public improvement was involved it was not fair to bargain with a brewery company in a way which might create friction between the Corporation and the justices. The justices should have a free hand in dealing with licenses. Several members also urged that to give £2,000 to the company, which, by having a license removed to a new district, would get a monopoly value, was too much; further that the SWAN INN (in its present position) might in future become redundant. The proposals were carried.”

It closed at 2pm on 7th May 1935.

The license was transferred to the DELVES.

SWAN

77, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mr. Wilkes [1892]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Snape [1818]
John Snape [1841] – [1861]
James Snape [1860] ?
Arthur John Snape [1868] – [1871]
John Lester [1881] – [1886]
Henry Mitchell [1887] – [1891]
Samuel Hickman [1895] – 1911;
George Rogers (1911 – [1912]
George A Hadley [1924] – [1940]

NOTES

It was reputedly a 16th century pub.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1841 - Notice

“The Tithe Commissioners for England and Wales hereby give Notice, that a Copy of the Draft of Apportionment of the Rent Charge agreed to be paid in Lieu of Tithes in the Township of Pelsall, in the parish of Wolverhampton, in the county of Stafford, has been deposited at the house of John Snape, the SWAN INN, in the said township, for the inspection of all Persons interested in the Lands or Tithes of the said Township.

And the Commissioners further give Notice, that pursuant to the Act for Commissioners of Tithes, a Meeting will be holden for the purpose of hearing any objections to the intended Apportionment by any Persons interested as aforesaid; and that such Meeting will be held at the house of the said John Snape, the SWAN INN, in the said township, on Saturday the 28th day of August, 1841, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

Signed by order of the Board.

J. E. Hovenden, Secretary.

9, Somerset-place, Somerset House, London.

July, 31, 1841.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/7/1844 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property At Shelfield.

To Be Sold By Auction, by T. Franklin, At the house of Mr. J. Snape, the SWAN INN, Pelsall, on Tuesday, July the 9th, 1844, at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that valuable Freehold Messuage or Dwelling House, known by the sign of the BLACKSMITHS ARMS, with brewhouse, stabling, and convenient out-offices, now in the occupation of Mr. W. Whitehouse, together with about two acres of excellent Land adjoining thereto, situate in the Foreign of Walsall.

The Tenant will show the premises, and for further particulars apply to Mr. J. Snape, Pelsall; or at the offices of the Auctioneer, Park Street, Walsall.

Messrs. Stackhouse and Samuel Bickley, Stewards to the Friendly Society, at the SWAN INN, Pelsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/11/1848

“On Thursday last T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, in the parish of Wolverhampton, on the body of Enoch Birch, a banksman, about nineteen years of age, who on the previous Monday was at work on the bank of a coal pit at Pelsall Wood, the property of W. F. Fryer, Esq, and was instantaneously killed under the following circumstances. It appeared from the evidence of James Franks that it was the duty of the deceased, before the skip descended the pit, to unhook the tacklers from the skip, his (Franks) duty being to push it over the pit, and then draw the waggon from under it. About six o'clock on Monday morning he (Franks) drew the waggon from over the top of the pit, for the purpose of letting the first empty skip down, and the deceased was then inside the cabin, about three yards from the pit, fetching some fire for the purpose of sending it down the pit. Franks for an instant was not looking toward the pit, when suddenly he heard a noise, and upon quickly turning his head he perceived something, which proved to be the deceased, falling into the pit. He believed he fell accidentally into the pit whilst in the act of putting the fire into the skip, as, in order to do so, he was obliged to go close to the top of the pit. It was his duty to put the fire into the skip before the waggon was drawn from over the pit, which he omitted to do. The pit was about sixty yards deep. The jury gave a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1851 Census

The sign of the SWAN

[1] John Snape (52), farmer of 100 acres employing 2 labourers, born Hensford [Hednesford?], Staffordshire;

[2] H. Snape (50), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] G. Snape (20), daughter, born Pelsall;

[4] William Snape (18), son, born Pelsall;

[5] L. Snape (16), daughter, born Pelsall;

[6] M. Snape (14), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;

[7] A. Snape (11), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[8] A. Snape (5), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[9] Jane Wooton (6), visitor, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[10] Earnest Wilkes (1), visitor, born Pelsall;

[11] Louisa Holland (16), house servant, born Bloxwich;

[12] Edward Clark (20), servant, waggoner, born Shelfield:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/5/1855

“County Court. Snape v. Price, the plaintiff in this case is the landlord of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and the defendant inspector of police there. The action was brought to recover 16s, the price of two bags of potatoes, said to have been had by the defendant in April 1852. Mr. Beaton, from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, appeared for the defendant, from whose evidence and that of a Police-constable named Bradshaw, it appeared that the complainant was summoned before the magistrates in April last, for keeping open at improper hours on the day appointed for a public feast, on which occasion the defendant gave evidence against him. After the hearing the complainant accused defendant of swearing falsely, and asked for the money for these potatoes. The defendant said he had never more than one quantity of potatoes from the plaintiff, which was in May, 1852, and that he paid for them at the time. The Judge considering the claim insufficiently supported dismissed the summons with costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/7/1855 - Advert

“Found, at Pelsall, a little Black Horse Pony, about twelve hands high. The owner can have him again by paying all expenses. Apply to Mr. John Snape, SWAN, Pelsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1855

“At the annual licensing meeting for the parishes of Aldridge, Bentley, Pelsall, Walsall Wood, and Rushall, held at the RAILWAY COLLIERY HOTEL, Pelsall, on Wednesday, the licenses of the Anchor Inn, Aldridge, was refused, and the licenses of the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and the GEORGE AND DRAGON, were suspended until the adjourned meeting on the 27th of September.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/9/1858

“The King of Pelsall in Court. Rural Rights and Privileges.

Disputes have existed for some time regarding the right of access to a small tract of common land which contained a well, whose waters were considered to possess the most remarkable virtues. The well had been enclosed by a fence, with a couple of gates, and loud and angry have been the discussions at the village alehouses about the people being excluded from the ancient spring. . . . Amongst a chosen band of freemen of the locality who felt themselves aggrieved, was Mr. John Snape, farmer, better known as ‘The King of Pelsall.’ He had often curbed the strong emotions of his breast when under the influence of the nut-brown ale; but with him it was merely a question of time when he would, like Welsh Rebecca, strike a blow which would shake Pelsall to its very centre, and show his neighbours that he had more power than even lay in ‘the breath of kings.’ Accordingly the 9th of last month was chosen for the time to redeem the long-lost right of access to the well. He was not, however, of the ‘alone I did it’ class of heroes, for he entered upon his work with the aid of his son William, whose strength and vigour gave his father no little service that day. They soon succeeded in cutting down the fences, and three gates were to these as insignificant as the famous gates of Gaza were to the strong man in Scripture. Out of this local event an action arose at the Petty Sessions, Brownhills, on Tuesday last, before R. C. Chawner and T. Rowley, Esqrs. Mr. W. Snape answered to a summons for having, on the 9th of August, assaulted Mr. Joseph Cooper, and Mr. John Simkiss, farmer, both of Pelsall. On the same occasion Mr. John Snape, alias ‘The King of Pelsall,’ had a cross-summons against the said Mr. John Simkiss, for assault. Mr. W. H. Duignan, solicitor, Walsall, appeared for the Snapes, and Mr. Jackson, solicitor, West Bromwich, for Cooper and Simkiss. In order to save time, it was arranged between the two attorneys that the respective cases be disposed of as one, the charges having all arisen from the same occurrence. In course of the evidence it was shown that Mr. John Snape publicly represented himself as ‘The King of Pelsall,’ and that it became his prerogative to redress all local grievances. It was proved that while the work of destroying the fences and gates was proceeding, the assault on Cooper was committed by Snape the elder. During the same tumult an altercation took place between Simkiss and Snape. The charge against the son was dismissed, but the Pelsall emblem of royalty was amerced in the sum of 10s and costs. The charge against Simkiss was dismissed. Father and son were next accused of having been drunk and disorderly on the day in question – the police constable who preferred the charge deposing that when he accosted the elder Snape, he exclaimed in a dictatorial and bouncing manner, ‘I don’t care for any policeman; I have plenty of money, and care for no man. I am the King of Pelsall, and don’t care for you or your masters.’ The Bench dismissed the charge against the son; but in order to show the Pelsall magnate that ‘a king cannot swagger, or get drunk like a beggar,’ fined him 5s and costs. The trial of the cases occupied three hours, and the incidents of the veritable 9th of August have occupied a large share of the attention of the authorities at Brownhills and Pelsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures. . . .

John Snape, licensed victualler, the SWAN, Pelsall, was fined 10s and costs, for having three unjust measures. . . .

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

AND

“The King of Pelsall again in trouble. This provincial potentate is still ‘the cock of the walk,’ and clings most tenaciously to the sovereignty of Pelsall. Having consulted lately the authorities of the Old Testament, and learned the art of war as practised amongst the chosen tribes, he became peculiarly fascinated at the idea of the warriors in their chariots rushing forwards to battle. Ticked with this notion, ‘The King’ sallied from his establishment at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, the other day, in his cart, and drove from thence to Norton Caines without reins – endeavouring to show that he was a better man than most of the Israelites. However, the fact got wind, and a ‘Bobby’ getting scent, took ‘The King’ in tow. John Snape, senior, farmer, and landlord of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, was therefore summoned to answer the charge of riding without reins on the highway between Pelsall and Norton Caines. He attended the Petty Sessions at Brownhills, a fortnight ago, when the charge was preferred against him; but he applied for an adjournment of the case, in order, as he said, that he might procure evidence to show that he did not, on the occasion referred to, ride without reins. The application was granted. When the case was called at the Court at Brownhills, on Tuesday, before Charles Forster, Esq, M.P. for Walsall, and Thomas Rowley, Esq, Inspector Price intimated that Mr. Snape had requested him to plead guilty to the charge. So the ‘King’ was fined 10s and costs. In answer to the question from the Bench, ‘Who is John Snape?’ Inspector Price good-humouredly replied, ‘He is the King of Pelsall; and the gentleman whom you have convicted today for having in his possession three unjust measures.’”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

“A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

John Snape, SWAN INN, Pelsall, unjust measures, 3s and costs.”

James Snape was also a farmer. [1860]

[Was this a typographical error?]

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road

[1] John Snape (65), farmer 100 acres employing 2 labourers and 1 boy, born Hednesford;

[2] Hannah Snape (60), wife, born Hednesford;

[3] Asher Snape (21), son, born Bloxwich;

[4] Arthur Snape (15), son, born Pelsall;

[5] Sarah Ann Snape (26), daughter, born Loughborough;

[6] Joseph Snape (8 months), grandson, born Pelsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/5/1861

“At the Petty Sessions, at Rushall, on Tuesday, before J. E. Bealey and J. Harrison, Esqs, Mr. John Smith, of Walsall, was charged with assaulting Ashur Snape, son of the landlord of the SWAN INN, Pelsall. The evidence of the complainant and his brother was to the effect that the defendant was passing the SWAN in company with his brother, when Arthur Snape, complainant’s brother called out that defendant and his brother were intoxicated, and that in consequence defendant first struck Arthur and afterwards Ashur Snape. Defendant and his brother positively contradicted the evidence of complainant and his witnesses, and the magistrates dismissed the charge.”

Birmingham Journal 14/6/1862

“Snape v Cooper. The ‘King’ Again. At the Walsall County Court, on Wednesday, the attention of his Honour (A. M. Skinner, Esq) was occupied in hearing this case. It was an action to recover damages alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff in consequence of an assault committed upon him by defendant. Mr. Duignan appeared for the former, and Mr. Ebsworth for the latter; and the damages were laid at £50.....

It appeared that defendant, who is the proprietor of a field in the parish of Rushall, alongside of which runs an arm of the canal, laid claim to the exclusive right of fishing in the said arm, and that this right was disputed by plaintiff, who rejoices in the dignified nomenclature of ‘King of Pelsall,’ and keeps the SWAN INN in that place. In order as it were to bring this to a decisive test, plaintiff, on Easter Monday last, went with some friends to the arm of the canal, provided with a net for the purpose of taking fish. Defendant, with some friends of his, was prepared to resist this; and as the field adjoining was sown with wheat, he naturally objected to having any portion of it trespassed upon. The result was that physical force was resorted to, in the course of which the monarch of Pelsall came to grief, and was ignominiously precipitated into the water.

Mr. Ebsworth cross-examined the plaintiff, who was called in support of his case, at great length, in the course of which he elicited that plaintiff had been convicted by the Magistrates for assaulting defendant, after which witnesses were called, and the hearing extended over several hours. The Judge having summed up, the Jury returned a verdict for plaintiff, damages 5s. A cross action by Cooper against Snape, after a long argument, resulted in a nonsuit, the matter having been decided by the County Magistrates at Rushall, and a certificate to this effect being put in.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 28/8/1862

“To be shot for, at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, near Walsall, on Monday, Oct 6, six store pigs, value £6, by 30 members, at 5s each, at 8 or 5 sparrows, 18 yards rise, 1½oz of shot, the field boundary. Shooting to commence at one o’clock. The winner can have the pigs or money; all birds free. On the following day, Oct, 7, a match will take place, for £10, between two gentlemen of the same place. Sweepstakes afterwards. Birds free.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/4/1863

“John Snape, better known by the sobriquet as ‘The King of Pelsall,’ who has figured frequently in this and other courts, was summoned upon a charge of being drunk and disorderly in the RAILWAY TAVERN, Pelsall, on Easter Monday night, and also with assaulting police-constable Williams in the execution of his duty. From the evidence it appeared that there had been a ‘house warming’ at the RAILWAY TAVERN, where a sheep had been roasted; and there were grand doings, which were kept up with great spirit and the utmost harmony till about twelve o’clock at night, when Snape arrived and initiated a general disturbance. After a prolonged attempt he was expelled, but soon effected a second entrance, and called upon his son to assist him. He was then put out by a policeman, whom he struck several times. For being drunk and disorderly he was fined 40s and costs, or seven days’ imprisonment; and for the assault on the policeman was fined £3, with £1 6s 3d costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1864

“King of Pelsall Again. At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, B. Bloomer, and J. Harrison, Esqs, John Snape was charged with having assaulted Eli Ball, his son-in-law. The case was heard on Tuesday, the 25th ult, and, from the evidence then adduced, it appeared that, on the 17th ult, as complainant was moving some goods from his house, the defendant came up and seized him by the hair of his head, and afterwards struck him over the head with a stick. Ball, who was charged upon a cross-summons with having assaulted John Snape, applied to have the case adjourned, as his solicitor, Mr. Jackson, was not in attendance. Both cases were adjourned till Tuesday last; but, on the cases being called, Ball – who, it was stated, had gone abroad – failed to appear, consequently, the case against Snape was dismissed, and that against Ball gone into, when it appeared from the evidence that Snape had gone to distrain for £26, rent due, and found Ball removing his goods, and attempted to prevent him, when Ball struck him several times with a whip-stock, and knocked him down. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced Ball to pay a fine of £2 and 16s 6d costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for one month.

His Majesty was next charged with having, on the 17th ult, assaulted James Fox. It appeared that, on the day in question, the defendant, after his son-in-law, Eli Ball, and he had quarrelled, met complainant and had some words about the dispute between Snape and Ball, in course of which Fox, who is married to Ball's sister, told Snape that he thought he was wrong in doing what he did to Ball. Snape thereupon assaulted Fox. After hearing the evidence, the Bench sentenced Snape to pay a fine of 5s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/6/1865

"At the Free Library, John Snape, otherwise the 'King of Pelsall,' appeared before Messrs. T. Hazledine (Mayor), S. Cox, and W. Ward, to answer a charge of assault, preferred against him by James Fox of Pelsall. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for complainant; and Mr. Dale (for the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) for the defendant. On Tuesday in the Whitsun week the complainant and the defendant met at the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, and an acrimonious discussion ensued touching certain actions for the recovery of a harmonium, alleged to have been fraudulently removed by some of Mr. Snape's relatives from a chapel of which Mr. Fox is one of the trustees. The result was that the defendant seized the complainant by the collar, attempted to push him out of the house, and committed the assault complained of. Some amusement was caused by the exhibition by Mr. Dale of a placard, said to have been put out by Mr. Fox, announcing that his inn had been refitted and decorated with pictures among the latter of which was one illustrative of an unlawful act perpetrated by a 'certain king and prince;' and concluding with the intimation that any person 'dis-behaving' himself would be ejected. The magistrates considered the assault proved, and imposed a fine of 20s and costs, with the option of twenty-one days' imprisonment."

Walsall Free Press 17/6/1865

"John Snape was charged with having, on the 6th inst, assaulted James Fox, from the evidence that, as he sat with a friend in the OLD STILL, the defendant came in, and addressing himself to the person sitting next to the complainant, said, 'Take care; you are sitting next to a 'fox,' who will bite you if you don't take care.' He then seized complainant by the collar, and said, 'I'll see if you will bite me.' He then doubled his fist, and pushing it against complainant's mouth, said, 'If you bite me, I'll knock your teeth down your throat.' Complainant said, 'I'll bite you somewhere else; I don't bite in public houses.' Cross-examined by Mr. Dale: I did not say to Mr. Snape, when he came in, 'I'll bite you.' Mr. Dale here read the following extract from a bill, and asked Mr. Fox if the king and the prince referred to was the defendant and his son:

'The New Music Hall, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall, will re-open on Monday, June 12th, 1865. Mr. Fox begs to announce that his grand concert hall will re-open, by request, every evening for a short time. The hall has been decorated at great expense, with a beautiful collection of pictures, among which is to be seen a painting of the 'dishonourable acts of a king and prince,' which act was performed before a large assembly to the utter disgust of every beholder. This magnificent painting represents the pulling down of a shed and occupies a space in the New Concert Hall, FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall. Every one should see this feat of daring royalty!' The bill then went on to say that 'All parties disbehaving themselves in the concert hall would be ejected.'

Complainant, by the advice of his solicitor, Mr. Jackson, declined to answer the question.

Two witnesses were called, who corroborated the complainant's evidence.

The Bench after hearing the evidence sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 20s and costs; or in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/10/1865

"John Snape, known as the 'King of Pelsall,' was charged with having, on the 7th ins., assaulted a little girl named Hannah Fox, aged 12 years, daughter of James Fox, landlord of the FREE TRADE INN, Pelsall; and further, with having, at the same time and place, assaulted the girl's aunt, Mary Boyden. From the evidence, it appeared that on the day in question the defendant drove the sow and pigs belonging to the complainant's father into defendant's field, and then endeavoured to impound them; but as he was driving them out of the field for this purpose, the girl Fox drove the pigs home, and thereupon defendant struck her and kicked her. After the pigs were in the sty defendant came to drive them again, and on Mrs. Boyden endeavouring to prevent him he assaulted her. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, ordered defendant to pay a fine of 10s and costs in each case."

Arthur John Snape was also a farmer. [1868]

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/10/1870 - Advert

"Strayed, from Pelsall, on the 27th inst, a spotted Cow, seven years old, near calving; all expenses paid. Apply, SWAN INN, Pelsall, near Walsall."

1871 Census

Pelsall Wood – SWAN INN

[1] Arthur John Snape (31), farmer (85 acres) and publican, born Pelsall;

[2] Jane Snape (32), wife, born Shenston, Staffordshire;

[3] Albert Henry Snape (7), son, born Pelsall;

- [4] Arthur John Snape (5), son, born Pelsall;
- [5] Agnes Anne Snape (4), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [6] George Caleb Snape (2), son, born Pelsall;
- [7] Clara Matilda Snape (1), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [8] Cornelious Williams (20), farm labourer, born Montgomery;
- [9] Dealea Ann Cooper (16), general servant, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Emma Arnold (14), general servant, born Bloxwich:

1881 Census

SWAN Public House

- [1] John Lester (39), publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Clara Lester (36), wife, born Sheffield;
- [3] Mary A. Swanneck (39), widow, visitor, nurse maid, born Sheffield;
- [4] Harriet Stackhouse (15), general servant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Earnest W. Lester (7), son, scholar, born Sheffield;
- [6] Jane Lester (4), daughter, scholar, born Sheffield;
- [7] Albert Lester (2), son, born Pelsall;
- [8] Clara Lester (8 months), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [9] Mary A. Swanneck (6), visitor, scholar, born Sheffield:

Lichfield Mercury 13/8/1886

“Pelsall Parish Festival.

Luncheon was provided by Mr. Lester, of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and many visitors availed themselves of the opportunity to obtain refreshments, which was provided at a cheap rate and in a very satisfactory manner. During the repast there was a Promenade Concert, by the Pelsall Hall Brass Band, under the conductorship of Mr. J. Cooper.”

[This event included: Church service; flower show; exhibition of handicraft; athletic sports; ballad concert, &c.]

1891 Census

Wolverhampton Road – SWAN INN

- [1] Henry Mitchell (56), publican, born Calton, Oxfordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Mitchell (60), wife, born Leominster;
- [3] Eliza Hardcastle (49), visitor, housekeeper, born Bucknall, Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/2/1892

“Henry Mitchell, formerly of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, licensed victualler.

The public examination of this debtor took place at Walsall Bankruptcy Court yesterday, before the Deputy Registrar (Mr. F. J. Clarke), Mr. E. Evans appearing for the debtor, and Mr. H. H. Jackson attending on behalf of Mr. Wilkes, the owner of the house. The statement of affairs showed liabilities £195 1d 6d, and assets £33 1s 10d, leaving a deficiency of £161 19s 8d. The bankrupt was a groom and gardener until October, 1887, when he became the tenant of the SWAN INN, paying £70 for the fixtures, stock, and license, borrowing £40 to enable him to do so. At the beginning of February last, finding that business was bad in consequence of the stoppage of the Pelsall Ironworks, and that he was continually losing money, he, by the advice of his solicitor gave up the inn to the landlord. The examination was adjourned until the 10th March.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/2/1895 - Advert

“Thoroughbred Tamworth Hog; fee 2s 6d.

The SWAN INN, Pelsall, Inspection invited. Proprietor, Samuel Hickman.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/4/1895

“For the annual dinner of the Foresters’ Club to be held on Easter Monday, at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, an extension of an hour was granted at the Rushall Police Court on Monday on the application of Samuel Hickman.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/10/1895

“At the Petty Sessions on Monday, Samuel Hickman, licensed victualler, applied for an extension of one hour the same evening, the occasion being Pelsall wake. The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

SWAN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

“Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday.....
New Members..... Mr. Samuel Hickman, SWAN INN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Observer 16/6/1900

“Friendly Society Tea. On Monday last the SWAN Female Society held its sixth anniversary at the SWAN INN, when about seventy members sat down to an excellent repast, which all seemed to thoroughly enjoy.....”

Walsall Observer 25/8/1900

“About fifty members of the Court United Brethren of the Ancient Order of Foresters met at the twenty-first annual dinner provided at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and everyone enjoyed the excellent spread laid on the tables by Mr. Hickman.....”

1901 Census

Wolverhampton Road – SWAN INN

- [1] Samuel Hickman (54), innkeeper, born Wombourne;
- [2] Catherine Hickman (53), wife, born Smethwick;
- [3] Florence Hickman (24), daughter, born Pelsall;
- [4] Samuel Hickman (14), son, engine fitter, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/5/1903

“John Griffiths, miner, of New Street, and David Griffiths, miner, of Old Town, Pelsall, were summoned at Rushall Police Court on Monday for disorderly conduct in a public house and refusing to quit, the last-mentioned being further charged with assaulting Samuel Hickman. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted for the Licensed Victuallers’ Association. It appeared that on Easter Monday the defendants behaved in a disorderly manner in the SWAN INN, Pelsall, and refused to quit when asked by the landlord, Mr. Hickman. The latter got them out, however, but in doing so was struck by David Griffiths. The case was not pressed, and the defendants were only ordered to pay costs, 6s each.”

Walsall Observer 31/10/1903

“Before the Rushall magistrates, on Monday, Samuel Hickman, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and with selling intoxicating liquor to drunken persons. Police-constable Brown deposed that about nine o’clock on the 5th inst. he visited the SWAN INN, Pelsall, in company with another constable, and in one room they found a man named Isaiah Garratty, whilst in the bar they found another man named Thomas Simpson. Both men had beer in front of them, and both were drunk. Just before 10 o’clock witness and two other constables again visited the place, and found Garratty still in the same position. Witness pointed out his condition to the landlord, who said nothing, while Garratty staggered out of the house. They found Simpson where they had left him, worse drunk than before. Police-constables Milner and Allcock gave corroborative evidence. Police-sergeant Heath said he visited the SWAN on the following night, and defendant told him that he did not think Garratty was drunk, as he said he had only one pint. He thought Simpson had gone. Mr. Jackson, who defended, pointed to Hickman’s long tenancy of this house without complaint, and to the fact that the day on which these offences were alleged to have been committed was the occasion of Pelsall wake. The SWAN was quite orderly, but full of people, and the landlord was extremely busy. With reference to the men Simpson and Garratty, he had ordered Simpson out once that night, and seen him go out. He was consequently very surprised on the visit of the police to find the man still in place. As to Garratty, he believed he was sober. A number of witnesses were called. Mr. Brookes said the Bench did not consider it a very serious case, but Hickman had been rather careless, and would have to pay costs. Simpson and Garratty were summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, Simpson being ordered to pay costs, and Garratty being discharged.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/7/1909

“At a special Rushall Court held at the magistrates’ clerk’s office, Walsall, before Captain W. H. Brookes, an old man named George Williams (73), of no permanent address, was charged in custody with uttering base coins at Pelsall, on Monday, the 12th inst. Samuel Hickman, licensee of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, said about ten o’clock on Monday morning prisoner entered the house, and called for lemonade, for which he tendered a shilling piece. Witness took it, and gave him 10½d change, but immediately sent for Police-constable Rushton. He (witness) tested the coin and found it was bad. When he got back into the bar prisoner had just gone away, and was out of sight. Witness sent two men to follow him, and they saw him get on a canal boat going in the direction of Norton Canes. In company with Police-constable Rushton, witness went in the direction of Norton Canes, and saw prisoner on a canal boat. Prisoner had called at his house about every three weeks for the last two years, but he had not noticed him pass bad money. Police-constable Rushton deposed to accompanying the last witness in search of the prisoner, who was pointed out to him on a canal boat. Witness went to him, and told him, 'he was going to arrest him for uttering base coins at Pelsall on the 3rd of this month, and again that day'; and the prisoner replied, 'I did not know it was bad.' Witness took him to Rushall, and upon searching him found a shilling piece in the outside pocket of his overcoat, and two more in other pockets. Witness charged him with uttering a 2s piece, on July 3rd, knowing it was bad; and he replied, 'I don't know anything about the 2s piece.' He was also charged with uttering base coin on Monday, and replied, 'I gave him a shilling, but I did not know it was bad.' Witness also charged him with being in possession of three counterfeit coins, viz, three shilling pieces, and prisoner replied, 'I changed half a sovereign on Saturday night, and had them in the change. I don't know where it was; I was boosed'.

Police-sergeant Woolley asked for a remand in custody until Monday. The two-shilling piece would form the subject of another charge later, and probably one or two charges would be brought against accused on Monday.

Answering Captain Brookes, Sergeant Woolley said prisoner refused to give any information concerning himself, where he had been staying, or the names of his friends and relatives. Prisoner said they must find out. Prisoner said he belonged to Birmingham, but he did not live there – he travelled about – was remanded in custody until Monday."

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1910

"There was a full Bench of Magistrates present at the Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division, held on Tuesday, at the Rushall Police Court.....

SWAN INN, Pelsall. Mr. C. A. Loxton stated that he appeared to make application for alterations to the above house, but as he understood that the Bench made it a rule to inspect the premises first, he should not detain them but would wait until they had made their inspection."

Walsall Advertiser 19/3/1910

"The adjourned licensing sessions for the county division of Rushall were held at Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Mr. C. A. Loxton applied for the sanction of the magistrates to proposed alterations at the SWAN INN, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall. He explained that the matter was adjourned from the last meeting in order to give the magistrates an opportunity of visiting the house. It was proposed to improve and make self-contained the living and private accommodation of the house by cutting it off from the public part. At present the scullery opened into the tap-room, and the other rooms were mixed up altogether. They also proposed to improve the public rooms so that they could be properly ventilated, and be under the direct supervision and control of the landlord. The present bar would be dispensed with as a bar, and would become, with the stable, a new club-room, while a new scullery was to be built at the back of the premises away from the public part altogether. At the present time they had a bar and a tap room and they simply wished to remove the bar to the other side of the tap-room, to occupy the space of the present scullery, and in doing that they would pull down a large projection in front of the house which would be an improvement to the street. Answering Sir Edward, Mr. Loxton said the club room would only be used as such and not for the retail sale of drink, and they would consent to an undertaking being endorsed on the licence to the effect that the room should not be used for selling drinks except at bona-fide club dinners and concerts. He would point out that they were not asking the magistrates to give them a new club room, for they were giving up the old one, which was approached by stairs. When the proposed alterations were completed the licenced area would be 793 square feet as against 848 square feet at the present time, a slight decrease.

The application was granted, subject to the undertaking mentioned being endorsed on the licence."

Walsall Advertiser 5/8/1911

"There was a large attendance of delegates at the quarterly meeting of the Walsall District of the Grand Independent Order of Loyal Caledonian Corks.....

Permission had been granted for the removal of lodge 69 from the FORGE INN to the SWAN, Pelsall."

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1911

"At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, before Messrs. A. W. Greatrex (presiding) and R. H. Holden, an application was made by Mr. H. H. Jackson for the temporary transfer of the license of the SWAN INN, Pelsall, from Samuel Hickman to George Rogers.

On being asked if the police had any objection Inspector Platt handed the magistrates a written statement, which Mr. Greatrex subsequently said gave Rogers a good character up to nine months ago, but alleged since then he had been bookmaking in connection with horse racing and football coupons.

Rogers (sworn) stated that he had worked at the Aldridge Colliery Co. for close on twenty-seven years, and Mr. Jackson handed in a testimonial from the colliery stating that the man was sober and industrious and had a good character.

Cross-examined by Inspector Platt, Rogers admitted that he had done some bookmaking for 'another gentleman,' but not for some time.

Inspector Platt: Have you taken any money from the colliers at the pit? – Rogers: No.

Have you recently been issuing football coupons, and did you make a bet on football matches a fortnight ago? – No.

Rogers promised the Bench that he would not do any more booking, and on that understanding the application was granted."

Walsall Observer 25/8/1917

"At a general meeting of Court United Brethren, No.6577, A.O.F., at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, on Saturday, the auditors gave their report of the half-year ended June 30. The total income was £163 1s 4½d, and the expenditure £141 3s 0½d. The income of the Sick and Funeral Fund was £138 9d 1½d, and the expenditure: Sick pay £76 3s 4d; funeral claims, £16; contributions to District Fund, £16 6s 10d; contribution to District Reduced Sick Pay Fund, £7 8s 5½d, a total of £115 17 7½d. The worth of this fund is £1,103 8s 2d. The Management Fund income was £15 15s 4d, the expenses £18 14s 5d, and the worth of the Fund £5 3s 3½d.

The Benevolent Fund income was £5 6s 2d, expenditure £5 11s, and the worth of this fund £3 6s 11d. The Widows Fund income was £3 10s 9d, expenditure £1, and the worth of this Fund £64 17s 3d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/11/1925

“The District Coroner (Mr. W. C. Checkley) held an inquiry at the SWAN INN, Pelsall, on the 6th inst, into the death of Wm. Chas. Stackhouse, who was killed on the previous Wednesday morning while working as a trammer at the Pelsall Colliery. The evidence showed that an empty tub was about to be moved, when a bar across the roof broke and dislodged other bars. Immediately there was a fall of sixty or seventy tons of rock, and deceased was buried. He received a fractured skull, and the bones in his throat were crushed. Death was due to suffocation, caused by the compression of the throat. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned, the Coroner saying that no blame attached to anyone, and every precaution appeared to have been taken.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/12/1925

“Brownhills & District Air-Gun League.....
Hussey Arms, Brownhills (away), defeated SWAN INN, Pelsall, by 210 points to 196.”

Walsall Observer 26/8/1939 - Advert

“General, 17-18, Required immediately.
Apply, personally, SWAN INN, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall.”

1939 Register

77, Wolverhampton Road – SWAN INN (4 of 6)

- [1] George A. Hadley, date of birth 5/6/1888, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Mary G. Hadley, dob 13/1/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [4] John C. Burns, dob 8/4/1915, brick-tile burner, heavy work, married;
- [5] Gwendoline Joan Burns, dob 26/8/1916, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Demolished

Rebuilt

[2005]

Closed

It became the Cinnamon Indian restaurant [2007]

SWAN WITH TWO NECKS

62, (39), (38), Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Wilson [1811]

Ferdinand Eglington, manufacturer, Park Street

Joseph Russell

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1903]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1939]

LICENSEES

Thomas Wilson [1811] – [1813]

Sarah Wilson [1818] – [1822]

Isaac Highway [1827] – [1830]

Adam Urmsom [1834] – [1837]

Richard Shutt [1841] – [1850]

John Baker [1851] – [1873];

Miles Baker [];

Thomas Yates [];

Thomas Heap [1879];

Thomas Prewitt Joyner [];

Joseph Russell [1881] – 1891);

Mary A Porter [1891] manageress
Henry Thomas Beck (1891 – 1892);
John Sheath (1892 – 1903);
Alfred Turner (1903 – 1915);
John Ernest Reeves (1915 – 1916);
Nellie Elizabeth Reeves (1916 – 1917);
Ernest Arthur Mountstephen (1917 – 1918);
Harold Ernest Alger (1918 – 1926);
Alexander Henry Tomlin (1926);
Frederick Gumbley (1926 – 1931);
Victor Harold Worrall (1931 – 1935);
John Stanley Baker (1935 – 1937);
John Edward ‘Jack’ Earp (1937 – 1945);
Edward Henry Sallory (1945 – 1948);
Albert Isaac Jennings (1948 – 1954);
George Thomas Bennison (1954 – 1957):

NOTES

39, Park Street [1858], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1881]

38, Park Street [1860] [Possibly a typographical error.]

62, Park Street [1892], [1896], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

WHITE SWAN [1845]

SWAN [1827], [1841], [1857], [1939], [1940], [1942]

SWAN HOTEL [1909], [1910], [1911], [1913], [1914], [1916], [1933], [1940], [1941], [1944]

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“.....the bar was 23’ x 18’4” x 12’8” with two smoke rooms and 2 club rooms.....”

Thomas Wilson was married to Sarah.

Thomas Wilson, victualler, Park Street. [1813]

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Lodges.....

Odd Fellows, No.12, held at Wilson’s, Park Street, supposed number about 170, instituted 1810, surgeon Mr. Weaver, secretary John Cotterill.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/2/1818 - Advert

“Freehold Premises, in Rushall Street, and New Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, By Ottley and Fairburns, at Mrs. Wilson’s, the sign of the SWAN, Park Street, Walsall, on Thursday, the 12th February, 1818, at 4 o’clock in the afternoon, in one or more Lots as shall be agreeable to the company, and subject to such conditions as will then be produced.

All those two substantial and well-built Houses with Cellars under each, two comfortable back Houses, Brewhouse, Pump of excellent water, six very good Shops, Pigsties, an all the other appurtenances thereto belonging, with extensive Garden adjoining, situate in Rushall Street, and now in the occupation of Wm. Broadhurst, Mary Seargant, and others, who are tenants at will.

The house occupied by W. Broadhurst, consists of Kitchen and parlour to the front, two chambers and two attics, and may at a trifling expense be made an excellent shop for any retail business; also a front Tenement with Shopping; situate in New Street, and in the occupation of Wm. Hopkins, the garden at the back of theses premises contains 600 square yards, (more or less), of very valuable land suitable for building.

The respective tenants will shew the premises, and further particulars may be had by application to Mr. Darwell, Solicitor, Walsall; or at the Auctioneers, at Cannock and Brereton.”

Arise’s Birmingham Gazette 7/5/1827 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Dwelling Houses, including an old established Public House, known by the sign of the WHITE HART, in Park Street, Walsall by E Jukes.

To be Sold by Auction, in one lot, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of May instant, at the house of Mr. Highway, the SWAN INN, in Park Street, Walsall; all those six Freehold Dwelling Houses, most eligibly situated in Park Street, two whereof are to the fore and four at the back, including the WHITE HART Public House, now in the occupation of Mrs. Green, who is under notice to quit at Mid-summer next; comprising a tap-room, two parlours large bar, and club-room 47 feet long, brewhouse, stable, &c, in good repair.

The other front house adjoining is very suitable for a retail business, and the four at the back may, at a trifling expense, be converted into a Malthouse. The whole producing a rental of £64 16 per annum.

N.B. This property fronts the great north road from Birmingham through Wolverhampton, and is a very great thoroughfare. For further particulars apply to E. Jukes, Land Surveyors, Park Street, Walsall, or Bath Street, Birmingham.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1837 - Advert

“To Be Disposed Of Immediately.

The License, Goodwill, and Possession of that old-established Public-House, known by the sign of the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS situate in Park Street, Walsall, in the occupation of Mr. A. Urmson, who is leaving in consequence of other engagements. The Furniture, Stock, &c. to be taken at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply to Farrington and Son, Appraisers, Walsall.”

Midland Monitor for 21/5/1841

“On Thursday last, a serious accident happened in Park Street, Walsall, to a young man named Francis Lees, a workman in the employ of Dudley Brothers, Bloxwich. It seems from the information we could gather, that he stopped with a horse and cart at the saddler’s shop in Park Street, to have the bridle mended. Having imprudently taken it off, the horse took fright and galloped violently up Stafford Road, with the man hanging upon his head, in order to stop him; he had, however, no command over the horse, which, swerving on the pavement opposite the Free Grammar School, threw Lees from his head, and the cart wheel passed over his head. Dr. Burton, who was fortunately at home, speedily came to his assistance. The base of the skull is fractured, and very little hope is entertained of his recovery. He is now lying at the SWAN public-house, Park Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/3/1841 - Advert

“Sale Of Freehold Property, in Park Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold by Auction by T. Franklin, On Wednesday next, the 31st day of March, at six o’clock in the evening, on the premises, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that valuable Freehold well-accustomed Public House, called the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, situated in Park Street, Walsall, and now in the occupation of Mr. R. Shutt, with entire yard, brewhouse, stabling, garden land, pump of excellent water, cellar, and every other convenience for carrying on the above business.

Also a Freehold House adjoining the above, fronting to Park Street, with entire yard, shopping out-offices, and other conveniences, and now in the occupation of Mr. J. Mewis.

For further particulars, apply at the Office of H. Barnett, Esq, or of the Auctioneer, both of Walsall.

Part of the purchase money may remain on security of the property, if required.”

Richard Shutt was also a covered furniture and harness maker. [1845]

The Era 15/6/1845

“William Allsopp, of Birmingham, and Thomas Powell (alias the Nigger), of Bloxwich. On Monday evening last a match, for 10 sovs a-side, between these men, was made at the WHITE SWAN INN (Shutt’s), Park Street, Walsall, to run ten score yards, on the 14th of July next. 1 sov a-side was deposited and articles signed. Some even betting ensued, and the Birmingham party seemed very eager in getting money on.”

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1857 - Advert

“Freehold Public House, and Other Messuages, situate at The Birchills, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction by Mr. Henry Farrington, at Mr. Baker’s, the SWANN INN, Park Street, Walsall, On Monday, 23rd of February, 1857, At Seven o’clock in the Evening, subject to Conditions.

Lot 1. All that Public-house known by the Sign of the BOAT, with the Yard, Brewhouse, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in Green Lane, at the Birchills aforesaid, in the occupation of Mr. Henry Raybould, at the yearly rent of £20.

And also all those nine Dwelling-house thereto adjoining, with the Appurtenances, producing together a yearly rental of between £40 and £50.”

1861 Census

39, Park Street

[1] John Baker (53), victualler, born East Stoke, Dorsetshire;

[2] Jane Baker (50), wife, born Walsall;

[3] John Baker (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Miles Baker (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Frank Baker (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Ann Fitt (36), boarder, barmaid, born Birmingham;

[7] Sarah Ann Roland (21), general servant, born Penn;

[8] Jane Palmer (28), house servant, born Walsall;

[9] Moses Palmer (18), house servant, born Alrewas, Staffordshire:

1871 Census

39, Park Street

[1] John Baker (63), widower, innkeeper, born Dorsetshire;

[2] Frances Hossal (34), married, daughter, born Walsall;

- [3] Harry Baker (26), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Miles G. Baker (21), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [5] Frank M. Baker (17), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [6] _____ Hossal (3), granddaughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Annie Pitt (46), barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [8] Mary Ann Randles (18), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [9] Mary Breese (22), domestic servant, born Church Stretton;
- [10] Thomas Ableson (55), boarder, currier, born Guiseley, Yorkshire:

Midland Counties Evening Express 6/2/1875

“The adjourned inquest into the circumstances attending the death of Mary Evans Baker, aged 28, of Morden, near Poole, Dorset, who on the 29th December, died at Walsall, from the effects of injuries sustained in the Kirtlington accident [on the Great Western Railway], was resumed yesterday afternoon at the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS INN, Walsall, before Mr. A. A. Fletcher, coroner.....”

[Kirtlington is near Oxford]

Lichfield Mercury 4/4/1879

“At the Petty Session, on Wednesday, Thomas Heap, landlord of the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS public house, Park Street, Walsall, was fined 1s and costs for having five jugs in his possession which were unjust measures.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/3/1881 - Advert

“Beerhouse To Let, the CROWN INN, situated in The Square, handsomely fitted up; must be disposed of; no reasonable offer refused. Satisfactory reasons for leaving. Apply, SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street.”

1881 Census

39, Park Street

- [1] Joseph Russell (30), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Russell (32), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Russell (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann M. Cozens (18), barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Harriet Smallwood (13), nurse, born London;
- [6] Elizabeth Fuller (13), general servant, born Wyrley;
- [7] Elizabeth Richards (23), barmaid, born Wolverhampton:

Evening Star 26/5/1882

“Forestry in Walsall. On Wednesday night a dinner of representatives of the various courts belonging to the Walsall district was held at the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, the district Court House. The chair was taken by Bro. Frakes DCR, and there were about thirty delegates present.....”

Lichfield Mercury 17/9/1886

“On Tuesday afternoon the Walsall police made a descent upon the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS INN, Park Street, and a hair-dresser’s shop, 46, Station Street, and apprehended Joseph Russell, the keeper of the former house, Charles Reynolds, the keeper of the latter, and the following men, who were some in one house and some in the other house – viz, Thomas Russell, William Plant, William Finden, John Wood, Albert Wood, William Turner, and Harry Astbury. They were at once removed in cabs to the police station. Joseph Russell and Charles Reynolds each being charged with keeping and using his house for the purpose of betting, and with allowing persons to resort thereto for the purpose of betting, and the others with having frequented the houses for the purpose of betting. They were placed before Dr. Day at a special session at the Guildhall, and Mr. Gillespie (Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie) who appeared to prosecute, instructed by the Chief of Police stated the charges, and asked for a remand till Wednesday.

Joseph Russell asked that his remand might be till Friday, and Dr. Day consented, and admitted the accused to bail, Joseph Russell, Reynolds, Thomas Russell, and Astbury in £100 each, and two sureties each in £25, and the others in £50 each and two sureties each in £25. The arrests caused great excitement among the sporting and betting fraternity, and an immense crowd congregated in and about the Guildhall when the prisoners were brought up. The police brought away from the two houses copies of ‘Ruff’s Guide to the Turf,’ the Racing Chronicle, and other sporting papers.”

[On September 23rd, 1886, Joseph Russell, pleaded guilty to a charge of permitting betting, and was fined £35 and costs; Charles Reynolds was fined £35 and costs; Thomas Russell was fined £5 and costs; the others were discharged.]

1891 Census

62, Park Street – SWAN WITH TWO NECKS

- [1] Mary A. Porter (23), unmarried, manageress, born Tipton;
- [2] Kate Peace (24), servant, born Worcester:

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1901

“Anthony O’Brien (32), labourer, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises at the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street, on September 23rd, and John Sheath, the landlord was summoned for selling intoxicating liquor to a drunken person and permitting drunkenness to take place on his licensed premises. Mr. J. W. Clewlow defended.

Police-constable Lloyd said he was on duty at mid-day, on September 23rd, and saw defendant enter the SWAN INN, and witness followed him into the house a few minutes afterwards. O’Brien was in the bar, and had in front of him a half-pint glass of beer. The barman admitted having served the man, but said the man was all right. The landlady came into the bar, and when witness asked her what she thought of O’Brien’s condition, she said he had had enough to drink.

Inspector Williams said he saw O’Brien in Park Street at mid-day on September 23rd. He was staggering about the street.

Detective-sergeant Jones saw O’Brien a short time after he was reported to have gone into the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, and he was very drunk.

Detective Burrell also gave evidence that he saw defendant drunk on September 23rd.

For the defence Mr. Clewlow admitted that O’Brien was served in the house, but denied the man was drunk. He remarked that the house had always been a well conducted one.

O’Brien was fined 2s 6d and costs, and Sheath was ordered to pay costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1909

“Mr. R. A. Cooper, the prospective Unionist candidate for Walsall, and Councillor A. J. Llewellyn will be initiated honorary members of the ‘Pride of the Valley’ Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, at a special meeting to be held at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, on Monday evening. The proceedings are to be followed by a smoking concert for which special artistes are being engaged.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/3/1910

“In aid of the Benevolent Fund of the ‘Pride of the Valley’ Lodge of the Order of Oddfellows, a successful whist drive was held at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, on Monday evening last week, when there were about twelve tables set going. The M.C.’s, Messrs Sanderson and Mayon carried out their duties efficiently, and the prize winners were: First, Mr. Price (dressing bag, given by the Lodge); 2nd, Mr. Poxon (clock, given by Mrs. Turner).”

1911 Census

62, Park Street

[1] Albert Turner (42), publican’s manager, born Camberwell, London;

[2] Ellen Annie Turner (41), wife, married 16 years, assistant in business, born Birmingham;

[3] Archibald Turner (13), son, at school, born Birmingham;

[4] Dora Barber (24), servant, assistant in business, born Walsall;

[5] Kate Meredith (26), general servant, born Chase Terrace, Cannock;

[6] Mary Ann Dickinson (25), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1911

“Alfred Deans, well known in local football circles, having played last season for Walsall, and who is the licensee of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, was summoned for assaulting Edward Lawrence, 161, Stafford Street, on the 2nd inst. Mr. R. Morgan appeared for the complainant, and Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Detailing the facts of the case to the bench Mr. Morgan submitted that the assault was an absolutely unprovoked one. At 7 o’clock on the Friday night in question, Lawrence went into the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS HOTEL, in Park Street, and called for a glass of ale, but the landlord refused him, saying that he had had enough. Complainant was about to leave the house perfectly quietly when Deans, who was in the room at the time said, ‘Can’t I have one with you?’ Complainant replied that he would treat him to a glass of ale. ‘No,’ said Deans, ‘I will have a threepenny cigar.’ Lawrence told him he could not afford a threepenny cigar, but was willing to treat him to a glass of ale. Deans was not content with this, and repeated his request for a cigar three times. Complainant refused him at each request, and Deans thereupon lifted his fist and struck him in the jaw, following it up by pushing him outside, through the swing doors. Having done that he bundled him into the public-house window, and but for the brass bar protecting it, would have pushed him through it. Defendant himself was a license holder in the town and a man who ought to know how to conduct himself on licensed premises.

Complainant gave evidence in support of his solicitor’s statement, and describing the alleged assault, said, he gave me the smartest punch I have ever had in my life, and loosened my teeth. He bundled me through the swing doors with his shoulders, saying ‘I am gaffer here, I will show you, get off’.’ He added that Deans would have been the last man in the world he should have thought would have struck him, as he (Yardley) was a customer at the house.

Mr. Jackson: Were you the worse for drink? – Complainant: I had had a glass or two. I was in the same state I am now.

Mr. Jackson: Can you understand why a respectable man like Mr. Deans should have hit you without any provocation? – Witness: I cannot understand his conduct whatever.

Further questioned he denied that he struck Deans on the nose, after the latter had tried to persuade him to leave the house.

Alfred Devereaux, George Walker, and Thomas Machin, a railway station policeman, gave evidence in support of Lawrence, the latter witness attending on subpoena.

During the examination of one of the witnesses, Mr. Clarke asked if the witnesses in that case were out of court, and was told they were not.

Mr. Clarke: They have no right to be in court. They are like children; if they have got any brains they will soon learn it. Witnesses were ordered to leave.

Mr. Jackson said that the case was a somewhat remarkable one, because defendant had been a licensee in this town for several years, and was a respectable man. He was in this public-house on the night in question when he heard Lawrence refused by the landlord. Knowing him, he persuaded him to leave, but about a minute later he returned and struck Deans, who was talking to the barmaid, a violent blow on the nose. Defendant then caught hold of him and turned him out, 'It is not likely,' continued Mr. Jackson. 'that a respectable man of his (Mr. Deans) standard, would without the slightest provocation, hit him on the jaw while in another licensee's house? I say it is absurd.'

Deans then gave evidence, and said that the whole story of the prosecution was a fabrication and all made up. Lawrence, who was under the influence of drink, wanted to toss for drinks, and being a friend of his defendant led him out. However, complainant struck him and he retaliated.

Dora Barber, the barmaid, told a similar story and the Bench dismissed the case."

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

"King Edward Angling Society.

The annual general meeting of this society, whose headquarters are at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, was held on Saturday evening. It appeared from the balance sheet that the club had a very satisfactory year. Good private fishing is provided for the members, including a portion of the River Trent at Rugeley; also a private pool at Clayhanger. Season tickets are also issued for the Birmingham Canal, and the Society is affiliated with the Provincial Anglers' Association, Birmingham, from which travelling cards are provided for members at reduced fares. A dividend of 5/6 each, fully paid up, was declared for all the members....."

Walsall Observer 7/3/1914

"Concluding with the words which summarise the objects of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes, 'Justice, Truth, and Philanthropy,' the ceremony of consecrating the new headquarters at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, of the 'Earl Bradford' Lodge was performed on Thursday evening last by the Bro. Grand Primo of Walsall and Staffordshire (Bro. A. Taylor)....."

Walsall Advertiser 18/4/1914

"The half-yearly meeting of the Ancient Order of Foresters was held at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, on Saturday, the chairman being Bro. S. Bates, District Chief Ranger....."

Walsall Advertiser 16/5/1914

"William Pemberton, of Coalport, was summoned for not having proper control over his horse and lorry in Park Street on May 1st. Police-constable Bell said that the horse and lorry were standing in Park Street from 3.30 to 4pm and was causing an obstruction in the street. Witness went into the hotel and found the defendant drinking.

Defendant said he had gone to the hotel on business, and when he got there the licensee was engaged. The horse was a safe one. Police-constable Bell, re-called, said the defendant, when first spoken to, said his cart was frequently there, but he said nothing about business.

Defendant, who had been up twice before for a similar offence, was ordered to pay costs."

Walsall Observer 7/11/1914

"Walsall Credit Drapers And Tailors Association. The monthly meeting of the above association was held at the new headquarters, the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, Saturday evening week. Mr. A. T. Page, president, occupied the chair....."

Walsall Observer 20/5/1916

"Private A. Turner, late of the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, has now returned to France, after being in hospital at Cheltenham for two months with nervous breakdown. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the R.A.M.C, previous to joining the forces, Private Turner, who is hardly 19 yet, was learning electrical engineering at Messrs. Allday and Onions, Birmingham."

Walsall Observer 14/6/1916

"The Walsall branch of the Amalgamated Union of Operative Bakers, Confectioners and Allied Workers held an open night and concert on Saturday at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street. Mr. E. J. Mayo took the chair....."

Harold Ernest Alger – see also BULLS HEAD, Bloxwich, and NEW FULBROOK.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/12/1921

"The sixty-ninth annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held at the SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street, on the 14th inst....."

Walsall Observer 6/9/1924

"At a meeting of the Walsall Football Supporters Club, to be held at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, next Friday evening, the season's prospects will be discussed and a musical programme will be gone through."

Frederick Gumbley – see also HOPE AND ANCHOR.

Walsall Observer 27/5/1933

“Buffalo Ceremonies.....

The Earl of Bradford Lodge of the R.A.O.B., G.L.E., held at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, was honoured at its last meeting by a visit of Bro. James, KOM, PGP, Wolverhampton Province, who presided and gave a short address.”

Walsall Observer 14/1/1939

“Much of the land abutting on St. Paul’s Row known as Idle Alley, has long been vacant. Houses and premises were demolished some years ago, and both sides of the footway have been awaiting Corporation developments. When at the Town Council meeting this week it was proposed to sell 50 square yards of land to Mitchells and Butlers, Ltd., there were vigorous protests. The land was wanted to provide another entrance to the SWAN INN, Park Street, and the price agreed was £7 10s per yard.

Moving reference back, Councillor Stanley suggested the St. Paul’s Row might eventually become an arcade and it was therefore an important piece of land the Corporation were proposing to sell.

‘It seems to me a rather dangerous matter to dispose of a strip of land like this,’ Councillor Hale, who, in seconding the amendment, suggested that the brewery company should be given an annual tenancy of the land, so that the Corporation could continue to control it.”

Walsall Observer 4/2/1939

“The ex-Service Men’s Organisation known as the Walsall Dug-up’s held the first annual guest night of the year at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, yesterday week, when about 60 members, wives, and friends attended. After the toast to ‘absent comrades’ had been honoured the company sat down to an excellent dinner, followed by a musical programme by Messrs. Wells (tenor), Weaver (tenor), Bert Bradley (entertainer), Miss Fitzgerald (soprano), Comrades Hawkes (monologues), Aulton and Holland (war-time songs); while Comrade Green led the community singing, with Mr. Bernard Hughes at the piano. On behalf of the visitors, Mr. Tom Pace and Mr. Tom Clark expressed thanks for the Dug-up’s hospitality, and the Secretary (Comrade Hawkes) responded. The Chairman (Comrade Stackhouse) expressed thanks to the artists and the host (Mr. Jack Earp).”

Birmingham Mail 20/5/1939

“Members of the Walsall and District Angling Society are requested to note that owing to alterations and rebuilding of the present headquarters, the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall, it has been found necessary to transfer to temporary headquarters and from Monday night next, May 22nd, the club night will be held at 8pm until further notice, and on every alternate Monday at the BOROUGH ARMS HOTEL, Ablewell Street, Walsall. Members are asked particularly to note the change from Tuesday to Monday and that club nights for a short time will be run fortnightly instead of weekly.”

1939 Register

62, Park Street

[1] John Edward Earp, date of birth 9/9/1902, manager of licensed premises, married;

[2] Ada Nellie Earp, dob 17/6/1901, manageress, married: (all crossed out)

[Ada N. Earp, dob 17/6/1901, appears as manageress, licensed premises, 73, Lichfield Street.]

Walsall Observer 22/6/1940 - Roll of Honour

“A keen swimmer and formerly a member of the Walsall Club, Lance-Bombardier Victor James Worrall, of the Royal Artillery, is officially reported to have been killed in action. Aged 24, he was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Worrall and lived for some years at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, of which his father was licensee. He was then employed at the Walsall establishment of Edward Grey Ltd., and later at the Dudley Branch. After leaving the Worcester Swimming Club and often playing in their polo team. Only last November he was married to Miss Doris Smith, of Worcester.”

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940

“At the monthly meeting on Thursday of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

Mr. Earp, SWAN WITH TWO NECKS, Park Street, was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

SWAN INN, Park Street, £1 1s 0d.”

Evening Despatch 8/3/1941

“Walsall Mess hold their tenth anniversary of the opening of the Mess on Friday, 14 March, at the SWAN HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall, at 7.30pm.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SWAN, Park Street. £4 0s 8d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

SWAN HOTEL, Park Street. £24 0s 0d.”

It closed on 22nd May 1957.

TALBOT

BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Ball [1586]

NOTES

[It is thought that it was situated in Park Road.]

TALBOT

9, Digbeth, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Deeley, Talbot Yard, Digbeth
Henry Walter Round
Ind Coope and Co. Ltd.
Joseph Noakes, Bridge Street, Walsall
Brewers' Investment Corporation
Arthur Charles Kerrison, Bilston
Bents Brewery Co. Ltd., Liverpool [1899]

LICENSEES

Joseph Wright* [1801] – [1822]
Joseph Wright* [1828] – [1830]
Charles Shaw [1833] – [1834]
Thomas Cooper [1835] – [1838]
Thomas Mason [1842]
Job Wilkes [1845]
James and Thomas Deeley [1849] – [1851]
James Deeley [1852] – [1853]
Thomas Hughes [1861]
James Deeley [1862] – 1863);
Samuel King (1863 – 1864);
John Young (1864 – [1872])
Richard Austin [1872] – [1873];
John Austin [];
Walter Henry 'Harry' Peacock [1874] – [1883];
Nathan Crisp [];
Thomas Barnwell [];
James Feerick [];
Edward Coombe [] – 1886);

Alfred King (1886 – 1887);
John Thompson (1887 – 1888);
John Donnellan (1888 – 1889);
Francis Joseph Zeller (1889 – 1890);
Richard Shazell (1890);
Samuel Bowen (1890 – 1893);
Henry Cullingsworth (1893);
Miss Nancy Lowe (1893 – 1898);
Arthur Hand (1898 – 1900);
Edward Bethell (1900 – [1916]);
Annie Bethell [] – 1919);
Edwin Bond (1919 – 1921);
John Edward Brotherton (1921 – 1927);
Frederick Lord (1927 – 1952);
Albert Carter (1952 – 1959);
Florence Elsie Wood (1959 – []);
William Lloyd [] – 1963);

NOTES

It had a six-day license.

'Walsall Past and Present' by David F. Vodden

“The Mayor was recorded as entertaining guests there in the seventeenth century the TALBOT known then as Sherwin's, in six months of 1630 his bill was the then considerable figure of £2 7s 7d.”

[A coach every morning at nine o'clock from the TALBOT, in Digbeth, Walsall, to the Saracens Head, Bull Street, Birmingham. \[1791\]](#)

* possibly the same person

John Gold, a carrier to Wolverhampton, left from here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. [1822]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

“The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion.....

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.

Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.

Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.

Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.

Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.

Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.

Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.

Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.

True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/6/1832

“On Monday last the Grand Lodge of Loyal Social Fellows celebrated their anniversary, in the lodge-room, at the TALBOT INN, Walsall. The occasion was rendered peculiarly interesting by the presence of a rival candidate for the representation of the town. Mr. Forster being a member, and Mr. Attwood attending by invitation. No discussions of a political nature were allowed, and the afternoon was passed in much conviviality and friendship.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/1/1833

“A respectable looking man entered the King's Arms, in the town [Stafford], on Sunday evening last, and after taking tea, &c. retired to bed. He rose about nine o'clock in the morning, and after ordering coffee for breakfast, he left the house, saying he was going to the Post Office, and should return in five minutes. He, however, did not make his appearance again; and about two hours after, Mrs. Hammersley discovered that he had stolen two watches out of a chest of drawers, which stood in the room where he had slept. The maker's name of one of the watches is 'Thos. Corker, Stafford, No.503.' It had a purple ribbon attached to it, and a gold seal and key. The other had a hunting case, steel chain, and broken key, and was bought of Robert Hill, Stafford. On Monday night, the same man slept at Mr. Shaw's, the TALBOT, Digbeth, Walsall, where he remained the whole of Tuesday staying another night, and on Wednesday morning, when he rose, he appeared to in great haste, said he had over-slept himself, and must go instantly to keep an appointment with a friend in the town. He left the house, and never returned. After his departure, it was discovered that he had stolen fifteen sovereigns and two £5 notes, belonging to a Friendly Society, which had met the night before, and some trinkets belonging to the landlady. We are sorry to say, the villain has not yet been heard of. In the hope of assisting his detection, we give the following description of him and his dress: height, five feet five or six inches; fresh complexion, red whiskers, rather light hair, and dimple in the chin; had on, an olive coloured coat, dark coloured handkerchief, waist coat and trowsers.”

[In about a week afterwards, the miscreant was apprehended in Shrewsbury, and committed to prison for trial.]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/4/1838

“Reuben Marten, in company with Johnny Broome, had been taking a benefit at Dudley, and will be at Walsall on Monday and Tuesday next, and thence to the Potteries, previous to joining his old friend Jem Ward at Liverpool, who for auld lang syne sake, intended getting him a benefit at the Theatre. Marten states that he has a young countryman, who has never fought in the P.R., that will fight any nine and a half stone man in London or Birmingham, for £25 or £50 a side, his money is ready at the TALBOT, Walsall, on Tuesday next. Johnny Broome’s benefit will take place at the Cross Guns, New Summer Street, Birmingham, tomorrow (Monday), which is expected to be numerously attended. Marten further states that he is willing, at any time, to fight Young Sam, in any part of France, if his expenses are paid.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/4/1838

“About eleven o’clock on Wednesday night some person or persons entered the bar of Mr. Cooper, of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, and stole the till containing two pounds in copper, two bunches of keys, some loose keys, a powder flask, a pair of scales for weighing sovereigns, and other articles, with which they got clear off. The till was found the following day by Mr. C. in a field contiguous to Lichfield Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/6/1838

“James Gaunt, of Colton, near Rugeley, was apprehended at the TALBOT INN, Walsall, on Thursday, the 24th ult, with a cock and two hens in his possession. He had been brought up twice before the magistrates, and remanded till some information can be obtained respecting the fowls, which are described in handbills put into circulation.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/6/1838

“We have already noticed the apprehension, at the TALBOT INN, Walsall, of Joseph Gaunt, of Colton, near Rugeley, with three fowls in his possession, which he was suspected to have stolen. By the activity of the Walsall police, it has been ascertained that the fowls are the property of Mr. Jos. Farmer, of Colton; to which place the prisoner was conveyed, and thence on the 8th instant, committed to Stafford gaol, for trial at the ensuing sessions.”

[At the Staffordshire Midsummer Sessions, in July, 1838, John Gaunt, was found guilty and sentenced to be imprisoned 6 calendar months, 18 days thereof in solitude.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1841

“Mr. Henry Hill Cox, eldest and only surviving son of the late Hill Cox, Esq, of Walsall and Great Barr, attained his majority on Wednesday last, on which day an excellent dinner was provided at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, in celebration of the event. About twenty-six of the tenantry assembled by invitation, and did ample justice to the good things set before them. In the course of the afternoon Mr. Cox, attended by the Rev. W. M’Kean of Walsall, the Rec. Hugh Hutton, of Birmingham, and several other friends entered the room; and shortly after his health was proposed by the Rev. M’Kean, and responded to with three hearty cheers; the compliment was acknowledged in suitable terms. After remaining some time, Mr. Cox and friends left the TALBOT to visit another company of tenantry, for whom a similar entertainment was provided at the WHITE LION, High Street. The respective parties spent the afternoon and evening in a most convivial manner.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/8/1846

“Ancient Order of Foresters. On Monday afternoon last a lodge of this order was opened at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, after which the officers and members dined together at the same inn.”

Henry Crompton, a carrier to Aldridge, left from here every morning and evening. [1849]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/3/1849

“Gough and Burns. This was the great race of the day, and had brought together the principal part of the strangers who congregated to witness it. It was a race of 120 yards between J. Gough and S. Burns (both of Darlaston), for £50 a side. On February 5 Burns defeated Gough in a race of 100 yards, £25 to £20, by a foot at Cannock Corner. Another match was immediately made to run 120 yards, for £25 a side, on February 12, to run at Bloxwich; but to the chagrin of about 3,000 persons, the police made their appearance, headed by a clergyman, who informed them that the men should not run there, and Gough would not agree to run anywhere else that day; hence, after a great deal of talk between the backers, it was agreed to run at Bellevue on this day, and increase the stakes to £50 a side. The men located themselves in the immediate neighbourhood some days previous, and about half-past two o’clock Gough and Burns met and tossed for the choice of ends and sides, which Burns won, and declared he should win the race. Both are little known as pedestrians, although Gough has numbered 27 years. Burns is about 24, and is a fine made fellow, and fit to run even after a day's digging at California. Gough, who is a trifle less than his opponent, was well and full of confidence, and he declared the previous day that he could win by six yards. We are informed that a tidy amount of the circulating medium had been laid out on the event in the neighbourhood of Darlaston, and on the ground a good sum changed hand at evens, which might have been doubled had Gough's party laid the odds at 6 to 4, but they were cautious of their exchequer was nearly exhausted. On scratching, Burns chose the ascent, and placed Gough on his right. The start was by pull of a handkerchief, which, after a short delay was effected. Burns got the lead by a full yard, and rattled away for 100 yards, when Gough caught and passed him; but a splendid struggle ensued, Gough showing most lasting qualities, Burns beginning to fall off, and the latter lost by one yard and a half. Time upwards of 13 seconds. Had this been a pugilistic encounter, colours could not have been more plentiful, Gough and his friends winning Burn's, and wearing them as trophies of victory. Gough was trained by Mr. Booth, of the Jug Inn, Shelton, who brought him out in excellent condition. Mr. Thomas Deeley, of the TALBOT INN, Walsall, states that it is Gough's wish that the stakes should be made personally payable to him (Deeley), and if this is correct they shall be sent in accordance with his request on Tuesday, but we must know by that morning's post."

Birmingham Post 16/3/1850 - Advert

"To Be Shot For, at the TALBOT INN, Walsall, on Monday Next, the 18th instant, at Twelve o'clock – Two Fat Pigs, one about Thirty-five, and the other about Twenty score; Thirty-two subscribers £1 each; twenty-one yards distance, three Birds each, three-quarter bore, and 1³/₄ozs of shot. The Gun to be below the elbow till the Bird is loosed from the trap. Tickets to be paid before Shooting commences."

Birmingham Journal 23/10/1852 - Advert

"To Harness Makers. Wanted.

A good workman, in the above line, may meet with constant employment, by applying to Mr. James Deeley, TALBOT INN, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/10/1853

"On Wednesday, James Deeley, landlord of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, was fined 10s and costs, for permitting drinking in his spirit shop on the Sunday previous."

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/3/1857

"Staffordshire Lent Assizes.

Thomas Davies, 27, miner, Benjamin Dean, 17, miner, John Nicolls, 18, miner, Henry Newell, 18, miner, Phineas Kendrick, 17, brickmaker, Thomas Meek, 21, forgerman, and Charles Bickley, 17, miner, were indicted for feloniously assaulting Joseph Boyer, on the 8th of March, 1857, at the parish of Rushall, and stealing from his person two half-crowns and a shilling, his moneys. Mr. Motteram appeared on behalf of the prosecution. Mr. Scotland had been retained to defend all the prisoners except Davies; but being engaged in conducting the prosecution against Kempson Walker in another court, and no other counsel being present, Mr. Sill, from the office of Messrs Duignan and Hemmant, the attorneys for the defence, cross-examined the witnesses who were called in support of the prosecution.

Several witnesses were examined, and from their combined testimony it appeared that on the evening in question the prosecutor was drinking at the TALBOT INN, in Walsall, which place he left about midnight, and proceeded towards Brownhills. When he got to the Butts he was attacked by three men, and knocked down and robbed. The son of the prosecutor and his wife were following him along the road, and when they came up one of the men who had been abusing the prosecutor seized the woman, were upon her husband struck him. The prisoner Davies was identified by the son's wife as the person who had hold of her; and when in custody he made a statement admitting that he had assaulted but not robbed the prisoner, and he implicated the other prisoners. Mr. Scotland, who had entered the Court, addressed the jury on behalf of his clients.

The jury acquitted all except Davies, and him the learned Judge sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

There was another indictment against all the prisoners for assaulting and robbing another man, at the same time and place, but no evidence was offered on it.

With this case the labours of Mr. Justice Crowder in connection with the Stafford Assizes terminated, and the Court rose at twenty minutes to eleven o'clock."

Walsall Free Press 11/6/1859 - Advert

"Valuable Retail Shops, Old Licensed Public-House, and Other Properties, in the Market Place and Bridgeman Street, Walsall. Notice Is Hereby given, that the Sale advertised to be held at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on Wednesday, the 22nd of June instant, at Seven o'clock, Will Not Take Place. Saml. Wilkinson, jun. Walsall, 10th June, 1859."

Allen's, carriers to Aldridge, left from here every Tuesday and Saturday afternoon. [1861], [1865]

James Deeley was also a brass furniture manufacturer. [1861]

1861 Census

9, Digbeth – TALBOT INN

[1] Thomas Hughes (49), victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Sarah Hughes (52), wife, born Darlaston;

- [3] Hannah Hughes (28), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [4] Marian Hughes (26), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [5] George Thacker (26), man servant, born Kidderminster;
- [6] Daniel Barnsley (40), lodger, bill poster and messenger, born Manchester;
- [7] Charles Parker (41), lodger, horse breaker, born Lincoln;
- [8] George Coates (30), lodger, bill poster and messenger, born Tettenhall:

Birmingham Journal 11/5/1861 - Notice

“Re Thomas Hughes, of Walsall, Licensed Victualler, A Bankrupt.

To Publicans, Parties Furnishing, Brokers, and Others.

Peremptory and Unreserved sale, at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, Staffordshire, By James Lowe.

To be Sold by Auction (by order of the Assignees of the above-named bankrupt), on the above Premises, on Tuesday next, May 11th – the valuable Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above well situated Old-Licensed Inn, together with (in lots), the whole of the neat and clean Household Furniture, Brewing Plant and Utensils, Fittings, Fixtures, and Effects, comprising tent Bedsteads, Mattresses, capital feather Beds, bed Linen, Washstands and Dressing Tables, oak and other Chests of Drawers, Carpet, &c, eight-day Clock in zebra wood case, mahogany Tables, capital Bagatelle Board, 5¼-octave Cottage Pianoforte in rosewood case, 5-motion Spirit Fountain, 6-pull Ale Machine with stop taps, liquor shop Counters, tables, benches, and Fittings, copper and pewter Measures, Cups, Jugs, and Glasses, Pier Glasses, 180-gallon copper Furnace, well-seasoned store Casks, Hogsheads and half Hogsheads, Coolers and Mash Tubs, Malt Mill, gathering and other Tubs, lead wort Piping, Kitchen Requisites, and numerous other Effects.

For full particulars see catalogues, to be had of the Auctioneer, 14, Cannon Street, Birmingham.

Sale to commence at half-past ten o'clock precisely.”

London Gazette 4/6/1861

“George Williams Sanders, Esq, one of Her Majesty’s Commissioners authorized to act under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, bearing date the 20th day of April, 1861, and filed in Her Majesty’s District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, against Thomas Hughes, of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer and Chapman, has appointed a public sitting for the allowance of the Certificate under such Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, to be holden on the 24th day of June next, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, when and where any of the creditors of the said bankrupt, who shall have given due notice of his intention to oppose, may be heard against the allowance of such Certificate, and the same will be allowed unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary, or such other order will be made therein as the justice of the case may require.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/5/1862 - Advert

“1862. For This Season. Open to Trot any Travelling Stallion in Great Britain.

Champion, the property of W. Yeomans and Brothers, Pennymore Hay, near the Four Ashes, Wolverhampton, will serve Mares this season. He was bred by Mr. Charles Groom, Snape Abbey, Suffolk. At £3 3s each Mare, and 5s the Groom, the Groom’s fee to be paid at the time of serving, and the remainder at Midsummer next.

Champion as a trotter stands unrivalled in England, and for colour, temper, symmetry, constitution, and actions, is not to be surpassed. He is a splendid and well-bred horse; stands 16 hands high; colour, a rich bay; perfectly sound; he has proved himself sure, and his colts are universally popular.....

On Wednesday Champion will be at the BLUE PIG, Bilston, from nine till ten; at the GIFFARDS ARMS, Cock Street, Wolverhampton, from twelve till four; at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, stop all night.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/4/1863 - Advert

“TALBOT INN, Walsall.

To be Let, that above Old-established Wine and Spirit Vaults, situate in the centre of the market.

Apply to the proprietor, whose sole cause of leaving is illness.”

Walsall Free Press 25/4/1863 - Advert

“TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall.

To Sold By Auction, by Mr. J. Osbourn, upon the premises as above, on Monday next, April 27th, 1863, all the Household Furniture and other effects, belonging to Mr. James Deeley, who is leaving the town, comprising mahogany and other chairs, dining and other tables, handsome Eight-day time piece, sofas, mahogany, iron, and other bedsteads, mattresses, prime feather and flock beds, night chair, mahogany and painted washstand and dressing tables, chests of drawers, dressing glasses, handsome pianoforte, Spanish mahogany side-board, ornament, kitchen requisites, &c, also an excellent rick cloth, with poles, four vices, pair of bellows, sash frames, counter, desk, three ladders, &c.

NB – The whole to be sold without the slightest reserve, not having been taken to by Mr. Samuel King, who has taken the above Inn.

Sale to commence at Ten o'clock, under the usual conditions.”

Walsall Free Press 12/12/1863 - Advert

“Samuel King, TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, Begs to announce that he has commenced Dealing in Hay and Straw.

All orders punctually attended to, and delivered on the shortest notice.”

Samuel King was also a hay and straw dealer. [1864], [1865]

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/4/1864 - Advert

“For this Season, the fastest Trotting Stallions in Great Britain, Brown Orville and Champion, the property of J. Yeomans and Brothers, Pennymore Hay, near the Four Ashes, Wolverhampton, will Serve Mares this Season. At £2 2s each mare, and 5s the groom. The groom’s fee to be paid at the time of serving, the remainder to be paid on or before the 24th of June next, or 10s extra will be charged for collecting.

Brown Orville is descended from the first blood and fastest trotters in the kingdom; and for strength, symmetry, action, and breeding as a nag there can be among judges but one opinion. He has proved himself a sure foal-getter.

Tuesday, April 12th, TALBOT, Digbeth Walsall, from twelve till four, to WHITE HORSE, Wednesbury, for the night.

Champion takes this round on Monday, April 18th”

Walsall Free Press 30/4/1864 - Notice

“To the Master Builders of Walsall and the Public Generally.

The Operative House Carpenters and Joiners of Walsall, respectfully inform the Master Builders and the public generally, that on and after Monday, the 2nd day of May, 1864, it is our intention to commence work at Seven o’clock on Monday mornings, and to cease working at half-past Five on the first five evenings of the week, and Four o’clock on Saturdays.

By order of the Committee.”

AND

“Notice! Notice!!

To The Master Builders of Walsall.

We, the Operative Bricklayers of this Town, beg to inform you, our employers, that it is our intention to ask you for the same privilege that our Fellow Workmen in the surrounding district are enjoying, namely: To commence work at Seven o’clock on Monday Mornings, and to leave at half-past Five every day except Saturday, on which day the Working Hours shall terminate at Four pm.

The above alteration to commence May 2nd.

By acceding to our proposal you will much oblige.

Yours &c. The Operative Bricklayers of Walsall.

TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall. April 15th, 1864.”

Tufft, a carrier to Wolverhampton, left from here daily. [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 26/1/1865 - Advert

“Found Straying, at Walsall, on the 13th inst, and now in the possession of Mr. John Young, TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, an Iron Grey Mare Pony, 11 to 12 hands high, about 7 years old, rough coat, and in good condition. If not claimed by the 28th inst, will be Sold to defray expenses.”

Birmingham Gazette 29/11/1865

“County Court. . . . Ireson v. Young. This was an action brought by the plaintiff, Henry Ireson, who is a fish dealer of Birmingham, to recover the sum of £5 from John Young, of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, for damages sustained by reason of the defendant detaining a cart belonging to plaintiff for seven days. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Mathews (from the office of Mr. Wilkinson) for the defendant. The facts of the case were simply these: the cart had been placed upon a piece of ground belonging to defendant, who seized it and stated he would retain it till the plaintiff paid 7s for the right of passing along the lane leading to the ground in question, but ultimately he returned it. The cart was detained for seven days, and the plaintiff had been compelled to hire another cart, and the action was to recover damages for the costs plaintiff had been put to in hiring a cart, and the loss he had sustained through inability to attend market. Verdict for the plaintiff for £2 10s to be paid in six weeks.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/12/1865

“Julia Collins, a respectably-dressed female, was charged with having in the early part of July last stolen a quantity of bed linen, the property of Mr. James Harding, landlord of the RAILWAY HOTEL, Station Street, and with having in the latter part of the same month stolen a counterpane, a sheet, a table cloth, and toilet cover, the property of Mr. John Young, landlord of the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. The prisoner, in company with a man whom she represented to be her husband, had lodged for about a fortnight at each place, and after she left these articles were missed. The prisoner, who pleaded guilty to each charge, was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 30/3/1867

“John Young, landlord of the TALBOT INN, pleaded guilty to having permitted beer to be consumed on his premises after one o’clock on Thursday morning last, and was fined 5s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/4/1869 - Advert

“That through-bred prize stallion, ‘Dagobert,’ for 1869, the property of J. Yeomans and Brothers, Pennymore Hay and Four Ashes, Wolverhampton. Thorough-bred mare, £6s 6d; other mares, £3 3s; grooms fee 5s; to be paid at the time. Will attend, health permitting, as follows.

Tuesday, through Shenstone and Sutton, to the TALBOT, Digbeth, Walsall, for the market, and night.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/10/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady, industrious Man as Brewer an Ostler. Good character indispensable.
Apply, TALBOT INN, Walsall.”

1871 Census

9, Digbeth

- [1] John Young (50), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Anne Young (50), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Ellen Young (19), sister, born Dudley Port;
- [4] Betsy Wood (20), general servant, born Bilston;
- [5] Robert Rime (54), ostler, born Shropshire;
- [6] John Wilkes (40), visitor, brick maker, born Manchester;
- [7] Joseph Page (60), visitor, miller, born Warwickshire;
- [8] Jesse Weight (20), boarder, bricklayer, born Measham, Derbyshire;
- [9] William Davies (19), boarder, bricklayer, born Measham, Derbyshire:

The house was run by Richard Austin and Co. [1873]

Midland Examiner 26/9/1874 - Advert

“Mastiff Puppies For Sale. Given Prize letter at the Walsall Dog Show.
Apply to Mr. Peacock, TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1876

“John Draper, Paddock Lane, was charged with having on Friday, the 3rd inst, committed wilful and corrupt perjury. Mr. Williams (of the firm Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Williams) appeared for the prosecutor, William Tully, George Street. The evidence adduced was to the effect that on the day named the defendant swore that the complainant has assaulted a young man named George Wilkes in Park Street, and pursued him to the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, where the landlord interfered and prevented his renewing his attack, the result of the evidence being that Tully was convicted of assault. On this occasion witnesses were called who deposed that the defendant on leaving the court boasted that he had ‘done’ Tully, and that he had been waiting two years for the opportunity; and that he did not know whether the assault was committed by Tully or by a young man named Jones. In addition, Jones came forward and admitted that he really did fight Wilkes and that Tully was not present at the time.

George Wilkes was next charged with having committed perjury under the same circumstances. Jones, on being again put into the box, admitted, in answer to Mr. Holden, that when giving evidence of the 3rd he said he didn’t know the name of the person who had committed the assault, although he should know him again if he saw him. The Bench dismissed Wilkes, but committed Draper for trial, remanding him, however, till Wednesday for completion of the depositions.”

[At the Staffordshire Winter Assizes on 29th November, 1876, John Draper, 22, saddler, was found guilty of perjury and sentenced to twelve months’ imprisonment.]

Walter Henry Peacock = Henry William Peacock

1881 Census

9, Digbeth

- [1] Walter Henry Peacock (34), licensed victualler, born Bridgwater, Somerset;
- [2] Elizabeth A. C. Peacock (31), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Walter Peacock (13), son, scholar, born Bridgwater, Somerset;
- [4] Charles Collins (63), visitor, born Birmingham:

Birmingham Daily Post 28/5/1883

“A petition has been filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, on behalf of William Walter Peacock, of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, licensed victualler, and wine, spirit, and ale merchant, with liabilities estimated at £2,600; solicitor, Mr. F. Bill, Walsall.”

London Gazette 1/6/1883

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, In the Matter of a Bankruptcy Petition against Henry William Peacock, of the TALBOT, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Keeper of an Inn, Licensed Victualler, and Wine and Spirit Merchant.

Upon the hearing of this Petition this day, and upon proof satisfactory to the Court of the debt of the Petitioner, and of the trading, and of the act or acts of the Bankruptcy alleged to have been committed by the said Henry William Peacock having been given, it is ordered that the said Henry William Peacock be, and he is hereby, adjudged bankrupt.

Given under the Seal of the Court this 28th day of May, 1883.

By the Court, F. F. Clarke, Registrar.

The First General Meeting of the creditors of the said Henry William Peacock is hereby summoned to be held at the office of this Court, Lichfield-street, Walsall, on the 13th day of June, 1883, at three o’clock in the afternoon, and that the Court has ordered the bankrupt to attend thereat for examination, and to produce thereat a statement of his affairs, as required by the statute.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1886 - Advert

“To Be Let, on 24th June, the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, Walsall.
Apply to Mr. J. Noake, Freer Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/8/1888 - Advert

“Walsall Florist Society.

The Ninth Annual Floral and Horticultural exhibition will be held on St. George’s Hall, on Monday & Tuesday, August 27 & 29.

Refreshments will be supplied by Mr. John Donnelan, TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses.

Mr. Herbert (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) also applied for a license for Samuel Bowen, of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, for singing and playing on Tuesday, Saturday, and Monday evenings. The applicant said he was a quarterly tenant of the house at an annual rental of £185, but he paid weekly. Granted for the club-room, on Tuesday evenings.”

1891 Census

9, Digbeth – TALBOT INN

- [1] Samuel Bowen (51), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Eliza Bowen (49), wife, born Penkull, Staffordshire;
- [3] Samuel R. Bowen (26), son, assurance agent, born London;
- [4] John F. Bowen (24), son, die sinker, born Battersea, London;
- [5] Eliza A. Bowen (18), daughter, dressmaker, born Birmingham;
- [6] Bertha A. Bowen (14), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [7] Howard A. Bowen (12), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [8] Florence E. Bowen (11), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [9] Elsie M. Bowen (9), daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [10] George H. Bowen (7), son, scholar, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.

Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith (Messrs. Pearman-Smith and Sons) applied for the justices’ sanction to plans for alterations to the TALBOT INN, on behalf of Bents’ Brewery Co., the owners.

The Chief Constable opposed the application.

Mr Smith said the matter came before the Bench on July 19th, but it was then adjourned until the Brewster Sessions, so that the magistrates who then heard it might view the premises. He believed the only objection was that there was a right of road to an adjoining property through the middle of the licensed premises. It was one of those old premises in Walsall, and the difficulties had tried to be overcome by the owners, who had made endeavours to purchase the road round the rear of the licensed premises, but unfortunately nothing had been settled.

In answer to Mr. Loxton, Mr. Smith said the right of way could not be shut up on account of the premises at the back, but he did not know that the way was connected with any other house than the one with whose owner they had been endeavouring to negotiate.

Mr. Smith put in plans of the proposed alterations, and explained that there would be a curtailment of the licensed area. They were giving up a place formerly used as a bottling stores, and he remarked that from time to time for years they had been before the Bench with reference to alterations, and various suggestions had been made by the Chief. They had blocked out windows and doorways to carry out those suggestions to enable them to lay out the house to proper police supervision. He believed the Chief Constable’s only objection was the right of way going through the middle of the licensed premises, but that was a matter that it had been found impossible to deal with or do away with. And with regard to the licensing authorities the house would be no more difficult to supervise than it was today, and it was a right of road that had existed for many years.

The Chief Constable said that when the plans were first submitted he was rather in favour of supporting the application, only his attention was called to this right of road. Having seen the road, and also the occupier of the property to which it led, he was compelled to oppose any alterations that would place the premises in a position which Mr. Smith suggested, for the reason that the landlord would practically have no control over the premises that were separated from him and there was nothing to prevent anyone from going through those premises from the TALBOT when occasionally required. The police would not have any control over the place at the back.

Application refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

“The application of Nancy Lowe, TALBOT INN, Digbeth, for a billiard license was departed from, no one appearing in support.”

Edward Bethell = Edward Bethel

1901 Census

Digbeth – TALBOT INN

[1] Edward Bethell (34), licensed victualler, born Liverpool;

[2] Annie Bethell (35), wife, born Chester;

[3] Edmund Bethell (5), son, born Chester:

Plans for alterations were approved on 31st August 1900.

Walsall Advertiser 30/8/1902

“A charge of ill-treating a cat on August 7th was preferred against William Williams, of 55, Dalkeith Street, and Thomas Macdermitt, 3, Portland Street. Mr. Barrows prosecuted. He called Mr. Bethel, the landlord of the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. He stated that on the Thursday evening named in the charge, he left the two defendants with another man, in the bar of his place for a few minutes. From where he stood he was able to keep an eye on the third man, who never moved. When he returned to the bar McDermitt was in a stooping position, with his hands underneath the sofa. He got up, wiped his hands, and then both defendant walked out together. Looking under the sofa, he found his kitten bleeding from the nostrils, and gasping for breath. He thereupon ran out and gave and gave the defendants into the charge of a policeman.

Mr. G. H. Kitchin deposed to examining the kitten in question. It was paralysed in the hind quarters from breakage of the spine, and its near fore leg was almost torn from the body. It was dying, and he therefore poisoned it.

Williams denied any knowledge of the affair, and was discharged. Macdermitt was fined 60s and costs (18s 6d), or 21 days' imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/12/1902

“Walsall Early Closers F.C. The third in a series of smoking concerts was held in connection with the above club on Wednesday evening at the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, and was a great success. The new billiard room was decorated for the occasion, and Mr. H. Mills presided at the piano. Mr. Busby was in the chair. An excellent programme was compiled as follows: Pianoforte solo, Master Walters; song, ‘Marguerite,’ Master Walters; song, ‘True till death,’ Mr. Hens; song, ‘Bonny Mary of Argyle,’ Mr. Busby; comic song, ‘It was a sad day for me,’ Mr. G. Bates; recitation, ‘The Midnight Charge,’ Mr. F. Bennett; song, ‘Just as the sun went down,’ Mr. Huskins; comic song, ‘It’s a thing I never interfere with,’ Mr. Thorney; recitation, ‘The Dover Express,’ Mr. Huskins; comic song, ‘The Wax Work Show,’ Mr. J. Lord; comic song, ‘Woman,’ Mr. H. Dabbs; recitation, ‘The Lifeboat,’ Mr. Huskins; comic song, ‘Can’t he take my word’ (encore, ‘I wonder what he’s going to do next’), Mr. Thorney.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/8/1906

“On Wednesday of this week, Mr. W. H. Westwood, secretary of the Walsall Theatres Company, introduced one of our representatives to a gentlemen who, after 25 years' absence, has come back to Walsall, to take charge of the bars in connection with the Grand Theatre here, viz, Mr. Harry W. Peacock. By the old school, of the halcyon days of athleticism in Walsall, Mr. Peacock will be remembered as host of the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, from about 1871 to 1881, and frequently promoter of and caterer of athletic festivals which in those days used to flourish in the Arboretum, and in which not a few of our public men and leading tradesmen of to-day showed their prowess to such an extent as to make Walsall a nursery of sport, and the envy of larger towns in the Midlands, for the prowess of its sons in almost every branch of athletics. For many years Mr. Peacock catered for the wants of the Walsall cricketers at the Chuckery – in the late palmy days of ‘Jack’ Brown, the late ‘Bob’ Leighton, Mr. E. Hurst, &c, and with a shake of the head did he recall the wretched weather on the occasion of the three days' match at the Chuckery, between 22 of Walsall and District and an All England Eleven, which included Dr. W. G. Grace and the late Dr. E. M. Grace. Those were the days when Walsall Races were in full swing, and most of the race horses were stabled at the TALBOT hostelry.

An interesting personality, Mr. Peacock in the course of chatting with our representative, recalled many interesting episodes of Walsall life a good generation ago, since which he had been on business in Birmingham, a portion of the time at the Central Restaurant, Corporation Street, &c.

To playgoers, Mr. Peacock's son Harry is well known as ‘Leonard Russell,’ a baritone of ‘Florodora’ fame, who has met with so much success in high class opera; and who, by the way, takes part in a new production next Monday at Nottingham of ‘The Sweet Girl,’ by Miss Claudia Lasell’s Company, which we understand is likely in the near future to visit Walsall. Mr. Harry Peacock (Leonard Russell) is an old boy of Queen Mary’s Grammar School, where he held a scholarship for three years, which he had won somewhat coincidentally; he happened to be home on vacation from Grange House Academy, Leominster, and replying to an advertisement as to a competition for a scholarship at Queen Mary’s, went in and won it. We expect to hear shortly that ‘The Sweet Girl’ is booked for Walsall during the season bringing with ‘her’ Leonard Russell.”

1911 Census

9, Digbeth - TALBOT

[1] Edward Bethell (44), publican, born Liverpool;

[2] Annie Bethell (45), wife, married 24 years, born Chester:

Walsall Advertiser 26/7/1913

“John Freeman (25), a boatman, 29, Proffitt Street, was charged with stealing one head collar, three manger chains and one head brass, total value 15/-, the property of Percy Claridge, of 60, Wednesbury Road, on Saturday last.

Prosecutor said he stabled his horses at the back of the TALBOT INN, Digbeth. At 5.45 on the day in question he went to the stables to see that everything was in order, and on opening the doors saw prisoner climbing them. He closed the doors at once and went for the police. The stable gates were 8 feet high. Prisoner worked for witness one day last week, but did but see him afterwards and did not ask for his money.

Cross-examined by prisoner, witness said he did not see him cut the brass from the bridles, but saw him take them from his pocket.

Police-constable Harcourt said that while on duty in the market on Saturday he was called to the inn and found prisoner in the stable. He noticed the chains hanging from his pocket and the head collar in his hand. He found the head brass with the leader and two more chains when searching witness at the station. Visiting the stables later, witness found a hand-cart against the gates as if for someone to climb over from it. When charged, prisoner, who was under the influence of drink, replied, 'No, sir.'

Prisoner said the things were placed behind the door for a 'trap' and he fell into it.

The Chief Constable said accused had been arrested under various names and had been given six weeks for larceny.

A sentence of six weeks' hard labour was imposed."

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

"The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.....

The justices view with increasing displeasure the practice on the part of some license holders of permitting drinking in the passages, entries and gateways attached to their licensed houses. They call particular attention to four houses visited by them, namely, the NEW INNS, Park Street (in which case an undertaking had previously been given that the practice should be discontinued); the DURHAM OX, the TALBOT, and the TURKS HEAD.

In addition, the sanitary arrangements of these houses was most unsatisfactory. Objection is taken in open court on behalf of the Licensing Committee to the renewal of these four houses, and will be put back until the adjourned general annual licensing meeting, at which the personal attendance of the licensees will be required....."

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916

"The adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

TALBOT, Digbeth. In this case Mr. Pearman-Smith also appeared for the license-holder (Edward Bethell). Chief Inspector Balance said people used the yard for undesirable purposes. The present licensee had been there for sixteen years, and the house was well conducted.

Adjourned for a month for plans of the licensed area to be deposited.

It was intimated that the licensees would be responsible for any drinking taking place in the entries."

Evening Despatch 24/3/1916

"A further sitting of the Walsall Licensing justices was held today.....

The Justices also agreed to renew the licenses of the TALBOT and TURKS HEAD on certain suggestions made by them as to the alterations being met by the owners of the houses."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/7/1916 - Roll of Honour

"Private Edward Bethell, son of Mr. Edward Bethell, proprietor of the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, Walsall, has been slightly wounded in the left shoulder, and arm, and has been sent to a Birmingham hospital. He has two brothers-in-law who have also been wounded."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. £1 19s 9d."

Lichfield Mercury 5/11/1926

"A scene at the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, had a sequel at Walsall on Tuesday, when George Edis, engineman, Hollyhedge Lane was fined £5 and ordered to pay £3 2s as compensation for having (1) assaulted John Henry [sic] Brotherton, the licensee; (2) refused to quit the licensed premises, and (3) damaged an urn to the amount of £3 2s.

Mr. H. H. Jackson (prosecuting) said that on October 23rd Edis was ordered to leave as he was quarrelsome. Without more ado he picked up the lid from a hot water urn and threw it at the landlord, hitting him at the back of the head and rendered him unconscious for half an hour. When Mrs. Brotherton sent for the police Edis threw a tumbler at her but she 'ducked' and it missed her. Not content with that he seized the urn as if to throw that as well, but dropped it and the contents went all about the place. Brotherton, in evidence, said he remembered nothing after being 'knocked out.' He had turned to serve a customer when the missile struck him.

Edis had a bad record, this being his 22nd appearance, but Mr. A. F. Griffin gave an assurance that he was trying to go straight and was now in regular employment.

Mr. T. A. Smith (chairman) said the Bench were determined to protect licensees. Walsall was reported to be the most sober town in Great Britain, and some of the credit for this attached to the landlords of licensed houses, who must be supported in doing their duty."

1939 Register

9, Digbeth – TALBOT HOTEL Public House

[1] Frederick Lord, date of birth 22/9/1880, licensee, married;

[2] Lucy A. Lord, dob 18/5/1878, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Florence E. (Lord) Wood, dob 2/7/1907, barmaid, single:

Walsall Observer 13/7/1940 - Marriages

“On Saturday, July 6, 1940, by special; license, Sergeant Thomas Wood, third son of the late Mr. A. Wood and Mrs. C. Lowbridge, of Alexandra Road, to Elsie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lord, of TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, £5 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth (Second donation). £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Lord, TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. £0 10s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth. £33 0s 0d.”

It closed in January 1963.

It was demolished in March 1963.

TANNERS ARMS

3, Day Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Henry Newton, Day Street, Walsall

W. Newlove

Mrs. Newlove, Caldmore, Walsall

William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1925)

LICENSEES

Mrs. Sarah Fletcher [1867] – 1872);

William Shenton (1872 – []

William Shenton Jnr. [1880];

William Sutton [1881] – 1888);

Charlotte Sutton (1888 – [];

Mrs. Charlotte Broadhurst [1891] – 1928);

Charles Josiah Lester (1928 – 1939);

Cyril Vernon Sleigh (1939 – 1940);

George Thomas Rathbone (1940 – 1950);

Daniel Smith (1950 – 1957);

Howard Large (1957 – 1959);

Arthur William Parkes (1959 – 1962);

James Henry Smith (1962 – [1966]

NOTES

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

It had a six-day license.

It was originally the CURRIERS ARMS. [1863], [1872]

It became known as the STORES.

The name was changed to TANNERS ARMS.

Walsall Free Press 25/7/1863 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Private Treaty, Ten Freehold Houses, in the Foreign of Walsall, well-built, and in good Repair, situate in Day and Chapel Streets. One, that old-established Public House, the CURRIERS ARMS, with five houses in Day and Four in Chapel Streets adjoining, all tenanted except one. Annual rents £84 12s. May be bought to turn in over 10 per cent. Two thirds of the purchase money may remain on Mortgage at 4½ if required. Apply at 18, Bridge Street.”

1871 Census

3, Day Street

- [1] Sarah Fletcher (38), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Alice M. Fletcher (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [3] Martha Fletcher (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

1881 Census

3, Day Street

- [1] William Sutton (27), beerhouse keeper, born Tipton;
- [2] Charlotte Sutton (26), wife, born Kensham, Gloucestershire (?);
- [3] Ann Sutton (1), daughter, born Walsall:

1891 Census

3, Day Street

- [1] Alfred Broadhurst (41), caster, born Walsall;
 - [2] Charlotte Broadhurst (36), beerhouse keeper, born Kingham, Worcestershire;
 - [3] Annie Sutton (11), daughter in law, scholar, born Walsall;
 - [4] Polly Sutton (9), daughter in law, scholar, born Walsall;
 - [5] Treasa Broadhurst (7 months), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [6] Annie Bedder (18), general servant, born Oakengates, Shropshire:
- [It appears that Charlotte Sutton married Alfred Broadhurst after William Sutton died.]

1901 Census

3, Day Street

- [1] Alfred Broadhurst (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
 - [2] Charlotte Broadhurst (46), wife, born Kingham, Worcestershire;
 - [3] Mary A. Sutton (19), daughter in law, born Walsall;
 - [4] Teresa Broadhurst (10), daughter, born Walsall;
 - [5] Lily Broadhurst (9), daughter, born Walsall:
- [Charlotte was actually the license holder.]

Mrs. Charlotte Broadhurst, beer retailer, 3, Day Street. [1904]

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air Rifle League. [1906]

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

Mrs. Charlotte Broadhurst, 3, Day Street, was unanimously elected member of the society.”

1911 Census

Day Street – The STORES

- [1] Charlotte Broadhurst (55), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Kinsom, Worcestershire;
- [2] Teresa Broadhurst (20), daughter, assistant in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Lillian Broadhurst (19), daughter, milliner, born Walsall;
- [4] Kathleen Finegan (9), niece, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 9/2/1924

“.....The STORES, said Chief Inspector Cooke, had only one living room, and that was hardly fit to live in. There were three bedrooms, one of which was used as a sitting room The trade was about seven barrels a week.

Replying to Mr. Langley, the witness [at the annual licensing sessions] agreed that the proposed alterations allowed for a great improvement in the domestic accommodation. The licensee, Mrs. Broadhurst, had been on the premises 45 years and had held the license 35 years, and both she, and her daughter, who assisted her, were widows.....”

Rugeley Times 22/7/1939

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers Society, held on Thursday, at ROUGH HAY TAVERN, Darlaston, there was a good attendance of members.....

Cyril Vernon Sleigh, TANNERS ARMS, Day Street were elected members of the society.”

1939 Register

3, Day Street (2 of 5)

- [1] Cyril V. Sleigh, date of birth 21/4/1894, public house manager, married;
- [2] Mercy Sleigh, dob 30/9/1901, household duties and bar work, married;

Cyril Vernon Sleigh – see also OLD STILL.

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TANNERS ARMS, Day Street. £1 2s 10d.”

Daniel Smith – see also OLD HOUSE AT HOME, Bloxwich.

A full license was granted on 4th February 1960.

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

TANNERS ARMS, Day Street, Walsall.”

Demolished

Rebuilt

TANNERS ARMS

71, (70), Hatherton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Paddock

William Wilkes

Messrs. Yardley and Co. Ltd. (leased)

South Staffordshire Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Webster [1858]

John Arblaster [1864] – [1870]

Stephen Hunter [1871] – [1874]

William Wilkes [1881] – 1888;

William Mitchell (1888 – 1892);
James Barnes (1892 – 1901);
Thomas ‘Tommy’ Powell (1901 – 1907);
Patrick Donlon (1907);
Mrs. Jane Duddy (1907 – 1909):

NOTES

70, Hatherton Street [1881]

71, Hatherton Street [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....

Edward Webster, Hatherton Street. Refused.”

Edward Webster, beer retailer, 71, Hatherton Street. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 15/5/1858 - Advert

“Desirable Property, At Walsall.

Mr. Chattock will Sell By Auction, at the NEW INN, Walsall, the TANNERS ARMS public house, and Four Houses adjoining, with the workshops thereto belonging, eligibly situated in Hatherton Street, contiguous of several manufactories and work, further particulars will appear in future advertisements and bill, to be had of Mr. Jackson, Solicitor, West Bromwich; or Mr. Chattock, Surveyor and Auctioneer, 65, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 11/10/1862 - Advert

“To Publicans.

To be Let, the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, fitted up with counter, gas, shelves, &c, and workshop attached.

Apply to John H. Cooper, 12, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Free Press 18/10/1862 - Advert

“To Publicans.

To be Let, the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. Coming in moderate, and to be taken to at a fair value.

For particulars apply on the premises.”

John Arblaster, beer retailer, 71, Hatherton Street. [1864], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

John Arblaster, TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street applied personally for licenses, but their applications were refused.”

1871 Census

71, Hatherton Street – TANNERS ARMS

[1] Stephen Hunter (23), currier, born Birmingham;

[2] Harriet Hunter (28), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Stephen Hunter (15 months), son, born Walsall;

[4] William H. Hunter (1 month), son, born Walsall;

[5] Jane Parsons (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Stephen Hunter, beer retailer, 71, Hatherton Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 21/9/1874

“Walsall Dog Show Toy Dogs (Rough-coated), Dogs or Bitches, not exceeding 6lbs in weight (seven entries).....

2nd ‘Topsy’, 15 months, Mr. Stephen Hunter, TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Walsall.”

Stephen Hunter – see also BARREL.

1881 Census

70, Hatherton Street

[1] William Wilkes (31), cooper and brewer, born James Bridge;

[2] Lucy H. Wilkes (30), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Eliza Wilkes (6 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Lucy M. Cooper (13), domestic servant, born Walsall;
[5] John Smith (24), lodger, printer, born Darlaston:

1891 Census

71, Hatherton Street

[1] William Mitchell (42), beer dealer, born Barford;
[2] Maria Mitchell (41), wife, born Wednesbury;
[3] Emma Mitchell (21), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[4] Maria Mitchell (10), daughter, born Walsall;
[5] William Mitchell (8), son, born Walsall;
[6] Susan Mitchell (6), daughter, born Walsall:

James Barnes = James Baines

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1892

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....
The Chief-constable then gave formal notice that he intended to oppose the renewal of the following licenses.....
The TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, for the same reason [the licensee was not the real owner and occupier].”

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....
Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for the removal of the license of the TANNERS ARMS beerhouse, Hatherton Street.
The Chief-constable explained that the license was in the name of William Mitchell, who had been a manager. An application was made for the license to be transferred to a man named James Baines, and he (the Chief-constable) then opposed on the ground that no license existed, Mitchell not having been the real resident, holder, and occupier, as required by the Act. The magistrates, however, decided to grant a transfer till that day, and he (the Chief-constable) was advised that in consequence of this step he would not likely gain his point should the case go to appeal.
Mr. Loxton said the transfer was granted without prejudice to the Chief-constable.
The Chief-constable said he was advised that this did not make any difference. Should he ever have to deal with a similar case, he should raise the question by issuing a summons for selling without a license Renewed.”

James Baines, beer retailer, 71, Hatherton Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 5/7/1902

“James Spicer, 92, Hatherton Street, was summoned for assaulting Ann Spicer (his wife), on June 23rd. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.
Complainant’s statement was to the effect that she went into the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, on the previous Monday, and when she got put into the street her husband knocked her down and kicked her. She had not been living with him this year, and had kept herself by working as a laundress.
A witness supported this statement.
The defence was a denial of the assault, it being said that the complainant knocked against defendant and slipped down.
A fine of 5s and costs was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.
List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....
TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. 4s 9d.”

Thomas Powell, beer retailer, 71, Hatherton Street. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

“Walsall Air-Gun League.
The first annual meeting of the above was held at the CRITERION, Stafford Street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. H. Smallwood presided, and there was also present Messrs. Hicken (EAGLE), G. Smith (OLD KINGS ARMS), Powell (TANNERS ARMS), E. James (PLUMBERS ARMS), McDonald (CRITERION), Cliffe (GOLDEN EAGLE), Hunt, E. Towe (treasurer), and Mason (secretary).....
The undermentioned clubs with power to add to their number, were elected to the League for the forthcoming season: The WHITE HART (Walhouse Street), TANNERS ARMS, OLD KINGS ARMS, EAGLE, PLUMBERS ARMS, CRITERION, GOLDEN EAGLE, LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, OAK, and DUKE OF YORK.
There was no other business of public interest.”

Jane Duddy = Jane Dudley

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1909.

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1909

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 8th day of June, 1909, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, Beerhouse. Licensee, Jane Duddy.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The principal meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, when eight beer-houses and one ale-house, the licenses of which had been referred by the licensing justices, were dealt with, and in each instance the houses were referred for compensation, which means in due course the houses will close.....

TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street. The owner is Lord Hatherton, and the premises are let on a lease to Messrs. J. J. Yardley and Co. Ltd., the tenant being Mrs. Jane Dudley.

Mr. Grundy Newman, who appeared for the lessees and tenant, said the lease had ten or eleven years to run, and the tenant was paying a rental of £60, for which two adjoining cottages were included. The tenant was also tied to take 150 quarters of malt under the lease from Messrs Downing's trustees, who were the lessees for a long time under Lord Hatherton, the ground landlord.

Mr. Heyes (Hand and Co., Stafford), said he appeared for Lord Hatherton, who as the ground landlord, and on whose behalf he should have something to say when the bench had decided as to whether or not the license should be referred.

The Magistrates' Clerk: The magistrates have to decide as to whether you are entitled or not. (To the Bench): Will you admit Lord Hatherton?

Mr. Newman said he could not see what claim Lord Hatherton had, seeing that the ground rent was only 19s a year.

Mr. Loxton pointed out that the authority had power to refuse or renew the licenses; therefore, all persons interested would be given an opportunity of being heard.

Mr. Heyes contended that the question of compensation must be dealt with at a supplementary meeting.

Mr. Loxton said technically this was so, but if there was going to be a dispute as to whether Lord Hatherton was entitled to be heard that must be settled at the proper meeting.

Mr. Jackson drew attention to Rule 21 of the Act, which, he said, met the whole thing.

Mr. Loxton: We will take it that Lord Hatherton is on the register as the ground landlord, and leave the technical question to be settled afterwards.

Mr. Newman said undoubtedly it was for a future occasion to decide that point.

It was therefore agreed to leave that question, but Mr. Heyes told the authority that he did not agree with the figures that were submitted on behalf of the lessees or tenant – rent or anything.

Mr. Newman: Then perhaps you will give us the correct ones. You have the lease in your possession. – Mr. Heyes: Yes; it is dated 27th February, 1856, and the terms are for 99 years, at an annual ground rental of £2.

Mr. Newman: Not legally. It is in one property. We don't apportion between owners.

Mr. Newman said a certain portion of property comprised within the lease was not licensed premises.

Mr. Loxton: That can be settled by giving 21 days' notice.

Inspector Ballance having given formal evidence, Mr. Newman said he was instructed on behalf of the parties whom he represented not to contest the license; further, he did not propose to waste time by calling evidence. He should like it to be understood that he did not admit the accuracy of the evidence given in the report of the renewal authority to the compensation authority. He would, however, be prepared to give figures at the proper time. He did not know what Lord Hatherton would consider his reversion to be worth. That, of course, was an additional item. It was an ante-'69 beer-house, and so far as his clients were concerned the amount of compensation was put at £1,500 or £2,000. Of course, he did not want to bind himself to that amount, as so many people were interested in it. It must be borne in mind that an increasing trade was being done in the house.

Mr. Heyes thought they might establish the principle that Lord Hatherton was entitled to something whether it be large or small.

Mr. Loxton: Hadn't you better discuss the point with Mr. Newman? – Mr. Newman: Lord Hatherton has not contributed anything to the compensation fund.

Mr. Heyes said no claim had been made. In similar cases Lord Hatherton did allow something for the compensation fund.

Mr. Newman: I am delighted to hear it.

A discussion took place between Messrs. Newman and Heyes, but the result was not disclosed.....

The Bench having heard each case separately retired to consider their decision. In returning, the Mayor intimated that the renewals authority report would be adopted, and all the houses referred for compensation.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1909

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall, on Thursday, Sir Edward T. Holden presiding over a full Bench of Magistrates.....

The principal matter under discussion was the question of compensation respecting the TANNERS ARMS, beerhouse, Hatherton Street. Mr. A. Everett, of Hand and Company, Stafford, represented Lord Hatherton, the ground landlord, and Mr. S. A. Newman (Walsall), appeared for other parties interested, viz, Messrs. Downing, the holders of the sub lease, Messrs. Yardley and Co, the sub-lessees, Mrs. Dudley, the annual tenant, and Mr. James Henry Stephens, the Receiver of the first mortgage debenture holder. Mr. S. A. Newman put in the necessary agreement as to the compensation claimed, this amounting to £1,885. He further stated that his clients disputed the right of the ground landlord, Lord Hatherton, to a share of the compensation.

Mr. Everett thereupon went into the legal question, and quoted the case of Peter Walker and Co., and the Corporation of Liverpool, respecting a license which, he said, conclusively proved that the ground landlord had a right to a share of the compensation. He stated that the Liverpool Corporation were the ground landlords, and Lord Justice Farrell had held that the persons who had a legal interest in the premises were those who were entitled to compensation. He held that Lord Hatherton had a legal right, as he was the ground landlord, to participate in the compensation.

Mr. Newman replied that at the time the lease was granted by Lord Hatherton, the license was not in existence, nor was the building erected. The license was, to some extent, due to the ingenuity of someone else, and not the ground landlord, but when it became a case of a sum of money being divided the ground landlord had come in, and had asked as much as 25 per cent of the money.

Mr. C. A. Loxton (the Magistrates' Clerk) asked whether the Liverpool case was ever contested.

Mr. Everett: No.

Mr. Loxton: Then it is hardly a decision is it?

Mr. Everett replied that the amount to be divided was left to a county court judge, and if the judge had held that the ground landlord had nothing to do with the matter he would have refused to grant any compensation, whereas in this case a substantial sum was granted. Under those circumstances he held that the case was one he was quite justified in quoting.

Mr. Newman, however, argued that the Liverpool case was simply sent to the county court judge to divide the compensation, which had previously been fixed, whereas in the case before the Court that day the compensation had not been decided.

Mr. C. A. Loxton then asked whether Lord Hatherton had contributed anything to the Compensation Fund.

Mr. Everett replied that there were about twenty houses in which his Lordship was interested in the matter of compensation for ground rent, and it had been his practice to allow the tenants to deduct so much from their rents to meet the ground landlord's contribution to the fund. In this case this had not been done, but his Lordship was quite willing that any proper allowance should be made for his share to the Compensation Fund.

The Magistrates said they had decided that Lord Hatherton had no claim to a share of the compensation, and they were willing to grant a case for a higher Court, whereupon Mr. Everett intimated that it was the intention to appeal against the decision, and to give the usual notices.....

The Magistrates decided to hold a further private sitting to go into the question of figures with the solicitors.

The decisions will be announced at a later date."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

Jane Duddy, TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street.....

Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman appeared in the case of the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, and applied for the renewal of the license.

Matters affecting this house are at present the subject of an action in the High Court, and after an argument between the Magistrates' Clerk and Mr. Grundy-Newman as to the advisability of proceeding with the case before a decision had been given the Magistrates, after retiring, deferred it until the adjourned sessions."

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

TANNERS ARMS. Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman applied for a provisional license for the above house, under rule 43 of the Licensing Act of 1904.

Mr. Muncaster stated that the claim for compensation was lodged on or about August 19th. In cross-examination he stated that on June 15 notice was sent that compensation had become payable in respect to the house. In February last year a provisional license was granted. The compensation had not yet been paid.

Mr. Bewlay was called to give evidence as to the value and Mr. Newman said that if the magistrates were going to hear objections on annual value, any attempt to go into the question would be prejudicial to the parties concerned as also to the case before the High Court, and he was advised that the proper course was not to take any further part in the proceedings. He asked to be excused from doing so.

The Bench refused the application on the grounds that the house was not of the statutory value. Notice of appeal was given."

Closed.

Walsall Observer 27/3/1943

"Having spent about four years at Caldmore Church School, chiefly in learning something of the 'three Rs,' little Tommy Powell was considered to have had sufficient education to equip him for the life of an ordinary working man. So at the age of eight years he began to earn something towards his maintenance. It was half-a-crown a week for what he was able to do for a Walsall chain-front maker named Archer. Four years later he began working in the casting trade. That was to be the chief occupation of his life; but though he worked hard and for long hours for many years Mr. Powell has been lucky enough to enjoy good health, and to-day at the age of nearly 81, he is still fairly fit apart from foot trouble.

On Wednesday he and his wife celebrated their diamond wedding at their home at 22, Lysways Street, for they were married at the Mount Church on March 24, 1883, when they were but twenty and nineteen respectively. Mrs. Powell is, if anything, in better trim than her husband, for she is still able to do all her own housework and has sight good enough to enable her to thread a needle, without the aid of glasses.

Mr. Powell's longest spell with one employer was at the works of Broadhurst & Co., Hatherton Street, where he remained for twenty years until about 1901. That marked the end of his industrial life; but he afterwards engaged in the licensed trade, first as licensee of the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, and then some sixteen years before his retirement at the VINE INN, Hall Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell have had two sons and three daughters and there are four grandchildren, two serving in the Army, and one grandson."

TANNERY

Burrowes Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

NOTES

[1983]

Sandwell Evening Mail 2/10/1992 - Advert

"Cheers! Have a free drink on us.

Cheers! Here's your chance to have Another drink Free on the Evening Mail. We've got thousands more Free pints to give away and the toast of the Midlands is once again Ansells! Yes, it's Free Beer time again at over 100 selected Ansells houses throughout the Midlands. Thousands of Evening Mail readers toasted the August Bank Holiday with our last two-pints-for-the-price-of-one opportunity. Now, for the next seven days, we are delighted to repeat the chance. You can enjoy a sparkling glass of beer or lager – or a generous measure of wine – Absolutely Free – when you buy an equivalent drink. Simply cut out the coupon below, fill in your name and address and take it along to any of the listed venues.....

Walsall: The TANNERY."

[2005]

Closed [2007], [2014]

Demolished [2015]

TAVERN IN THE TOWN

12, Bradford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Downing, maltster, Smethwick

Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939) [1980]

LICENSEES

William James [1841]

Henry Smith [1841] – [1865]

Mrs. W James []

George Dutson [1868] – [1870]

Charles Walter Marsh [1871] – [1881]

Mrs. Elizabeth Obery Marsh [1891] – 1901;

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Cartlidge (1901 – 1909);
Frederick Brewer (1909 – 1924);
Mrs. Mary Brewer (1924 – 1944);
William Bayliss (1944 – 1945);
Edith Bayliss (1945 – 1956);
Albert George Allen (1956 – 1963);
Raymond Howard Hattersley (1963 – [1966]
Tony Fenton [1985]
Graham Pinches [1994]

NOTES

It was situated opposite to the cenotaph.

It was originally the TURF TAVERN.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/3/1841

“Walsall Election Committee in the House of Commons a petition complaining of the return of Mr. Gladstone for the borough of Walsall, by reason of his having been by himself, his agents and managers, guilty of bribing and treating the electors..... William James, late landlord of the TURF, at Walsall, was next examined He had given a treat to several of his friends on the occasion of his leaving the house, but he distinctly swore that it was voluntarily given by himself, and that he did not look to any one for payment, and, on his solemn oath, he never expected to be paid for it. That treat was given a month before the election.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/5/1844 - Deaths

“On Wednesday last, Fanny, wife of Mr. William James, late of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall, aged 64 years.”

H. Smith issued tokens from here.

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/6/1855 - Advert

“Ten Shillings Reward. Lost a Liver and White and much ticked Pointer Dog. The tip of his tail has been cut off recently. Any one finding the same and will bring it to Mr. H. Smith's, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall, shall receive the above Reward.”

Birmingham Journal 27/10/1855

“Hannah Murray was on Monday brought up on remand before the Magistrates, at the Guildhall, on the following charges. Mrs. Eliza Smith, wife of the landlord of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, said that the prisoner had been in her service for four months, and left about a month ago. During the time she was her servant she missed several things. On the 16th instant the accused came for an old apron, which she stated she had left behind her. The witness asked her about the missing things, and particularly a skirt that had been lost, and she said she knew nothing about them. However, it was found she was at the moment wearing the skirt. Police-constable Humphreys stated he was sent for by the prosecutrix, and told the prisoner the charge against her. The latter said the skirt was the only thing she had taken, and she hoped her mistress would forgive her. There was another charge against the accused, preferred by Mrs. Phoebe Arch, wife of a retail brewer in Dudley Street, who said the prisoner lived with her for four weeks, and left on the previous Monday. The umbrella and towels produced were her (the witness's) property. The Bench convicted summarily, and for each offence sentenced the prisoner to one month's hard labour. The Mayor addressed some judicious advice to her, and hoped she would take warning for the future, as such a course of conduct, if continued, would inevitably terminate in transportation, or some other punishment equally severe.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/12/1857

“An inquest was held on Wednesday evening, before Mr. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, on the body of a boy nine months old, son of a travelling showman, named William Preston, and who died from the effects of an overdose of laudanum administered by his parents. The father of deceased deposed that on Monday night, about eight o'clock, he took a small bottle to the shop of Mr. Samuel Day, chemist, Digbeth, and asked for a pennyworth of tincture of rhubarb, stating that he wanted it to give his child, who was suffering from a stomach-ache. Mr. Day took the bottle from him, and poured something into it, observing that five or six drops would be a proper dose for a child of the age described. About a quarter of an hour afterward the mother administered to deceased seven drops. The child went to sleep almost immediately, and in about another quarter of an hour appeared to be slightly convulsed. Witness wrapped it up in a rug, and carried it to Mr Day, who, on being asked what he had given him, answered 'laudanum'. Mr. Day then gave the child some liquid, stating it would take no harm. This remedy had no effect, and Mr. Day recommended witness to apply to a doctor. He accordingly went to Mr. Fletcher (the coroner), and that gentleman at once said there were not the slightest hopes of recovery. Mr. Fletcher ordered some remedies, which were applied during the whole night, but the child expired early on the following morning. Witness denied that Mr. Day, at the time he gave him the medicine, said it was laudanum, or cautioned him as to giving more than two drops. Mr. Day was next examined, and distinctly affirmed that the last witness asked him for a pennyworth of laudanum, and that he answered he had an objection to sell laudanum, especially for a child, particularly cautioning him not to give it more than two or three drops. Witness also denied that Preston had stated the age of the child, but merely said he wanted the medicine for a child who had a pain in the stomach.

Mr. Hall, assistant to Mr. Day, corroborated his employer's statement; and a verdict was returned that death had been caused by the accidental administration of an over-dose of laudanum."

Walsall Free Press 15/1/1859

"Henry Smith, landlord of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, was charged with having knowingly suffered common prostitutes to assemble at his house. Police-constable Ferres said he visited the house at about a quarter past twelve o'clock on the night of Saturday last and found five prostitutes. The women were not being supplied with refreshments. Mr. Ebsworth, solicitor for the defence, after addressing the Bench on behalf of his client, called a witness named Lee, who said she was waiting in the bar-room of the TURF TAVERN when the officer came in. There were only four women in front of the bar when the officer came in. The parties were Mr. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Kendrick, and a stranger woman. There were also four or five men in at the time. Neither of the three women she had named were prostitutes. The stranger woman she did not know, but thought she came to take one of the men away. The Magistrates said there was a doubt in the case, and they would give defendant the benefit of the doubt. Chief-constable Cater said that this house was becoming as bad as the BULLS HEAD in Upper Rushall Street was. Highway robberies were becoming very frequent in the vicinity of the house, and Smith might depend upon it that the police would keep a strict surveillance upon the house. Mr. Ebsworth thought it would have been as well if Mr. Cater had refrained from these remarks, as it might tend to prejudice the minds of the Magistrates against his client, who was now to be charged with having kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Mr. Cater said the remarks he made were relative to the case disposed of, and not to the one now about to be gone into, and therefore they could not prejudice the minds of the Bench in disposing of the next case. Mr. Smith was then charged with having kept his house open during prohibited hours. The evidence in this case was the same as in the last. The officer found the house open and a number of people in the bar. Mr. Ebsworth contended that the house was not open for the sale of drink, and again observed that he considered it was irregular in Mr. Cater to make observations upon the general conduct of a house before the hearing of the case. The Bench after a short consultation sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs."

1861 Census

12, Bradford Street

[1] Henry Smith (49), victualler, born Norton [Norton Canes?], Staffordshire;

[2] Eliza Smith (41), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Sarah Jane Smith (14), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Eleanor Mary Smith (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Caroline Eliza Smith (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Harriet Emily Smith (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Clara Emma Smith (6), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Alice Maria Smith (4), daughter, born Walsall;

[9] Richard Henry Smith (8 months), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 27/7/1861

"Mr. Matthews, on behalf of Mr. Lynex, the collector, opposed an application of Henry Smith, for a transfer of the TURF TAVERN, in Bradford Street. The ground of opposition was that the present proprietor of the TAVERN owed the Commissioners £6 for gas, and that if the license was transferred it might not be very easy to recover that money. The application for transfer was refused. Mr. Matthews then made an application for the recovery of the amount, which was granted. An arrangement was come to, by which the money due was to be paid by the transferee within a month."

Walsall Free Press 11/1/1862

"An old man named Joseph Stringer, who had been an inmate of the union workhouse for some time, received information that a sum of £40 had been left him, and he accordingly left the house on Monday week to secure the possession of it. On Tuesday night he went to lodge at Mr. S. Shepherd's, Rushall Street, where it was known that he was in possession of a large sum of money. On Wednesday he was observed to be in a drunken condition, and was seen in that state at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, the same night. In consequence of the offensive and disgusting language he indulged in, he was turned from the public house into the street, and sustained, it is said, a fall from the steps, which inflicted a severe wound on his forehead. At a later hour of the evening he was conducted, or made his way home in a perfectly incapable condition, wounded, and, without any money upon him. He was conveyed to the workhouse on Saturday, where he expired on the following morning, after having made a statement to the effect that he had been attacked by a man and woman, and robbed of the residue of the money he had received on Tuesday. They seized upon him (he said) after he was expelled from the tavern, threw him into the brook, and held him with his head under water until they had secured his money.

On Monday an inquest was held on the body, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, at the workhouse. Mr. Matthews was in attendance to watch the case on behalf of the police.

Mrs. Shepherd, of No.12 Court, Lower Rushall Street, was the first witness called. She deposed that her husband and deceased went to Atherston, on Monday week, in order to receive the sum of £40 0s 0¼d, which was coming to deceased in consequence of some legal proceedings. He got the money on Tuesday, and remained in Birmingham to settle his lawyer's bill, amounting to £11 7s 1d, and to pay other debts, while her husband returned home to Walsall. On Tuesday night deceased returned and slept at witness' house during that night. On Wednesday morning he counted his money before witness, and she saw that he had £26 in sovereigns, two half-sovereigns, and some silver. He then went out and she did not see him again until that night, when some one brought him to her door in a drunken condition, and pushed him into the house. She did not know who brought him home. He was soaking wet from head to foot, appeared to be very drunk, and was wounded on the forehead. He had not a single farthing of money about him. She put him to bed, but up to the time of his removal to the workhouse she could get nothing intelligible from him, except that some one had attacked him, threw him into the brook, and robbed him of his money. He was removed to the workhouse on Saturday last.

Mr. Shepherd (husband of last witness) was next called. His evidence coincided with that of Mrs. Shepherd. He produced the lawyer's receipt for the money paid by deceased.

As it was requisite to order a post-mortem examination of the body, the Coroner did not think it necessary to examine any more witnesses on that occasion; and the inquisition was accordingly adjourned to Friday.

The inquest re-commenced in the Board Room of the workhouse, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

On this day Dr. Burton was examined. He deposed that on the 7th of January he made a post-mortem examination of the body of Joseph Stringer. He found the body, externally, in a healthy condition, with a slight contusion below the left knee-cap, an abrasure of the cuticle on the inner and back part of the left arm, a scab (as of an abrasure) on the left side of the nose, and another scab on the forehead above the left eye. Internally the Doctor found the body to be very much diseased – the brain, the lungs, the liver, the spleen, the heart, and various membranes, being all more or less seriously affected. The Doctor gave a most minute and interesting description of the condition of the internal parts of the body. From the entire post-mortem examination he deduced that death was the result of a combination of different diseases and ailments, and that it was fairly attributable to natural causes, so far as the existence of those causes dated from a period anterior to that of the late violence to which he had heard deceased had been subjected. It could not be denied that much exertion or excitement, or the immoderate use of spirituous stimulants, might have hastened the event. The diseased condition of the membrane of the brain, of its principal blood vessels of supply, the infusion of fluid in the cavity of the skull, and the clot of blood in the vessel of the heart, combined with a variety of other ills accelerated death. With respect to the latter cause the Doctor wished to say that it was yet a disputed point among medical men whether the coagulation of the blood at the heart, in the manner he had described, was the cause or the result of death. In his opinion death was natural. He had looked carefully for marks of violence but could find none of the least consequence. Death probably immediately resulted from a sudden action or sudden want of action in a very diseased system, and there was most certainly no evidence that it was the result of violence. After this very conclusive evidence on the part of the Doctor the Coroner did not think it necessary to call any other witnesses.

The jury immediately returned a verdict that the deceased came by his death by Natural Causes, hastened by intemperance.

With respect to other features of this affair, there seems to be no doubt that the unfortunate deceased was attacked and robbed of some £28, as mentioned in the early part of this report. Two women of ill-fame of the town are in custody on, we believe, pretty strong suspicions. They will doubtless be brought before the magistrates in due course."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/1/1862

"....Elizabeth Pearce, a woman of bad character, was charged in company with Ellen Carr (since absconded) with having assaulted one Joseph Stringer (since deceased), and robbed him of £25 committed for trial at the next Staffordshire Assizes. The case occupied nearly five hours in hearing, during which time the Court was densely crowded."

[At the Staffordshire Lent Assizes, in March, 1862, Elizabeth Pearce and Ellen Carr, were discharged, the evidence being for from conclusive.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/2/1868 - Deaths

"On the 3rd inst, at the WISEMORE TAVERN, Walsall, aged 63 years, Fanny, the beloved wife of Edward Newey, and daughter of the late Mrs. W. James, of the TURF TAVERN."

London Gazette 4/2/1870

"Henry Smith, of No.36, Teddesly-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, out of business, and previously thereto of Station-street, Walsall aforesaid, out of business, formerly of Burntwood, in the said county of Stafford, Farmer, and previously of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford-street, Walsall aforesaid. Licensed Victualler, adjudicated bankrupt on the 6th day of October, 1869. An Order of Discharge was granted by the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 21st day of January, 1870."

Henry Smith – see also OLD PEAL AND NELSON.

George Dutson = John Dutson

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1870

"A woman who gave the named of Jane Maginnis, but refused to state where she lived, was charged with having on Tuesday evening, stolen a purse containing 12s 6d from the person of Mrs. H. Taylor, Sheffield. On Tuesday evening the prisoner left the WHITE HORSE public-house, Park Street, in company with two men, and at once made an unsuccessful attempt upon the pocket of a woman who was standing at a shop window close by. Then she followed Mrs. Taylor into the shop of Mrs. Morton, boot and shoe dealer, and sat down by her side, but one of the two men, who had posted themselves at the shop window, calling out, 'Jane,' she left the shop again almost immediately. Sergeant Drury, who had been watching the movements of the party, then entered the shop, and in consequence of what he said, Mrs. Taylor discovered that the purse had disappeared from her dress pocket. He went in pursuit of the prisoner, and apprehended her at the TURF TAVERN, but found her confederates got clear off. The stolen purse was not found. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labour. The Bench ordered 8s which were found in her possession to be given to the prosecutrix."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/4/1870

"John [sic] Dutson, landlord of the TURF TAVERN, Walsall, and of a beerhouse at Reeves's Wood, Birchills, was charged with having had his beerhouse open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours on Sunday last.

Defendant, who admitted the charge, was ordered to pay a fine of 10s and costs, and to have the conviction endorsed upon the back of his license."

1871 Census

12, Bradford Street

[1] Charles Walter Marsh (36), commercial clerk, born Blymhill, Staffordshire;

[2] Martha E. Marsh (23), wife, born Kentish Town, Middlesex;

[3] Charles T. Marsh (3), son, born Bloxwich;

[4] Walter Marsh (1), son, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/9/1871 - Advert

"A strong Boy Wanted, to attend the Stables and out-door Work.

Apply at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 4/2/1876 - Advert

"Whitechapel Dogcart, in good condition, for Sale.

Apply, TURF TAVERN, Walsall."

1881 Census

12, Bradford Street

[1] Charles W. Marsh (46), licensed victualler employing 1 man and 1 girl, born Blymhill, Staffordshire;

[2] Martha E. Marsh (33), wife, born Smethwick;

[3] Charles T. Marsh (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Walter Marsh (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Elizabeth Marsh (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] William Marsh (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Ada Mary Marsh (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Alice Marsh (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[9] John Frederick Marsh (1), son, born Walsall;

[10] Harriet Aston (17), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1885 - Advert

"Contract finished. Four useful Cart Horses, clean legged, young, and sound; prices £10 to £20; also Cart Mare, close on foaling, £12; the above are direct from hard work; they are warranted; also Two to hire out for a few months.

Apply, Ostler, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall."

1891 Census

12, Bradford Street – TURF TAVERN

[1] Elizabeth O. Marsh (43), widow, publican, born Smethwick;

[2] Charles J. Marsh (27), son, clerk, born Walsall;

[3] Walter Marsh (21), son, clerk, born Walsall;

[4] Elizabeth Marsh (19), daughter, assistant, born Walsall;

[5] William Marsh (17), son, stoker on railway, born Walsall;

[6] Ada Marsh (15), daughter, assistant, born Walsall;

[7] Alice Marsh (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] John Marsh (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[9] Jane Marsh (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[10] John J. Ellis (41), brother, currier, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1892

"A project emanating from Lodge 200 of the Loyal Caledonian Corks has been on foot for a considerable time for the formation of a Grand Lodge of Corks for Walsall. This took practical shape last Tuesday evening, when the ceremony of forming the lodge and electing its members was gone through at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. The chief officers of the Order came over from Birmingham to assist the Walsall brethren. Speeches were made by the chief captain and other officers embodying the principles of the lodge, and the work which will be entailed; and the organisation of such a lodge, it was hoped, would materially spread the cause of Corkism, which could be done if unity and individual labour amongst the members were combined....."

Walsall Advertiser 26/1/1895

“On Saturday the annual meeting of the Walsall district of the Caledonian Corks was held at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street a large and representative gathering from the fourteen lodges comprising the district.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1898

“The town of Walsall has not only supplied a great many saddles and bridles for the Cavalry of the Egyptian and Soudanese Army, but, as is already well known, has furnished three of the gallant 21st Lancers who made the memorable charge against such odds at the battle of Omdurman. One of the three is Trooper Harry Marsh, son of the hostess of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. On Tuesday morning Mrs. Marsh received a short letter from her son, who at the time of writing was at Atbara, well on the way home. It ran:

‘September 5th Atbara.

The fighting is over, everything all quiet, and we are making our way back to Cairo. As to my regiment in their first engagement, there were as near as I can tell you for certain, nineteen actually killed, and about thirty or forty wounded – more or less severely. Luckily, I got through unhurt, but my horse died through wounds received in the same charge. It was terrible.

We little expected there were a quarter of the number, and they do fight, perhaps not with bravery, but with fanaticism.

My opinions are all altered. The Soudan is a terrible country for Europeans. It has played me up, but I shall soon pick up again in Cairo.

Your loving son. H.M.’.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1899 - Advert

“Lady’s Bicycle for Sale; new a fortnight ago, but too small. £10 machine, will take £6.

Apply, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1901

“On Thursday evening the quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District United Friendly Societies’ Council was held at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street.....”

1901 Census

12+13, Bradford Street – TURF TAVERN

[1] Elizabeth O. Marsh (53), widow, hotel manageress, born Handsworth;

[2] Walter Marsh (30), son, clerk, born Walsall;

[3] Ada Marsh (25), daughter, confectioner, born Walsall;

[4] Alice Marsh (23), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;

[5] John Marsh (21), son, clerk, born Walsall;

[6] John Ellis (51), half brother, currier, born Walsall;

[7] Louise Higgings (20), general servant, born Worcester:

Elizabeth Cartlidge = Elizabeth Cartledge

Walsall Advertiser 16/11/1901

“On Monday last a capital smoking concert was held at the TURF TAVERN HOTEL, Bradford Street, on behalf of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants’ Orphan Fund. There was a large and influential company present. The chair was taken by Councillor E. Shelley. The singing of Mr. S. Brown was the feature of the evening; also Mr. Aldridge, who gave ‘Watch me tonight’ in grand style. The comic singing of Messrs. Morris and Thorpe fairly brought down the house; the piccolo playing of Mr. Blower was a special treat, and the humorous contribution by Mr. Kirby, ‘Smith, Brown, and Jones’ was perfection. A vote of thanks was given from the Chairman to Mr. Cartlidge (TURF TAVERN) for providing the artistes. The following was the programme.....”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Cartlidge (for whom Mr. Walford appeared) was required to answer questions as to the entrances to the yard of the TURF TAVERN. Part of the back premises were let off, and Messrs. Fenton at present had a right of entrance to the yard. Adjourned to next Thursday.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

The next case was of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. This was objected to by the magistrates because of a common entry leading to other premises and to Hall Lane.

Mr. Walford (solicitor) pointed out that the adjoining premises were held under lease, and there was a right of way along the entry. There was no license now existing at the Hall Lane end of the passage, so that the licensed area was compact. License renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1905

“The annual Brewster session were resumed on Tuesday at the Guildhall, for the third day.....

Mr. Walford made an application for the approval of plans for rebuilding the house, or in the alternative for a new license for the proposed premises, in regard to the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, on behalf of Mrs. Cartledge and the Highgate Brewery Company, Lord Bradford being the freeholder. Mr. Walford said the application had previously been before the Court, and it would come under the form of a new building. It would not actually be a new building, but it was necessary that something should be done to the front. The outside was white plaster, and it required to be renewed. His clients thought it would be an improvement if they brought the front of the building in accordance with the surrounding buildings.

Mr. Loxton: If the magistrates sanction this the old license would be surrendered?

Mr. Walford said that was so. They wanted a provisional grant for a new license.

Mr. Loxton: It raised the important point of compensation.

Mr. Walford: You mean if you took away the license we should not get compensation?

Mr. Loxton: Certainly you would not.

Mr. Walford: I think we have sufficient confidence in the magistrates on that.

Mr. Loxton: If you receive this license you have a monopoly value, and the old license is gone.

Mr. Walford: I agree.

The application was granted provisionally, the magistrates intimating that they would instruct Messrs. Fowler and Bewlay to value the premises as to the monopoly value.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/4/1909

“Mary Eileen Cooney (28), a widow, of Chasetown, was charged with being disorderly on licensed premises and refusing to quit the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, on Monday evening, and further, with breaking five glasses, 1 decanter and 1 glass water bottle, the value of 6s 3d. Howard Cartlidge, the landlord of the TURF TAVERN, said that at 10.40 on Monday night prisoner was in the bar with a man. She made use of a filthy remark, and he requested her to leave. This she refused to do, and upon his going round to eject her, she picked up a glass and threw it at his wife. She then smashed up other glasses like matchwood. She might have done £30 worth of damage.

Mrs. Cartlidge corroborated her husband’s evidence.

Prisoner said that she did smash the things up in temper, but whatever she did was under great provocation. She was badly bruised about the arms, which was caused by the landlord. She was quiet enough.

A fine of 5s and costs and 6s 3d damage was imposed, or seven days in default.

Prisoner asked for time to pay, but the Bench refused, saying she could send her friends for the money. This she would not do because she did not want her brothers to know of her disgrace. She would do the time.

Eileen then went to the cells.”

Elizabeth Ann Cartlidge – see also UNION.

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1910

“Four men named Thomas Clarke (28), 58, Lower Hall Lane; Alexander Jardine (26), 11, Adams Row; Edward Pymm (21), 4, Freer Street; and Henry Brewer (29), TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, were summoned for gaming with cards in Calderfields on March 20th.

Police-constables Collins and Johnson deposed to seeing the defendants in company with a number of other men, playing with cards and money on a public footpath, opposite Mr. Caunt’s farm. When they saw the officers they ran away, and the four defendants were eventually caught.

The defendants denied participating in the game, and said they simply walked through the fields.

The Bench thought there was a doubt in the case, and dismissed it.”

1911 Census

Bradford Street – TURF TAVERN

- [1] Frederick Brewer (39), public house manager, born Lichfield;
- [2] Mary Brewer (38), wife, married 15 years, born Walsall Wood;
- [3] Frederick Brewer (13), son, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Doris Brewer (8), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Harold Brewer (2), son, at home, born Walsall;
- [6] George Bevington (20), barman, born Clayhanger;
- [7] Emma Hill (19), domestic servant, born Pennsylvania (British subject):

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall, 11s 0½d.”

Birmingham Mail 9/2/1915

“John Melvin (30), of the West Yorkshire Regiment, whose address was given as Whitehall Road, was charged at Walsall today with wilfully smashing a plate glass window at the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, doing damage to the extent of £3 10s. Evidence was given that Melvin last night went to the public house in a drunken condition, and the licensee, Frederick Brewer, accordingly refused to supply him and also prevented a woman who was present from allowing prisoner to drink out of her glass which she offered him. Melvin thereupon became abusive and had to be ejected. He threw a glass at the landlord. The missile missed its intended mark but smashed a window. Prisoner, it was said, called all the customers cowards and said they ought to be in the trenches.

Melvin stated that he was due to go back to his regiment in France, and the Bench adjourned the case to enable him to return to the front.”

Lichfield Mercury 2/6/1916 - Advert

“Bar-General wanted; good wages, good home; reference required; experience not necessary.
Apply, F. Brewer, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 22/9/1917 - Notice

“Football. Walsall and District Munitions Works League.

At a Meeting held on Tuesday last, it was decided to leave the League open until Monday Next, September 24th.

Communications were received from the following Clubs: Brownhills Albion, Talbot-Stead, Streetly Ammunition Works, Hales’s Works (Walsall), Heath Hayes Coronation, Heath Hayes Vics, Celtic (Wolverhampton), Rubery Owens (Darlaston), and Harvey’s Works (Walsall).

Meeting on Monday Next, September 24th, at TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall, at 7.30.

Entry Fee, 7s 6d; Deposit, £1.

Clubs wishing to join should make application at once to G. H. Thornton, 18, Eastbourne Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. £2 15s 1d.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 22/11/1924

“Mr. Frederick Brewer, of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, Walsall, who died October 10th last, left estate of the gross value of £1,546 18s 1d, with net personalty £956 10s. Administration of the estate has been granted to his widow, Mrs. Mary Brewer, of the same address.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street.”

1939 Register

12, Bradford Street

[1] Mary Brewer, date of birth 8/5/1872, manageress licensed house, widowed;

[2] Harold Brewer, dob 23/5/1908, auto electrical engineer, single;

[3] Jessie (Dean) Perry, dob 31/12/1902, bar general, single;

[4] Nancy M. (Bruce) Barron, dob 30/11/1919, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 27/4/1940 - Advert

“Bar-General Wanted, live in.

Apply, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, £8 11s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 14/2/1942 - Advert

“Respectable Charwoman, mornings.

Apply, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. £10 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street. £20 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

The chairman sympathetically referred to the death of two members of the society, Mr. William Bayliss of the TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street, and Mr. Howard Freeman, COTTAGE INN, Coalpool.”

Walsall Observer 17/2/1945

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

The following were elected members of the society..... Mrs. E. Bayliss, TURF TAVERN, Bradford Street.”

The name was changed to TAVERN IN THE TOWN in July 1969.

Walsall Observer 26/7/1985

“A vegetarian’s Utopia has opened in Walsall. The TAVERN IN THE TOWN in Bradford Street has undergone £150,000 re-furbishment and as part of the new look landlord Tony Fenton has produced a vegetarian menu. All the usual meat goodies are on offer, but vegetarians can tuck into lentil lasagne and sea food pie. Tony used to be a chef, but said he has felt healthier since giving up meat a year ago.

The interior of the pub has the 1920s Orient Express look and will now be open from 5.30pm to appeal to Walsall businessmen after they finish work. Tony said the pub would also cater for shoppers who wanted a drink.....”

[1986]

Its name was changed to BUSHWACKERS.

Sandwell Evening Mail 1/1/1994

“The January sales are going down a treat with drinkers at a Midland local. For Graham Pinches has slashed prices at his pub, the BUSHWACKERS [sic] in Walsall town centre.”

Graham Pinches – see also DILKE ARMS.

Closed

It was converted into a turf accountant’s shop.

TEDDESLEY ARMS

72, (73), (75), (12), Teddesley Street / Warwick Street, Ryecroft, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Bowler, 74, Lichfield Street, Walsall

William Utting

Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd. (leased)

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

John Bowler [1857] – [1859]

Mrs. Bowler [1859]

Thomas Middlebrook [1860] – [1870]

Thomas Utting* [];

William Utting* [1871] – [1876]

Albert Beebee [1879];

James Biddulph [1881] – 1896;

Edgar Biddulph (1896 – 1901);

Eli Walker Fletcher (1901 – 1902);

Alfred Barlow (1902 – 1904);
John Thomas Chadd (1904 – 1905);
Claude Ernest Pringle (1905 – 1908);
Thomas Edge [1912] ?
William Edward Dutton (1908 – 1917);
Mary Ann Dutton (1917 – 1919);
Joseph Osborne (1919 – 1928); manager
Sidney New (1928 – 1932);
George Edward Payne (1932 – 1938);
Bernard Joseph Hordern (1938 – 1952);
George Edward Smith (1952 – 1954);
Stanley William Calvert (1954 – 1956);
Selwyn Holden (1956 – 1957);
Leslie Johnson (1957 – 1958);
John William Walls (1958 – 1962);
John Edward Ball (1962 – 1965);
Maurice William Cogin (1965 – 1967);
Ronald Donald Eaton (1967 – []

NOTES

75, Teddesley Street [1861]
73, Teddesley Street [1868]
12, Teddesley Street [1871]
72, Teddesley Street [1881], [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
John Bowler, Teddesley Street. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

“Annual Licensing Day..... The following beerhouse keepers applied for victuallers’ licenses.....
John Bowler, Teddesley Street, Walsall. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 18/6/1859 - Advert

“To be Sold cheap, a Derby Kitchener and Cooking Apparatus, nearly new. May be seen fixed until the 27th instant; Also a small flat-topped fancy Stove, with piping; a Nicholls’ improved patent Weighing Machine; and six 56lbs and one 28lb, one 14lb, and one 2lb Weights.
Apply to Mr. Bowler, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street.”

Walsall Free Press 30/7/1859 - Advert

“Mrs. Bowler, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, has an excellent Club Room, 31ft by 12ft, connected with her establishment, and would be happy to arrange with any club requiring accommodation.”

Walsall Free Press 19/11/1859 - Advert

“To Be let, a Public House, called the TEDDESLEY ARMS, in Teddesley Street, with Shopping, Fixtures, Brewing Utensils, &c, to be taken at a valuation.
Apply on the premises.”

Thomas Middlebrook = Thomas Middlebrooke

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.....
Thomas Middlebrook, Teddesley Street. Granted.”

1861 Census

75, Teddesley Street
[1] Thomas Middlebrook (33), victualler and miner, born Rushall;
[2] Caroline Middlebrook (32), wife, born Rushall;
[3] John Middlebrook (12), son, born Rushall;
[4] Maria Middlebrook (8), son, born Rushall;

- [5] Arthur Middlebrook (6), son, born Rushall;
[6] Jane Middlebrook (3), daughter, born Rushall;
[7] Henry Middlebrook (1), son, born Rushall:

Thomas Middlebrooke, retailer of beer, Teddesley Place. [1862]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/3/1862

“Marshall of Walsall will run Poley or Tomkinson 200 yards for £10 or £15 a side, or Lambert of Westbromwich 120 yards if he will give him one yard start, or 200 yards level for the like sum. To come off at the Aston Cross Grounds, or on a fair turnpike road, in two months from the first deposit. Money ready any night next week, at T. Middlebrook's TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Teddesley Street, Walsall.”

Thomas Middlebrook, beer retailer, 72, Teddesley Street. [1865]

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/12/1866

“On Thursday morning, a young man named Aaron Stokes, a bricklayer, living in Ablewell Street, burst a blood vessel while coughing violently, and expired before he could be removed to the TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Teddesley Street, where he was dwelling at the time.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/11/1867

“Royal Albion Coursing Grounds, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton.

Great Monster Rabbit Coursing Sweepstake, for Small Sized Dogs only. On Monday, Nov 18 and 25, W. Boston will give £6 10s to be coursed for; first prize £5, second £1, third 10s. Entrance for dogs 19½in 5s, 18½in 4s, and 17½in 3s each. Entries to be made to Mr. Burrell, DOG AND PHEASANT, Oldbury; or Mr. Middlebrook, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Walsall; or at the grounds.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/12/1867

“The Great Rabbit Coursing Sweepstakes will come off at the Albion Grounds, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Dec 26, 27, and 28, when Messrs. Boston and Taylor will give £25 to be run for by large and small dogs; dogs of large size £15, entrance 10s each; small-sized dogs 19½in 7s, 18½in 6s, and 17½in 5s each. Entries to be made to Mr. Burrell, DOG AND PHEASANT, Oldbury; or Mr. Middlebrook, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Walsall; or at the ground. Entries close on the morning of running. A good supply of rabbits on hand.”

Walsall Free Press 25/1/1868

“On Sunday morning last Mrs. Toomer, wife of Mr. Joseph Toomer, carpenter, Warwick Street, awoke and found her child – a boy of four days old – lying dead beside her in bed. On Wednesday, an inquest was held at the TEDDESLEY ARMS, by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner; and it appeared that mother had unconsciously ‘overlain’ the child, the jury returned a verdict of Death from Accidental Suffocation.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/9/1868

“Bellevue Grounds, Moat Road, Walsall. Mr. Noake, the proprietor of the above grounds, will give £6 10s to be run for in an All England Handicap race of 125 yards, to take place on Walsall wake Monday and Tuesday, Sept 21 and 22. Entries 1s each no acceptances made to Mr. Middlebrook, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Walsall; Chidlow, OLD QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; Russell, Bloxwich; or at the grounds. Any one entering falsely disqualified.”

London Gazette 2/12/1870

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Middlebrook, of the TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Teddesley-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Miner.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Joseph Edward Sheldon, of No.51, High-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on the 15th day of December, 1870, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely.

Dated this 29th day of November, 1870.

Joseph E. Sheldon, Attorney for the said Debtor.”

* probably the same person

1871 Census

12, Teddesley Street – TEDDESLEY ARMS

- [1] William Utting (24), public house and currier, born Fakenham, Norfolk;
[2] Emily Utting (23), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Samuel Utting (1), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session..... The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz: William Utting, beerhouse keeper, Ryecroft In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/11/1879

“The following have filed petitions for liquidation in the Walsall County Court.....

Albert Beebee, TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, Walsall, licensed victualler; liabilities £300; solicitor, Mr. Crump.”

1881 Census

72, Teddesley Street

- [1] James Biddulph (41), licensed victualler, born Lichfield;
- [2] Susan Biddulph (39), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Joseph Biddulph (16), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Biddulph (13), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Agnes Biddulph (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The licenses of James Biddulph, TEDDESLEY ARMS which had been suspended from the previous Sessions, were renewed, with a caution to the parties to be more careful in the future.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/8/1885

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, George Rutledge, Wolverhampton, was convicted of having, on the 4th July, stolen two gig-lamps, a gig-apron, and a gig-cover, the property of Henry Beebee, of the CHAINMAKERS ARMS, Green Lane, and was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment. It seemed he purloined the articles whilst at the prosecutor’s house, and went the same day to the TEDDESLEY ARMS, where he offered the lamps to the landlord, Mr. Biddulph, for 4s. Mr. Biddulph felt convinced that the lamps had been dishonestly come by and detained them, and the prisoner made good his escape for the time being, but was secured by Detective-sergeant Drury this week.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1891

“Yesterday Mr. T. H. Stanley held an inquest at the TEDDESLEY ARMS on the body of Elizabeth Lee (29), who committed suicide at the house of her husband, Harry Lee, William Street, early on Saturday. The evidence bore out the particulars already published, with some additions. The husband said in consequence of Dr. Oliver’s advice that the deceased should be watched, he had got his father and mother to live with him and his wife. Mrs. Lee, senr., said that the deceased for a few weeks before her death seemed better than usual. When witness heard the children crying, she found her daughter-in-law in a half sitting position on the bed, and thought she had fallen asleep in that posture. She tried to move her, and being unable, called in Charles Reynolds, a neighbour.

Verdict, Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity.”

1891 Census

72, Teddesley Street – TEDDESLEY ARMS

- [1] James Biddulph (52), general saddler, born Lichfield;
- [2] Susannah Biddulph (49), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Elizabeth Biddulph (23), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Agnes Biddulph (21), daughter, machinist, born Walsall;
- [5] James Biddulph (18), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [6] Edgar Biddulph (16), son, currier’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [7] Walter Biddulph (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Clara Biddulph (9), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1892

“On Wednesday evening a dinner was held in connection with the Money Club held at the TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street. About forty sat down, Mr. Bates being in the chair, and Mr. Cooper in the vice-chair. A number of toasts were submitted, interspersed with songs and music. A most enjoyable evening was spent.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/6/1892

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Howard Biddulph, no fixed abode, was charged with doing wilful damage at the house of his father, the TEDDESLEY ARMS. The accused went to the house on Monday night and abused his sisters. He was turned out, but at midnight he returned and did damage to the yard door and the kitchen to the extent of 25s. He also forced his way into the house and threatened his father.

He was ordered to pay a fine of 40s and costs and 25s damages, with the option of one months’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/3/1894

“Political Notes. Conservative.....

Next Wednesday Mr. Gedge will hold a Conversational Meeting in St. George’s Room, Pursehouse Street. Afterwards Mr. Gedge will be initiated an honorary member of the Perseverance Lodge of the National United Order of Free Gardeners at the TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/4/1894

“Sydney Roper, 40, Pool Street, was charged with stealing water, the property of South Staffordshire Waterworks Company. Defendant pleaded guilty. Dr. Showell Rogers (Birmingham) appeared for the prosecution, and said that water stealing was becoming very rife especially during the last year or two.

William Kirkman, water inspector in the employ of South Staffordshire Waterworks Company, said that on the 30th March, he was driving along Teddesley Street, when he saw defendant fetch three buckets of water from the back of 43, Teddesley Street, and commence to clean the front of the premises of the TEDDESLEY ARMS, kept by Mr. Biddulph, with it. There was no water paid for on the premises of the TEDDESLEY ARMS.

Finced 7s 6d, including costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/4/1894

“National United Order Of Free Gardeners. On Tuesday evening last an adjourned meeting of delegates was held at the Perseverance Lodge House, Teddesley Street, for the purpose of forming a new district in connection with the above Order. After the confirmation of the minutes, it was unanimously resolved that the district be named ‘the Walsall New District.’ The officers and management committee were then duly elected. The district house is the TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1898

“On Tuesday afternoon Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Walsall, touching the death of Mary Edmonds, aged 74, who resided with her son at 42, Warwick Street. The evidence showed that the latter, on returning home from a factory picnic on Saturday night, heard a fall, and found deceased lying at the bottom of the stairs in an unconscious state. She afterwards regained consciousness for a brief period, and informed a neighbour that she was searching for something when she fell downstairs.

Dr. Hawley said that both wrists were broken, and deceased died from shock, as the result of the injuries she received.

The jury returned a verdict of to that effect.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1900

“The following interesting letter has been received by Mr. Biddulph, TEDDESLEY ARMS, from Pte. Sturgess, of the 91st Highlanders, who it will be remembered had an enthusiastic send-off from that house on re-joining the colours.

‘Modder River. December 29th, 1899. South Africa.

I am very glad to tell you that me and Charlie are in the best of health, and going along as well as can be expected. We have another engagement, this one being Magersfontein, which is situated about five miles from Modder River, and 15 miles from Kimberley. The Highland Brigade fared badly, owing to the strong position that the Boers had held, and the plain we had to cross to reach them. Our artillery, both naval and land, did a lot of excellent work, shelling the trenches while we advanced under their fire of deadly hail of shrapnel shell, which lasted for nearly three days. The division casualties were numbered at about 800 men killed and wounded. The Boers seem to have a notion of looking for officers in all engagements, as I expect that they think that if they wash them all out we shall be no good; but they found that out at Magersfontein. As each line got rebuked there was another one formed, and they got what they were asking for, as there was no mercy shown when we charged them with bayonets – a weapon that they don’t like, and if possible get away as quick as possible. Our brigade lost the General, who was shot through the chest and leg, and Major Robinson and two lieutenants. The Black Watch lost 17 officers killed and wounded, the Seaforths lost 2, the Highland Light Infantry 3, and the Gordons 2. You can see that they mean to pop as many of them as possible. We hear that Lord Bob Roberts and Kitchener are gazetted to South Africa, but they will be on the road by this time, and we wish them all God speed, as the army out here are in need of such men as they are. I don’t know if you remember A. Martte, a young fellow that ’listed with me and C. Thacker; he was one of the unfortunate ones at Magerfontein, where he had three of his ribs fractured, and has since gone down to Wynberg Hospital. Charlie is officers’ servant, and his boss (Lieutenant Graham) got wounded, so he has gone down to look after him in hospital, so that we can say that Charlie will have rare time of it for a week or two. We had a very poor Christmas up here. We were to have had all the good things imaginable, but have not received anything as yet, only a bit of cheese, which is the first since we left board ship. Everything here is very expensive. I have not seen beer since we left De Aar, and that was fivepence a pint, and only allowed one per diem. We are allowed one pound of bread every day, and you cannot buy more for love or money, and one pound of meat, with a bit of jam about four times a week. All the cry is with the brigade that they wish the Boers would come out of their hiding places and attack us, so as we could get a little of our own back; but they know a trick worth two of that. They are at home behind a boulder or sheltered in a trench, so they can rest their rifles, and have nice pot shots at us, but we see them off when we fix bayonets – stop for nothing. It would be our delight to catch them on the hop, and we shall do before long, as they cannot go much further this way as they will have to break up before reaching Kimberley, and then we shall show them what British steel is made of, and no mercy, as they have shown us none, only frauds of flags of truth.

Pte. T. Sturgess’.”

Walsall Observer 24/11/1900

“On Monday night a large meeting of Free Gardeners was held at the TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, when Lodge Perseverance had the honour of initiating the Right Honourable Sir Arthur D. Hayter, Bart, MP, and Mr. J. F. Addison as honorary members of the Order.....”

1901 Census

72, Teddesley Street – TEDDESLEY ARMS

- [1] Eli Fletcher (24), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Eliza Ann Fletcher (24), wife, born West Smethwick;
- [3] Mary Allen (29), visitor, waitress, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Maria Allen (17), domestic servant, born Bloxwich;

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1903

“Air-Gun Shooting.....

TEDDESLEY ARMS v. The STORES. This match was shot off at the TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, on Wednesday, and resulted in a very close finish. The visitors shot first, and compiled a total of 403, to which the home team replied with 407, thus winning a very close game by four points. G. Woodward, E. Salloway, and W. H. Lee shot exceedingly well for their respective sides.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

“A smoking concert was held on Monday night, when a presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. F. Barlow on their leaving the TEDDESLEY ARMS. The chair was taken by Mr. Hall and the vice-chair by Mr. H. Chell. A capital programme was rendered by Messrs. Harry Mills, Howard Mills, C. Hawker, Adshead, Hall, F. Taylor, E. Craddock, and B. Aulton. During an interval Mrs. Barlow was presented with a handsome gold brooch and Mr. Barlow with a silk umbrella, both making suitable replies.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/3/1909 - Sales by Auction

“Tuesday, March 30. By Mr. A. Busst: Sewing machines at TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, at 2pm.”

1911 Census

TEDDESLEY ARMS

- [1] William Dutton (42), manager public house, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Dutton (40), wife, married 17 years, born Birmingham;
- [3] Doris Dutton (14), daughter, born Oldbury;
- [4] Elsie Dutton (12), daughter, school, born Oldbury;
- [5] Dora Dutton (7), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [6] Polly Cradick (17), domestic servant, born Walsall;

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street. £0 19s 5½d.”

Walsall Observer 7/9/1918 - Advert

“Preliminary.

Fox & Harrison, F.A.I., are favoured with instruction to offer for Sale by auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, 15th October, 1918 (unless previously disposed of privately), the undermentioned Four Licensed Houses.

The Full Licensed House, LITTLETON ARMS INN, Corner of Hatherton Street, and Littleton Street, Walsall.

The Full Licensed House, DUSTY MILLER INN, Corner of Butts Road (and facing down Hatherton Street, Walsall).

The Full Licensed House, TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Corner of Warwick Street and Teddesley Street, Walsall.

The Ante '69 Beerhouse, Old Wilkin Inn, Corner of Wilkin Road and Hednesford Road, Norton Canes, Brownhills.

Full particulars will be announced later.

Auctioneers Offices, 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall. Telephone 198.”

Mary Ann Dutton – see also ROYAL GEORGE, Bilston.

Joseph Osborne = Joseph Osbourne

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

“W. O. E. Utting, Deceased. For Sale by Private Treaty, the well-known, fully licensed, Public houses, the LITTLETON ARMS (leasehold), Littleton Street; the TEDDESLEY ARMS (leasehold), Teddesley Street; the DUSTY MILLER (freehold), Butts Road, Walsall; and the freehold beerhouse Old Wilkin, Hednesford Road, Brownhills.

Apply: The Owners, namely W.O.E. Utting's Trustees, 117, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/12/1924

“An unusual story was told at Walsall County Court, on Thursday, in a case in which the Highgate Brewery Co., Walsall, sued William Utting, electrical engineer, Lower Forster Street, for £5 damages, and also applied for an injunction to restrain the man from trespassing on the company's property.

Defendant did not appear, and was not represented, but it was stated that he had written to the Registrar intimating although he denied liability, he had paid the amount claimed into court.

Mr. A. J. Long (instructed by Mr. C. L. Hodkinson), who appeared for plaintiffs, said the allegation against Utting was that he had wrongfully entered on one of the company's houses, the LITTLETON ARMS, Hatherton Street, and had painted out the word 'Highgate' from the sign 'Highgate Ales and Stout.'

Replying to Judge Tebbs, counsel said he did not know what defendant's object was in doing this. His only conclusion was that he was one of the lessors of the property of the brewery company. The incident occurred on October 28, and on November 5 Utting painted out similar words on the front of the TEDDESLEY ARMS INN, Littleton [sic] Street, which was also one of plaintiff's houses.

Samuel Tongue, manager of the LITTLETON ARMS, spoke to seeing Utting climb a ladder and paint out the word 'Highgate.' Judge Tebbs: Why didn't you – but I suppose you could not. I was going to ask you why you did not pull the ladder down (laughter).

Joseph Osbourne, manager of the TEDDESLEY ARMS, said at his house the word 'Highgate' was painted out by a workman, whilst Utting and his sister looked on. He did not know why it was done.

Counsel: It is a long story. It arises from an order made by Justice Russell seven years ago.

Judgement was eventually given for the amount claimed with costs and the injunction sought was granted."

Sidney New – see also BAKERS ARMS.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

"More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company's acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street."

1939 Register

Teddesley Street – TEDDESLEY ARMS Public House

[1] Bernard J. Hordern, date of birth 27/8/1883, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Catherine Hordern, dob 25/1/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street, £5 5s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/8/1942

"The holiday stay-at-home appeal was well observed in the Butts district, especially in Warwick and Teddesley Street. On the Bank Holiday a tea party, followed by an entertainment was provided for the children, who thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Music was played during the evening, as well as on each evening during the week.

Singing and dancing competitions were held, with encouragement in the way of prizes. The week was well rounded off with a church service, conducted by the Rev. C. G. M. Ravizotti, Vicar of St. Mark's. Praise is due to the organisers, Mr. F. Yarnell and Mr. H. Smith, who were assisted by a committee, and by Mr. B. Hordern, of the TEDDESLEY ARMS."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Hordern, TEDDESLEY ARMS. £0 13s 0d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street. £1 5s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TEDDESLEY ARMS, Teddesley Street. £1 4s 2d."

George Edward Smith – see also BELLE VUE.

Selwyn Holden – see also BELL.

Closed

Demolished pre 1977.

The site was used as part of Butts Primary School.

THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN

125, Elmore Green Road (34, Elmore Green) / Alfred Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

John Somerfield

Matthew J. Somerfield

Messrs. Leary and Sons, Walsall

Manchester Brewery Co. Ltd.

Edward Somerfield, Bloxwich

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Somerfield [1861] – [1881];

Matthew John Somerfield [1886] – 1889;

William Webster (1889 – 1891);

Jane Parker (1891 – 1893);

Joseph Wintle (1893 – 1897);

William Farrington (1897 – 1899);

John Smith (1899 – 1902);

William Bennett (1902 – 1905);

Joseph Vincent Greensill (1905);

John Walsh (1905 – 1906);

John Eyden (1906 – 1908);

James Bradbury (1908 – 1910);

Samuel Jones (1910 – 1913);

William Henry Roberts (1913 – 1916);

Mrs. Maria Roberts (1916 – 1933);

Hugh Morrison (1933 – 1934);

Joseph Edward Bowen (1934 – 1938);

Joseph Henry Fellows (1938 – 1940);

William Devey (1940 – 1946);

Edith Devey (1946 – 1954);

Samuel Godfrey Plimmer (1954 – 1966);

William Lewis (1966 – [])

Paula Hodgson [2006]

NOTES

34, Elmore Green [1871]

125, Elmore Green Road [1881], [1901], [1939]

THATCHED COTTAGE [1861], [1900]

It was known locally as the “Thatch”.

Walsall Free Press 2/2/1861

“John Hurley was charged with assaulting sergeant Martin of the Bloxwich police station, while in the discharge of his duty – that is to say, while arresting him on a commitment signed by Mr. Day. Complainant was sworn, and deposed that he went to the THATCHED COTTAGE beerhouse, Bloxwich, last night, for the purpose of arresting prisoner and a commitment issued against him last April. Prisoner made a most desperate resistance, and struck and kicked witness, and also another constable. Mr. Martin here exhibited the great coat of the other constable, which was very much torn. Witness declared he never had to do with such a desperate character in his life. Police-constable No.19 confirmed Martin's evidence. Prisoner made a rambling, incomprehensible kind of defence. Fined £_ and expenses, or one months' imprisonment, in addition to the punishment due on the former commitment, which was for a like offence."

1861 Census

Elmore Green

- [1] John Somerfield (37), public house and awl blade maker employing 1 man and 2 boys, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jane Somerfield (35), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Sobey Aske [Sobiaske?] Somerfield (12), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary Jane Somerfield (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Emma Somerfield (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Edward Byot (10), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Sarah Lane (17), public house servant, born Bloxwich;
- [8] William Hiley (15), awl blade maker's assistant, born Bloxwich:

John Somerfield, retailer of beer, Bloxwich. [1862]

Birmingham Gazette 8/9/1863

"Yesterday being the adjourned licensing day, the magistrates present at the Petty Session proceeded to dispose of the applications left from the previous licensing day. Mr. Mathews again appeared in the case of John Summerfield, THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, whose application for license had been adjourned in order to afford the Bench an opportunity of examining the premises.

The Mayor stated that the premises had been examined, and being found fit for the purpose the Bench had agreed to grant the application."

John Somerfield was also an awl blade maker. [1864], [1865]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/2/1864

"Young Hicken of Bloxwich will fight any lad of the same place, for £10 a side, at 7st 10lb or 7st 12lb (Reuben Smith preferred). Money ready at Mr. Somerfield's THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich."

Walsall Free Press 26/11/1864 - Notice

"A Sick And Burial Society will commence at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, on Monday Evening next, November 28th, 1864. Further particulars may be known by applying to the Landlord."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/2/1868 - Advert

"For Sale, Two Flat Pit Ropes, one 250 yards long; one ditto, 200 yards long. Apply at J. Somerfield's, THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich."

Walsall Free Press 9/10/1869

"On Monday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner for the Borough, held an inquest at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, upon the body of Walter Williams, aged 13. It appeared from the evidence that deceased was engaged as a runner in the Station Colliery belonging to Mr. Lindop, and about eleven o'clock on Saturday forenoon the deceased was engaged in pushing a 'dan', or small waggon, along the tramway in the pit, when a quantity of rock fell upon him from the roof of the pit, and killed him on the spot. The deceased, immediately on being brought out of the pit, was conveyed to the residence of his parents in New Street, Bloxwich. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidentally Killed."

1871 Census

34, Elmore Green – THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN

- [1] John Somerfield (47), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jane Somerfield (45), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Jobey (?) A. Tranter (22), daughter, married, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Mary Jane Somerfield (15), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Matthew J. Somerfield (8), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sarah D. Somerfield (5), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Richard Tranter (3), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Sarah J. Tranter (8 months), granddaughter, born Bloxwich:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/6/1872

"Goodwright's brown and white dog Sailor and Taylor's brown dog Jack (both of Bloxwich) were the next on the ground to run 200 yards at catch weight, for a stake of £20. Betting started at even money, and finished at 2 to 1 on Sailor. Mr. Starkey started them well away together. Sailor went away at a good pace, held the lead throughout, and won easily by three yards. Mr. Summerfield, THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, was referee."

1881 Census

125, Elmore Green Road – THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN

- [1] John Somerfield (59), widower, licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Matthew J. Somerfield (18), son, joiner, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Richard Tranter (13), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Hannah Byll (?) (18), domestic servant:

Evening Star 9/6/1882

“On Wednesday night a well-attended meeting of miners was held at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, to consider the Permanent Provident Society, and Organisation. Mr. Thomas Stanley presided.
....‘That we hereby agree that the money shall be stopped at the pay office as the field pay has been heretofore.’.....”

Walsall Observer 27/6/1885

“An inquest was held at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, on Monday evening, before T. Howard Stanley, Esq, coroner, touching the death of John Ball, aged 64 years, miner, lately residing at 8, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich. From the evidence it appeared that on the 19th December last, deceased, whilst engaged at work in one of the pits of the Norton-Cannock Colliery Company, received a severe wound by the fall of a piece of coal on a part of his forehead where he had sustained a severe injury some years previously. The second wound produced inflammation, followed by disease of the bone. In the opinion of Dr. Somerville the deceased died from blood poisoning, the result of the absorption of pus from the wound. The inquiry was adjourned till Monday next, to enable the Coroner to communicate with the Inspector of Mines.”

John Somerfield – see also BLUE PIG.

Lichfield Mercury 26/11/1886

“At the Cannock Petty Sessions on Monday, George Sperrings, landlord of the Dog Inn, Great Wyrley, was summoned for assaulting Matthew John Somerfield, landlord of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, at Wyrley, on Monday week. Defendant’s goods were being sold up by Mr. Fellows, auctioneer, and on his fowls being put up for auction, complainant bid for them. Defendant objected to his bid, but the auctioneer accepted it, and then Sperrings struck Somerfield. Walter Davis, Stafford Street, Walsall, who assisted the auctioneer in conducting the sale, witnessed the assault, as did also Joseph Jeffreys, a man who had been put in possession at the Dog Inn. The Bench ordered defendant to pay 22s 6d, including costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 30/11/1888

“On Monday, Mr. T. H. Stanley, borough coroner, held an inquest at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, on the body of John Salt (35), a fireman at the Norton Cannock Colliery. George Ball, a miner in the same employ, stated that on the 21st inst. the deceased called to him to go and take out some bars for the purpose of dropping the roof to make it higher. They first put two or three trees for the purpose of supporting the middle of the bars, and after examining the roof to see if it was safe witness removed one of the end trees. The deceased then began to remove the one at the other end, and after a short time it came out, and the first part of the roof fell. He raised himself up against the side, but a second part of the roof came down and doubled him up, with his head between his legs. It took a quarter of an hour or twenty minutes to dig him out, and then he was dead. Witness had previously warned him that it was not safe to go under the roof. The proper way was to drop the roof yard by yard, and set fresh timber. Hugh McGowan gave corroborative evidence, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Matthew J. Somerfield – see also SPREAD EAGLE.

1891 Census

125, Elmore Green Road – THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN

- [1] Jane Parker (51), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] William Parker (17), son, painter (apprentice), born Bilston;
- [3] Eveline Parker (12), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Cecilia Parker (16), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] John Donnellan (3), godson, born Walsall;
- [6] William Bennett (37), barman, born Bilston;
- [7] Theresa Bennett (33), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 31/12/1892

“On Saturday night a man named Henry Preston, 35, Elmore Row, met with a fatal accident at Messrs. Thomas’s colliery. Deceased was assisting some sinkers, one of whom sent him to fetch a morta board. As he did not return, search was made for him, and he was found dead in a new engine-house which is being erected. It is supposed that he slipped from the scaffolding in this engine-house, and falling a distance of 13 feet broke his neck.
On Tuesday, Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN on the body. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/12/1893

“Thomas Conner, collier, Little Bloxwich Lane, was charged with refusing to quit the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich. He went to the house, wanted to make bets for fighting, and when told by the landlady, Caroline Wintle, to leave, he used a filthy expression and refused. Fined 20s and costs, or 21 days’ imprisonment.”

William Farrington – see also GREEN MAN.

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1897

“Joseph Alfred Harvey (24), labourer, of Alfred Street, Bloxwich, and John Shaw (23), labourer, of Hyde, Lancashire, were charged with having stolen 11s 8d from the person of Thomas Gill, a collier, living at Morris’s lodging house, Bloxwich. Prosecutor on Thursday night went to the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, having the money then in a handkerchief in his pocket. Prisoners were there drinking. Prosecutor, after leaving the public house, was passing down Alfred Street, when the two prisoners pushed him into an entry, and while one of them held his hands the other took the money. William Rigby, a hawker, spoke to hearing a struggle in an entry in Alfred Street. Harvey struck a match, and said, ‘There’s no more money on the floor’. The two prisoners went down the street, and Gill then alleged that they had taken his money. Police-sergeant 3 (Willets) arrested the prisoners, and charged them. They made no reply. In the entry in which it was alleged the struggle took place the officer found an eye-shade belonging to the prosecutor. Both prisoners now pleaded guilty, and they were each sentenced to 21 days’ with hard labour.”

John Smith was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

Walsall Observer 16/6/1900

“On Sunday morning Sarah Ann Walker (67), widow, who lived with two married daughters at Elmore Green, Bloxwich, was found in a dying state in a coppice known as Dales Wood, Bentley. The statement made at the time was that about half past nine on Sunday morning a man named Daniel Poole was on his land looking after some cattle which had strayed, when he discovered deceased, who was in a shocking plight, her wrists and face being badly bruised, and her clothing saturated with blood. Knowing the woman he called her by name, and she opened her eyes and said she was very ill, and that she had been lying in the wood all night. Assistance was obtained from a cottage near by, but deceased rapidly sank, and died very shortly afterwards.

At the Willenhall Police Court, on Monday, a man named Jabez Pugh (28), a miner, of Field Street, Bloxwich, was charged with causing the death of the deceased.

Inspector Oakden said that about midnight on Sunday he arrested prisoner on suspicion of having caused the woman’s death, and told him that he was the last person seen in her company. Prisoner replied, ‘Yes.’ Witness applied for a week’s remand, which was granted.

The inquest was held on Wednesday morning, at the WHITE LION, Short Heath, by the County Coroner (Mr. T. A. Stokes), the accused Jabez Pugh being present, and was represented by Mr. A. J. Glover.

Mary Ann Beddow, 19, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, said that the deceased was her mother, and lived with her. Her mother was the widow of John Walker, farm labourer, of Bloxwich. She last saw her mother alive at 10.45pm on Saturday, when she went out of the house with a small whisky bottle. Witness saw Jabez Pugh on that night at about 10.30pm in the passage to the BULLS HEAD INN, which was a short distance from her house. The prisoner paid for a pint of ale at the BULLS HEAD for witness, her mother, and her niece. He also paid for some drink for witness and her mother at the GEORGE INN. They left him in the GEORGE, and went home, and immediately after they got in her mother went out without saying anything as to where she was going. Prisoner was dressed in uniform when they met him. In consequence of what she was told, she went to a small wood at Bentley on Sunday morning, and found her mother there dead.

Joseph Beddow, husband of the last witness, said that on Saturday last, at twenty-five minutes to eleven, Mrs. Walker went out. Witness heard Pugh call her to go and have a drink. Prisoner’s wife was ill, and he (prisoner) asked deceased to visit her, but she refused, and he then asked her to go and have a glass. They started over towards the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN. She did not come back that night, and, when he saw her on Sunday morning in the wood near Bentley, she was just dying. She was bleeding when he saw her.

John Smith, landlord of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, said that about five minutes to eleven, the deceased came to his house. Witness’s wife served her with some whisky. She was quite sober at the time, and was alone.

Fanny Hawley, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Saturday night, between twenty minutes and a quarter to eleven, she was walking in the direction of Bloxwich Railway Station with a young man, named John Jarvis. Witness saw Mrs. Walker, and a man in uniform with her, going in the direction of Bentley, where deceased was found.

Daniel Poole, Front Lane, Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning he was in his garden about 9am, when he saw something lying in a wood, about 40 yards away. He went down, and found the deceased (Sarah Ann Walker). Witness spoke to her, and she opened her eyes and said, ‘I am very bad, Dan’. The wind blew deceased’s bonnet aside, and showed him that she had a blackened eye. Witness asked her if she had been quarrelling with her daughter or anybody, and she said, ‘No’. Witness then asked her what brought her with a black eye, and she replied, ‘I have tumbled down, Dan’. Deceased said that she would like a cup of tea, and witness went to get one. On going back he saw a young woman, named Elizabeth Anson, and told her that Mrs. Walker was lying down and wanted some tea. They went back to the deceased together and tried to lift her up, but she refused to rise. A man who came up said that he would go to Bloxwich and tell Mrs. Beddow, and witness then went back home, not thinking that deceased was in such a dangerous condition. He saw no marks except the black eye. There was a footpath through the coppice, used by workmen as a short cut. The deceased was lying across the footpath, which was about 200 yards from the turnpike road. In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that deceased made no complaint about anyone, and he saw no blood anywhere. Deceased was quite sensible when she spoke to him. Witness had never seen deceased drunk, but he knew that she was given to drinking. Hannah Gosling, living at Beechdale Cottage, on the canal side, said that on Sunday morning she went into the coppice at the bottom of her house. Daniel Poole and Elizabeth Anson told her about Sarah Walker being in the coppice, and witness took her a cup of tea, and saw that her eye was discoloured and the bridge of her nose disfigured. Witness asked deceased what brought her there, and she said she did not know. Witness asked if she had been quarrelling with anyone at home, as she frequently did, but she replied that she had not. Witness asked her how long she had been there, and she said she had been there all night. Witness then asked her how she came there, and she said she had been brought there, but she did not know who by. Witness lifted her up, and she died with her head on witness's knee. Witness saw her about ten o'clock, and at 10 minutes to 11 she died. Her clothing and boots were saturated with blood, and her wrist was frightfully blackened.

Police-constable Dodge (256), of the County Police, stationed at Short Heath, said that on Sunday morning, from information he had received, he went down to the coppice at Bentley at 10.55am. The woman was dead when he arrived, and he removed the body to the WHITE LION. He examined the body and found that the face and wrists were discoloured, and her clothes were saturated in blood. The place where she was found was about a mile from where she lived. On information received he went to the coppice again on the morning of the inquest, and found marks of a severe struggle having taken place about 200 yards from where the body was found. He had been given a flask containing some whisky which was found there, and there were marks showing that a man had knelt.

John Smith, of the THATCHED HOUSE, identified the flask as one that the deceased brought to his house on the Saturday night. The officer, continuing, said deceased appeared to have struggled towards the cottage where she once lived, as she was found at a distance of only 50 yards from the cottage while the marks of the struggle were 240 yards away.

Ernest Dodge, son of the last witness, said that he found the flask about 250 yards away from where the woman was found. He found it at about 8.30 on Tuesday night. He also saw signs of a struggle.

Jabez Pugh, collier, in the employment of the Springhill Colliery, Essington, having been duly cautioned, said that on Saturday night he was in uniform. He saw Mrs. Walker about 9.30pm on the Saturday night, when she was in the BULLS HEAD INN. He treated her to a glass of whisky, and had a pint of ale himself. She went out, leaving him drinking with another man. Later on he saw her in the GEORGE, where he had a pint of ale, and she had some more whisky, and, then she went away again. He did not go and call Mrs. Walker out on that night, and he did not ask her to go and have another drink with him. He saw her outside her house, but he did not walk off with her towards the THATCHED HOUSE. He was not walking in the direction of Bentley with her at about a quarter to eleven, and the last occasion on which he saw her was when she was leaning against her door shouting just before eleven. He had not asked Mrs. Walker to attend to his wife, as he had got one woman who was doing that work. There was a route march in the afternoon and there were a lot of the volunteers in uniform about the town. There were also militiamen about. He reached home at 12 o'clock, and between 11 and 12 he was walking about. The BULLS HEAD was about half a mile from his house, and going home he met several people he knew, but spoke to no one. The blood on the white cuff of his tunic was caused by his nose bleeding outside the GEORGE. The shoulder strap which was torn had been unstitched for some time, and the belt hook which was missing had been lost for months. With regard to the dirt on the trousers he had no idea how they got in such a state. There was also blood on his belt, but that got on from his nose at the same time as the other did on the cuff. The torn bayonet frog which was produced was an old one, and the one he wore on Saturday was in his house somewhere. Both himself and Mrs. Walker were sober. When he got home he spoke to no one except his wife. There was not a woman named Allen in the house when he reached home at twelve.

Eliza Allen, Field Street, Bloxwich, said that she was a near neighbour of Pugh's, and had known him for some time. She was in and out of Pugh's house all Saturday night, and the last time she went there was at twenty minutes to two in the morning. Witness left the house at two o'clock, and Pugh had not arrived at that time. Witness was absolutely certain on that point. There was no one in the house except Mrs. Pugh, who locked the door when witness left for the last time.

Dr. J. T. Hartill, MRCS, LRCP, police surgeon, in practice in Willenhall, said that he had made a post mortem examination on the body of the deceased on Tuesday, and found recent bruises and abrasions on both knees. The clothing worn by the woman was saturated with blood, and the external injuries would not account for the saturation. He attributed death to collapse and shock, due to rupture of the liver, injury to the kidneys, and effusion of blood into the peritoneum. He was further of the opinion that these conditions were brought about by violence, and that not long before her death the woman passed some bloody fluid from the right kidney. It seemed to be impossible that three conditions, namely, a rupture of the liver, a bruised kidney, with blood in considerable quantity in the cavity of the abdomen, could be present in combination except as the result of external violence. He would describe the woman as being unhealthy, although possessed of a strongly built frame. It would have needed considerable violence to have caused the symptoms found. A person might live for twenty four hours after the injuries. He thought that the bruises on the face and knees were the result of a fall. The blood on Pugh's tunic &c, might have been caused in the manner stated by him.

Thomas Oakden, inspector of police at Willenhall, said that on Sunday afternoon he saw the body of the deceased and called in Dr. Hartill. About 11.30 that night, witness, assisted by Inspector Marshall, (Walsall Police), arrested prisoner at his own house, from whence he was taken to Bloxwich Police Station. Prisoner, on being told that he was arrested for being the last person who was seen with deceased, answered, 'Yes'. Prisoner seemed quite cool and collected. Witness took possession of prisoner's uniform, the trousers were covered with dirt, the belt hook on the tunic was lost, and the shoulder strap torn partly off. Afterwards he found the damaged bayonet frog between the bed and the mattress. The distance from deceased's house to the wood was about a mile. Inspector Marshall, of the Walsall Police, in charge of the Police Station at Bloxwich, said that he went with the last witness to Pugh's house, and found the belt at the bottom of the steps leading into the cellar.

Sergeant Eaton, sergeant instructor to E Company of Bloxwich Volunteers said that Jabez Pugh was a member of that Corps, and that on Saturday there was a parade. Pugh was present, and was dressed in the clothes produced. Witness dismissed them about 6pm. Witness said that he would have noticed the shoulder strap had it been torn on parade. Witness did not know of anyone who had two frogs, but Pugh might have had two. At 9 o'clock on Saturday night witness thought that there might have been about 30 volunteers in uniform at the BULLS HEAD.

In answer to Mr. Glover, witness said that although there was no close examination he was sure that he would have noticed the tunic if it had been torn. Prisoner had been in the Volunteers for 10 years, and witness for two, so that it was possible to have had two of the frogs without witness knowing.

The Coroner having summed up, the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder by some person or persons unknown.”
[Pugh was found not guilty at Stafford Assizes.]

Plans for alterations, including knocking three rooms into two were approved on 31st August 1900.

1901 Census

125, Elmore Green Road

[1] John Smith (29), public house manager, born Lichfield;

[2] Lucy Smith (33), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Jack Smith (2), son, born Tettenhall;

[4] Lilly Lowbridge (20), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1903

“Today was the adjourned transfer day. Transfers of full licenses were granted in the case of....

Mr. J. N. Cotterell renewed his application for the granting of a transfer of the OLD OAK, Upper Hall Lane, from Mark Knight to Herbert Tuckley, who had been temporarily in authority for the last few weeks. He said that Tuckley had been a license holder upwards of twelve years, during which time no complaint or conviction had been registered against him. In September 1901, he left the FOUR WAYS, Birchills, and became steward of the Birchills Working Men's Club, at 35s a week. Not liking club work, however, he applied, or intended to apply to be granted the license of a house in Ablewell Street, but was given to understand that he could not hold a license while steward of a club. He therefore gave up his appointment at the club, which he had had absolutely nothing to do with since. In July he was granted a temporary authority in respect of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, but he gave up that house very quickly, through a misunderstanding as to takings. Though a man of some means Tuckley had to earn his living, and for that reason he was applying for this transfer The justices after a short retirement, decided to grant the transfer.”

Joseph Vincent Greensill was fined £10 and costs for permitting drunkenness and £2 and costs for permitting gaming, on 2nd June 1905.

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Black List From Bloxwich. J. V. Greensill, THATCHED TAVERN, Bloxwich, had been fined for permitting drunkenness and also for allowing gaming.....

The Chief Constable said there was one other objection he had taken, to the renewal of the license of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, on the ground of convictions. On April 19th of last year the then tenant, named Joseph Vincent Greensill, was fined £10 and costs for permitting drunkenness, and £2 and costs for permitting gaming in his house. Greensill left the house and the license was then taken by John Walsh, the present tenant, who bore an excellent character, and had conducted the house very satisfactorily since he had taken it over.

Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared on behalf of the owners, and the licensee. He said he believed the house to be worth from £3,000 to £3,500. The circumstances were very hard for the owners. Greensill, who was one of the Greensill's from Wyrley, which family had held the licenses for a great number of years, was put into the house. It was found that he was a man of excellent character and reputation, and after he took to the house, through some extraordinary reason he seemed to go wrong, and this charge was brought against him and he was convicted. The charges were practically under the same circumstances. There was one man drunk on the premises at the time the police came in, and two men were shooting with an air-gun for a quart of ale. Those charges were admitted, but having regard to the fact that the owners had put in a bonafide tenant whose character was beyond reproach, and no owners could do more, he asked them to renew the license. He thought it would be a terrible thing if the owners were punished, after the house had been conducted excellently ever since the convictions, and up to the time before the convictions.....

The Chief Constable said the house had been conducted properly of late, and the present tenant was a man of good character. Mr. Holden said the Bench had considered the case of this house very carefully, and they were pleased to hear that the house was being conducted properly. They took some time in considering whether they should grant the license owing to the complaints made and the fines inflicted of the bad management in the past. They had decided to renew the license, and hoped and trusted that such a thing would not occur again, and that would be a warning, not only to this house, but to all houses in Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1906

“Public Music and Singing License.....

THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Elmore Green, Bloxwich, every Monday in club-room from 7.30pm to 10.45pm.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/8/1907

“A miner, named Isaac Lowe (39), of Dudley Street, Bloxwich, was charged with being found on enclosed premises, the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich, on the 7th inst.

John Eyden, landlord, stated that he went to bed just after eleven o'clock the previous night, leaving his wife and friends in the sitting room. About 12.30 am he was woke up and told that there was someone in the yard, and on looking in the yard witness found prisoner in the closet, sitting down asleep. He had been to the house in the afternoon and he had put him outside, as he wanted drink on the 'trust' and was refused. In order to get on the premises, which witness securely locked before going to bed, prisoner would have to climb a wall about seven feet high. A straw hat, which prisoner was wearing in the afternoon, was found in the yard after prisoner had left.

Elizabeth Eyden, wife of the landlord, gave evidence.

Police-constable Gibbs (54) gave evidence to arresting prisoner, who on passing the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN said, 'Bring my old straw brimmer' to the landlord, and afterwards said he had been on the drink for a week and did not know how he got in the yard.

Prisoner said he was the worse for beer, and did not know how he got there.

The Bench said that prisoner must think himself lucky that the prosecutors did not wish to press the case; it would be dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1908

“William Baker, 13, Alfred Street, Bloxwich, was found in a drunken state in the passage of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN by Police-constable Baker (31) on the 27th ult. The landlady had seen the man enter the house drunk and had just ordered him out when the officer went in.

Defendant said that since Alderman Dean got him compensation for his hand, the police had been watching him up and down the street.

A fine of 5s and costs was imposed.”

Lichfield Mercury 5/3/1909

“At the Walsall Quarter Sessions on Saturday, before the Recorder (Mr. E. A. Owen), Thomas Gittings (33), miner, was indicted for stealing six fowls, value 16s, the property of James Bradbury, licensee of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich. Mr. Lort Williams prosecuted. Evidence was given that on the night the prosecutor's fowl pen was robbed prisoner called at the public house and was afterwards seen in the back yard. A trail of feathers was discovered all the way to the house where he lived, and footprints corresponded with boots which he was wearing. He was also shown to have tried to dispose of two of the fowls. He was found guilty, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.”

Midlands Evening News 9/10/1909

“A fine of 10s and costs, with the alternative of 14 days imprisonment, was imposed upon Samuel Allcock, Alfred Street, Bloxwich, for assaulting James Bradbury, landlord of the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, and also for being drunk and disorderly in Albert Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/10/1909

“Under the auspices of the Bloxwich Town Football Club, a very successful concert was held at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN on Monday. There was an exceedingly large attendance and an admirable programme was greatly appreciated, encores being frequent.....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1910

“Loyal Caledonian Corks.

The quarterly meeting of the Walsall district was held on Saturday, at the WOOLPACK, Hotel, Digbeth. There were fifty-eight delegates present, representing twenty-seven lodges Secretary's report.....

Permission had also been granted for the removal of Lodge 207 from the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN to the STATION HOTEL, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

THATCHED HOUSE, Bloxwich, 1s 10d.”

Walsall Observer 1/7/1916 - Deaths

“On the 25th ult, at THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich, William Roberts, the beloved husband of Maria Roberts, aged 50. In the midst of health we are in death.

Mrs. Roberts and Family wish to thank all friends for sympathy in their sad bereavement, and also for beautiful flowers sent.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Bloxwich. £1 14s 0½d.”

Bilston and Willenhall Times 17/2/1934

“Stated to have borne an exemplary character during over 21 years’ service in the army, William Beech (46), 129, Stafford Street, Walsall, was charged at Willenhall Police Court, on Monday, with stealing, by means of a trick, the coal allowance ticket, value 14s, the property of Miss Annie Dorrington, general dealer, of Thirty House Row, Essington.

It was explained that Beech had been employed at the Littleton Colliery Company and was therefore entitled to allowance coal. Miss Dorrington said she bought the ticket from Beech in September when he was lodging with one of her neighbours. The ticket was for 16 cwts of coal and she gave 11s in cash and 3s in goods. She had not received the coal.

Frank Kitson, miner, of Thirty House Row, said just before September 16th Beech, who was then lodging with him, asked him if he could sell the ticket, and in consequence witness saw Miss Dorrington who agreed to purchase the ticket. She told witness to keep the ticket and arrange for the delivery of the coal. Beech asked for the ticket to be returned, stating that he wanted it to see to the drawing of the coal. He left on September 25th, taking the ticket with him and did not return.

Hugh Morrison, licensee of the THATCHED TAVERN, Bloxwich, said he bought the ticket from Beech for 8s on September 25th, and received the coal on September 29th.

PC Till said that on November 15th he saw Beech at Walsall and read over to him a summons charging him with the offence, and he replied that he did not have all the money. He admitted having had the 11s and the goods to the value 3s. The summons was returnable for December 4th, but Beech did not appear, so a warrant was issued.

He was arrested at at 7.30pm on Tuesday, February 6th, and in reply to the charge said, ‘I am sorry. It’s the first time I have ever been in trouble. I’ll see it doesn’t occur again.’

PC Till remarked that Beech had served in the South Staffs Regt. for over 21 years, and had been on the North West Frontier of India, Afghanistan, South Africa, and also served in the Great War. Throughout his army career he had borne an exemplary character. In his civil life he also had a good character.

Beech expressed his regret and said he was willing to repay the money to Miss Dorrington.

The chairman (Mr. J. Legge) told Beech it was a pity he had done such a thing, having regard to his good character. It was rather a shabby thing to sell coal to a person and then not deliver it. Owing to his good record the Bench would take a lenient view.

A fine of £1 with 10s special costs was imposed.”

1939 Register

125, Elmore Green Road – Inn (2 of 3)

[1] Joseph H. Fellows, date of birth 24/7/1904, licensee and machine moulder, married;

[2] Marjorie (Fellows) Griffiths, dob 17/12/1910, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

THATCHED HOUSE, Elmore Green, £1 1s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, Elmore Green. £2 11s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

THATCHED HOUSE, Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich. £1 10s 0d.”

Samuel Godfrey Plimmer – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE.

[2007]

Its name was changed to the THATCHED TAVERN. [2009]

[2013]

Closed [2015], [2016]

It was converted into a shop. [2017]

THREE CROWNS

Blue Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Emanuel Benton [1834] – [1850]

William Watton [1853]

Emanuel Benton [1871]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Emanuel Benton, retailer of beer, Blue Lane. [1835], [1850]

Emanuel Benton, beer retailer, Blue Lane. [1849], [1850], [1871]

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1853 - Advert

“Geo. Allin will Sell by Auction, at eleven o’clock on Thursday next, March 24th, 1853, at the THREE CROWNS INN, Blue Lane, Walsall, part of the clean and useful Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, Public House Fixtures, &c, comprising deal screens, quantity of deal seating, tap counter, glass shelves, cupboards, oak and other tables, Windsor and other chairs, two clocks, eight capital ale casks, pair excellent 100-gallon copper furnace and fittings, and numerous other effects belonging to Mr. William Watton, who is leaving.

The House and Premises to be Let, and any portion of the fixtures may be taken to at a valuation prior to the sale.

Particulars in catalogues to be had at the Auctioneer’s Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

THREE CROWNS

New Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Mayo [1818]

J Butler [1822]

John Webb [1835]

NOTES

Richard Mayo was also a stirrup manufacturer. [1818]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 16/2/1835 - Advert

“A Snug Public house of Good Business, in New Street, Walsall – Coming-in low.

By John Rodway. To be disposed of by private treaty, the Licenses, Good-will, and Possession of the good accustomed old Licensed Public House, known by the name or sign of the OLD THREE CROWNS, excellently situated for business in New Street, Walsall, which is a populous and manufacturing part of the town. The present premises are low rented and in every respect convenient for the business. The coming-in will be trifling.

For further particulars and to treat apply to Mr. John Webb, upon the premises, who is leaving solely on account of other engagements, or to John Rodway, Auctioneer, &c, Edgbaston Street, Birmingham.”

THREE CROWNS

Sutton Road, Hayhead, (Wood End), (The Bridge), WALSALL

OWNERS

Lady Scott, Great Barr Hall
Arthur Beebee Ltd., Sandwell Street, Walsall (acquired in 1910)
Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1924)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

Ralph Allen [1834] – [1845]
Mrs. Martha Allen [1849] – [1851]
Joseph Allen [1858]
Martha Allen [] – 1859)
John Allen [1860] – [1861]
Thomas Allen [1867] – [1870]
James Allen [1868] – [1884];
Mrs. Prudence A Allen [] – 1888);
Alfred George Allen (1888 – 1910);
Thomas Parkes (1910 – 1911);
George Snow (1911 – 1913);
Thomas Parkes (1913 – 1915);
Mrs. Ellen Parkes (1915 – 1921);
James Percy Boon (1921 – 1929);
William Hargrove (1929 – 1930);
George Henry Johnson (1930 – 1932);
William Read (1932 – 1933);
Frank Morgan (1933 – 1942);
Henry Pountney Cullen (1942 – 1946);
John Aubrey Jones (1946 – 1948);
Frederick Edwards Shelley (1948 – 1954);
John David Robinson (1954 – 1956);
Henry William Bown (1956 – 1958);
Ronald Philip Gadd (1958 – [1966]
Linda Ann Schofield [1984]
Jim Galvin [1990]

NOTES

Wood End [1849]
Hayhead [1860], [1932]

Arise's Birmingham Gazette 15/2/1830 - Advert

“Sale at the THREE CROWNS, Wood End, in the Foreign of Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. Farrington, on Friday next, February 19, all the live and dead Stock, Household Furniture, Brewing and Dairy Utensils, Implements of Husbandry, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. John Hildick, comprising a very useful horse of the cart kind; mare in foal, a three-year old filly, very promising for a gig, two broad-wheel carts, drill, ploughs, harrows, and winnowing machine, straw, corn, and manure, a large quantity of potatoes, and a variety of other effects.

Sale to commence at ten o'clock precisely.

The Farming Stock will be sold first.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the office of the Auctioneer, Walsall, or on the premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/12/1836 - Marriages

“On Saturday last, at Walsall, by the Rev. John Meridyth. Mr. William Wilson, of Great Barr, to Harriet, daughter of Mr. Ralph Allen, of the THREE CROWNS, Hay Head, near Walsall.”

1851 Census

Wood End – THREE CROWNS

[1] Martha Allen (58), widow, publican, born Epstone, Staffordshire;

[2] James Allen (35), son, farmer of 100 acres, 3 labourers, born Stanton, Staffordshire;

[3] Prudentia Ann Allen (25), son's wife, born Thorpe, Derbyshire;

- [4] Ann Allen (1), son's daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] William George Allen (3 months), son's son, born Walsall;
- [6] Jane Brindsley (20), house servant, born Tong, Shropshire;
- [7] James Bayley (25), farmer's labourer, born Birmingham;
- [8] William Spare (23), farmer's labourer, born Norton, Leicestershire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/12/1853

“On Monday, James Allen, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton, was fined 5s and costs for Sunday trading.”

Walsall Free Press 22/8/1859 - Deaths

“On the 13th ult, aged 63, Mrs. Martha Allen, of the THREE CROWNS INN, Hay Head, Great Barr, highly respected by all who knew her.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1863

“George Pocock was charged with having, on the 20th of August last, stolen from the person of James Graham the sum of £2. The parties were ‘mates’ and had been reaping together, and on the night in question they slept in the bar room of the THREE CROWNS public house, on the Sutton Road. In the morning the prosecutor missed the money, and charged the prisoner with taking it. Prisoner admitted the charge, and said he would return the money when they got to the field. Instead, however, of going to the field where prosecutor and he were to meet, and where they had some corn to cut, he decamped, and was apprehended in Berkshire. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, committed the prisoner, who reserved his defence, to take his trial at the next Quarter Sessions for the borough.”

[At the Borough Quarter Sessions on 23rd October George Pocock was acquitted.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/7/1866

“John Davis, wagoner, who had been found, about one o’clock on Sunday morning last, getting up to a bedroom window in the house of Mr. Allen, landlord of the THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, was sentenced to 21 days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Free Press 30/3/1867

“James Allen, landlord of the THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, was fined 1s and costs, for having had his house open between the hours of four and five o’clock on Sunday afternoon for the sale of liquor.”

Thomas and James Allen appear at the THREE CROWNS, Hayhead, in the same 1868 Directory.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/10/1868

“At the Police Court, on Thursday, William Taylor was charged with stealing one gander and two geese, from the premises of Mr. James Allen, landlord of the THREE CUPS [sic] INN, Sutton Road. Mr. Bayley, of Wednesbury, prosecuted. Prudentis Ann Allen, the wife of the prosecutor, stated that on the 24th of January last, she saw the geese and gander safe, but on Sunday, the 26th of that month, she missed them. Information was given to the police, and on the following Friday Detective-serjeant Wood brought some legs and a head which she identified as those of the missing gander. She knew the head because the gander was a very old one and had lost one eye; and the right leg she was also able to identify because a horse once trod upon it. Richard Hall, pawnbroker, Stafford Street, proved having purchased two geese and a one-eyed gander with an injured leg from the prisoner on the 25th January, and stated that he gave him 14s 9d and some ale for the three, and sold the gander to a person named John Hubble.

Detective-serjeant Wood gave evidence to show that he found the gander that was identified by the prosecutor at the house of Hubble; and the prisoner was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

1871 Census

Sutton Road – THREE CROWNS

- [1] James Allen (54), farmer of 130 acres, born Stanton, Staffordshire;
 - [2] Prudentia A. Allen (55), wife, born Thorp, Derbyshire;
 - [3] Annie Allen (21), daughter, born Great Barr;
 - [4] William G. Allen (20), son, born Great Barr;
 - [5] Fanny Allen (18), daughter, born Great Barr;
 - [6] Frederic C. Allen (14), son, born Great Barr;
 - [7] Mary A. Allen (12), daughter, born Great Barr;
 - [8] John J. Allen (8), son, born Great Barr;
 - [9] Elizabeth Allen (6), daughter, born Great Barr;
 - [10] Alfred G. Allen (4), son, born Great Barr;
 - [11] Emma Stokes (22), general servant, born Walsall:
- [Prudentia Allen was probably the same as Prudence.]

1881 Census

THREE CROWNS INN

- [1] James Allen (65), farmer of 140 acres employing 3 men, born Hanton, Staffordshire;

- [2] Prudentia Allen (55), wife, born Thorp, Derbyshire;
- [3] William Allen (29), son, born Walsall;
- [4] John Allen (18), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Alfred Allen (15), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Joseph Jones (35), servant, agricultural labourer, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [7] Mary Branch (15), domestic servant, born Swansea, Wales:

James Allen was fined 10s and costs, on 7th March 1884, for opening his house before 12.30 on 2nd March.

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1884

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The licenses of James Allen, THREE CROWNS which had been suspended from the previous Sessions, were renewed, with a caution to the parties to be more careful in the future.”

Lichfield Mercury 16/3/1888 - Advert

“The THREE CROWNS, Hay Head, Sutton Road, Walsall.

Important Sale of Live and Dead Farming Stock, Household Furniture, &c.

Mr. T. Day, Junr, is favoured with instructions from the Executors of the late Mr. Jas. Allen to Sell by Auction, on Wednesday and Friday, March 21st and 23rd, 1888, the whole of the Live and Dead Farming Stock. Comprising 7 Cart Horses and 1 Nag Horse; 14 Head of Shorthorn Cattle, including 4 capital young Dairy Cows, 4 promising Coloury-in-Calf Heifers, 3 Barren Beasts, 2 Yearling Heifers, and 1 Yearling Bull; 29 Shropshire Ewes and their Lambs; 25 Pigs comprising Gilt and 7 Pigs, 2 Empty Sows, 2 Fat Pigs (about 12 scores), 2 Gilts, and 11 capital Store Pigs; 25 Couples of Fowl, 2 Drakes and 6 Ducks. The Usual Assortment of Agricultural Implements necessary for working 150 acre Farm. The Household Furniture consists of Dairy, Kitchen, and Bar Requisites, Sitting Room and Parlour Furniture, Pianoforte, the Contents of Five Bedrooms, and numerous other Effects.....”

1891 Census

Sutton Road – THREE CROWNS

- [1] Alfred G. Allen (24), unmarried, farmer and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Lilly Allen (26), sister, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Weston (15), general servant, born Newcastle;
- [4] William Tag (50), waggoner, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1892

“At the Walsall Petty Sessions Alfred Allen, THREE CROWNS INN, licensed victualler and farmer, was summoned for having a half-gill and a quarter-gill measure which were unstamped, for having five 56lb, two 28lb, one 14lb, and two 27lb weights which were light, and a scale which was 9lb against the purchaser. The Town Clerk (Mr. J. R. Cooper) prosecuted; and Mr. Jackson (Stanley and Jackson) defended.

The Town Clerk said that the unstamped measures were correct, so that he did not ask for a penalty with regard to them. He called the inspector (Mr. Whitworth), who stated that in a barn he found the weights and scale, which defendant told him were used for weighing oats and other things. The 56lb weights were from 6oz 4dr to 1oz light, one of the 7lb weights was 2oz 10dr light, and one of the 28lb weights 2oz 2dr light, the others being 1oz 12dr, 10dr, and 6dr light respectively. Defendant said that he did not use the weights in trade. The Town Clerk said the onus of proof of that lay on the defendant, who, however, could not be called. Mr. Jackson, for the defence, said that these weights and the scale were only used for obtaining rough estimates of the weights, and could be no injury to anyone.

The Bench ordered defendant to pay the costs on the first summons and 5s and costs on each of the others.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1892

“Walsall Harriers. Twelve members, good and true, pioneered by the faithful Sam Holmes (not Weller) had a very pleasant spin of about seven miles through some of our green birder-land of the ‘black country’ and starting at the good pace up Snowden, down Calder, taking the open at Sutton Road, via the canal side, up Daisy Bank (devoid of daisies now), along Skip Lane, out by the THREE CROWNS, down to the ‘Smith,’ through ‘Cuckoo Nook,’ over the gate into Bosty Lane, at a very sharp bat into the Aldridge Road, down Mellish, and home to the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street. The following ran: Sam Holmes (captain), J. Mold, S. Williams, Lawton, Lloyd, C. Bourne, W. Satchwell, J. Newton, H. Kingdom, Brandrick, Bayley, and Davis. Today they run to the COTTAGE INN (vice-president), Mr. F. Liggers, at 3.30.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1894

“Sydney Smith and John Smith (father and son), travelling gipsies, were charged with stealing a truss of hay, value 3s 6d, the property of Alfred George Allen, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the prosecution. Richard Wanwood, Gillity Greaves, Sutton Road, said he was engaged by Mr. Allen to cut two tons of hay. There were 25 trusses of hay in the rick yard. He subsequently missed one truss of hay which he found in a ditch near to defendant’s van, on the highway. He identified part of it as belonging to Mr. Allen.

Police-constable Parsons gave evidence as to arresting prisoners near Shenstone. In reply to the charge, the father said they stole no hay; but the younger defendant said they had bought the hay for 6d, at Burton-on-Trent.

Mr. James said no jury in the world would convict merely on the identification of the hay, and the case would be dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/11/1895

“Alfred Allen, landlord of the THREE CROWNS public-house, Sutton Road, was summoned for having kept open and sold during prohibited hours on Sunday.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who defended, pointed out that his client thought that Daw End, whence the customers came, was outside the three mile radius, and the Bench dismissed the case with a caution, on payment of costs.

The five men – John, Enoch, and Jonah Fergusson, William Anson, and William Martin, who comprised the customers, were each fined 1s and costs for having been on licensed premises during prohibited hours.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Licensed Victuallers.....

Alfred Allen, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, November 29th, 1895, selling during prohibited house, to pay costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/6/1900

“Yesterday, Mr. H. A. Pearson held an inquest at the BELL INN, Birmingham Road, Great Barr, respecting the death of Anthony Cunningham (70), labourer, who died on Monday evening. Deceased was employed by Mr. A. Allen, farmer, of the THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, and was standing on a ladder reared up to a threshing-machine, when he was seen to fall with the ladder to the ground. He was picked up, but it was thought he had broken his neck, as death ensued almost immediately. A post-mortem examination, however, showed death to be due to syncope, resulting from cardiac degeneration. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1900

“Thomas Bayliss (36), labourer, of no fixed abode, was charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, when requested by the landlord, Alfred G. Allen.

It seemed that the defendant, with another man, were in complainant’s house the day previously, and because of their disorderly conduct were ordered to leave. They, however, refused to go, and the defendant’s mate threatened to burn the complainant’s ricks down if they were put out. With that the other man went away but the defendant commenced to use bad language and it was only with difficulty that he was ejected.

Fined 5s, including costs, or in default 7 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/6/1901

“Alfred Allen, of the THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, was summoned for driving a vehicle without a light in Ablewell Street, on May 21st, and was fined 5s, including costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 19/9/1902

“John Whitehouse, 42, Hill Street, Walsall, was charged with stealing two fowls, the property of George Hawley, dealer, Beacon Cottage, Barr Beacon, on Sept. 12.

Prosecutor gave evidence that hearing a scuffle with his fowls about 9pm, he went outside and saw two men and a woman running along the lane. A little way off they stopped, and when he got up to them, they asked him what was the matter. Witness commenced to call for help, and the prisoner, whom he could easily identify in the moonlight, walked back with him. On the way he stopped to pick something up, and witness found the fowl produced at that spot. The wire netting of the fowl pen was broken and two fowls missing. Next day witness accompanied PC Jackson and Detective Smith to Walsall, and identified the prisoner in the street. Prisoner, however, said he was at the THREE CROWNS INN at the time in question.

Alfred George Allen, landlord of the THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, stated that on the date in question the prisoner, another man, and a female, brought a puppy he had lost to his house. He rewarded them with 2s and served them with four pints of ale. They left about 8.30pm and returned again about 10 o’clock, afterwards leaving together about 10.30. Whilst away, they would have time to go to the house of the prosecutor.

PC Jackson spoke of the condition of the fowl pen and to finding feathers in the lane. When charged with the offence, prisoner said he was at the THREE CROWNS until nearly eleven o’clock, and denied having been with a female at all.

Prisoner, who elected to be dealt with summarily, was sentenced to 14 days’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1903

“John Toon, SWAN INN, Dudley Street, was summoned for allowing his horse to stray in Belvidere Road, on March, 30th, and Alfred Allen, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, was charged with a similar offence.

Police-constable Maskell proved the cases, and defendants were ordered to pay the costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1904

“For allowing five calves to stray on the Sutton Road on May 1st, Alfred Allen, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, was fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1905

“The members of the 2nd VBSSR had another battalion drill on Saturday, which developed into an interesting field day. With the exception of the two Wednesbury companies, the battalion concentrated at the Walsall Drill Hall, and proceeded to Great Barr.

The Wednesbury companies marched over the Delves in charge of a convoy, which they were endeavouring to get through to Aldridge. The headquarters of the attacking force were at the THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, and, with companies and sections thrown out in various directions, they succeeded in capturing the convoy, which was ultimately 'held up' near the reservoir....."

Walsall Advertiser 30/4/1910

"The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday morning.....

Mr. F. S. Wilson applied for a further temporary authority in respect of the THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road. He stated that the house had been purchased by Mr. Arthur Beebee. They had found out that their proposed tenant was an undischarged bankrupt, and they made that application so that he might obtain his discharge, as they were confident he would be a good man for the position. That license had only been transferred three times in 120 years, during which time it had been in the Allen family. The application was granted."

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

"A. Beebee's Noted Home-Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.

Houses.....

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, Walsall."

1911 Census

Sutton Road – THREE CROWNS

[1] Thomas Parkes (49), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Ellen Parkes (50), wife, married 26 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[3] Thomas Edward Parkes (16), son, county court clerk, born Walsall;

[4] Edward James Parkes (76), father, widower, retired coach trimmer, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Louisa Anslow (18), general servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Observer 28/11/1914 - Advert

"For Sale, large Float, in grand condition; or would exchange for a good Cob.

Apply, Thos. Parkes, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 19/12/1914 - Advert

"For Sale, a few grand young geese.

Apply, Thos. Parkes, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 28/11/1914 - Advert

"Wanted, as General, person 30 to 40 years of age.

Apply, Parkes, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road."

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1915

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.....

The following transfers were granted.....

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, from Thomas Parkes, deceased to Ellen Parkes."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road. £0 14s 8½d."

Walsall Observer 4/5/1918

"Gunner Thomas Edward Parkes, Royal Field Artillery, son of Mrs. Ellen Parkes, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, officially reported missing since the opening of the German offensive on March 21, is a prisoner of war, unwounded, in Germany, a postcard to that effect, dated March 28, having been received from him. A single young man, he went out to France in August last. Before joining the Army he was a clerk at the County Court, and was a member of Walsall VTC."

Walsall Observer 6/7/1918 - Advert

"Hens, laying, 50 to select from; also Kid Goat.

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road."

Walsall Observer 5/4/1924

"As a result of recent negotiations, the freehold licensed properties belonging to Messrs. Arthur Beebee Ltd, which include the DURHAM OX, Park Street; OLD STILL, Digbeth; THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road; Red Lion, Aldridge; MALT SHOVEL, Lower Rushall Street; GOLDEN LION, Birchills Street; the off license, 6, Camden Street; the brewery in Sandwell Street; and the lease of the FOX INN, Stafford Street, have been sold to the Highgate Brewing Co. Ltd, through Messrs. Fox and Harrison, FAI, of Walsall."

William Hargrove – see also BROWN LION.

George Henry Johnson – see also TURKS HEAD.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road.”

1939 Register

Sutton Road – THREE CROWNS INN Public House (2 of 3)

[1] Frank Morgan, date of birth 22/4/1887, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Lily Morgan, dob 15/6/1891, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Evening Despatch 7/3/1940

“Walsall licensing justices today..... The final special removal of the license of the THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, to new premises erected at the rear, was granted.”

Walsall Observer 27/4/1940 - Advert

“Bar-General, experienced, new house; at once.

Apply, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, Walsall.”

AND

“Barmaids, used to good-class trade; new house, M&B; at once.

Apply, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, Walsall.”

AND

“Barmen for weekends, experienced preferred; good-class trade, M&B.

Apply, THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 4/5/1940

“Walsall transfer sessions held at the Guildhall on Thursday.....

‘I don’t like to say it is the best in the borough, but it is certainly a wonderful house’ remarked the presiding justice announcing the grant of a special removal of the licence of the old THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, to premises that have been erected to a new building line, with the result that the site of the old house will be thrown into an important highway improvement.”

Walsall Observer 11/5/1940

“.....the general contractors for the Beacon Inn [Great Barr] (as well as for the new THREE CROWNS on Sutton Road, recently opened) were Deacon and Boardman, Ltd, Algernon Street, Walsall, and for both houses also the restful lighting-without-glare system was installed by the Truman Electrical Co, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 8/6/1940

“More public air-raid shelters are to be provided by the Walsall Town Council as follows.....

Old THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, approximate accommodation for 35 persons at an estimated cost of £100.”

Walsall Observer 20/7/1940 - Letter to Editor

“Sir, Now that it has outlived its usefulness in its original form, the old THREE CROWNS INN on the Sutton road offers the opportunity of valuable or ominous use. I notice this week that the windows are wide open, giving access to all rooms. The cellars are open too, and they would easily hold 20 or 30 men. The house commands a view of important main roads.

The point is obvious. Such a building would be a stronghold if taken by parachute troops; but, on the other hand, it would make an ideal LDV centre. Can something be done?

Yours, etc, ‘Awake’.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road. £5 4s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 22/11/1941 - Advert

“THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road, Walsall.

Dance on Wednesday next, November 26th, 1941. 6-30 – 10-0pm.

Ace of Spades Band.

Admission 2/- Refreshments.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road. £25 13s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

THREE CROWNS INN, Sutton Road. £0 0s 5d.”

London Gazette 3/9/1984

“Schofield, Linda Ann lately residing and carrying on business at The THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road Date of Order – 9th August 1984.....”

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

“Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We’ve a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, Walsall.”

[2008]

Closed [2011], [2017]

Express & Star 29/7/2017

“The owners of an illegal car wash set up on the site of a former pub once touted as a space for million pound mini mansions have been ordered to stop trading. The former THREE CROWNS pub on Sutton Road closed in 2007 and at one stage was set to be converted into a luxury home with indoor swimming pool, six bedrooms, five bathrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen and gym. Four other six-bedroom homes worth about £1 million each were planned to be built alongside the 1930s building, however plans were refused in 2010 and the site has since been used as an illegal car wash.

At a planning committee meeting next week, Walsall Council bosses are set to agree to proceed with enforcement action demanding that the car wash ceases and that a caravan being used as living accommodation on site be removed. The owners will be given three months to comply with the authority’s demands, which are to stop trading and clear the site, or face legal action.

Councillor Chris Towe, who represents the Pheasey Park Farm ward where the building is located, said, ‘In its heyday, the THREE CROWNS was a well used pub and it was a real landmark within the community. I have always considered the building to be something of an iconic building too, it was a key part of the area. Plans to build apartments on the site have been put forward over the years, which I really supported because I wanted us to keep the building but see it brought to life again. There was also a plan to turn it into one property but unfortunately for the applicant that couldn’t be done. It is looking a bit sorry for itself these days, the building is damaged and it doesn’t look great, so if the council want to pursue this action then I have to support that. It is on a key route into Walsall as well, so the worse it looks the more it will put people coming to Walsall.’

The owners of the car wash were given temporary permission to use the site in 2011 but the council are now looking to move them off to improve the chances of regenerating the site.

Walsall Council’s head of planning, Steve Pretty, said, ‘The hand car wash use previously gained temporary consent on this vacant site to allow for long term regeneration plans to come forward, such a scheme has not been forthcoming. The long term use of the site for a hand car wash is considered unacceptable as it has a detrimental impact on the visual amenity, of this prominent site and on the surrounding area, which is also important due to the location within the greenbelt.’”

Express & Star 22/6/2019

“A proposal to demolish an ‘iconic’ disused Walsall pub and replace it with luxury housing has taken a step forward. Walsall Council’s planning committee gave the go-ahead for the creation of an access road to a conservation area next to the THREE CROWNS INN on Sutton Road. Members unanimously approved the plan at a meeting last week without debate. The application is in connection with an existing proposal to tear down the empty pub and construct seven five-bedroom executive homes on the Green Belt site. There had been strong opposition to that proposal and planning officers had initially recommended refusal due to concerns over the impact the huge buildings would have on the conservation area. Residents had also called for the retention of the THREE CROWNS, calling it ‘iconic’ and an outstanding example of a 1930s pub building. But members disagreed and said the development would meet a need for more ‘aspirational housing’ in Walsall. The derelict building, which has been empty for more than a decade, with the boarded-up pub being labelled an ‘abomination.’”

Express & Star 23/7/2019

“A severe fire took place at a derelict pub in Walsall last night, thirty firefighters battled the blaze at the former THREE CROWNS

INN pub on Sutton Road. West Midlands Fire Service was called at 2.55pm. It is not yet known what caused the blaze. The pub was due to be torn down, after Walsall Council approved plans to build seven five-bedroom homes in its place.

A West Midlands Fire Service spokesman said, 'We have six crews about 30 firefighters in attendance. It is a severe fire at a three-floor public house. Two firefighters are wearing breathing apparatus and we have got two hose reel jets and one main water jet on the blaze.'

Police were in attendance to control traffic. Firefighters were planning to find out the cause of the blaze once the fire was extinguished."

Express & Star 28/2/2020

"A derelict pub which was set on fire last year will finally be demolished to make way for seven new homes – after sitting empty for more than a decade. The former THREE CROWNS INN, on Sutton Road, Walsall, was set alight in March 2019, just hours after planning permission was granted to demolish the building. A total of 30 firefighters tackled the severe blaze at its height, which took more than three hours to completely extinguish. The pub has sat empty since it closed in 2007 and has been neglected since the fire. But this month planning permission for the building to be demolished was finally granted. Work can now go ahead on building the seven new detached five-bedroom homes.

Leader of Walsall Council, and also ward councillor for Pheasey Park Farm, Mike Bird said the delay was because of negotiations being held with the land owners about keeping some of the green belt land back for nature conservation. He said, 'I think the residents who live in the vicinity, and who have questioned when things are going to get moving, will be pleased to know that the application to demolish the site has been approved. We hope now that demolition will happen as quickly as possible.' He added, 'The pub is in a very sorry state at the moment. There has been quite a delay but it was due to ecological reasons. We hope things will get moving very quickly now. We have been negotiating with the land owners about some of the land behind the site, about keeping it as a nature conservation area, but this has now been solved.'

The decision was originally delayed a year ago when the application first went to Walsall Council's planning committee, because the land is greenbelt and the application had to be referred to the government. Councillor Bird said he hoped demolition might take place in a matter of weeks."

THREE CUPS

17, (7), (8), Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Rathbone, factor, Birmingham
Mrs. F. Eglinton
Robert Breese, Park Street, Walsall
Joseph Russell
Ansells Ltd. [1921], [1925]

LICENSEES

John Scudamore [1812] – 1836
Maria Scudamore [1841] – [1845]
Thomas Spurrier [1847] – [1850]
George Shelley [1851]
Thomas Hartland [1855]
Thomas Hawkes [1857] – 1862;
Ann Hawkes (1862 – 1866);
Charles Day (1866 – [1870])
James Whittall [1871] – [1875];
Mrs. Mary Whittall [];
Joseph Lander [1879] – [1881];
James Rowley [1882] ?
Henry Kirkham [1885];
William Slater [] – 1886);
William Wilson (1886 – 1891);
Joseph Russell (1891 – 1901);
Lawrence [1896] ?
Charles Worley [1900] ?
William Plant (1901 – 1911);
Joseph Russell [1908] ?

Thomas Poole (1911 – 1921);
John Smith (1921 – 1924);
John Henry Brown (1924 – 1934);
John Durrant Brown (1934 – 1936);
Charles Baxter (1936);
Samuel Hollies (1936);
Elizabeth Hollies (1936 – 1937);
Joseph Seagar (1937 – 1938);
William Rickards (1938 – 1939);
Thomas Guest (1939 – 1940);
Florence Joan Guest (1940 – 1942);
William Heeley (1942 – 1950);
Arthur Yardley (1950 – 1952);
John Dilworth (1952);
William Ernest Cooling (1952 – 1953);
Stanley Lee (1953 – 1955);
Frederick Devaney (1955 – 1956);
Samuel Brotherton (1956 – 1959);

NOTES

7, Park Street [1860], [1861], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1873], [1881]
8, Park Street [1861]
17, Park Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1940]

CUPS [1892], [1909], [1915], [1940], [1941], [1944], [1945]
THREE CUPS HOTEL [1940]

Jones, a carrier to Birmingham, Stratford &c, left from here every Monday. [1822]
John Ling, a carrier to Manchester and Liverpool, left from here every Sunday and Tuesday. [1822]

A carrier left here, each Tuesday, for Cannock. [1830s]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/7/1832 - Advert

“Sale at the THREE CUPS, Park Street, Walsall, By J. Farrington.

To be Sold by Auction (under distress for rent) To-morrow (Tuesday) July 17, five excellent Horses, removed for convenience of sale to Mr. Scudamore's – comprising a stout grey horse, five years old, of the cart kind, brown mare, aged, stout grey mare, five years old, ditto yearling horse, colt and stout black horse.

Sale to commence at two o'clock precisely.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/1/1836 - Deaths

“On the 14th instant, after a short illness, in his 54th year, Mr. John Scudamore, maltster, and landlord of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall. He was deservedly respected by his friends, and his death is deeply lamented by his family and connexions.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/11/1843 - Notice

“If the Horse which was left at the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall, on the 5th of November inst. by Mr. Lane, is not fetched away on or before three o'clock in the afternoon of tomorrow (Tuesday) the 21st day of November, the same will be Sold by Auction to defray the expenses.

Walsall, Nov. 18, 1843.”

Commercial house and livery stables. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 29/5/1847

“Mary Ann Parsons was placed in the dock, charged by Mr. Thomas Spurrier, of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, in whose service the prisoner had been living until this last fortnight, with having while in his service stolen one shawl, one pair of drawers, five pieces of silk, and a quantity of other articles, his property. The wife of the prosecutor being sworn, stated that one evening in the last week she observed the prisoner pass her house with the shawl (one of the articles in question) on her person, and which she at once identified. She named the circumstance to her husband, who called upon Mr. Rofe, the chief constable of the borough, on whose recommendation a search-warrant was procured; she accompanied Mr. Rofe to the prisoner's mother's house, where she saw the property in question taken from the prisoner's box by him (Mr. Rofe). Mr. Rofe deposed to searching the boxes of the prisoner, whom he also apprehended. She stated that she had bought the shawl of a travelling hawker, who was in the habit of coming to the house of prosecutor. She was fully committed for trial.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/6/1847

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.

Mary Ann Parsons pleaded guilty to an indictment for stealing one shawl and a quantity of other articles of wearing apparel, the property of her master, Mr. Thomas Spurrier, on the 5th of May last, at Walsall. The prosecutor recommended the prisoner to mercy, and the Court sentenced her to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour for one calendar month.”

Wilkes, a carrier to Bloxwich, left from here daily. [1849]

Ickers, a carrier to Cannock, left from here every Tuesday at half past 4. [1849]

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/2/1850 - Advert

“To be Disposed of by Private Contract, by H. Farrington, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of that old established Inn, and Market Tavern, known as the THREE CUPS, in the occupation of Mr. T. Spurrier, well situated in Park Street, being the principal leading thoroughfare of Walsall, and now doing a good business.

The above is a most desirable opportunity to any person wishing to take to an old established trade, as sufficient reasons will be given by the present proprietor for giving up the business.

Coming-in about £300.

For particulars, apply to H. Farrington, Appraiser, Lichfield Street; or to the Proprietor, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 23/11/1850 - Advert

“One Pound Reward.

Lost, on Tuesday evening last, from the Stabling of the THREE CUPS, Park Street, a Brown Bitch Greyhound; black nose, scar on loin and hind-leg, and answers to the name of ‘Gip.’

Any person restoring the same to the owner, Mr. David Walker, SWAN INN, Bloxwich, shall receive the above Reward.”

1851 Census

Park Street

[1] George Shelley (38), innkeeper, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Shelley (44), wife, born Colwich, Staffordshire;

[3] Thomas Shelley (13), son, born Walsall;

[4] Edwin Shelley (11), son, born Walsall;

[5] John Loat (21), servant, born Walsall;

[6] Mary Parkman (26), house servant, born Aston, Warwickshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/2/1855 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, at the house of Mr. Thomas Hartland, sign of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall..... four substantially erected Dwelling Houses, near to the Stafford Street toll gate.....”

Thomas Hawkes = Thomas Hawkins

Walsall Free Press 7/2/1857

“William Wootton, a bullet-headed looking fellow, dressed in the garb of an excavator, was charged with obtaining money under false pretences. Thomas Hawkes is the landlord of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street. The prisoner went to his house on Thursday night, and began to tell – at least we believe he told – a very deplorable tale about a very deplorable accident which had happened at one of his pits. We must here tell our readers that he represented himself as a collier in a very large way; and this tale was, that he had lost seventeen horses and three men. He had given all his money to the widows of these poor creatures, and he just wanted to borrow three shillings. This amount the landlord of the THREE CUPS lent him, and the prisoner having promised that he would on the following day take a load of coal to him. William Letts is a provision dealer in Blue Lane. About a quarter to ten o’clock on Thursday night, he was sitting in the ODD FELLOWS ARMS. The prisoner was there also. He represented himself as Mr. Knowles, of Pelsall Wood. Here he reiterated that same pitiful tale, and asked the witness if he would be kind enough to lend him four shillings. Witness refused to do it, and the prisoner immediately left. He followed him, and found him ultimately at the RED LION, where he was taken into custody. The Bench thought there was sufficient evidence to send the case to the Sessions. To that tribunal he was consequently committed.”

Walsall Free Press 18/7/1857

“William Henry Duignan, Esq, solicitor, appeared to a complaint against him of allowing his dog to be at large on Saturday morning. Mr. Duignan admitted the fact, but at the same time stated his servant man had opened the gates, and the dog had for a short time obtained his freedom. The Bench were about to fine him five shillings and expenses, but Mr. Duignan objected to this as an unusual if not an illegal fine. The penalty inflicted was one shilling and expenses. Thomas Hawkes, at the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, was fined for the same offence 2s 6d and expenses. Now we have no desire whatever to call into question, or interfere with, any decision of the Guildhall Bench of Magistrates; but here are two cases brought before them precisely of the same character, and presenting exactly the same features, but are treated in different ways. Surely one of the defendants must have been favoured, or the decision towards the other must have been wrong.”

Walsall Free Press 1/8/1857

“Benjamin Jones, a driver for Mr. Bird, of the BRADFORD ARMS INN, charged Thomas Hawkes, landlord of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, with an assault under the following circumstances: The complainant drove the defendant and some others to Chillington on Thursday, but no gratuity having been given, he called on Hawkes the following night to ask for the same, when complainant told him he was sadly too fast, and struck him. Several witnesses were called who testified that the complainant was very abusive, and gave great provocation to the defendant. Mr. Sill defended. The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1858

“Brewster Sessions.....

Mr. Day expressed his surprise that there was no report against the landlord of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, whose house was one of the most disorderly in town. Fights were of common occurrence in the house. On one occasion he had himself to interfere to save some children who were in danger of being killed in one of these rows. They had been told by Mr. Cater that what the police did not see they could not make a report of; but if the case were adjourned for eight days, he was prepared with, and would produce evidence to show, that on one occasion, when a fight was going on, a public officer was present. Unless therefore the officer was at the time mesmerised, he must have seen the fight as well as the other by-standers. Another source of complaint, by the residents in the vicinity of the THREE CUPS, was the musical performance kept up in the house every Sunday evening, and which was the means of attracting crowds of people to the house, to the great annoyance not only of the residents in Park Street, but also to the passers by. Mr. Day contended that it was almost impossible for the police to have escaped noticing some of the disorderly acts of Mr. Hawkes, who not unfrequently shut his house, and after turning off the gas, lighted lamps and placed them on the counter.

After hearing the remarks of Mr. Day, the Bench consented to an adjournment of the application for eight days.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1858

“There was a full Bench of Magistrates at the adjourned Licensing Court, which was held in the Guildhall yesterday, for the purpose of considering those cases of licensed victuallers whose licenses were suspended at the former Court.....

In the case of Mr. Hawkes, landlord of the THREE CUPS public-house, in Park Street, whose license had been suspended from the last Court day, Mr. Smith, solicitor, of Birmingham, appeared for the applicant. Mr. Wilkinson, solicitor, appeared for Mr. Day (one of the borough Magistrates), who had objected to Mr. Hawkes receiving a certificate. That gentleman had instructed him (Mr. Wilkinson) to inform the Bench that now he had no objection that Mr. Hawkes should receive his license, hoping that the suspension in question would tend to make him prudent in the future management of his house. After a few observations by Mr. Smith, as to the cause of the obstruction by Mr. Day – circumstances as related by the learned gentleman which occurred twelve months ago – Mr. Hawkes obtained his certificate, and the Licensing Court proceedings terminated.”

Walsall Free Press 24/11/1860 - Notice

“Court Garibaldi, No.3533, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, was Opened at the House of Mr. Thomas Hawkes, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Wednesday, the 14th of November, 1860.

Any Friend feeling a desire to become a Member of this Society may obtain every information from the Secretary Mr. H. J. Duignan, 35, Day Street.”

[This was repeated for several weeks.]

1861 Census

8, Park Street

- [1] Thomas Hawkes (31), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Hawkes (30), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas Hawkes (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] James Hawkes (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William Hawkes (2), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ann Hawkes (7 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Ann Hartley (36), general servant, born Wednesfield;
- [8] Susannah Feredy (19), general servant, born Bilston;
- [9] William Reynolds (18), manservant, born Treason (?), Staffordshire:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/5/1862

“A match has been made between S. Tolty and C. Fowler (both of Walsall) to run 120 yards at Aston Cross Grounds, Birmingham, June 9, for £10 a side. £5 a side is in the hands of Mr. Thos. Hawkes, of the THREE CUPS INN, Walsall, who is to be the final stakeholder, and a further deposit of £1 a side is to be made May 19, at Mr. David Wood’s, Caldmore, Walsall. Mr. J. Coates of Birmingham is to be referee, and the men are to go by mutual consent in 15 minutes, or by report of pistol. To be at the scratch at three o’clock.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/5/1862

“William Lyons, fish hawkker, was charged with having behaved in a disorderly manner, in the house of Mr. Hawkes, the THREE CUPS INN, on Saturday last. He was convicted and fined 1s and costs, or seven days’ imprisonment.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/8/1862

“W. Springthorpe and C. Poley. These Walsall men continue to make good their various deposits for their 100 yards match, for

£10 a side, which comes off at Aston Cross Grounds on Monday, Aug 25. A further deposit of £1 10s a side must be made at Fleming's, the RING OF BELLS, Walsall, on Monday, Aug 18, and the final on Saturday, Aug 23, at the final stakeholder's (Mr. Hawkes's), the THREE CUPS INN, Walsall."

Walsall Free Press 20/12/1862 - Deaths

"On the 15th inst, aged 36 years, Mr. Thomas Hawkes, of the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; deeply regretted."

Walsall Free Press 13/2/1864

"On Thursday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the THREE CUPS, Park Street, upon the body of William Hawkes, aged five years, son of the landlady, Mrs. Hawkes. From the evidence it appeared the deceased came by his death under the following circumstances.

During the recent severe weather, a fire had been kept in the bed-room where deceased slept, and, about a quarter past seven o'clock, on Monday morning, the poor little fellow, in the absence of the servant, got to the fire, and lighted a piece of paper with which he accidentally ignited his clothes. Before the flames could be extinguished, he was so severely burned that he died in the course of the same evening. The Jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Walsall Free Press 3/2/1866

"Mrs. Ann Hawkes, landlady of the THREE CUPS, Park Street, was charged with having, on the 24th inst, had her house open between the hours of one and four.

Mr. Matthews, who appeared for the defendant, admitted the charge, but stated that there had been a supper at the house, and defendant had neglected to apply for an extension of time.

As this was defendant's first offence, she was only fined 2s 6d and costs."

London Gazette 29/6/1866

"Ann Hawkes, of Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the Court of Bankruptcy, for the Birmingham District, on the 31st day of May, 1866, which said Petition and the proceedings thereunder were, on the 18th day of June, 1866, transferred to the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass her Last Examination, and make application for her Discharge, will be held at the said Court, at the Court-house, Goodall-street, Walsall, on the 28th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, junr., of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/11/1866

"At the County Court, on Saturday, A. M. Skinner, Esq, Judge, presiding, the following bankruptcy cases were dealt with:—Ann Hawkes, licensed victualler, Walsall. Adjourned last examination. Certain accounts ordered at the last examination having been just filed, a further adjournment until the 13th of December was made....."

1871 Census

7, Park Street

- [1] James Whittall (36), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Anne Whittall (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Clara A. Whittall (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Lizzie A. Whittall (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Frederick Whittall (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Helen Whittall (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Alice Whittall (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Anne Whittall (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Alexander Whittall (2), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Emma L. Whittall (5 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/9/1874

"Walsall Dog Show Black and Tan Terriers, Dogs or Bitches (twenty-four entries).....

3rd 'Guess', 2 years 4 months, Mr. James Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

"Defensio, Non Provocatio. Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the Merchandize Marks Act, 1862, and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord

Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association. Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association. Agents For Staffordshire.....

Walsall: S. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, 28, Ablewell Street; F. Weston, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street; G. Holden, ODD FELLOWS ARMS, 1, Stafford Street; G. Smith, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street; J. Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; J. H. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck."

James Whittall – see also IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street and FITTERS ARMS.

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1879 - Avert

"Notice Of Removal.

THREE CUPS, Park Street, Walsall.

Mr. J. Lander (Sole proprietor of the above House) Begs to inform his friends and the public generally that he has Removed from the COACH AND HORSES, Ablewell Street to the THREE CUPS, Park Street, where he hopes to receive a continuation of the liberal support he has had hitherto.

Wines, Spirits, and Ales, Of the finest qualities, in large or small quantities.

Families Supplied With Ales, &c."

[The advertisement was published regularly for several months.]

1881 Census

7, Park Street

- [1] J. Lander (51), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Lander (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary A. Lander (26), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Ernest B. Lander (18), son, insurance agent, born Chester;
- [5] Sidney N. Lander (8), son, scholar, born London;
- [6] Caroline Price (20), waitress, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Ellen Swan (18), general servant, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/2/1885

"Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Henry Kirkham, the THREE CUPS INN, Park Street, was, on the evidence of Sergeant Gore and Police-constable M'Garry, fined 20s and costs for having his house open at prohibited hours, viz. 12.15 on the previous Wednesday morning, when seven men were found in the smoke room, with glasses of liquor before them. The defendant was away from the house at the time."

Henry Kirkham – see also UNION TAP HOUSE, Wolverhampton, BARREL, Horseley Fields, Wolverhampton, DOG AND PHEASANT, Darlaston, and OLD BUSH, Darlaston.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

"At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Cotterell applied on behalf of William Wilson, the THREE CUPS, Park Street. Re-fused."

1891 Census

17, Park Street – THREE CUPS INN

- [1] William Wilson (31), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Wilson (31), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Wilson (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Frank Wilson (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William Wilson (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Alice Wilson (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Harry Wilson (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Thomas Wilson (18 months), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Harry Taylor (77), visitor, currier, born Manchester;
- [10] Betsy Taylor (61), visitor, born Birmingham;
- [11] Mary Wilson (27), sister, waitress, born Walsall;
- [12] Emma Turner (20), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [13] Annie Cherrington (13), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 7/4/1892 - Advert

"Wanted, smart, active Girl, 17 or 18, as Under Barmaid.

Apply, by letter only, stating experience and terms.

CUPS, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/9/1897 - Advert

“To be sold cheap, two National Cash Registers, in perfect order.
Apply, J. Russell, CUPS, Park Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The magistrates also want you to report to them at the next meeting with regard to the use of the THREE CUPS, in Park Street, and the RISING SUN, Green Lane. Whether these houses are being used solely for purposes under the Licensing Act.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the THREE CUPS, and the RISING SUN INN.....

With regard the THREE CUPS HOTEL and the RISING SUN INN, the questions were adjourned until the adjourned licensing day, and the clerk was directed to serve notices requiring the attendance of the licensees to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, and especially as to their houses being used for betting or other activities otherwise than purposes under the Licensing Act; and also for the licensee to show their adaptability for the carrying on of their licensed premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1899

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The THREE CUPS and the RISING SUN. The renewal of the licenses of these houses had also been postponed, notice having been given for the Bench that the occupiers, Mr. J. Russell and Mr. D. Noake respectively, would be required to come and give evidence as to whether the house had been properly conducted, having special reference to gambling, and also whether they were a necessity.

Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith) appeared on behalf of Mr. Russell; and Mr. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. H. H. Jackson on behalf of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Association) for Mr. Noake.

In regard to the THREE CUPS, Mr. Loxton said the Chief Constable had been requested to make a report on the conduct of the house.

The Chief Constable had a long report in front of him, but Mr. Disturnal at once rose, and argued that the applicant for the renewal of a license was entitled to have it renewed unless objection were made in proper form, and substantiated on evidence..... [There is then a lengthy discussion of legal matters.]

The justices then retired to consider the points raised, and after about three quarters of an hour’s deliberation they returned, and Mr. Loxton read out the decision as under.

With regards to the renewal of the license of the THREE CUPS and the RISING SUN, the magistrates having heard the arguments of Messrs. Plumptre and Disturnal, ruled the justices, having required the licensees to attend and apply for renewal, it is incumbent upon them to do so. At the same time, these are the first licenses brought up on notices until some affirmative evidence is given against them. Mr. Taylor can you give any evidence, or do you wish to ask for an adjournment?

The Chief Constable said he was not there to object, and had not given notice. He could offer no evidence except as to the number of houses in Park Street.

Mr. Loxton: Can you give affirmative evidence on the question of betting. – Chief Constable: None whatever.

Mr. Loxton: You cannot? – Chief Constable: I cannot.

Sergt. Pritchard was then put into the box, and gave evidence as to the number of houses there are in Park Street. He had known the THREE CUPS for some 17 years, and there has been no complaint against it to his knowledge.

Mr. Jupp: Do you know of any cases of betting in that house? – Witness: Not of my own knowledge.

Do you know a man named Reay? – I know him, but I don’t think he goes there betting.

Do you know Stone? – I know him, but I don’t know of my own knowledge that betting takes place there.

The Chief Constable said if the magistrates had instructed him privately to get information three or four weeks before, he might have got some information.

Mr. Disturnal (interrupting): That is amusing (laughter).

The Chief Constable said it was impossible to get any evidence, as the matter was made public, and people were put on alert.

Mr. Disturnal said no one had made a charge against the landlord of the THREE CUPS, and no one had made a charge against anyone who had used the house as a betting house. It was idle to think for a moment that such a case could be made out against the house – at any rate there was no evidence before the Court. He submitted that it was idle to argue whether the license were needed or not in Park Street, seeing that it had been there sixty years, and the population and requirements had increased enormously.

.....The Mayor said the magistrates had decided to renew both licenses.”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1900

“Mr. F. Bill applied for the transfer of the THREE CUPS, Park Street, from Joseph Russell to William Plant.

The applicant Plant was called and gave evidence that he was a manager.

In reply to Dr. Lynch, he stated that he had been a cellarman at the THREE CUPS. He denied that he had acted as messenger to carry telegrams from the Post Office.

Dr. Lynch: Do you keep a telephone in the house, or was there a telephone in the house?

Witness: Yes.

Dt. Lynch: What do you use it for?

Witness: I don't know, I don't use it.

Dr. Lynch: Was it used for betting purposes?

Witness: I don't know.

Dr. Lynch: Do you swear you don't?

Witness: Yes. I swear it.

Mr. Bill: There is no telephone in the house now?

Witness: No.

Dr. Lynch: I want to know whether he is a dummy to cover Mr. Russell. I want to find out if the man is a tenant.

Mr. Bill: In the case of a full license it is not necessary for a man to be a tenant. If anything goes wrong the man is responsible.

Dr. Lynch: Quite so, and he can be turned out and another put in, and another and another if necessary.

Dr. Lynch (to witness): Has the gambling which was carried on in that house been removed to School Street?

Mr. Bill: You are asking the man to incriminate himself.

Mr. Jupp: In other words, have you or Mr. Russell taken a house in School Street?

Mr. Bill: How can he answer for what Mr. Russell has done?

Mr. Jupp: Have you taken a house?

Witness: No. I have not.

The magistrates ordered this to stand over until the next Sessions, a temporary authority being granted in the interim."

Joseph Russell was a well known commission bookmaker, Wisemore. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

William Plant, THREE CUPS."

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

"The adjourned annual meeting of the Walsall Football Club was held at the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street, on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. J. Lee being in the chair. It was explained that the meeting had been called to complete the election of a committee and also to devise means to extinguish the debt which at present exists it was decided to commence a shilling fund, and it was also decided to have collecting boxes at the various licensed houses throughout the town."

Walsall Advertiser 16/4/1910

"The annual meeting of the Walsall Branch of the Typographical Association was held at the THREE CUPS HOTEL, Park Street, on Monday evening....."

1911 Census

17, Park Street

- [1] Thomas Poole (40), hotel manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Poole (39), wife, married 10 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Tom Poole (9), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Norman Poole (2 months), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Amelia Sarah Richards (41), visitor, born Walsall;
- [6] Ellen Richards (25), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [7] Elizabeth Frances Foxall (19), assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [8] Martha Neale (29), assisting in business:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

THREE CUPS, Park Street, Walsall, 4s 6d."

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1915

"A conference of local and district clubs was held, under the auspices of the Walsall and District Football Association at the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street, on Tuesday evening, to consider the question of arranging friendly matches during the ensuing season. In a circular letter which the secretary of the Association (Mr. E. Smith) had sent to the various clubs, it was pointed out that the F.A. had decided that no cups, trophies, or medals must be competed for, and no payments made to players; while one-third of the gate-money taken at matches must be devoted to charity; but it was thought that it would be in no way against the spirit of keen anxiety prevalent at the present time on account of the War, if a series of matches were arranged for the recreation and entertainment of those who are ineligible for Active Service or at work on Munitions. 'Indeed', the circular continued, 'it almost seems necessary that this should be done in order to relieve the tension and strain caused by present working conditions'."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
THREE CUPS, Park Street. £1 1s 0d.”

South Staffordshire Times 22/11/1919

“Mr. Joseph Russell, of Longwood House, Mellish Road, formerly of Park Street, Walsall, licensed victualler, who died on July 30th last, left an estate of the gross value of £56,935 15s 5d, with net personalty £26, 252 3s 1d.”

‘Walsall Pubs: A History’ by John Cockayne

“.....In 1925 it was an Ansell's house, the survey of that year describing it being an ‘old property in very good order’, the Public Bar was 33’6” x 15’10” x 11’3” with a Bar snug, Smoke Room, Club Room, and four bedrooms.”

John Harry Brown – see also PRINCE, NEW INN, RED LION, NEW STATION.

Walsall Observer 18/11/1939

“In a list of license transfers were two instances where a wife is taking over now that her husband had been called to the Colours, the license of the ROSE AND THISTLE, Wednesbury Road, being transferred to Hilda Summer, and that of the CUPS, Park Street, to Florence Joan Guest.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1940

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District licensed Victuallers’ Society at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street on Thursday.....
Mrs. Florence Guest, THREE CUPS HOTEL, Park Street.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
CUPS HOTEL, Park Street, £1 19s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 10/5/1941

“Well-known for many years as a licensee in Walsall and Birmingham, Mr. John Harry Brown died on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cronin, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, with whom he had resided since he retired about eight years ago. He was in his 79th year, and had been ill for about a month.
Eldest son of John Brown, a well-known Walsall cricketer, who for twelve years headed the town club’s batting averages (and who had at times played with or against some of the most famous men of his time, including the Graces, Parr, Minn and Daft), the late Mr. Brown himself, like several of his brothers, took an active part in the game and assisted the town club.
He left the currying trade to take his first licensed house, the PRINCE BLUCHER, Stafford Street, and among other Walsall licenses he held were those of the NEW INNS and the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street. He had been at the latter before his retirement and it was while he was there that his wife died eleven years ago. He had been a member of both the Walsall and Birmingham licensed victuallers’ societies. He leaves six sons and a daughter. The funeral took place at Ryecroft Cemetery on Thursday.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
THREE CUPS HOTEL, Park Street. £13 13s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 16/1/1943

“John Frederick Smith (26), aircraft worker, 15, Eldon Street, did not appear to answer a summons for wilfully damaging six drinking glasses and a jug, valued at 10s, at the CUPS HOTEL, Park Street, on December 24. He sent a letter in which he said ‘I tried to quell the bother and in the scuffle may have unknowingly done the damage complained of.’
Leslie Arthur Allman, Birchills Street, stated that he was in the lounge whilst there was a row going on in the passage outside, and Smith, in attempting to pick up a chair, knocked over a table on which the glasses and jug were standing, with the result that they fell to the floor and were broken.
Further evidence having been given by William Heeley, the licensee, and Police-constable Doughty the magistrates imposed a fine of £2 and ordered the defendant to pay in addition 10s for the damage and £2 10s special costs.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
THREE CUPS HOTEL, Park Street. £2 11s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 5/2/1944 - Advert

“Wanted, a Woman Cleaner, mornings only, 8 till 11.
Apply the CUPS, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1945 - Advert

“Bar Help Wanted, several barmaids kept.
The CUPS, Park Street, Walsall.”

William Heeley – see also COTTAGE.

It closed on 27th May 1959.

THREE HORSESHOES

Lichfield Road, Rushall, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Eaton [1818] – [1844]

Henry Cooper [1845] – [1850]

Edward Edgerton [1854] – [1862]

Henry Egerton [1861]

Joseph Yates [1868]

John White [1872]

NOTES

An auction was held at the house of Mr. Thomas Eaton on Friday the 23rd day of May, 1828.

Staffordshire Gazette 18/5/1839

“Mr. Eaton, landlord of the THREE HORSE-SHOES, Rushall, charged Thomas Emery with an assault, and with refusing to leave complainant’s premises on the 21st of April last. Emery came in a quarter before ten at night, and at first he was told he could not have a drink, but on his promising to quit as soon as he had taken it, some was drawn for him, and the landlord went to bed leaving his wife up. When Emery had finished the ale he wanted more, which Mrs. Eaton objecting to fetch, he used the most violent language. The landlord was called up, and on his coming down stairs a scuffle ensued, the defendant striking him violently several times. The Bench fined Emery 2s 6d and costs, and in default of payment he was committed for a fortnight to Stafford gaol.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/3/1844 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction, by T. Franklin, at the House of Mr. T Eaton, the THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, on Wednesday, the third day of April, 1844, at six o’clock in the evening subject to conditions then to be produced:

All that well-accustomed Freehold Public House, called the THREE HORSE SHOES, situated in the centre of the village of Rushall, and fronting the Walsall and Lichfield Turnpike Road, with two large Club Rooms, excellent Sleeping Rooms, large Front Parlour, capital Kitchen, Brewhouse, spacious Cellaring, Store Rooms, Blacksmith’s Shop, and convenient Out-Offices.

The above desirable Premises are well situated for a Wheelwright, Blacksmith, or for Parties wishing to connect any other Trade with the Public Business. Two large Societies meet at the house, which is doing a good share of business. Payments are low, and immediate possession may be had. Part of the purchase money may remain on mortgage. There is likewise a Pew in Rushall Church to be disposed of at the same time. If the Premises are not sold, the House will be let to any respectable Tenant, and the Fixtures, Stock, &c. taken at a valuation.

About five acres of excellent Land may be rented with the House if required.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Walsall; or to Mr. T. Eaton, who will shew the Premises.”

Henry Cooper was also a butcher. [1845], [1849]

Edward Edgerton = Edward Egerton

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/5/1854

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

The following prisoners were found guilty during the day, and were sentenced.....

Thomas Startin, for stealing a child’s coat from the THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, the property of Edward Egerton, three months’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

“Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Edward Egerton, licensed victualler, the THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, was fined 7s 6d and costs, for having three unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders.”

1861 Census

Lichfield Road, Rushall

- [1] Edward Edgerton (44), victualler and mine sinker, born Shunley, Shropshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Edgerton (40), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Eli Edgerton (17), son, butcher, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Miriam Edgerton (14), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Edwin E. Edgerton (12), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Job Edgerton (9), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [7] Thomas Edgerton (6), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [8] Joseph Edgerton (4), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [9] William Edgerton (1), son, born Rushall;
- [10] Elizabeth Blanton (19), general servant, born Market Weston, Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/6/1861

“Mr. Henry Egerton, THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, was fined 10s and costs for an assault on Mr. Henry Beech, farmer, occasioned by a dispute about impounding a horse.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/9/1868

“Rushall, Tuesday. Adjourned Licensing Meeting.

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Mr. S. Harrison, the HAWTHORNE TREE free beerhouse, Walsall Wood, for a spirit license. Mr. Dale (from the office of Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) opposed the application, on behalf of Mr. T. Jackson, the RED LION INN, and it was refused.

Of the holders of existing licenses, Alfred Stokes, RAILWAY INN, Pelsall; Thomas Jackson, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood; and James Parkes, Daw End, were cautioned.

The licenses of James Yates, (?) the THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, was suspended, and the case of Charles Taylor, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Walsall Wood, was adjourned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/9/1872

“The annual licensing meeting took place yesterday at the Police Court.....

John White, THREE HORSE SHOES, Rushall, Mr. Rowland, Birmingham appeared in support of the application, which was refused.”

THREE MEN IN A BOAT

Stephenson Avenue, Beechdale Estate, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Frank Myatt Ltd.
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Thomas Hateley (1958 – 1959);
James Salmon (1959 – 1961);
William Raymond ‘Bill’ Bonham (1961 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened on 4th September 1958.
The license was transferred from the BRIDLE CUTTERS ARMS.

William Thomas Hateley – see also BRIDLECUTTERS ARMS.

William Raymond Bonham was married to Betty.

He was the father-in-law of Edward Levy of the NAGS HEAD (BEACON WAY), Little Bloxwich.
See also KNAVE OF HEARTS.

[1984]

Closed

Express & Star 17/5/2021

“A former pub has been demolished and foundation work for 12 homes has begun. The new houses are being built on the site of the former THREE MEN IN A BOAT pub site on Stephenson Avenue, Walsall, by the Longhurst Group. The site was also the home of the group’s offices, before they were relocated to Stephenson Square.

Nick Worboys, director of development and sales at Longhurst Group, said, ‘We’re delighted with the progress being made on this site and we’re looking forward to seeing this new affordable housing provision being delivered. As outlined in our Improving Lives strategy, we’re committed to building the homes people want, where they’re needed most and we know these homes will be a great asset to residents of Beechdale. The redevelopment of this site has been a priority for us as a group since we relocated our offices onto Stephenson Square a number of years ago. It’s stood redundant since then and we’re delighted to see our development aspirations becoming a reality. I want to thank residents in the local area for their understanding and cooperation while building works are taking place. We also hope that this work will help combat the anti-social behaviour that we know can take place at times.’

The 12 two-bedroom homes that are built on the site will be available for affordable rent and are scheduled for completion in December.”

Express & Star 30/4/2022

“A dozen affordable homes have been built on the site of a former pub where the band that became Slade once rehearsed at. Housing provider Longhurst Group has transformed the previously derelict site at Stephenson Avenue, Beechdale, Walsall, with the two-bedroom homes, which have been made available on an affordable rent basis. The site, which was once the THREE MEN IN A BOAT pub, was most recently the group’s offices on the estate, but had stood empty since 2015 when they were relocated to Stephenson Square. The homes, which were partly funded through money received from the sale of 40 Longhurst Group properties through the Voluntary Right to Buy pilot in the West Midlands, have now been handed over by contractors and new residents have started moving in.”

THREE SWANS AND PEAL

16, Peal Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Sheldon, widow, Walsall Street, Willenhall
William Jackson, High Bullen, Wednesbury

LICENSEES

George Adderley [1811] – [1835]
Samuel Sumner [1841] – [1861]
Susan Sumner [1861]
Louisa Sumner [1862]
William Edwin Perigo [1864] – 1865;
Mrs. Selina Taylor (1865 – [1866]
William Wood [] – 1868);
John Dealey (1868 – []
Joseph Done [1871] – 1891);

NOTES

THREE SWANS [1754], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1841], [1842]

THREE SWANS AND PEAL [1837], [1850], [1864], [1866], [1867], [1868], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1887], [1890]
SWAN AND PEAL [1864], [1865], [1868]

It was known locally as 'The House that Jack Built'.

It was a coaching house on the Wolverhampton to London route. [1754]

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1837 - Deaths

"On Tuesday last, aged 86, Mr. George Adderley, many years landlord of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street, Walsall."

Samuel Sumner = Samuel Sumners

1851 Census

Peal Street

- [1] Samuel Sumner (46), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Sumner (47), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Ellen Clary (18), house servant, born Ireland;
- [4] Richard Green (67), lodger, bridle cutter, born Little Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [5] Richard Turpin (41), lodger, painter, born Bath;
- [6] George Richard Turpin (18), lodger's son, painter, born Ireland;
- [7] Andrew Clark (18), lodger, porter, born Stowe, Gloucestershire;
- [8] William Moss (54), lodger, stone mason, born Stowe, Gloucestershire;
- [9] George Moss (28), lodger's son, stone mason, born Rudeley, Staffordshire;
- [10] Thomas Morris (30), lodger, porter, born Wellington, Shropshire:

1861 Census

16, Peal Street

- [1] Susan Sumner (67), widow, innkeeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Alfred Tibbetts (12), grandson, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Charlotte Bradbury (16), servant, born Wednesfield;
- [4] John Wallace (35), boarder, painter, born Brighton, Sussex;
- [5] Charles Smith (36), boarder, painter, born Worcester;
- [6] Thomas Smith (15), boarder, scholar, born Worcester;
- [7] Robert Brown (41), boarder, harness maker, born Scotland;
- [8] Henry T. Holt (20), boarder, wheelwright, born Cheltenham;
- [9] Thomas Staffins (38), boarder, japanner, born Kent;
- [10] James Preston (47), boarder, blacksmith, born Houghton, Leicestershire;
- [11] William B ____ (24), boarder, carrier, born Newcastle upon Tyne;
- [12] Thomas Holt (49), boarder, plater, born Walsall;
- [13] Thomas Humphreys (45), boarder, gentleman, born Trefeglwys, Montgomeryshire;
- [14] William Willetts (22), boarder, harness maker, born Halesowen;
- [15] Matthew Johnson (45), boarder, labourer, born Fillongley, Warwickshire:

William Edwin Perigo = William Edwin Perigos

Walsall Free Press 12/3/1864

"John Connelly was charged on a warrant with having, on Tuesday last, assault Mr. Perigo, landlord of the SWAN AND PEAL public-house, Peal Street. It appeared that the prisoner had gone into complainant's house, and created a disturbance, and, on Mr. Perigo attempting to turn him out, he assaulted him, and threatened to run a knife into him. James Blakemore and Samuel Perry having corroborated the complainant's statement, the prisoner was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for twenty-one days."

Walsall Free Press 14/5/1864 - Advert

"Pig To Be Given Away.

Opening of the Quoit Ground and Skittle Alley, Mr. W. E. Perigo's, THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Walsall.

A capital Ground in good Order.

Whit-Monday, May 16th, 1864.

Bowling for the Pig Commences at Eleven in the Morning.

Good Accommodation for Travellers."

Walsall Free Press 18/6/1864 - Advert

"A Pig To Be Bowled For, On Monday, June 20th, 1864, at W. E. Perigos's, THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street, Walsall."

London Gazette 13/12/1864

“This is to give notice, that the Court acting in the prosecution of a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, on the 12th day of October, 1864, by William Edwin Perigo, of Peel-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, formerly of the same place, Licensed Victualler, Bridle Buckle Plater, and Dealer in Clothes, trading in the name of William Perigo, did, on the 5th day of December, 1864, grant the Discharge of the said William Edwin Perigo; and that such Discharge will be delivered to the bankrupt, unless an appeal be duly entered against the judgment of the Court, and notice thereof be given to the Court.”

Walsall Free Press 11/3/1865 - Advert

“THREE SWANS & PEAL, Peal Street, Walsall.

To Be Let, the above Old Licensed Public House, now doing a good trade. Entry to suit convenience.

Apply to Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 7/10/1865

“Thomas Cook, landlord of the RED LION, Park Street; Henry Perkins, landlord of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON, Birmingham Street; and Mrs. Taylor, landlady of the SWAN AND PEAL, were charged with having had their houses open to entertain friends; each was cautioned and ordered to pay costs.

The Mayor intimated that in all cases where victuallers require to keep their houses open beyond the time fixed by law, they should apply to the bench in petty session for a special license.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/10/1866

“At the Free Library, yesterday, Mrs. Taylor, of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street, was fined 5s and costs for having sold ale during prohibited hours on the afternoon of Sunday week.”

London Gazette 27/11/1866

“Selina Taylor, Widow, of Peel-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Stafford, holden at Walsall, on the 5th day of November, 1866, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass her Last Examination, and make application for her Discharge, will be held at the said Court, on the 12th day of December next, at the Court-house, Goodall-street, Walsall, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederick F. Clarke of Walsall is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, Junior, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/12/1866

“At the County Court on Wednesday, the under-mentioned bankrupts came before A. M. Skinner, Esq, QC, Judge, for their last examinations and orders of discharge.....

Selina Taylor, licensed victualler, Peel-street, Walsall, supported by Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duigan, Lewis and Lewis), Mr. Mathews (from the office of Mr. Wilkinson) appearing for the assignee. Certain accounts, which were ordered at the last examination, not having been filed in time, the examination was adjourned until the 23rd of January.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/1/1867 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, the Old-licensed Public House, called the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, 16, Peal Street, Walsall. In-coming not to exceed £120.

Apply at the Offices of Mr. Sheldon, Solicitor, Wednesbury; or to Mr. Horobin, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

London Gazette 5/2/1867

“Selina Taylor, Widow, of Peel-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, adjudicated bankrupt on the 5th day of November, 1866. An Order of Discharge was granted by the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 23rd day of January, 1867.”

Walsall Free Press 8/8/1868 - Advert

“Court Of Exchequer Of Pleas.

Sheldon v. Wood and Another.

THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction by John Osbourn, upon the premises as above, on Tuesday Next, August 11th, 1868, under an execution from the above Court, and Distraint for Rent, all the Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, and other Effects, belonging to Miss F. Wood, &c, comprising chairs, tables, bedsteads and beds, bed-linen, pianoforte (quite new by Harris), bagatelle board, balls and cues complete, 5-pull beer machine, 2 large copper boilers, 14-bushel mash tub, ale barrels, licenses, &c, &c.

Sale to commence at Ten o'clock, under the usual conditions.”

London Gazette 25/9/1868

“William Wood, of No.33, Duncalfe-street, in the foreign of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, out of business, formerly of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL INN, Peal-street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, and before then of No.22, Lower Hall-lane, Walsall aforesaid, Auctioneer and Valuer, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 19th day of September, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 6th day of October next, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Thomas Brevitt, of Darlaston, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/12/1868

"Walsall Bankrupts.....

William Wood, licensed victualler, Walsall, came up for his adjourned last examination and passed, conditionally on his paying into court £3 2s 6d, the value of certain furniture in his possession at the time of his bankruptcy."

Demolished

Rebuilt

1871 Census

16, Peal Street

- [1] Joseph Done (40), publican, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Done (40), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Sarah A. Done (15), daughter, scholar, born Aldridge;
- [4] Charles Done (13), son, scholar, born Aldridge;
- [5] Jemima Done (11), daughter, scholar, born Aldridge;
- [6] Hannah Done (9), daughter, scholar, born Aldridge;
- [7] Maryann Ellis (23), general servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Thomas Done (48), boarder, wheelwright, born Hatherton, Staffordshire;
- [9] James ___beater (25), boarder, harness maker, born Scotland;
- [10] Richard Price (27), boarder, saddler, born Nottingham;
- [11] William F ___ (32), boarder, saddler;
- [12] Samuel Hill (27), saddler;
- [13] Frederick Howard (33), boarder, saddler;
- [14] Margaret Howard (22), boarder;
- [15] William Spears (33), boarder, cooper:

Walsall Free Press 8/7/1871

"Louisa Lynes was fined 1s 6d and costs, for having broken a drinking glass the property of Joseph Done, of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/1/1873

"At the County Court, on Wednesday, before Mr. A. Martineau, QC, Judge, Joseph Done, of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL INN, Peal Street, brought an action against Mr. C. W. Stevens, inspector of nuisances, for the sum of £10 as damages for trespass and improper seizure of the carcass of a sow pig belonging to plaintiff. Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Young, instructed by Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie) for the defendant. In October last, the plaintiff had the sow in question killed, and sold the skin to a man named Roberts. While the remainder of the carcass, less intestines and head, was hanging in plaintiff's brewhouse, the Inspector visited the place, and pronounced the flesh unfit for human food, an opinion that was confirmed by Mr. Clarke, the assistant to Dr. Drewry, the medical officer of health. The plaintiff was then summoned for being in possession of meat which was unfit for human food, but the Bench after inspecting the carcass which had been seized, stopped the present proceedings. The plaintiff was examined and cross-examined, and he stated that the sow had suffered from a diseased shoulder for some time before he killed it, that he gave the head to a collier for his dog, and buried the intestines, and that his intention was to boil down the other parts of the carcass for pig food. His Honour then adjourned the case until some day in February, to be hereafter fixed, he having first ascertained that there was no probability of finishing the case that night."

Walsall Free Press 25/1/1873

"Ann Thornhill was charged with having stolen from the house of Joseph Done, landlord of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL public house, one table cloth, value 1s 6d. It appeared that on Tuesday morning the prisoner called for a glass of brandy, and remained reading the newspaper for about an hour and a half, when she called for a second glass of brandy. After the prisoner had left the house the cloth was missed, and was pledged the same day at Mr. Marshall's pawn shop, Ball Street, by the prisoner for 1s. Detective-sergeant Wood proved the apprehension of the prisoner. The prisoner, who elected to be tried by the Bench, was sentenced to six days' imprisonment."

Walsall Free Press 24/5/1873

"John Wilton Smith was charged with having stolen from the THREE SWANS AND PEAL public house, a hay knife, a bricklayer's hammer, and two brass taps, value 10s, the property of Joseph Done. It appeared a month ago the prisoner, who lodged with the prosecutor, left his house and took the articles, which were kept in a pantry, away. Prisoner, who had been apprehended at Wednesbury by Detective-sergeant Drewry, admitted the charge, and having elected to be tried by the Bench was sentenced to 21 days' hard labour. Prisoner was further charged with having stolen one truss of hay, the property of Joseph Freeman, and the charge having been proved, he was sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labour."

Walsall Free Press 30/8/1873

“Harriet Baynton and Jeremiah Trysull were charged with having stolen a silver watch, valued £7, the property of William Lowe. It appeared that on Saturday, the 9th inst, all the parties were in the SWAN AND PEAL public-house, Peal Street, and prosecutor went to the bar and requested the girl who was there lend him a needle and thread to sew a brace button on, and the female prisoner offered to sew it on for him. She did so, and in about ten minutes afterwards he missed his watch, and accused Baynton of taking it, but she denied all knowledge of it. Elizabeth Gabbes, sister of the female prisoner, said that on Sunday, the 10th inst, the female prisoner told her that she (prisoner) had stolen the watch, and that the male prisoner had sold it. Levi Evans, landlord of OLD NELSON AND PEAL, said the male prisoner came to his house and said, ‘I have something here I can sell cheap – it came cheap;’ but as someone came to the bar window the prisoner went away and came back in about half-an-hour and produced the watch, which was a silver one, with a silver dial and gold letters. Prisoner offered to sell the watch for £4 and said it cost £7 10s. Detective-sergeant Drury proved the apprehension of the female prisoner, who denied all knowledge of the watch. The male prisoner, who had been apprehended at Oldbury, also denied, when taken into custody, all knowledge of the watch. The prisoners, who pleaded not guilty, were remanded for a week.”

[At the Borough Quarter Sessions at the Guildhall, on 19th September, Harriet Baynton, who had previously been convicted, was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment, including two weeks’ solitary confinement, and Jeremiah Trysull to three months’ imprisonment, including one week’s solitary confinement.]

Walsall Free Press 13/12/1873

“Ellen Smith, for having on the 1st inst, been drunk and disorderly, and refusing to quit the THREE SWANS AND PEAL public house, was sentenced to pay a fine of £5 and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for one month – she had been previously convicted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/10/1876

“Joseph Done, of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, was fined 2s and costs for having three quart jugs each a quarter of a pint deficient.”

1881 Census

16, Peel Street

- [1] Joseph Done (51), publican, born Hatherton;
 - [2] Ann Done (50), wife, born Bloxwich;
 - [3] Jemima Done (21), daughter, barmaid, born Aldridge;
 - [4] Sarah Targett (25), daughter, widow, barmaid, born Aldridge;
 - [5] Thomas Willet (33), general servant, born Coggeshall, Essex;
 - [6] John Ross (51), lodger;
 - [7] George Hughes (51), lodger, no occupation;
 - [8] Jane Lovebridge (45), lodger;
 - [9] Annie Targett (7), granddaughter;
 - [10] Jarvis Bath (23), lodger;
 - [11] Mary Ann Parker (62), lodger, born Nottingham;
 - [12] Francis Parker (62), lodger;
 - [13] Ellen Parker (18), lodger, born Hanley, Staffordshire;
 - [14] John Beech (44), lodger, born Stoke on Trent;
 - [15] Walter Waite (51), lodger, born Lozanbury;
- [This is a very untidy and disorganised entry.]

Birmingham Post 1/1/1887

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Joseph Done, the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street, was on the evidence of Police-sergeant Alden and Police-constable Bowen, fined 40s and costs for having his house open after ten o’clock on Christmas Day. The Bench also ordered his license to be endorsed.”

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street.”

Birmingham Post 23/12/1890

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Ann Burn, of no fixed abode, was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days’ hard labour, for stealing a shawl, the property of Ann Done, of the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, Peal Street.”

1891 Census

16, Peel Street

- [1] Joseph Done (61), licensed victualler, born Hatherton;

- [2] Ann Done (59), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Annie Targett (17), granddaughter, general servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Kate Lees (29), general servant, born Walsall;
- [5] Edward Meason (40), lodger, brass dresser, born Walsall;
- [6] Gilbert Ingram (61), lodger, packing case maker, born Northfield, Worcestershire;
- [7] Ely Baines (57), lodger, saddler's smith, born Great Barr;
- [8] Stephen Doley (58), lodger, bricklayer's labourer, born Ireland;
- [9] Samuel Drew (40), lodger, poultry dealer, born Walsall;
- [10] William Bloomfield (54), lodger, pensioner, born Walsall;
- [11] Frederick Morgan (39), lodger, barber, born India;
- [12] Frederick Millington (42), lodger, hawker, born Birmingham:

Joseph Done was fined 20s and costs, on 16th May 1891, for supplying a drunken person.

The license renewal was refused at the Adjourned Licensing Meeting on 30th September 1891.

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/10/1891

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions for the borough took place on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Joseph Done, the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, applied for the renewal of his license, Mr. Plumtre (instructed by Mr. Cotterell) appearing on his behalf and Mr. G. Rose for the trustee to the owner of the property. The Chief Constable opposed on the grounds that the applicant had twice been convicted (in 1886 and 1890), that the house was of a disorderly character, and this license was not demanded by the requirements of the neighbourhood. He adduced evidence on these points, with regard to the license not being needed showing that within a radius of 220 yards there were 12 licensed houses, yielding one such house to rather less than nine private house....

The Bench refused Done's application and Mr. Rose gave notice of appeal.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1894

“At the Guildhall, on Monday, James Dyer, keeper of the STORES INN, High Street, applied for the transfer of the license of that house to himself from John Henry Tully, who supported the application. The case was before the court on the previous Friday, the special transfer day, when Tully failed to appear. The Chief Constable (Mr. Taylor) now intimated that he had given notice of objection.

Dyer was sworn and admitted that his wife kept a coffee house and lodging-house in Peal Street, but said he left the PEAL AND NELSON INN because of this, as the Chief Constable told him if he got any other house than this he would have no opposition. Mr. Taylor: I told him I would not agree to his keeping a license if he had a common lodging house a few yards away.

The applicant denied it was a common lodging house, but the Chief Constable explained it was formerly the THREE SWANS AND PEAL, and although not a registered lodging-house was frequented by people on the road who were not of a particularly good character. Proceeding Mr. Taylor said his present objection was that he was not satisfied as to the applicant's present character. Since Dyer had left the PEAL AND NELSON there had been continual uproar in that part of town between his wife and people of the name of Fahy, and something would have to be done about it.

The applicant said he was afraid there was something under the surface as regarded this opposition besides what had come out. It was not much good his doing anything against what the Chief Constable was able to do.

Mr. Loxton said there was no ground for such a statement as this. The magistrates would give him every consideration.

Mr. Brewer asked what he meant by something under the surface? – Dyer: Well, I will tell you; as it may well come out. In Mr. Holden's last election the Chief Constable sent Police-constable Bentley to my house, and he brought me up to his office. He said I hear you are taking an active part in this election, and if such is the case I shall have to oppose your license.

Mr. Moseley: On whose behalf was it? – Dyer: On behalf of Mr. Holden.

Mr. Brewer: Do you want to insinuate that because you were working for Mr. Holden the Chief Constable turned against you and warned you? – Dyer: I give you this statement, and you can take it for what it is worth.

Mr. Taylor asked to be allowed to meet this charge. It was perfectly true that he sent for this man and another man as well. It was at the last election, and he heard Dyer was getting a party of roughs together on behalf of Sir Arthur Holden, and that a man named Hunter, who was well known to the magistrates, was alleged to be getting another party of roughs together for Mr. Ritchie. He sent for both and warned each separately that if they had anything to do with any such thing he should have them bound over to keep the peace. This he did in the interests of the peace of the town.

Mr. Loxton: Certainly, that is obvious.

The applicant here said it was in Mr. Holden's not Sir Arthur Hayter's election.

Mr. Loxton said it was obvious that the Chief Constable acted in the interest of preserving peace.

The Chief Constable added that to show the absence of any personal feeling when the license of the PEAL AND NELSON was opposed he gave Dyer the character of having done his best whilst in charge there.

The Magistrates adjourned the application for a week for evidence in support of the opposition.”

It became a grocer's shop.

It was demolished.

THREE TUNS

Church Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Sansom [1800] – [1822]

William Hardy [1836]

William Nevill Weaver [1841] – [1842]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/12/1831 - Advert

“Snug Comfortable Public House, Walsall.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that excellent and well known Public House called the THREE TUNS, situated in Church Street, Walsall, coming-in about £100. The proprietor is leaving in consequence of ill health.

For particulars apply to J. Farrington Auctioneer, Walsall, if by letter. post paid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/7/1836

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.

Charles Biddle, George Reeves, and John Reeves, all of them young men were charged with assaulting John Beddow, on the 13th of March, and robbing him of a sovereign and a knife. The prosecutor, who was examined by Mr. Meteyard, stated that he was a miner, and lived at Wednesbury, on the evening stated was paid his wages, with his fellow workmen at the THREE TUNS INN, Walsall; the three prisoners were there playing at cards; he left a little after twelve o'clock, and went down Church Street; when near the Catholic Chapel, the three prisoners attacked him, and one of them put his hands over his eyes; they pushed him against the bank, and then got a knife and cut the bottom of his pocket off.

The prosecutor, who seemed a very simple man, was rigorously cross-examined by Mr. Allen, but though some of his answers showed considerable ignorance, and caused much laughter, he did not materially vary from his original statement, which once or twice he illustrated by grotesque and convincing actions. The main object of the cross-examination was to make out that he might be mistaken in the persons of his assailants. On being asked whether he said before the magistrates that it was John Reeves or one of the others that covered his eyes, he replied ‘he was no scholar, and it was a long time to recollect.’

William Hardy, keeper of the THREE TUNS, and George Colley, a police officer gave some slight confirmatory evidence; and the jury after a few minutes deliberation, found all the prisoners guilty.

The Learned Judge ordered sentence of death to be recorded, remarking that the punishment would be commuted; but as one of them had been before convicted of felony, it might probably with respect to him be transportation; but he would make inquiry into their previous character, and allot punishment accordingly.”

[Charles Biddle and George Reeves were sentenced to 14 years transportation and John Reeves was transported for life.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/10/1837 - Advert

“The THREE TUNS INN, Church Street, Walsall

By R. Adams. To be Disposed of immediately, by private Treaty, the valuable Licenses, Good-will, and Possession of that well-known established House known by the sign of the THREE TUNS INN, most eligibly situated in Church Street, Walsall, where a great scope of in and out-door business is now carried on, the present occupier brewing an average of 30 bushels of malt per week. The Stock, &c, which is low, to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For further particulars apply to R. Adams, Agent and Valuer, Walsall.”

THREE TUNS

48, Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mary Wilson

Clara Wilson

James Stringer
J. W. Brooks, Caldmore, Walsall

LICENSEES

William Mallebar [1801] – [1822]
Ann Malleler [1828] – [1830]
William Stone [1834]
John Moore [1835]
William Wood [1841] – [1842]
Thomas Doody [1845] – [1853]
Silas Nock [1858] – [1862]
Thomas Machin [1864] – 1866)
Joseph Carver [] – 1868);
Joseph Wilson (1868 – [1870]
Mrs. Mary Wilson [1871] – [1880];
Miss Clara Wilson [1881];
James Stringer [];
Samuel White [];
James Broadhurst [] – 1889);
Thomas Badger (1889 – 1891);
Benjamin Walker (1891 – 1893);
David Hyde (1893 – 1902);

NOTES

Rushall Street [1822]

William Mallebar = William Malleder

1841 Census

Rushall Street

- [1] William Wood (45), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Wood, (45), born Staffordshire;
- [3] James Wood (16), born Staffordshire;
- [4] John Wood (7), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Emma Wood (13), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Elizabeth Hodgetts (16), born Staffordshire:

Thomas Doody was also a miner.

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/4/1847 - Advert

“Important Sale Of Freehold Property, in Upper and Lower Rushall Streets, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, By Mr. Thomas Franklin, at the NEW INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Monday, the 5th day of April, 1847, at seven o’clock in the evening, The Following very eligible Freehold Buildings and Land.

Lot II. All that old established and well-accustomed Public House, with Brewhouse, Stable, Yard, and Out-offices, thereto belonging, also situate in Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, and known by the sign of the THREE TUNS, and now in the possession of Mr. Thomas Doody; and also those two several Dwelling Houses adjoining the last mentioned, and likewise fronting to Lower Rushall Street; also those four several Dwelling Houses, with the Shopping and Yard thereto belonging, situate in the Court at the back of the THREE TUNS; and also all the Pew, No.112, in the south gallery of Walsall Church.”

1851 Census

Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Thomas Doody (60), victualler and miner, born Shropshire;
- [2] Eleanor Doody (59), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Samuel Wood (27), son in law, iron moulder, born Walsall;
- [4] Henry Wood (19), son in law, wood brushmaker, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Keefe (18), house servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/7/1853

“Charles Hanson and James Heane, both of Birmingham, were, on Monday last, committed for trial for stealing a pair of brass tongs and a pair of brass candlesticks from the THREE TUNS INN, Lower Rushall Street, the property of Mr. Thomas Doody, the landlord.”

Silas Nock = Silas Knock

1861 Census

48, Lower Rushall Street – THREE TUNS

- [1] Silas Nock (28), homemaker and publican, born Rowley;
- [2] Elizabeth Nock (23), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Nock (4), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Charlotte Nock (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Betsy Nock (1 month), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Plyn Westley (9), general servant, born Walsall;
- [7] Adeline Westley (12), visitor, born Walsall;
- [8] Charlotte Swinbourne (15), lodger, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 27/7/1861

“Silas Knock, landlord of the THREE TUNS public-house, Lower Rushall Street was charged by the police with having his house open at half-past twelve o’clock on Saturday night, for the sale of liquor. Sergeant Childs deposed that at the hour mentioned, he saw a woman leaving the house with a jug of beer. Police-constable No.8 gave similar evidence. The defendant said that the beer had been drawn and sold before twelve o’clock, and that his servant was cleaning out the shop, when the girl who had had the beer, returned to ask for a candle. She was refused, and the police saw her as she went out. Mr. Cater gave the house a good character, and the Bench dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1862

“Yesterday, at the Petty Sessions, Silas Nock, of the THREE TUNS public house, Lower Rushall Street, was charged on the information of Sergeant Childs, with keeping his house open for the sale of liquors beyond the lawful hours on Saturday night. The officer found a woman in the house at 12.50, with half a gallon of ale in a jar. The defence set up was that the woman entered the house and was served that ale before twelve o’clock, but that she had been upstairs talking with defendant’s wife, who was ill in bed. The charge was dismissed.”

Thomas Machin = Thomas Meechin

Walsall Free Press 3/2/1866

“Thomas Meechin, of the THREE TUNS, Lower Rushall Street, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of drink at twenty minutes to four o’clock on Wednesday last. From the evidence of Police-constable Smith, it appeared that, at the time in question, he met a man with a jug containing malt liquor, which the man, on seeing the officer, threw upon the ground. The officer then went into the house, and the girl who was there said that she had drawn the ale. Fined 10s and costs.”

London Gazette 20/11/1866

“Thomas Machin, formerly of the THREE TUNS INN, Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Journeyman Bricklayer, but now of Three Tuns Court, Lower Rushall-street, Walsall aforesaid, Journeyman Bricklayer, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 17th of November, 1866, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 5th day of December next, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the County Court, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Walsall Free Press 26/12/1868 - Advert

“Old Wharf, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall.

Thomas Parish, Begg to inform his friends for the kind patronage already extended to him since he had commenced in business, and also to inform them that he has purchased the old-established business of the late Mr. Joseph Carver, which he intends carrying on in the same straight forward manner which gained for his predecessor such long continued support.

Mr. Wilson, formerly with Mr. Carver, will continue his employ, and will receive Orders and Accounts as usual, either at the Wharf or at his Residence THREE TUNS, Lower Rushall Street.”

1871 Census

48, Lower Rushall Street – THREE TUNS INN

- [1] Mary Wilson (59), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Joseph H. Wilson (27), son, silver plater, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary A. Wilson (24), daughter, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;
- [4] Alfred Wilson (21), son, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara Wilson (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

1881 Census

48, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] Clara Wilson (23), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Joseph H. Wilson (36), brother, brewer, born Walsall;
- [3] James Stringer (33), brother in law, bridle cutter, born Birmingham;
- [4] Mary A. Stringer (33), sister, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard. . . .
Thomas Badger, the THREE TUNS, Lower Rushall Street did not put in an appearance.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1891

“At the Rushall Police Court, yesterday, Thomas Badger the landlord of the THREE TUNS, Rushall Street, Walsall; George Hall, bricklayer, 34, Butts Road, Walsall; and John Cooper, 134, Hatherton Street, Walsall, were charged with being drunk and disorderly on Sunday evening. Badger was also charged with assaulting Police-constable Elks.
It seemed that the three men went to the ANCHOR INN, in such a condition that the landlord ordered them out. They created a great disturbance, and when they had been got out into the street with the assistance of the constable, Badger assaulted the latter violently, the other two attempting a rescue. They were conveyed to the police station with difficulty, and their behaviour was so bad they were deprived of their shoes. They contrived to break the cell window, however.
Badger was fined 30s and costs, and the other two 20s and costs, an order being also made for payment of the damage to the window.”

1891 Census

48, Lower Rushall Street – THREE TUNS INN

- [1] Thomas Badger (36), licensed victualler and currier, born Walsall;
- [2] Phoebe Badger (37), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Annie Badger (22), daughter, born Yorkshire:

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday. . . .
Mr. Bill also applied on behalf of James Francis Aspinall for the removal of a license from the JOLLY BACCHUS, New Street, to land situate at the corner of Arundel Street and Cambridge Street, Palfrey, or premises to be erected at the corner of Windsor Street and Cambridge Street; in the alternative he applied for a provisional grant of a license to the last-named premises
Mr. J. N. Cotterell opposed for Mr. John Ricketts of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Road; Mr. Gillespie, for Mr. Joseph Knight; and Mr. Checkley for Messrs. A. Stanley and J. Bunting.
Mr. Bill also made similar applications on behalf of J. W. Brooks, who, he explained, was the owner of the JOLLY BACCHUS, and of the land at Palfrey to which it was proposed to remove the license. Similar applications, he stated, were made at the annual licensing sessions, when Mr. Brooks intimated that he was willing to have the license removed from the JOLLY BACCHUS, in order that the number of licenses existing might not be increased. He was now prepared to sacrifice another license also, that of the THREE TUNS, Lower Rushall Street, so that the number of licenses in the town would actually be reduced. Mr. Bill laid great stress on the great growth of the Caldmore and Palfrey neighbourhoods, and the need of additional licensed accommodation. The applicants were sworn, and admitted in cross-examination that none of the residents in the locality supported the application. Subsequently Mr. Bill asked to be allowed to refer to the case, and said that Mr. Brooks was prepared to sacrifice not only the two full licenses named, but the license of an out-door as well.
Mr. Gillespie said this proved Mr. Brooks recognised he had no chance without throwing in this makeweight. . . . Refused.”

1901 Census

Lower Rushall Street – The 3 TUNS INN

- [1] David Hyde (48), iron caster, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Hyde (48), wife, born London;
- [3] Eliza Hyde (25), daughter, leather worker, born Walsall;
- [4] Louisa Hyde (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Hyde (17), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] David J. Hyde (9), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Dora Ruby (27), visitor, harness scholar, born Staffordshire:

David Hyde – see also BARREL.

It was delicensed in 1902.

It was demolished in 1911.

THREE TUNS

Temple Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Boot [1834] – [1835]

TIGER

25, (15), Long Acre Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Whitehouse
Mrs. Ann Lowe, 17, Long Acre Street, Walsall
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd. [1880]
Joseph Beebee
Messrs. Lord (acquired in 1902)

LICENSEES

Joseph Beebee Jnr. [1849] – [1850]
Arblaster [1852]
George Thornhill [1858]
Benjamin Lowe [1860] – [1865]
Mrs. Mary Higley [1868] – [1871]
Thomas Oswin [1872] – [1873];
Charles Pearson [];
Samuel Bird [1880];
John Young [];
Japeth Worrall [1881];
Joseph Elwell [];
Martin McTighe [] – 1890);
George Ball (1890 – 1892);
George Walker (1892);
Edwin Corbett Walker (1892 – 1898);
James Dorman (1898 – 1899);
Walter Charles Nash (1899 – 1900);
Clement Bayliss (1900);
William John Baker (1900 – 1903);
George Rose (1903 – 1904);
Patrick McTighe (1904 – 1906);
William Lenton (1906 – 1908);
Frederick Mears (1908 – 1910);
Henrietta Maria Mears (1910 – 1913);
John Thomas Millington [1912] ?
John Taggart (1913);
William Ellesmore (1913 – 1919);
Emily Ellesmore (1919 – 1921);
George Wootton (1921 – 1924);

NOTES

15, Longacre [1858]

15, Long Acre Street [1860], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1871], [1873], [1881]
25, Long Acre Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1911], [1916], [1921]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/4/1838 - Advert

“To Brokers And Others.

Sale in Long Acre Street, in the Foreign of Walsall, by R. Adams.

To be Sold by Auction, this present Monday, the 9th day of April, a variety of genteel and useful Household Effects, quantity of Books, Vices, Gas Meter, and other Effects, removed for convenience of sale to the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, in the Foreign of Walsall. The sale to commence at ten o'clock.”

1851 Census

Long Acre

- [1] Joseph Beebee (37), cask maker and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Cisila Beebee (30), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Margaret Beebee (14), daughter, dress maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Elizabeth Beebee (12), daughter, at home, born Walsall;
- [5] Alfred Beebee (8), son, at school, born Walsall;
- [6] Henry Beebee (3), son, at school, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Beebee (11 months), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1852 - Advert

“H. Farrington respectfully announces that he has received instructions from the executors of the late Mr. James Whitehouse to Offer by Public Auction, the second week in February, the following very valuable Estates in Walsall.....
Long Acre Street. All that Public House, known by the sign of the TIGER.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/3/1852 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Henry Farrington, by direction of the Trustees of the will of the late Mr. James Whitehouse, deceased, at the NEW INN, Park Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 16th day of March, 1852, at five o'clock in the afternoon.....
Lot 6. All that old licensed Public House and Premises, called the TIGER INN, situate in Long Acre Street, Walsall, occupied by Mr. Arblaster, with the pumps of hard and soft water thereto belonging, and also the small house adjoining, and now void.”

Benjamin Lowe = Benjamin Low

Benjamin Lowe was also a shoemaker. [1861]
He came from Wednesbury.

1861 Census

15, Long Acre Street – TIGER INN

- [1] Benjamin Lowe (41), victualler and shoemaker, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ann Lowe (40), wife, born Darlaston:

Mary Higley = Mary Hegley

Birmingham Daily Post 28/1/1868

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Samuel M'Cane, an Irish labourer, was brought up on remand, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, jun., W. Ward, S. Stephens, and J. Shannon, charged with having violently assaulted Police-constable Smith of the night of the 18th inst. Mr. Barratt (from the office of Mr. Wilkinson) prosecuted. Smith appeared in Court with his head bandaged, and seemed to be still in a very weak condition. He stated that at about twelve o'clock on the night named, he and Police-constable Willetts were called upon to turn some twenty or thirty disorderly men, among whom were the prisoner and the man Shanassy, convicted last week, out of the TIGER INN, Long Acre. On reaching the street, the prisoner and Shanassy began quarrelling, and made two or three attempts at fighting, but complainant interfered, and prevented hostilities. He followed them as far as St Michaels's Square, and then – they having promised him that they would go home – was turning away, when M'Cane dealt him a blow to the right side of the head with some heavy weapon, at the same time saying, 'Take that; that will do for you.' As soon as he could recover from the effects of the blow, he went with Willetts into the entry, and identified the prisoner, whom they found standing up close to the side of the wall, as the man who had struck him. He was then taken into a neighbouring house, where Mr. Hubbard, chemist was fetched, and afterwards he was taken to Mr. Hubbard's shop. Mr. T. P. Hubbard deposed to having dressed the wound on the prosecutor's head, and to the scalp being cut through to the length of about an inch and a half. Mr. F. P. Palmer deposed to the prosecutor being in a very weak condition, in fact, as to be even scarcely able to rise from the bed, when he was called in, adding that, but for the protection afforded by the cap the wound would have been of a very serious character, and that the prosecutor would not be able to resume his duty for some time to come.

Police-constable Willetts repeated the evidence given by him last week with reference to the assault and the rescue of the prisoners from custody.

Witnesses were then called for the defence, and the prisoner was committed for trial at the next Quarter Session for the borough.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/5/1868

“Walsall Quarter Sessions. Simeon M’Cane, 20 labourer, was indicted for having, on the 19th January last, assaulted Police-constable Smith in the execution of his duty. The prisoner was acquitted.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“Quarter Sessions. At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway, the following publicans and beerhouse keepers were each fined 2s 6d and cost for having had their houses open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours.....

Mary Hegley, of the TIGER beerhouse, Short Acre, for having had her house open at five minutes past twelve o’clock Sunday last, at which time Acting-sergeant Ogden found nine men in the house.”

Walsall Free Press 20/3/1869

“Mary Higley, landlady of the TIGER public-house, Long Acre, was charged with having had her house open during prohibited hours – namely, at twenty minutes to one o’clock on Sunday morning.

Acting-sergeant Rawle and Police-constable Miner said, at the time in question they saw a man going to the back-gate of the house, and saw him admitted. In about a minute afterwards, he came out again, and in the can which he had, the officers found a quantity of beer.

The man in whose can the beer had been seen, was called by Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defendant, and proved that the beer he had in his can was purchased at a beerhouse in Short Acre.

Case dismissed.”

1871 Census

15, Long Acre Street – TIGER INN

- [1] Mary Higley (41), widow, licensed victualler, born Asterley, Shropshire;
- [2] Jane Malpas (21), daughter, leather stitcher, born Shropshire;
- [3] Thomas Malpas (21), son in law, file cutter, born Walsall;
- [4] Emma Higley (18), daughter, leather stitcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry Higley (15), son, silver chaser, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Higley (12), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Woodwork on the outside TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, Inside with Papering, &c, of the TIGER INN.

All the above are situate in the town of Walsall.

Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

15, Long Acre Street – The TIGER

- [1] Japeth Worrall (41), publican, born Aldridge;
- [2] Sarah Worrall (40), wife, born Aldridge:

1891 Census

25, Long Acre Street

- [1] George Ball (54), coal miner, born Shropshire;
- [2] Maria Ball (48), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Charles Ball (23), son, coal miner, born Birmingham;
- [4] Maud Ball (18), daughter, domestic servant, born Birmingham;
- [5] Fred Ball (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Harry Ball (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Ernest Ball (7), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place), at Mr. William Brown’s, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....

New members.... Mr. Edward Walker, TIGER INN, Long Acre Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“At the Guildhall yesterday, before Alderman Holden and Mr. W. E. Blyth, several charges against Walsall publicans were heard.....

Edwin C. Walker, landlord of the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Long Acre Street, on the 8th inst.

Police-constable Jones (43) said that at about 11.5pm on the 8th inst, he was in Short Acre Street, when he saw defendant outside the TIGER public-house. There had a short time before been a fight there between two women. The defendant was also causing a disturbance, and the officer advised him to go in home. In reply defendant remarked that if it were not for his blue coat he would break his (witness's) neck for him.

Mr. Jackson, for the defence, called Elizabeth Walker, 14, James Street, mother of defendant, who said she visited her son's house on the night in question. He afterwards took her home at 10.30, and at that time he was perfectly sober. She had never seen him drunk. He had been under the doctor's hands for some eight weeks, and was not allowed to take beer.

Fred Harrison, Whitehouse Street, also gave evidence, and the magistrates finally dismissed the case."

Walsall Advertiser 19/10/1895

"Walsall Red Star v. Smith's Employes (Short Acre). Played on the ground of the former. At half-time the score was Red Star 4, Smith's 0. In the second half the Star scored five more goals, and the match ended in a win for them by 9 goals to 1. Red Star have open dates. E. C. Walker, TIGER INN, Long Acre."

Walsall Advertiser 10/7/1897

"The following were summoned and fined the sums in their names for allowing their dogs to be unmuzzled.....

Edward Walker of the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, 5s and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1897

"Edward Walker, TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, was summoned a allowing his dog to be unmuzzled. The unmuzzled dog seen by the officer had a short tail, whereas defendant's bow-wow is a long-tailed canine, and this having been duly sworn to the case was dismissed."

James Dorman = James Dormer

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1898

"Clara Broadhurst, of Hubble's Court, Stafford Street, was summoned for refusing to quit the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, kept by James Dormer.

A fine of 2s 6d and costs, or seven days, was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 2/7/1898

"Edward Burns (29), labourer, of Burrowes Street, was charged with refusing to quit the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, kept by James Dormer. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson), who prosecuted, said it was one of the worst cases of the kind ever brought in to court.

The landlord gave evidence that prisoner threatened him, got upon the counter and said if he could not get drunk anywhere else he might as well be hung for witness as anyone else. There was list of convictions against prisoner, who now promised to take the pledge if the Bench would give him a chance

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk), remarked that prisoner could take the pledge just as well if the magistrates punished him.

A fine of 10s and costs, with the alternative of 14 days, was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1898

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. James Dormer, TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the society."

London Gazette 16/6/1899

"Receiving Orders. Walker, Edwin Corbett. WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field-street, Bloxwich, Staffordshire, lately residing at Green Lane, formerly at Forge-street, theretofore at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall-street, formerly at Day-street and theretofore at the TIGER INN, Short Acre, all in Walsall, Staffordshire. Public-house Manager."

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

"Edwin Corbett Walker, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Street, Bloxwich, public house manager. The debtor came up for public examination. The Official Receiver (Mr. S. W. Page) was present, and Mr. Evans was for the debtor. The statement of accounts showed liabilities £83 16s 11d, and the only assets were £10 he had paid to the solicitor on account of the proceedings. The debtor examined by the Official Receiver, stated that he worked as a miner until September, 1892, since that time he had been the tenant of the TIGER INN, Walsall, the ACORN INN, Walsall, and now he was the manager of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, for his brother, Mr. C. C. Walker. At one time he had a small colliery at Pelsall. He attributed his failure to 'illness of himself and family, losses upon the colliery business, and bad trade.'

The examination was adjourned until August 2nd to close."

1901 Census

25, Long Acre Street – TIGER INN

[1] William John Baker (22), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Minnie Baker (24), wife, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 14/12/1901

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New members. Mr. William Baker, TIGER INN, Long Acre Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/6/1902

“The case of Lowe v. Lord, which had reference to the validity of a 21 years’ lease of the TIGER INN, Long Acre, Walsall, came before Mr. Justice Farwell, in the High Court of Justice, on Tuesday. The plaintiff retained Mr. Walter Hughes, F.A.I., to give evidence as to value, and after he had been called and Mr. J. Baker, architect of Willenhall, at the suggestion of his Lordship, the parties came to a compromise, the plaintiff agreeing to sell the TIGER INN to the defendant for a sum of £1,250, each paying their own costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/3/1903

“William John Baker, of the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, was charged with having in his possession two unjust pint jugs for use in trade and further with having in his possession measures for use in trade which were unstamped. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for defendant, who pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Whitworth said that on visiting defendant’s premises he found five measures used for trade which were unstamped, three of them practically correct, but two others short by thirteen drams and six drams respectively.

The defence was that the jugs were used in ignorance of their shortage, having been taken with the rest of the stock in the house. They had only been used once.

Fined 10s and costs in the case of the unjust measures, and ordered to pay the costs in the other.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various.....

George Rose, TIGER INN and John Lawton, COMMERCIAL HOTEL.....

The chief difficulty with which the licensees of the TIGER, Wismore, and the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, were confronted were as to back entrances to their premises. The license of the TIGER was renewed on the undertaking by Mr. F. Cooper (representing the owner) that a small gateway should be closed; and in regard to the COMMERCIAL HOTEL (represented by Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman) the Bench intimated that unless an undertaking was given that the doorway from the yard was built up, and a water closet provided objection would be taken.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/6/1904

“On the application of Mr. Cooper (Addison and Cooper) a temporary authority with respect of the license of the TIGER INN, Long Acre, was granted to Mr. McTighe.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

On behalf of the owners of the TIGER, Long Acre Street, Mr. F. Bill applied for approval of plans for taking down a wall between the smoke room and tap room, to give better opportunity of supervision by the proprietor. Also an alteration to the stairs.

The Chief Constable, in answer to the Bench, said he had no objection.....

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had adjourned all the plans, and proposed to visit the houses next Wednesday. They would be glad if the architects would accompany them.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

“Yesterday the adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall.....

Several applications for the approval of plans for alterations, had been deferred from the annual licensing meeting for the magistrates to visit the premises. The Bench decided as under.....

TIGER, Long Acre Street, disapproved.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/2/1908

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

The Bench proceeded to hear notices of objection which had been taken by the licensing justices to the renewal of six licences.....

The Chairman announced in regard of the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street (for the owners, Messrs. Lord, Mr. Frank Cooper appeared) that the magistrates visited the house on Wednesday and had decided not to trouble Mr. Cooper this year. The license was therefore renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1909

“The evidence given against John Edward Parkes (20), caster, 27, Birch Street, who was charged with wilfully breaking a plate-glass window to the TIGER INN, Long Acre Street, thereby doing damage to the amount of £2 10s, was to the effect that on Saturday he was quarrelsome with the other customers in the house, and he was requested to leave by Mrs. Mears, wife of Fredk. Mears, the licensee. He refused to go, and struck at her, and she then had him forcibly ejected. He said he had done three months for one beauty, and he was willing to do another six months for another. When he got outside Sarah Coombs, 56, Short Acre Street, saw him break the window with his clenched fist, and he was eventually arrested by Police-constable Stopford, to whom he admitted the offence. Prisoner said had he no explanation to offer, and he was sentenced to two months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1910

“The singular circumstances surrounding the death of Frederick Mears (36), a publican formerly residing at the TIGER INN, Long Acre, Walsall, were investigated by the Wigan Borough Coroner and a jury on Tuesday afternoon.

Mary Ann Mears, sister-in-law, of Countess Street, Walsall, deposed that a week ago Mr. Mears left home to go to Blackpool for the good of his health. Whilst there he was taken ill and her nephew saw him board a train en route for Walsall.

Answering the Coroner, witness said her brother-in-law had been drinking heavily of late. His mother died recently, and that seemed to have upset him.

John Barnes, platform inspector at Wigan L&NW station, said early on the morning of June 22nd he saw Mears on the platform. He was trembling and seemed excited. After a lot of talk with him witness elicited the fact that Mears was going to Walsall and had lost a box. He refused to go on the next train to Walsall and witness took him to the waiting room to see if he would cool down. Subsequently, he found Mears wandering on the main line, and he had to stop several trains before Mears was led off the station. He appeared to be recovering from a heavy drinking bout.

Police-constable Walker said at about 9.20pm the same night he saw Mears wandering about in a field at Wrightington (which is several miles from Wigan). When asked what he was doing there he said his wife was in the field and he wanted her to come to him. He gave his name as Fredrick Mears, and said he came from the TIGER INN, which he said was at the Cape of Good Hope. As he was going to the police station, Mears, who was very excited and was trembling very much, threw two sovereigns on the ground, he was afterwards conveyed to the Wigan Workhouse Hospital.

Dr. Bradbury, Union Surgeon, deposed to attending Mears at the Hospital. He was unable to give any account of himself the first day, but later gave his name and address. He died on Sunday from delirium tremens, caused through excessive drinking of spirits. The Coroner read a letter from Dr. Shore, of Walsall, in which the writer stated he had attended the man on and off for colds, but not for any serious illness. Latterly he had attended him for nervous debility, caused, on Mears own statement through excessive drinking of brandy.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence.”

1911 Census

25, Long Street

[1] Henrietta Maria Mears (41), widow, publican, born Walsall;

[2] William Ingram (63), father, brass caster, born Walsall:

John Thomas Millington, beer retailer, 25, Long Acre Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 2/8/1913

“The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held on Tuesday at the Guildhall.....

When the case of the TIGER INN, Long Acre, came up the Mayor remarked on the frequency of the transfers. There had been six transfers of this house since 1900. Mr. Addison, who appeared on behalf of the owners, said the last tenant had been in the house six years.”

William Ellesmore = William Elsmore

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

TIGER INN, Long Acre Street. £0 17s 8d.”

An application to remove the license to the DERBY ARMS, Raleigh Street, was made in 1923. It was confirmed.

The house closed on 29th July 1924.

TIGER

31, (32), (31+32), (27), St. Pauls Street, (St. Pauls Row), (St. Pauls Walk), (Wisemore), WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Clewes Stackhouse, grocer, Park Street, Walsall
Walter Hughes, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Henry Boonham [1845] – 1866);
Hyla Holden (1866 – []
John Evans [1868] – [1871]
Mrs. Julia Evans [1872] – [1873]
Joseph Yates [1872] – 1890);
George Mason (1890 – 1901);
Edward James Oakley (1901 – 1902);
Henry Insley (1902 – 1911);
Thomas Webb (1911 – 1912);
Alfred Deans (1912 – 1913);
Daniel Mayo (1913 – 1934);
Kenneth Dawes (1934 – 1937);
John Tittley (1937 – 1938);

NOTES

St. Pauls Walk [1851]
St. Pauls Row [1861]
32, St. Pauls Street [1860], [1868], [1872], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1932]
32, St. Pauls Row [1861]
27, St. Pauls Street [1871], [1873]
31+32, St Pauls Street [1881], [1891]
31, St. Pauls Street [1911]

Henry Boonham = Henry Boneham

Birmingham Journal 6/4/1850 - Married

“On the 1st inst, at St. Mary’s Catholic Chapel, (by the Rev. Walter Love) Mr. John Partridge, landlord of the SEVEN STARS, Dudley Street, Walsall, to Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Boonham, of the TIGER INN, Wisemore.”

1851 Census

St. Pauls Walk

- [1] Henry Boonham (45), bridle cutter and victualler, born Kingsbury;
- [2] Martha Boonham (50), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Joseph Boonham (18), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [4] Margaret Boonham (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] John Boonham (11), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Wiliam Boonham (9), son, born Walsall;
- [7] James Boonham (7), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Elizabeth Boonham (4), daughter, born Walsall;

Walsall Free Press 19/2/1859 - Advert

“Wanted, a best steel Bit-Filer, who can have constant employment. None but a steady workman need apply. Application may be made to Mr. Boonham, TIGER INN, Wisemore, Walsall.”

1861 Census

32, St. Pauls Row

- [1] Henry Boonham (55), bridle cutter, born Kingsbury, Warwickshire;
- [2] Martha Boonham (60), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Joseph Boonham (28), son, currier, born Walsall;
- [4] John Boonham (21), son, plater, born Walsall;

- [5] William Boonham (19), son, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [6] James Boonham (17), son, stirrup maker, born Walsall;
- [7] Margaret Boonham (24), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Elizabeth Boonham (15), daughter, born Walsall:

Henry Boonham, retailer of beer, 32, St. Paul Street. [1862]
Henry Boonham was also a bridle cutter. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 9/1/1864 - Advert

“Wanted, a best steel Bit-Filer, one accustomed to all sorts of best Work, preferred. None but a steady workman need apply. Inquire at Mr. Boonham's. TIGER INN, Wisemore.”

Walsall Free Press 23/11/1867

“Patrick Morris, labourer, was charged with having, on Monday last, assaulted Patrick Roach. It appeared that a row took place outside the TIGER, St. Paul's Row, and according to the statement of the complainant and Peter Scully, the prisoner struck complainant with a knife. Police-constable Miner, who saw the affair, said that the prisoner was not the man who committed the assault. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case.”

1871 Census

32, St. Pauls Street

- [1] John Evans (32), brush maker, born Liverpool;
- [2] Julia Evans (31), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Evans (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah A. Evans (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 7/6/1871 - Died

“On the 1st inst., in the 32nd year of his age, John Evans, of the TIGER INN, St. Paul's Street, Walsall; deeply regretted.”

1881 Census

31+32, St. Pauls Street

- [1] Joseph Yates (41), licensed victualler, born Rushall;
- [2] Julia Yates (41), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Alice Yates (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Joseph E. Yates (7 months), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Ada Yates (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Harry Yates (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Frank Yates (12), son, scholar, born Rushall;
- [8] Florence Yates (7), daughter, born Rushall;
- [9] Sarah Ann Evans (14), stepdaughter, dress maker, born Walsall;
- [10] Jane Evans (19), stepdaughter, dress maker, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/10/1883

“Two children are lying in the Cottage Hospital, suffering from severe scalds, the one being Joseph Yates (3), son of the keeper of the TIGER INN, St Paul's Street, the injuries having been occasioned by a fall into a vat of boiling water; the other being Mary Ann Careless (2½), daughter of parents living in the same street, her injuries having been caused by the upsetting of a cup of tea.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/3/1885 - Advert

“To Be Let, with Immediate Possession, and old-established Inn, fully licensed, in good thoroughfare; owner giving up on account of ill health.

Apply to Mr. J. Yates, TIGER INN, St. Paul's, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 9/5/1885

“Joseph Yates, of the TIGER INN, St. Pauls, was summoned for having his house open for the sale of liquor after ten o'clock on Sunday, the 26th April. Police-sergeant Bailey and Police-constable Thorpe proved that on Sunday night after ten o'clock they met a woman coming from defendant's house with a jug containing beer. They went back with her to the house, and defendant told them that the beer had been paid for by the woman's husband before 10, and that she had only been to fetch it. Defendant stated the same thing in reply to the charge, and the summons was dismissed on payment of the costs.”

1891 Census

31+32, St. Pauls Street

- [1] George Mason (57), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Emma Jane Mason (31), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Holden (61), mother in law, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 7/10/1893

“On Thursday the employés of Mr. A. Lynex, builder, of this town, held their annual supper at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street. Host Mason catered in his usual admirable style, and gave general satisfaction to all concerned. Under the presidency of Mr. Lynex, who is always pleased to meet his employés on these occasions, a very enjoyable evening was spent. In the few remarks made by Mr. Lynex, he impressed on the company the advantages of both to man and master of these gatherings, from a trade point of view it creates a good feeling between employer and employés, and if more of this sort of thing was done we should hear less of strikes and discontented employés. At the close of the evening’s entertainment everyone departed well pleased.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/12/1893

“On Thursday afternoon last an inquest was held at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, on the body of Matthew Hendry, aged 27, of 7, School Terrace, who died under peculiar circumstances on Monday last.

Hugh Hendry, 24, Walhouse Street, a brown saddler, said the deceased was his son, and resided at 7, School Terrace. He was a caster’s pattern make by trade. He last saw him alive a fortnight ago.

Sarah Noake said she was the wife of Benjamin Noake, and lived at 6, School Terrace. Her husband was an insurance agent. On Tuesday last about 10.35, the wife of deceased called her into the house, and she went upstairs, and he said to her ‘I’m choking Mrs. Noake.’ She gave him some brandy and water, and he vomited a large amount of phlegm. He died about eleven o’clock in her presence, and deceased’s wife was also there. The doctor was present, but deceased was unconscious and could not speak to him. When she was called in deceased’s wife did not say what was the matter with him.

Police-constable Pritchard said he made enquiries into the case. He ascertained that some six months ago deceased attended the Queen’s Hospital, Birmingham, and was said to be suffering from metallic-poisoning. Since then he had been treated for an ulcer on his left leg, and he went to the Cottage Hospital on Monday last and was seen by Dr. Stearn.

By a Juryman: He had made all the enquiries possible, and had not heard that deceased had fallen down the cellar steps.

Dr. Sydenham, assistant to Dr. Wilson, said that on Wednesday morning last he saw deceased about eleven o’clock. He was in a dying condition, and witness could do nothing more for him than wet his lips with brandy. He died in about ten minutes afterwards. He could not judge as to the cause of death at the time, and at the request of the Coroner he made a post mortem examination of the body, finding death was due to fatty degradation of the heart. There was a mark on his left leg, but that had nothing to do with the cause of death.

A verdict the deceased died through Heart Disease was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/11/1895 - Advert

“Copper Boiler, to hold 160 gallons, good order, for Sale; price £4 10s.

To be seen at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/12/1895

“R.A.O.B. On Tuesday evening last many of the brethren of this order assembled under the banner of the ‘Earl of Bradford’ Lodge, held at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, for the purpose of taking part in the ceremony of the installation of a brother to the honoured degree of knighthood of the order of merit. Several lodges in the district were well represented, the brethren attending in full regalia. The Grand Primo of South Staffordshire (Sir J. A. Blolshaw, K.O.M.) occupied the chair, supported by his Grand Lodge officers. After the usual routine of business had been dispensed with the knight elect, Bro. Leonard Aulton, amid loud applause, was presented to the Worthy Grand by Sir Jeff C. Croke, K.O.M., and Sir Harris Davis, K.O.M.”

1901 Census

31, St. Pauls Street

[1] Edward Oakley (24), publican, born Upton on Severn;

[2] Clara Oakley (24), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Lilly Oakley (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] William Oakley (9 months), son, born Walsall;

[5] Alice Bromley (15), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

“As the result of a smoking concert at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s, under the auspices of Messrs. Insley (proprietor), W. Patten, W. Webster, &c. a few weeks ago, Mr. Insley has been enabled to supply a loaf of bread and a quart of soup to over 200 unemployed.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1907

“On Wednesday night at a smoking concert, held at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, advantage was taken of the occasion to present to Mr. H. Insley, ex-detective officer of the Staffordshire constabulary, who had for seven years been a licensed victualler in Walsall, with a gold albert and seal, which had been subscribed by his friends in honour of his birthday and as a mark of esteem. The presentation was made by Mr. C. Essex of Birmingham, who spoke of the many years acquaintance with Mr. Insley, both when he was a police officer and since he had been a licensed victualler, and had always found him ready to give a helping hand and always respected by every one he came into contact with. The presentation was subscribed for by his friends in four shires, and he was sorry that it was not accompanied by a presentation to the hostess, but he wished the hosts and hostess long life and prosperity. Other testimony of the worth of the host and hostess having been added by Mr. W. Wynn (chairman), H. Wallace, J. Elliott, and others. Mr. Insley, in response, thanked the subscribers heartily, both those who were fifty miles away and those near at home. The musical programme was contributed to by Messrs. E. Blake, C. Essex, W. Wynn, H. Wallace, B. G. Pallen (comedian), and Califra (who gave a violin solo from Il Travatour).”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1909

“On Monday evening there was a smoking concert and some presentations at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s, primarily to do honour to Mr. Wm. Patten, grocer, Pleck Road, for which some forty of his friends foregathered. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. Webster, who during the evening presented Mr. Patten with a framed congratulatory address and a gold medal, on attaining his 62nd birthday, and spoke in eulogistic terms of his business capacity, and the respect in which he was held. Mr. Insley (vice-chairman) also made a presentation of a gold scarf pin to Mr. Charles Docksey, whose 40th birthday also happened on Monday. During the evening songs were given by Messrs. Simmons, H. Selvey, T. H. Watson, W. Paten, W. Johns, A. Stephens, and Thomas Bird, and at the close votes of thanks were accorded the chairman, vice-chairman and contributors to the programme.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/3/1909

“A handsome illuminated address, accompanied by a gold scarf pin and a brooch, was, at a smoking concert, at the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, on Wednesday night, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Insley (host and hostess) in recognition of their birthdays, and of their having been for eight years the landlord and landlady at this house. The address, which had in it very realistic portraits, was worded as follows:

‘Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Insley, host and hostess of the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, Walsall, on their birthdays, 16 and 17, March 1909. We, the undersigned, ask you to accept this illuminated address, with the presents subscribed by your friends, as a token of the great esteem in which you are both held. We thank you for your kindness and consideration, which we have had the pleasure of enjoying for the last eight years you have been at the TIGER INN, and we hereby take the opportunity of heartily wishing you both long life and prosperity, and we pray to the Almighty to spare you both for many years to come.’

The address, which was the work of Mr. J. Symons, of St. Paul’s, was signed by numerous subscribers. In the absence of Councillor Oswin, who wrote expressing his regret that he was kept away by business affairs, Mr. W. Webster presided, and made the presentation, referring to the courteous and obliging way Mr. and Mrs. Insley had always acted. Mr. Tisdale also spoke in high terms of Mr. Insley, whom he had known for twenty-five years, both as a police officer and a landlord.

In responding, for himself and wife, Mr. Insley thanked the subscribers, and the generous friends they had found in Walsall. A programme was afterwards given, to which Messes. E. Brettel (piccolo solo), Bates, Selvey, Crumpton, Stevens, and others, contributed.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/9/1909

“To palm off a common article as something of value is no new trick, but it was the modus operandi adopted by Thomas Harris (45), labourer, of no fixed abode, and Patrick Keogh, weaver, no fixed abode, in an attempt to obtain money from Henry Insley, the landlord of the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, on Tuesday. Mr. Insley, however, remembered the old adage ‘all is not gold that glitters,’ and despite the fact that it was marked ‘18 carat,’ he readily detected that a chain which was worth a few coppers only, and the suggested transaction, as the result of which the ‘jewellery merchants’ hoped to be richer by 15s, did not take place.....” [Thomas Harris and Patrick Keogh, were sentenced to one months’ hard labour each, for attempting to obtain money by false pretences.]

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

The ninth annual meeting of the sick and dividend society connected with TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, was held under the chairmanship of Mr. W. Webster (president) on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Walter Wynn (secretary) read the balance sheet for the year, which showed: takings for the year, £68 6s 2d; expenditure, £11 15s 6d; leaving £56 10s 8d. The sum left in the reserve fund was £8 10s 8d and the sharing for the year worked out at 13s 4d per member.

The Secretary remarked that there were 72 full members, and he was pleased to say that there had lately joined no fewer than 50 new members. A great deal of credit was due to the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Insley) for the increase in membership, and for the valuable assistance they had at all times given to the club during the eight years they had been at the TIGER.

The Chairman endorsed the secretary’s remarks concerning the valuable help given by Mr. and Mrs. Insley, and the good fortune which attended the club’s affairs during the past year.

A vote of thanks was passed to all the members for their services, and the officers who were elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mr. W. Webster; vice-president, Mr. W. Payne (both of whom are honorary members); treasurer, Mr. H. Insley; secretary, Mr. Walter Wynn. The whole of the committee were re-elected.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Webster (the chairman) and suitably responded to, and a collection was then made for a member who was ill and had been unable to work for many weeks, and this having been thankfully accepted was gone through.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/11/1910

“Samuel Atkins (28), and Samuel Southall (28), miners, of Wisemore, were charged with breaking and entering the parish church of St. Michael, Rushall, with intent to steal therein, on the 26th June.

Mr. F. J. Wrottesley prosecuted, and said that on the 25th June, a man named Bagnall overheard the prisoners at the TIGER INN, Wisemore, talking about breaking into a church. They asked him to go with them, but he refused. The next night (Sunday) the church was broken into. Some buttons were found underneath the window of the vestry, and after Southall had been arrested it was found that some buttons were missing from his clothing, and it was found the buttons remaining on his clothing corresponded with those found at the church.

The jury found the prisoners guilty.
Atkins was committed for ten months, and Southall for six months.”

1911 Census

31, St. Pauls Street

[1] Henry Insley (48), licensed victualler, born Derby;

[2] Harriet Insley (42), wife, married 20 years, housewife, born Cradley Heath;

[3] Sarah Shaw (28), sister in law, domestic, born Cradley Heath:

Alfred Deans – see also CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street. The Sick and Dividend Society in connection with this house is in a flourishing condition, and at the ‘share out,’ which took place on Thursday evening, 70 members drew 6/9 each, and the only other member (there are 71 on the rolls) got 3/5. The receipts amounted to £69 16s 10d, the reserve brought forward being £8 6s 8d, and that being carried forward being £6 13s 7d.”

Walsall Observer 23/6/1917 - Roll of Honour

“Private Joseph Mayo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mayo, of the TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street, is in hospital at Brighton, having had his left leg amputated as a result of wounds received on May 12 while in action in France with the South Staffords. He was also wounded in the left arm. Twenty-four years of age, he enlisted in March 1915 and had been abroad eight months. Before enlisting, he was employed by Messrs. Geo. Mason Ltd. as a grocer’s assistant. One brother has served since September 1914, and the other, who is still under 18, is about to join the Navy.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
TIGER INN, St. Paul’s Street. £1 2s 3d.”

Kenneth Dawes – see also KING GEORGE VI.

It closed on 16th November 1938.

The license was transferred to the new TIGER, Walstead Road.

TIGER

Walstead Road, Yew Tree Estate, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Tittley (1938 – 1945);

Joseph Edward Bowen (1945 – 1960);

Albert Victor Lucas (1960 – [1966])

NOTES

It opened on 17th November 1938.

The license was transferred from the old TIGER, St. Pauls Street.

1939 Register

Walstead Road – TIGER INN (3 of 4)

[1] John Tittley, date of birth 18/9/1898, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Gladys Tittley, dob 22/11/1901, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Stanley J. Tittley, dob 22/10/1923, fitter, motor bodies apprentice, single;

Walsall Observer 28/12/1940

“Of all the dangers to the public, a man under the influence of drink driving a vehicle is certainly one of the most serious,’ remarked the presiding magistrate (Mr. A. A. Fraser Wood), when imposing a fine of £10, with £2 18s 6d costs, on Alfred Coleman (39), lorry driver, 18, Somerfield Road, for driving a motor car when under the influence of drink to such an extent as to be incapable of exercising proper control. With Mr. Fraser Wood sat Mr. W. R. Wheway and Miss Windle.

Prosecuting, Mr. W. T. Isaac stated that when driving along Broadway North at about 11 o’clock on Wednesday night, December 18, Coleman collided with the refuge island near the junction of Prince’s Avenue. After completely demolishing one bollard and knocking down another, the car turned over on its roof. When assistance arrived, Coleman and his companion (owner of the car) were extricated from the car.

John Titley, licensee of the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, owner of the car defendant was driving, told the court that on the night in question they went first to see a friend at the DILKE ARMS, Aldridge Road then another at the WHITE HORSE, Bosty Lane, and afterwards went back to the DILKE ARMS to see a Mr. Harvey. They stayed until 10.20 in order to be able to give two members of the staff a lift to Lichfield Street. Describing the collision in Broadway North, witness said: ‘The night was very dark and I was looking forward towards the kerb when I felt the bump. That’s all I know.’

Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson (defending): In your opinion he was perfectly fit to drive? – Witness: Certainly.

Dr A. B. Davies (police surgeon) detailed to the magistrates the symptoms that led him to certify Coleman to be under the influence of drink.

Police Inspector Lavender, who also expressed the same view as to the defendant’s condition, stated that the accused told him he had ‘had a drink or two’, and that ‘drink is a matter of routine with me.’

Further evidence that the defendant was under the influence of drink was given by Stephen George Day, 86, Broadway North, and Police-constable Brazier.

Coleman in the witness box, said he had five half-pints of ‘mild’ on the night in question. He was looking for the white line when he had the accident, which caused him to hurt his shoulder and receive cuts on the face and knee.

Told that the defendant was engaged on work of national importance, the magistrates refrained from suspending his driving license on his undertaking not to drive anything but his lorry for the next three months.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

TIGER INN, Walstead Road. £2 0s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TIGER HOTEL, Delves. £9 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 27/3/1943 - Notice

“War Charities Act, 1940.

Notice Is Hereby Given that it is proposed to apply to the Council of the Borough of Walsall for the Registration under the above Act of the TIGER HOTEL Comforts Fund, the object of which is to send regular sums of money to customers or their relatives serving with H.M. Forces. The administration centre of this Fund is at the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, Walsall.

Any objection to the proposed Registration should be made to the aforementioned Council in writing within 14 days from the day of this notice.

A. J. Holder, Hon, Secretary.

J. Titley, Treasurer.

TIGER HOTEL, Walstead Road, Walsall. March 24, 1943.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/4/1943

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.....

Mr. J. Titley, of the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, was elected a member of the Executive Committee.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

TIGER INN, Walstead Road. £1 10s 1d.”

Walsall Observer 18/3/1944

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held at the CRITERION HOTEL, Stafford Street, Walsall. Mr. C. W. Garfield (president) occupied the chair, and Mr. T. Hawkins (vice-president) the vice-chair. The President made sympathetic reference to the sudden death of the Magistrates’ Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton), and as a mark of respect the members stood for a short time in silence. Sympathy was also expressed with Mr. James Bird and his wife and Mrs. Garfield in their illnesses. Mr. George Peach, KINGS HEAD, Stafford Street, Willenhall, and Mr. Sidney Wood, of the NEW INN, Walsall Street, Willenhall, were elected members of the committee. Mr. Herbert Dallow, of the OLD CROWN INN, Willenhall, was elected a member of the society. A message was read from Mr. M. F. Harrison, secretary, expressing his thanks and greetings for the kind wishes extended to him on the occasion of his 85th birthday. The arrangements made for the forthcoming charity ball on Friday May 19, were reported. The society is arranging to co-operate with the appeal of the Mayor in aid of the Red Cross and St. John Staffordshire appeal, and a box collection will shortly be made. The next meeting will be at the TIGER INN, Walstead Road, on April 13.”

Joseph Edward Bowen – see also CAMBRIDGE.

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

“Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We’ve a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

TIGER, Walstead Road, Walsall.”

Black Country Bugle 9/9/2010 - Letter from Carole Holden

“The TIGER pub has been around all my life as I was born in 1943. Yew Tree Estate was only small until the mid 1950s and was surrounded by farmer’s fields and common land.

I remember the garden at the back of the TIGER with a large veranda where the grown-ups could sit and have a drink while we children played on the large lawn. The bar was the door to the left, the off-sales was the door in the middle and the smoke-room, gents only room and garden were reached through the door on the right.

Some of the children living on the estate would walk across the car park to get to Delves Infants School in Bell Lane (me included).....

I had my wedding reception at the TIGER pub on Wednesday October 9th 1968. The smoke-room and gents only room had been knocked into one larger room.....”

[2017]

TOMMY’S BAR

10, Freer Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Perks and Company, brewers, Burton on Trent [1856]

George William Moore

Bass, Ratcliffe and Gretton Ltd.

R. P. Culley and Co. Ltd, 15, Moorfields, London [1935]

Worthington and Co. Ltd., Burton on Trent (acquired on 23rd September 1957)

LICENSEES

James Fisher [1856] – [1860]

George Moore [] – 1865);

George Holloway Moore* (1865 – []

George William Moore* [1871]

Sidney Benton [1881] – [1888]

Richard Shutt [1901]

George William Moore [] – 1903);

George Moore (1903 – 1935);

Arthur F Shutt (1935 – 1951); manager

Maud Shutt (1951 – 1952);

Harry Sydney Dutton (1952 – 1959);

Jeffrey Albert Attwood (1959 – 1964);

Roger William Mould (1964 – 1965);

Patrick John Rush (1965 – 1966);

Henry McBeth Fairfull (1966 – []

NOTES

It was originally the STORES.

LIQUOR VAULTS [1881], [1888]

It was known locally at “Shutt’s”.

Walsall Free Press 22/11/1856

“Perks & Co., Brewers, Burton-Upon-Trent.
STORES, Freer Street, Walsall.
Agent, James Fisher.”

Walsall Free Press 25/3/1865 - Advert

“Notice Of Removal.

Mr. George Moore, in returning thanks to his friends and the public for the liberal patronage bestowed upon him during the sixteen years he occupied the STORK HOTEL, begs most respectfully to intimate that he has removed to No.10, Freer Street, where he intends carrying on the business of a Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Wine, Ale, Porter & Spirits, and earnestly solicits a continuance of that support with which he has hitherto been favoured, and which he trusts by prompt attention to orders and moderate charges to merit.

Mr. M. begs to intimate that parties can be supplied with small quantities of any article upon moderate charges, and equal in quality to that supplied in wholesale quantities.

Mr. M. has always on hand large quantities of Sparkling Wines of various descriptions; also Ellis (of Ruthin) and Roughsedge & Co’s celebrated Soda Water, Lemonade and Potass Waters.

Guinness’s Bottled Stout. Bass & Co’s Bottled Ale.

N.B. An extensive and well assorted Stock of British and Foreign Cigars.
10, Freer Street, 25th March, 1865.”

* probably the same person

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/6/1865

“At the Petty Sessions yesterday, the following licenses were transferred.

Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit STORES, Freer Street, from the executors of the late George Moore, to his son, George Holloway Moore.”

Walsall Free Press 26/8/1865 - Notice

“George Moore, Deceased.

All Persons who stand indebted to the Estate of George Moore, late of Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Wine and Spirit Merchant, and Licensed Victualler, deceased, are requested to pay the amount of their respective debts to Mr. George William Moore, of No.10, Freer Street, Walsall, aforesaid, Wine and Spirit Merchant, and Ale and Porter Dealer; and all persons who have any claims or demands against the said Estate are requested to send full particulars thereof to the said George William Moore, in order that the same may be examined, and, if found correct discharged.

Dated this Fourth day of August, 1865.

William Thomas, Solicitor to the Executors of the said George Moore, deceased.”

1871 Census

10, Freer Street

- [1] George W. Moore (37), wine and spirit merchant, born Walsall;
- [2] Henrietta Moore (34), wife, born Wightwick;
- [3] Henry H. Moore (6), son, born Walsall;
- [4] George Moore (5), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Maria J. Sproson (35), sister in law, unmarried, visitor, born Wightwick;
- [6] Sarah Owen (18), domestic servant, born Llanidloes, Montgomeryshire;
- [7] Jane Owen (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

10, Freer Street – LIQUOR VAULTS

- [1] Sidney Benton (32), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Louisa Benton (25), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Gertrude Benton (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Marie Benton (6 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Goodwin (14), general servant, born Greet Green:
[Greet Green is part of West Bromwich.]

1901 Census

10 Freer Street

[1] Richard Shutt (38), public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Mary J. Shutt (37), wife, public house manageress, born Walsall;

[3] Richard Shutt (16), son, wine merchant's clerk, born Walsall;

[4] Arthur F. Shutt (13), son, born Walsall;

[5] John Gillee (52), boarder, brown saddle foreman, born Northallerton, Yorkshire:

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1908 - Advert

"T. Boulter & Son, Shire Oak (Near Walsall), Brewers, Maltsters, Spirit & Hop Merchants.

Noted Home-Brewed Ales And Stouts.

Guaranteed Brewed From Pure Malt and Hops Only.

The SHIRE OAK INN, which is within ten minute's walk of Walsall Tramway terminus at Walsall Wood, has been thoroughly renovated, and an excellent Bowling Green put down.

An Entirely New And Up-To-Date Brewing Plant has been installed, ensuring that our Ales and Stouts are of the finest possible quality.

Our Ales are to be obtained at the MINERS ARMS, Rushall.

FOUR CROSSES, Sheffield.

The RESTAURANT, Bridge Street, Walsall (Mr. P. Claridge's).

THE STORES, Freer Street, Walsall.

The Swan, Stonnall."

No.243 Cork Lodge was held here. [1911]

Walsall Observer 6/3/1915 - Advert

"Wanted, good General, aged about 20; sleep out.

Apply with references, The STORES, Freer Street."

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

"....while the licenses of two Freer Street houses – MARKET TAVERN and STORES – were renewed subject to plans for alterations and renovations."

1939 Register

10, Freer Street – The STORES Public House

[1] Arthur F. Shutt, date of birth 18/1/1888, manager licensed house, married;

[2] Maud (Shutt) Tapper, dob 25/6/1902, unpaid domestic duties, manageress licensed house, married;

[3] Richard Shutt, dob 4/5/1862, retired, widowed:

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

"Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

The STORES, Freer Street. £1 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

STORES (The), Freer Street. £2 10s 0d."

Walsall Observer 19/2/1944

"Shortly after descending from a bus in the vicinity of the STORK HOTEL, Lower Bridge Street, Richard Shutt, aged 81 years, of the STORES public house, Freer Street, was knocked down by two youths who were running along the pavement. The result was that Mr. Shutt had to undergo an operation on his left leg at the General Hospital on Wednesday, as he was found to be suffering from a fracture. He is making satisfactory progress."

Harry Sydney Dutton –see also FORGE AND FETTLE.

A new building opened as the PEN AND WIG in 1961.

Henry McBeth Fairfull – see also QUEEN STREET TAVERN.

Its name was changed to TOMMY'S BAR [2004]

[2007]

It was renamed the LOUNGE. [2010], [2017]

TOWN END TAVERN

4, Green Lane, Towns End Bank, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Holden [1853] – [1865]

John Holden [1871]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/1/1853

“John Holden of the TOWNS END TAVERN, Park Street, Walsall will give a silver collar to be ratted for, 5 rats each, on Monday, Feb 7. Entrance fee. The dogs not to exceed 6lb. A god supply of rats, and the use of the pit gratis.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/10/1853

“Rueben Craddock of Bloxwich will run Bowen of Darlaston one mile, for £10 a side, provided Bowen will give him 30 yards start. Money ready at John Holden's, TOWNS END TAVERN, Walsall.”

John Holden, beerhouse, Town End. [1858]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/1/1860

“R. Longmore of Walsall will accept the challenge of Dan Thomas (the Welshman) at his own weight 8st 8lb for £50 a side, the fight to come off in ten weeks. If this will suit Thomas he can consider himself matched, as Longmore has left £5 in the hands of the Editor of Bells Life. Articles to be sent to Longmore, at J. Holden's, TOWN END TAVERN, Town End Bank, Walsall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/2/1861

“T. Hayes of Intake begs to inform the pedestrians of all England that he has the champions walking belt, value £25, which was presented to Berridge on July 3, 1853, at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and that he intends it to be walked for on Monday and Tuesday, March 11 and 12, in an All England Handicap of three miles, at the Albion Grounds, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton. Entrance 1s 6d, and acceptances 2s 6d each. All entries to be addressed to Mr. John Holden, TOWNSEND TAVERN, Walsall, or to Mr. W. Vickers, WHITE HART, Wolverhampton, on or before, Feb 27; and the acceptances to close on Wednesday, March 6. Anyone entering falsely will be disqualified. The winner will receive the belt, the second £2, and the third 10s. Stamps as cash. The belt can be seen anytime at Mr. John Holden's, TOWN END TAVERN, Walsall.”

1861 Census

Green Lane – TOWN END TAVERN

- [1] John Holden (37), retail brewer, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Holden (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harriet Holden (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Helen Holden (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Fanny Holden (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Holden (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Jackson (22), boarder, carpenter, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertise 22/6/1861

Wolverhampton County Court. Holden v. Vickers. The plaintiff in the action is the landlord of the TOWN END TAVERN, Walsall, and the defendant is the host of the WHITE HART INN, Worcester Street, Wolverhampton. The action was brought to recover the sum of £5, the value of the champion's walking belt. The plaintiff's account of the transaction was that having some three months previously become possessed of this belt from one Bill Kite, he on the 21st of February re-sold it to Vickers, the defendant, the agreement being that Vickers was to give him (plaintiff) £5 for the belt if it were walked for and got off, and if not he was to take it back. The belt was handed over to the possession of the defendant, and the match having been duly announced in Bells Life, came off on the 25th and 26th of March, at the RING OF BELLS, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton, when the belt was won by a noted pedestrian, named Mills. Plaintiff himself ran, but was unsuccessful. After the match defendant represented that he had been a loser by the affair, and offered plaintiff £2 2s 6d for the belt, which he refused to accept, and hence the present action. Defendant's version of the affair was that he was first spoken to by the former owner to about the belt by Hayes, and he suggested the RING OF BELLS as a place where he would be likely to get the belt off. Williams the landlord, would not let the ground to Holden, he being a stranger, and, accordingly Vickers took it in his own name, merely as a friendly service. During the match plaintiff and his friends created a disturbance, disputed the decision of the referee, and insulted all present, so that scarcely anyone came the second day. Defendant had no hand in taking the money, but after the match he made out a balance sheet, and offered the plaintiff the surplus, £2 2s 6d. That morning to avoid litigation defendant said he had offered to make up the sum to three guineas out of his own pocket.

His Honour accepted defendant's account of the transaction as the more probable story, and at his suggestion the plaintiff consented to judgement of £3 3s without costs."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/5/1862

"J. Stokes of Bloxwich will run Elwell of Brierley Hill, or Price of Tipton 120 yards if allowed two yards start; or will run B. Acland of Dudley the same distance level. Either of the matches, for £5 or £10 a side, can be made any evening next week at J. Beard's, NEW INN, Pinfold Bank, Bloxwich; or at J. Holden's, Town End Bank, Walsall."

Bell's Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/10/1865

"Mr. John Holden, in returning his grateful thanks to his numerous friends and the sporting public generally for the liberal patronage so kindly conferred for the last 15 years, begs most respectfully to inform them that he had removed from the TOWNS END TAVERN to the HEARTS OF OAK INN, Town's End Bank, Walsall (a few doors above his late residence) at which place he respectfully solicits a continuance of past favours. Sparring, ratting, &c, still carried on as usual, for which his large and commodious room is well fitted up."

John Holden was also a retail brewer. [1871]

TRAVELLERS REST

Lichfield Road, (Walsall Road), Walsall Wood, (Rushall), WALSALL

OWNERS

Robert Henry Walker Ball
Lichfield Brewery (acquired in 1910)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1927]

LICENSEES

Absalom Rex [] – 1865);
Dorothy Davies (1865 – []
Henry Roe [1868] – [1871]
William Dobbs [1874] – [1875]
William Davis [] – 1876);
Eliza Stokes (1876 – []
Joseph Whitehead [1891] – 1895);
Samuel Andrew Birch (1895 – [1899]
Niphi Birch [1900] – 1902);
Henry Wood (1902 – []
John Rae McLean (1903 – [1904]
John Wesley [1906] – [1932]
Thomas E Fenn [1939] – [1940]

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 13/2/1864 - Advert

"To Be Let, The TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. Immediate possession.
Apply on the premises."

Absalom Rex = Absalom Rix

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1864

“Rushall Petty Sessions..... Absolom Rix, landlord of the TRAVELLERS REST, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of beer at five minutes to eleven on Sunday, the 30th of October. Police-constables Hill and Astbury proved the case, and said that on visiting the house they found four men, two of whom, the landlord said, were lodgers, and the other two neighbours. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant, as it was his first offence, to pay a fine of 10s and 10s 6d costs.”

Walsall Free Press 7/1/1865 - Advert

“TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood.

To Be Sold By Auction, by H. Farrington (without reserve,) Tuesday next, January 10th, 1865, all the Useful Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, Stock-in-Trade, and Effects, belonging to Mr. A. Rix, who is leaving.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock, conditions as usual.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/5/1867

“On Monday Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, on the body of George Allcott, aged 46, an engineer, who on the preceding Friday, by some means fell among the machinery at the work of his employers Messes. W and J. Beddoe, brickmakers, Stubber's Green and was literally torn to pieces between two large cog wheels, used for pulverising clay. There was no one with him at the time, but, as he was known to have frequently stepped over one of the cogs, it was supposed that he was doing so on this occasion, when he slipped, and his clothes were caught by the cogs, and he was thrown down. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

Walsall Wood – TRAVELLERS REST

- [1] Henry Roe (33), publican, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Sarah Roe (25), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Isaac Roe (4), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] Rebecca Roe (2), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] Joseph Gauden (41), general servant, born Merriden, Warwickshire:

Walsall Free Press 25/1/1873

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last, before J. E. Bealey, B. Bloomer, and J. Harrison, Esqs, a carter named Michael Malvin was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for 14 days, for having on the 17th inst, left his horse and cart unattended on the highway, in front of the TRAVELLERS REST public house.”

William Dobbs = William Dabbs

Midland Examiner 14/11/1874

“At the Rushall Police Court, on Tuesday, before Messrs. J. Harrison, F. James, and S. Stokes, William Dabbs, landlord of the TRAVELLERS REST, was charged with having permitted drunkenness in his house on the 24th ult. Police-constable Hill stated that he visited the house at twelve o'clock on that day, and found four men there drunk; at one o'clock he saw the same men drunk; at two o'clock he found some of them there, and called the defendant's attention to them, and at eight o'clock at night he also found a drunken man in the house. He was fined £2, and the costs, 14s 6d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1875

“Rushall Licensing Business. For the first time in many years there were no applications for new licenses. For renewal there were 46 ale-house licenses, and 26 beerhouse licenses (including licenses for sweets). During the year there had been no offences on the part of the holder for any one of these to call for suspension, but the following five persons were cautioned, viz.....
William Dabbs, TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/9/1876

“Rushall Licensing Business. On the application of Mr. Williams (of the firm of Messrs Duignan, Lewis and Williams) the name of Eliza Stokes was inserted in the register of licenses as the owner of the TRAVELLERS REST, in place of William Davis deceased.”

Walsall Observer 11/4/1885

“On Tuesday morning, E. Hooper, Esq, (District Coroner), held an inquiry at the TRAVELLERS REST public house touching the death of Julia Elizabeth Fox, forty-four years of age, who committed suicide on the previous Friday morning by cutting her throat with a table knife.

Joseph Fox, miner, deposed that deceased was his wife, and had been in very bad health for a considerable time. She had complained of severe pains in her head, and had been an in-patient at the Birmingham and Midland Counties Eye Hospital, of which institution she was an out-patient at the time of her death. Deceased had an ulcer in one of her eyes, and sometimes she asked him to get up and bathe her eye, she often being in great agony. Witness last saw his wife alive about ten o'clock in the morning, when he left home to go to church. He had not been in church long before his little girl came and told him what had happened. He immediately went home, and found his wife upon the bed, with her throat cut. They kissed each other, and deceased tried to kiss her little children. Witness called in Dr. Finlay, of Walsall, who happened to be in the neighbourhood at the time, and that gentleman, after deceased had been removed to a sofa, sewed up her throat. Deceased told her husband that the wound was self-inflicted, and when she came to herself she found out what she had done.

In reply to the Coroner, witness said the knife was kept in a drawer amongst other knives. She was not insured, but was in a club held at the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN. On one occasion she told him the pain from her eye and in the back of her head would drive her out of her mind, and she was afraid she should have to be taken away.

The Coroner said he did not wish to distress witness any more than was necessary by asking questions, and enquired whether the jury were satisfied.

The whole of that body agreed that further examination of the witness was unnecessary, and it was intimated that they had no questions to ask.

Benjamin Fox, son of the deceased, deposed that he saw his mother in the house about half past nine in the morning, in company with his sister. He went out, and returned again about half past eleven. Whilst in the yard he heard a noise such as might be made by a dog, and went to look in the closet. He pushed the door, but could not open it, and went away. Directly after he heard the noise again, and found the closet door open. He then saw his mother with a large cut in her throat, the blood flowing freely on to her apron and on to the floor. The knife lay by her side. Witness immediately raised an alarm, and Mrs. Price came. His mother was conveyed into the house, where she died about half past two o'clock the same day. Both his mother and his father were religious.

The Coroner, in summing up, said that according to the evidence the case was very clear, and there appeared to be no doubt that the act had been committed with the instrument produced. If the jury thought fit, he would adjourn the inquest for further evidence; but he did not think that course necessary.

Police-constable Alldritt stated that he suggested to the doctor to ask deceased some questions, and she replied that she cut her throat with the knife because she could not find the razor. She also told witness that she was going to do it before, but she saw witness, who happened to be in the yard.

The Coroner said there was no doubt deceased died from the wound in the throat; and the jury were unanimous in returning a verdict to the effect that deceased Committed Suicide whilst in an unsound state of mind."

1891 Census

Walsall Road – TRAVELLERS REST

[1] Joseph Whitehead (34), licensed victualler, born Bedworth, Warwickshire;

[2] Annie Whitehead (29), wife, born Lichfield;

[3] Ernest Whitehead (4), son, born Lichfield;

[4] Thomas Jones (50), boarder, coal miner, born Hednesford;

[5] Alice Jones (22), domestic servant, born Kingswinford:

Joseph Whitehead – see also NEW INN, Bloxwich.

Birmingham Daily Post 21/8/1891

"Lichfield. The annual licensing sessions were held yesterday.....

Mr. Dale (Birmingham) applied on behalf of Joseph Whitehead, of the TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, for a full license for the premises formerly known as the Anchor Inn. The Bench refused the application, as they did not think that the license was required in the district named."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1893

"The annual Licensing Sessions for this district took place at the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning. The magistrates present were Messrs. F. James, W. H. Brookes and J. Naylor.

Superintendent Barnett opposed the renewal of the licenses of the following houses.....

TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, on the ground that the premises were difficult to supervise on account of insufficient fencing at the back the police required certain alterations deferred until the Adjourned Sessions, and then, if the alterations had been effected, the license would be renewed."

Walsall Advertiser 6/7/1895

"On Monday, at the Rushall Police Court, a temporary authority for the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, was granted by the Bench to Samuel Andrew Birch."

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

"The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New members..... Mr. Samuel Andrew Birch, TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood."

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1896

"Police-constable Trusswell seems to have had a lively time at Walsall Wood during the past fortnight, for in addition to the above charges heard at Rushall on Monday he had caused a third summons to be issued against Samuel Tinsley, miner, for having been drunk and disorderly on the 19th ult. The officer informed the Bench that defendant was thrown out of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, at 10.25pm on September 19th. He was drunk, shouting, and making use of bad language. It being defendant's first offence he was let off on payment of costs."

Walsall Advertiser 28/1/1899

"Mr. H. A. Pearson held an inquest on Wednesday at the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. It was stated that the deceased was taken ill on Sunday afternoon at the Sunday school, and on arriving home suddenly expired. From a post mortem examination it was found that death was due to cardiac failure. A verdict was passed accordingly."

Lichfield Mercury 10/3/1899 - Advert

"Seed Potatoes for Sale, Findlay's 'Up-to-Date'.
Apply Samuel Birch, TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood."

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1899

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....
A funeral donation of £3 was voted to Mrs. Birch on the death of her husband, Mr. Samuel Andrew Birch, who joined the society on 15th August, 1895."

Lichfield Mercury 8/9/1899

"Rushall Licensing Sessions. These annual sessions were held on Monday.....
So far as the old licenses were concerned, they would be renewed, but there was one rather peculiar case – the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. The holder of the license died a short time ago, and a temporary authority was granted to his widow, and as a matter of fact she should have applied for an extension of it at the last Petty Sessions there. For some inevitable cause this was not done, and the day she should have applied for the transfer of the license in her own name; but she had, unfortunately, herself died the previous evening. There was no family, and it would be a question for consideration, upon application being made, as to how they should deal with that particular license. However, when it came before them it would be considered in its merits, and endeavours made to do justice to the representatives of the deceased person."

Walsall Observer 25/8/1900

"On Thursday evening, the 16th inst, a splendid supper was provided at the TRAVELLERS REST, by Mr. and Mrs. N. Birch in connection with the Foresters. About sixty members and friends sat down....."

1901 Census

Lichfield Road – TRAVELLERS REST INN

- [1] Nephi Birch (32), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Clara Birch (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harry Hateley (16), son, brickmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Edith Hateley (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Hateley (11), daughter, born Willenhall;
- [6] Ethel M. Birch (6), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Lilian A. Birch (3), daughter, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 7/9/1901

"Mr. G. C. Lewis submitted plans of alterations at the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. He explained that the licensed area of drinking accommodation would not be increased, but it was intended to build a new club room over the kitchen and turn the old club room into two bedrooms. Plans approved."

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1902

"A temporary transfer of the license of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, was granted from Nephi Birch to Henry Wood."

London Gazette 11/11/1902

"Adjudications. Birch, Nephi, 11, Feather-street, Flint, in the county of Flint, lately residing and carrying on business at the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, Staffordshire, miner, lately Licensed Victualler."

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/11/1902

"Henry Wood, of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, was charged with permitting drunkenness on the 1st inst. He was fined £3 and costs."

Lichfield Mercury 5/12/1902

"Henry Wood, landlord of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, charged at the Rushall Petty Session for permitting drunkenness, writes to say that he did not assist the man, Walters to a seat when he entered his house."

John Rae McLean – see also ROVERS REST.

Lichfield Mercury 6/3/1903

“John Rae McClean, landlord of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood applied for the renewal of his license. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared on behalf of the owner, Mr. Ball, Lichfield, and the licensee.

Supt. Salt opposed the renewal, and said his objections were that the license was not required, that the house was of a disorderly character, and on November 24, 1902, Henry Wood was convicted for permitting drunkenness and fined £3 and costs, and for selling liquor to a drunken person was ordered to pay the costs. The premises were in a dilapidated state, but since the notice was served some repairs had been done, so that objection was probably removed. He had other evidence to call as to the second ground of objection.

PC Lockley was then called, and gave evidence that on Oct. 18 he saw a man going out of the house drunk and using bad language. The man, whose name was John Turner, was summoned on November 10 and fined 10s and costs.

Cross-examined: He did not see where the man got his drink.

Mr. Jackson, in addressing the Bench, pointed out that for 15 years the house had held an excellent character, and there had been no complainant. With regard to the evidence as to disorderly character, he almost wondered at the police giving evidence they had. Possibly the explanation was that the man had no refreshment at the house, but had been turned out by the landlord. They might presume that was the case. About £200 had been spent on the premises. McCLean was a bona-fide tenant, and had paid £140 to go into the house, and he thought that would be a guarantee that the licensee would conduct the house properly. He thought that the house had a very good record. and he asked the Bench to renew the license.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1904

“Application was made, on Monday, at Rushall, for a temporary transfer of authority, in respect of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, from John Rae McClean to John Wesley. The matter was adjourned for inquiries to be made.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/10/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. John Wesley, TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, was elected to fill the vacant seat on the Executive Committee.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/2/1908

“The annual Licensing session for the division of Rushall were held on Monday.....

Application was made for the TRAVELLERS REST, for sanction to certain alterations, and it was stated these would lead to better supervision of the smoke-room and snug. Application refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1910

“There was a full Bench of Magistrates present at the Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division, held on Tuesday, at the Rushall Police Court.....

The first objection heard was that of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, the owner of which is Mr. Robert Henry Walker Ball, and the licensee Mr. John Wesley. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared on their behalf.

Superintendent Salt, in his evidence, said that the house was ‘tied’ for beer and spirits, but was free for wines and bottled goods. The licensee was a quarterly tenant. There had been two transfers in the last ten years, and no convictions during the last five years. He considered that house was an insanitary one, especially the yard and stabling; there was no accommodation for visitors. The ceilings were low, and the accommodation for the licensee was sparse. There were three more houses within 500 yards. Redundancy was the principle objection to the renewal.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson as to why the house was objected to in preference to any other, the Superintendent said that he only acted on instructions. He admitted that there were no visitors at Walsall Wood, so that accommodation was not wanted. It was a house of great convenience to canal boatmen, who stabled their horses there at night, and was the only house in the district that had such convenience. Between Shelfield and Shire Oak there were only seven houses on the main road, and this house was used largely as a house of call by market gardeners.

Mr. H. H. Jackson addressing the Bench, urged that the house was badly needed. It was of great convenience to boatmen, as many as eight or ten horses being stabled there every night; it was also used largely by market gardeners, there being good space in front of the house for carts. The tenant had been there six years, and paid £50 a year rent, besides the rates, taxes, and license duties. That spoke for itself as to the house being a profitable one. The takings averaging £25 10s 6d per week. If refused the compensation would work out very large. Redundancy was the matter of complaint, and yet under any circumstances there could not be any house better, and they said that there were none as good. The house had been picked out, which he thought was unfair, as there was nothing against it. He also had a letter from the Dock, Wharf, and Riverside and General Workers’ Union of Great Britain and Ireland stating that the house was of great convenience to boatmen, and he also put in a memorial signed by about 140 people – market gardeners, boatmen, and other customers – stating that the house was of great convenience to them. If there was any house the license of which should be renewed in the whole of Walsall Wood, it was the house in question.

Mr. H. E. Farmer (architect) gave evidence as to the house, and said it was well kept, and had recently been painted and papered. The living accommodation was quite good, and apart from the house, which he thought was a great advantage.

The licensee (Mr. John Wesley) also gave evidence as to the trade of the house and its accommodation, and in answer to Superintendent Salt, said the supervision was perfect. In reply to the Bench witness said he sold more beer than spirits.

After a short adjournment the Bench decided to renew the license.”

Lichfield Mercury 18/11/1910

“Messrs. Gray and Walker (in conjunction with Messrs. Hutton, Thompson and Colbourne) held an important sale of licensed property, forming the estate of the late Mr. R. H. W. Ball, of Lichfield, at the Grand Hotel, Birmingham, last week. A fully licensed freehold house called the TRAVELLERS REST, let to Mr. John Wesley, with a cottage adjoining, was also sold to the Lichfield Brewery Company, for £1,500.”

It boasted “Lichfield Ales, Wines & Spirits” on the wall. [c.1911]

1911 Census

Lichfield Road

- [1] John Wesley (51), innkeeper, born Bentley Farm, Bentley, Staffordshire;
- [2] S. A. Wesley (46), wife, married 28 years, born Gloscote, near Tamworth;
- [3] Mollie Wesley (19), daughter, assisting in business, born Chasetown;
- [4] Donia Wesley (16), daughter, assisting in business, born Chasetown;
- [5] May Wesley (15), daughter, assisting in business, born Chasetown;
- [6] Jack Wesley (14), son, school, born Chasetown;
- [7] Lizzie Wesley (9), daughter, school, born Chasetown;
- [8] Nellie Wesley (8), daughter, school, born Chasetown;
- [9] Fred Appleby (19), pianist and general servant, born Walsall;
- [10] Lottie Cresswell (16), house maid, born Walsall Wood;
- [11] Jack Pinchers (29), visitor, born Walsall Wood;

Lichfield Mercury 26/7/1912

“John Wesley, licensee of the TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, was charged with being drunk in charge of a pony and trap in Bird Street, Lichfield, the previous day. Mr. G. Birch, Lichfield appeared for the defendant.

Pc G. Bailey said that about 6-30pm he was in company with Pc Eley, by the Clock Tower, in Bird Street, when he saw defendant with two other men driving by him in a trap. Witness started to follow the trap, and in turning the corner into Sandford Street, he saw the trap swerve across the road into the post by Mr. Brown’s office, and knocking down a man named Collins, who was standing talking to two other men. The pony went down on its knees, and threw the defendant out of the trap. When witness arrived on the scene the defendant had just got into the trap again. Pc Eley asked him to get out, which he did after a little delay, and he was taken to the police station.

Cross-examined by Mr. Birch, witness said that the trap went right to the far side of the road and on to the pavement, instead of keeping to the left side.

Pc Eley gave corroborative evidence.

James Collins, 40, Townfields, said that he was standing on the corner of Sandford Street, about 6-15pm on the date mentioned.

He was with his back towards Bird Street, conversing with two men, when suddenly he received a violent blow in the shoulder which knocked him down causing an injury to his head. He was taken to the Nursing Home, and his injuries were attended to. He afterwards found that it was the pony’s head which struck him.

John Mallarney, labourer, 58, Sandford Street, one of the men to whom the last witness was talking spoke to seeing the last witness knocked down.

Ps Jones said that he saw the defendant brought to the Police Station in a drunken condition. Defendant asked to see a doctor, and one was fetched. Defendant was not satisfied, and a second doctor was secured.

Mr. Birch, for the defence, submitted that the charge had not been made out. The corner of Sandford Street was a very difficult one to get round, and when his client was thrown out, it caused him to be in a very dazed condition when he was taken to the Police station, and probably the last witness thought he was drunk.

Frederic Appleby, pianist, the TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, was called for the defence and stated that he was with the defendant in the trap. They had put the pony and trap up at the George the Fourth Inn, and started home about 6-30pm. When they got to the corner of Sandford Street the pony became frightened at the men standing at the corner. He was quite sure that it was an accident that the defendant was thrown out, as in his opinion defendant was quite capable of driving. In reply to questions by Superintendent Oakden as to defendant’s condition witness said that in his opinion the defendant was not sober, and he was not drunk. He would be a about ‘half and half.’

A fine of 10s and 19s 3d costs was imposed.”

AND

“Frederick Appleby, TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, was summoned for riding a bicycle on the footpath in Ogle Lane, Brownhill, on June 29th. Pc Oaks proved the case. Defendant said he rode on the path as the road was rather rough, and he was afraid of getting a puncture. He was ordered to pay costs, 6s.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/3/1913

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the Rushall Division took place on Monday, when Sir E. T. Holden presided over a full Bench.

Mr. Jackson also applied for the renewal of the license of the TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, for the Lichfield Brewery Company, and stated that the ground for opposition was that the tenant, John Wesley, had been fined at Lichfield for being drunk in charge of a horse and trap. Mr. Jackson said Wesley had been a license-holder for nine years, and previously kept the Queen’s Hotel, at Chasetown, for eight years, so that it was the first complaint against him for 17 years. As a matter of fact, the offence was not against the tenor of his license, and he urged that it would be a distinct hardship to penalise the licensee for a slip which had nothing to do with the management of the house.

The license was renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/8/1913

“Mr. John Wesley, host of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, gave his customers an annual outing on Sunday. Upwards of 45 left Walsall Wood in brakes at 2.45pm, and an enjoyable ride was taken through Shenstone and Little Hay, returning via Lichfield.”

Lichfield Mercury 7/11/1913 - Advert

“TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood (Adjoining Tram Terminus).

Winterson & Sons have received instructions to Sell by Auction, on Wednesday Next, November 12th, a quantity of Household Furniture, comprising Oak Corner Cupboard, Oak Chest, Inlaid Mahogany 8-day Grandfather Clock, Tables Chairs, Chests of Drawers, Toilet Tables, Oak-Grained Housekeeper’s Cupboard, Sofa, 3 Bar Tables, Mahogany Sideboard, Sundry Crockery, and Effects.

Sale at 2-15. Catalogues from the Auctioneer.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/2/1927

“The licensing Sessions for Rushall....

It was stated that the following licenses were to be opposed on the ground of redundancy.....

TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood.....

Sir Reginald Coventry, K.C., and Mr. A. J. Long supported an application by Mitchell and Butlers, Ltd, for the removal of the TRAVELLERS REST license from Walsall Wood to the corner of College Road and Hawthorn Road, Perry Common, a district where the Birmingham Corporation are building 1,350 houses. Mr. H. Wilson opposed for the Holt Brewery Company, the owners of the Golden Cross, and Mr. Norman Carr, the Rev. W. W. Cotton, and others.

It was stated that the new house proposed by Mitchell and Butlers would have a bowling green and spacious kitchen arrangements.

The Bench refused the application.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1927

“At the Rushall Licensing Sessions, on Tuesday.....

Objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses.....

On the ground of redundancy.....

TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/11/1935

“A licensee bearing the honoured name of John Wesley, who held the license of the TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, for over 30 years, has just died. He formerly held the license of the Queens Hotel, Chasetown, for nine years. Deceased, who was interested in all forms of sport, leaves two sons and five daughters. The husbands of two of his daughters are licensed holders, Mrs. C. Nicholls, WHITE LION, Darlaston, and Mrs. J. Lowe, RED LION, Moxley. Mr. Wesley’s wife died some thirteen years ago.”

1939 Register

Walsall Road – TRAVELLERS REST INN

- [1] Thomas E. Fenn, date of birth 22/2/1899, licensee, married;
- [2] Helen I. Fenn, dob 8/7/1902, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] John Thomas Fenn, dob 12/12/1928, at school, single;
- [4] Lily (Leek) Yates, dob 13/8/1916, housemaid, single:

Walsall Observer 2/8/1941 - Advert

“To Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, The Wheel Inn, Brownhills.

I apologise for the statements I have made about you both, and the near future I shall not repeat them again.

Ada Beddows, The Cottage, TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. July 25, 1941.”

Walsall Observer 28/11/1942 - Deaths

“Barnes. In loving memory of our devoted sister, May (formerly Wesley), TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood, who died at her home, Mansfield, Nov. 18, 1942.”

Walsall Observer 12/12/1942 - In Memoriam

“In treasured memory of our dear mother, Sarah Ann Wesley of TRAVELLERS REST INN, Walsall Wood, who died Dec. 11, 1922.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
TRAVELLERS REST, Walsall Wood. £2 1s 6d.”

Demolished

TURF TAVERN

13, Wolverhampton Road, (99, The Green), Short Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Enoch Bickley, Green, Bloxwich
William Bickley
William Wilkes
Mary Wilkes [1901]
Frank Wilkes
Thomas and Matthew Wilkes [1907]
Frank and Joseph Wilkes [1925]
Mrs. Doris Hiscott-Wilkes [1992]

LICENSEES

Enoch Bickley [1865] – [1868]
William Bickley [1868] – [1878];
William Wilkes [1881];
Mrs. Mary Wilkes [1888] – 1904);
Frank Wilkes Snr. (1904 – 1925);
Frank Wilkes Jnr. (1925 – 1985);
Doris and Zena Hiscott-Wilkes [2001] – [2003]
Doris Hiscott-Wilkes [2006] – [2007]
Zena Hiscott-Wilkes [2014]

NOTES

99, The Green [1871]
13, Wolverhampton Road [1881], [1891], [1901], [1939], [1940]

It was known locally as “Tinky’s”.

It had a beerhouse license.

It had a brewery at the rear.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/2/1865

“Young Lawrence (alias Lampy) of Bloxwich will fight Sam Taylor at catch weight, for £5 or £10 a side, and will meet him on Monday at E. Bickley’s, TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, to make a match.”

Walsall Free Press 3/2/1866

“Enoch Bickley, TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, pleaded guilty to having permitted beer to be consumed on his premises at half-past eleven on the night of the 27th ult, and was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 27/10/1866 - Advert

“Sale At The TURF TAVERN INN, Bloxwich.

To Be Sold By Auction, by H. Farrington, on the premises as above, on Monday, November 5th, 1866, Household Furniture and Effects, comprising 4-post and French bedsteads, palliasses, painted dressing chest, cane seat chairs, painted wardrobe, mahogany loo table, 2-leaf mahogany table, mahogany chiffoneer, six mahogany chairs and two elbow chairs, wrought iron Furnace and other effects, removed for convenience of Sale to the above Inn.

Sale to commence at Two o’clock in the Afternoon, conditions as usual.”

Walsall Free Press 8/2/1868

“Enoch Bickley, the TURF TAVERN (beerhouse), was charged with having, on the 27th ultimo, had his house open during prohibited hours.

Police-constable Acton said that at twenty minutes past eleven on the night in question he visited the house and found 20 men in the tap-room, and several jugs and glasses with liquor in them. The landlord's son told him that they had had a housewarming supper, and that he had been to Walsall and seen Mr. Cater, who said it would be all right for an hour or so if the company were orderly.

The landlord's son was called for the defence, and said that it was only fifteen minutes past eleven, and that he was trying to get the men out. No ale was filled after eleven o'clock, and the officer after leaving, went into a public house and had some drink. On being questioned upon this latter point by the bench, witness said he had been told that the officer had gone to another public house to drink.

The Bench cautioned the witness against hearsay evidence, and told him that if had any charge to make against the officer, he must make it in writing, and it would be investigated by the Watch Committee, and then sentenced the defendant to pay £1 and costs. The Chief of police said that Acton, who had been in the force several years, and wore a good conduct stripe, was one of the steadiest men in the force."

William Bickley, carpenter and beer retailer, Short Heath. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

"Walsall Annual Licensing Day, Wednesday applications for new licenses for the sale of spirits.....

Mr. Glover applied, on behalf of William Bickley, landlord of the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, and, in his remarks, said his client had been refused his license because of the proximity of his house to the SPOTTED COW.

Mr. Brewer: How far is it from the cow's father? (Laughter.)

Mr. Glover: The Bull, you mean. Well, I can't say; but that is only the head of the cow's father, for it is merely the BULLS HEAD.

The Mayor announced that the Bench had decided not to grant any new licenses this year."

William Bickley was also a carpenter. [1871]

1871 Census

99 The Green – TURF TAVERN

- [1] William Bickley (35), carpenter and publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Bickley (32), wife, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Ann Bickley (8), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Elizabeth Bickley (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Ann Maria Bickley (2), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Martha Pritchard (18), general servant, born Bromley, Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

"Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie) applied for a victualling licence for William Bickley, of the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich.....

The magistrates retired, and on their return into court stated that the licensing justices would visit the houses of William Bickley and would give their decision at the Adjourned Licensing Session."

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1876

"The annual licensing session took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The new applications were proceeded with as follows.....

William Bickley, beerhouse-keeper, Bloxwich, for a victuallers' license, supported by Mr. Gillespie (of the firm Messes. Wilkinson and Gillespie), and opposed by Mr. Glover for the owners of other houses, and Mr. Chidley (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) for the Temperance Society. The last named gentleman opposed in all subsequent cases on behalf of the society. Refused."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1877

"The annual licensing session for the borough of Walsall took place yesterday, at the Guildhall.....

The applicant's for full licenses..... W. Bickley, TURF TAVERN beerhouse, Bloxwich, supported by Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Wilkinson and Gillespie), and opposed by Mr. A. Baker, on behalf of William Plant of the SPOTTED COW INN. Refused."

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/8/1878

"The annual licensing session for the borough was held yesterday.....

William Bickley, the TURF TAVERN, The Green, Bloxwich, applied for a victuallers' license for his beerhouse. Mr. Gillespie appeared for the applicant, and Mr. Baker opposed on behalf of the landlord of the SPOTTED COW. Refused."

A wine license was granted pre 1881.

1881 Census

13, Wolverhampton Road – TURF TAVERN

- [1] William Wilkes (52), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Wilkes (47), wife, born Wyrley;
- [3] Ada Wilkes (24), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Thomas W. Wilkes (21), son, locksmith, born Birmingham;
- [5] Mathew Wilkes (20), son, locksmith, born Birmingham;
- [6] Martha Wilkes (17), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [7] Frank Wilkes (16), son, horse dealer, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Annie M. Wilkes (13), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Mary Wilkes (11), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [10] Leah Wilkes (7), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [11] Charlotte Dunn (18), general servant, born Short Heath, Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/10/1888

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, Frank Wilkes (24), was brought up in custody charged with having done wilful damage to the amount of £12 10s, at the house of his mother, the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, who in her evidence said that although the damage was nominally put at £12 10s it really was very much more. The evidence showed that a few months since the defendant’s wife left him, and his mother allowed him to come to live with her. His behaviour there was anything but good, and his mother had to take out against him a summons for threats and wilful damage, which was served on Monday morning. His mother afterwards kept out of his way, fearing him; and in the evening she was in a neighbour’s house, when he began to abuse his brother and a man named Thomas Jevons, who had been in the house since Saturday for the protection of the mother, and at last struck Jevons, who knocked him down. He managed to possess himself of the poker as he lay on the floor, but it was taken from him, and Jevons got him on his legs and forced him to the front door. Two women being in the way, however, he did not get him into the street, but put him into one of the rooms, and shut the door upon him. There he took up another poker, and beginning with the portraits of his deceased father and his mother, smashed thirteen pictures, two plate-glass doors, various articles of furniture, and other things, not desisting from his mad work of destruction until a policeman arrived.

He was remanded until tomorrow, bail being refused, some other charges arising out of the same row also standing over.”

Lichfield Mercury 2/11/1888

“At the Walsall Guildhall, Frank Wilkes (24) was brought up on remand with having destroyed portraits and other things, the property of his mother, Mary Wilkes.

Mr. Gillespie appeared on his behalf, and asked that the case might be adjourned for a week, and the prisoner liberated on his recognisances with a view to his going abroad at once, in accordance with an arrangement made by his family.

After some discussion the prisoner was bound over in his own recognizance in £50 to appear today, the clerk telling him that it was open to the magistrates to estreat the recognisances if they thought fit, but he did not suppose they would do so as long as defendant kept out of the country.”

1891 Census

13, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Mary Wilkes (56), widow, born Wyrley;
 - [2] Matthew Wilkes (29), son, lock maker, born, Birmingham;
 - [3] Annie M. Wilkes (23), daughter, born Bloxwich;
 - [4] Mary Wilkes (20), daughter, school teacher, born Bloxwich;
 - [5] Leah Wilkes (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;
 - [6] Sarah Wood (22), servant, born Birkenhead;
 - [7] Sarah Stokes (29), servant, born Bloxwich:
- [No occupation is given for Mary Wilkes.]

Walsall Advertiser 10/8/1895

“At 9.15 on Wednesday morning information was brought to the Bloxwich Police Station, by Alfred Taylor, of Bell Lane, that a rick belonging to Mrs. Mary Wilkes, of the TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, and situated in a field in Mill Lane, had been set on fire by a little lad about the age of eight years. Three officers proceeded to the scene of the fire, and with the aid of a hand-pump extinguished the flames. The damage was estimated about £7, but the rick was not insured.”

Mrs. Mary Wilkes, beer retailer, Wolverhampton Road. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1899

“Walsall County Court.

There was a case down for hearing in which John Jordan, baker, of Park Road, Bloxwich, sought possession of certain property now held by Mary Wilkes, widow, of the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich. The property includes about 500 square yards of land, upon which are two dwelling-houses, of the annual value of £28 12s. Plaintiff also claimed £32 9s for mesne profits on the said premises from the 1st November, 1897, since which date he claimed to have been entitled to possession.

Mr. Baker, who appeared for the defendant, now stated that the plaintiff had discontinued his action. On behalf of his client he asked for costs. These were granted, on the higher scale.”

Walsall Observer 6/1/1900

“The employees of the Mill Lane Works, Bloxwich, partook of their usual free supper, which took place on Friday evening, the 29th ult, at the TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road.....”

1901 Census

13, Wolverhampton Road – TURF TAVERN INN

- [1] Mary Wilkes (66), widow, victualler, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Leah J. Wilkes (26), daughter, domestic help, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Lizzie Parsons (22), general servant, born Wyrley, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Mary Wilkes, TURF TAVERN.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

Mr. Loxton read a list of decisions (some of which had been given the previous day), and stated that in the case of some of the renewals the magistrates were of opinion that they were not required, but as they were taken out prior to 1869 they had been granted in order to give the owners an opportunity of considering their position and making any suggestions they thought necessary. The decisions included the following.....

TURF TAVERN Bloxwich, renewed on an undertaking to build gates.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1904

“Tuesday. The magistrates granted the following applications for transfers of licences.....

TURF TAVERN, The Green, Bloxwich, J. Wootton and S. Wootton (executors of Mary Wilkes) to Frank Wilkes.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/10/1906

“Sarah Jones (55), Sneyd Lane, Bloxwich, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, on Saturday.

Police-sergeant Cattermole stated that he was called to the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, when he found the landlord trying to eject the prisoner, who was very drunk and disorderly.

The Chief Constable stated that prisoner was put on the ‘black list’ in September, 1903, but since had served eight separate months’ imprisonment.

Mr. Crump: You think the black list a failure? – The Chief Constable: As far as this woman is concerned, it is. One months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1907

“Frank Wilkes, Bloxwich, was summoned for persistent cruelty to his wife, Agnes Mary Wilkes, 473, Leamore.

Mr. R. A. Wilcock (Wolverhampton) applied for an adjournment on the grounds that the summons was only served on Wednesday and there had not been sufficient time to get up a defence.

Mr. Carl Douglas, who appeared to prosecute, opposed the application, as complainant had had twenty years unhappiness, and the wife would be separated from the children during the adjournment.

Ultimately, however, the case was adjourned for fourteen days, by arrangement.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/10/1909

“The annual supper given by the host of the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, Mr. Frank Wilkes, was held at the hostelry on Thursday evening, when some fifty guests did ample justice to the good things set before them. A musical evening was contributed during the evening and much enjoyed, the artistes being Messrs. W. Lounds, C. Bonser, F. Painter, T. Hykin, and others. A vote of thanks to the chairman and host and hostess, followed by the singing of the National Anthem, brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.”

1911 Census

13, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Frank Wilkes (46), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Agnes Mary Wilkes (43), wife, married 23 years, born Coven, Staffordshire;
- [3] Leah Wilkes (20), daughter, helps in business, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Frederick Wilkes (16), son, school, helps in business, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Frank Wilkes (16), son, school, helps in business, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Ernest Wilkes (13), son, school, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Joseph Wilkes (10), son, school, born Bloxwich;

[8] Leo Wilkes (8), son, school, born Bloxwich:

Frank Wilkes, beer retailer, 13, Wolverhampton Road. [1912]

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, 2½d.”

Walsall Observer 28/11/1914

“The meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held at the CROWN INN, Lower Hall Lane.....
New members..... Frank Wilkes, TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich. £3 0s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 13/12/1924

“.....The desirability of there being two licensees for one house was questioned upon an application being made by Mr. J. D. Evans for the transfer of the license of the TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich, from the name of the late Frank Wilkes to his executors, Frank Wilkes, jun, and Joseph Wilkes.
‘I know licenses have been granted to two persons’. Remarked the Magistrates’ Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton), ‘but it is preferred that there should be one holder.’
Mr. Evans replied that he had had no opportunity of discussing which of the two executors should hold the license, and the Bench granted a temporary transfer, pending a decision on the point.....”

Walsall Observer 5/6/1926

“New Hope in Coal Situation.
How Unemployment and Relief Have Increased During the Fifth Week of Stoppage.....
Soup kitchens were yesterday opened by the Walsall Miners’ Distress Committee in the Bloxwich and Leamore districts for the feeding of about 2,000 members of miners’ families. The stations were – BLUE PIG INN (1,300 fed), TURF TAVERN (160), Field Street School (175), BLACK HORSE, Leamore (250), Blakenall Church Schools (250), and the NAGS HEAD, Little Bloxwich (150). Although the committee are short of funds, they are taking the risk of carrying on the feeding for at least a week, and will continue if more money is forthcoming. It is estimated that the week’s effort will cost about £100. Seventeen gallons of milk, which have been given daily by Mr. Sid Field, of Blue Lane, have also been distributed this week.”

1939 Register

13, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Frank Wilkes, date of birth 30/10/1894, beerhouse keeper, married;
- [2] Emily Wilkes, dob 10/5/1894, unpaid domestic duties and bar hand, married;
- [3] Agnes (Wilkes) Clews, dob 17/10/1923, shorthand typist, single;
- [4] Doris (Wilkes) Hiscott, dob 12/8/1925, at school, single;
- [5] Frank Wilkes, dob 3/9/1933, at school, single:

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich. £1 14s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 17/6/1944 - Marriages

“On June 10, 1944, at St. Peter’s R.C. Church, Bloxwich, Father Hanrahan officiating, Albert Victor, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clews, of Elmore Green Road, Bloxwich, to Agnes Sarah, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes, of the TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich.”

Birmingham Mail 10/2/1945 - Engagements

“The engagement is announced between Ronald, only son of Capt. H. J. and Mrs. Hiscott, Turk’s Head, Birmingham, and Doris, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wilkes, TURF TAVERN, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 21/7/1945

“How he kept observation through a service hatch at the TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, and heard bets being made on horse and dog races, was told by a police-constable at Walsall Magistrates Court on Monday, when Charles Heeley (30), a miner, of 45, Keats Road, was summoned for using the TURF TAVERN for the purposes of betting with persons resorting there-” to between May 19th and June 15th. Frank Wilkes, the licensee of the TURF TAVERN, was summoned for permitting his premises to be used for betting and his brother Joe Wilkes, who shared the management of the tavern with him, was summoned for aiding and abetting him in the commission of the offence. Mr. Frank Cooper prosecuted, and Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson represented the brothers Wilkes who pleaded not guilty, and also appeared for Heeley who pleaded guilty.

Police-constable Storer said that at 1.35 on Saturday, May 19th he kept observation in the passage of the TURF TAVERN, where he was able to see through a service hatch into the bar and two smoke-rooms. While Joe Wilkes was serving at the bar he saw Heeley receive slips of paper from several customers. Later a man handed a slip of paper and some money to Heeley, who asked him what it was. The man replied, 'A bob each way on Oatflake, and a bob each way on 'The Shah'.' Heeley then went into the front smoke-room where Frank Wilkes was sitting and received slips of paper and money from two customers. While Wilkes was still in the smoke-room he heard a man say, 'Two bob each way,' and Heeley replied, 'All right.' Witness was of the opinion that both brothers were aware that Heeley was taking bets.

Continuing, witness said he also kept observation in the passage on June 2, Friday June 8, Saturday June 9, and Saturday June 16. On one occasion he heard Joe Wilkes say to Heeley: 'There's one over there for you Charlie.' Heeley went over to a group of men and received slips of paper from several of them. Witness also heard the names of horses and dogs mentioned and on Saturday 9 he himself placed a bet with Heeley in the presence of Joe Wilkes. He handed Heeley a pound note and received 16s change. On no occasion did Heeley purchase or consume any drink on the premises.

Questioned by Mr. Hodgkinson police-constable Storer said he always went to the TURF TAVERN in a lorry, and made his notes in the cab of the lorry about ten minutes after he left the public house.

Police-constable Banks, who accompanied police-constable Storer on June 9th corroborated his evidence, although, when questioned by Mr. Hodgkinson, said he believed that Storer handed Heeley some coins when he placed the bet. They had made notes in conjunction with each other.

During the lunch adjournment the justices made an inspection of the TURF TAVERN, as there was some doubt as to whether it was possible to get a full view of the bar through the service hatch.

Inspector Brumhill said that on Saturday June 16th he went to the TURF TAVERN with Temporary Sergeant Mason and other officers, and made a thorough search of the premises. Heeley was standing in the passage holding a sporting paper and in his possession were found 18 betting slips relating to horses running at Ascot and Pontefract and dogs running at Wolverhampton, 7 paying-out slips, two copies of the 'Sporting Chronicle,' 24 sweep letter cards, and £17 7s 3d. The other people on the premises were searched, but nothing relating to betting was found. Joe Wilkes told witness that he was in partnership with his brother and although the license was in Frank's name they shared the management of the business, and both lived on the premises. When told why the house was being searched Joe replied: 'I have not seen any bets being taken. If I had seen I should certainly have stopped it.' Frank replied: 'I have no explanation to give, I have seen no betting going on, and I did not know betting was going on.'

Frank Wilkes said that the license of the TURF TAVERN had been owned by his family for over 60 years and he himself had held it for 20 years. He had never seen betting going on. The house had always been very strictly supervised and no games of any kind were permitted. Heeley was a fairly regular customer, but he did not know he was interested in betting.

Mr. Cooper: Do you seriously mean to tell the Bench that you did not know Heeley was taking bets for an office only one minute's walk from your premises. – Wilkes: No, I did not know.

Joe Wilkes also declared that he had never seen bets being taken, 'If I had noticed anyone taking bets, I should certainly turn him out,' he said. He suggested that police-constable Storer's evidence was entirely untrue. After the premises were searched Heeley told him that he had taken bets in the street although he and never taken any on the premises.

Gilbert Wilkes of 'Adelaide,' Stafford Road, Bloxwich, and Thomas Walsh of 157, Field Street, who were regular customers of the TURF TAVERN stated that they had never seen any betting going on.

After a short retirement the magistrates (Messrs. A. E. Hurst, S. A. Eglington, and Mrs. G. V. Walters) found all the defendants guilty. They fined the brothers £10 each and ordered them to pay a total of £__ 2s 6d costs. Heeley was fined £10 and was allowed 28 days in which to pay it."

A full license was granted on 2nd February 1961.

Frank Wilkes Jnr. died in 1985.

1986 Probate

"Frank Wilkes of TURF TAVERN, Wolverhampton Road, Bloxwich, Walsall, died 22 February 1985. Probate, Birmingham, 6 February, £129,134."

It was Grade II listed in 1996.

Zena Hiscott-Wilkes was the daughter of Doris.

It was listed in 'The CAMRA National Inventory' of pub interiors of outstanding historic interest.

It was Walsall CAMRA Pub of the Year 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003

[2017]

TURKS HEAD

29, Digbeth, (Adams Row), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mary Payne, Wesley Rocks, Cheddleton, Staffordshire
Bent's Brewery, Liverpool
J. W. Fletcher, wine merchant, Walsall (leased 1904)
Henry Mitchell and Co. Ltd.
Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

LICENSEES

Robert Middlemore [1813] – [1822]
Francis Middlemore [1828]
Mrs. Middlemore [] – 1831);
George Forster (1831 – [1834]
William Winter Lates [1841]
G Shotton (1843 – [1844]
James Brown [1845]
Robert Newman [1849] – [1851]
William Payne [1852] – 1857);
John Jones (1857 – [1858]
Douglas [1858]
Amos Tomes [c.1860]
Ann Tomes [1861]
John Brown [1861] – [1862]
Wilson [1864]
John Smitheman [1864] – [1865]
Sarah E Taylor [1871]
Richard Austin [1872];
Thomas Lawley [1872];
John Dace [1881] – 1887);
George Sedgwick (1887 – 189_);
Walter James Bird [1891] (189_ – 1907);
James Henry Hobson (1907);
Harry Ernest Ballinger (1907 – 1909);
Frank Clarke (1909 – 1915);
George Barrett Crawford (1915 – 1921);
Thomas Moran [1921] ?
Edward Lloyd (1921 – 1932);
Ralph Davis (1932);
George Henry Johnson (1932 – 1933);
William Henry Nicholls (1933 – 1939);
James Watson (1939 – 1941);
William Bayliss (1941 – 1944);
Wilfred Stokes (1944 – 1948);
Frank Harold Newell (1948 – 1950);
George Frederick Whitten (1950 – 1951);
Clifford Bullers (1951 – 1953);
Charles Green (1953 – 1958);
Patrick Cavanagh (1958 – 1960);
Joseph Sidney Kendrick (1960 – 1961):

NOTES

It was situated opposite to the TALBOT.

It also had an entrance in Lower Hall Lane.

OLD TURKS HEAD [1880]

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/3/1806

“.....At Two Guineas and a Crown each Mare. The high bred horse George, the property of James Preston He will be at..... the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, Walsall, every Tuesday.....

During the season he will always attend if not prevented by sickness or lameness He is a sure foal-getter, and his Stock is very much approved of. The money will be collected at Midsummer next.”

Robert Middlemore, victualler, Digbeth. [1813]

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Lodges.....

Loyal Britons, No.4, held at TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, supposed number about 150, instituted 1809, surgeon Mr. Weaver, secretary Thomas Bache.”

AND

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at TURKS HEAD, Digbeth.”

A coach left from here to Birmingham every morning (Sunday excepted) at 9, and returned at 7. [1822]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1826 - Advert

“On Monday the 4th of December, 1826, a Grand Procession, to consist of the following united Lodges of Walsall, will take place to St. Matthew’s Church, in aid of the Fund for re-building and enlarging the Blue Coat and National School, viz. The Odd Fellows from the BULLS HEAD; Odd Fellows from the ROYAL OAK; Loyal Britons from the TURKS HEAD; the Grand Lodges of Queerfellows from the WATERING TROUGH; Loyal and Benevolent Fellows from the WATERLOO TAVERN; and Loyal Union Friendly Fellows from the SPREAD EAGLE; when the company of any visiting Brother belonging to any of the above Lodges, with their Friends will be esteemed. The Sermon by the Rev. Luke Booker, LLD and FRSL, Vicar of Dudley. In the course of the service, several pieces of Select Music from the works of Handel and Kent, will be performed by the Walsall Choir, with Assistants from Lichfield Cathedral. The Organ by Mr. Eyland. Divine Service will commence at eleven o’clock.

By direction of the Delegates of the above Orders.

Addison Richards, Secretary. Walsall, Nov 22, 1826.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/3/1827

“Patshull, the property of Mr. Henry Arthur, of Hednesford. This beautiful high-bred Horse, will cover this Season, at Cannock. Thorough-bred mares, 7 sovereigns; half-bred mares, two sovereigns, and five shillings the Groom He will be at the TURKS HEAD, Walsall, on Tuesdays.....”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 2/4/1827 - Died

“On Wednesday, Mr. Middlemore, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.”

The Tally Ho coach to Birmingham left from here every morning at 9. [1828]

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1829 - Married

“Yesterday week, at Walsall, Mr. John Fairfield, of the BARLEY MOW, Church Street, to Ann Letitia, eldest daughter of the late Mr. Robert Middlemore, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/10/1830 - Married

“On the 16th instant, at Walsall, by the Rev. J. Baron, MA Vicar, Mr. Thomas Kirkpatrick, to Elizabeth, second daughter of the late Mr. Middlemore, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

“The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion.....

The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.

Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.

Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.

Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.

Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.

Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.

Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.

Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.

Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.

True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.

The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/11/1831

“The Lodge of Loyal and Ancient Britons held their annual feast at the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, on Monday last. An excellent dinner was provided on the occasion, and the utmost hilarity prevailed.”

George Forster = George Foster

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 25/4/1831 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, April 23, 1831.

Mr. George Forster respectfully informs his Friends and the Public, that he has entered upon the above respectable and old established Commercial and Travellers’ Inn situate in Digbeth, Walsall (late in the occupation of Mrs. Middlemore), and solicits a continuance of the favours for many years conferred on her; at the same time he begs to state, that he had made considerable improvements in the interior of the house and the stabling departments, and will use every exertion to give general satisfaction to his customers on reasonable terms.

NB. the House-warming is fixed for Wednesday the 4th day of May next, when the company of any Friend will be esteemed a favour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1833 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Premises In Walsall.

To Be Sold by Auction, By T. Bowen, on Tuesday, the 29th day of January instant, at the TURKS HEAD INN, in Walsall, in the County of Stafford, by direction of the Trustees named in the will of Mr. Middlemore, deceased, at five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to such conditions as will then be produced.

All that old established and respectable Commercial Inn, the TURKS HEAD, situate in Digbeth, in Walsall aforesaid, and now in the occupation of George Forster, with a small House thereto adjoining fronting the public street, in the occupation of William Middlemore.

The Inn consists of excellent parlours, kitchen, bar, eight sleeping rooms, a capacious club room, and good cellaring, with a brew-house, a range of stables recently erected, and other outbuildings, with an entire yard.

The whole of the premises are in good condition, replete with conveniences, and desirably situated in one of the principal streets in the town for business.

A coach runs from the Inn twice a day to Birmingham and back.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. Marklew, Solicitor, or the Auctioneer, both of Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/5/1833

“During the night of Monday week the back kitchen belonging to the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, in the occupation of Mr. George Forster, was entered by means of removing some glass from the window, and a large quantity of table linen and other articles stolen therefrom.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/7/1834

“On Monday last the members composing the Grand Lodge of Friendly Fellows of Support had their usual feast in their lodge-room at the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall. Conviviality and good humour characterized this meeting, and parties separated at a late hour.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 21/3/1836 - Advert

“Sale At The TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, By Farrington and Son.

To be Sold by Auction, at the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, on Tuesday the 29th day of March inst, at three o’clock in the afternoon – that handsome Waggon Stallion, Thunderbolt. He is a beautiful dark grey, rising three years old, stands upwards of 17 hands high, possessing immense power, with remarkably clear flat legs.

He was got by Mr. Kendrick’s grey horse out of a very powerful mare, and has proved himself a sure foal-getter.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/5/1836 - Died

“On Saturday last, after a long illness, aged 63, Mr. George Forster, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.”

1841 Census

Adams Row

[1] William Lates (25), publican, born Staffordshire;

[2] Maria Lates (20), born Staffordshire;

[3] Ann Lates (1), born Staffordshire;

[4] Charles Lates (11), born Staffordshire;

- [5] Eliza Wright (25), fs;
- [6] Betsy Wright (20), fs;
- [7] Andrew Poole (24), labourer, born Staffordshire;
- [8] George Redfern (30), commercial traveller;
- [9] Elizabeth Withers (13), NK, born Staffordshire:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/6/1841 - Advert

“The TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.

To be Disposed Of, the Lease (of which ten years are unexpired), Licences, and Possession of the above old and well-established Inn and Market House, situate in the Market-place, Walsall, having for many years done a great scope of business.

To Parties desirous of entering into the Public Business, such an opportunity seldom offers, as the purchaser will only be required to take to the necessary Fixtures and Stock in Trade, which is very low, and Brewing Utensils, which would not exceed £200. For further particulars apply to Mr. Lates, on the premises; or to Mr. H. Farrington, Appraiser, High-street, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/7/1841

“On Friday, the 9th instant, a party of about sixty-four gentlemen, in the Liberal interest, assembled at the house of Mr. W. W. Lates, the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, in celebration of the return of Robert Scott, Esq. as MP for that borough.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/5/1843 - Advert

“That old-established Inn, known by the sign of the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, is now to be Let, with immediate possession, together with the Licences, &c.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1843 - Advert

“G. Shotton begs to inform his numerous friends and the public, that he has taken that very old-established Commercial House, known by the sign of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, and respectfully solicits the patronage of those Gentlemen who formerly supported the house, having excellent Beds and plenty of good Stabling.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/7/1844 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD, Walsall.

G. Shotton begs to inform his friends and the public that his Housewarming Dinner will take place on Friday, July 26, when the company of any gentleman will be esteemed a favour. Tickets, 5s each.”

Thomas Thornloe, a carrier to Birmingham, left from here daily at half past 1. [1849]

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/3/1850 - Deaths

“On the 10th instant, at Everton, Liverpool, Arabella, relict of the late Mr. George Forster, formerly of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall, aged 70 years.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/2/1851

“Thomas Green was committed to the house of correction for 21 days, as a vagrant. It appeared he had been begging on Saturday last, and was very abusive on many occasions when refused relief, and that he behaved so badly at the liquor shop of the TURKS HEAD INN, that Mrs. Newman, the landlady, was under the necessity of turning him out, when he shortly returned and knocked out one of the shop windows.”

1851 Census

Digbeth

- [1] Robert Newman (52), publican, born Colbey, Leicestershire;
- [2] Sarah Newman (55), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah Ann Withers (22), niece, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Blount (18), servant of all work, born Birmingham;
- [5] Thomas Holden (24), servant, labourer in stables, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Warren (33), visitor, painter, born Liverpool:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/10/1851 - Advert

“Walsall. Sale at the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth.

H. Farrington respectfully announces that he is favoured with instructions from Mr. Robert Newman, who is leaving the above Inn, to Offer by Public Auction, on the premises, on Thursday and Friday next, October 23rd and 24th, all the clean and useful Household Furniture and effects, comprising excellent eight-day clock, bagatelle board, counter, with mahogany top; neat painted shelves, with eleven excellent spirit casks; handsome mahogany fountain, with ten brass taps; capital four pull beer machine, excellent copper and iron furnaces, pair of ale vats and piping, capital mash tub, new malt mill, well seasoned Brewing Utensils, about 300 gallons of Ale, a quantity of excellent Wines and Spirits, Hops, &c, and other effects; particulars of which appear in catalogues, to be had at the Office of the Auctioneer, Walsall.

Sale to commence each morning at ten.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/1/1852 - Marriages

“On Friday, the 2nd instant, at St. Matthew’s Church, Walsall, by the Rev. R. Hawes, curate, Mr. William Payne, of Brewood, to Mrs. Middlemore, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/6/1854

“Considerable sensation has been occasioned in Walsall by the discovery of the body of a child, whose death there is reason to believe has been caused by wilful violence; and the sensation has been increased by the apprehension of the supposed mother, on suspicion of being the perpetrator of the crime.

On the evening of Thursday, the 1st inst, during some cleansing operations, Mrs. Payne, the wife of the landlord of the TURKS HEAD public house, Digbeth, drew from out of the fireplace in a bedroom a quantity of rubbish which was partly up the chimney, and which proved to be the body of a full-timed perfect male child, that had not been born long before it expired, concealed in an apron, an old waistcoat, a piece of carpeting, and some straw. The body, which was in a state of advanced decomposition, had a piece of linen, apparently a garter, twisted very tightly twice round the neck, with a knot on the left side. From a post mortem examination, since made, it is alleged that the child was born alive, and that death resulted apparently from the tightened cord. After the shock of the discovery, Mrs. Payne recollected that about four months since – the time at which it is supposed the child was born – she had living with her a servant woman, who was evidently in the family-way, and who one morning left her service suddenly without assigning any valid reason for going. At that time the woman had been Mrs. Payne’s employ only about five weeks. She at first stated that her name was Heath, but afterwards confessed that it was Mary Ann Yates, and that she was the wife of a man who was the undergoing a term of transportation for burglary.....”

[Mary Ann Yates was charged on suspicion of being the murderess of the child; no evidence was offered and she was discharged.]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 23/2/1857 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Osbourn, on Thursday next, February 26, at six o’clock in the evening, the Licences, Goodwill, and Possession of that old-established well-known Commercial Inn, as above, situated in the centre of the Market.

The Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation.

An opportunity like the present rarely occurs, as, by an active couple, an independence may be made in a few years.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/5/1857 - Notice

“Re William Payne’s Assignment, for the Benefit of his Creditors.

All Creditors having Claims against the estate of William Payne, late of the TURKS HEAD, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, who have not already executed the above deed of assignment, or assented thereto, are requested to execute the same or signify their assent thereto, and forward full particulars of such claims to me within fourteen days from the date hereof, otherwise they will be peremptorily excluded from all benefit arising therefrom, as a first and final dividend of the above estate will immediately afterwards be made and paid.

Dated this 12th day of May, 1857.

By order, William Thomas, Solicitor, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 25/7/1857

“John Jones, of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, was charged with having his house open for the sale of drink at half-past twelve o’clock on Saturday night. Fined five shillings and costs.”

Birmingham Journal 3/4/1858 - Advert

“Valuable Opportunity for Breeding.

To Cover this Season, the property of Mr. Nix, Sutton, that celebrated Horse, Volunteer, the Winner of five Agricultural Prizes, and patronised by Lord Galway and other Noblemen, at Two Guineas each Mare and Five Shillings the Groom.....

Volunteer will be at the TURKS HEAD, Walsall on Tuesday.....

As a proof of the high estimation Volunteer stands in as a stock getter, he has travelled with good success six seasons in one circuit and is the sire of many first class hunters.”

Walsall Free Press 10/7/1858

“To be Let, a Cottage and the Stabling belonging to the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall.

For particulars apply to John Douglas, 27, Lichfield Street.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/8/1858

“On Wednesday Mr. Bennett Jnr, applied to the magistrates on behalf of Mr. Douglas, of the TURKS HEAD, for a certificate of license. In making his application Mr. Bennett said the outgoing tenant of the TURKS HEAD had refused to give up the license unless a certain amount was paid, and under these circumstances he considered the Bench might look upon this license as lost, and proceed accordingly, to give the ingoing tenant a certificate, which would entitle him to carry on the business till October next. Mr. Darwall, the magistrates’ clerk, said the license was not lost, and therefore the magistrates could not grant a certificate. The application was therefore refused.”

AND

Walsall Free Press 14/8/1858

“Mr. Barnett applied on behalf of Mr. Douglas, the present tenant of the TURKS HEAD Public-house, for a new license, and said last week he had applied to have a copy of the certificate endorsed by the Bench, but now applied under the 14th section of the 8th George IV, for a new license. In making the application, Mr. Barnett said the license for twelve months was £18, and for the four of which have yet to run of the current year, Mr. Douglas had offered four pounds to the out-going tenant. The money had been left at Mr. Darwall’s office, and intimation made to Mr. Jones. Mr. Shannon wished to know whether Mr. Jones was aware of the present application being made. Mr. Barnett having replied in the negative, Mr. Darwall said the question for the consideration of the Bench was whether the house was vacant. After some further conversation the case was adjourned till Monday, in order to allow Mr. Jones to be served with notice of the application.”

Walsall Free Press 31/12/859

“James Reynolds, of the military train, was charged with having, on the night of Tuesday last, assaulted PC Atkins. It appeared that the prisoner had gone into the TURKS HEAD public house, in Digbeth, and on being refused a drink which he called for, in consequence of the landlord considering him tipsy, he struck at the landlady, who called in PC Atkins, and requested him to eject the prisoner. On the officer attempting to remove him, he (Reynolds) assaulted him, and for so doing he was sentenced to pay a fine of 40s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for one month.”

Birmingham Journal 7/4/1860 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall.

By R. L. Courtney. To be Let, and immediate possession may be had, of that well-known Commercial Inn, Market House, and Retail Liquor Shop, now doing a good fair trade. The House consists of Front Liquor Shop, Bar Parlour, back Parlour, large Kitchen, or Tap Room, Commercial Room, large Club Room, eight Bed Rooms, convenient Brewhouse, excellent Cellars, large Yard, with Gate Entrance from Digbeth and Hall Lane, four Stables, Cart house, Piggeries, and a small Dwelling House. The above presents an excellent opening for any energetic business man. It is disposed of solely on account of the present Proprietor being compelled to devote the whole of his time to another business.

Apply to R. L. Courtney, Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich, for further particulars.”

Walsall Free Press 14/4/1860 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by H. Farrington, without reserve, under a Bill of Sale, on Monday the 23rd of April, 1860, all the valuable Liquor Shop Fittings, Household Furniture, Stock-in-Trade, and Effects at the above Inn, particulars of which will appear in catalogues, and in next week’s paper.”

London Gazette 30/4/1861

“Amos Tomes, late of Walsall, Staffordshire, out of employment. – In the Gaol of Stafford.”

London Gazette 11/6/1861

“Amos Tomes, late of Walsall, in the county of Stafford, in lodgings and out of employment, previously of the TURKS HEAD INN, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, and likewise being occasionally a Draper’s Assistant, formerly of Walsall aforesaid, Beer-house Keeper and Licensed Brewer and Dealer in Tobacco, and occasionally a Draper’s Assistant.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/7/1861

“At the Stafford County Court on Tuesday, the following insolvents.....

Amos Tomes, licensed victualler, Walsall. Mr. Walker supported, and Mr. Hunt of the Oxford circuit, instructed by Mr. Barnett, appeared to oppose. This case had also been adjourned for the amendment of schedule. It was again adjourned for the production of a book of importance, which was missing.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/10/1861

“At the Police Court, on Monday, Elizabeth Blewitt and William Ruffles were charged with having uttered counterfeit coin. On Saturday night last the female prisoner went to The TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, asked for some drink, and tendered in payment a florin, which afterwards proved to be base. Mrs. Brown, the landlady, not suspecting anything, gave her the proper change, and ten minutes afterwards the prisoner again went to the same place, and called for some drink to which she was served by the husband of Mrs. Brown. This time she tendered a half-a-crown. On examination Mr. Brown discovered that the coin was not a good one, and he sent for the police. Mr. Brown told the prisoner that the half-a-crown was bad, and she said, ‘Is it? I’ll take it back to those who gave it to me.’ He kept the half-crown, and the prisoner went away, but came back in a few minutes afterwards, bringing a shilling, which also proved to be bad. In the meantime Detective Harrison and Police-constable Simmons arrived, and she told them she had the money from a house in Talbot Yard, where she would take them. She took them there, and they found the male prisoner in the house. Detective Harrison searched him, and found some good money in his pocket; but while he was being searched he was observed to throw something away, which, when picked up was found to be a base half-crown. They were taken into custody, and conveyed to the police-station. From subsequent inquiries made by the police it was ascertained that the male prisoner had on the same night passed a counterfeit shilling at the house of Mr. Cooke, RED LION INN, Park Street. They were both remanded till Thursday, for the purpose of communicating with the Mint authorities.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/12/1862

“T. Smith of the TURKS HEAD, Walsall, will match a lad, 17 years of age, to run any lad in England under 18, from 400 yards to five miles, for £10 a side. An answer through Bells Life will be attended to.”

John Smitheman = John Smitherman

Walsall Free Press 13/2/1864 - Advert

“TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall.

John Smitherman begs most respectfully to inform the inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood that he has taken the above Inn, and hopes by supplying the finest qualities of Ales, Wines, and Spirits, upon the most reasonable terms, and by strict attention to the comfort and convenience of his customers, to merit a fair share of patronage.

An Ordinary every Tuesday and Saturday, for the convenience of parties attending the Market.

Chops, Steaks, &c, on the Shortest Notice.

An Excellent American Bowling Alley.

Good Stabling.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1864

“Annual Licensing Session.....

On the application of Mr. Wilson, the license of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, now closed, was entrusted to the owner, Mr. Payne, who was stated to have let the premises to a Mr. Austin.”

1871 Census

29, Digbeth

[1] Sarah E. Taylor (26), unmarried, manageress of Wine and Spirit Stores, born Belper, Derbyshire;

[2] Jane Hanacker (40), assistant at Wine and Spirit Stores, born Lichfield;

[3] Ann Bibb (22), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/11/1872

“Thomas Lawley, manager of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, for Messrs. Fletcher, was charged with assaulting Henry Beard, tailor, Ablewell Street. Mr. Gillespie (of the firm of Messrs. Williamson and Gillespie) appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) for the defence.

The evidence in support of the charge was to the effect that on Monday night the complainant went into the defendant’s house with a friend named Henry Kates, and was ordered out, with a threat of being kicked out if he did not go. He went, but getting tired of waiting in the street for his companion, he put his head inside the door and called Kates, and at once the defendant ran at him, knocked him down, and beat and kicked him with great violence until he became unconscious.

Kates deposed that the defendant beat Beard’s head against the floor; and Mr. H. Hart, assistant to Dr. Pattie, deposed to the complainant’s head being cut at the back and over the left eye, in addition to being bruised all over. There were also severe bruises on the ribs and elsewhere.

The defence was that the complainant was disorderly, and that there was a regular fight in the attempt to get him out of the house. The defendant was sentenced to one month’s imprisonment, without the option of a fine.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/3/1876

“William Clenton, the landlord of the SPREAD EAGLE, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned for being disorderly and refusing to quit the TURKS HEAD, in Digbeth.

The landlady of the latter house said defendant wanted to have some drink after half-past ten (their usual closing time) and it was refused him. He then became violent and would not leave the house for some time.

Defendant was fined 10s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/9/1879 - Advert

“On View at the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall.

To be Sold, handsome full-plumed Preserved Peacock, in good condition, framed and glazed; late the property of W. Coath, Esq, The Shrubbery. The bird was shot by the late owner.

Price and full particulars may be obtained as above.”

1881 Census

29, Digbeth

[1] John Dace (45), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Martha W. Dace (44), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Lizzie J. Dace (15), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Alice E. Dace (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Charles J. Dace (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Philip M. Dace (9) son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Addison J. Dace (5), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 30/8/1884 - Advert

“To Be Let, a Cottage, with large Garden, situate in Queen Street, Palfrey, in the occupation of Mrs. Steel.

Apply to John Dace, TURKS HEAD, 29, Digbeth.”

1891 Census

29, Digbeth – TURKS HEAD INN

- [1] Walter J. Bird (43), public house manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth J. Bird (38), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Teresa M. Bird (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter Bird (7 months), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Bissell (53), mother in law, born Wales;
- [6] Janet Goodson (23), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/4/1892

“Yesterday, Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner) held an inquest at the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall, on the body of Thomas Douglas (36), a retired naval petty officer, who committed suicide on Friday night or early Saturday morning. The evidence bore out and supplemented the particulars already published, showing that the deceased retired from the navy in October last with a pension of about 10s 8d a week, and for a time lived with Mrs. Masterman, one of his sisters, in Bradford Street. On Tuesday, the 12th, he went to live with another sister, Mrs. Rankin, in Adams Row, and on Friday he appeared quieter than usual, and in the evening complained that pains in the bowels, from which he had suffered from the time of a cruise in the Indian Seas, were worse than usual. He also complained of noises in the head, that his hearing was defective, that he had been trying to read, but could not understand what he was reading, and that he thought he would go back to Portsmouth on the morrow and enter the hospital, as he felt he wanted looking after. He had, his sister said, been invalided because of an affection of one of the eyes. At about eleven o’clock she left him on the sofa, where he was going to sleep, and at daybreak she heard a chair being moved, but took no notice of it, thinking that her brother had been making up the fire. At about seven o’clock her daughter went into the room, and saw that he had knocked the chairs over which had been put by the side of the couch, and that he had thrown off the blankets; and on the matter being reported to her witness went and found that he was lying with his face buried in a pillow, and was, in her opinion, dead. She then sent for the police and for a surgeon. Police-constable Pritchard said he went to the house at about nine o’clock and found that the deceased had a twisted handkerchief tied tightly round his neck, with a knot in the front, which was fastened in such a way that he could not undo it, and had to cut the handkerchief. Hearing a rattling noise in the throat when he had released the handkerchief he thought the man was not dead, and tried artificial respiration, but without success. In the deceased’s pockets he found £1 5s 8d in money, a circular from the town clerk showing that the deceased had been unsuccessful in an application for the post of caretaker at the free library, and part of a letter which he had written making application for a position of surgery porter. Dr. J. S. Wilson said he reached the house about ten o’clock and found that death had resulted from strangulation. Mrs. Rankin, recalled, said her brother was depressed through not being able to get employment. A verdict of Temporary Insanity was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/2/1893

“Yesterday at the Guildhall, Frederick Adams, Dudley Street, a young man, was charged with having assaulted Walter Bird, keeper of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth. The complainant said the defendant was turned out of the house on the 18th inst. for using bad language, but he returned and renewed the offence, and when an attempt was made to turn him out again he got down on the floor, and, barking like a dog, fastened his teeth in the complainant’s leg. He bit some other people in the house, and also tried to bite his brother and a postman who took him home. The defendant said he was so drunk that he did not know what took place, but this was denied. He was fined 10s and costs, or ten days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/11/1899

“Walsall and District Reserve Fund.
Third List of Subscriptions.....
Collected by Teresa Bird, TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, 10s.”

1901 Census

Digbeth – TURKS HEAD

- [1] Walter J. Bird (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Bird (48), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Teresa M. Bird (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Walter Bird (10), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Alfred Bird (7), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary Jones (14), general servant, born Stubbings Green, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1903 - Notice

“Walsall And District Hospital.
List of Workpeople’s Contributions received by the Treasurer from August, 1902, to July 24th, 1903.....
Walter Bird, TURKS HEAD, Digbeth. 5s 6d.”

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

"...a note from the Clerk to the Licensing Justices in 1904 said that 'a slaughtering business is carried on in part of the licensed premises. The premises are very dirty. Renewal should be considered by Full Bench.' In 1916 a Special Police Report said that there were four stables 'let off to four different persons, and the yard is used by Messrs. Dean, fish merchants, and Mason & Williams, grocers'"

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

In regard to the renewal of the license of the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, to Walter James Bird (lessees Messrs. Fletcher and Son, owners Mitchell and Butler), the licensee was questioned as to there being a slaughter-house on the premises. It seemed that there had been a slaughter-house in the yard of the inn, but it was now rented by a grocer. It transpired that the owners and lessees of the premises had not been notified, and the matter was adjourned for a week."

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Thursday.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith and Mr. Walford appeared in the case of the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, and produced plans. It appeared that Messrs. Mitchell and Butlers who were last week said to be the owners, had leased to Messrs. Fletcher, of Walsall. It was now promised that the house should be painted and papered. It was further stated that the slaughter-house the magistrates had complained about was not part of the licensed area. License renewed."

James Henry Hobson = Henry James Hobson

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

"The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. W. H. Pearman-Smith appeared in support of an application for the transfer of the license of the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, from Walter James Bird to Henry James Hobson; and Mr. J. N. Cotterell opposed on behalf of Bird. This had been adjourned from the last sessions.

Mr. Loxton said that when the application was first made Bird said he did not apply for the transfer – there was some dispute between he and Messrs. Fletcher and Garbett. The application to transfer was now not by Bird.

Mr. Cotterell: Certainly not, I oppose the application.

Mr. Pearman-Smith said he applied on behalf of the owners of the house, Messrs. Mitchell and Butler, and the occupier, Hobson, under the Act of George IV, Cap 69, Sec 14.

Messrs Mitchell and Butler bought the freehold of the house subject to a lease which had been granted to Messrs. Fletcher and Garbett. That lease expired last Christmas. Bird was the tenant of the latter firm, under an agreement entered into in November 1889, which was to terminate by a week's notice or a week's wages. Messrs. Mitchell and Butler merely wished to take possession of the property they had bought, and it was by reason of no act of theirs that Bird was dissatisfied.

Mr. Cotterell said that Bird had been practically the whole of his life in the service of Messrs. Fletcher, and had managed the TURKS HEAD for nearly twenty years without a single complaint. He was oblivious to the fact that there was an old agreement, and he did not know that the house had been sold. When Bird had consented to a temporary authority, Messrs. Fletcher reported to him that they would see that he was fairly dealt with, and properly treated, but promises had been made which had not been fulfilled.

Mr. Loxton: You may say that Messrs Fletcher and Garbett have acted as badly as can be but ——

Mr. Cotterell: I don't say that.

Mr. Loxton said the owners of the house found somebody trying to prevent a renewal of their license, and apparently Mr. Cotterell was asking the Bench to do something so that those people might commence an action against Messrs. Fletcher.

Mr. Cotterell said his point was that when the notices of transfer were taken to Bird he refused to sign them.

Mr. Loxton said Bird might have any grievance he pleased between Messrs. Fletcher and Garbett, but if he wanted to retain possession of the license he should have retained possession of the house. But he had left and handed over possession. They did not allege misrepresentation by the present applicants, and any quarrel between Fletcher and Garbett and Bird had nothing to do with the present application.

Mr. Cotterell said that when Bird signed to transfer the license it was on the assurance of Mr. Wilson-Smith ——

Mr. Pearman-Smith: We could give no assurance.

The Chairman: The application is granted."

1911 Census

29, Digbeth – TURKS HEAD

[1] Frank Clarke (52), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Anne Clarke (49), wife, married 29 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[3] Hilda Clarke (26), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[4] Norman Clarke (23), son, warehouse clerk, born Walsall;

[5] Dorothy Clarke (18), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 31/1/1914 - Deaths

“On January 30th, Walter James Bird, of the Crown Hotel, Cannock, and formerly of the TURKS HEAD, Walsall; aged 61 years.”
AND

“One of the saddest affairs which has happened in the Cannock district for many years took place at Wedges Mills on Thursday evening. It appears that Mr. W. Bird, of the Crown Hotel, Cannock, started from his home about six o’clock to go to the Unionist dinner at the Star and Garter, Wedges Mills, along with Mr. Atkinson, and walked. He appeared to be all right on arriving at the Star and Garter, although he said the walk had knocked him up a bit. He called for a glass of gin and soda, and remarked that the first drop had relieved him. Two minutes later he fell heavily from his seat on to the floor Dr. Smith, who attended him, said that he had broken a blood vessel, and must have been dead soon after he fell.

Mr. Hatton, the chairman, in most sympathetic terms, said the dinner and gathering would be indefinitely postponed. . . .

Mr. Ashworth, who was also affected, referred to the sad affair in a solemn tone. He promised to visit Wedges Mills again when the annual dinner was rearranged. The company then quickly dispersed. . . .

The affair cast a gloom throughout the whole district, for Mr. Bird was a well-known publican, who came to Cannock about six years ago, and was at one time proprietor of the TURKS HEAD in Digbeth, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

“The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning. . . .

The justices view with increasing displeasure the practice on the part of some license holders of permitting drinking in the passages, entries and gateways attached to their licensed houses. They call particular attention to four houses visited by them, namely, the NEW INNS, Park Street (in which case an undertaking had previously been given that the practice should be discontinued); the DURHAM OX, the TALBOT, and the TURKS HEAD.

In addition, the sanitary arrangements of these houses was most unsatisfactory. Objection is taken in open court on behalf of the Licensing Committee to the renewal of these four houses, and will be put back until the adjourned general annual licensing meeting, at which the personal attendance of the licensees will be required. . . .”

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916

“The adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday. . . .

TURKS HEAD, Digbeth. Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson represented the licensee (George Barratt Crawford), and Chief Inspector Ballance stated that there had been drinking in the gateway, and the previous landlord was cautioned with regard to it. With this exception the house had been well conducted. The benches in the gateway had now been removed.

Adjourned for a month for plans of the licensed area to be deposited.

It was intimated that the licensees would be responsible for any drinking taking place on the entries.”

Evening Despatch 24/3/1916

“A further sitting of the Walsall Licensing justices was held today. . . .

The Justices also agreed to renew the licenses of the TALBOT and TURKS HEAD on certain suggestions made by them as to the alterations being met by the owners of the houses.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/8/1922

“In connection with Walsall Fur and Feather Society, a members’ table show took place on Thursday last week at the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth. There was a good number of entries, and quality was well up to standard. . . .”

George Henry Johnson – see also THREE CROWNS.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre. . . .

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows. . . .

Highgate houses. . . .

TURKS HEAD, Digbeth.”

Walsall Observer 4/11/1939

“‘We have given so many warnings that we have been instructed not to give any more, but to inform the police,’ was the statement made to the magistrates (Messrs. D. E. Parry and D. Jones and Mrs. Cresswell) by a warden giving evidence in one of a number of cases relating to breaches of the lighting regulations. . . .

Other defendants, each fined 10s, were. . . .

James Watson (45), licensee of the TURKS HEAD, Digbeth.”

1939 Register

29, Digbeth (3 of 4)

- [1] James Watson, date of birth 23/5/1898, manager licensed house, married;
[2] Gladys Watson, dob 4/4/1898, manageress licensed house, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[3] Edna M. Watson, dob 10/7/1922, grocery assistant, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, £1 3s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 13/12/1941

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday.....
Mr. William Bayliss of the TURKS HEAD INN, Digbeth, Walsall, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
TURKS HEAD, Digbeth. £0 5s 10d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
TURKS HEAD, Digbeth. £0 1s 9d.”

William Bayliss – see also TAVERN IN THE TOWN.

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945 - Advert

“Bar-General Required.
Apply, TURKS HEAD, Digbeth, Walsall.”

It closed on 10th December 1961.
The license was transferred to the BROADWAY.

UNICORN

BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 21/1/1865

“Walter Bowring was charged with having, on Monday night last, assaulted John Donaldson. From the evidence of the prosecutor it appeared that he, the defendant, and some other parties, were drinking together at the UNICORN beerhouse, Bloxwich, when complainant and defendant’s wife had some words, and she threw a glass at complainant and cut his lip, whereupon the defendant got the poker and inflicted several severe wounds upon the face and head of the complainant, which were profusely covered with bandages. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides; and the Bench after hearing the evidence, considered the assault proved, but as there had been considerable provocation, they sentenced him to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or be imprisoned for 21 days.”

UNION

BLOXWICH

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Hadley [1866]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 17/3/1866

“Joseph Hadley, beerhouse-keeper, Bloxwich, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs, for having his house open at fifty minutes past ten on Sunday morning last. The charge was proved by Police-sergeant Martin.”

London Gazette 24/12/1869

“Joseph Hadley, of No.61, James-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Bridle Bit Maker, previously thereto of the FORESTERS ARMS, No.4, Proffit-street, Walsall, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, previously thereto of the MINERS ARMS, Leamore-lane, Bloxwich, in the said county of Stafford, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, and previously thereto of the UNION INN, Bloxwich aforesaid, Retailer of Beer and Bridle Bit Maker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 23rd of November, 1869, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination and make application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall, on the 25th day of January next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Abraham Baker, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

UNION

43, (57), (44), Bath Street / 1, Windmill Street, Caldmore, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Marlow, solicitor
William Downing, maltster, Smethwick
G. and W. E. Downing, maltsters, Smethwick
Manchester Brewery Co. [1891]
Highgate Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Thomas Careless [1818] – [1822]
Samuel Harvey [1828] – [1830]
John Harvey [1834] – [1835]
William Wood [1841] – [1865]
William Chamberlain [1869]
Henry Higgins [1871]
Miss Frances Ridge [1872]
John Douglas [1873] – [1880];
Charles Poppleton [1881] – [1885];
Patrick Dunn [];
Ophraim Knowles [] – 1887);
Fred George Jones (1887 – 1888);
William Pedley (1888 – 1889);
William Burt Blainey (1889);
William Saunders (1889 – 1891);
James Gough (1891 – 1892);
Harry Tully (1892 – 1897);
Samuel Evans Stevenson (1897 – 1898);
Roger William Powell (1898 – 1899);

Francis Ephraim Hay (1899 – []);
Elizabeth Ann Cartlidge [] – 1901);
Miss Florence Maund (1901 – 1905);
Frank Clarke (1905 – 1908);

NOTES

Windmill Street [1849], [1850], [1862], [1871]
1, Windmill Street [1858], [1861], [1864], [1865]
44, Bath Street [1881]
Bath Street [1892]
57, Bath Street [1901]
43, Bath Street

OLD UNION [1870]

Thomas Careless was also a plater. [1818]

William Wood was also a maltster. [1858], [1864], [1865]

1861 Census

1, Windmill Street – The UNION

- [1] William Wood (47), victualler, maltster and farmer employing 2 men, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary A. Wood (52), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary A. Wood (21), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Wood (20), son, farm labourer, born Walsall;
- [5] Eleanor Wood (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Clara Wood (15), daughter, dressmaker's apprentice, born Walsall;
- [7] Charles Wood (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Elizabeth Wood (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

Walsall Free Press 10/9/1864 - Advert

"A Few of the Malleable Iron Casters of Walsall think that it would be to their benefit to form a Society; all who are of the same opinion are invited to attend the UNION INN, Windmill Street, on Monday next, 12th inst, at 8pm."

Walsall Free Press 24/9/1864 - Advert

"The Malleable Iron Casters have commenced a Trade Protection Society, at the UNION INN, Windmill, Walsall. All men in the trade who wish for a fair day's wages for a fair day's work, are invited to join the same, and may do so by applying as above, on Monday evening, October 3rd, at Eight o'clock."

Walsall Free Press 18/3/1865 - Advert

"The Members of the Coach and Harness Furniture Trade Society are requested to attend a Meeting at the UNION INN, Windmill, on Monday, the 20th, at Eight o'clock in the Evening. As the business is of the utmost importance, every member is earnestly invited to attend."

Birmingham Daily post 28/9/1866 - Died

"On the 22th inst, at the UNION INN, Windmill Street, aged 25, William, the eldest son of William Wood, deeply regretted."

Walsall Free Press 19/6/1869 - Advert

"To Farmers And Others.

To Be Sold, about 200 Gallons of Prime Old Ale, at 6d per Gallon.
Apply, UNION INN, Windmill Street, Walsall."

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/12/1869

"James Oldcroft, James Pearson, and Benjamin Bebb, were charged with having on the 5th inst, been upon the premises of William Chamberlain, the UNION INN, Caldmore, at an unlawful hour, viz, twelve minutes past twelve. Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) appeared for the defendants, and entered into a statement, which to some extent was supported by the evidence, to the effect that the defendants found the door of the public-house open, and, knowing that the congregation had left Caldmore Church entered with being unaware that they were doing wrong. The case was dismissed."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/4/1870 - Advert

"Walsall. To be Let, the OLD UNION INN, Windmill Street. Valuation to suit purchaser.
Apply on the Premises."

1871 Census

Windmill Street – UNION INN

- [1] Henry Higgins (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Eliza Higgins (52), wife, born Pelsall;
- [3] Olive Higgins (18), daughter, barmaid, born Darlaston;
- [4] Clara Higgins (14), daughter, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Lorna Higgins (12), daughter, scholar, born Rowley Regis:

Walsall Free Press 24/5/1873

“Henry Perkins, for having been disorderly and refusing to quit the UNION public house, Windmill, on the 10th inst, was fined 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for 14 days.

Jonah Hitch, for a similar offence at the same place, was also fined 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/9/1880 - Advert

“To Be Let, and entered upon immediately, the excellent Old-Licensed Public-House with Liquor Shop attached, known as the UNION INN, and House adjoining, situate in Union Street, Windmill, Walsall, now doing an excellent business. Furniture and Fixtures to be taken in the usual way.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Farrington & Son, The Bridge, Walsall.”

1881 Census

44, Bath Street

- [1] Charles Poppleton (48), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Poppleton (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Poppleton (21), son, herald chaser, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Poppleton (19), son, carriage lamp maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Arthur Poppleton (14), son, warehouse clerk, born Walsall;
- [6] Annie Poppleton (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Adelaide Poppleton (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Harry Poppleton (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Emma Jones (17), general servant, born Bromsgrove:

Walsall Observer 5/11/1881 - Advert

“Land and Property for Sale.

Five Houses for Sale, by Private Treaty, situated in Rutter Street.

Apply to Charles Poppleton, UNION INN, Windmill Street; or to Poppleton Bros., South Street.”

Walsall Observer 20/1/1883

“Susannah and Charlotte Bagnall, two young women, residing in Green Lane, were charged with having assaulted a young man named Charles Poppleton, of the UNION INN, Windmill Street, on Wednesday night.

It appeared that on the night in question the defendants met the complainant on his way home from work, and assaulted him in Bath Street.

Polly Jackson, Henry Kropper, and Henry Holden were called for the prosecution, and Annie Kirby for the defence.

For some time past there had been some unpleasantness through an application order; and the Bench advised complainant not to cause one of the defendants any more trouble than possible.

The defendants were fined 2s 6d each and costs, or six days imprisonment.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/1/1885

“Bankruptcy Examinations.

At Walsall County Court, on Thursday the following passed their public examinations.....

Charles Poppleton, UNION beerhouse, Bath Street.”

William Saunders = William Sanders

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1890

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Henry Grosvenor, West Bromwich Road, was brought up on remand charged with having assaulted Police-sergeant Marshall and Police-constable Brough. The evidence was to the effect that the officers heard a smashing of glass at the UNION INN, Windmill, and on going towards the house they met the prisoner who furiously attacked them. They got Mr. Barber, of the PHEASANT INN, to put his horse in the trap and take Grosvenor to the police station, and when he arrived there he was so violent that he had to be strapped down on the ambulance stretcher.

The Bench imposed a sentence of fourteen days’ imprisonment, without hard labour.

‘All right, sir,’ said the prisoner, as he went below.”

1891 Census

57, Bath Street – UNION INN

- [1] William Saunders (40), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Selina Saunders (36), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] William H. Saunders (15), son, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Fanny S. Saunders (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Minny M. Saunders (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] John E. Saunders (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Annie E. Saunders (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ruth A. Saunders (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] George E. Saunders (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Selina A. Saunders (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [11] Lily D. Saunders (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [12] Susannah Harrison (16), domestic servant, born Stubbers Green, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 10/10/1891 - Advert

“UNION INN, Bath Street, Walsall.

This capital Full-Licensed Corner Public House to Let; doing a good paying trade; moderate rent; tied to Manchester Brewery Company. Ingoing £170; part can remain if desired. Sole reason for selling illness in family. Apply Walter Hughes, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1892

“Re William Saunders. A petition has been filed on the Walsall Bankruptcy Court by this debtor, who is described as of Thorpe Road, clothier, and formerly of the UNION INN, Bath Street, Walsall, licensed victualler, and the usual order has been made against him. Mr. E. Evans, Walsall, is the solicitor for the debtor.”

London Gazette 7/10/1892

“Adjudications. Saunders, William, Thorpe-road, Caldmore, Walsall, Staffordshire, formerly residing and trading at the UNION INN, Bath-street, Walsall aforesaid, Clothier, formerly Licensed Victualler.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1893

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last....
Mr. Harry Tully, UNION INN, Bath Street, Walsall was elected a member of the Society.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1895

“George Hill (address not given) was charged with having refused to quit the UNION INN, Bath Street, and with having assaulted the landlord, Harry Tully. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted, and Mr. E. A. Cotterell defended.
Mr. Jackson explained that defendant went to the UNION INN, and on an altercation arising he threw a jug at another man named Joseph Wood, of Navigation Street. The landlord asked him to quit, and thereupon he threw another jug at him, narrowly missing his head and breaking a number of glasses.
Mr. Tully having given evidence, Mr. Cotterell submitted that the case was not really so serious as stated. The quarrel was between the two men both of whom picked up jugs.
Defendant was fined 5s and costs, or seven days, on the first charge, and 10s and costs, or 14 days on the second. A third summons (for assaulting Hill) was dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1895

“National United Order of Free Gardeners, Walsall New District.
On Tuesday evening last the officers of the above District opened what promises to be a most successful lodge of their Order, at the UNION INN, Bath Street. The Grand Secretary (Bro. H. T. Finch) who had come from Leeds to be present at the opening, but was unavoidably detained from doing so, wished the new lodge every success and trusted that the members would do all they could to carry out the benevolent objectives of the Order. The Lodge having been opened by the District Master, a good number of young men were initiated.....”

Walsall Advertiser 19/12/1896

“Mr. T. H. Stanley (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) applied on behalf of Mr. Henry Tully, landlord of the UNION INN, Bath Street, for a music and singing license on Thursday evenings. The application was made on account of the opening of a musical society at the public house.
The Chief Constable (Mr. Chris. Taylor) objected, said he was led to believe, on what he considered reliable authority, that this was an attempt to evade the spirit of the Act, with the idea of having a ‘free and easy.’ He had not been aware that the application was to be made that morning or he would have procured evidence. He heard the subscription was to be one penny and that anyone would be admitted a member on payment of that sum. There were no rules, and no proper form of nomination or introduction. He should ask the matter be adjourned until the special licensing meeting.
Mr. Stanley called Archibald Hunt, the secretary of the society, who produced a card containing some rules, and said the subscription was 5s payable in advance.

Mr. Stanley (to Chief Constable): I think you are misled, perhaps not wilfully.

In reply to Mr. Taylor, Hunt said the music would be supplied by the members, and if there was any intention on the part of a member of bringing a special artiste the fact would have to be noted at the previous meeting. A committee was appointed on Tuesday, December 8th, and the minutes could be produced.

The Bench granted the license for the next two nights only on the sworn evidence, but said that no one was to enter the room before the subscription of 5s had been paid. The matter would have to be considered by the Licensing Committee.

The Chief Constable now made application for the books to be produced, as he wished them to be sworn to at the next hearing.

Mr. Stanley: I never heard of such an application. You might as well apply to inspect the books in my office. The request is only made with the object of prejudicing the case.

Mr. Beebee: If the society is bona-fide why should there be any difficulty in the matter.

The Chief Constable: This thing is being carried too far. People in this Court are not very particular what they say.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/1/1897

“Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) applied on behalf of Mr. Harry Tully, UNION INN, Bath Street, for a music and singing license on Thursdays from 8 to 10.30.

Mr. Jackson said the license was asked for in order that a musical society might be formed in the Caldmore district. Musical societies of a high class character, such as this was intended to be, ought to be encouraged. When application was last made to the Court the Chief Constable denied that this was a bona-fide society, and stated that one penny only was charged each evening for admission. This statement was quite unfounded, and was calculated to prejudice the application.

Mr. Tully, in answer to the Chief Constable, denied that he alone was the promoter of the society, and gave a list of names, including Messrs. Heaton, Munro, Cox, Morris, Hunt, and Emery, who desired that such a society should be established. The subscription was 5s per annum, payable to the secretary, he (Mr. Tully) being the treasurer. It was agreed, however, that half of the subscription should be returned to the members, as they were only running half term. They would now require the license till April, although if it were found desirable to continue it, they would like permission to apply again.

Mr. Hunt (the secretary) was also called, and denied, in answer to questions, that he said at the last hearing that he had a minute book. What he said was that he had papers consisting of the minutes, and these had been seen by the Chief Constable, but were burned before notice was given to him to produce them. They were, however, copied in the minute book. Proceeding, he said this was a musical society, not an Anarchist society.

Mr. Jackson also intimated that they hoped to get people who sang at the Walsall Musical Society and others to occasionally sing at their meetings. On the opening night they had Mr. Aulton and several other good singers.

The Chief Constable said no one was fonder of music than he was, but he had reason to believe that this was not a bona-fide society. It was promoted by the landlord and would be a ‘free and easy.’ He himself was a member of the Walsall Musical Society, and so was Mr. Jackson, but to become a member of that body one had to be nominated and voted for by the committee, and strangers were not introduced except with the permission of the chairman, while there were numerous rules for the good government of the society. In the case of the current application the secretary stated that a minute book was in existence, and he thereupon sent Inspector Gore to get it, but it could not be found, and all they could procure were four pieces of paper.

Mr. Loxton here said that in its rules (produced) there was no mention whatever of the very first essential, which was how people were to become members of the society.

Mr. Jackson remarked that the rules were not perfect, and that it was a new society.

Eventually the Bench decided to renew the temporary license for a fortnight, intimating that if Mr. Jackson renewed his application at the next special sessions he must be prepared to show that proper rules, &c, were in existence.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/1/1897

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Harry Tully, UNION INN, Bath Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1898

“Harry Tully, of Dudley, was summoned for deserting Clara Tully, his wife, of Bernard Street, Walsall, and a separation order was applied for. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the complainant, and Mr. E. Evans for the defence.

Mr. Jackson stated that the parties were married 17 years ago, and had once separated, but on the earnest entreaties of the defendant they came together again, and matters went on well until he disposed of the lease of the UNION INN, Bath Street, when he obtained a considerable sum of money, since which time he had been on a spree, and had neglected his wife. Defendant had gone away altogether, and complainant did not know where he was living, though she had met him casually in the street, and had asked him what he was going to do. In reply he said that he should look after himself, and that she would have to do the same. She, however, did not apply for any allowance as she would rather not be beholden to him, and all she required was a separation order. Without this she was afraid that if she got a home together he would again turn up and break it up.

Complainant gave evidence in support of the summons, and stated that defendant received about £1,000 for the lease of the UNION INN. Mr. Evans said defendant had been advised not to oppose the present application.

The Bench granted a separation order.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/2/1901

“A very successful smoking concert was held at the UNION INN, Bath Street, on Monday, Mr. E. Shelley occupied the chair, and Mr. Hemmings the vice-chair. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and the following programme was gone through: Pianoforte solo, Mr. Mills; song, 'The Windmill,' Mr. Brown; song, 'They'll want me later on,' Mr. Lyons; song, 'The soldier's song,' Mr. Brown; song, 'The dreamer,' Mr. Lord; song, 'Why didn't they call on me?' Mr. Lyons; song, 'Beautiful isle of the sea,' Mr. Hemmings; song, 'The Bandelero,' Mr. Brown; song, 'True woman's love,' Mr. Deakin; song, 'I wonder what he's going to do next,' Mr. Thorney; song, 'The lost chord,' Mr. Lord; song, 'Can I come in?' Mr. Thorney."

1901 Census

57, Bath Street – UNION INN

- [1] Howard V. Cartlidge (34), journeyman butcher, born Coven Heath;
- [2] Elizabeth A. Cartlidge (26), wife, publican, born Cannock;
- [3] Margaret Ed(na?) Cartlidge (5), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Dorothy E. Cartlidge (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] George H. Cartlidge (3), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Florence A. Cartlidge (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Florence Maund (23), sister in law, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [8] Sarah Maund (20), sister in law, tailoress, born Walsall;
- [9] Eleanor Maund (12), sister in law, born Walsall;
- [10] Patience Heskinson (45), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Florence Maund, UNION INN."

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

UNION INN, Bath Street. The license of Mrs. Florence Maund, of this house, was objected to as not being required, and structurally unadapted.

Mr. Norris Foster (instructed by Mr. Shakespeare) was for the owners, Messrs. G. and W. E. Downing; and Mr. Walford (Wilkinson, Mills, and Walford) for the licensee.

Evidence was given of the number of adjacent licenses. Adjourned for plans."

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

UNION INN. Inspector Ballance gave evidence as to the structure of this house. He said the house was an old one, the rooms were very low and also one or two of the doors, and the back accommodation were very small.

Mr. Fletcher said that he held the house on a lease of £50, with the repairs, inside and out, to attend to. He considered the house was in a fair state of repair.

Mr. Walford (Messrs Wilkinson, Mills and Walford) appeared on behalf of the licensee, and Mr. Norris Foster was for the landlord, Messrs. Downing and the lessee."

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

"The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The UNION, Bath Street, was also objected to, Mr. Foster appearing for the owners, Messrs. Downing; and Mr. Walford (Wilkinson, Mills, and Walford), for the lessees, Messrs. Fetcher.

Chief-inspector Ballance gave evidence that there were five other licensed houses within 148 paces and a population in the area of only 136 over 16 years of age. Adjourned."

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

"The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

The UNION INN, Bath Street, the IVY HOUSE, and the BARREL, Stafford Street, were referred to the Compensation Authority."

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/5/1907

"The meeting of the Walsall Confirming Authority under the Licensing Act was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday. The houses recommended to the Compensation Authority were the UNION INN, Bath Street (for which Mr. Foster appeared), and the BARREL INN, Wolverhampton Street, the MINERS ARMS, High Street, and the IVY HOUSE, Stafford Street, for all of which Mr. Jackson appeared. The advocates objected to the reference in each case, but the magistrates confirmed the whole of the recommendations of the Licensing Authority."

The license was renewed.

The license renewal was again referred to the Compensation Authority on 25th February 1908.

Walsall Advertiser 29/2/1908

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....
The Bench proceeded to hear notices of objection which had been taken by the licensing justices to the renewal of six licences.....
UNION INN, Bath Street. This license was objected to a year ago and the objection again renewed. Mr. C. A. Loxton said the magistrates were satisfied with the figures suggested by Mr. Norris Foster, on behalf of the owners and occupier, and on those figures the Bench would refer the license to the Compensation Authority.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1908

“A full bench of magistrates sat on Wednesday morning to hear applications for renewals and to fix compensation for closed houses.....
In the case of the UNION INN, Bath Street, Mr. Norris Foster (instructed by Shakespeare and Company, Birmingham) announced that the compensation (£1,000) to be allowed by the justices, would be accepted and the house closed.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1908 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1904. Notice as to sending in claims to be treated as persons interested in licensed premises.
The County Borough of Walsall.
Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area having decided at their principal meeting on the 3rd day of June, 1908, and the 5th day of June, 1908, to refuse the renewal of the Licenses of premises specified below.....
The UNION, Bath Street. Alehouse. Licensee Frederick [sic] Clarke. Registered Owner Messrs. Downing. Lessee The High-gate Brewery Co.”

UNION

55, James Street, Ryecroft, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Mary Cooper, Ryecroft, Walsall
Benjamin Brittain

LICENSEES

Mrs. Mary Cooper [1861]
William Thomas [1864] – [1865]
John Henney [1868] – [1870]
John Holland Newall [] – 1869);
Joseph Smith (1869 – 1870);
William Painter (1870);
Henry Cooper (1870 – [])
Jacob Wardle [1872] – [1873]
Benjamin Brittain [1876] – 1889);

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

55, James Street
[1] Mary Cooper (50), widow, born Walsall;
[2] Thomas Cooper (10), son, scholar, born Rushall;
[3] Mary Ann Cooper (8), daughter, scholar, born Rushall:

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1864

“At the Police Court, on Tuesday, the persons named below were, on the information of Mr. William Fullett, Inspector of Weights and Measures for the South Staffordshire district, fined in the sums set against their names for having defective scales, weights, or measures in their possession, with 12s costs in each instance.....
William Thomas, UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft, seven measures, 5s.”

Birmingham Journal 4/4/1868 - Advert

“Clear-Out Sale, at the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft, Walsall.

By Edwin Jackson, on Tuesday Next, April 7th, at half-past Ten o'clock, as above – the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, of this well-established licensed Public House. Also the whole of the Public-house Furniture, Fixtures, and Effects; valuable Brewing Plant, Casks, Utensils; Stock-in-Trade of Spirits, Ales, Cigars, &c, described in catalogues to be had in the place of Sale, or of the Auctioneer, 4, Cherry Street, Birmingham.”

Walsall Free Press 2/5/1868 - Advert

“To Be Let, the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft, with an Old License. Rent £19, Coming in under £20. Apply on the premises.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869 - Advert

“To Be Let, the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft. Apply, Mrs. Cooper, or to Mr. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, The Pleck.”

Walsall Free Press 4/12/1869

“John Holland Newall, brewer, Pleck, was summoned before J. E. Bealey and J. Harrison, Esqrs. (at the Rushall Petty Sessions, on Tuesday last), for permitting certain gambling in his public house, the UNION, Ann Street, Ryecroft.

Police-constable Richards visited the house on the 20th November, and found a number of men playing at cards.

Defendant pleaded that he was under the impression the license had been transferred to a person named Joseph Smith, and he had seen it advertised in the Free Press that the license had been transferred. He had paid £1 at Mr. Wilkinson's office to have the transfer made to Smith.

Inspector M'Crae said Mr. Newall had taken proper steps to have the license transferred, but Smith had never appeared on transfer day.

The Bench said Mr. Newall was the responsible party, having the license, and they were bound to convict; but, taking all the circumstances into consideration, they would inflict the mitigated penalty of 2s 6d and costs. They also stated that there was no reflection upon defendant's character.

Joseph Smith (the party now in possession of the UNION INN) was charged with selling ale without a license. The defendant had obtained an excise license, but had neglected to procure a magistrate's certificate. Defendant, who pleaded ignorance, was fined 5s and costs.

A temporary transfer of the license of the UNION INN was granted from J. H. Newall to Joseph Smith.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/5/1870

“Joseph Smith, landlord of the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft, was charged with having, on Saturday, the 26th ult, permitted disorderly conduct, and also with having on the following (Sunday) morning had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. At twenty minutes past twelve, midnight, Police-constable Child visited defendant's house, and saw about 20 persons, men and women, on the table there were three pint cups and some glasses. One of the parties asked the officer to drink, and after he tasted the liquor and found it was ale. Two of the men were stripped and fighting, and the other two were partially stripped and preparing to fight. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant for the first offence to pay a fine of £5 and costs, and in the other case to pay a fine of 50s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for two months in each case.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/6/1870

“Joseph Smith, landlord of the UNION INN, Ryecroft, was ordered to pay a fine of 50s and costs, for having, on Sunday, the 29th ult, had his house open at one o'clock in the morning.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1876

“The undermentioned persons were summoned for the offences named, Mr. Glover appearing for the prosecution in each case, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defence.....

Benjamin Brittain, of the UNION INN, Ryecroft was charged with allowing gaming in his house on the same night [29th ult.] and the charge was proved by the same officers [Police-constables Wright and Blakeman in plain clothes] as in the previous case. While the officers were at the house three parties were playing with three packs of cards for ale and money. For the defence an attempt was made to show that one of the officers incited the men to gamble, but the allegation was stoutly denied. A fine of £2 10s and costs (including attorney's fee of 10s 6d) was imposed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session..... The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:

Benjamin Brittain, beerhouse keeper, Ryecroft In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

1881 Census

55, James Street

[1] Benjamin Brittain (34), victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Phebey Brittain (31), wife, born Walsall;

- [3] Minnie Brittain (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] David Brittain (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Maud Elizabeth Brittain (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Laura Ann Brittain (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Eliza Yates (13), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/9/1884

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, Isaac Bailey (53), miner, James Street, Ryecroft, was charged with causing the death of his wife, Mary Ann, Bailey, on the preceding Friday afternoon. The magistrates on the Bench were Messrs. J. H. Smith (Mayor), B. Beebee (ex-Mayor), W. H. Brookes, and E. T. Holden. Mr. Gillespie (Wilkinson, Gillespie, and Wilkinson) appeared to prosecute, and the prisoner was defended by Mr. E. T. Evans.

In opening the case, Mr. Gillespie referred to the law of murder, and asked the magistrates to commit the accused on that charge. The first witness called was Phoebe Brittain, wife of Benjamin Brittain, landlord of the UNION INN, James Street, Ryecroft. She deposed that about ten minutes past four on Friday afternoon deceased came to the house in a drunken condition and proceeded to the backyard. Shortly after prisoner came in and stood in the bar passage. When his wife came into the passage the prisoner called her a drunken cat, and deceased then used foul language to him and refused to go home when he told her. Prisoner then stepped forward and struck her a blow on the left side of the head, heedless of the witness's request that he would not strike his wife. Deceased fell down heavily on her back and never stirred again. Witness called her husband, and he, with the assistance of a woman named Clara Saney, lifted deceased to a chair, but she was dead. Bailey did not attempt to strike his wife more than one blow, and when he was told his wife was dead he remarked ‘Oh, it's only a drunken fit.’ Prisoner had always borne a good character and was quite sober.

Clara Saney, wife of Thomas Saney, bridle cutter, said she saw the deceased about half-past two on Friday afternoon. Deceased then said she had been to the LORD RAGLAN to fetch her husband and the landlord had turned her out. She also said she was going back to begin on the landlord. A few minutes after witness was fetched and induced deceased to go home. While at the shop deceased gave witness the key of the place and went away. About an hour after witness went to the UNION INN to take the key, and saw deceased, who was very drunk, there. Prisoner came in and asked his wife if she was not ashamed of herself. Deceased used bad language, and the prisoner then rushed forward, but witness did not see the blow, as she left the house at that moment. In a few minutes she returned and assisted to pick deceased up. Prisoner was very excited.

Benjamin Brittain, landlord of the UNION INN, said he picked deceased up, and remarked to prisoner, ‘Oh, Mr. Bailey, I believe she's dead.’ Prisoner replied, ‘Her'll come round directly. I have seen her like that before.’ Witness then sent for the police. William Gough, landlord of the LORD RAGLAN INN, deposed to deceased quarrelling with her husband at his house, and said he ejected the deceased twice, in consequence of her drunken misconduct. Deceased wanted to fight witness and her husband, and the latter advised her to go home, as she had had too much beer. When deceased tried to strike her husband, the latter said, ‘Keep away, or I'll strike you.’

Joseph Alfred Merritt, baker, 14, Bank Street, who was in the RAGLAN INN when deceased came in, said she was very quarrelsome, and when turned out took hold of the landlord's collar to pull him into the street. She was so drunk that while in the street she could not stand, and reeled over the kerbstone, falling heavily upon her head.

Dr. Maclachan said he had made a post mortem examination of the body on Saturday. The body was that of a stout woman, about 5ft 4in in height. There were no external marks of violence, but internally he found two marks, each about the size of a shilling, one on each side of the head. At the back of the head slightly to the left, there was mark about the size of a half-crown, and an immense effusion of blood between the membrane and the brain substance. The liver and kidneys were extensively diseased, and there was also fatty degeneration and valvular disease of the heart. The cause of death was the effusion of blood on the brain, the diseases of the organs being chronic and not likely to cause sudden death. The injury to the brain was the cause, and in his opinion this would be caused by a fall, and not by a blow. He could not say what time had elapsed between the blow and the effusion of blood, but after the effusion she could not live an instant.

Mr. Evans, for the defence, argued that the gravamen of a charge of murder was malice aforethought, which in this case was entirely absent. The prisoner tried to get into his house, and finding the door locked, followed her to get the key. She abused him, and in a passion he struck her. She being drunk, fell, and a fall caused the injury resulting in her death. The evidence did not show whether death resulted from that fall or the one previously, near the RAGLAN. If the prisoner had wished to injure his wife, he would have done so when she attempted to strike him at the RAGLAN.

The Bench, after a short deliberation in private, committed the prisoner to the next Staffordshire Assizes on the charge of wilful murder.

The inquest on the body of the deceased was held yesterday afternoon, at the MINERS ARMS INN, Ryecroft, before Mr. T. Howard Stanley (borough coroner). Mr. Gillespie and Chief-superintendent Cater appeared on behalf of the police, and Mr. T. Harrison-Evans appeared for the prisoner, who was present in the custody of Acting-sergeant Cliff.

The evidence taken at the magisterial enquiry was repeated, and Dr. Mclachlan, after detailing the result of the post mortem, added that the deceased suffered from a peculiar disease of the heart, which rendered her blood vessels weaker, and consequently more liable to rupture. In reply to a juryman, witness stated that the death might have been caused either by a blow or a fall. If a blow, it would have to be a very strong one. He was more inclined to think death was caused by injuries received from falling as in that case there would be greater tendency of blood to the head.

In the course of the hearing a juryman stated that he knew deceased had been fond of a ‘running fuddle,’ and prisoner volunteered the statement that he had often had to remonstrate with her for that.

In summing up the Coroner recapitulated the evidence, and said that there was no doubt the deceased was overcome by drink, and irritated her husband, who was sober, by using bad language. There could be no doubt that the fall in the passage produced death, and the blow given by the prisoner produced the fall. He then defined the difference between murder and manslaughter, and submitted the facts tended strongly to negate the preservice of malice, expressed or implied.

After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict on Manslaughter, and added a rider recommending prisoner to mercy on account of the great provocation he suffered.”

Lichfield Mercury 14/11/1884

“Staffordshire Assizes.

Isaac Bailey (53), miner, was charged with the manslaughter of his wife, Mary Ann Bailey, at Walsall, on September 19. Mr. Plowden and Mr. Gwynne James prosecuted; Mr. Darling and Mr. Whitehouse defended the prisoner.

The deceased, who was a woman of drunken habits went in to the RAGLAN public-house, Ryecroft Walsall, on the afternoon of the day named, and was very violent towards the prisoner. Being ejected, she fell, and knocked her head against some stones outside. Subsequently she and the prisoner quarrelled in the UNION INN about the key, which she refused to give him. He struck her, and she fell on the floor and died from effusion of blood on the brain.

The jury convicted the prisoner, with a recommendation to mercy.

The Judge, saying few could have resisted the provocation to which the prisoner was subjected, passed a sentence of two days’ imprisonment. The prisoner was immediately released. The sentence was applauded.”

Benjamin Brittain was fined £5 and costs, on 5th April 1889, for selling after 10pm on Sunday.

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1889

“The adjourned licensing day, which was held at the Guildhall, on Monday [23/9], had been looked forward to with considerable interest on account of the large number of objections to the renewal of licenses made by the Chief Constable. All the houses objected to, something like 162, had been visited by the Magistrates, and in the vast majority of cases the structural alterations required by the Chief Constable had been made, hence the objections were withdrawn. Others persisted in, however, with the result that the bench refused to renew the licenses of five houses, these being, the SHAKESPEARE, Peel Street; the UNION, Ryecroft; the BARLEY MOW, Church Hill; the PEOPLE’S MUSIC HALL, High Street; and the CROSS KEYS, Blue Lane. There is a very angry feeling on the part of the publicans at this result, and notice of appeal has been given in each case. As the matter will be brought for decision before the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, I will refrain from commenting on it.”

The license renewal was refused by the Justices on 23rd September 1889.

It was confirmed on appeal at the Stafford Quarter Sessions.

UNION

Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 8/12/1860 - Advert

“To Publicans And Others.

Unserved Sale at the UNION INN, Rushall Street, Walsall, Staffordshire.

To Be Sold By Auction, by James Lowe, on the Premises as above on Wednesday Next, December 12th, under a Bill of Sale – the whole of the Public-House Effects, including Furniture, Stock-in-Trade, and other Effects.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock in the forenoon.

Auctioneer’s Office, 14, Cannon Street, Birmingham.”

VARSIITY

Lord Hill House, Darwall Street / Leicester Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Barracuda Bars
Amber Taverns [2015], [2023]

LICENSEES

Samantha Mole [2023]

NOTES

[1998]
[2012]

It closed.
It reopened in 2013 as the TAP AND TANNER.

Express & Star 14/2/2023

“Staff at a pub in the Black Country have ‘big plans’ for the future after a mammoth £250,000 refurbishment. The TAP AND TANNER in Walsall has been open for more than 10 years, however it shut its doors for nearly two weeks in January for a complete revamp. The refurbishment saw the Darwall Street pub ‘completely gutted’ and it now features new carpet, new seating and a DJ booth which was unveiled to locals on its re-opening night last week. Samantha Mole, who has been the manager for a year, said, ‘It just needed the work doing, the locals all love it and they couldn’t believe how much it had changed. Opening night was really busy, there was so much entertainment – it was a really great night.’

The renovations were funded by the Amber Taverns group, who are the overseeing organisation for the TAP AND TANNER. George Davies, who lives in Walsall and is cellar manager at the pub, added, ‘This is a town centre pub but, to me, it is my first home because I’m just always here. We appeal to everyone – in the morning we have locals come in and play dominoes and then the weekends are for the youngsters. Everyone knows everyone, and we all look after each other – that is the magic of the TAP AND TANNER. The pub was outdated but now they’ve brought it back up, we’ve got big plans, especially in the summer with the Rugby World Cup, we can push things forward.’”

[2023]

VAULTS

38, (37), High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Miss Ash, Kempsey, Worcestershire
Atkinsons Ltd.

LICENSEES

Marshall [1845]

Thomas Oakes [1845] – 1847)
Henry Marshall [1864] – [1865]
Daniel Woodfield [1868] – [1870]
Robert Guest [1871] – [1872]
James Turnock [1881];
Hannah Tomkinson [];
George Maund [1888] – 1895);
Sarah Ann Maund (1895 – 1898);
John Henry Tully (1898 – 1899);
John Owen (1899 – 1905);
Francis Hughes (1905 – 1908);
James Cox (1908 – 1909);
Daniel Dalton (1909 – 1910):

NOTES

37, High Street [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872]

38, High Street [1871], [1908]

It was originally an unnamed alehouse.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1845 - Notice

“South Staffordshire Junction Railway.....

We, the undersigned Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Iron Masters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other inhabitants do hereby express our opinion that the projected South Staffordshire Junction Railway is the line best calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the districts and we promise to it our strenuous support.....

Thomas Oakes, wine vaults, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 18/10/1845 - Advert

“Grand Railway Trip To Liverpool And Back In One Day.....

Tickets, There and Back – First Class 18s; Second Class 16s; Third Class 7s which will be available on Tuesday and may be had from the following parties..... Mr. Marshall, WINE VAULTS, High Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/5/1847 - Advert

“Wine And Spirit Vaults, High Street, Walsall.

To Be Disposed Of by Private Contract, the Lease, Licenses, and immediate possession of the Excellent Liquor Shop and Market House, situated in the best part of High Street and corner of the Pig-market, in the occupation of Mr. Oakes, a bankrupt.

The premises comprise a very handsome fitted-up Liquor Shop to the front, parlour, tap-room, kitchen, and brewhouse, good cellars, club-room, and 5 bed rooms.

The fixtures, stock-in-trade, &c, will be required to be taken at a fair valuation.

The above is a most excellent opportunity to a person desirous of entering the above business, as the rent and payments are very low.

For particulars, apply to H. Farrington, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

London Gazette 12/10/1847

“Estate of Thomas Oakes of Walsall in the county of Stafford, Wine and Spirit Dealer.

The creditors who have proved their debts under the above Fiat in Bankruptcy may receive their warrants for the First Dividend of 2s 10d in the pound, any Thursday, between the hours of eleven and three, on application at my office, No.7, Waterloo-street, Birmingham. No warrant can be delivered without the production of the securities exhibited at the time of proof. Executors and administrators of deceased creditors will be required to produce the probate of will or letters of administration.

October 7, 1847.

James Christie, Official Assignee.”

Henry Marshall spirit vaults, 37, High Street. [1864], [1865]

Daniel Woodfield, spirit vaults, 37, High Street. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

38, High Street

[1] Robert Guest (35), publican, born Wigan;

[2] Harriet Guest (24), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] William Guest (3), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Margaret H. Guest (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Hannah Osbourn (20), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Robert Guest, spirit vaults, 37, High Street. [1872]

1881 Census

High Street

[1] James Turnock (32), licensed victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Maria Turnock (35), wife, born Gloucester;

[3] Emily Turner (20), barmaid, born Tamebridge, Staffordshire;

[4] William John Bolton (41), brewer's assistant, born Bethnal Green, Middlesex;

[5] Sophy Guest (20), general servant, born West Bromwich;

[6] Walter B. Turnock (4), son, scholar, born Ross, Herefordshire;

[7] Harrold B. Turnock (1), son, born Ross, Herefordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 29/11/1884 - Advert

“In Bankruptcy. Re James Turnock.

Auction Rooms, The Bridge, Walsall.

Messrs. Watkins & Powell have received instructions from E. Pritchard, Esq, Official Receiver, to Sell by Auction, on Monday Next, December 1st, 1884 (without the slightest reserve), a quantity of very superior Household Furniture, Removed from 37, High Street, Walsall, for convenience of sale.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock precisely.

Catalogues may be had from the Auctioneer's Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1888

“George Maund, licensed victualler, High Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises, and was ordered to pay costs.”

1891 Census

38, High Street

[1] George Maund (45), licensed victualler, born Bromsgrove;

[2] Sarah A. Maund (39), wife, born Rushall;

[3] Elizabeth A. Maund (16), daughter, born Cannock;

[4] Florence Maund (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Annie Maund (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Sarah Maund (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Lucy Maund (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Eleanor Maund (2), daughter, born Walsall;

[9] Harriet Renton (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/89/1892

“To Be Sold pursuant to an order of the High Court of Justice (Chancery Division), made in an action ‘Ash v. Elwell,’ 1871, A. No.43, with the approbation of Mr. Justice North, in one Lot.

By Henry Charles Powell, at the Property Saleroom, 28, Bridge Street, Walsall, Staffordshire, on Tuesday, the 23rd day of August, 1892, at 7 o'clock pm precisely.

Valuable Freehold Old Full-Licensed Public-House, being No.38, High Street, Walsall, in the occupation of Mr. George Maund, as an annual tenant on Lady-day tenancy, containing Vaults, Parlour, Smoke-room, Tap-room, Club-room, Sitting-room, 2 Bed-rooms, 3 Attics, Kitchen, Pantry, Brewhouse, Malt-room, 2 Cellars, Stable, and large enclosed Yard. And the Shop and Messuage adjoining, in the occupation of Mrs. Featherstone, Fancy Draper, containing Front Shop, Sitting-room, Kitchen, 2 Bed-rooms, 2 Attics, and Cellar.

The whole premises produce an annual rental of £65.

Particulars and Conditions of Sale may be obtained as follows, viz: Mr. William Booth Hulme, Solicitor, 7, Pierpoint Street, Worcester; of Messrs. Norris, Allens, and Chapman, Solicitors, 20, Bedford Row, London, W.C.; of Messrs. Maples, Tusdale, and Co., 1a, Frederick Place, Old Jewry, London, E.C.; and of the Auctioneer; and at the place of Sale.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/9/1893

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. George Maund, the SPIRIT VAULTS, High Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 22/9/1894

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Sep 13 at the house of Mr. George Maund, the VAULTS, High Street.....”

George Maund, spirit vaults, 38, High Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 10/8/1895

“We have to record with regret the decease of a well-known tradesman of High Street, Mr. George Maund. Mr. Maund, who was born at Bromsgrove on the 25th October 1845, came to reside in Walsall some 21 years ago, and for the first 11 years was with Mr. T. Disturnal (miller) of this town, and for the last 10 years and up to the time of his death he had represented Messrs. Barlow and Sons, millers, of Bilston, while concurrently with his going to Messrs. Barlow and Sons he embarked in the licensed trade at the SPIRIT VAULTS, High Street, Walsall, which he occupied to the time of his death. The funeral took place on Wednesday at the New Cemetery.....”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street.....

We have to report with regret the decease of the following members during the past year, viz.: Mrs. Elizabeth Plant, FREE MASON'S ARMS INN, Park Street, Walsall; Mr. Thomas Plant, STAND TAVERN, Newport Street; Mr. George Maund, The VAULTS, High Street, Walsall, whose funerals your committee attended, and to whose relatives we have tendered our respectful sympathy. The last named (Mr. George Maund) was re-elected president of the society at our last annual meeting, but owing to failing health he asked to be relieved of his duties, and we reluctantly acceded to his wishes. To mark our high appreciation of the valuable services he from time to time rendered in the various offices which he filled we presented him last November with an illuminated address.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/1/1898 - Advert

“To Licensed Victuallers And Others.

Unreserved Sale Of Two Good Brewing Plants Situate At The VAULTS, High Street, and The GREYHOUND, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.

Messrs. Watkins, Powell & Wood are instructed by Messrs. Atkinsons Ltd., to Sell by Auction, absolutely without reserve, on Wednesday, February 2nd, 1898, Two Capital Brewing Plants, one of which is situated at the VAULTS, 37, High Street, Walsall, and comprises 160-gallon Copper Boiler with underwork, 60-gallon Iron Boiler, 18-bushel Oval Mash-tub, several good Coolers, Moreton’s patent Refrigerator, Vats, Wort Spouts, Sieves, Tubs, Hop Press, Lead Piping, Fermenting Vessels, 120 and 100-gallon and other Casks, &c, &c.

The Sale of the above will commence at 11 o’clock, and at its conclusion the plant situate at the GREYHOUND, Upper Rushall Street, will be sold. This plant comprises large Copper Boiler, nearly-new Steel Boiler, large Mash-tub, Fermenting Vats, Copper Refrigerator, Cooling Vats, Lead-piping, Casks, and other useful trade effects.

Auctioneer’s Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Mr. Pearman-smith also applied on behalf of Atkinson’s Brewery Company, Limited, for the magistrates’ approval to plans for alterations at the VAULTS, in High Street. The alterations were simply to remove a staircase, put in a new window, and erect certain out-houses.

Application adjourned until the adjourned day.”

1901 Census

38, High Street

[1] John Owen (62), licensed victualler, born Dawley, Shropshire;

[2] Eliza A. Owen (59), wife, machinist (leather), born West Bromwich;

[3] Lavinia J. Owen (20), daughter, born Willenhall;

[4] Lily Owen (16), daughter, typist, born Willenhall:

Francis Hughes was fined 10s and costs, on 11th November 1907, for permitting drunkenness.

Walsall Advertiser 6/3/1909

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday week.....

The first application was that made by Mr. Pearman-Smith asking for the removal of the ale-house license of the VAULTS, High Street, to the beerhouse, CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

Mr. Pearman-Smith contended that the district was a most respectable one, and there was a need for a spirit license.

Mr. James Cox, the present licensee of the VAULTS, stated that he was on annual tenancy, and that if the license was transferred, and the house closed, he was quite willing, as he had arranged to be satisfactorily compensated.

Mr. Pearman-Smith, stated it would mean the closing of one house, and in addition his clients were prepared to surrender in addition an off-beer license, with which was a grocer’s wine and spirit license. Mr. Newman opposing on behalf of Messrs. Showell’s Brewery, stated that if the application was granted, it would create a precedent for granting spirit licenses every 160 yards. He remembered that when an off-license was granted in this locality, 12 months ago, three licenses were given up. Surely if one off-license was worth three, a spirit license should be worth a dozen. Mr. F. E. Bill (Bill and Clark, Birmingham), also appeared in opposition, and said that there were four public houses in close proximity.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/7/1909

“The following licenses were transferred.....

When the license of the VAULTS INN was transferred, Mr. C. A. Loxton (clerk) asked Mr. Cox (the out-going tenant) whether it was in consequence of certain evidence he had given in Court, that he was leaving the house.

Mr. Cox replied that it was because he could not find time to keep the house as well as to follow his ordinary employment.

Mr. Loxton: Then it is not because of the evidence you gave at this Court? – Mr. Cox: Oh, no, I am leaving on my own accord.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

Mr. Pearman-Smith appeared in respect of the license of the VAULTS, High Street, and said that the tenant Daniel Dalton, was doing about £12 per week.

Licensed refused.”

AND

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR, Caldmore. An application was made by Mr. Pearman-Smith for the transfer of a spirit license from the VAULTS, High Street, to the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

The Rev. A. H. Lees, and Mr. S. A. Grundy Newman and Mr. H. H. Jackson on behalf of the houses in the district opposed.

Mr. Smith said that the owners were prepared to surrender a full license if the application was granted, and the name of the house was handed to the Bench. He submitted that the need of the district necessitated a spirit license at that house.

The application was refused.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority in 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

VAULTS, High Street. Alehouse. Licensee Daniel Dalton.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/6/1910

“A meeting of the Licensing Justices was held on Tuesday morning.....

The renewal of the license of the VAULTS, High Street, was applied for by Mr. Pearman Smith for the owners, Atkinson's Brewery Co. Mr. Smith stated that the premises were rebuilt five years ago at a cost of £4,500. The rent of the premises was £75 a year, inclusive of rates and licenses. The rateable value was £65 gross, and £52 net. The contribution to the Compensation Fund was £15. It was absolutely the only licensed house the Atkinson Brewery Co. owned in the borough. They owned the BULLS HEAD, Rushall Street, and since the license had been taken away those premises had never been occupied. His clients considered it would be a great hardship if they were wiped out of the town altogether by being made to surrender this license. It was largely used by market people, and it was of importance that market people should not have to go a long way from their stalls for refreshment.

Daniel Dalton, the licensee, said he entered the house last July, and the takings averaged £12 per week. Saturdays and Tuesdays were the busiest days of the week. There were the vaults, two smoke rooms, and the premises were self contained. Included in the £75 rent which he paid was the rent for a shop next door, for which he received 6s 6d per week.

The renewal was refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1910

“A supplementary meeting of the Licensing Justices to consider claims for compensation was held on Wednesday morning at the Guildhall. Mr. W. Bayliss presided, and there were present Messrs. W. E. Blyth, T. A. Smith, J. Clare, W. Halford, A. D. Cozens, J. J. Lynch, A. Jagger, and R. Thomas. The following houses came up for consideration.....

The VAULTS, High Street; owners, Atkinson Brewery Company, Wolverhampton; tenant, Daniel Dalton. Mr. Pearman-Smith represented the owners, and the tenant appeared in person. The Magistrates' Clerk (Mr. C. A. Loxton) informed the tenant that his application was late, but on consulting the Magistrates said they would overlook the matter. The clerk asked the tenant if he had not better confer with Mr. Pearman-Smith, and the solicitor replied that the position was that Mr. Dalton agreed to accept a certain sum, and signed an agreement to that effect, but he was very surprised to hear that morning that he had sent in an application.

The Magistrates' Clerk: You admit he has a right to claim? – Mr. Pearman-Smith: Certainly. I don't think, however, the Magistrates will award so much as there is on the agreement. It is only a question of the amount.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1912

“A meeting of the Walsall Compensation Authority was held at the Guildhall on Tuesday, the Mayor (Councillor J. Venables) presiding. Four licensed houses came up for consideration, with the question of compensation to be paid for closing them. The houses were the SADDLERS HOME and the STAR AND GARTER public houses in Station Street, and the VAULTS, in High Street, and the ROVERS REST at Leamore. It was decided that the four houses should be closed on or before March 25th, and the amounts to be paid as compensation were agreed upon between the justices and the parties concerned.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1912

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Frank Cooper applied on behalf of William Sanders, landlord of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street, for an ale-house license, the inn at present being only a beer-house. Mr. S. A. Newman opposed the application on behalf of the WHITE LION, and the OLD KINGS ARMS, which are neighbouring public-houses, and the Rev. A. H. Lees opposed as a ratepayer and minister working in the district. This was the sixth occasion on which the application had been made.

Mr. Cooper pointed out that since the last application there had been considerable alterations in that locality, and it was a part of the borough that had grown rapidly. He had a memorial signed by no less than 350 inhabitants asking for the full-license. He was prepared to offer £650 as a monopoly value for the privilege to supply liquor.

Mr. Loxton pointed out that this was £400 less than was offered four years ago. In return for a full license an offer made to surrender the license of the VAULTS and another house. Compensation to the extent of £1,033 had been awarded for the VAULTS alone, and now the full offer was only £650.

After the Justices had retired that Chairman announced that they were not prepared to receive any offer of any kind.”

VICTORIA

23, Lower Rushall Street / Intown Row, WALSALL

OWNERS

Benjamin Williams, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall
Joseph and Francis Zeller [1910]
William Busst, Rushall Street, Walsall
George Whitehouse, 12, Mellish Road, Walsall [1901]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1918]
Lichfield Brewery Co. [1925]
Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 23rd January 1935)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)

LICENSEES

Richard Arrowsmith [1840] – [1845]
William Adkins [1849] – [1850]
John Beckett [1858] – 1861);
John Ricketts (1861 – [1863]
Silas Nock [1864] – [1873];
Mrs. Elizabeth Nock [1875];
James Williams [];
John Bolt [1878];
Edward Clarke [1881] – 1888);
Mrs. Caroline Hickman (1888 – 1892);
Thomas Wright (1892 – 1893);
Edmund Hunter (1893 – 1894);
Emily Hunter (1894 – 1897);
Clement Seabright (1897 – 1898);
William Wright (1898 – 1904);
George Whitehouse [1904] ?
Horace Brown (1904 – 1905);
Victor Hawley (1905 – 1906);
William Holt (1906 – 1907);
Richard Alfred Yardley (1907 – 1908);
Claude Ernest Pringle (1908 – 1909);
William Wright (1909 – 1910);
Elizabeth Wright (1910); manager
Mrs. Catherine ‘Kate’ Slater (1910 – 1912);
Henry Insley (1912 – 1913);
James Henry Roberts (1913 – 1918);
John Frederick Foster (1918 – 1919);
Lennox Busfield (1919 – 1921);
Ernest Godsall (1921 – 1922);
Ernest Hawkswood (1922 – 1924);
William Turley (1924 – 1925);
Robert William Hatfield (1925 – 1928);
Edward Evans (1928 – 1930);
John Joseph Poxon (1930 – 1950);
Charles Tarbuck (1950 – 1952);
Wilfred George Little (1952 – 1956);
Allan Macallum Sanders (1956 – 1965);
Joyce Dorian Thornton (1965 – [1966]
Stephen A Farley [1993] – 1998); 14 years
Robert Billingham (1998 – [2007]

NOTES

It was originally QUEEN VICTORIA [1845], [1849], [1850], [1871]
VICTORIA [1841], [1858], [1861], [1881], [1912], [1940]
QUEEN [1864], [1865]

It was known locally as “Cats”.

1851 Census

Lower Rushall Street

- [1] James Adkins (35), builder, born Aldridge, Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Adkins (41), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Frederic Haden (14), son in law, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] James Adkins (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Adkins (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] William Adkins (78), father, widower, late house servant, born Yorkshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/6/1853

“On Thursday last, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street, on the body of Mary Gribbon, aged about thirteen, servant to Mrs. Ann Jackson, of Oldsill Lane, Walsall. Deceased slept at her home in Rushall Street, and was in the habit of going to her mistress’s at six in the morning. On Wednesday morning, having lighted a fire, she sat before it in a low chair, and fell asleep. Whilst there her clothes took fire, and she was very much burnt before help arrived, her first cries for assistance not having roused Mrs. Jackson from sleep. The poor girl was taken home and soon expired. The coroner told the deceased’s mother that it had been communicated to him that the girl was illtreated by her parents, and that on Tuesday she was expelled from her home at ten at night. Mr. Fletcher admonished the woman; who, however, denied that this was so, her husband only submitting herself, and the whole of the family to such indignities, when sometimes he returned home intoxicated. On all such occasions, however, they were soon admitted again to the house. It was said that after lighting her mistress’s fire, deceased frequently slept before it, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1861 Census

23, Lower Rushall Street – VICTORIA INN

- [1] John Beckett (42), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Anne Beckett (52), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Adkins (16), stepson, silver plater, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Anne Adkins (11), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Anne Barney (17), general servant, born Ireland;
- [6] Peter Jones (23), lodger, iron founder, born Radnor, Wales:

Walsall Free Press 14/9/1861 - Advert

“To Be Disposed Of, at a fair Valuation, and may be entered upon immediately, that well accustomed House, known as the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street.
Apply on premises.”

Walsall Free Press 16/11/1861

“Application was made for the transfer of the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street, from John Beckett to John Ricketts.
.....The police gave all applicants good characters, and the transfers were permitted.”

Walsall Free Press 2/5/1863

“Bridget Burns, was charged with having on Saturday last uttered a counterfeit half-crown. From the evidence, it appeared the prisoner went to the liquor shop of Mrs. Ricketts, the VICTORIA public-house, Lower Rushall Street, and there tendered a half-crown, which Mrs. Ricketts refused to take. Prisoner said she had got the half-crown from Mrs. Ricketts at half-past nine that evening. Mrs. Ricketts denied giving the prisoner the money, and was about to nail it to the counter. Prisoner pleaded so hard, however, to have it returned that Mrs. Ricketts let her have it again. She then attempted to pass it again at Mrs. Griffiths’s spirit vaults, but the character of the coin having been discovered by Mrs. Giffiths, prisoner did not succeed. She also made an ineffectual attempt to pass it at the shop of Mr. Hirst, fish dealer, Upper Rushall Street; after which she went to the shop of Mr. Eveson, Upper Rushall Street, where she passed it in payment for some potatoes and eggs. On Mrs. Eveson’s daughter taking it to her mother, the latter discovered the coin a was a counterfeit, and gave information to Acting-sergeant Shaw, who took prisoner into custody. After hearing the evidence the Bench adjourned the case till Tuesday, in order to admit of the Mint authorities being communicated with.”

London Gazette 8/5/1863

“John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public-house, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualer and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public-house, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 21st day of May instant, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy."

AND

Walsall Free Press 4/7/1863 - Advert

"In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the matter of John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the Sounty of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, a bankrupt.

Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the court granted an Order of Discharge to the said bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.

Dated this 20th day of June, 1863."

AND

London Gazette 14/9/1866

"John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto, of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, adjudicated bankrupt on the 6th day of May, 1863. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 25th day of September instant, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely."

Silas Nock was also a hamemaker. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1864

"Benjamin Wilkes, Silas Nock, Thomas Jones, and William Jones, on Monday last appeared at the Guildhall before Messrs. Samuel Cox (mayor), John Shannon, and Henry Highway, charged with having assaulted William Collins, a man who described himself as a jockey. The complainant's statement was to the effect that late on Tuesday night last, as he was passing along Intown Row, he met Thomas Jones, who took his cap away from him and blacked his face. He followed Jones to Nock's house, the VICTORIA INN, in Rushall Street, and asked for his cap, and William Jones then blacked his face again. Subsequently the two other men assisted Jones in tearing his clothes from his person, and eventually he was turned out into the street, half-naked. He then went to the Chief Superintendent, and made a complaint against the defendants.

Mr. Cater spoke to the complainant calling him up on the night named, and to Collins being sober and his clothes much torn. The defence was that complainant lost his cap before he met Jones, and that when he went to Nock's he asked for ale, but Nock refused to supply him with any because he was drunk, and subsequently turned him out of the house because he refused to leave. Eventually the Bench fined Thomas Jones £3 and costs, and Nock (who ought, they held to have been careful to prevent such conduct in his house) £2 and costs, or in default two months' imprisonment each. The other two men were fined £1 each, or in default one months' imprisonment with hard labour."

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

"Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

Silas Nock, VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street licenses suspended."

Walsall Free Press 9/9/1865

"The Adjourned Licensing day. Before T. Hazledine (Mayor), H. Highway, J. Shannon, W. Ward, S. Stokes, P. Potter, and J. B. Anderson, Esqs.....

The following persons, whose license had been suspended, were cautioned and had their licenses renewed....

Silas Nock, VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/11/1970

"Ann Johnson, a married woman, was charged with having stolen a coat, value 5s, the property of Silas Nock, publican, Rushall Street, which coat she afterwards pledged at the shop of Mr. Munroe. She was sentenced to one months' imprisonment. The pawnbroker's expenses were disallowed, his assistant not being present when the case was called on."

1871 Census

23, Lower Rushall Street – QUEEN VICTORIA

[1] Silas Nock (37), licensed victualler and hamemaker, born Rowley, Staffordshire;

[2] Elizabeth Nock (35), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Joseph Nock (15), son, gas fitter, born Walsall;

- [4] Charlotte Nock (12), daughter, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;
- [5] Betsy Nock (10), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [6] Mira Nock (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Clara Nock (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Jane (?) Nock (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Benjamin Nock (2), son, born Walsall;
- [10] James Morris (34), boarder, brass dresser;
- [11] George Hemson (32), inmate, bricklayer, born Tipton;
- [12] Charles Swinburne (60), inmate, bricklayer's labourer, born Warwickshire;
- [13] Richard Perry (54), lodger, painter, born Walsall:

The licensee was fined 20s and costs, on 14th February 1875, for Sunday trading.

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1875

“Walsall Annual Licensing Business.....

The cases of Elizabeth Nock, the VICTORIA, Rushall Street were adjourned.”

John Bolt was fined 40s and costs, on 17th April 1878, for permitting drunkenness.

London Gazette 1/11/1878

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John Bolt, of the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Brown Saddler.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 13th day of November, 1878, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1878.

Fredrick Bill, 5, Bridge-street, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

1881 Census

23, Lower Rushall Street – VICTORIA INN

- [1] Edward Clarke (61), licensed victualler, born Shropshire;
- [2] Caroline Clarke (60), wife, born Shropshire;
- [3] William Clarke (31), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Caroline Clarke (24), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Edward Clarke (20), son, civil engineer, born Bilston;
- [6] Ann Whitehouse (17), general servant, born Deepfields:

1891 Census

23, Lower Rushall Street – VICTORIA INN

- [1] Caroline Hickman (34), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Edward Clarke (72), father, retired victualler, born Bridgnorth;
- [3] Caroline Clarke (70), wife, born Bridgnorth;
- [4] Ellen M. Donogh (17), domestic servant, born Walsall Wood:

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1893

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held at the Guildhall, on Tuesday.....

Mr. Cotterell appeared in regard to the transfer of the VICTORIA INN, Rushall Street, from Thomas Wright to Edmund Hunter.

The latter, a bailiff in the employ of the County Court, had given up the employment to take the house. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/1/1895

“Henry Wilkins, living with Mr. Hunter, landlord of the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, shortly before four o'clock yesterday jumped from a bedroom window three storey high and fractured his skull. He was carried into the house in a very dangerous condition. The man, in falling, caught his arm against Police-constable Reddick's shoulder, knocking down the officer, much to his bewilderment.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

“For having been drunk, violent, quarrelsome and disorderly, upon, and refused to quit the premises of the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, on August 10th, Mary Ryan, back of the BLUE PIG, New Street, was fined 10s and costs, or 14 days' hard labour. Edmund Hunter, landlord, gave evidence.”

1901 Census

Lower Rushall Street – The VICTORIA INN

- [1] William Wright (36), harness maker and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Wright (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William I. Wright (15), son, saddler's ironmonger, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Wright (13), son, carpenter, born Walsall;
- [5] Frank Wright (10), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Isaac Beebee (19), cousin, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [7] Annie Harding (21), domestic servant, born Lancashire:

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1901

“The Streets Committee..... The following plans have, during the past month, been approved, subject to the usual conditions..... J. Whitehouse, rebuilding the VICTORIA INN, and two shops, Lower Rushall Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1901

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Mr. Plumtree, instructed by Mr. Jackson, appeared on behalf of Mr. Wright, the tenant, and George Whitehouse, the owner of the VICTORIA, Rushall Street, who sought the approval of plans for the rebuilding of this house. The house at present had a frontage to Rushall Street of 22ft, and to Intown Row of 50ft. The frontage to Rushall Street would be reduced from 22ft to 21ft 6in, to straighten the building line, in accordance with a suggestion of the Borough Surveyor. The frontage would be slightly increased, but it would not increase the drinking facilities – there would not be one extra inch more than at present. They wanted extra accommodation for a yard and for out offices. By the proposed arrangements the new building would be compact, and the living accommodation would be good, without customers having to go through the kitchen to get to the backyard. There would be proper facilities for the trade, the rooms would be well arranged and ventilated, and the whole of the premises would be shut off by a wall nine feet high. There would not be a single drinking place except on the present licensed area. In all there would be a decrease of 33yards in the licensed area, and a decrease of 2_ yards in the drinking area, whilst the counter would be reduced from 20ft to 16ft.

The Chief Constable submitted that the frontage would be extended, and the place made more attractive.

Mr. A. Stanley [Walsall temperance party] said this was an application for a new house, and they had heard that this was not a fit and proper place for a new house. All through the country they were told that magistrates had set their faces against new houses.

The Mayor remarked that they were diminishing the facilities for drinking, and that the counter would be less.

Mr. Stanley said the house would be more attractive, and he had no doubt that, if the application was granted, when the owner went out of that place that day he would be able to get thousands of pounds more for the house. They would perhaps make it a fashionable place of resort, and have electric lights, &c.

Mr. Plumtree: There is no electric light here (laughter).

Mr. Stanley said the Bench could rely upon it that every improvement that could be obtained would be obtained. He hoped the Bench would not entertain the application.

The Bench refused the application.”

AND

“The annual brewster sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Mr. Plumtree, instructed by Mr. Jackson, also applied for the renewal of the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street, to which the Chief Constable objected on the ground that it was not required and was not structurally adapted.

Police-sergeant Haycock said there were nine licensed houses in Lower Rushall Street. The premises were in a dilapidated condition, and the back of the premises was common to a shop that was empty. Also customers passing into the backyard had to go through the kitchen in which people lived. The out-offices were generally in a state of disorder.

Mr. Plumtree: Do you know what was given for these premises five years ago? – I don't know.

Have the premises become bad suddenly or are they different from last year? – They have been getting worse.

Is it an advantage to the police to have the shop untenanted? – Yes.

During the whole time Mr. Taylor was Chief Constable there was no objection to the shop? – I believe there was.

The Bench announced that the Bench did not require Mr. Plumtree to go further, license renewed.”

It was largely rebuilt in 1901.

A tower brewery was built at the rear at this time.

Walsall Advertiser 4/7/1903

“Emma Boyce, 68, Lower Rushall Street, was summoned for being found drunk on the licensed premises of the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, on June 20th. Defendant pleaded not guilty.

Police-sergeant Dicken said about 9.20 on the day in question he visited the house, and saw defendant sitting at a table drunk. He called the landlady's attention to her, and she said she did not think she was that bad. She then went to the woman and said, ‘Here, you get out, you've had enough.’ The landlady then made the statement to him (witness) that the woman had had nothing in the house.

Police-constable Sandoz gave corroborating evidence.

Defendant denied having had anything whatever in the house. She sat with her mother-in-law, who had some ale, but she had none of it.

Eliza Boyce, mother-in-law of the defendant, stated that she went into the VICTORIA INN with her daughter-in-law. Her son paid for something for her, but owing to a few words they had before they went in she did not ask defendant to have any of it. Defendant was not drunk, and she always staggered owing to bad legs. Fined 5s and costs, or in default seven days' imprisonment."

AND

"William Wright, as the landlord of the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises and June 20th. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Police-sergeant Dicken gave similar evidence to that in the last case, and said it would be impossible for anyone to go in at that door without being seen by a person behind the bar. At the time of his entrance the landlord, the landlady, and a barmaid were stationed behind the bar.

Cross-examined by Mr. Jackson, he said it would not be possible for anyone who was sitting by the door to be seen from the bar when the doors opened, they opened inwards. The woman had no intoxicant before her. When asked for her name and address, she would not give it at first, but eventually did so.

Police-constable Sandoz gave similar evidence, but, examined by the Chief Constable, he stated that when he and Sergeant Dicken went in the woman Boyce could not be seen from the bar, as she was just behind the door, and her husband, a man of over six feet, was sitting in front of her.

Questioned by Mr. Jackson: The landlady did make the statement that the woman had had no drink there, and this was corroborated by the woman herself at the time.

Mr. Jackson, for the defence, contended that to permit drunkenness was to be in collusion with the person who was drunk and to keep them there for the purpose of making profit. Mr. Wright had been at the house for a period of six years, during which time there had been no complaint whatever against him. The second officer had very candidly admitted that the woman could not be seen from the bar, as she sat behind the door. Both constables had also admitted that the woman had no drink before her, and there was no reason to believe she had any there. He ventured to think that under the circumstances it would be impossible for the magistrates to register a conviction against the landlord.

William Wright said his attention was called to the woman, but he had not seen her till then. She had certainly had some drink, but she was not inebriated, and was quite able to walk. When the police entered he was the only one behind the bar.

Elizabeth Wright, landlady, said she was not in the bar when the police entered, but afterwards went in. Her attention was called to the woman, but she did not say, 'I didn't think she was that bad.' However, she told the mother-in-law and the husband to drink up and go, and this they did.

After retiring to consider the case, the Bench were unanimous in thinking it was a proper case to be brought before the court. At the same time they did not consider there was sufficient evidence to make a conviction, and they wished to draw the attention of all license-holders to section 4 of the new Licensing Act, which the deputy clerk (Mr. E. Loxton) read out."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/2/1907

"William Holt, of the VICTORIA INN, Rushall Street, Walsall, was yesterday fined 20s and costs for having permitted drunkenness, and John Bates, of Paddock Lane, 10s and costs for having been drunk on the premises."

Mrs. Hannah Power, daughter of a publican who kept the VICTORIA INN, Rushall, Walsall, known as 'Mrs. Buccholtz' to people living in Staines, was murdered by William Buccholtz, in April 1908.

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

"Applications for transfer of license were heard in the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

Mr. Jackson appeared in the application of William Wright for a transfer of the VICTORIA license, Lower Rushall Street, from Claude Ernest Pringle, and said that they had been rather unfortunate in that house, but they thought they had got the right man this time. Mr. Wright was going from one house to another.

The Chairman: I hope it will pay him well.

Mr. Jackson: He is glad to get it back.

The Chairman asked Mr. Wright why he left the house on the previous occasion.

Mr. Wright: We were not doing well enough in it, I suppose. The house has changed hands since.

The Chairman: You did not like the old owner? – Mr. Wright was wide awake and made no reply, a fact that caused some laughter in court.

The application was granted."

Walsall Advertiser 7/8/1909

"Elizabeth Bradbury, a woman living in Lower Rushall Street, was fined 10s and costs for being drunk on the licensed premises of the VICTORIA INN and refusing to quit when requested to do so. The case was before the magistrates last week. Mr. C. Davis (probation officer) stated that the woman had refused to go into a home or give up the way she was living."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

William Wright and Elizabeth Wright, VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street.....

Mr. Jackson appeared for Mr. George Whitehouse, the owner, Mr. Zeller, the tenant, and Mrs. Wright, the manager. He stated that the house was rebuilt about eight years' ago at a cost of between two and three thousand pounds. Since Mr. Zeller had taken the tenancy, eight months ago, he had been selling nine and a half barrels of beer per week, five gallons of spirits, and five dozen of bottled beer per week. The weekly takings averaged £22 7s 11d per week for the last eight months, the indoor taking being £13 18s and the out-door £8 9s 10d. The gross takings from April 1909 to January 22nd, 1910, amounted to £880 7s 11d.

Answering Mr. Jackson, Inspector Ballance said that was the only house he knew that had a bathroom.

Mrs. Wright who said she managed the house as her husband had gone to New Zealand, said strict measure was given indoor, but the measure and a half outdoor.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

The Magistrates decided to renew the licenses of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, and the QUEENS HOTEL, Station Street, and the VICTORIA, Lower Rushall Street.”

1911 Census

23, Rushall Street – VICTORIA INN

[1] Catherine Slater (48), manageress, public house, born Hallow, Worcestershire;

[2] Annie Pearson (24), barmaid, born Brierley Hill;

[3] Beatrice Mills (22), servant, born Sutton Coldfield:

Walsall Advertiser 2/8/1913

“The Walsall Transfer Sessions were held on Tuesday at the Guildhall.....

Sir E. T. Holden pointed out that there had been eight transfers at the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, since 1900.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street. £0 11s 6½d.”

Walsall Observer 12/10/1918 - Advert

“Wednesday, 23rd October, 1918.

Under instructions from Messrs. W. Butler & Co. Ltd. Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, Leonard C. Philpot will Sell by Auction the Brewery Plant, Utensils and Effects, at the following Licensed Houses, viz:

VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.....

Further particulars in Next Week’s Observer, from the Auctioneer’s Offices, Midland Bank Chambers, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1926

“Benjamin Watts, 51, labourer, of no fixed home, was charged with burglariously breaking and entering the VICTORIA INN, Lower Rushall Street, and stealing a razor and 10s in money, the property of the landlord, Robert Wm. Hatfield, and a lady’s gold locket and necklace, the property of the landlord’s mother, Emma Hatfield; and he was further charged with being a convict on license and failing to notify also change of address. Sergt. Lavender spoke to arresting the prisoner, and said the entrance to the premises had been effected through the lavatory window. In one of the prisoner’s pockets was a skeleton key and a glove for the right hand. Prisoner was discharged on license from Parkhurst Prison last August. Prisoner was committed for trial at the Quarter Session on both charges.”

1939 Register

23, Lower Rushall Street

[1] John J. Poxon, date of birth 27/4/1891, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Molly Poxon, dob 6/3/1899, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Evening Despatch 21/5/1940

“A Walsall master locksmith and safe opener, described as ‘a man of exceptional ability with a wide reputation as a safe opener,’ was awarded £500 damages and costs at Walsall County Court in respect of personal injuries received as the result of a light shaft cover outside the VICTORIA HOTEL, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

Plaintiff was William John Heap of Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, and respondents were Ind Coope and Allsop Ltd., brewers, Burton-on-Trent, owners of the VICTORIA HOTEL.

Judge A. C. Caporn granted a stay of execution pending an appeal.

The case was remitted for High Court and it was stated for plaintiff that the accident happened on 4 April, 1938.

As he was about to enter the VICTORIA HOTEL, an iron plate-glass cover, outside the hotel, collapsed as he stepped on it and he fell down the shaft. It was alleged that as a result of the accident he was a ‘nervous wreck.’

The defence was a denial of liability.”

Birmingham Gazette 5/7/1940

“Messrs. Ind Coope and Allsopp, Ltd., brewers, appealed to the Court of Appeal yesterday from the decision of the Walsall County Court Judge, awarding £500 damages to William John Heap, of Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, in respect of injuries which Mr. Heap received by falling down a cellar light shaft in the pavement outside the VICTORIA HOTEL, Walsall.

The accident was due, it was alleged, to the defective condition of the light shaft cover which collapsed when Mr. Heap walked over it.

The brewery company contended that they were not liable because the VICTORIA HOTEL was let by them to Mr. John Joseph Poxon, and they were under no responsibility whatever to the tenant to keep the premises in repair. Lord Justice Mackinnon in giving judgement said it was contended that Mr. Heap had sued the wrong people, and he should have sued Mr. Poxon. Inasmuch as it was common sense that Mr. Heap should be able to recover from someone he ought to be able to recover from Ind. Coope and Co., if the law allowed him. On the authorities he (the Lord Justice) thought Mr. Heap was entitled to recover against them, and the County Court judge was right. The appeal would be dismissed. Lord Justice Luxmoore and Mr. Justice Tucker concurred.”

It closed on 10th November 1983.
It reopened in 1984 as KATZ.

Stephen A. Farley was married to Patricia.

Robert Billingham was married to Glenda.
See also FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street.

[1998]

It was renamed VICTORIA. [2000]

[2017]

VICTORIA STORES

120, High Street, (20, Walsall Road), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Thomas Forster, Bloxwich
Mr. Ingram, High Street, Bloxwich
J. & J. Yardley and Co. Ltd. [1907]
Old Wolverhampton Breweries Co. Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Ingram [1871] – [1872];
Hiram Cruckshall [];
William Bradley [];
Edwin Brayford [1888] – 1911);
Martha Wilkes (1911 – 1912);
Frederick Henry Gough Ordridge (1912 – 1913);
William Henry Chamberlain (1913 – 1917);
Joseph Wall (1917 – 1923);
George Wood (1923);
Alfred John Hough (1923 – 1925);
Samuel Norton (1925 – [1928])

NOTES

20, Walsall Road [1871]
120, High Street [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1911]

VICTORIA VAULTS [1888]

It had a six-day beerhouse license.

1871 Census

20, Walsall Road – The STORES

- [1] Edwin Ingram (35), wholesale spirit merchant and beer retailer, born Brewood, Staffordshire;
- [2] Hannah Ingram (32), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Hannah Ingram (11), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Elizabeth A. Ingram (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Frances L. Ingram (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Edith M. Ingram (4), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Edwin A. Ingram (2 months), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Elizabeth Guest (41), wife's sister, milliner and assistant, born Bilston:

Walsall Advertiser 17/7/1882 - Advert

“E. Ingram, VICTORIA Brewery, Bloxwich.
First-Class Strong, Mild, & Bitter Beers, Stouts, &c.
Import of Foreign Wines & Spirits.
Send For List of Prices.”

Lichfield Mercury 10/8/1888

“It has been rumoured that the Bloxwich wakes, which have for two years been so popular, will soon be a thing of the past, and that the old traditional wake ground – i.e. The Green – will be laid out as recreational grounds and park. In order to give a Roland for an Oliver, it is the intention of several gentlemen from Bloxwich to revive the race meeting which in olden times was very popular among the Walsall and Bloxwich people. The last race meeting ever held in Bloxwich took place on August 20 and 21, 1886. Circulars accordingly issued announcing a meeting to be held at Mr. A. Cozens', the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold Bank [?], Bloxwich, on Thursday week, but owing to a severe storm which burst over the town at night, the meeting was not so well attended as was anticipated. Among those present were Mr. T. Lester, Treasurer; Mr. E. Brayford, hon. secretary, VICTORIA VAULTS, High Street, Bloxwich; Mr. A. Collins, Mr. A. Harper, Mr. E. Twoe, Mr. E. Pike, Mr. A. Cozens, &c., the latter occupying the chair.

The Hon. Secretary read the subscriptions list over, which was very promising, and suggestions were made, but owing to the non-arrival of several gentlemen nothing definite was done in the shape of arranging the amount of money to be given or the names of the various races.

The Chairman proposed, and it was seconded by Mr. Harper, that the meeting be adjourned until Monday night next, and be held at Mr. E. Brayford's, the VICTORIA VAULTS, which was carried nem con.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/10/1888 - Advert

“VICTORIA BREWERY, Bloxwich.
W. Ingram & Co., Brewers And Wine Merchants, are now prepared to Deliver in Walsall and District their First-Class, Strong, Mild, & Bitter Ales, and Stouts, and also Wines and Spirits of the Best Quality, on the Very Best Terms.
Application for Particulars and Price Lists will be Esteemed.”

1891 Census

120, High Street – VICTORIA STORES

- [1] Edwin Brayford (35), colliery clerk, born Walsall;
- [2] Fanny Brayford (33), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Edwin Brayford (11), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [4] Kate Brayford (9), daughter, scholar, born Harden;
- [5] Hannah Louisa Brayford (6), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Fanny Brayford (4), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Sidney Brayford (2), son, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Constance Rachel Brayford (9 months), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [9] Rachel Croxall (31), sister in law, dressmaker, born Pelsall;
- [10] Ellen Aston (26), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Edwin Brayford, beer retailer, 120, High Street. [1896], [1904]

1901 Census

120, High Street

- [1] Edwin Brayford (45), widower, beer seller and haulier, born Walsall;
- [2] Edwin Brayford (21), son, assistant teacher, born Pelsall;
- [3] Hannah L. Brayford (16), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Fanny Brayford (14), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Sidney Brayford (12), son, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Constance R. Brayford (10), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Ellen Aston (36), housekeeper, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1902

“A large number of brethren and friends of Mr. B. Mellor met at the VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, on Tuesday evening, to do honour to him, in recognition of his election to the Investigation Committee of the Ancient Order of Foresters, and in his long service in the cause of Forestry in Bloxwich and the district. Bro. E. Brayford, the host, had provided a very ample and enjoyable dinner, which was capitally served; and after dinner the time was pleasantly passed with speeches and songs. Bro. P. W. Rowbottom presided.....”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....
Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....
Edwin Brayford, VICTORIA STORES.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....
In the case of the VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, Mr. Jackson proposed to do away with three dummy windows and also put in a new front for the better accommodation of the licensee and his family. He agreed not to increase the value of the place. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....
Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman applied on behalf of Messrs. J. and J. Yardley, Ltd., for sanction to plans for altering the VICTORIA STORES, High Street, Bloxwich. It was not proposed to make any alteration in the licensed area, but to alter the front of the house so far as the windows were concerned, and enlarge the bedroom accommodation. There was a large family, and the tenant Mr. Brayford, had been there for 24 years without a conviction.
The Chief Constable said they practically proposed adding a new storey, and it was a question whether the old building would stand it; they wanted a new house.
The application was adjourned for the committee to inspect.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....
Mr. Loxton intimated that in regard to the adjourned plans for alterations to the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, and the VICTORIA STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, the Bench had decided to refuse both applications.
Mr. Grundy-Newman said he sent in modified plans for the VICTORIA STORES.
Mr. Loxton: The magistrates refused to look at them. They were only sent in yesterday.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1907

“Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman submitted plans for alteration to the VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, for which plans had been submitted.
Mr. Holden said he noticed that the outside walls were only 9 inch walls, and rotten ones too.
The Mayor added that the magistrates who visited the house were unanimously of the opinion that the walls would not be safe with any extra weight on them.
Mr. H. E. Farmer (architect) said the only thing required was to utilise the space under the roof, and there would be no extra weight.
Mr. Holden remarked that a family put under the roof would surely increase the weight.
Mr. Grundy-Newman said the architects were willing to take any responsibility on their shoulders.
Mr. Loxton: Have not objections been taken to this house on the ground that it is structurally bad and not required, and was it not said at the last licensing sessions that it would be put on the list next year?
Mr. Farmer said he did not remember it, and went on to say that the magistrates had even refused the owners permission to paint the house.
Alderman Clare: Who refused you permission to paint? – Mr. Farmer: Well you kept grumbling as the amount of the estimate.
Alderman Clare: Was the whole sum of £440 for painting? – No answer.
The Bench refused the application.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....
Mr. R. C. E. Plumtre (instructed by Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman) applied on behalf of Edwin Brayford of the VICTORIA STORES, High Street, for the transfer of the license of the present premises to new ones proposed to be erected on the present site; and the Court also heard at the same time an objection made on behalf of the justices against the renewal of the license on the ground it was not necessary.
At the outset the question of the objection was taken. Chief Inspector Ballance said that the population between the VICTORIA STORES and the nearest license was 75 persons over 16 and 25 under. There were four other licenses within 220 yards. It was a very old house – the ceilings were low, the doorways low, and the staircase very inconvenient.
Cross-examined by Mr. Plumtre, witness said he had known the house for 20 years, and it had been well conducted – there were no complaints that he was aware of. If the plans before the court were sanctioned and carried out the house would be very much improved.

Mr. Plumptre said the applicant had been 25 years in the house, and there had not been a single complainant against him. The objection to the renewal of the license seemed to him that there were several other houses in the locality. What harm could it do to anybody to rebuild the house? On the other hand it would enable the authorities to carry out a street improvement, by setting back the frontage – an improvement which could not be effected unless these plans were passed. It would also be a great convenience to the tenant, so as to give him much needed extra bedroom accommodation.

Mr. J. Taylor, Borough Surveyor, gave evidence to the proposed street improvements which would be effected if the plans were carried out; Mr. H. E. Farmer (Hickton and Farmer) produced plans and explained them; Mr. Tomlins, surveyor, Wolverhampton, also gave evidence as to the improvement that would be effected, and the applicant also gave evidence supporting counsel's statement.

After the Bench had retired, Mr. Bayliss said the justices expressed no opinion on the requirement of the house – the question of the licenses of the district would be considered at another meeting. The license was therefore renewed, and the plans sanctioned."

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1911

"The annual general licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall was held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Transfer Applications.....

The decision was reserved in the case of the VICTORIA STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, from Edwin Brayford to Martha Wilkes. This was a case in which a woman was the tenant of the house in which the husband also resided and assisted her to carry on the business."

1911 Census

99a, High Street

- [1] Edwin Brayford (55), widower, late beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Kate Brayford (29), daughter, dressmaker, born Harden, Bloxwich;
- [3] Hannah L. Brayford (26), daughter, dressmaker, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Fanny Cooper (24), daughter, married 1 year, milliner, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Sidney Brayford (22), son, furnaceman (spelter), born Bloxwich;
- [6] Arthur Edwin Cooper (1), grandson, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Ellen Aston (46), domestic servant, born Rough Hills, Wolverhampton:
[No longer at the pub, but included because he was there.]

AND

120, High Street

- [1] Thomas Wilkes (53), lockmaker, born Birmingham;
- [2] Martha Wilkes (49), wife, married 27 years, servant, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Fanny Yates (14), servant, born Bloxwich:
[This was the pub!]

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

"The usual Licensing Transfer Sessions were held at the Guildhall on Friday.....

Mr. Jackson appeared for the licensees of the VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, the proposed alteration in which, he said, consisted of the removal of the counter from one room to another, and the removal of the serving hatch from one door to another.

After retiring and examining the plans the Chairman said the Magistrates would grant the application, but it was to be clearly understood that they would hear no application there for further domestic accommodation by reason of the increase in the licensed area."

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

"Walsall Licensing Sessions.....

The following five houses, all of Bloxwich, were referred for compensation:

CARRIERS ARMS, Field Road; STATION HOTEL, Station Street; VICTORIA STORES, High Street; BLUE PIG, Elmore Row; and the VINE INN, The Green."

Compensation of £2,000 was paid in December 1928.

It closed in December 1928.

Check STORES.

VICTORY

Bloxwich Lane, Bentley Common, (Birchhills Old Field), (Reedswood), Old Birchhills, WALSALL

OWNERS

Philip Williams, Bridgnorth
P. Williams Brothers, Wednesbury Oak, Tipton
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired 26th January 1900.)

LICENSEES

John Dulson [1872] – 189_); [1891]
John Maddocks (189_) – []; [1896]
Joseph Harry Taylor [1900] – 1902);
William Deans (1902 – 1905);
Joseph Yates (1905 – 1908);
William Deans (1908 – 1910);
George Stanley (1910 – 1913);
Charles Hall Leadbetter (1913 – 1915);
Edward Thomas Taylor (1915 – 1917);
Ellen Taylor (1917 – 1919);
Issacher Pearsall (1919 – 1951);

NOTES

OLD VICTOR [1891]
OLD VICTORY [1901], [1911], [1914], [1915]
VICTORY CAVE [1911], [1939], [1943], [1944]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

The licensee was fined 20s and costs, on 12th November 1884, for Sunday trading.

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

VICTORY, Reeds Wood.”

1891 Census

Old Birchills – OLD VICTOR

[1] John Dulson (65), beer retailer, born Walsall;

[2] Eleanor Dulson (60), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alfred Dulson (30), son, coal miner, born Walsall;

[4] Benjamin J. W. Dulson (18), son, coal labourer, born Walsall;

[5] Eleanor Webster (15), niece, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] John A. Dulson (4), grandchild, scholar, born Tamworth:

Lichfield Mercury 11/12/1896 - Advert

“Wanted, single man, 25 to 30 years of age; used to cows and farm work.

Apply or address, VICTORY INN, Bentley, Near Walsall.”

Lichfield Mercury 11/3/1898 - Advert

“Wanted, a Youth, aged 17, for public house, used to garden work.

Apply, VICTORY INN, Bentley, near Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 19/5/1900

“Richard Handley, 17, St. Patrick’s Square, and Richard Lloyd, 20, Forge Street, Birchills, were charged with being disorderly in the VICTORY INN, and with refusing to quit when ordered to by the landlord.

Harry Taylor, landlord of the VICTORY INN, said that on April 30th at about 4pm the two men asked permission to play cards.

This was refused, and the defendants became quarrelsome and abusive, and on being told to go they refused. Neither of them was drunk.

The defendants pleaded guilty, and the Magistrates imposed a fine of 5s and costs, or seven days.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1901

“A youth aged 17, named James Lycett, 180, Upper Green Lane, was charged with stealing six packets of tobacco from the VICTORY INN, on Sunday evening, the property of Harry Taylor. From what someone said to the landlord he went into the bar and found prisoner and another young man there. He asked them what they had taken. The other replied ‘nothing,’ and the prisoner said, ‘I don’t know what you mean.’ Complainant’s informant pointed to the prisoner as the man who had been over the counter. Prisoner tried to get away, but the landlord caught him, and he produced six packets of tobacco from his pockets. The other youth got away. The landlord gave him into custody of Police-constable Sandoz.

William Wilkinson, a young miner, of Stine Row, had been in the house and was passing the bar window outside when he saw prisoner laid over the counter reaching for something on the other side. Witness then informed the landlord.

Prisoner, who pleaded guilty, was remanded for a week, in order that he might bring his father and evidence of character.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1901

“James Lycett (17), of 180, Upper Hall Lane, was charged with stealing from the OLD VICTORY, six packets of tobacco, value 9s, belonging to Harry Taylor.

The case was adjourned from last week for the appearance of defendant’s father. It was defendant’s first offence, and his father was bound over in the sum of £5 for his good behaviour.”

1901 Census

Birchills Old Field – VICTORY INN

- [1] Joseph Harry Taylor (35), beerhouse keeper, born Dudley;
- [2] Maria Mary Taylor (34), wife, domestic, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Horace Taylor (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Clara Bayley (62), mother, widow, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [5] Harriett Dutton (48), aunt, born Wyrley, Staffordshire;
- [6] Ruth Norton (28), domestic servant, born Shifnal, Shropshire;
- [7] Frank George Taylor (15), brother, domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1901

“The winners of the six prizes offered by Mr. H. Taylor, of the VICTORY INN, Reeds Wood, in the annual angling contest, at Bentley, on Saturday last were: 1 Edwards, 2 Kingston, 3 Taylor, 4 Edwards, 5 Betteridge, 6 Appleby. A good number of fisherman, attended the contest.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1901

“At a meeting held on Wednesday evening at the OLD VICTORY INN, Reeds Wood, to consider the formation of a new Angling Society, called ‘The VICTORY Social Angling Society,’ a fair number of anglers and friends were present. It was decided to hold a second meeting to-day (Saturday), to which all anglers and friends in the district are cordially invited.”

Joseph Harry Taylor also operated a boatyard, the Victoria Boat Dock, Birchills.

Walsall Advertiser 18/7/1903

“George Teece (21), ironworker, 60, Upper Green Lane; Nathaniel Mincher (19), miner, 11, Alma Street; John Cooksey (22), ironworker, 59, Upper Green Lane; and Frank Dummelow (19), ironworker, Reeds Wood were each charged with committing a criminal assault on Annie Green (16), Tiger yard, Short Acre Street, on July 11th.

Complainant stated that she went to the VICTORY INN, Reeds Wood, on the 12th, and remained there with a friend named Blewitt until about 10.30. When she left she was followed by Mincher, who, with some other young fellows, she had seen inside. He wanted her to accompany him, but as she refused he dragged her away, being followed by the other three defendants. Mincher took her to the park and there threw her to the ground, and after filling her mouth with grass to prevent her shouting they committed the offence complained of.

Elizabeth Blewitt said she saw complainant dragged away by Mincher, and afterwards heard her screams for help, but she was afraid to go to her assistance lest, they treat her the same.

David Walker deposed to hearing screams, and on going in the direction from whence they proceeded, in company with his son, saw the girl Green on the ground with three of the prisoners kneeling round. In the case of Teece he saw the offence committed. He dragged him away, and he with the other defendants moved off, his son assisting the girl to rise, she being in a fainting condition.

James Walker, son of the former witness, gave similar evidence.

D. Scott Wilson said he examined the girl, and found that an assault had been committed.

Prisoners were sent for trial to the next assizes.”

[Mincher was sentenced to five years’ penal servitude. Teece, Cooksey, and Dummelow each to four years’ penal servitude.]

Walsall Advertiser 3/6/1905

“John Wain, 5, Alma Square, Green Lane, was charged with stealing a watch and chain, value £1, the property of Francis Canser, 177, Green Lane. Complainant said that at 12.45 on the 28th ult. he met Wain near a bridge at Reeds Wood, and they went to the VICTORY INN. They came out with some more companions, and some distance from the public-house sat down for a time. He got up to go home, but further up the road he lay down and went to sleep. He was awakened by someone kicking him in the ribs. He next saw prisoner with his watch, and said, 'Jack, you have got my watch?' Prisoner said, 'Yes; I will give it you back.' He had not seen the watch since.

Prisoner said he had lodged with complainant some time, and took his watch for safety; but when he was asked for it back he gave it to him.

Thomas Swindler gave evidence in support of prisoner.

Prisoner was discharged."

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1910

"Burglars have been particularly busy in Walsall during the past week the VICTORY INN, Bentley, has also been entered, the thieves having removed a penny-in-the slot machine."

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1911

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. George Stanley, OLD VICTORY INN, was unanimously elected a member of the society."

1911 Census

Bentley – VICTORY CAVE

[1] George Stanley (39), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;

[2] Kate Stanley (38), wife, married 18 years, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Ethel Stanley (18), daughter, bookkeeper, born Wolverhampton;

[4] George Stanley (15), son, leather satchel maker, born Walsall;

[5] Thomas E. Stanley (13), son, school, born Walsall;

[6] Albert Stanley (10), son, school, born Walsall;

[7] Lucy A. Stanley (8), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Daniel M. Stanley (5), son, born Walsall;

[9] Ronald Stanley (1), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/2/1914

"Thomas Ball, 29, banksman, of Stonehouse Row, Bentley, was charged with stealing a horse and float, a set of harness, rug, and whip, total value £46 3s, the property of Joseph Hancox, haulier, of Keeper's Cottage, Green Lane, on the 12th inst. Mr. F. Cooper defended. The prosecutor deposed to leaving the horse and vehicle outside the OLD VICTORY INN, Bentley. While he was in the house the accused left and the horse and float disappeared. Two hours later he found the man lying in the roadway, and the horse and vehicle were found later, but the rug and lamp were missing and the float itself had been overturned and damaged.

Mr. Cooper said it was apparent that Ball had no intention of stealing the horse and float. He was drinking at the public house for some hours, and foolishly drove off to within a hundred yards of the prosecutor's house. Ball undertook to pay for the rug and the damage to the vehicle, and he was discharged."

Walsall Observer 19/6/1915

"Leonard Carter, Birchills Street, was summoned for stealing two glasses, value 7d, the property of Charles Leadbetter, OLD VICTORY INN, between May 14 and June 4. It was stated that the man was seen to take the glass from outside the public house by the landlord, who followed him, and eventually informed the police. At the defendant's house another glass belonging to prosecutor was found.

The defendant, who said he took the glasses from some waste land, was fined 10s."

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1915

"Mr. H. H. Jackson applied on behalf of Messrs. W. Butler and Co., for the transfer of the license of the VICTORY INN, Reeds Wood, from Charles H. Leadbetter to Edward Thos. Taylor. In reply to the Bench, Leadbetter said he was leaving because he had lost money. He would agree to the application on conditions. He had lost money and was being turned out in the middle of the season; little was done in winter. He had been in the house two years. After further discussion, Leadbetter said he would agree to the application if he were allowed £5. The offer was not accepted, and the magistrates intimated that as the application did not come from the present tenant it could not be granted."

Walsall Observer 25/9/1915

"Applications were made for the transfer of several licenses.....

In the case of the VICTORY INN, Birchills, which was transferred from Charles Hall Leadbetter to Edward Thomas Taylor, the former did not appear, and the ingoing tenant stated that he was in possession, and that no one appeared to know where Leadbetter was.

The Chief Constable said that when this case came before the magistrates previously, the outgoing tenant objected to go out unless he was paid a certain sum of money. The matter was eventually settled, however, and he went out."

Ellen Taylor was fined £10 and costs, on 30th May 1919, for selling beer exceeding the price.

It was structurally damaged by nearby railway sidings.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
VICTORY INN, Reedswood. £0 11s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 12/8/1939 - Marriages

“On Aug. 5, 1939, at St. Andrew’s Church, Birchills, Edwin Baker, of Cecil Street, to Mary Pearsall, of VICTORY CAVE INN, Bentley.”

1939 Register

Bentley – VICTORY INN

[1] Issachar Pearsall, date of birth 13/2/1881, licensee, beerhouse, married;

[2] Annie Pearsall, dob 4/2/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Robert T. Pearsall, dob 7/11/1921, bricklayer, improver, single:

AND

[1] Frank Hill, dob 24/8/1917, journeyman bricklayer, heavy work, single;

[2] Ann Hill, dob 16/7/1873, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Mary (Hill) Sillitoe, dob 31/5/1900, ladies housekeeper, single;

[4] Lucy (Hill) Evans, dob 6/11/1913, shop assistant, single:

AND (2 of 3)

[1] Regonald W. Knowles, dob 5/10/1900, machine tool fitter, heavy work, married, AFS;

[2] Martha (Knowles) Jackson, dob 11/1/1905, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

VICTORY INN, Bentley, £0 12s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 10/7/1943 - Notice

“War Charities Act, 1940.

Notice is Hereby Given that we have applied to the Walsall Town Clerk for Registration under the above Act, of the VICTORY CAVE INN, Bentley, Walsall. The object is to provide gifts in money or kind to old customers serving with H. M. Forces.

Any Objection to be sent to the Town Clerk’s Office within 14 days of this notice.

J. Parkes, Chairman.

H. Glover, Secretary.

July 10th, 1943.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

VICTORY CAVE INN, Bentley. £1 16s 5d.”

Letter from H. Bert Wood to Geoff Taylor March/April 1979

“.....I used to go a few walks through Reedswood Park to the VICTORY pub on Sunday night in the summer. It was an old-fashioned pub set in a nice country atmosphere. There was a very large lawn you could sit on and have a nice quiet drink; there used to be a lot of people go there for their drink. I sometimes went along the old canal.....”

[Bert Wood was 73 when he wrote this letter, responding to an appeal for information.

Geoff Taylor was the grand-son of Joseph Harry Taylor and the son of Joseph Horace Taylor.]

Letter from Mrs. Mary Baker to Geoff Taylor 11/3/1979

“.....My parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pearsall took over in July 1919 from a family named Taylor I lived there until 1939 but the family stayed until it was demolished in 1951. It closed in 1950.....”

[Mary Baker was responding to an appeal for information.

Geoff Taylor was the grand-son of Joseph Harry Taylor and the son of Joseph Horace Taylor.]

It was closed by Order of the Licensing Justices on 9th April 1951.

Demolished

VILLAGE

Tempu, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2013]

[2017]

VILLAGE

11, (12), (11+12), Windmill Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Woodward, Caldmore Cottage, Walsall
William Roper
John Astbury, Windmill, Walsall
John Boyce
Arthur Marshall
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1939)
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Birch [1861] – [1862]
James Roper [1865] – [1873];
Charles Fletcher [];
Thomas Harrison [];
Job Toon [1881] – 1886);
John Boyce (1886 – 1907);
Jennie Boyce (1907 – 1916);
Miss Ethel Marley (1916 – 1921);
Arthur Marshall (1921 – [1934]
George Armishaw Thornton [] – 1939);
William Thomas Walton (1939 – [1942]
Mrs. Annie Walton [1942]
Mrs. E Bracken [1945]

NOTES

11+12, Windmill Street [1871], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1939], [1940]
11, Windmill Street

It was an ante 1869 beerhouse.

1861 Census

Windmill Street

[1] John Birch (44), brass dresser and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Charlotte Birch (43), wife, born Bristol;

[3] Hannah Purnell (14), house servant, born Bristol:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/6/1861

“J. Birch of Walsall will match his black cock pigeon to fly either of the following from Oxford to Walsall, distance from 75 to 80 miles, namely, J. Fleming of Hill Street or T. Broadhurst of Birmingham Street, for £5 or £10 a side, according to their challenge. Should this not suit either, any other fancier can be accommodated in Walsall, the same distance, each to fly their own road. Money ready any time next week at J. Birch's, the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

John Birch, retailer of beer, Windmill Street. [1862]

Walsall Free Press 14/10/1865 - Advert

“Walsall Coach Harness Furniture Protection Society.

The Members of the above Society are requested to attend a General Meeting at the VILLAGE INN (Mr. James Roper's) Windmill Street, on Monday, the 16th inst, at Eight, pm.”

James Roper, beer retailer, Windmill Street. [1868]

Walsall Free Press 7/3/1868 - Notice

“A Newly Enrolled Friendly Benefit Society, held at James Roper's, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, is Open to Receive Members from 18 to 40 years of age.

All information can be obtained from the Landlord.

J. Burton, jun, Esq, Surgeon to the Society.”

James Roper, beer retailer, 12, Windmill Street. [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

11+12, Windmill Street – VILLAGE INN

- [1] James Roper (51), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Roper (34), wife, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [3] Harry Roper (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah A. Roper (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles W. Roper (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Alfred Roper (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Nicholas Roper (3), son, imbecile, born Walsall;
- [8] Amy Roper (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1873

“The committee of the Walsall Cottage Hospital beg to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions that have been received up to yesterday from the Licensed Victuallers and beersellers.....

Mr. James Roper, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, 10s.”

1881 Census

11+12, Windmill Street

- [1] Job Toon (60), publican and hame maker, born Alvechurch;
- [2] Elizabeth Toon (59), wife, born Alvechurch;
- [3] James Toon (30), son, jockey – unemployed, born Walsall;
- [4] Joseph Toon (22), son, bridle cutter – unemployed, born Walsall;
- [5] Ellen Toon (19), daughter, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 31/7/1886 - Advert

“General Servant (good) Wanted, age about 20; one used to public house; must have good character.

Apply, Mrs. Toon, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/10/1886

“Re James Toon, Mount Street, Walsall, horse dealer, and formerly of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall, licensed victualler. This debtor appeared for his public examination at the Walsall bankruptcy Court – before Mr. Registrar Clarke – Mr. T. H. Evans attending on his behalf. The statement showed – liabilities £125 15s 1d; assets, £16 14s 4d; deficiency, £107 0s 9d. The bankrupt formerly a jockey. From October, 1879, to August 1886, he was a licensed victualler at the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall, being also a horsebreaker. Since then he had carried on the business of a horsebreaker only. He had capital of £123 when he began business. He was examined by the Official Receiver as to his estate, and particularly as to the sale of his public-house to one of his creditors, who had been paid £27, being the balance of the valuation after deducting the amount due to the creditor. The debtor admitted that he knew he had been insolvent for over twelve months. The examination was adjourned till Thursday.”

1891 Census

11+12, Windmill Street – VILLAGE INN

- [1] John Boyce (32), house painter, born Bermondsey, London;
- [2] Emma Boyce (34), wife, born Coleshill, Warwickshire;
- [3] Horace Boyce (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriett Stringer (29), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 5/8/1893 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction, by Messrs. Watkins, Powell, at their Property salerooms, 29, Bridge Street, Walsall, on Monday, the 21st of August, at Six o'clock in the evening precisely.....

Lot 3. Four valuable Freehold Dwelling Houses, Nos.11, 12, 13, and 13½, Windmill Street, two of which are occupied by John Boyce as a beer-house, known as the VILLAGE INN, together with the Bowling Alley at the rear, at an annual rent of £24. The other two houses are in the respective occupations of J. Holmes and D. Walker, at a rental producing £25 2s 8d per annum; together with a range of Two-storey Shopping at the rear, and also the large Yard, casting Shops, Stable, Coach-house, Loft and Cartshed, now in the occupation of Mr. Astbury. This lot contains an area of 911 square yards or thereabouts.

The whole of the above properties are substantially built, well-tenanted, and in a populous and thriving neighbourhood.....”

John Boyce, beer retailer, 11-12, Windmill Street. [1896], [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

John Boyce, VILLAGE INN, served 11 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

John Boyce was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Association. [1902]

1901 Census

11+12, Windmill Street – The VILLAGE INN

- [1] John Boyce (41), licensed victualler, born Bermondsey, London;
- [2] Emma Boyce (42), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Horace Boyce (12), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Martha Thurstan (26), general servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 11/10/1902

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of the vice-president, Mr. John Boyce, VILLAGE INN Windmill Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last, at the house of the President, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall, when there were present Mr. John Boyce (president) in the chair.....”

Walsall Advertiser 18/5/1907

“There passed away on Sunday evening, after a brief illness, Mr. John Boyce, landlord of the VILLAGE INN, Caldmore, at the age of 48. Mr. Boyce had been a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society for nearly twenty years, most of which time he had been an active worker on the Executive Committee of the association. He leaves a widow and one son. The funeral took place on Thursday noon at the Old Cemetery, and was well attended.....”

Walsall Advertiser 5/3/1910

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.

John Osbourne (24), a polisher, and George Meeson (19), labourer, both of no fixed abode, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, between the 16th and 17th December, 1909, and stealing £3 belonging to Jennie Boyce. Osbourne said he simply went to sleep in an outhouse not knowing that a robbery was going to be committed, and it was Meeson who put him up to it.

The Recorder pointed out to Osbourne that he had been living a criminal life since 1902, and Osbourne said that had been on account of them starving at home. His brother, however, denied this and said it was prisoner's fault they had got into trouble on several occasions.

Prisoner: He's telling lies – his mother has put him up to it.

The Recorder: Every time you open your mouth you are getting at least another month.

Evidence was given by the police showing both men were idlers, and when they were taken in hand by the Police Court Missionary they rewarded him by robbing the mission.

The Recorder said that he had been hesitating whether to send both prisoners into penal servitude, but he would give them another chance.

At this juncture Osbourne asked to be sent to penal servitude; it would be the making of him, he said. Osbourne was then sentenced to three years' penal servitude and Meeson to 10 months' hard labour."

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910 - In Memoriam

"In loving memory of John Boyce, of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, who died May 12th, 1907.
Thy will be done."

1911 Census

11+12, Windmill Street

- [1] Jennie Boyce (45), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Horace Boyce (22), stepson, pianist at picture palace, born Walsall;
- [3] William Morris (19), son, brewer at home, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Morris (15), son, tool maker in buckle works, born Walsall;
- [5] Ethel Marley (22), niece, general help at home, born Cirencester:

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

"The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall, 8s 2d."

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916 - Deaths

"In loving memory of our dear mother, Jennie Boyce, who passed away on February 18th, at VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street. Interred at Willenhall Cemetery, February 23rd.

From her ever-loving sons, Will and Arthur.

Mr. Will Morris and Mr. Arthur Morris wish to thank neighbours and all kind friends for sympathy and floral tributes in their sad bereavement. No cards."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street. £1 6s 5d."

Walsall Observer 1/6/1918 - In Memoriam

"Boyce. In loving memory of my dear cousin, Horace, late of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, who was killed in action on May 2, 1918.

I pictured you safely returning,

And longed to clasp your hand;

But god has postponed the meeting.

Twill be in a better land.

Always remembered by his loving cousin, Ethel.

Miss R. Marley, of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, wishes to thank all friends for kindness and sympathy shown to her in her bereavement."

Walsall Observer 8/6/1918- Roll of Honour - Killed in Action

"Private Horace Boyce, whose home was at the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, is officially reported to have been killed in action while serving with the South Staffords on May 2. He enlisted in November, 1915, and went out to France on February 11, 1916. He was very well-known in Walsall and district musical circles, and was 29 years of age and single. As a boy he attended the Bridge and Technical Schools."

Walsall Observer 3/8/1918 - Advert

"Home For Soldiers' Children, 32, Birmingham Road, Walsall.

Registered under the War Charities Act, 1916.

The Hon Secretary most gratefully acknowledges the following:

Miss Marley, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, £2 4s 3d; Recruiting Office Fund, £10. Mrs. Cotterell, flowers; Mrs. Porter, lettuce and radishes; Mrs. Cotterell, cucumber; A Friend, broad beans; Miss Sharp (Q.M.S.), a doll; Mrs. H. H. Hawkins, vegetables, rice and treacle."

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

"Asking for the renewal of the licenses of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street; and the WHITE LION, Portland Street, Mr. Frank Cooper stated that both houses were owned by Ansell's or one of their subsidiary companies and if the licenses were renewed he would give an undertaking that within the current licensing year a scheme would be submitted for dealing with the licenses by way of removal of one and the surrender of the other. If that undertaking were fulfilled, the justices would be able to merge two licenses into one, but if the undertaking were not carried out, no opposition would be raised to both licenses being on the 'object-ed' list next year.

The two licenses were renewed on this undertaking, as were the licenses of the PHEASANT, Windmill Street; and the FOUNTAIN, Bott Lane; subject to somewhat similar undertakings.

Mr. Cooper, for the owners attached considerable importance to the PHEASANT and if the VILLAGE went there could be no question about the PHEASANT being necessary. If the justices preferred it, however, the brewery company would deal with the PHEASANT and the FOUNTAIN in the same way as the VILLAGE and the WHITE LION, all being in the same ownership."

Evening Despatch 4/5/1939

"Granting an application for discharge from bankruptcy by Arthur Marshall, formerly carrying on business at the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall, subject to suspension for two months, the Judge at Walsall County Court today said he did not regard it as a bad case, but rather as one of hardship.

It was stated that Marshall, who was 66, was adjudicated bankrupt in 1934, and a first and final dividend of 6s 3d in the £ had been paid on proofs for £130.

From 1905 until 1918, when he was called up for the Army, debtor held the license of the Swan Hotel, Brewood. When he was called up he sold the house at a loss of £500, but owing to the Armistice being signed he never served in the Army and was unemployed for some time.

In 1921 he purchased the VILLAGE INN for £3,350, but trade eventually declined owing to the closing of several factories."

Birmingham Daily Post 3/6/1939

"Arthur Marshall, residing and carrying on business at the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, Walsall; beerhouse keeper. Bankrupt's discharge suspended for two months. Discharged as from July 4."

George Armishaw Thornton – see also ROYAL OAK.

1939 Register

11+12, Windmill Street (2 of 3)

[1] William T. Walton, date of birth 3/6/1906, publican, manager, married;

[2] Annie Walton, dob 25/11/1907, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, £1 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mrs. Walton, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street. £0 12s 2d."

Walsall Observer 19/9/1942

"A lively scuffle in a public-house was described in a case at Walsall Police Court on Wednesday, in which Frank Norton (37), moulder, 7, Newhall Street, was summoned for maliciously wounding Edwin Rogers, 73, Caldmore Road, and Austin Coleman, 16, Bagnall Street. Mr. V. L. Hodgkinson defended.

Superintendent Raybould said evidence would be called to show that a knife was used in the assault, and although it was not suggested that the injuries inflicted were very serious, the police felt that in all such cases the facts should be placed before the magistrates.

Rogers gave evidence that on Sunday, August 16, he went to the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, about 9.15pm in company with Coleman. There were other people in the smokeroom, but he had no conversation with any of them. When they were leaving the house about 10.15pm, there was a scramble in a passage during which he was stabbed in the hand and wrist, and also received some 'terrible clouts' about the face, but from whom he could not say. He received his injuries when he put his hand up to protect himself against a 'shining piece of steel' which a man had in his hand. He afterwards had his injuries dressed at the hospital. Cross-examined, Rogers said he did not know Norton and had never seen him before. He had three or four half-pints in the public-house and he was not the worse for drink.

Coleman's story was that he recognized Norton as amongst the company in the public-house. There was no incident until they were about to leave, when Norton said to Rogers: 'Come on Ted; I want you.' When they were in the passage he saw that Norton had a table knife in his hand. Witness went to ward off the blow but Rogers was struck on the right hand. Witness also had to receive hospital treatment for a cut on his right hand, but it was not a very severe wound. There were other men who took part in the bother and one of them kicked him (Coleman) so severely that he had to have hospital treatment also for the bruising which was caused.

Cross-examined, Coleman admitted that they had been in another public-house before they went to the VILLAGE INN. He agreed there was a general scrimmage in the passage and that some of the people were trying to part Norton and Rogers.

George Edward Ayres, 3, Sandwell Street, a part-time waiter at the VILLAGE INN, said he was in the bar cleaning up when he heard a commotion in the passage and saw four men engaged in a general melee and exchanging blows. Whilst he was trying to restore order he heard someone exclaim: 'He's got a knife,' and saw Norton, who was one of the four men, had a knife in his hand which he was holding about waist high. Witness made a grab for the knife and managed to take it off him.

Cross-examined, Ayres said all the four men were bleeding from what appeared to be scratches and bruises.

William Thomas Walton, the licensee, who went to the assistance of Ayres, said he saw Norton strike Rogers about the face.

Detective-constable Badcock said he received the table knife (produced) from Walton. When he visited the home of Norton, defendant told him 'I admit being in the disturbance but I know nothing at all about the knife.'

Norton's story was that when he was leaving the public-house he asked Rogers to 'leave him alone,' as he alleged Rogers had assaulted him on a previous occasion. Immediately on this there was a general scramble and he heard someone exclaim, 'He's got a knife.' He immediately closed with Rogers and then saw the knife on the floor and 'grabbed' it for his own safety. He had not had it in his hand many seconds when someone snatched it off him. He denied the knife was his property, and said he had never seen it before.

Fred. Henry Manlove, 108, Walker Road, who was in Norton's company declared that although there was a good deal of 'pushing' going on, no blow was struck at all.

When the magistrates (Mrs. Hutchins, Mr. Fred Evans and Mrs. Brockhurst) decided to convict, Superintendent Raybould stated that only last year Norton was fined for being drunk on licensed premises and for assaulting the police.

Mr. Hodgkinson mentioned that Norton had been in the Army for twelve months but had to withdraw to do work of national importance.

Mrs. Hutchins said the Bench regarded it as a very serious case, particularly as a knife was used, and defendant would have to pay a fine of £5 with £2 13s 6d costs."

Walsall Observer 26/9/1942

"We are informed that the address of a witness in a case arising out of a scene at the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street, heard at the Walsall Police Court last week was incorrectly given as 3, Sandwell Street."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street. £3 7s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street. £0 0s 9d."

Walsall Observer 17/2/1945

"At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.....

The following were elected members of the society..... Mrs. E. Bracken, VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1946

"When the 'phone rang at No.12 Hope Street, Walsall, a little after 6pm on Saturday, it was no ordinary call for 18-years-old Sheila Bracken, of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street – it was the signal from the commencement of the marriage service which would unite her with 24-years-old ex-soldier fiancé, Lloyd Condra, at his home Fort Worth, Texas. In the house in Hope Street with Sheila, were her mother and relatives, and as the service proceeded her uncle Mr. William Bracken, placed the wedding ring on her finger for the absent bridegroom. Thus Miss Bracken, now Mrs. Condra became Walsall's first cross-atlantic telephone bride. Miss Bracken first met her fiancé whilst a guest at the Walsall Y.M.C.A. in 1944. He was repatriated to the United States about 18 months ago, and since demobilisation has been engaged with a firm of paper manufacturers. Following the telephone ceremony Mrs. Condra with her friends returned to the VILLAGE INN, where a three-tier wedding cake was cut and some 50 relatives and friends celebrated the occasion."

Compensation of £3,500 was paid in December 1961.

It closed in December 1961.

VINE

6, The Park, (6+7, (72), The Green), Sandbank, Short Heath, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Enoch Wootton, awl blade maker, Bloxwich
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Devonport [1854]
James Chidlow [1857] – [1872]
Thomas Chidlow [1872] – [1876];
Enoch Wootton [1877] – 1891);
William Daniel (1891 – 1894);
William Fereday (1894 – 1895);
William Hully (1895 – 1896);
Robert Marston (1896);
Henry Croxall (1896 – 1898);
Enoch Wootton (1898 – 1904);
William Charles Athersmith (1904 – 1907);
Charles Ernest Perry (1907 – 1912);
Ernest Banks (1912 – 1925);
Agnes Banks (1925 – 1928):

NOTES

72, The Green [1871]
6, The Park [1901]
6+7, The Green [1891], [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/1/1854

“James Hadley (The Staffordshire Antelope) wishes again to have a spin, and will run John Rhodes of Wolverhampton, or J. Winn or Leach of the same place, or Edward Thomas or Samuel Peaton of Shrewsbury, or John Atkins of Birmingham one mile; or will take ten yards start in the like distance of William Jones of the Lye Waste; or will run Joseph White one mile level, or Thomas Perry can be accommodated from one to five miles, on a turnpike road. Either match for £5 or £10 a side. The money ready at Mr. Devonport's, the VINE INN, Bloxwich.”

James Chidlow = James Chislow

Walsall Free Press 23/5/1857

“Guildhall Police Court Sergeant Simpson preferred complaints against the following publicans residing at Bloxwich James Chidlow, beerhouse, fined one shilling and costs all for keeping their houses open during prohibited hours on Sunday last.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/2/1859

“Edward Lees of Bloxwich will run Henry James 120 yards, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready any night next week at Mr. Chidlow's, VINE INN, Bloxwich.”

1861 Census

Short Heath

- [1] James Chidlow (71), publican, born Portobello;
- [2] Isabella Chidlow (70), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] James Chidlow (22), grandson, stirrup maker, born Bloxwich:

James Chidlow, retailer of beer, Bloxwich. [1862]

Walsall Free Press 17/10/1863

“James Chidlow was charged with having assaulted Eli Sommerfield. It appeared the complainant, defendant, and four others were playing at cards in defendant’s grandfather’s beerhouse – the VINE – for a penny each, when they quarrelled, and defendant struck complainant. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced defendant to pay 1s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for seven days.”

James Chidlow, beer retailer, The Green. [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

72, The Green – VINE INN

- [1] James Chidlow (80), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;

[2] Isabella Chidlow (77), wife, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 19/7/1873

“Thomas Chidlow, landlord of the VINE beerhouse, Bloxwich, was charged with keeping open during prohibited hours on Saturday night. Police-sergeant Martin proved the charge, but owing to the defendant’s previous good character, he was dismissed on paying costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session. The licenses of the undermentioned were renewed with cautions, viz:

Thomas Chidlow, beerhouse keeper, the Green, Bloxwich. In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/11/1877

“Enoch Wootton, landlord of the VINE beerhouse, Bloxwich, was summoned for permitting gambling in his house on the 8th inst. Mr. Chidley (from Messrs. Duignan and Co) appeared for the defence.

Police-sergeant Martin deposed that he looked through the window of defendant’s kitchen, and saw men playing at cards. He heard them say at the conclusion of one game, ‘That is a quart apiece.’

This evidence was corroborated by Police-constable Newbould, and after an able defence by Mr. Chidley, who was spoken of in very complimentary terms by the Bench in regard of it, the defendant was fined 20s and costs. His license was not endorsed.”

William Daniel = William Daniels

1891 Census

6+7 The Green – VINE Public House

[1] William Daniel (29), publican, born Bloxwich;

[2] Martha Daniel (28), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] William F. Daniel (5), son, born Bloxwich;

[4] Elizabeth Buckley (13), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Sporting Life 23/7/1892

“The proposed match between Charles Athersmith, of Bloxwich, the well-known right wing of the Aston Villa Football Club, and Harry Smith, of Willenhall, who were to have run 120 yards, Athersmith with one yard and a half start, for £50 a-side, open for £100 a-side is off. The backers of the men met at Mr. W. Daniels, the VINE INN, Bloxwich, on Tuesday night last, but the backers of Athersmith failed to go with the match, which, after so much bombast on the part of the latter, caused no little surprise amongst the many who attended. However, Smith is still open to run Athersmith from 120 yards to 200 yards for £50, £100, or £500 a-side. A deposit to the Sporting Life, and articles to Mr. T. Robinson, PLOUGH INN, Bilston, will receive attention. Sporting Life to be stakeholder and appoint officials.”

William Daniel – see also NAGS HEAD (BEACON WAY), Bloxwich, and BLUE PIG, Bloxwich.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/7/1891

“Stafford Summer Assizes. Yardley v. Wootton

In this action the plaintiff was Job Yardley, Autherley, near Wolverhampton, brewer, and the defendant was the owner of the VINE INN, Bloxwich. The plaintiff claimed £500 damages for breach of agreement. Mr. Jelf and Mr. Plumtre were for the plaintiff, and Mr. Alfred Young, and Mr. Disturnal for the defendant.

The plaintiff stated that he agreed to take defendant’s house upon a lease for ten years at a rent of £20 per annum. An agreement was drawn up and signed, but when defendant came to complete his purchase the plaintiff had let the house to someone else for more money.

The defendant was under cross-examination when the Court adjourned until this morning at 10.30.”

[Verdict for the plaintiff for £75 and costs.]

Enoch Wootton was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

6, The Park (late Green)

[1] Enoch Wootton (71), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;

[2] Elizabeth Wootton (65), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Laura Wright (9), granddaughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Mary Faulkner (86), mother in law, widow, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1904

“An application was made to the Walsall magistrates yesterday, by Mr. Enoch Evans, for a temporary transfer of authority with respect to the VINE INN, Bloxwich, from the late Mr. Enoch Wootton to his executors, William Charles Arrowsmith and William Beard. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1904

“Tuesday. The magistrates granted the following applications for transfers of licences.....

VINE, Bloxwich, William Charles Athersmith (executor of Enoch Wootton) to William Charles Athersmith.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“On Tuesday evening at his Property Mart, The Bridge, Walsall, Mr. Walter Hughes held a successful sale of several properties belonging to the estate of the late Enoch Wootton, of Bloxwich. Lot 1, the VINE INN, Bloxwich, had been sold privately before the auction.....

making a total of sales by Mr Hughes of over £4,500.”

William Charles Athersmith was fined 10s and costs, on 8th May 1905, for selling liquor to a child in an uncorked vessel.

Walsall Advertiser 30/9/1905

“Edward Roberts, 117, Miner Street, yeast traveller, was fined 5s and costs for leaving his horse and trap unattended opposite the VINE INN, Bloxwich Green for 55 minutes on September 18th.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) said the defendant was watched on account of a communication from his employer.

Defendant said he had held his situation 16 years, and he usually had his dinner at the VINE.

Police-constable Collins admitted that the horse was feeding at the time.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

“There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

The Black List From Bloxwich. The Chief Constable reported that three license holders had been fined, viz, W. C. Athersmith, VINE INN, Bloxwich, under the Child Messenger Act, and Sarah Waterfield, VICTORIA STORES, Bloxwich, and David Lawrence, NELSON INN, Bloxwich, for permitting drunkenness.

These licenses were renewed, with a caution.”

1911 Census

6+7, The Green – VINE INN

[1] Charles Ernest Perry (33), beer retailer, born Bloxwich;

[2] Mary Perry (39), wife, married 4 years, born Hednesford;

[3] Mabel Louise Perry (4), daughter, born Bloxwich;

[4] Charles Ernest Perry (9 months), son, born Bloxwich;

[5] Elsie Maude Booker (12), niece, born Wimblebury, Staffordshire:

Charles E. Perry, beer retailer, The Green. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 23/3/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Members..... Ernest Banks, VINE INN, The Green, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VINE INN, Bloxwich. £0 17s 9d.”

Lichfield Mercury 9/3/1928

“Walsall Licensing Sessions.....

The following five houses, all of Bloxwich, were referred for compensation:

CARRIERS ARMS, Field Road; STATION HOTEL, Station Street; VICTORIA STORES, High Street; BLUE PIG, Elmore Row; and the VINE INN, The Green.”

Compensation of £2,550 was paid in 1928.

It closed on 27th September 1928.

It became a private dwelling.

Demolished.

VINE

98, Blue Lane West, (98, Blue Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Ann Beddows, widow, Birchills, Walsall
John Heath, builder, Ablewell Street, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

W Randle [1858]
John Matthews [1861] – [1862]
J Pacey [1862]
Richmond James [1864] – [1865]
Hyla Holden [1866]
William Jennings [1868] – [1872];
John Bradbury Dexter [];
Mrs. Fanny Dexter [1881]
H Smallwood [1883]
Gregory Harrison [1883] – 1887);
Job Sutton (1887 – 1891);
Harry Smallwood (1891 – 1893);
Charles Rathbone (1893 – 1898);
Harry Smallwood (1898 – 1899);
Martin Sweeney (1899 – 1916);
Catherine Sweeney (1916 – 1924);
Bernard Joseph Hardron (1924 – [])
Edward Egan [] – 1934): manager

NOTES

98, Blue Lane [1858], [1861], [1871]
Blue Lane West [1861], [1911]
98, Blue Lane West [1862], [1864], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1896], [1912]

VINE HOTEL [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

W. Randle, beerhouse, 98, Blue Lane. [1858]

John Matthews, beer retailer, Blue Lane West. [1861]

1861 Census

98, Blue Lane

- [1] John Matthews (61), publican, born Princes End;
- [2] Sarah Matthews (57), wife, born Princes End;
- [3] Harriett Matthews (18), daughter, born Brockmore [Brockmoor]:

Walsall Free Press 6/7/1861

“Anne Tilson v. William Cooper and Hugh Bissell (or Brummell). Mr. Mathews for the defence wished all the witnesses out of court. Complainant stated that late on Saturday night she was returning from the market and went into the VINE, in Blue Lane, to see her husband. While waiting there a quarrel commenced, in which her husband became involved. She interfered and was attacked by some of the persons present, among whom were the defendants. They beat her severely and gave her the black eyes she exhibited. Cross-examined by Mathews – did not attack Brummell at first; did not roll up her sleeves and challenge any man to fight her; did not taunt Brummell with his wife being unfaithful to him; did not take hold of Cooper in a manner to inflict great injuries upon him. Sarah Plant was called. On the occasion in question Brummell’s wife attacked witness. This was the beginning of the row, after which it became general, and assumed the characteristics, or, as witness described it, ‘it was an Irish row.' Complainant's husband was down on the floor, and the two defendants on top of him. Complainant went to pick up her husband, and was struck by the defendant. Cross-examined – saw no attack made by the complainant. Mr. Mathews made an able speech for the defence, in the course of which he held up for execration the provoking and outrageous charges and language made use of by complainant, for the purpose of provoking the assault. He called Thomas Storer, who was sworn. He said, 'the men were drunk, and the women were drunker,' and deposed that the row was general, although complainant and her husband were the principal originators of it. Mr. Brummell gave evidence as to the violent and abusive conduct of the complainant. Her (complainant's) husband had struck her (complainant) several times. Mrs. Brummell gave further evidence as to the language and actions of the complainant during the row, but her depositions are quite unfit for publication. The Bench fined each defendant 1s, complainant to pay her own costs."

John Matthews, retailer of beer, 98, Blue Lane West. [1862]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/7/1862

"W. Springthorpe of Wall will run any of the following men: C. Richards (alias Polay) 120 yards level, or take one yard in the like distance of C. Fowler; or two yards in 120 of Tottey, either match £10 a side. Money ready any night next week at J. Pacey's, VINE INN, Blue Lane, Walsall."

Richmond James, beer retailer, 98, Blue Lane West. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864

"The Forthcoming Borough Licensing Day. The following is a list of persons who intend to apply for spirit licenses at the Special Sessions for that purpose, to be held on the 28th inst.....

Richmond James, VINE INN, Blue Lane." [Refused]

London Gazette 31/10/1865

"Richmond James, of No.98, Blue-lane West, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper, Licensed to sell Tobacco, and Axle Pulley Manufacturer, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 24th day of October, 1865, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 18th day of November next, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Courthouse, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy."

Walsall Free Press 30/6/1866

"Hyla Holden, landlord of the VINE beer-house, Blue Lane, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours, on Sunday, the 24th inst.

Police-constable Smallman, who had visited the house and found six men with two jugs of porter proved the charge."

William Jennings, beer retailer, 98, Blue Lane West. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1868

"William Jennings, beerhouse keeper, Blue Lane, was (this being his second offence) fined 10s and costs for keeping his house open during prohibited hours."

1871 Census

98, Blue Lane

- [1] William Jennings (43), blacksmith, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Jennings (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Elizabeth Jennings (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] William Jennings (17), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Jennings (15), son, collar maker, born Walsall;
- [6] Charles Jennings (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Sarah Ann Jennings (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] David Jennings (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Matilda Jennings (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [10] Charlotte Jennings (4), daughter, born Walsall;

Walsall Free Press 10/6/1871

"Retail Brewers' and Wine Trade Association. On Wednesday evening a meeting of the above association was held at the VINE INN, Blue Lane. Mr. Charles Humphries presided. Mr. Nevill, secretary pro tem, intimated that the society, although it had only been in existence a few weeks, numbered 30 ordinary members. After some conversation, the chairman intimated that the first business was to elect officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Charles Humphries was elected chairman, Mr. James Gnosall vice-chairman, Mr. James Cleobury treasurer, and Mr. Nevill secretary. A committee of seven in addition to the office-bearers was chosen. The committee was instructed to prepare a set of rules for approval at the next meeting."

1881 Census

98, Blue Lane West – VINE INN

- [1] Edgar Dexter (22), publican and ironmonger's clerk, born Princes End;
- [2] Fanny Dexter (28), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Ada Dexter (4), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Agnes M. Dexter (1 month), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Lizzie Dexter (20), sister, barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1883

“Walsall Licensed Victualler Association.....

It was unanimously decided that the Society should be represented at the Demonstration, to be held on Tuesday next, 14th instant, at 2.30pm, at St. James's Hall, Piccadilly, to protest against the Liquor Traffic (Local Control) Bill, and Mr. E. Smith (BELL AND CUCKOO INN, Stafford Street), Mr. W. O. Letts (BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street), and Mr. H. Smallwood (VINE INN, Blue Lane) each of whom promised to oppose the measure, were chosen as the delegates.”

Gregory Harrison was fined 40s and costs, on 13th July 1883, for Sunday trading.

1891 Census

Blue Lane West – VINE

- [1] Job Sutton (50), coal merchant and publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Sutton (49), wife, born Lane Head;
- [3] Job Sutton (13), son, coal merchant's assistant, born Walsall;
- [4] Hannah Edgar (16), general servant, born Chester:

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1893

“Walsall Junior Football League.

The annual dinner and business meeting in connection with the league took place on Tuesday night at the VINE INN, Blue Lane; Mr. H. Smallwood presiding over a full attendance of clubs' representatives and others. After an excellent repast had been partaken of, the annual report and financial statement were presented, the former congratulating the members in the great success of the first season of the League, the whole of the affiliated clubs having benefitted materially through the increased gates. There was a balance in hand, after meeting all expenditure of 6s 2d. Ten applications were received for membership of the League.....”

Walsall Advertiser 24/6/1893 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale Of Capital Household Furniture And Effects.

The VINE INN, Blue Lane West (Corner of Wolverhampton Street), Walsall.

Messrs Fox and Harrison are instructed by Mr. H. Smallwood (who is leaving Walsall), to Sell by Auction, without reserve, at the above address (by permission of Mr. Charles Rathbone), on Tuesday, June 27th, his surplus Superior Household Furniture, and Effects; comprising Sets French Brass-rail and Half-tester Bedsteads, with Furniture; Paillasses, Mahogany Loo Table, on Pedestal; Treadle Sewing Machine, by Singer; Mahogany Chests of Drawers, Walnut Work Table, Gipsy Table, Cane-seated, Windsor, and Folding Chairs, Massive Brass-rail Fender, and Sets of Fire Brasses, Iron Fenders, Vienna Regulator Clock, Gilt and Walnut Framed Chimney Glasses, Gilt Framed Oil Paintings, Walnut What-not, large mahogany Oval Swing Toilet Tables, Towel Rails, Linoleum, enamelled Coal Vase and Scoop, sets of Steps, Foot Bath, Copper and Iron Kettles, Buckets, Clothes-horse, and numerous other effects.

On view morning of the Sale.

Sale to commence punctually at 2.15pm.

Auctioneer's Offices, 73, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/8/1893

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Thomas Rathbone, Charles Rathbone, and Harry Chambers were summoned, the first-named for selling liquors without a license, and the other two for aiding and abetting on the commission of the offence.

The Chief Constable said that on the 16th June, Charles Rathbone was the holder of a license for a public-house [out-door] in Regent Street, the Pleck, and at the same time he obtained a temporary authority to sell at the VINE INN, Blue Lane, the authority being granted on the supposition that he was resident owner and occupier. Having obtained the license, he did not remove his goods to the VINE, but remained in possession of the house at the Pleck, sending Thomas Rathbone and Chambers to the VINE, where they sold.

Witnesses having been called, Mr. H. H. Jackson for the defence, admitted that a technical offence had been committed, but not wilfully. The defendant had erred in ignorance of the law, and he had done his best to make amends. Really there had been a hitch in the transfer of the house at the Pleck, the owner having been away.

The defendant Charles Rathbone was fined 40s and costs, the others 10s and costs.”

Charles Rathbone, beer retailer, 98, Blue Lane West. [1896]

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1896

“Charles Rathbone, the VINE INN, Blue Lane, was charged with keeping a bagatelle-table without a license. Detective Harper deposed to finding several men playing at the table. The defendant pleaded that he did not know a license was required, and added that the table had been in the house 24 years without anyone having told him that he was liable to a penalty for not having a license. The magistrates gave weight to the plea of ignorance and imposed a fine of 10s and costs, without endorsement of license.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/11/1897

“The statement of affairs in the matter of the failure of Mr. Charles Rathbone, of the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, Walsall, beer-house keeper, had been issued.

The deficiency is put down at £76 7s 5d. According to the Official Receiver’s observations, the bankrupt commenced business in March, 1892, as a grocer and beerseller. He took a small grocer’s shop with a beer license attached, in Chapel Street, Walsall. Prior to that date he had worked as a shingler and had saved £240. He continued holding his situation. He paid £17 10s for fixtures, and license £20. He then took to the VINE INN, which is a home-brewing house with a beer license. This house he took for the unexpired term of a seven years’ lease, terminating in September last year, paying £250 to the lessor to take possession, for the stock, fixtures, license, and goodwill. In October, 1893, he gave up his situation as a shingler, and since then he carried on business at the VINE INN. The bankrupt states he has been behind in his payments for two years, and in June last had a writ served upon him for £29. Judgement was obtained, and an execution was levied, but withdrawn. In October he was again sued for £81 15, and judgement was obtained, and a second execution levied. He consulted his solicitors, upon whose advice he filed his petition, and the execution was withdrawn upon the receiving order being made. The bankrupt states the causes of his insolvency to be ‘bad trade, bad debts, and illness’.”

AND

Register of Sales

“Wednesday, Nov. 10. By Messrs. Watkins, Powell, and Wood; Household Furniture, at the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, at 11.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/7/1898 - Advert

“Tuesday, 19th July, 1898, at 12 o’clock.

Absolutely Unreserved Sale By Auction Of the Whole Of the Brewing Plant & Utensils, consisting of 120 gallon Iron Boiler, 60 gallon Iron Boiler, 2 Fermenting Vats, 5ft 5in by 3ft 2in; large Wood Vat, smaller Vat, Mash Tub, Betwell, Refrigerator, Mash Rule, circular copper bottom Sieve, four 56 gallon casks, two 36 gallon casks, 30 gallon Brandy cask, six Working casks, three Tubs, and Miscellaneous Effects.

Walter Hughes is instructed by Messrs. Butler and Co. Limited, of Wolverhampton, to Sell by Auction upon the premises as above.

On View prior to sale.

Further particulars may be had from the place of Sale or from the Auction Offices, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1898

“Michael (otherwise Patrick) McCue (32), puddler, of 2-court, Blue Lane, was charged with stealing 9s 6d from the till at the VINE INN, Blue Lane.

Ada Smallwood, daughter of the landlord, deposed that the man was an occasional customer at the house. On Monday she was in charge, and on looking through the outdoor window, saw that the prisoner had gone over to the counter and was at the till. She ran and caught the prisoner, who gave up 2s 6d. She said she must have more than that, and he gave her another 2s 6d. She again told him she must have more, and then he gave her the other half-crown and a florin.

Police-constable Fearn, who received the man into custody, said the prisoner said, ‘I did take it, but what’s that to you?’

Prisoner here said he had had a drink or he should not have done what he had. He gave the money up again.

It was stated that the prisoner had been previously convicted of attempting to steal money from the Salvation Army.

The Bench sentenced prisoner to 21 days’ hard labour.”

Walsall Observer 12/5/1900

“Bridget Durkin, of Hollyhedge Lane, and Mary Gough, of Green Lane, were charged with being disorderly and refusing to quit (1) the HORSE AND JOCKEY, kept by William Gough, and (2) the VINE INN, kept by Martin Sweeney.

Mr. Wright (Messrs. Fowler, Langley, and Wright, Wolverhampton) appeared to prosecute, and the facts of the case were that on May 5th the women went into the VINE INN, Blue Lane, where they had 3 half pints of ale and 3 bottles of ginger beer. They were in for some time, and began to quarrel with another woman, and commenced setting about her. When the landlord interfered they refused to leave, and Durkin was scooping jugs and glasses off the tables and throwing them into the fireplace. Eventually they were ejected by Police-constable Reddick (45) [His station number?], who agreed that the women were not drunk.

The women then went to the HORSE AND JOCKEY, where they again made a disturbance.

Evidence having been given, they were each fined 5s and costs, or 10 days.”

1901 Census

98, Blue Lane West

[1] Martin Sweeney (46), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Catherine Sweeney (41), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Richard Sweeney (20), son, brass dresser, born Walsall;

[4] Nellie Sweeney (17), daughter, harness stitcher, born Walsall;

[5] Kate Sweeney (15), daughter, harness stitcher, born Walsall;

[6] Martin Sweeney (10), son, born Walsall;

[7] James Sweeney (8), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 1/3/1902

“Martin Sweeney, the landlord of the VINE, Blue Lane, was summoned for assaulting a woman named Sarah Ann Morris, back of 50, Adams Street, on February 24th.
Mr. H. H. Jackson defended. Case dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/7/1903

“Two brothers, named James Gavin, Adams Street, and Michael Gavin, 15, Algernon Street, were summoned by Martin Sweeney, of the VINE INN, Blue Lane, for assault, on the 4th of July. There was also a charge brought by the same complainant, against Michael Naven, 103, Blue Lane, of being quarrelsome and disorderly on his licensed premises, the VINE INN, and refusing to quit when requested to do so, on July 4th. Michael and James Gavin pleaded not guilty, but Michael Naven pleaded guilty. Complainant said that about 6.30 on Saturday evening the Gavins came into his house. They were drunk, and one of them put some money on the counter and asked for drink. He refused to serve him, and he said he had had enough. They then became very violent, and one of them said they had not come for drink but ‘for his body.’ James Gavin struck him on the eye, whilst Michael and Naven barred the doorway to prevent anyone coming in or going out of the house. Complainant’s son afterwards got them out of the house, and he sent for the police.

Edward Pugh said he was in the house when defendants came in, and he saw the disturbance. Mr. Sweeney’s face was bleeding from a blow struck by James Gavin.

John Sweeney, son of the complainant, corroborated his father’s evidence.

Called on behalf of James Gavin, Naven stated the former never struck the complainant.

Michael Gavin said that when he went into the house he called for a drink, and complainant shook his head, but said nothing.

Police-constable Vaughan said that when he got to the VINE INN he saw a large crowd, and the landlord, whose face was covered in blood, complained that he had been struck all over his body. When asked the Gavins for their names they refused to give them, and were very insolent.

Naven was fined 10s and costs, or 14 days, and the Gavins were ordered to pay 20s and costs, or go to prison for one month.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/8/1903

“William Smith (24), labourer, of no fixed abode, was brought up on a charge of stealing 42 cigars, the property of Elizabeth Lets, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on August 11th.

Complainant identified the cigars produced as her property and said that she last saw them behind the bar of her house on the previous day, but she did not miss them until Police-sergeant Shipley brought them to her. Prisoner had previously been in her house drinking.

Martin Sweeney, landlord of the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, said that yesterday afternoon defendant brought a box of cigars and offered to sell them to him for a penny each, but he refused to buy them.

Police-sergeant Shipley stated that from information received about a man offering cigars for sale, he visited the VINE INN, where he saw defendant picking up the cigars from the floor where he had dropped them. When asked where he obtained them he admitted having stolen them, and when they passed the WHITE HORSE INN on the way to the Police Station prisoner said that was the place where he took them from.

Sentenced to one months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/10/1903

“Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest on Wednesday afternoon at the ENGINE INN, Wolverhampton Street, relative to the death of James McPue, aged 64 years, who had been living with his niece at Blue Lane West. It transpired that the deceased had been suffering from rheumatism, and his appetite had lately failed him. On Monday he went out without anything to eat, and on returning his niece asked him to have something to eat. He said he would have half-a-pint first, and proceeded to the VINE INN, Blue Lane, where Mr. Sweeney, the landlord, served him, but before he drank any of the beer the landlord saw him fall on to a table. He went and raised his head, when he found his face was of a bluish colour, and that he appeared to be dead. Two police officers removed the body to the mortuary.

Dr. Harry Shore gave evidence showing that the cause of death was due to syncope cause by heart disease, which was probably accelerated by the rheumatism which the man was suffering from.

The jury returned a verdict of Natural Causes.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/2/1904

“A labourer, named Hayden Eaton (32), 169, Parkhill, was put in the dock to answer a charge of wilfully breaking a plate glass window at the VINE INN, Blue Lane, and doing damage to the amount of £2 10s on February 9th.

Complainant stated that after some trouble he got the prisoner from his house. Immediately the latter got outside he took a bottle from his pocket and hurled it through the window. After a struggle and a free exchange of blows he managed to detain prisoner until the arrival of a constable.

Prosecutor further stated that prisoner’s wife had been to see him that morning, and if he would come to some arrangement with regard to payment for the window he would forgive him.

An order was made for payment of damages and costs within three months.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/4/1907

“When under the influence of drink William Poutney, a man somewhat deaf, past middle age, of Pleck Road, was seen to walk into the VINE INN, Blue Lane, on the evening of the 17th, by Inspector Williams, who followed him, and found that he had been refused by the landlord and ordered to go. Defendant denied being drunk but was fined 10s and costs.”

“Butler’s famous ales in finest condition. Choice cigars.” [1911]

1911 Census

98, Blue Lane West

[1] Martin Sweeney (56), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Catherine Sweeney (54), wife, married 27 years, born Walsall;

[3] Catherine Sweeney (26), daughter, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[4] Martin Sweeney (22), son, warehouse man, born Walsall;

[5] James Sweeney (18), son, assisting in the business, born Walsall:

Martin Sweeney, beer retailer, 98, Blue Lane West. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1915

“Recently the Rev. Father McDonnell solemnized the marriage at St. Patrick’s Church, of Miss. S. Walker, daughter of Mrs. Walker, of Portland Street, Walsall, to Mr. Martin Sweeney, of the VINE INN, Blue Lane. On Monday evening the members of Walsall Tradesman’s Social Club, of which Mr. Sweeney is a popular member, presented him with a marble clock suitably inscribed, as a memento of the important step which he has taken. Mr. C. J. Thornton, President of the Club, was in the chair, and made the presentation, expressing the good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney’s future happiness. During the evening a capital musical programme was gone through. Mr. Sweeney sang in fine style ‘The Last Watch’ and ‘In a Garden of Roses,’ and Lance-corporal Peace was very successful with ‘Sunshine of your Smile’ and ‘Sweetheart Days.’ Mr. Ernie Garner, the talented comedian appearing this week at the Grand Theatre, attended and delighted the members with his clever wit. Mr. J. H. Cockayne received much applause for his singing of ‘I’ve only Come Down For a day,’ ‘Far, Far Away,’ and the ‘The Blue Hungarian Band.’ Mr. Boyce and others contributed towards securing a capital evening, and excellent arrangements were made by Mr. M. White.”

Walsall Observer 1/7/1916

“At the Guildhall yesterday the following persons were summoned for offences under the Lighting Order.....

Catherine Sweeney, the VINE INN, Blue Lane.....

Catherine Sweeney, when asked to plead, said she knew nothing about it. Special Constable Field stated that at 12.30am on June 14, a bright light was shining from a side window at the defendant’s public house. There was no blind up at all. Fined 20s.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VINE INN, Blue Lane East. £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 19/10/1918 - Roll of Honour

“Private Richard Sweeney, of the Army Service Corps, died in hospital at Basra on October 5, and the official news has been received by his wife, living at the VINE INN, Blue Lane West. He was 37 years of age, and joining the Army in May, 1917, went out to Mesopotamia, the following July. He was formerly a tram driver, and was driving the car in which a Midland Mayoress was travelling when struck by Zeppelin bomb splinters, receiving injuries to which she afterwards succumbed. Private Sweeney attended St. Patrick’s Roman Catholic Schools as a boy.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

“Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd.”

Walsall Observer 4/10/1924

“In celebration of his recent marriage, Mr. J. P. Mellor, manager of the James Bridge Copper Works, entertained close upon 100 of his employees to a dinner in the VINE INN, Blue Lane, Walsall, on Saturday evening. After a well-served repast the guests spent an enjoyable time, a capital concert programme being gone through. Mr. W. Clark presiding.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1934

“The Licensing Justices, sitting as the Compensation Authority, confirmed the decision of the Licensing Committee, and scheduled the licenses of the PARKFIELD TAVERN, Pleck Road, and the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, for compensation. The renewals of the licenses were opposed by the police on the grounds of redundancy.”

Compensation of £1,550 was paid on 24th December 1934.

It closed on 31st December 1934.

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/2/1935

“The funeral took place on Saturday of Mrs. Catherine Sweeney, of the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, one of the oldest licensees in the borough, who died at the age of 78. The service at St. Patrick’s Roman Catholic Church was conducted by the Rev. H. McDonnell, after which the interment took place at Ryecroft Cemetery. One of the deceased’s sons, Richard, was the driver of a tram which was struck during a Zeppelin raid on Walsall, which resulted in the death of the Mayoress, Mrs. S. M. Slater, who was a passenger. Richard died in Mesopotamia before the Armistice. Another of her sons, Mr. William Sweeney is a well known local singer and boxing M.C. He was one of the bearers at the funeral.”

VINE

33, (35), Lower Hall Lane (Hawe Lane) / Upper Hall Lane (Caldmore Road), WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Weaver, Park Street, Walsall
William Taylor
Harry Taylor
Mrs. Fanny (Taylor) Meikle
William Roberts Brewery, Brownhills [1925]
Eleys Stafford Brewery Ltd. (acquired in 1925)
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1928)
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1966)

LICENSEES

William Green [1783] – [1822]
Christopher Trees [1828] – [1845]
William Kendrick [1849] – [1851]
William Arch [1858] – [1870]
Mary Arch [1869]
John Litherland [1871] – [1872];
Benjamin Neville Weaver [];
Mrs. Fanny Weaver [];
William Taylor [1880];
Mrs. Fanny (Taylor) Meikle [1880] – 189_]; [1892]
John Thomas Meikle (189_ – 1901); [1896]
Frederick James Westwood (1901 – 1907);
Thomas Powell (1907 – 1923);
Daniel Smith (1923 – 1928);
Edward Frederick Butler (1928 – 1930);
Joseph Thickett (1930 – 1932);
Benjamin Thickett (1932 – 1934);
Frank Wilson (1934 – 1938);
Edwin George White (1938 – 1944);
Thomas Harold Cooper (1944 – 1963);
Percy Freeman (1963 – 1965);
Anthony Hill (1965 – 1966);
William Thomas Joseph Lane (1966 – 1967);
Albert William Lloyd (1967 – []

NOTES

Hall Lane [1822], [1841], [1851]
33, Lower Hall Lane [1860], [1861], [1862], [1891], [1901], [1908], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]
35, Lower Hall Lane [1881]

GRAPES [1850]

A friendly society met here in 1783.

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.....

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at VINE, Hall Lane.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/4/1837 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property in Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by order of the Executors of the late Mr. Green, at the house of Mr. J. Roper, the sign of the BLUCHER, Stafford Street, Walsall, on Thursday next the 20th day of April, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed on at the time of sale.

All that old established Public House, known by the sign of the VINE, pleasantly situated in Hall Lane, near to the Race-course, and opposite Monteith Street, Walsall, and now in the occupation of Mr. C. Trees, comprising capital tap-room, front and back parlours, good lodging-rooms, brewhouse, and a capital cellar, with an entire yard, and plenty of water, and an excellent Workshop adjoining, together with a small Tenement adjoining, in the occupation of Mr. Brant.

Also two Tenements or Dwelling Houses fronting the road leading to the Race-course, in the occupation of Ann Genders and B. Genders.

For further information apply to Mr. W. Thomas, Solicitor, or to the Auctioneer, Walsall.”

1841 Census

Hall Lane

- [1] Christopher Trees (45), bridle cutter and victualler;
- [2] Mary Trees (45), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Enoch Trees (20), saddlers' ironmonger, born Staffordshire;
- [4] George Trees (15), born Staffordshire:

Christopher Trees was also a bridle cutter.

1851 Census

Hall Lane

- [1] William Kendrick (46), gardener and publican, born Sharehill, Staffordshire;
- [2] Letitia Kendrick (47), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Anne Kendrick (21), daughter, servant at home, born Walsall;
- [4] James Kendrick (14), son, born Walsall;

1861 Census

33, Lower Hall Lane – VINE INN

- [1] William Arch (46), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Arch (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Robert Arch (20), son, horse collar maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Martha Barton (19), cousin, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Stringer (19), house servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 9/11/1861

“On Thursday morning about ten o'clock, a man named William Willis, aged twenty-two years, was at his usual work as a saddler in Mr Brace's factory, Bridge Street, when he fell suddenly from his board in a state of insensibility. He was taken up and conveyed to his residence at Vicarage Place where he remained in a speechless condition and died at three o'clock the same afternoon. Mr. Edwards, surgeon of Bridge Street, attended deceased, but his services were unavailing. An inquest was held on the body at the VINE INN, Hall Lane, on Friday evening, when a verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1863

“Walsall Petty Sessions. Before Messrs. S. Cox (Mayor), and J. B. Anderson.

William James was charged with having, on Friday last, assaulted Mrs. Mary Arch, landlady of the VINE public-house, Hall Lane. It appeared from the evidence, that about three weeks ago the defendant went into the complainant's house and conducted himself in a very indecent and unbecoming manner. On the day in question he returned and Mrs. Arch expressed her surprise at his returning after the conduct he had been guilty of. On being made acquainted with what he had done upon the former occasion, his wife upbraided him, and on her doing so he struck her. Mrs. Arch then reproved him for striking his wife, whereupon he struck her a blow which split her lip. He aimed a second blow at Mrs. Arch, but her niece stepping between them received it on her head. The defendant, who failed to appear, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment. The defendant was further charged with having assaulted Eliza Maria Harrison. Defendant, who is a beerhouse keeper at Wolverhampton, had a booth on the race-course, and about seven o'clock on Thursday evening, as the complainant and another female named Mary Maxwell, were passing the defendant's booth in search of her master, the defendant rushed out of his booth, seized complainant by the throat, and charged her with having been in his booth, and gone off without paying for some drink she had had, and it was with some difficulty the girl was released from the defendant's grasp. The Bench in this case ordered the defendant to pay £5, or in default to be imprisoned for two months. The term of imprisonment to commence at the expiration of the other."

Walsall Free Press 3/2/1866 - Notice

"Mr. Robert Arch, Deceased.

All Persons who stand indebted to the Estate of the late Mr. Robert Arch, late of the OLD OAK INN, Upper Hall Lane, Innkeeper, deceased, are requested to Pay the same forthwith to William Arch, VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane; and any persons who have any claims against the said Estate are requested to send the same with the particulars thereof to the said William Arch, on or before the 1st day of March next, in order that the same may be examined and paid.

By order of the Executors.

Dated this 1st day of February, 1866."

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

"Mary Arch, landlady of the VINE INN, Hall Lane, was charged with having had her house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours; but as it appeared the men seen in the house had been assisting in pumping water out of the cellar, which, in consequence of the heavy rains, had become flooded, had received the drink as refreshment, the case was dismissed."

Walsall Free Press 25/9/1869

"On Wednesday last, Mrs. Arch, of the VINE public-house, Hall Lane, died suddenly. Deceased had been ailing for some time, but on the day previous to her death, she was able to drive to Lichfield, and, therefore, her death, though not deemed improbable, was somewhat unexpected."

1871 Census

33, Lower Hall Lane – VINE INN

- [1] John Litherland (46), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Litherland (59), wife, born Scotland;
- [3] John Tisdell (58), lodger, harness maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Margaret Johnstone (21), visitor, born Scotland:

Walsall Advertiser 1/4/1879 - Advert

"Wanted, a good General Servant, about 20, VINE INN, Hall Lane."

Walsall Advertiser 17/1/1880 - Advert

"If the Step Ladders left at Mr. William Taylor's, VINE INN, Hall Lane, by Mr. William Oerton, Currier, Newport Street, is not fetched away in Three days from this Notice, it will be Sold to pay Expenses."

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1880 - Advert

"This Is To Give Notice, that I will not be Responsible for any Debt or Debts that my wife, Fanny Taylor, may contract after this date.

(Signed) William Taylor.

Hall Lane, Walsall. June 9th, 1880."

Walsall Advertiser 19/6/1880 - Advert

"Replying to William Taylor's Advertisement of last week, I beg to state that he never did pay any debts of mine; but I have had, and still have debts of his contracting (amounting to £269 8s) to pay. It is therefore not likely that either the public or myself will expect him to do so, now that he has nothing whatever to do with my business.

(Signed) Fanny Taylor.

VINE, Hall Lane."

Walsall Advertiser 4/12/1880 - Advert

"Wanted, a good General Servant, with good character. Apply, Mrs. F. Taylor's, VINE INN, Hall Lane."

1881 Census

35, Lower Hall Lane – VINE INN

- [1] Fanny Taylor (20), married, innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] James Robatham (?) (59), father, born Walsall;
- [3] Harriet Robatham (?) (56), mother, born Walsall;
- [4] George Robatham (?) (23), brother, religious student at Merton College, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Benjamin Weaver (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Ralph Weaver (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] George Weaver (2), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Mary Ann Mee (21), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 2/6/1881

“On Monday afternoon Mr. George Watkins (70), formerly a chemist and druggist, High Street, but for some years past a resident of Digbeth, was taken ill at the house of his sister, Mrs. Cowley, Monthrath Street and died in a few minutes. An inquest was held yesterday at the VINE INN, Hall Lane, before the borough coroner (Mr. A. A. Fletcher), and a verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1889 - Deaths

“On the 12th inst, at the VINE, Hall Lane, James Robathan, aged 66 years; deeply lamented.”

1891 Census

33, Lower Hall Lane – VINE INN

- [1] Fanny Taylor (38), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Benjamin Weaver (20), son, gentleman, born Walsall;
- [3] Ralph Taylor (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] George Taylor (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Bradbury (20), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer

“Fanny Taylor of the VINE, Hall Lane, was charged with having her house open during prohibited hours.

Police-sergeant Mercer stated that on the night of the 18th inst, he with Police-constable M’Carthy was on duty in Cross Street; he met a woman coming from the defendant’s with some brandy and beer under her shawl. On taking her back to the house, the landlady said the brandy was for a man who was very ill, and the landlady’s mother said she gave the beer to the woman because she looked so faint. Mrs. Taylor added that it was the first time, and served her right.

Police-constable M’Carthy gave corroborative evidence, adding that the woman first looked through the shutters, and went to the house door.

Mr. Loxton, who appeared for the defence, urged that it was not a case upon which the Justices would convict, as the brandy was really for a man who was very ill, and Mrs. Taylor had no intention of keeping her house open, as was proved by what the woman did before she could get into the house.

The Bench dismissed the case upon the costs being paid.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

“William Hill (58), miner, 19, Stafford Road, Bloxwich, was charged with having stolen a mackintosh and grey rug, valued at £1 5s, the property of John Thomas Meikle, VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane.

Prosecutor said that on Monday evening the articles were drying on a line in the kitchen, but at ten o’clock he noticed they were gone. Prisoner had been in his house between eight and nine.

Police-sergeant 2 (Marshall) said that on Monday night he saw prisoner in an entry in Green Lane sheltering from the rain. He asked him what he had under his arm, and he replied that it was an overcoat. He asked him if it were usual to stand in an entry in the rain when he had an overcoat. On examining it he found it was a mackintosh, which prisoner said he had bought from a tall man in the Wake ground. Witness took him to the police-station on suspicion of having stolen it.

Prisoner admitted the offence, and said it was his first appearance in a police court, adding that it was the drink which had now brought him there.

Fined 10s and costs, or 21 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1898

“Lord Randolph Churchill Lodge. The above lodge will re-open on Tuesday next, at 8pm, at the new headquarters, viz, the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane. All brethren of the Conservative League are earnestly invited.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday evening.

Mr. J. T. Meikle, of the VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane, was elected a member.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1900

“The Lord Randolph Churchill Lodge has changed its meeting night from Wednesday to Tuesday, at the VINE HOTEL, Hall Lane. The next meeting will take place of Tuesday next, at 8.30pm.”

1901 Census

33, Lower Hall Lane

- [1] John T. Meikle (41), licensed victualler, born Dudley;
- [2] Fanny Meikle (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Benjamin S. H. Weaver (30), stepson, living on own means, born Walsall;
- [4] George Taylor (23), stepson, machinist, born Walsall;
- [5] Eugenie Stawley (21), barmaid, born Walsall;

[6] Rachael Whitehouse (21), domestic servant, born Cheslyn Hay, Staffordshire;

[7] Tillie Bevington (22), domestic servant, born Norton Canes, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 5/10/1901

“Lord Randolph Churchill Lodge. The above Lodge will re-assemble on Tuesday night at the VINE INN, Hall Lane, at 8.30pm. All members are earnestly requested to attend, and brethren from other lodges are earnestly invited.”

AND

“There was a considerable gathering on Wednesday evening, in the club-room of the VINE HOTEL, for the purpose of taking leave of Mr. and Mrs. Meikle, who, having sold the noted house, which had been in the family somewhere about 100 years, have taken up their residence at Rushwick Villa, near Worcester. A smoking concert took place, and in the course of the evening Mr. W. Swindell, who presided, asked for the acceptance by Mr. and Mrs. Meikle, on behalf of a number of personal friends and customers, of a handsome box of fish carvers and knives and forks, in silver with ivory handles, and a beautiful and valuable silver salver. The chairman and other speakers expressed regret at the loss of such a genial host and hostess, spoke of the high esteem in which they were held, and expressed the wishes of their friends for their future health and happiness in their new home. The recipients suitably acknowledged the presents and the kind things said to them; and a most convivial evening was spent.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1902

“Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of the above society was held on Thursday.....

New Members. Mr. Frederick James Westwood, VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1904

“Walsall & District Air-Gun League. Hospital Cup & Medals.

The concluding draw, to be shot on Tuesday next, the 21st inst, at the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane, is as under:

1. VOLUNTEER or KING WILLIAM v GOLDEN EAGLE.

2. NEWPORT No.1 or CRITERION v CROWN or Leamore.

Final. Winner of No.2 v Winner of No.1.

The first team to have choice of shooting. The first match to commence at 8pm sharp, the second at 8.45, final at 9.45. Individuals to immediately follow.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/8/1904

“Cycling Notes & News. I am requested by the secretary of the Phoenix Cycling Club to state that they have changed their headquarters, and that for the future they will be accommodated at the VINE HOTEL, Hall Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1905

“A young boy named Frederick Edward Baker Bennett (15), 80, Bescot Street, was summoned for stealing a plough line, value 1s 6d, the property of Mary Ann Vaughan, on the 15th inst.

Richard Gaskin, carter in the employ of the prosecutrix, deposed to bringing a load of potatoes into Cross Street, and leaving the stolen property on the floor near that cart. He took a sack of potatoes up an entry, and on returning missed the line (produced). He then reported the matter to the police.

Edith Wood, an assistant at the VINE INN, Lower Hall Street, said that she saw the boy pick up the rope and walk quickly up Cross Street.

Detective Lloyd deposed to arresting prisoner at his home, who said, ‘I didn’t steal the rope; a lad gave it to me, but I don’t know his name.’

The mother of the prisoner was bound over in £5 for six months.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1905

“At St. George’s Church, Worcester, the wedding of Mr. Joseph Taylor, of Rushwick (son of Mrs. J. T. Taylor, formerly of the VINE HOTEL, Hall Lane, Walsall), and Miss Kate Davies was solemnized.....”

Walsall Advertiser 2/2/1907

“To Let, the Full-Licensed House, the VINE INN, Hall Lane, Walsall. Preference given to tenant who understands brewing. Apply, the Station Brewery, Brownhills.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/5/1907

“On Thursday last an interesting presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Westwood by their numerous friends, including members of the Walsall Phoenix Cycling and Football Clubs, whose headquarters have for some years been held at the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane. Mr. Westwood has been manager of the house under Messrs W. Roberts Ltd. for some six years and the presentation was made on the occasion of his giving up the position, as a mark of the esteem and respect the patrons of the house feel towards him. The presentation consisted of an illuminated address and an oak timepiece. Upwards of 60 subscribers were present, and general testimony was given as to the kindness and courtesy always exhibited by Mr. and Mrs. Westwood in the conduct of the business, and regret that circumstances over which they had no control caused their leaving the house so ably managed by them.”

1911 Census

33, Lower Hall Lane

- [1] Thomas Powell (48), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Ann Powell (47), wife, married 28, years, born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Powell Jnr. (27), son, painter, born Walsall;
- [4] Jane Powell (25), daughter, French polisher, born Walsall;
- [5] May Powell (17), daughter, at home, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Powell (15), daughter, tailoress, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 17/6/1911

“Phoenix Football Club.

The chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks be accorded Mr. Wooldridge, of the KINGS HEAD, Blakenall for the use of the ground last season. He was sure they would all agree with him that it was one of the best grounds they had ever had, and it was kept in a first-rate condition, while they were always treated with the utmost hospitality by Mr. Wooldridge, whose kindness they much appreciated. He would also like to thank Mr. And Mrs. Powell, the host and hostess of the VINE, for their kindness.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

VINE, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall, 6s 5d.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VINE INN, Lower Hall Street. £2 1 6d.”

Walsall Observer 17/8/1918

“The first proceedings taken in Walsall under the Beer, Prices and Descriptions, Order, 1918, were taken at the Guildhall on Tuesday, at the instance of the Food Control Committee, but failed through insufficient evidence.

Before Messrs. E. C. Windle and W. M. Brookes, Thomas Powell, VINE INN, Lower Hall Street, appeared on three summonses charging him with selling beer of short measure, and Mr. Victor Crooke (prosecuting for the Committee) said that on Monday evening, July 22, a woman was served by Miss Powell, defendant’s daughter, with a quart of beer, for which she paid 10d, and which was taken away in a jug of considerably more than a quart capacity. Inspector Whitworth was near by and he measured the beer, and found it was less than a quart. On the following night the woman was served with two quarts at the VINE, and these were handed to Mr. Whitworth, who again discovered deficiencies in quantities. A quart of beer should contain 40oz, but that bought on Monday was found by inspector Whitworth to contain only 36oz, and the other two were deficient by four and five ounces respectively. The cases, said Mr. Crooke, were the first in the borough under the Order, and people were greatly interested in them. Upon the investigation of the first charge, Mrs. Sarah Binion, 4, Upper Hall Lane, gave evidence of being served with a quart of beer on July 22, and cross-examined by Mr. H. H. Jackson (defending), she said some of the beer might have been spilled, although she did not notice it happen.

Inspector Whitworth spoke to receiving and measuring the beer, and under cross-examination, indicated on Mrs. Binion’s glass jug how far a quart of liquid would rise. The froth on the beer with which Mrs. Binion was supplied rose to the quart line.

‘It’s a frothy question, then,’ remarked Mr. Jackson, who, proceeding to address the court said defendant had kept the VINE INN for eleven years, and his reputation should be remembered in considering the cases.

Mrs. May Powell said she was confident she gave Mrs. Binion full measures. She blew off the top of the measure as much froth as possible before supplying her. On previous occasions she had seen Mrs. Binion drink from her jug and then ask for another half-pint, but she did not see her do so on the night in question.

The Bench decided that there was not sufficient evidence to convict and dismissed the summonses, but, replying to Mr. Crooke, they agreed it was a proper case for investigation.

Mr. Jackson suggested that Mr. Crooke only wanted a warning to go forth to the trade, and that this case would have the desired effect.

Remarking that he could not hope to produce stronger evidence on the other summonses, Mr. Crooke withdrew them, and the Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton) observed that publicans convicted of giving short measure were liable to heavy penalties.”

Walsall Observer 9/2/1924

“In connection with the Walsall Fur and Feather Society, a smoking concert was held at the VINE HOTEL on Monday evening.....”

Walsall Observer 3/5/1924

“There was a capital show of rabbits at the VINE HOTEL, the headquarters of the Walsall Fur and Feather Society, on Monday, there being nearly 100 rabbits.....”

Walsall Observer 14/6/1924

“There was keen competition at a show held at the VINE HOTEL, Cross Street, on Wednesday, under the auspices of the Walsall Fur and Feather Society, and the entries numbered over seventy.....”

Walsall Observer 18/10/1924

“....Further re-arrangement in respect of the suggested alterations at the VINE, Hall Lane, was needed, and sanction to these plans was also refused.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1936

“Walsall Licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall on Tuesday.....

Formal objection was taken to the renewal of the following licenses: CROWN (beerhouse), Lower Hall Lane; VINE (alehouse), Lower Hall Lane; and the CROWN AND CUSHION (beerhouse), Bridgman Street. All other licenses were renewed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/8/1937

“At the Walsall Licensing Transfer Sessions on Tuesday.....

With reference to the VINE, Lower Hall Lane, which was referred for compensation on the grounds of redundancy, Mr. F. Cooper, for the owners, applied for the renewal of the license. He said the present premises were not satisfactory of the Justices, but the owners were prepared to give an undertaking to rebuild. The house was now doing nearly three times the trade it was in 1933 owing to the cutting through of Caldmore Road. The license was renewed.”

A Provisional Grant for the license removal to premises erected partly on land within the curtilage of the present premises and partly on land forming a portion of the site of adjoining cottages and warehouses was granted on 8th February 1938.

Birmingham Mail 23/5/1939 - Advert

“£12. – Austin 12-6 Saloon, sound engine, good tyres, a snip.
VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

1939 Register

33, Lower Hall Lane

[1] Edwin G. White, date of birth 11/3/1906, manager, licensed house, married, AFS driver;

[2] Lily L. White, dob 21/11/1904, manageress, licensed house, married:

Evening Despatch 7/3/1940

“An 18th century Walsall public house, the VINE, Lower Hall Lane, has disappeared, and the owners, Messrs. Eley’s (Stafford) Brewery Company, have erected on the site a modern house, the final order for the removal of the license being granted today at Walsall adjourned licensing sessions.

In granting the application the chairman Ald. H. Hucker, said the new house would be a big improvement to the district.”

Walsall Observer 27/3/1943

“Having spent about four years at Caldmore Church School, chiefly in learning something of the ‘three Rs,’ little Tommy Powell was considered to have had sufficient education to equip him for the life of an ordinary working man. So at the age of eight years he began to earn something towards his maintenance. It was half-a-crown a week for what he was able to do for a Walsall chain-front maker named Archer. Four years later he began working in the casting trade. That was to be the chief occupation of his life; but though he worked hard and for long hours for many years Mr. Powell has been lucky enough to enjoy good health, and to-day at the age of nearly 81, he is still fairly fit apart from foot trouble.

On Wednesday he and his wife celebrated their diamond wedding at their home at 22, Lysways Street, for they were married at the Mount Church on March 24, 1883, when they were but twenty and nineteen respectively. Mrs. Powell is, if anything, in better trim than her husband, for she is still able to do all her own housework and has sight good enough to enable her to thread a needle, without the aid of glasses.

Mr. Powell’s longest spell with one employer was at the works of Broadhurst & Co., Hatherton Street, where he remained for twenty years until about 1901. That marked the end of his industrial life; but he afterwards engaged in the licensed trade, first as licensee of the TANNERS ARMS, Hatherton Street, and then some sixteen years before his retirement at the VINE INN, Hall Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell have had two sons and three daughters and there are four grandchildren, two serving in the Army, and one grandson.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

W. Butler and Co. Ltd., Springfield Brewery, were summoned in respect of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Bloxwich Road; KING GEORGE V, Wallows Lane, DILKE ARMS, Aldridge; The HARDEN, Harden Road; and VINE INN, Lower Hall Street; and the managers, Thomas Henry Atkins, Kenneth Dawes, Harry Harvey, Leonard Charles Lampitt, and Edwin George White, for aiding and abetting. Mr. Cooper said this brewery company also had given specific instructions to their managers, and Mr. Hodgkinson emphasised that the managers’ offences were purely of a technical character and that if they had applied for permits for extra supplies they would have got them.

Dawes and Hawkes were fined £2 each, the other managers £1 each, and the brewery 10s in each case.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

VINE INN, Lower Hall Street. £0 1s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 16/9/1944

“There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society held on Thursday at the NEW INN, Willenhall. Mr. C. W. Garfield (president) occupied the chair.....

Mr. T. H. Cooper, VINE INN, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

VINE, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Closed [1980s]

It became a restaurant and ‘youth pub’. [1995]

VOLUNTEER

19, Bridgeman Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mary Sheldon, Walsall Road, Wednesbury

Mrs. Eliza Perry [1880]

John Darby

J. Sheldon Esq, solicitor, Wednesbury

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1904]

LICENSEES

William Moore [1868] – [1870]

Thomas Shaw [1871] – [1872];

Richard Perry [];

Mrs. Eliza Perry [1880] – [1881]

John Darby [1883];

Charles Heeley [];

Mary Ann Heeley [1885];

Frederick Paddock [1891] – 1904;

Mrs. Hannah (Simmonds) Green (1904 – 1935):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Walsall Free Press 14/9/1867 - Advert

“To Be Let, with immediate possession, the VOLUNTEER Beer Shop, Bridgeman Street, Walsall, with American Bowling Alley, and good Shopping.

For particulars apply on the premises.”

William Moore, beer retailer, 19, Bridgeman Street. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

19, Bridgeman Street

[1] Thomas Shaw (43), saddler, born Walsall;

[2] Amelia Shaw (42), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alice E. Shaw (16), daughter, no calling, born Walsall;

[4] Rosanna Shaw (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

Thomas Shaw, beer retailer, 19, Bridgeman Street. [1872]

1881 Census

19, Bridgeman Street – The VOLUNTEER

[1] Eliza Perry (43), widow, keeps a beershop, born Walsall;

[2] Susan Perry (15), niece, stamper, born Walsall;

[3] Sarah Macque (20), domestic servant, born Walsall:

John Darby was fined 10s and costs, on 23rd May 1883, for Sunday trading.

Charles Heeley was fined 10s and costs for allowing drink to be sold before 6am.

Walsall Observer 28/2/1885

“Mary Ann Heeley, Bridgeman Street, was summoned for refusing to admit the police into her licensed premises, the VOLUNTEER INN, on the 16th inst.

Mr. E. Evans appeared for the defence.

Acting-sergeant Mercer deposed that about half past eleven at night he saw two men leave the house in a stealthy sort of way, and he at once ran down to the back of the house. The back door was open, and he shouted to a woman who had run down the entry not to close the door, as he was a police officer. The door was, however, closed in his face and bolted. He could hear people inside the house, but when he was admitted six or seven minutes later he could not find anyone in the lower rooms, but he did not go upstairs.

In cross-examination by Mr. Evans, witness said that he called out to the woman that it was the police and that she must have known who it was.

Police-constable Marshall (No.51) corroborated this evidence, and also said that he stayed in the front of the house and heard talking inside.

Mr. Evans said that the facts of the case were very simple. The defendant’s servant was in the yard talking to two men when the policeman ran towards her and up the entry. She did not know who it was and ran into the house and shut the door, her mistress being out.

Emily Shelley was called, and corroborated the statement of the advocate, except that she said she was not talking to the men, but was just crossing the yard when the police ran down the entry.

The case was dismissed.”

1891 Census

19, Bridgeman Street

[1] Fred Paddock (32), beer retailer, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Paddock (33), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Hannah Paddock (11), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] James Henry Paddock (8), son, born Walsall;

[5] Alfred H. Paddock (3), son, born Walsall;

[6] Clara E. Paddock (4 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1893

“Frank Andrews alias Gilliman, brass caster, who described himself of no fixed abode, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Bridgeman Street on Monday night; also with assaulting Police-constable Reynolds, and damaging the latter’s lamp. Reynolds stated the prisoner and other men left the VOLUNTEER INN, and two of them commenced to fight. Witness went to check the disturbance, and the accused on being told that the police were coming turned round on witness and threw him to the ground. Witness was struggling with the prisoner for about ten minutes, during which time he was beaten and kicked, prisoner behaving more like a madman than a sane person. Witness tried to detain the man, but prisoner was dragged away by his friends, and witness had to get the assistance of Police-constable Breeze before he could re-arrest him. The damage to the lamp was done in the course of the struggle.

Prisoner pleaded guilty, and said he was in drink.

He was sentenced to six weeks’ imprisonment for the assault, and ordered to pay 5s and costs on the other charges, or go to gaol for a further seven days.”

Frederick Paddock, beer retailer and buckle maker, 19, Bridgeman Street. [1896], [1904]

See also FOUR HORSE SHOES.

Hannah Paddock married Henry Simms on 30th April 1900.

Walsall Advertiser 30/3/1901

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.....

New Members..... Frederick Paddock, VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street.”

1901 Census

19, Bridgeman Street – The VOLUNTEER

- [1] Henry Simms (25), metal engraver, born Walsall;
- [2] Hannah Simms (21), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] James Paddock (18), boarder, brass caster, born Walsall;
- [4] Alfred Paddock (14), visitor, born Walsall;
- [5] Steven Green (29), boarder, iron worker, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 7/12/1901

“James Paddock, of the VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street, was summoned for improperly using the cord of communication on a London and North-Western train, on November 2nd. Mr. F. Lambert, of Birmingham, prosecuted on behalf of the Railway Company, and stated that the defendant and two companions travelled by the 10.50pm train from Wolverhampton to Walsall, and stopped the train without any cause whatever, by pulling down the cord of communication inside the carriage. The cord was connected with a vacuum brake, and the effect of pulling down the cord was to put on the brake. It was a serious thing to make improper use of the cord, but he could only imagine that the defendant had pulled it out of curiosity. However, he thought it would be a sufficient caution to the defendant if he was ordered to pay costs if the Bench would express the opinion that the case was a proper one to have been brought.

Alderman Holden said he thought it was a case in which they should impose the full penalty of £5, as there was a great danger if the cord was improperly used.

Defendant pleaded guilty, and he was ordered to pay costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1903 - Advert

“Air-Gun Shooting.

It having been decided to form a Walsall & District Air-Gun League, all interested are requested to send a representative to the VOLUNTEER INN Bridgeman Street, on Tuesday Evening Next, Sept 1st, at 8.30pm.”

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Objections to the renewals to James Archibald Goodall, ROEBUCK, Upper Rushall Street, and Frederick Paddock, VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street were postponed to the adjourned meeting, to be held on March 1st.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

The VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street. The police were the objectors in this case – that the license holder (Frederick Paddock) was not the real resident; and that the house was used by bookmakers for betting. Mr. Plumptree (instructed by Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) was for the defence.

The allegations were that the landlord resided at Aldridge, and went home by the last train each night; also that betting men used the house and copied the names of horses from betting slips. Deferred.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1904 - Advert

“A meeting will be held in connection with the VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street, Fishing Club, to elect officers, on Monday, May 16th, 1904. Anyone wishing to become a member is invited. Good water in view.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1904

“Walsall & District Air-Gun League. Hospital Cup & Medals.

The concluding draw, to be shot on Tuesday next, the 21st inst, at the VINE HOTEL, Lower Hall Lane, is as under:

1. VOLUNTEER or KING WILLIAM v GOLDEN EAGLE.
2. NEWPORT No.1 or CRITERION v CROWN or Leamore.

Final. Winner of No.2 v Winner of No.1.

The first team to have choice of shooting. The first match to commence at 8pm sharp, the second at 8.45, final at 9.45. Individuals to immediately follow.”

Hannah Simmonds married a Mr. Green.

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1905

“Walsall And District Air-Gun League. Under the auspices of the above League a meeting was held in the VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street on Monday evening for the purpose of electing officers and clubs for the ensuing season. Captain J. S. Robinson was re-elected president; Sir A. D. Hayter and Mr. A. D. Rudge, vice-presidents; Mr. Paddock, treasurer; Mr. Sadler, secretary; and the following were elected to form a committee: Messrs. Gradwell, Partridge, Clarke, Laker, Williams, D. Smith, Allport, Hitch, Vaughan, and Chappell.

The secretary announced that a gentleman had offered a gold medal to the member who proved himself to be the best shot in the League during the next season. The following sixteen clubs were elected to form the League: NEWPORT ARMS, VOLUNTEER, ROSE AND CROWN, CROWN AND CUSHION, ORANGE TREE, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, FOUNTAIN (Bott Lane), FOUNTAIN (Forster Street), SADDLERS HOME, NORTH WESTERN, FITTERS ARMS, BLACK HORSE (Walsall), CROWN (Leamore), FORGE INN, WALSALL ARMS (Bank Street), and the QUEENS HOTEL."

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

"The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

The VOLUNTEER. Mr. W. J. Pearman Smith applied on behalf of the Wolverhampton and Dudley Brewery Co. as to plans to alter this house, in Bridgeman Street. He mentioned that this application was made before the Licensing Committee in November last, and refused, but with power to apply again at the annual meeting. There would be no internal alteration, and the drinking area was not to be interfered with; the plans simply meant a new entry and a new window.

The Chief Constable made an objection, and the plans were sanctioned conditionally to their showing an 8ft wall to be erected at the back."

Mrs. Hannah Green, beer retailer, Bridgeman Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1913

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New members..... Mrs. Hannah Green, VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street."

Walsall Advertiser 11/1/1913

"Shortly before three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, the Walsall Fire Brigade were called to an outbreak of fire at the VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street. When the Brigade arrived, under Chief-Inspector Ballance, they found the smokeroom well alight, but they were able to extinguish the fire with little difficulty."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

VOLUNTEER INN, Bridgeman Street. £1 3s 11d."

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

"Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd."

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

"In 1935 the remarried Hannah Green was tenant, when the house had a Brewery, Bar 14' x 17' x 8'6", Taproom, Clubroom, and Outdoor, and a malt room, an old property in poor repair."

The license renewal was refused on the grounds of redundancy.

It closed on 31st December 1935.

Compensation of £2,800 was paid.

WALSALL ARMS

17, Bank Street, (Limepit Bank), WALSALL

OWNERS

Henry Wainwright, butcher, Ablewell Street, Walsall

James Heath

George and William Whitehouse [1891]

Joseph Whitehouse

George Whitehouse [1907]

Messrs. Yardley [1905]

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Marstons Ltd. (acquired in 1992)

LICENSEES

Samuel Mee [1834]
Charles Atkins [1835]
Painter [1837]
John Westley [1841] – [1851]
Simeon Heath [1848] – [1865]
George Smith [1866] – [1871]
Simeon Heath [1871]
Thomas Pendock Collinton [1872];
Mrs. Sarah Collinton [1873];
Robert James Adams [];
James Heath [];
William Robatham [1880] – [1881]
William James Grant [1885];
William Ross [1891] – 1895;
Elizabeth Ross (1895 – 1899);
Hawley [1895] ?
Edward Challinor (1899 – 1916);
Edward William Pynor [1902] – [1904] ?
George Whitehouse [1916] ? owner ?
Edward William Pynor (1916 – 1918);
James Edward Granger (1918 – 1919);
Richard Granger (1919 – 1922);
George William England (1922 – 1923);
Robert Whitaker Brown (1923 – 1936);
Bernard Joseph Hordern (1936 – 1937);
Thomas Kent (1937 – 1951);
Ernest Jones (1951 – 1963);
William Reginald Jukes (1963 – [1966])
G Trickett [1993]
Anthony Inns (2001 – [])
Jimmy Chambers [2014] – [2015]

NOTES

OLD WALSALL ARMS [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/3/1837 - Advert

“Sale At The WALSALL ARMS Bank Street Walsall.

By Farrington and Son, (Under a Deed of Assignment for the benefit of Creditors).

To Be Sold By Auction, on the Premises, on Monday, the 6th day of March next; All the Household Furniture, valuable Brewing Utensils, Stock of Ale, and other Effects belonging to Mr. Painter; also the Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above premises.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the Office of the Auctioneer, Walsall.”

1841 Census

Bank Street

[1] John Westley (25), plater, born Staffordshire;

[2] Jane Westley (25), born Staffordshire;

[3] William Westley (3), born Staffordshire;

[4] Frances Westley (1), born Staffordshire;

[5] Mary Joseph (13), fs, born Staffordshire:

John Westley was also a saddle nail maker. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“At the sitting of the magistrates, the following persons applied for spirit licenses for their respective houses.....
Simeon Heath, Limepit Bank. Refused.”

Simeon Heath, beer retailer, Bank Street. [1849], [1850]

Birmingham Journal 6/1/1855

“Simeon Heath, WALSALL ARMS, Limepit Bank, was charged with keeping his house open on Sunday the 24th ult, during prohibited hours. The defence was that a small quantity of ale was sold for a Mrs. Meeson, who was ill. Mrs. Meeson was produced, and after hearing her testimony, the Bench discharged the summons.”

Walsall Free Press 20/2/1857

“About twelve o’clock on Saturday week, as Samuel Butler, miner, was at work in the Deepmore Pit, Bentley, a portion of the roof gave way, and a quantity of debris falling on his back, so severely injured his spine that he died from the effects the Wednesday following. After the accident the deceased was removed to his home in Pool Street, where he was attended up to the time of his death by Mr. Harthill, surgeon, Willenhall. On Saturday last the Coroner, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, held an inquest at the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, upon the body, and a verdict of Accidental Death was recorded; the evidence showing clearly that the melancholy occurrence was purely the result of accident, and that no blame attached to any one.”

1861 Census

17, Bank Street – WALSALL ARMS

- [1] Simeon Heath (53), innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriett Heath (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary E. Heath (16), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah H. Heath (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Frederick W. Heath (1), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Richard Hinks (26), boarder, plater, born Walsall;
- [7] Henry Bullock (39), lodger, brick maker, born Willenhall:

Walsall Free Press 12/10/1861

“A man named Samuel Cox, lock maker, of Bott Lane, died suddenly at half-past three o’clock yesterday morning. He went to bed apparently in his usual health about ten o’clock on the previous night, and about the hour in the morning mentioned he spoke to his wife, turned over in bed, and died. An inquest is to be held on the body at half-past nine this morning at the WALSALL ARMS, Limepit Bank.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. W. [sic] Heath, WALSALL ARMS.”

Walsall Free Press 13/1/1866 - Advert

“Walsall Foreign.

Valuable Copyhold Properties In Bank Street & Bott Street.

To Be Sold By Auction, by H. Farrington, (by order of the Executors of the late Mr. Simeon Heath), at the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall, on Monday, January 29th, 1866, at Six o’clock in the Evening, (subject to conditions).

In Bank Street. Lot 1. All that Old-licensed and well-accustomed Public House, known as the WALSALL ARMS, for many years carried on by the late proprietor, Mr. Simeon Heath, deceased. The Public-house contains Bar, Kitchen, Bagatelle-room, Tap-room, four Chambers, Brewery, Club-room, Malt-room, Yard, and Pump of capital Water; also the House adjoining, being No.16, fronting to Bank Street occupied by Cockayne, and Back House, occupied by Gall; also the well-built detached House, fronting to the yard at the back, being No.1, occupied by Mr. Thomas; and also the Two other newly-erected Houses in said yard, occupied by Kirton and Nash, with an entrance in Bott Street.

N.B. The purchaser of this lot will be required to take to the Brewing Plant and Trade, Fixtures, &c, at a fair valuation, to be produced at the time of sale.....”

Walsall Free Press 22/9/1866

“A Female Friendly Society established upwards of 25 years ago, with an increasing capital, is desirous of further augmenting its Funds, by joining another Small Club with a little capital. The objects of the society are to afford relief to Sick Members, and provide Decent Burials.

Apply to Mr. Geo. Smith, the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.

Amy Smith, Mary Spinks, Stewardesses.”

Simeon Heath, beer retailer, Bank Street. [1871]

1871 Census

17, Bank Street – WALSALL ARMS

[1] George Smith (37), victualler, born Bloxwich;

[2] Jane Smith (43), wife, born Walsall;

[3] John Henry Eccles (20), son in law, unmarried (?), brown saddler, born Walsall;

[4] William Allen Eccles (18), son in law, unmarried (?), stone mason, born Walsall:

[Were 3 and 4 actually stepsons?]

Walsall Free Press 16/12/1871

“On Thursday afternoon an inquest was held at the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, upon the body of Charlotte Evenson, wife of Francis Evenson, shoe-maker. From the evidence of Mrs. Roper, a neighbour, it appeared deceased was taken in labour about ten o’clock on Monday morning, and Mrs. Happle, the midwife, whom deceased had employed, was sent for, and about 11.40 deceased was delivered a child. It appeared from subsequent appearances that medical aid was requisite, and fruitless attempts were made to procure medical assistance. About 11.40 on Tuesday morning deceased gave birth to a still-born child. On the representation of the midwife, Mr. Sharpe, surgeon, was sent for, but before he arrived deceased expired. At this stage of the proceedings the Coroner adjourned the inquest, and directed a post mortem examination to be made. At the adjourned inquest held yesterday, Mrs. Roper, who was recalled, stated that between six and seven o’clock on Tuesday morning the husband went out to fetch a doctor, but he did not return, and she heard he was found in a public house. She also stated that when he went out for a doctor on Tuesday night he was not sober. Mrs. Happle, the midwife, stated that she was 60 years of age and could neither read nor write, and had never attended a confinement in which there were twins before. She did not think deceased was dying until after the birth of the second child. Dr. Maclachan, who made the post mortem examination of the body of the deceased, gave it as his opinion that deceased had died from exhaustion, and that had any experienced surgeon been there the woman’s life might have been saved. The jury, after censuring the conduct of the husband, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes. In reply to one of the jury, the Coroner, expressed his regret that he had not power to deal with the husband, whom – had he the power – he would not spare.”

1881 Census

17, Bank Street – WALSALL ARMS

[1] William Robatham (53), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Matilda Robatham (52), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alfred Robatham (24), son, brass caster, born Walsall;

[4] Edgar Robatham (22), son, currier, born Walsall;

[5] Arthur Robatham (19), son, born Walsall;

[6] Ernest Robatham (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Sidney Robatham (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Kate Robatham (22), daughter, born Walsall;

[9] Matilda Robatham (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[10] Alice Robatham (15), daughter, born Walsall;

[11] Eliza Richardson (16), domestic servant, born Oakengates, Shropshire:

Lichfield Mercury 2/3/1883

“On Saturday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the WALSALL ARMS, on the body of Michael Grainey (73), Bank Street, who had eked out a living by begging and selling matches, and allowance of 2s and a loaf of bread, which he received from the parish being gone by Monday in each week, according to the testimony of the deceased’s son. The evidence showed that the deceased and his surroundings had been so filthy that the inspector of nuisances had had his things burnt, and the coroner had deferred the inquest, and had the house in which the deceased lived disinfected before taking the jury to see the body. Further, the coroner and the jury condemned ‘the place as being unfit for habitation of human beings.’ A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/6/1884 - Advert

“Bank Street, Walsall. To Let, Old-Licensed House, known as the WALSALL ARMS, with modern Brewing Plant in working order, and other Fixtures to be taken to with Four Houses attached, well-tenanted; 4 years’ lease; can be had at once owing to death of proprietor.

Apply, for particulars, to Mr. I. Stanley, Bernard Street, Sutton Road, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 28/2/1885

“William Grant, keeper of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors, on Sunday morning, before 12.30.

Detective Smith deposed that on the morning in question he visited the house in question, where he found three men drinking.

He asked the landlord how he accounted for the men being upon his premises, and he said they were his friends. When it was discovered that he (the detective) was in the house, an attempt was made to prevent him from getting the names of the men upon the premises.

Mr. Loxton contended that the men were in the yard, which was a public one, and not upon the licensed premises.

Sergeant Drury said the yard belonged to the public house, and when the house was closed the yard door was shut.

Defendant said the yard belonged to other houses besides his, the water supply for them being obtained from one tap, and the property belonged to one person. At the time in question no beer was sold or supplied to anyone.

After Detective Smith had cross-examined the defendant, the bench retired to consider their decision in private. On their return, Mr. Bayliss said there was a doubt in the case, and it would be dismissed, although the magistrates had their own opinion upon the matter.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1891

“There were 31 applications for dancing, singing and music licenses under the provisions of the new Corporation Act. The Bench heard all the applications and then retired to consider their decisions, which turned out to be in accordance with the principle which was laid down at a former Court, viz, that licenses should not be granted to vaults or public rooms, but should be confined to regular and existing clubs and class meetings in club rooms. Licenses were granted to.....

The OLD WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/2/1891

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, John Webb (14) and Herbert Hodson (12), were charged with stealing a gallon of whisky, value £1 1s 8d, the property of George and William Whitehouse.

It seemed that the prosecutor’s cart was standing outside the WALSALL ARMS INN, Bank Street, on Tuesday, the 3rd inst, when Webb climbed into the cart, and handed down a stone bottle, which he thought contained ale. He, Hodson, and other boy then went away with it, and afterwards Webb told a companion that they had concealed the bottle in Eldon Street, and that they found it contained whisky, which they had been drinking out of their hands.

The prosecutors did not press the case and the boys having previously borne a good character, their parents were bound over on their behalf for six months.”

1891 Census

17, Bank Street – OLD WALSALL ARMS

- [1] William Ross (41), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Ross (38), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Lily Ross (14), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Maude Ross (12), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Marion Ross (10), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [6] Ada Ross (9), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Tom G. Ross (5), son, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Alfred Ross (3), son, born Walsall;
- [9] H _____y Ross (1), son, born Walsall;
- [10] Baby girl (5 days), daughter, born Walsall;
- [11] Mary A. Wilkinson (16), general servant, born Bentley:

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1895

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The monthly meeting of this society was held on Thursday last.....

A vote of condolence was unanimously passed with the members of the family of the late Mr. William Ross, WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, who joined the society in 1886.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/12/1895

“On Wednesday last a few friends and relatives sat down to an excellent supper at the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street (Brother Hawley’s), provided by Mr. James Lord, to commemorate his coming-of-age, as he said in the course of a neat speech which he afterwards made. Complimentary remarks by some of those present were followed by appropriate songs well rendered, and a most pleasant evening was spent.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1896

“The forty-fourth annual meeting of the members of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

We have to report the decease of two of our members, viz, Mr. William Ross, WALSALL ARMS INN, Bank Street, Walsall, and Mr. Thomas Sanders, The STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, to the bereaved relatives of whom on your behalf we have tendered our sincere sympathy.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/1/1899

“Elizabeth Ross, WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, was charged with keeping her premises open during prohibited hours on December 29. The evidence of Police-constable Burrell was that on the night of the 29th ult, at ten minutes after 11, he saw the door of the WALSALL ARMS wide open. He noticed that about half a dozen men came out of the house, one carrying a can. On going to the back of the premises he saw a woman the worse for beer come out with a bottle. The latter contained something, which she threw away. Mr. H. H. Jackson, who appeared for Mrs. Ross, pointed out that there had been a club supper that night at the house. At half-past 10 beer was sent up in two gallon cans. At closing time, the men having drunk it all, took the can with them. There being a large number of persons present, it was 10 minutes after closing time when the house was cleared. The woman who came from the back had been to Mrs. Ross for a Christmas-box, and in order to get rid of her the landlady gave her some 'swillings.' The case was dismissed on payment of costs."

Edward Challinor was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society in June 1900.

1901 Census

17, Bank Street – Tavern – The WALSALL ARMS

[1] Edward Challinor (27), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Alice M. Challinor (23), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Edward W. Pym (26), relative, assistant to landlord, born Wednesbury;

[4] Constance H. Challinor (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Susan Brown (13), relative, nurse to landlord's child, born Wednesbury;

[6] Dora Higgitt (19), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Edward William Poyner = Edward William Pyner

Walsall Advertiser 9/8/1902

"Harry Braid and Sarah Braid, of Chuckery Lane, were summoned for assaulting Edward William Pynor, the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, on July 31st. Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Morgan (from Mr. Armstrong's office) defended. The two defendants had black eyes, and the complainant had his head bound with a bandage. Mr. Jackson, for the complainant, said that on Tuesday afternoon, July 31st, his client was in charge of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, and the two defendants, who were in the parlour, commenced a family row. Complainant ordered them out, but they refused to go, and he then ejected them. They became very violent, and when in the yard commenced to 'whack' some stout bottles at him, and the male defendant picked up a bottle and hit him on the head with it. The result was that he received a bad wound on the head which had been stitched up by Dr. Layton.

The complainant gave evidence in support of this statement.

Cross-examined by Mr. Morgan, he admitted that he had ordered a man named Demster out of the house because of a complaint made by a barmaid but it was not because of that that he also told the defendants to go. He did not kick the man Braid because he would not leave his house, nor did he strike him and black his eye.

Police-constable Williams (41) deposed to finding the landlord with his head cut, and Mrs. Peach (a neighbour) said she saw the defendant Braid strike the landlord with the bottle.

Mr. Morgan, addressing the magistrates for the defendants, said the whole bother arose owing to a man named Demster interfering with a barmaid, and the landlord wrongly accused Braid of it. Braid said to the landlord that it was not the proper way to treat a friend to wrongly accuse him of what another man had done. The landlord, however, said 'Out you go,' and knocked the defendant down and kicked him. The defendant had a black eye to show for the violence.

Braid then gave evidence, stating that the landlord kicked him, knocked him down, and also pummelled his head on the floor.

Witness's wife came up and pulled him off, remarking 'You are not going to do that to my husband.' The complainant then went into the house again, saying, 'I will make you pay for this; I can't help your quarrels,' and tried in this way to make it out that the quarrel was one between him (defendant) and his wife. Witness did have a bottle in his hand, but whatever he did with the bottle was done in self-defence.

In cross-examination by Mr. Jackson, he denied that he was excited and wild, and did not know what he was doing.

The magistrates said they considered that an assault had been committed, but under great provocation, or the fine would have been very heavy. The male defendant would be fined 2s 6d and costs, and the case against the female defendant would be dismissed."

Walsall Advertiser 1/11/1902

"A cart gear maker, named John Wells, 32, of Bloxwich Street, created not a little disturbance in Bank Street on Saturday. He went to the WALSALL ARMS, and because of his condition the landlord refused to serve him. No sooner had he gone out than he threw a bottle through the window, and Police-constable Bettley locked him up for being drunk and disorderly.

He now expressed regret, and was ordered to pay 5s fine and costs, and 3s the damage of the window; 16s in all, or 14 days."

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

"The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Edward Challinor, WALSALL ARMS."

Walsall Advertiser 1/10/1904

"A Walsall Wood man named William Thorpe was charged with assaulting Edward William Pyner, WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, on September 19th.

Complainant said that on the previous Monday at 11.15pm he was waiting for a tram on The Bridge, when he saw the defendant in company with two other men. He got into conversation with them, and defendant argued with him for some time about what the fare would be to Walsall Wood by cab. They went across the road and Thorpe assaulted complainant, who said he was struck on the side of the face, and had since been attended by a doctor.

Police-constable Baker (No.31) said that when he saw defendant he gave him a false name and address. He (witness) saw complainant's head was bleeding.

Edward Walters and George Wood gave evidence for the defendant.

The magistrates agreed there was a doubt about the case, which was dismissed."

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1905]

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

WALSALL ARMS. In this case, Mr. Wilcock appeared on behalf of the tenant, Edward Challinor, and Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs Stanley and Jackson) for the owners, Messrs. Yardley.

Mr. Wilcock said that it was a very old house, and perhaps the oldest in the town. Through its lack of attractiveness he thought it would tend to further the interests of sobriety, and that it would be committing a great injustice to take away the license simply because it was old-fashioned.

Inspector Ballance gave formal evidence as to the structural suitability of the house."

AND

"Plans were also submitted in the case of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. Mr. Jackson appeared on behalf of the owner, Mr. Whitehouse, and also for the tenant, Mr. Edward Challinor. They proposed to put the place in a proper state and more substantial position. The drinking area would be decreased by 31ft 6in.

Mr. Loxton said that they were really going to rebuild the whole place, and there was a doubt if it could be defined as an alteration. Mr. Farmer, the architect, was called, and handed Mr. Loxton a circular from the Borough Surveyor, which stated that it was an alteration, and had been passed by the town council as such. Refused."

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough, adjourned from the previous Wednesday, were resumed on Tuesday.....

Mr. Loxton read out the following decisions the magistrates had come to.....

Alterations to the following houses were refused: WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street."

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1906

"There was not nearly the intense public interest in the annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall on Thursday, at the Guildhall, as was the case during the past two or three years, for instead of the court room being densely crowded and a vast throng clamouring for admission in the entrance corridor and on the footpath outside, chiefly holders of licenses and others intimately connected with the trade, the court, though well filled, was evidently large enough to accommodate all who wished to attend.....

Mr. Jackson next applied on behalf of Mr. Geo. Armstrong, for approval of alterations at the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. There was no proposed alteration of the drinking area or licensed area, but it was intended to close one of the entrances in Bott Street and make a private entrance from Bott Lane, and build a new living room.

Mr. Farmer put in plans.....

Mr. Loxton said the magistrates had adjourned all the plans, and proposed to visit the houses next Wednesday. They would be glad if the architects would accompany them."

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1906

"Yesterday the adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall.....

Several applications for the approval of plans for alterations, had been deferred from the annual licensing meeting for the magistrates to visit the premises. The Bench decided as under.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, disapproved."

Birmingham Mail 10/3/1906

"Air-Gun Shooting. The League Tables.

It is not every air-gunner who takes an interest in figures (except perhaps his own particular league table), but to those who do, probably a summary of the 33 league tables which appeared in last week's issue will provide congenial reading, as showing the ups and downs which most clubs experience during a league season. Eight clubs have successfully resisted all attacks so far this season, and hold an unbeaten record, viz.....

Sixteen clubs have weathered through every match successfully (except on one occasion), viz.....

WALSALL ARMS (Walsall and District), 22 matches."

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

"The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. Mr. Jackson said this was one of the best trading houses in Walsall, and belonged to Mr. George Whitehouse. It was proposed by a boundary wall to shut off some cottages at the back, and to take down an old cottage and make a new living room for the tenant.

Mr. Farmer produced the plans and explained the alterations.

The Chief Constable said that in this case it meant an extension of the premises, and the club room upstairs would be extended over the lower room of the old cottage. The cost of the alterations would be about £500. The best feature of the application was that they were putting up a wall to protect themselves from an open yard.

Mr. Farmer: The Chief Constable has not mentioned that we are giving up a corresponding club room over the brewhouse, and it does not increase the licensed area.

The Chief Constable: But the old club room still remains.

Mr. Jackson: We are not going to use the old club room; it will be part of the Brewery.

The Bench adjourned the application in order to inspect the premises.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Loxton intimated that in regard to the adjourned plans for alterations to the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, and the VICTORIA STORES, High Street, Bloxwich, the Bench had decided to refuse both applications.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1908

“Walsall And District Air-Rifle League (Affiliated to the S.M.R.C.).

The above meeting took place on Tuesday last at headquarters (NEWPORT ARMS), Mr. J. Laker presiding. The Secretary (Mr. T. Sadler) gave his report, which stated that the season had been a most successful one and that the WALSALL ARMS had again won the League Championship, having shot 22 matches, won 18, lost 3, drawn 1, with an average of 271 (H.P. 300) per match.....”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“There was a large attendance of those interested in air-gun shooting at the CRITERION HOTEL, Stafford Street, on Monday evening, when the final shoot for the ‘Hospital’ and ‘R. A. Cooper’ Cups took place. With the formation of the Walsall Air-Gun League it was felt that through it some benefit could be conferred upon the Walsall Hospital, and eventually a handsome cup was offered for competition, and the proceeds derived from the meetings of the respective clubs given to the Hospital. So far £29 had been handed over to the treasurer of the institution by the Air-Gun Executive, which should be largely augmented this year. The final was between those old rivals, NEWPORT ARMS and WALSALL ARMS, and, as expected, the shooting was of a high-class order. In the end the cup went to the WALSALL ARMS team for the second time. It will be remembered that the WALSALL ARMS won the Cup outright but returned it to the Executive of the League, and it now forms the basis of an annual competition for the benefit of the Hospital.

Mr. F. J. Cotterell, chairman of the Hospital was in the chair, and supporting him were Mr. E. Hall (president), Mr. T. A. Sadler (honorary secretary), Mr. R. E. Ledbury, &c.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared on behalf of the owners of the WALSALL ARMS to apply for sanction to alterations to the premises. Mr. Jackson explained that it was proposed to set the house back and rebuild it. The owners also offered to take down the cottages adjoining the house and fronting Bank Street, as the result of which 1,722 square feet would be given to the Corporation. The total cost of the works was estimated at £700.

The Chairman: Are the FOUNTAIN and the new house both required? – Mr. Jackson: I think so. They are two of the best houses in Walsall, and are let to bona-fide tenants who have been in them for years.

The Chairman: Don’t you think one good house would be sufficient? Wouldn’t it be possible to amalgamate the two houses? –

Mr. Jackson: I don’t think so.

The Chairman: Wouldn’t it be better than getting neither? – Mr. Jackson: That is an awkward way of putting it. If you will adjourn it I will speak to Mr. Whitehouse.

The Chairman: I think your suggestion is worthy of consideration.

It was decided to defer the application until the adjourned sessions.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.....

With respect to the application for permission to make alterations to the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Mr. H. H. Jackson said that in reference to the Bench’s suggestion concerning the FOUNTAIN, it was found to be a leasehold property, with a forty-three year lease to run, and was an ante-69 beerhouse, whereas the WALSALL ARMS was a fully licensed house. If the alterations were granted, they would give up another fully licensed house in the town.

Mr. H. E. Farmer, architect, said that the building line would be thrown back twelve yards, and altogether they would be giving up 1,722 square feet of freehold land to the town. Cross-examined by the Chief Constable, witness said that they were taking three cottages into the licensed area. The number of rooms would be increased by one and they would be larger.

The Chief Constable said that the street was a bad one and gave the police much trouble through bookmakers congregating there.

Mr. Jackson said that the street would be widened and improved and a better class of inhabitants live there.

Edward Challinor stated that he was tenant for eleven years, he brewed over 700 barrels a year, and the takings averaged £32 per week. He had no complaint as to the manner in which the house was conducted. Asked whether he gave the long pull witness replied ‘no.’ Mr. Loxton ‘I suppose you do not give the longest pull. (Laughter.) But just half a pint over.’

Mr. Loxton stated that the matter would be considered.”

Lichfield Mercury 18/3/1910

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Walsall were continued on Friday.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson renewed an application for sanction for re-building of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. He stated that the owner, Mr. Whitehouse, was now prepared not only to give up 1,600 feet of land for street improvement purposes, but surrender the license of the MANDAMUS INN, Stafford Street, in respect of which it was expected about £1,000 would be payable as compensation.

The Bench held that the case having been already disposed of, it could not be reopened except at another sessions.”

Edward Challinor brewed his own beer. [1911]

Walsall Advertiser 16/9/1911

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. Edward Challinor, WALSALL ARMS INN, Bank Street.....”

Walsall Observer 14/10/1916

“At the Guildhall, before Messrs. S. B. Wheway, J. Clare, and W. Halford, Albert Jones (43), scrap dealer, 7, Charlotte Street, and Frank Bullivant, gas fitter, of 32, Scarborough Road, were charged with stealing seven brass taps, value 15s 9d, the property of Walsall Corporation; otherwise receiving the same knowing them to have been stolen, on October 6. Mr. F. Cooper defended Jones, and Mr. Jackson appeared for Bullivant.

Detective Bell stated that at 9.30pm on the previous Friday he was in Charlotte Street, when he saw Jones carrying a bag. He asked him what it contained, and his reply was that a man had just given it to him, and he did not know what was in it, but supposed it was metal. He added, ‘You are bringing some one else in besides me.’ Witness found that the bag contained some brass taps. At the police station Jones made a further statement, and the next morning witness saw Bullivant, who was employed at the gas works. He asked him if he knew Jones. He said he did, and that he sold him some brass taps which he had by him for some time. He had them from different places where he had worked. The brass taps were afterwards identified as the property of the Corporation. When prisoners were jointly charged Jones replied, ‘I am innocent.’ Bullivant made no reply.

Cross-Examination Disclosures.

Mr. Cooper: Did Jones deny having any knowledge of Bullivant? – What he told me was where he had them from.

You know he had them from the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS? – Yes.

Have you been in the WALSALL ARMS during the last few weeks? – Yes.

Had you been in there last week? – Once.

What day? – I don’t know; it might have been in the early part of the week.

Do you know the landlord there? – Yes.

Is he giving evidence for the police? – No.

Jones said these were given to him by the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS? – Yes.

Do you know that the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS has been having some repairs carried out at his premises? – I could not say.

Have you been to see the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS? – Yes. I asked him if it was correct that the parcel was left for Jones.

Did you hear anything about this parcel before Friday night? – No.

The Clerk: Did you know at the time you saw this man that the landlord had the parcel? – Yes.

Mr. Cooper: Did you know Jones was going there? – I had an idea he was going.

Mr. Cooper: I am going to put it to the Bench that this was a plant on Jones.

Mr. Wheway: If you knew, or did not know, say so. – Witness: I did not know.

Mr. Cooper: Jones has resolutely denied that he knew anything of Bullivant, that he has never seen him in his life before? – I could not say.

By the Chief Constable: Jones made a statement, and mentioned Bullivant; and it was on that statement that he was detained.

William Henry Shelley, Pargeter Street, of the Gas Department, said Bullivant was a fitter in the employ of the department. The brass taps belonged to the corporation and were used by fitters. They were given out by the storekeeper, and those not required should be returned to the stores. He should imagine those were taken from void houses. They were old taps which should have been returned.

William Edge, storekeeper at the Gas Works, also gave evidence, and in reply to Mr. Jackson, said no note was made of the taps that were returned to the stores or of those which should be returned.

Edward William Pynor, licensee of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, stated that on the previous Friday night Bullivant came to his house and handed him a parcel, which he asked him to give to Jones if he came in. Witness asked what he was to do if Jones did not come in, and Bullivant replied, ‘See that he has it.’ He afterwards went to Jones’s house and told him that Bullivant had left a parcel for him. Later Jones came and took the parcel away.

Mr. Cooper: You thought everything was open and above board? – No, I did not.

Jones has been a customer of yours? – Casually.

Were you endeavouring to trap Jones? – No.

Where did you meet Bell? – Paddock Lane.

Was it an accidental meeting? – That was, yes.

Had he been to see you the same day? – No, he was there the night before, but I was at Birmingham.

When you went to see Jones you knew these goods had been stolen? – I did know.

The Clerk: What he said was that he did not think it was above board.

Further questioned, he said Bell had spoken to him concerning some brass which had been stolen, and he told him he knew nothing about it.

Why did you take the parcel from Jones? – Because I met Bell and he told me what to do.

You met Bell on your way. Why did you not take the parcel with you? – I did not wish to be a carrier of anybody's.

You and Bell were out to trap Jones? – No.

Why did you not communicate with the police instead of going to tell Jones to fetch the parcel? – That was communicating with the police, when I saw Bell.

I put it to you, you told Jones you were having some repairs done to the brewing plant, and that you would give him some scrap? – I never said any such thing.

Why did you not come to court this morning? Had you been asked to come? – No.

How many times has Bell seen you since Friday night? – Twice; Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

On behalf of Bullivant, Mr. Jackson pleaded guilty.

Jones pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Jackson said Bullivant admitted that the taps were some he should have returned to the stores. He had been employed at the Gas Works for a period of twenty-seven years, and his character was beyond reproach. It was one of those cases one could not understand. He knew he had done wrong, and was exceedingly sorry. His punishment was already severe. He had lost thirty-years' character, and he had lost his job. It was something to his credit that he had instructed him to take full responsibility for what he had done. Unfortunately, the punishment also fell upon his wife and children. It was one slip in a life of 41 years, and he asked the Bench to deal leniently with him, and so give him a chance to retrieve his character.

Mr. Cooper, on behalf of Jones, said the publican mentioned a few weeks ago that he was having certain repairs carried out, and he would give him some scrap metal. He (Jones) did not know there was such a person as Bullivant until he met him in Court that morning. It was a strange thing that the one witness who could prove the case against the prisoner was never called until he was sent for by the Bench. Even a metal dealer was entitled to some English Justice, and the methods adopted were not those that should be employed to catch any criminal.

Jones, on oath, bore out Mr. Cooper's statement. The publican had told him he was having some repairs done, and that he would give him some metal. To his knowledge he had never seen Bullivant until he came into court. If he had known what the stuff was he should not have had it, even as a gift.

Bullivant also gave evidence, and said he had never had any dealings with Jones, and so far as he knew he had never seen him before. He added he had never heard of him. He did not know what to do with the parcel, as he knew if he took it back to the stores he would get into a row.

Both men were fined 40s, and it transpired that Jones had previously been convicted for purchasing lead in less quantity than the law allowed.

Mr. Wheway said if there were not men like Jones open to receive these things there would be no encouragement for theft."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street £1 1s 0d."

Walsall Observer 3/8/1918

"James Edward Granger, to whom the Licensing Justices on Tuesday transferred the license of the WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, from Edward Wm. Pynor, was stated to have completed 25 years service in the Army."

Walsall Observer 19/10/1918 - Advert

"Wednesday and Thursday Next, 23rd and 24th, October, 1918.

Under instruction from Messrs. W. Butler & Co., Ltd., Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, Leonard C. Philpot will Sell by Auction the Brewing Plants and Utensils at the following Licensed House, viz.:

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall.

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.

WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore, Walsall.

PHEASANT INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.

Comprising 11 Steel and Iron Boilers, various sizes from 100 to 250 gallons, 7 large Oak Mash Tuns, 6 Mash Rules, Malt, Shovels, Copper, Lead and Iron Piping, Brass and other taps, Wooden Platforms, 6 large Cooling Vats, 6 Copper Refrigerators (by Potterton and Keyte), 6 Troughs, 2 Copper Sparges, 2 Copper Attemperators, 6 Hop Backs, 50 casks (various sizes from 36 to 120 gallons), 8 Barm Tubs, 6 Large Fermenting Vats, 2 Underbacks, Rotary Pump and Piping, 2 Avery's Weighing Machines (4cwt and 3cwt), Pulley Rope, and Sundry Utensils.

Order Of Sale

Wednesday, October 23rd

EAGLE INN, 10.30 prompt.

FOUNTAIN INN, 12 prompt.

WALSALL ARMS, 1.30 prompt.

Thursday, October 24th

WISEMORE TAVERN, 10.30 prompt.

PHEASANT INN, 12 prompt.

On View, 9 o'clock, Morning of Sale. No catalogues.

Further particulars from the Auction and Valuation Offices, Midland Bank Chambers, The Bridge, Walsall."

1939 Register

17, Bank Street – WALSALL ARMS (3 of 5)

[1] Thomas Kent, date of birth 4/1/1900, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Elizabeth M. Kent, dob 16/6/1901, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Elsie M. (Kent) Ball, dob 13/2/1924, leather preparer, single;

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, £0 15s 0d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. £1 0s 0d."

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street. £0 10s 3d."

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

"Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall."

Anthony Inns was married to Joy.

See also WHITE LION, Sandwell Street.

Jimmy Chambers was married to Gay.

[2017]

WALSALL ARMS

13, Dudley Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Gameson, tinner, Caldmore, Walsall

Arthur Toon

Henry Hateley, brassfounder, Adams Row, Walsall

John Ganston

William Cousins

Showells Brewery Co. Ltd. [1908]

LICENSEES

Samuel Butler [1841] – 1845);

Mrs. Phoebe Butler [1845] – [1846]

William Bonser [1847] – 1858);

Mrs. Eliza (Bonser) Jones (1858 – []

Richard William Jones [1860] – [1865]

Thomas Hall [1865]

Robert Clenton [1868] – [1870]
Edward Darby [1871] – 1873);
Henry Darby [1872] ?
Richard Parry (1873 – [1877];
Jabez Cousins [];
Thomas Gilliver [];
Peter Cooper [1880] – 188_); [1881]
Arthur Toon (188_ – 1896);
Charles Taylor (1896 – 1897);
Francis Joseph Ross (1897 – 1898);
Caesar Augustus Llewelyn Jenkyns (1898);
Henry Ellingham (1898 – 1899);
Thomas Dixon (1899 – 1903);
William Lane (1903 – 1904);
George Henry Rooke (1904 – 1906);
Henry Anslow (1906);
Joseph William Smith (1906 – 1907);
Henry ‘Harry’ Howell (1907);
Edward Tisdale (1907 – 1908):

NOTES

1841 Census

Dudley Street

- [1] Samuel Butler (29), iron founder, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Phoebe Butler (32), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Hellen Butler (8), born Staffordshire;
- [4] John Parr (20), apprentice, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Benjamin Fletcher (10), ms, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Mary Peal (18), fs, born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/1/1845 - Died

“On the 5th instant, aged 35, Mr. Samuel Butler, of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, Walsall.”

Mrs. Phoebe Butler was also a malleable caster. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 4/4/1846 - Advert

“WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, Walsall.

To be Disposed of by Private Contract, the Licenses and Possession of that Old-established Public House, known by the sign of the WALSALL ARMS, in the occupation of Mrs. Butler; now doing a good out and in-door trade, brewing regularly 12 bushels of Malt weekly.

There is an excellent Malleable Casting Trade attached to the premises, which will be disposed of to the party taking to the public business.

The Rent and Payments very low.

The Furniture, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, &c, and also the Stock-in-Trade in the Malleable Casting Trade, to be taken in the usual way.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. H. Farrington, Auctioneer, Appraiser, &c, Lichfield Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 19/6/1847

“William Hemmensley and Henry Selway were each fined £1 and costs, and Thomas Egligton fined 10s and costs, for having assaulted William Bonser, the landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street. Another person named Hill was also held to bail for participating in the row. The case occupied the Bench a considerable time, Mr. Wilkinson appearing for the complainant, and Mr. Duignan for the defendants. A deal of contradictory evidence was adduced on both sides, which it is not our intention to inflict upon our readers.”

Birmingham Journal 6/11/1847

“William Bonser, landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was again placed at the bar, on a charge of striking a young man named James Wood, on the head with a poker, at one o’clock in the morning of the 25th ultimo. Mr. Seaman again attended to conduct the case for the prosecution, and Mr. Samuel Wilkinson defended the prisoner; the particulars of this case have already appeared in the Journal. Mr. Whimper, surgeon, who attended the prosecutor, deposed to the dangerous nature of the wound, &c. The prosecutor was also in attendance, but he could not give any additional evidence, his back being towards the prisoner at the time he was struck. The evidence having been fully gone into and completed, the Bench decided on committing the prisoner for trial at the next assizes.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/3/1848

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.

William Bonser, a man of respectable appearance, was charged with feloniously wounding James William Wood, at Walsall, with intent to do him some serious injury. The prisoner is the landlord of a public house at Walsall, and the attack on the prosecutor was made with a poker, in his (the prisoner's) own house.

The jury found the prisoner guilty of a common assault; and the learned Judge sentenced him to three months' imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/2/1851

“William Bonser, the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was fined 10s and costs, for having had his house open during prohibited hours on Saturday night.”

1851 Census

Dudley Street

[1] William Bonser (31), publican, born Seckington, Staffordshire;

[2] Eliza Bonser (26), wife, born Sibson, Leicestershire;

[3] John Bonser (6), son, scholar, born Seckington, Staffordshire;

[4] Charles Bonser (5), son, scholar, born Seckington, Staffordshire;

[5] Margaret Elbert (20), house servant, born Roscommon, Ireland:

Birmingham Journal 6/1/1855

“William Bonser, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was charged with an offence against his license on Sunday, the 24th inst. Sergeant Dackus proved the case, and defendant was fined 10s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 3/1/1857

“William Bonser, landlord of a public-house in Dudley Street, known as the WALSALL ARMS on the information of police-constable Childs, was fined 5s and expenses, for keeping his house open for the sale of beer, at two o'clock on Sunday morning.”

Walsall Free Press 9/1/1858

“William Bonser, of the WALSALL ARMS INN, Dudley Street, was charged with allowing disorderly conduct in his house on the morning of the 30th December. Police-constable Wain deposed that about half-past two o'clock on Wednesday morning he was on duty in Dudley Street, when he heard cries of 'Police' and 'Murder,' which he discovered proceeded from the WALSALL ARMS INN, kept by defendant. On his arrival there the door was opened by a woman, who begged him to separate two men who were fighting in the house. The landlord was also rendering all the assistance he could to one of the belligerents to enable him to thrash the other. He (witness) succeeded in parting them, and when peace was restored he left the house. In an hour afterwards he passed the house a second time and again heard cries of 'Murder.' On this occasion on his entrance he found a man named O'Connor lying on his back upon the ground and another man on top of him, and Mrs. Bonser constituted the upper stratum. All were engaged in a general melee. The case was proved by O'Connor, who stated that Bonser and his wife were quarrelling and he went to separate them, when, as a matter of course, he got what everyone gets in similar circumstances – a good thrashing. Fined 5s and costs.”

William Bonser died in the 2nd quarter of 1858.

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1858

“Mrs. Bonser, of the WALSALL ARMS public house, Dudley Street, was charged by Police-constable Moffatt with having kept her house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. The officer said he visited the house about four o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday last and found four men sitting in the malt-house with a quart jug before them. Defendant, who failed to appear, was sentenced to pay 2s 6d and costs. Mrs. Bonser's niece, who appeared for her aunt, said the latter was prevented through sickness from attending the court.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/2/1859

“Thomas Reynolds, a working man, aged about twenty, was charged at the Guildhall, with having on Monday last, assaulted William Bullock, a soldier. The evidence went to show that the two men were on Monday last in the WALSALL ARMS public-house, Dudley Street, when some row ensued, and a fight arose; but it was urged that defendant did, without provocation, strike complainant. This was strongly denied by defendant; but a woman, whose emphatic manner and great volubility of utterance caused some sensation in court, said, 'Please yer Honour, Gentlemen, he knows he did; and when I should pay for it he said, 'Yo can do as yo'd a mind; but we shall swear you out on it if we swear the church steeple down'.' (Roars of laughter). After hearing a witness for the defence, the Magistrates dismissed the case.”

Eliza Bonser married Richard William Jones on 22nd January 1860.

Walsall Free Press 23/2/1861

“Richard William Jones, keeper of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was charged with having his house open and allowing drink to be consumed at an improper hour on Sunday last. Sergeant Childs deposed that he was passing the house in the regular course of his duty, when his suspicions were excited, and he entered the premises. Defendant's wife refused to let him pass upstairs, where he (the officer) heard a good deal of talking and noise going on. Witness accordingly went round the back of the premises, and there saw some men coming out smoking pipes, and looking very much if they had been drinking – some of them, in fact, being drunk. Defendant denied the charge, and said he knew nothing of the men being in his house. He called his servant, Catherine Connolly, who deposed that she had let seven men into the malthouse by the back of the house to get out of the way of the policeman who was coming. She did not know why they wished to avoid the police. They were not drunk, and had no drink on the premises. The Bench whilst admitting that there was much suspicion about the case, resolved to dismiss it, especially as Mr. Jones had not hitherto been complained of by the police.

Mrs. Jones, wife of the defendant in the foregoing case, was now charged by Sergeant Childs with resisting him in the discharge of his duty. The officer repeated his evidence as before, and said that he had the door shut in his face, and admittance to the upper part of the house refused him, by defendant, who placed her back to the door having shut it. Defendant admitted having declined to allow the officer to go upstairs, but said she was not used to forcible resistance, which the officer also admitted. Fined 5s and costs, the Bench remarking that it must protect the police in the execution of their duty."

1861 Census

13, Dudley Street

[1] Richard Jones (36), publican, born Shrewsbury;

[2] Eliza Jones (34), wife, born Sibson, Leicestershire;

[3] Walter Jones (8), son, born Walsall;

[4] Charles Bonser (15), son, born Seckington, Warwickshire;

[5] Fanny Bonser (4), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Alfred Bonser (2), son, born Walsall;

[7] Ann Wilcox (18), house servant, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/5/1862

"Richard Jones, shoemaker, and landlord of the WALSALL ARMS INN, Dudley Street, was charged with having kept his house open for the sale of liquor during prohibited hours on Sunday night last. He called several witnesses to negative the charge, but their evidence failed to make out his defence. The Bench therefore ordered a fine of 1s and costs."

Birmingham Gazette 14/7/1865

"Before Messrs. Thos. Hazledine and H. Highway. Thomas Hall, landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, for having had his house open on Sunday last during prohibited hours, was fined 6d and costs, and the offence had been committed in his absence by his daughter."

Richard Parry = Richard Perry

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

"Richard Perry, landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was charged with filling drink to a drunken man on Sunday night last. The Bench dismissed the case upon defendant paying costs."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/1/1877

"At West Bromwich Police Court on Saturday, before Messrs. G. Heaton and J. A. Kenrick and Mayor Williams, Richard Perry, landlord of the WALSALL ARMS INN, Walsall, and a labourer, named Frank Davis, of Spon Lane, were charged on remand with burglariously breaking into and entering the houses of Mr. Joseph Evans, Hope Street, West Bromwich; Mr. George Reemes, Smethwick; and Mr. Eli Ray, Wattville Road, Handsworth, and stealing therefrom goods to the value of about £15. Mr. Travis appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Underhill (instructed by Mr. Sheldon) for the defence of Perry.

George Reemes, wagon maker, Great Western Road, Smethwick, said that on the morning of the 13th inst, he was sent for from his work, and found that his house had been broken into during the night, and a sewing machine, workbox, overcoat, and other articles stolen. He identified the sewing machine produced as his property.

Detective-sergeant Drury, of Walsall, said that he went to the prisoner Perry's house at Walsall, and there found the sewing machine, workbox, and three coats produced. He told the prisoner that they answered the description of property that had been stolen at Smethwick, but prisoner said he had bought them nine or ten days previously from a man who said that he was on the road from Coventry to Nottingham. On the following day Police-sergeant Astbury came to the house with Mr. Reemes and took prisoner into custody. On the 19th inst. witness arrested the prisoner Davis at the prisoner Perry's house, where he was being detained by another constable.

For the defence in this case, Mr. Underhill called William Batt, John Smith, and Thomas Wittcock, who proved that on the 13th inst. two men came into Perry's house, one of them carrying a bundle, and that Perry bought four coats, the sewing machine, and workbox from them for 30s. The Bench then dismissed the prisoner on the charge of entering Mr. Reemes's house, and also, after hearing, that on entering Mr. Reynolds house.

With regard to the charge of breaking into Mr. Evans's house, evidence was given showing that the house was entered on the night of the 4th last, and a sewing machine, sofa cushion, antimacassar, and an overcoat stolen. None of these articles had been traced except the antimacassar, which was found in Perry's house by Police-sergeants Wild and Drury on Tuesday last. Police-sergeants Wild and Drury had previously examined the footmarks around Mr. Evans's premises, and found them to correspond with those made by the boots which the prisoner Davis was wearing when arrested. On this charge the magistrates committed the prisoners to take their trial at the forthcoming Spring Assizes.”

[In March 1877, the prisoners were found guilty, Richard Perry received twelve months' imprisonment, and Frank Davis, who had been previously convicted received eighteen months' imprisonment.]

1881 Census

Dudley Street – WALSALL ARMS

[1] Peter Cooper (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Patience Cooper (34), wife, born Avenbury, Herefordshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1891

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Alfred [sic] Toon, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his premises, on Sunday, the 25th inst. Mr. J. N. Cotterell defended.

The Chief Constable reminded the Bench that last week a young man named Thomas Smith (16) was found in a drunken condition in Dudley Street, and was fined. As he had just left defendant's house, and been to no other, the summons before the Bench had been taken out.

Smith himself, and other witnesses, were called, their evidence to the effect that four or five of them had two quarts of ale and two quarts of ale and ginger-beer. The magistrate did not agree, and the summons was dismissed.”

1891 Census

13, Dudley Street – WALSALL ARMS

[1] Arthur Toon (52), silver plater, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Toon (50), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Willie Toon (18), son, bricklayer, born Walsall;

[4] Minnie Toon (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph Toon (11), son, saddler, born Walsall;

[6] Jane Toon (18), niece, tailoress, born Walsall;

[7] Alice Frankham (16), servant, dressmaker, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/5/1893

“At the Guildhall, Arthur Toon, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was summoned by the Chief Constable, for keeping open during prohibited hours and permitting drunkenness in the house. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) appeared for the defence.

The Chief Constable said he knew that after eleven o'clock a public house was practically a private house, and that a landlord could not be proceeded against for being drunk in the house after that time; but he had taken out these summonses in order to test whether the landlord was not liable for having drunken men in the house after hours.

The evidence of Police-constable Glover and Detective Harper was that on entering the house at ten minutes after twelve on the 14th inst, they found the landlord and his wife and daughter, and two men named John Toon and Samuel Arrowsmith in the house. The landlord and Arrowsmith were drunk.

The defence was that shortly before eleven o'clock, in the absence of the landlord and his wife, their daughter had asked Toon and Arrowsmith to assist for brewing on the following morning.

The magistrates retired to consider their decision, and on their return Mr. Beebee said they had come to the conclusion that whilst it was a proper case to bring into court, the evidence was not sufficient to warrant a conviction. The summons would therefore would be dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/7/1895

“Harriet Killian, Meeting Yard, was charged by Margaret Toon, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, with having threatened her on Thursday week. Complainant said the defendant use the expression to her, ‘I'll pull you yellow —— heart out.’ It had been used in consequence of her wearing yellow colours.

Defendant said she had been severely assaulted by Toon.

Defendant was bound over to keep the peace for six months, herself in £5, together with one surety of £5; or in default seven days.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/1/1898

“Caesar Augustus Jenkyns, a half-back in the Walsall Football Club, had the license of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, transferred to him.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/12/1900

“Thomas Carter, of Guest's lodging house, was charged with wilfully breaking two panes of glass belonging to Thomas Dixon, of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, doing damage to the amount of 10s, on December 11th, and with assaulting Sarah Dixon, the landlady.

It appeared the defendant came to complainant's house on the afternoon of December 11th, and commenced to quarrel with another man. He was ordered by the landlord to leave the house but he would not go. The landlord, and his wife and daughter tried to get defendant out, and defendant picked up a jug and struck the landlady. He then smashed two panes of glass with his fist.

Fined 10s and costs, and ordered to pay damage of 10s, or in default 21 days.”

1901 Census

13, Dudley Street – WALSALL ARMS

[1] Thomas Dixon (62), managing licensed business, born Coalbrookdale, Shropshire;

[2] Sarah Dixon (62), wife, worker in business, born Ironbridge, Shropshire;

[3] Laura Dixon (20), daughter, worker in business, born Coalbrookdale, Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 1/3/1902

“George Baker, 112, Tantarra Street, was summoned for assaulting Thomas Blower, of 46, Eldon Street, on February 10th. The case was adjourned from a week ago for a witness named Finer, a barman at the WALSALL ARMS public-house, where the assault was alleged to have been committed. The barman, after having been sworn, refused to give evidence until his expenses had been paid, but it was pointed out to him by the Clerk that he should have raised his objection earlier. Finer then stated that he did not see the bother commence, but simply saw the men struggling on the floor. Case dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/5/1904

“Three boys, of 13, named John Rooke, living at the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street; Thomas Dunn, 37, Whitehall Road and Frederick Arrowsmith, 13, Sun Street, were put in the dock charged with stealing a pair of galoshes, value 2s 3d from Albert Share, 16, West Bromwich Street, on May 26th, otherwise with receiving them with the knowledge that they were stolen. Prosecutor identified the galoshes, and said the last he saw them safe at 2 o’clock the previous day. They were then in the window. About 7 o’clock his attention was called to Rooke, who was in custody of the police. He then missed the galoshes from his window.

William Bayley said that, from his shop, which was opposite Mr. Share’s, he saw Rooke and another lad go to prosecutors’ shop. The other boy, who he could not identify, lifted the galoshes from a rail in the window with a forked stick. He dropped them on the floor, and Rooke picked them up. He shouted to them, and they both bolted, but he called some men to stop them, and Rooke was caught.

Police-constable Flynn said that when arrested Rooke made a statement incriminating Dunn and Arrowsmith.

Rooke was sentenced to twelve strokes with the birch, Dunn and Arrowsmith being discharged with a caution.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

“Described as a hame-forged, of no fixed residence, Henry Jacob Jones (50), stood in the dock on a charge of inflicting grievous bodily harm upon Joseph William Smith, landlord of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, by cutting his head with a stone on Monday.

Prosecutor stated that at about 9.45pm on the date named prisoner entered his house and asked for half-a-pint of fourpenny ale, and had a second half-pint after that. About 10.15pm he was interfering with a girl’s hair in the bar, who was a customer, and he told him he would not have that behaviour in the house. He then picked up a jug to throw at him, and he said he would ‘cut his —— eye out.’ He then went round the bar and ejected him from the house after a struggle. About ten minutes later prisoner followed two more men into the house, and he served them with ale. As he was serving the ale, prisoner threw something at him, which struck him on the head at the back of the ear, cutting his ear and head. He became dazed and fell, and was then taken to hospital and had his head dressed.

Arthur Cooke, Upper Rushall Street, stated that he went into the WALSALL ARMS, and had some ale, and sat under the window. He saw prisoner standing by the counter talking to a girl, and heard the landlord tell him he should not allow it, and when he did so prisoner took up the jug and threatened to throw it at the landlord. He came in again after being ejected, and threw something at the landlord, which struck him on the head.

John Fahy, Short Acre Street, gave evidence to seeing prisoner throw a large stone at the landlord, which struck the landlord on the head.

Police-constable Thomas (No.49) deposed to finding the landlord bleeding at the back of the ear on being called to the WALSALL ARMS. The landlord was taken to hospital, and then he attempted to arrest the prisoner, who stated, in answer to the charge, ‘I am not guilty.’ The stone (produced) was handed to him by a customer, who picked it up from behind the bar.

Dr. F. J. Luck (assistant house surgeon at the hospital) deposed to seeing the landlord shortly before eleven. He was bleeding, and on examining him found a cut on the scalp behind the left ear, extending down to the bone, about 1½ inches in length. There was also a small cut on the top of the ear. The cut was in a dangerous position, and the man was not yet free from danger.

Prisoner was committed to the Quarter Sessions, bail being allowed in two sureties of £10.”

[Henry Jacob Jones, who claimed it was all an accident, was sent to prison for two months.]

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1907

“Henry Howell, WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness, and a young woman, aged 18 years, named Emily Hennessy, of 84, Stanisforth Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. S. S. Grundy-Newman defended.

Police-sergeant Evans found two young women in a room at the rear of the smoke-room, and one of them (Hennessy) was very drunk. The landlord said, ‘She has come over with some friends to see me, and has had a drop too much.’

Similar evidence was given by Police-constable Reddick.

A witness named Patrick Hopkins (who gave evidence for the police) was cross-questioned by Mr. Newman to show that he had previously been a police witness at Lichfield, in a case against a Chasetown victualler, named Langley. He denied that he was a police spy. He admitted that he had been in prison for theft, but said he never boasted that he had had to leave Stafford or they would have had him for perjury in a case there. He has not told the landlord that he would leave Walsall if the landlord would give him two shillings.

Mr. Newman said that Hopkins was a police agent, who when out of gaol went about getting a living by acting as spy for the police. The landlord never saw the woman at all till the police drew his attention to her, and then he said 'of course she is drunk and she must go.'

He also asserted that not only was a Chasetown victualler convicted on the evidence of this witness, Hopkins, for an offence against his license, but also for perjury, and that Hopkins was a dangerous and despicable spy for the police.

Henry Howell (landlord) said the witness, Hopkins, admitted to him he had had to leave Stafford where he had made the place too warm for him, and said he that for two shillings he would leave Walsall.

Chief-Inspector Ballance: And you say that his evidence about being in your house is all false? – Defendant: Yes, it is.

Mr. Loxton said it would not be safe to convict on Hopkins' evidence; the magistrates therefore wanted to find out whether the landlord had exercised sufficient care.

The case was dismissed against the both landlord and the girl.

Mr. Newman then applied for a warrant for perjury against the witness Hopkins.

Mr. Bayliss (magistrate): Is it worthwhile?

Mr. Newman: This man is a public danger. He has already got a landlord six months' imprisonment for perjury, and if I had not been here today you might probably have believed him in this case.

Mr. Loxton (clerk): You ought to have got a shorthand note; I won't swear to my notes you know.

Mr. Newman was told he could have a warrant against Hopkins on laying the usual information."

Walsall Advertiser 7/9/1907

"A well-known character named Michael Crosby, was fined 10s and costs for being drunk and disorderly on licensed premises – the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street. Police-constable Ashby (No.55), saw the man enter the house, and on following him he saw the landlord ejecting the prisoner."

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The renewal of the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, had been formally objected to on behalf of the magistrates, on the ground that it was not necessary, that the nature and class of the business was not sufficient to justify the renewal of the license, &c.

Chief Inspector Ballance said there were five licenses in the immediate neighbourhood, and only 22 adults lived between this house and the nearest other license. The licensed portion comprised a bar and smoke room, both of which were somewhat dirty from want of papering, &c. The house was used by a disorderly and low class of people, and was difficult to manage. The street was inhabited by the worst prostitutes in the town, and any strange one coming into town usually took up residence there. It was also the most disorderly street in the town, and there had been 38 convictions in that street during the year.

Cross-examined by Mr. Plumptre (who was instructed by Mr. Grundy-Newman, on behalf of the owners, Messrs. Showell), Inspector Ballance said the house was conducted as well as possible considering the locality – a man who kept the house had his work cut out.

Mr. Loxton asked if there were not a number of houses adjoining which belonged to Messrs. Showell and were occupied by prostitutes.

Mr. Plumptre said they had no notice of any such objection.

Mr. Wood, architect, Birmingham, was called, and he spoke to the suitability of the premises, also expressing the opinion that the proposed alterations (to plans produced by Mr. H. E. Farmer) would be a considerable improvement, whilst not enlarging the drinking area.

Edward Tisdale, the license holder, examined, said the drunkenness which might occur in Dudley Street was in no way due to his house. He was exceedingly careful not to supply people who had had enough to drink, and on three occasions since he took over the house in October he had refused to supply persons who had come into the house drunk, and who were afterwards locked up. Mr. Plumptre said that in the last 20 years there had only been one conviction (and that under the Childs Messenger Act) in respect to the 20 licensed houses of Messrs. Showell in Walsall, which he claimed was proof of the care with which they were conducted. If women of bad character occupied houses belonging to Messrs Showell adjoining the WALSALL ARMS they would undertake to sell the property at once.

After consultation in private it was announced that the decision of the justices was reserved and the case adjourned to the adjourned licensing day, further objections now being taken in open court that it was not in the public interest that this license be renewed, the house adjoining, belonging to the same owners, being inhabited by prostitutes."

Walsall Advertiser 29/2/1908

"The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

The Bench proceeded to hear notices of objection which had been taken by the licensing justices to the renewal of six licences.....

The WALSALL ARMS. The objection to this house in Dudley Street, owned by Messrs. Showell Ltd., had been adjourned for a further ground of objection to be made, that the adjoining houses were occupied by disorderly women and bad characters. Chief Inspector Ballance gave evidence of this.

Mr R. C. E. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. Newman) on behalf of Messrs. Showell explained that the ten houses adjoining belonging to them were let to two women whom Mr. Ballance admitted were respectable, and they had sub-let part of them, but Messrs. Showell had not the slightest knowledge until the last hearing that there was any suspicion as to the occupants; and had since given every one notice to quit.

The renewal of the license was refused on the ground (1) that the premises were not structurally and otherwise suitable; (2) that the nature and class of the business carried on on the premises was not such as to justify the renewal of the license; and (3) that the house and premises adjoining, owned by the same owners, are frequented by persons of bad character. The Bench also refused the plans of proposed alterations.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1908

“Samuel Golby, of Guest’s lodging-house, Dudley Street, was charged with being drunk in the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street, on February 29, and Edward Tisdale, the landlord, was charged with permitting drunkenness. The defence was that Golby was not drunk. Tisdale was fined 140s and costs and Golby 10s and costs.”

The license renewal was refused in 1908.

Walsall Advertiser 19/9/1908 - Advert

“Sale Of A Block Of Freehold Property. Comprising Premises formerly known as the WALSALL ARMS, Dudley Street and Eleven Adjacent Houses.

Mr. Arthur J. Llewellyn had received instructions from the Owners to Sell by Public Auction at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday Evening, the 29th September, 1908, at 7.30 o’clock prompt (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

All that substantially-erected double fronted Dwelling-House and Premises, formerly known as the WALSALL ARMS, situate in Dudley Street, Walsall. The House contains five Bedrooms, Storeroom, and on the ground floor there is a very large room formerly used as a bar; also a room formerly used as a smoke room leading, thereout, and Kitchen. In addition there is a spacious yard at the rear, which is provided with some useful Outbuildings, including two w.c.’s and a very large Coal House. The Property is three storey, has an excellent frontage, being fitted with two plate glass windows, and might be readily and inexpensively converted into a retail shop or shops. The estimated annual income of this property is £26.

Also those Three adjoining Houses and Premises, Nos.14, 14½, and 15 (formerly 13, 14, and 15), Dudley Street, in the occupation of G. Arrowsmith and others. No.14 is let at a weekly rental of 2s 6s and 14½, and 15 are let a 4s 6d, the total being £18 4s per annum.

Also those Four adjoining Houses, situate and being Nos. 30, 31, 32, and 33, Meeting Yard, Dudley Street, Walsall, the whole when let producing the annual income of £26.

Also all those Four adjoining Houses, situate and being Nos.1, 2, 3, and 4, Walsall Arms Terrace, situate at the rear of the above described premises. These houses are at present void, but when let produce £20 16s per annum.

The total annual income of the whole of the before-mentioned Properties is £81.

The total area of the Property is 612 square yards or thereabouts.

For further particulars and plans apply to the Auctioneer, Mr. Arthur J. Llewellyn, Estate Offices, 45, Bridge Street, Walsall. (National Telephone 0208), or to S. A. Newman, Esq., Solicitor, 53, Bridge Street, Walsall (Telephone No.15).”

WALSALL HOUSE

39, Bank Street / Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Moses Salt, Bank Street, Walsall

Mrs. Smalley

Joseph Moses Salt Smalley, Birmingham Road, Walsall

F. J. and A. E. Bayley, Great Bridge

LICENSEES

Thomas Simpson [] – 1872);

Elizabeth Robinson Jones (1872 – 1892);

Thomas Vincent Hawley (1892 – 1899);

James Birch (1899 – 1904);

Arthur Rollason Yates (1904 – 1914);

Annie Elizabeth Yates (1914 – 1924);

NOTES

It was also known as the WALSALL ARMS.

It had a beerhouse license.

Thomas Simpson = Thomas Simson

Thomas Simson, beer retailer, Bank Street. [1872]

1881 Census

39, Bank Street – WALSALL HOUSE

[1] Elizabeth R. Jones (52), married, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Sarah A. Simpson (17), general servant, born Walsall;

[3] Simeon Pedley (68), boarder, born Willenhall:

1891 Census

39, Bank Street – WALSALL HOUSE

[1] Elizabeth R. Jones (64), married, publican, born Walsall;

[2] Joseph R. Bland (36), lodger, bridle cutter, born Birmingham;

[3] Sarah A. Bland (26), granddaughter, barmaid, born Walsall;

[4] Edwin A. Simpson (11), grandson, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/1/1893

“Walsall Town Council.

The report of the Streets Committee stated that the following plans have been approved, subject to the usual conditions, viz. Permission has been given to Mr. T. Hawley to erect a lamp over the footway in front of the WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street. The residents of Grove Terrace having asked that lamps should be placed in that terrace, your committee have replied that as it is not a public highway it cannot be lighted at the expense of the corporation.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1893

“Mary Kelly, Freer’s yard, summoned for being drunk and disorderly in Bank Street on the previous Tuesday night, was put on her good behaviour for eight weeks. Police-constable Martin stated that he ejected defendant from the WALSALL HOUSE, and was subsequently called to the WALSALL ARMS from which he also had to remove her.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1894

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society was held on Thursday.

New Members. Mr. Thomas Vincent Hawley, WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, was elected member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/1/1895

“John Taylor (40), 131 Tantarra Street, bricklayer, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly in Bank Street. Police-constable 52 (Harcourt) said that on Friday night, at 9.25, he was called from Upper Rushall Street to the WALSALL HOUSE, where he found prisoner drunk, brandishing a pint jug, and trying to induce another man to fight. He refused to go away, and on witness arresting him he became very obstinate, threw himself down on the ground and refused to budge. Fined 10s and costs or 14 days.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/5/1895

“Thomas Hawley, landlord of the WALSALL HOUSE INN, Bank Street, is evidently determined to keep his house free from disorderly customers. On Monday week a man named Joseph Michael Flynn, of 3, Gorton’s Yard, was quarrelsome in the taproom and assaulted another customer. He declined to leave, and Mr. Hawley thereupon ejected him. He returned with a demand to be allowed to drink off his beer, and on being refused permission he went outside and threw a stone through a pane of glass in the window. He was fined 10s and costs, or 14 days.

Walsall Advertiser 23/11/1895

“John Taylor (40), 131, Tantarra Street, bricklayer, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly in Bank Street. Police-constable 2 (Harcourt) said that on Friday night, at 9.25, he was called to the WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, where he found the prisoner drunk, brandishing a pint jug, and trying to induce another man to fight. He refused to go away, and on witness arresting him he became very obstinate, threw himself down on the ground and refused to budge. Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days. Mary Agnes Taylor, his wife, was charged with a similar offence.

Police-constable 37 (Bell) proved having found the woman drunk in High Street shortly after midnight on the same day.

She denied having been drunk, and said she was only excited and anxious to get to her husband, who was a ‘good, hard working man.’ In fact, she hadn’t tasted drink for 11 months.

The Clerk (Mr. Newman): Then you must have been making up for lost time.

A fine of 5s and costs, or seven days was imposed.

The woman asked for time.

The Mayor: You’ve been spending money drinking this morning, and you must pay the fine at once.

She said she couldn’t and then created a slight scene by her obstinately slow method of descending the steps, to accelerate which the attentions of several officers and the female searcher were scarcely availing until she voluntarily released her hold of the box ledge.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1899

“On Thursday, Mr. Thomas Hawley, of the WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, entertained a number of friends to dinner. At eight o'clock the guests sat down to an excellent spread, which did great credit to the host and hostess. After the cloths were drawn, the harmony commenced. Mr. Taylor was elected to the chair (the duties of which he most ably performed), Mr. Beaumont being voted to the vice-chair. Songs were rendered by Messrs. Eglington, Bluet, Johnson, Taylor, Cozens, Brannon, Scott, &c. At an interval in the proceedings Mr. Beaumont proposed the health of the host and hostess, which was well received. The company dispersed at 11 o'clock after having had a most enjoyable evening.”

1901 Census

39, Bank Street – Tavern – WALSALL HOUSE

- [1] James Birch (44), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Birch (42), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Hannah E. F. Birch (20), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] John Birch (15), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Howard Birch (11), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Lillie Birch (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Bertie Birch (5), son, born Walsall;
- [8] Ada Birch (3), daughter, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 31/10/1902

“James Birch, a publican, of 39, Bank Street, Walsall, was summoned for furious driving at Shelfield, on Sunday, October 18th. Mr. J. N. Cotterell (J. N. and E. A. Cotterell), Walsall, defended.

PS Heath stated that on the Sunday in question at 8-15pm, he received a complaint from a man whose cart had been run into by the defendant, and in consequence the witness went with the man and another constable on the Lichfield Road at Shelfield. There they saw defendant driving furiously. Witness called upon him to stop, but instead of pulling up he simply shook the reins and the horse went faster. Witness estimated the rate at which the pony was going at fifteen miles an hour. At witness's request PC Challinor went after defendant on his bicycle, and Challinor overtook the man just before he got to Walsall.

For the defence, Mr. Cotterell urged that for the defendant to have been overtaken by a cyclist within a quarter of a mile showed that he could not have been driving at the rate suggested by the police.

Defendant said his pony could not go more than eight miles an hour, and on this occasion there were three people in the trap besides himself.

Henry Walters, a gasfitter, of Walsall, was called for the defence, and he gave it as his opinion that the defendant did not drive more than seven miles an hour.

James Ricketts, a tailor, who was also in the defendant's company, gave corroborative evidence.

Fined 10s and 12s 6d costs.”

James Birch, beer retailer, 39, Bank Street. [1904]

1911 Census

39, Bank Street

- [1] Arthur Rollason Yates (39), publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Annie Elizabeth Yates (40), wife, married 10 years, assisting in business, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Valentine Webster (71), father in law, widower, old age pensioner, retired gardener, born Hyllington, Worcestershire;
- [4] William Rollason Yates (20), nephew, woolen merchant's assistant, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Edward Stringer (37), assisting in the brewing business, born Walsall:

Arthur R. Yates, beer retailer, 39, Bank Street. [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 7/11/1914

“Licensing Court, Tuesday. The following license transfers were granted.....

WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, from Arthur Rollason Yates (deceased) to Annie Elizabeth Yates.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales' National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, Walsall, 7½d.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1915

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday) at the Guildhall.....

With regard to the WALSALL HOUSE beerhouse in Bank Street, which it is proposed to practically re-build at a cost of about £1,000, Mr. S. E. Loxton (clerk) said the magistrates had paid a visit to the premises and would give their decision later on.

The magistrates refused the billiard license, and also refused to sanction the plans for altering the WALSALL HOUSE.”

Walsall Observer 5/2/1916

“The general annual licensing sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday morning.....

Mr. Gordon Hawley, referring to the plans which had been deposited for the reconstruction of the licensed premises of the WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street, said that the present was not a convenient time for extensive alterations, and he asked the magistrates to grant an adjournment for twelve months. He took that opportunity of mentioning that his clients must have the place re-roofed at once, and do certain other work.

The Clerk: But nothing structural.

Mr. Hawley replied in the negative, and added that his present suggestion was only made in order that it might not be thought the application had been withdrawn.

The magistrates agreed to an adjournment for twelve months.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WALSALL HOUSE, Bank Street. £0 5s 0d.”

It was referred to the Compensation Authority.

Compensation was paid on 11th July 1924.

It closed on 23rd July 1924.

Walsall Observer 2/9/1944

“Under the onslaughts of house-breakers another old Walsall inn has disappeared this week. It was the WALSALL HOUSE INN, which stood at the corner of Ablewell Street and Bank Street and adjoined the ROYAL OAK. So far as we know it had no claims to antiquity and no pretensions to historical associations; but it may have had a place in the affections of Walsall citizens of older generations who frequented it. Its license was taken away some years ago and for a long time it has not been inhabited. The fact that after the place had been delicensed the announcement that it was to let was boldly but neatly painted by a sign-writer on one of its walls suggested a somewhat pessimistic view on the part of the owner as to the prospects of finding a tenant.”

WARWICK ARMS

23, Warwick Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

George Duke, Birmingham Street, Walsall

Mrs. Bowler

William Utting

LICENSEES

William Utting [1868]

Ann Shutt [1871]

William Utting [] – [1876];

Benjamin Jefferson [1881] – 1887);

John Rowley (1887 – 1889);

Moses Holt (1889 – 1890);

Mark Field (1890 – 1891);

William Simmons Morgan (1891);

NOTES

Sometimes known as The STORES.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/1/1869

“William Utting, beerhouse keeper, Warwick Street, Walsall, was charged with having on the 23rd December last, had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours. Police-constable Bridgewood visited the house about twelve o'clock at night, and found eight men, and on the table three quart jugs, four pint jugs, and six half-pint glasses containing beer. The Bench after hearing the evidence, sentenced defendant to pay a fine of 5s and costs, as it was his first offence.”

Walsall Free Press 4/9/1869

“On Tuesday a special sessions was held in the Court House, Rushall.....

William Utting, Warwick Street, Walsall, fined 5s and costs, 23rd December, 1868, for having his house open during prohibited hours.....

where the parties had been convicted the applications were adjourned.”

1871 Census

23, Warwick Street

[1] Ann Shutt (51), married, beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;

[2] Elizabeth Utting (20), visitor, dress maker, born Norfolk;

[3] William Waters (36), boarder, harness maker, born Hednesford:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1876

“The undermentioned persons were summoned for the offences named, Mr. Glover appearing for the prosecution in each case, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defence.....

On the evidence of the constables [Wright and Blakeman in plain clothes], William Utting, beerhouse keeper, was fined £2 10s and costs, including 10s 6d attorney’s fee, for permitting drunkenness in his house, the Bench also ordering the license to be endorsed.

John Wright, the man who was drunk in the house was fined 5s and costs, including attorney’s fee.”

1881 Census

23, Warwick Street

[1] Benjamin Jefferson (34), currier, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Elizabeth Jefferson (35), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Joseph Jefferson (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Fanny Jefferson (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Ada Jefferson (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Annie Jefferson (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] William Jefferson (17), brother, currier, born Walsall;

[8] Mary Jefferson (22), sister, servant, born Coseley:

Birmingham Street 8/1/1887

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Mr. Gillespie applied, on behalf of William N. King, brewer, 90, Littleton Street, for an ejectment against Benjamin Jefferson, the occupier of a public house in Warwick Street, called the ALE AND PORTER STORES. The principal point in dispute was whether Jefferson was a weekly or quarterly tenant, the applicant contending that the tenancy had been a weekly one all along, and Jefferson contending that it had always been a quarterly one, but that for some time he had made weekly payments to suit his circumstances. After examining the rent book the Bench came to the conclusion that the tenancy was a weekly one and made the order asked for.”

Benjamin Jefferson – see also FOUNTAIN.

John Rowley was fined £50 and costs and his license was endorsed, on 14th January 1889, for Sunday trading.

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1890

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The business from the annual licensing session last week took place at the Guildhall yesterday.... Mr. Jesses Herbert (instructed by Mr. Gillespie) applied for the removal of the LITTLE SWAN INN, North Street, to other premises at the corner of North Street and Butts Road, or otherwise for a conditional license. The Chief Constable opposed, as did Mr. Cotterell, for the owners and occupiers of licensed premises in the locality, and for Mr. J. W. Harrington, the owner of a large works in the neighbourhood. Mr. Herbert said that plans drawn by Mr. S. Loxton showed that so far from being a gin palace the building would be more of the character of a respectable private house. The Chief Constable took the ground that the value of the license would be materially enhanced if it were allowed to be removed to the new premises, and asked Mr. S. Loxton if he did not think that in the event of the compensation clauses becoming law, and the license not being required, considerably more would be asked to do away with it than to do away with the old one. Mr. Loxton said he really could not give an opinion. Mr. Herbert subsequently said that the client Mr. Utting, would resign the license of the WARWICK ARMS, a neighbouring house if the Bench would grant this application. The Chief Constable said that under those circumstances he would withdraw his opposition. The Bench after a long deliberation in private.....

Sanctioned the plans for the removal of LITTLE SWAN, subject to some minor alterations and to the licenses of the present licensed house and of the WARWICK ARMS being given up.”

1891 Census

23, Warwick Street

[1] William Simmons Morgan (26), polisher, born Walsall;

[2] Charlotte S. Morgan (24), wife, born Walsall;

[3] William S. Morgan (1 month), son, born Walsall;

- [4] Charlotte Morgan (54), mother, widow, born Walsall;
- [5] Harriett Morgan (30), sister, born Walsall;
- [6] Samuel S. Morgan (24), brother, caster, born Walsall;
- [7] Charlotte S. Morgan (11), sister, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] John D. Morgan (29), cousin, general labourer, born Walsall:

The license was not renewed in 1891, by an undertaking to the landlord on the grant of a license to the DUSTY MILLER, corner of North Street and Butts Road on 30th September 1891.

WATERFRONT

Wolverhampton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Greene King Ltd (Hungry Horse)

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2016]

[2017]

WATERING TROUGH

90, Ablewell Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Hickman, Seaton Lodge, near Shrewsbury

Henry Hobson, druggist, Walsall

Stephen Dawson, 22, Birmingham Street, Walsall

Norman Stephen Dawson

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in May 1960)

Punch Taverns (acquired in 1999)

Highgate Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Wright [1808] – 1856)

John Westley [1858] – [1866]

John Charles Green [1868] ?

William Green [1868] – 1896);

Jane Green (1896 – 1900);

Mrs. Martha Mills (1900 – 1911);

Thomas Cox (1911 – 1920);

Norman Stephen Dawson (1920 – 1951);

Gordon Norman Dawson (1951 – 1960);

John Samuel Woodall Gibbons (1960 – [1966])

Kathleen Baker []

Reginald William 'Reg' Turner []

Mark Copson [2010]

NOTES

It was originally the WATERING TROUGH.
HORSE TROUGH [1827]
TROUGH [1872]
YE OLDE WATERING TROUGH

It was known locally as the 'Trough'.

Joseph Wright was also a maltster. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1826 - Advert

"On Monday the 4th of December, 1826, a Grand Procession, to consist of the following united Lodges of Walsall, will take place to St. Matthew's Church, in aid of the Fund for re-building and enlarging the Blue Coat and National School, viz. The Odd Fellows from the BULLS HEAD; Odd Fellows from the ROYAL OAK; Loyal Britons from the TURKS HEAD; the Grand Lodges of Queerfellows from the WATERING TROUGH; Loyal and Benevolent Fellows from the WATERLOO TAVERN; and Loyal Union Friendly Fellows from the SPREAD EAGLE; when the company of any visiting Brother belonging to any of the above Lodges, with their Friends will be esteemed. The Sermon by the Rev. Luke Booker, LL.D. and FRSL, Vicar of Dudley. In the course of the service, several pieces of Select Music from the works of Handel and Kent, will be performed by the Walsall Choir, with Assistants from Lichfield Cathedral. The Organ by Mr. Eyland. Divine Service will commence at eleven o'clock. By direction of the Delegates of the above Orders. Addison Richards, Secretary. Walsall, Nov 22, 1826."

Birmingham Journal 10/10/1827 - Marriages

"On the 7th inst, at Aston, (by the Rev. Mr. Peake) Mr. Joseph Wright, of the HORSE TROUGH INN, Walsall, to Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. Daniel Alblaster, of Rushall."

Birmingham Journal 17/10/1829 - Deaths

"On Wednesday week, Mary Ann, infant daughter of Mr. Joseph Wright, jun., victualler, of Ablewell Street, Walsall."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

"The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion. . . . The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.
Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.
Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.
Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.
Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.
Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.
Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.
Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.
Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.
True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.
The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/7/1834

"The members of the Grand Lodge of Queer Fellows celebrated their anniversary on Monday last, at Mr. Wright's, the sign of the WATERING TROUGH; and the Grand Lodge of Friendly and Benevolent Fellows, at Mr. Thornhill's, the WATERLOO TAVERN, Walsall. The day was spent, at both houses, in conviviality, and much satisfaction was expressed at the arrangements made for their accommodation; the viands, &c, were of the first quality."

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/8/1836 - Died

"On the 28th ult, Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Joseph Wright, of Ablewell Street, Walsall, aged 32, after a long and severe illness, which she endured with the greatest fortitude and resignation."

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/12/1836 - Advert

"A Friendly Ball will be held at the WATERING TROUGH INN, Walsall, on Friday the 6th of January, 1837. Stewards to be appointed.
Ladies' Tickets 3s 6s – Gentlemen's 5s.
Dancing to commence at eight o'clock. Tickets to be had at the Inn."

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/7/1837

“The Friendly Ball, at the WATERING TROUGH INN, took place on Friday, the 6th instant, when a very social party, consisting of about 100, assembled. The room was tastefully and neatly decorated on the occasion, and every face seemed to wear a cheerful expression. The vibrating tone of the harp, mingled with the strains of the other instruments, seemed to inspire the minds of all; and the dancing was kept up till a late hour, when the company dispersed, highly gratified with their amusement.”

1841 Census

Ablewell Street

- [1] Joseph Wright (63), malster, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Wright (63), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Joseph Wright (38), farmer, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Ann Wright (24), born Staffordshire;
- [5] George Wright (20), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Sarah Wright (18), born Staffordshire:

Joseph Wright Jnr. was also a maltster. [1845], [1849]

An omnibus to Wolverhampton left from here three times daily, and twice on Sunday. [1849]

Charles Taylor, a carrier to Aldridge, Stonnall and Mill Green, left from here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 5 in the afternoon. [1849]

Biddlestone, a carrier to West Bromwich, left from here every Friday at 5. [1849]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/7/1849 - Died

“July 6, at the house of his father, the TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall, Mr. Joseph Wright, jun, aged 46 years.”

1851 Census

Ablewell Street

- [1] Joseph Wright (73), victualler, maltster, born Woodhouses, Staffordshire;
 - [2] Sarah Wright (72), wife, born Burntwood, Staffordshire;
 - [3] George Wright (30), son, omnibus proprietor, born Walsall;
 - [4] Helen Wright (24), daughter in law, born Rushall;
 - [5] Helen Wright (19), granddaughter, born Walsall;
 - [6] Helen Wright (7), granddaughter, born Walsall;
 - [7] Helen Wright (2), granddaughter, born Walsall;
 - [8] Joseph Wright (7), grandson, born Walsall;
 - [9] George T. Wright (8 months), grandson, born Walsall;
 - [10] Charles Wright (10), grandson, born Walsall;
 - [11] Marianne Wright (11), granddaughter, born Walsall;
 - [12] Thomas Collins (23), servant, ostler, born Walsall:
- [The census really does say there are three granddaughters called Helen.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/4/1852 - Died

“On Sunday last, aged 35, Mary Ann, wife of Mr. James Dyos, jun., of Walsall, and daughter of Mr. Wright, of the WATERING TROUGH INN, in the same borough.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/4/1853

“A. A. Fletcher, Esq. On Monday last an inquest was held at the WATERING TROUGH, Walsall, on the body of a child of about four years, who died after drinking a quantity of turpentine, it was supposed from the effects of the draught; but a post mortem examination having disclosed that death had resulted from Natural Causes, the verdict was in accordance.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/9/1856 - Died

“On Friday, the 28th ult, at Milton, Mr. Joseph Wright, in the 79th year of his age, for forty-eight years landlord of the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall. His unassuming, benevolent and kind disposition greatly endeared him to his family and neighbours.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1857 - Marriages

“On the 21st ultimo, at Wolverhampton, Mr. Frederick R. Ryles, photographic artist, Burslem, and son of the late Mr. George Ryles, of that place, overseer, to Ellen, daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Wright, of the WATERING TROUGH INN, Walsall.”

John Westley = John Wesley

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/8/1858

“Walsall Permanent Benefit Building and Investment Society. The annual meeting of this society, which had been established for the purpose of establishing or building freehold and leasehold property, and investing small capital, was held at the WATERING

TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, on Wednesday. There was a numerous attendance of members.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/2/1860 - Deaths

“On the 21st ultimo, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. John Ryley, St. John’s Square, in the 82nd year of her age, Sarah, widow of the late Mr. Joseph Wright of the WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street, Walsall.”

1861 Census

90, Ablewell Street – WATERING TROUGH

- [1] John Westley (45), plater, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Ann Westley (42), wife, born Yoxall, Staffordshire;
- [3] William G. Westley (24), son, plater, born Walsall;
- [4] Richard Westley (18), son, saddler, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Westley (15), daughter, spinster, born Walsall;
- [6] James Westley (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Elizabeth Westley (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] John Westley (1), son, infant, born Walsall;
- [9] Henry Kettleown (16), servant, plater, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/7/1862

“Queer Fellows Anniversary Dinner. On Monday last the members of this society, which was established in 1828, celebrated their 34th anniversary at the house of Mr. John Wesley, landlord of the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, on which occasion the members and their friends sat down to an excellent dinner, which was served up in style highly creditable to Mr. Wesley’s establishment. Ample justice having been done to the repast, the secretary, Mr. W. Walker, read a statement of accounts, and the annual report of the office bearers, and from which it appeared that the accumulated funds of the society at present amount to £322 4s 5d, of which sum £105 14s 8d is in the savings bank, £205 in the building fund, and £11 9s 9d in the hands of the treasurer. The present number of members on the books is 65. That the society number no more is rather surprising, as the advantages it holds out are very considerable, while the contributions required are comparatively small. In the case of sickness the relief being 10s 6d per week, while in case of death the funeral money is for members of one years standing £7, two years £8, three years £9, and for four years and upwards £10. The society has also secured a number of hospital tickets for the benefit of members, or their families in case the former not requiring them. The company after spending a very agreeable evening, separated highly pleased both with the proceedings and the satisfactory state of the society’s funds.”

Walsall Free Press 30/8/1862 - Advert

“Queer Fellows Benefit Society, Established 1824.

This Society holds its monthly meetings on the last Monday of every month, at Mr. John Westley’s, the WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street.

Members can be enrolled on application to Mr. Westley, or to Mr. W. Walker, Secretary, 31, Lower Forster Street, either of whom will furnish all particulars as to the benefits to be derived from the Old Established Club.

Entrance fee 2s 6d.”

John Westley was also a plater. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 15/10/1864

“Charles Williams, joiner, was charged with having, on Monday last, stolen a quart measure, value 2s, the property of John Westley landlord of the WATERING TROUGH. The prisoner who pleaded guilty and elected to be tried by the bench, was sentenced to be imprisoned for fourteen days with hard labour.”

Walsall Free Press 29/4/1865 - Advert

“To Be Let, that old-established Public-House, the WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street, the present Proprietor leaving on account of ill-health.

For further particulars apply to Mr. John Osbourn, or on the premises.”

Walsall Free Press 10/2/1866 - Advert

“The Queer Fellows Society, held at the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall.

The above Society numbering 60 members with upwards of £300 Fund, are desirous of receiving into membership, a few respectable Young Men between the age of 18 to 35, the usual Admission Fee being suspended for three months from the present time; each candidate will be required to produce a Medical Certificate from the Society’s Surgeon previous to his being admitted a member.

Further information may be obtained on application to the Secretary, W. Walker, 31, Forster Street.”

Walsall Free Press 7/7/1866 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, (in consequence of the severe affliction of the Proprietor), that Old Licensed Inn, the WATERING TROUGH, situate in Ablewell Street, Walsall, the Sock and Fixtures to be taken at a Valuation. Will not exceed £200.

For particulars apply to Mr. John Osbourn, Auctioneer, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 25/8/1866 - Advert

“Copyhold Old-Licensed Inn, Situated in the very best part of Ablewell Street.

To Be Sold By Auction By H. Farrington, on the premises, on Tuesday, 11th September, 1866, at Six for Seven o’clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be produced; all that Old-Established Old-Licensed Inn, known as the WATERING TROUGH, situated in Ablewell Street, Walsall, in the occupation of Mr. John Westley.

The house contains Bar, Bar Parlour, Parlour, large Dining-room, 5 Chambers, 3 Ale Cellars, Liquor Cellar, Brewery, Cooking Kitchen, capital Lodge-room, 59ft by 15ft 6in, extending in the Yard, with stabling underneath for 30 Horses, large Yard, and other conveniences, with side entrance from Ablewell Street, and extensive Shopping at the back. From recent improvements in this thoroughfare of the town, and others in progress, the above sale presents a desirable investment.

For further particulars apply to John Porter, Esq, Solicitor; or to the Auctioneers, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 25/5/1867 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the old-licensed Inn, the WATERING TROUGH, situate in Ablewell Street.

Stock and fixtures to be taken at a valuation.

For particulars apply to Mr. John Osbourn, Auctioneer, 52, Lower Hall Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 15/2/1868

“Robert Hawley was charged with having, on Wednesday last, stolen 8s 6d from the person of Samuel Mason.

The parties had been drinking together at the WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell street, with three others, and while the prosecutor was asleep on the screen, it was alleged that the money was taken. When the prosecutor went to sleep, the prisoner was sitting on one side of him, and a person named Dutton on the other.

Dutton, on being called said that he saw the prisoner with his hand in the prosecutor’s pocket, and that he took out some money.

The landlady accused Dutton of robbing the prosecutor, and thereupon Dutton went for policeman, who, on searching the prisoner found 1s 8d upon him. As it appeared the prosecutor had but about 6s 6d upon him when he went into the house, and that he had given the prisoner some money, the case was dismissed.”

Walsall Free Press 29/2/1868

“John Charles Green, landlord of the WATERING TROUGH public-house, Ablewell Street, pleaded guilty to having, on the 23rd January last, put to mash a quantity of malt without making an entry of the same in the brewing papers.

Mr. John Wilkinson, supervisor for the district, said in order to enable the Bench to form the correct opinion upon the subject, he would state the facts under which the offence was committed. On 22nd January last, Mr. Joseph Byrne, one of the Excise officers, visited the defendant’s house, and found no entry in the malting papers of any intention to brew. On the following day he (Mr. Wilkinson) – not from any suspicion, but in the ordinary course of business – called at defendant’s house, and found brewing in full operation. He asked the defendant to account for his not having made the required entry in the brewing paper, and called his attention to the first paragraph in the paper, as he wished to ascertain whether the defendant was acting in ignorance of the law. Defendant replied he was aware of the paragraph referred to, and then talked about his good character and matters quite irrelevant to the question. He might state that as the brewers’ licence depends upon the quality of the malt he brews, the Revenue looks for its income from this source upon these returns being correctly kept and entries duly made. As defendant had pleaded guilty, he had no wish to exaggerate the case, and would therefore, refrain from further observation.

The bench, after a short consultation, sentenced the defendant to a pay a mitigated fine of £50, with a recommendation that the penalty be further reduced by the Board of Inland Revenue.

Mr. Wilkinson said he would have much pleasure in forwarding the recommendation to the proper quarter.”

Walsall Free Press 25/3/1871

“On Saturday, the 4th inst, Hugh Broomhall, aged 60, pump maker, Ablewell Street, was forcibly ejected from the WATERING TROUGH public-house, to which he had gone in a state of intoxication and created a disturbance, and as he was being turned out his arm, by some means or another, struck the window, the glass of which cut his hand, and from the effects of the injury he died on Wednesday last. An inquest was held upon the body yesterday, at the ROYAL EXCHANGE, at which the jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death. The Coroner in summing up said Mr. Green, the landlord, was rather to be commended than condemned for having ejected a man in a state of intoxication, instead of supplying him with drink.”

1871 Census

90, Ablewell Street

[1] William Green (45), innkeeper & painter employing 1 man 1 boy, born Walsall;

[2] Ann Green (45), wife, born Walsall;

[3] William Green (26), son, born Walsall;

[4] Harry Green (7), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

“Municipal Election. The Bridge Ward.....

In this ward the contest appears not to have excited so much interest as in the other two. On Friday evening a meeting of Mr. Abel Grove’s supporters was held at the WATERING TROUGH Ablewell Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/9/1878

“John Burke, a cripple, and a notorious disorderly, was charged with having broken a pane of glass at the house of Mr. Green, the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, and also with having violently assaulted the Police-constable Mercer, who had been called in to take the accused away. Nothing was done in respect of the wilful damage, but for the assault on the officer the prisoner was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

1881 Census

90, Ablewell Street – WATERING TROUGH

- [1] William Green (56), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Annie Green (55), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William Green (36), son, painter, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Green (17), son, painter, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary J. Poxon (18), niece, barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 23/5/1885

“Walsall Conservative Association. A well attended meeting of the Paddock Division of the Bridge ward, was held in the large room of the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, on Wednesday night, under the presidency of Mr. Amos Parsons. A lengthy address was delivered by Mr. J. G. Pentland, of Birmingham. The title of the address was ‘What have they done, and what are they going to do?’ The speaker was listened to with great attention and was frequently applauded. At the close, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded him on the proposition of Mr. R. Edwards, seconded by Mr. H. H. Cannell, Central Secretary. A similar compliment was paid to the chairman of the proposition of Mr. Job Wheway.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1887 - Advert

“Walsall Conservative Association. Bridge ward.

A Smoking Concert will be held at Mr. Green’s, the WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street, on Thursday Next, at 8pm. Chair to be taken by Mr. J. Tyrer. T. F. Ferrier, Secretary.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/5/1888 - Local Notes

“There had just been removed one of those old landmarks, relics of the customs and uses of a former age, of which we have none too many remaining in Walsall. The old Watering Trough in Ablewell Street served no very useful purpose in these present days of steam trams and express trains; nor could it by any stretch of imagination be termed a thing of beauty; and as in this utilitarian age sentiment is not allowed to count, why it had to be ‘improved’ out of existence. While not daring to call into question the wisdom of our authorities in removing all obstructions and eyesores from our streets, yet one can be excused for a lingering regret that the exigencies of modern refinement should call for the removal of those links which serve so vividly to remind us of the doings and ways of our great-grandparents. Mr. Councillor Russell on Monday announced to the Council that there had been a difficulty for some years in removing the old Watering Trough, but this had now been overcome, and that day the structure had been cleared away.”

1891 Census

Ablewell Street – WATERING TROUGH

- [1] William Green (66), widower, victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Harry Green (25), son, painter, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Green (28), niece, housekeeper, born Walsall;
- [4] Anne Cross (23), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

On the proposition of the President, it was unanimously agreed that messages of condolence should be forwarded to the families of..... the late Mr. William Green, WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, in their recent bereavements.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The following transfers were granted.....

WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street, from William Green (deceased), to Jane Green.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/6/1897

“A meeting of the brassworkers of Walsall was held at the WATERING TROUGH INN, Walsall, on Wednesday evening, when Mr. Cashmore (deputation from Birmingham) attended to explain the advantages of a union, to which but few of the Walsall men belong. He also pointed out that in the present state of the trade it was hopeless for the Walsall men to think to save themselves from reduction of wages which threatened them. The facts as to wages appeared to be that out of 800 men not a 100 belonged to the society, and the result was that the prices paid were different in every shop. It had become evident that, unless the majority of men combined, ruin to the fair masters and starvation of men must ensue.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was unanimously resolved: 'That this meeting pledges itself to use all the means in its power to induce brassworkers to join the society'."

Walsall Observer 5/5/1900

"The annual meeting of the National Society of Amalgamated Brass Workers was held at the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, on Tuesday night. The President (Mr. W. C. McStoker) was in the chair....."

1901 Census

90, Ablewell Street

- [1] Martha Mills (71), widow, beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] John Moss (50), nephew, iron moulder, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary J. Moss (45), niece, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Moss (13), grandnephew, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah J. Tolley (29), domestic servant, born Brownhills:

1911 Census

90, Ablewell Street – WATERING TROUGH

- [1] Martha Mills (81), widow, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Jane Cox (55), niece, married, licensed victualler (?), born Walsall;
- [3] Thomas Cox (60), married, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [4] Harry Moss (23), lodger, son of former husband, barman, born Walsall:

Martha Mills – see also KING EDWARD.

Walsall Advertiser 18/11/1911

"The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New members. Mr. Thomas Cox, WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street."

Walsall Observer 25/12/1915 - Advert

"By Direction of the Owner (and Licensee who is retiring).

Important Sale Of A Freehold Full-Licensed Public House.

Fox and Harrison, FAI, are favoured with instructions from the Owner (and Licensee) who is retiring, to offer for Sale by Public Auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, On Tuesday, 11th January, 1916, at Seven o'clock in the evening (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society). The Valuable, Well-Known, Old-established, Free, Full-Licensed, Freehold Home-Brewing Public House, known as the WATERING TROUGH INN, 90, Ablewell Street, Walsall. The accommodation comprises Bar, Tap Room, Snug, Smoke Room, Pantry, Five Bedrooms, Club Room upstairs, Cellars, Brewhouse, Scullery, Stabling for 12 Horses, with very large Club Room over, 2 Pigstyes, large Paved Yard, and up-to-date Sanitary Conveniences.

This well-known Inn is one of the best known in the Borough of Walsall. It had been in the hands of members of the family of the present owner for many years. It is situated in one of main thoroughfares in the midst of a hive of industry, consequently the Inn has always done, and is doing a very extensive remunerative and good class trade.

The Inn will be offered entirely free from any trading tie whatever, and possession will be given on completion.

The Valuable Goodwill of the old-established Business as a going concern is included in the Sale.

For further particulars and cards to view, apply at the offices of the auctioneers (where a plan may be inspected), 51, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall; or to Mr. T. Harrison Evans, Solicitor, 45, Bridge Street, Walsall."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street. £1 1s 0d."

Walsall Observer 21/12/1918 - Deaths

"On the 18th inst, at the WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, Mary Jane, the beloved wife of Thomas Cox. Deeply mourned by her sorrowing husband."

Thomas Cox was fined 10s, on 30th December 1919, for selling intoxicating liquor to a child in an unsealed container.

Norman S. Dawson brewed his own beer.

1939 Register

90, Ablewell Street –WATERING TROUGH

- [1] Norman S. Dawson, date of birth 4/11/1897, brewer, licensed victualler, married, ARP duties;

[2] Jane E. Dawson, dob 4/3/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;
[4] Gordon N. Dawson, dob 10/4/1925, at school, single;
[5] Gwendoline H. Lee, dob 2/12/1917, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.
First List of Subscriptions.....
WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street, £5 3s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
WATERING TROUGH, Ablewell Street. £7 18s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
WATERING TROUGH INN, Ablewell Street. £3 16s 10d.”

1951 Probate

“Norman Stephen Dawson, of The Rockery, Skip Lane, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 30 November 1950. Probate London 17 May to Jane Elizabeth Dawson, widow, Peter Stephen Shevyn Dawson, research chemist, and Gordon Norman Dawson, licensed victualler. Effects £30,267 16s 7d.”

Kathleen Baker – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE.

[1980]

Its name was changed to RISING SUN in 1999.

Reg Turner was born c.1948.
He was president of the Kavern Motor Cycle Club.

Mark Copson was married to Tammy.
Tammy was the daughter of Reg Turner.

Its name was changed back to the WATERING TROUGH in 2010.

Express & Star 15/4/2023

“A Walsall pub is giving visitors the chance to get their monster munch on with 90 minutes of bottomless crisps. Taking place every Saturday between 2pm and 7pm, the WATERING TROUGH will put on an unlimited feast of crisps for guests to gorge on for an hour and a half. Enjoying the bottomless crisps will cost £10 and the pub will also provide bread, butter, and sauces so people can build their own butties. A representative of the pub on Ablewell Street said, ‘Are you ready for the best 90 minutes of your life? Every Saturday between 2pm and 7pm, get yourselves over to the WATERING TROUGH. Let us guide you through the most awesome deal for you savoury crisp connoisseurs. From Walkers Cheese & Onion to Roast Beef Monster Munch, we have an array of crisps to munch on. We have bread, sauces and butter to build your own butties! All this for £10! Fill your boots because when we say unlimited, we mean unlimited for the whole 90 mins! Ideal for hen parties, stag dos, birthday parties etc. See you Saturday!’”

[2023]

WATERLOO

24, Marsh Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Whitehouse, wine merchant, Stafford Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

Henry Thornhill [1834] – [1842]
James Whitehouse [1846] – [1851]
John Whitehouse [1851]
Robert Barton [pre 1857]
William Smith [1854] – [1862]
Sarah (Smith) Horton [1864] – [1865]
Richard Horton [1868] – 1872;
John Perry (1872 – [1877]):

NOTES

WATERLOO TAVERN [1826], [1831], [1834], [1846], [1858], [1868]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1826 - Advert

“On Monday the 4th of December, 1826, a Grand Procession, to consist of the following united Lodges of Walsall, will take place to St. Matthew's Church, in aid of the Fund for re-building and enlarging the Blue Coat and National School, viz. The Odd Fellows from the BULLS HEAD; Odd Fellows from the ROYAL OAK; Loyal Britons from the TURKS HEAD; the Grand Lodges of Queerfellows from the WATERING TROUGH; Loyal and Benevolent Fellows from the WATERLOO TAVERN; and Loyal Union Friendly Fellows from the SPREAD EAGLE; when the company of any visiting Brother belonging to any of the above Lodges, with their Friends will be esteemed. The Sermon by the Rev. Luke Booker, LLD and FRSL, Vicar of Dudley. In the course of the service, several pieces of Select Music from the works of Handel and Kent, will be performed by the Walsall Choir, with Assistants from Lichfield Cathedral. The Organ by Mr. Eyland. Divine Service will commence at eleven o'clock. By direction of the Delegates of the above Orders. Addison Richards, Secretary. Walsall, Nov 22, 1826.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1831

“The Coronation. The bells commenced ringing at a very early hour, and in the more advanced part of the day the members of the different lodges assembled in their respective rooms preparatory to joining in procession, in honour of the occasion. The following is a list of the Lodges which formed the procession, and the house at which they are held. They had seven banners waving, and were accompanied by an excellent band.
Senior Lodge of Odd Fellows – BULLS HEAD.
Grand Lodge of Modern Druids – BLACK BOY AND DRUIDS HEAD.
Odd Fellows – ROYAL OAK.
Queer Fellows – WATERING TROUGH.
Two Lodges from the WATERLOO TAVERN.
Loyal Union Fellows – SPREAD EAGLE.
Fellows of Support – TURKS HEAD.
Social Fellows – TALBOT INN.
True Hearted Fellows – MALT SHOVEL.
The procession extended in length to about a quarter of a mile. The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the attendance being more numerous.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/3/1834 - Died

“On Saturday last George, eldest son of Mr. Henry Thornhill, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/7/1834

“The members of the Grand Lodge of Queer Fellows celebrated their anniversary on Monday last, at Mr. Wright's, the sign of the WATERING TROUGH; and the Grand Lodge of Friendly and Benevolent Fellows, at Mr. Thornhill's, the WATERLOO TAVERN, Walsall. The day was spent, at both houses, in conviviality, and much satisfaction was expressed at the arrangements made for their accommodation; the viands, &c, were of the first quality.”

1841 Census

Marsh Lane

- [1] Henry Thornhill (45), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Thornhill (45), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Thornhill (15), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Thornhill (14), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Martha Thornhill (12), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Louisa Thornhill (25), born Staffordshire;
- [7] James Pickering (25), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Ann Bates (15), born Staffordshire;

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/9/1842 - Died

“Early on Thursday morning, aged 48, Mr. Henry Thornhill, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Walsall. The deceased retired to rest on Wednesday night in his usual health.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 26/4/1846

“George Holden of Walsall has retired from the Ring, and has taken the CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL, New Street, Walsall, where he intends to accommodate all friends that wish to give him a call. He takes a benefit tomorrow, at Mr. Whitehouse’s, WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, when he will be assisted by John Lane, Tom Lane, Simmonds, Cotterill, and many more of the Birmingham and Walsall Fancy.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1852 - Advert

“H. Farrington respectfully announces that he has received instructions from the executors of the late Mr. James Whitehouse to Offer by Public Auction, the second week in February, the following very valuable Estates in Walsall..... Marsh Lane. All that old-established Public House, called the WATERLOO TAVERN, late in the occupation of Mr. James Whitehouse.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/8/1854

“William Smith, landlord of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, was on Wednesday summoned to the Guildhall by the police, for wilfully permitting gaming to be carried on at his house; Serjeant Dackus proved the charge, and that the defendant himself was engaged in playing at cards for drink, and the Bench adjudged him to pay a penalty of 40s and costs. Mr. W. H. Duignan, on behalf of the defendant, gave notice of appeal.”

Birmingham Journal 7/2/1857

“About six o’clock on Saturday evening a fatal accident occurred to a butty collier named Isaac Thornton, aged fifty years, an inhabitant of Bloxwich, near the HORSE AND JOCKEY public house. Deceased’s wife had been to the office of his employer, Mr. Harrison, of Brownhills, to obtain money wherewith to pay his workmen their wages, and met her husband at the WATERLOO TAVERN, in Marsh Lane. They afterwards visited other public houses, and were proceeding homewards when they went into the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Bloxwich Road. Deceased called for something to drink, but did not partake, and soon after he and his wife quitted the house. They had proceeded only a few yards when deceased’s foot accidentally slipped, and he fell from the causeway into the road. A butcher, named William Goodwin, was driving a heavily laden cart towards Bloxwich, and being unable, in consequence of the extreme darkness, to see far before him, he drove over deceased, injuring him very severely. In perceiving what had happened he stopped his cart, and conveyed Thornton back to the HORSE AND JOCKEY. He then went for a surgeon, but before such assistance could be obtained life was extinct. An inquest was subsequently held on the body before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner, when a verdict was returned of Accidental Death.”

London Gazette 1/9/1857

“Robert Barton, formerly of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh-lane, Walsall, Staffordshire, Innkeeper, then of Marsh-lane aforesaid, out of business, then of Lichfield-street, in the parish of Rushall, Staffordshire, Dealer in Tobacco and Fruiterer, then of Little London, Walsall aforesaid. Draper’s Assistant, then of Westbromwich, Staffordshire, Draper’s Assistant, then of Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer and Provision Dealer, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer, Provision Dealer, and Omnibus Proprietor, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, out of business, then of the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer and Provision Dealer, Hay and Straw Dealer, Cow-keeper and Milk Seller, then of Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Grocer, Provision Dealer, Corn Factor, Hay and Straw Dealer, Cow Keeper, and Milk Seller, then of the SPREAD EAGLE, Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, Innkeeper and Marine Store Dealer, and late in lodgings at No.113, in Blue-lane Walsall aforesaid, out of business.”

William Smith was also a wholesale ale and porter brewer. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 1/1/1859

“About half-past seven o’clock on Saturday morning, Mrs. Russell, wife of John Russell, chainmaker, Marsh Lane, found her infant, who had been quite well and sucking about an hour previously quite dead. On the Monday following, A. A. Fletcher, Coroner, held an inquest upon the body at the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane; but being compelled by unavoidable business to leave home, he adjourned the inquest till Tuesday at four o’clock, when after hearing the evidence of the mother of the deceased and Mrs. Elizabeth Steel, a neighbour, the jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

William Smith was described as being also a brewer. [1861]

1861 Census

24, Marsh Lane – WATERLOO TAVERN

[1] William Smith (40), victualler, born Sutton Coldfield;

[2] Sarah Smith (35), wife, born Sutton Coldfield;

[3] William Smith (8), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;

[4] George Smith (3 months), son, born Bloxwich;

- [5] Mary Ann Kent (17), general servant, born Sutton Coldfield;
[6] William Gunn (18), lodger, farm labourer, born Horley, Oxfordshire;
[7] Thomas Clarke (21), lodger, miner, born America;
[8] William Crichton (24), lodger, tailor, born Lesley, Scotland;
[9] Walter Macnew (21), lodger, tailor, born Scotland;
[10] Elizabeth M. Smith (5), niece, born Sedgley:

Walsall Free Press 3/8/1861

“A child named Lydia Horton, aged one year and ten months, residing with her parents at the wharf Marsh Lane, met with her death on Sunday morning last, under the following extraordinary circumstances: the mother of the deceased went to the upper part of the house to perform some domestic duties, leaving deceased below stairs with another child aged four years. When Mrs. Horton returned from her work she missed deceased, and on searching for her in the brewhouse, discovered her there, with her face and upper portion of her body immersed in a tub containing about four inches of water. The child was quite dead. It is supposed that deceased was playing about in the brewhouse, when she fell into the water, and being unable to extricate herself, was drowned. An inquest was held on the body, at the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, on Monday last, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, and verdict of Accidentally Drowned was returned.”

Walsall Free Press 15/2/1862

“County Court.....

This action was brought by Mr. William Smith, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, to recover the value of a horse which had been seized in execution in November last, as part of the estate of William Lowbridge, snaffle-bit maker, Birchills. Mr. Duignan appeared for the claimant, and Mr. Glover for the execution creditor. In his opening statement Mr. Duignan said his client had been for years known as a respectable tradesman in the town, and had in the course of his business kept a horse. In July last his horse became lame, and he purchased one from Lowbridge, for which with a cart and harness he paid £12. In about two months afterwards his client's horse got well, and he had not then got much use for the one he had bought, so he frequently lent it to Lowbridge. In November Lowbridge got into difficulties, and at the time an execution was issued against him at the instance of a Mr. Letts, the animal in question was in his possession, and it was seized. The present action was therefore brought to recover the value of the horse. Mr. William Smith, sworn, stated that for nine years he had kept the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane. In July last Lowbridge came to him about a horse and cart he wanted to sell. Witness agreed to purchase the horse, cart and harness for £12. At the time he had occasion to go to Birmingham frequently, because a relative of his was dying there. In consequence of his repeated absences, he left his ready money with a Mr. Capner. When he bought the horse he sent for Mr. Capner in order to get the money, and the £12 was paid in his presence on the 1st July last. The horse remained in his possession about two months. His own horse, which during that time had been out lame, got well, and then he had less need of the one he had purchased from Lowbridge. He lent it to Lowbridge for its keep several times. Lowbridge kept it at times from three or four days a week. In November last the horse was seized by bailiffs of the county court at the suit of one Letts, a creditor of Lowbridge. In cross-examination witness said he did not know much about the law; he only knew that he had bought the horse and paid for it, and he wanted it back or the value of it. Mr. Capner, sworn, stated that in July last claimant had left money in his hands. Remembered the purchase of the horse, cart, and harness. He took the money to claimant, and saw the money paid. That was on the 1st of July last. (The receipt was here put in). Esther Lowbridge proved that the receipt produced was in her handwriting. Her father could not write. Mr. Glover, for the defence, said first that there was no sale; and secondly, that if there was a sale, it was a fraudulent transaction. With respect to the first point, he said claimant had in July last, after the alleged purchase, told the execution creditor that the horse did not belong to him but that it was the property of Lowbridge. Upon the second point he urged that as at the time of the alleged sale Lowbridge was in difficulties, and could not keep up his payments to a judgement, the sale was a fraud on the execution creditor. Mr. Letts was called. In the course of his evidence he stated that about the 14th of July last, he saw Mr. Smith and asked him about the horse and cart. Smith's name was on the cart, and that led him to ask about the horse. Smith said the horse was still Lowbridge's. In November last he saw Smith again, and reminded him of what he had said about the horse. Smith then said 'If I did tell you it was his, I was not obliged to tell you the whole truth.' He had an execution against Lowbridge on the 22nd of June last, but would not seize because he did not want to be hard on him. The horse was first seized by Mr. Hall, but was afterwards given up. Mr. Duignan replied, contending that the evidence all went to support his client's claim. His Honour in summing up said the question for the jury to decide was whether the sale of the horse was a bona fide transaction, or whether it was the transfer of property by a sinking man to evade its seizure by creditors. The jury, after a brief deliberation, gave the verdict for the claimant, for the full amount.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/8/1862

“Mr. Smith, landlord of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, was charged at the Guildhall yesterday before Messrs. H. Brace (Mayor), J. Shannon, and H. Highway, with having attempted to defraud the revenue by having twelve bushels of malt without accounting for it to excise officers. The defendant admitted the charge which was preferred by Mr. W. Gore Reed, supervisor; but stated in extenuation that the omission was the result of neglect caused by his having at the time been suffering from a severe accident, and not from any wish to defraud the revenue. The Bench sentenced the defendant to pay a mitigated penalty of £25, and intimated their intention to memorialize the Commissioners of Inland Revenue to reduce to the sum of £5. Mr. Reed, who had no wish to press the charge unduly, said he should be happy to forward the memorial to the proper quarter.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/8/1863

“John O'Hara, Thomas Narey, sen., Thomas Narey, jun., and James Gordon, were yesterday charged at the Guildhall before

Messrs. F. B. Oerton, H. Brace, and H. Highway, with having on the night of Saturday last, assaulted Patrick Durkin. It appeared from the evidence of the complainant and his brothers Michael and John, went to the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, where complainant left his brothers; but after being absent a short time from the house, he returned, and found his brother John on the ground, a number of men assaulting him. He requested them to desist, and on his doing so they attacked him, knocked him down, and kicked him till he was insensible. In the course of the assault complainant had five of his teeth knocked out. Witnesses were called for the defence, who proved the complainants were the aggressors, and that young Narey did not interfere till the row was over.

After hearing the evidence, the Bench dismissed the case.”

Walsall Free Press 23/7/1864

“Michael Henry was charged with having wilfully and maliciously broken a pane of glass, valued 10d, the property of Mrs. Smith, landlady of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane. A witness, named Ann Mannifold, said that, on Wednesday evening, she saw the prisoner, who was tipsy, come up to the window and put his fist through it. The prisoner, who stated that he was so drunk that he could not recollect what he had done, was sentenced to pay 1s for the glass, and a fine of 5s and costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

Sarah Smith married Richard Horton in the 3rd quarter of 1864.

Walsall Free Press 30/12/1865

“The landlord of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, applied to keep open during prohibited hours, on Tuesday night, because he expected some friends to visit him. Application refused.”

Walsall Free Press 17/7/1866

“Peel’s Loyal Order of Odd Fellows held their annual dinner, on Monday last, at the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane. The spread was an ample and good one, and reflected great credit upon the worthy host and hostess. Loyal sentiments and songs were the order of the day after the removal of the cloth.”

1871 Census

24, Marsh Lane

- [1] Richard Horton (35), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Sarah Horton (40), wife, born Sutton, Staffordshire;
- [3] William Smith (16), stepson, printer’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] George Smith (10), stepson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Mercy E. Smith (15), niece, barmaid, born Deepfields, Sedgley;
- [6] Harriet Kitch (18), niece, domestic servant, born Darlaston;
- [7] Henry Dillworth (24), boarder, basket maker, born Kenilworth;
- [8] William Bayliss (46), boarder, blacksmith, born Sutton, Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1872

“Richard Horton, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors after ten o’clock at night on Sunday night last. The defendant pleaded guilty, stating, in extenuation, that the jug of ale he was charged with selling in consequence of the improprieties of a neighbour, who had got a friend from a distance to supper with him. The defendant who received an excellent character from the Chief Superintendent of Police, was fined the minimum penalty of 20s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/1/1876

“On Tuesday, Mr. Fletcher, held an inquest at the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, on the body of Jane Dermant, 38. The evidence showed that the woman had lived in a court at the back of the tavern with a man named Smith. On Christmas Eve she was carousing until long after midnight, when she went to bed with Smith and her sister, and at one o’clock on the following day was found dead by the side of her companions. She had been unwell for a month before. Verdict, Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/1/1876

“At the Guildhall, yesterday, Richard Horton, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, was fined 20s and costs (his license not to be endorsed, in consequence of his previous good character) for having allowed drunkenness and disorderly conduct in his house on Tuesday.

Jane Durkin and Michael Henry, two of the drunken persons, who did not appear, were sentenced to one months’ imprisonment each; and Mary Moffatt, a third party, was fined 5s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/9/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Session.....

The applications of Richard Horton, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, were further adjourned till the 9th of October. In the course of the proceeding the Mayor said the newly-added district of Ryecroft had occasioned the Bench a great deal of trouble, chiefly through the drinking propensities of the inhabitants of that locality, and the magistrates had therefore received special instructions as to looking up the licensed houses in the district.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/10/1876

“Adjourned Licensing Meeting. The suspended licenses of William Allen, the RODNEY, Park Street; Samuel Horton, the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane; and Henry Lynex, the HARE AND HOUNDS, Upper Rushall Street, were renewed.”

John Perry was fined £5 and costs, on 15th December 1876, for permitting drunkenness.
He was fined 10s and costs, on 4th June 1877, for permitting drunkenness.

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/12/1876

“Richard Horton, of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Lane, was summoned for permitting drunkenness in his house on the 5th inst. Mr. Glover defended.

Police-constable Mercer proved the case, and deposed to finding a man of violent character drunk in the house. When he asked for the landlord he was told he had had ‘a sup’ and gone to bed. The defence was that the man was in the house against the permission of the defendant, and that the latter on the day in question was suffering from a bilious headache, and not the effects of drink. A fine of £5 and costs was imposed, the Mayor remarking that the Bench had hesitated as to whether they ought to endorse the license as well.”

Birmingham Gazette 20/3/1877

“The Artisan’s Dwelling Act In Walsall. An inquiry directed by the Local Government Board was re-opened yesterday morning, by Lieut.-Col. Ponsonby Cox, at the Guildhall.....

[This inquiry was to investigate the compulsory purchase of an area of existing buildings, between Stafford Street and Wolverhampton Street, demolish them and to erect new dwellings.]

There were 100 houses, full-licensed house 5, beerhouses 2, privies and ashpits 50 – of these 17 are under dwelling houses, workshops, or passages leading to them. The other buildings are 6 houses and shops combined, 16 workshops, 1 office, 1 pawnshop, 3 stores, 10 void houses, 1 bakehouse, 5 sheds, 5 stables, 1 butcher’s shop, 1 confectioner’s shop, 1 school, 2 pigsties. The streets in the area were narrow and irregular; the houses had no back doors situate in and out of courts; courts open at one end only, and some of them being only three feet across, hence the impossibility of providing proper privy accommodation.....

Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, owner of the WATERLOO TAVERN, examined by Mr. Williams, said that he recently spent £80 or £90 on that house. In reply to Mr. Glover, witness said the privy went under the back parts of someone’s property. He did not know that there were bed rooms that were over privies. There were pigsties under the house.”

Closed

It was demolished in the 1870s.

Walsall Advertiser 18/12/1880 - Advert

“Borough Of Walsall. Artisan’s Dwelling Scheme. Building Materials.

To Be Sold By Private Contract, all the Bricks, Timber, Stone, Ironwork, and other materials forming and belonging to the WATERLOO TAVERN, and a number of other Houses situate in and near Marsh Lane, Green Lane, and Town’s-end Bank. The Building Materials will be sold in Lots to suit the convenience of purchasers.

For further particulars and terms apply to Mr. W. J. Boys, Borough Surveyor.

Samuel Wilkinson, Town Clerk, Walsall, 17th December, 1880.”

Lichfield Mercury 1/4/1881

“At the Guildhall, on Monday, John Connolly, John Quinn, Miles Loyden, and John Durkin, youths of about 17, who had been found smashing the gates of the WATERLOO TAVERN, Marsh Green, one of the properties bought by the Corporation for the purposes of the Artisans’ Dwelling Act scheme – were convicted under the Vagrancy Act, and sentenced, Loyden, who had been ‘in trouble’ several times before to two months’ imprisonment, with hard labour, and the others to fourteen days’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1882

“Walsall Town Council.

Report of the General Purposes Committee.....

On the motion of Alderman Brewer, seconded by Councillor Kirkpatrick, it was further resolved, on the recommendation of the same committee, ‘That the Council allow the licenses of the five alehouses, viz, the ODD FELLOWS ARMS, the ROYAL GEORGE, the SPREAD EAGLE, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, and the WATERLOO TAVERN, and the beerhouse, the BOAT INN, purchased for the purposes of the Artisans’ Dwelling Scheme, to lapse, it being considered that there is in the neighbourhood an ample number of licensed houses to meet the requirements of the district.’ This was unanimously agreed to.”

WELCOME STRANGER

Hawbush Road (Lane), Forest Estate, Leamore, WALSALL

OWNERS

Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Cyril Dennis Morris (1960 – 1962);
John Hogg (1962);
James Platt (1962 – 1963);
Frank Harold Newell (1963 – 1964);
George Edward Steed (1964 – 1966);
William Edward Giles (1966 – 1967);
George Malpass (1967 – [1968])
David John Jones [1990s]

NOTES

It opened on 14th December 1960.
The license was originally granted from the RED LION, Blue Lane.

Walsall Observer 16/2/1968

“The dominoes teams at the WELCOME STRANGER public house, Hawbush Road, Leamore, exchanged dominoes for fancy dress on Saturday evening when they held a St. Valentine’s fancy dress competition. 50 turned out in fancy dress and the first prize, a canteen of cutlery, went to Mr. P. Greatrix, of the Forest Estate, who was dressed as a clown. The competition was arranged by the licensee, Mr. George Malpass and his wife, to ‘brighten up the evening,’ and proceeds from contests went to the dominoes teams funds.”

London Gazette 17/11/1994

“Jones, David John, trading as WELCOME STRANGER, occupation unknown, of Hawbush Road, Forest Lane, Leamore, near Walsall.
Court – Walsall.
Date of Filing Petition – 4th August 1994.
Date of Bankruptcy Order – 30th September 1994.
Whether Debtor’s or Creditor’s Petition or Petition after Criminal Bankruptcy Order – Creditor’s.”

Closed

It was demolished in 2004.
Housing was built on the site.

WHARF 10

Town Wharf, 10, Wolverhampton Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Highgate Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Michael Cryan [2002]
Colin Joesbury []

NOTES

[1998]

It was designed by London based architects Sergison Bates as part of the refurbishment of the area around the Town Wharf, which also included the new Art Gallery.

It won CAMRA's Pub Design Award (New Build) in 1998.

[2017]

WHEATSHEAF

599, (597), (319+321), Bloxwich Road, Broadstone, Leamore, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Ann Beddows, widow, Birchills Street, Walsall
Eli Beddows, Cecil Street, Walsall
Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Thomas Burton [1872];
Edward Beech [1877] – [1881];
Andrew Cozens [1888]
Mary Beech [1891] – 1901;
Henry Welsh (1901);
Enoch Bunney (1901 – 1906);
William Wootton (1906 – [1917]
Mrs. Annie Wootton [1933]
Edward Egan [1939] – [1940]

NOTES

319+321, Bloxwich Road [1881]
321, Bloxwich Road [1891]
597, Bloxwich Road [1901]
599, Bloxwich Road [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/5/1877

“Edward Beech of the WHEAT SHEAF, Broadstone, beerhouse keeper, was summoned for having permitted drunkenness on his premises on the 21st May. Mr. Chidley (from Messrs. Duignan and Co.) appeared for the defence.

Sergeant Martin and Police-constable Bull deposed that they visited the house, and met one drunken man leaving and found another inside. The one onside had a pint cup with porter in it, and the officers stated that the landlady said it had been supplied to him by her little nephew. The two men who were fined at this Court on Monday were also called by the police, and one of them denied he had been drinking, while the other swore that he was only in the house a few minutes, and neither asked nor had any drink supplied to him. He had one drink, but that was out of a cup belonging to a lodger in the house.

Mr. Chidley having addressed the Bench for the defence, called the defendant's wife, who swore that the first man was turned out because he was quarrelsome, and that until the arrival of the police she had not known of the second being there, as she and others about the house were busy with a club supper. He certainly was not supplied with drink.

The Bench thought the case proved, and fined defendant 20s and costs, the license not to be endorsed.”

1881 Census

319 and 321, Bloxwich Road – WHEAT SHEAF

- [1] Edward Beech (58), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary Beech (54), wife, born Potteries, Staffordshire;
- [3] John Beech (33), son, coal miner, born Ryecroft, Staffordshire;
- [4] Thomas Edwin Beech (7), grandson, scholar, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 2/9/1881

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough took place at the Guildhall, on Friday.....

Mr. Loxton (instructed by the Licensed Victuallers’ Association) opposed every one of the subsequent applications.....
Edward Beech, the WHEAT SHEAF, Leamore, to sell wine on the premises (supported by Mr. Brookes). Refused.”

Lichfield Mercury 10/8/1888

“It has been rumoured that the Bloxwich wakes, which have for two years been so popular, will soon be a thing of the past, and that the old traditional wake ground – i.e. The Green – will be laid out as recreational grounds and park. In order to give a Roland for an Oliver, it is the intention of several gentlemen from Bloxwich to revive the race meeting which in olden times was very popular among the Walsall and Bloxwich people. The last race meeting ever held in Bloxwich took place on August 20 and 21, 1886. Circulars accordingly issued announcing a meeting to be held at Mr. A. Cozens’, the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold Bank [?], Bloxwich, on Thursday week, but owing to a severe storm which burst over the town at night, the meeting was not so well attended as was anticipated. Among those present were Mr. T. Lester, Treasurer; Mr. E. Brayford, hon. secretary, VICTORIA VAULTS, High Street, Bloxwich; Mr. A. Collins, Mr. A. Harper, Mr. E. Twoe, Mr. E. Pike, Mr. A. Cozens, &c., the latter occupying the chair.

The Hon. Secretary read the subscriptions list over, which was very promising, and suggestions were made, but owing to the non-arrival of several gentlemen nothing definite was done in the shape of arranging the amount of money to be given or the names of the various races.

The Chairman proposed, and it was seconded by Mr. Harper, that the meeting be adjourned until Monday night next, and be held at Mr. E. Brayford’s, the VICTORIA VAULTS, which was carried nem con.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1888

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, Andrew Cozens, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, was summoned for being drunk on his own licensed premises on the 17th and 18th November, and with permitting drunkenness there on the 28th of the same month. Mr. Gillespie, who appeared for the defence, pleaded guilty; but by the desire of the Chief Constable, Police-sergeant Mercer was called. He deposed that on the last-named day he went into the house, and found a drunken man asleep there, and the landlord was drunk in another part of the house.

Mr. Gillespie said the defendant had had domestic trouble, which had called him to resort to the bottle, but he had decided to give up the house. He formerly kept another house in the borough for seventeen years without complaint.

The Bench ordered defendant to pay costs in the first case, and a fine of 5s and costs in the second, and a fine of 20s and costs in the third, making £2 13s altogether.”

1891 Census

321, Bloxwich Road

- [1] Mary Beech (63), publican, born Potteries;
- [2] John Beech (53), son, collier, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Thomas Beech (17), grandson, bridle bit filer, born Bloxwich;
- [4] John Beech (13), grandson, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Eliza Beech (9), granddaughter, scholar, born Bloxwich:

Mary Beech, beer retailer, Leamore. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 11/7/1896

“Mary Beech, WHEAT SHEAF INN, Broadstone, Bloxwich, was charged with having opened her licensed premises during prohibited hours on Sunday night. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Police-sergeant Marshall said he saw a girl go to the defendant’s house at 10.45 and return with beer.

Mr. Jackson admitted the facts, but thought that an explanation would show no offence had taken place. The defendant’s married daughter lived only a short distance away, and Mrs. Beech had been in the habit of sending beer at different intervals. The beer in question was given to the girl.

Several witnesses were called to support the statement, and eventually the case was dismissed.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

“The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Beer Retailers.....

Mary Beech, WHEAT SHEAF, Leamore, July 10th, 1895, opening her licensed premises during prohibited hours, dismissed.”

1901 Census

597, Bloxwich Road – WHEATSHEAF INN

- [1] Henry Welsh (34), licensed victualler (beerhouse), born Aldridge;
- [2] Agness Welsh (31), wife, born Walsall:

Enoch Bunney, beer retailer, Leamore. [1904]

William Wootton = William Wootten

William Wootton married Annie Rogers in the 3rd quarter of 1900.

Lichfield Mercury 24/6/1910

“A remarkable case of alleged attempted murder and suicide took place at Bloxwich on Sunday night. A carter named William Sperrings (27), of Bloxwich Road, Leamore, went out for a walk with a young woman to whom he was engaged, named Miriam Ison, of Cope Street, Leamore. They were accompanied by a young woman, a friend of Ison’s, named Martha Simmons, of Green Lane. When in Bloxwich Road, Leamore, Sperrings put his arm around his sweetheart’s neck under the pretence of caressing her; but it was alleged that, unobserved by the women, he had taken a razor out of his pocket, and then drew it across Miss Ison’s throat. Her companion, on seeing what had happened, screamed, and tried to push Sperrings away, and in doing so her right thumb was slightly cut. There were very few people about at the time, but fortunately a local publican named William Wootton, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Leamore, had just passed by. He knew Sperrings, and the latter, who accosted him, then appeared on good terms with his sweetheart, and there was nothing in his demeanour to attract notice. Just afterwards, however, Wootton heard screams, and, turning round, saw the woman Simmons struggling with Sperrings. He at once ran to her help, and seeing Sperrings and Ison were bleeding, and that the former had an open razor, he at once closed with Sperrings, who offered a desperate resistance, and it was only by throwing him to the ground that Wootton was able to dispossess him of the weapon. A tramcar came up at the time, and the men in charge helped Wootton to detain Sperrings, who was afterwards handed over to the police. He was at once taken to the surgery of Dr. Berry, who found the wound in his throat to be serious, and it was necessary to put in five stitches. The injured man was then removed on an ambulance to Walsall Hospital, where he lies in a rather dangerous condition. Miss Ison was also attended by Dr. Berry, who stitched her throat up and bandaged cuts on her fingers. She was then allowed to go home; and in her case no danger is apprehended. It is believed that the alleged attack was due to some differences that had arisen between Sperrings and his sweetheart.”

[William Sperrings appeared at the Stafford Assizes in November, 1910, was found guilty of grievous bodily harm, and pleaded guilty to attempted suicide, and was sentenced to nine months’ imprisonment.]

1911 Census

599, Bloxwich Road, WHEATSHEAF INN

- [1] William Wootton (36), beerhouse keeper, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Annie Wootton (34), wife, married 11 years, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Doris Mary Wootton (9), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Annie Taylor (16), servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 31/5/1913

“Joseph McMuginess (29), labourer, of 56, Dudley Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly in Bloxwich Road, Leamore, on May 24th, and with wilfully damaging a pane of glass valued at 6/- at the WHEAT SHEAF, Leamore. Prisoner said he ‘did not remember.’

Police-sergeant Cattermole gave evidence of prisoner’s drunkenness, and arrest, and said he had to get a hand barrow to convey him to the station.

Mr. William Wootton, licensee of the WHEAT SHEAF said he told the prisoner, who was drunk, to get out of the house. Prisoner refused, so witness had to put him out. Prisoner then put his cap over his fist and pushed it through the window. Witness then sent for the police.

Fined 5/- and costs and ordered to pay damages.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WHEAT SHEAF, Leamore, 9s 9d.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1917

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Wm. Wootton, WHEAT SHEAF INN, Leamore, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHEATSHEAF INN, Bloxwich Road. £1 9s 4d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/1/1933

“A verdict of Death from Bronchial Pneumonia, accelerated due to a fall, was returned at an inquest, on Wednesday, on Wm. Rogers (84), formerly a collier, who lived with his daughter, who is the licensee of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Leamore, Bloxwich. It was stated that the deceased had a fall on New Year’s Day, and his daughter found him in his bedroom bleeding from a wound in his head. He told her not to worry, as he would soon be all right, and Dr. McCall said deceased joked with him when he was stitching the wound behind the ear. Death occurred on Sunday.”

1939 Register

599, Bloxwich Road

- [1] Edward Egan, date of birth ?/10/1879, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Ellen Egan, dob 18/10/1883, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Edmund Egan, dob 31/3/1912, constructional engineer, sheeting section, heavy work, single;
- [4] Kathleen (Egan) Cole, dob 5/6/1915, secretary, shorthand typist, single;
- [5] Bernard Egan, dob 20/10/1917, constructional engineer, sheeting section, heavy work, single;
- [6] Eileen M. Cocken, dob 22/6/1910, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [7] Maureen Cocken, dob 5/12/1936, under school age, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WHEAT SHEAF INN, Leamore, £0 11s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHEATSHEAF INN, Leamore. 31 16s 6d.”

Laura Poole married a Mr. Ratcliffe c.1949.

WHEATSHEAF

35, The Pinfold, (Pinfold Bank), (Field Road), BLOXWICH

OWNERS

George Bird, butcher, Bloxwich (later at Red House Farm, Great Barr)
Bloxwich Brewery Ltd. [1901]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1997]
Marstons Ltd.

LICENSEES

W Pinches [1858]

William Purchase [1834] – [1870]

Mrs. Elizabeth Purchase [] – 1869)

William Warner [1870] – [1872];

George Bird [1881] – 1887);

Isaiah Millington (1887 – 1890);

Charles Gustav Tofte (1890 – 1891);

James McLean (1891);

Herbert Williams (1891 – 1893);

Robert Butler (1893 – 1894);

George Walter Fox (1894 – 1895);

Alfred Pearce (1895 – 1896);

Edgar John Palmer (1896);

Alfred James Cox (1896 – 1898);

John Leverton (1898 – 1899);

Edwin Corbett Walker (1899 – 1901); manager

William James Fryer (1901 – 1905);

Howard Jayes (1905 – 1909);

Charles Henry Caffyn (1909 – 1915);

Levi Wilkes (1915 – 1920);

Frederick Francis Dando (1920 – 1924);

Thomas Fern (1924 – 1928);

William Henry Poole (1928 – 1943);

Laura (Poole) Ratcliffe (1943 – 1957);
Arthur Lane (1957 – 1965);
Raymond Cooksey Boucher (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

Pinfold Bank [1849], [1851], [1861]
35, Pinfold [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]
Field Street [1895]

It dated from the Tudor period.

The present building dates from the 19th century.

1841 Census

Pinfold

[1] William Purchase (45), publican, born Staffordshire;
[2] Elizabeth Purchase (35), born Staffordshire:

1851 Census

Pinfold Bank – WHEAT SHEAF

[1] William Purchase (56), victualler, born Brewood, Staffordshire;
[2] Elizabeth Purchase (47), wife, born Brinsford, Staffordshire;
[3] George Fowler (33), lodger, born Bloxwich, dumb:

1861 Census

Pinfold Bank – WHEAT SHEAF

[1] William Purchase (66), publican, born Brewood, Staffordshire;
[2] Elizabeth Purchase (56), wife, born Featherstone, Staffordshire:

Elizabeth Purchase, widow, died on 9th July 1869.
Executors of her will were Thomas Hobdey and Joseph Hobdey.

Walsall Free Press 24/7/1869 - Advert

“Sale at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Little Bloxwich Road.

To Be Sold By Auction, by Messrs. Farrington & Son (on the Premises as above, by order of the Executors of the late Mrs. Purchase), on Monday Next, July 26th, 1869, all the useful Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, Stock-in-Trade, and Effects, comprising 4-post and Tent Bedsteads, Mattresses, Spring Mattresses, Fine Feather Beds, Mahogany Chest of Drawers, Mahogany Tables, pair of Mahogany Card Tables, German make; Tables, Chairs, Carpets, quantity of Spirits, and a variety of other useful Effects.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock. Conditions as usual.”

Walsall Free Press 18/9/1869

“This being the adjourned licensing day, those parties whose licenses had been either suspended or refused, again put in applications....

Mr. Glover applied on behalf of Messrs. T. and J. Holliday, trustees under the will of Mrs. Purchase, for a transfer of the license of the WHEAT SHEAF public house, Bloxwich. Application granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/2/1870

“Thomas Bryan, lockmaker, Bloxwich, was fined 20s and costs, with the option of 14 days’ imprisonment, for having been disorderly on the Previous Monday night at the house of Mr. Warner, the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich.”

1871 Census

WHEATSHEAF Public House

[1] William Warner (38), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
[2] Mary Warner (34), wife, born Walsall;
[3] William Warner (11), son, born Walsall;
[4] Ann Warner (6), daughter, born Leeds, Yorkshire;
[5] Mary Warner (5), daughter, born Bloxwich;
[6] John Warner (6 months), son, born Bloxwich;
[7] Hannah Warner (15), boarder, born Bloxwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/11/1875 - Advert

“To Be Sold, that well-known Old-established Public-House, the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich, with good yard, cow-house, and three-stall stable, and loft over the same, with an excellent pump of water on the premises, doing a good business and changed hands only once the last 30 years. Also a cottage adjoining the same.

For further particulars and to treat for the same, apply to Mr. George Bird, Butcher, Bloxwich, near Walsall.”

1881 Census

35, Pinfold – WHEAT SHEAF

- [1] George Bird (45), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Susan Bird (42), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] George T. Bird (17), son, in leather trade, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Lizzie Bird (16), daughter, born Bloxwich;
- [5] Albert E. Bird (10), son, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Flora Bird (8), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Nellie G. Bird (4), daughter, scholar, born Bloxwich;
- [8] Sarah A. Blosson (?) (18), general servant, born Bloxwich:

Lichfield Mercury 6/7/1883

“The thunderstorm of Friday afternoon was followed early on Saturday morning by another of greater violence.....

In the neighbourhood of Walsall the storm raged with exceptional severity. The peals of thunder succeeded each other rapidly, one of a terrific character soon after half-past one, being immediately followed by a remarkable lowering of temperature, the lightning was exceptionally vivid, and during the greater part of an hour there was a perfect deluge.

At the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich, a chimney fell upon the roof, and broke through into the club room, the debris fortunately missing the bed rooms, in which members of the family were sleeping.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/2/1884 - Advert

“Bloxwich. To Be Sold, by Private Contract, a nice Corner Piece of Freehold land (cheap), situate near Leamore Mission Room. Apply, Mr. G. Bird, WHEATSHEAF INN, Bloxwich.”

1891 Census

35, Pinfold

- [1] James McLean (40), innkeeper, born Scotland;
- [2] Emma McLean (41), wife, born Northampton;
- [3] William P. Pugh (16), visitor, checker, born Northampton;
- [4] John G. Pugh (15), visitor, checker, born Northampton;
- [5] William True (54), visitor, traveller, born Northampton:

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1894

“The following temporary authorities were granted.....

George Walter Fox, WHEAT SHEAF, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/5/1895

“Mary Ann Cooper (41), 9, Barracks Lane, Blakenall, was charged with having done wilful damage to the amount of £14 to windows, the property of Alfred Pearce, landlord of the WHEAT SHEAF INN Bloxwich.

On Monday evening the prisoner went into the house and sat down without ordering anything. She began to behave in a disorderly manner and was put outside. She at once commenced to throw stones at the windows, and on the landlord going out she threw two others and broke both the large panes. Mr. Cutler, Park Street, valued the damage at £14. The panes were 7 inches by 20, of ¼ inch plate, worth 2s a foot, while the embossing was worth another 1s 6d a foot. The broken glass was of no value at all. Prisoner said she did not throw the stones at the windows, but at the man who had thrown her down the steps. She also said that the holes were only small ones. The amount of damage being over £5, the Bench had no power to deal with the case, and the prisoner was committed to the Sessions for trial.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/6/1895

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.

Mary Ann Cooper (41), married woman, 9, Barracks Lane, was indicted for having maliciously committed damage to the amount of £15 upon two windows, the property of Alfred Pearce, landlord of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich. She pleaded that she ‘threw stones at the man, and not at the windows.’

Mr. Edwards prosecuted, and in opening, said that as the woman threw stones recklessly and wilfully she was guilty of the offence charged. His case was, however, stronger – that she threw stones at the windows deliberately.

Alfred Pearce said that on the 20th May the prisoner came to the WHEAT SHEAF and commenced a disturbance. She was ejected, and immediately picked up a stone, and threw it at the window, which she broke. She then picked up another stone and threw it at the other window, which she also broke. He asked what she was doing, and she replied she would ‘smash the —— lot.’ The damage was estimated by Mr. Cyrus Cutler at £14.

The Recorder said that the jury must decide whether her plea was consistent with her avowed declaration, expressed by her in language ‘visible and audible,’ to demolish the whole of the windows.

The jury, without hesitation, found her guilty, and the Recorder said he regarded the case as a very serious one. Prisoner had been continually convicted of drunkenness, and three times of assault, and though he was loth to pass what might seem a very heavy penalty he felt he was bound to do so considering the very bad record against her, dating with great regularity from 1891 downwards. He hoped the time she was in prison would enable her to lose her taste for drink. He sentenced her to six months' imprisonment with hard labour, and warned her that if she came up again before him she would be very much more severely dealt with."

Walsall Advertiser 19/10/1895

"Alfred Pearce, WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, was charged with permitting gaming on his licensed premises last Saturday evening. The evidence confirmed the statement of the Chief Constable in opening the case, that the landlord had held the stake of a bet on a game of cards between two of his customers, and that in consequence of his refusing to hand over to one of the players the latter informed the police.

Defendant denied the charge, and said he never held any money nor knew that any money had passed, but eventually a fine of 10s and costs was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 16/11/1895

"Football. Bloxwich Excelsior Cup, for teams aged 17. Entrance fee 2s per team, two teams 3s 6d. Those wishing to enter should send at once to G. Hill, 5, Elmore Row, Bloxwich. Draw takes place on November 23rd, at WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Street."

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

"The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

The return spoken of showed that the following had been proceeded against. Licensed Victuallers.....

Alfred Pearce, WHEAT SHEAF, Bloxwich, October 18th, 1895, suffering gaming on his licensed premises, fined 10s and costs."

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1896

"The adjourned licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday, before the Mayor (Councillor J. Noake), and Messrs. B. Beebee, S. Russell, and E. J. Shaw.....

Mr. Jackson said that he had received a notice of objection to the renewal of the license of the WHEAT SHEAF, Bloxwich, in the ground (1) that the tenant had been convicted during the past year and (2) that the requirements of the district did not need the house. He explained that the convicted tenant had now been removed, and the present tenant, Alfred James Cox, had since conducted the house with every satisfaction. He regarded the second as a 'stock' objection, for the WHEAT SHEAF was one of the best houses in Bloxwich. The renewal was granted."

London Gazette 16/6/1899

"Receiving Orders. Walker, Edwin Corbett. WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field-street, Bloxwich, Staffordshire, lately residing at Green Lane, formerly at Forge-street, theretofore at the ACORN INN, Lower Rushall-street, formerly at Day-street and theretofore at the TIGER INN, Short Acre, all in Walsall, Staffordshire. Public-house Manager."

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

"Edwin Corbett Walker, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Street, Bloxwich, public house manager. The debtor came up for public examination. The Official Receiver (Mr. S. W. Page) was present, and Mr. Evans was for the debtor. The statement of accounts showed liabilities £83 16s 11d, and the only assets were £10 he had paid to the solicitor on account of the proceedings. The debtor examined by the Official Receiver, stated that he worked as a miner until September, 1892, since that time he had been the tenant of the TIGER INN, Walsall, the ACORN INN, Walsall, and now he was the manager of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, for his brother, Mr. C. C. Walker. At one time he had a small colliery at Pelsall. He attributed his failure to 'illness of himself and family, losses upon the colliery business, and bad trade.'

The examination was adjourned until August 2nd to close."

1901 Census

35, Pinfold – WHEAT SHEAF INN

[1] Edwin C. Walker (46), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Maria Walker (44), wife, born Walsall;

[3] George Walker (21), son, buckle maker, born Walsall;

[4] James Holt (18), stepson, buckle maker, born Manchester;

[5] Annie Daniels (21), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1901

"On Tuesday evening a smoking concert was held at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, in honour of Mr. T. J. Wykes, the manager of the Fishley Colliery. Mr. Wykes has secured an appointment similar to that he has held at Fishley Colliery for about nine years, and when it became known to the employés at the colliery that he intended to leave Bloxwich, they desired to show their appreciation in which they held him. A concert was arranged, and in the course of the evening Mr. Joseph Smith, on behalf of himself and fellow workers, asked Mr. Wykes' acceptance of a present of twenty-five guineas, and expressed the best wishes of them all for his success, health, and happiness in his new sphere of labour. Mr. Wykes, in thanking them for the handsome present said he was more pleased with the kind feeling which had prompted the gift.

During the evening songs, etc, were rendered by Messrs. E. Walker, T. Boot, T. Sleigh, Hy. Walton, and W. Harriss, and a very enjoyable time was spent.”

Edwin C. Walker – see also ACORN, TIGER.

Walsall Advertiser 15/2/1902

“William J. Fryer, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, applied for an occasional license to sell alcoholic drinks in the Music Hall, Bloxwich, on the 17th inst, from 7.30pm to 10pm. The occasion was that of a concert in aid of a memorial to her late Majesty Queen Victoria. The magistrates retired to consider the application, which they finally refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/4/1903

“At Walsall Police Court, on Tuesday morning, Henry Goodall, of The Flats, Bloxwich, was brought up on three charges, first of being drunk and disorderly on the premises of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, and refusing to quit, and the other two of using obscene language in the Pinfold and Field Street, all on March 21st.

William Fryer, landlord of the WHEAT SHEAF, said defendant came into his house on the Saturday night in question. He was drunk, but asked for beer. Witness refused to serve him, and asked him to go out. Defendant used very bad language, and refused to leave the premises. The police eventually ejected him.

Police-constable Collins said that he was called to the WHEAT SHEAF to eject defendant, and having done so heard the man shout some very bad language in Field Street, in the hearing of the passer-by.

The third charge against defendant was on a private summons, and as complainant did not appear the case was struck out. Fined 10s and costs, or 14 days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1905

“Mr. George Bird, of Hilary Street, died very suddenly last night week, in his 70th year. He had been conversing with a friend on the footway near the HOPE AND ANCHOR HOTEL at about 8.30, when he was seen to suddenly fall to the ground, and on examination it was found that he had expired. For some time he had suffered from heart disease and syncope was certified as the cause of death. Mr. Bird was the owner and for many years the occupier of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, up to the time he retired from business, and in addition, for a considerable time he carried on business as a butcher and cattle dealer. He leaves a widow and three daughters and two sons. The interment took place at Bloxwich Cemetery on Tuesday.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/5/1906

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. Howard Jayes, WHEAT SHEAF INN Bloxwich was elected a member.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Charles H. Caffyn, WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/1/1910

“David Hall, and Charles Fox, two youths of 18 years of age, both living at Field Street, Bloxwich, were summoned for wilfully damaging certain glasses and electrical cells to the amount of 10s on December 25th, the property of Charles Henry Caffyn, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich.

Complainant stated that the two youths went into the house on Christmas night and ordered a pint of beer. Soon after he heard the smashing of glass, and on going into the smoke room where the defendants were, saw broken glass lying about the floor, whilst the electric battery had been broken, and one of the bell pushes wrenched off.

Police-constable Baker spoke to seeing the damage which had been caused.

Both defendants said the breaking of the glass was an accident, and denied doing any damage to the electric battery.

The Bench fined Hall 10s and costs and 5s damage, and Fox 5s and costs, and 5s damage.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/2/1910

“Wm. Aston, 41, The Flats, Bloxwich, was summoned by his wife Clara Aston, 43, The Flats, for persistent cruelty. Aston was also summoned by the Chief Constable for being found drunk on the licensed premises, the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold. In the first case, Mrs. Aston said she was married to defendant nineteen years ago, at the registry office at Stourbridge, and there were eight children, five of them under sixteen. Her husband was a miner, and his wages were 7s a day. On the morning of the 5th inst. defendant returned home very drunk and turned her and her children out, and that had frequently happened in the past four years. About a month ago he turned her out from her dying daughter, who died the following day, and he also turned away the woman who came to poultice her. He threatened to murder her and the children, and three weeks ago he threw a bottle at her and only just missed her. She had a separation from him about three and a half years ago, but he went crying to her and she took him back.

Annie Goodwin, a neighbour, stated that on the 5th inst. defendant ran his wife out and threw a chair at her.

Defendant denied that he had ever struck his wife or ill-treated her in any way. He admitted that he had beer, and that he got excited.

The Bench granted complainant a separation order, defendant to pay her 10s a week.

Aston, the defendant on the previous case, was also summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, the WHEAT SHEAF, Pinfold.

Police-constable Baker stated that on the 5th inst. he saw the defendant, who was very drunk, enter the WHEAT SHEAF. The landlord refused to supply him, and the defendant created a disturbance.

Defendant pleaded guilty, and he was fined 2s 6d and costs.

Inspector Ballance stated that Aston appeared to have gone worse during the last twelve months.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

“A Whist Drive was held at the WHEAT SHEAF HOTEL, Pinfold, Bloxwich, on Thursday week, in aid of funds for a dinner which is given to the old folks of Bloxwich on Easter Tuesday. The drive proved a great success, £2 18s being the amount cleared. Prizes were given, and won by the following gentlemen: 1st prize, meerschaum pipe, (given by Mr. C. Caffyn), won by Mr. F. Alden; 2nd, shaving outfit (given by Mr. A. Sargeant), won by Mr. H. France; 3rd, silk muffler (given by Mr. W. Hartill), won by Mr. C. Russell; mystic prize (given by Mr. F. Fryer), silver mounted walking stick, won by Mr. H. Stokes. A prize given by Mr. Joseph Stokes came in too late, and has been laid on one side for some further occasion. A meeting was held on Tuesday by the workers, and it was proposed to start a subscription list, which it is hoped will prove a success. Already nineteen shillings has been subscribed, making the total in hand, £3 17s. Subscription cards will be sent by post, and all subscriptions will be thankfully acknowledged through the press after the dinner. All subscriptions to be sent to Mr. A. Sargeant, hairdresser, Pinfold, Bloxwich (secretary), or to Mr. F. Caffyn, WHEAT SHEAF HOTEL, Pinfold, Bloxwich (treasurer), not later than March 19th.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1910

“Thanks to the efforts of a number of gentlemen, a dinner was given to the old folks of Bloxwich, on Tuesday, at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold. Some 137 men and women sat down to a hot repast served up by Host and Hostess Caffyn. The necessary money for the spread was obtained by subscriptions and the proceeds from a whist drive.....

At the conclusion of the dinner a concert of a free and easy nature was held, all the items being supplied by guests, whilst prizes were given to the best singers among the old folk. During an interval, the whole of the gathering were photographed, and at the conclusion of the proceedings the old women were given a supply of fancy cakes.

A vote of thanks was passed to the subscribers, officers, and all who had helped in any way to make the affair a success.

Although this is the first dinner of its kind to be given at Bloxwich, it is hoped, in view of the success which attended the effort, to make it an annual event.”

1911 Census

35, Pinfold – WHEATSHEAF

[1] Charles Henry Caffyn (37), licensed victualler, born Brighton;

[2] Annie Elizabeth Caffyn (38), wife, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 3/2/1912

“The employees in the Borough Surveyor’s Department decided to have a social gathering, and they selected the WHEAT SHEAF, Pinfold. They could not have been better suited, for the manner in which the Host and Hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Caffyn, catered for the company, was worthy of all praise, and the whole of the guests expressed the wish that this occasion would not be the last. After the cloths had been removed, a free and easy entertainment began, songs being rendered by Messrs. G. Horne, J. Beard, junr., W. Davis and others. Owing to pressure of other engagements Mr. John Taylor, Borough Surveyor, had not been able to arrive before 9pm. On his entering the room he was accorded a very hearty reception, all rose and the band leading they sang ‘For he’s a jolly good fellow.’

Mr. Taylor, for he was only able to stay only a short time, addressed a few happy remarks to those present.

Mr. Joseph Round, one of the guests of the evening, made a neat little speech, expressing the pleasure it gave him to be present, and to see the goodwill which existed between the different heads of the department, hoping this would long continue.

The little party after a thoroughly enjoyable evening broke up at about 11pm, to the singing of the National Anthem.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/10/1913

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday, at the house of Mr. Charles Henry Caffyn, WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.....”

Walsall Observer 26/9/1914 - Deaths

“On the 19th inst, at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Bloxwich, Annie, the dearly beloved wife of Charles Caffyn, in her 41st year. Interred at Bloxwich Cemetery. Peace after pain.”

Walsall Observer 20/3/1915 - Advert

“Monday Next, March 22nd, 1915.

WHEAT SHEAF INN, Pinfold, Bloxwich.

Chas. A. B. Keysell will Sell by Auction, by order of Mr. C. H. Caffyn, who is giving up the business, the Excellent Household Furniture, Including Walnut-framed Dining Room Suite, Walnut Sideboard, Oak and other Tables, Oak Hall Stand, Valuable Collection of Indian Flies, Moths and Beetles, &c., in oak cases; Stuffed Birds, Windsor Chairs, Bedsteads, Dressing Tables, Chests of Drawers, Night Chair, Prints, Ornaments, Linoleum, &c, 4-wheeled Wagonette, Lorry, and numerous other Effects.

Sale to Commence at 12 o'clock.

Catalogues of the Auctioneer, 59, Queen Street, Wolverhampton. Telephone No.325."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
WHEATSHEAF, Bloxwich. £0 7s 10d."

1939 Register

35, Pinfold

[1] William H. Poole, date of birth 17/1/1890, publican, married;

[2] Laura (Poole) Ratcliffe, dob 17/12/1891, unpaid domestic duties, bar assistant, married:

Walsall Observer 26/10/1940

"At the annual prize distribution of the Bloxwich and District Bowling league at headquarters, the WHEATSHEAF, Bloxwich, on Tuesday next at 7.30, Alderman E. H. Ingram will receive a cheque from the proceeds of the Wilkes Hospital Cup. An invitation is extended to all bowlers connected with the League."

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Road, Bloxwich, £1 5s 0d."

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

"County Borough of Walsall. Mayor's War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Poole, the WHEATSHEAF INN, Field Road. £1 3s 10d."

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHEAT SHEAF, Bloxwich. £2 11s 0d."

Walsall Observer 14/8/1943

"At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society held on Thursday at the RED LION, Blue Lane East, Walsall, Mr. C. W. Garfield (president) occupied the chair. The President referred to the loss the society had sustained by the death of Mr. William Henry Poole, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Field Road, Bloxwich. He had been a member of the society for eighteen years.

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund.

List of Subscriptions.....

WHEATSHEAF INN, Field Road, Bloxwich. £0 2s 6d."

Laura Poole married Samuel Ratcliffe in the 1st quarter of 1949.

Walsall Observer 8/8/1986

"Charity dart throwers were really on target when they raised more than £200 for a good cause. Nine players from the Bloxwich Friends of the Mentally Handicapped gathered at the WHEATSHEAF pub in Field Road for the 24-hour sponsored match, for cash towards a new centre for the mentally handicapped."

Express and Star 24/11/1997 - Advert

"Recently refurbished one room ale house. Good food potential."

[2017]

WHEATSHEAF

4, (2+4), (2), (98), (15), Birmingham Road (Birmingham Street) / Grove Terrace, (98, (15), King Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

J. Bagnall
William Downing, maltster, Smethwick
Showells Brewery Ltd [1904]
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased from 9th April 1935)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)

LICENSEES

John Westley [1801]
Joseph Cooper [1813]
John Hopkins [1834]
John Edkins [1835]
Samuel Whistance [1841] – [1845]
Richard Evans [1849] – [1851]
Thomas Nicholls [] – 1858;
William Reynolds (1858 – [1871]
Moses Dolman [1873] – [1883];
John Griffiths [1891] – [1896];
Rosannah Griffiths (189 – 1899);
Thomas Hadley (1899 – 1900);
Arthur Griffin (1900);
Egbert Charles Hackett (1900 – 1901);
William Slater (1901 – 1904);
William Griffiths [1904] ?
Mrs. Mary Winkle (1904 – 1916); manager
Fred Akenhead (1916 – 1922);
Henry Hall (1922 – 1926);
Thomas Pedley (1926 – 1927);
Samuel Davies (1927 – 1929);
Arthur Robert Boyce (1929 – 1936);
Arthur Light (1936 – 1940);
James Edwin Woodfin (1940 – 1941);
Alice Mary Woodfin (1941 – 1950);
Norman Archibald Bent (1950 – 1965);
Jean Alison Mary Bent (1965 – 1966);
Margaret Castrey (1966 – []
Jean James and Carrie Cooke [2009] – 2010);
Joe Longmore (2010 – [2012])

NOTES

Birmingham Street [1813], [1850], [1851]
King Street [1849], [1860], [1861], [1862]
15, Birmingham Road [1861]
15, King Street [1868]
98, Birmingham Road [1871], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904], [1908]
98, King Street [1881], [1896]
2, Birmingham Road [1916], [1921], [1932], [1940], [1994]
2+4, Birmingham Road [1939]
4, Birmingham Road [2009]

Joseph Cooper, victualler, WHEAT SHEAF, Birmingham Street. [1813]

'The History and Directory of Walsall' by Thomas Pearce 1813

“At the WHEAT SHEAF INN, there is a Bowling Green, in the occupancy of Joseph Cooper, situate in Birmingham Street, commanding a view of Barr Beacon, and the country towards Birmingham.”

AND

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Clubs.....

Friendly Society, female, held at WHEAT SHEAF, supposed number 107, instituted 1781, surgeon Mr. Weaver, secretary James Gee.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/10/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction (pursuant to a Decree and subsequent Order of the High Court of Chancery made in the cause of Woolley and others versus Gordon Perk and others, with the approbation of William Wingfield, Esq, one of the Masters of the said Court), at the house of Richard Moore Fletcher, the GEORGE INN, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on Wednesday next, the 3rd day of October, at twelve o’clock noon. Freehold and Leasehold Tenements and Building land, Commercial Inn, extensive Manufactory, and Premises, situate in the town of Walsall; also upwards of 110 Acres of Accommodation Land, with the Mines and Minerals thereunder, and the Houses and Farm Buildings thereon, near Walsall aforesaid, and in Rushall and Bloxwich; also Houses and Garden Ground at Bescot, and Houses and Building land at Wednesbury, all in the county of Stafford, late the property of Charles Perks, deceased....

Lot 1. Four Freehold tenements, occupying a considerable frontage to Birmingham Street, near the WHEAT SHEAF, together with Building Land at the back thereof, and therewith held by Elizabeth Holden James Selby, John Chalinor, and Richard Marsh. The above subject to an annual land-tax of 3s....”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/4/1831

“George Clarkson of Darlaston, requests us to inform William Baker, of Wolverhampton, that he is willing to fight him for £25 or £50 a side. His money will be ready Tuesday the 3rd day of May, at two o’clock, at the WHEAT SHEAF, Birmingham Street, Walsall.”

Samuel Whistance was also a brass and plated harness furniture manufacturer. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/1/1848 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, that old-established, well-known house, the sign of the WHEAT SHEAF, Birmingham Street, Walsall. Coming-in can be made easy, as the present proprietor can take the stock and part of the fixtures if required. Any party going into business will find this a most favourable opportunity. Early application is required as this advertisement will not be repeated. For further particulars, apply on premises.”

1851 Census

Birmingham Street

- [1] Richard Evans (56), licensed victualler, born Shrewsbury;
- [2] Eleanor Evans (43), wife, born Walsall:

William Reynolds = William Reynold

Walsall Free Press 12/1/1861

“On Friday, the 4th day of January, 1861, the workpeople employed by the firm of Messrs. John Glover and Sons, Birmingham Street, in this town, numbering forty-three, were regaled with good old English fare, to which ample justice was done, at Host Reynold’s, the WHEAT SHEAF INN, King Street, whose good catering gave every satisfaction, and the evening’s entertainment was greatly enjoyed by all present. A unanimous vote of thanks was passed to the founders of the feast. Which was followed with a jovial good cheer of three time three, which bought the enjoyment to a close.”

1861 Census

15, Birmingham Road – WHEAT SHEAF INN

- [1] William Reynolds (36), licensed victualler, born Aldridge;
- [2] Mira Reynolds (40), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] Mira Jane Reynolds (12), daughter, scholar, born Edgbaston;
- [4] Lydia P. Reynolds (9), daughter, scholar, born Edgbaston;
- [5] Elizabeth Reynolds (2), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/10/1861 - Advert

“To Be Sold, a strong and useful Spring Cart.
Apply at the WHEATSHEAF INN, King Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 11/10/1862 - Advert

“WHEAT SHEAF INN, Walsall.

To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the above Old Established and respectable road side Inn, situate in King Street, which has been successfully carried on by the present Proprietor for the last five years, who is leaving in consequence of other engagements. Stock and Fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply on the premises, or to John Osbourn, Auctioneer, &c, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 12/4/1863 - Advert

“A Good Ley For Horses And Cows, near the Town, well supplied with water, 5s per week for twenty weeks, and 6s for fourteen. Enquire of W. Reynolds, WHEAT SHEAF INN King Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from and of the Secretary William Reynolds, WHEAT SHEAF INN, King Street.”

Walsall Free Press 30/9/1865 - Advert

“The Annual Dinner of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society will be held at the house of Mr Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, High Street, on Thursday, 5th October, 1865.

Thomas Hazledine, Esq, Mayor has kindly consented to preside. Mr. Councillor Henry Hale, Vice president.

Tickets 3s each, may be had at the DRAGON INN, High Street, or at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, King Street, By order of the Committee.

Dinner on the table at Four o’clock precisely.

W. Reynold, Secretary.”

Walsall Free Press 28/1/1865 - Deaths

“On the 26th inst, aged thirteen years, Lydia Palmer, second daughter of Mr. William Reynolds, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN King Street, Walsall; deeply lamented.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/4/1868

“Walsall Borough Quarter Sessions.

James Ashwell (35), saddle-tree maker, and William Gundry (29), puddler, were indicted for having stolen eight hog-skins, of the value of £8, the property of Messrs. W. and J. Franklin, curriers, Walsall. Mr. Underhill (instructed by Mr. Dale from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) prosecuted, and Mr. Young was instructed for Ashwell. At the outset of the case, Mr. Underhill asked for a verdict of acquittal to be taken as against Ashwell, whom, he said, the prosecution believed to have been the mere tool of Gundry, and his request was complied with. On Saturday, the 15th February last, the prosecutor’s servants made up a parcel of hog-skins, and entrusted it to a carrier named Strutt, to convey to Messrs. Short and Short, Birmingham. The carrier stopped for a few minutes at the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Birmingham Street, and while his cart stood there the parcel was stolen. On the following Monday evening Sergeants Wood, Drury, and Mason concealed themselves in Hall Lane, and detected the prisoners in the act of dealing with a parcel, which on examination was found to contain the stolen property. Ashwell was put in the witness-box, and his evidence bore out Mr. Underhill’s opening statement. On the other hand, Gundry maintained that he was the dupe of Ashwell. The prisoner was found guilty, and he having pleaded guilty to previous convictions, and to having undergone a term of penal servitude, was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment, the Recorder intimating that but for the intercession of Magistrates sitting with him, he should have imposed a sentence of seven years’ penal servitude. The sentence was received with applause from those in Court, which was promptly checked.”

Walsall Free Press 17/4/1869 - Advert

“To Be Let, the OLD WHEAT SHEAF INN, Birmingham Street, the GREAT BRITAIN INN, Regent Street, Burrowes Street. Apply to Farrington and Son, Auctioneers &c, Walsall.”

1871 Census

98, Birmingham Road

[1] William Reynolds (46), victualler and farmer of about 40 acres, born Aldridge;

[2] Mira Reynolds (50), wife, born Stourbridge;

[3] Mira J. Reynolds (22), daughter, dressmaker, born Edgbaston;

[4] Elizabeth A. Reynolds (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall:

1881 Census

98, King Street

[1] Moses Dolman (53), innkeeper, born Fradley, Staffordshire;

[2] Elizabeth Dolman (37), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Auther H. Dolman (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Alice M. Dolman (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Lizzie Dolman (1), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Louisa Hubbard (26), visitor, milliner, born Birmingham;

[7] George Ward (64), stable servant, born Barton under Needwood, Staffordshire;

[8] Alice Brown (21), general servant, born Aldridge:

Walsall Observer 14/4/1883

“A meeting of the creditors of Moses Dolman, of the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Birmingham Road, Walsall, licensed victualler and brewer, and egg and butter dealer, was held at the offices of Messrs. Marlow, Potter, and Marten, on Wednesday. Mr. S. P. Eagleton, holding a proxy for Mr. Wakeman, the largest creditor, presided.

The statement of affairs showed unsecured creditors, £309 8s 3d; creditors for rents, rates, and taxes, £41 12s 5d; and estimated assets, £172 1s 10d. Liquidation was resolved upon, Mr. H. C. Powell, of Bridge Street, Walsall, auctioneer, being appointed trustee, with a committee of inspection. It was stated on behalf of the debtor that his present position had been brought about by trade losses, and also by the depression of trade, and that about two years ago his liabilities were nearly double their present amount. Sympathy was expressed for the debtor, and he was granted his discharge at once.”

Walsall Observer 14/4/1883 - Advert

“In Liquidation. Re Moses Dolman.

To be Let, with Immediate Possession, the Old-Licensed Public House, known as the WHEAT SHEAF INN, Birmingham Street, Walsall.

Apply to Watkins and Powell, Auctioneers, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 7/2/1885

“On Tuesday Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) held an inquest at the WHEATSHEAF INN, on the body of Thomas Featherstone (77), of 6, Grove Terrace. It appears that on Sunday night, deceased, who was not well, fell downstairs when going up to bed, and received such injuries that he died immediately. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1891 Census

98, Birmingham Road – WHEAT SHEAF

[1] John Griffiths (40), publican, born Walsall;

[2] Rosannah Griffiths (50), wife, born Stirchley, Shropshire;

[3] Lottey Merricks (19), general servant, born Weanesfield [Wednesfield?], Staffordshire:

John Griffiths – see also MALT SHOVEL.

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Rosannah Griffiths, WHEATSHEAF, served 37 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

Walsall Observer 13/10/1900

“The Caledonian Corks. On Monday Lodge 504 held a supper at the WHEAT SHEAF, Birmingham Road, when about forty sat down to a good spread. Subsequently a smoking concert was held, when Mr. W. G. Young presided.....”

1901 Census

Birmingham Road – WHEAT SHEAF TAVERN

[1] William Slater (35), licensed victualler, born New Invention;

[2] Catherine Slater (35), wife, born Hallow, Worcestershire;

[3] Annie Bertuck (18), domestic servant, born Chadsmore, Staffordshire;

[4] Thomas Sewter (13), visitor, errand boy (grocer’s), born Walsall:

1911 Census

2, Birmingham Road

[1] Mary Winkle (59), widow, public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Sydney George Winkle (26), son, manufacturer’s clerk, born Walsall;

[3] Daisy Edwards (24), servant, barmaid, born Stourbridge:

Mary Winkle – see also NEW STATION.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WHEAT SHEAF, Birmingham Road, Walsall, 3s.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHEATSHEAF INN, Birmingham Road. £0 4s 11d.”

It was the headquarters of Walsall rugby club from 1922.

1939 Register

2+4, Birmingham Road – WHEATSHEAF INN

- [1] Arthur Light, date of birth 23/7/1893, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Florence Light, dob 11/7/1896, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] John A. Light, dob 4/11/1933, at school, single;
- [4] Reginald A. Wood, dob 5/1/1888, civil servant, labour exchange, married:

James Woodfin = James Woodfun

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society. Third List Of Subscriptions.....
WHEAT SHEAF INN, Birmingham Road. £0 8s 7d.”

Alterations were made in the late 1960s.

It was renamed the FLOCK AND FIRKIN. [1999]

[2005]

It was renamed WHEATSHEAF. [2007]

It was Walsall CAMRA Pub of the Year in 2008.

It was the headquarters of The WHEATSHEAF Runners (running club) [2009]

Express & Star 19/7/2021

“Fans of Shakespeare can enjoy the Bard and a pint with a fun new activity at a Walsall pub. The WHEATSHEAF on Birmingham Road is hosting monthly table readings of Shakespeare’s plays and anyone is welcome to come along and join in. ‘Your Bard’ sees roles drawn out of a hat with participants reading them throughout, a pint in one hand, a copy of the play in the other. The first event on Wednesday, June 30 was a full read-through of ‘Much Ado About Nothing’ and was attended by half-a-dozen enthusiastic readers. The table read, where the lines are spoken, not acted, began at 7pm and finished shortly after 10pm, with each reader taking on several parts to cover all the roles.

‘It was immense fun,’ said organiser Andrew Clayton, 41, from Aldridge. ‘It was easy, there’s no pressure. It’s somewhere between the loudest book club in the world, and that first ever time a theatre company works through the script. We know there are plenty of people who like a bit of comedy and want to read Shakespeare with others, but find actual theatre a bit intimidating. By sitting around with a pint and a book and enjoying the story together, we learn and listen and entertain one another. We also do a small collection for Ablewell Advice, a foodbank that the pub supports.’

Andrew heard about the activity at a wedding and thought it would be great so he approached the landlord at the WHEATSHEAF pub who agreed to host it. ‘The WHEATSHEAF has a reputation for the arts and the community, and for doing something different,’ added Andrew.

The first reading included a GCSE student anxiously awaiting his results and a retired English teacher. Once coronavirus restrictions are lifted it is hoped the pub’s main room will be filled with readers and listeners once a month. The WHEATSHEAF has already booked two more dates, with The Tempest being read on Wednesday, July 28.”

[2021]

WHEEL

Lindon Road, (Catshill Road), Walsall Wood, WALSALL

OWNERS

Maria Rodway [1892]

LICENSEES

Thomas Beresford [1881] – [1882]

William Rodway [1891] – 1892);
Maria Rodway (1892 – []
Joseph Marklew [1893]
Thomas Roe [] – 1901);
John Dorsett (1901 – [1912]
Eliza Dorsett [1924]
Frederick Adam Watkiss [1939] – [1940]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Thomas Beresford = Thomas Berresford

1881 Census

The WHEEL

- [1] Thomas Berresford (44), carpenter and beerhousekeeper, born Burntwood;
- [2] Mary Berresford (45), wife, born Sutton;
- [3] John Berresford (22), son, carpenter, born Burntwood;
- [4] George Berresford (15), son, carpenter, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] James Berresford (10), son, scholar, born Walsall Wood:

London Gazette 17/2/1882

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County-Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Beresford, of the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Carpenter.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. George Cotterell, Solicitor, situate in Bridge-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 2nd day of March, 1882, at three o’clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 15th day of February, 1882.

G. Cotterell, Bridge-street, Walsall, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/3/1882 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction.

At the Station Inn, Brownhills, on Monday, the 20th day of March, 1882, at Seven o’clock in the evening precisely.

The Public House known as the WHEEL, at Walsall Wood, now in the occupation of Thomas Beresford, and the two Dwelling Houses adjoining, in the occupation of George Mincher and John Monk respectively.

The property is freehold subject to a reservation of mines and common rights to the Lord of the Manor.

Immediate possession can be had of the Public House without any payment for goodwill. The House is in the neighbourhood of Collieries, Brickfields, and other Works, and a flourishing and growing business may be carried on there.

Arrangements may be made for a portion of the purchase money to remain on mortgage.

Further particulars may be obtained from Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, Williams & Elliot, Solicitors Walsall.”

Evening Star 20/3/1882

“At a second general meeting of the creditors of Thomas Beresford, of the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, beerhouse keeper and carpenter, which was held at the offices of Mr. George Cotterill, solicitor, Walsall, on the 15th inst, the resolution passed at the former general meeting of creditors, accepting composition of 1s in the pound, in satisfaction of the debts due for the debtor, and payable in two months, were unanimously confirmed.”

Lichfield Mercury 5/9/1890

“The magistrates at the licensing sessions on Monday were Messrs. E. T. Holden and J. Nayler, Dr. Cooke.....

Mr. Elliott applied for a spirit license for the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood. Refused.”

1891 Census

Near Walsall Wood Colliery – WHEEL INN

- [1] William Rodway (56), licensed victualler, born Gloucester;
- [2] Maria Rodway (54), wife, born Gloucester;
- [3] Beatrice M. Rodway (9), granddaughter, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Amy Lea (16), domestic servant, born Brownhills:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The Rushall adjourned licensing session too place yesterday, before Mr. F. James and Dr. Cooke.

Mr. C. A. Loxton applied for a full license for the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, kept by William Rodway, and adduced the good character of the applicant, the large population in the neighbourhood, and the proximity of the Walsall Wood Colliery, where 600 men were employed, and spirits might at any moment be required in case of an accident, as reasons in favour of the granting of the application. Mr. James said that, in view of recent attempts at licensing legislation, the Bench were not disposed to grant further licenses unless a paramount necessity was shown. That had not been done in this case, and the license would be refused.”

William Rodway died in the 1st quarter of 1892.

Burials in the Parish of Walsall Wood (Church of England Cemetery) 1892

“William Rodway, WHEEL INN, 22nd January, 55 years.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1893

“At the County Court on Wednesday, before the Judge (Mr. W. D. Griffith), an action was heard in which Edwin Albert Hawkins, auctioneer, Tamworth, sued Maria Rodway, at present of Hockley, Tamworth, but formerly of the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, for £33 in respect of the disposal of the public-house named. Mr. Neville (Tamworth) appeared in support of the claim, and Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Corbett, Walsall), defended. It appeared that in the end of 1891, the plaintiff received instructions to sell the defendant’s licensed house already named and two cottages adjoining, she required £2,500, and undertaking to pay defendant £50 for his services in case of sale. Several people to whom he introduced the property refused to purchase on the ground that the price was too high, but subsequently Mr. Roberts agreed to become the purchaser for the sum of £2,200. The defendant agreed to sell at that price, and the plaintiff drew up a contract of authority setting forth that the defendant allowed him to sell for £2,200, and that she would give him £35 for his services. The sale was not carried out, Mr. Roberts wishing to have the abstract or title delivered in five days, and the defendant being unable to supply it under seven days, the plaintiff tore up the authority and burnt it.

In cross-examination plaintiff stated that his reason for tearing up the document in question was that he had a fit of temper. The Judge said that by doing this he destroyed the only evidence which could prove his case. He was not in position to recover, and a verdict would be entered for the defendant with costs.”

Lichfield Mercury 28/10/1893

“At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, before F. James, Esq. (chairman), and J. Naylor and W. H. Brookes, George Crowther, of Clayhanger, was summoned for refusing to quit the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, on the 14th inst. Defendant pleaded guilty.

Joseph Marklew, landlord of the WHEEL INN, said the defendant was at his house on the 14th October. He raised an argument with another man about the strike, and eventually a disturbance arose, defendant being disorderly. Witness then requested him to leave the house but he refused.

The magistrates imposed a fine of 1s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/9/1896

“The business at the Rushall Licensing Sessions on Monday was not of a heavy character.

The only increased drinking facility granted was the exchange of the licence of the WHEEL INN (beerhouse), Walsall Wood, for a full licence.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1898

“On Saturday Mr. H. A. Pearson, district coroner, held an inquiry at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, on the body of Alfred Trafford (16), of Paul’s Coppice, Coppice Road, Walsall Wood, who was fatally injured whilst employed at the Coppice Colliery, on Wednesday. Mr. W. H. Duignan (Walsall) appeared on behalf of the Walsall Wood Colliery Company, and Mr. W. B. Scott, her majesty’s inspector of mines, was also present.

Frank Charles Eveson, miner’s labourer, gave evidence that on Wednesday afternoon deceased, who was a horse-driver, took the brake off a loaded truck and set it in motion. He then ran in front of it and moved four scotches which were on the line, also shouting a warning that the truck was coming. The truck passed under a tramway bridge, and before deceased could clear himself he was caught against one of the wooden supports of the bridge and crushed very severely. Witness and a fellow-workman named Collins released deceased, and he was conveyed home on a stretcher. It was not part of deceased’s work to move the truck, and witness had not asked him to move it.

Dr. Maddever, who was called to see deceased, stated that the latter had both collar bones and all rib bones broken, and the lungs were penetrated, and possibly the heart as well. Death was the result of suffocation from internal bleeding. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and exonerated the colliery company from blame.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/3/1899

“Mr. H. A. Pearson held an inquest on Monday, at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, on the body of John Blundell (36), miner, of Catshill Road, who was killed on the previous Thursday, whilst employed at the Walsall Wood Colliery. Among those present were Messrs. W. B. Scott (inspector of mines), W. H. Pickering (assistant inspector), H. C. Peake (general colliery manager), and Mr. H. H. Jackson, who represented the deceased’s relatives and Pelsall District Miners’ Association; Councillor Southall appearing on behalf of the latter body.

Evidence was given that deceased and a man named John Carlin were at work in No.70 road in the yard coal seam removing rock. Deceased had a bar, with which he prised off a piece of rock on the opposite side to which he was standing. He then dropped his bar, stooped and took hold of a pick with which to try the roof, and was rising again, when a mass of rock, estimated to weigh about three tons, came down upon him. Assistance was quickly forthcoming, and deceased was rescued in about ten minutes, but death appeared to have been instantaneous, deceased's injuries being of a terrible nature. It was stated that the fall was due to a slip having occurred which was not previously detected.

Mr. Pickering stated that he had examined the mine, and there was no breach of the Act. With such a mass of rock falling, deceased would stand no chance whatever.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and Mr. Peake expressed regret that so unfortunate an accident should have occurred, remarking the deceased was the son of an old and trusted official, and always an exceedingly careful workman."

1901 Census

Catshill Road – The WHEEL INN Public House

- [1] Thomas Roe (41), public house manager, born Stonall, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary A. Roe (42), wife, born Brownhills;
- [3] Alice Roe (21), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [4] John T. Roe (17), son, colliery engineer, born Walsall Wood;
- [5] George H. Roe (15), son, colliery driver below ground, born Walsall Wood;
- [6] Edith Roe (11), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [7] Clara Roe (9), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [8] Emma Roe (6), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [9] Tom Roe (4), son, born Walsall Wood;
- [10] Nelly Roe (1), daughter, born Walsall Wood;
- [11] Bella Wall (19), general servant, born Brownhills;

Lichfield Mercury 15/11/1901

"Mr. H. H. Jackson applied for the temporary transfer of the license of the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, from Thomas Roe to John Dorsett. The application was granted."

Lichfield Mercury 24/1/1902

"Leonard Heath (30), Shire Oak, Brownhills, was charged with being drunk and disorderly and refusing to quit the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood. Mr. H. H. Jackson (Walsall) appeared to prosecute.

Evidence was given that the defendant went into the house on the night of the 11th inst, and becoming disorderly was requested to leave. After a time he did so, but returned about 10-20 and asked to be supplied, but was refused. He was sober and ordered to leave because of his conduct.

The defendant (to John Dorsett, the prosecutor): Do you say I was sober after drinking whiskey and beer for over seven hours?

The defendant added that he was drunk, but this Dorsett denied.

A fine of 7s 6d and 11s 6d costs was imposed."

Walsall Advertiser 17/5/1902

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. John Dorsett, jun., WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, was elected a member of the society."

Lichfield Mercury 5/9/1902

"At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, Edward Dewick (66), Vigo, Walsall Wood, was charged with having obstructed the highway.

PC Lockley said that at 11-50am on August 22 he saw the defendant's horse and trap standing outside the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood. At 12-10, as the vehicle was still there, he entered the inn and saw the defendant with half a pint of porter before him.

The defendant pleaded that he was not in the inn many minutes. Ordered to pay costs, 6s."

Walsall Advertiser 27/8/1904

"On Saturday afternoon the inhabitants of the Walsall Wood district were thrown into a state of excitement when it became known that a terrible accident had occurred at the Walsall Wood Colliery. It transpired that when it occurred William Bailey of Clayhanger Road, Walsall Wood, and Leonard Heath, of Shire Oak, along with a number of other miners, were at work in one of the main shafts. They had been doing repairs and timbering and all appeared quite safe when a slip occurred. There was a great fall of rock, which buried the two men. Several other men who were near had narrow escapes. The fall took place about 12.55 mid-day, and the workmen set to very energetically to clear away the debris, but it was about 4.50pm before the bodies were recovered. Dr. Maddever and other gentlemen were at the scene of the accident, but death, of course, had then taken place. Police-constable Allcock removed the bodies to the homes of the men.

At the inquest held at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, on Tuesday afternoon by the County Coroner (Mr. H. A. Pearson) the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.

Amongst those also present at the inquiry were Mr. Atkins (H.M. Inspector of Mines), Mr. Peake (the general manager), and Mr. Neville (the manager), of the Walsall Wood Colliery; and Mr. H. H. Jackson (Walsall), who appeared on behalf of the Miners' Association."

Walsall Advertiser 15/6/1907

“At the Rushall Petty Sessions, Wm. Pratt (26), Lyndon Road, Walsall Wood, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises.

Police-constable Grindley deposed to being in company with Sergeant Needham in Lyndon Road, when he saw defendant who was drunk, go into the WHEEL INN. Witness called the landlord’s attention to his condition and he was not served. Defendant, who said he went into the house to get a bottle of soda water, was fined 2s 6d and costs, or seven days.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/4/1910

“At the Rushall Police Court on Monday morning, before Messrs. W. H. Brookes, W. F. Clarke, and J. A. Lloyd, Frank Heath (21), miner, of High Street, Brownhills, was summoned for assaulting John Bailey, fireman, of Walsall Wood, on Monday.

Mr. W. C. Checkley prosecuted on behalf of the Walsall Wood Colliery Company, and explained that in 1906 defendant was employed at the colliery, and was fined for committing a breach of the colliery regulations. Complainant gave evidence in that case. Defendant was not dismissed his employment, but eventually enlisted, and was away some time, but had returned and worked at the colliery. The conviction seemed to have rankled in his mind, and he made threats as to what he would do to complainant. On Monday last complainant went up to the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, and defendant went up to him, and remarking, ‘You are the man who caused me to pay 18s 6d,’ struck him in the mouth, making his nose and mouth bleed heavily.

Complainant and several witnesses gave evidence in corroboration.

Defendant contended that while he was in the WHEEL INN he had some words with complainant who struck him, and he retaliated.

The Bench imposed a fine of 20s and costs, and ordered defendant to be bound over for three months in £10.

Mr. W. L. Lewis (Clerk): Are you content to be bound over? – Defendant: No, sir.

The Bench sentenced defendant to two months’ imprisonment in default.”

1911 Census

Linden Road, Brownhills

[1] John Dorsett (35), bricklayer, at colliery, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire;

[2] Elsie Dorsett (33), wife, married 9 years, born Walsall Wood;

[3] John Dorsett (8), son, born Walsall;

[4] Thomas Dorsett (2), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1912

“The Coal War. Great Struggle Still Proceeding.....

Notices were issued stating that strike pay would be paid as follows (on the production of contribution card): Thursday, March 14th, Sheffield, SPRING COTTAGE INN, at 11am; Walsall Wood, WHEEL INN, at 2pm; Brownhill, Crown Inn, at 5pm; Friday, March 15th, Pelsall, STATION INN, at 11am; Bloxwich, QUEENS HEAD INN, at 2pm; Lane Head, BRITISH OAK INN, at 5pm; Saturday, March 16th, Newton, Malt Shovel Inn at 11am.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/3/1912

“Strikers in the Walsall Wood, Rushall and Sheffield neighbourhood looked forward to their first strike pay with evident concern. There is no doubt the men are beginning to feel the pinch of wageless weeks and although they picked up a good haul the Saturday before last the coffers this week have begun to run low.

The first distribution of strike pay by the Pelsall and District Association took place on Thursday at Ted Clark’s SPRING COTTAGE INN, Sheffield. The time fixed was eleven o’clock, but before that hour a large crowd of miners has assembled. A few minutes after eleven, when the officials drove up, there could not have been less than 1,500 or 2,000 men waiting for their pay. Some of them had to wait a good time too, for it was close on half-past three in the afternoon before the last striker received his allowance. Fortunately the weather was fine – indeed, it was a bright spring day. The young strikers – the pit boys – with some of their seniors, whiled away the time at marbles, but generally the men were content to smoke pipes (with need it to be said, and occasional slaking of the thirst), and quietly chat together. The peculiar part about it all – at least that which impresses the stranger, is that the men discuss practically every other topic imaginable with the one exception of the unrest!

The paying out was conducted in a smooth and business-like manner, the men entering the room where it was carried out in the order of their respective lodges. They were commendably orderly and the crowd gradually diminished, the strikers making a move off as soon as they had received their money. Each man received 15/- and the few boys who had to be paid 7/6. The officials present included Messrs. H. Smith (president), Mr. Smith (vice-president), T. Riley (secretary), and R. Burgess (treasurer). Mr. F. J. Dean (miners’ agent) was in London.

One of the officials explained that the ordinary strike pay is 10/- a week, but it was thought that it would be to the interests of the men if they were paid 15/-, as they have been at play since last Saturday week. The strikers came from all parts of the area covered by the association, although most of them belonged to Rushall, Sheffield and Walsall Wood.

From what could be gathered the men are not in such ‘high feather’ as they were this time last week. There are signs of a weakening in their determination, which goes a long long way to show that they would welcome a settlement. It was stated by one of the miners that in the early part of the week 20 or 30 non-unionists approached the manager of the Aldridge Colliery, and asked to be set at work, but were refused. In spite of the fact that the association has 4,000 members, there are non-unionists here and there and they must undoubtedly be reduced to an impecunious position. One of the miners expressed the opinion that after ‘this yer job’ is over the unionists will refuse to be reconciled to so many of the men remaining outside their union. The unionists evidenced that they appreciated their strike pay, small though it is compared to with an ordinary week’s money, but, in spite of reserve, many of them showed that they were a little anxious as to their prospects should the struggle be prolonged. Some of the men turned up at the venues in their Sunday best and one or two even wore collars and ties.

Later in the day there were 'payments out' at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, and at Brownhills. Yesterday (Friday) miners received pay at the STATION INN, Pelsall; the QUEENS HEAD, Bloxwich; and the BRITISH OAK, Lane Head. Today (Saturday) money will be paid put at the MALT SHOVEL INN, Newton.

It is stated that if a settlement is effected and the miners start work at once they will receive pay from the strike funds for the odd days they have been out."

Walsall Advertiser 23/11/1912

"The inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of the murdered woman, Elizabeth Birch, was opened on Wednesday morning, at the WHEEL INN, opposite the house where she and her brother and parents lived.

The accused was not present, but was represented by Mr. Lester, and Mr. J. F. Addison (Walsall) held a watching brief from the Chief Constable of Staffordshire.

The Coroner (Mr. Gerald C. Lewis), addressing the jury, said they had seen for themselves that it was practically a certain case of murder, and they also probably knew that a person had been arrested on suspicion. That being so, he thought it was desirable that the case should be investigated as fully and thoroughly as possible. He therefore proposed that day to simply take evidence of identification of the body so as to allow the poor woman to be buried, and then adjourn the inquest for a week, so that the authorities could make every enquiry they possibly could. Next week, if it was possible, the case might be thoroughly gone into, and they could arrive at a conclusion one way or the other.

Harry Birch brother of deceased, then gave formal evidence of identification. He said he was a constable in the Police Force of the county borough of Newport, Mon., and that the deceased was his sister. She lived with her father William Birch, a miner, and was a spinster of no occupation. She was thirty-four years of age.

The Coroner: That is as far as I propose to go to-day.

Upon the Coroner asking if Wednesday of next week would be convenient for the jury, one of the jurymen suggested Thursday.

The Coroner: There is a reason why that is inconvenient which I cannot tell you.

The Witness Birch: The sooner it is over the better it will be for the family.

The Coroner adjourned the inquiry until Wednesday next, at 10.30am, at the same place."

AND

"The accused man, Jacob Birch, was again brought before the Magistrates at a Special Court at Rushall on Thursday morning. Police-sergeant Lewis stated that the inquest was opened on Wednesday and had been adjourned for a week. He applied for a remand until next Thursday.

The Clerk (Mr. W. L. Lewis) stated that the Coroner would not require prisoner at the inquest, and there was no need for him to attend unless he himself wished to be present.

Mr. Lester (who represented the prisoner) offered no objection to the remand, and it was accordingly granted.

Subsequently the accused was removed to Stafford Gaol."

[At the adjourned inquest, which occupied nearly twelve hours, a verdict of Wilful Murder was returned by the Jury against Jacob Birch. At the Stafford Assizes, in February 1913, the jury found Jacob Birch to be of Unsound Mind and unable to plead, he was detained 'during His Majesty's pleasure'.]

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1915

"The South Wales coal strike was referred to by Mr. Fred J. Dean, Pelsall miners' agent, at a meeting held at the WHEEL INN, on Monday evening, Mr. W. Smith presiding.

Mr. Dean said he wished to touch upon the position of the industry having regard to the great upheaval and the national crisis. It was all very well to talk about wages and about miners having got a 15½ per cent advance, but miners were making a sacrifice to-day, as the cost of living had gone up considerably more than that. But they had got to look further ahead and try to see what their position would be when the war was over....."

Walsall Observer 22/7/1916

"An open-air meeting of miners, for the purpose of hearing addresses upon the present situation in the trade union world, was held near the WHEEL INN at Walsall Wood on Wednesday night, and the weather being fine there was a large attendance....."

Lichfield Mercury 12/9/1924

"At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, before Messrs. R. H. Holden, E. J. Shaw and F. Dean, Thos. Dorsett, of Coppice Road, Walsall Wood, was summoned for assaulting Eliza Dorsett, licensee of the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, for complainant, said defendant was her brother-in-law. On the night of the 31st ult. her son was rude to her and began gesticulating. Defendant then dashed into the house, and said he was boss there, and would show them what he could do. He pulled off his coat and struck Mrs. Dorsett in the chest, afterwards pushing her out the house.

Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson, for the defendant, said the son was entitled to a share of his father's estate, which his mother was withholding from him. Before he went out he referred to the matter, and his mother threatened there would be someone 'to do him in' when he came back, or words to that effect. As a result defendant went home with him to see that everything was all right. Mrs. Dorsett threatened him with a stick, and defendant simply pushed her away.

Defendant was fined £4, the Chairman remarking that the Bench considered it a very serious case. It almost amounted to an outrage."

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/6/1925

“An inquest was held at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, by the County Coroner (Mr. W. Checkley) on Tuesday afternoon relative to the death of Alfred Brown, aged 8, of Woodbine Terrace, Commonsides, Shire Oak, Brownhills, whose body was recovered from the Birmingham Canal on Saturday evening. The evidence showed that the little boy had been to the pictures at Brownhills on Saturday afternoon, and returning home got on to the canal side near Catshill junction, and it is supposed in attempting to walk along the coping stone near Pier Bridge fell into the water. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Lichfield Mercury 19/10/1934

“Air-Gun Shooting.

The following is the result of a friendly match shot at the WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, on Friday evening, the result shows an excellent beginning for the Muckley Corner club.

Walsall Wood: W. Riley 22, J. Taylor 21, J. Willetts 21, T. Smith 18, G. Riley, 21, J. Dorsett 21, T. C. Smith 21, T. Percival 18, G. Borden 20, T. Harris 19, W. Ashford 19, J. Curly, 17; total 240.

Muckley Corner: R. Ashley 20, W. Harris 20, C. Carter 16, G. Cooper 21, B. Norgrove 19, W. Shorthouse 23, W. Parsons 21, J. Mule 21, J. Harrington 22, B. Walker 22, A. Walker 21, E. Simpson 22; total 248.”

Walsall Observer 12/8/1939

“Walsall Wood Darts’ League.

Lichfield Road Club have withdrawn from the Walsall Wood and District Darts League, their place being taken by Daw End Liberal Club. The season will commence on Monday, September 4, and the next League meeting is to be held at the WHEEL INN, when all forms bearing players’ signatures are to be handed to the League secretary. Mr. H. Wood has given a cup to the League to raise funds for charitable purposes, and it has been suggested that the proceeds shall be given to the Walsall General Hospital.”

1939 Register

Lindon Road – WHEEL INN

[1] Frederick Adam Watkiss, date of birth 21/2/1896, licensee, married, ARP head warden;

[2] Lydia Watkiss, dob 17/4/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Harriet Winter, dob 23/11/1918, hawker, single;

[4] Rose Turnhill, dob 10/3/1918, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WHEEL INN, Walsall Wood, £1 11s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 30/6/1945 - Notice

“War Charities Act.

Notice Is Hereby Given that it is proposed to apply to the Brownhills Urban District Council for Registration under the above mentioned Act, of the Lindon Road Ward Victory Fund. The objects, briefly, are to provide Entertainment for the Old People and Children when we have achieved the Final Victory. The Headquarters of the Fund are situate at The Assembly Rooms, WHEEL INN, Lindon Road, Brownhill.

Any Objection to the proposed Registration should be sent in writing to the above named Council within 14 days from the date of this notice.

Dated June 30th, 1945.

(Signed) H. Broadway, Chairman. W. Cunnington, Treasurer. W. Corfield, Secretary. F. Watkins, Financial Secretary.”

Closed [2011], [2017]

WHITE HART

30, (25), Caldmore Road, (30, (56), Caldmore), (2, Corporation Street), , Caldmore Green, WALSALL

OWNERS

Miss Elizabeth Partridge, farmer, Birmingham Street, Walsall

Leary’s Brewery

Manchester Brewery Co. Ltd. [1906]

Samuel Allsopp and Sons Ltd.

Showells Brewery Ltd.

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.

Frank Myatt Ltd.

Ind Coope and Allsopp
Ansell's Ltd.

LICENSEES

Henry Carter [1801] – [1818]
Thomas Price [1834] – 1842;
Mrs. Sarah Price (1842 – [1851])
John Sadler [1853] – [1865]
Joseph Sadler [1868] – 1875;
John Sadler (1875 – []);
Mrs. Sarah Sadler [1881]
Edward Leary [] – 1890;
Standley Wildridge (1890 – 1892);
Mrs. Margaret Ann “Annie” Wildridge (1892 – 1896);
Margaret Bladen (1896 – 1903);
Thompson W Taylor [1896] – [1901] manager
Mrs. Margarette Theodora (Taylor) Day (1903 – 1904);
Frederick Harold ‘Fred’ Davey (1904 – 1908);
William Slater (1908 – 1909);
John Hanman (1909) temporary transfer
John Thomas Hawkins (1909 – 1911);
George Frederick Hands (1911 – 1913);
Edward Arthur Poulton (1913 – 1915);
Joseph Loynes (1915 – 1922);
William Farley (1922 – 1923);
Charles Cashmore (1923 – 1925);
Thomas Burdett [1925] ?
Walter Loynes (1925 – 1930);
Charles Cashmore (1930 – 1932);
Albert Banks Caunt (1932 – 1933);
William Edward Oakley (1933);
Francis Joseph Ellis (1933 – 1935);
Charles Henry Hadley (1935 – 1940);
George Humphries (1940 – 1943);
Samuel Swinglehurst (1943 – 1944);
John Cockbill (1944 – 1946);
Edwin Jones (1946 – 1951);
John Thomas ‘Jack’ Moran (1951 – 1955); manager
James Platt (1955 – 1962);
Derrick Neil Renton (1962 – 1963);
Abraham Tapper (1963 – 1965);
Arthur John Fleet (1965 – 1966);
Sydney Gill Smith (1966);
Robert John Spencer Davies (1966);
John Thomas Austin (1966 – [])

NOTES

25, Caldmore [1864], [1865]
56, Caldmore [1881]
30, Caldmore Road [1891]
30, Caldmore [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1940]

OLD WHITE HART [1893], [1894], [1895], [1896]
YE OLDE WHITE HART [1903], [1904]
YE OLDE WHITE HARTE [1908]
OLD WHITE HART HOTEL [1911]

Grade II listed

The original house was reputed to be haunted.

The 'Hand of Glory', a mummified child's hand, was found in an attic chimney.

'Black Country Pubs' by Robin Pearson and Jean Wade

".....originally built as a residence for the Hawe family on the site of an earlier half timbered house. It was only in 1801 that it became a licensed premises."

'Oak House, West Bromwich' – Souvenir Booklet

"John Turton of the Oak married, in 1624, Elizabeth Hawe, one of the Hawes of Walsall, who resided at what is now the WHITE HART INN at Caldmore, where Queen Henrietta Maria, wife of King Charles the First, stayed one night....."

'Staffordshire Stories' by Frederick William Hackwood.

"There is no foundation for the tradition that Henrietta Maria stayed at the residence of George Hawes, at Caldmore, which has since been converted into the WHITE HART INN....."

Henry Carter = Henry Cater

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/7/1829 - Died

"On Wednesday morning, the 1st inst. at his house at Caldmore, near Walsall, Mr. Henry Cater, aged 63, formerly landlord of the WHITE HART, in Caldmore."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/12/1834

"On Tuesday morning a woman named Mary Shale, of Walsall, aged 71, was discovered dead in a field near to Bescot Hall, in the Foreign of Walsall. She was almost in a state of nudity, and is supposed to have wandered to the spot where she was found, in a deranged state, and to have torn the clothes from her own person, as her bonnet and other articles of dress were found in an adjoining field. The unfortunate woman was subject to fits. An inquest was held at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, on Wednesday, before H. Smith, Esq, coroner, when the jury (there appearing no marks of violence on the body of the deceased) returned their verdict – Died by Visitation of God."

Staffordshire Gazette 28/1/1841

"Walsall Elections....."

We may mention one of the most disgraceful attempts at intimidation that it was ever our lot as journalists to record. On Monday evening a party of Mr. Gladstone's friends met at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, and were attentively listening to a speech of calm reasoning against the repeal of the corn laws by Mr. Bassett Smith. About nine o'clock this peaceful assembly was disturbed by a noise outside, and on enquiring it was found that it was caused by Acland at the head of a large body of bullies. The Conservatives determined not in any way to be parties to a breach of the peace, which was certain to take place if they had remained in the room, as Acland entered the room, and had displaced the chairman, and stopped Mr. Smith from proceeding. The Conservative party therefore left the room to the dastardly miscreants. Another fine specimen of freedom of election!"

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/1/1842 - Died

"Jan 1st, aged 45, Mr. Thomas Price, WHITE HART, Caldmore, near Walsall, much respected by all who knew him."

John Sadler = John Saddler

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/3/1853

"The match between Edwin Roper's dog Toss and Mr. Tully's Mike, to worry 30 rats each, for £5 a side, comes off to-morrow (Easter Sunday), at Mr. Sadler's WHITE HART INN, Walsall."

Walsall Free Press 3/4/1858

"John Sadler, landlord of the WHITE HART public house, Caldmore, was charged with having, on the morning of Sunday last, kept his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours. Police-constable Hawtin, while on duty on the morning in question, saw a man go into defendant's house, where he was supplied with both ale and beer. Mr. Walker, solicitor for the defence, said, on the day in question Mr. Sadler's servant had occasion to go out and had left the door open. During the time the door was open, the man seen by the officer entered and called for some beer, which, she having only been a few weeks in Mr. Sadler's service, and being unacquainted with the law, filled for him. At the time she did so neither her master nor mistress were present; but while the man was in the bar, the mistress came in and refused to let the man have the liquor. The girl having been called and proved the statement made by Mr. Walker, the case was dismissed."

Walsall Free Press 8/5/1858

"Meeting of the Improvement Commissioners.

A memorial from the inhabitants of Caldmore was presented, praying the commissioners to rescind the resolution come to at their last meeting, for the throwing open and levelling a certain enclosure in front of the WHITE HART public-house, Caldmore. As the memorialists agreed to the keep the fence of the enclosure in repair, the prayer of the petition was granted, and the meeting separated."

1861 Census

Caldmore

- [1] John Saddler (60), widower, victualler, born Wednesfield;
- [2] Mary Saddler (28), daughter, housekeeper, born Bushbury;
- [3] Joseph Saddler (20), son, currier, born Bushbury;
- [4] Sarah Leeke (30), daughter, born Bushbury;
- [5] Henry Ledbury (21), boarder, currier, born Rowley;
- [6] Jane Bishops (17), house servant, born Upper Hasely:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/9/1863

“On Saturday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the WHITE HART public-house, Caldmore, upon the body of Frederick Bond, son of James Bond, Caldmore, who died under the following circumstances. For some months past the child had been suffering from hydrocephalus. On Monday the symptoms became more aggravated, and the child continued gradually to sink; but no medicine was administered, nor any medical aid procured till ten o'clock on Wednesday evening, when a note was obtained from the relieving officer. With this note the father waited upon the medical officer for the district, Dr. Wyllie, who prescribed for the child, but the father neither carried out the doctor's instructions, nor returned to inform him of the child's condition, and about two o'clock on Thursday morning the child died. On Friday the father reported Dr. Wyllie to the Board of Guardians for having refused to attend his child, and the Guardians instructed their clerk to request Dr. Wyllie to attend next Board day and explain.

The jury after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes, and exonerated Dr. Wyllie from all blame. The Coroner censured the father for his culpable negligence, and refused to allow him anything for his attendance at the inquest.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/3/1866

“T. Busst of Walsall will run J. Cox of Wolverhampton 120 yards and will give him two yards start. A match can be made any night next week at Mr. J. Sadler's, WHITE HART INN, Caldmore.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/7/1866

“On Thursday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, upon the body of a blind man named John Cummings, who was drowned under circumstances detailed. The only witness called was Joseph Cummings, aged 23, the brother of the deceased, and from the evidence it appeared that he and deceased, who was 18 years of age, in compliance with the wish of the latter, went to a pool at Palfrey to bathe. Deceased undressed, and went into the water. He started to swim across the pool; but witness called to him to come back when he had gone about five yards, but he swam half-way across the pool before he turned to come back. As he appeared at this time to be struggling, witness called, ‘Are you drowning?’ Deceased made no reply, but shouted. ‘Joe.’ Witness called to deceased, ‘Swim to this side,’ but the latter replied, ‘I can't.’ One of his arms appeared to be cramped. When deceased first called to witness the latter sent a boy for a rope, who in about half a minute returned with it. Witness went into the water with the rope, and threw the end of it to deceased, but it fell short, and while witness was drawing it back deceased sank. A search was made for the body, but it was not found until the following morning. The Jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and accompanied their verdict with a recommendation that the pool should be enclosed.”

Joseph Sadler = Joseph Saddler

Walsall Free Press 18/7/1868

“On Monday last, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the district, held an inquest at the WHITE HART Public-house, Caldmore, upon the body of Edward Stringer, brass-dresser, who was drowned in an old clay pit at Palfrey. The deceased and some others had been drinking on Sunday evening, at the house where the inquest was held, and about six o'clock he and John Cummings and Edward Connelly went to the clay pit, which had been for some time full of water, to bathe. After they had come out deceased said he would show them something none of them could do, and thereupon he leapt into the water, and commenced to swim across the pool on his back, and his hands out of the water.

Joseph Cummings, the only witness examined at the inquest – and whose brother, a blind boy, was drowned in the same pool some time ago – said he was at the WHITE HART when deceased and the other two men agreed to go to bathe in the pool at Palfrey. Witness followed them; but when he got to the pool, the two men were dressing themselves, and deceased was swimming across the pool in the manner described. When within a yard of the opposite side, deceased appeared to be sinking, and witness observing this called out to the two men who immediately undressed and swam to deceased's assistance; but just when they were about a yard from him he sank, and although they dived several times, and remained in the water about a quarter of an hour searching for the body, they could not recover it. Information was given to the police, and Acting-sergeant Orme, and Police-constables Bailey and Blewer arrived with the police drags, and about 9-30 succeeded in recovering the body.

The jury after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned when bathing. The jury also recommended that the pool should be filled up. The coroner gave it as his opinion, that those who made such excavations should be compelled to fill them up. In Blue Lane several parties – two being children of the same family – had been drowned. The deceased Stringer has left a wife – near her confinement – and several children to lament his untimely end.”

It was altered in 1870.

1871 Census

Caldmore

- [1] Joseph Saddler (30), victualler WHITE HART INN, born Bushbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Saddler (26), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Saddler (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] George Saddler (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Saddler (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Ann Holman (54), aunt, widow, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Ellen Foxwell (17), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1872

“Joseph Sadler, of the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors after ten o’clock on the night of the 18th inst.

Police-constable Bradbury stated that at a quarter to eleven o’clock on the night in question he found three men in the brewhouse of the defendant’s house, and two glasses of rum and one of whisky on the table. The defendant told him that one of the men (Wilcox) had not had anything, and another (Hewitt) had just come by train from Dudley, and that he himself had been in the habit of giving a glass to the third (Brisst) every night after closing time, and would continue to do so. Hewitt, who lived close by, put down half a sovereign in his presence and for the landlady to take for the liquors.

Mr. Glover, who appeared for the defendant, called Mr. Hewitt (who stated that at the time the officer entered he had just returned from Dudley); and the defendant, who said that Brisst had been waiting on customers for him, and that both Brisst and himself had been treated by Hewitt. Defendant did not know this was wrong, Hewitt being a traveller.

The Bench believed the defendant had acted under a misapprehension, and imposed the minimum penalty, 20s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/9/1874

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. A. A. Fletcher held an enquiry at the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, Walsall, into the circumstances attending the death of Elizabeth Sadler, aged thirty-three, wife of Joseph Sadler, the keeper of the house.

Mary Ladbury, Stubber’s Green, Aldridge, sister-in-law to the deceased, deposed that on Tuesday evening she call to see her brother and his wife. Seeing that the latter did not look so well as usual, she said to her, ‘What’s the matter Bessy?’ The deceased replied, ‘Oh, trouble, trouble,’ but did not add any explanation, being called away, and witness did not again see her alive. Had never noticed any signs of insanity in deceased, but she was general very reserved. Had heard that her mother had destroyed herself. About ten minutes after deceased was called away, witness enquired where she was, and Mr. Sadler, sen., said, ‘Perhaps she has gone upstairs.’ Deceased’s husband was then told she was missing, and he left the brewhouse, where he was brewing at the time and ran upstairs, but came back saying the door was locked. Witness got him to go back upstairs with her. A man who was in the house followed them. She called out, ‘Open the door,’ but no one answered. Did not notice whether the key was inside, but there was no key outside the door. Deceased’s husband broke open the door, and his wife was found lying on the floor, in a great quantity of blood, a yard or two from the dressing-table as if she had fallen backwards. A large carving-knife lay on the table before the glass, in a pool of blood. (The knife was produced and the Coroner and the jury remarked that great force must have been used to inflict the wound on deceased’s throat, it being an extensive one, and the knife being anything but sharp.) Deceased’s husband appeared very distressed at the sight, and cried out, ‘Oh. She’s dead; I am too late.’ For anything that witness knew to the contrary, deceased and her husband had lived happily together. Had never heard her threaten to take her life; but had heard that on Thursday morning she made such a threat, and that in consequence her husband put his razors out of her way, and watched her himself during the day, in addition to setting a man to watch her.

Joseph Sadler, husband of the deceased, said he had never had reason to suppose that his wife would commit suicide; but from Saturday morning last she was very low-spirited and restless, but did her work as usual. They had lived happily together, especially during the last three or four months. On Tuesday morning she appeared very low, and he asked her what was the matter. She replied, ‘Trouble, trouble, trouble,’ and pointing to a basketful of dirty linen twice over, said that was her ruin. His belief was that she had at that time secreted in the basket the knife with which she destroyed herself. He pressed her to tell him what was the trouble was, but she said she had wronged him and his family, and brought him and his children to ruin, afterwards stating that she had run him into debt, there was £50 or £60 owing which he thought he had paid, and that she had lent and given away money, but she would not tell him to whom. There was no quarrel over the matter, nor was he angry with her. They had not a word for weeks, and on this occasion he spoke consolingly to her, trying to get her to calm herself and come to breakfast. He asked her if he had done anything which she had got on her mind, and she said, ‘No.’ She did not threaten suicide, but he watched her all day more carefully than usual, and finding that his razor had been taken out of the case, he took it away and hid it. During Tuesday she got into a room by herself frequently, and four times in the course of the day he fetched her from upstairs.

By a Juror: About three months ago, or more, she ran out of the house, and came into contact with a vehicle, and was hurt.

He had not on that occasion used violence to her, but she was in the habit of getting out of his way when he had had drink; and she did so then, because he spoke to her about taking drink herself.

Examination resumed: When he ran upstairs on Tuesday night the door was fastened on the inside.

The Coroner and jurors said he must be mistaken, as he would find, if he examined the door carefully.

He replied that he tried it both ways, and so did his sister, but neither of them could open it. His wife was drinking last week.

The Coroner said there were two other witnesses, but they would only confirm the evidence already given; and from the facts that had come out, it was clear that it was a case of suicide while suffering delirium tremens, the position of the body and the wound showing that the latter was self-inflicted.

Some of the jurors said it was notorious that the couple had not lived happily together, and wished evidence to the point; but, after a short consultation, a verdict of Suicide while in a state of Temporary Insanity was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1874

“The burial of Mrs. Sadler, who last week committed suicide under the circumstances already reported, took place on Saturday, and was made the occasion of an extraordinary popular demonstration of feeling, mainly directed against the husband of the deceased. Some hundreds of persons – men, women, and children – gathered round his house, the WHITE HART, Caldmore, most of them dwellers in the neighbourhood, and excitedly discussed the incidents of the married life of the hapless woman, the circumstances of the suicide, and the conduct of the inquest, in no friendly spirit towards any of those concerned, excepting the deceased herself. As to the enquiry, it was declared to have been incomplete, or worse, and the jury to have failed in their duty, inasmuch as they had not insisted on an adjournment for the production of further evidence. The coroner and the officers concerned in getting up the evidence came in for a good share of the vituperations so freely dispensed, and the cries and threats of violence towards the bereaved husband were of such a character that, acting upon advice, he judiciously refrained from following his wife’s remains to their last resting place. Finding that he did not take his place with the other mourners, the crowd rushed off to the cemetery by a short cut, not a few evidently expecting to find Mr. Sadler had proceeded there by another route than that taken by the funeral cortege; but on ascertaining that such was not the case, many of the men left at once, some openly and audibly regretting that. After all, there was to be ‘no fun.’ The women remained in crowds, and into every willing ear vindicated her character from reproach. The burial service was read by the Rev. W. Allen, vicar, who afterwards addressed a few words of advice to the assembled throng. He referred to that account of the deceased’s death as unmistakably showing the deceitfulness of sin, and the danger of people being led into great sins if they gave way to little things. If, therefore, any of them were given to drink, he begged them to abandon it at once. The reference to drink being evidently regarded as a reflection upon the deceased, it elicited a murmur of remonstrance from many of the women. Two of the deceased’s female relatives walked behind the hearse containing the coffin, and after them came the mourning coach containing her husband’s father, and some of her children. A wreath of flowers lay on the coffin.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/4/1875

“The license of the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, was transferred from James [sic] Sadler, deceased, to his father, John Sadler.”

1881 Census

56, Caldmore – WHITE HART

- [1] Sarah Sadler (62), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Joseph Sadler (16), grandson, bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [3] George Sadler (14), grandson, bit filer, born Walsall;
- [4] Emily Sadler (12), granddaughter, born Walsall:

Evening Express 14/6/1881

“Walsall Town Council It was resolved to purchase a strip of land to widen the road at Caldmore in front of the WHITE HART at a price lately offered for the whole strip. The Mayor stated that to carry out this street improvement the cost would not amount to more than £190.....”

The interior was altered in 1884.

Stanley Wildridge = Standley Wildridge = Stanly Wildridge

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses.....

Mr. Cotterell applied on behalf of Stanley Wildridge, the WHITE HART, Caldmore.... Granted on Tuesday evenings and every alternate Monday evening.”

1891 Census

30, Caldmore Road – WHITE HART

- [1] Stanly Wildridge (40), manager WHITE HART, born Workington;
- [2] Margaret Ann Wildridge (36), wife, manageress, born Manchester;
- [3] Stanley Wildridge (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Florence Wildridge (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Thomas Tolebar (26), barman, born Darlaston;
- [6] Frederick Williams (21), barman, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Lucy Gregory (20), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1892

“A.C.F Court ‘Earl of Warwick’, No.5922.

A smoking concert was held at the Club House, WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, on Monday last, in connection with the above Court, in aid of the Benevolent Fund, and to assist several distressed members of the Court. Upwards of 70 members and friends attended. Mr. C. Braid D.C.R., was voted to the chair; and Mr. Griffiths to the vice-chair. The chairman in the course of his remarks dwelt on the financial state of the Club, and urged those present who were not already in the club to join this one, and to induce others to do so, so that they might be prepared for the rainy day, which must inevitably come sooner or later. Songs were rendered by Messrs. Timmins, Poole, Kendrick, Mason, Walters, O'Neil, and Bentley; and recitation from Mr. Frakes. The healths of the Chairman, Vice-chairman, and the host and hostess being drunk with musical honours, brought a most enjoyable evening to a close."

Walsall Advertiser 21/1/1893

"At a meeting of the Queen Elizabeth Lodge of the R.A.O.B. at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, last evening, Primo C. Taylor, S.P., presiding, Mr. Frank James and other gentlemen were initiated as members of the Order, and delivered addresses in acknowledgement. Several members of the Order enlivened the evening with songs, glees, etc, and a most enjoyable evening was spent."

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1894 - In Memoriam

"In affectionate remembrance of Stanley, the beloved husband of Mrs. Annie Wildridge, OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, Walsall, who fell asleep May 29th, 1893.

Oh for the touch of a vanished hand, the sound of a voice that is still."

Walsall Advertiser 15/9/1894

"On Wednesday a most enjoyable evening was spent at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, by members of the Caldmore Liberal Unionist Committee, who met for the purpose of electing officers for the ward for the ensuing year....."

Walsall Advertiser 2/2/1895

"In support of the charge of permitting drunkenness on licensed premises brought against Mrs. Wildridge, of the WHITE HART, Caldmore, Sergeant Ballance swore that on Sunday evening at 10.30 he saw Wilkins, the barman, put out a man named Meeson in a drunken state; while in defence the barman was equally certain that he did no such thing, but that Meeson went out about ten o'clock and, because of a fainting fit – to shew that he suffered from which complainant evidence was given – sat down on a bench in the porch of the public-house until 10.30, when Wilkins, happening to come outside carried him to the door, and put him on his road home. The Bench accepted this explanation and dismissed the case."

Walsall Advertiser 31/8/1895

"The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held yesterday at the Guildhall.....

The following is a return of licensees who have been proceeded against during the year ending August 30th, 1895.....

Margaret Wildridge, WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, for having permitted drunkenness on February 1st, dismissed."

Walsall Advertiser 26/10/1895

"An inquest was held by Mr. T. H. Stanley (coroner for the borough), on Monday afternoon at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, respecting the death of Philip Davies, 33, Bescot Street, a painter in the employ of the London and North Western Railway Company, which took place very suddenly on Friday midnight.

Louisa Davis (wife of deceased), who identified the body, appeared very dejected. Amid sobs, she stated that her husband had not suffered from any complaint except colds. On Friday evening he came home from work just before six, and stayed indoors until a quarter to eleven, when he went out for some beer. They retired to bed at twenty minutes to twelve, and before being in bed five minutes he was suddenly taken ill, and appeared to be choking, his throat rattling very badly. She unfastened his shirt and rubbed him and then he went downstairs, and she gave him some whisky. She sent for a neighbour named Mrs. Adshead, but before she had been in the house many seconds he had expired, only having twice muttered that he was dying. He was not insured.

Agnes Adshead, out-door beerhouse, 24, Bescot Street, said the deceased came to her shop late on Friday night for half-a-pint of 'fours' and a cabbage. He told her that he never felt his chest so bad as it was that night. Mrs. Adshead corroborated the remarks of the former witness as to her being fetched, and the suddenness with which deceased died.

Dr. Shore deposed to having attended the deceased on and off for the last three years, during which time he suffered from colds and coughs. Once he had a very bad turn of colic. A fortnight on Saturday he came to his surgery suffering from a severe cold. He complained that his breathing was short, and that the cold foggy mornings affected his chest. Witness was called in at 10.30 on Saturday morning, and on making an external examination of the body he could find no marks of violence. The face was pale, and froth was round the mouth. The pose of the face was perfectly natural. The condition of the body signified that death had been very quick, there apparently having been an absence of pain. He considered that death was due to failure of the heart's action or syncope, most probably owing to the change of weather, and the deceased being compelled to turn out early in the morning. He had not the slightest doubt that death was due to Natural Causes, and a verdict to that effect was accordingly returned by the jury."

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1896

"Rudolph Whitehouse, barman at the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, was summoned for having drawn a horse and cart over the footpath near the WHITE HART, public-house. Police-constable 48 (Keay) proved the case, which was however dismissed with a caution."

Walsall Advertiser 25/7/1896

"R.A.O.B. 'Queen Elizabeth Lodge'.

The eleventh anniversary dinner in connection with the above lodge took place at the OLD WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore, yesterday week, when between 50 and 60 members and friends sat down to a substantial meal, ably provided by Host Mr. W. Taylor (late of West Bromwich). On the removal of the cloths Grand Primo James Osbourne presided, and the Deputy Grand Primo occupied the vice-chair.....”

Walsall Advertiser 15/4/1899

“On Tuesday afternoon an inquest was held at the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, before Mr. T. H. Stanley (Borough Coroner) touching the death of Robert Shenton, 98 years of age, who lived at the Henry Boys Almshouses, Wednesbury Road. Deceased, who had followed the occupation of a harness maker, was left in the house on Saturday, March 11th, when he had a fall, and was afterwards confined to his bed. It was supposed that deceased fell backwards whilst washing himself. He was attended by Dr. McKinstry until his death on April 8th. The medical evidence showed that deceased suffered from a bruised back and shock. The Coroner stated that it was very rare that an inquest was held on an old man of 98, but as the death was reported to him as having been caused by an accident, he had no other alternative than to order an inquest to be held. He was required to do this by law. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Margaret Bladen, WHITE HART, served 60 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views..... On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

Caldmore – WHITE HART INN

- [1] Thompson W. Taylor (56), manager of public house, born Hull;
- [2] Marguerita T. Taylor (42), wife, manageress of public house, born Marchwiel, Denbighshire;
- [3] Elsie M. Taylor (13), daughter, born Manchester;
- [4] Olive M. Taylor (11), daughter, born Manchester;
- [5] Margaret Bladen (77), mother in law, retired innkeeper, born Grantham, Lincolnshire;
- [6] Sarah A. Minchin (15), visitor, born Manchester;
- [7] Rachel Dodsworth (45), widow, domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Alfred Cooke (24), barman, born Farewell, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1903

“Today was the adjourned transfer day. Transfers of full licenses were granted in the case of.....

WHITE HART, Caldmore, Margaretta Theodora Taylor (representative of Margaret Blaydon) to Margaretta Theodora Taylor.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/3/1903

“Walsall Imperial Cycling Club.

The first day of spring is welcomed by many, and it was especially so this year by the members of the above club, as they had chosen last Saturday for the opening of their first season. This club, which is an entirely new one, has upwards of forty members enrolled, and of these a good number participated in the opening run from the headquarters, YE OLDE WHITE HART, Caldmore. A slow ride has been decided upon, and the place selected was that favourite country village, Little Hay. About 3 o'clock the members assembled at headquarters, and when shortly afterwards Captain James gave the signal to mount machines, 26 obeyed the call, among whom were five motor cyclists, which clearly shows that this type of machine is gaining favour with wheelmen. As my readers are aware, the day was an ideal one for the cyclist, and to make the ride more enjoyable we found the roads in splendid condition. The country is always very bare at this time of year, but it not so dead as some suppose, for the hawthorns are in full leaf in many places, while the furze bushes with their golden bloom looked quite summer-like. We went by the direct route, and our destination was reached just after four o'clock, but not before two of our number had been unfortunate to get their tyres punctured and a third thrown into a hedge, without any serious injury. Machines having been stabled at the Holly Bush, we allowed ourselves to be photographed by one of the members. This function being over, the football fraternity adjourned to a neighbouring field to play a match which had been arranged with the Walsall Social Cycling Club. The game, which ended in a draw of two goals each, was spoilt by the wind, and although being devoid of science, caused plenty of amusement for the spectators. After a short rest we went indoors and sat down to a capital tea which Mrs. Gladman, the hostess, had provided. Then the members strolled about the place until 7 o'clock, when our captain gave the order for re-mounting. The homewards journey lay through Shenstone Park and Lichfield Road, headquarters being reached about 9.30. Some members experienced great difficulty with their lamps owing to the wind being so strong, but everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and considered they had had a good day. We shall be out again this afternoon, weather permitting, and our doings will be dealt with next week by the Imperialist.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/11/1904

“Walsall Harriers..... To-days fixture is a slow run from YE OLDE WHITE HART, Caldmore Green, at 3.30pm.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/9/1905

“Imperial Cycling Club. A novel and enjoyable trip of the season was that arranged by Mr. J. W. Lazenby, L&NW agent, Park Street, for the above club, a few days ago. The party, some 30 strong, left their headquarters, the WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore, Walsall, at 9.15am in a large and well-appointed motor, travelled by way of Wolverhampton, Stourbridge, Kidderminster, and Ombersly, to the Holt Fleet Hotel, where a substantial dinner was in readiness. Dinner over, the party left for home via Worcester and Droitwich, making a short stay at the latter place for tea. The homeward journey was via Bromsgrove, Smethwick, and West Bromwich, arriving back at their club home at 8.30pm, after an excellent, pleasant, and most enjoyable outing. The scenery en route was much enjoyed, the clusters of apples, damsons, &c, as seen from the roadside being much admired, and altogether the facilities for such an extensive run, and the favourable weather, were much appreciated.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/6/1906

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District Friendly Societies’ Council was held at the DOLPHIN HOTEL, George Street on Thursday evening.....

It was decided to adjourn the discussion as to what steps to take to improve the attendance at the court and lodge meetings to a special meeting to be held at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, on August 22nd, Bro. Bridgewater who should have opened the discussion, stating his inability to place his views before them in the short time at his disposal.

The MARKET TAVERN, Freer Street, was the place selected for the next quarterly meeting.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/7/1906

“Town CouncilThe Street Committee The following plans have been approved: Manchester Brewery Co., additions to the premises, the WHITE HART, Caldmore.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1907

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District Friendly Societies Council was held at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, on Thursday.....

Mr. Bridgewater moved that a clause in the minutes referring to the change of headquarters from the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street be rescinded. The clause proposed under a misapprehension that there was no lodge meeting at the house subscribing to their society. He represented the Bescot Bridge District Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, which met there and they did subscribe to their society.

Mr. Warner seconded.

Mr. Sankey said that Mr. Bridgewater was present when the resolution was proposed and he should like to know why he did not object at that time.

The President said Mr. Bridgewater was perfectly in order bringing the matter forward.

The resolution was eventually carried.

The DOLPHIN HOTEL was appointed as the headquarters of the society for the ensuing twelve months.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1907

“At Rushall Church, a ceremony of much local interest took place on Wednesday, when Mr. John Wright, of Bombay, was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Florence Bates, daughter of Mr. Geo. Thompson of Walsall. The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. Fred Davey acted as best man. The wedding breakfast took place at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, and subsequently a reception was held. The catering was admirably conducted by the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davey). The presents were numerous. The happy couple shortly leave for India.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/9/1908

“There was a very crowded assembly in the club room of the OLD KINGS ARMS, Caldmore, on Tuesday evening, when a smoking concert took place, and presentations were made to Mr. and Mrs. F. Davey, recently host and hostess of the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, on their removal to take over an important position at Lancaster. Councillor E. Shelley occupied the chair, and was supported by Councillor J. N. Cotterell, Dr. Riordan, &c. An excellent musical programme was rendered during the evening, and practical expressions of appreciation were tendered by Mr. and Mrs. Davey. Dr. Riordan presented them a beautifully illuminated address, the work of Mr. W. A. Dunham, the text of which was as under.

To Mr. and Mrs. Davey.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Davey. On behalf of your numerous friends and well-wishers, we beg your acceptance of this address of our affection and esteem. We have felt that we could not let you depart Walsall without expressing in some tangible form the high respect we feel for you, and our sincere appreciation of your geniality and hospitality as host and hostess while at YE OLDE WHITE HARTE. You may rest confidently assured that you take with you our united wishes for your future health and prosperity. Signed on behalf of the subscribers, James Neville (chairman), William Dukes, Wm. Boulter, John Neville, Samuel E. Hodgkins, Geo. Hilton, W. J. Rattenbury, W. Henry Swift (secretary).

Dr. Riordan also presented Mrs Davey a gold brooch, and also on behalf of Mrs. Dukes, a bouquet. Councillor, on behalf of the Imperial Cycling Club, presented to Mr. Davey, a finely framed photograph of the members, and another presentation was made by Mr. Rattenbury on behalf of the Caledonian Corks.

Mr. Davey suitably acknowledged the kind things said of his wife and himself.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/10/1908 - Advert

“YE OLDE WHITE HARTE, Caldmore.

William Slater (for some years of the NEW STATION HOTEL, Park Street), has taken over the above Ancient Rendezvous. Everything of the best.

Allsopp's Stout, Allsopp's Lager.

All the Noted Brands of Wines, Brandies and Whiskies.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1909

“An application was made for the temporary transfer of the license of the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore Green, from Wm. Slater to John Hanman, of Birmingham. Mr. H. H. Jackson stated that it would be only be temporary until they got someone else, as Mr. Slater was going to America.”

1911 Census

2, Corporation Street – OLD WHITE HART

[1] John Thomas Hawkins (46), hotel manager, born Wednesbury;

[2] Harriet Emma Hawkins (45), wife, married 23 years, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[3] Rose Hawkins (20), daughter, dressmaker, born Ocker Hill;

[4] Gerty Harriet Hawkins (17), daughter, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[5] Richard Elias Hawkins (13), son, born Walsall;

[6] Samuel Barnes (28), barman, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 16/9/1911

“Walsall Harriers. The above club will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, September 20th, at 8 o'clock, at the OLD WHITE HARTE, Caldmore. The business of the meeting is to select officials for the coming cross-country season.....”

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1911

“At the general meeting of the Harriers Club it was unanimously agreed that the headquarters of the club should be removed from the WHITE HART, Caldmore, to the LITTLETON ARMS, Hatherton Street, of which Mr. George James is the host. Mr. James has been connected with several branches of sport a good many years. He is vice-president of the Walsall Football Club, and takes a big interest in cycling and shooting, and it is thought from all points of view that the club have done the right at last in coming back to the district where it made its name. The only thing wanting to make the club what it had been in past years is a little support from the sporting public of the town. The following officials were elected for the coming season: Captain, H. Blower; vice-captain, H. Lawton; treasurer, S. Dyde; hon. secretary, G. L. Lamb. The opening run will take place on September 30th and all novices will be heartily welcomed.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/11/1911

“The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

New members..... Mr. George F. Hands, WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1913

“The annual Licensing Sessions for the borough were held at the Guildhall on Monday.....

The Chairman asked how it was that there had been six transfers of the license of the WHITE HART, Caldmore, within a short period.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, who appeared in the case, said he could not give all the reasons, but he could tell them that the present manager was receiving £5 a week. He thought one reason was that the ownership of the house had changed hands, but if he had had notice he would have secured the information for the Justices.

Alderman Sir E. T. Holden: We have asked for it before. – Mr. Jackson: In future I will endeavour to get that information.”

Walsall Observer 31/1/1914

“National Union Of Railwaymen.

The following resolution was carried at the Walsall Branch meeting, held at the WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore. The number of members being present was 31, and the voting was: Fifteen for, four against, rest neutral. Resolution: ‘That this meeting calls upon the Prime Minister immediately to redeem his pledges by introducing a comprehensive Franchise Reform Bill; it further demands the inclusion of women in this measure, and calls upon the Parliamentary Labour party and all other true democrats in the House of Commons to vote against the Bill if women are excluded’.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/2/1914

“The Walsall and District Cage Bird Society held their third annual show at the WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore, on Saturday afternoon. There was a gratifying attendance of visitors, and the show was the best the society has had. Nearly all the classes were well filled, and many class winners were staged. Mr. Tonks of Wednesbury, a new member of the society took six first prizes with his well-known team of British birds. Another new member, Mr. G. C. Burton, staged some very nice exhibits that will make a name for themselves next show season, and the mealy red pole, owned by Mr. Hampton, was acknowledged by many to be the best field-moulted specimen seen for some time. Mr. Weaver of Wolverhampton, was the judge, and his awards were received with satisfaction.....”

Walsall Observer 18/7/1914

“From East to West, by Cycle in Quest of Trade by J. H. Sleigh, in Saddlery & Harness.....

Legend has it that Queen Elizabeth ‘rested’ in the town at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, at that time a mansion of no mean account in the possession of the Hawe family.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/9/1914

“Harry Longmore, of Port Street, was summoned for having been drunk on licensed premises of the WHITE HARTE, Caldmore, on Sept, 12th. Mr. H. H. Jackson watched the case on behalf of the licensee.

Police-constable Fisher said that at 9-10pm on Sep. 12th he was on duty at Caldmore Green when he saw defendant ejected from the WHITE HART by the landlord. He went round to the front entrance and attempted to enter the vaults. Witness informed the landlord, who again ejected defendant. The landlord said he was drunk when he came in, and he refused to serve him. Defendant was fined 5s and costs.

Mr. Jackson said that on behalf of the licensee he wished to thank the police for giving him warning. On busy nights it might be easy for an intoxicated man to enter licensed premises and not be discovered until something happened. The officer had acted very properly.”

Walsall Observer 7/11/1914 - Advert

“Bird Show, WHITE HARTE HOTEL, Caldmore, Saturday, November 14th. Admission 3d.”

Walsall Observer 23/1/1915

“Caldmore by W.P.

I stood on the Green at Caldmore, and I wondered how many years had passed since Tully’s garden was there. I turned round and gazed at the WHITE HART, the glory of Caldmore. It had been altered somewhat since the days of my childhood, but the old pear tree still flourishes on its southern front. Years ago my taste of its fruit was good, though I can’t remember that I ever had any of it given to me.

There seems to be no reliable evidence attached to the WHITE HART. Originally it may have been a mansion of the Tudor Period. In my time, its stables and outbuildings reached a long way down Corporation Street. People scoff at the idea it once sheltered Queen Elizabeth, but at the side of it is ‘Queen Elizabeth’s Passage.’ If the habits of the ladies at that time were as they are now, the side entrance of a hostelry would be a natural way for a lady to enter.

In my childhood, they often frightened me to sleep with a ghost story about the WHITE HART. Once every year, in the upper parts of the building, might be seen a phosphorescent ghostly head; in various other places would appear a ghostly leg, and arm, or a trunk of a body. It appears the heir to the property was murdered, the corpse dismembered, and hidden piecemeal among the rafters. Thus every year these different parts went wandering about to discover the other parts, so as to join themselves together to make a whole and united ghost. To stop these annual pranks, a search was made among the rafters, when a withered skull and arm were found. They were buried in consecrated ground, and the different ghostly parts were never seen flitting about in their vain search afterwards. After the skull was buried, there was no brain in the other parts to guide them in their quest.

The land in Caldmore is freehold; thus probably, no family of note lived at the WHITE HART.....”

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1915 - Advert

“Wanted Youth, as Bar-Potman.

Apply, WHITE HART, Caldmore.”

Walsall Observer 11/9/1915 - Local Soldiers

“Two local soldiers known to have been aboard the Royal Edward troopship when she was torpedoed by a German submarine in the Aegean Sea are Sergeant William Loynes, whose parents are licensees of the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, and Private John Turner, formerly of Coalpool. Both had miraculous escapes, and were in the water some hours before being picked up.

Sergeant Loynes is only eighteen years old, and the son of Mr. J. Loynes, a member of the Committee of the Walsall Football Club, who is also licensee of the WHITE HART INN, Caldmore Green. As a boy he attended Wisemore School, but was more particularly associated with the Pleck District, where his parents held the license at the ROYAL OAK, Oxford Street. When war broke out he was engaged as a barman in London, and shortly after enlisted in the Hampshire Regiment. It was not long before he had proved his capability, and by Christmas time had attained the rank of Sergeant and was acting as a gymnastic instructor with Kitchener’s Army at Aldershot. He is now in a rest camp at Alexandria in Egypt.

‘It was a sight I never wish to see again,’ he says in a letter home, referring to the Royal Edward disaster. ‘I happened to be very lucky, and was picked up by a hospital ship after being in the water from 9.20am till 2 o’clock.’ Several of his pals, he says, lost their lives, while he also mentions that among the crew of the hospital ship was a man he knew. The latter has since written to Mr. and Mrs. Loynes assuring them that their son looked none the worse for his trying experience.

Private John Turner is twenty years of age, and attended Butts Scholl as a boy. The family formerly had charge of the Coalpool pleasure grounds, but afterwards removed to St. Helen’s, where Private Turner was working as a miner when he joined the West Lancashire Field Ambulance shortly after the outbreak of war. Knowing that he was aboard the Royal Edward, relatives spent a very anxious time waiting for news, and were overjoyed when they learned that he had been saved.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/11/1915

“Walsall and District Hospital.

On behalf of the Committee, the secretary of the Hospital acknowledges, with many thanks, the receipt of the following gifts for the wounded soldiers at present in the Hospital: Donations for ‘extra comforts’.....

£10. Mrs. Loynes, proceeds of jumble sale and concert at the WHITE HART, Caldmore.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid C – see also committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHITE HARTE HOTEL, Caldmore. £2 10s 4½d.”

Walsall Observer 21/9/1918 - Roll of Honour

“Lance-corporal Albert Loynes, whose home was with his parents at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, is in a base hospital in France having been shot through the foot while in action with the King’s Liverpool Regiment. His progress is regarded as satisfactory. A single man, 19 years of age, he had been in France nine months, having joined the Colours 15 months ago. Two brothers are serving; one, who had been wounded, is in London, and the other is in Palestine.”

Joseph Loynes – see also ROYAL OAK.

Walsall Observer 19/1/1924

“When Charles Cashmore, licensee of the WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore, applied at the Walsall Police Court, on Tuesday, for a license for a smoking concert to be held there that night, the Chief Constable (Mr. G. H. Ballance) raised an objection on the ground that the customary 24 hours notice had not been given to the Magistrates’ Clerk and himself.

Cashmore explained that he was organising the concert himself on behalf of the Hospital and estimated that the institution would benefit by about 37s 6d.

Asked by the presiding magistrate (Mr. T. A. Smith) what he himself would get out of it, the landlord replied, ‘Nothing’; and added that no drinks would be served in the concert room.

The magistrates, after some hesitation, granted the application on condition that no drink would be served in the room, and intimated that in future no such application would be granted unless the necessary notice was given.”

Lichfield Mercury 17/4/1925

“Royal Visits To Staffordshire.

In 1643 King Charles was at Tutbury, and in the same year, according to Grew, in his History of Walsall, Queen Henrietta Maria honoured that town with a visit, and it is said to have stayed at a house now and for many years known as the WHITE HART, Caldmore.....”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 28/11/1925

“Members of the Wednesbury and District Provincial Lodge of the R.A.O.B. (G.L.E.) performed the consecration and opening ceremony of a new Lodge – Queen Elizabeth – at the WHITE HARTE HOTEL, Caldmore, Walsall, on Tuesday evening. Bro. D. Freeman, G.P., presided, and the ceremony was performed by Bros. Williams, K.O.M., E. Smith C.P., and Loynes. Bro. B. Purcell was elected C.P., and the duties of secretary were undertaken by Bro. E. Smith, C.P.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/9/1930

“The Free Library and Art Gallery Committee have sent a letter of thanks to Mr. W. B. Shaw for his gift of the original old oak door of the WHITE HART, Caldmore, which was removed on the reconstruction of the house some 20 years ago.”

Walsall Observer 21/10/1939

“‘Surely the job of A.R.P. wardens is to see that lights are obscured and not to get convictions,’ urged Dr. G. G. Layton (magistrate), during the hearing of several cases of alleged breaches of the lighting restrictions heard at Walsall Police Court on Wednesday. The defendant was C. H. Hadley, licensee of the WHITE HART, Caldmore Green.

‘We are not concerned as a Bench,’ declared Dr. Layton, ‘solely with registering convictions and fining people. It is the business of any citizen, if he sees an unobscured light, to take what steps he can to have the light put out. The primary job of the wardens is to see that there are no lights about.’

Mr. Hadley was fined 10s, with 19s 6d costs.”

1939 Register

Caldmore – WHITE HARTE Public House

[1] Charles H. Hadley, date of birth 29/12/1894, licensee, married;

[2] Ida Hadley, dob 5/1/1895, licensee, married;

[3] Harry Hadley, dob 6/10/1916, butcher, single;

[5] William Arthur Hadley, dob 5/4/1930, at school, single;

[6] Ester Fish, dob 17/8/1915, bar general, single:

Charles Henry Hadley – see also GREEN DRAGON.

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HART, Caldmore Green, £5 8s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Personal

“The engagement is announced between Eric F. Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Seeds Lane, Brownhills, and Queenie Eileen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Humphries, WHITE HART INN, Caldmore, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Humphries, the WHITE HART, Caldmore. £2 17s 3d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HART HOTEL, Caldmore. £2 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 7/8/1943 - Births

“On Aug. 4, 1943, at the WHITE HART, Caldmore, Walsall, to Kathleen (nee Humphries), wife of Ernest Hancox, a son (Colin Peter).”

George Humphries – see also ROYAL OAK.

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HART, Caldmore. £1 6s 6d.”

Birmingham Mail 28/7/1944 - Advert

“Piano John Broadwood for quick sale take £50 a real bargain.

WHITE HART, Caldmore, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 11/11/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society held a meeting on Thursday last at the WHITE HART, Caldmore.....”

Edwin Jones – see also BRADFORD ARMS.

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/12/1946

“WHITE HART, Caldmore, Walsall. Formerly used as a manor house, it was probably built by George Hawe, a member of the Solihull family. In Plot’s History of Staffordshire we read of a pear tree here which blossomed despite frost and snow. Queen Henrietta visited the house in 1643, which did not become an inn until more recent times.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/12/1952

“Staffordshire’s youngest ghost is rather a pathetic one – a little boy whose mummified hand was found in a chimney when alterations were being made some fifty years ago in the historic WHITE HART INN at Caldmore, Walsall.

George Hawe, who was granted the manor of Walsall by King Henry VIII, founded the OLD WHITE HART in 1543, and two royal visitors have stayed there, Queen Elizabeth and in 1643, Queen Henrietta Maria.

An underground passage, now bricked up, used to give a way of escape from the inn to nearby St. Matthew, and the top floor of the inn, where the ghost usually manifests itself, remains exactly the same as it was when first built. It consists of one enormous room running the whole length of the building, and is crossed at waist level by heavy oak beams festooned with cobwebs.

The present manager of the inn, Mr. J. T. Moran has lived on the premises for only a little over a year, but he has often heard strange, unaccountable bangs and scream, while his dog sometimes howls like a damned soul. The wife of a former manager also heard footsteps, and once she went down – appropriately enough – to the spirit cellar – she thought she felt a disembodied hand touch her shoulder. She was so affected that her health broke down and she had to leave the inn. Some years ago two mediums came to investigate, and claim to have spoken to the spirit. While they were addressing it the former manager saw a grey, opalescent shape floating across the room and out through the window.

The little ghost of the WHITE HART does not confine itself entirely to the inn. Sometimes, it is said, he walks at midnight on Caldmore Green and when he is seen there the people living nearby know that they will see many.”

Jack Moran married Hilda Blakeway.

She committed suicide by drowning in the canal in 1955.

James Platt – see also WELCOME STRANGER, STATION.

Derrick Neil Renton was fined £5 and £10 10s 0d advocates fee for suffering gaming, and £3 on each of four cases of selling intoxicating liquor to persons under 18, on 26th July 1963.

Walsall Observer 2/8/1963

“When two police officers visited a Walsall public house on a routine check they found seven youths, four under the age of 18, drinking beer and playing pontoon, it was stated at Walsall Magistrates Court on Friday. Derek Renton (42), licensee of the WHITE HART public house, Caldmore Green, who pleaded not guilty to allowing gaming to be carried on at his premises and to four charges of serving intoxicating drinks to persons under the age of 18, was fined a total of £17 and ordered to pay an advocate’s fee of 10gns.

Mr. W. F. Stretton, prosecuting, said that when the officers asked Renton about the card game he said that he had given the youths cards and a cribbage board, but did not know they were playing pontoon. Mr. Stretton said, ‘A licensee is expected to control what goes on in his house.’

Police Sergeant W. Davies said it was quite obvious to him that the youths were playing pontoon. When he saw Renton on May 17 and asked him about the game the youths were playing, he was told, ‘To tell you the truth I never really bothered about what they were playing.’ Renton also told him that the youths were regular customers of his house and he thought they were all over 18.

Inspector C. Dickens, questioned by Mr. J. R. R. Benton, defending, said he thought that the youths looked under age. Mr. Benton said Renton was in sole charge of four bars and the outdoor department. ‘What he failed to do was to keep an eye on a game in a corner of a room during a quarter of an hour,’ he said. If he wanted to he could have warned the youths as the officers moved from one bar to another.

Three of the youths pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting Renton to allow gaming on his premises. Fined £1 with 10s costs they were, Melvin Clarke (18), of 156 Dale Street, Walsall; Raymond Carless (19), of 164 Milton Street, Walsall; and Robin Stevenson (18), of 15 Thelma Street, Walsall.

The others pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting gaming and buying intoxicants while under the age of 18. They were, James Wakeman (17), of 18 Spout Lane, Walsall; John Giles (17), of 20 Westbury Road, Wednesbury; and David Lunn (17), of the SPRING HEAD TAVERN, Walsall Road, Darlaston. They were fined a total of £3 and 10s costs each.”

Abraham Tapper – see also COALPORT TAVERN.

www.blackcountryhistory.org

“The Hand of Glory

The WHITE HART in Caldmore is one of Walsall’s most historic public houses. Originally a private residence, the building dates from the second half of the 17th century and was probably built by George Hawe, who is known to have made improvements to his family estate in Caldmore. The site was previously occupied by a timber-framed house and, apparently, these timbers were re-used in the new building. The inn was renovated in the 1870s, and workmen discovered a human child’s arm hidden in an attic chimney. They thought it was a ‘Hand of Glory’, that is, a hand cut from a hanged felon and dried in a prescribed manner. Either by lighting the fingers themselves, or using the hand as a candle holder, the Hand was supposed to stupefy any person seeing it, thus enabling a burglar to ransack a house without being caught. It was generally believed that the flames could not be blown out by any ordinary person and that milk was the only liquid able to extinguish the candle. Tests show that the arm is a medical specimen. In 1965 a pathologist’s report was obtained from Birmingham University Medical School, which states that it is the arm of an infant which has been skilfully dissected by a surgeon and injected with formalin to preserve it. It certainly does not date from when the house was first built.”

[© Wolverhampton Arts and Museums Service, www.blackcountryhistory.org]

‘The Folklore of the Black Country’ by Roy Palmer (2007)

“....The rumour circulated that the arm came from a young girl who killed herself in the mid-nineteenth century in the WHITE HART, then haunted the place. In 1950 the landlord found the print of a tiny hand in the dust on a table in a locked attic of which only he had the key. From the same room he heard the sound of disembodied footsteps. Since 1965 the arm has been in Walsall Museum, and it seems that the strange happenings at the WHITE HART have come to an end.”

It was damaged by fire in 1986, causing its closure.

Black Country Bugle 22/6/2000

‘The White Hart Inn and its Grisly Past’ by A. F. Cooper

“The WHITE HART INN served as a public house to the local community from 1818, until seriously damaged by fire in 1986. For a number of years, the inn stood empty and derelict In 1991, a group of local residents decided to get together, and endeavour to do something to preserve the building for future posterity An agreement was finally reached and work began on the refurbishment of the inn; being finally completed in 1995 at a cost of £425,000.....”

[It was renovated, but is no longer a pub.]

Halesowen News 10/11/2022

“A former Walsall pub, now converted into flats, will go under the hammer at auction. The Grade II listed WHITE HART, in Caldmore Green, is being offered with a guide price of more than £385,000 in Bond Wolfe's auction on December 14. It was converted into eight flats in the mid-1990s and it is currently empty and considered suitable for redevelopment. Gurpreet Bassi, chief executive of Bond Wolfe, said, 'This is a building steeped in local folklore; an attractive and historic structure originally built as a home in the late 17th Century, later converted into a pub and then redeveloped as apartments in the 1990s. It is now in need of refurbishment, with development potential once the necessary planning permissions are secured. It is sure to attract competitive bidding from developers and property investors from across the UK and overseas in our December sale.' The property was originally the site of a timber-framed house owned in the 17th Century by the family of George Hawe, who had moved from Solihull to Walsall and became mayor in 1588. The currently building was built in the second half of the 17th Century, with timbers from the original house used in the new roof. By 1818 the former family home was now a pub, the WHITE HART, with one Henry Carter as licensee. It underwent major renovation in 1884, becoming the building that stands on the site today. It was converted to homes in 1994. It occupies a triangular-shaped plot of land on the corner of Caldmore Green and Corporation Street. The WHITE HART is among scores of properties due to appear in the auction which is due to start at 9am. It will be livestreamed via Bond Wolfe's website with remote bidding by proxy, telephone or internet."

WHITE HART

23, (13), (Lower) Walhouse Road (Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Nicholas Roper, 16, Lichfield Street, Walsall
Samuel Robertson, MOILLIETT ARMS, Smethwick
William Charles Arthur
Polly Arthur
Polly Stokes
Showells Brewery [1904]
A. W. Greatrex
Eliza Lowe
Arthur Beebee [1910]

LICENSEES

Samuel Falconbridge [1851] – [1858]
William Charles Arthur [1860] – [1885];
George Smith [1872]?
Mrs. Polly (Arthur) Stokes [1887] – 1893;
Francis Stokes (1893);
George Mann (1893);
Edward John Wilkins (1893 – 1899);
Mrs. Sarah Wilkins (1899 – 1903);
Charles William Mitchell (1903 – 1904);
Joseph Hughes (1904) temporary transfer
Henry Smallwood (1904 – 1905);
John Lawton (1905 – 1906);
Frederick Ernest Marlow (1906 – 1907);
Frederick Burden (1907 – 1908);
James Howard Biddulph (1908 – 1909);
Charles Mills (1909 – 1910);
William Lenton (1910 – 1911);
Sidney Joseph Lancaster (1911 – 1914);
Mrs. Alice (Lancaster) Boot (1914 – 1920);
Eliza Lowe (1920);
Thomas Burdett 'Tommy' Lowe (1920 – 1940);
Mrs. Eliza Lowe (1940 – 1957);

NOTES

13, Walhouse Street [1861], [1862], [1871], [1881]
13, Lower Walhouse Street [1891], [1901]

23, Walhouse Road [1932], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Walhouse Street

- [1] S. Falconbridge (30), brewer, born Birmingham;
- [2] Maria Falconbridge (38), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Sarah Cash (14), servant, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Selina Nicholls (12), visitor, born Walsall Wood:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853

“At the adjourned annual licensing meeting on Wednesday last, eight of the sixteen persons who applied for victuallers’ licenses on the Wednesday previously renewed their applications, and with success.....
Samuel Falconbridge, Walhouse Street.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1855

“On Friday an inquest was held by A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, at the house of Mr. Samuel Falconbridge, the WHITE HART INN, Wallhouse Street, on the body of a young girl, aged sixteen, named Elizabeth Jones. The deceased lived as servant with Mr. James, of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, Ablewell Street. On Thursday she stole a shawl from a traveller staying in the house, and pawned it at Miss Scholefield’s, in Lichfield Street. She was charged with the theft, and denied it. A man named Bullock, about three o’clock, was working in a rope walk near Hatherton Lake, and heard a woman cry out that some one was in the water; he ran to the spot, and saw a ripple as though a stone had been thrown in. The drags were procured, and in five minutes the body, which had been in the water about half an hour, was recovered. Life of course was extinct. The jury returned a verdict of Felo de se. The party robbed of the shawl had offered to forgive the deceased, if she confessed the theft, but she persisted in denying it.”

Walsall Free Press 1/1/1859

“On Wednesday evening last, Mr. Adkins, builder, in accordance with a good old custom, entertained his workmen, about thirty in number, to the tenth annual supper, at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street. Ample justice was done to the repast, which was served up in a style reflecting much credit upon the host and hostess of the establishment. The cloths having been withdrawn, the usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given by the chairman, Mr. Wright, and responded to by the company. Several other toasts were also given and acknowledged, and the hilarity which was kept up till a late hour in the evening, was much enhanced by a number of excellent songs which were given by some of the work-men present.”

1861 Census

13, Walhouse Street – WHITE HART

- [1] William Arthur (34), licensed victualler, born Hednesford;
- [2] Matilda Arthur (29), wife, born Chesterfield;
- [3] William Arthur (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Manlove (18), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Free Press 6/2/1864

“Last night, a gentleman who had been thrown from his horse was found in Lichfield Street in a state of insensibility, and was conveyed to the WHITE HART public house, Walhouse Street, where he was attended by Mr. Kelty. As the unfortunate gentleman had not been restored to consciousness up to the time of our going to press, we are unable to give his name or address.”

Walsall Free Press 5/3/1864 - Advert

“The Cottage Hospital.

The Committee have much pleasure in announcing the following additional Donations and Subscriptions:
Loyal Era Lodge, WHITE HART, Walhouse Street..... £1 0s 0d.”

Walsall Free Press 31/3/1866 - Advert

“Independent Order Of Odd Fellows (Manchester Unity). Bescot Bridge Division.

The members of the Bescot Bridge District of the above Order respectfully inform the Public that they intend holding their First Annual Tea Party, Concert, & Ball, in the Guildhall Assembly Room, Walsall, on Easter Monday, April 2nd, 1866.

The entire proceeds of which will be invested in Trust for the Benefit of the Cottage Hospital.

Tickets, 1s 6d each.

Early applications for tickets is requested, as the Committee have limited the number to 500, and no Money will be taken at the door.

Tickets may be obtained at the DRAGON INN, and the WHITE LION INN, High Street; the DOLPHIN INN, George Street; the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street; at 16 Bath Street, the ‘Walsall News’ Office, and of Mr. J. T. King, printer, Stafford Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1868 - Advert

“Wanted a good General Servant, age from 25 to 30.
Apply at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 24/6/1869

“On Monday afternoon the members of the ‘Era’ Lodge (No.2244) of the Odd Fellows celebrated their anniversary by a dinner-party which was held at the WHITE HART public-house, Walhouse Street. The viands, which were choice were served up in a style which reflected the highest credit upon the host, Mr. Arthur. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Burton, jun., and the vice-chair by Mr. Sharp (assistant to Mr. Whympier, surgeon). In the course of the evening a number of toasts were given and responded to; and the company, with songs, sentiment, and toast, spent a very agreeable evening.”

1871 Census

13, Walhouse Street

- [1] William C. Arthur (44), licensed victualler, born Hednesford;
- [2] Harriet A. Arthur (46), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] William H. Arthur (11), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Hedge (20), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 1/2/1873

“William Wilson, for having refused to leave the WHITE HART, public house, Walhouse Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/3/1873

“At the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, on Monday night, Mr. Sharp, surgeon, on behalf of the Pride of the Valley and Era Lodges of the Bescot District of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, M.U., presented Bro. T. Perrins with a handsome gold watch and chain, in recognition of his services as secretary to the two lodges, and corresponding secretary of the Bescot District for 25 years.”

1881 Census

13, Walhouse Street

- [1] William C. Arthur (55), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Polly Arthur (30), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] William H. Arthur (21), son, brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] Albert Arthur (23), son, born Walsall;
- [5] George E. Arthur (1), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Charles P. Arthur (15), nephew, gig saddler, born Walsall;
- [7] Agnes Horton (20), general servant, born Shropshire:

Walsall Advertiser 1/1/1884 - Register of Events

“Saturday, January 12th. Annual Carter’s Dinner at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, at 6pm.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/1/1884 - Advert

“L&NW & Pickfords Fifth Annual Carters’ Dinner.

To Promote kindness to horses and attention to the public, &c.

Will Be Held At The WHITE HART HOTEL, Walhouse St., January 12th, 1884, At 6pm.

J. H. Smith, Esq, (Mayor), will take the chair.

Tickets 5s Each. No Money Taken except for Tickets.”

Walsall Observer 24/1/1885

“The sixth annual dinner of the carters in the employ of the London and North Western Railway Company and Pickford’s, was held at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, on Saturday night, and was more largely attended than ever. These gatherings have been promoted, and most successfully carried on for some years, by Mr. A. Perkins, whose object has been to encourage among the men civility to the public, kindness to the horses, and care of the vehicles and harness. All these objects have been gained to a very large extent, as many of the tradesmen and others in the town can bear witness. A capital dinner was set before their 110 guests by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur, whose efforts were thoroughly appreciated.....”

Walsall Advertiser 24/2/1885

“Walsall Conservative Association.

A Meeting of Conservatives will be held at the WHITE HART (Mr. Arthur’s), Walhouse Street, on Thursday, February 26th, at 8pm, to form a Branch of the Association for the Paddock Division of the Bridge Ward.

J. F. Crump, Esq, will preside. Mr. Lyons, of London, and others will address the meeting.

There will also be a meeting at the BUTTS INN (Mr. Bird’s), on Friday, February 27th, at 8pm, to form a Branch for the Butts Division.

Mr. J. T. Cottam, Esq, will preside. Mr. Lyons and others will address the meeting.

S. B. Wheway, A. Parsons, Hon Secs.”

Walsall Observer 28/2/1885

“On Tuesday evening the officers and a few members of the Era Lodge of Oddfellows, and a few friends from neighbouring lodges, were entertained to supper by the energetic and respected secretary (Mr. A. J. Gillis) and Host Arthur of the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street – the occasion being to celebrate the anniversary of Mr. Gillis taking the office of secretary of the lodge. A most pleasant evening was spent.....”

Polly Arthur, widow, married Frank Stokes, bachelor, horse dealer, on 16th March 1887.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....
Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of Polly Stokes, of the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, for a license for music and singing on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings for the convenience of the Odd Fellows and harriers clubs and a minstrel troop....
The Bench retired for about half an hour, and on their return the Magistrates’ Clerk read the decisions....
Granted. The WHITE HART, for the club rooms, for Monday and Tuesdays.”

1891 Census

13, Lower Walhouse Street – WHITE HART INN
[1] Frank Stokes (37), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
[2] Pollie Stokes (38), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Albert E. Arthur (12), stepson, born Walsall;
[4] George S. Arthur (10), stepson, born Walsall;
[5] Pollie Arthur (9), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
[6] Matilda Arthur (7), stepdaughter, born Walsall;
[7] Frank Stokes (3), son, born Walsall;
[8] James Stokes (2), son, born Walsall;
[9] Charles F. Stokes (6 months), son, born Walsall;
[10] Caroline Arthur (24), niece, domestic servant, born Penkridge;
[11] Emma Arthur (20), niece, domestic servant, born Penkridge:

Walsall Advertiser 20/8/1892

“The thirteenth annual meeting of the Walsall Harriers’ Club was held at headquarters, the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, on Wednesday night, when Mr. H. G. Greatrex (the president), occupied the chair.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1892

“Walsall Harriers. Twelve members, good and true, pioneered by the faithful Sam Holmes (not Weller) had a very pleasant spin of about seven miles through some of our green birder-land of the ‘black country,’ and starting at the good pace up Snowden, down Calder, taking the open at Sutton Road, via the canal side, up Daisy Bank (devoid of daisies now), along Skip Lane, out by the THREE CROWNS, down to the ‘Smith,’ through ‘Cuckoo Nook,’ over the gate into Bosty Lane, at a very sharp bat into the Aldridge Road, down Mellish, and home to the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street. The following ran: Sam Holmes (captain), J. Mold, S. Williams, Lawton, Lloyd, C. Bourne, W. Satchwell, J. Newton, H. Kingdom, Brandrick, Bayley, and Davis. Today they run to the COTTAGE INN (vice-president), Mr. F. Liggers, at 3.30.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1893

“London Gazette, February 21.
The Bankruptcy Acts 1883 and 1890. Receiving Orders.
Polly Stokes, WHITE HART INN, Lower Walhouse Street, Walsall, licensed victualler.”

Walsall Observer 3/6/1893 - Advert

“To Let, WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, Walsall; immediate possession.
Apply, Watkins, Powell & Wood, Auctioneers, 28, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/6/1893

“On Thursday at the Walsall County Court, Mr. J. W. Disturnal (instructed by Messrs. S. P. Smith and Son) applied to admit a proof of £300 on behalf of Mr. Walker, a grocer, High Street, against the estate of Polly Stokes, a bankrupt, late of the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street. Mr. C. A. Loxton, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the Official Receiver (Mr. E. Pritchard), by whom the proof had been rejected. Mr. Keyswell (Wilkinson, Son, and Mill) was present on behalf of the bankrupt. In opening the case Mr. Disturnal said the application he had to make was on behalf of Mr. Walker, grocer, High Street, for the Court to admit a proof for £300, against the estate of Polly Stokes, of the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, who had filed her petition. It appeared that his client had from time to time advanced Mrs. Stokes money through a Mrs. Seabright, on the security of four policies, but at the examination of the bankrupt the official receiver refused to admit the applicant’s proof. At the beginning of this year a policy on the life of Mr. Stokes, the husband of the bankrupt, for £100 was handed over to Mr. Walker as security. Money was being advanced from time to time in this extraordinary fashion until February 9th of the present year, and then Mrs. Stokes wrote out an I.O.U. in these terms: ‘I.O.U., R. S. Walker, through Mrs. Seabright for the money lent on loans, the sum of £370 10s to be repaid by instalments of £6 per week, and interest to be 12s per week. Signed Polly Stokes. Mr. Walker felt satisfied and afterwards the lady got another loan from him. £5 the last advance was, on February 11th. It appeared that Mrs. Seabright had been accustomed for some reason or another to make it a part of her business to get loans for people in this way, charging commission upon them. She appeared to have been doing this sort of thing for the woman Stokes for a considerable period. The source however stopped, and Mrs. Seabright had to get someone else. She found his client who advanced sums in the fashion cited.

Richard Sherratt Walker, grocer, said that in April of last year he was in business at High Street and had a customer named Mrs. Seabright. She said she wanted to borrow money from him. He kept lending her money from time to time and just after Xmas he saw Mrs. Stokes with reference to the transaction. When asked whether she owed the money from Mrs. Seabright, Mrs. Stokes admitted that she had borrowed it from time to time and the one for £100 was the last. Mrs. Seabright gave them as security because he asked for it.

Aurelia Seabright, married-woman, living in Walhouse Street, said she had been in the habit of buying her groceries from the applicant. She had known Mrs. Stokes for eighteen or nineteen years, and had borrowed money on her behalf for over four years, but the persons who had lent the money and not been repaid in full. When she first went to Mr. Walker to borrow money, Mrs. Stokes asked her to tell the lender that it was for a lady, but not to disclose her name. She had been to several gentlemen prior to going to Mr. Walker, to ask for loans, but they declined to advance them without security. She did not tell Mrs. Stokes who she had secured the money from until after the first payment had been made. Witness had been asked by Mrs. Stokes if she knew anyone she could borrow money from, and witness replied that she thought her grocer would do. In reply to Mr. Disturnal, Mrs. Seabright said she had never heard of Mrs. Stokes owing money to clubs or friendly societies before she failed in her business. When she received the first loan she handed over the three policies Mrs. Stokes had given as security.

Cross-examined by Mr. Loxton: Witness said other people were lending money to Mrs. Stokes at the same time. She had never borrowed any money for herself from Mr. Walker. She received sixpence out of the half-crown which Mrs. Stokes paid on every £1 which she borrowed from Mr. Walker. Mrs. Stokes promised to see that the money was paid back in full if she could borrow the money. She told Mr. Walker that the money was for a neighbour but she did not give the name. The cheques were made out to witness as she had to cash them. Mr. Walker was not aware of the existence of the policies until she handed the first three to him; the fourth was sent to him by Mrs. Stokes. She was not aware that Mrs. Stokes was in difficulties when she was borrowing the money for her, and had no idea that she intended to file her petition, or she would never have borrowed the money on her behalf. Mr. Walker was again put in the box to explain certain entries in the book in which he had entered the loans, three sums of £10, £15, and £80 being put down for January 13th, which witness explained were the amounts owing less than the repayments, but his Honour admitted that he could not understand it.

Mr. Disturnal thought he had proved up to the hilt that certain sums represented by cheques which had been produced, were paid to Mrs. Seabright as agent for the bankrupt, and it did not matter to him whether it got into the bankrupt's hands or not.

Mr. Loxton interposing, said the applicant must clearly prove his proof.

Mr. Disturnal argued that if a person sent out a traveller to collect moneys, and that traveller put the money into his pocket it was payment.

Polly Stokes said she formerly carried on business as a licensed victualler in Walhouse Street. She had on various occasions borrowed money through Mrs. Seabright, who was a neighbour of hers. She did not always know the people from whom she borrowed the money. She heard lately that Mrs. Seabright had got the money from a Mrs. Harris. She repaid the money to Mrs. Seabright who entered the money in a book.

A slight argument here took place between Mr. Disturnal and Mr. Loxton, the former remarking that the witness was acting in a hostile manner, Mr. Loxton maintaining that she was not.

Examined by Mr. Disturnal, witness said she handed all the policies to Mrs. Seabright, and she thought she intended to hand them to her grocer, from whom Mrs. Seabright said she was getting the money. The book in which the various amounts she had received had been destroyed since, but she could give no reason for having done so. She might have received certain moneys in connection with the clubs which were held at her house. Her husband was the treasurer. Some of the money she had received from Mrs. Seabright might have been paid to those clubs. Mrs. Seabright had been in the habit of borrowing money for her for the last several years past. She had told Mrs. Seabright to borrow money for her so that she could hand it to those from whom she had borrowed money. She knew that Mrs. Seabright was getting money from her grocer, but she did not know his name. She told Mr. Gadsby, a clerk in the employ of Messrs Smith and Son, when he served her with a subpoena to attend there that day, she knew that Mr. Walker was advancing money, but she did not know whether it was after the first or second time.

Mr. Loxton said Mr. Pritchard was willing to admit the proof of £220 without costs if His Honour would sanction it. They had no wish to get a verdict against this man Walker, so that Mrs. Seabright might become a creditor in his place. Although Mr. Walker had broken down on the amount owing, it seemed clear that there had been advances made, and they were prepared to accept proof for £220, without costs. Although Mr. Walker had been a fool, and a rather conspicuous fool, he had a claim to the money as a creditor.

His Honour found for the plaintiff.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1893

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

The monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Thursday.....

Mr. Edward John Wilkins, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/10/1893

“The arrangements for the Half-yearly Conference of Oddfellows in the Central hall today are now complete. The Grand Master and the delegates appointed to attend the conference will all arrive before two o'clock from the Crewe and Nantwich district, and the other districts in the four counties will be represented. Members of the Reception Committee will meet every train by which the delegates will arrive. About one hundred was sit down to tea at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street. The Grand Master will also stay to the tea, he having signified his intention to 'stay as long as it required.' All Oddfellows are cordially invited."

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1894

"The third annual dinner of the Walsall Blue Coat and National Schools (Old Boys' Re-union) was held at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on Wednesday evening last. Mr. Wilkins (host) catered in excellent style, and gave satisfaction....."

AND

"Greatrex Lodge. A meeting of this lodge will take place at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on Monday next. It will be a musical evening."

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1895

"Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' Society.

The monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Thursday.....

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Mr. E. J. Wilkins, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on Thursday, 14th February, at seven o'clock."

Walsall Advertiser 16/2/1895

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. E. J. Wilkins, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street....."

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

"The forty-third annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street....."

Walsall Advertiser 8/8/1896

"The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street....."

Walsall Advertiser 9/10/1897

"Manchester Unity I.O.O.F.

On Thursday week a most successful inaugural supper was held in connection with the Pat Grand Lodges, which has recently been opened at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, in connection with the Bescot Bridge District of the above order. About 50 sat down to the good things provided by Host Wilkins....."

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1897

"The member of C Company (Captain Booth's) of the Walsall Detachment of the 2nd V.B. South Staffs. Regiment has this season come out as the best shooting company in the regiment, by which the sergeants of the company will be entitled to wear the cross guns and crown for a year. To mark the success the sergeants gave their comrades a smoking concert on Tuesday evening in the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, when a most convivial evening was spent. Captain Booth was in the chair, and he was supported by his two subalterns, Messrs. Campion and Smith, and Captain and Quartermaster Nicholls. Several toasts were honoured and there was felicitous congratulations at the success of the company and a general feeling of amity and esprit de corps which exists between the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the company. The following programme of music was well rendered: Pianoforte solo, Mr. Wilkins; song, 'Our side,' Sergt. A. Laban; song, 'The song that reached my heart,' Private J. Wood; song, 'The soldiers of the Queen,' Private Sergeant C. Laban; song, 'My sweetheart when a boy,' Private T. Cox; song, 'The idler,' Sergeant A. Laban; song, 'Far away,' Col-sergeant C. Mitchell; song, 'Sweetheart May,' Private W. Spiller; song, 'Pilgrim of Lover,' Private T. Cox; song, '7th Royal Fusiliers,' Sergeant A. Bates; song, 'Queen Victoria,' Sergeant C. Laban; song, 'That'll doodle doodle do,' Sergeant A. Laban; song, 'In happy moments,' Private J. Wood; song, 'Let me like a soldier fall,' Col-sergeant C. Mitchell; song, 'Concert at Albert Hall,' Private W. Spiller."

Walsall Advertiser 4/12/1897

"A social evening promoted by the members of the Walsall Amalgamated Friendly Societies Medical Aid Association was promoted on Thursday evening at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street when about 50 gentlemen sat down to a substantial dinner served up in a style in keeping with the high reputation so long held by this noted hostelry. Following the dinner an excellent programme of songs, toasts, &c, was gone through....."

Walsall Advertiser 4/2/1899

"Walsall Borough Brass Band.

On Saturday last the members of the above band, with their wives and friends, met at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, for their annual dinner. After justice had been done to the things provided by Host Wilkins, Mr. T. Gee was voted to the chair....."

Walsall Advertiser 13/5/1899

"Walsall & District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The monthly meeting was held on Thursday, at the WHITE HART INN, Wal-house Street, Walsall, Mr. Edwin James (president) occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 1/7/1899

“The death occurred on Sunday of Mr. Edward John Wilkins of the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, at the age of 52. Deceased was a strong man, of fine physique, but he succumbed to an attack of pneumonia, of only ten days duration. He had been landlord of the WHITE HART for six years, and was a prominent man among friendly societies, his house being the meeting place of no less than five lodges – three of the A.O.O.M.U., one of the Druids, and one of the Royal Oak. The funeral took place on Wednesday at Ryecroft Cemetery, and was largely attended, those present including many representatives of friendly societies, from whom came also a number of beautiful floral tributes.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. John Bates, RED LION INN, Walsall Wood.....
It was unanimously agreed that a message of sympathy should be forwarded to Mrs. Wilkins, Walhouse Street, in her bereavement. A funeral donation of £4 was voted to Mrs. Wilkins, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on the death of her husband, Mr. Edward John Wilkins, who joined the society on the 13th July, 1893. The cost of wreath, &c, and the usual half-yearly disbursements were also passed.”

Walsall Observer 3/3/1900

“On Saturday night last the annual dinner of the Forest of Arden Lodge of the Sheffield Equalized Independent Order of Druids, was held at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, when about eighty members and visitors partook of a repast of the well-known excellent kind provided at the house of Mrs. Wilkins.....”

Walsall Observer 3/3/1900

“A meeting of gardeners, amateurs, and others interested in horticulture was held at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, on Tuesday last, when 15 were present.....”

Walsall Observer 17/11/1900

“A dinner to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee of the Loyal Era Lodge of Oddfellows (MU) was held on Thursday night at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, when 103 brethren of the lodge, and officers of the surrounding district, sat down to a spread provided by Mrs. Wilkins.....”

1901 Census

13, Lower Walhouse Street

[1] Sarah Wilkins (53), widow, licensed victualler, born Birmingham;

[2] Edward J. Wilkins (23), son, barman, born Worcester;

[3] Sarah L. Wilkins (17), daughter, barmaid, born Staffordshire;

[4] Harriett Plater (19), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 20/7/1901

“Cycling. Walsall Excelsior C.C.

About twenty-two members turned up at headquarters, WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, on Saturday, the run being to Enville, a lovely country place and a favourite resort for picnic parties. The start was at 3.15, and going via Wolverhampton and Stourbridge, the roads being in good condition, Enville was reached at 5.30. Full justice was done to a refreshing tea. After tea the party split up, some going through the park, while others went walks down the lanes. The homeward journey was started at seven o’clock. Various punctures had to be attended to, and Wolverhampton was reached at 8.30, where a halt was made at the CLAR-ENDON HOTEL for a refresher. Walsall was reached at 10.30 after a most enjoyable afternoon.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/3/1902

“A series of debates, papers, and musical evenings arranged by the committee of the Pride of the Valley Lodge, held at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, ended with a concert on Monday night. A capital programme was submitted by Messrs. C. J. Dace, E. Wilkins, G. Siddons, F. H. Bridgewater, C. W. Mitchell, and Miss Wilkins. A quartette party from the band of the 2nd V.B. South Staffordshire Regiment, consisting of Bandsmen Edgar Barlow, Stockham, Ballinger, and A. Gee, rendered selections and choruses in fine style. This being a new departure, a large number of members and friends attended, and in a vote of thanks to those who had contributed to the evening’s entertainment, the bandsmen came in for hearty thanks.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/3/1903

“The Bench granted the temporary transfer of the licenses.....

The WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, from Sarah Wilkins to Charles William Mitchell (Q.M.S of the Walsall Volunteers).”

Walsall Advertiser 25/4/1903 - Notice

“I.O.O.F. M.U. Notice!

The Registered Office of the ‘Loyal Era’ Lodge No.2244 of the Bescot Bridge District has been Removed from the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, Walsall, to the MARKET TAVERN, Freer Street, Walsall, as from April 7th.

All Business of the Lodge will, therefore, be transacted at the above-mentioned house.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/9/1903

“Mr. Newman applied for permission to have certain alterations made at the WHITE HART, Lower Walhouse Street, which would necessitate a re-arrangement of the rooms, and also to have an outside staircase to the club room erected. Refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/4/1904

“The annual smoking concert and distribution of prizes in connection with the Walsall Harriers Athletic Club was held on Tuesday night, at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street. Councillor Hawley presided in the absence of the President (Alderman Noake), and expressed the great interest he took in their sport, which he believed was the finest any young man could engage in. The chief prize, the Greatrex Challenge Shield, was awarded to G. Llewellyn and T. Caswell, each to hold it half the year, they having made a dead-heat with ten points each. The silver challenge cup was won by J. Davis, who has also secured it on two previous occasions. E. G. Burt, the first man home in the Junior Championship National Competition at Northampton, was presented with a silver match-box.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/7/1904

“On the application of Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman, the magistrates granted a temporary transfer of the license of the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, from Charles William Mitchell to Joseph Hughes.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/8/1904

“Walsall Air-Gun League.

The first annual meeting of the above was held at the CRITERION, Stafford Street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. H. Smallwood presided, and there was also present Messrs. Hicken (EAGLE), G. Smith (OLD KINGS ARMS), Powell (TANNERS ARMS), E. James (PLUMBERS ARMS), McDonald (CRITERION), Cliffe (GOLDEN EAGLE), Hunt, E. Towe (treasurer), and Mason (secretary).....

The undermentioned clubs with power to add to their number, were elected to the League for the forthcoming season: The WHITE HART (Walhouse Street), TANNERS ARMS, OLD KINGS ARMS, EAGLE, PLUMBERS ARMS, CRITERION, GOLDEN EAGLE, LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, OAK, and DUKE OF YORK.

There was no other business of public interest.”

Henry Smallwood was married to Jane.

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Walford applied on behalf of the lessees of the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, to build a wall to enclose the licensed premises and to make an outside staircase to the clubroom. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1907

“The quarterly meeting of the Walsall and District Friendly Societies Council was held at the OLD WHITE HART, Caldmore, on Thursday.....

Mr. Bridgewater moved that a clause in the minutes referring to the change of headquarters from the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street be rescinded. The clause was proposed under a misapprehension that there was no lodge meeting at the house subscribing to their society. He represented the Bescot Bridge District Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, which met there and they did subscribe to their society.

Mr. Warner seconded.

Mr. Sankey said that Mr. Bridgewater was present when the resolution was proposed and he should like to know why he did not object at that time.

The President said Mr. Bridgewater was perfectly in order bringing the matter forward.

The resolution was eventually carried.

The DOLPHIN HOTEL was appointed as the headquarters of the society for the ensuing twelve months.”

Walsall Observer 14/11/1908

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of the President, MANOR ARMS INN, Daw End, Rushall. Mr. R. Anson, Daw End (president), occupied the chair.....

New Members..... J. H. Biddulph, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street.”

James Howard Biddulph – see also PRETTY BRICKS, CHAINMAKERS ARMS.

Charles Mills – see also PRETTY BRICKS.

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home-Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.

Houses.....

WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, Walsall.”

1911 Census

13, Walhouse Street

- [1] William Lenton (36), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Hellen Lenton (37), wife, married 10 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Rosie Lenton (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Jack Lenton (4), son, born Walsall;
- [5] James Lenton (2), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1912

“A rather unusual and at the same time sad case was that in which a smartly dressed girl of 18 years of age, named Emma Slater, described as a packer of 21, Addison Street, Wednesbury, was charged with being drunk and incapable. Police-constable Thomas gave evidence to the effect that at 11.15pm on Saturday he was passing along George Street, when he saw a crowd of people with the prisoner in the centre. She was unconscious and smelt very strongly of drink. He sent for a doctor, who said she was comatose, and would be all right in time. He took her to a coffee shop and she remained unconscious until 2.30 on Sunday morning. When she came round he took her to the police station, and she admitted that she had been out drinking the previous night. The Chief Constable stated that the parents of the girl were very respectable people. He would like her to tell the magistrates where she had obtained the beer from. The girl stated that she had it from the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street. She went in about 9 o’clock but did not remember coming out. She only had two glasses of stout. Answering Mr. S. E. Loxton (Deputy Magistrates’ Clerk) the girl stated that they met two young fellows in the public house. Did the young fellows leave the public house with you? – I don’t remember anything about it. The mother of the girl stated her daughter left home about 7 o’clock, saying that she was going to her sister’s, where she often stayed the night. She was a very delicate girl, and did not eat much, the stout doubtless overcame her. She had never been in trouble before. On promising not to go into a public house again, the girl was put on her good behaviour for three months, and ordered to pay the costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1913

“Walsall And District Poultry, Pigeon And Fur Society. A very interesting members’ chicken show was held on Saturday, in a large room at the rear of the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street. Among 41 birds exhibited, there were some splendid specimens of different breed. The competition in the heavy pullet class was very keen and as usual the beautiful white plumage of the Orpingtons and Wyndottes was the centre of attraction. Some of the visitors to the show could scarcely credit that the whole of the exhibits were hatched this year. It was a surprise to see what could be done by patience and attention in getting young birds fit and ready for shows.....”

Walsall Observer 25/7/1914 - Deaths

“On the 22nd inst, at the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Street, Sydney Joseph, the beloved husband of Alice Lancaster, aged 41 years. Interred in the family grave, Queen Street Cemetery, at eleven o’clock today. Mrs. Lancaster and family desire to thank all friends for kind enquiries, and also for floral tributes, in their sad bereavement.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... WHITE HART, Walhouse Street. £0 7s 7½d.”

Thomas Lowe was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Walsall Observer 11/2/1939

“The Walsall Roads Cycling Club can never have had a better array of cups than was seen at their annual dinner at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, on Monday night, when the President (Mr. J. Aspinall) was in the chair. This was due mainly due to the brilliant riding last season of D. W. J. Morgan, and pride of place was given to the B.S.A. Gold Vase which represented what was, perhaps, his greatest victory of the year. Morgan took nineteen awards during the evening, but another feature was the number of riders who figured in the prize list. Twenty-three of them took prizes and even they are not the entire strength of the club’s racing section.....”

1939 Register

23, Walhouse Road

- [1] Thomas B. Lowe, date of birth 2/7/1886, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Eliza Lowe, dob 21/1/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 16/12/1939 - Deaths

“At his residence, the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street, Walsall, Thomas Burdett, the beloved husband of Eliza Lowe, suddenly, aged 53. Service at St. Giles’ Church, Willenhall at 1.30 today (Saturday). Interment at Bentley Cemetery at 2pm. Peace, perfect peace.”

AND

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society, held at the HAME MAKERS ARMS INN, Blue Lane West, on Thursday, Mr. C. W. Garfield (President) who presided made sympathetic reference to the losses the Society had suffered during the week by the deaths of Mr. Thomas Burdett Lowe A resolution of sympathy with the respective families was passed and the company stood for a silent tribute.....”

AND

“Readers interested in sport will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Thomas Burdett Lowe, better known as ‘Tommy’ Lowe, who passed away at his home, the WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Road, Walsall, on Tuesday, at the age of 53. He had lived in Walsall since the age of eight, and before keeping the WHITE HART he was licensee of the PHEASANT INN in Windmill Street for seven years, and then he came to Walhouse Road, and has been there for the last twenty years.

Mr. Lowe took a keen interest in practically in all forms of sport, particularly horse-racing. He is said to have been one of the best judges of racing form in the Midlands. With Mr. William Preston, who was his greatest friend, he visited many race meetings. He was a member of Walsall Cricket Club, attending regularly the first team matches; and an honorary member of the Walsall Rugby Football Club, whose headquarters were at his house. In addition the WHITE HART was the meeting place of the Izaak Walton Angling Club, the Walsall Roads, C.C., and the Harmonic Lodge of Buffaloes. Although he was not a member of the angling and the two cycling clubs, he was keenly interested in them, and followed all their activities. He was also an enthusiastic follower of the Walsall and Wolverhampton Football teams; Boxing was another of his sporting interests, and as a young man was himself no mean exponent of the ‘noble art.’ He was also a member of the Walsall Unionist Club.

His widow has received many letters of sympathy from all over the country, including Newmarket and Cambridge, and one letter from a boy at Eton College.

The funeral will take place today (Saturday) at St. Giles’ Church, Willenhall, and the interment will be at Bentley Cemetery.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1940

“At the monthly meeting of the Walsall and District licensed Victuallers’ Society at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton Street on Thursday.....

New members..... Mrs. Eliza Lowe, WHITE HART INN, Walhouse Road.”

1940 Probate

“Thomas Burdett Lowe, of the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 12 December 1939. Probate London 17 April to Eliza Lowe, widow. Effects £2,359 6s 8d.”

Walsall Observer 6/9/1941 - Advert

“Walsall Rugby Football Club.

The Annual Meeting of the Club will be held at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, at 8-00pm on Monday, the 15th September.”

Walsall Observer 15/11/1941

“One of the last and not least pleasant of Councillor J. Cliff Tibbitt’s engagements as Mayor was to join the members of the Cyclists’ Platoon of the Walsall Home Guard at an American supper at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, yesterday evening week. The function was arranged for the purpose of making a presentation to Lieut. C. Noon, who has recently relinquished command of the platoon owing to ill-health, and who was mainly responsible for the formation of the Cyclists’ Platoon, recruited largely from local club cyclists.

Tributes to his splendid work were paid by his successor in command, Sec.-Lieut. J. Aspinall, and Councillor Tibbits, both of whom referred to the enthusiasm that he put into his task in the face of many difficulties. The presentation took the form of a smoker’s cabinet, with a suitable inscription, and this was handed to Lieut. Noon by Councillor Tibbits, who expressed the hope that he would soon be restored to health and might still be able to give service to the Home Guard.

Lieut. Noon, thanking members of the platoon for their gift, expressed his appreciation of the support that he had received from them.”

Walsall Observer 14/3/1942

“Members of the Home Guard Detachment of the Walsall Corporation Electric Supply Department had an enjoyable time at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, yesterday evening week. After an excellent supper most of those present contributed to the programme, and special items were rendered by 2nd Lieut. R. Brevitt, with Mr. Bert Brevitt as pianist and entertainer. The proceedings were presided over by the O.C. Detachment, 2nd Lieut. Robert Brevitt.”

Walsall Observer 29/9/1945 - Advert

“Walsall Rugby Football Club.

The Annual General Meeting of the Club will be held at the WHITE HART, Walhouse Road, on Monday, the 1st of October, at 8pm.

The Rugger Club has not been able to carry on during the greater part of the War period as most of its players have been serving in the Forces.

The Club is starting up again this season and a satisfactory fixture list had been arranged, the first being the 27th October. The re-starting of the Club will be no easy task and we appeal to all old and new players, honorary members, and all those who have a keen interest in Rugby, to give us their maximum support during this difficult period. We shall be glad if those who wish to play or have friends who want a game, will write to the Honorary Secretary. H. B. Nicholson, 1, Belvedere Road, Walsall, and also make a big effort to attend the Annual Meeting.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 7th March 1957.
Compensation of £5,000 was paid on 16th November 1957.
It closed on 23rd November 1957.

WHITE HORSE

41, (18), Park Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Thomas
Nicholas Roper, Lichfield Street, Walsall
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1896) [1903]
Atkinsons Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Thomas [1834] – [1835]
William Oakley [1841] – [1842]
James Thomas [1845]
Henry Slater [1849] – [1851]
Nicholas Roper [1852] – 1866;
Abel Roger Grove (1866 – [1870])
Harley [1870]
Henry Sargeant [1871]
George Smith [1872] – [1881];
William Harris (18__ – 1894); [1888]
William Homer Reynolds (1894 – 1896);
John Michael Conniffe (1896 – 189_);
George Thomas (189_ – 1904);
Alfred ‘Alf’ Medlam (1904 – 1912);
George Ernest James (1912 – 1914);
Lennox Busfield (1914 – 1918);
Arthur George Saunders (1918 – 1925);
Charles William Garfield (1925 – 1926);
Beniah Timmins (1926 – 1927);
Harry Hill (1927 – 1932);
William Albert Hall (1932 – 1938);
Wilfred George Higgins (1938 – 1939);
Frederick ‘Fred’ Day (1939 – 1949);
Jack Bradford (1949 – 1953);
Hugh Dolan (1953 – 1957);
George Adams (1957 – 1958);

NOTES

18, Park Street [1858], [1860], [1861], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1881]
41, Park Street [1891], [1892], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It was recorded as the WHITE HOUSE in an 1860 Directory.

It had a beerhouse license.

James Thomas, retailer of beer, Park Street. [1835]

1841 Census

Park Street

- [1] William Oakley (30), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Catherine Oakley (25), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Henry Oakley (5), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Ellen Oakley (3), born Staffordshire;
- [5] William Oakley (1), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Sarah Clamp (20), fs;
- [7] Matilda Clark (10), fs, born Staffordshire;
- [8] Simon Fraser (30), traveler, born Scotland;
- [9] John Aingsworth (25), miller, born Staffordshire:

James Thomas was also a provision dealer. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/5/1847 - Notice

“Whereas a Petition of William Oakley, at present, and for twelve months now last past, residing in Stafford-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, and being a Journeyman Tailor, and for eighteen months previous thereto at the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton-lane, Walsall aforesaid, carrying on the business of a Publican, and for twelve months previously thereto residing in Lodgings at the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, Walsall aforesaid, and then carrying on the business of a Tailor, and for three years previously thereto residing at the WHITE HORSE last aforesaid, and then carrying on the business of a Publican, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for protection from process having been given to the said William Oakley, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said William Oakley is hereby required to appear in Court before Edmund Robert Daniell, Esq, the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the 26th day of May instant, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors’ assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said William Oakley, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederick Whitmore, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, the Official Assignee, nominated in that behalf by the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition.

John Smith, solicitor, Temple Street, Birmingham.”

1851 Census

Park Street

- [1] Henry Slater (29), victualler, born Waterford, Ireland;
- [2] Mary Slater (29), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Slater (1), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Withers (18), servant, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Samuel Slater (24), servant, born Ipswich, Essex;
- [6] Edward Jones (30), visitor, musician, born Birnny, Norwichshire;
- [7] Frederick Brandon (25), visitor, musician, born London;
- [8] Joseph Day (27), visitor, painter, born Clare, Ireland;
- [9] Caroline Barnard (59), visitor, widow, musician, born London:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/9/1852

“Freehold Land Society. A special meeting of the shareholders of this society was held on Tuesday evening, at the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, to consider and decide upon the adoption of a plan presented by the surveyor, for the formation of and making streets, and other improvements upon the estate lately purchased; and also to consider the propriety of sewerage the same. After some discussion, the plan was formally adopted; and for the purpose of completing and generally improving the estate, resolutions were passed for sewerage the same.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/9/1852

“Ellen Jane Wilkinson, who stated that she came from Birmingham, was charged with stealing a half-crown from the person of Eunice Burcott, at the races, on Tuesday last. The prosecutrix caught the prisoners hand in her pocket, but some men coming up (evidently companions of the prisoner) she made her escape, but was subsequently taken into custody, at the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, by police officer Bicknell. She said she was guilty and asked prosecutrix for forgiveness. Committed for trial at the Borough Sessions.”

[At Walsall Borough Sessions, in November 1852, Ellen Jane Wilkinson, charged with robbing Eunice Burcott, was found guilty, and sentenced to three months’ imprisonment with hard labour.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/10/1852

“Municipal Election. At a meeting of the Ratepayers’ Protection Society, held on Wednesday evening, at Mr. Roper’s, the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, for the purpose of putting in nomination fit and proper candidates for supplying vacancies occasioned by the retirement of Messrs. Ward, Shannon, Westwood, and Brewer, and two others, it was unanimously resolved that Mr. William Thomas, solicitor, and Mr. James Lowe, merchant, should represent the burgesses in our local parliament at the forthcoming election, and that four of the gentlemen who go out of office in the 1st day of November next by the effluxion of time, should be re-elected again. Mr. Thomas Keel, a hatter, resident in High Street, has put forward an address to the burgesses of St. George's ward, in which he declares his intention of becoming a candidate."

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1853

"The journeymen carpenters and joiners of this town held a meeting on Tuesday evening last at the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, when it was resolved to solicit from their employers an advance of 2s per week upon their present wages, 'in consideration of the increased and still increasing price of provisions'."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/10/1855

"Commemoration Of The Fall Of Sebastopol. Between 70 and 80 of the most respected tradesmen of this borough assembled on Tuesday evening at Mr. Mills, the CROWN INN, Upper Rushall Street, when a dinner was served up in a style that reflects much credit on the catering and liberality of the host and hostess. Councillor B. Abnett presided, and Mr. N. Roper, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, occupied the vice-chair. An excellent glee party was in attendance, and the proceedings were conducted in the most enthusiastic and harmonious manner."

Walsall Free Press 30/5/1857

"John Whitley, a little old man, minus one of his optic organs, was charged with uttering on Saturday night two counterfeit shillings at the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street. From the evidence of Mrs. Roper it appeared, that on Saturday afternoon the prisoner and another man were in the bar, when the latter asked for two sovereigns for silver of that amount. She obliged him the change, but discovered among the silver a bad shilling piece, and returned it to the man. Soon afterwards the prisoner called for a glass of brandy, and offered her a bad shilling piece, which she detected and returned to him, when he gave her a sixpence and went away. In the evening he returned with the proprietor of a mock auction-mart in the neighbourhood, and calling for two glasses of ale laid down another bad shilling piece. He was allowed to depart, but Mrs. Roper communicated with the police. Sergeant Dackus went in search of the prisoner, met him in High Street, and took him into custody. He was not very sober. The prisoner said that he had been engaged as doorkeeper at the auction-mart, but not liking the job he was about to leave that night, and the shilling was what had been paid to him for his services. He further stated that he had been an equestrian, a clown, and a tumbler, and having on one occasion had a tumble more than was intentional, requisite, or pleasant, his cranium had received a fracture which accounted for a small quantity of drink getting over him. His residence when at home was No.5 Buck Street, Birmingham, and if they would be kind enough to enquire of either his grocer, or the proprietor of his beerhouse, in that neighbourhood, they would get his character. He was remanded to Wednesday for these enquiries to be made."

1861 Census

18, Park Street

- [1] Nicholas Roper (37), victualler, employing 2 men, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Roper (37), wife, born Droitwich, Worcestershire;
- [3] Ann Roper (14), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Bate (19), servant and barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Ann Hollis (22), general servant, born Dumington Wood, Shropshire:

Nicholas Roper was also a maltster. [1864], [1865]

He issued tokens from here.

See also LAMP.

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/8/1864 - Advert

"Very valuable and important Freehold Old-Licensed Inn, Front Shops, and Premises, in Park Street, Walsall, Staffordshire. To be Sold by Auction, by John Osbourn, by order of the Trustees of the will of Mr. James Thomas, deceased, on Monday, the 29th day of August, 1864, at the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, Walsall, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then produced, all that valuable Freehold, well-accustomed, and old-licensed Inn known by the sign of the WHITE HORSE, fronting to and in the best part of Park Street, Walsall, containing spacious liquor shop, 45ft by 13ft; large parlour, billiard-room, 25ft by 20ft; excellent sitting-room, sleeping-rooms, good cellars, kitchen, brewhouse, good pump and well of water, private yard, and other appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Mr. Nicholas Roper.

Also those two Front Shops, Dwelling-Houses, and Premises adjoining, being Nos.19 and 20, now in the respective occupations of Mr. Bayley, haberdasher, and Mr. Hodgkinson, eating-housekeeper; together with 13 Dwelling-Houses, two Shops, and other Buildings at the back of the above, with the valuable plot of Land adjoining, and in the centre of the property belonging to the South Staffordshire Railway Company.

The above property contains an area of 1,255 square yards of land or thereabouts, and produces an annual rental of £140 8s. For further particulars, apply to Mr. Thomas, Solicitor, or to the Auctioneer, both of Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/9/1866 - Advert

"Abel Grove, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1866 - Advert

“To be Sold, Eight-tap Spirit Rail Fountain, with Piping Taps, complete, nearly new; also a Bagatelle Table. Apply, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/9/1867

“On Monday Mr. A. A. Fletcher held an inquiry at the WHITE HORSE public-house, Park Street, into the circumstances attending the death of Ann Duval, aged 32, wife of an engineer, living in a court in Park Street. The deceased retired to rest on Sunday night in her usual health, and the next morning she was found dead in bed. She had been subject to fainting fits for some time. The jury, under the direction of the Coroner, found that Death resulted from Heart Disease.”

Walsall Free Press 23/1/1869 - Advert

“Wanted, a clean active Girl about 13 years of age, as Nurse Maid. Apply, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1870

“A woman who gave the named of Jane Maginnis, but refused to state where she lived, was charged with having on Tuesday evening, stolen a purse containing 12s 6d from the person of Mrs. H. Taylor, Shelfield. On Tuesday evening the prisoner left the WHITE HORSE public-house, Park Street, in company with two men, and at once made an unsuccessful attempt upon the pocket of a woman who was standing at a shop window close by. Then she followed Mrs. Taylor into the shop of Mrs. Morton, boot and shoe dealer, and sat down by her side, but one of the two men, who had posted themselves at the shop window, calling out, ‘Jane,’ she left the shop again almost immediately. Sergeant Drury, who had been watching the movements of the party, then entered the shop, and in consequence of what he said, Mrs. Taylor discovered that the purse had disappeared from her dress pocket. He went in pursuit of the prisoner, and apprehended her at the TURF TAVERN, but found her confederates got clear off. The stolen purse was not found. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment with hard labour. The Bench ordered 8s which were found in her possession to be given to the prosecutrix.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1870

“Messrs. Farrington and Son let by auction, on Wednesday, the temporary grand stand and the ground for booths at the races. The stand was bought by Mr. Harley, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, for £30. The ground for the booths was knocked down at a low price. The permanent stand had been previously let to Mr. Sims, of Park Street.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/10/1870 - Advert

“The WHITE HORSE, Park Street, the principal thoroughfare of the town, is to be let, in consequence of Proprietor declining business. It is held on a Lease, and is entirely free. The anticipated change of stations from Station Street to Park Street will bring the Premises even more prominently than at present into business excellence. Apply at once, on the Premises, or to G. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

1871 Census

18, Park Street

- [1] Henry Sargeant (48), licensed victualler, born West Grinstead, Surrey;
- [2] Anne Sargeant (49), wife, born Llamymynach, Shropshire;
- [3] Susan Sargeant (14), daughter, born Great Barr;
- [4] Clara Sargeant (13), daughter, born Great Barr;
- [5] Alfred Sargeant (7), son, born Great Barr;
- [6] Thomas Davies (44), visitor, farmer, born Llanymynach, Shropshire;
- [7] Paul Vernon (22), visitor, clerk, born Market Drayton;
- [8] Henry Field (27), visitor, groom:

Walsall Free Press 25/1/1873

“At a meeting of the operative bricklayers’ society, held at the WHITE HORSE public-house, Park Street, on Tuesday evening, it was decided to give notice this day (Saturday), for an advance of 1/2d per hour upon present prices. The new scale of charges to come into operation on the 1st of May next.”

Midland Examiner 24/10/1874

“Three young men named Herbert Worall, Job Wigan, and Thomas Hooper, of George Street, were summoned by Joseph Cooper, collier, Freer’s Yard, George Street, for an assault. Mr. Rhodes appeared for the complainant, and said that a few days ago two members of the ‘Black Gang’ were convicted of an assault. On Saturday night, complainant was in the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, when Worrall entered, ‘squared off’ at complainant, and said if he offered a word of evidence about Cotton (one of the ‘Black Gang’ who was convicted) he would ‘do for him.’ Complainant was followed out of the house, knocked down by Worrall, and kicked by the two others. Witnesses were called on behalf of the two parties, and Worrall was ordered to pay 10s and costs. The charge against the other two defendants was dismissed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

“Defensio, Non Provocatio. Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the Merchandize Marks Act, 1862, and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association. Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.....

Walsall: S. Tonks, ROYAL OAK INN, 28, Ablewell Street; F. Weston, BRITISH OAK INN, Lichfield Street; G. Holden, ODD FELLOWS ARMS, 1, Stafford Street; G. Smith, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street; J. Whittall, THREE CUPS INN, Park Street; J. H. Newell, ROYAL OAK Brewery, Pleck."

1881 Census

18, Park Street

- [1] George Smith (47), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Jane Smith (55), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Phillips (25), barmaid, born America;
- [4] Clara Shriling (21), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1890 - Advert

"Wanted, a good General Servant; one that can do plain cooking. Apply, WHITE HORSE, Park Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1888

"William Harris, the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, summoned for supplying drink to a drunken person was discharged, the Chief Constable stating that the witness on whom he had chiefly relied to prove the case had given evidence totally opposed to a statement which she had made to him."

1891 Census

41, Park Street - WHITE HORSE

- [1] William Harris (62), licensed victualler, born Abergavenny, Monmouthshire;
- [2] William H. Reynolds (27), son in law, manager, born Aldridge;
- [3] Betsey C. Reynolds (27), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Harris Reynolds (1), grandson, born Walsall;
- [5] Martha J. Jones (22), barmaid, born Heath Town;
- [6] Mary A. Barber (32), domestic servant, born Aldridge;
- [7] Margaret Venables (12), domestic servant, born Aldridge:

Birmingham Daily Post 10/6/1891

"Concealment Of Birth. A young woman named Mary Barlow, a domestic servant at the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, is accused of this offence. It seems that she was about her work as usual early on Monday morning, but at half-past ten a charwoman named Collier, who was engaged about the house, found her very unwell in her room, and got her a cup of tea. In the afternoon Dr. Willmore was fetched to her, and directed her removal to the workhouse, where she made a certain communication to the female nurse, and said: 'It is in my box at the WHITE HORSE.' The box was sent for, and in it was found that the body of a newly-born adult child. She had occupied the bedroom with two other young women engaged about the house, and no suspicion of her condition seems to have been entertained."

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1894

"Yesterday (Friday) the funeral of Mr. William Harris, of the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street, took place at Walsall Cemetery. The deceased gentleman, who died on Monday night, was formerly president of the local Licensed Victuallers' Society, and was widely known and respected by all. He was one of the leading members of the licensing trade in Walsall. The funeral cortege started from the deceased's residence at 12.30, and was of an imposing character. There were no less than 23 coaches; and representatives were present, not only from the Licensed Victuallers' Association, but from kindred bodies throughout the district. The coffin, which was of polished oak, with brass furniture, was covered with magnificent wreaths....."

Walsall Advertiser 4/8/1894

"Walsall And District Licensed Victuallers' Society. The forty second annual meeting of the members of this society was held on Thursday We have to report with regret that by death we have lost five members Mr. William Harris, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, who for many years had rendered invaluable service to the society particularly whilst acting as its president."

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1895

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

The monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. W. H. Reynolds, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/8/1896 - Advert

“Sale Wednesday Afternoon Next, at Three o’clock.

WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall, To Publicans, Retail Brewers, and Others.

Unreserved Sale of Brewing plant, Comprising of two Copper Boilers, 170 and 150 galls and fittings; mash Tubs, Vats, Receiving Tubs, 20 Ale Casks, to hold 100 gallons, 60 and lesser quantities; six Half-Tubs, copper Refrigerator, two Attemporators, Piping and Taps, Hop Press, Malt Sieve, Malt Hopper, nearly-new Weighing Machine (by Avery), &c, &c.

Walter Hughes is instructed by Messrs. W. Butler and Co., Ltd., Brewers, of Wolverhampton (who have taken this house on lease), to Sell by Auction upon the premises, Park Street, Walsall, on Wednesday, 26th August, 1896, at Three o’clock prompt.

May be viewed morning of Sale.

Further particulars in catalogues may be had from place of sale, or of the Auctioneer, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1899

“It is with regret that we have to record the death of an old and esteemed Walsall townsman in the person of Alderman Nicholas Roper, which took place at his residence, Morningside, Lichfield Road, on Monday afternoon, at the age of 75. The deceased gentleman had enjoyed tolerably good health all his life, but a short time ago the weight of years began to tell heavily upon him, and he expired practically from old age after having been confined to his house for over a fortnight. Alderman Roper was practically a self-made man, and with his death there passes away one who has witnessed the growth and progress of the ancient borough from a time when things were very different from those existing today. When a lad Mr. Roper was apprenticed as a saddler to a Mr. Huddleston, in Pool Street. He was trice married, his first wife being Mrs. Archer, who then kept the LAMP TAVERN in Stafford Street. By her he had his only child, Annie, who died some years ago. Mr. Roper subsequently removed to the WHITE HORSE in Park Street, where he resided many years, during which time he developed a considerable business as a maltster, his malting premises being in Hatherton Street, in a block of buildings now used as a saddlery works. After the death of his first wife Mr. Roper married Miss Day, of Barr Beacon, who also preceded him, and some five years ago he married Mrs. Beebee, the widow of the former proprietor of the STORK HOTEL, who had taken up her residence in Scarboro’, she survives him. Alderman Roper was an ardent Liberal, and years ago took an active part in political matters. He was first elected a member of the Town Council as far back as 1866, and he was created alderman in 1890, being the returning officer for Pleck Ward. He has given very close attention to the works of the Corporation for a great many years, especially in connection with the Streets Committee; although as far as public meetings were concerned he was always of a retiring disposition, and displayed no special ambition for prominence. He had been retired from business for several years, and was generally respected in the town by people of all sections and parties. The funeral took place at Rushall Churchyard.....”

1901 Census

41, Park Street

[1] George Thomas (45), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Mary Thomas (43), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Cissie Thomas (17), daughter, milliner, born Wolverhampton;

[4] John Thomas (16), son, barman, born Wolverhampton;

[5] George Thomas (11), son;

[6] Robert Thomas (8), son;

[7] Herbert Thomas (2), son;

[8] William Morgan (28), barman, born Wales;

[9] Mary Onions (9), general servant, born Walsall:

G. Thomas was a committee member of Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association. [1902]

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1910

“Frederick Johnson (26), a bobber, of 83, Long Street, was placed in the dock on a charge of having indecently assaulted Mary Hughes (19), who lodges in Queen Street.

Evidence was given by the prosecutor to the effect that after prisoner had ‘treated’ her to a glass of ale in the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, he followed her into Queen Street, and when she had passed her house prisoner pulled her into an entry and attempted to assault her. She shouted and policeman came.

Police-sergeant Nunn said that he heard shouts and arrested prisoner.

Johnson pleaded guilty and asked for another chance – it was his first offence.

The Bench reduced the charge to one of common assault and sentenced prisoner to 14 days’ hard labour, and Mr. Jupp told the woman that they thought she had acted very imprudently in going into the public-house and accepting drink from the prisoner, and also in passing her house when she knew the man was following her. They hoped it would be a lesson to her.

At the conclusion of the Court prisoner’s aunt, who was in tears, asked the Magistrates to alter their decision to a fine as prisoner’s mother was very ill.

After a consultation the Magistrates decided to do that, the fine being 20s and costs (5s 6d), which was shortly afterwards paid.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/7/1910

“James Taylor (34), hawker, no fixed abode, and Thomas Smith (40), labourer of no fixed abode, were charged with being on enclosed premises of the Meadow Dairy Company, 43, Park Street, for an unlawful purpose on July 14th. Arthur Alcock said that on the day in question he was assisting at the WHITE HORSE, in Park Street, and just before 11 o’clock the two men went down the entry. They did not return so the police were informed. Police-constable Wilkes said he went down the WHITE HORSE entry, and into the yard of the Meadow Dairy Company, where he found the two prisoners in an out-house. They had had to climb a wall 4ft 6 inches high. On Taylor were found some tramp tickets, and on Smith a knife and a razor. Both prisoners said they had walked thirty miles, and had gone there for a sleep. Remanded for a week for enquiries to be made.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1911

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. Alfred Medlam, WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall.....”

1911 Census

41, Park Street – WHITE HORSE

- [1] Alfred Medlam (44), manager licensed house, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Anne Blanter Medlam (39), wife, married 16 years, born Cheshire;
- [3] Alfred John Blanter Medlam (14), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Phyllis Louisa Medlam (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Ada Medlam (33), sister, born Birmingham;
- [6] Louisa Francis Johnson (12), niece;
- [7] Mable Goode (20), domestic servant;
- [8] Emily Stubbs (36), charwoman, born Staffordshire (British subject to parentage):

Walsall Advertiser 9/3/1912

“Stealing a pair of football boots, value 10s 6d, the property of Walsall Football Club, was the charge preferred against John Hickinbottom (29), labourer, Green Lane.

Evidence was given by Benjamin Chance, professional footballer, who plays left-back for Walsall, to the effect that the boots (produced) were the pair he wore to play in. He saw them last safe at 8.30 on Saturday night when they were in his bag, which he placed under the seat in the bar at the WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street. He left them for about fifteen minutes, and on returning found that the boots had been taken out of his bag. He saw prisoner whom he knew well by sight, in the house at the time. He reported the matter to the police, and on Tuesday afternoon was shown the boots by a detective.

Detective-constable Ayres stated that he recovered the boots on Monday, and arrested prisoner on the same night in Goodall Street. In answer to the charge he said, ‘I own I took the boots out of the bag, but I was under the influence of drink’ and added, ‘I did not know anything about them until Sunday morning when my wife asked me where I had had them from, and I told her I did not know.’

It was prisoner’s first appearance, and a fine of 10s and costs, or seven days was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/9/1912

“Mr. and Mrs. Alf Medlam, who are leaving the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street, to take over the SPRING COTTAGE HOTEL, Paddock, have been the recipients of an interesting presentations from the customers and friends. The presentation to Mr. Medlam was a handsome cabinet, and also a cigarette and cigar case, the latter having his initials inscribed on it. The present to Mrs. Medlam was a very pretty biscuit barrel, and Miss Saney, the barmaid, was also presented with a silver brush. The presentations were made by Mr. Charles Lord on behalf of the customers.”

Alfred Medlam – see also DOLPHIN, George Street, LITTLETON ARMS, SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock.

Walsall Observer 7/3/1914 - Advert

“Re George James, Deceased. Re Mary James, Deceased.

All Persons having any Debts or Claims against the estates of the above named, are requested to send in Particulars thereof to me, the undersigned, administrator of the said estates, on or before the 21st day of March, 1914.

George Ernest James, the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 21/3/1914 - Deaths

“On the 17th inst, suddenly at Birmingham, George Ernest, the beloved husband of Florence James, WHITE HORSE, Park Street, aged 38. In the midst of life we are in death.”

Walsall Observer 21/3/1914

“Mr. George James, the landlord of the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, expired suddenly in Birmingham, on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased, who was but 38 years of age, went into Birmingham on Tuesday afternoon, to see Mr. Alf Medlam of the SPRING COTTAGE, Paddock, play in the Licensed Victuallers’ Billiards Handicap. About 2.15, deceased and Mr. Middlebrook were just entering corporation Street from Stephenson Place, when the former turned to his companion and complained of feeling dazed. Almost immediately he staggered forward, but was prevented from falling by Mr. Middlebrook. Assistance was rendered, and on arrival at the Birmingham General Hospital, where he was taken, death was found to have taken place. Deceased leaves a wife and four children. The inquest was held on Wednesday, when a verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned. Mr. James had recently been attended by Dr. Baker for nervous trouble.”

[Mr. Alf Medlam was beaten in the final of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers’ Annual Billiard Handicap (800 points up), by Mr. J. Adams, landlord of the CROSS GUNS HOTEL, West Bromwich, by 800 to 621 points.]

Walsall Observer 30/5/1914 - Advert

“The new light racing Cycle which belonged to the late Mr. George James, of the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, is for sale. Apply, 145, Bloxwich Road.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/7/1914

“A combined ‘smoker’ and rally in connection with No.1 Division of the London and Manchester Industrial Assurance Company Limited took place at the WHITE HORSE, Park Street, on Friday evening week. Mr. J. Pritchard presided over a company numbering upwards of sixty.....”

George Ernest James – see also LITTLETON ARMS.

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WHITE HORSE, Park Street, Walsall, 2s 6d.”

Arthur George Saunders – see also MALT SHOVEL.

Harry Hill – see also NEW STATION.

Walsall Observer 14/5/1938

“At a meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers Society at the ROYAL OAK, Blakenall, on Thursday..... Mr. W. G. Higgins, WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, Walsall, was elected a member.”

1939 Register

41, Park Street

[1] Fred Day, date of birth 21/2/1901, manager licensed house, married;

[2] Ethel M. Day, dob 11/8/1899, assistant manager licensed house, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Fred Day, dob 6/2/1923, draughtsman, improver, single:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HORSE INN, Park Street, £1 14s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HORSE, Park Street. £1 4s 8d.”

It closed on 30th August 1958.

WHITE HORSE

9, Upper Green Lane, (8, (9), (35), (169), (Upper) Green Lane), Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Simkins, Pleck, Walsall

Richard Foxall

Mrs. Elizabeth Foxall, Vicarage Street, Walsall

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1899)
City Brewery Co (Lichfield) Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Simkiss [1841] – [1842]
Joseph Simkiss [1845] – [1851]
John Gregory [1858] – [1862]
Thomas James [1863] – [1870]
Mrs. Mary James [1869] – [1873];
Richard Foxall [];
Mrs. Elizabeth Foxall [1880];
Edward Cooper [1881] – 1897);
Miss Phyllis Cooper (1897 – 1903);
David Cooper (1903 – 1915);
Alfred Deans (1915 – 1917);
Emily Elsie Deans (1917 – 1919);
Alfred Deans (1919 – 1921);
David Walker (1921 – 1922);
Cornelius Williams (1922 – 1954);
Mrs. Mary Williams (1954 – 1963);
James Ball (1963 – 1965);
Harry Ball (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

Birchills [1850], [1851], [1864]
Green Lane [1841], [1842], [1868], [1870], [1904]
Birchills Green Lane [1851]
35, Green Lane [1861]
169, Green Lane [1871]
9, Green Lane [1891], [1901]
9, Upper Green Lane [1911], [1912], [1932], [1940], [1954]

It was situated opposite to Alma Street.

It had a brewery and malthouse attached.

London Gazette 12/12/1848 - Notice

“Whereas a Petition of Meshach Simkiss, at present, and for nine months and upwards last past, residing at Lodgings at the WHITE HORSE Public-house, at the Birchills, in the foreign of Walsall, and county of Stafford and for nine months and upwards previous thereto residing in Lodgings at Lambeth’s-end, in the parish of West Bromwich, and county aforesaid, and during that time occasionally residing in Lodgings at the WHITE HORSE aforesaid, and for twelve months and upwards previous thereto residing at Netherton, in the parish of Dudley, and county of Worcester, and during the whole of the periods aforesaid carrying on the business of a Miner, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Meshach Simkiss, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Meshach Simkiss is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 27th day of December instant, at one in the afternoon, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes, and the choice of the creditors’ assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Meshach Simkiss, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. William Cotterill, the Clerk of the said Court, at his offices, in Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

1851 Census

Birchills Green Lane

- [1] Joseph Simkiss (45), ironstone miner and victualler, born Netherton;
- [2] Mary Ann Simkiss (39), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Mick Simkiss (30), lodger, ironstone miner, born Netherton;
- [4] Keturah Fletcher (19), visitor, born Netherton;
- [5] Hannah Baggott (15), general servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Free Press 17/10/1857 - Advert

“To be Sold, a Strong Four-years-old Half-bred Bay Mare; warranted Sound and Steady in Harness.

To be seen at the WHITE HORSE, Birchills.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/9/1859 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady Young Man, to reside in the House, as Brewer and to make himself generally useful. Apply at the WHITE HORSE, Birchills, Walsall.”

Birmingham Journal 15/10/1859

“On Tuesday afternoon a discovery of a most singular nature was made at the works of Messrs. Highway, Birchill Furnaces. It appears that there was formerly a culvert, into which surplus steam was let when the works were in full occupation. This culvert was accessible from the road close by, and some children, having in their curiosity and fun crept up, where somewhat alarmed by the offensive smell which proceeded therefrom. They, however, went up until they discovered some bones, and then they informed a man near the spot, who gave information to the police. A search was then made, and the skeleton of a boy, about fifteen years of age, was discovered. There were some remains of wearing apparel, and a pair of boot-clogs upon the feet; but the flesh was completely off the bones, a portion of the intestines only remaining. The bones were removed to the WHITE HORSE INN, and enquiries were made, but no clue has as yet been ascertained as to who the unfortunate boy was, or how he came by his death. The presumption is, that he got into the culvert, which was warm, for the purpose of sleeping, and that during the time he lay there a quantity of hot steam must have been blown into it, by which scalding and suffocation would be produced. The police are making enquiries, with the view of discovering who the deceased was. An inquest was held on the body on Wednesday, and a verdict of Found Dead was recorded.”

Walsall Free Press 29/9/1860 - Advert

“For Sale, a Sow and Seven Pigs.
May be seen at the WHITE HORSE INN, Birchills.”

Walsall Free Press 8/10/1860

“Thomas Russel, aged between six and seven years, who resided at Collier’s Row, Birchills, died suddenly at two o’clock on Sunday morning last. Deceased had complained of being unwell the previous evening. At the inquest which was held at the WHITE HORSE, Birchills, on Wednesday last, a verdict of Death from Natural Causes, was returned.”

Walsall Free Press 9/2/1861 - Advert

“Ale! Ale!! Ale!!!
If you wish to taste a glass of good Ale, call at John Gregory’s, the WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Birchills.
Prime Ale always on tap at 4d per Quart.”

Walsall Free Press 23/3/1861 - Advert

“To Be Disposed Of, a first class light Skeleton Gig, with leather Dash &c, complete.
To be seen at Mr. Gregory’s, WHITE HORSE INN, Birchills.”

1861 Census

35, Green Lane – WHITE HORSE

- [1] John Gregory (54), victualler and boiler maker, employing 2 men 1 boy, born London;
- [2] Mary Gregory (57), born Bloxwich;
- [3] Ann Clamp (23), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/7/1862 - Advert

“To Be Sold Cheap, a Pony (well known in Walsall). Harness and Dog Trap complete.
For further particulars apply to Mr. Gregory, the WHITE HORSE INN, Birchills.”

Walsall Free Press 27/9/1862

“About half-past eight on Thursday morning, John Gregory, landlord of the WHITE HORSE INN, Birchills, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. Fortunately, however, he only succeeded in inflicting a slight wound. The unfortunate man, who is advanced in years, had been for some time despondent in mind.”

Birmingham Journal 1/11/1862 - Advert

“WHITE HORSE, Birchills, Walsall.
To be Let, with immediate possession, in consequence of the death of the late Proprietor, the above Old-established House. A capital trade has been carried on in it for some years, which may be considerably improved. Coming-in from £200 to £300.
Apply to Mr. Geo. Bayley, Auctioneer, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 3/10/1863

“Thomas James, landlord of the WHITE HORSE public house, Birchills, was charged with having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours on Sunday last. Defendant admitted the charge, but stated that, on the morning in question, a person called and said one of the workmen at Mr. Jones’s works had been taken ill and required a little brandy. Defendant, who was washing himself at the time, told the girl to supply the party with brandy, and, while she was doing so, two men came in and requested her to fill them some ale, and she did so. Defendant, on coming into the bar, reproved the girl for what she had done. The Bench considered the servant was the guilty party, but inasmuch as he was responsible for his servant's act they would fine him 1s and costs; but, in dealing with his application for a renewal of license, would not permit it to militate against him."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/11/1866

"Thomas James, landlord of the WHITE HORSE public-house, Birchills, was fined 5s and costs for having had his house open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours on the morning of Sunday last."

Walsall Free Press 8/12/1868

"Walsall Improvement Commission.....

Mr. Williams called attention to a nuisance at the Birchills, which, he said, if not remedied, would kill all the people in the neighbourhood. Mr. Roper said there was a nuisance at the WHITE HORSE, Birchills. The Clerk said, in reply, as the attention of the owners of the premises on which both middens were had been called, if the nuisances were not removed the owners could be summoned."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/7/1869

"Yesterday, Mr. A. A. Fletcher, Coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the WHITE HORSE public-house, Green Lane, kept by Mrs. James, upon the body of James Grey, aged nine years. It appears that about ten o'clock in Sunday forenoon, deceased and two other boys went to bathe in the canal at Birchills, and when they had been in the water about twenty minutes the deceased suddenly sank, and never rose again. An alarm was given by the other boys, and the canal was dragged, but the body was not recovered till 8.15pm, when a man named Thomas Kendrick dived in and brought it out.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Walsall Free Press 4/6/1870

"Mary James, landlady of the WHITE HORSE public-house, Birchills, was charged with having had her house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours, namely, at 9.30am on Sunday last. Police-constable Bryford, who proved the case, said at the time in question he was passing the defendant's house and saw a man receive two cans containing malt liquor; and on seeing this he asked the man and also the attendant in the house how they accounted for beer being supplied at that hour, and they both said it was 'pit beer,' supplied to the man for the purpose of being taken to the men at the works. Mr. Dale, who appeared for the defendant, contended that the house was not open within the meaning of the Act, because the doors were shut. The Bench considered the case was not of such a character as to merit punishment, and, therefore dismissed the case. Mr. Cater, said now the case had been disposed of, he wished to inform the Bench that both the employers of labour and the residents at the Birchills complained that on Sundays numbers of drunken men were continually rolling about the roads in that locality, he had directed the officers to be more vigilant.

Mr. Shannon said the officer had done quite rightly in reporting the case. Then addressing Mr. Cater said: You did not taste the beer. – No, I did not. Mr. Shannon: Because if you had you would have found the men could not get rolling drunk with it. (Laughter)."

1871 Census

169, Green Lane – WHITE HORSE

- [1] Mary James (72), widow, publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane James (32), widow, domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary A. Nock (22), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 15/8/1871

"At the Police Court, yesterday, before Messrs. E. T. Holden and F. B. Oerton, Mary James, landlady of the WHITE HORSE public-house, Birchills, was charged with having permitted drunkenness in her house. Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Lewis) appeared on behalf of the defendant.

Police-constable Pardon stated that on Tuesday, the 8th inst, he visited the house of the defendant about six o'clock in the evening, and found forty or fifty men assembled in the back premises, some men fighting in a front room, fourteen or fifteen drunk in the same room. At twenty minutes to eight, there were thirty or forty men drunk then, several of whom had been supplied with liquor, although he advised the young woman in charge of the house, the defendant being ill in bed at the time, not to fill any more liquor. Twenty minutes later, also, he still found drunkenness and disorder in the house.

Acting-sergeant Wake corroborated the statement that there were drunken men in the house.

Mr. Dale pleaded that there had been a great influx of visitors into defendant's house, owing to a large number of navvies employed upon an adjoining railway being in the habit of frequenting the house, and Mrs. James had been unable to turn them out when they created disorder. This would not occur again, he said, as Mrs. James was going to have a manger in the house. Mr. Dale pleaded defendant's previous character, stating that she had been a publican for forty-five years, and had only been once convicted.

The Mayor said the Bench had some difficulty in deciding the case leniently, but they had taken into consideration that Mrs. James was ill in bed at the time the disorder took place in her house, and they should therefore inflict a fine of 40s and costs; had it not been that she was ill, the fine would have been much heavier."

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1871

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions. This session took place at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

Mr. Glover then applied for the renewal of the licenses of the undermentioned, whose licenses were suspended on licensing day.....

Mary James, WHITE HORSE, near Birchills. Granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/3/1872

“At a meeting of engine-tenders, held at the WHITE HORSE, the Birchills, on Saturday night, it was resolved not to allow any but competent engine-tenders to enter engine-houses of the members of the branch; and it was further resolved to prosecute all employers allowing unqualified men to work their engines. Some notices for the advance had, it was stated, been served, and those were to stand, but the consideration of the time and mode of a general notice was deferred for a week.”

Evening Express 1/4/1881

“Thomas Higgins, Lower Rushall Street, and Thomas Evans, High Street, were charged with having assaulted Police-constable Atkins.

It appeared the officer was called to the men, who had been quarrelsome in the WHITE HORSE public house, Birchills, and on coming out the prisoners laid hold of him and Higgins struck him. The officer then blew his whistle, and Sergeant Williams and Acting-sergeant Mincer came to his assistance.

Sergeant Williams gave corroborative evidence.

The prisoners, who had not been previously convicted, were each sentenced to pay a fine of 20s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for one month.”

1881 Census

WHITE HORSE

- [1] Edward Cooper (47), collier and publican, born Lancashire;
- [2] Ann Cooper (46), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Phyllis Cooper (21), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Cooper (14), daughter, servant to father, born Walsall;
- [5] William E. Cooper (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Eliza Raybould (18), general servant, born Ruston, Worcestershire:

Evening Express 20/5/1881

“On Thursday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE HORSE public house, Green Lane, Walsall, touching the death of Florence Parings, aged four weeks, whose parents reside in Alma Street.

From the evidence of the deceased’s father, it appeared that the child enjoyed good health from birth until seven days prior to her death, when she became ill. Mr. Palmer, who attended the mother in her confinement, saw the child eight days after birth, and discovered that it was suffering from ‘frocks’, and ordered borax and honey to be applied in the mouth of the child, which was accordingly done. Mr. Palmer saw the child four times after birth, and when told by the mother that she had carried out his instructions he said he could do no better. Mr. Sharp (the partner of Mr. Palmer) saw the deceased’s mother once after her confinement, but though both of them were subsequently sent and called for several times to attend to the child, who died on the 15th inst, neither of the surgeons came after Monday, the 25th of April.

The Coroner: When they did not come you should have sent for someone else.

Witness said he was out of work and had no money, and he supposed the reason why the surgeons had not come was because he had not paid them for the confinement.

The Coroner: Did you not think it was your duty to procure medical assistance for your child when you found they would not come.

The witness here answered in such a very incoherent and contradictory manner that the Coroner asked him if he had been drinking, and, getting no satisfactory reply, committed him for contempt of Court. The foreman and several of the jury also made some very strong remarks in reference to the conduct of the witness.

Jane Pitt, a neighbour, deposed that the fourth day after the child was born she called Mr. Palmer’s attention to the child’s mouth, but he did not order any medicine, neither did he direct anything to be applied to the child’s mouth. About a week before the deceased died, Mr. Palmer was sent for six or seven times, but he did not come.

Sarah Parings, mother of the deceased, corroborated the evidence already given, and stated that she should have sent for the parish doctor had she known she could have had his assistance for the deceased.

The Coroner said the evidence showed that the deceased died from ‘frocks’, which required careful medical attention. There had been neglect, but he did not see that they could fix it upon anyone. No doubt Mr. Sharp and Mr. Palmer were not bound to attend deceased; but he thought they were to blame in not telling the parents that they would not attend. After a short consultation the foreman said the jury were of opinion that the deceased died from Natural Causes; but they thought Mr. Sharp, who was the head of the firm, was to blame in not giving a direct refusal to the parents. It was evident the parents were under the impression that, having attended the mother in her confinement, the surgeons were bound to attend the child for one month after its birth. Had the parents been told that Mr. Sharp or Mr. Palmer would not attend they might have got other medical assistance. The jury did not think there was culpable neglect, and could therefore return a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Evening Express 12/12/1881

“An inquest was held at the WHITE HORSE INN, Birchills, this (Monday) afternoon, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, borough coroner, touching the death of Bridget Birgon, aged 40 years, who was found drowned in the canal on Saturday afternoon last. From the evidence it appeared that the deceased left her home between six and seven o'clock on Friday, with a dense fog prevailing at the time, to purchase some provisions, and for this purpose she would require to go along the canal path for a short distance. The deceased did not return, and for several days a search was made in the canal for the body, but without success, until Saturday afternoon, when the body was found floating in the canal opposite Bunch's ironworks. The deceased was not subject to fits, and was on good terms with her husband when she left the house. A verdict of Found Drowned was returned."

Edward Cooper was fined 10s and costs, on 30th December 1885, for opening before 12.30.

Walsall Observer 1/3/1890

"The following inquests have been held during the week by Mr. T. H. Stanley, the borough coroner.....

At the WHITE HORSE, Birchills, on Tuesday, on the body of Thomas Henry Barber, aged seven weeks, whose parents reside at Alma Street. Evidence was given that the child was all right apparently on Saturday, but that early on Sunday morning it became convulsed and died.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned."

1891 Census

9, Green Lane – WHITE HORSE

[1] Edward Cooper (57), widower, licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Phyllis Cooper (31), daughter, born Walsall;

[3] Mary Cooper (24), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] William Cooper (21), son, brush maker, born Walsall;

[5] Ann Pritchard (23), general servant, born Walsall;

[6] Elijah Cooper (63), visitor, miner, born Walsall;

[7] William Lane (15), adopted son, bridle cutter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. The usual monthly meeting of the management committee was held on Thursday last (having been postponed from the previous Thursday, the day on which the Parliamentary election took place, at Mr. William Brown's, BLUE PIG INN, New Street.....

New members..... Mr. Edward Cooper, WHITE HORSE INN, Green Lane."

Walsall Advertiser 17/4/1897

"Wednesday was a special transfer day at Walsall and the following licenses were transferred.....

WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, executors of Edward Cooper (deceased), to Phyllis Cooper."

London Gazette 14/5/1897

"Re Edward Cooper Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that all creditors and other persons having any claims or demands upon or against the estate of Edward Cooper late of the WHITE HORSE INN Birchills Walsall in the county of Stafford Licensed Victualler deceased (who died on the 6th day of February 1897 and whose will was proved in the District Registry at Lichfield of the Probate Division of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice on the 7th day of May 1897 by William Lane of Bloxwich-road Walsall aforesaid Mining Engineer and Enoch Evans of Birchills Walsall aforesaid Architect and Surveyor, the executors therein named) are hereby required to send in particulars in writing of their claims or demands to me the undersigned Solicitor to the said executors on or before the first day of July 1897 after which date the said executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto having regard only to the claims and demands of which they shall then have had notice and the said executors will not be liable or accountable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person of whose debt or claim they shall not then have had notice.

Dated the 10th day of May 1897."

Walsall Observer 27/10/1900

"An inquest was held by Mr. T. H. Stanley (borough coroner) on Thursday afternoon, at the WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, on the body of Harriet Poole, living at 4, Alma Street, off Green Lane, who died suddenly on Tuesday.

Phoebe Corfield, the wife of Samuel Corfield, a miner, living at 4, Alma Street, stated that the deceased was her mother, whose body had been viewed at witness's house. She was the wife of William Poole, and lived at Hanley. She came on a visit to witness in January last, and had stayed with her since, following the occupation of midwife. At about four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon deceased had tea with witness, and then went out. Shortly afterwards witness was called by a neighbor to her mother, who was in the closet in a state of insensibility. With the assistance of her husband, she carried deceased into the house on a chair. Witness believed she as then dead. Dr. O'Meara was called in, and saw her. About two months ago deceased had a slight stroke. Elizabeth Baldwin, the wife of James Baldwin, of 6, Alma Street, spoke to finding deceased in an unconscious state. Witness spoke to her, but she could not answer.

Dr. O'Meara stated that he was called in to see Mrs. Poole at about a quarter to five. She was lying on a couch. He made an outward examination, and found she was dead. There was no marks of violence, but there were slight traces of dropsy. He concluded, from the extreme suddenness of the death and the presence of dropsy, that she died from heart disease. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

1901 Census

9, Green Lane – WHITE HORSE INN

- [1] Phyllis Cooper (42), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Cooper (35), sister, assistant in house, born Walsall;
- [3] Phyllis Mold (14), niece, born Walsall;
- [4] Edward Kirkham (14), nephew, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Brotherton (18), niece, born Walsall;
- [6] Jane Osborne (24), servant, born Walsall;
- [7] Joseph Kirkham (38), brewer, born Coseley;

Walsall Advertiser 31/10/1903

“Mr. S. A. Grundy-Newman made an application for the extension of a smoke room at the WHITE HORSE, Green Lane. The additional space would be about 7ft by 9ft. The owner also desired to make alteration to a window which was then in a very dilapidated condition. The alterations would afford better facilities and better accommodation to the customers of the house. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904 - Advert

“For Sale or to Let, Poplar House and Premises, Bloxwich Road, Leamore. Good position for any business that requires plenty of room.

Apply, D. Cooper, WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Birchills.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/11/1905

“A miner named Thomas Faulkner (39), 66, Upper Green Lane, was charged with stealing a gold ring, value £10, the property of David Cooper, WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, on the 27th ult.

Prosecutor stated that at 8.30 on the date named, prisoner went into his house, and called for a drink. Witness at the time was showing some of his customers a diamond ring, and prisoner asked to let him have a look at it. Witness put the ring into his hand and then prisoner put it on his finger, and after having another drink, went out the house by the front door. Witness thought he had only gone into the yard, but from another customer told him after he had been waiting almost three quarters of an hour witness sent a man after him. Prisoner, however, refused to return the ring, and witness himself went to the prisoner’s house, but he still refused to give it up, so he informed the police.

Police-constable Williams (41) stated that at 10.10 on the date in question he was called to the WHITE HORSE, where the landlord complained that prisoner had stolen a ring from him. He went to the BOAT INN, where he found prisoner with the ring on his finger, and in answer to a question as to what he was doing with it he said, ‘Yes, it’s my ring, and I will have my hand cut off before I will give it up.’ He then brought the prisoner to the station and the ring was taken off his finger.

Prisoner said he had had a lot of drink, and did not know what he was doing at the time.

The Bench said prisoner had been guilty of a very silly trick, but they considered the landlord was somewhat to blame for flashing the ring about in the house in the manner he had. Prisoner would go to prison for two months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/4/1907

“At the Rushall Police Court on Monday, before Messrs. W. H. Brookes (presiding) and J. F. Crump, Hyla Whitehead (21), and Thomas Edgerton (19), both of Brownhills, were charged with stealing a pigeon basket on the 2nd inst. Mr. R. J. Marriott (Beale and Co.) prosecuted on behalf of the Midland Railway Company.

David Cooper, WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Walsall, deposed to despatching a basket of pigeons from North Walsall to Bromsgrove, where the pigeons were to be liberated and the basket returned.

Cabel Penn, porter at Aldridge Station, stated that prisoners got out of a train just after midnight, and after the train had left for Walsall, he saw the prisoners walk up the platform. While doing so Edgerton picked up the basket, which was on the platform and they went out of the station. He informed another porter and they went and met the prisoners on the railway bridge, and taxed them with having stolen the basket, and then gave them into custody. The label which was attached to the basket had been torn off.

Albert Sage, signalman at Aldridge, and John Whitmore, booking clerk, gave corroborative evidence.

Police-constable Ansell, who took the prisoners into custody, said he handed them over to Police-constable Collins, and when charged by that officer Edgerton said ‘No fear,’ and Whitehead replied ‘We knew that before.’

Sergeant Needham said he found they were very respectable young men and had nothing against them previously.

The charges were not pressed against them and each was ordered to pay the costs (17s).”

1911 Census

9, Upper Green Lane – WHITE HORSE INN

- [1] David Cooper (43), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Ellen Cooper, wife, married 23 years, assisting in the business, born Harden, near Walsall;
- [3] Annie Saunders (23), cousin, barmaid, born Walsall;

Walsall Advertiser 23/12/1911

“An action was heard by Judge Howard Smith at the Walsall County Court on Tuesday afternoon, in which David Cooper, a publican, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Green Lane, sued Arthur Bate, of Persehouse Lane, for £7, damages to a horse, caused by a collision with defendant’s motorcycle. There was a counter-claim of £9 15s damage to the motorcycle. Mr. Frank Cooper appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Loxton defended.

The plaintiff’s case was that a driver named Frederick Appleby was at Rushall on October 13th with plaintiff’s horse and cart, when Bate, who was riding a motorcycle, came up. He was not looking where he was going, and ran his cycle into the horse, hurting it badly.

For the defence it was stated that plaintiff’s horse and cart came out of a lane, and was on the wrong side of the road.

The Judge gave a verdict for defendant on the counter-claim for £4 with costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/2/1914

“Thomas Russell (27), labourer, of 3, Red Lion Street, was charged with stealing a wheelbarrow and a quantity of coal. The Chief Constable asked the Bench to discharge the man after hearing the landlord of a public house at which Russell had been a customer. The landlord of the WHITE HORSE, Upper Green Lane (Mr. Cooper), told the Bench that during the Tube Strike he gave people permission to use his barrow and fetch coal out of the yard.

The Chief Constable: So that if people in future are found fetching coal from your yard, you can’t prefer a charge against them? –

Witness: Yes.

The Chief Constable: I want the magistrates to understand the extraordinary position this landlord takes with regard to thieving.

Mr. E. Blyth asked, now that the strike is over, whether the permission to fetch coal from this yard still held good.

Witness: Yes, I have got plenty of coal in.

The prisoner was discharged.”

Walsall Observer 28/3/1914 - Advert

“To Let or for Sale, House, Shopping, and Let-off Shops, corner of Green Lane and Bloxwich Road, Leamore; splendid frontage; good position for motor garage, etc.

Apply. D. Cooper, WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 20/6/1914 - Advert

“For Sale, Brake, Waggonette, Truck, rubber tyred Trap, Blast fan, complete with fly wheel, blacksmith’s Anvil, Bellows and Vice, cheap.

Apply, WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/8/1914

“An interesting right-of-way case occupied the attention of the magistrates at Walsall Police Court yesterday (Friday) when Lily Tonks, of Blakenall Heath, and Jeph Dodd, of Blakenall Heath, were summoned for having wilfully damaged a wall, the property of David Cooper, of Green Lane, to the extent of 30/-, between 25th and 26th July.

Mr. Cooper for the complainant, and said Mr. Cooper was the owner of some cottages at Blakenall Heath, and the defendants were the occupiers of some adjoining property. Mr. Evans for the defence would submit that there was a bona fide claim by the defendants, but he (Mr. Cooper) suggested that the man at any rate, overthrew the wall after having a considerable amount of drink, and in a spirit of bravado. The defendants were not the owners of the property where they resided, and, had there been a claim of right, it would have been that of the owner.

David Cooper, licensee of the WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, said defendant occupied cottages near his cottage property at Blakenall Heath. Witnesses cottages stood back from the roadway, and had gardens in front of them. Three weeks ago he caused to be built a wall dividing his gardens from the adjoining wall. The wall –every brick of it – was knocked down during the previous weekend.

Mr. Evans: Do you tell the magistrates seriously that this wall was built to separate the gardens? – Complainant: To make the garden. These were beautiful gardens a short time ago.

Do you mean to say that wall was not built where the Corporation carts are accustomed to go? – That is not so.

Pointing to a sketch, Mr. Evans asked Mr. Cooper whether a road across which he was said to have built the wall had been an open road for eighty years.

Mr. Cooper: Obviously he cannot answer that Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans: How old are you? – Forty six.

Mr. Evans: Has it been open for forty-six years? (Laughter).

A Magistrate: Possibly he cannot remember that long.

Mr. Evans: Has it always been open? – Complainant: I cannot say.

Have you ever known it closed? – No.

Does the Corporation sewer run along this road? – The sewer to my property does.

The Magistrates Clerk: Who paid for the sewer? – Complainant: I cannot say.

James Vale, the owner of the three cottages at Blakenall Heath, who was called by Mr. Evans, said that of his own knowledge he had known the road as an open one for forty years. Mrs. Tonks, who was a tenant of his complained Mr. Cooper had stopped up the right of way. He told her to knock it down, and he would take full responsibility. He saw Mr. Cooper, and told him he would have to take down the wall, and he said, ‘Let it remain up for some little time, or I shall look such a fool.’ Witness said he could not consent to this. Witness was the joint owner of the property with Mr. John Horton, and accepted full responsibility for demolishing the wall.

The case was dismissed.”

Walsall Observer 6/2/1915 - Advert

“Fully-Licensed Home Brewing House to Let; Tied to good brewers, known as the WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Birchills. For particulars, apply on the premises.”

Walsall Observer 24/4/1915 - Advert

“Gent’s Cycle, Sturmey-Archer three-speed, Palme Tyres, good as new; cash £3, worth double. WHITE HORSE, Green Lane, Birchills.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917..... WHITE HORSE, Green Lane. £1 1s 3d.”

It was described in 1925 as “old and in poor repair.”

1939 Register

Green Lane – WHITE HORSE Public House

- [1] Cornelius Williams, date of birth 17/12/1893, publican, beerhouse, married;
- [2] Mary Williams, dob 30/9/1892, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Hilda Eileen (Williams) Joyce, dob 25/3/1921, cashier, book, single;
- [4] Vera (Williams) Bates, dob 4/10/1923, leather machinist, single;
- [6] Iris (Williams) Wall, dob 19/2/1929, at school, single;
- [7] Mary Ryan, dob 25/3/1914, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [8] Terrance E. Ryan, dob 1/10/1933, at school, single;
- [10] Sheila P. (Ryan) Weatherley, dob 1/6/1938, under school age, single:

1954 Probate

“Cornelius Williams, of WHITE HORSE INN, 9 Upper Green Lane, Walsall, Staffordshire, died 9 June 1954 at the General Hospital, Birmingham 4. Administration Birmingham 12 July to Mary Williams, widow. Effects £592 7s 4d.”

[2012]

Closed [2016], [2017]

WHITE HORSE

92, Wolverhampton Street, (Wolverhampton Lane), WALSALL

OWNERS

Hannah Osborne, beer retailer, Long Acre Street, Walsall
Nicholas Roper
E. Mason, butcher, Bloxwich
Edgar Evans
Twist’s Brewery Ltd.
Evans Brewery Ltd., Perry Barr [1904]
Atkinsons Ltd. (acquired in 1950)

LICENSEES

William Oakley [1845]
Samuel Cartwright [1849] – [1851]
Samuel Cooper [1854] – [1858]
John Cozens [1860] – 1866;
Frederick Hems (1866 – [1871]
Mrs. Eliza Hems [1872] – [1873];
Samuel White [];
David Partridge [];
Joseph Hodgkins [1881] – [1882];

Charles Horton [1885];
Joseph Brough [1887] – 1888);
William Wilkes (1888);
Benjamin Walker (1888 – 1892);
Job Sutton (1892 – 1896);
William Henry Bulwell (1896 – 1901);
Frank Bullivant (1901);
Emily Ellen Bliss (1901 – 1902);
Mrs. Elizabeth Letts (1902 – 1904);
Ernest Vale (1904);
Charles Hill (1904 – 1905);
Frederick ‘Fred’ Bracher (1905 – 1908);
Ernest Thomas (1908 – 1911);
Edward Thomas Taylor (1911 – 1913);
Bernard Broadhurst Perry (1913 – 1920);
Joseph Benjamin Preston (1920 – 1928);
Harvey Salt (1928 – 1932);
Charles Pedley (1932 – 1934);
Sidney Silvester Wood (1934 – 1938);
Leslie Marshall Walker (1938 – 1939);
John Charles Bishop (1939 – 1954);
John James Green (1954 – 1957);
Albert Edward Pledger (1957 – [1966])

NOTES

[1834]

William Oakley was also a tailor. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/5/1847 - Notice

“Whereas a Petition of William Oakley, at present, and for twelve months now last past, residing in Stafford-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, and being a Journeyman Tailor, and for eighteen months previous thereto at the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton-lane, Walsall aforesaid, carrying on the business of a Publican, and for twelve months previously thereto residing in Lodgings at the WHITE HORSE, Park-street, Walsall aforesaid, and then carrying on the business of a Tailor, and for three years previously thereto residing at the WHITE HORSE last aforesaid, and then carrying on the business of a Publican, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for protection from process having been given to the said William Oakley, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said William Oakley is hereby required to appear in Court before Edmund Robert Daniell, Esq, the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the 26th day of May instant, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors’ assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said William Oakley, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederick Whitmore, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, the Official Assignee, nominated in that behalf by the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition.

John Smith, solicitor, Temple Street, Birmingham.”

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Lane

- [1] Samuel Cartwright (32), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Martha Cartwright (36), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Alice Cartwright (6), daughter, born Ogle, Staffordshire;
- [4] Kezia Cartwright (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Cartwright (1 month), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Catherine Craddock (19), domestic servant, born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1854

“On Wednesday Thomas Holman, landlord of the WHITE LION, Little London, was fined 30s and costs for keeping his house open on Sunday week during prohibited hours by the recent Act. It was the second offence, and the Bench warned him that its repetition would lead to the suspension of his license. Charles Welch and Samuel Cooper, were each fined 10s for a similar offence.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 13/9/1856

“Monday being the day for the renewal of old licenses and considering the application for new ones, there was a full attendance of magistrates.....

Samuel Cooper, the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Lane all of whom had been convicted during the past year, were admonished, and informed that unless a reform in the management took place, their licenses would be inevitably withheld.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Cozens, WHITE HORSE INN.”

Walsall Free Press 12/11/1864

“On Monday afternoon, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Lane, upon the body of a pensioner named William Yates, aged 46, who dropped down dead between the WHITE HORSE and his daughter’s house, on the Friday evening previous.

The Jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Apoplexy.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/8/1868 - Advert

“Found, on Monday, the 24th of August, a Brown Mare, about 16 hands, with two white hind legs and a white mark on forehead.

The owner can have it by applying at the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Walsall, and paying all reasonable expenses.”

1871 Census

Wolverhampton Street – WHITE HORSE INN

[1] Frederick Hems (33), licensed victualler, born Kings Norton;

[2] Eliza Hems (30), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Henry Hems (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Phoebe Hems (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[5] Edward Hems (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] Maria Hems (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] John Hems (1), son, born Walsall;

[8] Clara Brown (12), servant, born Walsall:

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 24/3/1877

“On Thursday an inquest was held by Mr. A. A. Fletcher, the Borough Coroner, at the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on the body of Charles John Tompkins, aged five years whose parents reside in Wolverhampton Street. Deceased had been ill with scarlet fever, but was recovering, and on Monday morning he was left alone in bed. He got up and tried to get something to drink from the mantelpiece, and while doing so his shirt caught fire, and he was severely burnt before his mother, who heard his screams, could get to him. He died on Wednesday afternoon. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1881 Census

92, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Joseph Hodgkins (58), carpenter, born Bloxwich;

[2] Jane Hodgkins (50), wife, born Rushall;

[3] Ann Hodgkins (30), daughter, buckle coverer, born Ryecroft;

[4] William Hodgkins (23), son, silver plater, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph Perry (9), grandson, scholar, born Walsall:

Lichfield Mercury 13/1/1882

“On Monday at the Guildhall, James Morris (17), was brought up on a warrant, charged with having assaulted Jane Perry, daughter of Mr. Hodgkins, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street.

The evidence was to the effect that on the night of the 27th ult. she went to assist in waiting upon the company at her father’s house. In the course of the evening the accused and others took fried fish from an old man who was hawking it, and, as they would not pay, a disturbance arose. An endeavour was made to get the thieves out of the house, and as the prisoner was passing the complainant, who was holding the door open, he struck her on the mouth, knocking out three of her teeth. Subsequently he called upon her with a companion, to ask her to withdraw from the prosecution; the companion telling her that if she did not do so she would be kicked to death.

The defendant was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment with hard labour; and the Bench expressed a hope that the companion who used the threats would be discovered and brought to justice.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/8/1885

“Today (Friday), at Bilston Court, Charles Horton, landlord of the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, was charged with stealing four bottles of liquor and other articles from the CASTLE HOTEL, Darlaston. The evidence for the prosecution tended to show that a sale was recently held at the hotel, at which defendant attended and bought certain articles. After the sale the place was locked up, but on the manager going into the wine cellar some time afterwards he found the door had been forced, and a puncheon containing brandy removed from its place. Defendant was subsequently found in a house in Cock Street with two bottles of liquor in his possession, and when charged with the theft said he was under the influence of drink. The case was remanded for a week, and Mr. J. Sheldon, who defended, in applying for bail, said his client bore a good character, that he was a licensed victualler at Walsall, and was formerly a manufacturer at Bloxwich, and the liquor, he should contend, was obtained without felonious intent. Bail was allowed.”

AND

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/9/1885

“Charles Horton, licensed victualler, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, was charged with stealing a quantity of brandy and cordial, value 50s, belonging to Henry Frank Chadwick, manager of the CASTLE HOTEL, Darlaston. Mr. Green, of Darlaston, prosecuted, and Mr. Sheldon, of Wednesbury, defended. The facts of the case have already received publicity. The Bench committed defendant to take his trial at the Stafford Sessions, and allowed bail. Mr. Sheldon reserved his defence.”

[Charles Horton did not appear at Staffordshire Quarter Sessions in October 1885. The recognizances of the prisoner and of his bail to be estreated.]

Joseph Brough was fined 20s and costs, on 15th July 1887, for Sunday trading.

Walsall Observer 24/9/1887

“Walsall Licensing Sessions

The adjourned annual licensing meeting was held yesterday, at the Sessions Court.....

Applications which had been adjourned owing to the tenants having been convicted during the past year.

The following were granted.....

WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/7/1888

“At the Rose Show held last Saturday at Mr. Wilke’s, WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, a novelty was exhibited – not for competition – in the shape of a monster bouquet of wild flowers, made up by Mr. Carter, of Wharf Street, Pleck. It is about ten pounds in weight; diameter 2ft 2in; and 6ft 6in circumference. It is laid on a network of foliage of sprays of beech; the centre bloom being cornflower, blue, surrounded by a corona of golden rod, relieved by a circle of hard-head buds, this again being relieved with yellow vetches. From this to a star of white dog daises, filled in on the various angles on one side with blue cornflowers, and on the other with very young sprays from the oak, these forming a most delicate contrast. Now follows a ring of yellow dog daises, finally to be filled into the beech foliage with full-blown yarrow flowers. The whole is so closely woven together that it appears to be a solid mass of colour; and if to carry the idea still further, a halo is formed above it by the insertion of quaker grass. It has been sent as a gift to the Walsall Cottage Hospital. The rose blooms exhibited were very choice, both in quality and colour. We were shown a remarkable freak of nature in the vegetable kingdom, viz, a radish resembling in shape to a human hand, thumb, four fingers, knuckles prominent, palm and wrist. It is about three inches long, and about an inch and a half across.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of Benjamin Walker, WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street. Refused.”

1891 Census

92, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Benjamin Walker (61) engine driver, born Walsall;

[2] Jane Walker (63), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Benjamin Walker (27), son, engine driver, born Walsall;

[4] Jane Walker (24), daughter, tailoress, born Walsall;

[5] Florence Walker (21), daughter, tailoress, born Walsall;

[6] William Walker (18), son, engine driver, born Walsall;

[7] William Lydell (7), grandson, scholar, born Sidney, Australia:

Walsall Advertiser 25/2/1893

“Lorrymen And Carters’ Union. An open meeting in connection with the Walsall branch of his union, was held on Saturday last, at the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street. Mr. W. Collins, secretary of the Trades Council, occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance of men engaged in the above callings. Mr. Astle addressed the meeting and strongly urged upon his hearers and their fellow workers to become members of the union, showing the advantage to be gained by being united. Mr. Walton (secretary of the Wolverhampton branch) also spoke referring to the progress of the Wolverhampton branch and its strength. Several members were afterwards enrolled, and a vote of thanks to the chairman and visitors brought a successful meeting to a close.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/2/1895

“Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

The monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held on Thursday.....

Mr. Job Sutton, WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, was elected a member of the society.”

Job Sutton was also a coal dealer. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 20/3/1897

“Mary Sutton, married, living in Blue Lane, was summoned for being quarrelsome, and refusing to quit the WHITE HORSE public-house, Wolverhampton Street, and damaging a window to the amount of 1s 8d. Mr. H. H. Jackson prosecuted.

When asked to leave she dashed a stone through the window. She was not served with anything to drink. She now pleaded that she went after her husband, who left her three weeks ago, and because she asked for her rights she was ordered away from the door.

The Bench condemned her to pay 1s 8d damage and 12s 6d costs, with the alternative of six days’ imprisonment.”

1901 Census

92, Wolverhampton Street

[1] William Bulwell (44), public house manager, born Nailsea, Somerset;

[2] Ada Bulwell (42), wife, born Walsall;

[3] George Bulwell (18), son, leather warehouse man, born Walsall;

[4] Gertrude Bulwell (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Laura Bulwell (13), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Jessie Bulwell (10), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Elsie Bulwell (7), daughter, born Walsall:

Elizabeth Letts = Elizabeth Lets

Walsall Advertiser 15/8/1903

“William Smith (24), labourer, of no fixed abode, was brought up on a charge of stealing 42 cigars, the property of Elizabeth Lets, of the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on August 11th.

Complainant identified the cigars produce as her property and said that she last saw them behind the bar of her house on the previous day, but she did not miss them until Police-sergeant Shipley brought them to her. Prisoner had previously been in her house drinking.

Martin Sweeney, landlord of the VINE INN, Blue Lane West, said that yesterday afternoon defendant brought a box of cigars and offered to sell them to him for a penny each, but he refused to buy them.

Police-sergeant Shipley stated that from information received about a man offering cigars for sale, he visited the VINE INN, where he saw defendant picking up the cigars from the floor where he had dropped them. When asked where he obtained them he admitted having stolen them, and when they passed the WHITE HORSE INN on the way to the Police Station prisoner said that was the place where he took them from.

Sentenced to one months’ hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Elizabeth Letts, WHITE HORSE.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions were continued on Tuesday, for the fifth day.....

The application for the renewal of the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street, was made on behalf of the owners (Messrs. Evans) and the tenant (E. Vale) by Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New Members..... Mr. E. Vale, WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/4/1905 - Advert

“For Sale, Lady’s Cycle, almost new, £13; accept £6.

Apply, WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1905

“The 53rd annual general meeting of the members of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Fred Bracher, WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/3/1906

“Samuel Perry, 23, Forrester Street, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises, and Frederick Bracher, WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises, on the 17th inst. Mr. H. H. Jackson was for the defence.

Police-sergeant Atcherly stated that on the date named, just before 11pm, in company with Police-constable Mascoll, he visited the WHITE HORSE. In the tap room he saw Perry, with his head leaning on his chest, and to all appearances asleep. He saw the barmaid, who asked if it was turning-out time, and he replied ‘No, but it is time that man (meaning the defendant Perry) was going out.’ The landlord then came in, and Perry roused up. Witness then noticed that he was drunk. He walked up to the counter and asked for ‘two pen’orth o’ whisky.’ The landlord refused, saying he had had enough. The landlord then told Perry to go, and witness saw him stagger across the footpath and fall down. Some fifty yards down the street he noticed a man assist Perry. He then called the attention of the landlord to his condition, and he said he could not have been in but a few minutes.

Police-constable Mascoll corroborated.

Bracher said that on the night in question he left the bar seven or eight minutes to eleven; Perry was not in then. He was only away a few minutes and Perry must have come in in the meantime.

Richard Perkins stated the Perry had nothing to drink there.

Bracher was fined 40s and costs, and Perry 10s and costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

Black List..... Frederick Bracher, WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street, who had been convicted during the year, was cautioned, and the renewal of the license postponed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/2/1909

“George Hooper, boatman, Wolverhampton Street, was charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, and with breaking five panes of glass, doing damage to the extent of £1 14s, on Monday. Mr. F. Cooper prosecuted. The prisoner was sentenced to two months’ hard labour.”

1911 Census

92, Wolverhampton Street

[1] Ernest Thomas (38), publican, born Worcester;

[2] Jane Thomas (39), wife, married 10 years, born Birmingham;

[3] Jennie Thomas (9), daughter, school, born Birmingham:

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street. £0 19s 10d.”

Joseph B. Preston was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in April 1924.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst..... the justices sanctioned alterations to the WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street, subject to the work being commenced within six months.”

Harvey Salt = Harry Palt = Harry Salt

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1929

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 15th inst. last.....

Mr. Harry Salt, WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

G. S. Twist set up his brewery here in 1933.

1939 Register

92, Wolverhampton Street

[1] John C. Bishop, date of birth 28/8/1896, manager public house, married;

[2] Elizabeth Bishop, dob 7/3/1892, manageress public house, married;

[3] Kathleen Dawkins, dob 18/12/1915, bar general, single:

Walsall Observer 12/4/1941 - Advert

“Malt for Strength & Energy. Hops for The Appetite. Yeast for The Blood.

Twists The Best Beer for You.

You can Drink and Enjoy Twists Ale at any the of the following Licensed Houses.....

WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street.....

And All The Best Clubs.

Proprietary Whiskies, Foreign Wines and Spirits, High-Class British Sherries and Ports.

Head Office & Brewery, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 15/5/1943

“Thomas William Durkin (22), a private in the Pioneer Corps, 125, Wolverhampton Street, and Albert Edward Lawrence (17), miner, 22, Brace Street, who was wearing a Home Guard Uniform, pleaded guilty at Walsall Police Court on Monday, to breaking and entering the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, on the night of April 30, and stealing £3 10s and five and a half ounces of tobacco, the property of Geo. Shelley Twist.

Police-sergeant Goode stated that when Durkin was taken to police headquarters in connection with another matter he was found to be in possession of four half-ounce packets of tobacco similar to some that was missing from the WHITE HORSE.

Detective-constable Barry said when he asked Durkin if he would care to say where he had had it from, he replied that he bought it from a soldier whose name he did not know. Later he saw Lawrence, and told him that he had reason to believe that he had been with Durkin the previous day. He said they bought the tobacco at the Y.M.C.A. at Wolverhampton, but later both admitted having been concerned with breaking into the public-house.

The stolen money consisted entirely of threepenny-pieces, and the men told the officer they had spent some of it in Wolverhampton and changed the rest into silver at various shops.

Prisoners were committed for trial at the Quarter Session, Lawrence being offered bail.”

[At the Quarter Sessions in June, Thomas William Durkin, who had a bad record, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude. Albert Edward Lawrence, was bound over for two years.]

Walsall Observer 13/10/1943

“After sitting until 6pm on Wednesday, hearing 164 summonses arising out of excessive deliveries of coal last winter, the Walsall magistrates (Messrs. Fred Evans, and H. Shemmans, and Mrs. Brockhurst) reserved their decisions in what were regarded as the more serious cases until Thursday morning.....

George Shelley Twist, 54, Selwyn Road, Edgbaston, was fined £1 for acquiring excess coal for the WHITE HORSE INN, Wolverhampton Street, and John Charles Bishop, the licensee, 10s for aiding and abetting.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE HORSE, Wolverhampton Street. £0 7s 6d.”

It closed in 1975.

WHITE HOUSE

Bosty Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

Sizzling Pub Co. [2012]

LICENSEES

NOTES

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

“Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We've a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

WHITE HOUSE, Bosty Lane, Aldridge, Walsall.”

[2005]

[2017]

WHITE LION

43, High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Daniels
Joseph Daniels, Elms Farm, near Worcester
Reuben Brown Mantle
William Turner, farmer, High Ercall, Shropshire
Messrs. Rushton, Aston Road, Birmingham

LICENSEES

T Hutchinson [1822]
Elizabeth Nicholls [1828] – [1830]
John Daniels [1834] – [1858]
John Perry [1860] – [1871]
Mrs. Sarah Reece [1872];
Samuel Thornhill [];
Mary Maria Yeomans [];
Reuben Brown Mantle [1880] – [1884];
Edward Wright [];
Benjamin Beckett Cooper [1890];
Thomas ‘Tom’ Lawson [1891] – 1899);
Ralph John Rogers (1899 – 1904);
William Jonathan Crane (1904);
Thomas Deakin (1904 – 1907);
Edward Cope Clarke (1907 – 1908);
Joseph Charles Cox (1908):

NOTES

It had a six-day license.

John Daniels = John Daniells

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/11/1838

“On Wednesday evening between seven and eight o’clock, a paper box was observed under the window of the WHITE LION, public-house, High Street, Walsall, which, on being examined was found to contain a male infant, apparently about a fortnight old. The little foundling was neatly dressed; and after it had been seen by several people whose curiosity drew them to the spot, was conveyed to the workhouse.”

1841 Census

George Street

- [1] John Daniells (45), victualler;
- [2] Susan Daniells (50), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Anne Taylor (20), fs, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Thomas Hayes (15), ms;
- [5] William Bradley (15), ms:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1841

“Mr. Henry Hill Cox, eldest and only surviving son of the late Hill Cox, Esq, of Walsall and Great Barr, attained his majority on Wednesday last, on which day an excellent dinner was provided at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, in celebration of the event. About twenty-six of the tenantry assembled by invitation, and did ample justice to the good things set before them. In the course of the afternoon Mr. Cox, attended by the Rev. W. M’Kean of Walsall, the Rec. Hugh Hutton, of Birmingham, and several other friends entered the room; and shortly after his health was proposed by the Rev. M’Kean, and responded to with three hearty cheers; the compliment was acknowledged in suitable terms. After remaining some time, Mr. Cox and friends left the TALBOT to visit another company of tenantry, for whom a similar entertainment was provided at the WHITE LION, High Street. The respective parties spent the afternoon and evening in a most convivial manner.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/8/1845 - Died

“On Saturday se'n night, aged 59, Susan, wife of John Daniels, of the WHITE LION, High Street, Walsall.”

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] John Daniels (51), publican, born Calbridge, Worcestershire;
- [2] Elizabeth Daniels (29), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Eliza Morris (16), niece, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Ellen Morris (14), niece, assistant barmaid, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Flinn (19), house servant, born Ireland;
- [6] William Nicholls (21), lodger, journeyman butcher, born Walsall;
- [7] Robert Bailiss (55), lodger, jobbing labourer, born Sutton, Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/10/1851 - Married

“October 15, at St. Mary's Catholic Chapel, Walsall, by the Rev. J. Macarte, Mr. John Birch, currier, of Walsall, to Miss Eliza Norris, niece of Mr. John Daniels, of the WHITE LION, High Street, in the same borough.”

Walsall Free Press 27/9/1859

“John Perry, beerhouse-keeper, pleaded guilty to having had his house open on the night of Saturday last during prohibited hours, but as it was his first offence he was fined 5s and costs.”

1861 Census

43, High Street

- [1] John Perry (33), publican, born Draycott, Staffordshire;
- [2] Eliza Perry (29), wife, born Ireland;
- [3] Mary Perry (4), daughter, born Helderston, Staffordshire;
- [4] John Perry (1), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Mary Madding (16), house servant, born Ireland;
- [6] Ann Church (14), house servant, born Stratford, Warwickshire:

Walsall Free Press 15/2/1862

“On Wednesday evening last the Sunday-school teachers, connected with the Catholic schools of St. Mary, entertained their very deeply venerated spiritual father, the Rev. W. Lovi, at a supper, provided at Mr. Perry's, the WHITE LION, High Street. Full of cheerful hilarity and most amusing anecdote, the rev. gentleman, in his own merry way, kept all during his stay in one incessant burst of laughter. In responding to the enthusiastic wishes and hopes of all present, that he might be blessed with health to remain many years among them, he thanked them in the most feeling terms for the kind and voluntary assistance they were giving to him by attending on the Sunday to his poor but very dear children, and affectionately assured them that in another and better world a far more valuable reward awaited them than any blessing which he or any human being could bestow. After his retirement which was necessarily early, the song the joke, and an earnest desire on the part of all to contribute to the comfort and enjoyment of each other, were the only characteristic incidents of the evening.”

Walsall Free Press 28/3/1863 - Advert

“A Tea and Card Party will be held at Mr. J. Perry's, the WHITE LION INN, High Street, on Wednesday, April 8th, 1863, when your company will be esteemed.

Tickets 1s 6d each. Tea on the Table at Six o'clock.

Dancing to commence at Seven o'clock.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/6/1863

“Yesterday at the Guildhall, John Perry, landlord of the WHITE LION INN, High Street, was, upon the information of the Superintendent of Police, charged with having his house open during prohibited hours on the morning of Sunday last. The defendant admitted the offence, and promised not to offend again. A previous conviction was proved, and the defendant was fined 5s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 14/11/1863

“Thomas McDonald, for having been drunk and disorderly in the WHITE LION, High Street, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs, or in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

Walsall Free Press 27/2/1864

“J. Perry, landlord of the WHITE LION, for having had his chimney on fire, was fined 6d and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 19/3/1864

“John Perry, landlord of the WHITE HORSE public house, High Street, was charged with having had his house open at twenty minutes past twelve on Saturday night; but, as there was some discrepancy in the evidence as to the exact time, the bench gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt, and dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Gazette 14/7/1865

“Before Messrs. Thos. Hazledine and H. Highway, John Perry landlord of the WHITE LION public house, High Street, was fined 1s and costs, for having had his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday last.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....
John Perry, WHITE LION, High Street, was cautioned.”

Walsall Free Press 9/9/1865

“The Adjourned Licensing day. Before T. Hazledine (Mayor), H. Highway, J. Shannon, W. Ward, S. Stokes, P. Potter, and J. B. Anderson, Esqs.....
The following persons, whose license had been suspended, were cautioned and had their licenses renewed....
Mr. Perry, WHITE LION, High Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/3/1866

“John Perry, landlord of the WHITE LION, High Street, was fined 20s and costs, or in default one months’ imprisonment for obstructing the police in the execution of their duty. It appeared that on the preceding Tuesday night the defendant’s house was open beyond the hours for closing (namely one o’clock); and on Acting-sergeant Child entering for the purpose of warning the landlord, the latter pushed him into the street.
James Cunningham, a man who had been drinking at the WHITE LION on the above occasion, was also sentenced to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or undergo fourteen days’ imprisonment, for a similar offence committed against Police-constable Acton.”

Walsall Free Press 31/3/1866 - Advert

“Independent Order Of Odd Fellows (Manchester Unity). Bescot Bridge Division.
The members of the Bescot Bridge District of the above Order respectfully inform the Public that they intend holding their First Annual Tea Party, Concert, & Ball, in the Guildhall Assembly Room, Walsall, on Easter Monday, April 2nd, 1866.
The entire proceeds of which will be invested in Trust for the Benefit of the Cottage Hospital.
Tickets, 1s 6d each.
Early applications for tickets is requested, as the Committee have limited the number to 500, and no Money will be taken at the door.
Tickets may be obtained at the DRAGON INN, and the WHITE LION INN, High Street; the DOLPHIN INN, George Street; the WHITE HART, Walhouse Street; at 16 Bath Street, the ‘Walsall News’ Office, and of Mr. J. T. King, printer, Stafford Street.”

Walsall Free Press 9/6/1866

“Isaac Walker was charged with having stolen a child’s dress, the property of Mr. John Perry, WHITE LION, High Street.
It appeared that at about a quarter-past one o’clock on Tuesday morning, the prisoner, who had concealed himself in an attic, came downstairs; and Mrs. Perry, observing that his pocket was rather large, ordered him to turn it out. He thereupon made use of most abusive language, and pulled out a child’s dress. He was then given in charge.
The Bench after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to three months’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/6/1868

“John Lane was charged with having, on Saturday last, assaulted a girl named Elizabeth Holden, servant with Mr. Perry, WHITE LION, High Street. As the prisoner expressed regret, and offered to compensate the girl for the injury done, the case was adjourned till Thursday, in order to give the parties an opportunity of coming to an arrangement.
It appeared that the prisoner was ejected from the WHITE LION public-house on the night in question, and again rushed in and seized the girl by the arm, bent it back, and broke it. The girl was then taken to Mr. Shore, surgeon, Digbeth, who found the arm was fractured.”

Walsall Free Press 4/6/1870

“Edward Quinn, was charged with having on the night of Saturday last, been drunk and riotous in High Street, and assaulting Police-sergeant Ogden. The officer was called into the WHITE LION, High Street, about half-past eleven to quell a disturbance, and found prisoner whom he ejected in consequence of his bad conduct. On getting into the street prisoner became very violent, in consequence of which it was necessary to take him into custody, and on being arrested, he kicked the officer. Fined 5s and costs, or in default to be imprisoned for six days.”

1871 Census

43, High Street

[1] John Perry (45), licensed victualler, born Totmonslow, Staffordshire;

[2] Eliza Perry (39), wife, born Ireland;

- [3] Mary Perry (15), daughter, barmaid, born Helderstone, Staffordshire;
- [4] John T. Perry (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza J. Perry (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] George Perry (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Charles Perry (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Thomas Perry (6), son, scholar, born Walsall:

1881 Census

43, High Street

- [1] Reuben B. Mantle (57), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Eliza Mantle (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Mantle (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Susan Mantle (11), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Eliza Lunt (22), general servant, born Wyrley:

Reuben Brown Mantle had a coal merchant's business in Wolverhampton Street, Walsall. He lived at 66, Holtshill Lane, Walsall.

Walsall Advertiser 27/9/1884 - Advert

"Notice. To Property Owners.

R. B. Mantle, of the WHITE LION INN, High Street, Walsall, has, at the request of numerous friends, commenced Rent And Debt Collecting.

His kind patrons will receive every attention and punctuality."

Walsall Observer 7/2/1885

"In Bankruptcy – re Mantle. WHITE LION, High Street, Walsall. To Licensed Victuallers and Others. Important Sale of Public House Fixtures, Fittings, &c.

Messrs Watkins and Powell have received instructions from E. Pritchard Esq, (Official Receiver), to Sell by Auction, on Tesday, February 17th, 1885, at the WHITE LION INN, High Street (entirely without reserve), the whole of the very superior Public House Fixtures & Fittings, including capital Vaults Counter, with mahogany top, paneled front, and drawers; Set of Mahogany Glass and Jug Shelves, with plate glass panels; 8-motion Spirit Fountain; 5-motion Ale Fountain, with machine taps; Ledge-back Seating; Clubroom Forms; Mahogany and other Drinking Tables and other Effects....."

Lichfield Mercury 10/10/1890

"Benjamin Beckett Cooper, landlord of the WHITE LION INN, High Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness of the 20th September. Mr. Cotterell appeared for the defence.

Police-constable Williams was fetched to the defendant's house at twenty minutes to five on the day named, and there found a man named Leonard, who was drunk and creating a disturbance. The man was afterwards sentenced to seven days imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly. His own account was that he went into the house about half-past nine in the morning and remained there drinking all day until the police were fetched.

The defence was that Leonard was not drunk, and the police were fetched because he was disorderly and using violent language. The Bench imposed a fine of 40s and costs."

1891 Census

43, High Street – WHITE LION INN

- [1] Thomas Lawson (29), publican, born Hereford;
- [2] Ellen Lawson (25), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Harry Lawson (5), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/10/1895

"A meeting of Walsall metal polishers was held at the WHITE LION, High Street, on Tuesday evening, relative to a dispute which had arisen at Messrs. Harvey and Co.'s Glebeland works. An arrangement had been come to, it appeared, by which means the men had returned to work, but the settlement, it was intimated, was of a temporary nature pending the return of one of the members of the firm. The meeting was accordingly adjourned for a week."

Walsall Advertiser 29/8/1896

"The annual general licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Mr. Lawson, of the WHITE LION, High Street, appeared for the approval of the Bench to plans for a new smoke-room for his house Approved"

Walsall Advertiser 30/1/1897 - Births

"On the 18th inst, the wife of Mr. Thomas Lawson, WHITE LION HOTEL, High Street, Walsall, of a daughter."

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1899

“R.A.O.B. G. V. Brooke Lodge, WHITE LION, High Street.

The Annual Dinner (cold collation) was held on Thursday week at the lodge house, the worthy and respectable host ‘Sir’ Tom Lawson, putting on the table a magnificent and up-to-date spread, of which about 50 members and friends partook. Immediately after dinner a smoking concert was held under the chairmanship of Mr. G. G. Lamb, when after the usual toast of ‘the Queen and the Royal family’ had been heartily given, the concert proceeded merrily until the allotted time had almost expired. Thanks to the visiting brothers and the artistes, all of whom freely gave their services, terminated the meeting, everyone seeming thoroughly pleased with the evening’s entertainment. The following was the programme: pianoforte solo, M. J. Newey; song, ‘Medley,’ Mr. J. Newey; song, ‘I aint going to tell,’ Mr. W. Griffiths; song, ‘I happened to be there,’ (encore, ‘One thing brought up another’), Mr. Bert Hunt; banjo solo, Mr. George Griffiths; song, ‘Houses in between,’ Mr. Jacques; song, ‘Round goes the wheel,’ Mr. Wilcox; song, ‘Sons of the sea,’ Mr. W. Dilks; song, Mr. Bert Hunt; entertainment (humorous), Mr. W. Pearce.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/6/1900

“At a meeting of the stallholders and travellers of the market of the borough of Walsall held at the WHITE LION, High Street, Mr. J. Osbourne kindly consented to take the chair, and in doing so said they had met together to pay some small tribute towards Mr. John Pascoe. Words from him could not express kindly feeling towards him like those in the testimonial which he read as under: ‘To Mr. John Pascoe. Dear Sir, We, the stallholders of Walsall market and travellers generally, desire the acceptance of this testimonial as a token of respect and high esteem in which you have been held by us during the last eight years you have held the position of toll collector in the borough of Walsall, during which period we have always found you most generous, courteous, and attentive to duty. Wishing you every success in your new sphere, we remain on behalf of the subscribers, J. Cooke, E. Lawrence, J. Lee, J. Pountney, J. H. Barker, G. Brown, J. Burford. June 5th, 1900.’

The Chairman asked Mr. Pascoe to accept this from the committee in recognition of the many acts of kindness shown to them, and also a purse of gold and silver for Mrs. Pascoe, trusting that both might live many years to look upon that testimonial and that the purse might never be empty.....”

Ralph Rogers was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

1901 Census

43, High Street

- [1] Ralph J. Rogers (30), publican, born Shrewsbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Rogers (27), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Ralph H. Rogers (2), son, born Birmingham;
- [4] Alice W. Rogers (7 months), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 15/11/1902

“The Watch Committee.....

During the same month [October] there had been two calls of fire as under: 16th October, Mr. Ralph John Rogers; premises, the WHITE LION, High Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1904

“The annual licensing sessions for the Borough of Walsall were held on Thursday at the Guildhall, and aroused considerable interest. The court was crowded, and many license-holders were unable to obtain admission.....

Notice had been given to 76 license holders to show cause for the renewal of their licenses, evidently as a result of the visits of a sub-committee of magistrates to the licensed premises, the reasons why cause had to be shown being various....

Ralph John Rogers, WHITE LION.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/2/1904

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Walsall was continued on Tuesday, and occupied the whole day.....

WHITE LION, High Street. Mr. Plumtree (instructed by Messrs. Stanley and Jackson) was for the owners and occupier.

The objection was that the house was not required or adapted. Deferred.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/2/1906

“A labourer named Bernard Durkin (42), Freer’s Yard, was charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm upon Thomas Deakin, by kicking him and breaking his leg.

The Chief Constable (Mr. A. Thomson) stated that Mr. Deakin was landlord of the WHITE LION, High Street. Prisoner went into his house on Saturday under the influence of drink. He was refused, and the landlord put him outside. He, however, came back and kicked the landlord, causing a fracture of the leg. He asked for a remand for a week.

Alfred Ensor gave evidence to the effect that he was in the WHITE LION on Saturday, when he saw the landlord eject prisoner. Prisoner afterwards came back while Mr. Deakin was standing on the steps, and struck him in the face, and afterwards kicked him off his legs. He then assisted Mr. Deakin to get up.

Remanded for a week.”

[At Walsall Quarter Sessions, in May, 1906, Bernard Durkin, was found guilty of inflicting grievous bodily harm, and sentenced to nine months’ imprisonment, but it was afterwards reduced to six, because Durkin was unable to find bail and had been remanded in custody.]

Walsall Advertiser 21/12/1907

“With respect to the application for the transfer of the license of the WHITE LION, High Street, from Thomas Deakin to Edward Cope Clarke, the Chief Constable remarked that it was one of the houses in the town which was scheduled for consideration by the licensing magistrates.

A temporary transfer was granted until the annual licensing meeting.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1908

“The annual licensing meeting for the borough took place at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The temporary transfer of the WHITE LION, High Street, was renewed to Edward C. Clarke from Thomas Deakin, an objection by the Bench that the license is unnecessary being postponed.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/2/1908

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held yesterday (Friday), at the Guildhall.....

The Bench proceeded to hear notices of objection which had been taken by the licensing justices to the renewal of six licences. The first was that of the WHITE LION, High Street, owned by Messrs. Rushton, Brewers, occupied by Edward Cope Clarke (to whom a temporary transfer had been granted from Thomas Deakin). Mr. Ashmore, Birmingham, represented the owners and occupiers.

Chief Inspector Ballance gave evidence as to the population of the High Street and Digbeth, and said there were six other licensed houses and one off license in the street.

Cross-examined, Mr. Ballance said the house was well conducted.

Mr. Clarke, tenant, said his takings were about £17 a week. Witness was ‘tied’ except for stout, minerals, and bottled beer. He paid £45 rent, but Mr. Ashmore pointed out that the house was assessed at £60 gross and £50 net.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/6/1908

“A full bench of magistrates sat on Wednesday morning to hear applications for renewals and to fix compensation for closed houses.....

In the case of the WHITE LION, High Street, Mr. Ashford (Birmingham) appeared, and an adjournment was agreed to for the consideration of the terms which the claimants submitted should be awarded.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1908 - Notice

“Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area having decided at their principal meeting on the 3rd day of June, 1908, and the 5th day of June, 1908, to refuse the renewal of the Licenses of premises specified below.....

The WHITE LION, High Street. Alehouse. Licensee Edward Cope Clarke. Registered Owner Rushton’s Brewery Co.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1909

“There was a large attendance at the annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough of Walsall, on Wednesday, at the Guildhall.....

Notices of objections under the compensation clause or otherwise.....

Mr. Ashford of Birmingham, referred to the case of the WHITE LION, High Street, which had been objected to under the compensation clause by the Bench, and had sent to the Inland Revenue Commissioners for compensation. The Inland Revenue Commissioners made an award, but the owners were not satisfied with it, and therefore the owners appealed to the High Court. The matter had been sent down by the High Court, but as it was not probable it could be dispensed with before the 25th of April, there was power for the licensing justices to grant a further provisional license for the owners to keep selling till the matter was decided.

No objection was raised, and the application was granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/5/1909

“In the King’s Bench Division, on Wednesday, Mr. Justice Channell made an order ‘by consent’ in a licensing appeal which appeared on the list as ‘Rushton’s Brewery’ and Mr. E. C. Clarke (re WHITE LION, Walsall).

Mr. Lowenthal said he had the consent of all the parties interested in the licensed premises in question to the making of the order. This was not a case in which the Court had to apportion the amount of compensation. That was fixed at a certain amount and the apportionment would be dealt with at the Quarter Sessions.

His Lordship: What is your application now? – Counsel: That your lordship make an order that the compensation be fixed at £850, and that agreed costs be paid to the Inland Revenue Commissioners.

His Lordship: Is that a settlement of an appeal to the Court from the decision of the Commissioners? – Counsel: Yes.

The order was accordingly made.”

It closed.

WHITE LION

143, (44), Portland Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

James Cleobury, beer retailer, Stafford Street, Walsall
Atkinsons Ltd. [1932]
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 13th April 1939)

LICENSEES

Isaac Lawrence [1845] – [1850]
Joseph Beebee [1858]
William Cooper [1860] – [1865]
Joseph Archer [1868] – [1870]
John Darby [1869] – 1872);
James Cleobury (1872 – 189_);
James Cleobury Jnr (189_ – 1918); [1891]
Elijah Ford (1918 – 1922);
Thomas Moran (1922 – 1923);
George Turpin (1923 – 1929);
John Clarence Summerton (1929 – 1931);
James Kenealy (1931 – 1936);
William Robbins (1936 – 1938);
James Groves (1938 – 1941);
George Edwin Morrell (1941):

NOTES

44, Portland Street [1860], [1862], [1864], [1868], [1870]
143, Portland Street [1872], [1881], [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It had a bowling green.

It had a brewery attached.

William Cooper was also a bridle cutter. [1861]

1861 Census

Portland Street – WHITE LION

- [1] William Cooper (32), victualler and bridle cutter, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Cooper (34), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Cooper (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] George Cooper (10), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Edwin Cooper (4), son, born Walsall;
- [6] William Cooper (3), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 25/6/1864 - Advert

“Found, on Tuesday last, in Portland Street, a Donkey. If not owned by this day week, will be sold to defray expenses. Apply to W. Cooper, WHITE LION, Portland Street.”

Walsall Free Press 24/12/1864

“Samuel Mason was charged with having, on Tuesday last, stolen a canary bird, value 30s, the property of William Cooper, landlord of the WHITE LION public-house, Portland Street. From the evidence it appeared that the prisoner and some others came to prosecutor’s house on Tuesday morning, and after having something to drink, the prisoner went into the back premises, and returned a few minutes later and stated that there had been an accident at Mr. Brewer’s pit. Mr. Cooper and all the other parties in the house, with the exception of a little girl, ran out to see what had occurred. On returning, Mr. Cooper was met by the girl, who told him that the prisoner had stolen one of the best of the canaries. Mr. Cooper thereupon seized the prisoner, who was endeavouring to pass the girl, and took him back to the house, and on searching him found the bird in his right hand pocket. The bench after hearing the evidence sentenced prisoner to one months’ imprisonment.

The prisoner was further charged with having stolen two candlesticks, the property of Emma Noake, of the NEW INN, John Street. Mrs. Noake identified the candlesticks, after which Ann Robert, servant at the NEW INN, said that on Tuesday forenoon, between eleven and twelve o’clock, the prisoner called and had a pint of ale. The candlesticks were in the room when he was there, and were missed after he left.

Police-constable Smallwood said that about three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, he found the prisoner in Mr. Cooper's house, in Portland Street, with the candlesticks in his possession. Prisoner said he had made them about nine months' ago. Mr. Cooper, landlord of the WHITE LION, said the prisoner came to his house and offered the candlesticks for sale. Afterwards, when searching the prisoner for his (witness's) bird, he found the candlesticks in his pockets. The bench after hearing the evidence, sentenced the prisoner to two months' imprisonment."

London Gazette 1/3/1867

"Name and description of the Debtor, as in the Deed – William Cooper, of No.44, Portland-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, innkeeper and Bridle Cutter, first part.

The names and descriptions of the Trustees or other parties to the Deed, not including the Creditors – Joseph Whitehouse, of Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, Spirit Merchant (trustee), second part; and the creditors, third part.

A short statement of the nature of the Deed – Assignment by the debtor to the trustee of all his personal estate and effects for the equal benefit of the creditors; and a release by them to him.

When left for Registration – 28th February, 1867, at half-past three o'clock."

Walsall Free Press 30/3/1867 - Advert

"Sale At The WHITE LION, Portland Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold by Auction, by Mr. John Osbourn, upon the premises as above, on Wednesday next, April 3rd, 1867, (under a Deed of Assignment for the benefit of Creditors), unless previously disposed of by private contract: All the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Ale Casks, 3 large Wrought and Cast Iron Boilers, 5-pull Beer Machine, Gas Fittings, Signs, Licenses, and Possession. Sale to commence at Ten o'clock, under the usual conditions."

Birmingham Daily Post 25/7/1867

"About midnight on Tuesday, a man named Charles Somerfield, a tackmaker, living at Bloxwich, and well known by the soubriquet of 'Master's Gun,' lost his life, at the hands of Henry Beaumont, a shoemaker living in a court in Garden Street.

An inquest on the body of the deceased was opened yesterday afternoon, at the WHITE LION INN, before Mr. A. Fletcher, Borough Coroner. The first witness called was Cornelius Beaumont, son of the prisoner. He deposed that when the row began down stairs his father got out of bed, and went down in his shirt. After witness had been down and had returned to bed, he heard his mother scream several times. About ten minutes after he had gone back to bed his father came up-stairs and put his trousers on. His father's shirt was covered in blood. His mother went out of the house, and returned crying, saying 'He is dying,' not naming anyone. Did not see a knife in his father's hand at all. 'Charley' used to come to his father's house often, and his father had ordered him away scores of times.

John Mallibone, a bit-filer, living in a house opposite Beaumont's, corroborated the previous witness as to the commencement of the fray, the condition of Beaumont when he went downstairs and when he returned, and the terrible scuffling and screaming that took place in the lower room of the house. He also added that after deceased left the house he followed him to the Police Station yard, and found him reclining on the arm of a man named John Schales. When apprehended and told of the nature of the charge, the male prisoner said, 'Well, I am here. I shall not run away.' Mrs. Beaumont, he said, was often out late at night after her husband was in bed, or while he was at work.

James Clibberley gave evidence corroborating the statement given above; and the Coroner then adjourned the enquiry until eleven o'clock this (Thursday) morning, and ordered a post mortem to be made. The affair has caused great excitement in the town, and a large crowd of persons assembled in the vicinity of the inn while the inquest was being held."

[At the adjourned inquest the jury returned a verdict of Justifiable Homicide. The magistrates committed Henry Beaumont and his wife Myra to trial at the Assizes.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/12/1867

"Staffordshire Winter Assizes.

In the case of Myra Beaman, who was committed along with her husband, Henry Beaman, for the manslaughter of Charles Somerfield, at Walsall, on the 23rd of July last, the Grand Jury ignored the bill." [Found not guilty.]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 10/4/1869

"E. Barnett of Walsall hearing that Young Wedge of Willenhall wishes to run him, E. Barnett will make a match if he will give him one yard start in 100, or two in 120 yards for £5 a side. Money ready any night next week at Mr. John Darby's WHITE LION, Portland Street."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1870

"John Darby, landlord of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, was charged with permitting gaming on his premises. Mr. Dale appeared for the defendant. Police-constable Mayo proved the case, stating that he found four men in the house on Saturday playing at 'brag.' The Bench thought that as the men were only playing for coppers, it was too trifling a character to warrant a conviction, and they therefore dismissed it."

1871 Census

143, Portland Road

[1] John Darby (45), bridle cutter, born Walsall;

[2] Mary A. Darby (43), wife, born Marpool, Derby;

- [3] Charlotte Darby (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Daniel Darby (18), son, chain maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Elizabeth Darby (15), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Mary A. Darby (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Arthur Darby (5), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/9/1872

“On Monday night a strong smell of gas was observed in the clubroom of the WHITE LION beerhouse, Portland Street, and the landlord Mr. Cleobury, and a servant girl, thoughtlessly entered the room with a lighted candle. The result was an explosion, by the force of which the window was blown out, and Mr. Cleobury and the girl seriously injured.”

1881 Census

143, Portland Street – WHITE LION

- [1] James Cleobury (45), publican and collar maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Sophia Cleobury (47), wife, born Aldridge;
- [3] Anne Cleobury (19), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] James Cleobury (18), son, collar maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Clara Cleobury (16), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Cleobury (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] John Cleobury (9), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 2/5/1885

“Conservative Association. A ward meeting in connection with this association was held on Monday night, at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, to hear an address by Mr. J. Thompson (central secretary of the Wolverhampton Conservative Association). Mr. J. T. Cottam presided, and in introducing Mr. Thompson to the meeting, congratulated those present that they had mustered in so strong force, and were a thorough working men audience. He proceeded to criticise the policy of the Government at some length, and concluded by urging those present to make their influence felt at the next election. Mr. Thompson, who was most enthusiastically received, then proceeded in an able manner to expose the shortcomings of the Ministry, and in a lengthy address, that was frequently applauded, contrasted the promises with the performance of the present weak administration. Short addresses were also given by Messrs. Billington, Roland Smith, Edmonds, Bird, and H. H. Cannell, and the usual votes of thanks brought a very successful meeting to a close.”

James Cleobury – see also CROWN, Stafford Street.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/1/1891

“There were 31 applications for dancing, singing and music licenses under the provisions of the new Corporation Act. The Bench heard all the applications and then retired to consider their decisions, which turned out to be in accordance with the principle which was laid down at a former Court, viz, that licenses should not be granted to vaults or public rooms, but should be confined to regular and existing clubs and class meetings in club rooms. Licenses were granted to.....
The WHITE LION, Portland Street.”

1891 Census

143, Portland Street

- [1] James Cleobury (28), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha K. Cleobury (23), wife, born Harding [Harden?], Staffordshire;
- [3] James Cleobury (2), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary Jane Archer (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 9/7/1892

“Yesterday the Borough Coroner (Mr. Stanley) held an inquest at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, on the body of Sidney Lowbridge, (11), whose parents live in the same street. Deceased suffered from pains in his head for some months, but on Sunday was well enough to sing in the choir of the Ryecroft Mission Church. On Monday, however, he was taken ill and died before medical aid could be obtained. Verdict, Natural Causes.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/7/1895

“On Monday, George Ross, stirrup-filer, Birmingham Street was drowned at Great Haywood, whither he had gone with a pleasure party from the WHITE LION INN, Portland Street. The sad occurrence, which naturally caused much distress among the party, was due to Ross getting out of depth while bathing.”

Walsall Advertiser 10/6/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. James Cleobury, WHITE LION INN, Portland Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1901

“On Monday afternoon the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley) held an inquest at the WHITE LION INN, Portland Street, concerning the death of Thomas Jones (55), who resided at 4, Railway Row.

Emma Boot, wife of Isaac Boot, 4, Railway Row, said the deceased had lodged at her house for the last two years. Deceased was a journeyman painter, but he had been unable to do any work for twelve months in consequence of suffering from bronchitis. On December 12th deceased went to Dr. Hawley, from whom he procured some medicine, but he failed to get any better. Deceased was shortly afterwards taken much worse; he was advised to have the parish doctor, but he refused. On Thursday, the 10th December, witness went out, leaving her husband, who was nearly totally blind, with deceased, and on returning just after five o’clock deceased was lying on the sofa in the kitchen dead. Witness went to Dr. Hawley for a certificate of deceased’s death, and he told her that he could not give her one that night; and that she was to go again next morning. She was unable to do so, but went at night, when he told her to report the matter to the police.

Isaac Boot, husband of the previous witness, gave corroborative evidence.

Police-sergeant Haycock said that he went to Dr. Hawley on Saturday morning, and asked him if the death of Jones had been reported to him. Dr. Hawley replied that it had, and that a woman came for a certificate of his death on Thursday night, but he told her it was too late that night, and that she was to go again the following morning. The woman did not come that morning but came at night, when he told her to report the matter to the police. Dr. Hawley told witness that the woman’s statement was correct that deceased had received medical treatment from him; there was an entry in his book on December 12th. Deceased was then suffering from a slight cold, and he prescribed for him accordingly. Witness asked Dr. Hawley if he was prepared to give a certificate of the man’s death, and he said he was not; a post mortem would be necessary.

The Coroner here intimated that he had called the last witness because he thought the matter he had spoken of ought to be enquired into, seeing that the doctor seemed to be willing to give a certificate to the witness Boot if she had gone on the Friday morning, and when she next saw the doctor he appeared to have changed his mind, for he told her to report the matter to the police. He thought the matter of sufficient importance to bring before the jury.

Dr. Hawley: Nothing any witness has stated has the slightest suggestion that I promised to give a certificate. (To the Coroner). As to changing my mind you made a statement that there is no justification for it.

A juror said he thought the doctor ought to have told the woman to report the matter to the police the same night.

The Coroner said he did not like it to be said that he made statements for which there was no justification, and as for bearing out what he had said he read portions of the evidence of the witness Boot and Sergeant Haycock. Boot stated the doctor told her it was too late to give her a certificate that night, and that she was to come in the morning. From that he (the Coroner) naturally inferred, and he thought everyone would do so, that the woman was to go next morning to be given a certificate.

Several jurors said they agreed with the Coroner.

Dr. Hawley explained that when the woman first came to his house it was late at night, and he was busy. He did not recollect anything about deceased, and, as he was too busy to refer to his book, it would be impossible to give a certificate. He, therefore, told her to come again next morning. In the meantime he looked up the case, and found that when he saw deceased he was only suffering from a cold. There was no danger at that time, and he could not say what the man died from. He might have been poisoned for all he knew. Under the circumstances he flatly refused to give a certificate.

In answer to Mr. Hawley (foreman of the jury), Dr. Hawley said that the real reason of his delay was to investigate the case, for at the time the woman called he did not recollect anything about the deceased.

The Coroner said he thought the woman ought to have had some medical man in to see deceased, because he did not die suddenly. She would have had plenty of time to have got the parish doctor there.

Mr. Hanbury said he thought the woman had shown a laxity in not going for the certificate again at the time appointed, and perhaps in the ordinary way she might have neglected the deceased.

The Coroner said he did not see how they could get on without an adjournment for a post-mortem.

The inquiry was adjourned for a week.”

[At the adjourned inquest, the jury returned a verdict of Death from Exhaustion.]

1901 Census

143, Portland Street

[1] James Cleobury (38), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Martha K. Cleobury (33), wife, born Walsall;

[3] James Cleobury (12), son, born Walsall;

[4] Elsie Cleobury (8), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Maud Cleobury (6), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Sydney Cleobury (3), son, born Walsall;

[7] Dora Cleobury (5 months), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Bertha Ann Allen (23), barmaid, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/2/1903

“Councillor Oswin was on Saturday evening, at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, elected an hon member of the Widow’s Protection Lodge of the Free Gardeners. Mr. Arthur Medlam was also elected an hon member.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/11/1908

“Bowls. The WHITE LION Club.

There was a crowded attendance at the annual smoking concert and prize distribution in connection with the above club, at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, on Thursday week, the President (Councillor J. F. Addison) being in the chair. After the toast of 'The King,' that of 'The Club' was given by Councillor Warner, who spoke of the great strides the club had made, and the encouragement Mr. Cleobury had given to it.

Mr. Davies (secretary) replied, and the toast 'The President' was honoured on the proposition of Mr. G. Noake, Councillor Addison replying.

Councillor Oswin proposed the toast of 'Donors of Prizes,' and referred to the long history associated with the game of bowls. To this toast Mr. G. Wightman, jun., responded, and complimented Mr. Cleobury on providing so excellent a green in a district where it was evidently so valuable.

Mr. R. A. Cooper, who attended to distribute the prizes said he was sensible of the honour the President had done him in asking him to present the prizes for bowling. He had played at bowls in a very amateurish fashion, but he was pleased to be there because he felt he was a true Britisher as far as sport was concerned. In these days of civilisation, when life became a nervous and trying ordeal, when we tried to do so much in a short time, it was necessary that we should work when we had work, and play when we had leisure hours, and that was perhaps why there was now so much earnestness in sport at the present time, especially in bowls.

After having distributed the prizes (the names of the winners have been given previously in these columns), Mr. Cooper remarked that he did not see one name twice, which he thought reflected great credit on the committee for the way competitions had been managed.

Votes of thanks at the close were passed to Mr. Cooper and Councillor Addison."

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1909

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. James Cleobury, WHITE LION INN, Portland Street."

Walsall Advertiser 3/7/1909

"Loyal Caledonian Corks. A large assembly of members of Lodge 421, met at the Lodge house, WHITE LION, Portland Street, on Monday evening, when the members of Lodge 51, ROSE AND THISTLE, The Pleck were paying a friendly regalia visit. The visitors turned up in good numbers, and the spacious club room was well filled. Two new members were initiated by Bro. A. Smith, Past Captain of the Lodge, and the host of the ROSE AND THISTLE. The usual business of the Lodge being over it was decided to make it an open night. Harmony was freely indulged in, Bros. Knight, Stokes, Hattersley, O'Donnel, Harber, and Paddock entertaining the company in excellent style to the efficient accompaniments of Bros. Osbourn and E. Harber. Bro. George Noakes (Lodge secretary), proposed a vote of thanks to the visitors, complimenting them on their excellent attendance also the ready way they had added to the night's entertainment, at the same time promising that Lodge 421, would return the visit in a short time. He hoped as good a number as the visitors had brought the evening. The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close."

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

"The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends..... WHITE LION, Portland Street. Lodge No.421, of the Loyal Caledonian Corks. This lodge was formed in 1886, is in a flourishing condition, having 138 members, whilst eight new ones were made last week. The dividend for this year amounts to 4s 2d, and one night on card per member, while the reserve fund now stands at £72 18s."

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"A successful whist drive took place on Wednesday evening, at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, for the purpose of establishing a benevolent fund in connection with the Gift Society which is held there. Eighty players sat down, the M.C. being Mr. M. Connelly and the prize winners and donors were as follows: Councillor Addison's prize, Mr. F. Noakes; Mr. W. B. Weightman's prize, Mr. B. Palmer; Mr. S. Davis' prize, Mr. B. James. The prizes were handed to the successful players by Mr. S. Davis."

Walsall Advertiser 9/4/1910

"An enjoyable smoking concert was held on Friday week at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, in connection with the Walsall District of the London and Manchester Assurance Co. Ltd. There was a large muster present, Mr. J. Pritchard, director of the company presiding."

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

"Bowling. The members of the WHITE LION Club, Portland Street, will be sorry to learn that it has been proposed not to open the green this season, as it is not fit to play on. The host (Mr. J. Cleobury) is naturally much disappointed at the result of the decision, as he has spent much time and money in trying to make the green perfect, having had it enlarged and relaid. The inclement weather, however, has been detrimental to the young grass, and it was easily seen that to play on it this season would perhaps mean completely ruining it. The decision, therefore, in the interests of the club, is a wise one."

1911 Census

145, Portland Street

[1] James Cleobury (48), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Martha Kate Cleobury (42), wife, married 24 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[3] James Cleobury (22), son, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[4] Elsie Cleobury (18), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;

- [5] Maud Cleobury (16), daughter, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [6] Sydney Cleobury (13), son, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Dora Cleobury (19), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Bertha Cleobury (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Charlotte Barratt (26), general servant, born Moxley:

Walsall Advertiser 6/5/1911

“Bowling. It is extremely regrettable that the green at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, is still in an unsatisfactory condition. Mr. J. Cleobury, the host, has spent a lot of time and money in an endeavour to improve the green, but despite the fact that it was allowed to be idle all last season, it is still far from perfect, and so very wisely, Mr. Cleobury has decided not to open it this season. The members who form the club are naturally disappointed, but quite see the wisdom of letting the green get thoroughly established before attempting to play on it.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....
WHITE LION, Portland Street, Walsall, £2 6s 4½d.”

James Cleobury was auditor to the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly Society. [1918]

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
WHITE LION, Portland Street. £2 2s 3½d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/2/1918

“The annual licensing sessions.....

A legitimate complaint had been made by working men and others about the publicans refusing to supply beer for out-door consumption. This was a practice which was very much to be deprecated, and the justices hoped it would be altered. In some instances publicans had refused to supply casual customers. That was wrong, as a license-holder was compelled, so long as he had facilities for doing so, to serve anybody with reasonable refreshment who applied for it, and he was not justified in declining to serve other than regular customers. Any cases of such refusal brought before the justices would be seriously regarded. The Bench renewed all the licenses except those of the WHITE LION, Portland Street it was stated that notices had been exhibited by the license holders that no outdoor customers would be served.”

Walsall Observer 11/3/1939

“Asking for the renewal of the licenses of the VILLAGE INN, Windmill Street; and the WHITE LION, Portland Street, Mr. Frank Cooper stated that both houses were owned by Ansell’s or one of their subsidiary companies and if the licenses were renewed he would give an undertaking that within the current licensing year a scheme would be submitted for dealing with the licenses by way of removal of one and the surrender of the other. If that undertaking were fulfilled, the justices would be able to merge two licenses into one, but if the undertaking were not carried out, no opposition would be raised to both licenses being on the ‘object-ed’ list next year.

The two licenses were renewed on this undertaking, as were the licenses of the PHEASANT, Windmill Street; and the FOUNTAIN, Bott Lane; subject to somewhat similar undertakings.

Mr. Cooper, for the owners attached considerable importance to the PHEASANT and if the VILLAGE went there could be no question about the PHEASANT being necessary. If the justices preferred it, however, the brewery company would deal with the PHEASANT and the FOUNTAIN in the same way as the VILLAGE and the WHITE LION, all being in the same ownership.”

1939 Register

143, Portland Street (4 of 6)

- [1] James Groves, date of birth 8/1/1903, manager of public house, married;
- [2] Mabel Groves, dob 10/1/1900, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Donald S. Street, dob 4/3/1923, toolmaker, single;
- [4] Raymond J. Groves, dob 11/2/1928, at school, single;

Walsall Observer 17/2/1940 - Notice

“Licensing Acts, 1910 to 1934.

To The Clerk of the Licensing Justices for the County Borough of Walsall.

To the Chief Constable for the said County Borough.

To the Clerk of the Rating Authority for the said County Borough.

To James Groves, the Licensee of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, in the said County Borough.

To Ansell’s Brewery Ltd, of Park Road, Aston, in the City of Birmingham, the Owners of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, in the said County Borough; and to whom it may concern.

I, Tom Bentley Golby, of 148, Broadway North, in the said Borough of Walsall, Supervisor, Do Hereby Give Notice that it is my intention to apply at the Adjourned Licensing Meeting, to be holden at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Thursday, the 7th day of March, 1940, for the Provisional Grant to me of an Order sanctioning the Removal of the Justices' License now in force and held by the said James Groves, in pursuance of which the said James Groves holds an Excise License to sell by retail at the licensed premises situate in Portland Street, and known by the sign of the WHITE LION, any intoxicating liquor which may be sold under a Publican's License for consumption either on or off premises, from such premises to a certain House and premises proposed to be erected upon land which or part of which forms the premises known as the GRAND THEATRE VAULTS at the corner of Park Street and Station Street, in the said County Borough of Walsall, and of which License when removed I desire to be the holder. And I Hereby Give Notice that Ansell Brewery Company, Ltd, Park Road, Aston, in the city of Birmingham, are the owners of the said premises known at the WHITE LION, Portland Street, aforesaid, and that Grigg and Brettell Ltd, of Holt Street, in the City of Birmingham, are the owners of the said premises at the corner of Park Street and Station Street, Walsall aforesaid. Given under my hand this 13th day of February, 1940.

Tom Bentley Golby.”

Evening Despatch 7/3/1940

“The magistrates also granted an application for the removal of the license of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, to premises proposed to be erected by Ansell's Brewery on the site of the GRAND THEATRE VAULTS, Park Street, which was destroyed by fire last June.”

Walsall Observer 4/5/1940

“Walsall transfer sessions held at the Guildhall on Thursday.....

The justices gave their final sanction for the removal of the seven-days licence of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, to new premises to be built on the site of the GRAND THEATRE VAULTS where there was only a six-day licence.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/2/1941

“‘Apparently Hitler has not driven us to drink yet.’ This comment was made by Mr. T. M. Watson (chief constable) in presenting his report at the annual meeting of the Walsall Licensing Committee on Thursday.....

An application was granted for the renewal of a provisional order for the removal of the license of the WHITE LION, Portland Street, to premises being erected on the site of the GRAND THEATRE VAULTS, Park Street.”

It closed on 30th April 1941.

The license was removed to the OLD GRAND.

Walsall Observer 7/6/1941

“For many years well known in the licensed trade in Walsall, Mr. James Cleobury died at his house, ‘Mortimer’, in Lichfield Road, on Monday. He was in his seventy-ninth year and had been in failing health for about twelve months. Mr. Cleobury succeeded his father as licensee of the WHITE LION INN, Portland Street and as owner of a home brewery which provided supplies for several houses belonging to him. When he retired in 1918 his trade interests were sold off to Atkinsons Brewery Ltd. For a number of years he was President of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society. He was a keen follower of many forms of sport, but took an active part only in bowling (at the WHITE LION club at one time prominent in the league and competition play) and in cycling. He was one of the riders of the quaint ‘penny-farthing’ machine and took up the pastime again in his years of retirement. He was a member of many friendly societies' lodges which made his house their headquarters. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters. The eldest son is in Canada, and the younger, Flight-Lieutenant Sidney Cleobury, who before the war was in business as an auctioneer and estate agent at Torquay, is now again with the RAF, with which he served in the last war. The funeral took place yesterday at Rushall Parish Church, among those attending being representatives of the Licensed Victuallers' Society, from which was also a wreath.”

WHITE LION

150, (106), (107), Sandwell Street / (15), Little London, Caldmore, WALSALL

OWNERS

C. H. Adams, Fillongly Lodge, near Coventry
Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd. [1880]
Showells Brewery Co. Ltd. [1897], [1912]
Ind Coope and Allsopp Ltd. (leased from 29th June 1935)
Ansell Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960)
Punch Taverns [2005], [2011]

Admiral Taverns

LICENSEES

[William Porter \[1813\]](#)
 Elizabeth Porter [1818]
 William Porter [1831] – [1835]
 William Hampton [1841] – [1842]
 Charles Palmer [1845] – [1845]
 Mrs. Nancy Palmer [1849] – [1853]
 Thomas Holman [1854]
 Richard Henry Baldwin [1857] – [1858]
 William Ison [1860] – [1861]
 Charles Pinnegar [1862] – [1870]
 Henry Purchase [1871] – [1873];
 George Porter [1881] – 1887;
 James Mills (1887 – 1897);
 Louis Ford (1897 – 1902);
 Thomas William Taylor (1902 – 1904);
 Alexander Mann (1904 – 1905);
 Arthur Sims (1905 – 1906);
 Job Flewitt Piper (1906 – 1907); manager
 Joseph Wilson (1907 – 1913); manager
 William Bramner (1913 – 1921);
 Arthur Standley (1921 – 1932);
 Herbert Williams (1932 – 1937);
 Harry Fabian Lister (1937 – 1938);
 George Sidwell (1938 – 1940);
 William John Taylor (1940);
 Marjorie Taylor (1940 – 1941);
 James Hanstock (1941 – 1948);
 Albert James (1948 – 1950);
 Joseph Sydney Edward Dugmore (1950 – 1952);
 Ronald Stanley Andrews (1952 – 1953);
 Alexander Lewis Watkins (1953 – 1955);
 Jack Lewis (1955 – 1957);
 Arthur John Hill (1957 – 1972)
 Bernard Derrick (1985 – [1994])
 Anthony Inns [] – 2001)
 Paul Lindley [2004]
 Paul Williams and Colin Joesbury (2006 – [2007])
 Lee and Kath [2010]
 Jason and Hannah [2011]
 James Paddock [2013]
 Colin Joesbury (2014 – [2015])

NOTES

Little London [1813], [1858], [1868]
 15, Little London [1861], [1864], [1865], [1871]
 107, Sandwell Street [1872]
 106, Sandwell Street [1891], [1896]
 150, Sandwell Street [1901], [1939], [2005]

LION [1813]

It was locally listed.

William Porter, victualler and spur-buckle maker, Tulbrook Road, or Little London. Horse and gig to hire. [1813]

‘The History and Directory of Walsall’ by Thomas Pearce 1813

“Number of Lodges, Clubs, and Benefit Societies, at Walsall Additional Friendly Societies, known by the name of Gift Societies.

A Gift, or permanent fund, held at LION, Little London.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1831 - Married

“On Wednesday last, at Walsall, Mr. Samuel Glover, ironfounder, of that place, to Miss Elizabeth Porter, daughter of Mr. William Porter, of the WHITE LION, Little London.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1833 - Died

“On Monday last, aged 46, Ann, wife of Mr. William Porter, of the WHITE LION INN, Little London, foreign of Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/3/1835 - Married

“On Wednesday last, at Walsall, by the Rev. J. Baron, vicar, Mr. William Porter, of the WHITE LION, Little London, to Miss Ann Foster, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/9/1841

“At the Guildhall, on Wednesday, William Hampton, of the WHITE LION, Little London, and Omer Stokes, of the LEATHER CUTTERS ARMS, Duncalf Street, were each convicted in the mitigated penalty of £50 with forfeiture of brewing vessels, for using grains of paradise in the preparation of their beer. It was intimated to the defendants that they were at liberty of memorialize the bora of excise in London to obtain a further mitigation of the fine.”

Charles Palmer was also a saddle nail maker. [1845]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/9/1845 - Died

“On the 1st instant, Mr. Charles Palmer, of the WHITE LION INN, Little London, near Walsall, aged 45.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/11/1848

“On Thursday, at the WHITE LION, Little London, near Walsall, Mr. Cotterell held an inquest upon the body of John Broadhurst, who was killed that morning by the explosion of a gun, which he dragged through a hedge while out shooting. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Nancy Palmer = Nanny Palmer

She was also a saddle nail plater. [1849], [1851]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/10/1853

“A rat match will take place on Monday, at Mrs. Palmer's, WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall, when Mr. Joseph Bagnall's black and tan bitch Turpin is to have 20 rats against Mr. Thomas Brown's bitch Myrtle. Bagnall's bitch is limited to 13lb weight, and to have rats for pounds. The match is for £5 a side.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/4/1854

“John Birch, having received forfeit from Roper, is anxious to fly his blue cock Goldfinder against Roper's black cock Harry Broom, from Coventry Station, for £5 or £10 a side, or any other pigeon within three miles of Walsall, on Monday next; or Birch will accommodate Roper on his own terms, for six days together, for £1 each day, from the same place. Money always ready at Thomas Holman's, WHITE LION, Little London.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1854

“On Wednesday Thomas Holman, landlord of the WHITE LION, Little London, was fined 30s and costs for keeping his house open on Sunday week during prohibited hours by the recent Act. It was the second offence, and the Bench warned him that its repetition would lead to the suspension of his license.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/3/1856 - Advert

“Walsall. Capital Old-Established Road-Side Inn and Tea Gardens, The WHITE LION, Little London, half a mile from the centre of town.

Mr. W. H. Flanagan is instructed by the Proprietor to submit for unreserved sale by auction, in the premises, on Friday and Saturday next, March 7 and 8 – the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession; together with the Capital Household Furniture, Public House Fixtures and Fittings, Brewing Vessels, prime Ale Casks, wood Shed and Arbour, quantity of Beech and other Timber, useful Gig, Superior Set of Harness, quantity of choice Plants and Shrubs, Cucumber and Forcing Frames, and numerous other Effects, at the well-known place of resort.

This capital Licensed Victuallers' House is desirably situated on the main road from Walsall to West Bromwich, and is much frequented by pleasure parties, having extensive and very productive Pleasure and other Gardens attached, on which a considerable sum had been recently expended. There is also a Croft of one Acre and a half of excellent pasture Land adjoining. The rent and payments are moderate.

The Premises are commodious and very convenient, and an excellent and fast-improving business has been hitherto done, which may be further increased by an enterprising couple.

Sale to commence each day at eleven o'clock.

The Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession will be offered the first lot.

Further particulars, with catalogues may be had of the Auctioneer, at his Offices and General Seed Warehouse, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 29/3/1857 - Advert

“Baldwin’s Skittle Alley, WHITE LION INN, Little London, Walsall,

Mr. Baldwin respectfully announces that the Opening of the above well-known Skittle Alley – the largest and best in the Midland Counties – will be opened for the Season on Easter Monday.

A Dinner will be provided for the occasion. Arrangements have been made for several important matches.

Dinner on the table at Two o’clock. Tickets, 1s each.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/6/1857

“A match came off on Whit-Monday between John Penn’s dun cock Wonder of Wednesbury and John Birch’s blue cock Goldfinder of Walsall, for £5 a side, from Rugby, distance 40 miles, which was won easy by Goldfinder. Birch having heard of Smith’s challenge, will make a match against his bird for £10 or £15 aside, and give him one minute start from the same place; if this does not suit Smith, any other fancier in Walsall can be accommodated, from eight miles to 50, on the London Road, for the same sum, or John Charley of Wolverhampton from Weedon if he will either send his bird four miles beyond Weedon or allow four minutes for the distance to fly between West Bromwich and Walsall. Money ready any night at Richard Baldwin’s, WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 5/12/1857

“The attention of the court was occupied a considerable time to-day in investigating charges brought against publicans for allowing gaming in their houses, contrary to the tenor of their licenses, the information in each case was laid by Police-constable Batchellor.....

Mr. R. H. Baldwin, of the WHITE LION, Little London, was next charged with the same offence [allowing gaming for money] alleged to be committed on Tuesday, the 24th instant. The officer said he visited the defendant’s house on the night in question, and found four men playing at cards for a quart of ale, which was brought in by the boy. Mr. Baldwin was not at home at the time, neither did he see him while he remained. Mr. Duignan in this case contended that there was no proof of the landlord’s knowingly suffering gaming, and the police might get every victualler in the town fined by engaging two men to go to a house and play at cards to effect their purpose. This case was also dismissed.”

London Gazette 1/4/1859

“Whereas a Petition of Thomas Holman, formerly of the WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Brewer, and Retailer of Beer, at the same time renting a house and premises, and carrying out business at Ablewell-street, Walsall aforesaid, as a Saddle Tree Maker, and during part of the time underletting portion of the last-named house, then and now of No.70, Ablewell-street, Walsall aforesaid, Saddle Tree Maker, and for about six months during the residence last aforesaid, occupying a sleeping apartment in Pool-street, Walsall aforesaid, his wife during the same time occupying partly furnished apartments at the Lozells, Handsworth, in the said county, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Thomas Holman, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Thomas Holman is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 21st of April instant, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors’ assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said Thomas Holman, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Frederick Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1859 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, in consequence of the proprietor retiring from the business, that well-accustomed roadside Inn, called the WHITE LION, Little London, in the Foreign of Walsall, with tastefully laid out Tea and Pleasure gardens, fist-rate Skittle Alley, and every convenience for carrying on the public business. Stock, fixtures, &c, to be taken at a valuation.

For particulars, apply to John Osbourn, Auctioneer, &c, 52, Lower Hall Street, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/6/1859 - Advert

“WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall.

Sale of Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Stock of Ale and Spirits, excellent Bagatelle Board and Effects.

By John Osbourn, Tomorrow (Thursday), June 16th, 1859.”

1861 Census

15, Little London

[1] William Ison (62), victualler, born Arley, Warwickshire;

[2] Ann Ison (48), wife, born Oxfordshire:

Charles Pinnegar = Chares Pennegar = Chares Pinniger = Chares Piniger = Charles Pumigar

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/8/1863

“Charles Pinniger, victualler, was charged with having, on Sunday had his house open during prohibited hours. Police-constable Childs, said, he visited the WHITE LION public house, Little London, kept by the defendant, and found twenty men in the back premises, one of whom had a pint cup with malt liquor in it. He went in the club room, and there found several men, and discovered a cup with liquor in it. Defendant, who admitted the charge, was fined 2s 6d and costs

Walsall Free Press 9/7/1864

“James Walters was charged with having, on Monday night last, assaulted Joseph Jeffries, from whose evidence it appeared that on the night in question, he was in the WHITE LION, Little London, when defendant, who was present, called complainant out. On getting outside, defendant said, ‘I have owed you a grudge for some time,’ and knocked complainant down, and kicked him. Mr. Cranch, who appeared for the defendant, cross-examined the complainant at some length, but nothing was elicited to shake his evidence in chief, which was corroborated by a young man named Kent.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to a pay a fine of 6d and costs; or, in default, be imprisoned for seven days.”

Walsall Free Press 8/7/1865

“Charles Piniger, landlord of the WHITE LION, Little London, was charged with having, on Sunday morning last, had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours. From the evidence of Police-constable Herdsman it appeared that, about half-past eleven o’clock on the morning of the day in question, he saw a woman coming from the defendant’s yard with malt liquor. On cross-examination by Mr. Duignan, who appeared for the defendant, the officer said that the yard communicated with another house besides the defendant’s. Mr. Duignan contended that the woman who had been seen with the liquor should have been summoned, as it was as likely she had got the liquor from the other house as from the defendant’s. The Bench, under these circumstances, dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/5/1867 - Advert

“For Sale, handsome Gig, nearly new, suitable for 13 hand pony.
Apply at the WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/7/1868

“At the Police Court, on Monday, before S. Stephens, J. Brewer, jun., J. Shannon, G. B. Anderson, Esqs, Charles Pumigar, landlord of the WHITE LION INN, Little London, was summoned for having had his house open for the sale of liquors during prohibited hours. Mr. Glover appeared on behalf of the defendant.

Police-constable Pearson stated that on Sunday week he visited the defendant’s house, but could not get admittance. He went to the window and looked in, and then he saw defendant carrying some malt liquor from the machine and heard his wife say, ‘Be careful, the police are at the window.’ Three men were then let out of the side door of the house and the defendant put the liquor he was carrying under the machine and admitted the witness. The Magistrates imposed a fine of 10s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/10/1869

“On Monday Mr. A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE LION INN, Caldmore, touching the death of Wm. Aldridge, aged 36, a bricklayer, who died at his residence in Bescot Street, on the preceding Friday, from the effect of injuries which he received on the Thursday before, owing to the brickwork of a puddling furnace, which he was repairing at the works of Messrs. Bissel and Keay, giving way, and bringing down on him a heavy iron plate. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Walsall Free Press 23/4/1870 - Advert

“To Be let, and may be entered upon immediately, the Old-licensed Road-side Inn, the WHITE LION, situate in Little London, in the Foreign of Walsall, and fronting the road leading from Walsall to Westbromwich; together with the tastefully laid-out Gardens at the back of the same. The Stock (which is low) and Fixtures to be taken at a Valuation; declining health is the cause for leaving. For particulars apply to John Osbourn, Auctioneer and Appraiser, 52, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.”

Henry Purchase = Henry Pinchard

1871 Census

15, Little London – WHITE LION

[1] Henry Purchase (30), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Mary A. Purchase (29), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alice Purchase (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Joseph Purchase (1), son, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph Purchase (79), father, widower, freehold householder, born Brewdwood [Brewood?]:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1871

“Yesterday, at the Guildhall, Henry Pinchard, of the WHITE LION INN, Little London, was fined 20s and costs for permitting drunkenness in his house.”

Henry Purchase, beer retailer, 107, Sandwell Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 19/11/1874

“On Tuesday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE LION, Little London, on the body of George Henry Timmins, clerk and cashier, of the same locality. On Saturday the deceased was seized with a violent fit of coughing while at the warehouse of his employers, Messrs. Hill, factors, Lichfield Street. Blood began to flow from his mouth freely, and before medical aid could be procured he had ceased to exist. The jury found that death had resulted from the bursting of a blood vessel.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/4/1877

“On Tuesday, Mr. Fletcher, coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE LION, Little London, on the body of William Palmer, aged 20, the son of Mrs. Mary Parkes, shopkeeper, in the same neighbourhood. On the 23rd of March the deceased was admitted into Burntwood Asylum, he having been certified of unsound mind by Mr. Hubbard, surgeon. On the 9th of April his mother received a letter from Dr. Davis, stating that deceased might return home on his mother getting permission of the committee and signing a guarantee that every care should be taken of him, and on the 16th she complied with these conditions, and the deceased returned with her. After that he appeared very strange in his manner, and after dinner on Sunday, taking advantage of his being left alone in the house, he procured a carving knife from the shop, and going into the cellar, inflicted a fearful wound in his throat, which must have caused death almost immediately. In December last he attempted to cut his throat while serving as a soldier. A verdict of Suicide whist of Unsound Mind was returned.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Woodwork on the outside WHITE LION INN, Little London.....
All the above are situate in the town of Walsall.
Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

Sandwell Street – WHITE LION

- [1] George Porter (58), licensed victualler and gardener, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary Porter (53), wife, born Corvedale, Staffordshire;
- [3] Ellen Porter (18), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] George Barker (6), grandson, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William H. Tombs (24), boarder, brown saddler, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah A. Tombs (21), boarder, born Walsall;
- [7] William H. Tombs (1), boarder, born Walsall;
- [8] George Tombs (4 months), boarder, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 21/2/1882 - Advert

“Garden To Let, well stocked with Fruit Trees.
Apply to Mr. Porter, WHITE LION, Little London, Walsall.”

1891 Census

106, Sandwell Street

- [1] James Mills (58), bit maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Alice Mills (45), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] James Mills (20), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Mills (18), son, harness maker’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Agnes Mills (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Will Mills (14), black saddler’s apprentice, born Walsall;
- [7] Katherine Mills (12), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Alice Mills (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Harry Mills (3), son, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/6/1893

“On Thursday Mr. T. H. Stanley, coroner, held an inquest at the WHITE LION INN, Little London, touching the deaths of Alice Hyslop (30), and her son William Norman Hyslop, six months, wife and child of Mr. William Hyslop, schoolmaster, Greenhill Villa, Highgate. The evidence was to the effect that Mrs. Hyslop, since her last confinement in November, had been subject to delusions and melancholia, but had lately been supposed to be better. On Tuesday, while her husband was at dinner, she sent her servant girl, Florence Stackhouse, for a bottle of Calvert’s carbolic acid, and when the girl returned gave her permission to go to her house at Pelsall. Meanwhile Mr. Hyslop left for his duties at Tantarra Street Board Schools, bidding his wife goodbye as was his custom, not noticing that there was anything unusual in her appearance and demeanour. At about three o’clock his little daughter fetched him from the school, saying her mother had taken something and was ill, and when he reached home he found the mother and child on the bed in an unconscious state. Dr. Phillips, who had been called for by him on the way home, said they did all they could for the relief of the sufferers, but from the first it was apparent the there was no hope of recovery, and the mother and child died in the course of the afternoon. In the room was a tea-cup which had contained carbolic acid and also a spoon containing a little sugar and acid, indicating that had been used to administer the poison to the infant. The little girl’s statement was that her mother wanted her to drink out of the cup, but that she would not do so, not liking the smell and appearance of the mixture, and having taken some herself lay down on the bed. Soon afterwards she tried to get up but fell on the floor, and witness ran and fetched Mrs. Bates, a neighbour.

Mrs. Bates testified that Mr. Hyslop and his wife had lived very happily together.

The jury made some comments on the ease with which carbolic acid could be got, and returned verdicts that the mother took poison whilst of unsound mind, and that whilst of unsound mind she administered poison to the child also, this form being adopted to avoid the introduction of the words 'wilful murder'."

Walsall Advertiser 17/8/1895

"Athletic News And Notes.....

I welcome with relief some items of information to hand from the new secretary of Walsall Football Club, Mr. A. E. Pardoe..... Season Tickets, 4s 6d and 7s 6d are now ready, and can be obtained at the STORK HOTEL, Mr. Watkins's Restaurant, Mr. A. T. Taylor's (Digbeth), Mr. James Mills's (WHITE LION, Sandwell Street), Mr. Brown (BAKERS INN, Caldmore Green), Mr. Ricketts (West Bromwich Road), and Mr. Tandy's (Park Street), and from any of the members of the committee or the hon. secretary."

Walsall Advertiser 30/11/1895

"Homing Pigeon Flying. Mr. James Mills, of the WHITE LION INN, Little London, has now received the diplomas and prizes won by him in the races for old birds arranged by the Midlands Flying Club during the present year. They are as follows: Lymington, 127 miles, velocity, 1,140 yards per minute, number of birds competing, 340; Mr. Mills takes the 6th, 9th, 14th and 15th prizes. Cherbourg (France), 204 miles, velocity 837 yards per minute; number of birds competing, 300; 1st, 5th, 7th, 11th and 12th prizes. St. Malo (France), 274 miles, velocity 966 yards per minute; number of birds competing, 140; 17th, 18th and 19th prizes; Nantes (France), 374 miles, velocity, 1,437 yards per minute; number of birds competing, 73; 1st, 3rd, 4th and 5th prizes. Mr. Mills also gains the first prize for the best average velocity, viz, 1,095 yards per minute, in the old birds races during the year 1895 – a feat he also accomplished during the year 1894, thus establishing a record which but rarely falls to a lot of any fancier in a club of the standing and membership of the Midland Flying Club, upon whose books may be found the names of the most known fanciers of the Midland Counties. In these races the competition is always of the keenest character, and the honour of the first prize is considered very great, it being in fact the 'Blue Riband' of the club. In addition to above distinctions, Mr. Mills has also gained the third prize in the Winchester race, the first prize from Lymington, and the first prize from Cherbourg in connection with the West Bromwich Homing Society's old bird races during the year 1895."

Walsall Advertiser 9/1/1897

"Application was made by Mr. Pearman-Smith for the approval of the Bench to certain plans for the rebuilding of the WHITE LION public-house, Sandwell Street, belonging to Messrs. Showell and Sons. A great public improvement would be made, and altogether some 500 square yards of land in the vicinity of the house were being given up. The building area of the house would not be increased for drinking purposes.

The magistrates ultimately said they were not opposed to the application, but on the contrary approved it. It was, however, such an important undertaking that it should be made at the Annual Licensing Sessions, and they did not wish their expression of opinion in any way to prejudice the matter."

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1898

"Walsall Town Council. Street Committee.....

An application has been made by Showell's Brewery Co. Limited for your committee to lay flags opposite the WHITE LION HOTEL, Little London, instead of the blue bricks upon the company paying one-half the cost, but your committee are unable to assent thereto."

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

"The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Alehouses.....

Louis Ford, WHITE LION, served 30 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution."

Lichfield Mercury 10/10/1899 - Advert

"General wanted, aged 20, strong; no washing; one in family; Man kept.

Apply, WHITE LION, Sandwell Street, Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/1/1900

"Football.....

The Walsall players have been carefully trained, under the personal supervision of Mr. Louis Ford, whose experience in such matters is a point not to be lost sight of. They have made Mr. Ford's (the WHITE LION, Sandwell Street) their headquarters, and being on the outskirts of town, have been able to indulge in some good country walks whenever the weather has been favourable.....”

1901 Census

150, Sandwell Street – WHITE LION HOTEL

- [1] Louis Ford (38), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ada S. Ford (34), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Louis G. Ford (8), son, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Clara A. Spinks (40), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 14/9/1901

“Harry Smith (56), labourer, of 147, Whitehall Street, was charged with stealing a spirit glass, value 3d, from the WHITE LION VAULTS, Little London, the property of Louis Ford. Robert Richardson, barman, in the employ of the prosecutor, stated that whilst he was cleaning the windows at the WHITE LION on Friday afternoon he saw the prisoner take a glass from the counter and put it into his trouser pocket. Witness went into the house to tell Mr. Ford, and prisoner left. Witness went after him and brought him back to the house, and when asked how he accounted for the glass in his possession he said the glass slipped off the counter into his pocket. The man was perfectly sober.

Louis Ford stated that when he spoke to the man about the matter he said he had picked the glass up from the sawdust on the floor, and he thought it was of no use.

Prisoner pleaded guilty, and consideration of his having been in custody since Friday the Magistrates sentenced him to a days’ imprisonment.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/8/1907

“With tragic suddenness the death took place, shortly after 11 o’clock on Tuesday, of Mr. Job Flewitt Piper, the manager of the WHITE LION HOTEL, Little London, at the age of 52. Deceased occasionally suffered from heart trouble, but he seemed quite in his normal health. During Tuesday he had been to Birmingham on business, and was at work attending to his customers until shortly before closing time. Soon afterwards he suddenly fell down in his sitting room, and medical aid was immediately summoned, only, however, to find that life was extinct. Deceased, who hails from Wednesbury, was well known and respected in the licensing trade.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/12/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.

New Members..... Joseph Wilson, WHITE LION HOTEL, Sandwell Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1909

“On Monday, a very pleasant evening was spent at the WHITE LION HOTEL, Little London, when a supper was held on behalf of the Sick and Dividend Society, which was presided over by Councillor P. Bull, JP, who was supported by Councillor Shelley. About sixty members and friends sat down to an excellent repast provided by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson. The rest of the evening was occupied with a very enjoyable smoking concert, the artistes contributing to the programme being Mr. C. Richardson (tenor), Mr. J. Wilson (tenor), Mr. A. Spiller (baritone), Mr. Guest (humourist), and Master Poulton (violin). Mr. J. Toon ably accompanied.”

1911 Census

Sandwell Street – WHITE LION HOTEL

- [1] Joseph Wilson (47), currier and hotel manager, born Walsall;
- [2] Alice Wilson (46), wife, married 24 years, assisting in the business, born Warwick;
- [3] Joseph Wilson (23), son, assistant hotel manager, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Norman Wilson (3), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Florrie E. Derricott (22), general servant, born Brownhills:

Walsall Advertiser 5/8/1911

“There was a large attendance of delegates at the quarterly meeting of the Walsall District of the Grand Independent Order of Loyal Caledonian Corks.....

Permission has been granted for the removal of lodge 497 from the NEW INNS to the WHITE LION, Sandwell Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1912

“Through the generosity of Mr. E. A. Roberts (manager of Showell’s Brewery Company) a most successful smoking concert was given to Lodge 497 of the Loyal Caledonian Corks at the WHITE LION, Sandwell Street, on Tuesday evening. The was a capital attendance, over which Mr. Roberts presided.....”

Walsall Advertiser 29/9/1912

“The opening concert in connection with the Caldmore Old Boys’ Musical Society was held at headquarters, the WHITE LION HOTEL, Sandwell Street, on Monday evening, Mr. A. Roberts presided.....”

Walsall Advertiser 30/8/1913

“The best wishes of all local cricket enthusiasts will be extended to Brammer, who is about to enter the bounds of matrimony for the second time. The wedding is to take place on Monday week, Sept 8th, at St. Matthew’s Church, I believe, and henceforth Mr. and Mrs. Brammer will be the host and hostess of the WHITE LION, Sandwell Street.”

William Brammer was a professional cricketer at Walsall Cricket Club.

Walsall Advertiser 27/9/1913

“On Monday evening about fifty patrons and friends assembled at the WHITE LION HOTEL, Sandwell Street, for the purpose of making a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, who have managed the house for the last six years, and are now retiring into private life owing to the indifferent health of Mrs. Wilson. The presentation took the form of a handsome illuminated address, and to Mr. Wilson, a Peterson’s patent pipe and case from the members of the Sick and Dividend Society of which he had been their treasurer.

The Chairman (Mr. Bucknell) expressed his pleasure in performing that task and his high regard for Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. While regretting their leaving, he hoped that Mrs. Wilson would soon recruit her health and that he should see them in business again. In asking their acceptance of the gifts, he hoped they would be spared many years, and that it would bring the happiness to think of the many friends they had made. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Wilson, who was given a rousing reception, said the gifts had taken them by surprise, and he assured the company that they would treasure them as long as they lived. He thanked them most sincerely on behalf of his wife and himself for the splendid recognition of their services during their six years amongst them.

The rest of the evening was spent in harmony, the following being the programme: Pianoforte solo, Mr. Toon; song, Mr. James; song, Mr. Meeson; step dance, Mr. Davis; comic song, Mr. James; song, Mr. Meeson; song, Mr. James. Mr. Toon ably officiated at the piano. The National Anthem closed an enjoyable evening.”

Walsall Observer 13/1/1917 - Advert

“Borough Of Walsall. Allotments.

Meetings will be held to further the Allotment Movement next week as follows:

Monday. West Bromwich Road Allotments. At WHITE LION HOTEL, Little London. Councillor Evans, Chairman.....

All Meetings at 8pm. If you want Allotments attend. Now is the time to see to it. Do not delay, as you want to get on the land at once.”

Walsall Observer 24/3/1917 - Advert

“National Service. To All Men between 18 and 61 years of age.

If You Believe. That this war is not being run for your personal advantage; or That your ease and comfort are not of more importance than the winning of the War; or That the cause of Freedom is worthy of some sacrifice on your part, as well as on the part of men on the field. Then Enrol To-Day.

Public Meetings Will be held as follows, at Eight o’clock.

Monday, March 26th – WHITE LION, Little London. Chairman – Councillor Enoch Evans.

Tuesday, March 27th – HOPE AND ANCHOR, Pleck Road. Chairman – Councillor Joseph Thickett.

Wednesday, March 28th – Tantarra Street Schools. Chairman – Dr. F. Sydenham.

Thursday, March 29th – Mass Meeting In Town Hall.

Speakers – Sir S. A. Cooper, Bart, MP (Assistant Director of Enrolment), Mr. Barnett Kenyon, MP, Chesterfield Division, Mr. F. T. Cozens (Sub Commissioner of National Service). Chairman – His Worship the Mayor.

Musical Programme arranged by Councillor E. H. Ingram, and Organ Recital by Mr. T. W. North.

Questions are invited at each meeting. Come and ask. Everyone should Enrol.

Make the Voluntary System a Success This Time.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHITE LION, Sandwell Street. £1 11s 10d.”

Walsall Observer 10/6/1939 - Deaths

“In loving memory of Keziah, wife of George Sidwell, of the WHITE LION HOTEL, Sandwell Street, aged 61. At rest.

Mr. G. Sidwell and Daughter, of the WHITE LION HOTEL, Sandwell Street, wish to thank Customers and Friends for sympathy extended to them in their bereavement; they also wish to thank Captain Page of the Salvation Army, for prayers for Mrs. Sidwell; thanks are also extended to the WHITE LION Darts Club, Customers and others for beautiful flowers; also Doctors and Nurses of the Manor Hospital, for their kindness.”

1939 Register

150, Sandwell Street

[1] George Sidwell, date of birth 3/5/1864, manager, licensee, widowed:

Walsall Observer 14/10/1939 - Advert

“Bar General, over 21, to live in, good home.

WHITE LION, Sandwell Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 4/5/1940

“Walsall transfer sessions held at the Guildhall on Thursday.....

WHITE LION, Little London, from the name of the late William John Taylor to his widow, Marjorie Taylor.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WHITE LION INN, Sandwell Street. £0 6s 9d.”

Arthur Hill died in 1972.

Bernard Derrick was married to Judith.

Sandwell Evening Mail 4/6/1994

“Down Your Local. WHITE LION, Walsall.

Beware of having a pint at the WHITE LION in Sandwell Street – you could end up being converted to God! Landlord Bernard Derrick has struck an informal ‘deal’ with his local man of the cloth. Father Roger Miller agreed to send his flock at St. Michael’s and All Angels to Bernard’s pub – and Bernard returned the favour by encouraging his customers to frequent their local church. ‘You could say it’s a mutually agreeable arrangement,’ says Bernard. ‘Father Miller is one of my regulars and we even hosted his annual garden party in our beer garden last week. I am only too pleased to help boost attendances at his church and I get quite a few of his flock drinking here. You could say we’re both doing rather well out of our arrangement! I know for a fact there are quite a few of my ‘congregation’ who’d never set foot in a church who now attend St. Michael’s.’

It’s a wonderfully social and cosmopolitan pub where you are as likely to rub shoulders with a vicar or barrister as with a refuse collector – and all feel equally at home. That’s largely thanks to Bernard and his wife Judy who are among the most popular and successful licensees in the town. Among Bernard’s most recent achievements was being voted runner-up the last four years in the national Cellarman of the Year competition and coming runner-up in this year’s CAMRA Walsall Pub of the Year. As a master cellarman for brewers Ansells, he reports weekly to them on the quality of their beers and the brewing giant also send trainee landlords to Bernard for him to show them the ropes of the pub trade.

It’s been a case of role reversal since Bernard and Judy took over the WHITE LION, their first and only pub, nine years ago.

Bernard, who was born into a military family, used to do the accounts in the officer’s mess during his time in the Army, while his wife worked as a pub barmaid. Nowadays, Bernard looks after the ‘practical’ side of things, such as the stock, staff and the cellar, while Judy, whose mother Ester used to work at the WHITE LION, takes care of the pub’s accounts and paperwork.

There has, reputedly, been a pub on the site since the 1500s although the present building dates from about 1900 when it was built to cater for Walsall FC who owned land in this quaint and characterful area before moving to Fellows Park. Bernard explains, ‘The club planned to build a stadium on fields about 100 yards away but nothing came of it. It was built as a sort of social club for Walsall supporters which explains why it is so large.’

The pub has retained its sporting links – there are football and cricket teams, seven pool teams in addition to two quiz teams, all raising money for charity.....”

Anthony Inns was married to Joy.

See also WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street.

[2017]

Express & Star 17/3/2022

“Determined residents have launched a campaign to get a historic Walsall pub reopened and developed into a community hub.

The WHITE LION in Sandwell Street, Caldmore, which has proudly stood in the area for more than a century, has been closed for around three years and has now been put on the market by owners Admiral Taverns. But the newly formed ‘Friends of the WHITE LION’ group hopes to work with future investors and not only keep the venue as a pub and community hub. Over the years, the popular pub has hosted live music, open mic nights, a host of events as well as pool and darts matches and has been designated an asset of community value. Mark Webster, of the Caldmore and Highgate Heritage group said, ‘Part of what we do is try to support important pieces of heritage in the area and this fantastic pub is one of those. It’s been around for well over 100 years and loads of amazing people have drunk there and had amazing experiences. I’m one of them and I’ve been in the area for 30 years. It’s sad to see it closed. It has been shut for two or three years now. Our group is trying to hopefully work towards its successful reopening and maybe its re-imagining as a community hub. We’re really hoping to work with whoever is going to be investing in it or buying it. The owners are looking to sell it and we’d like to keep it as an active community venue.’

Walsall resident Nin Thandi has strong ties with the WHITE LION from picking up beer for his father to drink at home to working behind the bar and captaining the pub’s pool team. He said, ‘Dad was constantly here, every afternoon. On my lunch breaks I used to pop in and have a quick half and a sandwich with him. It’s sorry to even contemplate it closing down and I just hope somebody takes it on and keeps it as a pub and cherishes it. We really need a pub like this in this area and I hope our campaign is fruitful.’

And Walsall musician Keiran Bott added, ‘The WHITE LION has always been the centre of the community. As a musician myself, I’ve played countless times there. There have been various events here and demonstrated the values of the community around here. The WHITE LION is a very important asset and it would be great if we could save it and have somebody in who has the right mindset to do this.’

Ward councillor Aftab Nawaz believes developing the pub into a community hub would be a huge boost for the surrounding area. He said, ‘I’m supporting the campaign to reopen the WHITE LION, particularly as a community hub. It is really needed in the area. The area has suffered quite a lot and to have a hub here will make the community come together and also put on activities for the children. There is a community garden around the corner and this would make an ideal addition of what we are doing in the area, trying to get more people involved. If we can get someone who is community minded to come in and run the pub and give us the opportunity to have a hub here would be fantastic. I’m fully behind it and let’s hope it works and we ask everyone to get involved and make this happen.’

A spokesperson for Admiral Taverns said, ‘Our focus is always on helping our licensees to run sustainable pub businesses. However, after careful consideration we felt in this instance that the WHITE LION did not have a long-term sustainable future and therefore we’ve taken the decision to put the pub up for sale. Admiral Taverns placed the property on the market in October 2021 and it has since been listed as an Asset of Community Value where we have been working with and updating the groups involved.’”

Express & Star 8/8/2022

“Efforts to save a much-loved pub from being lost forever are being ramped up amidst increasing fears the Walsall venue will be sold for housing. Supporters of the WHITE LION in Sandwell Street are urging potential investors to get in touch with them and help retain the venue as a community pub business and a ‘social hub.’ The pub was designated an asset of community value (ACV) in 2018, because of its long history as a local facility for the area. This also meant that it couldn’t be sold without being offered to the community first. But the Caldmore and Highgate Heritage Group was unable to raise sufficient funds despite their best efforts and the six month moratorium has now expired, which means it can be sold on the open market. The Friends of The WHITE LION (Walsall) Association, set up to fight for its future, said there are concerns the building will be converted into housing and vowed to oppose any such development. Representatives added they would work closely with anyone looking to keep it and urged potential investors to get in touch. The WHITE LION has been closed for more than two years and was recently put up for sale by owners Admiral Taverns, which felt it did not have a long term future. The Friends group hopes that the ground floor at least will be retained and reopened as part of any future development.

Mark Webster said, ‘The WHITE LION has long been a much loved jewel in the area and it has been very much missed in the community since it closed more than two years ago. But the group remains determined and keen for it to reopen and be retained as the fantastic pub it has been for decades for many more years to come. We know it can be not just a thriving business but a social hub in the heart of the community just as it had always been prior to it being shut. The loss of the ACV status has increased concerns that the building will be sold on the open market and converted into something which doesn’t have the pub facility as part of its plans. We would strongly oppose this and lodge objections should planning applications be submitted in the future. But we would very much like to work with anyone who could come in to take it on as a pub and urge potential investors or those looking for promising fund-raising opportunities to get in touch. People in and beyond Caldmore want to see the WHITE LION back open and we are passionate and determined to see that happen.’”

WHITE LION

2, Upper Green Lane, (2, Green Lane) / Hospital Street, (Deadmans Lane), Birchills, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Brewer the Elder

John Williams, Birchills House [1904]

Cannock Brewery Co. Ltd. [1880]

George Thomas

Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 6th February 1950)

LICENSEES

John Norris [1835]

Miss Mary A Norris [1841] – [1862]

David Clewley [1864] – [1865]

George Evans [1868]

John Heath [1868]

Joseph Paddock [1869]

James Taylor [1872] – [1873];

Mrs. Sarah Taylor [];
George Thomas [];
William Brant [];
Eli Deeley [];
Stephen Griffin [1881];
Benjamin Barnstaple [1888];
William Alfred Metcalfe [];
George Thomas [1891] – 1904);
George William Miner Thomas (1904 – 1926);
William Frederick Albert Thomas (1926 – 1948);
Eleanor Margaret Thomas (1948 – 1950);
Albert Harold Smith (1950 – 1952);
William Sydney Parker (1952 – 1954);
Frank Wilson (1954 – 1955);
Charles Laurence Fisher (1955 – 1957);
Harry Dobson (1957 – 1959);
Gerald William Green (1959 – 1960);
Ronald William Mitford (1960 – 1963);
Florence Ivy Peace (1963);
Ruby Webster (1963 – 1964);
Howard Whetton (1964);
Maurice Williamson (1964 – 1965);
William Joseph Wassall (1965 – [1966])

NOTES

Birchills [1842], [1860]
Deadmans Lane [1845], [1849], [1850], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868]
2, Green Lane [1891], [1901]
Green Lane, Birchills [1904]
2, Upper Green Lane [1908], [1912], [1939]

It had a beerhouse license.

It had a bowling green.

Miss M. Norris was also a provision dealer. [1845]

1851 Census

Green Lane

- [1] Mary Norris (49), unmarried, victualler and provision dealer, born Birchills;
- [2] Rebecca Norris (39), sister, assistant, born Birchills;
- [3] William Bakewell (31), lodger, coal miner, born Baseford [Basford], Nottinghamshire;
- [4] Sarah Bakewell (33), wife, born Birchills;
- [5] John Bakewell (2), son, born Birchills:

Mary Norris, beerhouse keeper, Deadmans Lane. [1858]

Walsall Free Press 26/11/1859

“On Wednesday, the 16th instant, during the absence of her mother, who had gone on business into town, Emma Micklewright, aged three and a half years, and whose parents reside in Forge Street, Birchills, went towards the fire, and her clothes, having come into contact with the flame, were ignited. Before the parties who were attracted by the child’s cries could get the flames extinguished, the little sufferer was so severely burned that, notwithstanding Mr. Smith, assistant to Mr. D. Moore, Lichfield Street, was called in, and all that medical aid could do done for her relief, she lingered in great agony till Saturday, when death terminated her suffering. On Tuesday, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, for the borough, held an inquest upon the body, at the WHITE LION public house, Birchills, and the jury after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1861 Census

Deadmans Lane – WHITE LION INN

- [1] Mary Norris (58), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Birchills;
- [2] Rebecca Norris (48), sister, born Birchills;
- [3] Sarah Bakewell (44), sister, farmer’s wife, born Birchills;
- [4] Rebecca Bakewell (8), niece, farmer’s daughter, born Birchills;

- [5] William Bakewell (6), nephew, farmer's son, born Birchills;
[6] Joseph Clawley (12), visitor, coal miner's son, born Birchills;
[7] Mary Clawley (10), visitor, coal miner's daughter, born Birchills:

David Clewley was also a shopkeeper. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 27/2/1864

“Joseph Guest and Richard Boot were charged by Police-constable Keats, with having been drunk and disorderly on the night of Monday, the 15th inst. It appeared that, on the night in question, the defendants came out of the WHITE LION, Birchills, and commenced making use of the language complained about in the evidence. The officer remonstrated with them, but, instead of desisting, they persisted in their conduct. Guest, who failed to appear, was fined 10s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days; and Boot, who did appear, was sentenced to pay a fine of 5s and costs, or, in default, to be imprisoned for 14 days.”

Walsall Free Press 8/9/1866

“Levi Walker, shingler, was charged with having, on Tuesday last, assaulted William Steadman, puddler. According to the evidence of complainant, it appeared that the parties met in the WHITE LION, Birchills, when defendant, without any provocation, struck complainant. The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 15/2/1868

“George Evans, landlord of a beerhouse in Deadman's Lane was fined 20s and costs for having had his house open during prohibited hours on the forenoon, of Sunday last.

Police-constable Elms visited the house, and found one man coming out with drink, and seven men in the brewhouse, in the boiler-hole of which was jug of ale. A jug of ale was also found in the kitchen.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1868

“John Heath, the WHITE LION public house, Birchills, was summoned for selling ale after hours on the 12th inst. There was a doubt as to whether the ale in question was sold or given away, and the Bench giving the defendant the benefit of the doubt, dismissed the case.”

Walsall Free Press 6/3/1869 - Advert

“WHITE LION, Birchills, Walsall.

W. Horobin will Sell by Auction, on Wednesday next, March 10th, 1869, the Licenses and Possession of the above Inn; also, all the Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, 4-Pull Beer Machine, Household Furniture, and other Effects.

Particulars in Catalogues to be had of the Auctioneer, 5, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/6/1869

“Joseph Paddock, landlord of the WHITE LION Public-house, Birchills, was fined 1s and costs, for having, on Sunday last, had his house open between the hours of eleven and twelve on that night.”

London Gazette 23/11/1869

“John Heath, of Deadman's-lane, Birchills. Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Puddler, previously thereto of No.2, Farington's-buildings, Stafford-street, Walsall aforesaid, a Puddler, previously thereto of the WHITE LION, Birchills aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, Provision Dealer, and Puddler, and previously thereto of the PUDDLERS ARMS, Little-street, Birchills aforesaid, Retail Brewer, Provision Dealer, and Puddler, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 17th of November, 1869, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 10th day of December next, at twelve of the clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall. is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/2/1872 - Correspondence

“WHITE LION, Birchills. Unless there is an agreement for a shorter term, the new landlord must give you six months' notice, ending at the date of entry.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/6/1880 - Advert

“Cannock Brewery Co. Limited require Tenders for Painting the Cement Work of the Frontage of WHITE LION INN, Green Lane..... Sign Writing, as per List, at WHITE LION, Green Lane.....

All the above are situate in the town of Walsall.

Particulars as to class of work may be obtained at, and Tenders received by Cannock Brewery Co. Limited, Cannock.”

1881 Census

WHITE LION

[1] Stephen Griffen (43), publican's manager, born Wheaton Aston;

- [2] Ann Griffin (44), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Edmund Griffin (21), son, labourer at tube works, born Walsall;
- [4] Stephen M. Griffin (19), son, labourer at tube works, born Walsall;
- [5] Rebecca Griffin (15), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [6] Laura Griffin (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Arthur J. Griffin (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Ada J. Griffin (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Albert Griffin (3), son, born Darlaston;
- [10] Edward Walker (39), boarder, brown sadler, birthplace unknown;
- [11] Sarah Griffin (17), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall:

Benjamin Barnstaple was fined 10s and costs, on 5th September 1888, for Sunday trading.

1891 Census

2, Green Lane – WHITE LION

- [1] George Thomas (54), widower, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Letitia Thomas (26), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] George Thomas (20), son, born Walsall;
- [4] William Thomas (16), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Highway (36), visitor, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/5/1894

“Conservative League Jottings.

“Pratt Lodge. A meeting of this lodge was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, on Thursday night, Bro. Adkins, W.M., presiding. After routine business Mr. W. P. Banks delivered an interesting address on the ‘Policy of Government.’ The address was listened to with great attention, and a hearty vote of thanks accorded to Mr. Banks, on the motion of Bro. Millington. Bros. Brookes and Frankham (Sydney George Lodge) also made a few remarks. It is proposed that the next and future meetings be held at the WHITE LION, Birchills. Next meeting Monday, May 21st.”

Walsall Advertiser 6/7/1895

“George Thomas, landlord of the WHITE LION, Green Lane, Walsall, was charged on Monday, before Dr. Cooke, Mr. R. H. Holden, and Mr. J. Clare, at the Rushall Petty Sessions, with having been drunk while in charge of a horse and trap. Defendant failed to put in an appearance.

Police-constable Bayley said about five minutes past ten on June 27th he saw defendant in charge of a horse and trap in Aldridge. He was too drunk to drive, and witness had to drive him home.

The Bench imposed a fine of 5s and 9s 6d costs, remarking that it was a serious offence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/2/1900

“In the Sheriff’s Court, yesterday, before the Under Sheriff (Mr. R. C. Heath) and a jury, a case of breach of promise of marriage, remitted from the High Court for assessing damages was heard. The plaintiff was Sarah Ann Collins, domestic servant, High Street, Droitwich (for whom Mr. C. H. Darby, West Bromwich, appeared), and the defendant George Thomas, jun., brewer, who lives with his father, at the WHITE LION, Green Lanes, Walsall. The latter represented by Mr. T. H. Evans, Walsall.

In 1896 plaintiff was, according to the statement of her solicitor, in domestic service in Birmingham, and whilst on a visit to Walsall she became introduced to defendant. That acquaintance ripened into courtship, and the parties became engaged to be married. The wedding was fixed to take place in January, 1897, but the promise had not been fulfilled. A number of letters had passed between the parties, but they were of a very prosaic character, and not calculated to even provoke a smile, in a letter dated March 28, 1897, defendant, who had been asked by plaintiff when the marriage was to be solemnised, stated that it was difficult for him to say, but it would be not for five or six months. He added that he would not be able to see her that day as he was brewing, and he was unable to say when he could meet her. Under a promise of marriage defendant seduced plaintiff, and in November, 1897, a child was born, to whose maintenance defendant had been ordered to contribute. Plaintiff was now thirty-two years of age, had thus suffered material damages, and her present prospects of settling down into married life were somewhat remote.

Plaintiff said the engagement was sealed by a kiss and a ring. The non-fulfilment of contract cost her £15.

Plaintiff’s mother also gave evidence as to the promise of marriage.

The defence was that Thomas was penniless. All he received from his father was his board and 10s weekly, half of which was sent to plaintiff. All he had when he became engaged was £4, and he had not even that amount now. His father still bought his clothes for him. (Laughter).

The Under Sheriff said that it was rather a bad case of breach of promise. After undertaking to marry plaintiff, defendant had left her to bear all the disgrace and shame attaching to his conduct.

The jury assessed the damage at £50.”

Walsall Advertiser 29/12/1900

“WHITE LION Sick and Dividend Society. The annual meeting of the above took place last week at Mr. George Thomas’s WHITE LION HOTEL, Green Lane, when there was a good attendance. Mr. G. Thomas presided, and congratulated the members on the success of the society. The Secretary (Mr. Garbett) presented his report for the year, which showed that after adding a considerable amount to the reserve fund they were able to declare a dividend of 14s per member, which was considered excellent. Votes of thanks were then accorded to retiring officers. The election of officers then took place as follows: Treasurer Mr. G. Thomas; senior secretary Mr. W. G. Garbett; committee, Messrs. James Williams, F. Whitehouse, Job Williams, H. Mills, B. Roberts, and James Barr. Harmony was indulged in and some capital songs were rendered by Messrs. B. Edwards, E. Bott, C. Mills, H. Mills, &c.”

1901 Census

2, Green Lane

[1] George Thomas (64), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Letitia Thomas (36), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;

[3] William F. Thomas (26), son, brewer, born Walsall;

[4] Emily Highway (47), boarder, born Walsall;

[5] Emma Mills (15), general servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 12/12/1903

“Richard James Birch, 34, Green Lane, appeared to support an information for assault against George Tift, 26, Duncalfe Street. The evidence showed that a disturbance occurred in the WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, on November 30th. Complainant alleged that Tift struck him several times in the house, and followed him outside, when he knocked him down in the gutter.

Tift, however, alleged that Birch was drunk and ordered out of the house by the landlord, on which he approached defendant in a threatening manner; all defendant did was to push him on one side.

Case dismissed, cost divided.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates' clerk) said he was surprised the landlord had not been brought forward as a witness.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/1/1904 - Deaths

“On the 24th inst, at the WHITE LION HOTEL, Green Lane, Birchills, George Thomas, in his 67th year. Interred at Ryecroft Cemetery, January 28th.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1904

“Mr. George Thomas, of the WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, Walsall, licensed victualler, who died on January 24 last, left estate valued at £4,922, including personality of the net value of £645.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/3/1904 - Advert

“At The Auction Saleroom, The Bridge, Walsall.

Important Sale by Auction of a large quantity of Household Furniture, and Effects, removed from the WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, by order of the Executors of the late George Thomas, as also a few lots included by a well-known Cabinet maker, together with other lots by order of various owners.

Walter Hughes is instructed to Sell by Auction as above.

On View Monday, 21st, March, from 11am till 8pm.

Catalogues may be obtained from the Auction Offices, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/8/1907

“James Nicholls, 43, Westbourne Road, was summoned for assaulting George Thomas, landlord of the WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, and also for being drunk and disorderly on the 23rd ult. Mr. Cooper appeared for defendant, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for complainant.

Police-constable Johnson stated that he saw defendant in Butts Road. He was drunk, and shouting, and would not go home, or give his name and address. Defendant was in his shirt sleeves, and had no hat on.

Mr. Cooper said defendant was a respectable man, and he had had a little drink, and was excited by the quarrel with his relatives.

In the first case, Mr. H. H. Jackson explained that Nicholls and Thomas married two sisters, and on the date named Nicholl's wife visited the WHITE LION INN to see her sister. About closing time Mr. Thomas suggested that, as it was late he should escort his wife's sister home, and proceeded to do so, but on reaching the Butts he was attacked by a man, struck and kicked, and to escape the man's violence he rushed into the house of a woman named Carter. He subsequently learned that his assailant was Nicholls.

Mr. F. Cooper: I suggest it was a case of jealousy. – Mr. Thomas: There was no cause for jealousy at all.

Mr. Muncaster (assistant clerk): Mr. Cooper does not suggest that there was any cause, but that the defendant was jealous.

Mr. Cooper said Nicholls was excited because his wife was out so late with another man.

Inspector Williams said a letter had been received from Nicholls saying that he was unable to attend court, but Thomas said he had gone to the races for a week.

Nicholls was fined 10s and costs, to cover both charges.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/3/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

Mr. George William Miner Thomas, WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, Birchills, was elected to the seat of the Executive Committee rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. S. Holmes.”

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....
A dividend of 10s 9d was paid out by the WHITE LION Club, Green Lane.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/5/1910

“Birchills Alexandra. To-day (Saturday) the Mayor of Walsall (Councillor J. Williams) will open a new bowling-green which has been laid down at the WHITE LION, Hospital Street. The club, so far, has a good membership, and the green is in splendid condition.”

1911 Census

Green Lane – WHITE LION INN

- [1] George W. M. Thomas (40), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mary H. Thomas (41), married 10 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;
- [3] Sarah A. E. Thomas (9), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary E. Thomas (6), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] Bertha Tyler (16), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Walsall Advertiser 10/1/1912

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held last Thursday at the house of Mr. G. W. M. Thomas, WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, Birchills. Mr. R. Anson (Daw End, president), presided over a large attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 6/7/1912

“Bowling. Birchills Alexandra v. Bloxwich HATHERTON.

The above clubs met on the WHITE LION INN green, Birchills, on Saturday, when a most interesting and enjoyable game was played. Some keen bowling was witnessed and the home team ran out winners by 11 points.....”

George William Miner Thomas was born in 1870.

He was the brother of William Frederick Albert Thomas.

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1913

“Sick and Dividend Societies. The 43 members of the Society held at the WHITE LION HOTEL, Green Lane, met on Friday last to declare their dividend. 36 members became entitled to 12/-, 3 to 11/-, and one each to 8/9, 8/-, and 7/9 respectively. The receipts for the year amounted to £35 18s 6d, and the balance in hand is £2 15s 4d.”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WHITE LION, Green Lane, Walsall, £1 8s.”

Walsall Observer 14/2/1914

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. G. W. M. Thomas, WHITE LION HOTEL, Green Lane, Birchills, Walsall.....”

Walsall Advertiser 25/4/1915

“Geo. Thomas of the WHITE LION, Green Lane, was summoned by Thomas Smith (30), a brewer’s labourer, for assaulting him on April 13th. Mr. H. Lenton Lester appeared for the complainant, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the defendant.

Mr. Lester said that the complainant had been an employee of the defendant for about eight years, on Easter Monday evening was serving a customer at the WHITE LION HOTEL, when a customer asked him to have a drink with him in the smokeroom. The young fellow accepted, and defendant, who came in at the time, said, ‘What the —— do I pay you for? You clear off.’ The complainant put on his coat and went out, but returned asking for his ‘poke’ (money) and his insurance card. Defendant without warning, got him by the scruff of the neck and pushed him out of the house, administering several blows. A brother of defendant’s named William, seized the complainant and put him into the road hurting his knee, so that it had to be dressed at the hospital. If the landlord found a drunken person on his premises he was bound to evict him, but he submitted that the complainant was not drunk, but even if he had been, the landlord used more than necessary violence to get him out of the house.

The complainant then gave evidence bearing out this statement, saying he had been employed by the defendant three times in eight years, the last time being for two years.

Corroborative evidence was given by Charles Clements, Sophia Wootton, and complainant’s wife, Mary Smith.

Mr. H. H. Jackson said it was a pretty safe course to summon a publican, because he was in a peculiar position, and a good many, sooner than appear in a court of law in any quarrel, would pay up. Complainant had had eight years’ experience of the defendant, and during all that time, apparently there had been no trouble or disturbance before. Mr. Thomas’s father had kept that house for twenty years, and Mr. George Thomas himself had kept the house for ten years and there had been no complaint of any sort against him. Why had complainant gone back to the house? Complainant’s wife suggested that he left a job at 23s a week to go to Mr. Thomas. It was admitted that complainant was drinking with a friend, and Mr. Thomas knew full well the danger there was in that. A barman was no good if he drank with everybody who asked him to drink. Instead of complainant going out when told, however, he threatened to break the windows of the house, and then, using abusive language, asked for his 'poke' and his insurance card. The time was approaching 11 o'clock, and defendant was very busy, so he said he could not discuss it that night, but if complainant came in the morning it would be all ready. The complainant then struck at Mr. Thomas, and hit Mrs. Barrett. He refused to go, and the defendant was fully justified in evicting him. While he was doing so, Smith became very violent, and the assistance of the brother, William Thomas, was called to get him back into the street. The complainant came back and struck Mr. William Thomas, and they both rolled on the ground. Though the injury to complainant's knee was alleged to have been caused by Mr. Thomas's brother, the complainant summoned Mr. Thomas himself. If there was any assault at all, it was committed by Mr. Thomas's brother. Mr. Thomas, he submitted, used no more force than he was justified in using. The defendant then gave evidence, saying that when he was being put out the complainant kicked at him. Corroborative evidence was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett, William Thomas, defendant's brother, John Thomas, of 43, Hospital Street, and C. J. Havard, of Victoria Road, West Smethwick. Alderman Clare said that the evidence was most extraordinarily conflicting and the case would be dismissed."

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

"Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
WHITE LION INN, Green Lane. £2 8s 11½d."

George William Miner Thomas was fined £10 and £4 4s 0d costs, on 17th March 1920, for selling rum above the maximum price.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 10/10/1925

"At Walsall, on Tuesday, George W. M. Thomas, licensee of the WHITE LION INN, Upper Green Lanes, was fined 10/- for being drunk on his own licensed premises. A police officer stated that he visited the house in consequence of a complaint by defendant's brother, who it transpired, is part-owner of the house."

Evening Despatch 12/4/1939

"Dog Show. Over a hundred entries were received for the annual amateur championship at the WHITE LION, Green Lane, Walsall. Twenty-one classes were run and all were filled. Mr. Campbell, of Bilston, judged all classes....."

1939 Register

2, Upper Green Lane – WHITE LION INN (4 of 5)

- [1] William F. A. Thomas, date of birth 14/1/1875, licensed victualler, on own account, married;
- [2] Eleanor M. Thomas, dob 10/4/1882, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] William Thomas, dob 26/8/1904, electrical generating station shift charge engineer, single;
- [4] Margaret A. E. Westbury, dob 7/6/1908, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Evening Despatch 17/1/1940

"A telegram from the Admiralty has been received to-day by Mrs. E. G. Westbury, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. A. Thomas, of the WHITE LION, Green Lane, Walsall, stating that her husband, Able Seaman Westbury, who was serving on the Seahorse, is missing."

Walsall Observer 3/2/1940 - Roll of Honour

"In loving memory of my dear husband, Able-Seaman Eustace George Westbury, who lost his life on H.M. Submarine 'Seahorse.'
*Afar he sleeps – the ocean's roar
Disturbs his calm repose no more,
What though no voice if home was near,
To soothe with love his dying ear;
The cloud is passed from that clear brow,
It glows in heaven's own brightness now.*
Deeply mourned by wife Margaret and baby Pauline.
Mrs. Westbury, WHITE LION INN, Green Lane, wishes to thank all who have expressed sympathy with her in her great loss."

Walsall Observer 8/2/1941 - Advert

"Fire Bombs.
A Demonstration on the Extinguishing of the above will be given by Mr. Horton at the WHITE LION, Birchills, To-Morrow (Sunday), at 12-30pm (Approx)."

George William Miner Thomas died in 1946.

William Frederick Albert Thomas was born in 1874.
He died in 1948.

Alexandra Bowling Club was based here. [1940s]

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.
Third List Of Subscriptions.....
WHITE LION, Green Lane, Birchills. £3 0s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....
Mr. Thomas, WHITE LION, Green Lane. £3 17s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
WHITE LION, Green Lane. £0 15s 6d.”

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.
Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....
WHITE LION INN, Green Lane. £ £3 8s 3d.”

Albert Harold Smith was fined £3 in each case plus £10 10s 0d costs, on 4th April 1952, for 12 offences of supplying intoxicating liquor during non permitted hours, and £1 in each case, for 12 offences of aiding and abetting the consumption of the same.

It closed on 9th April 1980.

WHITE LION

Wolverhampton Road, (Lichfield Road), (15, Brownhills Road), (High Bridge Road), Pelsall, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Lester
William Roberts, Station Brewery, Brownhills
Eley’s Stafford Brewery Company (acquired in 1925)
William Butler and Co. Ltd. (acquired in 1928)

LICENSEES

William Harrison [1818]
John Harrison [1843]
John Harrison [1849] – [1851]
Joseph Cooper [1858] – [1862]
Alfred Cooper [1868] – [1871]
James Stokes [1881]
John Lester [1890] – 1894;
William Smith (1894);
Arthur Poxon (1894 – []
William Smith [1896] – 1901);
Mary Smith (1901 – []
Mary Ann Vetch [] – 1902);
Samuel Bateman (1902 – [1903]
William Bateman [1904]
Samuel Bateman [] – 1904);
Mary Ann Bateman (1904);
Charles Nicholls (1904 – [1906]
James Yates [1908] – [1912]
Horace George Green [1924]
William Yates [1929]
Walter Yates [1932]
D Nicholls [1939]
Richard Nicholls [1939] – [1943]

NOTES

WHITE LION HOTEL [1891], [1894], [1896]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/4/1843 - Advert

“To Be Sold By Auction by John Whitehouse, (By order of the Executors), on Monday the 17th of April, 1843.

All the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Live and Dead Stock, Implements of Husbandry, &c, lately belonging to Mr. John Harrison, deceased, of the WHITE LION, Pelsall; consisting of a general assortment of household furniture, brewing vessels, kitchen and dairy requisites, home cured bacon, &c, &c; also an excellent cow and calf, one barren cow, two capital three-year old heifers in-calf, one three-year old new milch heifer, pair of stirks, two useful waggon mares, two two-year-old fillies, one yearling colt, twelve store sheep, gilt in-pig, two carts, with sideboards and gearing, plough, harrows, land roll, rick of wheat, part of rick of clover, quantity of potatoes and turnips, and other useful effects.

On account of the number of lots, the sale will commence punctually at ten o'clock.

Catalogues may be had at the Auctioneer's Office, Park Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/10/1847

“On Tuesday, an inquest was held by T. M. Phillips, Esq, at the WHITE LION, Pelsall, on the body of William Pargeter, a waggoner, aged 19 years of age, in the employ of Mr. A. Cooper, farmer. The deceased, it appeared from the evidence of a son of his master, was gathering damsons about nine o'clock on Sunday morning last – he (witness) being similarly engaged on another tree – when the bough on which he was standing, which overhung a pool, broke, and he was precipitated into the water. The witness immediately proceeded to his assistance and gave an alarm, but twenty minutes elapsed before he was got out, the spot where he fell being several yards deep. Verdict, Accidentally Drowned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/3/1851

“Staffordshire Assizes.....

Edward Turner was arraigned on an indictment charging him with feloniously assaulting John Birch, on the 28th September, 1850, in the township of Pelsall, putting him in bodily fear, and stealing from his person 5 half crowns in silver coin, his property; Mr. Huddleston defended the prisoner.

The prosecutor stated that about nine o'clock on the evening of the 28th September he went to the WHITE LION, in Pelsall, and staid there until about half-past eleven. He left the house, perfectly sober, in company with the prisoner. They walked together some distance when they separated, their homewards paths lying in different directions. About ten minutes after their separation, the prisoner returned, collared him, threw him down, and rifled his pockets, abstracting five half-crowns, but rather strangely missing a sovereign. Mr. Huddleston subjected the witness to a long and ingenious cross-examination, and elicited several admissions that rendered his perfect sobriety on the night in question rather doubtful. No other witness being called for the prosecution.

Mr. Huddleston addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner, and called a witness who had been in company with the prosecutor and prisoner at the WHITE LION, and fully justified the conclusion arrived at by the learned counsel for the defence in reference to the inebriety of the prosecutor at the time of the alleged robbery. The prisoner received an excellent character from a person who had known him from childhood, and the jury, after a few minutes deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty, the learned Judge remarking that it was by far the safer course.”

1851 Census

Pelsall – WHITE LION

[1] John Harrison (43), farmer of 20 acres, born Penkridge, Staffordshire;

[2] Ann Harrison (42), wife, born Pelsall

[3] John Harrison (19), son, born Pelsall;

[4] Thomas Harrison (17), son, engineer, born Pelsall;

[5] Mary Harrison (15), daughter, born Pelsall;

[6] James Harrison (12), son, born Pelsall;

[7] Joseph Harrison (10), son, born Pelsall;

[8] William Harrison (6), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[9] Ann Harrison (5), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;

[10] George Harrison (3), son, born Pelsall;

[11] Charles Harrison (2), son, born Pelsall:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/7/1858

“Staffordshire Assizes.....

George Watkins was indicted for assaulting James Cavney, on the 15th of June at Pelsall, and stealing from his person a tobacco box, containing 8s in money. Mr. Wade conducted the prosecution; the prisoner was undefended.

It appeared that on the Saturday night in question the prosecutor was drinking at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall. The prisoner and some other men were also there. A row took place, and prosecutor was struck; and on his leaving the house, between ten and eleven o'clock, he was followed by the prisoner and another man, the former of whom knocked him down, and took a tobacco box containing 8s from his pocket. The prisoner was apprehended under a warrant by police officer Price, and on being charged said he knew all about it. Price heard the prisoner say to a man named Humphries that he must come and swear he was not out of the house at the time of the robbery. Prisoner subsequently asked the officer what would be done with him – could it be made up? On the following morning prosecutor identified the prisoner as one of the men who had assaulted and robbed him; it was Big Ned, Thomas Humphries, and George Pritchard. Two witnesses were called by the prisoner to prove he did not go out of the public house between the hours of six and eleven in the evening, but there was some discrepancy between this evidence and the prisoner's statement of the affair. The prisoner's employer was called to speak to Watkin's character. The Jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment."

Birmingham Daily Post 12/11/1858

"Charges against licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers for using unjust measures.....

Joseph Cooper, licensed victualler, the WHITE LION, Pelsall, was fined 15s and costs, for having seven unjust measures.....

The costs in each case amounted to 11s. The Bench, in course of the trial of the several cases, administered severe rebukes to the offenders."

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1859

"A Special Petty Sessions was held at Brownhills on Friday last, before C. Forster, Esq, MP, and the Rev. G. H. Fisher, when the following persons were fined for having in their possession unjust weights and measures, on the information laid by Mr. Inspector Tullett, Inspector for the South Staffordshire district.....

Joseph Cooper, WHITE LION, unjust measures, 2s and costs."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/10/1860

"Matthew Alsop, of Walsall Wood, complained of having been wrongfully and illegally expelled from the friendly society holding its meetings at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall. Mr. Barnett appeared to support complainant, which was preferred against Stephen Cooper, the secretary.

It was admitted that the ground of Alsop's expulsion was that he had refused with several others of the society to partake or to pay for the annual feast in June last. It transpired the usual charge for the dinner to each member was 1s 6d, but that in consequence of the high price of meat the landlord wished to charge 2s per head, to which complainant and others would not consent. A feast, nevertheless, took place, and those who refused to participate were expelled. The magistrates after a short discussion, considered that feast or no feast was quite foreign to the objects of the society, and that although no clause in the rules provided for an annual dinner, no portion of the funds of the society could be applied in payment of the expenses of it, which were to be liquidated by a contribution from each member for that express purpose. Complainant was therefore ordered to be restored."

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road – WHITE LION

[1] Joseph Cooper (29), unmarried, victualler, born Pelsall;

[2] Sarah Cooper (16), general servant, born Bramblebury, Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/9/1862

"The Late Annual Licensing Day. Mr. Joseph Cooper, landlord of the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, informs us that his license was not suspended for a fortnight at the above meeting, as stated in the Chronicle last week. The paragraph in question was copied from a contemporary, and we regret to find that we were led into error."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/1/1866

"Edward Williams and John Williams, for having on the 25th December last assaulted Richard York, parish constable, Pelsall, were each ordered to pay a fine of 10s and costs, or in default be imprisoned for fourteen days. It appeared the constable had been requested by the landlord of the WHITE LION public house, Pelsall, to eject the defendants, and on his doing so they assaulted him."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/11/1866

"On Monday, Mr. W. H. Phillips, Deputy Coroner, held an adjourned inquiry at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, on the bodies of Job Benton and William Ball, who lost their lives on the 24th ultimo, at the Brownhills Colliery, belonging to Mr. W. Harrison. Mr. J. P. Baker, Government Inspector of Mines, and Mr. Duigan (Duigan, Lewis, and Lewis) were in attendance, the latter on behalf of the owner of the colliery. On the day named, the deceased were engaged in repairing a barrel in the pumping shaft of the colliery, when the winding machine got out of gear, and they were precipitated to the bottom, the band chain immediately following them, killing them on the spot. On examination of the machinery by the Government Inspector and Mr. G. Wright, of Wolverhampton and Goscote, it was found that the slot holes of the fly-wheel carriage at the crank end of the fly-wheel shaft were unplugged, and it was also stated that the slot holes in the fly-wheel carriage at the other end of the shaft were in a like condition. They also found that the fly-wheel carriage next the drum shaft had been forced out of its position to the extent of five-eighths of an inch, but there were no indications that this change of position had occurred so recently as the day of the accident. After minutely describing the condition and appearance of the engine and winding apparatus, both Mr. Baker and Mr. Wright gave it as their opinion with regard to the accident, that something had either been placed between, or had got between the cog wheels, which had forced the drum shaft out of gear. They were further of opinion that the lock nut of the screw, which held the wheels in gear, had not been brought up to its proper place; and that, had the means provided for fastening the drum been properly applied, the winding machinery would not have got out of gear. A witness, named Tucker, deposed that before the accident he saw that John Baugh, the engineer of the pit, had placed a piece of timber between the cog wheels, for the purpose of enabling him to avoid some of the work in winding the men slightly up and down the shaft, which otherwise he would have had to perform. Witness cautioned him against this practice, and after the accident expressed a hope that he had not adhered to it, when he appealed to him, 'for God's sake,' to say nothing about it. Baugh now denied that there was any timber between the wheels at the time of the accident, which he attributed to the engine, which was partly new, and which had never been used for winding purposes, having slipped, and he being unable to stop it, owing to there being no break in it. He also pleaded that the slot holes were unplugged. Mr. Wright admitted that had there been an adequate break to the engine, and it had instantly been applied, no doubt fatal results could have been prevented. Eventually, the Jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against John Baugh, the engineer, who was committed for trial on the Coroner's warrant, the Coroner consenting to accept bail."

[At the Staffordshire Lent Assizes, in March 1867, John Baugh was found not guilty.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/12/1867

"Enoch White and James Wright, for having on the 5th ult, been drunk and disorderly, and refusing to leave the WHITE LION public house, Pelsall, were each ordered to pay a fine of 2s 6d and costs, or in default be imprisoned for seven days."

1871 Census

15, Brownhills Road

- [1] Alfred Cooper (41), farmer and publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Mary Cooper (45), wife, born Wrexham;
- [3] Charles Barber (26), domestic servant, born Hines [Hinks], Staffordshire;
- [4] Levi Stackhouse (15), domestic servant, born Pelsall;
- [5] Louisa Pinson (25), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Free Press 16/12/1871 - Notice

"Apology. Mr. Alfred Cooper, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall.

I, Thomas Holt, of Bridgeman Street, Walsall, Coal Merchant, having on the 16th ult, falsely accused you of Stealing from my person a Sum of Money which never left my possession, as I found after I had caused you to be searched for it, and having on the same occasion Slandered your character as an Innkeeper, hereby retract such accusations and slander as being wholly unfounded, and request you accept this public apology.

Thomas Holt. Dated 15th December, 1871.

Witness R. W. Gillespie, Solicitor, Walsall."

1881 Census

Brownhills Road, Pelsall – WHITE LION PH

- [1] James Stokes (53), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Sydonia Stokes (53), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Paulina Harrington (29), daughter, married, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles Stokes (19), son, apprentice saddler, born Walsall;
- [5] George E. Stokes (14), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] George Harrington (1), grandson, born Pelsall;
- [7] Sarah Tasker (15), domestic servant, born Pelsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1882

"At the Rushall Police Court, yesterday, the annual licensing business was transacted, the magistrates present being Messrs. F. James and E. T. Holden. All the existing licenses were renewed, with the exception of that of James Stokes, the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, which was withheld until the adjourned licensing session on September 26, it being necessary for the holder (who was not present) to appear in person, he having been convicted in the last twelve months."

James Stokes – see also CROWN AND MALT SHOVEL.

Lichfield Mercury 3/10/1890

"The following publicans were granted one hour's extension on Monday, October 6th, on the occasion of Pelsall wakes John Lester."

1891 Census

High Bridge Road – WHITE LION

- [1] John Lester (49), licensed victualler, born Pelsall;
- [2] Clara Lester (47), wife, born Sheffield;
- [3] Ernest W. Lester (17), son, carpenter, born Sheffield;
- [4] Jane Lester (14), daughter, barmaid, born Sheffield;
- [5] Albert Lester (12), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [6] Clara Lester (11), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [7] Alfred Lester (8), son, scholar, born Pelsall;
- [8] Alice Lester (6), daughter, scholar, born Pelsall;

[9] John Lester (5), son, scholar, born Pelsall;

[10] Mary A. Swannack (16), domestic servant, born Sheffield:

Walsall Observer 18/4/1891 - Advert

“To Brewery Companies & Others.

To be Sold by Private Treaty (on account of illness of Wife), the valuable Full-Licensed Inn, called the WHITE LION HOTEL, situate at Pelsall, with Cottage adjoining; Outbuildings, consisting of Barn, Stabling for six horses; and about 3a 2r 26p of Land. The Hotel contains Bar, Bar Parlour, Taproom, Kitchen, 5 Chambers, and Cellars. There is also a large Club Room, 42ft 6in x 18ft 6in, and large Brewhouse. In connection there are several successful Clubs – Nottingham Order of Oddfellows, Female Sick and Funeral Society (about 200 members), Football and Cricket.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. John Lester, on the Premises; or to Mr. J. U. Fellows, Bradford Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/7/1894 - Advert

“Pelsall. Important Sale by Auction of a Capital Full-Licensed Roadside Public House, known as the WHITE LION, and situate on the main road from Pelsall and Bloxwich to Brownhills, with Cottage and Garden and Field of Land used for Cricket, Football, and other sports; also Four Fields of Land.

Walter Hughes will offer for Sale by Auction, upon the Premises, the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, on Monday, 23rd July, 1894, at Six for Seven o’clock in the Evening (subject to conditions).

Lot 1. The Full-Licensed Roadside Public House, known as the WHITE LION, situate and having an extensive frontage to the main road from Pelsall and Bloxwich to Brownhills, and well situate near to the junction of roads leading from Wolverhampton and Walsall to Norton, Wyrley, and Cannock.

The House is now and has for many years past been in the occupation of Mr. John Lester who will give possession on completion. The Premises stand well back from the road, they are double-fronted and contain 4 Bedrooms, Bar, Taproom, Parlour, Living Room, Pantry, and excellent Cellars, also at rear Scullery and large detached brick-built Clubroom, together with Garden and enclosed Yard, containing Outbuildings; also the Cottage adjoining and fronting to main road with Outbuildings and Gardens thereto, as now occupied by Mr. Doram at a weekly rent of 3s 9d; together with the Valuable Field of Land at the rear used for Cricket, Football, and other sports, and which is a source of considerable trade to the House. The area of this Lot is 3 acres, 2 roods, and 27 perches.

The Public House is a much frequented one, it has always done a good trade, there are large and excellent clubs held at the House. To Brewers this Sale offers a good opportunity of acquiring a genuine Free House, whilst there is also every accommodation for Home-Brewing, and as a Home-Brewing House a large Trade can be done, and a purchaser accustomed to the business, might in a few years realise a competency.

Lot 2. Four Fields of Excellent Land all adjoining, one Field containing 1 acre, 0 roods, 23 perches, fronts to the main roads for over 100 yards, and forms excellent Building Land; another Field contains 2 acres, a third Field 1 rood and 30 perches, and the fourth Field 2 roods and 20 perches, containing in the whole a total area of 4 acres and 33 perches.

The above Properties are Copyhold.

To view, apply to Mr. John Lester upon the premises.

For plans and further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, 79, Park Street, Walsall; or Messrs. C. A. Loxton & Newman, Solicitors, Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 22/9/1894 - Advert

“Pelsall. WHITE LION HOTEL.

Unreserved Sale of Two Ricks of Hay, Cow, Fowls, Surplus Furniture, and Numerous Other Effects.

Walter Hughes is instructed by Mr. John Lester (who, having sold the above house, is leaving on 29th September) to Sell by Auction, upon the premises as above, on Thursday Next, 27th September, 1894, at Eleven o’clock punctually, the following effects.

Well got Rick of Hay (1894), about 4½ tons; Rick of Prime Seeds (1894), about 4 tons; Milch Cow, in full milk; 12 couples Fowl, a 17-round Ladder, Ell Rake, 3 Hay Forks, Turf Cutter, &c, &c; small quantity of Timber, comprising Oak, Pitch Pine, Sycamore; 500 Bricks (fire and red); also the Surplus Household Furniture, comprising two excellent 8-day Clocks, Sporting and other prints, a 2-pull Beer Machine, two Easy Chairs, set of six Chairs, two Chimney Glasses, nearly-new Carpet, two squares Linoleum, Washstand, Toilet Set, Wood Chest, Fireguard, six-gallon Iron Pot, a Port Wine Barrel (30 gallons), and a quantity of Sundries.

On view morning of sale from 9 o’clock.

Auction Offices, 79, Park Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/10/1894

“At Rushall on Monday the license of the WHITE LION, Brownhills Road, was temporarily transferred from John Lester to William Smith. In reply to a magistrate, Smith stated that he had kept a license before at Clayhanger.”

Walsall Observer 1/8/1896

“The Poor Man’s Friend Lodge of the Nottingham Order of Oddfellows met at the WHITE LION HOTEL, Pelsall, to the number of about 50, on Saturday night last, to partake of a good supper, supplied by the host and hostess, Mrs. and Mrs. Smith....

Bro. L. V. W. Lloyd proposed ‘the health of the host and hostess,’ thanking them for the way in which they had catered. He thought that was the feeling of all present, and they wished Mr. and Mrs. Smith every success. Mr. Smith suitably replied, thanking them for their vote. He said it gave him great pleasure to do all he could for the good of clubs held at his house and for the benefit of the customers.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/9/1897

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

There were several matters in connection with the report which had been brought to the attention of the police authorities by district or parish councils of several places, particularly in Brownhills and Walsall Wood, of the public house urinals being not only disagreeable to the public, but on sanitary grounds also very bad. The police had called attention particularly to the BLACK COCK INN and the HORSE AND JOCKEY and the HAWTHORNE beerhouse, Walsall Wood, and attention having been called to that matter they had gone round the district where similar objections could be made, and had given notice to the houses of the district asking that some alteration should be made so as to comply alike with the necessities of the public and also the sanitary conditions of the district. There were several houses named.....

WHITE LION, Pelsall.”

AND

“The annual licensing meeting for the petty sessional division of Rushall was held on Monday morning at the Courthouse, Rushall.....

WHITE LION, Pelsall. Consent was given to certain alterations, in regard to boundary wall, pigstyes, urinals, etc.”

Lichfield Mercury 15/7/1898

“Solomon Fox, miner, Brownhills Road, was summoned for assaulting Joy Dunbar, who described herself as a ‘professional’ lately engaged at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, since residing at Brownhills.

Complainant gave evidence that on the 2nd inst, she was sitting in the public house, when defendant came up and took a seat beside her, and behaved in an improper manner. She resented the liberty, but he repeated it, and she at once threw a glass of lemonade in his face and then ran into the kitchen. He followed her and struck her three times, one blow being on the breast, and a second in the back. He afterwards pushed her on the sofa where he left her senseless.

She admitted that defendant had once been previously been in her company, but denied they had joked together. She had very little to do with the men in the public house, and usually sat in the kitchen. Defendant said she would rather sit on a man’s knee than in the kitchen.

Maud Collins, spoke to hearing the complainant scream, and to finding her lying on the sofa unconscious. Her face was discoloured, and she appeared to have been struck heavily. There was a cross-summons charging Miss Dunbar with assaulting Fox, who said that the young woman hit him in the ribs, knocking his hat off, and then threw a glass of lemonade over him. She gave herself a black eye by falling with her head against the corner of the table.

A witness named Birch supported Fox’s statement, and the bench eventually dismissed both cases, though Dr. Cook said that as far as he was concerned, he considered the case against Fox proved, but the other magistrates took a contrary view.”

1901 Census

Pelsall – WHITE LION INN

[1] William Smith (54), publican, born Pelsall;

[2] Mary Ann Smith (50), wife, born Dudley;

[3] Theresa Bickley (24), niece, born Brownhills;

[4] William Lays (9), nephew, born Clayhanger, Staffordshire;

[5] Sarah Hartshorne (18), domestic servant, born Norton Canes, Staffordshire;

[6] William Bickley (3), nephew, born Brownhills:

Lichfield Mercury 29/5/1903

“Samuel Bateman (36), landlord of the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, was charged with selling adulterated whisky on April 1. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended.

Mr. Harold Van Tromp, County Inspector under the Food and Drugs Act, said that on the date named, assistant inspector Samuel Toy purchased three quarters of whisky from the defendant at the rate of 2s per pint, which was proved on analysis to be diluted 6.7 per cent beyond the statutory limit.

Inspector Toy gave evidence to purchasing the whisky, which was supplied in a jug out of a white enamelled jar marked whisky. For the defence, Mr. Jackson said the man came there on a wet day and asked for the liquor to be supplied in a jug. The landlord served that whisky himself and put some water in it, and told the inspector so. If that were true, no offence had been committed, as it was not sold to prejudice the purchaser.

The defendant gave evidence bearing out his advocate’s statement.

Wm. Whitehouse, a miner, called for the defence, said he was in the defendant’s house at the time and saw the whisky supplied. He heard the defendant tell the inspector he had put some water to it, and that he added more it would warm his cockles.

John Patrick Shean also gave evidence for the defence.

Inspector Toy denied that the defendant said anything about having added water to the whisky until after the purchase had been completed, and he had informed the defendant for what purpose it had been purchased.

The Bench said it was a serious offence, and they decided to fine the defendant £5 and 23s costs, which included the analyst’s fee. On the application of Mr. Jackson, the Bench fixed the recognisances in the case of appeal.”

Walsall Observer 16/1/1904

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last.....

A unanimous vote of sympathy was passed with Mrs. Bateman in her bereavement by the death of her husband, Mr. Samuel Bateman, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/1/1904

“Application was made to the Rushall Magistrates, on Monday, by Mary Ann Bateman, for a temporary authority in respect of the WHITE LION, Pelsall, the licensee, Samuel Bateman, having died. Granted.”

Lichfield Mercury 21/10/1904

“Mary Ann Bateman, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, was summoned for permitting drunkenness and for supplying a drunken person. A fine of £5 and cost was imposed.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/11/1904

“Temporary transfers were granted by the Rushall Bench, on Monday, with respect to..... WHITE LION, Pelsall, from Mary Ann Bateman to Charles Nicholls.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1905

“The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Since the last licensing meeting, six licensed victuallers had been proceeded against for offences against their licences.....

Mary Ann Bateman, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, permitting drunkenness, fined £5 and costs.....

Since the convictions Mary Ann Bateman has transferred her license.”

AND

“The annual licensing sessions were held at the Rushall Police Court on Monday.....

Notice of opposition to the renewal has been served on the undermentioned license-holders.....

Charles Nicholls, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1906

“An hour’s extension was granted to E. Nicholls, landlord of the WHITE LION, Pelsall, on the occasion of the National United Order of Oddfellows’ supper, on the 17th inst.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/5/1906

“A man named Sedgwick was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises – the WHITE LION at Pelsall – and was fined 2s 6d and costs, and arising out of this, the landlord of the house Charles Nicholls (42), was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises, and also for selling to a drunken person. Mr. Enoch Evans prosecuted on behalf of the police, Mr. H. H. Jackson defended, and Mr. S. E. Loxton watched the case on behalf of the owners of the house.

In opening the case for the prosecution, Mr. Evans explained that on Saturday, April 28th, Sergeant Needham went to the house of the defendant, and there found an old man named Sedgwick, leaning against the counter, helplessly drunk. The landlord’s attention was called to the man’s condition and the landlord denied that he had supplied him. The man was taken outside and with the assistance of another constable the man was got to the railway station, and he was brought to Rushall police station.

William Sedgwick gave evidence to the effect that he was served by the landlord and his wife. He remembered the policeman calling at the house, and the landlord’s attention being called to his condition when he was leaning against the counter, but he could have walked home. After being taken out into the fresh air, he went ‘very funny in the head,’ and he remembered falling into a ditch on the way to the station. He believed the landlord had told him to go previous to the arrival of the police.

Sergeant Needham, Police-constables Milner and Smedley, and a man named James Gregory, said that the defendant was very drunk.

For the defence, Mr. Jackson urged that the man Sedgwick was not drunk when on defendant’s premises, as he had only been served with three half-pints in three hours.

Defendant gave evidence and denied serving Sedgwick and although he was not drunk he thought he had had enough and asked him to go.

Other witnesses were called to show that the man Sedgwick was not drunk.

After a short deliberation, Mr. Brookes said the Bench were unanimous and had not much doubt in their minds that the man Sedgwick was drunk, but at the same time they did not think that the landlord willingly permitted it and therefore the case would be dismissed.”

James Yates = James Yeates

Walsall Advertiser 19/3/1910

“Don’t send me to Stafford, I’ve had enough of it,’ was the plea of David Yates (25), of Harrison Street, who after having being remanded for eight days was placed in the dock at the Rushall Police Court, on Monday, on a charge of having stolen 2s 9d from a till at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall. The magistrates were Sir E. T. Holden (presiding), W. H. Brookes, W. F. Clarke, E. Wilkes, J. A. Lloyd, W. Preecy, and J. Smith.

Evidence was given by Annie Heath, who said that she resided with her brother at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall. At 3pm on the date mentioned, prisoner entered the tap-room and called for half a pint of ale and lemonade. He tendered half a crown in payment and she gave him a 2s piece and three pennies in change. She saw that the till was properly closed, and then went into the yard, leaving the prisoner alone in the room. After five minutes later she heard a rattle of money, and on looking into the tap-room saw prisoner leaning over the bar, in the act of taking a handful of coppers out of the till. When she spoke to him prisoner gave her money which amounted to 2s 8½d, and she afterwards found a ½d in a jug near the till. After prisoner had left she gave information to the police.

Police-constable Rushton said he made enquiries into the theft and arrested prisoner in the SWAN INN, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall, when he said, 'All right I'll come, I know what you want me for.' He took him to Rushall, and on being charged, replied that the biggest part of the money belonged to him. Asked if he had anything to say, the prisoner, with tears in his eyes, made the above remark, adding that he would not mind going only it had nearly broke his mother's heart already.

Sir Edward Holden: Well you should not get into scrapes.

After a consultation Sir Edward said the Bench thought that if he would promise to go straight in future they would take into consideration what he had said, and put him on his good behaviour for three months.

Prisoner readily gave the promise, and was told that if he behaved himself he would hear nothing more about it."

1911 Census

Pelsall – WHITE LION

[1] James Yeates (25), unmarried, boat builder, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[2] Benjamin Yeates (23) brother, coal miner, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[3] William Yeates (21), brother, coal miner, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[4] Samuel Yeates (19), brother, coal miner, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[5] Charles Yeates (17), brother, coal miner, born Norton, Staffordshire;

[6] Mrs. Heath (28), boarder, born Norton, Staffordshire:

Lichfield Mercury 14/3/ 1913

"The draw for the semi-final of the of the Pelsall Challenge Cup took place at the WHITE LION Hotel, Pelsall, and resulted as follows: Heath End Villa v. Brownhills Excelsior. Chasetown Swifts v. Boatman's Rest Mission. The date of the matches is left in the hands of the secretary."

Walsall Observer 14/2/1914

"On Saturday the members of the Poor Man's Friend Lodge, No.560, of the Nottingham, Order of Oddfellows, celebrated their 50th anniversary of the foundation of the lodge, at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, when about 40 members and friends sat down to a repast provided by the host, Bro. James Yates, who is also treasurer of the lodge. When the cloths has been withdrawn, Bro. Job Poxon was voted to the chair, and Bro. Joseph Richardson to the vice-chair....."

Lichfield Mercury 25/6/1915

"The County Coroner (Mr. Gerald C. Lewis) held an inquest at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, respecting the deaths of John Edward Hassall (4) and William Hassall (3), sons of a miner named John Hassall, of High Bridge Row, Pelsall, whose dead bodies were recovered from the Birmingham Canal on Wednesday week.

The evidence of the mother, Florence Mary Hassall, showed that the boys left home about 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Later she could not find them, and she notified the police. She had previously whipped them for playing near the canal.

Pc Rushton stated the children were reported as missing on Tuesday afternoon, and the bodies were recovered from the canal near High Bridge on Wednesday. Death appeared to have been caused by drowning. Witness thought the children had got through some iron railings on to the towing path and had fallen in whilst at play.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1921

"The annual licensing sessions for the Rushall Division were held on Monday.....

All the licenses would be renewed with the exception of.....

WHITE LION, Pelsall.....

In these cases, alterations were necessary, and the Bench would defer consideration until they had visited the premises and inspected the plans."

Lichfield Mercury 11/8/1922

"On Monday last a pigeon flying sweepstake, promoted by the Royal George Homing Society, from the WHITE LION, Pelsall at the respective pens, a distance about 1½ miles. Twenty-three birds were liberated in rather unfavourable weather, with the following result: 1. T. Horobin (£3 10s), velocity 1,398 yards; 2. E. Breeze (£1 15s), velocity 1,305.80 yards; 3. G. Jones (£1), velocity 1,305.49 yards. Time keepers Messrs T. Dorsett and B. Mills."

Walsall Observer 20/12/1924

"Members of the Pelsall Ex-Servicemen's Bowling Club met at a most enjoyable supper at the WHITE LION INN, on Saturday evening last, when prizes were presented....."

Lichfield Mercury 13/3/1926

"At the Adjourned Licensing Meeting for the Rushall Division on Monday, objections to two houses were considered.....

The other house objected to, also on the ground of redundancy, was the WHITE LION, Wolverhampton Road, Pelsall, owned by the Stafford Brewery Company.

Inspector Skeeratt said the trade was 4½ barrel a week. The property was old and the trade was bad. The population in the parish was 196. The ex-Servicemen had their club at the house, and there was also a bowling green and a cricket and football field. Mr. Jackson, for the owners and licensee, put in a petition for renewal, and looking at the signatures Mr. E. H. Barnett (a magistrate) said it would be a veritable god-send to the wives and children if some of the men were precluded from having drink. For the Walsall Temperance Society, Mr. A. V. Haden opposed the renewal of the licenses. The houses were referred to the compensation authority.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1929

“A meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 15th inst. last.....

Mr. William Yates, WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Lichfield Mercury 23/3/1934

“Clarion C.C. Run.....

An invitation to all cyclists is extended, and new members will be cordially welcomed, starting from the WHITE LION, Pelsall, at 10 o’clock.”

Lichfield Mercury 22/3/1935 - Auction Sales Summary

“Tuesday, March 26th. Poultry Sale at the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall, by South & Stubbs.”

Walsall Observer 29/4/1939

“At the back of the WHITE LION at Pelsall, the licensee, Mr. D. Nicholls, has a miniature zoo, the animals being accommodated in a disused club room. The collection includes various types of wild cats and monkeys among the latter being a baby mandrill and its mother, an Indian racoon, eagle owls, wallabies and a wombat. Mr. Nicholls had been taking lessons on the habits and correct feeding of the animals from Mr. H. Young, a keeper for Mr. J. Parry, who owns the animals. All the animals appear to be good tempered and harmless.”

Richard Nicholls = Richard Nichols

1939 Register

Lichfield Road, Pelsall – WHITE LION Public House

[1] Richard Nichols, date of birth 4/5/1883, publican, married;

[2] Winifred Nichols, dob 6/2/1903, domestic duties and assistant, married;

[3] Stanley A. Crane, dob 18/4/1896, wholesale clothing, despatch manager, single:

Walsall Observer 3/4/1943

“‘It was a sudden touch,’ said a ten year old boy, pleading guilty at Aldridge Junior Court yesterday (Friday) to a summons for stealing on February 17, the sum of £5 19s 6d from Richard Nicholls, the licensee of the WHITE LION INN, Pelsall.

The Clerk (Mr. Frank Cooper): You know what will happen to you if you have these sudden touches, don’t you? – The boy: Yes Sir, I shall be sent away.

The magistrates (Mrs. Sanbrook and Messrs I. D. Stokes and F. G. Peake) decided to give the boy a second chance and dismissed the case under the First Offenders Act. In answer to Mr. Stokes the lad said he would like to join the Scouts.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/1/1948

“Mrs. Ann Astbury, who died on Sunday, aged 60, at the Anglesey Hotel, Hednesford, where her son-in-law, Mr. L. Bridgart, is the licensee, was a representative of the second of three generations of licensees. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Nicholls, who kept the WHITE LION, Pelsall, and the Swan Hotel, Cannock, and after her marriage she moved with her husband, Mr. G. Astbury, to the Swan Inn, Great Wyrley. She was a very good air-gun shot, and won many competitions in the district.”

WHITE ROSE

81, Lower Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Matthews

William Horton, Walhouse Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

Joseph Shutt [1858] – [1863]
Benjamin Cooper [1864] – [1870]
John Ricketts [1871] – [1872];
William Horton [1875] – 1891);
Frank Swindells (1891 – 1892);
John Peale (1892 – 1895);
Isaac Swindells (1895 – 1896);
Edward Walker (1896 – 1902);
Jane Walker (1902 – 1904);
John Westley (1904 – 1906);
Hannah Lines (1906 – 1907);
William Rollins (1907 – 1910);

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It was originally known as the ROSE, SHAMROCK AND THISTLE.

J. Shutt, beerhouse, 81, Lower Rushall Street. [1858]

Joseph Shutt, beer retailer, Lower Rushall Street. [1861]

1861 Census

81, Lower Rushall Street – WHITE ROSE INN

- [1] Joseph Shutt (40), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Anne Shutt (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Jane Shutt (19), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] William Shutt (16), son, currier's apprentice, born Walsall;
- [5] Emily Shutt (12), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Fanny Shutt (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Clara Shutt (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Alice Shutt (1), daughter, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 28/2/1863 - Advert

“The WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall St.

To Be Let, the above excellent House, now kept by Mr. J. Shutt, situate as above.

Apply on the premises.”

[This was repeated in March and April.]

Benjamin Cooper, beer retailer, 81, Lower Rushall Street. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

Walsall Free Press 8/7/1865

“Benjamin Cooper, beer-house keeper, Lower Rushall Street, pleaded guilty to having had his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours; but stated that the liquor was drawn in his absence by the servant. As this was the defendant's first offence, he was fined in the mitigated sum of 2s 6d and costs.”

1871 Census

81, Lower Rushall Street – retail beerhouse

- [1] John Ricketts (27), chainmaker and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Betsy Ricketts (22), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Caroline Ricketts (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Samuel Ricketts (3), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Roger Burns (24), boarder, chainmaker's assistant, born Walsall;
- [6] John Roberts (20), boarder, chainmaker's assistant, born Walsall;
- [7] Cady Price (40), boarder, coal miner, born Walsall:

John Ricketts, beer retailer, 81, Lower Rushall Street. [1872]

John Ricketts – see also CROWN AND ANCHOR, West Bromwich Street.

Midland Counties Evening Express 21/5/1875

“William Horton, WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having his house open illegally. The defendant said he simply fetched some beer and gave it to a man without payment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1876

“Frank Coleman, a young man, was charged with having, on Saturday night, been drunk and disorderly in the WHITE ROSE INN, Lower Rushall Street, and also with having, at the same time and place, assaulted William Malliber. He was fined 10s and costs for the first named offence and ordered to pay costs in the second.”

1881 Census

81, Lower Rushall Street

- [1] William Horton (37), harness maker and beer retailer, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriet Horton (39), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Eliza Horton (15), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Ada B. Horton (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William J. Horton (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Harriet Ball (75), mother, widow, born Walsall;
- [7] Sarah Ann Lawson (16), servant, born Bridgetown:

Walsall Observer 7/12/1889

“William Hinks, 68, Lower Rushall Street, was charged with refusing to quit the WHITE ROSE public house, with being drunk and disorderly in Rushall Street, and with assaulting Police-constable Marsden on the 23rd inst [sic]. Mr. Cotterell appeared for William Horton, the landlord of the public house, who stated that defendant and his brother went to his house, and that a disturbance arose between them. He sent for a policeman to eject them. When they were outside defendant pulled off his belt, and ran towards witness, who got into the house and shut the door. Defendant then broke a pane of glass. Police-constable Marsden deposed that when he arrived prisoner and his brother attacked him, prisoner hitting him in the mouth with a jug, while the brother jumped on his back. A fine of 20s and costs, or a month’s imprisonment in default, was inflicted.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/12/1889

“William Horton, of the WHITE ROSE INN, Rushall Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness. Mr. J. N. Cotterell defended.

The case for the police was that Police-constable Marston was called on the evening of November 23rd to eject two brothers of the name of Hinks. These persons were both drunk, assaulted him, and one of them was locked up, the other managing to escape. They were each now summoned as witnesses, and stated that they were in the house all afternoon and were sober when they went in. David Hinks said he was at the house till five, and then left, but was so drunk that he could not tell when he returned. William Hinks said he was there all the time till he was put out, and was perfectly sober when he went in.

Mr. Cotterell said they admitted that the persons were in the house during the afternoon, but said they left and returned in a drunken condition, and simply because the landlord called in police assistance to eject them, the police charged him with permitting drunkenness.

Two of the Magistrates thought the case proved and two thought it was not, so the defendant had the benefit, and the case was dismissed.”

1891 Census

81, Lower Rushall Street – WHITE ROSE

- [1] Frank Swindells (40), publican and clerk, born Burslem, Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Swindells (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Herbert Swindells (12), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Maud Swindells (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Emma A. Swindells (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Frank Swindells (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Clara Swindells (2), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Florence T. Yale (14), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/5/1891

“Frank Swindells applied to have transferred to him the licence of the WHITE ROSE, Rushall Street. It transpired that he had had a temporary authority, but had not given the requisite notices for the transfer; and the Chief Constable drew the attention of the Bench to the case of the Queen v the Justices of Swansea, in which it was held that no person could have a second temporary authority. Under these circumstances the applicant was advised to consult a solicitor.”

Isaac Swindells, beer retailer, 81, Lower Rushall Street. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 5/1/1895

“Father And Son.

Re John Peate, formerly of the EAGLE INN, 54, Lower Rushall Street, now of the WHITE ROSE, 81, Lower Rushall Street, foreman harness maker and licensed victualler.

The assets were £144 17s 6d, and the liabilities, £409 15s 10d.

Mr. W. Pearman-Smith was for the bankrupt, and Mr. Craddock appeared for Mr. Oakley, a creditor.

Bankrupt in answer to the Official Receiver, said that up till 1864 he worked as a journeyman harness-furniture maker. He then commenced business without capital in Wolverhampton Street, where he traded for six years, when he was sold up under an execution. His assets were £2, and his liabilities £195 19s 3d. No dividend was paid. Subsequently he obtained his discharge, and in 1873 joined Mr. Charles Crook in partnership. Mr. Crook found all the capital, and they traded together till 1883, when the partnership was dissolved, he paying Crook £700 for his interest. The money he raised by selling stock and offering a large discount to those that owed him money. He traded alone till 1883, when he made arrangements with his creditors, and sold the business. His assets were then £10, and his liabilities £1,300. His creditors accepted a composition of 1s 6d in the pound, which he paid by instalments. In 1892 he sold his business and plant for £200 to Mr. E. Eglinton, and he had since managed the concern at a wage of £2 10s a week. Last month he received notice that his wage would be reduced to £1 10s a week. In 1893 he took a five years' lease on the EAGLE INN, paying £61 for fixtures, and giving £25 and bills for £75 for the lease. The license was now in the name of his son George, who entered into possession in June 1893. The transfer was made in consequence of his inability to hold two beerhouse licenses. He paid George 18s a week, and gave him his keep. In 1891 he and Mr. George Dant together assisted Mr. Frank Swindles, the tenant of the WHITE ROSE beershop, Lower Rushall Street, with small advances and became sureties for upwards of £200. Swindles being unable to pay, bankrupt and Dant took to the WHITE ROSE in the hope of reimbursing themselves. The bankrupt and his son George Henry having been jointly sued by a money lender for which the son was surety, and an execution been levied upon each of them, both filed their petitions. Mr. Dant was still carrying on the business of the WHITE ROSE partnership, which, however, was insolvent and showed a deficiency of £423 0s 7d. He attributed his bankruptcy to want of capital, borrowing money at heavy interest, and bad trade.

By Mr. Craddock: He had not applied to Mr. Oakley for a loan of £100 with which to take the BARLEY MOW."

1901 Census

81, Lower Rushall Street

[1] Edward Walker (57), beer retailer, born Birmingham;

[2] Jane Walker (58), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Henry Hadzed (24), boarder, brushmaker, born Walsall;

[4] Clara Jebber (20), servant, born Willenhall:

John Westley, beer retailer, 197, Pleck Road. [1904]

Walsall Advertiser 22/12/1906

"Transfers. Beer Retailers (on).....

WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, from John Arthur Westley (administrator of the estate of John Westley, deceased), to Hannah Lines."

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1907

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week.

Mr. William Rollins, WHITE ROSE INN, Lower Rushall Street, was unanimously elected member of the society."

Walsall Advertiser 2/3/1907

"The adjourned annual licensing meeting for the borough was held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.

The Bench also sanctioned the following other transfers.

WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, from Hannah Rollins (formerly Lines) to her husband, William Rollins."

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

"The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.

Mr. Jackson appeared for the owner, William Horton, and the licensee, William Rollins, in the case of the WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street. It was explained that it was an ante-'69 beerhouse. The tenancy was £40 per year.

Chief Inspector Ballance said it was an old house, and rather difficult of supervision.

Mr. Jackson said that the average takings were £20 per week, and it was absolutely a 'free.' The trade was increasing.

The tenant gave evidence, and said that he did not give the 'long pull.' Three-quarters of the beer sold was consumed on the premises."

Walsall Advertiser 26/2/1910

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Friday, when Sir Edward Holden presided.

The ACORN, MALT SHOVEL, and WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, MANDAMUS ARMS, Stafford Street, and the SHINGLERS ARMS, Birchills were referred for compensation."

The license was surrendered on 25th February 1910.

Walsall Advertiser 14/5/1910

“The Licensing Act, 1904.

Notice of Principal Meeting. County Borough of Walsall.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1904, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Guildhall, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1910, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.....

List Of Licensed Premises.....

WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street. Beerhouse. Licensee William Rollins.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/6/1910

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week, at the house of Mr. William Rollins, WHITE ROSE INN, Lower Rushall Street.....

A unanimous vote was carried expressing the regret the meeting felt that Mr. W. Rollins was leaving the house and their hope that he might speedily take another, and that his future might be even more happy and prosperous than his past.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/10/1915 - Deaths

“On the 13th inst, at ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, William Rollins, aged 60 years.”

AND

“The death took place on Wednesday of Mr. William Rollins, licensee of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street. Mr. Rollins, who was aged 60, was very well-known in football circles throughout the Midland and in some other parts of the country. For some years he was a First League referee, in which capacity he officiated at a large number of important matches. He was also vice-president of the Walsall Football Association, his lengthy connection with which was commemorated by the possession of a long service medal. Before going to the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Mr. Rollins held the license of the WHITE ROSE, Lower Rushall Street, and the Grove Tavern, Great Barr, and for nearly nine years he had been a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ Society.”

WHITE SWAN

Chapel Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Lees [1861]

NOTES

1861 Census

Chapel Street – WHITE SWAN INN

[1] Thomas Lees (51), pointsman, London and North Western Railway, born Pleck;

[2] Jane Lees (48), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Thomas Lees (21), son, engine tender, born Pleck;

[4] Isaac Lees (19), son, agricultural labourer, born Pleck;

[5] Jane Lees (17), daughter, born Pleck;

[6] Emma Lees (12), daughter, scholar, born Pleck;

[7] Rosa Lees (9), daughter, scholar, born Pleck;

[8] Eli Lees (6), son, scholar, born Pleck;

[9] Matilda Lees (2), daughter, born Pleck:

WHITE SWAN

52, (32), Dudley Street / Bath Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

William Careless, silver plater, Station Street, (later at Birmingham Road), Walsall

William Blencowe and Co. Ltd.
John Toon
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Joseph Careless [1818] – [1822]
George Forster [1828] – [1830]
Joshua Roper [1834] – [1835]
Benjamin Bentley [1841] – [1842]
Mrs. Sarah Carless [1845]
John Osbourn [1849] – [1851]
James Osbourn [1858] – [1861]
James Ashbourn [1862]
Joshua Careless [1864] – [1865]
Samuel Harding Bonas [1868] – [1881]
Mary Bonas [] – 1890;
Jabez Hill (1890);
William Vann (1890 – 1892);
John Hanley (1892 – 1894);
Edward Smith (1894 – 1895);
Benjamin George Tuck (1895 – 1899);
John Toon (1899 – 1923);
Bernard Dagman (1923 – 1924);
Arthur James Breakwell (1924);
Harry Salt (1924 – 1927);
Thomas Ernest Blud (1927 – 1930);
John Henry Brotherton (1930 – 1931);
Sidney Ritchings (1931 – 1936);
David Davies (1936 – 1937);
Samuel Roberts (1937 – 1938);
George Humphries (1938);

NOTES

52, Dudley Street [1860], [1861], [1881], [1908], [1932]
32, Dudley Street [1871]

SWAN [1845], [1850]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/2/1829 - Died

“On the 24th inst, at Handsworth, Mr. Joseph Careless, late of the WHITE SWAN, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1829

“The members of a respectable lodge of females, established at the WHITE SWAN INN, Dudley Street, Walsall, under the denomination of ‘Friendly and Benevolent Sisters,’ met at their club-house on Monday, the 13th instant, and at twelve o’clock went in procession for St. Paul’s Chapel, where an appropriate sermon was preached by the Rev. Thomas Rogers, A.M., Minister. After the sermon they paraded through the principal streets back to the inn, where their annual feast was provided, and where they spent the afternoon in much harmony and good humour. The day being fine the dresses worn were shown to great advantage, and each female had a blue silk scarf over her habiliments.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/3/1831 - Advert

“WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, Walsall.

To be disposed of by private Contract, the Goodwill, Licenses, and Possession of that old-established house, the WHITE SWAN, in Dudley Street. There are several Clubs attached, consisting of upwards of five hundred members. The premises are in good condition, very convenient and entire, the club room, 71 feet by 16 feet, excellent cellars and stabling.

The Stock will be kept low, and the coming-in will be moderate.

To treat apply (if by letter, post-paid), to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/5/1831 - Advert

“The WHITE SWAN Public House, in Dudley Street, Walsall.

By E. Jukes. To be Sold by Auction (without reserve), on the premises, on Friday the 10th of June next, at four o’clock in the afternoon (unless in the mean time disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given), the Licenses, Good-will, and Possession of the very respectable and old established house, the WHITE SWAN, with Stabling, eligibly situated in Dudley Street. The stock is reduced purposely to suit a tenant. The usual effects to be taken at a fair valuation. To treat apply (if by letter, post-paid), to E. Jukes, Land Surveyor and Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/12/1831 - Advert

“To be Let, and may be entered upon the 28th of January next, that old-established and well known Public House, the WHITE SWAN, in Dudley Street, Walsall.

For Rent and particulars enquire of the Rev. William Cowley, Rushall, or Mr. Thomas Oerton, Dudley Street, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/2/1835 - Advert

“To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that well-known and extensive Public House, the WHITE SWAN, in Dudley Street, Walsall.

To treat for the same apply to the Rev. Wm. Cowley Marshall, or to Mr. Thomas Oerton, Dudley Street, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1842

“On Monday last, at the Guildhall, Walsall, William Phillips, a brush maker, residing in the Wisemore, was charged with felony and embezzlement of the money belonging to the ‘Pride of the Valley’ Lodge, Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, held at the SWAN INN, Dudley Street. The prisoner was Secretary to the above lodge, and C.S. of the district, and was paid for his services; he had the collecting of all moneys; and it was his duty to enter in a cash book kept for the purpose, the amounts received by him, and pay the same over to the officers or host of the society, on their night of meeting. Mr. Stephen Jarrett, of Tipton stated that on the 8th December last, he paid William Phillips 7s 6d for contribution due from him to the above lodge – which sum the prisoner had not accounted for. The court was crowded with members of the various Lodges, who seemed anxious to watch the proceedings. The funds of the society are collected by small contributions from members, and are distributed among the sick, the distressed, the widows and orphans of deceased members. The prisoner who declined making any defence at the present stage of the proceedings, was committed for trial at the next borough Sessions.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/7/1842

“Walsall General Sessions.

Acquitted..... William Phillips who was charged with embezzling money entrusted to him as secretary of the Odd Fellows’ Lodge, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/9/1843 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that good and old-established Public House, known by the sign of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, Walsall. The fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

A Lodge of the Manchester Order of Odd Fellows, consisting of upwards of 120 members, is held at the above house.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/12/1847

“The notice recently published of an intention to apply to Parliament for powers to make certain alterations or improvements in the borough of Walsall – among others, the removal of the market from High Street, and the erection of a market hall in Goodhall Street – has excited the attention of the rate-payers, a meeting of whom was held on Wednesday evening at Mr. John Marshall’s, High Street, when it was unanimously resolved to call a general meeting to ‘consider the notice given by the Town Council to their intention to apply for an Act of Parliament, involving very considerable alteration and expense on the borough.’ The meeting was to be held at the WHITE SWAN INN, Dudley Street, last evening. Other meetings will probably follow, and are likely to result in a petition against the removal of the market.”

John Osbourn = John Osborne

He was also collector of the poor rates and an auctioneer. [1849], [1850]

Birmingham Journal 17/2/1855

“Walsall Races For 1855. On Wednesday evening a meeting of the committee was held at the house of Mr. J. Osbourne, clerk of the course, the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street. Mr. James Lynex, chairman of the committee, presided. The eminent success that attended the last race meeting appears to have had its effect in spurring on the committee to ‘more adventurous deeds.’ Two new handicaps will be announced, and the executive seemed determined to elevate the forthcoming meeting in the scale of provincial sporting reunions. A detailed programme will be advertised in due time.”

1861 Census

52, Dudley Street

[1] James Osbourn (37), currier and publican, born Walsall;

[2] Jane Osbourn (26), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Clara Osbourn (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Frank Osbourn (1), son, born Walsall;

[5] Mary A. Lowbridge (18), house servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/8/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a General Servant, from 16 to 19 years of age.
Apply at the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street.”

Walsall Free Press 13/7/1867 - Advert

“Wanted, a Maid of all work; one from the country preferred.
Apply, WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street.”

Walsall Free Press 5/11/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, a respectable Servant Girl, about 16.
Apply, WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street.”

1871 Census

32, Dudley Street

- [1] Samuel H. Bonas (35), hair dresser and publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Bonas (32), wife, born Luffenham, Rutland;
- [3] Herbert L. Bonas (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur L. Bonas (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie F. Bonas (3), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Bonas (11 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Ellen Hawkins (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1881 Census

52, Dudley Street

- [1] Samuel H. Bonas (45), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Mary Bonas (42), wife, born Nottingham;
- [3] Herbert Bonas (17), son, black saddler, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Bonas (14), son, silver plater, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Bonas (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Sarah Bonas (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Alice Bonas (6), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Harry Bonas (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Elizabeth Croft (24), general servant, born Bedworth:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1890

“At the Walsall Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, J. Thorpe, W. E. Blyther, and J. Lindop, and Captain Brooks, further applications for singing, and dancing licenses were heard....

William Vann, the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street applied in person for a singing and music license for Tuesday and Friday evenings. Refused.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/1/1897

“Benjamin George Tuck, landlord of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours on Sunday morning.

Detective-inspector Cliffe was on watch when a man named Alfred Cowley, on seeing him, decamped. Cliffe gave chase and Cowley was caught, a bottle containing rum being found in his possession. It transpired that man named Bailey had been served with the rum for Cowley, who had the rum from Bailey.

Cowley, who now lives in Tantarra Street, now attended a subpoena, and deposed that Bailey got sixpennyworth of rum for him. In answer to Mr. Jackson, Cowley said nothing about his being ill.

Mr. Jackson, who defended admitted that the rum was supplied to Bailey, but urged that something was said about someone being ill. Defendant had kept the house for two years without complaint, and was now on his own notice to leave.

Defendant gave evidence in support of Mr. Jackson’s statement.

A fine of 40s and costs was imposed, the Chairman remarking that the license would not be endorsed this time.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1897

“Walsall Police Court, Monday. The following transfers were granted Temporary Authority.....

John Toon, WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 20/3/1897

“Edward Smith (47), 8a, Long Street, labourer, was charged with stealing a pair of child’s socks, from the shop of Fleming, Reid, and Co., on the 16th instant.

John Kelley, a boy, of Portland Street, in the employ of the prosecutors, was behind a curtain in the shop when prisoner asked for a child’s vest, and while he was being supplied Kelly saw him take the socks from a box. Accused by Lizzie Busst, the manageress, of taking the socks, he denied the charge, but eventually pulled them out of his pocket. A policeman was sent for, but when he arrived prisoner had departed. He was, however, followed, and was pointed to Police-constable 40 (Glover), who arrested and charged him, when prisoner replied, 'I went to buy a vest for a child, and I put these in my pocket, but I meant to pay for them. It's the drink that's done it.'

Prisoner now pleaded 'not guilty,' and stoutly denied that he put the socks in his pocket. He maintained that he was to pay 8d for the vest, and 5d for the socks, and had a two-shilling piece with which to pay for them. This, however, was denied by witness. Prisoner, it transpired, kept the WHITE SWAN in Dudley Street about two years ago. He was now fined 5s and costs, or seven days."

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

"Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday.....

Since the 31st of August, 1896, seven licensees had been proceeded against, two of whom were convicted, viz.....

8th January, George Tuck, WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, fined 40s and costs for selling during prohibited hours.

Objection to renewal.....

In the case of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, the Chief Constable said there was a certain window which overlooked the premises, through which window liquors were supplied at the time of the offence.

Mr. H. H. Jackson, on behalf of the licensee, said the latter was willing to have a grating placed over the window. He (Mr. Jackson) was perfectly willing to give an undertaking for everything to be done to the satisfaction of the Chief Constable. Opposition withdrawn."

Walsall Advertiser 11/3/1903

"John Toon, SWAN INN, Dudley Street, was summoned for allowing his horse to stray in Belvidere Road, on March, 30th, and Alfred Allen, THREE CROWNS, Sutton Road, was charged with a similar offence.

Police-constable Maskell proved the cases, and defendants were ordered to pay the costs."

Walsall Advertiser 2/4/1904

"John Toon, of the WHITE SWAN INN, Dudley Street, was summoned (1) for permitting drunkenness; (2) for selling drink to a drunken person on March 21st; and Thomas Moffatt, of 13, Bath Street, a plasterer's labourer, was summoned for being drunk on licensed premises at the same time and place.

Sergeant Evans said that he and Police-constable Lloyd found the man Moffatt sitting in the SWAN INN in a kind of a doze, and with his hands supporting his head. The man was under the influence of drink, and there was an empty jug in front of him. Witness had some difficulty in arousing him, and then told him to go, which he did. The landlord said, 'He's been working till seven o'clock, and has been here since; he has had a drop, I know. I am sorry it has happened, but I try to conduct my house like an Englishman.'

Cross-examined by Mr. H. H. Jackson (who defended) he said he was not aware that the eyesight of plasterer's labourers was affected by the lime they used. He was satisfied that the man was drunk.

Mr. Jackson: He was deep in thought and meditation (laughter).

Police-constable Lloyd also gave evidence, and said that the man Moffatt was drunk. Asked how he knew, Lloyd remarked, 'Well if anyone saw me dozing in a public house I should think I was drunk,' (laughter).

Dr. Lynch: I suppose, Lloyd, you have an intuitive knowledge and can tell when a man is drunk?

The officer said he thought he knew a drunken man when he saw one (laughter).

Mr. Jackson, addressing the magistrates, said that the publican had just erected a little brewery at a cost of £2,000, and that the property was his own. He was a man who had been employed by Messrs. Kirkpatrick for 20 years, and had put all his savings into this public-house. Was it likely he would risk his whole livelihood by selling a drunken man a pint of beer? The real state of things was that Moffatt had bad eyes owing to working as a plasterer, and that he was shading his eyes from the fire when the police came in. The man was perfectly sober, and had only had three half-pints. He was a very respectable man, who had fought at the Battle of Ulundi, and had gone through the Zulu and Egyptian campaigns.

The landlord and Moffatt gave evidence in support of this, but Moffatt admitted, in reply to the police, that in 1898 he was fined for drunkenness.

Mr. Jackson submitted that it was most unfair to bring up a charge of drunkenness eight years ago.

Mr. Thomson: But you are going back to the Battle of Ulundi.

The magistrates dismissed the case."

Walsall Advertiser 6/5/1905

"William George Lander, 27, and Albert Sadler, 26, two lost-looking young men described as labourers of no fixed abode, were charged with stealing a quantity of zinc and iron piping, value 1s, and also with doing damage to the property of John Toon, landlord of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street. Early on Saturday morning the prisoners passed Police-constable Thomas in George Street, and the officer followed them to a marine store dealer's. He examined a bag they had and found in it a quantity of zinc and iron piping, and charged them with stealing it. Lander at first said 'we got it in Victor Street,' but on the way to the police station said 'It's a fair cop; we pinched it.' Toon spoke to a portion of the stolen property having been taken from a brewhouse behind his premises.

Prisoners pleaded guilty, but said they found the property in the public house yard. Fourteen days' hard labour each."

Walsall Advertiser 2/10/1909

"At the Walsall Guildhall, on Thursday, Mr. H. H. Jackson, the Deputy Coroner, held an inquest concerning the death of Maria Toon, aged 69, of 23, Dudley Street, who died on Tuesday as the result of a fall downstairs on Saturday evening.

John Toon, licensee of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, son of deceased, stated that he was informed on Saturday evening that his mother had fallen downstairs, and after closing his premises at 11pm he went to the house, where he found her lying on the sofa in an unconscious state. He carried her upstairs to bed, and did not think at the time there was anything seriously the matter with her, as she did not appear to have received any injury, and he had seen her in the same unconscious state previously. On Sunday morning, she was still unconscious, and he sent for Dr. McKinstry. She never regained consciousness, and death took place about 7.30pm on Tuesday.

In reply to the Coroner, witness said he did not think there was anything the matter with his mother on Saturday evening, or he would have sent for a doctor then. His mother was unconscious for about a week some six months ago in consequence of a stroke. The Coroner: I put it to you as a reasonable sensible man, that the very fact of your mother having fallen downstairs and being unconscious, would have struck you that it would be important that a doctor should be sent for without delay. – Witness: Well, I did not think it was serious.

The Coroner: What time was the doctor sent for? – Witness: About 10 o'clock on Sunday morning.

A Juror: I should have thought it as well to send for a doctor on Saturday night. – Witness: Well, it was after 11 o'clock, and as she had previously been unconscious I thought we would wait and send for a doctor in the morning.

The Coroner: The very fact of the woman being unconscious suggests to my mind that a doctor should have been sent for at once. It gives a chance of doing something, although I don't suppose anything could have been done in this case.

Annie Hammond stated the deceased had lived with her for about eighteen months, and had been very feeble, particularly since she had a stroke about six months ago. On Saturday evening, as Mrs. Toon was going to bed, she slipped when she mounted four of five stairs, and fell backward to the bottom, apparently striking her head against the wall.

Dr. McKinstry deposed that he was called to deceased on Sunday morning, and on his arrival he found her lying on the bed with her clothes on. Her mouth was covered with dried blood, and there was blood on the clothing, as if she had been vomiting. The face was discoloured under both eyes, and the right arm and the right side of the face were paralysed. In his opinion death was due to haemorrhage of the brain, probably due to a fractured skull. Mrs. Toon had a stroke about six months ago and he attended her.

In summing up, the Coroner said it seemed to him that it would certainly have been more thoughtful and wiser if Mr. Toon had sent for a doctor as soon as he arrived, as that would have taken the responsibility out of his hands. At the same time, however, he did not think that the doctor could have done anything, and no doubt Mr. Toon did what he thought best.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1911 Census

Dudley Street – WHITE SWAN

- [1] John Toon (43), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Toon (43), wife, married 24 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Edgar Toon (23), son, plumber, born Walsall;
- [4] Edith Toon (21), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [5] John Charles Toon (16), son, tailor, born Walsall;
- [6] Gladys Rosalind Toon (6), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Mary Ann Beebee (22), servant, born Wolverhampton;

In May, 1912, Sarah Toon, wife of John Toon (landlord of the WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street), sister-in-law of the deceased, was a witness at the inquest of Maud Millie Mills, where the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against some person or persons unknown. This case was a major sensation at the time.

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916

“The adjourned licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, yesterday.....

WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street. The Chief Constable said the application in this case was to erect a scullery in the yard, and it was purely a matter of convenience. The case was adjourned for a month for plans to be deposited.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street. £1 1s 10d.”

John Toon was fined £5 and £3 3s 0d costs for selling gin above the maximum price, £5 for not exhibiting a Public Bar notice, and £5 for selling spirits from an unmarked receptacle, on 16th January 1920.

Benjamin Dagman = Benjamin Dagnan

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1923

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on the 16th inst.....

Mr. Benjamin Dagnan, WHITE SWAN, Dudley Street, was unanimously elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 19/1/1924 - Advert

“To Brewers and Others. Notice of Sale at Auction of the Valuable Freehold licensed property known as the WHITE SWAN INN, Walsall.

Occupying a Bold and Important Position in Dudley Street and Bath Street, having well arranged Trade and Living Accommodation, the entire Premises being in a capital state of Repair, and the position such that a large business must always be done.”

South Staffordshire Times 16/2/1924

“The sale of the freehold fully-licensed property, the SWAN INN, in Dudley Street and Bath Street, Walsall, was offered by auction on Tuesday by Alfred Dando and Co. and realised £1,950. Possession is given on completion of purchase.”

It closed on 5th May 1938.

The license was removed to new premises known as the GREEN ROCK TAVERN, Blakenall.

WHY NOT

8, (110), Western Street, Pleck, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Marlow, Western Street, Pleck, Walsall

LICENSEES

Isaiah Worley Snr. [1871] – 1883):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/6/1867

“E. Ford (alias Black Ned) of the Pleck, Walsall, not being satisfied with his late defeat, will fight M. Gleeson again at catch weight, for £25 a side. Money ready at the WHY NOT INN, Pleck, Walsall.”

1871 Census

110, Western Street

- [1] Isaiah Worley (51), iron worker and beer seller, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Nancy Worley (51), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] William Worley (19), son, iron worker, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Isaiah Worley (16), son, iron worker, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Joseph Worley (14), son, iron worker, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Thomas Worley (12), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Caroline Worley (12), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Charles Worley (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [9] Emiley Harrold (14), general servant, born West Bromwich:

1881 Census

8, Western Street – WHY NOT INN

- [1] Isaiah Worley (60), beerhouse keeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Ann Worley (59), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Thomas Worley (21), son, striker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Charles Worley (16), son, bucket maker, born Walsall;
- [5] Sidney Worley (2), grandson, born Walsall;
- [6] Annie Whitehouse (20), visitor, domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

No application was made for renewal of the license in 1883, the house had been demolished and works built on the site.

WINDMILL

43, (32), Bath Street / Orlando Street, (Prospect Row), (Prospect Place), (Windmill Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Abnett
John Holmes, Stafford Street, Walsall
Northampton Brewery Co. Ltd. [1890], [1900]
John Rogers [1904], [1915]
Frederick Smith Ltd. (acquired on 1st October 1937)
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1958]

LICENSEES

Joseph Hickin [1834] – [1838]
Benjamin Abnett [1841] – 1869);
John Abnett (1869 – 1890);
Ann Abnett (1890);
James Limb-Hoskin (1890 – 1892);
Annie Elizabeth Hoskin (1892 – 1893);
John William Hayward (1893 – 1894);
Samuel Vale (1894 – 1899);
Thomas Goodall Fox (1899 – 1902);
Margaret Fox (1902);
William Jonathan Crane (1902 – 1904);
John Rogers (1904 – 1919);
Samuel Edwin Holmes (1919 – 1937);
Joseph Henry Mason (1937 – 1957);
James Fern (1957 – 1959);

NOTES

Windmill Street [1834], [1845]
Prospect Row [1851]
Prospect Place [1851]
32, Bath Street [1858], [1860], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1873], [1881]
43, Bath Street [1891], [1896], [1903], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Joseph Hickin = Joseph Hicken

Joseph Hicken, retailer of beer, Windmill Street. [1835]

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/12/1838

“A numerous party (about 150) in the Reform Interest, assembled at Mr. Hickin’s, WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall, on Monday last, where an excellent dinner and good wines were provided. T. F. Wood, Esq, presided; and Mr. J. Oakley was the Vice-president. Among the company were F. Finch, Esq, MP, the Mayor of Walsall, Mr. G. Wynn, of Wolverhampton, &c, &c. We understand that several speeches were delivered advocating the cause of reform; but wholly disapproving of the proposition recently put forth of resorting to physical force to obtain the contemplated objects. On it being observed that the establishment of a Mechanics Institute in the town would probably soon be submitted for consideration, Mr. Finch said he would subscribe £100 towards the accomplishment of such a measure.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/12/1843

“George Holden of Walsall, and Edward Martin, alias Whiteheaded Bob, of Darlaston, are matched to fight for £20, according to new rules, £4 a side were deposited on Tuesday last at Mr. B. Abnett’s, WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall; a further deposit, of £3 a side, is to be put down on Tuesday next, at Mr. Thomas Butler’s, OLD CROWN, Darlaston; and the third and final deposit, of £3 a side, to be put down at Mr. B. Abnett’s, on Tuesday, the 12th inst. The fight to take place on the 19th inst, within 24 miles of Walsall. Holden not to exceed 8st 8lb, and Martin not to exceed 8st 7lb, on the morning of fighting.”

[The fight took place on 19th December, 1843, near the Tyburn Tree (Perry Barr), in Birmingham, in front of between three to four thousand people, it lasted 25 minutes (14 rounds) when George Holden knocked Whiteheaded Bob out.]

1851 Census

Prospect Place

- [1] Benjamin Abnett (41), victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Abnett (36), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Abnett (16), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] Benjamin Abnett (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Jane Brodhurst (29), servant, born Walsall;
- [6] Thomas Grimby (39), lodger, commercial traveller in wines and spirits, born Banbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/2/1852

“A ball took place at the house of Councillor Abnett, the WINDMILL TAVERN, on Thursday evening, the 20th ult, when upwards of 120 ‘friends of the dance’ met together to celebrate their annual meeting. Dancing commenced at about 8 o’clock, to some very resilient music of a Walsall quadrille band. The supper, which was a choice and abundant one, and the kind attention of Mr. and Mrs. Abnett, were deserving of all praise.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/6/1854

“George Stewart (under 13 years of age) will run Robinson (both of Walsall) five score yards, and give him two yards start for £5; or Taylor of the same place if he will give him four yards in the same distance and for the same sum; or Young Tonks of Welchfield on the same terms level. Either of the matches, or all, can be made by applying at Mr. Abnett’s, WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall; first come first served.”

Walsall Free Press 17/1/1857

“An enquiry was held by the borough corner, on Wednesday last, at the house of Mr. Abnett, WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on the body of a female infant, which had been found by the sexton, on the previous day, lying in the Chapel Burial-ground. Mr. D. S. Moore, surgeon, assisted by his brother, made a post-mortem examination of the body, when the latter gentleman identified it, by a protuberance on the back of the child, as the child of a married woman whom he had professionally attended on the previous Monday. He made some enquiries respecting it, and found his surmises were correct. The child had breathed, but died immediately after birth, and was given into the hands of a man lodging in the house to bury; but instead of doing this, he had dropped it over the wall of the burying ground. The mother of the child is named Elizabeth Harris, and resides at Price’s Lodging-house, Rushall Street. A verdict of Died by Natural Causes, was returned.”

1861 Census

32, Bath Street – WINDMILL TAVERN

- [1] Benjamin Abnett (51), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Abnett (47), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Benjamin Abnett (17), son, apprentice, born Walsall;
- [4] Eliza Upton (18), general servant, born Walsall:

Bell Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/9/1862

“Young George Holden takes a benefit on Monday, Sept 22, at Mr. Abnett’s, WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall, when Bob Brettle had promised to attend, and show his belts and cups. Holden and Peter Morris will, as a finish, fight their battle again.”

Walsall Free Press 19/9/1863 - Notice

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society.

The Annual Dinner of the above Society will be held at Mr. Robert Leighton’s, the DRAGON INN, on Thursday, October 1st, 1836, when the Company of any Gentleman will be esteemed a favour.

Mr. Councillor Thomas Hazledine has kindly consented to take the Chair.

Mr. George Bayley, Vice Chairman.

Dinner on the Table at Four o’clock precisely.

Tickets 2s 6d each may be had from Mr. Abnett, WINDMILL TAVERN.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/1/1864

“W. Roundhead of Walsall will make a match with either W. Pool or his novice of the WINDMILL, near Walsall, for £15 or £25 a side. Articles can be signed any night next week at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/3/1869

At the Guildhall, Monday, the following transfers took place.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Caldmore, from the executor of the late Benjamin Abnett to John Abnett.”

Walsall Free Press 22/5/1869

“Yesterday afternoon, A. A. Fletcher, Esq, Coroner for the Borough, held an inquest upon the body of George Garrington, aged 72, labourer. From the evidence, it appeared deceased – who has been in rather delicate health for some time – was at work at Field Gate turning a shaking machine about four o’clock on Thursday afternoon, when he dropped and exclaimed ‘The Lord have mercy upon me,’ and in a few minutes afterwards he expired. The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

1871 Census

Bath Street – WINDMILL TAVERN

- [1] John Abnett (36), publican and carpenter, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Abnett (37), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Sarah Abnett (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann M. Abnett (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Samuel Abnett (3), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Emily Abnett (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [7] Emily Smith (19), general servant, born Potteries:

John Abnett was also a builder. [1872]

Walsall Free Press 26/4/1873 - Advert

“Numerous Lots Of Building Land, at Doveridge, Walsall.

Messrs. Farrington & Son, at Mr. Abnett's Club Room, at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on Tuesday, the 20th May, 1873, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1873

“John Abnett, landlord of the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, was summoned for having infringed the Licensing Act. Mr. Glover, solicitor, to the Licensed Victuallers' Association defended.

On Wednesday night, at twelve o'clock, Sergeant Mason was passing the house, he heard some person laughing inside, and the landlord and Messrs. Joseph Beebee, Simms, Matthew Jennings, and James Whittall in the bar. Three glasses of brandy were on the table, and whilst he was there Mr. Penzer came in. The defendant told him that the persons in the house were friends of his, and that he had invited them to have a glass with him, and there had been a dispute about municipal matters.

Mr. Glover said he admitted the statement to be true, and therefore there would be no need to corroborate evidence. The facts of the case were that there had been a meeting of the Licensed Victuallers' Association in the house, and at eleven o'clock the house was closed. The gentlemen whose names had been given then waited upon defendant as a deputation from the association to request him to allow himself to be put forward as a candidate for St. George's Ward. He refused to do so however, and in return for their kindness asked them to take a glass at his expense.

The defendant and Mr. J. Beebee gave evidence bearing on the statement made by Mr. Glover, and the Bench dismissed the case, remarking that they thought the parties concerned were 'too old to be caught.' They were perfectly satisfied, however, Sergeant Mason had done quite right in bringing the matter before them, and in this Mr. Glover concurred.”

Walsall Free Press 6/12/1873

“Caldmore Association For The Prosecution Of Felons. On Thursday evening the anniversary of this association was held at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, where the members and their friends sat down to an excellent dinner, which was served in a style highly creditable to Mr. Abnett and his assistants. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. Bayliss, president of the association, who was supported on his right by Mr. R. W. Brownhill (Mayor), and on the left by Mr. Cotterell, solicitor of the association. The vice-chair was occupied by Mr. G. Wilkes, vice-president, who was supported by Mr. S. Mills, sen., treasurer, and Mr. Elkington, secretary of the association.....”

John Abnett was fined 20s and costs, on 18th March 1874, for Sunday trading.

Midland Counties Evening Express 1/2/1875

“John Abnett, landlord of the WINDMILL TAVERN, was fined £1 and costs, for permitting persons to be on his premises after 11 o'clock on the night of Thursday last.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/2/1877

“Walsall Liberal Association.

Last night a dinner, to inaugurate the St. George's Ward branch of the above named association, took place at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall. Alderman E. T. Holden presided, Councillors E. Oerton and T. Evans occupying the vice-chairs.....”

Walsall Advertiser 20/12/1879 - Advert

“Ratepayer's Protection Society.

The Next Meeting of this Association, will be held at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on Monday Next, at 8 o'clock. Ratepayers are earnestly requested to attend. The costs of membership is one shilling per annum.

By Order, H. M. Christie, Hon. Sec.”

Lichfield Mercury 26/11/1880

“Walsall Football Association.

A meeting of the above Association was held on Thursday the 18th inst, at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Walsall. The chief business of the meeting was to draw for the second ties in the Challenge Cup Competition, which have to be played off on or before the 1st of January, 1881. The draw resulted as follows: Walsall Alma v. Walsall Athletic; Fishley Rovers v. Walsall St. Paul's; Walsall

White Star v. Walsall Villa; Brownhills v. Walsall Swifts; Walsall St. Mary's v. Walsall Universal; Rushall Villa, a bye."

1881 Census

32, Bath Street

- [1] John Abnett (46), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Ann Abnett (47), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Sarah Abnett (19), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Maria Abnett (16), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Nellie Abnett (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Lizzie Plant (22), general servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Observer 9/5/1885

"A large and influential meeting of licensed victuallers and retail brewers was held on Thursday evening, at the WINDMILL TAVERN, to consider what steps the trade should take to enable them to meet the recent increases of duties on ales and spirits. Mr. J. Abnett presided.

A long and animated discussion ensued, during which the procedure of the Government was severely criticised. More especially was it remarked that when these increased burdens are laid upon the supposed luxuries of the working classes, the luxuries of the rich, in the shape of champagne and other wines, are let go free. It was eventually decided that, instead of either reducing the strength and quality of the spirits sold, they should be charged one halfpenny per glass extra, and also that no table beer should be sold at less than 2d per quart. This rise to take effect from Monday ensuing."

Walsall Advertiser 19/2/1889 - Advert

"Caldmore Cricket And Athletic Club require the services of a capable Man as Groundsman. Apply by letter before Wednesday next, Hon. Sec., WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street."

John Abnett was fined 40s and costs, on 13th September 1889, for keeping open on Sunday the 8th inst.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1890

"Mr. J. Abnett, for many years president of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Association, died yesterday morning at his residence, the WINDMILL TAVERN, after a long and painful illness."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1890

"Adjourned Licensing Sessions. The business from the annual licensing session last week took place at the Guildhall yesterday.... With regard to the WINDMILL TAVERN, which had been adjourned for information as to the proposed alterations. Mr. J. N. Cotterell produced plans, and offered Mr. Laurie, of the Northampton Brewery Company, and Mr. Wistance, builder, to show that the intention was not to increase the drinking accommodation but to make the house more convenient. The Chief Constable said there was not only an increase in the drinking accommodation, but a complete change in the character of the house. It had been one of the old-fashioned public-houses, but was being changed into nothing but a drinking vaults. Mr. Holden remarked that in other words it was being changed from an old-fashioned house, where a man could sit down and have a glass of beer, into what was known as a ginshop.

The Bench after a long deliberation in private....

Refused the application relating to the WINDMILL TAVERN."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/11/1890

"At the guildhall, yesterday – before Messrs. S. Russel (Mayor), J. Brewer, E. T. Holden, E. Bliss, and Captain Brookes – James Morris, of the NAGS HEAD INN, Upper Rushall Street, was summoned for having sold liquors during prohibited hours. Mr. Duignan (borough solicitor) appeared in support of the complaint, and Mr. Jesse Herbert (instructed by Mr. Cotterell) for the defence.

The evidence of Police-constables Curtis and Cattermole, and Police-sergeant Marshall, was to the effect that at twenty minutes past eleven on the night of the 28th October they saw a man named Thomas Aston standing outside the defendant's house, and saw the door open and some vessel handed out from which Aston drank. He handed it back, and on Marshall and Curtis looking in the doorway they saw two men named Jefferson and Hunt there, the former in the act of wiping his mouth with the back of his hand. Hunt gave them the name of Cleveland. The landlord told them that the men had been working for him in fighting for the removal of a club from the WINDMILL TAVERN, and that Jefferson had actually been fetched from a sick bed to vote on his behalf. They had called as they were taking Jefferson home, and he had given them a glass of whisky each.

Mr. Herbert said this was the literal truth, and after he had called witnesses the Bench dismissed the summons."

1891 Census

43, Bath Street – WINDMILL TAVERN

- [1] James L. Hoskin (32), public house manager, born Brampton, Derbyshire;
- [2] Annie E. Hoskin (27), wife, born Ironville, Derbyshire;
- [3] Flora Hoskin (1), daughter, born Normanton, Derbyshire;
- [4] Emma Brown (20), servant, born Ironville, Derbyshire:

Walsall Advertiser 13/1/1894

“On Tuesday afternoon last an inquest was held at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on the body of William Henry Oldham (32), glass manufacturer, Mount Street.

Richard Sutton, schoolmaster, Pleck, said he knew the deceased, whose body they had just seen. He formerly lived in London, but for the last three months had lived with his mother in Wolverhampton Street and more lately in Mount Street. On Saturday evening he complained of his breath and died suddenly on Sunday morning in the presence of his mother, who was unable to be present at the inquest that afternoon. He died about four o'clock in the morning. His mother was under the impression that he had fainted, although she sent for the doctor.

Dr. Batcellor said he was called in on Sunday morning to attend deceased, and he went about five o'clock. He found him dead. Witness had made a post mortem examination of the body and found that the cause of death was syncope; the secondary cause was the compressed condition of the organs of the chest, and deformity.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

AND

“An inquest was subsequently held at the WINDMILL TAVERN touching the death of Alfred Titley (40), of Newhall Street.

Kate Titley said that deceased was her husband, and they resided at the back of 22, Newhall Street. He suffered from a bad leg and difficulty in breathing. On Sunday night he appeared to be in his usual state of health, going to bed at 10.30. On Monday morning he got up about 6.30, but did not dress himself, and went to bandage his leg, and whilst doing so he fell. She went to him and found that he had ‘gone.’ He did not move at all or struggle. She afterwards sent for Dr. Riordan.

Dr. Riordan said that the last witness fetched him to see deceased on Monday morning about seven o'clock. He found him dead on the floor, lying on his back. His left hand rested on his heart, and he was stretched at full length. The glass of the lamp had been broken, and it lay by his side. He attributed death to syncope – failure of the heart's action.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Lichfield Mercury 21/8/1896

“Walsall Swifts Football and Athletic Club. A meeting of the committee of this newly-formed club was held under the chairmanship of Mr. B. Perry, jun., at the headquarters, the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. It was decided to open the season on the West Bromwich Ground, on September 5th, with a match with Cannock Town. Fixtures were also arranged with Bloxwich Strollers, and negotiations are pending with other clubs. The colours decided on for the team were dark red shirt and blue knickers. Rules were drawn up, and other arrangements made for the inauguration of what is hoped will be a most successful season.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1898 - Advert

Caldmore Cricket & Athletic Club.

President: F. J. Zeller, Esq.

A General Meeting of the above will be held at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on Wednesday Next, February 9th, at 8pm. All Vice-Presidents and others interested re requested to attend.

T. Poppleton. J. Jay, Hon. Secs.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/9/1898

“In the cases of Patrick Collins, showman, and Samuel Vale, of WINDMILL TAVERN, who were summoned for keeping certain places within the borough for the purpose of public music without a license, Mr. J. R. Cooper (town clerk) appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. J. N. Cotterell for the defence. An adjournment was taken to a date to be agreed upon.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/7/1899

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. Thomas George [?] Fox, WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, Walsall, was elected a member of the society.”

Walsall Observer 30/6/1900

“A smoking concert for the benefit of Mr. Albert Hodson was held at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on Monday last. The chair was occupied by Mr. J. S. McConville During the evening a donation to the benefit fund was given by the Northampton Brewery Company.....”

1901 Census

Bath Street – WINDMILL TAVERN

[1] Thomas G. Fox (39), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Maggie Fox (37), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Alice Martin (24), domestic servant, born Manchester:

Walsall Advertiser 11/10/1902

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers' and Beer Retailers' Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

Mr. William Johnathon Crane, WINDMILL INN, Bath Street, was elected aa member of the society.”

Walsall Advertiser 11/2/1905

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the Borough were held on Wednesday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. H. H. Jackson applied on behalf of Mr. John Rogers, owner and occupier of the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. His client simply wanted to build a small brewery in his own yard, in order to carry on his trade in a better manner. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/12/1905

“At a meeting of the Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Association on Thursday night at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, Mr. J. Whitehead (president in the chair), it was unanimously agreed that it was desirable to ascertain the opinions and views of each of the parliamentary candidates, and the attitude they would adopt, in the event of their being elected to Parliament, on various important questions material to the licensed trade interests. A set of questions touching the subjects was agreed on and this it was decided should be sent to each of the candidates, respectfully requesting replies thereto as soon as convenient.....”

Walsall Advertiser 9/2/1907

“The general annual licensing sessions of the borough were held on Monday at the Guildhall.....

Mr. Jackson applied on behalf of Mr. John Rogers, owner and licensee, for approval of alterations to the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. The alterations were small; simply to make a new bar to give the landlord better supervision of the three drinking rooms.

The Chief Constable said he had no objection. The alterations would be an improvement. Sanctioned.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/12/1907

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday week, at the house of Mr. John Rogers, WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street.....”

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1910

“A successful benefit concert promoted by the Walsall branch of the National Federation of Hairdressers was held on Thursday evening at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, when Councillor Shelley occupied the chair. There was not a very large attendance, but the tickets have gone extremely well. The programme provided was an excellent one and much appreciated.....”

Walsall Advertiser 24/9/1910

“Bearing in mind the maxim that ‘every little helps,’ the members of the Loyal Caledonian Corks, decided to promote a concert in aid of the Friendly Societies stall at the forthcoming Hospital Bazaar. This was held on Monday night at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, when Bro. T. A. Wigley, lodge captain, was in the chair. Bros. H. Taylor (P.C.), J. D. Rattenberry (P.C.C.), and F. W. Wood (P.D.C.) were among those present. The first portion of the programme was given by Mr. Fred Guest, and Mr. Joe Toon, the former scoring a distinct success with his songs. He gave ‘On the Sands,’ ‘I do like to be beside the seaside,’ ‘Following on in father’s footsteps,’ and ‘A Soldier’s life.’ Mr. Toon ably accompanied and also rendered two excellent pianoforte solos, ‘Entry of the Gladiators,’ and ‘Marche Aux Fambreau.’ Messrs. Guest and Toon also gave a mandolin and pianoforte duet, ‘The Skipping Rope.’ The second portion of the programme was filled by Bro. H. Taylor, with a number of capital arrangements. Much credit is due to Bro. H. Taylor, who is the past captain and trustee of the lodge, for his work in connection with the affair, as he had the carrying out of all arrangements. Bro. Busst proposed and Bro. Wood seconded a vote of thanks to the chairman, whilst the artistes were thanked on the proposition of Bro. H. Taylor.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1910

“The first whist drive of the season in connection with the Walsall Imperial Cycling Club was held on Tuesday evening, at the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. There were 88 players and the duties of M.C. were ably carried out by Mr. W. J. Rattenberry, the evening proving a very enjoyable one. The prize-winners were: 1. marble clock, Mr. H. Lawton; 2. letter weight clock, Mr. T. Cox.”

1911 Census

Bath Street – WINDMILL TAVERN

- [1] John Rogers (45), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Florence Rogers (33), wife, married 5 years, born Walsall;
- [3] Ada Rogers (18), daughter, dressmaker, born Walsall;
- [4] Arthur Rogers (17), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [5] James William Rogers (15), son, clerk, born Walsall;
- [6] John Rogers (13), son, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Edgar Rogers (10), son, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Edith Annie Rogers (3), daughter, born Walsall;
- [9] Florence Rogers (2), daughter, born Walsall;
- [10] Eleanor Maund (22), sister in law, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [11] Gertrude Johnson (24), housemaid, born Brewood, Staffordshire:

Walsall Advertiser 6/4/1912

“We are requested to state that the Walsall Imperial Cycling Club have changed their headquarters from the WINDMILL TAVERN to the LITTLETON ARMS, Littleton Street. Their first run of the season is on Sunday next, when they will visit Lichfield, and if the weather is permitting an enjoyable time is expected. The Thursday team of the Imperial Cycling Club will pay a visit to the Horns of Queslet on Thursday next.”

Walsall Advertiser 16/8/1913

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday at the house of Mr. John Rogers, WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street.....”

Walsall Observer 21/11/1914

“The following is a list of box collections to date made on behalf of the Prince of Wales’ National Relief Fund (Walsall Branch).....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, Walsall, 4s 4d.”

John Rogers also owned the GREEN MAN, George Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/6/1915 - Advert

“Sale Of Two Valuable Freehold Public-Houses.

Fox & Harrison, FAI, are favoured with instructions from Mr. John Rogers (who is retiring) to Offer for Sale by Public Auction, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, June 29, 1915, at Seven o’clock in the Evening.....

Lot 3. The Highly important, Old-established, and Well-known Home-Brewing Freehold Full-Licensed Public-House, known as the WINDMILL TAVERN, occupying a commanding position in Bath Street, Caldmore, and situate at the junction of Orlando Street, all busy thoroughfares in the main suburb of Walsall.

Together with the Substantially-erected Four-Storey Brewery.

This property was purchased about eleven years ago by Mr. Rogers, who has very materially improved and renovated the same, and added the substantially-built four-storey Brewery to deal with the increasing trade, and the whole of the Premises now are admirably adapted for the purpose.

The Bar, situate in the centre of all the licensed rooms, gives unusual facilities for quick service, at a minimum of labour, and in addition, affords easy supervision of the whole of the house.

This Inn is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the borough, and it is in close proximity to several large hardware and leather goods manufactories.

A very extensive, Lucrative high-class trade is carried on, and the House is noted throughout the district for the excellency of its fine Home-brewed ales.

The Premises are in perfect repair, both internally and externally.

It will be offered Entirely Free from any Trading Tie whatever, and Possession can be had on Completion of Purchase.

The Valuable Goodwill of the Old-Established Business as a Going Concern is Included in the Sale.”

[The other public-house in this auction is the ORIGINAL GREEN MAN, George Street.]

Walsall Observer 2/9/1916 - Advert

“Brewer, ineligible, Wanted.

Apply WIND MILL TAVERN, Bath Street. Walsall.”

Walsall Observer 8/9/1917 - Roll of Honour

“Private Arthur Rogers of the South Staffords, who returned to the firing line after ten days’ leave on August 6, is now reported by a chaplain to have been killed in action in France on August 25. Son of Mr. John Rogers, of the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, he was an Old Boy of Queen Mary’s School and prior to his enlistment in November 1915, he was employed by his father as manager of the Windmill Brewery. Single, and 23 years of age, he had been on active service in France since April, 1916. Two younger brothers are serving – James W. Rogers, of the M.T., A.S.C., has been in France since July 1915, and John Rogers is in the signal section of the Royal Engineers.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. £0 16s 11d.”

Samuel E. Holmes, Windmill Brewery.

He was fined 20s and costs, on 16th January 1920, for selling gin above the maximum price.

It ceased brewing c.1937.

1939 Register

43, Bath Street (3 of 5)

[1] Joseph H. Mason, date of birth 27/4/1900, licensee, manager, married;

[2] Elizabeth Mason, dob 7/10/1900, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Sheila (Mason) James, dob 7/11/1926, at school, single;

Walsall Observer 21/9/1940

“At the WINDMILL TAVERN, in Orland Street, coins in aid of the war efforts have been donated to fill the mirror, as shown.”

Walsall Observer 7/12/1940

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society.

Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District branch of the British Red Cross Society.

First List of Subscriptions.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, £7 7s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 16/8/1941 - Notice

“Motor Ambulance Effort on behalf of Walsall and District Division of the British Red Cross Society.

Third List Of Subscriptions.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street (Second donation). £3 3s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 29/8/1942

“County Borough of Walsall. Mayor’s War Aid Fund. Nineteenth List of Subscriptions.....

Mr. Mason, WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. £1 14s 2d.”

Walsall Observer 24/12/1942

“Walsall Licensed Victuallers’ Society. The Duke of Gloucester’s Red Cross Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. £2 10s 0d.”

Walsall Observer 11/12/1943

“After Walsall magistrates (Judge A. C. Caporn, Mr. S. A. Eglington and Mrs. Walters) had sat for several hours hearing summonses resulting from police observation on the WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street, on a number of occasions and a raid on November 20, the case for the prosecution only was concluded, and as alternative to a late sitting, the proceedings were adjourned for a fortnight to enable the defence to be presented.

Sidney John Cassidy, (41), general dealer, 220, Sandwell Street, and Ellen Copeley (40), railway porter, were summoned for using the licensed premises for the purpose of betting with persons resorting thereto between October 28, and November 20, and James Morgan and Mary Morgan, 38, Newhall Street, for aiding and abetting Copeley. Joseph Henry Mason, the licensee, was summoned for suffering the premises to be used so, and for permitting card playing for money, and Morgan was further summoned for aiding and abetting on the commission of the alleged former offence, and Edward Tolley, 51, New Mills Street, James Mayo, 17, Newhall Street, Patrick Jennings, 41, Pattison Street, and William Davis, 78 Fullbrook Road, for aiding and abetting him in regard to the alleged card playing. Mr. Walter T. Isaac conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Frank Cooper appeared for Mason and Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson for the other defendant, all of whom together with the licensee pleaded not guilty.

Police-constable Barley spoke to visiting the bar of the public house in plain clothes shortly after mid-day on Saturdays October 16, 23, and 30 and November 6, 13, and 20, and seeing men playing solo for money, and betting slips, football coupons and money handed to Mason. Cassidy was on the premises on each occasion. On October 16, a man sitting by him showed him a slip on which was written ‘3.30pm Mad Carew 2s e.w. J.F.’, and a woman also at the same table filled in a slip ‘Smithereens 4d win. Colorama, 4d 1,2,3,4, D.’ On October 23, Copeley entered the bar and Morgan handed to her football coupons and money he had collected from men in the bar, who had filled in the coupons on the premises.

On October 30, one of three women who entered the bar and handed a small bundle of football coupons, together with money, to Mason, who took them towards the saloon bar. Later a man in the bar asked, ‘Is Cassidy still there?’, and receiving a reply in the affirmative asked for some coupons. He received four of them and handed two of them to a woman. Both filled in coupons and the man handed his coupon and some money to the woman, who went towards the saloon bar.....

[There is a lot more of similar testimony along these lines, and of card playing.].....

In the course of a lengthy cross-examination, Mr. Hodgkinson asked Police-constable Barley about his recognition of football coupons, and he replied, ‘I have seen so much of them that it is almost impossible not to identify them at a reasonable distance.’ Mr. Cooper in his cross-examination, remarked, ‘It was not until six weeks afterwards that the licensee was asked to cast his mind back to what happened on a particular day – he is in a most tragic position.’

In reply to a further question by Mr. Cooper, Police-constable Barley said he did not know that Mason was the treasurer of a club which was carried on at the premises and that men and women were in the habit of paying their contributions on a Saturday morning.

Police War Reserve Spark, who went into the saloon bar of the public house on November 6, said he saw a man start to fill in a football coupon and Mason appeared to be assisting him. Afterwards the man and Cassidy walked away and returned in a few minutes.

The raid on the premises on November 20, was described by Inspector Brumhill, who went there with Police-sergeant Morris, Police-constable Williams and Banks and Police-women Wheatley and Dolloway. He said he searched Mason but found nothing on him relating to gaming or betting. In the saloon bar, Cassidy handed to Police-constable Williams a sealed envelope and nine football coupons and said, ‘It is all right, I admit it. I have not taken them here.’ Copeley, who was in the public bar, was found to be in possession of football coupons and betting slips relating to dog racing at Wolverhampton and Perry Barr and horse racing at Leopardstown, and £4 19s 6d.

Nothing relating to gaming or betting was found on the licensed part of the premises, and Mason, on being informed that Cassidy and Copeley had been arrested with betting slips in their possession and that proceedings might be taken against him, replied, ‘I don’t allow anyone to take bets while I am about and I leave instructions for no betting to go on while I am out.’ With regard to the alleged gaming with cards, Mason said, ‘They don’t play for money. If a man played another man for half a pint you cannot stop him.’ On the following Tuesday he saw Morgan, who stated that he had never had a bet in the WINDMILL.

Police-constable Williams stated that Cassidy at first denied he was in possession of anything relating to betting. At the Police office there were found on him, £123 10s in notes, besides other money, two betting slips, and 45 blank football coupons. In the sealed envelope, which Cassidy opened, there were twelve football coupons filled in, three betting slips relating to greyhound racing at Wolverhampton, a 10s note, and a number of silver coins. On the following Tuesday he saw Mrs. Morgan, who said she took a coupon to the WINDMILL to give to Cassidy or Copeley.

Police-woman Dolloway said Mrs. Morgan, who was in the bar when the raid was made, had a coupon in her purse.

In Mrs. Copeley's right-hand overall pocket, Police-constable Wheatley stated she found a white linen bag containing slips and money.

The hearing was adjourned for a fortnight."

[At the adjourned hearing, the case against Joseph Mason, the licensee, was dismissed. James Cassidy, who had a previous conviction for gambling, was found guilty and fined £25 for using licensed premises for betting. Ellen Copeley was fined £5 for aiding abetting Cassidy. James Morgan was fined £5 for aiding and abetting Copeley. The case against Mary Morgan was struck out. The case against the card players was dismissed.]

Walsall Observer 15/1/1944

"Walsall Licensed Victuallers' Society.

Appeal on Behalf of the Merchant Navy Fund, The Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Fund and the Aid to China Fund. List of Subscriptions.....

WINDMILL TAVERN, Bath Street. £2 5s 0d."

Walsall Observer 7/7/1945

"The Pleck and District Darts league is headed by the FORGE INN 'A' who have won all their seven matches. The next three positions are filled by the NEWPORT ARMS, HOPE AND ANCHOR 'A' and ROYAL OAK, Caldmore, with 12 points each, then come the DUKE OF WELLINGTON and ROYAL OAK, Pleck. Highest score and highest finish, 146, J. Bullock, HOPE AND ANCHOR 'B'; highest start, 140, S. Hogan, WINDMILL TAVERN."

It closed in April 1959.

The license was transferred to the EAGLE, Bloxwich.

WISEMORE TAVERN

87, Wisemore / Hateleys Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

Edward Newey [1871]

Joseph Newey

John Newey, buckle maker, Upper Walhouse Street, Walsall

E. Hartop

Thomas Stanley

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Edward Newey [1841] – [1865]

William Newey [1865] – [1870]

Edward Newey [] – 1870;

Thomas Wright (1870 – [1873];

Joseph Newey [1876] – [1880];

Thomas Stanley [1881] – 1893;

Edward John Spink (1893 – 1898);

William Challinor (1898 – 1925);

NOTES

Edward Newey married Fanny James.

1841 Census

Wisemore

- [1] Edward Newey (35), buckle maker and victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Fanny Newey (35), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Newey (15), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Joseph Newey (15), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Edward Newey (13), born Staffordshire;
- [6] William Newey (11), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Fanny Newey (5), born Staffordshire;
- [8] William Smith (15);
- [9] John Shaw (15), born Staffordshire;
- [10] Joseph Horton (12), born Staffordshire:

Edward Newey was also a manufacturer of fine tinned roller and polished barred buckles. [1845]

Walsall Free Press 9/7/1859 - Advert

“Notice! The Public are respectfully informed that a Yearly Society will re-commence on Monday, July 18th, 1859, at Mr. E. Newey’s, the WISEMORE TAVERN.
The above Society is about 40 members strong, with a fund of £80. Young men wishing to become members may apply as above. Entrance and Dinner, 2s 6d. Dinner on the table at two o’clock.
N.B. Would not object to join another Society with about the same number of members and amount of money.”

Walsall Free Press 6/10/1860 - Advert

“Notice.
The Members of the Sick Club held at Mr. Edward Newey’s, WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore Lane, with a fund of £80, wish to admit a number of new members, from twenty to forty years of age. Admission Free.
N.B. Club night on Monday next, October 1st, 1860, at Eight o’clock.”

Walsall Free Press 13/10/1860 - Advert

“To Be Let, a House in New Street, lately occupied as a huckster’s shop, with a Small Shop at the back, suitable for any light trade, the rent can be taken out in work.
Apply to E. Newey, WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore.”

Edward Newey was described as being also a roller buckle manufacturer. [1861]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/4/1861

“On Friday last, and inquest was held at the WISEMORE TAVERN, before A. A. Fletcher, Esq, coroner, touching the death of William Cartlidge, a boy between two and three years of age, who was run over on Wednesday evening last, about seven o’clock, in the Wisemore, by a horse and cart driven by Thomas Hickman, a man in the employ of Mr. Joseph Whitehouse, wine merchant, and for whom Mr. Elseworth appeared. It was shown that the driver did not see the child before the accident happened, and that at the time he was sober and driving at a steady pace. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1861 Census

87, Wisemore

- [1] Edward Newey (57), buckle maker, born Walsall;
- [2] Fanny Newey (56), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Samuel Newey (16), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Henry Evans (16), apprentice buckle maker, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Joseph Tibbles (17), apprentice buckle maker, born Hinckley, Leicestershire:

Walsall Free Press 11/1/1862

“On Monday last the British Oak Benefit Society held their anniversary at Mr. Edward Newey’s, the WISEMORE TAVERN. The secretary (Mr. Kendrick) read the report, which showed the society to be in a flourishing condition; and that, after a dividend to each eligible member of 16s 4d, there was left in the bank something over £100. The dinner was served up in true English style, and reflected much credit upon the host and hostess. After the cloth had been drawn the president (Mr. G. Ray) proposed the health of ‘The Queen’, which was drunk most enthusiastically. Mr. Newey gave ‘The Prince of Wales and the remaining branches of the Royal Family’, after which, ‘The Army and Navy’, ‘The Mayor and Corporation’, and other loyal and patriotic toasts followed, all of which were heartily responded to.”

Edward Newey was described as being also a buckle maker. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 4/11/1865

“William Newey, WISEMORE TAVERN, was charged with having, on Wednesday night, assaulted Matthew Beebee, for whom Mr. Glover appeared. The facts of the case seemed to be as follow. On the night in question, the complainant went to the defendant’s house, and was asked by some parties present to take a hand at cards. Both he and his son played. Complainant’s son lost, and asked his father for some money, which the latter refused to give, and, thereupon, the defendant struck complainant.

The Bench reprimanded the complainant for allowing his son to play cards at a public house, and sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 5s and costs.”

AND

“William Newey, landlord of the WISEMORE TAVERN, pleaded guilty to permitting card playing on his premises, and was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 23/12/1865 - Advert

“A Friendly Tea Party will take place at Mr. W. Newey’s, the WISEMORE TAVERN INN, Wisemore, Walsall, on Wednesday, December 27th, 1865.

Tickets 1s each. Music Included. Tea on the Table at Five o’clock.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/10/1866

“William Newey, landlord of the WISEMORE TAVERN, was fined 2s 6d and costs for having had his house open during prohibited hours, namely, at 1.40am on Wednesday last.”

Walsall Free Press 20/7/1867 - Advert

“That Old Established £5 Money Club which has for so many years been conducted to the entire satisfaction of the members, will re-commence on the 13th of August next.

Parties wishing to be Enrolled should apply immediately to Mr. W. Newey, WISEMORE TAVERN.”

Walsall Free Press 21/12/1867

“John Shenton was charged with having, on Saturday night last, assaulted William Newey, landlord of the WISEMORE TAVERN. From the complainant’s evidence it appeared that, on the night in question, he heard a noise in the street opposite his house, and, on going to the door, saw three men fighting. One of the men ran into complainant’s house for shelter, and was pursued by the other two – one of whom was the defendant. The pursuers rushed into the house, and exclaimed, ‘Where is he?’ and thereupon they attempted to rush into the parlour where the first man was. Complainant said to them, ‘You can’t go in there’, and, on his saying so, defendant struck complainant under the ear.

Mrs. Newey having corroborated her husband’s evidence, the defendant called a witness, named Lydia Smith, a married woman, who said as she was going through the Wisemore she was assaulted by a man, who ran into the complainant’s house, and her husband and the defendant went into the house to get the man’s name, in order to procure a summons for him; and when they got inside, the defendant was assaulted by the complainant and his brother.

The Bench, after hearing the evidence, sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of £1 and costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days.

Thomas Smith was charged with having, at the same time and place, assaulted Edward Newey, father of the complainant in the previous case. It appeared that as the defendant was passing from the parlour to the kitchen, the defendant struck the complainant on the side of the head with a ‘knuckle-duster’.

Mrs. Newey corroborated her husband’s statement, and added that defendant’s father had been to make the case up.

Mrs. Bradley said she saw the defendant strike the complainant.

Defendant, who denied the charge, called a witness, named James Scott, who said that he stood with the defendant all the time, and never saw the defendant go near the door. As this statement was directly the opposite of what the defendant had stated, and which was to the effect that he went to the door to pull a man out who had assaulted his mother, the Bench sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of 20s and costs; or, in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 15/2/1868 - Deaths

“On the 3rd inst, at the WISEMORE TAVERN, Walsall, aged 63 years, Fanny, the beloved wife of Edward Newey, and daughter of the late Mrs. W. James, of the TURF TAVERN.”

Edward Newey married his second wife, Sarah, in 1868.

He was the father of William and Joseph.

Walsall Free Press 6/3/1869 - Advert

“Wanted, a strong Servant Girl, from 18 to 20, one used to a Public House preferred.

Apply, Mr. Newey, WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore.”

London Gazette 10/12/1869

“Joseph Newey, lodging at No.11, Upper Littleton-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Buckle Maker, previously thereto of the WISEMORE TAVERN, Hateley’s-lane, Wisemore, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler and Buckle Maker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 8th of December, 1869, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 24th day of December instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Glover, of Walsall, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Fanny Newey (daughter of Joseph Newey, buckle maker), 24, spinster, married Thomas Stanley, 23, bachelor, stock taker, on 29th

May 1871.

1871 Census

87, Wisemore – WISEMORE TAVERN

- [1] Thomas Wright (42), key maker and publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Jane Wright (37), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] John Wright (11), son, born Walsall;
- [4] Harriet Wright (9), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Sarah Wright (7), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] John Wisdom (20), son in law, currier, born Birmingham;
- [7] Mary Ann Wisdom (18), daughter, born Walsall;
- [8] Thomas Wisdom (1), grandson, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 30/8/1873

“William Lawton was charged with having been drunk and refused to leave the WISEMORE TAVERN when requested to do so. PC Kiteley and Mr. Wright, the owner of the house, proved the charge. Defendant, who expressed regret for what had occurred, was sentenced to pay a fine of 1s and costs.”

Walsall Free Press 6/9/1873

“Yesterday afternoon A. A. Fletcher, coroner for the borough, held an inquest at the WISEMORE TAVERN upon the body of Daniel Watkins, aged 34, a maltster, who resided at 32, Duncalf Street. Deceased had been for some time an out-patient at the Cottage Hospital, and on Wednesday he was taken suddenly ill, and expired after about half-an-hour’s illness. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Free Press 1/11/1873

“Municipal Election. The Bridge Ward.....

On Wednesday evening a meeting of Mr. Groves’ friends was held at the WISEMORE TAVERN.....”

Joseph Newey died on 18th January 1881.

1881 Census

87, Wisemore

- [1] Thomas Stanley (33), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Fanny Stanley (33), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph E. Stanley (9), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas H. Stanley (7), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] William G. Stanley (3), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Sidney Stanley (1), son, born Walsall;
- [7] Mary A Newey (19), sister, born Walsall;
- [8] Rachel Savage (28), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Evening Express 28/12/1881

“An inquest was held at the WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore, on Tuesday forenoon, before A. A. Fletcher, borough coroner, touching the death of John Brown, lately residing at Albert Street, Walsall.

The deceased, though able to attend to business, had been unwell for some months past, and at ten o’clock last Saturday night, after he returned from Birmingham, he was seized with a fit, and expired before medical aid could be procured.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/4/1890 - Advert

“Wanted, at once, a good General Servant.

Apply, Mrs. Stanley, WISEMORE TAVERN, Walsall.”

Thomas Stanley was fined 10s and costs, on 9th February 1891, for permitting drunkenness.

1891 Census

87, Wisemore – WISEMORE TAVERN

- [1] Thomas Stanley (43), publican WISEMORE TAVERN, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Fanny Stanley (43), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Joseph Edward Stanley (19), son, plater, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Henry Stanley (17), son, book binder, born Walsall;
- [5] William George Stanley (13), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [6] Sidney Stanley (11), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [7] Alice Maud Stanley (9), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [8] Minnie Stanley (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

- [9] Mary Ann Stanley (5), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[10] Fanny Stanley (2), daughter, born Walsall;
[11] Sarah Ann Birks (22), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 6/2/1892 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction by Messrs. Watkins & Powell, at the STORK HOTEL, Walsall, on Tuesday, February 16th, 1892, at 7 o’clock in the evening precisely (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

The Valuable Old Licensed Premises known as the WISEMORE TAVERN, situate at the corner of Wisemore and Hateley’s Lane, Walsall, occupied by Mr. Thomas Stanley at an estimated annual rental of £50.

The House contains Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, 3 Bedrooms, Large Club Room, 2 Cellars and Brewhouse. There is an enclosed yard and a range of Two-Storey Shopping at the rear.

The land is Freehold and contains an area of 300 square yards or thereabouts.

There is a good supply of water.

The property which is a corner one is admirably situate, and possesses every facility for business. There is a good trade attached to the house.

A large portion of the purchase money may, if required, remain on mortgage.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers, or to Messrs. Stanley & Jackson, Solicitors, all of Bridge Street, Walsall.”

It was again put up for sale by auction on 20th December 1892.

Birmingham Daily Post 13/1/1893

“Bankruptcy Proceedings. Re Thomas Stanley, WISEMORE TAVERN, Wisemore, Walsall.

The public examination of this debtor took place at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court yesterday, before Mr. Registrar Clarke; Mr. E. Evans appearing on the debtor’s behalf.

The financial statement showed a deficiency of £270 15s on liabilities amounting to £277 15s 10d. The bankrupt was originally an iron worker, but in 1881 he succeeded to the WISEMORE TAVERN, which had been carried on by his father-in-law, Mr. Joseph Newey. The bankrupt’s wife and her mortgagees sold the property in February last for £1,000, and a deposit of £100 was paid, but the sale had not been completed. In May, 1888, the bankrupt became surety for £100 for a Mr. Thomas Hall, who had not paid the money, and the bankrupt having been served with a writ for £122 for the debt and interest, he had filed his petition. He assigned this suretyship, with bad trade and the expenses of a large family, as the causes of his insolvency.

The examination was adjourned till the 30th inst.”

Walsall Advertiser 18/2/1893

“The Town Clerk has been instructed to negotiate for the purchase of about nine square yards of land, fronting WISEMORE TAVERN, for the purpose of widening the roadway in Wisemore.”

Walsall Advertiser 14/11/1896

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday last....

Mr. Edward J. Spink, WISEMORE TAVERN was elected a member as from 1st January, 1897.”

William Challinor = William Challoner

1901 Census

87, Wisemore – Public House

- [1] William Challinor (23), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
[2] Sarah Challinor (29), wife, born Darlaston;
[3] William Challinor (7), son, born Wednesbury;
[4] Miriam Challinor (6), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[5] Alice Griffiths (20), domestic servant, born Dudley Port:

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air-Gun League. [1903/4]

Walsall Advertiser 28/4/1906

“Michael Deegan, 90, Green Lane, a tailor above middle age, whose left eye bore traces of having met something hard, was summoned for assaulting John Henry Davies, a much younger man, of 73a, Wisemore, whose head was in bandages.

Complainant said that about 9 o’clock on the night of the 17th ult, he was standing in the WISEMORE TAVERN talking to a few friends, when he felt a severe blow on the side of the head, and fell. He did not see who did it, but was told it was Deegan. He had a large cut across the cheek bone, with seven or eight stitches in it.

Charles Henry Rutter spoke to seeing defendant deal the blow with a jug.

Defendant admitted the charge, but pleaded provocation. He said they had some drink in the afternoon, when Davies struck him a blow which closed his left eye, and marks of which he now had. He was very sorry, and had never lifted a weapon to anyone before.

Complainant, in answer to the Bench, said they did fight in the afternoon, but he could not say whether he 'blackened defendant's eye'.

Mr. Moseley told defendant that the quarrel in the afternoon was no justification for striking complainant with a jug. He would be fined £1 and costs, or 21 days."

Walsall Advertiser 18/7/1908

"Mary Bratt (32), married woman, 4 court, Wisemore, was charged with wilfully breaking a pane of glass at the WISEMORE TAVERN, on July 14th, doing damage to the extent of 3s.

Wm. Challinor (landlord) stated that prisoner went to the house about 3.30, when her husband was there and quite sober. He went out and returned later, and immediately afterwards he heard a smashing of glass. There was a large hole in the pane, and half a brick lying by. Prisoner, who was drunk, was just walking away when he went to the door. In answer to prisoner, witness admitted that he told prisoner her husband was not there, but he did not know that he was.

Detective Burrell, who arrested prisoner, said that she told him she broke the window because her husband had assaulted her. She was the worse for drink.

Prisoner promised to keep away from the drink, and was put on her good behaviour for three months."

1911 Census

87, Wisemore

[1] William Challinor (43), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Sarah Ann Challinor (38), wife, married 18 years, born Darlaston;

[3] William Challinor (17), son, lathe worker fitting shop, born Wednesbury;

[4] Miriam Challinor (16), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 15/8/1914

"Harry Tonks (45), carter, of 15 court, Lower Rushall Street, was charged with stealing a quantity of corks, value 27s, the property of Percy Claridge, coal merchant, of 60, Wednesbury Road, on July 27th.

Prosecutor stated that he employed accused for a day and a half to do whitewashing, and afterwards missed the corks, which were in a bag, from the stable. They were worth 7s 6d a gross.

In reply to accused, who said he was very sorry he took them, prosecutor admitted that all the corks had been recovered.

William Challoner, landlord of the WISEMORE TAVERN, deposed to giving Tonks 9d and a drink for some corks on July 30th.

Accused now said he had been out of work 22 weeks and wanted to get some bread for the children.

The Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton): No, no; drink you mean.

Detective Ayres stated that from information given by the prisoner he recovered a quantity of corks from an ashpit in Lower Rushall Street. When arrested and charged, Tonks replied, 'Them are all I had.'

Prisoner now said he took the corks on the impulse of the moment and that he had been trying to get any sort of work.

Prosecutor, recalled, however, said that he could have employed the man for a week, but he went off when he had his money for two days' work.

A fine of 10s (the costs being remitted) was imposed."

Walsall Observer 9/10/1915

"At the Guildhall on Monday morning, a filer named Samuel Taylor (39), of 6, back of 30, Wisemore, was charged with stealing a bag containing 30s, the property of Frederick Dale, of Pargeter Street, on Saturday.

Prosecutor stated that he was a mineral salesman, and he had the bag, containing then £2 6s 6d, in his trouser pocket at 3.30 when he delivered some mineral waters at the WISEMORE TAVERN. Half an hour later he missed it, and returned to the WISEMORE TAVERN to make enquiries.

Timothy Hawkins, Hateley's Lane, stated that he was serving in the bar at the WISEMORE TAVERN on Saturday afternoon when the prosecutor called. When he returned and complained that he had lost a bag containing money, witness told him that he had picked it up and that it had been claimed by accused. Witness said he had no time to see whether it contained money, as Taylor at once snatched it from him.

Police-constable Wright stated that the matter was reported to him at 4.55, and as a result of inquiries he arrested Taylor. At first he strongly denied that he knew anything about the bag of money, but at the charge office he admitted having 5s of the money. On searching him he found £1 11s 10½d in his possession, and accused then said he had 16s. When formally charged with stealing the bag and 30s, he replied, 'It can't be done'.

Accused now handed to the Bench a written statement, in which he asserted that he had been working hard throughout the week at Craddock's, Wisemore, and that he had no beer till Saturday. He then had too much, and it got over him. He saw the leather bag lying on the floor and picked it up, 'little thinking what was in it'. He had no intention of keeping the money, however, because he was getting good wages every week. Before he had time to return it, however, a policeman was fetched. He was willing to return the money, because he 'would rather give a man a shilling than take one off him. I have never been a thief,' the statement continued, 'and I hope I never shall be through a silly thing like this. I think I will leave the beer alone in future. It is the beer that makes a man do things he should not do.'

The Bench imposed a fine of 20s, with the alternative of 21 days' imprisonment, allowing Taylor time to pay the money. On the application of the Chief Constable, the magistrates also ordered that £1 11s 10½d found in the Taylor's possession should be handed over to the prosecutor."

Walsall Observer 19/10/1918 - Advert

“Wednesday and Thursday Next, 23rd and 24th, October, 1918.

Under instruction from Messrs. W. Butler & Co., Ltd., Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, Leonard C. Philpot will Sell by Auction the Brewing Plants and Utensils at the following Licensed House, viz.:

EAGLE INN, Lower Rushall Street, Walsall.

FOUNTAIN INN, Bott Lane, Walsall.

WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.

WISEMORE TAVERN, Wismore, Walsall.

PHEASANT INN, Windmill Street, Walsall.

Comprising 11 Steel and Iron Boilers, various sizes from 100 to 250 gallons, 7 large Oak Mash Tuns, 6 Mash Rules, Malt, Shovels, Copper, Lead and Iron Piping, Brass and other taps, Wooden Platforms, 6 large Cooling Vats, 6 Copper Refrigerators (by Potterton and Keyte), 6 Troughs, 2 Copper Sparges, 2 Copper Attemperators, 6 Hop Backs, 50 casks (various sizes from 36 to 120 gallons), 8 Barm Tubs, 6 Large Fermenting Vats, 2 Underbacks, Rotary Pump and Piping, 2 Avery's Weighing Machines (4cwt and 3cwt), Pulley Rope, and Sundry Utensils.

Order Of Sale

Wednesday, October 23rd

EAGLE INN, 10.30 prompt.

FOUNTAIN INN, 12 prompt.

WALSALL ARMS, 1.30 prompt.

Thursday, October 24th

WISEMORE TAVERN, 10.30 prompt.

PHEASANT INN, 12 prompt.

On View, 9 o'clock, Morning of Sale. No catalogues.

Further particulars from the Auction and Valuation Offices, Midland Bank Chambers, The Bridge, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst, the justices referred the following houses for compensation.....

WISEMORE TAVERN, Wismore.”

It closed on 31st October 1925.

Demolished

WOODMAN

109, Blue Lane West, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. Ann Fairfield, Mount Street, Walsall

City Brewery Co.

Mr. Jones, Stafford

Philip Perry

Holdings Brewery Ltd [1912]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired on 30th September 1919)

LICENSEES

William Turner [1858]

J Perry [1860]

Thomas Pickering [1864] – [1865]

Mrs. Eliza Cook [1866]

James Oran [1872];

John Henry Whitworth [1874] ?

Benjamin Russell [];

Samuel Hutchinson [];

Albert Knight [];

James Aldritt Flynn []

Charles William Pearson [1881]

Mrs. Mary Cope [];

Hannah (Taylor) Edginson [];

Thomas Edginson [];
John Perry [1891] – 189_);
Edward Darby (189_ – 1892);
John Darby (1892 – 1894);
Richard Shelley (1894 – 1898);
William Ringwood [1897] temporary license
Joseph Michael Conniffe (1898 – 1900);
Philip Perry (1900 – 1912);
Bernard Broadhurst Perry (1912 – 1913);
George Place (1913 – 1916);
George Stanley (1916 – 1922):

NOTES

It was originally the BLACK SWAN. [1858], [1860], [1862], [1868], [1872], [1874], [1875], [1881], [1891]

WOODMAN. [1909], [1911], [1918]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

William Turner, beerhouse, 109, Blue Lane. [1858]

London Gazette 10/8/1858

“Whereas a Petition of William Turner, of the BLACK SWAN, Blue-lane, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Brewer and Retailer of Beer, and also employed as a Machine Man at the Hatherton Iron and Coal Works, near Bloxwich, in the said county of Stafford, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Walsall, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said William Turner, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said William Turner is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 26th day of August instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, for his first examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes, and the choice of the creditors’ assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. All persons indebted to the said William Turner, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same, but to Mr. Frederic Fuhrmann Clarke, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, at Walsall, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/4/1860

“J. Tomkinson of Walsall will run E. Casey of Birmingham 100 yards, and give him a yard start, or Waylock of the same place the like distance level, or Cradock of Walsall 100 yards if he will give him two yards start, or P. Martin of Westbromwich 100 yards level. Either of these matches can be made for £5 or £10 a side, at Mr. J. Perry’s, the BLACK SWAN, Blue Lane, Walsall, at any time.”

Walsall Free Press 1/3/1862 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that well accustomed Beer House, known as the BLACK SWAN, Blue Lane. For further particulars apply on the premises.”

Thomas Pickering, beer retailer, 109, Blue Lane West. [1864], [1865]

Walsall Free Press 3/2/1866

“Mrs. Eliza Cook, BLACK SWAN, Blue Lane, was charged with a similar offence [permitting drinking in prohibited hours], committed on the 29th ult, and was fined 2s and costs, as it was her first offence.”

Walsall Free Press 22/2/1868 - Advert

“To Be Let or Sold.

To Be Let. The public-house known as the BLACK SWAN, Blue Lane, comprising bar, front and back tap-rooms, cellar, club-room, two chambers, large attic, brewhouse with large soft water cistern, entire yard, pump of hard water, and shopping for 4 or 5 hearths. No fixtures to take to; or the above to be Sold by Private contract, with Six Houses adjoining; also to be Sold, Two Cottages at the Pleck, with gardens, sufficiently large for Eight New Tenants. Apply 39, Bradford Street.”

Walsall Free Press 14/4/1870 - Advert

“Beerhouse To Let.

To Be Let and entered upon immediately, the BLACK SWAN, 109, Blue Lane, well fitted-up with Screens, Shelves, Counter, &c; contains Parlour, Tap Room, Kitchen, and a good Brewhouse, 4 Sleeping Rooms, good Shopping suitable for a Chain Maker, with plenty of hard and soft Water.

For rent and particulars apply, Mr. Fox, House Agent, 57, Upper Rushall Street, Walsall.”

James Oran = James Horan

James Horan, beer retailer, 109, Blue Lane West. [1872]

London Gazette 26/6/1874

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John Henry Whitworth, formerly of the BOAT INN, Darlaston-green, Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, now of the BLACK SWAN, Blue-lane West, Walsall, in same county, Beerhouse Keeper.

Notice is hereby given, that a Second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. John Farrington Crump, No.5, Bridge-street, Walsall aforesaid, on the 2nd day of July, 1874, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 24th day of June, 1874.

John F. Chump, Attorney for the said Debtor.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/10/1875

“Charles Moore, a labourer, was charged with unlawfully cutting and wounding James Manley and Mary Ann Manley, husband and wife, with intent to do them grievous bodily harm. The male complainant stated that on Saturday night he was at the BLACK SWAN, Blue lane, when the prisoner, who was also there, quarrelled with another man about a quart of beer. Complainant went home, and about three-quarters of an hour afterwards the prisoner came to his door and challenged him out. He went out, and the prisoner, using a disgusting epithet, raised his hand. A bystander called out ‘Mind the knife,’ and he threw his head aside, and almost at the same moment he was struck under the left ear and across the left cheek by the prisoner with some sharp instrument, which just marked the skin. His wife came running across the road, and he heard her cry ‘He’s stabbed me.’ At this stage Mr. Gillespie, who had been instructed for the defence, applied for a remand till Wednesday, which was granted, bail being refused.”
[At the Staffordshire Winter Assizes, Charles Moore was sentenced to nine months’ imprisonment.]

1881 Census

109, Blue Lane West – BLACK SWAN

- [1] Charles W. Pearson (31), beer retailer, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Fanny Pearson (30), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] Charles Pearson (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Janette Pearson (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [5] Anne Pearson (8 months), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Anne Webster (15), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [7] James Garner (32), visitor, carpenter, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [8] Anne Garner (30), visitor’s wife, born Manchester;
- [9] Edwin Garner (11), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [10] Rose Garner (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
- [11] James Garner (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [12] John Garner (4), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [13] Fanny Garner (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [14] Ann Hall (17), domestic servant, born Brownhills:

London Gazette 1/10/1881

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall. In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Charles William Pearson, of the BLACK SWAN INN, Blue-lane, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Retail Brewer, previously of the BARRELL INN, Stafford street, Walsall aforesaid, Beer Retailer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Alfred Baldwin East, Solicitor, No.43, Temple-street, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, on the 27th day of October, 1881, at a quarter-past ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 12th day of October, 1881.

Alfred B. East, 43, Temple-street, Birmingham, Solicitor for the Debtor.”

Charles William Pearson – see also BARREL, Stafford Street.

The licensee was fined 10s and costs, on 17th July 1884, for selling before 12.30 on Sunday.

Hannah Taylor married Thomas Edginson.

1891 Census

109, Blue Lane West – BLACK SWAN

- [1] John Perry (29), bridle cutter, born Walsall;

- [2] Sarah A. Perry (30), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] John W. Perry (5), son, scholar, born Walsall;
- [4] Samuel H. Perry (3), son, born Walsall;
- [5] Charles F. Perry (1), son, born Walsall;
- [6] Fanny Jarvis (17), visitor, born Bloxwich:

Walsall Advertiser 20/10/1894

“At the Guildhall on Wednesday Temporary authorities were granted to Richard Shelley, WOODMAN, Blue Lane East.”

Richard Shelley, beer retailer, 109, Blue Lane West. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 20/11/1897

“Richard Shelley, of 48, Queen Street, and William Ringwood, of the WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane, were summoned for permitting drunkenness on licensed premises, and also for selling drink to an intoxicated person. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended, and Mr. F. Bill watched the case in the interests of the owners.

Chief Constable Taylor, in placing the circumstances of the case before the magistrates, said he had summoned Shelley as the holder of the original license, and Ringwood as the holder of a temporary authority, so as to avoid any technical objection on the part of the defence.

Mr. Jackson said the Chief Constable’s action had raised the very difficulty he was desirous of avoiding. The Chief Constable found it more convenient to have a double-barrelled gun, but it was certain that two persons could not be guilty of the same offence, especially as one was not near, and had not been near the house for many days previous.

Eventually the Chief Constable withdrew the charge against Shelley, and proceeded against Ringwood.

From the evidence given by Detective Harper it transpired that that officer on the morning of November 9th saw three men drunk in Blue Lane, and another man named O’Brien lying on the footpath, drunk and vomiting. He made enquiries, and then visited the WOODMAN INN, in Blue Lane. The landlord, Ringwood, admitted that the men had been to his house, but said they had previously been drinking whiskey somewhere else.

Harry Solman was called, and he stated that the men had been drinking at the FORGE INN, on the Pleck Road, earlier in the morning. They left there in a sober condition.

Ellen Durkin, aged 16, stated that she saw O’Brien ejected from the WOODMAN INN. He walked across the road, sat on a door step, and went to sleep.

Edward O’Brien stated that on the morning of Tuesday, Nov. 9th, he left work at 6.30. He went with three others to the FORGE INN, and the four of them had between them seven quarts of beer. He then went towards home, and as he was passing the WOODMAN INN some of his mates called him in. When he got in, the landlord was drawing some beer in the cellar, and when he came up ordered O’Brien out. The latter had nothing to drink in the house. He did not tell Detective Harper that he had paid for any beer or that he had had any to drink.

Mr. Jackson’s defence was that in a case of this character there must be some carelessness or connivance, on the part of the landlord. In this instance the man O’Brien was put out immediately the landlord saw him. The magistrates after a short deliberation dismissed the case.

O’Brien, who lives at a lodging house in Lower Rushall Street, was afterwards fined 5s and costs or 7 days, on a charge of drunkenness.”

Walsall Advertiser 8/1/1898

“Yesterday at the Guildhall.....

Another application from Mr. F. Bill, on behalf of the owner and tenant of the WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane West, for certain alterations being made. Granted.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

The Chief Constable submitted the following list showing houses where children under the age of 13 had been served since Aug., 1898. Beerhouses.....

Joseph Conniffe, WOODMAN, served 10 children.....

He said he had a list of 118 other houses which he did not think worth while including in the report, where the number of children served had been under ten. The Mayor said he thought that the license holders should try and fall in with the magistrates views.....

On returning the magistrates announced their decisions as under....

In the cases where children under 13 years of age were reported to have been supplied, on the promise of the licensees to carry out the wishes of the magistrates in future the licenses would be renewed with a caution.”

1901 Census

109, Blue Lane West

- [1] Philip Perry (46), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Mary P. Perry (50), wife, born Bloxwich;
- [3] Bernard B. Perry (22), son, commercial clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Mary B. Perry (20), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] May E. Perry (12), daughter, born Walsall;

[6] Catherine Perry (10), daughter, born Walsall:

Philip Perry, beer retailer, 109, Blue Lane West. [1904], [1912]

1911 Census

109, Blue Lane West

[1] Philip Perry (57), brewing, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Perry (61), wife, assisting in the business, born Walsall;

[3] Minnie Perry (22), daughter, barmaid, born Stafford;

[4] Catherine Perry (20), daughter, barmaid, born Stafford:

Walsall Advertiser 23/12/1911

“At the STORK HOTEL on Monday evening Mr. Matt. F. Harrison, FAI (Messrs Fox and Harrison) sold by auction two freehold beerhouses and freehold property.....

Lot 3 as the freehold (free) beerhouse known as the WOODMAN INN, situate on Blue Lane, together with modern up-to-date brewery. Biddings commenced at £700, rose by hundreds to £1,500, and then by twenty-fives pounds to £1,675, the lot being withdrawn at the figure. It has since been disposed of privately for £1,750.”

Philip Perry – see also GREEN DRAGON, Green Lane.

Walsall Advertiser 20/4/1912 - Advert

“WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane West, Walsall.

Fox & Harrison, having previously sold the freehold of this Property to Messrs. Holders Brewery Ltd, have received their directions to Sell by Public Auction, on Wednesday, 24th April, 1912, the excellent and up-to-date Brewing Plant and Effects.

On view two hours previous to sale. Sale at 10.30am.”

Walsall Advertiser 13/9/1913

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society was held on Thursday.....

New members..... Mr. George Place, WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane West.”

Walsall Observer 18/9/1915 - Advert

“Bar-General. Good references. No washing.

WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

WOODMAN INN, Blue Lane West. £1 4s 6d.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority on 2nd March 1922.

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/2/1922

“Annual Licensing Sessions.....

There were also objections, to the renewal of the licenses chiefly on the ground of redundancy of the ORIGINAL QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street; RAILWAY INN, Bloxwich; ROYAL OAK, Ablewell Street; FLITCH OF BACON, Wolverhampton Street; VINE, Blue Lane; WOODMAN, Blue Lane; and VOLUNTEER, Bridgeman Street; and it was announced that the applications in respect of these houses would be considered at the adjourned sessions on March 2nd.”

Compensation was paid on 29th September 1922.

It closed on 15th October 1922.

WOODMAN

Ryecroft Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Beddoes [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

WOODMAN

Upper Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Hannah Horton [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

WOODMAN

143, Wolverhampton Road, (143, Wolverhampton Street), (Wolverhampton Lane), (Park Street / Station Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

Charles Crooke [1868]

LICENSEES

Ann Holder [1834] – [1835]

William Cooper [1841] – [1850]

Mrs. Mary Cooper [1858] – [1865]

Charles Cooper [1868] – [1870]

Charles Moreton [1871] – [1872];

Charles Crooke [1874];

NOTES

143, Wolverhampton Street [1860], [1868]

143, Wolverhampton Road [1861], [1871]

Wolverhampton Lane [1862]

Ann Holder = Ann Holden

[I am unsure which spelling is correct]

William Cooper was also a cattle tube maker. [1845]

He was described as being also an elastic cattle tube maker. [1849], [1850]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/2/1850

“At the Town Hall, on Wednesday, two young men, named William Arch and John Fletcher, were brought up on a charge of cutting and wounding Edward Joseph Cooper, harness maker, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm. Mr. Duignan appeared for complainant, while Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. George Edmonds (of Birmingham) were engaged for the defence.

It appeared from the evidence adduced, that Cooper is the son of the landlord at the WOODMAN, in Wolverhampton Lane, from which house he was returning up the road towards his own home, about one o'clock on the morning of Sunday, the 3rd of February, when he met the defendants, and accidentally struck with his foot a dog belonging to one of them. They accused him of having done this on purpose, and Arch challenged him to fight; but on his declining to do so he was struck at by the antagonist. Fletcher telling his companion to 'Give into him,' but taking no other part in the affray. Cooper managed to ward off the blows for some time, but at length Arch rushed upon him, and struck at him with what was no doubt a knife, as complainant felt something sharp enter his head, and he was immediately covered with his own blood. Cooper then went back to his father's, and the wound was dressed by Mr. Pitt, surgeon, who was sent for; but he was unable to leave the house that day. The prisoners were taken into custody soon afterwards. After hearing the defence of the defendants' solicitors, the Bench decided on committing Arch for trial at the Assizes, but discharged Fletcher. Arch was subsequently bailed."

[At the County Court, in March, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and William Arch was immediately discharged.]

1861 Census

143, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Mary Cooper (69), widow, victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Henry Cooper (44), son, brush maker, born Walsall;
- [3] Isaiah G. Cooper (32), son, carriage lamp maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Sarah Cooper (28), daughter, born Walsall;
- [5] Henry J. Cooper (14), grandson, born London:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1865 - Advert

"Lost, on Tuesday last, between Walsall and the BLACK COCK, Sutton Road, a Parcel directed 'Mr. Cooper, WOODMAN.' Any Person bringing it to Mr. Cooper's, WOODMAN INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, shall receive Two Shillings."

Walsall Free Press 4/4/1868 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Farrington & Son, at the WOODMAN INN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall, on Wednesday, the 8th day of April, 1868, at Six o'clock in the evening (subject to conditions).

Lot 1. All that valuable and well-accustomed Old Licensed Freehold Public House called the WOODMAN, fronting Wolverhampton Street, in Walsall, and containing bar, tap-room, large parlour, and 5 bed-rooms, with the brewhouse, malt-room, shopping, outbuildings, yard, and appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Mr. Charles Cooper....."

Walsall Free Press 12/9/1868

"Mr. Wilkinson renewed his application on behalf of Mr. Crooke, proprietor of the ALEXANDRA MUSIC HALL, Park Street, for a transfer of a license from the WOODMAN public-house, Wolverhampton Lane, to his house at the corner of Station Street and Park Street.

Mr. Crooke having purchased the WOODMAN public-house, which he intends to close.

Mr. Wilkinson was proceeding to address the Bench when the Mayor said, as the Bench were fully aware of the whole of the facts of the case there would be not necessity for him stating the case at any great length.

Mr. Wilkinson said if their worships were satisfied, he would not occupy their time by a single remark.

The Mayor said the Bench had, by a majority, decided to grant the application.

Mr. Newman: Which is simply a transfer.

Mr. Wilkinson: I have already pointed out how the Bench can retain power in their own hands.

Mr. Wilkinson said he felt bound to make some explanation in consequence of a report having got abroad, that one of the magistrates present on Monday, had attended in consequence of a special request from him. He begged to state, most explicitly that the report was entirely without foundation."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/12/1868 - Advert

"Found, on Tuesday last, a liver-and-white Spaniel Bitch.

Apply at the WOODMAN, in Wolverhampton Street, Walsall. If not claimed within Three Days, will be sold to pay expenses."

Walsall Free Press 23/10/1869 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold Public-House and Premises, in Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.

To Be Sold By Auction, by Mr. John Osbourn, at the DRAGON INN, High Street, Walsall, on Tuesday, the 26th day of October, 1869, at Six o'clock in the Evening (subject to conditions). All that old and well-accustomed Public House, known as the WOODMAN, fronting Wolverhampton Street, in Walsall, and containing Bar, Tap Room, large Parlour, and five Bed Rooms, with the Brewhouse, Malt Rooms, Shopping, Outbuildings, Yard, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, and now in the occupation of Mr. Charles Cooper.

The above property is situated in a densely populated neighbourhood.

Part of the Purchase Money may (if desired) remain on Mortgage.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, or to Messrs. Wilkinson & Gillespie, Solicitors, Walsall."

1871 Census

143, Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Charles Moreton (46), publican, born Birmingham;
- [2] Elizabeth Moreton (44), wife, born Walsall;

- [3] Ellen Fearnley (15), servant, born Birmingham;
[4] Harriet Henny (?) (4), born Darlaston;
[5] Caroline Brookes (28), boarder, professional vocalist, born London:

Charles Moreton, beer retailer, 143, Wolverhampton Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 3/9/1873

“To Furniture Dealers, Publicans, and Others. Unreserved Clearout Sale, at the WOODMAN TAVERN, Wolverhampton Street, Walsall.

By Joseph A. Duffield. This Day (Wednesday) – Genteel Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, Fixtures, &c, including Spanish mahogany half-tester and iron bedsteads, Toilet Tables, mahogany Chest of Drawers, Windsor Chairs, capital Couch and Easy Chairs, nearly new; 4-pull Beer Machine, Cups and Glassware, Benches, Seating, Partitioning; 100-gallon wrought-iron Boiler, Mash, Gathering, and Round Tubs; sound and sweet Ale Casks, pocket of Kent Hops (1872), and other Effects. Sale at 10.30am prompt. Catalogues at the Auctioneer’s Offices, 13, Cannon Street, Birmingham.”

This license was not taken out in 1875.

WOOLPACK

19, Digbeth / The Square, (High Street), WALSALL

OWNERS

John Lucas [1783]
William Lucas, Dudley Street
John Farrington [1827]
Robinsons Breweries, Burton on Trent [1902]
Arthur Beebee [1904], [1905], [1910]
Ind Coope and Allsopp (acquired on 25th September 1929)
Ansells Ltd. (acquired on 16th May 1960) [1963]

LICENSEES

John Newton [1756]
John Lucas [1781] – [1783]
James Lucas [1818] – [1825]
George Moorcroft [1827]
Mrs. Chillington [1828]
John Avery [1828] – [1830]
George Fox [1833] – [1837]
Hugh Barlow* [1841] – [1858]
H Barlow* [1861]
Thomas Wootton [1860] – 1861);
George Pitt (1861 – [1869]
Edward Belton [1871] – [1875];
Samuel Carnell [];
Mrs. Emily Eliza Ross [1881] – 1889);
Alfred Stanton (1889 – 1890);
Richard Edward Ennis (1890);
Herbert Henry Hawley (1890 – 1893);
Henry Staley (1893 – 1894);
Alfred Medlam (1894 – 1899);
Elizabeth Charlotte Wilson (1899 – 1900);
Walter William C A Otter (1900 – 1902);
James Wilson (1902); manager
Alfred Henry Jones (1902 – 1904);
Thomas Pedley (1904 – 1911);
William Alfred Burton (1911 – 1914);
James Howard Biddulph (1914 – 1916);
Arthur Edward Strange (1916 – 1932);

Herbert William Mellor (1932 – 1935);
Henry Tomlinson (1935 – 1936);
George Porteous (1936 – 1937);
Ernest John Ward (1937 – 1947);
Eva Josephine Densham (1947 – 1959);
Jeffrey Whitmore Slater (1959 – 1961);
Henry George Edward Mason (1961 – 1964):

NOTES

High Street [1822], [1830], [1849], [1850], [1911]
19, Digbeth [1864], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1940]

OLD WOOLPACK [1875]
YE OLDE WOOLPACK [1904], [1910], [1911], [1963]

Tokens were issued from here.

It Ay 'ere Our Kid by Ann French

“.....The original one was one of the oldest pubs in the town where Col. John Lane of Bentley Hall mustered Royalists to fight for Charles II at Worcester.....”

Walsall Observer Special (June 1999)

“..... the WOOLPACK was one of the great cock fighting centres of Staffordshire.”

'Walsall Pubs: A History' by John Cockayne

“.....it was at 19, Digbeth on the corner of the street leading to The Square, the site is presently [1984] occupied by a shoe shop. There is a note of local Royalists mustering at the inn in September 1651 before joining King Charles at Worcester. The advertisement in Aris's Gazette on the 29th June 1756, said, ‘This is to give notice that, at the House of John Newton, at the WOOLPACK in Walsall, will be a match of Cocks to weigh 21 ounces each, for four guineas a battle, and ten guineas the main, and 10 each for Byes, for one guinea a battle, and to fight two pair of Shakebeds each day for ten guineas a battle’.....”

John Lucas, innkeeper, Digbeth. [1781]

Birmingham Chronicle 8/12/1825 - Deaths

“On Monday week, Mr. John Lucas, aged 51, eldest son of Mr. James Lucas, of the WOOLPACK, Walsall.”

George Moorcroft = George Morecroft

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/11/1827 - Advert

“Powerful Chestnut Stallion, the property of George Morecroft, of the WOOLPACK INN, Walsall.

To be sold to pay expenses and cash advanced.

By Mr. Beardsworth will be Sold by Auction, on Thursday next, the 15th of November, commencing at eleven o'clock, the above-mentioned intire Chestnut Horse; he is five years old, sixteen hands two inches high, by Alexander, his dam by True Blue, grand dam by Vermin.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/12/1827 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction (by order of the proprietor) by John Farrington, at the WOOLPACK INN, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 11th of December, between the hours of five and seven in the evening, the License, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of that old established Market House, the WOOLPACK INN, Walsall, being replete with every convenience, and Stabling for thirty horses.

And on Wednesday and Thursday, the 12th and 13th, will be sold by Auction, on the premises, by John Farrington, all the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, quantity of Pewter and other effects, belonging to Mr. George Moorcroft, as advertised in last week's paper, and postponed.”

Mrs. Chellingsworth = Mrs. Chillington

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/3/1828 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction at the house of Mrs. Chillington, known by the sign of the WOOLPACK INN, in Walsall.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/10/1828 - Advert

“To be Sold by private Contract, the Licences, Goodwill, and Possession of that old established and respectable House, known by the sign of the WOOLPACK, with stabling for forty horses, and suitable out-offices, most eligibly situated in the Market Place, Walsall, now in the occupation of Mrs. Chellingsworth, who wishes to retire from the public business.

For further particulars and to treat apply (if by letter, post paid) to E. Jukes, Auctioneer, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/7/1832 - Advert

“To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, all the long established and well accustomed, Public House, known by the name of the WOOLPACK INN, in one of the best situations in the town of Walsall, and carrying on an extensive business. The Stock, which is now low, and part of the Furniture to be taken to by valuation. Apply to Mr. T. Bowen, Appraiser &c, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/1/1833 - Advert

“WOOLPACK INN, Walsall. To be Let, and entered upon immediately. That old established Market House, situate in High Street, Walsall. The present proprietor, from other engagements, wishes to leave immediately, and in consequence of which he will make every arrangement with the coming-on Tenant that will answer the purpose of any one who wishes to embark in the public business. The Stock is low. The above House is situated close to the Market Place, and has Stabling for Forty Horses, with suitable premises for storing Pigs, &c. For further particulars apply to J. Farrington, Auctioneer, Walsall, if by Letter, post-paid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/7/1833 - Died

“On the 12th inst, William, son of Mr. George Fox, of the WOOLPACK INN, Walsall, aged 4 years.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/2/1837 - Died

“On the 25th instant, aged 38, Louisa, wife of Mr. George Fox, of the WOOLPACK INN, Walsall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/1/1841

“Walsall Election. Supper parties of the friends of Mr. Gladstone were held on Thursday night, at the WOOLPACK INN, High Street, and at the DOLPHIN, George Street.”

1841 Census

Digbeth

- [1] Hugh Barlow (48), butcher;
- [2] Ann Barlow (48);
- [3] Mary Ann Barlow (15), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Hugh Barlow (14), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Elizabeth Barlow (10), born Staffordshire;
- [6] William Barlow (7), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Ann Sells (15), fs, born Staffordshire:

* possibly the same person

Staffordshire Gazette 22/7/1841

“Charles Barber was charged with assaulting Hugh Barlow, the landlord of the WOOLPACK INN, without any provocation. Fined 5s and costs, or one month to the house of correction.”

Hugh Barlow was also a butcher. [1845], [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Digbeth

- [1] Hugh Barlow (58), butcher, born Worcestershire;
- [2] Ann Barlow (58), wife, born Alvely, Shropshire;
- [3] Mary Ann Barlow (28), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Hugh Barlow (22), son, butcher, born Walsall;
- [5] William Barlow (16), son, butcher, born Walsall;
- [6] Elizabeth Barlow (60), visitor, assistant butcher, born Oldswinford;
- [7] Margaret Taverner (19), house servant, born Cannock;
- [8] Albert Demars (24), visitor, butcher, born Walsall;
- [9] James Sevell (64), visitor, lath cleaver, born Buckinghamshire:

Walsall Free Press 14/4/1860 - Advert

“To Be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, on Old Established Beerhouse, situated in one of the principal Streets of the Town, doing an excellent business. The Stock to be taken at a Valuation, can be reduced to what the coming in Tenant requires. The reason for the present Tenant giving up the House can be given by applying at the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall.”

George Pitt = George Pitts

1861 Census

19, Digbeth

- [1] George Pitt (37), victualler (not residing here);
- [2] Maria Pitt (35), publican's wife, born Knocking, Shropshire;
- [3] George Pitt (9), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Enoch Pitt (7), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [5] Henry Pitt (4), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [6] Emma Pitt (1), son(?), scholar(?), born Birmingham;
- [7] Mary Murphy (14), general servant, born Ireland:

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/3/1862

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes. Crown Court.

Before A. M. Skinner, Esq, QC. Interpleader Case. Pitt v. Keates and Others.

Mr. A. S. Hill and Mr. Ryder were for the plaintiff, and Mr. Griffiths was for the defendants.

The case had been before the Court of Common Pleas, and had been sent down to this Court to try whether certain goods which had been taken in execution by the High Sheriff of Staffordshire were the property of the plaintiff or of the person in whose possession they were when seized.

Mr. Hill, in opening the case, said the defendants in this case traded under the name of the Uttoxeter Brewery Company. The plaintiff, George Pitt, was a working man, who lived in Birmingham, and who by frugality and industry had accumulated some little property. He had a brother-in-law named Thomas Wootton, who in the beginning of 1860 was desirous of taking a public house, the WOOLPACK, at Digbeth, in Walsall, but he had not sufficient money wherewith to buy the goodwill, furniture, &c, of the house. He therefore applied to his brother-in-law, Pitt, to lend him some money, which Pitt agreed to do on condition of receiving 5 per cent interest – double the rate paid by the banks at that time. He first lent Wootton £200, and subsequently on two different occasions £50 more, making £250 altogether. As security Wootton was to give a bill of sale on the goods and furniture, but this proposal was not immediately carried out, although, as a temporary security, he gave a bill of exchange as soon as he received the money. When the third instalment of the £250 was lent a bill of sale for the entire sum was drawn up by Messrs. James and Knight, of Birmingham, and was dated the 10th of January, 1861. Wootton did not succeed in the business, but got into debt, and there appearing to be no probability of his being able to pay the money lent him by the plaintiff, the latter decided to put the bill of sale into execution. He accordingly did so; the goods were valued at £150, and wishing to make the best of it, Pitt resolved to take the WOOLPACK and carry on the business on his own account. The licence was transferred on the next licensing day (in February) from Wootton to Pitt, and after the plaintiff had taken possession of the house, Messrs. Keates – the Uttoxeter Brewery Company – who had been supplying Wootton with beer, and to whom Wootton owed money, levied an execution on the goods, on a writ, on the 20th February, 1861.

The question for the jury to consider was whether the goods in question were the property of Pitt or Wootton. He (Mr. Hill) thought the jury could not have a shadow of doubt, after hearing the facts of the case that the goods were the bona fide property of the plaintiff. George Pitt, the claimant, Wm. Pitt, Sarah Webb, Mr. H. F. Barnett, solicitor, and Mr. W. H. Griffin, were examined in support of Mr. Hill's statement.

Mr. Griffiths, in addressing the jury for the defence, designated the plaintiff's claim to the property as an attempt to defraud the defendants of a just debt, and contended that the transaction spoken to as having taken place between the plaintiff and Wootton was not a bona fide transaction; and that there were circumstances about the case to warrant the conclusion that the claim was merely the result of a conspiracy got up by plaintiff and Wootton to defraud the defendants. Nothing was known of the bill of sale until the defendants put in the claim.

The learned Judge, in summing up, observed that the claimant was either a man of admirable industry and kindly feeling, or had perjured himself and was a partner in a conspiracy to deprive a creditor of his due.

The jury, after a brief consultation, returned a verdict for the claimant.”

Walsall Free Press 2/9/1865

“George Pitt, WOOLPACK, High Street, was charged with having, on the 25th of August, had his house open between the hours of one and two o'clock in the morning for the sale of ale and spirits.

Fined £1 and costs, or in default, to be imprisoned for fourteen days.”

AND

“Licensing Day. There were 174 applications for the renewal of licenses, and 19 new applications.....

George Pitt, WOOLPACK, High Street licenses suspended.”

Walsall Free Press 9/9/1865

“The Adjourned Licensing day. Before T. Hazledine (Mayor), H. Highway, J. Shannon, W. Ward, S. Stokes, P. Potter, and J. B. Anderson, Esqs.....

The following persons, whose license had been suspended, were cautioned and had their licenses renewed....

Mr. Pitt, WOOLPACK, Digbeth.”

Walsall Free Press 30/12/1865

Mr. Pitt, of the WOOLPACK, Digbeth, applied for leave to keep open during prohibited hours. Application refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/8/1866

“George Pitt, landlord of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, was charged with having permitted drunkenness and disorderly conduct on his premises at three o’clock on the morning on the preceding Wednesday. The charge was proved by Sergeant Mason and Police-constable Nutt, from whose evidence it appeared that at the time stated the defendant was found by them in his back yard with four men, who were the worse for liquor. The defendant left them in the yard and returned into the house on finding he was being observed by the sergeant, and subsequently two of the men began to fight. An attempt was made to show that the men knocked up defendant to supply them with ale, and that he refused, and was shoeing them off the premises when the police put in an appearance. The Bench held the offence proved, and two previous convictions for similar offences being on record against the defendant he was fined 40s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/12/1866

“Action To Recover The Value Of Work Done. The plaintiff in this case was Mr. Robert Jones, builder of Walsall; and the defendants Mr. George Pitt, of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall, and Mr. W. J. Griffiths of the Alhambra Inn, Birmingham. The action was to recover £15 for the putting up of a booth and stand at the racecourse at the last races, and the claim was resisted, the stand having fallen down on the first day of the races, and injured some of the spectators, who threatened the present defendants with actions for damages. After several witnesses had been called on each side, his honour found for the plaintiff for £5. Mr. Glover appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duigan, Lewis and Lewis) for the defendants.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 11/4/1868 - Advert

“Notice. George Pitts, of the WOOLPACK, Walsall. His Booth, at Lichfield Races, No.4, containing first-class Refreshments. Come and try.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/7/1868 - Advert

“Notice. George Pitt, WOOLPACK, Walsall, will have No.11 Booth, at Sutton Races, where his Friends will find first-class Refreshments. Call, Friends, and see him.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/5/1869

“William Merchant, who had been remanded from Thursday last upon a charge of uttering a counterfeit coin, was again brought up in custody. The depositions taken on Thursday having been read over, further evidence was adduced, from which it appeared that about an hour before passing the florin at the WOOLPACK, Digbeth, he passed one at the MALT SHOVEL on the Birmingham Road. The date of all the florins was 1858. The prisoner was remanded till Thursday. The Bench, on the application of Mr. Dale, who appeared for the prisoner, agreed to accept bail, himself in £50, and two sureties of £25 each.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/7/1869

“Walsall Quarter Sessions. Grand Jury.

William Merchant was charged with having on the 10th of May last uttered a counterfeit florin to Mrs. Pitt, of the WOOLPACK public house, Digbeth. The prisoner, on being placed at the bar, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to one month’s imprisonment with hard labour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/10/1869

“Collins v. Pitt. In this case Mr. E. Collins, accountant, Cannock, sued George Pitt, landlord of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall, for £1 8s 1d, value of a lost cheque, which the defendant had dealt with in the manner stated below. A short time ago the plaintiff, in the course of his business as collector of gas rents, received the cheque in question, which was made payable to bearer, but subsequently lost it. Two men named Goring and Farnell found it, and instead of taking measures to restore it to its lawful owner, they endeavoured to get it cashed at the branch of Lloyd’s Banking Company, Walsall, but failed, the cheque not being upon the bank and the men being unknown. They went to Mr. Pitt, who lives immediately opposite, and asked him to cash the cheque or get it cashed, stating they had received it in payment of an account. He took it to the bank, and, on endorsing it, got it cashed, and handed it to the men, who went away. On the present proceedings being taken against him he went to considerable trouble and expense to find out who the men were, and ascertained that one of them was in Stafford gaol, and that the other lived at Wyrley. Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defendant, urged that his client was a mere innocent agent in the hands of the men, and that the bank should have been sued. His Honour concurred, and nonsuited the plaintiff, but without costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/12/1869

“Geo. Pitt, the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, was charged with having, on Sunday, the 21st Nov, had his house open during prohibited hours. Police-constables Lakin and Minor deposed to finding persons drinking on the premises at ten minutes past ten o’clock on the morning named, and the back door open. An attempt was made to show that the ale the persons were drinking was given to them; but the magistrates were not satisfied with the defence, and imposed a fine of 10s and costs, at the same time ordering the defendant’s license to be endorsed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/12/1869

“At the Walsall Petty Sessions, yesterday, before Messrs. W. H. Duignan (Mayor), J. Brewer, J. Shannon, and H. Highway, Maria Pitt, landlady of the WOOLPACK public-house, Digbeth, was charged with having, on the 2nd of January, 1866, stolen a leather purse containing £12 or £14 from the person of John Salt Corvesor, commercial traveller. The facts of the case, which occupied the Court fully three hours and a half, were briefly stated by Mr. Barnett, who conducted the prosecution. After which the prosector was examined by Mr. Barnett, and from his evidence it appears that on the evening in question he went to the WOOLPACK, and there met Mr. Elias Froggatt, now deceased. Prosecutor and Froggatt tossed for wine; prosecutor won the first bottle and Mr. Froggatt the second. Not wishing to let the company see what money he had, he went out of the 'bar' into the 'tap', and there took out his purse and from it he took a sovereign, and gave it to the landlord, who gave him 15s, keeping 5s for the bottle of wine. Afterwards he returned to the bar, and went with some others, on the invitation of Mrs. Pitt, to the parlour, and he became suddenly overpowered with the drink, and recollected little more that happened that night, except that he remembered Mrs. Pitt attempting to get him under the 'kissing bush'. He was taken to the STORK HOTEL, and next morning he missed his purse, and inquired at the WOOLPACK if they had seen anything of it, but both Mr. and Mrs. Pitt replied that they had seen nothing of it. He then gave information to Detective-sergeant Wood, but heard no more of the affair until about a month ago when he received a letter from Charles Bicknell, asking if he was the man who had been robbed, and stating that if he was, and would come to Walsall, he (Bicknell) would take him to parties who had seen the robbery committed. In consequence of that communication he came to Walsall, and instituted the present proceedings.

The next witness was Thomas Westley, stirrup maker, who corroborated the evidence of the prosecutor up to the point where prosecutor was taken under the mistletoe by Mrs. Pitt, and added Mrs. Pitt was behind prosecutor, trying to get him under the bush, and while in that position she slipped her left hand into his left-hand trouser pocket, and at that instant they both fell. She drew a leather bag from the prosecutor's pocket, and clasped it to her breast, and commenced laughing. She then turned to a woman named Taylor, and said something which witness could not hear. Prosecutor, who was very drunk, rolled over on his back, and lay on the floor till witness left the room.

Mrs. Westley corroborated her husband's evidence.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor also gave corroborative evidence, and said when Mrs. Pitt took the prosecutor's bag, she turned to me and said, 'Follow Mr. Froggatt and get his.' She thought the prosecutor lodged at the WOOLPACK, and that Mrs. Pitt had taken the bag in order to take care of it for him.

Detective-Sergeant Wood said that on the 3rd of May, 1866, the prosecutor gave information of the robbery, and he went to the WOOLPACK and made some inquiry, and was informed that the prosecutor was brought to the house helplessly drunk, and lay for some time on the screen, and when he woke up, several hours after he was brought in, he made no mention of his loss.

This being the case for the prosecution, Mr. Motteram, of the Oxford Circuit, who appeared for the defendant, called two witnesses, but neither of them had been in the parlour when the robbery was said to have taken place.

The Bench, after a short consultation, decided to commit the prisoner to the Quarter Sessions for the borough, but remanded the case till Thursday, in order that the depositions might be preferred. Defendant was again admitted to bail."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/1/1870 - Notice

"Notice is hereby Given, that George Pitt, of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Gasfitter, was on the 31st day of December, 1869, adjudicated a Bankrupt on a Petition filed in the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, at Birmingham, and due notice will be given of the time to be appointed for the First Meeting of Creditors thereunder."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1870

"At the Guildhall, yesterday, before Messrs. W. H. Duignan (Mayor), S. Stephens, and H. Highway, George Pitt, of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, was brought up on a warrant, charged with having received from his wife, Maria, £10, knowing it to have been stolen; and Mrs. Pitt (who was committed for trial a short time ago on a charge of having stolen the money in question from Mr. Corvesor, commercial traveller, Stafford) was charged upon a warrant to surrender and be rebailed, her bail having withdrawn. Mr. J. F. Crump (for Mr. Barnett) appeared for the prosecutor, and said that since Mrs. Pitt was committed certain information had reached the prosecutor showing complicity on the part of the husband, but inasmuch as the warrant was only executed on the previous day, and both the prosecutor and Mr. Barnett, his solicitor, were unable to be present that morning, he asked for an adjournment of the case for a week. The Mayor said information had been received that Mr. and Mrs. Pitt were about to leave the country for America, and he asked Mr. Crump if he had any evidence to put before the Bench. Mr. Crump replied that he had not the slightest, but he would endeavour to have a witness present before the rising of the Court. This he was unable to do, and the prisoner was discharged, the Mayor remarking that he ought not to have been brought unless the prosecution was prepared to offer evidence against him.

Mr. Pitt said he was very anxious that the report as to his going to America should be inquired into. On his oath, there was not a word of truth in it. The Mayor said the Magistrates would hear any statement he wished to make, but they thought it unnecessary for him to say anything. The prisoner was then discharged, and fresh bail being found for his wife, she was set at liberty."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/1/1870

"Walsall Quarter Sessions. Maria Pitt, wife of George Pitt, formerly landlord of the WOOLPACK public house, was charged with having, on the 2nd of January, 1866, stolen from the person of John Salt Corvesor, a bag containing £10. Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Barnett) prosecuted, and Mr. Motteram (instructed by Mr. Glover) defended. The jury returned a verdict of 'not guilty' and the prisoner was discharged. The announcement was received with applause."

Walsall Free Press 15/1/1870

"An application made for the transfer of the license of the WOOLPACK INN from George Pitt to Joseph William Pitt was adjourned for a week."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/3/1870 - Advert

“The OLD WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall, to be Let, with immediate possession.
Apply to Horrobin, Auctioneer, Green Lane, Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 29/10/1870 - Advert

“Wanted by a respectable Young Man, a Situation as Groom.
Apply to the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth.”

1871 Census

19, Digbeth

- [1] Edward Belton (46), publican, born Warwickshire;
- [2] Jane H. Belton (38), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Charles Meades (30), domestic servant, born Brierley Hill;
- [4] Hester Hines (16), domestic servant, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Louisa Osborne (18), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Free Press 19/8/1871

“Martha Jackson, who had been entrusted with a pair of sheets and a blanket to wash by Edward Belton, landlord of the WOOLPACK INN, was charged with having illegally pawned those articles. Defendant pleaded guilty, and was ordered to pay a fine of 10s and costs, over and above the value of the articles pawned.”

Midland Examiner 17/4/1875 - Advert

“Wanted. A Strong General Servant, at a Public-house; one used to cooking, and to make herself generally useful.
Apply, Mrs. Belton, WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth.”

1881 Census

19, Digbeth

- [1] Emily Ross (42), widow, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Emily Ross (21), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Ada Maud Ross (20), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Walter W. Ross (17), son, appraiser, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Elizabeth Warner (28), sister, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [6] Arthur Warner (13), nephew, born Oswestry:

Walsall Observer 6/1/1884

“Conservative League.....

The ‘Churchill’ Lodge will hold its next meeting at the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, on Monday next. The Lodge, not having met for a month on account of the holidays, it had been decided to have a grand concert after the business of the evening has been got through. Several well-known artistes have promised to appear, thereby ensuring a most enjoyable night. Members from other lodges cordially invited.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/7/1887 - Advert

“Useful grey Horse, quiet to ride or drive. Cheap. Owner no further use.
Apply, WOOLPACK INN, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 28/9/1889 - Advert

“Monday next, September 30th, at Eleven o’clock.

Unreserved Clearance Sale of the whole of the Public House Fittings and Fixtures, at the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall; together with the surplus Furniture, by order of Mrs. Ross, whose tenancy has expired.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1890

“At the Guildhall, a special session – the first under the new local Act – was held for the purpose of hearing applications for music, singing, and dancing licenses Herbert H. Hawley, WOOLPACK, Digbeth, who had given notice of their intention to apply, did not appear.”

1891 Census

19, Digbeth – The WOOLPACK

- [1] Alfred Cassell (37), barman, born Birmingham:

The original building was demolished in 1892.

Walsall Advertiser 26/11/1892

“Borough Surveyor’s Annual Report ... year ending September 30th, 1892.....

During the year the old WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, has been pulled down, and an improvement in the building lines of the Square and Digbeth effected.....”

Walsall Advertiser 29/7/1893

“In the Nisi Prius Court at Stafford Assizes on Tuesday morning, before Baron Pollock and a special jury, an action was heard in which the Attorney General and Mrs. Mary Croydon (of Walsall) were the plaintiffs, and James Porter, trading as Robinson and Co, brewers, Burton-on-Trent, was the defendant. The action was for an injunction to restrain the defendant from continuing the erection of a building in the Square, Walsall, which caused an obstruction to the public and Mrs. Mary Croydon, and damages were claimed.

Mr. Alfred Young and Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Messrs. Marlow, Potter, and Marten) were for the plaintiffs, and Mr. F. A. Bosanquet, QC, and Mr. R. C. E. Plumptre (instructed by Messrs. Loxton and Newman) were for the defendant.

Mr. Alfred Young, in opening the case, explained that the action was brought in the name of the Attorney General as representing the public at large, and by Mrs. Mary Croydon in respect of her own rights, both in relation to the use of the public highway and also in respect of the use and enjoyment of her own property. She was an old lady about 78 years of age, and by dint of great industry and also great privations, she was enabled to get together sufficient money to purchase certain property in 1874, which fronted on the Square, at Walsall. At that time the width of the thoroughfare was 21 feet 6 inches, and that extended for a distance of 79 feet. In 1875 the OLD WOOLPACK INN, an old half-timbered building, which had two frontages, one in Digbeth, and the other fronting the Square, where Mrs. Croydon's property was situated, was sold. It was specified that the entrance from Digbeth to the Square, and opposite to the OLD WOOLPACK INN was to be widened. Subsequently the inn was conveyed to Mr. Porter, the defendant, and last year he pulled it down and built a new one, which encroached upon the highway to the detriment of the public rights, and also to the private rights of Mrs. Croydon, and further caused injury to her by the depreciation of her property. The encroachment consisted of the projection from the original site of the WOOLPACK on to the highway to the extent of 9ft in width and 46ft in length. The building interfered with the light, casting a shadow over the plaintiff's property, and tenants had left the property in consequence.

His Lordship remarked that so far the case pointed to what had been done as having been done for the benefit of the town. The pulling down of the old building tended to show that some better arrangement had been come to. The building had not been put up without consideration, but plans had been submitted to the authority. If the learned counsel could make some arrangement it would be better than going to a jury.

Mr. Bosanquet, QC, said that undoubtedly there had been a recess in this street. The Square was not what would be called a square in any modern enlightened city, but it was a very old street indeed, and at the commencement was so narrow that only one cart could pass. The Corporation were desirous that the street should be widened at this part, and the other portion made to run in line, and Mr. Porter had erected the building accordingly.

Mr. Young replied that the Judge, addressing him, said that if he succeeded in obtaining an injunction he might do irreparable injury to the defendant, and the question was whether he would gain himself.

Acting on the Judge's suggestion, learned counsel consulted together with a view to arranging the matter. Mr. Bosanquet then announced that an arrangement had been come to by which part of the awkward corner would be pulled down to a certain extent in a way which would benefit the public and restore to the plaintiff the full enjoyment of every private right she before possessed, and arrangement was also made by which she was to be sufficiently compensated.

On these terms the action was withdrawn.”

Walsall Advertiser 9/12/1893

“At a monthly and special meeting of the Council of the Borough of Walsall, to be held on Monday next, in the Council Chamber, at the Guildhall, in the borough, the business to be transacted is as follows.

To receive a report from the Streets Committee, and thereon to confirm the following recommendations.

That the owner of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, be paid the sum of £100 in consideration of his reconveying to the Corporation as an addition to the Square the strip of land containing 20 square yards or thereabouts in front of his building in the Square adjoining the property of Mrs. Croydon, and which was conveyed to him by the Corporation about a year ago, in exchange for a piece of land of about equal area which was required for widening the Square and Digbeth.”

Walsall Advertiser 27/1/1894

“Lord Randolph Churchill Lodge. A well attended lodge was held on Monday last, at the WOOLPACK HOTEL, G.M. Bro. Frakes, G. Sec. Bro Sutton, and Bro. Bates (Beaconsfield Lodge) giving addresses. Arrangements had been made with some Burton gentlemen to attend, with the intention of forming Lodges there, but their visit was unavoidably postponed.”

Walsall Advertiser 31/3/1894

“Mr. Stanley [sic], WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, applied for a music and singing license on Mondays and Thursdays from 8 to 10.30pm – on Mondays for the ‘Churchill’ Lodge, and on Thursdays for the Hairdressers’ Association. The Chief Constable said he thought the application of re the Hairdressers’ Association ought to be made by the Secretary. The Bench agreed and only allowed for meetings of the Conservative League.”

Walsall Advertiser 3/3/1894

“Bankruptcy. Amongst the Gazette notices there appears the following.

Henry Staley, WOOLPACK HOTEL, High Street, Walsall, lately Wednesbury, hotel manager, late hotel proprietor.”

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1894

“Re Henry Staley, late of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, hotel proprietor.

The public examination of this debtor took place on Thursday, at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, before Mr. Registrar Clarke. Mr. Plant appeared for debtor.

The statement showed liabilities £382 5s 4d, assets £20 18s 10d, deficiency £361 6s 6d.

The bankrupt was a wine merchant's traveller until August 1885 [sic], when he took to the ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, for Messrs. Evershed and Co., brewers, agreeing to pay £300 for fixtures, stock, &c. He attributed his failure to bad trade and bad debts, and loss upon sale of stock and fixtures.

The examination was adjourned till the 22nd inst."

Alfred Medlam was also a jeweller of 21, Bridge Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1894

"Walsall. The adjourned licensing sessions for this borough took place yesterday....

Mr. A. E. Cotterell applied on behalf of Alfred Medlam, of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, for a license for singing and dancing in his house on certain meetings of workmen's societies. The Chief Constable opposed and said that since the magistrates had stopped the dancing in public-houses there had been a marked improvement in the conduct of such houses in the town....

The Bench deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into court announced that Mr. Medlam's application for a dancing license for a class not yet formed was refused, his other applications being adjourned...."

Walsall Advertiser 8/12/1894

"Monday was a day specially appointed by the Bough Justices for the transfer of public-house licenses, &c. The Mayor (Councillor Noake) and Mr. G. Gill constituted the Bench....

Mr. J. N. Cotterell applied on behalf of Mr. A. Medlam, landlord of the WOOLPACK, Digbeth, for licenses for music and singing on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Fridays, between the hours of 7 and 10.30. Monday's license was required for the Painter's Association, Tuesday's for the 'Lord Randolph' Lodge of the Conservative League, and Friday's for the London and North Western Railway Servants' Society.

The application was granted.

Mrs. Cotterell made a further application with respect of the Arion Glee Union. The members met every Wednesday at the WOOLPACK. They had no drink, and assembled purely for practice, and he wished to know, if under those circumstances, a license for music and singing were required.

The Chief Constable asked the Bench to express no opinion.

Mr. Cotterell thereupon applied for an occasional license and this was granted."

Walsall Advertiser 27/2/1897

"On Wednesday next the second of the series of smoking concerts, promoted by the Walsall Typographical Society in aid of their recently-formed Benevolent Fund, will take place at the OLD WOOLPACK, Digbeth, and promises to be quite as good as the previous one...."

Walsall Advertiser 28/8/1897

"Walsall Annual Licensing Sessions. These sessions were held at the Guildhall yesterday....

Objection to renewal....

In regard to the OLD WOOLPACK, Mr. Pearman-Smith intimated that the difficulty regarding the bedroom accommodation had been got over, and they proposed to proceed with the plans as originally deposited. Mr. Taylor (Chief Constable) expressed his satisfaction at this course. The objection to renewal was withdrawn conditionally."

Walsall Advertiser 15/10/1898

"John McDonald (37), tailor, no fixed address, was charged with acting as a pedlar without a licence on the 8th inst. Police-constable 52 (Nunn) saw the man hawking collar studs in the WOOLPACK HOTEL, Digbeth. Discharged on promising to leave the town."

Walsall Advertiser 31/12/1898

"Lords Limited has just been registered with a capital of £4,000, in £1 shares, to acquire, take over as a going concern, and carry on the business of an aerated water manufacturer and wholesale and retail bottler of ales, stout, cider, drinks, and other liquids, carried on by John Lord, at 96, Birmingham Road, Walsall, and at the rear of the ROYAL OAK INN, Ablewell Street, Walsall. The subscribers are....

Alfred Medlam, WOOLPACK HOTEL, Walsall, licensed victualler."

Walsall Advertiser 8/7/1899

"Leonard Harrison, Ablewell Street; John Mullins, 9, Blue Lane East; Harry Wilson, WOOLPACK, Digbeth; Charles Smith, 81, Old Butts, were summoned for playing football in Eldon Street, on June 21st. The defendants each pleaded guilty, but Smith offered as his excuse that it was 'in the breakfast half hour' and they only played 10 minutes. Each fined 2s 6d."

Walsall Advertiser 22/7/1899

"The Walsall No.1 and 2 Branches of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants took their annual picnic on Sunday. Leaving the HOPE AND ANCHOR, Pleck, they travelled in brakes via Church Bridge and Gailey to Brewood, and on arriving at their destination made the Lion Hotel, kept by Mr. A. Medlam, formerly of YE OLDE WOOLPACK HOTEL, Walsall, their quarters. A splendid tea was served, and after the good things provided had been done ample justice to, a walk was taken round the village. Subsequently, at the hotel, a beautifully framed emblem was presented to the host on behalf of the branches, the gift being suitably acknowledged by Mr. Medlam. The journey home was made through Wolverhampton, and Walsall was reached about 10.30pm, the party having spent an enjoyable time.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/9/1899

“The annual licensing sessions for this borough were held at the Guildhall on Wednesday.....

Then the magistrates also want to know if you can report to them during the sitting of this meeting as to the accommodation provided by the GEORGE HOTEL, the STORK, the DRAGON, the PRIORY, NEW INNS, the WOOLPACK, and the QUEENS?the Chief Constable said he was then in possession of the information asked by the Magistrates with reference to the bedroom accommodation at the hotels. At the GEORGE HOTEL there were nineteen beds for commercials. The two large rooms at that hotel, formerly used for balls, &c, had been converted into eight bedrooms and a bathroom, and no plans had been submitted for the alterations. At the PRIORY there were six bedrooms for accommodation, five at the DRAGON, three at the QUEENS, but there was no bedroom accommodation at the STORK, NEW INNS, and the WOOLPACK Hotels.....

Mr. Loxton announced that the hotel licenses would be renewed with the exception of the GEORGE.”

Walsall Observer 17/3/1900

“A Smoking Concert was held in the club room of YE OLD WOOLPACK on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of Bro. H. Gwinnett, who met with an accident on April 13th, 1899, breaking his thigh, which rendered him unable to follow his employment for ten months. The concert was in connection with the Walsall branch of the Amalgamated Society of House Decorators and Painters. The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm. Emson, and about fifty friends were present.....”

Walsall Observer 21/4/1900

“An inquest was held on Wednesday by the Borough Coroner (Mr. T. H. Stanley), at the WOOLPACK HOTEL, on the body of Gladys Lillian Fox, aged five weeks.

Ethel Fox, mother of the dead child, 50, Queen Street, said that on Monday last she went out with her husband and mother, and, as they returned late, they decided to sleep in her mother’s house, 13, The Square. The deceased baby slept with witness and her mother, and about six o’clock on Tuesday morning witness awoke and fed the infant, which seemed all right at that time. An hour later witness’s mother awoke her and told her that the child was dead.

Jane Pope, mother of the last witness, 13, The Square, said that on Monday night she slept with her daughter and the infant at her own house. She awoke just before seven and got up and dressed, and then picked up the baby. The baby was quite dead when witness went to her.

Dr. Harry Shore said that he was called in to see the baby about half past seven on Tuesday morning. The child was quite dead when he examined her, and from her appearance he could see that death was the result of suffocation from overlying.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

W. Otter was elected as a member of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society in August 1900.

Walsall Observer 8/12/1900

“The Florists’ Society. The annual meeting of the members of this society was held at the WOOLPACK, Digbeth, on Wednesday night. Mr. G. Saddler presided.....”

1901 Census

Digbeth – WOOLPACK

[1] Walter W. C. A. Otter (45), hotel keeper, born Camberwell, London;

[2] Annie Otter (44), wife, born Whitchurch, Shropshire;

[3] Rose Otter (18), daughter, born Crewe;

[4] May Otter (13), daughter, born Crewe;

[5] Violet Otter (9), daughter, born Crewe;

[6] William F. Otter (3), son, born Crewe;

[7] George Pritchett (22), nephew, engineer’s fitter, born Crewe;

[8] Rose Waldron (26), domestic servant, born Birmingham:

James Wilson was fined £5 and costs, on 25th April 1902, for selling ale after hours.

Walsall Advertiser 7/3/1903

“On Tuesday the adjourned annual licensing sessions were held at the Guildhall, when the Court was crowded.....

Formal notice of objection had been given to the renewal of the following licenses.....

Alfred Henry Jones, OLD WOOLPACK, Digbeth.

All the licenses were renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 4/6/1904

“Transfer Day.

In the application of Mr. W. J. Pearman-Smith for the transfer of the license of YE OLDE WOOLPACK, Digbeth from Alfred Henry Jones to Robert Wooley, the question arose as to whether it was necessary for the out-going tenant to appear.

Mr. Loxton (magistrates’ clerk) said the law clearly laid down that it was unless the lawyer appearing in the case could give satisfactory reasons for his absence.

Mr. H. H. Jackson: I think the best thing would be to chain him up your worships.

Mr. Bayliss: I don’t think this is the time for a display of wit on the part of solicitors.

Mr. Jackson: I only wished to point out, your worships, how difficult it sometimes is to get the out-going tenant to appear.

Mr. Bayliss: (sharply): There is no difficulty in obeying an Act of Parliament.

Granted.”

[Robert Wooley does not appear in the Licensing Register.]

Walsall Advertiser 25/5/1905 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell St., Walsall.

Houses.....

YE OLDE WOOL PACK, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 1/2/1908

“A labourer named Fredk. Simmonds (40), of no home, was charged with begging in the OLD WOOLPACK, Digbeth, also with assaulting the landlord, Thos. Pedley, on Monday.

Evidence was given that prisoner entered the house and commenced begging at midday on Monday, and when ordered out by the landlord refused to go. The landlord took hold of him to eject him, when prisoner struck him in the mouth.

Prisoner’s defence was that the landlord hit him first, and he retaliated. According to Police-constable Farnell (53), who arrested prisoner, he was bleeding slightly from the lip.

Prisoner was discharged on promising to leave the town.”

Walsall Advertiser 7/5/1910

“James Cumisky, tailor, 78, South Street, was summoned for being found drunk on licensed premises, the OLD WOOLPACK, Digbeth, on April 23rd; and Thomas Pedley, the landlord, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises.

Dealing with the summons against Cumisky, Sergeant Cook said at about 8.10pm on Saturday, April 23rd, he visited the OLD WOOLPACK in company with Police-constable Fisher, and in the snug he saw defendant drinking from a glass. He was drunk, and as soon as he saw the officers he put his glass down and walked out of the house. Witness followed and saw defendant go away, and then he (witness) returned to the house and saw the landlord. He asked Pedley if he had noticed Cumisky’s condition, and he said that he had had something to drink but was not drunk. Witness asked the landlord who had supplied defendant with drink, and he replied, ‘I do not know.’ Witness also asked the landlord if he knew who was responsible, and he answered, ‘I suppose I am; but I could not be everywhere.’ Witness pointed out that the potman who was in the snug should have noticed defendant’s condition.

Cross-examined by Mr. F. Wilson Smith, who defended, witness said he had heard that defendant had previously been taken to the police station for refusing to pay for beer at the MARKET TAVERN. If he had seen the defendant going into the house he would have cautioned the man behind the bar not to serve him. He did not arrest defendant, because he had requested him to go and he went.

Police-constable Fisher corroborated. In answer to the Chief Constable, he said the house was visited in the course of ordinary visitation.

Police-constable Lewis stated that he was called to the MARKET TAVERN on the night in question because the defendant was accused by the landlord of refusing to pay for beer that he had had. The defendant was under the influence of beer at the time.

Cumisky said he went out of the house with 1s 7d and he went to the WOOLPACK and had half-a-pint of beer, and then went to the MARKET TAVERN, where he called for two half-pints. He subsequently called for two more, and found that he had no money to pay because he had lost a shilling. The landlord became excited and called for the police, and he was taken to the police station. He might have been excited, but he strongly denied being drunk. He went to the WOOLPACK later to see if he had lost the shilling there, and he was asked to drink out of a jug.

The Bench decided that there was not enough evidence to convict, and the case would be dismissed.

The Chief Constable consequently withdrew the summons against Pedley.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/7/1910

“The many friends of Mr. W. Pedley, who sails for Australia today, met at the WOOLPACK HOTEL, Digbeth, on Thursday evening for the purpose of presenting him with a purse of gold, and wishing him every success in his new home.....”

Walsall Advertiser 10/9/1910 - Advert

“A. Beebee’s Noted Home-Brewed Ales.

Brewery – Sandwell Street, Walsall.

Houses.....

YE OLD WOOLPACK, Digbeth, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/11/1910

“Loyal Caledonian Corks.

The quarterly meeting of the Walsall district was held on Saturday, at the WOOLPACK, Hotel, Digbeth. There were fifty-eight delegates present, representing twenty-seven lodges.....”

“Home brewed ales, Wines and spirits. Billiards.” [1911]

1911 Census

19, Digbeth

[1] Thomas Pedley (38), public house manager, born Walsall;

[2] Mary Jane Pedley (36), wife, married 13 years, assisting in business, born Walsall;

[3] Alice May Pedley (12), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Ivy Lillian Pedley (4), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Thomas Pedley (6 weeks), son, born Walsall;

[6] Alice Rodgers (28), boarder, bridle stitcher, born Walsall;

[7] Mable May King (26), barmaid, born London;

[8] Nellie Myring (19), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 3/6/1911

“On Thursday week, a large gathering, to the number of about 80, assembled at YE OLDE WOOLPACK, Digbeth, to enjoy an excellent concert During the evening a presentation consisting of a splendid 400-day time-piece, suitably engraved, was made to Mr. T. Pedley, who informed the company that it was through force of circumstances he had to sever his connection with them.....”

William Alfred Burton – see also ALMA.

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
OLDE WOOLPACK, Digbeth. £2 2s 11d.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1935

“Visiting the exhibition last week at Walsall Civic Week Municipal Centenary celebrations.....

An old painting which recalled recent differences of authorities about the authenticity of the Uttoxeter or Walsall penance of Samuel Johnson was ‘YE OLDE WOOLPACK, Walsall, pulled down in 1892. In the very shadow of this old house the great Samuel Johnson when a boy used to mind his father’s bookstall.’ That is the superscription on the painting. We need not re-open this discussion – at least not this year – but simply note that art has definitely associated the great Doctor with the Digbeth inn.”

Birmingham Mail 16/10/1939

“Two Birmingham sailors were among those who were lost when the Royal Oak was torpedoed. Several Midland men are among the survivors.....

Mrs. Eva Ward, wife of Mr. E. J. Ward, licensee of the WOOLPACK INN, Digbeth, Walsall, has received an official intimation that her son, Eric Douglas Densham, who was serving as an ordinary seaman on the Royal Oak, is alive and well. He is aged 18, and his mother told the Mail today that he comes of a seafaring family, members of which have been in the Royal Navy for a period of over 300 years. She has another son, Albert James, who is aged 19, serving on HMS Rodney.

Prior to joining the Navy, Eric worked first for a Birmingham firm and afterwards at Rubery Owen and Co, Darlaston. The Royal Oak was his first ship since he completed his training.”

1939 Register

Digbeth – WOOLPACK Public House

[1] Ernest J. Ward, date of birth 11/11/1891, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Eva J. (Ward) Densham, dob 27/04/1900, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 2/3/1940

“The members of the Walsall & District Roller Canary Club held their 18th annual singing contest on Saturday, at headquarters, YE OLD WOOLPACK HOTEL, Digbeth. Financially and otherwise the show was a great success, and the winning birds came from all over England.....”

Walsall Observer 31/5/1941

“Making his 26th appearance before the court, John Jones (41), labourer, 20 Stag Hill Road, Harden, who was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the Square yesterday week, said, ‘It is very seldom I have any beer.’

It was stated that he used obscene expressions to the landlord of YE OLDE WOOLPACK, Digbeth, and a police officer had to be summoned to help in putting him outside, where he used some more bad language.

Jones admitted being drunk but denied that he would use such language as that which had been attributed to him.

Police-superintendent Raybould said that he had had several previous convictions for drunkenness, the last being in February this year.

Jones, who said that he was a married man with six children, only two of whom were working, was told by Judge Caporn that he ought not to be wasting his money on drink and consequent fines. He was now fined 20s.”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1943 - Advert

“Notice!!! To Organisers, Secretaries, and all those Interested In Entertainment.
Ladies and Gentlemen. Presenting the Walsall & District Variety Artists’ Association,
At their Permanent Headquarters, the WOOLPACK, Digbeth.
Membership Open to All Artists and Enthusiasts.
Auditions Every Thursday Night, Commencing Thursday, July 1st, at 8pm prompt.
Can you Sing (or Bing!), Dance, Whistle, Play Instrument, Make ‘em Larf?
You can! Well, what are we waiting for? New Artists and All Budding Talent especially welcomed.
Stage! Atmosphere! Coriality!
Walsall hasn’t a Theatre (Shame!) but by gosh! Now, you’ve got the WOOLPACK!!!
Well-known Local Artists in Support Each Week.
Admission Free, Everybody Invited.
Overheard: What! You’re not a member of the W&DVAA? You are lonely, aren’t you!”

Birmingham Mail 13/10/1943 - Advert

“Bar-Help Wanted live out.
WOOLPACK, Digbeth, Walsall.”

It closed on 27th February 1964.

It was demolished on 10th August 1966.

YARD

Station Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Whitley [1869]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/2/1869

“At the Public Office yesterday, before Messrs. J. Hildick (Mayor), J. Brewer, and H. Highway, the following publicans and beerhouse keepers were each fined 2s 6d and cost for having had their houses open for the sale of drink during prohibited hours.....
James Whitley, landlord of the YARD beerhouse, Station Street, who, about two o’clock on Tuesday morning, had six men drinking in the house.”

YATES

23-29, Leicester Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Stonegate Pub Company [2012]

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2007]

Express & Star 11/7/2017

“Marie Wood suddenly started throwing punches at fellow customer Andrew O’Donnell in YATES’s on Leicester Street, Walsall for reasons that were not immediately apparent, a judge heard. Mr Howard Searle, prosecuting, told Wolverhampton Crown Court: ‘He was on the receiving end of aggressive behaviour from her. He may have found her attractive but, for whatever reason, she started punching him.’

There was pushing and shoving as others got involved in the disturbance which culminated in 36-year-old woman hurling a glass into the crowd. It did not break but caused a head injury to another of the customers, continued the prosecutor. Wood, who had been drinking heavily after parting from a partner, was ejected by security staff but the trouble continued outside on August 8 last year. She tried to get back into the premises on several occasions but was pulled back by 20-year-old Mitchell Leonard, whom she knew. Then she got in a fight with another woman who had just left the bar. Both were thrown to the ground in the struggle during which she kicked her rival in the ribs. The pair had to be literally pulled apart as they clung to each other on the ground. O’Donnell also became involved in the melee before being felled with a punch from another of Wood’s party, 30-year-old father of two Ben Edwards. Mr Searle explained: ‘Edwards took up a boxing stance as Mr O’Donnell walked towards him and then punched Mr O’Donnell, knocking him down before kicking him.’

The victim was then punched while lying unconscious on the ground by Leonard, concluded the prosecutor. Mr O’Donnell was badly bruised and needed eight stitches in his lip.

Wood from Pelsall Lane, Walsall, who had a previous conviction for excess alcohol, recalled little of what happened because she was drunk. Mr David Swinnerton, defending, said: ‘She had been on a bender following the break up of a relationship and is disgusted at her shameful behaviour.’

Roofer Edwards of Roebuck Road, Leamore, who was not involved in the violence until punching and kicking Mr O’Donnell, had previous convictions for affray, assault and violent disorder while Leonard from Stephenson Avenue, Beechdale, was of previous good character.

Recorder Jason MacAdam said: ‘This was a disgraceful, but sadly all too common, incident.’ He told the defendants who all admitted affray: ‘Wood started it and kept it going with violence both inside and outside the pub. Edwards had the good sense to walk away before the drink or instinct took over and he reverted to type while Leonard cowardly punched a man who was lying on the ground.’

Edwards, who also pleaded guilty to causing grievous bodily harm, was jailed for one year eight months while Wood, who pleaded guilty to two affrays – representing her behaviour both inside and outside YATES’s – was locked up for eight months. Leonard received four months detention suspended for 18 months with 180 hours unpaid work.”

[2017]

YEW TREE

3, (6), Ryecroft Street (3, (4), Ryecroft Park) / Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

John Brewer Esq., Wednesbury
George Holden
Joseph Bullows
City Brewery Co. (Lichfield) Ltd.

LICENSEES

George Holden [1871] – [1881];
William Young [] – 1889);
Frederic Mundy (1889 – 1891);
John William Beebee (1891 – 1893);
Charles Welch Done (1893 – 1920);
Frederick Lord (1920 – 1925);
Harry Haden (1925);

NOTES

4, Ryecroft Park [1871]
6, Ryecroft Street [1872]
3+4, Ryecroft Street [1881]
3, Ryecroft Street [1896]
3, Ryecroft Park [1901], [1904], [1912]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

It was a home brew house.

1871 Census

4, Ryecroft Park
[1] George Holden (37), saddler and beer seller, born Walsall;
[2] Mary Holden (37), wife, born Walsall;
[3] Hannah E. Holden (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[4] Ellen Kate Holden (11), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[5] Ellen Holden (10), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;
[6] Harriet Russell (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

George Holden, beer retailer, Ryecroft Park. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1873

“The committee of the Walsall Cottage Hospital beg to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions that have been received up to yesterday from the Licensed Victuallers and beersellers.....
Mr. George Holden, YEW TREE, Ryecroft Street, 6s 6d.”

1881 Census

3+4, Ryecroft Street – YEW TREE INN
[1] George Holden (47), widower, retail brewer, born Walsall;
[2] Ellen Holden (20), daughter, domestic servant, born Walsall;
[3] Ellen R. Holden (22), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
[4] Ada Cheadle (21), domestic servant, born Ashby de la Zouch, Leicestershire;
[5] Elizabeth Cooper (19), domestic servant, born Walsall:

1891 Census

Ryecroft Park – YEW TREE INN
[1] Frederic Mundy (34), publican, born Twyford, Berkshire;
[2] Sarah Ann Mundy (40), wife, born Tickhill, Yorkshire;
[3] Frederic Mundy Loikins (2), son, born Walsall:

Walsall Observer 1/10/1892

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the borough of Walsall were held on Wednesday.....
Mr. Gillespie applied on behalf of Joseph Knight, of the BARLEY MOW beerhouse, Church Hill, to remove the license to two houses at the corner of Arundel Street and Willenhall Road. He stated that this applicant was also prepared to sacrifice a second license, that of the YEW TREE beerhouse Stafford Street. He pointed out that there was a large and growing population in this neighbourhood, and as both licenses were in the neighbourhood of churches, the removal was a most desirable one. Mr. Gillespie produced plans of the alterations proposed to be made, and said it was the intention of the applicant to make a feature of supplying dinner to working men.
Messrs. Jesse Herbert, Bill Jackson, and Checkley opposed on behalf of other license holders, and the temperance party Re-fused.”

Charles Welsh Done, beer retailer, 3, Ryecroft Park. [1896], [1904], [1912]

Walsall Advertiser 28/11/1896

“Thomas Anslow (14), and William Broomhall (14), of Hospital Street, and Charles Bert Done (13), of the YEW TREE INN, Ryecroft, were charged with playing football in Stafford Street.
Detective Haycock proved having found the boys kicking a ball of rags near St. Peter’s Church, charging each other, and making a great noise.
Fined 2s 6d each, without costs.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/4/1897

“Edward Carroll (30), Ball Street, was charged with being drunk and disorderly, and with assaulting Sergeants Ballance and Curtis and Police-constable William Glover.

Prisoner pleaded guilty, but said he did not remember what took place. He had not had any beer for five or six weeks until Monday.

Evidence was given by the officers, who said they were called to the YEW TREE INN, Rycroft Street, and found the prisoner drunk, and like a raving madman. The prisoner kicked the officers so badly that two of them – Sergeant Curtis and Police-constable Glover – were still on the sick list. The prisoner had to be brought a portion of the way to the police station on a tramcar. Ballance had his ankle badly injured, and Curtis had the skin broken in three places.

There were previous convictions against the prisoner, and Mr. Beebee remarked that assaulting the police seemed to be a favourite amusement of his when he was in drink.

The Bench committed him for three months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1897 - Advert

“Wanted, a strong willing Girl, about 16, with character.

Apply, Mrs. Done, YEW TREE INN, Rycroft Park, Walsall.”

1901 Census

3, Rycroft Park

[1] Charles W. Done (43), brewer and public house keeper, born Aldridge;

[2] Alice Done (43), wife, born Coseley;

[3] Charles B. Done (18), son, carpenter’s assistant, born Walsall;

[4] Harry L. Done (14), son, born Walsall;

[5] Joseph H. Done (12), son, born Walsall;

[6] Alice L. Done (10), daughter, born Walsall;

[7] Gladys M. Done (3), daughter, born Walsall;

[8] Norman E. Done (4 months), son, born Walsall;

[9] Pamela Kendrick (20), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 25/12/1909

“The various sick and dividend societies in the town have, during the last week, paid out the yearly dividends.....

YEW TREE INN, Rycroft Street. The society held at this house received in contributions during the year £49 11s 9d, and after all expenses had been paid, including £20 6s sick pay, funeral, &c, a balance of £20 9s 9d was left for sharing, which worked out at 9s, and two nights paid on card, per member.”

Walsall Advertiser 5/2/1910

“The annual Brewster Sessions for the borough of Walsall were opened at the Guildhall, on Wednesday.....

Notice of objection (compensation clause or otherwise) had been served in respect to the following houses.....

In the case of the YEW TREE, Rycroft Street, of which Charles W. Done was the tenant and the City Brewery Company the owners, Mr. H. H. Jackson appeared and said it was an ante -’69 beer-house.

Mr. Walter Hughes stated that the premises consisted of three bedrooms, bar parlour, living room, scullery, coal-house, brew-house, and he considered the value, with the license, was 6s 6d, a week, the tenant paying all rates.”

1911 Census

3, Rycroft Park

[1] Charles Welch Done (53), publican, born Aldridge, Staffordshire;

[2] Alice Done (53), wife, married 30 years, born Coseley;

[3] Joseph Horace Done (22), son, leather bridle maker, born Walsall;

[4] Alice Lilly Done (20), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] Gladis May Done (13), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[6] Norman Edgar Done (10), son, school, born Walsall;

[7] Maria James (23), servant, born Walsall:

Walsall Advertiser 8/2/1913

“Charles Welch Done, YEW TREE INN, Rycroft Street, was summoned for selling beer, not in a corked and sealed vessel and not less than a pint in quantity, to one William Wood, under the age of 14, on January 25. Mr. H. H. Jackson defended and pleaded guilty.

Police-constable Stopford stated that about 2.35pm on Saturday he saw a boy, obviously under 14, carrying two bottles of beer. They were sealed over with paper, but were not corked. The boy said he had been served at the YEW TREE INN, and witness then went to see defendant, who at once admitted that he had served the boy. In witness’s presence the bottles were corked and the boy was allowed to take them.

Mr. Jackson pleaded that this was a matter of omission rather than commission. Defendant was very busy on Saturday and had no corks handy, and sealed the bottle securely with paper. Defendant was ordered to pay the costs.”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1915 - Marriages

“On June 23rd, James, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fox, Stafford Street, to Alice Lily, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Done, YEW TREE INN, Ryecroft Park.”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....
YEW TREE INN, Ryecroft Park. £1 6s 5½d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/2/1918

“The annual licensing sessions.....

A legitimate complaint had been made by working men and others about the publicans refusing to supply beer for out-door consumption. This was a practice which was very much to be deprecated, and the justices hoped it would be altered. In some instances publicans had refused to supply casual customers. That was wrong, as a license-holder was compelled, so long as he had facilities for doing so, to serve anybody with reasonable refreshment who applied for it, and he was not justified in declining to serve other than regular customers. Any cases of such refusal brought before the justices would be seriously regarded. The Bench renewed all the licenses except those of the YEW TREE, Ryecroft it was stated that notices had been exhibited by the license holders that no outdoor customers would be served.”

Charles Welsh Done died on 6th July 1920.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1925

“At the adjourned licensing sessions, on the 5th inst, the justices referred the following houses for compensation.....
YEW TREE, Ryecroft Street.”

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority.
Compensation was paid on 24th October 1925.
It closed on 31st October 1925.

ALEHOUSES and BEERHOUSES

A number of alehouses and beerhouses were never given a name.
Only those that I am sure had ‘on’ licenses are included.

Alehouse - Unnamed

10, Bridge Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Frank Yates, farmer, Great Barr
Corporation of Walsall

LICENSEES

Joseph Whitehouse [1872];
George Whitehouse [] – 1909);
Francis Joseph ‘Joe’ Zeller (1909 – 1912);
David William McAlister (1912 – 1919);
Charles Frederick Godfrey (1919 – 1925):

NOTES

It had a six-day license.

Walsall Advertiser 17/9/1898 - Advert

“Wine Bottles Wanted.
J. Whitehouse & Son, Wine Merchants, 10, Bridge Street, Walsall.”

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

“The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers’ and Beer Retailers’ Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last.....

New Members..... Francis Joe Zeller, 10, Bridge Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 19/8/1911 - Advert

“Telephone 398. No.10, Bridge Street, Walsall.

The Lichfield Brewery Company, Ltd., Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Merchants, Ales and Porter Bottlers.

District Agents: F. Joe Zeller & Son.

Fine Ale in Cask & Bottle.

Speciality ‘No.10’ Special Scotch (10 years old; highly recommended).

Any Quantity Supplied. Please send Postcard or ‘Phone.

Retail Bar and Order Office: 10, Bridge Street.”

Walsall Advertiser 23/9/1911 - Notice

“In the Matter of a Deed of Assignment for the benefit of Creditors, executed on the 1st April, 1910, by Francis Joseph Zeller, residing at Ferndale, Oaken, near Wolverhampton, Staffordshire, and carrying on business as a Brewer, at the Bell Brewery, Bell Place, Wolverhampton, also as Licensed Victualler, at 10, Bridge Street, Walsall, Staffordshire, and as a Bottler and Seller of Ales, Beers, Porter, and Cider, and Wines and Spirits, at 10, High Street, Walsall....”

Walsall Observer 12/1/1918

“Walsall and District War Aid Committee. Collection By The Licensed Victuallers, December, 1917.....

No.10, Bridge Street. £1 13 2½d.”

The license was abandoned by Walsall Corporation.

It closed on 31st July 1925.

Alehouse - Unnamed

Upper Rushall Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Joseph Whitehouse, wine merchant, Stafford Street, Walsall

LICENSEES

Henry Sly [1872] – [1873];

Emma Worley [1875];

Michael Casey [];

Henry Sly [];

NOTES

Henry Sly was fined 20s and costs, on 9th July 1873, for Sunday trading.

Emma Worley was fined 20s and costs, on 31st October 1875, for permitting drunkenness.

Beerhouse - Unnamed

2, High Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

John Clifford, farrier and draper, Bloxwich

LICENSEES

Thomas Jones [1871] – [1872];
John Dixon []

NOTES

It had a six-day license.

1871 Census

2, High Street

- [1] Thomas Jones (43), pensioner, born Burnley, Lancashire;
- [2] Martha Jones (43), wife, dress maker, born Shrewsbury;
- [3] Mary Ann Bullows (7), niece, scholar, born Shrewsbury;
- [4] Joseph Bullows (6), nephew, scholar, born Shrewsbury;
- [5] John Jones (69), father, widower, pensioner, born London:

Beerhouse - Unnamed

Reeves Street, BLOXWICH

OWNERS

Edwin Goodwin

LICENSEES

Edwin Goodwin [1866]

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 1/9/1866

“General Licensing Day. Yesterday a special session was held in the Guildhall Assembly Room.....

Mr. Stanley applied on behalf of Mr. Edwin Goodwin, beerhouse keeper, Reeves Street, Bloxwich. Application refused.”

Beerhouse - Unnamed

6, Darlaston Road, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Hicklin [] – 1893;
Mary Ann Hicklin (1893 – [])

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 20/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Walsall borough took place yesterday.....

The following transfers were granted without opposition.....

A beerhouse, at 6, Darlaston Road, from the executors of the late William Hicklin to Mary Ann Hicklin.”

Check ROSE AND CROWN.

Beerhouse - Unnamed

35, Digbeth, WALSALL

OWNERS

Samuel Drew, Park Street, Walsall
Mrs. S. Drew, Bradford Street, Walsall
George Dance
Richard William Tivey, Westbourne Road, Walsall

LICENSEES

Alfred Albert Thomas Jester [1872] – 1887);
Joshua Bloomer (1887 – 1888);
Charles Overton (1888 – 1889);
Mary Vernon Clarke (1889 – 1891);
George Dance (1891 – 1900);
Richard William Tivey (1900 – 1919);
Henry Edward Kemp (1919 – [])

NOTES

It was near to George Street.

It had a six-day beerhouse license.
It also had a refreshment license.

A wine license was granted.

1881 Census

35, Digbeth

- [1] Alfred A. T. Jester (35), refreshment house keeper, born Birmingham;
- [2] Julia E. Jester (35), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Clara Hollingsworth (20), waitress (inn servant), born Bilston;
- [4] Ann Powell (18), general servant, born Bilston:

1891 Census

35, Digbeth

- [1] William Clarke (62), tripe dresser, born Newcastle under Lyme;
- [2] Mary V. Clarke (42), wife, keeper of dining rooms, born Shrewsbury;
- [3] Vernon O. Clarke (17), son, engineer's pattern maker, born Manchester;
- [4] Ethel M. Clarke (16), daughter, assistant to parents, born Kenilworth;
- [5] William M. Clarke (15), son, assistant to parents, born Kenilworth;
- [6] Maurice W. Clarke (13), son, general merchant's apprentice, born Kenilworth;
- [7] Reginald H. Clarke (12), son, scholar, born Kenilworth;
- [8] Horace V. Clarke (11), son, scholar, born Kenilworth;
- [9] Muriel V. Clarke (8), daughter, scholar, born Kenilworth;
- [10] Dorothy M. Clarke (4), daughter, born Kenilworth;
- [11] Sarah E. Lukin (18), waitress, born Bloxwich;
- [12] Mary Parkin (15), kitchen maid, born Bloxwich;
- [13] Sarah A. Painter (14), scullery maid, born Brownhills:

1901 Census

35, Digbeth

- [1] Richard W Tivey (39), coffee house, dealer and keeper, born Heather, Leicestershire;
- [2] Eliza Tivey (47), wife, born Melbourne, Derbyshire;

- [3] Elizabeth D. Davies (36), assistant, born Culvington, Shropshire;
[4] Eunice Luce (22), assistant, born Wolverhampton;
[5] Eunice Charles (18), assistant, born Old Hill:

An agreement was made that the license was only to be used in connection with meals on 2nd February 1910.

1911 Census

35, Digbeth

- [1] R. W. Tivey (47), restaurant keeper, born Heather, Leicestershire;
[2] L. E. Tivey (57) wife, married 26 years, born Melbourne, Derbyshire;
[3] Florence Mary Jessup (27), servant, waitress, born Rugeley;
[4] Gertrude E. Coggins (30), servant, waitress, born Great Bridge;
[5] Mable Cowley (23), servant, butcher's _____, born Walsall Wood:

Beerhouse - Unnamed

George Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Whittaker [1857] – [1861]

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1857

“Annual Licensing Day..... There were twenty-two applications for spirit licenses.....
Henry Whittaker, George Street. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 3/9/1859

“The bench proceeded to entertain the applications for new licenses.....

Mr. Wilkinson's application on behalf of Mr. Henry Whittaker, beerhouse keeper, George Street, was opposed by Mr. Duignan on behalf of Mr. Thacker of the DOLPHIN, which is within a few doors of Mr. Whittaker's house, was refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“Wednesday last, being the annual licensing day, twenty applications were made by beer-house keepers for victualling licenses.....
Henry Whittaker, George Street. Refused.”

Walsall Free Press 7/9/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Day.....

Mr. Matthews on behalf of Mr. Henry Whittaker, of George Street, applied that the bench should re-consider its decision of last week relative to his (Mr. Whittaker's) application for a license he again urged that Mr. Whittaker's spacious premises could accommodate the market carts which were at present placed in the public road, and were a nuisance and an inconvenience; and, therefore, his house ought to be licensed. Mr. Matthews dwelt for a considerable time upon this point, and then proceeded to show that although there were two or three other licensed houses in the locality, the exigencies of the market people required that Mr. Whittaker's house should be licensed.

Mr. Cater stated that the carts at the end of George Street were certainly a nuisance, and that Mr. Vickers' yard did not appear to be sufficiently commodious to hold the all.

The Bench did not see reason to alter its decision. If the cart people wanted a place of accommodation for their vehicles, they could go to Mr. Whittaker's house even at the present time. Application refused.”

Beerhouse - Unnamed

Green Lane, WALSALL

OWNERS

Thomas Foster, Bloxwich

LICENSEES

Joseph Elton [1872]

Beerhouse - Unnamed

7, High Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

Mrs. J. Collins, Green Lane, Birchfields

LICENSEES

James Henry Bourne [1871] – 1887):

NOTES

It had a beer, cider and wine, and a refreshment house license.

1871 Census

7, High Street

- [1] James Bourne (48), restaurant keeper, born Dudley;
- [2] Ann E. Bourne (44), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] William Bourne (15), son, clerk, born Dudley;
- [4] Annie Bourne (12), daughter, scholar, born Dudley;
- [5] Charles W. Bourne (9), son, scholar, born Dudley;
- [6] Margaret A. Bourne (6), daughter, scholar, born Dudley;
- [7] Mary A. Bassett (22), domestic servant, born Gloucestershire;
- [8] Sarah Foster (18), domestic servant, born Tipton:

1881 Census

7, High Street

- [1] James Henry Bourne (58), widower, boarding house keeper, born Dudley;
- [2] William H. Bourne (25), son, commercial clerk, born Dudley;
- [3] Annie Bourne (22), daughter, assistant (beerhouse), born Dudley;
- [4] Margaret A. Bourne (16), daughter, assistant (beerhouse), born Dudley;
- [5] Charles W. Bourne (19), son, bridle cutter, born Dudley;
- [6] Mary A. Morris (38), general housekeeper, born Birmingham;
- [7] Jane Lunt (16), general servant, born Stone, Staffordshire:

At the Adjourned Annual Licensing Meeting, on 23rd September 1887, the magistrates refused to renew the license.

Beerhouse - Unnamed

Stafford Street, WALSALL

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Holland [pre 1867]
Mrs. Jane Holland [1867]

NOTES

Walsall Free Press 26/1/1867

“John Holland, who appeared in the dock with his head strapped up with plaster, and with a black eye, was charged with having wilfully damaged the property of his wife, Jane Holland.

It appeared that, on the 11th of October last, Mrs. Holland obtained a protection order, and that on Saturday last the prisoner went to her house – an ale and porter store, in Stafford Street – and took her portrait from the chimney-piece and broke it, and threw it on the fire. The wife then ran out of the house. Defendant then smashed bottles, jugs, and glasses to the amount of between £3 and £4, he then leapt through the window into the street, smashing the glass, and cutting his head.

These facts having been proved by the complainant and her mother, Mr. Glover, who appeared for the complainant, called and examined Mr. Edwin Coxon, ale and porter dealer [MANCHESTER ARMS], who said: I went to Mrs. Holland's store and received an account.

By the Mayor: I was sent for to receive the money. I go regularly for the purpose at eleven o'clock on Saturday evening, but on the night in question I was sent for a little earlier. After receiving the money I went to the door to speak to a friend, and while there, I heard the prisoner say, 'I'll let you see who's landlord;' and on looking through the window, I saw defendant sweeping the bottles and glasses from the shelves. I then went for a policeman; and on my return found Holland sitting on the counter, and heard some people say that the prisoner got in through the window.

Mr. Coxon was cross-examined, but nothing was elicited to shake his evidence.

Defendant, who admitted the charge, was sentenced to pay a fine of 40s and costs; or in default, to be imprisoned for 21 days.”

Beerhouse - Unnamed

Town End Bank, WALSALL

OWNERS

Enoch Palmer

LICENSEES

Enoch Palmer [1868] – [1880]:

NOTES

The license was not taken out in 1880.

It was demolished.