

HITCHMOUGH'S BLACK COUNTRY PUBS

BILSTON

(INC. BRADLEY, ETTINGSHALL, MILLFIELD, PARKFIELD, PRIESTFIELD)

4th. Edition - © 2024 Longpull. All Rights Reserved

www.longpull.co.uk

INTRODUCTION

It is with regret that we report the death, in September 2023, aged 73, of Tony Hitchmough, local pub historian. Tony believed that the pub had always been the heart of the community; pubs were places where people met and talked, played games and sports, held meetings, took trips, and the buildings themselves also had a story to tell.

About fifty years ago, realising that things were changing, pubs being demolished and altered, Tony started to collect information from any sources available. Around that time the Black Country Bugle first appeared; he found the contents and letters engaging.

He visited the archives of the Black Country boroughs. Trade directories were an invaluable source for licensees' names, enabling him to build up lists. Censuses, church registers and licensing registers, also were consulted, where available. Newspaper articles provided many items of human interest (eg. inquests, crimes, civic matters, industrial relations), which would be of value not only to a pub historian, but to local and social historians and genealogists alike.

Technology has enabled the entire archive to be released digitally, rather than sections as magazine articles or as a book. The files contain information about every pub that has been found to exist in each of the districts within the Black Country (new pubs are being discovered even now). All files are available for free download by anyone interested.

Thanks go to the people such as Keith Hodgkins, Denis Harper and Robert Walker, and the many others, who have allowed their own photographs to be used and provided additional information. In 2010 Tony was asked by the relatives of the late John V. Richards to sort through his own archive of material, in order to redistribute it to appropriate groups. This was very useful in confirming, and providing new, information. He was also asked to disseminate information gathered by Jim Laws, Wolverhampton CAMRA's pub preservation officer/pub historian.

Tony felt proud in 2020 when the British Library decided that Hitchmough's Black Country Pubs should be saved for the future, and started to archive the website. So Tony's legacy is preserved.

I hope you find these files useful. Please, if you can, show your appreciation by contributing information or photographs.

With the assistance of Gavin, the work continues.

Janet Parker (Mrs.Hitchmough)
January 2024

hbcpinfo@yahoo.com

Hitchmough

DISTRICTS

The districts covered by the CDs were generally based on the modern places created in the 1970s, ie, Sandwell, Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

These are then subdivided into the old townships which had existed for many years previous, and are as follows.

SANDWELL

Oldbury (inc. Causeway Green, Langley, Oakham, Rounds Green, Tividale)

Rowley Regis (inc. Blackheath, Cradley Heath, Old Hill, Whiteheath)

Smethwick (inc. Bearwood, Londonderry, Warley)

Tipton (inc. Burnt Tree, Dudley Port, Great Bridge, Horseley Heath, Ocker Hill, Princes End, Toll End)

Wednesbury (inc. Kings Hill, Mesty Croft, Wood Green)

West Bromwich (inc. Golds Green, Greets Green, Hill Top, Lyndon)

DUDLEY

Brierley Hill (inc. Brockmoor, Pensnett, Quarry Bank, Round Oak)

Dudley (inc. Harts Hill, Kates Hill, Priory, Woodside)

Halesowen (inc. Cockshed, Colley Gate, Cradley, Hasbury, Lapal)

Kingswinford (inc. Himley, Wall Heath)

Netherton (inc. Darby End, Dudley Wood, Saltwells, Windmill End)

Sedgley (inc. Coseley, The Gornals, Woodsetton)

Stourbridge (inc. Amblecote, Lye, Oldswinford, Pedmore, Wollaston, Wollescote, Wordsley)

WALSALL & WOLVERHAMPTON

Bilston (inc. Bradley, Ettingshall, Millfield, Parkfield, Priestfield)

Darlaston (inc. Bentley, Cock Heath, Moxley, Wood's Bank)

Walsall (inc. Bloxwich, Leamore, Palfrey, Pelsall, Rushall, Shelfield, Walsall Wood)

Wednesfield (inc. Ashmore Park, Fallings Park, Heath Town, Moseley Village, Park Village, Wood End)

Willenhall (inc. Little London, New Invention, Portobello, Short Heath, Spring Bank)

Wolverhampton (inc. Blakenhall, Codsall, Oxley, Penn, Tettenhall, Whitmore Reans)

UPDATES

We are currently working on Edition 4 of the files. Our website states which file will be coming next. Due to the information we now have available, each file takes months to produce, so please be patient. The Edition 4 files are a big advance and much more thorough, so hopefully worth waiting for.

If you have an interest in a particular pub or licensee, we may be able to supply additional information as we regularly come across collateral.

If anyone is able to provide extra, relevant information and / or pictures, about any of the pubs and people contained within this work, we would be grateful to hear from you, initially by e-mail at hbcinfo@yahoo.com

BOOKMARKS

Clicking on the Bookmarks in the panel on the left will take you to the chosen location.

If your computer uses Windows, Bookmarks with a + (a plus sign) on the left hand side have submenus and clicking on the plus sign (which will change to a minus sign) will reveal the contents. Clicking on the minus sign will hide the contents of the submenu.

If your computer uses Apple, clicking on the right pointing arrow to the left of the Bookmark will display the submenu; it will turn to a downward pointing arrow which when clicked will hide the submenu.

For more information please consult the Adobe Acrobat Reader help system.

ACORN

Bridge Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Beckett [1818] – [1822]

ACORN

7, (5), (3), Pinfold Street, (High Street), BILSTON

OWNERS

Ralph Gough, gentleman, Gorsebrook Street, Wolverhampton
David Morris, ironworks manager, Highfield House, Bradley
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1965]

LICENSEES

George Edwards [1828] – [1851]
Thomas Johnson [1861] – 1862;
Jane Price (1862 – [1863]
James Price [1863] – [1865]
Thomas Price [] – 1868;
Edward Flowers (1868 – []
Samuel Lane [1869]
David Morris [1871] – 1890;
Richard John Hibell (1890);
William Watkins (1890 – 1892);
Alfred Newton (1892);
David Wootton (1892 – 1893);
Sarah Shaw (1893 – 1895);
Mrs. Sarah Ann Whitehouse (1895 – 1896);
William Millington (1896 – 1907);
Alfred Newton (1907);
Charles Smith (1907 – 1918);
Mrs. Ellen Harper (1918 – 1920);
James Thomas Cadman (1920 – 1926);
Albert Edward Jones (1926 – [1940]

TO BE LET, that old established PUBLIC HOUSE, known as the "Acorn Inn," Bilston. The above has been successfully carried on for upwards of thirty years by the present proprietor, who is now retiring from business. Two Clubs are attached to the House. The Brewing Plant and Fixtures to be taken to at a valuation, and the Stock can be reduced to suit the convenience of the party who takes to the business.—For further particulars apply to Mr. JABEZ MORRELL, Auctioneer, Bilston.

1860

NOTES

3, Pinfold Street [1858]
5, Pinfold Street [1861], [1865], [1871]
7, Pinfold Street [1901], [1921], [1939]

It had a beerhouse license.

George Edwards = George Edward

1841 Census

Pinfold Street

- [1] George Edward (53), publican;
- [2] Kathrine Edward (60), born Staffordshire;
- [3] George Edward (27), joiner, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Ann Taylor (17), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [5] Mary Johns (26), f.s., born Staffordshire;

Birmingham Journal 29/3/1845

“On Monday night last, a man named Enoch Chambers stole a sovereign from the ACORN, in High Street, Bilston. Three sovereigns were placed upon the table, to settle a bet, and Chambers, watching his opportunity, ran off with one of them. He afterwards sent the money to the station-house, and had since been taken into custody.”

Birmingham Journal 3/3/1849 - Died

“On the 22nd ult, aged 81 years, Catherine, the much respected and beloved wife of Mr. G. Edwards, of the ACORN INN, Bilston.”

1851 Census

Pinfold Street

- [1] George Edwards (62), widower, victualler, born Broseley, Shropshire;
- [2] Ann Conser (33), house servant, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Woodward (18), house servant, born Swadlincote, Derbyshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/8/1860 - Advert

“To be Let, that old established Public House, known as the ACORN INN, Bilston.

The above has been successfully carried on for upwards of thirty years by the present proprietor, who is now retiring from business. Two Clubs are attached to the House. The Brewing Plant and Fixtures to be taken to at a valuation, and the Stock can be reduced to suit the convenience of the party who takes to the business.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Jabez Morrell, Auctioneer, Bilston.”

1861 Census

5, Pinfold Street

- [1] Thomas Johnson (47), innkeeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Martha Johnson (49), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Amy Johnson (15), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Thomas W. Johnson (13), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Martha Johnson (11), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Richard F. Johnson (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Jane Foster (55), sister-in-law, unmarried, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1862

“On Friday last an inquest was held at the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, on the body of John Jones, aged twelve years, of the before-mentioned street, who received severe injuries on the 8th instant, from a fall of coal, whilst employed in one of Messrs. Dodd and Southall’s pits, in the Lunt. The deceased lingered till Monday last, when he expired. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/6/1862

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, the following intermediate transfers were made.....

ACORN, Thomas Johnson to Jane Price, retail brewer.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/9/1863

“The meeting for the renewing and granting of licenses was held on Friday, at Bilston police office.....

The following is a list of those who had been proceeded against and fined in the past year.....

James Price, of the ACORN, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/9/1863

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Bilston division of the county was held on Friday.....

Licenses suspended at the annual licensing meeting were now renewed to the following houses, the landlords being cautioned to conduct them more creditably for the future.....

ANCHOR [sic], Bilston, kept by James Price.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/12/1863

“Yesterday, at the Petty Sessions, Mrs. Price, the landlady of the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, was summoned for selling ale during prohibited hours on Sunday morning last.

Sergeant Harrison stated that on the day in question, at twenty minutes past twelve, he visited the defendant’s house in company with Police-constable Chatfield, and proceeding into the loft discovered three men drinking, and a quart jug containing ale, which had been secreted in a hole in the wall.

Mr. B. Jackson appeared for the defence, and said that the men were present to clean out defendant’s pig-stye, and that she had rewarded them with ale in consequence.

Superintendent M’Crea informed the Bench that complaints had been frequently made by members of the congregation of a neighbouring chapel, who had been annoyed by the noise and conduct of the frequenters of the ACORN.

The Bench said they would give the defendant the benefit of the doubt which certainly existed, and dismissed the case on payment of costs.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1863

“Mrs. Price, of the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, for allowing men to drink in her house on Sunday last, was cautioned, and ordered to pay costs.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 10/9/1864

“Yesterday the magistrates sat in Special Sessions, for the consideration of the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses to victuallers.....

The following houses and their landlords had been complained against and fined during the year.....

James Price, ACORN INN, Pinfold Street.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Permitting Drunkenness Samuel Lane, ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, 10s and costs.”

David Morris = David Morriss

1871 Census

5, Pinfold Street – ACORN INN

[1] David Morris (32), innkeeper, born Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire;

[2] Emma Morris (43), wife, born Moxton, Oxfordshire;

[3] Mary Morris (24), general servant, born Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire:

David Morris, beer retailer, Pinfold Street [1872]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/1/1875

“On December 26th the Loyal United Brothers, No.72, held their 35th anniversary at the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston. Between thirty and forty sat down to an excellent dinner (provided by host Morris), consisting of the old English fare of roast beef, boiled mutton, and plum-puddings.....

The health of the host and hostess was drunk with musical honours, and ably responded to by Brother D. Morris.

The toasts of ‘The Town and Trade of Bilston’ and ‘The Township Commissioners’ were duly proposed and responded to. The evening was enlivened with songs and recitations from various members. The sick brothers and widows were not forgotten, as to each on a good dinner was sent.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/11/1880 - Correspondence

“..... answers to questions.....

ACORN, Bilston. – For any dramatic performance, amateur or otherwise, for admission to which payment is in any way made, a license from the magistrates must be obtained.”

1881 Census

Pinfold Street – ACORN INN

[1] David Morriss (42), licensed victualler and warehouse man, born Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire;

[2] Emma Morriss (52), wife, born Balscott, Oxfordshire;

[3] Gertrude Collins (24), niece, born Dublin;

[4] Mary Hill (30), domestic servant, born Tipton;

Evening Express 18/8/1881

“At a meeting of the Providence Lodge, No.1446 of the NUO of Free Gardeners, Wolverhampton District, at the ACORN, on Tuesday last, the Rev. W. Prosser and Dr. J. Cameron were initiated as honorary members. After the reading of the inauguration address Mr. Prosser said he wished them to regard him in future not merely as an honorary member, but as a brother Gardener in every sense of the term. Dr. Cameron congratulated the members on the progress they had made during the past few months, and referred to the relationship that exists between medical men and such societies, remarking that, of all the officers concerned in the management of friendly societies, the surgeon is by far the most important, and their success or failure, to a very great extent, depended upon him.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 12/8/1882 - Advert

“Bilston Horticultural Society.

The Second Exhibition of Flowers, Fruits, and Vegetables, will be held in the grounds of Dr. Totherick, between Wellington Street and Wolverhampton Street, kindly placed at the disposal of the committee, on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 22 and 23.

Upwards of £50 in Prizes. Special Prizes for Cottagers.

The Warwickshire Bee Keepers Association will Exhibit their Tent of Working Bees.

The Splendid Military Band of the Walsall Rifle Corps is Engaged.....

On the First Day of the Exhibition a Luncheon will be provided on the Show Ground at 2.30pm, to which Ladies and Gentlemen Friends of the Society are cordially invited by the Committee. Tickets, 2s 6d each, may be had from the Purveyor, Mr. D. Morris, ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston; the Hon. Secretary, or any member of the Committee.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/11/1884

“On Monday afternoon, W. H. Phillips. District coroner, held an inquest at the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, on the body of Benjamin Caddick, aged two months. During the evidence it transpired that the child was taken by its mother to bed on the Thursday night previous in its apparent good health, but, on awaking early the next morning, found it dead by her side. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 25/4/1885

“On Wednesday night, the members of the Bilston and Ettingshall Industrial Co-operative Society held their 40th quarterly meeting at the ACORN INN, Bilston A dividend of 1s 6d in the £ was declared to the members on their purchases. The Society have also added a pony and trap this quarter for the delivery of the members goods.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 5/9/1885

“On Thursday evening the members of the Royal Antidiluvian Order of Buffaloes assembled at the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, for the purpose of partaking of a Dinner, catered in first-class style by the host, Mr. David Morris. A goodly number sat down at table, and after justice had been done to the good things provided, the cloth was removed and Bro. Shaw voted to the chair, Bro. Skinner occupying the vice-chair. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given, and the evening spent in an enjoyable manner.”

Leigh Chronicle 1/1/1886

“At Wednesbury Police Court on Tuesday, David Manns [sic], of the ACORN INN, Bilston, was fined 20s and costs for being on licensed premises during prohibited hours. It was stated that the defendant was found on the premises of the RAILWAY INN, James Bridge, after closing hours.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 15/4/1887

"The third annual dinner of the Acorn Lodge of the Royal Antidelvian Order of Buffaloes was held at the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston, last (Thursday) evening. A company numbering about 25 brethren sat down to the excellent and substantial repast supplied by host Morris, and which was served up in a manner that reflected great credit upon the resources of this well-known establishment....."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/4/1889 - Advert

To be Let or Sold, the ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, Bilston.
Apply, on the premises."

TO be Let or Sold, The Acorn Inn, Pinfold Street, Bilston.→
Apply, on the premises.

1891 Census

Pinfold Street – ACORN INN

- [1] William Watkins (27), licensed victualler, born Monmouthshire;
- [2] Margaret Watkins (28), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Gertrude F. Watkins (4 months), daughter, born Bilston:

The Era 6/10/1894 - Advert

"Wanted, Monday next, by Harry Sansom, Funny Comedian, and Miss Birdie, Skirt, Skipping-rope and Song and Dance.
Wire, ACORN INN, Bilston."

WANTED, Monday next, by Harry Sansom,
Funny Comedian, and Miss Birdie, Skirt, Skipping-rope and Song and Dance. Wire, Acorn Inn, Bilston.

1901 Census

7, Pinfold Street – ACORN INN

- [1] William Millington (31), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Louisa Emma Millington (38), wife, born Worcester;
- [3] Lawrence Edwin Winwood (6), nephew, born Worcester:

1911 Census

Pinfold Street – ACORN INN

- [1] Charles Smith (62), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Smith (50), wife, married 29 years, born Sedgley;
- [3] Agnes Smith (28), daughter, domestic, born Sedgley;
- [4] Mary Smith (26), daughter, domestic, born Bilston;
- [5] Charles Smith (23), son, motor body builder, born Bilston;
- [6] Margaret Smith (20), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] John Smith (17), son, carpenter, born Bilston:

1921 Census

7, Pinfold Street

- [1] James Thomas Cadman (42), born Rough Hills, Bilston;
- [2] Florence Gertrude Cadman (31), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Kathleen Mary Cadman (8), daughter, school, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Elsie May Shutt (28), sister-in-law, unmarried, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Joseph Shutt (33), brother-in-law, widower, born Wolverhampton:

Dudley Chronicle 7/10/1926

"At a Transfer Sessions at the Bilston Police Court on Friday.....

Albert Edward Jones, ACORN INN, Pinfold Street, asked for a music license for the smoke-room of the inn. He stated the building was one of the old-time music halls of Bilston. There were some old customers who liked music, and they kept asking him why he did not get a music license. The application was refused."

1939 Register

7, Pinfold Street (4 of 5)

[1] Leslie A. Jones, date of birth 14/12/1921, inspector (aircraft aid), single;

[2] Albert E. Jones, dob 12/1/1891, licensed victualler, married;

[3] Sarah Jones, dob 28/11/1894, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[4] Stanley Jones, dob 3/8/1920, toolmaker (machinist), single;

[1966]

Closed

It was demolished c.1970.

ADMIRAL NELSON

Ettingshall Lane, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Benjamin Butler [1828] – [1842]

NOTES

1841 Census

Ettingshall Lane

[1] Benjamin Butler (70), coal miner, born Staffordshire;

[2] Roda Butler (45), born Staffordshire;

[3] Harriet Butler (15), born Staffordshire;

[4] Isaiah Butler (11), born Staffordshire:

ALE HOUSE ROCK

146, Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

David Parsons

LICENSEES

David Parsons (2015 – [2016])

NOTES

It opened on 24th June 2015.

David Parsons was married to Andrea.
See also TAMEBRIDGE, Tipton.

www.pubsgalore.co.uk 18/8/2018

“Housed in a part (I assume its own club room) of a post-war expanded printing works. Austere, with a little exterior ‘art’ and a patio, the entrance is easily missed. The interior is a single room, in purple and white mainly, with a few pictures and a stage at one end. The TVs were not on at our last visit and the music was a mixed (there was no band on). Service is always friendly here, but there was nobody in at this visit. Beer has usual tap stuff but over the period the place has been open the number of real ales has dwindled – from 4 to 1 (and that was Proper Job). Often pop in when that way.”

www.pubsgalore.co.uk 9/12/2018

“Strange place this, housed in part of a former works, and the bar looking more like a club than a pub. Still, the staid furniture is tidy enough and the seasonal decorations have probably livened things up a bit. The stage area can be found on the other side of the entrance. Having two banks of four handpumps seems rather optimistic, but I found three real ales on: Wainwright, Wye Valley HPA and Holden’s Golden Glow (£2.80, and in excellent shape). Fairly quiet when I stopped by, but the locals and the lady behind the counter were all very friendly.”

[2023]

2016

2023

ANGEL

28, Hall Fold, (28, Hall Street), (22, Pipes Meadow), (Angel Fold), BILSTON

OWNERS

Thomas William Bowen, pawnbroker, West Street, Bilston

John William Hall, gentleman, Bilston

LICENSEES

John Bowen [1818] – [1831]

Thomas Bowen [1832] – [1861]

James Elkington (1857 – [1865])

George Lavender [1866]

John Frogatt (1866);

John Richards (1866 – 1875);

Spencer Cooke Tippetts (1875 – 1876);

John Smith (1876 – 18__);

Thomas Crowder (18__ – [];

John Crowder [];

Francis Fletcher [1881] – 1882;

Charles Calloway (1882 – 188__);

John Bellis (188__ – 1884);

Albert C Clarke (1884 – 1886);

Thomas Price (1886 – [];

Thomas Tetley [] – 188__);

Edwin Burgess (188__ – 1892);

NOTES

Hall Fold [1818], [1841], [1846], [1871], [1874], [1884], [1891]

Hall Street [1822], [1828], [1830], [1833], [1849], [1850], [1851], [1858], [1860], [1862]

Angel Fold [1841]

Pipes Meadow [1851]

28, Hall Fold [1861], [1881]

28, Hall Street [1865]

22, Pipes Meadow [1873]

It was situated near to the Great Western Railway Station.

[Was this at the corner of Hall Street and Pipes Meadow?]

Freeman's Black Country Folk 'An Early Bilston Artist'

".....These men had an Artists' Club which met for some years at the ANGEL INN, where all things of their craft were freely discussed in a genial atmosphere."

John Bowen was also a brassfounder. [1818]

He was also described as a grocer.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF BILSTON.
THE REV. GEORGE FISK,
RECTOR OF DARLASTON.
HAVING been waited upon by several respectable inhabitants of Bilston, requesting that he would allow his name to be used as a Candidate for the Incumbency of St. Leonard's Chapel, in Bilston, which is expected soon to become vacant by the resignation of the Rev. William Leigh, and Mr. Fisk having consented to accept of the appointment in case he should be chosen—those householders who believe that Mr. Fisk, from his high attainments and piety, is a fit and proper person to be appointed their future Minister, are earnestly entreated to promote the election of that Rev. Gentleman by their votes and interest.
Committee Room, Angel Inn, Bilston,
August 5, 1835.
1835

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/3/1819 - Advert

"Freehold in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, on Tuesday the 6th Day of April next, at the House of John Bowen, the ANGEL, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, precisely at Six o'Clock in the Afternoon....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/2/1831 - Advert

"The SHAKESPEARE INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, the above newly-erected and substantially built Inn, which is just completed.....

To view the Premises apply to Mr. John Bowen, at the ANGEL INN, Bilston, who is authorised, as is also R. Corbett, of Bilston, Auctioneer, to treat for the same."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/7/1835 - Died

"On the 8th instant, Mr. John Bowen, formerly of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, in his 64th year. A truly honest and upright man."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/7/1836 - Died

"On the 22nd instant, in the 63rd year of her age, after a lingering illness which she very patiently endured, Mary, widow of the late Mr. John Bowen, of Bilston, whom she survived only twelve months and fourteen days. She was deservedly esteemed by all who knew her."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/2/1832 - Advert

"Freehold Buildings and Land, New Town, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Richard Corbett, on Tuesday the 14th day of February, 1832, at the house of Mr. Thomas Bowen, the ANGEL INN, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, at five o'clock in the afternoon....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/2/1833 - Advert

"Union Chapel, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, at the ANGEL INN, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, on Thursday, the 21st day of March, 1833, at Four o'Clock in the afternoon precisely, by direction of the Mortgagee having the power of Sale, and subject to conditions which will be then read.

All that Meeting House or Chapel, situate in Union Street, Bilston, with two large School Rooms adjoining; all of which have been substantially built within four years, and are now in the occupation of a Society of Baptists, and of Mr. White, a Schoolmaster....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/8/1835 - Advert

"To the Inhabitants of Bilston. The Rev. George Fisk, Rector of Darlaston.

Having been waited upon by several respectable inhabitants of Bilston, requesting that he would allow his name to be used as a Candidate for the Incumbency of St. Leonard's Chapel, in Bilston, which is expected soon to become vacant by the resignation of the Rev. William Leigh, and Mr. Fisk having consented to accept of the appointment in case he should be chosen – those householders who believe that Mr. Fisk, from his high attainments and piety, is a fit and proper person to be appointed their future Minister, are earnestly entreated to promote the election of that Rev. Gentleman by their votes and interest.

Committee Room, ANGEL INN, Bilston, August 5, 1835."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/8/1840

"The Riot at Bilston.....

David Jones, was charged with stealing a knife, the property of Thomas Bowen. Mr. Bowen, who is a licensed victualler, was one of the parties who supplied the dinner. On the irruption of the mob into the tent many articles were broken and some taken away. The prisoner, who was out on the evening of the disturbance till eleven o'clock, had shown a knife belonging to Mr. Bowen to the woman with whom he lodged, and afterwards put it in his box. On this becoming known he was apprehended. He said he had had it given to him, and that the person who gave it him had more knives and forks, and a carving knife and fork. Committed.

Elisha Mason was charged with stealing four waiters and a fork, also the property of Mr. Bowen. The prisoner was seen when the crowd was in the tent in the portion of it allotted to Mr. Bowen, with the waiters under his arm. He was told by a woman named Goodread that they were Mr. Bowen's property, and she requested him to give them to her. He refused, and said he would take them safe home, and went away with them. The prisoner afterwards went into a retail brewer's, in Oxford Street, the keeper of which, named Holmes, suspecting the waiters were stolen, took him into custody, and afterwards delivered him and the property into the hands of Fellows the constable. The prisoner told Holmes that he had had the things given him in the Market Place.

The prisoner, in reply to the charge, said he went into the tent to look after one of the band to go home together, when a man, who looked like a waiter, asked him to carry the things to Mr. Bowen's. When at Holmes's some man asked him to sell them, but he refused as they were not his own, adding that they belonged to some man up at the booth, but he had forgotten his name. The man then had him took to. Committed."

Staffordshire Gazette 24/10/1840

"Staffordshire Michaelmas Sessions.....

David Jones, 19, pleaded guilty to stealing a knife, the property of Thomas Bowen. The prosecutor stated that on the day of the robbery there had been a public dinner in the market place, part of which he had supplied; that in the evening a dreadful riot took place, in consequence of which the numerous party assembled at the festive board were compelled to beat a hasty retreat, leaving their property to the tender mercies of the riotous mob. The knife in question was afterwards found in the possession of the prisoner. To be imprisoned in the house of correction for two calendar months.

Elisha Mason was charged with stealing on the 7th of August, four iron trays, the property of Thomas Bowen, landlord of the ANGEL, Bilston. From the evidence it appeared that on the day in question, there was a grand Conservative dinner at Bilston, part of the materials of which were supplied by the prosecutor. A tumultuous riot ensued, the rioters broke in upon the entertainment, and dispersed the guests. In the confusion which ensued, the prisoner was seen carrying off four trays. A female who was removing the things to Mr. Bowen's house desired Mason to give the trays to her which he refused, and said that he would see them safe home. He subsequently saw a constable to whom he represented that a stranger had given him the trays. For the prisoner it was contended that he in common with other neighbours was assisting to return Mr. Bowen's property, and that he was not actuated by any felonious motive.

Several witnesses, one of them a juror, gave the prisoner an excellent character.

He was found guilty, but the jury recommended him to mercy in consideration of the good character he had received. The court ordered the prisoner to be kept to hard labour in the house of correction for one month; three days thereof to be in solitary confinement."

1841 Census

Angel Fold

- [1] Thomas Bowen (40), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Eliza Bowen (30), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Bowen (8), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Louisa Bowen (5), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Emma Bowen (3), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Jane Lloyd (21), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Elizabeth Howell (13), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Maria Pickin (12), born Staffordshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/2/1843 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Roads.

Notice is hereby given, that the General Annual Meeting of the Trustees of these Roads will be held at the ANGEL INN, in Bilston, on Tuesday, the 14th day of March next, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which meeting the accounts of the receipts and expenditure relating to these roads for the year ending the 31st of December, 1842, will be audited by the trustees.

John Willim, Clerk to the Trustees. Bilston, February 13, 1843."

Thomas Bowen was also a shopkeeper. [1845], [1849]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1845 - Advert

"Bilston Banking Company. Persons of whom the Company or Partnership consists.....

Thomas Bowen, Bilston, Victualler."

BILSTON TURNPIKE ROADS
NOTICE is hereby given, that the GENERAL ANNUAL MEETING of the Trustees of these Roads will be held at the ANGEL INN, in BILSTON, on TUESDAY, the 14th day of MARCH next, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which meeting the accounts of the receipts and expenditure relating to these roads for the year ending the 31st of December, 1842, will be audited by the trustees.
JOHN WILLIM,
Clerk to the Trustees.
Bilston, February 13, 1843.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/4/1845

“Bilston Police. Friday, April 11.....

Mr. Thomas Bowen, of the ANGEL INN, at Bilston, complained of the conduct of Thomas Irons, a tailor, of Bilston, on Wednesday last, and on several previous occasions. From the evidence of the complainant it appeared that the defendant was in his house drinking on Wednesday night last, and, from information which had been conveyed to him by his servant of the defendant's very improper and disgusting conduct in the tap room, he went to remonstrate with him, when the defendant heaped the most vile abuse upon the complainant, and occasioned a great confusion in his house, in consequence of which Mr. Bowen was compelled to send for the peace officers, who immediately came, and on the defendant being taken away, he openly threatened Mr. Bowen to make him remember it as long as he lived. The complainant also instanced other occasions in which the defendant had pointedly insulted and threatened him; the complainant consequently claimed the protection of the Bench, and that the defendant might be ordered to find a surety for his future behaviour.

Philip Davis, a miner, said he was at the complainant's on Wednesday night, and that the defendant took the liberty of drinking his ale; he afterwards drew on one side, near the window of the tap room, and personally replenished the liquid contents of the jug. He then prevailed upon one Isaac Handerton to drink out of the jug. Mr. Bowen came in and remonstrated with the defendant, who abused him with the most vile and unmanly language.

Sarah Owen and Isaac Handerton respectively corroborated parts of this statement.

The defendant, in answer, said he was so drunk he did not recollect anything that he did, and that the complainant's ale was sufficient to make any one drunk who had much of it. He also said that if he was forgiven he would not enter his house again so long as he lived.

Mr. Baldwin told the defendant that he made a very lame excuse, and he must find a surety to be bound with him in £20 for his good conduct for twelve months. The court would have ordered him to find two sureties, only they thought he would not be able to get two persons to be bound for him.

In default of finding a surety he was committed for two months.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/3/1846 - Advert

“To Brass, Bell, and Maslin Founders and Others.

An old-established Bell, Maslin, Weight, Lock-Case, Candlestick, Pendant, Knob, and general Brassfoundry Establishment, at Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Friday next the 20th day of March, at the ANGEL INN, Hall Fold, Bilston aforesaid, at five o'clock in the afternoon (unless sooner disposed of by private treaty, of which due notice will be given), subject to conditions then to be read.

All those extensive, newly-erected, and substantially-built Premises, now in full work as a Brassfoundry in its various departments, lately carried on by Mr. William Bowen, deceased, but now by his Executors, situate on the north side of the great Holyhead Road, at Mount Pleasant, in Bilston aforesaid, together with the very valuable Goodwill of the Business, with speedy Possession of the same.....

To view the Establishment and patterns, &c, apply to Mr. Henry Lester, upon the premises; and to treat for the purchase by Contract, apply to Mr. Thomas Bowen, Hall Street, Mr. John Bowen, near the KINGS ARMS, Church Street, the Executors; or to the Auctioneer, all of Bilston.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 28/11/1846 - Advert

“Walsall, Staffordshire. Valuable Limestone Works.

To be Sold by Auction, by H. Farrington, on Tuesday, the 8th day of December next, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, at Five o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the Trustees for Sale appointed under and by virtue of the will of the late Mr. William Bowen, of Bilston, in the said county, Brassfounder, deceased).....

For further particulars, apply to Mr. Thomas Bowen, at the ANGEL INN, or Mr. John Bowen, at the Public Office, in Bilston; or to Richard Jesson, Esq, Solicitor, or the Auctioneer, both of Walsall aforesaid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/6/1846 - Advert

“To be Sold, a Finger Organ, in a Mahogany Case, suitable for a church or chapel, full compass, and containing the following Stops: Stop, Dispasen, Open Dispason, Principal, Fifteenth, Sesquialtra, three Ranks, and Flute.

Apply to Mr. T. Bowen, ANGEL, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/9/1847 - Advert

“Bilston Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the tolls arising at the several Toll Gates and Bars upon the Turnpike Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the house of Mr. Thomas Bowen, the ANGEL INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Tuesday, the 12th day of October next, between the hours of one and three in the afternoon, for the term of one year, commencing the first day of January next, in the manner directed by the Acts passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, ‘for regulating Turnpike Roads,’ which tolls were let on lease, the last year, in the several lots and at the sums hereinafter mentioned, clear of the expenses of collecting them, and will be put up in such lots and at such sums respectively as the trustees then present shall think fit.

Whoever happen to be the best bidders must at the same time pay one month in advance of the rent at which such tolls may be let, and give security with sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the trustees of the said turnpike roads, for payment of the rest of the money monthly.

Lot I. New Gate, £542 0s 0d.

Lot II. Bilston Bridge, High Street, and Cold Lanes Gates, and Bilston Bar, £708 0s 0d.

Lot III. Catchems Corner and Parkfield Gates, and Ettingshall Lane Bar, and Ettingshall Side Bar, £214 0s 0d.

Lot IV. Gibbet Lane Gate, £652 0s 0d.

John Willim, Clerk to the Trustees. Bilston, September 6, 1847.”

Birmingham Journal 29/7/1848 - Advert

“Wanted, a Man of honest, sober, and industrious habits, as Brewer. He will also be required to make himself generally useful.

Apply to Mr. Thomas Bowen, ANGEL, Bilston.”

Birmingham Journal 26/1/1850

“An inquest was held on Wednesday, at the house of Mr. Thomas Bowen, ANGEL INN, Hall Fold, Bilston, on the body of Samuel Carpenter, a butty miner, aged 22 years, who was killed in consequence of a quantity of rock falling on him from the roof of the pit, on the 21st inst. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned. Deceased was to have been married on Monday next.”

Thomas Bowen was also a grocer and provision dealer. [1851]

1851 Census

Pipes Meadow

[1] Thomas Bowen (50), victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Eliza Bowen (39), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Mary S. Bowen (17), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Louisa E. Bowen (14), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Emma A. Bowen (12), daughter, born Bilston;

[6] Eliza J. Bowen (9), daughter, born Bilston;

[7] Thomas William Bowen (5), son, born Bilston;

[8] Henry John Bowen (3), son, born Bilston;

[9] Helen Bowen (under 1 month), daughter, born Bilston;

[10] Elizabeth Howell (21), house servant, born Lichfield;

[11] Lucinda Swatman (15), house servant, born Birmingham;

[12] Jane Marston (14), house servant, born Willenhall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/9/1853 - Deaths

“On the 9th instant, at Penn, near Wolverhampton, accidentally drowned, Henry John, second son of Mr. Thomas Bowen, of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, aged 5 years.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/1/1854

“On Thursday evening, Lord Ingestre attended a meeting at the ANGEL INN, Bilston. There were about 150 persons present, and after the meeting had been addressed by the Chairman, the Rev. H. S. Fletcher and Mr. Waterhouse, Lord Ingestre rose and proceeded to remark upon the charge reiterated against him after repeated denials, that he was a Protectionist, and referred to a gentleman present.

Mr. Gettings rose and complained that the noble lord was resorting to personalities.

Lord Ingestre then referred to other charges made against him, and stated his opinions on Church-rates, war, and other subjects. Before resuming his seat he invited questions, and Mr. Gettings interrogated the noble candidate at considerable length on a variety of subjects, amidst various manifestations of opinions on the part of the audience. The meeting was then addressed by Mr. Underhill; after which Mr. Bowen proposed and Mr. Aston, of Moxley, seconded a motion, approving of Lord Ingestre as a candidate.

Mr. Gettings proposed an amendment, pledging the meeting to oppose the noble lord's return, which was seconded by Mr. Rose. On a show of hands being taken, the Chairman expressed a doubt on which side the majority lay, but Lord Ingestre said he was in a minority, which, however, the day of election would not confirm. The meeting then separated.”

[Lord Ingestre stood for MP for South Staffordshire but was not elected.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/3/1856

“The following gentlemen were elected as churchwardens for Bilston for the ensuing year on Monday last..... St. Mary's Mr. Thomas Bowen, of Hall Street (who had previously served the office).”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/4/1857

“On Tuesday last, St. Mary's, Bilston, presented an unusual aspect of gaiety and rejoicing. As a mark of respect to Mr. Thomas Bowen, one of the churchwardens, and who has also for several years past discharged gratuitously the duties of organist, the marriage of his eldest daughter with Mr. T. H. Tomkys, of Darlaston, was celebrated with ‘musical honours.’ Mr. Salaridge presided at the organ, and the marriage anthem was performed by a full and very efficient choir. A number of the female pupils of the Sabbath School, festively attired in white, strewed flowers in the path of the happy pair as they left the church. The large number of persons who assembled to witness the ceremony observed the utmost decorum.”

Saint James's Chronicle 16/2/1858

“On Friday, at the ANGEL INN, Bilston, an inquest was held upon the body of Francis Bould, aged 27, who was killed at the Great Western Railway station at Bilston, and his corpse dreadfully mutilated by his being run over by the mid-day express from London, on Wednesday last.

The principal witness was a policeman upon the line named Andrew Morris, who was standing near the deceased just before his death. Morris stated that Bould was a goods shunter, and as such had the care of a horse, which, just at the time that the London express was due, ran away. A goods train was passing at the time. When the goods train had gone by Bould ran across the line to stop his horse, when he was knocked down by the express train and killed instantly.

The driver of the express stated that he did not see the deceased until he was within eight yards of him; that he sounded his whistle, and stopped his train as soon as possible.

The coroner asked the policeman if he should have reported the deceased, even if no accident had happened, for crossing the line when a train was due. Witness replied that he should not. The coroner said that he ought to do so; and if he did not he ought to be dismissed from the company's service. He had frequently observed the danger to which railway servants exposed themselves by crossing in front of approaching trains, but they ought not to be allowed to do so. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/2/1858 - Advert

“Bilston District Banking Company. Persons of whom the Company or Partnership consist.....

Thomas Bowen, Bilston, victualler, Executor of the late John Bowen (deceased), Bilston, gentleman.

Thomas Bowen, Bilston, victualler.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/6/1858

"On Thursday last an adjourned inquest was held at the ANGEL INN, Bilston, on Samuel Stokes, of Bradley, and late in the employ of Messrs. Rose and Co., ironmasters, who was found lying dead on the line of the Great Western Railway, between Wednesbury and Bilston, at daylight on Thursday the 17th inst, but there not being any further evidence to prove by which train he was killed, or how he got on the line, the jury returned, by direction of the Deputy-Coroner, W. H. Phillips, Esq, an open verdict of Found Dead.

It, however, transpired in the course of the enquiry that Stokes was in the constant habit of boasting how he could cheat the Railway Companies, and also that he was the same man who, in November last, was fined by the Magistrates at the Bilston Petty Sessions, on the prosecution of the Oxford, Worcester, and Wolverhampton Company, for riding in a superior class carriage to the one he was entitled to use; and at the time he met his death there is little doubt that he was committing a fraud on the Great Western Railway Company, for on searching his pockets a third-class ticket from Birmingham to Hockley was found, together with three pence only in money, which ticket was issued to him for a train leaving Snow Hill Station shortly after nine o'clock on Wednesday evening, and it is supposed that when the speed of the train was slackened on approaching Bilston Station, he took the opportunity of jumping the steps on off side of the carriage, and was immediately knocked down by an up goods train which was passing."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/12/1859 - Deaths

"On the 17th instant, in the 49th year of her age, to the great grief of her sorrowing family, Eliza, the affectionate and beloved wife of Mr. Thomas Bowen, late of the ANGEL INN, Bilston."

James Elkington = James Elkinton

Birmingham Journal 26/9/1857 - Advert

"THREE TUNS, Wolverhampton. To Innkeepers and Others.

Mr. John Senior will Sell by Auction, on Monday next, September 28, upon the above Premises (in consequence of Mr. Elkington, the Landlord, having taken the ANGEL INN, Bilston).

The Household Furniture, Beds, Bedding; large Bagatelle Table, with massive pillars, balls, cues, and markers, complete, with top to form table (lately cost £26); painted Partition of large Dining Room, inch panel, equal to new; fifteen excellent Acre Casks, from 36 to 400 gallons; 120 gallons of old Ale, in prime condition; sixteen-bushel Mash Tub, two Coolers, with lead piping, Working and other Tubs, 120-gallon Copper, with fixings, one fifty ditto, nearly new, Malt Crusher, Bean Mill, four-pull Beer Machine, with lead piping through Cellar, Spirit Fountain, and Casks grained oak, Elbow Seats, with leather cushions, round Bar and Parlour, nearly equal to new, seats round Tap Room, large Lamp, stained glass, and Sign in front of house; Cow Ties, Stable Articles, and other numerous Effects.

The Coppers, Barrels, and Brewing Utensils are in excellent condition, and well worthy the attention of the Trade. Catalogues may be obtained on the Premises, or of the Auctioneer, Wolverhampton."

James Elkington, beer retailer and provision dealer, Hall Street. [1861]

1861 Census

28, Hall Fold – ANGEL INN

- [1] James Elkington (48), publican and grocer, born Ruby [Rugby?], Warwickshire;
- [2] Hannah Elkington (50), wife, born Shipton on Stone, Worcestershire;
- [3] Jane E. Elkington (25), daughter, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [4] William Elkington (23), son, manager of nail works, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [5] Frederick Elkington (15), son, scholar, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [6] Maria Elkington (13), daughter, scholar, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [7] Henry J. Elkington (11), son, scholar, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [8] John C. Lees (24), visitor, pawnbroker, born Wolverhampton;
- [9] Isabella A. Hackforth (24), visitor, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [10] Mary Weaver (15), general servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/8/1861 - Marriages

“On the 27th instant, at SS Peter and Paul’s Church, Aston, by the Rev. George Peake, Vicar, Mr. John Oliver Lee, of this town, to Jane Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. James Elkington, of Hall Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1862

“The Annual Licensing Meeting. This meeting was held in the Police Court on Friday last.....

Mr. Whitehouse then applied on behalf of Mr. John Rogers, hairdresser, news agent, and collector of assessed taxes, for a license to premises he is erecting by PIPE HALL. Mr. Whitehouse remarked that he was well aware that the Bench were of opinion that the number of public houses in Bilston was sufficiently great already; but his client had expended £700 in the purchase of the ground and the erection of a house, which would provide accommodation for the important class of the community, commercial travellers, which he declared was afforded by no public house in Bilston. Mr. Underhill, who opposed on behalf of Mr. Elkington, of the ANGEL, argued that the best proof that no such house was wanted, was that neither the railway company nor Mr. Pugh had used the license for PIPE HALL. The application was refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/12/1862

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, before the Stipendiary, a man, named Joseph Davies, was charged with having killed a pig with the intention of stealing it, the property of Mr. Elkington, of the ANGEL INN public house, Pipers Meadow, Bilston.

It appears that the pig in question, which was about 30lbs in weight, was safe in the sty at the rear of Mr. Elkington’s premises, on Friday night last, in company with several other young pigs. About nine o’clock that night a young man, named Hezelstine, was in a yard adjoining Mr. Elkington’s, when his attention was attracted to the squealing of a pig, and on looking over the wall he saw the prisoner near Mr. Elkington’s sty killing one of the pigs by knocking it on the head with a stone. As soon as the prisoner saw that his movements were being watched, he threw down the pig and endeavoured to make his escape. He was, however, too closely followed by Hezelstine, who caught him in Queen Street and held him safe until the appearance of a policeman, when he gave him into custody. There being some doubt as to the prisoner’s felonious intention, he was committed to take his trial at the Sessions.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/1/1863

“Staffordshire Epiphany Sessions.....

Joseph Davies, 40, engineer, was indicted for killing a pig, the property of James Elkington, at Bilston, on the 26th December, with the intention to steal it. Mr. Andrews appeared to prosecute.

The pig in question, which was 30lbs in weight, was in the prosecutor’s sty, and at about eleven o’clock at night a young man named Thomas Heseltine, who was in the adjoining yard, heard a commotion amongst the young porkers, looked over the wall, and saw a man in the sty sticking one of the pigs. The young man was knocked down, but got up again, saw the prisoner running away, pursued and caught him after a chase of a quarter of a mile. The pig’s skull had been fractured evidently with a stone which lay close to it, and the head was produced in Court by the police, to enable the jury, if so disposed, to make a post mortem examination for themselves. A bag was found close to it.

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he pleaded guilty to having been convicted of felony in December, 1857.

The noble Chairman said if he committed any other offence he would receive a very severe sentence, but he should have one more chance, and sentenced him to nine months’ imprisonment.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/9/1863

“The meeting for the renewing and granting of licenses was held on Friday, at Bilston police office.....

Mr. Waterhouse, solicitor, of Bilston, made an application for a license to be granted to Mr. George [sic] Rodgers, landlord of the GREAT WESTERN INN, Market Street.....

Mr. J. E. Underhill, of Wolverhampton, opposed on behalf of Mr. Elkington, of the ANGEL INN, and stated that his client’s house was of much easier access than the applicant’s, being directly opposite to the station.

Mr. Rodgers, in answer to the Bench, guaranteed that in a very short time he would be in a position to give accommodation for at least six horses and conveyances, and with this understanding, and also taking into consideration the applicant’s previous good character, the application was granted.”

James Elkington was described as also being a shopkeeper. [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1864 - Advert

“The ANGEL INN, Bilston.

To be Let, this old-established and well-frequented Old-Licensed House. The Stock, Fixtures, &c, to be taken by valuation.

Apply to Aston and Sollom, Auctioneers, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/9/1864 - Advert

“The ANGEL INN, Bilston.

To be Disposed Of by Valuation, the Possession, Licenses, Fixtures, and Stock-in-Trade of the above old-established and well-frequented Old-Licensed House, with Grocer’s Shop adjoining, and now doing a good business. Coming-in about £300. Satisfactory reasons can be given why the present tenant is leaving.

Apply to Aston and Sollom, Auctioneers, Wolverhampton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/8/1865 - Advert

“Tuesday, 12 September. Bilston. The ANGEL INN, Hall Street.

Messrs. Aston and Sollom will Sell by Auction, by order of Mr. James Elkington, on Tuesday, September 12th, 1865, the whole of the capital Ale Casks from 60 to 300 gallons, excellent Brewing Utensils, three Coppers, Malt Crusher, Beer Machine, stock of Ale, a portion of the Household Furniture and Public House Effects, upon the premises as above.

Catalogues to be had from the Auctioneers.

Sale at half-past eleven am.”

James Elkington – see also THREE TUNS, Castle Street, Wolverhampton.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/8/1866

“George Lavender, landlord of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, was yesterday brought up before the Stipendiary, upon a warrant, at Wolverhampton, charged with an indecent assault upon his domestic servant, Charlotte Blower. The evidence showed that defendant came to her while she was engaged in her duties in his bed room, and acted indecently to her. She sought refuge in her own room, whither he followed her, repeating his misconduct. He was fined £5, and costs £1 1s.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1866

“George Lavender, landlord of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, having neglected to answer a summons was brought up on a warrant and find £5 and costs £1 1s, for an indecent assault upon his maid-servant, Charlotte Blower, who said he committed the offence first in his own bedroom, which she was cleaning, and following her to her own room repeated it there.”

John Frogatt = John Froggitt

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year’s list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

John Frogatt, ANGEL INN, Hallfields, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/10/1866 - Advert

“ANGEL INN, Bilston. Re John Froggitt.

Sale of Furniture, Fixtures, 2 Bagatelle Tables, Effects, &c.

Mr. C. Butters will Sell by Auction, by order of the Assignee, This Day (Thursday), October 11, on the above premises.

The whole of the above, including the Shop and other Fixtures, Tea Canisters, Scales, Arks, Gas-fittings, Steps and Bar, Bagatelle Table, 12ft long, two pockets, slate bed, with cues, cue rack, and nine balls, complete; one smaller ditto, Eight-day Clock, Corner Cupboards, Tables, Windsor Chairs, Arm ditto, five-pull Beer-machine, with piping and taps, complete; serving Counters, Measures, and the whole of the contents of Parlour, Smoke and Tap Rooms, four Bed Rooms, Brewhouse, including superior Brewing Plant, copper Boiler, iron ditto, &c; Malt Room, Cellars, &c.

Sale to commence in the Morning at Eleven o'clock. No Reserve. Cash at the fall of the hammer.

Auction Offices, Hanley, Longton, and Kids Grove.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/11/1867

“E. Brittle of Bilston will make a match to fight W. Atkins of Walsall at catch weight, for £10 or £15 a side; or J. Dakin of Willenhall or Bunker of Wolverhampton. A match can be made any night next week at J. Richards’s, the ANGEL INN, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/2/1868

“The one-arm man of Bilston will make a match to fight the one-arm man of Wolverhampton, or the one-arm man of Oldbury, for £10 a side, at catch weight. A deposit forwarded to Bells Life, and articles to Mr. J. Richards, ANGEL INN, Bilston, will ensure a match.”

1871 Census

Hall Fold – ANGEL INN

[1] John Richards (35), innkeeper employing one man, born Bilston;

[2] Maria Richards (33), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Clara Richards (10), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Sarah Ann Richards (8), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Alice Richards (4), daughter, born Bilston;

[6] Amelia Richards (2), daughter, born Bilston;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/6/1871 - Correspondence

“To the Editor of the Daily Gazette.

Sir. Under the head ‘Willenhall,’ your reporter was in error in stating that Thomas Richards, publican, Bilston, was fined 10s and costs for causing some obstruction in the footpath on the Willenhall Road. It should have read Thomas Rogers, SHAKESPEARE INN, Bilston. Myself and John Richards, of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, never having kept any dogs, we should wish it to be fully stated in your tomorrow’s paper that neither I, Thomas Richards, nor John Richards, innkeepers, of Bilston, had anything to do with the case.

Yours truly, Thomas Richards, RED LION INN, Dudley Street. John Richards, ANGEL INN, Hall Street. Bilston, May 30.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/2/1873

“J. Davies will run Yardley of Darlaston 100 yards level, or take two yards of Owen of Darlaston in 100; or the like distance of Crook of Bilston, for £5 a side. Money ready at Mr. J. Richards’s, ANGEL INN, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/4/1874

“Alexandra Park Recreation Grounds, Rood End, near Oldbury.

The above beautiful grounds, which are available from all parts of England, being situated within a few minutes’ walk of Oldbury, Spon Lane, and the Smethwick stations on the Stour Valley Railway, and Westbromwich, Smethwick Junction, and Rood End stations on the Great Western Railway (Rood End in particular, being only 300 yards distant), are reopen to the public, and the proprietors, Messrs. Smith and Bradley, respectfully announce that they will give £15 to be contested for in an All England Foot Race, distance 135 yards, on Saturday and Monday, April 18 and 20. First prize £10, second £4, third £1. Entrance 1s 6d, no acceptance, to be declared on or before Tuesday, April 14. Wednesday morning’s letters will be in time. All entries to be made at the grounds, or at any of the following places.....

Richards’s, ANGEL INN, Bilston.....

Betting and gambling strictly prohibited. No one allowed to run unless in proper costume.”

Birmingham Mail 15/11/876

“Local Failures..... Spencer Cooke Tippetts, 231, Park Road, Aston, late of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, has filed his petition for liquidation, with liabilities estimated at £700, and assets not yet ascertained.”

London Gazette 17/11/1876

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Warwickshire, holden at Birmingham.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Spencer Cooke Tippetts, of Park-road, Aston, in the county of Warwick, out of business, late of the ANGEL INN, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Joseph E. Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on the 7th day of December, 1876, at three o’clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 15th day of November, 1876.

Joseph E. Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/10/1879

“W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the ANGEL INN, Halls Fold, Bilston, on Monday, on the body of Edward Hodgkiss, aged 64, a labourer in the employ of the Township Commissioners. On the morning of Wednesday, the 20th September, the deceased was working on the highway at Priestfield, Ettingshall, when he was knocked down by a cart driven by Mr. Hilch, a poulterer, of Darlaston. The wheel of the cart passed over his chest, severely injuring him. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, attended the unfortunate man, who died on Saturday last. No blame was attached to Mr. Hilch, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1881 Census

28, Hall Fold – ANGEL INN

[1] Francis Fletcher (34), shearer (iron works) and publican, born Bilston;

[2] Edith C. Fletcher (34), wife, born Manchester;

[3] Thomas Fletcher (13), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Frank Fletcher (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] Gertrude M. Fletcher (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[6] Bernard T. Fletcher (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[7] Charles A. Fletcher (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[8] Harry Fletcher (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[9] Betsy Bridge (15), general servant, born Bilston;

[10] George Hamilton (48), lodger, comedian, born London:

Darlaston Weekly Times 17/6/1882 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale at the ANGEL INN, Hall Fold, Hall Street, Bilston.

Messrs. Payton and Hill are instructed by Mr. Francis Fletcher, who is retiring from the business, to Sell by Auction, on Tuesday June 20, 1882, upon the above premises, the Licenses, Goodwill and Possession of that Old Established spacious house and premises, together with the Brewing Plant, Public House Fixtures, and effects, consisting of six 56-gallon barrels, and several small ditto, Mash Tub, Ale Vats and Coolers, and lead conducting pipe to cellar, wrought iron Boilers and Underwork, capital Malt Crusher, patent lever 4-pull Beer Machine, with Taps, and about 140 feet of new Lead Piping; Tap Table, Spirit Barrels with Taps, cross leg Drinking Tables, Windsor Chairs, six strong Smoke Room ditto, mahogany centre Table, oblong and other Tables, fine toned 7 octave Cottage Pianoforte, in Walnut case, nearly new (by Bishop, of London); Side Board, Prints, Chimney Glasses, Sewing Machine (by Wheeler and Wilson); also in Grocers Shop, Panel Counter, Flour Bin, sets of Flour and other Scales and Weights, six Tea Canisters, Shelving, &c, &c.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock.

Auctioneers Offices, Broad Street and Hartshorne Street, Bilston.”

Charles Calloway = Charles Callaway

Darlaston Weekly Times 13/1/1883 - Advert

“ANGEL INN, Halls Fold, Bilston.

A Select Dancing Party will meet in the Large Room at the above Inn, every Monday and Saturday during the Season.

An Efficient Band will be in attendance. Principal Violin, Mr. Foster. Second Violin, Mr. Fletcher.

Admission, Gentlemen 6d, Ladies 3d. Dancing to commence at 7-30.

Chas. Callaway, Proprietor.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 13/1/1883

“Lovers of the curious in nature would be interested in seeing a unique pigeon belonging to Mr. Merryman, at the ANGEL INN, Hall Fold, Bilston. The bird, which is a beautiful specimen of the ‘tumbler,’ is perfectly marked in red, white, and blue, a combination rarely, if ever, seen.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/3/1884

“At Bilston Police Court on Tuesday, Joseph Dean (24), miner, of Greencroft, was charged with committing a violent assault on John Smith, of Coseley Row.

Prosecutor, whose face was disfigured badly, stated that he was in the ANGEL INN, Hall Fold, on Sunday afternoon, when prisoner and two others came in and commenced ‘chaffing’ about a young woman. He tried to quieten the prisoner, when the latter took up the poker, and threatened him with it. The landlord ordered the prisoner out, and he went away. Shortly after, the prosecutor left the house, when prisoner picked up a piece of brick (produced) and threw it in his face. He afterwards had to be attended by Dr. Smith.

Mr. C. Carlile, a theatrical gentleman, who was staying at the house, gave evidence that prisoner hid behind the house, and obtained the brick from a stack near.

A woman who was passing stated that as the prisoner came out of the house she heard him say he would wait for and murder prosecutor.

Mr. Bellis, the landlord, deposed that prisoner was so quarrelsome that he was ordered out, although he was quite sober.

Dr. Smith stated that the cartilage of the prosecutor’s nose was cut through, and it had to be sewn up. It was a severe wound, such as might have been inflicted with a blunt instrument thrown with considerable force.

Prisoner, who was continually talking while in the dock, said he was a Volunteer, and prosecutor and his companions were chaffing him, and stole his hat. He went outside and simply threw a little piece of coal, because he was aggravated at the cruel treatment they had subjected him to.

The Bench said the assault was most dastardly, and fined prisoner 10s and costs, and ordered him to pay all medical charges.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 21/6/1884

“On Saturday night, the officers and brothers of the No.35 Lodge of the United Independent Order of Loyal Caledonian Cords Sick and Dividend Society attended at the house of Brother A. C. Clarke, the ANGEL INN, Hall Street, Bilston, to open a new lodge. Several members were enrolled, and the new lodge will be No.384 of the Order.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1884

“The Caledonian Cords.

On Friday evening a representative meeting of the various Cork Lodges in the Midland Counties was held at the ANGEL INN, Hall Street, Bilston. A deputation from the Executive Council of Birmingham was also present. The meeting was convened for the purpose of discussing certain grievances complained of by the various lodges in the Midland Counties, also a proposal to secede from the Birmingham district and form a separate Executive Council for the Midland Counties.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/9/1884 - Advert

“Mr. T. Skidmore will Offer for Sale by Auction, at the GREAT WESTERN INN, Bilston, on Thursday September 25th, 1884 Copyhold Property at Bilston.

Lot 1. All that valuable Old-Licensed Public House called the ANGEL INN, situate in Hall Fold, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Clarke.

Also the Three-Store Dwelling House adjoining in the occupation of Mr. Shelley.

Also the Nine Dwelling Houses at the back of the said ANGEL INN.....”

The Stage 14/11/1884 - Advert

“Heavies, Character and Old Women.

Miss Fanny Reynolds, at liberty November 17th.

Address, ANGEL HOTEL, Bilston, Staffordshire.”

1891 Census

Hall Fold – ANGEL INN

[1] Edwin Burgess (50), licensed victualler, born Macclesfield;

[2] Mary Burgess (50), wife, born Coventry;

[3] Rosa Mary L. Burgess (17), daughter, born Crewe;

[4] Robert Burgess (15), son, born Stafford;

[5] Frank Isaac Burgess (12), son, born Stafford;

[6] Henrietta Burgess (9), daughter, born Stafford:

The license was not taken out by the owner on 26th August 1892.

FINGER ORGAN.

TO be SOLD, a FINGER ORGAN, in a Mahogany Case, suitable for a church or chapel, full compass, and containing the following Stops:—Stop Diapason. Open Diapason, Principal, Fifteenth, Sesquialtra, three Ranks, and Flute.

☞ Apply to Mr. T. BOWEN, Angel, Bilston.

BILSTON TURNPIKE TOLLS.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the tolls arising at the several Toll Gates and Bars upon the Turnpike Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be LET BY AUCTION, at the house of THOMAS BOWEN, the ANGEL INN, in BILSTON aforesaid, on TUESDAY, the 12th day of OCTOBER NEXT, between the hours of one and three in the afternoon, for the term of one year, commencing the first day of January next, in the manner directed by the Acts passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, "for regulating Turnpike Roads," which tolls were let on lease, the last year, in the several lots and at the sums hereinafter mentioned, clear of the expenses of collecting them, and will be put up in such lots and at such sums respectively as the trustees then present shall think fit.

Whoever happen to be the best bidders must at the same time pay one month in advance of the rent at which such tolls may be let, and give security with sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the trustees of the said turnpike roads, for payment of the rest of the money monthly.

	£	s.	d.
Lor I.—New Gate	542	0	0
Lor II.—Bilston Bridge, High-street, and Cold Lanes Gates, and Bilston Bar ...	708	0	0
Lor III.—Catchem's Corner and Park-field Gates, and Ettingshall Lane Bar, and Ettingshall Side Bar	214	0	0
Lor IV.—Gibbet Lane Gate	652	0	0

JOHN WILLIM,

Clerk to the Trustees.

Bilston, September 6, 1847.

1847

BREWER.

WANTED, a MAN of honest, sober, and industrious habits, as BREWER. He will also be required to make himself generally useful.—Apply to Mr. Thomas Bowen, Angel, Bilston.

1848

THREE TUNS, WOLVERHAMPTON.

TO INNKEEPERS AND OTHERS.

MR. JOHN SENIOR will SELL by AUCTION, on MONDAY NEXT, September 28, upon the above Premises, (in consequence of Mr. Elkington, the Landlord, having taken the Angel Inn, Bilston)—the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Beds, Bedding; large Bagatelle Table, with massive pillars, balls, cues, and markers, complete, with top to form table, (lately cost £26.) painted Partition of large Dining Room, inch panel, equal to new; fifteen excellent Acre Casks, from 36 to 400 gallons; 120 gallons of old Ale, in prime condition; sixteen-bushel Mash Tub, two Coolers, with lead piping, Working and other Tubs, 120-gallon Copper, with fixings, one fifty ditto, nearly new, Malt Crusher, Bean Mill, four-pull Beer Machine, with lead piping through Cellar, Spirit Fountain, and Casks grained oak, Elbow Seats, with leather cushions, round Bar and Parlour, nearly equal to new, seats round Tap Room, large Lamp, stained glass, and Sign in front of house; Cow Ties, Stable Articles, and other numerous Effects.

The Coppers, Barrels, and Brewing Utensils are in excellent condition, and well worthy the attention of the Trade. Catalogues may be obtained on the Premises, or of the Auctioneer, Wolverhampton.

1857

THE ANGEL INN, BILSTON.—To be LET, this old-established and well-frequented OLD-LICENSED HOUSE The Stock, Fixtures, &c. to be taken by valuation.—Apply to Aston and Sollom, Auctioneers, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton.

THE ANGEL INN, BILSTON.

TO be DISPOSED OF by Valuation, the POSSESSION, LICENSES, FIXTURES, and STOCK-IN-TRADE of the above old-established and well-frequented Old-Licensed HOUSE, with Grocer's Shop adjoining, and now doing a good business. Coming-in about £300. Satisfactory reasons can be given why the present tenant is leaving.—Apply to ASTON and SOLLUM, Auctioneers, Wolverhampton.

1864

TUESDAY, 12th SEPTEMBER.

BILSTON.

THE ANGEL INN, HALL STREET.

MESSRS. ASTON and SOLLUM will SELL by AUCTION, by order of Mr. James Elkington, on Tuesday, September 12th, 1865, the whole of the capital ALE CASKS from 60 to 300 gallons, excellent BREWING UTENSILS, three COPPERS, MALT CRUSHER, BEER MACHINE, stock of ALE, a portion of the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and PUBLIC HOUSE EFFECTS, upon the premises as above.

Catalogues to be had from the AUCTIONEERS.—Sale at half-past eleven a.m.

1865

ANGEL INN,

BILSTON.

RE JOHN FROGGITT,

SALE OF FURNITURE, FIXTURES, 2 BAGATELLE TABLES, EFFECTS, &c.

MR. C. BUTTERS will SELL by AUCTION, by order of the Assignee, THIS DAY (Thursday), October 11, on the above premises—the whole of the above, including the Shop and other Fixtures, Tea Canisters, Scales, Arks, Gas-fittings, Stoves and B.R. BAGATELLE TABLE, 12 ft long, two pockets, slate bed, with cues, cue rack, and nine balls, complete; one smaller ditto; Eight-day Clock, Corner Cupboards, Tables, Windsor Chairs, Arm ditto, five-pull Beer machine, with piping and taps, complete; serving Counters, Measures, and the whole of the contents of Parlour, Smoke and Tap Rooms, four Bed Rooms, Brewhouse, including superior Brewing Plant, copper Boiler, iron ditto, &c.; Malt Room, Cellars, &c.

Sale to commence in the Morning at Eleven o'clock. No reserve. Cash at the fall of the hammer.

Auction Offices—Hanley, Longton, and Kidsgrove.

1866

Unreserved Sale at the

ANGEL INN, HALL FOLD, HALL STREET, BILSTON.

MESSRS. PAYTON & HILL are instructed by Mr. Francis Fletcher, who is retiring from the business, TO SELL BY AUCTION, on TUESDAY JUNE, 20, 1882, upon the above premises the LICENSES, GOODWILL AND POSSESSION of that Old Established spacious house and premises, together with the BREWING PLANT, PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES, and effects, consisting of six 56 gallon barrels, and several small ditto, Mash Tub, Ale Vats and Coolers, and lead conducting pipe to cellar, wrought iron Boilers and Underwork, capital Malt Crusher, patent lever 4-pull Beer Machine, with Taps, and about 140 feet of new Lead Piping; Tap Table, Spirit Barrels with Taps, cross leg Drinking Tables, Windsor Chairs, six strong Smoke Room ditto, mahogany centre Table, oblong and other Tables, fine toned 7 octave Cottage Pianoforte, in Walnut case, nearly new (by Bishop, of London); Side Board, Prints, Chimney Glasses, Sewing Machine (by Wheeler and Wilson); also in GROCERS SHOP, Panel Counter, Flour Bin, sets of Flour and other Scales and Weights, six Tea Canisters, Shelving, &c., &c.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock.

Auctioneers' Offices, Broad Street and Hartshorne Street, Bilston.

1882

ANGEL INN, HALL'S FOLD, BILSTON.

A SELECT DANCING PARTY

Will meet in the Large Room at the above Inn, EVERY MONDAY & SATURDAY

During the Season.

AN EFFICIENT BAND will be in attendance. PRINCIPAL VIOLIN ... MR. FOSTER. SECOND VIOLIN ... MR. FLETCHER. Admission, Gentlemen 6d. Ladies 3d.

Dancing to commence at 7-30.

CHAS. CALLAWAY, PROPRIETOR.

1883

ANGEL

400, Bilston Road, (6, Wolverhampton Road), (Wellington Road), (Gibbett Lane) / Ward Street, Priestfield, (New Village), BILSTON

OWNERS

John Walker, factor, Birmingham
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1921]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Bahadur Singh Shergill

LICENSEES

Mrs. Sarah Walker [1841] – [1858]
Edward Walker [1861] – [1870]
Mrs. Mary Pyatt [1871] – 1881;
John Northwood (1881 – 1883);
Samuel Webb (1883 – 1897);
George Howard Willetts (1897 – 1900);
Leighton Scriven (1900 – 1916);
Charles Hulse (1916 – 1921);
John Mason (1921 – 1931);
Thomas Picken (1931 – [1940]
A S Chopra [1983]
J Kainth [1988]
Bahadur Singh Shergill [1995] – [2019]

2007

NOTES

Wolverhampton Road [1845], [1851], [1854], [1861], [1881], [1892], [1901], [1916], [1921], [1940], [1983]
New Village [1858]
Gibbett Lane [1871]
Wellington Road [1873]
Bilston Road [1871], [1872], [1873]
6, Wolverhampton Road (West) [1921]
400, Bilston Road [2005]

1841 Census

Priestfields

- [1] Sarah Walker (55), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Catharine Walker (25), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Edward Walker (20), carpenter, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Elizabeth Walker (15), born Staffordshire;
- [5] William Walker (10), born Staffordshire;

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Sarah Walker (64), widow, innkeeper, born Leicestershire;
- [2] Edward Walker (32), son, carpenter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Elizabeth Walker (28), daughter, home, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] William Walker (22), son, factor's clerk, born Wolverhampton;

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/5/1851

“An inquest was held on Monday last at the ANGEL INN, Wolverhampton Road, Bilston, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the body of a male child, which was found on Saturday buried in a pit bank, at the back of the Gibbett Lane Gate. T. Dickinson, Esq, surgeon, stated that he had examined the body, which was that of a full grown male child; but from its decomposed state he was unable to say whether or not it had been born alive. The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/4/1857

“An inquest was held at the ANGEL INN, Priestfield, on Monday last, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, upon the body of Thomas Price, aged 39, who had been missing since February last, and whose body was found a few days since in a pool of water between Priestfield and Portobello. From the evidence adduced it appeared that the deceased was last seen alive about nine at night on the 9th of February last. He was then intoxicated, and was going in the direction of his home, on his way to which place he would have had to pass the pool of water in question. There were no marks of violence or injuries discovered upon his person. His watch and other property were found in his pockets. His wife, and several other witnesses, were examined, but there did not appear to be any suspicious circumstances connected with his death. The Jury therefore returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned.”

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Edward Walker (42), unmarried, victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Elizabeth Walker (37), sister, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/1/1871

“At the Wolverhampton County Court, yesterday, before Mr. Skinner, Judge, William Ashcroft, auctioneer, of Snow Hill sued Mary Pyatt, of the ANGEL INN, Gibbett Lane, for £7 19s 3d. Mr. Stirk appeared for the plaintiff, and said the defendant employed the plaintiff to get a customer for the FREEMASONS ARMS, in the Old Horse Fair, Wolverhampton, and a considerable sum had been expended in advertisements. The Judge gave a verdict of £3 15s 6d, as the value of the advertisements, and the time and labour expended in correspondence.”

1871 Census

Bilston Road

- [1] Mary Pyatt (50), widow, publican, born Willenhall;
- [2] Elizabeth Pyatt (19), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Mary Pyatt (17), daughter, born Wolverhampton:

Mary Pyatt – see also FREEMASONS ARMS, Horse Fair, Wolverhampton, and BIRD IN HAND, New Street, Wolverhampton.

1881 Census

Wolverhampton Road – ANGEL INN

- [1] John Northwood (67), licensed victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Northwood (50), wife, born Kinton, Herefordshire;
- [3] Ann Griffiths (64), sister, widow, assists in house, born Staffordshire:

Evening Express 1/12/1881 - Advert

“To be Let, the ANGEL INN, Priestfield; a free old-licensed house.
Apply on the premises.”

TO be Let, the Angel Inn, Priestfield; a free old-licensed house.—Apply on the premises.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/9/1889 - Advert

“Found, a Liver-coloured Spaniel Dog, with white feet.
Apply, S. Webb, ANGEL INN, Priestfields

FOUND, a Liver-coloured Spaniel Dog, with white feet.—Apply, S. Webb, Angel Inn, Priestfields.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/9/1889 - Advert

“Lost, Black Curly Retriever Dog, answers to Rover; reward given.
Apply, J. Webb, ANGEL INN Priestfields.”

LOST, Black Curly Retriever Dog, answers to Rover; reward given.—Apply, J. Webb, Angel Inn, Priestfields.

Walsall Advertiser 31/12/1889 - Advert

"Monday, 13th January, 1890, at Six for Seven, at the ANGEL INN, Priestfields, Wolverhampton.
Sale by Auction, of Seven Copyhold Dwelling Houses, situate in the neighbourhood of Gibbett Lane, Priestfields, on the main road leading from Wolverhampton to Bilston.
Solicitor, Mr. T. H. Bayley, 29. King Street, Wolverhampton."
[The properties sold for £305.]

1891 Census

Wolverhampton Road – ANGEL INN

- [1] Samuel Webb (39), innkeeper, aerated water manufacturer, born Tipton;
- [2] Emma Webb (36), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Minnie Webb (17), daughter, born Great Bridge;
- [4] Edith Webb (4), daughter, born Bilston:

Samuel Webb was also a mineral water manufacturer. [1892]

Bridgnorth Journal 19/11/1898

"The body of the young man named Thomas Stanley, who for over a week had been missing from his home in St. Matthew Street, Wolverhampton, was found on Sunday afternoon. For some days search had been made for him by Police-constable Needham and others, but despite diligent inquiries by his friends, no trace could be found of him till Sunday.

On Friday and Saturday, several attempts were made to descend a disused pit shaft, 70 yards deep, at Moseley Village, down which it was thought deceased had thrown himself. The shaft, however, was full of foul air, and it was not considered safe to venture down. A labourer, named Charles Ollis, of Willenhall Road, expressed his determination of seeing for himself whether Stanley was there or not, and he was let down by rope. This nearly cost him his life, for on being drawn to the surface he was unconscious. While he was making his descent, a conversation was maintained with him and the people on the bank, in order to that they might know he was all right, but presently Ollis ceased talking, and he was quickly drawn up the shaft again, insensible, as above stated. Brandy was administered to him, and he revived. It having been made clear that Stanley was not in this pit, the search was for a time abandoned, but on Sunday a jacket and muffler, identified as belonging to Stanley were found near a pit shaft, 40 yards deep, at Stowheath, between Bilston and Wolverhampton, and half a mile from the other pit. About noon Ollis again proffered his services and was let down. At the bottom he found the body of deceased, literally smashed, and having secured it to a rope it was drawn up to the surface. It presented a sickening sight, and was placed in some sacking and removed to the ANGEL INN, Priestfield, to await an inquest. The top of the shaft is barricaded, and everything points to the theory that deceased has committed suicide, although his parents know of nothing which should have led him to have taken his own life. It is stated that he had a comfortable home, and was in a fairly good situation at a works at Monmore Green.

Further inquiries go to show that the deceased was only 24 years of age, and he is spoken of as having been a very quiet, unassuming young fellow until recently, and as having worked steadily as one of the employees at Messrs. Bayliss, Jones, and Bayliss's works, Cable Street, Monmore Green. The cause of his change of manner lately is reported to be a love affair. The finding of the body created a great sensation in the Moseley Village, Willenhall Road, and Priestfield districts, and thousands of people visited the locality of the pit from which Stanley's corpse was recovered."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/11/1898 - Correspondence

"The Recent Suicide in Wolverhampton: An Appeal.

Sir. No doubt many of your readers have read of the painful suicide of the late Thomas Stanley and of the bravery of Charles Hollis in risking his own life to recover the body. He lost several days work in endeavouring to do so, and has received no recompense. The parents of the deceased, not being in a position to reward him, might I appeal through your columns on his behalf? There is a subscription opened at Mr. G. Willett's, ANGEL INN, Priestfield, where already donations have been received.

Hoping the public will generously respond, and thanking you in anticipation.

I remain, yours truly, Samuel Smith. Smiths Building, Priestfield. November 15th, 1898."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/11/1898

“Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, Wolverhampton, has offered to head a subscription for Charles Hallis, of Willenhall Road, Wolverhampton, who went down a disused pit shaft at Stow Heath a few days ago and recovered the dead body of a young man named Stanley, who had committed suicide.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/12/1898

“The sum of £1 15s 9d has been collected by Mr. George Willetts, ANGEL INN, Priestfield, for the reward of Mr. Charles Hollis, who courageously recovered the body of T. H. Stanley from a coal mine on November 19, 1898.”

Pride of Priestfield Sick and Benefit Society held its first annual dinner here in July 1899.

Birmingham Weekly Post 24/2/1900

“Mr. T. A. Stokes, county coroner, held an inquest at the ANGEL INN, Priestfield, Bilston, on Tuesday, on the body of Ellen Edwards (23), who lived with an invalid aunt. On Saturday deceased appeared to be bright and cheerful, but on Sunday was found hanging by a cord in an outhouse. It was stated that she was in trouble. The jury found that deceased committed Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane.”

1901 Census

Wolverhampton Road – ANGEL INN

- [1] Leighton Scriven (43), licensed victualler, born Brierley Hill;
- [2] Elizabeth Scriven (40), wife, born Wednesfield;
- [3] Elizabeth Lewis (62), mother, widow, living on means, born Birmingham:

1911 Census

Wolverhampton Road – ANGEL INN

- [1] Leighton Scriven (53), licensed victualler, born Brierley Hill;
- [2] Elizabeth Scriven (50), wife, married 10 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Elizabeth Lewis (77), mother, widow, born Birmingham:

Charles Hulse was fined £1 and costs, on 5th May 1916, for selling beer exceeding measure called for.

Charles Hulse – see also MOXLEY ARMS, Darlaston.

1921 Census

6, Wolverhampton Road (West)

- [1] John Mason (49), manager public house, born Walsall;
- [2] Rachel J. Mason (44), wife, manageress public house, born Walsall;
- [3] Winifred A. Mason (16), daughter, at home help, born Walsall;
- [4] Edna M. Mason (14), daughter, school, born Walsall;
- [5] John H. Mason (12), son, school, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/8/1951

“The application of a carpenter, aged 20, to be reinstated in his work with an Ettingshall building firm was granted yesterday by Birmingham Reinstatement Committee, and the applicant was awarded compensation. Brian B. Porter, a married man with one child, of the ANGEL INN, Priestfield Road, Wolverhampton, started work for Biddulph and Thrift Ltd, in January 1949, as carpenter-improver. In July of the same year he was called up for the Army. He was discharged in July this year. On applying for his job in person and by letter, he was informed that there was no vacancy.

Mr. Biddulph, a partner in the firm, told the committee that recently many carpenters had been laid off owing to lack of work. A contract for 50 flats was held up for lack of materials. He could not take Porter back now, although he would probably be able to do so in the future.

The committee announced that Porter would have to be reinstated and paid compensation at the rate of £6 10s a week. Allowing for money he had earned in another job, that would amount to £22.”

Lichfield Mercury 27/6/1952

“On Friday evening of last week players and members of the Bulls Head Inn Darts Club, Fradley, had a most enjoyable outing to the ANGEL INN, Priestfield, Wolverhampton. The chairman (Mr. H. Elson) had engaged artistes for the trip. They were Myra (pianist), Tom Harris (conjurer) and Ron Jones (tenor). Refreshments on the bus were in the capable hands of the host and hostess, Mr. A. Jillings and Miss Jacqueline Jillings. On returning to the Bulls Head Inn Mr. Elson thanked the artistes, the secretary and the committee for the success of the outing.”

Express & Star 14/1/2017

“Officers surrounded the ANGEL INN on Bilston Road, Bilston, where around 55 Villa supporters had gathered for pre-match drinks. A total of 35 fans were issued with dispersal orders and escorted to the nearby Priestfield metro station where they were put on a tram back to Birmingham despite having tickets for the game. Midland Metro said it had handed Tram 24 over to West Midlands Police and that it was out of service for a period for this afternoon. Inspector James Merchant confirmed there had been no fighting but police were concerned that the size of the group could have lead to an outbreak of disorder. About 30 police officers, some with dogs, took part in the operation between 3pm and 5pm.”

Express & Star 2/8/2019

“Wolves’ latest signings have taken in the sights of Wolverhampton with a stop off at a city pub. While the rest of the squad claimed victory in the Europa League, the new additions were getting a rousing Black Country welcome in their new homes. The old gold and black signed Jesus Vallejo on a season-long loan from Real Madrid, followed by a potential £20 million deal for AC Milan striker Patrick Cutrone. And both took to the ANGEL INN in Bilston to meet their fans and watch Wolves’ victory.

Nuno Espirito Santo’s side claimed a 4-1 triumph over Northern Ireland team Crusaders, winning the Europa League tie 6-1 on aggregate. The new signings visited the Bilston Road pub for a meal during the match, which they closely watched. Staff at the pub were notified around 30 minutes before the pair arrived.

Owner Bahada Shergill said, ‘They stayed for a meal and for the end of the match. We spoke to them afterwards and had a chat. I’m a big Wolves fan and it was a bit of a shock. It’s absolutely brilliant – quite a big thing and the customers enjoyed taking photographs and talking with them. And they enjoyed the match quite a bit.’

The signings sat at a table with Wolves legend Steve Bull while they were watching the match, at around 8pm on Thursday.

‘They were completely friendly, even with the customers,’ he said. ‘People were going over to ask them for photographs and autographs and they didn’t say ‘no’ once. I’m going to actually get the photograph framed.’

Mr. Shergill said the pair were going to make a ‘good impact’ on the team this season. ‘I think they will do brilliantly – Wolves did well last season, so things will only get bigger and better. It’s a big thing – we’ve never had anyone from Wolves come before, but the majority in here are Wolves supporters.’”

[2023]

2023

BALL COURT

1, Stafford Street / Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Mrs. Fanny Eyre, Elmswood, Penn Road, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

Thomas Johnson [1842]
Henry James Lester [1849] – [1852]
Mrs. Amelia Walleth [1854]
John Walleth [1854] – [1860]
George Reay [1861]
James Colclough [1862] – [1862]
Charles Tizard [] – 1863;
Charles Smith (1863 – [])
John Smith [1864] – [1871]
Reuben Lawrence [1872] – 1874;
Mrs. Ann Lawrence (1874 – 1875);
Ann Rogers (1875 – 1876);
William Jones (1876 – 1877);
John Jones (1877);
Thomas Prime (1877 – 1884);
Walter Ray Campbell (1884 – 1886);
John Gardiner (1886 – 1888);
William Edwards (1888 – 1889);
Thomas Jones (1889 – 1890);

EXCELLENT PUBLIC HOUSE,
The BALL COURT, Stafford-street, Bilston.
TO be disposed of, the Licence, Good-will, and valuable Possession of the above well-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the BALL COURT, in Stafford-street, Bilston, to which is attached a good and respectable club; together with the Fixtures and part of the Brewing Vessels and other effects. The premises consist of six sleeping-rooms, club-room, two parlours, bar, tap-room, three cellars, entire yard, good brewhouse, malt-room, stable, a fives-court, skittle alley, piggeries, cistern, and good well of water, held at the rent of £35 per annum. The coming-in will not exceed £50.
For further particulars apply on the premises (if by letter, post paid).

1837

TO BE LET,
And may be entered upon immediately,
THAT old-established and well-accustomed PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of "the Ball Court," situated in Stafford-street, Bilston. The fixtures, &c. to be taken at a fair valuation.—For further particulars apply to Mr. THOMAS JOHNSON, on the premises.

1842

NOTES

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/12/1881

"Bilston Fifty Years Ago from a 1827 directory.....

The dignity of the law was then deposited in the parish constable and his deputy, and well on the whole they sustained it until 1829, when the 'new policemen' were created by Sir Robert Peel's Act, the first gaol for the town being the building now known as the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/9/1837 - Advert

"Excellent Public House, the BALL COURT, Stafford Street, Bilston.

To be disposed of, the License, Goodwill, and valuable Possession of the above well-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the BALL COURT, in Stafford Street, Bilston, to which is attached a good and respectable club; together with the Fixtures and part of the Brewing Vessels and other effects. The premises consist of six sleeping-rooms, club-room, two parlours, bar, tap-room, three cellars, entire yard, good brewhouse, malt-room, stable, a fives-court, skittle alley, piggeries, cistern, and good well of water, held at the rent of £35 per annum. The coming-in will not exceed £50.

For further particulars apply on the premises (if by letter, post paid)."

Northern Star and Leeds General Advertiser 3/7/1841

“Wolverhampton and Bilston. The cause of Chartism is springing freely forward here. The Wolverhampton friends have engaged Mr. Candy, whose indefatigable exertions as a lecturer are doing much. He addressed a numerous meeting at Brigg’s Coffee House, Wolverhampton, on Wednesday, and an open air meeting in the BALLS COURT, Bilston, on Thursday. The Bilston Committee wish to impress upon their Wolverhampton, Darlaston, and Wednesbury friends the necessity of appointing persons to raise subscriptions towards paying Mr. Candy’s engagement. We sincerely hope that all who are favourable to the principles of the People’s Charter will give their mite.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/12/1842 - Advert

“To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately.

That old-established and well-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the BALL COURT, situated in Stafford Street, Bilston. The fixtures, &c, to be taken at a fair valuation.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Thomas Johnson, on the premises.”

Henry James Lester = Henry James Lister

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/8/1849

“An inquest was held on Wednesday last at the house of Henry James Lester, Stafford Street, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of a newly born female child, which had been found on a pit bank in Riley’s field, about nine o’clock that morning, by Mary Ann Shinton, a single woman, who stated in her evidence that as she was walking along a footpath in the field she saw a child wrapped in some dirty calico lying on the pit bank. She lifted up one of its legs, and found that it was a newly born female child, apparently dead. She immediately made an alarm and sent to the police station, Bilston. She had not any suspicion who the mother of the infant was.

Inspector Thompson deposed that on going to the spot where the child was found he examined the body, but could not detect any bruises or marks of violence upon it. He afterwards made every inquiry in his power to discover the mother of the infant, but had not succeeded, nor had he any suspicion who the mother was.

Mr. T. H. Dickenson, surgeon, described the appearances which presented themselves on a post mortem examination of the body, and gave it as his opinion that the child was born alive; but having stated that he did not open the head, nor examine the stomach or intestines, the coroner adjourned the inquiry until Monday for the production of further evidence.

On Monday last the investigation was resumed, when Mr. Dickenson stated that he had examined the stomach and intestines of the child. The former was empty and the intestines only contained meconium, which was natural to all newly born infants. He was of opinion that the deceased had not taken any food. He believed that deceased’s death was caused by suffocation, but could not say positively that such was the case.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the child was found dead, but by what means it came to its death there was not sufficient evidence to show.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/9/1850 - Notice

“To the Owners of Property, Rate Payers, and other persons having power to vote in the Election of Persons to Act as Commissioners under the Bilston Improvement Act, 1850.

We the undersigned being two of the Overseers of the Poor of the Township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, do hereby give notice, that we have appointed Tuesday, the twenty-fourth day of September instant, to take the Election of Persons to act as Commissioners for the ensuing year under the Bilston Improvement Act, 1850. And we further give notice, that we have fixed the BALL COURT Yard, Stafford Street, in the said Township of Bilston, as the place for the Election of the said Commissioners under the said Act; and that we shall proceed to take the Election of the said Commissioners at the said BALL COURT Yard, Stafford Street, in the said Township of Bilston, at the hour of nine o’clock in the forenoon of the said Tuesday, the twenty-fourth of September instant.

Dated this thirteenth day of September, 1850.

Joseph Spencer. Jabez Morrell. Overseers of the Poor of the Township of Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/4/1852 - Advert

“The BALL COURT INN at Bilston.

To be Let, the above excellent Old Licensed House and Premises, doing a good business, and situate in the most populous part of Bilston. The Stock and Fixtures to be taken by valuation, and immediate possession can be given. Apply to Mr. Lister, on the premises; or to W. Aston, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.”

Amelia Wallett = Amelia Wallet

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/10/1853

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Charles Lyth, 21, for obtaining by false pretences from Amelia Wallett, at Bilston, a quantity of bread, butter, tea, and other articles, to the amount of 4s 10½d, with intent to defraud John Wallett of the same, to be imprisoned six months. At the last Midsummer Sessions he was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment for stealing a handkerchief, and about two days after his discharge was committed for trial on the present charge.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/8/1854

“The annual meeting of Magistrates for granting and renewing publican’s licenses in the parish of Bilston and Sedgley was held on Friday last, in the Bilston Police Court.....

There were eleven applications for new licenses which were disposed of as follows.....

An application made by Mr. Underhill, for a license to the GOOD FELLOWS ARMS, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. T. Brooks, which was opposed by Mrs. Amelia Wallet, occupying the BALL COURT, an adjoining house, was refused.”

John Wallett = John Wallet = John Willett

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

“John Wallett, of the BALL COURT, Stafford Street, Bilston, was fined £5, for carrying passengers in a cart. proceeding at a greater rate than four miles an hour, not having a license to do so.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/9/1855

“John Willett, proprietor of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston, appeared on an information, issued at the instance of the Board of Inland Revenue, charging him with keeping a stage carriage without a license. Mr. Dance appeared in support of the information, and Mr. Bartlett was for the defence.

Mr. Dance explained that, according to the Act under which the information was laid, a stage carriage was a vehicle in which persons were conveyed at a rate exceeding four miles an hour, each party so conveyed being charged a separate fare.

George Palmer was then called, and from his statement it appeared that the defendant advertised an excursion to Sutton Park for the 31st July, the fare being 6s, including refreshments, or 3s exclusive of refreshments. Witness, on the previous evening, went to defendant, purchased a 3s ticket for the excursion, and was duly ready next morning for the ‘start,’ but experienced some difficulty in ‘getting off,’ and eventually had to place himself in a cart with five others. It was, however, drawn by a ‘capital horse,’ and they went at the rate of six miles an hour into Walsall, where witness quitted the vehicle.

It was contended, in defence, that the vehicle in which the witness rode did not belong to the defendant, and that it had not been hired by him, but was the conveyance of a private party, and the driver of the cart was called in support of the statement.

The Magistrates said, however, that there must be a conviction in the case, but mitigated the penalty to one-fourth, £5.”

1861 Census

1, Stafford Street

[1] George Reay (46), publican, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;

[2] Ann Reay (41), wife, born Stone, Staffordshire;

[3] Mary Ann Kent (18), step-daughter, scholar, born Chebsey, Staffordshire;

[4] Josiah Kent (12), step-son, scholar, born Chebsey, Staffordshire;

[5] Eliza Kent (5), step-daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/9/1861 - Advert

“Death Makes a Change.

By Altree and Son. To Be Let, that old-licensed business premises, the BALL COURT INN, Bilston, doing a good in and out-door trade. The house contains eleven rooms, an American bowling alley, three cellars, brewhouse, malt room, two large yards, stables, piggeries, kitchen, garden, &c. Rent £25; part let off. In-coming, £200.

Apply on the premises, or to Messrs. Altree and Son, Publicans Valuers, 1, Bromsgrove Street, Smithfield, Birmingham.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/3/1862 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, in the centre of the flourishing town of Bilston, and old-established Public House, with American bowl-alley attached, together with the steam engine, boiler, horses, carts, &c, which have been used by Mr. Barnfield, of Moxley, in carrying on the business of a ginger beer manufacturer. The present proprietor being about to leave England is the reason for parting with the same. The purchaser will at once be introduced to a first-rate connection for the ensuing season.

To treat for the same, apply to Mr. Jas. Colclough, BALL COURT INN, Bilston; or to Messrs. Hill and Son, Auctioneers, Longton.”

Birmingham Journal 26/4/1862 - Advert

“Valuable Old-Licensed Inn, the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Church Street, Bilston, near Railway Station. By Gilbert and Son. To be Disposed Of, this well-known Inn, in the centre of the town, with an excellent trade. The Premises comprise a large Yard, with Piggeries, Stabling, a covered Bowling Alley, large Club Room, numerous Bed Rooms, &c.

Attached to it is a Ginger Beer Manufactory, with Engine, &c, complete, now transacting a lucrative trade.

The rent of the whole Premises is only £25. Valuation about £300.

Apply to Gilbert and son, Auctioneers, Ann Street, Birmingham.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/5/1862 - Advert

“Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Public House Fixtures, Horse Cart, One-Horse Steam Engine and Boiler, Ginger Beer Making and Bottling Machines, Stock of Glass Bottles, Ale, Porter, Spirits, American Bowling Alley, and all other Effects.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Hill and Son, on Monday, May 19th, and following day if necessary, on the premises of Mr. J. Colclough, BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston.

The Furniture comprises French and iron bedsteads, mattresses, feather beds, bedding, painted washstands and dressing tables, toilet ware, toilet glasses, chests of drawers, chairs, tables, forms, variety of kitchen requisites, excellent brewing vessels, light cart, pony, one-horse steam engine and boiler, ginger beer making and bottling machines, stock of ale and spirits, American bowling alley, and a variety of other Effects.

Sale each day at one o'clock.

Auction Offices, Longton, and Sutherland Cottage.”

Charles Tizard – see also LION, Coseley Street, EXCHANGE VAULTS, and FORESTERS ARMS.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/12/1868

"Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, before I. Spooner, Esq, John Smith, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street; Evan Griffiths, BRICKMAKERS [sic] ARMS, Greencroft Street; and John Lloyd, SWAN INN, Swan Bank, were charged, for that they being ale house keepers, did knowingly suffer gaming in their houses. Mr. Young, of the Oxford Circuit, instructed by Mr. Bowen, appeared on behalf of the defendants. The case against John Smith was heard first.

Police-sergeant Chatfield stated that at between seven and eight o'clock on the evening of Saturday, the 7th November, he visited the bowling alley of John Smith, in company with Police-constable Moffatt. When he went in, there were about ten or twelve persons (men and boys) there. Four of them were bowling, and the landlord was present with a book in his hand, taking down the number of pins that each bowler knocked over. When they had done bowling the two losers paid the defendant twopence each, and he then gave the winners a brass 'cheque' each, similar to the one produced, which would entitle the holders to two penny worth of liquor in the defendant's house, or a cigar.

Cross-examined by Mr. Young: He was in the house about half an hour, and saw four or five games. He was known well there as a Bilston police officer, and notwithstanding his presence the defendant continued to superintend the bowling and to carry on the transactions with the cheques during the whole time he was there. He believed that the defendant's house had been well conducted; but he could not go so far as to say that it was as well conducted as any in the town. There had been no complaint made respecting it. There had been a bowling alley at the house for about six months. It was one of the first opened in Bilston, and they had been only recently introduced into the town. He had heard that the defendant was under the impression that his allowing the bowling for cheques was not illegal.

No other witness was called on the part of the prosecution, and Mr. Young, on behalf of the defendant, said that, as he had intimated at the commencement, he did not intend to plead 'not guilty' to the charge; but he was anxious that Mr. Spooner should have the facts in reference to the case brought before him, because it appeared to him to be very different to that class of cases where offences were committed rather in defiance than in ignorance of the law. There was no doubt that the defendant had committed the offence, but there was also no doubt that he did so under the impression that what was taking place in his house was not illegal, but on the contrary was a legal act. The law had been clearly laid down that bowling 'for money, or money's worth' was alike illegal, but the question in the present case, was whether, under the circumstances, the defendant was a person against whom anything like a severe penalty should be inflicted. There was no doubt, although they had not got at that in a strictly legal form, that it had come to the knowledge of the police-officer that the defendant had been acting under a wrong impression in the matter, before he visited the house. Bowling alleys had only been recently introduced into Bilston, and that probably might somewhat account for the ignorance of the law relating to them; but he was sure that after receiving this legal notice, as it were, of the illegality of such transactions as referred to, they should hear of no more offences of that character. Mr. Spooner said there had been no previous complaint against the defendant, and he should impose a fine of 1s and costs. That kind of thing must be put a stop to, however, and if it was continued the utmost penalty must be inflicted. Mr. Young observed that the cases as against the other two defendants were exactly similar.

Chief-Superintendent McCrea, in reply to Mr. Spooner, said he had received numerous complaints recently from the parents of boys who visited these bowling saloons.

The two defendants, Griffiths and Smith [sic], pleaded guilty, and the same penalty was imposed on each as in the previous case; but Mr. Spooner observed that he was empowered at once to fine them £10, and he was sure he should not hesitate if another case came before him, because, as had been shown, so much mischief was done by that kind of thing, and especially to boys."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/12/1868

"John Smith, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street; Evan Griffiths, BRICKMAKERS [sic] ARMS, Greencroft Street; and John Lloyd, SWAN INN, Swan Bank, were all fined 1s and costs for permitting gaming in their houses."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/5/1869

"Yesterday, at the Police Court, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary).....

John Smith, of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, was charged with having permitted skittle playing in his house. Police-constable Cockerell proved having seen several men playing at defendant's house, and heard them betting with checks, which represented 2d. Defendant was fined 40s and costs."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Allowing Gambling John Smith, BALL COURT, Stafford Street, Bilston, 1s and costs, and another offence, £5 and costs.

The licenses of the following publicans were suspended until the adjourned licensing meeting.....

John Smith, BALL COURT, Bilston."

1871 Census

1, Stafford Street

[1] John Smith (60), victualler employing 1 man, born Bilston;

[2] Elizabeth Smith (57), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Charles Smith (24), son, professor of music, born Bilston;

[4] Margaret Smith (19), daughter, victualler's assistant, born Bilston;

[5] Lucy Smith (17), daughter, victualler's assistant, born Bilston;

[6] Teresa Smith (15), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[7] Albert Berry (21), nephew, upholsterer, born Birmingham;

[8] Patrick Cunane (31), brewer, born Mayo, Ireland;

[9] Sarah Jones (18), general servant, born Portobello:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1871 - Advert

"The BALL COURT INN, one of the best-paying Old-licensed Inns in the Midland Counties. Brews 16 bushels weekly; also large Spirit Trade. Excellent House for Family. Large Yard, suitable for Cab Proprietor or Coal Merchant. Valuation about £120. Rent £25. Present Proprietor retiring from Business.

Apply, Bayley and Roberts, Auctioneers, Walsall."

Midland Examiner 16/1/1875

"A young man named William Worton was brought up in custody charged with having been drunk and assaulting Police-constable Wiley.

The constable stated that on the previous Saturday night, at 10 o'clock, he was sent for to the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston. On going to that place he saw the prisoner, who was stripped to the shirt, and was fighting with another man. He was bleeding from the nose, and was like a madman. At the request of the landlady, witness proceeded to put him out of the house, but as soon as witness took hold of him he (prisoner) struck him on the mouth. Police-constable Smith came to his assistance, and they got the prisoner to the station.

Ann Lawrence, the landlady of the house, was then charged with permitting drunkenness in her house.

Police-constable Wiley repeated his evidence, and said that when he went into the house the landlady told him that the prisoner was the cause of all the mischief. He had never known anything wrong of the house before.

Police-constable Smith gave corroborative evidence.

Mr. Fellows, who appeared for Mrs. Lawrence, said that the prisoner and another man entered the house, and, walking steadily, he appeared to be quite sober. No drink was supplied to him except by the customers in the room, but after he had been there a short time he became very disorderly, and it was then apparent that he was not sober. The waiter ordered him to leave the house, but he refused, and continued his ill-behaviour, and a policeman was then sent for. The landlady gave evidence to this effect.

John Howell also made a similar statement. According to his evidence he is a paddler by trade, but fills up his time with assisting the landlady of the inn, having adopted Longfellow's 'Psalm of Life' so far that he has 'learned to labour and to wait.' In addition to waiting, however, he had a musical talent, and was a source of pleasure to the song-loving customers. Accordingly, on the night in question, he was called upon for a song, and he appeared on the stage, and favoured the company with a display of his vocal powers. The harmony, however, led to discord, for the prisoner and some other men commenced a dance, and a general disturbance took place.

Mr. Spooner said he had no doubt that the men got drunk in the house. It was a most serious offence, and every one must know the intense, cruel mischief caused by drink. He should fine the defendant £5 and costs, but, in consideration of the previous good character of the house, he would not endorse the license.

David Howell was then charged with assaulting Susannah Worton, wife of the prisoner in the first case. She said she accompanied her husband to the house on the night in question, and when she suggested to her husband that it was time to return home, the defendant David Howell struck her and threw her down.

Rosannah Birks corroborated the woman's statement.

Mr. Fellows, for the defendant, denied that any such assault was committed, as was alleged by the complainant, and called a witness to prove that that was so.

In this case the Stipendiary ordered the defendant to pay the costs.

With reference to the charges against Worton, he was fined 10s 6d for the drunkenness, and 20s for the assault on the policeman, with the alternative of three weeks' residence at Stafford."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/8/1875

"Yesterday, there was an annual licensing meeting for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division.....

Chief-superintendent McCrea presented the 'black list.' The licensed victuallers who had been fined during the year were.....

Ann Lawrence, BALL COURT, permitting drunkenness, £5 and costs.....

All the old licenses would be renewed, excepting those of holders who had been convicted. Their applications would be deferred until the adjourned licensing day."

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned brewster sessions.]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/6/1876 - Advert

"Bilston, Staffordshire. To be Disposed Of, in consequence of ill-health, that well-known Old-Licensed Public House, known as the BALL COURT INN; immediate possession may be had. Apply on the Premises."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/10/1879 - Advert

"Quadrille Party every Tuesday evening at Mr. Prime's BALL COURT, Stafford Street, Bilston. Admission 3d."

QUADRILLE Party every Tuesday evening at Mr. Prime's Ball Court, Stafford-street, Bilston. Admission 3d.

1881 Census

1, Stafford Street – BALL COURT INN

[1] Thomas Prime (61), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;

[2] Sarah Prime (55), wife, born Brewood;

[3] Alice Rawson (14), general servant, born Bilston;

[4] William G. Tench (13), nephew, scholar, born Tettenhall;

[5] Alfred I. Leache (31), lodger, general agent, born Birmingham;

[6] Charles Crilley (38), lodger, tinner, born Bristol:

Darlaston Weekly Times 30/12/1882 - Advert

"BALL COURT INN Music Hall, Stafford Street, Bilston, open every Saturday and Monday Evening.

Proprietor, Mr. Thomas Prime.

Engagement of the Brothers Franks, the Favourite Negro Artistes, in New Songs, Dances, and Sketches.

Come and See the real and original Runaway Jack.

Look Out for the great Champion Clog Contest.

Mr. Thomas Prime intends giving a Massive Silver Medal, to be danced for. The winner of the same will be entitled to the title of Champion, open to all Comers.

Due Notice of the Contest will be given in future Advertisements.

Splendid Home Brewed Christmas Ale now on tap. Don't forget Saturdays and Mondays."

Thomas Prime – see also BELL, Wood Street.

Darlaston Weekly Times 22/3/1884 - Advert

"To Let, with immediate possession, Old Licensed Public House, known as the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston. The house contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, Six Bed Rooms, Club Room; also a large Concert Room, capital premises. Incoming at Valuation.

Apply, John Skidmore, Auctioneer and Valuer, Lichfield Street, Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 12/4/1884 - Advert

“Sale by Messrs Payton and Hill. Under Bill of Sale and Rent.

Sale at the BALL COURT INN, License and Possession, Stafford Street, Bilston, on Tuesday Next, April 15th, 1884. Messrs. Payton and Hill will Sell by Auction, the whole of the Public House Fixtures, and Effects, Excellent Brewing Plant, Household Furniture, and other Effects, comprising 5-pull beer machine, with piping and taps; large mash tub, ale cooling vats, receiving vat in cellar, copper bottom sieves, 200-gallon wrought iron brewing boiler, with underwork and brickwork; spirit barrels, range of shelving, large concert room, about 30ft by 16ft with wood top and front, and three windows; wood shed covering marble ally, twelve back rail and other benches, nine tables, 5 Spanish fowl, bedsteads, mattresses, beds, chairs, sofas, pictures, jugs, glasses, clocks, &c. Auctioneers Offices, 1, High Street, Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/9/1884

“Walter Ray Campbell, BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston, was charged with having George Caswell drunk on his premises on Tuesday evening, at 7-40, he having called on his way home from Willenhall Wake. Fined 5s and costs.

George Caswell was charged with being drunk as above. Fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 4/7/1885 - Advert

“New Theatre Royal, Bilston.

Second appearance of the Excelsior Dramatic Club, held at the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston, under the superintendence of Mr. W. Campbell.....”

Sporting Life 30/11/1889 - Advert

“Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton.

Mr. Thomas Jones, of the BALL COURT INN, Bilston, will give £10 to be run for in an All-England 145 Foot Handicap on Saturdays, December 7 and 14. Entrance (6d each) to be made not later than Tuesday next, December 3 (Wednesday’s post in time). All entries to be made to Mr. Jones, BALL COURT INN, Bilston, or to the grounds. NB. Fair play, and no favour.”

Sporting Life 7/12/1889 - Advert

“Wolverhampton and District, Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills.

Mr. T. Jones – of the BALL COURT INN, Bilston – 145 Yards £10 Pedestrian Handicap has closed with a good entry and will start this day (Saturday), when there will be some close and interesting sport. First heat at half-past two pm.”

Sporting Life 22/1/1890

“Wolverhampton and District, Victoria Recreation Grounds.

Only a moderate company of spectators assembled at these grounds on Saturday last, the occasion being a 300 yards pedestrian handicap, start and finish same day, promoted by Mr. T. Jones, of the BALL COURT INN, Bilston. The weather in the morning was very miserable, dark clouds looming in the distance, which threatened every minute to part, and deluge poor Mother Earth with their rainy tears. Towards noon, however, prospects were brightened by the feeble rays of the sun, but to make matters more lively a boisterous wind sprang up, and played such howling tunes around the stand, that it threatened every minute to give way. Despite this the proceedings were satisfactorily got through. Seventy-seven pedes entered their names for the handicap, and were drawn into seven heats, and besides the usual prize money special prizes were offered for the fastest time, which was won by Ben Burns, of Darlaston, who, it will be remembered, ran second to Jackson in the final of the £100 handicap at Powderhall Grounds, Edinburgh. Not only did he win the special prize, but the handicap as well.....

It was getting dark when the men turned out for the final, which ended thus – Burns, first; Bradley, second; Earley, third; Smith, fourth; Shakespeare, 0; Nede, 0; Rowley, 0. Won by three quarters of a yard; a yard and a half between second and third, and one yard third and fourth; the others close up. Mr. J. Green was pistol-firer, and Mr. T. Jones was referee and timekeeper.”

Nottingham Evening Post 8/8/1890

“A Betting Publican Trapped by the Police.

By the Wolverhampton stipendiary, today, Thomas Jones, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Bilston, was fined £44 0s 8d, including costs, for permitting his house to be used for the purposes of betting on horse races. Pc Dealey, a sharp officer attached to the neighbouring Handsworth Division, went to the defendant's house in disguise on four different dates. On each occasion he saw between 30 and 40 persons making bets with the landlord. He also made three bets himself, and afterwards received the money he had won.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 9/8/1890

“Yesterday, at the Wolverhampton Police Court – before Mr. Neville, the stipendiary – Thomas Jones, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting his licensed premises to be used for the purpose of betting on July 1, 2, 3, and 15. Mr. H. Pratt appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. A. Whitehouse for the defence.

Evidence was given by Police-constable Daley, of Handsworth, that he visited the house on the 1st ult and saw a man write ‘Theodore 2.5, 2s, J. Darby,’ on a piece of paper, wrap up the money in the paper, and hand it to Robert Bevan. During the dinner hour thirty or forty persons, chiefly working men, entered the house and made bets. At night the landlord hung up the last edition of the Sporting Chronicle, and asked several men what was coming to them. Being told, he handed them money. The officer stated that a similar state of things prevailed on the 2nd, 3rd, and 15th ult, on which occasion he made bets.

Police-constable Reynolds, of Smethwick, said he visited defendant's house on the 15th ult, and gave Bevan slips of paper with ‘Morian’ and True Blue II’ written on them, and 2s. He saw Police-constable Daley give 2s to Bevan, who handed them and other bets to the defendant. When Daley left the house the defendant asked who he was, and said, ‘I think he is a D. If you get ketched it means ruination to a man. If there is one policeman I will swear my life away, but if there is two I will give in in a minute.’

The Stipendiary said there was no doubt the house was kept for the purpose of betting, and defendant and Bevan kept a regular gaming house. The one solitary thing in defendant's favour was that he had not been fined before. In this instance he would be fined £10 and costs in each case, and the license would be endorsed. The fines and costs amounted to £44 5s 8d.”

The license renewal was refused at the General Annual Licensing Meeting on 22nd August 1890.

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The licensing sessions for Bilston division were held yesterday, before Messrs. S. Loveridge, H. H. Ward, F. A. Homer, and J. L. Gibbons.....

Chief-Superintendent Longden reported that there were in the division 206 fully-licensed houses, 150 beerhouses to sell on, 38 beerhouses to sell off, 6 refreshment houses, 6 grocers licenses; total 406. There had been fifty-eight transfers since the last annual licensing meeting. During the year three licensed victuallers and four beerhouse keepers had been proceeded against for offences against their licenses – one licensed victualler convicted and two dismissed, three beerhouse keepers convicted and one dismissed.....

The first application for renewal was that by Thomas Jones, of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street, Bilston. Chief-Superintendent Longden objected to the license. Inspector Harrison deposed that he was at the Wolverhampton Petty Sessions on the 8th August, when Jones was fined £10 and costs on each on four summonses charging him with permitting betting, and the license endorsed. Mr. Waterhouse, of Sedgley, appeared on behalf of the owner, Mrs. Eyre, of Wolverhampton, who let the house to Jones. Until the informations in the betting case were laid she did not know but that the house was conducted in a proper manner. Mrs. Eyre had since had made arrangements to let the house to the South Staffordshire Brewery Company. He applied that the license might be renewed to Jones as a matter of form while arrangements were being made for a transfer. Mr. Longden said the owner of the house was quite aware of what was carried on, as she went to the house to collect the rent. Mr. Waterhouse said the law never intended to punish the owner of the property unless the owner was in fault. In this case the owner was not in fault.

Mr. Loveridge: Mr. Longden says she knew. It is a bad case for the owner of the property, but Mr. Longden objects altogether to the renewal of the license. I do not think we can grant it.”

TO the OWNERS of PROPERTY, RATE-PAYERS, and other persons having power to vote in the ELECTION of PERSONS to ACT as COMMISSIONERS under the BILSTON IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1850.

We the undersigned being two of the Overseers of the Poor of the Township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, do hereby give notice, that we have appointed Tuesday, the twenty-fourth day of September instant, to take the Election of Persons to act as Commissioners for the ensuing year under the "Bilston Improvement Act, 1850." And we further give notice, that we have fixed the Ball Court-yard, Stafford-street, in the said Township of Bilston, as the place for the Election of the said Commissioners under the said Act; and that we shall proceed to take the Election of the said Commissioners at the said Ball Court-yard, Stafford-street, in the said Township of Bilston, at the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon of the said Tuesday, the twenty-fourth of September instant.

Dated this thirteenth day of September, 1850.

JOSEPH SPENCER,
JABEZ MORRELL,

Overseers of the Poor of the Township of Bilston.

1850

THE BALL COURT, INN AT BILSTON.

TO BE LET, the above excellent OLD LICENSED HOUSE and PREMISES, doing a good business, and situate in the most populous part at Bilston. The Stock and Fixtures to be taken by valuation, and immediate possession can be given.

Apply to Mr. LISTER, on the premises; or to W. ASTON, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.

1852

DEATH MAKES A CHANGE.

BY ALTREE and SON.—TO BE LET, that old-licensed business premises, the BALL COURT INN, Bilston, doing a good in and out-door trade. The house contains eleven rooms, an American bowling alley, three cellars, brew-house, malt room, two large yards, stables, piggeries, kitchen, garden, &c. Rent, £25; part let off. In-coming, £200.—Apply on the premises, or to Messrs. ALTREE and Son, 'Publicans' Valuers, 1, Bromsgrove-street, Smithfield, Birmingham.

1861

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, in the centre of the flourishing town of BILSTON, an old-established PUBLIC-HOUSE, with American bowli-alley attached, together with the steam engine, boiler, horses, carts, &c., which have been used by Mr. Barnfield, of Moxley, in carrying on the business of a ginger beer manufacturer. The present proprietor being about to leave England is the reason for parting with the same. The purchaser will at once be introduced to a first-rate connection for the ensuing season.—To treat for the same, apply to Mr. JAS COLCLOUGH, Ball Court Inn, Bilston; or to Messrs. HILL and SON, Auctioneers, Longton.

VALUABLE OLD-LICENSED INN, "THE BALL COURT INN," STAFFORD STREET, CHURCH STREET, BILSTON, near Railway Station.

BY GILBERT and SON.—TO BE DISPOSED OF, this well known INN, in the centre of the town, with an excellent trade. The Premises comprise a large Yard, with Piggeries, Stabling, a covered Bowling Alley, large Club Room, numerous Bed Rooms, &c.

Attached to it is a GINGER BEER MANUFACTORY, with Engine, &c., complete, now transacting a lucrative trade. The rent of the whole Premises is only £25. Valuation about £300.

Apply to Gilbert and Son, Auctioneers, Ann Street, Birmingham.

1862

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING VESSELS, PUBLIC-HOUSE FIXTURES, HORSE, CART, ONE-HORSE STEAM ENGINE and BOILER, GINGER BEER MAKING and BOTTLING MACHINES, Stock of GLASS BOTTLES, ALE, PORTER, SPIRITS, AMERICAN BOWLING ALLEY, and all other Effects.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Messrs. HILL and SON, on Monday, May 19th, and following day if necessary, on the premises of Mr. J. Colclough, BALL COURT INN, STAFFORD-STREET, BILSTON.

The Furniture comprises French and iron bedsteads, mattresses, feather beds, bedding, painted washstands and dressing tables, toilet ware, toilet glasses, chests of drawers, chairs, tables, forms, variety of kitchen requisites, excellent brewing vessels, light cart, pony, one-horse steam engine and boiler, ginger beer making and bottling machines, stock of ale and spirits, American bowling alley, and a variety of other Effects.

Sale each day at one o'clock.

Auction Offices, Longton, and Sutherland Cottage.

1862

THE BALL COURT INN, one of the best-paying Old-licensed Inns in the Midland Counties. Brews 16 bushels weekly; also large Spirit Trade. Excellent House for Family. Large Yard, suitable for Oak Proprietor or Coal Merchant. Valuation about £120. Rent £25. Present Proprietor retiring from Business.—Apply, Bayley and Roberts, Auctioneers, Walsall.

1871

BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.—To be DISPOSED OF, in consequence of ill-health, that well-known OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the Ball Court Inn; immediate possession may be had.—Apply on the Premises.

1876

BALL COURT INN MUSIC HALL, STAFFORD-ST., BILSTON, OPEN EVERY SATURDAY & MONDAY EVENING.

Proprietor ... MR. THOS. PRIME.
Engagement of the BROTHERS FRANKS,
The Favourite Negro Artistes, in New Songs, Dances, and Sketches.
Come and See the real and original
RUNAWAY JACK.

Look Out for the great CHAMPION CLOG CONTEST.

Mr Thomas Prime intends giving a Massive Silver Medal, to be danced for. The winner of the same will be entitled to the title of Champion, open to all Comers.

Due Notice of the Contest will be given in future Advertisements.

Splendid Home Brewed Christmas Ale now on tap. Don't forget Saturdays and Mondays.

1882

TO LET, with immediate possession, OLD LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE, known as the "BALL COURT INN," Stafford Street, Bilston. The house contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, Six Bed Rooms, CLUB ROOM; also large CONCERT ROOM, capital premises. Incoming at Valuation.—Apply, John Skidmore, Auctioneer and Valuer, Lichfield Street, Bilston.

VICTORIA GROUNDS, ROUGH HILLS, WOLVERHAMPTON.

Mr. Thomas Jones, of the Ball Court Inn, Bilston, will give £10 to be run for in an All-England 145 Foot Handicap on Saturdays, December 7 and 14. Entrance (6d. each) to be made not later than Tuesday next, December 3 (Wednesday's post in time). All entries to be made to Mr. Jones, Ball Court Inn, Bilston, or to the grounds. N.B.—Fair play, and no favour.

1889

SALE BY MESSRS PAYTON & HILL.

Under Bill of Sale and Rent.

SALE AT THE BALL COURT INN, LICENSE & POSSESSION,
STAFFORD STREET, BILSTON,
ON TUESDAY NEXT, APRIL 15th, 1884.

MESSRS. PAYTON & HILL will SELL by AUCTION, the whole of the PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES, and Effects, EXCELLENT BREWING PLANT, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Effects.

Comprising 5-pull beer machine, with piping and taps; large mash tub, ale cooling vats, receiving vat in cellar, copper bottom sieves, 10 ale barrels, various sizes; seven round tubs, 200-gal. wrought iron brewing boiler, with underwork and brickwork; spirit barrels, range of shelving, large concert room, about 30ft. by 16ft. with wood top and end front, and three windows; wood shed covering marble ally, twelve back rail and other benches, nine tables, 5 Spanish fowl, bedsteads, mattresses, beds, chairs, sofas, pictures, jugs, glasses, clocks, &c.

Auctioneers' Offices, 1, High Street, Bilston.

1884

BALLOON

2, (83), High Street / Pinfold Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Henry Willcock
Frederick Warren, pork butcher, High Street, Bilston
The Breweries' Investment Cooperative Ltd., Bilston
Showells Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased)
Ansells Ltd. [1965]
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

Richard Savage [1791]
Benjamin Willetts [1818] – [1839]
Mrs. Jemima Willetts [1841] – [1849]
William Darbey [1851] – [1852]
Henry Plant (1853 – [])
Richard Sale [1861] – [1870]
Mrs. Mary Sale [1871] – (1878);
Ellen Hannah Crump (1878 – 1880);
Henry Willcock (1880 – 1882);
Robert Lowe [1881] manager
Benjamin More [1882] manager
Robert Alfred Willcock and Henry Willcock (1882);
Robert Hunt (1882 – 1885);
Joseph Linforth (1885 – 1894);
John James Green (1894);
Joseph Bennett (1894 – 1895);
Alfred Walters (1895 – 1925);
Robert Joseph Broderick (1925);
Elijah Stott (1925 – 1939);
David Adamson (1939 – [1940])
Samuel John Bolton []

NOTES

83, High Street [1864], [1865], [1868], [1896], [1904]
2, High Street [1908], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1940], [1980]

AIR BALLOON [1818], [1826], [1827], [1830]
BALLOON TAVERN [1856]

It had a six day license.

Richard Savage, victualler, BALLOON, Bilston. [1791]

Ex Pub 2007

Wines and Spirits for Christmas.

H. PLANT AND SONS,
WHOLESALE
WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS,
Market Place, Bilston,

Supply Wines and Spirits, well matured, to Families and the Trade at very reasonable prices.

Wholesale and Family orders may be left at any of the following Branch Establishments :—

THE BALLOON, High Street, Bilston ;

- " ROYAL GEORGE, Church Street, Bilston ;
- " MALT SHOVEL, Oxford Street, Bilston ;
- " WAGGON AND HORSES, Oxford Street, Bilston ;
- " PIED BULL, Snow Hill, Wolverhampton ;
- " SHAKESPEARE, Horseley Fields, Wolverhampton ;
- " LORD RAGLAN, Brickkiln Street, " "
- " KING'S HEAD, Market Place, Willenhall ;
- " MALT SHOVEL, Upper High Street, Wednesbury ;
- " BULLS HEAD, High Street, Princes End.

H. P. & S. Will be glad to forward to the Trade, in bond or duty paid, samples or prices.

Benjamin Willetts = Benjamin Willets

Benjamin Willetts was also a carrier to Birmingham (Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday). [1818]

He was a carrier to Birmingham, Tipton, Wednesbury, Albrighton, Newport, Market Drayton, Whitchurch, Chester and Liverpool, every Tuesday and Friday. [1833]

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/8/1826

"A correspondent informs us that the Bilston Female Society, denominated 'The Third Loyal Lodge of Social Sisters' (very nearly allied in constitution to the Odd Fellows), commemorated the fourth anniversary of its institution on Tuesday se'nnight, at the sign of the AIR BALLOON, at Bilston. About half-past ten in the morning the members assembled to attend Divine Service, and marched in procession to Wednesbury church, three miles distant from Bilston, where a very appropriate Sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Clarkson.....

The object of this society is to raise a fund for their mutual support in sickness, old age, or otherwise."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/10/1830 - Advert

"Sale Without Reserve of Freehold Building & Land, New Town, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, (Without Reserve), at the AIR BALLOON INN, High Street, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, on Thursday, the 4th day of November, 1830, at Five o'clock in the Afternoon, under the Direction of the Devises in Trust for Sale, appointed by the Will of Mr. Benjamin Willetts, late of Bilston, Yeoman, deceased....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/11/1834 - Advert

"Copyhold Buildings in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, at the House of Benjamin Willetts, known by the sign of the BALLOON INN, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Monday, the 24th day of November instant, at five o'clock in the afternoon, by order of the Assignees of the Estate and Effects of West Hartell, late of Bilston aforesaid, Varnish-maker, who was discharged as an Insolvent Debtor, from the Fleet Prison, in the city of London....."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1835

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

Thomas Owen was indicted for stealing two reams of paper, the property of Benjamin Willetts. Mr. Corbett conducted the prosecution. The evidence was short and conclusive. The prisoner was seen to take the paper out of a cart in the yard of Mr. Willetts, who keeps a public house, at Bilston, and is a carrier, late on Monday night last; and he was in the act of handing it over the wall to a companion outside, when he was taken into custody. The prisoner said if he did it he was drunk at the time. The Judge said that was no excuse. Guilty. To be imprisoned two months, to hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/8/1835 - Married

"On the 13th instant, at the Collegiate Church in this town, Mr. Benjamin Willets to Mrs. Jemima Beech, both of Bilston."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/7/1837

"Dominico Pucetti, an Italian image vender, was charged with maliciously cutting and stabbing Richard Middleton, at Bilston, on the 4th of July instant.

The prosecutor, who lives at the Deepfields, in Sedgley, stated that he was at the BALLOON public house, in Bilston, on the evening of the day named, when the prisoner came in with some images for sale; he asked 4d for one of them, and then drank a glass of the ale belonging to the company with which prosecutor was drinking; after that one of the images was broken, and the prisoner threw an image at him; witness set about him with his fists, and gave him some clumsy thumps, he also told the prisoner he wished he (the prisoner) was bigger, that they might see which was the best man. The prisoner replied, 'I'll soon be man enough for you;' and went into the passage. In a minute or two he came in, and, making a bellowing noise, rushed on the prosecutor, who held up his arm to keep him off, and the prisoner's knife 'went right through it, and cut it clean open.' Afterwards prosecutor felt a very heavy blow on his breast, and he knocked the prisoner across the table on his back. In the course of the struggle the prosecutor said he was also stabbed on the breast and in the belly. While the prisoner was lying on his back, he saw a knife in his hand, which was taken from him by Benjamin Tildesley.

Benjamin Tildesley, agent for the Birmingham canal, said he was at the BALLOON, and hearing a noise he went from the room in which he was sitting to see what was the matter, and saw the prisoner and Middleton fighting. He separated them; Middleton sat down, and the prisoner went out. Witness then returned to the room in which he had been before. Soon afterwards he heard the prisoner in the passage, and on going there saw him, and he asked witness something respecting a constable, which he could not understand; then the prisoner ran into the kitchen, and witness followed him; when he got in the prisoner was lying with his back against a table. Witness saw a knife in his hand, and fastening him by the arm, took it from him. Middleton said, 'He's stabbed me.'

Charles Phipps, of Great Bridge, said he was at work with the prosecutor, and went with him into the BALLOON. The prisoner came in, having with him three small images, which he placed on the table, and asked the company to buy them; he sat himself down alongside witness, who asked him if he would take a little ale and porter. Prisoner said, 'No, he was fresh; he had had enough.' He was about falling asleep, when witness roused him, and asked him if he knew French. He replied in the affirmative, and witness told him in that language he had better go home and go to bed. He assented to witness's advice, took up his images, and was going away. He had got as far as the outside of the door, when the prosecutor said, 'I wish I had bought one of the images for my granddaughter,' and sent his lad to call the prisoner in again; the prisoner returned, and in placing his images on the table one fell off, and was broken. The prisoner then picked up a glass of ale and porter and drank it. As soon as he had done that he snatched up one of the images, and threw it at the face of the prosecutor; it hit him on the head and broke to pieces. The prisoner ran out of doors, and prosecutor went after him with part of the broken image, and threw it at him. Prosecutor returned to his seat in the house, and sat down; the prisoner followed him, and threw one of the remaining images him; it cut prosecutor's face, and broke the window. The prisoner was about to run away, when the prosecutor followed him, and a scuffle ensued. They were parted, and prosecutor again returned to his seat. The prisoner then went down a passage towards the back door, and in three or four minutes afterwards witness heard a roaring noise, and the landlady of the house cried out, 'Good God, he's got a knife!' Prisoner rushed into the kitchen, and witness saw him make several jobs at the prosecutor's body with the knife, and afterwards saw the prosecutor bleeding dreadfully. Witness then sent for a constable, and the prisoner was taken into custody.

Great pains were taken by the Magistrate, the Rev. J. Clare, to make the prisoner, who was but imperfectly acquainted with English, understand the nature of the charge, and the evidence by which it was supported, and this kindness appeared to be very thankfully received. By the advice of some persons around him, the prisoner declined saying anything in his defence in the present stage of the case, though from what he had previously mentioned, his defence appeared to be that some of the company had broken his images. He was then committed for trial."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/7/1837

"Staffordshire Assizes.....

Dominico Puccetti, a foreigner, was convicted of assaulting and stabbing Richard Middleton, at Bilston, on the 4th instant. Mr. Corbett appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Lee for the defence.

The prosecutor and party were at the BALLOON public house, at Bilston, on the 4th instant, when the prisoner went in with some images for sale. Whilst there, one of his images was broken, and the prisoner threw part of it at the prosecutor's head, a scuffle ensued, when the prisoner drew out a French spring knife, and stabbed the prosecutor in the right arm, the left breast, and below the left ribs. The prosecutor received considerable injuries. The prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the common gaol."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/11/1837

"John Wheeler was charged with embezzling £1 7s, the property of Mr. Benjamin Willetts, of the BALLOON INN, Bilston. The prosecutor stated that he was a publican and carrier, and that about sixteen months ago the prisoner was in his service, and in the habit of receiving money for him. He gave the prisoner a bill for £1 7s which he was to receive from Mr. T. H. Carpenter, of Birmingham. On being asked for the money, the prisoner said he was to call on Mr. Carpenter for it next quarter day, and had never handed it over.

George Freeman, clerk to Mr. Carpenter, proved that he saw Mr. Carpenter pay the money in July, 1836, and produced the bill, which bore the prisoner's receipt.

Committed."

[At Staffordshire Quarter Sessions John Wheeler pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/6/1839 - Advert

“Votes for the Southern Division of the County of Stafford.

Freehold and Copyhold Buildings and Land in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Tuesday, the 25th day of June, 1839, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mr. B. Willetts, the BALLOON INN, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon, and subject to the conditions which will be then read.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/9/1839 - Advert

“Wanted, a respectable young Woman as Barmaid; she must well understand her business. A good character will be required.

Apply (if by letter, post paid) at the BALLOON INN, Bilston.”

WANTED a respectable young Woman as Bar-maid; she must well understand her business. A good character will be required.—Apply (if by letter, post paid) at the BALLOON INN, Bilston.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/9/1839 - Advert

“To be disposed of by private Contract, a very excellent Carrying Business between Birmingham and Bilston, which has been conducted successfully by the present Proprietors, Mr. Benjamin Willetts and his Father, for upwards of sixty years.

Application to be made (if by letter, post paid) to Mr. Benjamin Willetts, BALLOON INN, Bilston.”

Benjamin Willetts died in the 1st quarter of 1840.

Jemima Willetts = Jemima Willets

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1841 - Advert

“Freehold and Leasehold Property at Bilston and Ladymoor.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Walker and Page, on Tuesday the 16th day of March, 1841, at the house of Mrs. Willetts, called the BALLOON INN, at Bilston, at six o'clock in the evening.....”

1841 Census

High Street

[1] Jemima Willets (40), publican, born Staffordshire;

[2] George Willets (11), born Staffordshire;

[3] Ann Jones (30), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Journal 13/6/1846

“At Bilston Police Court, on Tuesday last, Mr. William Willetts, of Mill Lane, file-cutter, appeared before the Bench to prefer a charge against Mr. Thomas Griffiths, a respectable man carrying on business as a pork butcher, for assaulting him. It appeared that on the 4th of June both parties were at the BALLON public house, about ten o'clock at night. Mr. Willetts was going into the parlour, and was met by Mr. Griffiths, who asked him a question about something unpleasant that had passed. He then struck him and knocked him down, and struck him twice while on the floor. Two witnesses were called to prove the assault.

Mr. Griffiths, in defence, said he did strike him, but the reason of it was, that he had that day been to Birmingham, where he was told that Willetts had been calling him a thief and a rogue behind his back, through some little gambling they had together. He was bowling with him and beat him fairly, and when he heard of what had been said of him behind his back, he became irritated, and said he would strike him. The Bench fined him 5s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/8/1847 - Advert

“A Freehold Vote for South Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Private Contract, all those three Dwelling Houses, and a large School-room, formerly in the occupation of the Rev J. Cooper, situate in Wallbrook Street, Coseley. The building is nearly new, and replete with every convenience.

For particulars apply to Mr. A. Cooper, Farley Street, West Bromwich; Mr. Joseph Lester, Wallbrook Street, next door to the premises; or to Mrs. Willetts, BALLOON INN, Bilston.

The greater part of the purchase money may remain upon security of the building, should it be required.”

Birmingham Journal 11/11/1848

“On Monday evening last, about nine o’clock, as Inspector Thompson was going his rounds, he was assaulted by about twenty persons near the BALLOON INN, in High Street, Bilston, who knocked him down and beat and kicked him in the most brutal manner. One fellow is in custody on the charge, and as the other parties are well known, we trust they will quickly be brought to justice.”

Jemima Willetts, widow, married William Darbey, widower, gentleman, on 4th June 1849.

William Darbey = William Darby

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] William Darbey (58), victualler, born Gornall;
- [2] Jemima Darbey (55), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Mary Ann Robinson (17), niece, barmaid, born Bilston;
- [4] Sarah Hayway (15), house maid, born Wellington, Shropshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852 - Advert

“The BALLOON INN, Bilston.

To be Let, with immediate possession, in consequence of the present proprietor retiring from business, the above old-established Public House, situated in High Street, Bilston, and now doing a good trade.

For particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. Darbey, on the premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

Mr. Hayes applied, on behalf of Mr. Hollingsworth, for a license to a house, which the applicant had rebuilt at an expense of about £2,000, opposite the Market Place, in Bilston, and near the site of the intended Town Hall. Mr. Hayes handed in a testimonial signed by many respectable inhabitants, and observed that Mr. Hollingsworth was one of the oldest and most respectable inhabitants of Bilston, and he believed was well known to several of the Magistrates.

Mr. Whitehouse said he opposed on behalf of Mr. Holland, a much older resident than Mr. Hollingsworth. By a plan which he would put in, prepared by Mr. Bidlake, the Magistrates would almost be led to suppose that every person in Bilston was a friend of John Barleycorn, for there were, between the top of the street in question and the KINGS ARMS, thirteen beershops, and no less than thirty-one houses which had obtained spirit licenses. (Mr. Hayes observed that Mr. Whitehouse had forgotten to state that Bilston was almost one street.) Mr. Whitehouse admitted that it had been called an overgrown village. There were now, he added, two licensed public houses in the same street unoccupied – the BALLOON and the GOLDEN CUP.

Mr. Underhill opposed for Mr. Price, who keeps a public house about 150 yards from Mr. Hollingsworth’s.

The Magistrates, after some consideration, granted the application. Some conversation ensued as to whether the necessary notices had been given in the form prescribed by law, but the Magistrates were ultimately satisfied that the Act had been complied with.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/3/1856

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

Edward Jones, 26, miner, was indicted for stealing from the person of Henry Jackson, at Bilston, a silver watch and 5s, his property. Mr. Davis appeared for the prosecution. The alleged robbery took place in the BALLOON public house, Bilston, but in consequence of the drunken state in which the prosecutor was at the time, there appeared to be a doubt whether the articles were stolen or taken for safety, with the intention of returning them. The jury took this view of the case, and acquitted the prisoner, accompanying their verdict with an expression of their opinion that the prosecutor ought not to be allowed his expenses. The prisoner, who was discharged, was told by the Chairman that he was well-known in gaol, having been twice previously tried in that Court and acquitted.”

Birmingham Journal 9/8/1856

"John Dunn was charged with assaulting Thomas Wright, a butcher, on the 12th of April. It appeared that the complainant and his brother were returning from Bilston Market, and arriving near the BALLOON TAVERN, the defendant, who was in company with another man, without any provocation whatever, knocked him down, kicked, and beat him. The charge was clearly established, and the defendant fined 40s and costs, or in default two months' imprisonment."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1858

"Levi Hale was yesterday charged, at Bilston Petty Sessions, with stealing eight pigeons, the property of John Hartill. The prosecutor lives at Upper Gornal, and kept the birds in a nail shop. He had sixteen in all, and the half were stolen on Sunday fortnight last. William Morgan deposed that he bought the eight pigeons, now produced by him and identified, a fortnight ago last Monday, for 6s 6d, from the prisoner and another, in the BALLOON public house. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was committed for a month, with hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/1/1859

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Michael Bill, 43, miner, and Benjamin Crowther, 24, stoker, were indicted for uttering three counterfeit half-crowns, at Bilston, well knowing the same to be false and counterfeit. The prisoners went to the BULL AND MOUTH public house, in High Street, Bilston, and while they were there Crowther offered a bad half-crown in payment for three-pennyworth of gin. He was told that it was bad, upon which he began to abuse the landlord, and after some time was turned out of the shop. While the altercation was going on the prisoner walked away. A short time before their visit to the BULL AND MOUTH they had been at the BALLOON public house, where Crowther offered a bad shilling in payment for drink, but it was refused. When the prisoners left they were watched, and Bill was heard to say to Crowther, with an oath, 'Go and try Masters's,' that being the name of the person who formerly kept the BULL AND MOUTH. On the following day the prisoners went to the WAGGON AND HORSES, at Sedgley, and Crowther called for a pint of ale, for which he tendered half-a-crown, which the niece of the landlady said was bad. The landlady, however, whose sight was defective, consented to take it, but the course of the day she sent her niece to a neighbour's shop to make some purchases, giving her the half-crown in question, when the opinion of the niece that it was counterfeit was confirmed. Within an hour of leaving the WAGGON AND HORSES, the prisoners went to the BRIDGE INN, at the same place, where for some drink they offered another bad half-crown, but it was not discovered to be bad until the evening of the same day. The men having got clear away, Bill went on the evening of the same day to a provision shop in the same place, and there attempted to pass a bad shilling. On being told that it was bad, he said that he was nearly blind (which appeared to be true), and that it had been given to him in his wages. He promised to bring the person who gave him the coin, but having once left with the shilling in his possession, he never returned. On the 18th of the same month, Crowther and the other prisoner were at the MOXLEY TAVERN, Bilston, where one of them offered a bad shilling in payment for a glass of gin. The police were by this time on their track, and shortly afterwards they were apprehended.

Mr. Motteram dissected the evidence in detail for the purpose of showing that it was not conclusive against the prisoners, but the Jury returned a verdict of guilty. Bill was sentenced to six months, and Crowther to twelve months hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/8/1860 - Advert

"Richard Sale (late H. Plant & Co.), Wine and Spirit Merchant, High Street, Bilston.
Robert Manders and Co.'s Dublin Extra Stout in Cask and Bottle."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/8/1860

"Yesterday, at Bilston Petty Sessions, before the Revds. G. H. Fisher and H. S. Fletcher, a number of beerhouse keepers were summoned for permitting gambling in their respective houses, or otherwise improperly conducting their respective businesses. The prosecutions were instituted by the police, and Major M'Knight, the deputy chief constable, was present to watch the proceedings. The solicitor for the police was Mr. Bayley, of Wednesbury; and for the defendants, Mr. Bartlett, of Wolverhampton.....

Richard Sale, a licensed victualler, was fined 5s and costs, for an offence against his license."

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/11/1860

“Richard Sale, of the BALLOON public house, High Street, Bilston, was summoned for keeping a disorderly house. This was the second offence within twelve months. He was fined 5s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/1/1861

“Thomas Price, a pugilist, of Bilston, was charged with stealing a dog, the property of George Simkins, of Coseley. The complainant deposed that a few nights ago he was in the BALLOON public house, Bilston Street, when the defendant stole from him a small dog that he had taught to perform playful antics. On his way from the house he was knocked down and robbed of 11s 3d, and he believed that the defendant was the man who knocked him down. The defendant said that he gave the complainant a glass of brandy for the dog, and brought three witnesses who swore that this was so. The complainant said it was not likely he should have sold the dog for that, because just before it was stolen the landlord of the BALLOON offered him 5s for the animal. The Magistrates said they did not believe the defendant, and must fine him 5s as the value of the dog, and 10s costs.”

1861 Census

83, High Street

[1] Richard Sale (42), licensed victualler;

[2] Mary Sale (50), wife;

[3] Ellen H. Clump (29), step-daughter;

[4] Mary Jane Ann Sale (18), daughter;

[5] Emily C. Sale (15), daughter;

[6] Alice Muriel Sale (10);

[7] Edward Curran (24), servant;

[8] Ellen Blaney, servant:

[Much of this entry is obliterated.]

Birmingham Daily Post 15/4/1861 - Advert

“To be Disposed Of, a 500 Gallon Ale Cask, in good condition.
Apply to Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, 83, High Street, Bilston.”

TO be DISPOSED OF, a 500 Gallon ALE CASK, in good condition.—Apply to Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, 83, High Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/1/1864 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady Man, as Brewer and Porter.
Apply to Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, Bilston.”

WANTED, a steady Man, as BREWER and PORTER.—Apply to Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/2/1864

“The committee of management of the Wolverhampton Orphan Asylum report increased subscriptions from.....
Mr. R. Sale, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/8/1864 - Advert

“To Farmers. On Sale, a few hogsheads of Strong Old Ale, suitable for harvest, 9d per gallon.
Apply to Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, Bilston.”

TO FARMERS.
ON SALE a few hogsheads of STRONG OLD ALE, suitable for harvest, 9d. per gallon.—Apply to RICHARD SALE, Wine Merchant, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/10/1864 - Advert

“To Publicans. Wanted, a few 140-Gallon Ale Casks, in good condition.
Apply, stating price, Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, High Street, Bilston.”

TO PUBLICANS.—WANTED, a few 140-Gallon ALE CASKS, in good condition.—Apply, stating price, Richard Sale, Wine Merchant, High Street, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/6/1865

“The following tenders for the supply of the articles names for the next quarter were accepted by the Board of Guardians of the Wolverhampton Union.....
Wine (port) 14s per gallon, (sherry) 12s per gallon, gin 11s, brandy 22s, Mr. R. Sale.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1866 - Advert

“Wanted, in a Wine and Spirit Vaults, a respectable Female, from 25 to 30 years of age. Unexceptionable references required.
Apply, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.”

WANTED, in a Wine and Spirit Vaults, a respectable FEMALE from 25 to 30 years of age. Unexceptionable references required.—Apply, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/4/1868

“At the Police Court, yesterday, a man named John Beach, boatman, Bilston, was charged with stealing two pairs of boots, value 7s 6d, belonging to Phoebe Carpenter, of Lanes Field, Sedgley. On Saturday, the 18th instant, the prosecutor went to the BALLOON public house in High Street, Bilston, at between nine and ten o’clock, to regale herself, and while there she put two pairs of boots upon the table. They were afterwards missed, and from information obtained, the prisoner was taken into custody by additional Constable Dunstan on the charge of stealing them. The Magistrates committed the prisoner to take his trial at the Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/7/1868

“Staffordshire Midsummer Sessions.....

John Beach, on bail, was convicted of stealing two pairs of boots, the property of Phoebe Carpenter, at Bilston, and, having been convicted before, was sentenced to six weeks’ imprisonment. Mr. Wilson appeared to prosecute.

On the evening of the 19th of April the prosecutor was having something to drink in a public house with the prisoner, with whom she was acquainted, when he took up two pairs of boots which she had put on a bench and went away with them.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/6/1868

“Wolverhampton Poor Law Guardians.....

The Board then proceeded to the making of the contracts for the ensuing quarter. The following tenders were accepted Wines and spirits, Mr. Richard Sale, Bilston. French brandy, 20s; London gin, 11s 9d; port wine, 11s 6d and 10s 6d; and sherry, 10s, all per gallon.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/10/1868

“West Staffordshire Election. Mr. Walter Williams’s Speech.

To the Editor of the Daily Post.

Sir. The letter in this day’s Post from Mr. Walter Williams has taken not only myself but numerous others by surprise. The eulogy of Mr. Meynell Ingram, by Mr. Williams, was to the effect that whatever he took in hand he always did well, whether in the field as a sportsman, or in the handling of a cock or a dog. Upon hearing this stated, I remarked they were strange qualifications for a representative of the people in the House of Parliament. You will please make what use you think well of this.

Yours, respectfully, Richard Sale, 83, High Street. Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/1/1869 - Advert

“Wanted, a stout Youth, to assist in Brewing, and to make himself useful. In-doors.

Apply, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.”

WANTED, a stout YOUTH, to assist in Brewing, and to make himself useful. In-doors.—Apply, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 6/1/1870 - Advert

“Wanted, immediately, a respectable Female, not under 25, as Barmaid. Strict inquiry as to character and ability. Shop Counter Trade.

Apply, personally, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.”

WANTED, immediately, a respectable Female, not under 25, as BARMAID. Strict inquiry as to character and ability. Shop Counter Trade.—Apply, personally, Richard Sale, 83, High Street, Bilston.

Richard Sale died in the 2nd quarter of 1870.

1871 Census

83, High Street – BALOON INN

[1] Mary Sale (59), widow, innkeeper, born Newport, Shropshire;

[2] Ellen H. Sale (36), daughter, born West Bromwich;

[3] Emily C. Sale (24), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Albert E. Jackson (17), nephew, clerk in iron works, born Newport, Shropshire;

[5] Annie Painter (28), servant, born Ackleton, Shropshire;

[6] Louisa Piper (21), servant, born Sutton, Shropshire;

Birmingham Daily Post 31/8/1872

“Bilston Division Annual Licensing Sessions.....

The application of Mr. Fellows, on behalf of Mrs. Sale, of the BALLOON, High Street, for the privilege of opening an hour earlier to supply coffee to the working men who frequented her house was refused.”

Mary Sale died on 27th July 1878.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/8/1878

“Bilston Annual Licensing Sessions.....

The following is the list of licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers who had been summoned during the year for offences against the Licensing Act Licensed victuallers.....

Mary Sale, BALLOON INN, High Street, Bilston, permitting drunkenness, 8th January, 1878, paid costs.”

AND

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1878

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The persons who had been convicted during the last twelve months for offences against their licenses, the renewals of which were withheld until today, now appeared before the Bench, and there being no further complaint as to the conduct of their houses in the interval the magistrates granted the renewals.”

A seven day license was granted on 19th September 1879.

1881 Census

83, High Street – BALLOON INN

[1] Robert Lowe (35), manager of vaults, born Brewood;

[2] Eliza Lowe (26), wife, born Glascwm, Radnorshire;

[3] Helen Harley (18), wife's sister, barmaid, born Glascwm, Radnorshire;

[4] Robert Lowe (1), son, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Ernest Lowe (1 month), son, born Bilston;

[6] Caroline Ellum (17), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Evening Star 7/2/1882

“Henry Willcock, proprietor of the BALLOON INN, High Street, Bilston, was charged with harbouring a policeman, and unlawfully supplying him with beer at ten minutes past one on Wednesday morning, the 25th ult.

It appeared that the house was managed by a man named Benjamin More, who committed the offence complained of. The case was not fully gone into, Mr. Chief Superintendent Longdon intimating that he would be satisfied with a fine.

A fine of 20s and costs was imposed.”

Henry Willcock died in 1882.

Darlaston Weekly Times 4/8/1883

“The monthly meeting of the Bilston Night Watch Committee was held at the BALLOON INN, on Wednesday evening.....

The treasurer's report showed that the society was gradually improving in finances, the balance in hand being £8 11s 9d, against £6 2s 7d in the corresponding month of last year, after paying extraordinary expenditure for watchman's boots and printing. The watchmen's report showed that during the month 18 places of business had been left open or unfastened.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 15/12/1883 - Advert

“Wines and Spirits for Christmas.

H. Plant and Sons, Wholesale Wine and Spirit Merchants, Market Place, Bilston, supply Wines and Spirits, well matured, to Families and the Trade at very reasonable prices.

Wholesale and Family orders may be left at any of the following Branch Establishments.....

BALLOON, High Street, Bilston.....

H. P. & S. will be glad to forward to the Trade, in bond or duty paid, samples or prices.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 26/1/1884

“The name of Mr. Henry Plant, spirit merchant, has been known in Bilston for more than thirty years, he having entered upon the occupancy of the BALLOON, INN, High Street, some thirty-one years ago. He afterwards held many other houses in Bilston, Wolverhampton, and Walsall, and, aided by his sons, carried on an extensive business. For the past few years Mr. Plant, from ill health, has taken no active part in business, but lived quietly at Westbourne, Pennfields, where he died on Sunday morning in his 69th year. Although a thorough businessman, Mr. Plant took no interest in politics, and held what might be termed broad views in reference to public matters. He leaves nine sons and two daughters to mourn the loss of a father who was always kind. His remains were interred in the family vault at Lapley Church, on Thursday. The body was carried to the grave by the deceased’s six sons, and was followed by the managers of the various houses belonging to the firm.”

Joseph Linforth = Joseph Lineforth

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/2/1889 - Advert

“Lost, on Monday, a small black-and-tan Terrier Bitch; finder rewarded.
BALLOON INN, Bilston.”

LOST, on Monday, a small black-and tan Terrier Bitch; finder rewarded.—Balloon Inn, Bilston.

1891 Census

83, High Street – BALLOON INN

- [1] Joseph Linforth (37), widower, public house manager, born Philadelphia, America (British subject);
- [2] Angela Linforth (20), sister, barmaid, born Willenhall;
- [3] Mary T. Linforth (11), daughter, scholar, born Wednesfield;
- [4] Agnes M. Linforth (7), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Cecilia Linforth (4), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Annie Dyke (19), domestic servant, born Moseley Village:

1901 Census

2, High Street – BALLOON INN

- [1] Alfred Walters (57), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Elizabeth Walters (43), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Edith Walters (16), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Nellie Walters (13), daughter, born Heath Town;
- [5] Harriet Chew (67), mother-in-law, widow, born Coventry;
- [6] Annie Delany (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1911 Census

2, High Street

- [1] Alfred Walters (67), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Walters (51), wife, married 29 years, born Birmingham;
- [3] Arthur Walters (28), son, butcher, born Bilston;
- [4] Edith Walters (26), daughter, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/5/1911 - Advert

“Wanted, strong willing Girl about 17.
Apply, BALLOON INN, High Street, Bilson.”

WANTED. strong willing Girl about 17 –
Apply. Balloon Inn, High-st., Bilston.

1921 Census

2, High Street

- [1] Alfred Walters (77), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Elizabeth Walters (63), wife, assistant, born Birmingham;
- [3] Nellie Walters (33), daughter, assistant, born Heath Town;
- [4] Lucy Ford (21), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

1939 Register

2, High Street (3 of 4)

[1] David Adamson, date of birth 11/10/1901, toolmaker, married;

[2] Edna W. Adamson, dob 25/5/1903, licensee, married;

[3] John Adamson, dob 9/2/1931, at school, single;

AND

2, High Street (2 of 3)

[1] Alice Neal, dob 8/8/1906, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[2] Jean B. (Neal) Edwards, dob 30/1/1932, at school, single;

Birmingham Daily Post 26/1/1945 - Advert

"National Cash Register for Sale £70 as new. Rings to 9/11½.
BALLOON INN, High Street, Bilston."

NATIONAL Cash Register for Sale £70 as new Rings to 9/11½—Balloon Inn High
St. Bilston

Samuel John Bolton died in 1982.

It closed in June 1987.

The premises became a burger bar, and later a fish and chip shop.

TO be disposed of by private Contract, a very excellent CARRYING BUSINESS between Birmingham and Bilston, which has been conducted successfully by the present Proprietors, Mr. Benjamin Willetts and his Father, for upwards of sixty years.

Application to be made (if by letter, post paid) to Mr.
Benjamin Willetts, Balloon Inn, Bilston.

THE BALLOON INN, BILSTON.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, in consequence of the present proprietor retiring from business, the above old-established PUBLIC HOUSE, situated in High-street, Bilston, and now doing a good trade.—For particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr.
DANBY, on the premises.

1839

RICHARD SALE,
(Late H. Plant & Co.),
WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANT,
HIGH-STREET, BILSTON.
ROBERT MANDERS AND CO'S DUBLIN EXTRA STOUT
IN CASK AND BOTTLE.

1860

BANKFIELD

Bankfield Road, BILSTON

OWNERS

Milestone Carvery, Marstons plc

2017

LICENSEES

Craig Shein (2020 – [2022])

NOTES

It opened on 9th October 2017 as WHITE RABBIT

Sign Board 2017

“The WHITE RABBIT Carvery.

A Warm Welcome. Our name was chosen from local accounts in the 18th Century which stated that local miners were said to be haunted by an evil spirit causing great danger at the mines for the workers. The leader who was deeply troubled by this instigated a ceremony to ask for protection and guidance from the White Rabbit, a symbolic white Witch figure who protected the miners and banished the evil spirit for good.”

Express & Star 27/5/2018

“The HOP POLE INN, next to Bilston’s market, will be demolished under a proposal by Wolverhampton council. Cabinet member for city economy, Councillor John Reynolds, said, ‘We are delighted to have reached this agreement with Marston’s over the HOP POLE INN. It will enable the land to be better utilised for the benefit of the town and, in particular, the outdoor market. It is part of the wider regeneration of the area to deliver new homes, new jobs and more investment. It demonstrates our commitment to Bilston and ensures it will continue to be a thriving area’ Marston’s recently opened the WHITE RABBIT pub in Bilston Urban Village.”

Express & Star 18/1/2019

“A Black Country pub enthusiast is celebrating stopping off at an incredible 21,000 boozers over an astonishing 35-year journey. Peter Hill started a charity pub crawl back in 1984 when Banks’s Brewery released a map of 300 pubs. Yet since then, he said it had ‘slightly spiralled out of control’ having visited thousands of taverns across the entire UK. Part of the Black Country Ale Tairsters, father-of-two Peter is the only member to have visited the full 21,000 – but is often joined by fellow members on his travels. During each visit he collects a menu, makes a note of the decor, gets a book signed by the landlord, and asks them for £1 for charity. He then files away the information in what has now become 204 lever arch files in his home. Peter, age 62, said, ‘I’ve taken about 80,000 photos, collected menus, postcards – they’re all at home on my shelves. They’re spilling out the one room though and starting on the landing now.’ Asked how he feels to have reached such a milestone – with the 21,000th pub being the WHITE RABBIT in Bilston – he joked, ‘Well, every thousand pubs is another 10 lever arch files I’ve got to make. I’ve done 308,000 miles round the UK – I love it, absolutely love it.’

Peter has raised £30,000 for charity just by collecting £1 from the landlord each time he visits a new pub.

‘It costs me all my money, this project,’ he added, ‘We used to just take a plastic bag and sleep outside the pub or in a field but ever since the Sun brought out the £9.50 holidays I do that instead. People call me Mr. Sun Holidays as I’ve had 105 so far. It gets me somewhere to sleep at least! My next one is in March down in Devon. I do it every weekend, I never miss one.’ The retired engineer lives in West Bromwich with partner Dawn Taylor, who he admitted ‘doesn’t drink.’ ‘She might occasionally come with me – she’ll go round the town or city and I’ll go to the pubs and then we’ll meet up for tea and stay in a hotel,’ he said. His two children get involved too – 25-year-old Jodee recently drove her father to a pub in Northern Ireland and son Wade, age 27, drove him to Kent.

‘I love unusual pubs. The beer is not my hobby. My hobby is pubs. I just love finding new places.’”

Express & Star 23/6/2021

“A Bilston pub has reopened with a new name and a new direction to be at the heart of the local community. The BANKFIELD INN was previously the WHITE RABBIT. The pub on Bankfield Road was built four years ago by Wolverhampton-based pubs group Marston’s and originally opened in October 2017. General manager Craig Shein, who has been at the pub since January 2020, said it was very nice to be back open again after so long with a new concept. The WHITE RABBIT had been closed since November last year. ‘The change of name was put out at that time and no one was upset by the change. The BANKFIELD INN reflects the area and being part of a community. We hope that people will come in and see what we have to offer,’ said Mr. Shein. He said Marston’s had made a substantial investment in the refurbishment. ‘It has a great new look and feel. We are going to be a real community pub with more activities,’ added Mr. Shein, who head a team of 16 full and part-time staff. The refurbishment has added new features including a revamped bar area, new lounge and restyled garden area. ‘We now have seven internal and one 85in TV outside and we’ll be showing the Euros matches,’ said Mr. Shein.....”

[2023]

2023

BARLEY MOW

179, (84), Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Mrs. Dean, widow, Upper Dean Street, Birmingham
Robert Burtles, whip manufacturer
Edward Jones, beerhouse keeper, Bilston
Richard Sidney Wilson, maltster, Ackleton
Emily Lashford, brewer, Willenhall
Truman, Hanbury, Buxton and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Rebecca Jones [1851] – 1862)
Abraham Lunn [1865] – 1873);
Mary Lunn (1873 – 1876);
Joseph Morris (1876 – 1881);
George Price (1881 – 1886);
Edward Jones (1886 – 1897);
Joseph William Garratt (1897 – 1900);
Cornelius Southan (1900);
William Huband (1900 – 1903);
Thomas Cook (1903 – 1910);
Mrs. Sarah Hughes (1910 – 1921);
Alfred Henry Shaw (1921 – 1923);
Bert Weare (1923 – 1927);
Daniel Evans (1927 – 1932);
William Randall (1932 – 1934);
Thomas Dimmock (1934 – [])
Richard Dimmock [1939] – [1940]

NOTES

84, Oxford Street [1858], [1861], [1862], [1865], [1871], [1873], [1881], [1891], [1896]
179, Oxford Street [1901], [1904], [1911], [1921], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/7/1845

“George Jones, Thomas Jones, Elias Cartwright, and Joseph Cartwright were each charged by Thomas Turner with assaulting and beating at the BARLEY MOW public house, in Bilston, on the 19th instant. Mr. Shipman appeared for the complainant, and proved the case against all the defendants, except Thomas Jones, who was discharged, and the others were convicted in 2s 6d each and costs.”

1851 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Rebecca Jones (52), widow, retail brewer, born Darlaston;
- [2] Samuel Tate (19), son, puddler at iron works, born Bilston;
- [3] Eliza Jones (12), daughter, assistant at home, born Bilston:

R. Jones, beerhouse, 84, Oxford Street. [1858]

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861, NOTICE OF ADJUDICATION AND FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

REBECCA JONES, now and for nine weeks last past residing at the Green, Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, widow, out of business; previously and for fifteen years at the Barley Mow, Oxford-street, Bilston, in the said county of Stafford, Retail Brewer and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a petition of adjudication of bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, is hereby required to surrender herself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the FIRST MEETING of Creditors to be held before the said Registrar on the 6th day of OCTOBER, 1862, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the COURT HOUSE, QUEEN-STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON.

Mr. C. G. BROWN, of Wolverhampton, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. RICHARD ADAMS, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the Bankruptcy.

1862

1861 Census

84, Oxford Street – Beer House

- [1] Rebecca Jones (62), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;
- [2] Eliza Jones (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [3] Benjamin Pitcher (30), lodger, labourer at brick yard, born Tamworth:

Rebecca Jones, retailer of beer, 84, Oxford Street. [1862]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/9/1862 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. Notice of Adjudication and First Meeting of Creditors.

In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

Rebecca Jones, now and for nine weeks last past residing at the Green, Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, widow, out of business; previously and for fifteen years at the BARLEY MOW, Oxford Street, Bilston, in the said county of Stafford, Retail Brewer and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a petition of adjudication of bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, is hereby required to surrender herself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the First Meeting of Creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 6th day of October, 1862, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton. Mr. C. G. Brown, of Wolverhampton, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Richard Adams, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the Bankruptcy.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/11/1862

“Local Bankruptcy Cases.....

Rebecca Jones, retail brewer, of Oxford Street, Bilston, supported by Mr. Langman, and unopposed. Order of discharge granted.”

Abraham Lunn, beer retailer, 84, Oxford Street. [1865]

1871 Census

84, Oxford Street

- [1] Abraham Lunn (57), publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Lunn (55), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Abraham Lunn (31), son, journeyman caster, born Darlaston;
- [4] Amelia Lunn (25), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [5] Emma Lunn (21), daughter, born Darlaston:

Abraham Lunn died in the 1st quarter of 1873.

1881 Census

84, Oxford Street – BARLEY MOW

- [1] Joseph Morris (35), ironworker puddler and publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Amelia Morris (36), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Amelia Morris (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Emily F. Morris (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Edward Jones, landlord of the BARLEY MOW beerhouse, Oxford Street, was charged with selling beer during prohibited hours. Mr. R. Tildesley defended.

Police-constable Moss deposed to seeing a woman named Mary Skitt leave the side door of the BARLEY MOW. Shortly afterwards the landlady came out and followed Skitt. Witness caught her, and found concealed under her apron a half-gallon bottle of beer, which she said she was going to give to Mrs. Skitt, her washerwoman. In the public house were two women and five men with drink before them on the table. The landlady said that the beer was in payment for the work Skitt had done in waiting on the guests at supper.

The Bench said it was a case of grave suspicion, but the defendant would be let off on payment of costs.”

1891 Census

84, Oxford Street – BARLEY MOW INN

- [1] Edward Jones (37), iron worker, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Ann Jones (34), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas W. Jones (14), son, bedstead maker, born Bilston;
- [4] Florence Jones (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Edward Jones (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Blanche H. Jones (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] George Jones (6), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Elizabeth Jones (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Harriet Jones (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [10] Minnie Jones (1), daughter, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 10/7/1894

“Mr. A. B. Smith (deputy-coroner) held an inquest at the BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, yesterday afternoon, touching the death of George Jones (9), whose parents reside at the inn mentioned.

The evidence showed that the boy was bathing in the canal when he got beyond his depth, and was drowned.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.

Some discussion took place as to the want of public baths in the town, and the coroner was requested to write on the question to the Township Commissioners.”

Edward Jones, beer retailer, 84, Oxford Street. [1896]

Dudley Herald 15/1/1898 - Advert

“To Brewers, Licensed Victuallers, Capitalists & others.

Important Sale of Fully-licensed Properties in Walsall, Bilston, Moxley, and Tipton.

To be Sold by Auction by Messrs. Bill & Son, on Monday the 24th day of January, 1898 at the Grand Hotel, Birmingham, at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening....

Lot 2. All that newly-erected Freehold Beerhouse known as the BARLEY MOW, situate in Oxford Street, Bilston, now let to a most respectable tenant at the very low rental of £30 per annum. The property has been recently re-built, has modern fittings throughout, and there is also a paved yard, with gateway entrance, and a compact little brewery at the rear. An excellent trade is carried on which is growing every week, and the property must commend itself to brewers.”

1901 Census

179, Oxford Street – BARLEY MOW

- [1] William Huband (27), publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Huband (28), wife, born Bilston:

Thomas Cook, beer retailer, 179, Oxford Street. [1904]

1911 Census

179, Oxford Street – BARLEY MOW

- [1] Sarah Hughes (47), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Tipton;
- [2] Lillian May Hughes (21), daughter, helper, born Woodsetton;
- [3] Elsie Adelaide Hughes (16), daughter, helper, born Woodsetton;
- [4] Gertrude Eva Hughes (14), daughter, helper, born Woodsetton;
- [5] George Harold Hughes (12), son, born Woodsetton;
- [6] Alfred Hughes (9), son, born Woodsetton:

County Express 19/7/1913 - Advert

“Highly Important Announcement of Sale by Auction of Fourteen Freehold Fully-Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, in and around Coseley, Bilston, Darlaston, Sedgley, and Tipton.

Alfred W. Dando & Co. have received instructions to Sell by Auction, at the STAR AND GARTER HOTEL, Wolverhampton, on Tuesday, July 22nd, 1913, at 6.30 for 7 o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced, as follows.....

Lot 1. The SWAN INN, Darkhouse Lane, Deepfields, Coseley (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Davies, together with the Two Dwelling Houses adjoining, being Nos.10 and 16, Darkhouse Lane.

Lot 2. The PAINTERS ARMS INN, Avenue Road, Coseley (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Davies.

Lot 3. The RED LION INN, Castle Street, Coseley (Beerhouse-on), with large area of Land, as occupied by Mr. John Groves.

Lot 4. The IVY HOUSE INN, Ivy House Lane, Coseley (fully-licensed) as occupied by Mr. Cahill or his under-tenant, together with the Dwelling House, Numbered 23, Ivy House Lane, occupying a large area of land.

Lot 5. The SUMMER HOUSE INN, School Street, Roseville, Coseley (Beerhouse-on), as let to Mr. G. W. Davies.

Lot 6. The ROLLING MILL INN, Millfield Road, Bilston (Beerhouse-on), extending to and fronting Union Street, with large area of Land, as occupied by Mr. Eli Cresswell.

Lot 6a. Union Street. Two Unnumbered Dwelling Houses adjoining the above, with large walled-in Yard and Outbuildings, as let to John Beaton and David Lloyd.

Lot 7. The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mrs. Sarah Hughes.

Lot 8. The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston(Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. John Morgan, with the Five Dwelling Houses, being No.38, California Street, and Nos.1 to 7 (odd numbers), at the rear of same.

Lot 9. The PRINCE OF WALES, Walsall Road, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. Thomas Burfoot.

Lot 10. The NEW INN, The Green (opposite Horton Street), Darlaston (6-day Licence Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mrs. Snape.

Lot 11. The MINERS ARMS INN, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal (fully-licensed), as let to Mr. Enoch Smart.

Lot 11a. Nos.90 and 91, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal. Two Excellent Cottages adjoining the above, with pleasant Gardens and the usual Outbuildings.

Lot 12. The SHAKESPEARE INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Isaac Smart.

Lot 13. The CABIN INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. Joshua Bradley.

Lot 14. The BOAT INN, Boat Row, off Park Lane West, Tipton (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. John Johnson, with the Dwelling House, No.14 adjoining.

Auctioneers' Notes: The foregoing 14 Licensed Houses, 6 of which are Fully-licensed and 8 On-Beerhouses, form as a whole, one of the most important lots of Licensed Properties brought under the hammer in the district within recent years. They have been carefully acquired from time to time, and are situate in well-populated localities, for the most part within easy distance of the largest works in Staffordshire.

The Houses are held either on short tenancies or under management, and in most cases possession may be had of the goodwill of the various businesses upon completion of the purchases; a fine opportunity therefore presents itself to Brewers wishing to increase their barrelage, or to private individuals desiring to embark in the trade. The Houses as a whole are in good order, commodious, well arranged, and doing genuine trades.

Further detailed particulars may be obtained from of Messrs. Hall, Pratt and Pritchard, Solicitors, Bilston; or the Auctioneers, Dudley.”

Sarah Hughes was also a brewer. [1914]

Birmingham Daily Post 8/5/1915 - Advert

“Under A Deed Of Assignment.

Re Richard Sidney Wilson, trading as R. S. Wilson & Son.

Preliminary Announcement Of Sale By Auction of Eleven Freehold, Fully-Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, Brewery Premises & Dwelling Houses in and around Darlaston, Sedgley, Coseley, Bilston, Tipton, Ackleton, and Bridgnorth.

Alfred W. Dando & Co. have received instructions from R. H. Jonson, Esq. (Messrs. Muras and Co., Chartered Accountants, Wolverhampton), the Trustees as above, to Sell by Auction early in June, the following Properties.

The PRINCE OF WALES INN, Walsall Road, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-On).

The MINERS ARMS INN, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal (Fully Licensed), and Two Cottages.

The SWAN INN, Darkhouse Lane, Deepfields, Coseley (Fully Licensed), and Two Dwelling Houses.

The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston (Beerhouse-On).

The ROLLING MILL INN, Millfield Road, Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and Two Cottages.

The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and five Dwelling Houses.

The BOAT INN, Boat Row, off Park Lane West, Tipton (Fully Licensed).

The RED LION INN, Castle Street, Coseley, (Beerhouse-On).

The SUMMER HOUSE INN, School Street, Roseville, Coseley (Beerhouse-On).

The CABIN INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (Beerhouse-On).

The Folly Inn, Ackleton, 5½ miles from Bridgnorth and Albrighton, and about 10 miles from Wolverhampton (Beerhouse-On), with Cottage Residence.

The Castle Brewery, Bridgnorth, with Fixed Plant.

Further particulars will appear in future announcements.

Auctioneer's Offices, 193, Wolverhampton Street, Dudley. (Tele.56).”

Catalogue for Auction on 2/6/1915

“Under a Deed of Assignment. Re Richard Sidney Wilson, trading as R. S. Wilson & Son.

Highly Important Announcement of Sale by Auction of Eleven Freehold Fully Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, Brewery Premises and Dwelling Houses.....

The following Eleven Licensed Houses, Three of which are Fully-Licensed and Eight On-Beerhouses, together with the Brewery, form as a whole, one of the most important lots of Licensed Properties brought under the hammer in the district within recent years. They have been carefully acquired from time to time and are situated in well populated localities, for the most part within easy distance of some of the largest works in Staffordshire, and as they are being offered by direction of the Trustee under a Deed of Assignment, a fine opportunity presents itself to Brewers wishing to increase their barrelage or to private individuals desiring to embark in the trade, of acquiring houses which as a whole are in good order, commodious, well arranged, doing genuine trades, and possession of which may be obtained in most cases upon completion and otherwise at early dates afterwards.....

Lot 4. The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston (Beerhouse-On).

As let on short tenancy at a rental of £36 0s 0d per annum. The capital modern, compact, well-frequented Home-Brewing Public House and Premises situate on the main road with a large passing traffic, and containing spacious Vaults with outdoor department 20' x 14', Smoke Room at back with side entrance, Club Room 16' 6" x 10' 6", Living Kitchen, Two Bedrooms and outer Wash-house, together with two-floor Brewery, large Yard and the usual Outbuildings.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/6/1915

“At Wolverhampton on Wednesday Messrs. W. Dando and Co. of Dudley offered for sale a number of licensed houses in the Black Country, and the lots disposed of realised a total of £6,835.....

The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, an on-beerhouse, let at £36 per annum, was knocked down at £665.”

Walsall Observer 27/3/1920

“Damages of £75 were awarded against John Henry Harvey, wool merchant, living in apartments at 65, Jessel Road, Walsall, in an action for breach of promise brought by Elsie Adelaide Hughes, daughter of the licensee of the BARLEY MOW, Oxford Street, Bilston, and head before Mr. Justice Sankey at Birmingham Assizes on Monday. It was stated that plaintiff, who is 25 years old, made the acquaintance of Harvey in 1911. In 1913, she told the judge, he asked her to keep company with him, and four years later he bought her an engagement ring. She accepted his proposal of marriage if he could get a house, and in August, 1918, they went to inspect some licensed premises at Wednesbury.

In October last year plaintiff heard a license had been taken out for Harvey’s marriage with another girl, and when she taxed him with it he denied that he was going to marry the young woman. He refused her offer to return the presents he had given her, and the next information she had was that he was married, after which, in an interview, he expressed regret for the way in which he had treated her.

Harvey denied that he was ever engaged to the plaintiff, or that he asked her to marry him. The ring he had given to her was only for a present, and he had never seen it on her engagement finger.

Questioned regarding a letter he sent to the plaintiff, in which he used the phrase ‘One who will be true to you,’ he declared he was half drunk when that was written.

Mr. Justice Sankey, giving judgement, said he did not believe the defendant, who, he thought, told lies in the witness box. It was ridiculous for a young man to go into Court and say he had never asked the plaintiff to be his wife, when they saw such letters and had evidence of such conduct.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 9/6/1987

“A 100-year-old secret home brew is bringing cheer again to the Black Country real ale drinkers. The Sarah Hughes Brewery in Bilston Street, Sedgley, has re-opened after closing 29 years ago, and is brewing to an original recipe. The brewery, part of the BEACON HOTEL, has been in the Hughes family for three generations since 1921. Sarah Hughes took it over after moving from the BARLEY MOW in Bilston, and brought her old recipe for Dark Ruby Mild beer – and her ten children – with her.....”

1921 Census

179, Oxford Street

[1] Alfred Henry Shaw (38), beerhouse keeper, born Moxley;

[2] Alice Shaw (45), wife, household duties, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/1/1932

“At Bilston yesterday, Daniel Evans, licensee of the BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, was fined £7 with £5 10s special costs, for supplying beer during non-permitted hours; Lydia Evans, his wife, £4 for aiding and abetting; and Harriet Richards, 106, Oxford Street, 40s for taking away the beer.

It was stated that at a quarter past one on Christmas morning, Richards went for the beer from a lodging house.

It was urged in defence that the beer was ordered by a man named George Taylor at 10.45 on Christmas Eve. He joined a party at the lodging house, and about one o’clock in the morning Richards was asked to fetch it. It was submitted on behalf of Harriet Richards that she acted quite innocently.”

1939 Register

179, Oxford Street

[1] Richard Dimmock, date of birth 12/4/1877, publican, married;

[2] Annie Dimmock, dob 16/4/1876, domestic duties, married;

[3] Mary Dimmock, dob 22/7/1907, chambermaid, waitress, single;

[4] Kenneth Dimmock, dob 8/9/1918, carpenter’s joiner, coffin maker, single:

Teams from here took part in the Bilston Crib League. [1946]

To Brewers, Licensed Victuallers, Capitalists & others
Important Sale of Fully-licensed Properties in Walsall, Bilston, Moxley, and Tipton.

To be Sold by Auction by
MESSRS BILL & SON, on MONDAY, the 24th day of January, 1898 at the GRAND HOTEL, BIRMINGHAM, at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening subject to conditions which will be read at the time of sale.

Lot 1.—The very valuable Freehold Fully-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE known as The Rose and Crown, situate at Moxley, on the main road from Wolver-hampton to Birmingham, together with the bowling green and small model brewery at the rear, now for the last 10 years in the occupation of Mr Archer. The property, which is in a splendid state of repair, is fairly worth a rental of £60, and must rapidly increase in value. Together with the dwelling-house adjoining, let at weekly rentals producing £10 8s. per annum. The Rose and Crown is a well-known calling house, does a large trade all the year round, and altogether forms a most desirable property.

Lot 2.—All that newly-erected Freehold BEER-
HOUSE known as The Barley Mow, situate in Oxford Street, Bilston, now let to a most respectable tenant at the very low rental of £30 per annum. The property has been recently re-built, has modern fittings throughout, and there is also a paved yard, with gateway entrance, and a compact little brewery at the rear. An excellent trade is carried on which is growing every week, and the property must commend itself to brewers.

Lot 3.—The Freehold Fully-licensed PUBLIC- HOUSE known as The Boat Inn, situate near the canal side, in Boat Row, Tipton, now in the occupation of Mr Smith at an annual rental of £22 10s., together with cottage adjoining, producing at a weekly rental £6 18s. 8d. per annum. The whole property thus producing £29 8s. 8d. per annum.

Lot 4.—All that well-accustomed Freehold Fully-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE known as The Peacock Inn, situate in Lower Russell Street, Walsall, now let to Mr Edgar Evans, at the very inadequate rental of £30, together with Four Retail Shops adjoining, being numbered 14, 15, 16, and 17, in Russell Street, and producing together a gross annual rental of £48 2s., and also the large yard, with stabling and blacksmith's shop at the rear, producing a further rental of £11 per annum, the whole property thus producing a gross annual rental of £59 2s. There is sufficient land at the rear to build 15 to 20 houses thereon.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers,
Cherry Street, Birmingham: or to Messrs Hall, Son, and Pratt, solicitors, Bilston.

HIGHLY-IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT OF SALE BY AUCTION OF
ELEVEN FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED AND
ON-BEERHOUSE PROPERTIES,
BREWERY PREMISES & DWELLING HOUSES
in and around
DARLSTON, SEDGLEY, COSELEY, BILSTON, TIPTON,
ACKLETON, AND BRIDGNORTH.

ALFRED W. DANDO & CO. have received instructions from R. H. Johnston, Esq. (Messrs. Muras and Co., Chartered Accountants, Wolverhampton), the Trustee as above, to Sell by Auction, at the Star and Garter Hotel, Wolverhampton, on WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1915, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced, as follows:—

Lot 1.
"THE PRINCE OF WALES INN," WALSALL ROAD, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 2.
"THE MINERS' ARMS INN," RUITON STREET,
LOWER GORNAL (Fully Licensed), together with the Two COTTAGES adjoining.

Lot 3.
"THE SWAN INN," DARKHOUSE LANE, DEEPFIELDS
COSELEY (Fully Licensed), and Two DWELLING HOUSES adjoining.

Lot 4.
"THE BARLEY MOW INN," OXFORD STREET,
BILSTON (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 5.
"THE ROLLING MILL INN," MILLFIELD ROAD,
BILSTON (Beerhouse-On), and Two COTTAGES adjoining.

Lot 6.
"THE CALIFORNIA INN," HATTON STREET,
BRADLEY near Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and Five DWEL-LING HOUSES.

Lot 7.
"THE BOAT INN," BOAT ROW, off Park Lane West,
TIPTON (Fully Licensed).

Lot 8.
"THE RED LION INN," CASTLE STREET, COSELEY (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 9.
"THE SUMMER HOUSE INN," SCHOOL STREET,
ROSEVILLE, COSELEY (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 10.
"THE CABIN INN," KENT STREET, UPPER GORNAL
(Beerhouse-On).

Lot 11.
"THE FOLLY INN," ACKLETON (Beerhouse-On), situate five and a half miles from Bridgnorth and Albrighton, and about ten miles from Wolverhampton.

Lot 12.
An Excellent COTTAGE RESIDENCE, adjoining the above, as let to Mr. Davies.

Lot 13.
THE CASTLE BREWERY, BRIDGNORTH, together with the whole of the FIXED PLANT.

Further particulars may be obtained—as to Lot 1, of Messrs.
Slater and Co., Solicitors, Darlaston; as to Lots 2, 3, and 7, of Messrs. W. A. and H. M. Foster, Solicitors, Wolverhampton;
as to Lot 12, of Messrs. Tildesley and Harris, Solicitors, Widenedale; and as to the whole of the Lots of Messrs. Hall,
Pratt, and Pritchard, Solicitors, Bilston; or of the Auctioneers, Dudley.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT OF SALE BY AUCTION

— of —

ELEVEN Freehold Fully Licensed and
On-Beerhouse Properties, : : : :
Brewery Premises and Dwelling Houses

IN AND AROUND

DARLASTON
SEDGLEY
COSELEY
BILSTON

TIPTON ACKLETON
and BRIDGNORTH

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION BY

Alfred W. Dando & Co.

AT THE

STAR & GARTER HOTEL, WOLVERHAMPTON

:: :: On WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2nd, 1915, :: ::

At 6.30 for 7 o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced.

TRUSTEE:

R. H. JOHNSTON, Esq.
(Messrs. MURAS & Co.),
Chartered Accountants,
Wolverhampton.

Auctioneers' Offices,
193, Wolverhampton St.,
DUDLEY.

SOLICITORS:

Messrs. HALL, PRATT & PRITCHARD,
Bilston;

Messrs. SLATER & Co.,
Darlaston;

Messrs. W. A. & H. M. FOSTER,
Wolverhampton;

Messrs. TILDESLEY & HARRIS,
Willenhall.

The "Barley Mow" Inn,
Oxford Street, Bilston

(Beerhouse-On).

As let on short tenancy at a rental of £36 : 0s. : 0d. per annum. The capital modern, compact, well-frequented Home-Brewing Public-House and Premises situate on the main road with a large passing traffic, and containing spacious Vaults with outdoor department 20' x 14', Smoke-Room at back with side entrance, Club Room 16' 6" x 10' 6", Living Kitchen, Two Bedrooms and outer Wash-house, together with two-floor Brewery, large Yard and the usual Outbuildings.

BARLEY MOW

14, Union Street, (Miller Street), (Mill Street (Lane)), BILSTON

OWNERS

Edwin Hickman, stone mason and quarry master, The Quarry, Bilston

LICENSEES

William Wilkes [1818]
Richard Hickin [1822] – [1830]
Richard Lee [1833] – [1834]
John North [1835]
James Taylor [1841] – [1842]
David Cooksey [1850] – [1854]
Joseph Johnson [1858]
Ann Johnson [1861]
John Davis [] – 1865);
Edward Hall (1865 – 1866);
John Cadman (1866 – 1891):

NOTES

Mill Lane [1818], [1822], [1850]
Mill Street [1830]
High Street [1854]
14, Union Street [1861]
Miller Street [1867]
Coseley Street [1891]

OLD BARLEY MOW [1833], [1834]

Birmingham Journal 13/7/1850

“Within the last few days the police have managed to apprehend another gang of thieves with which Bilston township has been troubled for some time past. The names of those in custody are Richard Fieldhouse, Edward Austin, William Hughes, John Leth, and Francis Jennings, and they were to have been brought up yesterday for committal. The evidence to be brought against them by Inspector Thompson would serve to convict them of having broken into Mr. Banks’s office, at Ettingshall, on the night of the 21st June, when they carried off two coats, and also having entered Mr. Vernon’s Tommy-shop the same night, as well as on a previous occasion, when they stole about ten pounds of tobacco, a flitch of bacon, a number of waistcoats, and several pairs of shoes. They would also be committed for stealing two sucking pigs, on the night of Saturday last, from the premises of Mr. David Cooksey, the BARLEY MOW public house, Mill Lane.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/7/1850

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

Edward Austin, 19, and John Lyth, 16, were indicted for breaking and entering the shop of Thomas William Vernon, at Bilston, and stealing a pair of boots and shoes They were both found guilty, and a previous conviction was then proved against Austin.

The prisoners Austin and Lyth were then indicted, together with Richard Fieldhouse, for breaking and entering the counting house of William Banks, at Sedgley, and stealing six keys and two coats The three prisoners were found guilty.

The prisoners Fieldhouse and Austin were again arraigned, together with Thomas Childer, charged with stealing two sucking pigs, the property of David Cooksey, at Bilston. David Cooksey, the prosecutor, deposed that the pigs were taken from the sty at the back of his house, on the night of the 6th of July; and Francis Jennings, the witness in the former case [as also was William Hughes], proved that the three prisoners came to the hovel where he slept on the morning of the 7th of July, and that after some conversation together, Fieldhouse went out and brought a small sucking pig back, which they boiled in a pot he borrowed from a person named Berger, and of which they all partook. The prisoner Childer skinned the pig after it was boiled, and buried the skin and bones under a heap of ashes, where they were discovered by inspector Thompson, and in an adjoining hovel that officer also found the prisoners on the morning of the 8th of July. Childer, in his defence, said that although he eat some of the pig when boiled, he had no knowledge of where it came from. The three prisoners were found guilty, and a former conviction was proved against Childer.

Another charge of breaking into a shop on the night of the 21st of June was not proceeded with.

Austin and Childer were sentenced to be transported for ten years; Fieldhouse to six calendar months' imprisonment for the first, and a further six months' imprisonment for the second offence; and Lyth to six months' imprisonment."

1851 Census

Union Street

- [1] David Cooksey (32), publican, born Tipton;
- [2] Harriet Cooksey (29), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Martha Cooksey (8), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Ann Cooksey (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Emma Cooksey (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] David Cooksey (1), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Sarah Cooksey (2 months), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Mary Ann Perry (15), house servant, born West Bromwich;
- [9] Sarah Gough (12), house servant, born Shropshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/2/1854

"An inquest was held on Thursday, at the BARLEY MOW, Union Street, Bilston, by W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, on the bodies of John Powis and Samuel Edgcock, who were killed on the previous morning by falling out of the skip when descending a pit at Capponfield Colliery. They were both about fifteen years old. Another boy was much injured, and is not expected to recover. The inquest was adjourned."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/2/1854

"On Monday last an adjourned inquest was held before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, at the BARLEY MOW INN, Bilston, on the bodies of John Powis, Samuel Edgcock, and William Bailiss, three boys, who lost their lives in consequence of being thrown down a coalpit at Capponfields Ironworks, through the neglect of the engineer in 'shorting' without the proper signal being given to him. The jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Thomas Martin, the engineer."

AND

Staffordshire Sentinel 18/3/1854

"Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Thomas Martin, aged 17, engineer, was charged with causing, by culpable negligence, the deaths of Samuel Edgcock and John Powels, on the 8th of February last, and of William Baylis on the 11th of February. The first, a mere lad, was in charge of the engine at the pits of Messrs. Bagnall, near Wolverhampton. In this case the evidence showed that there were three pits; each pit had a bell and clapper to give signals to the engineman. The sound of all the bells was precisely the same, and the prisoner, on the two occasions mentioned in the indictment, mistook the pit from which the signal was given, and by moving the engine, caused the deaths of three lads. The jury thought that, considering the imperfect nature of the signals, the prisoner could scarcely be deemed guilty of culpably negligence, and returned a verdict of not guilty."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1854

“On Friday last, before the Rev. G. H. Fisher, John Smith, a bricklayer from Birchills, was fined £3 for an indecent and aggravated assault on Mrs. Cooksey, landlady of the BARLEY MOW public house, High Street, Bilston, on the previous evening. Prisoner entered the taproom, and called for some drink, which was brought to him by the prosecutrix, with whom he attempted to take improper liberties. She resisted him, when he assaulted her violently, and taking her in his arms, put her on the fire.”

Joseph Johnson – see also CROSS GUNS, Hartshorn Street.

1861 Census

14, Union Street – BARLEY MOW

[1] Joseph Johnson (40), brass caster, born Swindon, Staffordshire;

[2] Ann Johnson (38), wife, public beer shop, born Bilston;

[3] Thomas Johnson (13), son, born Bilston;

[4] Ann Maria Johnson (11), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Joseph Johnson (10), son, born Wordsley;

[6] Henry Johnson (8), son, born Wordsley;

[7] Elizabeth Johnson (7), daughter, born Wordsley;

[8] Sarah Johnson (5), daughter, born Wordsley;

[9] Fanney Johnson (3), daughter, born Bilston;

[10] Martha Johnson (6 months), daughter, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The licensing sessions for Bilston division were held yesterday.....

It was agreed that the case of the BARLEY MOW, Union Street, the license of which was objected to on the ground of non-usage for a number of years, should stand over to the adjourned licensing sessions.”

License renewal refused at Licensing Meeting 21st August 1891.

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1891

“Bilston licensing sessions were held yesterday The Bench refused to grant a certificate of renewal to John Cadman for a license to the BARLEY MOW INN, Coseley Street. It was stated that the house was demolished ten years ago through mining operations.”

BARREL

21, (2), Chell Street, Bradley, (Brierley), (Daisy Bank), BILSTON

OWNERS

Jonathan Chell Wright
Elizabeth Ann Wright

LICENSEES

Jonathan Chell Wright [1873] – 1877);
Elizabeth Ann Wright (1877 – 1879);
Walter Henry Wheeler (1879 – 1882);
George Thomas Simkin (1882 – 1884);
Alfred Job (1884 – 1887);
Harriet Job (1887 – 1888);
William Henry Hemming (1888);
Thomas Paul (1888 – 1907);
George Hassell (1907 – 1908);
Edward William Garbett (1908):

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

21, Chell Street [1901]
2, Chell Street [1904]

It had a six days ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Jonathan Chell Wright died on 21st August 1876.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/4/1877

“At Bilston the Bench transferred the following licenses Beerhouses.....
From the executors of Jonathan Chell Wright to Elizabeth Wright, Bradley.”

1881 Census

20+21 Chell Street - uninhabited

George Thomas Simkin = George Thomas Simpkin

George Thomas Simkin was also a safe maker.

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/12/1884

“The following transfers of licenses were made.....
BARREL, Bradley, from the executors of George Thomas Simpkin to Alfred Job.”

1891 Census

20+21 Chell Street

- [1] Thomas Paul (51), beer seller, born Sedgley;
- [2] Eliza Paul (38), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Thomas Paul (26), son, iron worker, born Sedgley;
- [4] Florence Paul (23), daughter, general servant, born Sedgley;
- [5] James Paul (21), son, iron worker, born Sedgley;
- [6] Elizabeth A. Paul (14), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [7] Sampson Paul (8), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [8] Sarah A. Paul (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [9] Selina Paul (3 months), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [10] Alexander Paul (22), son, iron worker, born Sedgley;

Thomas Paul, beer retailer, 2, Chell Street, Bradley. [1896], [1904]

1901 Census

21, Chell Street

- [1] Thomas Paul (61), beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Eliza Paul (49), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Sampson Paul (18), son, iron worker, puddler, born Sedgley;
- [4] Sarah Ann Paul (12), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [5] Selina Paul (10), daughter, born Sedgley;

Thomas Paul – see also BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, and ROYAL OAK, Hill Street.

It was referred to the Compensation Authority in February 1908.

The license was refused by the Compensation Authority on 18th June 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 26/6/1908

“The principal meeting of the members of the Staffordshire Licensing Committee was held at the Shirehall, Stafford. There was a full attendance of the members of the committee, Lord Hatherton presiding. The business before the committee was that of hearing and determining applications for the renewal of licenses in those cases which had been referred to the committee by the justices in petty sessions for compensation. The list contained forty public houses. There was a large attendance of barristers and solicitors, but in none of the cases were any objections raised to the reports of the justices concerning the houses referred, and the committee refused to renew the licenses in each of the forty cases which came before them. The following are the houses, the licenses of which were refused.....
BARREL INN, Chell Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley, ante-1869 beerhouse (six days only).”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/6/1908 - Notice

“The Licensing Act 1904. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 18th day of June, 1908, to refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, All Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 20th day of July, 1908, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules 1904, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act in respect of the said Premises.....

BARREL, Chell Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley. Beerhouse, ante 1869 (six days only). Licensee, Edward William Garbett. Registered Owners, Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited.”

Compensation of £260 was paid on 30th November 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 8/1/1909

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The Licensing Committee presented a report for the year 1908. They stated that the number of licenses referred from sixteen divisions and boroughs in the county was seventy-four, and the committee, having regard to the limited funds at their disposal, decided to proceed upon forty only.....

The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard, upon oath, evidence put forward by the claimants.

The amounts awarded as compensation were as follows.....

BARREL, Chell Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley, £260.”

BARREL VAULTS

71, (40), Church Street, (High Street), BILSTON

OWNERS

William Bath

Thomas Lewis, iron merchant, Pennfields, Wolverhampton

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1904], [1910]

LICENSEES

Mrs. Susannah Holford [1818] – [1830]

Benjamin Goodreid [1833] – [1835]

William Bath [1835] – [1842]

William Smith [1841] – [1842]

John Cardall [] – 1851);

Samuel Blews (1851 – []

Henry Harding [] – 1857);

Edward Peters (1857 – [1858]

Thomas Lewis []

Joseph Lawrence [1860] – [1861]

Charles Nadin [1866]

John C Siddens [1866]

Arthur Wright [1870]

Joseph Butler [1873] – 1873);

John Harriman (1873 – 1880);

George Millard (1880 – 1881);

Edward Bolewell (1881);

William Edwards (1881 – 1886);

Samuel Mason (1886);

William Morris (1886 – 1895);

Frederick William Plant (1895 – 1906);

William Edwin Carter (1906);

Sarah Gough (1906 – 1909);

Frederick William Plant (1909);

Thomas Davies (1909 – 1910);

NOTES

40, Church Street [1861], [1866], [1871], [1881], [1891]

71, Church Street [1901], [1908]

It was originally the MALT SHOVEL.

BOARD [1851], [1858], [1864], [1866], [1870], [1873], [1881]

LOT II.—That old established Public House, known by the sign of the MALT-SHOVEL, nearly opposite the Market-place, Church-street, Bilston aforesaid, together with the Outbuildings and Appurtenances belonging thereto, now occupied by Mrs. Susannah Holford, as tenant at will; and also a small Tenement, nearly adjoining the same, occupied by Mary Colbourne, producing together thirty-two pounds ten shillings per annum.

These Premises possess advantages seldom to be met within a market town, being situate at the corner of a street; they may be converted into a regular Inn, or any wholesale and retail establishment requiring a carriage way to the back premises.

1830

WINE AND SPIRIT VAULTS, LIQUOR SHOP, &c.
In a first-rate situation, near the Market Place, Church-street, Bilston, Staffordshire.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY RICHARD CORBETT,

On Friday the 1st day of May, 1835, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the King's Arms Inn, Bilston aforesaid, subject to conditions then to be read (unless the same is previously disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given).

ALL that substantially built MESSUAGE, TENEMENT, or DWELLING-HOUSE, with the outbuildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in Church-street, near the Market-place, in the town of Bilston, and now in the occupation of Mr. William Bath, Wine and Liquor Merchant; comprising, on the basement, very extensive wine, spirit, and ale vaults, in which is a well affording an excellent supply of good water. There are on the ground floor a very commodious retail shop, with two large sash windows, a large dining room, an entrance hall with handsome staircase, a breakfast room, a good kitchen, in which is a back staircase to the bed rooms, a detached brewhouse, a large warehouse, and other outbuildings and appurtenances. On the chamber floor are four excellent bed rooms and large drawing room, handsomely fitted up. In the upper story is a very comfortable bed room for servants, &c.

The above premises are in the most desirable part of the town for business, in which the wine and liquor trade has been advantageously carried on for the last thirty-five years, and are held under lease, nearly four years of which are unexpired, at the yearly rent of eighty pounds, and which lease may at the option of the purchaser be made determinable at the expiration of twelve months.

Notice in writing to be delivered within one month from the actual sale, and surrender thereof to the purchaser.

To view the premises apply to the occupier; and for further particulars and to treat for the same, apply to the Rev. W. LEIGH, Mr. J. WILLIM, JUN. solicitor, or to the AUCTIONEER, all of Bilston.

1835

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/4/1860

“Bilston Charities.....

.....Your committee have not found any entry or document bearing on this, but the house in question is in Price’s History of Bilston said to have been late the SHOVELS public house, and occupied by Susannah Holford, and then (viz in 1833) rebuilt by Mr. William Bath, and your sub-committee believe it to be the house in High Street late occupied by Mr. Thomas Lewis, and now used as a spirit shop.”

Susannah Holford = Susanna Holford

Susanna Holford, victualler, MALT SHOVEL, Church Street. [1818]

S. Holford, MALT SHOVEL, Church Street. [1822]

Susannah Holford, MALT SHOVEL, Church Street. [1828]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 8/11/1830 - Advert

“Important and Desirable Investments, in Bilston, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, at the house of Mr. William Taylor, the SPREAD EAGLE INN, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Thursday the 25th day of November, 1830, at five o’clock in the afternoon.....

Lot II. That old established Public House, known by the sign of the MALT SHOVEL, nearly opposite the Market Place, Church Street, Bilston aforesaid, together with the Outbuildings and Appurtenances belonging thereto, now occupied by Mrs. Susannah Holford, as tenant at will; and also a small Tenement, nearly adjoining the same, occupied by Mary Colbourne, producing together thirty-two pounds ten shillings per annum.

These Premises possess advantages seldom to be met within a market town, being situate at the corner of a street; they may be converted into a regular Inn, or any wholesale and retail establishment requiring a carriage way to the back premises.”

Benjamin Goodreid = Benjamin Goodbred

Benjamin Goodbred, victualler, MALT SHOVEL, Church Street. [1833]

Benjamin Goodreid, MALT SHOVEL (OLD), Church Street. [1834]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/4/1835 - Advert

“Wine and Spirit Vaults, Liquor Shop, &c, in a first-rate situation, near the Market Place, Church Street, Bilston, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Friday the 1st day of May, 1835, at five o’clock in the afternoon, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston aforesaid, subject to conditions then to be read (unless the same is previously disposed of by private contract, of which due notice will be given).

All that substantially built Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House, with the outbuildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in Church Street, near the Market Place, in the town of Bilston, and now in the occupation of Mr. William Bath, Wine and Liquor Merchant; comprising, on the basement, very extensive wine, spirit, and ale vaults, in which is a well affording an excellent supply of good water. There are on the ground floor a very commodious retail shop, with two large sash windows, a large dining room, an entrance hall with handsome staircase, a breakfast room, a good kitchen, in which is a back staircase to the bed rooms, a detached brewhouse, a large warehouse, and other outbuildings and appurtenances. On the chamber floor are four excellent bed rooms and large drawing room, handsomely fitted up. In the upper story is a very comfortable bed room for servants, &c.

The above premises are in the most desirable part of the town for business, in which the wine and liquor trade has been advantageously carried on for the last thirty-five years, and are held under lease, nearly four years of which are unexpired, at the yearly rent of eighty pounds, and which lease may at the option of the purchaser be made determinable at the expiration of twelve months.

Notice in writing to be delivered with one month from the actual sale, and surrender thereof to the purchaser.

To view the premises apply to the occupier; and for further particulars and to treat for the same, apply to the Rev. W. Leigh, Mr. J. Willim, solicitor, or to the Auctioneer, all of Bilston.”

1841 Census

Church Street

- [1] William Bath (50), wine merchant;
- [2] Charlotte Bath (35), born Staffordshire;
- [3] William Bath (11), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Rosabella Bath (9), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Charlotte Bath (7), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Helen Bath (6), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Sarah Bath (4), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Charles Bath (9 months), born Staffordshire;
- [9] Mary Williams (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [10] Elizabeth London (35), f.s.;
- [11] Mary Goodread (15), f.s.;
- [12] Mary Chetter (14), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [13] Drusella Drew (20), f.s., born Staffordshire:

William Bath, MALT SHOVEL, Church Street. [1842]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/11/1842 - Advert

"Bilston, Staffordshire. To Wine and Spirit Merchants and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Monday the 14th of November next, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read.

All those old-established, substantially-built, and modernly fitted-up Wine and Spirit Vaults, with genteel House and convenient back Premises attached thereto, being the very best situation in the town of Bilston, possessing a corner situation nearly opposite the Market Place, in Church Street, and now in the occupation of Mr. William Bath, with which will be included the Goodwill of the Business, and possession of the property at any time that may be agreed upon, not exceeding Lady Day next.

The above premises have recently been re-built in a most substantial manner, and are superiorly fitted-up with marble chimney-pieces, cornices, bells, gas and water fittings, water-closet, soft water cistern, &c, &c, regardless of expense.

To persons desirous of entering upon the Wine and Spirit Trade this is an opportunity that seldom occurs.

The premises, which are of the first-rate order both as to situation and stability of erection, may at a very moderate expense be altered for any other wholesale or retail business.

The purchaser will be expected to take to the Casks and Shop Fixtures, &c, at a fair valuation.

To view the property apply on the premises; and for further particulars at the offices of Messrs. Manby and Hawkesford, of Wolverhampton, Solicitors, &c; or of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/11/1842 - Died

"On the 31st ult, at Bilston, after a few days' illness, Charlotte, wife of Mr. William Bath, wine merchant, of that town, aged 38, deservedly respected and deeply regretted, leaving a family of seven children, one of them an infant."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/1/1843 - Advert

"Bankrupt's Stock, at Bilston. To Wine and Liquor Dealers, Publicans, Brokers, and others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on the premises, by direction of the assignee, on Thursday and Friday, the 2nd and 3rd days of February, 1843.

All the genteel modern Household Furniture, Bedding, Linen, Floor and Bedside Carpets, brilliant large Chimney Glass, fine toned Pianoforte, a beautiful mahogany winged Wardrobe, handsome bronzed Gas Chandeliers, set of Spanish wood Dining Tables, Pedestal Sideboard, Kitchen and Culinary Utensils; the superior Shop Fixtures, Liquor Fountain, Iron Chest, &c; the Stock of Wines, Cordials, Porter, Cider, and other miscellaneous property and effects, of Mr. William Bath, wine and liquor merchant, Church Street, Bilston, a bankrupt.

The Household Furniture comprises seven very good iron post tent and tester bedsteads, in chintz, moreen, and dimity clothing, feather beds, bolsters, and pillows, sheets, blankets, and counterpanes, mahogany and oak chests of drawers, a beautiful Spanish wood winged wardrobe, an excellent set of Spanish wood sliding dining tables, mahogany sofa in damask cover, Brussels and other floor, bedside, and stair carpets, handsome mahogany pedestal sideboard, mahogany, imitation of rosewood, and painted chairs, a brilliant chimney glass, in burnished gold frame, plate 46 inches by 28 inches, mahogany loo, pillar, dressing, and wash tables, a fine toned London made pianoforte, with additional keys, the usual assortment of bedroom, kitchen, and culinary utensils, &c.

The Stock, &c comprise about 65 gallons of good port wine, 23 gallons of brown sherry, 7 gallons of Marsala, 9 gallons of raspberry brandy, 19 gallons of rum shrub, 4 gallons of peppermint, 5 dozen bottles of port wine, 10 bottles of prime Burgundy, 50 gallons of cider and perry, the superior liquor-shop fixtures, two seven-tap liquor fountains, a large quantity of excellent neatly painted liquor casks, from 12 to 150 gallons each, an excellent counter with metal top, a capital iron chest, with two iron drawers, a stove and piping, three iron screen seats, three very handsome and well executed window and shop signs, with burnished gold letters, show glasses, measures, and other miscellaneous effects, catalogues of which are in circulation, and may be had on the premises, and at Mr. Christie's, official assignee, District Bankruptcy Court, Waterloo Street, Birmingham, or at the Offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

NB. The stock, shop fixtures, &c will be sold on the first day, and the bedroom, drawing and dining room furniture, on the second.

The sale to commence each day at ten am and at two pm."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/4/1843 - Advert

"Bilston, Staffordshire. To Wine and Spirit Merchants and others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, by direction of the assignees of Mr. William Bath, a bankrupt, on Friday, the 12th of May, 1843, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston, at five o'clock in the afternoon.....

Lot I. All that newly erected and substantially built Messuage or Dwelling House, consisting of extensive store vaults, kitchen, and soft water cistern on the basement; sitting room, hall, kitchen, butler's and common pantries on the ground floor; a large drawing room, five excellent bed rooms, and dressing closets on the upper stories; and also a stable, gig house, and other outbuildings in the enclosed back yards.

The house and wine and spirit vaults are well fitted up, regardless of expense, with marble chimney pieces, cornices, bells, water closet, gas and water pipes, soft water cistern in roof, &c.

Together with those old established Wine and Spirit Vaults in front, which have been recently and modernly fitted up, situate in Church Street, nearly opposite the Market Place, and commanding a corner position, with side entrances.

The premises are extremely well adapted for the wine and spirit trade, and were lately in the occupation of the bankrupt, with which will be sold the bankrupt's interest in the Excise Licenses granted to him for the said premises.

To persons desirous of entering upon the wine and spirit trade, an opportunity presents itself that seldom occurs, or the premises, which are of the first-rate order both as regards situation and stability of erection, may, at a very moderate expense, be altered for any other wholesale or retail business requiring spacious accommodation."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/7/1851 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, a well-accustomed Spirit Vault, near the Market Place, Church Street, Bilston, and now in the occupation of John Cardall. The above business has been carried on with great success for the last thirty years, and the premises are calculated to do a first-rate business. Rent and coming-in very moderate.

For further particulars and to treat for the same apply on the premises."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/12/1851

"On Monday last special sessions for transferring victuallers' licenses.....

John Cardall, sign of BOARD, Bilston, to Samuel Blews, same place, hosier."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/5/1854 - Advert

"To Publicans and Others.

To be Let, with immediate possession, that excellent Beerhouse the MALT SHOVEL, in High Street, Bilston, the present proprietor leaving the town in consequence of other engagements. Stock and Fixtures to be taken to. Coming-in about £70.

For further particulars apply on the premises."

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/11/1857

“Edward Peters, beerhouse keeper, Bilston, was fined 5s and costs, amounting altogether to 14s 6d, for keeping open his house for the sale of beer after twelve o’clock on Saturday night.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1858

“Edward Peters, spirit dealer, Bilston, was fined 20s and costs for allowing drunkenness and disorderly conduct in his establishment.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1858

“The annual licensing meeting for Bilston and its neighbourhood was held on Friday last.....

The following licenses were withheld until the adjourned licensing day for further consideration of the Magistrates, in consequence of the respective applicants having been convicted of offences against their license during the past year.....

Edward Peters, BOAR [sic], Church Street, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/10/1858

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Day.....

Mr. E. Peters, High Street, whose license had been suspended, had it renewed.”

1861 Census

40, Church Street

[1] Joseph Lawrence (36), spirit merchant, born Willenhall;

[2] Mary Lawrence (25), wife, born Coseley;

[3] Catherine Palmer (26), niece, barmaid, born Willenhall;

[4] Catherine Howell (13), house servant, born Bilston:

Joseph Lawrence – see also SWAN, Willenhall.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1866

“John Colcott Siddons, licensed victualler, of the BOARD INN, Church Street, was yesterday fined 40s and costs, for permitting drunkenness in his house on Saturday last.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/8/1866

“Mr. John Collett Siddons, landlord of the BOARD INN, Church Street, Bilston, was fined 20s and costs for permitting drunkenness in his house.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year’s list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Charles Nadin, BOARD, Church Street, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September.

John C. Siddons, BOARD, Church Street, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1866 - Advert

“Wine and Spirit Trade.

To be Disposed Of, immediately, in consequence of the death of the late Proprietor, Mr. C. Nadin, the well-known Wine and Spirit Vaults, No.40, Church Street, Bilston, now doing an excellent trade.

For particulars, apply upon the Premises, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/7/1870

“For harbouring prostitutes Arthur Wright, proprietor of liquor vaults, in Church Street, Bilston was fined £5 and costs. Police-constable Chaplin proved seeing eight women go into the vaults on the 1st inst, and come out accompanied by young men. He had been previously cautioned by the police.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/8/1870

“The annual sessions for the renewal of existing and the granting of new licenses to licensed victuallers and beersellers in Bilston and Sedgley, was held yesterday at the Police Court, Bilston.....

All the applications for renewal of licenses were granted except the following, who had been fined for various offences during the year, and whose applications for renewal were adjourned until the adjourned licensing day, November 30 Licensed Victuallers.....

Arthur Wright, BOARD, Church Street.”

[Renewed at the adjourned licensing meeting.]

1871 Census

40, Church Street - wine and spirit vaults - uninhabited

Birmingham Daily Post 22/1/1873

“Singular Action for the Recovery of Money Lent.

This was an action tried at Wolverhampton by a Jury in which Mary Ann Jones, domestic servant, of Darlaston, sought to recover from Joseph Butler, licensed victualler, of Bilston, £36 money lent and interest due thereon. Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Slater) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, for the defendant.

Mr. Young, in opening the case, stated that it was founded upon the following agreement, by which the defendant had traded upon the credulity of a young servant girl: ‘An agreement made the 4th day of February, 1870, between Mary Ann Jones on the one part, and Joseph Butler on the other part. Whereas, by an agreement dated 15th March last, made between the said Mary Ann Jones and Joseph Butler, it was agreed that the said Mary Ann Jones should lend to the said Joseph Butler £100 on interest thereon at the rate of £2 10s per cent per annum, with a proviso that the same should not be repayable until the said Mary Ann Jones should give to the said Joseph Butler twelve calendar months’ notice in writing of her requiring repayment of the sum. Now, in consideration of the said agreement, and the waiver of the said proviso, the said Mary Ann Jones and Joseph Butler, mutually agree with each other, in lieu of the said proviso, the said principal sum of £100, and interest for the aforesaid, shall be payable only by instalments of £10 yearly by four equal quarterly instalments of £2 10s, each on the 25th March, 24th June, 29th September, and 25th December in every year, until the whole of the said principal and interest be paid. The first quarterly instalment to begin and be made of the 25th March next.’ The agreement was signed by the plaintiff and defendant, and Mr. John Ebsworth, solicitor, as witness. On the back of the agreement two receipts were signed by the plaintiff, purporting to plaintiff having received two sums of £20 respectively, on June 14, 1870, and August 12, 1871.

Mary Ann Jones deposed that she had been a domestic servant in the defendant’s employ for nearly fourteen years. She left his service a fortnight before Christmas, 1871. Witness was entitled to certain property, and in March 1869, she went to Shrewsbury to receive her share, which amounted to £160. The defendant accompanied her. Witness received £150, and subsequently an additional £10. On the following day defendant remarked that he ‘would go with witness to deposit her money in the bank.’ The defendant requested witness to meet him at Wednesbury, ‘to go to a lawyer.’ Witness enquired, ‘What is the use of going to a lawyer?’ Defendant replied, ‘To get a pennyworth of sure.’ Defendant met witness at Wednesbury station, and conducted her to a public house, where he told witness to wait there while he went to see if the lawyer was at home. Witness handed the defendant the £100 before he went to the lawyer’s, on defendant’s request, who explained that he was going to deposit it in the bank. The defendant returned about an hour afterwards, and witness accompanied him to the offices of Mr. Ebsworth.

The defendant said to Mr. Ebsworth, ‘This is Mary Ann Jones.’ Mr. Ebsworth enquired if she could write her name. Witness replied in the affirmative. Mr. Ebsworth then requested witness to sign her name to a paper that was lying on the table. Witness paid Mr. Ebsworth half-sovereign. She returned to the public house. The defendant, however, remained with Mr. Ebsworth. The paper which she had signed was not read over to her. Witness brought the document that she had signed home, and locked it in her box. She saw the paper about a week before she left the employ of the defendant's brother-in-law. Witness subsequently found that a nail had been knocked in the lock of her box, and the document taken out. She had not seen the paper since. The defendant had previously, on several occasions, informed her that her money was perfectly safe, being deposited in the bank, and that she would receive for interest 5 per cent.

On a second occasion, witness went with the defendant to Mr. Ebsworth's office at Wednesbury. Mr. Butler had requested her previously to take the paper she had in her possession. He left witness nearly half-an-hour in a trap that they had travelled in before the defendant asked witness to walk into Mr. Ebsworth's office. A sum of £2 10s was lying on the table, which defendant told her was the interest due. Witness signed a paper, which she thought was the original document. On that occasion she enquired whether her money was perfectly safe; to which defendant replied 'that it was safe in the bank.'

Cross-examined, the plaintiff stated that she could read printed letters but not writing. The defendant did not produce the second agreement at the Wednesbury station, nor did the defendant's daughter sign the paper for her. The defendant never gave her £20, neither on the first nor second occasion, as alleged. She received a copy of the first agreement, but not of the second.

Mr. Ebsworth here applied for an adjournment, on the ground that he could not be a witness and an advocate. The case, however, was resumed on Mr. Young assuming that Mr. Ebsworth had given evidence to the effect that he had read the documents at the time the plaintiff signed them, and handed copies of the documents to her.

Mr. Ebsworth then addressed the Jury for the defence.

The defendant was then examined, and stated the first and second agreements at the time the plaintiff signed them were read over to her. On the plaintiff signing the first document he paid her £20, and a second £20 in the refreshment room at Wednesbury Railway Station. He paid her the money on her own request. At the time of the first agreement defendant held a farm, and carried on the butchering business. Witness asked the plaintiff to lend him some money because he did not want to thrash-out his wheat. Defendant denied that he ever alluded to the plaintiff depositing her money in a bank. The plaintiff had offered to lend him the money without going to a lawyer. This he refused to accede to, remarking that he should like everything to be made safe. Under cross-examination the defendant admitted that the plaintiff had purchased the clothes for his children, though he had often remonstrated with her. At the time that he borrowed the money he possessed plenty of property, but required some ready money. Witness repudiated that he suggested the lending of the money, but admitted having proposed the £2 10s per cent interest.

Harvin Amelia Butler, daughter of the defendant, stated that she recollected her father paying the plaintiff £20. This was at Pleck. The plaintiff wrote the receipt, and signed it. Witness had seen the plaintiff write letters to her own sister. Her father counted the money on the table, and the plaintiff recounted it.

George Woodhead, formerly an apprentice to Mr. Butler, said that he remembered the defendant paying the plaintiff £20 at the Wednesbury Station, in the ladies waiting room. The plaintiff fetched the pen and ink out of the refreshment room.

Mr. Young then replied, reviewing the evidence at some length.

The Judge, in summing up, said the Jury must consider, first, whether the defendant had paid sums of £20 each on two separate occasions; and secondly, whether the defendant had received two receipts representing these two payments, and signed by the plaintiff.

The Jury, after retiring to consider their verdict, found as follows, 'We find a verdict for the plaintiff, and that the £20 was not paid in either case.'

The case concluded at about eight o'clock, after lasting nine hours."

Birmingham Mail 21/4/1874

"At Bilston Police Court this morning, before Mr. Spooner, Stipendiary Magistrate, Sidney Wright, of the OLD BOARS HEAD, Bilston, was charged with allowing liquor to be consumed on his premises after hours. Defendant had invited a neighbouring licensed victualler named Harriman and his wife to the house, and a policeman found them at the bar with the liquor before them at half-past eleven at night. Mr. Spooner ruled that although friends could be legally entertained in a private room, they could not be at the public bar. He imposed a penalty of 20s and costs, without endorsement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harriman, charged with unlawfully being in the house, consented to pay the costs, the magistrate saying he had no doubt as to their being liable to a penalty."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/7/1878

“A man named Horns, of Dudley Street, was charged by Mr. J. Harriman, the landlord of the BARREL spirit vaults, Church Street, with refusing to leave his house, and using obscene language to his barmaid. He was ordered to pay 10s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1878

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Attention was then directed to the complaints made by Chief-superintendent McCrea at the annual licensing sessions respecting the performance of music at certain public houses in Bilston on each week day evening.....

Mr. R. A. Willcock said he appeared on behalf of Mr. John Harriman, of the BARREL INN, Church Street, Bilston, who produced a memorial signed by three members of the Board of Commissioners, and a number of professional men and tradesmen in the locality, testifying to the decorous manner in which he conducted his establishment. Mr. Loveridge remarked that the chief cause of complaint was the fact of music being played in the public houses every night during the week except Sunday, and he and his brother magistrates had received a letter from the Board of Commissioners on the same subject. They hoped, however, there would be no further cause of complaint License renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1878 - Advert

“Pianist (good) Wanted, Monday.

Apply, People’s Music Hall, BARREL SPIRIT VAULTS, Bilston.”

PIANIST (good) Wanted, Monday.—Apply, People’s Music Hall, Barrel Spirit Vaults, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 14/11/1879 - Advert

“BARREL SPIRIT VAULTS, Market Place, Bilston. One of the best known corner vaults in the town. Long lease. In-coming about £900.

Apply, Roderick and Son, Birmingham.”

BARREL Spirit Vaults, Market Place, Bilston. One of the best known corner vaults in the town. Long lease. In-coming about £900.—Apply, Roderick and Son, Birmingham.

John Harriman – see also OLD BOARS HEAD.

Evening Express 2/2/1881 - Advert

“General Servant (good) Wanted, with good character.

Apply at BARREL SPIRIT VAULTS, Bilston.”

GENERAL Servant (good) Wanted, with good character — Apply at Barrel Spirit Vaults Bilston.

1881 Census

40, Church Street – BARRELL

[1] George Millard (36), publican, born Eversholt, Bedfordshire;

[2] Elizabeth Millard (34), wife, born London;

[3] Laura Millard (8), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Skeldon (21), general servant, born Coseley:

George Millard – see also LION and SPREAD EAGLE.

Edward Bolewell = Edward Bolwell

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1881

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were fully transferred.....

Edward Bolwell, BOARD INN, Church Street, to William Edwards, licensed victualler.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

“Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

William Edwards, BARREL INN, Church Street, Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 26/1/1884

“On Tuesday evening, Frank, the son of Mr. W. Edwards, the BARREL INN, Bilston, swallowed a half penny, but, thanks to the prompt attention of Dr. Larkin, no serious results are anticipated.”

1891 Census

40, Church Street

- [1] William Morris (37), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Mary A. E. Morris (34), wife, born Much Wenlock;
- [3] Annie Morris (7), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] William C. Morris (3), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Leonard Morris (7 weeks), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Elizabeth Tonks (20), domestic servant, born Coseley:

William Morris – see also STAG.

1901 Census

71, Church Street

- [1] William E. Carter (28), manager public house, born Tettenhall;
- [2] Fanny Carter (30), wife, born Wombourne;
- [3] Edith Carter (5), daughter, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/2/1909

“Bilston annual licensing sessions were held on the 5th inst.....

An application was made for an ‘off’ license at Green Lanes, and it was supported by a memorial from 160 residents of the locality. The application was granted on condition that the owners surrendered the license of the BARREL INN, Church Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1910

“The Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

An application was made by William Cave for an off license for premises at Green Lanes, and it was opposed by several owners. It was pointed out that it was granted last year, but not confirmed at Stafford. An offer was made by the owners to surrender the BARREL VAULTS, Church Street, if the new licence was granted. The application was granted on condition that Messrs. Butler, brewers, gave up two houses.”

The license was surrendered on the granting of an off beer license in Green Lanes, Bilston.

The house closed on 2nd May 1910.

BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.
TO WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS AND OTHERS.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, by RICHD. CORBETT.
On Monday the 14th of November next, at the King's Arms Inn, Bilston, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read—all those old-established, substantially-built, and modernly fitted-up Wine and Spirit Vaults, with genteel House and convenient back Premises attached thereto, being the very best situation in the town of Bilston, possessing a corner situation nearly opposite the Market-place, in Church-street, and now in the occupation of Mr. William Bath, with which will be included the Goodwill of the Business, and possession of the property at any time that may be agreed upon, not exceeding Lady-day next.

The above premises have been recently re-built in a most substantial manner, and are superiorly fitted-up with marble chimney-pieces, cornices, bells, gas and water-fittings, water-closet, soft water cistern, &c. &c. regardless of expense.

To persons desirous of entering upon the Wine and Spirit Trade this is an opportunity that seldom occurs.

The premises, which are of the first-rate order both as to situation and stability of erection, may at a very moderate expense be altered for any other wholesale or retail business.

The purchaser will be expected to take to the Casks and Shop Fixtures, &c. at a fair valuation.

To view the property apply on the premises; and for further particulars at the offices of Messrs. Manby and Hawkesford, of Wolverhampton, Solicitors, &c.; or of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

1842

BANKRUPT'S STOCK, AT BILSTON.
To Wine and Liquor Dealers, Publicans, Brokers,
and others.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY RICHARD CORBETT.

On the premises, by direction of the assignee, on Thursday and Friday, the 2d and 3d days of February, 1843.

ALL the genteel modern HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Bedding, Linen, Floor and Bedside Carpets, brilliant large Chimney Glass, fine toned Pianoforte, a beautiful mahogany winged Wardrobe, handsome bronzed Gas Chandeliers, set of Spanish wood Dining Tables, Pedestal Sideboard, Kitchen and Culinary Utensils; the superior SHOP FIXTURES, Liquor Fountains, Iron Chest, &c.; the STOCK of WINES, CORDIALS, PORTER, CIDER, and other miscellaneous property and effects, of Mr. William Bath, wine and liquor merchant, Church-street, Bilston, a bankrupt.

The Household Furniture comprises seven very good iron post tent and tester bedsteads, in chints, moreen, and dimity clothing, feather beds, bolsters, and pillows, sheets, blankets, and counterpanes, mahogany and oak chests of drawers, a beautiful Spanish wood winged wardrobe, an excellent set of Spanish wood sliding dining tables, mahogany sofa in damask cover, Brussels and other floor, bedside, and stair carpets, handsome mahogany pedestal sideboard, mahogany, imitation of rosewood, and painted chairs, a brilliant chimney glass, in burnished gold frame, plate 46 inches by 28 inches, mahogany loo, pillar, dressing, and wash tables, a fine toned London made pianoforte, with additional keys, the usual assortment of bedroom, kitchen, and culinary utensils, &c.

The Stock, &c. comprise about 65 gallons of good port wine, 23 gallons of brown sherry, 7 gallons of Marsala, 9 gallons of raspberry brandy, 19 gallons of rum, 4 gallons of peppermint, 5 dozen bottles of port wine, 10 bottles of prime Burgundy, 50 gallons of cider, 50 gallons of porter, and about 2 dozen bottles of cider and perry, the superior liquor-shop fixtures, two seven-tap liquor fountains, a large quantity of excellent neatly painted liquor casks, from 12 to 150 gallons each, an excellent counter with metal top, a capital iron chest, with two iron drawers, a stove and piping, three iron screen seats, three very handsome and well executed window and shop signs, with burnished gold letters, show glasses, measures, and other miscellaneous effects, catalogues of which are in circulation, and may be had on the premises, and at Mr. Christie's, official assignee, District Bankruptcy Court, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

The stock, shop fixtures, &c. will be sold on the first day, and the bed-room, drawing and dining room furniture, on the second.

The sale to commence each day at ten a.m. and at two p.m.

1843

BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.

To Wine and Spirit Merchants and others.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY RICHARD CORBETT,

By direction of the assignee of Mr. William Bath, a bankrupt, on Friday, the 12th of May, 1843, at the King's Arms Inn, Bilston, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced—

LOT I.—ALL that newly erected and substantially built MESSUAGE or DWELLING-HOUSE, consisting of extensive store vaults, kitchen, and soft water cistern, on the basement; sitting room, hall, kitchen, butler's and common pantries on the ground floor; a large drawing room, five excellent bed rooms, and dressing closets on the upper stories; and also a stable, gig house, and other outbuildings in the enclosed back yards.

The house and wine and spirit vaults are well fitted up, regardless of expense, with marble chimney pieces, cornices, bells, water closet, gas and water pipes, soft water cistern in roof, &c.

Together with those old established WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS in front, which have been recently and modernly fitted up, situate in Church-street, nearly opposite the Market-place, and commanding a corner position, with side entrances.

The premises are extremely well adapted for the wine and spirit trade, and were lately in the occupation of the bankrupt, with which will be sold the bankrupt's interest in the Excise Licenses granted to him for the said premises.

To persons desirous of entering upon the wine and spirit trade, an opportunity presents itself that seldom occurs, or the premises, which are of the first-rate order both as regards situation and stability of erection, may, at a very moderate expense, be altered for any other wholesale or retail business requiring spacious accommodation.

1843

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, a well-accustomed SPIRIT VAULT, near the Market-place, Church street, Bilston, and now in the occupation of John Cardall. The above business has been carried on with great success for the last thirty years, and the premises are calculated to do a first rate business. Rent and coming in very moderate.—For further particulars and to treat for the same apply on the premises.

1851

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, that excellent Beerhouse the "MALT SHOVEL," in High-street, Bilston, the present proprietor leaving the town in consequence of other engagements. Stock and Fixtures to be taken to. Coming in about £70.—For further particulars apply on the premises.

1854

BARREL

4, Mill Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Amelia Radford
Robert Radford
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1965]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Robert Radford [1861] – 1885;
George Price [1881] manager
Edmund Roderick (1885 – 1887);
George Price (1887 – 1898);
Mrs. Elizabeth Price (1898 – 1934);
Mrs. Sarah Harriet Walker (1934 – [1940])
Edmunds []
D Lancey [1976]
Anne Mary Tyler []

1987

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

Mill Street

- [1] Robert Radford (36), ale dealer, born Colton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Amelia Radford (35), wife, born Brood, Staffordshire;
- [3] Lucy Whitehouse (17), house servant, born Bilston:

Robert Radford, beer retailer, Mill Street. [1865]

1871 Census

Mill Street

- [1] Robert Radford (46), licensed retail brewer, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Amelia Radford (45), wife, born Brewood;
- [3] Ann Hill (42), sister, born Colton, Staffordshire;
- [4] Henry Radford (17), nephew, brewer's assistant, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1873

"Yesterday the annual licensing meeting for Bilston and the neighbourhood was held in the Petty Sessions Court..... The proceedings opened by Chief Superintendent McCrea presenting his annual 'black list.' In doing so he remarked that it only indicated eleven offenders, whilst a twelvemonth ago there were twenty-nine. This comparison, he considered, was the clearest substantiation of the beneficial operation of the recent Licensing Act. The names of the offending beerhouse keepers were.....

Robert Radford, BARREL INN, Bilston.....

The committee stated that the licenses of all the persons contained in the 'list' would be suspended until the adjourned licensing sessions, to be held on the 26th proximo."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1873

“Bilston Adjourned Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The undermentioned beerhouse licenses were renewed.....

Robert Radford, BARREL INN, Bilston.....

All the above applicants had been convicted during the past two years, and the Bench cautioned them.”

Evening Express 17/1/1881

“This (Monday) morning an inquest was held at the BARREL INN, Mill Street, Bilston, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, touching the death of a man named John Dudley, whose body was found in an arm of the Birmingham Canal, at Millfields, on Friday morning.

Mrs. Emma Dudley, wife of the deceased, said he was a miner by trade, but had recently been employed as a labourer at the Millfields Ironworks. She had heard him say that he crossed the canal going to and coming from his work. He went out on the morning of his death about five o’clock, and she sent his breakfast as usual, but never saw him again alive. She had no reason to blame anyone for his death; the bruises on his legs were caused by old sores.

John Horne, a boat unloader, working at Millfields Ironworks, said he knew the deceased, whose duty it was to go to the works before the rest of the men and light the fires. On Friday morning, in consequence of a boy bringing deceased’s breakfast, he (witness) went in search of him. Not finding him, and suspecting that something had happened to him, witness dragged in the canal for him with a boat shaft, and found his body near a half empty boat. Deceased, who was quite dead, was in the habit of crossing the arm of the canal by the boats, although it was only about 20 yards further to go round. Friday morning was foggy, and the canal was not within call of either house or cabin boat. Witness believed deceased came to his death by accident.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, brought in a verdict of Found Dead.”

1881 Census

Mill Street – BARREL INN

- [1] George Price (34), public house manager, born Droitwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Price (32), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Price (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Elizabeth Price (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Minnie Price (2), daughter, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/1/1885

“An inquest was held on Thursday afternoon, at the BARREL INN, Mill Street, Bilston, by W. H. Phillips, Esq, touching the death of a little child named Ambrose Bowen, five weeks old, son of Samuel Bowen, miner, Mill Lane, Mill Street, who was found dead in bed on Tuesday morning. The mother, Mary Jane Bowen, deposed that, on the morning in question, she awoke about five o’clock and saw that the child was alive and well. She went to sleep again and woke about nine o’clock, when she found the child dead. Dr. Mathie was sent for. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned by the jury.”

1891 Census

Mill Street – Public House

- [1] George Price (43), publican, born Droitwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Price (41), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Price (21), daughter, dressmaker, born Bilston;
- [4] Elizabeth Price (17), daughter, boot stitcher, born Bilston;
- [5] Minie Price (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] George Price (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Arthur Price (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Ernest Price (3), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] baby Price (4 days), daughter, born Bilston;
- [10] Sarah Douglas (45), relative, married, charwoman, born Droitwich:

George Price brewed his own beer.

1898 Probate

“George Price of the BARREL INN, Mill Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 13 April 1898. Administration Lichfield 24 June to Elizabeth Price, widow. Effects £110.”

1901 Census

4, Mill Street

- [1] Elizabeth Price (52), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Minnie Price (22), daughter, born Bilston;
- [3] George Price (17), son, engine cleaner, born Bilston;
- [4] Arthur Price (16), son, iron pipe worker, born Bilston:

Mrs. Elizabeth Price, beer retailer, Mill Street. [1904]

1911 Census

4, Mill Street

- [1] Elizabeth Price (62), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Arthur Price (25), son, blacksmith's striker, born Bilston:

Mrs. Elizabeth Price, beer retailer, 4, Mill Street. [1912]

1921 Census

4, Mill Street.

- [1] Elizabeth Price (73), widow, innkeeper, born Bilston:

Elizabeth Price died in the 3rd quarter of 1934.

Sarah Harriet Walker was married to Charles Henry Walker – see ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, and BROWN LION, Oxford Street.

1939 Register

Mill Street – BARREL INN

- [1] Sarah H. Walker, date of birth 12/8/1869, licensed victualler, widowed;
- [2] Bertram R. Wilkes, dob 28/11/1905, barman, married;
- [3] Phyllis Wilkes, dob 18/8/1906, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [4] Janet (Wilkes) Harrison, dob 20/5/1933, at school, single:

Sarah Harriet Walker – see also PHEASANT.

[1983]

London Gazette 18/7/1984

“Anne Mary Tyler (also known as Anne Mary Carby), of 5 Park Terrace, Rookery Road, Hansdworth, Birmingham, unemployed, lately residing and carrying on business at the BARREL INN, 4 Mill Street, Bilston, both in the metropolitan county of West Midlands as a Publican.

Court - Birmingham.

Date of First Meeting - 17th August 1984, 10.30am.

Place - The Official Receiver's Office, Commercial Union House, 22 Martineau Square, Birmingham B2 4UP.

Date of Public Examination - 28th November 1984. 10.15am.

Place - The Court House, Corner of Corporation Street and Newton Street, 4 Newton Street, Birmingham B4 6PY.”

Closed

It was demolished in 1987.

BARREL

47, (25), Temple Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Samuel Lane, blacksmith, Whitmore Reans, Wolverhampton
Mrs. Theodosia Torr, wife of licensee
John Pritchard, The Brewery, Darlaston
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Thomas Holmes [1849] – [1859]
Mrs. Mary Ann Holmes [] – 1860;
Edmund Holmes (1860 – 1863);
Samuel Lane (1863 – 1866);
John Murphy (1866 – [1867]
John Venton [1868]
Joseph Shale [1871] – 1881;
Mary Shale (1881 – 1885);
Job Ecclestone Jnr. (1885);
William Waldron (1885);
Richard Kinsey (1885 – 1886);
Thomas Pyatt (1886 – 1887);
John Henry Pitt (1887 – 1891);
Samuel Salt (1891);
William Bowater Flavell (1891 – 1893);
Joseph Torr (1893 – 1909);
Edward Richards (1909);
William Wood Duley (1909 – 1913);
William Butler Slater (1913 – 1914);
Alfred Dean (1914 – 1915);
Joseph Blakemore (1915 – 1927);
Frank William Roberts (1927 – 1933);
Jesse Hart (1933 – 1936);
William Porter (1936 – [1940]

TO SADDLERS, COLLAR AND HARNESS MAKERS.
A Capital BUSINESS, with a first-rate Connection in the above Trade, to be DISPOSED OF, immediately, in Oxford Street, Bilston. Quite a safe investment. Satisfactory reasons will be given for leaving. – Apply to Mr. Holmes, the Barrel, Temple Street, Bilston.

1856

FREEHOLD PROPERTY,
IN GOZZARD STREET, BILSTON.
WILLIAM P. TOMKYS, Sen., will SELL by AUCTION, on TUESDAY, May 10, 1859, at the Barrel Inn, Temple Street, Bilston, by order of the Administrators of the late Thomas Holmes, deceased, at Seven o'clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions to be then and there produced—all those Six valuable FREEHOLD MESSUAGES or DWELLING HOUSES, with Yard and Out-buildings, together with the JAPANNER'S SHOP at back of the same, situate in Gozzard Street, Bilston aforesaid, and now in the occupation of Enoch Fellows, Pearse, Roberts, Wilkes, Neachill, and others, producing an annual rental of £64. the site containing 620 square yards or thereabouts.
For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, 27, Wellington Street, Bilston.

1859

AT THE BARREL INN, TEMPLE STREET,
BILSTON.
MESSRS. WHITEHEAD and CADDICK will SELL by AUCTION, on Thursday next, October the 11th, 1860, the whole of the useful FURNITURE, BREWING UTENSILS, ALE CASKS, &c., under a distress for taxes.
Sale to commence at eleven o'clock.
Auctioneers' Offices, Lichfield-street, Bilston.

1860

NOTES

25, Temple Street [1861], [1862], [1868], [1871], [1881], [1896]
47, Temple Street [1912], [1921], [1939], [1940]

BARRELL [1864], [1865], [1901]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/8/1849

“Annual meeting of Magistrates for granting and renewing victuallers licenses for Seisdon North.....

Applications for fresh licenses The statements in support of the application were almost uniformly to the effect that the applicant had for many years kept a beershop without complaint, and that the premises were suitable for a public house, which was much required in the neighbourhood. Licenses were granted to the following persons.....

Thomas Holmes, Temple Street, Bilston.”

Thomas Holmes, victualler, BARREL INN, and mill screw manufacturer, Temple Street. [1851]

1851 Census

Temple Street

[1] Thomas Holmes (63), engineer employing 6 men, born Worsley, Lancashire;

[2] Mary Holmes (38), wife, born Lapley, Staffordshire;

[3] Thomas Holmes (15), son, engineer, born Bilston;

[4] Edmund Holmes (14), son, born Bilston;

[5] Joseph Holmes (8), son, born Bilston;

[6] John Holmes (6), son, born Bilston;

[7] Mary Jane Holmes (3), daughter, born Bilston;

[8] Charles Worrall (24), servant, born Wemsnorthard, Shropshire;

[9] Ann Barnes (20), servant, born Bilston;

[10] Mary Fegan (19), servant, born Ireland;

[11] Thomas Mosley (19), apprentice, born Bilston:

Thomas Holmes was also a mill screw manufacturer and engineer. [1851], [1854]

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1851

“An inquest was held on Friday at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of Samuel Groom, thirteen years of age. On Wednesday the deceased was sent for water to a basin in the Walsall canal, when he overbalanced himself and fell in; on being taken out he was quite dead. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/6/1854

“An adjourned inquest was held yesterday (Tuesday), before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, on the body of Patrick Kelly, a miner, whose death had taken place under rather peculiar circumstances. It appeared that some short time since the deceased returned from his work and complained of having a kench in his side. He, however, so far recovered as to be enabled to resume his employment; but on Sunday morning, the 11th instant, he became so ill that he could not get up, and he continued very ill until Thursday last, when he expired.

The person with whom the deceased lodged, Richard Roberts, perceiving that the deceased was in a dangerous state, went once or twice to the house of Mr. Johnson, the relieving officer for Bilston, to obtain a note for the deceased, so that he might have a surgeon, but was told that Mr. Johnson was not at home, and that he could not have one without his being at home. He, however, succeeded in seeing the relieving officer on Thursday morning last, when a note was given to him, but before the arrival of Mr. Hancox, surgeon, the deceased had unfortunately expired. The wife of Roberts stated at the inquest that she went to Mr. Johnson’s house on Wednesday morning last, and told him that she had come for a note for a man named Roberts, who had called the night before, when he replied that he had not seen Roberts, and that if Roberts said he had been there he told a lie. The witness, in reply to a further question, stated that the person for whom the note was wanted worked in the pits, to which Mr. Johnson replied that he must go to the pits for a note, as he should not grant one. It was also given in evidence that deceased had taken antimony wine, Venice turpentine, and castor oil whilst he was ill.

A post mortem examination of the body had since been made by Mr. Hancox, surgeon, who gave it as his opinion that the death of the deceased was caused by inflammation of the stomach and intestines, accelerated by something of an irritating character given or taken during life. He could not say that the deceased’s life would have been spared had he received proper medical treatment during life, but it was highly important that he should have been seen by the medical officer of the union or some other surgeon. He was of opinion that the administration of Venice turpentine and antimony wine would produce the appearances which the stomach presented.

The Jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased died from inflammation of the stomach and intestines, and that his death was accelerated by the innocent administration of antimony wine and Venice turpentine; the jury also expressing a strong opinion upon the conduct of Mr. Johnson, the relieving officer.”

Birmingham Journal 27/9/1856 - Advert

“To Saddlers, Collar and Harness Makers.

A Capital Business, with a first-rate Connection in the above Trade, to be Disposed Of, immediately, in Oxford Street, Bilston. Quite a safe investment. Satisfactory reasons will be given for leaving.

Apply to Mr. Holmes, the BARREL, Temple Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/5/1858

“On Sunday morning, between eight and nine o’clock, Bridget Donnelly, the wife of an Irish labourer, and lodging at a house in Temple Street, Bilston, was seen to turn out with a child five weeks old in her arms, for the purpose of begging. Between two and three o’clock in the afternoon she returned to her lodgings and stated that the child died shortly after leaving home that morning. From the fact of the child being somewhat discoloured about its neck, when it was taken back dead, Mr. Hancox, surgeon, was called in by the police to look at the deceased. Mr. Hancox stated that he could not, without a post mortem examination, account for the child’s death. He considered that it was a case calling for a Coroner’s inquest. Yesterday, an inquest was commenced at the house of Mr. Holmes, the BARREL INN, Bilston, on the body of the deceased, but adjourned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/5/1858

“An inquest, to inquire into the death of a child five weeks old, was held by adjournment on Thursday, at the BARREL public house, Temple Street, Bilston, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, deputy coroner. The mother of the child, Bridget Donnelly, left her lodgings on Sunday morning, taking her child with her, for the purpose of begging. She returned in the evening, when the child, which she carried in her arms, was dead. A post mortem examination had been made by Mr. Hancox, who, at the adjourned inquest, stated that from the congested condition of the lungs and other appearances he had arrived at the conclusion that death was the result of suffocation. The mother of the child was examined, but she could not account for the death in any way whatever. There being no evidence to show that the slightest violence had been used, the jury returned a verdict of Died from Suffocation from Unknown Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/10/1858

“On Saturday last, an inquest was held before G. H. Hincliffe, Esq. (for Mr. Phillips), at Mr. T. Holmes’s, the BARREL INN, Bilston, on the body of a fine young man, only twenty-one years of age, named William Wild. The evidence went to show that deceased worked for Messrs. Bagnall, in their stone pit at Willenhall. On the preceding Wednesday he was ‘holing’ some stone previous to its being taken down, and he had been desired to put ‘sprags,’ or props, to it as he went on. However, he neglected to take this necessary step, and the consequence was that, after he had been at work about a quarter of an hour, two hundredweight of stone fell from the roof, and falling upon him, he was so much injured on his head and other parts of his body that he died on the following day. The place where he was at work was a yard and half wide, and the doggy had told him to put up the props, there being plenty of timber in the pit. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/4/1859 - Deaths

“On the 1st instant, of an attack of gout, in the 71st year of his age, Mr. Thomas Holmes, of the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Journal 30/4/1859 - Advert

“Freehold Property, in Gozzard Street, Bilston.

William P. Tomkys, Sen., will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, May 10, 1859, at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, by order of the Administrators of the late Thomas Holmes, deceased, at Seven o’clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions to be then and there produced.

All those Six valuable Freehold Messuages or Dwelling Houses, with Yard and Out-buildings, together with the Japanner’s Shop at back of the same, situate in Gozzard Street, Bilston aforesaid, and now in the occupation of Enoch Fellowes, Pearse, Roberts, Wilkes, Neachill, and others, producing an annual rental of £64, the site containing 620 square yards or thereabouts.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, 27, Wellington Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1859

“Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, before the Rev. H. S. Fletcher and H. Ward, Esq, Sarah Hazeldine and Jane Richards were charged with assaulting Moses Baggott, a brickmaker, living at Moxley, and stealing from him the sum of £4 4s 6d. It appeared from the evidence of the prosecutor that about eight o’clock on Friday evening last he was at the BARREL public house, in Bilston, where he met the prisoners, and Hazeldine having been an old servant of his father he treated her and her companion to some drink. They remained there together until about ten o’clock, when the prosecutor left to go home. Before he left, the woman Hazeldine told him to be careful of his money, and advised him to put it in his stocking, which he accordingly did. On his road home, as he was passing the Bilston gas works, he was suddenly attacked from behind by the two prisoners and a man whom he did not know. Richards put her hand over his mouth, while the man held him, and Hazeldine took his money, amounting to £4 4s 6d. Richard Groves, the landlord of the MALT SHOVEL public house, proved that between seven and eight o’clock on the morning after the robbery the two prisoners came to his house for some rum and coffee, and that Richards had at that time a couple of sovereigns in her hand. Both prisoners were committed for trial.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/10/1859

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Sarah Hazledine, 45, Jane Richards, 21, and George Bentley, were indicted for having stolen from the person of Moses Baggott, at Bilston, a purse containing £4 4s 6d. The prosecutor deposed that on the evening of the 30th of September he was at the BARREL public house, Bilston, and offered Hazledine some drink, she having been an old servant to his father. The woman seeing he had some money advised him to place it in his stocking before starting from the house. He adopted her suggestion. When passing the Gasworks at Bilston the male prisoner suddenly caught hold of his arms, Richards put her hand upon his mouth, and Hazledine took the money from his stocking. They then threw him down and made off. The Jury found the prisoners guilty, and they were each sentenced to six months’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/8/1860

“On Saturday an inquest was held at the BARREL, in Temple Street, Bilston, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, Deputy Coroner, on the body of John Dolan, aged 17. From the evidence of James Dorothy, it appeared that on Wednesday last the deceased was at work with him in a pit at the bottom of Fiery Holes Colliery, when witness sent him to fetch a crowbar from another part of the pit. The deceased, however, went with his candle into an old road, where the ventilation was defective, and to which he had not been sent. Witness went in search of the deceased, and on passing the old road, he was met by the ‘windy sulphur.’ Passing into the old road, he found the boy lying shockingly burnt and quite dead. It was shown that the errand upon which the deceased had been sent did not necessitate his going into danger, and a verdict of Accidental Death was recorded.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1860 - Advert

“At the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

Messrs. Whitehead and Caddick will Sell by Auction, on Thursday next, October the 11th, 1860.

The whole of the useful Furniture, Brewing Utensils, Ale Casks, &c, under a distress for taxes.

Sale to commence at eleven o’clock.

Auctioneers Offices, Lichfield Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/3/1861

“On Friday last T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the BARREL INN, Bilston, on the body of John Dunn, a child aged two years and five months. The deceased’s clothes took fire in his father’s house, on the previous Tuesday week, in the absence of the mother, who had gone out on business, and he was badly burnt. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, attended him until Wednesday last when he expired. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Edmund Holmes = Edmund Homes = Edward Holmes

1861 Census

25, Temple Street

- [1] Mary Ann Holmes (48), widow, born Wheaton Aston, Staffordshire
- [2] Edmund Holmes (24), son, mechanical draughtsman and publican, born Bilston;
- [3] John Holmes (17), son, engineer, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary J. Holmes (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Ellen Holmes (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Eliza Sansom (24), cousin, barmaid, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/11/1861

“On Monday last T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, on the body of Mary Griffin, aged about three years, who had died from scalds received under the following circumstances. On the 13th instant the deceased was in the kitchen of her father’s house, in Temple Street, playing with a younger child, and while her father was stooping down lacing her boots, she pulled a tea kettle of boiling water off the hob by the side of the fire upon her, and she was scalded dreadfully upon her stomach. Her wounds were dressed, and on the following day Mr. Larkin, surgeon, attended her, and continued his services up to her death, which took place on Friday last, from the effects of the scalds. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/8/1863

“Yesterday, an inquest was held at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, before Mr. T. M. Phillips, on the body of a boy named Thomas Beebee, aged nine years. The child’s parents live in Temple Street and on Tuesday night, at about nine o’clock, he was playing in Oxford Street, near to the entrance of Temple Street, when a cart, that was being driven apparently from the Wolverhampton races, and was tolerably well filled with passengers, knocked him down, and passing over his neck occasioned injuries from which he died in about ten minutes afterwards. His parents had been from home, but returned in time to see their child expire. Who were the occupants of the cart has not yet transpired. The Jury found that the deceased was killed by a cart passing over him, but by whom the cart was driven was unknown.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1864

“At the Police Court, on Tuesday, before Mr. Isaac Spooner, Stipendiary, Samuel Lane, BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, was, on the information of Police-constable Barratt, fined 40s and costs, for keeping his house open during illegal hours on Sunday last.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1864

“Bilston Annual Licensing Meeting.....

During the year the police had summoned before the Bench 32 publicans for various offences against their licenses, and out of that number the following, who were the worst of the lot, were suspended until the adjourned licensing day, on the 22nd inst.....

Samuel Lane, of the BARREL, Temple Street; had been summoned twice and fined once.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/9/1864

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Day.....

All the licensed victuallers whose licenses had been suspended a fortnight ago were yesterday renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1865

“Annual Licensing Meeting for the Bilston Division.....

The ‘black list’ handed in by the police contained the names of fourteen publicans who had been fined for offences against their license.....

Samuel Lane, Bilston.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/10/1865

"Bilston Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

The following, whose names had been placed on the 'black list,' had their licenses renewed.....

S. Lane, BARREL, Temple Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/12/1865 - Advert

"This is to Certify that I will not be responsible for any Debt my wife, Ann Lane, may contract after this date.

December 1, 1865. Samuel Lane, Temple Street, Bilston."

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that I will not be responsible for any DEBT my wife, ANN LANE, may contract after this date.— December 1, 1865.
SAMUEL LANE, Temple Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 6/12/1865 - Advert

"Notice.

I, Ann Lane, the Wife of Samuel Lane, of Temple Street, Bilston, Certify that I Never Contracted any Debts without the knowledge of my Husband, not having left my Home, nor do I intend to do so.

Bilston, December 4, 1865."

NOTICE.
I, ANN LANE, the Wife of SAMUEL LANE, of Temple Street, Bilston, Certify that I NEVER CONTRACTED any DEBTS without the knowledge of my Husband, not having left my Home, nor do I intend to do so.
Bilston, December 4, 1865.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/12/1865 - Advert

"The whole Property of the late Thomas Holmes on Sale, on reasonable terms.

Apply, Samuel Lane, Temple Street, Bilston."

THE whole PROPERTY of the late Thomas Holmes on SALE, on reasonable terms.—Apply, Samuel Lane, Temple Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 26/12/1865 - Advert

"To be Let, a Liquor Shop, BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston. Capital Premises. Stock at valuation. £35 per annum.

Samuel Lane, Temple Street, Bilston."

TO be LET, a LIQUOR SHOP: "BARREL INN," Temple Street, Bilston. Capital Premises. Stock at valuation. £35. per annum.
—Samuel Lane, Temple Street, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/1/1866

"On Friday, at Bilston Police Court.....

The following persons were summoned before the Bench and fined for offences against their licenses.....

Samuel Lane, licensed victualler, of Temple Street, was fined 10s and costs, for keeping his house open after twelve o'clock on Saturday night last."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/3/1866 - Advert

"To be Let, a Liquor Shop, BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston. £35 per annum. Long premises. Stock at valuation."

TO be LET, a LIQUOR SHOP, Barrel Inn, Temple Street, Bilston. £35. per annum. Long Premises. Stock at valuation.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

"The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

'I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year's list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.'

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Samuel Lane, BARREL, Temple Street, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September."

Samuel Lane, widower, engineer, married Theodosia Lane, spinster, on 2nd November 1880.

Theodosia Lane was the daughter of James Lane – see GLOBE, Ash Street, Bradley.

Shrewsbury Free Press 8/9/1866

“On Tuesday, at the Bilston Petty Sessions, before the Stipendiary, John Murphy, licensed victualler, of the BARREL INN, Temple Street, was fined 1s and costs for a first offence of permitting drunkenness in his house, on the 25th ult.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1867

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

The license to the BARREL INN, Temple Street, kept by Mr. John Murphy, was taken away.”

The license of John Murphy was suspended altogether in 1867, “having been so many times fined.” It was renewed in October 1867.

John Venton, beer retailer, 25, Temple Street. [1868]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/9/1868

“On Friday, at Bilston Police Court, Joseph Dutton was charged with stealing a saw, value 5s, belonging to Samuel Riley. A few days since a sale took place at the beerhouse known as the BARREL, in Temple Street, and the prisoner was engaged to assist there. The saw produced was sold to the prosecutor, but the prisoner was observed to carry it outside the house, and put it in a van, and afterwards to take it away under his jacket. The theft soon became known, and the stolen saw was found in the house in which the prisoner lived.

The prisoner made a very weak defence, and was sentenced to twenty-one days’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/9/1869 - Advert

“To be Let, the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston; a good roomy House, with large Premises, and convenient Yard, capable of doing a Wholesale and Retail Brewing Business. The Premises may be had on Lease if required, at a very moderate rent.

Apply to Samuel Lane, Lloyd Street, Whitmore Reans, Wolverhampton.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 28/5/1870

“An inquest was held at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, by Mr. W. H. Phillips, on the body of Norris Best (52), tinplate worker, Temple Street, who committed suicide by cutting his throat on Wednesday morning last.

Benjamin Shaler stated that he knew the deceased, who had been lodging at his aunt’s, in the same street. He used to drink very freely, and used to have what deceased called ‘blue devils’ after it. In consequence of some drunken fit he had had on Monday night last, the deceased went to witness’s house for the night. During the time he was in the house he seemed very strange, and was always thinking that someone was going to ‘stick’ him. On the Tuesday morning witness was wakened by hearing what he thought was the deceased vomiting. He rose up, and found that he (deceased) had cut his throat. He called for help, and then went for a doctor; but before one could come the deceased had died.

Mary Ann Shaler stated that the deceased used to lodge with her. He had not worked since his father’s death, when he had about £125 left him, which he squandered in drink. After he had been drinking he used to be very violent. On Monday last he went to bed as usual, but after he had been there some time he called to her, and said that Dick and Harry (two persons who used to lodge with witness) wanted to fight him. She told him they did not want to do anything of the kind. Soon after she was awakened by hearing the deceased rushing about the house as if he was mad and tried to get to witness, who shut herself up in her room. He said he had got the ‘blue devils,’ and that the devil had been trying to put his heart out and dig his eyes out. Witness afterwards locked him up in the house and went for help. When she came back deceased said, ‘The show is over; you can go to bed.’ Deceased slept at the BARREL INN, on the Tuesday night, because she was frightened to have him in the house.

Other corroborative evidence having been given, the jury returned a verdict that deceased committed Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity’.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/8/1870

"The annual sessions for the renewal of existing and the granting of new licenses to licensed victuallers and beersellers in Bilston and Sedgley, was held yesterday at the Police Court, Bilston.....

There were six applications for new licensed victuallers' licenses.....

Mr. J. Fellows, on behalf of Joseph Shale, sought a license for the BARREL beerhouse, Temple Street. Mr. Townsend opposed the application, which was refused."

1871 Census

25, Temple Street

[1] Joseph Shale (55), retail brewer, born Bilston;

[2] Mary Shale (54), wife, born Bilston;

[3] John H. Shale (30), son, brewer, born Bilston;

[4] Benjamin F. Shale (28), son, carpenter, born Bilston;

[5] Sarah Shale (25), daughter, dressmaker, born Bilston;

[6] Thomas Shale (22), son, blacksmith, born Bilston;

[7] Mary S. Shale (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[8] Elizabeth Shale (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1873 - Advert

"To be Sold by Private Contract, two Houses, situated in Beckett Street, Coal Lanes, Bilston.

Apply to Joseph Shale, BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston."

TWO to be Sold by Private Contract, two Houses, situated in Beckett Street, Coal Lanes, Bilston.—Apply to Joseph Shale, Barrel Inn, Temple Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/1/1873

"An inquest was held on Saturday, at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, before Mr. Phillips, respecting the death of Henry, aged five months, the illegitimate son of Mary Ann Hodgkiss, of Temple Street.

Emma Wedge, Temple Street, deposed that the deceased child had been under her care since he was four days old. For this she had received 3s a week. Mary Ann Hodgkiss, with whom she had formerly lived as servant, gave the child into her charge, and, until Friday, deceased appeared to enjoy good health. On that morning the child was seized with convulsions, and suddenly died. The deceased child was the first which she had ever received any remuneration for nursing.

Sarah Wedge, of Temple Street, deposed that she had frequently visited the child during the time that Webb had nursed it. She considered that Webb had always behaved kindly, and treated the deceased child carefully. The child had never been subject to fits.

The Coroner said that if the Jury felt satisfied that the child had been subject to no ill-treatment, they must return a verdict accordingly. In such cases as the present it was always more satisfactory to himself, to have a post mortem examination. Although no suspicious circumstances had been brought to light, if any of the Jury had the slightest doubt on their minds, he should recommend such an examination. The Jury, however, considering there was no cause for suspicion, returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/11/1873

"An inquest was held yesterday, at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, on the body of an old tailor, named John Knight, late of Temple Street, who, on Saturday last, was killed by the shaft of a cart striking him on the left side while crossing the Water Glade Bridge, Willenhall. A verdict of Accidental Death was recorded."

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/4/1875

"The following have been nominated to fill the eight vacancies for Bilston parish at the Board of Guardians.....

Joseph Shale, innkeeper, Temple Street."

[Joseph Shale was not elected.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/9/1875

“The annual election of Township Commissioners for Bilston took place yesterday. There were four vacancies to be filled up, and the retiring members Joseph Shale offered themselves for re-election. In addition to the above, fifteen new candidates entered the field, but only nine, in addition to the retiring members, went to the poll. For the past week the election was the chief topic in Bilston, and meetings have been held, more especially in support of the candidates who were supported by the Temperance party. The latter people took up the matter warmly, and at one of the meetings it was intimated that the old Board was not composed of respectable persons, and further urged that publicans had no right to have a hand in the government of the town of Bilston.....”

[Joseph Shale was elected.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/3/1877

“Bilston Guardians of the Poor. The following are nominated Joseph Shale, Temple Street.”

[Joseph Shale was elected.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/5/1877

“An inquest was held yesterday afternoon, at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, by Mr. W. H. Phillips (District Coroner), upon the body of William Bird (29), miner, of Temple Street, Bilston, who died on the 14th inst from injuries sustained by a mass of coal falling upon him in Messrs. Grocutt and Sons colliery, Moxley, where he was employed.

Evidence was given by William Kennedy, who said he was a miner employed by Messrs. Grocutt and Sons, and up to the time of the accident he had worked with the deceased. He remembered the evening of the 14th inst. After leaving work Bird passed him in the workings. Witness asked him where he was going. He replied, to fetch his pipe, that he had forgotten. Deceased went about ten yards, when witness heard a noise of falling coal. He shouted, but obtained no answer. He gave an alarm, and assistance came. It was discovered that a large mass of coal had fallen, and deceased was under it. He was got out, and witness was with him till he died, about two hours afterwards. Bird did not attribute blame to anyone but himself.

It was stated that the mine had since been inspected by Mr. Scott, the Assistant Government Inspector of Mines, who did not appear to attach any blame to either the proprietors or the managers of the colliery.

The jury did not think it necessary to have an adjournment for the attendance of Mr. Scott, and returned a verdict of Accidental Death.

Deceased has left a widow and two children.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

Joseph Shale, beerhouse keeper, applied for a full license to the BARREL beehouse, Temple Street, Bilston.

Mr. Waterhouse, who supported the application, said the house now kept by Mr. Shale was formerly a licensed house for many years, but ten years ago, in consequence of the misconduct of the then occupier it was taken away. The present applicant soon afterwards entered the house, and for eight years he had conducted it as a beerhouse in a very respectable manner. The house was frequently used for inquests, and a note from the Coroner was handed in to the effect that he had always found the house convenient and quiet when he had held his courts there. Applicant was a member of the Township Commissioners, and was a fit person to have charge of a licensed house in the locality of Temple Street, where, owing to the rough nature of the population, it was doubly necessary that a publican should be of good character.

Applicant, being sworn, gave evidence similar to the above statement.

In reply to Mr. R. A. Willcock, who opposed on behalf of two licensed victuallers resident in the locality, he said there were two licensed houses and four or five beerhouses in Temple Street, which was 500 or 600 yards long. He also stated that the annual value of the house was £28.

Mr. Willcock contended that this ruined the application, as the annual value required by the Act was £30.

Mr. Waterhouse argued that, as the house was rented at £36 a year, when in the enjoyment of a full license that sum should be regarded as the annual value.

Mr. Willcock also urged that the license was not required in the neighbourhood.

After a very brief consultation the magistrates unanimously refused the application.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/3/1879

“Nomination for the Board of Guardians Bilston.....

Joseph Shale, innkeeper, Temple Street.”

[Joseph Shale was elected.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/4/1880

“The following gentlemen have been elected to represent the township of Bilston as Guardians in the Wolverhampton Union Joseph Shale.”

Joseph Shale died on 24th January 1881.

Birmingham Daily Post 25/1/1881

“Yesterday, Mr. Joseph Shale, landlord of the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, died after a protracted illness. The deceased had been a member of the Township Commissioners for eight years, and he was also a member of the Wolverhampton Board of Guardians.”

Joseph Shale – see also OLD BROWN JUG.

1881 Census

25, Temple Street – BARREL INN

[1] Mary Shale (64), widow, publican, born Bilston;

[2] John Shale (40), son, brewer, born Bilston;

[3] Benjamin Shale (38), son, carpenter, born Bilston;

[4] Thomas Shale (32), son, brass founder, born Bilston;

[5] Mary Shale (25), daughter, born Bilston;

[6] Elizabeth Shale (21), daughter, born Bilston;

[7] William Williams (7), grand-son, scholar, born Bilston

[8] Catherine White (14), general servant, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 21/2/1885 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

Messrs. J. Morrell & Sons are instructed (by the Creditors of Mary Shale) to Sell by Auction, at the above Inn, on Tuesday next, February 24th 1885, the whole of

The Public House Fittings and Fixtures. Jug and Glass Shelving, Tap Tables, Drinking Tables, Benches, Fixed Seating, Capital 5-pull Lever Beer Machine, Measures, Jugs and Glasses, Club Room Fittings.

The Capital Brewing Plant. Capital Mash Tubs, large Wood Coolers, oval coolers, round Tube, capital Copper Boilers, iron Boilers, Sieves, sixteen Ale Barrels, 36, 60, 80, 100, 120 and 200 gallons.

The Household Furniture. Windsor and polished Chairs, deal and other Tables, mahogany-frame Sofa, Prints and Engravings, kitchen Utensils, seven sets iron Bedsteads, straw Mattresses, two feather Beds, flock Beds, toilet Tables, toilet Glasses, painted Chest of Drawers, two capital painted Wardrobes, two mahogany-case eight-day Clocks, Fender and Fire Irons, and other effects as detailed in catalogues.

Sale at 11am Prompt.

Auction and Valuation Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

Job Ecclestone – Job Eccleston

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/4/1885

“At Bilston Court, this morning, a charge of permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises was preferred against Job Eccleston, landlord of the BARRELL INN, Temple Street. The date of the alleged offence was Saturday last. It was shown that although a drunken man was in the house, he had only just entered, and the landlord had refused to fill him. The case was therefore dismissed.

A second charge of committing a similar offence was preferred against Ecclestone, the date being Thursday night, the 2nd April. It was stated that a man and a woman, named Isaiah and Ellen Cooper, were drunk in the house, along with a large company of men and women. The magistrates inflicted a fine of 20s and the costs. Isaiah Cooper was fined 5s and the costs, for drunkenness in the house, and a warrant was issued for the apprehension of Ellen Cooper.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/7/1885

“John Ireland, Temple Street, Bilston, was fined 10s and costs, or 21 days’ imprisonment, for refusing to quit the BARREL INN, Bilston; and Catherine Whalin, Temple Street, was also fined 10s and costs, or 21 days’ imprisonment, for assaulting Ireland.”

1891 Census

25, Temple Street – BARREL INN

- [1] Samuel Salt (29), innkeeper and brewer, born Tipton;
- [2] Margaret Salt (34), wife, born Runcorn, Cheshire;
- [3] Mary Ann Salt (1), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Jane Grinsell (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

AND

26, Temple Street

- [1] Samuel Lane (70), living on his means, born Sedgley;
- [2] Theodosia Lane (30), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Sylvana Lane (9), daughter, scholar, born Hagley;
- [4] Daisy Lane (6), daughter, scholar, born Tettenhall:

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1891

“John Knight, labourer, Bradley, charged with refusing to quit the licensed premises of Thomas [sic] Salt, landlord of the BARREL INN, Temple Street, and assaulting Police-constable Owen, who was called to eject him therefrom, was sentenced to a month’s imprisonment for each offence.”

Samuel Lane died in the 2nd quarter of 1892.

Joseph Torr, beer retailer, 25, Temple Street. [1896]

Theodosia Lane married Joseph Torr in the 1st quarter of 1897.

1901 Census

Temple Street – BARRELL INN

- [1] Joseph Torr (34), beerhouse keeper, born Silverdale, Staffordshire;
- [2] Theodosia Torr (40), wife, born Bradley;
- [3] Sylvania S. Lane (19), step-daughter, domestic servant, born Hagley;
- [4] Daisy Lane (16), step-daughter, domestic servant, born Tettenhall:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/5/1901

“Strange Death at Bilston. Remarkable Medical Testimony.

Mr. T. A. Stokes, coroner, held an inquest at the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston, this (Thursday) morning, relative to the death of John Maley, aged 21 years, of 51, Temple Street, who died suddenly on Monday morning. Thomas Maley, a brother, 23 years of age, said he and deceased were coming from Wolverhampton at 12.30am on Sunday, the 19th, and when just getting into Wellington Road, Bilston, deceased shouted, ‘Hi up, Tom,’ and, turning round, he saw a man emerge from a gateway and come towards them. The man tried to get hold of witness, but he ran away, his brother having gone first. The man ran after them several yards, and shouted something witness could not understand. They then went home, where his brother complained of feeling ill. When he got up on Sunday morning deceased looked very wild, and stumbled about like a drunken man. They sent for a doctor, who said he was suffering from a severe cold, and he attended him until death at 3.30 on Monday afternoon last.

Dr. S. A. Smith, who had made a post mortem examination, said the body was almost like a skeleton, being very thin and emaciated. There was a large bed sore on the back, and one on each of the hips. There was an entire absence of fat under the skin. The brain was anaemic, both lungs diseased, and also the left kidney. In his opinion death was due to pneumonia and pleurisy. There was no brain mischief, and there were no signs of violence to accelerate death. A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was returned.”

1911 Census

Temple Street – BARREL INN

- [1] William Wood Duley (35), licensee of beerhouse, born Darlaston;
[2] Annie Elizabeth Duley (36), wife, married 6 years, born Darlaston:

William W. Duley, beer retailer, 47, Temple Street. [1912]

1921 Census

47, Temple Street

- [1] Joseph Blakemore (45), pot welder, out of work, and beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
[2] Joseph Blakemore (23), son, pot welder, out of work, born Bilston;
[3] Mary A. Blakemore (43), wife, housewife, born Bilston;
[4] Mary Blakemore (21), daughter-in-law, housewife, born Bilston;
[5] John Thomas Cooper (25), son-in-law, pot welder, born Bilston;
[6] Mary Cooper (21), daughter, housewife, born Bilston;
[7] Susannah Blakemore (17), daughter, at home, born Bilston;
[8] Sidney Blakemore (7), son, school, born Bilston;
[9] Sarah Blakemore (5), daughter, school, born Bilston;
[10] John Thomas Blakemore (1), son, born Bilston;
[11] Joseph Blakemore (11 months), grand-son, born Bilston;
[12] Alfred Cooper (1), grand-son, born Bilston:

Bilston & Willenhall Times 14/3/1925

“Joseph Yates, 63, Temple Street, Bilston, was charged with being on enclosed premises for an unlawful purpose. The evidence of PSs Nutt and Bates was to the effect that the premises of the BARREL INN, at the corner of Temple Street, were securely fastened shortly after 10 o’clock on Saturday night last, and about 11.50 the defendant was seen climbing over the folding gates at the back of the premises.

The defendant admitted being on the premises, but denied that he was there for an unlawful purpose. He said he was locked in while he was in the lavatory. He stood near the gate talking to a number of customers of the inn, but he had no witnesses to call.

The Stipendiary told the defendant he had had the opportunity of calling witnesses, and had refused to do so. He had come to the conclusion that the defendant was concealing himself on the premises, and was satisfied that if he had not been disturbed by the police he would have tried to get into the inn.

Defendant was sent to gaol for a month with hard labour.”

Dudley Chronicle 1/3/1928 - Advert

“For Sale, Sow, also Store Pigs, cheap.
Apply BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston.”

FOR SALE. Sow, also Store Pigs, cheap.—
Apply Barrel Inn, Temple St., Bilston.

Bilston and Willenhall Times 20/10/1928

“At the Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Frank Roberts, licensee of the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston was summoned for allowing a child under 14 to be in the bar, and Jane Pitt, Warwick Street, was summoned for causing the child to be there.

It was alleged that at 8.50 on the night of October 13th the female defendant was seen sitting in the taproom nursing a three-year old child. When spoken to, Roberts said he did not know the child was there.

Supt. Young said he had no desire to press the charge. He had brought the case as a warning to others. There was no doubt there was a practice of taking children into public houses, and it should be stopped.

Each defendant was fined 10s.”

Jesse Hart – see also SADDLE AND STIRRUPS.

1939 Register

47, Temple Street – BARREL INN

- [1] William Porter, date of birth 8/11/1884, publican, married;
- [2] Emma Porter, dob 21/7/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Edward Porter, dob 8/8/1917, iron work, sheet mill, single;
- [4] Florence A. (Porter) Guy, dob 29/6/1923, brass polisher, single;

TO be LET, the BARREL INN, Temple Street, Bilston; a good roomy House, with large Premises, and convenient Yard, capable of doing a Wholesale and Retail Brewing Business. The Premises may be had on Lease if required, at a very moderate rent. — Apply to Samuel Lane, Lloyd Street, Whitmore Reana, Wolverhampton.

1869

Unreserved Sale at the BARREL INN, TEMPLE STREET, BILSTON.

MESSRS. J. MORRELL & SONS are instructed (by the Creditors of Mary Shale) to SELL by AUCTION, at the above Inn, on Tuesday next, Feb. 24th 1885, the whole of the

PUBLIC HOUSE FITTINGS & FIXTURES

Jug and Glass Shelving, Tap Tables, Drinking Tables, Benches, Fixed Seating, Capital 5-pull Lever Beer Machine, Measures, Jugs and Glasses, Club Room Fittings, the

CAPITAL BREWING PLANT,

Capital Mash Tubs, large Wood Coolers, oval coolers, round Tubs, capital Copper Boilers, iron Boilers, Sieves, sixteen Ale Barrels, 36, 60, 80 100, 120 and 200 gallons.

THE HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,

Windsor and polished Chairs, deal and other Tables, mahogany-frame Sofa, Prints and Engravings, kitchen Utensils, seven sets iron Bedsteads, straw Mattresses, two feather Beds, flock Beds, toilet Tables, toilet Glasses, painted Chest of Drawers, two capital painted Wardrobes, two mahogany-case eight-day Clocks, Fender and Fire-Irons, and other effects as detailed in catalogues.

SALE AT 11 A.M. PROMPT.

Auction and Valuation Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston

1885

BEEHIVE

Shambos Lane, Highfields Bridge, Bradley, (Highfields), BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mrs. Phoebe Light [1851] – [1862]
George Leadbetter [1864] – 1868;
John Light (1868 – []

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Highfields

- [1] Phoebe Light (55), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Thursanah Sheppard (20), born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] Mary Maria Sheppard (6 months), born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [4] Eliza Rawson (17), house servant, born Dawley, Shropshire:

Birmingham Journal 17/1/1852

“An inquest was held on Wednesday, by Thomas Moss Phillips, Esq, at the house of Mrs. Phoebe Light, BEE HIVE INN, Highfields, in the parish of Sedgley, on the body of Sophia Jones, ten months old, daughter of David Jones, of Highfields, who died at four o'clock on the morning of the 11th instant, from injuries received on the 26th of December last, by her clothes taking fire. The accident occurred during the absence of her mother, who left the child alone while she went to a neighbour's house, some distance off. The child was observed enveloped in flames by Joseph Oakley, of Highfields, who extinguished them as soon as possible.”

Birmingham Journal 20/8/1859

“On Wednesday evening, a female about 60 years of age, carrying a basket and a bundle, was seen walking along the side of the Birmingham Canal, near to Highfield Bridge, when suddenly she was observed by a woman named Mary Wardle to jump into the water. The assistance of several persons from Messrs. Rose's timber yard was immediately secured, and by means of a boat shaft they succeeded in extricating the poor woman, but in a few minutes after she had been taken to the BEEHIVE, a public house adjoining Highfield Bridge, life was found to be extinct. She has been identified as Elizabeth Powis, the wife of a collier residing at the Rookery, in the parish of Sedgley. The poor woman has been insane for some time, and recently told her husband if she did not kill herself the devil would.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/11/1859 - Advert

“Staffordshire. Highfields, in the Parish of Sedgley. Freehold Houses and Land.

C. Round will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, the 6th day of December, 1859, at the house of Mrs. Light, the BEEHIVE INN, Highfields aforesaid, at six o'clock in the evening....”

1861 Census

Shambos Lane – BEE HIVE INN

- [1] Phoebe Light (64), widow, victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Elizabeth Shepard (24), servant, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] John Light (44), lodger, blacksmith, born Sedgley;
- [4] Ruth Light (49), wife, born Sedgley;
- [5] Frances Light (19), son, blacksmith, born Sedgley;
- [6] John Light (14), son, fitter, born Sedgley;

Mrs. Phoebe Light, beer retailer, Highfields. [1868] ?

George Leadbetter = George Leadbeater

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/4/1864 - Advert

"Wanted, to Purchase a Second-hand Patent Fan, 2ft high.

Apply to Mr. George Leadbeater, BEEHIVE INN, Highfields, Bilston."

WANTED, to Purchase a Second-hand PATENT FAN, 2 ft. high.—Apply to Mr. George Leadbeater, Beehive Inn, Highfields, Bilston.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/6/1868 - Advert

"Eligible Messuages and Premises, at Highfields, Sedgley, and Hall Fields, Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. H. W. Greader, at the House of Mr. John Light, the BEEHIVE INN, Highfields, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, on Friday, the 19th day of June, at Six o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. All that Old-established Public House, known by the sign of the BEEHIVE INN, situate fronting the road leading from Ladymoor to Bradley, and near the Canal Bridge at Highfields, in the said parish of Sedgley, now in the occupation of John Light.

Also all that other Messuage or Dwelling House, adjoining on one side to a Messuage and Premises belonging to Mr. Francis Light, and fronting the said road, leading from Ladymoor to Bradley, now in the occupation of Mary Higgins.

Also those Two Messuages and Premises, Plot of Land, or Garden Ground, and Iron Foundry, situate in the rear of the before-mentioned Dwelling Houses, and now or late in the occupation of George Leadbeater and others."

Closed

ELIGIBLE MESSUAGES AND PREMISES,
At HIGHFIELDS, SEDGLEY, and HALL FIELDS, BILSTON,
In the County of STAFFORD.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.
BY Mr. H. W. GREADER, at the house of Mr. John Light, the Beehive Inn, Highfields, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, on FRIDAY, the 19th day of June, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read.
Lot 1.—All that Old-established PUBLIC-HOUSE, known by the sign of "THE BEEHIVE INN," situate fronting the road leading from Ladymoor to Bradley, and near the Canal Bridge at Highfields, in the said parish of Sedgley, now in the occupation of John Light.
Also all that other MESSAGE or DWELLING HOUSE, adjoining on one side to a Messuage and Premises belonging to Mr. Francis Light, and fronting the said road, leading from Ladymoor to Bradley, now in the occupation of Mary Higgins.
Also those Two MESSUAGES and PREMISES, Plot of LAND or Garden Ground, and IRON-FOUNDRY, situate in the rear of the before-mentioned Dwelling Houses, and now or late in the occupation of George Leadbetter and others.
Lot 2.—All that small Plot of LAND situate at Hallfields aforesaid, on the other side of the said road leading from Ladymoor to Bradley, with the Building standing thereon, and now untenanted.
Lot 3.—All that PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of the "RAILWAY TAVERN," situate at Hallfields, in the township of Bilston aforesaid, with Yard, Stabling, and Out-buildings thereto belonging now in the occupation of Mrs. Holloway, at the annual rental of £18.
To view the Premises, apply to the respective tenants, and for further particulars at the Offices of Messrs. Mason and Holmes, Solicitors, Bilston; or to the Auctioneers, Willenhall.

BELL

Wolverhampton Street, (Wolverhampton Road), Shift End, BILSTON

OWNERS

Richard Atkins, licensed victualler, Bilston

LICENSEES

James Atherton [1828] – [1830]
Thomas Purslow [1833] – [1835]
Thomas Smith [1841] – [1842]
John Smith [1845] – [1850]
Mrs. Jane Smith [1851] – [1861]
James Smith [1862]
Thomas Baker [] – 1866;
Joseph Baker* (1866 – [])
Joseph Barker* [1868] – 1873;
Ephraim William Hyde (1873 – 1874);
James Lawley (1874 – 1876);
Alfred Lambden (1876 – [])

NOTES

BLUE BELL [1828], [1830], [1835], [1841], [1842], [1851], [1854], [1858], [1862], [1864], [1876]
BELL [1845], [1850], [1851], [1870], [1873]

1841 Census

Wolverhampton Street

- [1] John Smith (50), publican;
- [2] Jane Smith (50), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Charlotte Larkin (30), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [4] Ann Lloyd (15), f.s., born Staffordshire;

John Smith was also a fruiterer. [1845], [1849], [1850]

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/8/1849

“A little boy named John Thomas Downs met with his death, on Wednesday, from drowning. The lad had been playing in a field at Shift End, Bilston, with some other children during the evening. He was missed about 9 o’clock, when the bellman was sent round the town; at 10 a woman brought the bellman a belt which she said she had found in the field, and which, upon enquiries, proved to be the one deceased had worn. Enquiries were then made of some children who had been playing with him, when one of them took the bellman to the pond, and said that another boy had pushed him in. The body was found in the pond, and the inquest was fixed to be holden yesterday, at the BELL, Shift End.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1849

“On Friday last an inquest was held at the BELL INN, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of John Thomas Downs, four years of age, the son of a labourer, who, as we stated in our last number, was drowned in an old pit near Rileys field, on Wednesday evening. The pit was not deep, but there was water at the bottom, and the boy was found in it about ten o’clock by George Davis, a miner, who descended the pit in search of the body. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

MESSRS. ALTREE and SON have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith to DISPOSE OF by PRIVATE TREATY, the LICENSES and POSSESSION, FIXTURES, STOCK, &c., of “THE BELL INN,” Wolverhampton-street, Bilston. Has been successfully carried on by the late Proprietress for thirty-six years.—Apply at 159, Horsley-fields, Wolverhampton. Established 1840.

BELL INN, BILSTON.
MESSRS. ALTREE and SON have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith to SELL by AUCTION, about Lady-day next, the LICENSES, POSSESSION, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, STOCK, &c. Particulars in due course, and at the AUCTIONEERS', 159, Horsley-fields, Wolverhampton.

“BELL INN,”
WOLVERHAMPTON STREET, BILSTON.
MESSRS. ALTREE and SON will SELL by AUCTION (by order of the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith) —the LICENSES and POSSESSION of the above Old-licensed PREMISES, which was successfully carried on by the deceased upwards of thirty-six years; also all the capital HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES and FITTINGS, two copper and three iron Boilers, twelve-bushel Mash and other Tubs, pair of Vats, lead Piping and brass Tap, twenty well-seasoned Ale Casks, oval Coolers, Ale Machine, Patent Malt Crusher, 100 bushels of Malt, pocket and tumps of Hops, stock of Ale, Porter, Spirits, &c.; useful Tradesman's Cart, light spring Trap, set of Harness, Saddle and Bridle, bright bay Horse, rising seven, 15; hands high, sound, and quiet to ride or drive; two-knife Chaff Machine, stone and wood Stable, wood Sheddling, and numerous Effects; which will be SOLD without reserve, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, the 1st and 2nd days of April next, commencing at half-past Ten o'clock each morning. The Licenses and Possession will be offered the first day, at Twelve.
Book catalogues at the Place of Sale; Journal Office, Birmingham; Auctioneers Office, and the Auctioneers, 159, Horsley Fields, Wolverhampton.

1862

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/12/1849

“On Friday last an inquest was held at the BELL INN, Bilston, before W. W. Ward Esq, officiating for T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Edward Williams, miner at the Riding Field Colliery, in the parish of Sedgley, who was killed on the previous Tuesday, about six o’clock in the morning, by falling down the mouth of the pit. From the evidence adduced it appeared that deceased ought to have descended with a skip then going down, and that in his hurry to do so, he fell to the bottom, a distance of about eighty yards. He was quite dead when taken up ten minutes after the occurrence of the accident. One of his feet was severed from his body, his leg broken, and the back part of his head much bruised. No blame could be attached to any one except deceased. He has left a wife and four young children. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Street

- [1] Jane Smith (59), widow, victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Hannah Merricks (18), house servant, born Tettenhall;
- [3] S. Leakin (36), born Bilston;
- [4] Eliza Leakin (34), born Bilston;
- [5] Mary Leakin (10), born Scotland;
- [6] William Leakin (3), born Wednesbury:

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Street – BELL Public House

- [1] Jane Smith (73), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Robins (19), servant, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/2/1862 - Deaths

“On the 20th ultimo, at the BELL INN, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, Mrs. Jane Smith, aged 75 years, sincerely regretted by all who knew her.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/2/1862 - Advert

“Messrs. Altree and Son have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith to Dispose Of by Private Treaty, the Licenses and Possession, Fixtures, Stock, &c, of the BELL INN, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston. Has been successfully carried on by the late Proprietress for thirty-six years. Apply at 159, Horsley Fields, Wolverhampton. Established 1840.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/3/1862 - Advert

“BELL INN, Bilston.

Messrs. Altree and Son have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith to Sell by Auction, about Lady-day next, the Licenses, Possession, Household Furniture, Stock, &c. Particulars in due course, and at the Auctioneers, 159, Horsley Fields, Wolverhampton.”

Birmingham Journal 29/3/1862 - Advert

“BELL INN, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston.

Messrs. Altree and Son will Sell by Auction (by order of the Executors of the late Mrs. Smith).

The Licenses and Possession of the above Old-licensed Premises, which was successfully carried on by the deceased upwards of thirty-six years; also all the capital Household Furniture, Public House Fixtures and Fittings, two copper and three iron Boilers, twelve-bushel Mash and other Tubs, pair of Vats, lead Piping and brass Tap, twenty well-seasoned Ale Casks, oval Coolers, Ale Machine, Patent Malt Crusher, 100 bushels of Malt, pocket and tumps of Hops, stock of Ale, Porter, Spirits, &c; useful Tradesman’s Cart, light spring Trap, set of Harness, Saddle and Bridle, bright bay Horse, rising seven, 15½ hands high, sound, and quiet to ride or drive; two-knife Chaff Machine, stone and wood Stable, wood Shedding, and numerous Effects; which will be Sold without reserve, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 1st and 2nd days of April next, commencing at half-past Ten o’clock each morning. The Licenses and Possession will be offered the first day, at Twelve.

Book catalogues at the Place of Sale; Journal Office, Birmingham; Chronicle Office, and the Auctioneers, 159, Horsley Fields, Wolverhampton.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/6/1866

“Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, the following licenses were transferred.....
BELL, Shift End, T. Baker to J. Baker.”

* possibly the same person

Midland Examiner 22/4/1876

“An inquest on the body of an old man named Edwards, who was discovered dead on a piece of waste land at Friezland, last Friday, was held at the BLUE BELL INN, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, before the Coroner, W. M. Phillips, Esq, on Monday. There was some formal evidence, after the hearing of which, the Jury returned a verdict of Died from the effects of Exposure and Old Age.”

London Gazette 27/6/1876

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Ephraim Hyde, residing in Frost-street, New Village, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Coal Dealer, formerly carrying on business at Wolverhampton-street, Bilston aforesaid, as a Licensed Victualler, and also formerly carrying on business in Wolverhampton-street, Bilston aforesaid, in partnership with Charles Mayfield, as Colliery Proprietors, under the style of Hyde and Mayfield.

Notice is hereby given, that a Second General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of Mr. J. E. Fellows, Solicitor, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on the 5th day of July, 1876, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 24th day of June 1876.

Jno. E. Fellows, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, Solicitor for the said Ephraim Hyde.”

The license was abandoned pre 1903.

BELL

11, (7), Wood Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Major George Cox, brewer, Broad Street, Bilston
John Rolinson and Son Ltd. (leased from 1909)
Harmer and Co. Ltd. (leased)

LICENSEES

Thomas Fletcher [1848]
J Smith [1852]
Thomas Westwood [1852] – [1854]
Joseph Mills [1860]
Thomas Riley [1861] – [1865]
Thomas Rogers [1866] – [1868]
Emily Gregory [1871]
John Kenton [1873] – 1874;
Thomas Prime (1874 – 1877);
Elizabeth Baxter (1877);
Thomas Cockayne (1877 – 1898);
George Fox (1898 – 1899);
Henry Colbourn Rollason (1899);
Joseph Ragley (1899 – 1901);
George Smith [1901]
Mrs. Fanny Smith (1901 – 1918);

NOTES

7, Wood Street [1861], [1865], [1871], [1891]
11, Wood Street [1904], [1911], [1912]

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/6/1848

“At Bilston Public Office on Tuesday.....

Charles Griffiths, Andrew Howell, and Thomas Chidlow, were ordered to find bail for six months, for having assaulted Thomas Fletcher, landlord of the BELL INN, Bilston.”

SALE TO-MORROW, AT THE BLUE BELL, WOOD-STREET, BILSTON. TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY W. ASHCROFT,

On Thursday, April 15, 1852, on the above named premises,

THE whole of the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, FIXTURES, STOCK of ALE, CASKS, and BREWING UTENSILS, comprising strong tables, screens, benching round the rooms, wood partitions, glazed, mahogany dining table, hair seated chairs and wash stand, eight-day clock in mahogany case, Windsor chairs, tap tables, cupboards, pewter measures, oak chest of drawers, chest bedsteads, excellent feather bed, mattress, and large dressing glass; two capital vats, nine feet by three feet, twenty feet one and a half inch lead piping, large tap, thirty-seven feet one inch lead piping, three taps, excellent copper wire hop sieve and sixteen bushel mash tub, copper strainer and tap, three sixty gallon casks, nearly new, seventy gallons old ale, sixty gallon iron furnace and under work, iron frame for bowling alley, butcher's windlass, with strong framework and rope, windlass and bucket for well, two sheds, containing 1,300 feet of excellent boarding, wall plates, rafters, twenty-four strong posts and tar cloth cover, water casks, and a variety of other articles, the property of Mr. J. Smith.

Further particulars appear in catalogues, which may be had at the AUCTIONEER's office, Snowhill, Wolverhampton.

 The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning.

TO be DISPOSED OF, Thirty-one Acres of MINES and MINERALS of the place called "Burrow's Farm," Bromley, in the parish of Kingwinford, and now in the possession of Thomas Hancock.—For further particulars, apply to William Westwood, Gostey Bank, near Brierley Hill, or to Thomas Westwood, Bell Inn, Wood Street, Bilston.

1852

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/4/1852 - Advert

“Sale Tomorrow, at the BLUE BELL, Wood Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by W. Ashcroft, on Thursday. April 15, 1852, on the above named premises.

The whole of the Household Furniture, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Casks, and Brewing Utensils, comprising strong tables, screens, benching round the rooms, wood partitions, glazed, mahogany dining table, hair seated chairs and wash stand, eight-day clock in mahogany case, Windsor chairs, tap tables, cupboards, pewter measures, oak chest of drawers, chest bedsteads, excellent feather bed, mattress, and large dressing glass; two capital vats, nine feet by three feet, twenty feet one and a half inch lead piping, large tap, thirty-seven feet one inch lead piping, three taps, excellent copper wire hop sieve and sixteen bushel mash tub, copper strainer and tap, three sixty gallon casks, nearly new, seventy gallons old ale, sixty gallon iron furnace and under work, iron frame for bowling alley, butcher's windlass, with strong framework and rope, windlass and bucket for well, two sheds, containing 1,200 feet of excellent boarding, wall plates, rafters, twenty-four strong posts and tar cloth cover, water casks, and a variety of other articles, the property of Mr. J. Smith.

Further particulars appear in catalogues, which may be had at the Auctioneer's office, Snowhill, Wolverhampton.

The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning.”

Birmingham Journal 30/10/1852 - Advert

“To be Disposed Of, Thirty-one Acres of Mines and Minerals of the place called ‘Burrow's Farm,’ Bromley, in the parish of Kingswinford, and now in the possession of Thomas Hancox.

For further particulars, apply to William Westwood, Gostey Bank, near Brierley Hill; or to Thomas Westwood, BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/4/1854

“Thomas Westwood, landlord of the BELL INN, Bilston, was summoned for permitting gambling in his house on Monday evening. It was proved that some men were playing at dominoes for drink on the evening in question.

Mr. Shipman, who appeared for the defendant, contended that, as by the decision of the Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Queens Bench two years ago, dominoes were declared a lawful game, the present charge must be dismissed.

Mr. Bowen, the Magistrates Clerk, said that the decision alluded to by Mr. Shipman only applied to cases where no money or moneys worth was being played for. Mr. Shipman contended that, even adopting this view of the question, unless a large quantity of drink was being played for, the game could not be considered otherwise than harmless.

The Magistrate said that as the game was proved to have been played for drink, the defendant had rendered himself amenable to the law, but as it was his first offence, he simply ordered him to pay the expenses, cautioning him to be more careful in future.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/8/1860 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, the BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston, an old-established public house, now in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Mills; a rare opportunity for any one commencing business. Fixtures, &c, at valuation can be reduced to about £60. Rent, £20 per annum. Satisfactory reasons given for leaving.

Apply to Mr. R. Heseletine, Auctioneer and Valuer, Church Street, Bilston; or to Mr. Mills, on the premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/9/1860 - Advert

“Bilston. To be Let, with immediate possession, the old-established public house near the Great Western Railway Station, known as the BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston. No goodwill. Fixtures at valuation.

Apply to Mr. R. Heseletine, Auctioneer and Valuer, Bilston.

NB. The above premises are being put in thorough repair.”

1861 Census

7, Wood Street

[1] Thomas Riley (52), builder and publican, born Bilston;

[2] Hannah Riley (50), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Rebecca Riley (19), daughter, born West Bromwich;

[4] Timothy Riley (11), son, scholar, born West Bromwich:

Thomas Riley, retailer of beer, Wood Street. [1862]

Birmingham Journal 2/4/1864 - Married

“On the 27th ult, at Sedgley Parish Church, Mr. J. Siddons, grocer, of Bilston, to Rebecca, third daughter of Mr. Thomas Riley, of the BELL INN, Wood Street.”

Thomas Riley, joiner, builder, funeral carriage proprietor, and beer retailer, 7, Wood Street. [1865]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/10/1866

“Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, before I. Spooner, Esq, a woman named Harriet Beach was brought up in custody charged with stealing a sovereign, the property of Thomas Rogers, a beerhouse keeper living in Bilston. The prisoner was employed as servant in the house, and on Thursday, the 25th instant, the prosecutor put a bag, containing £18 10s, into a drawer, but found soon afterwards that a sovereign had been taken away. Having his suspicions aroused, he made inquiries respecting the prisoner, and found that she had purchased some articles, tendering a sovereign in payment, and he gave her into custody. The girl pleaded guilty to the charge, and was sentenced to six weeks’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/11/1866

“Harriet Beach pleaded guilty to stealing a sovereign from her master, Thomas Rogers, beerhouse keeper, Bilston, and was sentenced to six weeks’ imprisonment. Rogers had placed £18 10s in a bag in a cupboard, and soon after missed a sovereign. Upon inquiry he found that the prisoner had changed a sovereign at a linen-draper’s, and he gave her into custody.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/10/1867

“Sim Webb of Kates Hill and W. Cooper of Dudley. These men continue to make good their deposits to Mr. Challingworth, the stakeholder, for their 120 yards match, for £10 a side, on Oct 14.

Tom Rogers of Bilston will run either W. Cooper of Dudley or Sim Webb of Kates Hill 120 yards, for £10 a side, or will stake £10 in the match between the two of 120 yards, on Oct 14, the winner to take the £30, provided they will give him (Rogers) a yard start. Money ready at Rogers’s, the BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/12/1867

“At Bilston Police Court yesterday.....

Thomas Rodgers, a publican, of Wood Street, Bilston, was fined 5s and costs, for permitting drunkenness in his house during unlawful hours. The offence was proved by Sergeant Harrison.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/4/1868

“A novice of Bilston will walk Young Mace of Walsall, fair heel and toe, one mile level, for £5 a side. Money ready at T. Rogers’s, BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/12/1868

“Yesterday Thomas Rogers, landlord of the BELL beerhouse, Wood Street, Bilston, was fined 40s and costs, for having kept his house open for the sale of liquors, during unlawful hours.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/12/1868

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, before I. Spooner, Esq, Thomas Rogers, landlord of a beerhouse in Wood Street, known as the BELL, was summoned by Chief Superintendent McCrea for keeping open his house during prohibited hours. Mr. Fellows appeared on behalf of the defendant.

Police-constable Moffatt stated that on the night of Sunday, the 6th inst, he went to the defendant’s house at between eleven and twelve o’clock, and on taking down one of the window shutters he saw three men besides the defendant playing at cards. He afterwards knocked at the door, and was admitted into the house by Rogers; but on his asking where the men were, the defendant replied that there were no men there, and he also denied that there had been any card playing going on. Witness afterwards found the three men he had seen, secreted in the pantry, and one of them said, ‘Moffatt, have a glass of ale and say nothing about it.’ The landlord, too, asked him to take no notice of the affair, and offered him 5s, which he took; but he gave it up to the sergeant on duty at the station as soon as he arrived there. He saw some cards on the counter when he went into the house, and also a jug containing ale.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fellows: He did not say to the landlord, 'You may as well give me two or three shillings, as let the matter go before the Magistrates;' nor did he keep the 5s until he heard that defendant had reported him for taking it as a bribe.

Mr. Fellows, in reply to the charge, said the defence he had to set up was a simple one; and after hearing the evidence he should call, Mr. Spooner would say it was also a very truthful one. Having stated that the men found in the defendant's house, by Moffatt, went there simply to look at some 'running pumps' (racing shoes), he contended that no ale was drawn for them, no cards were used, that the men ran into the pantry when they heard the officer coming because they were afraid their presence alone might get the defendant into trouble, and that the 5s was given to Moffatt after he had asked for it and promised to take no notice of the affair in consideration of the gift. Witnesses were called in support of this statement, but Mr. Spooner, after hearing their evidence, characterised it as perfectly useless, and imposed a fine of 30s and costs. The 5s taken by Moffatt he ordered to be at once restored to the defendant."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

For keeping open during prohibited hours Thomas Rogers, BELL, Wood Street, 5s and costs, and another occasion, 40s and costs."

1871 Census

7, Wood Street – BELL INN

[1] Emily Gregory (30), widow, innkeeper, born Sedgley;

[2] Georgina Gregory (2), daughter, born Bilston;

[3] Charles Gregory (22), lodger, coal miner, born Stoke, Somersetshire;

[4] Harriet Gregory (19), wife, born Sedgley;

[5] Ann Gregory (6 months), daughter, born Bilston:

Midland Counties Evening Express 26/2/1875

"Thomas Prime, beerhouse keeper, Wood Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises. Mr. Bowen appeared for the defendant.

Inspector Harrison said that he visited the defendant's house on the 8th inst, about half-past seven o'clock in the evening, and found a man drunk with a pint jug three parts full of ale before him.

Police-constable Smith said that he saw the man alluded to at four o'clock on the same afternoon in Wood Street. He was then drunk, and wanted to go into the defendant's house, but witness told him that if he did so he would get both the landlord and himself into trouble. Witness afterwards went into the house with the inspector, and saw the man sitting there drunk, with beer before him.

For the defence, it was contended that the man said to be drunk had not been two minutes in the house when the police officers entered, that he came from his lodgings on the opposite side of the street in consequence of a row there, and that he was not supplied with any drink. The ale upon the table was said to belong to another man.

The defendant was fined 20s and costs, the conviction not to be endorsed upon his license."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/8/1875

"Yesterday, there was an annual licensing meeting for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division.....

Chief-superintendent McCrea presented the 'black list.' The beerhouse keepers who had been fined during the year were.....

Thomas Prime, BELL INN, permitting drunkenness, £1 and costs.....

All the old licenses would be renewed, excepting those of holders who had been convicted. Their applications would be deferred until the adjourned licensing day."

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned brewster sessions.]

Thomas Prime – see also BALL COURT.

1881 Census

Wood Street – BELL INN

- [1] Thomas Cockayne (41), beer seller, born Bilston;
- [2] Mary Jane Cockayne (42), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Palmer (17), servant, born Bilston:

1891 Census

7, Wood Street

- [1] Thomas Cockayne (51), beer retailer, born Bilston;
- [2] Mary J. Cockayne (52), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Alice Riley (15), domestic servant, born Tipton:

Thomas Cockayne, beer retailer, Wood Street. [1896]

1901 Census

Wood Street – BELL INN

- [1] George Smith (30), licensed victualler and labourer at brewery, born Bilston;
- [2] Francis Smith (28), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Florence Beckett (16), sister-in-law, barmaid, born Bilston:

Mrs. Fanny Smith, beer retailer, 11, Wood Street. [1904], [1912]

1911 Census

11, Wood Street

- [1] George Smith (41), drayman, born Bilston;
- [2] Fanny Smith (38), wife, married 15 years, carrying on trade at home, born Bilston;
- [3] May Smith (12), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Violet Smith (8), daughter, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 9/2/1918

“At Bilston Licensing Sessions, yesterday.....

An application for proposed alterations to the BELL INN, Wood Street, Bilston, was refused, and the house is to be scheduled for compensation.”

License refused by Compensation Authority on 12th October 1918.

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1918

“The Adjourned Principal Meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority for the county was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Saturday.....

Mr. A. J. Glover, of Wednesbury, applied on behalf of the owner, Major George Cox, for the renewal of the licence of the BELL INN, Bilston, an ante-'69 beerhouse. Evidence as to the trade, about four barrels a week, exclusive of bottled goods and mineral waters, was given by the owner and Mrs. Smith, the licensee. The committee decided to refuse the renewal, but granted £300 compensation. This figure, Mr. Glover said, would be agreeable, it being the sum recommended by the local licensing justices.”

Compensation of £300 was paid on 21st December 1918.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, the
BELL INN, Wood-street, Bilston, an old-established public house, now in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Mills; a rare opportunity for any one commencing business. Fixtures, &c., at valuation can be reduced to about £60. Rent, £20 per annum. Satisfactory reasons given for leaving.—Apply to Mr. R. HESELTINE, Auctioneer and Valuer, Church-street, Bilston; or to Mr. MILLS, on the premises.

BILSTON.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, the old-established public house near the Great Western Railway Station, known as the BELL INN, Wood-street, Bilston. No goodwill. Fixtures at valuation.—Apply to Mr. R. HESELTINE, Auctioneer and Valuer, Bilston. N.B.—The above premises are being put in thorough repair.

BIG COAL

Pinfold Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Phoebe Thompson [1818]
John Lawley [1822] – [1835]

NOTES

Birmingham Chronicle 29/4/1824

“An inquest was held at Bilston, on the 20th inst, upon the body of Thomas Turley, a pudler, who had been drinking at the BIG COAL public house on the preceding Saturday night, and got up in a state of intoxication to go out at the back door, against which the landlord cautioned him, as there was an open well near it. He, however, did go out, and his wife, who was waiting in the house, followed him; almost instantaneously Turley staggered and fell backwards into the well, and his wife, who caught hold of the bottom of his trousers, was, in endeavouring to save him, pulled in after him, but fortunately with her feet foremost. The well was six yards deep, and had two and a half feet of water in it, and they remained in the situation described a quarter of an hour before any person came to their assistance, when the woman was taken out but little hurt, and in about half an hour afterwards the body of Turley was got out lifeless, his head and shoulders being under water during the time. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

BIRD IN HAND

102, (37), High Street / Coseley Road, BILSTON

OWNERS

Charlotte Cadman
Joseph Parker
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1904], [1921]

LICENSEES

Edward Fawzbrook [1818]
William Grayer [1818] – [1822]
William Nagington [1828] – [1830]
Mrs. Ann Grayer [1833] – [1837]
Richard Boothby [1839]
Joseph Whitehouse [1841] – [1842]
Joseph Fletcher [1845] – 1852;
Mrs. Charlotte Fletcher (1852 – [])
James Cadman [1858] – [1865]
Mrs. Charlotte Cadman [1868] – 1890;
Joseph Millington (1890);
John Thomas Chew (1890 – 1892);
Ann Grayer [1892]
Joseph Parker (1892 – 1903);
Harry Nuttall [1901]
William Charles Cole (1903 – 1922);
Enos Graham Elesmore (1922 – 1927);
Arthur Wakelam (1927 – 1929);
Arthur Frank Collins (1929 – [1946])
Eric Page [1950s]
William Thomas Davis [1961]

c1930s

NOTES

37, High Street [1858], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1874], [1881], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1900]
102, High Street [1901], [1908], [1911], [1916], [1932], [1939], [1940]

OLD BIRD IN HAND [1818], [1828], [1830], [1834], [1835], [1842], [1845], [1849], [1851], [1870], [1874]
BIRD IN HAND [1818], [1852], [1860], [1862], [1903]
PHEASANT [1873]

It had a six day license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/3/1827 - Advert

"First-rate Public House in Bilston.

Richard Corbett, New Town, Bilston, Auctioneer, has on Sale by Treaty, the Licenses, Good-will, and immediate Possession, if required, of that well established and good accustomed Public House, the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, of which a lease of seven, fourteen, or twenty-one years will be given at a moderate rent.

The Stock and Fixtures, which are of excellent quality (with or without any part of the Household Furniture) to be taken at a fair valuation.

The above House and Premises comprise four large cellars of sufficient capacity to store 10,000 gallons, a detached small-beer cellar and pantry, two parlours, two kitchens, and a bar, a large club-room, three bed-rooms, brewhouse, stable, and an entire back yard, and has the advantage of a pump of excellent water, which is rarely possessed by any Public House in Bilston.

So desirable a situation seldom presents itself, nor would this but for the recent engagements of the present proprietor in the Freestone Quarry and Stone Masonry businesses, and the subsequent indisposition of his wife."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/2/1830 - Advert

"Very Desirable Public House, at Bilston, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on the Premises, on Tuesday, the 2nd of march, 1830, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon (unless sooner disposed of by Private Treaty, of which due Notice will be given).

The Lease (eighteen Years of which are unexpired), Licenses, Goodwill, and Immediate Possession, of that well-known, old-established, and good-accustomed Public House, the BIRD IN HAND, situate near the Turnpike, High Street, Bilston aforesaid, enjoying a good Run of Ready Money Business, and at which assemble several extensive Clubs or Societies, and now carried on by Mr. William Nagington, who, in Consequence of other Engagements, is declining the Public Business.

The Purchaser to take to the Stock, Brewing Utensils, Barrels, Fixtures, &c, at a fair Valuation."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/7/1830 - Advert

"Whereas a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against William Nagington, of the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said commission named, of the major part of them, on the twenty-second and twenty-third days of July inst and on the twenty-fourth day of August next, at the Stork Tavern, in the Square, in Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, at one o'clock in the afternoon on each day, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to chuse Assignees, and at the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Messrs. Jessopp and Scarman, Furnivals Inn, London, or to Thomas Goode, Solicitor, Dudley."

WHEREAS a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against WILLIAM NAGINGTON, of the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said commission named, or the major part of them, on the twenty-second and twenty-third days of July inst. and on the twenty-fourth day of August next, at the Stork Tavern, in the Square, in Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, at one o'clock in the afternoon on each day, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to chuse Assignees, and at the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Messrs. Jessopp and Scarman, Furnival's Inn, London, or to
THOMAS GOODE,
Solicitor, Dudley.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/7/1830 - Advert

"To Innkeepers, Publicans, Brokers, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction by R. Corbett, on the premises, on Wednesday and Thursday next, July 28 and 29 (by order of the Assignees), all the Stock of Ale, Cider, Spiritous Liquors, Hops, excellent iron-bound Ale Barrels, Brewing Utensils, neat Gig and Harness, Household Furniture, and other effects of Mr. William Nagington, Publican, &c, at the BIRD IN HAND Public House, High Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford (a bankrupt).

The sale to commence at ten and two each day.

Wednesday's Sale comprises 33 excellent iron-bound ale barrels of various sizes, from 30 to 580 gallons each, about 1,000 gallons of ale and cider, a four-pull beer machine nearly new, about three pockets of hops, two large copper furnaces, one iron boiler, a twenty-strike and smaller mashing tubs, coolers, working and gathering tubs, pair of capital vats, with pipes and taps, about 50 dozen of stone and glass bottles, the usual brewing, cellar, and bar utensils, a quantity of gin, rum, brandy, and other spiritous liquors, a neat gig and harness, and sundry miscellaneous effects used in the public business.

Thursday's Sale consists of four-post and tent bedsteads with hangings, prime feather bed, bolsters, and pillows, mattresses, sheets, blankets, counterpanes, and bedquilts, hand, bed, and table linen, mahogany and oak dining, dressing, pillar, and drinking tables, twelve stout forms or benches, mahogany bureau and bookcase, chests of drawers, buffet, oak, ash, Windsor, and chamber chairs, an eight-day clock in handsome mahogany case, pictures, looking glasses, wash-stands, wire and iron fenders, fire-irons, &c, including the usual parlour, kitchen, and bedroom furniture, cooking and culinary utensils, and other effects usually found in a respectable public house.

Particulars are given in catalogues now in circulation, and to be had at the place of sale, and at the office of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1830 - Advert

"Freehold Land, New Town, Bilston.

To be peremptorily Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on the 12th day of August, 1830, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston aforesaid (by order of the Assignees of William Nagington, a bankrupt), three Lots of Freehold Building Land, fronting to Temple Street, in New Town, Bilston aforesaid, as described in handbills. Also a Seat or Pew, being No.17 in the North Aisle of St. Leonard's Church, in Bilston aforesaid.

Further particulars may be had of the Auctioneer, in Bilston, or at the office of Thomas Goode, Solicitor, in Dudley."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/12/1830 - Advert

"The Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt against William Nagington, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, may receive the first dividend (of two shillings and sixpence in the pound) on application at the office of Thomas Goode, Solicitor, Dudley."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/6/1831 - Advert

"The Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt against William Nagington, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, may receive a further and final dividend of 5s 2d in the pound on their respective debts, on application at the office of Thomas Goode, Solicitor, Dudley."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/5/1837 - Advert

"Buildings and Building Land, in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, at the house of Mrs. Ann Grayer, known as the BIRD IN HAND Public House, High Street, Bilston, on Thursday the 15th day of June, 1837, at five o'clock in the afternoon...."

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/11/1839

"A charge was preferred against Richard Boothby of Bilston, landlord of the OLD BIRD IN HAND, for allowing tippling during divine service on the 3rd of November. It appeared that the parties found there by the constables were travellers, and that they had demanded refreshment; and the constables admitting they had no knowledge of them, the case was dismissed."

Northern Star and Leeds General Advertiser 6/4/1841

“Chartist Intelligence.....

A public meeting was held in the large room of the BIRD IN HAND INN, Bilston, on Monday last, to which Mr. George White was invited. Several friends from Wolverhampton attended and assisted in the business. At five o'clock the room was well filled, when the business commenced by Mr. Mogg, of Wolverhampton, being unanimously called to the chair. He said that the present meeting was called for the purpose of forming a National Charter Association in the important and populous town of Bilston. The time had now arrived when it became the imperative duty of all real Chartists to organise. He, therefore, hoped that the men and women of Bilston would do their duty.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1849

“On Tuesday T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the BIRD IN HAND, on the body of Joseph Wootton, a boy about fourteen, employed in a pit in the Birmingham Fields, Bilston, belonging to Mr. Abbott, and who died on the previous Sunday, from the severe injuries he received in an explosion of sulphur in an old gate road of the pit on the 5th of September last. It appeared that Wootton and two other boys went along the gate road contrary to the directions of the doggy, and Wootton put a lighted candle into the end of an iron pipe lying by the side of the road, when an explosion instantly took place, and the deceased and one of the other boys were very much burned. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 16/2/1850

“On Saturday last, a melancholy accident took place at Mr. Geo. Jones’s furnaces, near Bilston, in consequence of water belonging to the tuyere of one of the puddling furnaces being suddenly generated into steam, and an explosion thus ensuing. Three men were so badly injured that they died on that or the following day, namely, Edward Whittingham, aged 47, the furnace keeper, a puddler named John Willington, 35 years of age, and another, whose name we were unable to learn. T. M. Phillips, Esq, held an inquest on Monday, at the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] Joseph Fletcher (50), miner and victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Charlotte Fletcher (34), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Ann Fletcher (12), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Eliza Fletcher (10), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Sophia Fletcher (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] William Fletcher (1), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Ann Solomon (27), house servant, born France, British subject;
- [8] Sarah Webb (12), house servant, born Windmill End:

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1851

“An inquest was held at the BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, on Friday week, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, upon the body of Ann Cooksey, a girl between seven and eight years old. It appeared that on the Wednesday previous she was playing with some other children upon the bank of an engine pit, when she accidentally fell down, and on being drawn out, was found quite dead, both her thighs being broken, and her scalp cut through at the back of the head by the force of the fall. A verdict of Found Drowned was returned.”

Joseph Fletcher died in the 4th quarter of 1852.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/12/1852

“On Monday last, the following transfers of licenses took place.....

From the executors of the late Joseph Fletcher, to his widow, Charlotte Fletcher, Bilston.”

Charlotte Fletcher married James Cadman on 25th November 1853.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/2/1855

“On Thursday night, Morris Goodhall, aged 60, a carter, residing in Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, and who had been suffering from diseased action of the bowels for several days previously, after taking a pill from a box he had purchased in the market, retired to bed. Shortly afterwards he was very sick, could not swallow, and appearing to be in a dying state, a surgeon was sent for, but life was extinct before he could reach the house. An inquest was held on the body at the BIRD IN HAND on Saturday, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, when, it appearing from a post mortem examination which had been made by Mr. Cooper, surgeon, that deceased had died from apoplexy of the brain, death having been accelerated by the diseased condition of the heart, a verdict to that effect was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/3/1861

“On Wednesday last Mr. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest at the BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, on the body of Sarah Ann Painter, banksgirl, aged 18 years, who was, previous to her death, employed at a coal pit at Millfields, the property of Mr. Thomas Johnson, and who was killed under the following circumstances. On Monday she was gathering coal and slack about twelve yards from the mouth of the pit, as was her duty, whilst the banksman was emptying a skip of slack fifteen yards from the same spot. As soon as he had emptied it he took it towards the pit and when about three yards distant a full skip came up the shaft. He went towards it, and was in the act of putting the ‘waggon’ over the pit when the deceased pushed the empty skip on to the rails and up to the pit’s mouth, and before the banksman had time to finish what he was doing she fell with the empty skip down the pit, sustaining severe injuries on the head, and was killed. She had no business to push the skip as she did, and had been cautioned not to approach the pit’s mouth. Under these circumstances the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/3/1861

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.....

Thomas Froggart (on bail) was charged with feloniously cutting and wounding his step-brother, George Hickenbottom, at Bilston, on the 3rd of October. Dr. Hill prosecuted.

George Hickenbottom, miner, Bilston, said that he was at the BIRD IN HAND public house, Bilston, on the 3rd of October. The prisoner was there. During the course of the day prisoner’s wife went and abused him about paying for some ale. The prisoner threatened to knock her head through the screen. He struck her, and his brother-in-law, David Hughes, who was present, interfered, and dealt the prisoner a blow on the neck. Prosecutor then got between them, and in the scuffle he was stabbed on the neck and under the left ear. Prosecutor believed it was an accident, for the prisoner was eating his dinner with a knife, and he happened to have it in his hand when the scuffle commenced. His Lordship said if that were so there was no charge against the prisoner. Dr. Hill observed that that supposition did not appear on the face of the depositions. By the direction of the Judge the prisoner was acquitted.”

1861 Census

37, High Street

[1] James Cadman (52), coal miner and victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Charlotte Cadman (43), wife, born Bilston;

[3] William Cadman (12), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Alice Cadman (20), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Louisa Cadman (14), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[6] Sophia Cadman (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 2/8/1862

“On Tuesday last the members of the Midland Unity of Odd Fellows met at the house of Mr. Cadman, BIRD IN HAND INN, Bilston, to celebrate their annual anniversary. At about eleven o’clock they marched in procession (headed by the excellent band of Messrs. Humphries) to the Baptist Chapel, Wood Street, where an excellent sermon was preached to them by the Rev. W. Jackson, the resident minister. The dinner, which had been prepared by ‘mine host’ Cadman, was of an excellent description. Mr. J. Lester, NG, was called to the chair, and Mr. Hudson, VG, to the vice-chair. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given. The vocal powers of Messrs. Davies, Jones, and Humphries added much to the harmony of the evening, together with the band, which at intervals played some very popular airs, reflecting much credit on their leader, Mr. R. R. Humphries. The annual report was read by the secretary, showing the good condition of the funds.

The society of Loyal Britons held their annual meeting at the above house on the previous day, which passed off very pleasantly.”

James Cadman died in the 2nd quarter of 1867.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/2/1868

“At the Police Court, yesterday, Charlotte Cadman, landlady of the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, was charged, on the information of Mr. Allcorn, supervisor of Inland Revenue, with having, on the 31st of January, brewed a quantity of malt without entering the particulars of the same in her brewer’s entry paper. In answer to the charge the defendant stated that the malt which she brewed on the 31st of January had been intended for a previous day, but was not brewed, and upon brewing it on the day in question she forgot to make the entry. The Magistrates, however, fined her in the mitigated penalty of £50, and informed her that the full penalty to which she had, by her negligence, made herself liable was £200.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/2/1870

“An inquest was held at the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, on Wednesday last, by Mr. W. H. Phillips, deputy coroner for the borough, on the body of Thomas Bowers, who, on Wednesday week last, set fire to his clothes while lighting sticks in the fire. He died on Sunday last. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and recommended that a safeguard should be put before the fire.”

1871 Census

37, High Street – BIRD IN HAND

[1] Charlotte Cadman (53), widow, licensed victualler employing one assistant, born Bilston;

[2] William Fletcher (21), son, innkeeper, born Bilston;

[3] Charlotte Jeavons (5), grand-daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Amelia Griffiths (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/2/1876

“An inquest was held yesterday, at the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, touching the death of John Smith, 22, a collier, lately residing in High Street. The deceased was employed at the Quarry Colliery, belonging to Mr. Edward Hickman, and whilst at work there on Saturday last he was killed by a fall of roof. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Midland Examiner 26/8/1876

“About five o’clock on Saturday morning Police-constable Samuel Ray discovered that a man had been drowned in the canal near to Bilston Road Bridge. He obtained assistance, and having brought the body to the bank removed it to the NAVIGATION INN, Bilston Road. The body was subsequently identified as that of Hugh Lavery, a process and summons server, living at 183, Walsall Street. Deceased was 47 years of age, and was many years ago a policeman in the county force.

An inquest was held on the body on Monday, before the Borough Coroner (W. H. Phillips, Esq).

Police-constable S. Ray identified the body of the deceased. On Saturday morning, about five o’clock, witness was called up, and on going to the Monmore Green canal bridge he saw the body of the deceased taken out of the water. There was no mark of injury upon the body. The spot where the body was found was close to the road, and was very dangerous, as there was no lamp near, and the road to the canal was quite open from the highway. Witness had known three persons to fall in the water at that particular place during the last two years.

Mrs. Cadman, landlady of the BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, said the deceased was at her house several times on Friday. He last came between ten and eleven o’clock on Friday night, and was so far intoxicated that she refused to supply him with any more drink, and at last insisted on his leaving.

Joseph Mills, of Bilston, said he saw the deceased in the house of last witness at a quarter to eleven o’clock on Friday night. He offered to accompany him home, but deceased refused his assistance, and witness eventually left him in the house. Deceased while in the house paid for half a pint of ale for another man.

Evidence having been given to the fact that deceased had been a man of intemperate habits, and also that there was no probability that he had been injured by anyone, the jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned, and also expressed a wish that the attention of the Borough Surveyor should be called to the dangerous state of the opening from the road to the canal at Monmore Green Bridge.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/11/1880

“An inquest was held this afternoon, at the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, touching the death of a child four years old, named Edith Fanny Webb, who was knocked down by a horse belonging to Mr. H. W. Larkin, surgeon, on Monday afternoon.

Albert Webb, father of the child, said deceased was in good health at the time of the accident. After she was brought home he saw that the child was injured on the right side of her forehead.

Margaret Durkin said she saw the accident, about ten minutes to two on the Monday afternoon. She was near the GREYHOUND INN, and heard the noise of a horse and trap rushing by, and looking round she saw the gig come in contact with a ginger beer cart, which upset the gig. The horse then got free, and rushed away again. She saw no one in charge of it. Some one turned the horse back near the Primitive Methodist Chapel and it then turned on to the causeway, knocked down the deceased, and then trod on it. Mr. Hollis picked up the child, and she carried it home. It was unconscious.

Mr. Hollis, grocer, said on Monday afternoon he heard a scream, and, looking through the window of his shop, he saw the horse, which he knew to be the property of Dr. Larkin, knock the child down.

Richard Sullivan said he stopped the horse, which then turned back, ran against the child, and knocked it down. Mr. Larkin afterwards came up and asked him to take the horse to the stable.

George Herbert Hopkiss said he was a groom to Mr. H. W. Larkin, surgeon. He entered his service on Saturday night last. On Monday morning he harnessed the mare, and accompanied Mr. Larkin on his rounds as a surgeon. On their return Mr. Larkin got out of the gig at the surgery, and sent him with the mare to the stable, which is situate at the back of PIPE HALL HOTEL. He (the groom), on reaching the yard, got out to unlock the door, and whilst doing so he heard a scuttle of the mare and gig, and looking round saw that she had run away with the gig. There was a rush of steam just then from a passing train, and he attributed the accident to that.

Mr. H. W. Larkin said he had had the mare about five months, but only driven about five or six weeks. He had experienced no difficulty with the mare. She had never run away before while in harness. He told the groom to take the horse and gig to the gig house, and watched him turn up into the yard. A few minutes after he heard of the horse running sway.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1881 Census

37, High Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] Charlotte Cadman (63), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Simeon Rock (47), son-in-law, iron roller employing 5 men and 6 boys, born Darlaston;
- [3] Ann Rock (42), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Charlotte Rock (21), grand-daughter, waitress, born Bilston;
- [5] Charlotte Jeavons (16), grand-daughter, waitress, born Bloxwich;
- [6] Sophia Hammond (33), daughter, married, grocer's wife, born Bilston;
- [7] William Hammond (12), grand-son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [8] Albert Hammond (8), grand-son, scholar born United States of America;
- [9] Thomas E. Hammond (2), grand-son, born United States of America:

Evening Express 4/8/1881

“On Monday the members of the Friends of Harmony and Providence Lodges of the United Order of Free Gardeners, after parading some of the streets of Bilston, attended Divine service at St. Luke's Church in that town, where the Rev. W. Prosser (vicar) officiated. In a sermon addressed to the members, the Vicar spoke in appreciatory terms of the Order; and at the conclusion of the service the members returned to the BIRD IN HAND INN, High Street, where a capital dinner was provided by the hostess Mrs. Cadman. After dinner the chair was taken by Brother J. Evans, and the vice-chair by Brother Enoch Jones, and the usual toasts were heartily drunk.”

A seven day license was granted on 28th September 1883.

Charlotte Cadman died on 5th February 1890.

Joseph Millington was the sole executor of Charlotte Cadman. He was her nephew.

Walsall Observer 15/3/1890 - Advert

“By Messrs. T. Skidmore & Son. To Brewers And Others.

Valuable Copyhold Properties, situate in the Manors of Stowheath and Sedgley, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Thomas Skidmore and Son, at the BIRD IN HAND, Bilston in the said County of Stafford, on Monday, the 31st day of March, 1890, at Six o'clock in the Evening.....

Lot 1. The Full-licensed and Old-established Public House, known as the BIRD IN HAND, situate at Bilston aforesaid, and on the main road from Bilston to Goldthorn Hill, until recently and for many years past in the occupation of the late Mrs. Cadman. This House, which has an excellent situation, is well appointed, and contains Tap Room, Bar, Smoke Room, Two Kitchens, and Cellars, spacious Club Room, and Four Bedrooms, a retired Yard in the rear, containing Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Cow-house, Dairy, and Hop Room. Early possession can be given.

Also all those Four Messuages, situate in Coseley Street, Bilston aforesaid, adjoining at the back of the last-mentioned property, one of which fronts the said street, and is numbered 64, and the remaining three form Court No.14 at the rear. The Houses, which are in a very good state of repair, are all let to respectable tenants, at rentals producing £31 4s 0d per annum.”

1891 Census

37, High Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] John T. Chew (25), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;
- [2] Emma Chew (27), wife, born St. Johns, New Brunswick;
- [3] Sidney Chew (3), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Harry Chew (1), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Susan A. Johnson (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Weekly Post 17/2/1900

“Mr. T. A. Stokes held an inquest at the BIRD IN HAND INN, Bilston, on Saturday afternoon on the body of Edward Chirm (39), labourer, of No.1 Court, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, who was fatally injured at the Bilston Stone Quarry on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Pickering (Government inspector of mines) attended.

The evidence showed that some men were removing clay when the roof gave way, and the deceased was buried. Evert effort was made to extricate him, but when dug out he was found to be dead.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1901 Census

102, High Street

- [1] Harry Nuttall (28), plumber and publican, born Rushall;
- [2] Mina Nuttall (29), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Sarah Brooks (22) domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [4] Edith Barker (18), visitor, domestic housemaid, born Bilston:

Harry Nuttall – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, SEVEN STARS, High Street, HEN AND CHICKENS, George Street, and UNION MILL, Manor Road.

1911 Census

102, High Street

- [1] William Charles Cole (46), public house, manager, born Bath;
- [2] Martha Edith Cole (36), wife, married 8 years, born Kingswinford;
- [3] Dorothy Maud Cole (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] William Cole (4), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Oswald Walter Cole (2), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Jane Bull (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1921 Census

High Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] William Charles Cole (56), licensed manager, born Bath;
- [2] Elizabeth Cole (26), wife, home duties, born Bilston;
- [3] William Cole (14), son, steelworks labourer, born Bilston;
- [4] Oswald Walter Cole (12), son, school, born Bilston;
- [5] George Frederick Cole (3), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Joseph Thomas Cole (2), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Dorothy Maud Cole (16), daughter, home duties, born Bilston;
- [8] Edith Mary Cole (3 months), daughter, born Bilston;

1939 Register

102, High Street (4 of 5)

- [1] Arthur F. Collins, date of birth 3/4/1880, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Daisy Collins, dob 16/4/1884, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Arthur F. Collins, dob 16/10/1918, ordinance surveyor, single;
- [4] Howard V. Collins, dob 16/3/1920, plumber, single;

Bilston and Willenhall Times 18/5/1946

“For selling intoxicants without a license at a dance at Bilston Town Hall on April 23rd, Arthur Frank Collins, licensee of the BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston, was at Bilston, on Friday, fined £5, with £1 12s special costs. A summons against Mrs. Collins for aiding and abetting was dismissed.

Superintendent S. Cresswell explained that Mr. Collins had made many applications for occasional licenses at dances, and had carried on his public house in an exemplary manner since 1929. On the date in question PS Lovatt went to the Town Hall, and on asking to see the Justice’s license Mrs. Collins explained that they could not find it. Later Mr. Collins was seen, and he said that on the previous Sunday night he discovered that no license had been obtained for the Tuesday night, although they had one for the previous night.

Mr. F. M. Slater, for the defence, said that both Mr. and Mrs. Collins regretted the offence, which was due entirely to an oversight.”

Black Country Bugle 5/4/2001 - Letter from Peter Morrey

This claims that Arthur and Daisy Collins were tenants from 1945 to 1955.

Black Country Bugle 26/4/2001

Letter from Marie Thompson

“Many years ago when I was about 8/9 years old, my parents Tom and Daisy Bailey used the pub regularly. My dad used the bar and my mom sat with me in the children’s room with the other mothers. One of my great pleasures was to go out to the back yard and scratch the pigs and, being naughty with the other children, would make the geese squawk.....”

Eric Page was married to Rose.

Tipton Herald 5/1/1957

“A number of men who gave assistance to police having trouble with two ‘drunks’ outside a Bilston public house were thanked by Chief Inspector P. R. James, at a special court last Saturday.

The chief inspector said crowds were often hostile to the police, but it was not so in this case.

Before the court were two labourers, Peter Donovan (30) and James Campbell (23), both of 2, Fraser Street, Bilston, said by Chief Inspector James to have caused a considerable disturbance outside the BIRD IN HAND INN, High Street, late the previous night. Each was fined £2 for being drunk and disorderly, and Donovan was also fined £10, with two months’ imprisonment in default, for assaulting PC Alan Dowling in the execution of his duty.

Describing it as an entirely unprovoked assault Chief Inspector James said Dowling was not in a position to defend himself because he was occupied in dealing with Campbell.

PC Dowling gave evidence that he and PC Heseltine were called to High Street at about 10.15pm and found a large crowd outside the BIRD IN HAND watching several men fighting. Campbell was violent and would not stop fighting, so they went to arrest him. While they were attempting to put him in the police car Donovan tried to help his friend and struck Dowling on the left side of his head, causing him to fall and injure his right thumb. In court, Donovan denied the assault and said he was trying to help the police by separating the fighting men. Admitting he had had about 10 to 12 pints of beer as well as some whisky, he said it had 'knocked him about'."

Staffordshire Sentinel 3/6/1961 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1953. Notice of Principal Meeting County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held in the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Wednesday the 21st day of June, 1961, at 11 o'clock am.

And Notice is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom under the Licensing Act, 1953, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the persons interested in any licensed premises in question and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District). List of Licensed Premises.....

BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston. Full License. Licensee, William Thomas Davis."

Staffordshire Sentinel 1/7/1961 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1953. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 21st day of June, 1961, to refuse the Renew of the Licenses of the premises specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of payment of the compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensees and the Registered Owners of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority notice of their claims before the 22nd day of July, 1961, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in the manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the persons entitled to compensation under the said Act in respect of the said premises.....

BIRD IN HAND, High Street, Bilston. Full License. Licensee, William Thomas Davis. Registered Owners, W. Butler & Co. Ltd."

It closed c.1970.

It was demolished c.1983.

First-rate Public House in Bilston.

RICHARD CORBETT, New Town, Bilston, Auctioneer, has on Sale by Treaty, the Licenses, Good-will, and immediate Possession, if required, of that well established and good accustomed Public House, the BIRD-IN-HAND, High-street, Bilston, of which a lease of seven, fourteen, or twenty-one years will be given at a moderate rent.

The Stock and Fixtures, which are of excellent quality (with or without any part of the Household Furniture) to be taken at a fair valuation.

The above House and Premises comprise four large cellars of sufficient capacity to store 10,000 gallons, a detached small-beer cellar and pantry, two parlours, two kitchens, and a bar, a large club-room, three bed-rooms, brewhouse, stable, and an entire back yard, and has the advantage of a pump of excellent water, which is rarely possessed by any Public House in Bilston.

So desirable a situation seldom presents itself, nor would this but for the recent engagements of the present proprietor in the Freestone Quarry and Stone Masonry businesses, and the subsequent indisposition of his wife.

1827

VERY DESIRABLE PUBLIC-HOUSE, At Bilston, Staffordshire.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY RICHARD CORBETT,

On the Premises,

On TUESDAY, the 2nd of MARCH, 1830, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon, (unless sooner disposed of by Private Treaty, of which due Notice will be given):—

THE LEASE (eighteen Years of which are unexpired), LICENCES, GOOD-WILL, and IMMEDIATE POSSESSION, of that well-known, and established, and good-accustomed PUBLIC-HOUSE, the BIRD-IN-HAND, situate near the Turnpike, HIGH-STREET, BILSTON aforesaid, enjoying a good Run of Ready Money Business, and at which assemble several extensive Clubs or Societies, and now carried on by Mr. WILLIAM NAGINGTON, who, in Consequence of other Engagements, is declining the Publican Business.

The Purchaser to take to the Stock, Brewing Utensils, Barrels, Fixtures, &c. at a fair Valuation.

1830

TO INNKEEPERS, PUBLICANS, BROKERS, AND OTHERS.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. CORBETT, on the premises, on Wednesday and Thursday next, July 23 and 24 (by order of the Assignees), all the Stock of Ale, Cider, Spirituous Liquors, Hops, excellent iron-bound Ale Barrels, Brewing Utensils, neat Gig and Harness, Household Furniture, and other effects of Mr. William Nagington, Publican, &c. at the Bird-in-hand Public House, High-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford (a bankrupt). The sale to commence at ten and two each day.

WEDNESDAY'S SALE

Comprises 33 excellent iron-bound ale barrels of various sizes, from 30 to 550 gallons each, about 1000 gallons of ale and cider, a four-pull beer machine nearly new, about three pockets of hops, two large copper furnaces, one iron boiler, a twenty-strike and smaller mashing tubs, coolers, working and gathering tubs, pair of capital vats, with pipes and taps, about 50 dozen of stone and glass bottles, the usual brewing, cellar, and bar utensils, a quantity of gin, rum, brandy, and other spirituous liquors, a neat gig and harness, and sundry miscellaneous effects used in the public business.

THURSDAY'S SALE

Consists of four-post and tent bedsteads with hangings, prime feather bed, bolsters, and pillows, mattresses, sheets, blankets, counterpanes, and bedquilts, hand, bed, and table linen, mahogany and oak dining, dressing, pillar, and drinking tables, twelve stout forms or benches, mahogany bureau and bookcase, chests of drawers, buffet, oak, ash, Windsor, and chamber chairs, an eight-day clock in handsome mahogany case, pictures, looking glasses, wash-stands, wire and iron fenders, fire-irons, &c. including the usual parlour, kitchen, and bed-room furniture, cooking and culinary utensils, and other effects usually found in a respectable public house.

Particulars are given in catalogues now in circulation, and to be had at the place of sale, and at the office of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

FREEHOLD LAND, NEW TOWN, BILSTON.

TO be peremptorily SOLD by AUCTION, by RICHARD CORBETT, on the 12th day of August, 1830, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the Blue Boar Inn, Oxford-street, Bilston aforesaid (by order of the Assignees of William Nagington, a bankrupt), three Lots of Freehold Building Land, fronting to Temple-street, in New Town, Bilston aforesaid, as described in handbills. Also a Seat or Pew, being No. 17 in the North Aisle of St. Leonard's Church, in Bilston aforesaid.

Further particulars may be had of the Auctioneer, in Bilston, or at the office of Thomas Goode, Solicitor, in Dudley.

THE Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt against WILLIAM NAGINGTON, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, may receive the first dividend (of two shillings and sixpence in the pound) on application at the office of

THOMAS GOODE,
Solicitor, Dudley.

1830

THE Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt against WILLIAM NAGINGTON, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, may receive a further and final dividend of 5s. 2d. in the pound on their respective debts, on application at the office of Thomas Goode, Solicitor, Dudley.

1831

BY MESSRS. T. SKIDMORE & SON.

TO BREWERS AND OTHERS.

VALUABLE
COPYHOLD PROPERTIES,
SITUATE IN THE
MANORS OF STOWHEATH AND SEDGLEY,
In the County of Stafford.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY MESSRS. THOMAS SKIDMORE AND SON, at the "BIRD IN HAND," BILSTON, in the said County of Stafford, on MONDAY, the 31st day of March, 1890, at Six o'clock in the Evening (subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society)—

Lot 1.

The Full-licensed and Old-established PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the "Bird in Hand," situate at Bilston aforesaid, and on the main road from Bilston to Goldthorn Hill, until recently and for many years past in the occupation of the late Mrs. Cadman. This House, which has an excellent situation, is well appointed, and contains Tap Room, Bar, Smoke Room, Two Kitchens, and Cellars, spacious Club Room, and Four Bedrooms, a retired yard in the rear, containing Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Cow-house, Dairy, and Hop Room. Early possession can be given.

Also all those FOUR MESSUAGES, situate in Coseley Street, Bilston aforesaid, adjoining at the back of the last-mentioned property, one of which fronts the said street, and is numbered 64, and the remaining three form Court No. 14 at the rear. The Houses, which are in a very good state of repair, are all let to respectable tenants, at rentals producing £31 4s. 0d. per annum.

Lot 2.

An Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as "The Swan," situate in Swan Row, Broad Lanes, Bilston aforesaid, in the occupation of Mr. Enoch Smith as an annual tenant, at £18 per annum. The House is capable of doing a very extensive trade, and contains Tap Room, Bar, Two Kitchens, Cellars, Brewhouse, Four Bedrooms, and an Attic.

Also all those SIX PRIVATE DWELLING-HOUSES, adjoining the last-mentioned, numbered respectively 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18, forming Swan Row, producing an annual rental of £48 19s. 4d.. These Houses are in very good repair, and have pigstyes and brewhouses to each.

Also a DWELLING-HOUSE, being No. 60, Moor Street, Broad Lanes, Bilston aforesaid, now and for many years past in the occupation of Edward Rogers at a weekly rental, producing £5 12s. 8d. per annum.

The total aggregate rental of this Lot is £72 12s. 0d. per annum.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers, 1 and 2, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton; or to

S. PEARMAN SMITH & SONS,
Solicitors, Walsall.

1890

BIRD IN HAND

42, Hill Street, (44, Hall Street), (Hall Green), (Hallfields), Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Simon Talbot, bricklayer, Ardwick, Manchester
John Roberts, charter master, Bilston
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1921]

LICENSEES

Thomas Bagbey [1861]
James Smith [1871] – 1885;
Sarah Smith (1885);
Thomas Hampton (1885 – 1891);
John Emanuel Roberts (1891 – 1893);
Henry Moreton (1893);
Mrs. Mary Jane Lucas (1893 – 1905);
George William Lucas (1905 – 1907);
Mary Jane Lucas (1907 – 1909);
Arthur Fieldhouse (1909 – 1910);
Elizabeth Davies (1910);
Arthur Fellows (1910 – 1912);
John Thomas Reynolds (1912 – 1915);
Mrs. Annie Ada Reynolds (1915 – 1934);
Arthur Samuel Caddick (1934 – 1935);
Albert Owen (1935 – [1940])
John William Stockton [] – 1994
Roy Fox (1995 – [])
Keith Frank Thomas []

2000

NOTES

44, Hall Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891]
42, Hill Street [1904], [1912], [1921], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/4/1843

“The following inquisitions have been held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On the 30th, at the BIRD IN HAND, Hall Green, on Timothy Wilkes, a miner, who had been killed by a fall of coal while at work. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1861 Census

44, Hall Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] Thomas Bagbey (72), publican, born Warwickshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Bagbey (66), wife, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Rowland (36), daughter, born Staffordshire;
- [4] John Rowland (12), grand-son, born Staffordshire;
- [5] John Stoker (34), visitor, carpenter, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Henry Stoker (5), visitor, born Staffordshire;

1871 Census

44, Hall Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] James Smith (44), publican, born Lapworth, Warwickshire;
- [2] Sarah Smith (47), wife, born Solihull;
- [3] Alfred Smith (12), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Alice Smith (9), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [5] Elizabeth Lear (20), general servant, born Bilston:

1881 Census

44, Hall Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] James Smith (55), beer seller, born Lapworth, Warwickshire;
- [2] Sarah Smith (57), wife, born Solihull;
- [3] Alfred Smith (22), son, millman, ironworks, born Bilston;
- [4] Alice Smith (19), daughter, born Bilston:

James Smith died on 18th August 1885.

TO Let, in consequence of death of Proprietor, Bird-in-Hand Beerhouse, Hall-street Bradley; not changed hands for 17 years; rent, £18 per annum; compact brewing plant, in good working order; incoming about £55.—Apply, Payton and Hill, auctioneers, Bilston, or upon the premises.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/9/1885 - Advert

“To Let, in consequence of death of Proprietor, BIRD IN HAND Beerhouse, Hall Street, Bradley; not changed hands for 17 years; rent, £18 per annum; compact brewing plant, in good working order; incoming about £55. Apply, Payton and Hill, auctioneers, Bilston, or upon the premises.”

Thomas Hampton = Thomas Hampson

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1891

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Thomas Hampson (29), landlord of the BIRD IN HAND, Bradley, was fined 40s and the costs for being drunk on his own premises on the 19th ult.”

1891 Census

44, Hall Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] John E. Roberts (22), coal miner and publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Louisa Roberts (22), wife, born Sheffield;
- [3] Alice Smith (16), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

1901 Census

Hill Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] George Lucas (44), safe manufacturer, born Moseley, Warwickshire;
- [2] Mary J. Lucas (44), wife, beerhouse keeper, born Bradley;
- [3] Thomas J. Lucas (19), son, safe maker, born Bradley;
- [4] Fred Lucas (14), son, safe maker's apprentice, born Bradley;
- [5] Sarah A. Lucas (22), daughter, born Bradley;
- [6] Martha Stanford (15), domestic servant, born Bradley:

Mrs. Mary Jane Lucas, beer retailer, 42, Hill Street, Bradley. [1904]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/12/1909 - Advert

“Home-Brewing Beerhouse to Let, doing good trade; newly decorated in and out; good plant, new barrels, &c; good reason for leaving.

A. Fieldhouse, BIRD IN HAND INN, Hill Street, Bradley.”

HOME-BREWING Beerhouse to Let, doing good trade, newly decorated in and out; good plant, new barrels, &c.; good reason for leaving.—A. Fieldhouse, Bird-in-Hand Inn, Hill-st., Bradley.

Birmingham Mail 14/1/1910

“At Bilston today, Arthur Fieldhouse, licensee of the BIRD IN HAND, Hill Street, Bradley, was committed to take his trial at the Assizes upon a charge of attempting to discharge a loaded revolver at his brother, Thomas Fieldhouse, licensee of the SYDNEY VILLIAGE INN, Wright Street, Bradley. Twelve months ago prisoner’s widowed mother died, leaving an estate, and prisoner, being dissatisfied with his share, took to drinking rather heavily. Shortly after midnight on Tuesday last prisoner, it was alleged, scaled the wall at the rear of his brother’s premises, entered the house, and endeavoured to extract a promise from his brother, threatening, if it were not given, he would settle it by having his brother’s life. As he levelled the revolver, however, prosecutor’s wife knocked his hand down, and after a struggle the weapon was taken from him. He then snatched up a poker, but prosecutor’s wife clung to him and held him while her husband called in assistance.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 8/3/1910

“Staffordshire Assizes.

Arthur Fieldhouse (28), publican, was charged with having committed an assault upon his brother, Thomas Fieldhouse, and his wife, at Coseley, on January 12th. On the advice of Mr. R. J. Lawrence, who defended, prisoner pleaded guilty.

Mr. V. G. Milward, prosecuting counsel, said that prisoner was a license holder, and he had been indulging very heavily in drink. At the time of the occurrence he was suffering very much from drink, and went to the house of the prosecutor, where there was a struggle with the brother and his wife. There was an assault, but the brother had no desire to press the case.

For the prisoner, Mr. Lawrence said that Fieldhouse had a very good character. Some years ago he had served in Thorneycroft’s Horse in South Africa. Prisoner went to the house with a loaded revolver, but it was obviously a silly, drunken freak in an utterly absurd drunken frenzy. There was a struggle, but the prisoner refrained during the assault from firing the weapon.

Having regard to the appeal made for prisoner, the Judge said he would bind him over in £50 to come up for judgement if called upon.”

1911 Census

Hill Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] Arthur Fellows (33), enameller, born Bilston;
- [2] Louisa Fellows (31), wife, married 11 years, born Bilston;
- [3] John William Arthur Fellows (9), son, school, born Bilston;
- [4] Sydney Joseph Fellows (8), son, school, born Bilston;
- [5] Percy Cyril Fellows (5), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Wilfred Norris Fellows (2), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Elsie Louisa Fellows (2 months), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Jemima Lewis (24), boarder, boot machinist, born Bilston;
- [9] Leslie Lewis (1), born Bilston;
- [10] Amanda Broome (17), domestic servant, born Tividale:

John T. Reynolds, beer retailer, 42, Hill Street. [1912]

John Thomas Reynolds and Annie Ada Reynolds were the parents of Ron Reynolds – see HORSE AND JOCKEY, Robert Wynd, Sedgley.

John Thomas Reynolds and Annie Ada Reynolds were the grand-parents of Paul Reynolds – see HORSE AND JOCKEY, Robert Wynd, Sedgley.

John Thomas Reynolds and Annie Ada Reynolds were the grand-parents of Mark Reynolds – see HOP VAULT, Stourbridge.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/10/1912 - Advert

“For Sale, big fine Badger, 10 months old.

Apply, BIRD IN HAND INN, Hill Street, Bradley.”

FOR Sale, big fine Badger, 10 months old.—
Apply, Bird-in-Hand Inn, Hill-st., Bradley.

Birmingham Mail 23/2/1915

“At Bilston, yesterday, a Coroner’s jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death in the case of John Thomas Reynolds (42), licensee of the BIRD IN HAND, Bradley, who was killed at the Red Grove Colliery of Messrs. J. and F. Davies. It was stated that Reynolds was also a miner, and on Saturday, while at work in the colliery, there was a fall, which brought down two tons of rock. Reynolds was buried and killed almost instantly, and his son, who was working near, was injured. The place was well timbered, and had been examined.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/2/1915

“Accidental Death was the verdict returned yesterday at Bilston on John Thomas Reynolds, aged 42, licensee of the BIRD IN HAND INN, Bradley, who was killed at the Red Frame Colliery on Saturday by a fall of rock. A son of the deceased only just escaped probably the same fate, being protected by a tub.”

AND

Lichfield Mercury 26/2/1915

“A fall of earth and coal occurred on Saturday in the Red Frame Colliery, Great Bridge Road, near Bradley, and worked by Messrs. J. and F. Davies, and resulted in the death of John Thomas Reynolds, aged 46, landlord of the BIRD IN HAND INN, Bradley. The body was recovered from the debris after much trouble. Another miner was injured, but was able to go home.”

Annie Ada Reynolds was known as Ada.

1921 Census

42, Hill Street

- [1] Ada Reynolds (49), manageress of licensed house, born Bradley;
- [2] James Loach (26), son-in-law, moulder, born Bradley;
- [3] Abigail Loach (24), daughter, born Bradley;
- [4] Hilda Loach (2), grand-daughter, born Bradley;
- [5] James Wilfred Loach (2 months), grand-son, born Bradley;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/2/1936

“The Superintendent, referring to the fact that a surrounding wall had still to be built at the BIRD IN HAND, Bradley, plans for the reconstruction of which were passed two years ago, the chairman told a representative of the brewery company, ‘We don’t pass these plans in a spirit of light-heartedness to while away the time. We expect them to be carried out, and this is treating the Court with great disrespect.’

Renewal of the license was adjourned for a month, the chairman remarking that unless something very definite was done in the meantime the owners might find themselves in a difficulty.

The Bench refused an application for permission to apply at the adjourned sessions for an alteration of licensing hours from 10am to 2pm, to 10.30am to 2.30pm, and from 6pm to 10pm, to 6pm to 10.30pm.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/4/1938

“The County Licensing Confirmation Committee sat at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Tuesday, to consider the confirmation of provisional licenses and removal orders granted in the petty sessional courts.....

An application for the removal of the full license of the ROLLING MILL INN, Highfields, Bradley, to the BIRD IN HAND INN, Bradley, Bilston, the latter being a beerhouse, was refused.”

1939 Register

Hill Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] Albert Owen, date of birth 20/1/1900, public house manager, married;
- [2] Elsie Owen, dob 3/2/1903, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Elizabeth May (Moody) Griffiths, dob 14/6/1916, public house bar general, single;
- [4] John Bagby, dob 7/2/1876, steel works labourer, married;
- [5] Amy Bagby, dob 3/4/1880, nut and bolt worker, married;

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

John Stockton died on 26th September 1994.

London Gazette 2/3/1998

“Keith Frank Thomas carrying on business as the ANGEL Public House, Wednesfield, WHITE ROSE Public House, Temple Street, Bilston, BIRD IN HAND, Hill Street, Bradley, SHEPHERDS COTTAGE, Princes End, Tipton, HORSELEY TAVERN, Dudley Port, COTTAGE SPRING, Alexandra Road, Tipton Date of Filing Petition, 26th January 1998.....”

It closed in July 2000.

It was demolished in October 2001.

Housing was built on the site.

BIRD IN HAND

34, (170), Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Richard Smith, fishmonger, Bilston

Joseph Smith, fishmonger, Oxford Street, Bilston

Harold Smith, fishmonger, Oxford Street, Bilston

LICENSEES

John Firm [1851] – [1865]

A Wood [1867]

Isaiah Sheldon [1868]

Alfred Ward []

Ellen Hawkswood [1871]

Leah Baggot [] – 1873);

Thomas Jones (1873 – 1878);

William Raybould (1878 – 1879);

Isaiah Kinsey (1879 – 1897);

Sarah Ann Kinsey (1897 – 1913):

NOTES

170, Oxford Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891]

34, Oxford Street [1901], [1904], [1911]

It had a beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Oxford Street

[1] John Firm (33), publican, born Darlaston;

[2] Sarah Firm (29), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Lydia Firm (7), daughter, born Darlaston;

[4] Joseph Firm (5), son, born Darlaston;

[5] Elizabeth Firm (1), daughter, born Darlaston;

[6] Sarah Firm (14), servant, born Darlaston:

1861 Census

170, Oxford Street – BIRD IN HAND

[1] John Firm (41), victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Sarah Firm (39), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Lidia Firm (17), daughter, scholar, born Darlaston;

[4] Joseph Firm (15), son, scholar, born Darlaston;

[5] Elizabeth Firm (11), daughter, scholar, born Darlaston;

[6] Enoch Firm (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[7] Enoch Smith (40), lodger, mine borer, born Darlaston:

John Firm, beer retailer, 170, Oxford Street. [1858], [1865]

John Firm, retailer of beer, 170, Oxford Street. [1862]

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1864

“At Bilston, on Tuesday, the following publicans and beerhouse keepers were fined as under for offences against their licenses.....

John Firm, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street, £5 and costs for having his house open for the sale of ale on Sunday morning last.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/10/1867

“G. Lowe will fight Charley Patchet of Wolverhampton at catch weight, for £5 or £10 a side, in six weeks from signing articles. Money ready at Mr. A. Wood’s, BIRD IN HAND INN, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

Isaiah Sheldon, beer retailer, 170, Oxford Street. [1868]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

Permitting Drunkenness Alfred Ward, BIRD IN HAND, Oxford Street, 5s and costs.”

1871 Census

170, Oxford Street

[1] Ellen Hawkwood (48), widow, innkeeper, born Sedgley;

[2] Thomas Hawkwood (23), son, currier, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Harry Hawkwood (17), son, labourer, iron foundry, born Bilston;

[4] Thirza Hawkwood (25), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Abraham Gough (33), lodger, engineer in iron works, born Sedgley:

Ellen Hawkwood – see also GREEN MAN, Oxford Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 11/12/1871

“The following notice has been circulated throughout South Staffordshire.

‘This is to certify that all miners in South Staffordshire give notice to their employers to begin work at seven o’clock and leave work at five o’clock. Signed, Joseph Jevons, Upper Gornal, miner; Richard Porter, Upper Gornal, miner; Isaac Taylor, Summerhill, miner; William Moors, Tipton, miner; Joseph Limeman, Summerhill, miner.’

On Saturday a meeting of miners was held at the BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, Mr. John Powers presiding. After a lengthy discussion, in which it was argued that the miners ought to have the same privileges for recreation and self-improvement as the men in other trades, a resolution was adopted expressing the determination of the meeting to abide by the above notice for the nine hours a day. It was decided to appoint a committee for the purpose of making arrangements for carrying the movement into effect. It was also agreed to hold a public meeting on the first of January, at which the iron and coal masters would be invited to attend and discuss with the men the advisability of conceding the reduction in the hours of labour. The committee were empowered to take steps for raising the funds required to urge on the agitation. It was the opinion of all the men that once the shorter hours were granted, that differences now existing between the bondsmen and pikemen, and other classes of miners, in respect of their working hours, would in a little time become regulated.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/12/1871

“A meeting of miners employed at the various collieries in the neighbourhood of Bilston was held on Monday night at the BIRD IN HAND, Oxford Street, for the purpose of considering the best means to be taken for securing the advantages of the nine hours’ system. Mr. Rowley presided, and there was a good attendance. The men resolved to apply to their employers for the adoption of the system as soon as possible. 0The Rev. H. R. Sandford, one of Her Majesty’s Inspectors of Schools, having heard of the meeting, attended, and expressed himself desirous of addressing the men at some future time on the question of education. He said that when the men had obtained a reduction in the hours of labour they would have more time to gain knowledge, and so improve their minds. It was especially desirable that the young people engaged in mining operations should be educated, and he urged those parents who were present to do their utmost to give their children the benefit of education. The miners were a class who, unfortunately, had been neglected as regarded their education, but he trusted, when the hours of their labour had been reduced, they would make the best use of their extra time in improving their minds (applause).”

1881 Census

170, Oxford Street

- [1] Isaiah Kinsey (48), coal miner, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah A. Kinsey (47), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] William Kinsey (25), son, brass worker, born Bilston;
- [4] Sarah A. Gilbert (13), general servant, born Darlaston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 29/4/1882

“Enoch Kinsey, of Railway Street, was charged with refusing to quit the licensed premises of Isiah Kinsey, BIRD IN HAND, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Saturday night. Defendant was instrumental in creating a disturbance, when he was requested to leave. Complainant took hold of him to put him out, when he assaulted the complainant. In the progress of the case the complainant, evidently wishing to screen the defendant, drew upon him a severe reproof from the bench.

PC Jackson detailed the occurrence, stating a great crowd had collected, and that defendant was very drunk and violent.

Several previous convictions being recorded, defendant was fined 10s and costs, or 14 days’ hard labour for refusing to quit, and for the assaults 5s and costs, or 7 days’.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/10/1886

“The anniversary dinner of the Thriving Plant Lodge of the N. U. O. Free Gardeners No.1517, Bilston, Walsall, and Cannock district, was held on Monday last, at the lodge house, BIRD IN HAND INN, Oxford Street, Bilston. There was a good assembly of members present, including the district officers. The meeting was quite a success in every respect, the members without exception thoroughly enjoying themselves with the excellent repast laid before them by the worthy host, Mr. Isaiah Kinsey A vote of thanks to the Host and Hostess, and Chairman, brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.”

1891 Census

170, Oxford Street – BIRD IN HAND

- [1] Isaiah Kinsey (58), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Ann Kinsey (57), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] William Davies (13), grand-son, scholar, born Bilston:

Sarah Kinsey was convicted on 29th August 1893 for permitting drunkenness.

Isaiah Kinsey, beer retailer, 170, Oxford Street. [1896]

1897 Probate

“Isaiah Kinsey of Bilston, Staffordshire, beerhouse keeper, died 1 March 1897. Probate Lichfield 19 March to William Kinsey, brass bedstead manufacturer, and Richard Davies, stock-taker in ironworks. Effects £269 15s 7d.”

1901 Census

34, Oxford Street

- [1] Sarah A. Kinsey (66), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] William Davis (23), grand-son, brewer, born Bilston;
- [3] Mary Howell (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Mrs. Sarah Ann Kinsey, beer retailer, 34, Oxford Street. [1904]

1911 Census

34, Oxford Street – BIRD IN HAND INN

- [1] Sarah Ann Kinsey (76), widow, beer retailer, beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Richard Davies (54), boarder, store keeper, cycle makers, born Bilston;
- [3] Martha Davies (53), daughter, married 34 years, born Bilston;
- [4] Albert Davies (29), grand-son, cycle free wheel fitter, born Bilston;
- [5] Isaiah Davies (12), grand-son, school, born Bilston;
- [6] Lilian Davies (12), visitor, school, born Bilston;
- [7] William Parker (1), visitor, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/11/1912 - Advert

“Wednesday, November 20th, 1912.

Edwin Hill and Son will offer for Sale by Auction, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on the above date, the under-mentioned Freehold and Copyhold Properties, including an Ante-’69 Beerhouse, situate at Bilston and Daisy Bank.....

Lot 7. A Free Home-Brewing Ante-1869 Beerhouse, known as the BIRD IN HAND, Oxford Street, Bilston. Net annual rental, £23. Also the Retail Shop adjoining, gross annual rental £15 12s; and Four Cottages at the rear, producing on weekly tenancies £26 gross per annum. The above is Copyhold to the Manor of Stowheath.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 7/6/1913

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. Notice of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1901, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shirehall, Stafford, at 10-45 o’clock am on Thursday, the 24th day of July, 1913.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

BIRD IN HAND, Bilston. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Sarah Ann Kinsey.”

License renewal refused by Compensation Authority on 24th July 1913.

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1913

“The principal meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

Seven houses were scheduled in Bilson division.....

BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, ante 1869 beerhouse.....

Renewal was formally applied for and refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/8/1913 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 24th day of July, 1913, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1913, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

BIRD IN HAND, Bilston. Beerhouse ante 1869. Licencee, Sarah Ann Kinsey. Registered Owner, Harold Smith.”

Compensation of £300 was paid on 24th December 1913.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1914

"The annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

At the principal meeting of the compensation authority the committee refused to renew 31 licenses. At the supplemental meeting the committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon were satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund. In the following 27 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

BIRD IN HAND, Bilston, £300."

TO be Let, and may be entered upon immediately—all that well-known Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, known by the sign of the "Bird in Hand Inn," situate at Rodom, between Sedgley and Coaley, now in the occupation of Mrs. Smallman. The house is doing a thriving trade, and which may be considerably increased by a person of energy and respectability. The in-coming about £200. Rent low. The present Proprietor retiring from business, having successfully carried it on for thirty-five years. There are two Lodges held at the house.—For further particulars and to treat apply to Mr. Jabez Bywater, Auctioneer, Prince's End.

1870

OXFORD-STREET AND STONE-STREET, BILSTON.

Lot 7.—A FREE HOME-BREWING ANTE-1869 BREWHOUSE, known as the "Bird-in-Hand," Oxford-street, Bilston. Net annual rental, £13. Also the RETAIL SHOP adjoining, gross annual rental £15 12s.; and FOUR COTTAGES at the rear, producing on weekly tenancies £26 gross per annum. The above is Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath.

1912

BLACK BOY

15, Coseley Road, (15, (12), Coseley Street), (Coseley Row), BILSTON

OWNERS

Mary Williams, widow, Union Street, Bilston

Edwin Hickman, stone quarry master, Union Street, Bilston

Thomas Billingham, innkeeper, Union Inn, Coseley Street, Bilston

LICENSEES

Joseph Bell [1864] – 1867);

Jeremiah Sankey (1867 – [1870]

Mrs. Mary Williams (1870 – 1871);

Thomas Rowbotham (1871 – 1880);

Mrs. Rosannah Rowbotham (1880 – 1906);

Betsy Rowbotham (1906 – 1910);

William Darby (1910 – 1917);

William Henry Haynes (1917 – 1920);

NOTES

Coseley Row

Coseley Street [1866], [1868], 1869, [1881], [1893]

12, Coseley Street [1871], [1896]

15, Coseley Street [1901], [1911]

15, Coseley Road [1904], [1912]

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

Joseph Bell, beer retailer, Coseley Street. [1864], [1865]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/10/1864 - Advert

“Freehold Old-Licensed Public House, at Catchems Corner, Sedgley.

Mr. Jabez Morrell will Sell by Auction on Tuesday, the 1st day of November, 1864, at the house of Mr. Joseph Bell, called the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley Street, Bilston, at Six o'clock in the Evening.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/10/1868

“Staffordshire October Sessions.....

George Rotheram, 22, moulder, was indicted for stealing from the person of Jeremiah Sankey a silver watch, his property, at Whittington. The prosecutor, a Bilston publican, was at Lichfield races on the 27th ult, and while returning from the course was standing in a crowd of persons assembled round a card-thrower, when his watch was stolen from him as he was stooping down. Prisoner was in the crowd near the prosecutor, and a witness deposed to seeing him cut the watchchain with a pair of plyers, take the watch, and run off. The jury acquitted the prisoner.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1869

“Yesterday at Bilston Police Court, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary), Jeremiah Sankey, of the BLACK BOY public house, Coseley Road, was fined £5 and costs, for having permitted drunkenness in his house on the morning of the 13th inst. Police-constables Hughes and Johnson visited the defendant's house, and found a number of men intoxicated there.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....
The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....
Permitting Drunkenness Jeremiah Sankey, BLACK BOY, Coseley Street, Bilston, £5 and costs.
The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....
For keeping open during prohibited hours Jeremiah Sankey, Coseley Street, 20s and costs, and another occasion, £5 and costs.
Permitting Drunkenness Jeremiah Sankey, Coseley Street, 20s and costs.
The licenses of the following publicans were suspended until the adjourned licensing meeting.....
Jeremiah Sankey, BLACK BOY, Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/9/1869

"The adjourned licensing meeting for Bilston was held at the Police Court.....
The following persons had their licenses refused for not having conducted their houses properly.....
Jeremiah Sankey, BLACK BOY, Coseley Street."

London Gazette 1/2/1870

"Jeremiah Sankey, of the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, of no occupation, formerly of the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley-street, Bilston aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, adjudicated bankrupt on the 1st day of November, 1869. An Order of Discharge was granted by the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, on the 27th day of January, 1870."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/8/1870

"The annual sessions for the renewal of existing and the granting of new licenses to licensed victuallers and beersellers in Bilston and Sedgley, was held yesterday at the Police Court, Bilston.....
There were six applications for new licensed victuallers' licenses The following were refused.....
Mrs. Williams, the BLACK BOY, Coseley Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/10/1870

"The adjourned Bilston licensing meeting was held yesterday.....
The Bench granted a beerhouse license to the BLACK BOY, Coseley Street, to be kept by Mrs. Williams."
AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/10/1870

"The adjourned Bilston licensing sessions took place yesterday.....
Mary Williams applied for a license to sell on the premises at the BLACK BOY, Coseley [sic], the house having formerly been a licensed one. The application was granted."

1871 Census

12, Coseley Street – BLACK BOY

- [1] Thomas Rowbotham (44), publican and farmer of 27 acres, born Upper Penn;
- [2] Rosehannah Rowbotham (40), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Betsy Rowbotham (19), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Thomas Rowbotham (15), son, assists on farm, born Upper Penn;
- [5] Caroline Inskip (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1873

"Yesterday the annual licensing meeting for Bilston and the neighbourhood was held in the Petty Sessions Court.....
The proceedings opened by Chief Superintendent McCrea presenting his annual 'black list.' In doing so he remarked that it only indicated eleven offenders, whilst a twelvemonth ago there were twenty-nine. This comparison, he considered, was the clearest substantiation of the beneficial operation of the recent Licensing Act.....
Applications were then considered.....
A wine license was asked for a beerhouse in Coseley Street, in the occupation of Thomas Rowbotham; but the application was found to be invalid, inasmuch as the annual rental was inadequate to the requirements of the Licensing Act."

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1874

“Bilston Annual Licensing Meeting.....

Thomas Robotham desired a wine and spirit license for the BLACK BOY, Coseley Street, Bilston. Five years back the license the house then possessed had been forfeited by misconduct on the part of the then resident tenant. Refused.”

Thomas Rowbotham died on 30th April 1880.

Thomas Rowbotham – see also CHURCH, Millfields Road.

1881 Census

Coseley Street – BLACK BOY

- [1] Rosannah Rowbotham (49), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Betsy Rowbotham (29), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Thomas Rowbotham (25), son, farmer of 28 acres, born Penn;
- [4] Annie Proberts (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/6/1885

“Mr. W. H. Phillips, district coroner, this (Monday) morning held, at the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley Street, Bilston, an adjourned inquiry respecting the death of John Thomas Jones, infant son of Sarah and Thomas Jones, of Coseley Street. Mr. Griffiths, surgeon, stated that he had made a post mortem examination of the body, and had found that death was the result of natural causes. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with this testimony.”

1891 Census

Coseley Street – BLACK BOY

- [1] Rosanna Rowbotham (59), widow, beer seller/retailer, born Bilston:
- [2] Betsy Rowbotham (37), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Thomas Rowbotham (35), son, brewer, born Penn;
- [4] Sarah Proberts (18), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1891

“Bilston licensing sessions were held yesterday There were applications by.....

Rosannah Rowbotham, Coseley Street, Bilston, for a full license. Refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/12/1893

“An inquest was held yesterday afternoon, at the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley Street, Bilston, on the body of William Hancox (30), blast-furnace labourer, who resided with his married sister, Charlotte Collins, at No.13 Court, Coseley Street.

The evidence showed that deceased had been out of employment for about fourteen months, and, in consequence, he was greatly depressed, and had once or twice expressed a wish that he was dead. On Saturday night the deceased man returned to his sister's home under the influence of drink, and retired to his bedroom at about two o'clock on Sunday morning. Five minutes later he called to his sister, who found him in bed, holding a bottle in his hand, from which he had drunk some aconite liniment. His sister administered salt and water to him and he vomited, but died upon the arrival of Mr. John Mathie, surgeon, who stated that fifteen drops of the poison would kill a person.

Dr. Kennedy informed the jury that he supplied the liniment some time ago to the deceased's sister. The sister was recalled, and stated that the bottle had formerly contained intoxicants, and was kept in her bedroom.

A verdict was returned that deceased drank the liniment, which caused his death, but that there was not sufficient evidence to show whether he took it accidentally or not.”

Mrs. Rosannah Rowbotham, beer retailer, 12, Coseley Street. [1896]

1901 Census

15, Coseley Street

[1] Roseanna Robotham (69), widow, publican and brewer, born Bilston;

[2] Betsey Robotham (46), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Sarah Probert (27), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Mrs. Rosannah Rowbotham, beer retailer, 15, Coseley Road. [1904]

1905 Probate

“Rosanna Rowbotham of the BLACK BOY INN, Coseley Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, widow, died 1 November 1905. Probate Lichfield 30 November to Betsy Rowbotham, spinster. Effects £2,059 13s 4d.”

William Darby = William Darbey

1911 Census

15, Coseley Street – BLACK BOY

[1] William Darbey (47), beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;

[2] Emma Darbey (43), wife, married 22 years, house duties, born Bilston;

[3] Joseph William Darbey (21), son, ironworker, tin plate goods, born Bilston;

[4] Arthur Darbey (19), son, school teacher at Penn Schools, born Bilston;

[5] Alice May Darbey (16), daughter, milliner, born Bilston;

[6] Sarah Lamb (17), servant, general house work, born Sedgley:

William Darbey, beer retailer, 15, Coseley Road. [1912]

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1919

“The Principal Meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority for the county was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

Five licenses were referred from the Bilston Division, but in only one case, the BLACK BOY, Coseley Street, an ante-'69 beerhouse, was the decision of the justices below opposed. Mr. Graham Milward appeared for the owner, Mr. Thomas Billingham, and Mr. Ward, for the tenant, William H. Haynes. Supt. Robotham stated that the house was referred on the ground of redundancy. Within 500 yards there were 23 fully-licensed houses, eight beerhouses on and two off. Speaking generally, witness said the house was the worst in the immediate neighbourhood.

Mr. Milward said the owner, Mr. Billingham, was very anxious to retain the house for his son, who had been serving in the war. The house, which had been excellently conducted, was only about 120 yards from a large steelworks. A memorial in favour of the retention of the license had been signed by 404 persons, including nine members of the Bilston Urban District Council.

Mr. A. Tomlins, auctioneer and valuer, stated that the house was in fair structural condition and the accommodation was above the average. Several other witnesses were called by Mr. Milward, it being stated that there was a preference for home-brewed beer in the locality.

The Bench decided to refer the license.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1919

“The following amounts have been settled by the Licensing Compensation Authority for Staffordshire to be paid in respect of licenses the renewal of which was refused by them at the principal meeting on July 24 last.....

The following cases have been referred to the Inland Revenue Commissioners to decide the amount of compensation payable.... BLACK BOY, Coseley Street, Bilston, ante 1869 beerhouse, owned by Mr. T. Billingham.”

Compensation of £905 was paid on 24th December 1920.

The license was extinguished on 31st December 1920.

Demolished

The site was occupied by Hazeldine Coaches [1986]

BLACK HORSE

43, High Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Richard Thompson, engineer, Wellington Street, Bilston
Emma Thompson, Wellington Street, Bilston
The Urban District Council of Bilston

LICENSEES

Ezekiel Morris [1818] – [1834]
Joseph Morris [1835]
Paul Glover [1841] – [1842]
John Ward [1845] – [1850]
John Moore [1849] – [1858]
Noah Halford [1861] – 1866);
Thomas Halford (1866 – 1876);
Eli Smith (1876);
Alfred Joseph Townsend (1876 – 1878);
Elijah Price (1878);
William Henry Jones (1878 – 1879);
Elizabeth Hatton Ramsey (1879 – 1881);
William Henry Jones (1881);
James Lawley (1881 – 1882);
Richard Johnson (1882 – 1886);
Mary Ann Richards (1886);
Thomas Stanton (1886 – 1887);
Patrick Brady (1887);
Thomas Fox (1887 – 1890);
George Gilbert (1890 – 1891);
Arthur Hand (1891 – 1892);
Lewis Haynes (1892 – 1893);
Alice Mann (1893 – 1895);
John Whittle (1895);
Mark Robinson (1895 – 1896);
George Hassell (1896 – 1903);
Charles Pain [1904]

NOTES

Ezekiel Morris was also a horse dealer. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/9/1818 - Advert

“Stolen or Strayed out of a Field at Ettingshall, near Bilston, on Saturday Night the 29th of August, 1818, a Bay Horse, about 15 Hands high, with a long Tail, four white Legs, and a Blaze down the Face, which turns towards one Side; he is Saddle-marked on the left Side. Whoever will give such Information as will lead to the Recovery of the said Horse, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble, on bringing him to the Sign of the BLACK HORSE, Bilston; but if stolen, a Reward of Five Pounds will be given upon the Conviction of the Offender.”

STOLEN or STRAYED out of a Field at Ettingshall, near Bilston, on Saturday Night the 29th of August, 1818, a BAY HORSE, about 15 Hands high, with a long Tail, four white Legs, and a Blaze down the Face, which turns towards one Side; he is Saddle-marked on the left Side. Whoever will give such Information as will lead to the Recovery of the said Horse, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble, on bringing him to the Sign of the Black Horse, Bilston; but if stolen, a Reward of FIVE POUNDS will be given upon the Conviction of the Offender.

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/8/1823

“Committed to our county gaol.....

John Nunnerly, for stealing at Bilston, a brown mare, the property of Ezekiel Morris.”

1841 Census

High Street

[1] Paul Glover (55), publican;

[2] Ann Glover (45);

[3] Sarah Glover (2), born Staffordshire;

[4] Ann Everall (14);

[5] Elenor Everall (10):

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/4/1843 - Advert

“To Publicans.

To be Let, with immediate possession, that well accustomed Public House the BLACK HORSE INN, top of High-street, Bilston, situate in a densely populated neighbourhood; rent and payments moderate, and the coming-in easy, as the stock is being reduced.

The Stock and fixtures to be taken to at a valuation.

For particulars and to treat apply on the premises.”

TO PUBLICANS.
TO be LET, with immediate possession, that well accustomed PUBLIC-HOUSE the BLACK HORSE INN, top of High-street, Bilston, situate in a densely populated neighbourhood; rent and payments moderate, and the coming-in easy, as the stock is being reduced. The Stock and fixtures to be taken to at a valuation. For particulars and to treat apply on the premises.

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/9/1846

“Bilston Public Office.....

William Bayliss was charge by George Brown with stealing one sovereign out of his pocket, on Thursday afternoon, the 3rd inst, at Bilston. It appeared that the prosecutor and prisoner were together on the day in question, and bet a quart of ale bout some blast furnaces. Some time afterwards the prosecutor lay down in a field, and went to sleep, having one sovereign and 4s in silver in his pocket. When he awoke the prisoner was going away from him. The prosecutor followed him into Bilston, and the prisoner went into the BLACK HORSE INN, and had some ale. When the prosecutor got to the prisoner, he (prosecutor) told him that he had robbed him of a sovereign, which he denied, but afterwards gave the sovereign to a man named Clayton, who then gave it to the prosecutor, and the prosecutor gave it the police officer, Roe, who took the prisoner into custody.

The prisoner, after being cautioned, said that he went to his house and fetched a sovereign and a shilling, to pay for some ale for Clayton, and as the prosecutor charged him with robbing him, he gave him the sovereign to say nothing about it.

The Bench committed the prisoner for trial at the sessions.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/10/1846

“Staffordshire Michaelmas Sessions To be imprisoned twelve months.....

William Baylis, for stealing a sovereign, the property of George Bowen, at Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/3/1848

“Collins and Badger. We are informed that these parties have agreed to draw their stakes; and we are requested to send Collins’s money to his backer, Mr. William Thorney, at the BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston, and Badger’s to Mr. John Chapman, at the BARLEY MOW, Pipers Row, Wolverhampton. This we shall do on Tuesday, unless we hear to the contrary by that morning’s post.”

John Moore = John Moor

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/8/1849

"John Moore, landlord of the BLACK HORSE, Bilston, charged with keeping his house open after 12 o'clock on Saturday night last, was ordered to pay the costs of the information."

1851 Census

High Street

[1] John Moor (49), blacksmith and innkeeper, born Hartlebury, Worcestershire;

[2] Sarah Moor (52), wife, born Cheston, Shropshire;

[3] Margaret Hughes (18), house servant, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/9/1857

"Bilston Licensing Meeting.....

The license of John Moore, BLACK HORSE, was suspended till the 22nd September, in consequence of his having been convicted during the year for permitting disorderly conduct in his house, after having been cautioned last year for a similar offence."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/12/1857

"During the night of Wednesday last, a small pig, weighing about 40lbs, was stolen from the stable of Mr. Moore, of the BLACK HORSE INN, Bilston. The pig taken was the finest of four locked up in the stable for security."

Birmingham Journal 23/10/1858

"On Monday night last, between twelve and one o'clock, Mr. John Moore, the landlord of the BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston, was knocked down on the highway at Broad Lanes, by two men, and robbed. His leg was broken by the fall. He lay for some time on the road till his groans attracted the attention of some casual passers-by, by whom he was conveyed to an adjoining house."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/5/1859

"Bilston Police Court.....

Joseph Inglesbee was brought up on a warrant, charged with assaulting and robbing John Moore, formerly landlord of the BLACK HORSE INN, Bilston, but now residing at Stourbridge. Mr. Moore stated that on the 18th of October last, returning from Stourbridge to Bilston, he stopped at the Deepfields Station, and called at the BOAT INN. The prisoner and some other persons were there, and he gave them a quart of ale, having some brandy for himself. He afterwards set out homewards, but was overtaken by Inglesbee and two or three others. Inglesbee knocked him over a low fence, by which his leg was broken, and said, 'Let us have his money;' the others said, 'No, come away; he says his leg is broken.' Inglesbee replied that he should take his (prosecutor's) hat, and did so. Mr. Moore was afterwards found by a man who had also been at the BOAT, who procured assistance, and had him removed home. This person was examined for the defence, and stated that Inglesbee and he left the inn together, he following Mr. Moore, and Inglesbee going home in a contrary direction. He also stated that Mr. Moore was very much intoxicated, and that when asked how his leg had been broken, he replied that he did not know. The Bench considered the evidence against the prisoner insufficient, and discharged him."

1861 Census

43, High Street

[1] Noah Halford (26), victualler, born Bilston:

[2] Harriet Halford (18), wife, born Bilston:

[3] Margaret Bilk (17), servant, born Bilston:

Harriet Halford was the daughter of Thomas Tomes – see HIMLEY ARMS.

Birmingham Daily Post 22/6/1865 - Advert

"Found, on the 1st instant, a young Brown Greyhound Dog. The owner may have him by paying all expenses. If not claimed by Monday next, will be sold to pay expenses. Apply, BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston."

FOUND, on the 1st instant, a young Brown GREY-
HOUND DOG. The owner may have him by paying all expenses.
If not claimed by Monday next, will be sold to pay expenses.—Apply,
Black Horse, High Street, Bilston.

Noah Halford – see also GREAT WESTERN, Ash Street.

Thomas Halford was the brother of Noah Halford.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year’s list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Thomas Halford, BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston License renewed.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 27/2/1869 - Deaths

“On the 22nd inst, aged 1 year and 9 months, Dora Phoebe, youngest daughter of Thomas and Rebecca Halford, BLACK HORSE INN, High Street, Bilston; deeply regretted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/9/1869

“Fanny Conway, of Hartshorne Street, was charged with having threatened William Perry, alias ‘The Tipton Slasher,’ who some time ago held the belt as being the champion prizefighter of England. He stated that he was drinking at the BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston, with defendant, who picked up a jug and threatened to throw it at him. He said that he was afraid that she would do him some bodily injury. The Bench bound her over to keep the peace towards complainant.”

1871 Census

43, High Street – BLACK HORSE

[1] Thomas Halford (40), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Rebecca Halford (42), wife, born Tipton;

[3] Jemima Halford (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] William J. Halford (5), son, scholar, born Can Lane;

[5] Thomas Halford (2), son, born Bilston;

[6] Mary Ann Astins (20), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Thomas Halford died in the 1st quarter of 1875.

Rebecca Halford married Eli Smith in the 3rd quarter of 1875.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/12/1875

“Eli Smith, licensed victualler BLACK HORSE public house, High Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting drunkenness in his house. Police-constable Wade entered the defendant’s house on Wednesday night, and found the defendant drunk and quarrelling with his wife, to whom he had been married but a short time. Before the officer entered, the defendant had, it was said, been beating his wife. He was fined 40s and costs, the conviction being endorsed upon his license.”

London Gazette 28/8/1877

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Alfred Joseph Townsend, of the BLACK HORSE, High-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Joseph Stokes, of 1, Priory-street, Dudley, in the county of Worcester, Solicitor, on the 7th day of September, 1877, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely.

Dated this 23rd day of August, 1877.

Jos. Stokes, 1, Priory-street, Dudley, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/10/1877 - Advert

“In Liquidation. Re A. J. Townsend.

Important Sale of the valuable Goodwill and Possession of that old-established and well-known Full-Licensed House, the BLACK HORSE INN, High Street, Bilston.

W. J. Seal is instructed by the Trustee to Sell by Auction, upon the Premises, on Monday Next, October 22 at 3 for 4 o'clock prompt.

The valuable Goodwill and Possession of this capital House, occupying a most commanding and important corner position upon the main road to Wolverhampton. The Premises are compact and held at a very low rental. The valuation of Fixtures, &c, will be very low, and offers an unusual opportunity of securing, with attention, a capital business house.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Stokes, Solicitor, Dudley; William George Dixon, 46 Queen Street, Wolverhampton, Trustee; or to the Auctioneer's Offices, 11, Union Street, Birmingham.”

London Gazette 23/12/1879

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

A Dividend is intended to be declared in the matter of Alfred Joseph Townsend, of the BLACK HORSE INN, High-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, adjudicated bankrupt on the 24th day of September, 1877. Creditors who have not proved their debts by the 6th day of January, 1880, will be excluded.

Dated this 15th day of December, 1879. Wm. Geo. Dixon, Trustee.”

1881 Census

43, High Street – BLACK HORSE

[1] Helena Jones (20), daughter, barmaid, born Bilston;

[2] Sarah Harris (16), domestic servant, born Coseley:

Evening Star 24/2/1882

“Richard Kinsey and William Waldron, of Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, were charged with being drunk on licensed premises. Mr. Fellows, of Bilston, defended and pleaded guilty. Police-constable Moss stated that about 12.20 on the evening of Saturday, the 11th inst, he was on duty with Police-constable Bentley in High Street, and saw the defendants come out of the BLACK HORSE, kept by James Lawley, drunk, and in company with their wives. Each defendant was fined 20s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1890

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Thomas Fox, 90, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal, applied for a transfer to himself of the license of the CHAPEL HOUSE INN, Ruiton, from Mary Cartwright. Chief-superintendent Longden opposed the application, stating that some time ago, when Fox kept the BLACK HORSE INN, Bilston, that house was very badly conducted. The application was refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/12/1894

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Alice Mann, the landlady of the BLACK HORSE, High Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting drunkenness. Mr. A. Whitehouse prosecuted, and Mr. A. Willcock defended.

The evidence showed that two constables found three drunken persons in her house, but defendant denied in the box any knowledge of the people being the worse for drink, and in cross-examination she said she did not think she could tell when a person was drunk. A fine of £5 was imposed, and two of the persons alleged to have been drunk on the occasion were each fined 10s and the costs.”

1901 Census

High Street

- [1] George Hassell (50), colliery engine driver and publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Ann Hassell (50), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Gertrude Hassell (24), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [4] George Hassell (22), son, railway engine driver, born Sedgley;
- [5] Mary Ann Hassell (19), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Edith Hassell (17), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [7] Amelia Hassell (15), daughter, born Sedgley;

Closed

The license was removed to the STAR INN, beerhouse, Lichfield Street, in 1903.

The house was pulled down in 1903.

In Liquidation. —Re A. J. Townsend. —Important Sale of the valuable GOODWILL and POSSESSION of that old-established and well-known FULL-LICENSED HOUSE, "THE BLACK HORSE" High Street, Bilston.

W. J. SEAL is instructed by the Trustee to Sell by Auction, upon the Premises, on MONDAY NEXT, October 22 at 3 for 4 o'clock prompt—the valuable GOODWILL and POSSESSION of this capital House, occupying a most commanding and important corner position upon the main road to Wolverhampton. The Premises are compact and held at a very low rental. The valuation of Fixtures, &c., will be very low, and offers an unusual opportunity of securing, with attention, a capital business house.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Stokes, Solicitor, Dudley; William George Dixon, 43, Queen Street, Wolverhampton, Trustee; or to the Auctioneer's Offices, 11, Union Street, Birmingham.

BLACK SWAN

Swan Bank, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Hill [1818]

NOTES

Joseph Hill was also a bricklayer. [1818]

BLANKMAKERS ARMS

26, (55), Green Croft, (Green Acres), BILSTON

OWNERS

Evan Griffiths
William Halford
Joseph Whitehouse and Co., brewers, Talbot Brewery, Smethwick
Showells Brewery Co. Ltd. [1921]
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased)

LICENSEES

Silas Caddick [1851] – [1859]
William Parker [1860] – 1864;
Evan Griffiths (1864 – 1881);
Sarah Griffiths (1881 – 1884);
William Halford (1884 – 1885);
William Hartshorne (1885 – 1887);
Charles Henry Smith (1887);
John Francis Anderson (1887);
Thomas Wilkinson (1887 – 1888);
Thomas Alfred Holt (1888 – 1890);
William Edwin Cole (1890 – 1891);
Alfred Newton (1891 – 1892);
Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (1892 – 1897);
Albert Smith (1897 – 1898);
Alfred Richardson (1898);
Henry Insley (1898 – 1899);
Ogbert Charles Hackett (1899 – 1900);
John Henry Pitt (1900 – 1902);
Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (1902 – 1909);
John Bowen (1909 – 1911);
Henry Insley (1911 – 1912);
Benjamin Oldfield (1912 – 1916);
Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (1916 – 1922);
Albert Ernest Cranswick (1922 – 1923);
Harry Howell (1923 – 1926);
Mrs. Emily Jane (Batchford) Alger (1926 – [1940])

NOTES

55, Green Croft [1862], [1873], [1874], [1881], [1891], [1896]
55, Green Acres [1892]
26, Green Croft [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

BLANK TRAY MAKERS ARMS [1860]

It was known locally as "The Blank".

TO JAPANNERS.

TO BE SOLD, a bargain, on account of the present owner having no further use for them, two excellent JAPAN STOVES, doors 12 feet by 12 feet, with racks, &c. complete. They have not been in use more than a few months — For particulars and to treat apply to Mr. SILAS CADDICK, Blank Makers' Arms, Green Croft, Bilston.

1854

BILSTON.

TO BLANK TRAY MANUFACTURERS & OTHERS.
TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, the BLANK TRAY SHOPPING, &c., lately occupied by Mr. Silas Caddick, deceased, in Greencroft, Bilston. The Tools, Stamps, &c., at a fair valuation. Rental moderate.— For further particulars, apply to W. P. Tomkys, sen., 27, Wellington Street, Bilston. 3938

BILSTON.

TO INNKEEPERS, BLANK-TRAY MAKERS, AND THE PUBLIC.
TO be LET, and may be entered on immediately, (in consequence of the death of the Proprietor,) that old-established HOUSE, known as the "BLANK-MAKERS ARMS INN," situate in Greencroft, Bilston, either with or without the Blank-maker's Shopping in the rear thereof. Rental and incoming payments very moderate.
For further information, apply to W. P. Tomkys, sen., Auctioneer, 27, Wellington Street, Bilston.

1859

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/5/1849

“An inquest was held on Monday last, at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Edward Upton, about 40 years of age, who on Saturday morning last, about six o’clock, was coming up a stone pit in Lester’s field, in a skip with Thomas Lines, another miner, and when the skip was about half way up the engine stopped, and the skip remained stationary for a few minutes. It then went on, and just as it was starting Upton put his shoulder and hands to the side of the shaft, for the purpose of pushing the skip from the side, but, as the skip moved easier than he expected he slipped off it, and fell to the bottom of the pit, a distance of about 60 yards, by which one of his arms and one of his legs were broken, and he was also very much bruised. He was found to be quite dead. Lines, the other man, stated that he had a very narrow escape with his own life. He did not consider there was any blame to be attached to the engineer, who was a steady man. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/9/1850

“Suspected Murder at Bilston.

Yesterday (Tuesday) an inquest was held at the BLANK TRAY MAKERS ARMS, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Edward Bateman, about twenty-four years of age, a blank tray maker, who was found lying across one of the wooden stays in a pit near to Mr. Lester’s water engine, belonging to the New Road Colliery, at the top of Green Croft, about half-past one o’clock on Sunday morning, quite dead.

It appeared that the deceased had been drinking on Saturday night at two public houses, the last at which he called being the FOX. The deceased left that house a little after twelve o’clock, in company with Joseph Bennett (an acquaintance), William Lloyd and his wife, Thomas Carrier, John Bennett and John Hughes. They were all ‘fresh.’ When they had nearly reached the Market Place the deceased had a quarrel with a man in the street, and struck him on the body with some weapon which afterwards turned out to be a poker. Joseph Bennett said to the deceased, ‘Don’t strike the man,’ but he struck the man another blow on the arm and then ran up Homers Fold, which leads to Caddick’s gardens. When in the middle of the fold he ran with great violence against a wooden stump, placed there to prevent carts passing, and Joseph Bennett heard something fall upon the stones which sounded like iron. The deceased picked it up and ran on. Several persons who had been present when the deceased struck the man said, ‘That’s a poker,’ and immediately ran after the deceased. Joseph Bennett followed them, and when he got to Caddick’s gardens he heard the men ask a woman of the name of Rosannah Dolemen if she had seen a man. She replied that she had, and that he had gone up the gardens (which leads in the direction of Mr. Lester’s engine pit, at the top of Green Croft). The men, according to the evidence of Joseph Bennett, did not go as far as Lester’s pit. After they had looked for the deceased some time they came into Mr. Barrett’s garden, and one of them said to Bennett, ‘You are one of the b—— that were along with the other’ (meaning the deceased), and instantly struck him with his fist upon his face, knocked him down, and kicked him several times. Bennett called out, ‘Murder,’ and they ran away. He was afterwards met by Isaac Tomkinson, a special constable on duty in Crown Street, from whose evidence it appeared that Bennett came from the direction of Caddick’s gardens with a great deal of blood upon his face, and a cut across his nose. At Bennett’s request Tomkinson went up to Caddick’s gardens to see if he could ascertain the names of the men who had beaten him, but as he (Tomkinson) did not see any one there he went on and overtook William Alltree, who went with him to Lester’s water engine, where Alltree shouted, ‘John Bennett’ several times, saying that he had gone in that direction, and being very drunk he was afraid he would lie down, but no one answered. Tomkinson also stated that a boy of the name of Jesse Page, who was lying in the ash hole asleep, was aroused, and in reply to questions, said he had heard some fighting near the spot, that he saw several men run away, that some ran towards the gardens and the others towards the new road. He (Tomkinson) then turned away, and hearing a rumbling noise in the pit shaft asked the boy if there was any one at work, and he replied, ‘No,’ adding that he dared say it was a man who had been there drunk and had gone away again. (This man, it appears, was afterwards found drunk and asleep on the slack.) The boy then shouted down the pit, ‘Holloa,’ when Tomkinson heard a groan, and also shouted down, ‘Holloa,’ as loud as he could. Hearing another groan he went to the house of Edward Davis, the engineer, and called him up. He afterwards went to the police station, and reported what had taken place to inspector Thompson, who sent an officer to the pit. The engineer (who was not sober) was shortly afterwards let down the pit, and when he had descended about ninety-four yards, he said, ‘I’ve got him; he is dead enough.’ He shortly afterwards brought Bateman up quite dead, with severe cuts upon his head and cheek, and otherwise dreadfully bruised upon various parts of his body. The deceased was found lying across the stay. The pit is partially covered.

The boy Jesse Page, on being examined, denied that he had heard any quarrelling during the night, but said that he was awoke, about a quarter of an hour before Tomkinson came, by the noise of a man running, that he got up and watched him go by the engine house, and near a pit on the right of the pit in question, and across the Wolverhampton and Bilston road.

Enoch Brooks proved that on Sunday morning, about half-past six, he found the poker which had previously been seen in the possession of the deceased, but which belonged to the FOX public house, on the circle of the pit near to the part which is partially covered over. The deceased was in the habit of passing the pit in question in going from Bilston to Wolverhampton, and knew the situation of it. The pit is about 130 yards deep, but there is a scaffold about 94 yards down, on which the deceased was found.

There being no evidence to show by what means the deceased got into the pit, the coroner adjourned the inquest to afford time for the collection of further evidence.

The investigation (which occupied several hours) appeared to excite great interest in the neighbourhood."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1850

"On Friday, the adjourned inquest on the body of Edward Bateman, found dead in Mr. Lister's engine pit at the top of Green Croft, was held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, at the BLANK TRAY MAKERS ARMS. Rosannah Doleman and Maria Small gave corroborative evidence as to seeing a number of men running after a man through Homers Fold towards Green Croft on the night in question. John Owen was recalled, and said he was sure it was not Joseph Bennett whom he saw beaten in Caddick's garden on the occasion alluded to. He saw the man that was beaten get up and walk in the direction of Homers Fold. Mr. T. W. Dickenson, who had made a post mortem examination of the body, gave it as his opinion that the death of the deceased was caused by the lacerations, fractures, and contusions which he had found on his body. The coroner further adjourned the inquiry till Tuesday morning, the 8th of October."

1851 Census

Greencroft

- [1] Silas Caddick (51), blank tray maker employing 5 men and 5 boys and beershop keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Caddick (51), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Eliza Caddick (22), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Thomas Caddick (20), son, blank maker, born Bilston;
- [5] Sarah Caddick (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] David Caddick (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Eliza Caddick (2), daughter, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1852

"Thursday last was the general annual licensing day of the division of Seisdon North, when there were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses The successful applicants for new licenses were.....

Silas Caddick, Greencroft, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/10/1854 - Advert

"To Japanners.

To be Sold, a bargain, on account of the present owner having no further use for them, two excellent Japan Stoves, doors 12 feet by 12 feet, with racks, &c, complete. They have not been in use more than a few months.

For particulars and to treat apply to Mr. Silas Caddick, BLANK MAKERS ARMS, Green Croft, Bilston."

Birmingham Daily Post 9/3/1859

"About four o'clock on Monday afternoon, as a cart, driven by a man named Thomas Pinfield, and in which were other two men, was proceeding along Church Street, Bilston, a girl named Jane Williams attempted to pass in front with a child in her arms. Pinfield is said to have been partially intoxicated, and sitting with his back to the horse, conversing with his companions. A by-stander, however, succeeded in directing his attention to the danger in which the girl Williams was, and for a moment he held the animal in. The girl, however, lost her presence of mind, and the screams of some women having set the horse off, she was knocked down, the child was flung out of her arms, and the wheel passed over her face, crushing her under jaw in a frightful manner. The infant had one of its feet injured by the wheel, but is not considered in danger."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 11/3/1859

“An inquest was held yesterday, at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, Deputy Coroner, on the body of Jane Williams, the girl killed on Monday afternoon, in Church Street, by being run over by a cart. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Silas Caddick died in the 1st quarter of 1859.

Birmingham Journal 3/12/1859 - Adverts

“Bilston. To Blank Tray Manufacturers & Others.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the Blank Tray Shopping, &c, lately occupied by Mr. Silas Caddick, deceased, in Greencroft, Bilston. The Tools, Stamps, &c, at a fair valuation. Rental moderate.

For further particulars, apply to W. P. Tomkys, sen, 27, Wellington Street, Bilston.”

AND

“Bilston. To Innkeepers, Blank-Tray Makers, and the Public.

To be Let, and may be entered on immediately (in consequence of the death of the Proprietor), that old-established House, known as the BLANK MAKERS ARMS INN, situate in Greencroft, Bilston, either with or without the Blank-maker’s Shopping in the rear thereof. Rental and in-coming payments very moderate.

For further information, apply to W. P. Tomkys, sen, Auctioneer, 27, Wellington Street, Bilston.”

Sarah Caddick, 21, spinster, married Evan Griffiths, 21, bachelor, on 9th April 1860.

1861 Census

55, Green Croft – BLANK MAKERS ARMS

[1] William Parker (40), publican, born Bilston;

[2] Hannah Parker (39), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Sarah Parker (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] George Parker (12), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] Eliza Clemson (34), visitor, born Bilston:

William Parker, retailer of beer, 55, Green Croft. [1862]

William Parker – see also MOXLEY ARMS, Darlaston.

Evan Griffiths = Evan Griffith

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1865

“On Monday, an inquest was held at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Bilston, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, on the body of a boy, aged twelve, named John Allen, whose parents live at Green Croft. The evidence showed that at a little after four o’clock on Saturday afternoon the deceased, without previously ascertaining its depth, went to bathe in a brick-pit, in which there was nine feet of water, and he was drowned. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/12/1868

“Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, before I. Spooner, Esq, John Smith, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street; Evan Griffiths, BRICKMAKERS [sic] ARMS, Greencroft Street; and John Lloyd, SWAN INN, Swan Bank, were charged, for that they being ale house keepers, did knowingly suffer gaming in their houses. Mr. Young, of the Oxford Circuit, instructed by Mr. Bowen, appeared on behalf of the defendants. The case against John Smith was heard first.

Police-sergeant Chatfield stated that at between seven and eight o’clock on the evening of Saturday, the 7th November, he visited the bowling alley of John Smith, in company with Police-constable Moffatt. When he went in, there were about ten or twelve persons (men and boys) there. Four of them were bowling, and the landlord was present with a book in his hand, taking down the number of pins that each bowler knocked over. When they had done bowling the two losers paid the defendant twopence each, and he then gave the winners a brass ‘cheque’ each, similar to the one produced, which would entitle the holders to two penny worth of liquor in the defendant’s house, or a cigar.

Cross-examined by Mr. Young: He was in the house about half an hour, and saw four or five games. He was known well there as a Bilston police officer, and notwithstanding his presence the defendant continued to superintend the bowling and to carry on the transactions with the cheques during the whole time he was there. He believed that the defendant's house had been well conducted; but he could not go so far as to say that it was as well conducted as any in the town. There had been no complaint made respecting it. There had been a bowling alley at the house for about six months. It was one of the first opened in Bilston, and they had been only recently introduced into the town. He had heard that the defendant was under the impression that his allowing the bowling for cheques was not illegal.

No other witness was called on the part of the prosecution, and Mr. Young, on behalf of the defendant, said that, as he had intimated at the commencement, he did not intend to plead 'not guilty' to the charge; but he was anxious that Mr. Spooner should have the facts in reference to the case brought before him, because it appeared to him to be very different to that class of cases where offences were committed rather in defiance than in ignorance of the law. There was no doubt that the defendant had committed the offence, but there was also no doubt that he did so under the impression that what was taking place in his house was not illegal, but on the contrary was a legal act. The law had been clearly laid down that bowling 'for money, or money's worth' was alike illegal, but the question in the present case, was whether, under the circumstances, the defendant was a person against whom anything like a severe penalty should be inflicted. There was no doubt, although they had not got at that in a strictly legal form, that it had come to the knowledge of the police-officer that the defendant had been acting under a wrong impression in the matter, before he visited the house. Bowling alleys had only been recently introduced into Bilston, and that probably might somewhat account for the ignorance of the law relating to them; but he was sure that after receiving this legal notice, as it were, of the illegality of such transactions as referred to, they should hear of no more offences of that character. Mr. Spooner said there had been no previous complaint against the defendant, and he should impose a fine of 1s and costs. That kind of thing must be put a stop to, however, and if it was continued the utmost penalty must be inflicted. Mr. Young observed that the cases as against the other two defendants were exactly similar.

Chief-Superintendent McCrea, in reply to Mr. Spooner, said he had received numerous complaints recently from the parents of boys who visited these bowling saloons.

The two defendants, Griffiths and Smith [sic], pleaded guilty, and the same penalty was imposed on each as in the previous case; but Mr. Spooner observed that he was empowered at once to fine them £10, and he was sure he should not hesitate if another case came before him, because, as had been shown, so much mischief was done by that kind of thing, and especially to boys."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/12/1868

"John Smith, landlord of the BALL COURT INN, Stafford Street; Evan Griffiths, BRICKMAKERS [sic] ARMS, Greencroft Street; and John Lloyd, SWAN INN, Swan Bank, were all fined 1s and costs for permitting gaming in their houses."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Allowing Gambling Evan Griffiths, BRICKMAKERS [sic] ARMS, Green Croft, 1s and costs."

1871 Census

55, Greencroft – BLANKMAKERS ARMS and shopping

[1] Evan Griffiths (31), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Sarah Griffiths (31), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Sarah Griffiths (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Evan Griffiths (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] Charles Henry Griffiths (4), son, scholar, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/10/1879

"On Thursday, at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Green Croft, Bilston, W. H. Phillips, Esq, district coroner, opened an inquest concerning the death of Mary Ann Lloyd, a single woman, 21 years of age, lately living in Green Croft, who died on Monday evening under peculiar circumstances.

May Lloyd, widow, said the deceased was her daughter. She had never had a child, but she was pregnant at the time of her death, and had been so for about eight months. During that period her health had been generally good, but on Monday last she complained of illness, and remained at home instead of going to work as usual at the factory. She was sick and vomited a great deal and had several fits, and Dr. Larkin was fetched and saw her twice that day, and his assistant also saw her. Deceased became unconscious at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and did not recover consciousness up to nine o'clock, when she died. Witness could not in any way account for the sudden illness of the deceased.

Sarah Hayward, a neighbour, said she was called in to see the deceased on Monday morning, and was with her during the day and present when she died. Deceased vomited violently and repeatedly had fits. Witness did not know what was the cause of the sudden illness of deceased. She had at times seen her distressed and crying, and she believed it was owing to the girl's sweetheart having gone away.

The Coroner thought that seeing how mysterious the case was it would be better that a post mortem examination should be made, and he therefore adjourned the enquiry for that purpose until the following day.

On the inquest being resumed, Dr. H. W. Larkin was examined. He said he first saw the deceased between ten and eleven o'clock on Monday morning, and learned that she had then just rallied from a fit. He saw her again during the day, and she was then unconscious, and he was informed that she had vomited the medicine that he had sent her. At the request of the Coroner he had made a post mortem examination of the body, in conjunction with Mr. Clendinnen. There were no outwards marks of violence. Internally he found the stomach was very red and inflamed at the cardiac end, and neither that organ nor the intestines contained any fluid or solid matter besides blood and bile. The other viscera were slightly congested, and in the gravid uterus he saw signs of inflammation during life. They opened the head and examined the brain. The pia mater was congested and soft and friable, and the upper portion of the spinal column was much congested. He attributed the redness and emptiness of the stomach to the severe vomiting, together with the convulsions, and the coma from which the deceased died, arose from uremic blood poisoning, a condition which sometimes occurred in advanced pregnancy and during and after childbirth. There was nothing whatever to show that any noxious drug had been taken by the deceased, and he was perfectly satisfied that death had resulted from Natural Causes.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with Dr. Larkin's evidence."

1881 Probate

"The Will of Evan Griffiths, late of Green Croft, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, who died 20 November 1880 at Green Croft, was proved at Lichfield on 11 January by Silas Caddick of Church Street, Bilston, Butcher, and Sarah Griffiths of Green Croft, Widow, the Relict, two of the Executors. Personal Estate under £600."

1881 Census

55, Green Croft – BLANK MAKERS ARMS

- [1] Sarah Griffiths (40), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah H. Griffiths (20), daughter, born Bilston;
- [3] Charles H. Griffiths (14), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Elizabeth Caddick (18), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [5] Sarah Haywood (61), visitor, widow, born Wellington, Shropshire:

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/6/1884

"On Saturday, a dinner was given by Mr. Silas Caddick, of Bilston, to about fifty of his relatives, in celebration of his fiftieth birthday, at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS INN, Greencroft. Much praise is due to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. William Halford, for the admirable manner in which the dinner was prepared, everything being of a superior quality. After dinner, the health of the donor was proposed by Mr. Daniel Caddick (who occupied the chair), and drunk with enthusiasm. Several other toasts followed, including the health of the host and hostess. During the evening, songs were given by Miss Griffiths and others, and the playing of the National Anthem brought a pleasant gathering to a close."

Darlaston Weekly Times 28/11/1885 - Advert

“The BLANK MAKERS ARMS INN, Greencroft, Bilston.

Spacious New Assembly Rooms. Proprietor, Wm. Hartshorne (late Griffiths).

The public are respectfully informed that the above Assembly Rooms are now open, and are replete with every convenience and comfort, the house having been re-constructed at considerable cost, now presents a cheerful aspect – strikingly in contrast to its antiquated appearance prior to alterations.

The Proprietor, who will be glad to see all the old friends – and a great many new ones – herewith informs them that it is his intention to keep a thoroughly respectable house, to produce a glass of best ale, Brewed on the premises from malt and hops only – Not to be Excelled; to supply the very Best Wines, Spirits, and Cigars of the various good brands, always in stock, at cash prices.

First Class Pianist on Monday, Saturday, and Tuesday Evenings, thus offering to amateur singers the services of first-class accompanists.

Private Smoke Room for Commercial Gentlemen.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/6/1890

“Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

A meeting of the creditors of Thomas Alfred Holt, formerly of the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft, Bilston, and now of 37, Wellington Street, Bilston, was held at the office of the Official Receiver, Wolverhampton, yesterday. The liabilities were set down at £116 16s 2d, and the assets as nil. The debtor took the BLANKMAKERS ARMS in 1888, paying £168 for the goodwill. The house was subsequently sold to a firm of brewers. He received notice to quit by March last, and he had been unable to obtain anything for the goodwill. He estimated his loss on the transaction at £78 6s 1d. The creditors refused to accept a composition of 2s 6s in the pound, and the matter was left in the hands of the Official Receiver.”

1891 Census

55, Green Croft

[1] William E. Cole (45), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;

[2] Harriett Cole (47), wife, waitress, born Bilston;

[3] Benjamin J. Cole (23), son, fishmonger, born Bilston;

[4] Emma Cross (4), visitor, born Walsall;

[5] Emma Oakley (15), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

William Edwin Cole – see also OLD MERMAID and ROYAL ARTILLERY.

Birmingham Daily Post 21/9/1892 - Advert

“Pianist and Vocalist (as). Situation Wanted; to live in; good character; used to bar business; age 22.

Address, T. S., BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft, Bilston.”

PIANIST and Vocalist (as).—Situation Wanted ; to live in ; good character ; used to bar business ; age 22.—Address, T. S., Blank-makers Arms, Greencroft, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/6/1894 - Advert

“Important Sale of Freehold Public House Property at Bilston.

Messrs. Thomas Howell and Co. are instructed to Sell by Auction, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on Thursday Next, June 14, punctually at Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions incorporating those of the Birmingham Law Society, the undermentioned Desirable Properties.

Lot 1. All that Exceedingly-valuable Full-Licensed Inn and Premises, known as the CASTLE, advantageously situated at the corner of Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. John Fowler.

The central position of this House must always command an extensive and lucrative trade.

Lot 2. All that Roomy and Convenient Full-Licensed Inn, known at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft, near Church Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Henry T. Hodgkiss.

This House is situated in a good business locality, and the Premises include an extensive range of Shopping.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. William Shakespeare and Co., Solicitors, Oldbury; or to the Auctioneers, 112, Colmore Row, Birmingham.”

Henry Hodgkiss, beer retailer, 55, Green Croft. [1896]

Henry Tertius Hodgkiss – see also CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, LEOPARD, Church Street, ROYAL OAK, High Street, GATE, WHITE HART and SEVEN STARS.

Sporting Life 13/1/1900

“Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers’ Billiard League.

The following are the entries and starts for the third billiard tournament, open to the beer and wine trade, promoted by Messrs. Burroughes and Watts.....

A. Hackett, BLANK MAKERS ARMS, Bilston, 60.”

1901 Census

26, Greencroft

- [1] John H. Pitt (47), publican, born Dudley;
- [2] Lydia Pitt (46), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Albert E. Pitt (17), son, railway clerk, born Bilston;
- [4] Elsie J. Pitt (10), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Florence L. G. Pitt (7), daughter, born Wolverhampton:

John Henry Pitt – see also RING OF BELLS, New Street, Wolverhampton.

1911 Census

26, Greencroft – BLANKMAKERS ARMS

- [1] John Bowen (46), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Bowen (45), wife, married 23 years, born Brockmoor;
- [3] Harriet Bowen (22), daughter, assists in business, born Bilston;
- [4] Harold Bowen (17), son, motor making, wheels, born Bilston;
- [5] Ida Bowen (11), daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [6] Gladys Emberton (5), niece, school, born Wednesbury:

Benjamin Oldfield – see also HEN AND CHICKENS, George Street, and OLD BOARS HEAD.

1921 Census

26, Greencroft

- [1] Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (54), license holder, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ellen Eliza Hodgkiss (35), wife, born Reading, Berkshire;
- [3] George Manning, hairdresser, born Reading, Berkshire;
- [4] Norris Haynes (25), boarder, painter, born Bilston:

Emily Jane Batchford married Robert Spencer Alger on 19th April 1927.

1939 Register

26, Green Croft (4 of 5)

- [1] Emily J. Alger, date of birth 9/8/1888, innkeeper, married;
- [2] Robert S. Alger, dob 24/2/1901, fitter, aircraft, married;
- [3] Gordon W. Batchford, dob 6/8/1913, railway goods porter, heavy work, single;
- [4] Cyril G. Batchford, dob 2/5/1919, fitter, aircraft, single;

Evening Despatch 15/3/1939

“A Bulldog puppy was judged best in show at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Bilston, by Mr. Campbell. The dog, owned by Mr. Wedge, was prominently placed during the course of the show.....”

A team from here took part in the Bilston Charity Darts League. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Bilston Crib League, Section B. [1946]

It was the winter training headquarters of Bilston Town FC. [c.1950]

Evening Despatch 16/1/1953

“Cross-Country Club Plans.....

Bilston Town A.C.: Fast and slow packs, BLANKMAKERS ARMS (3).”

Closed

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 5/4/1964

“In many parts of Britain the local factory has its complement in the local public house.....

The Midland counties have, or have had, a number of rarer occupational signs, such as the MINE BORERS ARMS, Darlaston, and the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Bilston (both de-licensed) Two more which have been de-licensed, the JAPANNERS ARMS, Wolverhampton, and the SHINGLERS ARMS, Dudley.”

It was demolished c.1965.

THE BLANK MAKERS ARMS INN, GREENCROFT, BILSTON.

SPACIOUS NEW ASSEMBLY ROOMS

Proprietor .. Wm. HARTSHORNE, (Late Griffiths).

The public are respectfully informed that the above Assembly Rooms are now open, and are replete with every convenience and comfort, the house having been re-constructed at considerable cost, now presents a cheerful aspect - strikingly in contrast to its antiquated appearance prior to alterations.

The Proprietor, who will be glad to see all the old friends—and a great many new ones—herewith informs them that it is his intention to keep a thoroughly respectable house, to produce a glass of best ale, Brewed on the premises from malt and hops only—Not to be Excelled; to supply the very Best Wines, Spirits, and Cigars of the various good brands, always in stock, at cash prices.

First Class PIANIST on Monday, Saturday, and Tuesday Evenings, thus offering to amateur singers the services of first-class accompanists.

Private Smoke Room for Commercial Gen. & Men

1885

IMPORTANT SALE OF FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE PROPERTY AT BILSTON.

MESSRS. THOMAS HOWELL and CO.
are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Pipe Hall Hotel, Bilston, on THURSDAY NEXT, June 14, punctually at Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions incorporating those of the Birmingham Law Society—the undermentioned Desirable

PROPERTIES.

Lot 1.—All that Exceedingly-valuable FULL-LICENSED INN and PREMISES, known as “THE CASTLE,” advantageously situated at the corner of Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. John Fowler.

The central position of this House must always command an extensive and lucrative trade.

Lot 2.—All that Roomy and Convenient FULL-LICENSED INN, known as “THE BLANKMAKERS’ ARMS,” Greencroft, near Church Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Henry T. Hodgkiss.

This House is situated in a good business locality, and the Premises include an extensive range of Shopping.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. William Shakespeare and Co., Solicitors, Oldbury; or to the Auctioneers, 112, Colmore Row, Birmingham.

1894

BLUE BALL

BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Lawrence [1879]

BLUE BOAR

209, (98), Oxford Street, (Oxford Road), New Town, BILSTON

OWNERS

James Hateley Francis
B Woolley, ironfounder, Hill Top, West Bromwich
James Wilkinson, spirit merchant, Walsall
Mitchell and Co., Smethwick
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1921]

LICENSEES

Mrs. Yardley [1791]
Joseph Hateley [1799] – [1804]
Charles Gallimore [1805] – 1817
Thomas Cockayne [1818]
James Hateley Francis [1822] – [1835]
William Powell [1841] – [1842]
John Shaw Walker [1844]
Joseph Hateley [1845] – [1847]
John Smith [1849] – [1850]
Richard Oldacre [1850] – 1851;
John Cartwright (1851 – 1852);
Henry Male (1852 – 1858)
Alfred Hammond [1860] – [1862]
David Riley [1864] – [1870]
William Tonks [1871] – [1872]
Mrs. Sarah Tonks [1873] – 1875;
George Bolton (1875 – 1888);
John Edwin Payne (1888 – 1890);
Paul William Harvey (1890);
Mrs. Ann (Tasker) Foster (1890 – 1911);
William Edward Hazlehurst (1911 – 1920);
Thomas William Moses (1920 – 1929);
Isaac William Sharman (1929 – 1933);
William Thomas Perrins (1933 – 1940)
John Coleclough []

NOTES

New Town [1818]
Oxford Road [1822]
98, Oxford Street [1858], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1872], [1873], [1874], [1891], [1892], [1896]
209, Oxford Street [1904], [1908], [1901], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It was also known as the BLUE PIG.

The cellar was cut into the coal-face.

Bilston Turnpike Tolls to be Let.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates or Turnpikes upon the Turnpike Road leading from High Bullen, in Wednesbury, to the further End of Darlaston Lane, next the Portway, and from thence through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be LET by AUCTION, for one whole Year, at the House of Joseph Hateley, the Blue Boar Inn, in Bilston aforesaid, on Tuesday the 26th Day of November, 1799, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon of the same Day, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the 13th Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, "for regulating the Turnpike Roads;" which Tolls were let on Lease the last Year for the under mentioned Sums, clear of the Expences of collecting them, and will be put up at those Sums respectively. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder must, at the same Time, give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

Cock Heath Gate	—	—	—	£262	0	0
Bilston Bridge, Duck Lane, and Cold Lands Gates	—	—	—	207	0	0
Gibbet Lane and Catchem's Corner Gates, and Fighting Cocks and Ettingshall Bars	—	—	—	436	0	0

By Order of the Trustees,
JOHN WILLIAM,
Clerk and Treasurer.

1799

Turnpike Road from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet-Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

THE next General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the Blue Boar Inn, in Bilston, To-morrow, the 17th Day of March inst. at One o'Clock in the Afternoon.

JOHN WILLIAM,
Clerk to the Trustees.

Bilston, March 16, 1801.

1801

Widow Yardley, victualler, BLUE BOAR, Bilston. [1791]

Joseph Hately = Joseph Hateley

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/10/1799 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Tolls to be Let.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates or Turnpikes upon the Turnpike Road leading from High Bullen, in Wednesbury, to the further End of Darlaston Lane, next the Portway, and from thence through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, for one whole Year at the House of Joseph Hately, the BLUE BOAR INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Tuesday the 26th Day of November, 1799, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon of the same Day, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the 13th Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, 'for regulating the Turnpike Roads;' which Tolls were let on Lease the last Year for the under-mentioned Sums, clear of the Expenses of collecting them, and will be put up at those Sums respectively. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder must, at the same Time, give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

Cock Heath Gate, £262.

Bilston Bridge, Duck Lane, and Cold Lands Gate, £207.

Gibbet Lane and Catchems Corner Gates, and Fighting Cocks and Ettingshall Bars, £436.

By Order of the Trustees, John Willim, Clerk and Treasurer."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/3/1801 - Advert

"Turnpike Road from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

The next General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the BLUE BOAR INN, in Bilston, Tomorrow, the 17th Day of March inst, at One o'Clock in the Afternoon.

John Willim, Clerk to the Trustees. Bilston, March 16, 1801."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/5/1804 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Randle Walker, on the Premises, near Mr. Hateley's, the BLUE BOAR, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, on Thursday the 24th Day of May, 1804, a Quantity of Implements of Husbandry and Farming Stock....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/12/1805 - Advert

"Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction for one whole Year, commencing the 1st Day of January next, at the next Meeting of the Trustees, to be holden at the House of Charles Gallimore, the BLUE BOAR INN, in Bilston aforesaid....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/6/1806 - Advert

"Stolen or Strayed, out of a Close adjoining Bradley Lodge, near Bilston, early on Thursday Morning last, a Bay Mare, about seven Years old, fifteen Hands and a Half high, a small Star on the Forehead, black Mane and Tail, several Saddle Marks on the near Side, a Splint outside the off Leg, puffed on the Extremity of the Gambrels, and was lately kicked by another Horse under the off Stifle Joint, which is not yet well. If stolen, whoever will cause the Offender of Offenders to be apprehended and convicted, shall receive a Reward of Ten Guineas. If strayed, whoever will bring the above Mare to Mr. Charles Gallimore, BLUE BOAR, Bilston, shall be handsomely rewarded, and all Expenses paid."

STOLEN or STRAYED, out of a Close adjoining Bradley Lodge, near Bilston, early on Thursday Morning last, a BAY MARE, about seven Years old, fifteen Hands and a Half high, a small Star on the Forehead, black Mane and Tail, several Saddle Marks on the near Side, a Splint outside the off Leg before, puffed on the Extremity of the Gambrels, and was lately kicked by another Horse under the off Stifle Joint, which is not yet well. If stolen, whoever will cause the Offender or Offenders to be apprehended and convicted, shall receive a Reward of TEN GUINEAS. If strayed, whoever will bring the above Mare to Mr. Charles Gallimore, Blue Boar, Bilston, shall be handsomely rewarded, and all Expenses paid.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/11/1807 - Advert

"Stolen or Strayed, out of a Piece of Ground in the Manor of Bradley, near Bilston, in the County of Stafford, a dark Bay Poney Mare, about 10 Hands high, aged; has a white Blaze down the Forehead, and one white Leg behind. Whoever will bring her to Mr. Charles Gallimore's, BLUE PIG INN, in Bilston, or Mr. Joseph Hately's, TALBOT INN, Wednesbury, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble, and all Expenses paid."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/11/1810 - Advert

"To Timber Dealers, Builders, and Others.

To be disposed of by private Contract, the very extensive Building Trade, the Stock of excellent unconverted and converted Building Timber and other Materials, belonging to Mr. Charles Gallimore, near the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, who wishes to decline the Business, having other Concerns to attend to, with a convenient House, extensive Shopping, Offices, and double Sawpits in an entire Yard, which are to be let to any one who wishes to enter into the aforesaid lucrative Concern, it now being central, and fully employed by the adjoining Collieries, Furnaces, &c, where every Material in the above Business (with Labour) is much consumed. The present Stock is now very considerable, and should any Person be desirous of engaging with the present Proprietor, and the Stock too extensive, he will have no Objection of reducing it.

Further Particulars may be known by applying to Mr. Charles Gallimore, the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, or of Messrs. T. and J. Bateman, Surveyors and Auctioneers, Duddeston Street, Birmingham.

NB. If more convenient to the Purchaser, he may be accommodated with a Mine of Clay and Brick Yard."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/10/1813 - Advert

"Screw Manufactory and Iron Forge.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Walker, Tomorrow (Tuesday), the 5th of October, at the BLUE BOAR, in Bilston, at Five o'clock in the Afternoon (subject to the Conditions which will be then read)....

Mr. Charles Gallimore, jun, of the BLUE BOAR aforesaid, will shew the Premises; and further Information respecting the same may be had at the Office of Mr. John Willim, Solicitor, in Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/11/1815 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, called or known by the Names of Bilston Bridge, Cold Lanes, and High Street Gates, situate in the Township of Bilston, will be Let by Auction to the best Bidder, for one whole Year, commencing the first Day of January next, at the House of Charles Gallimore, the BLUE BOAR, in Bilston....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/4/1817 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett (by Direction of the Assignees of Messrs. Rushbury, Bankrupts) on Friday next, the 2nd Day of May, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, at the House of Mr. Charles Gallimore, the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, subject to Conditions then to be produced.

All the Estate, Right and Interest (late of the above-mentioned Bankrupts, but now of their Assignees) of, in, and to a certain Colliery and Ironstone Work, called the New Friezland Colliery, situate near Bilston aforesaid; and also of, in and to all Engines, Gins, Pits, Implements, and Utensils, now being in and upon the said Colliery....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/8/1817 - Advert

"Notice.

All Persons having Demands on Charles Gallimore, late of the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, but now of Perry Barr, are requested to transmit the same to him that they may be examined and discharged. All Persons standing indebted to the said C. Gallimore are requested to pay the same to him forthwith at the BLUE BOAR, in Bilston, where he will attend on Monday each Week for that Purpose, till the 1st Day of September next, otherwise they will be sued for the same without further Notice.

Perry Barr, August 4, 1817

Thomas Cockayne = Thomas Cockeyne

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/8/1825 - Advert

"Taken Up on Monday last, at Bilston, a Chestnut Horse, of the nag kind. Any person having lost the same may have him again, on describing his marks and paying all expenses, by applying to James Hateley Francis, BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston. August 8, 1825."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/1/1833 - Advert

"Dinner to Francis Holyoake, Esq.

The Committee for conducting the Election of F. Holyoake, Esq, as one of the Members for this Borough, beg to inform their Friends who feel interested in the cause he came forward to support, that they intend Dining together on Friday, the 25th day of January instant, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston.

Dinner on the Table at Four o'Clock precisely.

Tickets, 3s 6d (exclusive of Wine) to be had at the KINGS ARMS, the CASTLE, and the BLUE BOAR INNS, Bilston; where early applications are requested to be made.

S. S. Briscoe, Esq, President. Mr. John Mason, Vice-President."

[Francis Holyoake was elected as Conservative Member of Parliament for Stafford in 1835, and shortly afterwards was created a baronet. In May 1835 he took the Chiltern Hundreds in order to sit for South Staffordshire. He retired from Parliament at the 1837 election. Wikipedia.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/8/1835 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by J. Gilbert, on Tuesday the 15th day of September, 1835, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston.

Six well-built Houses, which have lately undergone a thorough repair, situate in Bridge Street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Berry and others, and producing a rental of £55 per annum.

To view the premises apply to Mr. Francis, BLUE BOAR INN, and for further particulars to Mr. Stuart, Solicitor, both of Bilston, or to the Auctioneer, 120, Bordesley Street, Birmingham."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/9/1835 - Advert

"Excellent Freehold Investments, at Bilston and Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett (by directions of the devisees in trust for sale), on Monday, the 14th of September 1835, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston, aforesaid, subject to conditions then to be read.

Lot I. The above named Old Established Travellers Inn and tap-house, situate at the corner of a street at the entrance of the populous town of Bilston, on the great road from London to Holyhead; and comprises extensive ale and wine vaults, a large tap-room and parlour to the front, a large back parlour, bar, and kitchen, with convenient bed-rooms over the whole, a commodious brewhouse with store-room over it, a large larder, an extensive enclosed yard with well of water, suitable stabling for eight horses, sheds, piggeries, outbuildings, and other conveniences; now in the occupation of Mr. J. H. Francis, as tenant at will. And also two small Dwelling Houses with their appurtenances, adjoining the stables, and fronting to Lester Street, now in the occupation of Thomas Parkes and John Williams."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/7/1837

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

John Neil was charged with stealing three pounds and upwards in silver coin, from the person of Cornelius Westwood. The prisoner was an Irishman, who, it appeared, was strolling about with a fiddle. The prosecutor met with him a short distance from Bilston, and listening to his tale of distress, treated him with some ale. The prisoner afterwards followed him to the BLUE PIG, at Bilston, where the prosecutor got change for a £5 note, and treated him with more ale, and the prisoner said rum also; but this the prosecutor denied – stating that he never treated men – only the ladies with rum. The prosecutor being wearied with working all the previous night, and a long walk during the day, fell asleep, when the prisoner returned his kindness by picking his pocket; and was caught in the act by the ostler at the public house. The constable searched him and found £1 17s 6d on his person. The prisoner cross-examined the witnesses with considerable acuteness, and set up a strange rambling defence, saying he was 'mythered' with the ale; which, he was sure, 'had a great deal of combustible material in it,' and did not know what he did. Guilty. To be imprisoned 12 calendar months, and kept to hard labour."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/10/1838 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by J. Gilbert, on Thursday next, October 4, at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, a variety of Liquor Shop Fittings, sundry Household Furniture, Sow and Pigs, and other Effects, the property of the late Mr. J. H. Francis, sold in consequence of reducing the establishment.

Particulars will appear in catalogues, to be had this present Monday at the place of sale."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/10/1838 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by J. Gilbert, this present Monday, October 8, at the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston, a quantity of Spirit Shop Fittings, mahogany and oak dining and drinking tables, ale casks, carts, harness, sow and pigs, and a variety of other effects, the property of the late Mr. J. H. Francis; sold in consequence of a reduction of the establishment.

Sale to commence at ten o'clock. Particulars in catalogues may be had at the place of sale.

At three o'clock in the afternoon will be offered, at the BLUE BOAR INN, twenty Pockets of Worcester Hops, growth of 1837; also 123 dozen Bottles of excellent Port and Sherry Wines, in lots suitable to purchasers, the property of a bankrupt, and consigned by the Assignees for positive sale."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/1/1839 - Advert

"Two Sovereigns Reward.

Any person having found the Will of the late J. H. Francis, and will restore it to J. Gilbert, 95, Bartholomew Street, will receive the above Reward."

TWO SOVEREIGNS REWARD.
ANY person having found the WILL of the late J. H. FRANCIS, and will restore it to J. Gilbert, 95, Bartholomew-street, will receive the above Reward.

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/4/1839

"On Sunday, the 21st instant, James Cope had been drinking at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, and in returning home late in the evening went across a coal pit field, and fell into an old pit, where he remained until Wednesday, and was then brought up a corpse."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/7/1839 - Advert

"Freehold Investments. An Excellent Travellers Inn, at Bilston, and first-rate Mercer's and Druggist's Shops, near the Market Place, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett (by direction of the trustees for sale under the will of Mr. James H. Francis, late of Bilston, deceased), on Monday next, the 15th day of July, at the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston aforesaid, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read, and in the following or such other lots as may be desired by the company present.

Lot I. All that the above named old established and well accustomed Travellers Inn and Tap House, situated at the corner of a street at the south entrance of the populous town of Bilston aforesaid, on the line of the great road from London to Holyhead, and known at the BLUE BOAR INN, which was carried on by the late proprietor till his death, and comprises extensive cellars, a commodious tap room, large and small parlours, kitchen, and bar, with convenient bed rooms over the whole, a brewhouse and a malt room over it, stabling for eight horses, sheds, piggeries, and other outbuildings, a spacious back yard, with a well of water and other conveniences; and also two small Tenements, with their appurtenances, adjoining the stabling and fronting to Lester Street, now or lately occupied by Thomas Cooper and Robert Gettings.

Lot II. All that first-rate recently and substantially built Mercer's and Draper's Shop, with genteel House and Premises, situate near the Market Place in the town of Wednesbury.....

Lot III. The adjoining suitably built Chemist's and Druggist's Shop, with a well fitted up House and Premises.....

Lot IV. A Pew in Bilston Church.

Lot V. A pew in Willenhall Church."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/10/1839 - Advert

"Sale at the BLUE BOAR, INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. Gilbert, on Thursday next, October 17, all the Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, and other effects belonging to the late Mr. J. H. Francis.

Catalogues may be had at the place of sale, and of J. Gilbert, Mogul Inn, Bartholomew Street, Birmingham."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/11/1842 - Advert

“The BLUE BOAR Public House, at Bilston.

To be Let, with immediate possession, the above old-established and well-accustomed House, now doing an excellent ready money trade.

The Premises, which are replete with every convenience, and lately put into thorough repair, consist of a large and well fitted up bar, smoke room, dining room, and chambers, large tap room, convenient brewhouse, and capital cellaring. Attached is a spacious yard, with stabling, piggeries, &c.

The present proprietor is disposing of the premises and business in consequence of engagements at a distance.

The fixtures and public house furniture only to be taken by valuation.

For particulars apply upon the premises, or to William Aston, Auctioneer and Valuer. Offices, North Street, Wolverhampton.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/12/1843 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession.

The old-licensed Public House, known by the sign of the BLUE BOAR INN, situated at Bilston, in the county of Stafford. This is an opportunity which rarely offers itself to persons desirous of embarking in the above business, the house lying by the road side leading from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, and is surrounded by both coal and iron works in full operation.

Rent moderate, and the coming-in about £60.

For particulars, apply to Mr. H. Pitt, Coal Master, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/1/1844 - Advert

“BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston.

John Shaw Walker begs most respectfully to inform his friends and the public that he has taken to the above Inn, and trusts, in adding to their comfort, by selling a superior article, to merit a portion of their favours.

The Bradford Street Brewery, Walsall, is still carried on by him, but the lease expiring in November next, it is to be let.

January 29, 1844.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/4/1844

“Inquests before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner.....

On Thursday last, at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, on the body of Robert Wilson, a labourer, aged 25 years. The deceased was employed at the works of Mr. Parsons, the Brook Furnaces, Bilston, to tend and empty the waggon which conveyed up an incline railway the coal, cokes, and ironstone, to feed the furnaces; and while following his daily avocation, on the 23rd instant, the chain, which connects the waggon with an engine, broke, and the waggon began to run backwards. The deceased, in his fright, jumped from it to the ground, and fell into the pit in which the fly wheel works, and was thrown between the wheel and the wall of the pit (a space of only about six inches), and in an instant crushed to death. To prevent accidents of this description, an implement termed a ‘tail’ is fixed at the back of the waggon, and forms a sort of scotch when the chain breaks, but on this occasion the force, in consequence of the waggon being heavily laden, was so great as to break the ‘tail’ and the death of the deceased was the result. Several witnesses were examined, and, from their testimony, it appeared no person was to be criminally blamed in reference to the death of the unfortunate man, although they stated that the chain had frequently broken. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death but accompanied it with an expression of their opinion that the chain was unsafe, and that there was a great want of care on the part of the principals and agents of the works.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/12/1844 - Advert

“BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston.

To be Let, with possession at the end of January, 1845, the above Inn, doing a good trade, and parted with on account of the proprietor having other engagements. Rent moderate, and coming-in low.

Apply as above, or to Mr. Henry Pitt, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/3/1845 - Advert

“Wanted a steady active Young Man, as Brewer and Ostler.

Apply to Mr. Joseph Hateley, BLUE BOAR, Bilston.”

WANTED a steady active Young Man, as
BREWER and OSTLER.—Apply to Mr.
JOSEPH HATELEY, Blue Boar, Bilston.

Birmingham Journal 25/7/1846

“On Tuesday evening last, an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Joseph Hateley, BLUE BOAR, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, upon the body of Abel Peace, a child fifteen weeks old. It appeared that on Sunday afternoon last, the father of the child gave it, in mistake for Godfrey’s Cordial, a spoonful of eye-water, which had been given him at the Birmingham Eye Infirmary for another of his children. He took it out of the cupboard, where there were two bottles, one containing Godfrey’s Cordial, and did not discover his mistake until it was too late. The little sufferer lingered until half-past two on Monday afternoon, when it died. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, who was called in to attend the child, said the bottle contained extract of opium. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/1/1847

“On Thursday an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Joseph Hateley, the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, upon the body of John Norton, who was found dead in an engine house at Bilston. It appeared from the evidence that the deceased was 66 years old, and on Tuesday night week, about a quarter past twelve, was found by a person named Matthews in an engine house in Mr. Baldwin’s colliery, quite dead. He was in the habit of going to sleep in the place. A post mortem examination of the body was made by Mr. Cooper, surgeon, and his evidence went to show that the deceased died from apoplexy. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical testimony.”

Birmingham Journal 25/11/1848

“On Saturday afternoon last, a boy named William Abberley, about twelve or fourteen years of age, was at work in a coal pit at Waterloo, in the parish of Wednesbury, when about ten or fifteen tons of coal suddenly fell from the roof upon him, by which his right leg and left arm were broken, and his head dreadfully fractured. His death must have been instantaneous. There had previously been a slip of coal near the place where deceased was at work, and a prop had been placed under the spot where the coal fell, which appeared to be, only a minute before the accident, quite safe. An inquest was held on Tuesday, at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

John Smith was also a brassfounder. [1849], [1850]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/4/1849

“On Thursday last an inquest was held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, on the body of Luke Burke, about eighteen years of age, who on the previous Tuesday evening was coming up a shaft with two other men at Mr. Vernon’s colliery at Mill Lane, when the skip caught the side of the pit about six yards from the top, and the deceased fell to the bottom – about sixty yards. He was killed on the spot. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/5/1849

“On Monday last T. M. Phillips, Esq, held an inquest at the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, on the body of Aaron Haywood, nineteen years of age, who was killed on Friday last in a stone pit at Riley’s field, in this parish. Whilst in the act of drawing a tree from under the roof of the workings a large quantity of clod suddenly fell in upon him, struck his head, knocked him down, and partly covered him. On the clod being removed, it was found that his head was dreadfully fractured. He breathed once or twice, and then expired. One of the witnesses examined at the inquest stated that he had cautioned the deceased several times not to remove a tree without putting another in before he did so. Haywood had been a miner for many years. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/8/1849 - Advert

“Sale of Crops of Wheat and Oats, on Bradley Lodge Estate, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. G. Brown, at the BLUE BOAR INN, New Town, Bilston, on Friday the 17th of August, 1849, at four o’clock in the afternoon. The following Lots.

Lot I. About 1¾ acres of Wheat.

Lot II. Ditto 1½ acres ditto and Oats

Lot III. Ditto 8½ acres of Oats.

Lot IV. Ditto 4¼ acres of ditto.

Lot V. Ditto 6½ acres of ditto.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/12/1850

“At Bilston Petty Sessions, on Tuesday, two men, named Thomas Elks and Thomas Dutton, were brought before the Bench, under the following circumstances. The first-named prisoner had been brewer in the service of Mr. Richard Oldacre, licensed victualler, of the BLUE PIG, and on the afternoon of Friday last his master left him in charge of the house for several hours, in consequence of being called from home on business. On returning in the evening he found Elks groping about the ale cellar in a state of intoxication, unable to give an intelligible answer as to what he had been about, and Mr. Oldacre had further the mortification to discover, on going into the spirit cellar, that one cask of French brandy and another of gin were running to waste on the floor, in consequence of the taps being turned on. The prisoner Dutton had apparently been a companion in the carousal, as he was met staggering out of the brewhouse. On further examination being made, a bottle of sherry and a quantity of gin were found concealed in the brewhouse, and Mr. Oldacre considered himself justified in giving Elks into the custody of the police. It was also determined to search Dutton’s house, at Moxley, and the result was his apprehension on the charge of stealing two bottles of brandy and a bottle of gin, which were found concealed in a box. They were both committed to take their trial at the sessions.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1851

“Staffordshire Epiphany Sessions.....

Thomas Elks and Thomas Dutton were indicted for stealing a bottle of sherry wine, two quarts of brandy, a quart of gin, three glass bottles, and a stone bottle, the property of Richard Oldacre, at Bilston. Mr. Cook Evans conducted the prosecution; Mr. C. G. Dawson defended the prisoner Dutton; Elks was undefended.

The leading facts elucidated by the evidence were that the prisoner Elks was employed by the prosecutor, the landlord of the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, as brewer; and that Dutton occasionally assisted as gardener. On the afternoon of the 6th of December the prosecutor left home, and returned about six o’clock in the evening, when he called for Elks to take care of his horse. From information he received, he proceeded to the ale cellar, when he observed Dutton going from the cellar into the top brewhouse; upon getting to the cellar, he found Elks in a state of extreme intoxication, attempting to tun some ale; and the taps of both a brandy and a gin cask were left half-turned in the spirit cellar, the spirits running upon the cellar floor. A few minutes afterwards the prosecutor discovered a bottle of sherry wine, and a pint cup three-parts full of gin concealed under a mash tub in the top brewhouse, where Dutton was going when seen by the prosecutor. Elks was then taken into custody; and the prosecutor, accompanied by police-officer Reuben Billett, proceeded to the house of Dutton, about half-a-mile distant. Dutton, who was at home, denied the charge, and stated that he had not any spirits in the house; but upon a box upstairs belonging to the prisoner being searched, four bottles were found, two of them containing brandy and the other two being filled with gin. The bottles were produced, and the prosecutor stated that the three glass bottles were similar to porter bottles which had been in his possession; and that the stone bottle was similar in form, and bore the same name, as several others which he had at home. The case was further proved by two sisters, named Buttery, one of whom deposed that she passed through Dutton’s bedroom on the afternoon of the 6th ult, when the box lid was open, at which time there were no bottles in the box. On cross-examination, it was deposed by Eliza Buttery, who lodged with the prisoner Dutton, that when the prisoner returned home on the evening of the 6th of December, she saw no bottles.

Mr. Dawson addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner Dutton, and contended that there was no direct proof that the bottles found at his house were the property of the prosecutor.

The learned Chairman then summed up the evidence, and in the course of his remarks, observed that there did not appear to be any case against Elks, for although he was very drunk, there was no proof that he either put the articles in the top brewhouse, or had anything to do with the transaction.

The jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict of guilty against Dutton, but acquitted Elks. Dutton was sentenced to be imprisoned to hard labour for six months.”

1851 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Richard Oldacre (35), victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Oldacre (32), wife, domestic, born Darlaston;
- [3] Caroline Oldacre (11), daughter, assistant at home, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Ann Oldacre (9), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] William Oldacre (6), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Joseph Oldacre (9 months), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Emma Cartwright (18), general servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/4/1851

“At a Special Sessions of County Justices, held on Monday last, the 28th instant, for transferring victuallers’ licenses, the following licenses were transferred.....

Richard Oldacre, of the BLUE PIG, Bilston, to John Cartwright, of Stourbridge.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/9/1851 - Advert

“BLUE PIG, Bilston.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, the above well built and good accustomed Public House, situate in Oxford Street, Bilston, in which an excellent business has for many years been carried on, and which is now occupied by John Cartwright, at a low rental of £45 per annum.

Also four convenient and genteel Dwelling Houses, adjoining the above, and now let to respectable tenants, at the rental of £28 per annum.

For further particulars and to treat, apply to Mr. Willim, solicitor, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/12/1851

“An inquest was held on Wednesday at the house of Mr. John Cartwright, BLUE PIG, Oxford Street, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of William Jones, a miner, aged 50, residing in Jacksons Square. On Saturday night last the deceased was found lying in the road at Moorcroft in a helpless state of drunkenness, by a man named Cooper, who took him to his house and allowed him to sit by the fire all night. On Cooper coming down stairs on the following morning he found the deceased dead in the chair. Verdict, Found Dead.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/4/1852

“At an adjourned special sessions for the transfer of victuallers’ licenses, within the division of Seisdon North..... BLUE PIG, Bilston, from John Cartwright to Henry Male, of Kingswinford, boatman.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/6/1852

“On Monday last, the following inquests were held before W. W. Ward, Esq, acting for T. M. Phillips, Esq.....

At the BLUE BOAR, Oxford Street, Bilston, on the body of Samuel Palin, a miner, who was killed by a fall of rock, in a coal-pit at the Fireholes. Verdict according to the circumstance.”

Birmingham Journal 17/7/1852

“On Saturday, an inquest was held at the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, on the body of John Owen, aged twenty-five, a labourer on the railway now in course of construction. It appeared that during the dinner-hour on the previous day, the deceased and some of his companions went to bathe in the canal at Hallfields, when, getting beyond his depth, he was drowned, in spite of the efforts made by his comrades to save him. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/10/1852

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Stephen Cooper, 24, was indicted for stealing from the person of James Friar, at the parish of Wednesbury, 7s 6d, his property. The prosecutor said he had been at the BLUE PIG, at Bilston, on August 10, and was returning towards Westbromwich, at night, when the prisoner and another man joined him. After walking with him some distance, the prisoner put his hand in his pocket and abstracted 7s 6d. In reply to questions by the Chairman, the prosecutor said he was not drunk, but had had drink. The prisoner made a statement denying the charge, and asserted that the prosecutor was so drunk as to be unable to take care of himself. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment.”

AND

“Patrick Crosby and Patrick Rooney were arraigned on a charge of assaulting and wounding William Hooke, at Bilston, to which they pleaded not guilty. The prisoners were undefended.

Mr. Corbet conducted the prosecution, and briefly stated the case, from which and the prosecutor’s evidence, the following facts appeared.

On the 11th September, the prosecutor, a boatman of Tewkesbury, Gloucestershire, brought his boat up the canal, at Bilston, and at half-past eleven o’clock at night, with seven other persons, he went to the BLUE BOAR public house. After a time the landlord desired them to leave the house, with which request they all complied. The prisoners were also present at the time, but not a word was exchanged with them. Immediately on leaving the house, the prosecutor returned to light his pipe, and whilst stooping to pick up a piece of lighted paper, dropped by another person, the prisoner Rooney pushed him. A woman then called to Rooney to go home, and the prosecutor said to him 'Go home, man, with your wife;' to which he replied in some very foul language, and immediately afterwards, whilst the prosecutor was lighting his pipe, Rooney struck him in the mouth, and Crosby knocked him down on the floor. About twenty other Irishmen then rushed round him whilst on the ground, and commenced kicking him on the head and body until he was rescued by the landlord and others and placed in the parlour, into which place the prisoners rushed and again struck him. They were then ejected, but almost as quickly they burst open the door, knocked the prosecutor down, and then dragged him by the hair into the street, where the prisoners and others kicked him on the head and body. He after a while succeeded in getting up and ran down the street, when the prisoner Crosby shouted out 'Kick his b——y English skull in,' when he was immediately thrown down and became insensible from a blow on the head.

Henry Male, the landlord of the BLUE BOAR, and Ann Dalton, his servant, corroborated the prosecutor's statement. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, of Bilston, proved the injuries sustained by the prosecutor, which had caused congestion of the brain, and placed him in danger of his life.

The prisoners were both found guilty, and sentenced to six calendar months' imprisonment to hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/10/1854

"On Thursday last a girl, named Lucy Peak, who was employed in Riley's field to carry pikes and beer for the workmen, accidentally fell down a pit in the field. An inquest was held on the following day at the BLUE BOAR, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Staffordshire Sentinel 4/4/1857

"At Bilston Police Court on Tuesday, before J. Leigh, Esq, Thomas Westwood, a tinker, was charged with assaulting Mr. Henry Male, landlord of the BLUE BOAR INN, and tearing his coat. On Saturday night the defendant entered the complainant's house, and commenced making a disturbance. Mr. Male endeavoured to eject him, and in doing so was assaulted, and had his coat torn to atoms. The magistrate fined the fellow for assault 5s and costs, and for the damage to the coat £1 and costs, or in default, one month's imprisonment."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/1/1860

"About four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, as a workman was descending a water shaft in Blackwell's Field, Bilston, he observed blood and brains and fragments of clothing on its sides. On dragging the bottom, the body of an old man named Timothy Bailey, who had been missing since Tuesday, was discovered. The deceased was what is termed a 'rodney,' and had doubtless stumbled in the dark into the pit, the mouth of which is said to be insufficiently protected. The body was removed to the BLUE PIG public house, to await an inquest."

[At the inquest it was stated that the shaft was well protected, the deceased having got in through an opening only 2½ feet wide, and an open verdict was returned. Messrs. Blackwell covered the cost of the burial.]

Birmingham Daily Post 24/1/1860 - Advert

"Bilston. To Cabinet Makers, Brokers and Others.

Jabez Morrell will Sell by Auction, This Day (Tuesday), at the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston.

A quantity of Household Furniture, Cabinet Makers Timber, and other Effects, seized and sold under an execution from the Sheriff of Staffordshire (late the Property of Mr. Thos. Phillips, Cabinet Maker, Bilston aforesaid), and removed for the convenience of sale to the above Premises....."

Birmingham Daily Post 19/3/1860

"An inquest was held at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, before the Deputy Coroner, on Friday afternoon, on the body of Edward Dyke, a boy seven years of age, who accidentally fell down a pit at Moorcroft, whilst at play, on the 10th instant, and died from the effects of the fall on the 14th. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/6/1860

"A tremendous explosion occurred at Messrs. Blackwell's furnaces, Bilston, on Wednesday evening, killing one man and severely injuring one or two others. The accident occurred while a number of the men were engaged in casting, and the violence of the thunderstorm, which was then raging, had driven almost all the other workmen to places of shelter. A portion of the boiler was projected with great force in the opposite quarter from the furnaces, ploughing into a cinder heap, and killing a man who was standing upon the heap, and whose body has not been identified. He is, however, believed to have been employed as a striker at some other works in the neighbourhood. He is bruised about the temple, and had bled a good deal, apparently from the mouth and nostrils. His boots were torn from his feet, but the feet were not injured. In one of his pockets was found a small whistle. He appears to have been about twenty-one years of age. A man named Ball, a fitter, who was near him, had his leg broken. The fireman, who was quite close to the boiler, and two other workmen were slightly injured. A second portion was blown through the engine-house, which is almost in ruins, and fell near to two men a good way off, but injuring neither. A horse standing on a high bank overlooking the canal was knocked into the water, but got out without assistance and without serious injury.

An inquest upon the body of the deceased man, who up to the time of the inquiry had not been identified, was held before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, at the BLUE BOAR public house, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Friday morning last.

The first witness examined was William Edwards, an engineer employed at Messrs. Blackwell's, who said that on Wednesday afternoon last, about half-past four o'clock, he was beside his boiler, which is 150 yards from the one that exploded. The incline engine and the boiler were worked by a person named Clamp. Witness heard an explosion at that boiler at the time before mentioned, and saw a large portion of the boiler go through the air. It was blown about 130 yards. At the same moment he saw the body of a man blown into the air, and in the same direction as the larger portion of the boiler. The man's body was blown 100 yards. Witness at once went to the place where the body fell. It was in some water, near to the coke hearth. At one time witness thought the body of the man was blown thirty yards into the air. The man was a stranger.

Patrick Hill, fireman at the boiler referred to, said Robert Clamp was the day engine-man and Joseph Cox the night man. About five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon he was firing at the boiler. The waggons had come down from the furnaces, so he left the fire holes open, and was standing beside the boiler. The boiler blew up, and he became insensible. Had seen Clamp in the engine-house about ten minutes before the boiler exploded. The boiler 'ran out,' and he had to stand on two bricks to fire. The boiler adjoining the one that exploded was standing, and being repaired.

Joseph Cox said he worked an engine at Messrs. Blackwell's, and had been an engineer ten years. The engine in question was used for drawing the mine up to the furnaces. Witness worked the engine on Tuesday night, and gave it up to Robert Clamp on the following morning. It had leaked a little for eight or nine days, in places over the fire. Witness continued working it, and had no difficulty with it. The boiler was worked at a pressure of about 40lbs to the inch. There was an indicator in the engine-house, and it appeared in good order. Never had occasion to make any complaints about the boiler to any one. Jones was the head engineer, and he visited the place every day. Witness had seen the indicator register a pressure of 53lbs. The leakage was on the right hand side of the boiler as you stood in the ash-hole. Never heard Clamp make any complaints.

Samuel Clamp, an engineer, employed to work the blast engine, about fifty yards from the incline engine, where his brother worked, deposed that the last time he saw his brother was about half-past four o'clock on the Wednesday afternoon. He was then going towards his own engine from the fitting shop. Witness called him, and he came to him, but they had not spoken three words before the explosion happened. Had never heard him make any complaint about the boiler, beyond saying that it ran out a little. Witness worked the incline engine with the same boiler for about a year and a half, and last worked it about six months ago. The guage at that time showed a pressure of 60lbs, but it would work easily at 40lbs. When the steam was at 60lbs by the guage the steam would begin to blow off at the steam clack 'tremendous.' It would begin to blow at 50lbs. Witness was there twice on Wednesday, and the pressure was the same as usual. At one time that day the pressure was at 50lbs. Witness could not see whether the steam was blowing off immediately before the explosion took place or not.

Mr. Wright: Whilst you worked the engine did you observe any leakage over the fire at any time? – Witness: Yes.

Mr. Wright: Did you observe from what part of the boiler the leakage came; the right hand side or the left hand side?

– Witness: Sometimes in one place and sometimes in another. When it used to leak we used to have the boiler chaps to mend it.

Mr. Wright: You state that when you worked the engine you worked it at 60lbs, and yet it would work easily at 40lbs. Do you mean that it would get up to 60lbs? – Witness: If the engine stood a bit. If the men were not ready the steam would get up to that pressure, but it would then blow off, and would not get any higher than 60lbs.

Peter Morris, a furnaceman, stated that he was about fifty yards from the boiler when the explosion occurred. About a minute before it exploded witness looked at it, and saw the steam blowing off at both ends of the boiler. The engine had then been standing somewhere about half an hour. A portion of the boiler was projected about a hundred yards. Robert Clamp deposed that he was an engineer, and lived at Bilston. Had had the entire charge of this engine about six months, and worked it on the Wednesday. Witness had not steam sufficient to drive the engine all the day. This was partly caused through the boiler wanting cleaning. Had worked it last to draw some mine up about ten minutes before the explosion happened. He then left his engine to go across to the fitting shop. The steam was not then blowing off; it was low. Witness was absent about five minutes, and during that time the boiler exploded. Witness had filled the boiler, as he usually did, for his butt, and the ball just touched the boiler at the time he left. Had never had occasion to make any complaints about the boiler. Had worked an engine before this more than five years ago. Mr. Edwin Thomas Wright, engineer, Wolverhampton, deposed that he had that morning examined the boiler which exploded. He examined the seating and also several pieces that had been blown away. It was a boiler about 31 feet long and about 5 feet in diameter; a plain cylindrical boiler. The principal portion of the boiler, the hinder part, about 25 feet in length, was about one hundred yards from its seating. It had been blown backwards, and lay upon the coke hearth. The front end of the boiler was blown in an exactly opposite direction about a hundred or hundred and fifty yards away, and the third piece, which was the portion over the fire, was about fifty yards on one side. Witness carefully examined the different parts of the boiler, and saw no reason to believe there had been a deficiency of water. He observed the boiler was wanting repair over the fire, where there was a leakage. It had been mended several times in that place with rivets, where cracks had formed and rivets had been driven in to stop them. The rent seemed to have commenced in the joint over the fire, running in the direction of the length of the boiler, and had then opened itself, tearing open the transverse joint. The steam valve which witness saw was two inches and three quarters in diameter, and he was informed there was another of the same size which could not be found. Witness considered these valves should have been larger, although they were of common size. The boiler was not in good working order. Some of the underneath plates near the fire were of inferior iron, and witness believed that facilitated the explosion. Several of the plates over the fire had been in very indifferent condition at their edges in the line of rivets. There were several joints over the fire which witness considered were not able to bear heavy pressure. Looking at the plates now he would not consider them safe at a pressure of 60lbs. The boiler had every appearance of being a strong boiler, the plates being of ordinary thickness. The person whose duty it was to examine the boiler would not have been likely to have discovered any imperfection in the quality of the iron. There were some defects that could not be seen, and others that doubtless were seen. Witness considered the cause of the explosion was excess of pressure, which in its weakened condition the boiler could not bear. He was also much disposed to think, notwithstanding the evidence that the clacks were not blowing violently, that there was some excess of pressure, and he also thought it quite possible that the boiler had been weakened by previous excess of pressure. Witness would not attach any blame to any person, for although the boiler seemed to want repair, yet it was no worse than a great number of boilers were usually found. One boiler out of every three would be found in as bad a condition as regards leakage and defective edges as this one was.

William Kinfoil, a boiler maker, employed at Messrs. Blackwell's works, said he was engaged on Wednesday in repairing the boiler adjoining the one that exploded on Wednesday. Witness took out the plug and ran the water into the ash-hole. This would cause the presence of the water spoken of by the last witness. The boiler was not leaking more than usual. Witness told the fireman to shut down the dampers at dinner time, as the steam was blowing off. This was at dinner time. The portion of the plates which witness saw near the office was free from scurf, and of a blue colour. This comprised the end plates and the crown. There was one part of the inside 'as blue as could be.' Philip Fellows, engineer, living in Oxford Street, Bilston, said he heard of the explosion, and went to the works about a quarter of an hour after it occurred. He examined the different portions of the boiler, and from the appearance of the long portion he was of opinion that there was water there at the time, on account of the scurf not being removed. The firing end seemed to have had no water, as the scurf was all off and the plates and rivets were very blue. Witness believed there had been water at one end, but one end must have been lower than the other. The plates must have been red-hot to have produced this appearance.

The Coroner, in summing up, pointed out to the Jury that it was shown no complaints had been made either to the head engineer or to the proprietors of the works of the defective condition of the boiler, and therefore they could not make any person culpable.

The Jury, after a brief deliberation, found a verdict of Accidental Death, and they accompanied that verdict with a suggestion that the head engineer should observe greater caution in having the boilers repaired whenever they displayed signs of leakage. Clamp, the engineer, was also cautioned by the Coroner."

Birmingham Journal 24/11/1860 - Advert

"Found, a very large and exceedingly fine Dog, a cross between a Bull and a Mastiff, of a light brown colour, young and playful. Any person having lost the above Dog may hear of him at the BLUE BOAR, Bilston. If not claimed he will be sold after this notice."

FOUND, a very large and exceedingly fine DOG, a cross between a Bull and Mastiff, of a light brown colour, young and playful. Any person having lost the above Dog may hear of him at the Blue Boar, Bilston. If not claimed he will be sold after this notice.

1861 Census

98, Oxford Street – BLUE BOAR

- [1] Alfred Hammond (38), publican, born Albrighton;
- [2] Mary Hammond (38), wife, born Albrighton;
- [3] Elizabeth Hammond (14), daughter, scholar, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [4] Lucy Hammond (12), daughter, scholar, born Albrighton;
- [5] Emma Hammond (6), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Emma Thomas (29), wife's sister, cook, born Albrighton;
- [7] Mary Killkelly (25), visitor, dairymaid, born County Galway, Ireland;
- [8] Robert Wagstaff (38), lodger, widower, saddler, born Nuneaton:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/2/1862 - Advert

"Monday Next, March 3rd. The BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston.

Household Furniture, Fixtures, Copper and Iron Furnaces, Ale Casks, &c. By Messrs. Aston and Sollom.

To be Sold by Auction, on Monday next, March 3, 1862 (under a Bill of Sale), the following Effects, on the Premises of the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Hammond, comprising capital five-pull Beer Machine, mahogany Tables, Chairs, and the bar Fittings, Glass and Earthenware, tap room and parlour Furniture, the contents of five bed rooms, Gas Fittings, Copper Furnace and Fittings, 200 gallons; a 200 gallon wrought iron Furnace, deal Vats and Frames, Mash Tub, 25 bushels; and the usual Brewing Effects; twenty-four Ale Casks, from 50 to 200 gallons; about 400 gallons of Ale, the stock of Wines and Spirits, and other Effects.

Particulars in catalogues may be had at the offices of the Auctioneers, 66½, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton, and at the place of sale.

The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning."

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/5/1862 - Advert

"1862. For This Season. Open to Trot any Travelling Stallion in Great Britain.

Champion, the property of W. Yeomans and Brothers, Pennymore Hay, near the Four Ashes, Wolverhampton, will serve Mares this season. He was bred by Mr. Charles Groom, Snape Abbey, Suffolk. At £3 3s each Mare, and 5s the Groom, the Groom's fee to be paid at the time of serving, and the remainder at Midsummer next.

Champion as a trotter stands unrivalled in England, and for colour, temper, symmetry, constitution, and actions, is not to be surpassed. He is a splendid and well-bred horse; stands 16 hands high; colour, a rich bay; perfectly sound; he has proved himself sure, and his colts are universally popular.....

On Wednesday Champion will be at the BLUE PIG, Bilston, from nine till ten; at the GIFFARDS ARMS, Cock Street, Wolverhampton, from twelve till four; at the TALBOT INN, Digbeth, Walsall, stop all night....."

David Riley = David Ryley

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/8/1868

"On Friday an inquest was held at the BLUE PIG INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, Deputy Coroner, touching the death of Henry Lloyd, a child four months old. The deceased child, it appeared, was put to bed by its mother on the previous afternoon at about a quarter to three, and four hours afterwards it was found lying on its face dead. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Suffocated."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/12/1868

"James Bust was charged with having assaulted Sidney Ryley and stolen a jug, the property of David Ryley, landlord of the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston. On Saturday last, about eleven o'clock, the prisoner and another man came into prosecutor's house, but shortly after they were gone the jug was missed. Prisoner was followed by Sidney Ryley and Police-constable Davies, and the jug was found in his possession. On attempting to take him into custody he struck Ryley several times, and was also about to assault the officer, when the latter knocked him down and severely injured his head. Mr. Spooner discharged the prisoner, thinking that the blow he had received was sufficient punishment."

1871 Census

98, Oxford Street

- [1] William Tonks (40), general dealer of coal, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [2] Sarah Tonks (40), wife, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] Henry Tonks (21), son, coal miner, born Walsall;
- [4] Lizzie J. Tonks (12), daughter, born Tipton;
- [5] Keziah Tonks (6), daughter, born Ocker Hill;
- [6] Thomas Harris (20), son-in-law, coal miner, born West Bromwich;
- [7] Elizabeth Harris (18), wife, born Walsall:

Birmingham Daily Post 9/1/1875 - Advert

“Preliminary Announcement. Bilston, Staffordshire.

Will Shortly be offered for Sale by Public Auction, that Old-licensed Inn, called the BLUR BOAR, in Oxford Street, Bilston, at present in the occupation of Mrs. Sarah Tonks, and doing a good trade; with the Cellaring, Granary, compact Brewery, Malt Room, Stabling, and usual Out-offices, with the four small Tenements adjoining.

A valuable seam of thick Coal and other measures lie under the property and pass with it.

Possession may be had at Midsummer next.

Further particulars may be obtained from Messrs. Lewis and Co., Solicitors, Walsall.”

George Bolton = George Boulton

Sporting Life 6/10/1877

“Lea Brook Recreation Grounds, Wednesbury.....

Mr. James Harding begs respectfully to inform his friends and lovers of the canine species that he will give £13 to be run for in a 200 yards all-England dog handicap on Saturdays, October 13 and 20, first prize, £10; second, £2; third, £1. Entrance, 1s each. Entries to close on Monday, October 8 (Tuesday morning's post in time). No acceptance. Entries to be made to Mr. Harding, at the grounds; Mr. Holding, RED LION INN, Walsall; Mr. Brindley, COCK INN, Willenhall; Mr. G. Dudley, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury; Mr. Bolton, BLUE PIG INN, Bilston; and Mr. J. Dudley, TRAVELLERS REST, Pinfold Street, Darlaston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/12/1877 - Advert

“General Servant (good) Wanted. Two in family. Must have good character.

Apply, BLUE BOAR, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

GENERAL Servant (good) Wanted. Two in family. Must have good character.—Apply, Blue Boar, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/12/1877

“On Monday evening, shortly after half-past eight, a woman named Hitchins, wife of John Hitchins, poulterer, Darlaston, fell from a spring cart in which she was riding along the road leading from Bilston to Darlaston. She was picked up and removed to the BLUE BOAR, Oxford Street, Bilston, and Mr. Handy, surgeon, of Catherines Cross, Darlaston, was fetched, but his services were useless, life being already extinct. Deceased was about 35 years of age. A coroner's jury which sat on Wednesday and returned a verdict of Accidental Death, called attention to the dangerous character of the road in question.”

1881 Census

Oxford Street – BLUE BOAR

- [1] George Boulton (45), licensed victualler, born Amesbury, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Anne Boulton (42), wife, born Bishops Nympton, Devon;
- [3] Lavina Parkes (21), general servant, born Wednesbury;

Darlaston Weekly Times 17/2/1883

“At Bilston Police Court, on Tuesday, Edward Whalen, of Temple Street, was charged with an assault on John Uniack, of Oxford Street, near the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, on the 17th of December, 1882.

Defendant and several other persons were drinking at the BLUE BOAR INN, and were treating a blind fiddler to drink, in consideration of his playing a few lively airs. While the music was progressing, Uniack came in, and in the middle of an Irish air called ‘Larry O’Gaff,’ stopped the fiddler, and asked him to drink. This sudden stoppage of the music, by a bystander, was stated to be equivalent to a gentle reminder that those who were enjoying the harmony had not ‘paid the piper,’ and the party were much incensed thereat. Uniack shortly after left the house, and was followed by Whelan and a number of female companions, who have already been dealt with for the offence, and considerably maltreated for his want of knowledge of the custom of his associates.

When summoned, Whalen disappeared, and had to be arrested on a warrant.

A fine of 10s and costs was imposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/9/1884

“A miner, named John Degwell, of Blue Lane, Walsall, was charged at the Police Court, yesterday, with stealing money belonging to George Bolton, of the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Mrs. Bolton said that on Saturday the prisoner stepped into the BLUE BOAR to light his pipe. As he was going out again she left the bar and went into another room. Returning a minute or two afterwards she missed a tray which had been left on a shelf near where the prisoner had been standing, containing gold and silver to the value of £14. She ran to the door, and in the distance, towards Moxley, she saw the prisoner running. She afterwards found the tray in another part of the room, but there was only £6 left on it.

The prisoner was remanded for further enquiries.”

AND

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/9/1884

“John Degville appeared on the charge of stealing £8 from George Boulton, of the BLUE BOAR INN....

The Bench considered that the time within which the robbery had been committed was not accounted for. Prisoner was committed for trial, and reserved his defence. Bail was accepted in a surety of £52.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1884

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Acquitted.....

John Degville, on bail, charged with stealing £8 on the 6th September last, at Bilston, the moneys of George Boulton.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/5/1885

“Wolverhampton Fishing Club. Established 1877. By kind permission of Lord Hatherton; J. Deyken, Esq.

This Club owns Best Water in Midlands River, Trout Stream, and well-stocked Ponds.

For Tickets, apply BLUE BOAR HOTEL, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/7/1885 - Advert

“Fishing! Fishing!! The Best in the Midlands. River, Trout Stream, and Ponds.

For day and season tickets apply to T. Gretton, 21, Park Street, Walsall; BLUE BOAR HOTEL, Bilston; GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Daisy Bank; Bowen’s, grocer, Bradley; Shakespeare’s Fishing Tackle Shop, Berry Street, Wolverhampton.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/10/1885

“Kate Thomson and Fanny Thomson, Free Street, Bilston, were charged with assaulting Catherine Bloderick, of Wolverhampton Street, on the 3rd of October, at the BLUE BOAR, Oxford Street.

Witnesses were brought forward on both sides, but the case appeared so complicated that the Bench dismissed the charge against Fanny Thomson, but on consideration of Kate Thomson having appeared in Court several times before, and the case being stronger against her, a fine of 5s and costs was inflicted, or fourteen days in default of payment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/2/1886

“Staffordshire Assizes.....

Joseph Fletcher (23), miner, John Thompson (20), labourer, and John Ireland (20), ironworker, were indicted for robbery from the person, accompanied by violence, at Bilston, on the 2nd ult. Mr. Brindley prosecuted; the prisoners were undefended.

The prosecutor was Samuel Harper, labourer, and he alleged that on the evening of the date named he had been at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, and after leaving that place, was on his way home, when he was overtaken by three men, who informed him, with oaths, that they wanted his money or his life. He was knocked down, kicked, and seized by the throat; after which one of his assailants took a copy of the Birmingham Daily Post and a handkerchief from his pocket. He did not recognize and could not identify any of the three men, who after robbing him ran away. Three women who were passing along the street, and who witnessed the attack upon the prosecutor, were called as witnesses, and they swore positively to the prisoners as the men who assaulted and robbed Harper.

The prisoners, while protesting their innocence, expressed regret that ‘such a thing should have occurred,’ and said that it would be a warning to them, and promised it should not occur again.

The jury found the prisoners guilty, and his Lordship sentenced them to imprisonment, with hard labour, for twelve calendar months, and also to receive eighteen strokes with a birch rod.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/9/1887 - Advert

“Old-Licensed Public House, Oxford Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Watkins & Powell, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, on Monday, the 3rd day of October, 1887, at 7 o'clock in the evening precisely (subject to conditions embodying the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society).

The Old-licensed Freehold Public House, known as the BLUE BOAR INN, situate in Oxford Street, Moxley Road, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. George Boulton, together with the Two Messuages adjoining, being Nos.2 and 3, Bradley Street, in the occupation of Mr. James Jefferies, and one void; and also the Two Cottages at the rear, being Nos.11 and 12, Leicester Street, occupied by Messrs. Barker and Riley.

The BLUE BOAR, which is situate on the main road from Bilston to Moxley, and is a Free House, comprises large Liquor Vaults, Smoke Room, Sitting Room, Kitchen, two good Cellars, two Liquor Cellars, Club Room, three Chambers, Brewhouse Stabling, enclosed Yard, and very extensive Out-buildings; and is situate in the midst of a large coal and iron district.

The Property is Freehold, and contains 655 square yards.

The whole of the Property is let to Mr. Boulton, at a rental of £60 per annum.

Possession may be had on completion of the purchase. A large portion of the purchase money may remain on mortgage, at 4 per cent interest.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, Bridge Street, Walsall; to the Tenant; or to Messrs. Marlow, Potter, and Marten, Solicitors, Walsall.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/1/1889 - Advert

“General Wanted, at once, not under 20; good wages.

Apply, BLUE BOAR, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

GENERAL Wanted, at once, not under 20; good wages.
—Apply, Blue Bear, Oxford st., Bilston.

1891 Census

98, Oxford Street – BOARS HEAD INN

[1] Ann Foster (47), widow, public house manageress, born Oldbury;

[2] Arthur J. Foster (20), son, steam engine fitter, born Oldbury;

[3] Florence E. Foster (14), daughter, scholar, born Smethwick;

[4] Thomas Foster (11), son, scholar, born Oldbury;

[5] Phoebe Bonner (29), general servant, born Tipton:

1901 Census

209, Oxford Street – BLUE BOAR

[1] Ann Foster (54), widow, manageress of tavern, born Oldbury;

[2] Arthur J. Foster (29), son, steam engine fitter, born Oldbury;

[3] Annie Foster (26), daughter, born Oldbury;

[4] Thomas Foster (21), son, hairdresser, born Oldbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/1/1903

"Yesterday a man whose identity has not yet been established committed suicide in a most determined manner. Shortly before four o'clock in the afternoon a man was passing the Dairy Farm Colliery, Lower Bradley, near Bilston, when he saw another man, apparently a miner, walking about the pit bank. Suddenly the man climbed the fence which guards the mouth of the pit, and after shouting 'Good-bye,' leaped down the shaft, which is 170 yards deep.

An alarm was raised, and a search was made for the body, which was found at the bottom of the shaft, terribly mangled. It was brought to the surface, when it was seen that the head was battered in, and the body almost beyond recognition. The remains were removed to the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, to await an inquiry. At present the man, who is about 35 years old, is unknown, and the only clue the police have as to his identification is that he was usually known as Dudley Jim."

County Advertiser 10/1/1903

"Mr. T. A. Stokes held an inquest at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, on the body of John Moore (35), a miner, of the Minorities, Dudley, who committed suicide on Wednesday by jumping down a pit shaft at Bradley, under circumstances reported at the time.

Ellen Moore identified the body as that of her husband, and said she last saw him alive on the 25th ult. He had often referred to persons committing suicide, but said he should not end his life in such a manner.

Alfred Thomas, a banksman employed at the Dairy Farm Colliery, Lower Bradley, said he saw the deceased on the pit bank on the 31st ult, and a little later noticed he was climbing over the fence surrounding the pit mouth. Witness shouted, 'For goodness sake, don't jump down there!' and ran to prevent him. Before he could get to him the deceased said, 'Good-bye,' and jumped down the shaft.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased Committed Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/11/1909

"Mr. T. A. Stokes, County Coroner, conducted an inquiry on Monday evening, at the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, into the circumstances attending the death of James Thompson, 59, an ostler, of 205, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Betsy Thompson, the widow, said her husband left home on Friday evening to resume his work after tea, apparently in his usual health. She did not see him again alive.

John Jeffries, a carpenter, of Moxley Road, said that about 6.30 on Friday evening last he found the deceased lying outside his cottage. Witness procured assistance, and took the man into the cottage. He was dead.

Dr. John Wells, MRCS, deposed to making a post mortem examination, which revealed extensive heart affection. He attributed death to heart failure.

A verdict of Natural Causes was returned by the jury."

1911 Census

Oxford Street – BLUE BOAR

[1] Ann Foster (60), widow, licensee, public house, born Oldbury;

[2] Annie Foster (35), daughter, helper, born Oldbury;

[3] Thomas Foster (30), son, hairdresser, born Oldbury;

[4] Elizabeth Evans (23), servant, born Bilston:

William Edward Hazlehurst = William Henry Hazlehurst

1921 Census

209, Oxford Street

[1] Thomas William Moses (38), manager licensed house, born Kingwater, Cumberland;

[2] Mary Moses (48), wife, home duties, born Stafford;

[3] Ivy Williamson (20), step-daughter, clerk, employment exchange, born Aston, Staffordshire;

[4] Irene Moses (3), daughter, born Birmingham;

[5] Emily Greaves (28), domestic servant, born Bilston;

[6] Nellie Reece (44), visitor, barmaid, born West Bromwich:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/12/1934

"The condition of Mornington Fisher, aged 12, of the BLUE BOAR INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, who was admitted to the Royal Hospital, Wolverhampton, on Saturday, was stated to be improved yesterday. The boy is reported to have found a live cartridge, to which he applied a lighted match. The cartridge exploded and he lost the thumb and two fingers from his left hand."

1939 Register

209, Oxford Street (2 of 3)

[1] William T. Perrins, date of birth 28/8/1897, motor mechanic and licensee, married;

[2] Lilian Perrins, dob 17/5/1892, domestic duties, married;

John Coleclough was married to Freda

It was demolished c.1965.

ODYSSEY was built on the site.

STOLEN or STRAYED, out of a Piece of Ground in the Manor of Bradley, near Bilston, in the County of Stafford, a dark BAY PONEY MARE, about 10 Hands high, aged; has a white Blaze down the Forehead, and one white Leg behind. Whoever will bring her to Mr. Charles Gallimore's, Blue Pig Inn, in Bilston, or Mr. Joseph Hateley's, Talbot Inn, in Wednesbury, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble, and all Expenses paid.

1807

TAKEN UP on Monday last, at Bilston, a CHESNUT HORSE, of the nag kind. Any person having lost the same may have him again, on describing his marks and paying all expences, by applying to James Hateley Francis, Blue Boar Inn, Bilston. August 8, 1825.

1825

EXCELLENT FREEHOLD INVESTMENTS, At Bilston and Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY R. CORBETT.

(By directions of the devisees in trust for sale.)
On Monday, the 14th of September 1835, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the Blue Boar Inn, New-town, Bilston, aforesaid, subject to conditions then to be read,

LOT 1.

THE above named Old Established TRAVELLERS' INN and tap-house, situate at the corner of a street at the entrance of the populous town of Bilston, on the great road from London to Holyhead; and comprises extensive ale and wine vaults, a large tap-room and parlour to the front, a large back parlour, bar, and kitchen, with convenient bed-rooms over the whole, a commodious brewhouse with store-room over it, a large larder, an extensive enclosed yard with well of water, suitable stabling for eight horses, sheds, piggeries, outbuildings, and other conveniences; now in the occupation of Mr. J. H. Francis, as tenant at will. And also two small DWELLING HOUSES with their appurtenances, adjoining the stables, and fronting to Lester-street, now in the occupations of Thomas Parkes and John Williams.

1835

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. GILBERT, on Thursday next, October 4, at the Blue Boar Inn, Bilston, a variety of Liquor Shop Fittings, sundry Household Furniture, Sow and Pigs, and other Effects, the property of the late Mr. J. H. Francis, sold in consequence of reducing the establishment.

Particulars will appear in catalogues, to be had this present Monday at the place of sale.

1838

TO TIMBER DEALERS, BUILDERS, AND OTHERS.

TO be disposed of by private Contract, the very extensive Building Trade, the Stock of excellent unconverted and converted Building Timber and other Materials, belonging to Mr. Charles Gallimore, near the Blue Boar, Bilston, who wishes to decline the Business, having other Concerns to attend to, with a convenient House, extensive Shopping, Offices, and double Sawpits in an entire Yard, which are to be let to any one who wishes to enter into the aforesaid lucrative Concern, it now being central, and fully employed by the adjoining Collieries, Furnaces &c. where every Material in the above Business (with Labour) is much consumed. The present Stock is now very considerable, and should any Person be desirous of engaging with the present Proprietor, and the Stock too extensive, he will have no objection of reducing it.—Further Particulars may be known by applying to Mr. Charles Gallimore, the Blue Boar, Bilston, or of Messrs. T. and J. Bateman, Surveyors and Auctioneers, Duddelston-street, Birmingham.

N. B. If more convenient to the Purchaser, he may be accommodated with a Mine of Clay and Brick Yard.

1810

NOTICE.

ALL Persons having Demands on CHARLES GALLIMORE, late of the Blue Boar Inn, Bilston, but now of Perry Barr, are requested to transmit the same to him that they may be examined and discharged. All Persons standing indebted to the said C. Gallimore are requested to pay the same to him forthwith at the Blue Boar, in Bilston, where he will attend on Monday in each Week for that Purpose, till the 1st Day of September next, otherwise they will be sued for the same without further Notice.

Perry Barr, August 4, 1817.

1817

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. GILBERT, this present Monday, October 8, at the Blue Boar Inn, New Town, Bilston, a quantity of Spirit Shop FITTINGS, mahogany and oak dining and drinking tables, ale casks, carts, harness, sow and pigs, and a variety of other effects, the property of the late Mr. J. H. Francis; sold in consequence of a reduction of the establishment.

Sale to commence at ten o'clock.—Particulars in catalogues may be had at the place of sale.

At three o'clock in the afternoon will be offered, at the Blue Boar Inn, twenty Pockets of Worcester Hops, growth of 1837; also 123 dozen Bottles of excellent Port and Sherry Wines, in lots suitable to purchasers, the property of a bankrupt, and consigned by the Assignees for positive sale.

FREEHOLD INVESTMENTS.

An Excellent Travellers' Inn, at Bilston, and first-rate Mercer's and Druggist's Shops, near the Market-place, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY RICHARD CORBETT,

(By direction of the trustees for sale under the will of Mr. James H. Francis, late of Bilston, deceased), on Monday next, the 15th day of July, at the Blue Boar Inn, New Town, Bilston aforesaid, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read, and in the following or such other lots as may be desired by the company present—

LOT I.

ALL that the above named old established and well accustomed TRAVELLERS' INN and TAP HOUSE, situated at the corner of a street at the south entrance of the populous town of Bilston aforesaid, on the line of the great road from London to Holyhead, and known as THE BLUE BOAR INN, which was carried on by the late proprietor till his death, and comprises extensive cellars, a commodious tap room, large and small parlours, kitchen, and bar, with convenient bed rooms over the whole, a brewhouse and a malt room over it, stabling for eight horses, sheds, piggeries, and other out-buildings, a spacious back yard, with a well of water and other conveniences; and also two small TENEMENTS, with their appurtenances, adjoining the stabling and fronting to Lester-street, now or lately occupied by Thomas Cooper and Robert Gettings.

SALE AT THE BLUE BOAR INN, BILSTON.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. GILBERT, on Thursday next, October 17, all the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Brewing Utensils, and other effects belonging to the late Mr. J. H. Francis.

Catalogues may be had at the place of sale, and of J. Gilbert, Mogul Inn, Bartholomew-street, Birmingham.

1839

"THE BLUE BOAR" PUBLIC HOUSE, AT BILSTON.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, the above old-established and well-accustomed HOUSE, now doing an excellent ready money trade.

The Premises, which are replete with every convenience, and lately put into thorough repair, consist of a large and well fitted up bar, smoke room, dining room, and chambers, large tap room, convenient brewhouse, and capital cellaring. Attached is a spacious yard, with stabling, piggeries, &c.

The present proprietor is disposing of the premises and business in consequence of engagements at a distance.

The fixtures and public-house furniture only to be taken by valuation.

For particulars apply upon the premises, or to WILLIAM ASTON,

Auctioneer and Valuer.

Offices—North-street, Wolverhampton.

1842

TO BE LET,

With immediate possession,

THE old licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, known by the sign of the Blue Boar Inn, situated at Bilston, in the county of Stafford. This is an opportunity which rarely offers itself to persons desirous of embarking in the above business, the house lying by the road side leading from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, and is surrounded by both coal and iron works in full operation.

Rent moderate, and the coming-in about £60.

For particulars, apply to Mr. H. PITT, Coal Master, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

1843

BLUE BOAR INN, BILSTON.

JOHN SHAW WALKER begs most respectfully to inform his friends and the public that he has taken to the above INN, and trusts, in adding to their comfort, by selling a superior article, to merit a portion of their favours.

The Bradford-street Brewery, Walsall, is still carried on by him, but the lease expiring in November next, it is to be let.

January 29, 1844.

BLUE BOAR INN, BILSTON.

TO be LET, with possession at the end of January, 1845, the above INN, doing a good trade, and parted with on account of the proprietor having other engagements. Rent moderate, and coming in low.—Apply as above, or to Mr. HENRY PITT, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

1844

BLUE FIG, BILSTON.

TO be SOLD by PRIVATE TREATY, the above well built and good accustomed PUBLIC HOUSE, situate in Oxford-street, Bilston, in which an excellent business has for many years been carried on, and which is now occupied by John Cartwright, at a low rental of 45*l.* per annum.

Also four convenient and genteel DWELLING-HOUSES, adjoining the above, now let to respectable tenants, at the rental of 28*l.* per annum.

For further particulars and to treat, apply to Mr. WILLIAM, solicitor, Bilston.

1851

MONDAY NEXT, MARCH 3RD.

THE BLUE BOAR INN, BILSTON.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, FIXTURES, COPPER AND IRON FURNACES, ALE CASKS, &c.

BY Messrs. ASTON and SOLLUM.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, on Monday next, March 3, 1862 (under a Bill of Sale, the following EFFECTS, on the Premises of the BLUE BOAR INN, OXFORD-STREET, BILSTON, now in the occupation of Mr. Hammond, comprising capital five-pull Beer Machine, mahogany Tables, Chairs, and the bar Fittings, Glass and Earthenware, tap room and parlour Furniture, the contents of five bed rooms, Gas Fittings, Copper Furnace and Fittings, 200 gallons; a 200 gallon wrought iron Furnace, deal Vats and Frames, Mash Tub, 25 bushels; and the usual Brewing Effects; twenty-four Ale Casks, from 50 to 200 gallons; about 400 gallons of Ale, the stock of Wines and Spirits, and other Effects.

Particulars in catalogues may be had at the offices of the AUCTIONEERS, 66½, Darlington-street, Wolverhampton, and at the place of sale.

The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning.

1862

FISHING! Fishing!!—The Best in the Midlands.—River, Trout Stream, and Ponds.—For day and season tickets apply to T. Gretton, 21, Park-st., Walsall; Blue Boar Hotel, Bilston; Great Western Hotel, Daisy Bank; Bowen's, grocer, Bradley; Shakespeare's Fishing Tackle Shop, Berry-st., Wolverhampton.

1885

Old-Licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, Oxford Street, Bilston.—To be Sold by Auction,

BY Messrs WATKINS & POWELL, at the George Hotel, Walsall, on MONDAY, the 3rd day of October, 1887, at 7 o'clock in the evening precisely (subject to conditions embodying the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society)—the Old-licensed FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the "BLUE BOAR" Inn, situate in Oxford Street, Moxley Road, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. George Boulton, together with the Two MESSUAGES adjoining, being Nos. 2 and 3, Bradley Street, in the occupation of Mr. James Jeffries, and one void; and also the Two COTTAGES at the rear, being Nos. 11 and 12, Leicester Street, occupied by Messrs. Barker and Riley.

The Blue Boar, which is situate on the main road from Bilston to Moxley, and is a Free House, comprises large Liquor Vaults, Smoke Room, Sitting Room, Kitchen, two good Cellars, two Liquor Cellars, Club Room, three Chambers, Brewhouse, Stabling, enclosed Yard, and very extensive Out-buildings; and is situate in the midst of a large coal and iron district.

The Property is Freehold, and contains 655 square yards.

The whole of the Property is let to Mr. Boulton, at a rental of £60. per annum.

Possession may be had on completion of the purchase. A large portion of the purchase-money may remain on mortgage, at 4 per cent interest.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, Bridge Street, Walsall; to the Tenant; or to Messrs. Marlow, Potter, and Marten, Solicitors, Walsall.

1887

BOARD

49, (29), Church Street / Green Croft, BILSTON

OWNERS

Alexander Perry Law, gentleman, Wellington Road, Bilston
Bass, Ratcliff and Gretton Ltd.
Samuel Woodhall, brewers, West Bromwich [1921]
J. A. and A. Thompson Ltd., maltsters, Oldbury
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Montague Taylor [1841] – 1852);
Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor (1852 – 1874);
Richard Newman and James Probert (1874 – 1875);
James Taylor (1875);
Spencer Downing (1875 – 187_);
Henry Taylor (187_ – 1880);
William Riley Taylor (1880);
Henry Taylor (1880 – 1883);
Sarah Ann Taylor (1883 – 1888);
James Tate (1888 – 1891);
Joseph Dunn (1891);
William Millard Whitehouse (1891 – 1892);
William Henry Jennings (1892 – 1893);
David Benton (1893 – 1920);
Alexander Hadley (1920 – 1928);
Walter Howard Umbers (1928 – 1931);
William Henry Watson (1931 – 1935);
Thomas Frederick Dudley (1935 – 1938);
George Henry Breakwell (1938 – 1939);
Edward Cyril Pleydell (1939 – [1940])

NOTES

29, Church Street [1858], [1861], [1865], [1868], [1871], [1872], [1881], [1891], [1896], [1904]
49, Church Street [1901], [1908], [1911], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

HOLE IN THE WALL [1834], [1858], [1891], [1896]

It was known locally as the "Hole In The Wall"

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/5/1834 - Advert

"Wanted, by the Bilston Anti-Truck Committee, a few Members to complete the society, and to supply the place of the seceders. No one need apply unless he possesses the requisite qualifications, which are a small stock of commonsense, a smaller capital, and has nothing else to do. Also wanted, ten or a dozen thorough-bred informers, to whom constant work and good wages will be insured.

For further particulars apply at the Aesculapius or at the HOLE IN THE WALL, Bilston, where every information will be given and gladly received. NB. No entrance money is required, but an advance will afterwards be called for, which will be repaid with a bonus when sufficient funds are obtained."

WANTED, by the Bilston Anti-Truck Committee, a few Members to complete the society, and to supply the place of the seceders. No one need apply unless he possesses the requisite qualifications, which are—a small stock of common sense, a smaller capital, and has nothing else to do. Also wanted, ten or a dozen thorough-bred informers, to whom constant work and good wages will be insured.—For further particulars apply at the Aesculapius, or at the Hole-in-the-Wall, Bilston, where every information will be given and gladly received.

N.B.—No entrance money is required, but an advance will afterwards be called for, which will be repaid with a bonus when sufficient funds are obtained.

1834

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1869.
IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

IN the Matter of a Special Resolution for Liquidation by Arrangement of the affairs of JAMES HAMMOND, of Park Lane, Tipton, Mining Engineer; JOHN MOSS, of Dudley Street, Bilston, Furniture Dealer; and WILLIAM RILEY TAYLOR, of No. 112, Church Street, Bilston, Surveyor, all in the county of Stafford, and lately trading in Co-partnership at Lester Street, Bilston aforesaid, as Bedstead Makers, under the Style or Firm of the "Atlas Iron Foundry and Bedstead Company." The Creditors of the abovenamed James Hammond, John Moss, and William Riley Taylor, trading as the "Atlas Iron Foundry and Bedstead Company," who have not already proved their Debts, are required, on or before Wednesday, the 25th day of February, 1880, to send their names and addresses, and the particulars of their Debts or Claims, to Walter Newton Fisher, of No. 4, Waterloo Street, Birmingham, Public Accountant, Trustee under the Liquidation, or in default thereof they will be excluded from the benefit of the Dividend proposed to be declared.—Dated this 28th day of January, 1880.

WALTER NEWTON FISHER, Trustee.
W. SHAKESPEAR, Oldbury, Solicitor to the Trustee.

1880

1841 Census

Church Street

- [1] Montague Taylor (40), wine merchant, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Taylor (35), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Montague Taylor (20), s.h., born Staffordshire;
- [4] Eliza Taylor (15), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Sarah Taylor (10), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Jane Taylor (5), born Staffordshire;
- [7] James Taylor (5), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Mary Taylor (2), born Staffordshire;
- [9] Elizabeth Parkes (20), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1845

“South Staffordshire Junction Railway.

Two lines of Railway having been submitted to the public, connecting the Mineral Districts of South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire with the Midland Railway at or near Alrewas, we the undersigned Merchants, Coal and Iron Masters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other inhabitants, residing at the boroughs of Wolverhampton, Walsall, and Dudley, at the towns of Wednesbury, Darlaston Bilston, Willenhall, Tipton, West Bromwich, and other places in these districts, also at the city of Lichfield, and its neighbourhood, do hereby express our opinion that the projected South Staffordshire Junction Railway, which will communicate with the Oxford, Worcester, and Wolverhampton Railways, at Dudley, and at Wolverhampton, and with the Grand Junction Railway, and also with the intended Shrewsbury, Wolverhampton, and South Staffordshire Junction Railway, at one Grand Central Station in the town of Wolverhampton, where all the Railways will meet, is the line best calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the districts and places enumerated, and we promise to it our strenuous support.....

Montague Taylor, wine merchant, Bilston.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/5/1846 - Married

“On Wednesday last, at the Wesleyan Chapel, Wolverhampton, Mr. John Holland, draper, to Sarah, second daughter of Mr. Montague Taylor, wine merchant, both of Bilston.”

1851 Census

Church Street

- [1] Montague Taylor (53), wine and spirit merchant, born Rowley;
- [2] Elizabeth Taylor (48), wife, born Rowley;
- [3] Eliza Anne Taylor (27), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Jane Taylor (19), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] James Taylor (17), son, born Bilston;
- [6] John Taylor (14), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Mary Taylor (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Alfred Taylor (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Emma Taylor (5), daughter, born Bilston;
- [10] Montague Taylor (30), visitor, born Bilston;
- [11] Catherine Beck (24), shopmaid, born Oldbury;
- [12] Mary Hale (23), housemaid, born West Bromwich:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/4/1852 - Died

“April 10, aged 54, Mr. Montague Taylor, wine merchant, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/6/1852

“The following transfers of victuallers licenses took place.....

The late Montague Taylor, wine and spirit merchant, Bilston, to his widow, Elizabeth Taylor.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/6/1855 - Marriages

“At the Wesleyan chapel, Bilston, on the 6th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Smallwood, the Rev. Thomas Dickson Crothers, of Sheffield, to Jane, daughter of the late Mr. Montague Taylor, of Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/9/1855 - Marriages

“On the 5th inst, at the Wesleyan chapel, Wolverhampton, by the Rev. T. Capp, William Tait, jeweller, of Nottingham, to Eliza Anne, daughter of the late Mr. Montague Taylor, wine merchant, of Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/10/1857

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Ann Bickerton, 31, was indicted for uttering and putting off at Bilston three counterfeit sovereigns, well knowing the same to be false and counterfeit. Mr. Davis conducted the prosecution, but no counsel appeared for the prisoner. Elizabeth Ralph, servant to Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, stated that her mistress kept a wine and spirit vaults at Bilston. On the morning of the 30th of August, the prisoner called and purchased some liquor, tendering in payment a £5 note, and receiving the change. She (witness) then went to serve another customer, and the prisoner immediately afterwards returned a sovereign saying she did not like it. She (witness) then gave her two half-sovereigns, and on subsequently looking at the sovereign she was quite certain it was not the one she had given the prisoner.

Owen Smith, police officer, said he was sent for to Taylor's vaults to receive a counterfeit sovereign. On the 10th of September he had the prisoner in custody; and the last witness selected her from among a number of other persons as the person who had passed the counterfeit sovereign.

Henry John Holland, son of a grocer at Willenhall, stated that between three and four o'clock in the afternoon of the 10th of September, the prisoner came to his father's shop and purchased articles to the amount of 4s 11d, which she paid for with a £5 note. He gave her the change from the cash box, taking out all the gold, when she asked him to wrap the goods up in paper. He had to go to the end of the shop for paper, and on his return the prisoner threw a sovereign on the counter, saying she did not like it, as it had a flaw on it. He returned the sovereign to the cash box, and gave her change in silver.

Thomas Holland, father of the last witness, stated that he examined the cash box on the night of the 9th of September, and was quite satisfied that the gold in it was good. On going into the shop after the prisoner had left he saw a counterfeit sovereign in the cash box.

Emma Bradshaw, landlady of the TALBOT spirit vaults, at Bilston, was the next witness. She stated that about six o'clock in the afternoon of the 10th of September the prisoner came into the shop and asked for two half-pints of rum, for which she produced two bottles, and for which she paid with a £5 note. She (witness) gave her four sovereigns and eighteen shillings in silver in change for the note and rum, and as soon as she had served another customer the prisoner put a sovereign on the counter, and said she did not like the ring of it; to which she (witness) said, 'I should think not; I did not give you this.' She then had her detained, and gave her into custody.

Mr. Lithgoe was called, and after examining the three sovereigns which were produced, he stated that they were counterfeit, and had all been made from the same die.

The prisoner gave a general denial to the charge; but the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The Chairman, in sentencing the prisoner to two years' imprisonment, told her that hers was one of the worst, and at the same time most ingenious, cases of the kind which had come before the Court.”

[A solicitor subsequently arrived for the defence, saying he had been sent to the wrong court, amongst other issues. The Chairman pointed out that the prisoner did not mention that she was to be defended. Eventually it was ruled that the conviction was sound.]

E. Taylor, vaults, 29, Church Street. [1858]

1861 Census

29, Church Street

- [1] Elizabeth Taylor (58), widow, wine merchant, born Brades;
- [2] James Taylor (27), son, wine merchant's assistant, born Bilston;
- [3] John Taylor (24), son, wine merchant's assistant, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary Taylor (22), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Emma Taylor (15), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Jane Lockett (27), barmaid, born Saredon, Staffordshire;
- [7] Matilda Lockett (22), barmaid, born Calf Heath, Staffordshire;
- [8] Harriet Chattin (19), house servant, born Lea Brook:

Elizabeth Taylor, wine and spirit and ale and porter merchant, 29, Church Street. [1865]

Birmingham Journal 16/1/1869 - Died

"On the 10th inst, aged 23 years, Emma, youngest daughter of the late Montague Taylor, of Bilston."

1871 Census

29, Church Street

- [1] Elizabeth Taylor (68), wine and spirit merchant employing 6 assistants, born Oldbury;
- [2] John Taylor (34), son, wine and spirit agent, born Bilston;
- [3] Mary Taylor (32), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Emily Burgham (25), barmaid, born Bradley;
- [5] Betsey Tranter (26), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [6] Ellen Ralph (30), barmaid, born Bilston:

Elizabeth Taylor died in the 4th quarter of 1874.

Birmingham Daily Post 4/1/1875

"License Transfers Alehouses.....

BOARD, Church Street, from Elizabeth Taylor, deceased, to Richard Newman and James Probert, her executors."

Midland Examiner 1/1/1876

"Transfer of Licenses wine and spirit vaults, Church Street, from the executors of Elizabeth Taylor to James Taylor."

1881 Census

29, Church Street.

- [1] William Riley Taylor (42), civil engineer and spirit merchant, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Ann Taylor (36), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Marian Taylor (18), daughter, assistant, born Bilston;
- [4] William Henry Taylor (15), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Eleanor Phoebe Taylor (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Florence Emily Taylor (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Frederick Jon Taylor (3), son, born Bilston;
- [8] Mary Roberts (18), domestic housemaid, born Dudley:

London Gazette 23/3/1883

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of a Bankruptcy Petition against William Riley Taylor, of No.29 and 30, Church-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Architect, and Surveyor, and lately carrying on business at the same place under the firm of Taylor and Minifie, as a Flour Dealer.

Upon the hearing of this Petition this day, and upon proof satisfactory to the Court of the debt of the Petitioner, and of the trading, and of the act of the Bankruptcy alleged to have been committed by the said William Riley Taylor having been given, it is ordered that the said William Riley Taylor be, and he is hereby, adjudged bankrupt.

Given under the Seal of the Court this 20th day of March, 1883, by the Court, Fras. Sanders, Registrar.

The First General Meeting of the creditors of the said William Riley Taylor is hereby summoned to be held at this Court, on the 12th day of April, 1883, at twelve o'clock at noon, and that the Court has ordered the bankrupt to attend thereat for examination, and to produce thereat a statement of his affairs, as required by the statute. Until the appointment of a Trustee, all persons having in their possession any of the effects of the bankrupt must deliver them, and all debts due to the bankrupt must be paid, to the Registrar. Creditors must forward their Proofs of Debts to the Registrar."

1891 Census

29, Church Street – HOLE IN THE WALL

- [1] William Edwards (40), barman, born Redditch;
- [2] Sarah A. Edwards (37), wife, born Toll End, Tipton;
- [3] William J. Edwards (20), son, barman, born Wordsley;
- [4] Francis Edwards (13), son, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Rowland Richards (14), step-son, born Moxley;
- [6] Thomas Richards (8), step-son, scholar, born Bilston;

Birmingham Daily Post 23/4/1891

"Yesterday, at Wolverhampton, before the Stipendiary Magistrate (Mr. Neville), James Tate, residing at Dunstall House, Wolverhampton, and the licensee of the HOLE IN THE WALL INN, Church Street, Bilston, appeared to answer six charges of permitting his house to be used in contravention of the Betting Act, on March 28, 30, and 31, and April 1, 2, and 3. The prosecution was conducted, on behalf of the police, by Mr. Pratt (Hall, Son, and Pratt), Bilston; and Mr. R. A. Willcock defended.

Mr. Pratt stated that the defendant was not a resident on the licensed premises, the business being conducted for him by a manager named Edwards. Some time ago it came to the knowledge of the chief superintendent of police at Bilston that betting was going on in the house, and he gave instructions with a view to ascertain whether the report which had reached him was correct. Two boys, named Head and Ellis, the sons of policemen were selected to go to the house. On the first day Head went alone to the house, sat down, called for a glass of beer, and then went up to Edwards, who was known as the landlord, and told him he wanted to make a bet. Edwards gave him a piece of paper from a number of similar pieces kept behind the counter, and on this Head wrote the name of the horse he wished to back. He then gave Edwards the paper and 1s, and Edwards put the paper on one side and the money in his pocket. The same procedure happened on each of the days, the bets sometimes being made with Edwards or his wife, or with a man named Jones, and on each occasion the name of the horse was written on a piece of paper and put behind the bar.

The man Jones was fined in that Court in August last for permitting his licensed premises to be used in contravention of the Betting Act, and since then he had frequented the defendant's house to continue his betting operations. When Jones was there he received the money, and in his absence the bets were made with Edwards or his wife.

The Stipendiary: Jones is a bookmaker? Mr. Pratt said that was so, and defendant's premises were used to make his book, and the money won was paid by Jones or Edwards.

George Henry Head and Charles Ernest Ellis, two boys about 15 years of age, then gave evidence of attending the house, and related in detail the bets that were made, Ellis handing to the magistrate copies of the papers with the bets given to Edwards, his wife or Jones.

The witnesses were not cross-examined, and Mr. Willcock, for the defence, said that Mr. Tate had no knowledge of what was taking place in the house. He was a highly respected resident of Wolverhampton, and had carried on business for over twenty years as a licensed victualler in that town in a manner which had gained for him the esteem of all who knew him. Although possessing, when in business, a seven days' license, he only opened his house six days a week, and he was always anxious to carry on his business strictly in accordance with the law. He had only had the HOLE IN THE WALL INN two years, and he very much regretted what had taken place. As soon as he learned what had taken place at the Bilston house he discharged Edwards. Under the circumstances he asked the magistrates to deal with the cases leniently as possible.

The defendant having given evidence, the Stipendiary commented upon the injury that was done by allowing boys to frequent a house for the purposes of betting. Although the defendant did not know of the manner in which the house was being conducted, he was responsible for the acts of his manager, and a fine of £4 would be imposed in each case, without costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1891

“Bilston licensing sessions were held yesterday Mr. T. Dallow applied for the renewal of the license of the HOLE IN THE WALL INN, Church Street, Bilston, to Joseph Dunn. Inspector Harrison and Police-constable Tytherleigh deposed to visiting the applicant’s house and finding Mrs. Dunn and Dunn himself the worse for beer. Mr. Burton, solicitor to Messrs. Bass Limited, asked that the matter should be adjourned if the Bench decided adversely to the application. The adjournment was granted.”

William Millard Whitehouse – see also ROYAL ARTILLERY and RED LION, Dudley Street.

1901 Census

49, Church Street

- [1] David Benton (43), innkeeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Mary Benton (42), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Sarah Ann Benton (20), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Hennrietta Benton (18), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Mary Benton (10), daughter, born West Bromwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 24/6/1901

“Mr. A. B. Smith (Deputy-Coroner) held an inquest at the BOARD INN, Bilston, on Saturday, touching the death of Rachel Barber (57), who died suddenly at her residence in Wood Street, on the previous day. The information received by the police was to the effect that the deceased had been acting as housekeeper for James Bignall, a blacksmith. Enquiries showed that the woman had been married twice if not thrice.

Clara Lewis, a widow, of 33, Thompson Street, Bilston, deposed that the deceased was her mother. Witness’s father’s name was Andrew Bill. She did not know the Christian name of her mother’s husband Barber, nor could she say whether Barber was alive or not, but she knew that her mother went through a form of marriage with James Bignall. The deceased, however, must have married the man Barber, as that was her proper name. On the 14th inst, when witness saw the deceased, she complained of a pain at her heart. She always said that Bignall treated her kindly, and there was no reason to suppose that she had poisoned herself.

James Bignall stated that deceased had lived with him for twelve years. About thirty years ago witness went through a form of marriage with the deceased, and they lived together for about eight years, when she left him. The deceased was not a widow when he married her. The former husband was named George Barber, and he was a bricklayer. Witness could not say whether Barber was alive, as the last he heard of him was about thirty years ago.

A son of the last witness deposed to finding the deceased lying dead in the house, and the medical evidence going to show that death had resulted from heart failure, a verdict to that effect was returned.”

1911 Census

49, Church Street

- [1] David Benton (53), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Maria Benton (52), wife, married 5 years, assisting in business, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Mary Benton (20), daughter, assisting in business, born West Bromwich:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/11/1912 - Advert

“Respectable Girl Wanted, 18 to 20; live in or out.
Mrs. Benton, BOARD INN, Church Street, Bilston.”

RESPECTABLE Girl Wanted, 18 to 20; live in or out.—Mrs. Benton, Board Inn, Church-st., Bilston.

David Benton weighed 20 stones.

He died on 15th September 1920.

1920 Probate

“David Benton of the BOARD INN, Church Street, Bilston Staffordshire, died 15 September 1920. Administration Lichfield 19 October to Ann Maria Benton, widow. Effects £532 2s 11d.”

South Staffordshire Times 30/10/1920

“At a recent smoking concert at the BOARD INN, Bilston, under the presidency of Mr. C. J. Underwood (a former G.W.R. agent in the town) presentations were made to Mr. T. Moss (late goods agent), and Mr. T. Lewis (correspondence clerk) upon their retirement.....”

1921 Census

Church Street – BOARD INN

- [1] Alexander Hadley (46), publican, born Rowley Regis;
- [2] Lillian G. Hadley (32), wife, born Stourport;
- [3] Alexander Benjamin Hadley (12), son, school, born Netherton;
- [4] Miriam Nixon (18), visitor, barmaid, born Brettle Lane;
- [5] Joe Harry Payne (30), boarder, turner, out of work, born Church Gresley, Derbyshire:

A music license was granted on 5th February 1928.

1939 Register

49, Church Street

- [1] Edward C. Pleydell, date of birth 14/2/1890, publican (engineer, gear specialist, retired), married;
- [2] Nellie Pleydell, dob 8/7/1888, unpaid domestic duties and bar, married;
- [3] Vera M. (Constable) Matthews, dob 28/4/1914, clerk, furnishing stores, single;
- [4] Hilda R. (Constable) Carter, dob 30/8/1916, bar general, single:

Edward Cyril Pleydell – see also BROWN JUG, Willenhall, and CROWN, Bank Street, Bilston.

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1946

“Col. A. F. Nicholson (chairman) presided at a meeting of the County Licensing Confirmation Committee at Stafford, on Wednesday.....

Removal orders in respect of three Bilston full licenses – the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, to premises proposed to be erected on the Birmingham-Wolverhampton new road at Lanesfield, Coseley; the BOARD INN, Church Street, to premises to be built in Bunkers Hill Lane; and the ROLLING MILL INN, Highfields, Bradley, to premises to be erected at the junction of Great Bridge Road and Bull Lane, Moxley –were approved by the committee.”

Closed

It was demolished in October 1959.

Its site was marked on a map of the area in 1960, as the BROAD INN.

BOAT

23, Ettingshall Lane, (7, Ettingshall Road), (Millfields Road), Ettingshall, BILSTON

OWNERS

Messrs. Aston and Sullivan, auctioneers, Wolverhampton
Herbert Merchant, officer, Priestfield
Henry Clark
The Old Lion Brewery Co., Tipton
Peter Walker and Son, brewer, 140, Park Lane West, Tipton
Frederick Smith Ltd. [1921]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

T Wood [1857]
William Devney [1871] – 1874;
Henry Clark (1874 – 1891);
Isaac Morris (1891 – 1898);
William Jones (1898 – 1899);
Thomas Gilks (1899 – 1903);
Mrs. Harriet Gilks (1903 – 1909);
Thomas Pugh (1909 – 1915);
Albert Chambers (1915 – 1918);
Catherine Chambers (1918 – 1925);
Arthur Perks (1925 – 1929);
Arthur Haines (1929 – 1932);
John Francis Burton (1932 – [1954])

NOTES

23, Ettingshall Lane [1871], [1881]
7, Ettingshall Road [1901], [1911], [1921], [1939], [1940]
Millfields Road [1904]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/11/1857 - Advert

“Sale Tomorrow. BOAT INN, Ettingshall Lane Bridge.

Mr. W. Ashcroft will Sell by Auction, on Thursday next, November 5, 1857, a portion of the excellent Household Furniture, Fixtures, Gas Appendages, four-pull Beer Machine complete, 25 bushels of good Malt, small quantity of Hops, three Iron Furnaces, all the Brewing Utensils, capital Ale Barrels, and numerous effects of Mr. T. Wood, who is leaving the house.

Sale to commence at eleven o'clock am.”

SALE TOMORROW.
BOAT INN, ETTINGSBALL-LANE BRIDGE.
MR. W. ASHCROFT will SELL by AUCTION, on Thursday next, November 5, 1857, a portion of the excellent HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Fixtures, Gas Appendages, four-pull Beer Machine complete, 25 bushels of good Malt, small quantity of Hops, three Iron Furnaces, all the Brewing Utensils, capital Ale Barrels, and numerous effects of Mr. T. Wood, who is leaving the house.
Sale to commence at eleven o'clock a.m.

1871 Census

23, Ettingshall Lane – BOAT INN

- [1] William Devney (54), coal miner employing 1 man and publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Mary A. Devney (42), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Ann Devney (17), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Caroline Devney (15), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Selena Devney (13), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] William Devney (11), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Joseph Devney (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Isaac Devney (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Samuel B. Devney (5), son, scholar, born Bilston:

William Devney was convicted on 3rd October 1873 for permitting gaming.
He was also convicted on 24th July 1874 for keeping open during prohibited hours.

Henry Clark = Henry Clarke

1881 Census

23, Ettingshall Lane – BOAT INN

- [1] Henry Clarke (37), beer seller, born Ruabon, Denbighshire;
- [2] Harriet Clarke (36), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Sarah Ann Shorthouse (23), domestic servant, born Sedgley;
- [4] Emma Shorthouse (21), visitor, servant, born Sedgley:

Darlaston Weekly Times 12/8/1882

“The anniversary of the Passion Flower Lodge of the Wolverhampton and Willenhall district Free Gardeners has just been celebrated at the BOAT INN, Ettingshall. A large number of members and their friends sat down to a capital spread, served up in admirable style by the host, Mr. Henry Clark, the hostess also beautifully decorating the room for the occasion. After dinner Bro. Joseph Turley was voted to the chair, and Bro. Charles Flavel to the vice-chair. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were drunk to the accompaniment of musical honours. The toast of the host and hostess was well received and responded to, and in proposing the toast of the evening, the Passion Flower Lodge, the Chairman spoke of the very satisfactory, prosperous, and financial condition of the Lodge. A very pleasant evening was spent.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/10/1884

“Yesterday Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest at the BOAT INN, Ettingshall, concerning the death of Thomas Brierwood (15), a porter, employed by the London and North-Western Railway Company, who was killed at Ettingshall Station on Tuesday night.

Charles William Bird, the station-master, deposed that the deceased assisted him to attend to 5.44 down train, and that they saw it leave for Wolverhampton. The deceased then jumped from the platform, and attempted to cross the line. Witness saw by the signals that the up express was coming, and shouted to the deceased to get out of the way. The warning, however, came too late, for the deceased was knocked down. It was no part of deceased's duty to cross the line.

John Brookes, the driver of the express train, stated that he was travelling at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour. He blew the whistle before reaching Ettingshall Station. He did not see the deceased, but hearing an alarm from his stoker he stopped the engine.

The Coroner suggested that as the down train discharged its passengers at about the same time as the express was due, someone should be told off to warn the public of danger.

Inspector Prime, who represented the company, said that the suggestion would be forwarded the proper quarter. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1891 Census

Ettingshall Lane

- [1] Henry Clarke (47), publican, born Rhosymmer, Denbighshire;
- [2] Harriet Clarke (46), wife, born Lanesfield;
- [3] Emma M. Vann (32), sister-in-law, domestic servant, born Sedgley;
- [4] David Shorthouse (39), brother-in-law, brewer, born Sedgley;
- [5] Arthur B. Flavell (12), nephew, scholar, born Sedgley;

1901 Census

7, Ettingshall Road

- [1] Thomas Gilks (59), tavern keeper, born Tipton;
- [2] Harriet Gilks (56), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Hannah Gilks (20), daughter, born Priestfield;
- [4] Samuel Stephens (18), boarder, labourer, ironworks, born Priestfield;
- [5] Richard Stephens (14), boarder, labourer, ironworks, born Warrington;
- [6] Mary Stephens (12), adopted, born Warrington;

1903 Probate

"Thomas Gilks of the BOAT INN, Ettingshall Road, Wolverhampton, died 6 September 1903. Probate Lichfield 2 October to Harriett Gilks, widow, and Henry Clarke, gentleman. Effects £70 2s

Mrs. Harriet Gilks, beer retailer, Millfields Road. [1904]

1911 Census

7, Ettingshall Road

- [1] Thomas Pugh (26), beer retailer, born Ettingshall;
- [2] Georgina Harriet Pugh (26), wife, married 1 year, born Monmore Green;
- [3] John Henry Pugh (18), brother, boatman, born Ettingshall;

1921 Census

7, Ettingshall Road – BOAT INN

- [1] Catherine Chambers (64), widow, innkeeper, tenant, born Princes End;
- [2] Florrie Burton (23), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] George Wilfred Burton (26), son-in-law, hydraulic crane worker, steel works, born Ettingshall;
- [4] Colin Raymond Burton (1), grand-son, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Albert Chambers (19), grand-son, iron worker, nut and bolt works, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Florrie Chambers (17), grand-daughter, hand pressing machine shop, enamel works, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Alfred Crofts (53), brother, labourer for tube welder, born Princes End;

1939 Register

7, Ettingshall Road

- [1] John F. Burton, date of birth 18/4/1889, die sinker, drop forging trade, married;
- [2] Elizabeth L. Burton, dob 3/6/1889, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Evening Despatch 5/1/1954 - Deaths

"On January 3rd at the BOAT INN, Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton, John Francis Burton, beloved husband of Lilian (late of the Globe Inn, Blews Street, Birmingham). Cremation, Perry Barr, 4pm Thursday."

[1964]

BOAT

Wolverhampton Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Tomkinson [1818]
Thomas Tomkinson [1818]
Mercy Lee [1822]

NOTES

John Tomkinson = John Tompkinson

John Tomkinson was also a brass furnace manufacturer. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/6/1818 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Corbett, at the BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston, on Wednesday the 17th Day of June, 1818, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then and there produced.

A Copyhold Messuage or Dwelling House, adjoining to the Turnpike in Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, now used as a Public House, and called the BOAT, in the Occupation of Thomas Tomkinson, as Tenant from Year to Year, at the low yearly Rent of £24 with Stable, Hogsties, and inclosed Yard thereto belonging; also a Copyhold small Tenement and Piece of Land adjoining the said Public House, in the Occupation of Thomas Granger, with the Mines of Coal under all the said Premises.

The Piece of Land has a good Front to Wolverhampton Street, on which may be erected several Houses, and there are already sunk on the Land two Pits or Shafts, by which the Remainder of the Coal may be gotten.

For further Particulars apply to the Auctioneer; or Messrs. Spurrier and Ingleby, Solicitors, Birmingham."

TO be SOLD by Auction, by Mr. CORBETT, at the Bull's Head Inn, in Bilston, on Wednesday the 17th Day of June, 1818, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then and there produced;—a Copyhold Messuage or Dwelling House, adjoining to the Turnpike in Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, now used as a Public House, and called the BOAT, in the Occupation of Thomas Tomkinson, as Tenant from Year to Year, at the low yearly Rent of 24l. with Stable, Hogsties, and inclosed Yard thereto belonging; also a Copyhold small Tenement and Piece of Land adjoining the said Public House, in the Occupation of Thomas Granger, with the Mines of Coal under all the said Premises.

The Piece of Land has a good Front to Wolverhampton Street, on which may be erected several Houses, and there are already sunk on the Land two Pits or Shafts, by which the Remainder of the Coal may be gotten.

For further Particulars apply to the Auctioneer; or Messrs. Spurrier and Ingleby, Solicitors, Birmingham.

BOATBUILDERS ARMS

167, (79), Oxford Street / Chapel Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Edward Brereton, gentleman, Cock Street, Darlaston

Amelia Hooper, spinster, Darlaston

John Pritchard and Son, brewer, Darlaston

LICENSEES

James Weare [1861] – [1862]

Bridget Weare [1863] – [1865]

Joseph Taylor [1865]

John Thomas [1868] – 1883;

Richard Jones (1883 – 1884);

Thomas Talbot (1884 – 1890);

Thomas Webb Green (1890 – 1896);

Edward Pritchard (1896 – 1897);

Benjamin Talbot (1897);

Arthur Edward Devereaux (1897 – 1898);

Edward Jones (1898 – 1900);

Ernest Lawley (1900 – 1905);

Fanny Lawley [1901]

Ernest Dean (1905 – 1907);

Henry Flavell (1907 – 1911);

Albert Davis (1911 – 1913);

NOTES

79, Oxford Street [1861], [1862], [1865], [1868], [1871], [1881], [1891], [1896]

167, Oxford Street [1901], [1904], [1911], [1912]

BOAT [1865]

It had a beerhouse license.

James Weare = James Wear

1861 Census

79, Oxford Street – Beerhouse

[1] James Wear (47), labourer, coal, born Ireland;

[2] Bridget Wear (48), wife, born Ireland;

[3] Thomas Coppart (18), lodger, coal miner, born Ireland;

[4] Martin Brayan (23), lodger, labourer, born Ireland:

James Weare, retailer of beer, 79, Oxford Street. [1862]

Bridget Weare = Bridget Weir

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/5/1863

“Bridget Weir, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street, was summoned for suffering disorderly conduct in her house. Police-constable Fieldhouse said that at half-past ten on Sunday night he found a mob outside, and twenty or thirty Irishmen inside the house, where a fight had been going on. Police-constable Leek stated that the defendant took him on one side, and offered him a bribe to look over the matter. The accused was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/3/1864

“At Bilston Police Court on Tuesday, before the Stipendiary, Mr. Isaac Spooner.....
Bridget Weir, beerhouse keeper, of Oxford Street, was fined 40s and costs for keeping her house open after the proper hours.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/6/1864

“Yesterday, Bridget Weare, beerhouse keeper, of Oxford Street, was fined, at Bilston Police Court, 20s and costs for allowing a cesspit to overflow and become a nuisance to her neighbours. Notice to remove the nuisance had been served upon her on the 13th of May, but it remained on Monday last, and was removed next day by order of the Commissioners. For the defence it was said that defendant had at first thought that other houses had contributed to the contents of the pit, that no one contributor was liable, and that if so the landlord was the party liable. She also had to pay 10s 6d costs, for allowing two pig-washtubs to become a nuisance to her neighbours.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/6/1864

“Bridget Weare, a beerhouse keeper, in Oxford Street, Bilston, was summoned at the instance of the Town Surveyor, for neglecting to remove a nuisance from her premises, after being required to do so. Mr. Fellows appeared on behalf of the Township Commissioners, and Mr. Ward, of Wolverhampton, was for the defendant. It was stated that in the beginning of May last, the Inspector of Nuisances found that a cesspool at the rear of defendant's premises was filled to overflowing, and dangerous to the health of the inhabitants in that locality. He, therefore, in accordance with his duty served the defendant with a notice to have the cesspool emptied within a certain period; she neglected, however, to comply with the requirements of the notice, and the nuisance was removed by the officers of the Commissioners, at a cost of 18s. This amount the Bench ordered the defendant to pay, together with a fine of 20s, and costs of the Court. She was also summoned on a second charge of permitting a quantity of pig-wash, in a very bad state, to remain on the premises, endangering the health of the neighbourhood, but as it appeared that the wash had been removed since the summons was served, the case was withdrawn on payment of costs.”

Bridget Weare, beer retailer, 79, Oxford Street. [1865]

Joseph Taylor = Joseph Tayler

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/10/1865

“On Tuesday, at Bilston Police Court, before Mr. Isaac Spooner, Joseph Taylor, of the BOAT, Oxford Street, was charged with allowing disorderly conduct in his house on Saturday night last. The house was visited by Police-constables Chaplin and Fairbank, when they found a number of lads in the house challenging each other to fight. There was a great disturbance in the house and a large crowd outside. This being the first offence he was only fined 1s and costs, but he was cautioned that for the next offence he would be fined £10.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....
The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....
Permitting Drunkenness Joseph Tayler, BOAT, Oxford Street, 1s and costs.”

John Thomas, beer retailer, 79, Oxford Street. [1868]

1871 Census

79, Oxford Street

- [1] John Thomas (38), boatbuilder employing 2 men and publican, born Newtown, Montgomeryshire;
- [2] Mary A. Thomas (35), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Mary J. Thomas (12), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Margeret Thomas (8), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Lavinia Thomas (5), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;

1881 Census

79, Oxford Street – BOAT BUILDERS ARMS

- [1] John Thomas (48), boat builder, born Newtown, Montgomeryshire;
- [2] Mary A. Thomas (45), wife, born Norwich;
- [3] Mary J. Thomas (22), daughter, general servant, born Bilston;
- [4] Margaret Thomas (18), daughter, general servant, born Bilston;
- [5] Lavinia Thomas (14), daughter, dressmaker, born Bilston:

1891 Census

79, Oxford Street

- [1] Thomas W. Green (47), publican and packer in bedstead works, born Bilston;
- [2] S. A. Green (57), wife, born Balscott, Oxfordshire;
- [3] S. Rogers (27), female, visitor, born Oswestry:

Thomas Green, beer retailer, 79, Oxford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

167, Oxford Street – BOATBUILDERS ARMS

- [1] Ernest Lawley (23), butcher, born Bridgnorth;
- [2] Fanny Lawley (22), wife, publican, born Willenhall;
- [3] Ethel Edwards (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Ernest Lawley, beer retailer, 167, Oxford Street. [1904]

Ernest Dean was fined 10s and costs, on 21st December 1906, for selling liquor to a drunken person.

Evening Despatch 4/12/1910

“Henry Flavell, licensee of the BOATBUILDERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston, was fined £2 and costs by the Bilston Magistrates on Friday for selling drink during prohibited hours on Sunday, November 20.

At 11.20pm Police-sergeant Evans and Police-constable Baker were attracted to the house by the sound of voices. Climbing on to a wall, the officers were able to see into a room, where defendant was with two men, Ernest Bassett and George Phillips. Phillips was supplied with a glass of stout and a jug of ale, and paid for them.

Mr. R. Tildesley, who defended, said Phillips was a guest of the defendant during the evening because it was the eve of defendant’s birthday. Bassett was invited to remain to supper because his wife was in the house assisting to nurse a sick child.

Flavell was also ordered to pay costs in respect of a summons for permitting drunkenness.

For being on the premises during prohibited hours Bassett and Phillips, and the latter’s wife, were ordered to pay costs, but the summons against Phillips for being drunk on the licensed premises was withdrawn.”

1911 Census

167, Oxford Street – BOAT BUILDERS ARMS

- [1] Henry Flavell (34), beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Emily Flavell (34), wife, married 10 years, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Henry Flavell (6), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Alexander Flavell (3), son, born Bilston:

Albert Davis, beer retailer, 167, Oxford Street. [1912]

Staffordshire Sentinel 7/6/1913

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. Notice of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1901, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shirehall, Stafford, at 10-45 o'clock am on Thursday, the 24th day of July, 1913.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

BOAT BUILDERS ARMS. Beerhouse, Bilston, ante 1869. Licensee, Albert Davis."

License renewal refused by Compensation Authority on 24th July 1913.

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1913

"The principal meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

Seven houses were scheduled in Bilston division.....

BOAT BUILDERS ARMS, Bilston, ante 1869 beerhouse.....

Renewal was formally applied for and refused."

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/8/1913 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 24th day of July, 1913, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1913, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

BOAT BUILDERS ARMS, Bilston. Beerhouse ante 1869. Licencee, Albert Davis. Registered Owner, J. Pritchard and Son."

Compensation of £450 was paid on 24th December 1913.

The license was extinguished on 31st December 1913.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1914

"The annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

At the principal meeting of the compensation authority the committee refused to renew 31 licenses. At the supplemental meeting the committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon were satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund. In the following 27 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

BOAT BUILDERS ARMS, Bilston, £450."

Demolished

BOROUGH ARMS

Bunkers Hill Lane, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1967]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Punch Taverns [2005]

LICENSEES

Louis G 'Lou' Southall [1985] – [1991]
Lascelles Codner [1995]
Lynn Carol Boyce [2004]
Ashley Barker [2005]

2007

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 21/9/1957

“A golden key was used by Bilston’s Deputy Mayor, Coun. W. H. Sandland, when he formally opened a new public house, the BOROUGH ARMS INN, in Bunkers Hill Lane, Bilston, yesterday.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/12/1957

“The annual general meeting of W. Butler & Co. Limited will be held on December 30 at Wolverhampton. The following is an extract from the circulated statement of the Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. F. J. Yardley..... The policy of dealing with uneconomic licensed houses has been continued during the year. In all, sixteen have been closed, twelve of those being in respect of the following new houses opened during the year.....

BOROUGH ARMS, Bilston.

These have played their part well in the increased sales of draught beer and wines and spirits.....”

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn-Quiz. [1979]

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/7/1985

“Cheers! Lou and Sue Southall toast their the prize-winning Bilston pub which has come up trumps for the second year running in a brewery competition. For successive years the BOROUGH ARMS has won the ‘best kept cellar’ contest for pubs in the west region of the Midlands. Tenants Lou and Sue will celebrate their success with a prize of a week’s holiday at a Crest hotel of their choice. Judges from Bass Mitchells and Butlers raised their glasses to the Bilston pub after making random visits during licensing hours to tenanted houses in the area.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 7/8/1987

“A thief has raided the home of a Walsall family who are on holiday in Spain – and used their car to carry away his haul. The raider broke into the house at Willenhall and searched rooms and then took the Ford Sierra from the garage, and drove to Connaught Road, Bilston, where he abandoned the vehicle. Detective Inspector Stewart Grogan, of Willenhall CID, said the thief then switched to a yellow Ford Escort which he stole from the car park of the BOROUGH ARMS pub in Bunkers Hill Road, at about 5.45pm last night. The second car was later found abandoned in Clarence Road, Bilston. Det. Insp. Grogan said it was thought the thief had got away with a radio, jewellery, and other property from the house, but until the family returned from holiday it was impossible to say exactly what had gone. Police are looking for a man described as white, aged about 20, tall and slim, with blond hair, and wearing a black bomber-type jacket.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 8/3/1991

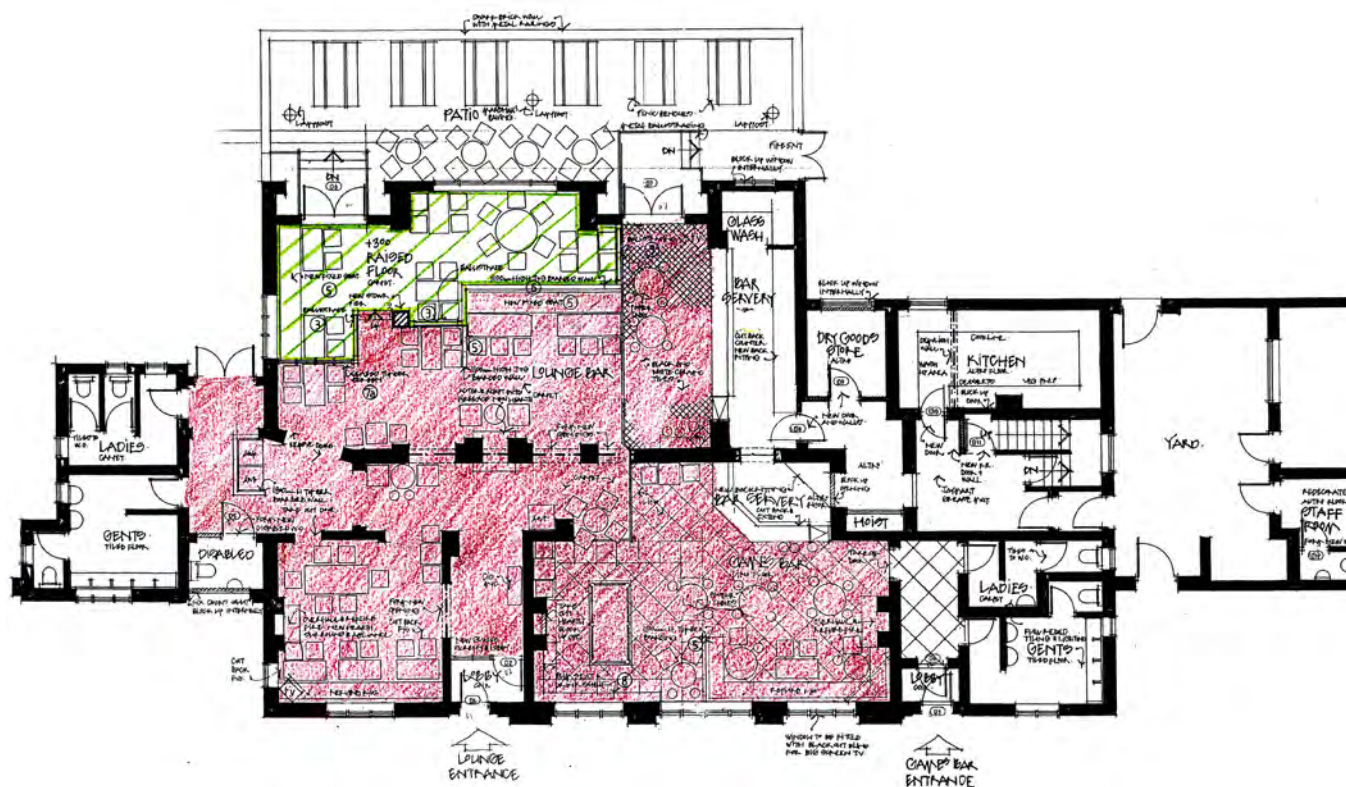

"A head-on collision in Neachells Lane, Wednesfield, led to Mr. Louis Southall, 49, of the BOROUGH ARMS public house, Bunkers Hill, Bilston, in a BMW, suffering spinal injuries. He was detained in hospital. Father and son Mr. Jack and Mr. John Benton, aged 41 and 17, in the other car, a Ford Consul, were discharged after treatment."

Alterations were applied for in 1999.

[2005]

Closed [2007]

It was demolished in January 2009.

Plan 1999

BRADLEY FIELD HOUSE

John Street, (Shropshire Row), (Lower) Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

John Smith
William Heath, beerhouse keeper, Golds Green, West Bromwich

LICENSEES

John Smith [1864] – 1876);
Edwin Heath (1876 – 1877):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/12/1864

“R. Nock (alias Snapper) will fight any of the following men at catch weight, for £5 or £10 a side: T. Westwood, R. Ball, T. Merriott, R. Stokes (all of Wednesbury), or S. Taft of Coseley. A match can be made any night next week by calling at J. Smith's, BRADLEY FIELDS INN, Shropshire Row, near Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

Application was made by Mr. Best on behalf of John Smith, an innkeeper, living in John Street, Bradley. Mr. Thurstans opposed on behalf of Mr. Nott, the occupier of the MERMAID. The application was refused.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/7/1867

“J. Hayward of Bilston will fight Young Pittam at 9st, for £10 to £15 a side, in two months. If this does not suit, Hayward will fight J. Dolphin at 9st 3lb, for £15 a side; or W. Hazeldine of the same place at catch weight. First come first served. Money ready any night next week at Mr. J. Smith's, BRINDLEY [sic] FIELD INN, Salop Street, Bilston.”

1871 Census

John Street

- [1] John Smith (42), publican, born Penkridge;
- [2] Rosannah Smith (42), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Rosannah Smith (19), daughter, dressmaker, born Bilston;
- [4] Priscilla Smith (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Isaac Smith (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] John Smith (7), son, born Bilston;
- [7] William Ashton (24), boarder, refiner of iron, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1873

“Yesterday the annual licensing meeting for Bilston and the neighbourhood was held in the Petty Sessions Court..... The proceedings opened by Chief Superintendent McCrea presenting his annual ‘black list.’ In doing so he remarked that it only indicated eleven offenders, whilst a twelvemonth ago there were twenty-nine. This comparison, he considered, was the clearest substantiation of the beneficial operation of the recent Licensing Act. The names of the offending beerhouse keepers were.....

Joseph [sic] Smith, HALL-FIELDS INN, Bradley.....

The committee stated that the licenses of all the persons contained in the ‘list’ would be suspended until the adjourned licensing sessions, to be held on the 26th proximo.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1873

“Bilston Adjourned Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The undermentioned beerhouse licenses were renewed.....

John Smith, HALL FIELDS INN, Bradley.....

All the above applicants had been convicted during the past two years, and the Bench cautioned them.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/10/1875

“At Wolverhampton County Court, today, before A. Martineau, Esq, (Judge), Mr. Thorne (of the firm Thorne, Smith and Thorne) mentioned to his Honour a case in which a High Bailiff (Mr. Curtis) had thought it desirable to summons two men named John Smith, beerhouse keeper, and Job Dolphin, licensed victualler, of Shropshire Row, Bilston, for having threatened and assaulted a bailiff named Samuel Potts, whilst in the execution of his duty.

Mr. Thorne apologised to his Honour for troubling him with the matter, because as the offence was to all intents and purposes a criminal one, it ought, in his opinion, to be adjudicated upon by a magistrate. The chief bailiff was, however, to some extent prohibited from taking this course, as one learned magistrate on the Wolverhampton Bench had, on two or three occasions when cases of this kind been taken before him, not only expressed his disinclination to deal with them, but had stated distinctly that the Judge of the County Court was the proper person before whom such cases should be taken. He (Mr. Thorne) might state that the complainant Potts was not a regular officer of the Court, but had been specially engaged in this matter by the High Bailiff to levy an execution on the goods of the defendant Smith, for a sum of £23 2s 8d, at the suit of Mr. Whitehouse, brewer, of Tipton. Since the assault was committed both Smith and Dalton [sic] had expressed to the High Bailiff their regret for what they did, and under these circumstances Mr. Curtis had no desire to press the case against them. On behalf of the High Bailiff, he (Mr. Thorne) would suggest, if it met with his Honour’s approval, that an apology from the men should be accepted, together with payment of a nominal sum, say 5s each, as a fine, and the costs of those proceedings, including his (Mr. Thorne’s) fee.

His Honour expressed his desire to hear the particulars of the case, and the complainant, Samuel Potts, was then sworn. He said he went to Smith’s house, on Friday, he first saw the daughter. Afterwards Smith himself came in, to whom he stated his business, and exhibited to him his authority. After looking at it, Smith said there was some mistake, and he would go and see Mr. Whitehouse (the plaintiff in the suit) about it. He then went away and returned in about three hours, between six and seven in the evening. He then commenced to threaten him (Potts), and said if he did not go away he had a gun upstairs, and he would fetch it downstairs and shoot him. He went to fetch the gun, but did not bring it, because he said the door of the room was locked where it was. He, however, threatened to knock his (Potts’s) brains out if he did not go away, and sent to some works close at hand for some men to come and help him turn him out. He continued his threats to such an extent, and became so violent in his conduct, that witness became frightened, and he called in a policeman to protect him. After the policeman came Smith was quiet for a bit, but when the policeman went away he again began to threaten him. About midnight the other defendant, Dolphin, who is a neighbour of Smith’s, came into the house and asked witness to let him look at his authority, pretending that if he would do so, and it was alright, he would pay him the money. Witness, however, doubted what he said, and refused to produce his authority. He did afterwards show it to the policeman, when he came in a little later, and when the policeman was handing it him back again, Dolphin tried to snatch it from him. The policeman then left, and the two men again commenced to threaten him to get him to go out. As he refused to leave, Smith went and opened the door, and then Dolphin, who is a tall, powerful man, seized hold of him and threw him, or pushed him, out of the house.

The Judge said the offence was a very serious one, and one which he could not allow to be compromised in the way suggested.

Mr. Barrow, on behalf of the defendants, said they acted under a mistaken notion, and now desired, through him, to express their deep contrition for what they had done.

His Honour said what made the matter worse in regard to Dolphin – by whom it appeared the actual assault was committed – was that he had no business to interfere in the matter at all. They had both committed an offence of a very grave character, and as the officers of that Court had a right to be protected in the execution of their duty, he should order that the defendant Dolphin pay a fine of £2 and costs, and Smith £1 and costs. His Honour at the same time expressed his concurrence with Mr. Thorne that cases of this character, the offence being a criminal one, should be dealt with by a criminal tribunal, such as Magistrates Court, for although a magistrate himself as well as a County Court judge, still he was not so well acquainted with the criminal law as those who daily administer it.”

John Smith – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE, Salop Street.

The license was taken away in 1877.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Edwin Heath, BRADLEY FIELD INN, Bradley, two convictions for permitting drunkenness, 20s and costs and 10s and costs.....

The whole of the licenses in the ‘black list,’ it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions, and in the cases of Edwin Heath Mr. H. Ward said the bench had very serious thoughts about withholding the licenses.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/9/1877

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The magistrates refused to renew the license of Thomas [sic] Heath, of the BRADLEY FIELDS INN, who had been twice convicted in the year, but whose license had not been endorsed.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 18/10/1877

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Heath v The Licensing Justices of Bilston.

For two years prior to the last Licensing Sessions, Heath has been the keeper of the BRADLEY FIELDS INN, Bilston, an old-licensed beerhouse, but on the occasion referred to the Magistrates refused to renew the license because Heath had been twice convicted during the twelve months for permitting drunkenness. In neither cases, however, were the licenses endorsed, and it was endeavoured to be shown that the justices were not right in refusing the renewal.

Mr. Plumptre pointed out that the reason for the refusal was because the appellant had failed to show good character. PC Pearson, who lives in the vicinity of the house, said several complaints had been made about the way it was conducted.

The Court confirmed the justices’ decision.”

BREWER AND BAKER

Bridge Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Watson [1802]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/4/1802 - Advert

"Copyhold Premises.

To be Sold by Auction, by F. Pool, on Thursday the 22nd day of April, 1802, at the House of George Rushbery, the Sign of the BULLS HEAD, in Bilston, between the Hours of Four and Six o'clock in the Afternoon.....

Lot IV. A Public House, with Brewhouse, Pigstie, and Garden, situate in Bridge Street, Bilston, aforesaid, known by the Sign of the BREWER AND BAKER, and now in the Possession of John Watson."

COPYHOLD PREMISES.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by F. POOL, on Thursday the 22d Day of April, 1802, at the House of George Rushbery, the Sign of the Bull's Head, in Bilston, between the Hours of Four and Six o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then produced;

LOT I. A good new-built Dwelling House, situate in Duck Lane, in Bilston, now in the Possession of William Price.

LOT II. Four Dwelling Houses and a Piece or Plot of Land adjoining, well adapted for the Erection of two Dwelling Houses thereon. These Premises are situated in Quarry Lane, in Bilston aforesaid, and now in the Possession of Edward Fellows, Alexander Jones, Mary Morris, and Job Langstone.

LOT III. Three Dwelling Houses and a Piece of Garden Ground adjoining, situate in Wolverhampton-street, and now in the Possession of John Morris, William Ellerton, and John Wedge.

LOT IV. A Public House, with Brewhouse, Pigstie, and Garden, situate in Bridge-street, Bilston aforesaid, known by the Sign of the Brewer and Baker, and now in the Possession of John Watson.

LOT V. A Piece of Land adjoining Middle Field Lane, in Bilston aforesaid, containing three Roods, or thereabouts, called Port Piece, under which is a good Mine of Coal, now in the Possession of Mrs. Bickley, or her Under-tenant.

LOT VI. A Piece of Land and Gardens, with four Dwelling Houses, and other Buildings thereon erected, containing 2A. 2R. 0P. or thereabouts. The Coal Mine under 0A. 2R. 14P. of this Lot, is reserved. The Premises are situate in the Centre of the Town of Bilston aforesaid, nearly adjoining the Street, formerly the Sign of the Golden Cup, but now in the Possession of Richard Poolton, Tin Plate-worker, and others.

The Premises may be viewed, and further Particulars known, by applying to Mr. Edward Woolley, in Stafford-street, in Bilston aforesaid.

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

Green Croft, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Shayshut [1818] – [1822]

NOTES

John Shayshut = John Shayshutt

John Shayshut was also a bricklayer. [1818]

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

Wood Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Shayshutt [1827]

NOTES

Palladium 1/5/1825

“Loyal Orange Institution. Meetings to be held during the week commencing on Monday, May 2, 1825..... No.236, Bilstone, Staffordshire, BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Wood Street.”

Palladium 4/9/1825

“Loyal Orange Institution. Meetings to be held during the ensuing week..... Tuesday..... No.236, Bilstone, Staffordshire, BRICKLAYERS ARMS.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/2/1827 - Advert

“Five Pounds Reward.

Lost between Bilston and Wednesbury, on Friday afternoon, the 26th January, about five o'clock, a small Iron Box, containing two £5 Notes of the Dudley Old Bank, and eight £1 Notes, together with a small Memorandum. Whoever has found the same, and will bring it to Mr. Shayshutt's, BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Wood Street, Bilston, or to Mr. Wood, No.22, Holloway Head, Birmingham, shall receive a reward of Five Pounds. Bilston, January 27, 1827.”

FIVE POUNDS REWARD.

LOST between Bilston and Wednesbury, on Friday afternoon, the 26th of January, about five o'clock, a small IRON BOX, containing two £5 Notes of the Dudley Old Bank, and eight £1 Notes, together with a small Memorandum.

Whoever has found the same, and will bring it to Mr. Shayshutt's, Bricklayer's Arms, Wood-street, Bilston, or to Mr. Wood, No. 22, Holloway-head, Birmingham, shall receive a reward of FIVE POUNDS.

Bilston, Jan. 27, 1827.

BRICKMAKERS ARMS

Green Croft, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Parker [c.1864]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/9/1864

“Yesterday the magistrates sat in Special Sessions, for the consideration of the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses to victuallers.....

The following houses and their landlords had been complained against and fined during the year.....

Thomas Parker, BRICKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft.”

BRIDGE

10, Coseley Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Richard Abbott [1860] – [1861]

NOTES

James Richard Abbott was also a millwright. [1860]

1861 Census

10, Coseley Street

[1] Richard Abbott (40), carpenter, joiner and engineer, born Bilston;

[2] Nouri Abbott (41), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Thomas M. Abbott (17), son, professor of music, born Bilston;

[4] Henrietta M. Abbott (14), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Elizabeth N. Abbott (4), daughter, born Bilston:

[I have included this because it seems to apply to James Richard.]

BRIDGE

4, (9), Ettingshall Road, (Ettingshall Lane), Rough Hills, Ettingshall, BILSTON

OWNERS

Samuel Burrows
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1921]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Abbott [1851] – [1852]
H Hyde [] – 1860;
Thomas Pennington (1860 – 1862)
Alfred Wood (1862);
John Vickers (1862 – [1865])
Samuel Barrows [] – 1865;
Edward Jones (1865 – [])
William Devney [] – 1868;
Samuel Burrows (1868 – 1874);
Joseph Burrows (1874 – 1880);
Samuel Burrows (1880 – 188_);
William Hall (188_ – 1881);
Henrietta Abrahams (1881 – 1882);
Frederick Hadyn Jolley (1882 – 1883);
Henrietta Abrahams (1883);
Charles Preston (1883 – 1884);
Jeremiah Skidmore (1884 – 1885);
John Short (1885);
John Summers (1885 – 1887);
Edwin Slater (1887 – 1888);
Eliza Tranter (1888);
John James Green (1888 – 1894);
Samuel Burrows [1892] ?
Richard Bates (1894 – 1898);
Mrs. Lucy Bates (1898 – 1900);
John Davies (1900 – 1905);
Richard Daniel Davis (1905 – 1922);
Mrs. Emma Davis (1922 – [1940])
Thomas Challenor [1968]

NOTES

Ettingshall Lane [1862], [1865], [1868], [1870]
9, Ettingshall Lane [1881]
4, Ettingshall Road [1911], [1921], [1940]

SALE TO-MORROW (TUESDAY), MAY 13th.
"BRIDGE INN," ETTINGSHALL LANE,
NEAR WOLVERHAMPTON.
MR. W. ASHCROFT will SELL by AUCTION,
TO-MORROW (Tuesday), May 13th, 1862, the LICENSES and POSSESSION of the above important Roadside INN; also all the excellent HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, 60-gallon Ale Barrels, Iron and Copper Furnaces, two capital Mash Tubs, Vats, large Lead Pipe, four-pull Beer Machine, four pockets of good HOPS, Gas Appendages, Earthenware, China, Glass, Wheelbarrow, four large Water Butts, and other effects of Mr. A. Wood, who is leaving.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock.

THOMAS PENNINGTON, of Bridge Inn, Ettingshall-lane, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged Bankrupt under a Petition for Adjudication of Bankruptcy (in forma pauperis) filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Stafford, on the twenty-fourth day of May, 1862, is hereby required to surrender himself to Mr.
GEORGE SPILSBURY, the Registrar of the said Court, at the first Meeting of Creditors, to be held before the said Registrar, on Wednesday, the eleventh day of June, 1862, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, at the COUNTY COURT OFFICE, BANK-PASSAGE, STAFFORD.

1862

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18th, 1863.
— — —
VALUABLE FREEHOLD AND COPYHOLD INN,
MESSUAGES,
BUILDING LAND AND PREMISES,
SITUATE AT ETTINGSHALL LANE, BILSTON, AND CATCHEM'S CORNER, SEDGLEY.

MESSRS. MORRELL and GRIFFITHS will SELL by AUCTION, by order of the Representatives of the late proprietors, on Friday, the 18th day of December, 1863, at six o'clock in the evening, at the BRIDGE INN, ETTINGSHALL LANE (on the premises), subject to such conditions of sale as will be then and there produced, and in the following or such other lots as may be then determined, the following valuable FREEHOLD and COPYHOLD PROPERTIES, viz. :—

LOT 1.—All that old licensed and well accustomed MESSUAGE or PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the name of the "Bridge Inn," and adjoining the Canal Bridge, situate in and fronting Ettingshall Lane, in the township of Bil-ton, in the county of Stafford, with the Outbuildings and Appurtenances thereto belonging, formerly in the occupation of Mr. James Abbott, deceased, but now of Mr.
John Vickers, at the low rental of £23 per annum. The Public House contains front tap room, front kitchen (including the porch and screen therein), billiard room, well fitted up with seating, and divided from the bar by a partition of wood and glass; good cellaring, large brewhouse, with malt room extending over same; two sleeping rooms, large club room, extending over front tap room and billiard room; piggeries, two-stall stable, storehouse and large room (formerly used as a workshop), extending over stable and storehouse.

The whole of the premises are well and substantially built, and fitted up with every requisite convenience for an Inn. The situation is good, being in the immediate neighbourhood of extensive iron works and collieries. The pump is in good repair and produces an excellent supply of water. The total contents (including the site of the buildings) are 690 square yards or thereabouts.

This lot is Copyhold of Inheritance, within the manor of Stowheath, but with special facilities for enfranchisement.

1863

1851 Census

Ettingshall Lane

- [1] James Abbotts (57), master carpenter employing 1 man, born Wemm, Shropshire;
- [2] Isabella Abbotts (53), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] George Abbotts (17), son, carpenter, born Bilston;
- [4] Sophia Abbotts (10), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Catherine Abbotts (8), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Samuel Cornfield (29), son-in-law, singler, born Lanesfield;
- [7] Lucy Cornfield (25), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Isabella Cornfield (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [9] Mary Ann Cornfield (1), daughter, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

Mr. Underhill applied on behalf of Mr. James Abbott, of Ettingshall New Village, but the license was not granted in consequence of the necessary notices not having been properly given.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/1/1859

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Michael Bill, 43, miner, and Benjamin Crowther, 24, stoker, were indicted for uttering three counterfeit half-crowns, at Bilston, well knowing the same to be false and counterfeit. The prisoners went to the BULL AND MOUTH public house, in High Street, Bilston, and while they were there Crowther offered a bad half-crown in payment for three-pennyworth of gin. He was told that it was bad, upon which he began to abuse the landlord, and after some time was turned out of the shop. While the altercation was going on the prisoner walked away. A short time before their visit to the BULL AND MOUTH they had been at the BALLOON public house, where Crowther offered a bad shilling in payment for drink, but it was refused. When the prisoners left they were watched, and Bill was heard to sat to Crowther, with an oath, ‘Go and try Masters’s,’ that being the name of the person who formerly kept the BULL AND MOUTH. On the following day the prisoners went to the WAGGON AND HORSES, at Sedgley, and Crowther called for a pint of ale, for which he tendered half-a-crown, which the niece of the landlady said was bad. The landlady, however, whose sight was defective, consented to take it, but the course of the day she sent her niece to a neighbour’s shop to make some purchases, giving her the half-crown in question, when the opinion of the niece that it was counterfeit was confirmed. Within an hour of leaving the WAGGON AND HORSES, the prisoners went to the BRIDGE INN, at the same place, where for some drink they offered another bad half-crown, but it was not discovered to be bad until the evening of the same day. The men having got clear away, Bill went on the evening of the same day to a provision shop in the same place, and there attempted to pass a bad shilling. On being told that it was bad, he said that he was nearly blind (which appeared to be true), and that it had been given to him in his wages. He promised to bring the person who gave him the coin, but having once left with the shilling in his possession, he never returned. On the 18th of the same month, Crowther and the other prisoner were at the MOXLEY TAVERN, Bilston, where one of them offered a bad shilling in payment for a glass of gin. The police were by this time on their track, and shortly afterwards they were apprehended.

Mr. Motteram dissected the evidence in detail for the purpose of showing that it was not conclusive against the prisoners, but the Jury returned a verdict of guilty. Bill was sentenced to six months, and Crowther to twelve months hard labour.”

1861 Census

Ettingshall Lane

- [1] Thomas Pennington (31), licensed victualler, born Hawley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Emma Pennington (35), wife, born Hawley, Staffordshire;
- [3] Harriet Green (20), house servant, born Parkfield, Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/12/1861

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

Daniel Kyte, 25, pump maker, and Josiah Jackson, 24, joiner, were indicted for uttering two forged notes, at Sedgley, on the 23rd of September. Mr. Hill prosecuted, and Mr. Kenealy appeared in defence.

Mr. Hill opened the case by stating the facts as deposed by the following witnesses.

Mr. Baker, UNION MILLS INN, Catchems Corner, proved that the two prisoners, with a third man, and John Wedge, called at his house, on the 23rd of September. A note (Macclesfield Bank) was given him by his servant, and he took the change into the bar, and offered it to Wedge, whom he knew, but Wedge pointed to Jackson. Witness gave Jackson the change, and Jackson wrote the name ‘Williams’ upon it. The note also bore the name of Wedge.

John Wedge, Catchems Corner, said he saw the two prisoners in the street on the afternoon of the 23rd of September, one of whom he knew personally, and they asked him to get change for a £5 note on a distant (Macclesfield) bank. They told him it was good, and he took it to the house of a grocer named Eadie, but Eadie refused to change it. Witness then went home, and the prisoners followed him, and Kyte asked him to go and have something to drink. He went with them to Mr. Tippers’s, the BULLS HEAD, and a third man, who now joined the prisoners, offered the note again, but Mr. Tippers refused to change it. They then went to Mr. Baker’s, the UNION MILLS public house, but they did not stay there many minutes. Witness and the two prisoners next went to a foot race, at Sedgley, and when they returned they went to the ROYAL OAK. While there, Jackson offered another note, but the landlord would not change it. The next place they visited was Pennington’s, the BRIDGE INN, going afterwards to Owen’s, the ROYAL OAK, again. On the way Jackson asked what sort of house Tippers’s was, and made inquiries about the ‘strong box.’ In consequence of other conversation witness asked what had become of the first note they showed him, and they told him they had ‘passed’ it at Baker’s. In the course of this conversation Jackson placed a second note in witness’s hands, and witness told him he should keep it till he ascertained that the first was a good one. When this was told to Kyte and the third man, Kyte threatened to kill him. Witness said that unless he killed him outright he should appear against him. Kyte, Jackson, and the other man then attacked witness, and he became insensible. When he recovered himself he found his money gone – about £30 or £40. They did not, however, take the note he had just received from Jackson. This note was subsequently given to the police.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kenealy: The robbery took place in the ROYAL OAK INN. They did not offer witness any money to change the note; they told him that if he wanted a sovereign out of it he could have it, but he took no notice of them. When the first note was presented at the BULLS HEAD INN it had witness’s name upon it; it had been written in order to assist him in passing it.

By the Judge: The third man joined the two prisoners after they had been to Tippers’s.

Thomas Pennington, Bridge Street, proved that early in the afternoon of the 23rd, the prisoner Jackson offered him what he represented to be a £5 note. He considered it to be a bad one, and he told Jackson he didn’t like the look of it. Wedge was with Jackson when this occurred, and they were afterwards joined by Kyte and another man.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kenealy: Wedge seemed as anxious to change the note as the other man; he said he wanted 10s out of it.

William Vickers, WHITE HART INN, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, proved that on the morning of the 23rd September, the two prisoners and a third man called at his house. The third man showed several notes in a handkerchief, and the prisoners asked witness to change them. They told him that if he offered £12 for three of them, they thought the man would take it. He was a simple man, they said, and wanted to spend his money, and subsequently they told witness that this third man had got the notes from his ‘woman,’ who ‘took’ them from a farmer. He had no money in the house, and he gave them no change.

Superintendent M’Crea produced the two notes – the one passed to Mr. Baker, and the other retained by Wedge.

Detective-officer Stokes proved having apprehended the prisoners in Park Street, Birmingham. A third man, named Brown, was apprehended, but the Magistrates discharged him. The prisoners told him they were aware the police were after them, and they could have got away if they desired.

In defence Mr. Kenealy alleged that the two prisoners were the victims of the third man, who had succeeded in making his escape. He pointed to different parts of the evidence to support this view, and especially to that of the witness Vickers.

The Judge returned a verdict of guilty, and the prisoners were each sentenced to ten years’ penal servitude.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/1/1862

“J. Turner of Bilston will run Edwards or Bromley (both of Longton), 100 yards, for £10 a side. Either party wishing for a match can be on by sending an answer to this paper and a deposit. To run on a turnpike road in one month from the first deposit. Turner’s money ready at the BRIDGE INN, Thomas Pennington’s, Ettingshall Lane, near Wolverhampton.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/5/1862 - Advert

“Sale Tomorrow (Tuesday), May 13th. BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Lane, near Wolverhampton.

Mr. W. Ashcroft will Sell by Auction, Tomorrow (Tuesday), May 13th, 1862, the Licenses and Possession of the above important Roadside Inn; also all the excellent Household Furniture, Brewing Pant, 60-gallon Ale Barrels, Iron and Copper Furnaces, two capital Mash Tubs, Vats, large Lead Pipe, four-pull Beer Machine, four pockets of good Hops, Gas Appendages, Earthenware, China, Glass, Wheelbarrow, four large Water Butts, and other effects of Mr. A. Wood, who is leaving.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/5/1862

“The following petitioned the Court in forma pauperum, and were adjudicated bankrupt.....

Pennington, publican, Ettingshall; debts, £309.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/5/1862 - Notice

“Thomas Pennington, of BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Lane, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, having been adjudged Bankrupt under a Petition for Adjudication of Bankruptcy (in forma pauperis) filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Stafford, on the twenty-fourth day of May, 1862, is hereby required to surrender himself to Mr. George Spilsbury, the Registrar of the said Court, at the first Meeting of Creditors, to be held before the said Registrar, on Wednesday, the eleventh day of June, 1862, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely, at the County Court Office, Bank Passage, Stafford.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1862

“The last examination of Thomas Pennington, beerhouse keeper, Ettingshall Lane, Bilston, was adjourned in consequence of his not having filed his statement of accounts as required by the Act.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 22/8/1862

“In re Thomas Pennington, licensed victualler, Ettingshall Lane, near Bilston. The hearing was adjourned from last Court, and the meeting was now adjourned until the 23rd of September, the expenses of the former adjournment not having been paid.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/8/1862

“Bankrupts.....

Thomas Pennington, licensed victualler, Ettingshall Lane, Bilston, applied for his order of discharge, unopposed. As he was not prepared to pay the stamp fee and the expense of advertisement the case was adjourned.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1862

“Bankruptcy Cases at the Stafford County Court.....

In the matter of Thomas Pennington, victualler, of Ettingshall Lane, near Bilston, these bankrupts did not appear, and a memorandum to that effect was ordered to be made, and the authorities looked into with a view to make an example of them.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/6/1862

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, the following intermediate transfers were made.....

BRIDGE, Ettingshall, Alfred Wood to John Vickers, retail brewer.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/12/1863 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold and Copyhold Inn, Messuages, Building Land and Premises, situate at Ettingshall Lane, Bilston, and Catchems Corner, Sedgley.

Messrs. Morrell and Griffiths will Sell by Auction, on Friday, the 18th day of December, 1863, at six o'clock....

Lot 1. All that old licensed and well accustomed Messuage or Public House, known by the name of the BRIDGE INN, and adjoining the Canal Bridge, situate in and fronting Ettingshall Lane, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, with the Outbuildings and Appurtenances thereto belonging, formerly in the occupation of Mr. James Abbott, deceased, but now of Mr. John Vickers, at the low rental of £23 per annum. The Public House contains front tap room, front kitchen (including the porch and screen therein), billiard room, well fitted up with seating, and divided from the bar by a partition of wood and glass; good cellaring, large brewhouse, with malt room extending over the same; two sleeping rooms, large club room, extending over front tap room and billiard room; piggeries, two-stall stable, storehouse and large room (formerly used as a workshop), extending over stable and storehouse.

The whole of the premises are well and substantially built, and fitted up with every requisite convenience for an inn. The situation is good, being in the immediate neighbourhood of extensive ironworks and collieries. The pump is in good repair and produces an excellent supply of water. The total contents (including the site of the buildings) are 690 square yards or thereabouts.

This lot is Copyhold of Inheritance, within the manor of Stowheath, but with special facilities for enfranchisement.”

London Gazette 31/12/1869

“John Vickers, now residing at Ettingshall-lane, near the BRIDGE INN, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, formerly of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall-lane aforesaid, and previously of the BULLS HEAD INN, High-street, Bilston aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and a Coker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, on the 29th day of December, 1869, is hereby required to surrender himself to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq., Registrar of the said Court at the first meeting of Creditors, to be held before the said Registrar, on the 15th day of January next, at twelve o'clock, at noon precisely, at the said Court.

Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq., of Wolverhampton is the Official Assignee, and A. E. Greenway, Esq., of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

William Devney was also a shopkeeper. [1868], [1870]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/10/1868

“J. Green of Wolverhampton will run H. Thomas of the same place 100 yards, if he will give a yard start, or run Foster of Sedgley the like distance, with three yards start, for £10 a side. Money ready at Mr. Burrows's BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/1/1869

“R. Guest of New Village will run R. Fullard of Wolverhampton, for £5 or £10 a side, if he will give four yards start in 100, or he will run Walker of Willenhall the like distance level; or Wedge of Willenhall 100 yards, with three yards start, for £5 a side. Either of the above can make a match any night next week, at Mr. S. Burrows's, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1869

“On Monday night, Richard Guest, of the New Village, Bilston, a young man, only 21 years of age, committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol. Shortly before six o'clock yesterday morning two youths entered a stable at the back of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, to take out a horse to begin work at a pit. Close to the door they found the man Guest, quite dead. He was on his knees, leaning his head back against the wall, as if he had first knelt down, and then fallen backwards. His right hand was resting on his breast, and held tightly a small pocket pistol, which was pointed towards his face, and seemed to have been recently fired. There was a terrible wound in the palate of the mouth, which leads to the inference that the pistol was placed in the mouth before it was discharged, and that the contents passed upwards into the head. Whether, judging from the position of the body, Guest knelt to pray before he shot himself or not, will, no doubt, remain a mystery. Powder, caps and bullets – of a very rough kind, probably made by himself – were found in his waistcoat pocket. His relatives cannot even suggest any circumstance which throws light on the cause of the suicide. He always seemed a steady, quiet fellow, and was in the employ of Messrs. Wright and North, Monmore Green Ironworks, Wolverhampton.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/7/1869

"The adjourned inquest upon the body of Richard Guest, of the New Village, Bilston, who shot himself, under circumstances already reported in the Daily Post, was held on Thursday, at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.

Mr. G. W. Malin, surgeon, assistant to Mr. H. D. Best, said that the opinion he had formed of the cause of the deceased's death was that it was the result of laceration of the brain by a pistol shot. There was no other injury on the body but that in the head, and he considered the deceased inflicted the wound himself.

A girl, named Margaret Vickers, deposed that she saw Guest walking in Priestfield, on the Sunday before his death, with a small pistol in his hand.

Henry Clark, a puddler, said that Guest had seemed very strange in his manner for some time. Only two days before he shot himself, witness and deceased met at the public house where the inquest was held. Guest said, 'I don't think I shall ever wash myself again, but will leave the dirt on to keep me warm, this warm weather.' During work hours he would sometimes drop his tools and walk out of the works, and when spoken to, occasionally turned his eyes up in a curious manner.

As the police had not been able to find where the deceased bought the pistol, the Coroner offered to again adjourn the inquest for inquiries to be made in that direction. The Jury were, however, satisfied that Guest shot himself, and that he did so whilst in a temporary state of insanity, and they returned a verdict to that effect."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Refusing to Admit Police Samuel Burrows, BRIDGE, Ettingshall, 2s 6d and costs."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/4/1870

"S. Burrows of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, will match his dog Lion to run the best of 21 courses, 60 yards law, against Potts's white dog Billy, if he will allow two dead rabbits; or he will match his bitch Lark on the same conditions, for £10 or £15 a side. Money ready as above."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/11/1870

"Mount Pleasant Grounds, Coseley.....

Burrows's brown and white bitch Mary Ann of Ettingshall and Hughes's brown dog Spring of Gornal run their 200 yards match, for £10 a side, on Nov 28. The stakes are to be made into £5 a side this evening (Saturday) at Mr. Burrows's, the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/12/1870

"Mount Pleasant Grounds, Coseley.....

The match between Burrows's Mary Ann of Ettingshall and Hughes's Spring of Gornal to run 200 yards, for £15 a side giving or taking two yards and a half to the pound, drew a large number of the sporting community from Manchester and Sheffield to the grounds. Mary Ann was first in the scale, and her weight stood at 19lb, whilst Spring pulled down 19½lb; Mary Ann therefore received a yard and nine inches start. The betting opened at 6 to 4 on Spring, at which price a good sum was invested. At 3 o'clock the dogs were on their marks, and sent away to a good start. A capital race ensued for 100 yards, when Mary Ann went to the front, and won by five yards, evidently to the great surprise of the Manchester and Gornal party."

1871 Census

9, Ettingshall Lane – BRIDGE INN

[1] Samuel Burrows (37), coal master employing 6 men and 3 boys, born Sedgley;

[2] Sarah Burrows (29), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Ann Elwell (23), servant, born Bilston:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/9/1871

"Albion Grounds, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton.....

W. Turner of Wolverhampton has matched his red dog Spring to run F. Smith's brindled dog Prince of Heath Town the best of 11 courses, for £10 a side, at the above grounds, on Monday, Sept 25; the first rabbit to be dropped at 3 o'clock. Mr. Burrows, of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, is stakeholder, and Mr. S. Powis, referee."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/9/1872

“G. Guest of Ettingshall will run R. Poxton of Wednesday one mile round the Lea Brook grounds, Wednesbury, for £10 or £15 a side, if he will allow him 20 yards start. Money ready any time at Mr. Burrows's, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.”

AND

“J. Lewis is not satisfied with Potter's Fan defeating Rose on Monday last. Rose will give Fan one dead rabbit in the best of 19 courses, or two in 21 courses, for £15 or £25 a side. A match can be made by calling at Mr. Sam Burrows's, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.”

Yorkshire Post 5/3/1874

“Yesterday a coroner's inquisition was opened at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Lane, near Wolverhampton, on the body of a widow, named Ellen Davies (67), who was found strangled in bed on the previous morning in her dwelling house in that neighbourhood. Chief-superintendent McCrea watched the proceedings on behalf of the police.

The evidence adduced showed that the dead body lay across an apology for a bed, her feet wide apart, and her hands clenched as if endeavouring to free her throat from a murderous grasp. Blood had exuded from her mouth, and on the throat were discolourations as of extreme pressure, and also nail marks. A drawer was wide open, and a purse lay unfastened in it. On the window sill upstairs were traces of pit mound soil corresponding in appearance with other footprints on the rail used as a ladder. No door fastenings had been broken; but only the front room was inhabited in consequence of the ruinous condition of the house. It transpired that some time back a girl named Derricott, residing in the adjoining town of Bilston, was convicted of stealing a Post Office order from the deceased. Chief-Superintendent McCrea deposed that he had examined the deceased, who lay across her bed in a diagonal position, presenting all the appearances of having been strangled. The furniture, excepting the drawer previously referred to, did not seem to have been disturbed. The clasp of the purse was broken off, and had not at present been found. As to the means of egress, the chief-superintendent's testimony was corroborative of the preceding explanation. He believed there had been only one murderer. That morning witness had had the deceased's apparel examined, and in the pocket of the dress which she is supposed to have worn on Monday 2s 4½d was discovered, and some other articles, including a letter from a niece in Nottingham, dated July, 1873, and 6d in another dress pocket. It is alleged, said the chief-superintendent, that the deceased had some further money in her possession; but it cannot be found now.

Mr. Hancox, surgeon, practicing at Bilston, stated the result of a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased. He arrived at the conclusion that death was owing to strangulation caused by violent compression of the throat; and he believed she had been grasped violently by the lower jaw with one hand, and that afterwards the other was employed in grasping the throat till death ensued.

The inquiry was adjourned for a fortnight. At present the perpetrator of the murder is not in custody, nor are suspicions directed against any one in particular.”

Birmingham Mail 18/3/1874

“This morning the adjourned inquest of the body of Ellen Davis, who, on the morning of the 2nd inst, was found murdered in her cottage at Ettingshall, was held before Mr. Phillips, coroner. The accused man, Thomas Matthews, was present in the room, and Mr. Barrow, solicitor, appeared on his behalf.

Joseph Wooley, of Nottingham, nephew of the deceased, said, among other things, that deceased had always been an eccentric woman, and in the habit of finding fault. She had told him there were two persons in the habit of passing her house who had made improper overtures to her, and she would rather see the devil than either of them.

Inspector Ordish said that the articles found in the deceased's room were undisturbed. He found a sovereign in one of the drawers. Could trace where a person had entered and left by the upstairs window. He and Superintendent McCrea arrested prisoner, who protested his entire innocence.

Thomas Lewis, deceased's neighbour, said that on the 1st inst he saw a man at the back of deceased's house. He had seen the man pulling at Mrs. Davis's door at night, and the man asked if he was watching him. That man was the milkman in the village, but he could not recognise the other man.

Eleanor Johnson said that in December deceased informed her that Matthews had been at her house at night and insulted her, and she must leave the house or something would happen. Had made similar complaints on other occasions. Had seen deceased repulsing prisoner from the door at night. On the day after the murder saw a mark on prisoner's face.

Ann Garbett said deceased had many times told her she would be murdered, having been so often interfered with at night by Matthews. She spoke particularly of one occasion when prisoner attempted to enter the house.

Caroline Simmons had seen the prisoner come out of deceased's house at eight o'clock at night eight weeks ago. William Cope said that at the end of last summer he saw deceased endeavouring to prevent prisoner from entering her house.

Witnesses were called who proved that prisoner was at the VINE public house at nine o'clock; that at eleven a fearful scream was heard near deceased's house, and half an hour afterwards accused returned home, and said to a young woman, 'Oh, my God, how you've frightened me.'

Other witnesses showed that prisoner had ineffectually asked deceased to marry him.

A boy named Sheldon said he slept on the night of the murder with Matthew's, who went to bed at nine o'clock, saying he was poorly.

The inquest was adjourned for a month."

[At the adjourned inquest a verdict was returned of wilful murder against some person or persons unknown.]

Birmingham Daily Post 3/4/1874

"Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, before Messrs. M. Ironmonger and Ward, the dairyman, Thomas Matthews, was brought up on remand, charged with the murder of Ellen Davis, who was strangled in bed on the 2nd ult, at her house in Ettingshall Lane. Mr. Barrow again appeared for the prisoner.

Chief-superintendent McCrea stated that although he was prepared to adduce some further circumstances bearing on the case, yet, considering their light character, the prosecution must fall. He applied, however, for the costs of the enquiries that had been instituted. The Magistrates' Clerk (Mr. Hall) explained that the Bench might make a provisional order, which would have to be ratified at the Quarter Sessions. (It was understood that this course would be adopted.)

Mr. Ironmonger remarked that the enquiry had been, to say the least, of a very painful kind. Though the evidence already forthcoming had been in certain respects somewhat strong, yet it had not been sufficient to warrant Matthew's committal. Under these circumstances the only course open was to discharge the prisoner.

Mr. Barrow intimated that his client would be always willing and ready to answer any charge that might be brought against him.

The prisoner was then liberated, and on gaining the public streets a crowd of persons clustered round him, but there was no demonstration."

Midland Examiner 6/5/1876

"On Monday, an inquest was held at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, deputy-coroner for the county, respecting the death of Mr. John Fenn, charter master, whose body was found in the canal at Ettingshall, on Saturday last. The evidence went to show that on the day named the deceased had been to Wolverhampton, where he drew upwards of £11 for the purpose of paying wages. He had several glasses of rum and peppermint with a man named James Gough, who afterwards left him, and the deceased went in the direction of his home at Ettingshall. He took the road passing over the Rough Hills railway bridge, which crosses the canal, the road being private property. As the bridge is not fenced, it is supposed that he fell into the water. His body was found in shallow water, his head being under his hands. As there was no evidence to show how the deceased got into the water, the jury returned a verdict of Found Drowned, and at the same time strongly recommended the railway company to prosecute all persons trespassing by passing over the bridge."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

"The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Licensed Victuallers....

Joseph Burrows, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall.....

None of these persons had their license endorsed.

The whole of the licenses in the 'black list,' it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions."

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned licensing sessions.]

Samuel Burrows – see also TURKS HEAD.

Evening Express 26/1/1881

"Ettingshall Conservative Association, Inaugural Dinner.

The first annual dinner in connection with the above association was held at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, yesterday (Tuesday) evening. The chair was occupied by Councillor Owen and there were upwards of 60 members present....."

1881 Census

9, Ettingshall Lane – BRIDGE INN

[1] William Hall (67), licensed victualler, born Birmingham;

[2] Ann Hall (50), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Ann S. Morris (18), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

Evening Express 13/5/1881

“An interesting ceremony took place on Monday evening last at a meeting of Court Foresters Glory, 3968, of the AOF, Greets Green and Wednesbury district, held at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, a purse of £30, raised by the members of the court and order, and by a special performance in the Bilston Theatre Royal, kindly lent for the purpose by Mr. Walter Edwin, being presented to Bro. George Chilton, a member of the court, who has had the misfortune partially to lose his sight. Mr. James Goodwin, CR, presided, and after remarks from the secretary (Mr. J. Trevitt) and the treasurer (Mr. R. Booth, PCR), Mr. T. Taylor, district secretary, made the presentation in a few suitable words.....”

Evening Express 11/10/1881 - Advert

“To Let, the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, a free, old-licensed house, with lease, having a lock-up yard, with stabling, &c, and all in good repair, surrounded by extensive works, and other advantages; present occupier wishes to retire from business.”

TO Let, the Bridge Inn, Ettingshall, a free, old-licensed house, with lease, having a lock-up yard, with stabling, &c., and all in good repair, surrounded by extensive works, and other advantages; present occupier wishes to retire from business.

Evening Express 14/12/1881 - Advert

“To be Sung for, fat Goose, on Saturday Evening, the 17th inst, at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Road, Ettingshall. Singers names must be sent in by Friday next.”

TO be Sung for, fat Goose, on Saturday Evening, 17th inst. at the Bridge Inn, Ettingshall-road, Ettingshall. Singers names must be sent in by Friday next.

Evening Express 15/12/1881 - Advert

“Wanted, Pianist, at once.

Apply, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Road, Ettingshall.”

WANTED, Pianist, at once.—Apply, Bridge Inn, Ettingshall-road, Ettingshall. 4337

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1881

“At the Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were fully transferred.....

William Hall, Ettingshall, to Henrietta Abraham, widow, 32, Sherlock Street, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/4/1882 - Advert

“To Let, with immediate possession, Full-licensed Inn, surrounded with ironworks.

Apply, BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, Wolverhampton.”

TO Let, with immediate possession, Full-licensed Inn, surrounded with ironworks.—Apply, Bridge Inn, Ettingshall, Wolverhampton.

Walsall Observer 23/12/1882

“A petition has been filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court on behalf of Frederick Hadyn Jolley, of Spout Lane, out of business, and lately of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton, victualler, and formerly of Caldmore (Walsall), and Pelsall, commission agent.

The liabilities are estimated at £263, assets not yet ascertained.

Mr. A. Baker, Bridge Street, is the solicitor acting in the matter.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 10/11/1883

“The twenty-first anniversary of Court Foresters Glory, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, was held on Saturday, at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall. The Rev. J. Seddon, vicar, took the chair, and Bro. Wedge the vice-chair. The Chairman spoke in warm terms of friendly societies, and contrasted the position of their members, their habits of thrift and perseverance, with those who had no thought of tomorrow. ‘Court Foresters Glory’ was proposed by PDCR J. Taylor, who bore testimony to the intelligence and perseverance displayed by the secretary. The secretary, Mr. S. Meese, gave a financial resume of the last ten years, and urged the members to greater activity. The Court had 89 members, and a capital of £582 8s 10d invested at 4 per cent.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/6/1885

“In the Queen’s Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, on Tuesday, before Lord Coleridge and Mr. Justice Mathew, an appeal was heard in an action tried some time past in the Wolverhampton Court, before his Honour Judge Griffiths, wherein Enoch Hill, and Sarah, his wife, who reside in America, and Edwin Holland, of Coopers Bank, near Dudley, farmer, were plaintiffs, and Jeremiah Skidmore, of Bilston, licensed victualler, the defendant. Mr. F. A. Bosanquet, QC, and Mr. S. P. Hickey (instructed by Mr. Robert Willcock, of Queen Street) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. R. T. Reid, QC, and Mr. Acland (instructed by Mr. Rowland Tildesley, of Willenhall) for the defendant.

The case was of some interest with reference to the operation of the Statute of Limitations on Settles Estates. In 1861 one Jacob Brereton, late of Salop Street, Bilston, by his will devised two houses in Bilston to his widow (who died soon after) for life, and then on trust as to one moiety undivided for a daughter, free from the control of her husband, and as to the other moiety for a son of the testator. The daughter married, and in 1863 her husband, with a power of attorney from the brother, but without any evidence of her assent, leased the two houses for ten years at a ‘peppercorn’ rent with a premium of £50, which was paid to the husband, and with which he and his wife went to America together, and remained there many years. The trustee thought that the sister and brother were acting together through the husband, and had a right to do so, and he did not, therefore, interfere. The lessee remained in possession till 1876. Then someone got into possession who let to the present defendant Skidmore. The husband of the daughter, with his wife, and the trustee for the brother, brought this action to recover the property, and they were met by the Statute of Limitations – that is, as altered by Lord Cairns’s Act of 1874 by substituting a period of 12 years for 20 – and it was contended that this period of 12 years had elapsed since 1873, when the lease expired..... After a protracted argument, which last more than half a day, the Court came to a conclusion in favour of the plaintiffs, and dismissed the appeal with costs.....”

Gloucester Citizen 9/6/1885

“Soon after six o’clock on Monday morning, several workmen were walking along the towing-path of the Birmingham Canal, in the locality of Ettingshall Road, Wolverhampton, when they saw a woman struggling in the water. When drawn out with a rope she was almost unconscious, but indicated that her child was in the water. Soon afterwards the passage of a barge brought to the surface the dead body of a little girl. The woman was taken to the Wolverhampton Hospital, and proved to be Ann Jones (45), charwoman, wife of John Jones, carter, of 51, Cobden Lane, Blakenhall. The little girl – whose body was removed to the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall – was named Edith, and was four years of age. The woman told the nurse who attended her in the hospital that she did what she had done ‘through trouble.’ Her husband states that his wife is the mother of a grown-up family, most of whom have turned out well, but that one of the sons proved an exception to the rule, and had recently left home unexpectedly, and without leaving any identification as to his whereabouts. Brooding over her domestic troubles the mother became depressed, and threatened on Sunday last to destroy herself. On the morning of the occurrence she left home at four o’clock, and took with her their youngest daughter. It is also stated that she was seen to pass along the Dudley Road about an hour afterwards, carrying the child in her arms, and crying.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/6/1885

“The inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of the child Edith Jones, aged four years, daughter of James and Ann Jones, of Cobden Lane, Blakenhall, was resumed by Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, this (Monday) morning.

Thomas Townsend, boatman, living at Bradley, deposed that he did not know either the deceased or her mother, but early on the morning of the 8th inst, whilst proceeding with his boat along the canal at Ettingshall, saw a woman walk from the side of the water.

Thomas Griffiths, ganger, of Deepfields, said that at 20 minutes to six on the morning in question he was in charge of a canal boat at Ettingshall when he saw a woman standing near an old engine not far from the water. She had a child in her arms, and witness saw her turn round in the direction of Ettingshall. When he first saw her she was almost fifteen yards from the towing path.

Joseph Smith, labourer, Deepfields, who was with the last witness at the time named, gave corroborative evidence. Mr. C. A. Newnham, surgeon, stated that on the 10th instant he made a post mortem examination of the body, which presented no external marks of violence. All the organs of the body were perfectly healthy. From the appearances witness was of opinion that death arose from asphyxia.

Inspector Harrison said the witness Smith pointed out to him the spot where he saw the woman standing, and which was eleven yards from the canal, and thirty yards from where she was got out of the water. The depth of the canal in the middle was 5ft 4in, and at the side 2ft 3in. The towing path was 15 feet wide, and was not in a dangerous condition.

Mr. J. W. Batterham, house surgeon at the Wolverhampton Hospital, said the woman Ann Jones, mother of the dead child, was admitted into the institution early on Monday last. She presented the appearance of having been taken from the water, and was practically insensible. She was suffering from immersion, and witness found during the day she had inflammation of the lungs. In the course of a few hours she became conscious, and during the afternoon witness asked her how she came to do such a thing as to get into the water, in reply to which she said, 'It is all through trouble.' Her condition afterwards became more serious, her heart being affected as well as her lungs, and at times she was delirious. She died about six o'clock on Sunday morning from inflammation of the lungs.

Jemima Rollins, wife of John Rollins, of Hednesford, spoke to visiting Mrs. Jones, who was her sister, at the Hospital, on Wednesday, when she appeared sensible and asked if her child was buried. Her husband (James Jones), her daughter Mary, and her son William were present. To the latter she remarked, 'It is your fault that I came here. I should not have done it if it had not been for you.'

Police-constable Moss deposed that he was placed in charge of the woman Ann Jones, at the Hospital, on Monday. Early in the afternoon her husband and others came to see her. Witness cautioned her in the usual manner; and then, addressing her husband, she said, 'I don't blame you, for it is my son who has caused this. They have all left us in our old age to work for ourselves. I wish I had begged from door to door with my child, before I had put her in the water.' During her delirium on Friday night she said, 'The trial is over now, I'm all right.' She appeared to be troubled over household matters.'

This completed the evidence, and the Coroner, having briefly summed up the evidence, the jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against the mother, Ann Jones."

Nottingham Journal 2/7/1887

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1883 Receiving Orders.....

Charles Preston, of Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire, licensed victualler."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 19/7/1887

"Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

Charles Preston, coal dealer and publican, NAVIGATION INN, Bradley, appeared at the Wolverhampton Bankruptcy Court, yesterday, on his public examination. He was represented by Mr. Rhodes.

The liabilities were £575, and the assets £152, leaving a deficiency of £423.

The debtor acquired the NAVIGATION INN in October 1880, he having previously been a keymaker, at Willenhall. The lease of those premises he assigned the following year by way of mortgage to secure £200, which he borrowed to enable him to pay on the fixtures and fittings at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, which he took in that year. In 1885 the BRIDGE INN was disposed of, as the debtor asserted, at a loss of £167. He had also carried on the businesses of a pig dealer and coal dealer. Finding his affairs becoming complicated the debtor called a meeting of his creditors on the 14th June, when he offered to hand over to them his estate. This, however, they declined to accept, and a receiving order was made.

The examination was adjourned until the 23rd August."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 24/8/1887

"Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

Charles Preston, publican, of the NAVIGATION INN, Salop Street, Bradley, appeared at the Wolverhampton Bankruptcy Court, yesterday, for his adjourned examination. He was represented by Mr. R. R. Rhodes.

Certain documents not having yet been filed, the examination was further adjourned."

1891 Census

Rough Hills – BRIDGE INN

[1] John James Green (29), publican, born St. John, London;

[2] Kate Green (23), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Norah Green (2), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Elizabeth Haywood (21), domestic servant, born Bilston;

[5] Alice Ireland (13), lodger, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/2/1893

“The enquiry was resumed, before Mr. A. B. Smith (deputy coroner), at the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall, yesterday, touching the death of Annie Thompson (52), married woman, of Parkfield Road, Ettingshall, whose body was found in the Birmingham Canal under suspicious circumstances on Tuesday last. The woman, it appeared, had occasionally given way to drinking, and on Monday week she left home with between £3 and £4 in her pocket, which was missing when the body was examined. There was also a cut on the woman’s head. The husband now stated that he had not yet found the missing money.

Mr. Ashley Smith, surgeon, Bilston, who had made a post mortem examination, gave it as his opinion that the woman had not been subjected to ill-treatment, and that death had resulted from drowning. He also recommended that all bodies found in the neighbourhood should be removed to the mortuary instead of to public houses, and the Coroner promised to consider the matter.

Evidence was given that, when last seen alive, the woman had had some drink, and she expressed her intention to ‘do her worst’ that night.

A verdict was returned that the deceased Committed Suicide whilst in a State of Unsound Mind.”

The Era 5/5/1900

“There was a brief stay of the Royal train at the Low Level Station of the Great Western Railway Company at Wolverhampton on Friday, 27th ult, on the Queen’s return from Ireland. During the stopping, the Town Clerk (Mr. Horatio Brevitt) availed himself of the opportunity afforded him of handing to Her Majesty, on behalf of Norah Lilliam Green (aged ten years), of Coleman Street, in that town, a medallion of the Queen, which was cut in 1887 (Jubilee year) out of a piece of fire-clay coal by Mr. Thomas Biggs, a colliery employee, resident at Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton, and by him presented to the parents of little Miss Green. The latter, who has, it appears, for some time been very anxious to give something to the Queen, is a daughter of the late Mr. John James Green, who will be better remembered as ‘Paddy Doyle.’ He was a partner in the then well-known and extremely popular pair of Irish comedians, Dermott and Doyle, who made such a striking success in the pantomime of Dick Whittington, produced at the present Star Theatre, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, in December, 1885, under the proprietorship of Dermott’s brother, the famous comic singer, Mr. G. H. Macdermott. On retiring from the stage, Mr. Green took the BRIDGE HOTEL, Ettingshall.”

Richard Bates died on 29th January 1898.

Richard Bates – see also BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall.

Lucy Bates – see also BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall.

John Davies = John Davis

1911 Census

4, Ettingshall Road

[1] Richard Daniel Davis (42), hotel manager, born Dudley;

[2] Emily Davis (37), wife, married 17 years, born Wednesbury;

[3] Elsie May Davis (15), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Evening Despatch 11/1/1913

“A verdict of Found Drowned was returned at the inquest on John Shinton, aged forty-six, an ironworker, formerly of Station Street, Darlaston, and Wellington Road, Walsall, whose body was recovered from the canal near Millfields Bridge at Ettingshall on Tuesday morning.

A puddler, named Benjamin Southall, of 34, Bilston Street, Sedgley, said he saw deceased in the BRIDGE TAVERN, Ettingshall, shortly before eleven o’clock on Monday night, and he wanted witness to take him into the Mars Ironworks. Witness replied that he could not. He did not know what deceased wanted to go there for.

It was stated that about five months ago deceased lost his wife, and it seemed to trouble him very much.

Rosannah Jones, of 91, Station Street, Darlaston, said Shinton lodged at her house for about a month before Christmas, but in consequence of his drinking habits and neglecting his work, she advised him to find other lodgings. He pawned his clothes, and sold his bedstead to a pawnbroker. Witness said she had known deceased for some time, and he was always very quiet and sober, but since his wife’s death he had gone the wrong way.”

1921 Census

4, Ettingshall Road – BRIDGE

- [1] Richard Daniel Davis (52), licensed victualler, born Dudley;
- [2] Emma Davis (48), wife, assistant, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Elsie May Davis (25), daughter, home duties, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Martha Lyndon (78), mother, widow, born Wednesbury:

1939 Register

Ettingshall Road – BRIDGE INN

- [1] Emma Davis, date of birth 26/3/1873, licensed victualler, widowed:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1968

“Fire badly damaged the smokersroom of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall Road, Wolverhampton, early yesterday. The licensee, Mr. Thomas Challenor and his family were awakened by smoke and escaped in their night clothes.”

Closed

BRITANNIA

13, Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Garratt [1867]

James Fellows [1868] – [1870]

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 21/8/1868 - Advert

“Bilston. To be Let, at Michaelmas next, the BRITANNIA INN, Church Street, with handsome and commodious Liquor Shop, possessing every convenience for business. Apply on the Premises to Mr. James Fellows.”

BILSTON.—To be LET, at Michaelmas next, “THE BRITANNIA INN,” Church Street, with handsome and commodious Liquor Shop, possessing every convenience for business.—Apply on the Premises to Mr. James Fellows.

Check COCK, Church Street.

BRITANNIA

51, (54), (63), Hall Green Street / Wootton Square, Hall Green, (Upper) Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Isaac White

Joseph Kelsall, fish salesman, Liverpool

Atkinsons Ltd. (acquired in 1897)

William Butler & Co. Ltd. (leased from 24th December 1912 to November 1919)

William Butler & Co. Ltd. (acquired in November 1919) [1922]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Holdens Brewery (acquired in September 1979)

LICENSEES

Isaac White [1828] – 1846;

James Halford (1846 – [1870])

Thomas Henry Cross [1870] – 1887;

Jemima Cross (1887 – 1889);

David Morris (1889);

Richard Jones (1889 – 1890);

Edwin McKean (1890 – 1898);

Edmund Harris (1898 – 1909);

Richard Weaver (1909 – 1910);

Elijah Pountney (1910 – 1913);

James Albiston (1913 – 1915);

William Brown Snr. (1915 – [1916])

William Brown Jnr. [1920] – 1938;

Mrs. Annie Brown (1938 – [1940])

Jack Brown [1950s]

Frank Poole [1960s]

Raymond Gordon Lunt [1978]

Thomas 'Tommy' Poulton [1979] – 1989;

Anthony Gary 'Tony' Kear (1989 – [1990])

Mrs. Helen Kear [] – 1992;

Roger Brookin (1992 – [1995])

Vanessa Jane Stevens [2000]

Simon Paul Green (2001 – [])

Annette Lisseman [2005]

2000

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

63, Hall Green Street [1871]

54, Hall Green Street [1891], [1901]

51, Hall Green Street [1921], [1939]

It was known locally as "Brownies".

It was the headquarters of Bradley United FC.

1841 Census

Hall Green

[1] Isaac White (50), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah White (45), born Staffordshire;

[3] Mary White (26), born Staffordshire;

[4] George White (24), born Staffordshire;

[5] John White (14), born Staffordshire;

[6] Sarah White (3), born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Journal 7/6/1845

“On Wednesday, at Wolverhampton Police Court, Mr. Bolton made application on behalf of the inhabitants of Brierley Village, in the parish of Sedgley, to have Thomas Clemson, a surveyor, discharged. It will be remembered that Clemson was brought up on an information laid by Mr. Swindell, a respectable inhabitant, about three weeks ago, for using his own team, and also upon three other informations, and was fined £15 and costs. This he had since paid, and he now wished to be dismissed. The Bench offering no objection, Mr. Robert Mitchell proposed Mr. Isaac White, victualler, who was accordingly appointed in his stead.”

Birmingham Journal 2/8/1845

“On Monday last Lodge 25 of the Loyal Britons held their annual dinner. They assembled at Host White’s, BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, Sedgley, and proceeded in procession to St. Mary’s Church, where they attended divine service, and heard an impressive and eloquent discourse from the Rev. J. B. Owen. They afterwards returned to their lodge house, and dined together. After the cloth was drawn the usual loyal toasts were drank, including ‘The bishop and clergy of the diocese,’ ‘The Rev. J. B. Owen,’ and many others of a like character. In the evening the members separated to their respective homes, highly delighted with the proceedings of the day.”

Birmingham Journal 25/4/1846 - Died

“On the 16th inst, aged 59, Mr. Isaac White, of Hall Green, Bilston.”

Birmingham Journal 2/5/1846 - Advert

“Freehold Inn, Provision and Butcher’s Shops. Malthouse, Small Tenements, &c, &c, at Hall Green and the Gaol Hole, in the Parish of Sedgley, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett (by direction of the Devises in Trust for Sale, acting under the will of Mr. Isaac White, deceased), on Thursday Next, May 7th, 1846, at the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, near Bradley, at Five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced, in the following or such other Lot or Lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Lot 1. All that aforesaid old-established and well-accustomed Inn, known as the BRITANNIA INN, with the Provision Shop forming part thereof, heretofore carried on by the late Mr. Isaac White, consisting of three Cellars, two Parlours, Provision Shop, Tap Room, Cooking Kitchen, Pantry, and Brewhouse, having a very commodious Club or Lodge Room, and suitable Bed Rooms, together with the adjoining Butcher’s Shop and Slaughterhouse, occupied by Joseph White; and also a small Tenement in the rear of the said Inn, and forming part thereof, occupied by William Geary; and likewise another small Tenement and Appurtenances at the back, occupied by William Harper. These Premises possess an area in front, inclosed by iron palisades, an entire back Yard, having a well of excellent water, Piggery, Wash Cistern, and other Appurtenances thereto belonging. There are three large Lodges or Friendly Societies held at the above Inn. The Purchaser will be entitled to early Possession of the Inn and Provision Shop, together with the Licenses and Goodwill of the business, and have the option to taking to the Lead Pumps, Furnaces, Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, Furniture, &c, thereon at a fair valuation.

Lot 2. All those Four other adjoining Dwelling Houses, fronting the road from Bradley to Highfields.....

Lot 3. All those Four other newly-erected Tenements in the rear of Lot 2.....

Lot 4. Also all that other convenient Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House, with Brewhouse, and other Outbuildings, situate at the Gaol Hole, Sedgley, heretofore the property of and occupied by Mr. John Cox, but now in the care of Mr. George White, together with a convenient Malthouse, with Stable and Appurtenances thereto belonging. There is an area in front of the house, inclosed by a brick wall, and also a suitable Garden in the rear thereof.

NB. A part of the purchase money of any of the above Lots may (if desired) remain on mortgage of the Premises. All Persons having any claim or demand against the Estate of the said Mr. Isaac White, deceased, are requested to send particulars thereof to Mr. Henry Wootton, of Pothouse Bridge Timber Wharf, Bilston, Agent and Acting Executor; and Persons who stand indebted to the said Estate, are requested forthwith to pay their respective Debts to the said Mr. H. Wootton.

To view the Property, apply on the respective Premises; and for further particulars, to Mr. Samuel Smith, Solicitor, Walsall, or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/5/1846 - Advert

“To Publicans and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett (by direction of the executors) on Tuesday, the 19th day of May, 1846.

All the useful Household Furniture, Stock of iron-bound Ale Barrels, Ale, Hops, Mashing and other Tubs, copper and iron Furnaces, lead Pumps, public house Fixtures, and other miscellaneous property and effects, of the late Mr. Isaac White, of the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, Bradley, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, deceased, particulars of which are given in catalogues now in circulation, and may be had on the premises, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

All persons having any Claim or Demand against the estate of the late Mr. Isaac White, deceased, are requested to send particulars thereof to Mr. Henry Wootton, at Pothouse Bridge Timber Wharf, Bilston, agent and acting executor; and persons who stand indebted to the estate are requested forthwith to pay their respective debts to the said Mr. H. Wootton.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, a convenient Messuage or Dwelling House, with Malthouse, Stable, and all other outbuildings and appurtenances to the same belonging, situate at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley, now in the care of George White (son of the deceased).

To view the property apply on the premises; and to treat for the purchase, to Mr. Samuel Smith, solicitor, Walsall; Mr. Wootton as above-named; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 24/10/1846 - Advert

“Malthouse, and Small Genteel Residence, at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett (by directions of the Devises in Trust acting under the will of Mr. Isaac White, late of the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, Bradley, near Bilston, deceased) on Friday next, the 30th day of October, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Catchems Corner, near Bilston, at Five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced.

All that convenient small Malthouse, and also the neat and substantial Dwelling House near adjoining, together with the Brewhouse, Stable, two Gardens, Out-buildings, and appurtenances to the same belonging, situated at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley aforesaid, lately the property of and occupied by Mr. John Cox, but now in the care of George White.

To view the Property, apply on the Premises; and for further particulars, to Mr. S. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall; Mr. Henry Wootton, Pothouse Bridge, Bilston; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/6/1846

“At a Special Sessions, held at the Public Office, Wolverhampton, on Wednesday last.....

A license was granted to James Halford, of Hall Green, in the parish of Sedgley, for a house lately in the occupation of Isaac White, deceased.”

Birmingham Journal 4/7/1846

“At Bilston Police Court, on Tuesday, John and Martin Walters appeared before the Bench to prefer a charge against William Cording, for neglecting to pay £2 8s 6d as contribution to a benefit society. The defendant did not appear. By the evidence it was shown that the two complainants were stewards of the No.3 Lodge of Loyal Britons, held at the house of James Halford, BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green. The lodge was enrolled according to act of Parliament, and the defendant had been a member some years. He had passed the chairs, but for the last year and a half had not paid any money. He had never given notice to leave the society, nor had he mentioned his intention of doing so. An order for payment was made.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/10/1847 - Advert

“Freehold Messuage, at Hall Green, near Bradley.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Walker and Page, on Friday, the 29th day of October, 1847, at six o'clock in the evening, at the house of Mr. Halford, known by the sign of the BRITANNIA INN, at Hall Green aforesaid, subject to conditions then to be produced and read.

All that Freehold Messuage or Dwelling House, with brewhouse, private yard, outbuildings, garden, and appurtenances thereto belonging, situate near Hall Green, at Bradley, in the county of Stafford, at the back of the BRITANNIA INN aforesaid.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/2/1848

“An inquest was held on Saturday last, at the BRITANNIA INN, at Hall Green, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Richard Holmes, about 65 years of age, a sawdust seller, who had been found drowned in an arm of the Birmingham canal, at the Deepfields, on the previous Sunday morning. It appeared that the old man was seen on Saturday evening, very tipsy, going in the direction of a bridge over the canal leading from the Deepfields to Highfields. This bridge, it was stated by several witnesses, is in a dangerous state, and it is supposed that the deceased accidentally fell into the water. He was then on his way home. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/3/1848

“On Friday last an adjourned inquest was held at the BRITANNIA INN, at Hall Green, Bilston, before W. Ward, Esq, Coroner, on the body of Charles Spinks, about 54 years of age, whose death had been caused by injuries received from a fall of coal at the Graveland Old Colliery, in the parish of Rowley. A piece of coal found on the body of the deceased was nine or ten cwt. He was not under the coal more than a minute, when he was taken out by four fellow-workmen. He was afterwards removed to his house at Hall Green, Bilston, where he died on the following Tuesday from the injury he had received. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/7/1850 - Advert

“Freehold Messuages, Land, and Premises, at Hall Green Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. John Amphlett, at the house of Mr. James Halford, known by the sign of the BRITANNIA, at Hall Green aforesaid, on Thursday, the 15th day of August, 1850.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/11/1850

“Thomas Morris was charged with stealing a jacket and a cap, the property of Isaiah Hodgkiss, son of Robert Hodgkiss, miner, near Shropshire Row, Bilston, with whom he lodged. He was seen to go into the house on the previous Monday evening with another man. They went in at the back door. Shortly afterwards, on the return of the wife of Robert Hodgkiss, she found the back door locked. Her husband, who is blind, and has been unable to work for many years, came down stairs and let her in. She lighted a candle and went into the prisoner's bed room. He was not there nor in the house. She then missed a jacket and the cap produced, belonging to her son Isaiah. She had locked and bolted the front door when she went out, but found it unfastened when she returned.

Charles Buck, police officer, of Bilston, proved that he apprehended the prisoner on Monday night, at the BRITANNIA, Hall Green, where he was wearing the cap, but on being charged stated that he knew nothing about the jacket.

In his defence prisoner now stated that he was not in the house after about one o'clock in the afternoon on Monday. He was committed for trial.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/1/1851

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Not True Bills Thomas Morris, stealing at Bilston.”

1851 Census

Hallgreen

[1] James Halford (36), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;

[2] Deborah Halford (36), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Mary Halford (11), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;

[4] Jemima Halford (7), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;

[5] Sarah Philpot (20), servant, born Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1851

“On Monday the lodge No.21, Loyal Britons, celebrated their anniversary at the house of Mr. Halford, sign of BRITANNIA, Hall Green, Bilston. W. H. Harper, Esq, surgeon, in the chair. An excellent dinner was provided, and the festivities were kept up until a late hour.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/6/1853

“An inquest was held on Thursday, at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of a boy named John Gozzard, who was killed on the 6th instant. He and several other children were playing on the railroad, pushing an empty truck along the line, when the deceased, falling under the wheel, it passed over his head. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/9/1855

“T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest on Thursday, at the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Fields, on the body of Francis Williams, a waggoner, in the employ of Messrs. Rose and Son, of Moor Croft, Bilston. On Tuesday deceased was sent with a waggon and horses to Tipton for a piston. The horses and waggon came home at night with the piston, unaccompanied by deceased. Some men went in search of him, and found him in Bull Lane, lying on his face on the road, quite dead, with his neck broken and chest crushed. It was supposed that in passing under the bridge of the Great Western Railway, the horses had been frightened by the passage of a train, that deceased had been knocked down by them, run over, and killed. The jury returned an Open Verdict.”

Deborah Halford died in the 2nd quarter of 1859.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/8/1860 - Advert

“Freehold Premises at Hall Green, Bradley, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford. To be Sold by Auction, at the house of Mr. James Halford, the BRITANNIA INN, at Hall Green aforesaid, on Monday, the 6th day of August, 1860, at six for seven o’clock in the afternoon.....”

1861 Census

Hall Green

[1] James Halford (46), widower, licensed victualler, born Sedgley;

[2] Mary Halford (21), daughter, born Sedgley;

[3] Jemima Halford (17), daughter, born Sedgley;

[4] Harriet Haynes (24), servant, born Much Wenlock, Shropshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/2/1864 - Advert

“Freehold Cottages, or Tenements, at Highfields, and Brierley, in the Parish of Sedgley, Staffordshire. Mr. George Bayley will Sell by Auction, at the House of Mr. James Halford, the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, in the Parish of Sedgley aforesaid, on Monday, the 29th day of February, 1864.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/6/1864

“On Monday evening the body of a little boy was found in an arm of the Birmingham Canal, near the Barbers Field Colliery. The body was subsequently identified as the illegitimate child of a young woman named Jane Price, residing at Bradley. It was conveyed to the BRITANNIA INN to await the Coroner’s inquest. It is supposed that the child was playing near the canal, when it tumbled into the water and was drowned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/7/1867

“Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, David Blinn, a member of lodge 21 of Loyal Britons, BRITANNIA INN, Hall Fields, was summoned by Thomas Bennett, for non-payment of club money. The bench declined to interfere, but defendant promised to pay the money to the treasurer by instalments.”

James Halford died in the 2nd quarter of 1869.

Jemima Halford married Thomas Henry Cross in the 3rd quarter of 1869.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/3/1870 - Advert

“Staffordshire. Freehold Dwelling Houses and Premises, at Hall Green, near Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Charles Round (by order of the Mortgagees), at the House of Mr. Thomas Henry Cross, the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, near Bilston, on Tuesday next, March 15.....”

1871 Census

63, Hall Green Street – BRITANNIA INN

[1] Thomas Henry Cross (31), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Jemima Cross (27), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Eliza Pugh (34), domestic servant, born Dudley;

[4] Thomas Lloyd (43), general servant, born Whittington, Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/10/1876

“Samuel Perry, 20, puddler, was indicted for inflicting grievous bodily harm upon Joseph Davis, at Sedgley.

Mr. Haden Corser was for the prosecution.

It appeared that the prisoner and the prosecutor, who is also a puddler, quarrelled at the BRITANNIA public house, at Daisy Bank, on the evening of the 8th of July, and went out into a field near the public house, where they fought together. The prosecutor alleged that in the fourth round the prisoner knocked him down and fell upon him, and then seizing him by the under lip with his teeth, bit a piece out of it. Mr. Gilbert, assistant to Mr. Larkin, surgeon, Bilston, said the prosecutor came to him the same night to have his lip dressed. The wound was a lacerated one, and a piece of the lip had been wholly removed.

In his defence the prisoner denied that he had bitten the prosecutor, and alleged that the wound was caused by a blow upon the chin which had the effect of causing the prosecutor to bite his own lip. Two witnesses were called and gave evidence which went to show that the wound was caused as stated by the prisoner, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/1/1877

“William Clark (23), ironworker, Providence Road, Coseley, was brought up in custody charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the BRITANNIA public house at Bradley on the 30th ult.

Prisoner was drunk, and when requested to leave refused, and created a disturbance.

He was fined 10s and costs for being drunk, and ordered to find sureties for his good behaviour on the charge of refusing to quit.

Mr. Fellows, solicitor, appeared on behalf of Mr. Cross, the landlord of the BRITANNIA.”

1881 Census

63, Hall Green Street – BRITANNIA INN

[1] Thomas Henry Cross (41), victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Jemima Cross (37), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Margaret Bryan (23), general servant, born Dudley:

1891 Census

54, Hall Green Street

[1] Edwin McKean (26), licensed victualler and grocer, born Bradley;

[2] Annie McKean (27), wife, grocer, born Bradley;

[3] Hilda Mable McKean (1), daughter, born Bradley;

[4] Sarah Turner (18), domestic servant, born Bradley:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/9/1895

“An inquest was held at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, yesterday afternoon, by Mr. A. B. Smith (Deputy-Coroner), touching the death of James Johnson (9), son of a puddler. The deceased, with two other boys, went for a walk on Sunday afternoon to a wharf on the Birmingham Canal at Spring Vale, and whilst there the deceased and another boy went on to a coal ‘tipper,’ when it overturned and threw both boys into the canal at a spot 16ft deep. A blast furnaceman named Abel Hopkins, of Broad Lanes, who was on his way to work on the other side of the canal, saw the accident, and divesting himself of his coat and waistcoat jumped into the canal. After swimming a distance of 60 yards he rescued one boy, and then, after diving four times, found the body of the deceased. His brother, Alexander Hopkins, then arrived, and recovered the body. The two men tried to restore animation, but life was extinct.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and expressed an opinion that the bravery of Hopkins should receive due recognition. Hopkins rescued another boy from drowning some time ago.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/11/1898

“At the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green, Bradley, Mr. W. H. Phillips (district coroner) held an inquiry this (Monday) afternoon touching the death of Mary Ann Thomas, aged 53, a widow, who was found dead in bed by her daughter (a married woman) on Friday morning last.

Sarah Ann Baugh deposed that deceased was her mother, and lived with witness at 13, Allens Row, Daisy Bank, Bradley. The deceased was a widow. Deceased took supper with witness on Thursday evening, which consisted of dry toast and a half a pint of ale. Witness slept with her husband in the same room, and was surprised to find her mother dead on the Friday morning. The deceased was very stout and had been so for years.

Dr. F. E. Tomlinson testified that he had made a post mortem examination of the body. He attributed death to natural causes.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical testimony.”

1901 Census

54, Hall Green Street

[1] Edmund Harris (37), public house manager, born Bradley;

[2] Eliza Harris (30), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Ernest Harris (8), son, born Bilston;

[4] Elsie Harris (4), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Minnie Harris (3), daughter, born Bradley;

[6] Edith Fellows (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

County Advertiser 10/9/1904

“A few weeks ago we gave some interesting particulars of the ‘Crooked House,’ or ‘Siden House,’ as it is variously known in this district. It is a popular place of resort by pleasure parties, especially from Wolverhampton and the neighbourhood. How the pleasure of one of these parties was interrupted by a brawl which ended fatally was told on Friday last, when Mr. A. B. Smith (deputy county coroner) held an inquest at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, touching the death of Sarah Jane Bradley (27), wife of Thomas G. Bradley, a bricklayer’s labourer, of Allens Row, Bradley.

The husband of the deceased said his wife on August 24th went for a trip around the Crooked House and neighbourhood, and returned about 9.30pm. Next morning she showed him a large bruise on her body, and also told him that there had been a disturbance in the brake in which she had travelled. The passengers were all women with the exception of driver and guard. Deceased added that she got over the side of the brake on to the wheel, but she forgot what occurred afterwards. When she came to herself she journeyed home by tram. She alleged that some of the women were drunk, and that one woman struck her.

Mary Turner stated that the deceased was her niece, and she went with her on an excursion to the Crooked House. There was a large jar of beer in the brake. Near the Wolverhampton Orphanage Mary Ann Hadley, who was sitting opposite to witness, got up and struck witness on the left jaw. Deceased got up to protect her, and was struck by Hadley. She got over the side of the brake, and afterwards went home.

Mr. John Wells, surgeon, said he was called to deceased about 6pm on the 30th ult. She was then semi-unconscious. Witness then heard of the brake incident, and examined her body. There was a large bruise on her left hip, but the skin was not broken. There were also slight bruises on the left arm. He thought it possible that the deceased might be suffering from a fracture of the skull.

Sarah Ann Cooper, wife of an ironworker, said she was one of the party. When near the Wolverhampton Orphanage Mary Ann Hadley woke up and said, 'I have got it in for you, for your son and son-in-law,' and struck Mrs. Turner on the left jaw. Deceased got up and put her arm round Mrs. Turner's neck, and Hadley struck the deceased. Hadley was not struck in return. They had a whip-round before they started, and they had another whip at the Crooked House. Deceased had some port wine with her in a bottle and witness had some of it.

Dr. Wells, who had made, during an adjournment, a post mortem examination, said he found an abscess on the woman's brain and a fissured fracture of the skull, but there was no external mark of violence. He attributed death to the abscess and fracture, which might have been caused by an accident. Had deceased fallen upon her shoulder that might have caused the fracture.

The Coroner recommended the jury to return an open verdict. The evidence, he said, had been very conflicting, and there would be considerable difficulty in fixing culpability on anyone, supposing there was any. The jury agreed with the coroner. Mrs. Hadley was told by the Coroner that, in his opinion, she was morally the cause of the woman's death, and he disallowed her expenses."

Edmund Harris – see also THREE FISHES, Darlaston.

1911 Census

Hall Green Street – BRITANNIA INN

[1] Elijah Pountney (37), managing public house, born Highfields, Coseley;

[2] Alice G. Pountney (36), wife, married 11 years, born Wallbrook, Coseley:

Elijah Pountney – see also PHEASANT.

He murdered his wife Alice Gertude in 1922.

Walsall Observer 5/12/1914

"'If the skin had been removed it would have been a natural skeleton,' was the description given by a veterinary surgeon of a horse which led to a prosecution at the Guildhall, on Monday. The animal had been purchased by James Albiston, of the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley, from Harry Smith, of 4, Day Street, Walsall, on November 19, the price paid for the horse, a spring cart, and a set of harness being £9, and Smith was now summoned for obtaining the amount by false pretences. Mr. H. A. Tucker appeared for the complainant, and Mr. F. A. Platt defended.

Mr. Tucker stated that complainant saw the complete turn-out advertised for sale at £9 10s. The reason given for selling was that room was required, and a three months' trial was offered. Prosecutor wanted a horse and cart to start his son in business, and the son went over to see the animal at the SEVEN STARS INN, Stafford Street, defendant stating that it was a good horse and a good puller. He said he wanted to sell it because, owing to rheumatism, he was unable to follow his trade as a greengrocer. Two days later (the 19th) prosecutor went to the SEVEN STARS to see the animal, and defendant repeated what he had said before. Neither prosecutor nor his son knew much about horses, but defendant agreeing to give a written warranty, prosecutor decided to buy the horse. The warranty given by the defendant was as follows, 'Mr. Smith sells to Mr. Albiston one cob, set of harness, and spring cart, for the sum of £9. I, Mr. Smith, warrant the cob sound in wind, eyes, and limb, and a good puller. If the cob is not as above stated, I also agree to take it back at the end of one month and return the purchase money, free of charge for use.' The money was paid in cash, and the horse taken back to Bradley. It went fairly well to Darlaston, but there showed signs of weakness, and fell on its knees, although the cart was empty. They managed to get it home by pushing it up hills. Prosecutor thought the animal wanted feeding, and when he got it to the stable he fed it well. The following Sunday the horse was seen by a friend, who told him it was quite useless, and advised that it should be taken back to the defendant. Accordingly, prosecutor sent his son back with the horse the following Tuesday, November 24, and on the way the animal fell down three times, although the cart was empty. The prosecutor met his son in Walsall, and together they went to see the defendant, who adopted a curious attitude. He did not reiterate that the horse was sound, but he declined to return the money. In the presence of the son, defendant said to a friend, 'Fancy me buying that back again.' To the prosecutor he said afterwards, 'I will send for it when I am willing to have it back.' Prosecutor replied that he wanted his money back according to the terms of the warranty. He was afraid to take the animal back to Bradley lest he should be summoned; he stabled it, and then reported the matter to the police. The following day, when it was taken to the police station, it fell down again, and Mr. Paley, who was called in, said it was in such a terrible condition that it was simply cruelty to keep it alive. It was therefore destroyed the same evening. Mr. Tucker explained that the ground on which the proceedings were taken were that in the first place defendant said he was selling the horse because he was unable to follow his trade as a greengrocer, though he had not followed that business, at any rate, in recent years. Detective Burrell would state that as far as he knew the defendant was a horse dealer. In the second place, prosecutor relied upon the defendant's specific statement as to the soundness of the horse. He submitted that the defendant must have known that statement to be untrue.

The Clerk (Mr. S. E. Loxton): How many hundreds of cases do you get in which a man says a horse is the most perfect that ever trod in shoes? The action would lie for breach of warranty.

Mr. Tucker contended that in such a case there could also be a prosecution for false pretences.

Evidence in support of Mr. Tucker's statement was given by the prosecutor and his son, Frederick Albister, both denying in cross-examination that the horse was trotted up and down the street before it was purchased.

Questioned by the Clerk, prosecutor said the cart was not a good one, but the harness was fairly good.

The Clerk: You can't get much for £9.

Prosecutor said it was a horse he wanted; he was not particular about the cart or harness. He added that he knew nothing about horses.

The Clerk: But you know the difference between a clothes horse and one you can use. This is described as one you can't use.

In reply to Mr. Platt, the witness said he would be satisfied if he got his money back.

The Clerk: You won't get it here, you know?

Prosecutor added that if he had known the defendant was a horse dealer, he would have had nothing to do with him.

Mr. A. E. Paley (veterinary surgeon) said the animal was an old bay mare, and he should say it was at least thirty years old. Its condition was the worst he had ever seen in his life. If the skin had been removed it would have been a natural skeleton. It had great difficulty even in walking out of the stable. It dragged its legs, and its knees were injured, evidently as a result of frequent falls. In his opinion it must have been in that condition – which was due to senile decay – for some months. It was totally unfit to walk, much less to work. On his advice it was slaughtered at once. Witness produced the animal's bottom jaw bone, showing that most of the molar teeth had dropped out. He said it was the oldest mouth he had ever seen, and it would be impossible for the horse to properly masticate its food.

Detective-sergeant Burrell stated that the defendant was a horse dealer, but he lived at a greengrocer's shop.

Mr. Platt submitted that the case was not one for criminal proceedings, and that complainant should have brought an action in the County Court. He also denied that defendant represented himself as a greengrocer.

After some legal argument, the Bench announced that the case had not been made out.

The Clerk said that did not mean the case was dismissed, but simply there was not sufficient evidence under the statute to send the case for trial at the Quarter Sessions."

William Brown kept a parrot in the outdoor and Mrs. Dina Brown always kept a joint of pork in the smoke room, from which you could help yourself.

South Staffordshire Times 11/12/1920

"There was a large and representative gathering at the first annual dinner held in connection with the Bradley Allotments Association on Thursday Evening last at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley (Councillor W. Brown). The table and chairs were prettily decorated. The catering reflected the highest credit upon the host and hostess, and their busy staff of waitresses performed their duties to the entire satisfaction of the company....."

1921 Census

51, Hall Green Street

[1] William Brown (48), millwright, born Darlaston;

[2] Annie Brown (51), wife, housewife, born Kinver;

[3] Elizabeth Brown (19), daughter, barmaid, born Bradley;

[4] Violet Paul (19), servant, born Bradley;

A Buffaloes Lodge was based here. [1920s]

South Staffordshire Times 7/10/1922

“Mr. Wright, on behalf of Messrs. Butlers, brewers, Wolverhampton, for permission for structural alterations....
With regard to the BRITANNIA, Bradley, Mr. Wright said this was an old house, and the walls were giving way. The architect was of the opinion that the only practical way of dealing with it was to rebuild it. Plans had been submitted. The drinking facilities would be greatly increased.
The Chairman said that as an entirely new place was contemplated, they thought the application must be made at the next general Licensing Sessions.”

South Staffordshire Times 10/2/1923

“Bilston Licensing Sessions.....

Mr. C. M. Wright submitted plans of extensive alterations at the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley. He said that the house was at present in a very precarious condition, at one time there were fears that it would collapse, because of the heavy vibration which took place near it. It had now become absolutely necessary to do something to make it safe and suitable. The architect had suggested that the only business-like way in which to do this was practically rebuild it. They were not trying to make it into a larger house, or to afford more drinking accommodation. The room would be increased by 33 superficial feet only. The club room, which was now upstairs, was downstairs in the new plan. This would be a great convenience to those who used it.
Permission to make the alterations was granted.”

South Staffordshire Times 9/2/1924

“Bilston Licensing.....

Plans for the re-building of the BRITANNIA, Hall Green Street, Bradley, which were passed at the adjourned Sessions had been carried out and the premises occupied.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 14/11/1925

“A well-attended and representative smoking concert, in connection with Coseley and District Friendly Society, was held at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, on Friday week, for the presentation of the Mobberly Shield to the BRITANNIA INN, the winner for 1925, the amount raised being £86.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/6/1926

“Feeding the Children.....

One of the stark facts about the Midland coalfields at the moment is that thousands of children come down to bare tables in the morning and have to wait for their first meal of the day until the group feeding stations open at noon or thereabouts. The relieving organisations are doing everything they can with the funds at their disposal. The wonderful shifts they are making with inadequate means to cope with all the demands made upon them constitute one of the most gallant stories of the coal stoppage. They are doing truly admirable work. But they do not possess funds enough to do all that should be done. They need more money, and they are looking to readers of the Birmingham Gazette for aid.

Subscriptions.....

W. Brown, BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, near Bilston, 7s.”

A music license was granted on 2nd March 1928.

It was the headquarters of Britannia Pigeon Flying Club. [1937]

1938 Probate

“William Brown of BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire, died 28 January 1938 at the Connaught Nursing Home, Wolverhampton. Probate Birmingham 29 March to Annie Brown, widow, and Elisabeth Weekes (wife of Arthur Weekes). Effects £1,690 15s 6d.”

William Brown – see also BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street.

1939 Register

Hallgreen Street – BRITANNIA INN

[1] Annie Brown, date of birth 3/12/1870, licensed victualler, widowed:

Bilston and Willenhall Times 8/6/1946

"A social was held at the BRITANNIA INN, Bradley, Bilston, on Monday night to mark the conclusion of the first season of the Bradley Cribbage League, which has been a most successful one. Mr. P. Fellows presided....."

Bilston and Willenhall Times 25/11/1946

"Darts. Bradley League First Division: BRITANNIA have won the league for the third season in succession, although this season has been a close run thing, as the championship was not decided until the last match was played....."

Frank Poole – see also RED LION, Dudley Street.
He was married to Violet.

It was the headquarters of Hazeldine Anglers Association. [1965], [1971]

Birmingham Daily Post 29/11/1969

"Two MPs, Mr. Bob Edwards and Mr. John Horner, with other Labour Party representatives are to discuss local and national problems over a meal of fish and chips at a 'talk-in' organised by the Bilston East Ward Labour Party, at the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley, this evening."

Birmingham Mail 11/5/1978 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1964. Notice of Principal Meeting. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Council Chambers, Council House, Smethwick, Warley, on the 7th day of July, 1978, at 3pm.

And notice is hereby also given that the Compensation Authority will at the meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the several premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom, under the Licensing Act, 1964, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the persons interested in any licensed premises in question and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the justices of the licensing district).

List of Licensed Premises.....

BRITANNIA, Hall Green Street, Bradley, Bilston. Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, Raymond Gordon Lunt."

Sandwell Evening Mail 4/11/1978

"For sale – a boozer's dream home. For Mitchells and Butlers have put a place on the market that has a few good pints in its favour – an old pub that can no longer get a license. It is up for sale to be converted into a home – or any other use it can be put to. Magistrates took away the license of the BRITANNIA in Hall Green Street, Bradley, when they decided there were enough pubs in the area already. The pub has a snug, a lounge, large bar, six bedrooms and a bathroom. It is one of seven West Midland pubs being sold by private treaty by Birmingham Estate Agent Edwards Bigwood and Bewlay. A spokesman for the agents said, 'We are selling them off for any use that anyone can put them to, subject of course to permission by the local planning authorities. And Mitchells and Butlers are hoping the pub will be a real barrel of fun for the new owner.'"

'History of Holdens Brewery' by John Richards

"M. & B. delicensed the pub but it was sold to Holdens and reopened by them in June 1979."

Plans for alterations were approved on 20th November 1981.

Anthony Gary Kear was married to Helen.

Sandwell Evening Mail 5/3/1990

“Students at a Black Country college are learning all about what their right arms are for as part of a course aimed at finding pub managers of the future. The BRITANNIA INN at Hall Green Road, Bradley, in Bilston, has turned into a classroom with a difference for students from Bilston Community College. And, for the next week, they will be learning all about the licensed trade, from book-keeping and marketing, to developing a friendly outgoing personality. Mr. Mike Potts, tutor of the British Institute of Innkeeping induction course, said today, ‘There is a large skill shortage in the pub manager and bar staff area and this course is designed to help people into the trade without first going to a brewery. Students will learn about retail, marketing, licensing law, and how to keep books. They also need to be outgoing because one of the reasons why people go into a pub is because of the atmosphere.’ Mr. Potts said Bilston was one of only two colleges in the West Midlands which provided such a course.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 5/10/1990

“A man plunged 20ft to his death through the upstairs window of a Bilston pub today. The man, whom police are waiting to identify, was found by a motorist on the car park of the BRITANNIA INN pub in Hall Green Street, at about 1am.

Supt. John Carrington, of Wednesfield police said, ‘The indications are that it is the licensee who has fallen through the window for some reason which we are presently trying to determine. He was certified dead at the scene by a police surgeon and a post mortem was later carried out at Wednesfield police station, which established the cause of death as being multiple injuries.

The middle-aged man is understood to have been alone in the pub, which belongs to the local Holdens Brewery, at the time of the accident. The pub was closed today.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/10/1990

“A man who plunged 20ft to his death through an upstairs window of a Bilston pub has been identified as the licensee, Mr. Anthony Gary Kear. Police said he had run the BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, since September 1989.”

Birmingham News 18/6/1992

“Pick-n-Apple Folk Club: Sponsored 12 hour sing-a-round in aid of Acorns Children’s Hospice. The BRITANNIA pub, Hall Green Street, Bradley Bilston, from 11am to 11pm, June 21.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 26/5/1996 - Advert

“Function Room Available for any occasion, warm and cheerful atmosphere. Also a full catering service available for 100 people if required.

Live Entertainments every Tuesday, Friday and Sunday with Kenny Haywood Free and Easy. BRITANNIA INN, Hall Green Street, Bradley, Bilston.”

It closed on 30th October 2005.

It was converted into housing. [2010]

FREEHOLD INN, PROVISION AND BUTCHER'S SHOPS.

MALTHOUSE, SMALL TENEMENTS, &c., &c.,
At HALL GREEN and the GAOL HOLE, in the Parish of Sedgley, in the County of Stafford.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by RICHARD CORBETT, (by direction of the Devises in Trust for Sale, acting under the will of Mr. Isaac White, deceased,) on THURSDAY NEXT, May 7th, 1846, at the Britannia Inn, Hall Green, near Bradley, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced, in the following or such other Lot or Lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale:—

Lot 1.—All that the aforesaid old-established and well-accustomed INN, known as "THE BRITANNIA INN," with the Provision Shop forming part thereof, heretofore carried on by the late Mr. Isaac White, consisting of three Cellars, two Parlours, Provision Shop, Tap Room, Cooking Kitchen, Pantry, and Brewhouse, having a very commodious Club or Lodge Room, and suitable Bed Rooms, together with the adjoining BUTCHER'S SHOP and Slaughter-house, occupied by Joseph White; and also a small TENEMENT in the rear of the said Inn, and forming part thereof, occupied by William Geary; and likewise another small TENEMENT and Appurtenances at the back, occupied by William Harper. These Premises possess an area in front, inclosed by iron palisades, an entire back Yard, having a well of excellent water, Piggery, Wash Cistern, and other Appurtenances thereto belonging. There are three large Lodges or Friendly Societies held at the above Inn. The Purchaser will be entitled to early Possession of the Inn and Provision Shop, together with the Licenses and Goodwill of the business, and have the option of taking to the Lead Pumps, Furnaces, Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, Furniture, &c., thereon at a fair valuation.

Lot 2.—All those Four other adjoining DWELLING HOUSES, fronting the road from Bradley to Highfields, occupied by Thomas Birch, Joseph Shaw, John Fielding, and William Cox, at rents amounting to £23. 8s. per year, together with a convenient back Yard, in which is a well of clear water, Stable, Piggery, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging. Three of these Houses have been recently erected.

Lot 3.—All those Four other newly-erected TENEMENTS, in the rear of Lot 2, fronting to the road leading from Hall Green towards Brierley, together with an inclosed back Yard, Brewhouse, Outbuilding, and Appurtenances to the same belonging, in the respective occupations of Joseph Evans, Zachariah Fellows, William Walker, and Josiah Evans, at rents amounting to £20. 16s. per annum.

Lot 4.—Also all that other convenient MESSUAGE, Tenement, or Dwelling House, with Brewhouse and other Outbuildings, situated at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley, heretofore the property of and occupied by Mr. John Cox, but now in the care of Mr. George White, together with a convenient MALTHOUSE, with Stable and Appurtenances thereto belonging. There is an area in front of the house, inclosed by a brick wall, and also a suitable Garden in the rear thereof.

N.B.—A part of the purchase money of any of the above Lots may (if desired,) remain on mortgage of the Premises.

All Persons having any claim or demand against the Estate of the said Mr. Isaac White, deceased, are requested to send particulars thereof to Mr. Henry Wootton, of Pothouse Bridge Timber Wharf, Bilston, Agent and Acting Executor; and Persons who stand indebted to the said Estate, are requested forthwith to pay their respective Debts to the said Mr. H. Wootton.

To view the Property, apply on the respective Premises; and for further particulars, to Mr. Samuel Smith, Solicitor, Walsall; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

1846

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS. TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY R. CORBETT, (By direction of the executors,) on Tuesday, the 19th day of May, 1846.

ALL the useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, A Stock of iron-bound Ale Barrels, Ale, Hops, Mash-ing and other Tubs, copper and iron Furnaces, lead Pumps, public-house Fixtures, and other miscellaneous property and effects, of the late Mr. Isaac White, of the "Britannia Inn," Hall Green, Bradley, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, deceased, particulars of which are given in catalogues now in circulation, and may be had on the premises, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

☞ All persons having any Claim or Demand against the estate of the late Mr. ISAAC WHITE, deceased, are requested to send particulars thereof to Mr. HENRY WOOTTON, at Pothouse Bridge Timber Wharf, Bilston, agent and acting executor; and persons who stand indebted to the estate are requested forthwith to pay their respective debts to the said Mr. H. Wootton.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, a convenient MESSUAGE or DWELLING-HOUSE, with Malthouse, Stable, and all other outbuildings and appurtenances to the same belonging, situate at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley, now in the care of George White (son of the deceased).

••• To view the property apply on the premises; and to treat for the purchase, to Mr. SAMUEL SMITH, solicitor, Walsall; Mr. WOOTTON, as abovenamed; or to the AUCTIONEER, New Town, Bilston.

MALTHOUSE AND SMALL GENTEEL RESIDENCE, At the GAOL HOLE, near Sedgley, Staffordshire.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. CORBETT, (by directions of the Devises in Trust acting under the will of Mr. Isaac White, late of the Britannia Inn, Hall Green, Bradley, near Bilston, deceased,) on FRIDAY NEXT, the 30th day of October, at the Bull's Head Inn, Catchem's Corner, near Bilston, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced—all that convenient small MALTHOUSE, and also the neat and substantial DWELLING HOUSE near adjoining, together with Brewhouse, Stable, two Gardens, Outbuildings, and appurtenances to the same belonging, situated at the Gaol Hole, near Sedgley aforesaid, lately the property of and occupied by Mr. John Cox, but now in the care of George White.

To view the Property, apply on the Premises; and for further particulars, to Mr. S. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall; Mr. Henry Wootton, Pothouse Bridge, Bilston; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

1846

FUNCTION ROOM AVAILABLE

FOR ANY OCCASION,
WARM AND CHEERFUL
ATMOSPHERE. ALSO A FULL CATERING SERVICE
AVAILABLE FOR 100 PEOPLE IF REQUIRED.

LIVE ENTERTAINMENTS

EVERY TUES, FRI & SUN
WITH KENNY HAYWOOD
FREE & EASY.

BRITANNIA INN.

HALL GREEN STREET,
BRADLEY, BILSTON,
WV14 8TH.

01902 493908

1996

BRITANNIA INN

Bradley, Bilston

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Jason & Lisa Welcome You

FREE FUNCTION ROOM AVAILABLE

Xmas Parties, Weddings, Celebrations etc.....

Dates still available in December

Call For Details

01902 493908

2003

The Britannia Inn

HALL GREEN STREET, BRADLEY,
BILSTON TEL: (01902) 493908

Licensee, Roger M.J. Brookin

Holdens Traditional Ales
Mild - Bitter

SATELLITE T.V.

Live Entertainment
Four Nights a Week

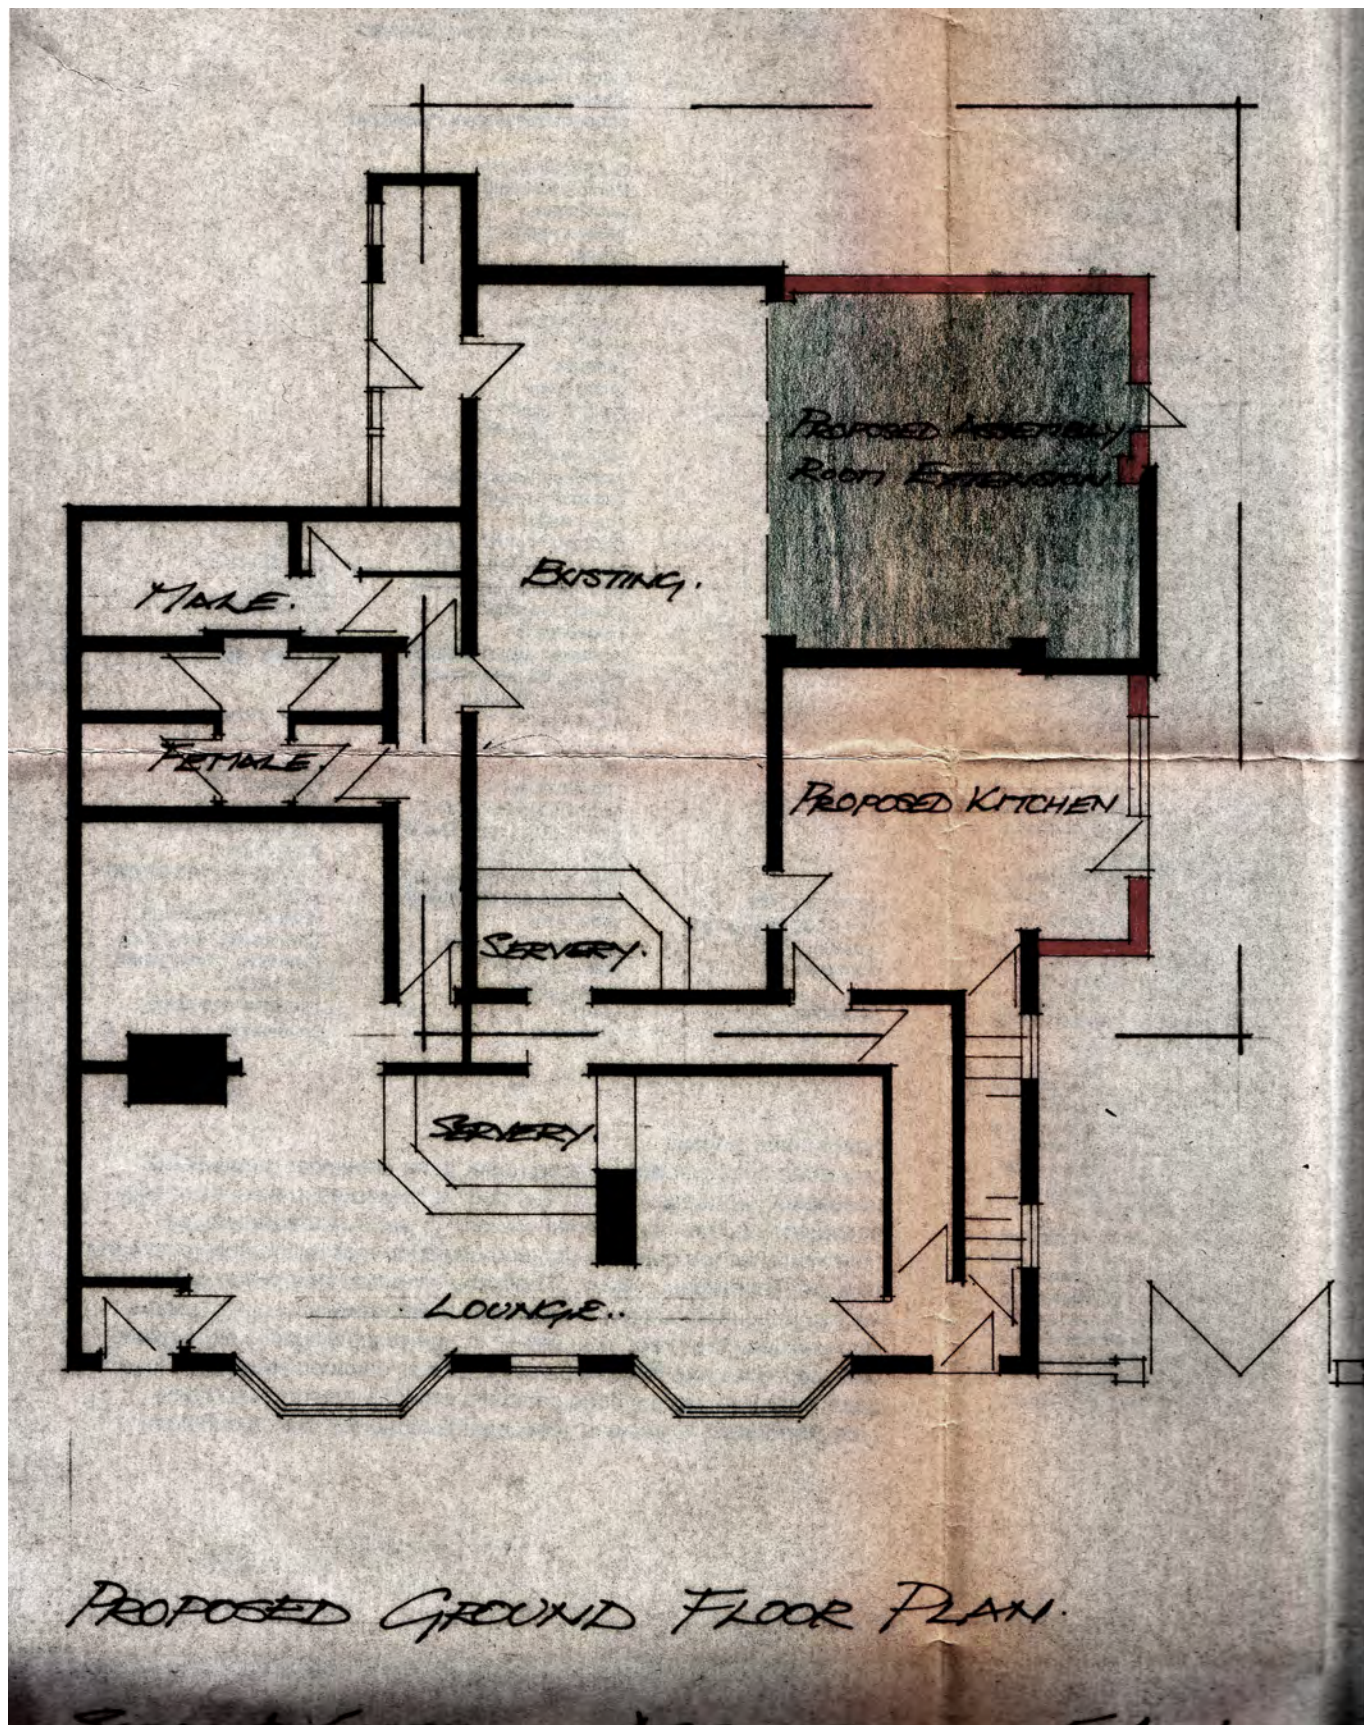

WITH A 12 O'CLOCK BAR

HOME COOKED FOOD AVAILABLE ON
LUNCH TIMES & ON ENTERTAINMENT
EVENINGS

Function Room available for hire on Saturday nights

Normal Opening Times
Large Car Parking Facilities

1997

Plan 1981

BRITANNIA

137, (64), Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

James Price

David Hart, money lender, St. James Square, Wolverhampton

Richard Andrew Harper, Hall Park Brewery, Bilston

Elizabeth Leaver, Waterloo Road, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

Thomas Hogan [1860] – [1862]

James Price [1868] – 1873;

Jane Price (1873 – 1889);

Joseph Jackson (1889 – 1891);

Edwin John Baker (1891 – 1892);

George Burrows (1892 – 1894);

John Norton (1894 – 1897);

George Samuel Holder (1897 – 1900);

William Hardwick (1900 – 1908);

Sarah Hardwick [1901]

NOTES

64, Oxford Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891]

137, Oxford Street [1901], [1904]

ERIN-GO-BRAGH [1860]

HIBERNIAN TAVERN [1861]

It had a ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/11/1860

“Thomas Hogan, the occupier of the ERIN-GO-BRAGH beerhouse, Oxford Street, Bilston, was fined 10s and costs for opening his house on Sunday forenoon.”

1861 Census

64, Oxford Street – HIBERNIAN TAVERN

[1] Thomas Hogan (55), publican, born Ireland;

[2] Bridget Hogan (55), wife, born Ireland;

[3] Michael Hogan (21), son, brewer, born Ireland;

[4] John Hogan (20), son, labourer, born Ireland;

[5] Edward Hogan (18), son, labourer, born Ireland;

[6] Patrick Hogan (16), son, no employment, born Ireland;

[7] Michael M. Andrew (30), lodger, coal miner, born Ireland;

[8] Ellen M. Andrew (60), lodger, widow, born Ireland:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/4/1862

"A boiler explosion, the most fatal in its results of any of that too frequent class of accidents we ever remember, occurred on Tuesday morning last, at the Millfield Iron Works of Mr. Thomas Rose, situated at Priestfield, near Bilston. No less than twenty-six lives have been already sacrificed, a considerable number of persons seriously injured, and property to the amount of some thousands of pounds destroyed.....

Thomas Hogan, labourer and beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street, Bilston, is going on favourably.....

With regard to the cause of the accident further enquiry must take place before any positive opinion can be formed."

[For further on the boiler explosion see under KINGS ARMS.]

James Price, beer retailer, 64, Oxford Street. [1868]

1871 Census

64, Oxford Street

- [1] James Price (66), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Susan Price (53), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Jane Price (28), daughter, no occupation, born Bilston;
- [4] Charlotte Price (14), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton:

James Price died in 1873.

1881 Census

64, Oxford Street – BRITANNIA

- [1] Susan J. Price (63), widow, beer retailer, born Bilston;
 - [2] Charlotte S. L. Price (22), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
 - [3] Kate Hill (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:
- [It appears that Susan J. was licensee Jane.]

Birmingham Daily Post 16/10/1890 - Advert

"To Let, BRITANNIA INN, Oxford Street, Bilston; brewing 12 bushels weekly. In-coming about £150.

Apply on Premises."

TO Let, Britannia Inn, Oxford Street, Bilston; brewing 12 bushels weekly. In-coming about £150.—Apply on Premises.

1891 Census

64, Oxford Street – BRITANNIA INN

- [1] Edwin J. Baker (49), beerhouse keeper, born Worcester;
- [2] Elizabeth Baker (49), wife, born Stoke on Trent;
- [3] Alice Baker (17), daughter, born Dudley;
- [4] Charles Gwillam (49), lodger, baker, born Worcester:

John Norton, beer retailer, 64, Oxford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

137, Oxford Street – BRITANNIA INN

- [1] William Hardwick (57), blacksmith, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Sarah Hardwick (57), wife, publican, born Wyrley;
- [3] Mary A. Hardwick (22), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Ernest W. Hardwick (19), son, blacksmith's striker, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Edwin B. Hardwick (16), son, engine fitter's labourer, born Ettingshall;
- [6] Harry S. Hardwick (13), son, errand boy, born Ettingshall;
- [7] Henry C. Arblaster (57), brother-in-law, widower, blacksmith's striker, born Pelsall:

William Hardwick, beer retailer, 137, Oxford Street. [1904]

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/3/1908

“Bilston Licensing Business.....

The BRITANNIA INN, Oxford Street, was ordered to be referred for closing and compensation.”

License refused by Compensation Authority on 18th June 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 26/6/1908

“The principal meeting of the members of the Staffordshire Licensing Committee was held at the Shirehall, Stafford. There was a full attendance of the members of the committee, Lord Hatherton presiding. The business before the committee was that of hearing and determining applications for the renewal of licenses in those cases which had been referred to the committee by the justices in petty sessions for compensation. The list contained forty public houses. There was a large attendance of barristers and solicitors, but in none of the cases were any objections raised to the reports of the justices concerning the houses referred, and the committee refused to renew the licenses in each of the forty cases which came before them. The following are the houses, the licenses of which were refused.....

BRITANNIA INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, ante-1869 beerhouse.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/6/1908 - Notice

“The Licensing Act 1904. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 18th day of June, 1908, to refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, All Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 20th day of July, 1908, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules 1904, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act in respect of the said Premises.....

BRITANNIA, Oxford Street, Bilston. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, William Harwich. Registered Owners, Richard Andrew Harper.”

Compensation of £425 was paid on 30th November 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 8/1/1909

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The Licensing Committee presented a report for the year 1908. They stated that the number of licenses referred from sixteen divisions and boroughs in the county was seventy-four, and the committee, having regard to the limited funds at their disposal, decided to proceed upon forty only.....

The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard, upon oath, evidence put forward by the claimants.

The amounts awarded as compensation were as follows.....

BRITANNIA, Oxford Street, Bilston, £425.”

BRITANNIA

20, (177), Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Riley, builder, James Street, Bilston

George Riley

Phoebe Riley

Charlotte Elizabeth Marsh, 231 Dudley Road, Wolverhampton

Major George Cox, brewer, Broad Street, Bilston

LICENSEES

Ann Williams [1871]

Edward Griffiths [] – 1872);

William Poole (1872 – 1873);

Charlotte Hale (1873 – 1875);

Selina Benton (1875 – 1876);

James Preece (1876 – 1877);

Joseph Keay (1877 – 1878);

Simeon Stanley (1878 – 1879);

Harriet ? (1879 – 1880);

Thomas Rogers (1880);

George Robottom (1880);

Benjamin Burdett (1880 – 1881);

Thomas Samuel Ratcliffe (1881 – 1882);

Reuben Stokes (1882 – 1883);

Sophia Rowley (1883 – 1884);

Samuel 'Sam' Hughes (1884 – 1886);

William Edwards (1886);

Job Eccleston (1886 – 1887);

John Forrester (1887);

Frederick Reginald Mellen (1887 – 1888);

Frederick Clark (1888 – 1892);

William John Davies (1892 – 1896);

Alfred Tennant (1896 – 1905);

George Henry Evans (1905);

Joseph Hadley (1905 – 1908);

Emily Hodgkiss (1908);

NOTES

177, Oxford Street [1871], [1881], [1891], [1896]

20, Oxford Street [1901], [1904]

It was formerly the ROYAL GEORGE.

It had a beerhouse license.

1871 Census

177, Oxford Street

[1] Ann Williams (38), beerhouse keeper, born North Wales;

[2] Elizabeth Williams (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[3] John Williams (61), lodger, widower, born Broseley, Shropshire:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

"The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

Joseph Keay, beerhouse keeper, Oxford Street, made personal application for a wine license Refused."

Midland Examiner 10/8/1878

"Simeon Stanley, landlord of the ROYAL GEORGE beerhouse, Oxford Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting drunkenness.

Police-constable Farnell stated that at a quarter-past ten o'clock on Saturday night last, whilst in Oxford Street, opposite defendant's house, he heard a great noise there and cursing and swearing. He entered the house in company with Police-constable Downey, and in a room saw several persons the worse for drink. One man was very drunk. Witness called defendant's attention to the state of things, and he said the man who was very drunk had only been in the house twenty minutes, to which the man made answer and said he had been there an hour.

Mr. Spooner: How many people were in the room?

Witness: Thirty I should think, sir.

Police-constable Downey gave corroborative evidence.

Defendant pleaded that he did not know the man referred to was drunk as his (defendant's) son had supplied the man with his beer.

Mr. Spooner, on hearing that the defendant had only kept the house seven weeks, remarked that he had begun to transgress the law early, and inflicted a fine of 10s and costs. Next time, he said, defendant would be much harder dealt with."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/8/1878

"Bilston Annual Licensing Sessions.....

The following is the list of licensed victuallers and beerhouse keepers who had been summoned during the year for offences against the Licensing Act Beerhouse keepers.....

Simeon Stanley, ROYAL GEORGE, Oxford Street, permitting drunkenness, 6th August, 1878, fined 10s and costs."

AND

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1878

"The Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The persons who had been convicted during the last twelve months for offences against their licenses, the renewals of which were withheld until today, now appeared before the Bench, and there being no further complaint as to the conduct of their houses in the interval the magistrates granted the renewals."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 28/10/1879 - Advert

"Pianist, two nights per week. One who can sing preferred.

Apply, ROYAL GEORGE, Oxford Street, Bilston."

PIANIST, two nights per week. One who can sing preferred.
—Apply, Royal George, Oxford-street, Bil-ton.

1881 Census

177, Oxford Street

[1] Benjamin Burdett (44), brass dresser, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[2] Eliza Burdett (46), wife, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[3] James Burdett (19), son, ironworker (labourer), born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[4] Francis Burdett (17), son, brass dresser, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[5] Sarah A. Burdett (11), daughter, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[6] Emma J. Burdett (8), daughter, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire:

Evening Express 13/5/1881

"Benjamin Burdett, landlord of the ROYAL GEORGE beerhouse, Oxford Street, was summoned for having his house open for the sale of beer during prohibited hours on Sunday, the 1st inst.

A woman named Helen Hartshorne was seen leaving the house at about 20 minutes past 10 o'clock on the night of the day in question by Police-constables Jackson and Moss, with a gallon bottle half full of ale.

A fine of 20s and costs was imposed."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1881

"At the Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were fully transferred.....

Benjamin Burdett, ROYAL GEORGE, Oxford Street, to Thomas Samuel Ratcliffe, grocer."

Sporting Life 10/1/1885

"Birmingham and District. Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

Mr. S. Burrows' Bell, of the TURKS HEAD, Bilston, and Mr. S. Hughes' Sep, of the ROYAL GEORGE, Oxford Street, Bilston, are matched to course the best of twenty-one rabbits, for £20, Bell to receive two dead rabbits. Day of race to be fixed. Mr. John Dudley, TRAVELLERS REST INN, Darlaston, referee."

Sporting Life 11/2/1885

"Birmingham and District. Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

On Monday last, the long impending rabbit coursing engagement was decided between Mr. T. Hughes's Bell, of Sedgley, and Mr. S. Hughes's Sep, of the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, who were matched to gather the best of twenty-one rabbits, 60 yards law, for £10 a side, Bell being allowed two dead rabbits. Both dogs had had a splendid preparation, and reflected great credit on their trainers. Little was known respecting the abilities of Bell. Sep, however, is the recognised champion, and has up to the present been a demon at this business. Consequently their meeting created a vast amount of interest, and this, combined with most charming weather, induced a tolerably large number to assemble, the stands and other places being well filled....."

[Sep won by killing 11 to 5. Score 11-7.]

Sporting Life 12/1/1886

"Sam Hughes, of the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, and R. Magness, of the same town, have signed articles to run 100 yards, for £10 a-side, on Monday, March 15. Mr. J. Harding to be stakeholder and starter, and Mr. J. Dudley referee. To be on the mark at 2pm."

Sporting Life 17/7/1886

"Mr. S. Hughes. This well-known Bilston penciller wishes to inform his pedestrian and dog-racing friends that he has removed from the ROYAL GEORGE INN, to more commodious premises, the RED COW INN, Bilston, where he will be glad to receive a call from old and new friends."

Frederick Reginald Mellen = Frederick Reginald Mellon

Frederick Clark = Frederick Clarke

Rugby Advertiser 5/10/1889

"We learn that Mrs. Clarke, wife of Mr. F. Clarke, who for many years kept the old Hen and Chickens in Sheep Street, and who, on leaving Rugby, took the ROYAL GEORGE INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, died suddenly on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Clarke had been unwell for some time, but on going to bed on Tuesday night last appeared no worse. She seemed to be in her usual state when her husband awoke the following morning at four o'clock, but on awaking again at seven o'clock he found her dead."

1891 Census

177, Oxford Street – ROYAL GEORGE

[1] Frederick Clark (64), widower, beerhouse keeper, born Long Buckby, Northamptonshire;

[2] Frederick Charles Clark (24), son, joiner, born Rugby:

William John Davies, beer retailer, 177, Oxford Street. [1896]

1901 Census

20, Oxford Street

[1] Alfred Tennant (36), beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;

[2] Alice Tennant (34), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Annie Edwards (23), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Alfred Tennant, beer retailer, 20, Oxford Street. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/2/1907

“According to the report of Police-Superintendent Spendlove read at the annual brewster sessions for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division yesterday, there are 356 licenses of all kinds within the division, or one to every 174 of the population.

The Clerk (Mr. Pratt) said the Bench had decided to recommend the following eleven houses on the ground of redundancy to be referred for compensation, and the cases would be adjourned to the adjourned meeting, and in the meantime notices would be given to the owner.....

BRITANNIA INN, Oxford Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/6/1907

“County Licensing Compensation Authority.

The principal meeting of the County Compensation Authority under the Licensing Act, 1904, was held at the Shire Hall, Stafford on Tuesday.....

BRITANNIA, Oxford Street, Bilston, beer license, Joseph Hadley (licensee).....

Mr. R. A. Willcock (Wolverhampton) formally applied for the provisional renewal of the license, and Superintendent Spendlove gave evidence as to redundancy and structural unsuitability. Renewal refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/7/1907

“A supplemental meeting of the County Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Wednesday and Thursday, to consider the amount of compensation to be awarded in the case of licenses the renewal of which was refused at the principal meeting.....

In cases where the amount of compensation approved by the committee was not accepted by the parties concerned, these were referred to the Inland Revenue Commissioners to determine the sum to be awarded.....

BRITANNIA, Oxford Street, Bilston (owner M. G. Cox), referred to Inland Revenue Commissioners.”

Lichfield Mercury 8/1/1909

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The Licensing Committee presented a report for the year 1908.....

The Commissioners of Inland Revenue gave their decisions in the cases referred to them last year.....

BRITANNIA, Bilston, £750.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1908

“The hearing was resumed of the action in which Phoebe Riley and Charlotte Elizabeth Marsh, of Wolverhampton, trustees under the will of George Riley, deceased, sued Major George Cox, brewer, Bilston, the claim being for a share of the compensation money paid in respect of a licensed house. Mr. Young, KC (instructed by Mr. W. A. Foster, Wolverhampton) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. McCardie (instructed by Willcock and Taylor, Wolverhampton) for the defendant.

At the first hearing it was stated for the plaintiff that the house was scheduled for compensation in 1907. On February 23 defendant visited the plaintiff, and offered to buy the house and a bit of land at the rear for £137. Asked about the compensation money defendant said whatever compensation money he got should be divided equally between them. On that understanding she agreed to sell for £137, £10 being for the land. The defendant emphatically denied having made the promise.....

The jury found for the plaintiff, and his Lordship gave judgement accordingly, making a declaration that plaintiff was entitled to half the compensation money received.

On the application of Mr. McCardie stay was granted.”

BRITANNIA

50, Temple Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

John Griffiths
Charlotte Griffiths

LICENSEES

John Griffiths [1851] – [1868]
Charlotte Griffiths [1871] – 1874);
Frederick Jones (1874 – 1877);
Thomas Marston (1877):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1851

“On Tuesday, the 29th ult, the Tradesman’s Society held their first annual feast-day at the house of Mr. John Griffiths, BRITANNIA, Temple Street, Bilston. The above society has only been established about six months, and as a proof of its success now numbers upwards of 50 members. The dinner was well and creditably served.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/8/1854

“The annual meeting of Magistrates for granting and renewing publican’s licenses in the parish of Bilston and Sedgley was held on Friday last, in the Bilston Police Court.

There were eleven applications for new licenses which were disposed of as follows.....

Mr. Underhill made an application on behalf of Mr. John Griffiths of the BRITANNIA, Temple Street, Bilston, where he said there were only three old licensed houses to a population of 4,500. Mr. Loxdale remarked that it was a very shameful population. The land had been given for making a good wide street, and they had crammed it so full of small houses as to be quite a nuisance. Refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1855

“The Annual Licensing Meeting for Bilston, Sedgley, Gornal, and the adjoining places took place on Friday last, at the Police Office, Bilston.....

Mr. J. Underhill applied for a license, on behalf of John Griffiths, of the BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, Bilston. He said that there were two public houses in the neighbourhood, but one of them was 70 yards and the other 120 yards distant; one of them was situate in Oxford Street, the landlord of which had signed Griffiths’s testimonial. Three clubs held their meetings at the applicant’s house, and, the neighbourhood being thickly populated, a license to the house would afford considerable accommodation. The application was not opposed. Refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1856

“The Annual Licensing Meeting at Bilston.....

Mr. Hayes applied for a license for Mr. John Griffiths, of Temple Street, Bilston, mentioning several facts which went to show the good character of his client; stating that Griffiths had become the owner of the house through his own industry, and that his certificate was respectably signed; that his house and premises were excellent; and that two clubs held their meetings at his house. The application was refused.”

Birmingham Journal 5/9/1857

“The annual licensing meeting for Bilston and its neighbourhood was held on Friday.....

Mr. Hayes, on behalf of Mr. John Griffiths, of Temple Street, Bilston, applied for a license. The Bench refused to grant the license, Mr. Loxdale remarking that there was a swarm of public houses in the neighbourhood.”

Birmingham Journal 3/3/1860

“In Bilston on Tuesday, during the heavy gale of wind, considerable excitement was caused in Temple Street, by a rumour that the house of Mr. J. Griffiths, BRITANNIA INN, was partially blown down, and that some of the family were buried in the ruins. However, the facts proved to be as follows. A chimney was blown down upon the roof with such force as to break the rafters and bearers, and these forcing their way through the ceiling over a bed chamber and club room, a considerable amount of damage was done to the whole premises. That the inmates escaped seems almost miraculous.”

1861 Census

50, Temple Street

[1] John Griffiths (51), japanner, provision dealer and beer seller, born Bilston;

[2] Charlotte Griffiths (49), wife, born Bilston;

[3] John Griffiths (14), son, born Bilston;

[4] Ann Horton (25), general servant, born Bilston;

[5] Jane Owen (32), general servant, born Bilston;

[6] George Riley (27), lodger, carpenter, born Bilston;

[7] Phebe Riley (26), wife, born Bilston;

[8] Elizabeth Riley (9 months), daughter, born Bilston:

John Griffiths, retailer of beer, 50, Temple Street. [1862]

John Griffiths, beer retailer, 50, Temple Street. [1865], [1868]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

Allowing Gaming John Griffiths, BRITANNIA, Temple Street, 10s and costs.”

John Griffiths died in the 3rd quarter of 1869.

1871 Census

50, Temple Street

[1] Charlotte Griffiths (59), widow, innkeeper and provision shop, born Bilston;

[2] John Griffiths (24), son, no occupation, born Bilston;

[3] Sarah A. Harris (17), general servant, born Bilston:

Charlotte Griffiths died in the 3rd quarter of 1874.

Birmingham Weekly Post 7/7/1877

“Attempted Murder by a Lunatic.

On Tuesday, a respectably connected man, named John Griffiths, aged 31, was brought before Mr. Moses Ironmonger, sitting as magistrate at Petty Sessions at Bilston, charged with attempting to murder John Lewis, at Priestfield. The accused was very excited, and had his hands tied together at his back. Evidently Griffiths was not master of his actions.

Chief Superintendent McCrea remarked that he had brought up Griffiths merely to obtain a remand, and proposed to give only enough evidence to permit of compliance with the request. In the interval the prisoner's mental state could be ascertained.

Policeman Wade, stationed at Ettingshall, deposed: This morning I was called to the prisoner at about a quarter-past two. I found him, with nothing on but his shirt, in the bed room of John Lewis, landlord of the GOLDEN FLEECE beerhouse, Ettingshall. I found John Lewis lying in a helpless state on the room floor, in a pool of blood. I took the prisoner into custody, charged with attempting to murder Lewis.....

[John Griffiths was remanded for a week.]

The prisoner is the son of parents, now dead, who owned the BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, Bilston, and other house property there. For many years they kept that inn, and likewise a provision shop. As a boy he was subject to fits. Growing into manhood he showed a liking for whisky, and often surreptitiously obtained it. Symptoms of lunacy then developed themselves, and he was placed as a pauper lunatic in Stafford Asylum, the cost being repaid to the Guardians by his sister, Mrs. Riley, wife of Mr. Riley, of the HEN AND CHICKENS, New Village. By-and-by he was removed from Stafford to Burntwood. Possessing, with Mrs. Riley, an interest in the property left by the parents in Temple Street, some gossips had hinted, with disagreeable plainness, that Griffiths was being kept in an asylum for motives originating in his right to share in the property; and Mrs. Riley, who has always been kind to him, sensitive of such allegations, applied to the surgeons at Burntwood that her brother might be released in her care, and he came out on the 16th April last. A few times previously during the three or four years he had been under restraint he had been temporarily released; but he had always got at the whisky, and had had to be sent back. Mr. Jennings, relieving officer for Bilston, therefore declined all responsibility touching his release on this occasion. Mrs. Riley could not have Griffiths at her home, for it was an old-licensed house, and the tempting spirit would be too near to him. Beer has no attractions for him; and as her friend Mrs. Lewis, wife of the landlord of the GOLDEN FLEECE, was ready to take him as a lodger, he was placed in her custody.....”

[Further on the attempted murder under GOLDEN FLEECE.]

Sporting Life 19/12/1874

“The East End Christmas Investigator on the principal events of the forthcoming year.

Head Office, Mr. E. Jones, 30, Quai Du Bassin, Boulogne-sur-Mer.

Branch Office, 64, Portland Street, Stepney, London.

The success of our Christmas Investigator each succeeding year is too well known to need comment. We have issued 30,000 at One Shilling each, for which application should be made at once to Mr. E. Jones, 64, Portland Street, Stepney, enclosing stamped directed envelope, or in person to any of his well-known agents.....

F. Jones, BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, Bilston, Staffordshire....

An extra stamped addressed envelope should always be enclosed when sending for Investigators through post, so that result of profits may be known; and orders for Investigators cannot be receive later than twelve o'clock on Monday, December 21.”

[This publication appears to be to do with horse racing.]

Frederick Jones was convicted on 28th January 1876 for permitting gaming at cards.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/9/1876

“The adjourned licensing session for the Bilston licensing division was held at the Bilston Police Court yesterday.....

After the holders of the following licenses had been cautioned their licenses were renewed.....

Frederick Jones, BRITANNIA beerhouse, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Frederick Jones, BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, permitting gambling, 40s and costs. In January 1876, Jones was fined £5 and costs for a like offence.....

The whole of the licenses in the ‘black list,’ it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions, and in the cases of Frederick Jones Mr. H. Ward said the bench had very serious thoughts about withholding the licenses.”

AND

Cannock Chase Examiner 7/9/1877

“Annual Licensing Session at Bilston.....

The renewal of the license of Frederick Jones, BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, was objected to on the grounds of having been twice convicted since January 1876 In the case of Frederick Jones, of the BRITANNIA, Mr. Ward said the Bench would consider whether they would not take the license away. Mr. Fellowes, on behalf of Mr. Martin, the present occupier of the house, asked for a temporary transfer for a week, which was granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/9/1877

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

An application, made by Mr. J. Fellows, for a renewal of the license to the BRITANNIA beerhouse, Temple Street, was refused.”

The license was taken away in 1877.

BRITANNIA

54, Wolverhampton Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Jeremiah France [1861]

William Hickman [1870] – [1871]

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license,

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/1/1857 - Advert

“A Rare Opportunity. By W. P. Tomkys.

To Be Let, with immediate possession, that noted Beershop, the BRITANNIA, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, with extensive yard and outoffices. Coming-in low.

Apply on the premises, or to the Auctioneer, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.
BY W. P. TOMKYS.—TO BE LET, with immediate possession, that noted BEERSHOP, “The Britannia,” Wolverhampton-street, Bilston, with extensive yard and outoffices. Coming-in low.—Apply on the premises, or to the AUCTIONEER, Oxford-street, Bilston.

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Street – BRITANNIA INN

[1] Jeremiah France (43), sinker, born North Wales;

[2] Mary France (41), wife, born Felton, Shropshire;

[3] Lidia France (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Margat France (11), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] Hannah France (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[6] Mary France (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/8/1870

“The annual sessions for the renewal of existing and the granting of new licenses to licensed victuallers and beersellers in Bilston and Sedgley, was held yesterday at the Police Court, Bilston.....

All the applications for renewal of licenses were granted except the following, who had been fined for various offences during the year, and whose applications for renewal were adjourned until the adjourned licensing day, November 30 Beerhouse Keepers.....

William Hickman, BRITANNIA, Wolverhampton Street.”

[Renewed at the adjourned licensing meeting.]

1871 Census

54, Wolverhampton Street – Public House

[1] William Hickman (61), iron founder's labourer, born Bilston;

[2] Ellen Hickman (58), wife, born Madeley Wood, Shropshire;

[3] Ellen Hickman (20), daughter, dressmaker, born Bilston:

BRITISH OAK

39, Wesley Street, (Batmans Hill), Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Elizabeth Bumford
John Elliman, licensed victualler, Princes End, Tipton
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Tennant [1865]
Thomas Paul [] - 1871);
Sampson Paul (1871 - 1874);
John Bumford (1874 - 1883);
Edward Roberts (1883 - 1884)
John Lowe (1884 - 1890);
Mrs. Betsy Jeavons (1890 - 1893);
Sarah A Jeavons [1891]
Mrs. Elizabeth Ann (Turner) Bunch (1893 - 1903);
James Casey (1903 - 1906);
Francis Mayeur (1906 - 1908);
William Brown (1908 - 1915);
Philip Blundell (1915 - 1919);
Henry Brown (1919 - 1923);
Albert Ward (1923 - 1924);
Joseph Edwin Turton (1924 - 1934);
Mrs. Mary Jane Turton (1934 - [1940]
Joe Turton [1956]

BEEERHOUSE (corner), populous neighbourhood, near collieries and large ironworks; enclosed premises, stable, loft, malt room, pigsty, shed, skittle alley; excellent brewing plant, perfectly arranged. Rent low. Illness sole cause. Genuine. Valuation. Investigation invited.—British Oak, Wesley Street, Bradley, near Bilston.

1884

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was known locally as "Turton's".

John Tennant died in the 3rd quarter of 1865.

Birmingham Journal 12/5/1866 - Advert

"Monday Next, May 14, 1866.

The BRITISH OAK INN, Batmans Hill, near Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Charles Round.

Sixteen Sweet Ale Casks, 120-Gallon wrought iron Boiler, Ale Vats, 4-pull Ale Machine, ditto 5-pull, eight-day Clock, Drinking Tables, Malt Crusher, Hop Press, Feather Beds, Bedsteads, and a large quantity of other Effects, late belonging to Mr. John Tennant, deceased.

Sale to commence at half-past Ten o'clock in the morning.

For catalogues, apply to the Auctioneer, Owen Street and Bloomfield, Tipton."

MONDAY NEXT, MAY 14, 1866.
THE BRITISH OAK INN,
BATMAN'S HILL, near BILSTON.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.
BY CHARLES ROUND—Sixteen Sweet ALE CASKS,
120-Gallon wrought iron Boiler, Ale Vats, 4-pull Ale Machine, ditto 5-pull, eight-day Clock, Drinking Tables, Malt Crusher, Hop Press, Feather Beds, Bedsteads, and a large quantity of other Effects, late belonging to Mr. John Tennant, deceased.
Sale to commence at half-past Ten o'clock in the morning.
For catalogues, apply to the Auctioneer, Owen Street and Bloomfield, Tipton.

John Tennant's widow, Elizabeth, married John Bumford in the 2nd quarter of 1866.

1871 Census

39, Wesley Street

- [1] Thomas Paul (30), iron shingler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Hannah Paul (27), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Thomas Paul (6), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Florance Paul (3), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Alexander Paul (2), son, born Sedgley;
- [6] James Paul (1), son, born Sedgley;
- [7] Elizabeth Jukes (17), general servant, born Dudley;

Thomas Paul – see also ROYAL OAK, Hill Street, and BARREL, Chell Street.

1881 Census

39, Wesley Street

- [1] John Bumford (56), beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;
- [2] Elizabeth Bumford (55), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Thomas Bumford (26), son, iron worker, born Darlaston;
- [4] John Bumford (24), son, iron worker, born Darlaston;
- [5] Joseph Bumford (20), son, iron worker, born Darlaston;
- [6] James Bumford (19), son, labourer, born Darlaston;
- [7] Alfred Bumford (16), son, painter, born Darlaston;
- [8] John T. Bumford (11), son, scholar, born Darlaston;
- [9] Elizabeth Bennet (16), domestic servant, born Dudley;

London Gazette 19/5/1882

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Worcestershire, holden at Dudley.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John Bumford, of the BRITISH OAK, Wesley-street, Bradley, near Bilston, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Beerseller.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston on the 3rd day of June, 1882, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 13th day of May, 1882.

Jno. E. Fellows, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Dudley and District News 20/5/1882

“At Dudley County Court, on Monday, the following petitions in liquidation were filed.....

John Bumford, of the BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bradley, beerseller; liabilities £200.

Mr. J. E. Fellows, of Bilston, is the solicitor acting for the debtor.”

John Bumford – see also VICTORIA, Wesley Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1884 - Advert

“Beerhouse (corner), populous neighbourhood, near collieries and large ironworks; enclosed premises, stable, loft, malt room, pigsty, shed, skittle alley; excellent brewing plant, perfectly arranged. Rent low. Illness sole cause. Genuine. Valuation. Investigation invited.

BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bradley, near Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 9/5/1885

“William Barnbroke, Bradley, was charged with refusing to quit licensed premises, and assaulting James Tennant, Bradley.

Elah Lowe, wife of John Lowe, landlord of the BRITISH OAK INN, Wesley Street, Bradley, gave evidence as to the assault taking place in her house, on the previous Tuesday night, and also said that she ordered the defendant to leave the house, which he refused to do. A mass of the most conflictory evidence was brought forward for the prosecution, and Mr. Rowland Tildesley appeared for the defence.

Thomas Barnbroke, brother to the last defendant, and Robert Martin, Bradley, were also charged with refusing to quit the house.

The charges were dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/5/1885 - Advert

“Pianist (Female) Wanted. Free-and-Easy. Live in-doors.
Apply to BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bradley, near Bilston.”

PIANIST (Female) Wanted. Free-and-Easy. Live in-doors.—
Apply to British Oak, Wesley Street, Bradley, near Bilston.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/5/1889 - Advert

“Wanted, General Servant, for public house; good character.
Apply, BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bradley, near Bilston.”

WANTED, General Servant, for public house; good character. — Apply, British Oak, Wesley-st., Bradley, near Bilston.

Betsy Jeavons = Betsey Jeavons

1891 Census

39, Wesley Street

- [1] Thomas Jeavons (48), stone dresser, born Coseley;
- [2] Betsey Jeavons (41), wife, born Coseley;
- [3] William Jeavons (18), son, blacksmith's striker, born Coseley;
- [4] Sarah A. Jeavons (17), daughter, publican, born Coseley;
- [5] James Jeavons (13), son, scholar, born Coseley;
- [6] Edward G. Jeavons (12), son, scholar, born Princes End;
- [7] Mary J. P. Jeavons (9), daughter, scholar, born Princes End;

Betsy Jeavons – see also OLD BUSH, Cross Street, and SWAN, Bank Street.

Elizabeth Ann Turner married James Bunch on 18th April 1894.

1901 Census

39, Wesley Street

- [1] Elizabeth A. Bunch (67), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Forest of Dean, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Maria Barnes (29), domestic servant, born Great Bridge;
- [3] Eva Blakesley (17), visitor, dressmaker, born Sedgley;

James Casey, beer retailer, 39, Wesley Street, Bradley. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/2/1906

“An interesting sequel to a rat-killing match was heard yesterday at the Dudley County Court, when James Casey, landlord of the BRITISH OAK, Bradley, near Bilston, sued William Williamson to recover £6, money deposited with the latter as stakeholder in a match for £5 a-side. Casey matched his dog against one belonging to a man named Ledsham, of Willenhall, to kill sixteen rats in the quickest time. The match, however, did not come off, because it was alleged that Casey did not turn up at the stipulated time, and, therefore, forfeited the stakes, which were paid over by the stakeholder to Ledsham. His Honour found for the defendant and advised the parties as sportsmen to shake hands and have the match over again.”

1911 Census

Wesley Street – BRITISH OAK INN

- [1] William Brown (37), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Annie Brown (41), wife, married 16 years, born Kinver;
- [3] Ennie Brown (13), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Lizzie Brown (9), daughter, born Bradley:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/10/1912

“Football. Priestfield v Bradley.

Mr. W. Brown, BRITISH OAK, Bradley, writes on behalf of Bradley United FC as follows.

‘As to the match which should have been played at Priestfield on Saturday, October 26, and was not, this was not owing to the visitors not turning up, as the home team did not turn up at the time fixed for the kick-off. Only five of the home side were at headquarters, and no nets were up. Therefore, I don’t see why the blame should be laid on the visitors.’”

William Brown – see also BRITANNIA, Hall Green Street.

Henry Brown, beer retailer, 39 Wesley Street, Bradley, Bilston. [1921]

1921 Census

39, Wesley Street

- [1] Henry Brown (43), cogger down, out of work, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Jane Brown (38), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Doris Brown (3), daughter, born Bradley:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/4/1931

“Gazette Insurance practical help given under the Gazette plan of free insurance.....

Mr. Joseph Turton, BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Accident to reader – broken arm. Newsagent: Mr. Russell, Hill Street, Bradley.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/12/1931

“A boy named Frederick Turton, aged 11, of the BRITISH OAK INN, Bradley, near Bilson, was drowned during the fog at Walsall yesterday. He had accompanied a brother, Joseph Turton, aged about 23, who had charge of an empty boat on the canal at Birchills, Walsall, and was missed from the boat about 6.30 am. After dragging, the body was found in one of the locks.”

Joseph Edwin Turton died in the 3rd quarter of 1934.

1939 Register

39, Wesley Street

- [1] Mary J. Turton, date of birth 31/10/1872, beerhouse keeper, widowed;
- [2] Joseph W. Turton, dob 21/6/1904, canal boatman, married;
- [3] Brenda (Brookhouse) Caddick, dob 14/7/1926, school, single;
- [4] Jack Turton, dob 19/11/1918, cost and wages clerk, single:

A team from here took part in the Bradley Crib League. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

It had a successful darts team in the 1950s, which won the Midland Open Championship in 1956. The team featured Frank Wall who later won the News of the World Championship.

It was granted a full license in February 1957.

Birmingham Mail 10/6/1971 - Advert

“Bricklayer required, West Bromwich area, good rates of pay.

Apply site agent Pargas Construction Ltd., BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Brierley Lane, Bilston.”

Birmingham Mail 12/8/1971 - Advert

“Bricklaying Gang Required, good rates of pay, only fast, clean trowels need apply to the BRITISH OAK, Wesley Street, Bilston.”

BROWN COW

Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Jane Lander [1851]

BROWN JUG

11, (6), Temple Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Fowler, butcher, Brook Terrace, Bilston
George Meese Jnr.
Mercy Meese
George Meese
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

David Thompson [1841] – 1863;
Thomas Pritchard (1863 – [1865]
John Fowler [1866]
Edwin Vale [] – 1868);
John Vale (1868 – []
Mrs. Jane Veal [1868] – [1870]
Joseph Bunce [1871] – [1874];
Joseph Johnson [];
John Roberts [];
John O'Grady [1881] – 1882;
Bennet Tarbuck (1882);
John Hartill (1882);
Elizabeth Griffiths (1882 – 1883);
William Fowler (1883 – 1886);
William Henry Veal (1886);
George Meese Snr. (1886 – 1888);
C Carpenter (1888 – []
George Meese Jnr. [1891] – 1912);
Mrs. Mercy Meese (1912 – 1922);
George Meese (1922 – 1928);
John Thomas Shelley (1928 – 1931);
Walter Smith (1931 – 1933);
Abraham Betts (1933 – 1938);
Leonard Betts (1938 – [1940]

NOTES

6, Temple Street [1861], [1868], [1870], [1873], [1874], [1891], [1892], [1896]
11, Temple Street [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

THE BROWN JUG INN, TEMPLE STREET, BILSTON.

TO BE LET, in consequence of the Proprietor being about to retire from the trade, the above-mentioned old-licensed INN, with LIQUOR SHOP attached.

The House comprises liquor shop, tap room, smoke room, large brewhouse, fitted with copper boilers, vats, with piping to cellaring, &c.; two good cellars, malt room, store room, four bed rooms, and club room.

The Stock, Fixtures, Brewing and other Utensils to be taken to by valuation in the usual way.

For particulars apply to Mr. SAMUEL BAKER, Auctioneer, Bilston.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1883.

SALE AT THE BROWN JUG INN, TEMPLE STREET, BILSTON.

MR. SAMUEL BAKER will SELL by AUCTION, to-morrow, Thursday, September 17, 1883, by direction of the executors of the late Mr. David Thompson, deceased, the capital HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, including 6 mahogany chairs, sofa, easy chair, invalid's chair, 6 cane-seated chairs, 40 Windsor ditto, 2 mahogany dining tables, 2 excellent mahogany chests of drawers, mahogany 4-post and other bedsteads, mattresses, prime feather beds, sheet, blankets, &c., large clothes chests, wash-stand, 2 capital 8-day clocks, in mahogany cases, Dutch clock, breakfast, with folding doors, a variety of kitchen requisites, &c., &c.; Sykes's hydrometer for testing the strength of spirits, with thermometer and other instruments in mahogany case; also, a malt mill, two sows (in pig), 8 store pigs, 6 fowls, light cart, hand-cart, 3 horse racks, patent iron pig trough, set gig harness in good condition, about 1 cwt. old lead, oven grate, sham register ditto, 2 room ditto, about 7 gallons sherry wine, about 250 gallons of ale, and other minor effects.

The goodwill and possession of a well-stocked kitchen garden, with brick-built summer arbour, &c., situate at the "Lant."

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Catalogues may be had at the Auctioneer's offices, No. 17, Church-street, near the Post Office, Bilston.

1863

1841 Census

Temple Street

- [1] David Thompson (30), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Anne Thompson (30), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Rachel Thompson (11), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Richard Thompson (8), born Staffordshire;
- [5] John Thompson (6), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Cornelius Thompson (4), born Staffordshire;
- [7] David Thompson (2), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Betsy Thompson (2 weeks), born Staffordshire;
- [9] Sarah Perry (24), f.s.:

David Thompson, retailer of beer, Temple Street. [1842]

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/1/1847

“George Wilson was charged by Messrs. Sparrow with stealing two shovels, on the 12th inst. The prisoner went into a hovel where the shovels had been placed the night before for safety, and took them away, and on the night of the 12th instant went into the BROWN JUG beershop, at Bilston, and offered to sell them for 2s. He was suspected, and the police being sent for he was taken into custody. He made no defence and was committed for trial at the Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/3/1847

“Staffordshire Adjourned Epiphany Sessions To be imprisoned one calendar month.....

George Wilson (pleaded guilty), for stealing two iron shovels, the property of William Hanbury Sparrow, and partner, at Wolverhampton.”

David Thompson, beer retailer, Temple Street. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Temple Street

- [1] David Thompson (47), common snuffers maker employing 1 man and 2 boys, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Thompson (46), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Rachael Thompson (21), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] John Thompson (16), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Cornelius Thompson (14), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Betsy Thompson (11), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Ann Thompson (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Jane Davies (21), servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

On the application of Mr. Underhill a license was granted to Mr. David Thompson, for a house in Temple Street, Bilston, which, it was stated, was in the centre of the street, there being at present only two public houses in the same street, one at the top and the other at the bottom.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/5/1857

“Mr. Thos. Cottis of Westbromwich will shoot a match with Mr. Wisedell of Bilston, for £5 or £10 a side, guns $\frac{3}{4}$ -bore, 2oz of shot, 21 yards rise, 60 boundary, 11 birds each, to find and trap against each other. Money ready at Mr. Thompson’s, BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/3/1858

“W. H. Phillips Esq, deputy coroner, held an inquest at the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, on Friday last, on the body of John Edwards, a banksman. The unfortunate man had lost his life by falling down the shaft of a pit at which he was employed. No person witnessed the accident, and therefore the circumstances under which it occurred did not appear. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Ann Thompson died in the 2nd quarter of 1861.

1861 Census

6, Temple Street

- [1] David Thompson (57), widower, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Cornelius Thompson (23), son, iron founder, born Bilston;
- [3] Ann Thompson (17), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Harriet J. Moore (14), servant, born Manchester:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/6/1863 - Advert

“The BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

To be Let, in consequence of the Proprietor being about to retire from the trade, the above-mentioned old-licensed Inn, with Liquor Shop attached.

The House comprises liquor shop, tap room, smoke room, large brewhouse, fitted with copper boilers, vats, with piping to cellaring, &c, two good cellars, malt room, store room, four bed rooms, and club room.

The Stock, Fixtures, Brewing and other Utensils to be taken to by valuation in the usual way.

For particulars apply to Mr. Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.”

David Thompson died in the 3rd quarter of 1863.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/9/1863 - Advert

“Thursday, September 17, 1863. Sale at the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

Mr. Samuel Baker will Sell by Auction, tomorrow, Thursday, September 17, 1863, by direction of the executors of the late Mr. David Thompson, deceased, the capital Household Furniture, including 6 mahogany chairs, sofa, easy chair, invalid's chair, 6 cane-seated chairs, 40 Windsor ditto, 2 mahogany dining tables, 2 excellent mahogany chests of drawers, mahogany 4-post and other bedsteads, mattresses, prime feather beds, sheets, blankets, &c, large clothes chests, wash-stand, 2 capital 8-day clocks, in mahogany cases, Dutch clock, beaufet, with folding doors, a variety of kitchen requisites, &c, &c; Sykes's hydrometer for testing the strength of sprits, with thermometer and other instruments in mahogany case; also, a malt mill, two sows (in pig), 8 store pigs, 6 fowls, light cart, hand-cart, 3 horse racks, patent iron pig trough, set gig harness in good condition, about 1cwt old lead, oven grate, sham register ditto, 2 room ditto, about 7 gallons sherry wine, about 250 gallons of ale, and other minor effects.

The goodwill and possession of a well stoked kitchen garden, with brick-built summer arbour, &c, situate at the 'Lunt.'

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Catalogues may be had at the Auctioneer's offices, No.17, Church Street, near the Post Office, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/9/1863 - Advert

“Temple Street, Bilston. Old-Licensed House.

To be Sold by Private Contract, by direction of the Executors of the late Mr. David Thompson, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the BROWN JUG INN, situate as above; together with the Brewing Plant, Liquor Shop Fittings, and other Public House Effects, Stock, &c, &c.

The house, which has liquor shop attached, is well situated in a populous neighbourhood; has been successfully carried on by the late proprietor for a number of years, has every convenience for the trade, the rental is low, and the incoming will be moderate.

For further particulars, apply at the Offices of Mr. Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, 17, Church Street, near the Post Office, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/5/1864

“On Tuesday, at the Bilston Petty Sessions, before the Stipendiary, Mr. Isaac Spooner, Thomas Pritchard, landlord of the BROWN JUG public house, Temple Street, in that town, was charged by Mr. Allcorn, Supervisor of Excise, with having, on the 22nd of March last, entered in his entry paper that he was about to brew ten bushels of malt, when, in fact, he brewed upwards of fifteen bushels five gallons, an increase upon the quantity entered of 57¼ per cent. Mr. Allcorn himself detected the offence, and proved the case. When, on the 22nd of March, Mr. Allcorn drew the attention of the defendant to the nature of the entry, Pritchard said that it was correct, but yesterday he told the Stipendiary that his servant had, by mistake, placed the extra quantity of malt in the mash tub. The Stipendiary said a false entry had been made, and the defendant was liable to a penalty of £200. The lowest sum he could fine him was £50, which he must pay.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/9/1864

“Yesterday the magistrates sat in Special Sessions, for the consideration of the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses to victuallers.....

The following houses and their landlords had been complained against and fined during the year.....

Thomas Pritchard, BROWN JUG, Temple Street.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/2/1865 - Advert

“OLD BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston.

To be Disposed of, the Licenses and Goodwill of the above well-accustomed and snug Liquor Shop, with Public House, situate in a dense population, in Temple Street, Bilston, and stands unrivalled for business purposes.

The Brewing Plant, Fixtures, &c, which are first-class, to be taken to by valuation.

Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Publicans Valuer, King Street, Dudley.”

Birmingham Journal 4/3/1865 - Advert

“BROWN JUG Liquor Vaults, Temple Street, Bilston.

To be Disposed of, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above-named very desirable and well-accustomed snug Liquor and Wine Vaults, situate in Temple Street, Bilston, in a dense population, and well situated for business, which has only changed hands once for many years.

Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Publicans Valuer, &c, King Street, Dudley.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/4/1865 - Advert

“Bilston. BROWN JUG, Temple Street.

To be Disposed of, the Possession of the BROWN JUG INN and Liquor Shop, Temple Street, Bilston, situate in a very populous neighbourhood, and capable of doing an extensive in and out-door business.

The Brewing Plant and Fixtures to be taken to by valuation.

Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Valuer, Dudley.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/6/1865 - Advert

“To be Disposed of, the BROWN JUG INN and Spirit Vaults, Temple Street, Bilston.

Apply upon the Premises.”

TO be DISPOSED OF, the BROWN JUG INN and SPIRIT VAULTS, Temple Street, Bilston. Apply upon the Premises.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/7/1865 - Advert

“To be Disposed of, by Fair Valuation, the Licenses and Possession of the BROWN JUG INN and Spirit Vaults, Temple Street, Bilston.

For particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley; or upon the Premises.”

TO be DISPOSED OF by FAIR VALUATION, the LICENSES and POSSESSION of the BROWN JUG INN and SPIRIT VAULTS, Temple Street, Bilston. - For particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley; or upon the Premises.

Birmingham Daily Post 16/8/1865 - Advert

“To be Disposed of, the BROWN JUG INN and Spirit Vault, Temple Street, Bilston. Coming-in about £100.

For further particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley; or upon the Premises.”

TO be DISPOSED OF, the BROWN JUG INN and SPIRIT VAULT, Temple Street, Bilston. Coming-in about £100. - For further particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley; or upon the Premises.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/8/1865 - Advert

“To be Disposed of, the BROWN JUG INN and Spirit Vault, Temple Street, Bilston. Coming-in can be reduced to £90.

For further particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley; or upon the Premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/5/1866

"John Fowler, landlord of the BROWN JUG, Temple Street, was summoned for selling ale after twelve o'clock on Saturday night. A policeman proved that he met a woman coming away from defendant's house, after twelve o'clock on Saturday night, with a jug containing ale. Defendant said the ale was sold to the woman before twelve o'clock, and he allowed her to leave it there until she went in search of her husband. Mr. Spooner said such excuses as that could not be allowed, and fined defendant 1s and costs."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

"The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court on Friday, when the Magistrates present were – The Revs. J. Y. Rooker, and W. Lewis, and J. Perks, H. D. Best, A. Sparrow, H. Ward, and W. Hatton, Esqs. At the commencement of the proceedings, the superintendent of Police presented the following report:–

Bilston Division, August 31st, 1866.

'I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained about during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times and five twice. This is a large increase on last year's list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.'

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

John Fowler, BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston License renewed."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/9/1866 - Advert

"Bilston. Sale of Valuable Freehold Property, in Temple Street.

Mr. Thomas Richards will Offer for Sale by Auction, on Thursday, the 20th day of September, 1866 (by order of the Trustees for Sale under the will of the late Mr. David Thompson), at the house of Mr. John Fowler, the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, at six o'clock in the evening....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/10/1866 - Advert

"The BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

To be Disposed of, and may be entered upon immediately, the above well-known Inn and Liquor Vaults, well situate in a populous neighbourhood, and now doing a good in and out-door trade.

The house contains well-fitted up liquor shop, smoke room, tap room, good cellaring, with out road into yard; bagatelle room, four bedrooms, large kitchen and brewhouse, well fitted up for brewing, cooking &c, malt room, and other appurtenances.

Most satisfactory reasons can be given for leaving, and the in-coming will not exceed £140.

Apply Samuel Baker, Auctioneer and Valuer, Church Street, Bilston."

Birmingham Daily Post 6/7/1867 - Advert

"Bilston. The BROWN JUG, Temple Street.

This capital Old-licensed House is now for Sale. Stock and Brewing Plant at a fair valuation. Proprietor having taken to other premises. In-coming low.

Apply Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/2/1868

"Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, the following transfer of licenses were granted.....

From the executors of Edwin Vale to John Vale, the BROWN JUG."

John Vale was the son of Edwin.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Permitting Drunkenness Jane Veal, BROWN JUG, Temple Street, 5s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1869 - Advert

“To be Disposed of, the Licenses and Possession of the BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston, the Proprietor having other engagements occupying the whole of his time. Stock and Fixtures at a valuation.
Apply to Mr. Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.”

TO be DISPOSED OF, the LICENSES and POSSESSION of the “BROWN JUG,” Temple Street, Bilston, the Proprietor having other engagements occupying the whole of his time. Stock and Fixtures at a valuation.—Apply to Mr. Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 26/11/1870 - Advert

“Old-Licensed Public-house.

To be Let, with immediate Possession, the NEW BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston, near the Railway Station, and large Ironworks. Rent Low. In-coming moderate.
Apply on the Premises; or to Thomas Skidmore, Valuer, Wolverhampton.”

1871 Census

6, Temple Street – BROWN JUG INN

- [1] Joseph Bunce (34), merchant roller iron and licensed victualler, born Coseley;
- [2] Elizabeth Bunce (33), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Bunce (12), daughter, general servant, born Bilston;
- [4] William Bunce (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Joseph Bunce (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Alfred Bunce (4), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Horace Bunce (2), son, born Bilston;
- [8] Mary Gasser (73), mother, widow, born Darlaston;
- [9] Betty Johnson (20), general servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/5/1878 - Advert

“House (Old-licensed) to Let, in a good neighbourhood. Rent low.
For particulars, apply, NEW BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston.”

HOUSE (Old licensed) to Let, in a good neighbourhood. Rent low.—For particulars, apply, New Brown Jug, Temple Street, Bilston.

1881 Census

6, Temple Street - uninhabited

Evening Express 29/7/1881

“John O’Grady, landlord of the BROWN JUG public house, Temple Street, Bilston, was charged with having, on the 23rd inst, permitted drunkenness on his premises.

Police-constable stated that at 10.30pm the night in question he went into the defendant’s house, and found a man named James Welsh drunk, with a pint jug before him, half full of beer. The defendant’s wife, when questioned by witness, admitted that the man was drunk.

The Bench imposed a fine of 20s and costs.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/7/1883

“William Fowler, butcher, Church Street, and owner of the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, was charged with selling liquor during prohibited hours.

Sergeant O’Brien stated that at a quarter to four o’clock on Sunday afternoon, he saw a woman named Ann Yardley, in Brook Street, carrying a bottle of ale (produced). He interrogated her, and she then took him to the BROWN JUG, where the daughter of the defendant acknowledged having sold the ale, and expressed sorrow. The Sergeant stated that several complaints had been received as to how the house was conducted.

As it was a first offence, defendant was fined 20s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/4/1885

“An inquest was opened by Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, at the NEW BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston, on Thursday, over the body of John Thomas Jordens, of 14 Court, Temple Street, Bilston, aged seven years and eight months, who was found dead in bed by his parents on the morning of the 1st inst. The inquiry was adjourned till the 9th inst, at 4pm, at same place, for post mortem.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/4/1885

“This (Tuesday) afternoon, W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the NEW BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston, as to the cause of death of Peter Thomas, Dagherly, ten weeks old, son of Peter Dagherly, miner, 17 Court, Temple Street, Bilston. The mother deposed that on Saturday night the child was quite well when she went to sleep, but on awaking in the morning, about half-past five, it was found to be dead. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Suffocation.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/5/1885

“This (Friday) morning, at the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest touching the death of John Tomes (25), miner, of 18 Court, Temple Street, Bilston, who was killed in a coal pit at the Gospel Oak Colliery, Princes End, on Wednesday.

John Poulton, chartermaster of the pit under Messrs. Grazebrook and Aston, said he was down the pit with deceased, who was working as a loader. The roof, which was a strong clad one, gave way and fell upon deceased, fracturing his head, and causing almost instantaneous death.

Mr. W. H. Pickering, assistant inspector of mines, stated that he visited the pit on Thursday and found the accident due to two ‘slips,’ and a weight which must have come on at the back, causing the roof to fall. There was sufficient timber, and no rules had been broken.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/8/1885 - Advert

“Bilston. BROWN JUG, Temple Street, full licensed, free.
Josiah Parkes, auctioneer and valuer, Wood Street, Willenhall.”

BILSTON.—Brown Jug, Temple-street, full licensed, free.—Josiah Parkes, auctioneer and valuer, Wood-st., Willenhall.

Birmingham Daily Post 13/1/1886

“An inquest was held at the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, yesterday, touching the death of William George Slaney (3½), son of George Slaney, blacksmith, of Temple Street. On Friday evening deceased drank boiling water from the spout of a kettle. He was so badly injured that medical assistance was of no avail, and he died on Sunday. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/4/1886 - Advert

“BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston.

W. H. Veal begs to inform the Inhabitants of Bilston, that he has taken to the above Inn, and trusts by selling Spirits and Ale, of the finest quality, to merit a share of their support.

Best Ale in own jugs at 5d per quart.”

1891 Census

6, Temple Street – BROWN JUG

[1] George Meese (29), publican and blacksmith, born Bilston;

[2] Mercy Meese (30), wife, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/9/1898

“Yesterday, at Bilston, Isaac Barson (22), a professional boxer and runner, was fined 40s and costs for refusing to quit the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, and 20s and costs for striking Albert Draissey in the face.”

1901 Census

11, Temple Street

[1] George Meese (38), publican, born Bradley;

[2] Mercy Meese (38), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Alice Meese (15), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] George Meese (9), son, born Bilston:

Mrs. Mercy Meese was a brewer.

1911 Census

11, Temple Street

- [1] George Meese (49), blacksmith, born Bradley;
- [2] Mercy Meese (50), wife, married 26 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] George Meese (19), son, publican and brewer, born Bilston:

George Meese died in the 4th quarter of 1911.

1921 Census

11, Temple Street

- [1] Mercy Meese (59), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Edith Hinds (19), adopted daughter, home duties, born Stratford on Avon:

Mercy Meese died in the 1st quarter of 1922.

Removal of the license to new premises in Birmingham New Road, Coseley, was approved on 4th February 1938 by Bilston Magistrates.

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1938

“Sixteen applications, granted earlier in the year by the local justices, remained to be dealt with when an adjourned meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Confirmation Committee was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....

Mr. J. F. Bourke appeared to support an application for the removal of the full license of the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, to premises proposed to be erected on the Birmingham-Wolverhampton new road at Lanesfield.

The application was opposed by Mr. Kenneth Wood on behalf of the owner of the ROOKERY TAVERN, a beerhouse in Wood Street, Lanesfield, Coseley.

Mr. Bourke said extensive development was taking place within a quarter mile radius of the proposed house, and at present there were no full license within a quarter of a mile. If the application were approved his clients were prepared to surrender two licenses apart from the BROWN JUG.

Stating the grounds for opposition, Mr. Wood said his client had been the owner and licensee of the ROOKERY TAVERN for 13 years, and last year he spent over £1,300 on improving the property. The trade of the ROOKERY TAVERN was 13 barrels and 34 dozen bottles of stout per week, in addition to other bottled goods.

After evidence in support of the application had been given, the Chairman said the committee had come to the conclusion that the application was premature and, in consequence, the order would not be confirmed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/4/1939

“An adjourned meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Confirmation Committee was held on Tuesday at the Shirehall, Stafford, when consideration was given to the confirmation of license removal orders granted earlier in the year by local licensing justices.....

The committee refused to confirm the removal of the full license of the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, to premises proposed to be erected on the west side of the Birmingham new road, Lanesfield, Coseley.”

1939 Register

11, Temple Street – BROWN JUG

- [1] Leonard Betts, date of birth 15/5/1907, licensee at public house, married;
- [2] Jane E. Betts, dob 30/8/1907, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Leonard Betts, dob 02/7/1931, at school, single:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/2/1940

“At Bilston Brewster Sessions yesterday.....

An application for the removal of the license of the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, to premises proposed to be erected in the Birmingham new road at Lanesfield, Coseley, was acceded to.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1940

"Meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Committee, held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

There were eight applications for the confirmation of orders made by local licensing justices.....

Confirmation was sought of an order granted by the Bilston Justices for the removal of the full license of the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, Bilston, to premises proposed to be erected on the west side of the Birmingham New Road, Lanesfield, Coseley.

Mr. A. J. Long, KC, with Mr. J. F. Bourke appeared for the applicant, and Mr. Kenneth Wood represented William Thomas Bayliss, owner and licensee of the ROOKERY TAVEN, Coseley, who opposed the application.

Mr. Long said the owners concerned with the application were Messrs. Butlers Brewery, Wolverhampton. Application for the removal of the license was first made in 1938, when the Bilston Justices made an order which, however, was not confirmed. Last year the application was repeated, and a grant was made by the Justices, but again it was not confirmed. On that occasion the Chairman of the confirming authority said the Bench were of opinion that the development of the area concerned had not been as rapid as anticipated, and that the applicant should wait another year. For a third time, said Mr. Long, the Bilston Justices had granted an order for the removal of the license, and he submitted that the merits of the case were such that the grant should now be confirmed.

Counsel spoke of further housing development in the area concerned since the application was last before the committee, and said that within a circle of a quarter of a mile radius of the site of the proposed new licensed house there were only one on beer license – that owned by Mr. Bayliss – and an off beer license known as the Hope Cottage. Within the same radius there were now 431 houses. Residents complained they had to walk a long way to get their drink, and that the ROOKERY TAVERN was often over-crowded. There was, he submitted a real demand for the proposed house.

After evidence had been called in support of the application, Mr. Wood contended that there had been little housing development since the application was last before the committee, and therefore the position had not changed.

Bayliss gave evidence as to his trade at the ROOKERY TAVERN, and said he would describe it as a 'good beer-drinking district.' He thought that at some future date there would be a need for a house such as that proposed on the main road, but the war had postponed the arrival of that time.

The committee refused the application."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1946

"Col. A. F. Nicholson (chairman) presided at a meeting of the County Licensing Confirmation Committee at Stafford, on Wednesday.....

Removal orders in respect of three Bilston full licenses – the BROWN JUG INN, Temple Street, to premises proposed to be erected on the Birmingham-Wolverhampton new road at Lanesfield, Coseley; the BOARD INN, Church Street, to premises to be built in Bunkers Hill Lane; and the ROLLING MILL INN, Highfields, Bradley, to premises to be erected at the junction of Great Bridge Road and Bull Lane, Moxley –were approved by the committee."

Closed

Demolished

TEMPLE-STREET, BILSTON.

OLD-LICENSED HOUSE.

TO be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, by direction of the Executors of the late Mr. David Thompson, the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the BROWN JUG INN, situate as above; together with the BREWING PLANT, LIQUOR SHOP, FITTINGS, and other PUBLIC-HOUSE EFFECTS, STOCK, &c., &c.

The house, which has liquor shop attached, is well situated in a populous neighbourhood; has been successfully carried on by the late proprietor for a number of years, has every convenience for the trade, the rental is low, and the incoming will be moderate.

For further particulars, apply at the Offices of Mr. SAMUEL BAKER, Auctioneer, 17, Church-street, near the Post Office, Bilston.

1863

OLD BROWN JUG,
TEMPLE STREET, BILSTON.
TO be DISPOSED OF, the LICENSES, and GOODWILL of the above well-accustomed and snug LIQUOR SHOP, with PUBLIC-HOUSE, situate in a dense population, in Temple Street, Bilston, and stands unrivalled for business purposes. The Brewing Plant, Fixtures, &c., which are first-class, to be taken to by valuation.
Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Publicans' Valuer, King Street, Dudley.

"BROWN JUG" LIQUOR VAULTS,
TEMPLE STREET, BILSTON.
TO be DISPOSED OF, the LICENSES, GOOD- WILL, and POSSESSION of the above-named, very desirable and well-accustomed snug LIQUOR and WINE VAULTS, situate in Temple Street, Bilston, in a dense population, and well situated for business, which has only changed hands once for many years.
Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Publicans' Valuer, &c., King Street, Dudley.

BILSTON.

BROWN JUG, TEMPLE STREET.

TO be DISPOSED OF, the POSSESSION of the BROWN JUG INN and LIQUOR SHOP, Temple Street, Bilston, situate in a very populous neighbourhood, and capable of doing an extensive in and out-door business. The Brewing Plant and Fixtures to be taken to by valuation.
Apply to John G. Wright, Auctioneer and Valuer, Dudley.

1865

TO be DISPOSED OF, the BROWN JUG INN and SPIRIT VAULT, Temple Street, Bilston. Coming-in can be reduced to £90.—For further particulars, apply to J. G. Wright, King Street, Dudley, or upon the Premises.

1865

BILSTON.—The "BROWN JUG," Temple Street.—This capital Old-licensed HOUSE is now for SALE, Stock and Brewing Plant at a fair valuation. Proprietor having taken to other premises. In-coming low.—Apply, Samuel Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.

1867

OLD-LICENSED Public-house.—To be LET, with immediate Possession, the New BROWN JUG, Temple Street, Bilston, near the Railway Station, and large ironworks. Rent low. In-coming moderate.—Apply on the Premises; or to Thomas Skidmore, Valuer, Wolverhampton.

1870

B_{BROWN} J_{JUG} I_{INN,}
Temple Street, Bilston.

W. H. V_{EAL}

Begs to inform the Inhabitants of Bilston, that he has taken to the above Inn, and trusts by selling

SPIRITS AND ALE,

Of the finest quality, to merit a share of their support,

Best ALE in own jugs at 5d, per quart.

1886

BROWN LION

19, (18), Cross Street, Hallfields, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

James Thompson, 18, Cross Street, Bilston
Noah Halford
William Halford, shoe salesman, Hall Street, Bilston
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1918]

LICENSEES

Joseph Townsend [1871] – 1874);
William Price (1874 – 1877);
George Titley (1877 – 1884);
Mary Titley (1884 – 1894);
William George (1894 – 1912);
Henry George (1912 – 1915);
William George (1915 – 1916);
Samuel Harrison (1916 – 1917);
William Alfred Burns (1917 – 1918);
Enoch Burns (1918);

In Liquidation,
TO be Disposed of, by Private Contract, the LICENSES, GOODWILL, FIXTURES, STOCK IN TRADE, and immediate POSSESSION of THE BROWN LION INN, Cross
Street, Bradley, near Bilston.
For particulars, apply to Mr. Charles Barrow, Solicitor, 48, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

1874

NOTES

18, Cross Street [1871], [1881]
19, Cross Street [1904], [1911], [1912]

It had a beerhouse license.

Joseph Townsend = Joseph Townend = Joseph Townshend

Birmingham Daily Post 28/2/1871 - Married

“On the 26th inst, at St. Mary’s Church, Bilston, Staffordshire (by the Rev. Henry Snepp), Mr. Joseph Townsend of the BROWN LION, Bradley, only son of Mr. Joseph Townsend, late of the WHITE LION, Bradley, to Miss Elizabeth Gregory, youngest daughter of Mr. James Gregory, of the Elephant Vaults, Llanidloes.”

1871 Census

18, Cross Street – BROWN LION

- [1] Joseph Townsend (33), beer retailer, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Townsend (19), wife, born Canterbury, Kent;
- [3] Emily Bailey (18), general servant, born Bilston;
- [4] Jane A. Gregory (23), visitor, waitress at hotel, born Ramsgate, Kent;

Shrewsbury Chronicle 29/3/1872 - Deaths

“19th instant, aged 20, at the BROWN LION, Bradley, Mrs. Townend, daughter of Mr. J. Gregory, Elephant Vaults, Llanidloes.”

London Gazette 20/3/1874

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Joseph Townshend, of the BROWN LION INN, Cross-street, Bradley, in the county of Stafford, Publican.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Charles Barrow, Solicitor, 48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, on the 4th day of April, 1874, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 16th day of March, 1874.

Charles Barrow, 48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, Attorney for the said Debtor."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1874 - Advert

"In Liquidation.

To be Disposed of, by Private Contract, the Licenses, Goodwill, Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, and immediate Possession of the BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley, near Bilston.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Charles Barrow, Solicitor, 48, Queen Street, Wolverhampton."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/10/1875

"A final meeting of the creditors of Joseph Townshend, late of the BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley, licensed victualler, was held at the offices of Mr. Charles Barrow, solicitor; Mr. Samuel Salt, of Dudley, maltster, in the chair. The accounts, as presented to the meeting on behalf of the trustee, were passed, and a dividend of 3s 8d in the pound declared, and the trustee was released from his duties. Mr. Barrow was entrusted with the registration of the resolutions."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/2/1876

"A few months ago a number of working men met together at the BROWN LION INN (Mr. Price's), Cross Street, Bradley, for the purpose of considering the desirability of starting a new benefit society. They formed themselves into a lodge and joined the United Order of Free Gardeners in the Bilston District. The lodge has prospered, and at a meeting held on Monday night it was found that the number of members had very much increased, and the accounts were all found to be correct. The majority of the members are young men."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/2/1876 - Advert

"Wanted, a Piano Player, for a Beerhouse, to play Monday and Saturday evenings.

Apply to Wm. Price, BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley

WANTED, a Piano Player, for a Beerhouse, to play Monday and Saturday evenings—Apply to Wm. Price, Brown Lion Inn, Cross Street, Bradley.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/8/1876

"On Monday the annual dinner of the members of the United Order of Free Gardeners' Lodges of the Bilston, Walsall, and Cannock district, was held at the BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley, Bilston, when a goodly number sat down to the good things provided. After the cloth was drawn, Bro. C. Titley was voted to the chair....."

1881 Census

18, Cross Street – BROWN LION

[1] George Titley (47), publican, born Bilston;

[2] Mary Titley (43), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Sarah A. Titley (18), daughter, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/9/1882

"The anniversary feast in connection with Lodge No.1241, of the National United Order of Free Gardeners, was held at Mr. G. Titley's, BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley, on Saturday last, when an ample repast was served up in excellent style by the host and hostess, and to which about 45 members did good justice....."

George Titley died on 14th May 1884.

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/5/1884

“On Wednesday morning, Mr. George Titley, landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Bradley, died very suddenly. Mr. Titley had been suffering from rheumatic gout for some time, but no apprehensions were entertained that his end was so near. Whilst in bed on Wednesday morning he had a severe attack of illness, and though assistance was at once procured, it was of no avail. The deceased, who was forty years of age, was well known and highly respected in Bradley, where he has resided from boyhood.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 31/5/1884

“An enquiry was held as to the death of George Titley, roll turner and innkeeper of the BROWN LION INN, Bradley, which took place on Wednesday morning, the 21st inst.

Mary Titley, widow of the deceased, said that her husband had had very poor health, and had suffered from rheumatism and gout in his hands and feet. He had not been laid up, but had been very ill for the last year. His club doctor was Dr. Larkin, but previous to his death he had been attended by Mr. Wells. She was present when her husband died at half-past four on Wednesday morning. She awoke and asked him if he was any better, and he replied that he was not, and if the pain in his stomach did not cease he should go mad.

Charles Titley, brother of the deceased, deposed to seeing Mr. Titley alive on Tuesday night, when he said he was better of his rheumatism, but his stomach and sides were very bad. From his knowledge of the state of his brother's health, he was satisfied he had died from natural causes.

Joseph Clarke, half-brother to the deceased, gave evidence to a similar effect, and the Jury returned a verdict that death resulted from Natural Causes.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 28/9/1885

“The anniversary in connection with the National United Order of Free Gardeners, Who Would Have Thought It Lodge, 1241, was held at Mrs. Titley's, BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, Bradley, on Saturday, when 38 members sat down to an excellent dinner. The chair was occupied by Brother Baldwin, DM. The statement read by Bro. Joseph Clark, the secretary, showed the lodge to be in a satisfactory condition. An excellent programme of songs, &c, was gone through.”

1891 Census

18, Cross Street – BROWN LION INN

[1] Mary Titley (55), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;

[2] Sarah Martin (86), relative, widow, birth place not known:

1901 Census

Cross Street

[1] William George (59), publican, born Montgomeryshire;

[2] Caroline George (60), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] Henry George (26), son, ironworker, puddler, born Bradley:

William George, beer retailer, 19, Cross Street. [1904], [1912]

Tipton Herald 6/3/1909

“At Bilston Petty Sessions before Mr. R. W. Lewis and Dr. S. Ashley Smith, Mary Ann Hadley (50), a small shopkeeper, of Leigh Street, Bradley, near Coseley, was charged with using threats towards Jane Webb, and with assaulting William Webb, the latter's husband.

It was alleged that on the 20th inst, Mrs. Hadley went to the BROWN LION INN, Cross Street, where Webb was visiting, and after a few words she struck him in the mouth. She was turned out of the house, and she then went to Webb's house and threatened Mrs. Webb with a brick, and also to throw at her a lamp which was on the table. She afterwards stayed on the doorstep for Mr. Webb, and when he was passing she struck him on the head with a poker. PC Lewis (Bradley), in reply to the magistrates, said the defendant was a dangerous woman, and a terror to that end of Bradley. She was continually getting drunk, and was then very vicious.

The magistrates bound the woman over for six months for the threats, and ordered her to pay costs; and for the assault, they committed her for a month without the option.”

1911 Census

19, Cross Street

[1] William George (69), public house keeper, born Montgomeryshire;

[2] Caroline George (73), wife, married 16 years, born Bilston;

[3] Richardo Henry George (34), son, under hand shearer, born Bilston:

License refused by Compensation Authority on 3rd July 1918.

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/8/1918

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910.

Notice as to Sending in Claims to be Treated as Persons Interested in Licensed Premises.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the County of Stafford, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 3rd day of July, 1918, to refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of the payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee, and the registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority notice of their Claims before the 8th day of September, 1918.....

BROWN LION, Cross Street, Bradley, Bilston. Beerhouse (ante 1869) License. Licensee, Enoch Burns. Registered Owner, Wolverhampton & Dudley Breweries Ltd.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1918

“Adjourned Principal meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority.....

The committee sat to consider the amounts to be offered as compensation in cases where the renewal of the license had been refused, and the following sums were fixed.....

BROWN LION, Bradley, Bilston, £750.”

Compensation of £750 was paid on 21st December 1918.

South Staffordshire Times 25/9/1920 - Advert

“Sale By Auction, at 6.30pm for 7pm promptly.

J. Southwick and Son have received instructions from the executors, and others, to submit for sale by auction at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, the following Valuable Freehold Properties, including Three commodious De-licensed Dwelling Houses and Premises.....

Lot 3. The Valuable Dwelling House and Premises formerly the BROWN LION INN (now de-licensed), and being No.19, Cross Street, Bradley.

These premises could also easily be converted into two capital Dwelling Houses at very small cost.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 11/10/1924 - Advert

“Tuesday Next, October 14th, 1924, at 7 o'clock in the Evening.

Important Sale of Freehold Properties and Land, and de-licensed houses, at Bradley and Priestfields, which Cyril H. Green, FNAA, has been instructed to submit for Sale By Auction, at the PIPEHALL HOTEL, Bilston, on the above Date, subject to conditions of sale to be then read, the under-mentioned Properties.....

Lot 7. Freehold Dwelling House, situate and known as the BROWN LION INN (now de-licensed), 19, Cross Street, Bradley. Nett rental, £16 18s per annum.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 18/10/1924

“Mr. Cyril H. Green, FNAA, auctioneer, Bilston, conducted a successful sale of freehold properties, de-licensed houses, and land, situate in Bilston, Priestfields, and Bradley, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, on Tuesday evening..... One house in Cross Street, Bradley, formerly the BROWN LION, £152.”

BROWN LION

165, (78), Oxford Street (Oxford Road) / Chapel Street, New Town, BILSTON

OWNERS

Henry Walker, auctioneer, Wolverhampton
Dr. Hancox, Bilston
Miss M A and E Hancox, Bilston
William Butler & Co. Ltd. [1904], [1953]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Esther Brown [1818]
George Perry [1822] – [1830]
John Perry [1833]
George Perry [1834] – 1840)
William Turley [1840]
George Brown [1841] – [1842]
Simeon Corbett [] – 1845);
Richard Cope (1845 – [1846]
Enoch Fellows [1847] – [1848]
Mrs. Jane Lander [1849] – 1850);
Benjamin Lowe (1850 – []
Joseph Plant [1851] – [1861]
William Brown and Co. [1862] – [1862]
William Brown [1862] – 1863);
J Brown (1863 – []
George Brown and Co. [1864] – [1865]
George Brown [] – 1864);
Thomas Lloyd Roberts (1864 – []
Thomas L Pemberton [] – 1866); Stephen Golby (1866 – []
W Jeffery [] – 1871);
William Williams (1871 – 1881);
John Lacey (1881 – 1888);
Thomas Smith (1888);
Harriet Smith (1888 – 1889);
John McNulty (1889 – 1890);
John Hand (1890 – 1892);
Benjamin Slim (1892 – 1893);
Charles Askew (1893 – 1894);
Lucretia Fanny Ward (1894);
William Bennett (1894);
Arthur Augustus Geaves (1894 – 1895);
William John Lawrence (1895);
Thomas Marshall (1895 – 1898);
Edward Monk (1898 – 1899);
Evan Jones (1899 – 1900);
Frederick William Plant (1900);
Benjamin Mobberley (1900 – 1901);
Thomas Hollins (1901 – 1906);

TO BE LET,

With possession at Christmas next,

ALL that old-established and well accustomed
PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of the BROWN LION INN, situate in the New Town, Bilston.

The fixtures, &c. required to be taken by the incoming tenant, will not exceed 200*l*.

Application to be made to Mr. WILLIAM BROWN, maltster, Bilston.

1837

PUBLIC HOUSE TO LET.

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, that old-established and well-accustomed PUBLIC HOUSE, "THE BROWN LION," situate in Oxford Street, Bilston. The Fixtures and Stock to be taken at a fair valuation. The present Proprietor leaving solely on account of other engagements.—For particulars, apply to Mr. S. Corbett, on the premises.

1845

UNRESERVED SALE AT THE BROWN LION PUBLIC HOUSE, NEW TOWN, BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. CORBETT, on the above Premises, on TUESDAY NEXT, the 22nd day of December—the whole of the excellent Iron-bound ALE BARRELS, Twenty Strike MASH TUB, pair of stout 2-inch Working VATS, with Lead Pipe and Taps complete; Cooling, Working, and other TUBS; Two 150-Gallon COPPER FURNACES, with large Brass Taps and fixings; complete Five-pull BEER MACHINE, with extra Piping. The Stock of Prime ALE and LIQUORS, Screens, Cupboards, Grates, Water and Gas Fittings, large Sign and Post, and other PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES; together with Three STORE PIGS, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and EFFECTS, belonging to Mr. Richard Cope, of the Brown Lion aforesaid.

The Sale to commence at Ten o'clock in the morning, with the Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, and the Pigs: and at Two o'clock in the afternoon, with the Household Furniture.

Catalogues are in circulation, and may be had at the Place of Sale; and at the Auctioneer's, New Inn, Bilston.

1846

SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AND OTHER EFFECTS, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, BILSTON.

MR. R. HESELTINE is instructed to SELL by AUCTION, on TUESDAY NEXT—all the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING UTENSILS, five-pull Beer Machine, Ale and Porter Casks, Strong CART, two pockets of HOPS, and other Effects, the property of Mr. Joseph Plant, who is retiring from business.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock.

Catalogues may be had of the Auctioneer, at his Offices, Midland Counties Auction Rooms, Bilston.

1860

Mrs. Ellen Hollins (1906 – 1924);
Charles Henry Walker (1924 – 1934);
Ernest Carden (1934 – [1940]
Mrs. Harriet Walker []
Jack Hughes []

NOTES

Oxford Road [1828]

78, Oxford Street [1858], [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1871], [1874], [1881], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904]

165, Oxford Street [1908], [1911], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/10/1824 - Advert

"Desirable Freehold, at New Town, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett (by order of the Executors of the late Mr. J. Woodhouse), Tomorrow (Tuesday), October, 5, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mr. G. Perry, the BROWN LION INN, New Town, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, subject to conditions then to be read....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/2/1834 - Advert

"Leasehold Premises, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett (by order of the Representatives of the late Mr. Peter Banks, deceased), at the house of Mr. George Perry, the BROWN LION INN, New Town, Bilston, on Friday, the 14th of February, 1834, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to condition then to be read....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/7/1836 - Advert

"Valuable Land, containing excellent Mines of Coal, Ironstone, &c and Messuages at Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, by direction of the Devises in Trust for sale, under the will of the late Isaac Beckett, Esq, deceased, on Thursday the 14th day of July inst, at the house of Mr. George Perry, the BROWN LION INN, New Town, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, at six o'clock in the afternoon....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/6/1837 - Advert

"To be Let, with possession at Christmas next, all that old-established and well accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the BROWN LION INN, situate in the New Town, Bilston.

The fixtures, &c required to be taken by the in-coming tenant, will not exceed £200.

Application to be made to Mr. William Brown, maltster, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/12/1837

"Wolverhampton Public Office.....

George Hill was charged with stealing from the person of Charles Cummins four sovereigns and some silver. The prosecutor is the captain of a canal boat, and lives at Dymock, Gloucestershire. On Thursday he was at the BROWN LION public house, at Bilston, and fell asleep, and the prisoner, who sat by him, was seen to take the prosecutor's purse out of his pocket. The prisoner, on being apprehended, offered to make good two of the sovereigns. Committed."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/1/1838

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

George Hill, a boatman, with a countenance of peculiar ferocity, which would not have given the lie to a more serious charge, was indicted for stealing a purse, containing four sovereigns and nine shillings, from the person of Charles Cummins, his master, at Bilston. Mr. Kempson appeared for the prosecution.

The prisoner, who received a very bad character, had helped himself to the purse of his master whilst asleep in a public house.

Guilty. Six calendar months hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/8/1839

“An influential and highly respectable meeting of gentlemen and operatives took place at the BROWN LION INN, New Town, Bilston, on Friday evening, for the purpose of establishing an Operative Conservative Association for that town and neighbourhood. William Baldwin, Esq, of Bonverreaux Ironworks, being called to the chair, a series of resolutions, embracing the whole of the necessary preliminaries for the establishment of an Association, were proposed, and unanimously adopted by the meeting. A committee was afterwards formed to fix upon the laws by which the Association should be governed, and also to carry the various resolutions that had been passed into effect. Deputations from the Wolverhampton, Sedgley, and West Bromwich Associations attended, to render their assistance in furthering the praiseworthy object their Bilston friends have in view. In the course of the evening, a vote of thanks was given to the deputations for their attendance, and Mr. Page, of Wolverhampton, being called upon, delivered an energetic address on the importance and necessity of union in the ranks of Conservatives, and spoke at some length on the beneficial results likely to accrue to the cause of Conservatism by the establishment of associations, where the operatives of England would have an opportunity of forming a just estimate of the merits of the political principals of all parties. Afterwards nearly the whole of the company gave in their names as members of the Association, then fairly established in Bilston. Thanks having been voted to the chairman, part of the company retired, expressing themselves greatly gratified at the favourable auspices under which the Association had been formed, and at the prospect of its future success.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/4/1840

“Staffordshire Easter Sessions.....

James Perry, aged 56, was indicted for stealing ten dozen tea caddies, and other articles, the property of Job Hickman Lester and Sarah Smith, at Bilston. Mr. Godson and Mr. Yardley appeared for the prosecution. The prisoner was undefended.

Elizabeth Atkins, a young woman in the employ of the prosecutors, saw the prisoner on the 25th March, take several dozens of tea caddies out of a little room adjoining the warehouse, and take them into the packing room across the street. She thought it strange, and told Fanny Riley.

Fanny Riley saw the prisoner about six o'clock in the evening of the 25th of last month; she saw him in the packing room, packing a large basket of tea caddies. She asked him why he packed them that night, and he replied that it was a basket that had been forgotten. She went away.

Richard Pendrill, a japanner, in the employ of Messrs. Lester and Smith, remembered assisting the prisoner to carry a large basket from the packing room to the BROWN LION, kept by the prisoner's brother. He did not know what it contained.

John Tobias Lester, son of the prosecutor, went to the BROWN LION in consequence of information he had received, and found the basket in question. Whilst in the house the prisoner came in, and he (witness) asked him what brought the basket there, and he said it was packed for Gill, of Manchester. He (witness) said there was no order for such an article. He had them taken back, and counted twelve dozens of tea caddies. There was no direction on the basket.

Job Hickman Lester carried on business with Sarah Smith, his aunt. On seeing the prisoner after the robbery, he (witness) said he was very sorry to see him in that situation. Prisoner replied, 'I have robbed the best of masters; I'll be ruled by you in any thing.' He (witness) replied, 'I cannot rule you in any thing,' and added, 'It's a bad business; to what amount do you think you have robbed me?' He said, 'About £200.' Witness asked him how long it was since he commenced robbing him, and he replied about two years ago.

He was found guilty; sentence deferred.

The same prisoner was tried, the next morning, on a second indictment, charging him with stealing a number of japanned waiters, from the same parties. The evidence was nearly the same as in the former case.

He was found guilty; and sentenced to be imprisoned, for the first offence, seven days, and for the second, to be transported for seven years.”

Staffordshire Gazette 29/8/1840 - Marriages

“On the 20th inst, at St. George's, Birmingham, Mr. William Turley, of the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, to Mary Ann Brown, second daughter of Mr. Edward Brown, wine and spirit merchant, of the same place.”

Staffordshire Gazette 26/8/1841 - Deaths

“Aug 21, of consumption, at the house of his father, at Cosley, near Bilston, aged 35, Mr. William Turley, late landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Bilston.”

1841 Census

Oxford Street

[1] George Brown (30), victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Harriet Brown (30);

[3] Ann Evans (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[4] John Hughes (60), m.s.:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/2/1842

“Simcox, of West Bromwich, will match his dog Burke against Stanford’s, of Fullards End, dog Toss, from £10 to £25 a side. The money is ready at Mr. G. Brown’s BROWN LION INN, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/3/1843

“The following inquisitions have been held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.

On the 25th, at the BROWN LION, Bilston, on Catherine Bott, who had died through her clothes taking fire. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 19/7/1845 - Advert

“Public House to Let.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that old-established and well-accustomed Public House, the BROWN LION, situate in Oxford Street, Bilston. The Fixtures and Stock to be taken at a fair valuation. The present Proprietor leaving solely on account of other engagements.

For particulars, apply to Mr. S. Corbett, on the premises.”

Birmingham Journal 19/12/1846

“John Durken was charged with being drunk, and fighting at the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, on Sunday morning last, and was fined 5s. William Guest, charged with rescuing a man named Durken from the custody of the police, on Sunday, and was ordered to find sureties.”

Birmingham Journal 19/12/1846 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale at the BROWN LION Public House, New Town, Bilston, Staffordshire

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, on the above Premises, on Tuesday Next, the 22nd day of December.

The whole of the excellent Iron-bound Ale Barrels, Twenty Strike Mash Tub, pair of stout 2-inch Working Vats, with Lead Pipe and Taps complete; Cooling, Working, and other Tubs; Two 150-Gallon Copper Furnaces, with large Brass Taps and fixings; complete Five-pull Beer Machine, with extra Piping. The Stock of Prime Ale and Liquors, Screens, Cupboards, Grates, Water and Gas Fittings, large Sign and Post, and other Public House Fixtures; together with Three Store Pigs, Household Furniture and Effects belonging to Mr. Richard Cope, of the BROWN LION aforesaid.

The Sale to commence at Ten o’clock in the morning, with the Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, and the Pigs; and at Two o’clock in the afternoon, with the Household Furniture.

Catalogues are in circulation, and may be had at the Place of Sale; and at the Auctioneer’s, NEW INN, Bilston.”

Enoch Fellows = Enoch Fellowes

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/1/1847

“On Tuesday, at the Bilston police court, Mr. Enoch Fellows, who has just taken to the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, and Mr. James Higgins, who has just taken to the DUKE OF YORK, near Monmore Green, made application to the Bench for permission to sell ale and spirituous liquors in their respective houses until the special sessions for granting transfers of licenses, to be held on the 8th of January inst, at Wolverhampton. Their applications were granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/8/1847

“Wolverhampton Public Office.....

John Frazer, a respectable looking man, about 40 years of age, residing at Walsall, was charged with committing a rape upon the person of Maria Smallman, on Sunday, the 27th June, at the BROWN LION, Bilston. The prosecutrix, a servant girl, about 18 years of age, detailed the particulars of the offence. She was cross-examined by Mr. Fleetwood on behalf of the prisoner, but did not vary in her testimony.

Susannah Fellows, wife of Mr. Enoch Fellows, corroborated portions of the prosecutrix's evidence, and deposed, that upon her speaking to the prisoner upon the subject, he denied having hurt the girl, and rushed out of the house.

Some inquiries were made by the Bench as to the time which had elapsed since the commission of the offence and the apprehension of the prisoner; and police officer Thompson, who took him into custody, said this arose from the difficulty of finding out the prisoner's name and residence. As there were other witnesses to examine, the case was then adjourned to Friday.

The warrant for apprehending the prisoner, who is understood to be a person travelling with goods, was obtained the 2nd of August.”

AND

“On Friday (yesterday) before John Leigh, Esq, John Frazer, charged with committing a rape upon Maria Smallman, was committed for trial at the assizes. The mother of the prosecutrix and a constable named John Nash gave evidence strengthening the case against the prisoner, for whose appearance the Bench refused to accept bail.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1847

“Committed to Stafford County Gaol. For the Assizes.....

John Fraser, charged with a rape, at Bilston.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/3/1848

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.....

Not True Bills against John Fraser, charged with a criminal assault on Maria Smallman, at Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/11/1847

“A charge against Enoch Fellows, the landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, for knowingly and wilfully allowing persons to become drunk in his house on Sunday morning, the 31st of October, was dismissed on a technical objection raised by Mr. Fleetwood.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 6/11/1847

“On Tuesday, at Bilston Public Office, before Wm. Baldwin, Esq, and John Foster, Esq, Enoch Fellows, landlord of the BROWN LION, was charged with wilfully permitting drunken and disorderly persons to be in his house, contrary to the tenor of his license. Before the charge was entered into, Mr. Fleetwood took an objection which had been considered fatal in several instances, namely, that Mr. Fellows was not in possession of a license, having delivered it up to the Excise on the 10th ult, from whom he had not received a fresh one, and the Court were therefore not in a position to prove, by its production, the purport of the defendant's license. Mr. Baldwin said he hoped the public press would take notice of this, as it was a state of things which ought not to exist, and, as in the present instance, gave an opportunity for evading the law, which might be taken advantage of continually. The charge should be considered by the Bench as dismissed, but they would hear the circumstances under which it had been brought forward.

Inspector Thompson was then sworn, and it appeared that he had gone to the BROWN LION about two o'clock on Sunday morning last, in consequence of a great disturbance which was going on, when he found numbers of persons sprawling about on the floor, and lying on the seats, in a beastly state of intoxication. He endeavoured to get them out, and had so far succeeded, but they were allowed to enter the bar, and the landlady having given them whatever liquor they required, they again laid themselves down on the floor. Mr. Thompson tried to clear another room of the incapables which it contained, but finding the landlord did not give any assistance, he left the house and came out to the street, which he cleared of the drunken persons staggering about. Every Sunday morning he found it almost impossible for the police to clear the house, and it generally took an officer two hours to do so.

Mr. Baldwin said that although Mr. Fellows had escaped a penalty for such a disgraceful state of things, yet the Bench would take care that all such matters should be brought before the Magistrates on licensing day, when they would no doubt be considered and dealt with in a proper way.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/6/1848

“Bankrupts Enoch Fellows, Bilston, licensed victualler, July 11, August 1, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy; official assignee, Mr. Whitmore, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Journal 15/7/1848

“Bankruptcy Court.....

In re Enoch Fellowes, of Bilston, victualler and japanner.

This was a meeting for the choice of trade assignees, who were appointed on the nomination of Mr. Bowen.”

Birmingham Journal 26/8/1848

“Bankruptcy Court.....

In re Enoch Fellowes, of Bilston, victualler.

Last examination unopposed. Solicitor, Mr. Bowen, of Stafford.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/9/1848

“Bankrupts Certificates to be Granted (unless cause be shown to the contrary on the day mentioned).....

Sept 21. Enoch Fellowes, Bilston, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire, licensed victualler, and blank tray-maker and japanner.”

Birmingham Journal 23/9/1848

“Bankruptcy Court.....

In re Enoch Fellowes, of Bilston, victualler.

The bankrupt obtained his certificate without opposition. Solicitor, Mr. Bowen.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/9/1850

“On Saturday last an inquest was held at the BROWN LION, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Michael Mahon, twenty years of age, a collier, who was killed on the previous Saturday by a large quantity of coal falling upon him whilst he was loading a skip in a pit at Willingworth Field. It appeared that his neck, left arm, and right thigh were broken by the fall of the coal. The place where Mahon had been working was about four yards wide, and the roof was about six feet high. The coal was considered safe, but he had neglected to prop the roof. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/1/1851

“A fatal accident occurred, on Tuesday afternoon, to a poor fellow named Joseph Wright, a miner, aged 22 years. The deceased was at work in a pit in Messrs. Sparrow's field, when a quantity of stone fell upon him, which dislocated his neck. The deceased has left a widow and two children. The inquest was held on Thursday at the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston, and adjourned till Wednesday next, in order to communicate with the Secretary of State.”

1851 Census

Oxford Street

[1] Joseph Plant (52), victualler, born Norbury, Staffordshire;

[2] Margaret Plant (48), wife, born Donnington, Shropshire;

[3] Ann Hawkins (22), daughter, married, born Newport, Shropshire;

[4] Mary Lovatt (15), servant, born Newport, Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/5/1851

“Mr. Joseph Plant, landlord of the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged before the magistrates on Friday with assaulting Letitia Sutton. The complainant stated that on Monday night she went to the defendant's house to look for her husband, when he denied his being there. After waiting for his return until two o'clock in the morning, she again went to the defendant's house, and there saw her husband in the tap room with several prostitutes. She asked him if he was coming home, when Mr. Plant took her by her shoulders, pushed her through the passage, and struck her a violent blow, which threw her on her face on the foot-path. Her forehead was badly cut, and she bled profusely. A witness named Danks confirmed her statement. The defendant stated that two men were about to fight in his tap room, and he interfered to prevent them doing so, and in the struggle pushed her, when she fell over some men's feet who were standing in the passage. The bench were of opinion that Mr. Plant had used unnecessary violence towards the complainant, and ordered him to give her ten shillings and pay the costs."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/7/1851

"An inquest was held at the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Monday evening last, by W. W. Ward, Esq. (for T. M. Phillips, Esq.), coroner, on the body of Jane Sheldon, 50 years of age, widow; and again by adjournment on the 2nd instant. It appeared from the evidence that the deceased was taken ill on Sunday, the 22nd of June, and Mr. Hancox, surgeon for the Bradley district of the Wolverhampton Union, attended her up to the evening of the 27th, and she died about twelve o'clock that night. The deceased being very poor, and receiving relief from the cholera fund, it was reported by the persons who attended her during her illness that she died from want of food and proper nourishment. This rumour spreading rapidly through the town, caused the inquiry. The assertion, however, was contradicted by Mr. Harper, surgeon, of Bilston, who made a post mortem examination of the body. He stated that she died of pleurisy, and not from want of food. A verdict to that effect was returned."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/7/1851

"Isaac Fellows and Joseph Broggen, were charged, at Bilston Public Office, on Tuesday, with stealing a violin, the property of James Mar. It appeared that the prosecutor was engaged to play the violin at the house of Mr. Plant, BROWN LION, Oxford Street. While so occupied on the night of the 27th of May last, he was called to wait on some customers in the parlour, and he went, leaving his violin in the kitchen where the prisoners were sitting. On his return he found they were gone; the violin also had disappeared. A few days ago he ascertained that the instrument was pledged at the shop of Mr. Hyam, pawnbroker, of Wolverhampton. Mr. Hyam produced the violin, and identified the prisoner Broggen as being the person who pledged it at his shop on the 28th of May. The evidence not being conclusive against Fellows, he was discharged. Broggen was committed to the sessions."

[At the Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions, in July 1851, Joseph Bragger was charged with stealing a violin and bow at Bilston, the property of Thomas Marghar. He was found guilty and sentenced to one month's imprisonment.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/9/1851

"The adjourned annual meeting of the magistrates, acting in the division of Seisdon North, to reconsider applications for victuallers' licenses, was held on Monday last.....

The license of Joseph Plant, of the BROWN LION, Bilston, which had been suspended, was after a suitable admonition from the bench, renewed."

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/1/1853

"On Tuesday last, Mr. Phillips held two inquests at the BROWN LION, New Town, Bilson – the first on the body Amos Robinson, a butty on the colliery of Wm. Baldwin and Co., Bilston, who was killed on Saturday last in a pit at Baldwin's Fields, by the falling upon him of a large quantity of coal, whilst he was engaged 'picking.' The coal was insufficiently propped by deceased himself, who it was thought was the only person to blame.

T. Wynn, the government inspector of mines, was present, watching the proceedings. Having learnt that the ground bailiff of the colliery had not been in the pit in question for a week previously to the accident, Mr. Wynn questioned him upon the subject, when the bailiff pleaded the experience of the deceased as a reason why he had not been in the pit more recently. Mr. Wynn then gave a general caution as to a mistaken notion which seemed to pervade the minds of the South Staffordshire colliers that ground bailiffs had no right to interfere between the workmen and the butties, but only to watch the conduct of the butties with reference to the interests of the proprietors. The inspector said that he held this opinion to be a most erroneous one, and it must be dispelled. It was as much the duty of the bailiff to watch the interests of the men as to watch those of the proprietors. Did he (the bailiff) consider that this was his duty! The bailiff acknowledge that it was. Mr. Wynn then added that everybody who read reports upon mining in South Staffordshire must know that the neglect of duty on the part of the bailiff, to which he had referred, was the common complaint of every scientific man who had written upon the operations of this district. The fall of coal took place on Saturday afternoon, yet the body of the deceased could not be dug out before Sunday night, when it presented every evidence that death had been occasioned by suffocation. Verdict, Accidental Death.

The subject of the next inquest was Jonathon Tonks, aged sixty, a miner upon the same estate, who, at two o'clock on Sunday morning, was proceeding to the pit in which Robinson lay buried, to assist in his extrication, and fell into an open disused pit which lay in that portion of the field over which he would pass, in a direct line from his own house. He had lost the sight of one eye, and his daughter said that he left his home to go to the pit at one o'clock on Sunday morning, quite sober; but Joseph Kitson, an engineer upon the same colliery, deposed that deceased was intoxicated when he passed the engine an hour afterwards. The disused pit lay between the engine and the pit of the accident, upon the bank of which latter there was a beacon fire that, in the darkness of the night, might have obscured the already imperfect vision of the deceased. He was missed on Sunday afternoon, when that course was taken which seems first resorted to on such occasions. A lighted lanthorn was procured and let down into the old pits. The one in which the deceased was found was within 1½ yard of a cart track, and was protected only by a circling embankment, under three feet high, of stones and loose rubbish. It was given in evidence that upon this colliery there were at least twenty old pits uncovered and unfenced. The deceased was found with his skull forced in and his left arm, broken.

The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead, accompanied with a remonstrance on the unprotected state of the pits on this colliery of Baldwin and Co.

Mr. Wynn was present, and put questions to the witnesses during the inquiry.

It is earnestly to be hoped that proprietors of collieries will at length bestir themselves, and not permit their property to remain in such a state as constantly to endanger human life. Frequently it is said, as indeed was the case in this instance, that the pits are not in the high road of the colliery; but men, it is well-known, will go the nearest road to the their places of work."

Birmingham Journal 13/12/1856

"On Tuesday last, an inquest was held at the BROWN LION, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of John Murphy, twenty years of age, whose death was occasioned from his having, on the 5th instant, been severely injured by a fall of coal in Mr. Baldwin's pit. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/7/1860

"On Sunday night, a box kept in the bed room of Mr. Joseph Plant, the landlord of the BROWN LION, Bilston, was broken open, and about £6 stolen. Suspicions have fallen upon an army recruit who was quartered at the BROWN LION, but who absconded immediately after the offence was discovered to have been committed."

Birmingham Journal 10/11/1860 - Advert

"Sale of Household Furniture and other Effects, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Mr. R. Heseltine is instructed to Sell by Auction, on Tuesday Next.

All the Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, five-pull Beer Machine, Ale and Porter Casks, Strong Cart, two pockets of Hops, and other Effects, the property of Mr. Joseph Plant, who is retiring from business.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock.

Catalogues may be had of the Auctioneer, at his Offices, Midland Counties Auction Rooms, Bilston."

1861 Census

78, Oxford Street - BROWN LION INN - uninhabited

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/11/1861

"T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Monday last, touching the death of Elizabeth Middleton, a child five years old. The circumstances of this case were exactly the same as those of most of the accidents of this kind. The child was left alone in her father's house whilst her mother went to a shop on an errand, and in her absence the deceased's pinafore by some means took fire, and she was badly burnt. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, attended her, but she died on Friday night. The Jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1862

"Martin Toole, assistant to the landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, was fined 20s and costs for an assault on John White. Complainant, it appeared, took an active, and, on Monday night, in the inn above named, a noisy part in local politics, 'chaffing' the company with respect to their opinions on matters that divide men in Bilston, and giving them advice with respect to the payment of rates, which led to the services of Martin Toole being called in to his expulsion. It was proved, however, to the satisfaction of the worthy stipendiary, that Toole acted with unnecessary violence, and hence the penalty. Upon the conclusion of the case, Mr. Gettings, in allusion to a recent conviction for stealing water, contended that, by the Local Improvement Act, the whole of the penalty ought to go to the Township Commissioners. Mr. Partridge differed with Mr. Gettings, but would grant him a case upon the point if he had any desire to carry the matter further. The subject then dropped."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/3/1862 - Advert

“Sale of Freehold Property, at Gozzard Street and John Street, Bilston.

Mr. George Brown will Sell by Auction, at the House of Messrs. W. Brown and Co., the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Tuesday, the 11th day of March, 1862, at six o'clock in the evening.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/4/1862

“An inquest was held on Thursday last at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, before Mr. T. M. Phillips, coroner, on the body of John, aged six years, the child of Mrs. Phoebe Legg, of Freeth Street, who died on the previous Tuesday, from the effects of burns received on the 21st inst. It appeared that at the time the child's clothes took fire its mother was drinking at a beerhouse in Oxford Street. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and the coroner severely reprimanded the mother.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/4/1862

“Mr. W. Brown, landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, was charged before J. N. Bagnall and H. Ward, Esqs, at Bilston Police Court, on Friday, with allowing disorderly conduct in his house on the 27th ult. Mr. Motteram, of Birmingham, appeared in defence.

It was proved by Sergeant Heath and Sergeant Harrison, that on the day named at the house of the defendant fourteen people were there, of whom five or six were intoxicated; two were stripped, as though for fighting. In defence it was contended that the two were not stripped for fighting, but with a view to try each other coats on. It was also shown that the landlord was not at home and that strict orders had been given to the servants to prevent disorderly conduct, a circumstance, Mr. Motteram argued, which would discharge his client from all liability. The Magistrates, however, were determined to inflict a penalty, and fined the defendant 5s and costs. On the application of Mr. Motteram a case was granted on the point raised in defence.”

AND

“In another part of our impression will be found a report of proceedings taken before the magistrates, on Tuesday last, against Mr. Wm. Brown, of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, for permitting drunkenness and disorderly conduct in his house on the 27th ult. The paragraph is substantially the same as what appeared in our Midland Counties Express of Saturday last, and Mr. Brown has desired us to state that the conviction was not for permitting disorderly conduct, but for having a number of drunken people on his premises, and that on this point he intends going on with the case granted by the magistrates.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/5/1862

“On the complaint of Mr. Brown, the landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, two Irishmen, named John Henry and John O'Hara, were fined at the Police court yesterday in the penalty of 10s and costs, for drunkenness and fighting at Mr. Brown's house.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/5/1863

“Yesterday the Magistrates sitting in Bilston Petty Sessions were occupied a long while in hearing cross-summonses, which appeared to excite much local interest. The proceedings arose out of some squabbling that had taken place in a public house in Oxford Street, kept by George and William Brown, butchers. The principal defendant was a neighbour of the Browns, named John Yardley, who was defended by Mr. Jackson, whilst Mr. Fellows appeared for the other side. Summonses were first obtained by the Browns against Yardley, for being disorderly in their public house, and for assaulting them. Yardley then summoned George Brown and one Patrick Clines, for assaulting him. The evidence revealed that Yardley had evinced a quarrelsome disposition, and that several fights had ensued. For assaulting William Brown, Yardley was fined on one summons 2s 6d and costs, and upon the other 20s and costs; and for assaulting George Brown, 10s and costs, or in default twenty-one days' imprisonment in each of the last two cases.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/8/1864 - Advert

“Wanted, a Man, to Brew, and make himself generally useful. Must have good testimonials.

Apply at the BROWN LION, New Town, Bilston.”

WANTED, a MAN, to Brew and make himself generally useful. Must have good testimonials.—Apply at the Brown Lion, New Town, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1864 - Advert

“Wanted a Man Servant; preference given to one who can Brew.

Apply, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

WANTED a Man Servant; preference given to one who can Brew.—Apply, Brown Lion, Oxford-street, Bilston.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/11/1864 - Advert

"Wanted, a general Girl Servant.
Apply, BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston."

WANTED, a general GIRL SERVANT.—Apply, Brown Lion Inn, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/11/1864 - Advert

"Wanted a Girl, accustomed to serve in Liquor Vaults.
Apply, BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston."

WANTED, a GIRL, accustomed to serve in Liquor Vaults.—
Apply. Brown Lion Inn, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/12/1864 - Advert

"Wanted, a Man, to make himself useful, and to assist in Brewing.
Apply, BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston."

WANTED, a MAN, to make himself useful, and to assist in Brewing. — Apply. Brown Lion Inn, Oxford Street,
Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 2/3/1865 - Advert

"To be Let, the BROWN LION HOTEL and Liquor Vaults, Oxford Street, Bilston.
Apply to the Proprietor."

TO be LET, the BROWN LION HOTEL and LIQUOR VAULTS,
Oxford Street, Bilston.—Apply to the Proprietor.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/1/1866 - Advert

"To Innkeepers, Brewers, and Others.
To be Let, with immediate possession, that well-accustomed and old-established Inn and Spirit Vaults, known as the BROWN LION INN, situate in Oxford Street, Bilston. Incoming, Stock, and Furniture about £300.
Apply to Mr. J. E. Fellows, Solicitor, Bilston"

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/2/1866

"A man named Kean was charged on remand with an assault on Police-constable Bradbury, at Bilston. Mr. Travis was for the prosecution, and Mr. Bartlett for defendant.

The evidence showed that at midnight on Saturday, the 27th ult, a number of drunken men came out of the BROWN LION INN, at Bilston, and met another party of men who had just before turned out of another public house called the WAGGON AND HORSES, and were conducting themselves so as to create a disturbance. The officer Bradbury had been trying to persuade them to go home, when he was attacked by a man named Gavon, and another man. After they had assaulted him the two men ran away. The officer followed them, when the men turned round, knocked him down and kicked him, and he was also set upon by some of the other men who had just before come out of the public house, who beat him most terribly; in the words of Mr. Spooner, who saw the officer on the Tuesday following the assault, his face was beaten to a jelly. He got away from them, and meeting with Police-constable Curtis, the two went in search of Bradbury's assailants. They met Kean, who Bradbury recognised as a prominent actor in the recent scene, but inasmuch as he was surrounded by several others the officers wisely refrained from attempting his apprehension, and simply advised him to go home, intending to summon him on the following day. He went away in the direction of his home, and the police shortly afterwards followed; upon seeing them Kean challenged the two to fight, and became very abusive. The police then attempted to take him into custody, but he resisted, and the mob again coming up there was a second attack upon the police, in which stones were freely thrown, and it was only by the determined use of their staves that the two officers succeeded in getting their prisoner to the police station. For the defendant witnesses were called to prove that he took no part whatever in the assault on the police, but their evidence failed.

Mr. Spooner characterised the affair as a disgrace to the town in which it occurred. He justified the conduct of the police as to the use of their staves to prevent the rescue of their prisoner and to defend themselves against the fury of the mob, and said that but for the fact spoken to by Superintendent M'Crea that Kean was usually of a quiet disposition and had previously borne a good character he should have passed upon him the severest sentence the law allowed; as it was he must pay a fine of £5 and costs, or go to prison for two months."

Stephen Golby = Stephen Goldsby

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

"The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

'I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year's list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.'

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Stephen Golby, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston License renewed."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/11/1869 - Advert

"Wanted, as thorough Brewer and Waiter, a sober, steady, active, married Man, of genuine character. Wages 21s.

Personal application, Wednesday next, at BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston."

WANTED, as thorough BREWER and Waiter, a sober, steady active, married Man, of genuine character. Wages 21s. — Personal application, Wednesday next, at Brown Lion, Oxford Street, Bilston.

1871 Census

78, Oxford Street

- [1] William Williams (43), victualler, born Hednesford;
- [2] Louisa Williams (35), wife, born Austrey, Warwickshire;
- [3] Arthur Williams (13), son, scholar, born Melton, Leicestershire;
- [4] William Williams (12), son, scholar, born Austrey, Warwickshire;
- [5] Frank Williams (10), son, scholar, born Brackley, Northamptonshire;
- [6] Amy Williams (7), daughter, scholar, born Brackley, Northamptonshire;
- [7] Ellen Williams (2), daughter, born Brackley, Northamptonshire;
- [8] Mary Williams (10 months), daughter, born Brackley, Northamptonshire;
- [9] Hannah Smith (14), general servant, born Hardwick, Oxfordshire;

William Williams was also a veterinary surgeon. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/12/1872

"John Malee and his wife were severally fined 10s and costs for assaulting Mr. William Williams, landlord of the BROWN LION, Oxford Street. They went into the house drunk, were ordered out, but refused to leave, and assaulted the landlord when he tried to remove them."

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/4/1873

"On Monday evening an inquest was held at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on the body of William Price, collier, of Free Street, Bilston. Deceased was working at a pit at Rocket Colliery belonging to the Earl of Dudley. Between eight and nine o'clock on Friday morning week, he was at work by the side of a man named Benjamin Garbett, and was forcing a dresser into the coal, when a quantity of coal fell on him, and at once killed him. Deceased has left a wife and three children, who are said to be wholly unprovided for. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Midland Examiner 14/11/1874

"On Wednesday afternoon an inquest was held at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, to inquire into the death of Ann Marr, 40, who died from the effects of spirits of salts taken three months ago. It appears that the woman was the wife of a boilermaker, and was of intemperate habits. Fourteen weeks ago whilst she was intoxicated she took a bottle containing spirits of salts out of the cupboard, and after drinking the contents of the bottle she called her husband and said, 'See, I have done it.' He did not think much of what took place then, not being aware that the liquid would injure her. She commenced vomiting shortly afterwards, and as she continued to get worse Dr. Hancox was called in fourteen days after the liquid had been taken. All medical efforts were unavailing, and she died on Saturday last. The inquiry was adjourned in order that a post mortem examination on the body might be made."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 18/11/1874

“An adjourned inquest was held at Bilston yesterday, on the body of Ann Marr, who died from the effects of a dose of spirits of salts, taken by her in August last. The surgeon’s post mortem examination showed that the coats of the stomach were completely destroyed, and the pylorus so contracted as scarcely to admit a particle of food, death resulting from starvation. A verdict to that effect was returned.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/12/1876

“An inquest was held at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, yesterday before W. H Phillips, Esq, deputy district coroner, touching the death of Richard Parkes, aged 17, lately residing in Free Street, Bilston. Deceased was employed as a hooker-on at the Walbutts Colliery, Bilston, belonging to Messrs. Bradley, and about 8.30am on Tuesday, whilst he was at work at the bottom of the shaft, a brick falling down the pit struck him on the head, killing him instantly. Mr Fellows appeared to watch the proceedings on behalf of Mr. Frogatt, the chartermaster at the pit. Henry Marr, a boy who was working with the deceased at the time of the accident, said it occurred whilst he was waiting for the descent of a skip which was about three yards from the bottom. Deceased was doing wrong by standing where he did, as there was an ‘inset’ for him to stand in. Witness did not see where the brick fell from which struck deceased.

Henry Stokes, who, on the morning of the accident, was acting for the regular banksman, said there was only an empty tub in descent when it occurred. He had since examined the top of the shaft and found that one or two bricks had gone. The shaft was straight, and looked safe except where the bricks were missing. Had there been a ‘curb’ at the top of the shaft the bricks would not have fallen.

Questioned by Mr. Fellows, witness said there was one brick now loose and two had gone. The remainder were well mortared.

The Chartermaster was also examined, and he agreed with the Coroner that it would be better to have a curb round the top of the shaft.

A verdict of Accidental Death was recorded.”

London Gazette 14/5/1878

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by William Williams, of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on the 27th day of May, 1878, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 9th day of May, 1878.

Wm. Bowen, Bilston, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

1881 Census

78, Oxford Street – BROWN LION

- [1] William Williams (50), licensed victualler, born Hednesford;
- [2] Louisa Williams (45), wife, born Austrey, Warwickshire;
- [3] Arthur Faulkner Williams (23), son, painter, born Melton Mowbray;
- [4] Mary H. Williams (10), daughter, scholar, born Brackley, Northamptonshire;
- [5] Ada Williams (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Gertrude Williams (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Mary Jane Stubbs (22), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/8/1881 - Advert

“BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston.

To Let, spacious Liquor Vaults, commands corner position; surrounded with factories, ironworks, collieries, &c. Entirely Free. Has been in present occupier’s possession eleven years. Good reason given for leaving. Immediate possession. In-coming £150.

Apply upon the Premises.”

BROWN Lion Inn, Oxford Street, Bilston.—To Let, spacious Liquor Vaults, commands corner position; surrounded with factories, ironworks, collieries, &c. Entirely free. Has been in present occupier's possession eleven years. Good reason given for leaving. Immediate possession. In-coming £150.—Apply upon the Premises.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/9/1881 - Advert

“Tuesday, September 20th, 1881. Important Unreserved Sale at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston. Messrs. J. Morrell and Son are favoured with instructions to Sell by Auction, upon the Premises as above, on Tuesday Next, September 20th, 1881, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the old-established Business, the spirit vault and public house fittings, household furniture, two excellent pianofortes, capital brewing plant, and other effects, as detailed in catalogues to be had free on application to the Auctioneers. Sale at 11am. Auction and Valuation Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

John Lacey = John Lacy

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1881

“At the Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were fully transferred.....
William Williams, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, to John Lacy, agent, Wednesfield.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/1/1882

“On Friday, at Bilston Police Court, John Lacy, landlord of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness on the 16th inst.

Inspector Gasson deposed that he saw a man, named Nockton, coming out of the house on the day in question, and warned the defendant not to give him any more beer, but the defendant took no notice of his warning, and the inspector on again visiting the house saw Nockton with some beer before him. He was then drunk.

The defence was that Nockton did not receive enough ale to render him incapable.

Defendant was fined 20s and costs, and his license endorsed.”

[John Lacey's fine was increased, by the Convicting Justices, from 20s to £3 and ordered that the record of conviction should be removed from the register.]

Wednesbury Herald 12/8/1882

“The adjourned inquest on the body of an old woman named Harriet Fletcher, of Lower Bradley, who died from the effects of injuries received from falling down a pit in Bradley Lodge Colliery, on Tuesday last, was held at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Tuesday morning.

W. Grew (re-called), in reply to Mr. J. P. Baker, Her Majesty's Inspector of Mines for the district, said he was the first person who got to the pit after the deceased fell down. The chains round the shaft were in the same state on the day in question as they were on Saturday last, when the inspector examined the spot. Witness put in the new staples, but they were only put in the place of the old ones. The bottom chain was not so slack as nearly to touch the ground, and the chains were as tight as now.

Mr. Sheldon, of Wednesbury, who watched the case on behalf of Mr. H. Piggott, asked witness if there were not other fencing besides the chains. The witness replied that there were several iron plates against the chain. Deceased could not fall into the pit without turning back again. He considered the pit to be securely fenced. He believed she fell down backwards, but was not sure. In reply to Mr. W. Bowen, solicitor, who represented deceased's husband, witness said he was employed by Mr. Piggott, the proprietor of the pit, and had married his niece.

Mr. J. P. Baker, mines inspector, said he found the fences composed of various materials, chains, bottoms of skips reared up against the posts and chains, part of a pair of shafts, and one or two iron plates. Supposing the fences to be exactly as he found them, he did not consider the pit to be securely fenced. Children might go between the chains on that side and easily fall in. Even if an adult leaned or sat on the chains he might fall down. He did not consider the pit securely fenced according to Act of Parliament, because the materials were of a removable character.

Samuel Kempson, a youth, of Ocker Hill, said he saw the woman fall down the pit. He was going from Bilston home, and followed the deceased who walked steadily along, and not as though she had been drinking. She left the road to cut off a corner. As she was going by the pit she made a dead stop. After passing the pit about a couple of yards she turned back, and tried to lay hold of the top chain, but missing it, she fell over into the pit head first.

In reply to Mr. Sheldon, witness said the plate upon which deceased was taken home was taken from the same side of the pit as that over which she fell.

The jury returned the following verdict: That the deceased, Harriet Fletcher, died from the effects of falling down a pit shaft, but the evidence was insufficient to say whether she was sober at the time. Appended to the verdict was the following recommendation: The jury wish the mining inspector of the district to see that the pit in question is fenced satisfactorily, and called the attention of the surveyor of the highway to the fact that the coalfield in question should be well fenced from the public road.”

Evening Star 7/12/1882

“An inquest was held on Wednesday evening, at the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, before Mr. Thorneycroft, deputy coroner, on the body of Edward Gough, a cripple, aged 78, of Chapel Street, who died on the 4th instant from injuries received by falling on the fire on the 16th of November.

Ann Hetherington, the woman who usually attended the house to perform the domestic offices, said when she went into the house at twelve o'clock on the day in question deceased was leaning on a chair and his clothes were burning. She raised an alarm, and the deceased's son, who was in bed, came down and saw to the injuries being dressed. Deceased was badly burned about the abdomen and lower parts of the back.

Mary Bailey, a neighbour, said she dressed the burns the day deceased met with the accident, and had continued to do so ever since. She did this under the direction of Dr. Hancox, who was sent for the following day. The burns were of a very serious character. Deceased had seemed to be sinking some time before the accident.

Dr. Hancox said from the moment the accident happened there was no hope that the man would recover, as the injuries were of an unusually severe kind. Death resulted from exhaustion, consequent on the injuries.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 21/4/1883

“John Shine, of Nolans Yard, Oxford Street, Bilston, a well-known character, was charged with stealing 1s 9d, the money of John Lacy, of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, on Sunday evening.

The evidence showed that the prisoner entered the smoke room, in which was another young man, and commenced drinking. The young man called for drink, value 3d, tendering a florin in payment to the landlady. A child was sent into the room with 1s 9d change, and upon the prisoner's representation, gave him the 1s 9d change. The mistake was discovered, and then the prisoner refused to give the change up, alleging that it was his own.

PC Johnson arrested the prisoner, on whom the money was found. Mrs. Lacy wished to withdraw the charge, but the Bench declined to allow it, and sent the prisoner for trial at the assizes.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 28/4/1883

“At the Staffordshire Assizes, on Tuesday, John Shine, of Nowlans Yard, Oxford Street, was sent to hard labour for 6 weeks, for stealing 1s 9d, the property of Mrs. Lacy, the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Sunday evening, the 13th inst.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/2/1884

“Sarah Foy, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged by PC Farnol with being drunk and also with assaulting the police. On Monday evening, the prisoner was found in Oxford Street drunk, and as a man who was passing came near her, she struck the man on the temple. Farnol took her into custody, and she then kicked the officer and a man named Richards, who helped him, with her clogs, and had to be carried to the station.

Prisoner urged that she only had ‘four pints in the BROWN LION, and she was mad.’

The Stipendiary said the prisoner was too well known to merit mercy, and sentenced her to six weeks' hard labour.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 6/9/1884

“On Thursday afternoon, E. B. Thorneycroft, Esq, deputy coroner, held an inquest at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on the body of William Tunney (68), basket maker, 16, Hare Street, who died very suddenly early the same morning. Mrs. Tunney, wife of the deceased, said that at 4am on Thursday her husband, who had been a healthy man, awoke, and complained of a pain in his back. He rapidly grew much worse, and seemed to be in a fit. Mr. Gilbert, surgeon, was summoned, but before he arrived Tunney was dead, expiring about 6-30. A woman named Mary Ann Thomas gave evidence to the same effect as the first witness, and the jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 15/8/1885

“On Monday last, W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, touching the death of George Cooper, aged one year and five months, living with his parents at 20, Free Street, Bilston. The particulars of the case are of a melancholy nature. It appeared from the evidence given at the inquiry that the deceased child was left in the kitchen by its mother, Mary Ann Cooper, about ten minutes past eleven on the morning of Saturday last. On the mother returning five minutes later she found the little one head downwards in a pan mug containing from six to eight quarts of water. Dr. Gilbert was called in, but death had been immediate. After hearing the evidence of one or two witnesses, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/12/1885 - Advert

"Wanted, good General Servant.

Apply, BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston."

WANTED, good General Servant.—Apply, Brown Lion Inn, Oxford-st., Bilston.

Darlaston Weekly Times 6/11/1886

"An inquest was held at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Thursday afternoon, on the body of James Hart, of No.1 court, Temple Street, Bilston. The body was found in an arm of the Birmingham Canal, at Spring Vale, on Tuesday evening the 2nd inst, by James Hart, the lad's uncle. It is supposed that when the lad was taking supper to the Steel Works at Spring Vale, he walked into the canal. The Jury found an open verdict of Found Drowned."

John Lacey – see also ROYAL TIGER, Wednesfield.

Thomas Smith died in April 1888.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/5/1889

"At Bilston Court, today, before Mr. B. Whitehouse and Mr. C. Wells, Harriet Smith, landlady of the BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged with permitting drunkenness on her premises. Mr. R. Tildesley defended. Sergeant White and Police-constable Moss visited defendant's premises about ten o'clock on Saturday, the 4th inst, and there found a man, named John Powis, with a jug containing beer in front of him. When he saw them he tried to walk towards them, but was so drunk that he fell back in his seat. He then, in the presence of the police officers, drank some beer from the jug. Sergeant White accused the landlady of supplying Powis with ale while he was drunk, and she replied, 'Yes, but I have stopped the tap on him a good bit ago.'

The defence was that Powis had been drinking before at Monmore Green, and that he had come to the BROWN LION and had some more, but as he appeared to be getting intoxicated was turned out. In a short time he went back again, but was not supplied with any more beer. The jug of beer that the officers saw Powis drink from belonged to some women who were drinking in the house.

Defendant was ordered to pay the costs."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/7/1889 - Advert

"Harpist Wanted.

Apply, BROWN LION, Oxford Street, Bilston."

HARPIST Wanted.—Apply, Brown Lion, Oxford-st., Bilston.

John Hands = John Hand

1891 Census

78, Oxford Street – BROWN LION

[1] John Hand (57), innkeeper, born Ireland;

[2] Mary Ann Hand (57), wife, born Ludlow;

[3] Arthur Hand (21), son, steel smelter, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Martin H. Hand (18), son, engineer at steelworks, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Mary F. Hayward (26), daughter, widow, born Wolverhampton;

[6] Mary Hayward (3), grand-daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[7] Kate Carney (26), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/5/1891

"Mr. W. H. Phillips (coroner) held an inquest, at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, yesterday, touching the death of Jane Abbotts (66), of Hancox's Yard. The deceased resided with her son, and she was last seen alive about 10.40 on Saturday night. She was then sitting by the side of the fire at her house alone, while in the fender was a tin bottle containing paraffin oil. About twenty minutes past twelve o'clock, on her son returning home, he found the house full of smoke, and raised an alarm. A neighbour, named William Henry Bennett, entered the room, and found the deceased lying on the floor with her clothes burning. There was a fire in the grate, and the paraffin-lamp was on the table with the wick hanging out of it. It is supposed that the woman was feeding the lamp with oil, when by some means it ignited, and set fire to her clothing. The body was terribly scorched. A verdict was returned that the deceased met her death by burning, but that there was no evidence to show how her clothes caught fire."

Birmingham Daily Post 9/12/1893

“At the Wolverhampton Police Court, yesterday, Charles Askew, of the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, was fined 1s and the costs for selling spirits below the recognised strength. The case was before the Court some time ago and was dismissed, but on an appeal by Mr. Morris, the inspector under the Food and Drugs Act, the Queen’s Bench remitted it for re-hearing. It transpired that a notice was hung up in the room where the sale took place stating that the spirits were diluted according to the new excise regulations, and it was now held that this statement was misleading, as there are no new excise regulations.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/10/1894

“Mr. Neville (stipendiary) was occupied for a long time yesterday, at the Bilston Police Court, in hearing cases arising out of a raid on public houses in Bilston, Willenhall, and the neighbourhood.....

William Bennett, late of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his premises, and, further, with selling to an intoxicated person. After hearing the evidence, the Stipendiary dismissed the cases.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/11/1898

“At the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, this (Tuesday) afternoon, Mr. W. H. Phillips (Borough Coroner) held an inquest on the body of Maud Lawrence, a child aged three weeks, who died suddenly on Sunday morning. The evidence showed that on Saturday night the child was taken to bed, and was fed at six o’clock on Sunday morning. An hour later the mother, on waking up, found the child dead by her side. The deceased had been subject to convulsions from her birth. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

London Gazette 30/3/1900

“Thomas Marshall the CROWN INN Bank-street Bradley near Bilston in the county of Stafford, lately residing at Garibaldi-street, Darlaston, in the said county, and formerly at the BROWN LION INN, Oxford-street, Bilston, in the said county, Licensed Victualler. Date of Order, March 28th, 1900.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1900

“Thomas Marshall, Bank Street, Bradley, near Bilston, lately Darlaston, licensed victualler. First and final dividend, 10s in the pound; payable July 31st, at the Official Receiver’s, 30, Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton.”

1901 Census

Oxford Street – BROWN LION

- [1] Thomas Hollins (57), licensed victualler, born Leigh, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ellen Hollins (55), wife, born Lindridge, Worcestershire;
- [3] Edith A. Hollins (22), daughter, barmaid, born Brierley Hill;
- [4] Ellen Hollins (18), daughter, confectioner’s assistant, born Brierley Hill;
- [5] Nellie Owen (19), visitor, born Brownhills:

1906 Probate

“Thomas Hollins, of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 12 October 1906 at the Queen Victoria nursing home, Wolverhampton. Probate Lichfield 2 November to Ellen Hollins, widow. Effects £324.”

The license was granted to Ellen Hollins on 11th January 1907.

1911 Census

165, Oxford Street – BROWN LION

- [1] Ellen Hollins (65), widow, licensed victualler, born Lindridge, Worcestershire;
- [2] Harold James Hollins (35), son, barman, born Brownhills;
- [3] Alice Evans (17), housemaid, born Bilston:

1921 Census

165, Oxford Street

- [1] Ellen Hollins (76), widow, manageress licensed house, born Lindridge, Worcestershire;
- [2] Harold Hollins (46), son, barman, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Patrick McHale (48), son-in-law, steel worker, Alfred Hickman Ltd, Bilston, born Bilston;
- [4] Ellen McHale (38), daughter, barmaid, born Brierley Hill;
- [5] Kathleen McHale (14), grand-daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [6] May McHale (13), grand-daughter, school, born Bilston;

1934 Probate

“Charles Henry Walker, otherwise Charles Henery Walker, of the BROWN LION INN, Oxford Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 9 August 1934. Probate Birmingham 1 December to Sarah Harriett Walker, widow. Effects £909 0s 10d.”

Charles Henry Walker – see also ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street.

1939 Register

165, Oxford Street

- [1] Ernest Carden, date of birth 11/11/1892, licensed victualler (tenant), married;
- [2] Dora A. Carden, dob 12/9/1893, housewife, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Grace Carden, dob 7/4/1917, bar assistant and general, single;

A team from here took part in the Butlers (Bilston) Darts League. [1946]

Jack Hughes was married to Maude.

Closed

Demolished

TO INNKEEPERS, BREWERS, AND OTHERS.—To be LET, with immediate possession, that well-accustomed and old-established INN and SPIRIT VAULTS, known as the “Brown Lion Inn,” situate in Oxford-street, Bilston. Incoming, Stock, and Furniture about £300.—Apply to Mr. J. E. FELLOWS, Solicitor, Bilston.

1866

TUESDAY, September 20th, 1881.—Important UNRESERVED SALE at the BROWN LION INN, OXFORD-STREET, BILSTON.

MESSRS. J. MORRELL and SON are favoured with instructions to SELL by AUCTION, upon the Premises as above, on TUESDAY NEXT, September 20th, 1881, the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the old-established Business, the spirit vault and public house fittings, household furniture, two excellent pianofortes, capital brewing plant, and other effects, as detailed in catalogues to be had free on application to the AUCTIONEERS.

Sale at 11 a.m.

Auction and Valuation Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston.

1881

BULL AND MOUTH

41, (20), (23), High Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Francis Adie, grocer, High Street, Bilston
Charles Adie, Tunbridge Wells
Francis Adie
Walter Showell and Co.
Joseph Chadwick
Mary Ann Stanley, widow, Church Hill, Wednesbury
Eley's Stafford Brewery Ltd. [1912]
William Cook Kettle, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

J Perry [1822]
George Adderley [1828] – [1835]
Abraham Price [1841] – [1842]
Elizabeth Teadstill (1845 – 1849)
John Teadstill [1845] – (1849);
Henry Plant (1849 – 1851)
William George Masters (1851);
Mrs. Ann Masters (1851 – [1860])
Edwin John Jones [1861] – (1872);
Margaret Ann Jones (1872 – 1878);
Francis Adie (1878 – 1890);
George Greaves Smith Griffiths (1890);
Miss Edith Hickman (1890 – 1892);
Edward Probert (1892 – 1896);
William Probert (1896 – 1900);
George Bills (1900 – 1903);
Albert Heath (1903 – 1904);
Henry James Burrows (1904 – 1905);
George Maddox (1905 – 1913);
Matthew Rhodes (1913 – 1922);
Alfred Dyoss (1922 – 1923);
Joseph Lovatt (1923 – 1924);
Sidney Arthur (1924 – 1925);
Annie Whittaker (1925 – 1929);

NOTES

20, High Street [1858], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1873], [1874], [1881], [1883], [1884], [1891], [1892], [1892], [1896], [1900]
23, High Street [1862]
41, High Street [1901], [1908], [1911], [1916], [1921]

It had a beerhouse license.

TO BE LET,
With immediate possession,
THAT well known and old established PUBLIC-HOUSE "THE BULL AND MOUTH," with three societies attached, situate in High-street, Bilston.
For further particulars apply to the present occupier, who is leaving on account of other engagements.

1840

WHEREAS a petition of ABRAHAM PRICE, of the Bull and Mouth Inn, High-street, in the parish of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler and miner, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Abraham Price, under the provisions of an Act of Parliament passed in the Parliament holden in the fifth and sixth years of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the relief of Insolvent Debtors;" the said Abraham Price is hereby required to appear in court before EDMUND ROBERT DANIEL, Esquire, a commissioner acting in the prosecution of debts in bankruptcy in the said District Court, on the tenth day of APRIL next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy at Birmingham, for the purpose of being then and there examined touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Act.

All persons indebted to the said Abraham Price, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to THOMAS BITTLESTONE, the official assignee nominated in that behalf by a commissioner so acting.

JOHN POWELL, insolvent's attorney,
24, Moor-street, Birmingham.

In the matter of the petition of ABRAHAM PRICE, of the Bull and Mouth Inn, High-street, in the parish of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler and miner.

NOTICE is hereby given, that EDMUND ROBERT DANIEL, Esquire, the Commissioner acting in the matter of this petition, will proceed to make a final order thereon at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, on THURSDAY, the twenty-seventh day of APRIL, 1843, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.

JOHN POWELL,
Attorney, 24, Moor-street, Birmingham.

1843

George Adderley, retailer of beer, High Street. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/10/1840 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession.

That well-known and old-established Public House, the BULL AND MOUTH, with three societies attached, situate in High Street, Bilston.

For further particulars apply to the present occupier, who is leaving on account of other engagements.”

1841 Census

High Street

[1] Abraham Price (30), victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Jane Price (30), born Staffordshire;

[3] Mary Ann Price (12), born Staffordshire;

[4] Benjamin Price (6), born Staffordshire;

[5] Elizabeth Price (4), born Staffordshire;

[6] Sophia Brinley (11), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/3/1843 - Notice

“Whereas a petition of Abraham Price, of the BULL AND MOUTH INN, High Street, in the parish of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler and miner, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Abraham Price, under the provisions of an Act of Parliament passed in the Parliament holden in the fifth and sixth years of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled ‘An Act for the relief of Insolvent Debtors;’ the said Abraham Price is hereby required to appear in court before Edmund Robert Daniell, Esquire, a commissioner acting in the prosecution of fiats in bankruptcy in the said District Court, on the tenth day of April next, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy at Birmingham, for the purpose of being then and there examined touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Act.

All persons indebted to the said Abraham Price, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Thomas Bittlestone, the official assignee nominated in that behalf by a commissioner so acting.

John Powell, insolvent’s attorney, 24, Moor Street, Birmingham.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/4/1843 - Notice

“In the matter of the petition of Abraham Price, of the BULL AND MOUTH INN, High Street, in the parish of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler and miner.

Notice is hereby given, that Edmund Robert Daniel, Esquire, the Commissioner acting in the matter of this petition, will proceed to make a final order thereon at the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, on Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of April, 1843, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.

John Powell, Attorney, 24, Moor Street, Birmingham.”

John Teadstill = John Treadstill

John Teadstill died in 1845.

John Teadstill – see also WHITE SWAN, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, and TALBOT, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/6/1849

“Transfer of Innkeepers’ Licenses. The following licenses have been transferred by the Magistrates within the last few days.....

BULL AND MOUTH, Bilston, from John Treadstill to Henry Plant, miner.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/12/1849 - Notice

“Whereas a Petition of Elizabeth Teadstill, widow of the late John Teadstill, at present and for seven months now last past residing at Bilston, in the county of Stafford, in lodgings, out of business, and for four years previously thereto residing at the sign of the BULL AND MOUTH, in High Street, Bilston aforesaid, carrying on there the trade of a licensed victualler, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Elizabeth Teadstill, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Elizabeth Teadstill is hereby required to appear in Court before Nathaniel Richard Clarke, Esquire, Serjeant-at-Law, the Judge acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the eleventh day of December, 1849, at twelve o'clock at noon, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, for her First Examination touching her debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given, that the choice of assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Elizabeth Teadstill, or who have any of her effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esquire, official assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his office, in Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

J. W. Fleetwood, Solicitor, Wolverhampton. 4th day of December, 1849.”

Birmingham Journal 19/1/1850

“Wolverhampton County Court.....

The following cases of insolvency were heard.....

The final orders of Elizabeth Teadstill were granted.”

Birmingham Journal 28/12/1850 - Advert

“This is to Certify that Henry Plant and Joseph Lawley, miners, Bilston, have, on Friday, December 20th, dissolved partnership.

(Signed) Henry Plant, BULL AND MOUTH INN.”

THIS is to CERTIFY that HENRY PLANT and JOSEPH LAWLEY, MINERS, Bilston, have, on FRIDAY, December 20th, DISSOLVED PARTNERSHIP.
(Signed) HENRY PLANT,
Bull and Mouth Inn.

1851 Census

High Street

[1] Henry Plant (29), licensed victualler, born Great Bridge;

[2] Jane Plant (19), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Eliza Plant (18), sister, born West Bromwich;

[4] Ann Endley (26), house servant, born Dudley;

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/10/1851

“At the County Petty Sessions, held on Monday last, the following transfers of victuallers’ licenses took place.....

William George Masters, BULL AND MOUTH, High Street, Bilston, to his mother, Ann Masters, widow.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1854

“Jeremiah Geary was on Tuesday brought up at the Police Court, Bilston, on a warrant issued in July, 1853, for assisting to demolish a chandelier, at the house of Mrs. Masters, the BULL AND MOUTH, High Street. It appeared that on the night of the 26th of July, 1853, a party of blackguards got up a fight in the house, when some of them wielded a bench with such effect that the glass and a quantity of other property, to the amount of £10, was destroyed. The prisoner, who had absconded, was proved to have taken an active part in the riot, and the Bench ordered him to pay £1 5s 6d, which included his share of the damage.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/1/1859

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Michael Bill, 43, miner, and Benjamin Crowther, 24, stoker, were indicted for uttering three counterfeit half-crowns, at Bilston, well knowing the same to be false and counterfeit. The prisoners went to the BULL AND MOUTH public house, in High Street, Bilston, and while they were there Crowther offered a bad half-crown in payment for three-pennyworth of gin. He was told that it was bad, upon which he began to abuse the landlord, and after some time was turned out of the shop. While the altercation was going on the prisoner walked away. A short time before their visit to the BULL AND MOUTH they had been at the BALLOON public house, where Crowther offered a bad shilling in payment for drink, but it was refused. When the prisoners left they were watched, and Bill was heard to sat to Crowther, with an oath, 'Go and try Masters's,' that being the name of the person who formerly kept the BULL AND MOUTH. On the following day the prisoners went to the WAGGON AND HORSES, at Sedgley, and Crowther called for a pint of ale, for which he tendered half-a-crown, which the niece of the landlady said was bad. The landlady, however, whose sight was defective, consented to take it, but the course of the day she sent her niece to a neighbour's shop to make some purchases, giving her the half-crown in question, when the opinion of the niece that it was counterfeit was confirmed. Within an hour of leaving the WAGGON AND HORSES, the prisoners went to the BRIDGE INN, at the same place, where for some drink they offered another bad half-crown, but it was not discovered to be bad until the evening of the same day. The men having got clear away, Bill went on the evening of the same day to a provision shop in the same place, and there attempted to pass a bad shilling. On being told that it was bad, he said that he was nearly blind (which appeared to be true), and that it had been given to him in his wages. He promised to bring the person who gave him the coin, but having once left with the shilling in his possession, he never returned. On the 18th of the same month, Crowther and the other prisoner were at the MOXLEY TAVERN, Bilston, where one of them offered a bad shilling in payment for a glass of gin. The police were by this time on their track, and shortly afterwards they were apprehended.

Mr. Motteram dissected the evidence in detail for the purpose of showing that it was not conclusive against the prisoners, but the Jury returned a verdict of guilty. Bill was sentenced to six months, and Crowther to twelve months hard labour."

1861 Census

20, High Street

- [1] Edwin Jones (43), wine and spirit merchant, born London;
- [2] Ann Jones (32), wife, born Bexley, Kent;
- [3] Edwin Jones (11), son, born London;
- [4] William Jones (9), son, born London;
- [5] Ann Jones (5), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Walter Jones (6 months), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Rachel Nailor (14), servant, born Bilston:

1871 Census

20, High Street

- [1] Edwin J. Jones (54), wine and spirit dealer, born London;
- [2] Margaret Jones (42), wife, born Bexley, Kent;
- [3] William Jones (19), son, assistant to above, born Bilston;
- [4] Ann Jones (14), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Walter Jones (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Robert Jones (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Amelia E. Jones (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Ellen A. Jones (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Bella Jones (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [10] Elizabeth Baker (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Edwin John Jones was also a maltster and hop merchant. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 20/2/1873

"At Bilston Police Court on Tuesday, Moses Green was charged with cutting and wounding Joseph Davies, ironworker, of Cold Lane. Mr. Bowen defended.

It appeared that the prosecutor, the prisoner, and several companions had been drinking together at the BULL AND MOUTH INN. Whilst there a dispute arose, and the prosecutor offered to give Green a shilling if he would fight him. Both went out of the house and commenced fighting in the streets. A few minutes afterwards, whilst they were fighting, the prisoner drew his penknife, rushed at Davies, and stabbed him in the left ear, and successively on the left cheek and on the right side. The bystanders attempted to take the knife off the prisoner, and in doing so the prisoner was cut on the thigh and on the finger. The prisoner was committed to the Sessions."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/3/1873

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.....

Moses Green, 18, striker, was indicted for feloniously wounding Joseph Davis, on the 16th of February, at Bilston, with intent to do him some grievous bodily harm.....

His Lordship, in summing up the case, commented on the demoralising influence of boys and girls spending their Sunday evenings in public houses, and pointed out that though there should have been no antecedent malice, if the prisoner kept the knife in his hand during the fight with the intention of using it, in point of law he was guilty of the offence with which he was charged.

The jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The learned Judge told the prisoner that the jury had taken a very lenient view of the case, and advised him in future to keep out of public houses altogether.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1881

“The Terrific Gale and Snowstorm.....

Amongst the cases treated at the General Hospital during the day were the following.....

Francis Adie (56), licensed victualler, 20, High Street, Bilston, broken leg.”

1881 Census

20, High Street

[1] Walter B. Jones (20), step-son, grocer's assistant, unemployed, born Bilston;

[2] Margaret Ann Jones (24), step-daughter, manageress, public house, born Bilston;

[3] Ellen A. Jones (15), step-daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 16/5/1881 - Advert

“Capitalists and Others.

Manufacturing Business to Let, at once, doing a good profitable trade in an article of daily consumption. Previous knowledge not required. Capital about £400.

Apply, by letter, Francis Adie, Grocers Valuer, 20, High Street, Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 30/12/1882

“The annual distribution of Mr. John Mason's Charity to the poor of Bilston took place on Saturday and Christmas Day. On Saturday morning, Messrs. W. Bishop, E. J. Jones, J. Harding, and S. Shaw (grocers) were busy supplying the demands of some 250 poor persons, who, armed with the necessary ticket, applied for, and received ½lb of black tea, 2lbs of loaf sugar, value 2s 6d, wherewith to cheer their Christmas. On Monday Mr. F. Adie, of the BULL AND MOUTH TAVERN, served another 250 poor persons with a Christmas dinner, consisting of 1lb of roast beef (part of the Christmas shows of Messrs. Caddick, Bennett, Jones, and Hilton), potatoes, 1lb plum pudding, and a quart of good old ale. In the work of distributing the gifts, Mr. Adie was ably assisted by Messrs. M. H. Pursall and E. Keay, in whose hands the charity has so long been left, Inspector Harrison rendering valuable and efficient service. That the gifts were appreciated would be apparent to the most indifferent outsider, and that some such charity is even more largely needed, is apparent from the statement of those who personally visited the homes, if they could be called such, being in many instances mere hovels, but little removed from pigstyes in comfort and appearance. Heart-rendering tales were told of hunger, cold, want, and misery, and these too, not by the cant of hypocrisy, which can assume a degree of misery incompatible with the known position of those who plead most strongly, but by genuine poverty, whatever may have been its original cause. Into these causes the donor wisely never enters, preferring the one fact of unquestionable distress and extreme misery. In many houses, inmates were without beds, or bed-clothing, no fire was perceptible, and the necessary writing connected with the gift had to be done by the aid of a borrowed rushlight. In several dwellings, Christmas found the occupants in the last stage of extreme misery, such as only a personal view of, can give an adequate idea, houses without windows, fire, bedding, or the bare necessities of life, sickness striving with want for the mastery, and general desolation and misery within a stone's throw of the brilliantly lighted shops, or the well filled larders of the better class. That a large field for charity exists in our very midst is unquestionable, that so few there are to minister to the pressing wants of their less fortunate brethren is greatly regretted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/6/1883 - Advert

"Messrs. J. Morrell & Son are instructed by order of the Mortgagees to offer for Sale by Auction Tomorrow, June 26, at 6 for 7 in the evening, at the house of Mr. F. Adie, BULL AND MOUTH INN, High Street, Bilston.....

The Extensive Premises, No.21, High Street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. W. Iorns, grocer and tea dealer..... A Valuable Wine and Spirit Vaults, adjoining, having a commanding frontage to, and being No.20, in High Street, known as the BULL AND MOUTH INN, with the Dwelling House, Cellars, Brewhouse, enclosed Yard, &c, as at present occupied by Mr. F. Adie.

Another Retail Shop, with Plate-glass Front, being No.19, High Street, at the corner of Smith Street.....

The Property in its entirety forms a very compact and valuable lot. It is situate in the main business street of the town, and affords an opportunity rarely met with by anyone requiring a sound investment."

Darlaston Weekly Times 22/12/1883

"By the kindness of John Mason, Esq, no less than 500 of the poorer population of Bilston will have their Christmas Day brightened this year by a good dinner. Mr. Adie, BULL AND MOUTH, will supply on Christmas morning, 250 poor creatures with a dinner, consisting of 1lb roast beef, 1lb plum pudding, a quart of good ale, and the necessary vegetables. On the same day there will be supplied to 250 persons, a half lb tea, and 2lbs sugar each, by the following grocers: Messrs. S. Shaw, W. Bishop, J. Harding, and E. J. Jones."

Darlaston Weekly Times 29/12/1883

"On Christmas day by the kindness of John Mason, Esq, a dinner was given to 250 poor persons, and it was served out by Mr. Adie, BULL AND MOUTH, High Street. The necessary services were rendered by Messrs. M. H. Purcell, and R. Keay, by whom the intentions of the donor are annually carried out with much earnestness. There were also present Messrs. J. Bishop, G. Earl, W. Scott and Dr. Larkin. Not only were dinners provided, but a second 250 poor persons received groceries equivalent in value to the dinner. The proceedings were carried out with the greatest heartiness, the poor people evidently appreciated the boon conferred upon them, while those present rendered whatever aid they could to their less fortunate brethren, so as to brighten up what might otherwise have been a very cheerless Christmas."

Darlaston Weekly Times 15/5/1886

"The Bilston and District Bakers Association.

At a meeting of bakers, held on Tuesday evening, the thirteenth instant, at the house of Mr. Adie, BULL AND MOUTH, High Street, they formed themselves into the above association. There was a good muster, considering the weather, and it is to be hoped that at their next meeting, which will be held on Thursday next, the nineteenth instant, at eight pm, the committee hope that all the bakers in the town and district will endeavour to be present."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/3/1887 - Advert

"Grocery and Provision Trade to be Disposed of.

Fixtures and fittings about £35, or at valuation.

Stock, including above, about £200. In the best position in Wednesbury. Net rent £28.

Apply, Francis Adie, Grocers Valuer, 20, High Street, Bilston."

GROCERY and Provision Trade to be Disposed of.—Fixtures and fittings about £35, or at a valuation. Stock, including above, about £200. In the best position in Wednesbury. Net rent £28.—Apply, Francis Adie, Grocers' Valuer, 20, High St., Bilston.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/3/1889

"A man named Benjamin Bamford (29), of Workhouse Fold, Bilston, was matched to take part in a boxing contest, and while in the BULL AND MOUTH INN on the 2nd inst was very talkative as to his sporting proclivities,, which aroused the interest of one of the company named William Wilcox, of 22, Foundry Street, Sedgley, and several of his companions. Four of the company left to go home, including the above-mentioned two, and after reaching Bamford's house the boxing affair cropped up again. Wilcox challenged Bamford there and then. Bamford, who thought 'three to one was too much for any mon,' picked up a formidable-looking poker, 36 inches in length, and weighing about 3lbs, and struck Wilcox on the head.

Mr. Whitehouse, the presiding magistrate, thought it was a very serious offence, but owing to the provocation would deal leniently with the defendant by imposing a fine of 10s and costs."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/8/1889 - Advert

"Bargain. A first-class Tricycle for £4.

Apply, Joe Holberry, BULL AND MOUTH, High Street, Bilston."

BARGAIN.—A first-class Tricycle for £4.—Apply, Joe Holberry, Bull and Mouth, High-street, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 14/12/1889

“The following deeds of assignment have been registered during the past week.....

Francis Adie, victualler, appraiser, and valuer, the BULL AND MOUTH INN, High Street, Bilston, and Sedgley. Deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors, dated 6th December, and filed 12th December, under which Mr. George E. Hunt, of Birmingham, wine and spirit merchant, is trustee. The unsecured liabilities are £231 15s 10d, and estimated net assets £357 11s 6d. Creditors fully secured, £1,473.”

1891 Census

20, High Street – BULL AND MOUTH

[1] Edith Hickman (30), unmarried, manageress for public house, born Tipton;

[2] Henry Hickman (68), father, retired farmer, born Gospel End;

[3] Ann Hickman (67), mother, born Leominster:

Birmingham Daily Post 2/4/1892 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, at the Property Mart, 6, Temple Row West, Birmingham, on Tuesday Next, April 5.....

(By order of the Mortgagees.) A valuable Freehold Full-Licensed Public House, known as the BULL AND MOUTH, being No.20, in High Street, one of the principal thoroughfares and best business parts of the town of Bilston, late in possession of the owner, but now of the mortgagees, and considered worth a rent of £35.....

Possession of the BULL AND MOUTH will be given to the purchaser, and all the Public House Fixtures belonging to the mortgagee will be included in the Sale.”

Sporting Life 27/9/1900

“Professor Cullis, who is at present touring the Black Country, on Tuesday night provided an excellent boxing entertainment at his commodious pavilion, situate on the Wake Grounds, Brierley Hill, between Bonny Ike, of Bilston, and W. ‘Binkey’ Wilkes, of Bradley, who were matched to box for endurance at catch-weight, for £25, and a purse of £5 added by Professor Cullis. Mr. Joe Martin, the well-know Bradley sportsman, on behalf of Wilkes staking £15 to £10.

Of the two Bonny Ike is much the better known, having been successful both as a ped and a boxer He was in splendid condition, being trained by Billy Proberts, from the BULL AND MOUTH INN, Bilston.

Wilkes is much the heavier man, hence the odds; however, he carried a lot of superfluous flesh and was not nearly in condition.....”

[Ike won in three rounds.]

1901 Census

41, High Street

[1] George Bills (26), publican, born Birmingham;

[2] Ann M. Bills (22), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] Gladys L. Bills (3 months), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Matilda Mould (26), domestic servant, born Bradley;

[5] Clara Mould (11), nursemaid, born Bradley:

Sporting Life 20/4/1901

“Pedestrianism. Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton.

These grounds will be occupied on Saturdays, April 27 and May 4, with Messrs. G. Bills and W. Probert’s £7 10s 130 Yards All England Handicap, for which entries of 1s each may be sent to Mr. G. Bills, BULL AND MOUTH, Bilston; Mr. G. Allen, MINERS ARMS, Tipton; Mr. W. Probert’s, Hartshorn Street, Bilston; Mr. Tom Jones, Compton House, Bilston; or to the grounds. Entries close on Tuesday, April 23, Wednesday morning’s post in time. First heat each day at 4.30.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/4/1903

“Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

Re George Bills, licensed victualler, High Street, Bilston.

This debtor underwent his public examination at the Wolverhampton County Court yesterday, before Mr. Registrar Kettle.

In reply to Mr. S. W. Page, the debtor stated that until June, 1900, he had worked for his father, a fishmonger. He then took to the BULL AND MOUTH public house, High Street, Bilston. He had no capital or furniture, and his father lent him £30 to take to the stock and fixtures. He had been betting and gambling for four or five years. He had attended race meetings, and had lost in expenses about £20. His failure was attributed to bad trade and illness. He was allowed to pass.”

1911 Census

41, High Street

[1] George Maddox (36), publican, born Bilston;

[2] Sarah Ann Maddox (36), wife, married 12 years, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/9/1912 - Advert

“Fully-Licensed Inn to be Let, the BULL AND MOUTH, High Street, Bilston; inclusive rental; ingoing by deposit. Apply, Eley’s Stafford Brewery Ltd, Stafford.”

FULLY-LICENSED Inn to be Let, the Bull and Mouth, High-street, Bilston; inclusive rental; ingoing by deposit. — Apply, Eley’s Stafford Brewery, Ltd., Stafford.

1921 Census

41, High Street

[1] Matthew Rhodes (61), widower, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Maud Rhodes (31), daughter, home duties, born Bilston;

[3] Victor Rhodes (29), son, butcher, born Bilston;

[4] Lily Rhodes (27), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Edwin Rhodes (26), son, wheelwright, born Bilston;

[6] Percy Rhodes (24), son, assistant in bar, born Bilston;

[7] Winnie Rhodes (19), daughter, born Bilston:

1922 Probate

“Matthew Rhodes of the BULL AND MOUTH INN, High Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 29 January 1922. Probate Lichfield 1 March to Stephen John Rhodes, miller’s clerk, and Maud Elsie Rhodes, spinster. Effects £599 15s 6d.”

Matthew Rhodes – see also ORANGE TREE, VINE, John Street, and HEN AND CHICKENS, George Street.

Application for the removal of this license to the OLDE WHITE ROSE INN was granted on 8th February 1929. It was confirmed at Stafford on 13th April 1929.

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1929

“County Licensing Committee.....

Mr. F. L. Steward, of Wolverhampton, applied on behalf of Charles James Webb for the removal of the full license of the BULL AND MOUTH, Bilston, to premises known as the WHITE ROSE INN, Bilston. He explained that the WHITE ROSE had a full license for six days only, whilst the BULL AND MOUTH held a seven day license. Both houses had come into the same ownership of combined companies, Messrs. Eley’s (Stafford) Brewery Co. and Messrs. W. Butler & Co. Ltd. Many years ago a seven day license was attached to the WHITE ROSE, but the former owner voluntarily surrendered his right to sell on Sundays. The brewery company felt that if the application were granted, not only would the licenses of the district be reduced, but it would be a public convenience, because the WHITE ROSE was situated in the centre of the town, and in a very prominent position, and would be open on Sundays.

Replying to the Chairman, Mr. Steward said the BULL AND MOUTH was not so good structurally as the WHITE ROSE, which was nearly opposite the Town Hall, Bilston.

The committee confirmed the decision of the local justices, and granted the application.”

It closed on 13th April 1929.
The premises became Jones Seed Shop.

Demolished

4th day of December, 1849.

WHEREAS a Petition of ELIZABETH TEADSTILL, widow of the late John Teadstill, at present and for seven months now last past residing at Bilston, in the county of Stafford, in lodgings, out of business, and for four years previously thereto residing at the sign of the Bull and Mouth, in High street, Bilston aforesaid, carrying on there the trade of a licensed victualler, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Elizabeth Teadstill, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Elizabeth Teadstill is hereby required to appear in Court before NATHANIEL RICHARD CLARKE, Esquire, Serjeant at-Law, the Judge acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the ELEVENTH day of DECEMBER, 1849, at twelve o'clock at noon, at the COURT HOUSE, QUEEN-STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON aforesaid, for her FIRST EXAMINATION touching her debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given, that the choice of assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Elizabeth Teadstill, or who have any of her effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, Esquire, official assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his office, in Queen-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

J. W. FLEETWOOD,
Solicitor, Wolverhampton.

1849

CAPITALISTS and Others.—Manufacturing Business to Let, at once, doing a good profitable trade in an article of daily consumption. Previous knowledge not required. Capital about £400.—Apply, by letter, Francis Adie, Grocers' Valuer, 20, High Street, Bilston.

1881

TO MORROW (Tuesday), June 26.—Sale of Valuable FREEHOLD SHOPS, SPIRIT VAULTS, and BUSINESS PREMISES, situate High Street, Bilston.

MESSRS. J. MORRELL & SON are instructed by order of the Mortgagees to offer for Sale by Auction TO-MORROW (Tuesday), June 26, at 6 for 7 in the evening, at the house of Mr. F. Adie, the Bull and Mouth Inn, High Street, Bilston, subject to conditions of sale incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, the following important FREEHOLD PROPERTY, viz.:—The Extensive PREMISES, No. 21, High Street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. W. Iorns, grocer and tea dealer. The Premises include a large retail Shop, having a plate-glass front to High Street, a convenient Dwelling House attached, good Cellar in the basement, several two-storey Warehouses and Stores, with enclosed Yard extending to Smith Street. A Valuable WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS, adjoining, having a commanding frontage to, and being No. 20, in High Street, known as the "BULL AND MOUTH INN," with the DWELLING HOUSE, Cellars, Brewhouse, enclosed Yard, &c., as at present occupied by Mr. F. Adie; another RETAIL Shop, with Plate-glass Front, being No. 19, High Street aforesaid, at the corner of Smith Street, with excellent Cellaring, now in the occupation of Mr. J. Matthew. Also, the DWELLING HOUSE now used as a Warehouse, together with Two COTTAGES fronting to Smith Street, in the occupation of Paul Davis and William Davis. The Property has a frontage to High Street of 53 feet, and to Smith Street of 109 feet, and produces a rental of £106. per annum.

The Property in its entirety forms a very compact and valuable lot. It is situate in the main business street of the town, and affords an opportunity rarely met with by anyone requiring a sound investment.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. Edwin Jacques, Solicitor, Temple Chambers, 18, Temple Row, Birmingham; or the Auctioneers, Swan Bank, Buxton.

1883

"THE BULL AND MOUTH,"

being No. 20, in High Street, one of the principal thoroughfares and best business parts of the town of Bilston, late in possession of the owner, but now of the mortgagees, and considered worth a rent of £35.; also the Capital RETAIL SHOP, No. 21, in High Street (adjoining), let to Mr. Iorns, Grocer and Provision Dealer, at a rent of £40.; and also the RETAIL SHOP, No. 19, in High Street, let to Mr. Matthew, Bootmaker, at a rent of £12.; and Two HOUSES, Nos. 5 and 6, in Smith Street, now or recently let at rents amounting to £12. 7s.

The total annual rental as above is £105. 7s., and the Property has a long frontage, and occupies a prominent corner position.

Possession of the Bull and Mouth will be given to the purchaser, and all the Public-house fixtures belonging to the mortgagee will be included in the Sale.

1892

BULLS HEAD

28, (70), (54), High Street / Dudley Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

John Caddick, gentleman, Handsworth
John Thomas Hunt
William Summers, coal agent, Dawley, Shropshire
Henry Plant and Co. [1896]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1904], [1921]

LICENSEES

William Lewis [1764] – 1779;
Amos Parkes (1779 – [1780])
Mrs. Mary Parkes [1782] – [1783]
Thomas Lea [1791] – [1799]
George Rushbury (1798 – [1815])
John Batte [1817] – [1820]
Phineas Bullock [1822] – [1842]
Mrs. Hannah Caddick [1848] – [1854]
Miss Elizabeth Caddick [1856] – [1861]
Edward Ward [1861] – [1862]
John Vickers [1864] – [1865]
William Adkins [1864] – [1865]
John Vickers [1865] – 1866;
David Richards (1866 – [1870])
Benjamin S Ford [1871]
Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Sale [1872] – 1873;
Benjamin Samuel Ford (1873 – 1874);
John Thomas Hunt (1874 – 1877);
William Walker (1877 – 1878);
John Thomas Hunt (1878 – 1882);
Samuel Thomas (1882 – 1883);
John Dickins (1883);
John Guest (1883 – 1884);
Job Ecclestone (1884 – 1885);
John Higgins (1885);
Francis Adams (1885 – 1889);
Alfred Newton (1889 – 1890);
Hezekiah Harris (1890 – 1908);
George Lewis Rogers (1908 – 1909);
Luke Corkindale (1909 – 1916);
Laura Corkindale (1916 – 1921);
Luke Corkindale (1921 – 1928);
Samuel Farrington (1928 – 1932);
Thomas Wilde (1932 – [1940])
Arthur Samuel Chambers [1953]

WHereas two young Beagle HOUNDS, about half grown, who answer to the Names of YOUNKER and CROWNER; YOUNKER being a tam'd Dog, a white Blaze in his Face, white at the Tip of his Tail, and his Feet something white; CROWNER is a black and white tam'd Dog, his Ears of a tan Colour, white Legs, and a brown and white Tail; were, on Sunday Evening the 7th of this Instant October, stole from the House of Mr. William Lewis, at the Bull's Head, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford; Notice is hereby given, that a Reward of Five Guineas will be given to any one who will give Information of the Person or Persons concerned therein, so as such Offender or Offenders may be convicted thereof, to be paid on such Conviction by Mr. Mufchamp Jevon, of Tipton; and in case more than one Person were concerned in such Offence, if any one of them will impeach his Accomplice or Accomplices therein, he shall receive the same Reward, and a free Pardon.

1764

NOTES

70, High Street [1861], [1862], [1871], [1881], [1891]

54, High Street [1900]

28, High Street [1901], [1911], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

NEW BULLS HEAD [1818]

OLD BULLS HEAD [1849], [1858], [1860], [1864], [1865], [1873], [1896], [1908], [1932], [1940]

BULLS HEAD [1862], [1868]

Inland Revenue Office [1861], [1868]

Excise Office [1862]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/10/1764 - Advert

"Whereas two young Beagle Hounds, about half grown, who answer to the Names of Younker and Crowner; Younker being a tam'd Dog, a white Blast in his Face, white at the Tip of his Tail, and his Feet something white; Crowner is a black and white tam'd Dog, his Ears of a tan Colour, white Legs, and a brown and white Tail; were, on Sunday Evening the 7th of this Instant October, stole from the House of Mr. William Lewis, at the BULLS HEAD, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford; Notice is hereby given, that a Reward of Five Guineas will be given to any one who will give Information of the Person or Persons concerned therein, so as such Offender or Offenders may be convicted thereof, to be paid on such Conviction, by Mr. Muschamp Jevon, of Tipton; and in case more than one Person were concerned in such Offence, if any one of them will impeach his Accomplice or Accomplices therein, he shall receive the same Reward, and a free Pardon."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/6/1771 - Advert

"Wanted, a Man to act in the Capacity of a Gardener, and to take Care of two Horses.
Enquire of William Lewis, of the BULLS HEAD in Bilstone, or of the Printer of this Paper."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/4/1772 - Advert

"To Cover this Season, at 15s a Mare, and 1s the Groom, the famous Yorkshire Bay Colt Young Sportsman..... This Colt, for Size, Strength, Beauty, Action, Movement, and Colour, may challenge any Horse in the Kingdom..... Sportsman will be at the NEW BULLS HEAD in Bilston every Monday Night."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/11/1778 - Advert

"Bilston Annual Assembly will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, on Monday the 9th of November Instant. Tickets at 2s 6d each, to be had at the Bar of the Inn.
Note, A Pack of Harriers will go out on Thursday Morning the 12th instant; and an Ordinary provided at the said Inn."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/11/1779 - Advert

"To be Sold, by Order of the Assignees of William Lewis, a Bankrupt, on Monday, the 6th Day of December next, and four following Days (Wednesday excepted) at the NEW BULLS HEAD, Bilston.
All the entire Neat Household Furniture, Plate, Linen, and China of the said Bankrupt; consisting of Bedsteads, with Moreen, Check, and other Hangings; excellent Feather Beds, Blankets, Quilts, Chairs, Tables, Bureau, Chest of Drawers, Pier and Swing Glasses; two Clocks in Oak Cases, and a Larum ditto; and good Kitchen Furniture; two large Copper Furnaces, and one smaller ditto, suitable mashing Tubs, and other Brewing Utensils, and a large Quantity of Hogsheads, Half Hogsheads, and smaller Barrels; two Bags of good Hops, and two or three Gross of Glass Bottles.
Likewise a very good Post-Chaise, almost New, and three good Chaise Horses, and Harness for four Horses compleat; a set of Wheels, new bound, a Quantity of Wheat and Hay, at Bilston, and a Rick at Sedgley; and all Sorts of Implements of Husbandry.
The Sale to begin each Day at Ten o'Clock in the Morning, and Two in the Afternoon.
NB. The Goods may be viewed at any Time before the Sale.
Catalogues may be had next Week at the above House, and at Mr. Kent's, Auctioneer, Wolverhampton."
AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/12/1779 - Advert

"Bilston, 18th December 1779.

All Persons who stand indebted to the Estate and Effects of William Lewis, late of the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, a Bankrupt, are hereby required forthwith to pay their respective Debts to Mr. William Bickley, one of the Assignees, or to Mr. Willim, Attorney, both of Bilston aforesaid; otherwise Actions at Law will be brought for the Recovery thereof."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/11/1779 - Advert

"Bilston, November 20, 1779.

Amos Parkes respectfully informs the Public, That having taken the NEW BULLS HEAD, in Bilston, lately occupied by Mr. William Lewis, he proposes to fit up the same in a neat and genteel Manner, for the Reception of Travellers; of which further Notice will be given in a future Paper."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/1/1780 - Advert

"NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston. January 10, 1780.

Amos Parkes acquaints the Public, That he has taken and entered upon the above Inn, which he has fitted up in a neat and genteel Manner, and begs Leave to assure them that he shall constantly endeavour to oblige his Customers, supplying them with the best Wines, and all other Kinds of Liquors; and hopes that by civil Treatment and a strict Attention to his Duty, he shall merit the Support and Encouragement of the Public in general, and his Friends in particular."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/7/1780 - Advert

"Lost, betwixt Uttoxeter and Bilston, A Bellows for Bagpipes, about a Month since. Any Person that can give Information or bring it to the NEW BULLS HEAD, Bilston, or the White Hart in Uttoxeter, shall receive Five Shillings Reward and reasonable Satisfaction.

Bilston, July 16th, 1780."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/11/1780 - Advert

"Bilston Annual Dancing Assembly will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, This Evening the 13th November Inst. Tickets at 2s 6d each to be had at the Bar of the House.

A Pack of Hounds will go out on Wednesday Morning."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/7/1781 - Advert

"An Advertisement having appeared in the Birmingham Gazette, of the 16th Instant, setting forth that Bilston Wake would be held upon Sunday the 29th Inst, Amos Parkes, respectfully informs the Public, That a good Band of Music will be engaged at the NEW BULLS HEAD, upon Monday the 30th, to accommodate such Ladies and Gentlemen as chuse then and there to Dance."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/7/1782 - Advert

"Bilston Annual Dancing Assembly will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, on the 29th of July Instant (being the Wake Monday); and on Tuesday Morning will be a Public Breakfast on the Bowling Green at the said inn.

Tickets for the Ball to be had at the Bar."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/11/1782 - Advert

"Turnpike Tolls to be Let.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from High Bullen, in Wednesbury, to the further End of Darlaston Lane, next the Portway, and from thence, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction (either together or separately), to the best Bidder, at the House of Mary Parkes, known by the Name of the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, situate in Bilston aforesaid, on Monday the 9th Day of December next, between the Hours of two and five in the Afternoon of the same Day, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the Thirteenth Year of the Reign of his Majesty King George the Third, 'for regulating the Turnpike Roads,' which Tolls produced the last Year, the Sums of £409 13s 2d Farthing, above the Expenses of collecting them, and will be put up at that Sum, if let together, and if let separately, will be put up at the respective Sums produced at each Gate, as hereafter mentioned. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder or Bidders, must, at the same Time, give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for Payment of the Rent or Rents agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

Production of each Gate from the 29th of October, 1781, to the 29th of October, 1782, clear of the Expenses of collecting the same.

Cock Heath Gate, £93 0s ³/₄d.

Bilston Bridge, £33 8s 0d.

Gibbet Lane £183 1s 10d.

Cold Lanes, £25 12s 9d.

Duck Lane, £20 11s 8¹/₂d.

Windmill, £9 18s 8d.

Catchems Corner, £44 0s 2d.

John Willim, Clerk to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/7/1783 - Advert

“NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston.

To be Let, and may be entered on at Michaelmas next (with or without Seventeen Acres of very good Land) All the above Inn, which consists of a large and commodious Messuage or Dwelling House, with exceeding good and large Cellaring, and other convenient Out-buildings; and also a large and compleat Bowling Green, together with very good Stabling; which Premises are all situate in Bilston aforesaid.

Further Particulars may be had by applying to Mrs. Tomkys, or Joseph Purcivall, both of Bilston.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/7/1783 - Advert

“Bilston Annual Dancing Assembly will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD, on the 28th of July Instant, being the Wake Monday.

A good Band of Music will be provided.

Tickets, at 2s 6d each, to be had at the Bar of the House.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/9/1783 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by Francis Pool, on Tuesday the 23rd Day of September, 1783, Part of the neat and useful Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, &c, of Mrs. Parkes, at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, who is going to retire from the Public Business; consisting of good Hogshead Copper Furnace, Hogshead Back, oval fourteen Strike Mash Tub, New, with many other Mash and other Tubs, of different Sizes; large Quantity of exceeding good Barrels, nearly new, which hold from 20 to 120 Gallons each; Oak Dining and other Tables, several large Oak Presses and Cupboards, with folding Doors, large Quantity of Chairs of different Sorts, large Mahogany Board, with Bulls Head painted on each Side, properly gilt and ornamented, Quantity of Glass Bottles, with Variety of good Kitchen Furniture, and many other Articles.

The Sale begins at Half-past Nine o'Clock in the morning.

NB. Two Half Hogsheads of exceeding good Cyder, and a Quantity of Gin, to be Sold by private Contract; apply a the said Inn.”

Thomas Lea, innkeeper, BULLS HEAD, Bilston. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/10/1796 - Advert

“Mr. Banks respectfully informs the Gentlemen of Bilstone and its Environs, that he intends to begin a Course of twelve Lectures in Experimental Philosophy, at Mr. Lea's, the BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilstone, on Thursday the 3rd of November, at half past Six in the Evening.

A Subscriber pays one Guinea for 18 Tickets, 12 of which admit a Gentleman or Lady, and six a Lady only. A single Lecture 2s 6d each Person.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/2/1799 - Advert

“Capital Inn.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, a capital Inn, called and known by the Name of the NEW BULLS HEAD, situate in the Center of the populous Town of Bilston, and now in the Possession of Mr. Thomas Lea. The Stock and Goods to be taken at a Valuation. The Premises consist of four capital Cellars, and Wine Vault, three good Parlours, Bar, Tap Room, Pantry, Cooking Kitchen, Larder, and a spacious Club Room, well attended by four good Clubs, six good Lodging Rooms, Store Room, large and convenient Brewhouse, with convenient Store Room over the same, and Lead Pipe to convey the Liquor into the Cellars; a good Pump well supplied with excellent Water; three Stables, Pigsties, Garden, and many other Conveniences, all entire.

The Household Goods are all in good Condition, and in general very modern; Copper and Brewing Tubs, good and in prime Condition, the Barrels exceeding capital, and contain from 600 Gallons to Hogsheads, Half Hogsheads, and other Casks.

The London, Birmingham, Salop, Liverpool, Manchester, and other Coaches, pass the Door almost every Hour. Such a Situation is rare to be found, and has not been offered to let for a Century past.

All Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the said Mr. Lea, are desired to send Particulars thereof immediately to Mr. Mason.

Bilston, February 8, 1799.”

George Rushbury = George Rushbery

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/1/1799 - Advert

“CROWN AND ANCHOR INN and Hotel, Bilston.

George Rushbury, gratefully sensible of the Favours conferred upon him, by a generous Public, at the OLD BULLS HEAD, returns his most sincere Thanks for the same, and respectfully informs the Gentry, Travellers, and Public at large, that he has taken and entered upon the above Inn (formerly the NEW BULLS HEAD, situate at the lower Part of the Town, leading to Birmingham) which he has fitted up in a neat and elegant Style for their Reception, and where he will use his utmost Endeavours to render their Accommodation both pleasant and satisfactory.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/12/1800 - Advert

“Bilston Christmas Ball will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 30th of December, 1800.”

BILSTON CHRISTMAS BALL will be held at the New Bull's Head Inn, To morrow (Tuesday)
the 30th of December, 1800.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/4/1802 - Advert

“Copyhold Premises.

To be Sold by Auction, by F. Pool, on Thursday the 22nd day of April, 1802, at the House of George Rushbery, the Sign of the BULLS HEAD, in Bilston.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/7/1804 - Advert

“Mines of Coal and Ironstone to be let.

At the House of Mr. George Rushbury, commonly called the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/11/1804 - Advert

“Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction for one whole Year, commencing the 1st Day of January next, at the House of George Rushbury, the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Tuesday the 20th Day of November, 1804, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the 13th Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, 'For regulating the Turnpike Roads;' which Tolls were let on Lease, the last Year, for the Sum of £984 clear of the Expenses of collecting them, and will be put up at that Sum.

Whoever happens to be the best Bidder, must at the same Time, give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct, and make a Deposit of £5 per Cent on the whole Rent.

By Order of the Trustees, John Willim, Clerk and Treasurer. Bilston, October 22, 1804.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/11/1806 - Advert

"Freehold and Copyhold Buildings and Land, at Bilston and Tipton.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. Moreton, at the Dwelling House of George Rushbury, known by the Name or Sign of the BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/11/1808 - Advert

"The First Bilston Card and Dancing Assembly will be held at the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, on Thursday next, the 1st of December."

THE FIRST BILSTON CARD and DANCING ASSEMBLY will be held at the New Bull's Head Inn, on Thursday next, the 1st of December.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/10/1812 - Advert

"Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, for one whole Year, commencing the first Day of January next, at the House of George Rushbury, the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston aforesaid....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/3/1813 - Advert

"Wanted immediately by George Rushbury, BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, a plain Cook, who perfectly understands her Business.

No one need apply who cannot bring a good Character from her last Place.

Wages will be no Object."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/10/1813 - Advert

"At a Meeting held at the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, September 14, 1813, in Order to consider of the Propriety of establishing an Institution for the Purpose of providing effectual and permanent Relief for the Widows and Families of that useful Class of our fellow Men, who are so continually exposed to Danger, and frequently are killed by Accidents in the Pits, Samuel Fereday, Esq, being unanimously called to the Chair, it was Resolved that it appears to this Meeting that such an Institution as the one now proposed is highly necessary and Expedient. Resolved, that the Proprietors of Coal, Ironstone, and other Mines in this Neighbourhood, as well as the Public at large, be requested to lend their Assistance to promote the Object of this Institution....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/10/1815 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction Tomorrow, the 3rd Day of October, at Two o'Clock in the Afternoon, at Mr. G. Rushbury's, the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, about 1600 Bushels of Malt....."

George Rushbury – see also ROYAL GEORGE, Church Street.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/1/1817 - Advert

"To be disposed of, the Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of an old established Inn and Public House, in full Business, the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, the present Proprietor declining on Account of other Engagements.

The above will be found an Opportunity that seldom offers, being one of the completest Inns on a small Scale, and in the greatest Thoroughfare on the North Road, and makes up from twelve to 20 Beds per Night, with Stabling for twenty Horses, excellent Cellaring, and one of the greatest Draughts of Ale in the Country; Rent low, and the Whole to be taken at fair Valuation.

For Particulars apply on the Spot, or to S. Bloore, Auctioneer, Colmore Row, Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/4/1817 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, Tomorrow and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th of April inst, the Lease, License, and Goodwill, with immediate Possession, of that valuable Inn and Tavern, known by the Name of the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, with the Whole of the Household Furniture; consisting of Mahogany and other Bedsteads, clothed with Chintz, Feather Beds, Hair and Straw Mattresses, Dressing Tables, Wash-hand Stands, Dressing Glasses, Sheets, Blankets, and Coverlets, Dining, Card, and Pembroke Tables, Sofas, Chairs, Sideboards, Carpets, Clock and Case, a five-motion Beer Machine, &c. The Whole has been lately purchased new, regardless of Expense; with all the prime Stock of old Ale, choice Wines, Liquors, Brewing Utensils, Fixtures, &c, which will be sold without Reserve.

Sale to commence at Half-past Ten, and continue without Intermission until each Day's Sale is ended."

John Batte = John Battie = John Battee

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/11/1817 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction on Friday the 14th Day of November, at the House of John Battie, known by the Name or Sign of the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford....."

John Batte, NEW BULLS HEAD, High Street. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/4/1820 - Advert

"Important and Lucrative Inn, Bilston, Staffordshire, where there are upwards of thirty Stage Coaches stop daily, neat Household Furniture, excellent well-seasoned store and other Casks, Utensils, and numerous Effects, also the Goodwill, Licenses, and immediate Possession of the House and Trade therewith connected.

By J. P. Tregent. To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, this present Monday and Tomorrow, April 17 and 18, all the appropriate Household Furniture, Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, Utensils, Stock in Trade, and Effects, and the Goodwill and Licenses of that well-known old-established Inn, the NEW BULLS HEAD, situated in that flourishing Town, Bilston, being surrounded by Coal and Iron Works, and on the immediate Posting Road from London to Holyhead, now in the Tenure of Mr. Battee, who is retiring from the said Line of Business.

Particulars appear in Catalogues.

The Sale to commence each Day at Ten o'clock in the morning, subject to the usual Conditions.

For further Information, apply on the Premises, or to Mr. Tregent, Auctioneer, Snow Hill, Birmingham, who has a small, compact low-rented Public House to let."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/12/1881

"Bilston Fifty Years Ago from a 1827 directory.....

In 1827 the workhouse was still at the back of the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, but a new one was in course of erection in Workhouse Fold, during the overseership of Adam Hill and Montague Taylor."

Phineas Bullock was also a glazier and painter. [1833]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/7/1835 - Advert

"Most Desirable Land and Building. To be Sold by Private Treaty, situated in Bilston.....

The moiety or half-part of that commodious and well-established Inn, the NEW BULLS HEAD, with an under-tenement adjoining, extensive outbuildings, yard, &c, in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Bullock."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/3/1836 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately.

All that well-established Public House, called the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, situated in High Street, Bilston, together with the stables and buildings thereto belonging, and either with or without a large Malthouse, the whole of which is now, and for several years past, has been in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Bullock.

The above property has three large clubs attached, is carrying on an extensive business, for which it is well-adapted, and is situated in the centre of a very thickly populated district, surrounded by coal and iron works.

The stock and fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

For rent and other particulars apply to Mr. John Bullock, High Street; to Mr. Phineas Bullock, on the premises; or to Mr. Richard Corbett, New Town, all of Bilston."

1841 Census

High Street

- [1] Phineas Bullock (60), coal master, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Phineas Bullock (33), glazier, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary Bullock (20), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Bullock (18), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Elizabeth Bullock (15), born Staffordshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/8/1841

“The general annual licensing meeting was held on Friday.....

The following is a list of the new licenses granted.....

Phineas Bullock, in lieu of the BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/9/1841 - Advert

“BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston.

To be Let, and may be entered upon at Michaelmas, the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, now in full business, and in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Bullock, who is removing to a new house near Priestfields.

The premises comprise extensive cellaring, a large tap room and parlour to the front, kitchen, bar, and small parlour at the back, a large club room, and seven convenient bed rooms. There is an enclosed back yard, with brewhouse, stabling, larder, and other suitable out-buildings.

The incoming tenant will have the option to take either a part or none of the stock, fixtures, brewing utensils, &c.

To view the premises apply to Mr. Bullock; and for further particulars to Richard Corbett, auctioneer, &c, New Town, Bilston.”

Phineas Bullock died in the 3rd quarter of 1842.

Phineas Bullock, son of Phineas Bullock – see NEW BULLS HEAD, Wellington Road.

Birmingham Journal 17/6/1848

“At the Wednesbury Public Office, on Tuesday, before John Leigh, Esq, Stipendiary Magistrate, and James Bagnall, Esq, a case of some importance to lodges and friendly societies came on for hearing. Joseph Johnson, landlord of the HAND AND BOTTLE, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, was summoned by Frederick Atkins, Joseph Fellows, and Thomas Worton, as trustees of a Lodge of Good Fellows, formerly held at his house, on a charge of refusing to deliver up to them certain boxes, desks, money, &c, which had been entrusted to him as landlord of the house.

It appeared that about three months back the lodge had been removed to the house of Hannah Caddick, the BULLS HEAD, owing to the members being afraid that the room in which they met would fall in, as it had actually done since they shifted. A special meeting of the members had been held for the purpose of considering the removal, and every step taken in connection with the matter which the rules required, they having been certified by Mr. Tidd Pratt, and the lodge enrolled according to Act of Parliament. The cheque-book of the lodge lay in one of the desks which defendant had refused to give up, and they were consequently unable to draw any money from the bank or get a new book.

In defence, Mr. Johnson said that the whole affair had been managed very quietly, so that those members who were against the removal should know nothing of it, or at least had received so very short notice of the special meeting, as to render it inconvenient for them to attend. This was denied by the trustee who appeared for the lodge, but as the defendant said he should be able to bring forward proof, if the case was adjourned, Mr. Leigh complied with a request made for that purpose, and ordered the parties to be in attendance next Tuesday at Bilston.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/6/1848

“Bilston Public Office, on Tuesday last.....

Joseph Johnson, landlord of the HAND AND BOTTLE, who had refused to give up the property he held belonging to No.3 Lodge of Good Fellows, consented to give up the same upon the members of the lodge paying him £4 for the rent of the room in which they had held their meetings.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/6/1850 - Advert

"Honour all Men, Love the Brotherhood, Fear God, Honour the King.

Grand Protestant Association of Loyal Orangemen of Great Britain.

By command of the most Worshipful Grand Master, the Right Hon. the Earl of Enniskillen.

I Hereby Give Notice that the Grand Lodge will be held in St. Mary's School, Oxford Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, on Tuesday, July 2, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, for the transaction of the Annual Business of the Order in this Kingdom.

The Grand Committee will assemble on the previous afternoon, at four o'clock, for the transaction of preliminary business.

There will be a Banquet in the Evening of Tuesday, at six o'clock, at which the Most Worshipful the Grand Master is expected to preside also, to take place at the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street.

Clergymen and Gentlemen who support Protestant principles are cordially invited to join the Orangemen at this Banquet. Those who determine to do so are requested to communicate their intention to me on the preceding day; if by letter, addressed to me at the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston.

Thomas Gibson, Grand Secretary. Chowbent, near Manchester, June 19, 1950."

1851 Census

High Street

[1] Hannah Caddick (60), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Elizabeth Caddick (33), daughter, born Bilston;

[3] Hellen Caddick (31), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] William Henry Caddick (21), son, born Bilston;

[5] Selina Reece (20), house servant, born Ashley North Gloucester;

[6] Mary Allen (18), house servant, born Bentley Hay, Staffordshire;

[7] George Thomas (22), house servant, born Shrewsbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/7/1851

"The No.3 lodge of Good Fellows celebrated their anniversary on Monday last, at the house of Mrs. Hannah Caddick, OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, when ninety members sat down to an elegant dinner, served in the best style of the worthy hostess. The Rev. R. J. Heafield, vicar of St. Luke's, presided, supported by J. Dickenson, Esq, surgeon. The usual loyal toasts were given, and an excellent address delivered to the members by the rev. chairman. The utmost good feeling prevailed, and the festivities of the evening were closed by a merry dance."

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/8/1851

"On Tuesday last, the Midland Unity Lodge of Odd Fellows, to the number of 120, celebrated their anniversary at the house of Mrs. Hannah Caddick, OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston. After attending divine service at the Primitive Methodist Chapel, they perambulated the town, headed by an excellent brass band, after which they returned to the lodge room, where an excellent dinner was prepared for them by the respected hostess, and to which ample justice was done. The day proved one of real enjoyment to all."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1851

"An inquest was held on Saturday last, at the sign of the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, on the body of John Williams, a miner, aged 34, who died on the previous day from injuries received through a quantity of coal falling on him whilst at work in a pit belonging to Benjamin Gibbons, Esq. The inquest was adjourned to Wednesday last when a verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/5/1852

"On Monday last, a meeting of the shareholders in the Bilston Gas Light and Coke Company was held at the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, to determine upon making another call upon the shareholders The additional outlay proposed by the directors, in accordance with the report and estimate of the manager of the works, was unanimously sanctioned by the shareholders. It is intended to provide a new gas holder, to lay down larger mains in two or three of the principal streets in the town, and to extend the mains to Catchems Corner, Ettingshall New Village, and Bradley. The improvement cannot fail to afford considerable satisfaction to the inhabitants of the township. A call of 14s 6d per share, payable July 1st, was ordered to be made, which would give £2,900, a sum it was believed sufficient for the extension of the works."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/11/1854 - Advert

"Desirable Freehold Property. Commanding First-Rate Situations for an Extensive Business, in the populous town of Bilston, being in the centre of the South Staffordshire Coal and Iron Works.

To be Sold by Auction, by Fallows and Smith, at the house of Mrs. Caddick, the BULLS HEAD, Bilston, Tomorrow....."

Hannah Caddick died on 3rd July 1855.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1856 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold Property, at Bradley, near Bilston, with the Mines and Minerals under the same.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. S. Powell, at the house of Miss Caddick, the OLD BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Tuesday next....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/12/1857

"The Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Bilston Gas Light and Coke Company will be held at the house of Miss Caddick, the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, on Monday, January the 4th, 1858, at twelve o'clock at noon.

Job Smith Lester, Clerk to the Company. Bilston Gas Works, December 18, 1857."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/1/1861 - Advert

"High Street, Bilston. To be Let, with immediate possession, if required, that old-established full-licensed Inn and Liquor Vaults, the OLD BULLS HEAD INN, with extensive Yard, Stabling, Gig-house, and Out-buildings. The House consists of Bar, Liquor Shop, Back Parlour, Front Kitchen, large Club Room, and Sitting Room, five Bedrooms, several Club and Revenue Offices. This long-established and well-known House has for many years commanded a good in and out-door trade. Stock and Fixtures to be taken to at a fair valuation.

Apply on the Premises, or to Mr. John Caddick."

1861 Census

70, High Street

[1] Edward Ward (39), victualler, born Wentnor, Shropshire;

[2] Mary Ward (36), wife, born Clun, Shropshire;

[3] George Ward (12), son, born Wentnor, Shropshire;

[4] Mary A. Speed (18), servant, born Dudley;

[5] Margaret Trow (16), servant, born France:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/8/1863

"At Bilston Police Court yesterday.....

Samuel Guest, a well-known character, for creating a disturbance at the BULLS HEAD, High Street, was ordered to find sureties, or in default one month's imprisonment."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1863 - Advert

"Wanted, a steady Young Man, to assist in Brewing and to make himself generally useful.

Apply, BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston."

WANTED, a steady Young MAN, to assist in Brewing and to make himself generally useful.—Apply, Bull's Head, High Street, Bilston.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/9/1864

"Yesterday the magistrates sat in Special Sessions, for the consideration of the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses to victuallers.....

The following houses and their landlords had been complained against and fined during the year.....

J. Vickers, BULLS HEAD, High Street."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/12/1865

"John Vickers, of the BULLS HEAD, High Street, was yesterday fined £5 and costs, at Bilston Police Court, for allowing drunkenness in his house, on Monday night week. When Police-sergeant Harrison visited the house he found thirty or forty men there, and one of them was so drunk that he could not walk."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year’s list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

John Vickers, BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston License renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/10/1866 - Advert

“Bilston. Sale Tomorrow (Tuesday), at the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, of Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, Store Casks, and Liquor Shop Fittings; comprising the Furniture of four Bed Chambers and Sitting Room, Parlour and Tap Room Tables and Benches, Gas Fittings, Pewter-top Counters, Shelving, stone and wood Liquor Casks, 6-pull Ale Engine, Pewter Measures, Liquor Fountain, Cupboard, Kitchen Utensils, Mash Tub, lead-lined Coolers, Malt Crusher, sound and sweet 300, 400, and 600 gallon Ale Store Casks, Half Hogsheads and Hogsheads, Gathering Tub, Brewing Utensils, Round Tubs, and other Public House Effects.

Lot 1. The Goodwill and Possession of this excellent Spirit Vaults, one of the oldest and best, in the principal street of Bilston.

By John Gray, Tomorrow (Tuesday), October 23rd, upon the Premises, in High Street, close to Dudley Street.

Sale to commence at Ten o’clock in the morning.

Catalogues may be had of the Auctioneer, 35½, Cannon Street, Birmingham.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/8/1868 - Advert

“To be Let, the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, the Inland Revenue Office, which is doing a good business. Rent and incoming moderate. Stock and Fixtures taken to at valuation.

Apply on the Premises.”

TO BE LET, the BULL'S HEAD INN,
BILSTON, the Inland Revenue Office, which is doing a good business. Rent and incoming moderate. Stock and Fixtures taken to at valuation.—Apply on the Premises.

London Gazette 31/12/1869

“John Vickers, now residing at Ettingshall-lane, near the BRIDGE INN, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, formerly of the BRIDGE INN, Ettingshall-lane aforesaid, and previously of the BULLS HEAD INN, High-street, Bilston aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and a Coker, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, on the 29th day of December, 1869, is hereby required to surrender himself to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq., Registrar of the said Court at the first meeting of Creditors, to be held before the said Registrar, on the 15th day of January next, at twelve o’clock, at noon precisely, at the said Court.

Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq., of Wolverhampton is the Official Assignee, and A. E. Greenway, Esq., of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

David Richards was also an inland revenue officer. [1870]

David Richards – see also TURKS HEAD.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/9/1870

“An inquest was held on Monday at the BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, by the Coroner, on the body of Ralph Grice, collier, aged 67. Deceased went down a pit belonging to Philip Williams, Coseley, on Friday night, for the purpose of pumping, and at half-past three the next morning another collier named Turner went down the pit and found deceased lying down, with a quantity of clods upon him, by the fall of which he had apparently been killed. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and strongly recommended that no one should be left in a pit alone at night.”

1871 Census

70, High Street – BULLS HEAD

[1] Benjamin S. Ford (28), formerly grocer, licensed victualler employing 3 assistants, born Cradley, Herefordshire;

[2] Alice M. Ford (20), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Harry R. S. Ford (2 months), son, born Bilston;

[4] Annie Lemon (20), barmaid, born Cubley, Derbyshire;

[5] Thomas Fletcher (25), man servant, born Sedgley;

[6] Ellen Dunn (18), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

[7] William Hall (18), domestic servant, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/7/1872

“An adjourned meeting of the newly-formed Chartermasters’ Association was held on Tuesday night, at the WHITE LION INN, Darlaston, and there was a large attendance. Mr. S. Bayley, of Walsall, presided.

With reference to the conference of mine agents and chartermasters, which, according to the programme fixed on Friday, should have taken place at an earlier hour, it was stated that the several mine agents of the district had been seen on the subject, and had expressed an opinion that, bearing in mind the different conditions upon which the charters were fixed in various parts of the district, no united action on their part could possibly arise from a conference with the association, and that therefore the better course would be for each agent to deal separately with the chartermasters associated with him. Under these circumstances no conference had taken place. Attention was given to the subject of the increased advantages requisite to compensate the chartermasters for the concessions granted to the men, but in the end it was deemed advisable to defer the further consideration of the subject until a future meeting. A decided opinion was expressed, however, that the advance of one-ninth was not sufficient, it being merely an advance of the same extent as that granted to the men, while the chartermasters were deprived of one hour’s work per day from which to gain a profit. The idea that the association was animated by a spirit antagonistic to the men’s interest, was strongly deprecated.

About 100 members were enrolled, and a subscription of £1 from each of the local associations towards the funds of the central association received. Meetings were then fixed for Thursday evening, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston; the CASTLE INN, Willenhall; and the COMMERCIAL INN, Walsall; and for Friday evening, at the WHITE LION INN, Darlaston.”

Benjamin Samuel Ford was also an inland revenue officer. [1873]

Cannock Chase Examiner 1/8/1874

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes Hunt v Ford. Mr. Huddleston, QC, and Mr. Young for the plaintiff; and Mr. Staveley Hill, QC, and Mr. J. O. Griffiths for the defendants.

This action was brought to recover possession of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston. After the hearing of the evidence, and arguments by the learned counsel, a verdict for the plaintiff was agreed to, subject to arrangements as to the fittings in the house; possession to be given up in a fortnight, and each party to pay their own costs.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/3/1876

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes Hunt and Another v Caddick and Mason.

This was an action by John Thomas Hunt and Edward Phillips to recover damages for an alleged breach of contract on the part of defendants, John Caddick and John Mason, of Bilston. Mr. Matthews, QC, with Mr. Jelfe, were counsel for the plaintiffs; Mr. A. S. Hill, QC, MP, and Mr. Young, appeared for the defendant Mason, and Mr. Powell, QC, with whom was Mr. J. Underhill, for Caddick.

In opening the case, Mr. Matthews said the defendant Caddick was formerly the owner of a public house called the BULLS HEAD, at Bilston, and the other defendant acted as his solicitor. In 1873 the BULLS HEAD, then in the occupation of a man named Ford, was offered for sale, and the sale was attended by many persons, including the plaintiffs to this action. The bidding soon reached £900, and then flagged, and Phillips complained that no date had been given as that on which the buyer of the property could take possession. A consultation took place between the auctioneer and Caddick, after which, on Caddick’s instruction, the auctioneer announced that possession would be given on the 25th March, 1874. Thereupon the bidding ran up until at the last the house was knocked down to Phillips for £1,050. In pursuance of the undertaking given by him, Caddick took steps to get Ford out of the house by the following Lady-day, which was then six months distant. He served a notice to quit upon Ford, but the latter returned the document, alleging that Caddick had no right to give such notice, as the tenancy commenced at Christmas, and could only be cancelled by a notice terminating at that period, and that, as it was then too late for a notice terminating at the ensuing Christmas, he could not be made to leave until Christmas 1874. In the meanwhile Phillips engaged in a colliery transaction, and not caring to keep the public house he sold his bargain to Hunt, who had been the landlord of the OLD BOAR, at Bilston. Hunt paid Phillips his deposit, and afterwards went to Mr. Mason and told him this, and asked him to prepare the assignment from Phillips to him, which Mason did. He (the learned counsel) contended that Mason ought to have told Hunt that he was acting for Caddick, and therefore could not act for him in this matter, or else he ought to have explained that the house could not be transferred until Lady-day. Mason did neither, and on the 4th December the purchase was completed. Hunt went to a great deal of expense in the matter, but in consequence of Ford's determination to remain he could not enter into possession until Lady-day. On Mason's instructions proceedings were taken by Hunt for the ejection of Ford, which came on in the summer of 1874, but Hunt was not able to enter into possession until the following September. The present action was therefore brought for damages for non-fulfilment of contract. Caddick was bound by the agreement to deliver up possession of the house in March.

A short argument on legal points took place between the learned counsel and his Lordship, after which the Court adjourned until this (Saturday) morning."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/3/1876

".....The delay in getting possession had occasioned him great pecuniary loss and trouble. Between the 25th of March and the 11th of August, 1874, if he had remained at the OLD BOARS HEAD he should have been taking on an average £25 to £30 per week, and his business at the BULLS HEAD was rather better than the one at the BOARS HEAD. Between the 25th of March and the 11th of August he was doing nothing, and had to pay for a private house at the rate of £20 per annum.....

The Judge ruled that there was no case to go to the jury. There was nothing to justify the allegation that Caddick or his agent stated at the sale that which he knew to be untrue, for there was no reasonable ground for believing that Ford would not go out on the 25th of March, whatever he (Ford) might have in his mind at the time. The representation that possession should be given up on the 25th of March meant that Caddick would deal with his tenant in such a way that the purchaser would be legally entitled to possession at that date. It did not mean that he would give manual and actual possession. He gave notice to the tenant to leave, and that was all he could do, and when Ford refused to leave he took care to let Mr. Mason know, Mason acting for the purchaser. Therefore it was clear that as against Caddick no action could lie. The case against Mason was of a different nature, and it alleged that he had so acted as to be liable to reimburse Hunt for his loss. It was not till October, two months after the sale, that he was retained to act for Hunt. It was said that at that time he knew Ford had made a claim to remain longer in the house, and had not informed Hunt of it. But there was no evidence that Ford's claim was not altogether without foundation; and there was no evidence that Mason did not make the necessary inquiries. If, having heard Ford say he would not go out of the house, Hunt had said he would not complete the purchase, Mr. Caddick would have compelled him to complete. No damage had therefore arisen from Mr. Mason not having given notice to Hunt of Ford's claim. His Lordship then nonsuited the plaintiff, and said he was anxious that no more should be heard of the case."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/4/1876

"The Failure of Mr. John Thomas Hunt, of Bilston.

A meeting of the creditors of John Thomas Hunt, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, was held at PIPE HALL HOTEL, on the 8th instant. There was a very fair attendance of creditors. Mr. Kidney, from the office of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Williams, Walsall, represented Mr. Edward Phillips, who was joint plaintiff in the action Hunt v Caddick and Mason, heard at the last Stafford assizes, and who holds a bill of sale for £250; Mr. M. H. Pursall represented Mr. John Mason, Mr. John Caddick, and several other large creditors; Mr. Dale appeared for Mr. William Bowen, debtor's solicitor.

Mr. J. E. Fellows, solicitor, was called to the chair, and read the report of Mr. Bridgewater, accountant, of Wolverhampton, from which it appeared that Hunt's liabilities amounted to £2,200, or thereabouts, whilst his assets, which consisted of his furniture and stock, according to the valuation of Mr. George Clay, amounted to £140. Upon the chairman asking what proposition Hunt had to make, he was informed that the debtor had no offer whatever to make; he left himself entirely in the hands of his creditors. After the debtor had been called into the room, and severely cross-examined by Mr. Kidney as to the removal of some furniture and stock-in-trade, and also as to several creditors which he had set down, whose debts it was asserted were fictitious, it was arranged to wind the estate up in liquidation.

Mr. J. E. Fellows, Mr. Hughes, Wednesbury, and Mr. W. Bowen were appointed a committee of inspection, and Mr. Bridgewater trustee. Mr. Bowen was entrusted with the filing of the resolution.

Mr. Phillips still retains possession of the BULLS HEAD INN, under his bill of sale. On Thursday, at the Wolverhampton County Court, an application was made by Mr. Kidney, on behalf of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis and Williams, to restrain Mr. Bridgewater, the receiver, from carrying on the business at the BULLS HEAD INN. The receiver gave his undertaking not to continue any sales until the legality of Mr. Phillips's bill of sale was determined. An interim order of injunction has been granted by the registrar against Mr. Phillips's bill of sale, on the application of the receiver, and such order is enlarged till the 24th inst, when the legality of the same is to be argued before the court."

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/5/1876

"The Judge of the Wolverhampton County Court, Mr. A. Martineau, has given his decision in favour of the defendant in the case of Hunt v Phillips, thus declaring that the latter is entitled to enforce his rights under the bill of sale he holds against Mr. Hunt's property in the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston."

Birmingham Mail 3/8/1876

"Warwickshire Assizes.....

Robert Campion Neale, commission agent, surrendered to his bail, and was charged with forging and uttering an order. Mr. Etherington Smith prosecuted, and Mr. Harris defended.

In November last Mr. Myers, cigar and tobacco merchant, Dale End, advertised in the Daily Post for a pushing young man to solicit orders, and defendant was engaged at ten per cent commission remuneration. On the 20th November prisoner gave Mr. Myers an order purporting to be signed by John Hunt, of the BULLS HEAD, Bilston, for 205 boxes of cigars, his commission upon that order amounting to £7 3s. The order turned out to be a forgery, but the evidence did not prove that the prisoner had been guilty of that offence. On his behalf, it was urged that he had been very active in pushing his master's business, and as Hunt was an old friend he had ordered the goods to be sent to him, believing he would accept them and pay for them. The jury found him guilty of uttering the document, but recommended him to mercy on account of his previous good character. He was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment."

London Gazette 26/10/1877

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by John Thomas Hunt, formerly of the OLD BULLS HEAD, High-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, but now out of business, and residing in lodgings at No.42, Saint Johns-square, Wolverhampton aforesaid. Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the TALBOT HOTEL, King-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, on the 10th day of November, 1877, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 22nd day of October, 1877."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/10/1877 - Advert

"Old-Licensed Public House, OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston.

Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession.

To Spirit Merchants, Brewers, Publicans, and Others. On Monday Next, October 15.

Mr. J. Burkitt has received instructions to Sell by Auction, at the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, and subject to conditions of sale to be then read.

The Valuable Goodwill, Licenses, and Fourteen Years Lease of that old-established Old-licensed Public House, called the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston.

The House contains large and well fitted-up Spirit Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen with Cooking Range, Billiard Room, Bagatelle Room, Sitting Room, seven large Bed Rooms, five capital Cellars; also Brewhouse, with Malt Room over, Stabling for six horses, Coach-house, Piggeries, Coal House, small Cottage (let off at 3s per week), Yard, Quoit Ground, and Out-buildings. The House is one of the oldest licensed houses in the town, is situate in the main thoroughfare, and is now doing a good in and out door trade. Rent £75 per annum.

The Purchaser will be required to take to the Fixtures, Brewing Plant, Billiard and Bagatelle Tables, Stock, and Effects, at a fair valuation.

Further particulars may be obtained at the Offices of the Auctioneer, 53, Queen Street, Wolverhampton."

Midland Examiner 16/2/1878 - Advert

"Old-Licensed Public House, OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, Staffordshire.

To Spirit Merchants, Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

Mr. J. Burkitt will Sell by Auction, on the premises, High Street, Bilston, on Monday, the 18th day of February, 1878, at Six o'clock in the Evening precisely, and subject to conditions of sale to be then produced and read, the following valuable Property.

All that Old-established and Licensed Public House, called the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston. The house contains large and well-fitted up spirit vault, smoke-room, kitchen, with cooking range; billiard-room, bagatelle-room, sitting-room, six large bedrooms, five capital cellars, also brewhouse, with malt-room over, stabling for six horses, coach-house, piggeries, coalhouse, yard, quoit ground, and outbuildings, and also a Cottage at the rear of the above.

The OLD BULLS HEAD is one of the oldest licensed houses in Bilston, is situate in the main thoroughfare, and is now doing a good in and out door trade.

The purchaser will be required to take to the fixtures, brewing plant, billiard and bagatelle tables, stock, and effects, at a valuation.

The property is copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath, and will be sold subject to a mortgage for £900 at 5 per cent, but all interest thereon will be paid up to the date of completion.

Further particulars may be obtained at the offices of the Auctioneer, 53, Queen Street, Wolverhampton, or from Messrs. Paddock and Sons, solicitors, Hanley."

FAST Bay Pony, 13 hands, age five years; also, a splendid Skeleton Dennet Gig, in first-class condition.—Apply, C. C. Nathan, Wolverhampton; or Old Bull's Head, High Street, Bilston, where it can be seen.

Birmingham Daily Post 26/7/1878 - Advert

"Fast Bay Pony, 13 hands, age five years; also, a splendid Skeleton Dennet Gig, in first-class condition.

Apply, C. C. Nathan, Wolverhampton; or OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, where it can be seen."

Birmingham Daily Post 3/8/1878

"From last night's London Gazette Liquidations by Arrangement.....

John T. Hunt, Bilston, licensed victualler's assistant."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1878

"A meeting of the creditors of John Thomas Hunt, in lodgings at No.27, Dudley Street, Bilston, a licensed victualler's assistant, formerly of the OLD BULLS HEAD, High Street, Bilston, was held yesterday, at the office of Mr. A. B. East, the debtor's solicitor, Cherry Street, Birmingham. The statement of affairs showed unsecured creditors, £1,409 18s 9d; creditors fully secured, £10 5s; value of security, £25; creditors partly secured, £925; value of security, £900. Assets, book debts, £110 19s 3d, estimated to produce £10; surplus from creditors fully secured, £14 15s. The creditors agreed to accept a composition of 1s in the pound, payable in a month, to be secured to the satisfaction of the chairman."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/4/1880

"Yesterday evening, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, Mr. H. Brevitt, Deputy Coroner, resumed an inquest touching the death of Catherine Corley, aged 7 years, daughter of Michael Corley, of Smith Street, Bilston.

The evidence previously given showed that deceased went to bed apparently well at about half-past seven o'clock on Friday night, the 2nd inst, after having some bread and butter and tea. She did not at the time complain of illness, but at about half-past nine o'clock the same night she was taken ill and vomited, besides being very much purged. No doctor was sent for, and early the following morning she was taken worse, and died shortly afterwards before the medical gentleman arrived.

Messrs. Cameron and Smith, surgeons, who had made a post mortem examination, being unable to say that the child had died from natural causes, the stomach was ordered to be sent to Mr. Jones, the county analyst, for him to make an analysis of it. The inquiry was adjourned until yesterday.

Mr. Jones now stated that he had made a careful analysis of the stomach which had been forwarded to him, but failed to discover any poisonous substance or any indications that poison had been taken.

Ann Corley, the mother of the child, said that deceased had tea out of the same teapot as the rest of the family, and the bread and butter were the same. About two and a half hours afterwards she was taken sick. The vomit was watery, but there was nothing particular about it. Since the death of deceased another child had been seized in a similar manner, but recovered. The house in which they dwelt had two bedrooms. Eleven persons resided in the house – herself, her husband, and nine children, and on the night when the child was taken ill six of the children, herself, and her husband slept in one room. The eldest daughter sleeping in the room was twenty-four years of age. One boy was sleeping in the other room, and two other sons were at work. They had lived in this house for twelve months, and had slept during that time in the manner mentioned. The rent was 2s 2d per week, and was collected by a Mr. Wedge for the landlady, a widow. None of the family were in a sick club.

Inspector Cooke stated that he had made inquiries, but had not been able to obtain any evidence to throw light on the death of the deceased.

Mr. Cameron, surgeon, recalled, said since the last enquiry he had given the matter further consideration, and he had come to the conclusion that death was due to asphyxia arising from arrest of the circulation of the lungs whilst the deceased was in a state of collapse, and that the collapse had resulted from an attack of so-called British cholera. He had come to this conclusion, having seen another member of the family affected similarly to the deceased. In answer to the Coroner, witness said he had never known a case of English cholera prove fatal in a day, but a weakly subject might die in that time. He did not see deceased during life. He would not say that death was not due to suppressed scarlet fever, the two diseases being sometimes mistaken for each other.

Mr. S. J. Smith, surgeon, was also recalled, and said that, notwithstanding that no poison had been found in the stomach, he was of opinion that death was the result of irritant poison. Death might, however, have been due to the so-called English cholera, but certainly not to suppressed scarlet fever. In the latter case he should have expected convulsions. Over-crowding might have caused blood poisoning, and this would produce sickness and purging. The state of the house was sufficient to produce a good many diseases, including so-called English cholera.

Inspector Cooke who had been sent during the inquiry by the Coroner to measure the rooms, said the room in which the eight persons had slept was 11ft 5in by 12ft and 6ft 10in high, and the other one 14ft 7in long, 7ft 9in wide, and 9ft high. The second room was entered from the first. In the first room were two beds, and in the second a quantity of rags.

The Coroner then summed up at length, and referred to the unsatisfactory character of the medical evidence owing to the two surgeons who had made the post mortem examination disagreeing as to the cause of death. With regard to the dwelling he should certainly call the attention of the police to its overcrowded state, and request them to take the necessary measures to put down the nuisance.

The jury, after a quarter of an hour's consultation, returned an open verdict that the child died during a state of collapse, but that there was no evidence to show the cause of the collapse."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/10/1880 - Advert

"Moxley. Capital Beerhouse to Let, the SPREAD EAGLE; near to large Ironworks and collieries, situate on the main road, Moxley. Rent £30. In-coming under £100.

Apply, Mr. J. T. Hunt, Auctioneer and Hotel Valuer, OLD BULLS HEAD HOTEL and Sale Rooms, High Street and Dudley Street, Bilston."

1881 Census

70, High Street – BULLS HEAD

[1] John Hunt (42), licensed victualler and auctioneer, born Macclesfield;

[2] Elizabeth Hunt (38), wife, born Hanley, Staffordshire;

[3] Lizzie M. Hunt (16), daughter, barmaid, born Stockport;

[4] Sarah Hallett (16), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/10/1881 - Advert

"To Professionals. To be Sold, cheap, a large quantity of gentleman's Stage Dresses, including pads; also a small Drop Scene and Back Scene, with roller and fittings, complete.

Apply, J. T. Hunt, BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/11/1881 - Advert

"For Sale, a splendid Walnut Drawing Room Suite, almost new; also, two very good Cottage Pianofortes, in walnut; also, Bedroom Furniture, &c.

Apply, BULLS HEAD HOTEL, Bilston."

FOR Sale, a splendid Walnut Drawing Room Suite, almost new; also, two very good Cottage Pianofortes, in walnut; also, Bedroom Furniture, &c.—Apply, Bull's Head Hotel, Bilston.

John Thomas Hunt – see also OLD BOARS HEAD.

Leamington Spa Courier 3/2/1883

"The first annual show of poultry, pigeons, rabbits, and cage birds in connection with the Leamington Ornithological and Homing Society took place at the Royal Music Hall, Bath Street, on Saturday and Monday, and was a considerable success.....

Rabbits Silver Grey Very Highly Commended W. J. Dickins, BULLS HEAD, Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 6/10/1883

"John Guest, BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, was charged by PS O'Brien with selling liquor on licensed premises without a license. On Tuesday, PS O'Brien went into the house, and was supplied by the defendant, who, in reply to questions, admitted that the late landlord had left the house, and that he had not had the license transferred to him.

Mr. Turvey, manager for Messrs. Chester, owners of the house, said the matter had arisen out of a mistake, the firm being under the impression that the transfer had been completed, as the matter had been for some time in the hands of the magistrates clerk, but there was a difficulty in the way of getting a magistrate's signature to the papers.

Mr. Hall pointed out that the matter had occurred before in one of the defendant's houses, but the summons had been withdrawn.

Chief Superintendent Longden expressed his willingness to withdraw the summons on payment of costs. The Bench, however, imposed a fine of 10s and costs."

Darlaston Weekly Times 9/2/1884

"Monthly meeting of the Bilston Night Watch Committee.....

Letters were read from Mr. John Guest, of the BULLS HEAD INN, and Mr. J. G. Nayler, warmly thanking the night watchmen through the committee for the care of the premises, the former of which had been inadvertently left open with no one in charge. In the case of Mr. Nayler, what might have been a serious fire was prevented by the timely action of the watchman and PC Jackson. The feeling of the committee was that the letters showed the necessity of maintaining the institution, the funds of which showed a fair balance in hand."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1884

"The Bilston annual Brewster Sessions took place yesterday.....

After consulting for a short time, the Bench decided to renew all the old licenses, with the exception of the following, whose holders have been fined during the past year, and who will have to apply again at the adjourned meeting on the 26th prox.....

OLD BULLS HEAD, Bilston."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1884

"Yesterday Bilston adjourned Brewster Sessions was held.....

Chief Superintendent Longden presented the list of publicans who had been convicted during the year. The Bench, after severely cautioning the persons in question, agreed to renew the licenses."

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/9/1884

"Henry Nicholas was charged with stealing a florin and half a pint of whisky from Mr. J. Guest, BULLS HEAD public house, Bilston. Mrs. Guest said that on Friday last defendant had entered her house, and had been supplied with some beer. Complainant had left the bar for a little, and when she came back the whisky tap was leaking. Suspecting something wrong she sent a boy to see what prisoner had in his jug, and found a half pint of whisky there. She also missed a 2s piece, and prisoner was given into custody on the charges of the thefts. Remanded for a week."

AND

Darlaston Weekly Times 27/9/1884

"Henry Nicholas was charged with stealing half a pint of whisky from Mr. J. Guest, BULLS HEAD INN, Bilston, and further with stealing a florin from the same inn.

Prisoner, when the offence was proved, said, in a quiet, confident tone, 'Well, I'm the son of an emperor, sir, and I'm sorry that this has occurred.' Further he said, 'If you let me go, I'll go back to my own country, Russia, and give England no more trouble, I belong to royalty, sir.'

The Bench, classing the robbery as a barefaced one, sentenced the prisoner to 21 days' hard labour."

John Guest – see also WHITE LION, Millfields Road.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/7/1885 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady, respectable Girl, not under 20.
Apply, BULLS HEAD, Bilston.”

WANTED, a steady, respectable Girl, not under 20.—
Apply, Bull's Head, Bilston. 10274

Darlaston Weekly Times 9/10/1886

“The monthly meeting of the Bilston Watch Committee was held on Wednesday night at the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street.....

The Chairman intimated that the balance in hand amounted to £14 12s 7d. The books of the night watchmen were examined by the Chairman, who intimated that during the past month in 36 cases houses and business premises had been found open or insecure.....”

1891 Census

70, High Street – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Hezekiah Harris (29), licensed victualler, born Bromsgrove;
- [2] Francis E. Harris (28), wife, born Bromsgrove;
- [3] Francis L. Harris (1), son, born Bromsgrove;
- [4] Martha Bath (16), domestic servant, born Kidderminster:

1901 Census

28, High Street

- [1] Hezekiah Harris (39), licensed victualler, born Bromsgrove;
- [2] Frances Ellen Harris (38), wife, born Bromsgrove;
- [3] Francis Leonard Harris (11), son, born Bromsgrove;
- [4] Oscar Bertie Harris (8), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Elsie Dora Harris (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Florence Nellie Harris (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Florence Elizabeth Bence (20), barmaid, born Bath:

1911 Census

28, High Street

- [1] Luke Corkindale (26), manager public house, born Bilston;
- [2] Laura Corkindale (28), wife, married 7 years, assistant in the business, born Bilston;
- [3] Joseph Corkindale (7), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary Corkindale (6), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Lawrence Corkindale (5), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Patience Cox (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1921 Census

28, High Street

- [1] Luke Corkindale (37), licensed victualler, manager, born Bilston;
- [2] Laura Corkindale (38), wife, manageress, born Bilston;
- [3] Joseph Corkindale (17), son, shop assistant, clothier's, born Bilston;
- [4] Marie Corkindale (16), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Lawrence Corkindale (15), son, mill hand, steel works, born Bilston:

A music license was granted on 6th July 1928.

Samuel Farrington – see also WAGGON AND HORSES, Oxford Street.

1939 Register

28, High Street

- [1] Thomas Wilde, date of birth 18/1/1882, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Sarah E. Wilde, dob 1/4/1886, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Richard W. Wilde, dob 20/4/1911, bricklayer, single;
- [4] Thomas Wilde, dob 10/9/1916, joiner, single;
- [5] Evlyn G. (Wilde) Williams, dob 27/6/1919, unpaid domestic duties, single;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/6/1953

"Arthur Samuel Chambers (38), licensee of the OLD BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, was fined £10 at Stafford Quarter Sessions yesterday on each of four counts of permitting the bar to be used for betting."

Closed

It was demolished.

WAnted, a Man to act in the Capacity of a Gardener, and to take Care of two Horses. Enquire of William Lewis, of the Bull's-Head in Bilstone, or of the Printer of this Paper.

1771

BILSTON ANNUAL ASSEMBLY,

WILL be held at the New Bull's-Head Inn, on Monday the 9th of November Instant. Tickets at 2s. 6d. each, to be had at the Bar of the Inn.

Note, A Pack of HARRIERS will go out on Thursday Morning the 12th Instant; and an Ordinary provided at the said Inn.

1778

TO be SOLD, by Order of the Assignees

of WILLIAM LEWIS, a Bankrupt, on Monday, the 6th Day of December next, and four following Days, (Wednesday excepted) at the New Bull's-Head, Bilston:

All the entire Neat Household Furniture, Plate, Linen, and China of the said Bankrupt; consisting of Bedsteads, with Moreen, Check, and other Hangings; excellent Feather Beds, Blankets, Quilts, Chairs, Tables, Bureau, Chest of Drawers, Pier and Swing Glasses; two Clocks in Oak Cases, and a Larum ditto; and good Kitchen Furniture; two large Copper Furnaces, and one smaller ditto, suitable mashing Tubs, and other Brewing Utensils, and a large Quantity of Hogheads, Half Hogheads, and smaller Barrels; two Bags of good Hops, and two or three Grogs of Glass Bottles. --- Likewise a very good Post-Chaise, almost New, and three good Chaise Horses, and Harness for four Horses complete; a set of Wheels, new bound, an exceeding good Milking Cow, and Sow and Pigs; a Quantity of Wheat and Hay, at Bilston, and a Rick at Sedgley; and all Sorts of Implements of Husbandry. -- The Sale to begin each Day at Ten o'Clock in the Morning, and Two in the Afternoon.

N. B. The Goods may be viewed at any Time before the Sale. --- Catalogues may be had next Week at the above House, and at Mr. Kent's, Auctioneer, Wolverhampton.

Bilston, 18th Dec. 1779

ALL Persons who stand indebted to the Estate and Effects of William Lewis, late of the New Bull's Head Inn, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, a Bankrupt, are hereby required forthwith to pay their respective Debts to Mr. William Bickley, one of the Assignees, or to Mr. William, Attorney, both of Bilston aforesaid; otherwise Actions at Law will be brought for the Recovery thereof.

1779

BILSTON, November 20, 1779.

AMOS PARKES respectfully informs the Public, That having taken the NEW BULL's HEAD, in BILSTON, lately occupied by Mr. William Lewis, he proposes to fit up the same in a neat and genteel Manner, for the Reception of Travellers; of which further Notice will be given in a future Paper.

1779

NEW BULL's HEAD INN, BILSTON.

JANUARY 10, 1780.

AMOS PARKES acquaints the Public, That he has taken and entered upon the above INN, which he has fitted up in a neat and genteel Manner, and begs Leave to assure them that he shall constantly endeavour to oblige his Customers, supplying them with the best Wines, and all other Kinds of Liquors; and hopes that by civil Treatment and a strict Attention to his Duty, he shall merit the Support and Encouragement of the Public in general, and his Friends in particular.

LOST, betwixt Uttoxeter and Bilston, A Bellows for Bagpipes, about a Month since. Any Person that can give Information or bring it to the new Bull's Head, Bilston, or the White Hart in Uttoxeter, shall receive Five Shillings Reward and reasonable Satisfaction. --- Bilston, July 16th, 1780.

BILSTON ANNUAL DANCING ASSEMBLY will be held at the New Bull's Head Inn, THIS EVENING the 13th Nov. Inst. Tickets at 2s. 6d. each to be had at the Bar of the House.

A Pack of Hounds will go out on Wednesday Morning.

1780

BILSTON, JULY 21, 1781.

AN Advertisement having appeared in the BIRMINGHAM GAZETTE, of the 16th Instant, setting forth, that Bilston Wake would be held upon Sunday the 29th Inst. AMOS PARKES, respectfully informs the Public, That a good BAND OF MUSIC will be engaged at the New Bull's-Head, upon Monday the 30th, to accommodate such Ladies and Gentlemen as chuse then and there to DANCE.

1781

BILSTON ANNUAL DANCING ASSEMBLY will be held at the New Bull's-Head Inn, on the 29th of July Instant, (being the Wake Monday); and on Tuesday Morning will be a PUBLIC BREAKFAST on the Bowling-Green at the said Inn. Tickets for the Ball to be had at the Bar.

TURNPIKE TOLLS to be LET.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from High-Bullen, in Wednesbury, to the further End of Darlaston-Lane, next the Portway, and from thence, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet-Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction (either together or separately), to the best Bidder, at the House of Mary Parkes, known by the Name of the New Bull's-Head Inn, situate in Bilston aforesaid, on Monday the 9th Day of December next, between the Hours of two and five in the Afternoon of the same Day, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the Thirteenth Year of the Reign of his Majesty King George the Third, "for regulating the Turnpike Roads," which Tolls produced the last Year, the Sums of 409l. 13s. 2d. Farthing, above the Expences of collecting them, and will be put up at that Sum, if let together, and if let separately, will be put up at the respective Sums produced at each Gate, as hereafter mentioned. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder or Bidders, must, at the same Time, give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for Payment of the Rent, or Rents agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

Production of each Gate from the 29th of October, 1781, to the 29th of October, 1782, clear of the Expences of collecting the same

	l.	s.	d.
Cock Heath Gate	-	-	93 0 6 $\frac{1}{2}$
Bilston Bridge	-	-	33 8 0
Gibbet-Lane	-	-	183 1 10
Cold-Lanes	-	-	25 12 9
Duck-Lane	-	-	20 11 8 $\frac{1}{2}$
Windmill	-	-	9 18 8
Catchem's Corner	-	-	44 0 2

£. 409 13 2 $\frac{1}{2}$

JOHN WILLIM,

Clerk to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.

1782

NEW BULL'S-HEAD INN, BILSTON.

TO be LET, and may be entered on at Michaelmas next (with or without Seventeen Acres of very good Land) All the above INN, which consists of a large and commodious Messuage or Dwelling-House, with exceeding good and large Cellaring, and other convenient Out-buildings; and also a large and compleat Bowling-Green, together with very good Stabling; which Premises are all situate in Bilston aforesaid.—Further Particulars may be had by applying to Mrs. Tomkys, or Joseph Purcivall, both of Bilston.

1783

BILSTON-ANNUAL DANCING ASSEMBLY will be held at the New Bull's Head, on the 28th of July Instant, being the WAKE MONDAY. —A good Band of Music will be provided.—Tickets, at 2. 6d. each, to be had at the Bar of the House.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, on the Premises, by FRANCIS POOL, on Tuesday the 23d Day of September, 1783, Part of the neat and useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Brewing Vessels, &c. of Mrs. Parkes, at the New Bull's-Head Inn, in BILSTON, in the County of STAFFORD, who is going to retire from the PUBLIC BUSINESS; consisting of good Hoghead Copper Furnace, Hoghead Back, oval fourteen Strike Mash Tub, &c., with many other Mash and other Tubs, of different Sizes; large Quantity of exceeding good Barrels, nearly new, which held from 20 to 120 Gallons each; Oak Dining and other Tables, several large Oak Presses and Cupboards, with folding Doors, large Quantity of Chairs of different Sorts, large Mahogany Board, with Bull's-Head painted on each Side, properly gilt and ornamented, Quantity of Glass Bottles, with Variety of good Kitchen Furniture, and many other Articles.—The Sale begins at Half past Nine o'Clock in the Morning.—N. B. Two Half Hogheads of exceeding good Cyder, and a Quantity of Gin, to be Sold by private Contract; apply at the said Inn.

1783

PHILOSOPHY.

MR. BANKS respectfully informs the Gentlemen of Bilstone and its Environs, that he intends to begin a Course of twelve Lectures in Experimental Philosophy, at Mr. Lea's, the Bull's Head Inn, in Bilstone, on Thursday the 3d of November, at Half past Six in the Evening.

A Subscriber pays one Guinea for 12 Tickets, 12 of which admit a Gentleman or Lady, and six a Lady only. A single Lecture 2s. 6d. each Person.

1796

CAPITAL INN.

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, a capital Inn, called and known by the Name of the New Bull's Head, situate in the Center of the populous Town of Bilston, and now in the Possession of Mr. Thomas Lea. The Stock and Goods to be taken at a Valuation. The Premises consist of four capital Cellars, and Wine Vault, three good Parlours, Bar, Tap Room, Pantry, Cooking Kitchen, Larder, and a spacious Club Room, well attended by four good Clubs, six good Lodging Rooms, Store Room, large and convenient Brewhouse, with convenient Store Room over the same, and Lead Pipe to convey the Liquor into the Cellars; a good Pump well supplied with excellent Water; three Stables, Pigsties, Garden, and many other Conveniences, all entire.

The Household Goods are all in good Condition, and in general very modern; Copper and Brewing Tubs, good and in prime Condition, the Barrels exceeding capital, and contain from 600 Gallons to Hogheads, Half Hogheads, and other Casks.—The London, Birmingham, Salop, Liverpool, Manchester, and other Coaches, pass by the Door almost every Hour. Such a Situation is rare to be found, and has not been offered to let for a Century past.

All Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the said Mr. Lea, are desired to send the Particulars thereof immediately to Mr. Mason.

Bilston, February 8, 1799.

1799

Crown and Anchor Inn and Hotel, Bilston.

GEORGE RUSHBURY, gratefully sensible of the Favours conferred upon him, by a generous Public, at the Old Bull's Head, returns his most sincere Thanks for the same, and respectfully informs the Gentry, Travellers, and Public at large, that he has taken and entered upon the above Inn (formerly the New Bull's Head, situate at the lower Part of the Town, leading to Birmingham) which he has fitted up in a neat and elegant Style for their Reception, and where he will use his utmost Endeavours to render their Accommodation both pleasant and satisfactory.

1799

BILSTON AND WEDNESBURY TURNPIKE TOLLS.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be LET by AUCTION for one whole Year, commencing the 1st Day of January next, at the House of George Rushbury, the New Bull's Head Inn, in Bilston aforesaid, on Tuesday the 20th Day of November, 1804, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the 13th Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, "For regulating the Turnpike Roads;" which Tolls were let on Lease, the last Year, for the Sum of 984l. clear of the Expences of collecting them, and will be put up at that Sum.

Whoever happens to be the best Bidder must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct, and make a Deposit of 5l. per Cent. on the whole Rent.

By Order of the Trustees,
JOHN WILLIM,
Clerk and Treasurer.

Bilston, October 22, 1804.

1804

WANTED immediately by GEORGE RUSHBURY, Bull's Head Inn, Bilston, a plain Cook, who perfectly understands her Business.—No one need apply who cannot bring a good Character from her last Place.—Wages will be no Object.

1813

TO be disposed of, the Lease, Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of an old established Inn and Public House, in full Business, the BULL'S HEAD INN, Bilston, the present Proprietor declining on Account of other Engagements. The above will be found an Opportunity that seldom offers, being one of the completest Inns on a small Scale, and in the greatest Thoroughfare on the North Road, and makes up from twelve to 20 Beds per Night, with Stabling for twenty Horses, excellent Cellaring, and one of the greatest Draughts of Ale in the Country; Rent low, and the Whole to be taken at fair Valuation.

For Particulars apply on the Spot, or to S. Bloore, Auctioneer, Colmore Row, Birmingham.

BYS. BLOORE.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, To-morrow and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th of April inst. the Lease, Licence, and Good-will, with immediate Possession, of that valuable Inn and Tavern, known by the Name of the NEW BULL'S HEAD INN, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, with the Whole of the Household Furniture; consisting of Mahogany and other Bedsteads, clothed with Chintz, Feather Beds, Hair and Straw Mattresses, Dressing Tables, Wash-hand Stands, Dressing Glasses, Sheets, Blankets, and Coverlets, Dining, Card, and Pembroke Tables, Sofas, Chairs, Sideboards, Carpets, Clock and Case, a five-motion Beer Machine, &c. The Whole has been lately purchased new, regardless of Expence; with all the prime Stock of old Ale, choice Wines, Liquors, Brewing Utensils, Fixtures, &c. which will be sold without Reserve.

Sale to commence at Half past Ten, and continue without Intermission until each Day's Sale is ended.

1817

IMPORTANT AND LUCRATIVE INN,
BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE,

Where there are upwards of thirty Stage Coaches stop daily, neat Household Furniture, excellent well seasoned store and other Casks, Utensils, and numerous Effects, also the Good-will, Licences, and immediate Possession of the House and Trade therewith connected.

BY J. P. TREGENT.—To be SOLD by AUCTION, on the Premises, this present Monday and To-morrow, April 17 and 18, all the appropriate Household Furniture, Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, Utensils, Stock in Trade, and Effects, and the Good-will and Licences of that well known old established Inn, the NEW BULL'S HEAD, situated in that flourishing Town, Bilston, being surrounded by Coal and Iron Works, and on the immediate Posting Road from London to Holyhead, now in the Tenure of Mr. Battee, who is retiring from the said Line of Business. Particulars appear in Catalogues.

The Sale to commence each Day at Ten o'Clock in the Morning, subject to the usual Conditions.

For further Information apply on the Premises, or to Mr. Tregent, Auctioneer, Snow Hill, Birmingham, who has a small, compact, low-rented Public House to let.

1820

TO BE LET,

And may be entered upon immediately,

ALL that well-established PUBLIC HOUSE, called the NEW BULL'S HEAD INN, situated in High-street, Bilston, together with the stables and buildings thereto belonging, and either with or without a large Malthouse, the whole of which is now, and for several years past has been, in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Bullock.

The above property has three large clubs attached, is carrying on an extensive business, for which it is well adapted, and is situated in the centre of a very thickly populated district, surrounded by coal and iron works.—The stock and fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

For rent and other particulars apply to Mr. JOHN BULLOCK, High-street; to Mr. PHINEAS BULLOCK, on the premises; or to Mr. RICHARD CORBETT, New Town, all of Bilston.

1836

BULL'S HEAD INN, BILSTON.

TO BE LET, and may be entered upon at Michaelmas, THE BULL'S HEAD INN, HIGH-STREET, BILSTON, now in full business, and in the occupation of Mr. Phineas Bullock, who is removing to a new house near Priestfields.

The premises comprise extensive cellaring, a large tap room and parlour to the front, kitchen, bar, and small parlour at the back, a large club room, and seven convenient bed rooms. There is an enclosed back yard, with brewhouse, stabling, larder, and other suitable out-buildings.

The incoming tenant will have the option to take either a part or none of the stock, fixtures, brewing utensils, &c.

To view the premises apply to Mr. BULLOCK; and for further particulars to RICHARD CORBETT, auctioneer, &c. New Town, Bilston.

1841

"Honour all Men, Love the Brotherhood, Fear God Honour the King."

GRAND PROTESTANT ASSOCIATION OF LOYAL ORANGEMEN OF GREAT BRITAIN.

By command of the most Worshipful Grand Master, the Right Hon. the Earl of Enniskillen.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that the GRAND LODGE will be held in St. MARY'S SCHOOL, OXFORD STREET, BILSTON, Staffordshire, on TUESDAY, JULY 2, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, for the transaction of the Annual Business of the Order in this Kingdom.

The GRAND COMMITTEE will assemble on the previous afternoon, at four o'clock, for the transaction of preliminary business.

There will be a BANQUET in the Evening of TUESDAY, at six o'clock, at which the Most Worshipful the GRAND MASTER is expected to preside also, to take place at the BULL'S HEAD INN, High-street.

Clergymen and Gentlemen who support Protestant principles are cordially invited to join the Orangemen at this Banquet. Those who determine to do so are requested to communicate their intention to me on the preceding day; if by letter, addressed to me at the Bull's Head Inn, Bilston.

THOMAS GIBSON, Grand Secretary.

Chowbent, near Manchester,
June 19, 1850.

1850

THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING of the SHAREHOLDERS of the BILSTON GAS LIGHT and COKE COMPANY will be held at the house of Miss Caddick, the BULL'S HEAD INN, HIGH-STREET, BILSTON, on MONDAY, JANUARY the 4th, 1855, at twelve o'clock at noon.

JOB SMITH LESTER, Clerk to the Company.

Bilston Gas Works, December 18, 1857.

HIGH-STREET, BILSTON.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, if required, that old-established, full-licensed INN and LIQUOR VAULTS, the "Old Bull's Head Inn," with extensive Yard, Stabling, Gig-house, and Out-buildings. The House consists of Bar, Liquor Shop, Back Parlour, Front Kitchen, large Club Room, and Sitting Room, five Bedrooms, several Club and Revenue Offices. This long-established and well-known House has for many years commanded a good in and out-door trade. Stock and Fixtures to be taken to at a fair valuation.—Apply on the Premises, or to Mr. JOHN CADDICK.

1861

BILSTON.

SALE TO-MORROW (TUESDAY),

At the OLD BULL'S HEAD, HIGH STREET, BILSTON, OF

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, STORE CASKS, AND LIQUOR SHOP FITTINGS;

Comprising the FURNITURE of four Bed Chambers and Sitting Room, Parlour and Tap Room Tables and Benches, Gas Fittings, Pewter-top Counters, Shelving, stone and wood Liquor Casks, 6-pail ALE ENGINE, Pewter Measures, Liquor Fountain, Cupboard, Kitchen Utensils, Mash Tub, lead-lined Coolers, Malt Crusher, sound and sweet 300, 400, and 600 gallon Ale Store Casks, Half Hogsheads and Hogsheads, Gathering Tub, Brewing Utensils, Round Tabs, and other Public-house Effects.

LOT 1.—The GOODWILL and POSSESSION of this excellent Spirit Vaults—one of the oldest and best, in the principal street of Bilston.

BY JOHN GRAY, TO-MORROW (TUESDAY), October 23rd, upon the Premises, in High Street, close to Dudley Street.

Sale to commence at Ten o'clock in the morning.

Catalogues may be had of the Auctioneer, 35, Cannon Street, Birmingham.

1866

Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, Old Bull's Head, High Street, Bilston.—Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession.—To Spirit Merchants, Brewers, Publicans, and Others.—On MONDAY NEXT, October 15.

MR. J. BURKITT has received instructions to Sell by Auction, at the Old Bull's Head, High Street, Bilston, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, and subject to conditions of sale to be then read—the Valuable GOODWILL, LICENSES, and Fourteen Years' LEASE of that old-established Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, called the "OLD BULL'S HEAD," High Street, Bilston. The House contains large and well-fitted-up Spirit Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen with Cooking Range, Billiard Room, Bagatelle Room, Sitting Room, seven large Bed Rooms, five capital Cellars; also, Brewhouse with Malt Room over, Stabling for six horses, Coach-house, Piggeries, Coal House, small Cottage (let off at 3s. per week), Yard, Quoit Ground, and Out-buildings. The House is one of the oldest licensed houses in the town, is situated in the main thoroughfare, and is now doing a good in and out door trade. Rent £75. per annum.

The Purchaser will be required to take to the Fixtures, Brewing Plant, Billiard and Bagatelle Tables, Stock, and Effects at a fair valuation.

Further particulars may be obtained at the Offices of the Auctioneer, 53, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

1877

OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, OLD BULL'S HEAD, HIGH-STREET, BILSTON, STAFFORDSHIRE.—To Spirit Merchants, Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

MR. J. BURKITT will SELL by AUCTION, on the premises, HIGH STREET, BILSTON, on Monday, the 18th day of February, 1878, at Six o'clock in the Evening precisely, and subject to conditions of sale to be then produced and read, the following valuable PROPERTY, namely:—

All that Old-established and Licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, called the Old Bull's Head, High-street, Bilston. The house contains large and well-filled up spirit vault, smoke-room, kitchen, with cooking range; billiard-room, bagatelle-room, sitting-room, six large bedrooms, five capital cellars, also brew-house, with maltroom over, stabling for six horses, coachhouse, piggeries, coalhouse, yard, quoit ground, and outbuildings, and also a Cottage at the rear of the above.

The Old Bull's Head is one of the oldest licensed houses in Bilston, is situate in the main thoroughfare, and is now doing a good in and out door trade.

The purchaser will be required to take to the fixtures, brewing plant, billiard and bagatelle tables, stock, and effects, at a valuation.

The property is copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath, and will be sold subject to a mortgage for £900 at 5 per cent., but all interest thereon will be paid up to the date of completion.

Further particulars may be obtained at the offices of the Auctioneer, 53, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, or from Messrs. Paddock and Sons, solicitors, Hanley.

1878

TO MALSTERS, PUBLICANS, BREWERS, and Others.

Important Sale of VALUABLE FREEHOLD OLD LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE and Premises, THE BULL'S HEAD INN, situate the Corner of JOHN STREET, and CHELL STREET, HALL GREEN, BRADLEY, in the parish of Sedgley.

MESSRS. J. MORRELL & SON are favoured with instructions from Mrs. A. Stokes, to offer for SALE BY AUCTION, on Tuesday, October 17th, 1882, upon the premises, at Six for Seven in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read, which will incorporate the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Association.

All that Valuable Freehold Old Licensed corner Inn, called the Bull's Head Inn, having a frontage of 63 ft. to John Street, and of 36 ft. 2 in. to Chell Street, Hall Green, aforesaid, containing large and commodious tap room, 14 ft. x 18 ft., well arranged smoke room, 14 ft. x 13 ft. 6 in., bar parlour, commodious kitchen, fitted with two cupboards, parlour 14 ft. x 15 ft., large brewhouse, 16 ft. 6 in. x 14 ft. 6 in., with malt room over; stable, larder, coalhouse, piggeries, and other outhouses, well paved and drained yard, large and commodious club room, 23 ft. 6 in. x 13 ft.; four good sleeping rooms, and three capital cellars.

The Property is well spouted round, supplied with hard and soft water, and is in a capital state of repair.

The Property is very substantially erection, it having been built regardless of expense.

For further particulars apply to

MR. W. BACHE.

Solicitor, Westbromwich;

Or to the Auctioneers, Swan Bank, Bilston.

1882

BULLS HEAD

24, John Street / Chell Street, Bradley, (Hall Green), (Daisy Bank), BILSTON

OWNERS

Alice Stokes

Charles Lathe, pawnbroker, Bradley, Bilston
Plant's Brewery Ltd., Netherton and Dudley
Ansells Brewery Ltd. [1956], [1957]

LICENSEES

Isaac Stokes [1860] – 1866);
Mrs. Alice Stokes (1866 – 1883);
John Chadwick (1883 – 1885);
Thomas Southall (1885 – 1887);
Thomas Hinkinson* (1887 – 1890);
Charles Jefferies (1890);
Thomas Hinkinson* (1890 – 1892);
Arthur Shorthouse (1892);
James Hinley [1892]
Ezekiel Davies (1892 – 1895);
Ann Badger (1895 – 1896);
Thomas Davies [1896]
Samuel Bright Oliver (1896 – 1898);
Ellen Oliver (1898);
Edwin McKean (1898 – 1901);
Frank Albert Stanford (1901 – 1929);
Albert Henry Davis (1929 – 1930);
John Garvey (1930 – 1933);
Philip Edward Whitehouse (1933);
Samuel Paul (1933 – 1938);
Edward George Yeoman (1938 – [1945])
Martha Jane Yeoman [1957]

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1860

“At Bilston petty sessions yesterday.....

William Dicks and John Conway were charged with stealing fowls, the property of Isaac Stokes, at Bradley. The fowls were stolen on Sunday night, and the son of the prosecutor, having been attracted by a noise to his bed room window, saw two men run away. Information of the facts were given to the police, and police-constable Harrison apprehended the prisoners, and found their boots to correspond with some peculiar marks impressed on a pit mound by the boots of two men who were traced from the prosecutor's premises to that spot. The prisoners were remanded till tomorrow, at Wolverhampton, for further evidence.”

AND

NOTICE.

ALL Parties having any CLAIMS upon the Estate of the late Mr. ISAAC STOKES, of Daisy Bank, will please send in the same to the Bull's Head Inn, Bradley Street, Bilston.

NOTICE.

RE ISAAC STOKES, DECEASED.

ALL Persons having any CLAIMS or DEMANDS against the Estate of ISAAC STOKES, late of Hall Green, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper and Ironfounder, deceased, are requested forthwith to send in particulars of such claims or demands to us, at our Offices, situate in High Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, in order that the same may be examined, and, if correct, discharged. And all persons indebted to the said Estate are desired to pay the amount of their respective debts to us without delay.

Dated this 8th day of December, 1866.

MASON and HOLMES, Solicitors to the Estate.

1866

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/11/1860

“Wolverhampton Police Court.....

William Dicks and John Conway were brought up, on remand from Bilston, charged with having stolen five fowls from the premises of Isaac Stokes, ironfounder and innkeeper, at Hall Fields. The facts, as they were laid before the Bilston Bench on Tuesday, were briefly reported in our last, but some additional evidence was given today.

The fowls, it appeared, were kept in a coal shed, which was locked on Sunday night. Early on the following morning the prosecutor was awakened by the barking of his dogs, when he heard footsteps on his premises, and called up his step-son, who on going to his bedroom window saw two men running away. On examining the premises below it was found that the fowls had been stolen, and footmarks were traced by police-officer Harrison 100 yards from the prosecutor's premises in the direction of Dicks's house. On the prisoners being apprehended their boots, the nails in which were peculiarly arranged, were found to correspond with some footsteps under the wall which separates the prosecutor's premises from the road, and in Dicks's pocket was a feather resembling the plumage of the neck of one of Mr. Stokes's fowls.

The prisoners were proved to have been together in Mr. R. Sale's spirit shop at Bilston shortly after the commission of the robbery. They said nothing in defence, and were committed for trial at the next Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/1/1861

“Staffordshire Epiphany Sessions.....

James Conway, 29, and William Dix, 35, puddlers, were indicted for stealing five fowls, the property of Isaac Stokes, at Sedgley.....

Mr. Kenealy addressed the jury for the defence, commenting upon the paucity of real evidence against the prisoners, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.”

1861 Census

Highfields

- [1] Isaac Stokes (39), ironfounder and publican employing 12 men, 4 boys and 2 girls, born Sedgley;
- [2] Alice Stokes (39), wife, born Wednesfield;
- [3] John Stokes (10), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Fanny Stokes (7), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Isaac Stokes (6), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [6] Whitmore Stokes (2), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [7] Alice Stokes (1), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [8] Charles Lathe (22), nephew, iron moulder, born Penn;
- [9] Sarah Cooper (16), servant, born Sedgley;
- [10] William Harper (11), apprentice iron moulder, born Sedgley;

Isaac Stokes died in the 4th quarter of 1866.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/10/1866 - Advert

“Notice. All Parties having any Claims upon the Estate of the late Mr. Isaac Stokes of Daisy Bank, will please send in the same to the BULLS HEAD INN, Bradley Street [sic], Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/12/1866 - Notice

“Notice. Re Isaac Stokes, Deceased.

All Persons having any Claims or Demands against the Estate of Isaac Stokes, late of Hall Green, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper and Ironfounder, deceased, are requested forthwith to send in particulars of such claims or demands to us, at our Offices, situate in High Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, in order that the same may be examined, and, if correct, discharged. And all persons indebted to the said Estate are desired to pay the amount of their respective debts to us without delay.

Dated this 8th day of December, 1866. Mason and Holmes, Solicitors to the Estate.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/12/1866

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were transferred.....

Executors of Isaac Stokes, Sedgley, to Alice Stokes.”

1871 Census

24, John Street

- [1] Alice Stokes (50), widow, victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] John Stokes (20), son, carter, born Sedgley;
- [3] Fanny Stokes (17), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [4] Whitmore Stokes (12), son, born Sedgley;
- [5] Alice Stokes (11), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Charles Dent (26), visitor, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Mary Dent (30), visitor, born Wolverhampton:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/10/1876

“The Bradley Park Cricket Club season was brought to a close on Saturday last. The members met at the BULLS HEAD, kept by Mrs. Alice Stokes, who provided a splendid spread, which was done full justice to by the members. After the cloth was drawn songs, sentiments, and speechifying were the order of the evening, with the able assistance of Mr. Job Walters, who presided at the harmonium. The worthy captain of the club, Mr. A. Bywater, presided, the vice-chair being filled by Mr. J. Mason. In the course of the evening the Chairman congratulated the members on their great success during the season, they having played 24 matches, winning 18 and losing only six, and he also spoke of the efficient manner in which the club had been carried on by the able assistance of Messrs. J. F. Baker and J. Mason. After spending a most enjoyable evening, the proceedings were brought to a close by a vote of thanks to the hostess for the able manner in which she had prepared the feast.”

Evening Express 23/2/1881

“Yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon an inquest was held before W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Daisy Bank, relative to the death of a child named Sarah Jane Highfield, who died suddenly on Sunday morning. The child was taken to bed apparently in good health on the previous night, but when the mother woke next morning she found the child in convulsions. The husband went for a doctor, but death occurred in a few moments. A verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned.”

1881 Census

24, John Street

- [1] Alice Stokes (60), widow, born Daisy Bank;
- [2] Fanny Stokes (26), daughter, born Daisy Bank;
- [3] William Stokes (22), moulder, born Daisy Bank;
- [4] Hannah Hand (19), domestic servant, born Daisy Bank:

Darlaston Weekly Times 7/10/1882 - Advert

“To Maltsters, Publicans, Brewers, and Others.

Important Sale of Valuable Freehold Old Licensed Public House and Premises, the BULLS HEAD INN, situate the Corner of John Street and Chell Street, Hall Green Bradley, in the parish of Sedgley.

Messrs. J. Morrell & Son are favoured with instructions from Mrs. A. Stokes, to offer for Sale by Auction, on Tuesday, October 17th, 1882, upon the premises, at Six for Seven in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read, which will incorporate the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Association.

All that Valuable Freehold Old Licensed corner Inn, called the BULLS HEAD INN, having a frontage of 63ft to John Street, and of 36ft 2in to Chell Street, Hall Green, aforesaid, containing large and commodious tap room, 14ft x 18ft, well-arranged smoke room, 14ft x 13ft 6in, bar parlour, commodious kitchen, fitted with two cupboards, parlour, 14ft x 15ft, large brewhouse, 16ft 6in x 14ft 6in, with malt room over; stable, larder, coal house, piggeries, and other outhouses, well paved and drained yard, large and commodious club room, 33ft 6in x 13ft; four good sleeping rooms, and three capital cellars.

The Property is well spouted round, supplied with hard and soft water, and is in a capital state of repair.

The Property is very substantially erected, it having been built regardless of expense.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Bache, Solicitor, Westbromwich; or to the Auctioneers, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

[This advert is repeated for sale by auction on 24th July 1883.]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/9/1885

“Re Alice Stokes. This bankrupt carried on business as a licensed victualler at Hall Green, Daisy Bank, the business having belonged to her late husband. That business she gave up three years ago, subsequently living on the rents of properties in Ash Street, Daisy Bank, which were heavily mortgaged. She was an illiterate, and her son, who had carried on business as a draper, had induced her to become bond for him, but he was now in prison for false pretences. Her liabilities were £566 10s, of which £463 had been brought upon her by her son’s bankruptcy. The examination was passed.”

* possibly the same person

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/1/1889

“On Friday afternoon the Deputy Coroner, Mr. E. Thorneycroft, held an adjourned inquest at the BULLS HEAD, John Street, Daisy Bank, on the body of a man who was found on the morning of the 27th ult, lying on the Great Western Railway. The inquiry was adjourned from the previous Friday, in the hope that the body might be identified. John Mills, master plasterer, of 20, Birmingham Street, Dudley, said that he saw the body on Tuesday and Wednesday, and identified it as that of Thomas Percy (65). Sixteen years ago deceased resided at Dudley. When his wife died he broke up his home and had since then been a rover. He used to work in Liverpool a great deal in his younger days. Witness worked in the same shop with him as a plasterer about 21 years ago. At Dudley afterwards, about the year 1870, the master died, and the deceased, witness, and a man named Reuben Taylor went into partnership. Deceased had to leave the firm a few years afterwards owing to his drinking habits. Witness had assisted him many times with lodgings and food. Deceased had a son who was forced to leave him owing to his drinking.

Reuben Taylor, plasterer, of 63, King Street, Dudley, said that deceased was formerly a partner with himself and Mills. He last saw him alive about two months ago, when he was round the town begging. He was given to drink, and left the firm on that account. Deceased was a teetotaler for ten years, but broke his pledge.

Richard Green, miner, Daisy Street, Daisy Bank, said that he saw deceased come out of the WHITE HORSE INN, Daisy Bank, on the 27th ult, about twelve o’clock. He appeared to have been begging there.

The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead, but how he met with his death there was no evidence to show. The jury commended Police-constable Tytherleigh for the energetic manner in which he had got the body identified. The Deputy Coroner said that his action was very satisfactory indeed.”

1891 Census

24, John Street

[1] Thomas Hinkinson (53), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;

[2] Mary Hinkinson (53), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Jane Valentine (16), domestic servant, born Walsall:

Thomas Hinkinson died on 8th January 1892.

1897 Probate

“Samuel Bright Oliver of the BULLS HEAD INN, Daisy Bank, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 24 November 1897. Probate Lichfield 22 December to Ellen Oliver, widow. Effects £280 6s.”

London Gazette 23/8/1901

“Edwin McKean, late of the BULLS HEAD INN, Bradley, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, but now of 16, Ash-street, Bradley, aforesaid, lately Licensed Victualler, now out of business.”

1901 Census

24, John Street

[1] Frank Stanford (29), publican, born Princes End;

[2] Phoebe Stanford (24), wife, born Moseley, Staffordshire;

[3] Frank Albert Stanford (2), son, born Darlaston:

1911 Census

24, John Street

- [1] Frank Albert Stanford (39), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Phoebe Elizabeth Stanford (34), wife, married 16 years, born Moxley;
- [3] Frank Albert Stanford (14), son, clerk, electric works, born Darlaston;
- [4] Constance Muriel Elizabeth Stanford (8), daughter, school, born Bradley;

Frank Albert Stanford was fined £2 and costs, on 5th May 1916, for selling beer exceeding measure called for.

1921 Census

24, John Street

- [1] Frank A. Stanford (49), licensed victualler, born Princes End;
- [2] Phoebe E. Stanford (45), wife, assistant, born Moxley;
- [3] Frank A. Stanford (25), son, switchgear draughtsman, electric construction, born Darlaston;
- [4] Constance M. E. Stanford (18), daughter, packer, out of work, born Bradley;
- [5] Mary Ann Stanford (26), daughter-in-law, home duties, born Coseley;

Bradley Scottish Jazz Band was founded here in 1930.

1939 Register

John Street – BULLS HEAD (4 of 5)

- [1] Edward G. Yeoman, date of birth 24/2/1887, licensee, married;
- [2] Martha Jane Yeoman, dob 27/11/1891, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Geoffrey W. A. Hodley, dob 16/6/1910, fitting aero engineer, married;
- [4] Florence M. Hodley, dob 27/2/1912, unpaid domestic duties, married;

1945 Probate

“Edward George Yeoman of the BULLS HEAD INN, John Street, Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire, died 18 July 1945. Probate Birmingham 21 December to Martha Jane Yeoman, widow. Effects £681 0s 6d.”

A team from here were champions of the Bradley Crib League, Section A. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

Tipton Herald 24/3/1956

“Bilston Licensing Justices on Friday of last week refused to sanction a new public house at Lower Gornal after the brewery company had declined to close two of their houses at Bradley.

The application by Ansells Brewery Limited was for a full license in respect of a new house to be erected at the junction of Ellowes Road and Park Road, Lower Gornal. When the matter was originally before the justices a fortnight ago the brewery company offered to close the BULLS HEAD INN, John Street, Bradley, and pay £1,000 cash to make up the difference between the value of the license of the BULLS HEAD and the proposed new house. The Bench then announced that the application would be granted on the condition that the company closed the SIDNEY VILLAGE INN, Wright Street, Bradley, in addition to the BULLS HEAD, and the hearing was adjourned to allow Mr. Ernest Brown (for the applicants) to consult the brewery company.

Mr. Brown, on Friday last, said his instructions were that the SIDNEY VILLAGE could not be offered by the brewery company in addition to the BULLS HEAD. Mr. G. W. Cornwell, assistant managing director of Ansells Brewery Limited, said that to comply with the justices' request would make the provision of the new house an uneconomical proposition. The District Licensing Valuer, he said, had estimated the value of the BULLS HEAD license at £4,850, which was £1,000 less than the estimated value of the license of the proposed new house. The SIDNEY VILLAGE license was valued at £4,500, though the company's own estimate was £5,000. The company estimated the proposed new house would cost in the region of £29,000, as they did not want to build a shoddy place. ‘But to have to surrender two licenses, which really means we are called upon to give another £4,000, becomes the last straw, and makes it totally uneconomic for us to proceed,’ said Mr. Cornwell.

Questioned about the possibility of closing another house in place of the SIDNEY VILLAGE, Mr. Cornwell said that the company could not afford to, because all their houses in the Bilston area were good trading houses.

The justices retired to reconsider the application, and on their return the Chairman announced it would be refused.”

Walsall Observer 18/1/1957 - Notice

"Licensing Act, 1953.

To the Clerk to the Licensing Justices of the Aldridge and Rushall Division of the County of Stafford; the Chief Constable for the County of Stafford; the Clerk to the Rating Authority for the Urban District of Aldridge in the County of Stafford; Martha Jane Yeoman the Licensee; Ansells Brewery Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham; Grigg and Brettell Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham; and to all others whom it may concern.

I, James Constantine, of 84, Beeches Drive, Erdington in the City of Birmingham, Licensing Superintendent, do hereby give notice that it is my intention to apply at the First Session of the General Annual Licensing Meeting for the Aldridge and Rushall Division of the County of Stafford, to be holden at the Court House, Aldridge, on Monday, the 4th day of February, 1957, at the hour of 10-30 o'clock in the forenoon for the Provisional Grant to me of an Order sanctioning the Removal of the Justices License now in force and held by the said Martha Jane Yeoman, in pursuance of which the said Martha Jane Yeoman holds an Excise License to sell by Retail at the licensed premises situate at John Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley in the said County of Stafford, and known by the sign of the BULLS HEAD, any intoxicating liquor which may be sold under a Publican's License for consumption either on or off the premises, from such premises to a certain House and premises proposed to be erected upon land situate at the Eastern corner of the junction of Barns Lane and Kings Road in the Parish of Rushall in the County of Stafford.

And I hereby give further notice that Ansells Brewery Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham, are the Owners of the said premises known as the BULLS HEAD, John Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley aforesaid, and that Grigg and Brettell Limited, of Aston Brewery, Birmingham, are the Owners of the said land situate at the corner of Barns Lane and Kings Road, Rushall aforesaid.

Given under my hand this 10th day of January, 1957. James Constantine."

It closed in 1959.

Demolished

LICENSING ACT, 1953.

TO The Clerk to the Licensing Justices of the Aldridge and Rushall Division of the County of Stafford;
The Chief Constable for the County of Stafford;
The Clerk to the Rating Authority for the Urban District of Aldridge in the County of Stafford;
Martha Jane Yeoman the Licensee;
Ansells Brewery Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham, 6;
Grigg and Brettell Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham, 6;
And to all others whom it may concern.

I, JAMES CONSTANTINE, of 84, Beeches Drive, Erdington in the City of Birmingham, Licensing Superintendent, DO HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that it is my intention to apply at the First Session of the General Annual Licensing Meeting for the Aldridge and Rushall Division of the County of Stafford, to be holden at The Court House, Aldridge, on Monday, the 4th day of February, 1957, at the hour of 10-30 o'clock in the forenoon for the Provisional Grant to me of an Order sanctioning the Removal of the Justices' License now in force and held by the said Martha Jane Yeoman, in pursuance of which the said Martha Jane Yeoman holds an Excise License to sell by Retail at the licensed premises situate at John Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley in the said County of Stafford, and known by the sign of "The Bulls Head" any intoxicating liquor which may be sold under a Publican's License for consumption either on or off the premises, from such premises to a certain House and premises proposed to be erected upon land situate at the Eastern corner of the junction of Barns Lane and Kings Road in the Parish of Rushall in the County of Stafford.

AND I HEREBY GIVE FURTHER NOTICE that Ansells Brewery Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham 6 are the Owners of the said premises known as "The Bulls Head," John Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley aforesaid and that Grigg & Brettell Limited of Aston Brewery, Birmingham 6 are the Owners of the said land situate at the corner of Barns Lane and Kings Road Rushall aforesaid.

GIVEN under my hand this 10th day of January, 1957.

JAMES CONSTANTINE.

BULLS HEAD

153, (67), (101), (55), Millfields Road, (Parkfield Road), (Mill Street), (Union Street), (Ettingshall Lane), (Catchems Corner), Ettingshall, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Pratt, gentleman, Crown Street (acquired 14th August 1883)
Henry Clarke, licensed victualler, Boat Inn, Ettingshall
William Butler & Co Ltd. [1920], [1921]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Courage Ltd. [1978]
Heritage Inns, Derby [2004]

LICENSEES

Thomas Carter [1828] – [1830]
Thomas Underhill [1833] – [1835]
William Morgan [1841] – 1852;
Joseph Tipper (1852 – [1865])
Samuel Burrows [1868] – 1868;
Joseph Onions (1868 – 1870)
John Preston [1871] – 1879;
Mrs. Mary Ann Preston (1879 – 1880);
John Robinson (1880 – 1885);
Thomas Hampton (1885 – 1887);
Richard Bates (1887 – 1898);
Mrs. Lucy Bates (1898 – 1919);
Arthur Wakelam (1919 – 1927);
Thomas Lester (1927 – [1940])
Tony Stelling [1985]
B Stelling [1988] – [1989]
Keith Davies []
Kevin Southall [1995]
Robert Michael Cooper [2004]

1921

1997

NOTES

Catchems Corner [1828], [1830], [1841], [1850], [1851], [1854], [1862], [1865]
Ettingshall Lane [1833], [1851], [1861]
Parkfield Road [1873]
Mill Street [1871], [1874], [1881], [1886]
Union Street [1891]
55, Millfields Road [1901]
101, Millfields Road [1911]
67, Millfields Road [1931]
153, Millfields Road [1982]

OLD BULLS HEAD [1851]

Black Country Bugle

'Recognise Your Black Country Ale House'

"Situated at the end of the notorious Hell Lane, it is right in the heart of the heavy engineering belt, between Bilston and Wolverhampton. Years ago it was used as a gathering place for thirsty ironworkers and colliers, who eagerly sought liquid refreshment and an escape after the sweat and toil of a long shift Today it is still a happy meeting place for local workers....."

Black Country Bugle (April 1994)

'Some Warlocks, Witches and Wizards of Old Hell Lane' by Ian Bott

".....and the BULLS HEAD where Trilly Riley got up bull baits and badger hunts....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/4/1828 - Died

"On the 3rd ult, in the 41st year of her age, Sophia, wife of Mr. Thomas Carter, of the BULLS HEAD, Catchems End, near Bilston."

1841 Census

Ettingshall Lane

- [1] William Morgan (25), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Morgan (25), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Ellen Horton (4), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Perry (65), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Harriet Lees (15), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [6] John Heath (60), m.s.:

William Morgan was also a maltster. [1845], [1849], [1850], [1851]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/11/1844

"An inquest was held on Friday, the 1st instant, and by adjournment on Friday, the 8th instant, at the house of William Morgan, at Catchem's Corner, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of George Wickstead, a young man about nineteen years of age, whose death occurred under the following circumstances.

The deceased was engaged with other persons in navigating a canal boat belonging to Mr. Robinson, and was standing on the cabin as it was going into a basin at Rough Hills Stop. Just as the boat was going in, and was in some measure across the canal, a boat belonging to Mr. Sturland came up, and although the men were called to stop, they went forward, and Sturland's boat struck the end of Robinson's boat, in consequence of which the deceased was thrown off the cabin into the canal, and drowned. The jury, after a minute inquiry, returned a verdict of Manslaughter against James Hill, the driver of the horse attached to Sturland's boat, and also against William Riley, the steerer, and the parties were both committed by the coroner for trial."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/12/1844

"Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

William Riley and James Hill were charged with the manslaughter of George Wickstead, on the 31st of November, at the parish of Wolverhampton.

The evidence showed that the prisoners are boatmen, and had charge of a boat on the Birmingham canal, on the 31st of November. The prisoner Riley acted as steerer, and James Hill was driving the horse. When the prisoners boat came to Rough Hills Top, it came in contact with another boat, in consequence of which the deceased, George Wickstead, who was on the cabin, and endeavoured to prevent any collision, was thrown off, and fell into the canal, where the water is sixteen feet deep. The deceased was got out in about twenty minutes afterwards, but was quite dead. Several witnesses attributed the occurrence to the carelessness and negligence of the prisoners.

The prisoner Riley in his defence said he could not see the boat of the deceased in consequence of the wind blowing his boat cloth up. Hill said he endeavoured to prevent the boats striking each other by checking his horse.

The jury acquitted the prisoners."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/2//1845 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property, at Ettingshall, near Sedgley, in the county of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. William Parkes, on Monday, the 17th day of February, 1845, at the house of Mr. William Morgan, the BULLS HEAD INN, Catchems Corner, in Ettingshall aforesaid, at five o'clock in the afternoon.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/4/1845

“The following inquisitions have been held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On the 22nd ult, at the BULLS HEAD, Catchems Corner, on the body of Catherine Love, a girl about seventeen years of age, whose death was caused by her clothes catching fire. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 28/2/1846

“At Bilston Police Court, on Saturday last, Joseph Bott appeared before John Foster, Esq, to prefer a charge against Edward Arnold, for stealing £1 7s, his property. The evidence, which was very lengthy, showed that the prosecutor was a labourer, living in the parish of Sedgley, and worked with the prisoner, whom he had known about six months. On the previous day (Friday) he went with him to the BULLS HEAD public house, at Catchems Corner, between two and three o'clock in the afternoon. After some time he fell asleep, having in his possession a tobacco-box, containing a sovereign and seven or eight shillings. The prisoner was sitting next to him, and during the time Bott was asleep he took the box from his pocket, and abstracted the money. A person named Edmunds was in the house at the time, and observed the transaction. On the prosecutor awaking, he discovered his loss, and immediately made it known, upon which Edmunds told him that he had seen the prisoner at his pocket. Information was immediately given to a constable, and he was followed, and taken into custody, but denied taking the money. He was then searched, and 7s in silver was found upon him, which he acknowledged taking, but the sovereign was not forthcoming. He was then conveyed to the station, and identified by Edmunds as the person who was at the prosecutor's pocket, and on his being further searched, the sovereign was found hid in the lining of his jacket. He was committed to the sessions.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 14/3/1846

“Staffordshire Adjourned Epiphany Sessions.....

Edward Arnold was indicted for stealing one sovereign and 7s, the property of Joseph Bott, at Bilston. The Jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sentenced to two months imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/10/1846

“An inquest was held on Wednesday last, at the BULLS HEAD, Catchems Corner, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Philip Jones, a child about eight years old, the son of William Jones, a miner living at Rough Hills. The deceased was a very healthy child, and it appeared was with his father on Sunday afternoon at the public house at which the inquest was holden. He was allowed to drink two glasses of gin and peppermint, and immediately became tipsy. He went home and became sick. He afterwards fell asleep, and on waking went into fits, which continued with scarcely any intermission until his death, which took place, notwithstanding medical aid, at about two o'clock on Monday morning. Mr. Hodgkins, surgeon, who attended the deceased, stated that he found him in strong convulsions, and that his opinion he died from having taken the gin and peppermint. Verdict accordingly.”

Birmingham Journal 17/10/1846

“On Thursday last, an inquest was held at the house of Mr. William Morgan, BULLS HEAD, Catchems Corner, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, and a respectable Jury, upon the body of George Neath, a boy eleven years old, who was killed in a pit. It appears that on Wednesday last he was at work in an ironstone pit, in the Cockshuts Colliery, when a sudden fall of the mine buried him underneath. He was immediately released, when it was found that several of his bones were fractured. When rescued, he was alive, but only survived about five minutes. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/1/1848

“On Thursday, an inquest was held by G. Hinchliffe, Esq, at the BULLS HEAD, Catchems Corner, on Richard Wedge, a miner, 32 years of age, who was burnt by an explosion of sulphur, while at work in an iron stone pit, at Sandy Gay colliery, about seven weeks ago, and lingered from that time until Sunday last, when he died from the injuries received. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/1/1851

"Inquests before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner.....

On Wednesday, at the BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall, Bilston, on the body of Mary Cape, aged three years, who died on Tuesday. It appeared that the deceased was left alone in the house, on the 27th ult, when she began to play with the fire; her grand-mother, who was upstairs, hearing screams, immediately ran down stairs, and found her in flames. She lingered until Tuesday last. Verdict, Accidental Death."

1851 Census

Ettingshall Lane

- [1] William Morgan (38), innkeeper, born Willenhall;
- [2] Sarah Morgan (38), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] John Perry (36), lodger, malster, born Willenhall;
- [4] Mary O'Connor (22), general servant, born Ireland:

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/3/1852

"Thomas Fellows, a butty miner, residing at Catchem, was, on Tuesday, committed to the assizes for stealing five fowls, the property of Mr. W. Morgan, BULLS HEAD INN, on the 23rd ult. It appeared that on the night in question, Mr. Morgan and a few friends were sitting in the parlour, when a neighbour ran in and told him there was a noise in the fowl-pen. He immediately went out in the yard, when the prisoner rushed out of the fowl-pen, and escaped over the wall. On examining the place, five fowls were found dead. The prisoner, who was well known to Mr. Morgan, managed to keep out of the way until Tuesday morning last, when he was apprehended by police-constable Roe. Mr. Shipman, of Wolverhampton, defended the prisoner."

AND

"Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Thomas Fellows was indicted for stealing on the 2nd February, 1852, at Bilston, four fowls, the property of William Morgan. Mr. Corbett prosecuted; Mr. Dawson defended the prisoner.

The prosecutor said that on the night of the 2nd February his attention was drawn to a noise in the fowl-house, and on going there, he found prisoner in the place, and four of the fowls were killed.

Mr. John Marson also spoke to the identity of the prisoner.

Mr. Dawson addressed the jury, and contended that the identity of the prisoner was not satisfactorily proved; he had a brother who was much like him, and might have been mistaken for him.

The prisoner received a good character from a party called on his behalf. The jury found him guilty, but recommended him to mercy on account of the character he had received. He was sentenced to be imprisoned for 12 months."

Birmingham Journal 10/4/1852

"At Bilston Public Office, on Tuesday.....

J. Fellows, miner, of Parkfields, was fined 40s and costs (16s 6d), for assaulting Fanny Williams, servant to Mr. W. Morgan, landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Catchem. This man and his brother (who was convicted at the last Assizes for robbing Mr. Morgan's hen roost), have been a source of great annoyance to that individual and his family for a considerable time past, and it is hoped this will put a stop to it."

Birmingham Journal 29/5/1852 - Advert

"To Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Mason, on Tuesday Next, June 1st, upon the Premises of Mr. William Morgan, BULLS HEAD INN, Catchems Corner, near Bilston, who is declining the Public Business, part of the useful Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, and other Effects.

The Household Furniture comprises Chairs, Tables, Chimney and Dressing Glasses, handsome mahogany Chests of Drawers, mahogany Beaufet, eight-day Clock, Tent Bedsteads, Feather Beds, China and Glass, capital five-pull Beer Machine, home-cured Bacon, &c.

The Brewing Utensils consist of thirty excellent iron-bound Ale Casks, from 56 to 400 gallons each, twenty-six bushel Mash Tub, Vats, Coolers, copper Wort Pump (new), copper Boiler, upwards of two hundred gallons, with large tap, complete, 120 gallon copper Boiler.

Useful Chestnut Mare, five years old, steady in harness, Gig, Set of Harness, light Spring Cart and Harness, four and a half inch wheel Cart, with Coke Boards, Sack Weighing Machine, &c.

Full particulars will appear in catalogues, which are now ready."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/12/1855

“On Friday, Mr. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest at the BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall, on the body of Isaac Walters, aged 55, a miner. Deceased was engaged at a coal-pit in the neighbourhood on the previous Tuesday. He and Benjamin Walters got into a skip for the purpose of being drawn up. The skip had ascended the shaft about fourteen yards, when one of the tackling chains which connected the skip with the main slipped off, and the side of the skip where deceased was standing lowered a little and jerked him out. The deceased, who had sustained fracture of the leg and other injuries, was conveyed home, where amputation of the leg was performed, but he died shortly afterwards. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Ipswich Journal 25/4/1857

“On Tuesday, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, an inquest was held before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, on the bodies of Rachel Elizabeth Davies, one month old, the illegitimate child of Lucy Davies; and Catherine Stones, six months old, daughter of Jane Stones, the wife of a miner, and sister to the mother of the other child. It appeared that the mother of each of the deceased children, being busy washing, gave some laudanum to their infants to induce sleep, and the children slept as desired; but their mothers were unable to arouse them, and they died on the same night.

Thomas Hudson, an assistant in Mr. Webb’s shop, stated that he recollected Sarah Jones coming to the shop, and hearing Mr. Webb, who served her with some laudanum, tell her she must be careful how she used that article, for it was deadly poison; and in reply to a question Mrs. Jones said she had got some ‘squills’ at home with which she should mix the laudanum.

The jury returned the verdict that the deceased children died from the effects of laudanum innocently administered by their mothers, they at the time believing it to be laudanum and squills.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/9/1857

“On Thursday, the workmen employed at the Ettingshall Lodge Colliery, in connection with the Parkfield Iron Company, were entertained at dinner at Mr. Tipper’s, the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, at the expense of Messrs. Dimmack and Marten, the proprietors of the works, in commemoration of the completion of the arduous and difficult undertaking of draining the mines of Sandy Gay and the neighbourhood, which, at considerable cost and labour, and, we are happy to add, without loss of life or limb, has been accomplished in the most satisfactory manner.....”

AND

Birmingham Journal 5/9/1857

“On Thursday week, a dinner was given by the Parkfield Iron Company to their workmen in Sandy Hay Colliery, the property of the company, to commemorate the draining of the water from the mines, a work which had been repeatedly but vainly attempted during the last twenty years. The drainage was completed on the previous Tuesday, the water being drawn out for a considerable depth, and the sump of the water pit thoroughly cleansed, by which any measure of mine in the colliery may be obtained, and the neighbours relieved of the inconvenience of the superabundant water. The repast was provided at Mr. Joseph Tipper’s, the BULLS HEAD INN.....”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/5/1858

“Mark Tipper will run Richard Proberbs of Catchem Corner 100 yards, for £5 a side, if Proberbs will give him three yards at the coming-in; or he will run Richard Savage of the same place the same distance, for the same sum. Money ready any night next week, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Catchem Corner.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/6/1859

“John Morris, a tall gentlemanly-looking elderly man, was brought up in custody before the sitting Magistrates, at the Petty Sessions, on Friday, charged with obtaining a quantity of liquor, with intent to cheat and defraud Joseph Tipper, the landlord of the BULLS HEAD, Catchems Corner.

Mrs. Tipper deposed that the prisoner came into her husband’s house, on the previous evening, and called for a glass of brandy and water, and a paper of tobacco, which were supplied to him, and he partook of them, but upon being called upon to pay he began to sing a song. He kept on singing until Mrs. Tipper, becoming somewhat irritated, insisted upon payment, and he then said he had got no money, but as a pledge offered to give her a bunch of keys, which he affirmed were skeleton keys. The prisoner further told Mrs. Tipper that she need not be afraid, as he was the clerk to the Walsall magistrates, and also the son of a magistrate. Mrs. Tipper then told him that if he was the son of a magistrate, she would see what the Bilston Magistrates would say to him, upon which he became very abusive, and used bad language.

In answer to the charge, the prisoner, with a smile, said he really was not aware that the Magistrates had any jurisdiction in the matter, as it did not amount to a case of false pretences; and further, that when he went into the house he told the landlady he had no money. The Magistrates took an opposite view of the case, and ordered the prisoner to find sureties for his future good behaviour, or in default to be committed to prison for fourteen days. The prisoner, still preserving his suavity of manners, thanked the Bench and resumed his seat in the dock. There can be little doubt but that the fellow is an impostor, as a draft begging letter was found upon him when searched at the police station.”

1861 Census

Ettingshall Lane

[1] Joseph Tipper (57), victualler, born Sedgley;

[2] Jemmima Tipper (52), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Joseph W. H. Tipper (12), son, born Bilston;

[4] Sarah Parkes (22), servant, born Sedgley:

Birmingham Daily Post 11/10/1861

“On Tuesday last an inquest was held before Mr. T. M. Phillips, at the house of Joseph Tipper, Catchems Corner, on the body of John Potts, a banksman, 43 years of age, who was killed by falling down a pit belonging to Mr. Jones, at Sedgley. A person named John Penn was on the pit bank at the time of the accident, and he saw the deceased push a skip up to the mouth of the pit. The skip ran into the pit and the banksman fell in with it, a depth of 150 yards. In the course of twenty minutes the dead body of the unfortunate man was brought up dreadfully cut and bruised. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/12/1861

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

Daniel Kyte, 25, pump maker, and Josiah Jackson, 24, joiner, were indicted for uttering two forged notes, at Sedgley, on the 23rd of September. Mr. Hill prosecuted, and Mr. Kenealy appeared in defence.

Mr. Hill opened the case by stating the facts as deposed by the following witnesses.

Mr. Baker, UNION MILLS INN, Catchems Corner, proved that the two prisoners, with a third man, and John Wedge, called at his house, on the 23rd of September. A note (Macclesfield Bank) was given him by his servant, and he took the change into the bar, and offered it to Wedge, whom he knew, but Wedge pointed to Jackson. Witness gave Jackson the change, and Jackson wrote the name ‘Williams’ upon it. The note also bore the name of Wedge.

John Wedge, Catchems Corner, said he saw the two prisoners in the street on the afternoon of the 23rd of September, one of whom he knew personally, and they asked him to get change for a £5 note on a distant (Macclesfield) bank. They told him it was good, and he took it to the house of a grocer named Eadie, but Eadie refused to change it. Witness then went home, and the prisoners followed him, and Kyte asked him to go and have something to drink. He went with them to Mr. Tippers’s, the BULLS HEAD, and a third man, who now joined the prisoners, offered the note again, but Mr. Tippers refused to change it. They then went to Mr. Baker’s, the UNION MILLS public house, but they did not stay there many minutes. Witness and the two prisoners next went to a foot race, at Sedgley, and when they returned they went to the ROYAL OAK. While there, Jackson offered another note, but the landlord would not change it. The next place they visited was Pennington’s, the BRIDGE INN, going afterwards to Owen’s, the ROYAL OAK, again. On the way Jackson asked what sort of house Tippers’s was, and made inquiries about the ‘strong box.’ In consequence of other conversation witness asked what had become of the first note they showed him, and they told him they had ‘passed’ it at Baker’s. In the course of this conversation Jackson placed a second note in witness’s hands, and witness told him he should keep it till he ascertained that the first was a good one. When this was told to Kyte and the third man, Kyte threatened to kill him. Witness said that unless he killed him outright he should appear against him. Kyte, Jackson, and the other man then attacked witness, and he became insensible. When he recovered himself he found his money gone – about £30 or £40. They did not, however, take the note he had just received from Jackson. This note was subsequently given to the police.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kenealy: The robbery took place in the ROYAL OAK INN. They did not offer witness any money to change the note; they told him that if he wanted a sovereign out of it he could have it, but he took no notice of them. When the first note was presented at the BULLS HEAD INN it had witness’s name upon it; it had been written in order to assist him in passing it.

By the Judge: The third man joined the two prisoners after they had been to Tippers’s.

Thomas Pennington, Bridge Street, proved that early in the afternoon of the 23rd, the prisoner Jackson offered him what he represented to be a £5 note. He considered it to be a bad one, and he told Jackson he didn't like the look of it. Wedge was with Jackson when this occurred, and they were afterwards joined by Kyte and another man. Cross-examined by Mr. Kenealy: Wedge seemed as anxious to change the note as the other man; he said he wanted 10s out of it.

William Vickers, WHITE HART INN, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, proved that on the morning of the 23rd September, the two prisoners and a third man called at his house. The third man showed several notes in a handkerchief, and the prisoners asked witness to change them. They told him that if he offered £12 for three of them, they thought the man would take it. He was a simple man, they said, and wanted to spend his money, and subsequently they told witness that this third man had got the notes from his 'woman,' who 'took' them from a farmer. He had no money in the house, and he gave them no change.

Superintendent M'Crea produced the two notes – the one passed to Mr. Baker, and the other retained by Wedge.

Detective-officer Stokes proved having apprehended the prisoners in Park Street, Birmingham. A third man, named Brown, was apprehended, but the Magistrates discharged him. The prisoners told him they were aware the police were after them, and they could have got away if they desired.

In defence Mr. Kenealy alleged that the two prisoners were the victims of the third man, who had succeeded in making his escape. He pointed to different parts of the evidence to support this view, and especially to that of the witness Vickers.

The Judge returned a verdict of guilty, and the prisoners were each sentenced to ten years' penal servitude."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/7/1863

"On Monday night, the house of Mr. Joseph Tipper, the BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall, was entered, and about £20 in cash and seven old silver watches were carried off by the thieves. The entry was effected between half-past eleven at night and half-past three yesterday morning, by breaking a pane of glass in the bed-room window and undoing the fastening."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1863

"Two men, named respectively John Whitehouse and John Crutchley, were yesterday charged with breaking into the house of Joseph Tipper, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall. A few nights since, some thieves, taking advantage of the fact that a woman's club feast was being held in the house, had got in through a back window; had, from a chest in the bedroom, stolen about £20; and had then made their escape. The prisoners were seen lurking in the neighbourhood about the time of the robbery; but as the evidence against them was only circumstantial, they were now ordered to find sureties to answer the charge if called upon."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/8/1869

"Joseph Onions, BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall, was fined 20s and costs, for permitting drunkenness on Tuesday last."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

"The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following is the list of the licensed victuallers who have been fined during the year.....

Permitting Drunkenness J. Onions, BULLS HEAD, Catcham, Bilston, 20s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/4/1870 - Advert

"Wanted, one Breaker-Down, and two Ketchers, for Plate Mill. Regular employment, and liberal salary given. Pay weekly. None need apply only steady workmen.

References to be made to Joseph Onions, BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, near Bilston."

Joseph Onions was married to Mary.

WANTED, one BREAKER-DOWN, and two Ketchers, for Plate Mill. Regular employment, and liberal salary given. Pay weekly. None need apply only steady workmen.—References to be made to Joseph Onions, Bull's Head Inn, Ettingshall, near Bilston.

Glasgow Herald 4/8/1870

“Two Elopements from the Black Country.

Elopements are rare in the Black Country, but one directly from Bilston, and another connected with that town have just come to light. In the first case, the injured husband has called in the law to aid him in baffling the deep wiles of love by which he had been wronged. The interesting part of the elopement is that the amorous pair are both married people with families. The man is 30 years of age, and has a wife and one or two children; the woman is 39 years of age, has an appearance decidedly not buxom-like, and is mother of, amongst other children, a ‘grown-up’ daughter. James Sheldon, master bricklayer, of Gospel End, and Mrs. Onions, wife of Joseph Onions, wire drawer, of Bradley, would have been, but for a prompt capture, now on their way to America. Some time ago Mr. Onions was landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall. Sheldon, with his men, was then engaged at Millfields Ironworks, and took his meals at Onions’s house. This lasted for several years, and daily visitation at the BULLS HEAD resulted, of course, in Sheldon becoming acquainted with Mrs. Onions. He was also upon intimate terms with Mr. Onions, and the two frequently went out together in a trap. Mr. Onions gave up the public house, and retired to a private house at Bradley, where Sheldon continued to visit them. Three weeks ago Sheldon suddenly left his home, and went to Liverpool, and was there joined, a week later, by Mrs. Onions, who took with her a quantity of her husband’s jewellery. At Liverpool, Sheldon fell in – whether by accident or otherwise we don’t know – with another Bilston man who had left his own wife and run away with a neighbour’s. He was Mr. Abraham Hazledine, who at one time kept the CROWN INN, Hallfields (near Bilston), but has of late been residing in Warrington. The destination of Hazledine and his would-be wife, and of Sheldon and his would-be wife, was America; and to the ticket office the four went and bought passages for New York. Sheldon gave the names of ‘James Jones and Mrs. Jones,’ and Hazledine’s tickets were made out to ‘Mr. and Mrs. Smith.’ The vessel that was to take them did not start for a day or two, and the fugitives determined to go to Queenstown and join the ship there, probably because they were afraid to remain in Liverpool, so near to their homes.

When Mr. Joseph Onions returned to his house on the evening of the 21st of July, he was surprised to find that his house was minus his wife. For some time he could learn nothing tending to show what had become of her; but ultimately he received information which led him to go to Liverpool, and he there found that she and her adopted husband had gone to Queenstown. Thither he hastened, and discovered that the two had taken apartments at the lodging house of Alfred Bridges, Lynch’s Quay. Onions invoked the aid of the police, who entered their bed room at eleven o’clock at night, and arrested them both upon a charge of stealing jewellery. They were brought before the Queenstown Magistrates and remanded to Bilston.

By this time the injured wife of Hazledine had reached Queenstown, and having discovered the retreat of her faithless husband and his new love, demanded he should immediately return home. Hazledine, however, objected to this settlement of the matter, for he had an arrangement of his own to propose. He said that if she would release him from his marriage engagement he would give her £100 down, and would settle some property upon her. To this proposal Mrs. Hazledine agreed, and, after it had been carried out, went back to Warrington contented, leaving her husband to pursue his new course of life without interruption.

Sheldon and his proposed wife, however, were brought back to Bilston, and at the police court there, before the stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) were charged with stealing a watch, three gold chains, and other things, belonging to Mr. Joseph Onions. Ultimately the stipendiary consented to take bail, in two sureties of £100, and the prisoner himself in £200. Birmingham Post.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 11/8/1870

“At the Wolverhampton Police Court, yesterday, before the Stipendiary, James Sheldon, master bricklayer, of Gospel End, was charged, on remand, with having stolen a quantity of jewellery and other articles, belonging to Joseph Onions, wire-roller, of Bradley. Mr. Fellows appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. A. Young, of the Oxford Circuit (instructed by Mr. John William Hall), was for the defence.

Mr. Fellows said that he had made most careful inquiries into the case. The Stipendiary: If I may interrupt you, I would remark that I think you might fairly withdraw from the case – I suppose that is what you were about to say – for it is a material question whether or not Sheldon knew anything about the robbery.

Mr. Fellows: Inquiries which I have made show me quite clearly that she (Mrs. Onions) took the things without his knowledge; and feeling that I have no hope of sustaining the prosecution, I beg to withdraw it.

The Stipendiary: It is a case which a man often gets into who runs away with another man’s wife. I think you may fairly withdraw from it. From what is before me, I don’t see how you can possibly succeed in bringing the charge home to him. Mr. Fellows: I withdraw from the prosecution. The parties then left the Court.

We understand that Mrs. Onions has returned to her husband and her family.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/8/1870

“An inquest was held on Monday last at the BULLS HEAD INN, Catchem, near Bilston, by the Deputy Coroner, Mr. W. H. Phillips, on the body of William Beeman (15), Rough Hills, who was killed while working in the Wolverhampton Old Colliery, on the 5th inst, by a brick falling down the shaft and striking him on the head. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

Mill Street

- [1] John Preston (49), publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Mary Preston (49), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Joseph Preston (15), son, coal miner, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Mary Preston (13), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Sarah A. Preston (12), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Richard Preston (10), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Samuel Preston (7), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] James Tranter (18), boarder, coal miner, born Sedgley:

John Preston was married to Mary Ann.
He died on 14th April 1879.

1881 Census

Mill Street – BULLS HEAD

- [1] John Robinson (26), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Rhoda Robinson (18), sister, unmarried, born Sedgley;
- [3] Patsey McAnealy (31), boarder, roller in iron works, born Wolverhampton:

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/10/1886

“John Waly, William Harris and Samuel Hough were charged with being drunk and disorderly at the BULLS HEAD, Mill Street, Bilston, on the 25th ult.

PC Leadbetter said he was called in by the landlord of the BULLS HEAD to remove the defendants on Saturday night. They had had no drink in the house. They left the house, but returned several times and created a disturbance. Fined 2s 6d each.”

Richard Bates = Richard Bate

Smethwick Telephone 18/4/1891

“Knights of Labour.....

On Saturday evening, the 4th inst, a farewell meeting was held at the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, by the members of LA 1001, upon the occasion of their removal to other premises. About 35 members and friends sat down to an excellent supper, which was got up in first-class style by the host, Mr. R. Bates. After partaking of the things that had been provided, a meeting was held, presided over by the master workmen, who, after giving a few words of advice to the members, called upon Bro. Y. Butler to propose ‘Success to the order of Knights of Labour,’ which he did in an excellent and telling speech. This was seconded by Bro. Rew, and responded to by the DM, Mr. Dean, who spoke of the duties of individual members, and gave some very excellent advice. Songs were given at intervals by various members and friends. Votes of thanks to the host and hostess, and response thereto by the former, brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.”

1891 Census

Union Street – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Richard Bates (37), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Lucy Bates (38), wife, born Bedford;
- [3] George Bates (13), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Richard Bates (11), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Isabella Bates (9), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William Hicks (9), son-in-law, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] William Bates (7), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Harry Bates (4), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [9] Richard Bates (77), grand-father, lives on his own means, born Lilleshall, Shropshire:

Leek Times 21/11/1891

“Staffordshire Patent Record Patents Granted and Specifications Published.....

8775. R. Bates, BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton. Casks.”

County Advertiser 11/11/1893

“On Saturday night last a large attendance of members of the Tin-plate and Tin-sheet Makers Association assembled at the BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall.....”

1898 Probate

“Richard Bates of the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton, licensed victualler, died 29 January 1898. Probate London 17 March to Thomas Jones, tube-worker, and William Webberley, wine and spirit merchant. Effects £569 19s 11d.”

Richard Bates – see also BRIDGE, Ettingshall.

1901 Census

55, Millfields Road

- [1] Lucy Bates (46), widow, licensed victualler, born Bedford;
- [2] Richard Bates (21), step-son, barman, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] William E. Hicks (19), son, railway clerk, born Newstead, Nottinghamshire;
- [4] Isabella Bates (19), step-daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] William Bates (17), step-son, brass filer, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Harry Bates (14), step-son, office boy, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Florence E. Bates (24), daughter-in-law, milliner, born Blymhill, Staffordshire;
- [8] Mary A. Ward (6), grand-daughter, born Willenhall;
- [9] Elizabeth Sutton (20), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

The Stage 2/5/1901 - Advert

“Mr. G. Bates, Mus. Dir., Composer and Arrange. At Lib. Seaside, Tour, or Perm. PO, Tibshelf, Derbyshire. Perm, BULLS HEAD HOTEL, Ettingshall Road, Wolverhampton.”

M R. G. B A T E S,
Mus. Dir., Composer and Arrange. At Lib.
Seaside, Tour, or Perm. P.O., Tibshelf, Derbyshire. Perm., Bull's Head Hotel, Ettingshall Rd.,
Wolverhampton.

1911 Census

101, Millfields Road – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Lucy Bates (57), widow, licensed victualler, born Bedford;
- [2] Harry Bates (24), son, engineer's pattern maker, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Elizabeth Sutton (30), niece, barmaid, born Sedgley:

Lucy Bates – see also BRIDGE, Ettingshall.

South Staffordshire Times 3/1/1920

“Application was made for permission to effect alterations to the BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall Lane (Messrs. W. Butler and Co.). Mr. C. N. Wright, who made the application, said it would have the effect of making the house more convenient. It was not an enlargement, but a re-arrangement.

Superintendent Tucker said he had viewed the premises and thought it would be a desirable reconstruction from the point of view of police supervision.

The Bench approved the plan.”

South Staffordshire Times 7/2/1920

“Bilston Licensing Sessions....

During the past year plans had been passed for the reconstruction or alteration of the undermentioned houses.

LIMERICK INN, Gornal Wood; BUSH INN, Gornal Wood; 10, Cinder Road, Gornal Wood; and the WOOD CROSS INN, Cinderhill; THREE CUPS INN, Lanesfield; CASTLE INN, Bilston; BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall.

The reconstruction or alterations in the case of the LIMERICK INN, BUSH INN, 10, Cinder Road, and WOOD CROSS INN, were in hand, but in the case of the other houses had not commenced In the case of the reconstruction of the THREE CUPS and CASTLE INN the contracts had been made in each for reconstruction.”

1921 Census

Millfields – BULLS HEAD

[1] Arthur Wakelam (42), manager of public house, born Coseley:

[2] Sarah Elizabeth Wakelam (42), wife, manager's assistant, born Coseley:

[3] Arthur Rhodes Wakelam (16), son, sheet metal worker, born Coseley:

[4] Thomas Hedley Wakelam (13), son, school, born Coseley:

[5] Mary Wakelam (9), daughter, school, born Coseley:

[6] Edith Ann Nichols (21), general servant, born Coseley:

Arthur Wakelam was granted a music license on 25th July 1924.

Thomas Lester was granted a music license on 4th February 1927.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/10/1933

“As a result of observations kept upon the BULLS HEAD licensed house, Millfields Road, Ettingshall, on nine days between 12 August and 14 October, the licensee of the inn, Thomas Lester, was charged at Bilston Police Court yesterday with permitting the premises to be used for betting purposes.

Benjamin Micklewright, Hargreaves Street, Wolverhampton, was charged with aiding and abetting and with using the bar for betting purposes, and William Charles Seale, 4A, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton, and Joseph Beach, 4, Victoria Terrace, Priestfield, were summoned for aiding and abetting Lester.

The premises were raided on 14 October by the police and in Micklewright's possession were found 17 betting slips, a paying-out slip, £6 12s, of which £2 15s represented his wages. When charged Micklewright said he had no explanation to make. He must admit that he had taken the bets. He had always tried to do it on the sly on the premises.

Lester was fined £10, with £4 4s 9d costs; Micklewright £50, with £4 4s 9d costs; and Seale and Beach, who were in the bar, were ordered to pay the costs, 4s.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/11/1933

“A Kings Bench Divisional Court yesterday granted an ex parte application on behalf of Thomas Lester, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall, near Bilston, for a rule to the magistrates of Bilston to show cause why a conviction recorded against him should not be quashed.

It was stated that Lester was fined £10 on a charge of permitting his premises to be used for the purposes of betting. In such a case, it was a condition precedent to the prosecution that the accused should be given the opportunity of electing whether he would be tried by a jury. He was not given such opportunity, and the contention was that the conviction was void as a result.

A similar application on the same grounds on behalf of Benjamin Micklewright, of Hargrave Street, Wolverhampton, (fined £50 for, it was alleged, using the BULLS HEAD INN for betting) was also granted.”

[The convictions were quashed by the Kings Bench Divisional Court in March 1934.]

[They were again summoned at Bilston Police Court in April 1934 for the same offences. Their defence contended that they couldn't be tried again when the case had already been adjudicated upon. The magistrates, after consultation, were unanimous in their opinion that they could not reopen the case.]

1939 Register

Millfields Road – BULLS HEAD

[1] Thomas Lester, date of birth 3/5/1888, licensee, publican, married;

[2] Sarah Lester, dob 10/11/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Ada (Hadley) Horseman, dob 10/10/1921, bar general, single;

[4] Irene (Lester) (Martin) Kingdon, dob 5/6/1925, school, single:

Thomas Lester – see also THREE HORSESHOES, Witton Lane, West Bromwich.

It was the headquarters of the Ettingshall (Pigeon) Flying Club. [1968]

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1977

“Thousands of Midland drinkers will be forced to change their drinking habits next year – because of a Government report. Three major breweries are to swop 437 pubs – leaving drinkers to choose between their favourite public house or their favourite beer. The deal was announced yesterday by Ansells, owned by Allied Breweries, Mitchells and Butlers, owned by Bass Charrington, and Courage. The move, involving public houses valued at £11,000,000, was prompted by a Monopolies Commission report seven years ago which claimed that breweries had too much of a stranglehold in certain towns and cities Tenants and managers are being given the opportunity to stay on new terms or change to another establishment. Managers can also opt for voluntary redundancy.....

M & B tenanted houses transferred to Courage.....

BULLS HEAD, Millfield Road, Ettingshall.”

Plans for alterations were approved on 4th July 1978.

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/6/1985

“Black Country beer drinkers Keith Davis, Roy Leggard and Brian Bailey like their ale so much that they are camping outside their favourite pub. The trio of tipplers from Bilston have pitched their tent just yards from the bar of the BULLS HEAD in Millfield Road, Ettingshall, Wolverhampton. Mrs. Berni Stelling, wife of licensee Tony, said, ‘They have all got the week off work and decided to set up camp outside the pub. A lot of the regulars say they are crazy, but they are doing it because they like the beer so much.

Tony Stelling, right, and his wife Berni, left, are pictured serving drinks to the happy campers, left to right, Brian, Roy and Keith.”

It had its own netball team, which played in the Wolverhampton and District League. [1988]

Birmingham Mail 16/12/1988

“Gig Guide Sunday.....

The Rhythm Method (BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall, Wolverhampton).”

Keith Davies was married to Joyce.
See also WILLIAM BUTLER.

Stafford Post 12/10/1995 - Advert

“BULLS HEAD, Ettingshall Road, Bilston.
Thursday and Saturday Night Entertainment.
Sound Master Disco Kicking Down with Ska Reggae 60s-90s Chart and Dance 8pm till late.”

[2003]

Closed [2006]

It was gutted in an arson attack in September 2006.

It was sold at auction for £151,000 on 5th March 2007.

It was demolished in 2013.

TO BREWERS, PUBLICANS, AND OTHERS.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY JOHN MASON, on TUESDAY NEXT,
June 1st, upon the Premises of Mr. William Morgan, Bull's
Head Inn, Catchem's Corner, near Bilston, who is declining the Public
Business—Part of the useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREW-
ING VESSELS, and other EFFECTS.
The HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE comprises Chairs, Tables, Chimney and Dressing Glasses, handsome mahogany Chests of Drawers, mahogany Bedstead, eight-day Clock, Tent Bedsteads, Feather Beds,
China and Glass, capital five-pull Beer Machine, home-cured Bacon, &c.
The BREWING UTENSILS consist of thirty excellent iron-bound
Ale Casks, from 56 to 400 gallons each, twenty-six bushel Mash Tub, Vats, Coolers, copper Wort Pump, (new,) copper Boiler, upwards of two hundred gallons, with large tap, complete, 120 gallon copper Boiler.
Useful Chesnut MARE, five years old, steady in harness, GIG, Set of Harness, light Spring Cart and Harness, four and a half inch wheel cart, with Coke Boards, Sack Weighing Machine, &c.
Full particulars will appear in catalogues, which are now ready.

1852

1985

2011

Plan 1978

BUSH

High Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Hopkins [1818] – [1835]

NOTES

HOLLY BUSH [1818]

BUSH [1822], [1834]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Hopkins, retailer of beer, High Street. [1835]

BUSH

Lichfield Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Cooper [1818]

CAFÉ METRO

46, Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

[2014]

It was situated opposite the Town Hall.

The function room at the rear was used for beer festivals.

The pub operated from the backroom, accessed from the end of the side street/alley. [2023]

[2023]

IT'S BACK

CAFÉ METRO BAR

46 Church Street, Bilston, WV14 0AH

(In the back room!)

SPRINGFEST

2018

Thursday:

Sedgley Morris

Men 7pm

Friday:

80's Classics

Until late

Saturday:

Tame the Dolphin

(Local Band)

6pm

RANGE OF ALES, CIDERS & Mini Gin Bar

Food Available

3rd - 6th May

OPEN THURS FROM 5PM & FRI/SAT FROM 11AM

If there's any ale left we shall be open on the Sunday!

2018

CAFÉ METRO

(in the back room!)

2019

46 Church Street, Bilston, WV14 0AH

01902 498 888

OCTOBERFEST

REAL ALES & CIDERS

Mini Gin Bar

Food Available

3rd - 6th October

THURS 5pm

FRI/SAT 11am

SUN 12pm

Thu 3rd

Fri 4th

Sat 5th

Sun 6th

The Peas

7.30pm

(When 80's & 90's pop gets a makeover!)

The Mike Davids Band

8pm

(Rock blues with a dash of brass!)

The Guvnors

8pm

(Blues rock revue)

Jade & JP

5.30pm

(Popular local acoustic duo)

2019

CALIFORNIA

36, Hatton Street, (12, John Street), (Shropshire Row), Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

James Fellows, blankmaker, Pool Street, Wolverhampton
Charles Showell, brewer, Birmingham
The Brewers' Investment Cooperative Ltd.
Walter Showell and Sons, Walsall
Richard Sidney Wilson, maltster, Ackleton [1915]
John Downing, Black Horse Brewery, Dudley
William Butler Ltd. (acquired in January 1923)

CALIFORNIA TAP-HOUSE,
SHROPSHIRE ROW, BILSTON.
BY Mr. F. ALTREE.—To be LET, with immediate possession, the above commodious and BUSINESS PREMISES, surrounded by large Ironworks, Mines, &c.; the present brewing per week eight bushels, which may be doubled by a young persevering couple. Rent and coming-in low.—Apply to Mr. F. Altree, Auctioneer, Publicans Valuer and General Agent, Bilston.—Established 1840.

1856

LICENSEES

Isaac Brereton [1855]
George Cooper [1861] – 1887);
Salter Durnall (1887 – 1895);
Samuel Clark (1895);
Alfred Haynes (1895 – 1896);
Charles Henry Parsons (1896 – 1897);
George Robinson (1897 – 1898);
Walter Francis (1898);
Joseph Challenger (1898 – 1911);
Lydia Challenger (1911 – 1912);
John Morgan (1912 – 1913);
William Charles Palmer (1913 – 1915);
Daniel Corbett (1915 – 1922);
Alfred Henry Hale (1922 – [1946])
Lavender [1951]

UNRESERVED SALE,
At the CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, John Street, Shropshire Row, BILSTON.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY Mr. F. ALTREE, on MONDAY NEXT, the 16th day of February—the LICENSES, POSSESSION, FIXTURES, Fittings, BREWING PLANT, and HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE; comprising four-pull Ale Machine, Tap Table, metal top; eight-day Dial, French Bagatelle Board, oblong and other Tables, mahogany corner Cupboard, Oil Paintings, five 120 and nine 60-gallon Ale Casks, pair of Vats, with massive Lead Piping and Brass Taps; Mash and other Tubs, Coolers, tump of Hops, 1856, stock of Ale, &c., the property of the late Mr. Round, deceased.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock in the morning.
Frederick Altree, Auctioneer, Publican's Valuer, and Land Surveyor, Bilston.

1857

NOTES

12, John Street [1861], [1881], [1891]
36, Hatton Street [1911], [1921], [1939], [1940], [1946]

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1855

“The Annual Licensing Meeting for Bilston, Sedgley, Gornal, and the adjoining places took place on Friday last, at the Police Office, Bilston.....

Mr. C. G. Brown applied for a license in behalf of Isaac Brereton, occupier of the CALIFORNIA HOUSE, California, Bilston, observing that the neighbourhood in which the house was situate was a very populous one, and the population was still increasing. Three or four streets had already been formed, and there was not a single public house in the place, although it promised soon to become an important part of the town. The house, which was an excellent one, was situate close to the works of Messrs. Higgins and Rose, and those of Messrs. Baldwin; which rendered a public house with a spirit license necessary. The testimonial was very respectably signed.

Mr. Loxdale observed that there was already one public house to every twenty-six inhabitants of the town.

Mr. Brown said he did not doubt that public houses were pretty thick where they were not wanted. If a person in the neighbourhood for which he applied were taken ill, there was no possibility of obtaining quickly that which was considered the best antidote – brandy.

Mr. Loxdale said Mr. White's shop, where Dr. Macann's Mixture was sold, could be reached in five minutes. (Laughter.)

Mr. Brown said it was a long way off. He added that the house had been used as a beershop, and no complaints made against it.

The Magistrates considered a license unnecessary, and refused to grant the application."

Birmingham Journal 22/11/1856 - Advert

"CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, Shropshire Row, Bilston.

To be Let, with immediate possession, the above commodious and Business Premises, surrounded by large Ironworks, Mines, &c; the present brewing per week eight bushels, which may be doubled by a young persevering couple. Rent and coming-in low.

Apply to Mr. F. Atree, Auctioneer, Publicans Valuer and General Agent, Bilston."

Birmingham Journal 14/2/1857 - Advert

"Unreserved Sale, at the CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, John Street, Shropshire Row, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. F. Atree, on Monday Next, the 16th day of February.

The Licenses, Possession, Fixtures, Fittings, Brewing Plant, and Household Furniture; comprising four-pull Ale Machine, Tap Table, metal top; eight-day Dial, French Bagatelle Board, oblong and other Tables, mahogany corner Cupboard, Oil Paintings, five 120 and nine 60-gallon Ale Casks, pair of Vats, with massive Lead Piping and Brass Taps; Mash and other Tubs, Coolers, tump of Hops, 1856, stock of Ale, &c, the property of the late Mr. Round, deceased.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock in the morning.

Frederick Atree, Auctioneer, Publicans Valuer, and Land Surveyor, Bilston."

1861 Census

12, John Street

[1] George Cooper (39), publican, born Stourbridge;

[2] Rachael Cooper (38), wife, born Dudley Port;

[3] Eliza Cooke (19), niece, servant, born Birmingham;

[4] Simon Blewitt (80), father-in-law, born Aston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/9/1861

"Annual meeting for the renewal and granting of spirit licenses.....

Applications for new licenses.....

George Cooper, landlord of a house in Shropshire Row, Bilston, applied that it might be licensed. He was supported by Mr. Waterhouse. Adjourned for the inspection of the house by the Magistrates."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/9/1864

"Yesterday the magistrates sat in Special Sessions, for the consideration of the applications for the renewal of old and the granting of new licenses to victuallers.....

Mr. H. Underhill appeared on behalf of Mr. George Cooper, CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, John Street, Bradley, for a license to that house. The application was unopposed, and the Bench deferred their decision until the adjourned licensing day."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1864

"Bilston Annual Licensing Meeting.....

CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, Bradley.

Mr. H. Underhill applied on behalf of George Cooper, who keeps a beerhouse in John Street, Bradley. After referring to the fact that the applicant had kept the house for nine years without complaint against him, and that the house was situate in a populous neighbourhood, where the nearest licensed house was 200 yards distant from this, Mr. Underhill also called attention to the fact that his client carried on a large business as a brewer, as a guarantee that he would do his best to conduct the house to their satisfaction Adjourned for a fortnight."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/9/1864

"Bilston Adjourned Licensing Day.....

Mr. J. E. Underhill applied on behalf of Mr. George Cooper, for a license to a beerhouse kept by him, in John Street, Shropshire Row, Bradley. The application was made two years ago, and there was no doubt as to the commodiousness of the house, or the good character of the applicant.

The Bench said that they did not consider that another public house was required in the neighbourhood, and refused the application."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1865

"Yesterday, the annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division of the county of Stafford was held.....

Mr. Underhill applied on behalf of George Cooper, for a license to a house in Barbor's Field, near to Messrs. Thompson and Hatton's works. Mr. Cooper had kept the house for ten years without there being any complaint against him; and the principal residents of the neighbourhood had recommended that the application should be granted. Mr. Thurstans opposed on behalf of Mr. Knott, who kept a house seventy yards away. Application refused."

George Cooper, beer retailer, John Street, Bradley. [1865]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1868 - Advert

"To Publicans. John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

To be Let, a compact and desirable Beerhouse, situate as above, and known as the CALIFORNIA TAP HOUSE, doing a good in and out-door trade. Stock and Effects at valuation. The proprietor is retiring from the business.

Apply on the Premises, or to James Taylor, Auctioneer, Russell Street, Wednesbury."

TO Publicans.—John Street, Bradley, Bilston.—To be Let, a compact and desirable BEERHOUSE, situate as above, and known as "The California Tap House," doing a good in and out-door trade. Stock and Effects at valuation. The proprietor is retiring from the business.—Apply on the Premises, or to James Taylor, Auctioneer, Russell Street, Wednesbury.

1871 Census

John Street

[1] George Cooper (49), retail brewer, born Stourbridge;

[2] Rachel Cooper (47), wife, born Dudley Port;

[3] Eliza Cook (29), niece, barmaid, born Birmingham:

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/8/1872

"Bilston Annual Licensing Meeting.....

The following applications for new licenses were granted.....

A wine license to George Cooper, CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/2/1874 - Advert

"Wanted, Man, used to a Horse, and assist in Brewing.

Apply, CALIFORNIA INN, John Street, Bradley, Bilston."

WANTED, Man, used to a Horse, and assist in Brewing.—Apply, California Inn, John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 10/3/1874 - Advert

"Servant-Girl (respectable) Wanted, used to a Public-house. Closed on Sundays.

Apply, CALIFORNIA INN, John Street, Bradley, Bilston."

SERVANT-GIRL (respectable) Wanted, used to a Public-house. Closed on Sundays.—Apply, California Inn, John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 31/3/1875 - Advert

"For Sale, brown Horse, 15 hands, 8 years old; quiet to ride and drive. Warranted sound and free from vice.

Apply, CALIFORNIA INN, John Street, Bradley, Bilston."

FOR Sale, brown Horse, 15 hands, 8 years old; quiet to ride and drive. Warranted sound and free from vice.—Apply, California Inn, John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 24/4/1875 - Advert

"Business or Pleasure Traps, and silver-plated Harness.

Apply, CALIFORNIA INN, John Street, Bradley, Bilston."

BUSINESS or Pleasure Traps, and silver-plated Harness.—Apply, California Inn, John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Dudley Herald 30/8/1879

"Swine fever having broken out amongst some pigs kept by Mr. George Cooper, CALIFORNIAN INN, Bradley, and by Mr. Thomas Fieldhouse, SIDNEY VILLAGE INN, Bradley, two of the animals have been slaughtered by order of the veterinary inspector. Mr. Cooper had a remaining pig killed that the infection should not spread to neighbouring styres."

1881 Census

12, John Street

- [1] George Cooper (59), publican, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Rachel Cooper (58), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Eliza Cooke (39), niece, barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [4] Martha Crutchinton (21), general servant, born Sedgley;

Evening Express 12/12/1881

"The annual general meeting of the Bradley Tin-plate Works Sick and Burial Society was held on Saturday last, at the CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley. The statement of accounts showed income, £101 17s 5d; expenditure, £26 0s 7d; leaving a balance of £75 16s 10d to be divided among the members, equal to £1 9s 9d each. The President (Mr. A. Harper) congratulated the members on the healthy state of the society, and said he trusted the object of the society would commend itself to all their fellow workmen. Votes of thanks and confidence were given to the secretary, Mr. Levi Turley, the treasurer, Mr. John Guttridge, and the other officers of the club, who were all unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year."

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/1/1886

"The annual meeting of the Bradley Iron and Tin Plate Works Sick and Burial Society was held at the CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley, on Christmas Eve. The Secretary, Mr. Levi Turley, read the report, which stated that £264 17s 5d had been paid in, and disbursements for sickness, death, &c had been £134 17s 6d, so that a very satisfactory dividend had been realised. Mr. Joseph Parker was re-elected president, Mr. Salter Durnall treasurer, and Mr. Edwin Darbey secretary. Mr. Parker stated that it was a very useful society. Some who had passed away had paid in a nominal sum, yet their representatives had received £10 each, and he hoped that prosperity would still attend the society. Votes of thanks were given to all past officers, and the rest of the evening was spent in singing and recitations."

Birmingham Daily Post 17/4/1886 - Advert

"To be Sold, one of the best Beer and Wine Licensed Houses in the Midland Counties, together with six small Houses, all in good repair; not changed hands this last thirty years; retiring from the business. Apply, CALIFORNIA INN, John Street, Bradley, Bilston."

TO be Sold, one of the best Beer and Wine Licensed Houses in the Midland Counties, together with six small Houses, all in good repair; not changed hands this last thirty years; retiring from the business—Apply, California Inn, John Street, Bradley, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/2/1890 - Advert

"For Sale, a first-class Euphonium, B flat and C perfect; also first-class E flat circular fine-tone Bombardon; also small Engine and Boiler, complete. S. Durnall, CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley, Bilston."

FOR Sale, a first-class Euphonium, B flat and C perfect; also first-class E flat circular fine-tone Bombardon; also small Engine and Boiler, complete.—S. Durnall, California Inn, Bradley, Bilston.

1891 Census

12, John Street – CALIFORNIA INN

- [1] Salter Durnall (46), innkeeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Martha Durnall (44), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Oliver Durnall (22), son, shingler, ironworks, born Bilston;
- [4] Emily Durnall (20), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Salter Durnall (18), son, shingler, ironworks, born Bilston;
- [6] Bernard J. Durnall (16), son, shingler, ironworks, born Bilston;
- [7] Arthur L. Durnall (11), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Martha Durnall (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Gertrude K. Durnall (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Ada Durnall (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/3/1896

"Alfred Haynes, of the CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley, was charged with allowing gaming on his licensed premises. A policeman disguised himself and visited the house, when he saw gambling. The defendant was fined 20s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/4/1898 - Advert

“To Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

Three Freehold Licensed Houses, Wolverhampton, Wednesbury, and Bilston, for Sale, with Possession.

Thomas J. Barnett & Son, are instructed to offer for Sale by Auction, on Wednesday Evening, April 27, 1898, at half-past Six o'clock prompt time, at the Auction Mart, 25, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton, subject to conditions of sale, the following Licensed Houses and Properties adjoining.....

Lot 3. The Old-established Freehold Licensed Beerhouse, known as the CALIFORNIA INN, situate fronting to Hatton Street, Bradley, with enclosed Yard and Wash-house at the rear, and a gateway at the side; and also a Two-storey Dwelling House adjoining another at the rear thereof, and Four Two-storey Houses, with Out-offices, in the Yard at the back. The Houses are let to weekly tenants, and produce a gross rental of £37 1s per annum. Possession of the Beerhouse may be had on completion of purchase.....

NB. Purchasers of the above Houses will be required to take to, at valuation in the usual way, the Public House Fixtures, Fittings, Licenses, and Effects, as per Schedules, which may be seen on application to the Auctioneers.”

Tokens were issued by J. Challinger. [sic]

1901 Census

Hatton Street – CALIFORNIA INN

[1] Joseph Challenger (51), publican, born Coseley;

[2] Lydia Challenger (54), wife, born Tipton;

[3] James Challenger (27), son, roller of sheets in iron works, born Tipton;

[4] Joseph Challenger (23), son, labourer in iron works, born Tipton;

[5] Hannah Challenger (19), daughter, domestic servant, born Bradley;

[6] George Challenger (14), son, school, born Bradley:

1911 Probate

“Joseph Challenger, of Hatton Street, Bradley, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 22 January 1911. Probate Lichfield 18 March to Lydia Challenger, widow. Effects £59 7s 6d.”

1911 Census

36, Hatton Street – CALIFORNIA INN

[1] Lydia Challenger (64), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Tipton;

[2] James Challenger (37), son, iron worker, born Toll End;

[3] Hannah Challenger (29), daughter, born Bradley;

[4] Maria Moss (14), visitor, born Darlaston:

County Express 19/7/1913 - Advert

“Highly Important Announcement of Sale by Auction of Fourteen Freehold Fully-Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, in and around Coseley, Bilston, Darlaston, Sedgley, and Tipton.

Alfred W. Dando & Co. have received instructions to Sell by Auction, at the STAR AND GARTER HOTEL, Wolverhampton, on Tuesday, July 22nd, 1913, at 6.30 for 7 o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced, as follows.....

Lot 1. The SWAN INN, Darkhouse Lane, Deepfields, Coseley (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Davies, together with the Two Dwelling Houses adjoining, being Nos.10 and 16, Darkhouse Lane.

Lot 2. The PAINTERS ARMS INN, Avenue Road, Coseley (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Davies.

Lot 3. The RED LION INN, Castle Street, Coseley (Beerhouse-on), with large area of Land, as occupied by Mr. John Groves.

Lot 4. The IVY HOUSE INN, Ivy House Lane, Coseley (fully-licensed) as occupied by Mr. Cahill or his under-tenant, together with the Dwelling House, Numbered 23, Ivy House Lane, occupying a large area of land.

Lot 5. The SUMMER HOUSE INN, School Street, Roseville, Coseley (Beerhouse-on), as let to Mr. G. W. Davies.

Lot 6. The ROLLING MILL INN, Millfield Road, Bilston (Beerhouse-on), extending to and fronting Union Street, with large area of Land, as occupied by Mr. Eli Cresswell.

Lot 6a. Union Street. Two Unnumbered Dwelling Houses adjoining the above, with large walled-in Yard and Outbuildings, as let to John Beaton and David Lloyd.

Lot 7. The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mrs. Sarah Hughes.

Lot 8. The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston(Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. John Morgan, with the Five Dwelling Houses, being No.38, California Street, and Nos.1 to 7 (odd numbers), at the rear of same.

Lot 9. The PRINCE OF WALES, Walsall Road, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. Thomas Burfoot.

Lot 10. The NEW INN, The Green (opposite Horton Street), Darlaston (6-day Licence Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mrs. Snape.

Lot 11. The MINERS ARMS INN, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal (fully-licensed), as let to Mr. Enoch Smart.

Lot 11a. Nos.90 and 91, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal. Two Excellent Cottages adjoining the above, with pleasant Gardens and the usual Outbuildings.

Lot 12. The SHAKESPEARE INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. Isaac Smart.

Lot 13. The CABIN INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (Beerhouse-on), as occupied by Mr. Joshua Bradley.

Lot 14. The BOAT INN, Boat Row, off Park Lane West, Tipton (fully-licensed), as occupied by Mr. John Johnson, with the Dwelling House, No.14 adjoining.

Auctioneers' Notes: The foregoing 14 Licensed Houses, 6 of which are Fully-licensed and 8 On-Beerhouses, form as a whole, one of the most important lots of Licensed Properties brought under the hammer in the district within recent years. They have been carefully acquired from time to time, and are situate in well-populated localities, for the most part within easy distance of the largest works in Staffordshire.

The Houses are held either on short tenancies or under management, and in most cases possession may be had of the goodwill of the various businesses upon completion of the purchases; a fine opportunity therefore presents itself to Brewers wishing to increase their barrelage, or to private individuals desiring to embark in the trade. The Houses as a whole are in good order, commodious, well arranged, and doing genuine trades.

Further detailed particulars may be obtained from of Messrs. Hall, Pratt and Pritchard, Solicitors, Bilston; or the Auctioneers, Dudley."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/5/1915 - Advert

"Under A Deed Of Assignment.

Re Richard Sidney Wilson, trading as R. S. Wilson & Son.

Preliminary Announcement Of Sale By Auction of Eleven Freehold, Fully-Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, Brewery Premises & Dwelling Houses in and around Darlaston, Sedgley, Coseley, Bilston, Tipton, Ackleton, and Bridgnorth.

Alfred W. Dando & Co. have received instructions from R. H. Jonson, Esq. (Messrs. Muras and Co., Chartered Accountants, Wolverhampton), the Trustees as above, to Sell by Auction early in June, the following Properties.

The PRINCE OF WALES INN, Walsall Road, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-On).

The MINERS ARMS INN, Ruiton Street, Lower Gornal (Fully Licensed), and Two Cottages.

The SWAN INN, Darkhouse Lane, Deepfields, Coseley (Fully Licensed), and Two Dwelling Houses.

The BARLEY MOW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston (Beerhouse-On).

The ROLLING MILL INN, Millfield Road, Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and Two Cottages.

The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and five Dwelling Houses.

The BOAT INN, Boat Row, off Park Lane West, Tipton (Fully Licensed).

The RED LION INN, Castle Street, Coseley, (Beerhouse-On).

The SUMMER HOUSE INN, School Street, Roseville, Coseley (Beerhouse-On).

The CABIN INN, Kent Street, Upper Gornal (Beerhouse-On).

The Folly Inn, Ackleton, 5½ miles from Bridgnorth and Albrighton, and about 10 miles from Wolverhampton (Beerhouse-On), with Cottage Residence.

The Castle Brewery, Bridgnorth, with Fixed Plant.

Further particulars will appear in future announcements.

Auctioneer's Offices, 193, Wolverhampton Street, Dudley. (Tele.56)."

Catalogue for Auction on 2/6/1915

“Under a Deed of Assignment. Re Richard Sidney Wilson, trading as R. S. Wilson & Son.

Highly Important Announcement of Sale by Auction of Eleven Freehold Fully Licensed and On-Beerhouse Properties, Brewery Premises and Dwelling Houses.....

The following Eleven Licensed Houses, Three of which are Fully-Licensed and Eight On-Beerhouses, together with the Brewery, form as a whole, one of the most important lots of Licensed Properties brought under the hammer in the district within recent years. They have been carefully acquired from time to time and are situated in well populated localities, for the most part within easy distance of some of the largest works in Staffordshire, and as they are being offered by direction of the Trustee under a Deed of Assignment, a fine opportunity presents itself to Brewers wishing to increase their barrelage or to private individuals desiring to embark in the trade, of acquiring houses which as a whole are in good order, commodious, well arranged, doing genuine trades, and possession of which may be obtained in most cases upon completion and otherwise at early dates afterwards.....

Lot 6. The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston (Beerhouse-On).

Under Management. The exceedingly well-known and long established Public House situated close to several extensive works, in a thickly populated district and commanding a large trade, the accommodation comprising Entrance Passage, Tap Room front 22' x 11', Bar 10' x 10', Club Room 22' x 11', Private Sitting Room, outer Living Kitchen, Three Bedrooms, Wash-house and Cellars together with Two-floor Brewery, large paved Yard and the usual Outbuildings.

Also the Five Freehold Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, one of which fronts the street and is numbered 38, the others being at rear of same and numbered 1, 3, 5, and 8 respectively as let and together producing the gross annual rental of £34 9s 0d.”

[Bought by J. Downing for £600.]

Birmingham Daily Post 4/6/1915

“At Wolverhampton on Wednesday Messrs. W. Dando and Co. of Dudley offered for sale a number of licensed houses in the Black Country, and the lots disposed of realised a total of £6,835....

The CALIFORNIA INN, Hatton Street, Bradley, near Bilston, an on-beerhouse under management, together with five dwelling houses producing a gross annual rental of £34 9s, fetched £600.”

Daniel Corbett was fined £1 and costs, on 3rd May 1916, for selling beer exceeding the measure called for.

1921 Census

36, Hatton Street

- [1] Daniel Corbett (34), iron worker, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary Jane Corbett (32), wife, house duties, born Wellington, Shropshire;
- [3] Elsie Corbett (14), daughter, school, born Tipton;
- [4] Emily Corbett (12), daughter, school, born Tipton;
- [5] Edith Corbett (10), daughter, school, born Tipton;
- [6] Annie Corbett (8), daughter, school, born Tipton;
- [7] Arthur Corbett (6), son, school, born Bradley;
- [8] Phillis Corbett (3), daughter, born Bradley;
- [9] William Corbett (1), son, born Bradley;

Alfred Hale = Alfred Hales

1939 Register

36, Hatton Street

- [1] Alfred H. Hale, date of birth 17/11/1881, beer retailer, married;
- [2] Rose C. Hale, dob 2/1/1881, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Sidney Hale, dob 18/2/1907, wood pattern maker, engineer's, heavy work, single;
- [4] James S. Hale, dob 4/4/1921, machine driller, aero, heavy work, single;

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, Second Division. [1946]

1948 Probate

"Rosa Clara, otherwise Rose, Hale, of 36 Hatton Street, Bilston, Staffordshire (wife of Alfred Henry Hale) died 30 October 1946. Administration Birmingham 27 August to Sidney Hale, wood pattern maker. Effects £120 19s 8d."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/1/1951

"A licensee's wife told Bilston magistrates yesterday that after using £273 from the inn's death and dividend club to pay bills she trudged round for three hours trying to borrow money from relatives to replace it. Ann Elizabeth Lavender (34), housewife, of the CALIFORNIA INN, Bradley, treasurer of the club, admitted four charges of fraudulently converting amounts of £1 6s 2d, and asking for 241 other cases to be taken into consideration. Lavender was fined £10, and told by Ald. C. A. Pratt, the chairman, that but for domestic circumstances, she would have gone to prison."

TO BREWERS, PUBLICANS, AND OTHERS.

THREE FREEHOLD LICENSED HOUSES, WOLVERHAMPTON, WEDNESBURY, AND BILSTON, FOR SALE, WITH POSSESSION.

THOMAS J. BARNETT & SON are instructed to offer for Sale by Auction, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 27, 1898, at half-past six o'clock prompt time, at the Auction Mart, 25, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton, subject to conditions of sale, the following LICENSED HOUSES and PROPERTIES adjoining, viz.:-

MONMORE GREEN, BILSTON ROAD, WOLVERHAMPTON.

Lot 1.—The Old-established FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as "THE ODDFELLOWS' ARMS," situate fronting the Bilston Road, at Monmore Green, Wolverhampton, with the Yard, Out-houses, and Appurtenances at the rear; and also the adjoining HOUSE and SHOP, being No. 45, Monmore Green, and the Out-offices thereto.

Possession of the Licensed House will be given on the completion of purchase.

THE CROSS KEYS INN, EARP'S LANE, WEDNESBURY.

Lot 2.—The Old-established Three-storey LICENSED BEER-HOUSE, known as the "CROSS KEYS INN," situated amongst a dense population in Earp's Lane, off High Street, in the town of Wednesbury, with the Two-storey DWELLING HOUSE adjoining, and the Yard and Out-offices belonging to both houses at the rear. The small House is occupied by a weekly tenant at a gross rental of £11 14s. per annum, and possession of the Beerhouse will be given on completion of the purchase.

THE CALIFORNIA INN,
BRADLEY, BILSTON.

Lot 3.—The Old-established FREEHOLD LICENSED BEER-HOUSE, known as the "CALIFORNIA INN," situate fronting to Hatton Street, Bradley, with enclosed Yard and Wash-house at the rear, and a gateway at the side; and also a Two-storey DWELLING HOUSE adjoining another at the rear thereof, and Four Two-storey HOUSES, with Out-offices, in the Yard at the back. The Houses are let to weekly tenants, and produce a gross rental of £37 1s. per annum. Possession of the Beerhouse may be had on completion of purchase.

N.B.—Purchasers of the above Houses will be required to take to, at a valuation in the usual way, the Public-house Fixtures, Fittings, Licenses, and Effects as per Schedules, which may be seen on application to the Auctioneers.

For further information, apply to Mr. H. C. Owen, Solicitor; or to the Auctioneers, all of Darlington Street, Wolverhampton.

There are other FREEHOLD PROPERTIES for Sale on the same Evening, after the above, which are described in separate announcements.

HIGHLY-IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT OF SALE BY AUCTION OF ELEVEN FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED AND ON-BEERHOUSE PROPERTIES, BREWERY PREMISES & DWELLING HOUSES in and around DARLASTON, SEDGLEY, COSELEY, BILSTON, TIPTON, ACKLETON, AND BRIDGNORTH.

ALFRED W. DANDO & CO. have received instructions from R. H. Johnston, Esq. (Messrs. Muras and Co., Chartered Accountants, Wolverhampton), the Trustee as above, to sell by Auction, at the Star and Garter Hotel, Wolverhampton, on WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1915, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced, as follows:—

Lot 1.

"THE PRINCE OF WALES INN," WALSALL ROAD, between Darlaston and Wednesbury (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 2.

"THE MINERS' ARMS INN," RUITON STREET, LOWER GORNAL (Fully Licensed), together with the Two COTTAGES adjoining.

Lot 3.

"THE SWAN INN," DARKHOUSE LANE, DEEPFIELDS COSELEY (Fully Licensed), and Two DWELLING HOUSES adjoining.

Lot 4.

"THE BARLEY MOW INN," OXFORD STREET, BILSTON (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 5.

"THE ROLLING MILL INN," MILLFIELD ROAD, BILSTON (Beerhouse-On), and Two COTTAGES adjoining.

Lot 6.

"THE CALIFORNIA INN," HATTON STREET, BRADLEY near Bilston (Beerhouse-On), and Five DWELLING HOUSES.

Lot 7.

"THE BOAT INN," BOAT ROW, off Park Lane West, TIPTON (Fully Licensed).

Lot 8.

"THE RED LION INN," CASTLE STREET, COSELEY (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 9.

"THE SUMMER HOUSE INN," SCHOOL STREET, ROSEVILLE, COSELEY (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 10.

"THE CABIN INN," KENT STREET, UPPER GORNAL (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 11.

"THE FOLLY INN," ACKLETON (Beerhouse-On), situate five and a half miles from Bridgnorth and Albrighton, and about ten miles from Wolverhampton.

Lot 12.

An Excellent COTTAGE RESIDENCE, adjoining the above, as lot to Mr. Davies.

Lot 13.

THE CASTLE BREWERY, BRIDGNORTH, together with the whole of the FIXED PLANT.

Further particulars may be obtained—as to Lot 1, of Messrs. Slater and Co., Solicitors, Darlaston; as to Lots 2, 3, and 7, of Messrs. W. A. and H. M. Foster, Solicitors, Wolverhampton; as to Lot 12, of Messrs. Tildesley and Harris, Solicitors, Willehall; and as to the whole of the Lots of Messrs. Hall, Pratt, and Pritchard, Solicitors, Bilston; or of the Auctioneers, Dudley.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT OF SALE BY AUCTION
— of —

*ELEVEN Freehold Fully Licensed and
On-Beerhouse Properties, : : : : :
Brewery Premises and Dwelling Houses*

IN AND ABOUT

DARLSTON	TIPTON
SEDGLEY	ACKLETON
COSELEY	and
BILSTON	BRIDGNORTH

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION BY

Alfred W. Dando & Co.

AT THE

STAR & GARTER HOTEL, WOLVERHAMPTON
:: :: On WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2nd, 1915, :: ::

At 5.30 for 7 o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to Conditions of Sale then to be produced.

TRUSTEES:

R. H. JOHNSON, Esq.,
(Messrs. MURK & Co.),
Chartered Accountants,
Wolverhampton.

Auctioneers' Offices,
193, Wolverhampton St.,
DUDLEY.

SOLICITORS:

Messrs. HALL, PHILLIPS & PRITCHARD,
Bilston;

Messrs. SLATER & Co.,
Darlston;

Messrs. W. A. & H. M. POSTER,
Wolverhampton;

Messrs. TILDENLEY & HARRIS,
Willenhall.

Catalogue 1915

The "California" Inn,
HATTON STREET,
Bradley, near Bilston
(Beerhouse-On).

UNDER MANAGEMENT.

The exceedingly well-known and long established Public-
House situate close to several extensive works, in a thickly populated district and commanding a large trade, the accommodation comprising Entrance Passage, Tap Room front 22' x 11', Bar 10' x 10', Club Room 22' x 11', Private Sitting Room, outer Living Kitchen, Three Bedrooms, Wash-house and Cellars together with Two-floor Brewery, large paved Yard and the usual Outbuildings.

Also the Five Freehold DWELLING HOUSES adjoining thereto, one of which fronts the street and is numbered 38, the others being at rear of same and numbered 1, 3, 5, and 8 respectively as let and together producing the gross annual rental of £34 : 9s. : 0d.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

6, (5), Mount Pleasant, BILSTON

OWNERS

Martha Lee

LICENSEES

Thomas Lee [1851] – [1856]
Edward Griffiths [1861]
Samuel Martin []
Reuben Humphries []
Thomas Lee [1866]
Mrs. Martha Lee [1871] – 1886):

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON.
BY Messrs. ALTREE and SON.—TO BE LET, at valuation, the above convenient PREMISES, with large kitchen garden, yard, stabling, piggeries, &c. An excellent business is done the year through. Rent, only £25 per annum.—Apply, enclosing stamp, to ALTREE and SON, old-established Valuers, Bilston.

1859

NOTES

5, Mount Pleasant [1861]
6, Mount Pleasant [1881]

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON.
BY ALTREE AND SON.—TO BE LET, the above well-frequented and noted House of business, with every convenience, large kitchen garden, stables, piggeries, yard, &c.
Rent, £25. The present proprietor has been in 26 years, and is leaving in consequence of having taken the White Horse, Shiffnal. Valuation only required.—Apply to the old-established AUCTIONEERS, Market-street, Bilston.

1860

It had a beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Mount Pleasant
[1] Thomas Lee (53), retail brewer, born Bedworth, Warwickshire;
[2] Hannah Lee (56), wife, born Bloxwich;
[3] George Owen (9), grand-son, scholar, born Bilston;
[4] Mercy Shayshutt (13), house servant, born Bilston;
[5] Ann Shayshutt (54), visitor, born Bloxwich:

Birmingham Journal 24/3/1857

“Slander at Bilston. Holmes v Lee.

This was an action for defamation of character, the plaintiff being a confidential servant to Messrs. Hickman, ironmasters, Bilston, and the defendant landlord of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Bilston. It appeared that in September last the plaintiff was at the house of the defendant, in company with two persons named Enoch Meacham and Thomas Barns, where they had some beer. A person named Hayman also came into the room, and in their presence the defendant stated that he had frequently seen the plaintiff with a horse and cart at twelve at night at the premises of Hickman, taking away the corn, and that he would swear it. A letter was afterwards sent to the defendant by Mr. Bartlett, plaintiff’s solicitor, demanding a retraction and an apology, after which defendant went to Mr. Bartlett’s office, and instead of apologising actually repeated the statement, saying, ‘What I have said about Holmes is true, and my own books and witnesses will prove it.’ Evidence on both sides having been called, the Jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, damage £2 10s.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/9/1859 - Advert

“CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

By Messrs. Altree and Son. To be Let, at valuation, the above convenient Premises, with large kitchen garden, yard, stabling, piggeries, &c. An excellent business is done the year through. Rent, only £25 per annum. Apply, enclosing stamp, to Altree and Son, old-established Valuers, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/2/1860 - Advert

“CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

By Aلتree and Son. To be Let, the above well-frequented and noted House of business, with every convenience, large kitchen garden, stables, piggeries, yard, &c. Rent, £25. The present proprietor had been in 26 years, and is leaving in consequence of having taken the White Horse, Shiffnal. Valuation only required.

Apply to the old-established Auctioneers, Market Street, Bilston.”

1861 Census

5, Mount Pleasant – CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

[1] Edward Griffiths (21), beer retailer, born Bilston;

[2] Sarah Griffiths (22), wife, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/12/1865 - Advert

“Bilston. To be Disposed Of, the Goodwill and Possession of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, near the Police Court, Bilston. Immediate possession may be had. The Stock, Plant, Fixtures, &c, to be taken to by valuation.

Apply to S. Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/12/1865 - Advert

“CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, near the Police Court, Bilston.

To be disposed of, by Mr. Samuel Baker, the Stock, Fittings, Brewing Vessels, and Effects, at the above house, possession of which can be had on the 22nd December inst, by Valuation in the usual way.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/10/1866

“Mr. Thomas Lee, publican, of Wolverhampton, sued Reuben Humphries, late of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE beershop, Bilston, to recover £8 6s, amount of damage done by him to that house, of which plaintiff is the landlord. The case for the plaintiff, for whom Mr. Bartlett appeared, was that defendant had during his tenancy broken a stone water trough, and done other damage, and in removing fixtures did injury to the amount claimed. The case for the defendant, for whom Mr. Langman appeared, and at whose instance a jury had been summoned to decide the claim, was that he had been most careful in the use of the house, and in the removal of the fixtures, and that the stone trough was old, and was split in the wear and tear. The jury found for the plaintiff, damages £2.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/12/1866 - Advert

“The CAPE OF GOOD HOPE to be Let, Mount Pleasant, Bilston. In-coming about £15.

Apply, S. Baker, Bilston.”

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE to be LET, Mount Pleasant, Bilston. In-coming about £15.—Apply, S. Baker, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/1/1868 - Advert

“To be Let, at Bilston.....

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Mount Pleasant. Rent £25. Fittings only to take to.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/6/1868 - Deaths

“On the 28th ultimo, at the DUKE OF YORK, Princess Street, Wolverhampton, Mr. Thomas Lee, late of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston; deeply regretted.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

For keeping open during prohibited hours.....

Samuel Martin, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Mount Pleasant, 10s and costs.

R. Humphries, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, 10s and costs.”

1871 Census

Mount Pleasant

[1] Martha Lee (38), widow, licensed victualler, born Shropshire:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/9/1879

"Yesterday morning, the beerhouse of Martha Lee, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, was burglariously entered, and about £1 4s in money taken."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/9/1879

"James Morris, locksmith, Orchard Street, Bilston, was charged in custody with having burglariously entered the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE beerhouse, kept by Martha Lee, at Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on the morning of the 14th September.

Prosecutrix stated that on the night of the 13th September she closed the house at 11 o'clock, secured the doors and windows, and retired to rest about half an hour later. Early the next morning she heard a noise in the house as of some jugs falling and also of someone trying to enter her bedroom, the door of which was both locked and bolted. She then opened the window and saw someone, without shoes, come from the back of the house. A little later on a tenant came by, and witness sent him to the police station. On the arrival of a police officer it was found that an entrance had been effected through the kitchen window, and that two half-sovereigns and 6s in silver and copper had been carried away.

Police-constable James Johnson stated that when he searched the premises the same morning he found a pair of clogs and a hat. Mrs. Walters deposed that she lived near the prisoner, and had seen him wear the hat produced. He was in the habit of wearing clogs.

Inspector Evans deposed that on the 22nd inst the prisoner, whilst in the cell, and in the presence of his mother, said that he himself committed the burglary, and 'that the devil must have been in him,' or he should not have done it. Prisoner, who admitted in the dock that he alone entered the house, was committed to take his trial at the assizes."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1879

"At Bilston Police Court, on Tuesday, James Morris (29), locksmith, of Orchard Street, was charged with burglariously entering the dwelling house of Martha Lee, landlady of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Mount Pleasant, on the 14th inst. Prisoner, with another man not in custody, was seen to leave the premises about two o'clock in the morning by the prosecutrix, who was disturbed by the noise. All the booty that was secured was 10d. Morris was apprehended on Saturday last, when he admitted the offence. He was committed to the Assizes."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/11/1879

"Staffordshire Assizes. Yesterday. Pleaded Guilty.....

James Morris (29), locksmith, pleaded guilty to breaking into the dwelling house of Martha Lee, at Bilston, on the 14th of September, and stealing £1 10s. He was sent to gaol for six months."

1881 Census

6, Mount Pleasant – beer shop CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

[1] Martha Lee (40), widow, publican, born Shropshire;

[2] Catherine Franks (17), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/11/1884

"Yesterday morning Martha Lee, landlady of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, was found dead in her room. The deceased had gone to bed at about a quarter to ten on Sunday night. Yesterday morning she appears to have got up to dress, and to have been seized with a fit, in which she died. Deceased has for several weeks past complained of being unwell, and has employed a neighbour to help her in her household duties."

Darlaston Weekly Times 22/11/1884

"Martha Lee (55), landlady of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, was on Monday morning found dead in her bedroom under somewhat singular circumstances. It appears deceased was a widow, and had kept the house for a number of years. At about half-past one o'clock on the day in question, a woman visited the house, and being unable to make herself heard, at once gave information to Inspector Harrison, at the police station near, who obtained a ladder and got through the window onto deceased's bedroom, when he discovered her lying upon the floor undressed, with her head near the bedsteads, but quite dead. Dr. Larkin having been called, stated that deceased had been dead some hours.

After the evidence of several witnesses, and also the evidence of Dr. Larkin, who had made a post mortem examination over the deceased, the jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Lee had died from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1886

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, application was made by Mr. Plumptre for the renewal of the license of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, to Mr. Matthew J. Blewitt, solicitor, Birmingham, the administrator of the late licensee Martha Lee. This house was one of the oldest in Bilston, and no objection had been made to it whilst it was held by Mrs. Lee.

Mr. Dallow, on behalf of Mr. Clark, the licensee of the GLOBE INN, which is only next door to the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, urged that another public house was not required in the neighbourhood. A memorial against the application, signed by the inhabitants of Mount Pleasant, was presented by Mr. Fellows.

Mr. Whitehouse said the Bench sympathised with the mortgagees of the property, but they must refuse the application.”

The license was taken away in 1886. No application for transfer (not required).

BILSTON.—To be DISPOSED OF, the GOODWILL and POSSESSION of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, near the Police Court, Bilston. Immediate possession may be had. The Stock, Plant, Fixtures, &c., to be taken to by valuation.—Apply to S. Baker, Auctioneer, Bilston.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN,
NEAR THE POLICE COURT, BILSTON.
TO BE DISPOSED OF,

BY Mr. SAMUEL BAKER, the STOCK, FITTINGS, BREWING VESSELS, and EFFECTS, at the above house, possession of which can be had on the 22nd
December inst., by Valuation in the usual way.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

Wolverhampton Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Jenks [1818] – [1822]

Hartshorne [1828] – [1830]

Joseph Lawley []

George Lawley [1850]

Richard Nicholls [1851]

NOTES

James Jenks was also a shopkeeper. [1818]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/2/1850 - Advert

“Public House, Buildings, and Land, Bilston.

To be Peremptorily Sold by Auction, by Mr. John Mason, by direction of the mortgagee under a power of sale, on Thursday, the 28th day of February, 1850, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then and there read.

Lot I. A Public House, called the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, situated in Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, occupied by George Lawley; a Dwelling House adjoining thereto, occupied by Jane Ashwood; two Dwelling Houses at the back thereof, in the respective occupations of George Clarke and Thomas Bailey.

Lot II. Three Messuages in Wolverhampton Street aforesaid, contiguous to Lot I, in the respective occupations of William Millard, Richard Jones, and Thomas Evans; a Dwelling House at the back of the said three messuages, and occupied by Samuel Pugh.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Phillips, attorney at law, Wolverhampton.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/12/1850 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton. 19th day of December, 1850.

Whereas, a Petition of Joseph Lawley, of Coseley Row, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Butty Collier and Butty Miner, late residing and carrying on the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, situate in Wolverhampton Street, in the said township of Bilston, and also working by royalty and as a Butty Miner at Stonefield Colliery Pits, near Bilston aforesaid, and previously thereto residing in Oatmeal Square, in the said township of Bilston, working as a Butty Miner at the said Stonefield Colliery Pits, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire at Wolverhampton, and an Interim Order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Lawley, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Lawley is hereby required to appear in Court before Nathaniel Richard Clarke, Esquire, Sergeant-at-Law, the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the 3rd day of January, 1851, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, for his first Examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and Notice is hereby given, that the choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Joseph Lawley, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esquire, Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his Office, in Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

J. C. Smith, Esq, Solicitor, Wolverhampton.”

PUBLIC HOUSE, BUILDINGS, AND LAND,
Bilston.
To be PEREMPTORILY SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY MR. JOHN MASON,
By direction of the mortgagee under a power of sale, on Thursday, the 28th day of February, 1850, at the King's Arms Inn, Bilston, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then and there read.
Lot I.— A PUBLIC HOUSE, called “THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE,” situated in Wolverhampton-street, Bilston, occupied by George Lawley; a DWELL-ING HOUSE adjoining thereto, occupied by Jane Ash-wood; two DWELLING HOUSES at the back thereof, in the respective occupations of George Clarke and Thomas Bailey.
Lot II.— Three MESSUAGES in Wolverhampton-street aforesaid, contiguous to Lot I, in the respective occupations of William Millard, Richard Jones, and Thomas Evans; a DWELLING HOUSE at the back of the said three messuages, and occupied by Samuel Pugh.
For further particulars apply to Mr. PHILLIPS, attorney at law, Wolverhampton.

Birmingham Journal 28/12/1850 - Advert

“Old-Licensed Public House, the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston.

By W. Ashcroft. To be Disposed Of, the above desirable Tavern. In-coming about £40; Rent under £20.

The amount of Valuation can be reduced, if required. Satisfactory reasons can be given for leaving.

Apply to W. Ashcroft, Auctioneer, Appraiser, and General Commission Agent, Pipers Row, Wolverhampton, who has several other Public Houses, and an excellent Grocer's Shop to dispose of.”

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORD-

SHIRE, AT WOLVERHAMPTON.—19th day of December, 1850.—Whereas, a PETITION of JOSEPH LAWLEY, of Coseley-row, in the township of BILSTON, in the county of Stafford, Butty Collier and Butty Miner, late residing and carrying on the trade or business of a Licensed Victualler, at the sign of the “Cape of Good Hope,” situate in Wolverhampton-street, in the said township of Bilston, and also working by royalty and as a Butty Miner at Stonefield Colliery Pits, near Bilston aforesaid, and previously thereto residing in Oatmeal-square, in the said township of Bilston, working as a Butty Miner at the said Stonefield Colliery Pits, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire at Wolverhampton, and an Interim Order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Lawley, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Lawley is hereby required to appear in Court before NATHANIEL RICHARD CLARKE, Esquire, Sergeant-at-Law, the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the 3rd day of January, 1851, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court House, Queen-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, for his first Examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and Notice is hereby given, that the choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Joseph Lawley, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, Esquire, Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his Office, in Queen-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

J. C. SMITH, Esq. Solicitor, Wolverhampton.

OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE.

“THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE,”

WOLVERHAMPTON STREET, BILSTON.

BY W. ASHCROFT.—To be DISPOSED OF, the above desirable Tavern. In-coming about £40; Rent under £20.

The amount of Valuation can be reduced, if required. Satisfactory reasons can be given for leaving.

Apply to W. Ashcroft, Auctioneer, Appraiser, and General Commission Agent, Piper's Row, Wolverhampton, who has several other Public Houses, and an excellent Grocer's Shop to dispose of.

CASTLE

76, (77), Church Street / Wood Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

The Misses Briscoe, ladies, Kingswinford
Silas Caddick, butcher, Wednesfield
Joseph Whitehouse and Co. Ltd., Talbot Brewery, Smethwick
Showells Brewery Ltd.
Ind Coope and Allsopp (leased)
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Chamberlain [1818]
Samuel Spencer [1822] – [1845]
Mrs. Sophia Spencer [1849] – [1858]
Edward Satterthwaite [1860] – [1862]
John Slater Lloyd [1864] – 1868;
William Smith (1868 – 1875);
John Handley [1871]
Daniel John Lovatt (1875 – 1876);
William Brereton (1876 – 1884);
John Fowler (1884 – 1895);
Charles Atkins (1895 – 1897);
Charles Henry Wilson (1897 – 1899);
John Henry Walters (1899 – 1900);
William Alexander Penness (?) (1900);
John Goulcher (1900 – 1901);
Elizabeth Jones (1901 – 1902);
Frederick Russell Haley (1902 – 1903);
John Lester (1903 – 1904);
Albert George Jevons (1904);
Thomas Kelly (1904 – 1905);
Thomas George Cartwright (1905 – 1907);
George Birkenhead (1907 – 1908);
Jesse Harper (1908 – 1909);
Charles David Beynon (1909 – 1910);
George Frank Kirk Wheatley (1910 – 1911);
Thomas Roberts (1911);
Thomas Tranter (1911 – 1913);
William Vaughan (1913 – 1914);
Francis Sheldon (1914 – 1915);
Thomas 'Tom' Roberts (1915 – 1922);
Leonard Woodhall (1922 – 1923);
Sydney Victor Harold Ward (1923 – [1940]
Aaron William Myatt [1964]

Ex Pub 2016

NOTES

77, Church Street [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1874], [1881], [1884], [1891], [1892], [1896], [1904]

76, Church Street [1901], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1932], [1939], [1940]

Auctions were regularly held here.

Samuel Spencer was also a house furnisher. [1834]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/3/1836

“Prospectuses of Rose Hill School, near Birmingham, may be obtained by applying to.....
Mr. Spencer, CASTLE INN, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Gazette 10/4/1839 - Marriages

“April 3, at the Collegiate church, Wolverhampton, by the Rev. H. S. Fletcher, of Bilston, Mr. John Lester, maltster, of Bilston, to Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. Samuel Spencer, of the same place.”

1841 Census

Church Street (South Side)

[1] Samuel Spencer (50), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Sophia Spencer (45), born Staffordshire;

[3] Jane Lane (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[4] Harriet Mason (15), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[5] Edward Ellis (20), m.s.:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/10/1845 - Died

“On the 13th instant, aged 55, Mr. Samuel Spencer, of the CASTLE INN, Bilston, much and deservedly respected.”

Birmingham Journal 23/1/1847

“On Tuesday, at Bilston Police Court, Joseph Ingleby, bailiff to the Court of Requests, brought a charge against Charles Doughty, a miner, for assault. It appeared that the parties happened to meet in the CASTLE Public House, and that some words passed between them regarding a distraint warrant for debt, which the complainant had executed in the house of Doughty. A quarrel ensued, and the complainant having called the other a rogue and thief, they fell to blows, Ingleby coming off the worst; in consequence of which the present complaint was laid. The Magistrate said that, after having insulted the defendant in the manner he appeared to have done, he did not think it justifiable for Ingleby to come and prefer a complaint, and more especially seeing that they had struck one another. He therefore dismissed the case, with costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/4/1848 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton. Fourteenth day of April, 1848.

Whereas, a Petition of Joseph Spencer, at present and for four years last past residing with Mrs. Spencer, of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, and up to the month of November, 1845, carrying on business in Church Street, Bilston aforesaid, as a tinman, brazier, ironmonger, dealer and chapman, but since out of business, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Spencer, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Spencer is hereby required to appear in Court before Mr. Serjeant Clarke, the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the Twenty-fourth day of April next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon precisely, at the Assembly Rooms, Queen Street, Wolverhampton, for his first Examination touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given, that the choice of assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Joseph Spencer, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq, the official assignee nominated in that behalf by the said Court, acting in the matter of the said petition, at the County Court Offices, in Queen Street aforesaid.

Thomas Bolton, Esq, Solicitor, Wolverhampton.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/5/1848

“Staffordshire County Court. Wolverhampton District.....

The following insolvents passed their last examination, and received their final order.....

Joseph Spencer, of Bilston, tinman and brazier, supported by Mr. T. Bolton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/7/1849

“On Wednesday last an adjourned inquest was held at the GRAND TURK, Wolverhampton, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of John Lewis, a hay and straw dealer, of Albion Street. As mentioned in our paper a fortnight since, the deceased fell off a load of hay and was much injured. He was afterwards removed from the CASTLE INN, Bilston, where the accident occurred, to his own home; he became insensible, and with one short interval remained in that state up to his death, which took place on the Friday following.

Abraham Worthington stated that the deceased, after throwing several trusses off the cart, went too near the outside of the load, when one of the trusses upon which he was standing slipped down, and the deceased fell head first to the ground with it. He believed the deceased was sober when he fell. Edward Evans corroborated this statement.

Mr. W. H. Pope, surgeon, who had made a post mortem examination, gave it as his opinion that the deceased died from a fracture of the skull. Such a fall as described by the witnesses would most likely fracture the skull.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/12/1850

“Inquests held before T. M. Phillips, Esq.....

At the CASTLE INN, Bilston, on the 16th instant, by adjournment from the 9th, on the body of Thomas Roberts, miner, who was killed in a pit by a brick falling out of the shaft. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1851 Census

Church Street

[1] Sophia Spencer (55), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] George Spencer (19), son, born Bilston;

[3] Sarah Spencer (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Peter Hughes (26), brewer, born Oswestry, Shropshire;

[5] Martha Walters (24), housemaid, born Bilston;

[6] Mary Taylor (16), housemaid, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/4/1856

“T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, on Thursday last, on the body of Bridget Reddington. The deceased was a woman of drunken habits, but who enjoyed good health. On the Tuesday previous to the inquest she was taken suddenly ill, and shortly afterwards expired in the arms of a woman with whom she and her husband lodged. It was stated that the deceased was intoxicated on the evening of the Saturday before her death, and that she generally drunk whisky or rum. She had been heard to complain of affection of the heart. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased Died from Natural Causes, but that her death had been accelerated by her drunken habits.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/1/1859 - Advert

“Sale at Bilston, of Freehold Building Land and Buildings, fronting Market Street and Wood Street.

Mr. T. Danks will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, February 1st, 1859, at the house of Mrs. Spencer, CASTLE INN, Bilston, at six o'clock in the evening, in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.....”

In the 1861 census Sophia Spencer is living with her daughter, Mary Lester – see TRUMPET.

Sophia Spencer died in the 1st quarter of 1863.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/4/1860 - Advert

“Messrs. Fereday and Evans will Offer for Sale by Public Auction, on Friday, the 4th day of May, 1860, at the house of Mr. Edward Satterthwaite, the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, at seven o’clock in the evening, and subject to conditions then to be produced and read, the important and very valuable Freehold Business Premises, situate in Church Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. William Satterthwaite, who is carrying on an extensive business as Butcher, Fishmonger, and Poulterer.....”

1861 Census

77, Church Street

[1] Edward Satterthwaite (38), licensed victualler, born Kenilworth, Warwickshire;

[2] Hannah Satterthwaite (23), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] William Satterthwaite (2), son, born Bilston;

[4] Margaret Morris (21), general servant, born Birmingham;

[5] Catharine Darkin (19), nursemaid, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/2/1863

“The following are selected from the List of Bankrupts in the London Gazette of Friday, February 6.....
Edward Satterthwaite, Bilston, publican, February 23, at 12, Bankrupts Court, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Journal 28/2/1863

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court..... In re E. Satterthwaite, Bilston, publican.

First sitting. No creditor appearing to claim the choice of assignees, the estate was left to the official assignee.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/4/1863

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court..... In re E. Satterthwaite, Bilston, publican.

Last examination and discharge. No assignees had been appointed. The balance-sheet showed creditors, £358 6s 2d; assets, £12 14s 9d; deficiency, £345 11s 5d. The bankrupt was discharged.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1865 - Advert

“Excellent Opportunity.

CASTLE SPIRIT VAULTS, situate in Church Street, Bilston, to be Let (only changed hands once in forty-three years) now doing a large and increasing trade. Premises compact and low-rented. There are two good Clubs to the House. Satisfactory reasons as to disposal. Coming-in about £350.

Apply to Charles Griffiths, Auctioneer and Valuer, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/2/1865 - Advert

“To be Let, the CASTLE SPIRIT VAULTS, Church Street, Bilston.

Apply to Charles Griffiths, Auctioneer and Valuer, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/5/1866

“Yesterday, before the Stipendiary, Mr. John Lloyd, landlord of the CASTLE INN, Bilston, appeared on a summons charging him with permitting drunkenness in his house on Wednesday last.

Police-constables Harrison and Chaplin proved that they visited the house about half-past twelve, and again about an hour after. On the first occasion they saw three or four men drunk, and the second time they found a man named Lewis lying helplessly drunk, in front of the door, whom they took into custody, and he was subsequently fined. It was elicited that this man, after having been in the house for two hours after eight o’clock, went out and again came in at half-past twelve, drunk, when the landlord refused to sell him any more liquor, but a customer gave him some rum and peppermint, and he drank the liquor of another.

Mr. Langman for the defence contended that the fact of the defendant having refused to serve Lewis showed he had done all he could do to prevent drunkenness.

The Stipendiary said that if the law could not deal with such a state of things it would be useless; and the law required to be enforced, for the drinking in public houses brought more mischief and misery upon this country, and especially upon the people of this district than anything else. It was most disgraceful that a drunken man should be plied with drink in this way. The defendant having been fined but 1s and costs for a similar offence, he should now fine him £5 and costs; and if he came again, he would fine him £10; and if a fourth time, £50.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year’s list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

John S. Lloyd, CASTLE, Church Street, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1866

“Yesterday, the Bilston adjourned Licensing Session was held at the Police Court.....

The following licenses were granted.....

John Slater Lloyd, CASTLE INN, Church Street.”

Liverpool Weekly Courier 26/10/1867

“Bankrupts, &c, from the London Gazette of Friday, October 18.....

John Slater Lloyd, Church Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, publican and brassfounder, composition of 5s in the pound on or before 28th of March.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/1/1868 - Advert

“To be Let, at Bilston.....

CASTLE INN, Church Street. Rent £40. In-coming under £250.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/1/1868 - Advert

“Sale of Valuable Business Premises in Church Street, Bilston. Tuesday, the 28th day of January, 1868.

Mr. Jabez Morrell will Offer for Sale by Auction, on Tuesday, the 28th of January, 1868, at the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, at six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read.

All that Old-licensed Public House, with Spirit Vaults, and known as the CASTLE INN, situate in Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, and having frontage to both streets, now in the occupation of Mr. John Lloyd, at the low rent of £40 per annum.

The above premises consist of three cellars, commodious spirit vaults with modern plate-glass front, tap room, smoke room, two club rooms, and suitable bedrooms.

At the rear is large Yard, with Brewhouse, Piggery, and other Outbuildings thereto belonging.

The above premises have two business entrances, one fronting Church Street and the other to Wood Street.

Also, all that Double-fronted Shop and Premises, adjoining the above, in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Jackson, grocer and provision merchant, at the low rent of £27 10s 0d per annum.

The last-mentioned premises consist of excellent front shop with modern double-front plate-glass windows, cellaring, sitting room, and numerous sleeping rooms; scullery, large cooking kitchen with store room over. At the rear is a large warehouse, and suitable outbuildings thereto belonging.

The above properties are situated in the best business part of Church Street, are in excellent repair, have recently had upwards of £500 laid out on them in extensions and repairs, and offer an opportunity to capitalists for investment, and persons desirous of obtaining first-class business situations and premises.

The above properties will be offered in one or two lots, as may be determined at the time of sale.

The properties occupy an area of 400 yards or thereabouts, are copyhold of inheritance, and to be enfranchised at a moderate cost.

Three fourths of the purchase money may remain secured on the premises.

Further particulars may be had of Messrs. Brown and Fellows, Solicitors, or the Auctioneer, both of Bilston.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/2/1868 - Advert

"To be Disposed Of, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, Public House Fixtures, and Effects of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston. Immediate possession. Apply to S. Baker, Appraiser, Bilston."

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/12/1870

"William Smith, of the CASTLE INN, Bilston, was fined £1 and costs for permitting drunkenness in his house on Sunday night. Sergeant Lightfoot found three men drunk and others the worse for drink in defendant's house about half-past eleven on Sunday night."

1871 Census

77, Church Street

- [1] John Handley (35), publican, born Derbyshire;
- [2] Hannah Handley (33), wife, born Northenden, Cheshire;
- [3] Joseph William Handley (9), son, scholar, born Manchester;
- [4] Sarah Ellen Handley (7), daughter, scholar, born Manchester;
- [5] Elizabeth Ann Handley (1), daughter, born Cradley Heath;
- [6] Philis Purcal (16), general servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 20/5/1874

"Yesterday, at the Bilston Police Court, before the Stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner), William Smith, landlord of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, was summoned for having supplied two police officers with spirituous liquors whilst they were on duty. Mr. A. Young (instructed by Mr. Fellows) defended.

Mr. S. Kemp, tailor, of Church Street, stated that about twelve minutes past eleven of Saturday night last, whilst he was standing by his shop door, his attention was directed to two officers in uniform, who were standing opposite the defendant's house. The younger of the policemen entered the house, and witness went to a side window, through which he saw the officer standing at the bar, drinking out of a glass. Shortly afterwards the other officer entered the house. Witness did not trouble to see whether the other had gone into the house for the same purpose as the younger. Cross-examined by Mr. Young: Witness at first denied that he was a spy, but afterwards admitted that he was acting as a spy on the occasion, and added that he thought this was manly because he believed that the officers were breaking the law.

And you think so, especially as you are a teetotaler? (Laughter.) – Not especially as a teetotaler, though I am one. And you go about nearly every Saturday, I believe, on the spy? (Laughter.) – No, sir.

Mr. Young next enquired what object witness had in coming out so late at night. The Stipendiary suggested that, perhaps, he desired a little fresh air. Witness, however, characterised this as absurd.

Mr. Young, again referring to witness as a spy, Mr. Kemp denied that he had ever played the spy before, and added that he should, however, in the future, if he considered that the law was being violated.

Witness said the window was between five and six feet from the ground, and he managed to see the policeman by supporting himself on the ledge with his arms. He had done this out of mere curiosity.

Mr. Spooner: There is a story in Don Quixote of what is called impertinent curiosity, which, perhaps, you have not read? – No, sir. (Laughter.)

Mr. Spooner to Chief Superintendent McCrea: Are there any teetotal policemen? – Yes, sir, I believe that there is such a thing. (Laughter.)

Replying to a question of the Stipendiary, Mr. McCrea stated that the two officers had been already punished.

Mr. Spooner said the case would be dismissed on the present evidence. If there were any steps to be taken they would be taken hereafter. When Mr. S. Kemp left the Court he was followed by many persons, and on arriving in the street he was greeted by the assembled crowd with a variety of epithets. But for the precaution adopted by the Stipendiary in sending a policeman to guard him, he would probably have been subjected to a little rough justice."

Wellington Journal 19/8/1876

"On Tuesday evening, Mr. Daniel John Lovatt (45), landlord of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, died very suddenly. It appears that on the 31st of the last month he was turning a drunken man out of his house, when the man struck the glass door, breaking the glass. Some of the broken glass struck the deceased on one of his hands, inflicting a severe gash. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Hancox, and he has also been under the care of one or two other medical gentlemen. However, mortification set in as the result of the injuries he had received, and, as stated above, he died suddenly on Tuesday."

Dudley Herald 26/8/1876

“The inquest touching the death of Daniel John Lovatt, late landlord of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, which occurred on 15th inst, under circumstances already reported in our columns, was resumed on Thursday morning, at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Lichfield Street, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner. Joseph Eldershaw, the man who stands charged with having inflicted the injury which resulted in deceased’s death, was present at the inquiry in the custody of Inspector Harrison.

Joseph Page, a miner, of Temple Street, said that on the night of the 31st July he was passing the door of the deceased’s premises, about half-past eight o’clock, when he heard a disturbance inside. He stood for a few minutes, and then saw the deceased eject Eldershaw, push him to the ground, and kick him somewhere about the body several times. Eldershaw got up to fight with the deceased, and blows were exchanged between them. The accused, who was drunk, was thrown down two or three times by the deceased, the last fall rendering him insensible for several minutes. Deceased returned into the vaults, and when Eldershaw came to himself he said he had lost his hat, and that it was in the vault. He tried to enter the premises again, but he could not open the door, as it appeared to be held at the other side. In the struggle the glass in the door was broken, but witness could not say who broke it.

Samuel Wild, also a miner, swore that he saw deceased push Eldershaw out of the house, and afterwards push him down and kick him two or three times about the body. Eldershaw then got up and struck the deceased, and the deceased knocked him down, the effect of this blow being that the accused was stunned for a second or two. On Eldershaw regaining consciousness, he got up and said he had lost his ‘billycock,’ and, adding that it was inside, went to the door and asked for it. The deceased was then leaning against the door to prevent him from entering, but Eldershaw persisted in his endeavours to get in, although told by the deceased that his hat was not there. A crowd came up, and in the scuffle which ensued the glass in the door was broken. Witness heard the smash, but could not see who broke the glass, or whether it fell inside or out.

Mr. Henry William Larkin, surgeon, practicing at Bilston, said he made a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased on Thursday last. There were no indications of recent external injury beyond a short incised wound on the surface of the little finger of the left hand. The back of the same hand, the whole of the left arm, and the tissues surrounding the neck, showed signs of severe but morbid inflammatory action, terminating in the hand in thecal abscess and sloughing, and in the arm and about the neck in gangrene. He attributed death to traumatic gangrene, originating in the left little finger, and extending along the left hand and arm to the trunk.

The Coroner having summed up the evidence, the jury deliberated about a quarter of an hour, and then brought in a verdict of Manslaughter against Eldershaw.

On this decision being made known to the accused, he said he should like to make a statement, but the Coroner informed him that he could not do so now, as he had refused the opportunity that was offered him at the opening of the inquiry. Eldershaw was then committed to the Assizes and the coroner’s warrant.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/11/1876

“Staffordshire and Shropshire Winter Assizes.....

The Grand Jury found no true bill against Joseph Eldershaw, 52, miner, charged with the manslaughter of Daniel John Lovatt, on the 31st of July, at the township of Bilston. The prisoner had been also committed upon the coroners inquisition. Mr. Young said he did not purpose to offer any evidence in support of the charge.

His Lordship said the case, which was a peculiar one, had appeared to him a very questionable one, and he was not surprised that, after investigation, the Grand Jury should have thrown out the bill. Personally, he was well satisfied that no evidence had been offered in support of the charge. Under the learned Judge’s directions, the Jury returned a formal verdict of not guilty.”

William Brereton = William Breton

1881 Census

77, Church Street – CASTLE INN

- [1] William Brereton (42), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Alice Brereton (44), wife, born Liverpool;
- [3] William G. Brereton (16), son, railway booking clerk, born Poplar, Middlesex;
- [4] Albert E. Brereton (15), son, assistant in iron sheet mills, born Bow, Middlesex;
- [5] Henry T. Brereton (13), son, scholar, born Poplar, Middlesex;
- [6] Arthur J. Brereton (11), son, scholar, born Poplar, Middlesex;
- [7] Alice C. E. Brereton (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Minnie A. C. Brereton (4), daughter, born Bilston:

Birmingham Mail 18/4/1884

“Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest today at the West Bromwich Town Hall relative to the death of Robert Ledderth (52), a journeyman tailor, of Wood Street, Bilston, formerly in the employ of Mr. Harper, clothier, Great Bridge, whose body was found shockingly mangled in the tunnel on the Great Western Railway between Swan Village and Wednesbury on Wednesday last. Mr. William Brereton, of the CASTLE INN, Bilston, identified the body, and said deceased was a man of sober habits, and in his opinion not at all likely to commit suicide.....”
[The verdict was Accidental Death.]

William Brereton – see also RAILWAY, Station Street, Walsall.

1891 Census

77, Church Street

- [1] John Fowler (56), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Phoebe Fowler (23), wife, born York;
- [3] Ann Fowler (1), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Elizabeth Fowler (2 months), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Frances Andrews (59), boarder, pianist, born London;
- [6] Harriet Glover (22), domestic servant, born Coseley:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/6/1894 - Advert

“Important Sale of Freehold Public House Property at Bilston.

Messrs. Thomas Howell and Co. are instructed to Sell by Auction, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on Thursday Next, June 14, punctually at Seven o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions incorporating those of the Birmingham Law Society, the undermentioned Desirable Properties.

Lot 1. All that Exceedingly-valuable Full-Licensed Inn and Premises, known as the CASTLE, advantageously situated at the corner of Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. John Fowler.

The central position of this House must always command an extensive and lucrative trade.

Lot 2. All that Roomy and Convenient Full-Licensed Inn, known at the BLANKMAKERS ARMS, Greencroft, near Church Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Henry T. Hodgkiss.

This House is situated in a good business locality, and the Premises include an extensive range of Shopping.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. William Shakespeare and Co., Solicitors, Oldbury; or to the Auctioneers, 112, Colmore Row, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/6/1894

“Mr. A. B. Smith, deputy coroner, held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Bilston, on Friday evening, touching the death of Martha Caddick (4), of 18, Wood Street, Bilston. The child, on the 7th inst, on returning from school, told her mother that she had swallowed a stone. She afterwards became ill, and was medically attended, but died on Thursday.

Dr. Bailey, who had made a post mortem examination, said he found no sign of a stone or of any foreign substance. Inflammation of the stomach and brain existed, and this might have been caused by swallowing a stone or eating indigestible food.

A verdict was returned that the child died from inflammation of the stomach, caused by swallowing a stone.”

John Fowler – see also LEOPARD, Church Street.

Bristol Mercury 1/6/1899 - Advert

"Bilston. Full Licensed House. Tied to a Good Firm; splendid position; main street; near market hall; doing big market trade; must sell; price £200 or close offer.

Wilson, CASTLE INN, Bilston."

BILSTON - FULL LICENSED HOUSE. Tied to a Good Firm; splendid position; main street; near market hall; doing big market trade; must sell; price £200, or close offer.—Wilson, Castle Inn, Bilston.

1901 Census

76, Church Street – CASTLE INN

- [1] John Goulcher (22), public house manager, born Darlaston;
- [2] Edith F. Goulcher (21), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] William F. Goulcher (1), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Florence E. Bennett (18), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

George Birkenhead – see also WELLINGTON, Price Street.

1911 Census

76, Church Street – CASTLE INN

- [1] Tom Roberts (33), manager, hotel, born Sedgley;
- [2] Lily Selina Roberts (30), wife, married 7 years, assisting in business, born Dudley;
- [3] Edwin Thomas Roberts (2), son, born Sedgley;
- [4] Beatrice Thombs (23), sister-in-law, single, domestic servant, born Dudley:

South Staffordshire Times 7/2/1920

"Bilston Licensing Sessions....

During the past year plans had been passed for the reconstruction or alteration of the undermentioned houses.

LIMERICK INN, Gornal Wood; BUSH INN, Gornal Wood; 10, Cinder Road, Gornal Wood; and the WOOD CROSS INN, Cinderhill; THREE CUPS INN, Lanesfield; CASTLE INN, Bilston; BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall.

The reconstruction or alterations in the case of the LIMERICK INN, BUSH INN, 10, Cinder Road, and WOOD CROSS INN, were in hand, but in the case of the other houses had not commenced In the case of the reconstruction of the THREE CUPS and CASTLE INN the contracts had been made in each for reconstruction."

1921 Census

Church Street – CASTLE INN

- [1] Thomas Roberts (42), licensed victualler, born Coseley;
- [2] L. Selina Roberts (40), wife, home duties, born Dudley;
- [3] Edwin Roberts (12), son, school, born Coseley;
- [4] Phyllis May Roberts (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Clara Haynes (28), servant, born Bilston:

1939 Register

76, Church Street

- [1] Sydney V. H. Ward, date of birth 29/1/1883, licensed victualler, tenant, single;
- [2] Louise K. Potter, dob 18/2/1876, housekeeper and barmaid, single:

Aaron William Myatt died in the 2nd quarter of 1964.

Birmingham Daily Post 23/7/1964

"Aaron William Myatt, licensee of the CASTLE INN, Church Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, formerly of the RED LION, Parkfields, Staffordshire, £3,778 (£2,890 net)."

Aaron William Myatt see also RED LION, Parkfield Road.

[1966]

It closed c.1975.

It became a shop.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

Fourteenth day of April, 1848.

WHEREAS a Petition of JOSEPH SPENCER, at present and for four years last past residing with Mrs. Spencer, of the Castle Inn, Church street, Bilston, and up to the month of November, 1845, carrying on business in Church-street, Bilston aforesaid, as a tinsmith, brazier, ironmonger, dealer and chapman, but since out of business, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Joseph Spencer, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said Joseph Spencer is hereby required to appear in Court before Mr. Serjeant CLARK, the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the TWENTY-FOURTH day of APRIL next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon precisely, at the ASSEMBLY ROOMS, QUEEN-STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON, for his FIRST EXAMINATION touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given that the choice of assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Joseph Spencer, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, Esq. the official assignee nominated in that behalf by the said Court, acting in the matter of the said petition, at the County Court Offices, in Queen-street aforesaid.

THOMAS BOLTON, Esq.

Solicitor, Wolverhampton.

1848

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY.

CASTLE SPIRIT VAULTS, situate in Church Street, Bilston, to be LET (only changed hands once in forty-three years) now doing a large and increasing trade. Premises compact and low-rented. There are two good Clubs to the House. Satisfactory reasons as to disposal. Coming-in about £350.—Apply to Charles Griffiths, Auctioneer and Valuer, Swan Bank, Bilston.

TO be LET, the "CASTLE" SPIRIT VAULTS, Church Street, Bilston.—Apply to Charles Griffiths, Auctioneer and Valuer, Swan Bank, Bilston.

1865

SALE OF VALUABLE BUSINESS PREMISES IN CHURCH STREET, BILSTON.

TUESDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1868.

MR. JABEZ MORRELL will OFFER for SALE by AUCTION, on Tuesday, the 28th of January, 1868, at the CASTLE INN, CHURCH STREET, BILSTON, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read, all that Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, with SPIRIT VAULTS, and known as the Castle Inn, situate in Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, and having a frontage to both streets, now in the occupation of Mr. John Lloyd, at the low rent of £40 per annum.

The above premises consist of three cellars, commodious spirit vaults with modern plate-glass front, tap room, smoke room, two club rooms, and suitable bedrooms.

At the rear is large Yard, with Brewhouse, Piggery, and other Outbuildings thereto belonging.

The above premises have two business entrances, one fronting Church Street and the other to Wood Street.

Also, all that Double-fronted SHOP and PREMISES, adjoining the above, in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Jackson, grocer and provision merchant, at the low rent of £27 10s. 0d. per annum.

The last mentioned premises consist of excellent front shop with modern double-front plate glass windows, cellaring, sitting room, and numerous sleeping rooms; scullery, large cooking kitchen with store room over. At the rear is a large warehouse, and suitable outbuildings thereto belonging.

The above properties are situated in the best business part of Church Street, are in excellent repair, have recently had upwards of £500 laid out on them in extensions and repairs, and offer an opportunity to capitalists for investment, and persons desirous of obtaining first-class business situations and premises.

The above properties will be offered in one or two lots, as may be determined at the time of sale.

The properties occupy an area of 400 yards or thereabouts, are copyhold of inheritance, and to be enfranchised at a moderate cost.

Three fourths of the purchase money may remain secured on the premises.

Further particulars may be had of Messrs. BROWN and FELLOWS, Solicitors, or the AUCTIONEER, both of Bilston.

TO be DISPOSED OF, the LICENSED, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION, PUBLIC-HOUSE FIXTURES, and Effects of the Castle Inn, Church Street, Bilston. Immediate possession.—Apply to S. Baker, Appraiser, Bilston.

1868

IMPORTANT SALE OF FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE PROPERTY
AT BILSTON.

MESSRS. THOMAS HOWELL and CO. are instructed to SELL by AUCTION, at the Pipe Hall Hotel, Bilston, on THURSDAY NEXT, June 14, punctually at Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions incorporating those of the Birmingham Law Society—the undermentioned Desirable

PROPERTIES.

Lot 1.—All that Exceedingly-valuable FULL-LICENSED INN and PREMISES, known as "THE CASTLE," advantageously situated at the corner of Church Street and Wood Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. John Fowler.

The central position of this House must always command an extensive and lucrative trade.

Lot 2.—All that Roomy and Convenient FULL-LICENSED INN, known as "THE BLANKMAKERS' ARMS," Greencroft, near Church Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Henry T. Hodgkins.

This House is situated in a good business locality, and the Premises include an extensive range of Shopping.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. William Shakespeare and Co., Solicitors, Oldbury; or to the Auctioneers, 112, Colmore Row, Birmingham.

1894

CHURCH

2, Millfields Road (Bell Lane) / Little Church Street, (Union Street), BILSTON

OWNERS

William Jeffers, grocer, Ward Street, Ettingshall
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

Ambrose Hancox [1851] – [1858]
Thomas Rowbotham [] – 1871;
Walter Giles (1871 – 1877);
Samuel Potts (1877 – 1879);
John Whittle Snr. (1879 – 1890);
John Whittle Jnr. (1890);
Thomas 'Tom' Robinson (1890 – 1892);
Edward Evans (1892 – 1919);
Susan Evans (1919 – 1924);
David Scotto (1924 – 1932);
George Scotto (1932 – 1934);

NOTES

Union Street [1881], [1911]
2, Millfields Road [1911]
Millfields Road [1912]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Union Street

- [1] Ambrose Hancox (56), retail brewer, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Hancox (52), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Sarah Hancox (21), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Betsey Hancox (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/9/1858 - Advert

“Valuable Copyhold and Leasehold Properties, in Bilston.

Mr. George Brown will Sell by Auction, at the house of Mr. Caddick, OLD BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, on Monday, the 4th day of October, 1858, subject to conditions to be then and there read.....

Lot 2. All that capital and old-established Copyhold Retail Beershop, known by the sign of the CHURCH, situate in Union Street, Bilston, now or lately in the occupation of Mr. Ambrose Hancox, together with the brewhouse, malthouse, piggeries, large yard, and premises belonging thereto, producing the annual rental of £17. There is a good well of water belonging to this lot, in addition to which there is a supply from the Waterworks.”

Thomas Rowbotham – see also BLACK BOY, Coseley Road.

Midland Counties Evening Express 12/2/1875

“Walter Giles, landlord of the CHURCH beerhouse, was summoned for permitting drunkenness in his house case dismissed.”

VALUABLE COPYHOLD AND LEASEHOLD PROPERTIES,
IN BILSTON.
MR. GEORGE BROWN will SELL by AUCTION, at the house of Mr. Caddick, OLD BULL'S HEAD INN, High-street, BILSTON, on Monday, the 4th day of October, 1858, subject to conditions to be then and there read :
Lot 1.—All those two capital and substantially erected COPY-HOLD MESSUAGES, situate in Coseley-street, Bilston, being numbered 51 and 52, and occupied respectively by Benjamin Dudley and William Rogers, together with the yard, garden, and premises belonging thereto, and producing £21 2s. per annum.
This lot comprises, with the site of the buildings, 356 square yards or thereabouts. There is a good brewhouse attached to each house, a capital soft water cistern for the use of both tenants, water taps supplied with water from the waterworks, and land sufficient for the erection of two small houses.
Lot 2.—All that capital and old-established COPYHOLD
RETAIL BEERSHOP, known by the sign of the “Church,” situate in Union-street, Bilston, now or lately in the occupation of Mr.
Ambrose Hancox, together with the brewhouse, malthouse, piggeries, large yard, and premises belonging thereto, producing the annual rental of £17. There is a good well of water belonging to this lot, in addition to which there is a supply from the Waterworks.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/8/1875

“At the Sedgley Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Isaac Spooner (Stipendiary), Thomas Collins, landlord of the SHAMROCK INN, Temple Street, Bilston, was summoned for adulterating ale, on the 22nd of June. Samuel Toy, assistant to Mr. J. G. Horder, inspector, said that on the day in question he visited the defendant’s house, and was served with two quarts of ale by Mrs. Collins. He told her that he was having the ale for the purpose of being analysed, and sealed it up in her presence. Mrs. Collins told witness that the ale was out of a barrel from a brewery in Bilston. He afterwards took the ale to Mr. Horder. Mr. Horder proved receiving the ale, and forwarded it to Mr. Jones, county analyst, on the 23rd of June. He received, on the 19th ult, a certificate proving that the ale was adulterated with common salt.....

Walter Giles, landlord of the CHURCH INN, Bilston, was charged with a similar offence on the 22nd of June. The ale was adulterated with common salt to the amount of 150.92 grains to the imperial gallon. Defendant said he did not put any salt in his ale. Mr. Spooner said he believed Mr. Jones’s certificate, and the large quantity of salt put in the ale would be bound to make people thirsty, and they would want more. It was a bad case, and defendant would be fined £10 and costs. Defendant begged hard for the fine to be reduced, but Mr. Spooner declined to do so.”

1881 Census

Union Street – CHURCH INN

- [1] John Whittle (44), publican, born Princes End;
- [2] Ann Whittle (44), wife, born Shifnal;
- [3] John Whittle (23), son, puddler, born Princes End;
- [4] Isaac Whittle (20), son, underhand roller, born Princes End;
- [5] Annie Jackson (8), niece, scholar, born Wednesbury;

Evening Star 9/6/1882

“John Whittle, landlord of the CHURCH INN, Bell Lane, Bilston, was charged with keeping his house open during prohibited hours. At 11.20 on the evening of Sunday, the 28th ult, Police-sergeant O’Brien saw three men coming from the house named, and one had a can with some ale in. He went to the house and found fresh froth in the measure. The defence was that the ale had been paid for before the hour for closing, but was drawn after closing time, by the landlord’s son. The landlord was at the time in bed.

As this was the defendant’s first offence, he was only fined 5s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/4/1885

“John Whittle, landlord of the CHURCH INN, Union Street, Bilston, was charged with permitting gambling on his premises on Saturday night.

Police-constable Morton, on entering the house, found that sixteen or eighteen young men were engaged in playing a game called ‘bank.’ Cards were spread out on the table, and betting was going on. Witness seized 34 cards and 8d in money, and also caught a young man named Parker.

For the defence, it was shown that the landlord was away from the house on the occasion, and his son was in charge, and he had instructed him neither to permit drunkenness or gambling. Mr. Rhodes argued that the defendant having done all he could to prevent an infraction of the law, was not liable to punishment.

The Bench imposed a fine of £5 and the costs.”

Sporting Life 6/5/1890

“Mr. Thomas Robinson. This well-known Midland sportsman has taken the CHURCH INN, Bilston, where he will be only too pleased to shake hands with all his old and new friends, especially his Birmingham pals.”

1891 Census

Union Street – CHURCH INN

- [1] Thomas Robinson (30), licensed victualler, born Dudley;
- [2] Elizabeth Robinson (33), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas Robinson (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Kate Robinson (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Elizabeth Robinson (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] John Robinson (3), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Sarah Hill (13), domestic servant, born Bilston;

Sporting Life 23/7/1891

“Quoits..... Noticing a challenge in the Sporting Life from Thomas Robinson, CHURCH INN, Bilston, who states that he wishes to back a novice at 19 yards distance, against any man in England, George Graham, of London, will find a man to play the novice for £50 or £100 a-side, to play under the Association Rules. If Mr. Robinson will send articles and a deposit to the Sporting Life, they will be attended to.”

Sporting Life 26/9/1891

“Wolverhampton and District. Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills. Mr. T. Jones and Mr. S. Hughes, for £20.

Perhaps no grounds in the Black Country have played a more prominent part in the drama of pedestrianism than the old-established ‘Vic’ and Wednesday night another important pedestrian spin was added to the long list of interesting matches decided here, when two noted sports met to decide a novel kind of match, the two actors being that well known Midland sportsman and supporter of all kinds of outdoor amusements, Mr. S. Hughes, mine host of the RED COW INN, Bridge Street, Bilston, and Mr. Thomas Jones, a well-known local bookmaker of Bilston (late Wolverhampton), who were matched to run the short distance of thirty yards, for £10 a side, Mr. Hughes being allowed four yards start inside. The affair, though only ratified the same week, crated considerable excitement amongst the sporting fraternity. At one time, be it said, Mr. Hughes could fairly well hold his own at this business, many matches and handicaps having fallen to his share. Of late years, however, he has been proprietor of the RED COW INN, Bilston, and scales about 16st, whilst his opponent, Mr. Jones, only scales some 10st 4lb. The latter, too, is not only well known, but has figured in many handicaps and matches. His last appearance was only a few weeks ago, when Mr. Jones met W. Pearson, of Willenhall, in a sixty yards spin, at these grounds, for £50. Jones, however, had to play second fiddle after a slashing spin. Both men were very sanguine, and on disrobing Mr. Hughes presented the appearance of being on the heavy side. However, he and his numerous friends were confident, and odds of 6 to 4 were freely laid on him. Both were very unsteady on their marks, but eventually they were despatched to a good start, and at one time it looked as though Mr. Hughes would land the odds; Jones, however, got up, and won, amidst excitement, on the post. Mr. John Dudley, of Darlaston, was starter, and that well known Bilston sport and backer of Joe Darby (Champion Jumper of the World), Mr. Tom Robinson of the CHURCH INN, Bilston, was stakeholder and referee.”

Sporting Life 13/1/1892

“A. Rutter, of Willenhall, will run G. Brindley, of Portobello, 100 or 120 yards, for £10 or £15 a-side, in one month from signing articles; or Rutter will run Ball, of Willenhall, 100 yards level, or take one yard start inside 120 yards, for £10 or £15 a-side. Sporting Life to be stakeholder, and appoint referee and starter. A match can be made any time by calling at Mr. Tom Robinson’s, the CHURCH INN, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/10/1894

“Bankruptcy Proceedings..... Re Thomas Robinson, licensed victualler, Shale Street, Bilston.

A meeting of the creditors was held at the Official Receiver’s office, Wolverhampton, yesterday.

Liabilities £356 18s 7d, and assets £3 4s 9d.

The debtor was an engine-driver until 1883, when he became tenant of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Broad Lanes, Bilston, having borrowed £100 from his brother. He left in 1888 owing £1,800, and the creditors agreed to accept a composition of 7s 6d in the pound. The bankrupt afterwards took to the CHURCH INN, High Street, Bilston, and subsequently the PLOUGH INN, High Street, Bilston, but gave up possession to a brewery company, and subsequently filed his petition. His failure was, he said, due to want of capital, bad trade, and bad debts.

The estate was left in the hands of the Official Receiver.”

Thomas Robinson – see also GEORGE AND DRAGON, Broad Lanes, Sedgley, and PLOUGH, High Street, Bilston.

1901 Census

Millfields Road

[1] Edward Evans (42), publican, born Sedgley;

[2] Susan Evans (42), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Florence Evans (17), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Dora Evans (9), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Henry Pinson (21), boarder, barman, born Bloxwich;

[6] Mary Sullivan (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

County Advertiser 23/5/1903

"The UNICORN INN [Brierley Hill] Air-Gun Club held their second match on Wednesday evening, entertaining the League winners for four years in succession from the CHURCH INN, Bilston. They narrowly defeated the home team by 8 points, after a pleasant and exciting match. The members afterwards sat down to a cold collation, and the rest of the evening was spent musically. The scores were CHURCH INN 342, UNICORN INN, 334."

Boxing 26/11/1910

"Mr. H. Pinson, CHURCH INN, Bilston, wishes, through Boxing, to obtain the addresses of Frank Kingston (Willenhall) and Mick Wilson (Walsall) as soon as possible. Mr. Pinson will also give a purse for a contest between 'Cock' Salt (Walsall) and Young Mason."

1911 Census

2, Millfields Road – CHURCH INN

- [1] Edward Evans (49), publican and brewer, born Sedgley;
- [2] Susannah Evans (50), wife, married 30 years, publican, born Gornal;
- [3] G. Henry Pinson (33), boarder, brewer of beer, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Happy Hapson (16), domestic servant, born Gornal:

Edward Evans, beer retailer, Millfields Road. [1904], [1912]

Edward Evans died in 1919 after slipping in the malt room.

Susan Evans = Susannah Evans

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/3/1920

"New Companies C. F. Dodd and Co. Ltd.

Private company. Capital £5,000. To take over the business of manufacturers of wood fittings of all kinds, coach-built motor bodies perambulators, etc, carried on at Bilston.....

Directors Susan Evans, CHURCH INN, High Street, Bilston."

1921 Census

Millfields Road – CHURCH INN

- [1] Susan Evans (63), publican, born Gornal;
- [2] Ruby Brown (16), grand-daughter, home duties, born Bilston;
- [3] Oliver Edward Brown (21), grand-son, cabinet maker, born Bilston:

Susan Evans – see also WHITE HORSE, High Street.

George Scotto – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE, Chapel Street.

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/8/1933

"County Licensing Authority.....

Renewal of the following licenses was also refused on the ground of redundancy, and all were referred for compensation, the police evidence being to the effect that the needs of the various localities were better met by other licensed houses.....

CHURCH INN, Bilston, beerhouse, ante 1869."

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/1/1934

"At the supplementary meeting held on October 7, the County Licensing Committee fixed compensation as follows.....

In the case of the CHURCH INN, Bilston, the Committee could not accept the amount of claim submitted by the owners and the matter has been referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue for their adjudication."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/1/1935

“Report of the County Licensing Committee.....

In the case of the CHURCH INN, Bilston, referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue for their adjudication in 1933, a sum of £2,250 was awarded.”

License refused by Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1934.

Compensation of £2,250 was paid on 23rd June 1934.

Closed

Demolished

The site was occupied by Hazeldine Coaches [1986]

CLUB HOUSE

90, Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Holloway [1871] – [1873]

NOTES

1871 Census

90, Church Street

- [1] Henry Holloway (34), tobacconist, born Brinklow, Leicestershire;
- [2] Hannah Holloway (27), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Sarah Holloway (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Harriet Holloway (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Harry Holloway (1), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Ann Caswell (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/5/1871

“Yesterday, Henry Holloway, beerhouse keeper, Bilston, was charged upon remand, before the Stipendiary, that he knowingly and wilfully used a certain room in his house for purposes of betting with persons resorting thereto. Mr. Thurstans, who defended, urged that there was no proof that the defendant had kept his house open for the purposes alleged upon more than one day, and therefore not continually, as the law required. Mr. Spooner overruled the contention, and said that there was no doubt that on the day in question persons went to the defendant’s house for the purposes of betting, well-knowing that bets were received there. The Act was not limited in any way to London, nor to any class of persons, as Mr. Thurstans had previously submitted, but applied to every place and to all kinds of gambling. The Act provided that any person using his house for the purposes of betting should be liable to a penalty not exceeding £100 and costs, or in default six months imprisonment. However, he should impose upon the defendant the smallest fine that the Act would permit, which was £10 and costs.”

London Gazette 7/11/1871

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Henry Holloway, of No.90, Church-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Tobacconist, and late a Retailer of Ale and Porter.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of William Bowen, Solicitor, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on the 18th day of November, 1871, at two o’clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 1st day of November, 1871.

Wm. Bowen, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, Attorney for the said Debtor.”

The license was abandoned.

COACH AND HORSES

Coseley Row, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Preston [1828] – [1830]

COACH AND HORSES

Wood Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Clempson [1852] – [1853]

H Yates [1855]

John Roberts [1856]

George Pedley [1860]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/12/1852 - Advert

“Copyhold Messuages, Bilston, Staffordshire. To be Sold by Private Contract.

All those four Copyhold Messuages, Tenements, or Dwelling Houses, situate in and fronting to Wood Street, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, one of which is used as a retail beerhouse, and known by the sign of the COACH AND HORSES, and now in the occupation of John Clempson, and the other three are respectively occupied by Samuel Pugh, Richard Ellis, and William Wyld.

The above premises are in good tenantable repair, are desirably situate to insure constant tenants, and produce a rental of £39 16s per annum.

The tenants will show the premises; and further information may be obtained from Mr. John Etheridge, or Mr. Mason, solicitor, both of Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/3/1855 - Advert

“COACH AND HORSES, Bilston.

Mr. Atree has just received instructions to Sell by Auction, on Monday, the 9th day of April, 1855, the Property of Mr. H. Yates, who is declining business, upon the premises, the COACH AND HORSES, Wood Street, Bilston.

The Licenses, Possession, Brewing Plant, and all the capital Household Furniture and Effects, consisting of all the machine piping and taps, iron-bound ale casks, mash tub, coolers, screens, drinking and other tables, chairs, bedsteads, beds, kitchen requisites, &c, &c.

Sale to commence at twelve o’clock. Catalogues may be had at the Auctioneer’s, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/8/1856

“On Friday, James Ackwood and John Wood were brought before Bilston magistrates on the charge of breaking into the house of Mr. John Roberts, the COACH AND HORSES, Wood Street, on the night of the 18th ult, and stealing two pictures therefrom. The prosecutor heard voices in the yard shortly after midnight, and heard some one say, ‘That’s the very way to go about it, and no other.’ Half an hour afterwards he heard some one at the window of a back room, which had been bricked up. He then made an alarm, and the police were instantly on the spot. Upon searching the premises, they found two pictures, which had been taken from the room in question, also a cap and a pair of boots in the yard. They then discovered that some of the bricks had been removed from the window, and a hole made sufficient to admit the body of a man.

Ambrose Causer stated that he gave the prisoner Wood a cap, a few weeks before the burglary, and from certain marks, he believed that now produced (found in the yard) to be the same.

Thomas Page proved having seen Wood wearing the cap just before the transaction.

Sub-inspector Heath apprehended Wood at nine o’clock on the following morning, and charged him with being concerned in the burglary, which he denied. The witness told him to put on his cap, but he could not find one.

Some evidence was given to show that the boots left in the yard belonged to Ackwood, but the magistrates did not deem it sufficiently conclusive, and consequently discharged that prisoner, but they committed Wood for trial at the assizes.”

Birmingham Journal 3/12/1856

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

John Wood, a puddler, was indicted for burglariously breaking and entering the dwelling house of John Roberts on the 18th of July last, at the township of Bilston, and stealing two pictures, his property. Mr. Corbett prosecuted. Roberts keeps the COACH AND HORSES, at Bilston, and on the night in question he retired to rest about twelve o'clock, after seeing everything properly secured. About one o'clock he was disturbed by a great noise, and on getting up he heard voices in the house. He called up his wife, but could not go out of the house on account of the doors, which were tied fast. He forced one of them open, and on going into the yard, found a cap and a pair of boots lying on the ground. Entrance had evidently been made through the window. On examining his property, the prosecutor missed £6 15s from his bedroom. The pictures were lying in the yard, and also a bandbox. On the following day the prisoner was apprehended and charged with burglary. He had no cap on. In reply to the accusation of the policeman, he said he knew nothing about the burglary.

Ambrose Corser, a witness, said he gave a cap similar to the one found in the prosecutor's yard to the prisoner. The learned Baron said he could see no evidence against the prisoner, and he directed the Jury to return a verdict of not guilty. His Lordship liberated the prisoner with a caution.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/9/1860 - Advert

“Freehold and Copyhold Properties, in Bilston.

Mr. Solomon Powell will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, the 18th day of September, 1860.....

Lot 3. All that capital Copyhold Messuage, situate in Wood Street, Bilston aforesaid, known as the COACH AND HORSES, in the occupation of Mr. George Pedley, and also Three Copyhold Messuages adjoining, the whole producing an annual rental of £39 8s.

These Premises are situate in the centre of the township of Bilston.”

COCK

13, Church Street / Lichfield Street, Swan Bank, BILSTON

OWNERS

Mrs. Ann Law, widow, 2, Osborne Terrace, Wolverhampton

LICENSEES

William Pool [1791] – [1800]
William Tomkys [1818] – [1830]
John Poole [1833]
Miss Maria Tomkys [1834] – 1852;
William Tomkys (1852 – [])
Richard Corbett [] – 1854;
Francis Hazledine (1854 – [])
Thomas Hazledine [] – 1856;
John Ricketts (1856 – 1860);
Samuel Summerfield (1860 – [])
John Law Tomkys [1863] – [1865]
Thomas Jackson [1866]
James Jackson [] – 1866;
Thomas Smart (1866);
Thomas Garrett (1866 – [1867])
T Fellowes [1867]
James Fellowes [] – 1869;
James Settle (1869 – [1873])

ALL Persons who have any Claim or Demand on the Estate of the late WILLIAM POOL, or ELIZABETH POOL, late of the Cock Inn, in Bilston, in the Parish of Wolverhampton, in the County of Stafford, are requested to transmit an Account thereof to Mr. John Pool, at the Cock Inn, aforesaid, or Mr. Baker, Fordhouses, in Order that the same may be liquidated; and all Persons indebted to the said Estate are required to pay their respective Debts to the aforesaid Mr. John Pool or Mr. Baker, or they will be sued for the same without further Notice.

1808

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.
IN the Matter of the Petition of JOHN RICKETTS, now and for upwards of six months last past residing at the Cock Inn, Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler; and previous to, and in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty two, of Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler; and from that time and up to July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, of Ablewell-street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and occasionally working as a Journeyman Chain Maker, an Insolvent Debtor; notice is hereby given that the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a FINAL ORDER thereon, at the said Court, on TUESDAY, the 12th day of JANUARY, 1858, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.—Dated this 18th day of December, 1857.

JOSEPH EDWARD SHELDON, Attorney, Wednesbury.
C. G. MEOEVAN, High Bailiff.

1857

NOTES

Lichfield Street [1833], [1834], [1835], [1841]
Church Street [1864]

William Pool, victualler, COCK, and huckster, Bilston. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/12/1800 - Advert

“Notice to the Debtors or Creditors of Andrew John Becket, late of Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Japanner. The Creditors of the said Andrew John Becket, are desired to meet Samuel Groucutt, of Bilston aforesaid, Japanner, and John Salter, of Birmingham, in the County of Warwick, Lock-maker (Trustees of the Estate and Effects of the said Andrew John Beckett), on Friday the second Day of January, 1801, at Two o’Clock in the Afternoon, at the House of William Pool, known by the Sign of the COCK, in Bilston aforesaid.....”

Aris Birmingham Gazette 9/5/1808 - Advert

“All Persons who have any Claim or Demand on the Estate of William Pool or Elizabeth Pool, late of the COCK INN, in Bilston, in the Parish of Wolverhampton, in the County of Stafford, are requested to transmit an Account thereof to Mr. John Pool, at the COCK INN aforesaid, or Mr. Baker, Fordhouses, in Order that the same may be liquidated; and all Persons indebted to the said Estate are required to pay their respective Debts to the aforesaid Mr. John Pool or Mr. Baker, or they will be sued for the same without further notice.”

William Tomkys, bachelor, married Maria Pool, spinster, on 31st October 1799.

1841 Census

Swan Bank

- [1] John Pool (58), huckster, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Maria Tomkys (66), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Elisabeth Tomkys (25), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Julia Foster (15), servant, born Staffordshire:

Miss Maria Tomkys, beer retailer, Church Street. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Church Street

- [1] Maria Tomkys (75), widow, retired victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] John Pool (67), brother, retired grocer, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Rogers (15) domestic servant, born Bilston:

Richard Corbett = Richard Corbitt = Richard Corbert

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/2/1854

“On Tuesday, two men, named William Smith and Daniel Pattison, bricklayers, one of whom had been working on the railway, were charged by Richard Corbitt, landlord of the COCK INN, Lichfield Street, Bilston, with obtaining a gallon of ale, by means of a forged note, purporting to be signed by William Barrott, one of the foremen of the bricklayers. Mr. Barrott denied having authorised them in any way to use his name. They were remanded till Thursday, and on that day were committed for trial, by the Rev. G. H. Fisher, and R. D. Gough, Esq, at Willenhall.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/2/1854

“Committed to the County Prison, at Stafford, for trial.....
Daniel Pattison and William Smith, charged with fraud, at Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/3/1854

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

Daniel Pattison and William Smith, for obtaining a quart of ale from Mr. Richard Corbett, innkeeper, at Bilston, on a false pretence, found guilty, one month's imprisonment.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/12/1857 - Advert

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of the Petition of John Ricketts, now and for upwards of six months last past residing at the COCK INN, Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler; and previous to, and in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty two, of Lower Rushall Street, Walsall, in the said county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler; and from that time and up to July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, of Ablewell Street, Walsall aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, and occasionally working as a Journeyman Chain Maker, an Insolvent Debtor; notice is hereby given that the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, acting in the matter of this Petition will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on Tuesday, the 12th day of January, 1858, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.

Dated this 18th day of December, 1857.

Joseph Edward Sheldon, Attorney, Wednesbury. C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/1/1858

“At Wolverhampton County Court, yesterday, the following insolvents appeared.....

John Ricketts, licensed victualler, Swan Bank, Bilston, appeared upon his final order, supported by Mr. Sheldon. Order granted.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/2/1858

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday last, John Saise and Mary Ann Saise, man and wife, were charged with stealing glasses, the property of John Ricketts, of the COCK INN, Bilston, and Mary Ann Saise was also charged with inducing the daughter of Ricketts, a girl about fifteen years old, to rob her parents, for the prisoner’s benefit. The two prisoners had lodged at the COCK INN, and it seemed from the statement of the girl that on one occasion the female prisoner and herself had gone to some pleasure gardens in Bilston together, and that Mrs. Saise spent sixpence and the girl threepence there. Some time after arriving home, Mrs. Saise asked the girl to give her money, threatening, if she did not do so, to tell the girl’s mother that she had spent threepence at the gardens. The girl then gave her money, and repeated the kindness several times after, on one occasion giving her as much as £6, and on another £4. The girl calculated that in the whole she had given £15 to Mrs. Saise. It was admitted that the female prisoner had given the girl presents within the knowledge of her mother. One of these consisted of a cape, which cost 10s, but the girl explained that she had given the woman £4 for it. Mrs. Ricketts said she had missed money, and knowing the female prisoner had made her daughter presents, she had charged her child with giving money to Mrs. Saise to purchase them. The glasses were found in the house of the prisoners.

The story of the girl was not corroborated, and the Magistrates therefore refused to commit the prisoners for trial, but ordered them to find sureties to appear at the Sessions to answer the charge if Mr. Ricketts felt disposed to prosecute them.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1860 - Advert

“To be Disposed Of, that excellent Old Licensed Public House, the COCK INN, Swan Bank, Bilston, in a very great thoroughfare, and now doing a good business both in Ale and Spirits. The Brewing Plant, Stock, and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation. Rent and Coming-in low.

Apply on the premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/2/1861 - Advert

“COCK INN, Swan Bank, Bilston. Tomorrow, Thursday, February 28, 1861.

Mr. John Cassere will Sell by Auction, upon the premises as above, the whole of the Public House Fixtures, Brewing Plant, &c, including Screens, Drinking Tables, Counter, three-pull Beer Machine, Ale Casks, Mash Tub, Coolers, Vats, 100-gallons Copper Furnace, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, together with the whole of the Gas Fittings and Piping throughout the premises, and various other Effects, which will be sold without reserve.

Sale to commence punctually at eleven o’clock.

John Cassere, Auctioneer and General Valuer, 51, Snowhill, Wolverhampton.”

London Gazette 8/5/1863

“John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public-house, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public-house, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 21st day of May instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely, at the Court-house, Lichfield-street, Walsall. Mr. F. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. John Ebsworth, of Wednesbury, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

AND

Walsall Free Press 4/7/1863 - Advert

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the matter of John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, a bankrupt.

Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the court granted an Order of Discharge to the said bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court. Dated this 20th day of June, 1863.”

AND

London Gazette 14/9/1866

“John Ricketts, of the VICTORIA INN Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse Keeper and Dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto, of the COCK INN Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, adjudicated bankrupt on the 6th day of May, 1863. A Dividend Meeting will be held on the 25th day of September instant, at twelve o’clock at noon precisely.”

John Law Tomkys = John Law Tomkiss

Birmingham Journal 20/6/1863 - Advert

“To be Disposed Of, and may be entered upon immediately, the COCK Wine and Spirit Vaults, situate in the most central and commanding business position in the town of Bilston, and within three minutes’ walk of the Great Western Railway Station. The Premises are large and commodious, and the Rent – in which the Shop Fixtures are included – low. For an enterprising man of business this is an opportunity rarely to be met with. For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. Tomkys, on the Premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/10/1863

“At Bilston, on Tuesday, George Stanley, watchmaker, of High Street, was committed for trial on three several charges of illegally pawning watches that had been entrusted to him for repair. In the first case it was proved that he had, on the 1st ult, pawned a gold watch belonging to Mr. Tomkiss, the landlord of the COCK liquor vaults, Church Street, with Mr. Lowthine, of the Bull Ring, Birmingham. Mr. Tomkiss deposed to having taken the watch to the prisoner for repair on the 30th of August, and made frequent applications for it in vain since. On the 13th instant the prisoner referred him to a Mr. Carter, in Birmingham, who, he said, had the watch to jewel. Prosecutor went to Birmingham and found that no such person as he had been referred to resided in the town. The other cases were pawning a silver watch, the property of Horatio Green, at Michael Emanuel’s, Smallbrook Street, Birmingham, and a watch, the property of Walter Chaplain, baker, of Oxford Street, with Harriet Green, Dale End, Birmingham. Prisoner had been summoned at the instance of Mr. Tomkiss, but not obeying the summons, a warrant was issued, and he was arrested on Friday at Wolverhampton. The prisoner, when asked what he had to say to the charge, wept bitterly, and stated that the pressure of domestic affliction betrayed him into the misconduct with which he was charged. One of his children lay dead in the house when he was apprehended, and another now lay there seriously ill.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1864

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

George Stanley, watchmaker, who pleaded guilty to fraudulently converting to his own use a gold watch, the property of John Law Tomkys, at Bilston, was sentenced to three years’ penal servitude.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1865

“Annual Licensing Meeting for the Bilston Division.....

The ‘black list’ handed in by the police contained the names of fourteen publicans who had been fined for offences against their license.....

Thomas Jackson, Bilston.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 7/10/1865

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

The following, whose names had been placed on the ‘black list,’ had their licenses renewed.....

T. Jackson, COCK, Swan Bank.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/3/1866 - Advert

“Bilston. To Publicans, Brokers, and Others.

Mr. Edwards will Sell by Auction, on Friday next, March 23rd, 1866, upon the premises, the COCK INN Wine and Spirit Vaults, No.13, Church Street, Bilston aforesaid, by direction of Mr. Thomas Jackson (who is giving up the business and changing his residence), part of the Household Furniture and Effects, comprising French and tent bedsteads, feather beds, washstands, dressing tables, swing glasses, mahogany, oak, and painted chests of drawers, chairs, bedsteps, mahogany stands and other tables, 24 Oil Paintings, in gilt frames; glass cases and stuffed birds, handsome mahogany pillar sideboard, chiffonniere, two office desks, eight-day clock, in mahogany case, fenders, fireirons, and kitchen utensils, &c. Also the capital Casks, Tubs, Hops, &c, consisting of 370, 240, and 200-gallon casks, five iron-bound hogsheads, eight half-hogsheads, four sixty-gallon ditto, 14 quarter barrels and small casks, round six and seven-bushel mash tubs, sixteen round brewing tubs and buckets, a pocket of choice Worcester hops (1865), tump of prime Sussex ditto, and other effects.

Sale to commence in the morning at eleven o'clock.

Catalogues may be had at the place of sale, or the Auctioneer, Stourbridge.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/1/1867

“Thomas Garrett, landlord of a public house in Church Street, Bilston, was charged with keeping a disorderly house on the 14th of November, and also with a similar offence on New Year’s Eve. It appeared from the evidence that on the first occasion persons were in the house quarrelling, and on New Year’s Eve there were several questionable characters present.

In each case a fine of £5 and costs were inflicted. The defendant stated his intention of appealing against the conviction.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/12/1867

“J. Harris of Bilston will make a match to fight either of the following men at catchweight, for £10 a side, viz, Cooksey or J. Cooley of Bilston, and a match can be made any night next week at T. Fellowes’s, the COCK INN, Bilston.”

License renewal refused at Annual Licensing Meeting, 22nd August 1890, since the license had not been taken out for 18 years.

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1890

“The licensing sessions for Bilston division were held yesterday, before Messrs. S. Loveridge, H. H. Ward, F. A. Homer, and J. L. Gibbons.....

Mr. R. Tildesley applied on behalf of Mr. J. T. Baker, in reference to the COCK INN, Swan Bank, Bilston. He said the premises in respect of which the application was made had for the last eighteen years been used as the Bilston Post Office. The authorities had since built a new office, leaving the premises vacant. The house was built as a public house many years ago. In 1872 the license was renewed by a man named Settle as tenant, and the owner was a Mrs. Law. For some reason or other it was believed that Settle had left the country suddenly. Mrs. Law soon afterwards let the premises to Mr. Noakes, the postmaster. The license had never been allowed to lapse, and year after year it had been renewed. Mr. Longden objected to the license on the ground that the house had not been used for the sale of intoxicating liquors for eighteen years. Mr. Loveridge said the Bench could not entertain the application. There were quite sufficient public houses in Bilston without having that.”

TO BE DISPOSED OF, that excellent Old
Licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, the Cock Inn, Swan Bank, Bilston, in a very great thoroughfare, and now doing a good business both in Ale and Spirits. The Brewing Plant, Stock, and Fixtures to be taken at a valuation. Rent and Coming-in low.—Apply on the premises.

COCK INN, SWAN BANK, BILSTON.

TO-MORROW, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1861.

MR. JOHN CASSERE will SELL by AUCTION, upon the premises above, the whole of the PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES, BREWING PLANT, &c., including Screens, Drinking Tables, Counter, three-pull Beer Machine, Ale Casks, Mash Tub, Coolers, Vats, 100-gallons Copper Furnace, the LICENSES, GOOD-WILL, and POSSESSION, together with the whole of the Gas Fittings and Piping throughout the premises, and various other Effects, which will be sold without reserve.

Sale to commence punctually at eleven o'clock.

JOHN CASSERE, Auctioneer and General Valuer, 51, Snowhill, Wolverhampton.

1861

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORD-SHIRE, HOLDEN AT WALSALL.

IN the matter of JOHN RICKETTS, of the "Victoria Inn" Public House, in Lower Rushall-street, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, previously thereto of Park Brook, in the Wolverhampton-road, Walsall aforesaid, and carrying on business there as a Beerhouse-keeper and dealer in Tobacco, and previously thereto of the "Cock Inn" Public House, at Swan Bank, Bilston, in the County of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Licensed Victualler and Dealer in Tobacco, a Bankrupt,

Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the court granted an Order of Discharge to the said bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.—Dated this 20th day of June, 1863.

TO be DISPOSED OF, and may be entered upon immediately, the COCK WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS, situate in the most central and commanding business position in the town of Bilston, and within three minutes' walk of the Great Western Railway Station. The Premises are large and commodious, and the Rent—in which the Shop Fixtures are included—low. For an enterprising man of business this is an opportunity rarely to be met with.—For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. Tomkys, on the Premises.

1863

BILSTON.

TO PUBLICANS, BROKERS, AND OTHERS.

MR EDWARDS will SELL by AUCTION, on Friday next, March 23rd, 1866, upon the premises, the COCK INN WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS, No. 13, CHURCH-STREET, BILSTON aforesaid, by direction of Mr. Thomas Jackson (who is giving up the business and changing his residence), part of the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and Effects, comprising French and tent bedsteads, feather beds, washstands, dressing tables, swing glasses, mahogany, oak, and painted chests of drawers, chairs, bedsteads, mahogany stands and other tables, 24 Oil Paintings, in gilt frames; glass cases and stuffed birds, handsome mahogany pillar sideboard, chiffoniere, two office desks, eight-day clock, in mahogany case, fenders, fireirons, and kitchen utensils, &c. Also the capital CASKS, TUBS, HOPS, &c., consisting of 370, 240, and 200-gallon casks, five iron-bound hogsheds, eight half hogsheds, four sixty-gallon ditto, 14 quarter barrels and small casks, round six and seven-bushel mash tubs, sixteen round brewing tubs and buckets, a pocket of choice Worcester hops (1865), tump of prime Sussex ditto, and other effects.

Sale to commence in the morning at eleven o'clock.

Catalogues may be had at the place of sale, or of the AUCTIONER, Stourbridge.

1866

COCK

44, (62), (30), Willenhall Road, (30, Cold Lanes), (Coal Lane), Mount Pleasant, BILSTON

OWNERS

George Marson, gentleman, licensed victualler, Sweetman Street, Whitmore Reans, Wolverhampton
Louisa Georgiana Marson, Sweetman Street, Whitmore Reans, Wolverhampton
Eley's Stafford Brewery Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1979]
Enterprise Inns Ltd. [1991]

LICENSEES

Stephen Hill [1818] – [1822]
John Hughes [1834] – [1842]
Edward Mattocks* [1845] – [1854]
Edward Maddox* [1858] – 1860;
J M Parsons (1860 – [1861])
John Whittaker [1861]
John Philip Lewis [1864] – 1870;
Richard Barnett (1870 – 1871);
Alfred Satterthwaite (1871 – [1872])
George Marson [1873] – 1879;
Samuel Vaughan (1879 – 1883);
Mary Marson (1883 – 1885);
George E Harvey (1885 – 1892);
John Silvester (1892 – 1898);
Samuel Joseph Salt (1898 – 1901);
Thomas Lloyd (1901 – 1904);
William Harper (1904 – 1905);
Albert Edward Ashton (1905 – 1906);
George Davies (1906 – 1938);
Augustus Hutchinson 'Gus' Davies (1938 – [1940])
Frederick J Mills [1982] – [1983]
L Chand [1988]
G Chopra [1989]
Baldev Singh [1995]
Amrik Singh Sanghera [2005]

George Davies

1938

NOTES

Cold Lanes [1818], [1860], [1861], [1881]
Coal Lane [1822], [1846], [1858]
Cold Lane [1835]
Cold Lane, Mount Pleasant [1849], [1850]
30, Cold Lanes [1861]
30, Willenhall Road [1891]
62, Willenhall Road [1912], [1932], [1940]
44, Willenhall Road [1990]

It was locally listed.

Edward Mattocks = Edward Maddox

* probably the same person

1851 Census

Cold Lanes

[1] Edward Maddox (51), tailor employing 1 man and innkeeper, born Newport, Shropshire;

[2] Elizabeth Maddox (48), wife, born Bilston;

[3] George Webb (22), lodger, tailor, born Brewwood;

[4] Margaret Heseltine (17), house servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/1/1846

"On Monday last an inquest was held by T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the COCK, Cold Lane, Bilston, on the body of Joseph Bryan, whose death was caused by a sulphureous explosion, while he was at work at Mr. Riley's new colliery, Bilston. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Birmingham Journal 1/12/1860 - Advert

"COCK INN, Cold Lanes, Bilston. By R. L. Courtney.

To be Let, that well-known Old-licensed convenient Public House, established nearly a century. It comprises Bar, Parlour, Tap Room, large Parlour, four Chambers, two Cellars, Brewhouse, Stable, Piggeries, large Garden, Marble and Bowling Alley, &c, and is doing a fair trade. The Proprietor is leaving, having entered on other engagements. Apply on the Premises; or to the Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich."

Birmingham Journal 22/12/1860 - Advert

"Bilston. To Publicans, Brokers, and Others. Unreserved Sale by Auction, at the COCK INN, Cold Lanes. On Monday next, December 24th, 1860, by R. L. Courtney.

Of the Licenses, Goodwill and Possession of the above-named Inn, with the Brewing Plant, comprising two iron Furnaces, Mash Tub, six Coolers, and Round Tubs, fifteen iron-bound Ale Casks, five Screens, Drinking Tables, capital Four-pull Ale Machine, Household Furniture, and other valuable Effects.

Sale to commence punctually at Ten o'clock to a minute, being the property of Mr. J. M. Parsons, who is declining the public business.

NB. The Old-licensed Public House to be Let, and immediate possession may be had. Rent moderate.

Auctioneers Offices and Residence, High Street, West Bromwich."

Birmingham Daily Post 6/3/1861 - Advert

"To be Let, the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston. The Stock and Fixtures to be taken to at a valuation.

Apply on the Premises."

TO be LET, the "COCK INN," Willenhall Road, Bilston. The Stock and Fixtures to be taken to at a valuation,—Apply on the Premises.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/3/1861

"William Wantling, Timothy Ward, Isaiah Wantling, and John Wantling, were brought up charged with conspiring to defraud John Whittaker, the landlord of the COCK INN, Cold Lanes, of £5 in money, and about £2 worth of ale. From the statement of Mrs. Whittaker, it seems that on the previous night the prisoners and a man named Howells, went into her house and represented themselves to be colliers, working at an adjoining pit. Howells said he was the butty, and pretending that he had to pay the other men their wages, he suddenly discovered that he had not got his purse. He therefore appealed to Mrs. Whittaker, and she lent him £5. After the party left the house one of them returned and at different intervals fetched about £2 worth of ale, representing that it was to go to the pit, but when this system of fraud had been going on the whole of the evening some neighbours informed Mrs. Whittaker of the character of her visitors, and they were taken into custody; Howells escaped. The magistrates discharged John Wantling, but remanded the other three prisoners till Tuesday, with the view of apprehending Howells, and having the case fully gone into."

1861 Census

30, Cold Lanes – COCK INN

- [1] John Whittaker (31), victualler, born Mobbley, Cheshire;
 - [2] Julia Whittaker (32), wife, born Peover, Cheshire;
 - [3] Mary Jane Whittaker (9), daughter, born Mobbley, Cheshire;
 - [4] Joseph Hewitt Whittaker (6), son, born Mobbley, Cheshire;
 - [5] Sarah Ann Whittaker (3), daughter, born Peover, Cheshire:
- [Mobbley is probably Mobberley.]

Birmingham Daily Post 1/4/1862

“An inquest was held on Friday, at the COCK INN, near Bilston, before Mr. T. M. Phillips, coroner, upon the body of a collier named Thomas Jones, aged 25 years, of Cold Lanes, who was killed on Tuesday last by a fall of coal in one of Mr. Philip Williams’s pits. The deceased had neglected to carry out the instructions of the doggy and ‘sprag’ his work, and a verdict of Accidental Death was therefore returned.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/6/1864

“Yesterday morning Richard Corfield, 32, a miner, living in the Cold Lanes, Bilston, and employed at Messrs. Fowler and Co.’s, of Barbers Field Colliery, lost his life by a fall of coal. The accident took place at about a quarter past eleven o’clock, and upon the removal of the fallen coal Corfield was found to be quite dead. The body was immediately removed to the house of Mr. Lewis, the COCK IN, where it awaits the Coroner’s inquiry.”

[Verdict, Accidental Death.]

Birmingham Daily Post 29/3/1871

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Richard Barnett, COCK INN, Willenhall Road, was fined £1 and costs, for keeping his house open during unlawful hours on Sunday.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/4/1871

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, five men, named respectively William Wilkinson, George Wardell, William Silvester, David Davies, and Samuel Sargent, were summoned for being upon the premises of Richard Barnett, publican, Willenhall Road, Bilston, during improper hours. The offence was proved by Police-constable Davis to have been committed on the 26th ult. The landlord was fined on the 28th for infringing the terms of his license. Defendants were each fined 5s and costs, Mr. Spooner remarking that he hoped this would serve as a warning to others, this being the first case of the kind which had been brought before him at Bilston.”

1871 Census

Willenhall Road – COCK INN

- [1] Richard Barnett (37), tin plate worker, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Maria Barnett (37), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Ann Barnett (18), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Mary Ann Barnett (16), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Joseph Barnett (14), son, tin plate worker, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William H. Barnett (7), son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [7] Clara M. Barnett (2), daughter, born Bilston:

George Marson = George Marston

George Marson was also a coal dealer. [1873]

1881 Census

Cold Lanes – COCK INN

- [1] Samuel Vaughan (41), publican, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [2] Sarah Vaughan (37), wife, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [3] Margaret Vaughan (15), daughter, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [4] Sarah A. Vaughan (14), daughter, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [5] John Vaughan (10), son, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [6] Mary Vaughan (8), daughter, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [7] Edward Vaughan (8), son, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;
- [8] Andrew Vaughan (6), son, scholar, born Wem, Shropshire;

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/12/1883

“Another was added to the already long list of recent sudden deaths in Bilston, on the 31st ult, when a boy named William Becket (9), who resided with his parents at 26, Cold Lanes, Bilston, was found dead in bed by his mother. An enquiry into the cause of death was held before Mr. W. H. Phillips, district coroner, at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, on Monday. From the evidence given it appeared that about one o’clock on the previous Friday, the child complained of being ill, and on the suggestion of its mother, went upstairs to bed. About twenty minutes to two, the child called to its mother, and she went upstairs, and found the child insensible. In a few minutes afterwards it died. The enquiry was adjourned until Friday, for a post mortem examination to be made.

On the resumption of the enquiry yesterday, at the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Dr. Mathie said he had made a post mortem examination, and found that the child had died from capillary bronchitis, consequent upon exposure to cold and damp. He considered that the house in which the parents lived was in a very bad state, and unfit for habitation, as it was cold and damp.

In reply to the coroner, the mother of the deceased said her husband and another child lay ill in the house, and she attributed this to the insanitary condition of the dwelling. There was no closet to the house, and no back door. The house was half a crown a week, but on account of her husband’s illness, the rent had got behind, and she could not leave, because if she did, the landlord would distrain on her goods.

The coroner said it would be only right for the jury to take into consideration the miserable condition of the place, he quite agreed with the doctor, entirely unfit for human habitation. It was a great hardship that a sick man with a wife and family to support should be only receiving five shillings a week from the parish, when half a crown had to be paid as rent.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, and instructed the police to call the attention of the Sanitary Inspector to the house.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 21/3/1885

“Richard Wainwright, of Willenhall Road, Bilston, was fined 1s and costs for being drunk and creating a disturbance at the back of the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, on Monday night. PC Allen proved the case and the Bench inflicted a fine of 1s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/7/1885

“Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest this (Monday) afternoon at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston, touching the death of George Willoughby (10), lately residing with his parents at Willenhall Road, Bilston, and who was killed on Saturday by falling down an old pit shaft at Cold Lanes. Mr. Fellows, solicitor, of Bilston, represented the deceased’s parents, and Mr. W. B. Scott, Government Inspector of Mines, was also present.

The evidence showed that on Saturday morning deceased went with his two brothers into a coalfield in Cold Lanes. Deceased was playing about when his brother heard him shout, and on going to the place saw deceased disappear down an old pit shaft. He raised an alarm, and afterwards Richard Lovatt, miner, of Portobello, went down the pit and recovered the body.

Mr. Scott, in his evidence, said the fence round the pit was not secure for the night time, and he advised that it should be covered over.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and recommended that the pit should be more properly fenced.”

1891 Census

30, Willenhall Road – COCK INN

- [1] George E. Harvey (50), general labourer and publican, born Newport, Shropshire;
- [2] Mary Ann Harvey (49), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Florence Harvey (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Edna H. Harvey (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Minnie E. Harvey (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/9/1898

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the township of Bilston were held today (Tuesday).....

Mr. Thomas Dallow appeared on behalf of Samuel Joseph Salt, to apply for the license of the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, to be transferred to a new house proposed to be erected on a site near to. He said that, whilst the application might be termed a new one, it was not so, as the application was simply for a provisional grant authorising the removal of a license from one place to another. The premises were in a rather bad condition, and would have to be substantially repaired or rebuilt on another piece of land belonging to Miss Marston, the owner. The drinking accommodation would not by any means be increased, and the proposed new site would be 238 yards from the COCK INN.

Mr. Willcock opposed on behalf of the tenant of the GLOBE HOTEL, and Mr. Rowland Tildesley on behalf of a number of inhabitants, a property owner, and also for Mr. Watkiss, a license holder in Queen Street.

Mr. Willcock submitted that there was no need for granting the license. There had been no suggestion on the part of the inhabitants for a new license. It was practically a new license in a new district.

Mr. Tildesley said that in the area which was supposed to be benefited by the proposed erection of a new house there were 106 houses, and 150 people had signed a memorial protesting against the erection.

The Bench refused the application.”

1901 Census

Willenhall Road – COCK INN

- [1] Thomas Lloyd (58), licensed victualler, born Preston Gubbals, Shropshire;
- [2] Harriett Lloyd (54), wife, born Brierley Hill:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/11/1904

“Thomas Lloyd, James Street, Bilston, formerly of the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston, attended for his examination in bankruptcy. He retired from the county police in 1900 on a pension of £44 a year, and took the COCK INN, together with three fields. He then laid out the latter as a football ground, spending £300, which he borrowed. Bad seasons followed, and he lost money. The owner sold the property, without consulting him, to Myatt’s Brewery Company. He was appointed manager of the house at £2 per week. A short time afterwards his salary was reduced to 30s per week, and subsequently, he stated, he was kicked out of the place, having to leave. The company took over his trade effects for £116, out of which they stopped £39 for rent, £46 for their debt for beer, and other money for costs. He had only £20 for his other creditors, some of whom took proceedings against him. The former owner refused to allow him anything towards the cost of laying out the football ground. The examination was adjourned.”

George Davies was fined £5 and costs, on 3rd April 1908, for permitting drunkenness.

1911 Census

Willenhall Road – COCK INN

- [1] George Davies (40), unmarried, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Davies (72), mother, widow, assisting in business, born Worfield, Shropshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Reynolds (21), general servant, born Bradley:

1921 Census

Willenhall Road – COCK INN

- [1] George Davies (51), unmarried, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Jessie Prout (16), niece, barmaid, born Tettenhall;
- [3] Ida Bowen (22), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/6/1937

“In by nine o’clock in the Summer months, and eight o’clock during Winter, was the condition of the probation of three boys who were before the Bilston Juvenile Court yesterday. A 10-year-old boy, and one of 14, pleaded ‘Guilty’ to breaking into the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston, on 23 May, and stealing biscuits, cigarettes, cigars, potato crisps, bottles of stout, and 2½d in cash, the property of George Davis, licensee, to the value of £2 10s 5d. The 10-year-old boy was placed on probation for 12 months. The older lad was concerned with another 14-year-old boy in three charges of breaking into the canteen of Messrs. S. Edge and Sons, Wellington Road, Bilston, and sealing two sums of 5s 5d and one of half-a-crown from the gas meter. They were put on probation for two years. The parents were ordered to pay 31s 6d and 24s costs respectively.”

Demolished and rebuilt in the 1930s.

1939 Register

Willenhall Road – COCK

- [1] Augustus H. Davies, date of birth 5/6/1898, licensee, manager, married;
- [2] Elizabeth A. Davies, dob 2/9/1907, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [5] Ernest Jeavons, dob 2/8/1900, milk salesman, married;
- [6] Esther G. Jeavons, dob 26/9/1906, bar general, married:

Black Country Bugle 24/6/1999

“Mr. R. Mills, of Stowlawn Estate, Bilston, kindly supplied a couple more nostalgic snaps.....

The other photograph (taken before 1930) will rekindle memories for old imbibers at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston. It seems that a wartime publican was successful in boosting trade here by selling a commodity then in short supply – but only for five minutes before last orders – as Mr. Mills recalls, ‘The man standing in the doorway was a Welshman by the name of George Davies, who was manager at the time. When the new COCK INN was built his son Gus Davies was manager during the war years. In order to get plenty of customers in during the evening, he used to put cigarettes on sale five minutes before closing time as there was a shortage of cigarettes then.’”

Augustus Hutchinson Davies – see also BRUFORD ARMS, Wolverhampton.

A team from here took part in the Butlers (Bilston) Darts League. [1946]

It was a rock venue in the 1970s.

Birmingham Mail 21/9/1971

“For the first time at the Exhibition, the professionals are making way for local talent in the Exhibition Theatre. Already hundreds of entries from amateur and semi-professional variety acts have been received from all over the Midlands. They will be the stars of a mammoth talent competition, staged daily at the Exhibition Theatre. The first of the eliminating heats was held last night Further heats will be held on September 28 at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston.”

Plans were approved for alterations on 22nd March 1979.

Birmingham Mail 1/6/1981

“For the enthusiasts: Birmingham and Wolverhampton branch of the Triumph Owners Club meets every Wednesday, 8.30pm at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston. New members welcome.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 9/4/1982

“A pop singer was thrown across the stage by an electric shock from a microphone in a Bilston pub last night. Regulars rushed to revive Mr. Wallace Evans, lead singer with Black Country rock group Wally Alligator and the Crocodiles – as he lay unconscious from the shock for several minutes. The COCK INN, Willenhall Road, licensee Mr. Frederick Mills, said the group had just finished one of their regular Thursday night stints. ‘Wally had a mike in his hand when there was a flash and he was thrown across the stage,’ he said.

Mr. Evans, who was celebrating his 29th birthday, was taken by ambulance to the Wolverhampton Royal Hospital. Police say he suffered no ill effects and was allowed back to his Wolverhampton home after a check-up.”

Birmingham Mail 13/11/1995 - Advert

“Rock Night at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston.
This Saturday and Every Saturday with Top Rock DJs.
This week featuring Alaska.
The Very Best in Rock Entertainment.”

It was renamed the HUSTLER. [1999], [2005]

It closed in 2006.
It was damaged in an arson attack in 2006.

In 2007 a planning application for demolition of the pub and erection of flats was withdrawn.

In 2012 planning permission was granted for demolition of the pub and construction of a convenience store.

It was demolished in 2013.

Express & Star 16/7/2013

“A derelict pub in Wolverhampton has been flattened to make way for a Tesco convenience store. The site of the old HUSTLER pub, in Willenhall Road, in Bilston, will be transformed by the supermarket giant and will open early next year.....”

A supermarket was built on the site.

Express & Star 28/1/2021

“Plans to build three new homes on the site of a former pub beer garden in Bilston have been given the go-ahead. The land on Poplar Road was previously occupied by the COCK INN, later renamed the HUSTLER, which has since been demolished. A Tesco Express now stands on part of the ground facing Willenhall Road. Mr. Aman Jutla of Darlaston-based DBM Holdings, landlord for the site, has this week been granted permission to build one two-bedroom and two three-bedroom properties on the remaining area of land. In a statement supporting the plans, agent Bruce Jones of DPS Architects in Wolverhampton, said, ‘The small parcel of triangular land to the rear of Tesco Express has been unused since 2004 and is overgrown. It previously formed the rear garden of the HUSTLER pub. The front of the site was redeveloped in 2013 for the convenience store. The site is prone to anti-social behaviour and fly-tipping, so the client is now anxious to see it developed for residential purposes.....”

1999

1995

"COCK INN," COLD LANES, BILSTON.

BY R. L. COURTNEY.—To be LET, that well-known Old-licensed convenient PUBLIC HOUSE, established nearly a century. It comprises Bar, Parlour, Tap Room, large Parlour, four Chambers, two Cellars, Brewhouse, Stable, Piggeries, large Garden, Marble and Bowling Alley, &c., and is doing a fair trade. The Proprietor is leaving, having entered on other engagements.—Apply on the Premises; or to the Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich.

BILSTON.

TO PUBLICANS, BROKERS, AND OTHERS.

UNRESERVED SALE BY AUCTION,

At the COCK INN, COLD LANES,

ON MONDAY NEXT, DECEMBER 24th, 1890,

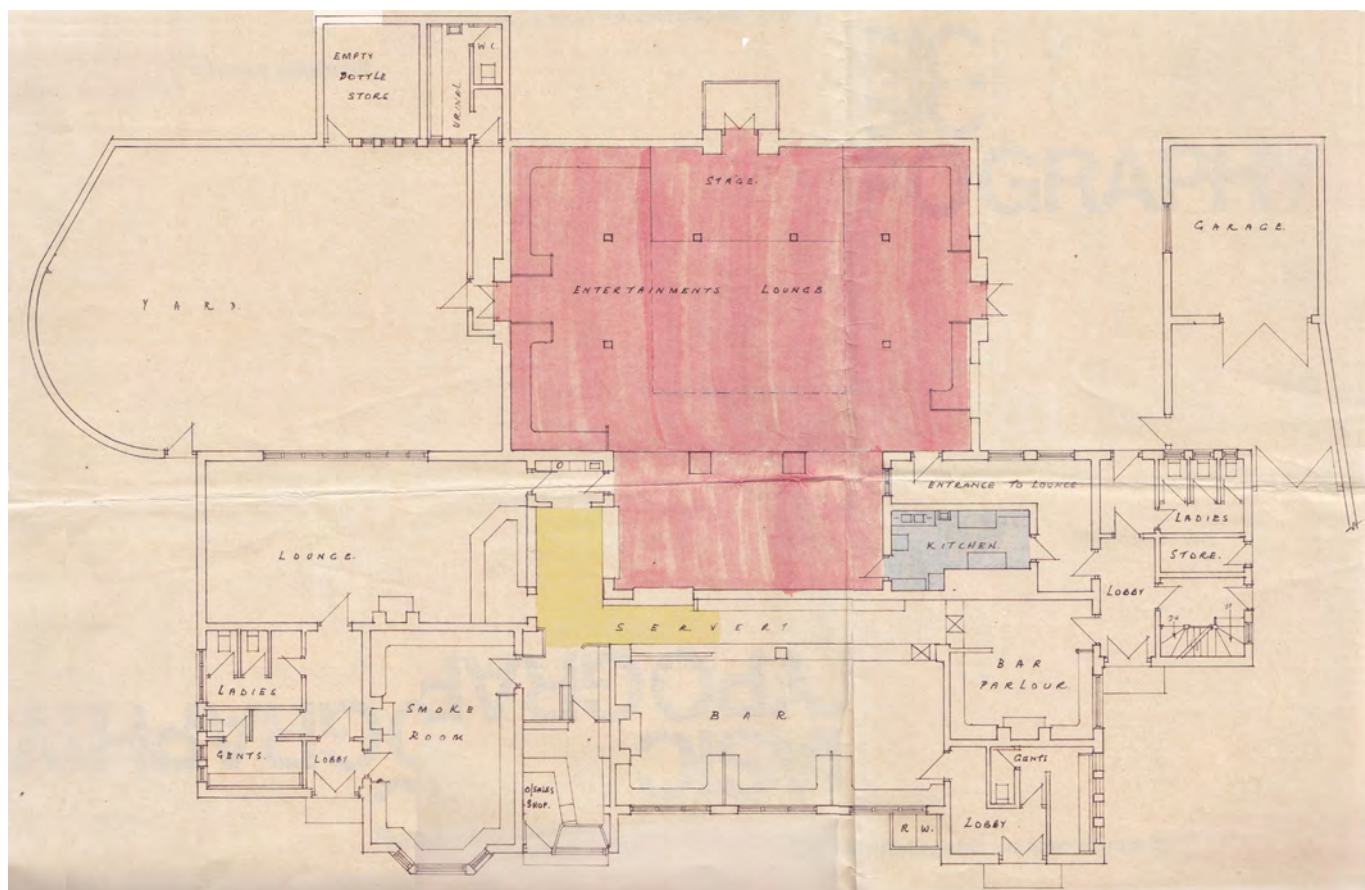

BY R. L. COURTNEY—of the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above-named INN, with the BREWING PLANT, comprising two iron Furnaces, Mash Tub, six Coolers, and Round Tubs, fifteen iron-bound Ale Casks, five Screens, Drinking Tables, capital Four-pull Ale Machine. HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other valuable Effects.

Sale to commence punctually at Ten o'clock to a minute, being the property of Mr. J. M. Parsons, who is declining the public business.

N.B.—The Old-licensed PUBLIC HOUSE to be LET, and immediate possession may be had. Rent moderate.

Auctioneer's Offices and Residence, High Street, West Bromwich.

1860

Plan 1979

COMMERCIAL

56, (61), Ash Street / 8, Arthur Street, Highfields, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Joseph Chadwick, brewer, 157, Great Charles Street, Birmingham
Sykes Brewery Co. Ltd, brewers, Birmingham
Trent Brewery Co. Ltd, Burton on Trent
South Staffordshire Brewery Co. Ltd, Wolverhampton
J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.
Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd. [1921]

LICENSEES

John Skidmore [1866] – [1886]
Daniel Rowley (1888 – [1892])
Henry Jones (1894 – [])
Albert Coates [1896] – [1898]
John Skidmore [1900]
Mrs. Caroline Penson [1901] – 1903);
William Henry Williams (1903 – 1906);
Charles Smith (1906 – 1909);
Arthur Fullard (1909);
Richard Albert Yardley (1909 – 1912);
Joseph Edward Turton (1912 – 1916);
George Wilfred Haywood Dallow (1916);
Alfred Jeavons (1916 – 1921);
George Henry Percival (1921 – 1924);
Harry Frederick Reynolds (1924 – 1925);
Ernest Job Nicholls (1925);
Reuben Job Walker (1925 – 1929);
Thomas Ryman (1929 – 1930);
James Wilkinson (1930 – 1931);
Harold Bullock (1931 – 1932):

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

61, Ash Street [1871]
Ash Street [1881], [1932]
56, Ash Street [1901], [1921]
Highfields Road [1909]
8, Arthur Street [1911]

COMMERCIAL HOTEL [1932]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court on Friday.....

An application was made on behalf of John Skidmore, keeper of an inn at Highfields, by Mr. Underhill, and after some opposition by Mr. Young, the application was granted.”

1871 Census

61, Ash Street

- [1] John Skidmore (48), victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary Ann Skidmore (39), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] William G. Skidmore (20), son, roll turner, born Sedgley;
- [4] Mary Ann Skidmore (18), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [5] Rachel E. Skidmore (17), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Stephen Skidmore (14), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [7] Jeremiah Skidmore (11), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [8] Elizabeth Skidmore (13), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [9] John Skidmore (10), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [10] David Skidmore (7), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [11] Joseph Skidmore (4), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [12] Benjamin Skidmore (3), son, born Sedgley;
- [13] Ann Round (23), domestic servant, born Sedgley;
- [14] Ann Hale (20), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

FOR Sale, 35-horse Horizontal ENGINE, with Boiler and Winding Gear complete; also, Two very useful Pit Frames, with Runners, &c.—Apply, Mr. Skidmore, Commercial Inn, High Fields, near Bilston.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/4/1871 - Advert

“For Sale, 35-horse Horizontal Engine, with Boiler and Winding Gear complete; also Two very useful Pit Frames, with Runners, &c.

Apply, Mr. Skidmore, COMMERCIAL INN, High Fields, near Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/10/1909

“The supposed loss of the Waratah calls to mind the wreck of the Strathmore, an emigrant ship, the survivors of which spent five months on a desert island. Among the latter was Mr. W. G. Skidmore, whose parents at that time lived at the COMMERCIAL INN, Highfields, Coseley. He was mourned as dead by his relatives and friends at Coseley, and great was their joy on receipt of the gratifying intelligence that he was included in the number of passengers and crew who had been saved. The Strathmore, a Dundee vessel, sailed from London for Otago, New Zealand, on April 17, 1875, having on board some 50 or 60 passengers and a crew which brought the number to about 90.

Mr. Skidmore last year wrote an account of this romance of the southern ocean for the Daily Post, Australia, in the course of which he says that on July 1 the Strathmore struck on the Crozets, a reef of rocks in the Indian Ocean, drowning 39 persons – the captain, chief mate, seven sailors, and 30 passengers. He was one of 19 who got into the port lifeboat, and he tells how before they got ashore they had to beat off a large shark with their oars. The first night was spent by the survivors on the rocks, and rain having fallen heavily all night their scanty attire was dripping wet next morning. Better quarters were secured, and a few blankets found in a floating chest came in useful as a protection from the southerly winds.

Albatross were hunted, and were regarded as a great delicacy, particularly as the castaways had had little food since leaving the ship. A watch was set, and it was arranged that two men should watch the lifeboat, gig, and dinghy which had been saved, by night, and all should take their turn. Continuing the narrative, he says: Two American seaman took the first watch, but instead of watching the boats they paid attention to a cask of port wine, and we found them helplessly drunk in the morning, with the cask alongside them canted to the bung, a ship's bucket half full, and more than half gone, and also our three boats. It was a dreadful blow for us when we knew our boats were lost and we knew our lives depended upon what we could get upon the island. Had we not lost our boats we could have picked up wreckage enough to have lasted us for months.

Mr. Skidmore records how several of the company died, and their graves were dug in guano, and states that all endured great hardships from cold and a lack of food, and they had to sleep huddled together for warmth. A small lamp was kept burning night and day as the symbol of the Hope that never dies; it was the sacred fire of the Crozets. Late in August, and again in September, a ship was sighted, but neither landed. Christmas Day was spent on the island, with penguins for dinner, and Mr. Skidmore remarked that it was to these birds and their eggs that the islanders owed their lives. It was on the afternoon of January 21, 1876, that a sail was sighted to the north-west. The attention of the captain of the ship, which proved to be a whaler, was attracted. Mrs. Wordsworth, the only lady survivor, Mr. Peters, the second mate, several invalids, and one of the crew were taken away that night, and next day the remainder went on board. After being four days aboard the whaler Captain Gifford handed the company over to the Sierra Morena, of Liverpool, and returned to the Crozets. Mr. Skidmore mentions a curious incident that happened to Mrs. Wordsworth. She was sitting by the fire when she said she saw a woman's face and head appear. It was a beautiful face, pale complexion, and dark eyes, with a 'kerchief tied over the head, and under the chin. It smiled kindly to her, and bade her be of good spirits, saying at the time that we should soon be taken away. The curious thing is that Captain Gifford's young wife, who was voyaging with him, when she leaned over the ship to say good-bye to Mrs. Wordsworth, had the face of the vision on the island, even to the 'kerchief tied under the chin."

1881 Census

Ash Street

- [1] John Skidmore (58), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary A. Skidmore (49), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas Skidmore (26), son, born Sedgley;
- [4] Stephen Skidmore (24), son, born Sedgley;
- [5] Elizabeth Skidmore (23), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Jeremiah Skidmore (21), son, born Sedgley;
- [7] John Skidmore (20), son, born Sedgley;
- [8] David Skidmore (18), son, born Sedgley;
- [9] David Skidmore (78), uncle, gentleman, born Tipton;
- [10] Elizabeth Bamford (22), domestic servant, born Scotland;

FOR Sale, by Private Treaty, the well-known Public House called the "Royal Oak," Salop-street, Bilston. It is surrounded by large ironworks, and in a thickly-populated district. A portion of the purchase money can remain on the freehold.—For further particulars, apply to John Skidmore, Commercial Inn, Highfields, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/11/1881 - Advert

"For Sale, by Private Treaty, the well-known Public House called the ROYAL OAK, Salop Street, Bilston. It is surrounded by large ironworks, and in a thickly-populated district. A portion of the purchase money can remain on the freehold.

For further particulars, apply to John Skidmore, COMMERCIAL INN, Highfields, Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 30/12/1882 - Advert

"To be Let, a Small, Compact, Well Fitted-up Shop, in a commanding thoroughfare, now doing a good trade. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.

Apply, John Skidmore, COMMERCIAL INN, Highfields, near Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 7/6/1884

"On Tuesday afternoon, an enquiry was held at the COMMERCIAL INN, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, district coroner, into the circumstances of the death of Thomas Whalley, of 51, Ash Street, Bradley, which took place on Sunday night. It appeared from the evidence that deceased, who was 59 years of age, was found dead on a sofa on Sunday night, by a young woman named Mary Ann Price. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned."

Dudley and District News 20/12/1884

"Between five and six o'clock on Saturday evening the body of a man, who has not yet been identified, was found on the Great Western Railway, between Daisy Bank and Coseley. Deceased, who appeared to be about 60 years of age, and, judging from his dress, either a navvy or blast furnaceman, had evidently been knocked down by a passing train. The body was lying across the rails, and was terribly cut and lacerated. It was found by a watchman on the line named Henry Rowe, of Bilston Road, Wolverhampton, and was removed by direction of PC Tytherleigh to the Highfields COMMERCIAL INN, Bradley, where it now lies awaiting an inquest. What the deceased had been doing on the railway is not known. There is no road near, but some repairs had recently been done close to where he was found, and he may have gone with the view of seeking work. The description of the deceased is given as follows: Age about 60 years; height, 5ft 8 or 9in; complexion fresh; hair brown, tinged with grey; clean shaved; and of medium build. Dress: Old, white slop jacket, two old mixture coloured cloth vests, new brown cord trousers, light woollen muffler, brown cloth cap, with band round; and heavy-nailed lace-up boots, with tips on heels and toes. The man is supposed to belong to Gloucestershire. Should he be recognised, communication should be made with Mr. Chief Superintendent Longden, Bilston.

An inquest on the body was held on Tuesday, at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Highfields, Bradley, when the jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/11/1886 - Advert

“Staffordshire. Valuable Corner Spirit Vaults, Dwelling Houses, and Shops, at Highfields, near Bilston, and Bloomfield Road, Princes End, Tipton.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Hawkins & Son (by order of the Mortgagee), at the house of Mr. Butler, the ROYAL HOTEL, Princes End, on Tuesday, the 30th day of November, 1886, at 6 o’clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. All that well-built and well-established Licensed Freehold Inn and Dwelling House known as the COMMERCIAL INN, at Highfields aforesaid, comprising commodious Spirit Vaults, Smoke Room, Bar Parlour, Kitchen, Lodge Room, good Chambers, Cellars, modern Brewery, and enclosed Yard; together with the Two Shops and Dwelling Houses adjoining, in the several occupations of Mr. John Skidmore, Thomas Fidoe, and one void. Also, a Large Piece of Land in the rear, now used as Gardens. Area of the Lot, 1600 square yards or thereabouts..... The purchaser of Lot 1 will have to take to the Trade Fixtures in and about the Inn and Premises thereto at a valuation in the usual way, an Inventory of which will be produced at the time of Sale.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/11/1886

“From last night’s *London Gazette*First Meetings and Dates of Public Examinations.....

John Skidmore, the elder, COMMERCIAL INN, Highfields, Sedgley, Staffordshire, licensed victualler.

First meeting, December 2, at 10am, at the Official Receiver’s, Dudley; public examination, December 2, at 11am, at the County Court, Dudley.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/12/1886

“Bankruptcy Proceedings Re John Skidmore, licensed victualler, Highfields, Sedgley.

At the Dudley County Court, yesterday, this bankrupt came up for his public examination before Mr. Registrar Walker. Mr. Jobson, the official receiver, conducted the enquiry, and Mr. Alfred Whitehouse was for the debtor. The liabilities were £884 10s 5d, and the assets £86 4s 2d. The bankrupt had been in business thirty-five years, and he built, bought, and inherited property. The last-named, however, came through his wife’s father, and was mortgaged. He had been mixed up in his son’s and son-in-law’s metal business, and was guarantee for some £300 or £400. The payment of these sums and bad trade had caused his insolvency. The debtor was allowed to pass.”

John Skidmore – see also UNION, Wallbrook, Sedgley, and ROLLING MILL, Bradley, Bilston.

Daniel Rowley = Daniel Rowly

1891 Census

Ash Street

[1] Daniel Rowly (39), licensed victualler, born Bradley;

[2] Mary Rowly (44), wife, born Coseley;

[3] Mary A. Owen (18), step-daughter, born Bradley;

[4] Clara Rowly (17), daughter, born Bradley;

[5] Florence H. Rowly (14), daughter, born Bradley;

[6] Gertrude Rowly (12), daughter, scholar, born Bradley;

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/11/1891

“Joseph Pearce, labourer, Bradley, Bilston, was fined 10s and costs for stealing 6d from the till at the COMMERCIAL INN, Highfields.”

Bradley Quoits Club was based here. [1893]

Birmingham Daily Post 25/8/1894

“Bilston. The annual licensing sessions for this division were held yesterday....

A transfer of the COMMERCIAL HOUSE INN was granted to Henry Jones.”

Dudley Herald 22/10/1898

“Coming of Age Celebration at Bradley. On Saturday last about 25 engineers from Messrs. T. Perry and Sons were invited to a supper at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL by Mr. R. Blakesley, of Woodsetton, in commemoration of his 21st birthday. After the removal of the cloth, Mr. T. Smith was voted to the chair, and Mr. W. Rogers to the vice-chair. The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Blakesley for his kindness and generosity in providing so liberally for them, and also to Mr. and Mrs. Coates for the able manner in which they had catered. He thought there was a bright and successful future for Mr. Blakesley, for he had always found in him a first-class workman and a thorough gentleman. The rest of the evening was given to harmony, the following contributing: Messrs. R. Blakesley, E. Mason, J. Mason, Caswell, Kelly and Draisey.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/12/1898

“A very sudden death occurred at the Ettingshall Ironwork Company’s Works, at Bradley, this morning. It appears that a man named Isaiah Higgs (72), married, of Field Street, Bradley, is employed at those works as a night-watchman. He was at his post last night, and was observed in his lobby at 12.30am, eating. At 4.0am, however, a man named William Smith, observing that the old man was not attending to some fires as usual, went to the lobby and found him apparently asleep. He called out to him, but as he received no answer he went up and was astonished to find that he was dead. Police-constable Hadland, of Bradley, was immediately notified of the occurrence, and the body of the deceased was conveyed home, pending the inquiry by the coroner.”

AND

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/12/1898

“The circumstances attending the death of Isaiah Higgs, aged 72, of 32, Field Street, who died under conditions reported on Thursday, were investigated by the Coroner at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Highfields, Bradley.

Mary Ann Higgs stated that she was the widow of the deceased, who had been employed at the Ettingshall Ironworks as a watchman. She had been married to him for nearly fifty years, and deceased went to work on Wednesday night. She heard of his being found dead on Thursday morning.

William Smith, employed at the Ettingshall Ironworks, stated that just before eleven o’clock on Wednesday night deceased complained of feeling ill, and sent for some brandy. Witness advised him to lie down, and on returning about four o’clock he found Higgs lying dead.

The inquest was adjourned, for the purpose of having a post mortem examination made, until Monday next at eleven o’clock.”

1901 Census

56, Ash Street

[1] Caroline Penson (49), widow, licensed victualler, born Brierley Hill;

[2] Percy Richard Penson (16), son, draper’s assistant, born Bilston;

[3] Amie Evans (22), domestic servant, born Deepfields;

[4] Mary Elizabeth Roper (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Tipton Herald 28/11/1903

“On Tuesday night Mr. Henry Norman MP was made an honorary member of Court Merry Woodman, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, which assembles at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Bradley.....”

Caroline Penson died on 27th December 1903.

Wednesbury Leader 28/1/1906

“The 141st half yearly meeting of the Wolverhampton and Tipton District of the Ancient Order of Foresters took place at the COMMERCIAL INN, Bradley, on Saturday. There were thirty-four delegates present, DCR Farley being in the chair, supported by DSCR Thomas Kempson, J. Barker, (District Secretary).....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/11/1909

“On Saturday evening the members of Court Merry Woodmen 3305 of the Ancient Order of Foresters held a dinner at their Court Room, at the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Highfield Road, near Bilston, to celebrate the jubilee of their Court.....”

1911 Census

8, Arthur Street – COMMERCIAL HOTEL

- [1] Richard Alfred Yardley (43), licensed victualler, born Chetton, Shropshire;
- [2] Emma Yardley (37), wife, married 9 years, assisting in business, born Alveley, Shropshire;
- [3] Alfred Cecil Yardley (4), son, born Claverley, Shropshire;
- [4] Selina Millechip (27), visitor, domestic servant, born Worfield, Shropshire;
- [5] Thomas Baylis (21), boarder, grocer's shop assistant, born Tamworth;
- [6] Mary Baylis (22), boarder, born Walsall:

Birmingham Mail 9/9/1913

"Following the Wyrley gang postcards threatening that further maiming outrages would be committed, a brown eight-year-old gelding, belonging to Mr. Joseph Turton, a publican of Bradley, was found suffering from a deep wound in its off hindquarters. The horse, with others, was turned into a field at Gospel Oak, near Wednesbury, opposite the works of Messrs. Thompson, and when seen last night the animal was in its normal condition. It was attended to by Mr. H. Pickworth, Wednesbury, who put nine stitches into the wound. It was 11 inches long by two inches deep. Mr. Pickering believes that the injury was caused by a sharp instrument. It was the cleanest cut he had ever seen. The injury is of a similar character to that caused recently to two horses at Darlaston. The gelding was found in a field adjoining that into which it was turned."

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/9/1913

"Another maiming outrage was discovered in the Wednesbury district yesterday, a horse being found with a wound eleven inches by two. The injured animal belongs to Mr. G. [sic] Turton, of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Highfield, Bradley. The veterinary surgeon has no hesitation in stating that the wound was inflicted with a sharp instrument, as in the other cases. Several other horses were in the field, but only the one was injured."

1921 Census

56, Ash Street – COMMERCIAL HOTEL

- [1] George Henry Percival (43), publican, hotel manager, born Shelfield, Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Annie Percival (39), wife, hotel manageress, born Bilston;
- [3] Obadiah Richard Percival (20), son, butcher, born Bilston;
- [4] Lilian Maria Percival (17), daughter, assists in business, born Bilston;
- [5] Henry James Percival (15), son, iron worker, born Bilston;
- [6] Richard Skidmore (54), wife's step-brother, labourer, born Oldbury:

George Henry Percival – see also RAILWAY, Hill Street.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 29/11/1924

"A case which has created much interest came before Messrs. J. A. Jordan (who presided), C. W. Harris, S. Davies and M. Wilks, at the Bilston Police Court yesterday (Friday), when Henry Frederick Reynolds, licensee of the COMMERCIAL INN, Bradley, and his wife Maria Reynolds, were summoned for alleged offences against the licensing laws. Mr. Arthur Ward (instructed by Mr. A. C. Skidmore, Wolverhampton) appeared for the defence. The summonses were for selling beer and supplying the same during prohibited hours.

PC Dunn (Bradley) stated that at 11.20pm on the night of the 9th inst he was in Arthur Street, which leads to the back of the premises of the COMMERCIAL INN. One of the double doors was partly open, and he saw a child open it a little wider from the inside and look into the street. She stepped back, and he next saw a man named Baker, who was carrying a stone jar. In company with him witness saw the male defendant, and asked him if he had supplied the man with beer. He answered, 'Yes, he paid for it before ten o'clock. You are not going to do anything are you?' Witness said he should report it, and Reynolds added, 'Don't make a case of it. I will give you anything if you won't say anything about it. You know what it means to me with my license.'

Mr. Ward contended that there was no case, 'They have got to prove that the beer was sold after ten o'clock.'

The Magistrates' Clerk (Mr. Pratt): I think there is no proof of sale.

The summons for supplying was taken, and Mr. Ward said Reynolds was assisted in the business by his wife. On the Sunday night in question, about half-past eight, Baker went into the bar and had a drink, and in the presence of a number of customers he said he wanted a gallon of 'sixes.' He tended a 10s note – at 8.30 – and received 6s change. Baker did not take the beer away with him then, and the landlady, as had been done on previous occasions, placed the jar containing the beer by a water butt, near the gates, and this she did before closing time. That which happened, Mr. Ward, contended, did not amount to supplying. He called a number of witnesses who were in the house when the beer was sold, and who saw the jar near the water butt, in support of his contention.

The summons for selling was dismissed, and for supplying Reynolds was fined £5. The summons against Mrs. Reynolds was dismissed.

Isaac Baker, 4, Arthur Street, Bradley, was summoned for aiding and abetting, and for 'taking away.' As Mr. Ward intimated his intention to appeal the decision in the former case, these summonses were adjourned sine die."

Bilston & Willenhall Times 7/2/1925

"Bilston Brewster Sessions.....

Formal objection by the police to the renewal of the license of four houses. With regard to the COMMERCIAL INN, Bradley, the license was renewed, and the chairman hoped that what had taken place would be a warning to the manager not to make a mistake again....."

Application for the removal of this license to the MOUNT PLEASANT INN, Sedgley, was granted on 9th April 1932. It closed on 9th April 1932.

Lichfield Mercury 15/4/1932

"County Licensing Committee.....

The committee granted an application by Violet Jones for removal of the full license of the COMMERCIAL INN, Bradley, Coseley, to licensed premises at Sedgley, known as the MOUNT PLEASANT TAVERN (a beerhouse)."

TO BE LET, A SMALL, COMPACT, WELL
FITTED-UP SHOP, in a commanding thoroughfare, now doing a good trade. Satisfactory reasons for leaving,—Apply, John Skidmore, Commercial Inn, Highfields, near Bilston.

1882

LOT 1.—All that well-built and well-established LICENSED
FREEHOLD INN and DWELLING HOUSE known as the "COMMERCIAL INN," at Highfields aforesaid, comprising commodious Spirit Vaults, Smoke Room, Bar Parlour, Kitchen, Lodge Room, good Chambers, Cellars, modern Brewery, and enclosed Yard; together with the Two SHOPS and DWELLING HOUSES adjoining, in the several occupations of Mr. John Skidmore, Thomas Fidoe, and one void.

1886

COOPERS ARMS

Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Robert Haynes [1818]

NOTES

Robert Haynes was also a cooper. [1818]

COTTAGE SPRING

Brook Street, New Town, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Isaac Beckett [1853] – [1857]

NOTES

Isaac Beckett = Isaac Becket

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/2/1853

“At Beckett's, the COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston, on Monday, a silver collar was ratted for by dogs of all weights, when Messrs. Haywood, Stokes and Beckett's dogs contended at 10 rats each. The collar was won by Haywood's dog, killing his number in 53sec. There was also a match between Messrs. Stokes and Tait's dogs, 9½lb each, at seven rats each, for £3 a side, which was won by Tait's dog, killing her rats in 1min 5sec.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/2/1855

“On Tuesday last William Gettings, a respectable looking man, was charged with stealing a brindled bitch, the property of Isaac Beckett, of New Town, Bilston. It appeared that on Friday night the dog in question was with a man named Ward, an inhabitant of Oatmeal Yard, who is a servant of the complainant. The dog went up to the prisoner, and on Ward calling it the prisoner took it up and went away with it. It appeared that the defendant made some claim to the dog, for Beckett, on reference to an anticipated claim, said he had thrown the bitch claimed into a coal pit. Beckett said he gave a man named Titley £4 for the bitch. Beckett denied being a dog fancier or that he fought dogs. Titley, on being called, said he bought the bitch for half-a-crown and sold her to Beckett for £4. Mr. Jackson, for the defence, called several witnesses, who deposed to the bitch having been bred and reared by the defendant, from whom she was stolen a year and a half ago. The magistrate said it appeared to him that, looking at the fact that the dog was purchased for half-a-crown and the evidence for the defence, that the dog belonged to the defendant. The case was accordingly dismissed, the defendant leaving with the dog in his possession.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/7/1855

“Isaac Beckett, landlord of the COTTAGE SPRING public house, Bilston, was summoned for refusing to receive and afford proper accommodation to Frederick Powell, a soldier in her Majesty's Medical Corps. Sergeant Villiers, of the 94th Regiment, stated that his only object in bringing the matter before the Bench was as an example to other innkeepers, as several refusals to receive recruits had recently been made. He was willing the case should be withdrawn, on the defendant paying the expenses. The defendant consented to this, and the case was withdrawn accordingly.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/11/1855

“Haywood and Wedge of Bilston are matched to run six score yards, for £10 a side; to come off on Monday, the 26th inst, at the Ball, at Coven. A further deposit of £2 a side must be made at Beckett's COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston, on Monday (tomorrow).”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/7/1856

“Ambrose Causer of Bilston will run David Gough of Willenhall, from 120 to 440 yards, for £5 or £10 a side; or Thomas Hayward of Bilston six score yards, for £10 a side; or he will give Samuel Wedge two yards start in six score yards, for from £5 to £20 a side. A match can be made any night week, at Isaac Becket's COTTAGE SPRING INN, Brook Street, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/7/1856

“Pigeon Flying.....

Isaac Beckett of Bilston has a young bird, 10 weeks old, that he will fly against any other of the same age, 20 or 30 miles, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready any night next week at the COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/2/1857

“Badger and Couser. The whole of the money, £10 a side, has been made good, and the match comes off tomorrow (Monday), at the Golden Ball, Coven Heath. The men to be at scratch at one o’clock, to go by mutual consent; if no start in thirty minutes, then to go by first pull of handkerchief. Couser finds ropes and stakes. Both men are reported all right, and the men will be glad to see their friends tonight (the 8th inst); Badger at Skidmore’s, the DUKES HEAD, Duke Street, Wolverhampton, and Couser at J. Beckett’s, the COTTAGE SPRING, New Town, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 15/2/1857

“Badger and Couser. The 140 yards match, for £10 a side, between these men, took place on Monday, at the Golden Ball, Coven Heath, Wolverhampton. The weather was, fortunately, fine, and a good deal of interest was taken in the match. There was a good muster present. Owing to the late frost, the ground, as might be expected, was in a rotten and heavy state. Each man appeared at scratch in good condition, and betting commenced at evens, and ended at 6 to 4 on Causer. They had to go by mutual consent, and after dodging for twenty minutes, a level start was effected. In the first 20 yards Causer was leading by a full yard, and was never caught, gradually widening the gap, and running in a winner by four yards. Causer has received the stakes. Badger attributes his defeat to standing on the case of hot water, and then coming on the cold ground; that he felt his legs affected, and ran the distance with the greatest difficulty. W. Burns of Darlaston officiated as referee.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/3/1857

“William Warner of Bilston not being satisfied with his late defeat by Samuel Wedge, is anxious to run him 440 yards, if he will give him five yards start, or he will run John Addison (commonly called Jack the Barber) the same distance level, or he will run Samuel Baggott or Edward Partridge (both of Darlaston) the same distance; either of these matches can be made for £10 a side, to come off in a month after drawing up articles. Money ready any night next week, at Isaac Beckett’s, COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/5/1857

“Thomas Hayward of Bilston will run Files of Birmingham six score yards, for £10 a side; or Snellhouse of the same place, for £10 a side; or give Osborn (the Sailor Boy) two yards start in 120, for £10 a side; or he will run Littlehales of the same place and give him two yards start, for £5 or £10 a side; or he will run Rock of Wolverhampton six score yards, for £10 or £20, or Paget of the same place, or Alfred Badger of Wolverhampton, for £20 a side; or he will run Bayley of Darlaston six score yards and give him one yard start, for £10 a side, or Jinkes of Darlaston for the same sum. Money ready any night next week, at Isaac Beckett’s, COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston, Staffordshire.”

Isaac Beckett – see also OLD HOUSE AT HOME, Temple Street.

COTTAGE SPRING

20, (89), Dudley Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Thomas Millward, out of business, Dudley Street, Bilston
Elizabeth Dangerfield, Westborough, Portland
Mrs. C. H. Reid, Pryse House, St. John's Chapel, Bisham
Alfred A. Millward, 6, St. Georges Terrace, London
Frank Myatt Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Samuel Harper [1873] – 1878);
Richard Picken Jones (1878 – 1884);
Jesse Skinner (1884 – 1890);
Mrs. Alice Skinner (1890 – 1906);
Richard Bates (1906 – 1908);
Rhoda Attwood (1908);
George William Crockett (1908 – 1909);
Albert Maddocks (1909 – 1910);
Joseph Hadley (1910 – 1913);
Emily Hadley [1911]
Elizabeth Baldwin (1913):

PICKWICK JUDGE & JURY CLUB.
Held at the
COTTAGE SPRING, DUDLEY STREET,
BILSTON.
Proprietor—JESSE SKINNER.
The Members of this the OLDEST ESTABLISHED
CLUB in the town, are hereby informed that the ANNUAL DINNER
Will take place on Whit-Tuesday, at 6-0 p.m.
prompt.
Further information to be obtained at the Club House.

1885

NOTES

89, Dudley Street [1873], [1881], [1891], [1896]
20, Dudley Street [1901], [1904], [1911], [1912]

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

It was known locally as "Pretty Polly's".

1881 Census

89, Dudley Street – COTTAGE SPRING INN
[1] Richard P. Jones (29), beer retailer, born Bilston;
[2] Matilda Jones (29), wife, born Bilston;
[3] Arthur J. Jones (6), son, scholar, born Brewood;
[4] John Jones (3), son, born Bilston;
[5] William Jones (1), son, born Bilston;
[6] Maud Millard (16), domestic servant, born Coseley;
[7] John Marion (61), grand-father, widower, locksmith, born Bilston;
[8] Elizabeth Taylor (70), visitor, widow, formerly tailoress, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 19/5/1883

“Whitsuntide in the District.....

The members of the Judge and Jury Club held at the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Dudley Street, Bilston, had their outing on Tuesday, when, to the number of 70, they were driven in four of Mr. Whittaker's brakes from the club house to the Crown Hotel, Hodge Bowers, near Coalbrookdale. A sumptuous repast there awaited them, and with appetites sharpened by the splendid ride, full justice was done to it. After this the party went on an exploring tour, and visited the Abbey, the Broseley Pipe Works, and the Gothic Tile Manufactory. Boating on the Severn was also enjoyed, and a happy day was spent in various amusements.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/5/1885 - Advert

“Pickwick Judge & Jury Club.

Held at the COTTAGE SPRING, Dudley Street, Bilston. Proprietor, Jesse Skinner.

The Members of this, the Oldest Established Club in the town, are hereby informed that the Annual Dinner will take place on Whit-Tuesday, at 6-0pm prompt.

Further information to be obtained at the Club House.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 30/5/1885

“The annual dinner of the Pickwick Judge and Jury Club (the oldest in Bilston) was held at the COTTAGE SPRING, on Tuesday last, when a good number assembled and partook of the excellent catering of Host Skinner. After doing justice to the fare, the chairman, Mr. George Jones, gave the usual loyal toasts; Mr. Wilkes ably acted as vice-chairman. After a most enjoyable evening, votes of thanks were passed to the chairman and host.”

Jesse Skinner was married to Alice.

He died on 23rd March 1890.

1891 Census

89, Dudley Street – COTTAGE SPRING

- [1] Alice Skinner (50), widow, beer retailer, born Coseley;
- [2] Walter J. Skinner (14), son, telegraph messenger, born Bilston;
- [3] Percy A. Skinner (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Clara L. Skinner (23), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [5] Edith E. Skinner (18), daughter, born Dudley;
- [6] Job Skinner (76), father-in-law, widower, railway pensioner, born Southborough, Kent:

Mrs. Alice Skinner, beer retailer, 89, Dudley Street. [1896]

1901 Census

20, Dudley Street – COTTAGE SPRING INN

- [1] Alice Skinner (60), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Walter Jesse Skinner (24), son, bread baker, born Bilston;
- [3] Clara Louisa Price (33), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [4] William Price (38), son-in-law, blacksmith's striker, born Bromley, Worcestershire;
- [5] Arthur Sydney Price (6), grand-son, born Bilston;
- [6] Jesse Daniel Price (5), grand-son, born Bilston;
- [7] Gladys Price (11 months), grand-daughter, born Bilston:

Mrs. Alice Skinner, beer retailer, 20, Dudley Street. [1904]

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1910

“The Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The licences of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Dudley Street were referred for compensation.”

1911 Census

20, Dudley Street – COTTAGE SPRING INN

[1] Joseph Hadley (51), packing crate maker, publican, born Dudley;

[2] Emily Hadley (50), wife, married 22 years, managing beerhouse, born Wallbrook;

[3] Lucy Wood (5), niece, school, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Emily Beddows (20), domestic servant, born Borsley [Broseley?], Shropshire;

[5] Carry Davies (16), visitor, domestic servant, born Moxley;

Joseph Hadley, beer retailer, 20, Dudley Street. [1912]

Staffordshire Sentinel 7/6/1913

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. Notice of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1901, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shirehall, Stafford, at 10-45 o'clock am on Thursday, the 24th day of July, 1913.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Elizabeth Baldwin.”

License refused by Compensation Authority on 24th July 1913.

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1913

“The principal meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday..... Seven houses were scheduled in Bilson division.....

COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston, ante 1869 beerhouse.....

Renewal was formally applied for and refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/8/1913 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 24th day of July, 1913, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1913, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston. Beerhouse ante 1869. Licencee, Elizabeth Baldwin. Registered Owner, W. Butler and Co. Ltd.”

Compensation of £375 was paid on 24th December 1913.

License extinguished 31st December 1913.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1914

“The annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

At the principal meeting of the compensation authority the committee refused to renew 31 licenses. At the supplemental meeting the committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon were satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund. In the following 27 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston, £375.”

The premises became a barber's shop.

It was demolished c.1968.

CRICKETERS ARMS

106, (63), Church Street, (High Street), BILSTON

OWNERS

Austin and Co. [1868], [1870]
Richard Austin and Son [1873]
William Cardell, Birmingham
Henry Plant and Sons [1896]
William Butler & Co. Ltd. [1904], [1921]

LICENSEES

Joseph Baker [1861] – [1865]
James Baker [1865]
Thomas Thurstans [] – 1866;
Richard Austin (1866 – [])
Henry Hall [1871]
Richard Austin [1873] – 1874;
John Austin (1874 – 1876);
Henry Hall (1876 – 1881);
Samuel Fellows (1881);
John Henry Walker (1881 – 1882);
Thomas Henry Smith (1882 – 1885);
Samuel James Underwood (1885 – 1886);
Alfred Brown (1886 – 1888);
Mrs. Eugenie Ann Satterthwaite (1888 – 1891);
James Clarke (1891 – 1900);
Frederick William Plant (1900);
Mrs. Sarah Best (Clark) Kirk (1900 – 1931);
Stephen Cook (1931 – 1934);

NOTES

63, Church Street [1861], [1862], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1873], [1879], [1881], [1882], [1885], [1891], [1892], [1896]
106, Church Street [1901], [1908], [1911], [1916], [1921], [1932]

It stood opposite to the LEOPARD.

It had a beerhouse license.

Spirit vaults [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1860 - Advert

“To be Let, the CRICKETERS ARMS, a very compact Liquor Shop, now doing a good business, and situated in the best part of Bilston. Coming-in about £200.

Apply on the Premises; or to John Prince, Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich.”

TO be LET, “THE CRICKETERS’ ARMS,” a very compact LIQUOR SHOP, now doing a good business, and situated in the best part of Bilston. Coming-in about £200.—
Apply on the Premises; or to John Prince, Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich.

1861 Census

63, Church Street

[1] Joseph Baker (28), unmarried, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Mary Baker (24), sister, assistant, born Bilston;

[3] Harriett Smith (30), visitor, born London:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1863 - Advert

“Wanted, a young Person, as Barmaid; age about twenty-three years. First-class references required.

Apply personally, to Joseph Baker, CRICKETERS ARMS Vaults, Church Street, Bilston.

NB. Application to be made This Day (Wednesday) and Tomorrow (Thursday) only.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/12/1863 - Advert

“The CRICKETERS ARMS Spirit Vaults, Church Street, Bilston. About thirty yards from the Market Place.

To be Sold by Private Contract, the Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above Spirit Vaults, with excellent Smoke Room, Brewhouse, Stable, and other conveniences, now doing a good trade. Satisfactory reasons for leaving can be given. In-coming can be reduced to about £300.

Apply to Joseph Baker, Proprietor.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/8/1865 - Advert

“CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston.

To be Let, the Lease, Licenses, and Goodwill of the above old-established Wine and Spirit Vaults, now in the occupation of James Baker. In-coming about £250.

Apply as above.”

CRICKETERS' ARMS, Church Street, Bilston.—To be LET, the LEASE, LICENSES, and GOODWILL of the above old-established Wine and Spirit Vaults, now in the occupation of James Baker. In-coming about £250.—Apply as above.

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1865 - Advert

“To be Sold, the Lease, Licenses, and Goodwill of the CRICKETERS ARMS Spirit Vaults, Church Street, Bilston, only 50 yards from the Market Place, and now in the occupation of James Baker. In-coming about £250.

Apply at the above address.”

TO be SOLD, the LEASE, LICENSES, and GOODWILL of the CRICKETERS' ARMS SPIRIT VAULTS, Church Street, Bilston, only fifty yards from the Market Place, and now in the occupation of James Baker. In-coming about £250.—Apply as above.

Birmingham Daily Post 4/11/1865

“From last night's London Gazette. Bankrupts J. Baker, Bilston, publican.”

Birmingham Journal 20/1/1866

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court.....

In re Joseph Baker, Bilston, licensed victualler.

This bankruptcy was annulled by the Court, a composition of 4s in the pound having been paid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

‘I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year's list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.’

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Thomas Thurstans, CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September.”

1871 Census

63, Church Street

- [1] Henry Hall (35), publican, born Cirencester;
- [2] Louisa Hall (30), wife, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Arthur Hall (4), son, born Birmingham;
- [4] George Hall (2), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Maria Davis (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Richard Austin and Sons were also wine merchants of Easy Row, Birmingham. They lived in Edgbaston. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 5/1/1874

“Bilston Special License Transfer Session.....

CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, to Richard Page and T. W. Wilkins, as executors of the late Richard Austin.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/12/1878

“Marshall Kennaird (25), 7, Errington Road, Harrow Road, traveller, was charged on remand at Bow Street Police Court, London, yesterday, with embezzling various sums of money, amounting to upwards of £140, received by him on account of his employer, Mr. Geo. Burrell, printer, 2½, Houghton Street, Newcastle Street, Strand. By the terms of a written agreement, it was the prisoner’s duty to travel soliciting orders and receiving moneys on behalf of the prosecutor, after deducting 12½ per cent commission on all orders received. Owing to suspicions raised by a written statement of accounts rendered by prisoner in September last at the end of his journey, an enquiry was made, and it was discovered that he had accounted for less money than he had actually received. Prisoner, when arrested, admitted having taken the money, but said that he had not spent it in waste, having supported a sick father for some time past, and in consequence of the dull state of trade he had not earned so much. Henry Hall, licensed victualler, Bilston, produced a receipt for £8 9s 6d, signed by the prisoner. Joseph Raybould, confectioner, Bilston, produced a receipt for £3 11s 6d, also signed by the prisoner, both of which sums were unaccounted for. Several other charges were mentioned against prisoner, who was committed for trial.”

[Marshall Kennard was convicted, and sentenced to 12 months imprisonment.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1879

“On Wednesday evening a coroner’s inquest was held on the body of a newly born female infant, the child of Matilda Moore, aged 23, who had been living as a servant at Mr. Henry Hall’s, the CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston. On Tuesday she was taxed by her aunt with having been recently confined, and, admitting the fact, Moore said the body would be found in a box in her bedroom. A policeman and a surgeon were sent for. The former took her into custody on a charge of concealment of birth, and she asked the police-constable, ‘Do you think I shall be hung.’ To this he replied, ‘I don’t know.’

Mr. Smith, the surgeon in the case, had no doubt from the result of his examination by the lung test that the child had had a separate existence from the mother, and was of opinion that it had died from suffocation, but could not speak distinctly upon that point.

Thereupon the jury returned a verdict of Found Dead, but how death was caused there was no evidence to show.

She remained in the custody of the police on the charge above named, but under the medical care of Mr. Smith, being in an exceedingly weak condition.”

1881 Census

63, Church Street

- [1] Henry Hall (45), licensed victualler, born Cirencester;
- [2] Louisa A. Hall (39), wife, born Kidderminster;
- [3] Arthur Hall (14), son, railway clerk, born Aston, Warwickshire;
- [4] Emma Pitt (20), general servant, born Bradley:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1881 - Advert

“Old-Established Liquor Vaults, the CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston, to be Let, with immediate possession.

Apply, Sollom and Barnett, hotel valuers, Wolverhampton.”

OLD-ESTABLISHED Liquor Vaults, the Cricketer's Arms, Church-street, Bilston, to be Let, with immediate possession.—Apply, Sollom and Barnett, hotel valuers, Wolverhampton.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/10/1881

“The following transfers were granted.....

CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston, from Henry Hall to Samuel Fellows, book-keeper, Priestfield.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1881

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, the following licenses were fully transferred.....

Samuel Fellows, CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, to John Henry Watkins, licensed victualler.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/12/1882 - Advert

“CRICKETERS ARMS, T. H. Smith, 63, Church Street, Bilston, Wine & Spirit Merchant.

Butler’s Celebrated Ales. Bottled Ales and Stout. Mineral Waters.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 10/3/1883

“A party of friends met together on Wednesday evening at the house of Mr. T. H. Smith, the CRICKETERS ARMS INN, High Street, Bilston, when a capital spread was placed on the tables by the host, and done ample justice to by those present. After supper, a convivial gathering was held, the time being occupied by the ‘feast of reason and the flow of soul,’ which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present, the host and hostess being warmly thanked for their efforts on behalf of their visitors.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 7/4/1883

“The usual monthly committee meeting of the Bilston Night Watch was held at the CRICKETERS ARMS, High Street, on Wednesday evening.....

The chairman said it was satisfactory to note that the efforts of the Watch Committee were being appreciated by the townspeople, as was evident by the increased subscriptions. There were, however, many who as yet failed to appreciate the benefits they would derive from the system of watching, and it was hoped that these would see their way clear to join an institution which existed solely for the protection and safety of the townspeople.

The watchmen reported that during the month only 5 premises had been found open and insecure, and this was regarded as gratifying, and as being the smallest number ever known since the formation of the society.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/4/1883

“Thomas Smith, landlord of the CRICKETERS ARMS, High Street, was summoned for using threats against Mary Ann Anslow, servant in the employ of Mrs. Devenal, also of High Street.

The evidence of complainant was of a most trivial character, she alleging that the defendant, because she turned his little son, aged 4, out of the yard, in which he was in the habit of playing with a son of complainant’s mistress, threatened her, and ran her out of the yard.

Selina Jones, defendant’s servant, gave evidence that nothing like threats were used, and the Stipendiary, in dismissing the case, told the complainant that people in the district were too fond of flying to the law for the settlement of their paltry differences. She must recollect that she could not put the law in motion for such a trivial matter. The law could not be trifled with in that manner, nor could the magistrates be always settling little difference about children and mothers quarrels. If she could not agree with her neighbours she should have nothing to do with them. The case was dismissed, the complainant being ordered to pay the costs.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 26/1/1884

“On Tuesday, the infant child of Thomas Smith, CRICKETERS ARMS, Bilston, swallowed a pin, but it came back almost immediately.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 5/5/1883

“Fatal Increase of Small Pox at Bilston.

We regret to record that this loathsome disease had made a further appearance in the town, and has been attended with fatal results, the victim being the daughter of a respectable manufacturer, and one of the teachers in a local school. We hear also that it is rife in more than one quarter. The hospital is established, it is true, and it only remains for strict investigation to take place, into every case, even if it may only turn out to be rumour, and for the people of all grades of society willingly to accede to that perfect isolation which is acknowledged on all hands to be a great preventive of the spread of this dreaded disease. No time should be lost in notifying to the public officials any case that may arise, so that it may be promptly dealt with, and a great amount of suffering prevented.

The proprietor of the CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston (Mr. Smith) has been able to contradict, by his personal appearance, the report that had been circulated that he was suffering from an attack of small pox. Mr. Smith and his family are in excellent health, and he has had no case of small pox on his premises. To secure the above facts, we took the opportunity of having a conversation with Mr. Smith."

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

"Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

T. Smith, CRICKETERS ARMS, Church Street, Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 13/12/1884

"In looking at the results of recent coursing meetings, rabbit ledgers, &c, we are pleased to notice that the reputation of Bilston is still kept up by our townsman Mr. Smith, of the CRICKETERS ARMS. In a rabbit ledger at Harding's Grounds a short time ago, the old champion Peppercorn still shewed capital form. After vanquishing his competitors in five rounds he carried off the prize. On another occasion he carried off a prize of £20 as a 'fur catcher' from a well-known Dudley dog of much greater weight. In this instance, out of twenty-one rabbits, in a distance of sixty yards, he managed to secure the first, second, fourth, fifth, sixth, tenth, and eleventh. This is a record, we believe, very seldom beaten. The mettle of Peppercorn seems to have been infused into his son. We notice that on Monday week this dog, quite a puppy, and weighing but sixteen lbs, succeeded in dividing a rabbit ledger at Harding's running grounds."

Darlaston Weekly Times 10/10/1885 - Advert

"CRICKETERS ARMS, 63, Church Street, Bilston.

Samuel James Underwood begs to inform the public that he has succeeded Mr. Thomas Smith in the above Business, and takes this opportunity of soliciting their patronage.

With every care and attention to the comforts of his customers and dealing only in the Best Wines, Spirits, Etc, he hopes to merit not only the continued favour of Mr. Smith's supporters, but the custom of a large portion of the general public."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/5/1889 - Advert

"Tuesday, May, 21, 1889. Important Sale of Valuable Full-Licensed Houses, Business Premises, and Messuages, Bilston.

J. Morrell & Sons are favoured with instructions to Offer for Sale by Auction, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Bilston, on Tuesday, May, 21, 1889, at Six for Seven in the Evening.....

Lot 1. All that Substantially-erected Old-established Inn and Wine and Spirit Vaults, called the CRICKETERS ARMS, situate in Church Street, Bilston, together with the conveniently-arranged Business Premises adjoining the same, being No.64, Church Street, Bilston, with the Outbuildings, Yards, and Premises belonging the same. The Property has a frontage to 29ft 9in to Church Street, and is now let on a fourteen years' lease to Messrs. W. Butler and Co., Brewers, which will expire at the 24th June, 1890, at a rental of £82.

The Premises known as the CRICKETERS ARMS, are conveniently arranged and well adapted for carrying on a large business. The Premises adjoining are now and have been for many years past occupied as a Confectioner's Eating-house and Dining Rooms. This lot is situate in the main business street, in close proximity to the Market Place."

1891 Census

63, Church Street

- [1] William H. Satterthwaite (33), clerk in merchant's office, born Bilston;
- [2] Eugenie A. Satterthwaite (32), wife, public house manager, born Bilston;
- [3] William E. G. Satterthwaite (6), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Thomas H. Satterthwaite (2), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Hannah Satterthwaite (54), mother, widow, living on her own means, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Florence E. Satterthwaite (25), sister, barmaid, born Bilston;
- [7] Florence P. Salt (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

James Clarke = James Clark

Sarah Best Clarke = Sarah Best Clark

1901 Census

106, Church Street – CRICKETERS ARMS INN

- [1] Sarah B. Clark (35), widow, licensed victualler's manager, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary G. Clark (10), daughter, born Tipton;
- [3] Harriet Farmer (20), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

Sarah Best Clarke married William Kirk on 4th April 1901.

1911 Census

106, Church Street

- [1] Sarah Best Kirk (45), public house manageress, born Princes End;
- [2] William Kirk (52), husband, coal dealer, born Ettingshall;
- [3] William Clark (22), son, confectioner, born Bilston:

1921 Census

106, Church Street

- [1] Sarah Best Kirk (56), widow, manageress of public house, born Princes End;
- [2] Mary Gertrude Clark (30), daughter, certified elementary school teacher, born Princes End;
- [3] William Henry Clark (32), master baker, born Bilston;
- [4] Beatrice Clark (29), daughter-in-law, home duties, born Bradley;
- [5] Mary E. Clark (8), grand-daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [6] Kathleen Clark (4), grand-daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [7] James Clark (1), grand-son, born Bilston;
- [8] Sarah J. Benion (16), domestic servant, born Bradley:

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/8/1933

"County Licensing Authority.....

Renewal of the following licenses was also refused on the ground of redundancy, and all were referred for compensation, the police evidence being to the effect that the needs of the various localities were better met by other licensed houses.....

CRICKETERS ARMS, Bilston, alehouse."

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/1/1934

"County Licensing Report.....

At the supplementary meeting held on October 7, the County Licensing Committee fixed compensation as follows.....
CRICKETERS ARMS, Bilston, alehouse, £1,800."

The license was refused by the Compensation Authority on 3rd February 1934.

Compensation of £1,800 was paid on 24th December 1934.

License extinguished 31st December 1934.

WANTED, a young Person, as BARMAID; age about twenty-three years. First-class references required.—Apply, personally, to Joseph Baker, Cricketers' Arms Vaults, Church Street, Bilston.—N B. Application to be made This Day (Wednesday) and To-morrow (Thursday) only.

THE CRICKETERS' ARMS SPIRIT VAULTS,
CHURCH STREET, BILSTON.

About thirty yards from the Market Place.

TO be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, the LEASE, LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above SPIRIT VAULTS, with excellent Smoke Room, Brew-house, Stable, and other conveniences, now doing a good trade. Satisfactory reasons for leaving can be given. In-coming can be reduced to about £300.

Apply to Joseph Baker, Proprietor.

1863

Cricketers' Arms,

T. H. SMITH,
63, CHURCH STREET,
BILSTON,
WINE & SPIRIT MERCHANT.

BUTLER'S Celebrated ALES.

BOTTLED ALES AND STOUT.
MINERAL WATERS.

1882

CRICKETERS' ARMS. 63, CHURCH STREET, BILSTON.

SAMUEL JAMES UNDERWOOD

Begs to inform the public that he has succeeded Mr. Thomas Smith in the above Business, and takes this opportunity of soliciting their patronage. With every care and attention to the comforts of his customers and dealing only in the BEST WINES, SPIRITS, ETC., he hopes to merit not only the continued favour of Mr. Smith's supporters, but the custom of a large portion of the general public.

1885

TUESDAY, May 21, 1889.—Important Sale of Valuable FULLY LICENSED HOUSES, BUSINESS PREMISES, and MESSUAGES, Bilston.

J. MORRELL & SONS are favoured with instructions to Offer for Sale by Auction, at the Great Western Hotel, Bilston, on TUESDAY, May 21, 1889, at Six for Seven in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be read, incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society—the following Valuable

COPYHOLD PROPERTIES,

viz:—

Lot 1.—All that Substantially-erected Old-established INN and WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS, called the situate Church Street, Bilston, together with the conveniently-arranged BUSINESS PREMISES adjoining the same, being No. 64, Church Street, Bilston, with the Outbuildings, Yards, and Premises belonging the same. The Property has a frontage of 29ft. 9in. to Church Street, and is now let on a fourteen years lease to Messrs. W. Butler and Co., Brewers, which will expire at the 24th June, 1890, at a rental of £82.

"CRICKETERS' ARMS,"

The Premises, known as the "CRICKETERS' ARMS," are conveniently arranged and well adapted for carrying on a large business. The Premises adjoining are now and have been for many years past occupied as a Confectioner's Eating-house and Dining Rooms. This lot is situate in the main business street, in close proximity to the Market Place.

Lot 2.—All that Fully-licensed Commanding Corner PUBLIC-HOUSE and PREMISES, known as the

"WHITE HORSE,"

Situate High Street, Bilston, with a total frontage of 41ft. 6in., now in the occupation of S. Butler; and also the Piece of LAND formerly used as a garden, part of which is now used as a yard by the tenant of the White Horse Inn, together with the Stable, Brew-house, and Two MESSUAGES, being Nos. 3 and 4, adjoining the said plot of land, one of which is occupied by Mrs. Brown, and the other is now used as a warehouse by Mr. P. Hollis. Gross annual rental £36. 14s.

Lot 3.—All those Nine MESSUAGES or DWELLING HOUSES, situate in the Fold or Yard known as the White Horse Yard, High Street, Bilston, being Nos. 1 and 2 and 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, with the Outbuildings, Yards, and Premises thereto belonging, together with a large Piece of LAND in the rear, available for building purposes, now in the respective occupations of Summerfield, Parland, Lloyd, Harrison, Galwin, Lewis, York, and two void. Gross annual rental £55. 12s.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Arnold and Son, Solicitors, 17A, Temple Row, Birmingham; Messrs. Cresswell and Roberts, Solicitors, Dudley; or to the Auctioneers, Swan Bank, Bilston.

1889

CROSS

Oxford Street, New Town, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Whittaker [1846]
Edward Crow [1851]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 4/7/1846

“On Tuesday, at Bilston Police Court, Henry Whittaker was brought before the sitting Magistrates, and charged with keeping his beerhouse open after eleven o’clock on Friday, the 26th of June. It appeared that he kept the sign of the CROSS, in the New Town, Bilston, and on the night in question, four persons were drinking at a quarter to twelve o’clock. He was fined 2s 6d and costs.”

1851 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Edward Crow (39), iron stone miner, born Warwickshire;
- [2] Sarah Crow (36), wife, born Polesworth, Warwickshire;
- [3] Edmund Crow (20), son, iron stone miner, born Wilnecote, Warwickshire;
- [4] Mary Ann Crow (17), daughter, born Polesworth, Warwickshire;
- [5] Simon Hartill (22), lodger, iron stone miner, born Tipton;
- [6] Harriet Crow (9), visitor, born Polesworth, Warwickshire:

Check GOLDEN CROSS

CROSS GUNS

4, Hartshorn Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Joseph Johnson
Henry James Mills
Samuel Burrows, innkeeper, Bilston
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1911], [1922]

LICENSEES

Joseph Johnson [1866] – 1878);
Adam Bailey (1878 – 1880);
John Higgins (1880 – 1884);
Thomas Johnson (1884 – 1885);
James Percival (1885);
Richard Roberts (1885 – 1889);
Henry James Mills (1889 – 1894);
Richard Jones (1894 – 1897);
Minnie Shorthouse (1897 – 1898);
Alfred Pugh (1898 – 1902);
James Elledge (1902 – 1903);
Joseph Bunting (1903 – 1904);
George Jones (1904 – 1906);
James Piper (1906 – 1907);
Thomas Stafford Maddocks (1907 – 1908);
James Thomas Elledge (1908 – 1911);
Percy William Griffiths (1911 – 1923);
Ernest Langford (1923 – 1925);
Beatrice (Langford) Harrison (1925 – 1931);
Igal Alfred Sidaway (1931 – [1943])

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

“The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court on Friday.....

Mr. Young applied for a license on behalf of Joseph Johnson, of the CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorne Street, Bilston, and, in making the application, said the points the Magistrates had principally to consider were the character of the applicant, the suitability of the house, and the requirements of the neighbourhood. With regard to character, he handed in a testimonial signed by a number of respectable persons – the minister of the parish, the two churchwardens, the overseers of the poor, and also several members of the Board of Commissioners. The house, he added, was suitable in every way for the purpose, and the neighbourhood was much in want of such a place.

The application was rejected.”

[William Jennens (possibly Jennings) (1701–1798), also known as William the Miser, William the Rich, and The Miser of Acton, was a reclusive financier who lived at Acton Place in the village of Acton, Suffolk. He was described as the 'richest commoner in England' when he died unmarried and intestate with a fortune estimated at £2 million, which became the subject of legal wrangles in the Court of Chancery for well over a century until the entire estate had been swallowed by lawyers' fees. This may have been the stimulus for the fictional case of Jarndyce v Jarndyce in Charles Dickens' serialised novel Bleak House. Wikipedia.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/5/1867

"At a meeting of claimants to the wealthy estate known as 'The great Jennings property,' held at the CROSS GUNS, Bilston, on Monday night, a committee was formed to take measures for ascertaining the character of the several claims, and raising funds to take counsel's opinion upon them."

Bridgnorth Journal 22/6/1867 - Advert

"Jennings Property. All families having any claim to the above should send a claimant and a copy of the family pedigree to show the committee which will sit on July 1st 1867, at Mr. Johnson's, CROSS GUNS, Hartshorne Street, Bilston. The Committee will then make arrangements for further proceedings."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/7/1867

"Meeting of Claimants Upon the Jennens Property.

Yesterday a meeting of the claimants to the Jennens property was held at the CROSS GUNS, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, under the presidency of Mr. Jonas Booth. There was but a small attendance. It was resolved, on the motion of Mr. T. Elliss, that the report of the two gentlemen who were appointed to examine the documents of claimants be received. Mr. Lacey, one of the gentlemen appointed, stated that he thought that claimants ought to have the registers of their respective births and deaths. As long as they could not get the registers they could do no good. There were only about two claimants present who had proofs of registration of the persons claimed through. Mr. Martin differed from Mr. Lacey, and thought that every person who had a claim should give name and address. Every person who had a pedigree ought to be listened to. The meeting being of the same opinion Mr. Ward was called upon. He stated that he thought all documents ought to be examined by the committee. He held a document which he had had for several years. His father and several of his relations had taken some interest in the matter, and he also took an interest in it. He had seen a gentlemen who could probably ascertain the amount of the property. Mr. Martin was of opinion that the greater success would be gained by those present forming themselves into a union....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/10/1867

"Yesterday evening Mr. George Pratt delivered, at the CROSS GUNS, Hartshorne Street, Bilston, a lecture on the subject of the Jennens Property. The room was filled with members of the Jennens Association, a branch of which has been in existence in Bilston for the past thirty years....."

Joseph Johnson, brassfounder and beer retailer, Hartshorn Street. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1868

"The annual Licensing Sessions for Bilston district was held yesterday, at the Police Court.....

Mr. Boot applied for a license on behalf of Mr. Joseph Johnson, of the CROSS GUNS, Hartshorn Street Refused."

The Sportsman 19/12/1868

"J. Swinnerton, of Shropshire Row, and G. Skidmore, of Sedgley, are matched to shoot at 11 sparrows each, 1½oz shot, 21 yards rise, for £5 a side, on Monday next, December 21, at Mr. Johnson's, CROSS GUNS, Bilston."
AND

Birmingham Daily Post 22/12/1868

"Cross Guns Grounds, Bilston. A match for 10 sovs, came off yesterday, between J. Swinerton, of Shropshire Row, and G. Ridmore, of Sedgley, the condition being to shoot at 11 sparrows each, 21 yards rise, 60 yards fall. From the attendance it was evident much interest was taken in the match. Mr. Ridmore led off, and dropping his bird cleverly the odds went at once to him, but his progress was very slow, as he only succeeded in killing four out of his number of birds, although, with one exception, his birds were hit hard, several falling just out of bounds. Mr. Swinerton shot in capital form, bringing down ten out of eleven, and winning easily."

1871 Census

Hartshorne Street

- [1] Joseph Johnson (52), brass caster and publican, born Swindon, Staffordshire;
- [2] Anne Johnson (49), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas Johnson (23), son, brass caster, born Coseley;
- [4] Ann M. Johnson (21), daughter, domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [5] Joseph Johnson (19), son, iron moulder, born Wordsley;
- [6] Henry Johnson (18), son, iron moulder, born Wordsley;
- [7] Elizabeth Johnson (16), daughter, domestic servant, born Wordsley;
- [8] Sarah J. Johnson (14), daughter, domestic servant, born Wordsley;
- [9] Fanny Johnson (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Martha Johnson (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1873

"Yesterday the annual licensing meeting for Bilston and the neighbourhood was held in the Petty Sessions Court..... The proceedings opened by Chief Superintendent McCrea presenting his annual 'black list.' In doing so he remarked that it only indicated eleven offenders, whilst a twelvemonth ago there were twenty-nine. This comparison, he considered, was the clearest substantiation of the beneficial operation of the recent Licensing Act. The names of the offending beerhouse keepers were.....

Joseph Johnson, CROSS GUNS, Bilston.....

The committee stated that the licenses of all the persons contained in the 'list' would be suspended until the adjourned licensing sessions, to be held on the 26th proximo."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1873

"Bilston Adjourned Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

The undermentioned beerhouse licenses were renewed.....

Joseph Johnson, CROSS GUNS, Bilston.....

All the above applicants had been convicted during the past two years, and the Bench cautioned them."

Joseph Johnson – see also BARLEY MOW, Union Street.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/11/1879 - Advert

"Bilston. To be Let, with immediate possession, capital Beerhouse, the CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorn Street; licenses, fixtures, and brewing plant at valuation; no stock to be taken to; spacious yard suitable for the coal trade. Apply upon the premises."

BILSTON.—To be Let, with immediate possession, capital Beerhouse, the Cross Guns Inn, Hartshorn-street; licenses, fixtures, and brewing plant at valuation; no stock to be taken to; spacious yard suitable for the coal trade.—Apply upon the premises.

1881 Census

Hartshorne Street

- [1] John Higgins (40), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] M. A. Higgins (33), wife, born Moxley;
- [3] Daniel Higgins (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Sarah Higgins (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] James Higgins (4), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Mary Higgins (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Frederick Higgins (2 months), son, born Bilston;
- [8] M. A. Stokes (22), general servant, born Tipton;

Evening Express 11/11/1881

"On Thursday morning, W. H. Phillips, Esq, district coroner, held an inquest at the CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, on the body of an unnamed infant child, aged two weeks, son of John Shinton, of the same street. Martha Shinton, the mother, said the child had been healthy till last Monday, when it became unwell. On Tuesday morning her husband got up rather late, and asked her to put his things ready. She put deceased from her arm to do so, and on returning with a lamp about ten minutes afterwards she found the child dead. The child was partly fed from the breast and partly on arrowroot biscuits soaked in water. Martha Millward said the child had every attention paid to it. The jury returned a verdict of Natural Causes."

Darlaston Weekly Times 10/6/1882

“John Higgins, landlord of the CROSS GUNS, Hartshorne Street, Bilston, was charged with permitting drunkenness. PC Johnson, Foster, and Comerford stated that at 5-40 on Whit-Monday, they found a man drunk in the kitchen of the house; when the man left, he had to be assisted home. At half-past seven, another visit was paid, and other drunken men were present. Detective Hayward stated that he had visited the house earlier in the day, and had seen a number of men drinking. PC Mainwairing and Inspector Gasson corroborated. Mr. R. A. Willcock defended. The Bench considered that there was not sufficient evidence against the landlord to commit for wilfully and purposely supplying beer to drunken men; but fined the men – F. Higgins, Thomas Tinley, and James Hall – 5s each and costs.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/2/1885 - Advert

“To be Let, with Immediate Possession, CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorne Street, Bilston. Satisfactory reasons to be given for leaving.

Apply John Skidmore, Auctioneer, 7, Lichfield Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Mail 30/3/1886

“Yesterday, at the CROSS GUNS TAVERN, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, Mr. W. H. Phillips (coroner) held an adjourned inquest concerning the death of Horatio Smith (43), late of 196, Herbert Road, Small Heath, a commercial traveller for Messrs. Hills Bros. and Co., Tower Varnish Works, Long Acre, Birmingham, who died suddenly at Bilston, on the 22nd inst. Dr. E. H. Larkin, of Bilston, who had made a post mortem examination of the body, reported that death was the result of a rupture of the aorta due to natural causes, and a verdict to that effect was accordingly returned.”

1891 Census

Hartshorn Street – CROSS GUNS

- [1] Henry J. Mills (30), builder and beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Emily Mills (24), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Eliza Mills (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Richard Jones, beer retailer, Hartshorn Street. [1896]

1901 Census

4, Hartshorne Street

- [1] Alfred Pugh (33), publican and boilermaker, born Sedgley;
- [2] Alice Pugh (32), wife, born Wombourne;
- [3] James A. Pugh (11), son, born Bilston;
- [4] William F. Pugh (8), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Rose Bennett (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Joseph Bunting, beer retailer, 4, Hartshorn Street. [1904]

1911 Census

4, Hartshorn Street – CROSS GUNS

- [1] James Elledge (44), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Ellen Elledge (42), wife, married 20 years, born Willenhall;
- [3] Harold Elledge (19), son, motor works, body department, born Bilston;
- [4] Percy Elledge (8), son, born Bilston:

James Thomas Elledge – see also ROSE AND CROWN, Pearson Street, Wolverhampton.

Percy Griffiths, beer retailer, Hartshorn Street. [1912]

1921 Census

4, Hartshorn Street

[1] Percy William Griffiths (46), licensed victualler, born Kidderminster;

[2] Margaret Annie Griffiths (39), wife, home duties, born Leigh, Worcestershire;

[3] Helena Nancy Griffiths (8), daughter, school, born Bilston;

[4] Margaret Joyce Griffiths (5), daughter, school, born Bilston:

Percy William Griffiths filed for bankruptcy on 7th November 1922.

South Staffordshire Times 9/12/1922

“At Wolverhampton Bankruptcy Court on Wednesday, Percy William Griffiths, formerly of the CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, appeared for public examination in bankruptcy. He was represented by Mr. Ernest Hall, and Mr. A. J. Glover represented the creditors.

Examined by Mr. Sam Wells Page, Official Receiver, debtor said he became tenant of the CROSS GUNS INN just before Easter in 1911, Messrs. Butlers & Co., Wolverhampton, were the owners of the house, and he was tenant. Amongst the terms of the tenancy, were 35s per week, inclusive of rent, rates, taxes and license, but these were altered in September 1920. The premises were then ___ a quarter and he had to pay the rates and taxes, and also for the license. He was under an obligation to purchase his beer and liquor from Messrs. Butler, and they were under an obligation to him to buy back, at a valuation, whatever stock there might be on his leaving. The business was prosperous up to two years ago, but it had gone down ever since. He had suffered from bad trade and rising rates and taxes.

Mr. Page: As a matter of fact you were borrowing money from money-lenders? – Yes.

At the present time you owe money to various money-lenders? – Yes.

Did you in April 1921 purchase a motor car? – Yes.

What did you give for it? – £150.

Had you to spend any money on it? – I had it cleaned, and that cost £50.

Did it cost you anything after that? – £75.

Why did you buy it? – To see if I could retrieve my losses, and for home purposes.

Did it answer that purpose? – Everybody knew it was a bad car, and would not hire it.

Did you afterwards sell the car? – Yes.

For how much? – £115, I think.

Taking all into consideration, you lost close on £200 on it? – Yes.

Have you borrowed money from your mother? – Yes.

I think, with your brother and sister you had a reversionary on your father's estate? – Yes.

Did you borrow from your mother in March 1921? – Yes.

There is a cheque here made payable on your mother's account for £150? – Yes.

Did you have the whole of it? – No, only £50.

What was done with the other £100? – I sent it to my brother in Australia.

On 27th April you had another cheque for £100 made payable to Mr. Davies? – Yes, that was at the time I bought the car.

In June 1921 you had another £150? – Yes.

Why did you borrow that? – To get the car from Daimlers; it cost £75 for repairs.

A great deal of money was spent on the car? – Yes.

On 5th July last you had another £150? – Yes.

What did you have that for? – To help in the business; through losses on the business.

Altogether you had from your mother £550 on account of your own reversion? – Yes.

What do you say is the cause of your failure? – Speculation in the motor car, bad trade, the high cost of living, and being too good natured.

You must have been extravagant? – You may put it in that way.

Have you done anything in betting or gambling? – No.

Have you been sued? – No.

How did you come to file your petition? – Through a Birmingham creditor, who sent in a writ.

Then you have been sued? – Yes.

Debtor was then cross-examined by Mr. Glover as follows.

When you went to Messrs. Butler's house, was the tenancy under a printed agreement? – Yes.

Had you read it? – I expect so.

Did you know that in the agreement there was no goodwill attaching to the tenancy? – No.

Did you sell to Mr. Dailman for £100 what you told him was the goodwill for the premises? – That was an agreement between ourselves.

In August 1922 you gave him a receipt for £100 for the goodwill of the business, the stock and fixtures, to be paid at a valuation? – Yes.

Did you have £100 for the goodwill of the business in two sums, one from his wife and one from himself? – Yes.

Then it turned out that you had no goodwill to sell? – I always thought a tenant could recommend another respectable tenant.

You called it ‘goodwill’ in this instance? – Yes.

Was there any goodwill to sell? – I don’t quite follow you.

When you sold the goodwill you knew what you were selling? – It was agreed between ourselves that I should give notice and he should have the house.

Did he have it? – No; but it was understood between ourselves that he should have it and after a visit to the brewery we both felt satisfied that he would have it.

Did not Mr. Lowe, before you filed your petition, in my presence, tell you that it was expressly stated in your agreement that there could not be any goodwill, and there was none to sell? – That was afterwards.

It was a few days before you filed your petition? – Yes.

I think a few days before you filed your petition you paid Mr. Dailman £5 back, which reduced the amount for goodwill to £95? – Yes.

How long before then was it that you and Mr. Dailman went to Messrs. Butlers? – I could not say exactly; about three weeks or a month to the best of my recollection.

Did you have an interview with Mr. Lowe? – Yes.

Was anything mentioned with regard to goodwill? – No; not then.

Why did you both go and see Mr. Lowe? – To see whether Mr. Dailman was going to have the house.

What did Mr. Lowe say? – We asked him if everything was all right, and he said he did not see anything to stop it.

Nothing was said about goodwill? – No.

There are letters here which show you had been trying to get Mr. Dailman to buy the goodwill of the house? – As arranged between ourselves. It was arranged years before that if I ever came out of the house he should go in.

At one time you wanted as much as £200 for the goodwill and fixtures? – I don’t know.

You were tight for money in August this year? – Yes.

And being in that position, you were out to get money from anybody for any sort of thing? – No.

In June 1922, did you write to Mr. Dailman saying that you had partly made up your mind in regard to your promise to him, and asking if he would be strong enough for £200 for the goodwill, including stock, fixtures, etc? – Yes.

And that would be a living for life? – Yes.

Did you also ask him in a letter to wire ‘yes’ or ‘no’ and advise him to study no one but himself in deal, as there were other people after it? – Yes.

Did that mean Messrs. Butlers? – Yes.

What you wrote was ‘Never mind the firm; you are the first. I am disclosing things to nobody apart from my wife.

Now is your chance. I shall look for a wire.’ – Quite right.

You were out for £200? – No; I always gave him the first opportunity.

Did you know that Messrs. Butlers had a great objection to your sell goodwill at that price? – I did not know that.

You have told the Official Receiver you did no betting, or anything of that sort. Is that quite true? – I might have had a shilling or two on.

Have you been doing a considerable amount of betting? – No.

Will you swear it? – Yes.

Will you swear that within the last six months you have not made a bet exceeding ___? – I will.

What is the highest bet you have made within the last six months? – Five shillings.

How many bets of 5/- have you made during that time? – Not above one a week.

The examination was adjourned.”

London Gazette 20/3/1923

"Percy William Griffiths, CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler.

Court – Wolverhampton.

Amount per £ – 3s 5½d.

First or Final, or otherwise – First and Final.

When Payable – March 28, 1923.

Where Payable – Official Receiver's Office, 30 Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton."

1925 Probate

"Ernest Langford of the CROSS GUNS INN, Hartshorn Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 2 February 1925. Administration Lichfield 26 February to Beatrice Langford, widow. Effects £87."

Beatrice Langford married Bert Harrison on 1st June 1929.

1939 Register

4, Hartshorn Street

[1] Igal Sidaway, date of birth 22/10/1875, beerhouse keeper, married;

[2] Amelia Sidaway, dob 5/3/1876, unpaid domestic duties, married:

1944 Probate

"Amelia Elizabeth Sidaway of CROSS GUNS INN, 4 Hartshorne Street, Bilston, Staffordshire (wife of Igal Alfred Sidaway) died 5 December 1943. Administration Birmingham 26 January to the said Igal Alfred Sidaway, licensed victualler. Effects £634 10s 4d."

Closed

Birmingham Daily Post 8/3/1958 - Advert

"Staffordshire. The Valuable Centrally Situated Freehold Premises, formerly known as the CROSS GUNS, Hartshorne Street, Bilston.

Substantially constructed de-Licensed Inn, with Spacious Yard. Ideally suitable building and transport contractors.

Neale & Alldridge and Foster & Partners have received instructions to offer the above for Sale by Private Treaty.

Auctioneers Offices: 50, Newhall Street, Birmingham 3."

Demolished

JENNING'S PROPERTY.

ALL families having any claim to the above should send a claimant and a copy of the family pedigree to show the committee which will sit on July 1st, 1867.

AT MR. JOHNSON'S,
Cross Guns, Hartshorne Street, Bilston.

The Committee will then make arrangements for further proceedings.

1867

TO BE LET, with Immediate Possession "CROSS GUNS INN," Hartshorne Street-Bilston. Satisfactory reasons to be given for leaving.—Apply John Skidmore, Auctioneer, 7, Lichfield Street, Bilston.

1885

STAFFORDSHIRE.
THE VALUABLE
CENTRALLY SITUATED
FREEHOLD PREMISES
Formerly known as
THE CROSS GUNS.
HARTSHORNE STREET, BILSTON.
Substantially constructed de-Licensed Inn with Spacious Yard. Ideally suitable building and transport contractors
NEALE & ALLDRIDGE
AND
FOSTER & PARTNERS
Have received instructions to offer the above for SALE BY PRIVATE TREATY.
Auctioneers' Offices: 50, Newhall Street,
Birmingham 3.

CROSS GUNS

Shropshire Row, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Guest [1836]
Samuel Mason [1844]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/6/1836 - Advert

“Freehold House and a Plot of Building Land adjoining, at Shropshire Row, near Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, at the house of Mr. Joseph Guest, the sign of the CROSS GUNS, Shropshire Row aforesaid, on Thursday the 16th day of May, 1836, at six o'clock in the afternoon.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/5/1844 - Advert

“Sale of Freehold Property, in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Richard Corbett, at the SPREAD EAGLE INN, Bilston, on Friday, the 17th day of May, 1844, at six o'clock in the afternoon, subject to such conditions as will be then and there produced, the following substantially-built Freehold Dwelling Houses and Hereditaments, in Bilson.....

Lot I. All that newly-erected and well-built Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House, situate in Shropshire Row, in Bilston, in the county of Safford, lately used as a public house, and called the CROSS GUNS, with the yard and outbuildings thereunto belonging, now occupied by Samuel Mason.”

SALE OF FREEHOLD PROPERTY.

In Bilston.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY RICHARD CORBETT,

At the Spread Eagle Inn, Bilston, on Friday, the 17th day of May, 1844, at six o'clock in the afternoon, subject to such conditions as will be then and there produced:—

THE following substantially-built FREEHOLD DWELLING HOUSES and Hereditaments, in Bilston, in the undermentioned lots:—

Lot I.—All that newly-erected and well-built MESSUAGE, TENEMENT, or DWELLING HOUSE, situate in Shropshire-row, in Bilston, in the county of Stafford, lately used as a public house, and called the Cross Guns, with the yard and outbuildings thereunto belonging, now occupied by Samuel Mason.

Lot II.—All those three newly-erected MESSUAGES, TENEMENTS, or DWELLING HOUSES, situate in Shropshire-row aforesaid, adjoining each other, with the yards, gardens, and appurtenances thereunto respectively belonging, two of which are in the several occupations of Benjamin Adcock and Thomas Wilkes, and the other was lately occupied by the widow Dawes, but is now void.

☞ For further particulars apply to Mr. JOHN WILLIAMS, solicitor, Bilston, or to the AUCTIONEER, New Town, Bilston.

CROSS KEYS

Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Walker [1858]

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/4/1858

“Richard Walker, landlord of the CROSS KEYS beerhouse, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged with harbouring in his house women of bad character on the previous Sunday evening. The police proved the character of the girls who were drinking in the house, and the offence was aggravated by the fact that the defendant was landlord of infamous houses at the back of his own. He was fined £5 and costs.

CROSS KEYS

(Upper) Temple Street / Brook Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

J Beckett [1856]
Tom Rogers [1865] – [1867]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/4/1849

“On Thursday last an adjourned inquest was held at the BLUE BOAR INN, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of George Hall, a puddler, nineteen years of age, who had died from injuries received while fighting with his cousin, Richard Hall, on the evening of the 15th ult.

From the evidence it appeared that the fight had taken place at the CROSS KEYS, in Temple Street, where the parties had been drinking, and that the deceased had used a good deal of provocation to his antagonist before the latter accepted his challenge to fight.

Mr. Dickenson and Mr. Hancox, the surgeons who made the post mortem examination, proved that death had resulted from the injuries the unfortunate young man had received from fighting.

Evidence at some length having been given, the coroner explained the law applicable to such cases, and a verdict of Manslaughter was returned against Richard Hall as principal, and against the seconds, William Barnett and George Davis, who were committed to take their trial at the assizes.”

[Not Guilty verdicts were returned.]

Birmingham Journal 25/12/1852

“On Wednesday last, an inquest was held at the CROSS KEYS, Temple Street, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, on the body of E. Cash, thirty years of age, who died on the previous day, from injuries received by a fall of coal, while at work in one of Mr. Blackwell’s pits, on the 4th inst. After hearing the evidence of his brother, the Jury returned the usual verdict.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/6/1856

“John Jones of Bilston will fight J. Roberts or his brother John, at catch weight, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Mr. Beckett’s, CROSS KEYS, Brook Street, Bilston, any night next week.”

AND

“W. Warner will run Wedge of Bilston a quarter of a mile, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Mr. J. Beckett’s CROSS KEYS, Brook Street, Bilston.”

The Sportsman 28/11/1865

“Sam Bateman, of Wolverhampton, and Tom Rogers, of Bilston (late of Daisy Bank).

The 160 yards match for £10 a side between these men came off yesterday, on a level piece of road, near the Four Crosses, Staffordshire. Both men are well known in pedestrian circles. Rogers, who has lately become the host of the CROSS KEYS, Temple Street, Bilston, has figured in numerous matches and handicaps; his two last performances being a match, 120 yards, for £20, with Kirkham, of Westbromwich, at Tranter’s Britannia Grounds, Tipton, on which occasion he played second fiddle; he also contended in the Inauguration Handicap, at the same grounds, some two months since. He trained for the present engagement under H. Cooper, of New Invention, and came to the mark in magnificent condition. Sam Bateman, a Wolverhampton pet, is a well-built lad for running, and has figured on some half dozen occasions, his principal matches being a win and a lose with Cooper, of New Invention. He trained under Sam Browning, who saw him safe on the mark, but, although apparently as fine as a star in point of form, there was a lack of that buoyancy of spirit so peculiarly characteristic of his opponent.

The articles stipulated that the men should be on the mark between 2 and 3pm, and shortly after one an extraordinary number of vehicles and pedestrians left the 'Locksmith's Village,' en route for the Four Crosses, an outlandish place, some 2½ miles from Spread Eagle, Staffordshire, and about 9 from Wolverhampton. Here a constable on duty informed the competitors that they could not run at the appointed spot, and a retrograde movement of some half a mile became necessary. The men got on the mark at 3.40pm, fifteen minutes being allowed to effect a start, during which time speculation was carried on with extraordinary energy, first at evens, but the Wolverhampton element being very strongly represented, Bateman ultimately left off with a decided call, and slight odds (11 to 10) were laid. Rogers' dashing style of running out, however, speedily had the effect of altering matters, and just prior to the start 5 to 4 was freely laid on him. After much capering they got away to a pretty level start, Bateman, if anything, having a shade the best of it. At fifty yards Rogers showed slightly in front, and from this point had his man safe, notwithstanding Bateman's most strenuous exertions, and eventually went in a winner by three yards. Mr. J. Weston, of Wolverhampton, the stakeholder in the match, did the needful as referee."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/3/1866

"Britannia Grounds, Tipton.....

G. Brueton of Shropshire Row, Bilston, and T. Holloway of Lady Moor.

The above men were the next to show on the ground to run their 100 yards match, for £5 a side. It will be recollected that the above men appeared at Aston Cross Grounds on Monday, the 5th inst, to run a similar match, when both men started, but Holloway fell before a dozen yards were traversed, and Brueton ran in an easy winner. Holloway's friends not being satisfied, a fresh match, as above, was made. Mr. T. Rogers of the CROSS KEYS INN, Bilston, the stakeholder, also acting as referee. Holloway having only slightly cut his knees in the previous match, his friends were sanguine of the result of the present race, and backed him freely at 5 to 4.

After several attempts they got away together, and ran a splendid race the whole distance, finishing in a dead heat. The moment the referee gave his decision he was surrounded by the friends of both men, each claiming a win, and his position was anything but an agreeable one, but he abided by the decision he had given, and ordered the men to run again in 15 minutes. At the expiration of the time they again got on the mark. Betting level. After they had been on the ground attempting to get away without making a start (it was stated to the referee that the men had mutually agreed to go by report of pistol, but of this no notice was given to him, nor had he ordered them so to start) the pistol was fired. Brueton got away, and ran the ground over, Holloway remaining on the mark. Brueton claimed the stakes, but to this the referee gave a deaf ear, and gave the men orders to go again to their marks in five minutes, when the men again got to their positions. The greatest interest was taken in the start, and at last they got away, Brueton with the best of the start, and a well-contested race again took place, Brueton winning by half a yard, amidst tremendous cheers.

Great credit is due to the referee for the way in which he acted on the occasion."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/3/1866

"T. Rogers, of the CROSS KEYS INN, Temple Street, Bilston, will run H. Lownes of Wolverhampton 100 yards, and give him a yard start, or two in 120 yards, for £10 or £20 a side. Money ready as above."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 26/5/1866

"125 Yards Handicap (All England). Mr. Tranter (the proprietor of the Britannia Grounds, Tipton) will give £5 as a first prize, £2 as second, and 10s as third prize, distance 125 yards in an All England Handicap, to come off on Monday, June 11. Entrance 1s each, no acceptance, to be made on or before Tuesday, June 5, at the grounds, or to T. Rogers, CROSS KEYS, Bilston; Tim Thomas, RAILWAY INN, Dudley Port; Danks, BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury; Wedge, ALBION INN, Willenhall; or Thompson, ROEBUCK, Brettell Lane. Any one entering falsely will be disqualified. The above is for the benefit of T. Watkinson (better known as Darby Tom), who has been lamed in the coal mines. The proceeds of the above benefit will go towards defraying his expenses to a watering place for the recovery of his strength. We hope he will receive a bumper on this occasion, as he is well deserving of the same, he having hitherto acted as master of the ceremonies of the above grounds, although suffering from lameness in the feet, &c."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/9/1866

"Tom Rogers of Bilston will run any one within 20 miles of Bilston 100 yards if they will give him two yards start, for £10 up to £25 a side. Money ready at *Rogers'*s, CROSS KEYS, Upper Temple Street, Bilston."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/11/1867

“An All England 125 Yards Handicap will come off at the Britannia Grounds, Tipton, on Mondays, November 18 and 25, when a few gentlemen of Princes End will give £5 16s to be run for, being for the benefit of H. Pevions and W. Lem (both of Princes End), who have lost their sight through an accident in the pits. Entries of 1s each may be made at E. Dickens’s, JOLLY COLLIER INN, Princes End; Mr. B. Hawkins’s, Wednesbury; Mr. Rogers’s, CROSS KEYS, Bilston; or at the grounds. Entries will close on Monday, November 11. Stamps taken as cash. Any one entering falsely disqualified. Admission to the grounds 6d each.”

CROWN

16, (58), Bank Street, (58, Bilston Street), (Hallfields), (Bradley Bridge), Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

John Hand
Thomas Harris/Harrison, labourer, Coppice, Sedgley
Israel Bailey
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1921]

LICENSEES

Edward Hand [1828] – [1835]
John Hand [1840] – [1854]
Abraham Hazeldine [1855] – 1865;
William Pitt (1865 – []
Joseph Harris []
John Veal [1868] – 1876;
Israel Bailey (1876 – 1889);
Alfred Birch (1889);
Charles Henry Birch (1889 – 1890);
Lucy Ann Insley (1890 – 1891);
Joseph Parker (1891 – 1893);
Lucy Ann Parker (1893 – 1896);
Henry David Morgan (1896);
Richard Davis (1896 – 1897);
George Harry Share (1897 – 1898);
Thomas Marshall (1898 – 1900);
Elizabeth Marshall (1900 – []
Oliver Summers [1901] – 1926;
Alfred Bert Summers (1926 – [1940]
Edward Roland Summers [1939] – [c.1950]
Edward Cyril Pleydell [1960]

To Iron-founders and others.
TO be disposed of by private Contract, a large pair of BELLOWS, 42 inches, with Machinery belonging, fit for foundry purposes or blacksmith's work; six large Boxes used for grate work; also a quantity small Boxes for other purposes, wood and iron Grate and Sad-iron Patterns, wrought iron Ladies, Cupula Plates, &c. and all other tools used in a small foundry.—For particulars apply to John Hand, Crown, Bradley, near Bilston.

1831

NOTES

Hallfields [1841], [1851], [1862]
Bilston Street, Hallfields [1865], [1868], [1876]
58, Bilston Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1896]
58, Bank Street [1901]
16, Bank Street [1908], [1911], [1912], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940], [1960]

It had a beerhouse license.

Black Country Bugle Letter from S. J. Smith

“.....with its spittoons and clean sawdust on the floor, and on the bar, baskets of squares of cheese and pieces of bread.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/8/1831 - Advert

"To Iron-founders and others.

To be disposed of by private Contract, a large pair of Bellows, 42 inches, with Machinery belonging, fit for foundry purposes or blacksmith's work; six large Boxes used for grate work; also a quantity small Boxes for other purposes, wood and iron Grate and Sad-iron Patterns, wrought iron Ladles, Cupola Plates, &c, and all other tools used in a small foundry.

For particulars apply to John Hand, CROWN, Bradley, near Bilston."

Edward Hand, retail brewer, Canalside, Bradley. [1833]

Edward Hand, retailer of beer, Bradley Bridge. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/9/1840

"An adjourned meeting of Magistrates was held on Friday at the Public Office, for the purpose of considering the applications for public house licenses, and new licenses were granted to the following applicants.....

John Hand, Hall Fields, Bilston."

John Hand, beer retailer, Hallfields. [1841]

1841 Census

Hall Fields

[1] John Hand (35), victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Caroline Hand (25), born Staffordshire;

[3] Sarah Hand (15), born Staffordshire;

[4] George Hand (12), born Staffordshire;

[5] Jane Hand (9), born Staffordshire;

[6] Mary Ann Hand (7), born Staffordshire;

[7] John Hand (5), born Staffordshire;

[8] Thomas Hand (4), born Staffordshire;

[9] William Hand (2), born Staffordshire;

[10] Ann Maria Hand (11 months), born Staffordshire:

Sarah Hand married Abraham Hazledine in the 1st quarter of 1846.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/2/1846

"On Friday last, an inquest was held at the CROWN, Hall Fields, by T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Peter Spooner, a miner, about twenty-seven years of age, residing in Shropshire Row, Bilston, whose death was caused by a fall of clod, while at work in an ironstone pit, in the Caponfield Colliery. The occurrence, it appeared, was attributable to the deceased having neglected to prop the work. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Birmingham Journal 7/8/1847

"On Monday last, the brothers of the Good Intent Lodge, No.20, Royal Victoria Order of Odd Fellows (Wednesbury district), held their annual festival, at host John Hand's, CROWN INN, Hall Fields, near Bilston, when the members sat down to a first-rate dinner, provided for the occasion by the worthy host and hostess in their usual excellent style, which gave universal satisfaction, and obtained the cordial thanks of the members. After the cloth was drawn, the leading officers were called upon to preside, when the healths of her Majesty, Prince Albert, and other usual loyal toasts were drunk. The health of the officers of the order and all brothers in union followed. Mr. James Smith, Grand Master, honoured the lodge with his presence, and assisted in the initiation of several new brothers. The harmony of the company was kept up till a late hour, when the members separated, highly delighted with the proceedings of the day."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/2/1851

"An inquest was held on Saturday, at the CROWN INN, Hall Fields, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of John Hemmingsley, aged nine years, who was found dead in the canal. There being no evidence to show how the deceased got into the water, the jury returned a verdict of Found Drowned."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/2/1851

“John Jarman, aged 55, was committed to the sessions on a charge of stealing five silk handkerchiefs, the property of Matthew Mallin, a hawker. It appeared that the prosecutor had been staying at the CROWN INN, at Hall Fields, Bilston, and on Thursday he left his pack in the parlour, while he went to dinner in the bar, during which time the prisoner came in, but was observed to leave rather hastily. An examination of the pack proved the loss of the handkerchiefs. Shortly afterwards the prisoner came back again, and he was given into custody. Police-constable Billett searched the prisoner’s house, and found the handkerchiefs.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/3/1851

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

John Jarmin (pleaded guilty), for stealing five silk handkerchiefs, at Sedgley, the property of Matthew Mallin, four months’ imprisonment.”

1851 Census

Hallfields

- [1] John Hand (47), colliery agent and victualler, born Enville;
- [2] Caroline Hand (32), wife, born Bury St. Edmonds;
- [3] Jane Hand (20), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] John Hand (16), son, tinman, born Bilston;
- [5] Thomas Hand (14), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] William Hand (12), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Ann M. Hand (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Alfred Hand (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Caroline Hand (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Martha Hand (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

An application was made by Mr. H. Underhill, on behalf of Mr. Arthur Wright, for a license to a house situate in Bilston Street, Hallfields, near Bradley, the population of which was stated to be about 4,000. Mr. Whitehouse opposed the application on behalf of Mr. Hand, the owner and occupier of the CROWN, observing that not one more house had been built in the locality since Mr. Wright’s application last year. Mr. Underhill replied that Mr. Whitehouse was misinformed. Upwards of twenty houses had been built in the immediate locality. Mr. Wright had a club of 70 persons who met at his house, which was rated at £12 more than Mr. Hand’s, and cost between £700 and £800. Mr. Whitehouse said he was informed by Mrs. Hand that on one side of Mr. Wright’s house there were only five houses. The Magistrates, after some consideration, granted the application.”

Abraham Hazeldine = Abraham Hazledine = Abraham Haseldine

Birmingham Journal 3/11/1855 - Advert

“Malt Crushers.

Parties requiring Malt Crushers would do well before purchasing to inspect those made by Richard Thompson, Pot House Bridge Foundry, Bilston, Staffordshire.

They can be seen at work at the following places.....

Mr. Haseldine’s, CROWN INN, Hallfields, near Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/8/1858

“The No.1 Reformed Tradesman’s Benevolent Society held their annual feat at Mr. Abraham Hazeldine’s, CROWN INN, Hall Fields, Bilston. The chair was ably filled by Brother Seale, and the vice-chair by Brother Legg, when upwards of forty members sat down to an excellent dinner, served in the host’s usual good style. The Secretary read the balance sheet, which gave great satisfaction to the members, it being in such a prosperous condition. The customary toasts were proposed and responded to, and the evening was spent in the greatest harmony.”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/8/1859

“The No.1 Reformed Tradesman’s Benevolent Society held their annual feast at Host Hazledine’s, CROWN INN, Hallfields, on Monday, when a large number of the members sat down to a dinner of good old English fare. After the cloth was drawn, Mr. Thomas Townsend was voted to the chair, and Mr. Turner to the vice-chair. The chairman addressed the members in a neat speech, enlarging upon the usefulness of sick and death societies. In this district, if it were not for these societies, many a family would have to go to the Union. The secretary’s report for the last twelve months showed that after paying a dividend to each member, there was a favourable balance in the hands of the treasurer, to be added to the reserve fund. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Edward Hands, the secretary, for his valuable services to the society, and the health of the Host and Hostess was drunk.”

1861 Census

58, Bilston Street – CROWN INN

- [1] Abraham Hazledine (36), innkeeper and roller, born Walsall;
- [2] Sarah Hazledine (38), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Thomas Hazledine (14), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Edward Hazledine (12), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Mary Jane Hazledine (10), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Abraham Hazledine (8), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] George Hazledine (3), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Sarah Hazledine (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Arthur Hazledine (2), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Mary Ann Hand (27), sister-in-law, general servant, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/4/1863

“Mr. Abraham Hazledine, Bilston, was fined £50 for neglecting to make an entry of a certain brewing, which took place at his house on the 27th of February last. The information was preferred by Mr. A. Allcorn, supervisor of Inland Revenue, who joined with the bench in a recommendation to the Board of Inland Revenue for a further reduction of the penalty. Mr. Hall appeared for the defendant, and observed that it was rather too late in the day to argue against the adage ‘Qui facit per alium facit per se,’ and he would merely remark that the defendant was employed at an ironworks in Wales, and left the control of the business to a servant. The Act under which the information had been laid had long remained dormant, and was only now resuscitated for the purpose of making up to the revenue the loss occasioned by the repeal of the hop duties.”

Glasgow Herald 4/8/1870

“Two Elopements from the Black Country.

Elopements are rare in the Black Country, but one directly from Bilston, and another connected with that town have just come to light. In the first case, the injured husband has called in the law to aid him in baffling the deep wiles of love by which he had been wronged. The interesting part of the elopement is that the amorous pair are both married people with families. The man is 30 years of age, and has a wife and one or two children; the woman is 39 years of age, has an appearance decidedly not buxom-like, and is mother of, amongst other children, a ‘grown-up’ daughter. James Sheldon, master bricklayer, of Gospel End, and Mrs. Onions, wife of Joseph Onions, wire drawer, of Bradley, would have been, but for a prompt capture, now on their way to America. Some time ago Mr. Onions was landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Ettingshall. Sheldon, with his men, was then engaged at Millfields Ironworks, and took his meals at Onions’s house. This lasted for several years, and daily visitation at the BULLS HEAD resulted, of course, in Sheldon becoming acquainted with Mrs. Onions. He was also upon intimate terms with Mr. Onions, and the two frequently went out together in a trap. Mr. Onions gave up the public house, and retired to a private house at Bradley, where Sheldon continued to visit them. Three weeks ago Sheldon suddenly left his home, and went to Liverpool, and was there joined, a week later, by Mrs. Onions, who took with her a quantity of her husband’s jewellery. At Liverpool, Sheldon fell in – whether by accident or otherwise we don’t know – with another Bilston man who had left his own wife and run away with a neighbour’s. He was Mr. Abraham Hazledine, who at one time kept the CROWN INN, Hallfields (near Bilston), but has of late been residing in Warrington. The destination of Hazledine and his would-be wife, and of Sheldon and his would-be wife, was America; and to the ticket office the four went and bought passages for New York. Sheldon gave the names of ‘James Jones and Mrs. Jones,’ and Hazledine’s tickets were made out to ‘Mr. and Mrs. Smith.’ The vessel that was to take them did not start for a day or two, and the fugitives determined to go to Queenstown and join the ship there, probably because they were afraid to remain in Liverpool, so near to their homes.

When Mr. Joseph Onions returned to his house on the evening of the 21st of July, he was surprised to find that his house was minus his wife. For some time he could learn nothing tending to show what had become of her; but ultimately he received information which led him to go to Liverpool, and he there found that she and her adopted husband had gone to Queenstown. Thither he hastened, and discovered that the two had taken apartments at the lodging house of Alfred Bridges, Lynch's Quay. Onions invoked the aid of the police, who entered their bed room at eleven o'clock at night, and arrested them both upon a charge of stealing jewellery. They were brought before the Queenstown Magistrates and remanded to Bilston.

By this time the injured wife of Hazledine had reached Queenstown, and having discovered the retreat of her faithless husband and his new love, demanded he should immediately return home. Hazledine, however, objected to this settlement of the matter, for he had an arrangement of his own to propose. He said that if she would release him from his marriage engagement he would give her £100 down, and would settle some property upon her. To this proposal Mrs. Hazledine agreed, and, after it had been carried out, went back to Warrington contented, leaving her husband to pursue his new course of life without interruption.

Sheldon and his proposed wife, however, were brought back to Bilston, and at the police court there, before the stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) were charged with stealing a watch, three gold chains, and other things, belonging to Mr. Joseph Onions. Ultimately the stipendiary consented to take bail, in two sureties of £100, and the prisoner himself in £200. Birmingham Post."

[The charge of stealing against James Sheldon was dropped, and Mrs. Onions returned to her husband and family.]

Birmingham Daily Post 16/8/1865 - Advert

"Wanted, by a respectable young Person, a Situation as Barmaid, or to serve in a Spirit Vaults; has had a little experience, and can be well recommended.

Address, W. S., CROWN INN, Hall Fields, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1865 - Advert

"CROWN INN, Bilston Street, Hallfields, near Bilston.

Mr. Ashcroft will Sell by Auction, on Monday next, September 25th, 1865, all the Genteel Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, capital sixty-gallon ale barrels, mash tub and other tubs, vats, lead pipes, 100-gallon copper boiler, four-pull beer machine, painted spirit casks and tops, pewter measures, mahogany desk, mahogany hair-seated chairs, and tables, birch and other tables, excellent eight-day spring timepiece, sign, shelves, screens, benches, gas meter and appendages, patent malt crusher, 400 feet $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch boards, beams and rafters, fine-bred sow in pig, four capital-bred store pigs, and effects, the property of Mr. Pitt, who is leaving.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock in the morning."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1866

"The annual meeting for the renewal of existing licenses, and for receiving applications for fresh ones, was held at the Police Court, on Friday.....

At the commencement of the proceedings, the Superintendent of Police presented the following report.

Bilston Division, August 31, 1866.

'I beg to submit to the Magistrates the attached list of licensed victuallers who have been complained against during the year. Twenty-five have been convicted, and three have paid costs; one had been convicted three times, and five convicted twice. This is a large increase on last year's list; but I think it has arisen from the police being more particular in reporting cases of permitting drunkenness – as it was found to be an evil rather on the increase. I believe it has caused landlords to be more careful in supplying drink to persons intoxicated.'

H. McCrea, Superintendent.

Black List.....

Joseph Harris, CROWN, Hallfields, Bilston left over until the adjourned licensing meeting on the 28th of September."

John Veal = John Veale

John Veal, spirit vaults, Bilston Street, Hallfields. [1868], [1870], [1872]

1871 Census

58, Bilston Street – CROWN

- [1] John Veal (44), publican, born Willenhall;
- [2] Ann Veal (42), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Agness Veal (14), daughter, pupil teacher at St. Martin's, born Willenhall;
- [4] Clara Veal (12), daughter, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [5] John Veal (10), son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [6] Harry Veal (8), son, scholar, born Willenhall:

Birmingham Daily Post 6/10/1873 - Advert

"Brown Pony for Sale, 5 years old, 12½ hands high; warranted sound, and free from vice.
Apply, John Veal, CROWN INN, Hallfields, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/4/1876

"Wolverhampton County Court. Monday (before A. Martineau, Esq, Judge). Bailey v Harrison.

This was an action brought to compel a specific performance of contract on the part of the defendant for the sale and conveyance of certain premises to the plaintiff, which it was alleged he had contacted to sell. The plaintiff is Mr. Israel Bailey, who occupies the CROWN INN, Bilston Street, Hallfields, Bilston, and the defendant is Mr. Thomas Harrison, a labourer, residing in a cottage at the back of the CROWN INN. Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. J. W. Hall, Bilston) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Joseph Underhill (instructed by Mr. Green James, Bilston) defended. Mr. Young, at the outset, stated that the defendant in his pleadings imputed fraud on the part of the plaintiff, who he alleged took advantage of his being in a state of intoxication at the time the contract was made, and also of his weakness of mind, and further, that the purchase money agreed upon was an inadequate price. The plaintiff's case was that early in the year 1875 the plaintiff entered into negotiations with the defendant for the purchase of the CROWN INN, and a cottage at the rear of it, situated at Hallfields. The then tenant (Mr. Veale), who held a lease on the public house, having intimated his intention of leaving it on the expiration of his lease, the plaintiff agreed to take a six years' lease of the public house, commencing at the expiration of Mr. Veale's lease. This was executed on the 15th of April, 1875. Soon afterwards the defendant had a quarrel with his relatives, who lived near, and he threatened to sell his property, and go to Darlaston. The plaintiff, hearing that defendant was desirous of disposing of his property, offered to become the purchaser, and asked the price of it, and defendant told him it was £330. A short time afterwards the defendant asked £350, an increase of £20 for the property, and the next time they met, defendant told plaintiff that he must spring another £20, making a total of £370. This he consented to do, and ultimately the bargain was struck at that figure. By arrangement they met on the 3rd of last January, at the house of Mr. Edwin Hill, auctioneer, brother-in-law to the plaintiff, who drew up an agreement by which defendant agreed to sell the CROWN public house, and the small cottage at the back of it, for the sum of £370 to the plaintiff. The agreement set forth that the sum of £70 was to be paid on deposit. At the time plaintiff held an IOU, which the defendant had given him for £20, on account of money borrowed to do some repairs to property. Whilst plaintiff and defendant were at Hill's, it was agreed by parol that the £20 should be considered as part of the deposit-money, and that the remaining £50 should not be paid until defendant furnished an abstract of the title to the property to plaintiff's solicitor. The respective solicitors on either side were then instructed with a view to the sale and conveyance of the property to the plaintiff. The defendant, however, declined to sell, alleging that he was intoxicated at the time he was at Hill's when he made the contract, and that undue advantage was taken of him on that occasion. In consequence of that refusal the plaintiff instituted the present proceedings for the specific performance of the contract. Mr. Young, having cited a number of cases bearing on the same issue involved in this case, he called the plaintiff, Mr. Israel Bailey, a moulder. He corroborated Mr. Young's statement about the six years' lease on the property being granted to him to commence on the 25th of last March. Under that lease he became the tenant of the CROWN INN, when Veale left, at the rent of £30 per year, which was £5 per year more than the last tenant paid. He also spoke to the agreement to purchase, and he consented to give the £370 because the defendant told him that he had been offered £400 for it.

In cross-examination, he said he made no inquiries respecting the mines underneath the property before he agreed to make the purchase, and he denied that he had called attention to the fact that properties in Hall Street and Queen Street were damaged by mining operations. He had never ascertained that there was a fault in the mines underneath the property in question, and therefore the public house could not be injured by mining operations. On the 3rd of January last he went by appointment to defendant's house to go together to Hill's for the agreement to purchase to be drawn up. He was there waiting when defendant came home about six o'clock in the evening from his work.

After defendant had washed himself and had his tea, they – along with Mrs. Harrison (since dead) – went to Hill's. It was Hill who suggested that only £20 should be paid as deposit-money until defendant furnished an abstract of his title. Neither of them had anything to drink until the agreement was signed, and then Hill gave them each a glass of ale. He (plaintiff) denied that defendant was drunk, or even fresh at the time he signed the contract. He also denied that he assisted the defendant home. He accompanied him only about half a mile towards home. Hill had money of his (plaintiff's) in his safe, out of which he was going to pay the defendant the £70.

After giving a great deal of evidence to the forgoing effect, Mr. E. Hill, auctioneer, was next called. He confirmed the plaintiff's evidence as to the signing of the agreement. The defendant signed his name in a legible hand, but the plaintiff, who could not write, only made his mark. He positively denied that defendant was drunk at the time, or that either of them had anything to drink in his house. He suggested that £20 only should be paid as the deposit until the plaintiff's solicitor had been furnished with an abstract of the title. He considered that he acted fairly to both sides, although he was brother-in-law to the plaintiff. The agreement was made out for £70 to be paid as deposit money, although only £20 was paid, as defendant agreed to let the other £50 stand over – he not requiring it particularly – until an abstract of the title was furnished. He denied that he gave defendant any drink to prime him with before he signed the agreement. He got nothing for drawing up the agreement; he did it out of his kindness of heart.

Mr. W. Taylor, the town surveyor of Bilston, was next called, and stated that he had examined the property in question, and calculating the value at ten years' purchase, he considered the public house was worth about £300, and the cottage about £40. The rent of the whole would be a fair interest on the outlay at the price he valued it. This concluded the case for the plaintiff.

Mr. Underhill intimated his intention of reserving his remarks until the close of the defendant's case. He then called Mr. F. Sollom, auctioneer, &c, of Wolverhampton, who said he had also valued the property in question, and he considered £500 a moderate value for it. He had made his calculations on a 15 years' purchase, which, at a rent of £30 per year, would give about 6 per cent on the outlay.

Mr. T. Richards, auctioneer, also of Wolverhampton, stated that he considered the property worth £560. The property was in one of the best positions in that district, being in the very centre of some ironworks and collieries.

Mr. James Williams, a mine agent at Bilston said he had worked in the mines near to the defendant's property. There was a fault under the property in question, and the mines at the back of it were reserved for the safety of St. Martin's church.

The defendant was next called, and after detailing the negotiations which led up to the contract, he stated that on the 3rd of January last, the date on the contract, he and some fellow workmen were drinking all afternoon. They had about four quarts ale each; he was reeling drunk when he got home, where he found plaintiff waiting for him to go to Hill's. Plaintiff hurried him to get himself washed and to have his tea. Previous to that day plaintiff told him several times that the mines would some day be worked and so damage the public house, and on that account he became very much troubled in his mind, as he did not wish to lose the property left him by his mother. Plaintiff, consequently, took advantage of his weakness of mind. On the way to Hill's to sign the contract, plaintiff treated him to a glass of ale, and that made him worse, although he was already drunk. Hill pretended to read the agreement over, but he (defendant) did not understand what was read, and he signed his name, not knowing what he was doing at the time. His wife was the only person he had as a witness, but she had since died. He remembered sitting down in Hill's, but he could recollect scarcely anything that was done. He did not believe that Mr. Hill read over the whole of the agreement. He meant to say that he was reeling drunk when he signed the agreement; he was unwell the next day, and he was unable to work for two or three days afterwards. When it was talked about amongst his neighbours that he was going to sell his property, some of them said it was worth £400 or £500, and that was why he raised the price from £330 to £370. He never agreed to sell the cottage, but only the public house, and the agreement ought to have been confined to the CROWN INN property alone. He always said he should keep the cottage for himself and his wife for a home as long as they lived. Although he talked about going to Darlaston, he intended returning to Hallfields to end his days in the cottage.

Alfred Thomas Pargeter, and his wife, Margaret Pargeter, who reside near to the CROWN INN, and under a brother of the defendant, spoke to the defendant going home drunk on the 3rd of January, and also to plaintiff bringing him home at eleven o'clock at night. They took notice of the date because Mrs. Harrison told them that her husband was so tipsy she was afraid he had been and put his signature to what he knew nothing about.

Job Fletcher, brother-in-law to the defendant, said he and the defendant fell out over the defendant offering to dispose of the property. Defendant had expressed his intention of leaving the property to his (witness's) boy to his (witness's) boy, and he did not like the idea of the defendant selling the property and dissipating the money. They had since become friendly again. Witness detailed a conversation he had with the plaintiff some time ago about the property.

From that conversation he understood that the proposed sale related to the public house only. Witness drew up the lease for plaintiff to become the tenant of the CROWN INN, and he subsequently told the plaintiff he thought he had acted very unfairly towards the defendant by pressing him to sell the property. He had seen the defendant the worse for beer, and it took very little to make him drunk. If he had four quarts in one day he would want carrying home. The plaintiff, on being re-called, in reply to the Judge, denied that the £370 which he agreed to pay the defendant was for the licensed house only; it was for the cottage as well. He positively denied that the defendant was drunk on the 3rd of January when he signed the agreement.

Hill was also re-called, and said he got the particulars of the property, so minutely described in the agreement to purchase, from both the plaintiff and defendant by putting questions to them.

This concluded the evidence for the defendant.

Some discussion then took place between the Judge and the learned counsel, during which it was pointed out that the including of the cottage in the purchase, distinctly denied by the defendant, had raised a fresh point for consideration.

His Honour, in adjourning the case until the 18th of May, gave Mr. Underhill power to amend the statement for the defence as to the contract to sell the public house only, reserving the right to Mr. Young to call evidence on that point at the adjourned hearing."

1881 Census

58, Bilston Street – CROWN INN

[1] Israel Bailey (54), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Elizabeth Bailey (62), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] Eliza Rhone (19), general servant, born Bilston:

Evening Star 17/1/1882

"On Monday afternoon an inquest was held by H. Brevitt, Esq, deputy coroner, at the CROWN INN, Bilston Street, Hallfields, on the body of Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey (wife of Mr. Isaac Bailey) who died under circumstances already reported. A verdict that deceased died from Natural Causes was returned."

Darlaston Weekly Times 29/7/1882 - Marriage

"On the 22nd inst, at St. Leonard's Church, by the Rev. Charles Lee, vicar, Israel Bailey, of the CROWN INN, Bilston Street, Hall Fields, to Caroline Brywood, of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Hall Street, Hall Fields."

Alfred Birch died on 12th December 1889.

1891 Census

Bilston Street – CROWN INN

[1] Joseph Parker (44), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Lucy A. Parker (45), wife, born Bloxwich;

[3] Harold Insley (9), step-son, born Walsall;

[4] Louisa Aston (20), domestic servant, born Dudley:

Joseph Parker died on 10th August 1893.

Birmingham Daily Post 31/3/1900

"London Gazette. Friday. Bankruptcy: Receiving Orders.....

Thomas Marshall, Bank Street, Bradley, near Bilston, lately residing at Darlaston, formerly of Oxford Street, Bilston, licensed victualler."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 20/4/1900

"Re Thomas Marshall, CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley The liabilities were set down at £152, and the assets at £25. The debtor attributes his position to bad trade and bad debts."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1900

"Thomas Marshall, Bank Street, Bradley, near Bilston, lately Darlaston, licensed victualler. First and final dividend, 10s in the pound; payable July 31st, at the Official Receiver's, 30, Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton."

Thomas Marshall – see also BROWN LION, Oxford Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 9/5/1900

“At Bilston, yesterday, Elizabeth Marshall, landlady of the CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours, on Sunday, 22nd April. Mr. Turton prosecuted, and Mr. R. A. Willcock defended. The evidence went to show that drinks were served after ten o’clock at night. The defence was that the man who had been served with drink had been invited to supper. Defendant was fined £5 and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/7/1900

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Elizabeth Marshall, of the CROWN INN, Bradley, Bilston, appealed against a decision of the justices in the petty sessions convicting her of having allowed the consumption of intoxicating liquors in her licensed house during prohibited hours, on Sunday, April 22. Mr. Plumptre and Mr. Disturnal appeared for the appellant, and Mr. Kettle was for the respondents.

Mr. Plumptre took an objection that the conviction disclosed no offence. The conviction was for allowing intoxicating liquors to be consumed after closing hours, and in order to make it an offence it must be shown that the liquor consumed had been purchased, and there was nothing in the conviction to show that the liquor had been sold. Mr. Kettle urged that the conviction followed the words of the statute which made it an offence for liquor to be consumed on licensed premises during prohibited hours, although the purchase might have taken place before closing time.

The Court reserved their decision on the point raised, a case to be stated, and the appeal was proceeded with.

The evidence of the police, who were watching the house, was to the effect that a man named Jones, who was in the house, paid for two supplies of liquor at a time when the house should have been closed.

The evidence for the appellant was that the man Jones was invited to supper by the landlady, and that he did not pay for any drink in the house.

The appeal was disallowed with costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1900

“At the annual licensing meeting for Bilston division, Supt. Walters reported that there were 354 licensed houses in the division, which gave one to every 181 of the population. During the year, four licensed victuallers and two beerhouse keepers had been convicted. Compared with the previous 12 months, this was a decrease of one licensed victualler and three beerhouse keepers convicted. Since the last meeting 565 males and 82 females were proceeded against for drunkenness, 548 males and 75 females being convicted. As against last year, this showed an increase of 49 males convicted, and a decrease of four females.

Objections were made, on the ground of convictions, to the renewal of the licenses of.....

Elizabeth Marshall, CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley.....

The Chairman said it was gratifying that there had been fewer charges against licensed victuallers, but he was sorry that there had been an increase in the number of persons proceeded against for drunkenness.

Mr. R. A. Willcock referred to the ‘long pull’ question, and said notice of opposition to two license holders with respect to that matter had been served. After the attitude taken on the previous day by the Wolverhampton county magistrates, the Council of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers’ Association had decided to take no further action, and the notices of objection would be withdrawn. The licenses to which the police objected were renewed.”

1901 Census

58, Bank Street

[1] Oliver Summers (40), ironworker and publican, born Princes End;

[2] Elizabeth Summers (34), wife, born Coseley;

[3] Charley T. Summers (8), son, born Coseley;

[4] Alfred B. Summers (6), son, born Princes End;

[5] Walter C. Summers (9 months), son, born Princes End;

[6] Martha Grainger (19), barmaid, born Princes End;

[7] Rebecca Dyke (15), domestic servant, born Coseley;

[8] William Round (60), father-in-law, widower, ironworker, puddler, born Coseley;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/12/1904

“The tragic story of a Bilston man’s suicide on the anniversary of his wedding day, as narrated in our columns on Thursday, was retold before the coroner (Mr. Stokes) at the inquest held yesterday at the CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley, near Bilston. The deceased was Henry Thomas Brandrick, sixty-six, a groom, of Bank Street. On Monday his wife died, and the bereavement much affected him.

Ellen Ann Hewitt, his niece, who was staying at the house in which the wife lay dead, told how on Tuesday night her uncle retired to bed, wishing her ‘good night.’ Early on Wednesday morning when she came downstairs she found him lying dead face downwards on the hearth, in a pool of blood. A police-officer was called, and he found a blood-stained razor beneath the body, which was cold, the man having been dead probably an hour. Deceased had severed the left artery, and had actually cut his throat from ear to ear. The niece, in reply to the coroner, said that the day of the deed was the forty-first anniversary of the deceased’s wedding day.

The Coroner observed that personally he believed no person committed suicide except under urgent reasons, unless he was insane at the time.

A verdict of Suicide during Temporary Insanity was returned.”

1911 Census

16, Bank Street

[1] Oliver Summers (51), publican, born Bilston Street, Princes End;

[2] Elizabeth Summers (44), wife, married 21 years, assisting in business, born Coseley;

[3] Charles Summers (18), son, ironworker, born Coseley;

[4] Alfred Summers (16), son, butcher’s assistant, born Princes End;

[5] Walter Summers (10), son, school, born Princes End;

[6] Roland Summers (8), son, school, born Bradley:

Elizabeth Summers died in the 4th quarter of 1912.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/11/1912

“A meeting of the Bilston District Council on Thursday evening was presided over by Mr. J. A. Jordan, when demolition orders were made in respect of back houses in Homer’s Fold, and at the rear of the CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley.”

1921 Census

16, Bank Street

[1] Oliver Summers (61), widower, publican, born Coseley;

[2] Charles Summers (28), son, married, assistant, born Coseley;

[3] Madge Summers (27), daughter-in-law, home duties, born Derbyshire;

[4] Alfred Summers (26), son, butcher, born Princes End;

[5] Walter Summers (21), son, unemployed, born Princes End;

[6] Roland Summers (18), son, hairdresser’s assistant, born Bradley;

[7] Stewart Summers (8 months), grand-son, born Bradley:

South Staffordshire Times 26/8/1922

“At Wolverhampton, on Wednesday, William Hollick, 33, Benton Road, Sparkhill; and Thomas O’Brien, 71, Leamington Road, Sparkhill, were charged with stealing £1 by a trick from Charles Summers, CROWN INN, Bradley. Mr. Turton defended.

Detective constable Ballance said that about 1.45pm on Tuesday he was on duty with Detective Charles Aston in the 5s ring at Dunstall Park Racecourse. He saw the two prisoners walking about the ring, and they stopped various people at intervals, and appeared to talk with them in a confidential manner. About 3pm Mr. Summers came up and complained he had been defrauded of £1. And that time O’Brien came by, and prosecutor said, ‘That is the man who had my £1.’ Witness arrested O’Brien, and later apprehended Hollick. When charged they made no reply.

Accused were remanded on bail for seven days.

An application by Mr. Turton for the return of a ‘considerable amount of money’ found on prisoners was granted.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/8/1922

“William Hollick, aged 52, costumier, of Benton Road, Sparkhill, and Thomas O’Brien, aged 64, dealer, of Leamington Road, Sparkbrook, were acquitted at Wolverhampton Police Court yesterday of a charge of stealing £1 by a trick from Charles Summers, CROWN INN, Bradley, at Dunstall Park racecourse, on 22 August.”

1926 Probate

“Oliver Summers, of the CROWN INN, Bank Street, Bradley, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 3 March 1926. Administration Lichfield 22 May to Alfred Summers, licensed victualler, and Walter Summers, butcher. Effects £870 0s 9d.”

1939 Register

16, Bank Street (2 of 3)

[1] Edward Roland Summers, date of birth 26/2/1903, publican and hairdresser, married;

[2] Florence V. Summers, dob 4/12/1907, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Roland Summers was also a fireman.

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

1960 Probate

“Nellie Playdell of the CROWN INN, 16 Bank Street, Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire (wife of Edward Cyril Pleydell) died 17 March 1960. Probate Birmingham 13 May to the said Edward Cyril Pleydell, publican, and Vera May Matthews, married woman. Effects £1,441 19s 8d.”

Edward Cyril Pleydell – see also BROWN JUG, Willenhall, and BOARD, Church Street, Bilston.

CROWN

Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Spencer [1813]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/5/1813 - Advert

“To be Sold by private Contract, and entered upon immediately, the Lease, Good-will, and License of the CROWN INN, Church Street, Bilston, now in the Possession of Mr. John Spencer, who is retiring from the Town. Seventeen Years of the Lease are unexpired, and the House is now in full Business. For further Particulars apply to Mr. John Spencer.”

TO be SOLD by private Contract, and entered upon immediately, the Lease, Good-will, and Licence of the CROWN INN, Church Street, Bilston, now in the Possession of Mr. John Spencer, who is retiring from the Town. Seventeen Years of the Lease are unexpired, and the House is now in full Business. For further Particulars apply to Mr. John Spencer.

CROWN

18, Millfields Road, (18, Mill Street), Ettingshall, (Catchem), BILSTON

OWNERS

Thomas Evans, farmer, Wednesfield
Samuel Evans, farmer, Wednesfield
Richard Andrew Harper, brewer, Bilston
R. A. Harper Ltd., Hall Park Brewery, Bilston
Eley's Stafford Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Maybury [1864] – 1883;
Edward Dawson (1883 – 1884);
Thirza Dawson (1884 – 1898);
Elizabeth Thomas (1898 – 1903);
Jabez Guy (1903 – 1909);
William Edward Leach (1909 – 1912);
George Evans (1912 – 1913);
Samuel Jones (1913 – 1915);
William Cadman (1915 – 1916);
Harold William Cave (1916 – 1923);
Francis George Yates (1923 – 1927);
Robert Rully (1927 – 1929);
Francis George Yates (1929 – 1934);
Joseph Mason (1934 – [1940])

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in the parish of Sedgley, but is included here due to other pubs in the proximity coming under Bilston.]

18, Mill Street [1871], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1921]
18, Millfields Road [1939], [1940]

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

Joseph Maybury, beer retailer, Ettingshall. [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

18, Mill Street

[1] Joseph Maybury (55), publican, born Bilston;
[2] Emma Maybury (55), wife, born Tettenhall:

1881 Census

18, Mill Street – CROWN INN

[1] Joseph Maybury (65), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
[2] Emma Maybury (66), wife, born Tettenhall:

Joseph Maybury died on 1st November 1883.

Darlaston Weekly Times 3/11/1883

“Walter Bishton and Joseph Dee, carters, were charged by PC Snow with leaving their drays standing unattended for thirty-five minutes, near the CROWN INN, Ettingshall, on Monday.

Chief Superintendent Longden stated that drays often caused a great nuisance in the streets, and the firm refused any assistance in the matter.

Each defendant was ordered to pay 12s 6d.”

1891 Census

18, Mill Street – CROWN INN

[1] Edward Dawson (44), beerhouse keeper, born Shrewsbury;

[2] Thirza Dawson (48), wife, born Penn;

[3] Frederick Tolley (21) step-son, clerk, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Nellie Tolley (17), step-daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Rose Dawson (8), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;

[6] Harry Roden (12), nephew, scholar, born Wolverhampton:

1901 Census

18, Mill Street

[1] David Thomas (62), tailor, born North Wales;

[2] Elizabeth Thomas (61), wife, born Heath Town:

Jabez Guy, beer retailer, Ettingshall. [1904]

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1910

“The Bilston Annual Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Opposition was raised to the licence of the CROWN INN, Ettingshall. Supt. Pilliner said it was an ante '69 beerhouse, and the buildings were in a bad condition. It appeared that the trade of the house had greatly decreased, and it was stated that of 2s per dozen of bottled beer, the profit of the brewer was 1s and to the tenant 5d. The case was postponed to the adjourned sessions for the owner to submit plans for improvements.”

1911 Census

18, Mill Street – CROWN

[1] William Leach (36), beer retailer, born Gospel Oak;

[2] Emma Leach (34), wife, married 4 years, assisting in business, born Rounds Green;

[3] May Leach (17), sister, domestic servant, born Handsworth;

[4] William Leach (3), son, born Hill Top;

[5] Irene Leach (1), daughter, born Hill Top:

1921 Census

18, Mill Street

[1] Harold Cave (42), beerhouse on proprietor, born Piddington, Northamptonshire;

[2] Elizabeth Cave (47), wife, proprietress, born Cradley Heath;

[3] Geoffrey Cave (8), son, school, born Irthlingborough, Northamptonshire;

[4] Grace Alice Cave (6), daughter, school, born Irthlingborough, Northamptonshire;

[5] Sybil Cave (3), daughter, born Ettingshall:

1939 Register

18, Millfields Road – CROWN INN

[1] Joseph Mason, date of birth 10/2/1875, publican, married;

[2] Elizabeth Mason, dob 14/9/1875, unpaid domestic duties, married:

The license was surrendered in February 1957.

CROWN

Brierley, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Isaac Smithiman [1835]

Elizabeth Smithiman [1841] – [1842]

CROWN AND ANCHOR

129, (60), (59), Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Joseph Banks
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Banks [1861] – 1878);
David Smith (1878 – 1884);
Thomas Cooke (1884 – 1890);
Joseph Maullin (1890);
Alfred Wood (1890 – 1892);
William Darbey (1892 – 1895);
Joel Ashcroft (1895 – 1896);
William Harper (1896 – 1899);
Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (1899 – 1900);
William Painter (1900);
Samuel Simkins (1900 – 1901);
Julia Simkins [1901] ?
Emily (Challis) Freeman (1901 – 1902);
Henry Smith (1902 – 1903);
Mary Hill (1903);
Charles Carpenter (1903 – 1904);
Henry Newman Bates (1904);
William Lloyd (1904 – 1906);
Horace Wakelam (1906 – 1907);

NOTES

60, Oxford Street [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891]
59, Oxford Street [1862]
129, Oxford Street [1920], [1924]

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

60, Oxford Street – CROWN AND CUSHION [sic]
[1] Joseph Banks (40), locksmith, born Bilston;
[2] Sarah Banks (45), wife, born Burslem;
[3] Agnes Fall (4), grand-daughter, born Bradley:

Joseph Banks, retailer of beer, 59, Oxford Street. [1862]
Joseph Banks, beer retailer, 60, Oxford Street. [1865], [1868]

1871 Census

60, Oxford Street

- [1] Joseph Banks (51), brewer, born Willenhall;
- [2] Sarah Banks (56), wife, born Potteries;
- [3] Sarah Fell (7), grand-daughter, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Sarah Fellows (4), niece, scholar, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/5/1871

“Joseph Banks, landlord of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting drunkenness in his house, on Sunday last. The case was proved, and defendant was fined £3 and costs.”
AND

Birmingham Daily Post 10/5/1871

“At Bilston Petty Sessions, yesterday, Joseph Banks, of the CROWN AND ANCHOR public house, was fined £3 and costs, at the instance of policeman Hughes, for having three men drunk in his house on Sunday.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Joseph Banks, CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, Bilston, open after hours, 20s and costs and license endorsed.....

The whole of the licenses in the ‘black list,’ it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions.”

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned licensing sessions.]

1881 Census

60, Oxford Street – CROWN AND ANCHOR

- [1] David Smith (43), beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Smith (36), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Clara Smith (15), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [4] Emily A. Smith (11), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Florence A. Smith (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Sarah L. Smith (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Hannah A. P. Smith (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] David W. P. Smith (1), son, born Bilston:

1891 Census

60, Oxford Street – CROWN AND ANCHOR

- [1] Alfred Wood (36), ledger clerk and publican, born Brewwood;
- [2] Deborah Wood (35), wife, born Highley, Shropshire;
- [3] Beatrice A. Wood (11), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Alfred J. J. Wood (6), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Hannah Wood (71), mother, widow, living on her own means, born Coven;
- [6] Bridget Commons (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

William Darbey – see also SWAN BANK TAVERN.

Henry Tertius Hodgkiss – see also LEOPARD, Church Street, ROYAL OAK, High Street, GATE, BLANKMAKERS ARMS, WHITE HART and SEVEN STARS.

1901 Census

Oxford Street – CROWN AND ANCHOR

- [1] Julia Simkins (50), widow, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] John Simkins (18), son, coal miner loader, born Bilston;
- [3] Samuel Simkins (17), son, coal miner loader, born Bilston;
- [4] John W. Bateman (14), nephew, iron plate worker, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Elias Cartwright (71), father, widower, iron works labourer, born Bilston;
- [6] Louisa Smith (43), sister, married, born Bilston:

Emily Challis married Albert Joseph Freeman on 21st August 1901.

Charles Carpenter, beer retailer, 129, Oxford Street. [1904]

William Lloyd – see also SHAKESPEARE.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/2/1907

“According to the report of Police-Superintendent Spendlove read at the annual brewster sessions for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division yesterday, there are 356 licenses of all kinds within the division, or one to every 174 of the population.

The Clerk (Mr. Pratt) said the Bench had decided to recommend the following eleven houses on the ground of redundancy to be referred for compensation, and the cases would be adjourned to the adjourned meeting, and in the meantime notices would be given to the owner.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/6/1907

“County Licensing Compensation Authority.

The principal meeting of the County Compensation Authority under the Licensing Act, 1904, was held at the Shire Hall, Stafford on Tuesday.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, Bilston, beer license, Horace Wakelam (licensee).....

Mr. R. A. Willcock (Wolverhampton) formally applied for the provisional renewal of the license, and Superintendent Spendlove gave evidence as to redundancy and structural unsuitability.

Mr. Thompson (Dudley) appeared for the owner and licensee. It was stated that there were 18 full-licensed and 24 beerhouses within a radius of 500 yards. Renewal refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/7/1907

“A supplemental meeting of the County Licensing Compensation Authority was held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Wednesday and Thursday, to consider the amount of compensation to be awarded in the case of licenses the renewal of which was refused at the principal meeting.....

CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, Bilston (owner Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited), £275.”

Compensation of £275 was paid on 12th October 1907.

License extinguished 19th October 1907.

South Staffordshire Times 25/9/1920 - Advert

“Sale By Auction. At 6.30pm for 7pm promptly.

J. Southwick and Son have received instructions from the executors, and others, to submit for sale by auction at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, the following Valuable Freehold Properties, including Three commodious De-licensed Dwelling Houses and Premises.....

Lot 1. The Commodious Freehold Dwelling House and Premises until recently known as the CROWN AND ANCHOR INN (now de-licensed), situate and being No.129 Oxford Street, Bilston. The premises are very suitable and could readily be converted into a Capital Retail Shop.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 11/10/1924 - Advert

“Tuesday Next, October 14th, 1924, at 7 o’clock in the Evening.

Important Sale of Freehold Properties and Land, and de-licensed houses, at Bradley and Priestfields, which Cyril H. Green, FNAA, has been instructed to submit for Sale By Auction, at the PIPEHALL HOTEL, Bilston, on the above Date, subject to conditions of sale to be then read, the under-mentioned Properties.....

Lot 5. Freehold House, known as the OLD CROWN AND ANCHOR (now de-licensed), No.129 Oxford Street, Bilston. Annual gross rental of £16 5s.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 18/10/1924

“Mr. Cyril H. Green, FNAA, auctioneer, Bilston, conducted a successful sale of freehold properties, de-licensed houses, and land, situate in Bilston, Priestfields, and Bradley, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, on Tuesday evening.....

Three storey dwelling, formerly the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, Bilston, £140.”

CROWN AND ANCHOR

Swan Bank, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

It stood on the site of the present Wesleyan Chapel.

It was originally Loxdale Hall.

CROWN AND CUSHION

31, (5), Bank Street, (5, Bilston Street) / King Street, Hallfields, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Whitmore Lathe,
Messrs Chater and Co, brewers, Wolverhampton
J. and J. Yardley, brewers, Wolverhampton
The Old Wolverhampton Breweries Ltd.
Frank Myatt Ltd. (acquired in 1919)
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ansells Ltd. [c.1960]
Keilyn Enterprises (Keith and Lyn Garbett)
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired 1996)
Keilyn Enterprises (Keith and Lyn Garbett) (acquired 1998)
Punch Taverns [2005]

LICENSEES

Arthur Wright [1851] – [1870]
Annie Harris []
Whitmer Lathe [1871] – 1895);
Thomas Price (1895 – 1898);
Mrs. Annie Boulton (1898 – 1899);
William Felix Williams (1899 – [1904])
William Toby Williams [] – 1904);
Mrs. Alice Andrews (1904 – 1910);
Mrs. Elizabeth Rice (1910 – 1913);
William Burke (1913 – 1915);
William Palmer [1916] ?
Herbert Ashley (1915 – 1916);
John Preston (1916);
Frank Harris (1916 – 1919);
James Paul Picken (1919 – 1922);
Frank Davies (1922 – 1924);
Albert Horace Severn (1924 – 1925);
Thomas 'Tom' Fellows (1925 – [1940])
Richard 'Dick' Yeoman [1954]
Elsie Harriet Yeoman [1950s] – [1960s]
S Homer [1988]
R Grashon [1989]
Thomas Firkin [] – 1995);
Keith and Lyn Garbett (1995 – [])
Carole Georgina Brookes [1997] – [1999]
Susan Marklew [2005]

2010

NOTES

Hallfields [1851], [1862]

Bilston Street [1865], [1868]

5, Bilston Street [1861], [1871], [1872], [1881], [1891]

5, Bank Street [c.1901]

31, Bank Street [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/6/1847 - Married

“On the 25th ult, at West Bromwich Old Church, Mr. Arthur Wright, of All Fields, to Miss Matilda Maullin, third daughter of Mr. Thomas Yardley, farmer, late of Earls Wood, Tamworth.”

1851 Census

Hallfields

[1] Arthur Wright (27), retail brewer, born Fradley, Staffordshire;

[2] Matilda Wright (23), wife, born Tamworth;

[3] Emma Wright (2), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Alfred Wright (2 months), son, born Bilston;

[5] John Yardley (17), visitor, butcher, born Tamworth;

[6] Philip Yardley (12), visitor, born Tamworth;

[7] Catherine Corton (35), general servant, born Lichfield:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

An application was made by Mr. H. Underhill, on behalf of Mr. Arthur Wright, for a license to a house situate in Bilston Street, Hallfields, near Bradley, the population of which was stated to be about 4,000. Mr. Whitehouse opposed the application on behalf of Mr. Hand, the owner and occupier of the CROWN, observing that not one more house had been built in the locality since Mr. Wright's application last year. Mr. Underhill replied that Mr. Whitehouse was misinformed. Upwards of twenty houses had been built in the immediate locality. Mr. Wright had a club of 70 persons who met at his house, which was rated at £12 more than Mr. Hand's, and cost between £700 and £800. Mr. Whitehouse said he was informed by Mrs. Hand that on one side of Mr. Wright's house there were only five houses. The Magistrates, after some consideration, granted the application.”

Birmingham Journal 6/11/1852 - Advert

“Mr. Arthur Wright, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields, Bilston, begs to inform his Friends and the Public, that he has in his possession Two Store Pigs, the length of each from snout to root of tail is 7 feet 6 inches, the height of each 3 feet 6 inches, the age of each 16 months. Mr. W. will be happy to show the Pigs to any Gentleman who thinks proper to call.”

Matilda Wright died in the 3rd quarter of 1854.

Birmingham Journal 28/10/1854 - Died

“Lately, after a short illness, aged one year and five months, Thomas Arthur Wright, second son of Mr. Arthur Wright, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/4/1855

“John M'Cure, a boy about twelve years of age, was charged with stealing 2s 6d, the property of Arthur Wright, of Hallfields. The prisoner was employed by Mr. Taylor, tobacco-pipe maker, of Bell Street, and was sent with a gross of pipes to Mr. Wright's. Mr. Wright told him to put the pipes away in a place near the till, and left the room to attend to a customer. On his return the prisoner had gone away, and on looking into the till he missed the half-crown. The prisoner was shortly afterwards taken into custody and the half-crown found in his shoe; he admitted taking it from the till; and that he had been twice whipped for theft. Committed for three months with hard labour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/1/1858

“Arrangements are being made for establishing a soup kitchen in Bilston town, for the relief of the many persons deprived of their usual means of support by the present depression in trade. The movement was originated by Mr. Arthur Wright, of Hall Fields, near Bilston. On Wednesday last there were distributed 190 half-gallons of soup, and 100 penny loaves; and the committee appeal for further help.”

Birmingham Journal 13/2/1858 - Correspondence

“To the Editor of the Birmingham Journal.

Sir. Knowing that you are ever ready to assist by the aid of your long-established and valuable paper any laudable or generous object for the benefit of the suffering poor, we, the undersigned, beg you will give publicity to the following. Having long viewed with anxious feelings the dire distress so prevalent in Hall Fields, Bradley, Shropshire Row, and vicinity, where, through the many recent failures of ironmasters, thousands of our fellow-creatures are thrown out of employment, whereby themselves, wives, and children, are reduced to starvation, which at this season of the year makes it still more distressing; we, therefore, have formed a committee at the house of Mr. Arthur Wright, wine and spirit vaults, Hall Fields, near Bilston, through whose kindness and exertions this movement originated, where any sum or sums will be thankfully received, the object being to administer relief to the hungry and starving applicants with soup and bread daily. The extent of the distress may be known from the fact that there was distributed on Wednesday last upwards of 150 half-gallons of soup, the supply not being half equal to the requirements of the starving inhabitants around. The committee feel grateful to the public, who have so nobly responded to their calls in behalf of the suffering thousands around them, hoping, as their funds are very low, that a benevolent public will still lend their aid in behalf of a movement so charitable until the sun of prosperity shines more brightly upon the abodes of sorrow and wretchedness. The committee still sit at Mr. Wright's, where any subscription or subscriptions will be thankfully received and gratefully acknowledged.

Committee: Arthur Wright, Wine Vaults; William Onions, Agent; William Griffiths, Manager; John Preece, Scripture Reader; Peter Pearson, Grocer; all of Hall Fields.

W. Onions, Secretary.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/4/1858

“Messrs. Noah Baker, of Church Street, furniture dealer, John Bishop, of High Street, draper, and Arthur Wright, of Hallfields, victualler, have been appointed overseers of Bilston township.”

Birmingham Journal 1/1/1859

“On Christmas Day, Mr. A. Wright, of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Hall Fields, invited twenty-four of the poor inhabitants of Bradley Hall Fields, and Salop Row, to dine with him. The senior was ninety, and the junior sixty-eight. The dinner consisted of geese, turkeys, and roast beef, accompanied by plum-pudding and ale, to which all did ample justice.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/7/1860 - Advert

“Sale of Freehold Messuages and Premises, situate in Hall Fields, in the Township of Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

John Mason will Sell by Auction (by direction of the Trustees of the Will of the late Mr. John Griffiths, deceased), at the house of Mr. Arthur Wright, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, situate in Hall Fields aforesaid, on Thursday, the 2nd day of August, 1860, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/3/1861

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions..... Henry Wright, 31, writing clerk, was indicted for having embezzled two sums amounting to 10s 6d and 9s 6d respectively, the moneys of John Chapman, at West Bromwich.

The prosecutor is a brewer, at West Bromwich, and in August last he employed the prisoner as a traveller to get orders, and to receive money from the customers. The sums mentioned above were owing by Edward Green, butcher, and Robert Hall, saddler, both of whom swore that they had paid the money to the prisoner in November, and produced the receipts. On being pressed by Mr. Motteram, Green admitted that the prisoner owed him an account, and they exchanged receipts; and Hall said he paid the money down, but then received it back on account of some articles supplied to the prisoner. When taken into custody the prisoner was found in possession of a list of accounts, which Mr. Chapman said showed money which the prisoner admitted having received, and not paid over to him, nor entered into the cash book. The prosecutor stated that he discharged the prisoner on the 4th of December, on account of his defalcations; but still he had access to the office, and entered money received by him into the cash book as late as the 13th of the same month. After a consultation of nearly an hour, the Jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The prisoner was then charged with having embezzled the sums of £3 2s 4d and 17s, received from Mr. T. J. Evans, licensed victualler, Birmingham; and £1 3s, received from Mr. A. Culwick, brewer and beerseller, West Bromwich. After hearing the evidence the Jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The same prisoner was then indicted for having obtained by false pretences, at Wolverhampton, on the 14th of December, the sum of £6 from Arthur Wright, licensed victualler, Bilston; also from Mr. Edwin Green, butcher, West Bromwich, on the 11th of December, 5s and 10s worth of meat; and from Mr. James Bowen, licensed victualler, Birmingham, 10s, on the 11th of December, with intent to defraud them of the same. The prosecutors were Mr. Chapman's customers, and the prisoner, it was alleged, had obtained the moneys and meat on the representation that he was in Mr. Chapman's employ, whereas he had been discharged on the 4th of December. He had not paid over the sums so received. The prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to six months' hard labour."

1861 Census

5, Bilston Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

[1] Arthur Wright (32), widower, innkeeper, born Fradley, Staffordshire;

[2] Emma Wright (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[3] Alfred Wright (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Isaac Scott (22), visitor, charcoal refiner, born Abercorn, Monmouthshire;

[5] Ann Scott (18), visitor, born Bilston;

[6] Emma Scott (5 months), born Madeley, Shropshire;

[7] James Hasletine (63), servant, born Witchnor, Staffordshire;

[8] Hannah Higgs (16), servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/8/1861 - Advert

"Mr. Samuel Baker, Junior, will Sell by Auction (by order of the Mortgagee, with power of sale), at the house of Mr. Arthur Wright, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hallfields, Bilston, on Tuesday, the 3rd day of September, 1861, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read, all that desirable Plot or Parcel of Freehold Land situate at Hallfields...."

Windsor and Eton Express 14/6/1862

"The adjourned inquest on the bodies of the seven deceased who were drowned by the breaking in upon them of water from an adjoining pit as they were at work on Friday week last in the Bradley Colliery, the property of Messrs. G. B. Thorneycroft and Co., was held on Tuesday, at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hallfields, near Bilston. The jury, after a prolonged consultation lasting about two hours, returned as the verdict of 13 of the 14 who were empanelled, the following verdict. 'That the death of the seven deceased persons was caused by a rush of water into the pit in which they were working, occasioned by the neglect of John Harvey, senior; but the jury do not consider the evidence sufficient to criminate him.' The proprietor of the pit present (Mr. Kesteven) said that hitherto the ground bailiff had proved himself in every way a trustworthy servant. He and his fellow partners regretted the accident as much as it was possible for any one to regret it. The jury exonerated the proprietors from all blame, and expressed their conviction that generally the colliery was well and carefully worked."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/9/1862 - Advert

"An Opportunity Seldom to be Met With.

To be Disposed Of, that well-known Corner Wine and Spirit Vaults called the TALBOT INN, fronting Oxford Street and Railway Street, Bilston, in the greatest thoroughfare of the district, and within one minute's walk of the Great Western Railway Booking Office, at which Station there are no Refreshment Rooms. Now doing an excellent in and out-door and Counter Trade. Rent moderate. The House has long maintained the reputation of a Business House, having been established upwards of forty years, and changed hands but once for the last twenty-six years. The Premises are replete with every convenience. There is also a Commodious Room, calculated to hold 200 persons, and suitable either for a Saloon or Billiard Room. The Vaults are the largest in the district, and have lately been richly embellished. The Stock, Fixtures and other effects to be taken to at a fair valuation. The reason for the present Proprietor disposing of the Business is his other very pressing engagements.

Apply to Mr. Arthur Wright, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hallfields, Bilston, Staffordshire."

Birmingham Daily Post 17/2/1863

"The inquest on the bodies of the three men who were killed on the 30th of January, at the Pagett Croft Colliery owing to the pit rope by which they were descending down the shaft having been cut, was re-opened yesterday at the CROWN AND CUSHION, Bradley (the house of the proprietor of the colliery, Mr. Arthur Wright), before Mr. T. M. Phillips, the Coroner. Mr. Baker, Government Inspector of Mines, was present, also Mr. Bayley (the solicitor for Mr. Wright), and Mr. Serjeant M'Crea. Jeavons, the engine tender of the pit, who had been arrested on suspicion of having cut the rope, was in the room in custody of the police.

Mr. Arthur Wright deposed that the deceased Howell and Davis were 'doggies' in his employ. The deceased Kempson was also in his employ, and worked down the pit, as also did the 'doggies,' he thought as a 'lander.' It was the duty of Jeavons, the engine tender, to be at his engine at five o'clock every morning, to get up the steam and examine the rope before sending any men down. It was his duty not to use the rope until, in the event of the defect being discovered, he had shown the defect to the ground-bailiff, and it had been remedied. The ground-bailiff was at the pit at six in the morning. On the morning of the 30th, Ray and another man came to his house and reported that the rope had broken and 'dropped' three men. He went immediately to the pit and sent for surgical aid. The engine-man was at his engine at the time

By Mr. Bayley: Some few days previously to the accident Davis brought to him a quantity of swarf in his hand, showing that the pulleys were 'chafing.' He then complained to Jeavons, who swore, and said he was ready to leave the pit at once. Witness responded that he had better at once return to his work. Jeavons, in cursing, said that it was not more his duty to oil the pulleys than it was that of any one else. Witness could not quiet him until he threatened that if he was not silent he would send for a policeman and give him into custody for stealing coal. It was the duty of the engine tender to oil the pulleys.

By the Inspector: Witness engaged Jeavons, and shortly after engaging him, he took to him, in the engine-house, the pit rules. When he gave them to him Jeavons said he knew what they were; he had had them before.

Thomas Bagaley, a mechanic in the employ of Mr. Thomas Perry, and living in Queens Street, Bradley, deposed that at six o'clock on the morning of the Friday, he was going down the field adjoining the Pagett Croft Colliery, when he heard a noise on the bank as though a skip had been pulled over the pulley. In about fifty yards he met a man, who seemed much distressed, and said a rope was broken and had dropped a 'bantle' of men. Witness then went to the pit with Thomas Shuttleworth. The men there were in great distress, and seemed not to know what to do. Witness told Jeavons to wind the rope off the drum barrel. Jeavons said he could not wind it off unless some one laid hold of the ropes, otherwise they would be locked. Witness instructed him what to do, and he did it promptly. He wound the skip up the 'up-cast' shaft to enable some one to go down the shaft. When that skip was up there were from six to eight rounds of rope on the drum barrel belonging to the rope that had broken. Rather than unwind that length of rope, he advised that men should go down the up-cast shaft. They did so, and were down at the men within ten minutes after witness got to the pit bank. The end of the severed rope passed through his hands, and it looked like a rope that had been fairly broken. On the same morning, however, at about nine o'clock, having heard that it had been cut, he returned to the pit, and was about to examine it when Jeavons, who was on the drum-barrel wall, shouted to him 'not to mess the rope, for it had been cut, and somebody else must see it.' After looking at it he saw one end cut, and the other vassed out. He smelt the rope to ascertain if it was sound and in good condition, and was satisfied from the fresh smell of tar that it had been a sound rope. The hemp, also, was good. The cut end of the rope was bright.

Mr. Bayley was about calling witnesses to further inculcate the engineer, when the Coroner said he did not think it would be well to conclude the inquest at present, inasmuch as the Government having offered a reward, there might perhaps be further evidence forthcoming on a future day. Mr. Bayley said that until such evidence could be obtained, he did not think that he could much strengthen the case.....

John Purshouse, a miner, deposed that when he got to the pit at about seven o'clock on the morning of the 30th ult, he saw the whimsey man (Jeavons) untwisting the end of the rope where it had been severed. Witness told him that he had no business to do that, for some one else would have to see it. Jeavons, however, took no notice of what he said, for he kept on untwisting it, and did so to the extent of nine inches. When he first saw the rope, it appeared to be pretty level at the point where it had subsequently been severed.

Thomas Hawley, rope manufacturer, of Bilston, deposed that he saw the rope on the 31st of January. It was shown to him by Sergeant Harrison. He found two of the strands cut, and the other strand did not show a proper separation of the splice. There were two or three threads uncut in one of the strands that was cut. Three threads would bear the weight of a tackler skip. If two strands had been cut elsewhere than at the splicing, the uncut strand would have borne the weight of the rope. The rope was a good average rope, and was safe at 6cwt. At the full depth of the pit he should think it unsafe at over 7cwt. It was rather under its strength. It was an inch and a half rope, but ought to have been of 2in diameter. But there was no doubt that a new rope of 1½ inches diameter would lift a weight of five tons.

William Yarnell deposed that he was at the pit on the 29th of January, when in the afternoon the rope was being unwound from the drum. He was near to the rope when the prisoner, alluding to the part that was spliced, said, 'Come away from the rope; that splicing is not safe, if it breaks, they'll say that we cut it.' Witness then went away from the ropes.

The Coroner: Do you know that the Government have offered a reward of £50 for the conviction of the person who cut the rope? – Witness: Yes, I know a reward is out, but I don't know nothing about it. He added that he thought that it was singular that Jeavons should say that; but he told no one that night. On the following morning, however, he did not go down with the first band, and 'the little boy who pitched for him' asked him if he was going down by the rope, and he said, 'No.' He told Benjamin Poole that he thought the rope was not safe to go down on, but the rope drew up three men on the previous night after Jeavons said it was not safe.

The Coroner: I think that something will come out of this matter, if we adjourn the matter for a fortnight. I know you, gentlemen of the Jury, don't care much about your trouble, if you could discover such a piece of villany.

Mr. Bayley said the prisoner would be before the Magistrates on the following day, and he had been remanded till the result of that inquest should be known.

The Coroner: I am governed in my opinion by the opinion of Mr. M'Crea, as well as Mr. Baker. I am satisfied in my own mind that the rope has been cut, and I am equally satisfied that that was the reason this man did not go down the pit. This is the only man who knew anything about it except Jeavons.

Benjamin Poole was then called, and deposed that he was a miner at the pit in question. On the morning of the 30th of January last, when he went to the pit the last witness said, 'Don't go down with that rope, for it is not safe.' Witness enquired, 'How do you know?' Yarnell replied, 'The engineer himself told me.' Yarnell had not spoken to him half a minute before the rope broke. He therefore had no time to warn the deceased before they went down. He wished he had.

Mr. Wright was re-called, and deposed that without his permission, or that of the ground bailiff, the engineer had no right to give the key of his engine to any one. His duty was to lock up his engine at about half-past six at night, and not again open it until the next morning.

The prisoner desired that Yarnell might be re-called, as he wished to question him. When they were confronted the prisoner said: When the splice came through your hands a couple or three inches, as you were helping me to unwind it on the 29th of January, in the afternoon, I asked you if the rope was safe with two inches coming out, and you said, 'No, and I will not go down with it.' – Witness: No.

Prisoner: Did you not go into the ash-hole on the morning of the 30th and say, 'If I had been a bit sooner they should not have gone down, for I knew all about it.' – Witness: I did not say so.

The Coroner here adjourned the inquest for a fortnight. The proceedings lasted about four hours."

AND

Walsall Free Press 21/3/1863

"At Stafford Assizes John Jeavons, aged 19, has been tried, charged for the wilful murder of John Davis, John Howell, and James Kempson on the 30th of January last in the township of Bilston.....

The jury, after a brief consultation, acquitted the prisoner, the foreman adding that the jury were unanimously of opinion that the rope had been cut, but that there was not sufficient evidence that it was the act of the prisoner."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/7/1864 - Advert

"Tuesday, July 26th, 1864. To Colliery Proprietors, Ironmasters, Chartermasters, and Others.

Important Sale of Colliery Plant, at Page's Croft Colliery, Highfields, in the township of Bilston.

Mr. Thomas Richards will Sell by Auction, upon the above Colliery, on Tuesday, July 26th, 1864, the whole of the valuable Colliery Plant, comprising 12-horse high-pressure winding engine, boiler, 40ft by 3ft; pit frames, pulleys, coke waggon, broad and narrow-wheel carts, excellent winding rope, quite new; skips, rings, air troughs, large quantity of wrought iron rails and sleepers, very useful black cart horse, &c, the property of Mr. Arthur Wright, who had no further use for them.

The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning precisely.

Catalogues may be obtained from Mr. Arthur Wright, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields; or the Auctioneer, 66, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/5/1865 - Advert

"Freehold Property, Hall Fields, Bilston.

Mr. Tunnicliff will Sell by Auction (by order of the Mortgagee), at Mr. Arthur Wright's, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields, Bilston, on Wednesday, the 31st day of May, 1865, at five o'clock in the evening....."

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1865

"The Cape Ironworks, Smethwick, have been purchased by Mr. Arthur Wright, of Bilston. It is expected that they will commence working in the course of a fortnight."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/10/1865

"Bilston Township Commissioners.....

The Chairman read the resignation of Mr. Arthur Wright, who is leaving the district."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/11/1865

"On Saturday last, the re-opening of the Grove Ironworks, Cape, Smethwick, was celebrated at the CAPE INN, by an excellent dinner, that was very generously given by the proprietor of the works, Mr. Arthur Wright, late of Hall Fields, Bilston. The dinner was served up in an admirable manner by the host and hostess, and after all the workmen had done ample justice to the good things so liberally provided, they all separated peaceably to their own homes, highly delighted."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/5/1866

"On Saturday, Mr. Arthur Wright, of the Grove Ironworks, gave a dinner to his workmen on the occasion of his leaving them The workmen had subscribed together to present him with a testimonial. It was a silver cup, with a box to carry it in. It was for his goodness and kindness to his workmen....."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/9/1866

"A petition for adjudication in bankruptcy was this morning filed, in the District Court of Bankruptcy, Waterloo Street, against Mr. Arthur Wright, late of the Grove Ironworks, Smethwick, by Mr. Griffin, as agent for Messrs. Woodward and Son, of Wednesbury, on behalf of a creditor. Mr. Wright has suffered very heavy losses by recent failures in the iron trade, and his private debts are few. The liabilities exceed £10,000, and the assets are uncertain."

Birmingham Journal 1/12/1866 - Notice

"Notice is Hereby Given, that an Order of Discharge was, on the 16th day of November, 1866, granted by the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, at Birmingham, to Arthur Wright, residing at Kirton Place, Smethwick, in the county of Stafford, late of the Grove Works, Smethwick aforesaid, Ironmaster, previously of Hall Fields, near Bilston, in the said county of Stafford, Publican and Coalmaster.

James and Griffin, Solicitors, Birmingham; Agents for Woodward and Son, Solicitors, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 10/7/1867 - Advert

"CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hallfields, Bilston.

This well-known and old-established Inn and Wine and Spirit Vaults, to be Let, and may be entered upon in September next.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Arthur Wright, Kirton Place, Smethwick; or to Mr. Richard Heseltine, Auctioneer, Wednesbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/3/1868

"An inquest was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION, Bilston, on Saturday, on the body of Alice Bradbury, an infant. The deceased had been found dead in bed. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Suffocation."

Birmingham Journal 3/10/1868 - Married

"On the 23rd ult, at the Parish Church, Aston (by the Rev. William Edward Best, MA), Carmi, eldest son of Mr. David Rollason, wire manufacturer, of Aston Manor and Bilston, to Emma, only daughter of Mr. Arthur Wright, of Hall Fields, Bilston, late of the Grove Ironworks, Smethwick."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/10/1868

“Benjamin Davies, an operative engaged at the Bankfield Ironworks, was charged with stealing 19s, the money of Mr. A. Wright, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hallfields, Bilston. On the evening of Saturday week last the prisoner, when in the prosecutor’s liquor shop, and in the absence of the waiter, opened the till with a skeleton key, and took 19s out of it. He was committed for trial.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1869

“Staffordshire January Sessions.....

Benjamin Davis, 25, puddler, and John Garbett, 33, puddler, were charged with stealing the sum of 19s 1d, the property of Arthur Wright, of Bilston. Davis pleaded guilty. The prisoners, who were drinking at the public house of prosecutor, took advantage of the absence of the barmaid to rob the till. A number of house-breaking implements and keys were found in the possession of the prisoner Garbett. The jury found him guilty, and the Chairman sentenced Garbett to ten and Davis to nine months’ imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/4/1869 - Advert

“Sale at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields, near Bilston.

Joseph Whitehouse has been instructed by Mr. Arthur Wright, who is declining the Public Business, to Sell by Public Auction, on Monday Next, April 26.

A Quantity of Furniture, Ale and Wine Casks, excellent 2-Knife Chaff Engine, by Mapplebeck and Lowe; superior-built Float, Set of Gig Harness and Cart Tackle, Carpenter’s Work Bench, two 9ft Wire Jigger Benches, with 1½in. Wrought-iron Shafting, Pinions, &c, complete; lot of Deal Planks, iron Pump, three wood Skips, pair of Trap Springs, patent Axle and Two Wheels, Wheelbarrow, 2-framed Doors, four Lashing Chains, quantity of old Iron, Timber, Tongs, Spanners, Spouting, Hammers and Pikes, 165 new Cast-iron Weights, from 28lb to 2lb; three Oven Doors and Frames, two Ladders, Iron Mangers, and sundry other Effects.

Sale to commence at half-past Two o’clock pm.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/6/1869 - Advert

“Staffordshire. Important Sale of Valuable Freehold Properties and Building Land, at Hall Fields and Daisy Bank, near Bilston; and Moseley Hole, near Wolverhampton.

Joseph Whitehouse had been favoured with instructions from Mr. Arthur Wright, to Sell by Public Auction, at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Hall Fields, near Bilston, on Tuesday Next, June 15, at Six o’clock in the evening.....”

[7 lots of building land, 17 houses and a shop.]

County Courts Chronicle 1/2/1870 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham district.

Arthur Wright, formerly of Kirton Place, Smethwick, ironmaster, afterwards of Hall Fields, near Bilston, wine and spirit merchant, and now of Percy Street, New Town, Wednesbury, all in the county of Stafford, out of business, having been adjudged bankrupt under a petition for adjudication of bankruptcy, filed in the Court of Bankruptcy at Birmingham, on the 24th day of November 1869, a public sitting for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for an order of discharge, will be held before Owen Davies Tudor, Esq, the registrar appointed by the Lord Chancellor to wind-up the pending business of the said court, on the 9th day of February 1870, at the said court at Birmingham, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Mr. George Kinnear, Waterloo Street, Birmingham, is the official assignee, and the solicitor acting in the bankruptcy is Joseph Rowlands, 8, Ann Street, Birmingham, agent for J. W. Hall, Solicitor, Bilston.”

[An order of discharge was granted.]

Whitmer Lathe = Whitmore Lathe = Witmer Lathe

1871 Census

5, Bilston Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Whitmer Lathe (36), licensed victualler, born Penn;
- [2] Mary A. Lathe (29), wife, born Kingswinford;
- [3] Elizabeth Lathe (9), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Whitmer Lathe (6), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Jane Ferguson (16), general servant, born Kingswinford:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/10/1875

“Yesterday (Monday) afternoon an inquest was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bilston Street, Hallfields, Bilston, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, touching the death of Sarah Higgins, two and a half years of age, who was accidentally poisoned, and died on Friday last.

Evidence was adduced by Mrs. Higgins, the mother of the child, to the effect that deceased had been ill with a cold for some time, and had been under the care of Mr. Larkin. Finding the child restless at night, she was persuaded to give it a dose of ‘Mrs. Winslow’s Soothing Syrup,’ which she had in a bottle, bearing Mr. Larkin’s label. She had also sent for some toothache tincture, from the shop of Mr. Powell, for an older child, and on going to the cupboard to get the deceased some of the syrup, she, in mistake, took the bottle with the tincture in, and gave it a draught. Both bottles were alike, and both bore Mr. Larkin’s label. The medicines were also of precisely the same colour. A girl named Taylor, who lives with her mother, gave corroborative evidence, and said she fetched the tincture. The bottle was not labelled poison.

Mr. Larkin was also called, and stated that he had attended the deceased. On Friday he was called in, and found that the child had taken poison. He was unable to save the littler sufferer’s life.

The jury subsequently returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/5/1877 – Advert.

“Valuable Freehold Property, Bilston Street, Hall Fields, near Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Jabez Bywater, at the house of Mr. W. Lathe, the CROWN AND CUSHION. INN, Hall Fields, on Tuesday, the 29th day of May inst, at Seven o’clock in the evening punctually.....”

1881 Census

5, Bilston Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Whitmer Lathe (50), victualler, innkeeper, born Penn;
- [2] Mary Ann Lathe (40), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] Whitmer Lathe (16), son, born Sedgley;
- [4] Sarah Ann Lathe (9), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Carrie Lathe (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Eliza Hammonds (18), domestic servant, born Sedgley;
- [7] Emma Green (14), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/9/1882

“An enquiry was held yesterday, at the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, Bilston Street, Bradley, by Mr. W. H. Phillips, district coroner, into the death of Henry Powell (14), son of Thomas Powell, engineer, Bilston Street, Bradley, who was drowned on Sunday last, whilst bathing in the Birmingham Canal, near the Capponfield Ironworks. It was shown that boys were in the habit of bathing at that part of the canal, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 3/4/1886

“On Monday morning, W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the CROWN AND CUSHION, Bilston Street, Bradley, touching the death of Elijah Braggington, nine years of age, late of Bilston Street. The evidence went to show that on Saturday last, deceased was playing round a pool of water at Barber’s Field, with several other boys. As it came on to rain they took shelter under a large cinder. Some of them were still under when one of the lads heard a crack and spoke to the others. They were all getting away as quick as they could when the cinder, which weighed from one to two tons, fell and knocked the deceased backwards, falling across his body killing him instantly. From information received, PC Tytherleigh went to the spot and had deceased extricated. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 25/3/1887

“About thirty of the employees of the Bilston and Willenhall Branches of the Wolverhampton Tramways Company’s system sat down to supper at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bilston Street, on Tuesday night.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/7/1890

“An adjourned inquest was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bradley, Bilston, on Wednesday, before Mr. W. H. Phillips (coroner), on the body of a boy named Joseph Pursehouse, who had died suddenly. The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

1891 Census

5, Bilston Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Whitmer Lathe (60), publican, born Penn;
- [2] Mary Ann Lathe (48), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Sarah A. Lathe (19), daughter, born Bradley;
- [4] Carrie Lathe (18), daughter, born Bradley;
- [5] Ann McPherson (57), widow, domestic servant, born Birmingham:

1901 Census

Bank Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] William F. Williams (25), publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Lucy Williams (22), wife, born West Ham, Essex;
- [3] Minnie L. Williams (16), sister, born Bilston:

1911 Census

31, Bank Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Alfred Ebenezer Rice (71), retired brewer, born Princes End;
- [2] Elizabeth Rice (60), wife, married 24 years, innkeeper and licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton East;
- [3] Bertram George Baker (28), step-son, barman, brewer, born Willenhall;
- [4] Frederick Rice (22), son, clerk, tax collection, born Willenhall;
- [5] Maria Rice (20), daughter, uncertified elementary teacher, born Wolverhampton East;
- [6] Alfred Henry Rice (17), son, iron worker, sealer, born Bushbury;
- [7] Miriam Bailey (19), general servant, born Willenhall:

1921 Census

31, Bank Street

- [1] James Paul Picken (43), publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Emma Picken (40), wife, publican, born Moseley Village;
- [3] Jack Picken (20), son, tool setter, born Moseley Village;
- [4] Anna Rebecca Picken (15), daughter, home duties, born Moseley Village;
- [5] Emma Picken (13), daughter, school, born Moseley Village;
- [6] Maud Picken (10), daughter, school, born Moseley Village;
- [7] Doris Irene Picken (7), daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [8] Rose Picken (5), daughter, school, born Bilston:

Bilston and Willenhall Times 2/6/1928

“The third annual marathon race was run on Whit Monday from the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, Bradley, the distance being 3 miles 350 yards.

This annual event at Bradley is becoming more popular than ever, and great crowds took a considerable interest in it. Mr. Tom Fellows was the handicapper and time keeper.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/12/1933

“Athlete 50 Years Wed. Founded Bilston Marathon. Mr. T. Fellows.

Mr. Tom Fellows, a Bilston licensed victualler, who with Mrs. Fellows celebrates his golden wedding on Christmas Day, is still keenly interested in athletics, though he has attained the age of 70. Well-known in sports circles of the Midlands, and much further afield, Mr. Fellows was a conspicuous contestant on the track in his younger days, and when his track racing came to a close he turned his attention to marathon races. The two annual events, one at Easter, and the second at Whitsuntide, are a feature at Bradley (Bilston), and arouse the keenest interest, attracting large crowds along the three-and-a-half miles route covered by the contestants.

Mr. Fellows, who was born in Market Street, Bilston, was 20 when he married at St. Luke's, Bilston, Emma Fletcher, also a native of Bilston. They had 18 children, 11 daughters, and seven sons. Eight of the daughters, all married, and one son are now living, and Mr. and Mrs. Fellows have 50 grand-children and one great grand-child.

Mr. Fellows began his running career at 16, on the Robin Hood Ground, Willenhall, winning a quarter-mile handicap. He entered many local contests, and his record included wins at 'Jolly Naylor's,' West Bromwich (120 yards), two successes on the Leabrook Grounds, Wednesbury (120 yards), when he was about 23, and two on the Bilston football ground, some years later. At the age of 35 he gave up track racing and was chosen handicapper for various events in the Black Country district, including those on the Newtown Recreation Grounds, Bilston; Leabrook Grounds, Wednesbury, and Rough Hills, Wolverhampton.

Mr. Fellows has been the landlord of various licensed houses in the district, but the running instinct being ever strong, he began organising marathon races. The first three and a half miles course was from the HOLLY BUSH, Penn, to Bilston. Then from the HAND AND KEYS, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, he organised a marathon race each Whitsuntide for eight years.

When Mr. Fellows became landlord of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Bradley, about nine years ago, he opened the Bradley sports ground on adjacent land. This was closed about five years ago, the site being required for housing purposes. But for nine years Mr. Fellows has never been short of competitors in his open marathon. One old contestant, successful in days past, is a popular resident known as 'Barber the Barber, Bilston.' He is 78, and in the race last Whitsuntide was given 11 minutes start. The youngest competitor was 14.

Mr. Fellows claims to have discovered a number of aspirants who have become famous on the track. Amongst those he encouraged was J. T. Holden, who joined in his marathon races, became a member of Tipton Harriers, and eventually an international runner.”

1939 Register

31, Bank Street – CROWN AND CUSHION

[1] Thomas Fellows, date of birth 10/10/1863, licensee, married;

[2] Emma Fellows, dob 11/1/1868, unpaid domestic duties, married:

A team from here took part in the Bradley Crib League. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, Second Division. [1946]

1954 Probate

“Richard Yeoman of the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, Bank Street, Bradley, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 2 February 1954. Probate Birmingham 29 March to Elsie Harriet Yeoman, widow. Effects £2,613 17s.”

Richard Yeoman – see also SYDNEY VILLAGE INN.

It was demolished in the 1960s.

It was rebuilt on the opposite diagonal corner.

Birmingham Daily Post 24/9/1970

“Mrs. Elsie Yeomans, who is retiring from the licensed trade following the closure of the old CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Bank Street, Bradley, where she had officiated for 30 years, is to pull the first pint to mark the opening tomorrow of its successor in Bank Street.”

Black Country Bugle 9/11/2000 - Advertising Feature

“Keilyn Enterprises is a modern day success story, set right here in our own region, with all the parts played by a Black Country family. Keith and Lyn Garbett, from Bradley and Bilston respectively, have built their own little empire of four fine pubs, from a grass roots beginning. They started it all with Bradley ale-house the CROWN AND CUSHION. The couple originally owned the pub during the early nineteen-nineties, before selling it to Banks’s Brewery in 1996. Though they missed the place, Keith and Lyn consoled themselves by buying another, the OLD CHAINYARD in the centre of Coseley. Their new acquisition had originally been called the RED LION, at least officially, but locals had always known it better as the ‘OLD CHAINYARD’, a nickname it had taken from the smithy which once stood behind it. The pub’s pseudonym finally became its official title less than ten years ago, when it was transformed from an old-fashioned drinking den to a more open-plan, altogether brighter house. It was at this point that the Garbetts took over, and a pub that was finally on the up after so many years as an also-ran became one of Coseley’s best-loved meeting places. Lyn and Keith performed a similar feat with the RED COW in nearby Edge Street, though most emphasis here was to retain its most appealing, traditional aspects. It remains to this day a typical Black Country boozer, with darts, doms, crib; and of course gray pays.

By now though, Keith tell us, the couple had come to realise that they were still very much attached to the CROWN AND CUSHION – in fact they couldn’t bear to see it in someone else’s hands. So, some two years after selling it, they bought it back and added it to what could now be called their own chain of public houses. Team games and entertainment four nights a week are among its major attractions now. The most recent addition has been a little further afield, though still within the borders of the Black Country. The JOLLY CRISPIN in Upper Gornal’s Clarence Street has always been a popular haunt of local ale enthusiasts, but never has it been in such fine form. A grand total of fifty different cask ales from around the country are served up at the CRISPIN each month, with at least nine on offer at any one time. And with food having been added to the list of attractions, the pub is far from short of temptations. So the Keilyn empire now boasts four pubs, each with its own unique, highly individual appeal. But the key to their success couldn’t be simpler. ‘We offer nice, friendly pubs with a warm atmosphere,’ says Lyn, ‘and serve a good pint for a good price.’”

Keith and Lyn Garbett – see also BARLEY MOW, Pennwood Lane, Wolverhampton, and WHITE LION, Bilston Street, Sedgley.

It was the headquarters of the Bradley [pigeon] Flying Club. [2004]

[2010]

Closed [2011], [2012]

It was damaged by arsonists in July 2012.

Demolished [2013]

MR. ARTHUR WRIGHT, CROWN AND CUSHION
INN, HALL FIELDS, BILSTON, begs to inform his Friends and the Public, that he has in his possession Two STORK PIGS, the length of each from snout to root of tail is 7 feet 6 inches, the height of each 3 feet 6 inches, the age of each 16 months. Mr. W. will be happy to show the Pigs to any Gentleman who thinks proper to call. 4/1

1852

TUESDAY, JULY 26TH, 1864.
TO COLLIERY PROPRIETORS, IRONMASTERS, CHARTER-
MASTERS, AND OTHERS.

IMPORTANT SALE OF COLLIERY PLANT,
AT PAGES CROFT COLLIERY, HIGHFIELDS,
In the township of Bilston.

MR. THOMAS RICHARDS will SELL by AUCTION, upon the above Colliery, on Tuesday, July 26th, 1864, the whole of the valuable COLLIERY PLANT, comprising 12-horse high-pressure winding engine, boiler, 40ft. by 3ft. ; pit frames, pulleys, coke waggon, broad and narrow-wheel carts, excellent winding rope, quite new ; skips, rings, air troughs, large quantity of wrought iron rails and sleepers, very useful black cart horse, &c., &c., the property of Mr. Arthur Wright, who has no further use for them.

The sale to commence at eleven o'clock in the morning precisely. Catalogues may be obtained from Mr. ARTHUR WRIGHT, Crown and Cushion Inn, Hall Fields ; or the AUCTIONEER, 66, Darlington-street, Wolverhampton.

1864

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that an ORDER of DISCHARGE was, on the 18th day of November, 1866, granted by the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, at Birmingham, to ARTHUR WRIGHT, residing at Kirton Place, Smethwick, in the county of Stafford, late of the Grove Works, Smethwick aforesaid, Ironmaster, previously of Hall Fields, near Bilston, in the said county of Stafford, Publican and Coalmaster. JAMES and GRIFFIN, Solicitors, Birmingham; Agents for WOODWARD and SON, Solicitors, Wednesbury.

1866

"CROWN AND CUSHION INN," HALLFIELDS, BILSTON.

THIS well known and old-established INN and WINE and SPIRIT VAULTS to be LET, and may be entered upon in September next.
For particulars, apply to Mr. Arthur Wright, Kirton Place, Smethwick; or to Mr. Richard Heseltine, Auctioneer, Wednesbury. cl673

1867

SALE AT THE CROWN AND CUSHION INN, HALL FIELDS, NEAR BILSTON.

JOSEPH WHITEHOUSE has been instructed by Mr. Arthur Wright, who is declining the Public Business, to SELL by Public AUCTION, on MONDAY NEXT, April 25—a Quantity of FURNITURE, Ale and Wine CASKS, excellent 2 Knife CHAFF ENGINE, by Mapplebeck and Lowe; superior-built FLOAT, Set of Gig HARNESS and Cart Tackle, Carpenter's Work Bench, two off. Wire Jigger Benches, with 14in. Wrought-iron Shafting, Pinions, &c., complete; lot of Deal Planks, iron Pump, three wood Skips, pair of Trap Springs, patent Axle and two Wheels, Wheelbarrow, 2-framed Doors, four Lashing Chains, quantity of old Iron, Timber, Tongs, Spanners, Spouting, Hammers and Pikes, 165 new Cast-iron Weights, from 28lb. to 2lb.; three Oven Doors and Frames, two Ladders, Iron Mangera, and sundry other Effects.
Sale to commence at half-past Two o'clock p.m.

1869

THE CROWN & CUSHION

BANK STREET,
BRADLEY,
BILSTON
Telephone:
01902 491277

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT

EVERY WEEKEND -
FRIDAY & SATURDAY EVENING
SUNDAY LUNCHTIME

Ann, Barry
& Staff
Welcome
Customers Old & New

2000

DOG AND PARTRIDGE

47, (38), (65), (23), Broad Street, (Middlefield Lane), BILSTON

OWNERS

Joseph John Bull, beerhouse keeper, Darlaston
Isaiah Martin
Major Cox
John Rolinson and Son Ltd. (leased from 1909)
Harmer and Co. Ltd. (leased)
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1965]

LICENSEES

Francis Roper [1851] – (1855);
John Page (1855 – [])
Isaac Bradley [] – (1858);
Ambrose Roper (1858 – [1870])
John Jackson [1870] – (1873);
Thomas Parker (1873 – 1875);
Isaiah Martin (1875 – 1898);
Major George Cox (1898);
George Burrows (1898 – 1901);
William Thomas Ash (1901);
Major George Cox (1901 – 1904);
Mrs. Rose Waldron [1904]
Henry Herbert Nuttall (1904 – 1906);
Louisa Martin (1906 – 1907);
Joseph Bagley (1907);
Major George Cox (1907 – 1909);
Fred John Burton [1908]
General Greaves Cox (1909 – 1910);
Captain Tideswell Cox (1910 – 1917);
Mrs. Frances Mary Cox (1917 – 1939);
Horace Richard Lowndes (1939 – [1940])
Dennis Jones []
Robert Collins [1986]
Steve Bunce [] – (1989)
Arthur Collett [1995]
Jane Parker [1997]
Jean Ratcliffe (1998 – [])
Satnam Sandhu [2005]

DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, BROAD-STREET, BILSTON.
TO be SOLD by PRIVATE TREATY, the LICENSES, GOODWILL and POSSESSION, of the above
Old Established Inn, now doing a good business. The present Proprietor is leaving on account of indisposition. Fixtures and Stock to be taken by valuation.
For particulars, apply to Mr. JOHN MASON, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Hall-street, Bilston.

1856

BROAD STREET, BILSTON,
DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN.
TO be DISPOSED OF by PRIVATE TREATY,
the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above
OLD-ESTABLISHED INN, now doing a first-rate business.
The present Proprietor is leaving solely on account of other engagements.
The Stock and Fixtures to be taken by valuation.
For particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. JOHN MASON, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Willenhall.

1857

1997

NOTES

23, Broad Street [1864], [1865]
65, Broad Street [1873], [1874], [1881], [1892], [1896]
38, Broad Street [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940], [1994], [1998]
47, Broad Street [2003]

OLD DOG AND PARTRIDGE [1858], [1861], [1871]

It was known locally as "The Dog and Devil".

1851 Census

Middlefield Lane

[1] Francis Roper (58), victualler, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Sarah Roper (59), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Ambrose Roper (20), son, at home, born Bilston;

[4] Ann Perry (20), domestic servant, born Bradley:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/12/1856 - Advert

"DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Broad Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, of the above Old Established Inn, now doing a good business. The present Proprietor is leaving on account of indisposition. Fixtures and Stock to be taken by valuation.

For particulars, apply to Mr. John Mason, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Hall Street, Bilston."

Birmingham Journal 5/9/1857 - Advert

"Broad Street, Bilston, DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN.

To be Disposed Of by Private Treaty, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above Old Established Inn, now doing a first-rate business.

The present Proprietor is leaving solely on account of other engagements.

The Stock and Fixtures to be taken by valuation.

For particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. John Mason, Auctioneer and Public House Agent, Willenhall."

Birmingham Daily Post 4/3/1858

"Isaac Bradley, butty collier, and landlord of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Bilston, was yesterday charged by Richard Edwards, miner, with paying him in a public house the sum of 11s 5d as wages for work done. Mr. Bartlett appeared for the prosecutor, and Mr. Waterhouse for the defence.

The complainant stated that he went to the defendant's on the 2nd of February, and asked for his wages, having left his employ. Defendant ordered him to go down to his house that night, and he would pay him. He accordingly went, and after waiting about two hours, the defendant came in, and upon seeing him (complainant) there, he called him outside the house, and paid him 11s 5d. Defendant also asked how much ale he had had on account, when complainant said he had had three pints. Defendant did not stop the money, but told him to pay for the drink.

William Thompson was called as a witness, and stated that he was present with the complainant at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE on the night in question.

Mr. Waterhouse called a witness for the defence, named Thomas Walker, who positively stated that the money was paid to the complainant, at a distance of at least 120 yards from the defendant's house. Mr. Waterhouse thereupon contended that the defendant had neither evaded nor violated the law, the act specifying that wages were not to be paid 'at or within a public house.'

The Bench seemed to question the evidence of defendant's witness, and inflicted a penalty of £5 and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/7/1859

"On Monday morning last, as Thomas Kitson, fifty-eight years of age, a blacksmith, was descending a pit at Caponfield, and when about ten yards from the bottom, he was thrown out of the skip, and his back and one of his thighs broken. He died on the following morning. An inquest was held on the body yesterday, before the Deputy Coroner, at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, Bilston, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Ambrose Roper = Ambrose Rooper

1861 Census

Broad Street – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

[1] Ambrose Rooper (30), innkeeper, born Bilston;

[2] Hannah Rooper (30), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Elizabeth S. Rooper (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Sarah Owen (16), servant, born Wolverhampton:

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1868

“Staffordshire Epiphany Sessions.....

Thomas Davis v J. Perks and W. Hatton, Esqrs.

The appellant, who keeps a marine store dealer's shop in Coseley Road, Bilston, appealed against the decision of the respondents, convicting him under the ‘Old Metal Dealers’ Act, 1861,’ for having in his possession a quantity of old iron which had been stolen, and which at the time he received it he had reasonable cause for suspecting to be stolen or unlawfully obtained. Mr. Young appeared in support of the conviction, and Dr. Kenealy and Mr. Bosanquet appeared for the appellant.

The evidence given in support of the conviction showed that on the 3rd of December, Police-constable Moffatt searched the premises of the appellant, and found concealed under a heap of old scrap iron a large quantity of boiler plates and a piece of rail, on which were the letters ‘tfields,’ forming the latter part of the word Priestfields. The rail had been stolen from the Priestfield works of Messrs. Ward, who had their rails marked with the word ‘Priestfields.’ The appellant, on being spoken to by the officer, said that some of the boiler plates did not belong to Messrs. Ward, and that he had bought a large quantity of the plates and some scraps from a man named Preston. (Preston was tried in the other Court during the day on the charge of stealing the iron from Messrs. Ward, and was sentenced to twelve months’ imprisonment.) The iron rail was positively identified as the property of Messrs. Ward by Mr. John Parton, a mine agent, who stated that during the 21 years he had been in their employ he had never known a single pound of iron sold off the premises.

Mr. Bosanquet called Ambrose Roper, a licensed victualler at Bilston, who stated that he had been employed by the appellant to carry iron to his stores from the premises of Preston, who was a boiler maker, and employed several hands under him. He drew two loads from Preston's, consisting of rivets, scraps, boiler plates, &c.

Mr. Bosanquet elicited from one of the witnesses that some time since there was an extensive sale of old iron at the Millfields Works, and in addressing the Court for the appellant he contended that his client might naturally have supposed that the rail bearing the word ‘tfields’ had come from those works or from the Caponfield works.

The Court affirmed the conviction, with costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/4/1868 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

Ambrose Roper, of Broad Street, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Miner, and Carter for Hire, having been adjudged Bankrupt in Wolverhampton on the 21st day of April, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to Charles Gallimore Brown, Esq, a Registrar of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, at the First Meeting of Creditors, to be held on the 4th day of May, 1868, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

J. F. Thurstans, Esq, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.

At the meeting the Registrar will receive the proofs of the debts of the Creditors, and the Creditors may choose an Assignee or Assignees of the Bankrupt's estate and effects.

All persons having in their possession any of the effects of the said Bankrupt must deliver them to the Registrar, and all debts due to the Bankrupt must be paid to the Registrar.

Clifton N. Curtis, High Bailiff.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/5/1868 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

Ambrose Roper, of Broad Street, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Miner, and Carter for Hire, having been adjudged Bankrupt in Wolverhampton on the 21st day of April, 1868, a Public Sitting for the said Bankrupt to pass his Last Examination and make application for his Discharge will be held at the said Court, at Wolverhampton, on the 16th day of June, 1868, at Twelve o'clock at noon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said Bankrupt to surrender.

The Registrar of the Court is the Official Assignee, and J. F. Thurstans, Esq, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.

Clifton N. Curtis, High Bailiff.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/6/1868

“Wolverhampton County Court Bankrupts.....

Ambrose Roper, Bilston, supported by Mr. Thurstans, unopposed; order of discharge granted.”

John Jackson, beer retailer, Broad Street. [1870]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/7/1870

“An inquest was held yesterday, at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Broad Street, Bilston, by the Deputy-Coroner (Mr. W. H. Phillips), on the body of Simeon Jackson, a lad aged ten years. Deceased was playing in his uncle’s house, on the 11th inst, in Broad Street, when he accidentally fell into a boiler, containing a quantity of boiling water, and died the next day. He was attended by Mr. Larkin, surgeon, Church Street. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

Broad Street – OLD DOG AND PARTRIDGE

- [1] John Jackson (47), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Jackson (41), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] John Jackson (18), son, roller’s assistant, born Bilston;
- [4] George T. Jackson (17), son, roller’s assistant, born Bilston;
- [5] William Jackson (16), son, roller’s assistant, born Bilston;
- [6] Sarah A. Jackson (14), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Clara Jackson (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Samuel Jackson (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Martha Jackson (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Pamler Jackson (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [11] Emily Jackson (3), daughter, born Oldbury;
- [12] Jane Mustin (20), domestic servant, born Scotland:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/1/1880

“Staffordshire Assizes.....

Taylor v Martin.

This was an action to recover the value of a horse and cart. Mr. J. Underhill and Mr. Darling were for the plaintiff; Mr. Plumptre and Mr. R. E. Kettle were for the defendant.

The plaintiff, who is a grocer at Hall Fields, Bilston, had a horse, cart, and harness, which a man named Atkiss, then working a small pit in the neighbourhood, wished to buy, offering £14 for the horse, cart, and harness. According to plaintiff the price was so low that he would not take it, but he lent the horse and cart to Atkiss, who was to take care of the horse till he wanted the horse and cart. Atkiss sold up his things at the pit. Plaintiff applied for the horse and cart back, but it turned out they had been sold by Atkiss to defendant, who keeps the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN at Bilston.

The defence was that a sale by Taylor to Atkiss of the horse and cart had really been effected, and that therefore Atkiss had a right to sell them to defendant.

Witnesses were called who swore that they saw the horse and cart sold by plaintiff for £25, and that the plaintiff complained before the sale to the defendant that he could not get any money from Atkiss for the horse and cart.

Verdict for plaintiff, damages £25.”

1881 Census

65, Broad Street – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

- [1] Isaiah Martin (49), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary A. Martin (50), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Joseph Martin (19), son, coal miner, born Bilston;
- [4] Selfeaner Smith (20), general servant, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 16/9/1882

“On Tuesday evening, September 5th, a most enjoyable spread was partaken of by a number of members of the money club at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, Bilston, well catered and served by Mr. and Mrs. Martin (the host and hostess). Mr. H. Baker occupied the chair, and Mr. Watkin the vice. A number of toasts were given and drunk, and the vocalists readily were at the call of the chairman, aided by the excellent playing on the pianoforte.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/7/1883

“The usual supper in connection with the money club held at the house of Mr. Isiah Martin, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Broad Street, Bilston, was held on Tuesday evening. About 21 persons sat down to a good old English spread, put on the tables in Host Martin’s well-known style. After the withdrawal of the cloth, Mr. H. Watkiss was chosen to preside, and Mr. T. Beaman took the vice-chair. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were gone through, in addition to the health of the host and hostess. A harmonious evening was afterwards spent in singing and social enjoyment, interspersed with selections on the pianoforte by Mr. J. Smith.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

“Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

Isiah Martin, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 16/5/1885

“On Tuesday evening, the members of the money club in connection with the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, sat down to a well catered repast, ably served by Mr. Martin. The old club had proved a thorough success; and is to be followed by a new one. Mr. Smith ably presided at the pianoforte; vocal members did their part, and a most pleasant evening was spent.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/4/1891

“The polling for the election of four members on the Board of Township Commissioners for Bilston took place yesterday. An unusually large number of ratepayers had been nominated for the seats, but fifteen retired, leaving five to go to the poll The Gentlemen who went to the poll were.....

Isaiah Martin, licensed Victualler, Broad Street, Bilston.”

[He was not elected.]

1891 Census

65, Broad Street

[1] Isaiah Martin (57), licensed victualler, born Tipton;

[2] Mary A. Martin (70), wife, born Bilston;

[3] William Griffiths (12), grand-son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Mary A. Lotwick (66), sister, widow, born Tipton;

[5] Mary Lewis (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1901 Census

38, Broad Street

[1] William T. Ash (27), licensed victualler, born Willenhall;

[2] Rosannah Ash (26), wife, born Portobello;

[3] Percy Ash (1), son, born Portobello;

[4] Annie Richards (17), domestic servant, born Portobello:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/2/1903

“At the Bilston Licensing Sessions yesterday.....

Wine licenses were granted to Major George Cox, Broad Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Mail 26/9/1904

“An extraordinary tale of domestic infidelity was unfolded at the Tipton Police Court today, the defendant being John Thomas [Wilson], who was summoned by his wife for a maintenance order. The parties were married at Handsworth, and had three children. Defendant was now the licensee of the HORSELEY TAVERN, Tipton, but formerly was landlord of the OXFORD INN, Bilston. Whilst at Bilston he became acquainted with Rose Waldron, licensee of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Bilston. Subsequently he told his wife that he loved Waldron, and should have nothing more to do with her, adding that he wished she was a corpse. The wife stated that in consequence of his intimacy with the woman she went to reside with a nephew, and her husband took Rose Waldron to the HORSELEY TAVERN, where, it was alleged, she still lived with him. Defendant had sent sums of money to his wife amounting to £7. Defendant was ordered to contribute 30s weekly, his wife being allowed the custody of the children.”

Henry Herbert Nuttall – see also BIRD IN HAND, High Street, SEVEN STARS, High Street, HEN AND CHICKENS, George Street, and UNION MILL, Manor Road.

1911 Census

38, Broad Street

- [1] Captain Tideswell Cox (29), licensed victualler, born Bewdley;
- [2] Frances Mary Cox (26), wife, married 4 years, born Princes End;
- [3] Gladys Mary Cox (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Harriett Wilson (22), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1921 Census

38, Broad Street

- [1] Captain Tideswell Cox (40), licensed victualler, born Bewdley;
- [2] Frances Mary Cox (35), wife, born Princes End;
- [3] Gwladys Mary Cox (13), daughter, school, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/1/1939

“The visit of two policemen to a Bilston public house at 10.18pm on 19 December had a sequel at Bilston Police Court yesterday, when Frances Mary Cox, of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Broad Street, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquor during unpermitted hours. Arthur Augustus Howard, of 2, The Crescent, Bilston, and Leo Tart, Holmecroft, Prouds Lane, Bilston, were summoned for consuming after hours, and Mrs. Cox was further summoned for aiding and abetting.

Mrs. Cox said she served Howard and Tart with a beer at 10 o'clock and told them to drink it quickly. Howard and Tart both denied that they consumed after 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Cox was fined £5 and £3 3s costs for aiding and abetting in the consumption. The summons for selling was dismissed. Howard and Tart were each fined £2 with £1 1s costs.”

1939 Register

38, Broad Street (4 of 7)

- [1] Horace R. Lowndes, date of birth 4/12/1886, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Lizzie Lowndes, dob 18/3/1887, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Bess V. (Lowndes) Jones, dob 18/12/1913, shop assistant, gentleman's outfitter, single;
- [4] Betty (Lowndes) Grimes, dob 22/5/1920, shop assistant, ladies costume, single;

Closed

Demolished circa 1970.

It was rebuilt on the opposite side of the road c.1977.

Express & Star 21/8/2008

“A landlord known for ‘pulling the best glass of beer in Wolverhampton’ has died aged 88.

Dennis Jones was today described as a ‘true gentleman,’ having stood behind the bar of the FORGE HAMMER in Lanesfield for a decade from 1974 to 1984. He also worked at the ROCKET POOL and OLD BUSH in Bradley and the DOG AND PARTRIDGE in Bilston. Mr. Jones, of Bamber Close, Bradmore, was married to Pat, who died five-and-a-half years ago. They had five children, David, now 64, Alan, 62, Brenda, 56, Andrew, 53, and Mark, 45.

Daughter Brenda, who lives in Lanesfield, said her father was a well-known member of the community. ‘He was a very quiet man,’ Mrs. Paddock said today. ‘Mum was the bubbly one behind the bar but dad was well-known for pulling the best glass of beer in the city. People would always tell him that. He was a meticulous landlord and a true gentleman.’

Mr. Jones died of a heart problem on August 13. He moved into the pub trade aged 51 after working as a tool maker at firms including Villiers and Jone Hawk Engineers.

Mrs. Paddock added, ‘He was a wonderful dad. He never told us what to do – just gave out advice when we needed it. He very rarely raised his voice, because he didn’t need to. He commanded such respect. He was a very amiable person and was very well-read and articulate. He enjoyed working behind the bar and meeting people but I think he moved into the trade for mum really.’ Mrs. Paddock said her father enjoyed gardening and reading. ‘He also loved his animals and was very upset when his dogs and cats passed away,’ she added. Mrs. Paddock had been her father’s full-time carer for two-and-a-half years.

His funeral will take place at Bushbury Crematorium on Wednesday at 2pm.”

Dennis Jones – see also FORGE HAMMER, Lanesfield, OLD BUSH, Bradley, and ROCKET POOL.

Steve Bunce was married to Sue.

See also BLACK COUNTRY ARMS, Walsall.

Express and Star 17/12/1998

“Four men threw rubbish bins through the windows of a Bilston pub early today, following the start of a campaign by the licensee to rid it of what she says is a drug problem.

Jean Ratcliffe, who runs the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, says she has been trying to stamp out the pub’s drug difficulties since she took over in June. At 4.20am today a van pulled on to the pub car park in Broad Street, and four men, dressed in dark clothing, threw full rubbish bins through the windows in the bar.....”

Express & Star 7/8/2019

“Bosses of a Wolverhampton pub which was shut down for three months after a violent brawl have surrendered their licences. Wolverhampton Council’s licensing committee will meet on Monday for a licence review which will decide the fate of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE in Broad Street, Bilston. West Midlands Police applied for the review following a mass brawl at a ‘pool party’ at the pub in the early hours of July 14, which saw officers responding to reports of a machete attack and gunfire. A woman aged in her 30s was hit with what was believed to be a machete and taken to hospital for treatment for head injuries. Police arrested a 36-year-old woman on suspicion of wounding but she was released on police bail pending further enquiries. The pub’s licence was suspended in the aftermath of the incident, pending the licensing committee review hearing. The pub was then ordered to close for three months on July 19 after police applied to magistrates in Dudley. Papers being presented to committee for Monday’s hearing reveal that premises licence holder Mark Coyne gave up his permit on July 26. The designated premises supervisor, Sharon Clare, also relinquished her licence on the same date. But there is still time for the licence to be transferred and so members will meet to decide whether or not it needs to be revoked completely. The police’s application has been supported by both the council’s environmental health and licensing departments. Licensing bosses said the DOG AND PARTRIDGE had been refused permission to host a ‘family fun day’ on the day before the incident due to ongoing noise complaints related to the venue. A report from licensing to committee said, ‘Councillors may conclude from the evidence given within the review application and at the hearing that there is no alternative but to revoke the premises licence.’”

Express & Star 15/6/2021

“A knifewoman who fractured a fellow party-goer’s head with a meat cleaver at a Black Country pub has been jailed for nine years. Karlene Muschette slashed the woman’s face and back and struck her on the head at a beach-themed party at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE pub in Bilston. A gun was also fired when what was supposed to be a family-friendly party turned violent at the Broad Street pub in July 2019. Footage posted on social media showed a fight starting inside the pub during the pool party before trouble spilled outside. Muschette and her 34-year-old victim are believed to have been involved in an online feud for some time before the party, West Midlands Police said. An argument then broke out between two groups following a row between Muschette and the woman.

Initially ice and water bottles were thrown before the situation escalated and Muschette ran towards the woman who shouted ‘leave me alone’ before using a meat cleaver to slash her across the face and again on her back. The woman tried to fight back but Muschette struck her head, resulting in her skull being fractured. Muschette claimed the attack was in response to ongoing harassment over social media. The 38-year-old, of Hartill Street, Willenhall, was found guilty of wounding and sentenced to nine years behind bars at Wolverhampton Crown Court on Friday.

Meanwhile the pub was forced to close after the brawl, before the landlord voluntarily surrendered his licence. Wolverhampton Council said at the time that the pub had held the event despite previously being denied a licence for a family fun day and barbecue.

Detective Constable Craig Bathgate, from West Midlands Police CID, said, ‘This was a complex investigation which involved multiple witness accounts and historical allegations. However, forensic evidence and extensive investigations have ensured that Muschette has been brought to justice for this brutal attack which could have resulted in far worse, and even fatal, injuries. It is right that she has received a significant sentence for her actions.’”

Closed [2023]

2010

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

AMBROSE ROPER, of Broad-street, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Miner, and Carter for Hire, having been adjudged Bankrupt in Wolverhampton on the 21st day of April, 1868, is hereby required to surrender himself to CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, Esq., a Registrar of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, at the FIRST MEETING of CREDITORS, to be held on the 4th day of May, 1868, at twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the COURT HOUSE, QUEEN STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON.

J. F. THURSTANS, Esq., of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.

At the meeting the Registrar will receive the proofs of the debts of the Creditors, and the Creditors may choose an Assignee or Assignees of the Bankrupt's estate and effects.

All persons having in their possession any of the effects of the said Bankrupt must deliver them to the Registrar, and all debts due to the Bankrupt must be paid to the Registrar.

CLIFTON N. CURTIS, High Bailiff.

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861.

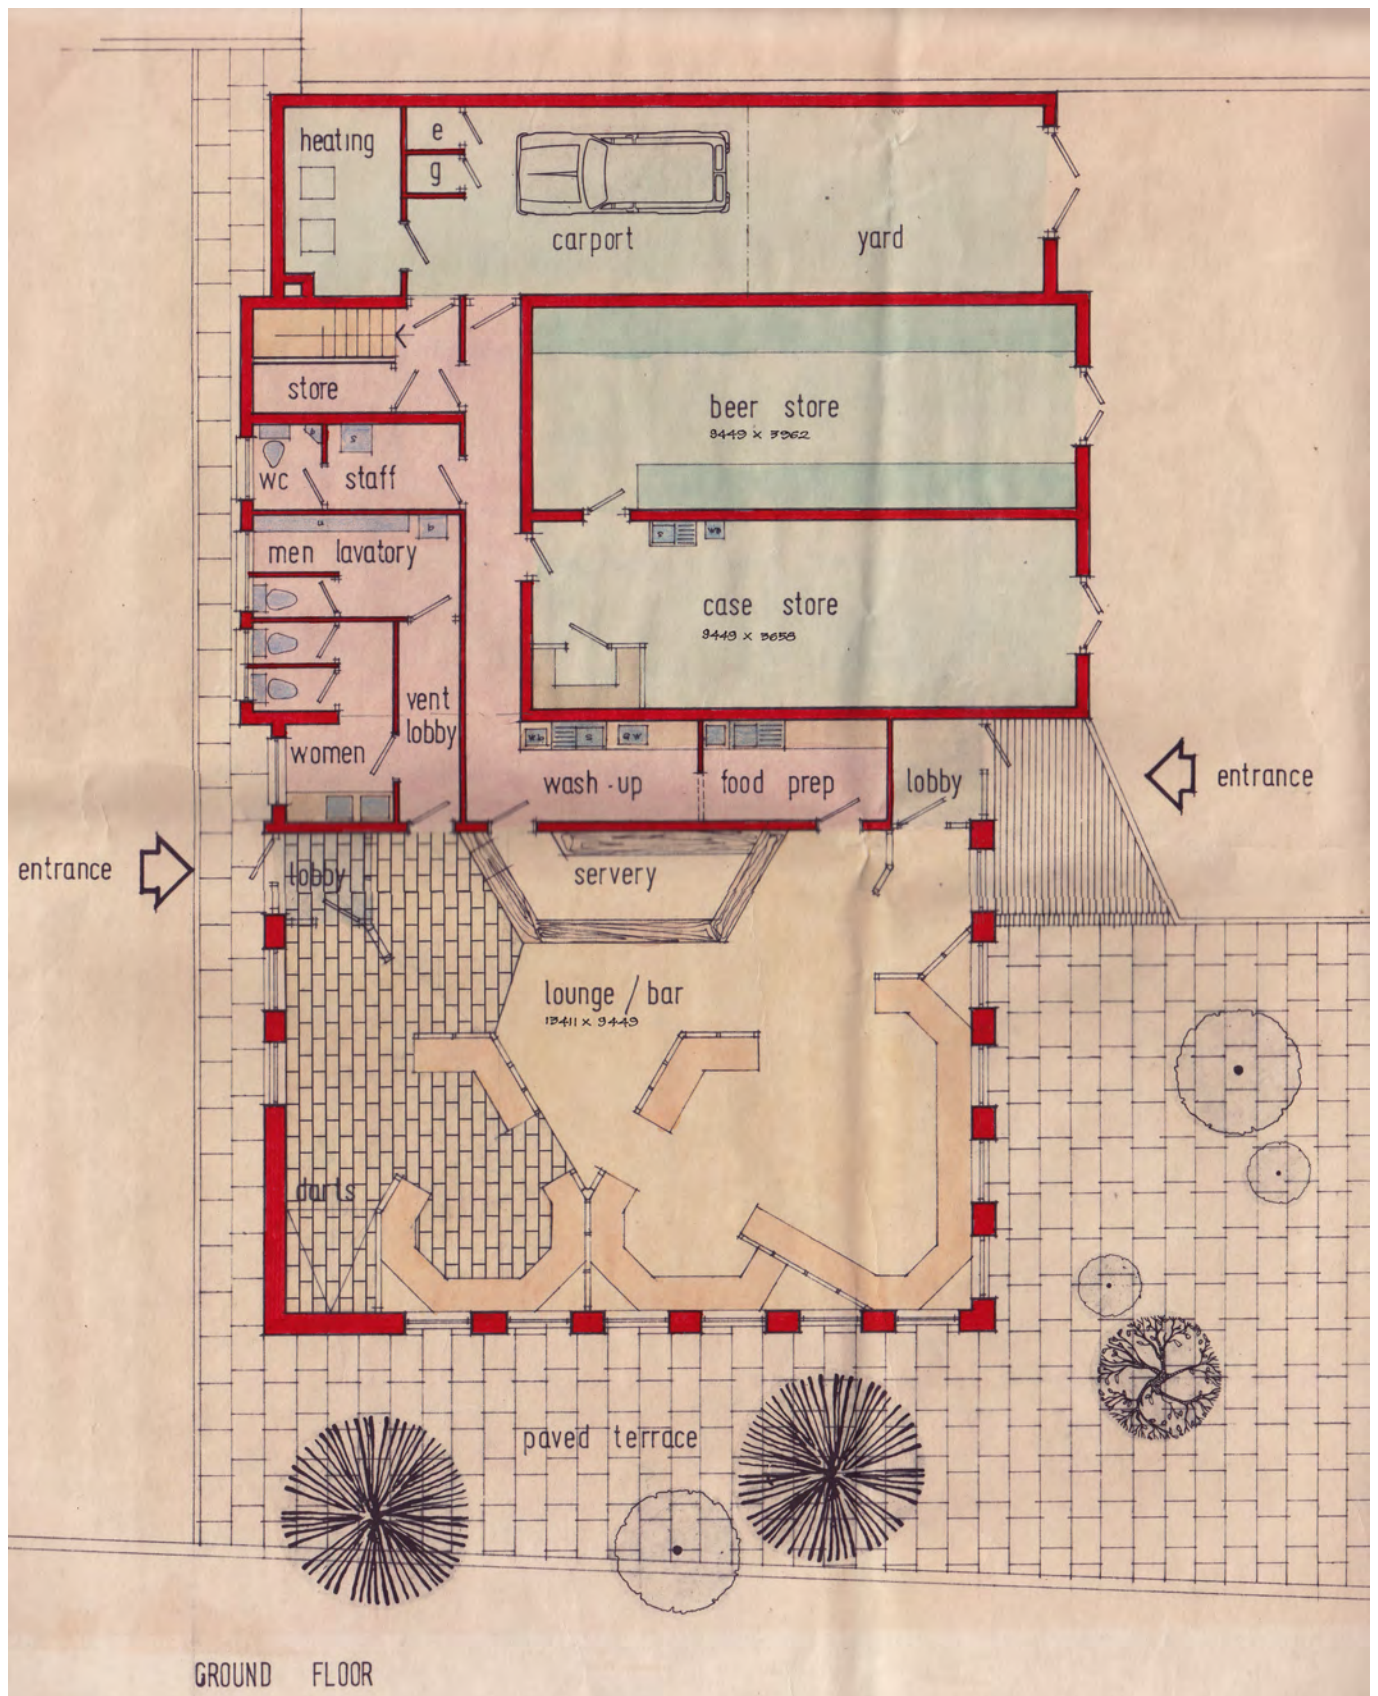

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

AMBROSE ROPER, of Broad-street, in the township of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Miner, and Carter for Hire, having been adjudged Bankrupt in Wolverhampton on the 21st day of April, 1868, a Public Sitting for the said Bankrupt to pass his LAST EXAMINATION and make application for his Discharge will be held at the said Court, at WOLVERHAMPTON, on the 16th day of June, 1868, at Twelve o'clock at noon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said Bankrupt to surrender.

The Registrar of the Court is the Official Assignee, and J. F. THURSTANS, Esq., of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.

CLIFTON N. CURTIS, High Bailiff.

1868

Plan 1977

DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE

14, (39), Cambridge Street / Duke Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Richard Atkiss
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Richard Atkiss [1867] – 1875);
Thomas Beaman (1875 – 1886);
Mrs. Sarah Jane Beaman (1886 – 1921);
John Silvester (1921 – 1923);
John Henry Marshall (1923 – 1937);
Louisa May Marshall (1937 – 1938);
Henry Crookes Hibbert (1938 – [1947])

NOTES

39, Cambridge Street [1874], [1881], [1884], [1892], [1896]
14, Cambridge Street [1904], [1908], [1911], [1912], [1916], [1921], [1932], [1937], [1939], [1940]

Birmingham Daily Post 31/8/1867

“Yesterday, the annual meeting of Magistrates for the granting of victuallers licenses, in the Bilston Police Division, was held at the Police Court in that town.....

Mr. Fellows (of the firm of Brown and Fellows) sought, on behalf of Mr. Richard Atkiss, for a license to the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street. The house was, he said, in a new district, in which about fifty or sixty houses had been erected during the last two or three years. There was no licensed house within 200 yards, and there were two new factories, employing about 100 hands, built within sixty yards of it. The application was unopposed Deferred to the adjourned licensing meeting.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1867

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

The applications for licenses to DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, Cambridge Street which were adjourned, were refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1868

“The annual Licensing Sessions for Bilston district was held yesterday, at the Police Court.....

Mr. Fellows applied for a license to the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, Bilston, kept by Mr. Atkiss Application refused In the case of Richard Atkiss, the Magistrates said, without making any promise, that they would visit the house during the next year.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

Applications for a new license.....

Mr. Fellows applied on behalf of Richard Atkiss, of the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, Cambridge Street, which house was away from any other licensed house, and was said to be needed, and in every way suitable for the requirements of the neighbourhood. There was no opposition. Granted.”

BILSTON TOWN CRICKET CLUB,

SEASON 1883.

THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING
Of the above Club, will be held at the
DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge
Street, Bilston, on SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 10TH.
To commence at 7-30.

Any persons intending to become members are respectfully requested to attend.

1883

Public Notices.

THE FIRST ANNUAL MEETING of the MILLMEN'S ASSOCIATION will be held on SATURDAY EVENING, February 7th, 1885, at the
DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, CAMBRIDGE-
STREET, BILSTON. Chair to be taken at Seven o'clock prompt.

All Millmen are invited.

1885

Richard Atkiss was also a coal dealer.

1871 Census

Cambridge Street – DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE

- [1] Richard Atkiss (47), publican and coal miner, born Bilston;
- [2] Ann Atkiss (45), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Mary Atkiss (19), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Eliza Atkiss (17), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] William Atkiss (14), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Thomas Atkiss (13), son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [7] Agnes Atkiss (11), daughter, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [8] Abraham Atkiss (9), son, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [9] Frank Atkiss (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Martha Atkiss (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [11] Mary Lovatt (16), domestic servant, born Willenhall;

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/4/1872

“On Monday the coroner (Mr. W. H. Phillips) held an inquest at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston, touching the death of John Jones, a doggy, employed at Messrs. Thorneycrofts’ colliery, who met with his death under the following circumstances. He was clearing away some coal from the bottom of the shaft, when a skip was lowered and he was so severely crushed that he died. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Midland Examiner 22/5/1875 - Deaths

“On the 20th inst, Mrs. Atkiss, the wife of Richard Atkiss, Cambridge Street Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/10/1876

“On Wednesday night, the members of Court Welcome Foresters, No.4723, of the Ancient Order of Foresters, assembled at the Court-house, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, for the purpose of presenting a member’s neck ribbon, with the emblem of the Order, to the Rev. C. Lee. There were about 100 members and visitors present, including all the CRs from all the Courts in the town.

Brother Thomas Wright, CR of the Court, made the presentation, and expressed the pleasure it gave him to do so, assuring the rev. gentleman that it was intended as a mark of the esteem and respect with which they regarded him. In reply, the rev. gentleman said he was proud to be associated with their Order, and would consider it to be a duty and a pleasure to help them at any time.

Songs enlivened the proceedings, and a very pleasant evening was spent.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/2/1880

“On Tuesday evening the anniversary dinner of the members of Court Welcome Foresters AOF took place at the Courthouse, the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston. There was a large attendance of members. The dinner was served in excellent style by the worthy host, Mr. Thomas Beaman, and was heartily enjoyed. After the removal of the cloths, Mr. Alfred Akers was voted to the chair, and the hon. member Mr. D. Morris to the vice-chair. The usual loyal toasts having been drunk, the remainder of the evening was devoted to music and singing by various members and friends of the court.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/6/1880

“Yesterday afternoon Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, held an inquest at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston, on the body of a man named John Clark, of Leicester, who was killed on the Great Western Railway on Sunday morning. Inspector Ledbrook and Mr. Tinley (stationmaster at Bilston) represented the company.

Bentley Whittaker, a boy, deposed that on Sunday morning, about 9.40, he saw the deceased sitting on the side of the line eating something and drinking out of a soda-water bottle. Deceased afterwards walked across the rails, and witness called out to him that a train was coming. Deceased, however, paid no attention to his warning, but lay down on one of the rails on which the train was running, and witness ran to tell his brother. When he returned he found that the deceased had been killed.

Police-constable Price stated that he assisted to remove the body to the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN. The face was terribly smashed and the body had been pushed by the lifeguard in front of the wheel into the 'six foot.' In his pockets he found a portion of a pork pie and a bottle containing whiskey.

John Pugh, the driver of the 9.35 passenger train from Wolverhampton, stated that as he was approaching Pardoe's Bridge he saw the deceased walking along the 'six foot.' Witness thought he was a platelayer. When about fifteen yards from him the deceased went to down on his hands and knees and placed his head on the rail. Witness blew his whistle, but deceased did not move and the lifeguard struck his head and knocked it off the rail.

Edward Clark, a warehouseman, living in Duke Street, Leicester, stated that the deceased was his brother, a coach trimmer, who had lived in Asylum Street, Leicester. He left home on Saturday morning in search of work. Deceased had been out of work for about twelve months, and his inability to maintain his family had preyed upon his mind. Witness last saw him on Wednesday, and on that occasion and on a previous date when conversing with him he thought the balance of deceased's intellect was upset. Deceased was a sober man, and he left Leicester to go to Birmingham. He was 40 years of age, and left four children.

A verdict was returned that deceased had committed Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/7/1880

"Mr. W. H. Phillips (Coroner) held an inquiry at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston, yesterday, touching the death of Sarah Ann Watkins, wife of Thomas Watkins, cabinetmaker, who hanged herself on Sunday night. A verdict was returned that deceased committed Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/7/1880

"On Tuesday night a meeting of the representatives of the tinsplate makers of South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston, to consider the proposals of the employers to reduce the wages.

Mr. William Lewis, the general secretary of the Independent Association of Tinsplate Makers, delivered a long address. He said he was going round to the employers with a view to convince them that it would be more honourable to reduce the make than reduce the wages of the men, and out of twenty-two whom he had seen, only one declined to go in for a restriction in the output, and at a meeting of fifty-four manufacturers of tin plates, held on Friday last, it was resolved by a large majority to reduce production (applause). Mr. Spence, at Birmingham, had stated that the legitimate demand for tin plates was 5,000,000 tons per annum, while they were making at the rate of 6,000,000 tons per annum. Therefore the natural remedy for this state of things was to decrease the quantity made. He then advised the men to be firm in resisting any reduction in wages.

Other addresses having been delivered, a resolution was unanimously agreed to that a reduction of wages would assist neither the masters nor the men, and calling upon the operatives employed at the works of Messrs. Bradley, Sparrow, Baldwin, and Broadwater to resist the attempt of the masters to reduce their wages."

Evening Express 10/1/1881

"A meeting of ironworkers was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, on Saturday night, to protest against the reduction of 3d per ton which has just taken place in their wages, and to consider the best course to adopt for obtaining better payment.

A workman presided, and explained that the meeting was an adjournment of Monday's gathering. He condemned the calling of the meeting on Tuesday, at which it was decided to give notice to withdraw from the Wages Board. The week which had just passed, he said, had been an anxious one alike to masters and men. Some of the employers had been complaining loudly to their puddlers, and said that if they did not return to work legal proceedings would be taken against them for breach of contract.

A puddler said that the operatives' representative of the Bilston district had promised to attend that meeting, but he was not present. He thought they were being treated unfairly, and said that if their representatives acted towards the men as they would have the operatives believe they did, the masters would not attempt to take such advantage of them.

It was proposed by a workman that notice should be given for the abolition both of the Conciliation Board and of the sliding scale. Another workman seconded the proposition.

Another operative said that he held with doing away with the present sliding scale, but not with the Conciliation and Arbitration Board. He had never derived any benefit in former years from strikes, and the abolition of the Board would lead to almost constant lockouts. This was seconded, the operative remarking that what was wanted was that the men should be paid 1s a ton over the usual allowance per £1 in the selling price of iron, and not 6d as now. The accountants had two classes of iron to go by – the six highest and the six lowest priced. It was very easy for eleven of the firms, in order to get the men's wages down, to pay the twelfth firm to sell his iron at a lower price than he could make it for. The men had it within their knowledge where one firm had been selling marked iron at £4 2s per ton. This was a lower figure than the pigs for making the iron could be purchased at.

Another puddler said that in Staffordshire, where there was one marked bar firm there were nearly twenty sheet, hoop, and plate mills. The men should be paid upon the basis of those products which were now the staple trades of the district. If the Arbitration Board was done away with their wages would have to be regulated by strikes. As the men did not appear to be satisfied with Mr. Chamberlain, he should suggest that Sir Rupert Kettle be asked to take their case in hand once more (hear, hear).

Another operative said that there were works in South Staffordshire which formerly turned out as many as 1,000 tons of bars per week; but now the output was not ten tons weekly, the firm having commenced to make sheets and plates because they could not sell their bars. It was impossible for the men to be properly paid by any sliding scale, unless it took sheets and plates as its basis. Sheets (singles) were now being sold for £7 10s per ton, and if they were the foundation of the scale the operative would now be getting 8s 6d per ton. He was now only receiving 7s 3d. The commonest of plates were realising £7, and even at that figure the men would receive 1s per ton more than now. Neither T nor angle iron were reckoned in the sliding scale. He moved, as an amendment, that Mr. Capper give a month's notice for a reconsideration of the sliding scale, and that hoops, sheets, and plates be considered as the basis of that scale. This was seconded, and, after much discussion and disorder, was declared by the Chairman to have been carried over the original proposition. The meeting then separated."

1881 Census

39, Cambridge Street – DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE

[1] Thomas Beaman (37), innkeeper, born Moxley;

[2] Sarah J. Beaman (31), wife, born Bilston;

[3] William Beaman (5), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Maud M. Beaman (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] Mary Sambridge (19), general servant, born Willenhall:

Evening Express 5/4/1881

"The adjourned inquiry touching the death of Eliza Musty, aged 26 years, a domestic servant, who died suddenly at the residence of Mr. Samuel Waldron, Wellington Street, Bilston, on the night of the 28th ult, was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, before H. Brevitt, Esq, deputy coroner. The inquiry had been adjourned for Dr. Smith to make a post mortem examination of the deceased.

Mrs. Waldron, who was called, said during the time deceased had been in her employ her health had been good, and she had only once complained of illness. She saw her alive about twenty minutes to 12 in the dining-room on the night of her death, and she then appeared in good health. She had complained of no illness during the day. At twenty minutes past 12 witness saw her in bed, and asking her what was the matter, deceased replied, 'I am dying.' Dr. Smith said he had made a post mortem examination, and found about twenty stones in the gall-bladder, one of which had got impacted in the gall-duct. The lungs were deeply gorged with blood, and the air tubes full of frothy blood, the heart itself being empty. The cause of death was syncopal asphyxia, arising from shock and loss of blood.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Evening Express 21/10/1881

"On Wednesday evening, the anniversary dinner of the Court Welcome Foresters, AOF, was held at the Courthouse, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston. The dinner was capitally served up by the worthy host, Bro. T. Beaman, at which between forty and fifty, including several of the honorary members, sat down. After full justice had been done to the viands, the chair was taken by Bro. R. J. Rogers, and the vice-chair by Bro. T. W. Green, PDCR. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts having been heartily drunk, the Chairman proposed, in suitable terms, the toast of 'The Wolverhampton and Tipton District,' to which Mr. T. W. Green, PDCR, responded. The toast 'Success to Court Welcome Foresters' was responded to by Bro. W. Clews, who stated that the Court had at the present time a capital of £942, of which £800 was invested in Debenture Bonds of the Wolverhampton Corporation, yielding interest at 4 per cent. All the Court funds were in a satisfactory condition, with a large balance in each instance. The Court had been in existence 16 years, during which time it had paid £716 in sick pay. The proceedings were enlivened by some capital singing by Bros. J. Caddick, J. Nash, S. Evans, J. Bignell, J. Spittle, J. Smith, J. Harper, W. Jones, and T. W. Green."

Birmingham Daily Post 6/9/1882

“For the first time during the past twenty years, the annual election of Township Commissioners for Bilston will this year pass over without a poll. There are four vacancies to be filled, caused by the retirement by rotation of Messrs. H. W. Larkin, John Rogers, Stephen B. Cole, and T. Morrell, and the election is fixed for tomorrow. These four gentlemen have been renominated, and twelve new nominations were also sent in. All the new candidates have, however, retired, and the old members will, therefore, tomorrow be declared elected without opposition. The new candidates who retired were.....

T. Beaman, innkeeper, Cambridge Street.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 14/10/1882

“The members and friends of the Bilston Town Cricket Club ended the season, on Saturday evening, by enjoying, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, a most sumptuous spread, well catered and served by Mr. and Mrs. Beaman. Upwards of 50 persons partook of the excellent fare.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 10/3/1883 - Advert

“Bilston Town Cricket Club. Season 1883.

The Annual General Meeting of the above Club, will be held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, on Saturday Evening, March 10th. To commence at 7-30.

Any persons intending to become members are respectfully requested to attend.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

“Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

T. Beaman, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, Cambridge Street, Bilston.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/12/1883

“.....It is pleasing to notice that Bilston Town Cricket Club is progressing, both in the number of its members, and in its finances..... On Saturday evening, the annual dinner in connection with the club, was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, when most of the members, with a few additional friends, assembled. Mr. Thomas Beaman, the host, placed an excellent spread upon the tables, which was graced with choice chrysanthemums, the gift of a member of the club, in addition to the ‘good things’ provided..... In responding to the toast of the ‘Host and Hostess,’ Mr. T. Beaman referred with pleasure to the confidence reposed in him, and expressed his intention to do all he could to promote the welfare of the club, and to do all he could for their comfort so long as they honoured him with their patronage.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 15/3/1884

“The Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes appeared, with their full regalia, at the new lodge, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE (Mr. Beaman, landlord), on Tuesday evening last, when a most enjoyable evening was spent by the Bilston members and the visitors.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/6/1884

“The committee appointed to organise a Millmen’s Union for the Midlands met by adjournment on Saturday night, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston. A set of rules was adopted by which the union receives the name of the South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire Association of Millmen. The preamble states that the vast extent to which machinery has been applied in the sheet-iron industry has tended to increase the quantity of this special class of manufacture to such an alarming degree that necessity arises to create some means by which the evils attendant upon over-production – such as undue fluctuations, low prices (prices that do not yield a fair profit to masters, nor fair wages to the workmen, and both are dissatisfied), and non-uniformity of employment – may be avoided. The scope of the association is stated to consist in guaranteeing the members against those distressing privations consequent upon, and inseparable from, the constantly recurring fluctuations in the market of labour, and also their protection against incursions made by employers.....

The arrangements made as to funds are that each member shall contribute 3d per week, and pay an entrance fee of 1s. The chief provision is that any member advised by the Executive Committee to leave work owing to dispute with employers receives £1 from the funds of the Association per week during the continuance of the dispute. The number of men who will be affected by the new association is estimated at between 700 and 800, for the interests not only of sheet-mill men are taken into account, but those also of the plate mills, merchant mills, guide mills, and hoop mills. It is understood that the collection of funds will commence at the various works on the 28th. The election of officers was completed on Saturday night."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/1/1885

"A public meeting of millmen, held under the auspices of the South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire Association of Millmen, took place on Saturday evening, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston. The meeting was very largely attended. The president of the association (Mr. R. Clarke) occupied the chair. The object of the gathering was to condemn the action of certain employers in the recent attempt to make special arrangements with their workmen contrary to the Wages Board regulations, and the following resolutions were carried with enthusiasm. 'That this meeting protests its bitterest indignation and unqualified condemnation at the recent attempt of certain employers of labour, and also of some of the millmen of this district, in making private arrangements to reduce millmen's wages contrary to Rule 2 of the Wages Board, thereby depriving certain other millmen of a fair chance of a livelihood.' The men to whom this resolution referred protested against the resolution being passed, as they considered themselves justified in the action they had taken, and, as they promised not to go to the works again, the meeting afterwards agreed to exonerate them from all blame, but decided to pass the resolution as a protection of the trade in future.

After a spirited discussion on the subject of organisation, and the principles of conciliation and arbitration, the following resolution was unanimously adopted. 'That this meeting considers the time has arrived when decided and united action should be taken against the unjust and cowardly attempt of certain employers to destroy the influence of the Conciliation Board by making special contacts with unprincipled workmen.'

At the close of the meeting several works which had not joined the association expressed their intention to do so at once. The association is now an influential one, and bids fair to become a powerful instrument for the protection of millmen."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/2/1885 - Advert

"The First Annual Meeting of the Millmen's Association will be held on Saturday Evening, February 7th, 1885, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston. Chair to be taken at Seven o'clock prompt. All Millmen are invited."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/10/1885

"A meeting of trade unionists was held on Saturday night, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston. Mr. R. Clarke, president of the Millmen's Association, occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance. A deputation from the Wolverhampton Trades Council, consisting of Messrs. G. Sale (president), W. F. Mee, and G. R. Cocking (secretary) was present.

Mr. Cocking, addressing the meeting, remarked that the Wolverhampton and Birmingham Chambers of Commerce had, in answering the questions submitted to them by the Royal Commission on Trade, given it as their opinion that the present depression was largely owing (1) to legislative interference with the hours of labour by Factory and Workshop Acts; (2) the rate of wages and hours of labour in Germany, France, Belgium, and all other manufacturing countries being lower and longer than in this country; (3) the influence of trades unions limiting, if not destroying, freedom of contract between masters and men; and (4) the better technical education of the foreign workman. Without wishing to challenge the rights of the masters to give publicly to their views, the Wolverhampton Trades Council felt that it was a duty which they owed to themselves and to the working class generally to give equal publicity to the views entertained by the workman on these important questions – (hear, hear) – and with this object in view the Council intended holding a representative meeting of unionists in Wolverhampton the latter end of the present month.

Addresses were also given in support of the proposal mentioned by Mr. Cocking and in favour of the federation of trades unions by Mr. Baldwin (secretary of the Millmen's Association), Mr. Mee, Mr. Gough (secretary of the Engineers Association), Mr. Sale, and Mr. E. Jones (president of the Engineers Association), and the meeting concluded with the usual votes of thanks."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/2/1886

“The second annual meeting of the South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire Association of Millmen was held on Saturday night, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, Mr. Joseph Sutherland presiding. The annual report, which was adopted, set forth that the enthusiasm formerly manifested in the association had unfortunately collapsed, and that, had the pledges made at the last annual meeting been faithfully kept, the association would have been a most powerful instrument in protecting millmen against the prevailing evils which had overtaken the trade There was, however, reason for congratulation that the Millmen’s Association still existed; and as new life was about to be infused into it by a large additional membership, there was a probability of its ultimate success.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/10/1886

“John Legan, Hanley, was charged with attempt to defraud the Buffalo Lodge at Bilston.

Thomas Lowe said he was a member of the Buffalo Lodge which was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE HOTEL, Bilston. On Tuesday night between 8 and 9 o’clock he was at the lodge at the place named, when the prisoner sent up a card and witness was asked to go and see him. He went down and found the prisoner could not give him the necessary signs or pass word. He was consequently refused relief. The presentation of the card was an application for relief. The members of the order were provided with travelling cards which entitled them to relief.

The magistrates said there was some doubt as to the law on the point, and prisoner would have the benefit of that doubt. He would therefore be discharged.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/11/1886

“An inquest was held yesterday at Cambridge Street, Bilston, touching the death of Emily Florence Green, 9, daughter of Enoch Green, stock-fitter, of Cambridge Street. Chief Superintendent Longden attended on behalf of the police.

On the 10th inst the deceased returned home from St. Luke’s Church Schools complaining of a headache, and the same evening she was seized with an illness. She subsequently stated that when at school a boy unwittingly struck her on the head with a stick. The girl gradually got worse, and, after having several fits, she died on Sunday night. The enquiry was adjourned, in order to ascertain whether death resulted from violence or from natural causes.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 24/11/1886

“Yesterday an adjourned inquest was held at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Bilston, upon the body of Emily Florence Green, aged nine, of Cambridge Street, who died on the 14th inst, under rather peculiar circumstances. Mr. S. A. Smith, surgeon, deposed to having made a post mortem examination. There were no external marks of injury, and in his opinion death had resulted from meningitis, which might have arisen naturally from shock to the system. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 11/2/1887

“The members of Bilston Town Cricket and Football Club held their first meeting this season, on Thursday evening last, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street. There was a very good attendance.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 22/7/1887

“On Saturday next, July 23rd, the members of the A.O.F. Court Welcome Foresters will hold their usual anniversary dinner at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE INN, Cambridge Street, Bilston, when it is sincerely hoped that a good muster of members will make it convenient to attend.”

1891 Census

39, Cambridge Street

- [1] Thomas Beaman (47), licensed victualler, born Moxley;
- [2] Sarah J. Beaman (41), wife, born Moxley;
- [3] Maude M. Beaman (17), daughter, barmaid, born Moxley;
- [4] William R. Beaman (15), son, engine fitter’s apprentice, born Moxley;
- [5] Edith H. Beaman (4), daughter, scholar, born Moxley;
- [6] Ethel M. Beaman (2), daughter, born Moxley;
- [7] Sidney Adkiss (10), nephew, scholar, born Moxley;
- [8] Caroline R. Wilson (20), domestic servant, born Daisy Bank;

Thomas Beaman died in the 4th quarter of 1896.

1901 Census

Cambridge Street – DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE

- [1] Sarah Jane Beaman (51), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] William Richard Beaman (25), son, engine fitter, born Bilston;
- [3] Charles Henry Beaman (19), son, commercial clerk, born Bilston;
- [4] Edith Helen Beaman (14), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Edith Mary Akers (22), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [6] Elizabeth Clark (22), domestic servant, born Moxley;

1911 Census

14, Cambridge Street

- [1] Sarah Jane Beaman (61), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] William Richard Beaman (35), son, engineer's fitter, born Bilston;
- [3] Charles H. Beaman (29), son, clerk (unemployed at present), born Bilston;
- [4] Edith H. Beaman (24), daughter, teacher of cookery and laundry work, born Bilston;
- [5] Martha Fellows (36), domestic servant (housemaid), born Walsall;
- [6] Gertrude Lacey (20), domestic servant (housemaid), born Bilston;

South Staffordshire Times 31/1/1920

"On Wednesday, at the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, the annual meeting of the Bilston Town Bowling Club was held. Mr. J. A. Harper was re-elected president; Mr. E. H. Fellows, vice-president; Mr. A. Bradley, captain; Mr. A. Roper, vice-captain; Mr. H. Preece, secretary and treasurer. The revenue account showed the total receipts to be £362 18s 3d, with a profit of £34 12s 2d. With bank interest this was increased to £55 4s 1d. The excess of assets over liabilities amounts to £122 9s 6d. The club owns the land on which the greens are situated, the pavilion, greenhouses, etc."

1921 Census

14, Cambridge Street – DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE

- [1] Sarah J. Beaman (71), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Edith H. Beaman (34), daughter, home duties, born Bilston;
- [3] Amelia Hedge (19), servant, born Willenhall;

1937 Probate

"John Henry Marshall, of DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, 14 Cambridge Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 17 December 1936. Administration Birmingham 16 January to Louisa May Marshall, widow. Effects £471 6s."

1939 Register

14, Cambridge Street

- [1] Henry C. Hibbert, date of birth 25/5/1887, licensed victualler (retired iron and steel merchant), married;
- [2] Sarah E. Hibbert, dob 18/8/1886, domestic duties, married;

1948 Probate

"Henry Crookes Hibbert, of the DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE HOTEL, Cambridge Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 23 October 1947. Probate Birmingham 5 July to James Stuart Hibbert, draughtsman, and Cyril Vincent Matthews, solicitor. Effects £2,611 17s 7d."

Closed

It was demolished circa 1965.

DUKE OF WELLINGTON

Ettingshall Lane, (Catchems Corner), BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Evans [1828] – [1835]

NOTES

It was known as "The Hell House".

DUKE OF WELLINGTON [1828], [1835]

MARQUIS OF WELLINGTON [1834], [1835]

Ettenshall Lane [1835]

DUKE OF YORK

Wolverhampton Road, (Ettingshall Lane), BILSTON

OWNERS

Mrs. Jane Higgins

LICENSEES

John Smith [1841] – [1842]

James Higgins [1847]

Mrs. Jane Higgins [] – 1849);

Thomas Lowe (1849 – 1852);

Thomas Mann (1852 – 1857)

John Southall []

Enoch Evans [1864] – [1865]

NOTES

Bilston Road [1865]

FREEHOLD AND COPYHOLD PROPERTY, OLD
LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE,
And other Premises, in the Township of Bilston.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY MESSRS. WALKER & PAGE,
At the King's Arms Inn, in Bilston, on Monday, the 9th day of July, 1849, at six o'clock in the evening,
THE following FREEHOLD and COPYHOLD PRO-PERTIES, subject to such conditions as will be then read, and in the undermentioned or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale :—

MONMORE GREEN.

Lot I.—All that Old Licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, situate fronting to the Holyhead road, at the corner of Ettingshall Lanes, in the liberty of Bilston, occupied by the representatives of the late Mrs. Jane Higgins, and known by the sign of “THE DUKE OF YORK,” and containing three cellars, bar, parlour, tap room, two chambers, malt room, and large club room, brewhouse, large enclosed yard, pump of hard water, large stable, pigsty, and other appurtenances.

And also all those TWO adjoining COTTAGES, also fronting the Holyhead road, in the several occupations of Thomas Tranter and Widow Williams.

1849

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/1/1847

“On Tuesday, at the Bilston police court, Mr. Enoch Fellows, who has just taken to the BROWN LION INN, Bilston, and Mr. Jane Higgins, who has just taken to the DUKE OF YORK, near Monmore Green, made application to the Bench for permission to sell ale and spirituous liquors in their respective houses until the special sessions for granting transfers of licenses, to be held on the 8th of January inst, at Wolverhampton. Their applications were granted.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/6/1849 - Advert

“Freehold and Copyhold Property, Old Licensed Public House, and other Premises, in the Township of Bilston. To be Sold by Action, by Messrs. Walker & Page, at the KINGS ARMS INN, in Bilston, on Monday, the 9th day of July, 1849, at six o'clock in the evening, the following Freehold and Copyhold Properties.....
Monmore Green.

Lot I. All that Old Licensed Public House, situate fronting to the Holyhead road, at the corner of Ettingshall Lanes, in the liberty of Bilston, occupied by the representatives of the late Mrs. Jane Higgins, and known by the sign of the DUKE OF YORK, and containing three cellars, bar, parlour, tap room, two chambers, malt room, and large club room, brewhouse, large enclosed yard, pump of hard water, large stable, pigsty, and other appurtenances.

And also all those Two adjoining Cottages, also fronting the Holyhead road, in the several occupations of Thomas Tranter and Widow Williams.....

The above two lots are Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/8/1849

“At a special sessions, held at the Police Office, on Monday last, the following licenses were transferred.....
DUKE OF YORK, Bilston, from Jane Higgins, widow, to Thomas Lowe.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/2/1851

“At Bilston Public Office, on Tuesday last, Thomas Lowe, of the DUKE OF YORK, Wolverhampton Road; Thomas Henshaw, of the CROWN AND ANCHOR, Cozeley Row; Richard Talbot, of the CROWN INN, Hall Fields; Isaac Riley, of the ROYAL EXCHANGE; and John Roscoe, of the MOUNT PLEASANT, were fined in sums varying from 10s to 40s and costs, for infringement of their licenses by keeping their houses open beyond the specified hours, or allowing card-playing &c.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/4/1852

“At an adjourned special sessions for the transfer of victuallers’ licenses, within the division of Seisdon North.....
DUKE OF YORK, Ettingshall Lane, from Thomas Lowe to Thomas Mann, of Mamble Square.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/2/1857 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. S. Powell, at the house of Mr. Bullock, called the NEW BULLS HEAD INN, Wolverhampton Road, Bilston, on Wednesday, the 11th day of March next, at six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that Old Licensed Public House, situate in the parish of Bilston, at the junction of Ettingshall Lane with the turnpike road leading from Wolverhampton to Bilston, known by the sign of the DUKE OF YORK, and now in the occupation of Thomas Mann, at a yearly rental of £25. And also all that Piece of Land adjoining, having a frontage of eight yards and two feet to the said turnpike road, and upon which new houses can be erected.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. Pinchard and Shelton, Solicitors, Wolverhampton; to Mr. Waterhouse, Solicitor, Bilston; or to Mr. Armson, Builder, Coseley.”

London Gazette 8/1/1861

“John Southall, late of the DUKE OF YORK TAVERN, Ettingshall-lane, Bilston-road, Bilston, Licensed Victualler. In the Gaol of Stafford.”

Edinburgh Gazette 12/7/1864

“Enoch Evans, of the DUKE OF YORK INN, Bilston Road, Bilston, Wolverhampton, Stafford, licensed victualler and retailer of tobacco.”

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. S. POWELL, at the house of Mr. BULLOCK, called THE NEW BULL'S HEAD INN, WOLVERHAMPTON ROAD, BILSTON, on Wednesday, the 11th day of March next, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that OLD LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE, situate in the parish of Bilston, at the junction of Ettingshall-lane with the turnpike road leading from Wolverhampton to Bilston, known by the sign of the “Duke of York,” and now in the occupation of Thomas Mann, at a yearly rental of £25. And also all that Piece of LAND adjoining, having a frontage of eight yards and two feet to the said turnpike road, and upon which new houses can be erected.

For further particulars apply to Messrs. PINCHARD and SHELTON,
Solicitors, Wolverhampton; to Mr. WATERHOUSE, Solicitor,
Bilston; or to Mr. ARMSON, Builder, Coseley.

EAGLE

Wolverhampton Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Deeley [1833] – [1835]

NOTES

Thomas Deeley = Thomas Deely

Thomas Deeley was also a carpenter and pattern maker. [1833]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/6/1835 - Advert

“Capital Public House and Liquor Shop.

To be disposed of, the License and Fixtures of that excellent Public House known by the sign of the EAGLE TAVERN, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Deely, who is declining the business on account of ill health. The coming-in may be reduced to £100 if required.

Further particulars may be known on application to Mr. Deely, on the premises, or Mr. Jesse Wright, Auctioneer, Dudley.”

CAPITAL PUBLIC HOUSE and LIQUOR SHOP.
TO be disposed of, the Licence and Fixtures of that excellent Public House known by the Sign of the EAGLE TAVERN, Wolverhampton-street, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Deely, who is declining the business on account of ill health. The coming-in may be reduced to 100l. if required.
Further particulars may be known on application to Mr. Deely, on the premises, or Mr. Jesse Wright, Auctioneer, Dudley.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

40, Hill Street, (47, (46), Hall Street), Hallfields, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Caroline Brywood
J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd.
Millward Brothers, maltsters, Wednesbury
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

Joseph Brywood [1859] – [1876]
Caroline Brywood [1878] – 1882);
Arnold Walter Wolverson (1882 – 1884);
Thomas Henry Round (1884);
William Henry Moreton (1884);
William Riley (1884 – 1888);
Henry William Cole (1888 – 1891);
Adam Bailey (1891 – 189_);
Samuel Bright Oliver (189_ – 1896);
Thomas Wood (1896 – 1899);
Simeon Heath (1899 – 1900);
Abraham Wootton (1900 – 1902);
Alfred Roberts (1902);
Abraham Wootton (1902 – 1903);
John Thomas Hinsull (1903 – 1912);
Samuel James Plimmer (1912 – 1913):

NOTES

46, Hall Street [1861]
47, Hall Street [1871], [1881], [1891]
40, Hill Street [1904], [1911]
Hill Street [1911], [1912]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/10/1858

“At the Petty Sessions, on Tuesday, Mr. Whitehouse applied for a transfer of the license of the ROYAL OAK, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston, to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, in Hall Fields, and from the tenant of the one house to the tenant of the other. The application was opposed by Mr. Shipman, on behalf of Mr. Millward, who has the reversion of the ROYAL OAK property on the death of his mother, an old woman nearly eighty years of age. The transaction was also opposed by the landlords of the adjoining public houses to that to which it was proposed to transfer the license, and by a person named Fellows, who has a mortgage to the extent of £350 on the property. It was stated on the part of applicant that owing to the effects of mining operations the house had been rendered unfit for an inn, and that the transfer was contemplated for the benefit of the life-renter. Mr. Shipman objected that the transaction was not bona fide, Legge, the tenant of the ROYAL OAK, being only the nominal tenant, not having occupied the premises for four or five years, his client, Millward, having kept up the licence during that period, except for the last year, when payment was forestalled by his mother, with a view to the present application. Mr. Shipman’s objections were sustained, and the transfer refused.”

Joseph Brywood = Joseph Brydwood

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/8/1859

"Yesterday a special sessions was held at the Public Office, Bilston, for the renewal and granting of victuallers' licenses.....

The application of Mr. Brydwood, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Hallfields, for whom Mr. Bowen appeared, and which was opposed by Mr. Shipman, was refused."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/8/1859

"The annual meeting of Magistrates for the purpose of the renewal and granting of licenses for the township of Bilston and the neighbourhood was held at the Bilston Police Court on Friday last.....

Mr. Bowen applied for a license for the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE at Hall Fields, occupied by Mr. Brywood. Mr. Bowen dwelt at some length upon the requirements of the district, and with respect to the house itself said it was commodious, was provided with ample stabling, and in every way adapted for a licensed house.

Mr. Shipman, who was instructed to oppose the application, said that within half a mile of Mr. Brywood's house there were already two licensed houses, besides a number of beerhouses. The persons for whom Mr. Shipman opposed were Mr. Knight and Mr. Holloway, both of whom occupy licensed houses in the same street as the present applicant. Refused."

1861 Census

46, Hall Street

[1] Joseph Brywood (40), publican and puddler, born Bilston;

[2] Caroline Brywood (39), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Mary Ann Brywood (18), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] David Brywood (16), son, puddler, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Christiana Brywood (14), daughter, born Sedgley;

[6] John Brywood (3 months), son, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/5/1863

"T. [sic] Brywood, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley, Bilston, for allowing playing at bagatelle for ale, was fined 20s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/11/1863

"Bilston Petty Sessions.....

Henry Rowley, a little lad, was sent, for theft, to prison for three months. His mother, Fanny Rowley, for inciting him to steal, was sentenced to a similar punishment. A few days ago the two went into a public house kept by Joseph Brywood. The mother called for ale, and while attracting the attention of the mistress of the house by drinking it at the bar, the son slipped into a back room, and was presently seen walking out of the door with a bundle under his arm. The bundle contained two shirts, which were afterwards found hidden. It was also shown that the lad had stolen a pair of stays from the shop of Mr. Attwood, draper, of Church Street, and that he had been a companion in theft to a lad who was last week sent to prison for stealing meat from the butcher's shop of Mr. Richard Thompson."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/5/1865

"On Monday night, a silver watch, and £5 in gold and silver, was stolen from the person of Joseph Brywood, Allfield [sic], Bilston, while drunk in the neighbourhood of the Town Hall."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/3/1871 - Advert

"Lost, February 7th, Black Retriever Bitch, nine months old; fore toes tipt with white, and little on breast.

Anyone bringing the same to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Hall Street, Hallfields, Bilston, will be Rewarded. Anyone detaining her after this Notice will be Prosecuted."

LOST, February 7th, Black Retriever BITCH, nine months old: fore toes tipt with white, and little on breast. — Anyone bringing the same to the Elephant and Castle, Hall Street, Hallfields, Bilston, will be Rewarded. Anyone detaining her after this Notice will be Prosecuted.

1871 Census

47, Hall Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

[1] Joseph Brywood (48), puddler and publican, born Bilston;

[2] Caroline Brywood (47), wife, born Sedgley:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/3/1876

“On Friday night an accident, which might have resulted fatally, happened to Mr. John Fletcher, roller, of Queen Street, Bradley. He was returning from Dudley in company with Mr. Brywood, of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Bradley, and in getting out of the train he accidentally slipped, falling across the buffers between two carriages, receiving a serious contusion of the left side, and it was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Brywood prevented Mr. Fletcher from falling upon the line. Mr. Larkin, surgeon, was in immediate attendance, and rendered the necessary assistance to Mr. Fletcher’s injuries.”

Joseph Brywood was born in 1822.

He married Caroline Hickman on 8th September 1839.

He died in the 4th quarter of 1879.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/8/1878

“Bilston Annual Licensing Sessions.....

Mrs. Caroline Brywood, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley, made a personal application for a wine license. Applicant had kept the house for twenty years The Bench, without retiring, refused the whole of the applications.”

1881 Census

47, Hall Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

[1] Caroline Brywood (58), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;

[2] Clara D. Smith (12), grand-daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 29/7/1882 - Marriage

“On the 22nd inst, at St. Leonard’s Church, by the Rev. Charles Lee, vicar, Israel Bailey, of the CROWN INN, Bilston Street, Hall Fields, to Caroline Brywood, of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Hall Street, Hall Fields.”

1891 Census

47, Hall Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

[1] Henry W. Cole (39), iron worker shingler and publican, born Bilston;

[2] Maria Cole (41), wife, born Bilston;

[3] George J. Cole (18), son, iron worker cutter down in mill, born Bilston;

[4] Samuel A. Cole (17), son, iron worker cutter down in mill, born Bilston;

[5] Henry W. Cole (14), son, ironworker in sheet mill, born Bilston;

[6] Albert Cole (9), son, born Bilston;

[7] Ernest Cole (4), son, born Bilston;

[8] Alice Cole (15), niece, born Scotland;

[9] Sarah Morris (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Thomas Wood issued tokens.

1901 Census

Hill Street

[1] Abraham Wootton (25), boiler riveter, born Sedgley;

[2] Alice Wootton (26), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Leah Wootton (5), daughter, born Sedgley;

[4] David Wootton (2), son, born Sedgley;

[5] Sarah Marks (16), domestic servant, born Bilston:

John Thomas Hinsull, beer retailer, 40, Hill Street, Bradley. [1904]

1911 Census

40, Hill Street

- [1] John Thomas Hinsull (48), brewer, born Princes End;
- [2] Eliza Hinsull (46), wife, married 26 years, born Princes End;
- [3] Thomas Sydney Hinsull (22), son, engine fitter, born Bradley;
- [4] John Eger Hinsull (19), son, iron worker, born Bradley;
- [5] Henry Norman Hinsull (15), son, iron worker, born Bradley;
- [6] John Thomas Hinsull (10), son, school, born Bradley;
- [7] Slina Kate Hinsull (7), daughter, school, born Bradley;
- [8] Edith Hinsull (4), daughter, school, born Bradley;
- [9] Florance May Hinsull (2), daughter, born Bradley;
- [10] Ester Page (18), domestic servant, born Bradley;
- [11] Thomas Dolman (36), visitor, iron worker, born Bradley;

Samuel J. Plimmer, beer retailer, Hill Street. [1912]

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/2/1912

"Bilston Annual Licensing Sessions were held on the 9th inst.

The licenses of ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Hill Street were referred to the compensation authority for closing as not being required."

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/6/1912

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, at Eleven o'clock am, on Thursday, the 18th Day of July, 1912.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District). List of Licensed Premises.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Samuel J. Plimmer."

License refused by Compensation Authority on 18th July 1912.

Staffordshire Sentinel 18/7/1912

"The principal meeting of the County Compensation Authority was held in the Shire Hall, Stafford, today..... ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley agreements had been entered into, and there was no opposition."

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/8/1912 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 18th day of July, 1912, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 26th day of August, 1912, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licencee, Samuel J. Plimmer. Registered Owner, Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd."

Lichfield Mercury 3/1/1913

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The County Licensing Committee presented the following report Compensation.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bradley, Bilston (beerhouse, ante 1869) was referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, the committee being unable to approve the amount submitted.”

The license was not renewed in 1913.

Compensation of £255 was paid on 24th December 1913.

Lichfield Mercury 9/1/1914

“The annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

The Commissioners of Inland Revenue gave their decisions in the two cases referred to them last year.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bilston, £255.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 11/10/1924 - Advert

“Tuesday Next, October 14th, 1924, at 7 o’clock in the Evening.

Important Sale of Freehold Properties and Land, and de-licensed houses, at Bradley and Priestfields, which Cyril H. Green, FNAA, has been instructed to submit for Sale By Auction, at the PIPEHALL HOTEL, Bilston, on the above Date, subject to conditions of sale to be then read, the under-mentioned Properties.....

Lot 8. Two Freehold Houses, Nos.40 and 1, back, Hill Street, Bradley, £30 0s 2d in gross annual rentals.

No.40 Hill Street was formerly the licensed premises known as the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN (now de-licensed).”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 18/10/1924

“Mr. Cyril H. Green, FNAA, auctioneer, Bilston, conducted a successful sale of freehold properties, de-licensed houses, and land, situate in Bilston, Priestfields, and Bradley, at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, on Tuesday evening.....

Two houses in Hill Street, Bradley, one of which was the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, £245.”

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

122, (127), Oxford Street / Hare Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Francis Udall [1851] – 1888);
William Henry Haynes (1888 – 1894);
Nathan Eccleston (1894 – 1896);
James McNairnie (1896 – 1897);
Charles Henry Parsons (1897 – 1898);
Robert Edward Platt (1898 – 1899);
Charles Henry Walker (1899 – 1924):

LOT 1 (With Vacant Possession).
The Commodious Double-fronted DWELL-
ING HOUSE and PREMISES, until recently known as the

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN
(now de-licensed),

situate and being No. 122 in OXFORD ST.,
BILSTON, formerly in the occupation of Mr.
Albert Ward, but now void.

The Property has a frontage of 26ft. 6in. to Oxford Street, 8ft. 10in. to Hare Street, and contains an area of 292 square yards or thereabouts.

The Premises are very suitable for a Retail Shop, or could be easily converted into two good Dwelling Houses, at a small cost.

1924

NOTES

127, Oxford Street [1858], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1871], [1891]

122, Oxford Street [1901], [1911], [1912], [1921], [1924]

It had a beerhouse license.

Francis Udall = Francis Udell

1851 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Francis Udall (33), publican, born Handsworth;
- [2] Maria Udall (31), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Francis Udall (5 months), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Joseph Taffy (55), visitor, jobbing smith, born Wednesfield;
- [5] Louisa Jones (16), general servant, born Kingswinford;

Francis Udall, beerhouse keeper, 127, Oxford Street. [1858]

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1858

“The annual meeting of the subscribers and the ballot of the Birmingham and Midland Counties Art Union took place on Thursday week, at the rooms of the Society of Artists, Temple Row. The chair was filled by Mr. Edward Everitt. Mr. Hallam read the report. The sum available for the ballot was £275, which the committee had apportioned in the following manner. One prize of £50, one of £30, one of £25, two of £20, three of £15, five of £10, and seven of £5.....

Prize of £5, Mr. Francis Udall, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1858

“The annual licensing meeting for Bilston and its neighbourhood was held on Friday last.....

Applications for new licenses.....

Mr. Wells appeared in support of an application on behalf of Mr. Francis Udall, for a license to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, Bilston, and stated that from the BULL INN, at Moxley, to the QUEENS ARMS, in Oxford Street, there was only one public house with an old license, and there was no opposition by the occupier of that house to the present application.

Mr. Hayes opposed for the occupier of the BROWN LION, and pointed out to the Bench that there were large works in close proximity to the house of the applicant, and the evils which would result by workmen wasting their time in a public house. Application refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/8/1859

“Yesterday a special sessions was held at the Public Office, Bilston, for the renewal and granting of victuallers’ licenses.....

Mr. Hayes opposed an application, supported by Mr. Bowen, for a license for the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE beerhouse, in Oxford Street, Bilston, kept by Mr. F. Udall, on the ground that there were already seven licensed houses within seven hundred yards of this. Mr. Bagnall said there were now nine licensed houses and thirteen beerhouses in Oxford Street, which the magistrates considered sufficient, and refused the application.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/8/1859

“The annual meeting of Magistrates for the purpose of the renewal and granting of licenses for the township of Bilston and the neighbourhood was held at the Bilston Police Court on Friday last.....

Mr. W. Bowen applied for a license for the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, kept by Mr. Francis Udall, Oxford Street, Bilston. Mr. Bowen said the house had been greatly enlarged since the last application was made, and the applicant’s testimonial was both numerous and respectably signed.

Mr. Hayes opposed the application, and stated that there were already seven licensed houses within three hundred yards of the house of the present applicant. The Chairman said there were now nine licensed houses and thirteen beerhouses in Oxford Street, and they therefore considered that neighbourhood was amply provided for. The application was refused.”

Francis Udall, beer retailer, Oxford Street. [1861], [1868]

1861 Census

127, Oxford Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Francis Udall (43), retail brewer, born Handsworth;
- [2] Maria Udall (41), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] George Udall (20), son, butcher, born West Bromwich;
- [4] John Udall (18), son, stock taker, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Emma Udall (15), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Francis Udall (9), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Mary A. Udall (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Rebecca Udall (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Maria Udall (3), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Thomas Udall (10 months), son, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1861

“At Bilston Police Court, on Tuesday, a man named Benjamin Silvester was charged, before J. N. Bagnall, Esq, and the Rev. H. S. Fletcher, with having stolen 17s from the person of Thomas Morris, at a beerhouse in Oxford Street, kept by Francis Udall. In the course of Sunday morning last the parties were drinking at Udall’s public house, and while prosecutor was taking some money out of his purse in order to pay for some ale, the prisoner snatched the purse out of his hand and ran away. The circumstances of the case were such that the magistrates did not feel justified in convicting, and the prisoner was bound over to appear if called on.

Udall was then charged with keeping his house open at illegal hours, at the time the robbery just alluded to was said to have taken place, and the magistrates inflicted a penalty of 20s and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/11/1861

“A case of Francis Udall, a publican living in Bilston, against Mr. C. Wright, occupier of the QUEENS HOTEL, in the same town, was argued today on an important point raised by Mr. Thurstans, the defendant’s attorney. The plaint was supported by Mr. Claydon.

The facts were simply these. In November, 1857, Udall, Wright, and a man named Burgess became sureties for a Mr. Hobdy, who has since left the country, on two promissory notes of £70 and £30. Udall was afterwards called upon to fulfil the bond, and he did so, paying the whole, or nearly the whole of the £100. Burgess afterwards undertook to repay his share, and Udall now sought to recover £31 12s, the share of the other co-surety.

In defence, Mr. Thurstans argued that defendant was protected by a certificate in Bankruptcy, under the date of January, 1860; the petition, it should be added, was filed in May, 1859. Mr. Claydon argued, first that the certificate afforded no protection whatever, but subsequently he maintained, and it was on this point the case was decided, that the certificate only afforded partial protection. Nearly two-thirds of the £100 were paid by Udall before defendant filed his petition, and the Court could consider that money to be the shares of Udall and Burgess; the remaining third was paid after defendant’s bankruptcy, therefore defendant was liable. The 52nd section of the Bankruptcy Act would not apply in a case like the present – between surety and co-surety, only between surety and principal, and in support of this he cited the case of ‘Clements and Longman.’ Mr. Thurstans maintained the 117th sec. of the 13 and 14 Vic. provided the debts payable on contingency could be assessed by the Court of Bankruptcy; and the Act further provided that where they were not assessable, the only remedy of the creditor would be to prove his debt, and receive dividends in case the contingency arose, and those dividends should be given without disturbing former dividends, payable to other creditors. Mr. Thurstans further argued that the defendant was only liable at the most for one-third the amount paid after the bankruptcy. His Honour considered that the section of Victoria referred to by Mr. Thurstans was a re-enactment of a section in the case cited by Mr. Claydon. He was, however, of opinion that it was not competent to the plaintiff to appropriate payments he had paid before the bankruptcy in discharge of his own liability only, but he was entitled to prove under the bankruptcy for the defendant’s share of that amount. He should consequently give judgement for a third of the sum paid by plaintiff since defendant’s bankruptcy, which would be £13 15s 8d.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/12/1861

“Yesterday, before W. Partridge, Esq, a vagrant, who gave the name of John Richardson, was committed for twenty-one days’ imprisonment, for having stolen about 4lbs of mutton from the stall of Mr. Udall, Oxford Street, Bilston, last Saturday night.”

Francis Udall, beer retailer, 127 Oxford Street. [1864], [1865]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/2/1865

“G. Lane of Bilston will fight J. Waterhouse of Carr Lane, for £5 or £10 a side six weeks from the first deposit. Money ready at F. Udell’s, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/10/1865

“On Tuesday, at Bilston Police Court, before Mr. Isaac Spooner, Francis Udell, of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, was charged with permitting drunkenness in his house on Saturday night last. Police-constable Chaplin visited the house soon after eleven o’clock on the night named, and found three men drunk in the house.

The defendant, having been previously fined for similar offences, was fined £5 and costs.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

Permitting Drunkenness Francis Udall, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, £5 and costs.”

1871 Census

127, Oxford Street

- [1] Francis Udall (53), publican, born Handsworth;
- [2] Maria Udall (51), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] George Udall (30), son, butcher, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Francis Udall (20), son, butcher, born Bilston;
- [5] Mary Udall (18), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Rebecca Udall (17), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Maria Udall (13), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Thomas Udall (10), son, born Bilston;
- [9] Francis Udall (4), visitor, born Bilston:

Maria Udall married Arthur Edward Devereux on 29th March 1881.

Arthur Edward Devereux – see JAPANNERS ARMS.

1881 Census

Oxford Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Francis Udall (63), publican, born Handsworth;
- [2] Maria Udall (61), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Francis Udall (29), son, brewer, born Bilston;
- [4] Thomas Udall (20), son, butcher, born Bilston;
- [5] Kate Wall (18), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [6] Clara Fellows (21), visitor, domestic servant, born Bilston:

Maria Udall died in the 4th quarter of 1881.

Darlaston Weekly Times 17/1/1885

“On Tuesday afternoon and inquest was held at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, Bilston, by Mr. W. H. Phillips, borough coroner, touching the circumstances of the death of Samuel Malin (70), bricklayer, found dead at his residence, Hare Street, on Sunday morning, about half-past nine. From the evidence adduced it transpired that deceased had been in the enjoyment of good health, with the exception of complaining about a pain near the heart. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.”

1891 Census

127, Oxford Street – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] William H. Haynes (50), stationary steam engine maker, born Bilston;
- [2] Selina Haynes (48), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Samuel Haynes (20), son, stationary engine fitter, born Bilston;
- [4] Frank Haynes (17), son, iron worker, born Bilston;
- [5] Moses C. Haynes (14), son, iron plate worker, born Bilston;
- [6] Leonard Haynes (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Charlotte Haynes (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] Rosannah Flavell (17), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/6/1891

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Michael Flynn, of Leicester Street, was sent to gaol for a month for assaulting William Henry Haynes, landlord of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, who had ordered him to leave the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/3/1892

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Michael Flynn, labourer, Fleece Street, Bilston, was charged with being drunk and assaulting three police officers.

On Saturday night the prisoner created a disturbance in the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Oxford Street, and after being ejected he assaulted three police officers.

Having been convicted twenty-seven times he was now sent to gaol for two months each on three charges.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/6/1894

“At the Wolverhampton Police Court yesterday William Henry Haynes, of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Bilston, was summoned for permitting drunkenness. On Sunday evening, May 13, two police officers visited the defendant’s house, and found a Hednesford miner, named Thomas Jefferies, drunk, and the landlord admitted having supplied him with beer.

For the defence it was contended that the man was not intoxicated. The Stipendiary, however, imposed a penalty of £5 and costs.”

Nathan Eccleston, beer retailer, 127, Oxford Street. [1896]

James McNairnie – see also ROYAL GEORGE, Church Street.

Robert Edward Platt = Robert Edward Plack

Dudley Herald 14/5/1898

“Robert Painter (25), of Hall Green Street, Bradley, was charged at Bilston, on Tuesday, with stealing a razor, a strop, a shaving brush, and 25 cigars, the property of Robert Edward Plack, landlord of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Prosecutor stated that on the 20th of April he missed the articles mentioned, and prisoner was seen to take them.

PC Boulton deposed to arresting prisoner, who admitted the theft, and now stated that Plack made him drunk, and told a lot of men that he was tired of filling, and they were to come and help themselves.

Prisoner was fined 5s and costs, or sentenced to fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/10/1898

“William Abbotts (31), of Free Street, Bilston, was charged with refusing to quit the licensed premises of Robert Edward Platt, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Oxford Street. There was a further charge against the defendant of assaulting the landlord, Robert Edward Platt.

Complainant stated that on Friday night, about ten o’clock, defendant was in his house, and a disturbance took place. He requested defendant to leave, whereupon he struck witness and used bad language towards him.

A witness stated that the landlord threw the defendant out of the house without provocation, and that no bad language was used.

The magistrates dismissed the case.”

1901 Census

122, Oxford Street – Beerhouse

[1] Charles H. Walker (32), iron moulder and beerhouse keeper, born Bilston;

[2] Sarah H. Walker (31), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Harvess Walker (6), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Minnie Walker (3), daughter, born Bilston;

[5] Elsie Walker (5 months), daughter, born Bilston;

[6] Fanny Phillips (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Charles Walker, beer retailer, 122, Oxford Street. [1904]

1911 Census

122, Oxford Street

[1] Charles Henry Walker (44), beerhouse keeper, born Bradley;

[2] Sarah Harriet Walker (42), wife, married 18 years, born Bilston;

[3] Harvin Elizabeth Walker (16), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Minnie Gwendoline Walker (12), daughter, school, born Bilston;

[5] Elsie Walker (10), daughter, school, born Bilston;

[6] Phylis Walker (4), daughter, born Bilston:

Charles H. Walker, beer retailer, 122, Oxford Street. [1912]

1921 Census

122, Oxford Street

- [1] Charles H. Walker (53), innkeeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah H. Walker (50), wife, assistant innkeeper, born Bilston;
- [3] Minnie G. Walker (23), daughter, home duties, born Bilston;
- [4] Elsie Walker (20), daughter, book keeper &c, born Bilston;
- [5] Phyllis Walker (14), daughter, general office work, born Bilston:

Charles Henry Walker – see also BROWN LION, Oxford Street.

Sarah Harriet Walker – see BARREL, Mill Street.

South Staffordshire Times 9/2/1924

“Bilston Licensing.....

Plans for erecting new premises on land leading from Fraser Street to Willenhall Road, passed on the 3rd March, 1922, were now completed, and an application for the removal of license of the SAMSON AND LION, Greencroft, Bilston, to these new premises was to be made that day. If granted, an undertaking was given by the owners to surrender the license of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Oxford Street, which would close simultaneously with the house in Greencroft.....

Mr. Wright gave particulars of the application for the license of the new premises in Fraser Street. The house to be known as the SAMSON AND LION, he said, satisfied the authorities, and it was necessary to get a final order. The ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, which was surrendered, and the SAMSON AND LION, Greencroft, Bilston, if the licenses were transferred to the new premises, would be closed at two o'clock that day.

The application for transfer of the license of the old SAMSON AND LION to Robert Collins Robson was granted.”

The license was surrendered in 1924, on the Removal of the license from the SAMPSON AND LION, Green Croft, to the SAMPSON AND LION, Newbolt Road.

It closed on 8th February 1924.

Dudley Chronicle 2/10/1924 - Advert

“Belcher and Son have received instructions from Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Ltd., to Sell by Public Auction.....

Lot 1 (with Vacant Possession). The Commodious Double-fronted Dwelling House and Premises, until recently known as the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN (now de-licensed), situate and being No.122 in Oxford Street, Bilston, formerly in the occupation of Mr. Albert Ward, but now void.

The property has a frontage of 26ft 6in to Oxford Street, 81ft 10in to Hare Street, and contains an area of 292 square yards or thereabouts.

The Premises are very suitable for a Retail Shop, or could be easily converted into two good Dwelling Houses, at a small cost.”

ELISABETH ARMS

201, Overfield Drive, BILSTON

OWNERS

Harvester Restaurants [1995], [1996]

Sizzling Pub Co. [2007], [2012]

2007

LICENSEES

Kipps and Pountney [1995]

Alison Meredith-White and Andrew White [2004] managers

Maureen Layland [2005]

NOTES

[1992]

2023

It was refurbished in May 2003.

Andrew White was born c.1974.

Birmingham Mail 27/4/1996 - Advert

“A free bottle of wine with this advert.

Your local Harvester is offering a free bottle of wine to every ‘meal for two’ purchased with this voucher. Combine this with our great selection of food and deserts and you’re guaranteed a great time.

The offer is only valid at these participating restaurants.....

ELISABETH ARMS, Overfield Drive, Coseley, West Midlands.

Offer closes 15th May 1996.”

Birmingham Mail 29/6/1996 - Advert

“2 main courses for the price of one with this advert.

Your local Harvester has another great offer for you. Just cut out this ad and when you buy two meals from our restaurant menu, you will receive the cheapest absolutely Free!

Offer only valid at participating restaurants.....

ELISABETH ARMS, Overfield Drive, Coseley, West Midlands.

Offer closes 20/7/96. Not available with any other offer.

Offer available any time except after 5pm Saturdays, and before 4pm Sundays.”

“Harvester Barbecues The Midlands.

Subject to availability, this offer is valid any time except Saturday evenings after 6pm and Bank Holidays until 4th November 1996.”

[2023]

"a free bottle of wine with this advert"

YOUR local Harvester is offering a free bottle of wine to every "meal for two" purchased with this voucher. Combine this with our great selection of food and desserts and you're guaranteed a great time.

Old White Horse
South Road, Norton,
Stourbridge,
West Midlands
01384394 258

Elisabeth Arms,
Overfield Drive,
Cosely,
West Midlands
01902 884222

Boldmere,
Boldmere Road,
Sutton Coldfield,
West Midlands
0121 354 3533

The offer is only valid at these participating restaurants. Offer closes 15TH MAY 1996

"2 main courses for the price of one with this advert"

Your local Harvester has another great offer for you. Just cut out this ad and when you buy two meals from our restaurant menu.

You will receive the cheapest absolutely Free!

Old White Horse South Road, Norton, Stourbridge, West Midlands 01884 394 258	Elisabeth Arms Overfield Drive, Coseley, West Midlands 01902 884 222	Boldmere Boldmere Road, Sutton Coldfield, West Midlands 0121 354 3533
--	--	---

Offer only valid at participating restaurants. Offer closes 20/7/06. Not available with any other offer. Offer available any time except after 5pm Saturdays, and before 4pm Sundays.

[illegible]

FALCON

Mount Pleasant, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Morgan [1850] – 1853;
Thomas Manning (1853 – []

NOTES

VALUABLE PUBLIC-HOUSE, AT BILSTON,
Staffordshire.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY MR. GEORGE BROWN,
Upon the premises, on Friday, the 6th day of May, 1853, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions of sale to be then and there read.
ALL that Copyhold MESSUAGE and PREMISES, situate at Mount Pleasant, Bilston aforesaid, and known as the "Falcon Inn," containing entrance hall, two large front parlours, bar, back sitting room, with club room, kitchen, brewhouse, capital cellaring, yard, garden, stabling, and other outbuildings. To any person wishing to carry on the public business this is an excellent opportunity. The premises adjoin the Public Office, at Bilston, and front the Willenhall road, and the situation of the house of course commands an extensive trade.
For further particulars apply to Mr. T. Bolton, solicitor, Wolverhampton; Mr. C. G. Brown, solicitor,
Bilston, or to the Auctioneer, Oxford-street, Bilston.

1853

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/9/1850

"The special sessions for granting and renewing victuallers' licenses within the hundred of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Wolverhampton, on Thursday The new licenses granted were to.....

Richard Morgan, the FALCON, Mount Pleasant, Bilston."

1851 Census

Mount Pleasant

- [1] Richard Morgan (48), coal master and victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Mary M. Morgan (44), wife, born Broseley, Shropshire;
- [3] Emma Morgan (17), daughter, at home, born Tipton;
- [4] William Morgan (14), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Richard H. Morgan (12), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Anne E. Morgan (10), daughter, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [7] Charles James Morgan (8), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [8] George Thomas Morgan (5), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Walter J. Morgan (3), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [10] Eunice Jenks (78), mother-in-law, widow, born Shirecester, Shropshire;
- [11] Sarah Mills (17), general servant, born Dudley;

Birmingham Journal 17/1/1852

"On Wednesday, an inquest has held at Mr. Richard Morgan's, the FALCON INN, Mount Pleasant, on the body of Emma Lowe, one year and nine months old, daughter of Thomas Lowe, of Peacroft Lane, who was found dead in a pool of water in her father's garden, at eleven o'clock on Sunday morning last, by a woman named Mary Edwards. The deceased, it is supposed, was playing near the pool of water, which was about two feet deep, and accidentally slipped in head foremost."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/5/1853 - Advert

"Valuable Public House at Bilston, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. George Brown, upon the premises, on Friday, the 6th day of May, 1853, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions of sale to be then and there read.

All that Copyhold Messuage and Premises, situate at Mount Pleasant, Bilston aforesaid, and known as the FALCON INN, containing entrance hall, two large front parlours, bar, back sitting room, with club room, kitchen, brewhouse, capital cellaring, yard, garden, stabling, and other outbuildings. To any person wishing to carry on the public business this is an excellent opportunity. The premises adjoin the Public Office, at Bilston, and front the Willenhall road, and the situation of the house of course commands an extensive trade."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/12/1853

"At the Public Office, on the 6th instant, a special sessions was held for transferring licenses..... that of Richard Morgan, late of the FALCON, at Bilston, to Thomas Manning."

FORESTERS ARMS

12, (6), Walsall Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Alexander Perry Law, gentleman, Bilston

Abraham Lunn, contractor / beerhouse keeper, Bilston

Catherine (Lunn) Hill, 248, Caledonia Road, Wishaw, Scotland

LICENSEES

Charles Tizard [1865]

Samuel Rogers [1871] – 1876;

Abraham Lunn (1876 – 1878);

George Swift (1878 – 1893);

William Till (1893 – 1897);

Fred Pearson (1897 – 1908);

Harry Howard Wilkes (1908 – 1911);

Walter William Harbach (1911 – 1923);

Mrs. Annie Harris (1923 – 1933);

Arthur Humpage (1933 – 1934);

George Allen (1934 – [1940])

LEA BROOK RECREATION GROUNDS, WEDNESBURY.—Mr. J. Harding, the Proprietor, begs to inform his friends and lovers of the sport, that he will give £10 to be run for in a 135 yards Foot Race, on Saturdays, July 31, and August, 7, 1875. First Prize, £8; Second, £1 10s.; Third, 10s. To commence at Three o'clock precisely. Admission to the Grounds 6d. each. Entrance, One Shilling each. Entries to be made to Mr. Harding, at the Grounds; Mr. J. Dudley, Crown Tube Works Inn, Wednesbury; Mr. T. Bickley, White Swan Inn, Brownhills; Mr. Turner, Sun Inn, Commercial-street, Wolverhampton; S. Conlett, White Swan Inn, Darlaston; and Mr. S. Rogers, Foresters' Arms, Bilston. Entries close on Tuesday, July the 28th, or Wednesday Morning's post will be in time.

1875

NOTES

6, Walsall Street [1871], [1891]

12, Walsall Street [1901], [1911], [1921], [1939], [1940]

It was situated behind the town hall.

It was known locally as "My Dears".

It had a beerhouse license.

Charles Tizard, beer retailer, 6, Walsall Street. [1865]

Charles Tizard – see also LION, Coseley Street, EXCHANGE VAULTS, and BALL COURT.

1871 Census

6, Walsall Street – FORRESTERS ARMS

[1] Samuel Rogers (36), locksmith, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Adelaide Rogers (34), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] William Rogers (12), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Samuel Rogers (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[5] David Rogers (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[6] Henry Rogers (5), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[7] Jesse Rogers (3), son, scholar, born Bilston;

[8] Thomas Rogers (1), son, born Bilston;

[9] James Callow (52), boarder, hatter, born Denton, Lancashire;

[10] Philip Philips (53), lodger, wheelwright, born Wales:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/4/1872

“Royal Oak Grounds, Burnt Tree, Dudley Port.....

Mr. Nuttall will give £10 to be run for in an All England Handicap Foot Race of 135 yards distance, to take place on Mondays, May 6 and 13; first prize £7, second £2, third £1. Entries 1s each, on or before May 1 (Thursday morning's letters taken in), at the grounds, or any of the following places Rogers's, FORESTERS ARMS Bilston.”

Midland Examiner 24/7/1875 - Advert

“Lea Brook Recreation Grounds, Wednesbury.

Mr. J. Harding, the Proprietor, begs to inform his friends and lovers of the sport, that he will give £10 to be run for in a 135 yards Foot Race, on Saturdays, July 31, and August 7, 1875. First Prize, £8; Second, £1 10s; Third, 10s. To commence at Three o'clock precisely. Admission to the Grounds 6d each. Entrance One Shilling each. Entries to be made to Mr. Harding, at the Grounds; Mr. J. Dudley, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury; Mr. T. Bickley, White Swan Inn, Brownhills; Mr. Turner, SUN INN, Commercial Street, Wolverhampton; S. Canlett, WHITE SWAN INN, Darlaston; and Mr. S. Rogers, FORESTERS ARMS, Bilston. Entries close on Tuesday, July the 28th, or Wednesday Morning's post will be in time.”

1881 Census

Walsall Street

- [1] George Swift (45), publican, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Eliza Swift (41), wife, born Brettle Lane;
- [3] Charles Swift (19), son, brass worker in brass foundry, born Bilston;
- [4] George Henry Swift (14), son, grocer's assistant, born Bilston;
- [5] Alfred Swift (11), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Jane Swift (9), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Mary Murray (17), domestic servant, born Oldbury:

Darlaston Weekly Times 4/9/1886

“An inquest was held on Thursday at the FORESTERS ARMS INN, Bilston, touching the death of Jane Smith, a married woman, late of Walsall Street, Bilston. It appeared that on the 14th of August the deceased, who was subject to fits, was found upstairs at her home badly burnt about her back. She was attended by Dr. S. Ashley Smith. On Sunday last she was prematurely confined, and she died on Wednesday. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1891 Census

6, Walsall Street – FORESTERS ARMS

- [1] George Swift (53), publican, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Eliza Swift (50), wife, born Brettel Lane;
- [3] Sarah J. Swift (19), daughter, general servant, born Bradley:

William Till, beer retailer, Walsall Street. [1896]

1901 Census

12, Walsall Street – FORESTERS ARMS

- [1] Frederick Pearson (42), engine fitter and licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Fanny Pearson (44), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Frederick Pearson (18), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Clarence J. Pearson (6), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Thomas Pearson (5), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Blanche Pearson (1), daughter, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/4/1901

“At Bilston this (Friday) morning Vincent Henry Knight (33), agent, of Fisher Street, Wolverhampton, was charged with obtaining three patent beer refiners, value 9s, the property of Fred Pearson, landlord of the FORESTERS ARMS, Bilston, and patentee of the refiners.

It was stated prisoner waited on prosecutor on the 22nd January, and said he thought he could get some orders for the beer refiners. Pearson agreed to give him 6d on each one he sold, and gave him one as a sample. Later in the evening Knight called on him again, saying he had sold three to a publican named Poulton in Oxford Street. He gave him the three refiners, but had not since seen him.

Poulton was called, and said he never gave prisoner any order for refiners.

Police-sergeant Gibbs deposed to arresting prisoner on the 25th ult on another charge. When he charged him he said, ‘These three patents were given to me in lieu of wages. He told me I could do what I liked with them, as he did not want them.’

Prisoner was sentenced to two months’ hard labour.”

Fred Pearson, beer retailer, Walsall Street. [1904]

1911 Census

12, Walsall Street – FORESTERS ARMS

[1] Walter William Harbach (32), brass pattern maker, born Willenhall;

[2] Sarah Ann Harbach (28), wife, married 2 years, born Wednesbury;

[3] George Harry Harbach (1), son, born Willenhall:

Walter William Harbach brewed here. [1916], [1921]

The Stage 18/12/1919 - Advert

“Dis., Joint. Conc. tour, Dec. 20. John and Mrs. A’Beckett (Winfred Hamelin). J. A’B., Char. or Char. Com. Lead. W. H., Juv. or Heavy Lead. T.R., York; next, FORESTERS ARMS., Bilston.”

1921 Census

12, Walsall Street

[1] Walter William Harbach (43), beerhouse keeper, born Willenhall;

[2] Sarah Ann Harbach (38), wife, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[3] George Harry Harbach (11), son, school, born Willenhall;

[4] Walter John Harbach (2), son, born Bilston:

South Staffordshire Times 31/3/1923

“On the application of Mr. R. Tildesley, the license of the FORESTERS ARMS INN, Walsall Street, Bilston, was transferred to Mrs. Annie Harris, formerly of Bradley.”

Annie Harris was married to Frank.

1939 Register

12, Walsall Street

[1] George Allen, date of birth 5/11/1896, licensed victualler, stamping press labourer, married;

[2] Lydia Allen, dob 8/6/1901, unpaid domestic duties and bar, married;

[3] Cyril Allen, dob 1/3/1933, school, single;

[5] Hilda (Mould) Vaughan, dob 9/7/1912, bar general, single:

A team from here took part in the Bilston Crib League, Section B. [1946]

It closed in 1955.

Demolished

FORGE HAMMER

Ettingshall Lane, Spring Vale, (Spring Vale Iron Works), Ettingshall, BILSTON

OWNERS

Henry Fowler, ironmaster, Shifnal
Stephen Thompson

LICENSEES

Ann Hyde [1833] – [1841]
Joseph Hyde [1849] – [1865]
William Ephraim Hyde [1867] – 1873;
Henry Hyde (1873 – [1874]

NOTICE TO DEBTORS AND CREDITORS.
ALL persons having a CLAIM or DEMAND upon the estate of the late Mrs. ANN HYDE, of Ettingshall, in the parish of Sedgley, deceased, are requested to send the amount of their respective claims to Mr. FRANCIS WHITEHOUSE, farmer, Rookery Hall, Ettingshall, the executor appointed under her will, that the same may be examined, and if correct discharged. And any persons who stood INDEBTED to the estate of the said Mrs. Ann Hyde, at the time of her decease, are requested to pay their accounts to the said Francis Whitehouse, without further notice.

Ettingshall, March 6, 1848.

1848

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in the parish of Sedgley, but is included here due to other pubs in the proximity coming under Bilston.]

Spring Vale Iron Works [1849], [1850]
Spring Vale [1862]

It had a beerhouse license.

FORGE HAMMER AND SPEEDWELL [1864], [1865], [1872]
FORGE AND HAMMER [1874]

Staffordshire Gazette 20/3/1839

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

William alias John Miles (on bail) was indicted for uttering at Sedgley, on or about the 6th of August last, a £5 forged Bank of England note, with intent to defraud Ann Hyde.

Sarah Percival, wife of James Percival, and daughter of the prosecutrix, proved that on the 6th of August last prisoner came to her house, in the usual working dress, and said that Mr. Bentley, of Park Fields Colliery, had sent him for eight quarts of ale, for which he tendered a £5 note, which she got changed at a neighbours, and gave him the difference, £4 15s 6d. Prisoner said he was employed as a pig weigher under Mr. Bentley.

Several other witnesses were examined, and no doubt remained as to the identity of the prisoner, or that of the note. Mr. Bentley proved that he never employed him.

After these facts had been clearly made out, it appeared that there was no proof of the note being a forged one. A clerk from a bank at Stafford having looked at it, said ‘he could not pronounce it a forgery.’

The judge told the jury there was no evidence to convict the prisoner. Verdict, not guilty.”

1841 Census

Lanes Field

- [1] Ann Hyde (50), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Elizabeth Smith (10), house servant, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Ann Vann (5), born Staffordshire:

Ann Hyde died on 3rd February 1848.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/3/1848 - Advert

“Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

All persons having a Claim or Demand upon the estate of the late Mrs. Ann Hyde, of Ettingshall, in the parish of Sedgley, deceased, are requested to send the amount of their respective claims to Mr. Francis Whitehouse, farmer, Rookery Hall, Ettingshall, the executor appointed under her will, that the same may be examined, and if correct discharged. And any persons who stood Indebted to the estate of the said Mrs. Ann Hyde, at the time of her decease, are requested to pay their accounts to the said Francis Whitehouse, without further notice.

Ettingshall, March 6, 1848.”

Joseph Hyde = Joseph Hide

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/3/1849

“On Saturday last an inquest was held at the FORGE HAMMER public house, at Spring Vale, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Mary Ann Owen, 11 years of age. Deceased had been sent by her father, who is a stock-taker, to fetch a newspaper from Mr. George Robinson’s, of Spring Vale, a distance of about 300 yards, and not returning in a few minutes (as she was in the habit of doing), he began to fear that she had gone over the canal upon a plank which is placed there for the convenience of Mr. Jones’s workmen, instead of through the works as he desired her, and had fallen into the water. He immediately went to the spot in question, and, after searching the canal, found the deceased. Every means were used to restore life, but in vain. The jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned.”

1851 Census

Spring Vale

- [1] Joseph Hyde (48), moulder and brass caster, born Sedgley;
- [2] Harriot Hyde (41), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Ephraim William Hyde (20), son, sheet mill man employing one man, born Sedgley;
- [4] Henry Hyde (18), son, moulder and brass caster, born Sedgley;
- [5] Samuel Hyde (16) son, sheet mill man, born Sedgley;
- [6] Sarah Ann Hyde (14), daughter, housemaid, born Sedgley;
- [7] Josiah Hyde (8), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [8] Emma Gutridge (19), house servant, born Sedgley:

Staffordshire Sentinel 30/6/1855

“On Tuesday last, while Joseph Hyde was at work in the Spring Vale Ironworks, Sedgley, he was seized with pain in his bowels, and retched violently, but did not vomit. He was taken home, and died in about five minutes after he reached his house, without having been seen by a medical man. An inquest was held on the following day, at the FORGE HAMMER (before T. M. Phillips, Esq), when a verdict of death from Natural Causes was returned. It appeared that deceased had suffered from a pain in his side to which he had applied a ‘poor man’s plaister.’”

1861 Census

Spring Vale – Public House

- [1] Joseph Hide (56), publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Harriet Hide (54), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Eliza Horton (21), house servant, born Tipton;
- [4] William H. Hide (9), grand-son, scholar, born Sedgley:

Joseph Hyde, retailer of beer, Spring Vale. [1862]

Birmingham Daily Post 2/5/1862 - Died

“On the 30th ult, aged 55 years, Harriet, the beloved wife of Mr. Joseph Hyde, of Spring Vale, near Wolverhampton; deeply regretted.”

William Ephraim Hyde = Ephraim William Hyde = Ephraim Heyde

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 19/1/1867

“B. Thompson of the Straits, near Gornal, will run T. Jinks of Wolverhampton 120 yards, and give him two yards start, for £25 or £50 a side, at the Britannia Grounds, Tipton. Money ready any night next week at E. Hyde's, FORGE HAMMER INN, Ettingshall, near Wolverhampton.”

1871 Census

Spring Vale

- [1] Ephraim Heyde (40), victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Elizabeth Heyde (39), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] William Henry Heyde (19), son, born Sedgley;
- [4] Richard Heyde (17), son, born Sedgley;
- [5] Joseph Heyde (15), son, born Sedgley;
- [6] George Heyde (13), son, born Sedgley;
- [7] Mary H. Heyde (11), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [8] Joseph Heyde (9), son, born Sedgley;
- [9] Sarah A. Heyde (6), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [10] Elizabeth Heyde (4), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [11] Mary H. Turner (16), general servant, born Sedgley;

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/3/1872 - Advert

“To be Sold, pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery made in the cause of Lane v Stewart, with the approbation of the Vice-Chancellor, Sir John Wickens, in 3 lots, by Mr. Francis Sollom, the person appointed by the said Judge, at the SWAN HOTEL, at Wolverhampton, in the county of Stafford, on the 27th day of March, 1872, at four o'clock in the afternoon precisely, valuable Freehold Colliery Land called the Ettingshall Colliery and other property, situate at Ettingshall, in the county of Stafford.....

Lot 3. Comprising a piece of Land adjoining the last lot, containing 2a 2r 19p together with Nine Cottages, one of which is a public house called the FORGE HAMMER AND SPEEDWELL, let at a gross rental of £98 8s.”

County Advertiser 4/7/1874

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

John Horton (23), miner, able to read, and Thomas Turner (21), boatman, of no education, were charged with stealing a quantity of iron from the Lanesfield Ironworks, Sedgley, on June 14th, 1874. The Jury acquitted the prisoners. Mr. Kynnersley prosecuted, and Mr. Underhill defended Turner. The other prisoner was undefended.

Prisoners were further charged with stealing sixteen bottles of porter from Henry Hyde, of the FORGE AND HAMMER, Bilston. The bottles were all safe in the cellar of the night of the 14th June, but next morning it was found that the place had been broken into and the bottles abstracted. The theft was traced to the prisoners. The counsel for the prisoners said he thought that the matter was merely a drunken joke, but the jury found them guilty. Since 1867 Horton has been seven times convicted. He was now sentenced to seven years' penal servitude; and Turner was sent to gaol for six months.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

Mr. Waterhouse appeared for John Davis, beerhouse keeper, Wood Street, Ettingshall, who allied for a spirit license for his house, known as the ROOKERY TAVERN.....

Mr. Barrow applied on behalf of Henry Hyde, occupier of the FOX beerhouse, that the license of a house formerly known as the FORGE HAMMER, which had been taken down by Mr. Stephen Thompson, for the erection of his works, might be transferred to the FOX.....

Some discussions took place as to whether Mr. Stephen Thompson, the owner of the former licensed premises, was willing for the license to be transferred to the FOX, Mr. Barrow stating that he could assure the Bench such was the case, whilst Mr. Waterhouse stated that Mr. Thompson, only a few days ago, had expressed to him a very different opinion Refused.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1877

"Bilston Brewster Sessions.....

The applications from Sedgley were by Henry Hyde, for a full license to new premises at Ettingshall Lane. Mr. Waterhouse said that some years since there was a full licensed house in the vicinity called the FORGE HAMMER, but that house was now turned into a private house Mr. Barrow (Wolverhampton) applied for the provisional transfer of the license of the FORGE HAMMER, which had not lapsed, to the holder of the FOX public house, which the holder of the FORGE HAMMER was now occupying, but which he was about to enlarge, to make it of sufficient value to be a fully-licensed house. Mr. Barrow put in plans for the proposed building. Mr. Waterhouse opposed Mr. Barrow's application, on the ground that the FOX INN as it stood at present was in perfect ruins, and their Worships were being asked to grant a license to a building that at present was only on paper Refused."

The license was abandoned.

TO BE SOLD, pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery made in the cause of Lane v. Stewart, with the approbation of the Vice-Chancellor, Sir John Wickens, in 3 lots, by Mr. FRANCIS SOLLON, the person appointed by the said Judge, at the SWAN HOTEL, at WOLVERHAMPTON, in the county of Stafford, on the 27th day of March, 1872, at four o'clock in the afternoon precisely, valuable FREEHOLD COLLIERY LAND called the Ettingshall Colliery and other property, situate at Ettingshall, in the county of Stafford.

LOT 1.

Comprising COLLIERY LAND, situate at Spring Vale, Ettingshall, containing 14A. 1R. 29P., with the MINES and MINERALS thereunder, also an old COTTAGE.

LOT 2.

Comprising a piece of LAND at Ettingshall whereon the Lanesfield Ironworks are partly erected, containing 1A. 0R. 2P.

LOT 3.

Comprising a piece of LAND adjoining the last lot, containing 2A. 2R. 19P., together with Nine COTTAGES, one of which is a public-house called the Forge Hammer and Speedwell, let at a gross rental of £98 8s.

The several properties may be viewed by leave of the tenants, and particulars and conditions of sale may be had gratis of Messrs. VIZARD, CROWDER, and ANSTIE, Solicitors, 55, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London; Messrs. LAKE and Co., Solicitors, 10, Newsquare, Lincoln's Inn, London; Messrs. WALKER, TWYFORD, and BELWARD, Solicitors, 5, Southampton-street, Bloomsbury, London; Messrs. HOMER and Co., Solicitors, 5, Philpot-lane, London; Mr. HENRY TUSON, Solicitor, Lichester, Somerset; Mr. W. G. ROGERS, Solicitor, Exeter, Devon; Mr. SOLLON, Auctioneer, Wolverhampton; and at the place of sale.

Dated this 23rd day of February, 1872

H. F. CHURCH, Chief Clerk

FORGE HAMMER

112, (28), Spring Road, (28, Manor Road), (Ettingshall Road), Ettingshall, (Lanesfield), (Spring Vale), BILSTON

OWNERS

Thomas Bantock, gentleman, Wolverhampton
Stephen Thompson and Co. Ltd., Manor Works, Lanesfield
Major George Cox, brewer, Broad Street, Bilston
Harmer and Co. Ltd, brewers, Great Winchester Street, Lye (leased)
Woodhouse Brothers, brewers, Dudley [1921]
John Rolinson and Son Ltd. (leased from 1909)
Julia Hanson and Son Ltd.

LICENSEES

Hartshorne [1836]
Thomas Robinson [1871] – 1874);
John Robinson (1874 – 1877);
Henry Hyde (1877 – 1878);
John Proudlove (1878 – 1879);
John Lewis (1879);
Joseph Smith (1879 – 1885);
Jane Wildman (1885);
Alfred Thomas Clark (1885 – 1907);
John Fellows (1907 – 1921);
Harry Vaughan (1921 – 1929);
Sidney Waterhouse (1929 – 1936);
Ernest George Perkins (1936 – [1940])
Samuel Reynolds [1974]
Dennis Jones (1974 – 1984)
Stephen Hoare [1994] – [1995]
John Freeman []
Michael Sims [2005]
Beris Lock [2007]

NOTES

28, Spring Road [1901], [1939]
28, Manor Road [1940]
112, Spring Road [2005]

It was originally the FOX.

It had an ante '69 beerhouse license.

1986

2012

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/12/1836

“On Monday evening, about nine o’clock, the neighbourhood of the FOX public house, at Ettingshall Lane, near Wolverhampton, was suddenly thrown into a frightful state of alarm and confusion by the explosion of a considerable quantity of gunpowder at that house. Though considerable mischief has been done by the blowing down of the house and the damage done to the neighbouring ones, and some very serious injuries having been received, there are none, we understand, which threaten a loss of life. A money club, it appears, was being held in the house, which was kept by a person named Hartshorne who is a butty collier, and who has frequently many pounds of gunpowder in the house for use in mining operations. The quantity upon the premises was a 25lb barrel, which had been opened, and a small portion taken from it; it was kept in a cupboard in one of the upper rooms, and the servant girl being required to fetch some in the morning, she had taken it with her hand instead of the scoop, and the spilled grains, the room having not been since swept, formed a train for a little distance in the room, direct to the barrel. The house was completely filled with company, nearly fifty persons being in it, some in the room above and some below, when one of them in the room above, having snuffed the candles with his fingers, flung the burning snuff on the floor; it unfortunately fell on the train, ignited it, and in an instant the powder in the barrel exploded, and the house was a mass of ruins. An attempt, evincing much presence of mind, however fruitless, was made by William Hartshorne, the son of the landlord, to prevent the disaster. Perceiving the flame from the igniting grains of gunpowder to be running towards the cupboard in which the barrel was kept, he made an effort to extinguish the train, but was instantly blown through the roof; and falling upon the top of the adjoining house, he rolled into the lane, very slightly injured. Happily the gunpowder, from not being confined, did not explode with its greatest force, and had only sufficient power to blow off the roof and fling down the walls, which fell almost entirely outwards, and the company, with a few unfortunate exceptions, escaped almost unharmed. The most serious injuries have been sustained by a man named Abraham Holmes, who received a dreadful blow on the chest, which fractured it and drove it in; and by Mr. Saul, whose face and eyes are much burnt, and who is considered likely to lose his sight. Two other persons are likewise seriously injured. Wolverhampton Chronicle.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/11/1846

“On Saturday last an inquest was held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the sign of the FOX, New Frieze Land, Bilston, on the body of Thomas Cokin, a miner, about forty-nine years of age, who was killed by a brick, which had rested on one of the stays of the shaft, falling on his head while descending a pit with other workmen, in a colliery belonging to Mr. Jones, at Bilston, on Friday morning last. The skull of the deceased was fractured, and he died in about three quarters of an hour afterwards. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Thomas Robinson was fined £2 and costs and his license was endorsed for opening during unlawful hours, in June 1871.

Thomas Robinson died in 1874.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

Mr. Waterhouse appeared for John Davis, beerhouse keeper, Wood Street, Ettingshall, who allied for a spirit license for his house, known as the ROOKERY TAVERN.....

Mr. Barrow opposed on behalf of Henry Hyde, occupier of the FOX beerhouse, and applied for the latter that the license of a house formerly known as the FORGE HAMMER, which had been taken down by Mr. Stephen Thompson, for the erection of his works, might be transferred to the FOX. It was admitted that the premises were not suitable, and plans were put in for the erection of new premises. The wife of the applicant said her husband had taken the premises, which included some land, upon a lease at the rate of £47 a year, and was himself going to take down the premises and rebuild them.

Mr. Hatton, after looking at the plans, said that the buildings shown thereon would not be worth the same money when they were erected.

Mr. Barrow reminded the Bench that the application was only for a provisional order, and if the premises were not afterwards erected in accordance with the requirements of the Act of Parliament, the license could be withheld.

Mr. Marshall, surveyor, of Wolverhampton, said that when the premises shown on the plan were erected they would be worth £30 a year. He did not exactly know the locality, and he made his estimate from the probable cost of the building.

Mr. Waterhouse, in opposition to this, urged that the public requirements would be met by granting by the of a license to John Davis, whose house was already erected.

Some discussions took place as to whether Mr. Stephen Thompson, the owner of the former licensed premises, was willing for the license to be transferred to the FOX, Mr. Barrow stating that he could assure the Bench such was the case, whilst Mr. Waterhouse stated that Mr. Thompson, only a few days ago, had expressed to him a very different opinion Refused.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1877

“Bilston Brewster Sessions.....

The applications from Sedgley were by Henry Hyde, for a full license to new premises at Ettingshall Lane. Mr. Waterhouse said that some years since there was a full licensed house in the vicinity called the FORGE HAMMER, but that house was now turned into a private house Mr. Barrow (Wolverhampton) applied for the provisional transfer of the license of the FORGE HAMMER, which had not lapsed, to the holder of the FOX public house, which the holder of the FORGE HAMMER was now occupying, but which he was about to enlarge, to make it of sufficient value to be a fully-licensed house. Mr. Barrow put in plans for the proposed building. Mr. Waterhouse opposed Mr. Barrow’s application, on the ground that the FOX INN as it stood at present was in perfect ruins, and their Worships were being asked to grant a license to a building that at present was only on paper Refused.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/10/1877

“William Rowley, carter, Lanesfield, was charged with having stolen a fowl and six chickens, the property of Mr. Henry Hyde, beerhouse keeper, Lanesfield. According to the evidence of the prosecutor he missed his fowl on Sunday night, and he did not see them again until they were found upon the prisoner’s premises by Police-constable Wiley.

The prisoner stated that he found the fowl running about the road. He made inquiries of the neighbours, but could not find the owner.

The magistrates gave the prisoner the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case.”

Name changed to FORGE HAMMER

Staffordshire Advertiser 31/8/1878

“Bilston Licensing Day.....

The whole of the existing licenses were renewed, and the following applications for new licenses were all refused..... Henry Hyde, Spring Vale, for a removal of the lapsed license of the FORGE HAMMER to applicant’s beerhouse.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 3/9/1878

“Annual Licensing Sessions. Bilston.

These sessions were held on Saturday as usual, there were several applications for new licenses.....

Mr. E. F. Fisher, of the Oxford Circuit (instructed by Mr. C. Barrow, Wolverhampton), next applied for a full license for Henry Hyde, of the FORGEHAMMER INN, Ettingshall Road. The house had been rebuilt, and the application was for a renewal to the new inn of the license granted to the old one. This was opposed by Mr. Fellows, for Joseph Ward, of the THREE CUPS, Lanesfield. He said this saw a renewal of an application refused last year. There had been no change in the circumstances since then, no new buildings had been erected, and he contended that there was no need for a license. Opposition was also made, through Mr. R. A. Wilcock, by Joseph Preston, BULLS HEAD INN, Catchem, and Mr. B. B. Baker, the OLD ROLLING MILL INN, both of which were in 650 yards of the applicant’s house. There were only fifteen houses between the FORGEHAMMER INN and those of his clients, and only thirty-three houses in the locality. The personal interest of the applicant was consulted before the convenience of the public The Bench refused all the applications without retiring.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1878

“The Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Mr. Stokes applied to the magistrates for them to reconsider an application which was made, but refused, at the annual licensing sessions, when Henry Hyde, of the FORGE HAMMER INN, Spring Vale, Bilston, sought to obtain a victualler’s license. Mr. Stokes said if the magistrates would allow the case to be gone into again he could produce evidence which would show the great necessity of the application being granted. It was, however, pointed out that the application was fully heard by a larger number of magistrates present at the annual licensing sessions than were now present, and as the same magistrates were not on the Bench today it would be unfair to reopen the question. The application was therefore refused.”

London Gazette 8/11/1878

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Henry Hyde, of the FORGE HAMMER, Ettingshall, in the county of Stafford, Publican.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. Charles Barrow, Solicitor, 48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, on the 23rd day of November, 1878, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 5th day of November, 1878.

Charles Barrow, 48, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/11/1878

“A meeting of the creditors of Henry Hyde, of the FORGE HAMMER, Ettingshall, was held on Saturday, at the Offices of Mr. Barrow, solicitor, Wolverhampton. Mr. Alma Turner (Tress and Turner) was in the chair. Mr. Barrow appeared for the debtor.

The statement of affairs showed liabilities £713 8s 3d; assets estimated to produce £160. The debtor was examined at considerable length by the chairman and creditors with reference to his transactions with Mr. W. H. Anderson, wine and spirit merchant; and in order to enable him to give further information as to the securities he had given Mr. Anderson the meeting was adjourned for a week.”

Alfred Thomas Clark = Alfred Thomas Clarke

1881 Census

Spring Road – FORGE HAMMER INN

[1] Alfred Thomas Clark (23), tin plate worker, born Deepfields;

[2] Jemima Jane Clark (24), wife, born Deepfields;

[3] Selina Maud Clark (5 months), daughter, born Deepfields;

[4] Ellen Cope (18), domestic servant, born Bilston:

[Was Alfred Thomas Clark manager here in 1881?]

1891 Census

Spring Road – FORGE HAMMER INN

[1] Alfred Thomas Clark (33), licensed victualler, born Deepfields;

[2] Jemima Jane Clark (34), wife, born Ettingshall;

[3] Selina M. Clark (10), daughter, scholar, born Spring Vale;

[4] Lizzie Edith Clark (9), daughter, scholar, born Spring Vale;

[5] Emma Jane Clark (6), daughter, scholar, born Spring Vale;

[6] Sarah Ann Price (19), domestic servant, born Coseley:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/5/1900

“At a sale by auction, on Wednesday, by Messrs. J. Male and Son, auctioneers, Bilston.....

The FORGE HAMMER INN, Lanesfield, was withdrawn at £2,300.”

1901 Census

28, Spring Road

[1] Alfred Thomas Clarke (43), publican, born Sedgley;

[2] Jemima Jane Clarke (44), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Selina Maud Clarke (20), born Sedgley;

[4] Lizzie Edith Clarke (19), born Sedgley;

[5] Emmie Jane Clarke (16), born Sedgley:

Alfred Thomas Clark, beer retailer, Springvale. [1904]

Alfred Thomas Clark and Jemima Jane Clark – see also ANCHOR, Coseley, Sedgley.

A billiard license was granted on 11th March 1910.

South Staffordshire Times 28/2/1920 - Advert

“A Highly Important Sale by Auction of Seven Licensed Properties finely situated in the heart of the Black Country – All Freehold.

By Order of Major G. Cox. Esq, with Possession On Completion.

The Ante '69 Beer Houses known as:

The STAFFORDSHIRE KNOT, Darlaston

The FORGE HAMMER, Lanesfield.

The TOWNHALL STORES, Bilston.

The ROYAL EXCHANGE, Bilston.

And Building Land near to the FORGE HAMMER, Lanesfield.

Solicitors: Messrs. Hall, Pratt and Pritchard, Bilston.”

1921 Census

Spring Road – FORGE HAMMER INN

[1] John Fellows (54), publican, born Coseley;

[2] Maria A. Fellows (57), wife, assistant, born Bilston;

[3] Esther Fellows (85), mother, widow, retired, born Bilston;

[4] Florence E. Fellows (25), niece, boot and shoe dealer's assistant, born Bilston;

[5] Annie Wood (15), niece, domestic help, born Manchester:

Dudley Chronicle 24/11/1932 - Advert

“Highly Important Announcement of Sale by Auction of 13 Freehold Fully Licensed and Beerhouse Properties, Dwelling Houses and Shops, a Valuable Freehold Property with full Off-License, a block of central business Premises and a Leasehold Property known as the Queens Cross Brewery with the LAMP TAVERN, Dwelling Houses, Offices and Land in Dudley, Stourbridge, Kingswinford, Rowley Regis, Coseley, and Ettingshall.

Alfred W. Dando and Co. have received instructions from Mr. Thomas Woodhouse and the Exors of the Will of the late Mr. Benjamin Woodhouse (trading as Messrs. T. and B. Woodhouse) to Sell by Auction at the DUDLEY ARMS HOTEL, Dudley, on Tuesday, December 13th, 1932, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon precisely, subject to printed Conditions of Sale, as follows.

At Dudley.

Lot 1. The CASTLE AND FALCON INN, Wolverhampton Street. (Fully-Licensed).

Lot 2. The ANGEL INN, Castle Street, corner of Fisher Street. (Fully-Licensed).

Lot 3. The WHITE SWAN INN, Castle Street. (Fully-Licensed).

Lot 5. The ALMA INN, Hall Street. (Fully-Licensed), with the Shop adjoining No.92, occupied by Mrs. Moule, and various ranges of Buildings at the rear, approached from Oakeywell Street.

Lot 6. The COACHMAKERS ARMS INN, Stafford Street. (Fully-Licensed). With the Shop and Dwelling House adjoining.

Lot 7. The DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Cromwell Street, Kates Hill. (Fully-Licensed).

Lot 8. The CROSS GUNS INN, Cross Guns Street, Kates Hill. (Fully-Licensed). With the Dwelling House adjoining.

At Stourbridge.

Lot 10. The EAGLE VAULTS, High Street. (Fully-Licensed). With Blacksmith's Shop adjoining.

At Kingswinford.

Lot 11. The BRIDGE INN, Dawley Brook. (Fully-Licensed).

At Rowley Regis.

Lot 12. The HAILSTONE INN, Springfield. (Fully-Licensed).

At Coseley

Lot 13. The RED LION INN, Roseville. (Beerhouse-On).

Lot 14. The SWAN INN, Deepfields. (Fully-Licensed). With Cottage and Land adjoining.

At Ettingshall.

Lot 15. The FORGE HAMMER INN, Manor Road. (Beerhouse-On). With large area of Land adjoining.

Lot 16. The Leasehold Interest in the LAMP TAVERN, Dudley, and the Brewery Premises with the two private Dwelling Houses adjoining.

Note: The Auctioneers have every confidence in directing the attention of Brewers and others to the sale of the foregoing licensed and other properties occasioned by the death of Mr. Benjamin Woodhouse, who managed the business. Eight of the houses are situate in prominent positions in and around the town of Dudley and the remainder within a radius of five miles and all will be found to be well chosen for trading purposes and in good structural order and repair.

Full particulars and conditions of Sale are in course of preparation and may be obtained when ready, and the lease of the Brewery Premises inspected, at the offices of Messrs. Jobson and Marshall, Solicitors, 199, Wolverhampton Street (Tele. No.2041); or of the Auctioneers, 193, Wolverhampton Street (Tele. No.2256); all of Dudley.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/12/1932

“There was a large sale of Black Country licensed premises at Dudley yesterday. Thirteen properties realised £37,400, in addition to out-going valuations. The houses sold were.....

FORGE HAMMER INN, Ettingshall, Bilston, £2,300.”

1939 Register

28, Spring Road (3 of 4)

[1] Ernest G. Perkins, date of birth 26/8/1881, licensee, beerhouse, married;

[2] Ethel Perkins, dob 13/9/1885, general duties of house, married;

[3] Evelyn F. (Perkins) Price, 31/10/1916, driller and presser, single;

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 28/4/1974

“.....In Wolverhampton we find 53-year-old Councillor Samuel Reynolds who used to don robes of a different sort. Many years ago, he was a professional boxer – a star of the ring who was once a contender for the world flyweight title and who faced up to the best the world had to offer before and after the war years. After fist fighting, he took to local politics and he told me, ‘If I had my time again I would do the same thing.’

Nowadays, as a publican running the FORGE HAMMER in Spring Road, Lanesfield, Councillor Reynolds enjoys a different kind of round.”

Express & Star 21/8/2008

“A landlord known for ‘pulling the best glass of beer in Wolverhampton’ has died aged 88.

Dennis Jones was today described as a ‘true gentleman,’ having stood behind the bar of the FORGE HAMMER in Lanesfield for a decade from 1974 to 1984. He also worked at the ROCKET POOL and OLD BUSH in Bradley and the DOG AND PARTRIDGE in Bilston. Mr. Jones, of Bamber Close, Bradmore, was married to Pat, who died five-and-a-half years ago. They had five children, David, now 64, Alan, 62, Brenda, 56, Andrew, 53, and Mark, 45.

Daughter Brenda, who lives in Lanesfield, said her father was a well-known member of the community. ‘He was a very quiet man,’ Mrs. Paddock said today. ‘Mum was the bubbly one behind the bar but dad was well-known for pulling the best glass of beer in the city. People would always tell him that. He was a meticulous landlord and a true gentleman.’

Mr. Jones died of a heart problem on August 13. He moved into the pub trade aged 51 after working as a tool maker at firms including Villiers and Jone Hawk Engineers.

Mrs. Paddock added, ‘He was a wonderful dad. He never told us what to do – just gave out advice when we needed it. He very rarely raised his voice, because he didn’t need to. He commanded such respect. He was a very amiable person and was very well-read and articulate. He enjoyed working behind the bar and meeting people but I think he moved into the trade for mum really.’ Mrs. Paddock said her father enjoyed gardening and reading. ‘He also loved his animals and was very upset when his dogs and cats passed away,’ she added. Mrs. Paddock had been her father’s full-time carer for two-and-a-half years.

His funeral will take place at Bushbury Crematorium on Wednesday at 2pm.”

Dennis Jones – see also OLD BUSH, Bradley, ROCKET POOL and DOG AND PARTRIDGE.

John Freeman was married to Jan.

Express and Star 9/8/1999 - Advert

“Single trading area community operation. Bar with games area. Car Park. Purely wet led and games oriented. 3 bedroom private accommodation. Last 12 months wet trade – 120 barrels. Tenancy. Approximate ingoings £2,500.”

It reopened in June 2007 after a £40,000 refurbishment.

[2008]

Express & Star 3/10/2009

“One in three Black Country pubs currently up for sale could be flattened, according to a report from estate agents released today. Birmingham-based Fleurets have 34 pubs currently for sale in the Black Country but at least 10 of those will be wiped off the map when sold. It has almost £8 million worth of pubs on offer, many of which have been up for sale for more than a year. Scores of pubs had disappeared in the region in the last five years, many of them knocked down for housing. With the downturn, a number of pub sites remain empty as redevelopment work has halted until the economy improves.

Fleurets sales associate Andy Tudor today said the pub property market had been harder hit by the recession than other businesses. He said, ‘Licensees needed to cope with the smoking ban first and then the recession landed. Prices of licensed property have fallen quite notably and certain sectors of the market remain very, very difficult – but for the right property we have still been doing brisk business. Around one in three of our sales of pubs are recommended for alternative development.’

Wolverhampton has several pubs on the market, including the FORGE HAMMER in Spring Road, Lanesfield, for £125,000, which is now closed.”

Closed [2009], [2010]

It was converted into a café.

AT ETTINGSHALL,
LOT 15.
THE “FORGE HAMMER” INN MANOR
ROAD, (BEERHOUSE-ON).

1932

Samuel Reynolds

Plan 1970

FOUNTAIN

12, Parliament Street, (Pet Street), Green Croft, BILSTON

OWNERS

Mrs. Martin, widow, Wolverhampton Road, Bilston
Mrs. M J Bent, Belper

LICENSEES

William Homer [1856] – [1861]
George Cockayne [1871] – 1877;
Charles Cockayne (1877 – 1879);
Richard Wild (1879 – 1880);
Alfred Patrick (1880);
John Roberts (1880 – 1889);
Mary Roberts (1889);
Thomas Bennett (1889 – 1893);
Esther Hughes (1893 – 1894);
George Edge Callear (1894 – 1895);
William Bould (1895);

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 2/3/1856

“J. Hesletine of Bilston has a novice that he will match against any man in the world to run five score yards for £5 or £10 a side. His height is 5 feet 2 inches; weight 11 score 10lb. Money ready any night next week at Mr. Homer's, FOUNTAIN INN, Parliament Street, Bilston.”

1861 Census

12, Parliament Street – FOUNTAIN INN
[1] William Homer (30), agent and retail brewer, born Dudley;
[2] Harriot Homer (30), wife, born Bilston;
[3] Jane Homer (4), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
[4] Frances Cock (21), general servant, born Bilston;
[5] William Henry Homer (59), father, widower, gentleman, born Bilston;
[6] Mary Bill (64), widow, mother-in-law, born Bilston:

1871 Census

Parliament Street – FOUNTAIN
[1] George Cockayne (55), beerhouse keeper, born Great Haywood, Staffordshire;
[2] Maria Cockayne (54), wife, born Staffordshire;
[3] Charles Cockayne (20), son, engine fitter, born Bilston;
[4] Julia Deakin (16), general servant, born Bilston;
[5] John Turner (22), lodger, tinplate worker, born Wednesbury:

George Cockayne died in the 3rd quarter of 1877.

THE BILSTON AMATEUR
EXCELSIOR STRING BAND,
Is now open for Engagements. For Terms, &c.,
Apply to
JOHN ROBERTS, Parliament Street, Bilston.

1883

CHRISTMAS, 1886.
— — —
THE BILSTON EXCELSIOR BRASS AND REED BAND.
— — —
The above Band will have the pleasure of visiting their friends during the Christmas Festivities, and perform selections of appropriate music.
The patronage and support of the generous public are respectfully solicited.
JOHN ROBERTS, Secretary.
1886

1881 Census

12, Parliament Street

- [1] John Roberts (44), coal miner, born Bilston;
- [2] Mary Roberts (43), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Joseph Hodgkiss (70), boarder, widower, coal miner, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/6/1883 - Advert

"The Bilston Amateur Excelsior String Band is now open for Engagements. For Terms, &c, apply to John Roberts, Parliament Street, Bilston."

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/12/1886 - Advert

"Christmas 1886. The Bilston Excelsior Brass and Reed Band.

The above Band will have the pleasure of visiting their friends during the Christmas Festivities, and perform selections of appropriate music.

The patronage and support of the generous public are respectfully solicited.

John Roberts, Secretary."

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/4/1887 - Advert

"The Bilston Excelsior Brass and Reed Band.

This Band may be engaged for Galas, Processions, Excursions, and Concerts, with or without a uniform.

For terms apply to John Roberts, Secretary, Parliament Street, Bilston."

John Roberts died on 26th July 1889.

THE BILSTON EXCELSIOR BRASS AND REED BAND.

THIS Band may be engaged for Galas, Processions, Excursions, and Concerts, with or without uniform. —For terms apply to John Roberts Secretary, Parliament Street, Bilston.

1891 Census

12, Parliament Street

- [1] Thomas Bennett (42), publican and iron moulder, born Tettenhall;
- [2] Lucy Bennett (40), wife, waitress, born Oldbury;
- [3] Thomas Bennett (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Joseph Bennett (3), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Frederick Bennett (3 months), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Alice Bunting (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Sporting Life 8/9/1894

"On Thursday Mr. Sam Hughes, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bilston, and Mr. Arthur Aston, of the FOX AND GOOSE HOTEL, Penn, near Wolverhampton, ran forty-one yards, Hughes in receipt of six, at Mount Pleasant House, Ormsdale. Mr. C. Adamson, of Bristol, was pistol-firer, and Mr. Tom Jones referee. Any odds were offered on Hughes, who won at leisure, as Mr. Aston stopped after going about five yards. Another match was then made and decided between Hughes and Mr. Harley, of the OAK INN, Penn, on the same terms. Betting 5 to 4 on Hughes, who won easily by three yards."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/10/1894

"Mr. Neville (stipendiary) was occupied for a long time yesterday, at the Bilston Police Court, in hearing cases arising out of a raid on public houses in Bilston, Willenhall, and the neighbourhood.....

Mr. J. E. Underhill applied for an adjournment with regard to Esther Hughes, the landlady of the FOUNTAIN INN, Parliament Street, Bilston, with permitting betting on her premises. It was stated that there had not been sufficient information supplied to the defendants. The cases were adjourned to the Wolverhampton Police Court on the 31st inst."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/11/1894

“Several publicans from Bilston were summoned before the Stipendiary at Wolverhampton, yesterday, for offences against the Licensing and Betting Acts.....

Esther Hughes, landlady of the FOUNTAIN INN, Bilston, was fined £11 and £3 costs the offences were proved by police officers imported from Handsworth, who visited the suspected houses in disguise.”

AND

“At the Wolverhampton Police Court, yesterday Esther Hughes, landlady of the FOUNTAIN INN, Pet Street, Bilston, was summoned for permitting betting to be carried on on her premises on two separate dates. The cases were proved, and in one case a fine of £10 and the costs was imposed, and in the other 20s and the costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/8/1895

“Bilston Brewster Sessions.....

The police opposed the renewal of the licenses attached to the NEW INN, Oxford Street, Bilston; the MALT SHOVEL INN, Oxford Street Bilston; the RED LION INN, Bilston, the FOUNTAIN INN, Parliament Street, Bilston; and the ORANGE TREE INN, Ettingshall. Infringement of the licensing laws were the grounds of the objection in each case, with the exception of the ORANGE TREE INN, the landlord of which had been sentenced to two months' imprisonment for assaulting his wife. The whole of the licenses were renewed with the exception of the FOUNTAIN INN, the consideration of which was to be held over until the adjourned licensing sessions.”

The license renewal was refused at the Annual Licensing Meeting on 27th September 1895.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1895

“The adjourned licensing sessions for the district were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

Mr. E. B. Thorneycroft applied for the renewal of the license of the FOUNTAIN INN, Pet Street, Bilston, on behalf of the tenant (Mr. William Bould) and Mr. R. Tildesley represented the owners. The application was opposed by Superintendent Walters on the ground that there had been two convictions against the last tenant for betting, and one against the present tenant for permitting drunkenness. The magistrates declined to grant the renewal.”

Closed

Demolished

FOUNTAIN

29, (56), (36), Ward Street, Ettingshall, (Priestfield), BILSTON

OWNERS

William Hyde Snr.
Catherine Esther Taylor
John Large, ironworker, Villiers Street, Blakenhall, Wolverhampton
Eley's Stafford Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

Henry Hyde [1861]
William Hyde the Elder [1862] – 1873);
William Hyde the Younger (1873 – 1876);
William Hyde the Elder (1876 – 1877);
William Hyde the Younger (1877 – 1878);
James Taylor (1878 – 1885);
Catherine Esther Taylor (1885 – 1900);
Ellen Higgs (1900 – 1901);
Joseph 'Joe' Large (1901 – 1905);
Richard Bates (1905 – 1906);
William Fellows (1906 – 1908);
James Collins (1908 – 1910);
James Arthur Collins (1910 – 1912);
John Saunders Large (1912 – 1921);
Emma Large (1921 – 1927):

NOTES

36, Ward Street [1881]
56, Ward Street [1891]
29, Ward Street [1901], [1904], [1911], [1921], [1928]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

William Hyde, retailer of beer, Ettingshall. [1862]
William Hyde, beer retailer, Ward Street. [1865], [1868]

1871 Census

Ward Street

- [1] William Hyde (71), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Rebecca Hyde (71), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Mary A. Hyde (14), grand-daughter, general servant, born Sedgley;

Sale at the Fountain Inn, Ward Street, near Ettingshall Station, Bilston.—To be Sold by Auction.
BY Mr. GEO. THOMAS, THIS DAY (Tuesday), February 12—the whole of the excellent BREWING PLANT, the property of the late Mr. Hyde, deceased; Malt Crusher, Mash Tub, pair of Vats lined with lead, wrought-iron 140 gallon Boiler, a copper-bottom Sieve, Iron Safe, and a variety of other useful Articles.
A quantity of Sweet Casks, various sizes.
Sale at 11.
Auctioneer's Office, Market Place, Great Bridge.

1878

A substantially erected, brick-built and slate-roofed, double-fronted Property, formerly known as the "FOUNTAIN INN," but now de-licensed, situate and being Number 29, WARD ST., PRIESTFIELD, containing Entrance Passage, Two Front Sitting Rooms, Sitting Room at Back, Kitchen, Five Rooms on the first floor and Cellar in the basement, together with Yard, having side approach, Stable, with loft over, and the usual Out-buildings, as now in hand.

The foregoing Property can easily be converted into Two Dwelling Houses, and is being sold with the advantage of Vacant Possession upon completion.

1928

Birmingham Mail 18/12/1877

“At Wolverhampton yesterday, at an inquest held on the body of William Hyde, moulder, at Priestfield, the wife of the deceased stated that her husband died on Thursday last from injuries sustained while at work eleven weeks ago. He was regularly attended by a local medical man up to his death, and after that occurred Mr. Cresswell, of Wolverhampton, surgeon to the Accidental Assurance Society, in which deceased's life was insured for £1,000, made a post mortem examination without her consent. The coroner said he forbore to make any observations as to this proceeding, which he had not been asked to permit. He should order an independent surgeon to open the body, and if it was found that any attempt had been made to defeat the ends of justice, he should take steps have the matter thoroughly sifted. The inquest was adjourned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/12/1877

“Mr. W. H. Phillips, coroner, concluded an adjourned inquest at Priestfield, on, Friday, on the body of William Hyde (42), a moulder, and landlord of the FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, who, whilst working at the foundry of Mr. A. Hickman, Spring Vale, on the 2nd October, sustained a severe blow over the stomach by the chain of a crane, and died on the 13th inst.

The deceased was attended first by a surgeon, and as he continued to grow worse two physicians were summoned. Mr. Cresswell, of Wolverhampton, examined the deceased twice on behalf of the Railway Passengers Insurance Company, with whom he had assured for £1,000. Later on, as the patient was depressed, he continued to complain of acute pain and of difficulty in swallowing; he was removed to the Wolverhampton hospital, where he stopped for a week, but as he did not recover he was taken home again, where he eventually died.

On the 15th inst Mr. Cresswell, with assistance, made a post mortem examination. On the 18th inst Mr. Vincent Jackson, surgeon, Wolverhampton, made a post mortem examination, by order of the coroner. Mr. Jackson said that the fact of a previous examination having been made very much militated against his being able to arrive at a correct conclusion as to the cause of death. Mr. Jackson was not able to state the immediate cause of death; it appeared to be exhaustion, due apparently to want of food.

The Coroner, in summing up, very much regretted that they had only partially heard that evidence to which as jurymen they were entitled, having been deprived of the remainder through the fact that the body was before their view of it, and before the post mortem examination made on their behalf, mutilated, some parts of it being destroyed. The first examination was most improper, as in cases where an inquest was necessary proper authority ought to be obtained. He had now simply to ask the jury what in their opinion was the cause of the deceased's death, but if they considered that the proper course of justice had been in any way impeded they could remark upon it along with their verdict. He considered it only right that some active measures should be taken to prevent any surgeon acting on behalf of an insurance company from invading the homes of deceased persons, or mutilating their remains so as to prevent a proper legal enquiry. The deceased's friends would have been perfectly justified in treating the invaders as trespassers.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and requested the coroner to send a copy of the evidence and verdict, and the following observations to the Home Secretary: The jury consider a most improper proceeding has taken place in the mutilation of the body of the deceased before they had the view of it; and they consider such improper mutilation most detrimental to the interests of justices, more particularly when it is done by the agent of an insurance company, or any interested person.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/2/1878 - Advert

“Sale at the FOUNTAIN INN, Ward Street, near Ettingshall Station, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Geo. Thomas, This Day (Tuesday), February 12.

The whole of the excellent Brewing Plant, the property of the late Mr. Hyde, deceased; Malt Crusher, Mash Tub, pair of Vats lined with lead, wrought-iron 140-gallon Boiler, a copper-bottom Sieve, Iron Safe, and a variety of other useful Articles.

A quantity of Sweet Casks, various sizes.

Sale at 11.

Auctioneer's Offices, Market Place, Great Bridge.”

William Hyde the Younger died in 1878.

1881 Census

36, Ward Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] James Taylor (55), coal miner and beerhouse keeper, born Ettingshall;
- [2] Catherine E. Taylor (55), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Phoebe Cooper (17), domestic servant, born Wallbrook:

James Taylor died in the 2nd quarter of 1885.

1891 Census

56, Ward Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] Catherine Taylor (60), widow, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Mary Whitehouse (70), sister, widow, lives on her own means, born Sedgley:

1901 Census

29, Ward Street

- [1] Ellen Higgs (39), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Priestfield;
- [2] Deborah Steventon (22), domestic servant, born Ladymoor;
- [3] Ellen Micklewright (43), visitor, born Priestfield:

Sporting Life 10/7/1901

“The followers of rabbit coursing, pedestrianism, pigeon shooting, canine racing, &c, will be pleased to hear that Mr. Joe Large, of Wolverhampton (late of the Builders Arms Grounds, Wolverhampton), and who is well known throughout the country as a popular rabbit coursing official, is now again in harness as a publican, having taken the FOUNTAIN VAULTS at Priestfield, situated between Wolverhampton and Bilston. It was while at the Wolverhampton Grounds that Mr. Large revived canine sport, and we wish him every success in his old role as publican.”

Sporting Life 2/11/1901

“Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

This enclosure was fairly well patronised last Thursday to witness the proprietor’s (Mr. Frank Lloyd) All-England Rabbit-coursing Sweepstakes. Conditions: Open for all species, nothing barred, weigh in one yard to the pound, to course the best of three courses, 60 yards law, the deciding course the best of five. A fair company assembled. Ten nominations were obtained, including several of the crack coursing dogs in England, and these were classified into five divisions, and, as some splendid rabbits were provided, spirited wagering ensued over the various trials, which were of an interesting character.....

Mr. John Turner was starter, whilst the evergreen Joe Large, mine host of the FOUNTAIN VAULTS, Priestfield, Wolverhampton (appointed by the Sporting Life) gave every satisfaction as referee.”

Sporting Life 17/9/1902

“Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton.....

Mr. Corbett’s Clara, of Bloxwich, and Mr. Nicholls’ Doubt, of Wednesfield, ran 200 yards, Doubt conceding Clara one yard start, for £10. Both dogs, which are of the small weight class, are winners of handicaps, and their meeting evoked keen interest. Clara was trained and slipped by Mr. Joe Large, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, Wolverhampton, whilst Tom Gregory, of Walsall, had the handling of Doubt. The latter scaled 12½lb and Clara 11½lb. Doubt was the most fancied, and proved a strong favourite at 6 to 4 on. A capital race ensued for three-quarters of the distance, and then Doubt caught Clara, and finishing in a game manner, finally passed the crease a clever winner by two yards.”

Sporting Life 28/1/1903

“Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.....

On Monday last Mr. J. Shephard’s Tommy Atkins and Mr. J. Hackett’s Vic, both hailing from the ancient town of Dudley, met to run the best of twenty-one courses, the rabbits being allowed 60 yards law with an interval of 5min between each trial, weigh-in 1 yard to the lb, for £10 a side. Both dogs are well known performers, and their meeting caused keen interest in and round the sporting districts of Dudley, so a capital company of sports of all grades and conditions put in an appearance.

Both dogs received a special preparation for this engagement, Vic being placed in the hands of that experienced canine and pedestrian trainer and pigeon shot, Mr. Joe Large, of the FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, Wolverhampton; whilst Tommy Atkins was drilled by his owner.....”
[Vic won 11-3.]

Joseph Large, beer retailer, 29, Ward Street. [1904]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/12/1909 - Advert

“For Sale, four Six-roomed Houses, situated Hall Park Street, Priestfield; also two Seven-roomed ditto and two Six-roomed Houses, Mars Street, Priestfield. All at valuation, or reasonable offer taken. Good value for investor. Only want seeing.

Apply, James Collins, FOUNTAIN INN, Ward Street, Priestfield.”

1911 Census

29, Ward Street – FOUNTAIN INN

- [1] Arthur Collins (28), bricklayer, born, Stafford;
- [2] Hannah Collins (26), wife, married 5 years, born Bilston;
- [3] Dora Collins (7), daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [4] Alice Collins (5), daughter, school, born Bilston;
- [5] Gladys Collins (4), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Arthur Collins (10 months), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Florrie Collins (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [8] Rose Humpage (19), domestic servant, born Bilston:

John Saunders Large was fined £1 and costs, on 5th May 1916, for serving beer exceeding the measure called for.

1921 Probate

“John Saunders Large of the FOUNTAIN INN, Ward Street, Priestfield, Wolverhampton, died 29 March 1921. Probate Lichfield 5 July to Emma Large, widow, and Elijah Plant, cycle brazer. Effects £1,845 16s 4d.”

1921 Census

29, Ward Street – FOUNTAIN

- [1] Emma Large (54), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Doris Large (25), daughter, barmaid Theatre Royal, Wolverhampton, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Edith Large (18), daughter, home duties, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Florence Phillips (26), daughter, home duties, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Thomas Phillips (29), son-in-law, fitter, iron and steel works, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William Grice (39), boarder, holder-up, engineers, born Oakengates, Shropshire;
- [7] Betty Phillips (1), grand-daughter (1), born Priestfield:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1927

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. Notice of Principal Meeting. County of Stafford.

Notice is hereby given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday, the 19th day of July, 1927, at 11 o'clock am.

And Notice is hereby also given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licences of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District).

List of Licensed Premises.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, Bilston. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee Emma Large.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/7/1927

“.....at the principal meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Compensation Authority held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....

The licence referral of the FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, Bilston, was unopposed by the owner, and was not renewed.”

Compensation was paid in December 1927.

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/1/1928

“Annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

At the Principal Meeting of the Compensation Authority held on July 19, the Committee refused to renew 13 out of 16 licenses referred to them. At the Supplemental Meeting the Committee fixed the compensation of the undermentioned 12 cases as follows.....

FOUNTAIN INN, Priestfield, beerhouse, ante-1869. £1,550.

In all the before-mentioned cases the money had been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and would be paid on 24th of December instant.”

Dudley Chronicle 26/1/1928

“Notice of Sale by Auction of an Off-Licence and Grocer’s Shop, a Delicensed Property, and a Block of Dwelling House Property at Daisy Bank, Priestfield and Willenhall.

Alfred W. Dando and Co. have received instructions to Sell by Auction at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on Tuesday, January 31st, 1928, at Seven o’clock in the Evening precisely.....

Lot 2. A substantially erected, brick-built and slate-roofed, double fronted Property, formerly known as the FOUNTAIN INN, but now de-licensed, situate and being No.29, Ward Street, Priestfield, containing Entrance Passage, Two Front Sitting Rooms, Sitting Room at Back, Kitchen, Five Rooms on the first floor and Cellar in the basement, together with Yard, having side approach, Stable, with loft over, and the usual Out-buildings, as now in hand.

The foregoing Property can easily be converted into Two Dwelling Houses, and is being sold with the advantage of Vacant Possession upon completion.”

FOUR HORSE SHOES

Broad Lanes, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mary Harper [1828] – [1830]

FOX

4, Ash Street, Bradley, (Daisy Bank), (Brierley), BILSTON

OWNERS

Smith, coalmaster, Dudley
Edward Gettings, licensee
Julia Hanson and Sons Ltd. [1910], [1914]

LICENSEES

Benjamin Harrison [1862] – [1863]
A Wood [1863] – [1866]
Alexander Paul [1871] – 1873;
Samuel Foxon (1873 – 1874);
William Sambrook (1874 – 1875);
Israel Bailey (1875 – 1876);
Edward Gettings (1876 – 1891);
John Ashcroft (1891 – 1892);
Emma Louisa Elliman (1892 – 1893);
Thomas Holdnell (1893 – 1894);
Edward Gettings (1894 – 1898);
Richard Davies (1898 – 1902);
William Henry Hutchinson (1902 – 1904);
Joseph Reynolds (1904 – 1906);
George Norton (1906 – 1912);
Mary Ann Waterhouse (1912 – 1914);
George Maddox (1914);

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861.
IN THE COUNTY COURT OF WORCESTERSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT DUDLEY.
IN the Matter of BENJAMIN HARRISON, of
Daisy Bank, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Publican and Cinder Dealer, Bankrupt.—Whereas at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt, Notice is hereby given, that an ORDER of DISCHARGE will be drawn up and delivered to the said Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.—Dated this Second day of April, 1863.
(Signed) F. H. BOOTT, Messenger.

1863

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

London Gazette 2/1/1863

“Benjamin Harrison, of Daisy Bank, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Publican and Cinder Dealer, having been adjudged bankrupt under a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the County Court of Worcestershire, holden at Dudley, on the 30th day of December, 1862, is hereby required to surrender himself to Thomas Walker, Esq, the Registrar of the said Court, at the first meeting of creditors to be held before the said Registrar, on the 15th day of January instant, at ten o’clock in the forenoon precisely, at the said Court. Thomas Walker, Esq, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. William Cole Maltby, of Dudley, is the Solicitor acting in the bankruptcy.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/4/1863 - Notice

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the County Court of Worcestershire, holden at Dudley.

In the Matter of Benjamin Harrison, of Daisy Bank, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Publican and Cinder Dealer, Bankrupt.

Whereas at a Public Sitting of the Court held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the said Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgement of the said Court.

Dated this 2nd day of April, 1863.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/6/1863

“Benjamin Harrison, landlord of the FOX beerhouse, Daisy Bank, was yesterday summoned to the Police Court on the charge of having kept his house open during prohibited hours.

Police-constable Hughes said that at half-past eleven o’clock on Wednesday night he found thirteen men in the house, and two or three jugs of ale on the taproom table. The defendant said he had recently had his clock cleaned. The Bench observed that this was a very common complaint amongst innkeepers, whom they would recommend to engage the services of some experienced hands in that calling. The charge, they considered, had been proved, and the defendant would therefore be fined 5s and the costs.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/11/1863

“T. Baker of Coseley and T. Price of Tipton have signed articles to run 100 yards, for £5 a side, on Monday, Dec 7 (Price having given Baker a douceur of ground). £1 a side is down in the hands of Mr. Shepards, the SHINGLERS ARMS, Tipton, who is final stakeholder and referee, and a further deposit of 30s a side is to be made on Monday next, at Mr. Wood’s, FOX INN, Daisy Bank. The men to start by mutual consent in twenty minutes, or by first report of a pistol.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/11/1864

“T. Rogers of Daisy Bank is surprised that S. Hodgkiss should ask for three yards start, but if he means making a match Rogers will take one yard in 100 or two in 120, for £10 or £25 a side; the race to come off at Aston Cross Grounds in a month from signing articles. A match can be made at Wood’s, FOX INN, Daisy Bank.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 28/10/1865

“W. Guicuy of Hall Green will run T. Holloway of Lady Moor 100 yards level, or take two yards of him in 120, for £5 a side. Money ready any night next week at A. Wood’s, FOX INN, Daisy Bank.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 30/6/1866

“J. Skeldon of Princes End is surprised S. Hollyhead wanting a start of him, but will take two yards in 100, or he will run Banks of Daisy Bank 100 yards with a yard start, or G. Brueton can be on 100 yards level. Either match for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at A. Wood’s, FOX INN, Daisy Bank.”

1871 Census

4, Ash Street

[1] Alexander Paul (33), sheet iron roller, born Sedgley;

[2] Sarah Paul (32), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] William Paul (8), son, born Sedgley;

[4] Elizabeth Paul (6), daughter, born Sedgley;

[5] Selina Paul (4), daughter, born Sedgley;

[6] Hannah J. Paul (3), daughter, born Sedgley;

[7] Margrett Paul (1), daughter, born Sedgley;

[8] Lucy Stokes (15), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

Alexander Paul – see also HIMLEY ARMS.

William Sambrook was convicted on 27th January 1874 for permitting drunkenness.
He was convicted again on 16th October 1874 for the same offence.

Birmingham Daily Post 19/10/1874

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, before Messrs. W. Hatton and W. H. Rogers.....

William Sandford [sic], landlord of the FOX beerhouse, Daisy Bank, was charged with having had his house open after eleven o'clock at night. On the 28th ult, at fifteen minutes past the hour fixed for closing, Police-constables Parsons and Lawrence found the defendant's house open, and a woman named Mason inside drinking. Mr. Stokes (Dudley), on behalf of the defendant, pleaded that Mason had during the day been charing at the house, and that she was merely having her supper.

The same officers, on Saturday, the 10th inst, saw an intoxicated man enter the house and drink with two other drunken men. In reply to this, Mr. Stokes urged that the man had not been supplied with drink, and was only sharing in the purchase of a customer. The defendant had been previously convicted of a similar offence this year, and he was now fined £2 and costs, and his license ordered to be endorsed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/8/1875

“Yesterday, there was an annual licensing meeting for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division.....

Chief-superintendent McCrea presented the ‘black list.’ The beerhouse keepers who had been fined during the year were.....

William Sambrook, FOX INN, Bradley, permitting drunkenness twice, £2 and £5 and costs.....

All the old licenses would be renewed, excepting those of holders who had been convicted. Their applications would be deferred until the adjourned licensing day. In the case of the SWAN and the FOX, both at Bradley, special applications for renewal must be made, for most probably the license of each would be revoked.”

Israel Bailey = Israel Bayley

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1875

“Bilston Adjourned Brewster Sessions.....

Mr. Fellows supported the application of Mr. J. [sic] Bayley, the FOX, Daisy Bank, who had conducted the business without complaint, but whose predecessor had been twice fined License renewed.”

Edward Gettings = Edward Gittings = Edward Gethings

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Edward Gettings, FOX INN, Daisy Bank, Bradley, permitting drunkenness, 20s and costs. There were two convictions during the occupancy of a former landlord....

The whole of the licenses in the ‘black list,’ it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions.”

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned licensing sessions.]

1881 Census

4, Ash Street

[1] Edward Gettings (44), licensed victualler, born Cheshire;

[2] Mary Gettings (38), wife, born Ladymore [Ladymoor], Staffordshire;

[3] Louisa Gettings (20), daughter, born Daisy Bank;

[4] Betsy Gettings (16), daughter, born Daisy Bank;

[5] Eliza Jane Gettings (8), daughter, born Daisy Bank;

[6] Mary Gettings (6), daughter, born Daisy Bank;

[7] Edith Gettings (8 months), daughter, born Daisy Bank:

Darlaston Weekly Times 18/11/1882

“A successful club supper was held on Saturday evening at the FOX INN, Ash Street, Bradley, where a capital spread was placed upon the tables by host Gethings, and done ample justice to by those present. After supper, Mr. J. Harris presided, and a good evening's enjoyment was had by all the guests.”

1891 Census

4, Ash Street

- [1] Edward Gettings (54), beer seller, born Hollins Wood, Shropshire;
- [2] Mary Gettings (48), wife, born Lady Moor;
- [3] Mary Maria Gettings (15), daughter, born Daisy Bank;
- [4] Eda Alice Gettings (11), daughter, scholar, born Daisy Bank;
- [5] Richard Davis (25), lodger, boatman, born Daisy Bank;
- [6] Edward Davis (9), grand-son, born Daisy Bank:

Birmingham Daily Post 3/3/1893 - Advert

“Beerhouse, doing good trade. In-going £60. FOX INN, Daisy Bank.
Apply, Mrs. Hanson, Brewer, Dudley.”

BEEHOUSE, doing good trade. In-going £60. For Inn, Daisy Bank.—Apply, Mrs. Hanson, Brewer, Dudley.

Edward Gittings, beer retailer, Ash Street, Bradley. [1896]

Richard Davies = Richard Davis

1901 Census

4, Ash Street

- [1] Richard Davies (33), boat steerer, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Davies (25), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Violet Davies (3), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Edward Davies (18), nephew, shoe maker, born Sedgley;
- [5] Edward Gettings (64), step-father, widower, living on own means, born Hollingswood, Shropshire:

William Henry Hutchinson, beer retailer, Ash Street, Bradley. [1904]

Staffordshire Sentinel 18/10/1906

“Stafford Quarter Sessions.....

Unita Hamer (58), Sarah Pedderton (21), and Lenora Hamer (18), hawkers, were indicted with having obtained a dozen bottles of stout, six bottles of beer, six packets of cigarettes, 2oz of tobacco, and one gallon of ale, and £3 2s 6d in money, the property of George Norton, of Daisy Bank, Bilston, on the 6th September. Mr. Dorset and Mr. Lawrence appeared for the defence, and Mr. Beynon Harris and Mr. B. C. Brough was for the prosecution.

Theodosia Norton, wife of the landlord of the FOX INN, Daisy Bank, told a story of the visit of the three defendants, who were of the gipsy class, to her house. The old woman said they were employed by ‘their master’ and had taken a field for the purpose of setting up swing boats, shooting galleries, &c, and showing the landlady seven sovereigns, said they wanted to order a quantity of beer for 35 men who were with the show. The landlady undertook to execute the order, and the old lady then asked if they could be supplied with dinner. They partook of the meal, and the bottled beer and stout, the subject of the charge, were ordered and placed upon the table. It was stated that Lenora was to be married, and the elder defendant again spoke up and said that they would want to spend £2 in mineral waters, £5 in liquors, and £5 in beer, and Lenora asked the landlady if she would give her the pair of glass slippers which stood on the mantelpiece. At this point a young man came in and complained that the women were enjoying themselves while the men were waiting on the field. The women began to talk to each other about money supposed to be owing by the young women. But the old woman said, ‘No, we got on the spree last night; they all got mixed up as they had not seen each other for 18 years.’ The old woman still holding the £7 in her hand, or putting it on the table with her hand over it, said to the landlady that she wanted some groceries, and asked her to lend her £3 2s 6d, saying, ‘Fetch me the money so that we do not get mixed up.’ (Laughter, in which we learned chairman joined.) The landlady sent her daughter for the money and gave it to the old woman who at once put it in her pocket together with the £7 which the landlady was waiting to receive and which the old lady had held in her hand. The old lady took up some of the bottled beer and said she would be in again in a short time to settle up. There seemed to be a dramatic exit of the prisoners, one going out through one door and the other going through another way. The landlady began to suspect something was wrong, and going to the door saw there were no shows in the field indicated. At the same time she saw prisoners coming out of a side street with a horse and trap. She at once ran and took hold of the horse’s head and asked them where they were going, and told them to give her her money back and pay for the bottled stuff they had taken away. The young man pushed the landlady from the horse's head, but she at once ran to the back of the trap and taking hold of the old lady, dragged her out of the conveyance, and the young women drove away. During this incident the women threw a quantity of whisky over the landlady and threatened to tell the police that spirits had been fetched to the premises which was only a beerhouse. The whisky was fetched to the house as the old lady said she could not drink beer.

A daughter of the landlady corroborated, and added that when the wedding incident was mentioned the women invited her to the festivities. Later in the evening one of the women came to the house again, and asked for a carpet that had been left and offered some money to square the matter. This was refused, and the matter was in the hands of the police. Some amusement was caused in court by this witness describing that the incident took place before dinner, and in cross-examination it transpired that the gipsies had the dinner that had been prepared for the family. Prisoners were found guilty of stealing, and as there were previous convictions against the old lady she was sent to gaol for three months with hard labour, and the two young women to one month each with hard labour."

1911 Census

4, Ash Street

- [1] George Norton (50), engineer's fitter and turner, born Bradley;
- [2] Theodore Norton (48), wife, married 29 years, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Prudence Norton (21), daughter, dressmaking, born Bradley;
- [4] Samuel Norton (17), son, engineer's turner, born Bradley;
- [5] Maud Norton (15), daughter, born Bradley;
- [6] Harry Norton (12), son, school, born Bradley;
- [7] Harold Lane Norton (8), son, school, born Bradley;
- [8] Martha Elizabeth Ryan (24), visitor, daughter, born Princes End;
- [9] Lawrence Norton Ryan (3), visitor, born Bradley;

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/2/1914

"Bilston annual Licensing Sessions.....

STAR INN, Oxford Street; ROYAL OAK INN, High Street; and FOX INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank; were ordered to be scheduled for closing."

Birmingham Daily Post 6/6/1914 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, at 11.15 o'clock am, on Wednesday, the 29th day of July, 1914.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District).

List of Licensed Premises.....

FOX INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Mary Ann Waterhouse."

The license was refused by the Compensation Authority on 29th July 1914.

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1914

"At the Principal Meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority, held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Wednesday, 25 licenses which had been referred by justices from petty sessional divisions and boroughs came under review. Of these, no opposition to the refusal of the license was offered by the parties interested in 15 cases, eight which were opposed were refused renewal, and the remaining two were adjourned for evidence of the trade done at each house.....

In the Bilston division the licenses of the following ante-1869 beerhouses were not renewed on the ground of redundancy, there being no opposition.....

FOX INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley.

In the case of the FOX it was stated that £500 compensation had been agreed upon."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1914

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 29th day of July, 1914, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1914, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

FOX INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, George Maddox. Registered Owner, Julia Hanson and Sons Limited.”

Compensation of £500 was paid on 28th December 1914.

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1915

“Report of the County Licensing Committee for the year 1914.....

The committee of the Compensation Authority went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon are satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund.

In the following 18 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

FOX INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank, Coseley, beerhouse, ante-1869, £500.

The money has been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and will be paid on the 28th instant.”

FOX

29+30, Bilston Street, Hallfields, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Mr. Speak, miner, Darlaston

LICENSEES

George Hill []

Joseph Taylor [1868] – 1881);

Daniel Ecclestone (1881 – 1883):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license,

Joseph Taylor, beer retailer, Bilston Street, Hallfields. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/3/1869

“Yesterday, Joseph Taylor, of the FOX INN, Bilston, was fined 1s and costs for having kept his house open for the sale of liquors during unlawful hours on Sunday morning.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

Permitting Drunkenness George Hill, FOX, Hall Fields, to pay costs.

For keeping open during prohibited hours Joseph Taylor, FOX, Bradley, 1s and costs.”

1871 Census

29+30, Bilston Street

[1] Joseph Taylor (31), grocer and publican, born Bilston;

[2] Mezilla Taylor (29), wife, housewife, born Bilston;

[3] Alice Taylor (5), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] Elizabeth Butler (12), general servant, born Tipton:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

“The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Joseph Taylor, FOX INN, Bradley, open in prohibited hours, 40s and costs and license endorsed.....

The whole of the licenses in the ‘black list,’ it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions.”

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned licensing sessions.]

1881 Census

29+30, Bilston Street – Public House and Grocers Shop

[1] Joseph Taylor (40), publican and grocer, born Bilston;

[2] Mary Taylor (38), wife, housewife, born Bilston;

[3] Alice Taylor (15), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;

[4] Rachael Rosthey (8), visitor, scholar, born Bilston:

Evening Express 10/9/1881

“John Jones (24), carter, 1, John Street, Bilston, was charged with stealing a flitch of bacon, the property of his employer, Mr. Kempson Pratt, grocer, Church Street, Bilston; and Joseph Taylor (42), grocer, of Bilston Street, Bradley, was charged with receiving the same knowing it to have been stolen. Mr. Fellows appeared for Jones, and Mr. Sheldon defended Taylor.

Charles Jones, assistant to the prosecutors, stated that on Monday last he loaded the defendant's (Jones's) cart, and at that time there was not a flitch of bacon in it.

Alfred James Burn, miner, of Chapel Street, Bilston, stated that on Monday night last he was in company with another man named John Shaw, in Oxford Street, Bilston, when he saw a cart belonging to Mr. Pratt come down the street and stop at William Nash's door. The driver, after looking up and down the street, brought a side of bacon out of the cart, and took it to the back door of Nash's house. About breakfast time the next morning witness was again standing in Oxford Street, when he saw the prisoner Taylor and another man drive up the street and then return down the street in the direction of Moxley. Shortly afterwards Taylor returned, and pulled up at the WAGGON AND HORSES, kept by Patrick Clines. The cart was then taken into Nash's back yard, where witness saw someone put a flitch of bacon into the cart, and the cart was then driven off in the direction of Bradley by the man who accompanied Taylor, and another man he had not seen before.

John Shaw, carter, in the employ of the prosecutor, corroborated this evidence.

The case was adjourned till Tuesday next, the defendants being admitted to bail; Taylor, himself in £200, and two sureties of £100 each; and Jones, himself in £50, and two sureties of £50 each.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/9/1881

“Yesterday, at Wolverhampton Police Court, the hearing of the bacon-stealing case, adjourned from Bilston on Tuesday, was resumed. The prisoners Taylor and Jones were both committed for trial on Tuesday. At Wolverhampton, yesterday, Thomas Thorne, porter, Stafford Street, Bilston, lately in the employ of Mr. Kempson Pratt, grocer, Church Street, Bilston, was charged with stealing a flitch of bacon from his employer, and Joseph Taylor, of the FOX INN, Bradley, was charged with receiving it.

Two assistants in Mr. Pratt's employ gave evidence to the effect that on August 31 the defendant Thorne went out with the delivery van, and during the day left a flitch of bacon, that had not been loaded into the van by the assistants, at a shed belonging to a Mr. Nash, wheelwright, saying that it was for the defendant Taylor. The same evening Taylor fetched it away from the shed. Further evidence showed that Thorne had done the same thing several times before, and Nash had never supposed that the goods left at his shed were stolen.

Both prisoners were committed for trial to the Stafford Sessions. Taylor, who was admitted to heavy bail on Tuesday, was allowed bail on this charge in £100 for himself; and Thorne in £100 for himself, and two sureties in £50 each. The magistrates also granted an application for bail made on behalf of Jones, who was committed on Tuesday. It was fixed at the same amount as Thorne's.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 19/10/1881

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

John Jones, 24, porter, was indicted for stealing, and Joseph Taylor, publican and shopkeeper, Bradeley, near Bilston, on bail was charged with receiving, a flitch of bacon, the property of Mr. Kempson Pratt, wholesale grocer, Bilston, on the 5th of September. A verdict of guilty was returned against both prisoners.

There was a second charge against Taylor of receiving goods, knowing them to have been stolen; and Thomas Thorns, 23, porter, was charged with stealing a piece of bacon, also the property of Mr. Pratt, which Taylor was alleged to have received. Thorns pleaded guilty; and the prosecution did not give evidence. Thorns was sentenced to two days' imprisonment, he having assisted the prosecution; the sentence against the others was deferred.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 20/10/1881

“Staffordshire Autumn Sessions.....

Joseph Taylor, provision dealer, Bilston, and John Jones, a porter, who had been convicted on the previous day, the first-named with receiving, and the other with stealing a side of bacon, were now brought up for judgement.

Jones was sentenced to six calendar months' imprisonment; and Taylor to twelve months' imprisonment.

At the request of Mr. Haden Corser, who prosecuted, Taylor was also called upon to pay the costs of the prosecution, £30.”

Daniel Ecclestone = Daniel Eccleston

Daniel Ecclestone – see also SWAN, Bradley, and ROYAL OAK, Salop Street.

The license was refused in 1883, it was forfeited on grounds “personal to the licensee.”

FOX

18, Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Samuel Simmons

LICENSEES

Henry Reynolds [1791] – [1804]
Mrs. Mary Reynolds [1815] – [1825]
James Gilbert (1826 – [1830]
Thomas Hodgins [1829] – [1836]
John Chapman [1837] – [1838]
Mrs. Mary Pratt [1839] – [1842]
James Walter Busst [1845] – [1847]
William Worthington [1848] – [1850]
John Smith [1851] – 1852;
Henry Slater (1852 – [1854]
Mary Salt [] – 1855); Edwin Steer (1855 – [1856]
Mrs. Eliza Price (1857 – 1858)
William Twelves [1860] – [1861]
Joseph Springthorpe [1861]
Thomas Durham [1864] – [1865]
Thomas George Jackson [1868]
William Hayhurst [1869]

NOTES

It was a coaching inn.

Commercial inn [1822], [1835], [1842], [1851], [1854]

Henry Reynolds, victualler, FOX, Bilston. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/2/1793 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Francis Pool, by Order of the Assignees of Samuel Simmons, a Bankrupt, on Friday the 8th Day of February next, at the House of Henry Reynolds, known by the Sign of the FOX, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, at Three o’Clock in the Afternoon, the following Copyhold Estates, situate in Bilston aforesaid, within the Manor of Stow Heath.

Lot I. All that the said Messuage or Dwelling House, in the Occupation of the said Henry Reynolds, with the Out-buildings and Appurtenances, let at the annual Rent of £11 11s.....

Lot V. A Stable, in the Holding of Henry Reynolds.....

NB. The above Buildings are adjoining, or nearly adjoining together, and situate near the Church, in a principal Part of the Town.....”

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by FRANCIS POOL, by Order of the Assignees of Samuel Simmons, a Bankrupt, on Friday the 8th Day of February inst. at the House of Henry Reynolds, known by the Sign of the Fox, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, at Three o’Clock in the Afternoon, the following Copyhold Estates, situate in Bilston aforesaid, within the Manor of Stow Heath.

LOT I. All that the said Messuage or Dwelling House, in the Occupation of the said Henry Reynolds, with the Out-buildings and Appurtenances, let at the annual Rent of 11l.11s.

LOT II. A Dwelling House, in the Occupation of John Green, with the Shops, Out-buildings, and Appurtenances, at the annual Rent of 8l.9s. 6d.

LOT III. A Dwelling House, in the Occupation of William Brueton, with the Shop and Out-buildings belonging, at the annual Rent of 6l. 6s.

LOT IV. A Dwelling House, in the Holding of Henry Sansom, at the annual Rent of 3l. 18s.

LOT V. A Stable, in the Holding of Henry Reynolds.

1793

FOX INN, BILSTON.

M. REYNOLDS, impressed with Gratitude for past Favours, begs Leave to acquaint her Friends and the Public, that she has fitted up good Stables, and every other Accommodation, for the Comfort of Travellers, and trusts, by Attention and Assiduity, to merit their Kindness and Support.

TO be SOLD, a very handsome bay PONY, about thirteen Hands high, and goes fast in all his Paces. The Owner having no further Use for him, is the Cause of his offering him for Sale. Apply at the Fox Inn Stables, Bilston.

1816

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/12/1804 - Notice

"The Creditors of William Hill, of Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Glazier and House Painter, are requested to attend at the House of Henry Reynolds, the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Friday the 7th Day of December, 1804, at Two o'Clock in the Afternoon, when a Statement of the Affairs of the said William Hill will be laid before them, and Proposals made for paying his Debts by Instalments; in the mean Time further Information may be had on Application to Mr. Stuart, Attorney, in Bilston.

Dated this 28th Day of November, 1804."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/10/1810 - Advert

"Sale at Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Skynner, at the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston, this present Monday, the 15th of October, and the following Days, the remaining Part of the valuable Stock of Linen and Woollen Drapery, Mercery, Hosiery, and Haberdashery Goods, belonging to Messrs. Whyte and Graham, Bull Street, Birmingham, Bankrupts; consisting of Irish, Scotch and Home-made Linens, broad Cloths, printed Calicos, Cotton Velvets, Worsted and Cotton Hose, Shawls and Handkerchiefs, worked Muslin Caps and Habit Shirts, with a great Variety of other Goods; Particulars of which may be seen in Catalogues, now ready, and may be had at the Place of Sale.

The Sale will begin each Day at Half past Ten o'Clock in the Morning and Half past Two in the Afternoon."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/1/1816 - Advert

"FOX INN, Bilston.

M. Reynolds, impressed with Gratitude for past Favours, begs Leave to acquaint her Friends and the Public, that she has fitted up good Stables, and every other Accommodation, for the Comfort of Travellers, and trusts, by Attention and Assiduity, to merit their Kindness and Support."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/11/1816 - Advert

"To be Sold, a very handsome bay Pony, about thirteen Hands high, and goes fast in all his Paces. The Owner having no further Use for him, is the Cause of his offering him for Sale. Apply at the FOX INN Stables, Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/6/1817 - Notice

"The Creditors who have proved their Debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against Simon Silvester, of Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Japanner, Dealer and Chapman, are desired to meet the Assignees of the Estate and Effects of the said Bankrupt on the 19th Day of June instant, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, at the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees working and carrying on, for the Benefit of the Creditors of the said Bankrupt, Willingsworth Hall Colliery, jointly with the Parties who are entitled to the other Part or Share of the said Colliery, or to the said Assignees selling and disposing of the said Bankrupt's Share and Interest of and in the said Colliery, and to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees receiving from the Bankers or Treasurers of the said Colliery a certain Sum of Money which has been offered to be paid to the said Assignees as the Share of mesne Profits in working the said Colliery due to the Estate of the said Bankrupt; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees commencing, prosecuting or defending any Suit or Suits at Law or in Equity, for Recovery of any Part of the said Bankrupt's Estate and Effects, or to the compounding, submitting to Arbitration, or otherwise agreeing any Matter or Thing relating thereto, and on other special Affairs.

Bilston, June 7, 1817."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/8/1817 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction by R. Corbett, at the House of Mrs. Reynolds, the FOX INN, in Bilston, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 29th Day of August, 1817, between the Hours of Four and Six o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then produced, and in such Lots as will be specified at the Time of Sale, all those eight Messuages or Tenements....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/10/1818 - Advert

"Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the House of Mrs. Mary Reynolds, the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Monday the 12th Day of October, 1818, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, for the Term of one Year, commencing the first Day of January next, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, 'for regulating the Turnpike Roads;' which Tolls were let on Lease the last Year at the under-mentioned Sums, clear of the Expenses of collecting them, and will be put up at those Sums respectively. Whoever happen to be the best Bidder must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for and at such Time as they shall direct, and make a Deposit of one Months' Rent for each Lot.

Lot 1. Cock Heath Gate, £300.

Lot 2. Bilston Bridge, Cold Lanes, and High Street Gates, with Weighing Machine, £400.

Lot 3. Catchems Corner Gate, Ettingshall Lane Bar, Ettingshall Side Bar, and Fighting Cocks Bar, £200.

Lot 4. Gibbet Lane Gate, £394.

By Order of the Trustees, John Willim, Clerk and Treasurer. Bilston, September 14, 1818."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/11/1819 - Advert

"Bilston New Road.

Persons of Experience and a competent Skill in Road-making, who are inclined to contract for making and completing a new Road from the North Corner of the Church Yard, in the Township of Bilston, to Priestfields, in the said Township, may see a Plan, Section, and Specification thereof, at the Office of Messrs. Willim and Son, Solicitors, in Bilston, where Tenders, sealed up, must be left on or before Three o'Clock on Friday the 13th Day of November, 1819; and the Persons making such Tenders are required to attend a Meeting of a Committee of the Trustees at the FOX INN, in Bilston, at Four o'Clock the same Day, who will require sufficient Security for the Performance of the Contract to be then entered into.

Bilston, October 27, 1819."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/7/1820 - Advert

"Turnpike Road from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

A Special General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the FOX INN, in Bilston, on Friday the 28th Day of July inst at Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, to meet a Deputation of the Parliamentary Commissioners, accompanied by Mr. Telford, and to communicate with them as to the Objects of the new Act respecting the London and Holyhead Roads, and the Nature of the Improvements suggested by Mr. Telford. At the same Time will be taken into Consideration the Propriety of removing Gibbet Lane Turnpike to Priestfields, in the Township of Bilston.

John Willim, Clerk to Trustees."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/9/1820 - Advert

"FOX INN, Bilston.

Mary Reynolds respectfully embraces this Opportunity of expressing her grateful Acknowledgments to her numerous Friends and the Public for those Favours which have already been so liberally bestowed upon her, especially during the last five Years she has had the Honour of conducting the above as a Travellers Inn; at the same Time she humbly begs Leave to acquaint the Commercial Gentlemen who please to honour her with their Commands, that she has lately fitted up the House and Stables in a comfortable Style, a lock-up Gig-house, and every other suitable Convenience for their Accommodation, with most excellent Beds, choice Wines, genuine Spirits, and good home-brewed Ale, such as she confidently trusts cannot fail, by Assiduity and Attention, to secure a Continuance of that Patronage and Support which will ever be her Study to merit.

Bilston, September 6, 1820."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/4/1821 - Advert

"Turnpike Road from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

The next General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the FOX INN, in Bilston, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 24th Day of April, at One o'Clock in the Afternoon precisely, to transact the Business before Dinner and dine at Three. John Willim, Clerk to the Trustees."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/3/1825 - Advert

"Coal and Ironstone Mines, near Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction by R. Corbet, on Friday the 25th day of March instant, at the house of Mrs. Reynolds, the FOX INN, Bilston, at four in the afternoon, subject to the conditions then and there to be produced....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/1/1826 - Advert

"Household Furniture, and other Effects, at the FOX INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. W. Perkes (under an Execution from the Sheriff of Staffordshire) at the said Inn, in Bilston, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 17th day of January, and to continue until the whole is disposed of, the valuable Household Furniture, Ale, Wines, Spirits, and other Effects, belonging to Mrs. Mary Reynolds; particulars of which will appear in catalogues, which will be distributed."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/1/1826

"Bankrupts required to surrender.....

Mary Reynolds, Bilston, Staffordshire, innkeeper."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/2/1826 - Advert

"FOX INN, Bilston.

To be peremptorily Sold by Auction (by order and direction of the Assignee of Mary Reynolds, a bankrupt), at the said Inn, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 28th day of February, precisely at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The Licenses Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above well-known good accustomed House and Travellers Inn, situated in the centre of Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

The above Inn is a desirable opportunity for any person wishing to embark in the public business, and such as is rarely offered to the public.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/6/1826 - Advert

"FOX INN and Commercial House, Bilston.

J. Gilbert begs leave to inform his Friends and the Public, that he has entered upon the above Inn, and assures them and the Commercial Gentlemen, that no attention to general comfort shall be wanting to ensure their patronage and support, which he respectfully solicits.

Excellent Wines and good Stabling."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/7/1826 - Advert

"FOX INN and Commercial House, Bilston.

J. Gilbert having entered upon the above old established house, which has undergone many improvements and been fitted up at considerable expence, begs leave very respectfully to solicit the support of his Friends, the Commercial Gentlemen, and the Public generally, assuring them that his utmost exertions shall be used to promote their comfort and convenience, and to ensure that extensive patronage which the house has for so long a period enjoyed.

J. G. announces to his Friends, that his House Warming will be on the 25th instant, when their company is respectfully solicited.

Tickets may be had at the Bar of the House, at 5s each, including dinner and dessert."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/7/1826 - Married

"On Tuesday, at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, Mr. Gilbert, land surveyor and auctioneer, of the FOX INN, Bilston, to Miss Parkes of Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/11/1828 - Advert

"Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the Gibbet Lane Toll Gate upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further end of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the house of Mr. James Gilbert, the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/1/1829 - Advert

"That old established Commercial Inn and Liquor Shop, the FOX INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, on the premises, on Friday next, January 9, at five o'clock in the afternoon, the Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above named Commercial Inn and Liquor Shop, the oldest and most lucrative establishment of the kind in the town, which, in consequence of recent expensive alterations and improvements, possesses every convenience as a Travellers Inn, Public House, and Liquor Shop, enjoying a considerable share of in and out-door business.

The purchaser will be expected to take to the stock of ale and liquors, which is low, the barrels, brewing utensils, fixtures, and part of the household furniture, at a fair valuation.

For further particulars apply on the premises; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston, if by letter, post paid."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/11/1829 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the house of Mr. Thomas Hodgins, the FOX INN, in Bilston, aforesaid....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/9/1831

"Henry Smith, Esq. (Coroner) gave a dinner, on Thursday last, at the FOX INN, Bilston, to the Constables of the town and neighbourhood. The evening was spent with the greatest conviviality and harmony."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/2/1832 - Advert

"Turnpike Roads, leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

Notice is hereby given, that a Special General Meeting of the Trustees of these Roads will be held at the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of February next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of assenting to or dissenting from the Proprietors of the Grand Junction Railway laying their Railway across the Bilston Turnpike Roads.

Willim and Son, Clerks to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads. Bilston, 31st January, 1832."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/12/1832 - Advert

"FOX INN, Bilston.

To be disposed of by private Treaty, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above truly desirable, highly respectable, and old established Commercial Inn and Liquor Shop, having, in addition to an extensive and old established commercial connection, a great run in the Spirit and Tavern Business, to which is attached several Clubs and other Societies. Part of the Household Furniture, the whole of the Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, and Stock of Ale, Spirits, and Wines, which will be reduced to accommodate a purchaser, to be taken at a fair valuation, and part of the purchase money may remain on approved security.

For further particulars and to treat apply on the premises, to Mr. Hodgins, who is leaving in consequence of other engagements; or to J. Gilbert, Auctioneer, Mogul Tavern, Bartholomew Street, Birmingham."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/9/1833 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, or at Christmas Next, that well-frequented and old-established Commercial House, with Liquor Shop attached, the FOX INN, Bilston.

The above is an opportunity which seldom offers for any person desirous of embarking in the public business, as it is one of the best situations in Bilston, in the centre of the town; the trade of which place, and the surrounding neighbourhood, is in a very flourishing and improving state. The present proprietor is leaving on account of other engagements.

The Stock, Fixtures, and part of the Furniture, to be taken at a fair valuation."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/9/1833 - Notice

"Notice is hereby given, that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned Thomas Hodgins and Timothy Bassford, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Stationers, Booksellers, and Printers, is this day dissolved by mutual consent The business will be carried on by the said T. Bassford."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/10/1833 - Advert

"To the Debtors and Creditors of Bassford and Hodgins.

All Persons to whom the late firm of Bassford and Hodgins are indebted, are desired to send in their Accounts to Mr. Hodgins, FOX INN, Bilston; and all Debts owing to the said Parties are requested to be paid to the said Mr. Hodgins, immediately.

Bilston, October 22, 1833."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1834 - Advert

"Pointer Dog Lost.

Lost, on Monday last, a black and white Pointer Dog, with cut tail, and answers to the named of 'Don.'

Whoever found him, and will take him to the FOX INN, Bilston, or to the CASTLE INN, Wolverhampton, shall be handsomely rewarded for his trouble; and any one detaining him after this notice will be prosecuted.

September 2, 1834."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/3/1835 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Roads.

Notice is Hereby Given that the General Annual Meeting of the Trustees appointed for putting in execution an Act of Parliament, passed in the tenth year of the Reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled 'An Act for repairing certain Turnpike Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford,' advertised to be held on the 26th day of February last, was duly adjourned to Thursday the 12th day of March instant, to the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, to one o'clock in the afternoon, when and where the accounts for the last year will be audited, and a report on the state of the roads made.

John Willim and Son, Clerks to the Trustees."

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/8/1836

"A lad about 15 years old, was brought before their worships, charged by Mr. Thomas Hodgins, of the FOX INN, Bilston, with being concealed on his premises after the doors were closed. It appeared from the statement of Mr. Hodgins, that the prisoner and several other suspicious characters had been to his house late in the evening, and after the doors were closed, having some suspicions that all was not right, he searched the house, and found the prisoner concealed at the end of a passage leading into the back premises. The prisoner said he had come to Bilston wake from Manchester, with his sister and brother, to sell gingerbread; but neither sister nor brother appeared to corroborate this. The magistrates forthwith sent him to Stafford, as a rogue and vagabond, for one month."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/7/1837 - Advert

"Copyhold Messuage and Premises, in Cold Lanes, Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Adams, this present Monday, July the 24th, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at Mr. Chapman's, the FOX INN, in Bilston aforesaid, subject to conditions then and there to be produced....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/9/1837 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the turnpike roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the house of Mr. John Chapman, the FOX INN, in Bilston, aforesaid....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1838 - Advert

"Bilston Turnpike Tolls.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the turnpike roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford, will be Let by Auction, at the house of Mr. John Chapman, the FOX INN, in Bilston, aforesaid....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/8/1839 - Advert

"Bilston. To Maltsters, Brewers, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Newbold, at the FOX INN, Bilston, on Monday the 2nd day of September next.

Forty Pockets of superior Worcester and Sussex Hops, in suitable lots for the convenience of purchasers.

The sale will commence precisely at twelve o'clock, and samples drawn."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/9/1839 - Advert

"Bilston. Excellently Situated Inn and Liquor Shop, with Stables and extensive Premises, being a valuable Copyhold Property, with the Licenses, Possession, and an old established Business.

To be Sold by Auction, by E. and C. Robins, at the house of Mrs. Pratt, the FOX INN, in Bilston, by direction of the Assignees of Mr. Joseph Best, on Monday, the 16th day of September instant, at four o'clock in the afternoon....."

1841 Census

Church Street

[1] Mary Pratt (55), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Fanny Hayward (25), independent means, born Staffordshire;

[3] Lucy Hayward (11 months), born Staffordshire;

[4] Sarah Morgan (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[5] Henry Jones (30), m.s.;

[6] Richard Backhouse (25), paint seller:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/9/1841 - Advert

"FOX INN, Tap House, and Liquor Shop, Bilston.

To be Disposed of, the Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate possession of the above named well-arranged old established Travellers Inn, Tap-house, and Liquor Shop.

The stock (which is small), the barrels, brewing utensils, fixtures, and such parts of the household furniture as may be agreed upon, to be taken at a fair valuation.

Mrs. Pratt, on the premises, will show the stock, fixtures, and furniture; to treat for the same apply to Richard Corbett, auctioneer, &c, New Town, Bilston."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/10/1842 - Adverts

"FOX INN, Bilston.

To be Let, this substantial old-established Commercial House.

For particulars apply to Mrs. Dean, Bristol Road, Edgbaston."

AND

"Unreserved Sale at the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on the above premises, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th days of November next.

The Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above Inn, now carried on by Mrs. Mary Pratt, who is declining business; and also all the modern useful Household Furniture, iron-bound Ale Barrels, large Copper Furnaces, Cooling Vats, Brewing Utensils, Liquor Shop and Bar Fixtures, Stock of Wines, Liquors, &c, and other miscellaneous property and effects; catalogues of which will be distributed, and may be had after Thursday next the 3rd of November at the place of sale, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

The sale to commence each day at ten am and at two pm.

The first lot will be the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, unless previously disposed of by private treaty, which may be effected by applying to the Auctioneer, and the purchaser may or may not take to the Fixtures, Barrels, Brewing Utensils, &c, at a valuation."

FOX INN, BILSTON.
To be LET, this substantial old-established Commercial House.
For particulars apply to Mrs. Dean, Bristol-road, Edgbaston.

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/7/1843

"Insolvent Debtors, to be heard at the Court House, Stafford, on Friday the eleventh day of August next.....

Mary Pratt, late of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, following no business or occupation; previously of the same place, Innholder and Licensed Victualler."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/11/1843

“A court for the relief in insolvent Debtors was held on Monday and Tuesday, in the Shire Hall, Stafford, before John Greathed Harris, Esq, commissioner, when the following cases were heard and disposed of.....
To be imprisoned from the date of vesting order Mary Pratt, five calendar months.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/4/1852 - Deaths

“On the 16th instant, after a long illness, Mrs. M. Pratt, of Tetenhall, late of the FOX INN, Bilston, aged 76 years.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1844

“An inquisition was held at the FOX INN, Bilston, before Thomas Moss Phillips, Esq, Coroner, on the 14th ult, and by adjournment and the 20th ult and 2nd inst, on the body of William Rogers, a miner, whose death was occasioned by falling into a ‘sump.’

From the evidence of John Messenger, George Hodges and others, it appeared that the deceased was employed at Mr. Hickman’s colliery. On the morning of the 14th ult he was descending the shaft of the pit in a skip with other men and boys. The pit is 100 yards deep down to the scaffold, and about 55 yards below the scaffold to the bottom; the part below the scaffold is nearly always full of water, and is called the sump. The scaffold is made of planks; there ought to be five planks, and then the sump would be covered up and safe. About a month previously a piece of ironstone fell out of a skip and broke one of the planks, which fell down the sump, and it had not been replaced. It further appeared that at the scaffold there was not light enough to discern objects clearly, and that parties descending were obliged to leave the skip hastily or the chain and a large piece of iron called the ‘Babby’ might fall upon them. The deceased unfortunately fell through the hole and was drowned. The witnesses represented the hole as very dangerous, and it appeared the ‘doggy,’ George Robson, whose duty it was to see the scaffold made safe had neglected to do so. After Rogers fell through the hole the plank was replaced, and the scaffold made safe.

The jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against George Robson, and he is committed for trial.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/10/1844

“Committed to Stafford County Gaol for the Assizes.....

George Robson, charged with killing and slaying William Rogers, at Bilston.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/12/1844

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

George Robson had been indicted for killing and slaying William Rogers, at Bilston, but the Grand Jury ignored the bill. He was brought up and arraigned on the Coroner’s inquisition; but as the Grand Jury had ignored the other bill, Mr. Meteyard, on the part of the prosecution, declined to offer any evidence. A verdict of not guilty was therefore taken, and the prisoner was discharged.”

James Walter Busst was also an accountant and clerk. [1845]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/6/1845

“James Busst, of the FOX INN, Bilston, complained of Charles Haywood, late in the employment of Mr. Riley, coal master, coming into his house on the 16th instant, and abusing and threatening him, which occasioned complainant to call in the police to execute a warrant which he had obtained against him. The Court directed Haywood to enter into sureties to keep the peace.

The above defendant, together with William Shepherd, Thomas Clough, Thomas Johnson, Thomas Rowley, William Williams, Samuel Johnson, and Edward Perry, were then charged by sub-inspector Thompson with violently assaulting him and other officers on the 16th inst while in the execution of their duty.

Complainant stated that on he and police constable Holbrook going to the FOX to execute the above warrant upon Haywood, he found the house full of company, and in a complete state of uproar. On telling Haywood he had a warrant against him, and requesting him to go peaceably to the police station, he said he should have it read first, but the officer fearing that if he produced it it would be forced out of his hands, declined to do so, and told Haywood he would read it to him at the station house. On his putting his hand upon Haywood’s shoulder, in a quiet and peaceable manner, to induce him to go, the latter commenced an assault upon him in the most determined manner; he then seized Haywood, and with the assistance of his brother officer got him out of the house, and the whole of the company followed them to the door, and in one sweep fell upon them and endeavoured to prevent the officers doing their duty; they were in consequence compelled to send for further assistance from the police station. In the meantime a great concourse of people had congregated together in the street, and the police received many kicks and blows from the multitude, the most active of whom that could be identified were the defendants Shepherd, Haywood, Thomas Johnson, and Clough; and complainant believed that had it not been for the conduct of Shepherd the affray would have been but comparatively trifling, but instead of this he considered it a mercy that one of them was not killed, the violence of the mob was so great. He could not speak to the rest of the defendants doing any particular act, although they were present.

The complainant's statement was confirmed by the testimony of five other witnesses.

Haywood, Thomas Johnson, Clough, and Shepherd were bound over in £40 each, with two sureties of £20 each, to answer the charge at the next sessions. The other defendants were discharged.

John Fellows, a sinker, was next charged with making an assault upon the police officers while in the act of taking the above defendants to the sessions to be tried, and endeavouring with many others to rescue the defendants from custody. Such was the excitement in the town occasioned by this attack on the police in the public street, that they thought it advisable to send to Wolverhampton for assistance, which having arrived, the prisoners, on being committed, were conveyed to the station at Wolverhampton. The charge against Fellows was clearly made out by witnesses, and the defendant, who was drunk, and almost in a state of nakedness, was committed to the sessions to answer the complaint."

[At Staffordshire Quarter Sessions the five prisoners pleaded guilty and were discharged upon their entering into recognizances to keep the peace for twelve months.]

Birmingham Journal 3/1/1846

"On Wednesday an inquest was held at the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of Joseph Moore, a pork butcher, about twenty-eight years of age, who died from the effects of eating a large quantity of pork steaks at his breakfast on Tuesday morning. Shortly after his breakfast he was seized with violent pains in his stomach; Mr. Best, surgeon, attended him, and prescribed an emetic, but he expired shortly afterwards, in much agony. He had been a great eater of animal food. The Jury returned a verdict of 'died from the effects of eating a large quantity of indigestible food.'"

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/1/1846

"An inquest was held on Wednesday last, at the FOX INN, at Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Phoebe Fereday, a widow, about eighty years of age, who died from injuries received by her clothes catching fire, at the house of her daughter, in Walsall Street, Bilston, on Tuesday afternoon. It appeared that her apron caught the fire as she was passing by, during the temporary absence of her daughter from the room. An alarm was given, and with the assistance of the neighbours the flames were extinguished. Mr. Hodgkins, surgeon, was sent for, and attended the deceased, but she was so badly burnt that she died at about half-past two o'clock on Wednesday morning. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/1/1846

"Thomas James and Thomas Jones were charged by sub-inspector Thompson with fighting at the FOX public house, in Bilston, on Tuesday night, the 30th ult; and Thomas Wright was charged with encouraging them.

Complainant stated that late on the night in question his attention was called to a disturbance in the above house, and finding the front door made, he entered by another way, when he found the first two defendants stripped to the skin, and fighting; many persons were standing round and upon the screens enjoying the sport, the landlord, Mr. Busst, being one of them. Wright was playing one of the fighters. The first two defendants admitted the statement of the police officer to be true, Wright denied taking the prominent part alleged.

The defendants were severally bound over to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for six months.

The officer declared it to be his intention to summon Mr. Busst for suffering such conduct in his house."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/1/1846

"To the Editor of the Wolverhampton Chronicle.

Sir, In your paper of last week, under the head 'Bilston Public Office, Friday, January 2,' there is a paragraph stating that two men, named James and Jones, were fighting in my house on the 30th ult and that many persons were standing round and upon the screens, enjoying the sport, I being one of them; and that the officer who made the charge declared it to be his intention to summon me for suffering such conduct in my house. I feel assured that your own reporter did not furnish the statement, but that it was handed to you by some one prejudiced against me. The assertion that I was an abetter of the conduct of the men is untrue, the fact being that, as soon as I heard the disturbance, I sent word to the police by a gentleman who witnessed it. He and four other gentlemen will bear me out in this, and also in stating that, so far from encouraging the men, I insisted upon their leaving the house, and as they did not do so, I lost no time in sending for the police officers to remove them.

As to the threatened intention of summoning me, I beg to say that I have only heard of it by the report alluded to, and that, should the charge be made, I shall be in a position to prove, beyond the possibility of a doubt, what I have above stated.

Trusting to your impartiality in inserting this contradiction of a falsehood which otherwise might affect my character. I am, sir, Your most obedient servant, James W. Busst.

FOX INN, Bilston, January 13, 1846.

(We insert the above with readiness, and much regret that any report in our paper should be incorrect; more especially when alleging improper conduct to any individual.)”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/2/1846

“James Walter Busst, of the FOX, Bilston, was summoned on the complaint of the police, for not maintaining good order and rule in his house on Tuesday, the 30th of December last, by unlawfully and knowingly permitting and suffering two persons, named James and Jones, to fight and beat each other, contrary to the tenor of his license. The hearing of the complaint had been more than once adjourned.

It may be remembered that in our paper of the 7th of January we gave an account in the police reports that these two men, James and Jones, and another person named Wright, who seconded one of them, were brought up by the police, before the Bench at Bilston, charged with being found stripped to the skin, and fighting in Mr. Busst’s house, in the presence of the landlord and others in his company, late at night on the above date, and each of the men was directed to find a surety for his future good behaviour. On that occasion Mr. Thompson, the sub-inspector of police, declared it to be his intention to summon the landlord for suffering such conduct in his house. It will also be recollected that Mr. Busst, the following week, denied, by a letter addressed to the editor of this paper, the correctness of the report. Today, when the case was called on, Mr. Brown, attorney, made an application to the Bench on behalf of Mr. Busst (who was unable to attend, by reason of a death and sickness in his family), for the information to be withdrawn on his paying the expenses incurred; he also said that Mr. Busst was sorry that such an occurrence should have happened in his house, and he would pledge himself that if anything of the sort happened again he would send for the police, and have the parties secured.

Mr. Baldwin said that, as Mr. Busst had thought proper to call in question the accuracy and motives of the reporter of the court, and also the statement of sub-inspector Thompson, the case ought to be heard; and that the hearing had better be adjourned until Mr. Busst could attend. But on the Bench asking Mr. Thompson, who was mostly concerned, what his feelings were, he told the Bench that, although the case was quite clear against Mr. Busst from the testimony which the witnesses he had summoned would give, yet he had no wish, under the circumstances stated, to press the case.

The Bench then permitted the proceedings to be withdrawn, on the defendant paying all the expenses incurred, amounting to 15s.”

The Evening Chronicle 20/4/1846

“On Thursday evening an inquest was held at the FOX INN, Bilston, before Thomas Moss Phillips, Esq, coroner for that division of Staffordshire, on the bodies of the five men who were killed by the explosion in Messrs. Pemberton’s fire-clay pit, on Wednesday morning. The facts elicited at the inquest corroborate the details given in the account of the accident, which appeared in the Chronicle on Friday; but there are several points in the evidence which completely establish the presumption that the explosion was the result of negligence in allowing the deceased (Jones) to go down the pit before it had been proved by the ‘doggy’ or overseer. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, occasioned by an explosion of sulphuric acid gas.”

Derbyshire Advertiser 26/6/1846

“An inquest was held on Thursday last, at the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of James Chillington, about 14 years of age, who on the previous day was killed under the following rather singular circumstances.

It appeared from the evidence of Joseph Best, a parish constable, that about four o’clock on Wednesday afternoon, he was coming down Messrs. Baldwin’s field, called Bovereux Colliery, Bilston, and heard a crash, the sound of which came from the engine and pits on his right hand. He immediately perceived that the engine was going very fast, and the chain and skip were drawn over the pulley of one of the pits. He hurried forward to render assistance, and then saw Chillington coming from the engine towards him, with a hasty step. The boy looked wild, and on being asked what was the matter replied, ‘When I went down go fire, the engine turned again and drew the skip over the pulley.' As the boy appeared very much excited, the constable endeavoured to soothe him; but he suddenly started at Best, turned round, extended his arms, and flung himself head foremost into a pit near to which he was standing. Best called for assistance, and the boy was shortly afterwards brought up the pit, but he was then quite dead, having received cuts and bruises upon the head and various parts of the body.

It appeared from the evidence of Richard Davis, a boy who worked at the same colliery, that the deceased, when he found that he could not stop the engine, appeared to be very much frightened, said his father would kill him, and he would go and throw himself down some old pit.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above evidence."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/8/1846

"The following inquests have been held before Thomas Moss Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On Saturday the 1st instant, at the house of Mr. Busst, the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of Matilda Chancellor, wife of George Chancellor, of Hall Street, Bilston, who on Friday morning, being very drunk, while crossing the street opposite the Post Office, staggered against the fore horses of an omnibus and was run over by one of the wheelers. The driver, it is stated, pulled up as soon as he possibly could. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/11/1846

"An inquest was held on Saturday last, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of Isaac Jenks, a youth about eighteen years of age, employed at Mr. Sparrow's rolling mill, Bilston, who, whilst standing by a pair of rolls, was caught by the arm by one of the bands, and pulled into the boxes and spindles. The engine was instantly stopped, and the deceased extricated; he was quite dead. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1847

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Matthew Millington, a lad, was indicted for stealing one dozen of pocket knives, the property of Robert Newman, at Bilston. Mr. Harmer appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Kettle for the defence.

The evidence showed that, on the 21st of December, the prisoner went into the tap-room at the FOX public house, Bilston, where he sold two pocket knives for 6d to William Howell, the ostler. In a short time afterwards, the prosecutor, who is a hawker of hardware, and had a stall in Bilston market, came into the inn, offering knives and other articles for sale. Howell told him he could sell him some knives, and the prosecutor ultimately purchased two knives for 8d, which the witness had just previously purchased. The prosecutor said he soon discovered that the knives, from the marks upon them, formed a portion of those stolen from his stall, with about two dozen others, in the course of the same afternoon.

The defence was that the prisoner had won the knives by gaming at 'a wheel of fortune' in the market.

The Jury returned a verdict of not guilty."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/1/1847

"The Bridgnorth Snob will make a match with John Wakefield or Barler of Bilston, for from £5 to £25 a side, at 8st 10lb; or he will fight Joseph Mills of Duck Lane, of the same place, for the like sum, and at the same weight; if neither of these accept, he will fight Tinman Sam of Brook Street, catch weight. The Snob can be found at the FOX, Bilston."

Birmingham Journal 23/1/1847

"An inquest was held on Tuesday last at the FOX INN, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, upon the body of Thomas Whalley, who was burnt to death. The evidence showed that he was 3½ years old, and lived at the house of his father, in Old Meeting Street. On Sunday morning last his clothes caught fire, and being alone he ran into the street, when some persons who were passing at this time went to his assistance and put it out. He was badly burnt, and died about five o'clock on Monday morning. He stated before his death that his pinafore took fire while burning some paper. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.

Another inquest was held on the same day, and at the same house, upon the body of Samuel Parker, a boy five years old, whose clothes caught fire on the 11th of December, at the house of his father, in Cold Lanes. He lingered till about a fortnight ago, when he caught a fever from his sister, which caused his death on Tuesday morning. The Jury returned a verdict of Died from Fever, accelerated by burning."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/2/1847

“On Friday last an inquest was held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of Richard Jones, a miner, employed at the Caponfield colliery, who was killed by a fall of coal, while at work, on Tuesday last. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/3/1847

“On Wednesday last, and inquest was held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the OLD CHURCH INN, Wolverhampton, on the body of Mary Ann Baggott, a child about six years of age; and, on the same day, at the FOX INN, Bilston, an inquest was held on Edward Gilbert, a child nearly four years of age. Both accidents occurred in consequence of the clothes of the children catching fire, they having been left without any one to take care of them. Verdicts in each case, Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/6/1847 - Advert

“Sale at the FOX INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Mason, on Tuesday, the 29th day of June, 1847.

Part of the modern and useful Household Furniture, four post, tent, and other bedsteads, mahogany dining and loo tables, fine toned cabinet pianoforte, 6½ octaves, handsome mahogany secretaire, office table desk, eight excellent 120 gallon iron bound and other Ale Barrels, superior single bodied four wheeled Phaeton, excellent four wheeled Dog Trap, Spring Cart, strong store Pig, and other effects, upon the premises, at the FOX INN, the present tenant removing to the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston.

Particulars, in catalogues, are now in circulation, and may be had at the offices of the Auctioneer, Hall Street, Bilston.”

James Walter Busst – see also KINGS ARMS, Church Street.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/9/1847

“Bilston Petty Sessions.....

James Jones was charged with stealing £1 7s 6d, the property of George Felton, under the following circumstances. The prosecutor met with the prisoner at the FOX INN, Bilston, about eleven o'clock on Sunday forenoon. Having had some knowledge of him when in Shropshire, and since in this county, the prosecutor treated him with some ale. After they left the FOX, the prisoner, the prosecutor, and a man named Coulston went into the fields, near to Bankfield Works, and lay down. The prosecutor soon fell asleep, the prisoner lying between him and Coulston. Soon afterwards Coulston saw the prisoner put his hand into the waistcoat of the prosecutor and take out his money. He then got up and went away, making some pretence at the time. Coulston awoke the prosecutor, and they pursued the prisoner and accused him of stealing Felton's money. He was afterwards given into custody. The prisoner was committed for trial at the next sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/10/1847

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Not True Bills against.....

James Jones, charged with stealing £1 7s 6d from the person of George Felton, at Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/12/1847

“Some excitement was exhibited at the Bilston public office, on Tuesday, by the appearance before the magistrates of Samuel Hodgkiss and George Yates, two men residing in that disreputable part of town called ‘the Berry.’ The prisoners were charged by John Williams with robbing him of 5s in the street, on Sunday night.

According to the prosecutor's evidence, he had been drinking a jug or two of ale at the GOLDEN LION public house, Bilston, where the prisoners had also been taking a ‘drop.’ About half-past ten the prosecutor left, and as he was walking home, the prisoners stopped him, and demanded his money, which he refused to give them; Hodgkiss then held him, whilst Yates took the money, threatening, if he made a noise, to murder him. Prosecutor then returned to the GOLDEN LION INN, and afterwards gave the prisoners into custody of the police. They were committed to the Assizes for trial. The prisoners applied to be admitted to bail, and the magistrates ordered them to find two sureties in £25 each, and themselves in £50 each.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/3/1848

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Samuel Hodgkiss and George Yates were charged with assaulting Joseph Williams, at Bilston, on the 3rd of December last, and stealing from his person four shillings and two sixpences.

It appeared from the testimony of the prosecutor, Edward Thompson, a police officer, and Mrs. Worthington, of the FOX INN, Bilston, as they deposed to the facts respectively within their knowledge, that the prosecutor, about nine o'clock on the evening in question, went to the GOLDEN LION, at Bilston. He there met with the prisoners. Hodgkiss went out first, then Williams, and then Yates. Hodgkiss caught hold of Williams, and Yates took his money; after which ‘they both cut up the street as hard as they could go.’ The prisoners were taken, the same night, by the police and the prosecutor, at the FOX INN. Hodgkiss, while going to the police station, stooped, as if tying his shoe, and on being searched a second time at the police station, 7s 6d were found in his left shoe, among which was a bent sixpence identified by the prosecutor.

The Jury found the prisoners guilty, and they were each sentenced to be imprisoned twelve months, with hard labour.”

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1848

“It may be recollected by our readers that some time ago we published an opinion solicited from Mr. Tidd Pratt, as to whether the Friendly Societies Act gave the power to enforce the payment of arrears by members, seeing that by the act of Geo IV the clause empowering the enforcement of arrears was repealed, and either by intention or oversight, that no remedy had been provided in the bill passed in the session of 1846. He gave his opinion that there was no power to recover arrears, and, moreover, that the rules of a friendly society were only binding upon a member so long as he continued to be such, and that there was no power vested in the Magistrates to summon a party for arrears, whether he left the society with or without notice. A case in which this point was involved came on for hearing on Tuesday last, before Mr. Loxdale and Mr. Foster at the Public Office, Bilston, and the result shows the necessity of instant steps being taken by these societies to obtain powers by which the stipulated payments may be rendered compulsory and recoverable by action at law.

Mr. William Worthington, landlord of the FOX INN, Bilston, had been a member of the No.3 Lodge of Good Fellows for nearly twenty-one years, and had received only a few weeks relief from its funds during that time; but having taken offence, we believe, at something connected with the shifting of the lodge-room from one house to another, thought proper to leave the Lodge without giving the officers the usual notice. He was accordingly summoned on Tuesday, but the defendant having laid our paper in which Mr. Tidd Pratt’s opinion was contained before the Magistrates, they, as a matter of course, dismissed the case, on the ground that they had no jurisdiction.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“Bilston Public Office on Tuesday.....

Mr. William Worthington, of the FOX INN, was charged by John Beaven, president of the No.3 Lodge of Good Fellows, with leaving the society without paying the sum of £1 16s 3½d for contributions and fines. Mr. Bolton, on behalf of the defendant, submitted that the magistrates had no jurisdiction in the case, inasmuch as the Act of Parliament did not give them power to make an order for the recovery of fines and arrears In this view the magistrates concurred, and dismissed the case.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/6/1849

“Bilston Petty Sessions, Tuesday, May 29th, 1849.....

A notorious character, named Thomas Jenks, was charged with committing a violent assault upon Inspector Thompson on Monday night last. It appeared that Jenks went to the FOX public house, where he became very quarrelsome, and assaulted Mr. Worthington, the landlord, who immediately sent for the police. Inspector Thompson and police-constable Denny arrived soon afterwards and put him out of the house, when he became very violent, and kicked the inspector in the mouth and bit his thumb nearly through. Fined £5 and costs, or to be committed three months to hard labour.

Jenks was then charged with a similar assault upon Susannah Miles, an old woman upwards of 60 years of age. The old woman stated that on Tuesday night, the 22nd ult, she was going home to her house in the Old Road, accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Joseph Pitt, when Jenks and William Smith passed by them. Jenks then turned round and struck Pitt several times, who (according to the old woman’s statement) ran away. Jenks then struck her violently, and gave her two black eyes and bit both her thumbs. Fined 5s and costs, and to find two sureties to keep the peace for six months.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/7/1850

“At Bilston petty sessions, on Tuesday, a fellow named Thomas Jones was committed to take his trial at the assizes, for having burglariously entered the FOX INN, on the 29th of February, and stolen therefrom a chimney glass and barometer, the property of Mr. William Worthington, the landlord. It was now proved that on the morning after the robbery he got the loan of half-a-crown upon the stolen property from a miner named Richard Groom, who, having his suspicions, was the means of informing the police of the circumstance. On being sought after, it was found he had absconded, and he was only apprehended a few days back at Ruabon, in North Wales. He was again brought up on Friday, and committed for another burglary perpetrated about the same time, at the house of Thomas Fieldhouse, butty miner, Prouds Lane.”

Birmingham Journal 27/7/1850

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes....

A man named Thomas Jones was indicted for having burglariously entered the house of Thomas Fieldhouse, mine agent, Bilston, during the night of the 27th January, and stealing therefrom two pairs of boots, a bunch of keys, a gun, and other articles. The house was broken into by means of the cellar window, and the evidence connecting the prisoner with the robbery consisted in his having sold and made presents of a portion of the stolen property to some persons in Wolverhampton on the day following. He was not caught until last month, when he was entrapped by being invited into a public house at Bilston; he guessed something to be wrong, and endeavoured to make his escape. He was also indicted for robbing the house of William Worthington, of the FOX INN, Bilston, of a looking-glass and barometer, but the Grand Jury ignored the bill. On the first charge, he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/2/1851

“Inquests held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner....

On Friday, at the FOX INN, Bilston, on the body of Jane Nicholls, aged 13, whose death was caused by falling down a pit, situated in the Lunt, on Saturday last.

It appeared that the deceased was not employed at the pit, but was merely attending to the skip during the temporary absence of one of the bank girls, and on leaning over to draw the skip to the bank, she overbalanced herself, and fell down the shaft. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

London Gazette 21/2/1851

“In the Matter of the Petition of William Worthington now lodging at No.49, William-street, and lately at No.13, Dale-end, and at No.37, Summer-lane, all in Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, out of business, previously of the FOX INN, Church-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Butty Collier, and Engineer, and formerly of Lichfield-street, Bilston aforesaid, Retail Brewer and Engineer, an Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Warwickshire, at Birmingham, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on the 15th day of March next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shewn to the contrary.”

1851 Census

Church Street

- [1] John Smith (29), innkeeper and brass founder, born Handsworth;
- [2] Fanny Smith (30), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Francis Smith (3), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Fanny Smith (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Frederic Smith (1), son, born Bilston;
- [6] Dennis Hale (28), married, ostler, born Bilston;
- [7] Emma Ward (21), chambermaid, born Tipton;
- [8] Ann Yardley (18), nursemaid, born Princes End;
- [9] Mercy Smith (18), barmaid, born Wolverhampton:

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/11/1851

“An inquest was held on Thursday last, at Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of William Page, 28 years of age, brewer, in the employ of Mr. Smith, of the FOX INN. It appeared from the evidence of Mr. George Barker, assistant to Mr. Bew, chemist, that on Saturday last the deceased was walking in the road near his master’s shop, when he came in contact with a horse and cart, which knocked him down, the off wheel passing over his body. He immediately ran to his assistance, and tried to raise him, when he complained of his neck. He was afterwards taken to his master’s house, when every attention was paid to him by E. Best, Esq, surgeon, but he died on Tuesday.

The lad who was driving the horse at the time was examined, and said he believed the deceased was reading at the time, and slipped off the footpath.

The jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict of Accidental Death. The Coroner and jury strongly animadverted on the extremely indiscreet and highly reprehensible practice of allowing children to drive through the streets of a densely-populated town.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/9/1853

“Out of the twenty-three applications for new licenses made before the magistrates for the Bilston division, at their annual sitting, ten were granted. In five of these there was no opposition. On the same occasion the renewal of the licenses of the KINGS ARMS, the FOX, and the CROWN in Crown Street, against which houses complaints had been preferred by the police, was withheld, to be considered at the adjourned court on the 16th inst.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/9/1853

“At the Petty Sessions, on Friday.....

The licenses of the KINGS ARMS and FOX INNs, and also the OLD CROWN, in Crown Street, suspended at the late licensing meeting were renewed upon promise of amendment in conducting the respective houses.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/11/1853

“A stranger named Davis, who said that he came from London, was committed on Tuesday last, charged with stealing a fowl, the property of Mr. Henry Slater, of the FOX INN, Bilston.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 19/11/1853

“James Davis, a tramp, was on Tuesday charged with stealing a hen belonging to Mr. Slater, of the FOX INN, Bilston. Job Kirtland, the ostler, said that, about eight o’clock on the preceding night, he was at work in the stable, when he heard a noise among the fowls in the hen-house. He proceeded up the yard, and found a ladder reared against the wall of the pig-stye, and having procured a light, he ascended to the place where the fowls were kept, and immediately missed a hen which had been doing the maternal to some chickens. He called his master, and then mounted a hay-loft, where he discovered the prisoner, who was lying apparently asleep with the hen, still alive, underneath his head. An officer was sent for, and he was given in charge. The prisoner now protested his innocence, and stated that he had walked a long way; a young man gave him some drink, which, not having eaten anything, had taken effect on him, and he had gone to the loft to sleep. Sub-inspector Heath, however, proved that he was perfectly sober, and the Magistrate committed him to take his trial.”

[At the Staffordshire Sessions James Davis, 26, was sentenced to three months’ imprisonment.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/8/1855

“At Bilston Petty Sessions on Friday last, before J. Loxdale and T. Barker, Esqs, and the Rev. H. S. Fletcher, police officer Mansfield was charged with assaulting David Jones, early on Wednesday morning last. The evidence on behalf of the complaint was to the effect that the complainant, who was in company with his brother and a man named Tart, had some drink in the FOX public house, and afterwards went towards the BALLOON public house. The defendant and two other policemen passed by. Defendant stared very hard at complainant’s brother, and afterwards told complainant and his companions to ‘move on.’ Complainant alleged that he and the other men did go on, but not far enough, as he supposed, to suit the defendant, who then came up and kicked complainant, who thanked him for what he had done. Defendant then said that if complainant’s brother did not go on he would give him something. The policemen and some other men were drinking and dancing in the FOX public house. The defendant cross-examined the complainant and his witness with considerable acuteness, and after making a statement of his case, called police officers Goodall and Smith, whose evidence in substance was that hearing a noise in High Street about half-past two o’clock, they went up and found the complainant and his brother there. They twice requested them to go away but they refused. The officers then went to the station to report that they were going off duty, and on their way home they found the complainant and others engaged in making a disturbance. The officers again told them to go away. Complainant and his brother were very saucy, and Goodall said if they did not go home he would lock them up. They went. Mansfield did not kick complainant. The Magistrates said the evidence was so conflicting they should dismiss the case. An inquiry would, however, take place, as to whether the police were drinking and dancing in the public house. If it were true it would throw discredit upon the officers; he hoped it might turn out to be untrue.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1855

“The Annual Meeting for Bilston, Sedgley, Gornal, and adjoining places took place on Friday last, at the Police Office, Bilston.....

The following licenses were suspended till the adjourned licensing day, in consequence of complaints against the house..... Edwin Steer, FOX INN, Church Street.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/4/1856

“Bilston Petty Sessions.....

Edwin Steer, landlord of the FOX INN, was summoned for having on the previous Tuesday allowed persons of disorderly character to remain in his house. The case was proved by Superintendent M’Crea and another officer, who stated that about one o’clock on the morning named they found the spirit shop in the defendant’s occupation almost full of females and males of disreputable character.

Mr Waterhouse, on behalf of the defendant, remarked that his client, as a licensed victualler, was compelled to supply any person with refreshment who called for it, and that he could not be supposed to know the character of his customers.

The Magistrates being aware that the general character of the house was inferior, and that the defendant had been previously convicted for similar offences, inflicted a fine of £5 and costs.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1856

“The Annual Licensing Meeting at Bilston.....

The whole of the old licenses, with one exception, were renewed. Some of the licensed victuallers who had been fined for offences committed during the past year were, however, cautioned as to the future conduct of their houses. The license suspended was that of Edwin Steer, of the FOX INN.”

Birmingham Journal 4/10/1856 - Advert

“Favourable Opportunity for a Business Man.

To be Let, and immediate possession may be had, the present Proprietor having entered into other engagements, the FOX COMMERCIAL INN, which is most admirably situated in the centre of the thriving town of Bilston.

The Premises are most convenient and commodious, and comprise a large well-fitted up Liquor Shop, Bar, Bar Parlour, large Tap Room, Cooking Kitchen, comfortable Commercial Room, Smoke Room, seven good-sized Chambers, spacious Cellaring, Brewhouse, with excellent copper Furnaces, Ale Vats, &c, very conveniently fitted up; two Stables, Coach-house, and other Out-buildings.

Rental moderate, and the whole may be taken at a fair valuation.

Another Business may be conveniently carried on upon the Premises.

For further particulars, apply to the Landlord, Mr. Edwin Steer; or to R. L. Courtney, Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich.”

Birmingham Journal 20/12/1856 - Advert

“FOX INN, Bilston.

The Liquor Shop only to be Let. Coming-in low, and the rent moderate. Fixtures and Stock to be taken at fair valuation.

Apply to Mr. E. Steer, on the Premises.”

FOX INN, BILSTON.
THE LIQUOR SHOP only to be LET. Coming-in low, and the rent moderate. Fixtures and Stock to be taken at fair valuation.—Apply to Mr. E. Steer, on the Premises.

Birmingham Journal 2/5/1857 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, that noted House of Business, the ODD FELLOWS ARMS, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, brewing twelve bushels per week. Cause of its disposal, the Proprietress having taken to the FOX INN, Bilston.

Apply on the Premises; or to F. Altree, Auctioneer and General Valuer, 73, Wolverhampton Street, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/7/1858

"Elijah [sic] Price, of the FOX INN, Bilston, an old offender in that way, prosecuted by the police for selling ale after eleven o'clock on Sunday night, was fined £5 and costs."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/9/1858

"Bilston Annual Licensing Day.....

The license of the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston, kept by Eliza Price, was withdrawn, there having been four convictions against the landlady, and one information during the year In consequence of repeated convictions of Mrs. Eliza Price, the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston, for keeping a disorderly house, the magistrates decided to withdraw the license from that house altogether."

London Gazette 4/1/1859

"Whereas a Petition of Eliza Price, now and for about three months and six days last past residing in lodgings at Spring-hill, Essington-wood, in the township of Essington, in the county of Stafford, Widow, out of business, and previously for about sixteen months and fourteen days residing at the FOX INN, Church-street, Bilston, in the said county of Stafford, and then and there carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler and Retailer of Wines, Spirituous Liquors, and Tobacco, an insolvent debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at the Court-house, Queen-street, Wolverhampton, and an interim order for protection from process having been given to the said Eliza Price, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Eliza Price is hereby required to appear before the said Court, on the 24th day of January instant, at ten o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for her first examination touching her debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes; and the choice of the creditors' assignees is to take place at the time so appointed. Any persons indebted to the said Eliza Price, or that have any of her effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Charles Gallimore Brown, Registrar of the said Court, at his office, in Queen-street, Wolverhampton, the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the said insolvent."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/1/1859

"Staffordshire County Court, Wolverhampton District Insolvents.....

Eliza Price, formerly occupier of the FOX public house, Bilston, but now in lodgings at Spring Hill, Essington Wood, came up for her first examination, supported by Mr. Dalby, of West Bromwich; Mr. Thurstans and Mr. Flewker opposed, and urged that the Court had no jurisdiction, as the insolvent was residing within the limits of the Walsall district. Another objection raised was that the petition had been attested but not signed by the insolvent's attorney; but this was overruled by the Judge. The insolvent was then examined, and admitted that she had been deprived of her license by the Bilston Magistrates in consequence of repeated complaints by the police of the improper manner in which she had conducted her house. Among other items in the balance sheet the insolvent had entered £150 as having been paid to musicians. After a further examination touching her trading during the past year, his Honour decided to allow the insolvent to pass her first examination, reserving the first objection respecting the jurisdiction of the Court."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/2/1859

"At the County Court, on Monday last, the following insolvency cases were heard.....

Eliza Price, widow, of Spring Hill, Essington Wood, obtained her final order, supported by Mr. Dalby, of West Bromwich, Mr. Thurstans, who previously opposed, withdrawing his opposition."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/1/1860 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that old-established Commercial Inn, the FOX, Church Street, Bilston. Coming-in about £100.

For particulars, apply on the Premises."

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, that old-established COMMERCIAL INN, "THE FOX," Church Street, Bilston. Coming-in about £100.—For particulars, apply on the Premises.

William Twelves = William Twells

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/9/1860

“Bilston Annual Licensing Day.....

There were ten applications for new licenses, all of which were refused, except that of Mr. Twells, for a license for the FOX INN, Bilston, from which the license had been taken away on account of the misconduct of a previous tenant. The consideration of this application was adjourned to the 21st September.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/9/1860

“An application by Mr. Waterhouse for a renewal of the license of the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston, which was taken away four years since, in consequence of the misconduct of the tenant by whom it was then held, was refused, the Magistrates being of opinion that the present number of licensed houses in Bilston (104) is quite sufficient to meet the requirements of the inhabitants.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/9/1860 - Advert

“Bilston. To be Let, with immediate possession, that well known house of business, the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston. The premises contain five sleeping rooms, large commercial room, two parlours, bar, tap room, back kitchen, brewhouse, malt room, good cellars, stabling for six horses, with large and convenient yard. To be taken to at valuation.

Apply to Mr. R. Heseltine, Auctioneer and Valuer, Bilston; or on the premises.”

Advert 1861

“William Twelves, FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston.

W. T. begs most respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that he has taken the above house, and hopes by strict attention to comfort, with moderate charges to merit a share of their patronage and support, which shall be his constant study to observe.

Private Sitting-Room for Commercial Gentlemen.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/3/1861

“Mr. Harper, currier, of Bilston; Joseph Springthorpe, landlord of the FOX beerhouse, Church Street, Bilston, and Mary Ann Springthorpe, wife of the latter, were charged with obstructing Messrs. Bywater and Perry, bailiffs connected with the Wolverhampton County Court, in the execution of their duty. Mr. Bartlett appeared to prosecute, and Mr. Langman defended.

The bailiffs had gone to the house of Springthorpe to levy an execution at the suit of a Mr. Smith for £11, for malt supplied to Springthorpe. Harper had sublet the house to Springthorpe, and had put him in there and found him furniture, and to secure himself had obtained a bill of sale under which he claimed the goods. Harper and a number of men prevented the bailiffs levying under the warrant of the County Court. Mrs. Springthorpe gave active assistance, but her husband only slightly assisted Harper. Harper and Mrs. Springthorpe were each fined £5, and Joseph Springthorpe was fined 1s and costs.”

1861 Census

18, Church Street

[1] Joseph Springthorpe (30), publican, born Hibstock, Leicestershire;

[2] Mary Ann Springthorpe (34), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Betsey Springthorpe (14), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Samuel Springthorpe (13), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Francis Springthorpe (8), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[6] James Springthorpe (6), son, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Clara Springthorpe (4), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[8] Elizabeth Banks (21), housemaid and bar, born Willenhall;

[9] John Haynes (30), lodger, baker's assistant, born Walsall;

[10] William Springthorpe (1), son, born Walsall:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/9/1861

“Applications for new licenses.....

Mr. Waterhouse applied, on behalf of James Springthorpe, that the license taken away from the FOX INN, Church Street, Bilston, might be restored. Refused.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/11/1861

“J. Turner of Bilston will run S. Edwards or J. Bromley of Longton 100 yards with one yard start, for £10 or £15 a side; or Cooper of Wolstanton on the same terms. By sending a deposit to Bells Life, and articles to Mr. Springthorpe’s, FOX INN, Bilston, it will ensure a match. Turner will give or take reasonable expenses to run in the Potteries or at Birmingham.”

Eddowes Shrewsbury Journal 27/3/1867

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Dean v Harper. This was an action to recover £700 under a covenant by the defendant to keep in repair certain premises at Bilston, which he had leased from the plaintiff. Mr. Huddleston, QC, and Mr. Motteram, instructed by Reece and Harris, for the plaintiff; Mr. Mathews, instructed by Brown and Fereday, for the defendant.

Mr. Motteram opened the pleadings, and Mr. Huddleston, in stating the case to the jury, said the plaintiff was Mrs. Dean, an elderly lady, and the defendant a currier, and the action was brought to recover for damages to plaintiff’s property in consequence of dilapidation allowed by the defendant whilst a tenant of the property under lease. In 1858 defendant obtained a lease of the FOX INN, at Bilston; that lease contained a covenant that the defendant should keep the premises in good and sufficient order and repair, and in such order leave it when his time expired. In 1859 he took in addition four cottages near to the inn at £22 per annum for seven years, under the same conditions as the other property. The leases expired in 1865, and Harper expressed a wish to purchase the whole of the property, but saying that there would be a great deal to be done to them, as the places were in a dreadful condition. The leases were at this time regranted, and a similar covenant to the former one was entered into, namely, to keep the property in a completely efficient state of repair. He had regularly paid his rent, but had not complied with the stipulations in the leases, hence the present action.

Mr. Mathews, in defence, contended that the places were in a dreadful state of dilapidation when the defendant took to them, and that the signature of the defendant to the last lease was obtained by fraudulent means and representations. At the suggestion of the learned Judge, the matter was referred to two architects to be named by the two parties, and a verdict was taken was taken for the plaintiff pro forma.”

Thomas George Jackson, beer retailer, 18, Church Street. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/9/1868 - Advert

“FOX INN, Bilston. To be Let, this Old-established Inn, situate in Church Street.

Apply to Mr. F. W. Fiddian, Architect and Surveyor, Quadrant Chambers, New Street, Birmingham.”

FOX Inn, Bilston.—To be Let, this Old-established INN, situate in Church Street.—Apply to Mr. F. W. Fiddian, Architect and Surveyor, Quadrant Chambers, New Street, Birmingham.

Edinburgh Gazette 9/3/1869

“William Hayhurst, of the FOX INN, Church Street, retail brewer and boiler fitter, previously of St Luke’s Street, boiler fitter, and previously thereto of Coseley Street, all in Bilston, Stafford, boiler fitter.”

Closed

It was demolished.

The new Town Hall was built on the site in 1872.

Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Tolls.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Road leading from Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford, will be LET by AUCTION, at the House of Mrs. Mary Reynolds, the Fox Inn, in Bilston aforesaid, on Monday the 12th Day of October, 1818, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, for the Term of one Year, commencing the first Day of January next, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his present Majesty King George the Third, "for regulating the Turnpike Roads;" which Tolls were let on Lease the last Year at the under-mentioned Sums, clear of the Expenses of collecting them, and will be put up at those Sums respectively. Whoever happen to be the best Bidder must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for the Payment of the Rent agreed for and at such Times as they shall direct, and make a Deposit of one Month's Rent for each Lot.

Lot 1. Cock Heath Gate.....	£500
2. Bilston Bridge, Cold Lanes, and High Street Gates, with Weighing Machine }	400
3. Catchem's Corner Gate, Ettingshall Lane Bar, Ettingshall Side Bar, and Fighting Cock's Bar.....	200
4. Gibbet Lane Gate.....	394

By Order of the Trustees,
JOHN WILLIM,
Clerk and Treasurer.

Bilston, Sept. 14, 1818.

1818

BILSTON NEW ROAD.

PERSONS of Experience and a competent Skill in Road-making, who are inclined to contract for making and completing a new Road from the North Corner of the Church Yard, in the Township of Bilston, to Priestfields, in the said Township, may see a Plan, Section, and Specification thereof, at the Office of Messrs. Willim and Son, Solicitors, in Bilston, where Tenders, sealed up, must be left on or before Three o'Clock on Friday the 15th Day of November, 1819; and the Persons making such Tenders are required to attend a Meeting of a Committee of the Trustees at the Fox Inn, in Bilston, at Four o'Clock the same Day, who will require sufficient Security for the Performance of the Contract to be then entered into.

Bilston, October 27, 1819.

1819

TURNPIKE ROAD

From Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

A Special General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the Fox Inn, in Bilston, on Friday the 28th Day of July inst. at Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, to meet a Deputation of the Parliamentary Commissioners, accompanied by Mr. Telford, and to communicate with them as to the Objects of the new Act respecting the London and Holyhead Roads, and the Nature of the Improvements suggested by Mr. Telford. At the same Time will be taken into Consideration the Propriety of removing Gibbet Lane Turnpike to Priestfields, in the Township of Bilston.

JOHN WILLIM,
Clerk to the Trustees.

1820

FOX INN, BILSTON.

MARY REYNOLDS respectfully embraces this Opportunity of expressing her grateful Acknowledgments to her numerous Friends and the Public for those Favours which have already been so liberally bestowed upon her, especially during the last five Years she has had the Honour of conducting the above as a Travellers' Inn; at the same Time she humbly begs Leave to acquaint the Commercial Gentlemen who please to honour her with their Commands, that she has lately fitted up the House and Stables in a comfortable Style, a lock-up Gig-house, and every other suitable Convenience for their Accommodation, with most excellent Beds, choice Wines, genuine Spirits, and good home-brewed Ale, such as she confidently trusts cannot fail, by Assiduity and Attention, to secure a Continuance of that Patronage and Support which will ever be her Study to merit.

Bilston, Sept. 6, 1820.

1820

TURNPIKE ROAD

From Wednesbury, through Bilston, to the further End of Gibbet Lane, and several other Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

THE next General Meeting of the Trustees will be held at the Fox Inn, in Bilston, Tomorrow (Tuesday) the 24th Day of April, at One o'Clock in the Afternoon precisely, to transact the Business before Dinner and dine at Three.

JOHN WILLIM,
Clerk to the Trustees.

1821

FOX INN, BILSTON.

TO be peremptorily SOLD by AUCTION (by order and direction of the Assignee of Mary Reynolds, a bankrupt), at the said Inn, To-morrow (Tuesday) the 28th of February, precisely at four o'clock in the afternoon;—the Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the above well-known good accustomed House and Travellers' Inn, situated in the centre of Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

The above Inn is a desirable opportunity for any person wishing to embark in the public business, and such as is rarely offered to the public.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall.

1825

Household Furniture, and other Effects, at the Fox Inn, Bilston.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. W. PERKES, (under an Execution from the Sheriff of Staffordshire) at the said Inn, in Bilston, To-morrow (Tuesday) the 17th day of January, and to continue until the whole is disposed of, the valuable Household Furniture, Ale, Wines, Spirits, and other Effects, belonging to Mrs. Mary Reynolds; particulars of which will appear in catalogues, which will be distributed.

FOX INN, BILSTON.

TO be peremptorily SOLD by AUCTION (by order and direction of the Assignee of Mary Reynolds, a bankrupt), at the said Inn, To-morrow (Tuesday) the 28th of February, precisely at four o'clock in the afternoon;—the Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the above well-known good accustomed House and Travellers' Inn, situated in the centre of Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

The above Inn is a desirable opportunity for any person wishing to embark in the public business, and such as is rarely offered to the public.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall.

1826

FOX INN and COMMERCIAL HOUSE,
BILSTON.

J. GILBERT begs leave to inform his Friends and the Public, that he has entered upon the above Inn, and assures them and the Commercial Gentlemen, that no attention to general comfort shall be wanting to ensure their patronage and support, which he respectfully solicits.
•• Excellent Wines and good Stabling.

FOX INN and COMMERCIAL HOUSE,
BILSTON.

J. GILBERT having entered upon the above old established house, which has undergone many improvements and been fitted up at considerable expence, begs leave very respectfully to solicit the support of his Friends, the Commercial Gentlemen, and the Public generally, assuring them that his utmost exertions shall be used to promote their comfort and convenience, and to ensure that extensive patronage which the house has for so long a period enjoyed.

J. G. announces to his Friends, that his House Warming will be on the 25th instant, when their company is respectfully solicited.

Tickets may be had at the Bar of the House, at 5s. each, including dinner and dessert.

1826

That old established COMMERCIAL INN and LIQUOR SHOP,

THE FOX INN, BILSTON.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. CORBETT, on the premises, on Friday next, January 9, at five o'clock in the afternoon, the Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the above named Commercial Inn and Liquor Shop, the oldest and most lucrative establishment of the kind in the town, which, in consequence of recent expensive alterations and improvements, possesses every convenience as a Travellers' Inn, Public House, and Liquor Shop, enjoying a considerable share of in and out-door business.

The purchaser will be expected to take to the stock of ale and liquors, which is low, the barrels, brewing utensils, fixtures, and part of the household furniture, at a fair valuation.

For further particulars apply on the premises; or to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston aforesaid, if by letter, post paid.

1829

TURNPIKE ROADS,

Leading to and from Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

THAT a SPECIAL GENERAL MEETING of the TRUSTEES of these Roads will be held at the Fox INN, in BILSTON aforesaid, on WEDNESDAY, the FIFTEENTH day of FEBRUARY next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of assenting to or dissenting from the Proprietors of the Grand Junction Railway laying their Railway across the Bilston Turnpike Roads.

WILLIM and SON,

Clerks to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.

Bilston, 31st January, 1832.

1832

FOX INN, BILSTON.

TO be disposed of by private Treaty, the Licences, Good-will, and Possession of the above truly desirable, highly respectable, and old established Commercial Inn and Liquor Shop, having, in addition to an extensive and old established commercial connection, a great run in the Spirit and Tavern Business, to which is attached several Clubs and other Societies. Part of the Household Furniture, the whole of the Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, and Stock of Ale, Spirits, and Wines, which will be reduced to accommodate a purchaser, to be taken at a fair valuation, and part of the purchase money may remain on approved security.

For further particulars and to treat apply on the premises, to Mr. Hodgins, who is leaving in consequence of other engagements; or to J. Gilbert, Auctioneer, Mogul Tavern, Bartholomew-street, Birmingham.

1832

TO BE LET,

And may be entered upon immediately,

OR AT CHRISTMAS NEXT,

THAT well-frequented and old-established COMMERCIAL HOUSE, with LIQUOR SHOP attached—the FOX INN, BILSTON.

The above is an opportunity which seldom offers for any person desirous of embarking in the public business, as it is one of the best situations in Bilston, in the centre of the town; the trade of which place, and the surrounding neighbourhood, is in a very flourishing and improving state. The present proprietor is leaving on account of other engagements.

The Stock, Fixtures, and part of the Furniture, to be taken at a fair valuation.

1833

POINTER DOG LOST.

LOST, on MONDAY LAST, a black and white POINTER DOG, with cut tail, and answers to the name of "DON."—Whoever has found him, and will take him to the Fox Inn, Bilston, or to the Castle Inn, Wolverhampton, shall be handsomely rewarded for his trouble; and any one detaining him after this notice will be prosecuted.

September 2, 1834.

1834

BILSTON TURNPIKE ROADS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the General Annual Meeting of the Trustees appointed for putting in execution an Act of Parliament, passed in the tenth year of the Reign of his late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act for repairing certain Turnpike Roads leading to and from Bilston, in the county of Stafford," advertised to be held on the 26th day of February last, was duly adjourned to Thursday the 12th day of March instant, to the Fox Inn, in Bilston aforesaid, to one o'clock in the afternoon, when and where the accounts for the last year will be audited, and a report of the state of the roads made.

JOHN WILLIM AND SON,

Clerks to the Trustees,

1835

BILSTON.

TO MALTSTERS BREWERS, AND OTHERS.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. NEWBOLD, at the Fox Inn, Bilston, on Monday the 2d day of September next—Forty Pockets of superior Worcester and Sussex HOPS, in suitable lots for the convenience of purchasers.

The sale will commence precisely at twelve o'clock, and samples drawn.

1839

FOX INN, TAP HOUSE, AND LIQUOR SHOP, BILSTON.

TO be Disposed of, the Licences, Goodwill, and immediate possession of the above named well arranged old established TRAVELLER'S INN, Tap-house, and Liquor Shop.

The stock (which is small), the barrels, brewing utensils, fixtures, and such parts of the household furniture as may be agreed upon, to be taken at a fair valuation.

↪ Mrs. PRATT, on the premises, will show the stock, fixtures, and furniture; to treat for the same apply to RICHARD CORBETT, auctioneer, &c. New Town, Bilston.

1841

SALE AT THE FOX INN, BILSTON.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY JOHN MASON,

On Tuesday, the 29th day of June, 1847,

PART of the modern and useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, four post, tent, and other bedsteads, mahogany dining and loo tables, fine toned cabinet piano-forte, 6½ octaves, handsome mahogany secretaire, office table desk, eight excellent 120 gallon iron bound and other Ale Barrels, superior single bodied four wheeled Phaeton, excellent four wheeled Dog Trap, Spring Cart, strong store Pig, and other effects, upon the premises, at the Fox Inn, the present tenant removing to the King's Arms Inn, Bilston.

↪ Particulars, in catalogues, are now in circulation, and may be had at the offices of the Auctioneer, Hall-street, Bilston.

UNRESERVED SALE AT THE FOX INN,

CHURCH-STREET, BILSTON.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by RICHD. CORBETT, on the above premises, on Tuesday and Wednesday the 15th and 16th days of November next—the Licences, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above INN, now carried on by Mrs. Mary Pratt, who is declining business; and also all the modern useful Household Furniture, iron-bound Ale Barrels, large Copper Furnaces, Cooling Vats, Brewing Utensils, Liquor Shop and Bar Fixtures, Stock of Wines, Liquors, &c. and other miscellaneous property and effects; catalogues of which will be distributed, and may be had after Thursday next the 3d of November at the place of sale, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

The sale to commence each day at ten a.m. and at two p.m.

The first lot will be the Licences, Goodwill, and Possession, unless previously disposed of by private treaty, which may be effected by applying to the Auctioneer, and the purchaser may or may not take to the Fixtures, Barrels, Brewing Utensils, &c. at a valuation.

1842

UNRESERVED SALE AT THE FOX INN, CHURCH-STREET, BILSTON.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by RICHD. CORBETT, on the above premises, on Tuesday and Wednesday the 15th and 16th days of November next—the Licences, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of the above INN, now carried on by Mrs. Mary Pratt, who is declining business; and also all the modern useful Household Furniture, iron-bound Ale Barrels, large Copper Furnaces, Cooling Vats, Brewing Utensils, Liquor Shop and Bar Fixtures, Stock of Wines, Liquors, &c. and other miscellaneous property and effects; catalogues of which will be distributed, and may be had after Thursday next the 3d of November at the place of sale, or at the offices of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

The sale to commence each day at ten a.m. and at two p.m.

The first lot will be the Licences, Goodwill, and Possession, unless previously disposed of by private treaty, which may be effected by applying to the Auctioneer, and the purchaser may or may not take to the Fixtures, Barrels, Brewing Utensils, &c. at a valuation.

1847

WHEREAS a Fiat in Bankruptcy, bearing date the 8th day of May, 1848, has been awarded and issued against JAMES WALTER BUSST, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, innkeeper, under which he has been adjudged and declared bankrupt; the said James Walter Busst is hereby required to surrender himself to EDMUND ROBERT DANIELL, Esquire, one of her Majesty's Commissioners authorised to act in the prosecution of Fiats in Bankruptcy in the BIRMINGHAM DISTRICT COURT OF BANKRUPTCY, at BIRMINGHAM, on the 7th day of JUNE next, at half-past ten of the clock, and on the 20th day of JUNE next, at half past ten of the clock in the forenoon on each of the said days, and to make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the Creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and on the first day above specified to CHOOSE ASSIGNEES, and on the last day above specified the said Bankrupt is required to FINISH his EXAMINATION. All persons indebted to the said Bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are hereby desired not to pay or deliver the same but to FREDERICK WATMORE, Esq. official assignee, Waterloo-street, Birmingham; and give notice thereof to

THOMAS MOSS PHILLIPS,

Solicitor, Wolverhampton.

1848

FAVOURABLE OPPORTUNITY FOR A BUSINESS MAN.

TO be LET, and immediate possession may be had, the present Proprietor having entered into other engagements,

THE FOX COMMERCIAL INN,

which is most admirably situated in the centre of the thriving town of Bilston.

The Premises are most convenient and commodious, and comprise a large well-fitted up Liquor Shop, Bar, Bar Parlour, large Tap Room, Cooking Kitchen, comfortable Commercial Room, Smoke Room, seven good-sized Chambers, spacious Cellaring, Brewhouse, with excellent copper Furnaces, Ale Vats, &c. very conveniently fitted up; two Stables, Coach-house, and other Out-buildings.

Rental moderate, and the whole may be taken at a fair valuation. Another Business may be conveniently carried on upon the Premises.

For further particulars, apply to the Landlord, Mr. Edwin Steer; or to R. L. Courtney, Auctioneer, High Street, West Bromwich.

1856

BILSTON.

TO BE LET, with immediate possession, that well known house of business, the FOX INN, Church-street, Bilston. The premises contain five sleeping rooms, large commercial room, two parlours, bar, tap room, back kitchen, brewhouse, malt room, good cellars, stabling for six horses, with large and convenient yard. To be taken to at valuation.—Apply to Mr. R. Heselgrave, Auctioneer and Valuer, Bilston; or on the premises.

“FOX INN,” BILSTON.

TO be LET, with immediate possession, that well-known old-established HOUSE of BUSINESS, known as the “FOX INN,” Church Street, Bilston. The Premises contain five Sleeping Rooms, large Commercial Room, two Parlours, Bar, Tap Room, back Kitchen, Brewhouse, Malt Room, good Cellars, Stabling for six horses with large and convenient Yard. To be taken to at valuation.—Apply to Mr. R. Heselgrave, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Market Place, Bilston; or on the Premises.

1860

WILLIAM TWELVES,

Fox Inn,

CHURCH STREET, BILSTON.

W. T. begs most respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that he has taken the above house, and hopes by strict attention to comfort, with moderate charges to merit a share of their patronage and support, which shall be his constant study to observe.

PRIVATE SITTING-ROOM FOR COMMERCIAL GENTLEMEN.

1861

FREEMASONS ARMS

Cold Lanes, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Benjamin Ford [1850] – [1854]

NOTES

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/7/1850

“Staffordshire Midsummer Sessions.....

Sarah Hinton was indicted for stealing two night-gowns, three pairs of stockings, two chemises, a pair of drawers, and other articles, the property of Benjamin Ford, at Bilston.

Mr. Kettle, on behalf of the prosecution, called the prosecutor's wife, who stated that her husband kept the FREEMASONS ARMS, at Bilston, and that she took the prisoner into her service on the 1st of June, without a character; but, in consequence of some suspicions, discharged her in a fortnight afterwards. During the time the prisoner remained in her service she missed four sovereigns, a quantity of silver, four night-gowns, a locket, and several other articles. After she had left, information was given to police-officer Williams, who took the prisoner into custody on the 27th of June, and, upon searching her boxes, found several of the missing articles, which were produced and identified.

The prisoner, in her defence, endeavoured to clear herself and vilify the character of her mistress.

A verdict of guilty was returned by the Jury, and the Chairman, in sentencing the prisoner, told her she had considerably aggravated a bad case by the attack made upon the character of the prosecutor's wife. She was sentenced to be imprisoned to hard labour for twelve calendar months.”

1851 Census

Cold Lanes

[1] Benjamin Ford (40), fitter of engine work and retail brewer;

[2] Mary A Ford (30, wife, born Lichfield;

[3] Ann Williams (20), servant, born Brewood:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/6/1853

“Benjamin Ford, retail brewer, of Bilston, pleaded guilty to an information charging him with unlawfully having grains of paradise in his possession.

Mr. Shipman, solicitor, appeared for the defendant, and called two witnesses to show that the defendant's wife had sent to a neighbour's for a few hops to put to his ale, after it had been racked. Mrs. Evans, the person referred to, said she brewed for her own use, and sent some hops with grains of paradise in them. The date of this transaction, however, was not at all satisfactorily ascertained; and Mr. Gillespie said he had reason to think that if it took place at all, it did not apply to the present information. The defendant was convicted in the mitigated penalty of £50. Mr. Gillespie said the defendant was a poor man, and the payment of the penalty would press very severely upon him. The Board of Excise, he had reason to believe, would accede to its reduction to £30 if the Magistrates should think proper to recommend it, knowing the circumstances of the defendant, he could not recommend a mitigation. It was understood that £30 would be portion of the penalty required to be paid.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/4/1854

“An inquest was opened on Saturday last, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, deputy coroner, at the house of Mr. Benjamin Ford, of Cold Lanes, Bilston, on the body of Joseph Perry, aged 33, a miner, who had been killed on the previous Thursday, whilst at work in a coal pit at Bunkers Hill. It appeared that deceased was employed in getting some bat down in the new mine, and whilst doing so, he was suffocated by a quantity falling upon him. The inquiry was at length adjourned for notice to be sent to the Secretary of State, and for procuring further evidence as to the management of the working.”

GATE

378, Bilston Road, (30, Wolverhampton Road), Priestfield, BILSTON

OWNERS

George Marson, gentleman, licensed victualler, Sweetman Street, Whitmore Reans
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Georgiana Marson, Sweetman Street, Whitmore Reans
R. A. Harper Ltd., Hall Park Brewery, Bilston
Eley's Stafford Brewery
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Enterprise Inns Ltd. [1991]

LICENSEES

William Hunt [1834] – [1850]
Mrs. Ann Maddocks [1851] – 1855;
John Bassett Elwell (1855 – [1870])
Alfred Walters [1871] – 1877;
Joseph Elwell (1877 – 1885);
John Lockley (1885);
Stephen John Sopp (?) (1885 – 1886);
Mary Ann Oakley (1886 – 1888);
George Willetts (1888 – 1897);
Henry Tertius Hodgkiss (1897 – 1898);
James Evans (1898 – 1926);
Isaac Evans [1901]
Ernest Harold Rhodes (1926 – 1959)
Mrs. Annie Rhodes [1965]
O Mason [1983]
Raj Kumar Jassal [1995] – [2007]

2007

NOTES

Wolverhampton Road [1851], [1851], [1861], [1871], [1881], [1891], [1925], [1939]
30, Wolverhampton Road [1901], [1911], [1921], [1932], [1940]
378, Bilston Road [2005]

OLD GATE [1851], [1874]
GATES [1870]
GATE HANGS WELL [1877]

It had a beerhouse license.

1841 Census

Priestfields

- [1] William Hunt (65), victualler, born Staffordshire;
- [2] John Hunt (27), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Rebecca Hunt (25), born Staffordshire;
- [4] William Hunt (3), born Staffordshire;

2012

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/4/1843

"The following inquisitions have been held before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On Friday, at the GATE, Priestfields, near Bilston, on the body of Richard Oakley, who died in consequence of a waggon wheel on a railway having passed over his leg. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/4/1845 - Advert

"To be Let, the GATE INN, situate at Priestfield, on the side of the turnpike road leading from Wolverhampton to Bilston.

For particulars inquire of William Hunt, upon the premises."

TO be LET, "THE GATE INN," situate at Priestfield, on the side of the turnpike road leading from Wolverhampton to Bilston.—For particulars inquire of WILLIAM HUNT, upon the premises.

Ann Maddocks = Ann Maddox

1851 Census

Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Ann Maddocks (36), widow, innkeeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Catharine Maddocks (14), daughter, home, born Bilston;
- [3] Elenor Maddocks (13), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Sarah Maddocks (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] John Maddocks (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Elizabeth Maddocks (8), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] Ann Maddocks (6), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [8] George Maddocks (1), son, born Bilston:

1861 Census

Wolverhampton Road

- [1] John Elwell (46), boiler maker and victualler, born Coseley;
- [2] Ann Elwell (46), wife, born Burton on Trent;
- [3] George W. Elwell (17), son, born Coseley;
- [4] Abraham Bennett (20), apprentice boiler maker, born Burton on Trent;
- [5] William Dunn (17), apprentice boiler maker, born Burton on Trent;
- [6] John Matthin (17), apprentice boiler maker, born Burton on Trent;
- [7] Charles Duma (21), boarder, bridle bit maker, born Burton on Trent;
- [8] Amelia Evan (8), servant, born Portobello;
- [9] Sarah Whyett (19), servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [10] Alfred Walters (16), visitor, book keeper in boiler maker's office, born Burslem, Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/10/1862 - Advert

"A Road-Side Inn.

To be Disposed Of, near the Priestfield Toll Gate, on the Bilston Road. This excellent house of business is known by the sign of the GATE, and is worthy the attention of an industrious family. There has only been three changes of tenants for more than fifty years. Rent, £30. In-coming, about £110.

Apply to Mr. Ashcroft, Auctioneer, 38, Snowhill, Wolverhampton."

A ROAD-SIDE INN
TO BE DISPOSED OF, near the Priestfield Toll Gate, on the Bilston-road. This excellent house of business is known by the sign of the "Gate," and is worthy the attention of an industrious family. There has only been three changes of tenants for more than fifty years. Rent, £30. In-coming, about £110.—Apply to Mr. ASHCROFT, Auctioneer, 38, Snowhill, Wolverhampton.

John Bassett Elwell was also a boiler maker. [1864], [1865], [1870]

1871 Census

Wolverhampton Road

- [1] Alfred Walters (27), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] William Walters (24), brother, breaker down at rolling mills, born Bilston;
- [3] John Elwell (56), uncle, boiler maker, born Bilston;
- [4] Ann Elwell (58), aunt, born Burton on Trent;
- [5] Alfred Walters (7), nephew, scholar, born Kidsgrove, Staffordshire;
- [6] John Jenkins (24), boarder, labourer, boiler works, born Overton, Flintshire;
- [7] Agnes Clark (17), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Evening Express 14/4/1877

"Alfred Walters, landlord of the GATE HANGS WELL, Priestfield, was summoned by Police-constable Wade for being drunk in the bar of that house at 6.30 on the evening of Thursday last. He was fined 10s and costs."

1881 Census

Wolverhampton Road – GATE INN

- [1] Joseph Elwell (49), beerhouse keeper, born Coseley;
- [2] Catherine Elwell (44), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] George Elwell (24), son, striker for blacksmith, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Alice Elwell (22), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Kate Elwell (19), daughter, servant for mother, born Buckley, Worcestershire;
- [6] Agnes Elwell (14), daughter, servant for mother, born Buckley, Worcestershire;
- [7] Annie Elwell (14), daughter, servant for mother, born Bilston;
- [8] Horace Elwell (7), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [9] Lottie Elwell (4), daughter, born Bilston;
- [10] Howard Elwell (2), son, born Bilston:

Darlaston Weekly Times 3/7/1886 - Advert

"Monday Next, July 5th.

Unreserved Sale at the GATE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Priestfield.

Mr. John Skidmore will Sell by Auction at 12 o'clock prompt, a portion of the Household Furniture and Public House Effects.

Also two pairs of 36in blacksmith's Bellows, three iron Vices, quantity of hemp Rope, Avery's 6cwt sack weighing Machine, capital oat Crusher, wood-turner's treadle Lathe, blacksmith's Anvil, swage Block, quantity of Shafting with Pulleys, three brass Lubricators, brass lined boiler Pump, two wire rope Pulleys, 2ft 6in band Pulley, fencing Chain and wire Rope, galvanized corrugated iron Sheets, set silver mounted Harness, and other effects as described in catalogues to be obtained of the Auctioneer, 7, Lichfield Street, Bilston."

Sporting Life 23/1/1889

"Boxing Contest at Wolverhampton.....

Then came G. Willetts of the GATE INN, Priestfield, Wolverhampton (late Birmingham), and Jem M'Cale, of Wolverhampton. This was a ding-dong affair, both trying for the 'knock out.' Willetts, however, who is improving, made several good points. Both were well applauded on retiring."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/2/1890

"John McIntyre, of Birmingham, was charged with stealing a pair of field glasses, the property of George Willetts, landlord of GATE INN, Priestfield, at Dunstall Park races, on the previous day. He was remanded."

1891 Census

Wolverhampton Road – GATE INN

- [1] George Willetts (31), publican, born Aston, Warwickshire;
- [2] Maria Willetts (25), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Maud Willetts (2), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary Ann Hickman (17), sister-in-law, unmarried, born Tipton:

Sporting Life 24/2/1894

"George Willetts, of the GATE INN, Priestfield, Wolverhampton (late of the Birmingham Boxing Club), having taken the drinking booth at the Wolverhampton Race Meeting, will be pleased to see all his old and new friends at the above booth next week."

Henry Tertius Hodgkiss – see also CROWN AND ANCHOR, Oxford Street, LEOPARD, Church Street, ROYAL OAK, High Street, BLANKMAKERS ARMS, WHITE HART and SEVEN STARS.

1901 Census

30, Wolverhampton Road – GATE INN

- [1] Isaac Evans (34), blacksmith and innkeeper, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Evans (29), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] James Evans (6), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Ernest Evans (5), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Emily Evans (1), daughter, born Bilston:

Bridgnorth Journal 3/9/1910

“The funeral of the girl, Gladys Maud Felton (18), who hanged herself in a tragic manner at the GATE INN, Priestfield, where she had been employed as a domestic, took place at the Wolverhampton Cemetery, in the presence of a large number of friends, who had also generously subscribed for a number of wreaths. The funeral was from the house of her father, Alfred Felton, of 4, Ablow Street, Wolverhampton, and at the graveside the Priestfield contingent of women created a rather unpleasant scene. There was considerable hissing and booing.”

Birmingham Mail 7/9/1910

“A tragic sequel to the suicide of an eighteen-year-old girl, Gladys Maud Felton, who was found hanging in a stable at the rear of the GATE INN, Priestfield, near Bilston, on the 19th August, was the discovery last night in the Staffordshire and Worcestershire Canal at Wolverhampton of the dead body of her father, Alfred Felton (44), an iron moulder, of No.4 court, Ablow Street, Wolverhampton. It is stated that Felton has been living with another woman, and on the occasion of the funeral of his daughter at the Wolverhampton Cemetery he was given a hostile reception by a large number of women who lived close to the GATE INN, and who evidently understood the facts of the case. At the Coroner’s enquiry no evidence of a substantial character was brought forward to show why such a determined attempt on her life should have been committed, and the jury returned a verdict that she committed suicide by hanging, but there was not sufficient evidence to indicate the condition of the girl’s mind.

The Coroner’s enquiry into the circumstances attending the death by drowning of Alfred Felton was held this afternoon, at the Town Hall. The Coroner, in opening the case, said it was difficult to account for the daughter’s tragic end, and now the father’s act had made the affair all the more remarkable.

Edith Annie Illidge, married woman, who stated that she was deserted by her husband 13 years ago, told the Coroner that she had lived with Felton for the last nine years. He had not done any work since his daughter’s death, but yesterday morning declared his intention of going down to the Culwell Foundry, though it was apparent that he never reached there. On Sunday he visited his daughter’s grave at the cemetery, and on Monday suffered such pains in his head that he said the ticking of the clock was driving him mad.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst of Unsound Mind.”

1911 Census

30, Wolverhampton Road – GATE INN

- [1] James Evans (46), licensed victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Evans (40), wife, married 18 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] James Evans (17), son, apprentice roll turner, born New Village;
- [4] Earnest Evans (15), son, errand boy, coal dealer, born Priestfield;
- [5] Charles Evan Evans (6), son, born Priestfield;
- [6] William Henry Evans (4), son, born Priestfield;
- [7] Maud Millie May Evans (3), daughter, born Priestfield:

1921 Census

30, Wolverhampton Road (West) – GATE INN

- [1] James Evans (54), licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Sarah Evans (50), wife, home duties, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] James Evans (27), son, hurdle fitter, bolt and nut manufacturers, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Ernest Evans (25), son, coal dealer, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] C. Evan Evans (16), son, hurdle fitter, bolt and nut manufacturers, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William Henry Evans (14), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] M. M. May Evans (13), daughter, school, born Wolverhampton:

Bilston & Willenhall Times 7/2/1925

“Bilston Brewster Sessions.....

Mr. Harris presented plans for the rebuilding of the GATE INN, Wolverhampton Road, Priestfield. The application was adjourned to the next meeting.”

Ernest Harold Rhodes was granted a music license on 3rd February 1928.

1939 Register

Wolverhampton Road West – GATE INN (5 of 6)

- [1] Ernest H. Rhodes, date of birth 1/6/1882, clerk in flour mills, married;
- [2] Annie Rhodes, dob 25/12/1880, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] George H. Shinton, dob 10/4/1927, school, single;
- [4] Arthur T. Collins, dob 19/5/1910, motor transport driver, married;
- [5] Gladys Ethel (Collins) Harris, dob 28/8/1909, unpaid domestic duties, married;

1960 Probate

“Ernest Harold Rhodes of the GATE INN, Bilston Road, Priestfield, Wolverhampton, died 5 October 1959. Probate Birmingham 25 January to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £3,365 3s 2d.”

Ernest Harold Rhodes – see also ORANGE TREE.

1965 Probate

“Annie Rhodes of the GATE INN, Bilston Road, Wolverhampton, died 30th April 1965 at 30 Wolverhampton Road, Bilston, Staffordshire. Probate Birmingham 29 July to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £5,071.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/9/1965

“Midland Wills.....

Mrs. Annie Rhodes, licensee of the GATE INN, Bilston Road, Wolverhampton. £5,071 (£4,993 net).”

In 1992 a planning application was approved to alter the location of the entrance door (not implemented).

NEW GATE INN [2016]

[2023]

2023

MONDAY NEXT, JULY 5TH.

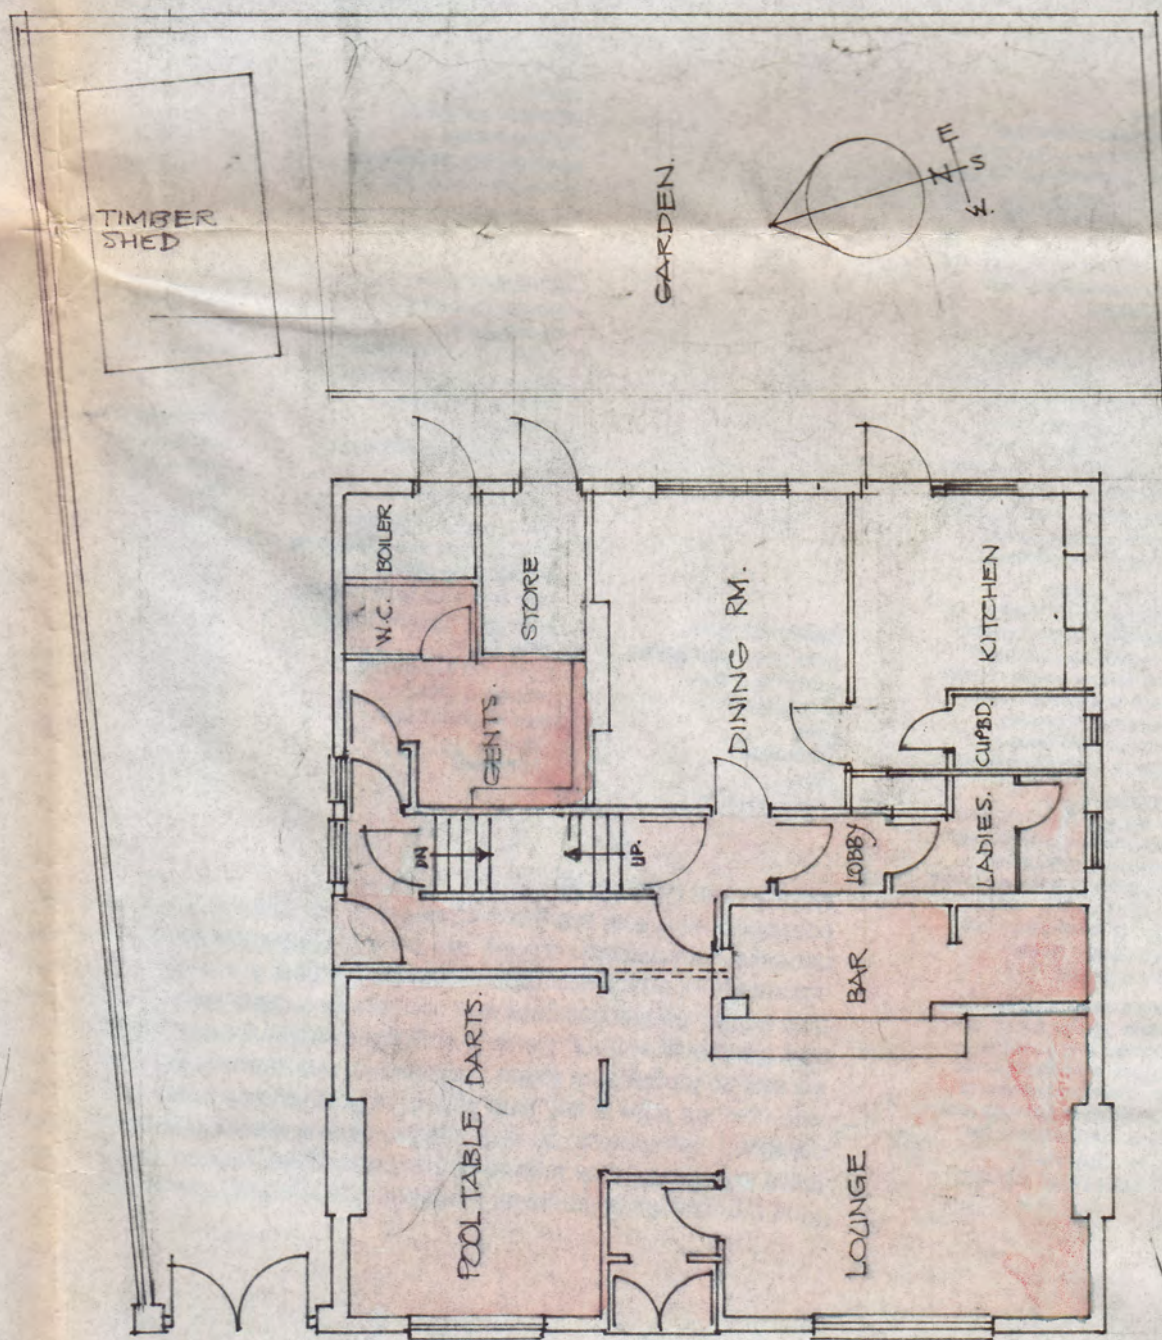

Unreserved Sale at the GATE INN,
WOLVERHAMPTON ROAD, PRIESTFIELD.

MR. JOHN SKIDMORE will SELL BY AUCTION at 12 o'clock prompt, a portion of the Household
FURNITURE & PUBLIC HOUSE EFFECTS

Also

Two pairs of 36 in. blacksmith's Bellows, three iron
Vices, quantity of hemp Rope, Avery's 6 cwt. sack weighing Machine, capital oat Crusher, woodturner's treadle Lathe, blacksmith's Anvil, swage Block, quantity of Shafting with Pulleys, three brass Lubricators, brass lined boiler Pump, two wire rope Pulleys, 2 ft. 6 in. band Pulley, fencing
Chain and wire Rope, galvanized corrugated iron Sheets, set silver mounted Harness, and other effects as described in catalogues to be obtained of the Auctioneer, 7, Lichfield-street, Bilston.

1886

GROUND FLOOR PLAN (AS EXISTING)

GEORGE

Stafford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Jones [1818]

Thomas Morris [1822] – [1824]

Thomas Massey [1828] – [1830]

Richard Hickin [1830]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/7/1824 - Advert

“To Sportsmen.

To be Shot For, at Mr. Morris's, GEORGE INN, Bilston, on Friday next, the 9th of July, a handsome Percussion Double Gun. Pigeons to rise 20 yards from the trap, and boundaries 100 yards, at five birds each.

Twenty Tickets at 12s each. Shooting to commence at twelve o'clock.”

TO SPORTSMEN.
TO be SHOT FOR, at Mr. Morris's, George Inn, Bilston, on Friday next, the 9th of July, a handsome PERCUSSION DOUBLE GUN. Pigeons to rise 20 yards from the trap, and boundaries 100 yards, at five birds each.
Twenty Tickets at 12s. each.—Shooting to commence at twelve o'clock.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/5/1830 - Advert

“To Publicans and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, on the premises, on Tuesday the 11th of May instant.

All the genteel Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, iron-bound Ale Barrels, Stock of prime Ale, Hops, Malt, and other effects of Mr. Richard Hickin, at the GEORGE INN, Stafford Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, who is declining the Public Business and leaving the town.

Catalogues will be distributed in due time, and may be had on the premises, and at the office of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.”

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS.
TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. CORBETT, on the premises, on Tuesday the 11th of May instant, all the genteel Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, iron bound Ale Barrels, Stock of prime Ale, Hops, Malt, and other effects of Mr. Richard Hickin, at the George Inn, Stafford-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, who is declining the Public Business and leaving the town.
Catalogues will be distributed in due time, and may be had on the premises, and at the office of the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.

GEORGE AND CROWN

Lane End, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Price [1835] – [1842]

NOTES

Closed
It was demolished c.1925.

Check Willenhall.

GEORGE AND DRAGON

61, Hall Green Street / 6, Wootton(s) Square, Hall Green, (Upper) Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Edward Wootton
Joseph Wootton
Richard Ashmole
Joseph Wootton, Hall Green, Bradley
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.
InnSpired [2002]

LICENSEES

Edward Wootton [1828] – [1830]
James Swindall [1834] – [1835]
Edward Wootton [1841] – 1877;
Joseph Wootton (1877 – 1878);
Luke Bird (1878 – 1887);
George Broomhall (1887 – 1888);
John Scott (1888 – 1891);
Samuel Bright Oliver (1891 – 1894);
Enoch Pickerell (1894 – 1897);
James Mason (1897 – 1898);
Richard Ashmole (1898 – 1900);
Fred Cook (1900 – 1902);
Samuel Joseph Salt (1902 – 1903);
Henry Ebenezer Bott (1903 – 1904);
Benjamin Hodgkiss (1904 – 1905);
William Henry Marlow (1905);
Arthur Fieldhouse (1905 – 1906);
Harry Morris (1906 – 1907);
Mrs. Elizabeth Baldwin (1907 – 1908);
Charles Painter (1908 – 1909);
Edward Williams (1909 – 1911);
Alfred Davies (1911 – 1913);
Noah James (1913 – 1915);
Mrs. Mary Ann James (1915 – 1916);
Harold Samuel Cox (1916 – 1926);
Bertram Albert Steward (1926 – 1935);
John William Kay (1935 – 1937);
Thomas William Brooks (1937 – [1940])
Billy Pearson []
Charles Lowndes [1969]
Marvin Whittle [1983] – [1985]
Mrs. Sharon Jukes [1994] – [1995]
Terence Bucknall [2000]

1993

2000

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

6, Wootton Square [1871], [1881], [1890], [1891], [1921]

61, Hall Green Street

GREEN DRAGON [1900]

It was known locally as "The Crownyard".

A lodge of the R.A.O.B. met here.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/11/1835 - Advert

"To Publicans.

To be Let, and entered upon the 2nd of January, 1836, that well-known old established Public House, the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Hall Green, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and now in the possession of Mr. James Swindall.

The above House is advantageously situated in the midst of the Iron Works and Collieries at Bradley and its neighbourhood, and a Life Club is held there every fortnight, in which there are about eighty members.

For terms and further particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Mr. Edward Wootton or Mr. James Swindall, both of Hall Green aforesaid."

Edward Wootton = Edward Wooton

1841 Census

Hall Green

[1] Edward Wooton (40), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Wootton (35), born Staffordshire;

[3] Mary Wootton (16), born Staffordshire;

[4] Rupert Brown (12), born Staffordshire;

[5] James Wooton (3), born Staffordshire;

[6] Thomas Wooton (1 month), born Staffordshire;

[7] Mary Dalemor (16), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/7/1841

"Rushton, who was challenged by Gilbert Howell, went to the place appointed, but Gilbert was 'nowhere.' Rushton is ready to make a match for £25, his 'attractive' will be the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bilston, tomorrow morning at ten o'clock."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/5/1842

"Joseph Turner, alias Snowball, will fight Benjamin Southwick, of Princes End, for £5 of his own money, and as he has £2 of the Doctor's, he will post the £7 to his £5, and meet him at Mr. Edward Wootton's, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, on Tuesday next, at from ten to eleven o'clock in the morning, to post and settle time and place."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/1/1846

"On Tuesday an inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Ann Jones, a married woman, about thirty-nine years of age. Edward Jones, her husband, stated that he lived at Batmans Hill, and on Saturday last he and his wife had supper by the fire, at about twelve o'clock. He fell asleep on a bench; his wife sitting at the time on a chair by the fire. At about half-past two o'clock he awaked, and heard the deceased cry, 'Ned, Ned, come and doubt me.' He immediately jumped up and wrapped his flannel jacket round her. She was badly burned, and notwithstanding medical assistance, died in her husband's house on the following Monday morning. The deceased, it appeared, was subject to fits. The husband said they were both sober. Verdict, Accidental Death."

AND

“On Tuesday an inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, on the body of James Barton, a bandsman, about thirty-five years old, whose death was caused by his falling down a pit in Mr. Addenbrook’s colliery at Rough Hay, Wednesbury, on the preceding Saturday morning. It appeared that deceased had hooked an empty skip to the pit rope, to send down, when he hooted to the engine man to ‘pull up;’ he did so; the skip pushed the waggon off the pit, and the deceased, who was holding the skip, slipped into the pit, which was about fifty yards deep. He was got out in about two minutes, but was dreadfully cut and bruised, and quite dead. The accident, it appeared, would not have happened had the deceased fastened the ‘catch.’ Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 17/1/1846

“A long investigation took place on Monday last, by adjournment, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, and a coroner’s jury, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, respecting the cause of the death of two miners, named Enoch Wainwright and John Price, who were ascending a pit at Princes End Colliery, on Saturday, the 3rd inst, when the rope suddenly broke, by which they were so much injured as to occasion death. A scrutinising inquiry into the condition of the rope was made, but its defective state appeared to be unknown to the workmen, who had fetched it for use of their own accord. A verdict of Accidental Death, was accordingly returned, with a deodand of 1s on the rope.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/3/1846

“The following inquests have been held by T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On Saturday, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, on the body of Samuel Toy, a labourer, about fifty-two years of age, who was found lying upon the ground, dead, at Hallfields. Verdict in conformity with the evidence.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/3/1846

“A report having been circulated in the neighbourhood that a woman of the name of Mary Stanley, about thirty-five years of age, had died from starvation and ill treatment by her husband, a coroner’s inquest was held yesterday (Tuesday) on the body, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, before Thomas Moss Phillips, Esq. Several witnesses were examined, whose testimony directly proved the falsity of the report, and the evidence of the surgeon, Mr. Charles Edwyn Kettle, was decisive. He stated that, in his opinion, the deceased died from inflammation of the peritoneum, and from expansion caused by such inflammation. The poor woman was confined in childbirth.”

Birmingham Journal 17/7/1847

“On Monday week the brothers of the Loyal Nelsonic Crimson Oak Lodge held their annual festival at the house of Mr. Edward Wootton, GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Hall Green, Bradley, in the parish of Sedgley. The meeting was numerously attended by the members of that flourishing society. The dinner was served up in excellent style, for which the host and hostess received the cordial thanks of the members. The funds of the lodge gave universal satisfaction, and after reelecting Mr. C. E. Kettle, as surgeon, for the ensuing year, the party separated, highly gratified at the whole proceedings. It appears that there is a balance in favour of the lodge of upwards of £40.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/11/1847

“The following inquests have been held before W. W. Ward, Esq, officiating for T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner.....

On the 10th instant, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Sedgley, on the body of John Titley, a child about two years old. Death was occasioned by the clothes of the deceased catching fire. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1851 Census

Hallgreen

- [1] Edward Wootton (50), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Marianne Wootton (45), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] James Wootton (12), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Joseph Wootton (7), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] William Wootton (5), son, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [6] George Pillsbury (22), brewer, born Brewood;
- [7] Elizabeth Fereday (19), domestic servant, born Sedgley;
- [8] Mary Dyson (19), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/4/1853

“On Monday last, an inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Hall Green, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Thomas Gaunt, about 53 years of age, and Joseph Walker, aged about 45, who were killed on the 23rd inst, by a large quantity of coal falling upon them from the roof of a pit in which they were at work at Ettingshall. The removal of the coal from the bodies of the deceased occupied about an hour and a half, when it was found that both men had received various mortal injuries, and that Walker’s skull was dreadfully fractured. There was, it appeared, a sufficient prop in the middle of the entrance into the stall where the men were working, and also two pillars and a cog for the purpose of supporting the coal. The place was therefore considered safe by the other miners at work in the pit. Walker was the doggy. The coal had been examined by the doggy on the morning of the occurrence. Both the deceased men have left widows and five children each. It appeared in evidence that Gaunt was keeping a woman in the house with his wife, and had had five children by her. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Worcester Journal 21/1/1854

“South Staffordshire Election.....

Lord Paget has partially continued his canvass during the week, and has addressed meetings in those places which he had not previously visited then proceeded to attend a meeting at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Hall Green. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Barlow, chairman of the district committee, Mr. Dimmack, Lord Paget, and Mr. Blackwell. The party then proceeded to the COSELEY TAVERN, and addressed a numerous meeting in the large room of that inn. They subsequently attended another meeting at the COURT HOUSE, at Sedgley.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/2/1854

“On Thursday an inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bilston, on the body of Charles Edwin Bagby, ten years old, who was caught by the machinery in Mr. Rose’s Works, Hall Green, on the previous day, and very much injured before he was discovered. He died at five o’clock in the afternoon. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/2/1855

“On Monday last, an inquest was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Bradley, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on the body of Joseph Morris, aged 23, a puddler, who met with his death under the following circumstances. Joseph Brookes, a collier, said that he was working in the hollows of a coalpit, at Herberts Park Colliery, Darlaston, on Friday, when the deceased, with whom he was acquainted, descended the pit, and lay down near the face of the work, which was being opened. Witness asked him to move away from under the coal; but he complained of having the cramp, and would not do so. Witness then went on with his work, holing; and soon after a large piece of coal, without the slightest warning, broke off from the side of the cog, and fell upon the deceased, completely covering him. The coal was removed as quickly as possible, when deceased was found terribly bruised and broken, and quite dead. The deceased had no business in the pit, and only went down out of curiosity to see how coal was got. Evidence having been given to show that every means had been used for obviating the danger, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/4/1858 - Advert

“To Ironmasters, Boat Owners, and Others. Sale of Shares in the Highfields Iron Boat Society.

Mr. George Brown will Sell by Auction, at the house of Mr. Edward Wootton, GREEN [sic] DRAGON INN, Hall Green, near Bilston, on Tuesday, the 4th day of May, 1858, at seven o’clock in the evening punctually, subject to conditions to be then and there read, Ten Shares in the above-named Iron Boat Society, held at the GREEN DRAGON INN aforesaid.

To four of the share boats have been allotted, and they may be seen at the yard of Mr. Stephen Thompson, Iron Boat Builder, Highfields, near Bilston aforesaid.

Further particulars may be had upon application to Mr. Charles Gallimore Brown, Solicitor, or the Auctioneer, both of Oxford Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/8/1858

“Yesterday (Tuesday), before J. Leigh Esq, a man named John Wareing, a labourer, living at Bilston, was charged with committing an indecent assault upon a young woman named Elizabeth Baugh, a servant at the GEORGE AND DRAGON public house, Hall Fields. Mr. Waterhouse appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Wilkinson, of Walsall, for the defence. On hearing the evidence of the complainant, the charge resolved itself into one of rape. Mr. Wilkinson here stated that he was not prepared with witnesses to meet so serious a charge, and the case was accordingly remanded until today (Wednesday) at Wolverhampton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/8/1858

“John Waring, puddler, was brought up on remand charged with committing a rape upon an intelligent looking young girl, named Elizabeth Baugh, only sixteen years of age. Mr. Hall, of Bilston, appeared for the complainant, and Mr. S. Wilkinson jnr, of Walsall, for the defendant.

The statement of the complainant, which had been taken before the Magistrates at Bilston on the previous day, was read over, and was to the following effect. I was a short time since a servant at the GEORGE AND DRAGON public house at Hall Fields, kept by Mr. Wootton. I left that place of service a fortnight ago today. The defendant, John Waring, used to come there frequently as a customer. On Thursday, the 29th of July, I put my mistress to bed at a quarter past two o'clock in the morning, and then went down stairs. There had been a club feast, and music and dancing was going on in the kitchen. I went into the parlour, and sat down with my head on the table, and fell asleep. I was awoke by the prisoner, who was pulling me off the chair. He dragged me up to the far end of the room. (The witness then described the assault.) During the time he was assaulting me Elizabeth Rudge came into the room. She said nothing, but ran out of the room laughing. The prisoner then got up, and left the room. Elizabeth Rudge came again, and I asked her for some water, which she brought me. Next morning I told Margaret Lloyd all that had happened. About noon on the following day the prisoner came to my master's house. I said to him, ‘Oh, Mr. Waring, you're a nice man.’ He answered, ‘Well, if I have done anything, I am sorry; but I hope you'll forgive me.’ I said, ‘Well, you have done a great deal of harm. When I go home I shall tell my mother and father, and you'll have to pay for it.’ I went home a fortnight today, namely August 4th, and a week after my arrival there told my mother how I had been served. I was persuaded not to tell by my fellow servant and Jane Rudge, and was ashamed. On Thursday last, the 12th instant, I went with my father to the prisoner's house, and saw him there. My father said, ‘Why did you molest my daughter so?’ He replied, ‘Me!’ several times; ‘How can you say so?’ I answered him, ‘I can say so with a clear conscience.’ He then said, ‘Go, and do your best.’ The reason why I was not heard when I called out was the noise in the public house of the music. I was not drunk, but quite sober’. In cross-examination she said, ‘I have been to a doctor both before and since I went home, but did not say anything about any man having criminally assaulted me. When I applied for a summons against the prisoner for an indecent assault, I denied that he had had criminal connection with me, because I was ashamed to acknowledge it. I am quite positive that I did not say on leaving the Bilston Police Court yesterday, ‘I will have £20 out of him for it.’”

David Shorthouse said, ‘I am a puddler, and live at Sedgley. I was at Wootton's on the night spoken of, Wednesday, July 28th. There was dancing going on in the tap room, and the defendant was there. I missed him from the room about a quarter past two o'clock in the morning. He was absent about ten minutes or a quarter of an hour. When he returned I noticed his waistcoat, trousers, and braces were unfastened, and his hair was disordered. About three o'clock in the afternoon of the Thursday I was passing the GEORGE when he tapped at the window, and called me in. He said, ‘Did you hear of me throwing the servant down last night? They tell me I did something.’ I replied, ‘When you came back I noticed your trousers were unbuttoned.’ He then said, ‘What a b—— I am when I get drunk. I shall be ashamed to show my face on the Green again as long as I live.’” In cross-examination the witness stated that the defendant was fresh. The complainant, Elizabeth Baugh, was not drunk. She was assisted to bed in consequence of the ill treatment she had sustained from the defendant.

Margaret Floyd stated, ‘I was a fellow servant of the complainant, and I recollect the night in question. I was dancing with the defendant Waring. I noticed him leave the room about twenty minutes past two o'clock in the morning. The next morning the complainant told me that Waring had assaulted her, and she said she did not know what to do about telling her mother. I told her the best thing she could do would be to go on as usual and say nothing about it. Waring was quite drunk while he was dancing with me. The complainant was sober, quite sober enough to attend to her business, or to resist any man taking liberties with her.’

Nancy Hall was examined and said, ‘I am a married woman and live at Sedgley. On Saturday morning last I was in a garden adjoining Waring's house. I heard Waring's wife accuse him of something, but I cannot say what it was about. Waring replied, ‘She was asleep in the parlour and I pulled her off the chair. I felt her knees, and I should have done something else if it had not been for that young cat coming in.’”

This being the case for the prosecution, Mr. Wilkinson, for the defence, called James Wootton, and endeavoured to establish from this witness that the complainant was intoxicated; that she complained the next day of having lost her purse containing 8s 5d on the previous night, and that she made no complaint of having been assaulted by Waring. James Watkins stated that he went to Wootton's public house on the day after the dancing. He saw the complainant there, and she complained of having lost her money on the previous night. He asked her if what he had heard was true about her being in the long parlour with Mr. Waring on the over night, and she replied that she never remembered seeing him in the parlour. Last Wednesday he met the complainant, and she then said that her father was going to have Waring up on the next Tuesday for 'messaging' with her in the parlour. He (the witness) exclaimed, 'You don't mean to say that Waring had to do with you,' and she replied, 'He had nothing to do with me except heaving my clothes up.'

Elizabeth Rudge was examined at considerable length to prove that on the occasion referred to the complainant was carried to bed in a state of helpless intoxication.

John Denholm was then sworn, and stated that he was a constable at Darlaston. On the previous day he was at the Bilston Police Court, and as the people were leaving the court room after the business was over he followed the complainant down the stairs, and he distinctly heard her say to another woman that she would have £20 out of the prisoner and make 'old bricks and mortar pay for it.' (The witness here handed to Mr. Leigh his pocket book, in which he had made an entry of the expression at the time.) Mr. Leigh minutely cross-questioned the witness as to whether he was quite certain as to the identity of the party, but he positively swore that the complainant was the person who had uttered those words. Mr. Leigh also asked the witness his motive for writing down those words in his pocket book, to which question, after some hesitation, he answered, because he considered that there had been an attempt to extort money. The witness stated that after following the complainant to the bottom of the stairs he returned to the court room to the Magistrates clerk's table, to receive his expenses in a case in which he had given evidence.

After some conversation between Mr. Leigh and the Magistrates clerk (Mr. Ward), Mr. Ward was sworn, and stated that the complainant and her mother remained in the court room for full three quarters of an hour after the business of the court was over, in order to complete her deposition. She sat at the table, so that the witness must have seen her there.

Mrs. Baugh was also sworn, and stated that she remained with her daughter in the court room nearly an hour after the business was over. Neither she nor her daughter left the room for a moment until Mr. Ward had taken down her daughter's evidence.

Mr. Leigh said that it was the opinion of the Bench that Denholm had committed wilful and corrupt perjury; they should therefore order him to be detained in custody until they could investigate the case. Denholm was then removed from the witness box into the dock. After a few brief remarks by Mr. Wilkinson for the defence, the Magistrates decided upon committing Waring to take his trial at the Assizes. Bail was accepted for his appearance, himself in £100 and two sureties of £50."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1858

"John Denholm, parish constable from Darlaston, appeared to answer a charge of wilful and corrupt perjury. Mr. Leigh briefly recapitulated the leading points of the case, and pointed out to the prisoner the slight foundation which he had for making such serious assertions. Mr. Leigh said that there was a probability that the defendant had not committed a wilful offence, and he should, therefore, give him the benefit of that supposition. The defendant expressed deep penitence for the error he had committed, and left the Court expressing his determination never again to interfere in other persons business."

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/3/1859

"Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

The Grand Jury ignored the bills against John Waring."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/12/1859

"T. Baker is surprised at J. Hodgkiss of Can Lane challenging him, as he knows Baker is not recovered from a severe illness, but W. Humphries of Skidmore Row, will run him 100 yards providing he will allow two yards at the coming-in end, for £5 a side. Humphries can be heard of at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Green, Bradley, where his money is ready. Bell's Life to be stakeholder."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/2/1864 - Deaths

"On the 3rd inst, after a lingering illness, in the 23rd year of his age, Thomas Kettle, the beloved son of Edward and Mary Ann Wootton, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Hall Fields, near Bilston."

Birmingham Daily Post 10/9/1864 - Died

"On the 7th inst, suddenly, of small pox, aged 42 years, Mary Ann, wife of Mr. John Bumford, of the VICTORIA INN, New Street, Bradley, and only daughter of Mr. Edward Wootton; deeply lamented."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/5/1865 - Deaths

"On the 12th instant, aged 26 years, James Swindall, son of Edward Wootton, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bilston, deeply deplored."

1871 Census

6, Woottons Square – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Edward Wootton (74), licensed victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Ann Wootton (70), wife, born Birmingham;
- [3] Joseph Wootton (27), son, blacksmith, born Sedgley;
- [4] William Wootton (25), son, painter, born Sedgley;
- [5] Sarah Litely (21), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

Edward Wootton died on 24th March 1877.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/4/1877

"At Bilston the Bench transferred the following licenses Alehouses.....
GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bradley, from Edward Wootton's executors to Joseph Wootton."

Joseph Wootton = Joseph Wooton

Dudley Herald 31/1/1880

"Luke Bird, licensed victualler, Hall Green, Bradley, and George Powell, puddler, Wootten Square, Bradley, were charged with being drunk on the 16th inst, in Hall Street, Dudley.

Defendants were seen about half-past nine o'clock on the evening of the day named, fighting and causing a great disturbance.

Each of the defendants were fined 2s 6d and costs, or seven days' imprisonment."

1881 Census

6, Woottons Square – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Luke Bird (33), licensed victualler, born Hurley, Warwickshire;
- [2] Mary Ann Bird (25), wife, born Gornal;
- [3] Ann Bird (7), daughter, scholar, born Gornal;
- [4] Alice Bird (5), daughter, scholar, born Gornal;
- [5] Mary Jane Bird (2), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Emily Bird (9 months), daughter, born Sedgley:

Luke Bird – see also OLD BUSH, Cross Street.

John Scott, 6, Wootton Square. [1890]

1891 Census

6, Wootons Square – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] John Scott (49), licensed victualler, born Cheshire;
- [2] Mary Scott (53), wife, born Cheshire;
- [3] Emily Scott (24), daughter, barmaid, born Cheshire;
- [4] William Darbyshire (10), adopted son, scholar, born Cheshire:

1911 Census

Woottons Fold – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Edward Williams (34), publican, born Bradley;
- [2] Margaret Ann Williams (34), wife, married 13 years, born Bradley;
- [3] Lilian May Williams (12), daughter, born Bradley;
- [4] Alice Williams (5), daughter, born Bradley;
- [5] Gladys Mary Williams (1), daughter, born Bradley;

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/4/1911 - Advert

“To Let, the Home-brewing, Fully-licensed Public House, called the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bradley, Bilston; rent £20 per annum.

Further information may be obtained from Boswell and Tomlins, 6, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton.”

1921 Census

6, Woottons Square

- [1] Harold S. Cox (32), stock-taker's clerk, pig iron and steel manufacturer, born Coseley;
- [2] Ethel Cox (27), wife, at home, born Bilston;
- [3] Phyllis J. Cox (6), daughter, school, born Ebbw Vale, South Wales;
- [4] Harold Stephen Cox (4), son, born Lanesfield;

1939 Register

Wootton Square – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Thomas W. Brooks, date of birth 13/2/1897, publican, manager, married;
- [2] William T. Brooks, dob 27/7/1920, A. R. P. Shelters, heavy work, single;
- [3] Lilian Minnie (Brooks) Mason, dob 7/11/1923, shop assistant, single;
- [5] Lily M. Kinsey, dob 28/5/1908, barmaid, single;

Billy Pearson was married to Blanche.

Alterations were carried out in 1957.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/8/1969

“A Wolverhampton councillor is to launch a three-point campaign for action to check the increasing number of tinkers arriving in the borough. Coun. Dennis Turner, who represents a Bilston ward – the area most affected by the tinker problem – last night warned that the antagonism to the itinerants was growing rapidly. He is to call on the town council to seek fresh talks between the five Black Country county boroughs to discuss ways of tackling the problem. He also wants the police to be asked to take quicker action against tinkers who park on the roadside. He will also contact Mr. Bob Edwards, Labour MP for Bilston, to see if a national action can be taken.

Coun. Turner said, ‘The five county boroughs ought to be getting together to analyse the situation. Something has got to be done by some authority. Wolverhampton Corporation should consider appointing a special officer to deal with tinkers in the Bilston Bradley areas because they had the biggest share of the problem. People were appalled at the amount of filth and rubbish left behind by the tinkers, even after they had parked for as little as two days.’

Meanwhile a petition has been drawn up by Mrs. Lila Langford, of the GREEN [sic] DRAGON Public House, Bradley, protesting against the tinker problem. She has already collected 300 signatures.”

Charles Lowndes – see also BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Coseley.

Sandwell Evening News 20/1/1984

“Licensee Marvin Whittle shows his regular he’s ‘got a lot of bottle’ – by playing tunes on optics behind the bar at his Coseley pub. Marvellous Marvin, aged 36, who runs the GEORGE AND DRAGON in Wootton Square, has set up a special bottle drum kit from 12 assorted whisky and spirit bottles and plays jazz tunes with his drumsticks. Marvin quit professional drumming 12 months ago to run the pub and, in his time, he has backed many of Britain’s top comedians, including Bob Monkhouse and Jim Davidson. ‘It started as a joke, but the regulars liked it so much I do it on a regular basis now, and the tunes come out very well,’ said Marvin. ‘I play mainly jazz and ragtime tunes and it all makes for a very lively night out.’”

Marvin Whittle – see also TRAVELLERS REST, Great Bridge Road, Darlaston.

It closed in May 2005.

Express and Star 8/4/2006

“Investigators were today sifting through remains of an historic pub ripped apart by a blast after an arson attack. Huge cracks could be seen along the walls of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Bradley, Bilston, which had all its windows blown out. Police set up an emergency cordon around the blackened Hall Green Street building following fears that it could collapse, following last night’s blast. The pub had been closed for some time for an extensive refurbishment, which was due to be completed in the next few weeks.

Firefighters from Bilston and Wednesbury were called to the explosion at around 9.15pm. They arrived to find a small residual fire on the first floor and stairs of the pub, which is currently being refurbished. Leading firefighter Ivor Davies from Bilston fire station, said, ‘It became clear petrol had been liberally sprinkled throughout the first floor. Firebugs had forced their way into the building through the back door of the pub.

Scenes of crimes officers were called to the scene and a structural engineer declared the building unsafe.

The revamp of the building was close to being finished and the pub was full of workers’ tools.

Fire crews and police officers remained at the scene overnight to prevent people from entering the building.

Today the current leaseholder of the much-loved drinking spot was too upset to speak about the blast.

One resident, who asked not to be named, said that they had been watching television when they heard a huge bang. ‘I thought a bomb had gone off, then a few minutes later I heard sirens,’ he added.

The GEORGE AND DRAGON is on the edge of the 100-acre site of the planned Bilston Urban Village. Work on preparing the area for the £100 million regeneration scheme is well under way.

The pub was the last of six which thrived in Bradley during the area’s industrial heyday.”

It was demolished in May 2007.

Housing was built on the site.

Marvin Whittle

TO PUBLICANS.
TO be LET, and may be entered upon the 2d of January, 1836, that well-known old established Public House, the GEORGE and DRAGON, at Hall Green, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, and now in the possession of Mr. James Swindall.
The above House is advantageously situated in the midst of the Iron Works and Collieries at Bradley and its neighbourhood, and a Life Club is held there every fortnight, in which there are about eighty members.
For terms and further particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Mr. Edward Wootton or Mr. James Swindall, both of Hall Green aforesaid.

1835

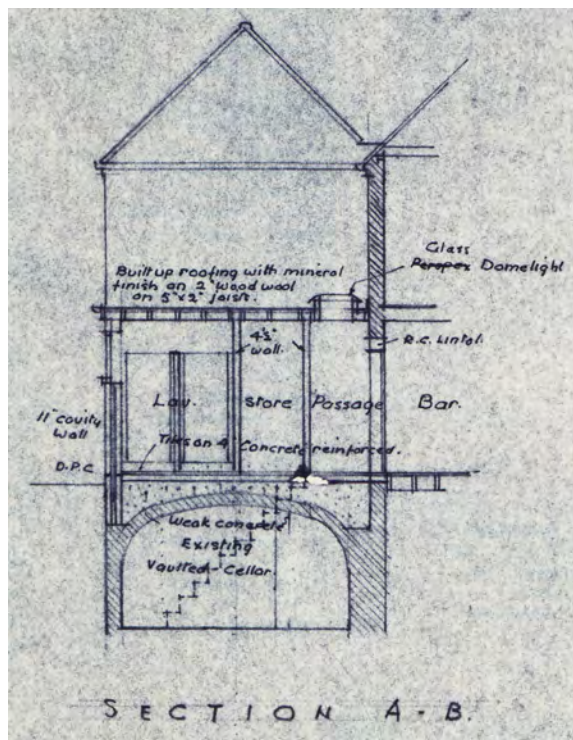

TO IRONMASTERS, BOAT OWNERS, AND OTHERS.
SALE OF SHARES IN THE HIGHFIELDS IRON
BOAT SOCIETY.

MR. GEORGE BROWN will SELL by AUCTION, at the house of Mr. Edward Wootton, GREEN DRAGON INN, HALL GREEN, near BILSTON, on Tuesday, the 4th day of May, 1858, at seven o'clock in the evening punctually, subject to conditions to be then and there read, TEN SHARES in the above-named IRON BOAT SOCIETY, held at the Green Dragon Inn aforesaid.

To four of the shares boats have been allotted, and they may be seen at the yard of Mr. Stephen Thompson, Iron Boat Builder, Highfields, near Bilston aforesaid.

Further particulars may be had upon application to Mr. CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, Solicitor, or the AUCTIONEER, both of Oxford-street, Bilston.

1858

TO Let, the Home-brewing, Fully-licensed Public House called The George and Dragon, Bradley, Bilston; rent £20 per annum.—Further information may be obtained from Boswell and Tomlins, 6, Darlington-st., Wolverhampton.

1911

Plans 1957

GLADSTONE ARMS

176, Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Fanny Hunt, Aston House, Moxley

LICENSEES

Thomas Perkins [1861] – [1862]
Samuel Maullin [1871] – 1873;
John Worth (1873 – 1875);
George Cartwright (1875);
Richard Bowen (1875);
Enoch Boaler (1875 – 1876);
Isaiah Emery (1876 – 1877):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

176, Oxford Street

- [1] Thomas Perkins (46), victualler and plasterer employing 3 men, born East Langton, Leicestershire;
- [2] Sarah Perkins (37), wife, born Preston, Lancashire;
- [3] Ellen Perkins (22), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Hannah Perkins (19), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Sarah Ann Porter (7), daughter-in-law, born Preston, Lancashire;
- [6] Bertram Porter (4), son-in-law, scholar, born Willenhall;
- [7] Joseph Herniam Perkins (1 day), son, born Bilston:

Thomas Perkins, retailer of beer, 176, Oxford Street. [1862]

1871 Census

176, Oxford Street

- [1] Samuel Maullin (27), bricklayer and publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Maullin (25), wife, born Annfield Plain, Durham:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/11/1871

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Samuel Maullin, landlord of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, was summoned for permitting gaming in his house on the 31st ult.

George Yates said on the night in question he went to defendant’s house in company with a man named William Purcell. Witness noticed some men shuffling a lot of cards on the table.

Mr. Spooner: Did you see anyone playing at cards? – Witness: I did not.

Mr. Spooner: Now, I give you warning that I shall take down what you say, and if I find that you have mentioned to anyone that you saw card-playing going on in the house, I shall have you indicted for perjury.

Witness went on to say that he was assaulted in defendant’s house, and he at once went and gave information to Inspector McWilliams of the fact. He did not tell the inspector that he had seen card-playing at defendant’s house. He could not exactly remember what he told the inspector.

Mr. Spooner ordered the witness to be kept in custody pro tem.

William Purcell, labourer, said he went to defendant's house, in company with the witness Yates, on the night in question. He did not see any card-playing.

Mr. Spooner: I ask you were there any cards upon the table at the time you entered the house? – Witness: No, there was not.

Mr. Spooner said the police might justifiably prosecute the witnesses for perjury.

Chief-Superintendent McRea said he thought further evidence could be produced respecting the gambling.

Mr. Spooner said the witness had committed direct perjury, and he should order a summons to be issued against him for having committed deliberate perjury. With respect to the defendant, the case would be adjourned, in order that further evidence might be produced, as the police thought that more evidence would be forthcoming."

County Express 26/2/1876

"Enoch Boaler, landlord of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston, was charged with permitting drunkenness upon his premises on the 12th and 15th February. Mr. C. Barrow, of Wolverhampton, defended.

In connection with the second charge a man named Loans stated that on the 15th inst, after he had a 'sup' of drink he went to the defendant's house, when was supplied with drink. From that house he was taken by the police and locked up on the charge of drunkenness and convicted.

Mr. Spooner thought that the case arose in a measure through jealousy, and under the circumstances he only convicted upon the second charge and fined the defendant £1 and costs."

Dudley Herald 16/9/1876

"Isaiah Emery, beerhouse keeper, GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston was fined 10s and costs for keeping his house open until twelve minutes after eleven o'clock on Friday last."

Dudley Herald 30/9/1876

"Adjourned Licensing Meeting at Bilston.....

Mr. A. J. Langman applied on behalf of Isaiah Emery, GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston, for a renewal of his certificate. Emery had only been in occupation a month, and had already been convicted of selling in improper hours, but the Bench believed he had erred from ignorance, and fined him only 10s and costs. Mr. Hatton said the house had been badly conducted for two years past. There was a piano in the front shop, and the music was the means of attracting many bad characters to the house. If the applicant would undertake to stop the music during the next twelve months the certificate would be renewed. On an undertaking to this effect being given, the licence was renewed."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/2/1877

"Wolverhampton County Court. Emery v Starkey.

This case, which has been before the Court several times, was called on again. Mr. Plumptre (instructed by Mr. Clayton, of Wolverhampton) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Hugo Young, of the Midland Circuit (instructed by Mr. Jacob Rowlands, of Birmingham) defended.

The plaintiff, Mr. Isaiah Emery, of Bilston, agreed to sell to the defendant, Mr. Charles Starkey, of Pelsall, his coal dealing business for the sum of £25, to be paid within a certain time. A process-server named Charles Bicknall, of Walsall, hearing of the transaction, went to the plaintiff, and asked to be allowed to collect the money, which had not then been paid. Plaintiff, however, refused, saying that Mr. A. J. Langman, solicitor, of Bilston, did all his business. Bicknall afterwards, he alleged, at the direction of the plaintiff, issued a writ against the defendant for the amount owing, and accepted £15 in settlement of the account. The plaintiff, not acknowledging Bicknall's authority, put in an execution, and the matter afterwards came before this Court, by issue from the High Court of Justice, to ascertain whether the plaintiff gave Bicknall authority to settle the account.

The case on the previous hearings was argued at some length by counsel, who cited several cases bearing upon it. Plaintiff also stated that he did not give Bicknall authority to settle the case. The hearing was then adjourned till today for the presence of Bicknall, who had been twice previously fined £5 for not appearing to give evidence, and had failed to attend. He now stated that he received instructions from the plaintiff to settle the account with the defendant for what he could get.

His Honour said he was fully convinced that the plaintiff had committed wilful and corrupt perjury, and the only question upon which he had some hesitation was whether he ought not to commit him to take his trial for the offence. If there had been a good witness to corroborate the evidence of Bicknall he should have certainly committed plaintiff for trial. His Honour then gave a verdict for the defendant."

London Gazette 27/2/1877

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Isaiah Emery, of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Beer Retailer and Beer Brewer.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. John Glover, No.66, Park-street, Walsall, in the county of Stafford, on the 13th day of March, 1877, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 22nd day of February, 1877.

John Glover, Solicitor for the said Debtor."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/3/1877

"A meeting of the creditors of Isaiah Emery, of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston, beer retailer and brewer, was held on Tuesday, at the offices of Mr. Glover, solicitor, Walsall. Mr. C. Cox, maltster, presided.

The statement of accounts showed liabilities £762 7s 5d, assets £80.

An offer of a composition of 1s in the pound was made, but it was refused, and the meeting separated without coming to any decision."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/3/1877

"Bilston Police Court. Yesterday.....

Isaiah Emery, late landlord of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, was fined £1 and costs, and the conviction ordered to be endorsed upon the license, for permitting drunken and riotous conduct there on the 17th."

Wellington Journal 21/4/1877

"Wolverhampton. Hayward v Parkes.

This was an action tried at the County Court, on Tuesday last, in which Mr. Henry Hayward, pianoforte dealer, Queen Street, Wolverhampton, sought to recover from Mr. Parkes, colliery proprietor and brick manufacturer, of Bloxwich Road, Walsall, damages for trover and conversion of a piano belonging to the plaintiff.

It appeared from the evidence adduced that the piano, which was valued at about £30, was lent on hire by the plaintiff to Mr. Isaiah Emery, of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Bilston, at the rate of 10s 6d per month, and was by him assigned, by virtue of a bill of sale, to the defendant. In February last, Emery filed his petition for liquidation, and the defendant took possession, under his bill of sale, of his goods, including the piano in question. When this came to plaintiff's knowledge, he at once sent and demanded the piano, but defendant refused to give it up, and sold it by auction on the 19th of March last for £14; hence the present proceedings.

For the defence, it was contended that the plaintiff had sold the piano to Emery, but this was denied.

After hearing the evidence his Honour was of opinion that the plaintiff's case was made out, and gave a verdict for the plaintiff for £28 damages, and costs."

The license was taken away in 1877.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/9/1877

"The annual licensing sessions for the Bilston division were held at the Public Office, Bilston, yesterday.....

The black list was as follows Beersellers.....

Isaiah Emery, GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, Bilston, open after hours, 12th September, 1876, 10s and costs, and on 23rd March, for permitting disorderly conduct, 20s and costs and license endorsed. There were also two convictions against the former landlord of this house during 1876.....

The whole of the licenses in the 'black list,' it was stated, would be held over until the adjourned sessions, and in the cases of Isaiah Emery Mr. H. Ward said the bench had very serious thoughts about withholding the licenses."

Birmingham Daily Post 22/9/1877

"Bilston Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

There was not appearance for the renewal of the license of the GLADSTONE ARMS, Oxford Street, recently held by Isaiah Emery, against whom several convictions were recorded, and the license was ordered to be withdrawn."

GLOBE

59, (79), Ash Street / Lane Street, (Upper) Bradley, (Daisy Bank), (Highfield), BILSTON

OWNERS

James Lane

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. (acquired in 1897) [1921]

LICENSEES

James Lane [1861] – 1878);

Isaac Whitehouse (1878 – 1881);

Ephraim Hill (1881 – 1885);

Joseph James Lane (1885 – 1891);

Mrs. Ellen (Lane) Wallace (1891 – 1906);

Samuel Cotton (1906 – 1907);

Thomas Millington (1907 – 1908);

Geoffrey Goodall (1908 – 1910);

Alfred Pountney (1910 – 1911);

Silas Eaves (1911 – 1920);

Eliza (Eaves) Nesbitt (1920 – 1936);

John Edward Pountney (1936 – 1937);

Annie Cole Bowdler (1937 – 1938);

Mrs. Hannah Bradley (1938 – [1940])

A J Emery [1988]

Glen Smith [1994]

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

79, Ash Street [1871]

59, Ash Street [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1911], [1921], [1936]

It had a beerhouse license.

James Lane, beer retailer and blacksmith, Bradley. [1861]

1861 Census

Highfields

[1] James Lane (52), publican and blacksmith, born Sedgley;

[2] Martha Lane (50), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Joseph J. Lane (22), son, blacksmith, born Belgium, British subject;

[4] Daniel Lane (20), son, blacksmith, born Belgium, British subject;

[5] Prudence Lane (18), daughter, servant, born Sedgley;

[6] Samuel Lane (15), son, blacksmith, born Sedgley;

[7] Theodosia Lane (11), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;

[8] Selina Lane (9), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;

James Lane, beer retailer, Highfields, Bradley. [1865]

James Lane, beer retailer and blacksmith, Upper Bradley. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

79, Ash Street – Public House

- [1] James Lane (62), retail brewer and engine smith employing 2 men, born Sedgley;
- [2] Martha Lane (60), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Theodosia Lane (20), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [4] Selina Lane (18), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [5] Ann Walters (13), general servant, born Sedgley:

James Lane died in 1882.

Theodosia and Selina Lane took over the grocery shop.

Martha Lane died in 1890.

Black Country Bugle 16/8/2001

'More on the Globe and the Fox of Bradley' by Jeff Lane

".....regarding Bradley pubs, particularly the GLOBE INN and the FOX. The former was built by my great great grandfather, James Lane, some time between 1861 and 1864. At the same time he built 5 terraced houses and a foundry in Lane Street. Only the GLOBE still stands – the remaining buildings have long since gone or form part of a new factory. When these buildings were originally built there was a barrier erected across the street and tradesmen wanting entrance had to obtain the key from the GLOBE.

James was something of an entrepreneur. He was originally a blacksmith who travelled to Belgium with his family in the 1840s, working on the building of bridges in Bruges James had moved to Church Street in Wolverhampton by 1881 with his wife Martha and daughter Selina. He died there in 1883. The GLOBE, which at that time also included a grocery shop, was then run by his son Joseph James Lane. It was sold to Banks's Breweries in 1897....."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/8/1878

"Early on Tuesday morning, Police-constable Wade, stationed at Ettingshall, was informed that a small wooden box containing the body of a newly-born female child had been got out of the canal near at hand by a boatman. The officer went to the place indicated, and found that the information was correct. The body awaits an inquest at the GLOBE INN."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/9/1878

"The Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Isaac Whitehouse, of the GLOBE INN, Highfields, Bradley, applied personally for a license to sell foreign wines. There being no opposition, the application was granted."

1881 Census

Ash Street

- [1] Isaac Whitehouse (30), publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Anne Whitehouse (27), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Florence Whitehouse (6), daughter, scholar, born Sedgley;
- [4] Walter Whitehouse (2), son, born Sedgley;
- [5] Hannah Whitehouse (1), daughter, born Sedgley;
- [6] Elizabeth Ebbs (15), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

Evening Express 3/5/1881 - Advert

"To be Let, the GLOBE INN, Daisy Bank, near Bilston.

Apply on the Premises."

TO be Let, the Globe Inn, Daisy Bank, near Bilston.—Apply on the Premises.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/10/1881

"The following transfers were granted.....

GLOBE INN, Highfield, from Isaac Whitehouse to Ephraim Hill, ironworker, Sedgley."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/1/1885 - Advert

“To Brewers, and Others.

A good Beerhouse, with wine license, to Let, known as the GLOBE INN, Highfields, Daisy Bank, near Bilston; immediate possession; surrounded by large works; large and convenient premises; good stabling; no brewing plant to take to; fixtures optional.

Apply to J. Lane, close to the premises.”

TO Brewers, and Others.—A good Beerhouse, with wine license, to Let, known as the Globe Inn, Highfields, Daisy Bank, near Bilston: immediate possession; surrounded by large works; large and convenient premises; good stabling; no brewing plant to take to; fixtures optional.—Apply to J. Lane, close to the premises.

Joseph James Lane died on 20th March 1891.

1891 Census

59, Ash Street

- [1] Ellen Lane (50), widow, grocer and beerhouse, born Sedgley;
- [2] Prudence Lane (19), daughter, born Daisy Bank;
- [3] Selina Lane (14), daughter, born Daisy Bank;
- [4] David Wootton (26), son-in-law, blacksmith, born Darlaston;
- [5] Hannah E. Wootton (25), wife, born Daisy Bank;
- [6] David Wootton (1), son, born Daisy Bank:

David and Hannah Wootton – see COTTAGE SPRING, High Street, Tipton.

Ellen Lane married Samuel Wallace on 2nd August 1894.

Mrs. Ellen Lane, beer retailer and shopkeeper, 59, Ash Street, Bradley. [1896]

Ellen Wallace = Ellen Wallis

Ellen Wallace was convicted on 24th March 1896 of two cases of permitting gaming on licensed premises.

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/3/1896

“Ellen Wallis, of the GLOBE INN, Ash Street, Bradley, was charged with allowing gaming on her licensed premises. She pleaded guilty, and was fined 20s and costs.”

1901 Census

59, Ash Street

- [1] Ellen Wallace (60), widow, publican, born Sedgley;
- [2] Selina Pardoe (24), daughter, born Bradley;
- [3] Thomas H. Pardoe (24), son-in-law, ironmonger's assistant, born Birmingham;
- [4] Elizabeth Bentley (20), domestic servant, born Tipton:

Mrs. Ellen Wallace, beer retailer, 59, Ash Street, Bradley. [1904]

1911 Census

59, Ash Street

- [1] Silas Eaves (40), shingler, born Coseley;
- [2] Eliza Eaves (39), wife, married 20 years, born Coseley;
- [3] Alice Eaves (18), daughter, domestic servant, born Coseley;
- [4] Florrie Eaves (16), daughter, domestic servant, born Coseley;
- [5] Elsie Eaves (13), daughter, born Coseley;
- [6] Silas Eaves (6), son, born Coseley;
- [7] Lizzie Lees (17), domestic servant, born Coseley:

1920 Probate

“Silas Eaves, of GLOBE INN, Bradley, Coseley, Staffordshire, died 28 December 1919. Administration Lichfield 31 January to Eliza Eaves, widow. Effects £202 1s.”

1921 Census

59, Ash Street – GLOBE INN

- [1] Eliza Eaves (48), widow, manageress, born Bilston;
- [2] Silas Eaves (15), iron worker, born Bilston;
- [3] Robert Reynolds (30), son-in-law, boarder, iron moulder, born Bilston;
- [4] Alice Reynolds (28), daughter, boarder, household duties, born Bilston;
- [5] Robert Reynolds (6), grand-son, boarder, school, born Birmingham;
- [6] Joseph Reynolds (7 months), grand-son, boarder, born Bilston;
- [7] James Harris (56), brother, boarder, safe maker, born Bilston;
- [8] Harry Jones (31), boarder, iron moulder, born Willenhall;
- [9] Robert Bullock (42), boarder, iron worker, born Sandbach, Cheshire:

Eliza Eaves married Albert B. Nesbitt in the 2nd quarter of 1922.

South Staffordshire Times 24/6/1922

“Alfred Stanley Crane, who gave his age as 17, but who looked much younger, and who lives at hut 11, Lord Street, Bradley, was charged with stealing a bicycle and an electric lighting set, value £5, the property of Alfred R. Lloyd, bookkeeper at Messrs. Alfred Hickman Ltd., Springvale.

Prosecutor stated that he left the bicycle and lighting set outside his office at the works, but about half an hour afterwards he missed it. Prisoner had been employed at the works.

Silas Eaves, GLOBE INN, Daisy Bank, said he saw prisoner with a bicycle and an electric lighting set, he offered to exchange them for an acetylene lamp.

Detective Constable Thorpe said that on June 13th he made enquiries about the bicycle and lighting set from the last witness. On June 17th he recovered the lighting set from the last witness. Continuing his enquiries he traced prisoner to Wolverhampton, Willenhall, and Darlaston, but afterwards heard that he had absconded. He was arrested at Northampton with the bicycle in his possession. Subsequently, witness took prisoner into custody. On being charged with the theft he admitted it saying that he took the bicycle to try to get a job on a farm.

Prosecutor said he did not wish to press the case.

Prisoner was then bound over for twelve months.”

1936 Probate

“Eliza Nesbitt, of the GLOBE INN, 59 Ash Street, Bradley, near Bilston, Staffordshire (wife of Albert Nesbitt) died 13 January 1936. Probate Birmingham 29 April to Silas Eaves, mill worker. Effects £34 13s.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/8/1936

“Allen Poutney, aged six, of the GLOBE INN, Ash Street, Bradley, died in the Royal Hospital, Wolverhampton, yesterday, shortly after he was admitted with head injuries and multiple abrasions. It was stated he was knocked down by a motor-lorry.”

1939 Register

Ash Street – GLOBE INN

- [1] Hannah Bradley, date of birth 25/6/1880, licensee, widowed;
- [2] May E. Thomas, dob 19/11/1910, unpaid domestic duties, divorced:

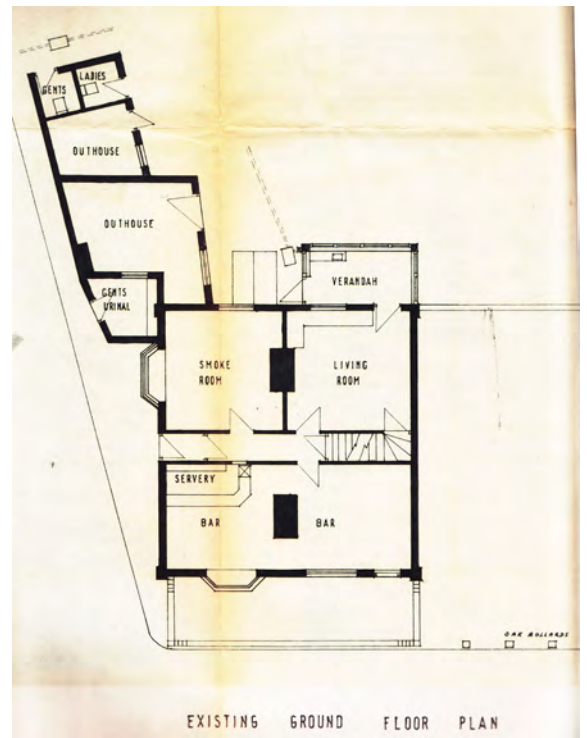

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

It closed in April 1995.

It became Globe House, paint supplies. [2002]

2007

Plans1983

GLOBE TAVERN

Market Street, (Hall Street), BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Richard Morgan [1833] – [1837]
Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan [1839] – 1841)
Charles and Mary Morgan [1841] – [1843]
Thomas Manning [1845] – [1854]
James Manning [] – 1854); Emma Whitehead (1854 – []

NOTES

Hall Street [1833], [1835], [1835], [1841], [1843], [1849], [1851]
Market Street [1854]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/5/1834 - Advert

“Additional donations on behalf of John Oakley.....
Collected at the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, 14s.”

[John Oakley was an ostler at the CROWN AND CUSHION, Dudley Street, Wolverhampton. Two miners, when refused service, threw a barrel of gunpowder on the fire, which Oakley managed to pull off before it could explode.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/4/1835 - Advert

“Copyhold Houses and Mining Land in Bilston, within the Manor of Stowheath.

To be Sold by Auction, by B. Chesshire, at the SWAN HOTEL, Wolverhampton, on Wednesday, May 6, 1835, at three o'clock in the afternoon (by virtue of an order of the Court of Review in the matter of George Elwell Jackson, a bankrupt).....

Lot V. The GLOBE TAVERN, situate in Hall Street, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. Richard Morgan. This is a very roomy House, has excellent Cellars, and is well situated for business.”

Richard Morgan died on 8th May 1837.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/5/1837 - Died

“On Monday last, aged 65, Mr. Richard Morgan, of the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/5/1837

“On Monday week, as Mr. Morgan, of the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, who had for some time been confined by serious illness, was taking a drive in company with Mr. Whitehead for the benefit of his health, the horse in the phaeton became unmanageable, and ran one of the wheels of the vehicle against a post near to the Methodist chapel in that town. Both gentlemen were, in consequence, thrown out with considerable violence. After the accident Mr. Morgan walked to Mr. Whitehead's, and thence home, where in about half an hour he became insensible, and died the same evening about eight o'clock. Mr. E. Best, his medical attendant, who was instantly sent for, attributed his decease to pressure on the brain, occasioned by the concussion from the fall. Mr. Whitehead, although he was thrown out first, and fell undermost, escaped with little injury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/6/1839

“Mr. W. Smith Bickley, of Bilston, charged Mr. Best, coach proprietor, of that place, with assaulting him. Complainant said he was at Mrs. Morgan’s, of the GLOBE TAVERN, on the 1st of June, and Mr. Best was there. As they were leaving the house defendant collared him, tore his waistcoat, and gave him a black eye. It was between one and two o’clock in the morning.

Mr. Best said in extenuation that Mrs. Morgan had tried in vain to get Mr. Bickley out of the house, and that his (Mr. Best’s) assistance was solicited. It was in endeavouring to do this that the assault took place. Both himself and Mr. Bickley, he said, were the worse for liquor at the time. Mr. Best was fined 5s and costs.”

Birmingham Journal 27/3/1841 - Deaths

“On the 15th inst, much regretted, Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan, of the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, aged 72.”

1841 Census

Hall Street

- [1] Mary Morgan (35), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Charles Morgan (30), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah Hood (40), ind., born Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Bullock (15), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/4/1843 - Advert

“Desirable Opportunity For Investment.

To be Disposed of, the Goodwill and Possession of that old established and well accustomed Public House, situate in Hall Street, Bilston, known as the GLOBE TAVERN, the present occupiers being about to decline the public business.

The Stock, Fixtures, &c, to be taken to at a valuation. The coming-in will be low.

Every information may be obtained by applying to M. and C. Morgan, at the above house.”

Birmingham Journal 2/10/1847 - Advert

“Valuable Property, in Lichfield Street and Bow Street, in Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by W. Parkes on Monday, the 4th day of October, 1847, at the house of Mr. Thomas Manning, known by the name of the GLOBE TAVERN, subject to conditions then to be produced.....”

1851 Census

Hall Street

- [1] Thomas Manning (49), victualler, born Oxfordshire;
- [2] Mary Manning (52), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harriet Griffiths (18), servant, born Llanasmona, North Wales:

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/4/1854 - Deaths

“On the 18th instant, aged 53, Mr. Thomas Manning, of the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, much regretted.”

GLOBE

4, (5), Mount Pleasant, (Willenhall Road), BILSTON

OWNERS

Thomas Price
Thomas Bromhill
Mary Ann Smith, Chorley Hall, near Lichfield
William Francis Clarke
Bent's Brewery Co. Ltd, 30, Johnson Street, Liverpool [1904], [1925]

LICENSEES

G W Webber [1855] – [1858]
E Mason* [1859]
Enoch Meachem* [1860] – [1862]
Thomas Price [1864] – 1877;
Thomas Bromhill (1877 – 1882);
Henry Baker (1882 – 1885);
William Francis Clarke (1885 – 1896);
Stephen Allen Corbett (1896 – 1899);
William Nathaniel Cottrell (1899 – 1900);
Edward Salter Nickson (1900 – 1902);
Alfred Guest (1902 – 1904);
James Walters (1904 – 1917);
James Newton Cowling (1917 – 1923);
William Austin Fair (1923 – 1930);
David Fisher (1930 – 1939);
John McArdle (1939 – [])
Mrs. Mildred E Bamber [1940]
Henry 'Harry' Southall Owen [1962]

NOTES

4, Mount Pleasant [1861], [1871]
5, Mount Pleasant [1881], [1911], [1921], [1939]

GLOBE TAVERN [1858]
GLOBE HOTEL [1884], [1904], [1908], [1916], [1921], [1932]

It was situated next door to the police station.
It was almost opposite the Theatre Royal.

It was known locally as "The Gluepot".

Bankruptcy hearings were held here.

Pub Token

T H E G L O B E I N N ,
M O U N T P L E A S A N T , B I L S T O N .
T O B E S O L D B Y A U C T I O N .

BY Mr. JABEZ MORRELL, at the Lion Hotel, Church Street, Bilston, on MONDAY, the 25th day of June inst., at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then read—all that valuable Old PUBLIC HOUSE and Premises, known as the "GLOBE INN," situate near adjoining the Police Station, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Enoch Meachem, at the low annual rent of £30.

The House and Premises consist of Entrance Hall, Lobby, front Parlour, front Tap Room, back Parlour, Bar, eight sleeping Rooms, Cooking Kitchen, Brewhouse, five Cellars, Warehouse, with Room over, a four-stall Stable, Coach-house, Piggeries, Bowling Alley, and large Garden. The back Premises are approached by a carriage road, with folding doors.

The Property is Copyhold of Inheritance of the Manor of Stow-heath, and may be enfranchised at a moderate outlay.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Thomas Bolton, Solicitor, Wolverhampton; or the Auctioneer, Bilston.

1860

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/11/1845

“On Thursday morning last, between three and four o’clock, a woman named Sarah Bowlar was brought to the Bilston police station by a man who told police officer Worsey, then on duty, that she was ill. She sat by the fire, and after she had warmed herself Worsey recommended her to go to the CROWN public house, where she could have a bed. She appeared to be in pain, and Worsey thought she was in labour. She left, but in about ten minutes returned, and upon being admitted produced a dead child in a blue handkerchief. She said it was all over (meaning her delivery) in a few minutes, and that it happened on the road. Worsey made her some tea, and she then informed him that she had travelled from Ellesmere in the course of the day, and was on the road to Portobello, where she had a sister living. An inquest was held at the GLOBE, at Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, on Friday last, when Mr. Dickenson, surgeon, having stated that the child was still-born, a verdict to that effect was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/7/1846

“On Monday last, an inquest was held at the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, on the body of Edward Evan, a banksman, about 30 years of age, who met with his death on Saturday last by falling down a coalpit in Mr. Smith’s field, in Coseley Row, Bilston. It appeared by the evidence of a man named Davis, that as the deceased was running a bowk of bricks along a railway on the bank towards the pit, the bowk and bricks fell down, pulling the deceased with it. He was brought up in a few minutes afterwards quite dead. Verdict Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 1/8/1846

“The Globe Lodge of Ancient Free Gardeners, No.380, held their second anniversary dinner at the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, on Thursday last, when the chair was ably filled by William M. Hancox, Esq, the surgeon to the lodge; the vice-chair being filled by GM Thomas Fieldhouse. The day was spent in the most pleasant manner, the meeting being enlivened with many excellent songs, and the members keeping in mind that great moral maxim, the basis of their order, of ‘doing unto others as they would wish others to do unto them.’”

Birmingham Journal 11/11/1848

“An inquest was held at the GLOBE INN, Bilston, on Monday last, on the body of Thomas Pooley, a miner, who was killed by falling down a pit, near the Willenhall Road. The deceased was banksman, and having missed his hold, fell backwards down the pit. He was so dreadfully injured that his brains were brought home in a handkerchief. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 3/11/1855 - Advert

“Malt Crushers.

Parties requiring Malt Crushers would do well before purchasing to inspect those made by Richard Thompson, Pot House Bridge Foundry, Bilston, Staffordshire.

They can be seen at work at the following places.....

Mr. Webber’s, GLOBE INN, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/8/1859

“At the Public Office, on Tuesday, John Lee, Joseph Davies, George Solloway, Samuel Vernon, George Brookes, and Samuel Davies, were brought before J. N. Bagnall, Esq, charged with assaulting John Moore, in the highway at Bilston, and stealing from him 14s and a cap. The prosecutor was a miner, and on Saturday night last had been spending the evening at the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, of which his doggy, E. Mason is landlord. He left at midnight, and on his way retired for a few minutes down a back street leading out of Dudley Street. As he was returning to Dudley Street he saw the six prisoners approaching him, and as soon as they came up to him Lee knocked him down, and the other prisoners attacked him, taking 14s from his pocket, and also carrying off his billycock hat. As soon as he could, after they left him, he got up, and met police sergeant Smith, who, obtaining assistance, went in the direction taken by the ruffians. Meeting another policeman near Hallfields, who had met the gang, they succeeded in coming up with them and capturing four. Samuel Davis and Brooks managed to get away, but were afterwards taken. Mr. Shipman appeared for Lee, Solloway, and Brookes, who had made statements clearly identifying them with the attack upon the prosecutor. All the prisoners were committed for trial at the Assizes.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 21/10/1859

“Staffordshire October Sessions.....

John Lee, Joseph Davis, George Salloway, Samuel Vernon, George Brooks, and Samuel Davis were charged with unlawfully assaulting John Moore, and stealing from his person, at Bilston, the sum of 14s, his property. The prosecution was conducted by Mr. Jenkins, and the prisoners were defended by Mr. Kenealy.

The facts of the case, which occupied between four and five hours in its investigation, were briefly these.

On the night of the 20th of August last, the prosecutor, a miner, was in Bilston, and was returning home between twelve and one o'clock in the morning, when he was met by six men in Dudley Street or Star Lane, who knocked him down, and kicked him in the body and face, and then robbed him of 14s from his left-hand trousers pocket. After obtaining his money they went away, and he got up and gave information to the police of the robbery. About the same time Police-officer Hackett met the prisoners in Dudley Street; and they were singing and making a noise, and almost immediately after he saw the prosecutor; blood was running down his face, and he was without his billycock hat. In the company of the prosecutor and other officers, he then went in the direction of Highfields, where they overtook the prisoners, and the prosecutor at once identified them as the parties who had assaulted him, and the prisoner Lee as the one who took the money from his pocket.

Lee Salloway, Vernon, and Joseph Davis were apprehended, and conveyed at once to the Police Station, and whilst there, in the temporary absence of the officer, Lee and Vernon changed their coats. On being charged with the robbery, Lee said he had not been at the place that night; but Vernon replied, ‘If there is anything in the b—— job, it is us that’s done it.’ On being apprehended, Brooks, and Samuel Davis denied any knowledge of it, but afterwards said they saw the other four men knock the prosecutor down and kick him, and that they left because they would have nothing to do with it.

The prosecutor was cross-examined at some length. He denied he had ever offered to make the matter up if money was given to him; that he never said he knew the man who robbed him from his wearing a short-sleeve jacket; and that he had not been in a house of ill-fame in Bilston prior to the robbery.

Some strong observations were made by Mr. Kenealy with reference to the omission, before the Justices, by a police-officer named Smith, of evidence which he volunteered on the present occasion; in answer to which the officer said he had stated before the Justices sufficient to secure the conviction of the prisoners, and was not asked anything further. On being searched, 6s 8½d was found in the pockets of Lee, and 11s 8d on Joseph Davis.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Kenealy spoke with considerable warmth on the conduct of police-officer Smith, which he denounced as unfair to his clients, and detrimental to the best interests of the community.

The learned counsel then called Eliza Lee, mother of the prisoner John Lee, who deposed that the prosecutor came to her in the morning before the prisoners were committed, and offered to make the matter up if the parents of the accused would each give him 6s, and that he said in reply to her that he knew the man who robbed him from his having worn at the time a short-sleeve flannel jacket. She further added that her son never had such a garment.

Edward Vernon, brother of the prisoner Vernon, gave similar evidence, and added that the prosecutor treated him and others with a quart of ale in a public house, when he offered to compromise the charge.

Hannah Evans, a girl between 16 and 17 years of age, who in the course of her cross-examination admitted that she had a child by the prisoner Holloway, himself only 16, deposed that she was in an entry in Dudley Street, early in the morning of the 21st of August, when she heard a man threaten to turn another out of doors. The other shouted that he would not go until the 14s was returned to him, and immediately afterwards a woman pushed the prosecutor out of the house, and he fell on the causeway. He then asked for his hat, and she struck him on the face and scratched it. At the time she heard the prisoners at the bottom of the street, singing ‘We won’t go home till morning.’

Richard Hall, a puddler, said he saw a man lying in the street between twelve and one in the morning, whom he shook, and who immediately got up, knocked him down, and ran off with his cap, with which he went into a house in Dudley Street, and whilst trying to obtain possession of his property the prisoners came up and were arrested by the police officers.

This was the evidence for the defence, and on the prosecutor being re-called, he stoutly denied the truth of any of the allegations made.

The learned Counsel for the prosecution then addressed the Jury on the whole case, and after a careful summing up by the learned Chairman, the Jury returned a verdict of guilty against all the prisoners.

A former conviction or felony, in February last, was proved by Mr. Chidley, against Lee, who was sentenced to six years’ penal servitude, and the other prisoners were each sentenced to four years’ penal servitude. Immediately after delivering sentence, the Chairman said that the Court also directed that Eliza Lee, Edward Vernon, and Harriet Evans should be immediately arrested, and an indictment for wilful and corrupt perjury preferred against them. The three witnesses were at once taken into custody on the charge.”

[In December 1859, at the Staffordshire Winter Assizes, Eliza Lee and Hannah Evans were charged with perjury. They were found guilty; Lee was sentenced to eighteen months and Evans, who the jury recommended to mercy on account of her age, sentenced to six months. The Grand Jury returned no bill against Edward Vernon and he was discharged.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/11/1859

“On Wednesday Mr. Thomas Hawkswood, formerly manager of Messrs. Hickman’s provision shop, committed suicide by hanging himself in his own house, in Brides Row, Cold Lanes, Bilston. About three months ago he was discharged from his situation owing to some misunderstanding unconnected with the performance of his duties. Since then he has been out of a situation. About mid-day on Wednesday he was in the town, accompanied by his wife, whom, shortly after his return home, he sent out on some errand or another. When she came back, not finding him downstairs, she went into the bed-room, and there found him suspended by a bridle rein to one of the bed-posts. The unhappy man was cut down, and bled by Mr. Larkin, surgeon, who was shortly in attendance, but although the blood flowed, life proved to be extinct.

An inquest was held on the body on Friday last, at the GLOBE INN, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, when it was stated that the unhappy deceased had been under medical treatment for a fortnight before his death, and that his medical attendant had intimated that it was necessary he should be carefully watched. The Jury found that he had destroyed himself while in a state of Temporary Insanity. The deceased has left a wife and seven children.”

*possibly the same person

Enoch Meachem = Enoch Meacham = Enoch Meatcham = Enoch Mechem

Birmingham Journal 9/6/1860 - Advert

“The GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Jabez Morrell, at the LION HOTEL, Church Street, Bilston, on Monday, the 25th day of June inst, at Six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then read.

All that valuable Old Public House and Premises, known as the GLOBE INN, situate near adjoining the Police Station, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, now in the occupation of Mr. Enoch Meachem, at the low annual rent of £30.

The House and Premises consist of Entrance Hall, Lobby, front Parlour, front Tap Room, back Parlour, Bar, eight Sleeping Rooms, Cooking Kitchen, Brewhouse, five Cellars, Warehouse, with Room over, a four-stall Stable, Coach-house, Piggeries, Bowling Alley, and large Garden. The back Premises are approached by a carriage road, with folding doors.

The Property is Copyhold of Inheritance of the Manor of Stowheath, and may be enfranchised at a moderate outlay. For further particulars apply to Mr. Thomas Bolton, Solicitor, Wolverhampton; or the Auctioneer, Bilston.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/1/1861 - Advert

“Lost, on January 2nd, between Swan Village and Bilston Railway Stations, a Box of Drawing Instruments. Whoever has found it, and will bring it to the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, shall receive 10s reward.”

LOST, on January 2nd, between Swan Village and Bilston Railway Stations, a BOX of DRAWING INSTRUMENTS. Whoever has found it, and will bring it to the Globe Inn, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, shall receive 10s. Reward.

1861 Census

4, Mount Pleasant – GLOBE TAVERN

- [1] Enoch Meachem (38), coal and iron miner and beer seller, born Bilston;
- [2] Sophia Meachem (32), wife, born Stourbridge;
- [3] Enoch Meachem (15), son, iron miner, born Monmore Green;
- [4] Harriet Meachem (11), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Esther Meachem (7), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [6] Thomas Meachem (4), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [7] David Meachem (2), son, born Bilston;
- [8] Noah Meachem (6 months), son, born Bilston;
- [9] Amy Meachem (70), mother, widow, born Bilston;
- [10] Joseph Smith (30), servant, locksmith, born Willenhall;
- [11] Priscilla Johnson (22), servant, born Bridgnorth;
- [12] John Ward (41), boarder, carpenter and joiner, born Stone, Worcestershire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/6/1861 - Advert

"Notice is Hereby Given that we, the under-signed, Enoch Meachem, Bilston, and Samuel Hartshorn, New Village, Butty Miners, have agreed, by mutual consent, to Dissolve Partnership from this date.

As witness our hands this 4th day of June, 1861.

Enoch Meachem, Samuel Hartshorn. Witness, James Jones."

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that we, the undersigned, ENOCH MEACHEM, Bilston, and SAMUEL HARTSHORN, New Village, Butty Miners, have agreed, by mutual consent, to DISSOLVE Partnership from this date.—As witness our hands this 4th day of June, 1861.
ENOCH MEACHEM,
SAMUEL HARTSHORN.
Witness, JAMES JONES.

London Gazette 5/12/1862

"This is to give notice, that the Court acting in the prosecution of a Petition for adjudication of Bankruptcy, filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, on the 17th day of September, 1862, by Enoch Meachem, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper and Chartermaster, did, on the 26th day of November, 1862, grant the Discharge of the said Enoch Meachem and that such Discharge will be delivered to the bankrupt, unless an appeal be duly entered against the judgment of the Court, and notice thereof be given to the Court."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/12/1862 - Advert

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District.

Notice is hereby given that an Order of Discharge was granted to Enoch Meachem, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper and Charter Master, on the 26th day of November last.

William Henry Duignan, Solicitor of the said Enoch Meachem."

Birmingham Journal 18/7/1863 - Advert

"Mount Pleasant, Bilston. Important Sale of Valuable Freehold Building Land.

Mr. Thomas Lloyd has been favoured with instructions to Offer for Sale by Auction, on Monday Next, July the 20th, at the GLOBE TAVERN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions of sale....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/5/1865

"Yesterday, the adjourned inquest was held in the GLOBE INN, Willenhall Road, Bilston, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, Deputy Coroner, on the body of Ellis Richardson, who died on Sunday, under the circumstances related in Wednesday's Gazette.

Three more witnesses were examined, who corroborated the evidence given on Tuesday.

Mr. F. A. Best, surgeon, who had made the post mortem examination, said the symptoms were those of inflammation of the bowels. He considered death to have been caused by rupture and inflammation of the bowels. The rupture, he thought, must have been caused by violence to the deceased, or that he had gone through some violent exercise. The jury after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Richard Wilkinson. The prisoner was at once committed on the Coroner's warrant, and was afterwards brought up at the Police Court, before Messrs. A. Sparrow and B. Whitehouse, and committed for manslaughter."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 24/7/1865

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

"Richard Wilkinson (23), labourer, was indicted for killing and slaying Ellis Richardson, on the 12th of May, at Bilston. Mr. Young, the counsel for the prosecution, intimated doubts of his ability to establish a case against the prisoner, and, with the consent of the Judge, called Mr. Best, surgeon, who stated that the death of the deceased might have been caused by over-exertion, and he could not say that it was the result of blows; the prisoner, it should be stated, having been charged with killing the deceased in a fight. This was the only evidence called, and the Jury, under the direction of the Judge found a verdict of acquittal."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/1/1867

"On Friday an adjourned inquest was held at the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, before Mr. T. M. Phillips, Coroner, on the body of a child, which was found on the 26th ult on a door-step in Wellington Street. When the child was found there were bruises on the head and face sufficient, according to the medical testimony, to have caused death. Since the inquest opened, however, a post mortem examination has been made by Mr. G. Malin, surgeon, who affirms that the child was still-born. The jury returned their verdict accordingly. It has not been ascertained to whom the infant belonged, although the police have made all possible inquiry."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/6/1868

"Yesterday, at Bilston Police Court, Thomas Price, landlord of the GLOBE TAVERN, Mount Pleasant, was summoned for assaulting Francis Beckett, a youth in the employ of Mr. Edwin Busby, tinman, Crown Street.

The complainant's statement was to the effect that on Friday last he was crossing a field belonging to the defendant, and as he was doing so Mr. Price came down the side of the pit bank, and, after telling him he was trespassing, pushed him into a pool of water that was near, and it was with great difficulty that he got out, the water being up to his neck.

In reply to the charge, the defendant stated that people were constantly trespassing in the field in question, and on the above day he saw the complainant crossing it. He went to him, and asked him to go back, but this he refused to do, and he then pushed him. The complainant returned it, and in the slight scuffle that ensued he fell into the water. Mr. Spooner, after hearing the evidence, said it was a most unjustifiable assault, and if the boy had been drowned the defendant would most assuredly have been charged with murder. He should hardly have believed such an assault would have been committed by a man in his position had he not heard the evidence; and he should impose a fine of £2 and costs."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/5/1869

"On Saturday an inquest was held at the GLOBE TAVERN INN, Bilston, by Mr. W. H. Phillips, Deputy Coroner, on the body of Matthew Chatterton, of Bilston Street, Hall Fields, a rifleman, who died on the previous day, in consequence of injuries received by a shot from a rifle, under circumstances already reported.

Jane Halcroft said that she lived near Bilston, and she identified the body the jury had seen as that of Matthew Chatterton. He was 42 years old, and was a tailor. She was with him when he died, and had been with him since he was wounded. He was sensible when she first saw him. He had the appearance of having been injured by a gun shot wound. She heard him say that he had not time to mark or put his colours out. He died at the house where he then lay at ten o'clock on the previous day. She had seen him the day he was injured, and he was perfectly sober. He was a teetotaller.

John Ward, a galvaniser, of Broad Street, Bilston, said he was a private in the Bilston Rifle Volunteer Company, and knew Chatterton as a member of the corps. He was also a member of the band, but sometimes carried a rifle, and used it. Witness was at the rifle range when deceased was injured. He asked witness to go to see the men shoot, and he did go, but did not take his gun with him. There were only two persons shooting; there was no firing before witness got there. Sergeant Mason sent deceased to the target. The flag was kept in the 'butt,' and witness went with him there. One of the men there named Jones put the red flag up. Deceased took the bucket from the mantlet to black the target, and he was doing that when he was shot. The danger signal was not up. He did not take the proper flag out with him when he went to the target, but left it in the mantlet. He did not make any remark about it. Witness heard a report and saw deceased fall in front of the target, and say, 'Oh, Lord, I am shot. Pick me up.' The bucket deceased had in his hand had dropped on the floor. The shot witness heard was the only one to his knowledge. He had never known deceased act as marker before.

Mr. Edridge asked whether if the deceased had taken the flag out, the men firing could have seen it at the firing point. Witness said that the men could have seen it.

Mr. Bowen explained that what the witness called a flag was a disc painted red, and fastened on a stick.

Mr. Fellows said that as soon as the disc was put out, it was a signal to cease firing. In answer to Mr. Bowen, the witness said that the disc was not out of the target all the time, and he also said that a man could be seen from the firing place if in front of the bull's eye.

Edward Jones, a file-cutter, of Bradley, and a private of the company, said he had been in nearly two years, and had had some experience in marking. Witness was going to fire after Feeney. Witness went to the mantlet at the side of the 'butt,' but deceased was near the target. He had the bucket and brush in his hand. He was going to black and white the target. He had just raised the brush, and was standing a little on the side of the bull's eye. His left hand was on the target, and he was standing upright. Witness heard a report, which seemed to come from the firing point, and deceased fell. Witness was five feet from the mantlet, but did not know firing was going to commence, or he should not have gone there. Deceased ought to have put a red disc out, but he had not received any instructions in witness's hearing. The disc was in the mantlet. Witness had always seen the marker take the red disc with him if there were riflemen on the range. Witness knew that it was the duty of the marker, but had not time to tell deceased so. The red disc was a signal of danger, and when it was removed the firers could commence firing. There were some shots on the target, but witness did not know how many. He did not think a man at the firing point would see another in front of the target, as the firing would be four hundred yards away, he kneeling and having one eye closed, and would therefore only see a certain object. Witness did not attach any blame to the man who fired. If there were any shot marks, or if the target wanted cleaning, then the marker would go towards it and clean it; but the firers did not know that it did want cleaning, or that deceased was going to it.

John Mason, sergeant instructor of the Bilston Company, said the range had only been used for firing since the 1st of May. It was the rule that the mantlet and the target should be fifteen yards apart. The mantlet was for the protection of the marker, and was in front of the butt. The disc was kept on one side of the mantlet, of which witness had the key. No firing was allowed unless witness was present. It was a class firing on Thursday, and on that day witness was going to instruct Feeney and others. Witness made arrangements with deceased to mark; he had been marking before on that day at the same target, and had marked about a dozen times before. In the morning he had occasion to use the disc. Witness instructed him not to come out of the mantlet unless the disc was answered from the firing place. Jones had the key to the mantlet in which the black and white was kept. It was not necessary on that occasion to obliterate the shots on the target. Witness did not know deceased was going to black it. The disc was not out, and witness considered it all clear, and gave orders to Feeney to fire. It would almost be impossible for a firer to see a man in front of the target, as the background was a dark one, and the deceased had a dark coat on. The disc was ten yards from the target, and witness explained, in answer to Mr. Edridge, that it could be seen because it was a different colour to the background. The deceased could not have been seen because his clothes were of the same colour as the background. If he had walked to the target, and not run, then the accident would not have happened. As soon as the men entered the mantlet witness told Feeney to fire, as the disc had not been shown. Witness then stooped down and took a black lead out of his pocket, and, on looking up, heard the report of the gun and saw Chatterton fall down.

The coroner asked witness if there was anything he could suggest to prevent accidents occurring. The witness suggested that the marker should wear red uniform, as that colour always signified danger, and could be more easily distinguished. The witness had never heard of a marker being hurt in marking.

The Coroner suggested that the seat in the mantlet should be so constructed that immediately a marker rose from it the signal should spring up and remain exposed until he again sat down.

In answer to a question put to witness as to why he selected the deceased, as he had only been in the company for such a short time, witness said that the man was the most intelligent one in the whole company. He thought that it was through his over-anxiousness to do his duty that he neglected to put the disc out, and thus the accident happened. In answer to further questions put to him, the witness said that there were notice-boards put in every suitable position about the grounds to caution people not to go on the range. He thought it was as good a 600-yards range, and in as good a position as any in England. When the deceased was struck he must have been in a stooping position.

James Blower, a member of the band of the company, said that he was coming down the range behind the firers at the time the accident happened. He knew Feeney was firing, and afterwards assisted to carry deceased away. Witness did not see the disc. If there was any blame to be attached to anyone, it was to the deceased, as he ought to have put out the disc. If anyone was going out of the mantlet the disc ought to be exhibited.

John Edwin Fellows, the captain of the company, said that deceased had been an enrolled member of the company only since January last, but a member of the band for some years. Witness considered the deceased was sufficiently experienced to act as marker, as he was a very careful man, and had been marking all the week. The butt and mantlet were at sufficient distances, and were constructed on the principle laid down by the War Office.

The Coroner asked Captain Burke, the adjutant to the battalion, if he had any remarks to make. Captain Burke said that he thought that the range was perfectly safe, and he also thought that the sergeant acted discreetly in placing the deceased in the position of marker, and thought that he was more fitted for that position than any one in the company. Captain Burke should have given deceased the place if he had been there.

This was the whole of the evidence, and the Coroner then summed up. He said that it was quite clear that the deceased died from a shot wound, and that that was occasioned by the firing of Sergeant Feeney. If they were satisfied that every precaution was used at the firing point, and that the deceased himself neglected his duty in approaching the target without putting up the disc, and that plenty of time was allowed him to do so, and that no fault was to be attached to anyone, then the verdict would be accidental death.

The father of the deceased was in the room, and said that he did not wish to say anything to the jury or to call any witnesses. He believed that it was from the fault of the deceased that the accident happened.

The jury then returned a verdict of Accidental Death, but the foreman (Mr. Williams) said that he thought it was very desirable for the markers at all rifle shooting ranges to be dressed in red clothes.

Captain Fellows said that he should be very glad to adopt the suggestion at the Bilston range."

1871 Census

4, Mount Pleasant – GLOBE

[1] Thomas Price (44), colliery proprietor and licensed victualler, born Beguildy, Radnorshire;

[2] Eleanor Price (47), wife, born Radnorshire;

[3] Sarah A. Price (18), daughter, born Bilston;

[4] William E. Price (16), son, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1872

“Thomas Perks, a carter, in the employ of Mr. H. Hall, grocer, of Willenhall, was yesterday charged, at the Bilston Petty Sessions, with assaulting Mr. Thomas Price, the landlord of the GLOBE INN, Bilston, and his wife, on Sunday night. It was elicited in evidence that late that evening the prisoner while on his return home called at the GLOBE INN, and demanded a pint of ale. Mr. Price told him that as it was the hour for closing he could not serve any refreshment. The prisoner upon this became abusive, and tried to force his way into the house. In so doing he damaged the door, tore Mrs. Price’s dress, broke Mr. Price’s gold watch-guard, and assaulted them both. Mr. Price eventually secured him, and gave him into custody. The prisoner was fined £2 and costs for the assault upon Mr. Price, 10s and costs for the assault upon his wife, and £5 12s for the damage he had occasioned. In default of payment he would be sent to prison for eleven weeks.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/1/1872

“Thomas Parkes, a carter, of Mount Pleasant, was fined 10s and costs for assaulting Thomas Price, landlord of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant; 40s and costs for assaulting the landlord’s wife; 20s and costs for wilfully damaging the house door by bursting the door open to obtain admittance into the house after the landlord had refused to admit him.”

Thomas Price was also a coalmaster of Willenhall Road. [1873]

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/9/1873

“C. Titley, forge roller, and W. Purslow, both of Bradley, were committed for trial on the charge of stealing £20 from the person of William Roper, Chartermaster, of Pipes Meadow. The parties were drinking together in the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, and prosecutor openly counted £20 from a sum of £47 he had with him, and put the £20 in a separate pocket. Soon after he missed it, and the landlady said she saw Purslow take the money from prosecutor’s pocket.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 14/10/1873

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The Grand Jury ignored the bill against William Purslow, on bail, charged with stealing £20, the moneys of William Roper, at Bilston.”

Thomas Price was also a colliery proprietor of Bunkers Hill [1874]

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/3/1876 - Advert

“The GLOBE INN, Bilston.

Desirable Freehold Licensed Inn, at Bilston, in the county of Stafford.

Mr. R. H. Harper has been favoured with instructions from Mr. Thomas Price to Offer for Sale by Public Auction, upon the Premises, on Tuesday, March 28, 1876, at six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then and there read.

All that valuable and genuine Freehold Old-Licensed House, known as the GLOBE INN, situate at Mount Pleasant, Bilston, together with the License, Goodwill, Fixtures, and immediate possession. The House and Premises are in thorough repair, and have recently been extended, situate on the main road to the important towns of Willenhall and Walsall, and joining the Public Office at which Petty Sessions are held on Tuesday and Friday in each week, and are most eligibly situated for a general and increasing trade.

The Premises stand on an area of upwards of 2,000 yards, and contain spacious Liquor Vaults, Bar, large Smokeroom, Clubroom, with Foresters Court attached, Ante-room, seven Bedrooms, Kitchen with cooking range, Brewhouse, extensive Cellaring, Gateway entrance to large yard, Stabling, Warehouses, Offices, large Garden, and requisite Outbuildings.

This house is not only adapted for its business capabilities, but is replete and comfortable as a residence. The Auctioneer calls special attention to this important property, as it is an opportunity rarely to be met with. The party purchasing will be required to take the stock-in-trade and effects at valuation. Part of the purchase money may remain. For further particulars and to view, apply to the Proprietor, J. W. Hall, Esq, Solicitor, or of the Auctioneer, all of Bilston. Auctioneer's Offices, 5, Market Street, Bilston."

Thomas Bromhill = Thomas Bramhill = Thomas Bramhall

Birmingham Daily Post 26/10/1878 - Advert

"Important Sale of a valuable Building Estate, situate at Mount Pleasant, Bilston, containing nearly twenty acres, with the Mines and Minerals thereunder, and fronting to the main road leading from Bilston to Willenhall, and to Colds Lane and streets leading thereout.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Charles Round, at the House of Mr. Thomas Bramhall, the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on Monday, November 11, 1878, at 5 for 6 o'clock in the evening....."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/11/1878

"By the magistrates on Tuesday, Jane Cook, domestic servant, employed by Thomas Bramhill, of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment, for having stolen £2 6s and various articles of wearing apparel, belonging to her employer. Prisoner had been in her situation only five weeks."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/1/1879

"The Free Breakfasts to Children at Bilston.

The free breakfast movement is now well developed and in full activity. Upwards of 2,200 breakfasts each week are given to ticket-holders, and practically a larger number are given after the ticket-holders have been satisfied to sundry hungry children who come unprovided with tickets.....

In the drill shed, at Mount Pleasant The porridge was at first, by the kind permission of Mr. Bramhill, of the GLOBE INN, and Chief-superintendent McCrea, cooked in coppers on their premises, but within the last few days a large copper has been fixed on part of the drill shed premises....."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/3/1879

"Nomination for the Board of Guardians Bilston.....

Thomas Bramhill, licensed victualler, Mount Pleasant."

[Thomas Bramhill was not elected.]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/7/1879

"This (Monday) morning, W. H. Phillips, Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on the body of the youth Samuel Chirm, who was killed at the pit of Mr. Richard Atkiss, of Bilston, on Friday. It appears the deceased was engaged at the bottom of the shaft, which is 22 yards deep, to hook the skips on to the pit rope, which is worked by a windlass. The skip is balanced by an iron ball 80lbs weight, attached to rod by a 'd' link and a screw nut. When the iron ball is at the bottom of the shaft the skip is at the top. Soon after the deceased had, early on Saturday morning, signalled for a skip to be drawn up, the banksman, David Owen, heard a splash at the bottom of the shaft. He descended the shaft, and there found that the nut of the 'd' link had become loose, and the iron ball had fallen into the sump. It is supposed that the weight in falling struck the head of the deceased and caused the fracture from which death ensued. Mr. Scott, the assistant inspector of mines, has since examined the pit and the machinery, but blames no one for the accident, though he suggests that the iron ball might be made more secure with an iron cotter. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased died from a fracture of the head, but how he sustained the injury there was no evidence to show."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/4/1880

"The following gentlemen have been elected to represent the township of Bilston as Guardians in the Wolverhampton Union.....

The rejected candidates are Thomas Bramhill."

County Advertiser 22/5/1880 - Advert

"Thursday, May 27th, 1880. Bilston. Extensive Sale of House and Business Properties.

Messrs. Sollom and Barnett respectfully announce their instructions to Offer for Sale by Auction, at the house of Mr. Bramhill, the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston upwards of 50 Houses and other Properties in the town of Bilston....."

1881 Census

5, Mount Pleasant – GLOBE INN

[1] Thomas Bramhill (43), publican, born Doncaster;

[2] Susan Bramhill (44), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Sarah Ann Bramhill (17), daughter, born Leeds;

[4] Thomas Brookes (5), nephew, scholar, born Sheffield;

[5] Mary Holcroft (18), domestic servant, born Bilston:

London Gazette 3/5/1881

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Bramhill, of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Engineer and Licensed Victualler.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of S. Pearman Smith and Son, King's-chambers, Dudley-street, Wolverhampton, in the county of Stafford, on the 19th day of May, 1881, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 29th day of April, 1881.

S. Pearman Smith and Son, Wolverhampton, Solicitors for the said Debtor."

Evening Express 23/5/1881

"A meeting of the creditors of Thomas Bromhill, the GLOBE INN, Bilston, was held on Thursday, at the offices of Messrs. Spearman, Smith and Son, solicitors, Dudley Street, Wolverhampton.

Mr. Smith Jnr. represented the debtor, and creditors were represented by Messrs. Frederic Bill and J. W. Hall, solicitors, and Mr. Greensill, from the office of Mr. R. A. Willcock, solicitor.

The statement of affairs showed liabilities £1,110 6s 4d, and assets £90 7s 4d. Mr. Smith made an offer on behalf of the debtor of 1s in the pound, payable in seven days from registration, which was accepted."

Evening Express 3/7/1881

"An inquest was held at the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on Friday afternoon, before W. H. Phillips, Esq, district coroner, touching the death of an old man named Charles Swift, who had been in the employ of Mr. T. Bramhill, of the GLOBE, who died in the yard of that inn suddenly on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Bramhill, the first witness, said she was in the bar about five o'clock, when she heard someone vomiting near the side door, and on going to see who it was, found the deceased vomiting blood. A man named Isaiah Skeldon went to his assistance, and she (witness) sent to Dr. Larkin, but before that gentleman arrived he was dead.

The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/10/1881 - Advert

"Wanted, at once, good General Servant, who understands her duties.

Apply, GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston."

WANTED, at once, good General Servant, who understands her duties.— Apply, Globe Inn, Mount Pleasant, Bilston

Evening Express 30/9/1881

"Stephen Henry Baker, Greencroft, Bilston, was charged with stealing 13s 6d from a till in the GLOBE public house, Willenhall Road, occupied by Thomas Bramhill.

On Tuesday last, about nine o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Bramhill put 10s 6d in silver in a drawer, and when she examined the till between ten and eleven o'clock only 4s remained. Mrs. Bramhill then marked two florins and three shilling pieces, which she put in the drawer. At half past four o'clock the same afternoon the prisoner came in and paid for a glass of beer, and was left at the bar alone for a few minutes. The sound of money jingling was afterwards heard, and on Mrs. Bramhill re-entering the bar she found the prisoner putting money in his purse. He was afterwards given into custody, and at the police station the marked pieces of money were found in his possession.

The prisoner pleaded guilty, and this being his first offence, the Bench sentenced him to one month's imprisonment."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/12/1881 - Advert

“Wanted, at once, a General Servant; from the country preferred. Apply, GLOBE INN, Bilston.”

WANTED, at once, a General Servant; from the country preferred.—Appy, Globe Inn, Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 2/8/1882

“During Monday evening a large assortment of jewellery, including a couple of watches and chains, together with £1 10s in money, was stolen from the bed rooms of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston. It is believed that the thief must have entered while the landlord and landlady were busy with customers. The property belonged to Mr. Henry Baker, who found out the theft at bed time. No arrest has been made.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/8/1882

“On Monday evening, at the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, a thief or thieves went upstairs and stole from the bedrooms a large quantity of jewellery and other valuables, including a silver English lever watch, a pair of gold sleeve-links, silver watchguards, a lady’s silver set, including locket, brooch, necklet, and earrings; a lady’s mourning ring, a lady’s gold Geneva watch (No.104472), gold chain, with key and 1 on attached; gold earrings set in rubies, gold brooch, gold dress rings, a purse containing half a sovereign, 19s in silver, and a post-office order for 8s 6d, with numerous other articles of value, the property of Mr. Henry Baker, the landlord, who discovered the theft on retiring to rest.”

AND

Darlaston Weekly Times 5/8/1882

“A daring robbery was committed on Monday night, between the hours of eight and eleven, at the house of Mr. Henry Baker, GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

It appears that the whole of the occupants of the house were busily engaged in serving, when some person or persons entered the premises from the back, which was left unfastened for the convenience of customers, and, taking advantage of the absence of the occupants, walked upstairs to the bedrooms, the doors of which, in the hurry of business, had also been left unfastened.

The only object of plunder in the first room was a silver lever watch, the property of Mr. Baker, which he had left on the shelf in his room, and silver trinkets, belonging to Mrs. Baker. The thieves then entered the room of Miss Smith, the barmaid, and there their success was far greater, a gold watch and chain, a number of valuable trinkets, and a purse containing about £2 in money, and a P.O.O. for 8s 6d, being taken away.

The theft was not discovered until the house was closed, and the residents were about to retire to rest. The watch and chain were then missed, and search was made for it, in the bar and elsewhere. As it could not be found, a further search took place, and a great commotion was caused by the discovery of the loss sustained by Miss Smith. The police were called in, but beyond the few footmarks in the back yard, no evidence remained as to how, or by whom, the robbery was committed. The total loss is about £30, nearly £20 of which belonged to the barmaid.”

AND

Darlaston Weekly Times 12/8/1882

“Early on Saturday morning, as a youth was proceeding along Green Lanes, he observed under a hedge a bright chain, and upon examination found the two watches and chains stolen the previous Monday from Mr. Baker’s, the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston. The watches were afterwards taken to Mr. Baker, and Miss Smith, the barmaid, soon recognised her lost property. The police are on the alert to discover the thief or thieves.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 26/8/1882 - Advert

“The GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston (New Proprietor).

Henry Baker has pleasure in announcing to his many Friends and the Public that he has entered upon the above Hotel, formerly occupied by Mr. T. Bramhill, and begs to inform them that he has selected a Splendid New Stock of Spirits and Wines, with Choice Samples of Ales and Porters, all will be sold at the most Reasonable Charges.

A Splendid Stock of Cigars.

H.B. offers every accommodation to his customers, and hopes to merit their patronage and support.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/12/1882 - Advert

“To Auctioneers, Promoters of Entertainments, Meetings, &c.

A Very Large Room suitable for holding Sales, Meetings, Entertainments, &c, can be secured at the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

H. Baker, Proprietor.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/3/1883

“At the Police Court, on Tuesday, Francis Hoskins alias Maxwell and Alfred Smallwood were charged with stealing 10s from Henry Baker, landlord of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, by ringing the changes. Both prisoners were committed to the Sessions.”

[Frederick Maxwell, alias Francis Hoskins, who had several previous convictions, got 7 years' penal servitude and Alfred Smallwood 12 months' imprisonment with hard labour.]

Darlaston Weekly Times 19/5/1883

“For some time Mr. Thomas Bramhill, formerly owner and proprietor of the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, has been in ill-health, and, after an amount of severe suffering, died on the 15th instant, at the age of 45 years, leaving a widow, son, and daughter. Mr. Bramhill was brought-up as an engineer; his father in the same profession, occupying a respectable position in Yorkshire. After a residence in Bilston for some time, the deceased was elected as a Town Commissioner, and served the office for three years. The funeral took place in the cemetery, on Friday, and several friends attended.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/9/1883

“Edward Fellows, who for some time past has been living in Bridge Street, Bilston, was brought up in custody charged with stealing 4s, the money of Henry Baker, landlord of the GLOBE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, on the 28th ult. The prisoner had been casually employed by prosecutor to do ‘odd jobs,’ and had been sent to fetch some clover from Wednesfield, but instead of carrying out prosecutor’s instructions the prisoner spent the money on his own requirements. He was sentenced to 14 days’ hard labour, this being his first offence.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/12/1883

“Another was added to the already long list of recent sudden deaths in Bilston, on the 31st ult, when a boy named William Becket (9), who resided with his parents at 26, Cold Lanes, Bilston, was found dead in bed by his mother. An enquiry into the cause of death was held before Mr. W. H. Phillips, district coroner, at the COCK INN, Willenhall Road, on Monday. From the evidence given it appeared that about one o’clock on the previous Friday, the child complained of being ill, and on the suggestion of its mother, went upstairs to bed. About twenty minutes to two, the child called to its mother, and she went upstairs, and found the child insensible. In a few minutes afterwards it died. The enquiry was adjourned until Friday, for a post mortem examination to be made.

On the resumption of the enquiry yesterday, at the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Dr. Mathie said he had made a post mortem examination, and found that the child had died from capillary bronchitis, consequent upon exposure to cold and damp. He considered that the house in which the parents lived was in a very bad state, and unfit for habitation, as it was cold and damp.

In reply to the coroner, the mother of the deceased said her husband and another child lay ill in the house, and she attributed this to the insanitary condition of the dwelling. There was no closet to the house, and no back door. The house was half a crown a week, but on account of her husband’s illness, the rent had got behind, and she could not leave, because if she did, the landlord would distrain on her goods.

The coroner said it would be only right for the jury to take into consideration the miserable condition of the place, he quite agreed with the doctor, entirely unfit for human habitation. It was a great hardship that a sick man with a wife and family to support should be only receiving five shillings a week from the parish, when half a crown had to be paid as rent.

The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, and instructed the police to call the attention of the Sanitary Inspector to the house.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 2/8/1884 - Advert

“A fine lot of Store Pigs for Sale, from 20s upwards.
Apply, H. Baker, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.”

A FINE LOT OF STORE PIGS FOR SALE,
from 20s. upwards.—Apply, H. Baker,
Globe Hotel, Bilston.

The Stage 21/11/1884 - Advert

“Miss May Douglas, Lead, Comedy. Engaged by Goddard Whyatt, Esq, for 6 nights. Nellie, Lost in London. At liberty November 22. Address, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.”

MISS MAY DOUGLAS,
Lead, Comedy. Engaged by Goddard Whyatt, Esq, for 6 nights. Nellie, Lost in London. At liberty Nov. 22.
Address, Globe Hotel, Bilston.

The Stage 2/1/1885 - Advert

“Mr. E. F. Brady, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.
Third year of Little Red Riding Hood Pantomime.”

M R . E . F . B R A D Y ,
Globe Hotel,
Bilston.
Third year of Little Red Riding Hood Pantomime.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/1/1885 - Advert

“Queens Own Royal Yeomanry Cavalry. Wolverhampton Troop.
The Sixth Annual Ball will take place in the Agricultural Hall, on Thursday, January 22nd, 1885, under the Patronage of Lieutenant-Colonel The Marquis of Anglesea, and the Officers of the Regiment.
The Band of the South Staffordshire Regiment will attend, under Bandmaster Herr Eisen.
Dancing to commence at Nine o'clock.
All members of Yeomanry Cavalry or Volunteer Regiments to appear in uniform.
NB. Any Lady or Gentleman wishing to attend in Fancy Dress may do so on application to the Secretary, sending full name, address, and character they wish to appear in, for which they will receive a special ticket.
Tickets, 3s 6d each, may be obtained from the Stewards Sergeant Baker, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.
All applications for Tickets to be made personally to the Stewards, or by letter to the Hon. Secretary, not later than January 19th, 1885.
Sergeant A. E. Allen, Hon. Secretary, 63, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/8/1885

“This (Thursday) morning, Mr. E. B. Thorneycroft, deputy coroner, held an adjourned inquiry at the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, relative to the death of a newly-born female child of Sarah Betsy Hill, a young unmarried woman, residing with her parents in Wright Street, Bradley.
The inquest had been adjourned to allow a post mortem examination to be made, and Mr. Wm. John Nolan, surgeon, now deposed that he made the examination on Tuesday, August 4th, and found that the body was that of a fully-developed female child. There were no marks of violence on any part of the body, and after applying the usual scientific tests he came to the conclusion that the child was born alive, it having died from suffocation. All the organs were healthy. On the 31st July witness examined the young woman, Sarah Betsy Hill, whom he found had given birth to a child, and who, in answer to his questions, denied having been pregnant, or that she cohabited with any man since the birth of her last child.
Sarah Betsy Hill was then called, and after being cautioned by the Coroner, made a statement to the effect that she was delivered of the child on the 31st July, in a closet at the rear of the house, where it was subsequently found by the police. She did not see the child. She was not aware when she went to the closet that the birth would occur so soon, and she did not go with the intention of making away with the child.
Inspector Harrison said this completed the evidence, and the deputy coroner then briefly summed up, pointing out to the jury that the question they had to consider was whether the suffocation of the child was accidental or otherwise. The jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict that the child was Accidentally Suffocated during its birth in the closet.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 22/8/1885 - Advert

“GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.
Henry Baker begs to tender his many thanks to his wide circle of friends and the public, for their very liberal patronage and support during the past three years, at the above hotel, and to introduce his successor, Mr. William F. Clarke, who, he feels sure, will be ever ready to seek to merit the support of his customers.
William F. Clarke, upon entering the hotel, begs to assure the many friends of Mr. Baker and the public, that nothing shall be wanting on his part, to serve all in the hotel as before, and kindly solicits the patronage of the old customers and the public generally.
The supply of first-class Spirits, Ales, Porter, Cigars, &c, will be of the very best kind.”

William Francis Clarke = William Francis Clark

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/10/1885

“The annual dinner of G (Bilston) Company of the 3rd Volunteer Battalion South Staffordshire Regiment took place in the Drill Hall, Mount Pleasant, on Friday night, when there was a most successful gathering A dinner of a recherche character was provided by Mr. Clarke, of the GLOBE HOTEL.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 7/11/1885 - Advert

“William F. Clarke, GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston.

William F. Clarke, having taken to the above Hotel, begs to inform the Public that all Wines, Spirits, Ales, and Porter are of the best Quality, and Cigars of Finest Brands.

He has a good Club-Room, and can well accommodate Private Meetings, and Auction Sales.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/1/1886

“Birmingham Quarter Sessions.....

George Hewitt, Rotherham, horse-dealer, and John Elvin, Birmingham, were indicted for conspiring together to defraud William Clarke, landlord of the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, of four pigs, of the value of £6 10s in May, 1884. Mr. Stubbins prosecuted, and Mr. B. B. Hackney (instructed by Mr. F. Hooper) defended.

It was alleged that on the date in question the parties met at the Grand Turk Inn, Hockley, and prosecutor agreed to sell prisoners four pigs. After sending the pigs away Hewitt said that he had left his cheque-book at home, and Elvin then said he would help to pay for the pigs.

Mr. Hackney, for the defence, denied that there had been any fraudulent intention on the part of the prisoners. The deal was a bona fide one, and prosecutor had his remedy in a County Court rather than by preferring a criminal charge against the prisoners.

The jury found the prisoners guilty, and Elvin was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, with hard labour, and Hewitt to nine months' imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1886

“At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, application was made by Mr. Plumptre for the renewal of the license of the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, to Mr. Matthew J. Blewitt, solicitor, Birmingham, the administrator of the late licensee Martha Lee. This house was one of the oldest in Bilston, and no objection had been made to it whilst it was held by Mrs. Lee.

Mr. Dallow, on behalf of Mr. Clark, the licensee of the GLOBE INN, which is only next door to the CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, urged that another public house was not required in the neighbourhood. A memorial against the application, signed by the inhabitants of Mount Pleasant, was presented by Mr. Fellows.

Mr. Whitehouse said the Bench sympathised with the mortgagees of the property, but they must refuse the application.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 3/4/1886

“The first annual dinner in connection with the Bilston Volunteer Athletic Club took place on Tuesday evening last, at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 17/4/1886

“Grand Independent Order of Loyal Caledonian Corks.

On Tuesday, upwards of 100 officers and brothers attended at the STAG INN, Crown Street (Brother Brown's) and walked in procession to the GLOBE HOTEL (Brother Clark's), to open a Branch Lodge of the above Order, the officiating members being the officers of 384 Lodge held at Brother Brown's. After the initiation of a good number of new members, Brother J. Stokes presided at the piano, and songs were given.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 24/6/1887

“The Queen's Jubilee. Grand Banquet in the Town Hall, Bilston.

On Wednesday evening last a public banquet was held in the Town Hall, Bilston, for the purpose of commemorating the Jubilee.....

The repast was of a most recherche character and was admirably served up, and reflected great credit upon the caterer, Mr. W. F. Clarke, of the GLOBE HOTEL, who certainly deserves a word of praise for the excellent manner in which this part of the programme was carried out. The following was the menu.

Soup – Julienne. Fish – Salmon, Turbot, Fennel and Lobster Sauce. Joints – Roast Beef, Boiled Leg of Mutton and Capers. Roast Lamb. Removes – Roast Chicken and Asparagus, Ham, Tongue. Sweets – Jubilee Pudding, Plum Pudding, Gooseberry Tarts, Koffee and Strawberry Creams. Jellies – Blanc-mange. Cheese – Gorgonzola and Cheddar. Salad.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/7/1887

“The ceremony of formally opening the newly-constituted Bilston Bowling Club took place yesterday (Thursday) under favourable auspices. The bowling green is situated behind the GLOBE HOTEL in Mount Pleasant, with which establishment it is connected, and it has been laid out by the enterprising proprietor, Mr. W. Clarke, at considerable expense.

The club, having already secured a goodly number of members it was determined to commence active operations, which was accordingly done yesterday. In the afternoon a number of competitions took place with the bowls, and the weather being gloriously fine there was a large attendance and the healthy out-door pastime was thoroughly enjoyed. In the evening the members dined at the GLOBE HOTEL, when a company numbering about 30 sat down to the very excellent spread provided by the landlord, and which was served up in a way that reflected the greatest credit upon his well-known establishment.....

The Vice-President next proposed ‘The Host and Hostess’ whom he warmly eulogised for their splendid catering. The toast was received with musical honours. Mr. Clarke thanked them for the honour they had done him. He said the change effected in the bowling green showed in a small way what could be done with the Park. He was sensible that the green was not yet perfect, but with their kind encouragement and support he hoped to greatly improve it. The proceedings were agreeably interspersed with songs and recitations, and a very pleasant evening was spent.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/8/1889 - Advert

“Bilston Horticultural Society. The Ninth Grand Annual Exhibition of Flowers, Fruits, and Vegetables.....

Prizes amounting to upwards of £140! Numerous special prizes for cottagers.

The splendid Templar Prize Brass and Reed Band is engaged.

Special engagement of the celebrated Japanese Trio, in their wonderful acrobatic performances, Bamboo Perche and Japanese Ladder Performances.

The continental wonders, Marti and Julietta, pyramid chair artists; teeth performances, feats of strength, and Norwegian Spar Act.

Each evening there will be a Grand Display of Fireworks.

Prof. Heller’s Royal Punch and Judy.

Illumination of the Avenue and Grounds with Chinese Lanterns.

Refreshments will be provided by Mr. W. F. Clarke, GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant.

Admission Sixpence.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/4/1890

“An adjourned inquest was held yesterday at the GLOBE INN, Bilston, before Mr. W. H. Phillips (coroner), touching the death of John Walton (16).

In the course of further evidence, Ellen Elizabeth Morgan stated that she had been with Lloyd (the young man who was alleged to have caused Walton’s death) on the evening of the 9th inst to fetch coal, and when passing the COCK INN a number of boys threw clods at them.

A boy named Enoch Jones stated that Lloyd threw a stone, which caught a stick witness held under his arm, and bounced on to deceased’s head. Walton fell, and when got up he was bleeding from the head.

Dr. S. Ashby Smith, Bilston, who had made a post mortem examination, said he found a small indented fracture of the skull, in which were impacted three small pieces of stone. A small piece of bone was depressed, and pressed its sharp edge on the membrane of the brain. The depressed fracture of the skull, by setting up irritation of the membrane of the brain, was the cause of death. The injury all pointed to deceased having been struck with some pointed stone. It was within the bounds of possibility that had the lad been well attended to at first he would have lived.

Lloyd, who was duly cautioned, said that Walton called him ‘Pecker,’ which was a nickname. He, however, took no notice, but went on, and they wished each other ‘good night.’ He asked deceased not to throw any more clods, but he only laughed, and the boys continued throwing, and he then threatened to throw back. One of the boys came up and struck him twice with a stick on his back, and then punched him. Subsequently he saw the boys waiting for him, and he went home another way.

The jury, after a consultation of twenty minutes, returned a verdict of Justifiable Homicide, the result of deceased’s being struck by a stone thrown by John Lloyd. They also desired to express a strong opinion with reference to the dangerous practice of boys throwing in the public roads. They wished to call the attention of the police to the matter, and hoped that at the earliest opportunity an example would be made of the boys so offending.”

Birmingham Mail 17/3/1891

“Birmingham Assizes This Day.....

An action was brought by William Francis Clarke, licensed victualler, Bilston, against Joseph Chadwick, 12, Albert Road, Aston, to recover costs in consideration of the plaintiff rescinding a contract between them. Mr. Hugo Young and Mr. R. Harrington for the plaintiff, and Mr. Lawrence for the defendant.

The defendant, who was formerly a traveller or manager for Messrs. Showell and Sons, pleaded that the contract was rescinded by mutual consent, and the charges were excessive. The contract was for the plaintiff to sell to defendant the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, and when the contract was cancelled, as the plaintiff says, for the convenience and at the request of the defendant, the plaintiff alleges the defendant agreed to pay certain sums.”

AND

Birmingham Mail 18/3/1891

“The hearing of the case Clarke v Chadwick was resumed this morning. Mr. Acland appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Lawrence for the defendant.

The action was one in connection with a contract to sell the GLOBE TAVERN, Bilston, and to recover certain sums that were agreed to be paid when the contract was cancelled at defendant’s own risk. Plaintiff was lately the owner of the GLOBE TAVERN, and the defendant agreed to buy the house for £2,000. This agreement the defendant asked to be cancelled, but plaintiff could not agree to that unless the defendant paid certain costs and damages. This he agreed to do, but he had not yet paid the costs and damages, which were now sued for.

Mr. Lawrence stated that he and Mr. Acland had agreed upon the damages in case a verdict was given for plaintiff, and he proposed to deal with the case upon a question of law. In arguing the point Mr. Lawrence mainly relied upon the constitution of the contract as one requiring to be in accord with the statute of frauds.

His Lordship said that if he could find an honest way of giving judgement for the plaintiff he should do so. He thought that as the facts stood the defence was a disgraceful one, yet, of course, the defendant was entitled to his disgrace and money if he could claim them by law. He would deliver judgement in London.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 27/3/1891

“Birmingham Assizes. Clark v Chadwick.

To the Editor of the Daily Post.

Sir. In your report of the trial of this action some days ago, and in your leader today, you speak of my client as being ‘lately the owner’ of the GLOBE INN, Bilston. He is at the present moment not only the occupier but the owner of the freehold thereof. As your statement may prejudice him, I shall be glad if you will insert this as a correction. As the last paragraph of your leader imputes negligence to my client or myself, in not having reduced the agreement into writing, let me say that both my client and myself used every effort to induce the defendant to give it in writing, without effect.

Edward Mallard, Plaintiff’s Solicitor. Newhall Street, Birmingham. March 26.”

1891 Census

Mount Pleasant

- [1] William F. Clark (50), licensed victualler, born Ealing, Middlesex;
- [2] Flora Clark (42), wife, born Winshan, Somerset;
- [3] Maggie Lloyd (21), visitor, born Handsworth, Staffordshire;
- [4] Helen E. Herbert (20), barmaid, born Cheltenham;
- [5] Joshua C. Jones (23), hostler, born Tarlow, Shropshire;
- [6] Elizabeth Griffiths (17), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [7] John Humphries (27), boarder, comedian, actor, born Portsmouth;
- [8] Wilfred Protheroe (26), boarder, comedian, actor, born Bristol;
- [9] Thomas J. P. Jenkins (26), boarder, tragedian, actor, born Carmarthen;
- [10] Ruby Jenkins (24), boarder, tragedian, actor;

The Era 5/3/1892 - Advert

“Wanted, for W. Smithson’s Pantomime, Ladies that can Sing and Dance. Send photos and lowest terms, H. Thompson, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.”

WANTED, for W. Smithson’s Pantomime, Ladies that can Sing and Dance. Send photos. and lowest terms, H. THOMPSON, Globe Hotel, Bilston.

The Era 10/12/1892

"GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, December 4th.

Dear Mr. Chapman. Please accept my best thanks and congratulations for the perfect manner in which you have designed and painted my scenery for 'The Pointsman.' Some of the scenes I consider works of art. They certainly are very beautifully painted, and do you great credit. I shall be only too pleased to say a good word for you at any time you may ask.

Sincerely yours, Arthur Percival."

The Era 4/3/1893

"On the occasion of Mr. J. F. Preston's birthday, February 28th, the members of the Jane Shore company presented him with three handsome volumes, Shakespeare, Scott, and Moore. Mr. George De Lara made the presentation, and in a neat speech expressed the good wishes of the company, who were afterwards entertained by Mr. Preston at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, where things were kept merry until a late hour."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/8/1894 - Advert

"Partner wanted, with capital, for Scenic Painting and Decorative Business.

Address, Artist, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston."

PARTNER Wanted, with capital, for Scenic Painting and Decorative Business.—Address, Artist, Globe Hotel, Bilston.

The Stage 14/3/1895 - Advert

"Mr. Henry Leger, Disengaged. Offers invited. Principal Heavy Business, Rough or Refined. Special parts, Acting, Stage or General Management. Address, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston."

MR. HENRY LEGER, Disengaged. Offers invited. Principal Heavy Business, Rough or Refined. Special parts, Acting, Stage or General Management. Address, Globe Hotel, Bilston.

Bromsgrove & Droitwich Messenger 26/6/1897

"A friendly bowling match between the Talbot Hotel, Belbroughton, and the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, bowling clubs, took place on Saturday on the ground of the latter club, resulting in a win for the visitors."

[Talbot 122; GLOBE 100.]

The Stage 30/9/1897

"On Friday last, September 25, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Grahame entertained the whole of their Mankind Company to supper at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, the occasion being the second anniversary of their marriage. An enjoyable evening was spent. Toasts were proposed for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Grahame and for the success of their new enterprise, Honour Bright. Amongst the guests were Mr. E. T. de Banzie (who travelled from London), Mr. Luke Foster, Mr. Harry Battersley, and Mr. and Mrs. Corbett."

Westminster Gazette 23/2/1899

"Detective Kent, of the Bilston police force, was in the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, yesterday, when he heard a bugle march being played on the piano in an adjoining room. He arrested the performer – a man known to play that particular tune – on a charge of theft in a Chesterfield hotel, and the pianist at once confessed his guilt."

AND

Denbighshire Free Press 4/3/1899

"It is dangerous to play the bugle march on the piano in Bilston. A professional pianist named George Barrett, of London, was wanted at Chesterfield on a charge of theft. He was known to play a certain bugle march very effectively. One morning a Bilston detective was in the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, when he heard a bugle march being played on the piano in an adjoining room. His suspicions being aroused he went in, found Barrett, and arrested him."

Stephen Allen Corbett – see also OLDE WHITE ROSE, Lichfield Street, and GREAT WESTERN, Hall Street.

William Nathaniel Cottrell – see also FIVE WAYS, Cradley Heath, Rowley Regis, STAR, Tipton, and LEOPARD, Church Street, Bilston.

1901 Census

Mount Pleasant – GLOBE HOTEL

[1] Alfred Guest (42), licensed victualler, born Netherton;

[2] Laura Guest (34), wife, born Netherton;

[3] William Gower (32), boarder, clicker in boot warehouse, born Netherton;

[4] William Westwood (63), ostler, born Cradley Heath;

[5] Louise Townsend (25), barmaid in hotel, born Netherton;

[6] Martha Kinsey (16), domestic servant, born Bilston;

[The license was not transferred to Alfred Guest until 1902.]

Gloucestershire Echo 21/2/1902

“At the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, on Thursday, Mr. T. A. Stokes, coroner, held an inquest on the body of John Cameron Scott (29), a draughtsman, of Phoenix Street, Park Village, near West Bromwich, who shot himself on Tuesday night under circumstances already reported, in the presence of his fiancé, Miss Florence Griffiths, daughter of Mr. Griffiths, the manager of Messrs. Bradley’s Works, Willenhall Road.

Miss Griffiths was the first witness, and she stated that she was engaged to be married to the deceased. On Tuesday, about half-past six, he went to her father’s house, and remained until nearly a quarter-past eleven. At that time he got up to leave the house, and said, ‘Good-bye Florrie.’ Witness said, ‘No, not Good-bye, Jack, but Good night.’ Immediately she heard a pistol-shot and a fall. At the moment her back was towards him, and on turning round she saw him lying on the floor, and ran out of the room and called her father. He had seemed as usual, and an hour or so before was singing. There had not been any quarrel, and as far as witness knew the deceased had no monetary troubles.

Questioned as to whether the wedding day had been fixed, witness said ‘there was another girl in it,’ but although the engagement had not been broken off there had been a little unpleasantness, but it had passed away before Christmas, and they were on the same friendly terms as before. Witness said she could give no reason for the deceased taking his life, ‘unless it was this other girl.’

At this stage Detective Kent produced the following undated letter, enclosed in an envelope bearing the postmark November 28, 1901.

‘To Miss Griffiths. I have found out by good authority that you have been seen several times in company with my boy, and I only learned about a fortnight ago that he was coming to visit you very often at your home. In short, I know everything that has been between you, and as I have been engaged to the same person for four years and have received two rings from him, and have now in my possession letters speaking of marriage, etc, I am determined that neither you nor anyone else shall take him from me. I have the prior claim, and both myself and mother will fight to the end to gain my rights, even though it may cost £1,000. It seems to me he has been fascinated for a time, then inveigled into an attachment with you; but he shall never have you, I am determined. As I have said previously, I am resolved to take the case to law and have my deserts. Fancy being engaged to a man for four years, then having him ‘entrenched’ by a passing fancy! But that shall never be. If ever there was a scene published, this will figure to the front. Law will step in and then everything shall be revealed. Thank goodness money is no object in my case, and vengeance shall indeed be mine. I am determined to have full recompense. The proceedings will have to rest for a while, just while I step in and play my little part, which I can tell you shall be enacted with full scenery. Yours, M. Eadie.’

In answer to the coroner, Miss Griffiths said she received that letter in November, but the unpleasantness that ensued had passed.

George Frederick Griffiths, the father of the last witness, said the family had just finished supper, and there had been some singing, when Scott and his daughter left the room to say ‘Good night.’ As his daughter passed through the door she remarked that as it was cold they had better go into the breakfast room. A few minutes later witness heard a report of the discharge of a pistol, and rushed out of the room. He met his daughter in the hall, and he took her and his wife into a neighbour’s house. On returning he found Scott lying in a pool of blood and quite dead, a shot having entered his temple. During the evening he appeared to be quite rational. He was well educated and well informed, and during the evening a discussion had taken place on the works of various poets and authors. The deceased also sang, and appeared to be perfectly sane. The reason for his act was an absolute secret.

Detective Kent handed to the coroner a number of telegrams which had passed between the deceased and someone named Frost, at 123 Salop Street, Dudley, making engagements at various times and places.

In answer to questions, Mr. Griffiths explained that 'Frost,' the person referred to in the telegram, was 'M. Eadie Frost,' and there was no doubt about Frost being the surname of the lady who wrote the letter. Holland, another name given in the telegrams, was the married sister of Scott, with whom he had been staying. Among other things found on the deceased was a funeral card.

The Coroner, in summing up, said his opinion was that a man who took his life was more or less insane, unless he did it to escape being arrested for some serious crime. In this case there did not seem to be any reason for the man committing suicide unless he was worried by the girl who signed herself 'Eadie.' Scott did not seem to have adopted the old adage of being off with the old love before getting on with the new. Yet Miss Griffiths said she knew all about it, and that any unpleasantness that had arisen had been smoothed over.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased committed Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane."

Walsall Advertiser 28/3/1903

"The first general meeting of the Staffordshire Bowling Association, which has its headquarters at the RING 'O BELLS, Dudley Road, Wolverhampton, and was started in December last, was held on Tuesday night.....

The following clubs sent representatives GLOBE, Bilston."

Walsall Advertiser 13/6/1903

"Bowling. Staffordshire Association Cup. First Round.

North Walsall v GLOBE (Bilston). Played at North Walsall on Saturday in splendid weather. After some good bowling the home team won by 108 points."

Walsall Advertiser 20/6/1903

"Bowling. Staffordshire Association Cup. First Round.

GLOBE (Bilston) v North Walsall. The second game in connection with the first round of the above competition took place on Saturday last on the GLOBE INN green, Bilston. The weather was anything but favourable for the game, but did not prevent the encounter being brought to a finish. North Walsall again played good bowls, and won by 8 points, passing into the next round of the competition by a lead on the two games of 116."

The Stage 3/12/1908 - Advert

"Little Keeno. Moss's Empires till 1912. All coms., Harry Joseph, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston; next, New Inn, Amesbury."

LITTLE KEENO.

MOSS'S EMPIRES till 1912.
All coms., Harry Joseph, Globe Hotel, Bilston; next, New Inn, Amesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/9/1909 - Advert

"Wanted, a good General, able to assist in bar; not under 20.
Apply, Mrs. Walters, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston."

WANTED, a good General, able to assist in bar; not under 20.—Apply, Mrs. Walters,
Globe Hotel, Bilston.

1911 Census

5, Mount Pleasant – GLOBE HOTEL

- [1] James Walters (42), manager public house, born Bilston;
- [2] Louie Walters (35), wife, married 7 years, born Netherton;
- [3] Harry J. Walters (15), son, shearing tin plate, born Bilston;
- [4] Frederick E. Walters (11), son, school, born Bilston;
- [5] Louie May Walters (5), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Ethel G. Walters (4), daughter, born Bilston;
- [7] Clara Evans (20), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [8] Beatrice Wilkes (17), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [9] Yvonne Laing (21), boarder, theatrical actress, born London:

AND

Mount Pleasant – c/o GLOBE HOTEL

- [1] Edwin Bell (33), lodger, theatrical manager, born Manchester;
- [2] Maude Bell (32), lodger, married 14 years, Born London:

Sports Argus 7/6/1913

“Bowling Notes.....

The second round of the challenge cup put up by the Staffordshire Association was commenced and finished last week.....

GLOBE (Bilston) beat Willenhall St. Giles on the aggregate by 36 points.”

The Era 10/5/1916 - Advert

“Wanted, to rehearse immediately, owing to group being called up, Two really Funny Comedians, who have worked panto or revue together; own specialities; one capable of good Charlie Chaplin imitation. Photos, references, and lowest terms.

Geo. Gordon, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.”

South Staffordshire Times 11/10/1919

“Arthur Chapman (43), Mount Pleasant, Wilnecote, was summoned for being on the licensed premises of the GLOBE HOTEL and doing wilful damage to the extent of 6s.

James Newton Cowling, the landlord, said that on Saturday evening about 9.35 the man came into the snug. He refused to serve him. He went into the vault and asked him to get off the premises. He declined to do so and commenced to throw glasses and jugs at his wife and himself. He broke four glasses in all, the cost being 6s 1d.

PC Anslow corroborated.

Defendant said he had been on a char-a-banc ride and had something to drink. He had been teetotal for six years.

The Stipendiary: See what a bad thing it is to be teetotal for six years. (Laughter.)

A fine of 10s was imposed for being drunk, 10s for wilful damage, and 6s for the broken jugs, or seven days in default in each case.”

The Stage 3/3/1921 - Advert

“Wanted, smart Gentleman, to learn Acting Management, able to take charge of Musical Comedy. Experience not essential. Manager with capital preferred. Interest and salary from commencement. Advertiser well-known proprietor.

Address, Revue, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston.”

1921 Census

5, Mount Pleasant – GLOBE HOTEL

[1] James Newton Cowling (47), licensed victualler, born Scarborough, Yorkshire;

[2] Evelyn Cowling (39), wife, born Knutsford, Cheshire;

[3] James Jack Cowling (12), son, school, born Manchester;

[4] Harriet Darlington (70), mother-in-law, widow, born Fulshaw, Cheshire,

[5] Bertie Charles Halls (34), boarder, actor, born Baseford, Nottingham;

[6] Eleanor S. Halls (30), boarder, actress, born London;

[7] George Brown (58), tailor, born Wolverhampton:

Bilston & Willenhall Times 29/11/1924

“The annual smoking concert of the Bilston and District Bowling League was held at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, on Thursday night, when the championship cup and medals were presented.....”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 10/1/1925

“Many players will be interested in the proposal to extend the bowling green at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, and the suggestion also to provide a gate giving entrance to the green from Lewis Street. The necessary permission for the improvements has been obtained. In an application to the magistrates, Mr. H. A. Owen, manager of Bent’s Brewery Co., explained to the satisfaction of the Bench what it proposed to do, and no objection was offered by Superintendent Higgs, who thought that the principal feature was the new approach to the premises.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 21/2/1925

“A pleasant evening was spent at the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, in connection with the R.A.O.B. Shakespeare Lodge, when the Wulfruna Knights Chapter, Grand Primo, Grand Lodge Officers, and Brothers, representing several Lodges, assembled on the occasion of the raising to the second degree and presentation of a jewel to Brother Fair.”

Lichfield Mercury 2/7/1926 - Advert

“Wanted, Refined Girl as Bar General; two kept; no washing; good home and wages; references required; would teach bar work if otherwise suitable.

Apply, by letter, stating all particulars, age, etc, Mrs. Fair, GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, Staffs.”

Bilston and Willenhall Times 8/12/1928

“At the GLOBE HOTEL, Bilston, on Thursday night, the annual supper and presentation of prizes won by members of the Bowling League took place.....”

Gloucester Citizen 6/1/1937

“Ernest Fearncombe Oaten (60), of Penn, Wolverhampton, was to have given evidence of identification at an inquest on his brother at Bilston yesterday, but he died just before the inquiry at the Police Station was due to begin. Feeling ill, he entered the GLOBE HOTEL and called for a brandy and port, but before he could pick up the glass he collapsed and died before the arrival of a doctor.”

1939 Register

Mount Pleasant – GLOBE HOTEL

[1] John McArdle, date of birth 5/10/1907, licensee, manager, married;

[2] Ethel I. McArdle, dob 5/9/1911, hotel duties, unpaid domestic duties, married:

John McArdle was a devout Catholic.

He was called up for service in 1941 with the WT Reserve as NAAFI manager.

He died in 2000.

[The Black Country Bugle ran a series of articles, following his wartime diary, from 14/1/2010.]

John McArdle – see also PIPE HALL.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/8/1953

“Inns in Midland counties which have been scheduled during the past twelve months by the Ministry of Housing and Local Government as being of outstanding historical and architectural interest.....

GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, Staffordshire.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/1/1962

“A Bilston woman waited for news late last night of her husband who disappeared from home at lunch-time on Saturday. Mr. Henry Southall Owen, aged 53, of the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, may be suffering from loss of memory, believes his wife. Mrs. Lillian Owen said last night, ‘He has been very worried lately by roughs who have caused us a lot of bother.’ Mr. Owen was reported to have been seen earlier yesterday in Wolverhampton.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/1/1962

“Mr. Harry Southall Owen, aged 53, licensee of the GLOBE HOTEL, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, is in bed at home resting on medical advice and trying to recall what happened to him during six days which are blank in his memory. He disappeared from home on January 13 and ‘came to’ in London. How he reached London and what happened in the meantime he cannot remember. Mr. Owen said, ‘This has never happened to me before. I can’t understand it. But I had been worrying over trouble I had with the roughs here.’ His wife, Mrs. Lillian Owen, her week of worry over, said, ‘It’s wonderful to have him back.’”

[1967]

Closed

It was demolished in the 1960s.

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861.
IN THE COURT OF BANKRUPTCY FOR THE BIRMINGHAM DISTRICT.

Notice is hereby given that an Order of Discharge was granted to ENOCH MEACHEM, of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Inn-keeper and Charter Master, on the 26th day of November last.

WILLIAM HENRY DUIGNAN, Walsall,
Solicitor for the said Enoch Mechem.

1862

The GLOBE INN, BILSTON.—Desirable FREEHOLD LICENSED INN at BILSTON, in the county of Stafford.

MR. R. H. HARPER has been favoured with instructions from Mr. Thomas Price to OFFER for SALE by PUBLIC AUCTION, upon the Premises, on TUESDAY, March 28, 1876, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be then and there read.

All that valuable and genuine FREEHOLD OLD-LICENSED HOUSE, known as the Globe Inn, situate at Mount Pleasant, Bilston, together with the Licence, Goodwill, Fixtures, and immediate possession. The House and Premises are in thorough repair, and have recently been extended, situate on the main road to the important towns of Willenhall and Walsall, and joining the Public Office at which Petty Sessions are held on Tuesday and Friday in each week, and are most eligibly situated for a general and increasing trade.

The Premises stand on an area of upwards of 2,000 yards, and contain spacious Liquor Vaults, Bar, large Smokeroom, Clubroom, with Foresters' Court attached, Ante-room, seven Bed-rooms, Kitchen, with cooking range, Brewhouse, extensive Cellarage, Gateway entrance to large yard, Stabling, Warehouses, Offices, large Garden, and the requisite Outbuildings.

This house is not only adapted for its business capabilities, but is replete and comfortable as a residence.

The Auctioneer calls special attention to this important property, as it is an opportunity rarely to be met with.

The party purchasing will be required to take the stock-in-trade and effects at valuation.

Part of the purchase-money may remain
For further particulars and to view, apply to the Proprietor,
J. W. HALL, Esq., Solicitor, or of the Auctioneer, all of Bilston.

Auctioneer's Offices, 5, Market-street, Bilston.

1876

THE GLOBE HOTEL,
MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON,
(New Proprietor).

HENRY BAKER

Has pleasure in announcing to his many Friends and the Public that he has entered upon the above Hotel, formerly occupied by Mr. T. Bramhill, and begs to inform them that he has selected a

SPLENDID NEW STOCK OF SPIRITS AND WINES, WITH CHOICE SAMPLES OF ALES AND PORTERS,

all will be sold at the most Reasonable Charges.

A SPLENDID STOCK OF CIGARS.

H.B., offers every accommodation to his customers, and hopes to merit their patronage and support.

TO AUCTIONEERS, PROMOTERS OF ENTERTAINMENTS, MEETINGS, &c.

A VERY LARGE ROOM

Suitable for holding Sales, Meetings, Entertainments, &c., can be secured at the

GLOBE HOTEL, MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON.

H. BAKER, PROPRIETOR

1882

QUEEN'S OWN ROYAL YEOMANRY CAVALRY.
WOLVERHAMPTON TROOP.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL BALL
WILL TAKE PLACE

IN THE AGRICULTURAL HALL,
ON THURSDAY, JANUARY 22ND, 1885,

Under the Patronage of Lieutenant-Colonel
THE MARQUIS OF ANGLESEA, and the OFFICERS of the REGIMENT.

THE BAND OF THE SOUTH STAFFORDSHIRE REGIMENT will attend, under Bandmaster Herr Eisen.

Dancing to commence at Nine o'clock.

All members of Yeomanry Cavalry or Volunteer Regiments to appear in uniform.

N.B.—Any Lady or Gentleman wishing to attend in Fancy Dress may do so on application to the Secretary, sending full name, address, and character they wish to appear in, for which they will receive a special ticket.

Tickets, 3s. 6d. each, may be obtained from the Stewards, viz., Sergeant-major SALLER, 19, Clifton-street; Sergeant-major STRATFORD, Wombourn; Sergeant BAKER, Globe Hotel, Bilston; Sergeant VALLANCE, Cleveland-road; Sergeant J. BOSWELL, Cleveland-street; Corporal TUDOR, 24, Queen-street; Corporal A. TAYLOR, Chapel-ash; Corporal G. GROVES, Victoria-street; and Trooper A. BRYAN, 87, Oak-street, Wolverhampton.

All applications for Tickets to be made personally to the STEWARDS, or by letter to the HON. SECRETARY, not later than January 19th, 1885.

SERGEANT A. E. ALLEN,

Hon. Secretary.

63, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.

GLOBE HOTEL,
MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON.

HENRY BAKER,

Begs to tender his many thanks to his wide circle of friends and the public, for their very liberal patronage and support, during the past three years, at the above hotel, and to introduce his successor, MR. WILLIAM F. CLARKE, who, he feels sure, will be ever ready to seek to merit the support of his customers.

WILLIAM F. CLARKE.

Upon entering the hotel, begs to assure the many friends of Mr Baker and the public, that nothing shall be wanting on his part, to serve all in the hotel as before, and kindly solicits the patronage of the old customers and the public generally.

The supply of first-class Spirits, Ales, Porter, Cigars, &c., will be of the very best kind.

1885

WILLIAM F. CLARKE.
GLOBE HOTEL,
MOUNT PLEASANT, BILSTON.

W F. CLARKE having taken to the above Hotel, begs to inform the Public that all
WINES, SPIRITS, ALES, AND PORTER are of the best Quality, and
CIGARS OF FINEST BRANDS.

He has a good CLUB-ROOM, and can well accommodate Private Meetings, and Auction Sales.

1885

BILSTON HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY,
 1893.

THE NINTH
GRAND ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF FLOWERS,
FRUITS, AND VEGETABLES,

Will be held in the GROUNDS OF J. E. SPARROW, Esq.,

Between Wellington-street and Wolverhampton-street
 (Kindly placed at the disposal of the Committee),

TO-DAY (WEDNESDAY), AUGUST 21.

PRIZES AMOUNTING TO UPWARDS OF

£ 1 4 0 !

NUMEROUS SPECIAL PRIZES FOR COTTAGERS.

The Splendid

TEMPLAR PRIZE BRASS AND REED BAND

Is Engaged.

Special Engagement of the Celebrated

JAPANESE TRIO,

In their wonderful Acrobatic Performances, Bamboo Pouch and Japanese Ladder Performances.

The Continental Wonders,

MARTI AND JULIETTA,

Pyramid Chair Artists; Teeth Performances, Feats of Strength, and Norwegian Spar Act.

Each Evening there will be a Grand Display of

FIREWORKS

By Messrs. C. T. Brock and Co., Sole Pyrotechnists to the Crystal Palace Company, London.

PROF. HELLER'S ROYAL PUNCH AND JUDY.

Illumination of the Avenue and Grounds with Chinese
 Lanterns. Refreshments will be provided by Mr. W. F.
 Clarke, Globe Hotel, Mount Pleasant.

Admission SIXPENCE.

A special arrangement has been made with the Wolver-hampton Tramway Company to admit passengers to Show.

ADMISSION TO SHOW, EIGHTPENCE,

Including Tram Fare both ways, from Queen-street to Bilston and back, stopping at the Show Ground.

Tickets may be had from any of the Tram Conductors.

CORNELIUS T. MORRELL, Hon. Sec.

1889

WANTED, to rehearse immediately, owing to group being called up, Two really Funny
 Comedians, who have worked panto. or revue together; own specialities; one capable of good Charlie Chaplin imitation. Photos, references, and lowest terms,

GEO. GORDON,
 Globe Hotel, Bilston.

1916

WANTED, smart Gentlemen, to learn Acting Management, able to take charge of Musical Comedy.
 Experience not essential. Manager with capital preferred. Interest and salary from commencement. Advertiser well-known proprietor. — Address,
 Revue, Globe Hotel, Bilston, Staffs.

1921

WANTED, Refined Girl as Bar-
 General; two kept; no washing;
 good home and wages; references required;
 would teach bar work if otherwise suitable.
 —Apply, by letter, stating all particulars, age, etc., Mrs. Fair, Globe Hotel, Bilston, Staffs.

1926

GOLDEN CROSS

74, Oxford Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

Richard Walker
Sarah Catherine Walker

LICENSEES

John Dawson [1859]
Richard Walker [1862] – 1873);
Sarah Catherine Walker (1873 – 1875);
Martha Pitt (1875):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 1/10/1859 - Advert

“GOLDEN CROSS, Oxford Street, Bilston.

Messrs. Atree and Son will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday Next, October 4th, without reserve, on the above Premises—all the PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES, FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, &c., four-post and tent Bedsteads, prime feather Beds, Mattresses, mahogany Chests of Drawers, Wash Stands, Dressing Tables, Pier and Toilet Glasses, Cane-seated and Windsor Chairs, mahogany Sofas, dining and other Tables, Pictures, eight-day Clock, in case, four-pull Ale Machine and Piping, Screens, Seating, Ale Measures, Frames, Shelves, capital Ale Casks, Coolers, Vats, massive lead Piping, Mash Tub, and other Brewing Utensils; Stock of Ale and Porter, with a variety of useful Effects, the Property of Mr. J. Dawson, who is giving up the Business.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock am.

F. Atree and Son, Auctioneers and Valuers, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/10/1860 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

Whereas a Petition of John Dawson, now and for nine months last past residing in Union Street, Willenhall, in the county of Stafford, and being employed as a Journeyman Joiner and Carpenter; previously and for about two months residing in Cramp Hill, Darlaston, in the county aforesaid, and being employed as a Journeyman Carpenter and Joiner; previously thereto residing at the GOLDEN CROSS, Oxford Street, Bilston, in the county aforesaid, and carrying on the business of a Retailer of Beer and Tobacco; previously and for about four years residing in Union Buildings, in the borough of Stafford, in the county of Stafford, and being employed as a Journeyman Carpenter and Joiner; and for about two years preceding thereto residing in Halls Passage, in Stafford aforesaid, and carrying on the business of a Carpenter and Joiner; an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire at Wolverhampton, and an Interim Order of Protection from Process having been given to the said John Dawson, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said John Dawson is hereby required to appear in Court, before the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the 29th day of October, 1860, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, for his First Examination, touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given that the Choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said John Dawson, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Charles Gallimore Brown, the Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his office, in Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

George Cresswell, Attorney, Willenhall. C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

GOLDEN CROSS, OXFORD STREET, BILSTON.
MESSRS. ALTREE and SON will SELL by AUCTION, on TUESDAY NEXT, October 4th, without reserve, on the above Premises—all the PUBLIC HOUSE FIXTURES, FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, &c., four-post and tent Bedsteads, prime feather Beds, Mattresses, mahogany Chests of Drawers, Wash Stands, Dressing Tables, Pier and Toilet Glasses, Cane-seated and Windsor Chairs, mahogany Sofas, dining and other Tables, Pictures, eight-day Clock, in case, four-pull Ale Machine and Piping, Screens, Seating, Ale Measures, Frames, Shelves, capital Ale Casks, Coolers, Vats, massive lead Piping, Mash Tub, and other Brewing Utensils; Stock of ALE and PORTER, with a variety of useful Effects, the Property of Mr. J. Dawson, who is giving up the Business. Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock a.m.
F. Atree and Son, Auctioneers and Valuers, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/10/1860

“At the Wolverhampton County Court, on Monday last, the undermentioned insolvents came up for hearing, and were adjudicated upon as follows.....

John Dawson, Union Street, Willenhall, passed, supported by Mr. Creswell. Debts, £70 12s 7d; assets, £2 15s.”

Richard Walker, retailer of beer, 74, Oxford Street. [1862]

Richard Walker, beer retailer, 74, Oxford Street. [1865], [1868]

1871 Census

74, Oxford Street

[1] Richard Walker (70), publican, born Peckington, Leicestershire;

[2] Sarah Catherine Walker (46), wife, born Osgathorpe, Leicestershire;

[3] Joseph Matchett (35), brother-in-law, labourer in iron works, born Osgathorpe, Leicestershire:

Richard Walker died in the 2nd quarter of 1873.

Midland Counties Evening Express 12/5/1875

“Eliza Astley, a married woman living apart from her husband, at Daisy Bank, pleaded guilty to stealing a jacket, the property of Walter Pitt, from the GOLDEN CROSS, Oxford Street, Bilston, on Friday last, and a previous conviction having been proved, was sentenced to six months imprisonment.”

Martha Pitt was fined 40s and costs on 18th June 1875 for permitting drunkenness.

The license renewal to her was refused.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/8/1875

“Yesterday, there was an annual licensing meeting for the Bilston Petty Sessional Division.....

Chief-superintendent McCrea presented the ‘black list.’ The beerhouse keepers who had been fined during the year were.....

Martin [sic] Pitt, GOLDEN CROSS, permitting drunkenness, £2 and costs.....

All the old licenses would be renewed, excepting those of holders who had been convicted. Their applications would be deferred until the adjourned licensing day.”

[Renewed with a caution at the adjourned brewster sessions.]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 23/9/1876

“The adjourned licensing session for the Bilston licensing division was held at the Bilston Police Court yesterday.....

The transfer of the license of the GOLDEN CROSS beerhouse, Oxford Street, applied for by Mr. A. J. Langman, was refused.”

The license was abandoned.

Check CROSS

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE, HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

8th day of October, 1860.

WHEREAS a Petition of JOHN DAWSON, now and for nine months last past residing in Union-street, Willenhall, in the county of Stafford, and being employed as a Journeyman Joiner and Carpenter; previously and for about two months residing in Cramp-hill, Darlaston, in the county aforesaid, and being employed as a Journeyman Carpenter and Joiner; previously thereto residing at the Golden Cross, Oxford-street, Bilston, in the county aforesaid, and carrying on the business of a Retailer of Beer and Tobacco; previously and for about four years residing in Union Buildings, in the borough of Stafford, in the county of Stafford, and being employed as a Journeyman Carpenter and Joiner; and for about two years preceding thereto residing in Hall's Passage, in Stafford aforesaid, and carrying on the business of a Carpenter and Joiner; an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire at Wolverhampton, and an Interim Order of Protection from Process having been given to the said John Dawson, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said John Dawson is hereby required to appear in Court, before the Judge acting in the matter of the said petition, on the 29th day of OCTOBER, 1860, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the COURT HOUSE, QUEEN STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON aforesaid, for his FIRST EXAMINATION, touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given that the Choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said John Dawson, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, the Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said petition, at his office, in Queen-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

GEORGE CRESSWELL, Attorney, Willenhall.
C. G. MEOEVAN, High Bailiff.

GOLDEN CUP

68, (54), (53), High Street (54, Church Street) / Oat Meal Square, BILSTON

OWNERS

William Darby [1857]
Henry Jones
Henry Plant and Sons [1896]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1904], [1965]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Tomkinson [1822] – [1830]
Ann Tomkinson [1833] – [1835]
George Withers [1838] – [1839]
John Parker [1840] – [1842]
Charles Stanley [] – 1845;
Joseph Gibson (1845 – [1846])
George Rowley [post 1846]
Charles Stanley [1849] – [1850]
Joseph Morrall [1851]
Thomas Hall [1851] – 1852;
William Machin (1852);
Mrs. Sidonia Smith (1852);
Hannah Barker (1852 – 1853);
William Dulson (1853 – 1854);
Decimus Field (1854 – 1855);
Isaac Beck (1855 – [])
George Cox [1858] – [1860]
Joseph Brywood [1861]
Thomas Dolman [1861]
Thomas Bowen [] – 1862;
Richard Churm (1862 – [1865])
Joseph Hodgkiss [1868] – [1870]
Henry Jones [1871] – 1887;
William John Barnes Bates (1887 – 1888);
Mrs. Elizabeth Shale (1888 – 1891);
William Dudley (1891 – 1912);
Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley (1912 – 1920);
John Silvester (1920 – 1921);
Fred Cox (1921 – 1926);
George Cresswell (1926 – 1932);
Betsy Cresswell (1932 – 1935);
Frank Turton (1935 – [1940])
A A Hodgkins [1957]
James Timmins [c.1979]
J Archer [1980s]
Harry Cornfield []
M D Collins [1993]

THE CUP PUBLIC HOUSE
In High-street, Bilston, without the least Reserve.
TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by JOHN RODWAY, upon the premises, on Monday the 11th day of September inst. without reserve, the Licences, Good-will, and very valuable Possession of the above good-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the CUP, well-situated in High-street, Bilston. There are several numerous and respectable Clubs attached; together with the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, &c.—comprising neat tent and four-post bedsteads, feather and other beds, bed clothes, tables, chairs, chest of drawers, looking-glasses, capital eight-day clock, cupboards, tea and glass-ware, screens, grates, pewter and other measures, iron furnaces, mashing-tub, oval and round coolers, ale barrels, ale, spirits, hops, &c.
Particulars will be given in catalogues.
N. B. The sale will commence at half past ten o'clock in the morning, at which time the Licences, Good-will, and Possession of the premises will be sold, subject to the purchaser taking to the fixtures, and such part only of the effects as he may think proper, at a fair valuation.
For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Edgaston-street, Birmingham (if by letter, post paid.)

1837

GOLDEN CUP PUBLIC-HOUSE, HIGH-STREET, BILSTON.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, on Monday, the 15th day of June, 1840 (unless in the mean time disposed of by private treaty), the GOODWILL, LICENSE, and POSSESSION of the above desirable establishment, situated in the centre of the mining district, and well frequented by miners and forge and furnace men.

The situation of the premises is inferior to none, being a corner house, and would suit a butcher, pork butcher, or fishmonger, there being but one of the latter established in the town.

The Fixtures, part of the Household Furniture, and Brewing Vessels, to be taken at a fair valuation.

The sole reason for the present proprietor leaving the same is on account of ill health.

☞ For further particulars, inquire on the premises.

1840

NOTES

54, High Street [1858], [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1871], [1872], [1874], [1881], [1887], [1892], [1896], [1904]

53, High Street [1891]

68, High Street [1901], [1911], [1916], [1921], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

It was popular for jazz music.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/9/1837 - Advert

"The CUP Public House in High Street, Bilston, without the least Reserve.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Rodway, upon the premises, on Monday the 11th day of September inst, without reserve, the Licenses, Goodwill, and very valuable Possession of the above good-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the CUP, well-situated in High Street, Bilston. There are several numerous and respectable Clubs attached; together with the Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, &c, comprising neat tent and four-post bedsteads, feather and other beds, bed clothes, tables, chairs, chest of drawers, looking-glasses, capital eight-day clock, cupboards, tea and glass-ware, screens, grates, pewter and other measures, iron furnaces, mashing-tub, oval and round coolers, ale barrels, ale, spirits, hops, &c.

Particulars will be given in catalogues.

NB. The sale will commence at half past ten o'clock in the morning, at which time the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the premises will be sold, subject to the purchaser taking to the fixtures, and such part only of the effects as he may think proper, at a fair valuation.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer, Edgbaston Street, Birmingham (if by letter, post paid)."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/6/1838

"An investigation, which caused considerable excitement at Bilston, and terminated in the committal of George Withers, the landlord of the GOLDEN CUP, upon a charge of manslaughter, took place before H. Smith, Esq, coroner, on the 5th instant, and by adjournment on Friday last, the 15th instant.

From the evidence adduced it appeared that the deceased, Thomas Jones, the cause of whose death was the subject of the inquiry, was found by Moses Goulding, and engineer employed at Barbers Field colliery, about half-past two o'clock in the morning of Sunday the 3rd instant, in the slack hole of the boiler which Goulding was attending. The deceased was lying on his belly, and groaning loudly. Goulding asked him where he had been, and the deceased hooted out 'Murder,' and complained of a pain in his head and at the bottom of his belly. He was quite fresh in liquor, and seemed incapable of knowing anything. He had nether hat nor shoes. Goulding, as the deceased seemed to have lost the use of his legs, carried him into the engine chamber, and about four o'clock, took him to his father's house, which Goulding knew to be in Shropshire Row, in a wheelbarrow. The deceased cried out several times from the pain caused by the motion of the wheelbarrow, and upon Goulding asking him where he had been, he said the last place he could remember was the SHAKESPEARE; and that he had been abused, he did not know by whom or where, but three or four had set about him.

On the deceased being brought to his father's house he was instantly put to bed, and the first words he uttered were 'Father, they have killed me.' He complained, as he had done before, of great pain at the bottom of his belly, and, notwithstanding, the remedial applications used by Mr. Best, the surgeon, who was called to attend him about ten o'clock on Sunday morning, he expired a little before five o'clock on the Tuesday morning following. A post mortem examination of the body was made by Mr. Best, and traces of violent inflammation, quite sufficient to have occasioned death, were discovered in the part where he stated the pain to exist. A very severe bruise was also found on the right side of his neck. The pockets of a black velveteen coat worn by the deceased, and those of his trousers, were found turned inside out, when he was taken home, and in reply to questions from Mr. Best, the deceased said he did not know how many persons had ill-treated him, but there must be more than one, as he recollected one person told another to take off his shoes.

For three or four days after the death of the deceased great difficulty existed in obtaining evidence, which occasioned the adjournment of the inquest, and although the following evidence may justify the belief that the death of the deceased was occasioned by a kick or kicks from Withers, yet, from the state in which he was found, it appears certain that he was subsequently robbed, and conveyed to the slack pit where he was found by Goulding.

The evidence connecting Withers (who, besides keeping the GOLDEN CUP, is a screw maker, and worked at Mr. Hawkesford's manufactory) with the offence was given by Sarah Doughty, Elizabeth King, Job Williams, and John Tonkes.

Sarah Doughty said that on Saturday night, the 2nd inst, she went to Withers's house, about eleven o'clock, to fetch her husband, and she saw Withers push a man in a black velveteen coat out of his house; the man was very tipsy, and Withers turned him out three times; the last time Withers kicked him in the bottom of his belly, and some of the company came out and took the man into the house where witness, after being absent a short time, saw him again, lying partly upon a chair and partly upon the floor, a little after twelve o'clock.

Elizabeth King, who lives at Ettingshall, and did not know either Withers or the deceased, stated that on the night in question she was returning home about half-past eleven o'clock, from Bilston market, and passed by the GOLDEN CUP; she saw a man rattling and kicking at the door, and another man came out, and after saying something about the rattling at the door, kicked the man who was at the door, and threatened to kick his belly out. The man, on getting up, said, 'Withers, you are d—n—n rogue for kicking me upon the belly.'

John Tonkes, who is a collier, said that about one o'clock on Sunday morning, the 3rd inst, he was passing the house of Withers, whom he knew, with a fellow lodger named Williams, and that they saw a man knocking at the house door; he had got hold of the latch, and while he was knocking, the door was opened by Withers, who gave the man a kick upon the bottom of his belly. Instantly after the man had received the kick, he fell down upon his knees, quite helpless. Withers went in and slammed the door. When Withers opened the door, the witness heard him say, 'D—n your eyes, I'll make you remember shaking at my door.' It was a very heavy kick, and the deceased, as he fell down, cried out, 'Oh, dear, he has killed me; he has killed me.' Neither himself nor Williams assisted the man, because two young men, who seemed to know him, came up. One of them said, 'This is Tom Jones, and he lives in Shropshire Row,' they also said they would take him home with them, and thereupon picked him up, and dragged him towards the THREE HORSE SHOES. The man seemed to have no use of his legs, which dragged after him as the two men led him away, and the deceased cried out to them, 'Let me lie; let me lie, lads.' Witness did not know the two men, and the deceased, when witness saw him, had on his hat, shoes, and neckerchief; so that if he was robbed at was not while witness and William were with him.

Job Williams gave similar testimony to that of the preceding witness. He also said he did not know the men who took Jones from Withers's door.

The jury, after hearing an exposition of the law affecting the case, by the coroner, returned a verdict of Manslaughter against George Withers, who, being in custody, was committed on the coroner's warrant, to take his trial for the offence at the next assizes."

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/6/1838

"Committed to Stafford County Gaol.....

George Withers, for killing and slaying Thomas Jones, at Bilston."

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/7/1838

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

George Withers was indicted for the manslaughter of Thomas Jones, at Bilston. Mr. Busby appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. Sergeant Ludlow and Mr. Gray for the prisoner.

The prisoner is a publican, residing at Bilston, and on Tuesday, the 5th June, the night on which the unfortunate transaction took place, the deceased had been drinking a good deal throughout the day, and in the evening became very quarrelsome. He went to the house of the prisoner and called for drink, but being in a state of intoxication he was refused, and put out of the house. Before he left the house he fell with great violence against the gas meter. On being turned out he became very noisy and abusive without, kicked the door with tremendous violence, and swore he would go in and have a drink. After some time the prisoner opened the door, and thrust the deceased away; and it was alleged on the part of the prosecution that he kicked the deceased with great violence, who was afterwards found by Moses Golding, an engineer, in his engine house in a state of insensibility.

Mr. Best, surgeon, of Bilston, attended him until his death, which happened on the following Tuesday. He found the region of the abdomen in a very inflamed and diseased state, and he was decidedly of opinion that his death was occasioned by the bruises he had received.

Three witnesses appeared on behalf of the prisoner, who swore that he did not kick the deceased, but merely pushed him from the door, and that he did not do so until his conduct became intolerable. Not guilty."

London Gazette 24/5/1839

“George Withers, late of Bilston, Staffordshire, Licenced Victualler, out of business. In the Gaol of Stafford.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/7/1839

“The Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors.

The following Prisoners, whose Estates and Effects have been vested in the Provisional Assignee by order of the Court, having filed their Schedules, are ordered to be brought up before a Commissioner on Circuit, to be dealt with according to the statute, at the Court House, Stafford, on the ninth day of August, 1839.....

George Withers, late of Bilston, in the county of Stafford, first following the business of an Iron Turner only, afterwards an Iron Turner together with the business of a Licensed Victualler and Retailer of Spiritous Liquors and Tobacco, afterwards being a Prisoner in the Gaol of Stafford, in the said county, charged with manslaughter, his family still continuing their residence at Bilston aforesaid, carrying on the business of Victualler and Retailer of Spiritous Liquors and Tobacco; since of Bilston aforesaid, carrying on the business of an Iron Turner, Licensed Victualler and Retailer of Spiritous Liquors and Tobacco; afterwards carrying on the business of a Licensed Victualler and Retailer of Spiritous Liquors and Tobacco only, and lately following no business.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1839

“Court for hearing cases of Insolvent Debtors, petitioning for their discharge Discharged conditionally.....

George Withers, victualler, Bilston. If the condition is not complied with, to be imprisoned 4 calendar months.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/11/1839

“Mary Ann Pickstock, licensed victualler, of Bilston, was fined 40s and costs, for selling ale during divine service on Sunday, the 27th of October. The information was preferred by the police.

George Withers, of the GOLD CUP public house, Bilston, was also charged with a similar offence the 20th of October. There was a second information against the defendant, for refusing to admit Mr. Charles Whitehead, the constable, on Sunday the 3rd of November. He was forgiven the first offence on payment of the expenses; and fined 40s and costs for the latter, ‘that the publicans might know,’ as the Magistrates observed, ‘that they were bound to admit constables when attending in discharge of their duty.’”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/5/1840 - Advert

“GOLDEN CUP Public House, High Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, on Monday, the 15th day of June, 1840 (unless in the meantime disposed of by private treaty). The Goodwill, License, and Possession of the above desirable establishment, situated in the centre of the mining district, and well frequented by miners and forge and furnace men.

The situation of the premises is inferior to none, being a corner house, and would suit a butcher, pork butcher, or fishmonger, there being but one of the latter established in the town.

The Fixtures, part of the Household Furniture, and Brewing Vessels, to be taken at a fair valuation.

The sole reason for the present proprietor leaving the same is on account of ill health.

For further particulars, inquire on the premises.”

John Parker = John Parkes

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/12/1840 - Advert

“An Old Established Public House, in High Street, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Friday, the 8th day of January, 1841, at the SPREAD EAGLE, INN, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, at five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that old established and well-accustomed Public House, with the outbuildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, known by the sign of the GOLDEN CUP, in High Street, Bilston aforesaid; consisting of convenient cellaring, large front and back kitchens, two small parlours, large club room, smoke room, suitable bed rooms, two brewhouses, outbuildings, and an enclosed back yard, now occupied by Mr. John Parkes, as yearly tenant, at the moderate rent of thirty pounds per annum.

The above property, being a corner situation in a very populous part of the town, is admirably adapted for a Liquor Shop, where an extensive scope of business may be carried on, and consequently is desirable either for persons wishing a Public House or Liquor Shop, either for occupation or as an investment.

To view the same apply on the premises, and for further particulars to the Auctioneer, New Town, Bilston.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/2/1841

“John Challiner, of Bilston, wishes to make a match with James Whitehead, of Sedgley, to fight from five to seven cocks or chickens, from £10 to £20 a battle, and £50 the main; to fight in the Wolverhampton Pit, in fair round steel spurs. If Whitehead does not accept this Challiner will fight a match with Thomas Irons, of Birmingham, or any man in England on the same terms. His money is ready at Mr. John Parkes’s, GOLDEN CUP, High Street, Bilston, Staffordshire.”

1841 Census

High Street

[1] John Parkes (50), publican;

[2] Ann Parkes (48);

[3] James Parkes (25), m.s.;

[4] Jane Parkes (25), born Staffordshire;

[5] William Parkes (12), born Staffordshire;

[6] Henry Parkes (9 months), born Staffordshire;

[7] Charles Buttlar (20), iron labourer, born Staffordshire;

[8] Mary Clenly (20), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Journal 22/8/1846

“On Thursday, the 14th instant, William Smith was brought up in custody of Sub-inspector Thompson, before J. Forster, Esq, and charged with stealing a cotton gown, the property of Sarah Cartwright. It appeared that the prosecutrix was a servant at the GOLD CUP public house, in Bilston, where the prisoner was drinking the day before. The gown was hanging up in the back kitchen, and after the prisoner had left it was missed. Mr. Gibson, the landlord of the house, went after Smith, and brought him back; but before he laid hold of him, the prisoner threw a bundle over the wall, and on Mr. Gibson going to see what it was, he found the stolen gown. He was given into the custody of the police; and on inquiry being made, it was discovered that he had been to offer the gown in pledge at Mr. Taylor’s, pawnbroker, but it was refused. He was committed.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/10/1846

“Staffordshire Michaelmas Sessions.....

William Smith pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a cotton gown, the property of Sarah Cartwright, at Bilston. To be imprisoned one calendar month.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/11/1846 - Advert

“The GOLDEN CUP INN, Bilston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. W. Aston, at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Thursday, the 10th day of December next, at five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read.

All that old established and good accustomed Public House, situate in High Street, Bilston aforesaid, called or known by the sign of the GOLDEN CUP, and now in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Gibson.

Also all that Messuage or Dwelling House, adjoining to and at the back of the GOLDEN CUP, and now in the occupation of Thomas Davis.

The premises are Copyhold of Inheritance within the Manor of Stowheath.

For further particulars apply at the office of Mr. Thomas Bolton, solicitor, or to the Auctioneer, Wolverhampton.”

George Rowley was also known as “Ruff” Rowley, a bare knuckle fighter.

He was born in 1821.

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/4/1850

“An inquest was held on Monday last, before T. M. Phillips, Esq, coroner, at the GOLDEN CUP, Bilston, on the body of Patrick Corley, a child of about six or seven years of age. The deceased was playing with a little boy named Stanton, about five years old, and other children of a similar age, near a stone pit at Stonefield Colliery, when, it is supposed, he accidentally fell down the shaft. The pit in question was stated to be ‘close to the public road, and then in a most exposed and dangerous state;’ it had since, however, been covered over with a few slabs. The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] Thomas Hall (33), licensed victualler, born Claines, Worcestershire;
- [2] Elizabeth Hall (32), wife, born Thornbury, Herefordshire;
- [3] Eliza Taylor Hall (5), daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Sarah Agnes Hall (4), daughter, born Bilston;
- [5] Emily Ann Hall (1), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Mary Powis (22), house servant, born Bilston;
- [7] Catharine Dile (16), house servant, born Ireland:

William Machin = William Meachin

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/1/1852

“At the Petty and Special Sessions on Monday last, being the day appointed for transferring victuallers’ licenses, the following changes took place.....

Thomas Hall, of the GOLDEN CUP, Bilston, to William Machin, Worley Wigorn, Worcestershire.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/8/1852

“At the weekly sessions held on Monday last, the following licenses were transferred.....

GOLDEN CUP, High Street, Bilston, from William Meachin to Sidonia Smith, of the same place, widow.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

Mr. Hayes applied, on behalf of Mr. Hollingsworth, for a license to a house, which the applicant had rebuilt at an expense of about £2,000, opposite the Market Place, in Bilston, and near the site of the intended Town Hall. Mr. Hayes handed in a testimonial signed by many respectable inhabitants, and observed that Mr. Hollingsworth was one of the oldest and most respectable inhabitants of Bilston, and he believed was well known to several of the Magistrates.

Mr. Whitehouse said he opposed on behalf of Mr. Holland, a much older resident than Mr. Hollingsworth. By a plan which he would put in, prepared by Mr. Bidlake, the Magistrates would almost be led to suppose that every person in Bilston was a friend of John Barleycorn, for there were, between the top of the street in question and the KINGS ARMS, thirteen beershops, and no less than thirty-one houses which had obtained spirit licenses. (Mr. Hayes observed that Mr. Whitehouse had forgotten to state that Bilston was almost one street.) Mr. Whitehouse admitted that it had been called an overgrown village. There were now, he added, two licensed public houses in the same street unoccupied – the BALLOON and the GOLDEN CUP.

Mr. Underhill opposed for Mr. Price, who keeps a public house about 150 yards from Mr. Hollingsworth’s.

The Magistrates, after some consideration, granted the application. Some conversation ensued as to whether the necessary notices had been given in the form prescribed by law, but the Magistrates were ultimately satisfied that the Act had been complied with.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/9/1852 - Advert

“The GOLDEN CUP INN, Bilston.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston. The Stock to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars, apply on the premises, or to Mr. Darbey, High Street, Bilston.”

Hannah Barker = Hannah Burke

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/2/1853

“At Bilston Petty Sessions on Tuesday, John Burke, John Liney, Thomas Collins, William Turley, Thomas Noon, James Burns, and James Callan, were charged with riotous conduct at the GOLD CUP public house, High Street, on Sunday night last. It appears a number of railway labourers lodge at the house, and these Irishmen went in drunk and began a disturbance, smashing a door and other property. Hannah Burke, the landlady, had been obliged to shut her house, in consequence of the threats of the defendants, who said they would kill all in the house. They were severally ordered to find sureties to keep the peace for six months.”

Birmingham Journal 12/3/1853 - Advert

“Old-Licensed Public House, High Street, Bilston.

To be Let, and may be entered into immediately, the GOLDEN CUP INN, Bilston. The Brewing Utensils and Fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation.

For further particulars, apply on the Premises; or to Mr. John Mason, Auctioneer, High Street, Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/4/1853

“On Monday the following licenses were transferred.....

Hannah Barker, GOLDEN CUP, Bilston, to William Dulson, of Tong, Salop.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1857

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

John Birch, John Davis, and Job Stanley were indicted for stealing, on the 24th February, 1857, at Bilston, 60 tons of coal, the property of Mr. William Darby.....

The prisoners who, with the exception of Birch, had been out on bail, were miners, living at Bilston, where Birch had some land, underneath which were mines of coal, and he acted in the capacity of master, and the others as butty colliers of the pit. Adjoining Birch’s land was some belonging to Mr. Darby, the prosecutor, a gentleman living at Wood End, near Lichfield, and on either person’s land was a shaft by which to descend the pit. The coal underneath Mr. Darby’s land had been got with the exception of a piece about three yards square, which was left for the purpose of supporting the superincumbent weight of earth, on the surface of which stood the GOLDEN CUP public house, in High Street, the property of the prosecutor. Up to the 18th of February last, the premises of the prosecutor were uninjured from the excavations below, but before the 25th of that month, a week later, the walls of the house cracked, the roof gave way, and the building was otherwise damaged. The dangerous position in which the house had thus suddenly been thrown led to an examination of the pits below, and it was discovered that the solid coal underneath the premises had been removed, and the roof of the mine left in a tottering and unsafe condition. To connect the prisoners with the transaction, which, it was alleged, was caused by the removal of the coal, witnesses were examined, Mr. Darby having first of all proved that the property was freehold, and belonged to him.....

The learned Judge summed up the evidence, commenting upon it as he proceeded, and observed that the question for the jury to decide was whether the prisoners knew that the coal removed belonged to another person, for if so, that constituted felony, and was in fact a theft.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty against all the prisoners, recommending Davis and Stanley to mercy.

His Lordship observed that he entirely concurred in the verdict, and the distinction which the jury had made between Birch and the others. He did not, however, mean to punish either of them with a sentence of imprisonment, for he did not think it right to punish people for doing that which they may not have known to be illegal. The prisoners then entered into their own recognizances of £50 each to come up for judgement when called upon, and were discharged.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/1/1859

“Some time during the evening of Sunday last, the house of Mr. George Cox, the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston, was entered during the absence of the inmates, and half a dozen silver spoons, a silver thimble, together with some other trifling articles, and about £4 in cash, carried off. Mr. Cox left home with his family to go to chapel, about five o’clock in the afternoon, and after chapel they went to a friend’s house, and returned home shortly after ten. On attempting to open the front door it was ascertained to be bolted on the inside, and on going round to the back, the back door was found unfastened. It is supposed that the thieves must have opened the front door by means of a skeleton key, and then bolted themselves in, and quietly proceeded to ransack the premises. A terrier dog which had been left in the house was found dead, having been struck on the head with a poker.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1859

“At the Police Court, on Friday, a man named James Campbell was charged with having broken into the premises of Mr. G. Cox, the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, on the previous Sunday.

The prosecutor stated that early on the morning of that day he left home with his family, and remained out till the evening. On his return about half-past ten pm, he found the back door open, his dog, which had been left in the house, dead in the kitchen, and £4 in money, a quantity of plate, and other articles, carried off.

James Arnold deposed that he saw the prisoner in the vicinity of the prosecutor’s house under very suspicious circumstances. Abraham Cotterill gave similar evidence.

Superintendent M’Crea stated that on the Wednesday after the robbery he searched prisoner’s house, and found about a pint of rum in a bottle, and that a quantity of that spirit had been stolen from Mr. Cox’s. The prisoner’s hands were also bitten as if by a dog.

Mr. Claydon, who was retained for the defence, attempted to prove an alibi. The prisoner was, however, committed for trial.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/3/1859

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions.....

James Campbell, 40, furnaceman, was indicted for breaking into the GOLDEN CUP public house, Bilston, on the evening of the 2nd of January, and stealing therefrom a dozen silver spoons, a pair of sugar tongs, silver cruets stand, £4 in money, a bottle of rum, two scarfs, and a variety of small articles. Mr. Kenealy prosecuted, and Mr. Claydon defended.

Admittance had been obtained by means of a skeleton key. A little dog which was left in the kitchen had been killed. Prisoner had been seen by two or three persons near the premises on the evening of the robbery. When Inspector Machree arrested prisoner he noticed marks of a bite on his hand. Three witnesses were called to prove an alibi; one also stated that Campbell had been bitten by her dog. Notwithstanding that these statements were rather contradictory the prisoner was acquitted.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/3/1861

“On Wednesday last a shocking accident, which resulted fatally, occurred in Mr. Sparrow’s forge at Bilston, to a boy named James Bartlett, 14 years of age. An inquest was held at the GOLDEN CUP, on Friday, before Mr. W. H. Phillips, deputy-coroner, when the principal witness called was James Davis, a roller. He deposed that deceased was reaching over the roller boxes for a pair of tongs, and an iron band that encircled them caught the button hole of his coat, and carried him round twenty or thirty times before the engine could be stopped. When deceased was extricated he was quite dead. Witness had several times reprimanded him for reaching over the boxes. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1861 Census

54, High Street

- [1] Thomas Dolman (48), victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Sarah Dolman (47), wife, victualler, born Gospel Oak;
- [3] William Dolman (19), son, coal miner, born Bilston;
- [4] Mary A. Dolman (9), daughter, scholar, born Tipton;
- [5] James Dolman (16), son, coal miner, born Bilston;
- [6] Charlotte Dolman (6), daughter, scholar, born Darlaston;
- [7] Sarah Roberts (19), servant, born Sedgley;

Birmingham Daily Post 22/4/1862 - Advert

"The GOLDEN CUP, High Street, Bilston.

By Gilbert and Son. To be Sold, this Old-Licensed House, in the best situation for trade; with roomy and entire Premises; including a Front Liquor Shop, now doing a good and paying trade, which the situation will always command.

Apply to Gilbert and Son, 23, Ann Street, Birmingham."

Richard Churm = Richard Churme = Richard Chirm = Richard Chirms = Richard Churn

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/6/1862

"At Bilston Police Court, on Friday, the following intermediate transfers were made.....

GOLDEN CUP, High Street, Thomas Bowen to Richard Churn, butty collier."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/3/1863

"At Bilston Police Court, yesterday, Edward Churm, for breaking a panel in a door of the GOLDEN CUP, High Street, was fined 1s, damages 3s, and the expenses."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/8/1863

"At Bilston Public Office, yesterday, the undermentioned licenses were suspended.....

Richard Chirm, GOLDEN CUP, Bilston."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/9/1863

"The meeting for the renewing and granting of licenses was held on Friday, at Bilston police office.....

The following is a list of those who had been proceeded against and fined in the past year.....

Richard Chirm, GOLDEN CUP, Bilston."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/9/1863

"The adjourned licensing meeting for the Bilston division of the county was held on Friday.....

Licenses suspended at the annual licensing meeting were now renewed to the following houses, the landlords being cautioned to conduct them more creditably for the future.....

GOLDEN CUP, Bilston, kept by Richard Chirm."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/10/1863 - Advert

"To be Sold, Cheap, a Lantern and Views.

Apply to Mrs. Chirms, the GOLDEN CUP, Bilston."

TO be SOLD, Cheap, a LANTERN and VIEWS.—
Apply to Mrs. Chirms, the Golden Cup, Bilston.

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/5/1864

"At Bilston, on Tuesday, the following publicans and beerhouse keepers were fined as under for offences against their licenses.....

Richard Churm, of the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, £5 and costs for selling ale after twelve o'clock on Saturday night last."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/9/1864

"Bilston Annual Licensing Meeting.....

During the year the police had summoned before the Bench 32 publicans for various offences against their licenses, and out of that number the following, who were the worst of the lot, were suspended until the adjourned licensing day, on the 22nd inst.....

Richard Churm, of the GOLDEN CUP, High Street; had been fined twice."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/9/1864

"Bilston Adjourned Licensing Day.....

All the licensed victuallers whose licenses had been suspended a fortnight ago were yesterday renewed."

Birmingham Daily Post 29/12/1864

“At the Bilston Petty Sessions, on Tuesday, before the Stipendiary, Richard Churm, of the GOLDEN CUP, High Street, was fined £5 and costs, for allowing drunkenness in his house. He had before been fined a similar amount for the same class of offence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1865

“Annual Licensing Meeting for the Bilston Division.....

The ‘black list’ handed in by the police contained the names of fourteen publicans who had been fined for offences against their license.....

Richard Churm, Bilston.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 7/10/1865

“Bilston Adjourned Licensing Meeting.....

The following, whose names had been placed on the ‘black list,’ had their licenses renewed.....

R. Churm, GOLDEN CROSS [sic], High Street.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 6/8/1870

“At Bilston Police Court, yesterday.....

Patrick Markey was charged with being disorderly, in the GOLDEN CUP, High Street, on Tuesday last. Fined 10s.”

1871 Census

54, High Street – GOLDEN CUP

- [1] Henry Jones (55), licensed victualler, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Eliza Jones (40), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Harry W. Jones (25), son, commercial traveller, born Bilston;
- [4] Jane Clerk (38), step-sister, no occupation, born Bilston;
- [5] Mary Fox (15), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/5/1871

“Bilston Police Court, yesterday.....

Michael Holican, labourer, was charged with assaulting Police-constable Farmer, whilst in the execution of his duty. On Saturday night the officer was called to the GOLDEN CUP, High Street, to quell a disturbance which was going on there. Several of the disturbers were turned into the street, and the prisoner, who was one of them, struck the prisoner [sic] a violent blow on the mouth with his fist. He was fined 40s and costs, or, in default, one month’s imprisonment.”

Dudley Herald 10/5/1879 - Advert

“Sale of Freehold Property, situate at Hartshorne Street, Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Jabez Bywater, on Tuesday May 20th, 1879, at the house of Mr. Henry Jones, the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston.....”

1881 Census

54, High Street – GOLDEN CUP

- [1] Henry Jones (65), licensed victualler, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Elizabeth Jones (56), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Maud Walters (18), general servant, born Bilston;
- [4] John Tonks (18), general labourer, born Aston, Warwickshire;
- [5] Elizabeth Ann Barlow (9), niece, scholar, born Walsall:

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/3/1884

“The annual meeting of the Bilston Night Watch Committee was held at the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, on Wednesday evening.....

During the year the watchmen had discovered 207 places of business open or insecure, against 132 during the preceding year, and the Committee had received several flattering acknowledgements of the services rendered to the tradesmen subscribers by the diligence of the watchmen.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 8/7/1887 - Advert

"Tuesday, July 12th, 1887. High Street, Bilston.

Important Sale of a Full-licensed Freehold Public House, and other Properties.....

Lot 2. Valuable full-licensed Freehold Public House, called the GOLDEN CUP INN, being No.54, High Street, Bilston, having a frontage of 28ft, and in the occupation of Mr. Bates at a rental of £45 per annum; the premises comprise large liquor vault, 28ft long, with 2 bay windows; large smoke room, private parlour, cooking kitchen, with oven grate; pantry, scullery, club room, 3 bedrooms, attic, 2 cellars, model brewery, malt room, hay loft, stable, coach-house, 2 ash-pits, 2 closets, yard, small garden, and cartway at back.

Possession may be had at short date."

1891 Census

53, High Street – GOLDEN CUP

[1] William Dudley (36), engine fitter, born Bilston;

[2] Elizabeth Dudley (30), wife, manageress in public house, born Bilston;

[3] Mary Hartill (38), barmaid, born Bilston:

1901 Census

68, High Street

[1] William Dudley (46), manager of public house, born Bilston;

[2] Elizabeth Dudley (41), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Sophia Steventon (20), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1911 Census

68, High Street

[1] William Dudley (56), manager of public house, born Bilston;

[2] Elizabeth Dudley (52), wife, married 20 years, born Bilston;

[3] Eliza Pritchard (24), domestic servant, born Bilston:

1912 Probate

"William Dudley of the GOLDEN CUP, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 3 February 1912. Probate Lichfield 8 March to Elizabeth Dudley, widow. Effects £295 7s 6d."

1921 Census

68, High Street

[1] John Silvester (37), licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Ethel Moss Silvester (36), wife, home duties, born Bilston;

[3] John Leslie Silvester (14), son, school, born Bilston;

[4] Dorothy May Silvester (9), daughter, school, born Bilston;

[5] Mary Baker (22), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/6/1930

"The South Staffordshire Stipendiary Magistrate (Mr. Bertram Grimley) yesterday gave his decisions at the Bilston Police Court in a case heard a fortnight ago, which has aroused considerable interest locally. There were 15 summonses concerning transactions at the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston, and the defendants were George Cresswell, the licensee, Betsy Cresswell, his wife; Nellie Skitt, barmaid, and Alice Comer, who lives near the inn.

The accusations concerned the alleged sale of intoxicating liquors during non-permitted hours, the taking away of intoxicating liquors, and consuming.

For the defence it was argued that the sale of a bottle of whiskey and beer was completed earlier in the day, and that there was no sale after ten o'clock, when they were merely called for.

The Stipendiary dismissed the cases against the licensee (who was stated to have been ill at the time) under the Probation of Offenders Act, on payment of court costs, 4s in each of two cases, and £2 12s 6d special costs.

The cases against Skitt were dismissed.

For having aided and abetted in the sale of a bottle of whiskey Betsy Cresswell was fined £2 10s, together with £2 12s 6d special costs. Summonses relating to the alleged selling of a small quantity of whiskey were dismissed. For having taken beer from the premises during non-permitted hours Alice Comer was fined 20s, and Betsy Cresswell 20s for having aided and abetted. For having taken away whiskey Alice Comer was fined 40s, and Betsy Cresswell 20s for having aided and abetted.”

1932 Probate

“George Cresswell of 68 High Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, died 14 March 1932. Administration Birmingham 19 April to Betsy Cresswell, widow. Effects £90.”

1935 Probate

“Betsy Cresswell of the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston, Staffordshire, widow, died 25 June 1935. Administration Birmingham 19 August to George Barker, garage proprietor. Effects £5,957 0s 4d.”

London Gazette 27/3/1936

“Betsy Cresswell, Deceased. Pursuant to the Trustee Act, 1925.

Notice is hereby given that all creditors and other persons having any debts, claims or demands against the estate of Betsy Cresswell, late of the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Widow deceased (who died on the 25th day of June, 1935, and to whose estate letters of administration were granted out of the Birmingham District Probate Registry on the 19th day of August, 1935, to George Barker), are requested to send particulars, in writing, of their debts, claims or demands to us, the undersigned, Solicitors for the said administrator, on or before the 30th day of May, 1936, after which date the said administrator will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims and demands of which he shall then have had notice; and he will not be liable for the assets of the said deceased, or any part thereof, so distributed, to any person or persons of whose debts, claims or demands he shall not then have had notice.

Dated this 23rd day of March, 1936.

Hall, Pratt and Pritchard, Lichfield Street, Bilston, Solicitors for the said Administrator.”

Evening Despatch 23/10/1936

“Following a police raid on a Bilston house, William Reece, aged 66, of 10, Stonefield Walk, Bilston, was fined a total of £26 and £7 costs by the Bilston magistrates today for using his house for the purpose of betting. His son, Samuel Reece, aged 22, Mary Elizabeth Spilsbury, aged 45, of 18, Earl Street, Bilston, and William Mason, aged 35, of 25, Bunkers Hill, Bilston, were each fined 40s for aiding and abetting him.

A similar charge against Frank Turton, aged 40, licensee of the GOLDEN CUP INN, High Street, Bilston, who stated that he had gone to the house to hand Reece betting slips for one of the customers after closing hours, was dismissed. Mr. E. E. Brown (prosecuting) said police officers kept observation on the house and during four days saw 104 men, women and boys enter the premises.”

1939 Register

68, High Street

[1] Frank Turton, date of birth 24/5/1896, licensee, married;

[2] Ellen A. Turton, dob 22/10/1896, unpaid domestic duties, married:

A team from here took part in the Butlers (Bilston) Darts League. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Bilston Crib League, Section B. [1946]

James Timmins was born in Bilston.

He married Beryl on 18th September 1963.

He was chairman of Coseley Pub Watch.

Harry Cornfield filed for bankruptcy on 15th January 1985.

It closed in 1985.

It was subject to a Compulsory Purchase on 2nd October 1991, and again on 17th September 1992.

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1993

"The Insolvency Act, 1986. In Bankruptcy in the Wolverhampton County Court.

Re: M. D. Collins (female), of the GOLDEN CUPS, High Street, Bilston, West Midlands WV14 O EZ. Occupation Unknown and carrying on business as Publican at the GOLDEN CUPS, High Street, Bilston, West Midlands WV14 O EZ.

On 20 January 1993 the above-named Court made a Bankruptcy Order against the above-named debtor.

All debts due to the estate should be paid to me.

27 January 1993. A. T. R. Stretton, Official Receiver."

Demolished

A supermarket was built on the site.

AN OLD ESTABLISHED PUBLIC HOUSE,
In High-street, Bilston.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY RICHARD CORBETT,
On Friday, the 8th day of January, 1841, at the Spread Eagle inn, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced,

ALL that old established and well-accustomed PUBLIC HOUSE, with the outbuildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, known by the sign of "The Golden Cup," in High-street, Bilston aforesaid; consisting of convenient cellaring, large front and back kitchens, two small parlours, large club room, smoke room, suitable bed rooms, two brewhouses, outbuildings, and an enclosed back yard, now occupied by Mr. John Parkes, as yearly tenant, at the moderate rent of thirty pounds per annum.

The above property, being a corner situation in a very populous part of the town, is admirably adapted for a Liquor Shop, where an extensive scope of business may be carried on, and consequently is desirable either for persons wishing a Public House or Liquor Shop, either for occupation or as an investment.

☞ To view the same apply on the premises, and for further particulars to the AUCTIONEER, New Town, Bilston.

1840

THE GOLDEN CUP INN, BILSTON.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY MR. W. ASTON,

At the King's Arms Inn, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Thursday, the 10th day of December next, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read,

ALL that old established and good accustomed PUBLIC HOUSE, situate in High-street, Bilston aforesaid, called or known by the sign of the GOLDEN CUP, and now in the occupation of Mr. Joseph Gibson.

Also all that MESSUAGE or DWELLING HOUSE, adjoining to and at the back of the Golden Cup, and now in the occupation of Thomas Davis.

The premises are Copyhold of Inheritance within the Manor of Stowheath.

☞ For further particulars apply at the office of Mr. Thomas Bolton, solicitor, or to the AUCTIONEER, Wolverhampton.

1846

THE GOLDEN CUP INN, BILSTON.
TO BE LET, and may be entered upon immediately, the GOLDEN CUP INN, High-street, Bilston. The Stock to be taken to at a fair valuation. — For particulars, apply on the premises, or to Mr. DABNEY, High-street, Bilston.

1852

OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE,
HIGH STREET, BILSTON.
TO be LET, and may be entered into immediately, the "GOLDEN CUP INN," Bilston. The Brewing Utensils and Fixtures to be taken at a fair valuation. — For further particulars, apply on the Premises; or to Mr. John Mason, Auctioneer, High Street, Bilston.

1853

"THE GOLDEN CUP,"
HIGH STREET, BILSTON.
BY GILBERT and SON.—To be SOLD, this OLD-LICENSED HOUSE, in the best situation for trade; with roomy and entire Premises; including a Front Liquor Shop, now doing a good and paying trade, which the situation will always command.
Apply to Gilbert and Son, 23, Ann Street, Birmingham.

1862

LOT 2.—Valuable full-licensed FREEHOLD PUBLIC HOUSE, called the "Golden Cup inn," being No. 54, High Street, Bilston, having a frontage of 28 ft., and in the occupation of Mr. Bates at a rental of £45 per annum; the premises comprise large liquor vault, 28 ft. long, with 2 bay windows; large smoke room, private parlour, cooking kitchen, with oven grate; pantry, scullery, club room, 3 bedrooms, attic, 2 cellars, model brewery, malt room, hay loft, stable, coach-house, 2 ashpits, 2 closets, yard, small garden and cartway at back.

Possession may be had at short date.

1887

PUBLIC NOTICE

COMPULSORY PURCHASE OF LAND
IN HIGH STREET, BILSTON

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Wolverhampton Borough Council have made the WOLVERHAMPTON BOROUGH COUNCIL (BILSTON TOWN CENTRE) COMPULSORY PURCHASE ORDER 1991 under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. They are about to submit this Order to the Secretary of State for the Environment for confirmation, and if confirmed, the Order will authorise Wolverhampton Borough Council to purchase compulsorily the land described below for the purpose of securing the development re-development and improvement of land by the erection of a food store and provision of ancillary car parking.

A copy of the Order and of the accompanying map may be seen at all reasonable hours at the offices of the Director of Legal and Administrative Services, Civic Centre, St. Peter's Square, Wolverhampton and at Bilston Branch Library, Mount Pleasant, Bilston, West Midlands.

Any objection to the Order must be made in writing to the Secretary of State for the Environment, West Midlands Regional Office, Five Ways Tower, Frederick Road, Edgbaston, Birmingham B15 1SR before 29 November 1991 and should state the title of the Order and the grounds of objection.

DESCRIPTION OF LAND

Land in the district of Bilston in the Borough of Wolverhampton in the County of West Midlands. Numbers in brackets relate to the Reference Numbers in the Compulsory Purchase Order Schedule and Map.

- 1580 square metres of land and premises to the west of 88 High Street forming the site of second hand car sales business together with hoardings thereon (1)
- 140 square metres of business premises and living accommodation known as 88 High Street (2)
- 20 square metres of vacant land fronting Quarry Street (3)
- 80 square metres of land and premises being at the rear of 88 High Street and fronting Quarry Street (4)
- 240 square metres of business premises situate on the west side of Quarry Street adjacent to reference no. 4 (5)
- 1570 square metres of business premises 80 and 82 High Street (6)
- 270 square metres of business premises 72a, 74, 76 and 78 High Street (7)
- 110 square metres of business premises and living accommodation 72 High Street (8)
- 320 square metres of business premises, living accommodation and rear yard 70 High Street (9)
- 420 square metres of land and premises being the Golden Cup Public House, 68 High Street (10)
- 570 square metres of land and business premises 62, 64 and 66 High Street (11)
- 160 square metres of access way situate at Stonefield Road to the rear of numbers 62-74 (evens) High Street (12)
- 30 square metres of premises comprising an electricity sub-station at Stonefield Walk (13)
- 190 square metres of access way at the rear of 44-60 (evens) Stonefield Walk (14)
- 710 square metres of land being the site of 20-34 (evens) Stonefield Walk (15)

R H ROBERTS
Director of Legal and Administrative Services
Civic Centre
St Peter's Square
Wolverhampton

Dated: 2 October 1991

WOLVERHAMPTON
COUNCIL Working for you

1991

PUBLIC NOTICE

FORM OF NOTICE OF CONFIRMATION
OF A COMPULSORY PURCHASE ORDER
THE TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING
ACT 1990 AND THE ACQUISITION OF
LAND ACT 1981WOLVERHAMPTON BOROUGH COUNCIL
(BILSTON TOWN CENTRE)
COMPULSORY PURCHASE ORDER 1991

1. Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of State for the Environment, in exercise of his powers under the above Acts, on 4 September, 1992, confirmed with modifications the Wolverhampton Borough Council (Bilston Town Centre) Compulsory Purchase Order 1991 submitted by the Council of the Borough of Wolverhampton.

2. The Order as confirmed provides for the purchase for the purpose of securing the development, redevelopment and improvement of land by the erection of a food store and provision of ancillary car parking of the land described in the Schedule hereto.

3. A copy of the Order as confirmed by the Secretary of State for the Environment and of the map referred to therein have been deposited at the offices of the Director of Legal and Administrative Services, Civic Centre, St Peter's Square, Wolverhampton, and may be seen there at all reasonable hours.

4. The Order as confirmed becomes operative on the date on which this notice is first published; but a person aggrieved by the Order may, by application to the High Court within six weeks from that date, question its validity on the grounds (i) that the authorisation granted by the Order is not empowered to be granted or (ii) that there has been a failure to comply with any statutory requirements relating to the Order.

Schedule

Land in the district of Bilston in the Borough of Wolverhampton in the County of West Midlands. Numbers in brackets relate to the reference numbers in the Compulsory Purchase Order schedule and map.

- 1580 square metres of land and premises to the west of 88 High Street forming the site of second hand car sales business together with hoardings thereon (1).
- 140 square metres of business premises and living accommodation known as 88 High Street (2).
- 20 square metres of vacant land fronting Quarry Street (3).
- 80 square metres of land and premises being at the rear of 88 High Street and fronting Quarry Street (4).
- 240 square metres of business premises situate on the west side of Quarry Street adjacent to reference number 4 (5).
- 1570 square metres of business premises 80 and 82 High Street (6).
- 270 square metres of business premises 72a, 74, 76 and 78 High Street (7).
- 110 square metres of business premises and living accommodation 72 High Street (8).
- 320 square metres of business premises, living accommodation and rear yard 70 High Street (9).
- 420 square metres of land and premises being the Golden Cup Public House 68 High Street (10).
- 570 square metres of land and business premises 62, 64 and 66 High Street (11).
- 160 square metres of accessway situate at Stonefield Road to the rear of numbers 62 to 74 (evens) High Street (12).
- 30 square metres of premises comprising an electricity sub station at Stonefield Walk (13).
- 190 square metres of accessway at the rear of 44 - 60 (evens) Stonefield Walk (14).
- 710 square metres of land being the site of 20 - 34 (evens) Stonefield Walk (15).

R H ROBERTS
Director of Legal and Administrative Services
Civic Centre
St Peter's Square
Wolverhampton

DATED 17 SEPTEMBER, 1992

WOLVERHAMPTON
COUNCIL Working for you

1992

GOLDEN FLEECE

5, (3), Fleece Street, (3, Providence Place), (Ward Street), Ettingshall, (Priestfield), (New Village), BILSTON

OWNERS

Clara Dallow, spinster, 20, Lewis Street, Penn Road, Wolverhampton
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Allcock [1860]
John Lewis [1869] – 1887;
John Jones (1887 – 1891);
Joseph Flavell (1891 – 1898);
Mrs. Susannah Flavell (1898 – 1904);
Lilian Timmins (1904 – 1905);
Robert Colley (1905);
John Harper (1905 – 1906);
William Harris (1906 – 1907);
George Rogers (1907 – 1908);

NOTES

Ward Street [1860], [1872]
3, Providence Place [1881]
Fleece Street [1904]

It had a ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/10/1860 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

Whereas a Petition of James Allcock, of the GOLDEN FLEECE, Ward Street, Priestfield, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Publican, Brewer, and Retailer of Beer, and Licensed to sell Tobacco, and also a Japanner; previously of Gozzard Street, Bilston aforesaid, Japanner, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolverhampton, and an Interim Order of Protection from Process having been given to the said James Allcock, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said James Allcock is hereby required to appear in Court before the Judge acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the 29th day of October, 1860, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House, Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid, for his First Examination, touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given that the Choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said James Allcock, or who have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Charles Gallimore Brown, the Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said Petition, at his Office, in Queen Street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.

James Walker, Attorney, 57, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/12/1860

“County Court Insolvents.....

James Allcock, of Ward Street, Priestfield, publican and japanner, supported by Mr. Walker, and opposed by Mr.. Langman, passed, with the opposition reserved to the final examination.”

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.
12th day of October, 1860.
WHEREAS a Petition of JAMES ALLCOCK, of the Golden Fleece, Ward-street, Priestfield, near Bilston, in the county of Stafford, Publican, Brewer, and Retailer of Beer, and Licensed to sell Tobacco, and also a Japanner; previously of Gozzard-street, Bilston aforesaid, Japanner, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the County Court of Staffordshire, at Wolver-hampton, and an Interim Order of Protection from Process having been given to the said James Allcock, under the provisions of the statutes in that case made and provided, the said James Allcock is hereby required to appear in Court before the Judge acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the 29th day of OCTOBER, 1860, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the COURT HOUSE, QUEEN-STREET, WOLVERHAMPTON aforesaid, for his FIRST EXAMINATION, touching his debts, estate, and effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said statutes; and notice is hereby given that the Choice of Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.
All persons indebted to the said James Allcock, or who have any of his effects are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. CHARLES GALLIMORE BROWN, the Official Assignee, acting in the matter of the said Petition, at his Office, in Queen-street, Wolverhampton aforesaid.
JAMES WALKER, Attorney,
57, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.
C. G. MEGEVAN, High Bailiff.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/11/1860 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton.

In the Matter of the Petition of James Allcock, of the GOLDEN FLEECE, Ward Street, Priestfield, near Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Publican, Brewer, and Retailer of Beer, and licensed to sell tobacco, and also a Japanner, previously of Gozzard Street, Bilston aforesaid, Japanner; notice is hereby given that the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a Final Order thereon, at the said Court, on the 26th day of November next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1860.

James Walker, Attorney, 57, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/12/1860

“At the Wolverhampton County Court, on Monday last, the undermentioned insolvents obtained their final orders.....

James Allcock, Priestfield, publican and japanner, supported by Mr. J. Walker, the opposition by H. Langman being withdrawn.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/8/1869

“The annual licensing meeting for the Bilston division took place yesterday, at the Police Court.....

The following beerhouse keepers had been fined during the past five years.....

For keeping open during prohibited hours John Lewis, FLEECE, New Village, 1s and costs.”

John Lewis, beer retailer, Ward Street, New Village, Ettingshall. [1872]

Birmingham Weekly Post 7/7/1877

“Attempted Murder by a Lunatic.

On Tuesday, a respectably connected man, named John Griffiths, aged 31, was brought before Mr. Moses Ironmonger, sitting as magistrate at Petty Sessions at Bilston, charged with attempting to murder John Lewis, at Priestfield. The accused was very excited, and had his hands tied together at his back. Evidently Griffiths was not master of his actions.

Chief Superintendent McCrea remarked that he had brought up Griffiths merely to obtain a remand, and proposed to give only enough evidence to permit of compliance with the request. In the interval the prisoner's mental state could be ascertained.

Policeman Wade, stationed at Ettingshall, deposed: This morning I was called to the prisoner at about a quarter-past two. I found him, with nothing on but his shirt, in the bed room of John Lewis, landlord of the GOLDEN FLEECE beerhouse, Ettingshall. I found John Lewis lying in a helpless state on the room floor, in a pool of blood. I took the prisoner into custody, charged with attempting to murder Lewis.....

[John Griffiths was remanded for a week.]

The prisoner is the son of parents, now dead, who owned the BRITANNIA INN, Temple Street, Bilston, and other house property there. For many years they kept that inn, and likewise a provision shop. As a boy he was subject to fits. Growing into manhood he showed a liking for whisky, and often surreptitiously obtained it. Symptoms of lunacy then developed themselves, and he was placed as a pauper lunatic in Stafford Asylum, the cost being repaid to the Guardians by his sister, Mrs. Riley, wife of Mr. Riley, of the HEN AND CHICKENS, New Village. By-and-by he was removed from Stafford to Burntwood. Possessing, with Mrs. Riley, an interest in the property left by the parents in Temple Street, some gossips had hinted, with disagreeable plainness, that Griffiths was being kept in an asylum for motives originating in his right to share in the property; and Mrs. Riley, who has always been kind to him, sensitive of such allegations, applied to the surgeons at Burntwood that her brother might be released in her care, and he came out on the 16th April last. A few times previously during the three or four years he had been under restraint he had been temporarily released; but he had always got at the whisky, and had had to be sent back. Mr. Jennings, relieving officer for Bilston, therefore declined all responsibility touching his release on this occasion. Mrs. Riley could not have Griffiths at her home, for it was an old-licensed house, and the tempting spirit would be too near to him. Beer has no attractions for him; and as her friend Mrs. Lewis, wife of the landlord of the GOLDEN FLEECE, was ready to take him as a lodger, he was placed in her custody.

Mr. Lewis, who is a master chainmaker as well as a beerhouse keeper, is of great size, and weighs quite 16 stone, and Mrs. Lewis is not much less proportioned. They, therefore, had no fear of Griffiths, who is comparatively slender. Griffiths was not always tractable, but became quiet whenever Lewis threatened to 'horsewhip him.' The dread of such a punishment has from earliest years brought terror to him. Did the threat of it unhinge his mind as a child?

On Monday Lewis was out all day, and as he is 'fond of his beer,' Mrs. Lewis thought it advisable to have Griffiths out of the way when he should arrive, as he probably would be 'a little the worse for what he had taken.' She therefore, about ten o'clock, sent him to bed. Lewis came in at about eleven. By-and-by there was a dispute, with high words between husband and wife, for Lewis had been drinking tolerably freely, and was not in the best of humours. During the dispute Griffiths came down in his night-shirt, but was sent back by the potent threat. He came down again, when the servant trying to get him back he struck her with a stick. The last time Lewis himself went upstairs with Griffiths, who, before he left the room, asked forgiveness, and sought to kiss Lewis. Mrs. Lewis had been especially anxious that the two should not meet, because there was too much reason to conclude that Griffiths had during Monday purchased and drank some whisky.

Before two o'clock on Tuesday morning all three had retired each to a separate sleeping room, Mrs. Lewis for that night taking the servant's bed, and relegating her to the sofa in the parlour. At about two she heard Griffiths go down stairs; but thought he was merely seeking water to drink from the filter, for he sometimes did so in the night. Presently she was alarmed by some heavy and unusual nasal sounds from her husband's bed room. Fearing that Griffiths might be there attempting his hurt, she leaped from bed and ran into the room. Here she was horrified at finding Griffiths with his left knee on the pillow, his left hand on her husband's head, and with a carving-knife in his right hand, cutting away in a most determined manner at Lewis's throat, whilst Lewis lay so overcome by drink and somnolence that he was unconscious of what was happening. She shouted out, 'You murderer!' and clutched at the arm which held the knife, and tried to secure her husband's assailant. The struggle awoke Lewis, who arose and joined in the struggle. Soon, however, he fell exhausted from loss of blood. Mrs. Lewis had now disarmed Griffiths, and giving the knife to the servant, who had now come up, sent her with it downstairs, and out of the house for help, whilst she kept Griffiths secure in the room.....

The surgeon found that Lewis had received two jagged wounds, one extending ten inches from left to right, and the other taking an upward direction from the right side of the neck to the ear. There had been very great loss of blood before the surgeon arrived, and it was not easy to stop it after he arrived. Presently, however, the wounds were effectually plugged. At present the surgeons give hope of recovery, the patient being able to drink; but his state will in the ensuing three days be perilous."

Staffordshire Sentinel 10/11/1877

"Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

John Griffiths, 30, no occupation, was indicted for feloniously wounding John Lewis, at Bilston, on the 3rd of July, with intent to kill and murder him. Mr. Macnamara prosecuted, and Mr. J. Underhill defended the prisoner.

The prosecutor is the keeper of the GOLDEN FLEECE at Bilston, and it would seem that prisoner lodged at his house. Both men had been drinking on the night the affair occurred, and a quarrel took place between them, which, however, was 'made up' before they retired to rest. The prisoner and prosecutor slept in bedrooms adjoining each other. About two o'clock in the morning Mrs. Lewis's attention was attracted by an unusual disturbance in the room in which her husband was sleeping, and, hastening to the spot, found the prisoner cutting at her husband's throat. Prisoner was kneeling on prosecutor, and had a carving knife in his hand. She rushed up and succeeded in taking the knife away, when prisoner turned round and threatened to take her life for interfering. A policeman was at once sent for and prisoner given into custody.

Mrs. Lewis stated that she did not think there was any enmity between her husband and the prisoner, and did not believe prisoner would have committed the outrage but for the fact that at the time he was under the influence of drink. Prisoner had been liable to fits ever since he had lived at her husband's house, and he had been in an asylum on three separate occasions.

A medical gentleman who had seen prisoner having expressed his strong conviction that prisoner was a dangerous lunatic, the jury acting upon advice of his lordship, returned a verdict of not guilty, on a plea of insanity.

The Judge ordered prisoner to be kept in custody during her Majesty's pleasure. Prisoner was then removed in custody."

1881 Census

3, Providence Place – GOLDEN FLEECE

- [1] John Lewis (59), innkeeper and chain maker, born at sea;
- [2] Harriet Lewis (57), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Eliza H. Thompson (6), grand-daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] Edith Thompson (4), grand-daughter, scholar, born Bilston;
- [5] Emma Benton (13), domestic servant, born Bilston;
- [6] Ann Elwell (66), boarder, widow, retired innkeeper, born Burton on Trent;
- [7] William Nunnery (48), boarder, widower, labourer, carter, born Baschurch, Shropshire;
- [8] William Cox (19), boarder, general labourer, born Oxford:

1891 Census

3, Fleece Street

- [1] John Jones (41), licensed victualler, born Shropshire;
- [2] Jane Jones (40), wife, born Bilston:

John Jones was fined 40s and costs, on 24th July 1891, for permitting drunkenness.

Joseph Flavell died on 11th April 1898.

1901 Census

5, Fleece Street

- [1] Susannah Flavell (61), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] George Flavell (24), son, brewer, born Woodcross;
- [3] Jabez Flavell (22), son, moulder, iron foundry, born Woodcross;
- [4] Mathias Flavell (20), son, moulder, iron foundry, born Woodcross;
- [5] Martha G. Flavell (17), daughter, born Woodcross;
- [6] Ebor Whitehouse (30), boarder, boatman, born Dudley Port;
- [7] Ann Hyde (10), grand-daughter, born Woodcross:

Mrs. Susannah Flavell, beer retailer, Fleece Street. [1904]

Robert Colley – see also OLD BROWN JUG.

The license renewal was referred to the Compensation Authority in February 1908.
It was refused by the Compensation Authority on 18th June 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 26/6/1908

“The principal meeting of the members of the Staffordshire Licensing Committee was held at the Shirehall, Stafford. There was a full attendance of the members of the committee, Lord Hatherton presiding. The business before the committee was that of hearing and determining applications for the renewal of licenses in those cases which had been referred to the committee by the justices in petty sessions for compensation. The list contained forty public houses. There was a large attendance of barristers and solicitors, but in none of the cases were any objections raised to the reports of the justices concerning the houses referred, and the committee refused to renew the licenses in each of the forty cases which came before them. The following are the houses, the licenses of which were refused.....
GOLDEN FLEECE, Ettingshall, Bilston, ante-1869 beerhouse.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/6/1908 - Notice

“The Licensing Act 1904. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 18th day of June, 1908, to refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, All Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 20th day of July, 1908, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules 1904, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act in respect of the said Premises.....

GOLDEN FLEECE, Fleece Street, Bilston. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, George Rogers. Registered Owners, Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited.”

Compensation of £350 was paid on 30th November 1908.

House closed on 7th December 1908.

Lichfield Mercury 8/1/1909

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The Licensing Committee presented a report for the year 1908. They stated that the number of licenses referred from sixteen divisions and boroughs in the county was seventy-four, and the committee, having regard to the limited funds at their disposal, decided to proceed upon forty only.....

The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard, upon oath, evidence put forward by the claimants.

The amounts awarded as compensation were as follows.....

GOLDEN FLEECE, Fleece Street, Ettingshall, Bilston, £400.”

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,

HOLDEN AT WOLVERHAMPTON.

IN the Matter of the Petition of JAMES ALL-COCK, of the Golden Fleece, Ward street, Priestfield, near Bilston, in the County of Stafford, Publican, Brewer, and Retailer of Beer, and licensed to sell tobacco, and also a Japanner, previously of Oozard-street, Bilston aforesaid, Japanner: notice is hereby given that the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Wolverhampton, acting in the matter of this Petition, will proceed to make a FINAL ORDER thereon, at the said Court, on the 26th day of NOVEMBER next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon precisely, unless cause be then and there shown to the contrary.—Dated this 29th day of October, 1860.

JAMES WALKER, Attorney,

57, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.

G. G. MEEVAN, High Bailiff.

GOLDEN LAMB

41, High Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Slater [1861]

NOTES

1861 Census

41, High Street

- [1] William Slater (52), beerhouse keeper, born Yoxall, Staffordshire;
- [2] Sarah Slater (39), wife, born Alrewas, Staffordshire;
- [3] Faith Slater (18), daughter, born Curborough, Staffordshire;
- [4] Emma Slater (15), daughter, scholar, born Curborough, Staffordshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/7/1861 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold and Copyhold Property, at Bilston, in the County of Stafford.

Messrs. Richards and Turley will Sell by Auction, at the BULLS HEAD INN, High Street, Bilston, on Monday, the 5th day of August, 1861, at six o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. All those eight Messuages or Dwelling Houses, with the large Yard, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (one of which is a Public House, known by the sign of the GOLDEN LAMB), situate in High Street, Bilston, in the several occupations of Elizabeth Mills, John Cross, Ann Mapson, William Slater, and others, occupying a site of 824 square yards or thereabouts, and producing the annual rental of £77 19s.

The above is Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/2/1864 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold and Copyhold Property, at Bilston and Willenhall, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Thomas Richards, on Monday Next, the 21st day of March, at Six o'clock in the Evening, at the QUEENS ARMS HOTEL, Wellington Street, Bilston.....

Lot 1. All those Eight Messuages or Dwelling Houses, with the large Yard, Out-buildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (one of which is a Public House, known by the sign of the GOLDEN LAMB), situate in High Street, Bilston, in the several occupations of Elizabeth Mills, John Cross, Ann Mapson, Patrick Beasley, and others, occupying a site of 824 square yards or thereabouts, and producing the annual rental of £78 6s.

The above is Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath."

VALUABLE
FREEHOLD AND COPYHOLD PROPERTY,
At BILSTON and WILLENHALL, in the county of Stafford,
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY Mr. THOMAS RICHARDS, on MONDAY
NEXT, the 21st day of March, at Six o'clock in the evening, at the Queen's Arms Hotel, Wellington Street, Bilston, subject to conditions to be produced—the following Lots of FREEHOLD and COPY-
HOLD PROPERTIES and BUILDING LAND :—

Lot 1.—All those Eight MESSUAGES or DWELLING HOUSES, with the large Yard, Out-buildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (one of which is a Public-house, known by the sign of The Golden Lamb), situate in High Street, Bilston, in the several occupations of Elizabeth Mills, John Cross, Ann Mapson, Patrick Beasley, and others, occupying a site of 824 square yards or thereabouts, and producing the annual rental of £78. 6s.
The above is Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath.

VALUABLE FREEHOLD AND COPYHOLD PROPERTY,
AT BILSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF STAFFORD.

MESSRS. RICHARDS and TURLEY will SELL by AUCTION, at the BULL'S HEAD INN, HIGH STREET, BILSTON, on Monday, the 5th day of August, 1861, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions to be produced—the following Lots of FREEHOLD BUILDING LAND, BUTCHER'S SHOP and PREMISES, and COPYHOLD BUILD-ING PROPERTY :—

Lot 1.—All those eight MESSUAGES or DWELLING HOUSES, with the large Yard, Outbuildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (one of which is a PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of the "Golden Lamb"), situate in High-street, Bilston, in the several occupations of Elizabeth Mills, John Cross, Ann Mapson, William Slater, and others, occupying a site of 824 square yards or thereabouts, and producing the annual rental of £77 19s.
The above is Copyhold of the Manor of Stowheath.

1861

GOLDEN LION

46, Ash Street, (5, Chell Street) / Lord Street West, (Upper) Bradley, (Daisy Bank), (Highfields), (Old Green), BILSTON

OWNERS

Enoch Clempson, licensee

Jeremiah Francis Baker, coal merchant, Albert Road, Wolverhampton

John Seedhouse, innkeeper, Princes End

John Seedhouse and Sons Ltd., High Street, Princes End [1930s]

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

Marstons plc [2009]

LICENSEES

Thomas Clempson [1841] – 1852;

Mrs. Margaret Clempson (1852 – [1861]

Enoch Clempson [1862] – 1874);

Joseph White (1874 – 1875);

George Williams (1875 – 1879);

Samuel Smith (1879 – 1882);

Richard Hyde (1882 – 1884);

William Bourne (1884 – 1886);

Thomas William Stanford (1886 – 1891);

Samuel Millichamp (1891 – 1900);

Thomas Stanford [1896]

Albert Garvey (1900 – 1901);

Esther Lucy Evans (1901 – 1902);

Walter Bunch (1902 – 1915);

Sarah Stanford [1903]

Thomas Leach (1915 – 1922);

Florence Leach (1922 – 1924);

James 'Jim' Shutt (1924 – 1933);

James Smith (1933 – [1940]

Zachariah Pearson (1957 – 1980)

Roger Renton [] – 1985)

Eve Jones [1994]

Dawn Roberts [1995]

Lyn Randles (1996 – [1997]

Stephen J King [2005]

Maureen Cynthia Atkins [] – 2006)

Eliza Cunningham Groom (2006 – []

Chris Hadley [2006] manager

Shelly Garbett (2009 – 2012)

2007

NOTES

[This pub was strictly in Sedgley, but is included here due to it being situated at Bradley.]

Old Green [1841], [1842]

Highfields [1841], [1851], [1861]

Daisy Bank [1849]

Upper Bradley [1861], [1868]

5, Chell Street, Bradley [1871], [1891], [1896], [1901], [1904], [1908], [1911]

46, Ash Street

LION [1841], [1862]

GOLDEN LION HOTEL [1911]

It was known locally as 'Smithy's', and 'Zacha's'

Thomas Clempson = Thomas Clemson

1841 Census

Highfields

[1] Margaret Clempson (50), victualler;

[2] Thomas Clempson (50), miner;

[3] John Clempson (25), ironworker, born Staffordshire;

[4] Thomas Clempson (20), ironworker, born Staffordshire;

[5] Catherine Clempson (15), born Staffordshire;

[6] Enoch Clempson (10), born Staffordshire:

1851 Census

Highfields

[1] Thomas Clempson (61), licensed victualler and miner, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Margret Clempson (62), wife, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[3] Enoch Clempson (23), son, puddler of iron, born Sedgley;

[4] Harriet Bennett (14), general servant, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[5] Thomas Jinks (8), grand-son, born Bilston;

[6] Margret Breeze (9), niece, born Chebsey, Shropshire;

[7] John Gittins (46), visitor, stone miner, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[8] Henry Gittins (17), visitor, stone miner, born Broseley, Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/7/1851

"An inquest was held on Monday last, by W. W. Ward, Esq. (for T. M. Phillips, Esq.), coroner, at the GOLDEN LION, Hall Green, near Bilston, on the body of Selina Reynolds, between two and three years old, daughter of William Reynolds, of Hall Green, who was found drowned in a soft water cistern near to her father's house, on the afternoon of the 27th ult. Verdict, Found Dead in a cistern, but how the child got into it there was no evidence to shew."

Thomas Clempson died in the 4th quarter of 1852.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/12/1852

"On Monday last, the following transfers of licenses took place.....

From the executors of the late Thomas Clempson, GOLDEN LION, Hall Green, Sedgley, to his widow, Margaret Clempson."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/9/1857

“On Monday last T. M. Phillips, Esq, Coroner, held an adjourned inquest at the GOLDEN LION INN, Daisy Bank, touching the death of Susannah Cartwright, a married woman about thirty-three years of age, whose death had taken place on the morning of Friday week shortly after being delivered of a male child. The deceased was attended in her confinement by a midwife named Sarah Cherrington – a woman whom one of the witnesses described as a very ignorant person in her business – and it was proved that while attending the deceased Cherrington used great violence to Cartwright, which was complained of by the deceased and others who were present. She, however, persisted in her conduct, and not long after her delivery the deceased died. During Cartwright’s labour one or two persons present recommended further assistance to be sent for, but Cherrington told one of them that she ought to be put out of the room for suggesting such a thing; the matter was all right. Mr. Kettle, surgeon, was called in, but found Mrs. Cartwright dead but warm. Mr. Hancox, surgeon, made a post mortem examination of the body in the presence of Mr. Kettle, and arrived at the conclusion that the deceased had been ignorantly and unskilfully treated in her confinement, and that the greatest violence must have been used upon her. After hearing the evidence of the other witnesses Mr. Hancox added that he was of opinion that the deceased’s death would not have taken place had a medical man with ordinary skill attended her during her labour. Cherrington was asked by the Coroner if she had anything to say, and was cautioned that if she did make any statement it might be used as evidence against her. She made a short reply, stating that she used all her efforts to save the life of the deceased. The Jury found a verdict of Manslaughter against Cherrington, and the Coroner committed her for trial at the next Assizes.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/12/1857

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

Sarah Cherrington, 52, was indicted for the manslaughter of Susannah Cartwright, on the 18th of September, at Daisy Bank, in the parish of Sedgley. Mr. Hill, in opening the case to the Jury, stated that the prisoner was charged with the manslaughter of a married woman named Susannah Cartwright, 33 years of age, who was a strong healthy woman, and had previously been delivered of seven children.....

His Lordship having summed up the evidence, the Jury returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended her to mercy in consideration of her generally good character.

Mr. Hill having stated, in reply to his Lordship, that it was not the wish of the prosecution that the prisoner should be punished, the learned Judge told her that the Jury had taken a very proper view of the case, for whilst they considered she had exhibited the kindest feelings towards the unfortunate deceased, they also thought that not having the necessary knowledge requisite for any emergency which might arise in a matter of that kind, she had undertaken a duty for which she was not competent, and which had resulted in the death of the unfortunate deceased. The object of the trial was to prevent her or any other such person from attempting a similar operation, and upon the understanding that she did not repeat it, she would be discharged on her own recognizances to appear when called upon.”

1861 Census

Highfields

[1] Margret Clempson (72), widow, victualler, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Elizabeth Sheppard (13), house servant, born Sedgley:

Margaret Clempson died in the 2nd quarter of 1862.

1871 Census

5, Chell Street

[1] Enoch Clempson (43), puddler, born Sedgley;

[2] Eliza Clempson (43), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Thomas Clempson (15), son, labourer, born Sedgley;

[4] Silas Clempson (13), son, born Sedgley;

[5] Enoch Clempson (11), son, born Sedgley;

[6] David Clempson (6), son, born Sedgley;

[7] Sophia Clempson (1 month), daughter, born Sedgley;

[8] Eliza Fieldhouse (23), daughter, married, born Bilston;

[9] George H. Fieldhouse (3), grand-son, born Sedgley;

[10] Annie A. Fieldhouse (1), grand-daughter, born Sedgley:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/1/1879

"Last night's London Gazette notifies that the following persons have filed their petitions for liquidation or composition George Williams, late of the GOLDEN LION, Bradley, near Bilston, now of Wednesbury, out of business."

1881 Census

5, Chell Street

- [1] Samuel Smith (26), roll turner, born Tipton;
- [2] Emma Smith (23), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Emma Smith (3 months), daughter, born Daisy Bank;
- [4] Pollie Thompson (30), domestic servant, born Dudley:

Evening Express 26/10/1881

"A petition in liquidation has been filed in the Dudley County Court on behalf of Samuel Smith, of the GOLDEN LION INN, Chell Street, Daisy Bank, licensed victualler and roll turner. Liabilities estimated at £200. Messrs. Stokes and Hooper are the debtor's solicitors, and Mr. T. B. Cope, high bailiff of the Court, has been appointed receiver."

London Gazette 1/11/1881

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Worcestershire, holden at Dudley.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Samuel Smith, of the GOLDEN LION INN, Chell-street, Daisy Bank, in the parish of Sedgley, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Roll Turner.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of Messrs. Stokes and Hooper, 1, Priory-street, Dudley, in the county of Worcester, on the 11th day of November, 1881, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely.

Dated this 27th day of October, 1881.

Stokes and Hooper, 1, Priory-street, Dudley, Solicitors for the said Debtor."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1884

"At the Police Court, yesterday, W. Bourne, GOLDEN LION, Chell Street, Daisy Bank, was fined 5s and costs for allowing drunkenness in his tap room, on Saturday night.

Enoch Clemson, Abraham Whitehouse, and David Thomas were fined, the former 5s and costs, and the two latter 2s 6d and costs, for being upon the premises in a drunken state"

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/9/1885 - Advert

"To, Let, with immediate possession, BROWN [sic] LION INN, Chell Street, Bradley; fixtures only to be taken to."

1891 Census

5, Chell Street

- [1] Samuel Millichamp (29), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Annie Millichamp (28), wife, born Cawney Hill;
- [3] Julia Millichamp (8), daughter, scholar, born Tipton;
- [4] Albert Millichamp (5), son, born Smethwick;
- [5] Flora Millichamp (2), daughter, born Daisy Bank:

1901 Census

5, Chell Street

- [1] Albert Garvey (53), publican &c, born Stourbridge;
- [2] Betsey Jane Garvey (54), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Ernest Garvey (18), son, iron worker, born Sedgley;
- [4] Lily Garvey (16), daughter, domestic, born Sedgley;
- [5] Sidney Garvey (14), son, domestic, born Sedgley;
- [6] May Garvey (6), daughter, born Sedgley:

Tipton Herald 9/5/1903

“At Bilston Police Court on Tuesday before Messrs. G. N. Adams, E. Hickman, and Dr. S. Ashley- Smith, an old man named Joad Cox, boatman, of Ash Street, Bradley, was charged with being drunk on the licensed premises of the GOLDEN LION INN, Bradley.

Detective Quinn and Police-sergeant Gibbs deposed to finding defendant in the tap room in a drunken condition when they visited the house on other business.

Defendant denied being drunk, and said he had only had two and a half pints, and could walk straight.

A fine of 12s 6d, including costs, was imposed.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/3/1904

“The adjourned licensing sessions for Sedgley were held on Tuesday.....

Mr. R. A. Willcock applied for the renewal of the licenses of the IVY HOUSE, Coseley, and the GOLDEN LION, Bradley, to which the police objected on the grounds that they were not required and that convictions had been recorded against former licensees The magistrates granted the applications.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/11/1909

Mr. Walter Bunch, of the GOLDEN LION INN, Ash Street, Daisy Bank, whose long connection with the Wolves is well-remembered, has suffered a loss of about £170 as the result of a visit by a burglar to the safe in his bedroom on Tuesday night. The theft was committed whilst Mr. Bunch and his wife were engaged in their duties before closing time, the thief having quietly made his way to the bedroom, opened the safe, and obtained the money without being disturbed. Four bottles of whisky had also been placed ready for removal, but the theory is that, having made such a good haul, the robber sought to get away without anything suspicious about him, or anything to hinder his progress. Some clue as to the time the robbery was committed is given by Mrs. Bunch, who at 10.15 had occasion to go to the brewhouse. When returning to the house she saw a man on the pantry roof with his hands on the bedroom windowsill, but by the time she raised an alarm the man had made good his escape. When Mr. Bunch went to examine the bedroom he found the safe door wide open. He at once called in Police-constable Lewis, and the premises were searched without avail. The police have since been busily engaged making inquiries with a view to the apprehension of the guilty party.”

1911 Census

5, Chell Street – GOLDEN LION

[1] Walter Bunch (36), licensed victualler, born Coseley;

[2] Florence Maud Bunch (32), wife, married 9 years, assisting in business, born Coseley;

[3] Harold Ernest Bunch (8), son, school, born Coseley;

[4] Walter William Bunch (3), son, born Coseley;

[5] Hilda Mary Rampson (19), cousin, assisting in business, born Coseley;

[6] Rebecca Clempson (20), domestic servant, born Coseley:

Walter Bunch died in the 2nd quarter of 1915.

1921 Census

5, Chell Street

[1] Thomas Leach (46), publican, born Tipton;

[2] Florence Leach (45), wife, house duty, born Bloomfield;

[3] Sidney Leach (22), son, polisher, born Tipton;

[4] Gertrude Florence Leach (13), daughter, school, born Tipton:

Thomas Leach died on 13th May 1922.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/1/1928 - Interview

“To have been a reader of the Gazette for close upon fifty years is the happy boast of Mr. Samuel Millichamp, a retired publican now living in Bridgnorth Road, Wollaston, Stourbridge. He first remembers taking it when about 21 years old, at which time he was licensee of the BURNT TREE TAVERN, Tipton, and at various licensed houses he has been in charge of in the Black Country and Birmingham he has always had a Gazette on the premises.

When I called to have a chat with him, yesterday, Mr. Millichamp commented upon the great changes which had been effected in the licensing trade since the time he first became associated with it. In his early days most of the drink was homed brewed, but he considered the bog breweries of today could supply just as good a beverage as that of fifty years ago.

He thought that there was more drinking amongst women today than in the old days. Unfortunately a lot was done in secret, but when he started in the business it was nearly all done openly. Then there were the hours of opening. 'I was open,' he said, 'from six in the morning and did not close my doors until eleven at night, and sometimes later than that. In comparison, the publican of today almost has a gentleman's life. Years ago it was the custom to allow credit, and many colliers and puddlers who were customers of mine had credit to the extent of £5 or more. Sometimes they paid up, sometimes they didn't. Nowadays it is practically all ready money.'

Mr. Millichamp then alluded to an incident which he said revealed the honesty and straightforwardness of the average Black Country worker. While at the BURNT TREE TAVERN one of his customers ran up a 'score' and then emigrated to America without having paid his beer debts. Twelve months ago he received two dollars from the man, who had since made good in settlement of his account. 'So you see,' commented Mr. Millichamp, 'he squared up after 45 years.'

The facilities for drinking on licensed premises were next touched upon, Mr. Millichamp observing that in his younger days they had not the necessary number of glasses or mugs to supply all with drink. 'I had 30 to 40 men in my tap-room at one time,' he said, 'and one would order a pint and pass it round for his friends to drink. If any refused, it would be looked upon as an insult, and I have seen many a fight develop from such a refusal.' 'How different it all is now,' he added reminiscently, and then, as the mood deepened, he began to relate some of the fiery happenings which are now only recounted in well-upholstered seats by real old timers.

'You don't hear tell of rat pits at pubs now, do you?' he said, after musing awhile. 'Years ago they were one of the greatest assets of the Black Country publican. I had one when I was at the GOLDEN LION, Daisy Bank. It was in the club room, and at times there were as many as 30 rats in the pit when the dogs were put in. A lot of money changed hands in bets, and there was often a ratting competition for which the stake was a good supper. Dog fights were also staged in the tap-rooms at many houses, and I have seen lots of them end with their owners stripping to the waist and fighting each other in the same room when a dispute arose. Those were the days when tap-rooms often resembled a slaughterhouse in so far as blood was concerned.....'

1939 Register

Ash Street – GOLDEN LION

[1] James Smith, date of birth 19/6/1882, licensee, married;

[2] Florence Smith, dob 22/11/1884, unpaid domestic duties, married:

A team from here took part in the Bradley Darts League, First Division. [1946]

It was demolished in 1970.

It was rebuilt on a site 50 yards away on the corner of Ash Street and Lord Street West.

Express & Star 18/9/2007

"Two Black Country pubs have been rapped after complaints by neighbours about noise and yob behaviour. Bosses of the GOLDEN LION and SPREAD EAGLE in Bilston are being summoned before council chiefs and could face sanctions on their licence. An official council report reveals that eight complaints have been made by two residents against the GOLDEN LION since March. They claim that music coming from the venue in Ash Street, Bradley, is too loud, and on one occasion there was noise from the watering hole after hours. Bosses have been sent formal written warnings but more complaints were received as recently as July of this year. Report author Jayne Freeman-Evans, from the council's environmental services division, said, 'The continuing nuisance allegedly suffered by local residents, together with management's disregard of the conditions on their licence, has resulted in a deterioration in the quality of life of local residents.....'

Shelly Garbett – see also COTTAGE SPRING, Woodsetton, Sedgley.

[2016]

2011

2023

GOLDEN LION

Church Street, BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Howes [1813] – [1841]

William Cluett [1841] – [1842]

James Akers [1845] – [1848]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/9/1813 - Advert

"To Druids.

Lodge 54 will be removed from Brother George Beebee's to William Howe's, at the Sign of the GOLDEN LION, Bilston, on Monday the 27th of September inst, when the Company of any regular-made Brother will be esteemed a Favour, at the usual Time in the Evening.

By Order of the MNG.

George Beebee, Secretary."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/11/1813 - Advert

"Most Noble Ancient Order of Druids, Lodge No.54.

The next Anniversary Dinner will be held at Brother William Howe's, Sign of the GOLDEN LION, Bilston, on Monday next, the 22nd of November instant, when the Company of any regular made Brother will be esteemed a Favour.

G. Beebee, Secretary.

NB. Dinner on the Table precisely at Two o'clock.

Bilston, November 15, 1813."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/8/1825 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Ricard Corbett, at the GOLDEN LION, in Church Street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Monday the 29th day of August, 1825, at five o'clock in the afternoon precisely, subject to conditions which will be then read, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.....

Lot II. All that well accustomed Public House, situate in Church Street, Bilston, called the GOLDEN LION, with an extensive yard and garden behind the same, now in the occupation of Mr. William Howes; and also of and in all that other Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House adjoining the last, heretofore in the occupation of Shale, but now of the said William Howes, together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging.....

Lot VI. All that Garden and Croft of Land, situate in the township of Bilston aforesaid, in the holding or occupation of the said William Howes, containing together about three quarters of an acre, with the Mines of Coal and Ironstone and all other Mines and Minerals in and under the same."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/9/1825 - Advert

"Sale of Rents arising from Freehold Messuages, Land, and Premises, situated at Brierly, in the Parish of Sedgley, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. R. Corbett, this present Monday, the 5th day of September, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of William Howes, known by the name of the GOLDEN LION INN, in Bilston,, in the county of Stafford (by the direction of the Assignees of Thomas Wood, late of Bilston aforesaid, Ironmonger, a bankrupt) in one, or the following lots, and subject to conditions then and there to be produced....."

TO DRUIDS.

LODGE 54 will be removed from Brother George Beebee's to William Howe's, at the Sign of the Golden Lion, Bilston, on Monday the 27th of September inst. when the Company of any regular-made Brother will be esteemed a Favour, at the usual Time in the Evening.

By Order of the M. N. G.

GEORGE BEEBEE, Secretary.

Most Noble Ancient Order of Druids, Lodge No. 54.

THE next Anniversary Dinner will be held at Brother William Howe's, Sign of the Golden Lion, Bilston, on Monday next, the 22d of November instant, when the Company of any regular made Brother will be esteemed a Favour.

M. N. A.

G. BEEBEE, Secretary.

N. B. Dinner on the Table precisely at Two o'Clock.
Bilston, Nov. 15, 1813.

1813

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/10/1839 - Advert

“Fire Engine.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Batte, without reserve, on Saturday, November 2, 1839, at three o’clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mr. William Howes, GOLDEN LION, Bilston.

A Powerful Fire Engine, with Piping, Buckets, &c complete.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/10/1840 - Married

“On the 15th instant, at Bushbury, Mr. James Caddick, of Bilston, to Miss Ann Howes, youngest daughter of Mr. William Howes, of the GOLDEN LION, in the same place.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/3/1841 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, the GOLDEN LION, opposite St. Leonard’s Church, together with a Malthouse, in Stafford Street, Bilston.

For particulars apply to Mr. William Howes, on the premises.”

1841 Census

Church Street (south side of)

[1] William Cluett (35), auctioneer;

[2] Ann Cluett (35);

[3] Emily Cluett (11), born Staffordshire;

[4] John Cluett (7), born Staffordshire;

[5] Mary Cluett (5), born Staffordshire;

[6] George Cluett (2), born Staffordshire;

[7] Edmund Cluett (8 months), born Staffordshire;

[8] Charlotte Griffiths (15), f.s.:

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/12/1847

“Some excitement was exhibited at the Bilston public office, on Tuesday, by the appearance before the magistrates of Samuel Hodgkiss and George Yates, two men residing in that disreputable part of town called ‘the Berry.’ The prisoners were charged by John Williams with robbing him of 5s in the street, on Sunday night.

According to the prosecutor’s evidence, he had been drinking a jug or two of ale at the GOLDEN LION public house, Bilston, where the prisoners had also been taking a ‘drop.’ About half-past ten the prosecutor left, and as he was walking home, the prisoners stopped him, and demanded his money, which he refused to give them; Hodgkiss then held him, whilst Yates took the money, threatening, if he made a noise, to murder him. Prosecutor then returned to the GOLDEN LION INN, and afterwards gave the prisoners into custody of the police. They were committed to the Assizes for trial. The prisoners applied to be admitted to bail, and the magistrates ordered them to find two sureties in £25 each, and themselves in £50 each.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/3/1848

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Samuel Hodgkiss and George Yates were charged with assaulting Joseph Williams, at Bilston, on the 3rd of December last, and stealing from his person four shillings and two sixpences.

It appeared from the testimony of the prosecutor, Edward Thompson, a police officer, and Mrs. Worthington, of the FOX INN, Bilston, as they deposed to the facts respectively within their knowledge, that the prosecutor, about nine o’clock on the evening in question, went to the GOLDEN LION, at Bilston. He there met with the prisoners. Hodgkiss went out first, then Williams, and then Yates. Hodgkiss caught hold of Williams, and Yates took his money; after which ‘they both cut up the street as hard as they could go.’ The prisoners were taken, the same night, by the police and the prosecutor, at the FOX INN. Hodgkiss, while going to the police station, stooped, as if tying his shoe, and on being searched a second time at the police station, 7s 6d were found in his left shoe, among which was a bent sixpence identified by the prosecutor.

The Jury found the prisoners guilty, and they were each sentenced to be imprisoned twelve months, with hard labour.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/8/1848 - Advert

"Sale at the GOLDEN LION INN, Church Street, Bilston, in consequence of the premises being required for railway purposes.

To be Sold by Auction, by John Mason, on Monday next, the 21st day of August, 1848.

All the clean and neat Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, &c, upon the premises of Mr. James Akers, GOLDEN LION INN, Church Street, Bilston; consisting of four-post and other bedsteads, prime feather beds, bed room furniture, all requisite Household Furniture, excellent iron-bound Ale Barrels, from 28 to 200 gallons, thirteen bushel Mash Tub, 110 gallon Copper Boiler, six pockets of prime Hops, and other effects.

The sale will commence at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the office of the Auctioneer, Hall Street, Bilston."

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by RICHARD CORBETT, at the Golden Lion, in Church-street, Bilston, in the county of Stafford, on Monday the 29th day of August, 1825, at five o'clock in the afternoon precisely, subject to conditions which will be then read, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale:—

LOT I. All that valuable plot, piece, or parcel of Land, situate in Pinfold-street, Bilston, nearly opposite to the west entrance of the Market-place, desirably situated for building upon, containing about 17 yards to the front of Pinfold-street, and about 40 yards deep, being an oblong square plot of land, with a carriage road on the north side the whole depth of the land.

Also all that one undivided Third Part or Share of and in the following Messuages, Lands, and Hereditaments, viz.

LOT II. All that well accustomed Public House, situate in Church-street, Bilston, called the GOLDEN LION, with an extensive yard and garden behind the same, now in the occupation of Mr. William Howes; and also of and in all that other Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House adjoining the last, heretofore in the occupation of — Shale, but now of the said William Howes, together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging.—

1825

FIRE ENGINE. TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY JOHN BATTE,

Without reserve, on Saturday, November 2, 1839, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mr. William Howes, Golden Lion, Bilston,

A POWERFUL FIRE ENGINE, with Piping, Buckets, &c. complete.

1839

TO BE LET,

With immediate possession,

THE GOLDEN LION, opposite St. Leonard's Church, together with a MALTHOUSE, in Stafford-street, Bilston.

For particulars apply to Mr. WILLIAM HOWES, on the premises.

1841

SALE AT THE GOLDEN LION INN, CHURCH-STREET, BILSTON,

In consequence of the premises being required for railway purposes.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY JOHN MASON,

On Monday next, the 21st day of August 1848,

ALL the clean and neat HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING UTENSILS, &c. upon the premises of Mr. James Akers, Golden Lion Inn, Church-street, Bilston; consisting of four-post and other bedsteads, prime feather beds, bed room furniture, all requisite Household Furniture, excellent iron bound Ale Barrels, from 28 to 200 gallons, thirteen bushel Mash Tub, 110 gallon Copper Boiler, six pockets of prime HOPS, and other effects.

The sale will commence at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the office of the AUCTIONEER, Hall-street, Bilston.

1848

GOOD FELLOWS ARMS

Stafford Street , BILSTON

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Timothy Brooks [1851] – [1854]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

1851 Census

Stafford Street

- [1] Timothy Brooks (52), innkeeper, born Lye;
- [2] Maria Brooks (56), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] John Spencer (81), father-in-law, widower, gentleman, born Bilston;
- [4] Ann Jones (19), general servant, born Wales:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“The annual licensing day for the division of Seisdon North was held at the Public Office, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, on Thursday last.....

There were about forty applications for new [spirit] licenses, of which eight were granted.....

Application made by Mr. Underhill on behalf of Mr. Timothy Brookes, Stafford Street, Bilston, was, after some discussion, refused.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/8/1854

“The annual meeting of Magistrates for granting and renewing publican’s licenses in the parish of Bilston and Sedgley was held on Friday last, in the Bilston Police Court.....

There were eleven applications for new licenses which were disposed of as follows.....

An application made by Mr. Underhill, for a license to the GOOD FELLOWS ARMS, Bilston, in the occupation of Mr. T. Brooks, which was opposed by Mrs. Amelia Wallet, occupying the BALL COURT, an adjoining house, was refused.”

Timothy Brooks – see also VINE, Vine Street.

GREAT WESTERN

1, Ash Street / 83, Hall Green Street, (Hall Green), (Hallfields), Daisy Bank, Bradley, BILSTON

OWNERS

Great Western Railway Co.
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Green [1851] – 1855);
John Martin (1855 – 1865);
William Ryder Taylor (1865);
Alfred Martin (1865 – 1866);
